Nirvana<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Kas(h)i.Nibbana:=Cambodian Nirpean]

the concept of release and merging with the Absolute

nis Scandinavian

[nisse]

a friendly goblin: a household

spirit

Nisa Greek

wife of Mopsus the shepherd

- Nisaba<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
an Akkadian corn-goddess
- Nisaba<sup>2</sup> (see Nissaba)
- Nisar Mesopotamian
a Babylonian goddess of agriculture
- Nisatha Hindu
son of Balarama and Revati
brother of Ulmuka
- nisca South American in Inca lore, the word of god which he used to create all things
- Nishada Hindu
the embodiment of evil
When the wicked emperor, Vena, was killed by his priests, all the evil in his body emerged in the form of the black dwarf, Nishada.
- Nishtigri Hindu
wife of Dyaus mother of Indra, some say
- Nishumbha Hindu
a demon
brother of Shumbha
He and his brother became so powerful, as a result of extreme asceticism over a period of 6,000 years, that the gods began to fear them and sent Durga to kill them.
- Nisien Welsh
[Nissien.Nyssen]
son of Euroswydd and Penardun son of Llyr, some say brother of Efnisien half-brother to Bran, Branwen and Manawydan
- Nisimug Mesopotamian
a Babylonian artisan-god
- Nisir (see Mount Nisu)
- Niskae Roman
[Niskai]
Celtic spirits of rivers and wells in Gaul: mother-goddesses
- Niskai (see Niskae)
- Nisroch Mesopotamian
an Assyrian god
In some accounts, he is Ashur in the form of an eagle.
- Nissa Greek
a nymph, said to be the mother of the sun
- Nissaba Mesopotamian
[Nisaba]
a Sumerian goddess of wisdom and writing daughter of An
In some accounts she is equated with Ninlil.
- nisse (see nis)
- Nisse god-dreng Norse
a domestic fairy
- Nissien (see Nisien)
- Nissyen (see Nisien)
- Nistya (see Svati)
- Nisu (see Mount Nisu)
- Nisus<sup>1</sup> Greek ['brightness']
a Trojan soldier
son of Hyrtacus and Arisba
He was one of the small band of Trojans with Aeneas in Italy and he was killed, along with his friend Euryalus, when they tried to break through the Rutulian lines to take a message to Aeneas who was away seeking help. Instead of creeping quietly through the cordon, they killed many of the sleeping enemy. The noise aroused the other soldiers who surrounded the two Trojans and killed them.
- Nisus<sup>2</sup> Greek ['brightness']
a purple-haired Egyptian, king of Nisa (Megara) in Corinth
son of Pandion
brother of Lycus, Pallas and Phinöe father of Scylla
He was killed by Scylla when she cut off a lock of his hair to win the love of Minos who was attacking the city. His soul in the form of an osprey or sea-eagle attacked Scylla as she swam after Minos' ship and she drowned or was turned into a sea-bird.
- Nit (see Nauhet.Neith)
- Nitala Hindu
[Patala]
one of the 7 realms of Patala, home of the nagas
- Nitger Norse
the lord of Castle Muter He captured Dietrich von Bern and held him in Castle Muter until Hildebrand led a force to his rescue.
- Nithad (see Nidud)
- Nithoggr (see Nidhogg)
- Nithud (see Nidud)
- Nitibus
a demon of the stars
- niticapoloa Central American
the ritual tasting of soil in some Aztec ceremonies
- Nitighosha Hindu
the chariot of Brhaspati, drawn by 8 horses
- Nitika
a demon associated with precious stones
- Nitne kamui Japanese
evil spirits of the Ainu
(see also Wen kamui)
- Nitsir (see Mount Nisu)
- Niu (see Nun)
- Niu Lang (see Ch'ien Niu)
- Niu T'ou Chinese
[Ox Head:=Buddhist Gosira]
an attendant on Yen Wang, god of the dead,
in the underworld
He and Ma Mien are sent to collect the spirit when a person dies.
- Niu-wang Chinese a god of cattle
He was said to be the spirit of the star T'ien-wen and was envisaged as a buffalo or as a giant sixteen feet tall.
- Niul Irish
a wise teacher
son of Feinius and Farsa husband of Scota
father of Gaedheal
He settled in Egypt and married Scota,
daughter of the pharaoh Cingris.
- Nivetta (see Queen of Northgales)
- Nivrittinatha Hindu
brother of Jnanadeva
- Niwalen Welsh
a name for Olwen as 'White Track'
- Niwareka Pacific Islands
[Nuvarahu]
a fairy princess daughter of Uetonga wife of Mataora
She married the mortal prince Mataora but left him and returned to her home in Rarohenga when he abused her. He husband came to find her and they were reconciled. As they left the realm of the fairies, Tiwaiwaka, the guardian of the entrance, closed the gate behind them so that no mortals could ever go there again.
- Niwsaru Pacific Islands
the first canoe, given to Rata by the wood-spirits
- Niwl (see Yniol)
- nix Norse
[niceras.nik(ur).nixie.nixy.nok:
=Icelandic nykr]
a water-spirit
offspring of Nicor
These beings, who live in undersea palaces, are generally invisible but can take many forms such as horses or human beings. In the latter form, when they are said to have fish-like tails, they may mate with humans. In their normal habitat they are said by some to be old ugly beings with green skin who can assume the form of beautiful maidens to lure humans to their death by drowning. Anyone who rescues a person from drowning can expect to suffer at the hand of the nixies for robbing them of their victim.

(see also Stromkarl)

Nix'ant North American

a trickster-god of the Gros

Ventre people

nixe German

in some accounts, priestesses of lakes, rivers and wells

nixie (see nix)

nixy (see nix)

Niya North American

['breath']

one of the 4 Godlike Spirits of the Sioux, an aspect of Wakan Tanka

Nizir (see Mount Nisu)

Njakomba (see Mbomba<sup>1</sup>)

Njal Norse

an Icelandic hero

husband of Bergthora

father of Grim, Helga, Helgi, Skarp-

Hedin and Thorgerd

He was the head of a family feuding with the Sigfussons. The feud seems to have started either when Bergthora quarrelled with Hallgerda, wife of Gunnar Lambason, or when one of Njal's sons, Skarp-Hedin, killed Thrain, a Sigfusson, and it came to a head when the Sigfussons, led by Flosi, attacked the Njalssons, killing all but Kari, who escaped, and the women and children who were allowed to leave the house, Bergthorsknoll, before it was burnt to the ground. Njal and his wife, knowing that they could not escape, lay together on their bed, with their young grandson Thord between them, and quietly waited for the flames to overwhelm them.

Njali Saga (see Njal's Saga)

Njal's Saga

[Njali Saga]

the story of the feud between the

Njalssons and the Sigfussons

Njambi African

[Jambe.Jambi:=Akan Nyame:

=Bakongo Nzambi]

the creator-god of the Lele

Njinji (see Njinyi)

Njinya (see Njinyi)

Njinyi African

[Njinji.Njinya.Nru(w)i]

the creator-god of the Bamum

Njirana Australian

an ancestral hero of the Aborigines

father of Julana, some say

In some stories, Julana was the son of Njirana, in others his penis which acted separately.

When the penis attacked the woman

Minna Mingari, she called up a pack of dogs causing Njirana to retract his penis. They were all turned into stone.

Njord (see Niord)

Njordr (see Niord)

Njorfe (see Niorfe)

Njorthr (see Niord)

Njuzu African

a water-sprite, guardian of fresh water

These spirits teach young sorcerers

the healing arts and may appear as human-headed fish. They are said to cause tornadoes. Some say they are the spirits of the dead.

Nkisi<sup>1</sup> African

[=Ashanti Obosum:=Dahomey Vodun:

=Ibo Alose:=Yoruba Orisha]

a god: a group of minor gods of the tribes of the Congo

nkisi<sup>2</sup> African

[kis(h)i.mkisi]

a fetish or talisman: statues used in the Kimpasi ritual: witchcraft: magic:

any object inhabited by a spirit

nkita African

[plur=bankita]

in the lore of the Bakongo, the spirit of one who has died violently

These spirits live in rivers and forests and may sometimes take the form of bats.

Nkokn African

[Nkokon]

a mantis

son of Zamba

brother of Ngi, Otkut and Wo

Zamba allowed his four sons to make human beings and Nkokn made the wise.

Nkokon (see Nkokn)

nkoma African

[=Swahili koma]

among the Meru, spirits living on

after death

Nkombe African

a sun-bird, a sun-god of Zaire

He flew to the heavens to bring back the sun, Jefa. Given three parcels by Yemekonji, he opened one of them to release the light of the sun.

Nkondi African

in the lore of the Kikongo, a charm which causes stolen property to be returned to its owner: a fetish

Nkongolo African

[Rainbow King]

a king in central Africa

brother of Bulanda and Mabela

He allowed Mbidi Kiluwe to sleep with his twin sisters and when Bulanda produced a son, Kalala Ilunga, he claimed him for himself. When the boy developed into a great dancer, the jealous king tried to kill him but the young man escaped and fled to his real father, Mbidi, whose army drove off Nkongolo's pursuing forces and killed Nkongolo.

He was said to have been coloured red in life and survived after death as a huge, coloured serpent, the rainbow.

Nkuba African

['lightning']

a sky-god

husband of Chinawezi

father of Konde and Nawezi

In one story, his wife was barren and developed a son from the heart of a cow. (see also Kigwa)

Nkulu African

a fertility-deity of the Baganda

Nkulunkulu African

[=Zulu Unkulunkulu]

a creator-god of the Ndebele

Nyinigulu African

a name of Katonda as 'lord of heaven'

No Cha (see Li No-cha)

No Ch'u-lo Chinese

[Pa-ku-la.Pa-no-ka.P'u chu-lo]

the Chinese version of Nakula

No-Ide-No Shinji Japanese

a Shinto spring festival celebrating the descent of Yama-No-Kami to the ricefields

Non-no-kami Japanese

a field-god: god of plants

No Roz (see Now Ruz)

Noa East Indian

an ancestor of the tribes

of New Guinea

He killed his own son and threw pieces of the body far and wide, using a different language each time. The tribes grew out of these pieces of flesh,

each with its own language.

No'a-huruhuru Pacific Islands

[Hairy Chief]

a Tahitian hero

When Rona devoured Monoi, the lover of her daughter, Hina, No'ahuruhuru helped Hina to kill her mother.

Noaide Baltic

[Noid(d)e.Noita]

a Lappish shaman

The spirit (suoje) which the shaman is said to invoke can be passed on to a descendant or marriage partner and even purchased.

Noakxnim North American

a deity of the tribes of British Columbia

He was said to have arrived from over the sea in a magical canoe.

Noatun Norse

the home of the wind-god Niord

Nobel European

[(King) Noble]

the lion in Reynard the Fox

He was the ruler of the animals and called an assembly of the animals at Whitsuntide to hear complaints and settle arguments.

He tried Reynard for the various offences he was charged with by the other animals and condemned him to the gallows but the wily fox saved his skin by telling the king where a hoard of gold was hidden. When Reynard was later accused of killing the crow, Sharfenebbe, Nobel summoned Reynard to appear in court again but the fox once again talked his way out of trouble.

Noble (see Nobel)

Noble Lady of Felicity

(see Jui-ch'ing-fu-jen)

Noble Isle, The (see Innis Ealga)

Nobori Ryu Japanese

a celestial dragon

Nociel

a moon-demon

nocnitsa Russian

[kri:tsy.plaksy:=Bulgarian gorska makva]

an ugly hag who frightens children or sucks their blood at night

Nocoma (see Nocuma)

Noctacula (see Herodiades)

Nocuma North American

[Nocoma.Tukma]

an omnipotent deity of the tribes of California

He formed the globe of earth in his hands and made it steady by inserting the black rock, Tösaut. The fish split open the rock, emptying its salt contents into the waters to make the seas. Nocuma then made the first man, Ejoni, and the first woman, Ae, from whom the tribes are descended.

Nodens British

[Nodons:=Irish Nuada:=Welsh Nudd]

god of the chase, dogs and water god of the Severn

nodes

[demon points]

points of intersection of the supposed orbits of the sun and moon

The ascending and descending nodes are known respectively as the Dragon's Head and the Dragon's Tail. Both are associated with a form of demonic energy.

Nodons (see Nodens)

Nodotus Roman

a Celtic god of cereals

Nogah (see Hogos)

Noh Ek Central American

a Mayan deity, the planet

Venus personified

Nohochacyum Central American

[Hachachyum]

a supreme god of the Lacandone

people

brother of Uskun

He is destined to fight the final battle with Hapikern at the end of the present world.

(see also Nohochacyumchac)

Nohochacyumchac Central American

[Hachacyum]

a Mayan creator-god

brother of Sucunyum

(see also Nohochacyum)

Noidde (see Noaide)

Noide (see Noaide)

Noidhiu Irish

[Noidiu.Noindhiu.Noine]

son of Fingel

Some say his father was Umhall, others that it was Angus Og who seduced Fingel whose pregnancy lasted nearly ten years.

His mother wanted to kill her baby but he saved himself by uttering nine judgments while still a baby.

Some equate him with Finn mac Cool.

Noidiu (see Noidhiu)

Noijin Japanese

Buddhist mountain gods led by Kubera

Noinden (see Debility)

Noindhiu (see Noidhiu)

Noine (see Noidhiu)

Noisiu (see Naisi)

Noita (see Noaide)

Noj Asian

in some central Asian countries, the man who built the ark when the flood came

nok (see nix)

Nokomis North American

[Noogumee]

a love-goddess of the tribes of the north-east

daughter of the moon

mother of Wenonah

grandmother of Hiawatha

She fell from the heavens into the primaeval waters when the other goddesses, jealous of her beauty, cut the rope on which she was swinging. She became pregnant and populated the world, turning herself into earth so that living things could have dry land to live on as well as the oceans.

In one account, her enemies, the Underwater Panthers, tried to drown her by causing a flood but Manabozho called on the beavers and otters to bring up mud from the bottom from which he made dry land, saving her life.

Another story says that she was the grandmother of Manabush and reared him when his mother, Wenonah, died in childbirth. A twin boy died at the same time but Nokomis placed the surviving child under a dish where he turned into a white rabbit.

In more familiar stories, she raised the infant Hiawatha whose mother, Wenonah, died in childbirth.

Noman Greek

[Outis]

the name used by Odysseus when he and his men escaped from the cave

of the Cyclops, Polyphemus

Nomi-No-Sukune Japanese

[Nominosukune]

a Shinto god, patron of Sumo

wrestlers

He defeated the strong man Kuyahaya in a wrestling match and killed him.

He was deified as Hashi-no-Omi, god of dayworkers.

In other versions, he is the tutelary god of writers.

Nominosikune

(see Nomi-No-Sikune)

Nomios<sup>1</sup> (see Nomius)

Nomios<sup>2</sup> (see Nonios)

Nomius Greek

[Nomios.Pasturer]

a name for a guardian god of the fields such as Apollo, Hermes,

Pan, etc.

Nommo (see Nummo)

Nomos Greek

a deity, law personified

Nompane South American

a legendary king of the Chibcha

He is said to have been taught the arts of agriculture, etc. and religious rites by the god Bochica.

Nona Roman

one of the 3 Fates

She was originally regarded as a goddess of birth.

Nonacris<sup>1</sup> Greek

wife of Lycaon

mother of Callisto and Nyctimus

Nonacris<sup>2</sup> (see Syrinx)

Nonae Capritonae Roman

[Nones of the Wild Fig]

a festival in honour of Juno, held on July 7th

Nones of the Wild Fig

(see Nonae Capritonae)

Nong Afghan

a Kafir winter-god

Nonieb (see Anjinmar)Nonios Greek

[Nomios]

a horse of Pluto

Noogumee (see Nokomis)Noogoumee North American

in the lore of the Micmac, a huge whale

This animal is used as transport by Gluskap.

Noohlum North American

an annual ceremony of the tribes of the north-west

noose Hindu

the weapon of Yama

Nopatsis North American

an Algonquin brother of Akaiyan

His evil wife accused Akaiyan of rape and Nopatsis abandoned him on an island when they were hunting together. Akaiyan survived with the help of the beavers and, when Nopatsis came to the island the following year, expecting to find his brother's bones, Akaiyan jumped on to the raft and left Nopatsis stranded. Next year, Akaiyan found his brother's bones when he came to visit his friends the beavers.

Nopitu Pacific Islands

[=Papua New Guinea Tukis:

=Solomon Islands Kakamora]

spirits of Banks Island

Nor (see Norvi)Nor-lha Tibetan

a local god of longevity and wealth

Nordre (see Nordri)Nordri Norse

[Nordre]

one of the 4 dwarfs supporting the sky (North)

Nordur (see Niord)Nori Norse

one of the dwarfs

norito Japanese

Shinto ritual prayers

Nork Cambodian

hell, the home of the damned

This realm, which has eight levels, lies below the earth and the torment inflicted on sinners increases with the depth. The lowest hell is called Avichi. Each level is divided into sixteen separate hells with increasing levels of torture. Spirits who have suffered torment appropriate to their sins are reborn.

Norna (see Norns)Nornagesta Norse

a poet and musician

The Norns foretold that he would die when the taper, lit and extinguished at his birth, finally burnt out. He lived for 300 years and when he was finally converted to Christianity the taper was relit to show that his superstitious fears were groundless. He died as soon as it was burnt away.

Nornir (see Norns)Norns Norse

[Fates.Norna.Nornir.Nornu.talar-

disir.Vala:=Greek Moirae:=Roman Parcae]

daughters of the gods, giants or dwarfs

The Fates, Skuld (future, necessity), Urda (past, fate) and Verdandi (present, being), who were the guardians of Urda's well. They watered the tree Yggdrasil with water from this well and were also responsible for renewing the soil round the roots of this tree and for tending the two swans that swam on Urda's well. (see also Wyrð<sup>2</sup>)

Nornu (see Norns)Norori Norse

one of the dwarfs

Northern lights (see aurora borealis)Nortia Italian

[Nursia.Nurti:=Greek Tyche:

=Roman Fortuna]

an Etruscan goddess of fortune

Norve (see Norvi)Norvi Norse

[Nor.Norve]

a giant

father of Nott

Nos Galan-Gaef (see Calan-Gaef)Nosenga African

a god of the Korekore people

son of Chikara

He communicates with man through an oracle known as Hore.

Jealous of Dzivaguru's wealth, he drove her from her palace. She took daylight with her so he had to make traps and catch sun-birds to restore the light.

Nosjthej South American

father of El-Lal

Nostradamus French

[Michel de Notredame]

(1503-1566)

a doctor and astrologer who set himself up as a prophet

Notakavya (see Elwe'kyen)Nothung Norse

Sigmund's sword (see also Balmung)

Notos (see Notus)Nott Norse

[Nacht.Nat.'Night']

goddess of the night

daughter of Norvi

By her first husband Naglfari, she bore Aud; by her second, Annar, she produced Jord; by her third, Dellinger, the boy Dag.

She is regarded as the driver of the chariot of the night.

Notu Pacific Islands

a white tortoise

Notu was caught by Yusup and thereafter guided the young man's boat to places where he could be sure of a good catch. Notu also dived and found the magic ring which restored a sea-monster to his proper form as a prince.

Notus Greek

[Notos:=Roman Auster]

the South or South-west wind

son of Eolus and Eos or of Astraeus and Eos

Nouensides (see Novensides)Nouensiles (see Novensides)Nourisher (see Audhumla)Novensides Roman

[Nouensides.Nouensiles.Novensiles]

a group of 9 Etruscan deities

Novensiles (see Novensides)novjaci (see navky)Now Ruz Persian

[Nau Rrooz.No Roz]

the Zoroastrian New Year festival, held at the spring solstice

Nowutset North American

one of 2 sisters, ancestors of the human race

sister of Utset

These sisters were created by Sussistinnako. Her elder sister, Utset, was the ancestor of all the Indian tribes while Nowutset engendered all other races. Nowutset was killed by Utset who tore her heart out.

Nox Roman

[=Greek Nyx]

a goddess of night

Npham Wa (see Ning Sang)Nrisimha (see Narasimha)Nritta-murti (see Nataraja)Nrtya Tibetan

[Tibetan Gar-ma]

a Buddhist mother-goddess

one of the astamataras

She is depicted as green with two or four arms.

Nrui (see Njinyi)Nruwi (see Njinyi)nsamanfo African ancestral spirits of the Ashanti

- Nsassi African
the hero of a dog-story
When Nsassi asked for two beautiful sisters as brides, their father agreed provided that Nsassi could discover their names. He left disappointed. Later, his dog heard the father address the girls as Lenga and Lunga but forgot their names when he tried to tell Nsassi. After hearing the names several more times, the dog finally remembered them and Nsassi was able to claim his brides.
- Nsongo (see Ntsongo)
Ntangaire African
a Tanzanian giant
He was swallowed by Ryangombe but managed to escape by cutting open Ryangombe's stomach, killing him in the process. (see also Ntubugezi)
- Ntikuma African
an Ashanti trickster son of Anansi
In the New World, this character is known as Tacuma.
- Ntombela African
founder of the Zulus son of Malandela
- ntoro African [sensum]
the spirit of the individual in the lore of the Ashanti
A man's ntoro determined his general character. The Ashanti believe that humanity is divided into twelve ntoro groups.
- Ntsongo African [Nsongo]
a moon goddess of the Upoto twin-sister and wife of Lianja mother of Likinda
She was born fully developed from her mother's thigh with her brother Lianja. She became her brother's wife and accompanied him on his many adventures. Her daughter-in-law, Boale, was pregnant when Ntsongo died. The baby was born that day and was Ntsongo re-born.
- Ntsongo and Lianja African
the epic story of these twins
- Ntubugezi African
a Tanzanian giant
To satisfy his voracious appetite, Ryangombe coerced Ntubugezi into giving him eleven oxen which he sat down and ate immediately.
(see also Ntangaire)
- Nu (see Ch'ih Nü.Nun)
- Nu-boko Japanese
the earth's axis: a phallus
- Nü-huang Chinese
the name taken by Nü Kua when she became ruler
- Nü Kua Chinese
[Gourd Girl.Nü-huang.Nü Wa: =Japanese Jokwa]
a serpent-bodied creator-goddess daughter of Shui Ching-tzu, some say wife or sister of Fu-hsi
She represents the yang of Chinese philosophy, her husband representing yin.
In some stories she is the mother of the first humans, in others she made humans from clay and then splashed them with drops from a rope. The drops of clay became the upper classes while the peasants sprang from mud drops.
In the story of the flood, she (Gourd Girl) and Fu-hsi (Gourd Boy) were the sole survivors, floating in a gourd from the tree grown from the tooth of a thunder-god whom they had freed from a trap set by their father. She mated with her brother, both in the form of snakes, to stock the earth with plants and animals. When they tried to produce human beings, they produced only a lump of unformed flesh. Fu-hsi cut this into pieces and scattered it over the world, so producing the human race.
When Fu-hsi died, she took over as ruler under the name of Nü-huang and defeated Kung Kung when he tried to usurp the throne. She repaired the hole in the heavens and the damage caused to the earth when Kung Kung tore down the mountain that supported the heavens. Having set the world to rights, she climbed up a ladder and disappeared into the sky.
She is said to have invented the flute and is credited with the introduction of marriage.
- Nu Mus Da Mesopotamian
a Sumerian god, city god of Kazallu
- Nü Wa Chinese
the name of Nü Kua as Snail Maiden
In some accounts, it is said that the lower part of Nü Kua's body was that of a snail but she is generally regarded as having the body of a serpent below her waist.
- Nü Ying Chinese
one of the Hsiang Fu-jen daughter of Yao
sister of Wo Huang
- Nua (see Nun)
- Nuada<sup>1</sup> Irish [Nuad(h)u.Nuda]
a chief druid
- Nuada<sup>2</sup> Irish [Airedlamh.Airgetlamh.Argatlam.
Elcmar.Ne(a)chtan.Nuadhu (Find).
Nuadhu Necht.Nuadu.Nuda:=British Nodens:=Welsh Nudd]
leader of the Danaans son of Dana husband of Macha, in some accounts husband of Boann, some say father of Gaibne
When he lost a hand in a fight with Sreng at the first Battle of Moytura he was deposed as king, being replaced by Bres, but the physician Dian Cecht made him a new hand of silver. In another version, his hand grew again or was replaced with a real hand by Dian Cecht's son, Miach. When Bres proved unequal to the task and was repudiated by the people, Nuada was reinstated as king.
As Elcmar, he was the husband of Boann who was seduced by the Dagda who had arranged for Elcmar to go on a journey. The god made the nine months seem like one day to Elcmar who thought he was the father of the Dagda's son, Angus Og.
In another version, Nuada was the son of Giallachadh, a king of Ireland, and was accused of rape by his father's second wife. He went into exile and, after many victories overseas, returned to Ireland and inherited his father's throne.
He and his wife, Macha, were killed by Balor at the second Battle of Moytura. (see also Elcmar.Neit)
- Nuadu Finneigeas (see Finegas)
- Nuadhu (see Nuada<sup>1</sup>)
- Nuadhu Find (see Nuada<sup>2</sup>)
- Nuadhu Necht (see Nuada<sup>2</sup>)
- Nuadu (see Nuada)
- nubchi Central American
a Mayan prophet
- Nubdilfaeri (see Mundilfoeri)
- Nuc British [Nudd.Nut]
a duke of Alemaigne
father of Yder
He fathered a son on a noblewoman and then abandoned her. In later years, he engaged a knight in single combat, not knowing who he was. Fortunately, they realised their father and son relationship before either was harmed and Nuc sought out and married Yder's mother.

In the story of Geraint and Enid he is called Nudd and Yder is Edern.

Nucleolus

a mystic name for the Holy Spirit

Nucteus (see Nycteus)

Nuda (see Nuada)

Nudd<sup>1</sup> Welsh

[=British Nodens:=Irish Nuada]

a sky-god

son of Beli and Don father of Ebern and Gwyn

He is regarded as Llud, one of a triad of generous gods with Mordaf and Rhydderch. (see also Lludd)

Nudd<sup>2</sup> (see Nuc)

nudida African

a charm

This magic charm (gbo) takes the form of a small sack of kola soaked in pigeon's blood. It is said to grant any wish which is spoken by the owner while eating early in the day.

Nudim (see Nadimmud)

Nudimmud (see Nadimmud)

Nudung German

son of Rudiger and Gotelinde

brother of Dietlinde

He was killed in the battle between Dietrich and the invading forces of Ermenrich.

nue Japanese

a sky-monster

This beast is described as having the head of an ape and the body of either a badger or a tiger. In the former case, the beast had the feet of a tiger and the tail of a serpent. One appears in the story of Yorimasa.

Nuet (see Nut)

Nuinumma-Kwiten Australian

a monster in the lore of the Aborigines

The threat of this monstrous beast of prey was used to frighten children.

Nuktemene (see Nyctymene)

Nukteus (see Nycteus)

Nuku-mai-tore (see Atua)

Nukuchyumchakob (see Yumchakob)

Nules-murt Russian

a forest-god of the Votyak

This one-eyed being, normally as tall as a forest tree, can vary his height at will. He has a hoard of precious things and moves about inside a whirlwind.

Nuliajoq (see Sedna)

Nuliajuk (see Sedna)

Nuli'rahak Siberian

[=Greenland Nerrivik:=North American

Sedna]

a sea-spirit

She lives in the ocean, feeding on the bodies of the drowned.

Nullandi Australian

a happy man who became the moon-god, Bahloo

Num Siberian

[=Ostyak Num-Turem:=Vogul

Numitarom]

a creator-god and sky-god of the Samoyed

consort of Kaltesh

Num-Torem (see Numitarom)

Num-Torum (see Numitarom)

Num-Turem Siberian

[=Samoyed Num:=Vogul Numitarom]

a sky-god of the Ostyak

Numa Pompilius Roman

[Pompilius]

the second king of Rome

husband of Egeria and Tatia father of Mamercus, Pinus and

Pompo

He married his mistress and adviser, the water-nymph Egeria, after the death of his first wife, Tatia. When the protective shield, the ancile, fell from the sky, he had eleven copies made and hung all twelve in the temple of Mars so that any prospective thief would not know which was the real one.

He is said to have started the cult of the Vestal Virgins.

Numbakulla Australian

a pair of beings from the sky

They came to earth to help the development of the primitive beings (inapertwa) into male and female humans. When they had finished their work the pair became lizards.

Number Nip (see Ruberzahl)

numen

[plur=numina]

a presiding deity: the spirit of an animal or plant: the breath

of humans

numerology

divination by numbers

Numi-Torem (see Numitarom)

Numina<sup>1</sup> Australian

a mother-goddess of the

Aborigines

Numina<sup>2</sup> Roman

the early Roman abstract deities

numina<sup>3</sup> (see numen)

Numitarom Siberian

[Num-Torem.Num-Torum.Numi-Torem.

Numitorem:=Ostyak Num-Turem:

=Samoyed Num]

sky-god of the Vogul

Numitor Roman

a demi-god

king of Alba Longa

son of Proca

brother of Amulius

father of Rhea Silvia

He was deposed by his brother and sent into exile. When his grandchildren, Romulus and Remus, grew up, they killed Amulius and restored Numitor to the throne.

Numitorem (see Numitarom)

Nummo African

[Nommo]

twin spirits of light and water in the lore of the Dogon

These beings were produced when Amma first fertilised the earth or were hatched from one of the two yolks in the primordial egg created by Amma.

They were described as half-human, half snake, with red eyes and forked tongues and were covered with green hair. In some accounts, one was good, the other evil, while some say that the evil one was Ogo who hatched from the other yolk with his sister, Yasigi. The evil one was said to have been changed into a jackal while others say that this jackal was born of a union between Amma and Mother Earth before the Nummo were born. In some accounts, Amma killed the Nummo and, by sprinkling their blood on the earth, made plants and animals. She then restored the twins to life as human beings.

Numokh Mukana North American

the first man, in the lore of the

Mandan tribe

Nun<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Nui.Nu(a).Nuu:=Babylonian Apsu-

Rushtu:=Sumerian Abzu]

a god of the primitive waters

consort of Naunet

progenitor of Atum (Ra)

He represented, with Naunet, the depth of the primitive water and is depicted as a man up to his middle in water, supporting the sun. In some versions, Nun is identified with Ptah.

In another aspect he is regarded as the southern ocean, source of the Nile.

He is depicted with a frog's head or as a baboon or as a man holding up the solar bark.

Nun<sup>2</sup> Muslim

[=Hebrew Leviathan]

a sea-monster

Nun-Ura Mesopotamian

[Nurra]

a name of Ea as an artisan god, patron of potters

Nunammir (see Enlil)

Nunbarsegunu Mesopotamian

[Ninsebagunnu.Nunbarshegum]

a Babylonian mother-goddess, goddess of barley

consort of Haia, some say

mother of Ninlil

Nunbarshegum (see Nunbarsegunu)

Nundu African

a man-eating monster of the Bantu

This monster is said to be invisible but is described as some form of dragon or huge lion.

Nungeen Australian

[Mother Spirit]

a creator-spirit

In some stories she created the birds which ate the insects created by Maroo. Others say that the birds were created by Yhi.

Nunet (see Naunet)

Nunhyunuwi North American

in the lore of the Cherokee,

a man-eating stone giant

Nunne Chaha North American

[Nunne Hamgeh]

a great mountain

This mountain, home of the Creek gods, emerged after the Flood and its mud was used to make the first men.

The Choctaws regard it as the site of the cave where some of their ancestors

sheltered to survive the Flood.

Nunne Hamgeh (see Nunne Chaha)

Nunuoska North American

[Mother Nature]

the progenitor of all animals and plants, in the lore of the tribes of British Columbia

Nunusemia Mesopotamian

a Semitic goddess of fate, a form of Mami

Nunuso'mikeegone'im North American

mother of Alk'unta'm

She is a cannibal woman said to be able to appear as a mosquito.

Nuoni Egyptian

a combination of Horus and Set

This deity was represented as a two-headed human, one head that of an animal, the other of a falcon.

Nuptadi Robe North American

a magic garment

A young Mandan boy, separated from his tribe, found a bow and arrows and with it killed a buffalo. Nearby he found a baby girl and a coyote appeared, passing the baby several times through the smoke of a sagebrush fire so that she matured very quickly. The boy later married her and his wife told him that his foster-sister needed another scalp for the robe she was making. When he saw that the robe had many scalps, each secured

under a clam-shell, and that there was just one remaining empty space, he realised that his foster-sister was a supernatural being. Not wanting to be the one whose scalp filled that empty place, he killed his foster-sister. Her magical powers were then transferred to the robe which became the medicine-bundle of his tribe.

nure-onna Japanese

an evil spirit

Nurelli Australian

a culture-hero of the Aborigines

When he had brought law and order to the tribe he rose to the heavens and became a constellation.

Nurra (see Nun-Ura)

Nurrundere (see Ngurunderi)

Nursia (see Nortia)

Nurtia (see Nortia)

nusa<sup>1</sup> Japanese

a word used by a Shinto priest to ward off evil or to purify offenders

nusa<sup>2</sup> (see gohei)

Nuskesiu'tsta North American

a cave, home of Anaulikutsai'x

Nusku Mesopotamian

a Babylonian god, light personified

son of Ea, Enlil, Samas or Sin

brother of Giru, Kittu and Mesharu

In some accounts, he is identified with

Gibil the Sumerian god of fire and light or with Dimsar or Ninib.

Nusmeta North American

the home of the gods of the Bella

Coola Indians

Nut<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Naut.Nuet.Nuit.Nutpe.'sky']

mother-goddess and sky-goddess daughter of Shu and Tefnut

twin sister and consort of Geb mother of Isis, Nephthys, Osiris, Set and, perhaps, of Horus

She and Geb were locked together

when they were born and Shu forced them apart so that Geb became the earth and Nut became the sky.

In some accounts, she was the mother of Hathor by Ra.

She was cursed by Ra for consorting with Geb and would have been unable to have any children if Thoth had not gambed with the moon and won five intercalary days during which her five children could be born.

When Ra finally gave up the throne and went to heaven, he was raised aloft

by Nut.

She is depicted as a giantess who supports the world on her arched back, swallowing the sun at night and giving birth to it again each new day. In other versions, she is a cow, supporting the sky, held up by Shu,

or a sow suckling young.

Nut<sup>2</sup> (see Naunet)

Nut<sup>3</sup> (see Nuc)

Nu'tentut Siberian

an earth-spirit of the Chukchee people

He owns the world and lives in a house

made of iron.

Nuter Dura Egyptian

the morning star representing a rising sun deity: the soul of Osiris

Nuton European

a Belgian goblin

Nutpe (see Nut<sup>1</sup>)

Nuts of Knowledge Irish

the fruit of the hazel

These (nine) nuts dropped into the river (or Segais' Well which became the river Boyne) and were eaten by the salmon, Fintan, which acquired great wisdom which passed to Finn when he sucked his thumb when cooking the salmon.

Nu'u<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

[Nu'u Pule]

a survivor of the flood in the lore of Hawaii

Like many other flood survivors, he was warned of the impending deluge

by a god (Tane, in this case) and built a boat which he filled with seeds and animals to restock the world after the waters had subsided.

Nu'u<sup>2</sup> (see Nin<sup>1</sup>)

Nu'u Pule (see Nu'u<sup>1</sup>)

Nuvarahu (see Ni'wareka)

Nuyam North American

[=Chinook ikanam:=Thompson spekat:

=Tshimshian adaox]

a myth, in the lore of the Kwakiutl

Nuye Japanese

a mythical bird

This bird is said to have a monkey's head on the body of a dog, the feet of a tiger and a tail like a snake. Eating its flesh is said to cure hiccups.

Nuzuki (see Kaya)

Nvard Armenian

consort of Armenak

mother of Ara (Er)

Nwali (see Nyali)

Nwython Welsh

a warrior in the battle between Gwyn

ap Nudd and Gwythyr

father of Cyledyr
He was killed by Gwyn who forced Nwython's son, Cyledyr, to eat his father's heart as a result of which the boy was driven mad.

Nwyvre Welsh

a god of the atmosphere
son of Gwydion and Aranrhod

Nyaamanekose African

a name of Nyame as 'he who comforts'

Nyadenga African

a name for Mwari as a sky-god

Nyai Belorong (see Kidul)

Nyai Gedé Segoro (see Kidul)

Nyai Lara Kidul (see Kidul)

Nyakalaga African

a name of Were as 'ancient'

Nyakang African

a fertility-god of the Shilluk

All kings of this Sudanese tribe are said to be reincarnations of Nyakang.

Nyakaya African

a crocodile-goddess in the Sudan wife of Okwa

mother of Nyikang

Nyakhaleng African

sister of Sunjata

She is said to have discovered the secret of Sumanguru's magic powers enabling her brother to kill the tyrant.

Nyali African

[Nwali:=Ashanti Nyame]
a creator-god of the Banyai

Nyalwa Buddhist

one of the 6 regions shown on the second wheel of the Tibetan Wheel of Life, the Sipa Khorlo

This is the underworld ruled by Shinje-chho-gyal which has eight realms of hot and cold torture.

Nyam (see Nyambe<sup>1</sup>.Nzambi)

Nyama (see Nzambi)

Nyambe<sup>1</sup> African

[Nyama]

a name for god in many parts of Africa (see Nzambi)

Nyambe<sup>2</sup> (see Nyame)

Nyambi (see Nyame)

Nyame African

[Abommubuwafrre.Amaomee.Amosu.

Amowia.Anansi Kokroko.Borebore.

Brekirihunuade.Nana.Nyaamanekose.

Nyambe.Nyambi.Nyankopon.Nzame.

Odomankoma.Onyame.Onyankopon.

Otomankoma.Totrobonso:=Bakongo

Nzambi:=Banyai Nyali:=Lele Njambi]

creator and supreme god of the Akan and the Ashanti

husband of Nasilete

father of Opo

He appears either as Nyankopon, the sun, or as the moon, or in a third aspect as earth goddess, queen of the underworld. He wields lightning as his weapon and is worshipped in the form of a tree.

Nyami Abe South American

the moon-god of the Tukano Indians

brother of Page Abe

He and his brother ruled alternately, one by night, one by day, each shining as brightly as the other. When Nyami Abe tried to rape his brother's wife, Page Abe gave him a good thrashing that so reduced his power that, thereafter, he could shine only weakly as the moon.

Nyamia African

a supreme god in Guinea

Nyamwezi (see Kazooba)

Nyangoi African

a name of Tilo as 'the everlasting one'

Nyankompong (see Onyankopon)

Nyankopon (see Onyankopon)

Nyauhwe Ananu African

a deity in Dahomey, ruler of the earth

twin sister of Dad Zodzi

mother of Suvinenge

Nyavirezi African

[Kalimulore.Lion Goddess.Nyirarang]

a goddess in Rwanda

wife of Bobingo and Vigara

mother of Nyavirungu and Ryangombe

She was originally a mortal, daughter of a tribal chief, who could change into a lioness after she inadvertently drank lion's urine. When her husband discovered her secret she killed and ate him. She then married Babinga and had a son called Ryangombe.

Nyavirungu African

daughter of Vigara and Nyavirezi

Nybras

a demon, director of revels and publicist in hell

Nycteis Greek

a name for Antiope as daughter of Nycteus

Nycteus Greek

[Nukteus]

a king of Thebes

son of Chthonius or of Hyreius and Clonia

brother of Lycus

father of Antiope (Nycteis)

Some say that he and Lycus were the sons of Poseidon by Celaeno.

One story says that Antiope was abducted by Epopeus. Nycteus pursued them and was killed but Lycus killed Epopeus and rescued Antiope.

Other accounts say that he went to Italy with Diomedes and was turned into a bird by Aphrodite.

Nyctimus Greek

son of Lycaon and Nonaeris

He was killed by his brothers and served in a stew to Zeus who changed them all into wolves, restoring him to life. (see also Arcas.Lycaon<sup>1</sup>)

Nyctymene Greek

[Nyctymene.Nuktemene]

daughter of Epopeus

When she was raped by her father, she ran off into the forest where she was changed into an owl by Athena.

(see also Clymenus<sup>1</sup>.Harpalyce<sup>1</sup>)

Nyengebule African

a legendary wife-killer

He killed his wife but was himself killed by her relatives who learned of her murder when the feathers she wore in her hair became a bird as she died and disclosed the secret.

Nyi Norse

one of the dwarfs

Nyi Pohatji East Indian

a tree-goddess in Java

Nyifwa (see Tilo)

Nyikang African

king god of the Shilluk

son of Okwa and Nyakaya

His father was a god, his mother a crocodile. He left his native land and parted the Nile to allow his followers to cross into the Sudan. He is said to have married a crocodile-woman and founded the royal house, being reincarnated in each subsequent king.

Nyilitimo Pacific Islands

daughter of Guru ri Selong wife of Batara Guru

She and her husband were the ancestors of the tribes of the Celebes.

Nyimi Lele African

an ancestral hero of the Lele people son of Woot and Mweel

Nyina Mweru African

a Banyoro princess

A stranger, Simbu, made her pregnant and then disappeared. Her son, Nduala, accidentally killed the king, his grandfather.

Nyiragongo African

a god in Rwanda

He was in conflict with Nyangombe who threw him into the crater of a volcano and buried him under a pile of rocks.

Nyirarang (see Nyavirezi)

Nyiru Australian

an Aboriginal ancestor whose unwelcome attentions caused the Seven Sisters to leave their home

Nyja Slav
a god of the underworld

nykr Icelandic [=Norse nix]

a water-spirit

These beings sometimes appeared in the form of a horse. When anybody mounted, the horse would gallop back into the sea, drowning the rider.

Nyktelios (see Dionysus)

Nymenche (see Nimue)

Nymeue (see Nymue)

Nymo African

a trickster-deity of the Kru people

When the king demanded that Nymo tackle the impossible task of weaving a new mat from grains of rice, Nymo turned the tables by asking for the king's old mat so that he could match the pattern.

nymphaeum Greek

a shrine dedicated to nymphs: a grotto or temple of the nymphs

Nymphagetes Greek

a name of Poseidon as a god of fresh water

nymph (see nymphs<sup>2</sup>)

nympholepsy

the state of frenzy induced by nymphs

nymphs<sup>1</sup> African

water-girls of the Congo

These beings live in water but are invisible because they are themselves made of water.

nymphs<sup>2</sup> Greek

[nymph]

female divinities living in some natural feature such as water, mountains, etc

The various groups of nymphs are given as:

Acheleids – nymphs of the River Achelous

Alseides – tree nymphs

Creneids – water nymphs

Dryads – tree nymphs

Epimelian nymphs – nymphs of flocks and herds

Hamadryads – tree nymphs

Hydriads – water nymphs

Leimoniads – nymphs of the meadows

Limniads – lake nymphs

Maelids – apple nymphs

Meliae – nymphs of ash trees

Naiads – nymphs of fresh water

Napaeae – nymphs of the trees and valleys

Nereids – nymphs of the Aegean

Nysiades – nymphs of Mount Nysa

Oceanides – sea nymphs

Oreads – mountain nymphs

Orestiads – mountain nymphs

Potameids – water nymphs

Stygian – nymphs of Hades

In some accounts, the Pleiades are referred to as nymphs, as are the Sirens.

nymphs<sup>3</sup>

elementals, guardians of water

Nymue British

[Nymeue]

an early version of Nimue

Nyniaw<sup>1</sup> Welsh

[Ninngaw.Nynniaw]

son of Don, some say

brother of Peibiaw

He and his brother, both kings, quarrelled over the stars and their meaning and ended by fighting a war that devastated the country. They were both turned into oxen for their stupidity and were the animals that Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

(see also Melyn

Granwyn.Peibiaw.Ych Brych

Nyniaw<sup>2</sup> Welsh

[Nynngaw.Nynniaw]

the Welsh version of Nennius brother of Caswallawn, Llefelys

and Llud

Nynngaw (see Niniaw)

Nynniaw (see Nyniaw)

Nyoi Japanese

[=Chinese Ju-i:=Tibetan Dorje]

a thunderbolt as the embodiment of law

Nyoirin Japanese

a name of Kwannon as 'the all-powerful one'

Nyongmo (see Ataa Naa Nyongmo)

Nyorai Japanese

[=Bhuddist Tathagata:=Chinese Ju lai]

a title given to all Buddhas

Nyorthr (see Niord)

Nyr Norse

one of the dwarfs

Nyradr Norse

one of the dwarfs

Nysa Greek

the most beautiful of the Nysaeen

nymphs: the beautiful valley which was their home

Nysaeen nymphs Greek

[Dodonidae.Nysaid(e)s:=Roman Suculae]

daughters of Atlas and Aethra or

Pleione or of Ocean and Tethys

sister of Hyas

Some say there were seven, twelve or fifteen, others only five whose names were Bacche, Bromie, Erato, Macris and Nysa. They lived on Mount Nysa where they raised the infant Dionysus. Some say that these five were placed in the heavens as the Hyades as a reward and that seven (or ten) others became the Pleiades as reward when their brother Hyas was killed in a hunting accident and they died of grief.

(see also Pleiades)

Nysiades (see Nysaeen nymphs)

Nysiads (see Nysaeen nymphs)

Nysrock

[Nyrogh]

a demon acting as a chef in hell

Nysrogh (see Nysrock)

Nyssien (see Nisien)

Nyx Greek

[='night':=Roman Nox]

goddess of night

daughter of Chaos

sister of Erebus, Gaea, Tartarus and Tros

In one version of the story of creation, she is the sister and wife of Erebus, in another she is the mother of Erebus and later his wife. They produced Aether, Eris, the Fates, Hemera, Hypnos, the Keres, Momus, Moros, Morpheus, Nemesis, Thanatos and Tyche. Some say that some of these offspring were produced by Nyx alone.

Other accounts say that she was the daughter and wife of Iao and mother of Gaea and Uranus.

Nyyrikki Finnish

son of Tapio and Mielkki

brother of Tuulikki

Nzakomba (see Yakomba)

Nzambe (see Nzambi)

Nzambi African

[Bambi.Bumba.Chemba.Nyam(a).

Nyambe.Nyambi.Nzam(b)e.

Yambe.Zambi:=Akan Nyame:

=Ghana Ataa Naa Nyongmo:

=Lele Njambi]

creator-god and sun-god of the Bakongo

He is said to have made the first pair of humans or a bisexual being in the form of a palm-tree called Muntu Walunga. This primaevial being may be depicted in effigy with male and female faces on opposite sides and, in some tribes, Nzambi is regarded as female.

Other versions say that she spat out the heavenly bodies, followed by animals and then, having created human beings, returned to the sky.

(see also Ma Bumba)

Nzame (see Nyame.Nzambi)

Nzapa

a creator-god of the Ngbandi
His four sons are said to be palm-trees.

*AfricanNze

a moon-god and fertility-god of

African

the Ngbandi people
son of Ketua and Lomo

Nzua Dia Kimanaweze (see Nzuadia)

Nzuadia

[Nzua Dia Kimanaweze]

African

a hero of the Mbundu father of Kabundungulu and Sudika-Mbambe

He married the daughter of the sky-god and fathered twins.

O

O Central American
a Mayan deity of uncertain identity referred to as goddess O

This deity is depicted as an old woman engaged in spinning and is therefore regarded as a goddess of married women, protector of the domestic scene.

O Ai San Japanese
daughter of Fudo

She stood naked under a waterfall for a hundred days to cure her father's blindness.

O-ana-mochi Japanese [Oanamochi]
a deity of Mount Fuji, the god of the crater

O-binzure (see Binzuku)
o-bisha (see bokusen)

O-bon (see Festival of the Dead)

O Caoimh Irish
husband of Cliona

Cliona turned her sister, Aoibheall, who also loved O Caoimh, into a cat. When he discovered this, O Caoimh abandoned Cliona.

O Cho San Japanese
a maiden
sister of Gisuke

The fisherman Shinsaku fell in love with her and they arranged to be married. This caused so much trouble among the many other fishermen who were in love with her that they put off the wedding. When that proved insufficient, Cho drowned herself and Shinsaku was prevented from doing the same only by her brother who persuaded him to build a shrine to her memory. The other fishermen, ashamed of their conduct, helped him with its construction.

O Cronagain Irish
a man of Munster

On his way home from Brian's court, his dogs started a hare which jumped into his arms, changing into a beautiful maiden. He slept with her in her home in the Otherworld and then lived with her in his own house for several years.

O-Fo (see Fo)
O-Ge-Tso-Hime Japanese

a Shinto goddess
consort of Ha-Yama-To mother of Waka-Sa-Na-Me and Waka-Toshi

Susanowa begged food from her when he was banned from heaven.

O-Goncho Japanese
a bird, harbinger of famine

This bird was a manifestation of a white dragon which lived in a pond and appeared only once in every fifty years.

O-Iwa-Dai-Myojin Japanese
a Shinto god of stoneworking

O-kama-sama (see Kamado-no-kami)
O-Maga-Tsumi Japanese

leader of the evil Morgatsumi

o-mamori (see mamori)
O-mi-t'o-fo (see A-mi-t'o-fo)

o-mikuji (see bokusen)

O Pamé (see Od-dpag-med)

O-Ryu Japanese
the spirit of a willow tree

She married a warrior but they were parted when the tree was felled.

O-somal Japanese
a rice-cake

This cake is used to symbolise Kagami, the magic mirror of Amaterasu.

O-Sung (see Hod-srun)
O-Toshi Japanese

a Shinto harvest-god
son of Susanowa and Kamu-O-Ichi,
some say

husband of Kagayo-Hime father of Mi-Toshi, Oki-Tsu-Hiko and Oki-Tsu-Hime

O Toyo Japanese
a lady at the court of the prince of Hizen

She was killed by a huge cat which then changed into the likeness of O Toyo. Night after night she cast spells which made the prince ill and, when his retainers kept watch over him at night, she put them all to sleep so that she could carry out her evil designs. A soldier, Ito Soda, realised what was afoot and tried to kill her but O Toyo turned herself back into her original form as a cat and escaped. She was later killed by a hunting party led by the prince who had by then recovered.

O-Tsuki-sama Japanese a moon-deity

O-Uso-no-Mikito Japanese [Wo-usu.Yamato Take.Yamato-takere.Yamatodake]
a prince
son of the emperor Keiko
twin brother of Oho-usu husband of Ototachibana

He killed his own brother when he was disrespectful to their father who then sent him to kill two of his worst enemies, the demons Kumaso and Takeru. He made them drunk and then killed them, becoming known as Yamato-takeru.

In another adventure, he killed Idzumo Takeru after substituting a wooden sword for the outlaw's own steel blade.

He made many conquests during one of which he was trapped by a huge grass fire. His magic sword, Murakumo, cut down the grass of its own accord and so saved the hero's life. It became known as Kusanagi.

He fell in love with the princess Miyadzu, ignoring his faithful wife who threw herself overboard in a storm caused by the sea-god, Rin-jin, so that Yamato would be free. Too late Yamato realised what he had lost and forgot about Miyadzu.

When he killed a god who appeared as a deer, the god Ibukidu struck him with a fatal illness. At his death he turned into a white bird.

O-Yama-Tsu-Mi Japanese
a Shinto mountain-god
son of Izanagi and Izanami

O-yan-do-ne North American [Moose.Oyandone]
the east wind in the lore of the Seneca (see also Ga-oh)

Oa (see Aos<sup>2</sup>)

Oa Iriarapo East Indian
a man who made fire

In the lore of Papua New Guinea, this man placed his hand on his daughter's stomach as her child was delivered and, when he removed his hand, flame emerged from his palm. From then on, his people had fire and could cook their food.

Oa Rove East Indian
a shape-changer god of Papua

He gave men weapons to fight with.

Oaf
a changeling: a child left by a fairy or a demon in exchange for another child

oak
a widely distributed hardwood tree
In Celtic lore, this tree was venerated by the druids.

In Greece it was sacred to Zeus, in Mesopotamia to Baal and in Norse mythology to Thor.

It was a sacred tree in Hebrew lore and some North American Indian tribes also regard the oak as sacred.

Oak of two greens (see Haithne)

Oanamochi (see O-ana-mochi)

Oannes Mesopotamian
[Odacon.On.Onnes]

a Babylonian god of wisdom
father of Semiramis by Atargatis,
some say

He lived on an island in the Persian Gulf and taught mankind the arts of writing, agriculture, etc.

He was envisaged as half man, half fish.

In some accounts he is the same as Ea. (see Kuski-banda)

Oarion (see Orion<sup>1</sup>)

Oat Stallion German
a field-spirit personified in the last sheaf

Oath's Lake Irish
the home of Uath mac Imoman

Oats Goat European
a field-spirit

This spirit is invoked to frighten children to keep them out of the corn-fields and to make the reapers hurry in their work to keep out of his clutches.

ôb Hebrew

[plur=oboth]
an object used in divination and as a familiar to a magician
a necromancer or the spirit he invokes

Oba (see Oya<sup>1</sup>)

Oba Do African
mother of Osun

Oba Jumu African
father of Osun

Oba-Kage-chika Japanese
a samurai

He defeated Yoritomo in battle and chased him into the forest. He thought that Yoritomo was hidden in a hollow tree but, when two doves flew out, he was convinced that the fugitive could not be hidden there. The intervention of the doves saved the life of the man who later became shogun.

Obagat Pacific Islands
[=Caroline Islands Lugellan]

a creator-god in the Pelew Islands His wish that man should be immortal was frustrated by Rail who brought diseases causing death.

Obaluwaye North American

[Master of the Universe.Shakpono: =Ashanti Asa-ase:=Dahomey Sagbata] a Yoruba earth-god husband of Nana father of Omolu

obe African
the familiar of Basuto witches in the form of a huge animal

Obe Ohe African

a king of the Yoruba
a devotee of Olokun

Obang African

a supreme god in Cameroon

Obassi African

a supreme deity of some tribes of Nigeria

Obasuyetama Japanese
a mountain

The elderly were often abandoned on the slopes of this mountain. In some cases they were rescued by the gods, in others they died.

Obarator Roman
a god of agriculture

obat hidup Pacific Islands
in Indonesian lore, a magic medicine that heals wounds and restores the dead to life

Obatala African

[Obatalla.Olufa.Oris(h)anla.Orisha-Ijaye.
Orisha-Nla.Orisha-Ogiyan.Orisha-Popo.
Oshal(l)a:=West Indian Obatala] a fertility-god and sculptor-god of the Yoruba

son of Olurun
brother and husband of Oduduwa,
some say
husband of Yemoja, some say

In some accounts it was he who, on the orders of Oldumare, scattered dirt from a snail-shell which was then scratched over by a hen and pigeon to form dry land.

Others say that Olurun sent him down with a huge sphere which he placed in the primitive ocean. This split to form the various land masses.

He can make barren women fertile by giving them a drink of pure water.

Obatalla (see Obatala)

Obeah<sup>1</sup> African

[obe.obi]
a huge animal said to abduct maidens for witches an object bewitched and buried to cause illness or death to others

(see obeah<sup>2</sup>)

- obeah<sup>2</sup> West Indian [obeahism.obe(ism).obi(a).obiism.oby] witchcraft, originally brought from Africa
- obeahism (see obeah)
- obeism (see obeah)
- obelisk Egyptian
a tapering column, a fetish, symbol of the sun-god
- Oberge, Eillart von German
a 12th c writer, author of Tristrant, another version of the Tristram and Isolde story
- Oberon<sup>1</sup> European [Auberon.Tronc:=German Alberich]
king of the fairies, king of Mommur husband of Titania
father of Gloriana, some say In some accounts, he is said to be the son of Julius Caesar and Morgan le Fay.
In the Charlemagne stories he is said to be Tronc, the son of Julius Caesar and the fairy Glorianda or Morgan le Fay and had been stunted in his growth by a jealous aunt, never growing taller than a five year old boy.
In other stories of Ogier, Oberon is given as the brother of Morgan le Fay
He befriended Huon when he met him as the young man journeyed to find Sultan Grandisso and gave him a goblet that provided unlimited quantities of wine for the true believer and a horn that would protect him in times of peril. When he was finally taken up to Paradise by a host of angels, he handed his kingdom over to Huon, despite the objections of King Arthur who had expected to receive the throne.
In some accounts, he was the father of Robin Goodfellow by a mortal and,
in Shakespeare, his wife was Titania.
In some stories he is identified with Andvari.
- Oberon<sup>2</sup> European an opera by Weber about Huon and the king of the fairies
- Oberon<sup>3</sup> European
a poem by Wieland about Huon and
the king of the fairies
- obi<sup>1</sup> African
a sorcerer
- Obi<sup>2</sup> Siberian
a water-spirit
- obi<sup>3</sup> (see obeah)
- obi-man West Indian [obiaman]
a practitioner of witchcraft (see also Lukuman)
- obi-woman West Indian
a female practitioner of witchcraft
- obia (see obeah)
- obiaman (see obi-man)
- Obidicut
the spirit of lust personified
- Obie British
daughter of Lyppaut
sister of Obilot
She rejected the love of Meljanz who then invaded her father's lands.
- obiism (see obeah)
- Obilot British
daughter of Lyppaut
sister of Obie
She was a playmate of Gawain when they were children together.
- Obin-murt Siberian [Idem-kuguza:=Russian Rynys-aika]
a Votyak god of kilns and threshing-barns
- obley cakes
cakes offered in various cultures to their deities
- Obon (see Festival of the Dead)
- Obosom (see Obosum)
- Obosum African [Obosom:plur=Abasum:=Dahomey Vodun: =Ibo Alose:=Congo Nkisi: =Yoruba Orisha]
an Ashanti god
a name for a group of lesser gods
- oboth (see ob)
- Obsidian Knife Butterfly
(see Itzpapalotl)
- Obtala West Indian
[[Grand] Batala:=African Obatala]
the Yoruba deity Obatala transplanted to the West Indies
- oby (see obeah)
- Obyda Russian
[Ar-sori]
evil spirits of the forest in the lore
of the Chuvash
In some accounts these beings are said to have feet pointing to the rear, in others they are described as half man, having but one arm, eye and leg.
- Oc Central American
the tenth in the 20 ages of man in Mayan lore, the conversion to base matter
- Occator Roman
a god of agriculture
- occult
magical: supernatural
- occult sciences
those disciplines which deal with magic, the supernatural, etc.
- occultism
the study of supernatural or mysterious things: theosophy
- occultist
one who believes in the supernatural
- Ocean (see Acein.Oceanus)
- Ocean-sweeper Irish [Boat of Manannan.Wave-sweeper] a magical ship
This ship could read the sailor's thoughts and sailed without oars or sails wherever he wished to go. It was originally brought from the Otherworld by Lugh and given to Manannan.
- Oceanides (see Oceanids)
- Oceanids Greek [Oceanides.Okeanids:male=Oceanirai] nymphs of the river Ocean daughters of Oceanus and Tethys There were said to be some 3,000 of these beings in the oceans of the world.
- Oceanirai (see Oceanids)
- Oceanus Greek
[Ocean.Okeanos]
a river encircling the earth, personified as a Titan
son of Uranus and Gaea
husband and brother of Tethys
He is the one Titan who did not join in the rebellion against the gods.
He is said to be the father of 3,000 sons, 3,000 daughters (the Oceanids) and all the river-gods and sea-gods except Poseidon.
He is depicted with the horns of a bull.
- Ocelopan Central American
one of the leaders of the Aztecs when they left their homeland, Aztlan
- Ocelotaniuh Central American
in some accounts, the Aztec Second Sun
- Ocelotl<sup>1</sup> Central American
an Aztec creator-god and sun-god
He was the ruler of the first of the five ages of the world which was then populated by giants. This age ended when jaguars killed and ate the giants.
Some regard Ocelotl as an aspect of Tezcatlipoca in the role of the Great Bear constellation.
- Ocelotl<sup>2</sup> Central American
the fourteenth of the 20 days of the Mayan month
Symbolising north and the tiger, the day was governed by Tlazolteotl.
- Ocelus Roman
a Celtic god of healing
- Och<sup>1</sup> Celtic
a witch
- Och<sup>2</sup>
one of the 7 Olympic Spirits, ruler
of the sun

Och-do-ah North American
in the lore of the Iroquois, an evil spirit This spirit took the form of a bat and is said to have poisoned a well it was supposed to guard.

Ochain Irish [Moaner.Ochaoín]

the shield of Conor mac Nessa This shield warned the bearer of impending danger by moaning.

Ochall Ochne Irish [Ochall Oichní]

a Danaan king of Connaught

Ochall Oichni (see Ochall Ochne)

Ochaoín (see Ochain)

Ochocalo South American
a servant of Naymlap acting as his cook

Ochren (see Achren)

ocililomba African

in the lore of the Ovimbundu, the soul
It is said that the soul can be seen as the owner's shadow. On death, it leaves the body and becomes an ocilulu, a ghost.

ocilulu African

a ghost

The Ovimbundu say that the soul leaves the body at death and becomes an ocilulu.

ociband African
an Ovimbundu witch-doctor or diviner

Ockabewis North American
a Chippewa hero

Ocnus Greek
[Oknos]

a deity, delay personified

He lives in the underworld and is perpetually engaged, like Sisypus, in never-ending tasks such as plaiting a straw rope which is eaten by a donkey as he works or piling sticks on to the back of a donkey, only for them to fall off on the other side.

O'Corra (see Corra)

Ocesia Roman
[Ocesia]

a slave of Tarquinius Priscus

mother of Servius Tullius

She is said to have borne her son as a result of mating with a phantom phallus rising from the fire.

(see also Tarchetius)

Ocrisia (see Ocesia)

Octa (see Osla)

Octavius Welsh

a duke or king of Gwent

father of Elen

Some say that he is the same as Eudaf.

October Horse Festival Roman

a festival in honour of Mars, held on October 15th

The off-side horse of the winning chariot in a race held at this festival was killed and its head and tail were cut off and presented to the king.

Octriallach Irish

a Fomoirie chieftain

son of Inneach

He discovered that Dian Cecht was restoring the slain Danaan warriors to life by immersing them in Slane, the Spring of Health. He and a group of other Fomoirie piled rocks over the spring, so preventing its use for this purpose. He was killed in the Second battle of Moytura by Ogma.

Ocvran (see Gogvran)

Ocydroma Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed,
she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Ocydroma, tore him to pieces.

Ocypeta (see Ocypete)

Ocypete Greek

[Ocypeta.Okypete.'swift-flying']

one of the Harpies

Ocyrrhoë Greek

daughter of Asclepius

Ocythoe (see Harpies)

od<sup>1</sup> (see odule)

Od<sup>2</sup> (see Odur.Tengri)

Od-dpag-med Buddhist

[O Pamé]

the Tibetan version of Amitabha

Od-hroerir Norse

[Oder(e)ir.Odrerer.Odrorir.

Othrevir.Othroerir]

a kettle

One of the three vessels into which the dwarfs Fialar and Galar drained the blood of Kvasir, the sage, whom they had killed to obtain his knowledge.
This blood, mixed with honey, produced a drink, the skaldic mead, the Mead of Inspiration, which gave the drinker the power of poetry and music.

It was also referred to as the magic cauldron which was seized by Thor from the giant Hymir for use at the feast arranged by Aegir for the other gods; some say it is the same as Eldhrimnir.

Oda<sup>1</sup> African

a god of the Edo people

Oda<sup>2</sup> European

daughter of the emperor Constantine wife of Rother

mother of Helche and Pepin

When a delegation arrived at Constantine's court seeking the hand of Oda on behalf of Rother, king of the Lombards, the emperor had them all thrown into prison. Rother and Berchther came looking for their friends and the emperor released them to help him fight the invading forces of Imelot. After the battle, in which the enemy were routed and Imelot taken prisoner, Rother made off with Oda who had fallen in love with him and returned home where she became his queen.

Constantine employed a magician who tricked Oda into boarding his ship and took her back to Constantinople.
Imelot, having escaped from prison, invaded again and tried to force Oda to marry his ugly, hunchbacked son but Rother arrived in time to save her and killed both Imelot and his son.
Oda returned with her husband and later bore a daughter, Helche and Pepin, father of Charlemagne.

Odacon Cbaldaeon

[Odakon.]

Oannes in the form of a merman

(see also Dagan<sup>2</sup>)

Odainsakar Norse

[Gudmund's Realm.Land of Living Men]

a paradise of happiness where the inhabitants are not dead

In some accounts, this realm is ruled by Mimir.

Odakon (see Odacon)

Odarnatan Irish

a hostel-keeper

His daughter, Odras, was turned into a river or a pool of water by Morrigan.

Odatis Persian

[Hudata]

a princess

daughter of Homartes

She saw Zariadres in a dream on the same night that he dreamt of her. Her father refused to sanction their union and insisted that she choose one of the nobles of her own country. She arranged for Zariadres to appear, dressed as a noble, and she chose him and eloped with him. (see also Katayun)

Odbriect British

a king of Norway

He was killed fighting on the side of King Arthur against Mordred at the Battle of Camlan.

Odd Norse

a hero

Ode to Psyche British

a poem by Keats

Odendonna (see Ioskeha)

Oder (see Odin.Odur)

Oderic European
 captain of the ship in which Isabella sailed for Scotland
 When a storm drove the ship ashore, Oderic sold Isabella to pirates.

Odgard Irish
 a king of Ireland
 son of Aedh

Odhras (see Odras)

Odhereir (see Od-hroerir)

Odherir (see Od-hroerir)

Odhinn (see Odin)

Odiar the Frank British [Odyar Frank]
 a steward at King Arthur's court

Odilia European [Biblinde, Biflinde, Bolverk(in)] daughter of the Duke of Verona wife of Dietmar

Odin Norse
 [Alfader, Alfadir, Alfodr, All-father, All-seer, Alrida, Asa, Atridor, Balegyr, Bilegyr, Bileya, Breit-Hut, Farma-Tyr, Father of Battle, Feng, Fiollnir, Fimbultyr, Fiolsvidr, Fiornir, Fjdnir, Fjolsvidr, Fjorner, Fothin, Furor, Gagavaldr, Galgagramr, Gander, Gangrad, Geignudr, Glapsvidir, God of the Hanged, Grimmr, Grinnir, Hacke(l)berg, Hackelberend, Hakol-berend, Hanga-Tyr, Hangagud, Har(bard), Harr, Helblindi, Her-Tyr, Herfadir, Herfather, Herian, Herjan, Hnikar, Hooded One, Hrafna(-god), Hropt, Iafn-Har, Irmin, Jafenhar, Janfar, Karlafuge, King of Lidskialf, Oder, Odhinn, Ofrir, Omi, One-eyed, Oski, Othin(n), Othinus, Othr, Ouvin, Rosterus, Sidfod(i)r, Sidhott, Sigfadir, Sigtyr, Skidskegg, Svafnir, Sygtyr, (The) High One, Thekr, Thror, Throv, Thrud(r), Thunderer, Uggerus, Vafud, Vak, Valfadir, Valfather, Valfodr, Valkjosandi, Vax, Vech(a), Vegtam, Veratyr, Viator, indefessus, Vidforull, Voden, Wanderer, Wayfarer, Wild Huntsman, Wish God, Yggdrasil, Ygg(r): =German Grim, Votan, Wodan, W(u)otan: =Saxon Irmin, Woden] creator-god, god of battle, the dead, inspiration and wind son of Bor and Bestla
 brother of Ve and Vili husband of Frigga, Grid, Rinda, Saga and Skadi father of Balder, Beldegg, Bragi, Hermod, Heimdall, Hoder, Saeming, Sigi, Skiald, Thor, Vali, Vidar, Weldegg and Yngvi
 He and his brothers Ve and Vili killed the Frost Giant Ymir and built the world from his body.
 He had a number of wives of whom the principal was Frigga. His first wife was Erda who produced Thor, the second was Frigga, mother of Balder, Hermod, and, some say, Tyr, and the third was Rinda, mother of Vali. Others he loved include Grid, mother of Vidar, Gunlod mother of Bragi, Skadi and Saga. He was the father of Heimdall who was produced by nine giantesses (the wave-maidens) simultaneously.

He sent Hermod to consult the magician Rossthiof who prophesied that one of his sons would be murdered and advised that Odin should woo Rinda. Worried by the omens for Balder's future, he went to Niflheim in the guise of Vegtam to consult the prophetess Volva whom he raised from the sleep of death. She told him that Balder would be killed by his own brother, Hoder.

He tried to win Rinda, first as the victorious general who had defeated her father's enemies, then as Rostrus, a craftsman who made her wonderful gifts, and finally as a handsome young warrior. She rebuffed him on every occasion so he put her in a trance and appeared as Vak, an old crone who claimed to be able to break the spell. Instead, he tied her up, carried her off and fathered the boy Vali who grew to manhood in one day and avenged the death of Balder by shooting his killer, Hoder.

In his efforts to improve the lot of gods and man he gave up one eye for a drink from Mimisbrunnr, the Well of Wisdom, suffered untold tortures hanging for nine days from the tree Yggdrasil to learn the mysterious runes and took the skaldic mead from the giants and gave it to man so that those whose drunk might become poets.

On one occasion, angered by the desecration of a statue of himself, he went off leaving Asgard to its own devices. The Frost Giants quickly took over while his brothers Ve and Vili assumed his role. After seven months he returned, ousted his brothers, forced the giants to relax their icy grip and resumed his role.

On a visit to his foster-son, Geirrodd, he went in disguise as Grimm to test his hospitality. He was tortured for eight days and, when he finally revealed his true identity and freed himself, Geirrodd fell on his own sword.

A later story of Odin makes him a god-king originating in Asia Minor, migrating across Europe to the northern realm, and leaving his sons Beldegg, Saeming, Sigi, Skiald, Weldegg and Yngvi as kings of countries he conquered.

As Wotan he forced Alberich to hand over the Rhine-gold, together with the Ring and the Helmet of Invisibility made from it, but Alberich placed a curse on all of this treasure. When Fafnir killed his brother for possession of the gold and turned into a dragon to guard it, Odin decided that a warrior should kill Fafnir so that the gold could be returned to the Rhine-maidens to break the curse. He chose his own son Siegmund but, in a duel with a hunter who had abducted Siegmund's lover, broke Siegmund's sword allowing Siegmund to be killed by the hunter whom Odin then killed with a fierce glance.

He was the owner of a magic spear, Gungnir, a magic bow that accurately fired ten arrows at once and an eight-legged horse called Sleipnir.

When Odin felt that the end was near, he consulted the vala, Haid, who told him how the world would end but could tell him nothing about what would happen after Ragnarok. Her knowledge, combined with his own, enabled him to see the rebirth of the world repopulated by Lif and Lifthrasir, the return of Balder and the happy future contrasting with the doom-laden past.

In the final battle, Odin was killed by the wolf Fenris.

In some accounts, he is said to have brought to Scandinavia the head of Minos, king of Crete, which continued to speak, and used it as an oracle.

He is represented with a long grey beard and carrying his spear, Gungnir, usually accompanied by his ravens Hugin and Munin. On his visits to earth he wore a blue cloak and a flat cap.

(see also Rafnagud, Porun)

Odin's Raven Spell

(see Hrafna Galdur Odins)

Odin's Tree

Norse

Yggdrasil: a name for the gallows

Odin's Wagon

Norse

the wind (see also Great Bear)

odism

[odylism]

belief in a hypothetical force, the odyle

Odius

Greek

a herald

Odlek (see Tengri)
Odnir (see Odin)
Odoacer German
 a usurper of Dietrich's kingdom
 In some stories, Odoacer took over a large part of northern Italy and it was he, rather than Ermenrich, who seized the kingdom of Dietrich von Bern.
Odomankoma (see Otomankoma)
Odon (see Votan)
Odonel
 a demon
Odqan Mongol
 a male fire-spirit
Odr (see Odur)
Odras
 [Odhra.Odrus]
 daughter of Odarnatan wife of Buchat
 When Morrigan stole a bull from her husband's herds, Odras followed her but the goddess found her asleep and turned her into a river (or a pool of water).
Odreror (see Od-hroerir)
Odrorir (see Od-hroerir)
Odrus (see Odras)
Odsmaer Norse
 a name for Freya as the wife of Odur (Od)
Odudua (see Oduduwa)
Oduduwa African [Odudua]
 a creator-goddess and war-goddess of the Yoruba wife and sister (or, some, say, daughter) of Olodumare or Obatala mother of Aganju, Ogun and Yemoja
 Some regard her as the founder of the Yoruba.
 In some accounts, Oduduwa is regarded as male, son of Lamurudu and brother of Obatala, marrying Aje and fathering Oranyan; in others she is female in which role her father sent her to earth to sow seeds and she became the wife of Orishako.
Odur Norse
 [Od.Od(e)r.Odnir.Oth(u)r]
 a sun-god
 husband of Freya
 father of Gersemi and Hnoss
 He once left Freya for a long time and she wandered the face of the earth in search of him. They were eventually happily reunited. (see also Svipdag)
Odyar Frank (see Odiar)
odyle
 [od.odyllic force]
 a hypothetical force said to be produced by a spiritualist medium

odylism (see odism)
odyllic force (see odyle)
Odysseus Greek [Delphinosemos.Polymetis.Sysyphides:
 =Roman Ulixes.Ulysses]
 king of Ithaca husband of Penelope
 father of Telemachus
 In some versions he was the son of Sisyphus and Anticleia, in others the son and successor to Laertes by Anticleia, nursed by Eurycleia.
 He won Penelope as his wife in a foot-race or as a reward for advice given to Tyndareus.
 He tried to avoid serving with the Greek army by pretending madness and sowing his fields with salt but this ruse did not work; Palamedes placed the infant Telemachus in front of the plough and Odysseus was sane enough to avoid the child. He eventually joined the force that had been raised to attack Troy.
 After the fall of Troy he wandered for ten years before finally getting back to his home (see Odyssey).
 When he did get back he found that his wife Penelope had for some years been besieged by suitors who thought her husband was dead. They refused to leave her house and were virtually eating her out of house and home. With the help of his old swineherd Eumaeus, his son Telemachus and the goddess Athene he got his hands on his bow and arrows and shot the suitors in cold blood – all except Medon and the minstrel Phemus whom he spared to provide the music at the celebration of his home-coming. His son hanged all those servants who had not remained faithful to Odysseus during his long absence.
 In some accounts, he travelled to Thesprotia where he married the queen, Callidice, fathering Polyphemos. When the queen died, Odysseus returned to Penelope, leaving his son as king of Thesprotia.
 Another story says that the relatives of the dead suitors brought Odysseus to trial for murder and Pyrrhus, acting as judge, sent him into exile in Anatolia where he married the daughter of the king, Thoas, and she bore him a son named Leontophonus.
 He once stayed with the king of Epirus and raped his daughter, Euipe, on whom he fathered a son, Euryalus. When the boy grew up, Euipe sent him to kill his father but, warned of his coming, Odysseus slew the youth, not knowing he was killing his own son. Another version says that Odysseus sent the boy to live with Penelope who later accused the boy of rape, so Odysseus killed him.

At the end of his life he assembled a fleet and sailed off to the west, never to be seen again.

Another story says that he was accidentally killed by Telegonus, his own son by Circe who had sent him to look for his father, and who was unaware that the man he fought and killed was his own father. In this story, Telegonus took the body back to Aea, to be buried by Circe.

Odyssey<sup>1</sup> Greek

Homer's epic story, in 24 volumes, of the wanderings of Odysseus after the Trojan war

At the fall of Troy, the Greeks angered Athena and Poseidon, who had helped them in the fighting, by violating Athena's temple and by failing to sacrifice to the gods and they planned to make the Greeks suffer. They caused a storm to disperse the fleet on its homeward journey during which Menelaus was blown all the way to North Africa and Ajax the Less was drowned. Odysseus was forced to wander for ten years before finally reaching home.

The first landfall for Odysseus and his crew was the island of Ismarus where they sacked the city and lost some men in battle. Next came the land of the Lotus-eaters where his men were so enchanted that he had to chain them aboard.

Next came the encounter with the Cyclops, Polyphemus, who trapped them in his cave and ate some of the crew. The others managed to escape, by hanging underneath the giant's sheep, only after Odysseus had blinded the giant with a fire-hardened wooden stake.

In the country of Aeolus, god of the winds, they were given all the storm winds in a sack to ensure a calm voyage but some inquisitive sailor opened the sack and caused another storm which blew them off course to the land of the giant cannibals, the Lestrygonians, who destroyed all the ships except one.

They next landed at Aea, the island of Circe the witch who turned all the advance party into pigs. Hermes gave Odysseus a herb which protected him from Circe's magic and he forced her to return his men to human form again on pain of death. She fell in love with him and Odysseus stayed with her for a year. In some accounts, they had a son, Telegonus, who later unwittingly killed his father; in others, they had two other sons called Agrius and Latinus. Circe found out what he needed to do in order to get home safely; this required Odysseus to go down to Tartarus and find the ghost of the prophet Teiresias who warned him not to harm the oxen of Helios.

Passing the island where the Sirens lived, Odysseus made his crew stop their ears with wax while he was roped to the mast. In this way they were able to resist the seductive songs of the Sirens and they also survived the passage between Scylla and Charybdis, losing six of his crew to the voracious Scylla, in some stories.

At Trinacria, the island of the Sun, his men killed some of the oxen for food and Helios avenged the insult by shattering the ship with a thunderbolt. All perished except Odysseus who drifted for some days on a piece of wreckage until he landed on Calypso's island, Ogygia, where he was held virtually captive for several years by the nymph who fell in love with him.

Athena finally gave up her vendetta and Zeus made Calypso release her captive. She sent him off on a raft and he drifted for seventeen days until Poseidon, who hadn't relented, blew up another storm which wrecked the raft. Again Odysseus found himself in trouble but the sea-goddess Ino came to his aid, giving him her veil to protect him from the sea, and he swam for two days before coming ashore naked and exhausted in the land of the Phaeacians. He was found by the king's daughter, Nausicaa, and her father, Alcinous, generously provided a ship which took Odysseus on the last leg of his journey home.

Odyssey<sup>2</sup> West Indian
a play by Derek Walcott based on the Greek story

ody andoha African in Malagasy, a charm which protects the wearer from headaches

ody basy African in Malagasy, a charm which protects the wearer from bullets

ody tandroka African in Malagasy, a charm which protects the wearer from bulls

Oeagrius (see Oeagrus)

Oeagrus Greek [Oeagrius.Oiagros]
king of Thrace
son of Pierus and Euipe father of Orpheus by the Muse Calliope

In some stories, Orpheus was fathered on Calliope by Apollo while others say that Oeagrus was the son of Charops and the father of Linus by Urania.

Oeax Greek
son of Nauplius by Clymene or Hesione brother of Nausimedon and Palamedes Bitter at the unjust execution of his brother Palamedes at Troy, Oeax, who survived the war, told Clytemnestra that Agamemnon was bringing back Cassandra as a concubine, so precipitating much of what followed when Agamemnon finally returned to Greece. (see Clytemnestra)

Oebalus Greek
king of Sparta
husband of Gorgophone, widow of Bateda or of Perieres father of Hippocoon, Icarus and Tyndareus

Oecles (see Oicles)

Oede (see Eudes)

Oedipodeia Greek
one of the poems in the Epic Cycle, the story of Oedipus

Oedipodion Greek
a tomb, the final resting place of Oedipus

Oedipus Greek [Oidipodes.Oidipous:=Javanese Watu.Gunung]
king of Thebes
son of Laius and Jocasta
father of Antigone, Eteocles, Ismene, Polyneices

The infant Oedipus was abandoned on Mount Cithaeron by his father who pierced his feet with nails and was raised by Polybus, king of Corinth. In other accounts, the child was cast adrift in a chest. In either event, he survived and in later life he met his real father without knowing who he was and he killed both his father and his charioteer, Polyphontes, when they tried to run Oedipus down with their chariot. In some versions, Laius had four attendants with him and Oedipus killed all five.

He correctly answered the riddle of the Sphinx who thereupon killed herself and he was made king of Thebes by the citizens grateful for the removal of that monster.

He married Jocasta not knowing that she was his real mother and they had four children, Antigone, Eteocles, Ismene and Polyneices. When Teiresias revealed what had happened, Oedipus blinded himself and wandered thereafter throughout the length and breadth of Greece accompanied by his faithful daughter Antigone.

He was finally killed by the Furies at Colonus and buried by Theseus.

In some accounts, Oedipus had a second wife, Astymedusa or Euryganeia, the mother of his four children.

Oedipus at Colonus Greek
a play by Sophocles, one of the Three Theban Plays

Oedipus Rex
[Oedipus the King]
a play by Sophocles, one of the Three Theban Plays

Oedipus the King (see Oedipus Rex)

Oedipus Tyrannus Greek
a play by Sophocles, one of the Three Theban Plays

Oegishialm (see Helmet of Invisibility)

oeh-da North American in the lore of the Seneca, mud brought up from the bottom of the primaevial waters

This mud, brought up by Muskrat, was placed on the back of a turtle, Earth-Bearer, and grew to form the world which, it is said, is still carried on the turtle's back.

Oeillet
a demon which tempts monks to break their vows

Oeneis Greek
a nymph
mother of Pan, in some accounts

Oeneius (see Oeneus)

Oeneus Greek [Foeneus.Oeneus.Oineus.'vintner']

king of Calydon
son of Portheus and Euryte brother of Agrius, Alcaethus and Melas husband of Althaea and Periboea father of Deianeira, Gorge, Melanippes, Meleager and Toxeus by Althaea father of Olenias and Tydeus by Periboea

Oeneus was taught the art of the vintner by Dionysus to whom he had offered his own wife.

He forgot a sacrifice to Artemis and the goddess sent a huge boar to ravage his country. This animal, the Calydonian Boar, was hunted and killed by a party led by Meleager.

After the death of Althaea, he married Periboea who bore Olenias and Tydeus.

His throne was seized by his nephews but his grandson, Diomedes, restored the line by putting Andraemon, husband of Gorge, on the throne. Oeneus went to Argos with Diomedes but was killed by his two nephews who had escaped his grandson's sword.

Oenghus (see Angus)

Oengus (see Angus)

Oeno<sup>1</sup> Greek

one of the Oenotropoe
daughter of Anius and Dorippa
sister of Elais and Spermo

Oeno<sup>2</sup> Greek

a name used by Leucippus when he disguised himself as a nymph to woo Daphne

Oenoe Greek

a nymph
one of the Naiads wife of Thoas mother of Sicinus

oenomancy
a form of divination using wine

Oenomaus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Oinomaos]
a Trojan soldier

He was killed by Idomenus whose spear-throw was intended for Aeneas.

Oenomaus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Oinomaos]
king of Pisa
son of Ares by Sterope husband of Sterope, some say father of Hippodamia

Warned by an oracle that he would be killed by his son-in-law, he challenged all suitors for his daughter's hand to a chariot-race with Hippodamia riding with the suitor to distract him while Oenomaus chased them in his chariot drawn by Psylla and Harpinna, horses as fleet as the wind. The losing suitors were killed. In the race against Pelops, who had been given an even faster set of horses and chariot by Poseidon, his chariot was sabotaged by his charioteer Myrtilus, who had been bribed by Hippodamia, and Oenomaus was dragged to his death.

Oenone Greek

[Oinone] a nymph of Mount Ida
a prophetess

daughter of Cebren

mother of Corythus by Paris

She married Paris before he became aware of his royal parentage but he abandoned her in favour of Helen. When Paris was wounded at the battle of Troy, his attendants took him to Oenone in the belief that she knew a magic drug which would save him. She took her revenge by letting him die but then, overcome by grief, hanged herself or threw herself on his funeral pyre and died with him.

Oenopion Greek

[Oinopion.'wine-face']

king of Chios

son of Dionysus and Ariadne

husband of Helice

father of Aero and Merope

He promised the hand of Merope to Orion if he would rid his island of dangerous beasts but reneged on his promise. When Orion, in drink, raped Merope, Oenopion, with the help of some satyrs, blinded him.

Oenotropoe Greek

[Oinotropai]

Elais, Oeno and Spermo, the

3 daughters of Anius and

Dorippa

They were given the power by Dionysus to produce cork, oil and wine at will and their father supplied the Greek fleet being assembled for the assault on Troy and later during the siege of that city.

It was said that they were captured by the Greeks and forced to give them the supplies they needed. They later escaped but were recaptured and Dionysus intervened to turn them into doves.

Oeonus Greek

son of Lycimnius and Perimede

brother of Argius and Melas

He was stoned to death by the sons of Hippocoön and his death was avenged by his cousin, Heracles.

Oeorpata (see Amazons)

oes sidhe (see aes sidhe)

Oesc British

a king of Kent

Oestra (see Eastre)

Oeth and Anoeth

(see Castle of Oeth and Anoeth)

Ofoe African

a servant of Oguwu

The god of death sends Ofoe to collect those who he has decreed shall die.

He is depicted as a head on two legs with long arms.

Ofirir<sup>1</sup> Norse

a name of Odin as a snake

(see also Ofirir<sup>2</sup>)

Ofirir<sup>2</sup> Norse

a snake gnawing at the twigs of Yggdrasil (see also Ofirir<sup>1</sup>.Svafnir)

Ogbu-ghu African

a hornbill

In a story told by the Ibo, there was no land when Ogbu-ghu's mother died and the bird could find nowhere to bury her body. He carried her body on his back and flew over the primordial waters seeking a burial site and finally spotted two people swimming in the ocean. They brought up land from the bottom and he was at last able to bury his mother properly.

ogdoad

a group of 8 divine beings: the heavens

Ogdoad of Hermopolis

(see Ogdoad of Khmun)

Ogdoad of Khmun Egyptian

[Ogdoad of Hermopolis]

the 8 deities of the primitive waters

These are listed as Amen and Amaunet, Huh and Hauhet, Kekui and Kekuit, Nun and Naunet. They created the hill which rose from the waters.

They are depicted as baboons greeting the rising sun.

Ogetsu-no-hime Japanese

a food goddess

She was killed by Susanowa and the staple crops of the Japanese diet grew from her body.

Oghma (see Ogma)

Oghuz

[=Persian Azhi Dahak]

an Aryan demon

Ogier European

[Holger (Danske).Ogier le Danois.

Ogier the Dane.Otgarius]

one of Charlemagne's paladins

son of Geoffroy, king of Denmark son of Doolin, some say husband of Belicene

father of Baldwin

At his baptism, six fairy queens endowed him with many qualities, one of the queens, Morgana, claiming him as her own. At the age of sixteen he was sent to Charlemagne's court as pledge for his father's continued allegiance. In some stories, he was sent to prison and later married the daughter of the prison governor. Other stories have him marrying an English princess who was given to him as a reward for killing a giant Saracen.

He went with the emperor's army to repel the Saracens besieging Rome and, in his first battle, took over the oriflamme from the cowardly Alory and distinguished himself by his bravery. He saved Charlemagne's life when the emperor's horse was killed and two Saracens were about to kill him and Ogier was rewarded for this with a knighthood. His sword, Cortana, was provided by Morgana.

One of the Saracens who had unhorsed the emperor was Carahue, king of Mauritania, and he challenged Ogier to single combat. Charlot, the emperor's son, also accepted the challenge of Sadon, Carahue's cousin. Charlot arrived with a troop of his followers and attacked the other three. Ogier and the two Saracens routed their attackers and became friends. He was held captive by Dannemont, a renegade Danish king fighting with the Saracens, until Carahue, in protest, surrendered himself to Charlemagne. Without their leader, the Saracens made peace with the emperor and Carahue and Ogier were exchanged.

Ogier then took an army to Denmark and repelled the forces attacking that country but his father, the king, died almost at the moment of victory. Warned by a heavenly voice, Ogier refused his father's crown and left it to his half-brother, Guyon.

When his young son Baldwin was killed by Charlot, Ogier was prevented from killing the emperor's son only by a servant who intervened. Ogier dashed a cup from the servant's hand and some of the wine splashed in the emperor's face. He left the court in disgrace but was later captured by troops led by Turpin and handed over to Charlemagne who sentenced him to prison on a diet designed to starve him to death. The archbishop gave Ogier larger rations and kept him alive and in good health. His horse, Beiffror, was taken by the Abbot of St Faron.

Ogier was released from prison only when the emperor needed him to accept the challenge thrown down by Bruhier, the Sultan of Arabia, who had invaded France. Ogier agreed to accept the challenge on the emperor's behalf on condition that Charlemagne would hand over Charlot for the punishment due to him for killing Ogier's son. Ogier allowed Charlot to live and renewed his allegiance to the emperor. He was reunited with his horse Beiffror and met Bruhier in the lists. Bruhier had a magic lotion that healed wounds and restored severed limbs as soon as it was applied. A sword-stroke from Bruhier killed Beiffror and one from Ogier cut off Bruhier's arm. When the Arab dismounted to pick up the severed arm, Ogier was able to drive Bruhier away from his own horse so that he could not reach the flask of lotion. Ogier finally killed Bruhier and claimed his horse Marchevallée, using the lotion to heal his own wounds.

Armies under Carahue and Guyon sent to release Ogier from prison found that they were no longer needed since Ogier had been released by the emperor, so they combined forces to support the French under Ogier in an attack on the Saracens in their own countries. Ogier took with him the young Walter, son of his half-brother Guyon, and after many years in the east, handed over his responsibilities to Walter and sailed for France. His ship was wrecked on a strange shore where two sea-monsters let him pass and the fire-breathing horse, Papillon, carried him to the palace of Morgana who had at last claimed him. He stayed in Avalon for a hundred (two hundred, some say) blissfully happy years, never aging. When he finally asked to be allowed to return to France, he and Papillon were carried over the sea on the backs of the two sea-monsters.

Ogier rode Papillon to Paris where he recognised nothing and nobody. The king, Hugh Capet, told Ogier all that had happened while he had been away and Ogier helped him to rout a force of Saracens attacking Chartres. When the king died it was intended that Ogier should marry the queen and rule France but a golden crown appeared on Ogier's head and he disappeared from sight. He had been reclaimed by Morgana who transported him to Avalon where he still lives, together with King Arthur, both awaiting the call to return in the hour of need. Others say that he sleeps under the Kronenberg where his beard has grown to an enormous length.

He was said to have carried a burning brand and would die when it was extinguished.

In some accounts, he fathered a son,

Marlyn, on Morgana. Meurvin, similarly described, may be the same as Marlyn.

Others say that Ogier fathered Baldwin on Belicene, the daughter of the governor of the prison in which he was held as surety for his father's allegiance to Charlemagne, while yet another story says that he rescued a lady, who turned out to be the daughter of the king of England, from the hands of the Saracens, and married her.

Ogier le Danois<sup>1</sup> European
a Continental story of Ogier and his exploits

Ogier le Danois<sup>2</sup> (see Ogier)

Ogier the Dane (see Ogier)

Ogir (see Aegir)

Ogiuwu (see Oguwu)

Ogma Irish

[Cermait.Grianaine(a)ch.Grianeces.

Mac Elathon.Oghma:=British Ogmia:

=Celtic Ogmios:=Welsh Gwydion]

god of eloquence husband of Etain

father of Mac Cecht, Mac Cool, Mac

Greine and Turenn

Some say that he was the son of the Dagda by Boann, others that his father was Ealadha and he was the brother of the Dagda and Lugh.

He is said to have invented ogham and introduced writing. He made the magic sword Orna which was owned by Tethra and, in some accounts, captured it at the second battle of Moytura where he killed Inneach and, in some accounts, was himself killed. In other accounts, the sword was seized by Manannan at Moytura.

Ogmia British
the British version of Ogma

Ogmios (see Ogmios)

Ogmios Celtic

[Ogmios:=Irish Ogmia]

a Celtic god of wisdom in Gaul

He is described as a lion-skinned god and may be an aspect of Hercules.

He is depicted as a smiling old man whose lips are connected by a very fine chain to a large group of followers.

Ognyena Maria (see Oynyena Maria)

Ogo African

['jackal'.Yurugu]

an evil god of the Dogon son of Amma

brother of Yasigi

He and Yasigi were hatched from one of the two yolks of the primordial egg created by Amma; the twins Nummo were born from the other.

In an attempt to overthrow his father, he stole his brother's semen but one of the Nummo tore out Ogo's tongue and bit the end off his penis. He was thereafter known as Yurugu.

Ogof Lanciau Eryri British

a cave in Wales in which, it is said King Arthur's men lie asleep, awaiting his return

Other sites suggested are Alderley Edge, Cadbury, Craig-y-Dinas, Mount Etna, Ogo'r Dinas, Richmond Castle and Sewingshields.

Ogof Myrddin (see Merlin's Hill)

Ogon Slav

[Agoni.Ogoni:=Hindu Agni]
fire personified

Ogoni (see Ogon)

Ogopogo North American

[Nartaka]
a water-monster in British Columbia

Ogo'r Dinas British

a cave, in Wales, in which it said King Arthur himself lies sleeping, awaiting a call in Britain's hour of need

Other sites suggested are Alderley Edge, Cadbury, Craig-y-Dinas, Mount Etna, Ogof Lanciau Eryri, Richmond Castle and Sewingshields.

Ogoun West Indian

[Gourg(o)une.Gug(o)une:=African Ogun]
the warrior-god of Haiti
one of 3 husbands of Erzulie

He is a trickster-god who sometimes appears as a fire-eater.

Ogoun Balanjo (see Ogoun Tonnère)

Ogoun Ferraille (see Ogoun Tonnère)

Ogoun Tonnère West Indian

[Agomme Tonnère.Ogoun Balanjo.
Ogoun Ferraille]
a Haitian voodoo spirit derived from the Yoruba god, Ogun

This spirit may be depicted as St George.

ogre<sup>1</sup>

a man-eating monster, usually quite stupid

The ogre takes many different forms. In the Baltic regions it is a seven-headed serpent, in Greece a dragon and in Norway a troll.

Ogre<sup>2</sup> (see Tsenagahi)

ogress

a female ogre

Ogrin British

a hermit

He befriended Tristram and Isolde and drafted the letter to Mark in which Tristram offered to restore Isolde to her husband.

Ogu West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit derived from St James the Great

Oguges (see Ogyges)

Ogugia (see Ogygia)

Ogun African

[=Dahomey Gu:=West Indian Ogoun]
a Yoruba war-god and god of agriculture and iron
son of Aganju or Oduduwa and Yemoja
By turning himself into a machete, he cleared the forests to make room for the gods to come down to earth.

Oguwu African

[Ogiuwu]
an Edo god of death
He is the ruler of the underworld and owns the blood of all things. He decrees who shall die and sends his servant Ofoe to fetch them.

Ogyges Greek

[Oguges.Ogygos.Ogygus]
king of Thebes
father of Eleusis

In one version of the story of the flood, he appears in place of Deucalion.

In other versions, the flood that occurred during the reign of Ogyges occurred two centuries before Deucalion's flood.

Ogygia Greek

[Ogugia]
the island of Calypso where Odysseus was held for some years

Ogygos (see Ogyges)

Ogygus (see Ogyges)

Ogyr Vran (see Bran<sup>1</sup>)

Leodegrance.Ogyrvan)

Ogyrvan Welsh

[Ogyr Vran.Ogy(r)ven]
a magic cauldron, in some accounts
Some say that this was the name of Ceridwen's father who gave her a magic cauldron. Others say that this name was given to Leodegrance, father of Guinevere. (see also Amen)

Ogyrven (see Ogyrvan)

Ogyrvren (see Ogyrvan)

Oh-maga-tsumi Japanese

a demon, chief of the maga-tsumi

Oharai Japanese

a purification ceremony held in December

Ohare Akore East Indian

in Papuan lore, the fourth person to be created

This person, born from a turtle's egg, later turned into the black coconut palm.

Ohdows North American

[Ohodowas]
one of the 3 tribes of Yogah

In the lore of the Iroquois, these dwarf beings are responsible for preventing the monsters of the underworld from escaping into the upper world.

Ohe African

a supreme god of the Egede in Nigeria

Ohgiwe North American

an Iroquois festival of the dead
It is believed that the spirits of the dead, although unseen, continue to be present among the living and are present also at this festival staged in their honour.

Ohnivak Slav

[=Arab phoenix]
a fabulous fire-bird

Oho-ga-tsu Japanese

a food-goddess

Oho-hiru-me-no-muchi
(see Amaterasu)

Oho-iwa Dai-myō-jin Japanese

a god of rocks
guardian of women at childbirth

Oho-kuni-nushi<sup>1</sup> (see Okuni-nushi)

Oho-kuni-nushi<sup>2</sup> Japanese

a deity who rides through the streets on a bronze horse at the Festival of Minige

Oho-tata-ne-ko Japanese

son of Iku-tama-yore-hime
His father was a youth who nightly visited his mother before leaving through the keyhole.

Oho-to-no-be Japanese

a primaevial deity
sister of Oho-to-no-ji

Oho-to-no-ji Japanese

a primaevial deity
brother of Oho-to-no-be

Oho-usu Japanese

[Great Foot Pestle]
son of Keiko
twin brother of O-usu-no-Mikito

His father sent him to escort two beautiful maidens to his court to become wives of the emperor. Instead, Oho-usu married the girls, Ye-hime and Oto-hime, and sent two others to his father's court. Keiko refused to accept them and they died of grief.

Oho-wata-tsu-mi Japanese

a god of the waters
son of Izanagi and Izanami

Oho-yama-tsu-mi Japanese

a mountain-god
son of Izanagi and Izanami
father of Iha-naga, Sengen and Uzume

Ohobarai Japanese

[=Hebrew Tashlikh]
a rite of expiation in which figures or clothes are ceremonially drowned

- Ohodowas (see Ohdows)
- Ohoroxtotil Central American
a Mayan creator-god
He is said to have killed off the jaguars so that man could safely inhabit the earth.
- Ohoyo-osh Chishba North American
a Chibcha corn-goddess
- Ohrmazd (see Ahura Mazda)
- Ohrmuzd (see Ahura Mazda)
- Oi' African
an East African god of sickness
- Oi² South American
a mythical race of tall people in Brazil
- Oi-E (see Kane-Oi-E)
- Oicles Greek
[Oecles]
an Arcadian seer
father of Amphiarus
by Clytemnestra
He sailed with Heracles when he sacked Troy and was killed by the Trojans when he was left to guard the beached ships.
- Oidead Clainne Lir Irish
[The Tragedy of the Children of Lir]
the story of Fionula and the 3 brothers (see Children of Lir)
- Oidipous (see Oedipus)
- Oigros (see Oeagrus)
- oiik African
ancestral spirits of the Nandi people:
demons causing sickness
- Oileus Greek
a king of Locris
son of Hodoedocus and Agrianome father of Ajax the Less father of Medon by Rhene
He was one of the Argonauts.
- Oilill (see Ailill Olom)
- Oillet
a demon of riches
- Oillipeist Irish
[Ollphiast]
a fabulous monster
It is said that, in crossing towards the west, he gouged out the channel of the river Shannon.
- Oilmelc (see Imbolc)
- Oilmelg (see Imbolc)
- Oimelc (see Imbolc)
- Oimelg (see Imbolc)
- Oin (see Ain)
- Oineus (see Oeneus)
- Oinn Norse
one of the dwarfs
- Oinomaos (see Oenomaus)
- Oinone (see Oenone)
- Oinopion (see Oenopion)
- Oinotropai (see Oenotropoe)
- Oirbsen Irish [Oirbsiu]
an early name for Manannan
- Oirbsiu (see Oirbsen)
- Oisene (see Oisin)
- Oisin Irish
[Little Fawn.Oisene:=Manx Oshin: =Scottish Os(s)ian] king of the Land of Youth son of Finn mac Cool by Saba husband of Niam
father of Oscar by Eibhir
father of Plur na mBan by Niam
A deer run down by Finn's dogs turned out to be a beautiful maiden, Saba, who had been turned into a deer by a druid whose love she had rejected. She married Finn but when he was called away to fight the Norsemen the druid turned up again and changed her back into a deer. Her baby by Finn would, it was said, have been a deer if she had licked him in the manner of a deer – instead he became the boy Oisin who was later found by Finn and reared by him to be a great warrior and poet.
He was one of the party of nine, led by Goll mac Morna, which recovered Finn's hounds, Bran and Sceolan, when they were stolen by Arthur.
A beautiful girl, Niam, daughter of Manannan, arrived on a white horse. In some accounts, she had been given the head of a pig by some druidic magic. The spell was broken when Oisin married her and they lived happily on an island in the Land of Youth for some years until Oisin wanted to return to his native land. Niam lent him her white horse for the journey and warned him never to touch the ground of Ireland. When his foot slipped and touched the soil, his eternal youth vanished revealing a blind, centuries-old man. He had been away about 300 years (1,000, some say).
Some say that he lived on to pass much ancient lore to St Patrick, though others say that this was done by Cailte. It is said that Patrick tried to convert Oisin to the Christian faith but he turned down the chance of heaven if he could not take his dogs and his friends.
- Oisin in the Land of Youth Irish a 15th c book telling the story of Oisin's visit to the Otherworld
- Oizys Greek
a deity, pain personified
son of Erebus and Nyx or of Nyx alone
- Oja (see Oya¹)
- ojiji African
in the lore of the Yoruba, a spirit
Each person is said to have three spirits; the ojiji follows the owner like a shadow.
- Ojikara Daikoku Japanese
a form of Daikoku depicted with a sword and vajra
- Ojin Japanese
son of O-Usō-No-Mikoto and Jingo deified as Hachiman
father of Nintoku
When he grew up, the Dragon King or his son Isora gave Ojin the Tide Jewels which his mother had used to conquer Korea.
- Oka South American
a jaguar-spirit of the Bakairi Indians father of Kame and Keri
- Okanagan North American
a lake in British Columbia
This lake is said to be the home of the water-monster, Naitaka.
- Oke North American
a personal protective deity
- Oke Hede Norse
in the lore of the Mandan, one of the first pair of twins
- Okeanides (see Oceanids)
- Okeaninai (see Oceanids)
- Okeanos (see Oceanus)
- Okelim (see Aquqim)
- Okesa Japanese
a geisha girl
Originally a cat, she became human to help the old couple who had been kind to her.
- Okeus North American
the devil, in the lore of the tribes of Virginia
- Oki North American
[Kioussa]
a sun-god of the Hurons: a force of nature
- Oki-Tsu-Hiko Japanese [Kudo-no-kami]
a Shinto kitchen-god son of O-Toshi
consort of Oki-Tsu-Hime
- Oki-Tsu-Hime Japanese
[Kobe-no-kami]
a Shinto kitchen-goddess daughter of O-Toshi consort of Oki-Tsu-Hiko
- Okikurumi Japanese
[Ainu-rak-kux]
a sun-god
father of Pon Okikurumi by Chikisani
- Okin Trigri Mongolian
sister of Begze Sunen

Okinai North American

a young Blackfoot
brother of Bearskin-woman and Sinopa His eldest sister, Bearskin-woman, married a grizzly bear and, when her people killed her husband, she turned herself into a bear and killed them all except Okinai, his young sister Sinopa and their six brothers who were away from the lodge at that time. When they returned, she tried to kill them also but they escaped with Okinai and Sinopa when the eldest shot arrows into the sky, each one of which carried one member of the party up to the heavens where they became the Great Bear constellation.

okkis North American
amulets said to ward off misfortune

Oklatabashih North American
in the lore of the Choctaws, the only man to survive the flood

Oknos (see Ocnus)

Oko African
a Yoruba god of agriculture
son of Aganju and Yemoja

Okolner (see Okolnur)

Okolnur Norse
[Okolner]
the region without frosts in which the heavenly hall, Brimer, was situated

okoze Japanese
an amulet in the form of a fish, worn to bring good luck

okpomfo African
a priest in the Gold Coast (see also komfo)

Okonorote South American
a hunter-hero of the Arawak
Indians

He dug a hole through the floor of heaven and climbed down a huge tree (or a rope) to earth to retrieve an arrow he had dropped. He then showed other humans the way but, when some of them mated with serpents, the god Kononattoo caused a fat woman to become wedged in the hole in the sky so preventing them from ever returning to their original home.

Okova Pacific Islands
a Fijian hero

His wife was seized from their fishing-boat by the monstrous man-eating bird, Ngani-Vatu. Helped by his brother-in-law, Rokoua, Okova killed the bird and took some of its smaller feathers to use as sails.

okra African [=South American 'kra]
the soul, in the lore of the Ashanti

Oku-Thor (see Aku-Thor)

Okulam North American
a voracious giant in the lore of the Chinook

He killed four of five brothers and was pursuing the last when they came to a river where Thunderer was fishing.
The fisherman threw the youth across the river to safety and invited the giant to cross the water by walking over his prostrate body. He then tipped the giant into the river where he drowned.

okuli South American
[=Panamanian neles]

a shaman in Nicaragua (see also sukya)

Okuni-Nushi Japanese [Daikokusana.Okuninushi.Onamuchi.
Onamuji.Yachihoko]

a king of Idzumo
a Shinto god of thunder, magic and medicine

son of Susanowa
husband of Suseri-hime and Ya-gami-hime

father of Kimata-no-kami
father of Koto-shiro-nushi, some say

He built the world, except the heavens, with the help of Sukuna-biko. Some say that he had eighty brothers, others that he married Ya-game-hime and many other maidens and their children populated the earth.

In some accounts, his brothers treated him as a servant and, on two occasions, killed him, once by rolling a piece of red-hot metal down a hill, burning him to death, and once by felling a tree which crushed him. In each case, he was restored to life by Musubi or, some say, by his mother.
When he asked for the hand of Susanowa's daughter, Suseri-hime, Susanowa tested his valour by putting him in a room full of snakes and, on another night, a room full of insects.
From both he was saved by a scarf given to him by Suseri. In a final test, a grass-fire, he was saved by a mouse who sheltered him below ground or by a hare that he had earlier helped. In some stories, Susanowa gave his consent to the marriage but he was not to be trusted so the couple eloped after tying her father to a beam with his hair.

He was forced to give up his earthly throne when Amaterasu sent Ninigi to take over.

In some accounts, he is equated with, or merged with, Daikoku and is regarded as the guardian of the royal family. (see Daikoku(sana))

Okuninushi (see Okuni-Nushi)

Okwa African
son of Omara and Diang husband of Nyakaya
father of Nyikang

Okypete (see Ocypete)

Ol' Welsh
a warrior at King Arthur's court
son of Olwyd

He was regarded as the best tracker in the country and was one of the party that accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

OlP
an angel, ruler of the sign Leo the lion

Ol-orun (see Olorun)

Ola Bibi Hindu
[Olabibi]

a plague-goddess

Olabibi (see Ola Bibi)

Olaf Norse
a knight who was killed on his way to his wedding

The fairies lured him into one of their rings, whereupon he died. His bride and his mother both collapsed and died at the sight of his dead body.

Olaf Norse
a king of Norway

He converted the Norsemen to the ways of Christianity.

Olave Norse
son of Fridlevus

When Fridlevus asked the Norns to foretell his son's future, two said he would be handsome and generous, the other said he would be parsimonious.

Olc Acha Irish
father of Achten
grandfather of Cormac mac Airt

Old Age North American
one of the 4 anaye left alive after the storm sent by Estanetlehi

Old Bel (see Enlil)

Old Bendy (see Satan)

Old Black God (see L)

Old Bones The Immortal
(see Koshchay Bessmertny)

Old Brass Mirror
(see Ku-t'ung Ching)

Old Cloutie (see Cloutie)

Old Driver (see Satan)

Old Gentleman (see Satan)

Old Gloomy Woman
(see Caillagh ny Groomagh)

Old God (see Xiuhtecutli)

Old Gooseberry (see Satan)

Old Hangie (see Satan)

Old Harry (see Satan)

Old Hornie (see Satan)

Old Huang (see Huang Shih)

Old King Cole (see Coel)

Old Man<sup>1</sup> North American [Old One]

a creator-spirit of many tribes
The Aleuts say that he made humans by throwing stones over his shoulder.

In the lore of the Blackfoot and Modoc, he was a culture-hero as well as a creator.

The Blood Indians say that he originally made men and women separately and placed them far away from each other but soon realised that he had made a mistake and brought them together so that they could mate.

Other tribes say that Old Man used balls of mud to make humans.

Old Man<sup>2</sup> North American

[Old Man Coyote]
a name used in speech to refer to Coyote

Old Man Above
(see Chareya.Gudratrigakwitl)

Old Man Acorn North American

a spirit of the Wintun
This spirit is said to have fertilised the earth after it had been recreated by Ollebis.

Old Man Coyote (see Old Man<sup>2</sup>)

Old Man of Crete Greek

a state made of various metals
It is said that this statue produced tears which descended to the underworld and there produced the rivers of that realm.

Old Man of the Sea<sup>1</sup> Arab

an evil jinnec in The Arabian Nights
This being took the form of an old man and refused to get down off the back of Sinbad the Sailor after he had carried him over a stream. Sinbad got him drunk and then killed him.

Old Man of the Sea<sup>2</sup> (see Nereus Phorcus.Proteus)

Old Man of the South Pole
(see Shou Shen)

Old Master (see Lao-tzu)

Old Ned (see Satan)

Old Nick (see Satan)

Old One (see Old Man<sup>1</sup>.Satan)

Old Philosopher, The Chinese a name of Lao-tzu

Old Plain, The (see Senmag)

Old Poker (see Satan)

Old Princess (see Ilamatecuhli)

Old Scratch (see Satan)

Old Serpent (see Satan)

Old Spider Pacific Islands

a creator-goddess
mother of Young Spider

Old Table, The British

the name of the Round Table when it was owned by Uther

Old Tortoise Man (see Kashyapa)

Old Treasure (see Math)

Old White One (see Hen Wen)

Old White Sow (see Ceridwen)

Old Woman<sup>1</sup> East Indian

in New Guinea, a deity who kept the moon in a jar

It is said that some mischievous boys opened the jar and released the moon. The dark markings now seen on the moon are those caused by the boys' fingers as they tried to grab the moon as it escaped.

Old Woman<sup>2</sup> North American

an ancestor-deity of many tribes
the female counterpart of Old Man

Old Woman<sup>3</sup> (see Cailleach Beara.

Eagentci.Komokyatsiky.Kunapipi)

Old Woman Bat (see Bat)

Old Woman of Beara

(see Cailleach Beara)

Old Woman of Dingle Irish

a name for Cailleach Bheur in Kerry

Old Woman of the Three Roads

(see Sodzu-Baba)

Old Woman of the West

(see Cathena)

Olelbis North American

a creator-god of the Wintun people

The first world was destroyed by a fire started by Buckeye Bush and his companions, a fire which was extinguished when Mem Loomis caused the flood. Olelbis set about re-creating the world which was then fertilised by Old Man Acorn.

Olelbis wished to give the people he had created the gift of immortality so he sent his brothers to construct a ladder between earth and his heaven, Olelpanti. The foolish brothers were persuaded by Sedit to desist and they demolished what they had already built. As a result, men are mortal.

Olelpanti North American

in the lore of the Wintun, the home of Olelbis: heaven

Olenias Greek

son of Oeneus and Periboea brother of Tydeus

Olenos (see Olenus)

Olenus Greek

[Olenos]
son of Hephaestus
husband of Lethaea

Both he and his wife were turned to stone by the gods.

Oleywey European

the ewe in Reynard the Fox
mate of Bellin

Olif (see Olif)

Olifat (see Olofat)

Olila (see Buadza)

Olin-Tonatiuh (see Ometecuhtli)

Oliphant (see Olivant)

Olivant European

[Oliphant]
the ivory horn of Roland

Some say that this horn originally belonged to Alexander the Great.

In some accounts, Roland acquired this horn, and the sword Durindana, when he defeated the giant Jutmundus. Others say he won them when he killed Almontes. The horn, which could be heard for twenty miles, was blown finally to great effect at Roncesvalles.

Olivas British

a knight

He was one of the 100 knights fighting for Lisuarte against 100 knights of the Irish king, Cildadan.

olive Greek

the tree of Athene

Oliver European

[Olivier]

one of the paladins, Roland's comrade-in-arms

son of Regnier

brother of Aude

father of Aquilant and Griffon

When Charlemagne fell into dispute with Montglave, Oliver fought Roland in single combat to settle the matter. After five days, neither had gained the upper hand so they declared an honourable draw when they finally recognised each other.

While searching for the mad Roland he was challenged by Rodomont at the bridge leading to a chapel and was taken prisoner. He was released when the warrior-maid Bradamante defeated Rodomont.

He joined the Abyssinian forces under Astolpho at the siege of Biserta and was chosen with Roland and Florismart to do battle with Agramant, Sobrino and Grassado to settle the war between them. Only Oliver, Sobrino and Roland survived the encounter in which both Oliver and Sobrino were badly wounded.

He was healed by the hermit who had converted Rogero to the Christian faith and, after the end of the war, went with Roland to collect the tribute exacted by Charlemagne from the Spanish king, Marsilius. In the battle of Roncesvalles which resulted, he killed Malprimo but was himself wounded. He was later stabbed in the back and died of his wounds.

In another story, Oliver was captured by Balan, the Saracen ruler of Spain whose son, Fierabras, he had defeated in single combat and converted to the Christian faith. He was later rescued by Charlemagne's men and Balan was killed when he refused to convert.

Olivier<sup>1</sup>
a demon of cruelty, one of the fallen archangels

Olivier<sup>2</sup> (see Oliver)

ollamh (see ollav)

Ollamh Fodhla (see Ollav Fola)

Ollathair Irish

Dagda as 'the father'

ollav Irish

[ollamh.ollave]

the title given to the highest-ranking druids

Ollav Fola Irish

[Ollamh Fodhla]

a Milesian king of Ireland

He drew up a legal code and divided the kingdom into provinces.

In some accounts, he was equated with Dallan Forgaill or Eochaid Eigeas and his brother was Araidhe.

ollave (see ollav)

Ollamain Irish

[Ollamhan.Olloman]

father of Ai

The king ordered the death of Ai but Ollamain managed to save him so that he lived to fulfil the druidic prophecy that he would become a famous poet.

Ollamhan (see Ollamain)

Ollanta South American

lover of Curi-Coyllur

father of Yma Sumac

Ollanta, a chieftain, fell in love with Curi-Coyllur, the daughter of the Inca Pachucutic but they were not allowed to marry. The young couple defied the ban and Ollanta incited a rebellion, leading the peasants to victory over the king's forces led by Rumi-naui. Curi-Coyllur had a daughter by Ollanta and both she and the child, Yma Sumac, were incarcerated in a convent. When Pachucutic died, his son, Yupanqui, took the throne and Ollanta led a further rebellion but this time, as a result of cunning on the part of Rumi-naui, he is taken prisoner. Fortunately, the new ruler is more compassionate and pardons Ollanta, frees Curi-Coyllur and her daughter and blesses their union.

Olle North American

a hero of the Tuleyone Indians

When the evil being Sahte set the world on fire, Olle extinguished the flames with a flood. In some versions, Olle is a benevolent aspect of Coyote.

Oller (see Uller)

Ollerus (see Uller)

Ollin<sup>1</sup> Central American

the fifth sun of the Aztecs, engendered by Quetzalcoatl and Tezcatlipoca after the fourth universe was shattered

Ollin<sup>2</sup> Central American

the seventeenth of the 20 days of the Aztec month

Symbolising movement and the east, the day was governed by Xolotl.

Olloman (see Ollamain)

Ollphiast (see Oillipheist)

Olmaj Baltic

[Olmaj]

a word for god among the Lapps

Olmay (see Olmai)

Olo Keu Pacific Islands

brother of Olo-i-Namo

He and his brother rescued an owl about to be killed by a snake and the bird, which was lord of the forest, allowed them to cut down the trees they needed to make a boat.

Olo-sipa Pacific Islands

a god of the Carolines

twin of Olo-sopa

With Olo-sopa he built the huge fortified stone enclosures.

Olo-sopa Pacific Islands

a god of the Carolines

twin of Olo-sipa

With Olo-sipa he built the huge fortified stone enclosures.

Olodumare African

[Alaaye.Eledaa.Elemii.Olojo Oni.Olorun]

a creator-god of the Yoruba

a name of Olorun as 'almighty'

He created Obatala as his deputy and created the earth by scattering dirt from a snail shell which was scratched over by a hen and a pigeon to make dry land. In some accounts, the scattering was done by Obatala on the orders of Olodumare. (see also Olorun)

Olof Norse

daughter of Thorir

wife of Throrgrim

mother of Trausti and Viglund

She was the daughter of a noble but married the illegitimate son of a farmer after eloping with him.

Olofad (see Olofat)

Olofat Pacific Islands

[lolofath.Olifat.Olofad.Olofath.

Yelafath.Yelafaz]

a trickster-god, fire-god and god of death in the Carolines

son of Lugeilan and Thilpelap

He was a semi-divine being who ascended to heaven on a column of smoke and demanded recognition as a god. A long battle ensued, during which Olofat was killed but his father resurrected him and persuaded the other gods to accept him as the god of fire. He later brought fire down from heaven for the use of mankind.

He is said to have been involved in numerous escapades such as stealing food which he replaced by husks, pretending to be an old man with ringworm, seducing the wives of relatives, and so on. He so angered his relatives that they once put him in a post-hole and rammed the post in on top of him but he escaped, just as he did when they threw him into a fish-trap or tried to burn him.

Some say that he gave the shark its fearsome teeth.

In some accounts, Olofat is Lugeilan's brother (or half-brother) and their father is Anula. Other versions say that Olofat's brother was Samonekoaner and he also had a sister, Rat.

Olofath (see Olofat)

Olofin-Orun African

a name of Olorun as 'lord of heaven'

Olokun African

a Yoruba sea-god and god of wealth

the river Olokun personified son of Osanobua

brother of Olorun

Some regard this deity as male, others as female.

Olojo Oni African

a name of Oldumare or Olorun as 'he who owns the day'

oloroten (see upir)

Olorun African

[Alaaye.Eledaa.Elemii.OI-orun.

Olodumare.Olofin-Orun.Olojo Oni.

Orishanla.'owner']

the creator-god and sky-god of the Yoruba

father of Obatala and Oduduwa

brother of Olokun

In some accounts he is equated with Olodumare, in others he is regarded as the chief god, or a name of Olodumare as 'he who owns the heavens'.

He filled a shell with dirt which was then scattered by a hen and a pigeon, so creating the earth. Having then provided some trees, he made the first sixteen human beings.

In other accounts, all this was done by Obatala or Orishanla.

(see also Olodumare)

Olrik, Axel

Danish

(1864-1917)

a writer, author of many books on

Norse mythology

He formulated a set of 'epic laws' which govern the style and content of myths and legends.

Olrun

Norse

a swan-maiden

With her sisters Alvit and Svanhvit she flew to earth to bathe. They left their wings on the shore where they were seized by the brothers Egil, Slagfinn and Volund who kept the maidens as their wives for nine years before they recovered their wings and flew away.

Olufa

(see Obatala)

Olus Vibenna

(see Aulus Vibenna)

Olwen

British

[May Queen.Niwalen.White Goddess.

White Track]

daughter of Ysbaddaden

wife of Culhwch

It was said that four white flowers sprang up wherever her feet touched the ground.

It had been prophesied that her father, the chief giant, would die when Olwen married so he did all he could to prevent her from marrying and many lost their lives in the attempt to win her hand. He set Culhwch a series of near-impossible tasks which he managed to complete and claimed Olwen for his wife. Her father was killed as had been prophesied.

Other stories say that she was the wife of Einion whom she married in the Otherworld and bore him a son, Taliesin.

In some accounts she is identified with Blodeuedd.

Olwyd

Welsh

father of Ol

Olympium

Greek

a temple of Zeus at Athens

Olympia

Greek

a sacred valley in Elis

This valley is said to be the home of Zeus and is the site of temples of Hera and Zeus.

Olympian

one of the greater gods: one of the gods living on Mount Olympus: one with god-like qualities

The Greek Olympians were Aphrodite, Apollo, Ares, Artemis, Athena, Hades (Pluto), Hephaestus, Hera, Hermes, Hestia, Poseidon and Zeus. Other lists have Demeter in place of Hades; some substitute Dionysus for Hestia; some regard Zeus as their ruler though not himself an Olympian. Others include Asclepius, Dionysus and Heracles.

The Roman Olympians were Apollo, Diana, Juno, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Minerva, Neptune, Pluto (Dis), Venus, Vesta, Vulcan (Muciber).

Olympias<sup>1</sup>

Greek

a wind from the north-west quarter

Olympias<sup>2</sup>

Greek

mother of Alexander the Great by Nectanebus, some say

Olympic games

Greek

a sacred festival

This took the form of four-yearly games for men in honour of Zeus.

Olympic Spirits

a group of 7 angels, rulers of the planets

These beings are listed as Aratron (Saturn), Bethor (Jupiter), Haggit (Venus), Och (Sun), Ophiel (Mercury), Phaleg (Mars) and Phul (Moon).

Olympios

(see Zeus)

Olympus

(see Mount Olympus)

Olyroun

British

a fairy king

father of Trianon

Om<sup>1</sup>

Hindu

[aum.omm]

a sacred syllable: a mantra for meditation: a magic drum

(see also pranava.udgita)

Om<sup>2</sup>

Hindu

[omm]

the name of a Brahmin deity

Om mani padme hum

Buddhist

a Tibetan mantra meaning 'Om, the jewel is in the lotus. Amen'

It is said that each syllable prevents the rebirth of the soul in some other form – Om, among the gods; ma, among the Titans; ni, as a human being; pad, as an animal; me, in a frustrating situation like Tartarus; hum, in the underworld.

Oma

(see Fauna)

Omacatl

Central American

[Acatl.Two Reeds]

an Aztec god of merrymaking, an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as 'ruler of feasts'

This deity is depicted as painted in black and white, squatting and wearing a paper crown and a cloak fringed with flowers.

Omadios

Greek

a name of Dionysus as 'the one who eats raw flesh'

O'Malley, Grace

(see Granuaile)

Omam

South American

a creator god of the Yanomani

He caught a woman on his line when fishing and mated with her to produce the ancestors of the tribe.

omamori

Japanese

an amulet said to give divine protection

omang

East Indian

in Sumatra, gnomes with feet pointing to the rear

Omara

African

the first man in the lore of the Shilluk people of the Sudan consort of Diang

Omartes

(see Homartes)

ombrophone

Greek

a prophet of rain

Ombos

(see Set)

Ombrios

Greek

a name of Zeus as god of rain

Ome Tochli

Central American

[Ometochli.Tochli.Two Rabbit]

an Aztec fertility-god and god of intoxication

one of the Centzontotochtin

He was killed by Tezcatlipoca.

O'meal

North American

a spirit of the Indians of British Columbia

Omecihuatl

Central American

[Cit(l)alicue.Citlalinicue.

Citalinicue.Lady of Our Flesh.

Lady of Quality.Two Lady]

an Aztec creator-goddess

consort of Ometecuhtli

She is regarded as the female name of Ometeotl from whom the obsidian knife was born.

In some accounts she is identified with Tonacacihuatl.

Omei

(see Mount Emei)

omen

an indication or warning of future events

The idea that certain things can give warning of future events occurs in many cultures and includes such things as breaking a mirror, buzzing in the ears, comets, creaking floorboards, eclipses, having a bat enter the house, itching palms, magpies, meteors, sneezing, the cry of a banshee and tripping on the threshold.

Ometechtli (see Ometecuhtli)

Ometecuhtli Central American

[Citallatonac.Citallatonac.Cit(1)altonac.

Lord of Duality.Lord of Our Flesh.

Olin-Tonatiuh.Ometechtli.Two Lord]

a supreme god of the Aztecs, the first principle consort or male manifestation of

Omecihuatl

This deity embodied all the opposites, male and female, light and dark, etc.

In some accounts he is identified with Tonacatecuhtli.

(see also Tonacatecuhtli)

Ometeotl Central American

[Lord of All Existence.Lord of the Ring.Tloque Nahuaque.Two-god]

a primordial Aztec deity

In some accounts a god, in others a goddess, an androgynous ruler of Omeyocan, the highest heaven. A combination of Omecihuatl and Ometecuhtli, she is said to have generated a stone knife from which sprang 1,600 heroes, Huitzilopochtli, Quetzalcoatl, Tezcatlipoca and Xipetotec. In some aspects she was Coatlicue. (see also Tonacachiuatl)

Ometochtli (see Ome Tochtli)

Omeyocan Central American

the highest heaven of the Aztecs, ruled by Ometeotl

Omi<sup>1</sup> Norse

a name for Odin as 'the noisy one'

Omi<sup>2</sup> (see Mount Emei)

Omichele Phoenician

[Omicle]

the primaeval darkness

This principle merged with Pothos to produce the physical force (Aura) and spiritual force (Aer) of the universe.

Omicle (see Omichle)

Omikami (see Amaterasu)

omikaju (see mikaju)

Omisachi (see Fire Flash)

Omit'o-fo (see A-mi-t'o-fo)

Omitofo (see A-mi-t'o-fo)

Omitsu-nu (see Omitsunu)

Omitsunu Japanese

[Omitsu-nu]

a Shinto deity

a king of Idzumo

grandson of Susanowa

He is said to have towed neighbouring islands and pieces of Korea on a rope (so-no-hagaham) to add to his kingdom.

Omiya Japanese

one of the Eight Imperial Deities

Omm (see Omm)

Ommatesvara Jain

son of Gommatesvara

Omoa (see Manoa)

Omodaru Japanese

['perfect face']

a Shinto god

consort of Ayakasikone

These two deities were produced from one of the branches of the primordial god Umashiashikabihikoji.

Omohi-kane Japanese

a deity

He advised the assembled gods on ways to lure Amaterasu out of the cave in which she was hiding.

Omokage-no-Ido Japanese

a sacred well

It was said that this well was created when Kobo Daishi thrust his staff into the earth.

Omolu African

[Omulu]

a Yoruban earth-deity

son of Obaluwaye and Nana

This deity is worshipped under the same name in the New World.

Omonga Pacific Islands

an Indonesian moon-goddess

omoplatoscopy

divination from splits in burning shoulder-blades

(see also scapulimancy)

Omorka (see Omoroka)

Omoroka Mesopotamian

[Omoroka]

a name for Tiamat

Omphe-el Egyptian

a sacred mountain, home of the sun-god's oracle

Omphale Greek

['navel'] queen of Lydia daughter of Iardanus

wife of Tmolus

After the death of her husband, she bought Heracles as a slave but made him her lover and bore him three children, Agelaus, Lamus and Laomedon, though other stories refer only to Lamus. In some accounts, she made Heracles do a woman's work.

omphalomancy

divination from knots in the umbilical cord

Omphalos (see Omphalus)

Omphalus Greek

[Omphalos]

the seat of Apollo at Delphi, held to be the centre of the world

What was known as the navel stone at Delphi was in fact the stone which Rhea had wrapped and given to Cronus to swallow when he thought he was swallowing his latest son, Zeus, and which he was later forced to regurgitate together with the children he had already swallowed.

It was said that the exact centre of the earth was ascertained by Zeus who set two eagles to fly from opposite ends of the earth. They met at Delphi.

Ompu Tuhan Mula Jada Pacific Islands

a sky-god

father of Si Boru Deak, some say

He and his daughter lived in heaven.

When she dropped a shuttle and descended to find it in the ocean, he gave her earth from which she made land to settle on.

Omroca Mesopotamian

the Chaldean name for Thalath

omuli African

[plur=avali]

a female Nande sorcerer

Omulu (see Omolu)

Omumborombonga African

a tree from which, in the lore of the Damara people, all men and animals arose

Omuwanga (see Wele Omuwanga)

On (see Ain.Aun'.Dagan'.Oannes)

On-niona Celtic

a Gaulish goddess who was worshipped

in ash-groves

Onachihuitonatiuh (see Tezcatlipoca)

Onamuchi Japanese

[Onamuji]

a name for Okuni-Nushi as guardian of the eastern shrine on

Mount Hiei

(see also Oyamakui)

Onagh (see Oonagh)

Onamuji (see Onamuchi)

Onang Kiu Malay

a princess

one of the Deohaka

daughter of Chulan

wife of Sulana

When her father's kingdom was conquered, she married the invader,

Sulana, becoming his second wife.

Onarr (see Annarr)

Onatah North American

[corn]

a corn-goddess of the Seneca sister of Bean and Squash

daughter of Eithinoha

Like the Greek Core, she was seized by the god of the underworld and the earth became barren while her mother searched for her daughter.

Her time is now divided between the upper and lower worlds, giving summer and winter.

- Onca Canaanite
[Onga]
a goddess
- Once and Future King, A British
a story of King Arthur written by T. H. White
The words of the title are those used on the king's tombstone at Glastonbury built by Guinevere –
'Here lies Arthur, the Once and Future King' – a reference to the belief that he would return in the hour of need.
- Onchestus Greek
a sea-god
son of Poseidon
He was said to be the founder of a city of the same name.
- Onchomenous Greek
son of Thyestes
brother of Aglaus and Callieon
He was killed with his brothers by his uncle Atreus, cut up, boiled and served to his father who ate some of the meal.
- Oncius Greek
a king of Arcadia
- Ondele African
an ancestor spirit of the Ovimbundu
- Ondiaw Welsh
[Ondyaw]
son of the Duke of Burgundy
- Ondine Greek
a water nymph
- Ondoutaete North American
a Huron war-god
In some accounts he is the same as Areskoui.
- Ondurass Norse
a name for Uller as a ski-god
- Ondyaw (see Ondiaw)
- One Above (see Chareya)
- One Alone (see Poshaiyangkyo)
- One Cheun Central American
the first of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
On this day the heavens and earth were created. (see also Cheun)
- One-eyed Norse
a name for Odin
- One-horn (see Ekashringa)
- One-inch Priest (see Issunboshi)
- One Kan Central American
the fourteenth day of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
On this day the creator, Month, realised that some of the things he had created were evil and regretted what he had done. (see also Kan<sup>2</sup>)
- One Sitting Above (see Ibofango)
- Oneaea Greek
a nymph
mother of Orion by Poseidon
- Oneicopompus Greek
a name of Hermes as 'conductor of dreams'
- Oneiroi (see Oneiros)
- oneiromancer
[oneiroscope]
one who interprets and makes prophecies from dreams
- oneiromancy
[oneiroscope]
divination from dreams
- Oneiros Greek
[Oneiroi]
a deity, dreams personified offspring of Nyx
He is depicted with large wings on his back, small ones on his head.
- oneiroscope (see oneiromancer)
- oneiroscopey (see oneiromancy)
- Oneis Greek
a nymph
mother of Pah, some say
- Onga (see Onca)
- ongon Siberian [=Altai kurmes:=Turkish tyus]
a Buriat shamanistic fetish: a household spirit
The fetish takes the form of an image of a spirit or a god. The images can be of bears, ermine, ferrets, pigs, porcupines, etc. Some are said to cure disease or protect particular groups.
Some shamans are said to become ongons when they die.
- Oni<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [fem=Yama-uba:=Shinto Tengu]
a Japanese monster in the form of a three-horned, three-eyed flying demon
The male form of these blood-sucking demons raped women, the female form seduced priests.
Oni of the underworld have red or green bodies and the heads of animals.
(see aka-oni.ao-oni)
- oni<sup>2</sup> Japanese the powers of evil
- oni-bi Japanese
demon-fire
- oni-yarahi Japanese [oniyaraki]
an annual ceremony designed to get rid of the oni which have taken possession of humans
- Onigashima Japanese [Devil's Island]
an island, home of the oni
- onimancy [onychomancy] divination from fingernails
- O'nis'desos North American
the leader of the Gadjsia
- Onitsu-nu (see Omitsunu)
- oniyaraki (see oni-yarahi)
- onk (see ankh<sup>1</sup>)
- onkh (see ankh<sup>1</sup>)
- Only Man North American
the Hidatsa Indian version of the Maidan hero, Lone Man
- Onn (see Ain)
- Onnes (see Dagan<sup>2</sup>.Menon.Oannes)
- Onnion North American [Onniont]
a Huron snake-god
He had a horn on his head which could pierce mountains.
- Onniont (see Onnion)
- Ono Pacific Islands ['sound'] a god of song, a name of Rongo in the Marquesas
- Ono-no-kimi Japanese
a man who died and returned to life When he died, Emma-o said that he had died too soon and sent him back.
He was guided back to earth by the sound of the bell of Enkakuji.
- Ono-no-Komachi Japanese a vain young maiden
Her extreme vanity repelled potential suitsors and she left the court unloved and became a recluse. When she died, nobody cared enough to bury her and her corpse rotted by the wayside.
- Ono-no-Yorikaze Japanese
a man who died of love His mistress mistakenly believed that he had left her and she killed herself.
Yorikaze, grief-stricken at his loss, also committed suicide. They were buried in adjoining graves and the two grasses that grew on their graves are now always seen together.
- ono pacakoti South American
the flood sent by Viracocha to destroy the first race of beings
- Ono Yasuman Japanese [Yasumaro]
an 8th c courtier, author of the Kojiki
- onocentaur
a monster, part man, part ass
- Onodja tree North American
a celestial tree, in the lore of the Iroquois
This tree, which was said to provide light for the world, was uprooted by the supreme deity and this left a hole in the sky through which he threw his wife, Awenhai, and the two with whom he suspected her of having had an affair.
- Onogoro Japanese
[Onokoro]
an island

This was the first island to be formed when Izanagi and Izanami dropped a spear into the primordial ocean. Here they mated to produce the other gods.

Onokoro (see Onogoro)

Onomo Toku Japanese

a man who ridiculed the work of

Kobo Daishi

While he was asleep, he was assailed by the very character (shu) that he had scoffed at which took the form of a rice-cleaner. When he awoke, he found that he really was bruised and bleeding.

Onouris (see Anhur)

onryo Japanese

angry spirits

These spirits are frequently those of ancestors who have been buried without the appropriate rites.

Ontelake British

a knight

At King Arthur's wedding feast a white stag chased by a white bitch and a pack of black hounds ran into the hall and Nimue rode up to claim the dog as hers. Ontelake rode into the hall and forcibly took her off. The king sent Pellimore after them with orders to bring them back to the court. He found Ontelake fighting with Nimue's cousin, Meliot. Pellimore stopped the fight, killed Ontelake and took Nimue back to Camelot.

Onto (see Staka-pas)

Ontzlake British

[Outlake]

brother of Damas

Damas cheated Ontzlake out of his proper inheritance and refused to settle the dispute in single combat, putting in prison any knight who offered to fight Ontzlake's cause, forcing him to fight Ontzlake.

Morgan used her magic to arrange that Arthur and her lover, Accolan, should fight as the champions for Damas and Ontzlake. Even though Accolan had the use of Excalibur, previously stolen from Arthur by Morgan, the king won the fight, killing Accolan. The king ordered Damas to hand over to Ontzlake his proper share of the inheritance and took Ontzlake into his court.

He helped King Arthur in the pursuit of Morgan le Fay when she stole the scabbard of Excalibur.

Onuava Celtic

a Gaulish fertility-goddess

Onulap (see Anulap)

Onuris (see Anhur)

Onyame (see Nyame)

Onyankopon African

[Anansi Kokroko.Anansi-toro.Borebore.

Nyankompong.Nyankopan.Otumfoo]

a creator-god of the Ashanti

In some accounts, Onyankopon is Nyame as 'the shining one'; in others he is a separate deity identified by some as Anansi or Borebore.

It is said that he originally lived close to the earth in the form of the sky but an old woman, using a long mortar-stick, kept striking him as she pounded her maize, so he moved up into his present position out of harm's way.

onychomancy (see onimancy)

onyx

a stone said to ward off spells

oomancy

divination using eggs

Forecasts are made from the shape taken by albumen dropped into water.

Oona (see Oonagh)

Oonagh<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Onagh.Oona]

wife of Finn mac Cool in the story of Cucullin and Finn

Oonagh<sup>2</sup> Irish

[Onagh.Oona]

a Danaan goddess

wife of Fionnbharr

When the Danaans were defeated and went into their sidhe, she became queen of the fairies.

Oonawieh Unggi North American

a Cherokee wind-god

ooroorak

a greeting for Satan used by the demons of hell on Walpurgis Night

ooscopy

divination from burning egg

ooser (see woodhouse)

Oosood Serbian

a benevolent spirit

She appears only to the mother of a new baby and, on the seventh night after the birth, foretells the infant's future.

Opalia Roman

a festival held in honour of Ops on December 19th

Ope Norse

a demon of torture

Open Sesame Persian

[Sesame]

a secret password

This phrase was used by the robbers in The Forty Thieves to open the door of their cave.

Opener of Ways (see Wepwawet)

opening of the mouth ceremony

Egyptian

a rite by which the deceased was brought to life

The ritual of cleansing and anointing was usually performed by the son of the deceased and the funerary statues were said to be transformed as well as the deceased person.

Opet Egyptian

a name for Tauret in Thebes

Opete African

the vulture

The Ashanti say that this bird carries sacrifices made by the tribe to the home of the gods.

ophalomancy

divination based on knots in the umbilical cord

Opeltes

Greek

[Archemorus]

son of Lycurgus and Nemea

He was nursed by Hypsipyle but killed by a dragon or a snake-bite as an infant. The Seven Against Thebes took this as an omen of disaster and he was then referred to as Archemorus (forerunner of doom).

Some say that the Nemean Games are held in his honour.

Ophic Egg (see Cosmic Egg)

Ophiel

[Oriphiel]

one of the 7 Olympic Spirits, ruler of Mercury

Ophiogenes Greek

[=African Psille]

a race of Trojans

It was said that a mere touch from one of these people could cure snakebite. This was due to the fact that a progenitor of the race had changed from a snake to a human being.

Ophion<sup>1</sup> Greek

a serpent-god

consort of Euronyme

He was created by Euronyme from the wind and together they produced all living things including the Pelasgians born, it is said, from his teeth. He was later banished to the underworld when Cronus took over the universe. In some versions, he is equated with Typhon.

Ophion<sup>2</sup> Greek

a giant killed by Heracles

Ophioneus Phoenician

[=Canaanite Tannin]

a sea-dragon overcome by Zas

Ophir Hebrew

a land of fabled gold resources

Solomon was reputed to have obtained gold and precious stones from this realm. (see also Uphaz)

Ophitea Greek
a legendary snake-killer

He returned home to find a huge snake coiled round the urn in which he had placed his child for safety during his absence. He killed the snake, only to find that it had protected the child from a wolf.

Ophites
a Gnostic sect worshipping snakes

Ophiucus Roman [=Greek Asclepius]
a god of healing

Ophois (see Wepwawet)

Ophthalmitis (see Optiletis)

Opiconsivia Roman
a festival in honour of Ops, August 25th

Opiel Guabiron West Indian
a guardian of the entrance to the underworld

Opigina Roman
a goddess of childbirth

Her function was to help the mother bring forth her child. She was later assimilated into Juno.

opinicus
a monster, part lion, part dragon, a four-legged version of the griffin

Opis Greek
[Laodice. Upis]
a priestess of Artemis

She was said to be a Hyperborean virgin who arrived at Delos with Auge at the same time as Leto and her twins, Apollo and Artemis.

In some accounts, she was raped by Orion who was killed by Artemis for so doing. Others say that she killed Arruns in the battle between the Trojans under Aeneas and the Latins and Rutulians.

Opita West Indian
souls of the dead

These spirits still walk the earth and an encounter with one of them can be fatal.

Opkulu (see Bagisht) Opol' African

an ocean-god of the Akan people son of Nyame

Opo<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
[Opo-Geba-Sulat]
a creator-god in the Moluccas

Opo-Geba-Sulat (see Opo<sup>2</sup>)

Opochtli Central American
[The Left-handed]

an Aztec god of hunting and fishing
This deity is depicted painted black, wearing a paper crown and feathers on his head and holding a red shield and a sceptre.

Optonobe Japanese
a Shinto goddess
consort of Optonodi

These two deities were produced from a branch of the primaeval deity Umashiashikabihikoji.

Optonodi Japanese
a Shinto god
consort of Optonobe

These two deities were produced from a branch of the primaeval deity Umashiashikabihikoji.

Ops<sup>1</sup> Roman [=Gaulish Berecynthia:=Greek Rhea]
the goddess of the harvest, plenty and wealth

wife of Consus second wife of Saturn mother of Jupiter and Neptune

Ops<sup>2</sup> (see Eire)
Optiletois Greek

[Ophthalmitis.Oxydeices]
a name for Athena as the goddess with keen eyesight and great intellectual gifts

Optima Celtic
in some French stories, the mother of Merlin

opunne African
the divine loaves of the Shilluk which formed the universe

Ora Balkan
an Albanian guardian goddess

It is said that each person has its own Ora to provide protection.

Ora Rove Marai East Indian
a supreme deity in New Guinea

oracle Greek
the revelations of a god: a place where these revelations were made known

The two most famous oracles were those of Apollo at Delphi where the revelations were made by the Pythoness and that of Zeus at Dodona where the rustling of the leaves on the oak trees was interpreted to reveal the will of the gods. Zeus (as Ammon) had another oracle at Siwa in Libya. Others were at Amonium (Zeus), Aphaea (Aphrodite), Arcadia (Pan), Athens (Heracles), Branchidae (Apollo), Charos (Apollo), Crete (Zeus), Delos (Apollo), Epidaurus (Asclepius), Gades (Heracles), Lebadea (Trophonius), Mycenae (Athena), Paphos (Aphrodite) and Rome (Aesculapius).

Oracle of Delphi (see Pythia)

Orahan Canary Islands
a supreme god on the island of Gomera

Orainglais British
an Irish princess

She was a lover of Sagamore and the mother of his son.

Oraios
an androgynous Gnostic deity
an offspring of Yaldabaoth

Oraji Brisé West Indian
a Haitian voodoo spirit

Oram Irish
brother of Columba

When his brother wished to build a chapel, he volunteered to die so that the ground could be consecrated with his burial.

orang (see halak)

Orang-o-te-Ra (see Uranga-o-te-Ra)

Orang-pendek (see Orangpendeck)

Orangpendeck East Indian [Orang-pendek]
a monster

This beast, a Sumatran version of the yeti, is said to be covered in red hair.

Oranmiyan African
a king of the Edo

He stole from Olokun the coral beads which form part of the royal costume.

Oranyan African [Orungan.Orunjan]
a Yoruba god-king

son of Aganju or Oduduwa and Yemoja
In this version, Oduduwa is male, brother rather than sister of Obatala or Oshala. He was said to be the second king of the tribe.

orant Greek
a female worshipper typifying the soul of the dead

Oray (see Lerajie)

Orb-of-Night Hindu
a name for Soma as the moon

Orboda (see Angrbode) orc European

a sea-monster
In the Charlemagne stories, Angelica was bound to a rock and would have been devoured by the monster if Rogero had not killed the orc and rescued her.

Orc Triath (see Torc Triath)

Orcades (see Morgause)

Orcant British
king of Orkney
father of Camille

He was converted to Christianity by Petrus who married his daughter, Camille.

Orchamus Greek
a king of Persia husband of Eurynome
father of Leucothoe

He buried his daughter alive after she had been seduced by Helios.

Orchomenus<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Thyestes

brother of Aglaus and Callileon

He and his brothers were killed by their uncle, Atreus, cut up, boiled and served as a meal to their own father.

Orchomenus<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Zeus by Isonoe

father of Minyas

In some accounts, he is the son of Minyas.

Orchomenus<sup>3</sup> Greek
son of Lycaon

He was killed in the flood.

Orcus Roman
[Dis.Horkos.Horkos:=Greek Hades.Phorcis] god of the dead and god of oaths son of Ares and Eris

In some accounts, he was a kind of angel who finished off the dying. In later years he was demoted to the level of a black, hairy, ogre-like spirit of the forest.

He is equated with Dis Pater, some say.

In some versions, this is the name for the realm of Orcus in the underworld.

(see also Mors)

Ord-ollam Irish
a name for Lugh as patron of the arts

Orddu (see Black Witch)

Ordin French [=Italian jettatura]
the evil eye in Corsica

Ordo Templis Orientis
a 19th c religious cult founded by Aleister Crowley

Ordog European
a Hungarian evil spirit

Oreads Greek
[Oreades]
mountain nymphs

Oreios Greek
a wild man who, with Therytas, captured Silenus

Oreithya Greek [Orithy(i)a,Orythia] daughter of Erechtheus and Praxithea sister of Creusa and Procris mother of Calais, Chione, Cleopatra and Zetes

She was happily dancing with her sisters when she was carried off by Boreas, the North Wind, who had fallen in love with her but had been rejected as a suitable husband by her parents.

Orelan (see Avalon)

Oreluere African
the first man in the lore of the Yoruba, made by Olodumare

orenda North American [=Algonquin manitou:=Sioux wakonda]
in the lore of the Iroquois, a magical power, the life-force inherent in all things: the essence of goodness: the converse of otkon

Orendel German
son of the king of Trier husband of Bride

He was shipwrecked while on a voyage to the Holy Land to claim the hand of Bride, queen of Jerusalem. He was rescued and thereafter always wore the cloak of Christ which he found in the belly of a whale.

Orendil (see Orvandil)

Oresteia<sup>1</sup> Greek
a trilogy of plays by Aeschylus dealing with the story of Aegisthus, Agamemnon and Clytemnestra

Oresteia<sup>2</sup> Greek
a poem by Stesichorus dealing with the tragedy of Orestes and his family

Orestes<sup>1</sup> Greek
king of Argos, Mycenae and Sparta son of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra brother of Electra and Iphigenia cousin of Pylades

At the time of his father's murder by his mother and her lover Aegisthus, Orestes was a boy of ten. He was saved from death at the hands of Aegisthus by his sister Electra who hid him among the shepherds. In another version, Electra sent him to the court of King Strophius where he made an inseparable friend of the king's son, Pylades.

As a man, he was told by the Delphic Oracle that he should avenge his father's death. He tricked his way into the palace with the story that Orestes was dead and killed both Aegisthus and Clytemnestra together with their daughter Helen. He was tried for matricide and condemned to death by stoning, a verdict commuted to suicide. His friend Pylades who had helped in the murder and Electra who had incited him were both included in the sentence. The trial had been arranged by his uncle Menelaus and Orestes planned to kill his wife Helen, and his daughter Hermione, to avenge what he regarded as a betrayal but Zeus intervened and carried Helen off to Olympus as an immortal where she became the guardian of sailors like her brothers Castor and Pollux. Hermione was released after being held captive for some time.

Orestes escaped the death sentence but was harried into madness by the Erinyes for matricide. He stood trial again for the killings but was defended by Apollo and Athene and eventually acquitted.

The Delphic Oracle said that, to be rid of the Erinyes, he must seize the wooden image of Artemis which was said to have fallen from the sky and which was worshipped by the Taurians. As it turned out, the priestess in charge of the temple was Iphigenia, his sister, who had been saved from the sacrificial knife by Artemis, and she was easily able to deceive Thoas, the Taurian king, who had captured Orestes and Pylades so that they were able to escape, taking the image with them. Thoas followed the ship of Orestes as far as Sminthos where he was killed by Orestes.

When he finally got back to Mycenae with the image of Artemis, the Erinyes gave up their pursuit of him but he found that Aletes, a son of Aegisthus, had usurped the throne. Orestes killed him and would have killed his sister, Erigone, had she not been carried off by Artemis.

Orestes married his cousin Hermione and fathered Tisamenus and later, with his second wife Erigone, he had another son, Penthilus.

He died at Orestia when bitten by a snake and was buried at Tegea. His bones were later recovered by Lichas and re-interred in Sparta.

Other versions of his expiation say that, in one case, he bit off one of his own fingers, in another that he was doused in pig's blood. One story says that the Erinyes still harried him after his death and Apollo gave him a bow with which to ward them off.

Orestes<sup>2</sup> Greek
a play by Euripides dealing with the story of Aegisthus, Agamemnon and Clytemnestra

Orestheus Greek
king of the Locrians son of Deucalion
father of Phytius

He planted a stick, born of a bitch, and it grew into the vine.

Orestiads Greek
mountain nymphs

Orestrophus Greek [Oristrophus]
one of the dogs of Actaeon
When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Orestrophus, tore him to pieces.

Oreus Greek

a Centaur

He was killed by Heracles.

Orfeo Scottish

[=English Orpheo:=Greek Orpheus]

a musician

He travelled to the underworld to rescue the queen, Isabel.

Orgelleuse British

[Orgueilleuse.Orgueilleux]

a lady rejected by Percival lover of Gawain

In some accounts, she is said to have had an affair with Amfortas.

Gawain fell in love with her and she made him fight many battles that she herself had caused. On Mount Salvat, she promised to marry him if he would fight her enemy, Gramoflanz. Gawain accepted a challenge to fight Gramoflanz who sent a champion to fight for him. This turned out to be Percival who defeated Gawain but spared his life.

Orgelmir (see Ymir)

orgia Greek

secret winter festivals in honour of

Dionysus

Orgoglio British

a giant in The Faerie Queene

He captured the Red Cross Knight but was killed by King Arthur who came to the knight's rescue.

Orgon

a demon associated with the west

Orgueilleuse (see Orgelleuse)

Orgueilleux (see Angoulaffre

Orgelleuse)

Orgueilleus de la Lande British

a knight

In some accounts he takes the place of Orilus. The lady in the story is his lady-love, not his wife, and Percival steals her ring rather than being given a bracelet. At his later meeting with Percival, he was defeated and sent to Arthur's court. (see also Orilus)

Ori<sup>1</sup> African

a Yoruba god of choice and wisdom

Each individual chooses a future for himself in heaven before being born and Ori supervises this choice.

ori<sup>2</sup> African

[eleda]

in the lore of the Yoruba, the spirit of the individual

Ori<sup>3</sup> Norse

one of the dwarfs

Ori-hime (see Waka-hime)

Oriana European

a princess

daughter of Lisuarte

sister of Leonoretta

wife of Amadis of Gaul

She loved Amadis but, when he rode to the aid of the princess Briolania, she thought that he had deserted her and wrote him a letter terminating their relationship which was carried to Amadis on Firm Island by her friend, Durin. When Durin returned with Gandolin and told Oriana of the effect her letter had on Amadis, she repented of her cruelty and wrote another letter asking forgiveness which was entrusted to Durin and the Damsel of Denmark who were charged to find Amadis who, after reading her first letter, had left his comrades to seek death. When he read the second letter he hurried back to Britain where the lovers were re-united.

Oriande European

a fairy

sister of Baudris

She rescued the infant Maugis when the Saracens attacked his father's castle and reared him with her brother who taught the child the arts of magic.

Oriant<sup>1</sup> European

king of Illefort

son of Matabrune

husband of Beatrix

father of Elias and Oriant

His wife gave birth to septuplets, each born with a silver necklet, six of whom turned into swans when the necklets were removed. At the prompting of his mother, Matabrune, he condemned Beatrix to the stake but she was saved by Elias, the Swan Knight, the only one of the seven children not turned into a swan.

Oriant<sup>2</sup> European

son of Oriant and Beatrix

brother of Elias

He took over the throne when his brother abdicated.

Oriant<sup>3</sup> European

son of Meurvin

Orias

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is depicted riding a mule and holding a serpent in each hand or as a lion riding a horse.

Oribasos (see Oribasus)

Oribasus Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Oribasus, tore him to pieces.

Oribe Shima Japanese

a man banished by the emperor

father of Tokoyo

His daughter went in search of her banished father and, when taking the place of a maiden about to be sacrificed to the serpent-god, Yofune-Nushi, killed the monster serpent and rescued an image of the emperor from the sea-bed. As soon as this was restored, the emperor, who had fallen ill, was restored to health and, in gratitude, recalled Oribe Shima who was reunited with his faithful daughter.

Oriel

a demon of the hours of the day

Oriens

[Orion]

one of the Cardinal demons, in some accounts

Orifel

a demon

oriflamb (see oriflamme)

oriflambe (see oriflamme)

oriflamme European [oriflamb(e)]

the royal standard of Charlemagne

Originator (see Gainji)

Orillo European

a magician

In Orlando Furioso, his life is said to depend on a single hair.

Orilus British

a duke of Lalander

brother of Lahelin

husband of Jeschuté

His wife gave Percival a bracelet when he woke her with a kiss. Orilus put her in chains, releasing her only when, some years later, he met Percival who explained that the lady was not at fault. (see also Orgelleuse)

Orimonde British

daughter of a Persian ruler wife of Marc

Orion<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Aquosus.Candaon.Imbrifer.

Nimbosus.Oarion.Urion]

a Giant, famous as a hunter

son of Poseidon and Euryale son of Hyrieus, some say husband of Side

father of the Coronides

One account of his birth relates that

Hyrieus, having entertained three gods, Hermes, Poseidon and Zeus, asked them to provide him with a child. They urinated on the hide of a bull which Hyrieus then buried and from which arose a son, Urion, later Orion. Other accounts say that he was the son of Dionysus and Demeter.

He pursued the Pleiades until they were changed first into pigeons and then into stars and set in the heavens by Zeus.

Oenopion promised him the hand of his daughter Merope if he would rid his island of dangerous beasts but he went back on his promise. Orion got drunk and raped Merope and Oenopion enlisted the aid of some satyrs and blinded Orion. Guided by Cedalion, Orion sought out Helios who restored his sight.

He looked for Oenopion to exact revenge but failed to find him and spent the rest of his life in Crete where he met Artemis and went hunting with her. He was killed by an arrow shot by Artemis in the mistaken belief that he was the rapist of her priestess Opis, or out of jealousy of Eos who was also in love with Orion.

In another version, Apollo, displeased with the attachment between Artemis and Orion, set her an archery test. She aimed at and struck a floating speck in the sea which turned out to be the head of the swimming Orion.

Others say that he died when bitten by a scorpion sent by Artemis (or Gaea) when he boasted of his intention to kill all wild animals, or when he tried to rape Artemis.

Orion was set in the heavens as that constellation, with his dog, Sirius.

Orion<sup>2</sup>

the brightest constellation in the northern hemisphere

This constellation is referred to in the myths and legends of many cultures.

(1) The Arabic version is Al Jabbar (the Giant) – which equates with the Hebrew Gibbor – or Al Babadur (the Strong) or Al Shuja (the Snake).

(2) In Babylonian lore, Orion was identified with Tammuz.

(3) The Chinese call the constellation Shen and regard it as the realm of the White Tiger.

(4) In early Egypt it was the demon, Sahu; in later times it was Horus or Osiris journeying across the sky.

(5) The Greeks had many names such as giant, warrior, double axe, etc. but earlier, the name was Kandaon or Woarion.

(6) The Hebrew version is Kesil or Gibbor, equated with Nimrod.

(7) In Mesopotamia it was Ningirsu or Tammuz or Uru-Anna, the deity of light.

(8) The Mexicans recognise it as Atli the Bowman.

(9) Norse mythology sees these stars as Odin or as Freya's spinning-wheel.

(10) In North America it is recognised as three fishermen (Micmac), a celestial hunter or the Hanging Lines (Zuni).

(11) Siberian lore says that the stars are Erlik Khan and his three dogs and the wapiti they are chasing. In the Buriat version a hunter, born of a cow, was carried to the heavens by the gods when he shot an arrow at three stags he was chasing.

(12) In South America it is recognised as condors holding two criminals in Peru, as three bolas by others, while some tribes say the stars are a leg, in some cases the leg of one of the Pleiades after it had been bitten off by an alligator.

Orion<sup>3</sup> (see Oriens)

Oriphiel (see Ophiel)

oripo Pacific Islands

a sage who knows and recites the ancestry of the Tahitians

Orisanla (see Orishanla)

Orisha<sup>1</sup> African

a primordial divine spirit of the Yoruba His servant Eshu hated his master and rolled a huge rock on to his house, killing Orisha and splitting him into 401 fragments, the gods that collectively comprise Orishanla.

(see also Orisha<sup>2</sup>)

Orisha<sup>2</sup> African

[=Ashanti Obosum:=Dahomey Vodun =Congo Nkisi:=Ibo Alose] minor gods of the Yoruba

There are said to be 1,700 of these beings and they asked Olodumare to devolve power to them. They made such a mess of running the universe that they had to hand power back to the supreme god who soon put matters right. (see Orisha<sup>1</sup>)

Orisha-Ijaye (see Obatala)

Orisha Nla (see Orishanla)

Orisha-Ogiyan (see Obatala)

Orisha-Popo (see Obatala)

Orishako African

a Yoruba god of agriculture consort of Oduduwa

Orishanla African

[Orisha Nla]

the first name of the Yoruba god later known as Obatala

Orisnici (see Narucnici)

Oriostrophus (see Orestrophus)

Orithya (see Oreithyia)

Orithyia (see Oreithyia)

Orkise (see Ortgis)

Orko Spanish

a Basque thunder-god

orkoiyot African powerful witch-doctors

Orlam Irish

[Orlamh]

son of Ailill and Maev

His mother needed cattle to feed her army and had been promised a herd by Eochaid Beag. When Eochaid was killed by bandits, Orlam went to see his daughter Dartaid, whom he loved, to collect the cattle. They were attacked by Corb Cliach and Dartaid and most of Orlam's men were killed, though Orlam himself managed to escape.

He was killed by Cuchulainn who cut off his head and sent it by Orlam's charioteer to his parents.

Orlamh (see Orlam)

Orlando<sup>1</sup> European

a prince of Thessaly

husband of Melora

He was imprisoned by Merlin at the behest of Mador who wanted Melora, lover of Orlando, for himself. She secured the three objects required to lift the spell under which Orlando was held, secured his release and married him.

Orlando<sup>2</sup> European

the Italian name for Roland

Orlando Furioso European

[Orland Mad]

a 16th c epic poem by the Italian, Ariosto, dealing with the period of Orlando's madness and the siege of Paris by the Moors under Agramant

Orlando in Love

(see Orlando Inamorata)

Orlando Inamorata European

[Orlando in Love]

a 15th c poem by the Italian, Boiardo, dealing with Orlando's love for Angelica

Orlando Mad (see Orlando Furioso)

Orlog Norse

the primordial universal law: fate

- Ormaddu Arab
in Berber lore, a huge bird that mated with a female wolf to produce a griffin
- Ormazd (see Ahura Mazda)
- Ormenus<sup>1</sup> Greek
a Trojan soldier
- Ormenus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a king of Syria
father of Eumaeus
- Ormet (see Ormt)
- Ormt Norse
[Ormet]
a river in Asgard or, some say, Niflheim
- Ormuzd (see Ahura Mazda)
- Ormazdakan Armenian
a god worshipped by the Armenians when they discarded Armaita This deity evolved into Aramazd, the supreme god.
- Orna Irish
[Sword of Tethra]
a magic sword
This weapon, made by Ogma and owned by Tethra, was able to fight alone and tell its owner what it had done. It was claimed by Ogma at the Second battle of Moytura. In other accounts, the sword was seized by Manannan.
- Orneus Greek
son of Erechtheus
father of Peteos
- Ornithology
a 16th c book on birds
This book includes a chapter on mythical birds, including the griffin.
- ornithomancy [ornithoscopy] divination from observing birds or their flight
- ornithoscopy (see ornithomancy)
- Ornytion Greek
son of Sisyphus
father of Phoeceus
- Oro<sup>1</sup> African
the bull-roarer or a bull-god of the Yoruba
- Oro<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
[=Hawaiian Ku;=New Zealand Tu]
chief god of Tahiti son of Tangaroa and Hina father of Ai-tupuai, Hoa-tapu, Mahu-fatu-rau and Toi-mata
A name of Tu as a war-god, later a god of peace.
When Oro got rid of his first wife, his two sisters scoured the islands for a new bride and finally came upon the beautiful Vairaumati. To provide a suitable wedding present for the new wife, Oro changed his two younger brothers into a sow and a boar which mated and produced fine offspring.

Oro-Tetefa Pacific Islands
a god
brother of Uru-Tetefa

He and his brother came to earth and established the religious order, Areoi.

Orobas
[Great Prince]
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to impart knowledge of the past, present and future and appears in the form of a horse or a horse with a man's torso.

Oroboros (see Ouroboros)

Oroetes Greek
a Persian satrap

He killed Polycrates, whose good fortune he envied, by luring him with false promises of an alliance and great treasure, then stabbing him when he came to his court.

Oroko African
consort of Alajeru
father of Ifa

Oromasdes Greek [Oromazdez]
a Greek name for Ahura Mazda
(see also Oromasis)

Oromasis Persian
a demon in the form of a salamander
In some accounts, he was the father of Zoroaster. (see also Oromasdes)

Oromazdez (see Oromasdes)

Oromedon European
a giant
father of Gemmagog

Oromuco (see Oxonoco)

Orongo (see Rongo)

Orotalt Arab [Oretal.Orotal;=Greek Dionysus]
a god of southern Arabia

Orphan Boy North American
a culture-hero of the Creek Indians
An old woman found a clot of blood which she covered with a jar and the clot developed into a baby boy whom she reared as a hunter.

He wondered where the old woman, who he called Grandmother, got the maize and beans she cooked for their meals until one day he saw her scratch her thighs, producing a stream of maize from one and beans from the other. She then said that he must leave and, on her orders, set fire to the hut, destroying it and all its contents.

Before he left, she gave him a cap made of rattlesnakes and bluejays which kept him safe. The hat was stolen by Rabbit but Orphan Boy later recovered it.

He married a beautiful maiden and became chief provider for the tribe. Later, he and his wife travelled back to Grandmother's home where they found the earth covered with wonderful crops of maize and beans.

Orpheo English
[=Greek Orpheus;=Scottish Orfeo]
a musician

He travelled to the underworld to rescue Herodis.

Orpheus Greek
[=English Orpheo;=Scottish Orfeo]
son of Oeagrus or Apollo by Calliope or Menippe husband of Eurydice

He was given a lyre by Apollo and was taught by the Muses, becoming the most famous musician of the age.

He sailed with the Argonauts and saved the crew from the Sirens by drowning their songs with the music of his lyre. Some say that he lulled to sleep the serpent guarding the Golden Fleece.

When his wife, Eurydice, running from an attempted rape by Aristaeus, was killed by snake-bite, he descended to Tartarus and charmed Hades into releasing her. He looked back, contrary to instructions, to ensure that she was following behind, and Eurydice was reclaimed by Hades and condemned to remain in Tartarus for ever.

Some say that he was killed by a thunderbolt flung by Zeus for teaching mortals the secrets of the gods, while others say that he was torn to pieces by the Maenads when he failed to acknowledge Dionysus. His head floated down the river Hebrus to Lesbos and continued to prophesy until silenced by Apollo. His lyre was installed in the heavens as the constellation Lyra.

In some accounts, it is suggested that he was an incarnation of Dionysus.

Orphic mysteries Greek rites practised by the followers of Dionysus who regarded Orpheus as their founder

Orphic tablets Greek
8 golden tablets bearing the details of the rites of Orphism

Orphism Greek
the teaching of the mysteries associated with Orpheus based on the need to atone for sin

The devotees of this cult welcomed death as a release from the body which they regarded as impure.

Orphne Greek
a nymph of the underworld mother of Ascalaphus by Acheron,
some say

orphrey
embroidery (gold) on a vestment

Orphymel
a ruler of one of the 7 supposed firmaments

Orri British
a forester

He sheltered Tristram when he left Mark's court after returning Isolde to her husband.

Orribes European
a giant

He is featured in some Spanish stories as ravaging Britain until he was killed by the younger Tristram.

Orseis Greek
a nymph
wife of Hellen
mother of Aeolus, Dorus and Xuthus

Orson European
son of Alexander and Bellisent
twin brother of Valentine husband of Fezon

He was carried off by bears and became a wild man. He was later reclaimed by Valentine and they had many adventures together.

ort (see haltija)

Ort-hozjin (see Port-hozjin)

Orte German
son of Etzel
brother of Scharpfe

He and his brother, together with Dietrich's youngest brother Diether, accompanied Dietrich von Bern on one of his forays against Ermenrich. Left in the care of Elsan, the boys were allowed to go riding and were killed by the traitor, Wittich.

ortanax British
a fish found only in the Euphrates

It was said that anyone holding a bone of this fish lost his memory. Part of the hilt of the Sword of Strange Girdles was made from a rib of this fish.

Ortgis German [Orkise]

father of Jambas
He seized the ice-queen, Virginal, but was killed when Dietrich and Hildebrand came to her rescue.

Orthia (see Artemis)

Orthon
a demon

He reported all that happened in the world and was said to have appeared as three pieces of straw or as a pig.

Orthos (see Orthrus)

Orthria (see Artemis)

Orthrus Greek [Orthos.Orthus]

a monster two-headed dog of Geryon offspring of Typhon and Echidna
This animal, once owned by Atlas, guarded the herds of Geryon and was killed by Heracles on his tenth Labour.
(see also Gargittos)

Orthus (see Orthrus)

Ortlieb German

son of Etzel and Krimhild
He was slain by Hagen when Brodelin, at the behest of Krimhild, had many of Gunther's nobles killed.

Ortnit German

[Otnid.Otnit.Otwit]
a king of the Lombards
son of Sigeher
husband of Sidrat

He was said to have the strength of twelve normal men. He saw a phantom castle rise out of the sea and on it a maiden with whom he fell in love.

According to his uncle, Ylyas, this was a vision, conjured up by the Fata Morgana, of the fortress Muntabure and the princess Sidrat, daughter of Machorell, the ruler of Syria.

Ortnit set off to find her and his mother gave him a magic ring, which made him invisible, for his protection. This brought him to a place where he met Alberich, king of the dwarfs, who told Ortnit that he, Alberich, was his real father. He then gave Ortnit a magical suit of armour and the sword, Rosen.

Ortnit and his followers sacked Tyre, laid siege to Muntabure and took Sidrat back to Lombardy where she was baptised, taking the name Liebgart, and married Ortnit.

Her father sent her two eggs which, he said, would produce magic toads. Instead, they produced monstrous dragons which ravaged the country. Ortnit hunted these beasts, despite a warning from Alberich, and was killed even though protected by his armour.

Ortrud German

a sorceress
daughter of Radbad
wife of Frederick of Telramund
She plotted to get the dukedom of Brabant and caused the disappearance of the heir, Godfrey, in circumstances that made it appear that his sister, Elsa, had murdered him. When Lohengrin came as Elsa's champion and defeated Frederick in combat, she prompted Elsa to demand to know the name of the mysterious knight she had married which led to Lohengrin's admission of his identity and consequent departure. When the boat drawn by a swan appeared to carry Lohengrin off, Ortrud admitted that she had turned Godfrey into a swan. Lohengrin, before leaving, restored Godfrey to his former self.

Ortrun Norse

daughter of Ludwig and Gerlinda sister of Hartmut
second wife of Siegfried

Ortwin<sup>1</sup> German

[Ortwine]
son of Hettel and Hilde brother of Gudrun
husband of Hildburg

When his sister, Gudrun, was abducted by Hartmut, he sailed to her rescue with her betrothed, Herwig and Wat. He married Hildburg who had been abducted with Gudrun.

Ortwin<sup>2</sup> German

[Ortwine]
son of Etzel and Helche brother of Erp

Helche sent a force to help Dietrich in his battle with Ermenrich and both Ortwin and Erp were killed.

Ortwin<sup>3</sup> German

[Ortwine]
a vassal of Gunther

He was in the party, led by Gunther, that was invited to Etzel's court and died there when Krimhild took her revenge on Gunther and Hagen for the murder of Siegfried.

Ortwine (see Ortwin)

Ortygia Greek

an island where Leto gave birth to Apollo and Artemis, later known as Delos (see also Delos)

Orun African

a Yoruba sun-god

Orun Buburu African

the Yoruba heaven for the wicked

Orun Rere African

the Yoruba heaven for the good

Orungan (see Oranyan)

Orunjan (see Oranyan)

Orunmila African

the god of fate and god of mercy
among the Yoruba

He defended men from the sea-god Olokur. He knows the destiny of all humans and can speak to them in every language through oracles.

In some accounts, he is equated with Ifa while others regard him as the creator-god.

Orvandel (see Orvandil)

Orvandil Norse

[Aurentil.Aurvandill.Avo.Earendel.

Orendil.Orvandel.Orwandil]

a wind-god, some say

son of Groa

He was stolen as a baby by the frost-giants and rescued by Thor. One of his toes, sticking out of the basket in which Thor carried him, became frost-bitten. Thor accidentally broke it off and then threw it into the sky as a star in the constellation Orion.

In an alternative version, he was the husband of Groa and the father by her of Hadburg and Svidpas. His second wife, Sith, bore Uller, Roskva and Thialfi. (see also Egil<sup>2</sup>.Horvandil)

Orvar-Odds Saga Norse

the story of the travels and adventures of the hero, Odd

Orwandil (see Orvandil)

Orwen<sup>1</sup> British

[White Witch]

mother of Orddu, the Black Witch

Orwen<sup>2</sup> Welsh

daughter of Caradoc

sister of Meriadoc

wife of Urien

In some accounts, Caswallawn caused the death of her father, Caradoc, but others say that Griffith killed Caradoc and usurped his throne, sending Orwen and her brother, Meriadoc, to be killed in the woods. They were spared by the executioners and Orwen was abducted by Urien who married her. When Meriadoc later deposed Griffith with the help of King Arthur, she and her husband became rulers of Wales.

Orythius Greek

in some accounts, son of Phineus and Cleopatra brother of Crambis

When Idaeus, second wife of Phineus, accused the brothers of rape, their father blinded them. In other accounts they are referred to as Polydectes and Polydorus.

Orythia (see Oreithyia)

Osagebiel

a demon of the hours of the day

Osai Tutu African

an 18th c king of the Ashanti

A golden stool, sign of sovereignty, descended from heaven when he was crowned by the sorcerer Anochi.

(see also Sunsum)

Osain African

[=Haiti Ossange]

a Yoruba vegetation-god

Osaman (see Asamanfo)

Osande African

an ancestral god of the Ovimbundu

people

Osanobua African

[Osanobwe]

a creator-god of the Edo people

father of Olokun, some say

He allowed his sons to choose whatever they wanted and then sent them to earth which was, at that time, entirely covered with water. While the others chose wealth, the youngest son took only a snail shell. He turned this shell upside down and the sand that fell out into the ocean became the first dry land and he became its king. The other brothers, having nowhere to live, gave him some of their wealth for a share of the land and he became very rich and powerful.

Osanobwe (see Osanobua)

Osanctrix (see Osantrix)

Osantrix German

[Osanctrix]

a ruler of Wilkina

brother of Hertnit

He attacked Etzel's kingdom but, with the help of Dietrich, Etzel repelled the invaders.

Osawa African

a sky-god of the Ekoi people

Osborn (see Asprian)

Osca (see Oscar)

Oscar Irish

[Osca.Osgar]

a great warrior

son of Oisín and Eibhir grandson of Finn mac Cool

husband of Aidin

As a youth, he fought with the Fianna against the army of Lochlanners led by Colga and killed him in single combat. Later, when Colga's son, Midac, trapped Finn mac Cool and his companions in the Quicken Trees Hostel, he killed Sinsar, leader of the forces which had sailed to Ireland to help Midac against the Fianna.

He was one of the party of nine, led by Goll mac Morna, which recovered Finn's hounds, Bran and Sceolan, when they were stolen by Arthur. He later commanded the Fianna battalion known as The Terrible Broom and eventually the whole of the Fianna. He led them against the high-king, Cairbre Lifeachair, who tried to restrict the power of the Fianna, killing the king but dying from his wounds. Aidin died of grief.

Some say that the Fianna were released from hell by the prayers of St Patrick, at the behest of Oisín and Cailte, and it was Oscar who held back the fiends sent to recapture them, using a giant flail.

Oschophoria Greek

a festival in honour of Dionysus, held in October

Osci (see Oski)

Ose

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He has the power to transform humans into animals and to cause madness. He is said to appear in the form of a leopard.

Ose-Shango African

an amulet worn by Shango

Osgar (see Oscar)

Oshadagea North American

an eagle, the bringer of rain

In the lore of the Iroquois, this great bird was the companion, with Keneu, of the thunder-god, Hino. One of his functions was to put out forest fires started by demons by scooping up water in his wings and dropping it on the blaze. Others say that he had a hollow in his back which was full of dew which he used for this purpose.

Oshadhi-Pati (see Soma<sup>2</sup>)

Oshala (see Obatala)

Oshalla (see Obatala)

Oshiho-mimi

(see Ama-no-Oshiho-mimi)

Oshin Manx

the Manx name for Oisín

Oshossi African

a Yoruban god of woods

and hunting

He is also worshipped in the West Indies.

Oshowa African

[Ebutokpabi]

a supreme god in Nigeria

Oshun African

a river-goddess

consort of Shango

She is also worshipped in the West Indies.

Oshunmare African

[=Dahomey Dan Ayido Hwedo

=Haitian Damballah Wedo]

a serpent-deity of the Yoruba

He is also worshipped in the West Indies.

Osian (see Ossian)

Osir-Apis Egyptian
 [Osir-Hapi.Osirap.Osorapis.Usar-Api(s).Usar-Hapi:=Greek Serapis]
 the amalgamation of Apis and Osiris as a god of the underworld who could cure diseases (see also Serapis)

Osir-Hapi (see Osir-Apis)

Osirap (see Osir-Apis)

Osirid pillar Egyptian
 a square pillar on one face of which was carved a statue of Osiris or of a dead king

Osirian mysteries Egyptian rites re-enacting the death and resurrection of the god Osiris

Osirianism Egyptian
 the worship of Osiris
 This creed offered the promise of redemption and life eternal as against the prospect of being forever confined to the underworld.

Osiris<sup>1</sup> Egyptian
 [An.Andjeti.An(d)jety.Apuatu.Asar(i).Asartaiti.Banaded.Khenti-Amentiu.Mendes.Sekhemtaui.Unbu.Unneffer.Un(n)o.Wenneffer.Wenoffer.Winefred:=Babylonian Nergal:=Greek Dionysus.Hades]
 the supreme god, god of dead, floods, harvest, sun, the underworld, vegetation son of Geb and Nut or Ra and Nut brother of Isis, Nephthys, Seth
 He married his sister Isis and when his father abdicated and split the kingdom between Osiris and Set, they ruled the northern half. Set wanted all the kingdom and he put Osiris in a chest and threw it into the Nile. In one version, the chest landed in Phoenicia (or Byblos) where a tree (Erica) grew round it. The tree was felled to make a column for the new palace of the king, Malcandie, who restored the chest to Isis. She retrieved the body and, mourning in the form of a bird, conceived and bore a son, Horus. Set again got hold of the body and cut it into fourteen (or up to forty-two) pieces which he threw into the river. Again Isis rescued the pieces, reassembled them and brought Osiris back to life but he went down to rule in the underworld, as Khenti-Amentiu, leaving the throne to Horus. In another version, she conceived Horus after Osiris had been reassembled from the pieces and, in yet another, Isis buried the pieces (except the penis which had been thrown to the crocodiles or carp), at various sanctuaries.

His symbols were the flail and the crook and he is depicted swathed like a mummy holding these implements.

The pharaoh of the united kingdom was Osiris after his death.

(see also Rhot-Amenti.Serapis.Uasar)

Osiris<sup>2</sup> Syrian
 a corn-god assimilated into the Egyptian pantheon

Osiris-Apis (see Osorapis)

Osiris bed Egyptian

a frame shaped to represent Osiris, part of the funerary equipment

This frame, filled with soil, was sown with barley seeds, the sprouting of which was regarded as a symbol of rebirth.

Osiris-Sokar Egyptian

the hidden god

Osk-meyjar (see Valkyries)

Oska-stein Norse

the stone which gave Odin his power as grantor of wishes

Oski Norse

[Osci]

Odin as 'grantor of wishes'

Osla British

[Octa]

a warrior at King Arthur's court

His knife, Bronllavyn, could be laid across a river to form a bridge.

He was one of the party that helped Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen and was drowned in the Severn in the struggle to capture the boar Twrch Trwyth.

Osmand British

a sorcerer whose powers were in his hair
 He used his magic to raise an army to fight the Christians. Six of the seven Champions of Christendom were killed in the battle and, when St George restored them to life, Osmand killed himself. (see also Osmond)

Osmond British

a Saxon sorcerer

In Dryden's King Arthur, he tried to violate Emmeline and was put in prison. (see also Osmand)

Osong Buwon-Gunq Korean

a man who became a general

As a young man, he was once lost in the mountains and came across a young girl weeping. It appeared that a priest, whose suit for her hand had been rejected, had killed all her family. Osong killed the priest who was, in fact, a tiger but, when he refused to stay with the girl, she hanged herself.

In later years, a yellow handkerchief wrapped itself round his sword in battle and he lost the fight. The handkerchief, the spirit of the dead girl, reproached him for his heartlessness and he repented. He returned to the house, found her body and gave her a decent burial. In his next battle, the yellow handkerchief appeared again but this time it hindered his opponent so that Osong was able to win the battle.

Osorapis (see Serapis)

Ospirin German

in the story of Walther and Hildegard, she appears as the wife of Attila

Ossa<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Pheme]

a god of rumour

a messenger of Zeus

Ossa<sup>2</sup> (see Mount Ossa)

Ossange West Indian

[=Yoruba Osain]

a god of leaves and herbs

Ossar Irish

[Ailbe]

the hound of Mac Da Tho

This animal, a whelp of the Brown Mouse, was one of the animals coveted by Ailill and Conor. Mac Da Tho sold the hound and the boar to both kings who went to war over who should have them. Mac Da Tho killed the boar and the hound was killed when it raced after Ailill's chariot.

Ossian Scottish

[Osian]

the Scottish name for Oisín

A Scottish poet, James Macpherson, claimed that Ossian was a poet and that he had collected much of Ossian's work. In fact, the works were his own.

Ossianic Cycle (see Fenian Cycle)

Ostara German

[=Norse Freya.Frigga:=Saxon Eastre]

goddess of spring

Ostaraki Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Buddhakapal

Ostowegowa North American

an Iroquois feather-dance of thanks to the creator

ostrich<sup>1</sup> Arab

this bird is regarded as a cross between a bird and a camel, capable of becoming a jinnee

ostrich<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

a representation of Tiamat

ostrich<sup>3</sup> Persian

a sacred bird of the Zoroastrians

Osun African

a river-goddess and goddess of healing among the Yoruba people daughter of Oba Jumu and Oba Do
 consort of Shango

Oswald<sup>1</sup> British
a northern king

His hand was preserved for ever by St Aidan for his generosity to the poor. He was revered as a saint in Switzerland.

Oswald<sup>2</sup> British
a king of Kent

In Dryden's King Arthur, Oswald appears as the king of Kent, in love with Emmeline, who was banished from Britain by King Arthur.

Ota
wife of Tuirgeis

Otafuku (see Uzume)

Otava Finnish
a sky-deity, spirit of the Great Bear

Oter (see Otter)

Oterongtongnia North American
an Iroquois creator-god

son of Awenhai's daughter twin brother of Tawiscaron

He and his twin were enemies, even in their mother's womb and she died as the result of their birth when Oterongtongnia was born from her armpit. He made the good things in the world while his twin made all the evil things so he chased Tawiscaron who became, or created, the Rocky Mountains.

(see also Ioskeha.Tawiscara)

Otgarius (see Ogier)

otgon (see otkon)

Othagwenda North American [Flint]

an Iroquois culture-hero
twin brother of Djuskaha

These boys were born to a maiden, daughter of Ataensic, impregnated by the West Wind, and Othagwenda was abandoned at birth, only to be rescued by his brother.

When they reached maturity, they went their separate ways, making plants and animals, later meeting to compare their handiwork. Djuskaha made a number of improvements to things created by his brother so that they were beneficial to men whereas Othagwenda spoiled much of his brother's work. As a result, they quarrelled and Othagwenda was killed.

(see also Tawiscara)

Othere Norse
discoverer of the North Cape father of Eadgils

His sons rebelled against him and fled to the court of Heardred. Here, they had an argument with the king and killed him.

Otherworld Celtic

[=British Avalon:=Irish Ard mhac Leinn.Tir inna N'og:=Welsh Achren.

Annfwyn.Caer Wydr.Godeu.Lychlyn]
home of the fairies: land of the gods

A place where another existence, in many ways similar to this life, awaits those who have died. A death in this life meant a rebirth in the Otherworld and vice versa. It was said to become visible to mortals at the Feast of Samhain.

Otherworld<sup>2</sup>

a general term for some supernatural place, including fairyland, heaven, hell and paradise

In many cases, the Otherworld can be reached only by the bravest heroes and after many difficulties.

Othin (see Odin)

Othinn (see Odin)

Othinus (see Odin)

Otho<sup>1</sup> European

king of England
father of Astolpho

Otho<sup>2</sup> European

husband of Emma father of Tancred

Othr (see Odin)

Othrevir (see Od-hroerir)

Othryoneus Greek

a leader of a contingent from Cabesus helping the Trojans

He had undertaken to help Priam against the Greeks at the siege of Troy on the understanding that he would marry Cassandra after the war, but he was killed in the fighting.

Othrys Greek

the home of the Titans

Othur (see Odin)

Otionia Greek

daughter of Erechtheus

When Eumolpus invaded Athens, Erechtheus was told that he must sacrifice Otionia, one of his seven daughters. Pandora and Protogonia, her elder sisters, sacrificed themselves as well.

Otis (see Botis)

otkon North American

[otgon]

in the lore of the Iroquois, the force of evil, the converse of orenda

Otkut African

[Otukut]

the lizard

son of Zamba

brother of Ngi, Nkoku and Wo

Otkut allowed his four sons to make human beings and Otkut made the foolish.

Otnid (see Ortnit)

Otnit (see Ortnit)

Oto-hime<sup>1</sup> Japanese

[Toyo-tama.Toyotama]

daughter of Watatsumi

sister of Tama-yori

wife of Fire Fade and Urashima

mother of Amasuhiko

She left the undersea home of her father, a Dragon King, to marry the mortal Fire Fade, but returned there after the birth of their son, Amasuhiko.

In another story, to test Urashima's kindness, she appeared as a tortoise and allowed herself to be caught on his fishing-line. Urashima threw her back into the sea and the tortoise carried him down to her underwater realm where she assumed her normal shape and married him. When he left her to visit his parents, she gave him a small casket but made him promise not to open it. He failed to keep his promise and, opening the casket, became a very old man and died on the spot. The few days he had been away from home turned out to be 300 years.

(see also Fire Fade)

Oto-hime<sup>2</sup> Japanese

a beautiful maiden

She and Ye-hime were selected to become wives of the emperor Keiko who sent his son, Oho-usu, to bring them to his court. The son married both the girls and sent two others to the court in their place. The emperor rejected them and they both died of grief.

Otoku-San Japanese

[Otuku-san]

a female doll

These dolls, which represent a child of about two years of age, are said to bring good luck if properly looked after. The male version is Tokutaro-San.

Otomankoma African

[Odomankoma]

a name of Nyame as 'eternal'

Otomo-no-Miyuki Japanese

a noble

He was a suitor for the hand of Kayuga and undertook to get for her the jewel set in the head of a dragon. He was so frightened by the thunder-god that he gave up the quest.

Oton (see Ottone.Votan)

Otontecuhtli (see Xiuhtecuhtli)

Otonteuctli (see Xiuhtecuhtli)

Otos<sup>1</sup> Phoenician

['reason']

son of Aer and Aura

Otos<sup>2</sup> (see Otus)

Ototachibana Japanese [Tachibana]
 a princess
 wife of O-Uso-no-Mikito
 She accompanied her husband on all his expeditions, never complaining of the hardship. When Yamato fell in love with the princess Miyadzu, she threw herself overboard in a storm at sea so that her husband would be free.

Otr (see Otter)
Otrera (see Otrere)
Otrere Greek [Otrera]
 a queen of the Amazons
 mother of Penthesilea by Ares

Otreus Greek
 a Phrygian king
 He fought the Amazons at the River Sangarus with the help of the young Priam.

Otshirvani Siberian [Garide]
 a creator-god and god of light
 In the form of the eagle, Garide, he grabbed the giant serpent Losy in his claws and killed him by smashing him against a mountain.

Otso Finnish
 a woodland deity in the form of a bear

Ottachiero European son of the king of Hungary
 He and Rinaldo took an army of Hungarians to the support of Charlemagne when France was invaded by Agramant, Marsilius and Rodomont.

Ottar<sup>1</sup> Norse
 [Ottar the Simple.Ottarr Heimski]
 a man disputing land ownership
 Needing to prove his ancestry in a dispute with Angantyr over a piece of land, Ottar asked Freya for help. She turned him into a pig and rode him to the house of Hyndla, a sorceress, who told him the names of all his ancestors and gave him a magic drink so that he would not forget them. As a result, he was awarded the disputed land.

Ottar<sup>2</sup> Norse
 a lover of Freya
 In some accounts he is disguised as the boar Hildeswm.

Ottar<sup>3</sup> (see Otter)
Ottarr Heimski (see Ottar)
Otter<sup>1</sup> Norse [Ot(e)r.Ottar]
 son of Hreidmar
 brother of Fafnir and Regin
 When Odin, Hoenir and Loki visited earth, this son of Hreidmar was sitting in the sun in the form of an otter and Loki killed the animal for food. In compensation, his father demanded sufficient gold to cover the otter's skin which expanded as more and more gold was added. Loki forced Andvari, the dwarf-king, to hand over his hoard of gold and the curse that the dwarf put on the treasure was the source of much trouble in later years.

Otter<sup>2</sup> North American
 one of the 4 animals which tried to find soil from which Manabush could re-create the world

In Algonquian lore, Beaver, Mink and Otter all died in an attempt to find soil after the flood and it was left to Muskrat to succeed.

Otter-Heart North American

a young orphan
 He grew up alone, except for his sister, and set off to find adventure. He met a chief who offered him his two daughters but, when he insisted that the young man should marry both Good and Wicked, Otter-Heart fled, pursued by the two maidens. When he hid in a pine tree, they chopped it down and he escaped by riding on a cone and when he hid in a cedar, he was saved when his guardian spirit broke the maidens' axes. He came to a teepee where the woman who welcomed him exposed herself as Wicked by eating the best part of the beaver he had caught. At a second lodge, the woman gave Otter-Heart the best parts of the otter he brought with him and admitted that the otters were her relatives. She was the Good maiden and he married her.

Otto German

a German emperor
 uncle of Galien

Ottone European

[Oton]
 a knight of Charlemagne
 He was with Roland at Roncesvalles and was killed there.

Otua (see Atua)

Otuel European

son of Garcia nephew of Ferragus
 husband of Bel
 Fighting Roland, who had killed Ferragus, in an effort to avenge his uncle's death, he became Roland's friend, converted to Christianity and became one of Charlemagne's paladins.

Otuku-san (see Otoku-san)

Otukan Asian

[Natigai]
 an earth-spirit

Otukut (see Otkut)

Otumfoo African

a name of Onyankopon as 'the powerful one'

Otus Greek

[Otos]
 a giant son of Aloeus or Poseidon by Iphimedia or Canace twin brother of Ephialtes

His nominal father was Aloeus but his real father was Poseidon. He and his brother, known as the Aloadae, were noble beings, not monsters like the other giants.

They once imprisoned Ares in a bronze jar to show their power and they threatened to pile Pelion on Ossa to attack Olympus but were persuaded by Poseidon not to try.

They planned to carry off Artemis but she set a trap for them. Flying over the sea to Naxos, where they followed her, she put herself as a white hind in their path and they immediately set out to hunt it. Each threw a javelin from opposite sides of the hind which then disappeared. Each brother died when struck by the other's javelin.

An alternative version says that, when they tried to abduct Artemis and Hera, Artemis ran between them. Each aimed a shot at her but she avoided the arrows and each brother inadvertently killed the other.

They were said to have been bound back to back and fastened to a column by snakes when they went to Tartarus.

In some accounts, Otus was one of the Earthborn Giants, son of Uranus and Gaea, and fought in the battle between the giants and the gods.

Otutu African

in the lore of the Fon, the songbird that raised the alarm when Sogbo set the world on fire

Otwit (see Ornit)

Otygen Mongol

an earth-goddess

Ouanga West Indian

[=African Wanga]
 witchcraft brought from Africa

Oudaeus (see Udaeus)

Ouiamot (see Chinigchinich)

Ouiot North American

[Atahen.Attajen.Dominator.'great captain'. 'master'. Owiot.Quiamot. Wiamot.Wiyot.Wy'ot]

the first being, in the lore of the Californian tribes

When Ouiot grew old, his children, deeming him no longer capable of ruling, poisoned him. At his funeral, Coyote snatched a piece of the corpse from the pyre and ran off. Some of the skin fell on the ground and here the creator Chinigchinich appeared, giving Ouiot's children the power to become medicine-men for the benefit of the men he promised to make.

In another version, he was the son of Sirout and Ycaut, and was killed by his children who ground up some of the black rock, Tosaut, and used it to kill him by sprinkling it on his chest where it ate into his body. At his funeral, Attajen appeared and gave the children of Ouiot the power to become sorcerers.

Other tribes referred to Ouiot as Atahen or Attajen. (see also Wy'ot)

Oulomos (see Oulomus)

Oulomus Phoenician

[Oulomos]

a being produced by Aer and Ether progenitor of Chousorus

Our Father (see Senx)

Our Grandmother (see Kokumthema)

Our Great Chief (see Totec)

Our Lady (see Isis)

ouraboros (see ouroboros)

Ourania (see Urania)

Ourannus (see Ouranos)

Ouranos<sup>1</sup> Phoenician

[Auchthon.Epigeus.Ourannus:

=Greek Uranus]

son of Elioun and Berouth consort of Gea

father of Ashtart, Baitulos, Dagan, El, Pontus and Zeus Damaros

The Semitic version of the Greek Uranus.

In some versions he and Gea were two halves of a primordial egg, produced by Chousorus, from which all else came.

Ouranos<sup>2</sup> (see Uranus)

Oure Greek

sacred mountains created by Gaea

ouroboros Greek

[oroboros.(o)uraboros]

a symbolic serpent with its tail in its mouth representing the cycle of life, totality, etc.

Ousel of Cilgwri

(see Blackbird of Cilgwri)

Ousous Phoenician

a creator-god, a giant fire-deity

brother of Hyposouranios

He and his brother were said to be the inventors of mankind.

Outgard (see Utgard)

Outis (see Noman)

Outlake (see Ontzlake)

Ouvin (see Odin)

Ouzel of Cilgwri (see Blackbird of Cilgwri)

Ouzelem bird

an imaginary bird

This bird is said to fly backwards and consequently never knows where it is going but always knows where it has been. A similar story is told of Jayhawk.

Ovakuru African

ancestral spirits of the Ashanti

Ovda Baltic

[Alvasta.Surali]

a forest-spirit of the Lapps

This flesh-eating monster could appear as male or female, naked with its feet pointing to the rear. It killed people by tickling them to death before eating them but it could be rendered powerless if touched under its left arm.

Ovid Roman

[(Publius Ovidius) Naso]

a 1st c BC poet

He was the author of Amores, Fasti, Heroides, Medea, Metamorphoses, etc.

Ovik (see Syen)

Ovinnik Slav

a mischievous spirit

a type of Domovik

This being, living in barns or, some say, in kitchens or drying kilns, is envisaged as a black cat which barks.

Ovo Okare East Indian

in Papuan lore, the third person to be created

This person, born from a turtle's egg, later turned into the red coconut palm.

Owain<sup>1</sup> British

[Ewain.Ewayne.Ivain.Knight of the Lion.Owe(i)n.Uwain(e)=Dutch

Iwa(i)nus.Iwein=French Yvain.Ywain]

a knight of King Arthur's court

one of the Knights of Battle son of Urien and Morgan le Fay or

Modron

twin brother of Morfudd husband of Denw or of Penarwan

father of Galian, some say

In some accounts, he was the son of Gorlois and Igraine, in others the brother of Gawain.

Morgan planned to kill King Arthur and her husband, Urien, marry her lover Accolan and make him king. Believing that Accolan had killed

Arthur in a fight, she took her husband's sword and was about to kill him as he slept. Owain, alerted by a servant, was hidden in the room and seized his mother in time to prevent murder. His mother duped him into believing that she had been possessed by evil spirits and he forgave her when she promised to give up magic arts.

King Arthur felt that he could no longer trust Urien or Owain so he banished Owain from his court. His friend Gawain opted to go with him and they set out to find adventure which would allow Owain to prove his loyalty to the king.

Their first encounter was with Morholt who quickly unhorsed two strange knights in succession. He then challenged Owain and Gawain, disposing easily of the young Owain who sustained a leg wound, and fighting an honourable draw with Gawain. All three became friends and travelled on together. They met three women who offered to lead them to adventure and Owain chose the oldest of the three.

She turned out to be Lyne, a woman who had always wanted to be a man and had made a lifetime study of knightly pursuits. She made Owain undergo ten months of intensive training at her home in Wales and then they set off to find adventure. He unhorsed thirty knights at a tournament and won the prize, riding on to the Castle of the Rock. Here lived the Lady of the Rock who had had all her property, except the Castle, taken from her by the brothers Edward and Hugh. Owain fought them both at once, killing Edward and forcing Hugh to surrender. The Lady of the Rock offered him the chance to live with her and run her regained estates but he chose to leave. At the crossroads, Lyne left him to await another knight errant she could train while Owain joined Gawain and Morholt and returned with them to Camelot where they were all made welcome by the king.

He was one of the knights captured and imprisoned by Tarquin, who hated all Arthur's knights, until rescued by Lancelot.

In Welsh stories, he appeared as Owein, in the dream of Rhonabwy playing a game of chess with King Arthur and in the story of the Lady of the Fountain. His 'army' consisted of 300 ravens given to him by Cenferchyn.

When Cynon (or Colgrevaunce) was unhorsed by the Black Knight, Escalados, Owain met the victor and wounded him so severely that he died. He was rescued from prison by Luned who gave him a ring which made him invisible and Owain took over all the Black Knight's lands and his wife Laudine, the Lady of the Fountain, living with her for three years. At the end of that time, Arthur went in search of him and Kay met the Knight of the Fountain in single combat and was defeated. Each of Arthur's knights was defeated in turn and it was only when Gwalchmei fought him that they realised they were fighting Owain. He was reunited with Arthur and returned to his court for three years. When he realised how he had deserted his wife, he did penance (or went mad, some say) and lived the life of a mendicant, killing a dragon and taming the lion which had been fighting with it. His path crossed that of Luned once again and he rescued her from death at the stake.

In some versions, he returned to the Lady of the Fountain, in others he was reunited with his wife and they lived together at Arthur's court.

In another story, he arrived home to find his castle occupied by Salados and his followers. In the fight that ensued, Owain escaped with his life only when the lion, which had become his faithful companion, intervened, killing Salados and routing his followers.

Other stories include a fight with Gawain when Owain set out to defend a lady robbed of her property by her elder sister. The two finally recognised each other, the fight was ended and Arthur settled the dispute between the sisters. En route to this adventure, Owain had released 300 ladies held captive in the Castle of Pesme Adventure by two demons who forced them to weave cloth.

Owain<sup>2</sup> British

[Ewain.Ewayne.Iwain.Owein the Bastard.Owen]

a Knight of the Round Table
father of Chau

He was the illegitimate son of Urien by the wife of his steward and thus half-brother to the other Owain.

He was killed by Gawain whom he challenged to a joust.

Owain<sup>3</sup> British

[Ewain.Ewayne.Iwain.Owe(i)n]
son of Macsen

He fought a duel with a giant in which they were both killed.

Owain<sup>4</sup> (see Lady of the Fountain)

Owain Gwynedd British

father of Madawg, the prince said to have discovered America

owanka wakan North American

a sacred altar

Owasse North American

an Algonquian bear-spirit

Owatatsumi (see Watatsumi)

Owein (see Owain)

Owein the Bastard (see Owain<sup>2</sup>)

Owel (see Eoghabal)

Owen (see Eoghan.Owain)

Owen Glendower Welsh

a Welsh hero

He was said to own a stone, which he had obtained from a raven, which could make him invisible.

Owiot (see Ouiot)

owl

a widely-distributed night-flying bird of prey traditionally deemed to be wise

(1) The Buddhists regard the owl as a messenger of Yama.

(2) In Central America the Aztec refer to the owl as Tlacotl and regard it as a bird of ill-omen.

(3) In the Christian tradition the owl is an attribute of both Christ and Satan.

(4) In Egypt the owl was regarded as a symbol of death.

(5) In Greece the owl was regarded as sacred to Athene and Demeter.

(6) In Hindu lore, the owl (Shakra) was regarded as an attribute of Yama and sacred to Indra.

(7) The Japanese regard the owl as typifying filial ingratitude, as a form of Fukuro and as a god of villages.

(8) The Malay regard owls as ghosts.

(9) In North America, the Algonquin people regard the owl as an attendant on the Lord of the Dead.

(10) In Persian lore the owl, Asho-Zushta, could drive away demons by reciting passages from the Avesta.

Owl-glass (see Tyll Eulenspiegel)

Owl of Cwm Cawlwyd Welsh

a very old bird

Culhwch consulted this bird in his quest for the hand of Olwen but the owl was unable to give any help in finding Mabon and referred him to the Eagle of Gwern Abwy.

Owlespiegle (see Tyll Eulenspiegel)

Owner (see Malik<sup>1</sup>)

Owo African

a supreme god of the Idoma people of Nigeria

ox (see bull)

Ox Boy (see Ch'ien Niu)

Ox Head (see Niu T'ou)

Oxheheon North American

a Cheyenne sun-dance spirit

Oxlahun Ti Ku Central American

[Oxlanhunktiku]

a group of 13 Mayan sky-gods

In some accounts, these deities were captured by another group, the Bolon Ti Ku.

Oxlahuntiku (see Oxlanhun Ti Ku)

Oxomoco Central American

[Oromuco.Oxomuco]

the Aztec first man who, with the woman Cipactonal, was created by Piltzintecuhtli

In some accounts, Piltzintecuhtli was the son of Oxomoco and Cipactonal, while others say that he was the same as Tonatiuh.

Oxomoco was one of the four sages of the Aztec migration, the others being Chipactonal, Tlaltecuin and Xochicahuaca. These four were said to have invented the Aztec alphabet.

In some accounts, Oxomoco is the same as Xmuacane.

Oxomuco (see Oxomoco)

Oxydeices (see Optiletis)

Oxylus Greek

co-king of Elis with Agorius son of Andraemon or Haemon

brother of Thermius

He was banished to Elis after accidentally killing Thermius but later returned to Aetolia and raised an army which conquered Elis of which he became co-king with Agorius, ousting the former king, Dius.

He is said to have had three eyes.

Oxyrhyncus Egyptian

a fish sacred to Hathor

Oya<sup>1</sup> African

[Mammy of the Water.Oba.Oja]

a river-goddess and weather-goddess of the Yoruba people a consort of Shango

This deity, though female, was said to have a beard.

Oya<sup>2</sup> Japanese

['parent']

a term used for the deity of the Tenri sect

Oya-Shima-Guni Japanese the first 8 islands to be created when Izanagi and Izanami made
the world

Oyamakui Japanese
[Yama-no-kami.Yama-sue-no-nushi]
a mountain god
guardian of the western shrine on Mount Hiei

Oyandone (see O-yan-do-ne)

Oyazu Japanese
a woman whose spirit appeared to Kyuzaemon wife of Isaburo

She appeared at the home of Kyuzaemon and prayed before his family shrine. She told Kyuzaemon that her husband, Isaburo, had left her parents without support when she died and she wanted to correct this wrong.
Next day, Kyuzaemon found that Isaburo had returned to his in-laws, having been visited by his wife's spirit in the guise of Yuki-Onna.

Oyise African
in Nigeria, a mediator

This being, in the form of a post carved from a tree, acts as a mediator between the Isoko people and their remote god, Cghene.

Oynyena Maria Slav

[Fiery Mary.Mary the Fiery One.
Ognyena Maria]
a fire-goddess
assistant of the thunder-god, Peroun sister of Elias

Oyoyewa North American

[Uyuyewi]
a war-god of the Keres twin brother of Masewi in the lore of
the Pueblo Indians
These twins are the equivalent of the Zuni Ahayuta achi. In some accounts, they were the sons of the sun and when they went to meet their father, he gave them weapons with which to kill monsters.

Oyuyewi (see Oyoyewa)

Oyselet (see Ambroy)

Oyuyewi (see Oyoyewa)

Ozanna le Cure Hardy British

a knight of King Arthur's court
He was defeated by Lavaine in the tournament at which he and Lancelot fought on behalf of his father, Bernard.

He was one of the knights captured with Guinevere by Meliagaunt.

Ozmatli Central American

the eleventh of the 20 days of the Aztec month
Symbolising the monkey and west, the day was governed by Xochipilli.

P

P Central American

a Mayan deity of uncertain identity, referred to as god P: a frog-god

This deity is depicted as a frog and may be sowing seed or ploughing, leading some to identify him as a god of agriculture.

pa (see ba)

Pa' Chinese

a drought-goddess daughter of Huang Ti

Pa' (see Ba')

Pa Bilalang (see Bilalang)

Pa Ch'a Chinese

[Great King]
a god of grasshoppers

He is depicted as having a blue-green human torso, a bell in place of a stomach, red hair and the beak and claws of a bird.

Some accounts say that he was originally a Mongolian peasant who was never harmed by the wolves and scorpions that abounded where he lived and whose crops were never affected by grasshoppers. Others equate him with Liu Meng, the god of agriculture.

Pa Gur Welsh

a poem relating Kay's adventures in Anglesey

Pa-hra Egyptian

an early deity
father of Ahi

pa-hsia Chinese

very strong tortoises often depicted under gravestones

Pa Hsien (see Eight Immortals)

Pa-ku-la (see No Ch'u-lo)

Pa Kua (see Eight Diagrams)

pa-lis Persian

an evil gnome

These beings were said to kill those who slept in the desert by licking their feet to suck out their blood.

Pa-no-ka (see No Ch'u-lo)

Pa Pandir Malay

a stupid character who always does the wrong thing

Pa Pao (see Eight Precious Things)

Pao Pacific Islands

a god of Hawaii

Pabel Canaanite

a king of Udimu
father of Hurriya

In some accounts, Hurriya was his wife.

pabid South American

the soul, in the lore of the Tupari

It is said that, when a person dies, the soul leaves the body through the eyes or the pupils leave him and become the pabid. After a perilous journey, threatened by fierce animals, the soul crosses the river Mani-Mani to live in the land of the dead. Here two worms bore into the belly and eat all the bowels before crawling out. At this point, Patobkia restores the sight of the pabid by sprinkling pepper on the eyes and then the pabid is required to have sexual intercourse with one of the giants, the female Vaugh'eh or the male Mpokalero. The pabid can breed to produce children. The males breathe on a bundle of leaves which they then throw on to the back of the chosen woman who then becomes pregnant. (see also ki-apogo-pod)

Pabilsag Mesopotamian

[Pabilsang]

a Sumerian god
consort of Nininsinna

Pabilsang (see Pabilsag)

Pabuji Indian

a local god, hero of epic stories in Rajasthan

Paca-Mama (see Pachamama)

Pacari South American

[Apo-tampu.Cave of Refuge.Cave of the Dawn.Inn of Dawn.Inn of Origin.

Pacari Tampu.Pac(c)ari-Tambo.

Pacariqtambo.Paccarisca.Tambotocco]

a cave with 3 exits

This is the cave from which the ancestors of the Inca people were said to have emerged. Some say that there were three such caves.

In some versions, there were the four – Ayar Manco, Pachacamac, Viracocha and one other; in others, there were three – Apocatequil, Ataguchu and Piguerao. Others claim that there were three or four brothers and three or four sisters.

(see also Children of the Sun)

Pacari-Tambo (see Pacari)
Pacari Tampu (see Pacari)
pacarina South American in Inca lore, dead ancestors
 It was believed that these beings could intercede with the gods on behalf of their descendants.
Pacariqtambo (see Pacari)
Pacaw (see Bacam)
Paccari-Tambo (see Pacari)
Paccarisca (see Pacari)
Pachacamac South American [Earth-maker.Pacharurac.
 Pachayachachic]
 an Inca creator-god
 son of Inti, some say
 brother of Con
 It is said that he defeated Con, the earlier creator of men, turned Con's people into monkeys and made new beings.
 In another version of his story it is believed that he created humans but forgot their need for food. The man died of starvation and the woman was fertilised by the sun. Pachacamac killed her first son and grew plants from pieces of his body. Her second son, Vichama, drove Pachacamac into the sea when Pachacamac killed the woman. He remained in the seas as a sea-god.
 Some stories equate him with Ayar Ayca or Viracocha.
Pachacamama (see Pachamama)
Pachaccan South American
 a name for Thunupa as 'servant'
Pachamama South American [Mama Pacha.Mother Earth.
 Paca-Mama.Pachacamama]
 an Inca earth-goddess Pachari Tibetan
 a Lamaist sorcerer
Pacharurac South American
 a name for Pachacamac as 'maker of all things' Pachayachachic South American
 [Teacher of the World.Tici Viracocha:=Aymara Yatin]
 an Inca creator-god
 father of Imaymana Viracocha and Tocapo Viracocha
 He is regarded as a form of Pachacamac but, in other accounts, is said to be the same as Tici.
Pachet<sup>1</sup> Egyptian
 an early desert goddess, envisaged as a lion Pachet<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
 an undersea paradise in the lore of the Caroline Islanders

Pachytos Greek
 one of the dogs of Actaeon
 When Artemis discovered the hunter, Actaeon, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Pachytos, tore him to pieces.
pack
 something buried under the threshold of an enemy's house, a magic rite designed to harm him Pacolet European
 a French dwarf who owned a winged, wooden flying horse Pactolus Greek
 a river-god
 father of Euryanassa
 This was also a name for the river itself which was said to have gold-bearing sands after Midas had washed his hands in it to rid himself of the curse of gold.
Padalon Hindu
 the land of departed spirits into which there are 8 entrances Padanjali Hindu
 a saint Padarn Redcoat British
 owner of the magic coat, Pais Padarn Padern (see Paternus) padfoot British
 a name for the bargaist in Yorkshire
Padiel
 a demon of the east
Paddock British
 a witch's familiar in Macbeth paddy-bird (see gelatik)
Padma<sup>1</sup> Hindu
 a snake-god
 one of the mahanagas
 This deity is usually depicted with three eyes.
Padma<sup>2</sup> (see Kamala.Vishnu)
Padma<sup>3</sup> Hindu
 a name for Lakshmi as 'lotus'
padma<sup>4</sup> (see lotus<sup>4</sup>) Padma-mkhah-Ngro Tibetan
 the Tibetan name for Padmdakini
Padma-Nabha (see Brahma.Vishnu)
Padma-pani (see Padmapani)
Padma-Pitha Hindu
 a deity seated on a lotus Padma-Purana Hindu [Book of the Golden Lotus] an epic, in some 50,000 couplets, which describes the creation Padmdakini Buddhist [=Tibetan Padma-mkhah-Ngro]
 a female deity of the air Padmaheruka Buddhist
 one of the 5 Herukabuddhas

Padmanarteshvara Buddhist
 a form of Avalokiteshvara with 2, 8 or 10 arms Padmantaka Buddhist
 a guardian god
 one of the Dikpalas
 He is the guardian of the western region of the world.
Padmapani Buddhist
 ['lotus-born'.Padma-pani:=Chinese Kuan Yin.=Japanese Kwannon]
 a bodhisattva
 a form of Avalokiteshvara in Tibet
 Padmapani can appear in various forms – animal or insect, man or woman – including that of the flying horse Valahaka.
 This deity is depicted as three-eyed, sometimes with eleven heads.
 (see also Avalokiteshvara)
Padmasambhava<sup>1</sup> Hindu
 a destroyer of demons appearing as a tiger-god
Padmasambhava<sup>2</sup> Hindu
 [=Tibetan Lopon.Rinpochhe.sLob-dpon] an 8th c Indian seer son of Amitabha
 He was said to have appeared in a lotus flower at the age of eight and was forced to spend his life in penitence for killing a minister of the royal palace where he was raised.
 He took Buddhism to Tibet and, having converted that country, changed into a horse and converted other races. He was said to have lived for a thousand years.
Padmatara Buddhist
 an aspect of Tara, 'lotus'
Padmavati Hindu
 a name for Lakshmi as 'owner of the lotus' Padmosnisa Buddhist
 a guardian god of the west
Padraic (see Patrick<sup>1</sup>)
Padraig (see Patrick<sup>1</sup>)
Padriya Canaanite
 one of the wives of Baal
Padstow British
 the Cornish town said by some to be the place where King Arthur was born Padvaxtag Persian
 a Manichaean deity
 He and Xrostag are a pair involved in the ritual of prayer and the answer to that prayer.
Paeon (see Paeon.Paiawon)
Paeon (see Paeon)
Paeivae (see Paiva)

- Paeon<sup>1</sup> Greek
[P(a)ean.Paeon.Paion]
a title of such gods as Asclepius and Apollo who had associations with medicine
- Paeon<sup>2</sup> Greek [Paeon.Paeon.Paion]
son of Endymion and Calyce brother of Aetolus and Epeus
- Paeon<sup>3</sup> Greek
in some accounts, son of Poseidon by Helle (see also Edonus)
- pac'wa (see li'oa)
pagab South American magic seeds, in the lore of the Tupari
These yellow seeds are said to have the power, when used by a shaman, to kill his enemies.
- Pagas Hindu
[=Greek Pegasus]
a horse of the Aswins
- Page Abe South American
[Sun Father]
creator-god and sun-god of the Tukano Indians brother of Nyami Abe father of Abe Mango
He and his brother ruled alternately, one by night, one by day, each shining as brightly as the other. When Nyami Abe tried to rape his brother's wife, Page Abe gave him a good thrashing that so reduced his power that, thereafter, he could shine only weakly as the moon.
- Pagimon (see Paymon) Paginet British
a Knight of the Round Table, some say
- pagoda Buddhist
a temple or shrine for relics (see also stupa)
- Pagoda Bearer (see Li Ch'ing) pagoda-tree Indian a fabulous coin-producing tree
- Paguk North American
a moving skeleton, in the lore of the Algonquian and Ojibwa tribes
This apparition, said to be the skeleton of a hunter who starved to death, is said to move through the woodlands at fantastic speed with much bone-rattling. Its presence portends the death of a friend.
- Pah North American ['father'] a moon-god of the Pawnees consort of Sakuru
father of Closed Man
- Paha Finnish
an evil spirit
- Pahe-Wathahuni North American
a cannibal hill
This hill could open its mouth to form a cavern and any hunters who ventured in were swallowed up. Rabbit disguised himself as a man and entered the cavern with a band of hunters and slew the monster by slitting its heart open. The hill then split wide open and those who had been swallowed were restored to life.
- Pahlava Persian
an ancient hero
- Pablavi Zand Persian
a commentary on the Avesta
- Pahtecatl Central American
an Aztec fertility-god
- Pahua North American
in the lore of the Pawnee, one of the 5 houses of the animal spirits, the nahurak
- Pahuanui (see Pahuanui-pitaaiterai)
Pahuanui-pitaaiterai Pacific Islands [Pahuanui]
a sea-demon of Tahiti
- Pahuk North American
in the lore of the Pawnee, one of the 5 houses of the animal spirits, the nahurak
- pai de santo South American [female=mae de santo:=Yoruba babalorisha] a priest of the African immigrants in Brazil
- Pai Hao Chinese
2 white cranes, messengers of the gods
- Pai-ho T'ung-tzu (see White Crane Youth)
- Pai Hu Chinese
[Bach-ho.White Tiger]
a guardian of the west
In some accounts, one of the Four Auspicious Animals in place of the unicorn, ch'i-lin
- Pai Hutanga New Zealand
the first wife of Uenuku
- Pai Lao-yeh (see Po Lao-yeh) Pai Lung Chinese
one of the Four Dragon Kings
This being is said to have been born as a lump of flesh to a maiden given shelter by an old man when she was caught in a storm. In disgust, she threw the lump into the sea where it became a white dragon, the cause of famine. The girl died from shock.
- pai-ma Chinese a white horse with a single horn (see also po<sup>2</sup>)
- Pai Yang Chinese
[Heang Ho:=Arab Al Kabah al Alif]
a later name for the constellation Aries as 'the white sheep'
- pairehe New Zealand
fairies in the lore of the Maori
- Paiawon Greek [Paeon]
a war-god
- paigoels Hindu
demons
These beings are said to have been angels who were expelled from heaven when they sinned.
- Paikca Pacific Islands
god of sea-creatures offspring of Rangī and Papa
- Paimon
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
He is said to be able to grant any wish a magician may make and to teach science and the arts. He is depicted as a crowned ruler riding a camel. (see also Paymon)
- Painal Central American
an Aztec war-god
- Paion (see Paeon)
pair (see paladin)
Pair Drynog British
a cauldron owned by Drynog
This vessel, said to boil meat only for the brave, was one of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin. In some accounts, it is the same as the cauldron of Diwrnach.
- Pairekse Siberian son of the god of heaven
He makes entries in the book of fate as instructed by the gods and sometimes visits the earth in the form of a goose to report what is happening.
- Pairika Persian [Parik(a)]
a supernatural enchantress
These evil beings were the female counterparts of the Yatis. (see also peri)
- Pais Padarn British
a coat owned by Padarn Redcoat
This garment, which could make the wearer invisible and which would fit only a nobleman, became one of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin.
- Paisachas (see Pishashas)
Paisunya Hindu
an evil spirit
This being was opposed to the Matrika, Chaumunda.

Paititi South American

a fabulous land of gold
The Guarani say that this realm, ruled by El Gran Moxo, was set in the lake Cuni-Cuni where it was guarded by a strange animal known as Teyu-Yagua.

Paiva Baltic

[Paeivae]
a Finnish sun-god
The rays of the sun formed roads between heaven and earth along which the gods could travel.

Paiyatamu (see Paiyatemu)Paiyatemu North American

[Paiyatamu.Paiyatuma.sun youth: =Hopi T'aiowa]
a flute-playing spirit of the Zuni son of Sun Father and Underground Mother

In some accounts, Paiyatemu refers to a group of spirits rather than to just one.

Paiyatuma (see Paiyatemu)Pajainen Baltic

a Finnish god
He killed a huge bull or pig.

Pajan Yan Cambodian

a goddess
It is said that this healing goddess was banished to the moon to prevent her from restoring all the dead. Her face is now seen in the moon instead of the more usual hare or man-in-the-moon.

pajanvak'i Baltic

Finnish spirits associated with metals

pajé South American

a Xingu shaman

Pajonn Baltic

a Lappish thunder-god

Pak Tai Chinese

[Hsüan T'ien Shang Ti:=Taiwanese Shang-ti Yeh]
a Taoist war-god

He was regarded as a mortal general who was deified to lead the celestial armies. He threw the demon snake and tortoise into a deep cleft and became ruler of the dark heaven. He is expected to return to earth in times of great trouble.

Paka'a Pacific Islands

wind-god of Hawaii

He is credited with the invention of the sail.

Pakasa Uru Pacific Islands

a wallaby

This animal is featured in stories of New Britain and is usually outwitted by the dog, Tulagola.

Pakhet Egyptian

a god of the hunt

pako South American

a magician of the tribes of Bolivia

Pakoc Central American

a Mayan war-god

Pakrokitat North American

a creator-god of the Serrano people brother of Kukitat

He was so upset by the actions of Kukitat, who had been born from his left shoulder, that he left this world and returned to the afterworld.

Pal-Rai-Yuk North American

a water-monster of the Inuit

Palace Adventurous

(see Palace of Light)

Palace Goddess Greek

an aspect of the Great Goddess concerned with intuition

Palace of Cool Breezes

(see Itzeecayan)

Palace of Flowers

(see Xochitlicacan)

Palace of Great Cold Chinese

the home of the moon-goddess, Heng O

Palace of Light British

[Castle of Light.Palace Adventurous] a palace within the Castle of Carbonek where the Holy Grail was kept

Palace of the Boyne Irish

[Brugh.Brug na Boinne.Bruigh na Boinne]
the fortress home of Nechtan and, later, of Angus Og

Palace of the Lonely Park Chinese

the home of the sun-god, I

Palace of the West (see Tamoanchan)paladin

[pair.peer]
one of the 12 personal companions of Charlemagne: a knight-errant

The list varied from time to time but some of the most famous were

Astolpho, the English duke
Aymon
Baldwin, son of Gano
Fierabras
Florismart
Gano, the traitor
Guido the Wild
Malagigi, the sorcerer
Namo, duke of Bavaria
Ogier the Dane
Oliver, friend of Roland
Rinaldo
Roland (Orlando)
Saloman from Brittany
Turpin, the archbishop

Others sometimes included in the list are Amulion, Anseis, Engelig, Gerard, Gerin, Gerier, Inon, Ivory, Otonne and Samson.

Palaemon<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Palaimon]
son of Hephaestus
one of the Argonauts

Palaemon<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Palaimon]
a name for Heracles in his youth

Palaemon<sup>3</sup> Greek

the name for Melicertes when he became a sea-god

Palaimon (see Palaemon)Palamedes<sup>1</sup> British

[Palomedes.Palomides.Palomides] a Saracen knight
son of Esclabor

He arrived in Ireland at the time when Tristram was recovering from his wounds after being nursed by Isolde. He wanted to claim her as a bride but Tristram defeated him in a duel and he sailed for home.

In another version, he was a guest at Mark's wedding to Isolde and so pleased the king that Mark offered him anything he could ask for. He demanded Isolde and would have taken her back to Syria but Tristram intervened and returned her to Mark. Palamedes was heartbroken and sailed off.

Yet another account says that he and Tristram fought another duel. Palamedes surrendered and made friends with Tristram, embraced Christianity, became a loyal follower of King Arthur and was made duke of Provence.

He was one of those who hunted the Questing Beast without success.

Palamedes<sup>2</sup> European

[Palomedes.Palomides]
brother of Achilles of Lombardy and Sforza

He was a soldier in Godfrey's army at the siege of Jerusalem.

Palamedes<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Palomedes.Palomides]
son of Nauplius and Clymene or Hesione

brother of Nausimedon and Oeax
He accompanied Agamemnon and Menelaus when they tried to persuade Odysseus to join the invasion of Troy and, when Odysseus feigned madness by ploughing salt into the earth, Palamedes placed the baby Telemachus in front of the plough. Odysseus avoided the child, revealing that he was quite sane.

During the Trojan war, Odysseus exacted revenge by bribing a servant to plant money and a letter, said to be from Priam. As a result, Palamedes was accused of treachery and stoned to death.

In another account, he was drowned by Odysseus and Diomedes during a fishing trip or buried by them under stones when he climbed down a well in search of gold which, they told him, was hidden there.

He is said to have invented dice, lighthouses, scales and some of the alphabet.

Palamon Greek
a prince of Thebes cousin of Arcite
husband of Emily

He and Arcite, both captives of Theseus, fell in love with his daughter or sister-in-law, Emily. They fought for her hand and Arcite won. On his way to claim his bride, Arcite was thrown from his horse and was killed. Emily later married Palamon.

Palan Bah Malay
[Island of Fruit]
the home of the dead

Palaniyantavan Indian
a Tamil god, a form of Seyon

Palanta (see Palatia)
Palante British

cousin of Tristram
After the death of his cousin, Palante invaded Cornwall and was killed there by Palamedes.

Palanto (see Palatia)
Palasara Pacific Islands

husband of Durgandini father of Abiasa

Palatia Roman [Palanta.Pala(n)to] a female deity of the north pole

Palatium Roman
a sacred hill
One of the seven hills of Rome, the Palatine.

Palato (see Palatia)
Palaty African

a monster of the Bantu
Pale Fox African

a culture-hero of the Dogon
He became an outcast for stealing seeds from Amma. Marks in the earth, said to be his paw-prints, are used in divination.

Pales Roman
a god or goddess of cattle, flocks, and shepherds

Palesmurt Russian
an evil forest-spirit
This being, said to frighten

travellers, is envisaged as half-man, split vertically.

Palici Greek
twin gods of Sicily
sons of Hephaestus by Etna or of Zeus by Thalia

In the story of their parentage by Zeus, the pregnant nymph Thalia asked to be buried to escape the wrath of Hera. The twins were born underground and made their way to the surface through some pools. Those who protest their innocence at these pools are killed if they are guilty or allowed to live if innocent.

Palilia Roman [Parilia]
a festival in honour of Pales held on April 21st

Palinure (see Palinurus)
Palinurus Greek

[Palinure]
a steersman of the ship that carried Aeneas and his men after the fall of Troy

He fell overboard after falling asleep and was killed by the natives when he swam ashore.

Paliuli Pacific Islands
the Hawaiian paradise

Palk Korean
an ancient sun-god

Palladion (see Palladium)
Palladium Greek [Palladion:plur=Palladia]
a wooden statue of Pallas Athene

This image was said to have fallen from the sky and was enshrined at Troy as guardian of the city. It was said that the city would never be conquered while the statue remained at Troy and so the Greeks Odysseus and Diomedes made a night-raid into the city and stole it during the siege of Troy. Some say that this was one of many copies to be found in the city.

In some accounts, Diomedes gave this copy to Aeneas who took it with him to Italy although this could have been the original saved by Aeneas when Troy fell to the Greeks.. Others say it was Numa Pompilius who brought the Palladium to Italy.

Some say that the original Palladium was made from the shoulder-bone of Pelops.

Pallantids Greek
descendants of Pallas

Pallas<sup>1</sup> Greek
daughter of Triton Triton reared Athena as a companion for Pallas.

It was said that, having accidentally killed Pallas, Athena had the Palladium made in her memory.

(see also Pallas<sup>4,5</sup>)

Pallas<sup>2</sup> Greek
a Titan

son of Crius and Eurybia brother of Astraeus and Perses husband of Styx
father of Bia, Cratos, Nike and Zelos

Pallas<sup>3</sup> Greek
son of Evander

In some accounts, he was the son of Heracles and Lavinia.

He was killed by Turnus when fighting with the Trojans under Aeneas in Italy against the Latins and Rutulians.

Pallas<sup>4</sup> Greek [Palleneos]

one of the Earthborn Giants
son of Uranus and Gaea

He was killed in the war between the gods and the giants by Athena who flayed him and used his skin as cover for her breastplate. Thereafter, she used his name as Pallas Athene.

Another version says that Pallas was Athena's father and she killed him when he tried to rape her.
(see also Pallas<sup>1,5</sup>)

Pallas<sup>5</sup> Greek
a name of Athena adopted either in memory of the girl Pallas whom she had killed or of the giant Pallas (her father) she killed (see also Pallas<sup>1,4</sup>)

Pallas<sup>6</sup> Greek
son of Pandion

half-brother of Aegeus, Lyceus and Nicus

He was the father of fifty sons, all of whom were killed by Theseus.

Pallas Athene (see Pallas<sup>5</sup>)
Palleneos (see Pallas<sup>4</sup>)

Pallian Australian
a creator-god of the Aborigines

He and his brother, Pundjel, created beings from bark and clay but, when they proved to be evil, they cut them into pieces. The ancestors of the tribes sprang from these pieces.

Pallor Greek
the god of terror

palmistry (see cheirognomy)
Palomedes (see Palamedes)

Palomides (see Palamedes)
Palomir British

a knight
He was one of the 100 knights fighting for Lisuarte against 100 knights of the Irish king, Cildadan.

Palomydes (see Palamedes<sup>1</sup>)

Palongahoya North American

[Balongahoya.Palungahoya]

a culture-hero of the Hopi

son of the sun-god

twin brother of Poquanghoya

He was one of two warriors (the other was Poquanghoya) created by Kokyangwuti to protect human beings from demons.

In another version he was a war-god.

They are equivalent to the Zuni Ahayuta Achi twins.

Paltar (see Balder)

Paluc's Cat (see Palug's Cat)

Paluelap Pacific Islands

a deity of the Caroline Islands

husband of Leofas

father of Rongelap and Rongerik

Palug's Cat Welsh

[Cath Palug.Paluc's Cat.=French

C(h)apalu]

a huge feline

offspring of Hen Wen, some say

In some accounts, this beast was thrown into the sea by Coll ap Collfrewr, the swineherd in charge of Hen Wen, but was rescued and reared by the sons of Palug on the island of Anglesey. It was said to have eaten some 180 soldiers and was eventually killed by Kay.

Other versions say it was Capalu, killed by King Arthur in the French Alps; others that the beast killed the king when they fought in a swamp and afterwards came to Britain where it took over the throne.

Palulukon North American

[=Aztec Quetzalcoat:=Zuni Koloowise]

a fertility-god

the plumed serpent of the Hopi

Palungahoya (see Palongahoya)

Pamba African

a creator-god of the Ovambo

Pamersiel

a demon

Pamiel

a demon

Pamlart British

a descendant of Ban

One version of the death of Mark relates that he sacked Camelot and died there at the hand of Pamlart.

Pamola North American

an evil spirit of darkness

in the lore of the Algonquians

She was one of the evil spirits killed by Gluskap.

pampahilep East Indian

Dayak tree-spirits

These beings can take the form of mortals and marry human partners.

Pamphagus Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis discovered the hunter, Actaeon, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Pamphagus, tore him to pieces.

Pamphyle Greek

daughter of Apollo

Pamphylus Greek

son of Aegimius

brother of Dymas

He is regarded as the founder of one of the Dorian tribes.

Pamuri-mahse South American

['divine helper']

a demi-god of the Tukano Indians

He helped Page Abe to create the earth and its animals.

Pan<sup>1</sup> African

son of Asia

Pan<sup>2</sup> Greek

['all'.Capricorn.Feeder.Goat-god.

Goat-Pan.Herdsmen.Nomius.

Pasturer.Shepherd God:plur=panes:

=Roman Consentes.Faunus.Lupercus.

Silvan]

god of flocks, shepherds, woods

half-brother of Daphnis

father of lambe and lynx by Echo

and of Crotus by Eupheme father of Priapus by Aphrodite and of Acis by Symaethis, in some accounts

He was part man, part goat, with horns, hoofs and tail.

His parentage is not at all certain; according to who is telling the story he may be the son of Cronus by Rhea, Zeus by Hybris, or Hermes by Calypso, Dryope, Oeneis or Penelope and either the father or brother of Silenus. It is even suggested that he was the son of Hermes by Penelope, the wife of Odysseus.

It is said that when he pursued the nymph Syrinx, she was turned into a clump of reeds by Gaea. From seven of these reeds, Pan fashioned the reed-pipe, with which he is traditionally depicted. He seduced a number of nymphs and goddesses including Echo, Eupheme and Selene. He gave Artemis three hunting dogs and seven hounds and helped Hermes restore the sinews of Zeus cut out by the monster Typhon. He was the only god to die.

He is also depicted with a crook. (see also Evander<sup>1</sup>)

Pan<sup>3</sup> Greek

a deity, the gentle summer breeze personified

He fell in love with the pine-tree nymph Pitip. Boreas became jealous and threw Pitip to her death from a cliff and she turned into a pine tree.

Pan Chhan Rin-po Chhe Tibetan

the first Tashi Lama, deified as an incarnation of Amitabha

P'an Chin-lien Chinese a goddess of prostitutes

wife of Wu Ta-lang

She fell in love with Hsi-men Ch'ing after the death of Wu Ta-lang and was decapitated by her late husband's brother, Wu Sang, when he caught the lovers together. She was immortalised after her death.

Pan-Ephialtes

[Prince of Incubi]

a demon causing nightmares

Pan Hu Chinese

a celestial dog

In the lore of the Yao people, a worm born from the ear of a woman at the royal court grew into the dog, Pan Hu. When the dog saved the country from invading forces, the king gave Pan Hu his daughter as his wife. They produced six sons and six daughters who became the ancestors of the Yao.

Pan-ko (see Pan-ku)

Pan-ku Chinese

[Pan-ko]

the primaeval being of the Confucians father of Yüan-shih

The primordial Great Monad separated to form the Yin and Yang. They both split to form four lesser beings which produced Pan-ku. Alternatively, he was hatched from an egg and pushed the two halves of the shell apart to form earth and sky. In some accounts he modelled the first humans from clay or, alternatively, men developed from the fleas on his body after he died. It is said that it took him 18,000 years, during which he grew bigger every day, to achieve the final position and he died from the effort. His left eye became the sun, his right eye the moon and his beard became the stars. Some say that he had a snake-like body with the head of a dragon.

He is depicted working with a hammer and chisel to make the universe from blocks of granite floating in space, assisted by his companions, a dragon, phoenix, tortoise and unicorn.

In some versions of the creation story, Pan-ku was assisted by the woman Kua.

P'an Kuan Chinese

the registrar of hell
He later received promotion and his post as registrar was taken by Chung K'uei.

P'an Shen Chinese

son of Tou-shen
brother of Chen Shen, Ma Shen
and Sha Shen

He helps his mother to deal with those suffering from small-pox.

P'an-t'ao Chinese

[Fan-t'ao.Shen-t'ao]
a fabulous tree

This tree was a form of peach and was said to blossom once in 3,000 years and to bear fruit only after a further period of the same length. It grew in San Hsien Shan, the Fortunate Islands.

Pan-t'o-chia Chinese

[Pan-t'o-ka]
the Chinese version of Panthaka

Pan-t'o-ka (see Pan-t'o-chia)

Panacea Greek

[Panacea]
a goddess of health
daughter of Asclepius

Panacea (see Panacea)

Panaha Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer
He owned a pair of magic shoes which could transport him rapidly to wherever he wished to go.

Panalcarp

an evil demon
This being is depicted as a two-headed crocodile.

Panan Indian

[Paraiyan.Pariah]
devil-dancers

These people are said to be able to drive out devils by their dancing and drumming.

Panangsang East Indian

a Javanese prince
He sent four of his retainers to kill the sultan, Jaka Tingkir, but this ruler was under divine protection and survived. In a later battle with the sultan, Panangsang was killed and the sultan took over his lands.

Panao Afghan

a Kafir creator-god

Panathenaia Greek

[Panathenaia]
an annual festival in honour of Athene, founded in 566 BC and held in July/August

Panathenaia (see Panathenaia)

Pancabrahma Hindu

[Isana(dayas)]
5 aspects of Shiva

These are listed as Aghora, Isana (dayas), Sadyojata, Tatpurusha and Vamadeva.

Pancamukha Buddhist

a god
He is depicted with five heads and sixteen hands.

Pancanana Hindu

a form of Shiva
He is depicted as a naked demon with five faces, each with three eyes and wearing snakes as a necklace.

Pancaraksa (see Pancharaksha)

Pancatantra (see Panchatantra)

Pancer European

a beaver in Reynard the Fox
He accused Reynard of attempting to murder Coart, the hare.

Pancha-Tathagata East Indian

5 kings of Java
These rulers were regarded as the incarnation of the five Dhyani-buddhas and ruled in the 11th and 12th centuries. They were noted for their wisdom and courage, manifestations of the Fivefold Buddha. Their names are given as Jayanagara, Jayawardhana, Kartanagara, Rajasanagara and Rajasawardhara.

(see also Dhyani-buddhas)

Panchajana<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a sea-demon
He angered Krishna by abducting the son of Sandipani and the god dived to the bottom of the ocean and killed the demon. Krishna took the conch-shell in which Panchajana had lived and used it thereafter as a trumpet with which he killed evil-doers.

Panchajana<sup>2</sup> Hindu

the divine conch-shell trumpet of Krishna

This was formerly the home of the sea-demon of the same name who was killed by Krishna.

Panchala Hindu

the realm of King Drupada

Panchali (see Draupadi)

Panchamaharaja

(see Mahapancharaja)

Panchamukhi-Maruti Hindu

a name for Shiva in the west of India

Pancharaksha Buddhist

[Pancaraksa]
any one of the 5 goddesses of magic
These protective deities are listed as Mahamantranusarini, Mahamayuri, Mahapratisara, Mahasaharapramandini and Mahasitavati.

Panchatantra Hindu

[Pancatantra:=Arab Kalilah wa Dinmah =English Tables of Bidpai:=French Fables de Pilpay:=Persian Anwar-u-Suhaili]

a collection of fabulous stories

Panchayudha Hindu

a name for Vishnu as owner of 5 weapons

Panchen Lama Tibetan

[Tashi Lama]
the second senior leader of Tibetan Buddhists

He is regarded as an incarnation of Amitabha.

Panchika Buddhist

husband of Abhirata
father of Priyamkara

He was said to have fathered over 500 children.

Panchita Buddhist

a tutelary goddess of wealth
She is the commander of a host of yakshas and is depicted with a pike (weapon) and a purse.

Pandara Buddhist

a mother-goddess
a sakti of Amitabha

Pandaravasini Hindu

the Sanskrit version of White Tara

Pandareos (see Pandareus)

Pandareus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Pandareos]
king of Miletus
son of Merops and Clymene husband of Hermothoe

father of Aedon, Clothra and Merope
He stole Rhea's golden mastiff made by Hephaestus and refused to give it back, giving it to Tantalus for safe-keeping.

Zeus killed him and his wife and his daughters were carried off by the Harpies and sold to the Furies.

Pandareus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Pandareos]
son of Hermes by Merope

In some accounts, he is the same as Pandareus, king of Miletus.

Pandareus<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Pandareos]
a dog which stood guard over the infant Zeus in the Dictian Cave

Pandarus Greek

a Trojan prince
son of Lycaon
He acted as a messenger between Troilus and Cressida.

At the siege of Troy he shot and wounded Menelaus during a period of truce, resulting in the battle being resumed. He also wounded Diomedes who killed him.

Pandavas Hindu

[Pandus:=East Indies Pandawas.Pandawas]
the 5 sons of Pandu

Pandu had two wives, Kintu and Madri, but refused to father children because of a curse which said that he would die if he tried. His five sons were fathered by the gods – Arjuna by Indra, Bhima by Vayu, Yudhishthira by Dharma (all children of Kunti) and Nakula and Sahadeva fathered by the Aswins on Madri.

They were sent to the court of their uncle, Dhartarashtra, where they came into conflict with his one hundred sons, the Kauravas, and their subsequent battles form the subject matter of the Mahabharata. After the battle, in which all the Karauvas were killed, the brothers went to Indra's heaven on Mount Meru.

Pandawas East Indian

[Pandawas]
the Javanese version of the Pandavas

pandé Pacific Islands

blacksmiths in Bali

These men, makers of the kris, are said to have magic powers and are regarded as holy men.

Pandemos Greek

a name for Aphrodite as goddess of sensuality

Pandion<sup>1</sup> Greek

a king of Athens
son of Erichthonius and Praxitea husband of Zeuxippe father of twins Butes and Erectheus father of Procne and Philomena

Pandion<sup>2</sup> Greek

a king of Athens
son of Cecrops and Metiadusa husband of Pylia
father of Aegeus, Lycus, Nisus
and Pallas

He was expelled from Athens by the sons of Metion, his uncle, and went to Megara where he married Pylia, the daughter of the king, Pylas. He became king of Megara when Pylas was exiled for the murder of his uncle, Bias.

Pandion<sup>3</sup> Greek

son of Phineus and Cleopatra brother of Plexippus

His father took another wife, Idaeus, and put Cleopatra and her sons in prison. They were freed by Calais and Zetes who killed Phineus and put the brothers on the throne of Salmidessus. Pandion and his brother handed over the kingdom to their mother and joined the Argonauts.

Pandora<sup>1</sup> Greek

['all gifts']
daughter of Erectheus and Praxithea
sister of Otionia

When Athens was invaded by Eumolpus, her father was told that he must sacrifice Otionia, one of his daughters. Pandora and another sister, Protongia, sacrificed themselves as well.

Pandora<sup>2</sup> Greek

['all gifts']
the first woman
wife of Epimetheus
mother of Pyrrha

She was created from clay by Zeus or Hephaestus as a gift for Epimetheus who rejected her at first but married her in haste when his brother Prometheus was punished by Zeus. It was she who opened the box, given to her by the gods as a wedding gift, that contained all the ills that have since afflicted mankind. Another version says that these were items that Prometheus had left over from the creation of man and stored in a jar which Pandora foolishly opened.

In some accounts, she was the mother of Deucalion and Pyrrha by Prometheus or Epimetheus.

Pandora's box Greek

a box containing all human troubles, This box was given to Pandora as a gift when she married Epimetheus. Against instructions, she opened it and out flew all the ills that have since afflicted mankind. The last to come out of the box was Hope. In some versions a vase or jug, containing all the items left over when Prometheus created human beings, was found by Pandora who could not resist looking inside.

Pandorus Greek

son of Erectheus and Praxithea brother of Metion
He and his brother drove Cecrops from Athens when Xuthus chose him as successor to Erectheus.

Pandowas (see Pandawas)

Pandragon (see Pendragon)

Pandragus British

he was said to have fathered twins on Liban

Pandrasos (see Pandrasus)

Pandrasus Greek

[Pandrasos]
king of Greece

When Brutus was exiled from Rome for the accidental killing of his father, he led a revolt of the Trojan captives held as slaves by Pandrasus and captured the king. Pandrasus was released only when he gave his daughter Imogen to Brutus as wife and freed the slaves who then sailed off with Brutus, in 300 ships, allegedly to settle in Britain.

Pandrosos (see Pandrosus)

Pandrosos Greek

[Pandrosos] daughter of Cecrops
sister of Aglaurus and Herse

She and her sisters were entrusted with the care of the infant Erichthonius.

In one story, they were so shocked when they saw the infant that they threw themselves to their death from the Acropolis.

pandu<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a good spirit

Pandu<sup>2</sup> Hindu

['pale'] husband of Kunti and Madri father of the 5 Pandavas half-brother of Dhartarastra

His father was said to be Vyasa, a very ugly man, who did his duty to give children to the widows of the two sons of his half-brother, Santanu, who had died childless. Because one of the widows closed her eyes and the other went very pale when Vyasa slept with them, their sons, Dhartarastra and Pandu, were born respectively blind and light-skinned.

Although he had two wives, he had no children of his own because he had accidentally killed a sage who had cursed him with his dying breath, proclaiming that Pandu would die if he ever slept with either of his wives.

Pandu took the throne but abdicated in favour of his half-brother and became a hermit.

Kunti bore three sons, after praying to the gods, and then handed this gift to Madri who was able to produce two more. These five sons, the Pandavas, were in conflict with their cousins, the Kauravas.

Pandu finally yielded to his desires and made love to Madri but the sage's curse took effect and he died at that moment.

Pandurganga (see Vitthali)

- Paneros (see Pandavas)
- Panemerios (see Q're)
- Paneros Greek
a stone said to have the power to make barren women fertile
- Panes<sup>1</sup> Greek
the plural form of Pan
- In some accounts, there are a number of gods such as Pan.
- Panes<sup>2</sup> North American
a festival at which the Acagchemem tribe of California sacrifice a buzzard
- Paneu Afghan [Paradik.Purron]
a group of 7 gods of the hunt
- Pang Yü Chinese
a city god
He was originally a 7th c provincial governor.
- Pangu Pacific Islands
[=Chinese Pan-ku]
a creator-god in Melanesia
- Pani<sup>1</sup> Hindu [Vala]
a member of a race of dwarfs, drought demons
These beings are said to live in a part of the Otherworld and are well known as thieves. When they stole some of Indra's cattle, he made the dog Sharama to recover them but she betrayed him. Indra then went himself, killed the dwarfs and recovered his cattle.
In some accounts, Panis are described as asuras.
- Pani<sup>2</sup> New Zealand
a Maori goddess wife of Rongo-maui
When Hina upset Ta'aroa with the noise she made when beating tapa, he ordered her to stop. When she refused, Pani grabbed her mallet and struck her on the head with it, whereupon she flew off to the moon.
- Panion Greek
an annual festival in honour of Poseidon
- Panisc Greek
[Panisk]
an attendant on Pan: an inferior god
- Panisk (see Panisc)
- Panji East Indian [Chekel Waneng Pati]
a Javanese prince
husband of Chandra Kirana
He was allowed to marry his beloved Chandra Kirana only after proving himself by killing many giants and demons.
He and Chandra are regarded as incarnations of Siwa and Dewi Shri.
- Panna Buddhist
the Pali version of the Sanskrit Prajna
- Pannenoisance British
in some accounts, the capital city of King Arthur's realm
- Pannychis Greek
a goddess, attendant on Aphrodite
- Panoi Pacific Islands
the underworld (or the entrance to it) in the lore of the Banks Islanders
- Panomphaean Greek
a description of Zeus as 'all-oracular'
- Panope Greek
a nymph, one of the Nereids
- Panopeus Greek
son of Phocus and Antiopoe, some say father of Aegle and Epeius
- Panoptes (see Argus<sup>5</sup>)
- Panquetzalitzli Central American
an Aztec war-goddess
- Pansahi Mata Hindu
a mother-goddess
one of the saptamataras
- Pant German
a king of Gennewis
husband of Clarine
In a German version of the Lancelot stories, he and Clarine were the parents of Lancelot.
- pantacle
a device which emits fluids used in magic rites
- pantarbe Greek
a magical stone
- Pantagruel European
last of the giants
king of Dipsodes
son of Gargantua and Badebec
This giant was said to know everything.
- Pantecatle Central American
an Aztec deity
an aspect of Tezcatlipoca
- Pantha the Elder (see Panthaka)
- Pantha the Younger (see Chota Panthaka)
- Panthaka Buddhist [Pantha the Elder:=Chinese Pan-t'o-chia:=Tibetan Lam-bstan]
one of the Eighteen Lohan
brother of Chota Panthaka
He had supernatural powers that allowed him to become smaller and smaller until he completely disappeared. He could also cause fire and water to appear and could pass through solid materials.
He is depicted seated with his arms folded and reading a scroll.
- pantheon<sup>1</sup>
a complete mythology: gods collectively:
a temple dedicated to all gods
- Pantheon<sup>2</sup> Greek
a monster in the form of a star-spangled hind
- panther<sup>1</sup> Greek
the animal of Dionysus
- Panther<sup>2</sup> (see Da-jo-ji)
- Panthoides Greek
a name for Pythagoras, who maintained that he had been Euphorbus, son of Panthous, in a previous incarnation
- Panthoos (see Panthous)
- Panthous Greek [Panthoos]
a priest of Apollo at Troy son of Othrys
father of Euphorbus, Hyperenor and Polydamus
He was killed at the siege of Troy.
- panyao Pacific Islands
a bao which, it is said, contains the soul of a great hero
- Panyasa-Jataka Thai
the Thai version of the Jatakas
- Pao-chih Chinese [Ch'ih Kung]
the name taken by Pi-chia-na when he became a monk
- Pao Kung Chinese
a god of magistrates
He was a 10th c mortal who was deified.
- Pao-kung Ch'an-shih Chinese
a monk
He once got lost in the mountains but came across an apparently deserted monastery where he took shelter. Soon after, monks from many places arrived and floated down into the hall of the monastery through a hole in the roof. When Pao-kung talked to the last one to arrive, the others stood up, bowed and all of them, and the monastery, disappeared.
- Pao Lao-yeh Chinese
a deity
the Imperial Censor
- Pao-p'u-tzu (see Ko Hung<sup>4</sup>)
- pao-t'a Chinese a pagoda
- Pao Yü (see Pao Yüeh)
- Pao Yüeh Chinese
[Pao Yü]
wife of the emperor Ch'ing Te mother of Yü Huang
She dreamt that she saw Lao Chun carrying a baby when she prayed for a son and woke to find herself pregnant with a son, Yü Huang.
- Paoro New Zealand
a goddess of echoes

At creation, it was she who gave women a voice.

Paort French
a shape-changing spirit in Brittany

Pap-nigin-gara Mesopotamian
a Babylonian war-god

Pap-sukal (see Papsukal)
Papa New Zealand

[Enea.Hotu-Papa.Papa Tu Anaku.
Papatuanuku.Whenua]
earth-mother of the Maori wife of Rangi
wife of Tangaroa, some say mother of Haumea, Rehua, Rongo, Ruaumoko, Tane, Tangaroa, Tawhiri
and Tu

She and Rangi were so firmly intertwined that their children could not leave the womb until Tane-mahuta forced them apart to form earth and sky.

In some stories, the gods Atea and Tangaroa argued about the paternity of Papa's first child, each claiming to be the father. Papa cut the child in half and gave half to each of them.

In Hawaii, Papa is the wife of Wakea (Atea). In some accounts, the same as Fa'ahotu. In Hervey Island, Papa is the daughter of Timatekore and Timaiti-Ngava and the wife of Atea to whom she bore Rongo, Tane, Tangaroa, Tanigila and Tongaiti.

Papa-hanau-moku Pacific Islands
earth-goddess of Hawaii wife of Wakea
mother of Ho'ohoku-ka-lania

She was the first woman and married the mortal Wakea but separated from him when he incestuously fathered children on their own daughter Ho'ohoku-ka-lani. She later remarried and had other children. In some stories, she bore a gourd which Wakea used to make the world.

Papa Pie West Indian [Oie]
a Haitian voodoo spirit derived from St Peter

He is depicted as a soldier and is said to be the cause of floods.

Papa Taoto Pacific Islands
a rock raised from the sea-bed
by Tagalao

The Samoans say that the sea-god created this rock in the primordial ocean so that his bird-child, Tuli, could have somewhere to build a nest. Tagalao later split this first rock into many pieces to form the islands of the Pacific.

Papa Tu Anaku (see Papa)

Papachtic Central American
an Aztec deity, the sun's rays personified
an aspect of Quetzacoatl

Papaeus (see Jupiter)

Papahiruhia New Zealand
a 19th c cult worshipping the serpent Nakahi

Papaja (see Papaya)

Papaloi West Indian [female=Mamaloi]
a voodoo priest

papalust British
a snake

It was said that anyone holding a bone of this snake became insensible to heat. Part of the hilt of the Sword of Strange Girdles was made from one of its ribs.

Papan Central American
a princess
sister of Montezuma

Soon after she died and was buried, she was seen in the garden of the palace by a young girl who told her mother. The queen was shaken to find Papan apparently still alive and called the emperor. It transpired that Papan had been met, on the other side, by an angelic youth who told her that she was not yet to cross the river but should return to warn the emperor about the forth coming invasion of the Spaniards.

Papare Pacific Islands
a moon-god

When Aru Aru arrived, intending to kill this god, Papare explained the details of menstruation to him and sent him back to earth with a gift for his people, the yam.

Papas (see Attis)

Papatuanuku (see Papa)

Papaya Greek [Papaja]
a Hattic fate-goddess

She and Isdustala used a mirror and spindle to determine the fate of the individual.

Papaztac Central American
[The Nerveless One]
a god of intoxication
one of the Centzon Totochtin

A sacrifice made to this god would ensure that the drinker suffered no more than a headache after getting drunk.

Paphian Greek [Cyprian]
a devotee of Aphrodite

Paphos (see Metharme)

Papillon European
a fire-breathing horse

This animal carried Ogier, who had been shipwrecked, to the palace of Morgana where he stayed for a hundred years. He then carried Ogier to Paris.

Pappas<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
a Hittite supreme god

Pappas<sup>2</sup> (see Attis)

Papposilenus (see Silenus)

Paps of Anu (see Da Chich nAnnan)

Papsukal Mesopotamian
[Pap-sukal.Papsukkal] a Babylonian messenger-god consort of Amasagnul

In some accounts he is the same as Ninshubur.

Papsukkal (see Papsukal)

Papukkal (see Ninshubur)

Papunius Irish
a fictitious king of Ireland

Papus

a demon

papyromancy
divination from paper rolling

Paqhat Canaanite
a seer

daughter of Daniela and Danatiya sister of Aqhat

She disguised herself as a man, travelled to Abelim and killed Yatpan, her brother's murderer.

paqok South American demons of the Maya

Para<sup>1</sup> Baltic [Bjara.Pukhis.Puk.=Estonian Pisuhand.
Puuk.Tulihand.=Lappish Smieragatto:
=Latvian Pukis.=Lithuanian Aitvaras.
Kaukas.Pukys.=Scandinavian Buttercat]
a Finnish spirit

This spirit, which a man can make from stolen objects, is said to supply its maker with food, drink and money. It sometimes takes the form of a cat which carries milk in its mouth or intestines. (see also Puki)

para<sup>2</sup> Hindu a period of 100 kalpas

para-brahman Hindu
the supreme absolute: ultimate reality

Para-Purusha Hindu
an evil man: all wickedness embodied in human form

Parabrahma Hindu
a spirit of the air

This being is manifest in five forms – Akasi tatwa, Apa, Prithivi, Taijas and Vayu.

parachero Central American
a Mexican sorcerer

Paradik (see Paneu)

paradise

home of the blessed dead (see also Dar el-Jannah.
Fortunate Islands.heaven)

Paradixion tree Hindu

a tree which is the home of doves which can kill the evil dragon which lives at the base of the tree

Paraebius Greek

a poor labourer
No matter how hard he worked,
Paraebius got poorer and poorer.
Phineus told him that this was due to a curse laid on him when he chopped down a tree, killing the hamadryad living in it. As the result of a sacrifice to appease the nymph's spirit, he began to prosper.

Parallel Lives Greek

a series of biographies by Plutarch
These stories dealt with Greek and Roman characters, real or mythical, in pairs.

Parama Hindu

the supreme being
This name is used for the Trimurti, the triple god, which represents the supreme being.

Paramapathanatha (see Adimurti)

Paramasva Buddhist

a form of Hayagriva
In this form the deity is depicted with four legs and standing on four other gods. (see also Paramesvar)

Paramesvar Hindu

a name for Surya as a creator (see also Paramasva)

Paramita Buddhist

[Vas(h)ita] any one of 12 philosophical goddesses

These deities are given as Bala, Dana,
Dhyana, Jnana, Kshanti, Prajna, Pranidhana, Ratna, Shila, Upaya, Vajrakarma and Virya.

In some accounts, Ayur and Pariskara are given as Paramita goddesses.

Paranirmita-Vasavarten Buddhist

the highest heaven, home of Mara

paranirvana Hindu

transition from this life to Nirvana

Paraparawa South American

a culture-hero of the tribes of Brazil
A fish he had caught turned into a woman who married Paraparawa. Her father, the crocodile, brought many vegetables and fruits to the wedding-feast and those left over were planted to produce the first cultivated crops.

He is credited with the invention of agriculture.

paras Indian

[paraspathar]
the philosopher's stone which transmutes all metals to gold

Parasara (see Parashara)

Parashara Hindu

[Parasara]
a holy man
son of Kalmashapada and Adrisyanti father of Vyasa by Satyavati

He met Satyavati who, at that time, was in the form of a fish and they produced a son, Vyasa.

parashu Hindu

the battle-axe given by Shiva to Parashurama

In some versions, Durga is depicted holding an axe.

Parashurama Hindu

[Parasu-Rama.Parasurama]
the sixth incarnation of Vishnu, as a human son of Jamad-Agni and Renuka
consort of Dharani

It is said that he was born as Rama, son of a Brahmin hermit, the rishi Jamad-Agni, and was called Parashurama when Shiva gave him a battle-axe (Parashu). His father suspected his wife, Renuka, of lustful thoughts and commanded his five sons to kill her.
Only Parashurama was willing to obey and he cut off her head with one blow of the axe given to him by Shiva.
When his father offered him a reward he asked that Renuka be restored. He killed Kartavirya, the 1,000-armed king of the Himalayas, for an attack on his father's hermitage and stealing the sacred cow, Surabhi, or its calf.
When the king's twenty-one sons made a further attack, killing his father, Jamad-Agni, Parashurama killed the whole kshatriya caste, the task for which he had been reincarnated, so that the priests could rule the earth.

At this point, Vishnu returned to the heavens leaving Parashurama to rule Malabar.

Parasol tree Chinese

[dryandra.wu-t'ung shu]
the only tree on which the phoenix will land

This tree grows twelve leaves each year but thirteen in a leap-year.

paraspathar (see paras)

Parasu-Rama (see Parashurama)

Parasurama (see Parashurama)

Paravani Hindu

the peacock ridden by Karttikeya or Skanda

Paravataksha Hindu

a Naga king
He lived under a holy tree which produced berries which conferred longevity and youth, attacking those who tried to pick the berries.

Parcae Roman

[=Greek Moirae:=Norse Norns]
the Fates, Decuma, Morta and Nona daughters of Ananke, some say

In some accounts, Parcae was originally a goddess of childbirth.

Parcher Hindu

one of the 5 arrows carried by Kama

Pare New Zealand

a high-class maiden
She fell in love with Hutu but he,
knowing that he could never marry such a noble maiden, ran away, leaving her to die of grief. Hutu then travelled to the underworld and brought her soul back to the land of the living where she married him.

Parendi Persian

[=Hindu Purandhi]
a goddess of wealth

Parentalia Roman

a festival of the dead Originally a Babylonian festival at which the dead returned and joined in the celebrations; later, the Roman festival of All Souls, at which the manes were given a meal, held on February 13th-21st.

Pari<sup>1</sup> Russian

a Tartar spirit of evil

pari<sup>2</sup> (see peri)

Pari Penganten East Indian

the combination of Tresnawati and her husband as 'the rice bride and bridegroom'

Tresnawati was turned into an ear of rice when she came to earth to marry a farmer and he became a rice-stalk so that they were united. Their wedding is a popular annual Dayak rice-harvest festival.

Paria<sup>1</sup> Greek

a nymph

Paria<sup>2</sup> West Indian

a sacred mountain in the Caribbean

Pariacaca South American

[Con.Churoquilla]
an Inca thunder-god

In some accounts, he is the same as Pariacaca.

Pariah (see Panan)

Paribanou Muslim

[Peri-Banou]

a fairy

wife of Ahmed

In The Arabian Nights, she gave Ahmed a wonderful tent and became his wife.

Paricaca South American

a Peruvian hero

husband of Choque Suso

father of Huathiacuri

When the flood waters subsided, five eggs on the high slopes of Mount Condorcoto hatched to produce new beings, one of whom was Paricaca. The other four produced falcons which turned into great warriors.

He went in search of the tyrant king Huallallo and destroyed his whole village, saving only one girl who had given him a drink. At another village he met the girl Choque Suso who was crying because the drought was killing her maize crop. He promised to get water if she would love him and enlisted the help of all the animals and birds to irrigate the land and bring water to the parched crops. He married Choque Suso and later turned her into stone so that she could always remain in the place she loved.

In some accounts he is the same as Pariacaca.

Parijata Hindu

[The Tree of Knowledge]

the tree of paradise

This tree was made of coral and could produce any object asked of it. It was originally planted in Svarga, Indra's heaven, but was stolen by Krishna who planted it in Dvaraka to please his wife. After his death, the tree was returned to Svarga.

It was the ninth thing to emerge from the waters when the gods churned the ocean to make amrita.

(see also Parisadam)

Parik (see Pairika.peri)

Parika (see Pairika.peri)

Parikshit Hindu

a king

son of Abhimanyu and Uttara

father of Janamejaya

Ashvathaman killed Parikshit while he was still in his mother's womb and he was still-born but Krishna gave him life.

When he insulted a hermit, the snake-king Takshaka was invoked by the hermit's son. With a group of nagas in the form of monks, Takshaka choked Parikshit to death and his followers destroyed and burnt the king's fortress which he had built in a lake.

Janamejaya avenged his father's death.

Parilia (see Palilia)

Parina South American

a lake said to exist in the mythical land of Manoa

Parinirvana Buddhist

the state of one who has completed the incarnation during which he reached Nirvana

Such a being will not be born again.

Parioca South American

a creator-god of the Quecha

After the flood receded, five men hatched from eggs left on top of a mountain. Parioca was one of these beings and he travelled the countryside changing the landscape and making water-channels. When some people mistook him for a vagrant, he destroyed the whole village.

Paris<sup>1</sup> British

a king of France

He was a friend of King Arthur who helped in the quest of Culhwch for the hand of Olwen.

Paris<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Alexander.Alexandros.Alexandrus]

a prince of Troy

son of Priam and Hecuba

brother of Deiphobos and Hector

father of Corythus by Oenone

His mother, pregnant with Paris, dreamed that she would bear a torch that would burn down the city or a monster which would destroy it. The prophet, Aescus, interpreted this to mean that the boy would cause the death of his family and the loss of Troy and so his parents abandoned him on Mount Ida. He was suckled by a she-bear, sheltered by the shepherd, Agelaus, and survived to manhood when he was returned to his parents.

When he was asked to judge a beauty contest between the three goddesses Aphrodite, Athene and Hera, he awarded the prize, a golden apple, to Aphrodite because she promised him access to the most beautiful girl in the world – Helen, wife of Menelaus. He abandoned his wife, the nymph Oenone, who loved him, in the hope of winning Helen and returned to Troy where he was reunited with his parents who provided the ships for his expedition to Greece. There he was a welcome guest of Menelaus but when the king was absent, Paris abducted Helen and took her off to Troy. In the Trojan War that resulted from this abduction, he met Menelaus in single combat and would have been killed had not Aphrodite carried him back to safety in the city. His son, Corythus, came to fight at Troy and, when Helen fell in love with the youth, Paris killed him. He later shot and killed Achilles from the city walls, the arrow striking the Greek hero in the only vulnerable spot, his ankle.

Another version of the death of Achilles says that Polyxena, who was given to Achilles as a prize, persuaded the Greek hero to divulge the secret of his vulnerable heel. Polyxena then told her brother Paris, and he stabbed Achilles in the heel at the wedding of Achilles and Polyxena. After the death of Achilles, Paris was shot and wounded by Philoctetes using Heracles' bow and was carried to Oenone who was reputed to know of a drug that would save Paris but she, still angry at being deserted, just let him die.

Paris Codex Central American

[Tellerio-Remensis Codex]

a manuscript source of Mayan legend and culture

Parisadam Hindu

a tree said to grow only in heaven

(see also Parijata)

Parisishtas Hindu

sacred writings summarising the vedas

Pariskaravasisa Buddhist

a goddess

one of the Paramita goddesses

parivrajaka Hindu

a mendicant ascetic

Parjanya Hindu

[Parjanya-vata]

a rain-god

one of the Adityas

son of Dyaus

father of Soma, some say

In some accounts Parjanya is envisaged as a celestial cow. This beast is the embodiment of the rain-clouds, her milk forming the rain.

In some accounts, he was later assimilated with Indra.

Parjanya-vata (see Parjanya)

Parlan (see Fisher King)

Parmenie British

[Armenia.Armenie]

the realm of Rivalin

In other versions, this country becomes Armenia.

Parmeson (see Bhagwan<sup>1</sup>)

Parna-Savari Buddhist

[Parnasabari.Parnassavari:
=TibetanLo-ma-gyon-ma]
a goddess
an aspect of Aksobhya
one of the dharanis

She is said to destroy diseases by treading them underfoot.

In some accounts she is equated with Pishashas and Pukkasi.

She is depicted as having three heads, three eyes and six arms.

Parnada Hindu

a Brahmin

He was a counsellor to King Bhima who sent him out with a hundred others to find the missing Nala, husband of the king's daughter, Damayanti. Parnada found him, working as a charioteer to King Rituparna, and the couple were reunited.

Parnasabari *(see Parna-Savari)Parnassavari *(see Parna-Savari)Parnassus<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Poseidon

Parnassus<sup>2</sup> *(see Mount Parnassus)Parnassian Greek

pertaining to the Muses

Parne Baltic

a malevolent Finnish forest-spirit

Parpara East Indian

a deity of Kei Island
brother of Hian

He lost the fish-hook of his elder brother, Hian, who got it back when it was returned to him by a fish. When Hian spilled some palm wine, Parpara made him dig a hole to find it. He dug so deep that he made a hole in the sky. Both the brothers, together with another brother and a sister, accompanied by four dogs, descended through the hole on a rope and came down to earth where they became the progenitors of the islanders.

Parsai African

a name of En-kai as 'he who is worshipped'

Parshva Jain

[Pars(h)vanatha.Parstva]
the twenty-third Tirthankara founder of the Nirgrantha sect an incarnation of Indra or Vishnu son of King Asvasena

He upset his old grandfather, Mahipala, by interrupting his meditation but warned him not to split a log with an axe since it would kill two serpents inside. His grandfather ignored the warning and Parshva had to restore the snakes, one as Ananta the other as Lakshmi, by singing hymns. Following his grandfather's example, he became an ascetic and finally starved himself to death.

Parshvanatha *(see Parshva)Parsifal<sup>1</sup> German

[Parsival.Parzifal.Perceval.

Percival.Perseval]

a guileless youth

father of Lohengrin

In the Wagnerian story of the Holy Grail he innocently shot a swan in the grounds of the Temple of the Grail. The keeper allowed him to watch the knights at prayer and he resolved to regain the Sacred Spear which had been seized from Amfortas, the guardian of the Grail, by the evil magician Klingsor. He resisted the temptations of the maiden, Kundry, in Klingsor's garden of delights and took the spear from Klingsor, using it to banish him and all his works from the face of the earth.

After wandering for many years he finally found his way back to the Temple where he cured the wound of Amfortas by laying on the Sacred Spear and he became the guardian of the Holy Grail in place of Amfortas.

Parsifal<sup>2</sup> *(see Parzival<sup>1,2</sup>)Parsival *(see Parsifal<sup>1</sup>.Percival)parstukai *(see barstukai)Parsu Hindu

the first woman

consort of Manu

She was created, some say, from the drink that Manu offered to the gods when he survived the flood; others say that she was created from his rib.

Parstva *(see Parshva)Parshvanatha *(see Parshva)Parthalan *(see Partholan)Partholon *(see Partholan)Parthanan Irish

a harvest sprite

Parthenon Greek

the temple of Athene

Parthenopaeus Greek

son of Ares, Meleager or Melanion

by Atalanta

one of the Seven against Thebes

father of Promachus

His mother was taken up to Olympus and he was abandoned on a mountain. Artemis found him and handed him over to the Amazons who reared him.

He faced Actor at the Borraean Gate in the battle at Thebes and was killed by Periclymenus who crushed him with rocks.

Parthenope<sup>1</sup> Greek

one of the Sirens

When Odysseus and his crew failed to succumb to her charms and escaped, she drowned herself in despair.

Parthenope<sup>2</sup> Greek

daughter of Stymphalus

mother of Everes by Heracles

Parthenos Greek

a name of Artemis, Athena and Hera as 'virgin'

Partholan Irish

[Parthalan.Parthalon.Partholon.Parytholon]

leader of the second wave of invaders of Ireland

son of Sera

brother of Starn and Agnoman husband of Dealgnaid

father of Eber, Laighlinne,

Rudraidhe and Slaine

He had killed his parents in Greece, expecting to take over their kingdom. When he did not become king, he sailed for Ireland with his followers and settled there after defeating the Fomoiré at the Battle of Magh nIotha. On one occasion, while he was away from home, his wife had an affair with Togda, his servant.

In some accounts, Dealgnaid was his mother rather than his wife, and Nemed was his father or his brother.

Partholians Irish

[Partholians]

the second wave of invaders of Ireland followers of Partholan

This group of invaders was said to have come from Spain and consisted of twenty-four married couples. They overcame the Fomoiré and took over Ireland but they were afflicted by a disease which wiped out the whole race except Tuan.

Partholians *(see Partholians)Partholon *(see Partholan)Parthonopeus European

a prince

nephew of the king of France

husband of Melior

The story of Parthonopeus and Melior is that of Cupid and Psyche, with the roles reversed.

A queen, Melior, decided that she wanted to marry Parthonopeus and sent a magic ship which took him to a fabulous palace in Chief D'Oire where he was waited on by invisible hands. By night, Melior came to his bed but decreed that he must never see her until they were married. Inevitably he broke the rule and was banished.

Later, he took part in a great tournament and, as victor of the games, won the queen's hand.

Partinal British
son of Espinogee

His father had been killed by Goon Desert and Partinal killed Goon Desert with the Grail Sword which shattered. One of the objects of the Grail Quest was the repair of this sword. He was himself killed by Percival.

(see also Nascien<sup>1</sup>)

Partlet European

[Dame Partlet]

a hen in Reynard the Fox

Partula Roman

a goddess of child-birth

Parvati<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

the Hindu goddess adopted into the Buddhist pantheon as Buddha's doorkeeper

Parvati<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Adrija.Ahladini-Sadini.Aja.Amba. Ambi(ka).Anna-Purna.Bhadrakali. Bhavani.Bhutamata.Devi.Durga.Gauri. Girija.Haima(va)ti.Kali.Kamakshi. Kumari.Mahadevi.Manasa.Mangata. Mhalsa.Raudri.Sati.Shakti.Snow Queen. Tripura.Uma.Vijaya.Vindhya-Vasini: =Balinese Parvati.Prawati:=Cambodian Lady Po Nagar]

a mother-goddess

a name of Devi as 'the mountaineer'

a mild form of Durga daughter of Himavan and Mena sister of Vishnu

wife of Shiva

mother of Ganesha and Skanda

Shiva's first wife, Sati, immolated herself but was later reborn as Parvati. When Shiva deplored her dark skin, Brahma transformed her into Gauri, 'the Yellow Devi'. Some say that it was Gauri who was burned to death to become Sati. Another version says that Brahma created Gauri as a wife for Rudra.

She, or Uma, once covered Shiva's eyes, putting the world in darkness, and he then developed a third eye in his forehead.

In one story, Shiva banished her to earth as a fisher-girl and then sent Nandu in the form of a shark to destroy the fishermen's nets. The foster-father of Parvati offered her as wife to any man who could kill the shark and Shiva was able to win back his wife by appearing in the form of a young man and catching the shark.

She is sometimes depicted with four arms or with an elephant's head.

Parwati Pacific Islands

the Balinese version of Parvati
an aspect of Uma as goddess of tapas (see also Prawati)

Parytholon (see Partholan)

Parzival<sup>1</sup> German

[Parsifal]

an opera by Wagner dealing with Percival's search for the Holy Grail

Parzival<sup>2</sup> German

[Parsifal]

a 13th c poem, written by Eschenbach, dealing with

Percival's search for the Holy

Grail

Parzival<sup>3</sup> (see Percival)

pasa (see pasha)

Pasabhrit (see Pashabhrit)

Pasag Mesopotamian

a Sumerian goddess, guardian of travellers

Pasangu East Indian

an evil goblin

He turned himself into a mouse and was killed by the cat Gunduple.

Pasaphaessa Greek

[Pasiphaessa]

Aphrodite as queen of the underworld, 'the shining one'

Pascen British

son of Urien

Paschent British

son of Vortigern and Renwein

When Vortigern was killed by Aurelius, Renwein arranged for Ambron to poison Aurelius. In another version, Paschent fled to Hibernia and later invaded Cambria with an army provided by the chieftain, Gilloman, who was angry because Merlin had stolen the stones of the Giant's Ring. Paschent sent one of his men, Eopa, to penetrate the court in disguise where he found Aurelius ill and poisoned him. Uther defeated Paschent's forces, killing both him and Gilloman.

pasha Hindu

[pasa]

a noose, a symbol of Bhairava

In some versions, Durga is depicted holding a noose.

Pashabhrit Hindu

[Pasabhrit]

a name of Varuna as 'he who carries a noose' (see also Pasi)

P'ashajan'a North American

[=Pueblo Poseyemu:=Tigua Puspiyama:

=Zuni Poshaiyangkyo]

the first man in the lore of the

Keres tribe

Pasht Egyptian

the lioness-headed goddess of

Tombas

cat-headed version of Sakhmet

or Bast

Pashupata Hindu

the spear of Shiva

pashupata-yoga Hindu

a collective name for later

Shaiva doctrines

Pashupati Hindu

[Lord of Cattle.Pasupati]

an aspect of Agni, Rudra or Shiva as god of animals

consort of Svaha, some say

father of Sanmukha

Pasi Hindu

a name of Yama as 'the noose-carrier' or of Varuna as 'judge'

(see also Pashabhrit)

Pasiel

an angel, ruler of the sign Pisces

the fish

Pasikola North American

a trickster-god of the Creek Indians

Pasiphae<sup>1</sup> Greek

daughter of Helios and Crete or

Perse

sister of Circe

wife of Minos

mother of Acacallis, Androgeus,

Ariadne, Deucalion, Glaucus

and Phaedra

mother of Amphithemis by Apollo mother of Miletus by Apollo, some say

mother of Deucalion by Prometheus,

some say

She fell irrationally in love with the white bull that Poseidon sent at the behest of Minos to prove that he was the rightful heir to the throne of Crete. Daedalus fashioned a hollow wooden cow in which she concealed herself to mate with the bull. The outcome of the union was the monstrous bull-headed Minotaur. Pasiphae, together with Minos and the Minotaur retreated to the Labyrinth, a tortuous maze constructed by Daedalus to contain the monster. When Minos imprisoned Daedalus and his son Icarus in the Labyrinth, it was Pasiphae who released them to make their famous escape on wings made by Daedalus.

In some accounts, Europa was the mother of the Minotaur.

(see also Pasiphae<sup>2</sup>.Selene)

Pasiphae<sup>2</sup> Greek

a Cretan moon-goddess

She was said to be the mother of a calf which changed colour from white to red to black each day.

In some accounts, she is the same as Pasiphae, wife of Minos.

Pasiphaessa (see Pasaphaessa)

Pasitheia Greek

one of the Graces, some say wife of Hypnus, in some accounts (see also Aglaia<sup>1</sup>)

Passaleon British

son of Estonne

He was an ancestor of Merlin and, as a child, was said to have visited hell. As a man, he killed Bruyant to avenge his father.

Passalus (see Basalus)

Passamun Afghan

a Kafir rain-deity

Passe Brewell British

[Passebreul]
the horse of Tristram

Passe-javrre Baltic

in Lappish lore, the sacred sea

Passe-jokka Baltic

in Lappish lore, the sacred river

Passe-vare Baltic

in Lappish lore, the sacred mountains

Passebreul (see Passe Brewell)

Passelande British

a horse of King Arthur

Passover (see Pasch)

Pasturer (see Nomius)

Pasupata (see Pashupata)

Pasupati (see Pashupati)

Patadharini Buddhist

a guardian goddess of doorways

Patakoi Egyptian

[Pataikos]
benevolent but deformed beings, children of Ptah

Phoenician sailors carried images of these dwarfish creatures as good luck charms.

Pataikos (see Patakoi)

Patal Thai

[Patali:=Hindu Patala]
the underworld

This realm, ruled by Maiyarab, can be reached by sliding down inside the hollow stalk of the lotus.

Patala Hindu

[Put:=Thai Patal]
the underworld, a place of many pleasures

Patala has seven distinct regions, known as Atala, Mahatata, Nitala (or Patala), Rasatata, Sutata, Talatala and Vitala, each ruled by its own king. Beneath these realms are the various hells and Sesha the serpent that supports the world.

Others describe Patala as a magnificent house, home of the Asuras. (see also underworld)

Patali (see Patal)

Patan Central American

one of the lords of Xibalba

Patara<sup>1</sup> Greek

the birthplace of Apollo, some say

Patara<sup>2</sup> Hindu

the disc of the sun held by Vishnu

Patecatl Central American

an Aztec god of medicine husband of Mayahuel

In some accounts, this deity is one of the gods of intoxication, the Centzon Totochtin, and is said to have discovered peyote.

Patek Egyptian

[plur=Pateke]
a protective spirit

Pateke (see Patek)

Pater Greek

a name of Zeus as 'father'

Paternus British

[Padern]
a Welsh bishop and saint

When King Arthur tried to take the saint's cloak, the earth opened and swallowed the king and he had to plead for forgiveness before he was released.

patesi Mesopotamian

a Babylonian prince-priest

patha Buddhist

the way to Nirvana

Pathfinder (see Wepwawet)

Patinaya Nei Pacific Islands

[Queen Mother]
in the lore of the Moluccas, the first woman

She took the form of a banana tree and human beings were born from that tree.

Patisamma-cita Buddhist

['uncertain reception']

a new appearance

This is the state that follows that of Cuti-citta, the moment of death.

Patobkia South American

a Tupari spirit of the underworld

This shaman greets all souls arriving in the land of the dead, restores their sight and refreshes them with a drink of beer. He then presents them to the giants, Mpokalero and Vaugh'eh, with one or other of whom they are required to have intercourse.

Patol Central American

husband of Alaghom Naum

Patollo (see Patollus)

Patollus Baltic

[Patollo]

a Prussian god of the underworld

Patraic (see Patrick)

Patraivid German

nephew of Hagen

He was one of the party sent by Gunther and Hagen to kill Walther and Hildegunde but was himself killed by Walther.

Patrice (see Patrise)

Patrick<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Padraic.Padraig.Patraic.Succat]

(c. 391–461)

a saint

patron saint of Ireland

son of Calpurnius and Concess, some say

In his youth he was said to have restored to life his dying sister and his dead foster-father and performed many other miracles such as turning icicles into firewood.

When he came to Ireland from Britain, he spent some time as a slave of Milius. He offended the high-king, Laoghaire, and, in an argument with the king's druids, killed one of them named Lochru. Another druid, Lucat Moel, tried unsuccessfully to poison him and was burnt to death in a contest of magic with the saint.

He turned into a fox a man, Coroticus, who had imprisoned some of the saint's followers and restored to life a dead servant of the tyrant, Mac Goill.

It is said that he was accompanied by an angel named Victor and is generally supposed to have banished snakes from Ireland.

It is said that he met Cailte or Oisín who told him the history of the Fianna and other ancient lore, all of which was written down by the saint's scribe, Brogan.

Patrick<sup>2</sup> Irish

one of the 2 pillars (the other is Brigit) said to support the island

Patrick<sup>3</sup> (see Patrise)

Patrick the Red British

son of King Arthur

Patrimpas Slav

a river-god

Patripatan Hindu

a cat owned by a monk

When his rival went to heaven and returned with a flower from the parisadam tree, the monk sent his cat to repeat the trick. One of the goddesses fell in love with the cat and kept him in heaven for 300 years. He then returned to earth carrying a whole branch of the sacred tree.

Patrise British

[Patrice.Patrick]
an Irish knight
a Knight of the Round Table
cousin of Mador

At a dinner given by Guinevere for twenty-four of her knights, Pinel planted a poisoned apple intended for Gawain who had killed his cousin Lamerock. The apple was eaten by Patrise who died on the spot. Mador accused the queen of murder and she was saved from the stake only by the intervention of Lancelot who killed Mador in single combat.

Patrocles British

in Icelandic stories, a grandfather of Tristram

Patroclus Greek

[Patroklos]
son of Menoetius and Philomena or Sthelene

He inadvertently killed another youth, Clytonymus, over a dice game and was purified by Peleus. He became a close friend of Achilles and, when Achilles sulked in his tent at the siege of Troy, refusing to fight after a quarrel with Agamemnon, Patroclus put on the armour of Achilles and led a fresh attack on the city. He killed Sarpedon but was wounded by Euphorbus. He then came face to face with Hector and was killed. His death spurred Achilles back into action.

Patroklos (see Patroclus)

Patshak Siberian

Ostiak spirits
These beings are the restless spirits of children who have been killed.

Pattinidevi Hindu

a mother-goddess in Ceylon
a guardian of marriage
She was a mortal who was wrongly executed for theft and later deified.

In another account, she was born when a sacred arrow was fired into a mango.

Patulcius (see Janus)

patupaiarehe New Zealand

[=Hindu apsarases:=Japanese yosei: =Persian peris:=Turkish houris]
fairies

Pau-puk-keewis North American

a sorcerer who changed into a beaver and, later, into an eagle

Pauhtun Central American

[Pauhtuns]

a Mayan god

He was envisaged as having four aspects, each supporting one corner of the world.

In some accounts, the name Pauhtuns is regarded as that of a group of four gods. (see also Bacabs)

Pauhtuns (see Pauhtun)

Pauanne Finnish

a name of Ukko as god of thunder

Paul<sup>1</sup> Irish

a hermit

He lived alone on an island and was kept alive by fish brought to him by an otter. When Brendan and his crew called at the island, he was able to direct them to the Land of Promise.

Paul<sup>2</sup> Serbian

brother of Radool and Yelitza

Paul's wife, jealous of her husband's affection for his sister, Yelitza, stabbed his horse, killed his falcons, and finally killed their own child, blaming it all on Yelitza. Paul had Yelitza killed, pulled apart by horses, and a church arose on the spot. A disease then affected his wife and she begged to be taken to the church to be cured. Rejected by a mysterious voice, she then allowed herself to be killed in the same fashion but, where she died, a foul lake formed.

Paul Bunyan (see Bunyan)

Paul et Virginie French

a pastoral tale by Bernadin de St Pierre
This story, about a pair of lovers raised in Mauritius, is based on the classic tale of Daphnis and Chloe.

Paulomi (see Indrani)

Pauna Inuit

the spirit of the east wind

Pauravas Hindu

the descendants of Puru ancestors of the Kauravas and the Pandavas

Paut (see Ennead)

Pautiwa (see Pautiwal)

Pautiwal<sup>1</sup> North American

[Pautiwa]
a Hopi sun-spirit

Pautiwal<sup>2</sup> North American

[Pautiwa]
a Zuni lord of the underworld

Pavaka Hindu

a name for Agni as 'purifier'

Pavana Hindu

a name of Vayu as consort of Anjana

Pavanarekha Hindu

wife of Ugrasena mother of Kansa

She produced a son, Kansa, after being raped by Drumalika but her husband agreed to rear the boy as his own.

Pavor Roman

a deity, panic personified

pawang Malay

a medicine man
These sorcerers act as mediums, prophets, controllers of weather, curers of sickness and are consulted before one embarks on any new project.

(see also bomor)

Pawpaw Nan Chuang Burmese

brother of Chang-hko

In some accounts, he survived the flood as well as his sister.

Pax Roman

[=Greek Eirene]
the goddess of peace

She is depicted as a maiden with a cornucopia.

Pay Zume South American

[=West Indies Zume]
a Paraguayan sun-god

He taught his people the arts of agriculture and the chase.

pa'yak South American black beetles: supernatural spirits of the Toba Indians

Payatami North American

[Payatamu]
a harvest-god of the Hopi and Zuni tribes

He sometimes appeared in the form of a tiny flute-player or a butterfly which fertilised plants.

Payatamu (see Payatami)

Payetome South American

a culture-hero or god of ague in Brazil

Paymon

[Pagimon]
one of the Cardinal demons (west)
He may be the same as Paimon.

Paynal Central American

[Little Paynal.Paynalton]
an Aztec messenger-spirit, attendant on Huitzilopochtli

Paynalton (see Paynal)

Pazuzu Mesopotamian

an Assyrian monster son of Hanpa

This being is described as part lion, part eagle, with horns and two pairs of wings.

Pe-har (see Bihar)

Pe-kar Tibetan

a fiend
patron of sorcerers (see also Bihar)

Peace Roman

one of the 5 Appiades

Peace Frodi (see Frodi)

- Peace Queen (see Genetaska)
- Peace Stead (see Braidablik)
- peacock<sup>1</sup> Chinese a sacred bird
- peacock<sup>2</sup> Greek
the bird sacred to Hera
- peacock<sup>3</sup> Hindu [ma(n)yura.shananga]
the bird of Brahma, Laksmi and Sarasvati
- peacock<sup>4</sup> Roman [Junonian bird]
the bird sacred to Juno
- Peacock Angel (see Eblis)
- peai South American [peai-man.piache]
a witch-doctor in Guiana
- peai-man (see peai)
- Pean (see Apollo.Asclepius.Paeon)
- pearl
a lustrous deposit found in the oyster or other molluscs
This object is valued as a semi-precious jewel and appears in many myths.
In Borneo, they say that if a pearl is placed in a bottle with some grains of rice and the finger of a dead man is used as a stopper, more pearls will appear.
In China, it was said that some dragons could spit out pearls and, if dragons fought in the heavens, pearls could fall like rain.
Hindus say that pearls can be found in the head or stomach of elephants.
Some say that pearls lose their lustre with age, others that they become dull if the owner is ill.
Pearl powdered and dissolved in lemon juice, to form salt of pearl, was said to cure certain illnesses or act as an antidote to poison.
- Pearl of Beauty (see Fand)
- Pearly Emperor (see Yü Huang)
- Peboan North American
the manitou of winter, in Algonquian lore
- Pebin Welsh
father of Goewin
- Pebble-rattler North American
a wind-god of the Haida people
- Pecchere British
[King of Sessoyne.King of Tars.
King of the Lake]
This person appears in some of the stories of King Arthur under various other names.
- Pecos Bill North American
a culture-hero of the cowboys
He taught the cowboys all they needed to know, invented the six-shooter and, like Paul Bunyan, is said to have created the Grand Canyon.
- Pedias Greek
wife of Cranaus mother of Athos and Cranæ
- pedomancy
[podomancy] divination from the soles of the feet
- Pedivere British
a knight
Lancelot came upon this knight intent upon killing his own wife. He intervened but Pedivere nevertheless struck off his wife's head. Lancelot forced him to carry the head in his hand and the headless body on his back all the way to Camelot. He ended his life as a hermit.
- Pedrawd British
son of Bedivere
His son was also called Bedivere.
- Pedro Pacific Islands
a prince in the Philippines husband of Chonguita Chonguita was a monkey-woman and Pedro married her with great reluctance. As soon as they were wed, she turned into a beautiful woman.
- peepul (see bo-tree)
- peer (see paladin)
- Pegasus (see Pegasus)
- Pegasus Greek
[Aganippe.Pegasus.=Hindu Pagas]
the winged horse of Apollo
the horse of the Muses
This animal, fathered by Poseidon, sprang from the blood of Medusa when she was decapitated by Perseus. It was ridden by Bellerophon when he killed the Chimaera and, in some accounts, Perseus rode Pegasus when he rescued Andromeda from the sea-monster. It also carried the thunderbolts used by Zeus.
It is said that the fountain Hippocrene, on Mount Helicon, sprang from one of the horse's hoof-prints.
- pegomancy
divination from fountains and springs
- Peheipe North American
a culture-hero of the Maidu Indians
- Peihar (see Bihar)
- Pei-chi Chinese [Chen(g) Wu.Pei-chi-chun]
a name for Huan Ti as Prince of the North Pole
- Pei-chi-chen-chun (see Pei-chi)
- Pei-tou Chinese
the Great Bear constellation regarded as the emperor's chariot
- Peibaw (see Peibiaw)
- Peibyn British
father of Eiryn Wych
- Peibiaw Welsh
[Peibaw]
son of Don, some say brother of Nyniaw
He and his brother quarrelled about the stars and their meanings and ended up by waging war on each other, devastating the country. They were both changed into oxen for their stupidity and were the animals that Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get in his quest for the hand of Olwen.
(see also Melyn Granwyn.
Nyniaw.Ych Brych)
- Peine Greek
a goddess, hunger personified
- Peiras Greek
a son of Argus
- Peirene Greek
a spring to supply Corinth created by Asopus
- Peirithous Greek [Perithous.Pirithoos.Pirithous.
'prancer']
king of the Lapiths
son of Ixion and Dia or Nephele or of Zeus (as a stallion) and Dia husband of Hippodamia father of Polypoetes
Having heard of the exploits of Theseus, Peirithous stole some of his cattle to test his mettle and they became lifelong friends as a result.
During the hunt for the Calydonian boar his rashness nearly cost him his life but he was saved by Theseus.
Some say that he was one of the Argonauts and took part in the expedition when Theseus raided the Amazons.
At his wedding to Hippodamia, the drunken Centaurs tried to rape the women attending the ceremony, so starting the long-running feud between the Centaurs and the Lapitha.
After the death of Hippodamia he helped Theseus in the abduction of Helen. Theseus won when they drew lots for Helen and accompanied Peirithous to Tartarus to demand Persephone as a bride for the loser. They were both trapped by Hades in the Chair of Forgetfulness and although Theseus was rescued by Hercules, Peirithous was doomed forever.
In some versions, only Theseus was trapped in the chair while Peirithous was bound to the revolving wheel to which Ixion had been bound.
Some say that he was killed by the dog Cerberus, while other versions of the story say that the earth opened and swallowed him.

Peiroun Chinese
In Taiwanese lore, king of the island of Maurigasma

He received a warning that when the temple images of the gods Awun and Infoniwoo changed to red, the flood would come and he was able to board a ship and escape.

Peisinoe Greek [Pisonoe]
one of the Sirens

Peision Greek
father of Ixion, some say

Peitha (see Peitho)

Peitho<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Peitha:=Roman Suadela]
the goddess of persuasion an attendant on Aphrodite mother of Minthe by Coctus,
in some accounts

Some regard her as Aphrodite or her daughter.

In some accounts, she was one of the Graces.

Peitho<sup>2</sup> Greek
a title for Aphrodite

Peju'ipe Siberian
guardians of animals

Pek Central American [ˈdeθɪː'=Aztec Xolotl]
the lightning-dog of the Maya

Pekai Pacific Islands
wife of Sido

Pekar (see Bihar)

Pekko Baltic
[Pellonpekko:=Estonian Peko]
a Finnish corn-god

Peklo Slav
the underworld

Peko Baltic
[=Finnish Pekko]
an Estonian fertility-god

Pela Orso European
in some Italian stories, the fairy castle of Morgan le Fay

Pelado Peak North American
a sacred mountain of the Navaho Rock Crystal Boy and Rock Crystal Girl were set on the top of this peak by Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin.

Pelagon<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Asopus and Metope brother of Ismenus and 20 sisters

Pelagon<sup>2</sup> Greek
king of Phocis

It was in the herds of this king that Cadmus found the cow that led him to the site of Thebes.

Pelandok (see Kanchil)

Pelanduk (see Kanchil)

Pelasgi Greek [Pelasgians] aboriginal Greeks

Pelasgians (see Pelasgi)

Pelasgus<sup>1</sup> Greek
the first man
son of Zeus by Niobe, some say husband of Cyllene
father of Lycaon

He was said to have emerged from the soil and became the ancestor of the early Greek Pelasgi.

In some accounts, an ancient princess, ancestress of numerous tribes.

Pelasgus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a king of Argos
son of Agenor
brother of Iasius

He helped Danaus in his struggle with the fifty sons of Aegyptus who invaded his kingdom seeking to kill Danaus but instead married his fifty daughters.

Pele Pacific Islands

[Pere]
the volcano-goddess of Hawaii goddess of fire daughter of Kane Hoalani and Haumea daughter of Mahuika, some say sister of Hiiaka and Kapo wife of Wahieloa and Lohiau

She was so unruly that her father sent her off to find her own house. She excavated for the foundations of a new home on many islands, finally building on Hawaii. It is said that the earlier excavations are the volcano craters of the Pacific region.

Another story says that she challenged a chief, Kahawali, to a race down the slope of a volcano on wooden sledges and erupted in fury when she lost. The winner escaped by boat.

Her first husband deserted her for another woman and Pele married the chieftain Lahiau. She left him soon after the wedding to prepare a new home but the message to say that it was ready took so long to reach him that he died. He was restored to life and set off with his attendants to go to Pele but once again it took so long that Pele lost patience and killed them all with fire.

Another variation says that she sent Hiiaka to rescue his soul from the underworld. When Lahiau was restored to life, he fell in love with Hiiaka so the jealous Pele poured lava over him and he died again. When he was once again restored to life by Kane Hoalani, Pele repented and gave him up to Hiiaka.

Pele Kolese Baltic
a Finnish water-spirit

This being floated on its back as if drowning. Those who attempted rescue were attacked and killed.

Pelear (see Bihar)

Peleiai Greek [ˈdoves'] priestesses tending the oracle of Zeus at Dodona

Peleias (see Pelian spear.Pelias<sup>2</sup>)

Pelenore (see Pellimore)

Pesit Malay
a spirit

Sorcerers are said to be able to evoke such a spirit, using the tongue of a newly dead baby, and use it in association with a polang against their enemies as a blood-sucking insect like a cricket.

Peleur British
the Welsh name for Pelles, owner of the Grail Castle

Peleus Greek [ˈmuddy']

a king of Phthia
son of Aeacus and Endeis
brother of Telamon
half-brother of Phocus
husband of Antigone and Thetis father of Polydora by Antigone father of Achilles by Thetis

He and his brother Telamon killed their half-brother, Phocus, and were exiled to Phthia by their father.

He was purified by the king, Eurytion, whose daughter Antigone he married, but he accidentally killed Eurytion during the hunt for the Calydonian boar. This time he was purified by Acastus, king of Iolcus, whose wife Hippolyta (or Astydamia) accused him of rape. Acastus tried to avenge this insult by taking his sword when Peleus fell asleep during a hunt but Peleus was saved from the Centaurs by Chiron and returned to the court where he killed both Acastus and Hippolyta.

In some accounts, the woman accusing Peleus was Cretheis and it was her husband who abandoned him during the hunt.

Advised by Chiron, he caught Thetis asleep in a cave and held her through many shape-changes until she agreed to marry him. At his wedding to Thetis, Eris threw the golden apple among the assembled guests, so setting in train the events that led to the Trojan War.

When he and Thetis disagreed over her attempts to make Achilles invulnerable by fire, she left him and returned to her home in the sea but they were later reconciled and he joined her in her underwater realm.

Zeus later gave him an army of Myrmidons and he seized the throne of Phthia. He set off to welcome his grandson Pyrrhus (Neoptolemus), safely returned from the Trojan War, and died in the journey.

Pelham British

[Pel(e)am.Pelleham.Pelle(h)an.

Pellehen]

a king of Listinoise

son of Pelles, some say

brother of Gorlan

He arranged a tournament for his knights at which Balin turned up looking for Gorlan. When Gorlan challenged him, Balin killed him and cut off his head so Pelham attacked Balin with a battle-axe, breaking Balin's sword. Balin ran away to find another weapon and came upon a room where there lay the perfectly preserved body of an old man and a strange spear, the Holy Lance. Balin seized the spear and used it to kill Pelham.

Some accounts refer to this spear stroke as the Dolorous Stroke, others reserve the name for the sword-stroke that killed Lambor.

In some accounts, he is the same as Pellimore. (see also Fisher King.

Pelles)

Peliades Greek

daughters of Pelias

Pelian spear Greek

[Pel(e)ias]

a huge weapon made from an ash tree grown on Mount Pelion

Only Achilles was capable of using this spear which was said to have healing properties.

Pelias<sup>1</sup> British

[Peleias]

a king of Lyonesse

father of Lucius

Pelias invaded Cornwall and Thanor the king enlisted the help of the Irish. As a result, Cornwall was required to pay an annual tribute until Tristram defeated Morholt.

Pelias<sup>2</sup> (see Pelian spear)

Pelias<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Peleias]

king of Iolcus

son of Poseidon and Tyro

twin brother of Neleus husband of Anaxibia

father of Acastus, Alcestis, Amphinone and Evadne

Tyro was the wife of Cretheus and, when he found out about her affair with Poseidon, he abandoned her and took her maid Sidero in her place. Tyro's twin sons by Poseidon were abandoned but they were found and reared by horse-herders. Sidero, when she married Cretheus, was very cruel to Tyro and when the twins were old enough they set out to avenge her with the result that Pelias killed Sidero.

Another version says that Sidero was the second wife of Tyro's father, Salmones, and hence her stepmother.

He later deposed Aeson and Polymele and took over the throne of Iolcus. When their son Jason later claimed the throne, he offered to give it up if Jason would fetch the Golden Fleece from Colchis. While Jason was away, his parents committed suicide and Pelias killed their young son Promachus.

Jason returned with the Golden Fleece bringing with him Medea, the sorceress. She bewitched two of the daughters of Pelias into killing him, cutting him up and boiling him in the belief that, by this means, he would be rejuvenated.

pelican

a water-bird with a large pouch under its beak

It is said that this bird will kill its young and then restore them to life with blood from its own breast.

The Greeks regarded it as the enemy of the quail and, in Hebrew lore, it was said to be a bird of ill-omen.

Pelides Greek

a name of Achilles as 'son of Peleus'

Pelinore (see Pellimore)

Pelintsiek North American

[Great Dentalium]

the personification of the shell-money of the Yurok tribe

He and his companion, Tego'0, came to California from the north.

Pelion (see Mount Pelion)

Pellam (see Fisher King. Pelham.Pelles)

Pellé (see Pelles)

Pelleam (see Pelham)

Pellean (see Pelham)

Pelleas British

a Knight of the Round Table

husband of Nimue

At a tournament where he defeated 500 knights in three days, Pelleas fell hopelessly in love with Ettard who had organised the contest. When she rejected his advances, he made a nuisance of himself and she sent her knights against him. He unhorsed ten in quick succession but then allowed himself to be tied under the belly of his horse and taken prisoner so that he could catch just another glimpse of his beloved. As soon as he was released, he did the same again. Gawain tried to help by going to Ettard in the armour of Pelleas and telling her that he was dead but the ploy failed when Gawain seduced Ettard and stayed with her for some time. Pelleas, heart-broken, took to his bed and went into decline. Nimue found him in this state and put a spell on Ettard causing her to fall in love with Pelleas. She then bewitched Pelleas who rejected Ettard with scorn. Nimue then stayed with Pelleas for their lifetime. In some versions, they married.

Pelleham (see Pelham)

Pellehan (see Pelham)

Pellehen (see Pelham)

Pellervoine Finnish

a guardian god of vegetation

Pelles British

[Amfortas.Hermit King.Le Roi Pêcheur.

Pellam.Pellé.Rich Fisher.=Welsh Peleur]

a king of Carbonek

keeper of the Holy Grail

father of Elaine and Eliazar father of Pelham, some say cousin of Joseph of Arimathea

He was guardian of the Holy Grail who had been made lame for his sins. In one story, he found a ship covered in white samite, the ship that was later found by Galahad and his two companions in the Grail quest, and went aboard. When he tried to draw the sword of King Hurlane which he found there, a spectral spear pierced him through both thighs.

A similar story is told of both Nascien and Parlan.

To ensure a follower worthy of learning the secrets of the Grail, he used a magic potion to deceive Lancelot into thinking that Elaine was Guinevere. The result of their union was the boy Galahad.

When Galahad reached the Grail at the end of his quest, he heard a voice from heaven telling him to anoint Pelles with blood from the Holy Lance. This washed away his sins and healed his wounds.

Pelles spent the last years of his life in a monastery. (see also Amfortas.

Elyas.Fisher King.Henron.
Nascien.Pellimore)

Pellimore

British

[Ballamore.Pelenore.Pel(l)inore.

Pellinor.Rich Fisher]

king of the Isles

a Knight of the Round Table

father of Aglovale, Alan, Dornar,

Driant, Elaine, Lamerock, Melodiam,
Nimue, Percival and Torre

He issued a challenge to all-comers, killing Miles and badly wounding Griflet. He then jousting with King Arthur and defeated him. Merlin put a spell on Pellimore to save the king's life. He was later welcomed at the king's court and given a place of honour at the Round Table. At Arthur's wedding feast, he was sent to find the knight who had ridden into the hall and forcefully made off with Nimue who had entered just before to claim the white bitch which had chased a white stag into the hall. He passed a damsel nursing a wounded knight but refused to stop and help her. When he found the lady, he found two knights fighting – Ontelake who had carried her off and Meliot, her cousin. He killed Ontelake and Meliot surrendered without a fight. He took Nimue back to Camelot and, on the way, saw the dead bodies of the damsel and the knight he had failed to help. It turned out that the girl was Elaine, his own daughter by the Lady of Rule, and the knight was her lover, Myles; they had both been attacked by Lorraine le Sauvage as they travelled to Camelot to be married.

He was one of those who pursued the Questing Beast without success.

He killed Lot and was himself killed by Gawain, Lot's son.

In some accounts, he is referred to as the Rich Fisher, is wounded in the thighs and is equated with Pelles; some describe him as the brother of Pelles; others equate him with Pelham.

Pellinor (see Pellimore)

Pellinore (see Pellimore)

Pellonpekko (see Pekko)

Pelopoia (see Pelopia)

Pelopia

Greek

[Pelopea]

a priestess

daughter of Thyestes

mother of Aegisthus

Her father raped her and she later married her uncle Atreus who raised the child of that union with her father, a boy called Aegisthus, as his own. When she found out that the masked man who had raped her was her own father she killed herself with his sword.

Pelopids

Greek

the descendants of Pelops

Pelopion

Greek

the grove of Pelops at Olympia

Pelops<sup>1</sup>

Greek

son of Agamemnon by Cassandra

twin brother of Teledamus

Odysseus took Cassandra and her two sons back to Greece after the fall of Troy. All four were killed by Clytemnestra and Aegisthus.

Pelops<sup>2</sup>

Greek

king of Pisa

son of Tantalus and Dione

brother of Niobe

husband of Euryanessa

or Hippodamia

father of Alcahous, Astydamia, Atreus,

Chrysippus, Copreus, Epidaurus,

Lysidice, Nicippe, Pittheus, Sicyon,

Troezen and Thyestes

When Tantalus found himself short of food at a banquet he had laid on for the gods, he killed his son Pelops, cut him up and served him in a stew. The only one to eat any of the portions was Demeter (or Thetis, some say) who ate the shoulder. The gods restored Pelops to wholeness with Demeter contributing a new shoulder made of ivory and Poseidon carried the restored youth off to Olympus.

He fell in love with Hippodamia and won her hand after beating her father, Oenomaus, in a chariot race, driving a magic chariot given to him by Poseidon. Pelops had promised to allow Myrtilus, her father's charioteer, to sleep with Hippodamia, so persuading Myrtilus to sabotage her father's chariot. When it broke down, Pelops killed Oenomaus but afterwards reneged on his promise to Myrtilus and kicked him into the sea. Purified by Hephaestus he assumed the throne of Pisa.

On his death he was taken up to Olympus as an immortal. Some say that he was carried off by Poseidon to be his cup-bearer.

Pelorus

Greek

one of the 5 survivors of the Sown

Men known as the Sparti

Pemba

African

[Femba.Great Thing.Ngala]

a creator-god and tree-god of the Bambara: the primordial creation principle

twin brother of Faro

He was made from the void and then created the world. He came down to earth as the seed from which an acacia tree grew. He made the first woman, Musso-koroni, from the wood of the tree and mated with her to generate men and animal life. She planted Pemba in the earth only for his brother, Faro the water-god, to dig him up.

(see also Faro<sup>1,2</sup>)

Pemphredo

Greek

[Pephredo.'spiteful']

one of the Graiae

Pen

(see Kalamu)

Pen Annwfn

Welsh

a name of Pwyll as 'head of Hades',

The name he assumed during his one-year tenure as king of the underworld when he exchanged roles with Arawn.

penanggalan

Malay

a blood-sucking demon or witch

It is said that these demons are women who, by witchcraft, leave their bodies by night in the form of a disembodied head trailing intestines.

Penardun

Welsh

daughter of Beli and Don second wife of Llyr

wife of Euroswydd

mother of Bran, Branwen and Manawyddan by Llyr

mother of Efnisien and Nisien

by Euroswydd

Some say that she was Beli's sister rather than his daughter. In some versions, she was the first wife of Llyr; others say Iweriadd was his first wife and mother of Bran and Branwen. She later married Euroswydd.

In some accounts, she was an ancestress of King Arthur.

Penarwan

British

wife of Owain

Penates

Roman

[Di Magni.Di Penates]

household gods of the larder

Some say these deities were brought from Troy by Aeneas; some say they are Castor and Pollux; some identify them with the Cabeiri.

Penates of the Thunderer Italian
a group of great Etruscan gods

Penbedw British
a site, in Wales, where some say King Arthur was buried

Pendaran Welsh
a chieftain, a famous swineherd, with whom the young Pryderi was fostered

Pendragon British [Pandragon.Pendragwn]
a name assumed by Uther when he became king

In some accounts, Pendragon was the brother of Uther, a name given to Aurelius Ambrosius.

Some accounts say that King Arthur also assumed this title which means chief or leader.

(see also Uther Pendragon)

Pendragon Castle British
the home of Breunor and Maladisant

Pendragwn (see Pendragon)

Peneius (see Peneus)

Peneleos Greek
son of Hippalcmis
one of the Argonauts

Penelope<sup>1</sup> Greek [Arnaea] daughter of Icarius and Periboea sister of Iphthime wife of Odysseus

mother of Ptoliporthes and Telemachus Because Icarius wanted a son, his wife hid their baby daughter in the flocks of sheep, calling her Arnaea. Icarius discovered the deception and threw the child into the sea. When she was saved by ducks, he accepted her as his own and reared her.

Odysseus won her as his wife in a foot-race.

When her son, Telemachus, was just a baby, Odysseus went off to fight in the siege of Troy. He was away for twenty years, the last ten of which were spent wandering at the whim of the gods.

Many men came to woo her, saying that Odysseus must surely be dead, and they refused to leave, slowly eating her out of house and home. She promised to give them an answer when she had finished a robe (or shroud) she was making but by night she unpicked all she had done by day so that it was never finished.

In one account, Penelope, believing that her husband was dead, threw herself into the sea but was saved by ducks.

When Odysseus finally came back, she contrived to get his bow and arrows to him and he very quickly disposed of the unwelcome guests. They had a second son, Ptoliporthes.

One story says that Telegonus, a son of Odysseus by Circe, killed Odysseus, not knowing that he was killing his own father, and then took Penelope and Telemachus to Aea where he married a miraculously youthful Penelope, fathering Italus, and Telemachus married Circe.

Yet another story says that she had been unfaithful to Odysseus and was the mother of Pan by Hermes.

Penelope<sup>2</sup> (see Dryope<sup>1</sup>)

Penelophon African
wife of Cophetua

penelopeise
act like Penelope, gaining time by undoing the day's work each night

Peneus Greek

[Ladon.Peneius]
a river-god, a river in Tempe son of Oceanus and Tethys father of Daphne, Cyrene, Hypseus, Stilbe and Syrinx by Creusa,
in some accounts

P'eng-lai Chinese a Taoist island paradise, one of the Fortunate Islands

This realm, one 108 paradises, floating in the Eastern sea, was where the plant of immortality grew and the water of immortality flowed in the rivers. It was the home of the Eight Immortals and could be reached only by air since the seas around it would not support a boat.

In later years, the Celestial Emperor had the islands anchored by huge tortoises and guarded by Yü-chiang (see also Fortunate Islands<sup>3</sup>)

P'eng-lai Shan Chinese a mountain in the paradise P'eng-lai

P'eng Niao Chinese
the Chinese version of the roc
This huge bird is said to carry the sky on its shoulders.

In some accounts, it was originally the sea-monster, Kun.

P'eng Tsu Chinese
a god of longevity

As a mortal, he was said to have lived longer than any of his nineteen wives or his fifty-four sons.

(see also Shou Shen)

pengap (see diam)

Penia Greek
poverty personified

Penpigion Welsh
a gatekeeper at King Arthur's palace deputy to Glewlwyd

He walked on his head to save his feet. He was killed by the boar Twrch Trwyth.

pentacle
[Wizard's Foot]
a five-pointed star: a five-sided figure

This device is used as a defence against witches and demons. In the Arthurian stories, Gawain had this symbol emblazoned on his shield.

Penthesilea Greek [Penthesileia]

queen of the Amazons daughter of Ares by Otrere
She fought on the side of the Trojans in the siege of Troy and was killed by Achilles who mourned her death. Some say that she had a son, Caistus, by Achilles.

Penthesileia (see Penthesilea)

Pentheus Greek ['pain']
king of Thebes
son of Echion and Agave cousin of Dionysus

He took over the throne when his grandfather, Cadmus, resigned.

When he tried to prevent Dionysus from inducing the women of Thebes to join his drunken revels and dressed as a woman to spy on them, the Maenads went berserk and tore him apart, led by his own mother, Agave, who pulled off his head.

Penthilus Greek
son of Orestes and Erigone,
some say

Penyakit Malay
an evil spirit known as 'the sick-maker'

People of Dana (see Danaans)

People of Morodo (see Masi)

People of the Sun (see Mlangeri)

Peopling Vine Pacific Islands
the vine planted by Tangaroa at creation and from which the human race sprang

Peor (see Baal-Peor)

Pepelyouga (see Marra)

Pepezu South American
a god of the Yuracari tribe

Pephredo (see Pempfredo)

Pepin<sup>1</sup> European
[Pepin II.Pepin d'Heristal]

(d. 714)

king of the Franks
father of Charles Martel

Pepin<sup>2</sup> European

[Pepin III. Pepin the Short] (715-768)
king of the Franks
son of Rother and Oda brother of Carloman husband of Aliste and Bertha father of Andri and Remfré by Aliste father of Carloman and Charlemagne by Bertha
He was betrothed to marry Bertha but her old nurse, Magiste, substituted her own daughter, Aliste, and she became queen. When the deception was exposed some years later, Bertha, who had meanwhile sheltered with Pepin's cowherd, Symon, and his wife Constance, was installed in her proper position.

In some accounts he was said to have abducted his nephew Valentine, brother of Orson.

Pepin<sup>3</sup> European

(778-811)
king of Italy son of Charlemagne
brother of Charlot and Louis

Per-U-Ajit (see Edjo)Peranu European

[=Bulgarian Perusan:=Estonian Piker:
=Lithuanian Perkunos:=Polish Piorun:
=Prussia Perkonis:=Russian Pyerun: =Serbian Gromoit:=Slav Peroon]
a Bohemian thunder-god

Percard British

[The Black Knight]
a knight

This knight was killed by Gareth when he rode to the assistance of the lady, Lyonesse.

Perceforest<sup>1</sup> British

[Betis]
father of Bethides
brother of Gaddifer

He was originally Betis, a man given the throne of Britain by Alexander the Great. He killed a magician called Damart and became known as Perceforest thereafter. He founded a knightly order, the Knights of the Franc Palais, but when Bethides married Circe, she brought the Roman invaders who broke up the order and conquered Britain. He and his brother Gaddifer then retired to the Isle of Life.

Perceforest<sup>2</sup> French

a 14th c history of Britain in which Alexander the Great is said to have invaded the country and installed Perceforest as king Perceval<sup>1</sup> French

a 13th c story of Percival's adventures written by Boron

Perceval<sup>2</sup> (see Conte de Graal)

Perceval<sup>3</sup> (see Parsifal.
Percival Peredur)

Perchevael European
the Dutch name for Percival

Percht (see Bertha<sup>3</sup>)

Perchta (see Bertha<sup>3</sup>)

Perchten (see Berchta)

Perchtennacht (see Berchtennacht)

Percides British
a knight of King Arthur's court

Percival British
father of Percival de Gales,
in some accounts

He was said to have been killed by the Red Knight.

Percival de Gales British

[Parsifal. Parzival. Perceval. Perse(val): =Dutch Perchevael:=Welsh Peredur]

a knight of King Arthur's court
son of Pellimore

brother of Aglovale, Dindrane

and Lamerock

father of twin boys, Kardiez and Lohenergrain, and a girl, Aribadale, by Condwiramur

His parentage is variously described. Some say his father was Alan, Bliocadran, Efracw, Evelake, Gahmuret, Gales, Gregloguevaus, Julian or Percival; his mother is Achefleur, Herzeloyde, Philosophine or Yglais; his sisters Agrestizia and Dindrane.

Reared in isolation, he yearned to be a knight and left home at an early age to seek his fortune. He was given a bracelet by the wife of Orilus and soon met his cousin, Sigune, weeping over the body of her husband, Schionatulander, killed by the Red Knight. Percival killed the murderer and took his horse and armour. He learned the skills of his trade at the hands of Gurnemans and set off to seek adventure.

In some accounts, these are two separate events. In the first, Percival killed the Red Knight, who had stolen a golden goblet from Camelot, taking his horse and armour; in the second, the killer of Sigune's husband (or lover) turned out to be Orgelleuse (or Orilus) and Percival defeated him and sent him to Arthur's court.

Hearing that Condwiramur, the queen of Brobarz, was in trouble, he rode to her aid, killed the besieging enemies and married her, fathering a son, Lohenergrain. He left after a while to look for his mother, not knowing that she was dead.

In some stories, he came to the Grail Temple where he found the wounded Amfortas but failed to ask the one question that would have ended his suffering. He was later tricked into fighting Gawain on behalf of Gramoflanz but spared his life when Itonje, Gawain's sister, pleaded with him. He came to a hermit's cell where Trevezent told him that he could cure Amfortas, his brother, if he asked the right question. It is said that he set off to find Amfortas again and was challenged by a knight who turned out to be his half-brother, Feirefiz, who joined him in his quest. When they found Amfortas, he was made whole again when Percival asked what ailed him. Then Titurel appeared and crowned Percival as the guardian of the Holy Grail.

He drove off the nine Hags of Gloucester who were harassing the Lady of the Castle and spent three weeks with her before Arthur persuaded him to return to Camelot. One of the hags turned up at Camelot and said that the Lady of the Castle was now a prisoner in the Fortress of Marvels. Percival set off to the rescue but was trapped in the Tall Tower. The master's daughter released him and he drove off the attackers sent by the hags to kill him. At the Fortress of Marvels, Percival killed the guards and cut off the head of a unicorn. The head became a rider on a skeleton horse which disappeared in dust and smoke when Percival struck it with his sword. He killed the leader of the hags and the others turned to grease puddles. The Lady of the Castle had disappeared from the world of mortals and Percival returned to Camelot empty-handed. In the parallel story of Peredur, the hags are the witches of Caer Llyw.

He joined in the search for Lancelot when he went mad and disappeared from Camelot. In one story, it is said he and Ector found him at Castle Bliant and persuaded him to return to Camelot.

He joined the other knights in the quest for the Holy Grail. Both he and Lancelot fought a knight who turned out to be Galahad in disguise. When Lancelot rode after Galahad, Percival went to the nearby home of an anchoress who turned out to be his aunt, the former Queen of the Waste Land, who advised him on his future course. He arrived at a monastery where he saw King Evelake who had lain wounded and almost blind for 400 years, awaiting the arrival of Galahad. Leaving, he was attacked by a group of knights (goblins in some versions) who killed his horse and would have killed Percival if Galahad had not appeared on the scene and routed the attackers.

In one version, he came to a river and fell asleep. When he awoke, he found himself on an island populated by wild animals and snakes. A black ship arrived bearing a damsel dressed in black velvet who offered to lead him to Galahad if he would become her lover. When he refused, she and the ship disappeared to be replaced by a white ship. Another version says that he arrived at the sea just as the white ship came in carrying a lovely damsel with whom he fell in love. She induced him to go to bed with her but he rejected her at the last minute to keep himself pure for the Grail Quest.

Later he met Bors and they were soon joined by Galahad, who was guided by Percival's sister, Dindrane, and they sailed together on their quest for the Grail. They found a deserted ship and went aboard. Galahad took the sword he found there and they returned to their own ship which carried them to Castle Carteloise. Here a woman lay sick who could be cured only by the blood of a virgin. Dindrane gave her blood but died as a result. At her request, Percival placed her body in a boat and cast it adrift.

All three rode to Castle Carbonek, home of the Maimed King, where they were vouchsafed a sight of the Holy Grail. The three then took the Grail and the Holy Lance to Sarras in the Holy Land where they found the ship bearing the body of Percival's sister which they buried. All three were imprisoned by the king, Esterause, but he released them and asked their forgiveness when he lay dying. Galahad was made king but died about a year later. Percival entered a hermitage and lived there until he too died about a year after Galahad.

In some versions, Percival, rather than Agloval, was the father of Moriaen.

(see also Dodinel.Parsifal.Peredur)

Percunis (see Perkonis)

Perdiccas Greek

son of Temenus

brother of Archelaus, Creisus

and Hyrnetho

His sister Hyrnetho married Deiphontes and, when Temenus showed that he preferred his son-in-law to his own sons, they killed him.

Perdix (see Talos<sup>1</sup>)

Pere<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

a Polynesian sea-goddess

daughter of Haumea

daughter of Tahinariki, some say

wife of Wahiroa

She is said to have created the seas by pouring water from a jar given to her by her mother.

Pere<sup>2</sup> (see Pele)

Peredur Welsh

[Knight of the Mill.Longspear.

The Dumb Knight.The Young Mute]

a Knight of the Round Table

the Welsh version of Percival

the seventh son of Efracg husband of Condwiramur

father of Lohenergrain

He was raised in seclusion by his mother who feared that he would be killed in fighting, just as his father and six brothers had been. Imbued with the spirit of adventure, he went to Caerleon armed only with a pointed stick. On arrival, he was greeted by a dwarf and his wife, neither of whom had ever spoken before in the court and they were ill-treated by Kay as a result. In some stories, a maiden who had never smiled takes the place of the dwarfs who had never spoken.

He killed a stranger knight who had assaulted Guinevere by throwing his pointed stick through his eye and took the knight's horse, weapons and armour, vowing never to return to the court until he had avenged the insult to the dwarfs.

At the Castle of Wonders his uncle showed him the severed head of his cousin and the spear with which he had been killed, so inciting Peredur to avenge his cousin's death. He fell in love with a maiden whose lands had been taken by a neighbouring earl and, by defeating the earl's forces, restored the property to its rightful owner. He spent three weeks at the witches' court learning more about the arts of horsemanship and weaponry.

In another version, the uncle was King Pêcheur and the spear was the Holy Lance which he saw, together with the Holy Grail. Later, King Pêcheur took these holy relics to 'a far country'.

King Arthur went searching for this young knight and when he found him, Peredur defeated many of Arthur's best knights in single combat, including Kay whose arm and shoulder were broken. He returned to Caerleon with Arthur and met Angharad Golden-hand and fell in love with her but went off to resume his adventures vowing not to speak until she came to love him. All the many men he overthrew on his journeying he forced to go to Arthur's court to submit to the king's will. He fought with a lion and a serpent and took the golden ring on which the serpent slept. At this stage of his career he was known as the Dumb Knight but on his return to Caerleon, Angharad Golden-hand declared her love and he was able to speak again.

In another adventure he met and killed the Black Oppressor, a one-eyed black man who told him how to find the Black Worm of the Barrow and then the Addanc of the Lake. He then defeated 200 of the knights protecting the Black Worm of the Barrow and killed the serpent. He used the stone held in the serpent's tail to make gold with which he paid the remaining 100 knights and then gave the stone to his attendant, Edlym.

The Addanc of the Lake killed the three sons of the King of Suffering every day and every evening their wives restored them to life by bathing them. On the way to the lake Peredur met a maiden who gave him a stone that would protect him from the evil Addanc. He killed the Addanc and cut off its head which he gave to the three princes.

At the court of the Countess of Achievements he defeated each of her 300 knights and won the hand of the Countess for Edlym. The maiden who had given him the magic stone which protected him in his encounter with the Addanc turned out to be the Empress of Constantinople or, in some accounts, Cristonabyl the Great, and, at a great tournament in her honour, Peredur, known as the Knight of the Mill as a result of lodging with a local miller, defeated all the knights and stayed with her for fourteen years. On his return to Caerleon, an ugly black maiden cursed him for not seeking the explanation of the bloody spear and the severed head which his uncle had shown him years before, so he set off to find the Castle of Wonders once again. En route, he was imprisoned by a king but released when he helped him defeat the forces of an attacking earl and he killed another black man at the castle of Ysbidinongyl. At the castle he was required to kill the one-horned stag that was killing all the animals in the area and to joust three times with a black man and then he encountered his uncle and the slain cousin who, unknown to Peredur, had appeared in many of his adventures in various guises including that of the ugly black girl. It appeared that he had been killed by the witches of Caer Llyw. Peredur sought out the witches and, with the help of Arthur's war-band, killed all of them.

In the parallel story of Percival, the witches are the Hags of Gloucester.

He is said to have fought with Gwrgi against their cousin Gwenddolau at the Battle of Arthuret.

In some accounts he married Condwiramur by whom he had a son, Lohenergrain. (see also Percival)

Peredur Son of Efracw Welsh
a story from the Mabinogion relating the adventures of Peredur

Perende Balkan [Perendi]
an Albanian storm-god

Perendi (see Perende)

Perenu Slav
[=Norse Thor]
a sky-god, war-god and god of rain

Pereplut Russian
an ancient rain-god

Pereus Greek
son of Elatus and Laodice
brother of Aepytus, Cyllen and Stymphalus

Perevida British
in some accounts, mother of Galahad

Perez Hebrew
a spirit of the night

Perfect Knight, The British
a name for Galahad

Perfection of Wisdom, The Buddhist
a sacred book of Mahayana Buddhism

Perfectly Holy Ancient Master
(see Chi-sheng Hsien-shih)

Perferren British
daughter of Anna
niece of King Arthur
wife of Bugi
mother of Beuno

Pergamus Greek
son of Pyrrhus by Andromache brother of Molossus and Pielus

Pergamum Greek
the citadel of Troy

Pergrubius Baltic
a deity of renewal

peri Persian
[feri.pairika.pari(ka)]=Hindu Apsaras:
=Japanese Yosei:=New Zealand patupaiarehe:=Pahlavi parik]
a fairy: a nymph of paradise, originally regarded as evil

Peri-Banou (see Paribanou)

Peri Dewa East Indian
a Sumatran prince son of Sang Pertala Dewa
father of Maniaka

He saw a silver cow near the lake where he was bathing but, when he looked later, he found a beautiful girl who, his dead father's spirit told him, was a gift from the gods.

Periander Greek
a tyrant of Corinth
one of the Seven Sages
son of Cypselus

He killed the crew who had tried to rob his protégé Arion.

Periboea<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Eriboea.Periboia]
a nymph, one of the Naiads wife of Icarus, king of Sparta mother of Penelope and Iphthime

Periboea<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Eriboea.Periboia]
daughter of Alcathous second wife of Telamon mother of Ajax

Periboea<sup>3</sup> Greek
[Eriboea.Periboia]
daughter of Hipponous second wife of Oeneus mother of Olenias and Tydeus

Periboea<sup>4</sup> Greek
[Eriboea.Periboia]
wife of Polybus
foster-mother of Oedipus
In some accounts, her name is given as Merope.

Periboia (see Periboea)

Periboriwa South American
a moon-spirit of the Yanomani
The tribe is said to have sprung from drops of Periboriwa's blood.

Periclymene Greek
daughter of Minyas wife of Pheres
mother of Admetus and Lycurgus

Periclymenus<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Neleus and Chloris brother of Chromius and Nestor

He was active in the defence of Thebes and killed Parthenopaeus, one of the Seven Against Thebes, by dropping a rock on him from the city walls.

Periclymenus<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Poseidon
one of the Argonauts

He had been given the power by Poseidon to assume whatever shape he wished and attacked Heracles in the form of an eagle when Heracles sacked Pylus. He was killed by an arrow from Heracles' bow.

In other accounts, he was killed in the form of a fly.

Perideus Norse
a giant

He killed the Lombard king, Alboin, at the behest of the queen, Rosamund, who had been ill-treated by her husband.

Perieres<sup>1</sup> Greek
king of the Messenians
son of Aeolus and Enarete
husband of Gorgophone

father of Aphareus and Leucippus father of Icarus, some say father of Borus and Pisu, some say

Perieres<sup>2</sup> Greek
charioteer to Menoeceus
He threw the stone that killed Clymenus, king of Orchomenus.

Perigune Greek
daughter of Sinis
mother of Melanippus by Theseus

She was later the concubine of Deioneus.

Perikionios (see Dionysus)

Perillus Greek
a bronze-worker

He built a hollow bronze bull for Phalaris who used it to roast his victims. The first to be so treated was Perillus himself.

Perilous Bed (see Adventurous Bed)

Perilous Bridge, The British [Bridge Perilous.Pomparles. Pons Perilis]

a bridge which led to the Grail Castle
In other accounts, this was a bridge over the River Brue and it was here that Excalibur was thrown back into the water.

Perilous Cemetery British
a burial ground attached to the Perilous Chapel

Every time a knight was killed by the Black Hand a marble tombstone, bearing the knight's name appeared in the cemetery. Until the hand was struck by Gawain or Percival, the cemetery remained unconsecrated and was, as a result, haunted by ghosts.

Perilous Chapel British
a chapel in Cornwall built by the queen, Brangemore

Perilous Plain, The Irish
an area harbouring man-eating beasts Cuchulainn had to cross this plain to reach the fortress home of Skatha where he received his military training.

Perilous Seat, The British
[Seat of Danger.Seat of Dread. Seat Perilous.Siege Perilous]
a place at the Round Table reserved for the knight worthy of the Grail quest

The only knight to occupy this seat without disaster was Galahad. It had earlier killed Brumart and, some say, had cracked when Percival sat in it but it was later repaired by Percival.

Perimede Greek
sister of Creon
wife of Lycimnius

Perimedes Greek
son of Eurystheus
killed by Heracles

Perimele Greek
daughter of Admetus and Alcestis sister of Eumelus and Hipparus wife of Argos

Perimones British
[The Red Knight]
a Knight of King Arthur's court
He was defeated in single combat by Gareth.

Perinis British
a servant at King Mark's court
He was sent to ask King Arthur to adjudicate at the trial of Isolde in Cornwall.

Period of the Gods Japanese a cycle of legends

Perion European
a king of Gaul husband of Elizena
father of Amadis, Florestan and Galaor
He fathered Amadis on Elizena and, after the boy had been abandoned, married her and had two legitimate sons, Florestan and Galaor.

Periphetes<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Club-bearer.Corunetes.Corynetes]
an outlaw
son of Hephaestus and Anticlea

In some accounts, his father was Poseidon. He was a cripple who killed travellers with a brass or iron club. Theseus killed him with that very weapon and kept it for himself.

Periphetes<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Copreus
He was killed by Hector at the siege of Troy.

Periscii Greek
inhabitants of the Polar Circle

perispirit
a supposed fluid linking body and soul
It is said that, after death, this fluid can appear as a ghost.

Perit Balkan
Albanian mountain spirits
It was said that these spirits could punish people who wasted food by making them hunchbacked.

Peritalnak South American
a culture-hero of the Chaco tribe

Perithous (see Peirithous)
Perkele Baltic
the Finnish name for the Devil

Perkonis Prussian
[Percunis:=Bohemian Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:=Estonian Piker:=Finnish Pitkoinen:=Latvian Perkons:=Lithuanian Perkunos:=Polish Piorun:=Russian Pirgene.Pyerun:=Slav Peroon]
a thunder-god

Perkons Baltic
[=Bohemina Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:=Estonian Piker:=Finnish Pitkoinen:=Lithuanian Perkunos:=Polish Piorun:=Prussian Perkonis:=Russian Pirgene.Pyerun:=Slav Peroon]
a Latvian thunder-god

Perkun (see Perkunos)

Perkunas (see Perkunos)

Perkune Tete Baltic
a goddess of thunder and lightning

Perkunos<sup>1</sup> Baltic
[Perkun(as):=Bohemian Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:=Estonian Piker:=Finnish Pitkoinen:=Latvian Perkons:=Polish Piorun:=Prussian Perkonis:=Russian Pirgene.Pyerun:=Slav Peroon]
a Lithuanian thunder-god
father of Saule

Possibly the deified form of the Lithuanian king Perkunas who, with his court, went to heaven on his death.

Some depict him as a strong young man with a brown beard, others as an old man with an axe or hammer.

Perkunos<sup>2</sup> (see Erkir)
Perlesvaus<sup>1</sup> French
a 13th c story of the Holy Grail

In this account, Percival, the son of a king, succeeds in the Grail Quest and becomes the Grail King.

Perlesvaus<sup>2</sup> (see Fescamp Abbey)
Permessus Greek
a river-god
father of Aganippe

Pernam British [Pernehan]
in some accounts, brother of King Mark

Pernehan (see Pernam)
Pero Greek

daughter of Neleus and Chloris first wife of Bias
mother of Talaua

When Bias asked for her hand, Neleus demanded that he obtain the cattle of Phylacus and hand them over as the bride-price. Melanippus got the cattle for Bias and the couple were then allowed to marry.

Peron (see Peroon)
Peroon Slav

[Pero(u)n.Perun(u).Prone:=Bohemian Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:=Estonian Piker:=Finnish Pitkoinen:=Latvian Perkons:=Lithuanian Perkunos:=Polish Piorun:=Prussian Perkonis:=Russian Pirgene.Pyerun:=Serbian Gromovit]
a thunder-god
father of Peronutius

In Serbia, this deity is said to be incarnate in Ilya (St Elias) who can control thunder and lightning.

He is depicted as having three heads, each with a red face.

Peroun (see Peroon)
peroveta East Indian

prophet-songs in New Guinea

Perperuna Slav
a rain-goddess

Persant of Inde British
a Knight of the Round Table

Perse<sup>1</sup> British a maiden loved by Ector
She was promised to Zelotes but Ector took her from him.

Perse<sup>2</sup> Greek [Perseis]
a goddess of the underworld
one of the Oceanids
daughter of Oceanus and Tethys
consort of Helios

mother of Aetes, Circe, Pasiphae and Persees some say

Perse<sup>3</sup> (see Percival)

persea Egyptian
a tree of fate which bears heart-shaped fruit

Perseis (see Perse<sup>2</sup>)

Persephassa (see Persephone)

Persephone Greek [Fersefassa.Hecate.Hermione.Libera.
Persephassa.Pherpatta.Phersephatta.
Phersephone.=Roman Proserpina.Proserpine]
the name of Core as queen of the underworld (see also Core)

Persephone's Grove Greek
part of the underworld visited by Odysseus

Perseptolis Greek
son of Telemachus and Nausicaa,
some say

Perses<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Helius by Perse
He usurped the throne of Colchis, deposing Aetes, after Jason seized the Golden Fleece. He was killed either by Medea or her son Medus.

Perses<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Perseus and Andromeda
He grew up to be a great soldier and conquered much of the territory which came to be known as Persia.

Perses<sup>3</sup> Greek
son of Crius by Eurybia brother of Astraeus and Pallas husband of Asteria father of Hecate

Perseus Greek ['sacker'] king of Argos
son of Zeus by Danae husband of Andromeda
father of Alcaeus, Electryon, Gorgophone, Heleius, Mestor, Perses and Sthenelus
He was born as the result of a visit by Zeus, as a shower of gold, to Danae who had been imprisoned in a bronze tower by her father, Acrisius.
As a baby he was cast into the sea in a chest with his mother because his grandfather, Acrisius, had been warned that a son of Danae would kill him. The castaways came ashore on the island of Seriphos where they were sheltered by the fisherman, Dictys, brother of the king, Polydectes. When the king tried to force Danae into marriage, Perseus undertook to bring him the head of Medusa as a wedding present if he married Hippodamia instead.

Armed with a sickle from Hermes and a bright shield from Athene and wearing the Helmet of Invisibility borrowed from Hades he flew in winged sandals to the land of the Hyperboreans where he stole the eye of the Gaiae and handed it back only when they told him where to find the Gorgons. He decapitated Medusa with one stroke, using the shield to see only her reflection – a direct sight would have turned him to stone. At once, the flying horse Pegasus and the warrior Chysaor sprang from the corpse.

Perseus turned several people to stone by displaying the head, including Atlas and Polydectes who had been persecuting his mother, Danae, who had refused the king's offer of marriage.

It was Perseus who decapitated the sea-monster, Cetus, which was about to devour Andromeda who had been chained to a rock by her father Cepheus to atone for an alleged slight to the Nereids. He married Andromeda and the wedding feast was interrupted by Phineus to whom Andromeda had been promised. In the ensuing fight, Perseus again used the Medusa mask to turn the intruder and 200 of his followers, including Ampyx, Astyages and Thescelus, to stone. His own friend, Aconteus, was also petrified.

He inadvertently killed his own grand-father, Acrisius, with a discus hurled at the games and exchanged kingdoms with Megapenthes of Tiryns.

He gave the Medusa's head to Athene who carried it on her aegis.

In another story, Perseus attacked Dionysus, at the instigation of Hera, flying high in his magic sandals. As Perseus flew higher, Dionysus grew in stature until he reached the sky.
Only the intervention of Hermes prevented the god from destroying the presumptuous mortal.

Some say that he was killed by Megapenthes to avenge his father, Proetus, who had been turned to stone by Perseus.

When he died he was placed in the heavens near Andromeda and, in some accounts, was worshipped as a god.

Perseval (see Percival)

Persian Sibyl Greek

a prophetess

persica

a sacred rite in Gnosticism

Persids Greek

descendants of Perseus

Pertemhru Egyptian

a collection of sacred writings

These were said to have been written by Thoth and contain, among other things, detailed instructions on the passage to the underworld.

Pertolepe British

[The Green Knight]

a knight of King Arthur's court

He was defeated in single combat by Gareth who had ridden to the assistance of the lady, Lyonesse.

Peruda South American

a creator-god of the Tupi Indians

Perun (see Peroon)

Perunu (see Peroon)

Persan Slav

[=Bohemian Peranu.=Estonian Piker:

=Latvian Perkons.=Lithuanian Perkunos:

=Polish Piorun.=Prussian Perkonis:

=Russian Pyerun.=Slav Peroon]

a Bulgarian thunder-god

Peruten (see Kere'tkun)

Peruwa Mesopotamian

[Pirwa]

a Hittite horse-god

Peryne de Monte British

a knight

When he heard that Harleus had been killed by the invisible knight, Garlon, he joined forces with Balin to continue the quest that Harleus had been engaged upon but he was also killed by Garlon.

Perys de Foreste Sauvage British

a villainous knight

He used to wait in ambush to waylay young maidens. One of these enlisted the help of Lancelot who killed the ravisher.

Peshdadiaus Persian

a legendary dynasty

The exploits of these kings, said to have ruled some time before 600 BC, are described in the Shah Name.

Pet (see Amenti)

peta Buddhist

the Pali version of pret(a)

Petalsharo North American

a Pawnee hero

He is said to have prevented the ceremonial sacrifice of captives.

Petara East Indian

a creator-god of the sea-Dayaks

a name for Shiva

petasus Greek

the winged travelling hat of Hermes

Petbe Egyptian

a god of revenge

Peteos (see Peteus)

Peter de Roche

(see Bishop of the Butterfly)

Peter Klaus (see Klaus)

Peter Rugg North American

a wandering spirit in New England

For the blasphemy of swearing that a storm would not prevent him reaching home he was condemned to travel forever in his carriage between Boston and Hartford followed always by a thunderstorm.

Peteus Greek

[Peteos]

an ancestor of the kings of Athens

father of Menestheus

son of Orneus

Petipase of Winchelsea British

a Knight of the Round table

He was one of the twelve knights who helped Agravaïn and Mordred when they attempted to seize Lancelot in Guinevere's bedroom. All except Mordred were killed by Lancelot.

Petitcrieu British

a fairy dog

This tiny animal, said to have come from Avalon, was given to Tristram by Gilan. In other accounts, the dog was owned by the giant Urgar who was killed by Tristram so that he could get the dog as a present for Isolde.

Petra loa West Indian

malevolent Haitian voodoo spirits

This group of loa is said to be derived from spirits, etc. of San Domingo.

Petrashin (see Voinovitch)

Petrel North American

a water-spirit of the Tlingit

This spirit was the original guardian of fresh water but Yetl stole it to irrigate the barren earth.

Petro West Indian

a group of Haitian voodoo gods

(see also Dan Petro)

Petroc (see Petrocus)

Petrock (see Petrocus)

Petrocus British

[Petroc(k).Petrog]

a 6th c Welsh bishop and saint

He lived as a hermit on Bodmin Moor and was said, by some, to be one of the survivors of the Battle of Camlan.

Petrog (see Petrocus)

Petronius Roman

a 1st c writer, author of Troiae Halosis

Petruk East Indian

son of Semar

brother of Gareng

Petrus British

a companion of Joseph of Arimathea

He came to Britain with Joseph and converted the people of Orkney where he married Camille, daughter of the king, Orcant.

Petsuchos Egyptian

a crocodile god (see also Sebek)

Petya Slav

the cockerel personified, in Slav myths

Peucetius Greek

son of Lycaon

brother of Daunus and Iapex

He and his brother, having conquered the southern part of Italy, shared it between themselves.

Pey Ceylonese

a Tamil demon

These beings are said to drink the blood of the wounded or the dead.

Peysrap Cambodian

[=Hindu Vaishravana]

a version of Vaishravana

In some accounts, he takes the role of Kovero as ruler of the north.

Pftan British

a dragon overcome by Wigalois

Phaea Greek

the name of the Crommyonian sow

In some versions, she was the woman who kept the sow which, in other stories, was a boar, offspring of Typhon and Echidna.

Phaeaceans (see Phaeacians)

Phaeacians Greek

[Phaeaceans]

a mythical island race on Phaeacia

or Scheria

They were said to lead a life of great happiness, indulging in all forms of luxury. They owned ships that could guide themselves.

Phaedra<sup>1</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phaidra.Phedre]

daughter of Minos and Pasiphae

sister of Ariadne

second wife of Theseus

mother of Acamas and Demophoon

Aphrodite caused her to fall in love with her stepson, Hippolytus. When he rejected her advances she hanged herself accusing him of rape.

Phaedra<sup>2</sup> (see Hippolytus<sup>5</sup>)

Phaenna Greek

in some accounts, one of the Graces

Phaenon Greek

the first man, made from clay

by Prometheus

In some accounts he was the most beautiful youth made by Prometheus who kept the boy hidden instead of showing him to Zeus for his approval. This deception was exposed by Eros.

Zeus placed Phaenon in the heavens as the planet Jupiter.

Phaestus Greek

son of Talos, the guardian of

Crete

Some say that he was the father of Rhadamanthus.

Phaethusa (see Phaetusa)

Phaethon<sup>1</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phaeton.Phaithon]

one of the horses drawing the chariot of Eos

Phaethon<sup>2</sup> Greek

['bright'.Clymenus.Phaeton.Phaithon]

a son of Helius and Clymene

He is usually named as the son of Helius and Clymene but some stories have Rhode as his mother and Clymene as one of his sisters. Other versions say that he was the son of Cephalus and Eos. He persuaded his father to allow him to drive the chariot of the sun but lost control and came too low, scorching large areas of the earth and causing African tribes to turn black. Zeus slew him with a thunderbolt before he could do more damage. In some versions, Zeus had to send a flood to put out the fires caused by Phaethon.

His grieving sisters, Aegle, Lampetia and Phaetusa, whose tears became amber beads, were turned into poplars (or pine trees) and his lover Cynus, king of Liguria, who collected his mortal remains and buried them, was turned into a swan by Apollo.

Phaethon<sup>3</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phaeton.Phaithon]

son of Cephalus by Eos

He was carried off by Aphrodite whose priest he became.

Phaeton (see Phaethon)

Phaeton's Bird (see Cynus<sup>1</sup>)

Phaetusa<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Phaethusa]

daughter of Helius

sister of Phaeton

She and her sisters Aegle and Lampetia were turned into poplars (or pine trees) as they mourned the death of their brother, Phaeton.

Phaetusa<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Phaethusa]

one of the Heliades

daughter of Danaus and Clymene

mother of Myrtilus by Hermes,

some say

Phag (see Holi)

Phagrus Egyptian

a fish sacred to the Egyptians

- Phags-skyes-po Tibetan
the Tibetan name for Virudhaka as guardian of the south
- Phagu (see Holi)
- Phaidra (see Phaedra)
- Phaithon (see Phaeton)
- Phakael
[Phakiel]
a spirit associated with the Zodiacal sign Cancer, the crab (see also Muriel)
- Phakiel (see Phakael)
- Phaland (see Volund)
- Phalanthus (see Phalantus)
- Phalantus Greek [Phalanthus]
a Spartan said to have been saved by a dolphin
- Phalaris Greek
a tyrant of Agrigentum
He had a bronze bull made by Perillus in which he could roast his victims. The first to be put to this torture was Perillus himself. His subjects, appalled at his cruelties, finally rose up against him and he was killed in the same way that he had killed Perillus.
- Phaldor
a demon associated with oracles
- Phaleg
one of the 7 Olympic Spirits, ruler of Mars
- Phalerus Greek
son of Alcon
one of the Argonauts
- Phalgus
a demon of judgement
- Phallas Greek [Phallus]
a horse of Heraclius
- Phallus (see Phallas)
- Phan<sup>1</sup> Thai
[=Greek Oedipus]
His father abandoned his son as a baby, hoping to frustrate a prophecy that the son would kill the father. The child was found by Phrom who handed the boy to her sister Hom to be reared. He was given the name Phan and, when he reached manhood, killed his own father and slept with his own mother who, too late, realised that Phan was her son.
- Phan<sup>2</sup> Thai
a king who bred elephant-tigers
- Phanes (see Fan<sup>1</sup>.Iao<sup>1</sup>)
- phansigar (see thug)
- phantasm
[phantasma:plur=phantasmata]
an apparition
- phantasma (see phantasm)
- phantasmata (see phantasm)
- phantom
[fantom]
a ghost or apparition: experience of a vision
- phantom fellow
a person under the control of a goblin
- Phantom Queen (see Morrigan)
- Phantasos (see Phantasus)
- Phantasus Greek [Phantasos]
the god responsible for dreams of inanimate objects son of Hypnos
brother of Morpheus and Icelus
- Phanus Greek
son of Dionysus brother of Staphylus
one of the Argonauts
- Phaon<sup>1</sup> Greek
a ferryman
He ferried Aphrodite, who appeared in the form of an old crone, from Lesbos to Chios and was rewarded with youth and beauty.
His rejection of Sappho resulted in her death when she threw herself into the sea from a cliff-top.
- Phaon<sup>2</sup> Greek [Shiverer]
a bird-god
- Pharamond (see Faramon)
- Phariance British [Pharien]
a French knight
He and Lyonse met Ulfias and Brastias when the Britons visited France to enlist the aid of Bors and Ban on behalf of King Arthur.
He came to Britain as part of Ban's army but was later banished for murder.
- Pharien (see Phariance)
- pharmakoi Greek [‘medicines’]
the ashes cast into the sea at the festival of Thargelia
The ashes were originally those of two sacrificial victims but later were those of images made of dough. The ceremony was held to purify the city of Athens. (see also Pharmakos)
- Pharmakos Greek
ill-luck personified
When disaster struck, the practice was to select a victim from amongst the ugliest citizens (in reality, this was an image) which was then burned to put an end to the troubles.
(see also pharmakoi)
- Pharmen-ma (see Htamenamas)
- Pharzuph
a demon of fornication
- Phausius Greek
father of Apisaon
- Phayllios Greek
a leader of the Phocians
He is said to have seized the necklace of Harmonia from the temple of Athena to give to his mistress. Her son went mad and set fire to her house, destroying both his mother and her treasures.
- pheasant Japanese
a bird which is said to be the soul of a dead woman
- Phebele African
a primaeval male, created by Massim Biambe
He mated with the primaeval female, Mebeli, to produce the human race.
- Phèdre<sup>1</sup> French
a play by Racine telling the story of Phaedra and her step-son Hippolytus
- Phedre<sup>2</sup> (see Phaedra)
- Phegeus<sup>1</sup> Greek [Phlegeus]
king of Psophis
father of Arsinoe
When her husband, Alcmaeon, went mad and deserted Arsinoe, Phegeus and his sons killed him and, when Arsinoe protested, he sent her as a slave to Agapenor, king of Nemea. He was killed by Acarnan in revenge for the death of his father Alcmaeon at the hands of Phegeus and his sons.
- Phegeus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a Trojan son of Dares brother of Idaeus
He was killed by Diomedes at the siege of Troy.
- Phelim (see Felim)
- Phelis (see Felice)
- Phelot British
a knight at the court of the king of Northgales
He laid a trap for Lancelot and caught him unarmed when he climbed a tree to rescue the falcon owned by Phelot's wife. Lancelot broke off a branch of the tree, felled Phelot, took his sword and lopped off his head.
- PHEME Greek
[=Roman Fama]
a goddess
rumour personified
In some accounts, PHEME was the daughter of Elpis; in others, PHEME was male and another aspect of Ossa.
- PHEMEUS (see Phemus)

Phemios (see Phemus)

Phemus Greek

[PHEMEUS.PHEMIOS]

a minstrel at the court of Odysseus

He was spared by Odysseus when he slew the suitors of Penelope and was required to provide music at the celebrations that marked the hero's safe return after twenty years.

Pheneus Greek

king of Salmydessus

When the Argonauts paused in their journey to Colchis, he advised them in their future. In return, Calais and Zetes, drove off the Harpies who were harassing him.

Pheredin (see Kaherdin)

Pherepatta (see Core)

Pheres<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Jason and Medea

Pheres<sup>2</sup> Greek

son of Cretheus and Tyro brother of Aeson and Amythaon husband of Periclymene

father of Admetus and Lyncurgus

Phersephatta (see Persephone)

Persephone (see Persephone)

phi Thai

[=Burmese nat.=Pakistani neq]

a spirit of the dead

philamaloo bird North American

[filla-ma-loo.phillyloo]

a fabulous bird

Philammon Greek

a poet and musician

son of Apollo by Chione half-brother of Autolycus

father of Thamyris by Argiope

He was killed in battle by Phlegyas when the Orchomenans attacked Delphi.

Philander European

a Dutch knight appearing in

Orlando Furioso

Philandros Greek

[Philandrus]

twin brother of Phylacides

Both twins were abandoned at birth but survived when suckled by a she-goat.

Philandrus (see Philandros)

Philemon Greek

husband of Baucis

He was a poor peasant but he and his wife were the only ones to offer hospitality to Zeus and Hermes on their travels. While all their neighbours perished in a flood, they were rewarded with a wondrous new house which they tended as a temple to the gods until, in great old age, he and Baucis were turned into trees, he an oak, she a lime, growing from the same trunk, so that they were never parted.

Philip Greek

a king of Macedonia

husband of Olympias

father of Alexander the Great

Philippon British

a king of England

father of Meliadice

Phillipan Roman

the sword of Antony, a triumvir

phillyloo (see philamaloo bird)

Philochorus Greek

a 3rd c BC mythographer

Philoctetes<sup>1</sup> Greek

a famous archer

one of the Argonauts

son of Poeas and Demonassa

It was he who, on the orders of his father, set the torch to Heracles' funeral pyre and Heracles bequeathed his bow and arrows to him as reward. Others say that the pyre was set alight by Poeas.

He went with the Greek army when it sailed to attack Troy but was left at Lemnos, then uninhabited, when he received a severe bite from a serpent sent by Hera. Others say that he dropped one of Heracles' poisoned arrows on his foot. Keeping the bow and arrows given to him by Heracles, he managed to survive by shooting game. When Helenus foretold that only someone armed with the bow of Heracles could bring about the fall of Troy, Odysseus and Diomedes (or Pyrrhus, the son of Achilles) returned to Lemnos and persuaded Philoctetes to go back with them to Troy where he was cured by the army physicians Machaon and Podaleirius. In his first action at Troy he shot and wounded Paris who died soon afterwards. He left the siege before it ended and sailed to Italy where he spent the rest of his life.

Philoctetes<sup>2</sup> Greek

a play by Sophocles dealing with the archer's return to help the Greeks

at Troy

Philoetius Greek

a cowherd of Odysseus

He helped Odysseus in his fight with the suitors of Penelope.

Philogeia Greek

a horse of the sun-god

Philolaus Greek

son of Minos

Philomela (see Philomena)

Philomelus Greek

son of Iasion and Demeter,

in some accounts

brother of Plutus

He was said to have invented the plough or the wagon.

When he died, some say that he was placed in the heavens as Bootes; other say that this was Icarus.

Philomena Greek

[Philomela]

daughter of Pandion, Poseidon or

Teleon by Zeuxippe

sister of Butes, Erechtheus and Procne

Her sister Procne married Tereus but he preferred Philomena and, pretending that Procne was dead, persuaded Philomena to marry him. When she discovered his deception, Tereus cut out her tongue to prevent her telling Procne.

In another version, it was Procne whose tongue was cut out.

Whichever one it was communicated with the other by weaving a message into a tapestry. All three were turned into birds. Since Philomena was changed to the nightingale, a famous singer, it seems more likely that it was Procne who had her tongue cut out.

In other accounts, both girls melted away in their own tears.

Philomène West Indian

[Maitresse Philomène]

a Haitian voodoo spirit derived from St Philomena

Philonoe Greek

[Anticleia.Cassandra]

daughter of Iobates

wife of Bellerophon

mother of Deidamia, Hippolochus

and Isander

Philonome (see Phylonome)

Philosophine British

in some accounts, wife of Gales and mother of Percival

Philotanus

a demon of sodomy

Philotes Greek

desire personified

daughter of Eris

She was opposed to Neikos, a version of Aphrodite versus Ares.

philter (see philtre)

philtre

[philter]

a magic love-potion

Philyra Greek

one of the Oceanids

mother of Chiron by Cronus

She was seduced by Cronus who, when Rhea caught them together, changed both Philyra and himself into horses. The result was that her son turned out to be a Centaur, Chiron. In horror at the sight of her offspring, she prayed for deliverance and was turned into a linden tree.

Some say she lived with Chiron in his cave and helped him in his work as tutor.

Philyrides (see Chiron)

Phineas (see Phineus)

Phineus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Phineas]

king of Salmydessus

a prophet

son of Agenor and Telephassa

husband of Cleopatra and Idaea

father of Pandion and Plexippus

by Cleopatra

father of Maryandynus by Idaea

He married Cleopatra and, after her death, Idaea. She accused her two stepsons of attempted rape and Phineus blinded them.

Another story says that he took Idaea as his wife, not after Cleopatra's death but after he had shut her away in a prison. She was freed by Calais and Zetes who put her sons on the throne in place of Phineus and sent Idaea back to her own people.

He was blinded by the gods when he foretold the future too accurately for their liking or as punishment for maiming his sons and was harassed by the Harpies until Calais and Zetes chased them off.

Some say that he was killed by Hercules.

Phineus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Phineas]

son of Belus and Anchinoe

brother of Cepheus

He had planned to marry Andromeda but she was given to Perseus who rescued her from the rock to which she had been chained as sacrifice to a sea-monster.

He interrupted the wedding of Perseus and Andromeda and was turned to stone by the sight of the Medusa mask.

Phintias Greek

[Pythias]

a friend of Damon

He had been condemned to death by Dionysius, king of Syracuse. Damon stood as guarantor for Phintias while he settled his affairs. When he surrendered himself for execution, the king was so impressed by his loyalty to his friend, that he set them both free. He is often referred to as Pythias.

Phix (see Sphinx<sup>2</sup>)

Phlegethon Greek

[Pluriphlegethon]

a river of fire in Hades

(see also Pyriphlegethon)

Phlegon Greek

a horse of Helios

Phlegeus (see Phegeus)

Phlegra Greek

[Burning Lands]

a valley in Thessaly

This valley was the home of the giants and the site of the war between them and the gods.

Phlegyas<sup>1</sup> Greek

king of the Lapiths

son of Ares

father of Coronis and Ixion

When Apollo raped Coronis, Phlegyas attacked Delphi and killed Philammon. He was himself killed, either by Apollo as he attacked the shrine at Delphi or later by Lycus and Nycteus.

Phlegyas<sup>2</sup> Italian

the ferryman of the river Styx in Dante's Inferno

Phlius Greek

father of Dameon

Phlogabitus

a demon associated with adornments

Phlogius Greek

son of Deimachus

brother of Autolycus and Delion

He and his brothers helped Heracles in his ninth Labour and he later joined the Argonauts.

Pho-lha Tibetan

a local god of longevity and wealth

Pho-zem-na-po (see Jejamo-karpo)

Phobator (see Icelus)

Phobetus (see Icelus)

Phobos (see Phobus)

Phobus<sup>1</sup> Greek

['panic'.Phobos.Phoebus]

the god of alarm and panic

son of Ares and Aphrodite

brother of Deimus and Harmonia

He is one of three children born to Aphrodite, wife of Hephaestus, from her affair with Ares.

Phobus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[panic.Phobos.Phoebus]

one of the horses of Ares

(see also Deimus<sup>2</sup>)

phoca

a monster in the form of a scaly

sea animal

Phoceus (see Phocus)

Phocis (see Phocus.Pytho<sup>1</sup>)

Phocus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Phoceus.Phocis]

son of Ornytion or Poseidon husband of Antiope

Antiope, who had been driven mad by Dionysus when her sons killed his devotee, Dirce, came to the court of Phocus. He cured her of her madness and made her his wife. Some say that their children were Crisus, Naubolus and Panopeus. (see also Phocus<sup>2</sup>)

Phocus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Phoceus.Phocis]

son of Aeacus by Psamathe

half-brother of Peleus and Telamon

His father's wife, Endeis, had two sons, Peleus and Telamon, who were envious of their half-brother's athletic abilities. When they killed Phocus, Aeacus banished them from his kingdom of Aegira.

Some say that this Phocus is the same as Phocus, son of Ornytion.

Phoebe<sup>1</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phoibe]

daughter of Leucippus

sister of Hilaeria

mother of Mnesileos by

Polydeuces

In some stories of the death of Castor, she was carried off with her sister Hilaeria by Castor and Polydeuces. Their cousins, Idas and Lynceus, to whom they were betrothed, pursued them and Idas killed Castor who was hiding in a hollow tree.

Phoebe<sup>2</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phoibe]

a Titaness

daughter of Uranus and Gaea

wife of Coeus

mother of Asteria and Leto

Phoebe<sup>3</sup> Greek

['bright'.Phoibe]

daughter of Tyndareus and Leda,

in some accounts

Phoebe<sup>4</sup> (see Aegle.Artemis.Selene)

Phoebus (see Helios.Phoebus)

Phoebus Apollo Greek

Apollo as god of light

Phoenician Women

(see Phoenicians)

Phoenicians Greek

[Phoenician Women.Phoenissae]

a play by Euripides about the Seven

Against Thebes

Phoenicias Greek

a wind from the south-east quarter

Phoenissae (see Phoenicians)

phoenix<sup>1</sup> Arabian

[fenix:=Chinese Feng.Feng Huan.Feng Huang.Luan:=Egyptian bennu-bird: =Greek Arabian Bird:=Japanese hoo]
a fabulous bird

This huge bird immolated itself at intervals of about 350 years (or 500, 1,000, 1,461 or up to 7,000 years) only to rise again from its own ashes.

Another story said that, although the bird bred in Arabia, it flew to Greece to bury its parents.

It was said to feed only on dew and was described as having a purple body, a gold neck and a blue tail. Anyone who found one of its golden feathers was sure to have good fortune.

(see also simurg)

Phoenix<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Pho(i)nix]
a king of the Dolopians
son of Amyntor and Cleobule

When Amyntor took a mistress, Phoenix, at the prompting of his mother, seduced her. His father then banished him to Phthia where he became the tutor to Achilles and accompanied him to Troy. He survived the war but died on the journey home to Greece.

In another version, his father's concubine accused Phoenix of rape and his father blinded him. He was later cured by Chiron.

Phoenix<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Pho(i)nix]
son of Agenor and Telephassa
brother of Cadmus, Cilix, Europa, Phineus and Thasus

He and his brothers were sent to look for Europa when she was carried off by Zeus in the form of a bull and he never returned home. He became the founder of the Phoenicians.

Phoenix<sup>4</sup> Greek

[Pho(i)nix]
son of Adonis and Alpheisboea

Phoenix<sup>5</sup> Greek

a poem about the fabulous bird, generally attributed to Lactantius

Phoenix<sup>6</sup>

a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
This being is said to be able to teach poetry and the arts and appears in the form of a bird.

Phoenix<sup>7</sup> (see Ra-Atum)Phoenix Empress Chinese a ruler met by Chuang-tzu in his wanderings

Phogor

a demon said to take possession
of humans

Phoibe (see Phoebe)Phoinix (see Phoenix)Phol<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Poll]
a horse of Odin, in some accounts

Phol<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Poll]
a name for Balder

Phol<sup>3</sup> (see Vol)Pholos (see Pholus)Pholus Greek

[Pholos] a friendly Centaur
son of Silenus by an ash-nymph

While hunting the Erymanthian boar, Heracles stayed with Pholus in his cave. Other Centaurs, attracted by the smell of wine, attacked the cave and were driven off by Heracles. Pholus was killed when he accidentally dropped one of Heracles' poisoned arrows on his foot.

Phonci Greek

a deity, murder personified
offspring of Eris

phooka Irish

[pooka.pouke.puca:=English pucca.Puck:
=Norse puki:=Welsh pwca]

a mischievous hobgoblin

This hobgoblin, sometimes seen as an ass, a horse, a calf or a goat, or a combination of these, or as a ghostly black dog, is said to be a pre-Celtic deity, later downgraded.

Its favourite trick is to rise out of the ground between a person's legs and carry him off. At daybreak next day, the phooka throws his victim back, usually into the mud.

It is said that a phooka can give humans the power to understand the language of animals.

Phorbas<sup>1</sup> Greek

an Athenian hero

He was a companion of Theseus in his adventures.

Phorbas<sup>2</sup> Greek

a Phlegyan boxer

He challenged travellers en route to Delphi to a boxing match, killing them when he won. Apollo came in disguise and killed the killer.

Phorbas<sup>3</sup> Greek

king of Elis
son of Lapithes or Triopas

father of Augeas and Typhus, some say He was involved in the battle with the Centaurs at the wedding of Peirithous and Hippodamia and is said to have rid Rhodes of snakes.

Phorcides (see Phorcycdes)Phorcis Greek

goddess of the dead

Phorcus Greek

[Old man of the Sea.Phorcus.Phorcys.

Phorkus.Phorkys]

a sea-god

son of Poseidon or Pontus and Gaea or Nereus and Doris brother and consort of Ceto

father of the Echidna, the Gorgons, the Graiae and Ladon

In some accounts he is the same as Glaucus, Nereus and Proteus. Some say that he was the father by Hecate of Scylla and by Sterope of the Sirens, the Tritons and Thoosa.

Phorcus (see Phorcus)Phorcycdes Greek

[Phorcides]

the offspring of Phorcus and Ceto

Phorcys (see Phorcus)Phorkus (see Phorcus)Phorkys (see Phorcus)Phoroneus Greek

[Fearineus]

king of Argos

son of Inachus and Melia brother of Aegialius, Argus, Panoptes and Io

husband of Cerdo

father of Car and Coronis

In some accounts, he was the first man and is credited with the invention of fire and building the city of Argos.

In some versions, he fathered Apis and Niobe on the nymph, Teledice, but some accounts make Niobe his wife.

Phosphor (see Phosphoros)Phosphoros<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Eosphorus.Heosphorus.Phosphor(ous):

=Roman Lucifer]

god of light

god of the morning star

son of Astraeus or Cephalus by Eos brother of Hesperus

father of Ceyx

Phosphoros<sup>2</sup> Greek

an epithet for Artemis and Hecate as

'bringer of light'

Phosphorous (see Phosphoros)Phra (see Ra)Phra In Thai

[In:=Hindu Indra]

a god of wealth and king of the gods

It is said that, to reward the people for good living, he created three wells from which they could obtain anything they wished. When some started to steal, he sent two giants who erected a huge column, the radiation from which restored nationwide virtue but eventually the people reverted to their old ways and Phra In sorrowfully had the pillar removed.

He appears at the Songkran festival to indicate future trends. If he is armed, the year ahead will be turbulent, a torch signifies hot weather, a pot foretells rain and a wand indicates peace.

Phra In Suen Thai
the name for Shiva in Thailand

Phra Men Thai
a sacred mountain

Phra Narai (see Narayana<sup>5</sup>)

Phra Naret Thai
the name for Lakshmi in Thailand

Phra Sao Thai
a god of ill-fortune, ruler of the planet Saturn consort of Ananta Thewi

Phrasius Greek
a Cyprian seer
son of Pygmalion and Galatea
He was sacrificed by his uncle Busiris to avert drought.

Phratia (see Apaturia<sup>1</sup>)

Phratios Greek
a name for Zeus as head of the clan

Phre (see Ra)

Phren
the divine part of the Threefold Man

phrenology
divination by feeling the bumps on a person's head

Phrixus Greek [Phryxus]
son of Athamas and Nephele or Themisto
brother of Helle
husband of Chalciope
father of Argeus, Cytisorus, Melanion and Phrontis

His father's second wife, Ino, wanted Phrixus out of the way so that her own son could inherit the throne of Boeotia so she sabotaged the harvest and arranged for a message from the Delphic Oracle to say that only the sacrifice of Phrixus would secure the lifting of the plague.

In another story, his aunt Biadice fell in love with him and cried rape when he rejected her advances.

For one or other of these reasons, he was offered in sacrifice to Apollo by his father but was saved by Hermes and carried off with his sister on the back of a huge flying ram with a golden fleece, known as Chrysomallon, but Helle fell off into the sea (afterwards called the Hellespont) and was drowned. Phrixus sacrificed the ram to Zeus in gratitude for his escape. The fleece was hung off a tree in Colchis where it was guarded by a serpent that never slept and later became the subject of the famous quest by Jason and the Argonauts.

Phrixus married Chalciope, daughter of Aetes the king of Colchis, and, in some stories, was killed by Aetes who feared him as the stranger an oracle had prophesied would kill the king.

Phrom<sup>1</sup> Thai
an old woman

She found the son of Kong when he was abandoned.

Phrom<sup>2</sup> Thai
the Thai version of Brahma

Phrom-Kuman Thai [Boy-God]
a prince

Having received instructions in a dream, the young prince captured a white elephant which he rode in battle when he defeated the forces of Khmer.

Phronime Greek
daughter of Etearchus
mother of Battus by Polymnestus

Persuaded by his second wife, Etearchus gave Phronime to a merchant, Themison, and told him to throw her into the sea. Themison kept his promise but attached a rope to the girl and pulled her back to safety. She became a concubine to Polymnestus and bore him a son, Aristoteles, who was called Battus.

Phrontis Greek
son of Phrixus and Chalciope brother of Argeus, Cytisorus and Melanion

He and his brothers were shipwrecked but were saved from drowning when they were picked up by the Argonauts.

Phroo Thai
the Thai version of Bharata

Phrygian Bacchus Greek
a name for Iacchus by which he is distinguished from Dionysus, the Theban Bacchus

Phrygian Sybil Greek
a prophetess

Phryxus (see Phrixus)

Phtah (see Ptah)

Phthonos Greek [Zelos:=Roman Invidia]
a god of envy or jealousy

In some accounts, Phthonos, spiteful envy, is distinguished from Zelos, admiring envy.

Phul
one of the 7 Olympic Spirits, ruler of the moon

Phul Mata Hindu
a mother-goddess
one of the saptamataras

Phuphlans (see Fuphlans)

Phuon-omri Egyptian
a priest of Apis

phurbu Tibetan [p'ur-bu]
a nail or dagger made from wood or cardboard

This device, eight to ten inches long, is inscribed with magical phrases and is used by sorcerers to drive away demons.

Phyderi (see Pryderi)

Phyi-Sgrub Tibetan
a Lamaist god

a form of Yama

Phylacides Greek

twin brother of Philandros
Both twins were abandoned at birth but survived when suckled by a she-goat.

Phylacus<sup>1</sup> Greek
a king of Phylace
son of Deion and Diomedes

brother of Actor, Aenetus, Asteropia and Cephalus husband of Clymene
father of Alcimedea
father of Iphiclus, some say

In some accounts, Clymene later became the second wife of Cephalus who fathered Iphiclus.

Phylacus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a hero of Delphi

He and Autonous helped to save the city from the invading Persians.

Phylas<sup>1</sup> Greek
king of the Dryopes

When Phylas offended Apollo, Heracles overthrew him and enslaved his people, fathering a son, Antiochus, on Phylas' daughter.

Phylas<sup>2</sup> Greek
a king of Thesprotia
father of Astyoche, or Astydamia in some accounts

In some accounts, he is called Phyleus.

Phylas<sup>3</sup> Greek
father of Polymele

Phyleus<sup>1</sup> Greek eldest son of Augeas brother of Agameda and Agasthenes husband of Timandra

father of Mages
His father had promised to give Heracles a tenth of his herds for cleansing his filthy stables but reneged on the promise. When Phyleus supported the claim of Heracles, Augeas banished him from Elis and he became king of Dulichium. Heracles later wreaked vengeance on Augeas and he then installed Phyleus as king of Elis. In other accounts, Agasthenes became king.

Phyleus<sup>2</sup> (see Phylas<sup>2</sup>)

Phylla (see Psylla)

Phylleus Greek

a king of Thrace
father of Phyllis, some say

Phyllis Greek

a nymph
a Thracian princess daughter of Sithon or Phylleus,
king of Thrace

She was in love with Demophoon who had returned safely from the Trojan War but, when he left her to visit Athens, she killed herself, thinking that he would never return. She was turned into an almond tree.

In some accounts, she married Demophoon; in others, she married his brother, Acamas, of whom a similar story is told.

She is sometimes identified with Artemis Caryatis.

Phyllius Greek

a lover of Cynus
When he rejected Cynus, the youth threw himself from a cliff and was changed into a swan.

Phylonoe Greek

daughter of Leda, in some accounts

Phylonome Greek

[Philonome]
second wife of Cynus

Tenes was the son of Cynus by his first wife, Procleia. When he rejected his step-mother's advances, she told Cynus lies about his son that caused him to abandon both Tenes and his sister Hemitheia in a chest cast into the ocean. When Cynus discovered that Phylonome had deceived him, he killed her.

Phynnodderee Manx

a helpful fairy or goblin

physiognomy

divination from the shape of facial features

Physiologus Greek

a book of mythical animals

Phythalmios Greek

a name of Poseidon and Dionysus as a god of vegetation

Phytalus Greek

['planter]
guardian of the spirit of the fig-tree
He was a mortal who entertained Demeter and, as a reward, was given the fig-tree.

Phytios (see Phytius)

Phytius<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Phytios]
son of Orestheus

Phytius<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Phytios]
father of Ibycus

Phyto Greek

one of the Hyades, in some accounts

Pi-chia-na Chinese a 5th c disciple of Sakyamuni

He returned to earth to help mankind and was found in a hawk's nest by a woman, Chu, who reared him as her own. He became a monk and took the name of Pao-chih. He was reputed to have the power to be in several places at once.

p'i-han Chinese a type of dragon often used in effigy as prison guards

Pi-hsia Yüan-chun Chinese

[Chen.Holy Mother.Lady of T'ai-shan.
Madame Lady.Nai-nai-niang-niang.
Princess of the Motley Clouds.Turquoise (Cloud) Princess.Yü Nü.Shen Mu]
a female guardian spirit of childbirth

Pi Hsiao Chinese

one of the 3 Keng San Ku-niang sister of Chao Kung-ming and Ch'ung Hsiao

In the Battle of Mu, she was trapped in a magic box which, when later opened, contained only water and blood.

(see also Keng San Ku-niang)

pi-hsieh Chinese a flying animal like a lion with horns

Pi-hsieh Ch'ien Chinese

an ornamented coin used as a talisman to ward off evil one of the Eight Precious Things

Pi Kan Chinese

a 12th c mortal deified as Ts'ai Shen, a god of wealth
When, as a mortal, he criticised the emperor, he was killed and his heart was cut out.

In some accounts, the emperor wished to discover whether the heart of a sage has seven holes in it.

(see also Chao Kung-ming)

pi-pi Chinese a fox with wings which made a honking sound like a wild goose

piache (see peai)

piai South American

[pajé.pagé.piaiaman.piy.=Araucanian machi] a sorcerer of the Carib and Guarani peoples (see also lukuman)

piaiman (see piai)

piao (see ch'i-lin)

Piast Polish

[Prince Piast]
a wheelwright who became king of Poland

He was a poor wheelwright who generously entertained two strangers. It turned out that these men were angels and they kept their promise that his cellars would always be full of mead. They also helped him to become king.

piay (see piai)

Picmenius British

a fictitious king of England

Picollos (see Picullus)

Pict Scottish

a dwarf living underground

pictun Central American

a period in the Mayan time scale of some 8,000 years

Picullus European

[Picollus]
an underworld-god of Prussia

Picumnus Roman

a god of marriage
brother of Pilumnus
He was one of three deities present at the birth of a child to ward off any advances by Silvanus. He ground the grain while Intercidona chopped wood and Deverra did the sweeping.

In some accounts, he is the same as Picus. (see also Picus.Sterculius)

Picus Roman

['woodpecker]
a fertility god and god of agriculture

first king of Latium

son of Saturn

son of Pilumnus, some say

father of Faunus by Canens

He was betrothed to Canens but the nymph Circe fell in love with him. When he rejected her advances, she changed him into a woodpecker. Others say that he changed himself into a woodpecker and made oracular pronouncements or that he was the son of Pilumnus who proclaimed oracles by tapping on wood and was later turned into a woodpecker, the sacred bird of Mars. Some say that he helped the she-wolf to rear Romulus and Remus.

Picvu'cin Siberian
a god of the hunt of the Chukchee people

Pidrai (see Pidray)

Pidray Canaanite

[Pidrai]
a fertility-goddess
consort of Baal-Sapon mother of Tly

Pie (see Papa Pie)

Pié Angalo West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit

Pié Dumballa (see Damballah Wedo)

Pied Piper European

the man who rid Hamelin of rats
When the burghers of this German town refused to pay the fee he asked for ridding the town of a plague of rats, he played another tune on his pipe that enticed all the children of the town to follow him to the hill Koppenberg which opened at their approach and entombed them forever.

Some say that he was the god Odin in his role as leader of spirits.

Pielus Greek

son of Pyrrhus and Andromache brother of Molossus and Pergamus

Pien-ch'eng Chinese

the sixth of the Ten Yama Kings

Pien Ho Chinese

a minor deity, patron of dealers in precious stones

It is said that he presented two kings with pieces of jade. They, not knowing it was genuine, assumed that it was false and each of them cut off one of Pien Ho's feet.

Pier-le-pont European

the castle of Aymon

Pierian spring Greek

a spring on Mount Olympus associated with the Muses

The waters of this spring were said to confer poetic inspiration.

Pierides<sup>1</sup> Greek

[sing=Pieris]
daughters of Pierus

These nine maidens challenged the Muses to a contest and, being defeated, were changed into magpies, jackdaws or wrynecks.

Pierides<sup>2</sup> (see Muses)

Pieris (see Pierides)

Pierre French

[Knight of the Silver Keys]
son of a count of Provence

He fell in love with Magdelona when he saw her picture and set out to win her hand by knightly deeds. Rather than marry suitors chosen by her parents, Magdelona eloped with Pierre, taking with her all her jewels, including the ring Pierre had given her. The bag containing the jewels was taken by a raven which dropped it into the sea and Pierre nearly lost his life in an effort to retrieve it. Magdelona, thinking that Pierre had deserted her, sailed to Provence where she established a hospital on an island, tending the poor and the sick. Pierre's parents were confirmed in their belief that their son was dead when his ring turned up in the belly of a fish served at their table.

In fact, Pierre had been saved from drowning by a pirate-ship and sold to a sultan who treated him well and eventually set him free, giving him much wealth as a reward for faithful service. En route to Provence, Pierre was inadvertently stranded alone on an island and fell ill but was rescued by sailors who took him to Magdelona's hospital where he was reunited with his beloved whom he married.

Pierus<sup>1</sup> Greek

a king of Macedonia
husband of Euippe father of Oeagrus
father of Hyacinthus by Clío

His nine daughters the Pierides, were changed into magpies or jackdaws when they challenged the Muses and lost the contest. He fathered Hyacinthus on Clío, one of the Muses.

Pierus<sup>2</sup> Greek

a Thracian fighting at Troy
He killed Diore, leader of the contingent from Elis.

Pietas Roman

a goddess, respect personified

pig

a mammal with bristly skin and cloven feet, found in many parts of the world, sometimes domesticated for food

(1) In the East Indies, the Sumatrans say that the souls of the dead are incarnate in wild pigs.

(2) The Egyptians regarded the pig as unclean and capable of causing leprosy if eaten, except when used as a sacrifice at the mid-winter festival.

(3) In Greece, the pig was a sacred animal, said to have suckled Zeus.

(4) In Irish lore, the sea-god Manannan gave the Danaans pigs which, killed and eaten one day, were restored for the following day.

(5) Some North American tribes regard the pig, who lives, they say, on the moon, as a bringer of rain. (see also boar)

Pig Fairy (see Chu Pa-chieh)

Pig Island (see Muic Inish)

Pig-sty Welsh

a name given to Culhwch reflecting the fact that he was born in such a place

Pigeons Greek

a name for the priestesses of Zeus at Dodona

pigmy (see pygmy)

pigobara Pacific Islands

a bloody ghost

This spirit was regarded as the soul of a woman who had died in childbirth.

(see also puntianak)

Pigs of Manannan Irish

[Mucca Mhanannain]

food of the gods

These were pigs which, killed and eaten one day, were restored for re-use the next day.

They were one of the three gifts from Manannan to the Danaans; the others were the Feast of Giobhniu and the Veil of Invisibility.

In some accounts, these animals are the same as those given by Easal to the Sons of Turenn.

Pigsy (see Chu Pa-chieh)

Piguerao South American

a sacred hero of the Incas son of Guamansuri
twin brother of Apocatequil

pigwidgin

[pigwíggén]

a dwarf: a fairy

pigwíggén<sup>1</sup> North American

a fabulous animal

pigwíggén<sup>2</sup> (see pigwidgin)

Piker Baltic

[=Bohemian Peranu: Bulgarian Perusan:

=Finnish Pitkainen: =Latvian Perkonas:

=Lithuanian Perkonos: =Polish Piorun:

=Prussian Perkonis: =Russian Pyerun:

=Serbian Gromovit:=Slav Peroon]

an Estonian thunder-god

pikvahahirak North American

in the lore of the Karok tribe, the period before humans appeared

Pilan (see Guenu-Pillan)

Pilgrim Norse

a bishop

brother of Ute

Pilgrimage of the Chariot

(see Rathayatra)

Pilgrimage to the West Buddhist

[Hsi Yü Chi Journey to the West]
the Chinese book setting out the adventures of Tripitaka on his journey from China to India to learn the Buddhist doctrines

Pili Pacific Islands

a gecko-god
son of Tangaroa
husband of Sina

These two produced five children who are regarded as the ancestors of the Polynesians.

Pilirin Australian

a kestrel

When Kunmanggur dived into the sea taking all the fire with him, Pilirin showed the tribes how to make fire by rubbing sticks together.

Piliwale Pacific Islands

a Hawaiian king
brother of Lo-Lale

He sent his cousin, Kalamakua, on a voyage to find a suitable bride for his brother, Lo-Lale, in the hope of producing an heir to the throne, since he had no children of his own.

pillan<sup>1</sup> South American

a demon or devil: a soul of the dead

Pillan<sup>2</sup> (see Guenu-Pillan)Pillandoc

a patron spirit of pawn-brokers

It was said that, during an argument with Asmodeus, he knocked the demon to earth causing injuries that led to his being called the Devil on Two Sticks.

Pillars of Hercules Greek

[Herculis Columnae]

rocks set at the entrance to the Mediterranean by Hercules en route to seize the cattle of Geryon, now Gibraltar and Ceuta

One version says that the world was saucer-shaped with a rocky wall all round to keep out Ocean, the surrounding river. Geryon had climbed over the wall and swum to his island retreat and Hercules, searching for him on his fifth Labour, battered a gap in the wall and sailed through. The exposed sides of the gap are the Pillars of Hercules, now the Straits of Gibraltar.

Pilos Greek

a name for Zeus as guardian of moral law

Piltzintecuhtli Central American

[Piltzintecuhtli]

a sun-god

a name of Tonatiuh as Young Prince

In this role he married the daughter of Xochiquetzal and begot the first humans, Cipactonal and Oxomoco.

Other accounts say that he was the son of Oxomoco and Cipactonal.

(see also Tonatiuh)

Pilumnus Roman

a guardian-god of bakers and the newborn

brother of Picumnus

father of Daunus by Danae

father of Picus, some say

His symbol is a mortar and pestle.

Pilwiz (see Bilwis)Pilzintecuhtli (see Piltzintecuhtli)Pimentola Swedish

[Sarajas]

the gloomy home of the dead

Pimiko Japanese

a queen, one of the Kannushi

Pimplea Greek

[Thale(ia)]

a nymph

wife of Daphnis

She was abducted by pirates and sold as a slave to a king, Lityerses. Daphnis, who loved her, was challenged by Lityerses to a reaping contest but Heracles took his place, won the contest and killed the king. Daphnis married Pimplea and was made king of Phrygia in place of Lityerses.

In some accounts, her name is given as Thalia.

Pin-t'ou-lu-o-lo-sui-shih Chinese

one of the Eighteen Lohan

He is equated with the second Pindola.

(see Pindola<sup>2</sup>)Pin-tu-lo-po-lo-to-she Chinese

one of the Eighteen Lohan

In some accounts, he is equated with Pindola the Bharadvaja and is depicted as riding on the back of a tiger.

(see Pindola<sup>1</sup>)Pinabel European

a treacherous knight

son of Count Anselm

His wife had been carried off by Atlantes and he enlisted the help of Bradamante to get her back. He led her towards the castle in which his wife was held but when he discovered that Bradamante was a member of a family which his own people had long regarded as enemies, he abandoned her in a cavern from which there was no escape.

When Gano was tried for treachery, Pinabel was matched in single combat with Roland's squire, Thiedric, to determine Gano's fate. Thiedric won and Gano was condemned to death.

Pinahua South American

an Inca king

In one story of the origins of the Incas, the land was divided into four parts, each with its own king, when the waters of the flood subsided. One was Pinahua who took the west; the others were Colla, Manco Capac and Tocay.

In some accounts he is Ayar Oco.

Pinaka Hindu

Shiva's bow or trident

Pindar<sup>1</sup> Greek

a 5th c BC poet

He wrote a number of works celebrating victory in the various games instituted in memory of the great heroes, etc.

Pindar<sup>2</sup> European

an adviser to Charlemagne

This was the name taken by one of Charlemagne's Pleaid.

Pindola<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Pindola the Bharadvaja:

=Chinese Pin-tu-lo-Po-lo-to-she:

=Japanese Binzuku]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

one of the 4 Bikshu

He was said to have a very powerful voice and the ability to fly. His emaciated appearance was due to his diet – bricks and stones – which he had to endure as punishment for his sins in an earlier existence.

He is depicted with a staff and an open book.

Pindola<sup>2</sup> Buddhist

[Kanaka the Bharadvaja.

Kanakabharadvaja:=Chinese

Ko-no-ka Po-li-to-she]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

He is depicted as having a lot of body hair.

Pinebender (see Sinis)Pinel le Savage British

a Knight of the Round Table

a cousin of Lamerock

To avenge the death of Lamerock at the hands of Gawain and his brothers, Pinel planted a poisoned apple to kill Gawain at a dinner given by Guinevere for twenty-four of her knights. The apple was eaten by Patrise who died instantly and Mador accused Guinevere of murdering his cousin. After Guinevere had been saved from the stake by Lancelot who defeated Mador in single combat, Nimue proclaimed Pinel's guilt and he fled the country.

Pinenkir (see Pinikirz)

P'ing-i (see Ho Po)

P'ing-teng Chinese

the eighth of the Ten Yama Kings

Pinga<sup>1</sup> Inuit

a supreme goddess

Pinga<sup>2</sup> (see Durga.Kali)

Pingala Buddhist

son of Hariti

To punish Hariti, who seized and ate children, the Buddha hid Pingala so that his mother thought she had lost him for ever. When the Buddha returned the boy, she became a convert.

Pinikir (see Pinikirz)

Pinikirz Persian

[Pinenkir.Pinikir]

an Elamite mother-goddess

pinnaacle grouse North American

a fabulous bird

Pinnai Hindu

the Tamil version of Niladevi

(see also Nappinnai)

Pinner British

a king of England, in some

accounts

He was killed by Molmutius.

pinning

the black magic rite of pushing a pin into damp soil to prevent a man from urinating

Pinon South American

a culture-hero who became the constellation Orion

son of Temioui

Pinorante British

a knight

He was one of the 100 knights fighting for Lisuarte against 100 knights of the Irish king, Cildadan.

Piochan Irish

a noble

He entertained the scholar Anera on his journey to the castle of Cathal, the king affected by the Hunger-beast.

Pinon South American

a culture-hero of the Tupi Indians

son of Temioui

It is said that he became the constellation Orion.

Pintara Pacific Islands

a creator-god in Bali

Pinus Roman

son of Numa Pompilius

brother of Mamercus and Pompo

Piny k'nyal (see Were)

Piorun European

[=Bohemian Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:

=Estonian Piker:=Finnish Pitkoinen:

=Latvian Perkons:=Lithuanian Perkunos:

=Prussian Perkonis:=Russian Pirgene.

Pyrun:=Slav Peroon]

a Polish thunder-god

pipal (see bo tree)

pipalla (see bo tree)

Pipi Korovu East Indian

a magician

husband of Aro and Pora

He built himself a large butterfly, constructing it from cane, and flew to a neighbouring island where he met Aro and Pora. His magic allowed him to communicate with the girls in his dreams and he arranged to meet them again. He later married both of them.

Pipin (see Pipinoukhe)

Pipinoukhe North American

[Pipin.Pipoun]

a sky-god of the Montagnais people

brother of Nipinoukhe

He and his brother shared the rule as sky-gods, each ruling for six months of the year. Pipinoukhe ruled in the winter, his brother in the summer.

Pipiri Pacific Islands

the Polynesian name for Castor

Pipoun (see Pipinoukhe)

Pipru Hindu

a demon overcome by Indra

pipul (see bo tree)

Piquant (see Baron Samedi)

Piqui-Chaqui South American

[Flea-footed]

a servant of Ollanta

Pir-napishtim (see Utnapishtim)

Pirene Greek

a spring in Corinth

The flying horse, Pegasus, was drinking at this fountain when he was caught by Bellerophon.

Pirgene Russian

[Purgine Pas:=Lithuanian Perkunos]

a thunder-god of the Mordvins

piris Persian

[=Arab jinnee]

a spirit

Pirithoos (see Peirithous)

Pirithous (see Peirithous)

Pirogonia New Zealand

a hill, home of the fairies, sacred to the Maori

Pirsoyn (see Gusayn)

Pirua<sup>1</sup> South American

the celestial form of Manco Capac

Pirua<sup>2</sup> South American

mother of the maize-goddess

Mama Cora

Pirwa (see Peruwa)

Pisa, Rusticiano da Italian

a 13th c writer who compiled

Arthurian legends

Pisachas (see Pishashas)

Pisakas (see Pishashas)

Piscear

the twelfth sign of the Zodiac,

the fishes

The constellation of the fishes, known to the Babylonians as Nanu, to the Arabs as Hut, and to the Chinese as Tsen Tzu (the Pig) or Shuang Yü (Two Fishes), was said in classic mythology to represent Cupid and Venus who were carried off by fishes, or turned into fishes, to escape the monster Typhon.

Pisear Persian

a king

His magic spear was said to have come down to Lugh.

pisgy British in Cornwall, a night-flying moth

These moths are said to be the souls of the dead. (see also pisky.pixie)

Pishachas (see Pishashas)

Pishasha-Loki Hindu

the home of the Pishashas

Pishashas Hindu

[Paisachas.Pishachas.Pisakas.Pishachas]

malevolent woodland spirits

offspring of Kashyapa and

Kapisha

These beings are regarded as ghoulish demons of the graveyards, feeding on corpses. In some accounts, they are said to be able to enter the body of mortals. (see also Parna-Savari)

pishogue Irish

[pishrogue]

sorcery

pishrogue (see pishogue)

Pishumi North American

a Pueblo spirit of sickness and death

Pisistratus Greek

son of Nestor and Anaxibia or

Eurydice

pisky British

a Cornish name for a pixie

(see also pisgy)

Pison (see Halys<sup>2</sup>)

Pisonoe (see Peisonoe)

Pistios Greek

a name for Zeus as guardian of covenants

Pisuhand (see Puuk)

Pita Hindu

a Brahmin deity embodying creation, preservation and destruction

Pitaka<sup>1</sup> Buddhist any one of the 3 sections of the Buddhist scriptures

(see also Tripitaka<sup>1</sup>)

Pitaka<sup>2</sup> New Zealand
 a Maori hero
 He became famous for killing two of the huge ocean-dwelling monsters known as taniwhas.

Pitamaha Hindu
 a name for Brahma as 'Grandfather'

Pitane Greek
 a nymph of Sparta
 mother of Evadne by Poseidon
 She was raped by Poseidon and bore Evadne.

Pitao Cozobi Central American
 a Zapotec maize-god

Pitaona Persian
 a monster slain by Keresaspa

Pitar (see Pitri)
Pitara (see Pitri)
Pitari Hindu
 a consort of Shiva
 a navasakti
 an aspect of Kali

Pitazofi South American
 a servant of Naymlap who acted as his master's trumpeter

Pitcher North American
 in Algonquian lore, a rogue Gluskap caused Pitcher to be stuck in a tree and then turned him into a toad.

Pithastan Hindu
 the site of a shrine built in honour of Sati
 When Sati died, Shiva scattered parts of her immolated corpse far and wide. Where these pieces fell to earth, shrines in her honour were built.

Pitkainen Baltic
 [Pitkomoinen:=Bohemian
 Peranu:=Bulgarian Perusan:
 =Estonian Piker: =Latvian Perkons:
 =Lithuanian Perkunos:=Polish Piorun:
 =Prussian Perkonis:=Russian Pìrgene.
 Pyerun:=Serbian Gromovit:=Slav Peroon]
 a Finnish thunder-god

Pitkomoinen (see Pitkainen)
Pitri<sup>1</sup> Hindu ['father'.Pitar(a)] a spirit of the dead: an ancestor
 As in life, these beings are segregated into classes such as the vairagas and somapas. It is said that they live in the realm of Yama and feast with the gods.

Pitri<sup>2</sup> Hindu
 sons of gods

Pitri<sup>3</sup> (see Prajapati)
Pitri-Loka Hindu
 one of the 7 realms of the universe, home of the ancestors
 This realm is also referred to as Tapa-Loka.

Pitripati Hindu
 [Lord of Ancestors]
 a name for Yama in his role as the one who receives the souls of the dead

Pitriyana Hindu
 the way of the dead
 (see also Devayana)

Pitsanukukon Tbai
 one of the sky-lords, the Thens
 He came to earth when the flood waters receded and taught the new races the arts of metalworking and weaving.

Pittacus Greek
 one of the Seven Sages

Pittheus Greek
 a king of Troezen
 son of Pelops and Hippodamia
 brother of Troezen
 father of Aethra
 He made Aegeus drunk when he came to his court and allowed him to sleep with his daughter, Aethra, who became the mother of Theseus.

Pitu Salla South American
 guardian of Yma Sumac

pitua New Zealand
 a Maori demon

Pityocamptes (see Sinis)
Pityreus Greek
 a king of Epidaurus

Pitys Greek [Pytis]
 a pine-nymph
 Pan fell in love with this nymph but Boreas became jealous and hurled her to her death from a cliff. She was turned into a pine tree.

pixie British [pisky.pixy]
 a small, mischievous fairy who sometimes leads travellers astray
 To avoid being led astray by a pixie, one should carry a piece of bread or turn one's coat inside out.
 Pixies are said to take horses from their stables at night and ride them but a horse-shoe, nailed to the stable door, will keep them away.
 A girl affected by pixies is likely to drop things which will then chase after her. (see also piggy)

pixy (see pixie) Piyusaharana Hindu
 a god of medicine
 an incarnation of Vishnu

P'izlimtec (see Ah Kin Xoc)
Place of Seven Caves South American in Aztec lore, the place where the tribes which emigrated from their homeland, Atzlan, split up and went their separate ways

Place of Sleep (see Houhou)
Place of the Dark North American the underworld of the Klamath Indians

Place of the Reeds
 (see Atzlan.Sekhet-Aaru)

Place of the Sun Australian
 the site where the Djanggawul sisters and their brother landed when they came over the sea from the island of the dead

Place of Thorns (see Huitztlampa)
placenta (see afterbirth) Placia Greek
 wife of Laomedon, in some accounts (see also Strymo)

Placidus British
 a French knight
 He and Grastian were left in charge when Bors and Ban brought their armies to Britain to help King Arthur in his battles with the rebellious barons.

Plain Feather North American
 a young hunter
 He was taught the arts of the hunter by his guardian spirit, an elk.

Plain of Adoration (see Moyslaught)
Plain of Aei Irish
 the site of the battle between Donn, the Brown Bull of Cooley, and Whitehorn, the Bull of Connaught

Plain of Asphodel Greek
 part of Hades

Plain of Indoc (see Mag Indoc)
Plain of Muithemne Irish
 the site of Cuchulainn's fortress home, Dun Dealgan

Plain of Towers (see Moytura)
Plain of Two Mists
 (see Mag da Cheo)

Plain of Women
 (see Motlaba Basetsana)

Plaksha Hindu
 one of the 7 island continents
 (see Dvipa)

plaksy (see nocnitsa)
Plant of Immortality (see Ling Chih) Planctae Greek [Clashing Rocks.Wandering Rocks]
 rocks that could move of their own accord
 These rocks were said to close on and crush any ship passing between them, as did the Symplegades. Some accounts say that there were two sets of such rocks, one at each end of the Mediterranean.
 (see also Symplegades)

Plant Rhys Ddwfn Welsb
 the fairy inhabitants of an invisible island off the coast of Wales

These beings are said to be very tiny but they can grow to human size when they visit the world of men.

Plantina British

daughter of Elinus and Pressina sister of Melior and Melisande

Plastene (see Ino)

Play-eye West Indian

an evil demon

This being takes the form of a dog with eyes which seem to grow larger the longer one looks into them.

Plateia Greek

the Greek name for Prithivi

Plautus Roman

(c. 254-184 BC)

a dramatist

He wrote some twenty comedies, including Captivi and Amphitryon.

Ple Malay

a deity, companion of Karei

Pleasant Plain, The (see Mag Mell)

Plegrus Norse

a lover of Blenzibyl

In the Icelandic version of the story of Tristram and Isolde, he was killed by Kalegras who became Blenzibyl's lover, fathering Tristram.

Pleaid (see Charlemagne's Pleaid)

Pleiades<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Seven Sisters. Weepers:=Egyptian

Seven Hathors]

daughters of Atlas and Pleione or Aethra half-sisters of the Hyades

These seven daughters, Alcyone, Celaeno, Electra, Maia, Merope, Sterope and Taygete, were changed into doves and set in the sky as stars to escape Orion who had pursued them relentlessly.

Others say that they died of grief at the death of their half-sisters, the Hyades or when their brother Hylas was killed in a hunting accident. In this story, their number varies from seven to ten.

As descendants of Atlas they are sometimes referred to as the Atlantides.

(see also Hesperides.)

Nysaeen nymphs)

Pleiades<sup>2</sup> North American

[=Siberian Urgel]

a northern constellation

The Blackfoot tribe regard the stars as lost children who, through poverty, were compelled to seek refuge in the heavens. The Cherokee regard this group of stars as the home of the star-spirits, the anitsutsa, which the Huron refer to as Huti Watsi Ya.

The Inuits say that they represent a group of hunters and their dogs who chased a bear (the Great Bear) into the sky.

Pleione Greek

[Queen of Sailing]

a nymph, one of the Oceanids

mother of the Hyades and the Pleiades

by Atlas (see also Aethra)

Pleisthenes Greek

[Plisthenes]

son of Pelops or of Atreus and Cleolla son of Thyestes and Aerope, some say husband of Aerope

father of Agamemnon and Menelaus,

in some accounts

Plenorius British

a Knight of the Round Table

Pleuron Greek

son of Aetolus

brother of Calydon

Plexippus<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Thestius

brother of Althaea and Toxeus

He was one of the party hunting the Calydonian boar and objected when the pelt was awarded to Atalanta. For this, both he and his brother Toxeus were killed by Meleager.

Plexippus<sup>2</sup> Greek

son of Phineus and Cleopatra

brother of Pandion

His father took another wife, Idaeia, and put Cleopatra and her sons in prison. They were freed by Calais and Zetes who killed Phineus and put the brothers on the throne of Salmidessus. Plexippus and his brother later handed over the kingdom to their mother and joined the Argonauts.

Plisthenes (see Pleisthenes)

Plough, The (see Great Bear)

Ploughing Oxen (see Great Bear)

Plouton (see Pluto<sup>4</sup>)

Plumed Serpent (see Gucamatz)

plunkus (see dingball)

Plur n mBan Irish

[Flower of Women]

daughter of Oisín and Niam

Pluriphlegethon (see Phlegethon)

Plutarch Greek

a 1st c philosopher and writer

He wrote Parallel Lives, Romulus, etc.

Pluteus (see Hades<sup>1</sup>)

Pluto<sup>1</sup> Greek

a Titaness

daughter of Cronus and Rhea daughter of Himantes, some say

Pluto<sup>2</sup> Greek

one of the Oceanides, some say daughter of Himas

mother of Tantalus by Tmolus or Zeus

Pluto<sup>3</sup> Greek

a name of Hades as 'wealth-giver'

(see also Thanatos)

Pluto<sup>4</sup> Roman

[=Greek Hades]

a god of the underworld

son of Saturn and Ops

Pluto<sup>5</sup>

a demon

In black magic he is one of the Grand Dignitaries, lord of fire.

Pluton (see Plutus)

Plutus (see Plutus)

Plutus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Pl(o)uton.Plutos]

a god of wealth

son of Iasion by Demeter

brother of Philomelus

He was abandoned as a baby and reared by Eirene. He was blinded by Zeus who disapproved when he discriminated in favour of the righteous.

He is regarded as the guardian of underground treasures and is depicted as lame or, sometimes, with wings.

Plutus<sup>2</sup> Greek

a play by Aristophanes in which Plutus has his sight restored

Plutus<sup>3</sup> Roman

a god of wealth

Pluviators African

rain-making magicians of the Burundi

Pluvius (see Jupiter Pluvialis)

Plyteria Greek

a festival in honour of Athena

During this festival, statues of the goddess were washed and adorned.

(see also Callunteria)

pneuma

the universal soul or spirit

Po<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

['darkness']

the primaevial void

offspring of Ilu and Mamao

Po united with Ao to produce Rangima and Rangiri or, in some accounts, Tangaroa and Te-as.

In some accounts, Po is the underworld.

po<sup>2</sup> Chinese

a white horse with a single horn

Unlike the pai-ma, this beast had a black tail and the teeth and claws of a tiger.

p'o<sup>3</sup> Chinese

the spirit which maintains the body:

the physical soul

It is said that each person has seven p'o and three hun, another type of soul. The p'o remains with the body for up to three years but, if the proper respects are not paid at the funeral, the spirit can become a kuei.

Po Hsien (see Fugen)

Po I-kao Chinese

son of Wen Wang

His father had been put in prison by the emperor, Chou Wang, and he tried to persuade this evil ruler to release his father by sending costly gifts. The emperor's concubine, T'a Chi, made advances to Po but he rejected her. When he tried to tell the emperor of her wickedness, Chou Wang had him killed and chopped into small pieces which, made into pies, were served to Wen Wang in his prison cell.

Po I-kao was immortalised as the ruler of the polar constellation.

Po Lao-yeh Chinese

[Pai Lao-yeh.Mr White]

a minor deity

He, together with Hei Lao-yeh, is an assistant to Ch'eng-huang, the god of Walls and Moats, reporting on events occurring during the day.

Po-lo-to-shue (see Pin-tu-lo)

Po-shai-an-k'ia (see Poshaiyangkyo)

Po-shih Chinese a 2nd c BC priest

He arranged for the emperor to see the fabulous sea-monster, Chan, and also caused a bridge to rise out of the sea to allow the emperor to visit the land of the rising sun. When one of the emperor's entourage upset the god of the seas, the bridge sank back under the waves.

Po Ti Chinese

[White Lord]

a sky-god responsible for the west

Po-to-lo Chinese

[Tan-mo-lo-po-t'o]

the Chinese version of Tamra Bhadra

poc side Irish

an elf-shot

pochard

this duck features in Russian and Siberian lore as a god (if white) and a devil (if black)

Podaleirius Greek

[Podalirius]

a physician

son of Asclepius and Epione

brother of Hygeia, Machaon and Panacea

husband of Syrna

It was he or Machaon who cured the archer Philoctetes when he rejoined the Greek forces at Troy. His brother was killed but he survived the war.

On his way home to Greece, he was shipwrecked in Asia Minor and rescued by the goatherd, Bybassus. Here, the king's daughter, Syrna, had fallen from a roof; Podaleirius cured her injuries and married her.

Podalirius (see Podaleirius)

Podarces<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Iphiclus

brother of Protesilaus and Clymene

He was the leader of the Thessalians in the war with Troy.

Podarces<sup>2</sup> (see Priam)

Podarge Greek

['swift-foot']

a horse of Hector

dam of Xanthus

In some stories, Podarge was one of the Harpies who became the mother of Achilles' horses, Balius and Xanthus.

Podoga Slav

a god of air

podomancy (see pedomancy)

Poe Mpalaburu East Indian

a name for Vishnu in Sulawesi

Poema del Cid Spanish

a poem describing the exploits of the legendary hero, El Cid

Poeas Greek

[Poias]

one of the Argonauts

son of Thaumacus

husband of Demonassa

father of Philoctetes

In one story he is said to have killed the bronze giant, Talos, with an arrow. Others say that it was he, rather than Philoctetes who applied the torch to Heracles' funeral pyre and was rewarded with the hero's bow and arrows.

Poemenis Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis discovered Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Poemenis, tore him to pieces.

Poena Greek

[Poin(a)e]

goddess of punishment

Poeninus Roman

a Celtic mountain-god of the Alpine area

Poetic Edda (see Elder Edda)

poh (see ch'i-lin)

Pohja (see Pohjola)

Pohjanakka Baltic

the ruler of the Finnish underworld,

Pohjola

consort of Louhi

Pohjola Baltic

[Pohja]

in the lore of the Finns, the realm of the ice-giants

This realm, ruled by Pohjanakka and Louhi, is described as a village, home of spirits who cause sickness among the living. (see also Tuonela.Vuojala)

Poia (see Scarface)

Poias (see Poeas)

Poinae (see Poena)

Poine<sup>1</sup> Greek

a monster

When his son Linus was killed, Apollo sent this monster to avenge his death. Its function was to tear the unborn child from the womb of pregnant women or, some say, children suckled at their mothers' breasts, and eat them.

Poine<sup>2</sup> (see Poena)

Poison Dragon Japanese

a demon who lived in a well

He controlled the maiden Yayoi and forced her to lure people to their death in the waters of the well. The gods finally drove him out and Yayoi was freed from his tyranny.

Pok-ta-Pok Central American

[=Aztec Tlachtli]

a sacred ball game of the Maya

Poker Boys North American

spirits of the Pueblo tribes

Poko-ha-rua-te-po Pacific Islands

wife of Rangi, some say

Pokop Pacific Islands

a fisherman

When he tried to cook a fish on the fire emerging from a masalai, it exploded and he barely managed to escape from the angry spirit.

Pokunt North American

a supreme nature-spirit of the Shoshone

Pol<sup>1</sup> British

a Cornish saint chaplain to King Mark

When he left for Brittany, Pol asked Mark for one of his handbells but the king refused his request. Later, a Breton fisherman, cutting open a fish, found one of the bells inside and gave it to Pol.

Pol<sup>2</sup> (see Phol<sup>1,2</sup>)

Polamde Hindu

a goddess of healing

one of the 6 sisters of Shitala

(see also Shitala)

polecat Malay

this animal is regarded as an evil spirit

- Poldenica (see Poludnitsa)
- Polenitsa Russian
female warriors: Amazons
- Poleramma Indian
a plague-goddess of southern India
- Polevik Russian [Polevoi]
a field-god
- Polevoi (see Polevik)
- Polias Greek
a name for Athena as protector of Athens (see also Athenaia)
- Polidamas British
a Knight of the Round table
nephew of Yder
- Polieus (see Zeus)
- Polik Mana North American
a Hopi butterfly-spirit
- Polisson West Indian
a Haitian voodoo spirit
- Polites<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Priam and Hecuba
He was killed by Pyrrhus at the fall of Troy.
- Polites<sup>2</sup> Greek
a friend of Odysseus
He was stoned to death at Temesa for raping a maiden and his ghost, known as The Hero, haunted the spot and could be appeased only by the yearly sacrifice of a maiden.
This state of affairs ended when Euthymus, in love with one of the girls due to be sacrificed, drove the ghost into the sea and it was never seen again.
- Pollen Boy North American
a spirit who, with Grasshopper Girl, was set on Mount San Juan by Aste Etsan and Aste Hastin
- Pollux Roman
the Roman name for Polydeuces
- Polo African
a name of Were as the sky-god
- Polong Malay
a flying demon: a bottle-imp
When a person is murdered, a polong is created from the blood. The demon then lives on the blood of the owner who can order it to attack other people which it does in association with a pelesit which is created at the same time.
- Poloznitsa European [Poludnica:=Russian Poludnitsa:
=Serbian Psezpólnica]
a Polish field-goddess
She was said to punish those who damaged growing crops.
- poltergeist European [thorybism]
- a mischievous, noisy spirit alleged to throw things or move them about
- Polty Greek
a king of Aenus
brother of Sarpedon
He entertained Heracles after his ninth Labour.
- Polubos (see Polybus)
- Poludectes (see Polydectes)
- Poludeukes (see Polydeuces)
- Poludnica (see Poloznitsa)
- Poludnitsa Russian
[Polednica:=Polish Poloznitsa: =Serbian Psezpólnica]
a female spirit
She is said to play pranks on workers in the fields.
In some accounts she is a violent being whose mere touch causes death. Her preferred victims are children and women who have recently given birth.
- Poludoros (see Polydorus)
- Polunikes (see Polyneices)
- Polupemon (see Procrustes)
- Poluphem (see Polyphemus)
- Poluphemos (see Polyphemus)
- Polutu (see Hawaiiki)
- Poluxena (see Polyxena)
- Poluxo (see Polyxo)
- Poludnitsa Russian
a field-goddess
- Poluknalai Afghan
a Kafir goddess of animals
- Poluxenos (see Polyxenus)
- Polyanax Greek
a king of the island of Melos
He died with no heirs and the throne was given to Menestheus.
- Polyboea Greek
a goddess
sister of Hyacinthus
In some accounts, she is identified with Artemis or Core.
- Polybotes (see Polybutes)
- Polybus<sup>1</sup> Greek [Polubos]
king of Corinth
husband of Periboea or Merope
He raised Oedipus as his son when the boy was abandoned by his real father, Laius.
- Polybus<sup>2</sup> Greek [Polubos]
a king of Sicyon
son of Hermes by Chthonophyle father of Lysianassa
- Polybutes Greek [Polybotes]
one of the Earthborn Giants
son of Uranus and Gaea
He was killed during the battle
- between the giants and the gods when Poseidon threw part of Cos at him, generating a new island, Nisyros.
- Polycaste<sup>1</sup> Greek daughter of Nestor
wife of Telemachus, some say
- Polycaste<sup>2</sup> Greek
sister of Daedalus
mother of Talos
- Polycrates Greek
a tyrant of Samos
lover of Bathyllus
To forestall the ill-fortune prophesied by Amasis, he threw a valuable ring into the sea. Soon afterwards, he found the ring in the stomach of a fish. He was killed by Oroetes who envied his good fortune.
- polydaemonism [polydemonism] belief in supernatural powers (see also animalism, animism)
- Polydamas Greek
son of Panthous
brother of Euphorbus and Hyperenor
He was involved in the fighting at Troy and acted as adviser to Hector. He advised him not to meet Achilles in combat but was ignored.
- Polydamna (see Polydamnia)
- Polydamnia Greek [Polydamna]
wife of Thone
Her husband was a governor of the mouth of the Nile and it was said, by those who maintained that the real Helen was safely installed in Egypt during the Trojan War, that Polydamnia gave Helen the drug nepenthe to make her forget her troubles and her former life and also taught her the art of medicine.
- Polydectes<sup>1</sup> Greek [Poludectes]
a king of Seriphos
son of Magnes by a nymph brother of Dictys
Dictys had rescued the infant Perseus and his mother Danae from the sea when they were cast afloat in a chest by Acrisius. Later, Polydectes wanted to marry Danae and Perseus undertook to bring him the head of Medusa for a wedding gift if he would marry Hippodamia instead. In the event, Danae rejected him with the result that he harried both her and Dictys. Perseus brought him the head as promised and displayed it before Polydectes who was then turned to stone.

Polydectes<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Poludectes]
a king of Sparta
brother of Lycurgus

Polydectes<sup>3</sup> Greek
[Poludectes]
a name of Hades as 'he who receives many'

Polydectes<sup>4</sup> Greek
[Poludectes]
son of Phineus and Cleopatra
brother of Polydorus

In some versions these brothers are referred to as Crambis and Oryithus.

Polydegmon Greek
a name of Hades as 'grey man' or 'hospitable one'

polydemonism (see polydaemonism)

Polydeuces Greek [Amphion.Poludeukes:=Roman Pollux]
a horse-god
patron of bards and sailors son of Zeus (as a swan) and Leda or by her husband, Tyndareus and Leda brother of Castor and Helen

He was one of the party in the hunt for the Calydonian boar.

He was one of the Argonauts and accepted the challenge to a boxing match with King Amycus who had the habit of winning such fights and throwing the losers over a cliff. Polydeuces was a champion boxer and not only won the bout but killed his opponent.

When Helen was abducted by Peirithous and Theseus, he and his brother invaded Aphidnae where she was kept and rescued her.

He killed Lynceus in a dispute over some stolen cattle or when he and Castor abducted Phoebe and Hilaria and he fathered Mnesileos on Phoebe.

After the death of Castor they both spent alternate periods in Hades and on Olympus so that they could always be together.

He was deified by Zeus and set in the heavens with his brother Castor as the Twins (Gemini). In this context, they are usually referred to as Castor and Pollux.

Polydora Greek
daughter of Peleus and Antigone wife of Borus

mother of Menestheus by Spercheius

Polydorus (see Polydorus)

Polydorus<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Poludoros.Polydorus]
a king of Thebes
son of Cadmus and Harmonia husband of Nycteis

father of Labdacus by Antiope

Polydorus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Poludoros.Polydorus]
son of Priam and Hecuba
or Laothea, some say brother of Ilione

He was sent for safety to Polymestor, king of Thrace, who had married Ilione, a sister of Polydorus, when the Greeks attacked Troy but he was treacherously killed when he was burying some treasure. A grove of trees grew from the handles of the spears that killed him.

In another story, Polydorus was brought up by his sister, Ilione, as her own son, though some say that Ilione was his aunt, Hecuba's sister. She passed off her own son, Deipylus, as Polydorus and her husband, Polymestor, killed his own son in mistake for Polydorus who then induced Ilione to kill Polymestor.

Yet another account says that Polymestor took Polydorus to Troy and offered to return him to Priam in exchange for Helen. When the Trojans refused the offer, Polymestor killed the boy. Still others claim that Polydorus remained in Troy and, when he was old enough, fought the Greeks and was killed by Achilles.

Polydorus<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Poludoros.Polydorus]
son of Hippomedon
one of the Epigoni

Polydorus<sup>4</sup> Greek

[Poludoros.Polydorus]
son of Phineus and Cleopatra
brother of Polydectes

In some accounts, Polydectes and Polydorus are referred to as Crambis and Oryithus.

Polyeidus Greek

[Polyidos.Polyidus]
a seer of Corinth
a servant of Minos
father of Euchenor

Glaucus, son of Minos, was drowned in a vat of honey and Polyeidus was held to be responsible and locked in the room with the dead boy. He killed one of the two snakes that appeared but the second revived its mate with a magic herb. Polyeidus used the same herb to restore Glaucus to life, though some say that the boy was restored to life by Asclepius.

Minos then made Polyeidus teach Glaucus the art of prophecy before he would allow him to leave Crete. This he did but, as he left, he made the boy spit into his mouth, so taking away all the powers he had acquired.

It was he who advised Bellerophon to capture the horse Pegasus before attempting to kill the Chimaera.

Polygonus Greek
son of Proteus

He was killed by Heracles in a wrestling match.

Polyhymnia Greek

[Polymnia]
one of the 9 Muses, the Muse of song

Polyidos (see Polyeidus)

Polyidus (see Polyeidus)

polymasty

a condition resulting in the formation of additional breasts, said to indicate a witch

Polymede (see Alcimede)

Polymele<sup>1</sup> Greek

daughter of Phylas wife of Echeclus
mother of Eudorus by Hermes

Polymele<sup>2</sup> (see Alcimede)

Polymester (see Polymestor)

Polymestor Greek

[Polymnestor.Polymester]
king of Thrace
husband of Ilione

Hecuba sent her youngest son, Polydorus, to his court when the Greeks attacked Troy. He had the young Trojan killed for the treasure that he was attempting to bury to keep it out of Greek hands. At the fall of Troy, Hecuba was given to Odysseus and when she learned from him what had happened to her son, she attacked Polymestor, tore out his eyes and killed his children.

In some accounts, Ilione, sister of Polydorus, passed the youth off as her own son and saved his life at the expense of her son Deipylus who was killed by his own father.

In another version, Polymestor took the boy to Troy and offered him back to Priam in exchange for Helen. When the offer was refused, Polymestor killed Polymedes.

Polymetis (see Odysseus)

Polymnestor (see Polymestor)

Polymnestus Greek

a king of Thera
father of Battus by Phronime

Polyhymnia (see Polyhymnia)

Polyneices Greek

[Polunikes.Polyneikes.Polynices]

co-king of Thebes with Eteocles
one of the Seven Against Thebes
son of Oedipus and Jocasta brother of Antigone,

Eteocles, Ismene husband of Argia
father of Thersander
father of Timeus, some say

After the abdication of Oedipus, his two sons agreed to rule in alternate years. Eteocles refused to hand over the throne at the end of his year and banished Polyneices. Some accounts say that there were two other sons – Adrastus and Timeus.

When he led the Argives to attack Thebes he faced his brother, Eteocles, at the Hypsistrian Gate. They fought in single combat and each killed the other. Creon refused to allow the body of Polyneices to be buried but Antigone defied the decree and buried him secretly by night.

Polyneikes (see Polyneices)

Polynices (see Polyneices)

Polypemon (see Procrustes)

Polyphoides Greek

king of Sicyon
a prophet

Polyphem (see Polyphemus)

Polyphemus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Poluphem(os).Polyphem]
a king of Crisius
one of the Argonauts
son of Elatus

Polyphemus was left behind in Mysia when searching with Heracles for the missing Hylas. He became king of Crisius and was killed in battle with the Chalybians.

Polyphemus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Poluphem(os).Polyphem]
a Cyclops

son of Poseidon by Thoosa

He trapped Odysseus and twelve of his men in the cave where he lived when they came ashore on their way home from Troy. Four of them he ate but the others got away (by hanging beneath the sheep that shared the cave with him when he took them out to pasture) after Odysseus had made him drunk on wine and then blinded him with a fire-hardened stake. He seems later to have regained the sight of his one eye (perhaps as a result of Poseidon's power) and fell in love with a nymph, Galatea, who just teased him. She fell in love with Acis but even when Polyphemus killed Acis she failed to return his love.

Other versions say that this affair preceded his encounter with Odysseus.

Polyphontes<sup>1</sup> Greek

king of Messenia

He took over the throne of Messenia when Cresphontes was killed in a rebellion. He also took over Merope, the wife of the former king, who, with her son Aeptyus, brought about the death of Polyphontes.

He and Melampus were together when a snake bit one of his slaves. Polyphontes killed the snake and Melampus found its young and reared them, learning from them the speech of animals and birds.

Polyphontes<sup>2</sup> Greek

charioteer to Laius

He was driving Laius, father of Oedipus, when they came across Oedipus on the road. They failed to realise who he was and Polyphontes drove the chariot over Oedipus' foot. Oedipus, in a rage, killed both Polyphontes and his father, whom he did not recognise, together, in some accounts, with several attendants.

Polyphontes<sup>3</sup> Greek

a Theban soldier

In the war against the Seven, he faced Campaneus at the Electrian Gate.

Polypoetes<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Odysseus and Callidice

Odysseus travelled to Thesprotia after he returned from his wanderings and married Callidice, fathering Polypoetes. When Callidice died, Odysseus returned to Penelope, leaving his son as king of Thesprotia.

Polypoetes<sup>2</sup> Greek

son of Perithous and Hippodamia

He was one of the leaders of the Lapiths in the war against Troy.

Polyxena Greek

['hospitable'.Poluxena]

daughter of Priam and Hecuba

Achilles fell in love with her and they were betrothed during an interval in the fighting at Troy. It was then that Paris fired the arrow which killed Achilles.

In another account, she persuaded Achilles to relate the story of his vulnerable heel and told Paris who stabbed Achilles in the heel at his wedding to Polyxena.

In one version, Polyxena killed herself on his tomb in grief, in another she was killed on Achilles' grave by the victorious Greeks when the city fell.

Polyxenus Greek

[Poluxenos]

son of Agasthenes

He was a leader of the forces from Elis fighting at Troy.

Polyxo<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Poluxo]

wife of Tlepolemus

She hated Helen because her husband had been killed in the Trojan War so, when the ship carrying Menelaus and Helen called at Rhodes on the return journey to Greece, she attacked their ship. Menelaus placed a slave girl, disguised as Helen, on the deck and the Rhodians killed her.

In another story, Helen went to Rhodes after the death of Menelaus and Polyxo and was hanged by the followers of Polyxo. Some say that Polyxo strangled Helen.

Polyxo<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Poluxo]

nurse of Hypsipyle

She caused the women of Lemnos to kill their husbands who had left their wives because they gave off a foul odour brought on by Aphrodite who felt that they had neglected her worship. Polyxo later advised the women to mate with the visiting Argonauts to ensure the continuity of the race.

Polyxo<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Poluxo]

one of the Hyades, in some accounts

Pombado Indian

devil-dancers

These people claim to exorcise only the highest class of demon, the bhutas.

pomegranate<sup>1</sup> Greek

the food of the dead

It was alleged that Core had eaten the seeds of the pomegranate and she was required to spend some of her time in the underworld as a result.

pomegranate<sup>2</sup> Japanese

the symbol of Kishimono-jin, the protectress of children

Pomona Roman

the goddess of fruit and orchards wife of Vertumnus

She resisted the approaches that Vertumnus, in many different guises, made to her but finally relented and married him.

Pomonal Roman

a place sacred to Pomona

Pomonus Roman

[Pupdike]

an early Italian creator-god

Pomparles (see Perilous Bridge)

Pompilius (see Numa Pompilius)

Pompo Roman

son of Numa Pompilius

brother of Manercus and Pinus

Pon Siberian

[Pon-o'moc.Pon-ti'boi.Pon-yu'lec]

a creator-god of the Yukaghir people

Pon Okikurumi Japanese

[Aeoia Kamui.Ainu-rak-ku]

son of Okikurumi and Chikisani

He is regarded as the first man, ancestor of the Ainu, who descended from heaven.

Pon-o'moc Siberian

a name of Pon as 'he who became good'

Pon-ti'boi Siberian

a name of Pon as 'rain-maker'

Pon-yu'lec Siberian

a name of Pon as 'he who becomes dark'

ponaturi Pacific Islands

sea-fairies: flying ogres

Ponemah North American

the land of the hereafter in the lore of the Iroquois

It was to this land that Hiawatha sailed in his canoe when his work on earth was done.

Pongo Italian

a sea-monster of Sicily

pongyi Burmese

[=Pali therā]

a senior monk

Pono-Kamito North American

[Elk Dog.Moose Dog.Sacred Dog.

Spirit Dog]

in the lore of the Blackfoot tribe, the horse

When they first encountered horses, introduced into America by the Spaniards, they thought of them as large dogs.

Ponos Greek

a deity, toil personified

offspring of Eris

Ponphyoi Burmese

one of the original nats, created by

Chinun Way Shun

Pons Perilis (see Perilous Bridge)

Pontia Greek

a name for Aphrodite

of calm seas

and navigation

Pontiac North American

a chief of the Ottawa Indians

He is said to have related a tale of a brave who met a sky-god who urged the Indians to resist the Redcoats.

pontianak (see puntianak)

pontica

a stone said to have the power to repel demons or to conjure them up to answer questions

pontifex Roman

a high priest

In the temple of Vesta he was Pontifex Maximus, in charge of the vestal virgins who kept the sacred flame alight, and it was he who flogged those who allowed the flame to go out.

Pontos (see Pontus)

Pontus Greek

[Pontos]

a sea-god

son of Uranus and Gaea or of Erebus and Nyx husband of Thalassa

father of Briaraeus, Eurybia

and Nereus

father of Ceto and Phorcus, some say

pooka (see phooka)

Pookonghoya (see Poquanghoya)

Poopo South American

a sacred lake in Bolivia

Poor Leper (see Nanautzin)

poplar Greek

a tree of Hercules: the tree into which Hades turned the nymph Leuce: in some accounts, the sisters of Phaeton, grieving at his death, were turned into poplars

Poplifugia Roman

a festival in honour of Jupiter, held on July 5th

Popocatepetl Central American

an Aztec sacred mountain, site of the worship

of Tlaloc

Popul Vub Central American

[Book of Counsel.Book of Written

Leaves.Collection of Written Leaves]

Mayan sacred writings

The first section deals with the destruction of man by fire and flood and the war between the gods and the giants; the second deals with the killing of Hunhunapu and Vukub-Hanapu by the lords of Xibalba; the last part deals with the origins of the modern races.

Poquanghoya North American

[Little Smiter.Pookonghoya.

Pu'ukonghoya]

a Hopi war-god

a culture-hero

son of the sun-god

twin brother of Palongahoya

He and his brother Palongahoya were created by Kokyangwuti to protect humans from demons. These twins are the equivalent of the Zuni Ahayuta Achi.

Porcus Troit (see Twrch Trwyth)

Pora East Indian

daughter of Marupi

sister of Aro

wife of Pipi Korovu

Pore South American

[Pura]

a creator-god of the Indians of Guyana

Poremitius (see Porenutius)

Porenutius Slav

[Poremitius.Porevit.Porovitu]

a four-headed god, an aspect of Svantevit

son of Peroon

Porevit (see Porenutius)

porgu Baltic

the Estonian hell

Poro African

a Mende secret society for men

(see also Sande)

Poros (see Puru)

Porovitu (see Porenutius)

Porphyron Greek

['purple']

a leader of the Earthborn giants

son of Uranus and Gaea

He was killed by Heracles or Zeus in the battle of the giants with the gods or by Zeus for attempting to rape Hera.

Porrec (see Porrex)

Porrex British

[Porrec]

son of Gorbudoc and Judon

He quarrelled with his brother Ferrex over the inheritance of the British throne and killed him. His mother and her maids cut Porrex to pieces as he slept.

Porsena (see Lars Porsena)

Port-hozjin Baltic

[Ort-jozjin.Port-kuguza.

Port-kuvo.Port-oza]

a Lappish household spirit

This spirit, which appears as a dog, lives in the fireplace.

Port-kuguza (see Port-hozjin)

Port-kuvo (see Port-hozjin)

Port-oza (see Port-hozjin)

Porte German

son of Etzel by his first wife

brother of Sharpfe

Porthaon (see Portheus)

Portheus Greek

[Porthaon]

a king of Calydon

husband of Euryte

father of Agrius, Alcahous, Melas

and Oeneus
father of Laocoon, some say Portuguese Iliad European
a name for The Lusians

Portumnus Roman [Portunus:=Greek Melicertes.Palaemon]
a sea-god, god of harbours, husbands
He was originally the god of entrances.

Portunalia Roman
a festival in honour of Portumnus, August 17th

Portunes
fairies about half-an-inch tall
Portunus (see Portumnus)
Portzmach French

a king in Brittany
His story is the retelling of the story of Midas.

His ears were those of a horse. He was shaved by a friend and the friend told the riverbank. When reeds, gathered from the riverbank, were made into musical pipes, they betrayed the secret.

Poseidon Greek [Asphalios.Earthshaker.Enosichthon.
Enosigaitos.Hippios.Krenouchos.
Nymphagetes.Phytalmios.Poseidaon.
Poteidan:=Hindu Varuna:= Roman Neptune]
a sea-god, god of earthquakes and horses

one of the Olympians son of Cronos and Rhea brother of Demeter, Hades, Hera, Hestia and Zeus husband of Amphitrite

He was said to have married Medusa in the days before she became a monster and when she was killed by Perseus it was Poseidon who created the winged horse, Pegasus, and the warrior, Chrysaor, which sprang from her body. Amphitrite ran away from his advances so he persuaded Delphinus to plead his case and she eventually agreed to marry him. In gratitude, Poseidon placed Delphinus in the heavens as the Dolphin. Like many of the other gods, he had numerous liaisons with other deities and mortals and, amongst others, was the father of:

Aeolus by Melanippe
Aethusa by Alcyone
Agenor by Libya
Amycus
Anceaus by Astydamia
Antaeus by Gaea
Arion by Demeter
Belus by Libya

Bellerophon by Merope, some say Benthesicyme by Amphitrite
Boeotus by Melanippe Busiris by Lysianassa
Butes by Zeuxippe, some say
Cercyon, some say
Charybdis by Gaea
Chrysaor by Medusa
Chrysmallon by Theophane
Creatus by Molione
Curetes by Thalassa, some say Cycnus by Calyce
Dercynus
Despoena by Demeter
Edonus by Helle
Ephialtes by Iphimidia
Erechtheus by Zeuxippe, some say Eumolpus by Chione
Euphemus by Europa
Eurytus by Molione
Evadne by Pitane
Glaucus by Nais, some say Herophilus by Amphitrite
Hippothous by Alope
Hyperenor by Alcyone
Hyreius by Alcyone, some say Ialebion
Idas by Arene
Lelex by Lybia
Lotis
Lycus by Celaeno
Nauplius by Amymone
Neleus by Tyro
Nycteus by Celaeno, some say
Orion by Euryale, some say Otus by Iphimidia
Paeon by Helle
Pegasus by Medusa
Pelias by Tyro
Periclymenus
Persephone by Demeter, some say
Philomena by Zeuxippe, some say Polyphemus by Thoosa
Procrne by Zeuxippe, some say Procrustes
Proteus by Tethys, some say Pterelaus by Hippothoe
Rhode by Amphitrite or Halia
Sciron
Scylla
Theseus by Aethra
Triopas by Canace
Triton by Amphitrite

When Demeter, tired of his attentions, changed herself into a mare, he changed into a stallion and fathered the winged horse Arion. In similar fashion, he changed Theophane into a ewe to make her unattractive to other suitors and mated with her in the form of a ram to produce the golden-fleeced ram, Chrysmallon, that later rescued Phrixus and carried him to Colchis.

He killed the giant Polybutes during the battle between the giants and the gods.

When Pelops was reconstituted by the gods after being cut up and served as a meal to them, Poseidon carried him off to Olympus as his lover.

He owned a magic chariot with which he could drive over the surface of the sea and he lent this chariot to Pelops when he raced Oenomaus for the hand of his daughter Hippodamia. He also lent it to Idas for his abduction of Marpessa.

He was compelled by Zeus to serve as a slave to King Laomedon for rebellion and with Apollo, who was similarly punished, helped to build the walls of Troy. When the king reneged on his promise of a reward for their labours, Poseidon sent a sea-monster every year which caused havoc until a young maiden was sacrificed to it. The king's daughter, Hesione, was one of those offered in sacrifice but she was saved by Heracles who killed the monster. Later, he supported the Greeks against the Trojans during the siege of Troy.

It was he who caused Pasiphae, wife of Minos, to fall in love with the white bull he had sent to Minos, resulting in the birth of the Minotaur.

He is credited with giving the horse to mankind and with instituting horse-racing.

The trident, his weapon and the symbol by which he is recognised, was given to him by the Cyclopes.

He is depicted as bearded, wearing a crown of seaweed and carrying his trident. (see also Pylaochos)

Poseidon Hippios Greek
a name for Poseidon as a horse-god

Poseyemu North American
[=Keres P'ashayan'a:=Tigua Puspuyama:
=Zuni Poshaiyangkyo]
the first man in the lore of the Pueblo Indians
brother of Iyatiku

He was said to have been born inside a nut. (see also)

Hunt Chief.Poshaiyangkyo)

Poshaiyangkyo North American
[One Alone.Po-shai-an-k'ia.
Poshaiyankayo.Poshaiyankayo.
Poshaiyanki:=Keres P'ashayan'a: =Pueblo Poseyemu:=Tigua Puspuyama]

the first man in the lore of the Zuni Indians son of the sky-father Apoyan Tachi and the four-wombed earth-mother Awitelin Tsta
He is said to have emerged from the primordial slime and persuaded Awonawilona to allow men and animals to emerge from the underground caves in which they had been created into the sunlight.
He lives in the City of Mists, in a house guarded by the Prey Gods, and is regarded as the founder of the tribe and father of medicine-men.
Poshaiyankayo (see Poshaiyangkyo)
Poshaiyanne North American
a Pueblo shaman
He is said to have become ruler of the Sia by winning them by gambling. When he was later killed, he was restored to life by a feather. The Sia believe that he will one day return.
Posis Das Greek
a sky-god
a consort of Gaea
possessed
controlled by a spirit
possession
[energumenus]
The state in which a person is said to be controlled by a spirit, usually evil Postumius Roman
a leader of the Romans
He defeated the Latins at the Battle of Lake Regillus with the help of Castor and Pollux.
Postverta (see Carmenta)
Pot Tilter North American
a monster in the form of an old woman
This hag has a boiling pot which she can point at a victim who is then sucked into the pot.
Potaka Hindu
[=Chinese P'u-t'ò]
the Sanskrit name for the island home of Kuan Yin Potameids Greek
water-nymphs
Poteidan (see Poseidon)
Pothos<sup>1</sup> Greek
['desire'.Potos]
the god of friendly love, attendant on Aphrodite
Pothos<sup>2</sup> Phoenician
['desire'.Potos]
a primaeva male principle consort of Omichle
father of Aer and Aura

Some say he is the son of Aer and Chaos.
Potina Roman [Potua]
a guardian goddess of infants Potnia Theron Greek
a name of Artemis as 'mistress of animals' Potock-Mikhailo Ivanovich Slav
one of the bogatiri
He and his wife made a pact that, if one died, the other would commit suicide. Ivanovich's wife died first and was buried. Ivanovich waited in her tomb until the snake-demon appeared, killed it and restored his wife to life by rubbing her body with the demon's blood.
Potos (see Pothos)
Potrimpo (see Potrympus)
Potrympus Baltic
[Potrimpo]
a god of rivers and vegetation
Pots hosjik Russian [male=Pots-hozjin:=Lapp Luot-chozjit]
a female spirit, guardian of reindeer Pots-hozjin (see Pots-hosjik)
Potua (see Potina)
Pou-Matangatanga New Zealand
daughter of Tawheta third wife of Uenuku
When Henuka attacked her father's compound, she was captured and married the victor.
Pou Tere Rangī Pacific Islands
the entrance to heaven guarded by Kuwatawata
Poua-Kai New Zealand
[Poukai:=Arab Roc:=Fijian Ngani-Vatu.Ngutu-Lei]
a huge man-eating bird (see also phoenix.simurg)
Poudan (see Wodan)
Poukai (see Poua-Kai)
pouke British
an earlier (Old English) form of 'puck'
This goblin is said to have had a more malicious nature than his present-day counterpart.
Pourushaspa Persian
a priest of the haoma
in some accounts, father of Zoroaster Poverty North American
one of the 4 anaye left alive after the storm sent by Estanatlehi Powamu North American
a Hopi fertility rite
powder of projection
a form of the philosopher's stone Projection was the last of the twelve stages in the transmutation of metals.

A powder was thrown into the molten metal and was said to transform it into pure gold.
Power of the Two Lands (see Sekhemtaui)
Powerful One<sup>1</sup> North American
a creator-god of the Cherokee Dayunsi, who lived alone in the sea, brought up mud from the bottom. The Powerful One hung it on ropes and, when it dried in the form of the earth, many of the inhabitants of the overcrowded sky took up residence there.
Powerful One<sup>2</sup> South American
a vaguely defined supreme spirit in Tierra del Fuego (see also Great Ancestor)
Powerful, The (see Sakhmet)
Powers
an order of angels
In the Cabbala they are known as seraphs.
Poxlom Central American
a Mayan god of sickness
Ppiz Hiu Tec (see Ab Kin Xoc)
Prabhakari Buddhist
a goddess
one of the bhumis
Prabhasa Hindu
one of Indra's 8 attendant gods (dawn)
Prabu Makukuwan East Indian
a Javanese king, an incarnation of Wisnu
He is said to have married a female python, an incarnation of Lakshmi.
Pracanda Hindu
one of the 9 Navadurgas
Pracheta Hindu
[Prachestas] husband of Marisha
father of Daksha in a later incarnation
Prachetas (see Pracheta)
Pracriti (see Prakriti)
Prahana<sup>1</sup> Hindu
primordial matter (see also Prakriti)
Pradhana<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a mother-goddess
one of the 9 navasaktis
Pradipatara Buddhist
a goddess of light
Pradyumna Hindu [Dhanvantari] a love-god
a reincarnation of Kama
son of Krishna and Rukmini
husband of Rati father of Aniruddha
Shambhara stole the infant

Pradyumna and threw him into the sea where he was swallowed by a fish. Mayadevi found the child when she prepared the fish for a meal and reared him, falling in love with him when he reached manhood. Pradyumna killed Shambhara and married Mayadevi as Rati.

He later came to be regarded as an incarnation of Vishnu.

Praedator Roman
a name of Jupiter as 'snatcher of booty'

praestigiatores
the fifth order of demons, copying the miracles of the saints, ruled by Satan

Prag Jyotisha Hindu
a fortress built by Naraka in which he held thousands of women prisoner

Prah Alit Cambodian
the sun, controlling the lion, gold and Sunday

Prah Ankea Cambodian
the planet Mars, controlling the pig, blue and Tuesday

prah bat Cambodian
the Cambodian name for the Footprints of Buddha

Prah En Cambodian
the Cambodian name for Indra

Prah Eysor (see Hara)

Prah Hembopean Cambodian
a mountain
This area is said to be populated by a range of fantastic animals and is regarded as a refuge for ascetics.

Some say that Vessantara returned to this area which is also the site where the giant Yeak was defeated by Sanselchay.

Prah Keo Cambodian
a holy jewel

It is said that all things sprang from this jewel at the beginning of the universe. It may, perhaps, be a reference to the sun. (see Prah Phrom)

Prah Ket Cambodian
an unknown planet, controlling giants and gold

Prah Noreai-Naraya Cambodian
[Prah Noreay]
the Cambodian version of Vishnu

Prah Noreay
(see Prah Noreai-Naraya)

Prah Phrom Cambodian
the unformed, uncreated source of all things (see also Prah Keo)

Prah Prahas Cambodian
the planet Jupiter, controlling the elephant, red and Thursday

Prah Prohm Cambodian
the Cambodian name for Brahma

Prah Put Cambodian
the planet Mercury, controlling the donkey, light colours and Wednesday

Prah Rahu Cambodian
an unknown planet, controlling Kruthreach and yellow

Prah Sau Cambodian
the planet Saturn, controlling the buffalo, blue and Saturday

Prah Shan Cambodian
the moon, controlling the tiger, silver and Monday

Prah Sok Cambodian
the planet Venus, controlling the peacock, green and Friday

Prah Sumer Cambodian
the Cambodian version of Mount Meru

Prah Thorni Cambodian
the earth

Prahlada (see Prahlava)

Prahlava Hindu
[Prahlada] son of Hiranyakashipu father of Virochana
father of Bali, some say

His father became all-powerful and demanded that he be worshipped. Prahlava refused to give up his own god, Vishnu, and was tortured by his father who threw him into snake-pits, over cliffs and under the feet of elephants, all to no avail. When Vishnu, as Narasinha, appeared and killed his father, Prahlava took the throne.

Prairie Falcon North American
a hero of some Californian tribes who was said to have lost his eyes

Prajapati<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Angiras.Lord of Creation.Lord of Creatures.Lord of Progeny.Mriga.Pitri.Pitar.Purusha] a primordial creator from the mind of Brahma: a name for Brahma as 'Lord of Creation' father of Ratri and Ushas

He formed the cosmic egg from his own sweat and this egg, after floating for one year in the primaeval waters, split to form the earth and sky.

Alternatively, Prajapati was born from a golden egg which formed in the primordial waters. He uttered three words, each of which caused part of the universe to appear. These words are said to be bhur (the earth), bhuvar (the heavenly bodies) and svark (the sky).

He is regarded as the thirty-fourth god, the origin of the other thirty-three in the Vedic pantheon. One of these was his daughter, Ushas, goddess of the dawn, with whom he mated to produce all living things. Seven rishis (later ten or fourteen) created from the mind of Brahma, were all referred to as Prajapati.

(see also Daksha.Dhatri.Ka<sup>3</sup>.Mriga.Seven Rishis)

Prajapati<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a name for Hiranya-garbha, Indra, Manu Savitri or Soma as a creator-god

Prajapati<sup>3</sup> Hindu
sister of Maya
When her sister died a week after the birth of her son, the Buddha, Prajapati took the infant and raised him alongside her own son, Ananda.

Prajapati<sup>4</sup> (see Daksha)

Prajna<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [Prajnaparamita.Vidya:=Pali Panna]
the universal female force one of the 12 Paramita goddesses, foresight personified a sakti of Adibuddha
a consort of a Buddha or a bodhisattva mother of all the Buddhas

Prajna<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[=Pali Panna]
a name for Tara as 'perfect understanding'

Prajnantaka Buddhist
a guardian god
one of the Dikpalas, some say

He was guardian of the southern quarter of the world. (see also Yama)

Prajnaparamita<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
a body of Buddhist literature collected over many centuries

Prajnaparamita<sup>2</sup> (see Prajna<sup>1</sup>)

Prajnapati Jain
a goddess of wisdom
one of the vidyadevis

Prajnavardhani Buddhist
a goddess, literature deified one of the dharanis

Prakde Afgban
a local Kafir god

Prakriti<sup>1</sup> Hindu
the primitive matter from which the universe was formed

The life-force, Purusha, worked on the material, Prakriti, and together they formed the universe. (see also Pradhana<sup>1</sup>)

Prakriti<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Pracriti]

a goddess, nature personified consort of Purusha
She and her consort created the living world.

Pralumba Hindu

a demon, one of the Asuras
He assumed the form of a huge elephant and made off with Balarama who killed him by splitting his head open.

Pramanthi (see Agni)

Pramati (see Agni)

Pramlocha Hindu

a nymph
mother of Marisha
She seduced the sage Kandu and bore his daughter, Marisha.

Pramudita Buddhist

a goddess
one of the bhumis

Pramuni (see Durga)

Pramzimas Baltic

a Latvian culture-hero
He threw into the waters of the flood a nutshell in which two people escaped.

Pranas Hindu

the 10 senses or vital breaths
These were the five Jnanendriyas and the five Karmendriyas. With Atman, they represented the eleven sons of Rudra.

Pranasakti Hindu

a terrible goddess

pranava Buddhist

the name for the mantric syllable 'om'

Pranidhana Buddhist

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses,
effort personified

prapti Hindu

a psychic power which enables one to increase one's size without limit

Prasannatara Buddhist

a form of Ratnasambhava

Prasetas Hindu

a name for Varuna as 'all-wise'

Prasildo European

one of the knights imprisoned by Morgana and later released by Roland

Prasni (see Prisni)

Prasuti Hindu

a goddess
daughter of Manu
a consort of Daksha

Pratibhanakuta Buddhist

a bodhisattva

pratisamvit Buddhist

4 goddesses representing logical analysis

pratisarga Hindu

dissolution and recreation

Pratisvasudeva Jain

an evil spirit

Several of these beings, opposing Baladeva and Vasudeva, are said to appear in each earthly period.

Prativi (see Dewi Shri)

Pratiwi (see Dewi Shri)

Prativindhya Hindu

son of Yudhisthura and Draupadi

Pratyangira Hindu

a terrible goddess

Pratyusa Hindu

one of the 8 gods attendant on Indra (light)

Prawati Pacific Islands

the Balinese version of Parvati
(see also Parwati)

Praxidice Greek

[Praxidike]
a female deity of vengeance

In later years she took the form of a triple being, monsters like the Gorgons.

Praxithea Greek

a nymph, one of the Naiads
wife of Erechtheus

pray Cambodian

evil spirits of women who have died in childbirth

There are several types of pray including the khmoc pray and the ken pray, both connected with childbirth.

Prayers (see Litai)

Praying mantis African

a god of the Bushman and Hottentot

Preas Eyn Cambodian

[=Hindu Indra]
a god of the Khmer

He is depicted riding an elephant with three heads.

Preas Eyssam Cambodian

a destructive god of the Khmer

Preas Prohm Cambodian

[=Hindu Brahma]
a four-faced creator-god of the Khmer

Preceder North American

a creator and culture-hero of the Pueblo tribes
twin brother of Follower

(see Twins<sup>2</sup>)

Precht (see Bertha<sup>2</sup>)

Precious Flower Central American

an Aztec goddess
mother of Well Beloved She bore a son, Well Beloved, who died at birth and from whose body sprang many of the plants needed for man's survival.

Precious Raft Chinese

a vessel used to convey souls from one world to another

Precious Tree Central American

the form taken by Mayahuel when roused by the wind-god Ehecatl:
an aspect of Quetzalcoatl

In some versions, Mayahuel and Ehecatl united to form this tree while others say that the tree grew on the spot where they mated. This is a name for Quetzalcoatl, in some accounts, as one of those supporting the heavens at the start of the Fifth Sun.

(see also Precious Willow)

Precious Willow Central American

the branch of the Precious Tree which was owned by or represented Ehecatl

Preiddeu Annwfn
(see Spoils of Annwfn)

Prende Balkans

[Prenne]
an Albanian love-goddess consort of Perende

Prenne (see Prende)

Pressina British

a fairy
wife of Elinus
mother of Melior, Melisande and Plantina

She married Elinus, king of Scotland on the condition that he should never see her in the lying-chamber. He kept his promise and she bore three daughters but, when he later broke his promise, she left him and returned to her home in Avalon.

Prester John British

[John the Presbyter] a mysterious African or Asian priest-king
father of Anglitora, some say son of Feirefiz and Repanse son of Percival, some say

In some accounts, he is described as a son of Percival who was the half-brother of Feirefiz. Others say that, when the Holy Grail disappeared, it was transferred to the Far East and given into the care of Prester John.

In other accounts, he is said to have been a descendant of the Magi and owned magic stones that could cause various wonders such as turning water into wine.

In Carolingian lore, he was a descendant of Ogier and appears in Orlando Furioso. In some versions of that story in which Astolpho drove off the harpies, Prester John as king of Nubia, is the afflicted king, rather than Senapus.

His kingdom was said to contain a fountain, the water from which will confer eternal youth on those who drink it; a sea of sand in which fish live; a river of stones where salamander can be found; herbs to drive out evil spirits; dragons which could be tamed and used as aerial transport; stones which could restore sight to the blind or make the bearer invisible; other stones which could control the ambient temperature, turn water into wine or milk, or cause fire if sprinkled with dragon's blood; a glass chapel which expanded to suit the size of the congregation; a marvellous palace in which Prester John sleeps in a bed made of sapphire and which holds a mirror in which he can see any plots being hatched by evil-doers – the list of such marvels is endless.

Other stories describe him as the current guardian of the Holy Grail.

Pret (see Preta)

Preta<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Pret:=Pali Peta]

a wandering spirit of the damned
The mouth of such a being is so small that it can neither eat nor drink. They are said to look like trees that have been charred by a forest fire.

Preta is a purgatory, in some accounts, where souls undergo torture between death and rebirth.

(see also gaki)

preta<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Pret:=Chinese kuei]

a spirit of the dead
These spirits are said to be about the size of a man's thumb. The spirits of the good are taken up to heaven, those of sinners are judged by Yama.

(see also vetala)

Preta<sup>3</sup> Hindu

one of the 6 gati, the region of tortured souls

Preta-Raja Hindu

a name for Yama as king of the ghosts

Prey Brothers North American

priests of the Prey Gods drawn from the Coyote and Eagle tribes

Prey Gods North American

[Makers of the Path of Life]
deities with magic powers

There are six of these deities who guard the home of Poshaiyangkyo. They are given as Mountain Lion, guarding the north; Badger, the south; Wolf the east; Bear the west; Eagle the skies above and Mole, the earth below. Their priests are known as the Prey Brothers.

Prez-Poludnica (see Poludaitsa)

Priadan British

a giant
Bors de Ganis defeated this giant when the knight went to the aid of a damsel who was trapped on her estate and being attacked by forces, led by Priadan, who had been sent by her elder sister who sought to deprive her sibling of her lands.

Priam Greek

[Podarces.Priamos]
king of Troy
son of Laomedon and Strymo
brother of Clytius, Hesione, Lamos and Thymoetes husband of Hecuba
father of Agenor, Axion, Antiphus, Cassandra, Creusa, Deiphobos, Hector, Helenus, Ilione, Laocoon, Laodice, Paris, Polites, Polydorus, Polyxena and Troilus

father of Aesacus by Alexirrhöe Podarces was the only son of Laomedon to be spared by Heracles when he sacked Troy, during which he killed Laomedon and his family for failing to honour his promise to give Heracles two immortal horses in return for killing the sea-monster sent by Poseidon. Heracles put Podarces on the throne of Troy as Priam. He was king of Troy at the time of the Trojan wars and pleaded with Achilles to be allowed to remove the body of his son, Hector, who had been killed by Achilles. Although Achilles had spared Priam, Pyrrhus (Achilles' son) killed him when the city finally fell to the Greeks.

He was said to have had fifty children, nineteen of them by Hecuba. Others say that he had fifty sons by Hecuba and many other children by various other women.

Priam, King (see King Priam)

Priamond English

son of Agape
brother of Diamond and Triamond

Priamos (see Priam)

Priamus British

a Saracen
a Knight of the Round table
He was said to be descended from the Trojan hero, Hector. He fought Gawain who later helped him to become a Christian.

priapea Greek

[priapeia] poems in praise of Priapus

priapeia (see priapea)

Priapos (see Priapus)

Priapus Greek

[Priapos.'pruner':=Egyptian Min:
=Roman Mutinus]
god of gardens and fertility
son of Adonis, Dionysus, Hermes, Pan or Zeus by Aphrodite

When he tried to seduce Lotis, she ran away and the gods turned her into a lotus.

Priapus was worshipped particularly in Phrygia and is depicted as an ugly god with large genitals.

Pridwen (see Prydwen)

Pridwin (see Prydwen)

Priest Man (see Shiwanni)

Priest of Nemi
(see King of the Wood)

Priest Woman (see Shivanokia)

Primaeva Being (see Vishnu)

Primagenia Roman

the goddess Fortuna at Praeneste daughter of Jupiter

Primal Lord (see Adinatha)

primitive waters Egyptian

the primordial ocean, Nun

Prin-las-gyi-rgyal-po
(see Tin-le-gyi-gyal-po)

Prince Brochwell (see Brochmael)

Prince Brockwell (see Brochmael)

Prince Celestial Master
(see Chang Lu)

Prince Ivan Russian

husband of Vasilissa
He stole Vasilissa's feather-garment while she was swimming and later married her.

Prince Marko (see Marko)

Prince Ninigi (see Ninigi)

Prince of Darkness (see Ahriman.
Satan)

Prince of Demons (see Asmodeus)

Prince of Enchanters British a name for Merlin

Prince of Incubi (see Pan-Ephialtes)

Prince of Lies (see Ahriman.Pytho<sup>2</sup>)

Prince of Sun (see Gwawl)

Prince of the Earth (see Hou t'u)

Prince of the North Pole (see Pei-ki)

Prince of Underland (see Havgan)

Prince Piast (see Piast)

Prince Shotuko (see Shotuko)

Prince Siddhartha (see Buddha)

Princess Aiofe (see Aifa)

Princess Aya (see Aya)

Princess Goldborough

(see Goldborough)

Princess of the Coloured CloudsChinese*

a rain-goddess

She is said to sleep in a temple near the top of the sacred mountain, T'ai Shan, but is wakened each year at the start of the rainy season.

Princes of Carrion

(see Counts of Carrion)

Princess of the Motley Clouds

(see Pi-hsia Yüan-chun)

Princess of Succubi (see Lilith<sup>1</sup>)Princess Pritha (see Kunti)Princess Sanjo (see Sanjo)Princess Tasha (see Tasha)Principalities

an order of angels

In the Cabbala they are known as Elohim.

PrinsamourBritish*

father of Crystabel

He agreed to allow his daughter to marry her lover, Eglamour, only after he had killed the giant Marrock, a wild boar and a dragon. When Crystabel produced a son, fathered by Eglamour, Prinsamour banished them.

PriolasGreek*

brother of Lycus

Priory Oak (see Merlin's Tree)PriparchisEuropean*

a Polish pig-god

His function was to protect pigs at birth, after which they came under the protection of Kremara.

PripegalaSlavPrishataHindu*

a king of Panchala

father of Drupada

PrisniHindu*

[Pr(a)sni: 'speckled']

a primaeval earth-deity

wife of Rudra, some say

mother of the Rudras

In some accounts she, rather than Diti, was the wife of Rudra and mother of the Rudras (Maruts).

This deity is envisaged, in female form, as a dappled cow and, in male form, as a dappled bull.

(see also Prithivi)

Pritha

(see Kunti)

Prithi

(see Prithu)

PrithiviHindu*

[Dyava-matar: 'earth'. Prthivi:=Greek Gaea]

the earth personified

one of the Dikpalas, some say

consort of Dyaus, the sky

mother of Indra and Ushas, mother of Agni and Brhaspati, some say

She and Dyaus were forced apart by Varuna. As a pair, they are referred to as Dyavaprithivi. Some accounts say that she was the wife or daughter of Prithu, others that she was the consort of Indra.

She acted as the final arbiter in disputes and is sometimes depicted as a cow.

In some accounts, one of the five forms (earth) of Parabrahma.

(see also Plateia. Prisni)

Prithu<sup>1</sup>Hindu*

[Prithi.Prthu]

a Vedic emperor

son of Vena

husband or father of Prithivi

His father, a tyrant, was killed by his priests who, with the help of Agni, exercised the dead man's evil in the form of a black dwarf, Nishada, and then produced a new emperor, Prithu, from the dead man's right arm.

He became a sage who learned the secrets of the sacred syllable 'om'.

Prithu<sup>2</sup>Hindu*

[Prithi.Prthu]

a creator-god

an incarnation of Vishnu

He is said to have instructed man in the arts of agriculture.

PritiHindu*

a goddess

daughter of Daksha

consort of Kamadeva

a sakti of Vishnu

PriureBritish*

king of the sea

He sent a servant to the court of King Arthur with a cup that disclosed whether the person drinking from it was honest. Only Arthur passed the test. (see also Queen of Cyprus)

Priwen

(see Prydwen)

PriyadarsanaBuddhist*

a goddess attendant

on Buddhakapala

PriyamkaraHindu*

son of Panchika and Abhirata

PriyavrataHindu*

son of Brahma and Shatarupa

It is said that the earth was cut into seven continents by the ruts made by the wheels of his huge chariot.

Pro of IernesetirBritish*

in some accounts, a name used by

Tristram in Ireland (see also Tantris)

ProcaRoman*

a king of Alba Longa

son of Janus and Cardea or Carna father of Amulius and Numitor

Procel

(see Pucel)

Procell

(see Pucel)

prock

(see guyascutus)

ProcleaGreek*

[Procleia]

first wife of Cycnus

mother of Tenes

Procleia

(see Proclea)

ProclesGreek*

a co-king of Sparta

son of Aristodemus and argia

twin brother of Eurysthenes

Procne<sup>1</sup>Greek*

[Prokne:=Latin Progne]

daughter of Pandion, Poseidon or

Teleon by Zeuxippe

sister of Butes, Erechtheus and Philomena

wife of Tereus

mother of Itys

Procne married Tereus and they had a son named Itys but her husband fell in love with Philomena and went through a form of marriage with her pretending that Procne had died. In fact, he had incarcerated her in the slaves' quarters.

There are several versions of the story: in one, Philomena was Procne's sister, in another she was her aunt, the younger sister of Pandion. They all agree that Tereus cut out the tongue of one of the girls but in one case it is Procne, to prevent her from making her plight known to Philomena and in the other story Philomena is the victim when she threatens to make known Tereus' duplicity. The two girls do manage to communicate by weaving a message into a robe or a tapestry and, to avenge themselves on Tereus, Procne killed her young son, Itys, cut him up and served him in a stew to her husband. When he found that he had eaten some of his own son he would have killed both of them with an axe but the gods intervened and changed all three into birds. Procne became a swallow, Philomena a nightingale and Tereus either a hawk or a hoopoe. Since the nightingale sings but the swallow can only twitter, it seems more likely that it was Procne who lost her tongue.

In some accounts, both girls melted away in their own tears.

Procne<sup>2</sup>(see Procris<sup>2</sup>)Procoptas

(see Procrustes)

Procris<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Prokris]

eldest of the 50 daughters of Thespius and Megamede mother of twins, Antileon and Hippeus, by Heracles

Procris<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Procne.Prokris]

a nymph of Diana daughter of Cecrops or Erechtheus

by Herse or Praxithea wife of Cephalus

grandmother of Laertes, some say

At her marriage to Cephalus she gave him a javelin that never missed its mark and a hunting-dog, Laelaps, which Minos had given to her for curing him of an infection brought on by Pasiphae. She remained faithful to her husband after he had been carried off for some years by Aurora. He was later returned to her but she was killed by her husband with the unerring spear in a hunting accident.

Another story says that her father sacrificed her to ensure victory before setting out to do battle.

Procrustes Greek

[Damastes.Polupemon.Polypemon.

Procoptas.Prokrustes.Stretcher]

a giant outlaw

son of Poseidon

father of Sinis

Procrustes had the habit of offering accommodation to travellers, then killing them by stretching or cutting them short to fit his bed. Theseus killed him in a similar way, by cutting off his head.

Proculus, Julius Roman

[Julius]

a Roman senator

He claimed that the dead Romulus had appeared to him and told him that, since he had now been deified, he should be worshipped as Quirinus.

prodigy

a monster

Proteus (see Proetus.Proteus)Proetos (see Proetus)Proetus Greek

[Proetus.Proetos.Proitos]

king of Tiryns

son of Abas and Aglaia

twin brother of Acrisius

husband of Anteia

father of Argos, Galinthias, Iphianessa,

Iphinöe, Lysippe and Megapenthes

He ruled jointly with his twin but was soon expelled and fled to Lydia where he married Anteia, daughter of King

Iobates. He later recovered part of the kingdom and ruled as king of Tiryns.

It was he who purified Bellerophon after he had killed his own brother.

Anteia accused Bellerophon of attempting to rape her when he rejected her advances so Proetus sent him to his father-in-law, Iobates, with a letter in which Proetus asked Iobates to kill the bearer.

For an alleged slight to Dionysus or Hera, his three daughters were driven mad. Proetus agreed to share his kingdom with Bias and Melampus if the latter could restore their sanity.

In some accounts, he usurped the throne of Acrisius and was turned to stone by Perseus who displayed the Medusa mask.

Progne (see Procne)Proitos (see Proetus)Prokne (see Procne)Prokris (see Procris)Prokrustes (see Procrustes)Proollo (see Frolo)Promachus<sup>1</sup> Greek

a tutelary god

Promachus<sup>2</sup> Greek

son of Aeson and Alcimede

brother of Jason

The infant, born while Jason was away on the quest for the Golden Fleece, was killed by Pelias who dashed his brains out against the floor.

Promachus<sup>3</sup> Greek

one of the Epigoni

son of Parthenopaeus

Promachus<sup>4</sup> (see Athena)Prometheia Greek

a festival in honour of Prometheus

Promethean unguent Greek

an ointment made from the herb on to which the blood of Prometheus fell

This magic ointment was said to make the body invulnerable. It was given to Jason by Medea to protect him from the dragon.

Prometheus Greek

[‘forethought’]

a Titan

god of craftsmen

son of Iapetus by Clymene, Gaea

or Themis

half-brother of Atlas and Epimetheus husband of Asia, Calaneo, Hesione,

Pronoia or Pyrrha

father of Deucalion by Pronoia

He is said to be the creator of mankind, making men from mud, and their saviour when he stole fire from heaven and gave it to man. For this act of defiance, Zeus had him chained to a rock where, for 30,000 years, an eagle or a vulture pecked his liver by day only for it to renew itself every night. He was finally freed by Heracles who shot the bird. In some stories, a herb impregnated with some of the blood that fell from Prometheus’ mutilated body could make men invulnerable to fire and weapons.

The centaur Chiron was still suffering from the wound inflicted by the arrow shot by Heracles but, being immortal, could not die. Prometheus was allowed to assume the burden of immortality so that Chiron could die in peace.

He and Epimetheus fought on the side of the gods in their war with the Titans.

Prometheus was able to warn his son Deucalion of the forthcoming flood so that he and his wife Pyrrha survived.

Prometheus Bound Greek

a play by Aeschylus dealing with the punishment of Prometheus

Prometheus Unbound English

a four-act drama by Shelley

Promitor Roman

a god of agriculture

Promoe Greek

wife of Aetolus

mother of Calydon and Pleuron

Pronax Greek

son of Talau and Lysimache

Prone (see Peroon)Pronoia<sup>1</sup>

[Protennoia]

a Gnostic female primaeva being offspring of Yaldabaoth

Pronoia<sup>2</sup> Greek

wife of Prometheus

mother of Deucalion

In some accounts, Clymene, Pandora or Pasiphae takes the place of Pronoia.

Pronoia<sup>3</sup> (see Athena)Pronuba Roman

a name of Juno as the patroness of marriage

Propertius Roman

a 1st c BC poet and mythographer

Prophecies de Merlin French

a 13th c story about the works of the Arthurian magician

Prophecy of Britain

(see Armes Prydein)

Prophecy of Capys English

a poem by Macaulay

Propbetia Merlini British

a 10th c story of Merlin, written by Geoffrey of Monmouth

Prophetic Ecstasy of the Phantom, The

Irish

a book of stories including that of Lugh's appearance in the form of a horseman

Prorsa (see Carmenta)

Prose Edda (see Younger Edda)

Prose Lancelot Greek

a 13th c story about Lancelot

Prose Merlin

stories in English and French about the life of Merlin

Prose Tristram French

a 13th c story about Tristram and Isolde

Proserpina Roman

[Proserpine:=Greek Core.Persephone] goddess of the underworld daughter of Jupiter and Ceres wife of Pluto

Proserpine<sup>1</sup>

a female demon

In black magic, one of the Grand Dignitaries, ruler of evil spirits.

Proserpine<sup>2</sup> (see Proserpina)

Protarchontes

a Gnostic prince-god

Prote Greek

daughter of Helios and Rhode sister of Phaeton

When Phaeton was killed when driving his father's sun-chariot, Prote and her sisters, grieving at his death, were all turned into poplars (or pine trees). Their tears turned to amber beads.

Protennoia (see Pronoia)

Protesilaus Greek

a king of Phylace son of Iphiclus and Astyoche brother of Podarces husband of Laodamia uncle of Philoctetes

He was the first man ashore when the Greeks invaded Troy and was very soon killed by Achates. The gods admired his courage and sent Hermes to bring him back from Hades to see his grieving wife. She refused to be parted from him a second time and killed herself so that they might both be together in Hades.

Another story says that she became obsessed with an image of her dead husband and, when her father burned the image, she immolated herself on its pyre.

Proteus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Carpathian Wizard.'first one'.Old Man of the Sea.Proteus]

a sea-god

son of Poseidon and Tethys, some say

father of Idothea, Theoclymenus and Theonoe by Psamathe father of Polygonus and Telegonus, some say

Proteus was a rather lazy god who spent much of his time lying on the shore with the seals. He had the ability to foretell the future but would never do so willingly. Since he also had the power to change shape at will, it was hard to shake the truth out of him. A few, such as Menelaus and Aristaeus, were able to hold him long enough to make him deliver the prophecies they were seeking.

In some accounts he is the same as Glaucus, Nereus and Phorcus.

(see Proteus<sup>2</sup>)

Proteus<sup>2</sup> Greek

a king of Egypt

In one version of the story of Helen, he substituted a spirit who went to Troy with Paris while the real Helen was brought by Hermes (or, some say, by Paris) and kept safely in a cave in Egypt until her husband, Menelaus, came back from Troy.

In some accounts, he is the same as Proteus the sea-god.

Protogenia Greek

a dawn-goddess mistress of Zeus

Protogonia Greek

daughter of Erechtheus and Praxithea When Athens was invaded by Eumolpus, her father, the king, was told to sacrifice Otionia, one of his seven daughters. Protogonia and another daughter, Pandora, sacrificed themselves as well.

Protogonos<sup>1</sup> Greek

cosmic generative power, born from an egg

Protogonos<sup>2</sup> Greek

a name for Eros as 'firstborn' or as a creator

Protogonos<sup>3</sup> Phoenician

son of Kolpia and Baau brother of Aion

Proud One of the Clearing Welsh

a knight

He thought that Peredur had seduced his wife so he challenged him to single combat and was defeated.

Proud Ones (see Danaans)

Providentia Roman

a goddess of prudence

Proximae Roman

a group of Celtic guardian goddesses

Prsni (see Prismi)

Prthivi (see Prithivi)

Prthu (see Prithu)

Prydein British

son of Aedh

He led an army out of Cornwall and conquered the whole of Britain. His name was used as an early name for Britain.

Pryderi Welsh

[Guri.Gwri.Phyderi]

a prince of Dyfed

son of Pwyll and Rhiannon

husband of Cigfa

A few days after Pwyll's son was born it disappeared and Rhiannon was accused of having eaten it when in fact, the boy had been stolen and left at the stable of Teyrnnon who christened him Gwri Golden-hair and reared him. A few years later, Teyrnnon learned the truth and returned the boy to his rightful parents who called him Pryderi.

When Manawydan, one of the seven survivors, returned from Ireland where he had taken part in Bran's expedition to rescue his sister Branwen from the hands of Matholwch, he married the aging but still beautiful widow, Rhiannon, Pryderi's mother. When all the things in Wales started mysteriously to disappear, Pryderi and his wife Cigfa, together with Manawydan and Rhiannon, went to England where they all worked at various trades but, rousing the enmity of local tradesmen, soon returned to Wales. Pryderi and Rhiannon mysteriously disappeared and when Manawydan set up in farming his land was overrun by a plague of mice. He caught the largest mouse and was about to hang it when a bishop offered a large ransom for the mouse who was in fact his wife. The 'bishop' was the magician Llwyd who had put a spell on the countryside to avenge the rejection of Gwawl who had been a suitor for the hand of Rhiannon at the time she had married Pwyll. With the mouse freed and restored as the magician's wife, the spell was lifted, Pryderi and Rhiannon reappeared and life returned to normal.

Pryderi owned a herd of marvellous pigs and when Gwydion and Gilfaethwy offered him a herd of horses and greyhounds in exchange he agreed to the deal but soon discovered that these animals were an illusion created by the magic of Gwydion and he marched on Gwynedd to recover the pigs which Gwydion had given to the king, Math. In the ensuing struggle, Pryderi was killed by Gwydion in single combat.

In another version, the duel was a contest in shape-changing which ended when Pryderi finally became a salmon and swam away.

Prydwen British

[Pri(d)wen.Pridwin.Prytwenn]

King Arthur's ship

In some accounts, it was Arthur's shield which is otherwise known as Wynebgrwthucher.

Prytwenn (see Prydwen)

Psais Greek

[=Arab Sai'Al Qaum:=Egyptian Sai]

a guardian god

Psamathe Greek

a nymph, one of the Nereids

daughter of Crotopus daughter of Nereus, some say

mother of Phocus by Aeacus, some say mother of Idothea, Theoclymenus and Theonoe by Proteus

mother of Linus by Apollo, some say

She was condemned to death by her father when he learned of her affair with Apollo.

Psammeticos Greek

a king

An eagle carried off the sandal of the slave, Rhodopsis, and dropped it in the king's lap. When he discovered the owner of the sandal, he married her.

Psaphon Roman

a man who trained many birds to speak his name

Psezpolnica Serbian

[Lady Midday:=Polish Poloznitsa:

=Russian Poludnitsa]

a field-spirit which harasses workers

Psilas (see Bacchus)

Psille African

[Psilli:=Greek Ophiogenes]

a race of people who, by mere touch,

could cure victims of snakebite

Psilli (see Psille)

Pskegdemus North American

a swamp-spirit of the Penobscot

Indians of Maine

This spirit is said to wait outside the tribe's camp, trying to entice children and men.

Psukhe (see Psyche)

Psychagogue (see Psychopomp<sup>1</sup>)

Psyche<sup>1</sup> Roman

[Psukhe.'soul']

a princess of Sicily

wife of Cupid

mother of Voluptas

A beautiful maiden who incurred the wrath of Venus when all men paid her more attention than the goddess. Venus asked Cupid to make Psyche fall in love with some monster but, instead, Cupid fell in love with Psyche. When no man offered to marry her, the Delphic Oracle decreed that she should be placed on a bleak mountain-top to await the serpent who would be her husband.

In another version, Psyche threw herself from a mountain-top to escape harassment by Venus.

In either case, she was wafted away from the mountain-top by the west wind, Zephyr, and found herself in a wonderful palace where she lived happily with Cupid whom she never saw since he came to her only at night, until her two sisters persuaded her that her husband was in fact a serpent. She lit a lamp when he was asleep and Cupid immediately left her for violating a trust. Psyche again tried to kill herself by drowning but was saved by the river-god. She served as slave to Venus, doing many near-impossible tasks such as sorting out a pile of different grains, collecting wool from man-eating sheep, bringing water from the Styx and fetching a jar (said to contain beauty) from Persephone in Hades.

She was eventually reunited with Cupid who took her up to Olympus where she was deified and accepted by Venus as her daughter-in-law.

psyche<sup>2</sup>

[psukhe]

the human spirit: the soul: the soul

as a butterfly

psychic force

a supposed force causing various spiritualistic phenomena

psychism

the doctrine that postulates a universal soul

Psychogogue (see Psychopomp<sup>1</sup>)

psychogony

origins and development of the soul or spirit

psychograph (see psychogram)

psychogram

[psychograph]

a writing alleged to have been made by a spirit

psychography

spirit-writing

psychokinesis

movement of physical objects supposed to be caused by spirit agencies

psychomerc

one purporting to divine the future by touching objects

psychometry

divination by touching objects

psychopannychism

the belief that the soul sleeps between death and resurrection

psychopannychist

one who believes that the soul sleeps between death and resurrection

Psychopomp<sup>1</sup>

Greek

a name of Hermes as 'conductor of souls'

psychopomp<sup>2</sup>

Roman

[psychagogue.psychogogue.psychopompus]

conductor of souls

In Roman myths, the griffin is sometimes depicted as a psychopomp, carrying a cloaked figure on its back en route to the underworld.

Psychopompus (see Psychopomp)

Psylla

Greek

[Phylla]

a horse of Oenomaus

Ptah Egyptian

[Khery-bakef.Ptah-Nun.Phtah.Ptah-

Naunet.Ptah-Tem.The Heart:=

Greek Hephaestus.Ram of Mendes]

a creator-god, god of artisans, artists,

property and god of Memphis

one of the 3 Lords of Destiny husband of Sakhmet

father of Nefertem

Ptah was born from an egg which was laid by the Nile Goose or, some say, emerged from the mouth of Amen. Others say that he existed in the beginning as Nun, or as the son of Nun and Naunet, and created the world by moulding mud, the gods by thinking of them and speaking their names and men from precious metals.

He is said to have caused a horde of rats to gnaw the bowstrings of the invading Assyrians, so saving the city of Pelusium.

He is regarded as being incarnated as the Apis bull.

He is depicted in the bandages of a mummy holding a sceptre known as the was or as a blacksmith.

(see also Imhotep.Tatenen)

Ptah-Seker

Egyptian

the assimilation of Ptah and Seker, god

of the dead

Ptah-Seker-Osiris

Egyptian

the assimilation of the 3 gods in the form of a bandy-legged dwarf

Ptah-Tem Egyptian
 the assimilation of Ptah and Tem (Atum)

Pterelaos (see Pterelaos)

Pterelas Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon
 When Artemis discovered Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed,
 she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Pterelas, tore him
 to pieces.

Pterelaus Greek

[Pterelaos]
 a king of the Taphians son of Poseidon and Hippothöe father of Comaetho

Pterelaus had a single golden hair in his head which preserved his own life and his kingdom. Amphitryon invaded his kingdom to avenge the death of the sons of Electryon, his wife's brothers, at the hands of the Taphians some years before.

Comaetho, the daughter of Pterelaus fell in love with Amphitryon and cut off her father's golden hair.
 Pterelaus died and his kingdom fell into the hands of the invaders.
 Amphitryon rejected the love of Comaetho and killed her.

Ptesan-Wi
 (see White Buffalo Woman)

P'ti' Albert

a book of magic, originally of European origin, used in the New World (see also Albert le Grand)

Ptoliporthes Greek

son of Odysseus and Penelope

Ptolomaea

the third zone of the ninth Circle of Dante's hell

This region is reserved for those who have betrayed those who offered hospitality.

Ptoophagos (see Ptoophagus)

Ptoophagus Greek

[Ptoophagos]
 a dog of Orion

Ptous Greek

son of Athamas and Themisto, some say

Pu Korean

an ancestral hero
 Pu, together with Ko and Yang, emerged from the earth and survived by hunting. A box which they found on the shore contained three princesses and a number of domestic animals.
 The three men each married a princess and, determining a site for their new homes by shooting arrows, settled down and founded three clans.

Pu Chou Shan
 (see Imperfect Mountain)

P'u-chu-lo (see No Ch'u-lo)

P'u Hsien' Chinese

[All Gracious:=Hindu Pushan]

a Buddhist sage

a bodhisattva

This sage is depicted with a green face and riding a white elephant which has the ability to take human form. It once fought with P'u Hsien' and was defeated.

P'u Hsien' was the guardian of the sacred mountain, Mount Emei.

(see also P'u Hsien<sup>2</sup>)

P'u Hsien<sup>2</sup> Chinese

[=Buddhist Samantabhadra:=Japanese

Fugen:=Tibetan Kuntu bXan Po]

a Taoist god of wisdom

(see also P'u Hsien<sup>1</sup>)

Pu-I-Te-Muana (see Tifenua)

Pu Lang Seung Thai

one of the Three Great Men

p'u-lao Chinese a type of dragon which was said to shed tears

Pu Ma Pacific Islands

the name given to important gods

P'u Sa (see Mi-lo-fo.Tsao Chün)

p'u-sa Chinese

the Chinese version of the Sanskrit bodhisattva

P'u-sa Kuan (see Kuan Ti)

Pu T'ai Ch'an Shih

(see Pu T'ai Ho-shang)

Pu T'ai Ho-shang Chinese

[Calico Bag Monk.Calico Bag Zen

Master.Chang Ting-tzu.Pu T'ai Ch'an

Shih:=Buddhist Maitreya:=Japanese

Hotei]

a 6th c (or 10th c) monk a Taoist immortal

one of the Eighteen Lohan, some say

He is regarded as the last incarnation of Maitreya or of Amitabha.

He is depicted with a calico bag, his symbol, either on a staff over his shoulder or at his feet. He is sometimes shown inside the sack.

P'u-t'o Chinese

[=Hindu Potaka]

the island home of Kuan Yin

P'u Tu Chinese

a festival of 'saving the souls'

Pua-ariki Pacific Islands

the ship of Ru

Pua-ne Pacific Islands

a magic arrow

This arrow, owned by the demi-god

Hiku, could point in the direction its owner should travel.

Pua Tu Tahī Pacific Islands

a Tahitian water-monster

Puang Matowa East Indian

a sky-god in Celebes

Puarata New Zealand

a Maori sorcerer

He and Tautohito owned a magic head which killed all who came near. Hakawau, by superior magic, overcame his spells and killed him and all his followers.

Puatutahi Pacific Islands

sea-demons of Tahiti

Pubidius Welsb

a king of Wales

an ancestor of Merlin

Publius Ovidius Naso (see Ovid)

Publius Vergilius Maro (see Virgil)

puca (see phooka)

pucca (see puck<sup>1</sup>)

Pucel

[Procel(l)]

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to teach the sciences and appears in the form of an angel.

Pucelle British

a fairy

She met Gingalin when he was riding to the rescue of Blonde Esmerée and offered him her love which he rejected.

puck<sup>1</sup>

[pouke.pucca:=Irish phooka:=Norse

puki:=Welsh pwca]

a mischievous goblin (see also pouke)

Puck<sup>2</sup> British

[Robin Goodfellow]

a merry fairy

In Shakespeare he is given as the son of Oberon.

Pudentilla (see Aemilia Pudentilla)

Pudicita Roman

a goddess of chastity

Pue di Songi Pacific Islands

a supreme god in Celebes

Pueliko Pacific Islands

the underworld in the Carolines

puffin British

a bird in which King Arthur's soul is said to reside

Other accounts substitute the chough or the raven.

Pug

a goblin

puge Danish

a mischievous goblin

(see also puk.puki)

pugot (see cafre)

- pugut (see cafre)
- Pu'gu (see Yeloje)
- Puirse Russian
a benevolent spirit
- Puk (see Para<sup>1</sup>)
- Pukatala Pacific Islands
[Pukutala]
a tree in the paradise Pulotu
This tree produces the ambrosial food on which the inhabitants live.
- Puke (see Puki)
- Pukeheh Central American
a Mexican goddess daughter of Tochipa
When her uncle, Hokomata, destroyed the human race in a flood, she survived inside a log and, after the waters had subsided, mated with Sun-shaft and Waterfall to restart the population.
- Pukhis (see Para<sup>1</sup>.Pukis)
- Puki Norse
[Puke.Pukje:=English puck:=Irish phooka:=Welsh pwca]
a mischievous spirit
- Pukis Baltic
a household spirit or dragon the Latvian version of Para (see Para<sup>1</sup>)
- Pukje (see Puki)
- Pukkasi Tibetan
a terrible Lamaist goddess one of the gauri
(see also Parna-Savari)
- pukku Mesopotamian
a drum
In the Gilgamesh epic, Inanna or Ishtar gave a drum and drumsticks to Gilgamesh and, in one version, he dropped the drum into the underworld. Enkidu was trapped when he tried to recover it. (see also mikku)
- Pukqili African
the supreme god of the Zulu
- Pukutala (see Pukatala)
- pukwudjie North American
an Algonquian nature-spirit or fairy
- Pukys Baltic
a household spirit
the Lithuanian version of Para
(see also Aitvaras.Kaukas.Para<sup>1</sup>)
- Pul Cinavad (see Chinvat Bridge)
- Pul Chinvar (see Chinvat Bridge)
- Pulah Baltic
[=Siberian Pairekse]
a deity
son of Kaba
He acted as a messenger for his father and travelled the world recording the fate of the individual which he then passed on to Kaba.
- Pulaha Hindu
a sage
one of the Seven Rishis
- Pulang Gana East Indian
an earth-spirit of the Iban people of Borneo
- Pulashtya Hindu
[Prajapati.Pulastya]
a sage, one of the 10 Rishis ancestor of the Vakshshas, some say grandfather of Kubera father of Vishravas
- Pulastya (see Pulashtya)
- Pulci, Luigi European (1431-1487)
an Italian poet
He wrote about the adventures and exploits of Charlemagne and his paladins, including the poem Morgante Maggiore.
- Pulekekwerik North American
a monster-slaying hero of the Yurok tribe
It is said that he was born in the far north and, finding the man who wove the sky, he placed the heavenly bodies in it. He then set about clearing the world of monsters and, having completed this task, went away to the land of everlasting dancing.
- Pulinda Hindu
son of Vijaya and Kuvanna brother of Pulindi
- Pulindi Hindu
daughter of Vijaya and Kuvanna sister of Pulinda
- Puloma<sup>1</sup> Hindu
wife of a demon
mother of Chyavana by Brighu
She was seized by Brighu and, when Agni told the demon who had taken his wife, Brighu cursed the god with insatiable hunger. She became pregnant by Brighu and gave birth to Chyavana when she was chased by a demon, who was possibly her real husband.
- Puloma<sup>2</sup> Hindu
daughter of Daksha
sister of Kalaka wife of Kasyapa mother of the Danavas
She and Puloma married Kasyapa and bore 60,000 giant sons, called the Danavas.
- Puloman Hindu
son of Danu
father of Indrani
- pulque North American in Mexican lore, a drink made from the maguey plant, said to have magical qualities
- Pulotu Pacific Islands
[Purotu]
the Tongan land of the dead
This place was envisaged as an invisible island to which the souls of the dead were transported by boat and where the tree Pukatala grew.
- Pultuce Roman
an Etruscan version of Pollux Castor and Pultuce were later merged with the Tindaridae.
- Puluga (see Bilik)
- Pulvan (see Upulvan)
- pulwaiya Australian ancestors of the Aborigines
- Pulzella Gaia British
daughter of Hemison by Morgan le Fay
She was carried off by Burletta but rescued by Lancelot. Guinevere, jealous that Gawain had rejected her in favour of Pulzella, threatened to kill him but Pulzella saved him. Morgan then put her daughter in prison for revealing her affair with a mortal but Gawain rescued her.
- Puma-Snake Central American
a primordial god of the Mixtec brother and husband of Jaguar-snake
father of Wind-Nine-Cave and Wind-Nine-Snake
He and his consort appeared when the earth rose out of the primeval waters and built a palace in which they lived for hundreds of years before producing their two sons. The four gods became the progenitors of the human race.
- Pun-Gel (see Pundjel)
- Puna<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands
a malevolent spirit
He abducted Tahiti Tokerau, used her eyes for lights and buried her upside down in the sand. Rata came to her rescue and killed Puna.
- Puna<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
a Hawaiian king
father of Ho'olo Ipo
He offered his daughter's hand as the prize in a sailing race won by Moikeha.
- Puna<sup>3</sup> Pacific Islands
son of Ai Kanaka and Mahina brother of Hema
- Punarvasu Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the nakshatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra
- Punchau Central American
an Inca sun-god
- Punchkin Hindu
a giant frost-demon

- Pundarika Hindu
Agni, as one of the Dikpalas, or his elephant
- Pundjel Australian
[Bun-Gil.Bunjel.Bunjil.Pun-Gel. Pundjil.Punjel.] a creator-god of the Aborigines of Victoria brother of Pallian
father of Binbeal
These brothers made beings from mud and bark but, because they turned out to be evil, cut them up and scattered the pieces. The ancestors of the tribes sprang from these pieces. (see also Baime)
- Pundjil (see Pundjel)
- Punegusse Mongolian
a man-eating demon
This demon was killed by the hero Itje. It is said that mosquitoes were created from the demon's corpse. (see also Karaty-khan)
- Pung-Beg Korean
[Earl Wind]
one of the 3 ministers who came down to earth with Hwanung
- Pungarehu New Zealand
a Maori hero
He killed a Poua-Kai which had carried off many of his tribe.
- Punitavati Hindu
a local goddess
a deified mortal
- Punt Egyptian
a mythical land associated with ancient deities
This land, said to be somewhere in the east, was regarded as the home of semi-divine people who settled in Egypt. Some say that they were descendants of Ham, son of Noah.
- puntianak East Indian [pontianak;=Malaysian langsuir]
a female ghost
These beings, depicted as naked wild women, are said to cause the death of children by stillbirth or miscarriage, having themselves died in childbirth. They sometimes take the form of beautiful girls and seduce men but then emasculate them.
In some versions of the story, a puntianak is a bird (an owl or a crow) which causes miscarriages. (see also pigobara)
- Punjel (see Pundjel)
- Punua Pacific Islands
a Tahitian thunder-god
- punyajana Hindu
the friendly version of a yaksha
- Punyasloka (see Krishna)
- puplem North American medicine-men of the tribes of California
- Pupolike (see Pomonos)
- Pupula Australian ['lizard']
a creator of the Jumu and Pindupi tribes
- p'ur-bu (see phurbu)
- Pura (see Pore)
- pura moja South American
a purification ceremony
When a person has died as a result of the actions of the fiofio, a sorcerer can revive the corpse by divining the cause of the resentment that engendered the fiofio and then performing this ceremony in which that cause is removed by withdrawing it from the victim through his mouth.
- Puramdara (see Purandara)
- Puranas Hindu
4th c (or later) sacred books:
verses of legend, mythology and religion
- Puranai Indian
a Tamil mother-goddess
a navasakti
a consort of Aiyandar
- Purandara Hindu
[Puramdara]
Indra as 'destroyer of forts'
- Purandhi Hindu
[Purandi]
a goddess of plenty
- Purandi (see Purandhi)
- Purba Rarang East Indian
a princess
sister of Purba Sari
When the prince of heaven, Guru Minda, came in the guise of a black monkey, Lutung Kasarang, to seek the hand of her sister, Purba Rarang agreed to the match with Purba Sari but demanded a new palace, lake, etc., for herself.
- Purba Sari East Indian
a princess
sister of Purba Rarang
Guru Minda came to earth in the guise of the black monkey, Lutung Kasarang, and asked for her hand in marriage. Her sister, Purba Rarang, required Lutung to provide a new palace, lake, etc., before she would allow the match but when Lutung, with the help of some angels, provided all she had demanded, Purba Sari and Lutung were married.
- Pure August (see Yu Huang)
- Pure Land Buddhist
[Buddha-Kshetra.Buddha-land.Jodo.Pure Land of the West;=Chinese Ching-t'u]
a paradise for those en route to enlightenment
This fabled realm is the Mahayana equivalent of the Hinayana Nirvana. Here no pain or sorrow exists and the cycle of death and rebirth ends.
The western Pure Land, Sukhavati, is ruled by Amitabha, the eastern version by Bhaisajyaguna. (see also Sukhavati.Western Paradise')
- purgatory
a place where souls wait and are prepared for life in heaven: a place of punishment for sin
- Purgine Pas (see Pirgene)
- Puripais (see Dionysus)
- Purnavijaya Hindu
son of Indra
His sinful life was abruptly terminated when Kunjarakarna arrived from the underworld with a message from Yama to the effect that Purnavijaya was next on his list. The sinner saw the error of his ways and converted to Buddhism.
- Purochana Hindu
an enemy of the Pandavas
He planned to kill the Pandava brothers by setting fire to their palace. Bhima, alerted to the plan, killed Purochana by setting fire to his house.
- Purocis Greek
a horse of the sun-god, Helius
- Purohita Hindu
a family priest
Brhaspati was referred to as the Purohita of the gods.
- Purotu (see Pulotu)
- Purple Crepe Myrtle (see Tzu Wei)
- Purple Knight British
one of the knights defeated by The Great Fool
- Purple Lady (see Keng San Ku-niang)
- Purrhos (see Pyrrhus)
- Purron (see Paneu)
- Purrunaminari South American
a creator-god in Guyana consort of Taparimarru father of Sisiri
- Purson (see Curson)
- Putir (see Djata)
- Purtupita Roman [Purtupitus]
an early Italian vegetation deity
- Purtupittus (see Purtupita)
- Puru Hindu
[Poros;=Malay Kaidu]
a king, ancestor of the Pauravas
son of Yayati and Sarmishtha

brother of Anu and Turvasu
half-brother of Yadu
His father had been cursed by Shukra, father of Yayati's wife Devayani, for consorting with her maid, Sarmishtha, and was infertile as a result. Puru the devoted son, took this affliction upon himself.

Purukupali Australian
an ancestral hero of the Bathurst and Melville Islands
son of Mudungkala
father of Jurumu and Mudati

His wife went off with Tjapara leaving her son to die in the heat of the sun. He fought with Tjapara and walked into the sea with his son's body. Tjapana became the moon, in some stories.

Purukutsa Hindu
husband of Narmada
He and his wife fought an underwater battle with the Gandharvas and defeated them.

Pururavas Hindu
king of the gods
son of Budha and Ida, some say husband of Urvasi
father of Ayu and 7 others

He married the nymph Urvasi, whom he had rescued from a demon, but she disappeared when she saw him naked, an event engineered by the Gandharvas who lured him out at night by stealing his wife's pet lambs and then causing a lightning flash. After searching far and wide, Pururavas found his wife again and was allowed to visit her once a year for five years. On each occasion, it is said, she presented him with a son. They were later reunited and had three more sons.

Purusa (see Purusha)

Purusha<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Cosmic Man.Purusa.Skamb(h)a] a primitive life-force

This force acted on the primitive material, Prakriti, and together they formed the universe.

In some versions, the giant from whose body the universe was formed.

Some accounts say that he was born from the cosmic egg and separated to become male (Purusha) and female (Viraj).

Purusha<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Purusa]
a name of Brahma
the male aspect of Brahma
an incarnation of Vishnu

Purusha-sukta Hindu
[Hymn of the Primitive Man] part of the Rig-veda describing one version of creation

Purushattama Hindu
a supreme being: a creator: the logos

Purva-videha Buddhist a sacred realm: a paradise

Purvabhadrapada Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Purvaphalguni Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Purvasadha Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Pusa<sup>1</sup> Chinese
[Buddha]
a term for a god of any religion

Pusa<sup>2</sup> (see Hotei)

Pusan (see Pushan)

Pusat Tasih Malay
the undersea home of Raja Naga

Pushan Hindu
[Agohya. 'nourisher'. Pusan:
=Chinese P'u Hsien]
a nourisher god, god of cattle and travellers
a sun-god
a form of Marttanda or Surya
one of the Adityas
charioteer of the sun

He is said to have had his teeth knocked out by Shiva, in the form of Virabhadra, when that god lost his temper at being excluded from a sacrifice by Daksha and wounded many of those present, including Pushan – his fallen teeth became the stars.

One of his functions was to guide the spirits of the dead to the underworld.

He is depicted as a toothless deity carrying an ox-goad and riding in a chariot drawn by goats.

Pushkaitis Latvian
a god of the underworld

He is the ruler of the spirits known as the barstukai and the kaukai and was said to have his home underneath an elder tree.

Pushkara<sup>1</sup> Hindu
son of Varuna

brother of Nala
He encouraged his brother to gamble, won all his wealth and his kingdom and took over his throne.

Pushkara<sup>2</sup> Hindu
one of the 7 island-continents
(see Dvipa)

Pushpadanta Hindu
Vayu, as one of the Dikpalas, or his elephant

Pushpagiri Hindu
an undersea mountain
This was the site of Varuna's palace which is in Sukha, the capital of Varuna's realm.

Pushpaka Hindu
a self-propelled chariot used by Kubera
This vehicle was said to be so big that it could contain a whole city. It was once stolen by Ravana but recovered by Rama who used it to carry his bride.

Pusi Pacific Islands
[Pusiuraura]
a Polynesian fish-god

Pusiuraura (see Pusi)
Buddhist

Puspa
[=Tibetan mc-tog-ma]
a mother-goddess
one of the astamataras

Puspatara Buddhist
a goddess

Puspiyama North American
[=Keres Pashayan'a:=Pueblo Poseyemu:
=Zuni Poshaiyangkyo]
the first man, in the lore of the Tigua tribe of New Mexico

pustaka Buddhist a holy text written on scraps of bark and carried by images of Manjusri in Indonesia

Pusti Hindu
a fertility goddess
an aspect of Bhumadevi
a consort of Vishnu or Ganesa

Pusya Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the Nakshatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Put (see Patala)
Roman

Putā
a goddess of agriculture
Putahi-nui-o-Rehua Pacific Islands
the highest of the Polynesian heavens, home of Rehua

Putali Tibetan
a Lamaist sorcerer
He used his powers to change a painting that showed a demon trampling a god underfoot so that their positions were reversed.

Putana Hindu

[Putatna. 'stinking']

a terrible demon
daughter of Bali

She was ordered by Kamsa to kill all new-born babies to ensure that the infant Krishna would not survive to kill him. She tried to suckle Krishna with poison on her nipples but he sucked her life from her or, in some versions, blew into her breasts and killed her.

Putatna *(see Putana)Puteri Bualu East Indian

[Buala]

in the lore of the Dayaks,
the first woman
wife of Tunggal Garing mother of Bunu, Sangen and Sangiang

Her menstrual blood produced all the demons in the world but she later produced many children, ancestors of the tribes.

Puteri Sembaran Malay

a giantess

She is reputed to be able to feed whole tribes from her enormous breasts.

Puteri Tunjung Buih Malay

[Daughter of the Foam]

a princess

It is said that, like Aphrodite, she was produced from the foam of the waves. She was adopted by Sapurba, the king, and later married a Chinese ambassador at the king's court.

Putolu Pacific Islands

in Tonga, the land of the dead

putuperereko Pacific Islands

a man-eating spirit said to have large genitals

Puuk Baltic

[Pisuhand.Tulihand]

a household spirit

the Estonian version of Para

*(see also Para<sup>1</sup>)Pu'ukonghoya North American

[Little Smiter]

a war-god of the Hopi

twin brother of Palungahoya

These twins are the equivalent of the Zuni Ahayuta achi.

*(see also Poquanghoya)Puzur-Amurri Mesopotamian

the steersman of the ship built by Utnapishtim

Puzuzu Mesopotamian

a Sumerian guardian god

pwaronga *(see kakangora)pwca Welsh

[pwcca:=English puck:=Irish phooka:

=Norse puki]

a mischievous spirit

pwcca *(see pwca)Pwyll Welsh

[Pen Annwn]

king of Dyfed

son of Anwyn

husband of Rhiannon

father of Pryderi

A lady riding a white horse that could not be overtaken even though seeming to canter, asked his help to prevent her forced marriage to an unwanted suitor, Gwawl. This was Rhiannon and Pwyll married her himself. When their son was born it mysteriously disappeared and Rhiannon was accused of having eaten it and was punished by being forced to carry visitors to the court on her back. In fact, the baby had been left on the doorstep of Teyrnnon who called the boy Gwri and raised him as his own until he learned the truth. He then returned the boy to his rightful parents who called him Pryderi.

He took the stag being chased by Arawn, lord of the underworld Annwn but they nevertheless became friends and exchanged roles for one year, during which time he killed Arawn's great enemy, Havgan, who could be killed only with a single blow. As a reward, he was given a pig which he introduced to Wales.

Some say that he appears later as Pelles in the Arthurian legend.

Pwyll Prince of Dyfed *Welsh*the story of Pwyll in the *Mabinogionpy'wer *(see winged disc)P'yag-na-rdo-rje Tibetan

the Tibetan name for Vajrapani

Pyag-rdor-au-tsa-rya(see Chak-dor-u-isa-rya)Pyatnitsa Prascovia Russian

a goddess of harvests

Pyerun Russian

[=Bohemian Peranu:=Estonian Piker:

=Bulgarian Perusan:=Finnish Pitkoinen:

=Latvian Perkons:=Lithuanian Perkunos:

=Polish Piorun:=Prussian Perkonis:

=Slav Peroon]

a thunder-god and god of war

husband of Zoroya Utrennyaya

Pygmalion<sup>1</sup> Greek

a sculptor-king of Cyprus husband of Galatea

father of Paphos and Phrasius

A man who hated real women but a fine sculptor who carved the statue of a perfect woman and fell in love with her. When Aphrodite brought the statue to life, Pygmalion named her Galatea and married her.

Some say that their daughter was Metharme, not Paphos.

Another account says that he was married to Cynisca who was jealous of the statue and Galatea returned to her former state as a block of marble.

Pygmalion<sup>2</sup> Greek

king of Tyre

brother of Dido

He killed Sychaeus, Dido's husband, but she escaped taking much of her husband's wealth with her and founded the city of Carthage.

pygmy<sup>1</sup> African

[pigmy]

one of a mythical race of beings just over one foot tall

pygmy<sup>2</sup> Greek

[pigmy]

one of a race of dwarfs

In some accounts, they were in permanent conflict with the cranes who brought death to the pygmies when they migrated south each year. They were said to ride on rams or goats, sometimes disguising themselves as these animals.

pygmy<sup>3</sup> Hindu

[pigmy]

one of a mythical race of beings just over two feet tall

pygmy<sup>4</sup>

[pigmy]

an elemental guardian of the earth, in some accounts

pyinsalet Burmese

magic which confers invulnerability or causes hallucinations

Various exotic constituents can be made into a mixture to achieve desired ends. If it is rubbed into the left eye, the recipient will be able to see spirits (nats); into the right eye and it turns night into day; on the hand it will open a safe; on the forehead it will make the recipient invisible. It also acts on things other than humans – it will change a lotus bud into a man, a lotus flower into a woman or a leaf into an elephant or tiger.

Invulnerability is achieved by inserting mercury or pieces of metal under the skin or by bathing in specially treated water.

Pylades Greek

son of Strophius and Anaxibia husband of Electra

father of Medon and Strophius

Pylades was a friend of Orestes and married his sister, Electra. He helped Orestes in the revenge killing of Aegisthus and Clytemnestra and on the expedition to seize the wooden image of Artemis from the Taurians.

Pylaemene Greek

a king of Elis

Pylaochos Greek

a name for Poseidon as keeper of the keys of the undersea prison

Pylartes Greek

a name for Hades as 'fastener of gates'

Pylas Greek

[Pylos.Pylus]

a king of Megara

father of Pylia

father of Sciron, in some accounts

He gave shelter to Pandion when he was driven from Athens and gave him his daughter, Pylia, for a wife.

He was himself exiled when he killed his uncle, Bias, and Pandion then became king of Megara.

Pylas founded a kingdom of the same name but was driven out by Neleus who had himself been expelled from Iolcus by his brother Pelias.

Pylia Greek

daughter of Pylas, king of Megara

wife of Pandion

mother of Aegeus, Lycus, Nisus

and Pallas

Pylos (see Pylas)

Pylus (see Pylas)

Pynnel British

a knight

He was one of the rebellious knights defeated by King Arthur at the Battle of Bedgrayne.

Pyracmon Greek

one of the Cyclopes

an assistant to Hephaestus

an alternative name for Arges, some say

Pyraechmes Greek

a soldier of Aetolia

To settle the battle between the Aetolian forces of Oxylus and the forces of Elis under King Dius, Pyraechmes, who fought with a sling, was appointed to meet the Elian champion, Degmenus, an archer. Pyraechmes won the contest and the victory went to Oxylus who became king of Elis.

pyralis

an insect supposed to live in fire

Pyramus Greek

a Babylonian youth

This young man fell in love with Thisbe and planned to run away with her, arranging to meet her at night by a certain mulberry bush near the tomb of Ninus. She arrived first and, being frightened by a lion, ran off dropping her cloak in the sand. Pyramus found the cloak clawed by the lion and jumped to the conclusion that she had been killed by the lion. He killed himself on the spot and his blood coloured the white berries of the mulberry crimson. Thisbe, returning, found him dying and killed herself with the same sword. The red fruit of the mulberry is a memorial to the lovers.

Pyrcon Greek

a prophet

Pyrichiel

a demon of fire

Pyriphlegethon Greek

a river in Hades (see also Phlegethon)

Pyrois Greek

a horse of the sun-god, Helios

pyromancy

divination from shapes seen in fire and the smoke rising from it

(see also empyromancy)

Pyrrha<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Clymene]

daughter of Epimetheus and Pandora wife of Deucalion

wife of Prometheus, some say mother of Amphictyon, Hellen

and Idomeneus

She and her husband were given advance warning of the flood and survived by building a boat. They repopulated the earth by throwing stones over their shoulders, each of which became a human being – in Pyrrha's case, a woman.

In some accounts, she is referred to as Clymene.

Pyrrha<sup>2</sup> Greek

the name used by Achilles when he was in hiding as a girl at the court of Lycomedes

Pyrrha<sup>3</sup> Greek

a daughter of Creon, king of Thebes

Pyrrho (see Pyrrhus)

Pyrrhos (see Pyrrhus)

Pyrrhus Greek

[Neoptolemus.Pyrrho(s).Purros]

king of Epirus

son of Achilles and Deidamia

father of Molossus, Pielus and

Pergamus by Andromache

His father, Achilles, was sent to the court of Lycomedes to escape military service at Troy. While he was there, he seduced the king's daughter, Deidamia, who bore Pyrrhus.

He was sent for after his father's death at Troy and fought well, killing Eurypylos and others. He was one of those hidden in the wooden horse at Troy and killed the aged Priam and his son Polites and threw the infant Astyanax to his death from the city walls when the Greeks finally overran the city.

He took Andromache, Hector's widow, as a prize but abandoned her for Hesione after fathering three sons on her.

In some stories he was killed at Delphi for defiling the shrine, in others he was killed by Orestes.

In the latter story, Menelaus gave his daughter Hermione to Pyrrhus, even though she was promised to Orestes who rescued her when he killed Pyrrhus.

A different version alleges that there were two sons of Achilles – the second Pyrrhus who killed the first and took his new name, Neoptolemus, was the one who so brutally killed Priam and the child Astyanax.

Pyrshak-khan Siberian

a Tartar deity

son of Kudai

brother of Tos-khan and Suilap

Pythagoras Greek

[Euphorbus.Panthoides]

a 5th c BC philosopher

He believed in the transmigration of souls and claimed that he was Euphorbus, son of Panthous, in an earlier incarnation.

He was sometimes called Panthoides.

Pytheus (see Pythius)

Pythia Greek

[Delphic Bee.Delphic Oracle.Delphic

Sibyl.Delphicia.Pythian.Pythoness]

the prophetess of the Delphic Oracle

It is said that for a fee, she would make prophecies which were noted for their ambiguity.

Pythian (see Pythia.Pythius)

Pythian games Greek

games in honour of Apollo, held in August/September

This festival, commemorating Apollo's killing of the serpent, Python, was originally held at Delphi at eight-year intervals but later took place in the third year of each Olympiad.

Pythias (see Phintias.Pythius)

Pythius Greek

[Pyth(e)us.Pythian.Pythias]

a name of Apollo referring to his slaying of the serpent, Python

Pytho<sup>1</sup>

[Phocis]

the original name of (the site of) the Delphic Oracle (see also Delphi)*GreekPytho<sup>2</sup>

[Prince of Lies.Python]

a demon of falsehood

Pythochrestoiexegetes, chosen by the Pythia, who interpreted the Delphic oracles*Greekpython<sup>1</sup>a familiar: a possessing spirit: one so possessed: one who proclaims oraclesPython<sup>2</sup>

[Serpent of Wisdom]

a monster in the form of a winged female serpent*Greek*This monster lived at Delphi on the site of what became Apollo's oracle.
Apollo killed the monster when he was still but a child, either because it had harassed his mother, Leto, when she was pregnant with Apollo and Artemis, or because he wanted to set up his own oracle.Python<sup>3</sup>(see* Pytho<sup>2</sup>*)pythoness<sup>1</sup>

a prophetess: a witch

Pythoness<sup>2</sup>(see* Pythia)Pythus(see* Pythius)Pytis(see* Pitys)Pyvsan-aika

[=Finnish Muntso-murt]

a bathhouse spirit

Russian

Qades (see Qedeshet.Quades)

Qadesh (see Qedeshet.Quades)

Qadish Mesopotamian

a servant of Asherah

Qadishtu Mesopotamian

a name for Ishtar as the patroness of temple prostitutes

Qaf (see Mount Qaf)

Qagwaai North American

a monster in the form of a whale in the lore of the Indians of the north-west

Said to be able to shoot with a bow and arrow at a very young age, Stoneribs saw how this monster was killing men by smashing their canoes and lured it to the surface where it chased his own canoe with mouth agape. Stoneribs jumped into its gaping maw and killed the monster by shooting it from inside. He then skinned the whale and, wearing this skin, was able to take the form of a whale himself.

Qahu Egyptian

a city of the gods

Qaitakalnin Siberian

a guardian deity brother of Quikinna'qu and A'na

Qalanganguase North American

an orphaned Inuit boy

When the tribe tied the boy to posts because they saw him with the spirit of his dead sister, the spirits of his dead parents took him away and he was never seen again.

Qamatha African

a creator-god of the Xhosa

He sent the chameleon to tell the tribe that they would be immortal but the lizard found out what the chameleon's message was and ran ahead to tell the people just the opposite. When the chameleon arrived with the proper message, the people refused to believe it and, in consequence, men are mortal.

A similar story is told of Hyel by various other tribes.

(see also chameleon)

Qamai'ts North American

[Ek Yakimtolsil.Qamaye.Tsi Sinaaxil]

a creator-goddess of the Bella Coola Indians of Canada

She is said to have killed the giants who populated the world and built mountains from their dead bodies.

Qamate African

a supreme of the Kaffirs

Qamaye (see Qamai'ts)

Qandisa African

a water-demon in northern Morocco

This female being seduces men and then drives them mad.

Qaru (see Marduk.Nergal)

Qasavara Pacific Islands

a monster

It ate the eleven brothers of Qat who then killed the monster.

Qat Pacific Islands

[Quat]

a creator-spirit of New Hebrides

(now known as Vanuata)

brother of Tangaro

husband of Ro Lei

Qat was said to have sprung from the stone, Qatgoro, which split open, and to have grown immediately into an adult. The world already existed but Qat created plants, animals and men, carving humans from trees and bringing them to life with music and dancing.

When men became tired of perpetual daylight, Qat gave the deity who controlled darkness some pigs and, in return, received sufficient darkness to provide alternate day and night.

He had eleven brothers who were jealous of him. Once they abducted his wife and carried her off to another island but he rescued her.

An alternative version says that his wife was a swan-maiden whom he had caught and kept earthbound by burying her wings. When she found the wings, she flew back to heaven where Qat followed her by shooting a chain of arrows up which he climbed. Unfortunately for Qat, the banyan to which the chain was attached was cut through by the hoe of a careless worker with the result that Qat fell to earth and was killed while his wife, whom he had managed to retrieve, flew back again to heaven.

On another occasion his brothers put Qat in a land-crab's hole and sealed the entrance with a huge stone but he escaped with the help of the spider-spirit.

When his brothers were eaten by the monster, Qasavara, Qat slew him and, finding their bones hidden in a chest, re-assembled them and restored his brothers to life.

He is said to have sailed away from Banks Island with his wife and brothers leaving the islanders to anticipate his future return.

Qatgoro Pacific Islands
a stone which split to allow Qat to emerge

Qaus Arabian
the Zodiacal sign Sagittarius

Qa'wadiliquala North American
a supreme god of the tribes of British Columbia father of Tewi-xilak

He lives in a river and ensures a plentiful supply of salmon.

Qaynan Arabian
a southern smith-god

qazah (see qada)

Qeb (see Geb)

Qebeb (see Geb)

Qebhsenuf (see Qebhsenuf)

Qebhsenuf (see Qebhsenuf)

Qebhsenuf (see Qebhsenuf)

Qebk (see Geb)

Qebhsenuf Egyptian
[Kebeh(senuf).Qebhsen(e)uf.Qebhsneuf] a falcon-headed or hawk-headed god
one of the 4 Amenti
son of Horus

He was guardian of the west and of the intestines of the dead or, some say, the liver and gall bladder.

Qedesh (see Qedeshet)

Qedeshat (see Qedeshet)

Qedeshet Egyptian
[Eye of Ra.Kadesh.Kedesh(et).Lady of Heaven.Mistress of the Gods. Qades(h). Qedes(hat).Qetesh.Qodshu Quds(h)u.Quedesh.Quodes:=Canaanite Kades:=Mesopotamian Quades]
a goddess of health
consort of Min

She was assimilated into the Egyptian pantheon as an aspect of Hathor.

She is depicted in the nude with a mirror, lotus flowers and snakes, standing on a lion.

Qeh Egyptian
[Kerh]
one of a pair of deities with Qerhit, created from Chaos

qentilis South American spirits of the dead, in the lore of the Quecha tribe

It is said that the living decide on a place, such as a cave, where their spirit will live when they die. Any other person approaching such a spot will quickly age and die.

Qerhit Egyptian
[Kerhet.Qerhet]
one of a pair of deities with Qeh, created from Chaos

Qeskina'qu Siberian
a spirit of daylight son of Quikinna'qu

Qetebh Hebrew
[I-gong.Meriri]
a demon of pestilence

Qetesh (see Qedeshet)

Qingu (see Kingu)

qiqirn Inuit
a supernatural dog

This dog is said to be virtually hairless and can cause seizures in humans if it comes near.

qivittoq Inuit
a wandering spirit in Greenland

A person who leaves his community to live alone in the wild soon develops the physical attributes of an animal such as fur, claws, etc. He depends on his own efforts for survival but sometimes steals food from the community he left to become a qivittoq.

Qodshu (see Qedeshet.Quodes)

qollo (see kollo)

Qoluncotun North American
a creator-god of the Okanogon tribe

Qoph Hebrew
[Coph.Koph.Zoph]
the realm of the seraphim

Qormusta Tengri Mongolian
[Chormusta.Od(lek).Teng(e)ri]=Buriat Esege-Malan-Tengeri:=Yakut Tangara] the creator-god and sky-god
king of the gods
consort of Itugen or Umai

He made humans from fire, water and wind and populated the world with his own offspring who became rivers, trees, mountains and all the other things that make up the world.

Qos Arabian
a weather-god and god of rainbows
Some versions equate him with Quzah.

Q're Greek
[Panemerios:=Syrian Ker]
a Cretan god of the solar year an aspect of Zeus
son or brother of Artemis Caryatis

Quaaqua North American [Kumsnooth.Slaalekam:=Aztec Quetzalcoatl:=Kwakiutl Kanikilak:=Tlingit Yetl]
a creator-god of the Salish tribe

Quaayayp North American
a god of the Pericue son of Niparaya and Anayicoyondi
He was said to be able to create men by drawing them up out of the earth. He came to earth and lived with the early ancestors of the tribe who killed him but his body is said to remain uncorrupted and dripping fresh blood.

Quades Mesopotamian
[Qades(h).Qodshu.Quadesh.Quesdesh. Quodes:=Canaanite Kades:= Egyptian Qedeshet]
a Syrian fertility-goddess

She is depicted naked, standing on a lion and was assimilated into the Egyptian pantheon as Qedeshet, an aspect of Hathor.

Quadesh (see Quades)

Quadriviae Roman
mother-goddesses and goddesses of the cross-roads

Quah-beet North American the beaver who told Malsum the secret of how Gluskap could be killed

Quahootze North American
a war-god of the Nootka Indians

quail

a small game bird which appears in the mythology of various cultures
(1) In China, the symbol of the scarlet bird used by astrologers is said to be based on the quail, a bird associated with the phoenix. It symbolises courage.

(2) Regarded as sacred to Apollo, in Greek stories the form of a quail was adopted by Asteria to escape the amorous attentions of Zeus, Leto was turned into a quail by Hera and Zeus adopted the form of a quail when he mated with Leto. It was believed that this bird was immune to the effects of poison. Some say that the birds would land on ships at sea to rest during their migration in such numbers that the ships sank under the weight.

(3) The Hindus regard the quail as the harbinger of spring. It is eaten by the wolf at the onset of winter but is revived by the Aswins in the spring.

(4) In Russia, the quail is regarded as the embodiment of the sun.

Quakuinahaba (see Cathena) Quamate African
 the supreme god of the Kaffir Quamta African
 the supreme god of the Xhosa people
quan Annamese
 servant-tigers of the Duc Ba Quaoar North American
 in the lore of some Californian tribes, a creation force Quartana (see Febris)
Quat (see Qat)
Quatlapanqui Central American
 [Head-splitter]
 a god of intoxication
 one of the Centzon Totochtin
 A sacrifice made to this god would ensure that the drinker suffered no more than a headache after getting drunk.
Quauhtli Central American
 the fifteenth of the 20 days of the Aztec month
 Symbolising the eagle and west, the day was governed by Xipetotec.
Quauhxicalli Central American [Cup of the Eagles]
 a stone on which victims were sacrificed to the Aztec sun-god Quauitleua Central American
 a festival in honour of the rain-god, Tlaloc, held on 2nd February Quauhtlicac Central American
 son of Coatlicue
 brother of Huitzilopochtli
 He warned the unborn Hiuhtzilopochtli that Coatlicue's other 400 children were planning to kill her to prevent the birth of Huitzilopochtli.
Qubauil South American
 a sky-deity in Guatemala
 In some accounts, Qubauil and Gucumatz created the first man, Hurakan.
Qudliparmiut (see Qudlivum)
Qudlivum Inuit [Qudliparmiut]
 the home of the good dead
Qudshu (see Qedeshet)
Qudsu (see Qedeshet)
Quecholli South American
 a festival in honour of Mixcoatl, held on the 280th day of the year Quedbaschemod
 a demon
Quedesh (see Qedeshet)
queen
 a presiding goddess Queen Bee
 a name given to the Great Mother goddess

Queen Chen Chinese
 in some accounts, the spirit of the River Lo (see also Mi Fei)
Queen Maeve (see Maev)
Queen Maya Indian
 wife of King Suddhodana mother of the Buddha
 She was mother of the Buddha by divine conception which she dreamt of with Buddha as a white elephant.
Queen Mother (see Patinaya Nei)
Queen Mother of the West (see Hsi Wang Mu)
Queen of Avalon (see Argante.Morgan le Fay)
Queen of Cotton (see Tlazolteotl)
Queen of Cyprus British
 sister of King Arthur
 This lady, who is sometimes equated with Morgan le Fay, sent her brother a drinking-horn which could disclose whether the wife of any man drinking from it was faithful to her husband. (see also Priure)
Queen of Eastlands British
 a witch
 She was one of the four witches who put Lancelot under a spell at the Chateau de la Charette and tried to make him choose one of them as a lover.
Queen of Elephantine (see Sati<sup>1</sup>)
Queen of Elphame British
 a witch
 She is said to have seduced the 13th C poet Thomas the Rhymer and given him supernatural insight. Some regard her as an incarnation of Hecate.
Queen of Ethiopia African daughter of Malika Habashiya
 She was born with one goat's foot and travelled to King Solomon's court hoping to find a cure. She walked through a pool that the king had caused to be built and stepped on a piece of ironwood. When she emerged her feet were normal. She either married or slept with the king and then returned to her own country. Her son David later went to Solomon and claimed Africa as his own.
Queen of Gods (see Edjo.Vach<sup>2</sup> Wadjet)
Queen of Gore British [Queen of Sorestan.Queen of Soreston]
 a witch
 a title of Morgan le Fay
 In this role she was one of the four witches who put Lancelot under a spell at the Chateau de la Charette and tried to force him to choose one of the four as a lover.

In some accounts, she is the Queen of Sorestan.
Queen of Heaven (see Anat. Astarte.Edjo. Hebat.Hera.Inanna.Isis.Juno.Tara<sup>1</sup>. T'ien Hou'.Vajravara.Hsi Wang Mu)
Queen of Katapa (see Sartiya)
Queen of Knowledge (see Tara<sup>1</sup>.Vidyarajni)
Queen of Love
 a name for a number of goddesses, including Aphrodite, Astarte, Bente, Sarasvati and Venus Queen of Northgales British [Nivetta.Queen of Northgalys. The Snow Queen]
 a fairy queen
 daughter of Morgan le Fay
 She and her sisters Carvilia and Morganetta always accompanied their mother and helped her with her wicked plots and she was one of the four witches who put Lancelot under a spell at the Chateau de la Charette and tried to force him to choose one of the four as a lover.
 She was in the boat which took Arthur to Avalon and, after the fall of Camelot, they all left Britain for the Straits of Messina where they lured ships on to the rocks.
Queen of Northgalys (see Queen of Northgales)
Queen of Sailing (see Pleione)
Queen of Sheba Muslim wife of Solomon, some say
 In some accounts, she was said to be the daughter of a jinn and had legs like a donkey.
Queen of Sorestan (see Queen of Gore)
Queen of Soreston (see Queen of Gore)
Queen of the Circling Universe (see Eurynome)
Queen of the Druids (see Druantia)
Queen of the Mountains (see Atlantis<sup>1</sup>) Queen of the Night
 a name for the moon
Queen of the Out Isles (see Queen of the Outer Isles)
Queen of the Outer Isles British [Queen of the Out Isles]
 a witch
 She was one of the four witches who put Lancelot under a spell at the Chateau de la Charette and tried to make him choose one of the four as a lover.
Queen of the Sea (see Asherah)

Queen of the Tides

a name for the moon

Queen of the Two Lands *(see Ipet)Queen of the Wastelands British [Carvilia]

an enchantress

daughter of Morgan le Fay

She and her sisters Morganetta and Nivetta always accompanied their mother and helped her with her wicked plots.

She was in the boat which took Arthur to Avalon and, after the fall of Camelot, they all left Britain for the Straits of Messina where they lured ships on to the rocks.

Queenah North American

[=Haida Any-any-any-ah]

an evil deity of the Indians of Queen Charlotte Island

This deity is envisaged in the form of a duck and regarded as the lord of darkness having control of the sun, moon and stars. He was killed by Spaul.

Queen's Arch African

the Zulu name for the rainbow

Queevet South American

[Aharagichi.Grandfather]

a god of the Abipones

He was identified within the Pleiades so that, when this constellation was not visible, the people feared for their god, greeting his reappearance with a great festival.

Quel Central American

a parrot

In Mayan lore, this was one of the birds that helped the gods to create human beings by bringing them maize.

Quelny *(see Cuailnge)Querhet *(see Querbit)Quern-biter Norse

the sword of Thoralf Skolinson

Quern Song *(see Grottasong)Querrana North American

in the lore of the Pueblo Indians, the second man to be created

Quesdesh *(see Quades)Quest of Skirnir *(see Skirnis-For)Queste del Sainte Graal French

a 13th c story about Galahad and his quest for the Holy Grail

Questing Beast British

[Beast Glatisant.Glatisa(u)nt Beast]

a monster in the form of a leopard/ lion/serpent offspring of the devil and a mortal maiden

It was said to have an unquenchable thirst and that the rumbling noise from the belly of this mysterious beast was like a pack of hounds baying. Both Palamedes and Pellimore hunted it.

Quetzalcoatl<sup>1</sup> Central American

[Ce Acatl.Eecatl.Ehecatl.Feathered

Staff.(Green-)feathered Serpent.

Huitzilopochtli.Lord of the (House of)

Dawn. Precious Tree.

Tla(h)ui(z)calpantecuhtli.

Tlapallan.White Tezcatlipoca.Yahualli-

Ehecatl:=Hopi Palulukon:=Mayan

Kukulcan.Itzamna:=Kwakiutl

Kanikilak:=Salish Quaaqua:=Tlingit

Yetl:=Zuni Kaloowise]

a god of the Aztecs, Maya and Toltecs

in the form of a jade- coloured feathered serpent

the sun-god of the Second Sun and god of the wind

son of Coatlicue

son of Mixcoatl and Xochiquetzal or of Ometeotl and Ometicuhtli, some say son of Tonacatecuhtli and

Tonacacihuatl, some say

seventh son of Iztaemixcohuatl, some say

twin brother of Xolotl

brother of Quetzalpetlatl

brother of Camxtoli, Huitzilopochtli,

Tezcatlipoca and Tlacahuepan

father of Toltec, some say

In one story, he and Tezcatlipoca split open the body of Tlaltecuhli to form the earth and sky.

In the Aztec creation stories, he killed Tezcatlipoca, who had ruled in the period of the First Sun, and became the ruler of the Second Sun. He then created human beings. He is said to have made them from bones brought up from the underworld, sprinkled with his own blood. Some of the bones were dropped on the way and this accounts for the fact that some races are taller than others. In the form of an ant, he stole maize and gave it to the human race. After another 676 years, the wind-god Tlaloc blew away all the humans (except a few who became monkeys) and took over as ruler of the Third Sun.

Some versions equate Quetzalcoatl with Ah Kin while others regard him as an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as guardian of the west.

In some accounts, he was made drunk by Tezcatlipoca and inveigled into incest with his sister, Quetzalpetlatl, immolating himself in remorse. After eight days he rose to heaven as Venus, the morning star.

In yet another version, he gave up the struggle with his enemy,

Tezcatlipoca, and left Tollan to return to his original home, Tlapallan. Before leaving, he burned down all the houses and buried his treasures or, some say, threw them into the fountain of Cozcaapa. En route he rested at Temacpalco where the imprint of his hands was left in the rock he had sat on. He climbed the Sierra Nevada, where all his companions died of the cold, and slid down the far side to the shore. Here he was carried off on a raft borne by serpents, promising to return. In later years, the invading Cortez was regarded as the returned god.

He is depicted as a traveller carrying a staff or as a butterfly. (see Huemac<sup>2</sup>.

Nanihehecatli.

Papachtic.Quetzalcoatl<sup>2</sup>.

Topiltzin,Yahualli-Ehecatl)

Quetzalcoatl<sup>2</sup> Central American

a Toltec king who was deified when he died

In some accounts, the story of the departure on a raft of serpents relates to this deity.

(see also Quetzalcoatl<sup>1</sup>)

Quetzalpapalotl Central American

a quetzal-butterfly god

Quetzalpetlatl Central American

sister of Quetzalcoatl

In some accounts, she was seduced by her own brother who immolated himself in remorse.

Quetzalveixochitli Central American

in Aztec lore, one of the huge trees regarded as pillars

supporting the heavens

(see also Tezcaquahhiutl)

Quetzpallin Central American

the fourth of the 20 days of the Aztec month

Symbolising the lizard and south, the day was governed by Huehuecoyotl.

Queux British

the French name for Kay

Qui-am-i Wintook *(see Nagah)Quiahuitl<sup>1</sup> Central American

[Quiahatonatiuh.Tletonatiuh]

an Aztec creator-god

the sun-god of the second age

When the world was destroyed by fire at the end of his reign, humans were changed into butterflies, dogs and turkeys.

Quiahuitl<sup>2</sup> Central American

the nineteenth of the 20 days of the Aztec month

Symbolising rain and the west, the day was governed by Chantico.

Quiahatonatiuh (see Quiahuitl<sup>1</sup>)

Quickborn German

the magic fountain of Holda

Quicken Trees Hostel Irish

[Hostel of the Quicken Trees. Rowan Tree Hostel]

a hostel built by Midac

This enchanted building, sometimes referred to as a palace, was built by Midac who still nursed resentment against Finn mac Cool for the death of his father and he trapped Finn and a party of the Fianna who found themselves stuck to the floor. Midac had brought in a large force of Norsemen, under Sinsar, to help him in his fight with the Fianna but, when they tried to cross the ford to reach the hostel, a battle ensued in which all the attacking forces were killed.

The quicken tree (the rowan) was regarded as the tree of immortality.

(see also Battle of Fionn's Strand)

Quietus Roman

a title of Vulcan

Quikinna'qu Siberian

[Big Raven.Kutkinna'qu:=Chukchee

Ku'urkil:=Kamchadel Kutkhu.Kutq]

a creator-god of the Koryak people husband of Miti

father of Eme'mqut and Yina'mna'ut

This deity, who revealed the pre-existing universe, is also regarded as the first human and a culture-hero.

He had a cloak of raven's feathers which enabled him to change his shape and to fly to heaven.

In one story he cut off his sexual organs and became a woman. Miti, disguised as a man, wooed 'her' and they married, finding themselves in a dilemma which was resolved only when the organs (which had been saved) returned to their proper place.

He fought the evil spirits of the forest but was killed when he tried to swallow the sun.

Quilla (see Mama Kilya)Quinames Central American

[=Greek Titans]

Aztec giants who were destroyed

by earthquakes

Quinoa-Mama South American

[Quinuamama]

a goddess of agriculture in Peru

She is responsible for the crops of the quinoa plant.

Quinquatria Roman

festivals in honour of Minerva,

19th- 23rd March

Quintilian British

a nephew of Lucius

King Arthur sent a message with Gawain to the Roman commander, Lucius. Quintilian made an insulting comment about Britain and Gawain decapitated him. (see also Gayus)

Quinuamama (see Quinoa-Mama)Quiqre Central American

one of the lords of Xibalba

Quiqrixgag Central American

one of the lords of Xibalba

Quiquern Inuit

a mythical eight-legged dog

Quiqxil Central American

one of the lords of Xibalba

quirin

a stone said to be found in the nest

of lapwings

These stones are used by witches and magicians who assert that, if they are placed under a person's pillow, that person will reveal all his secrets while he is asleep.

Quirina (see Kurina)Quirinalia Roman

a festival in honour of Quirinus, held on February 17th

Quirinus Italian

[Romulus]

a war-god of the Sabines

consort of Hora

Romulus, one of the founders of Rome, was later deified and sometimes identified with Quirinus.

Quirinus<sup>2</sup> Roman

a title of Janus and Mars

Quiritis Roman

a Sabine guardian-goddess of mothers

Quissan Kweedas North American

a Haida youth

He loved Kindawuss but they were not allowed to marry so they ran off together and lived in the woods. While he was away, she was taken off by a bear by whom she had two sons, Cunwhat and Soogaot. Years later she was found and returned to Quissan Kweedas.

Quivira

a mythical city with great treasure

Quixote (see Don Quixote)Quiyauhtonatuih Central American

[Rain Sun]

ruler of the Third Sun, in some accounts

(see also Tlaloc)

Qumoqums North American

a creator-god of the Modoc

He is said to have brought up mud from the bottom of Lake Tule and used it to make the earth, before creating all the plants and animals.

Quodes (see Qedeshet.Quades)Quonomorius (see Cunomorus.Mark<sup>1</sup>)Quoots-hooi North American

a Chinook giantess

She ate the eggs of the raven, Hahnness, and the first humans appeared.

Qurai (see Ngurai)qutrub Arabian

[female=ghul]

a male jinn

Qzah Arabian

a mountain-god and god of weather

Some versions equate him with Qos.

Qvasir (see Kvasir)

R

Ra<sup>1</sup>

Egyptian

[Af.Ass.Auf.Auf(-Ra).Amon-Ra.
Kamephis.Phra.Phre.Ran.Re.Re-Atum.
Re-Khepra.Rhe.Ria]
a creator-god, sun-god and god of
the underworld
father and husband of Hathor, some say husband of Nut father of Isis, Osiris, Nephthys and Set by Nut
father of Ihy by Hathor, some say Some say he was self-created from Nun, others that he emerged from the primordial lotus flower, others that he was the son of Nut while in some accounts he was the father of Shu and Tefnut. Yet another version says that Ra emerged from an egg laid by Geb in the form of a goose. Some say his consort was Urt-Hikeu. In some accounts, he was the first pharaoh.

He created mankind from his own tears of joy at the recovery of Shu and Tefnut who had been lost. He became convinced that men were plotting to overthrow him, he sent Hathor to kill them all. She got drunk on khakadi, the red-coloured beer that he used to flood the land and forgot her mission.

Isis, wanting to know his secret name, fashioned a serpent from his saliva. The snake bit Ra and caused him violent pain from which Isis cured the god in return for learning his secret name which was Ran.

When he mutilated himself, the blood from his penis generated several other gods.

As the morning sun he was Khepra or Menthu, at noon he was Ra-Harakhta and as the evening sun he was Ra-Atum.

As god of the underworld he is depicted as having a ram's head and riding in a barque; as sun-god he appears as a falcon wearing the solar disc. In other cases, he is depicted as a scarab or dung-beetle.

In old age he retired to heaven – the Fields of Peace (Amenti) in some versions – in favour of Thoth and was lifted into the sky by Nut. (see also Auf)

Ra<sup>2</sup>

Pacific Islands

[Tama-nui-te-Ra.Tama-nui-ate-Ra.

Tama-nuit-ite-Ra:=Maori Raa]

in Polynesian lore, the sun, created by Io

Ra<sup>3</sup>

German

[=Swedish Radere]

an elf working in houses and workshops

Ra<sup>4</sup>

(see Roua)

Ra-Atum

Egyptian

[Atum-Ra.Benu.Ben(n)u-bird.

Nefertem.Ra-Tem.Re-Atum]

an assimilation of the early sun-god

Atum with Ra

In the form of the Bennu-bird or phoenix he dispersed the darkness of Nun while sitting on the benben stone (obelisk).

He had the ability to detach one eye and send it out alone to see what was going on and used it to locate Shu and Tefnut when they got lost. He grew another eye but kept the detachable one which he placed in his forehead.

Ra-Harakhta

Egyptian

[Ra-Harakhte.Re-Herakhty]

the god Horus as sun-god

This deity was an assimilation of Horus of the Horizon with Ra and was the sun-god at dusk and dawn. Other versions identify him as Shu.

Ra-Harakhte

(see Ra-Harakhta)

Ra-Tem

(see Ra Atum)

Ra Torua

New Zealand

[Day of Two Sunsets]

the battle between Tawheta and Uenuku

On this occasion, the sea was red twice in one day – once from the blood of battle and again at the time of the real sunset.

Raa

New Zealand

[=Polynesian Ra]

the Maori sun-god

husband of Arohirohi

Rab-'byor

Buddhist

the Tibetan version of Subhuti

rabbats

household spirits said to keep the occupants awake at night by knocking

Rabbim

Canaanite

a flood-god

He was killed by Anat.

Rabbit<sup>1</sup> North American
the animal who brought fire to the Hitchiti people

Fire was once exclusive to the Sky People but Rabbit thought his people should have it as well. At the Green Corn Festival, when the fire was lit in the square, he soaked the top of his head with pure oil and, as he danced round the fire, bent his head low enough to set the hair alight. He then ran off, sheltering in a hollow tree when the Sky People sent rain in a vain effort to douse his fire.

Rabbit<sup>2</sup> (see Cottontail.
Great Hare.Hare)

Rabbit Boy North American
[Much Blood Boy.We-Ota-Wichasha]
a Sioux hero

He was reared by a rabbit who had come across and casually kicked about a blood-clot from which Rabbit Boy emerged. When he grew up, he left his foster-parents and married a girl in the next village. The spider-man, Iktome, was jealous and incited the youths of the village to kill Rabbit Boy who sang his death-song before being killed, cut to pieces and boiled. Using his magic powers, Rabbit Boy reassembled the parts and reappeared alive. When Iktome tried to do the same, he recited the wrong words to the death-song and was killed, never to return.

Rabbul-Nau Muslim
a guardian angel of plants and animals

Rabican European [Rabican]
the horse of Argalia

This marvellous animal lived only on air. When his master was killed by Ferrau at Charlemagne's great tournament, he returned to his original home in a cave protected by a giant and a griffin. Rinaldo wounded the giant who then fled, killed the griffin and claimed Rabican for himself. The horse subsequently passed to Astolpho.

Rabicane (see Rabican)

Rabisu Mesopotamian
a Babylonian demon of nightmares

Rabmag Hebrew
a chief of the magi

Racilia Roman
wife of Cincinnatus mother of Lucius

Racine, Jean French (1639-1699)
a dramatist

He wrote Andromaque, Iphégnie and Pbedre.

Racit Ngabal (see Ngabal)
rackabore (see guyascutus)

Rad (see Cearas)

Rada loa West Indian benevolent Haitian voodoo spirits derived from the deities of Dahomey

Radare Swedish
[=German Ra]
an elf working in houses and
workshops

Radbad German
a king
father of Ortrud

Radegast European
a Polish winter-god

He is honoured in the post-Christmas festival of Turon.

Radegost (see Radgost)

Radgost European [Radegost]
a supreme deity of early Danish tribes, appearing in the form of a goose (see also Radigast)

Raden Abiasa (see Abiasa)

Radha<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a milkmaid
wife of Ayanagosha

She was the favourite mistress (some say wife) of Krishna and when her husband caught her with Krishna the god changed into female form as Durga to deceive him. Other stories say that Krishna split himself into two parts, one of which was Radha, and their union produced the egg floating on the primordial waters from which the universe developed. In some accounts she is regarded as an incarnation of Lakshmi.

Radha<sup>2</sup> Hindu
wife of Shatananda

Radiance Tibetan
a primordial essence

The two things first existing were Black Misery (black light) and Radiance (white light) which combined to form the cosmic egg. Black Misery produced the evil things, Radiance the good things.

Radigast Baltic
[Redigast]

a war-god and god of agriculture and wise counsel

He is depicted with the head of a bull on his chest and a swan on his head.
(see also Rodgast)

Radigund English
the queen of the Amazons in
The Faerie Queene

She defeated Arthgallo in single combat and forced him to dress as a woman and perform menial tasks.

She was said to have been killed by Britomart.

Radin East Indian leader of the Iban tribe of Borneo

He killed the ghost which had been bringing disease to his people when he swung his kris at a bird singing in the longhouse. Next morning, the wooden image of the war-god Sengalang Burong (who sometimes appeared as a hornbill) which stood outside the longhouse, was found to have been cut in half.

Radion-aimo Baltic
heaven, home of the god of the

Lapps

Radish Chinese
[Mu-lien:=Tibetan Maudgalyayana]
a Buddhist hero

When he left home on a long journey, he left money with his mother, Lady Leek Stem, to be distributed to the poor. She kept it for herself and for this she was sent to hell when she died. Radish interceded with the Buddha and she was returned to life as a dog. He then prayed for her for a whole week and she was returned to human form.

Rado Serbian
a builder

When he immured the wife of Goiko in the walls of a fortress to placate a veela, he left a small opening through which she could breast-feed her infant son, Yovo.

Radool Serbian
brother of Paul and Yelitza

Radsuithr Norse
one of the dwarfs

Rae Irish
a warrior of Connaught

He was one of those who fought Cuchulainn in single combat during the Cattle Raid of Cooley and was killed.

Rafnagug Norse
a name for Odin as a raven-god

Raft of Four Sticks North American in some tribes, a symbol of the four quarters of the world

Such a structure is regarded as the platform on which the creator rests and was the platform used by the animals and birds that dived into the primordial waters to bring up mud from which the gods made the earth.

Rafusen Japanese
a fairy who scatters perfume amongst the blossom of the plum trees

rag-bush
a bush on which pieces of cloth are hung to placate local spirits

Raga Hindu
a deity, melody personified

Raga-Vidyaraja (see Vidyaraja)

Ragalata Hindu
a name of Rati as vine of love

Ragallach Irish [Raghallach]
a king of Connaught
son of Uadhu husband of Muireann
father of Cathal

He became king when he defeated Colman at the Battle of Ceann Bugha. Fearful of being killed himself, he killed his own nephew and, when he was told that his own child would cause his death, he tried to kill his young daughter by abandoning her. She was saved by a swineherd and reared by a holy woman and, when she came of age, Ragallach took her as a mistress, neither of them knowing of their relationship. His wife then left him and later died of jealousy.

Accounts of his death vary. Some say that he was killed by men arguing over a stag they had killed, others that he was killed by Maolbhrighe who was later killed by Cathal to avenge his father, still others that his daughter fulfilled the prophecy by killing him.

ragana (see laume)

Ragavrinta Hindu
a name of Kama as passion

Rager (see Rahab)

Raghallach (see Ragallach)

Raghu Hindu
a king
an ancestor of Rama
son of Dilipa

Raging Host (see Wild Hunt)

Ragimu (see Ramman)

Ragini Hindu [emotion]
a goddess of music

Ragisel (see Raguidel)

Ragnar Lodbrok Norse
[Lodbrog.Lodbrokr.Regner]
(c. 735-794)
a great warrior
son of Sigurd Ring and Alfilid husband of Aslaug, Lodgerda and Thora father of Agnar and Erik by Thora

father of Biorn, Hvitserk, Ivar, Rogenwald, Sigurd and Ubbe
by Aslaug

When his father died by his own hand, Ragnar took the throne at the age of fifteen. On an expedition to Norway, he met and married Lodgerda, a warrior-maid, and lived with her for three years but was then forced to return to Denmark to repel an invasion. Lodgerda refused to leave Norway and Ragnar eventually married Thora after killing the dragon that guarded her. She bore two sons, Agnar and Erik, before dying at an early age.

Ragnar came across Aslaug, at that time called Krake, in a filthy hut where she was virtually a slave to the peasant couple who had reared her. He married her and they had four sons. When Ragnar considered putting her aside in favour of a princess, Aslaug discovered his plan from her pet magpies and proved that she was equally highborn, the daughter of Sigurd and Brunhild. She later gave birth to another son, Sigurd the Snake-eyed.

Late in life, Ragnar invaded Northumberland. Most of his men were killed and he was captured. Ella, the king of Northumberland, had him thrown into a snake-pit but the magic shirt his mother had made for him saved him until Ella had the shirt stripped from the body of his prisoner who soon died from snake-bites, the only thing to which he was vulnerable.

Ragnarok Norse

[Doom of the Gods.Ragnarokr:=German Gottterdammerung.Twilight of the Gods:
=Persian Armageddon]

the final battle: the end of the world
This was the final battle between good and evil, the battle in which the gods were destined to be defeated by the forces of evil, led by Loki, after which will come a new beginning under a new god greater even than Odin.

After a winter of exceptional severity known as the Fimbul winter, which lasted three years (seven in some accounts), the Midgard serpent came out of the sea breathing out poisons and causing great floods; the wolves Hati, Managarm and Skoll finally swallowed the sun and the moon; Garm, Fenris and Loki broke their bonds; the dragon Nidhogg finally ate through the roots of Yggdrasil; the cockerels crew and Heimdall blew his horn to warn the gods that the end was approaching.

Loki's ship landed a force from Muspelheim and another ship brought the Frost Giants from the north. They were reinforced by Hel and Nidhogg and by Sutr and his sons who smashed the Bifrost bridge as they rode over it. In the ensuing battle on Vigrid plain the gods were defeated.

Odin was eaten by the wolf Fenris, Frey was killed by Surtur, Heimdall by Loki, Tyr by Garm, and Thor drowned in the poison of the Midgard serpent after he had killed it. Vidar, arriving late, put his one large foot on the bottom jaw of Fenris and, taking the top jaw in his hands, pulled the wolf apart. Sutr then set the world on fire with his flaming sword and the earth sank beneath the waves.

The evil gods who died in that battle were sent to Nastrond, the good ones went to the highest heaven, Gimli, while the giants went to their own hall, Brimer.

(see also end of the world.Twilight of the Gods)

Ragnarokr (see Ragnarok)

Ragnell British

[Loathly Lady]
sister of Gromersomer Joure wife of Gawain mother of Gingalin

Cursed by her brother, she appeared as an old crone, a version of the Loathly Lady, and told King Arthur the answers to the riddle posed by Joule but demanded Gawain as a husband. When Gawain married her, the spell was broken and she returned to her normal form as a beautiful young woman.

Ragnhild Norse
wife of Hadding

She nursed the wounded Hadding and left a ring embedded in his wound so that, when she was later required to choose between a group of suitors, she was able to identify him by touch. They married but, after some years, he longed for his home in the sea and she for the hills, so they parted.

Ragno North American

a mother-goddess of the Hopi and Pomo Indians

In the lore of the Pomo Indians, she rescued the world from the attempts to destroy it made by the brothers Kuksu and Marumda.

RaguidelBritish*

[Ragisel]

a knight of King Arthur's court

After he was killed by Guengasoain, his corpse was found on a ship where a note found with the body asked King Arthur to exact vengeance for his death. Gawain killed Guengasoain and was, as a result, the only man who could remove the rings from the fingers of the dead Raguidel.

RahabHebrew*

[Rager.Rahabh:=Sumerian Tiamat]

a moon-goddess and sea-goddess

(see Rahab)

RahakattituNorth American*

a wand decorated with feathers

The object is used in religious ceremonies by the Pawnee and symbolises the female principle and peace.

RahaktakarūNorth American*

a wand decorated with feathers

The object is used in religious ceremonies by the Pawnee and symbolises the male principle and war.

RahiPacific Islands*

a Tahitian chieftain husband of Hotu Hiva

He found a princess, Hotu Hiva, inside his long drum and she became his wife.

RahkoiBaltic*

a ghost in the lore of the Finns and

Lapps, said to influence the moon

RahkonenBaltic*

in Finland, the man in the moon

RahoPacific Islands*

a Samoan sailor

He left Samoa with his granddaughter, a girl named Maiva, taking a basket full of soil, and sailed westwards. When he tipped the soil into the sea, a new island, Rotuma, was formed and he settled there with Maiva.

RahuHindu*

[Abhapisacha.Adhrapuisacha.grabber:

=Chinese Lo-hou]

a horned demon

son of Kasyapa or Rudra

He was sent by Jalandhara to seize Sakti, the wife of Shiva. The god created the lion-headed monster, Kirttimukha, to fight Rahu who was so frightened that he ran off.

When this demon drank some amrita, Vishnu, as Narayana, cut off its head to prevent it from becoming immortal. The head was placed in the sky where it swallows the moon at eclipses. Here it takes the form of a dark planet at the north node of the intersection of the orbits of the moon and the earth.

In some accounts he is depicted as a dragon with nine heads and nine arms with eyes on both his body and arms.

(see also Vajrapani)

RahulaBuddhist*

[=Chinese Lo-hou-to:

=Tibetan's Gra-c'an-dsin)]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

one of the 4 Bikshu

son of the Buddha and Yasodhara

He is said to be born as the eldest son of all future Buddhas and is depicted with a large head and a hooked nose.

RahulataBuddhist*

[=Chinese Lo-hou-lo-to] a 2nd c BC teacher

one of the Eighteen Lohan,

some say

He was said to be able to work miracles, one of which was to produce rice from heaven for his audience.

He is depicted seated on a rock, holding a staff.

Rahoua

(see Roua)

Rahumel

(see Ramuel)

RaiSlav*

[Raj]

the paradise of the western Slavs: the home of the sun (see also Svarog)

Rai-tubuPacific Islands*

a sky-deity in Hawaii

At his father's command, he created the earth when he looked down and the sky when he looked up.

RaichoJapanese*

a Shinto thunderbird

This bird, about the size of a crow, is said to have the ability to create a terrible sound by clashing together the spurs on its body. It is generally seen during thunderstorms.

RaidenJapanese*

[Raijin]

a Shinto god of thunder

father of Raitaro

He ate the navels of the dead and when he saw Chiyo, killed by Shokura, lying dead in a wood, he restored her to life and took her into the heavens.

He is said to have defeated the invading Mongols by creating a great thunderstorm which killed all but three of them.

He is depicted as a clawed demon with red skin, sitting on a cloud, shooting arrows at the enemies of the people.

(see also Kaminari)

Raighne

(see Raigne)

RaigneIrish*

[Raighne]

son of Finn mac Cool

a Fianna warrior

He was one of the party of nine, led by Goll mac Morna, which recovered Finn's hounds, Bran and Sceolan, when they were stolen by Arthur.

RaijinJapanese*

[Karaijin]

a group of Shinto weather-gods

In some accounts, a name for Raiden.

(see also Karai-shin)

RaijuJapanese*

a Shinto Thunder-animal

This beast is variously envisaged in the form of a badger, a monkey or a weasel and was said to be docile in good weather but savage during a storm when it jumped from tree to tree.

Raiko<sup>1</sup>Japanese*

a warrior-hero

He was ordered by the emperor, Ichijo, to slay Shutendoji, the goblin of Mount Oye who had captured the emperor's daughter Kimitaka, and set out with five companions. The deities Gongen, Hachiman and Kwannon gave him a magic drink called Shimben-Kidoku-Shu with which Raiko and his men, dressed as priests, put the goblin and his retainers to sleep and killed them.

In a later adventure, he killed the Goblin Spider which, in the guise of a young retainer, had nightly brought medicine which made Raiko worse instead of curing his illness. In another story, the Goblin Spider appeared as an old woman and a beautiful maiden who trapped Raiko in a silken web. When he struck her with his sword, the wound produced white blood and, when he cut off her head, hundreds of skulls emerged from a wound in her stomach.

In some accounts he is the same as Yorimitsu.

Raiko<sup>2</sup>Japanese*

a wealthy miser

He was so mean that Mara took the form first of a priest to tell Raiko to distribute his wealth to the poor and then of a huge spider which frightened him into repentance.

RailPacific Islands*

an evil deity in the Pelew Islands

This being, in the form of a bird, brought sickness and death to mankind.

RailanitraAfrican*

a name of Zanahary as 'father of heaven'

Raim

[Raum.Raym]

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

This being is said to be able to evoke love and will steal money for the sorcerer.

He appears in the form of a blackbird and, in some accounts, is equated with Alastor.

Raimimu (see Ramman)Raimond (see Raymond)Raimonidi South American

an ancient Peruvian deity

Rain Beings North American

rain-spirits of the Pueblo Indians

Rain Goddess African

the second wife of Mwari

Rain Queen African

in the lore of the Lovedu, an earthly queen who is the embodiment of the rain-goddess Mujaji

The queen must have perfect health so she was required to commit suicide the first time she fell ill.

(see also Mujaji)

Rain Sun (see Quiyauhtontih)Rainardo *Italian*the Italian version of *Reynard the Foxrainbow<sup>1</sup>

a natural phenomenon in the form of an arc of 7 colours in the sky

The rainbow is woven into many cultures with many different interpretations.

(1) One story from Africa says that, if one cuts the rainbow in half, one half goes up into the heavens while the other half goes down into the earth, making a hole that leads to an underworld paradise.

(2) Christians liken the seven colours to the seven gifts of the Holy Ghost.

(3) The general belief in Europe is that a pot of gold lies at the rainbow's end, treasure which was placed there by an angel which can be claimed only by a naked man.

In Brittany, the rainbow is spoken of as a snake with a bull's head.

Others say that any person passing under a rainbow will be changed to the opposite sex.

(4) In Hebrew tradition, the rainbow symbolises god's covenant with Israel, rebirth, etc.

(5) In Inuit lore, the rainbow is a bow wielded by the thunder-god.

(6) The Irish regard the rainbow as Lugh's sling.

(7) In Japan it is a bridge, the one on which Izanagi and Izanami stood when dipping the spear into the primaeval waters to create land.

(8) In Malaya, people avoid the places where the rainbow touches the earth, believing them to be unhealthy but they also believe, as do many others, that treasure is to be found there.

(9) The Mongols regard the arc of the rainbow as the bow of a great hero from which he fires shafts of lightning.

(10) In Norse mythology, the rainbow is the Bifrost Bridge which leads from Niflheim to Asgard. This bridge is guarded by Heimdall and will be destroyed by the pounding footsteps of the giants crossing it at Ragnarok.

(11) Some North American Indian tribes allege that, if one uses the index finger to point to the rainbow, that finger will swell up. Other tribes regard it as the road to the land of the dead.

Other tribes say that the rainbow causes drought by preventing rain from falling; that it is a means of transport for the Cloud People or a bridge to some afterworld; that it is a sign of ill-fortune or a shaman who paints himself with the colours of the arc.

(12) In Persia, its position in the sky is significant in terms of one's future and the intensity of the colours also plays a part, red indicating war, green wealth and yellow death.

(13) The Romans regarded the rainbow as a symbol of Juno's blessing.

(14) In Siberia, some tribes regard the rainbow as the hem of god's coat, others say it is the sun's tongue or the bow of the thunder-god.

(15) In South America, the Arawak say that the rainbow over land brings evil but over the sea it is beneficial.

Another story says that the rainbow is a serpent which, when small, was caught by a young girl and kept as a pet which escaped and grew to an enormous size, swallowing people as it travelled all over the country.

It was finally killed by a huge flock of birds and went to the sky.

(see also Rainbow Snake)

Rainbow<sup>2</sup>North American*

wife of Hinum

Rainbow<sup>3</sup>South American*

an incarnation of Bochica

Rainbow<sup>4</sup> (see Ix Chel.Lubangala)Rainbow King (see Nkongolo)Rainbow Monster African

a Kenyan water-monster

This beast was said to emerge at night and eat both animals and men. The rainbow in the sky is merely its reflection. (see also Lubangala)

Rainbow Serpent (see Rainbow Snake)Rainbow Snake

[Great Father.Great Rainbow Snake.

Rainbow Serpent]

a creator or fertility symbol in many African, East Indian and Australian stories

Some of the many names for this being include Galaru, Galeru, Kaleru, Kalse(uru), Karia, Kunmanggur, Langel, Mindi, Muit, Ngalbiod, Taipan, Wolunkwa, Wonambi, Worombi and Yero.

(see Dan Ayido Hwedo.Dji.

Mbumba Luangu.Yurlungur)

RainburnEuropean*

son of Guido of Tours

He was fostered with his father's friend, Heraud, but was kidnapped by Russians whose ship was wrecked off the coast of Africa. Here he was sold to a king, Argus, and grew up to become the leader of the king's army. In an attack on a neighbouring country, he found himself in single combat with Heroud who had been imprisoned there. They renewed their friendship and set off together for England. En route, Rainburn fought an honourable draw with a champion guarding a mountain pass who turned out to be Heroud's son, Asslake, who was searching for his missing father.

RainiSouth American*

a Tupi creator-god

He created the world when he placed a flat stone on the head of another deity.

(see also Rairu)

rainmaker

a witchdoctor or medicine-man who claims to be able to cause rain to fall

RainoaurtEuropean*

a giant

husband of Ermintrude

He was stolen when a child and sold as a slave, later becoming a cook in the royal household. When Guillaume was given an army by the king to fight the Saracens, Rainoaurt went with him and distinguished himself in battle by killing 3,000 of the enemy with his huge club.

Rairu South American
a primordial being in the lore of the Tupi Indians son of Karu

He and his father Karu existed in the primaevial darkness but Rairu put a stone on his head which grew to form the sky and they had light. Rairu hid from his father in the underworld and found human beings there. When these people emerged into the upper world, he and his father turned the lazy ones into birds and butterflies.

(see also Raini)

Raitaro Japanese
[Thunder Child]
a Shinto thunder-god
son of Raiden

He once appeared in the form of a baby and was found and reared by the poor farmer, Bimbo. For many years he lived with his foster-parents but, when he reached manhood, he turned into a dragon and returned to his home in the sky.

Raivato African
a villain in Madagascar

He captured the young maiden known as Iampelamamanoro but the great hero Iboniamasiboniamanoro came to her rescue. Raivato was overcome and hammered into the ground.

Raivata Hindu
a king
father of Revaki

Raivuki Pacific Islands
a Fijian goddess of the seasons wife of Ratu-mai-mbula

Raj (see Rai)

Raja Angin Malay
a wind-god

Raja Hantuen (see Hantuen)

Raja Jinn Peri Malay
king of the fairies

Raja Naga Malay
king of the sea-serpents

Raja Sulana (see Sulana)

Raja Suran (see Sulana)

Rajagrha Buddhist
a sacred city

Rajamatangi Hindu
a goddess

rajarshi Hindu
a king who becomes a sage or a demi-god as the result of asceticism

rajas Hindu
one of the 3 gunas governing the transmigration of souls

Rajasaganagara East Indian
one of the 5 kings of Java regarded as incarnations of the Dhyani Buddhas

Rajasawardhana Buddhist
one of the 5 kings of Java regarded as incarnations of the Dhyani Buddhas

Rajashika Hindu
those who worship the rakshasas or the yakshas

Raji Hindu
son of Ayus

He and his 500 sons fought on the side of the gods against the Asuras and he was rewarded with a place among the gods until he died.

Raka<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a moon-goddess and goddess of good fortune and wealth

Raka<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
a wind-god of the Hervey Islanders son of Vare-Ma-Te-Takere

His mother gave him the winds in a large basket. He lives in the ocean, Moana-Irakau

Raka Maomao New Zealand
[=Hawaiian La'a Maomao: =Samoan Fa'atiu]
a Maori wind-god

Rakan Japanese
[Arakan:=Tibetan Gnas-brtan]
the Japanese version of the Eighteen Lohan or the 16 Arhats

(see also Arhat.Eighteen Lohan)

Rakhsh (see Rakush)

Raki (see Rangī)

Rakib-El Mesopotamian
[Rakkab]
a Syrian moon-god or sun-god

Rakim Pacific Islands
the carpenter-god of the Carolines

Rakkab (see Rakib-El)

Rako African
a Hausa spirit which causes the infirmities of old age

raksa (see rakshasa)

raksasa (see rakshasa)

rakshasa Hindu [raksasa:female=rakshashi:
=Javanese reksoso]
an evil spirit

It is said that these beings were created from Brahma's foot though others say that they were descended from the sage Pulashya.

They could assume any shape and usually appeared as monsters but sometimes as beautiful maidens. Descriptions of them in human form say that they may be blue, green or yellow, with eyes set vertically, fingers pointing backwards, matted hair, protruding stomachs, and five feet. They are said to eat human flesh, even fouled meat and corpses. Some say that they live in trees but haunt graveyards and they are so poisonous that they kill mortals by a mere touch. They can also take possession of men, causing illness or death. Mortals who have been exceptionally cruel in life may be condemned to reappear as rakshasas.

In some versions rakshasas are the same as yakshas.

Rakshasa-Loka Hindu
the home of the rakshasas

Rakshasaraja Hindu
a king of the rakshasas

rakshasi Hindu [=Javanese rekshasi]
a female version of a rakshasa

Rakta-Yamari Buddhist
an aspect of Akshobhya
a form of Yamari

Raktabija (see Raktavija)

Raktadanti Hindu
a name for Devi, Durga, Kali and Uma as 'bloody-toothed'

Raktavija Hindu
[Raktabija.Raktavira]
a huge demon-king

Kali killed all the demon's forces but when she wounded Raktavija a thousand giants sprang from every drop of his blood. Kali finally killed the demon by swallowing all his blood.

Raktavira (see Raktavija)

Rakush Persian [Rakhsh.Ruk(u)sh]
the horse of Rustem

He and his master were both killed when they fell into a pit filled with sharp-pointed spears.

Ral-cgig-ma Tibetan
the Tibetan version of Ekajata

Ralph
a printing-house imp

Raluvimbha African
a creator-god of the Bventa people of the Transvaal

ram<sup>1</sup>

the male sheep, featured in many mythologies

(1) In Babylon the ram was sacrificed at New Year to expiate sins.

(2) In Celtic lore the ram is the personification of Belin, the Gaulish god of light and crops.

(3) In Egypt the ram symbolises the soul and the gods Amen-Ra, Geb, Min, Osiris and Shu.

(4) In the Greek story of the Golden Fleece the ram, named Chrysomallon, saved Phrixus and his sister Helle from death by carrying them off to Colchis.

In other contexts it is sacred to Dionysus and Zeus.

In Crete the ram was deified as the god of the waning year.

(5) Hebrews regard the ram as a symbol of sacrifice.

(6) In Hindu lore, the ram is a generic name for god and an attribute of Agni.

(7) In Muslim lore the ram was one of the ten animals allowed into heaven.

(8) In Persia the ram symbolised virility and was the emblem of the empire.

(9) To the Romans, a ram with one horn facing forwards and the other facing backwards represented the two-faced god Janus.

ram<sup>2</sup> (see Aries<sup>1</sup>)

Ram<sup>3</sup> (see Rama<sup>1</sup>)

Ram of Mendes (see Banaded.Ptah)

Rama<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Gentle Rama.Moon Rama.Moon Rejoicer.Ram.Ramac(h)andra] the seventh incarnation of Vishnu, as a human son of Dasa-Ratha and Kausalya half-brother of Bharata, Lakshmana and Shatrughna husband of Sita father of Kusha and Lava

He is the hero of the epic Ramayana and appears in the Mababharata.

He killed the she-dragon, Taraka, and won the hand of Sita, daughter of Janaka, king of Videha, by bending the bow of Shiva. He should have succeeded to the throne when his earthly father died but he and his wife, Sita, together with his half-brother, Lakshmana, were exiled and Bharata, his other half-brother, took the throne.

Surpanakha, the sister of the demon-king Ravana, tried to seduce him but he and Lakshmana badly wounded her when she tried to swallow Rama when he rejected her advances. She then persuaded her brother Ravana to seize Rama's wife.

When Sita was abducted by Ravana, Rama or Sugriva built Adam's Bridge and attacked Trikuta, the fortress of the demons, with the monkey forces of Sugriva led by Hanuman in a battle in which all the leaders of the demons were killed. Rama himself cut off Ravana's head.

In later years, he exiled Sita on the suspicion that she had slept with Ravana. When she asked the gods to send a sign that she had been faithful to her husband, the earth opened up and she was taken away on a golden throne. In remorse, Rama drowned himself.

Rama<sup>2</sup> Persian

[Vayu] one of the yazatas, giving food its flavour

Rama-setu (see Adam's Bridge)

Rama-umi a good demon, said to teach magic

Ramacandra (see Rama<sup>1</sup>)

Ramachandra (see Rama<sup>1</sup>)

Ramajana (see Ramayana)

Ramakien Tbai

[Ramakirti] the story of Hanuman's visit to the underworld realm, Patal

Ramakirti (see Ramakien)

Ramanavami Hindu

[Birthday of Lord Rama] a festival celebrating the birthday of Rama, held in the month of Caitra (March/April)

ramara (see remora)

Rama's Bridge (see Adam's Bridge)

Ramasoon Tbai

a thunder-god

Ramayana Hindu

[Ramajana] an epic recording the life and exploits of Vishnu as Rama

The original Sanskrit version of this work, in seven books and 24,000 couplets, is said to have been written by the poet Rishi Balmik in the 2nd or 3rd C BC. A 16th C version, in Hindi, was written by the poet Tulsi Das.

Rambha Hindu

a nymph one of the Apsarases wife of Kubera, some say

She was the sixth thing to emerge at the Churning of the Ocean and is regarded as the greatest of the group of Apsarases. Her husband's brother, the demon Ravana, is said to have raped her.

Ramcarismanas Hindu

a collection of stories about Rama

Ramiquiri South American

a creator of the Chibcha

He and Iraca made figures from clay which became men and others from keck which became women. The world at that time was without light so the two heroes went up into the heavens where Ramiquiri became the sun and Iraca the moon.

Ramiro Spanish

[Don Ramiro] a king of Aragon

He was in dispute with Ferdinand and they agreed to settle the matter by single combat between Gonzalez for Ramiro and El Cid for Ferdinand.

Later, when Ferdinand was dead, he and Sancho of Navarre attacked Sancho, Ferdinand's son who was now ruler of Castile, but they were defeated by El Cid.

Ramlila Hindu

a dramatic performance of the Ramayana

Ramman Mesopotamian

[Ragim.Mermer.Raimimu.Rammanu: =Egyptian Set:=Hurrian Sutekh: =Sumerian Ishkur]

a Babylonian thunder-god

In some accounts he is equated with Enlil, others regard him as a manifestation of Adad.

Some versions give Rimmon as the Babylonian god and Ramman as his Egyptian equivalent.

(see also Murtaimu)

Ramses (see Rhampsinitus)

Ramuel

[Rahumel] an angel of the fifth heaven, associated with the north and Tuesday

Ran<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

the secret name of Ra (see also ren)

Ran<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Rana.Robber:=Swedish Sjoran] a sea-goddess and storm-goddess sister and wife of Aegir mother of Gyimir and Mimir mother of the 9 Wave-maidens mother of Gjalp and Greip by Geirrood some say

She lured sailors into her net and carried them down to her home in the deep.

Rana (see Ran<sup>2</sup>)

Rana-neidda Baltic

[=Norse Frigga] a Lapp virgin-goddess

Ranakombe African

a seer

He helped Rasoabemanana when she wanted a child and later set that child, Iboniamasiboniamanoro, several near-impossible tasks before he was allowed to marry.

Randver (see Randwer)

Randwer Norse

[Randver]

son of King Ermenrich

His father sent him and a servant, Sibich, to escort the king's proposed bride, Swanhild, to the royal palace. Sibich lied to the king that Randwer had seduced Swanhild on the journey. The king had Randwer hanged and Swanhild trampled to death by horses.

(see also Broder)

Rang African

[Garang]

a Sudanese god of the hunt

Rangahore Pacific Islands

in some accounts, a wife of Tane who produced stone

Rangda Pacific Islands

[Widow]

a witch, queen of Bali

She was vanquished by Barong, the lion-king.

rangga Australia

the first humans

sacred sticks or objects of the

Aborigines

Rangi New Zealand

[Atea.Hanui-o-Rangi.La(n)gi.Raki.

Ranginui.Ranji.Tu Tumu.Vatea:

=Pacific Islands Rangi-Atea.Wakea:

=Polynesian Atea]

creator-god and sky-father of the Maori

husband of Heke-Heke-I-Paperi,

Poko-ha-rua-te-po or Papa husband of Teptotango

father of Haronga, Haumea, Rehua,

Rongo, Ruaumoko, Tane, Tangaroa,

Tawhiri and Tu

The intertwined bodies of Earth and Sky made it impossible for their children to leave the womb so they tried to push their parents apart. After failures by Haumea and Rongo to push them apart, Tangaroa to blow them apart with his winds, and Tu to cut them apart, Tane, standing on Papa, managed to push Rangi, the sky, into its present position.

It was said that he had six wives, one of whom, Papa, turned out to be the wife of Tangaroa who stabbed Rangi in the thigh with his spear when he discovered what had happened in his absence.

Rangi-Atea Pacific Islands

a name of Rangi in Tuamotu

Rangi Haupapa Pacific Islands

a magic cloak

This garment was given to Mataora by his father-in-law when he brought his wife, Niwareka, back to earth after they were reconciled.

Rangi Tuarea Pacific Islands

the tenth heaven, in Polynesian lore

Rangima Pacific Islands

['light sky']

a Samoan sky-god

offspring of Ao and Po

(see also Rangiuiri)

Ranginui (see Rangi)

Rangiuri Pacific Islands

['dark sky']

a Samoan sky-god

offspring of Ao and Po

(see also Rangima)

Rangkong East Indian

wife of Enggang

Her husband shut her in a tree while he was away but she was released by the servant Sidin. When Enggang returned, he destroyed the palace where she had taken refuge and was turned into a hornbill for this crime. Rangkong, who still loved her husband, changed herself into a female hornbill, Enggang Papan, to be with him.

Rangsang East Indian

[Agung]

a Javanese king

It was said that, every Friday, he would fly to Mecca on his prayer-mat to take part in prayers.

ranguma East Indian

[plur=ranguova]

a demon in the form of an evil man

This being, notable for blood-shot eyes, is said to kill children and rape women.

ranguova (see ranguma)

Ranji (see Rangi)

Rannut (see Renenutet)

Rannweig Norse

wife of Bjarni

Ran's Ness (see Hronesness)

Raodhatakhma (see Rustem)

Raohenga Pacific Islands

a realm below the surface of the earth,

home of the Turehu

Raon Irish

a warrior at the court of Eochaid Feidhleach

raos East Indian

[roso:=Indonesian rasa]

in Javanese lore, the ability to interpret cosmic events

and phenomena

rapal East Indian

a magic formula for changing into an animal

Rapanuate Pacific Islands

a Melanesian tribal hero

Rape of Lucrece English

a poem by Shakespeare

Rape of the Sabine Women Roman

the capture of the Sabine women

by the Romans

When Romulus and Remus built Rome there was a shortage of women so they invited the Sabine tribe to the festival of Consualia. They took the women prisoner and drove the men away. In the final battle, when the Sabines attacked the city to recover their women-folk, the captives stood between the opposing armies and demanded the cessation of the fighting.

Raphael<sup>1</sup> Hebrew

one of the 7 archangels, associated with Mercury or the sun.

As Suriel, he was regarded as a bull-headed angel who cured disease.

Raphael<sup>2</sup> West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit derived

from St Raphael

Raphael<sup>3</sup>

an angel of the third heaven,

associated with the north

Rapithwin Persian

[Lord of the Noonday Heat]

an early god of summer and warmth

He is destined to preside over the renovation of the earth at the end of time.

Rarach (see Svarog)

Rarog (see Svarog)

Rarohenga Pacific Islands

[Po]

the home of the fairies: the underworld

Ras al-Ghul Arab

the Arab name for the star Algol

Ras shamra lotan Canaanite

a seven-headed monster

Rasa<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[=Greek Styx;=Norse Leipter]

the river which separates this world from the underworld

rasa<sup>2</sup> East Indian

[=Javanese raos]

in Indonesian lore, the ability to interpret cosmic events

and phenomena

Rasa-Lila Hindu

a love-dance: the dance of Krishna

Rasap (see Resep)

Rasatala Hindu

one of the 7 realms of Patala,

home of the Daityas and the Danavas

Rashima Japanese
a fisher-boy who lived under the sea

Rashnau (see Rashnu)

Rashnaw (see Rashnu)

Rashnu Persian

[Rashnau.Rashnaw.Rasnu]

a god of the underworld
one of the Yazatas

He acts as one of the three judges of souls, with Mithra and Sraosha, holding the golden scales of justice.

Rasnu (see Rashnu)

Rasoabemana African

mother of Iboniamasiboniamanoro

Rasphuia

a demon

Rasulu Indian

a hero of the Punjab who appears in many adventures

rat

a widely distributed small rodent

This animal appears in the mythologies of various countries.

(1) In China, where it is called shu, the rat symbolises industry and prosperity and is one of the animals bearing the sun through the Zodiac. It is regarded as the guardian of the northern quarter.

(2) Christianity regards the rat as symbolising evil.

(3) In Egypt, the rat symbolises destruction and is sometimes deified.

(4) In Hindu lore, the rat can be either the embodiment of a powerful demon or the favoured transport of Garuda.

(5) The Irish say that rats can be driven away by reciting poetry at them.

(6) In Japan, the rat, known as nazumi, is the messenger of the god Daikoku. It is said that if rats eat the New Year cakes there will be a good harvest.

(7) Romans believed that rats could bring good luck.

(8) Some South African tribes wear rat-hair as a charm to guard against spears thrown at them by their enemies.

rat<sup>2</sup> (see dun)

Rat<sup>3</sup> Pacific Islands

sister of Olofat

Rat<sup>4</sup> (see Iusas)

Rat-killer Greek

a name for Apollo

The god sent a plague of rats to harass his priest, Crinus, and then, when the priest repented of his earlier neglect, killed all the animals with his bow and arrows.

Rat-Tanit (see Tanit)

Rat-taui (see Rattawy)

Rata Pacific Islands

[=Samoan Lata]

son of Tawhaki and Tahiti Tokerau

son of Wahieroa, some say

His father was killed by the demon Matuku and Rata avenged his death by snaring and decapitating the demon. In another version, he killed Matuku by throwing hot coals into the giant's mouth.

His efforts to make a dugout canoe were frustrated by spirits of the forest who restored every tree that he felled until he made proper sacrifices to Tane, the forest-god. Then the spirits made a cane, Niwaru, for him.

When his mother was abducted by Puna, he rescued her and killed Puna but his father was killed by Puna's lizards. In one version Matuku was a great shark and Rata recovered his father's body from the stomachs of the lizards and his head from the belly of the shark. Rata himself was cut to pieces by the lizards.

When his father (or grandfather) led souls across the rainbow bridge to meet their ancestors in the land of spirits, Rata followed in his canoe.

In some versions, Rata is said to be the son of Wahieroa and grandson of Tawhaki.

Ratana (see Wiremu Ratana)

Ratatosk Norse

[Ratatoskr]

the squirrel living in Yggdrasil

Ratatoskr (see Ratatosk)

ratchet owl North American

a fabulous bird

Ratego African

a name of Were as 'the almighty one'

Rath<sup>1</sup> Irish

a sailor

He was torn to pieces by mermaids who had lulled him to sleep with their songs.

rath<sup>2</sup> (see dun)

Rath Luachar Irish

the home of Lia, the treasurer of the Fianna

Rathayatra Hindu

the festival of the Pilgrimage of the Chariot, held in honour of Jagannath, in the month of Ashada

Rathlean British

mother of Ailleann by Daire

Rati<sup>1</sup> Hindu

['delight'.Kelikila.'lust'.Mayarati.

Mayavati.Ragalata.=Greek Aphrodite:

=Roman Venus]

the goddess of love

a sakti of Vishnu

daughter of Daksha or Shiva

wife of Kama as Pradyumna

Her partner, Kama, had been killed by Shiva but she pleaded with Shiva and Kama was reborn as Pradyumna. The demon Shambhara, to frustrate a prediction that the boy would kill him, snatched the newborn child and dropped him into the ocean where he was swallowed by a fish. Rati, in the guise of Mayavati who acted as cook to Shambhara, found the infant in the belly of the fish and, keeping him hidden from the demon, reared him.
When he grew to manhood, Pradyumna killed Shambhara and married Rati.

Rati<sup>2</sup> Norse

a magic auger

This tool of Baugi's was used by Odin to bore into the mountain to steal the Mead of Inspiration from Gunlod.

Rati<sup>3</sup> Norse

In some accounts, a name for Heimdall.

Rati<sup>4</sup> Pacific Islands

the fertility-goddess of Bali, a version of the Hindu goddess

Ratna<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Ratnaparamita]

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses,

excellence personified

Ratna<sup>2</sup> Buddhist

[Mani]

a jewel which is said to grant any wish the owner may make

(see also Ratna<sup>3</sup>)

Ratna<sup>3</sup> Hindu

['jewel']

one of the precious objects generated

at the Churning of the Ocean

(see also Ratna)

Ratna Dumilah East Indian

[Shining Jewel]

a Javanese rice-goddess

It is said that rice grew from her navel and the nutmeg tree from her feet shortly after her death.

Ratna Jumilah East Indian

a Javanese princess wife of Senapati

She tried, with all kinds of weapons, to kill Senapati when he captured her father's castle but he was invulnerable and she ended up by marrying him.

Ratnadakini	Buddhist	Ratu-mai-mbula	Pacific Islands	seduced them. He could become as big as a mountain in a moment and, using his twenty arms, could throw hills about. He could be killed only by a mortal, so the gods sent Vishnu in the form of the human Rama to deal with him.
a goddess of air		[Ratu-mai-bulu]		Ravana abducted Rama's wife Sita and Rama attacked Trikuta, his fortress in Ceylon, with the monkey forces of Sugriva led by Hanuman, killing all the leaders of the demons. Rama himself cut off Ravana's heads. As fast as Rama cut off one of the heads, another grew to replace it and Ravana was killed only when Rama shot him with an arrow made for the purpose by Brahma.
She is said to be able, if she so wishes, to confer supernatural powers on her worshippers.		a fertility-god and serpent-god of the Fijian underworld		Another version of Ravana's death says that he crawled under Mount Kailasa and tried to smash it. The shaking of the mountain so frightened Parvati, who lived there with Shiva, that the god stamped on the mountain, crushing the demon to death.
Ratnagarbha	Hindu	one of the Kalou-Vu		In some accounts he had ten heads and twenty arms.
a name for Kubera as		husband of Raivuki		Ravandiz
'belly-jewel'		He is said to have created coconuts.		Armenian
Ratnaheruka		Rauch-Else	German	[Rowandiz]
one of the 5 Herukabuddhas		a bear-woman		a sacred mountain
(see Ratnasambhava)		She was really the princess Sigeminne and was restored to her former self when Wolfdietrich promised to marry her. (see also Sigeminne)		This mountain, said to support the heavens, is the home of the gods and the place where Xithruthros landed his ark when the flood subsided.
Ratnapani	Buddhist	Raudalo	East Indian	Ravdna one of 5 Dhyani-bodhisattvas		a culture-hero of New Guinea		Baltic
a form of Ratnasambhava		He is envisaged in the form of a snake and was said to have caused the flood to recede when he touched the waters with his tongue.		a Finnish thunder-goddess
Ratnaparamita	(see Ratna <sup>1</sup> )	Raudna	Baltic	raven<sup>1</sup>
Ratnasambhava<sup>1</sup>	Buddhist	a Lapp goddess		a black bird, somewhat larger than a crow
[Aparajita.Jambhala.Prasannatara. Ratnaheruka.Ratnapani: =Hindu Yama:=Japanese Hoshō]		wife of Horagalles		This bird appears in the mythologies of various cultures.
one of the 5 Dhyani-buddhas, the third son of Adibuddha		Raudri	Hindu	(1) In Arthurian lore, ravens are the birds of Owain and the birds that fought with warriors in the story of Rhonabwy's dream were ravens. In some versions, it is said that King Arthur's soul resides in this bird but others substitute the chough or the puffin.
Ratnasambhava<sup>2</sup>	Tibetan	a mother-goddess		(2) A popular belief is that Britain will never be invaded while ravens continue to exist at the Tower of London.
a Lamaist tutelary god		one of the navasaktis		(3) In China, a three-legged raven is said to live on the moon.
Ratnasanu	Hindu	an aspect of Parvati		(4) To the Greeks, the raven was the messenger of Aesculapius, Apollo, Athena and Cronos and it was said that it was originally white or silver but was turned black by Apollo when it brought the news
a name for Mount Meru as		Raum	(see Raim)
'jewel peak'		Rauni	Baltic
Ratnolka	Buddhist	[Akka.'old woman'.'rowan']
a goddess of light, literature		a Finnish storm-goddess
personified		wife of Ukko
one of the dharanis		Raurava	Hindu
Ratnosnisa	Buddhist	one of the realms of hell
a sky-god		This is the realm reserved for the punishment of sadists by tearing them to pieces.
one of the usnisas		Ravag	West Indian
This deity is a guardian of the southern region.		a Haitian voodoo spirit
Ratovoantany	African	Ravian	(see Ravana)
a creator-god of Madagascar		Ravana	Hindu
He formed the first humans from clay and Zanahary gave them life. He is said to have grown out of the earth like a plant.		[Hiranyakashipa.Ravan: =Javanese Dasamuka.Rawana]
Ratri	Hindu	king of Ceylon
a goddess of the starlit night		the ten-headed demon-king
daughter of Prajapati		of the Rakshasas
sister of Ushas		grandson of Pulashtya
Rattawy	Egyptian	son of Vishravas
[Rat-tauii]		brother of Kubera, Kumbakharna,
a goddess of Thebes		Shurpanakha and Vibhishana
consort of Menthu		husband of Mandadari
mother of Harpre		father of Indrajit
Rattlesnake	North American	Ravana was originally an angel who was condemned to life on earth for insulting Brahma. His first manifestation was as Hiranyakashipu, the second as Ravana, the third as Shishupala.
a dog owned by Coyote the Indian trickster-god		As Ravana, king of Ceylon, he could assume any shape, even a rock, smoke or a corpse; in one story he turned himself into a chameleon to gain access to the women's quarters and
Ratu Baka	East Indian
a Javanese king
father of Lara Jongngang,
some say
Ratu Kidul	(see Kidul)
Ratu Lara Kidul	(see Kidul)
Ratu Loro	(see Kidul)
Ratu-mai-bulu (see Ratu-mai-mbula)

that Coronis was unfaithful to him.

(5) In Hindu stories, the raven is an incarnation of Brahma.

(6) In Irish lore, the goddess of war, Morrigan, often appeared in the form of a raven.

(7) The Japanese regard the raven as the messenger of the goddess Amaterasu.

(8) Norse mythology has ravens as the birds of Odin, Hugin and Munin, which brought him news of the outside world.

Raven<sup>2</sup> North American

[Big Grandfather. Taqlikic:=

Aztec Quetzalcoatl:

= Kwakiutl Kanikilak:=Salish Quaaqua:

=Tlingit Yehl.Yetl]

servant of the supreme god of the heavens, Sha-Lana creator-god and trickster-god of the Haida Indians

He caused the earth to rise from the primaeval ocean, or after the flood, by flapping his wings, made humans from shells and stole fire from the heavens for their use. Some say that he made men from models carved from wood and women from clay.

In one story he was the grandson of a fisherman and persuaded the old man to let him play with the moon which he kept in ten boxes, nested one inside another. When he got it, he threw it into its present position in the sky.

Another version of this tale says that Raven turned himself into a leaf which was swallowed by the daughter of a chief when she drank. She became pregnant and Raven was re-born with black skin and fiery eyes. To stop him crying, the chief gave him a bag of stars which the child threw into the sky and finally he was given the box in which the chief kept light. Raven then resumed his former shape and flew off, placing the light in the sky in the form of the sun.

The Algonquians say that the bird was originally white. It was the only being who knew the whereabouts of Chibiabos, who had been captured by the Underwater Panthers and Manabazho, the brother of the missing man, held the bird over the fire to make him tell the truth with the result that its feathers were black thereafter.

Raven<sup>3</sup> North American

[Big Grandfather. Taqlikic:

=Aztec Quetzalcoatl:

=Haida Yehl.Yetl:=Quaquiutl

Kanikilak:=Salish Quaaqua]

a creator-spirit of the Tlingit: a light-god

He was created, with Heron, by the deity Nascakiyetl or, some say, was born to this deity's daughter when, on the advice of Heron, she swallowed a pebble. Others say that he was the son of Kitkaositiyika.

His first act was to steal the stars and planets from Nascakiyetl, who kept them in a box, after which he made the winds and the tribes, stole water from Petrel to irrigate the barren land and caused the tides to rise and fall. He then gave the people fire and, releasing the sun from the box, placed it in the sky. Having introduced the arts of fishing and hunting and propped the earth up with the leg of a beaver, he returned whence he came.

raven<sup>4</sup> (see Hahness)

Raven the Giant (see Giant)

Ravening Dog Mesopotamian

one of the Eleven Mighty Helpers

created by Tiamat

Ravga Baltic

[Meriraukka]

a Finnish fish-god

Ravi (see Surya)

Raviyoyla Serbian

a wood-sprite, one of the veelas

She inadvertently wounded Milosh, a friend of Marko, who nearly killed her in response. She was able to heal herself and Milosh with herbs whose healing properties she had learned.

Rawana East Indian

[Dasamuka]

the Javanese version of Ravana

Raweno North American

[Everything-maker]

a creator spirit of the Iroquois

rawhead-and-bloody-bones

bogeys

Raxa-Cakulha Central American

[Track of the Lightning]

an assistant to Hurukan, the wind-god

Raym (see Raim)

Raymi South American

[Hatun Raymi]

a harvest festival held at the summer solstice

Raymond French

[Raimond]

husband of Melisande

Raynbrown British

a knight of King Arthur's court

son of Ironside

Raynaert European

the name for Reynard the Fox in Dutch stories

Raynold British

a knight of King Arthur's court

He was one of the knights overthrown by Lancelot who was posing as Kay.

Raysiel

a demon of the north

Raz European

the home of souls in Breton lore

Razanil

a demon

Razeka Arab

an early god worshipped as a provider of food

Raziu Japanese

a thunder-animal

Rbhus (see Ribhus)

rdo-rje Buddhist

[dorje]

the Tibetan name for the thunderbolt, the vajra

rDo-rje-chang Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Vajradhara

rDo-rje-'jigs-byed (see Vajrahairava)

rDo-rje-moi-bu Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Vajraputra

rDo-rje-phe-mo Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Vajravahari

rDo-rje-sems-dip Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Vajrasattva

re<sup>1</sup> Irish

the moon

The proper name for the moon was taboo so euphemisms such as 're' were used.

(see also esca.gealach.luan)

Re<sup>2</sup> (see Ra)

Re-Atum (see Ra-Atum)

Re-Herakhty (see Ra-Herakhta)

Re-Khepra Egyptian

the god Khepri as Ra

Re-in-ga (see Reinga)

Re-Tem (see Ra-Atum)

Rea Silvia (see Rhea Silvia)

Reachaa-Sey Cambodian

a flying-lion

Reachtaidh Irish

a king of Ireland

In some accounts, he killed the queen, Macha, and took her throne.

Reaghamhain Irish

a hostel-keeper

Maev, needing help to feed her army before the Cattle Raid of Cooley, sent her seven sons, the Maini, to ask the hostel-keeper for cattle. His seven daughters fell in love with the Maini and eloped with them, taking their father's herds. He agreed to allow his daughters to marry provided that most of his cattle were returned.

Reahu Cambodian

a Khmer demon which chases and tries to swallow the sun

Reb Low Hebrew

a 16th c Pole who invented the Golem

Recaranus Roman

[Garanus]
a creator-deity

Recorder of Heaven and Hell (see Geshtinanna)

Recorder of Hell (see Chung K'uei)

Red Beard (see Thor)

Red Bird (see Zintkala Luta Win)

Red Book of Hergest Welsh

[Llyfr Coch Hergest]
a 14th c book of early legends

Red Boy North American

a spirit of the Apache
He, with Holy Boy, set the sun and moon in their courses.

Red Boy Demon Chinese

a demon encountered by Hsüan Tsang on his journey to India

Red Branch<sup>1</sup> Irish

an élite battalion guarding Ulster, bodyguard of the king

The Red Branch was founded by Ross the Red and was the counterpart of the Fianna, the bodyguard of the high-king. Its most famous champion was Cuchulainn.

The name was also used for the assembly hall for the warriors, one of three halls at Emain Macha. When the men were at meals, they hung their weapons in another hall, the Speckled House, so that they could not fight one another.

Red Branch<sup>2</sup> (see Craebraud)

Red Branch Cycle Irish

[Ulster Cycle.Ultonian Cycle]
the stories of the exploits of the warriors and champions of the Red Branch such as Cuchulainn, including the Cattle Raid of Cooley

Red-cap Scottish

[Red-cowl]
a malevolent castle goblin
He is said to dye his cap in human blood.

Red Champion

[Witch God]
a name of the god of witches
(see also Robin)

Red City

the city of fallen angels: hell

Red Coat (see Chu I)

Red-cowl (see Red-cap)

Red Cross Knight British

a personification of St George in The Faerie Queene

husband of Una

Red Devil Tiger Tibetan

a demon with the head of a horse on a human body

Red Dragon<sup>1</sup> Japanese

this beast, ruler of the south, is the symbol of life

Red Dragon<sup>2</sup> (see Samael)

Red Dwarf (see Nain Rouge)

Red God (see Hashje Hlichi)

Red Hawk North American

an Apache warrior
He bet his friend White Hawk that he could seduce the latter's wife and, although he failed, he persuaded White Hawk that he had succeeded. The angry husband locked his wife in a chest and threw it in the river from which she was rescued by a fisherman. When she was finally restored to her husband, she had Red Hawk and an old woman who had helped him torn apart by wild horses.

Red Heads Pacific Islands

the name for the culture-hero brothers, Gwau Meo and Sina Kwao

Red-heads of Leinster Irish

the 3 brothers of Rumhal
These were the three riders who were seen by Conary Mor as he neared the hostel of Da Derga where he was killed. They later slew Lugaid Riabhdhearg.

Red Heaven African

the fifth of the 7 heavens of the Bambara

This is where Faro keeps his records.

Red Horn North American

one of the 5 (or 8) great spirits created by Earth-maker

Red Horus (see Horus<sup>2</sup>)

Red Hugh (see Aehd mac Ruadh)

Red Knight<sup>1</sup> British

a knight who stole a golden cup from Camelot

In some accounts he was killed by Gawain, in others by Percival. In the latter event, he may be identical with the Red Knight who stole Sigune's dog. (see Red Knight<sup>2</sup>)

Red Knight<sup>2</sup> British

in some accounts, a title of Gawain

Red Knight<sup>3</sup> British

a knight who stole Sigune's dog
When Sigune's husband, Schionatulan-lander, tried to recover the dog, the Red Knight killed him. Percival, Sigune's cousin, avenged his death by killing the Red Knight.

(see Red Knight<sup>1</sup>)

Red Knight<sup>4</sup> (see Ironside.Perimones. Tom a'Lincoln)

Red Land

a name for paradise in Aztec and Egyptian lore

Red Lord (see Ch'i-ti.Hastseltsi)

red magic

bloody diabolic practices

Red Man (see Asgaya Gigagei. Fir Dhearg)

Red Mare (see Feidhilm<sup>2</sup>)

Red Men (see Fir Dhearg)

Red Rose Knight (see Tom a'Lincoln)

Red Stag of Redynvre Welsh

[Redenure.Redynure.Rhedynfre]
a very ancient stag

This was one of the animals consulted by Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen. He could not help with information about the prisoner Mabon but led Culhwch and his companions to the Owl of Cwm Cawlwyd who was even older.

Red Tara Tibetan

Kurukulla as an aspect of Tara wife of Kamadeva

In some accounts she is equated with Rati.

Red Tezcatlipoca Central American

an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as Xipototec, guardian of the east

Red Thunderbird North American

one of the 4 elders of the Thunderbirds

He helped the other three elders to guard the nest holding the eggs from which all the other Thunderbirds were hatched. He was the guardian of the north.

Red Tiger Devil Tibetan

a Bon deity

Red Woman (see Asgaya Gigagei)

Red World North American

one of the 4 worlds through which the Navaho passed on their ascent from the underworld

Redarator Roman

a god of agriculture

redbreast (see robin)

Reddedet Egyptian

a mythical mother of kings

Redenure (see Red Stag of Redynvre)

Redigast (see Radigast)

Redsword (see Edlym Redsword)

Redynure (see Red Stag of Redynvre)

Redynvre (see Red Stag of Redynvre)

re'em (see reem)

reem

[re'em:=Asian Argalan-Zon]
one of 2 huge oxen

These two animals are said to live at opposite ends of the earth, meeting once in seventy years to produce twins, after which they die.

In some versions, it is said to be the unicorn.

Regan British

daughter of King Lear
sister of Cordelia and Goneril

She and Goneril each received half of their father's kingdom but they drove him into madness and only Cordelia succoured him. She raised an army to depose her sisters but was killed in the attempt.

Regin Norse

[Reginn:=German Mime:=Greek Hephaestus:=Roman Vulcan]
a smith

son of Hreidmar
brother of Fafnir and Otter

When Loki killed Otter, Regin's brother, their father demanded a ransom which Loki paid with the hoard of gold and a magic ring which he had forced the dwarf Andvari to hand over. In doing so, the dwarf put a curse on the treasure. When Hreidmar refused to share the treasure with his sons, Fafnir killed his father and expelled Regin, keeping all the treasure for himself and turning into a monster to guard it.

When Elf placed Sigurd in his care as tutor, Regin persuaded Sigurd to slay the monster to which Sigurd agreed if Regin would provide him with an unbreakable sword. Two made by Regin proved inadequate so they forged together the pieces of Sigmund's sword which proved capable of slicing through an anvil. Having killed the dragon, Sigurd cut out its heart and cooked it at Regin's request but, having tasted it, he found that he could hear the language of the birds who warned him that Regin was planning mischief. Sigurd then killed Regin and kept the treasure for himself.

Regina<sup>1</sup> European

in some accounts, one of the 9 wives of Charlemagne

Regina<sup>2</sup> Roman

a name of Juno as 'queen'

Reginn *(see Regin)Regnault *(see Rinaldo)Regner *(see Ragnar Lodbrog)Regnier European

[Renier de Ganvres]
a duke of Genoa
one of Charlemagne's paladins
father of Aude and Oliver

Regulus Roman

a hero who gave his life for his country

For his bravery, the gods placed him in the heavens as a star in Leo.

Rehtia Roman

an early Italian goddess of good fortune

Rehua<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

a Polynesian star-god
son of Rangī and Papa
father of Kaitangata

He helped Tu to push Rangī and Papa apart. He is said to live in the highest heaven, Putahi-nui-o-Rehua.

Some accounts refer to Rehua as female.

Rehua<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

the Polynesian name for Pollux

Reidartyr Norse

[Reidityr]
a name for Thos as 'riding god'

Reidityr *(see Reidartyr)Reidmar *(see Hreidmar)Reinaert German

the German name for Reynard

Reinecke Fuchs German

the German version of Reynard the Fox
(see also Reinaert)

Reinga New Zealand

[Re-in-ga. Tē Reinga]
the Maori land of the dead: the route taken by departed souls

Reinier European

a Saxon duke
He attempted to take, by force, the inheritance of the Duchess of Bouillon but the Swan Knight, Elias, came to her aid, killing the duke and then decapitating him.

Reinold *(see Rinaldo)rekh Egyptian

[=Arab roc]
an eagle or phoenix

reksasi *(see reksoso)reksoso East Indian

[female=reksasi]
the Javanese version of a rakshasa

Relah

a demon

Related Ones *(see Kindred Gods)Rella-manerinja Australian

2 primaeval partly-formed beings

These beings were cut apart by the lizard, Mangar-kunjer-kunja, and they became the ancestors of man.

Relya Serbian

a knight

He was riding with Marko and Milosh when they were set upon by Bogdan the Bully and twelve of his men. Marko captured all twelve and scared Bogdan into releasing his two friends who had been taken prisoner by Bogdan.

Rem Egyptian

a fish-god

His tears were said to fertilise the land.
(see also Remi)

Remainder *(see Ananta)Remanka Buddhist

king of the horse-gods

He is depicted riding a red horse and holding a red banner.

Remfré European

son of Aliste and Pepin I brother of Andri

His mother had been substituted for Pepin's intended bride, Bertha, and she produced two sons before the deception was exposed.

Remi<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

a form of Sebek

In some accounts, he is equated with Rem.

Remi<sup>2</sup> *(see Remus)remora

[ramara]
a sucking fish, once believed to be able to stop a ship by attaching itself to the hull

Remphan *(see Chiun)Remus Roman

[Remi.Rhomas.Rhomus]
son of Mars and Rhea Silvia or Ilia
twin brother of Romulus

In an early version, Tarchetus, a king of Alba Longa, ordered his daughter to mate with a phantom phallus seen in the flames of his fire. She made a servant girl take her place and the result of this union was the birth of the twins, Romulus and Remus. In this version, they were given to Teratius to be killed but he left them on the bank of the Tiber.

In some accounts, they were the sons of Latinus and Rhome.

In another version they were the sons of Rhea Silvia who was raped by Mars and they were abandoned in a basket on the banks of the Tiber or, some say, cast adrift on its waters.

They were found under the fig-tree, Ruminalis, by the herdsman Faustulus and reared by a she-wolf aided, in some accounts, by a woodpecker.

They later killed Amulius who had usurped the throne from their grandfather, Numitor, and restored him to the throne.

Remus was killed, for jumping over the walls of the newly-founded city, by Romulus who became king of Rome or by Celer, his lieutenant. Others say that he was killed in a quarrel that broke out between the followers of the two brothers.

Remus and his brother are traditionally regarded as the founders of Rome. (see also Rhomus)

Remute (see Renenutet)

ren Egyptian

an attribute of a person's name necessary to ensure future life

(see also Ran)

Renaud (see Rinaldo)

Renaud de Montauban European

an early poetic version of the story of Rinaldo (Renaud)

Renauld (see Rinaldo)

Renaut (see Rinaldo)

Renaut

[Renaut de Montauban]
the French version of Rinaldo
son of Aymon and Beatrice
brother of Aalart, Guischart and Richart

In this version, Aymon's brother, Beuve, killed Charlemagne's son, Lohier, when he tried to force Beuve to fulfil his obligations to the king and Charlemagne sought revenge. Aymon supported the king's view against his own brother and sent his four sons to court where they were knighted. It was on this occasion that Renaut was given the magic horse, Bayart.

In an argument over a chess game, Renaut struck Bertelai, the king's nephew, with the chess-board and killed him. He and his brothers then fled to their father's castle but he turned them away and they built their own castle in the Ardennes. When they were attacked by Charlemagne's forces, the four brothers fled to Gascony with their cousin Maugis and served the king, Yon. Here they built another castle, Montauban.

When Charlemagne organised a horse-race, Renaut entered riding Bayart and won the prize which included the Charlemagne's crown. The king then attacked Montauban.

Yon betrayed them to the king's forces but the four brothers were rescued by Maugis who, by magic, transported the king to Montauban. The protagonists failed to reach a peaceful settlement and the king was released and the siege was resumed. The brothers escaped, taking Bayart with them, through an underground passage and went to Dortmund where they were pursued by the king. Only when Renaut threatened to hang Charlot, the king's son whom he had captured, would the king make peace, but he required Renaut to make a pilgrimage to the Holy Land and threw Bayart into the Rhine. The horse managed to escape and fled to where Maugis lived as a hermit in the forest.

In the Holy Land, Renaut and Maugis helped in the capture of Jerusalem and Renaut refused the offer of the crown, preferring to return to the king's court. Finding that his wife had died in his absence, he gave his property to his sons and became a monk, later working on the construction of the cathedral at Cologne. His fellow-workers, jealous of his performance, killed him and threw his body into the river. When the body was recovered and placed on a cart, the cart set off of its own accord in the direction of Dortmund where Renaut was finally buried.

In a Dutch story, Renaut killed Lodewijk (Louis) who had struck one of Renaut's brothers with a chess-board, Bayart was drowned in the Rhine and Maugis (here Malagjis) was killed in the Holy Land.

(see also Rinaldo)

Renaut de Montauban (see Remaut)

Renenet (see Renenutet)

Renenutet Egyptian

[Ernutet.Ernutit.Nepret.Rannut.

Remute.Renenet.=Greek (T)hermouthis]

a goddess of childbirth and harvest

a female version of Nepri

She is present when souls are weighed in the underworld.

She is sometimes depicted as a cobra.

Renge Gundari Japanese

a form of Gundari-myoo regarded as a manifestation of Kongo

Renier de Ganvres (see Regnier)

Renoart European

a French warrior

in some accounts, father of Corbon by

Morgan le Fay

He was taken to Avalon where he met King Arthur and became a lover of Morgan le Fay, fathering Corbon. When he deserted her, Morgan had her servant Kapalu, sink Renoart's ship but he escaped death when the Sirens saved him.

Renpet Egyptian

[Mistress of Eternity]

a goddess of spring and youth

Renuka Hindu

wife of Jamad-Agni

mother of Parashurama

When her husband discovered that she had lustful thoughts he ordered his five sons to kill her. Parashurama obeyed and decapitated his mother with an axe but, when granted a request, he asked that she be restored to life.

Renwein British

[Hrothwina.Ronwen.Rowena]

a witch

daughter of Hengist

sister of Sardeine

second wife of Vortigern

mother of Paschent

She married Vortigern and manipulated him with her magic arts and poisoned Vortimer, her husband's son by his first wife.

After Vortigern's death, she left Britain but instructed her servant, Ambron, to kill Aurelius who had killed her husband and regained his kingdom, using poison which she left with him.

Another story places the blame for the murder of Aurelius on her son, Paschent, whose soldier, Eopa, is said to have administered the dose.

Reochaid Irish

a lover of Findbhair, some say

Repanse British

[Repanse de Joie.Repanse de Schoie]

the Grail maiden

daughter of Frimutel

sister of Amfortas, Herzeloyde, Josiane

and Trevezent

wife of Feirefiz

mother of Prester John

She married Feirefiz when he converted to Christianity and they went to live in India.

Repanse de Schoie

(see Repanse de Joie)

Rephaim (see Anakim)

Rephan (see Chiun)

Requiel

a moon-demon

Rer (see Tauret)

Reenga-waitua Pacific Islands
an entrance to the Polynesian underworld

Reret (see Tauret)

Rerir Norse

son of Sigi
father of Volsung

His father, king of Hunaland, was killed by his wife's relatives while Rerir was away from home. On his return, he killed the murderers and took over his father's throne.

When he was downcast at the lack of children, Gna dropped an apple sent by Frigga. His wife ate the apple and soon bore him a son, the hero Volsung.

Resef (see Resep)

Resep Canaanite

[Rasap.Res(h)ef.Res(h)eph.Reshiph-Mical:
=Assyrian Salman: =Egyptian Resphu: =Kenite Salma]

a war-god and god of plague husband of Itum

He is sometimes equated with Mot and may be depicted with the head of a gazelle on the front of his crown.

Reseph (see Resep)

Reshef (see Resep)

Resheph (see Resep)

Reshiph-Mical (see Resep)

Resphu Egyptian

[Great God.Lord of Eternity:= Canaanite Resep]

the war-god Resep absorbed into the Egyptian pantheon

Restor de Tristram British

a hero who rejected the love of a fairy and was taken to the castle of Morgan le Fay

Resurrection Central American

a giant

In the lore of the Aztecs, he was one of the four giants who supported the sky at the beginning of the Fifth Sun.

Retaliator Irish

[Dioltach]

the sword of Manannan

This weapon, one of three owned by the sea-god, was said never to fail to kill.

Retho British

[Rhic(c)a.Rhitta.Ricca.Rience.Rith(o).Ryence]

a giant

father of Britomart

He lived on Mount Erith or Mount Aravia and is said to have taken part in the argument between Nynniaw and Peibaw as to the meaning of the stars. He challenged all comers to combat, sewing their beards to his cloak when he killed them. King Arthur killed him and used the giant's beard to make his own cloak.

In some accounts, he is equated with Royns. (see also Royns)

Returns, The Greek

part of the Epic Cycle dealing with the events following the fall of Troy

Reussen

a kingdom comprising Poland and Russia

Reva (see Narmada)

Revanta Hindu

a god of the hunt, the second

Manu

son of Surya and Sanjna

Revati Hindu

a goddess of fortune

one of the naksatras

daughter of Daksha or Raivata

wife of Candra

In some accounts she was a consort of Balarama by whom she had two sons, Nishatha and Ulmuka, and, in some accounts, a third, Shani.

revenant

[undead]

a ghost: the spirit of one returned from the dead

Such spirits can be human, parts of humans (such as head, hands, etc.), animals of various sorts, lights moving over graves, vehicles, etc.

They are said to be unable to rest until they have returned to complete some unfinished task or to pass on important information or because they were murdered or accidentally killed by violence. They are reputed to do nearly all the things that mortals do, such as coughing, playing instruments, moving furniture, etc.

Revival Bird (see humming bird)

Revolving Castle (see Caer Feddwid)

Rex nemorensis

(see King of the Wood)

Reynard European

[=Dutch Raynaert:=German Reinaert.

Reinecke Fuchs]

the wily fox in Reynard the Fox

mate of Ermelyn

He was summoned to appear at the court of the king, Nobel, to answer charges made against him by the other animals. Having ignored the summons brought by Brown the bear and Hintze the tom-cat, he finally went with his nephew, Grimbart the badger and was condemned to the gallows. He talked his way out of being hanged by telling the king and queen that he knew where a hoard of gold was hidden and asking leave to go to Rome to ask the pope for a pardon. He killed Lampe and, sending Bellyn back to court with the hare's head, ensured that he too was killed.

In another story, he was stuck in a basket down a well but tricked Isengrim into climbing into the other bucket which sank under his extra weight, so pulling Reynard back to the surface, allowing him to escape.

Summoned to the court again after a complaint by Merkinau that Reynard had killed his wife, the fox undertook to fight the wolf to prove his innocence and defeated Isengrim.

It was said that he owned a ring which could change to three different colours. If it turned green, it could make the wearer invisible.

Reynard the Fox European

[=German Reinaert.Reinecke Fuchs]

a mediaeval allegorical story in which animals are featured

Reza (see Leza)

Rezha (see Leza)

Rezia European

a name for Clarimunda, in some stories

Rg Veda (see Rigveda)

Rgvedic (see Rigvedic)

rGyal-po Tibetan

early ancestors of the race: miracle workers: fiend-kings

rhabdomancy

divination using rods: dowsing

(see also xylomancy)

rhabdos

Greek

[rhabdis]

a sorcerer's wand which gave the owner power over the dead

rhabdus (see rhabdos)

Rhacius Greek

a Cretan

father of Mopsus by Manto

Other versions say that Apollo was the real father of Mopsus.

Rhadamanthus (see Rhadamanthus)

Rhadamanthus Greek

[Rhadamantios.Rhadamanthys]

ruler of part of Crete son of Zeus and Europa

brother of Minos and Sarpedon

father of Erythrus and Gortys

In some accounts, he was the son of Phaestus who ruled Crete before Minos.

He was a wise and renowned law-giver who, every ninth year, received a new set of laws from the cave of Zeus.

After killing one of his relatives he fled to Boeotia. He later married Alcmena either on earth after the death of her first husband, Amphitryon, or in Tartarus where he was appointed as one of the three judges of souls.

Rhadamanthys (see Rhadamanthus)

Rhaecus (see Rhoecus)

Rhamnes (Roman)

a king

Rhamnes was also an augur and was one of those fighting on the side of Turnus against Aeneas. He was killed by Nisus.

Rhamnusia (Greek)

a name of Nemesis as goddess of Rhamniss

Rhampsinitus (Greek)

[Ramses]

a king of Egypt

His treasury was built by two brothers who left a secret entrance and stole much of his treasure. When one of them was trapped, the other decapitated him to prevent him from revealing the secret.

When the surviving brother was found, the king made him guardian of the treasure and gave him his daughter as a wife.

A similar story is told of the king, Hyrieus.

In another tale he went to the underworld and played dice with Isis who gave him a gold-embroidered napkin to take back.

rhapsodomancy

divination from random samples of poetry

(see also bibliomancy.sortes)

Rhe (see Ra)

Rhea<sup>1</sup> (Greek)

[Adrastea.Idaeon Mother.Rheia.Rheie:

=Phrygian Cybele:=Roman Magna

Mater.Mater Turrita.Ops]

goddess of nature and queen of the universe

a Titaness

a prophetess

daughter of Uranus and Gaea

sister and wife of Cronus mother of Demeter, Hestia, Hades,

Hera, Poseidon, Zeus

mother of a daughter, Pluto, some say Cronus had been warned that one of his children would usurp his throne and to prevent this happening he swallowed each of his children as they were born. In some accounts, Rhea gave Cronus a foal to swallow instead of the infant Poseidon who was given to shepherds to rear. When Zeus was born, Rhea hid him on the island of Crete and gave her husband a large stone wrapped in baby-clothes which he promptly swallowed. She was later raped by Zeus, both in the form of serpents and it was she who saved Dionysus when he was torn to pieces by the Titans.

Rhea<sup>2</sup> (Roman)

a priestess

mother of Aventinus by Hercules

Rhea Silvia (Roman)

[Ilea.Ilia.Rea Silvia.Sylvia]

a vestal virgin

daughter of Numitor

mother of Romulus and Remus

by Mars

In one version of the story of Romulus and Remus, she was raped by Mars as she was fetching water from a spring. As a result, she was imprisoned for breaking her vows of chastity but she was later released by her sons. In some versions she suffered the traditional penalty and was buried alive though others say that she was drowned or beheaded and was then deified.

In some stories she is referred to as Ilia, daughter of Aeneas.

(see also Tarchetius)

Rhedynfre (see Red Stag of Redynvre)

Rhedged<sup>1</sup> (Celtic)

the ancient kingdom of the Celts, later divided into Strathclyde and Cumbria: the kingdom of Urien

Rhedged<sup>2</sup> (Welsh)

father of Gwres

Rheia (see Rhea)

Rheiddion (see Rheiddwn)

Rheiddwn (Welsh)

[Rheiddion]

a warrior at King Arthur's court

son of Eli Adfer

He was killed by the boar Twrch Trwyth.

Rheie (see Rhea)

Rheingold, Das (see Rhinegold, The)

Rhene (Greek)

mother of Medon by Oileus

Rhesos (see Rhesus)

Rhesus<sup>1</sup> (Greek)

[Rhesos]

a king of Thrace

son of Eioneus or Strymon and Euterpe or Terpsichore

husband of Arganthoe

He fought on the side of the Trojans at the siege of Troy and was killed by Diomedes and Odysseus when they made a night-raid on the city.

In some accounts, he lived on as the Thracian god of that name, in others his spirit lived in a cave on Mount Rhodope as an oracle. His wife died of grief at the news of his death.

Rbesus<sup>2</sup> (Greek)

a play by Euripides dealing with the

Trojan War

Rhexenor (Greek)

son of Nausithous

father of Chalciopie and Arete

brother of Alcinous

He was a follower of Diomedes and went with him to Italy where he was turned into a bird by Aphrodite.

Rhiannon (Welsh)

[Great Queen.Rigantona:=Celtic Epona]

a moon-goddess and goddess of the dawn

daughter of Hefydd Hen wife of Pwyll

mother of Pryderi

A mysterious lady who appeared riding a white mare in front of Pwyll's court. Though she rode at what seemed a canter, none of Arthur's riders could overtake her. She asked for help to prevent her forced marriage to Gwawl, a man she did not love and Pwyll married her himself.

Soon after their first son was born, it disappeared and the nurses, fearing the wrath of the parents, said that Rhiannon had eaten the baby, putting bones beside the bed and smearing the sheets with blood as Rhiannon slept, as proof of her crime. She was condemned for a whole year to carry all visitors to the castle on her back. The baby, who had been left on the doorstep of the farmer Teirnyon, was later returned to its parents and was called Pryderi.

After Pwyll's death, Pryderi introduced his mother to Manawydan and they married. When all living things disappeared from Wales, she and her husband, together with Pryderi and his wife Cigfa, travelled to England but, having roused the enmity of the local tradesmen whose work they were taking, they returned to Wales. She and Pryderi were mysteriously spirited away and Manawydan's farm was overrun by a plague of mice. He was about to hang the largest of the mice when a bishop claimed her as his wife and offered a large ransom. He was the magician Llwyd who had put a spell on the countryside to avenge Rhiannon's earlier rejection of Gwawl. When his wife was restored to human form, Llwyd lifted the spell, Rhiannon and Pryderi reappeared and things then returned to normal.

She owned some singing birds, capable of waking the dead or lulling the living to sleep which Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

In some accounts, Rhiannon is identified with Nimue. (see also Epona<sup>1</sup>)

Rhica (see Retho)

Rhicca (see Retho)

Rhind (see Rinda<sup>2</sup>)

Rhine-daughters German

[Rhine-maidens]

nymphs who guarded the gold

hidden in the Rhine

There were three of these maidens – Flosshilde, Wellgunde and Woglinde.

Rhine-maidens (see Rhine-daughters)

Rhinegold German

the treasure of the Nibelungs hidden in the bed of the Rhine and guarded by the Rhine-daughters

Rhinegold, The German

[Das Rheingold]

one of the 4 operas by Wagner, based on the Nibelungenleid

This work tells the story of how Wotan (Odin) acquired the treasure from Alberich and its acquisition by Fafnir.

Rhinnon (see Rhynton)

Rhiogonedd Irish

son of a king of Ireland

Rhipisunt North American

[Rhipisunt]

a Haida maiden

wife of Dzarilaw

She was abducted by the bears and married Dzarilaw, son of the bear chief and his wife who had human heads for breasts. Rhipisunt bore two offspring as bear cubs. When one of her brothers, who had searched for her with his dog Maesk, killed Dzarilaw, rescued her and took her home, these young cubs turned into handsome youths.

Rhitta (see Retho)

Rhoda (see Rhode)

Rhode Greek

[Rhoda.Rhodos.Rose]

a nymph

daughter of Poseidon and Halia or

Aphrodite

mother of Prote by Helius

In some accounts, she bore seven sons and one daughter to Helius while others say there were only three sons, Camirus, Ialysus and Lindus. Other versions say that these three were the sons of Cercaphus.

Some say that she is the same as Clymene. (see Clymene<sup>3</sup>)

Rhodus Greek

son of Poseidon by Aphrodite

Rhodope<sup>1</sup> Greek

a nymph

Rhodope<sup>2</sup> Greek

a sacred mountain

This was the site of an oracle of Dionysus.

Rhodope<sup>3</sup> (see Rhodopsis)

Rhodopsis Greek

[Rhodope]

a female slave

wife of Charoxus

Charoxus, carrying wine to Egypt, ransomed this young slave-girl and married her. She became so wealthy that, on her death, some regarded one of the pyramids as her shrine.

Another story says that, when she was bathing in the Nile, an eagle carried off one of her sandals and dropped it in the lap of the king, Psammeticos. When the king found the owner of the sandal, he married her.

Rhodos (see Rhode)

Rhoecus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[=Roman Rhoetus]

a Centaur

He was killed in the battle between the Centaurs and the Lapiths which took place at the wedding of Peirithous and Hippodamia.

Rhoecus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Rhaecus]

a man blinded by a nymph

He saved an oak tree from falling thereby preserving the hamadryad who lived in it. In gratitude, she promised him her love and would send a bee to tell him when to come to her. Absorbed in a game of dice, he brushed away a bee that buzzed round his head. When he remembered what the bee signified he rushed to the tree – too late, he was blind.

Rhoeco Greek

daughter of Staphylus

mother of Anius by Apollo

She was made pregnant by Apollo and her father cast her on the sea in a chest. She landed at Delos where her son Anius was born and later became king.

Rhoetos (see Rhoetus)

Rhoetus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Rhoetos]

a giant, one of the Gigantes

Rhoetus<sup>2</sup> Roman

the Roman version of Rhoecus

Rhome Roman

['might'] daughter of Aeneas

Some say that she was a Greek slave-girl or a Trojan captured by the Greeks and taken to Italy by Aeneas.

In some accounts, she married Latinus and became the mother of Romulus and Remus; others say she was the sister of Latinus.

Rhomos (see Rhomus)

Rhomus Greek

[Rhomos]

the Greek name for the man who founded Rome

In some accounts, he is the son of Aeneas while others identify him as Romulus or Remus.

Rhon, Kaspar von der German

a 15th c writer, author of

Heldenbuch

Rhonabwy Welsh

a soldier of Madawg

He was engaged in the hunt for Madawg's brother, Iorwoerth, and, resting on a yellow ox-hide in a cottage, he slept for three nights and three days dreaming of King Arthur and his knights as they prepared for the battle of Mount Badon.

In the dream, Arthur was playing a game of chess with Owain. They were interrupted by a chieftain asking Arthur to prevent his men from harrying and killing Owain's ravens. Later in the battle the ravens gained the upper hand and other chieftains demanded that they be called off by Owain. When peace was restored, Arthur crushed the chess pieces to dust with his hands.

Rhongomyant (see Rhongomynt)

Rhongomynt Welsh

[Rhongomyant.Ron(e)]

the name for King Arthur's spear, Ron

Rhot-Ament Egyptian

a name for Osiris as a judge in

the underworld

(see also Khenti-Amentiu)

Rhipisunt (see Rhipisunt)

Rhuawn Bebyr (see Rhwawn Bebyr)

Rhuddfyw Welsh

a warrior at King Arthur's court

He was killed by the young boar Grugyn in the hunt for Twrch Trwyth.

Rhun Welsh

a warrior at King Arthur's court
son of Maelgwn

When Elphin boasted that his wife was more virtuous than any woman in Arthur's court, the king sent Rhun to test her virtue. Warned by Taliesin, she deceived Rhun by exchanging roles with her maid.

In some accounts, Maelgwn takes the place of King Arthur.

Rhuvarn Bebyr (see Rhwawn Bebyr)

Rhwawn Bebyr Welsh

[Rhuawm.Rhuvarn]

leader of the Red Troop of knights in Rhonabwy's dream

Rhydderch Welsh

[Rhydderch Hael.Rodarchus Largus]

one of a triad of generous gods with Mordaf and Nudd

In some accounts, he was a king of Strathclyde fighting at Arthuret where he killed Gwendollau. Some say he was the husband of Ganiada, others that his wife was Languoreth, still others that he married Gwendolena after Merlin divorced her.

He was the owner of the sword Dyrnwyn and, in some versions, a dish, Dysgyl a Gren Rhydderch, both of which became part of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin.

Rhyferys British

[Rhyverys]

head huntsman to King Arthur

Rhygenydd British

owner of a dish, one of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin

Rhymhi (see Gast Rhymhi)

Rhynnon Welsh

[Rhinnon.Rhynnon Stiff Beard]

owner of some magic bottles

These bottles, which kept milk fresh, were among the things that Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Rhys ap Sion British

a servant of Gawain

Rhyveris (see Rhyferys)

Ri-bu-mo (see Rigs-bu-mo)

Ria (see Ra)

Riangabair Irish

[Ringabur]

husband of Finnabair

father of Etan, Id and Laeg

riastarthae (see riastradh)

riastradh Irish

[riastarthae]

the battle-rage of Cuchulainn

When this fury came upon him, Cuchulainn turned red, revolved inside his skin and emitted sparks from his hair and mouth, while one eye became huge, the other smaller.

Rib Irish

brother of Eochaid Airemh

Ribesal (see Ruberzahl)

Ribhu Hindu

[Arbu]

one of the 3 Ribhus

Ribhus Hindu

[Rbhus]

brothers, famous as artificers

In some accounts they were the twin sons of Indra and Sharanyu, in others they were said to be three mortals, trained by Tvashtri, who were granted immortality. Some say that they made heaven and earth, renewed the youth of their parents and made the chariot of Indri.

Their names are given as Ribhu, Vaja and Vibhu.

In some accounts, they are equated with the Aswins.

Ribimbi African

a sky-god in the Transvaal

father of Kudjana

Ribimbi is also referred to as the first man.

Rica Welsh

the Welsh version of Gorlois

father of Gormant

Ricardo European

[Richard.Richart]

son of Aymon and Beatrice

brother of Alardo, Bradamante,

Ricciardetto and Rinaldo

Ricca (see Retho)

Riccarda British

wife of Aguysans

Ricciardetto European

son of Aymon and Beatrice

brother of Alardo, Bradamante,

Ricardo and Rinaldo

He was with Rinaldo in Egypt when they were both summoned by Malagigi to return to Spain. The demons Astaroth and Foulmouth entered their horses which flew, with their riders, to Spain, setting them down in the midst of the Battle of Roncesvalles. He and Rinaldo were two of the survivors of that great battle.

Rice Mother<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

a Balinese guardian of the rice-fields

Rice Mother<sup>2</sup> (see Busi-urt)

Rice Thief Chinese

a nickname of Chang Tao-ling

Rich Fisher British

the name given to Hebron when he became a fisherman

(see Fisher King.

Pelles.Pellimore)

Rich One, The

(see Komokwa.Libanza)

Richard<sup>1</sup> British

son of a king of Jerusalem

When Jerusalem was threatened by invaders, Richard was sent to King Arthur's court to solicit help. Arthur sent an army led by Henry the Courtly and Richard later became king of Jerusalem.

Richard<sup>2</sup> European

[Rijckaert]

one of Charlemagne's paladins

son of Robert

Richard<sup>3</sup> (see Ricardo)

Richart European

the French version of Ricardo

Richaude<sup>1</sup> British

a Spanish princess wife of Titurel

mother of Frimutel and Richaude

She married Titurel when he was over 400 years old and bore him two children, a boy, Frimutel, and a girl who was also called Richaude.

Richaude<sup>2</sup> British

daughter of Titurel and Richaude sister of Frimutel

Richmond Castle British

a castle in Yorkshire under which, it is said, King Arthur and his men lie sleeping

A man named Thompson is said to have seen the sleeping knights who started to wake up when he attempted to draw from its scabbard a sword lying on a table.

Other sites suggested are at Alderley Edge, Cadbury, Craig-y-Dinas, Mount Etna, Ogo'r Dinas and Sewingshields.

Riculf British

a king of Norway

He became king after Sichelm, in some accounts by election, in others by force, despite the wish of the dead king that Lot should have the throne. King Arthur invaded Norway, killed Riculf and installed Lot as king.

Riculfe European

an adviser to Charlemagne

Riddhi Hindu

['prosperity']

a goddess of good fortune

consort of Ganesha

wife of Kubera, some say

- Riddhivasita Buddhist
a goddess
one of the Paramita goddesses,
some say
- riddle of the Sphinx Greek a question posed by the Sphinx to all travellers
'What moves on four legs when young,
two when mature and three when old'
was the gist of the question and those who failed to answer correctly paid with their lives. Oedipus got it right when he gave the answer 'man' who crawls on all-fours as a baby, walks upright later and is supported by a stick in old age.
- Ridhwan Mesopotamian
an archangel guarding the 12 gates of paradise
- Ridija Mesopotamian
a Semitic spirit, controller of rain
This being was envisaged as a calf.
- Ridire Irish
a warrior
He told Conal Gulban, who had defeated him when he attacked the king of Scandinavia, that he had met Macaomb who had carried off Eithne, the girl Conall loved, in Syria and he helped Conall in the fight in which they defeated Macaomb and rescued the girl.
- Rieingulid Welsh
daughter of Anlawd and Gwen sister of Goleuddydd and Igraine mother of Ultyd
In some accounts, she was an aunt of King Arthur.
- Rience (see Retho.Royns)
- Rig (see Riger)
- Rig Antona (see Rigantona)
- Rig Jarl (see Jarl)
- Rig Veda (see Rigveda)
- Riga Veda (see Rigveda)
- rigai South American in the lore of the Witoto, spirits of the air, birds or insects
- Rigantona Welsh
[Rig Antona]
a name of Rhiannon (and others) as 'Great Queen'
- Rigdonn Irish
father of Ruad
- Rigenmucha East Indian
a supreme god in New Guinea
- Riger Norse
[Rig(ir)]
the name assumed by Heimdall on a visit to earth
In this guise, Heimdall became the progenitor of the human races. He
- stayed for three days with each of three couples, the poor Ai and Edda, the well-off Afi and Amma, and the wealthy Fadir and Modir. After each visit, a son was born, Thrall to Edda, Karl to Amma and Jarl to Modir.
Thrall married Thyrr and they became the forerunners of the thralls; Karl married Shor, producing husbandmen and Jarl married Erna and produced many children, one of whom, Konur, founded the royal house of Denmark.
- Rigi Pacific Islands
a caterpillar
Rigi helped Areaop-Emap to force open the clam in which they were trapped. He drowned in his own sweat which formed the oceans and was placed in the sky as the Milky Way.
- Rigir (see Riger)
- Rigisamus Roman
a Celtic war-god in Gaul
- Rigomes European
a poem about the adventures of Lohengrin
- Rigonometis
Mars Rigonometis)
- Rigru Roisclethan Irish
an Otherworld queen mother of Segda, in some accounts
Her son was taken by Conn Ceadchathach to be sacrificed but was saved by Rigrú who produced a cow which was sacrificed instead.
- Rigs-bu-mo Buddhist [Ri-bu-mo]
a Tibetan female demon sister of Srog-bdag
- Rigs-Kyi-bu-mo Buddhist a Tibetan deity
He is regarded as an assistant to Lcham-Sring and is depicted riding a lion.
- Rigspula (see Rigsthula)
- Rigsthula Norse
[Discourse of Rig.Lay of Rig.Rispula] a poem in the Elder Edda, the story of Heimdall's visit to earth as Riger
- Rigveda Hindu
[R(i)g Veda.Royal Veda]
the first of the 4 Vedas, a collection of about 1,000 hymns in 6 books
- Rigvedic Hindu
[Rgvedic]
a cloud-snake
- Riihitonttu Baltic
[=Swedish Ritomte]
a Finnish grain-spirit
This spirit will steal grain from neighbours in order to help the family it protects.
- Riiki Pacific Islands
[='eel']
When Nareau made the world, Riiki helped by holding up the sky until it was firmly established.
- Rijckaert (see Richard<sup>2</sup>)
- Rim-Sin Mesopotamian
a Sumerian giant, king of Uruk He is reputed to have dug out the channel for the Euphrates with his bare hands.
- Rimm (see Enlil)
- Rimman (see Rimmon)
- Rimmon<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
[Rimman:=Egyptian Set:=Hurrian Sutekh]
a Babylonian storm-god
He is regarded as a manifestation of Adad and is sometimes equated with Enlil.
In some accounts, Ramman is the Babylonian god and Rimmon his Egyptian equivalent.
- Rimmon<sup>2</sup> [Damas.Ramman.Rimman]
a demon, chief physician in hell
In black magic he is the ambassador to Russia.
- Rimm (see Enlil)
- Rimogaio Pacific Islands
[=Ponape Kona.Liat]
a fabulous race of giants
- Rimpoche Tibetan [Guru Rimpoche]
a title given to a tulku
- Rimstein
a vassal of Ermenrich
He rose in rebellion against Ermenrich but the revolt was suppressed when Dietrich brought his warriors to the king's aid.
- Rimu (see Limu)
- Rin-Jin Japanese
[Ringin.Rinjin]
a dragon-king of the sea
When his wife fell ill, she said that only the liver of a monkey could save her so Rin-Jin sent the jellyfish to bring a monkey to his undersea kingdom. Having persuaded a monkey to come with him, the foolish jellyfish told the monkey why his presence was required. The crafty monkey said that he had forgotten to bring his liver so the jellyfish took him back to land to fetch it. The monkey quickly jumped ashore and ran off laughing at the jellyfish's gullibility. The angry king had the jellyfish torn from its shell and pounded into a jelly for its stupidity.
(see also Ryuujin)

Rinaggon East Indian

a creator-bird in Borneo Rinaggon is said to have made men from the kimpong tree.

Rinaldo<sup>1</sup> European

[Re(g)nault.Renau(l)d.Renaut.Reinold.

Rinaldo of Montalban]

one of the paladins
son of Aymon and Beatrice brother of Alardo, Bradamante, Ricardo and Ricciardetto cousin of Malagigi and Roland husband of Clarissa
father of Aymeric

In some accounts, he was the son of the Marquis d'Este, in others his parents were Bertoldo and Sophia.

He went into the forest with Isolier to capture the horse, Bayard. This fierce animal killed Isolier but was subdued by Rinaldo. Other accounts say that the horse was given to him by his father, Aymon, when the latter thought he was near death.

At the great tournament organised by Charlemagne, Rinaldo was enchanted by Angelica but, drinking from a fountain built by Merlin, his love was turned to hate. She drank from a second fountain and fell in love with Rinaldo. She freed the magician Malagigi and enlisted his help to win Rinaldo who was taken by a magic ship to Joyous Castle on an island. Here he was sumptuously entertained but ran away when he was told that the house was his, a gift from Angelica.

He undertook to destroy a monster which was ravaging the countryside but was trapped in a room where the monster lived and escaped only when Angelica ensnared the beast in coils of rope so that Rinaldo could get on to its back and strangle it.

He met Flordalis who told him her story and, having wounded the giant and killed the griffin guarding the marvellous horse, Rabican, he claimed the horse for himself and set off with Flordalis to find her lover, Florismart, and Roland.

At Albracca, Galafron recognised the horse Rabican which he had given to his own son, Argalia, and fought with Rinaldo thinking that he must have killed Argalia. Rinaldo then found himself fighting his friend Roland. Rather than continue this fight, he went off to free Florismart who had been imprisoned by the enchantress Falerina. He was seized by the guardian of the bridge, Arridano, and imprisoned but was later released when Roland captured both Falerina and the enchantress Morgana.

He led an army of Hungarians with Ottachiero to support Charlemagne when France was invaded by Agramant, Marsilius and Rodomont, but they were defeated.

Regretting his former treatment of Angelica, he set off to find her once more. He met her with Roland and the two knights fought over her, ending their duel only when separated by Charlemagne to whom Angelica fled for help. Rinaldo encountered her again in the company of Sacripant and engaged him in single combat. Once again Angelica fled and was helped by a magician who conjured up a spirit in the form of a farm-hand who intervened in the fight and told the two knights that Angelica was heading for Paris in the company of Roland.
Rinaldo broke off the fight and spurred his horse towards Paris. There he was frustrated in his efforts to find Angelica when Charlemagne sent him to England to seek help in his battles with the invading forces.

When Agramant called a truce so that he could return to deal with an attack on his own capital of Biserta by Abyssinians under Astolpho, Rinaldo was chosen to fight Rogero to settle the war. Their duel was interrupted by Melissa who, in the guise of Rodomont, led an attack on the Christians, so breaking the truce.

Rinaldo set off in pursuit of Gradasso to recover his horse but went to Africa when he heard of the exploits of Astolpho at Biserta, arriving just after the combat in which Florismart had been killed. He accompanied Roland on his voyage to seek treatment for the wounded Oliver and Sobrino.

After the war, he was in Egypt with Ricciardetto, converting the infidel, when they were summoned back to Spain by Malagigi. The demons Ashtaroth and Foulmouth entered their horses which carried their riders over the sea to Spain, putting them down in the midst of the Battle of Roncesvalles. They both survived that great battle.

He fell out of favour with Charlemagne and his son Charlot and defeated all the knights sent to bring him to the king from his castle, Montalban. Charlemagne then besieged Montalban, or another castle in the Ardennes to which they retreated and starved the occupants so that they killed most of their horses for food. His mother, Beatrice, interceded with the emperor who forgave them when they submitted to his will and gave Bayard to Charlot. He had the horse drowned in view of Rinaldo who was heart-broken. He made over his property to his son, Aymeric, and retired to live the life of a hermit.

After three years, he was recalled to fight the Saracens in the Holy Land and spent many years there before returning to France. He eventually went to Cologne where he helped to build the cathedral for Bishop Agilolphus. He worked so hard that the other workers became envious and beat him to death, throwing his body into the river. His body was donated as a holy relic to the people of Dortmund who built the church of St Rinaldo.

In Jerusalem Delivered, Rinaldo was out of favour with Godfrey, leader of the Christian forces attacking Jerusalem, because he had killed Girlando in a duel. It turned out that Rinaldo's help was essential if the city were ever to be taken so Godfrey forgave Rinaldo who then deserted Armida, with whom he had been living, and joined Godfrey's forces which quickly took the city.

Another account says that the source of the quarrel with Charlemagne was the assault by Charlot on Rinaldo's brother, Alardo, whom the prince struck with a chess-board when Alardo was beating him at chess. In this version, Rinaldo killed Charlot and fled to Montalban and it was Charlemagne who killed Bayard by drowning the horse in the Seine.
The story of the chess-game appears,
in different form, in the story of Ogier's son Baldwin.

(see also Renaut.St Rinaldo)

Rinaldo<sup>2</sup> European

a poem by the Italian, Tasso, relating the exploits of Rinaldo

Rind (see Rinda<sup>2</sup>)Rinda<sup>1</sup> East Indian

wife of Demong

Rinda<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Rhind.Rinde.Rind(r)]

daughter of Billing

third wife of Odin mother of Vali
 She rejected the advances of Odin when he appeared first as victorious general, then as the craftsman, Rosterus, and finally as a handsome young man, so Odin put her under a spell and then appeared as an old crone, Vak, the only person able to break the spell. He carried her off, bound hand and foot, and forced her to become his wife.

Rindr (see Rinda<sup>2</sup>)

Rinfaxi Norse
 a horse drawing the chariot of the night (see also Skinfaxi)

Ring<sup>1</sup> Norse
 son of Viking and Hunvor

When Hunvor died, Viking put Ring into the care of a foster-mother and married again.

Ring<sup>2</sup> (see Sigurd<sup>2</sup>)

Ring Cycle German

[Ring der Nibelungen]

4 operas by Wagner

These operas, The Rhinegold, The Valkyrie, Siegfried and Twilight of the Gods, were based on the Nibelungenlied.

Ring der Nibelungen (see Ring Cycle)

Ring of Power Norse

a ring with magical power made by Mime from some of the Rhinegold

This ring passed through many hands before it was finally returned to the Rhine-daughters by Brunhilde at her death. (see also Andvaranaut.

Draupnir<sup>1</sup>)

Ringabur (see Riangabair)

Ringhorn Norse

[Hringhorn(i)]

Balder's ship on which his funeral pyre was built

Ringin (see Rin-Jin)

Rinjin (see Rin-Jin)

Rintra

a demon of anger

Rinvit (see Rugievit)

Riothamus British

a king of Britain

Some writers have equated him with King Arthur or with Uther.

Rinpoche Tibetan

[Lopon.sLob-dpon]

a name for Padmasambhava

in Tibet (see also (Guru) Rimpoche)

Rip van Winkle North American

[=German Klaus]

a legendary hero

He met a group of dwarfs in the

Catskill Mountains and they gave him a drink which put him to sleep for twenty years.

Risabha (see Rishaba)

Rise of Gawain

(see De Ortu Waluuanii)

Rishabha Jain

[R(i)sabha.Rshabhadeva]

the first Tirthankara

father of Bahubali and

Bharata

father of 100 sons

He abdicated from his kingdom and retired to a monastery living a life of complete asceticism, smelling pleasant even though he spread his own excreta over his body.

Some regard him as an incarnation of Shiva.

Rishabhadatta Jain

husband of Devananda

father of Mahavira

His son, while still an embryo, was transferred from Devananda to Trishala so that her husband, Siddhartha, became the 'father' of Mahavira.

rishi Hindu

[maharishi.rshi.r(i)si:fem=rishika]

a holy sage, poet or seer

In some stories, rishis accumulate so much knowledge and power that they can become superior to gods.

The three classes are brahmarishis (priests), devarishis (gods) and rajarishis (of royal descent).

(see also mahatma.

Nine Brahmarishis)

Rishi Balmik

(see Balmik)

Rishi Mekala

(see Mekala<sup>1</sup>)

rishika Hindu

[male=rishi]

a female seer

Rishya-Shringa Hindu

[Rishyacringa]

son of Vibhandaka

husband of Shanta

Vibhandaka married a doe who bore him a son, Rishya-Shringa, who had a small set of antlers on his forehead.

Another story says that he was reared by his father in a remote forest, completely ignorant of the world outside. A neighbouring king was told that the current drought would be ended only when Rishya-Shringa was no longer chaste so the boy was abducted and married to the king's daughter. Almost immediately rain began to fall.

Rishyacringa (see Rishya-Shringa)

rishi (see rishi)

Risnuch

a demon associated with agriculture

Rita

Hindu

[Arta]

a god(dess) of the seasons and fate

Rith (see Retho)

Ritho (see Retho)

Ritomte Swedish

the Swedish version of the Finnish Rihitonttu

Ritona Roman

a Celtic goddess of fords

Rituparna Hindu

a king
 son of Savarkama

He was reputed to be very lucky whereas Nala, himself a king in disguise, had been so unlucky that he had lost his kingdom by gambling. Rituparna employed Nala as his charioteer and one story says that he exchanged his luck for Nala's skill as a charioteer so that Nala was able to win back his kingdom.

Rivalen (see Rivalin)

Rivalin<sup>1</sup> British

[Rivalen]

king of Parmenie

husband of Blanchefleur

In some accounts, he is Meliad, the father of Tristram.

In other stories, Meliad was refused the hand of Blanchefleur but eloped with her and married her. Others say that he married Elizabeth.

Alternatively, Rivalin was given Blanchefleur as a wife when he helped her brother Mark, king of Cornwall, in his battles with the Scots.

(see also Rouland)

Rivalin<sup>2</sup> British

[Rivalen]

a king of Nantes

He attacked Hoel's kingdom but was defeated in single combat by Tristram.

Rivallo British

king of Britain

son of Cunedagius

father of Gurgustius

River King African

a huge crocodile

Selekana had worked in his under-water palace and had been rewarded with jewellery by the River Woman. When the local chief's daughter jumped into the river, she refused to do any work in the palace so he ate her.

River of Souls Japanese

the home of the blessed dead

River of Three Roads Japanese

[Sanzu-no-Kawa:=Greek Styx] a stage on the road taken by the dead

On the banks of this river lives Sodzu-Baba and her husband, Ten Datsu-Ba. The dead have to give her money or she takes their clothes and hangs the garments on trees.

River Woman African

a Lesotho keeper of the River King's palace

When Selekana was thrown into the river she agreed to work in the River King's palace and the River Woman rewarded her with jewellery.

riverhorse Scottish

a water sprite

Riwallawn British

son of Urien

He was said to know the nature of everything.

Riyadarshana Jain

daughter of Mahavira and Yasoda

Rizieri *(see Rogero<sup>2</sup>)Rizk Arab

son of Jabir husband of Al-Khadra father of Barakat

rLun-rta Tibetan

[Lung-ta]
the Tibetan name for Vayuarvat

Rksavaktradakina Buddhist

[=Tibetan Dom-gdon-can] a deity in the form of a witch with the head of a bear

She could confer supernatural powers on her devotees.

rMu *(see dMu)Rnam-thos-sras Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Kubera as one of the Drag-gshed or for Vaishravana as guardian of the north

Ro-ku Japanese

a god of wealth

Ro lei Pacific Islands

wife of Qat

Ro Som Pacific Islands

['money'] a sea-goddess of the Banks Islands

She found Little Orphan, built him a house and made him very prosperous. When he insulted her, she returned to her undersea home leaving Little Orphan penniless.

Roal South American

a creator-god of the Q'ero people of Peru

He created the sun which shrivelled up the existing people, after which the Apus created Inkari and Collari, the ancestors of the new population.

roane Scottish

[sea-spirit.seal-maiden]
a race of seal-people

The females sometimes shed their skin and dance on the shore in the form of maidens. They may marry mortals but will always eventually go back to their home in the sea.

(see also selkie)

Roarer *(see Apep)Roaz British

an evil knight

When Roaz appropriated most of Amene's kingdom, King Arthur sent Wigalois to her aid. He defeated Roaz in single combat.

Robber *(see Ran)Robe of Serpents *(see Coatlantona)Robert European

[Robert the Devil.Robertus] son of Aubert father of Richard

He was born of a promise by his otherwise childless mother to give her child to the devil and he grew up to be a terror. At the age of seven he killed his tutor and capped a life of violence by killing seven hermits. Suddenly repenting of his evil ways, he confessed to the pope who required him to serve his penance with a hermit who sent him to the court as fool, never to speak. Here, in the white armour of a knight, he three times saved the emperor from the invading Saracens but was wounded in a fight with some of the emperor's knights. The emperor's daughter, who was dumb, was offered to the unknown wounded knight by way of reward for his bravery, but a chamberlain, showing a self-inflicted wound, claimed her hand. Robert was released from his penance just in time to prevent the marriage from taking place, the princess regained her speech and married Robert and he inherited his father's dukedom.

In another version, he was forbidden by the hermit to marry the princess and spent the rest of his life as a penitent.

Robert de Boron *(see Boron)Robert the Devil *(see Robert)Robertus *(see Robert)Robigalia Roman

a festival in honour of Robigus, held on April 25th

Robigo *(see Robigus)Robigus Roman

[Averruncus.Robigo]
a guardian-god of cornfields

Robin<sup>1</sup> British

the god of witches (see also Red Champion)

robin<sup>2</sup> Norse

[redbreast.ruddock]
the bird of Odin

Robin Goodfellow English

a brownie: Puck
son of Oberon, in some accounts

In early tales of Robin Goodfellow he was the son of a maiden and a male fairy and ran away from home, waking up one morning, after dreaming that his father was a fairy, to find a scroll beside him. This scroll told him how to use his magic powers for good rather than for evil. One of these powers was the ability to change into any animal.

In later years, he was regarded as a household brownie which, if suitably rewarded, will do household chores.

(see also Puck)

Robinson, Edwin North American

(1869-1935)

a poet

He wrote extensively on Arthurian themes, including the poems Lancelot and Tristram.

roc<sup>1</sup> Arab

[roch.rock.rokk.ruc.rukh:=Chinese P'eng
Niao.=Egyptian rekh:=New Zealand
Poua-Kai:=Pacific Islands Ngani-Vatu.
Ngutu-hei]

a huge mythical bird

This bird, which fed on baby elephants, carried off Sinbad the Sailor and was said to be large enough to carry off a full-grown elephant. It is said to land only on Mount Qaf.

Roc<sup>2</sup> Irish

a steward of Angus Og father of Ethne

He fathered a son by Donn's wife and, when the boy was killed by Donn, Roc turned the corpse into a huge boar and ordered it to avenge his son's death by killing Donn's son Dermot.

(see also Ben Bulben)

Roch<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Roich.Roigh.Roque]
wife of Ros Ruadh, some say mother of Fergus mac Roth

roch<sup>2</sup> *(see roc<sup>1</sup>)Roches, Peter de (see Bishop of the Butterfly)

Rocinante (see Rosinante)

rock (see roc<sup>1</sup>)

Rock Candy Mountain

North American

the Otherworld: a land of plenty

Rock Cave of Heaven Shinto

the cave in which Amaterasu

hid herself

Rock Crystal Boy North American

a Navaho spirit

He and Rock Crystal Girl were set on Pelado Peak by Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin.

Rock Crystal Girl North American

a Navaho spirit

She and Rock Crystal Boy were set on Pelado Peak by Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin.

Rock-long Princess (see Iha-naga)

Rock Sene African

a god of the Serer people of Gambia

Rod Russian

[Chur.Rodu=Latvian Svantevit]

a god of agriculture and light husband of Rozanica

Rodan (see Ruadan)

Rodarchus Largus (see Rhydderch)

Roderick Spanish

[Rod(e)rigo]

a hero-king of Spain

When Roderick raped Florinda, her father, Count Juhan, called in the Saracen soldiers to exact vengeance. In some accounts, Roderick died in battle with the Saracens, in others he lived a life of penance which ended when he was eaten by snakes.

Like a number of other national heroes he is expected to return in his country's hour of need.

Roderigo (see Roderick)

Rodha Hindu

a division of Naraka reserved for stranglers, cow-killers and those who plunder towns

Rodingeirr Norse

the name used for Rudiger in Thidrekssaga

Rodjenica Balkan

[=European Narucnici=Russian Rozanica]
Croat spirits of dead mothers: fate genii

Three of these beings are present at the birth of each child.

Rodomont European

[Mars of Africa]

king of Algiers

son of Ulien

Impatient at the delay when Agramant, Emperor of Africa, planned to invade

France, Rodomont led his own expedition, joining forces with Marsilius who had invaded from Spain. He fought in single combat with Rinaldo but the bout was inconclusive. He then engaged another knight who turned out to be the warrior-maid, Bradamante, but they were separated by Rogero.

When he met Isabella en route to a monastery with the body of her husband Zerbino, he tried to persuade her to go with him. She offered instead a herbal remedy that would make him invulnerable. She smeared the liquid over her neck and invited him to strike her with his sword to prove its effectiveness. It was, of course, a ruse to escape his clutches and the sword-stroke cut off her head. In remorse, Rodomont built a chapel to her memory in which he buried her and her husband and defended the bridge leading to the chapel against all comers until he had collected a thousand suits of armour. One of those he fought was the demented Roland; another was Florismart whom he imprisoned.

When Agramant called a truce with Charlemagne so that he could return to deal with an attack on his own capital, Biserta, made by Abyssinians led by Astolpho, Rinaldo and Rogero were chosen to do combat to settle the war. Their duel was interrupted by Melissa who, in the guise of Rodomont, attacked the Christians, so breaking the truce.

At the wedding of Rogero and Bradamante, Rodomont accused Rogero, in front of the emperor, of being a traitor to his original master, Agramant. For this, Rogero killed him in single combat.

Rodrigo (see Roderick)

Rodrigo Diaz Spanish

[Ruy Diaz]

the real name of El Cid

Rodu (see Rod)

Rof Breoht Woden Saxon

the Saxon name of Merlin

Roga Hindu

a charioteer for Yama

Rogenwald Norse

son of Ragnar Lodbrok

and Aslaug

brother of Biorn, Hvitserk, Ivar

and Sigurd

He was killed when on a Viking raid with his four brothers.

Rogero<sup>1</sup> European

a Christian knight

Duke of Risa

husband of Galaciella

father of Marphisa and Rogero

He secretly married Galaciella, daughter of the Sultan of Africa, and she became a Christian. Her father sent them into exile and cast their infant children adrift in a boat.

Rogero<sup>2</sup> European

[Rizieri.Ruggiero]

son of Rogero and Galaciella

twin brother of Marphisa husband of Bradamante

In some accounts, his mother was killed by Agolant and he was raised by a lioness. Others say that he and his twin sister were cast adrift in a boat by their grandfather, the Sultan of Africa. They were rescued by the magician Atlantes who reared Rogero after Marphisa had been stolen by an Arab chieftain. It was said that Rogero was directly descended from Hector of Troy and was kept in seclusion by Atlantes.

As an adult, he was induced to join forces with Agramant for the invasion of France and was given a horse, Frontino, and a sword. He met Rinaldo in single combat but they became separated in the confusion of battle. He then came across two knights in combat and intervened. They turned out to be Rodomont and the warrior-maid Bradamante. He and Bradamante were attacked by a group of knights but, although she was wounded, they routed their attackers. When he met Mandricardo, who claimed to have won the armour of Hector, they fought to decide which had the right to bear the arms of Troy but Gradasso intervened to claim an equal right, having been the defender of Hector's armour. The quarrel was settled when Florismart promised to lead them to Roland who had the sword Durindana, sought by Mandricardo. En route, a dwarf asked them for help to rescue his master's daughter who had been abducted by an enchanter riding a winged horse. Rogero and Gradasso went off with him to rescue the maiden but were themselves trapped by the same enchanter who was, in fact, Rogero's foster-father, Atlantes, who was still trying to shield Rogero from danger.

Rogero was rescued by Bradamante but when he tried to ride the hippogriff used by Atlantes he was carried off and separated from his lady-love. When the beast landed, Rogero discovered Astolpho who had been turned into a myrtle by Alcina and restored him to his normal form. He flew on and saw Angelica bound to a rock off the island of Ebuda as a sacrifice to the orc and rescued her. She used her magic to disappear and the hippogriff flew off leaving Rogero to proceed on foot.

He came across a knight, apparently Bradamante, being attacked by a giant and followed the giant when he ran off. This was another illusion arranged by Atlantes and Rogero was again entrapped in an enchanted palace where he found Ferrau, Florismart, Gradasso, Roland and others. When the real Bradamante came to his rescue once again, she too was trapped but Astolpho, protected by the book and horn given to him by Logestilla, rescued all of them.

Bradamante agreed to marry him if he would embrace the Christian faith. En route to his baptism he met Mandricardo who now had the sword Durindana and they fell to quarrelling over it. Gradasso also claimed it and the emperor, Agramant, ordered a contest to settle the matter. Rogero, acting for himself and Gradasso, killed Mandricardo but the sword was awarded to Gradasso. Rogero had been badly wounded in the fight and was nursed by his sister, Marphisa, who fell in love with him not realising that he was her brother.

When Agramant proposed a truce with Charlemagne so that he could return to deal with an attack on his capital, Biserta by an Abyssinian army led by Astolpho, Rogero was chosen to fight Rinaldo in single combat to decide the war. Their fight was interrupted when Melissa, in the guise of Rodomont, started an attack on the Christian forces, so breaking the truce. Battle resumed but ended when Agramant withdrew his forces to return to the defence of Biserta. Rogero sailed for Africa with Agramant's forces but his ship was wrecked on an island and he entered a hermitage where he was baptised. Later, Roland arrived with Rinaldo and the wounded knights, Oliver and Sobrino, both of whom were cured by the hermit. Rogero then returned with his friends to France where he learned that Constantine the Greek emperor had demanded Bradamante as a wife for his son Leo. Rogero set out to challenge Leo's right to Bradamante's hand and was captured after killing many of the Greeks besieging Belgrade. He was handed over to Theodora, the emperor's sister, whose son was one of those killed by Rogero. He was released by Leo who had come to admire his skill and valour on the battlefield and, in return, Rogero promised to fight Bradamante, as Leo, to win her hand for the prince, even though he loved her himself. He won the contest and departed, leaving Leo to claim his bride. He was found by Leo, who, moved by his story, gave up his claim to Bradamante who finally married Rogero. At their wedding, Rodomont accused Rogero, in front of the emperor, of being a traitor to his original master, Agramant. For this, Rogero killed him in single combat.

For his valour at the siege of Belgrade he was made king of Bulgaria on the death of the old king.

Roges British
a prince

He had been turned into a fox by a sorcerer but, helping Gawain in one of his exploits, regained his human form.

Roggenhund German
a vegetation spirit

(see field spirit)

Roggenwolf (see Rye-wolf)

Rognvald Norse

[Rognvaldr]
a 12th c poet-hero
earl of Orkney

Rognvaldr (see Rognvald)

Rogo-tumu-hera Pacific Islands
a demon-octopus

He abducted Hina-a-rauriki but her husband, Turi-a-fumea, and his father Tangara, rescued her from the monster.

Rohand<sup>1</sup> British an earl of Warwick
father of Felice

He knighted Guy, son of his steward Segard, who later married his daughter Felice.

Rohand<sup>2</sup> (see Kurneval)

Rohe New Zealand

wife of Maui

She left her husband and descended to the underworld where she ruled the realm of Uranga-o-te-Ra.

Rohini<sup>1</sup> Hindu

['red']
a moon-goddess and goddess of fortune
one of the nakshatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

This name is also used for the star Aldebaran.

Rohini<sup>2</sup> Hindu

['red']
a princess
wife of Vasudeva
mother of Balarama

Vishnu had placed two hairs in the womb of Devaki and later transferred the embryo that would become Balarama from Devaki's womb to Rohini's. He then sent her to safety in the realm of Nanda out of reach of the demon Kansa who aimed to kill any child of Devaki.

She is regarded as an incarnation of Lakshmi and may be the same as either of the two Rohini goddesses.

Rohini<sup>3</sup> Hindu

['red']
wife of Shiva, in some accounts

Rohini<sup>4</sup> Hindu

['red'] a corn-deity
daughter of Sunabhi

Rohini<sup>5</sup> Jain

['red']
a sun-goddess and goddess of learning
one of the vidyadevis
daughter of Kasyapa mother of Kamadhenu

Rohita<sup>1</sup> Hindu

['red']
a goddess

In some versions, Brahma, in the form of a stag, mated with Rohita as a doe to produce all the animals.

Rohita<sup>2</sup> Hindu

['red'] one of the horses pulling the chariot of the sun-god, Surya (see also Rohits)

Rohits Hindu

horses pulling the chariot of Surya
In some accounts, the animals are equated with the Harits.

(see also Rohita<sup>2</sup>)

roho African [ruhu]

the soul or spirit in the lore of the Swahili

Roi Mehaigne, Le (see Fisher King)

Roi Pêcheur, Le (see Le Roi Pêcheur)

Roich (see Roch)

Roigh (see Roch)

Rojenica (see Rodjenica)

rok (see roc<sup>1</sup>)

rokk (see roc<sup>1</sup>)

Roko Japanese

a sennin depicted as riding a flying tortoise

Roko-bu-ten Japanese the deities Benten and Taishaku, plus the 4 Shi-Tenno, collectively

Rokola Pacific Islands

a carpenter-god of Fiji

He was a legendary boat-builder, by some equated with Noah.

Rokomautu Pacific Islands

a Fijian creator-god

one of the Kalou-Vu

son of Ndengei

Rokoua Pacific Islands

brother-in-law of Okova

He helped Okova to kill the monstrous bird, Ngani-Vaku.

Roksanda Serbian

daughter of Michael, king of Leyden

wife of Doushan

She was wooed by the tsar Doushan but her father refused to let her go unless the tsar or his champion could succeed in a number of difficult tasks.

All were achieved by Milosh who won the hand of Roksanda for his master.

Rokugo Japanese

a fencing master

When he met a beautiful girl, Rokugo suspected that she was just an illusion caused by some animal such as a fox. He slashed the air near the girl with his sword and killed the animal – in this case, an otter. (see also Kadzutoyo)

Rokuro-kubi Japanese

an extendible and detachable neck

It is said that such a neck allows the head of a sleeping person to stretch and turn and devour anything in reach or even to leave the body completely, rejoining at some later time.

Roland<sup>1</sup> British

[(Childe) Rowland]

in Scottish lore, a son of King Arthur brother of Ellen

When Rowland's sister was carried off by fairies, he and his brothers went in search of her. Two disappeared but Rowland obeyed the instructions of Merlin to kill everyone he encountered in Elfland and was thereby able to rescue not only Ellen but his two brothers also, when he defeated the fairy king.

Roland<sup>2</sup> European [Achilles of the North. Achilles of the West. Christian Theseus. Hroulandus.

Rolland. Rollant. Rotholandus.

Rotolando: = Italian Orlando]

a count of Brittany

one of Charlemagne's paladins

son of Milon and Bertha nephew of Charlemagne husband of Aldabella, in some

accounts

In some accounts, he was the son of Charlemagne's incestuous liaison with his sister, Bertha.

Reared in poverty, he came to the notice of Charlemagne, his uncle or father, when he stole food from a royal banquet.

When Charlemagne sent out his knights to seize a magnificent jewel worn on his shield by a knight in the Ardennes, Roland, aged fifteen, accompanied his father as armour-bearer. While his father slept, Roland took his armour and rode into the forest where he met and defeated the knight taking the jewel from his shield. For this deed of bravery, he was knighted by the emperor.

He fought and killed the giant, Ferragus, and then fought the giant's nephew, Otuel, who tried to avenge his uncle's death. Roland defeated him and he became a Christian in the service of Charlemagne. Roland also defeated a Saracen from whom he took the sword Durindana.

When Charlemagne was in dispute with Montglave, Roland fought Olover in single combat to settle the matter. After five days, neither had gained an advantage and so they declared an honourable draw, having recognised each other.

At the great tournament organised by Charlemagne, Roland was enchanted by Angelica and fought Ferrau for her. When she disappeared, he travelled far and wide to find her. At a bridge on the road to Albracca a maiden gave him a drink which made him forget the object of his search and he was imprisoned.

He was freed by Angelica who had escaped from the besieged city of Albracca and, with other knights who had been held in the same prison, routed the besieging Tartars and killed their leader, Agrican. He found himself fighting his own friend, Rinaldo, and Angelica, who was in love with Rinaldo, persuaded Roland to avoid further conflict by leaving to destroy the enchanted garden of Falerina.

En route, he rescued a maiden who had been tied to a tree and was given a book. The rescued maiden decamped, taking Roland's horse and sword but he killed the dragon at the entrance to the garden with the branch of a tree and entered. He tied Falerina to a tree, took her magic sword and killed all the monsters guarding the kingdom. Falerina told him that the prisoners were held by an even greater enchantress, Morgana. Her castle was guarded by the strong man, Arridano, who could breathe under water. Roland fought with him and they both fell into the river. At the bottom, Roland killed Arridano and returned to the surface, entering the castle where he found Morgana asleep. Distracted by the mirage, Fata Morgana, he allowed her to escape but he chased her and finally caught her by the forelock, taking her keys and freeing Rinaldo, Florismart and several other prisoners.

He was imprisoned in an enchanted castle by Atlantes but rescued by Astolpho and soon came across a girl, Isabella, who had been seized by pirates. He routed her captors and they travelled on together, meeting another group of men guarding a prisoner. Roland killed or wounded all of them, freeing their prisoner who turned out to be Zerbino, a prince who had secretly married Isabella. He rode on, leaving Zerbino with his wife and found a cottage where Angelica and Modero had stayed. Learning of their marriage, he was driven to madness, tearing up trees and killing flocks. Zerbino came upon this devastation but was challenged by Mandricardo for the possession of Durindana which Roland had abandoned in his madness. Zerbino was killed and Mandricardo claimed the sword.

Roland seized a horse, rode to the coast and crossed to Africa riding the horse till it sank beneath him and swimming the rest of the way. He came upon the Abyssinian army, led by Astolpho, who, with the aid of a bottle given to him by St John, restored Roland to his proper senses.

When Agramant withdrew from France to defend his capital, Biserta, which was besieged by the Abyssinians, Roland, Oliver and Florismart were chosen to do battle with Agramant, Sobrino and Grassado to decide the issue. Only Roland, Oliver and Sobrino survived the battle, the latter two being badly wounded. With Agramant dead, the Africans submitted and Roland was free to take his wounded comrades to Sicily for treatment. They landed on an island and the wounded men were cured by the hermit who had recently baptised Rogero with whom they were now reunited.

When the war in Europe ended, Charlemagne entered Spain, subdued the country and exacted tribute. In one version, Roland was the leader of the rearguard when the army withdrew from Spain; in another version, Roland and Oliver were sent to the Spanish border to collect the tribute from Marsilius, the Spanish king. In either event, Gano, the treacherous paladin who hated Roland, had arranged a trap and the Spanish had three armies hidden in ambush at the pass at Roncesvalles. In the battle, Roland killed King Falseron and many others but his force was greatly outnumbered and his friends were falling round him. For a long time he refused to summon help but with the death of Oliver, Roland realised that the end was near and blew three blasts on his horn, Olivant, to alert Charlemagne who was encamped at the foot of the mountains. The sound killed birds flying overhead and frightened the Saracens. The main army routed the Saracens, but too late. The wounded Roland, told by Rinaldo that the enemy had been defeated, received absolution from Turpin and died.

In one account of the battle, Oliver, blinded by blood from his wounds, struck Roland with his club, mistaking him for a Saracen. It was a mortal blow and Roland died shortly after Oliver and Turpin.

Two similar stories say that Roland was betrothed to Aude, sister of Oliver, or to Hildegunde. In each case, he had to leave to fight in Spain before they had a chance to get married. Aude died of grief when she heard of his death at Roncesvalles while, in the other version, Hildegunde became a nun.

In another version, Roland escaped from the scene of carnage but died of starvation when he tried to cross the Pyrenees alone.

Some stories say that Roland was crushed to death by the Spanish hero, Bernardo del Carpio. Others say that he recovered and returned to marry Hildegarde, only to find that she, believing him dead, had become a nun. She died soon after and Roland built a retreat on the rock known as Rolandseck, spending his days in prayer. When he died, he was buried facing the grave of his beloved.

Roland de Vaux British a knight who woke Gyneth from an enchanted sleep caused by Merlin

Roland Rise (see Rouland)

Rolandseck European
a rock on which Roland built a retreat

This building was sited so that he could see the nunnery to which Hildegarde had retreated, mistakenly believing that Roland had been killed at Roncesvalles.

Rolf Ganger (see Rollo)

Rolland (see Roland<sup>2</sup>)

Rollant (see Roland<sup>2</sup>)

Rollo Norse
[Rolf Ganger]
a giant

Some say he took a band of his followers to settle in what is now Normandy.

Rolomandri
elementals, fire spirits in some accounts

Roma<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Rome]
a goddess of strength daughter of Evander sister of Dyne

Roma<sup>2</sup> Roman
[Rome]
a tutelary goddess

Roman Antiquities Roman
a twenty-volume history and mythology of Rome, written by Dionysius of Helicarnassus

Roman de Brut British [Brut d'Angleterre]
the Arthurian cycle in a mediaeval setting written by Wace

Roman de Renard French
the French version of Reynard the Fox

Romance de Tristram, The French
a 12th c French version of the story of Tristram and Isolde, written by Beroul

Romance of Perceval, The (see Didot Perceval)

Romatane (see Rongomatane)

Rome<sup>1</sup> Roman
a holy city: the present capital of Italy Tradition has it that the city was founded by Romulus and Remus, twins suckled by a goat.

Rome (see Roma)

Romi Kumu South American [Woman Shaman]
in the lore of the Barasana people, a female shaman who created
the world

It was said that her urine was the rain and that she carried fire in her vagina.

She owned a gourd of magical beeswax which she used to make herself look young and beautiful each morning and an old ugly woman by evening.

Although a virgin, she produced two daughters who, with the few survivors of the flood, helped to repopulate the world.

Romit Irish
a jester at the court of Conon mac Nessa

Romulus<sup>1</sup> Roman [Quirinus.Rhomas.Rhomus]
god of war
son of Mars and Rhea Silvia or Ilia
twin brother of Remus husband of Hersilia

In an early version, Tarchetius, a king of Alba Longa, ordered his daughter to mate with a phantom phallus of Vulcan seen in the flames of his fire. She made a servant girl take her place and the result of this union was the birth of the twins, Romulus and Remus. In this version, they were given to Teratius to be killed but he left them on the bank of the Tiber.

In another version they were the sons of Rhea Silvia who was raped by Mars and they were abandoned in a basket on the banks of the Tiber or, some say, cast adrift on its waters.

They were found, under the fig-tree Ruminialis, by the herdsman Faustulus and reared by a she-wolf.

They later killed Amulius who had usurped the throne from their grandfather, Numitor, and restored him to the throne.

Romulus later killed his brother for jumping over the walls of the newly-founded city and became king of Rome, countering the shortage of women in his new city by abducting the Sabine women.

During a battle with the Etruscans he was taken up to heaven as the god

Quirinus. In another version, the magistrates and senators, tired of his demands, had him killed during an eclipse and pretended that he had been transported up to heaven.

Romulus and Remus are traditionally regarded as the founders of Rome.

(see also Remus.Rhomus)

Romulus<sup>2</sup> Roman
a poem by Plutarch

Ron British [Rone:=Welsh Rhongomyant.

Rhongomyriad]

King Arthur's spear

Ron Cearr (see Ron Cerr)

Ron Cerr Irish

[Ron Cearr]

a champion warrior

He fought for Brandubh, king of Leinster, against the high-king Aedh and, penetrating the enemy camp, killed the high-king. Other stories say that Brandubh himself killed Aedh.

Rona<sup>1</sup> New Zealand

a Maori god

He fights perpetually with the moon, causing it to wax and wane, because the moon abducted his wife.

In some accounts, Rona is female, a girl carried off by the moon as she went to fetch water.

Rona is also a name for Ina the moon-goddess.

Rona<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

[Long Teeth]

a female cannibal of Tahiti

mother of Hina

She devoured Monoi, her daughter's lover and Hina, helped by No'a-huruhuru, killed her mother.

Ronan Irish

a saint

He cursed Suibhne with madness after the poet had insulted him on two occasions.

Ronan mac Colmain Irish

a king of Leinster

husband of Eithne

father of Mael Fothartaig

When Eithne died, Ronan married a younger woman who fell in love with Mael. When he rejected her advances, she accused him of rape and Ronan had his son put to death. When the truth came out, Ronan died of grief and his wife poisoned herself. In another version, Mael's sons avenged his death.

Roncesvalles European

[Roncevaux.Valley of Thorns]

the site of the battle between the Franks and the Moors at which most of Charlemagne's paladins were killed

(see also Battle of Roncesvalles)

Roncevaux (see Roncesvalles)

Rone (see Ron)

Roneve

[Ronobe.Ronove.Ronwe]

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be able to teach foreign languages.

Rong-ma-tane (see Rongomatane)

Rongelap Pacific Islands

a hero of the Caroline Islands

son of Paluelap and Leofas

brother of Rongerik

He was lost but later found by his younger brother, Rongerik.

Rongerik Pacific Islands

a magician of the Caroline Islands

son of Paluelap and Leofas

brother of Rongelap

He used his powers to find his elder brother, Rongelap, when he was lost.

Rongo New Zealand

[Kahukura.Orongo.Rong-ma Tane.

Rongo-Maui.Tē Rongo:=Hawaiian Lono:

=Marquesas Ono:=Samoan Lo'o]

a Maori god of agriculture, food, sea and war

son of Rangī and Papa

brother of Haumea, Ruaumoko,

Tane, Tangaroa, Tawhiri and Tu

He came down to earth via the rainbow and married a mortal whom he killed out of jealousy. He is due to return on a floating island full of all good things. (see also Rongomatane)

Rongo-mai Pacific Islands

['water-food']

a Polynesian god of whales and comets

He is envisaged in the form of a huge whale.

Rongo-Maui Pacific Islands

a manifestation of Rongo

who brought the yam from heaven

Rongomatane Pacific Islands

[Rongo-ma-Tane.Romatane]

a combination of the names Rongo

and Tane as a single deity

Rongoteus (see Runkateivis)

Ronobe (see Roneve)

Ronove (see Roneve)

Ronwe (see Roneve)

Ronwen (see Renwein)

Ro'o Pacific Islands

[Ro'o-i-te-Hiripoi]

the chanter-god of Tahiti, curer of illness

son of Atea

Ro'o-i-te-Hiripoi (see Ro'o)

Roonel European

a dog in Reynard the Fox

roperite North American

a fabulous animal

Ropotou (see Coulobre)

Roque (see Roch)

Rorik Norse

son of Hrodgar and Wealthew

brother of Freawaru

Roro Nawang Sih East Indian

daughter of Kyai Agung and

Nawang Wulan

Ros Ruadh<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Ross the Red]

a king of Ulster

son of Rudhraighe

husband of Maga and Roch

father of Fachtna by Maga

father of Fergus mac Roth

by Roth

When Congall Clairingleach defeated Fergus mac Leda, he gave the throne of Ulster to the warrior, Ros Ruadh.

Ros Ruadh<sup>2</sup> (see Ruad Rofessa)

Rosa Hindu

a river in heaven

Rosabis

a demon of metals

Rosamund German

daughter of Thurisind

wife of Alboin

War between the Lombards under Alboin and the Gepidae ended with the defeat of the Gepidae and the death of Rosamund's father and brother. She was forced into marriage with the victor but, when he tried to make her drink from the skull of her dead father, she refused and persuaded the giant, Perideus, to kill her husband.

After his death, she ruled in her own name and proposed to marry Helmigis, the dead king's shield-bearer, but they fled together when her subjects objected to the match and were given shelter by Longinus. She later gave Helmigis a poisoned drink so that she might marry Longinus but he forced her to drink half of it and they died together.

Rose (see Rhode)

Rose-apple Island (see Jambridvipa)

rose-apple tree Buddhist

in some accounts, the tree under which the Buddha sat while hewas meditating

(see also bo-tree)

Rosei Japanese

a traveller who became emperor

Rosei dreamed that the emperor of Ibara abdicated in his favour and he ruled for fifty years in a land of wonders where the people lived forever. He tried to cheat death by drinking an elixir but awoke to find it had all been a dream, a theme he applied thereafter to all life.

Rosemonde French
a princess loved by Faramon

Rosen (see Rosse)

Rosh ha Satan Hebrew [Satan's Head]
the Hebrew name for the star Algol (see also Lilith)

Rosier
a demon of love, said to be an opponent of St Basil

Rosinante Spanish
[Rocinante.Rozinante]
the broken-down horse of Don Quixote

Roskra (see Roskva)

Roskva Norse
[Roskra]
a servant of Thor
daughter of Egil
sister of Thialfi

She accompanied her brother, Thialfi, when he went with Thor and Loki to Jotunheim.

Rosmerta Roman [Maia]
a Celtic fertility goddess in Gaul guardian of merchants consort of Mercury

roso (see raos)

Ross the Red (see Ros Ruadh)

Rosse German
[Rosen]
a sword made by Alberich
This sword was said to be so sharp that it could slice through a man's body leaving no gap. Alberich gave it to Ortnit, the king of Lombardy.

Rossthiof Norse
a Finnish magician
He foretold that one of Odin's sons would be murdered and advised him to woo Rinda who would provide a son to avenge the loss.

Rostem (see Rustem)

Roster
a demon

Rosterus Norse
a name assumed by Odin, as a craftsman, when he wooed Rinda

Rosuait Irish
a huge sea-monster

When it was stranded on shore in Ireland it vomited for three years (or, some say, three times) before it died. In doing so, it killed all living creatures, including humans.

Rota<sup>1</sup> Balkan [Rutu]
a Lapp plague-spirit

Rota Norse
a Valkyrie

Roth Fail Irish
a rudimentary flying machine invented by Mogh Ruith

Rother European
a king of the Lombards
husband of Oda father of Helche and Pepin

After the death of Alboin and Rosamund, the throne passed through several hands and finally came to Rother. He fell in love with a picture of Oda, daughter of the emperor Constantine, and sent a delegation to ask for her hand in marriage. All the men were thrown into prison by Constantine and Rother, using the name Dietrich, and Berchther went to Constantinople in search of them when they failed to return on time. Constantine released the prisoners to help in his fight with Imelot who had invaded his kingdom and they not only routed the invading forces but captured Imelot who was king of Babylonia. Rother and his men then made off with Oda and returned to their own country.

Constantine then employed a magician who tricked Oda into going aboard his ship and sailed off with her, back to Constantinople. Rother went back to Constantinople to find her and found that Imelot, having escaped from captivity, had made a further invasion and was demanding Oda's hand for his ugly son who was a hunchback. Rother and his men helped to repel the invasion, killed both Imelot and his son and took Oda back to Lombardy where she bore a daughter, Helche, and a son, Pepin, who became the father of Charlemagne.

Rothniamh Irish
a woman of the Otherworld

She visited Finghein each year and gave him details of what the future held. Among other things, she predicted the birth of Conn who would become high-king and unite the five provinces.

Rotholandus (see Roland)

Rotten Straw Rope Korean
a route to heaven

When two children, in danger of being eaten by a tiger, prayed for help, god dropped the Heavenly Iron Chain and they climbed safely up to heaven. When the tiger prayed, god dropped the Rotten Straw Rope which snapped when the tiger climbed up it and he fell to the ground and was killed.

Roua Pacific Islands
[Ra.Rahoua.Rua.Tubua]
a creator-god of the Society Islands father of all the stars husband of Taonoui
father of Fati

Rougemont (see Castle Rougemont)

Rouland British [Roland Rise]
a king of Armenia

In some accounts, he was the father of Tristram by Blanchefleur.
(see also Rivalin)

Round Table, the British
a large circular table used by King Arthur and his knights:
an institution of knighthood

This table, originally known as The Old Table and capable of seating fifty knights, was said to have been made by Merlin for Uther Pendragon, based on the table used at the Last Supper. It was given to Leodogrance and brought by Guinevere as part of her dowry on her marriage to King Arthur. In some accounts, it could seat thirteen, fifty, 150 or 250.

In another version it was made for King Arthur to seat 1,600, including himself and the sub-kings of Britain, so that no one sat above another causing resentment.

Yet another story says that Arthur found a large flat stone, the lost altar of St Carannog, floating in a marsh where he was seeking a monster. The saint gave the king the altar which he had made into the Round Table.

One chair (the Perilous Seat) was left empty for the knight deemed worthy of the recovery of the Holy Grail. The only one ever to sit in it without harm was Galahad.

An early story says that, before Arthur had the table made, a quarrel broke out over precedence at the table and seven knights were killed. Arthur had the originator of the fracas drowned in a swamp and cut off the noses of that knight's womenfolk. The king then had the Round Table made to prevent further argument.

rowan

[mountain ash.quicken tree.witchen] a deciduous tree producing red or yellow berries in autumn

The druids alleged that this tree could ward off witches.

Rowan Tree Hostel

(see Quicken Trees Hostel)

Rowandiz (see Ravandiz)Rowang Riwo East Indian

in the lore of the Dayaks, a being which produced golden spittle

This being was said to have been created in the first of the three epochs of creation.

Rowena (see Renwein)Rowland (see Roland<sup>1</sup>)Royal Lady of the West

(see Hsi Wang Mu)

Royal Lord of the East

(see Tung Wang Kung)

Royal Mother (see Hsi Wang Mu)Royal Prince Marko (see Marko)Royal Veda (see Rigveda)Royns British

[Lord Royns.Rience.Ryence]
king of North Wales
brother of Nero

He attacked King Leodegrance and King Arthur brought his army to Cameliard to defeat him. When he besieged Castle Terribil, he was ambushed by Balan and Balin who took him prisoner and handed him over to King Arthur.

He owned a magic mirror, given to him by Merlin, that warned him of treachery or invasion.

In some accounts, he is equated with Retho. (see also Retho)

Rozanica Russian

[=Craot Ro(d)jenica] wife of Rod

Rozhanitsy Slav

mother and daughter, goddesses of the harvest

Rozinante (see Rosinante)Rsabha Hindu

[=Jain Rsabhanatha]
son of Indra and Indrani

In some accounts he is an incarnation of Vishnu.

Rshaba (see Rishabha)Rshabhadeva (see Rishabha)Rsabhanatha Jain

[=Hindu Rsabha]
a god

rshi (see rishi)rsi (see rishi)r'Ta-mgrin Tibetan

[Tandim] a Lamaist deity
one of the Drag-gshed
a name for Hayagriva

Rtus Hindu

[=Greek Horae]
deities ruling the seasons

Ru Pacific Islands

[Ruu]
son of Tangaroa
son of Rangī and Papa, some say brother of Hina

Rua (see Roua)Rua-i-tupra Pacific Islands

a name of Ta'aroa as 'the cause of growth'

Rua Kenana New Zealand

[Hepetiupa.Hephibah]
a 20th c self-proclaimed Maori messiah
He claimed to have seen the goddess Whaitiri in a vision and learned of a sacred diamond.

Rua-Pupuke New Zealand

a Maori sage
When his son was drowned, Rua-Pupuke changed himself into a big fish and retrieved his son from the undersea palace of the sea-god. When this god and his retainers came looking for the boy, Rua-Pupuke offered them food and shelter and, when they were asleep, set fire to the hut so that their bodies were burnt and the sea-spirits had to return to the ocean.

Rua-tapu New Zealand

[Forbidden Path]
father of Hau

ruach<sup>1</sup> Hebrew

[rvch]
part of the soul
The soul is envisaged as having three parts – the nefesh which gives life, the neshemah which gives holiness and the ruach, intermediary between the two.

ruach<sup>2</sup> Hebrew

[rvch]
a spirit

The ruach ra'ah is an evil spirit, the ruach tezarat causes fever and madness while the ruach zelahta merely causes headaches.

Ruach<sup>3</sup> European

an island where the inhabitants live on wind

Ruad<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Ruadh]
son of Rigdonn

When his ships became becalmed, he swam off to get help. He came to an undersea island where nine maidens entertained him for nine nights and one of them bore his son. Another version says that Ruad's ship was held up by three goddesses. He slept with them on the bed of the sea and they collectively bore a son. He failed to keep a promise to return so they cut off the boy's head and threw it at Ruad when they found him.

Ruad<sup>2</sup> (see Cearas)Ruad Ro-Fheasa (see Ruad Rofessa)Ruad Rofessa Irish

[Lord of Great Knowledge.Ros Ruadh.
Ruad(h) Ro-Fheasa.Ruad(h) Rofhessa]
a name for the Dagda as the god of knowledge
father of Find File

In some contexts, the name is applied to the wise salmon which later appeared in the story of Finn mac Cool.

Ruad Rohfessa (see Ruad Rofessa)Ruadan<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Rodan.Ruadhan.Ruan.Ruardan]
a warrior hero
son of Bres and Brigit

He fought with the Fomoiré at Moytura and, when spying on the Danaans, wounded the smith-god,
Goibhniu, who killed him with a spear.

Ruadan<sup>2</sup> Irish

[Rodan.Ruadhan.Ruan.Ruardan]
a saint
son of Fergus Bearn

He is said to have performed many miracles, such as curing a sick queen, and owned a tree which yielded a sap which could be used as sustenance.

He sheltered a relation who had been accused of murder and was arrested for so doing. He put a curse on the high-king Diarmaid mac Cearbhaill and Tara with the result that, in some accounts, Tara became desolate.

Ruadh (see Ruad)Ruadh Ro-Feasa (see Ruad Rofessa)Ruadh Rohfessa (see Ruad Rofessa)Ruadhan (see Ruadan)Ruahaku Pacific Islands

a sea-god of the Society Islands

When a fisherman's hook became entangled in Ruahaku's hair as he slept,
he got very angry and sent the flood.

Rual<sup>1</sup> British

a demonic hag

Wigalois fought her on one of his adventures and only by prayer to god was he able to win.

Rual<sup>2</sup> (see Kurneval)
Ruan (see Ruadan)
Ruange Pacific Islands
 wife of Akatauire
Ruanu'u Pacific Islands
 a Tahitian deity
Ruarangi New Zealand
 a Maori fisherman
 His wife was carried off by the king of the fairies but a priest sent a love-bird to the king's palace and its singing reminded her of her husband's love. She returned to her former home and the fairy king was repelled by incantations when he tried to get her back.
Ruardan (see Ruadan)
Ruau Moko (see Ruuumoko)
Ruumoko New Zealand
 [Moko Rusau.Ruau Moko]
 a Maori earthquake god
 son of Rangi and Papa
 brother of Haumea, Rongo, Tane, Tangaroa, Tawhiri and Tu
 He was being suckled by Papa when Tane forced his parents apart to form earth and sky and he fell into the underworld where he grew up to be the chief stoker of the fires of hell.
Rubanga African
 a creator-god of the Alur people
Rubber Girl (see Gum Girl)
rubberado North American
 a fabulous animal in the form of a bouncing porcupine Animals which eat this prickly beast find that their flesh has become resilient like rubber.
Rubezahl (see Ruberzahl)
Rubezal (see Ruberzahl)
Ruberzahl German [(Number) Nip.Ribesal.Rubeza(h)] a mountain sprite
 He often appears in the guise of a grey monk.
 In other accounts he was a giant of Silesia.
Rubicant British
 the English version of Rubicante
Rubicante European [=English Rubicant]
 a demon in Dante's Inferno
ruby
 a precious stone, said to act as an antidote to poison or to protect from plague
ruc (see roc)
Ruch Hindu
 father of Yajna by Dakshina
Ruchika (see Lou-chi)

Rucht Irish
 [Na(i)r]
 swineherd to Bodb Dearg
 He constantly fought with Friuch, swineherd to Ochall, both frequently changing shape. Finally, in the form of worms, they were eaten by cows and reborn as the two bulls, Whitehorn (Friuch) and the Brown Bull of Cooley (Rucht).
 In some accounts, his name is given as Nar or Nair. Other versions say that Rucht served Ochall and Friuch served Bodb.
Ruckenau (see Rukinaw)
Ruckinaw (see Rukinaw)
Ruda (see Arsu)
Rudain (see Arsu) Rudaucus British
 a king of Cambria
 He was killed in battle with Dunvallo Molmutius.
ruddock (see robin<sup>2</sup>)
Ruddy Branch (see Craebderg)
Rudhraighe (see Rudraidhe)
Rudianos Roman
 a Gaulish war-god
Rudiger Norse
 [Rodingeir]
 a knight at Etzel's court husband of Gotelinde father of Dietelinde and Nudung
 In one story, he rescued Dietrich and his companions when they were besieged in a fortress while fighting with Waldemar on behalf of Etzel.
 He was sent to ask for the hand of Krimhild on behalf of Etzel after the death of his first wife, Helche, and the murder of Krimhild's husband, Siegfried. Later, when Krimhild tried to kill Gunther's party which was visiting Etzel's court, Rudiger was forced by an oath of loyalty to help in the slaughter but he was himself killed by Gernot.
 In Thidrekssaga, he is known as Rodingeir.
Rudiobus Roman
 a Celtic horse-god in Gaul
Rudra<sup>1</sup> Hindu
 [Aparajita.Bhava.Bhima.Boar of the Sky.Ekadasarudra.Girisha.'howler'.Ishana.Lord of the Mountains.Mahadeva.Nilalohita.Pas(h)upati.'roarer'.Sarva.Shambhu.Ugra: =Assyrian Assara Mazas:=Greek Dionysus:=Persian Ahura Mazda]
 the robber-god, god of cattle, physicians, song, storms, winds one of the 8 forms of Agni

son of Prajipati and Ushas husband of Aditi, Diti, Gauri, Prisni or Rudrani father of the Maruts by Diti
 father of Kartikkeya, some say
 Some say that he was born from Brahma's forehead, others that he was the son of Ushas by her four brothers. His sons were the Maruts (Rudras) and in some versions his wife, their mother, was Prisni.

He was the embodiment of the terrible aspects of nature, eating the flesh of the dead and drinking their blood. In some accounts, he is equated with Agni, in others he is regarded as an aspect of Shiva.

In the Buddhist version, the gods sent Vajrapani who killed this monster.

Rudra<sup>2</sup> Jain

[Maharudra]
 one of a group of gods of the underworld
 a type of Gana
 These beings torture the wicked dead by jabbing them with spears.

rudra-aksha Hindu

a third eye, placed in the middle of the forehead, a feature of some deities

Rudracandra Hindu

a form of Durga
 one of the Navadurgas

Rudracarcika Hindu

a mother-goddess
 one of the Astamataras

In other accounts she is a form of Durga.

Rudraidhe Irish

[Rudhraighe.Rury]
 son of Partholan
 father of Breasal

He was regarded as the founder of the royal line of Ulster. Some say that he was killed by a phantom, others that he died of plague. A lake, Lake Rury, sprang from his grave.

Rudrani Hindu

wife of Rudra, some say

As the wife of Rudra, she cursed the gods with infertility when they persuaded her husband not to procreate. She was later assimilated as an aspect of Durga.

Rudras (see Maruts)

Rudricans Irish

descendants of Rudraidhe in Ulster

Ruevitu (see Rugievit)

Rugaba African

[Kazooba.Mukameiguru]
 supreme god of the Ankore

- Ruganzu African
son of Binego
He fought the evil spirit Inzira before inheriting his father's kingdom.
- Rugavit (see Rugievit)
Rugevit (see Rugievit)
Ruggiero (see Rogero?) Rugievit Slav [Rinvit.Ruevitu.Rugavit.
Rugevit.Rujevit]
a tutelary god with 7 heads
In some accounts, he was a war-god and is depicted with eight swords.
- Rugini Baltic ['man of rye']
a Lithuanian corn-spirit
- Rugiu Boba Baltic
a Lithuanian corn-spirit
a harvest symbol, a female figure of this spirit made from the last of the harvest (see also Kursis)
- Ruhaga African
king of Buhaa
father of Juru and Kikore
When Antare asked for Juru as a wife, Ruhaga sent Kikore, daughter of a concubine, in her place. Antare, in disguise, entered the king's court and eloped with Kikore.
- Ruhanga African
a creator-god and fertility-god of the Banyoro
The dead could be resurrected if the living rejoiced but when one woman refused to be happy because her dog had died, Ruhanga decreed that henceforth death would be the end.
- ruhu (see roho)
Rujevit (see Rugievit)
Rukenau (see Rukinaw)
Rukenawe (see Rukinaw)
rukh (see roc)
Ruki Pacific Islands
an eel-god of the Gilbert Islands son of Na-atibu and Nei Teukez
- Rukinaw European [Ruckinaw.Rukenau.Rukenawe]
a female ape in Reynard the Fox wife of Martin
- Rukma (see Rukmin)
Rukmin Hindu
[Rukma]
a prince
brother of Rukmini
- Rukmini Hindu
[Ananga:=East Indies Dewi Shri]
daughter of Bhismaka sister of Rukmin
a wife of Krishna or Knitarajasa
- mother of Badricharu, Charumati and Pradyumna Rukmini came to earth when Vishnu appeared as the avatar Krishna. Her brother tried to force her into marriage with the demon, Shishupala, but Krishna abducted her from the wedding feast and married her. When he died, she immolated herself on his funeral pyre.
She is regarded as an incarnation of Lakshmi.
- Rukotivo Baltic
a later name for Runkateivas as a horse-god
- Ruksh (see Rakosh)
Rukush (see Rakosh)
Rukutia New Zealand
[=Hawaiian Lu'ukia]
wife of Tamanui
His wife ran off with Tu-te-Koropanga but Tamanui, having learned magic from his ancestors in the sky, followed her to her new home and lured her away with a magic perfume. As she boarded his boat, he cut off her head, leaving only the body for Koropanga to find. Tamanui buried the head in a box and in the spring, when living things started into new growth, Rukutia emerged fully restored.
- Ruler, The (see Yatin)
Ruma Hindu
wife of Sugriva
Ruma-naui South American
a general leading the army of the Inca Pachacutic
- Rumar (see Rumra)
Rumbler, The (see Tohil)
Rumhal Irish
a king of Leinster
brother of the Red-heads of Leinster
- Rumia (see Rumina)
Rumina Roman [Rumia]
a goddess of nursing mothers
- Ruminal (see Ruminalis)
Ruminalis Roman [Ruminal]
the fig-tree under which the infants Romulus and Remus were found
- Rummaret British
an Icelandic king
He submitted to the sovereignty of King Arthur and sent his son to serve at Arthur's court.
In some accounts, his realm is known as Winetland or Weneland.
- Rumolt Norse
a squire to Gunther
He was left in charge of Brunhild and his son, Siegfried, when Gunther set off to visit Etzel, a visit from which he never returned.
- Rumpelstiltskin German [Dancing Vargaluska.Ricdin-Ricdon.
Rumpelstilzchen.Titeliture.
Tom-Tit-Tot]
a dwarf
He helped a girl to spin gold from straw in return for the promise of her first child. When she married the king and had a baby, the dwarf respected her grief and said that she could keep the child if she could discover his name in three days. With the help of her maid, who heard strange voices, she won the wager and kept the child, whereupon Rumpelstiltskin disappeared.
- Rumpelstilzchen (see Rumpelstiltskin)
rumptifusel (see rumtifusel)
rumtifusel North American [rumptifusel]
a fabulous animal
- Rumra Hindu
[Rumar]
a name of Aruna as 'tawny'
- Run British
son of Urien
- Runalen European
son of Hoel and brother of Isolde Whitehands in some accounts
- Runan Irish
a friend of Deaglan
He left on a rock the bell entrusted to him by Deaglan and the rock floated out to sea and led them to an island where they established a monastery.
- Rundas Mesopotamian
a Hurrian god of fortune and hunting
- rune Norse
a magic inscription
- runecraft
knowledge of magic inscriptions
- Runkateivas Baltic
[Rongoteus]
a Finnish god of rye (see also Rukotivo)
- runo Baltic
a Finnish short song or poem on a legendary subject
- Ruotta Baltic
a Lapp evil spirit
This being is said to attack pregnant women.
- Ruotze European
a giantess
She was put in charge of two eggs given to queen Sidrat by her father, Macheroll, which, he said, would produce magic toads. In fact, they hatched into monstrous dragons.

rupa Buddhist
the outward appearance (of a Buddha)

Rupa Loka Buddhist
one of the 3 regions of the universe, the world of material form

(see Triloka)

Rupasta (see Kama<sup>1</sup>)

Rupe<sup>1</sup> New Zealand

a pigeon

This bird is said to have helped Maui when he fished up the islands from the bottom of the ocean.

Rupe<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

brother of Ina and Tangi-kuku

father of Tuhuruhuru by Hina-keha or Hina-uri, some say

Just as Hercules cleaned the Augean stables, Rupe cleaned the courtyard of Rehua which was filled with debris.

Rupini Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

Rurava Hindu

a division of Naraka reserved for liars

Ruru Pacific Islands

a Fijian hero

Ruru managed to escape the clutches of Ngarara when he landed on her island in search of water, helped by the two servants Kiore Ta and Kiore Ti. He and his brothers built a hut on the shore and put inside it a model of Ruru. When Ngarara arrived and seized the statue, they set fire to the hut. Ngarara escaped with the loss of her tail.

Rury (see Rudraidhe)

Rusa Arab

[=Babylonian Allat:=Syrian Arsa]

a goddess of fate

Rusalka Russian

[Russalka:plur= The Rusalki:

=Lapp Saivo-niedo]

a water nymph

These beings are said to be the souls of girls who died before baptism or on their wedding night. In some accounts they are beautiful maidens living in trees near water, in others they are described as ugly hags.

They are said to spend only half of the year in water, the rest of the time being spent in the woods. When in the water, they lure sailors to their death by singing and, during Rusalnaia, approach men from the rear and tickle them to death.

(see also Vodyanik)

Rusalkar (see Rusalka)

Rusalki (see Rusalka)

Rusalnaia Russian

a festival devoted to the Rusalki, held 7 weeks after Easter

Rusor Roman

['ploughman']

an ancient god

Russalka (see Rusalka)

Rustam (see Rustem)

Rustamids Persian

descendants of the hero Rustem

Rustem Persian

[Frangrasyan.Raodhatakhma.Rostem.

Rustam.Rustum]

a warrior-hero

son of Zal

husband of Tamine

father of Sohrab

Rustem was said to have been born with grey hair and, as a boy of ten, killed a rampaging elephant with a single blow of his club. He caught a wild stallion and tamed it for his own use, calling it Rakush. When the horse was stolen while Rustem slept, he followed the tracks to the palace of a princess who admitted that she had stolen it so that he would follow it to the palace and she could marry him. He married Tamine, for that was her name, but soon left her to take up his life as a warrior. Their son, Sohrab, was born after he left.

In some accounts, he fought and killed his son, not knowing who he was.

He once fought for two whole days in single combat with Prince Isfandiyar. He also found Kay Kobad floating in a river and saved his life.

When the demon Arzang captured and blinded Kay Kaus, the king of Persia, Rustem fought the demon and recovered the king, restoring his sight by magic. The king, jealous of Rustem's fame, lured him into a trap; he prepared a pit full of sharp spears into which Rustem fell as he rode over it on his horse, Rakush. In his death-throes, he shot the treacherous king with an arrow.

In some accounts he is called Frangrasyan.

Rustic Dionysia Greek

[Little Dionysia]

a festival in honour of Dionysus, held in December

Rustum (see Rustem)

Rut-aimo Baltic

[Ruta-aimo]

the Lapp hell

Ruta-aimo (see Rut-aimo)

Rutbe South American

a culture-heroine of the Guayami

Indians

a water-maiden

She met Nancomala after the Flood and bore him twins, the Sun and Moon, who became the ancestors of mankind.

Rutenderi African

the bull with the herd found by

Inaruchaba

Ruti Egyptian

2 lions worshipped in

Letopolis

Rutja's Rapids Baltic

[Turja's rapids]

in the lore of the Lapps, the river of the dead

Rutu<sup>1</sup> Baltic

the Lapp devil, torturer of the dead in the hell, Rut-aimo

Rutu<sup>2</sup> (see Rota<sup>1</sup>)

Ruu (see Ru)

Ruwa African

a supreme god of the Chagga in Tanzania

Ruwa made the first humans, who were immortal, and placed them in a garden on earth where they were forbidden to eat the fruit of just one plant, the yam called Utaho. The serpent of death tempted them and they ate some of the yam, losing their immortality. The plant itself was taken up to heaven and restored.

Another version says that Ruwa gave humans the power to renew themselves by sloughing their skins as a snake does. This worked for some time but eventually failed.

ruwakruwak Malay

the heron

The nest of this bird is said to have the power to make one invisible.

Ruy Diaz (see Rodrigo Diaz)

rvch (see ruach<sup>1,2</sup>)

Ryangombe<sup>1</sup> African

an ancestral god in Rwanda

king of the spirits

son of Babinga and Nyavirezi

father of Binego

His spirit kingdom of Mandwa had been seized by Mpumuti Muchini with whom he was playing a board game when his son, Binego, arrived. Binego told his father the winning moves and when Muchini objected, Binego killed him.

Ryangombe was later killed by a buffalo when on a hunting-trip. Some say that the buffalo was a sorcerer who took the animal's form.

Some say that he lives in a volcano.

Ryangombe<sup>2</sup> African
a hero of the Baziba people

He was said to have a voracious appetite, eating a whole ox as soon as he was born. In a later episode, he demanded oxen from the giant, Ntubugezi, and ate them immediately. When he swallowed another giant, Ntangaire, it prove fatal because the giant slit his belly and escaped.

Rye-wolf German [Roggenwolf]
an evil spirit in the form of a ferocious animal

Ryence (see Retho.Royns)

Rynys-aika Russian [=Siberian Obin-murt]
a spirit of the threshing-barn

Ryo-to-bin Japanese
a sage living in the middle heaven

Ryobu (see Fujin)

Ryojusen Buddhist
the Japanese version of the paradise Grdhra-kuta

Ryon Irish
king of Ireland
father of Gwennere

Ryoseki Japanese
a priest

When Shinzaburo came to him for help in dealing with the ghosts of Tsuyu, the maiden who had died of love for him, and her maid Yoné, the priest gave him a statuette of the Buddha and various other talismans. These succeeded in keeping the ghosts at bay until, as a result of treachery by Shinzaburo's servant, Tomozo, they were able to gain access once more to the house of the young samurai who was found dead the next morning.

Rython British
a giant of Brittany killed by King Arthur

Ryu-kyo (see Rin-Jin)

Ryu Kyu (see Ryugu)

Ryu-wo (see Rin-Jin)

Ryugin (see Ryujin)

Ryugu Japanese
[Evergreen Land. Ryu Kyu. Ryukyu]
the undersea palace of the Dragon-King of the Sea, Ryujin

Ryujin Japanese

[Ruigin.Dragon-King of the Sea. Ryugin: =Balinese Waruna:=Indian Varuna: =Javanese Kala]
a Shinto/Buddhist dragon-king, god of thunderstorms
one of the Raijin

With the help of the Tide Jewels he controlled all the seas. (see also Rin-Jin)

Ryukyū (see Ryugu)

ryungdrung (see yun-drun)

S

- Sa<sup>1</sup> African
 a creator-god of the Kono people
 He lived in the primordial swamp.
 The other creator deity, Alatangana, who created land and vegetation, ran off with Sa's daughter and they produced the first humans, four pairs of white children and three pairs of black. According to this story, each pair spoke a different language.
- sa<sup>2</sup> Egyptian
 a magic noose
 Bes used this noose to truss up
 evil spirits.
- Sa<sup>3</sup> (see Tauret)
- Sa-bdag Tibetan
 a spirit of the soil or fresh water guardian of the house or the temple
- Sa ch'ing Chinese
 a Taoist deity
- Sa-kala-ma Mesopotamian
 a name for Ea as 'ruler of the earth'
- Sa-Yoni Hindu
 [Sayoni]
 a name for Indra in the period when his body bore 1,000 images of the female genital organ
- Saa Egyptian
 a child of Ra
- Saalah Arab
 a hideous demon
 This being is said to lure people into the forest where he torments them.
- Saar (see Saba)
- Saba<sup>1</sup> Irish
 [Blai Dearg, Blai Dheirg, Saar, Sabia, Sadb, Sadhbh]
 a deer-goddess and moon-goddess
 a woman of the Otherworld
 daughter of Bodb Dearg sister of Daireann
 mother of Oisín by Finn mac Cool Fear Diorche, the Dark Druid, whose love she had rejected, changed Saba into a deer which was run down by Finn's dogs. Changing back to mortal form, she lived with Finn until he was called to do battle with the Norsemen, whereupon the druid reappeared in the form of Finn and changed Saba back into a deer. Her son by Finn was the boy Oisín who would, according to legend, have been a deer if the mother had licked him at birth as deer normally do.
- Saba<sup>2</sup> Irish
 [Saar, Sabia, Sadb, Sadhbh]
 daughter of Brian Boru wife of Cian
- Saba<sup>3</sup> Irish
 [Saar, Sabia, Sadb, Sadhbh]
 daughter of Gul
 She was as bitter-tongued as her father,
 a satirist, and she tricked the king, Feidlimídh, into giving her his clothes and horse. In revenge, the king sent Donnair to seduce her.
- Saba<sup>4</sup> Irish
 [Saar, Sabia, Sadb, Sadhbh]
- daughter of Conn Ceadchathach
 sister of Art
 wife of Alill Olom
 foster-mother of Lugaid mac Con
- Saba-Leippya Burmese
 a spirit of the soil
- Sabadios (see Sabazius)
- Sabaga Siberian
 a Yakut goddess of fire consort of Ulakhany
- Sabala<sup>1</sup> Hindu
 one of the 2 dogs of
 the underworld
 These two dogs guarded Kalichi, Yama's palace in the underworld and rounded up the souls of the dead, leading them to judgment.
 Sabala was envisaged as a spotted dog but the other dog, Syama, was black.
- Sabala<sup>2</sup> Jain
 gods of the underworld
 These beings torture the wicked dead with hot pliers, pulling out pieces of their flesh.
- Sabaoth
 a Gnostic creator-god son of Yaldabaoth consort of Zoe
 This deity was one of the seven androgynous offspring of Yaldabaoth against whom he rebelled, becoming ruler of the universe.
- Sabarragingimme (see Ennugi)
- Sabatu (see Siduri)

Sabazia Greek
orgiastic festivals in honour of Sabazius

One of the features of these festivals was the eating of raw flesh.

Sabazios (see Sabazius)

Sabazius Greek

[Sabadios.Sabos.Sabazios.Theos Hypsistos]

a Phrygian saviour-god, god of thunder and lightning

son of Cybele or Rhea, some say

son of Zeus by Persephone, some say

In some accounts he is identified with Dionysus or Zeus. He was torn to pieces by the Titans.

Sabbat

[Great Sabbat.Sabbath.vaud(ois)erie.

Witches' Sabbath]

a meeting of witches at midnight

Sabbath (see Sabbat)

Sabe British

in some accounts, wife of Ban and mother of Liban

Sabene German

a noble at Walgand's court

He accompanied Hildburg and her child, Wolfdietrich, to Constantinople where she married the boy's father, Hugdietrich. Sabene started malicious rumours about Hildburg and her son with the result that Wolfdietrich was sent to be reared by Berchther. When Hugdietrich learned the truth about what had happened, he banished
Sabene from his kingdom.

Saber British

an uncle of Bevis

He reared the young Bevis when his brother remarried and wanted to be rid of the boy.

Sabgarifiya Egyptian

the Egyptian name for Farasi Bahari

Sabia (see Saba)

Sabine Women (see Rape of the Sabine Women)

Sabitu Mesopotamian

an underworld goddess

She ruled over the Sea of Death.

(see also Siduri)

Sabnak

[Sabnack(e).Saburac.Salmac]

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

This demon is said to teach the arts of war and healing of wounds and appears as a lion-headed soldier astride a pale horse.

Sabnack (see Sabnak)

Sabnacke (see Sabnak)

Sabos (see Sabazius)

Sabra<sup>1</sup> Egyptian daughter of a pharaoh

She was rescued from a dragon by St
George who then married her.

Sabra<sup>2</sup> (see Habren)

Sabre (see Habren)

Sabrina (see Habren)

Sabrus

a demon

Saburac (see Sabnak)

Sac Nicté Central American

a Mayan princess

She was abducted by Tà-Itza but failed to return his love and drowned herself in a lake.

Sacadas Greek

a musician of Sicyon

The flute which Marsyas played in the contest with Apollo was thrown into the River Meander. It was found by Sacadas who dedicated it to Apollo.

Sacaea Mesopotamian

a Babylonian festival in honour of Anaitis

Sachi<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a king

son of Bahu

father of Sagara

Sachi was driven from his throne by his enemies and went off into the forest where he died before his son was born.

Sachi<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

an early Babylonian sun-god

This deity was later merged with Samas.

Sachluph

a demon associated with plants

Sachmet (see Sakhmet)

saci South American

[=Dahomey azizan:=Nigerian ijimere:

=Surinam apuku

the 'little people', forest spirits of Brazil (see also saay-perere)

Sack of Troy (see Iliu Persis)

Sacra

an ancient name for Ireland

sacred animals

animals revered in one culture

or another

Many animals are sacred to a particular deity, race or country.

Some of these are:

antelope	Set
ape	India
ass	Dionysus.Set
bat	Australian Aborigines
bear	Thor
bee	Egypt
beetle	Egypt
boar	Hera.Syria

bull	Dionysus.Egypt.Helius. Neptune.Shiva.Zeus
------	--

carp	Japan
------	-------

cat	Egypt.Pasht
-----	-------------

cobra	Wadjet
-------	--------

cow	Hera.Hindu
-----	------------

crocodile	Egypt.Sebek.Set
-----------	-----------------

deer	Heracles
------	----------

dog	Huitlantecutli
-----	----------------

dragon	Dionysus
--------	----------

elephant	Buddhism
----------	----------

fish	Atargatis
------	-----------

gazelle	Astarte
---------	---------

goat	Aphrodite.Dionysus.Venus
------	--------------------------

griffon	Apollo.Athena
---------	---------------

hare	Kaltesh
------	---------

heifer	Hestia.Isis
--------	-------------

hippopotamus	Set
--------------	-----

horse	Ares.Helius
-------	-------------

ichneumon	Wadjet
-----------	--------

jackal	Anubis.Set
--------	------------

kid	Dionysus
-----	----------

lamb	Helius.Juno
------	-------------

leopard	Dahomey.Dionysus.Osiris
---------	-------------------------

lion	Dionysus.Sandan.Vulcan
------	------------------------

lynx	Dionysus
------	----------

monkey	India
--------	-------

ox	Dinka tribe.Dionysus.Jupiter
----	------------------------------

oxryhncus	Hathor
-----------	--------

panther	Dionysus.Dusara.Polynesia
---------	---------------------------

pig	Angus Og.Greece
-----	-----------------

ram	Dionysus.Zeus
-----	---------------

sheep	Nyx
-------	-----

shrew mouse	Wadjet
-------------	--------

snake	Asclepius.Dayaks.
-------	-------------------

	Dionysius.Minerva.Sumeria
--	---------------------------

stag	Diana.Jurojin
------	---------------

tiger	Dionysus
-------	----------

tortoise	Aphrodite.Heracles.Hermes
----------	---------------------------

weasel	Egypt
--------	-------

wolf	Apollo.Ares.Wepwawet
------	----------------------

zebu	Asia.Hindu
------	------------

(see also animals)

sacred ape India

the hanuman

sacred beetle Egyptian

the scarab

sacred birds

birds revered in one culture or another

Many birds are sacred to a particular deity, race or country. Some of these are:

albatross	Ainu
cock	Ahura Mazda.Amaterasu. Apollo.Athena.Helius. Hermes.Mercury.Mithra.
	Nyx.Tammuz.Zas
crane	Arawn.Artemis.Athena. China.Fukurokuju.Hermes. Kwannon.Lares.Mannanan. Perseus.Shou Shen.Thoth

crow	Apollo.Asclepius. Amaterasu.Angerbode Brac.Cronus.Odin. Saturn.Yama cuckoo	Juno
dove	Aphrodite.Astarte Ararjatis.Ataragatis. Hachiman.Venus
eagle	Dusara.Jupiter
falcon	Egypt
goose	Apollo.Baba.Brahma. Dionysus.Egypt.Eros. Epona.Hera.Hermes.Horus. Iris.Juno.Kaltesh. Kwannon.Mars.Ops.Osiris. Seb.Thoth.Vishnu
guinea-fowl	Isis
hawk	Apollo.Egypt.Here.
kingfisher	Tethys
ostrich	Zoastrianism
owl	Asclepius.Athena.Inara Ketu.Minerva
peacock	Brahma.China.Hera.Juno. Lakshmi.Sarasvati
quail	Apollo.Melkarth
raven	Asclepius.Apollo. Cronus.Noah.Odin Saturn
sparrow	Aphrodite.Venus
stork	Hera.Sweden
swallow	Aphrodite.Isis
swan	Aphrodite.Brahma.Venus
turkey	Azecs.Maya
vulture	Apollo.Ares Heracles.Isis.
wagtail	Izanagi.Izanami
woodpecker	Ares
wren	Triptolemus
yatagarusu	Amaterasu

sacred cities

many cultures have cities which they regard as holy, including

Christian	Bethlehem.Jerusalem
Hebrew	Jerusalem
Muslim	Mecca.Medina
Hindu	Benares

Sacred City Korean
the site where Hwanung landed on Great White Mountain

sacred colours (see colours)

Sacred Dog (see Pono-Kamita)

sacred fire (see Bahram fire.fire)

sacred fish Egyptian

the oxyrhincus was sacred to Hathor the shark in West Africa, the eel in Greece, Phoenicia and Polynesia

Other sacred fish were the Latus, the Lepidotus, and the Phagrus.

Sacred Footprints of Buddha

(see Footprints of Buddha)

Sacred History

Greek

[Sacred Scripture]
the book in which Euhemerus set out his theory that gods were but men writ large and that myths were real historical events

Sacred Isle (see Motu-tapu)

sacred lake (see Llyn Cerrig Bach)

Sacred Lance (see Holy Lance)

Sacred Marriage

the union of Zeus and his sister Hera:
the union of any two deities: the union of a deity with a mortal

sacred meal

a meal at which a deity is deemed to be present: a rite in which a deity is symbolically devoured

sacred mountains

high places often have associations with myths and religion and many cultures regard some mountains as sacred, often the home of the gods, including:

Buddhist	Everest.Ishadhara
Burma	Loi Hsao Mong. Majaw.Myimmo Taung. Shide.Shringa Pum

Central America

Aztec	Chapultepec.Cohuacom. Colinia.Iztac Ciuatl. Nonoalco.Popocatepetl.
--------------	--

China	Chiu-hua.Ishadhara. Kalantur.K'un Lun. Kuantun.Kuang-hsieh.SongShan. T'ai Shan.Wu Yüeh
-------	---

Egypt	Nissa.Omphe-el.
Germany	Horselberg
Greece	Cithaeron.Ida.Lycaeus. Lycorea.Nisa.Olympus. Orthrys.Oure.Parnassus. Pelion.Rhodosp.Tithorea.

Hebrew	Ararat.Carmel.Ebal. Gerizim.Moriah.Nebu. Olivet.Sinai.Tabor.Zion
--------	--

Japan	Fujiyama.Kirishima. Takachiho
-------	----------------------------------

Hindu	Mandara.Mara.
Lapp	Passe-vare

North America Yellow Mountains
*Choctaw*Nane Waiyah.Nunne Chaha

Persia	Demavand
Siberia	Sumbur
South America	Chimborazo
Tartar	Suro
Thailand	Phra Men
Tibet	Himavan
Trojan	Ida
West Indies	Paria

sacred numbers

a number having religious or magical significance

Most cultures have sacred numbers, some of which are:

- three = often reflected in the grouping of deities
- four = Hermes' number
- five = perhaps connected with the digits of one hand
- seven = related to the number of planets known to the ancients: Apollo's number
- nine = a multiple of three
- twelve = corresponding with the signs of the Zodiac

Sacred One (see Senx)

Sacred Otter North American

a chief of the Blackfoot tribe
He and his son were caught in a blizzard when out hunting and they sheltered under a buffalo hide. He dreamt that he visited the tepee of Estonea-pesta, Lord of Cold Weather, who gave him the Snow-lodge and a magic pipe. When his tribe were caught in another blizzard the following year, he lit the pipe and the smoke drove away the storm clouds and his people were saved.

sacred plants

a flower, plant, or tree said to be associated with a deity Many such plants are mentioned in myths, including:

agnus	Asclepius
almond	Phrygeus
arbutus	Muslims.Romans
asphodel	Dionysus
box	Mercury
broki tree	Kojin
cherry	Apollo
corn	Ceres and Demeter
cypress	Dis Pater.Hades
dittany	Artemis
erica	Egypt
fig	Dionysus.Pacific Islands
	Romulus
fir	Cybele
first fruits	Hestia
grape	Dionysus
ivy	Dionysus
laurel	Apollo
lily	Hera
lotus	Buddha.Egypt
maidenhair	Hades
myrtle	Aphrodite.Venus
narcissus	Demeter.Dis Pater.Hades
nelumbo	Egypt
oak	Baal.Jupiter.Melkarth. Thor.Zeus
olive	Athena
palm	Hermes
peyote	Mexico

pine	Confucius.Dionysus
plane	Dionysus
poplar	Heracles
poppy	Demeter.Hades
sakaka	Japan
sal	Buddhism
shiboku	Japan
sycamore	Egypt
vartrad	Sweden
vine	Dionysus
violet	Mithra
yew	Greece
In Sumerian myth, a sacred tree, Kiskanu, was used as a focal point for ceremonial rites.
(see also tree worship)

sacred river (see Ganges.Ho.Lo)

Sacred Scripture (see Sacred History)

sacred serpents

snakes said to possess supernatural powers or to be connected with some deity

The Buddha was said to have become a serpent as a healer.

In Egypt, the cobra, in the form of the uraeus, represented power.

In Greek myths, Aesculapius is represented as, and sometimes took the form of, a snake and one manifestation of Zeus is as a huge serpent.

In Indian myths, snakes play an important role. (see Naga<sup>1,2,3</sup>)

In many cases, the snake is associated with the rainbow.

(see also Rainbow Serpent)

Sacred Spear (see Holy Lance)

sacred springs

fountains or springs said to possess some supernatural power or to be connected with some deity

In Arthurian and Carolingian lore, Merlin is said to have created fountains with magical properties.

In Greek mythology, many fountains were created by deities or by fabulous creatures such as the flying horse, Pegasus, and many were inhabited by nymphs.

sacred stones

rocks or stones said to possess some supernatural power or to be connected with some deity

(see also stones)

sacred thread' Hindu

a triple cord given to boy initiates

This cotton thread is coloured according to caste – red for the Kshatriya, white for the Brahmins, yellow for the Vaisiya. The three strands represent darkness, passion and reality. At the end is a triple knot to represent the triad of Brahma, Shiva and Vishnu.

sacred thread<sup>2</sup>

Persian

[kosti.kus(h)ti]

a six-stranded thread given to children of the Zoroastrian faith

This cord, given to children between the ages of twelve and fifteen, consists of seventy-two threads, equal to the numbers of chapters in the Yasna.

sacred trees (see sacred plants. tree-worship)

Sacred Wars

Greek

3 conflicts involving various parts of Greece for alleged offences against Apollo resulting from violations of the shrine at Delphi

Sacred White Cow

African

a cow born of the Nile
mother of Kola

This animal, created by Jo-Uk, was the precursor of the Shilluk of the Sudan.

sacrifice

an offering to god on an altar: to make an offering to god

Where the sacrifice involved animals, some were considered appropriate to particular deities. Some instances are:

ass = Priapus
dog = Hecate.Iliithya horse = Poseidon
red dog = Robigus

In some cases of human sacrifice, scapegoats were used to bear the sins of the real culprits.

Sacripant

European

king of Circassia

When African besieged Albracca, Sacripant led his army to relieve the city but was defeated. He was one of the many who loved Angelica and when Rinaldo found him in her company they fought a duel over her. She fled and met a magician who conjured up a spirit in the form of a farm-hand who interrupted the fight and told the combatants that Angelica was now heading for Paris with Roland. Rinaldo broke off the duel to ride after her.

sacy-perere

South American

in Brazil, cheerful spirits of the forest

(see also saci)

Sad

Arab

a god of fate

Sad-El

Mesopotamian

[Field of God]

the home of the god El

Sadagata

Hindu

a name of Vayu as 'always moving'

Sadaijin

(see Yadaijin)

Sadaki

Buddhist

the fourth celestial Buddha

Sadaksari

Tibetan

[Sadaksari Lokeshvara]

an aspect of Avalokiteshvara

This form of the bodhisattva is said to incarnate in each Dalai Lama.

Sa'dan

Mesopotamian

a name for Allat as a goddess of fate

Sadana'

East Indian

[Sadona]

a Javanese name for Vishnu

Sadana<sup>2</sup>

Hindu

a name for Lakshmi as the ocean

Sadasapati

Hindu

a name for Brhaspati as 'lord of gatherings'

Sadb

(see Saba)

Sadbhuja-Sitatara

Buddhist

an aspect of Amoghasiddhi and Sitatara
This combination deity is depicted as having three heads.

Sadda

Persian

a Zoroastrian sacred book

Sadbarmapundarika

Buddhist

[Lotus Sutra:=Japanese Daimoku]
a book of parables attributed to the Buddha

saddhu

Hindu

[sadhuh:female=sadhvi]

a mendicant ascetic holy man: a saint

(see also siddhu)

Sadewa

East Indian

in Javanese lore, the son of Pandu

Sadhbh

(see Saba)

sadhu

(see saddhu)

Sadhumati

Buddhist

a goddess

one of the bhumis

sadhvi

(see saddhu)

Sadhya

Hindu

one of a group of minor deities:

a type of Gana

one of the kindly dead, some say

sadiri

East Indian

a doll, made of dough, used by the Dayaks in a ceremony to cure the sick

Sadko

Russian

a merchant

one of the bogatiri

To placate the sea-god, to whom he had forgotten to pay tribute, Sadko offered himself as a sacrifice. He was taken to the undersea realm of the Tsar of the Sea and later restored to earth, having lost his fortune, and carried on his trade on the Volga where he paid tribute to the river-gods. When he later went back to his home town of Novgorod, a water-spirit instructed him to cast his nets into a lake and he was rewarded with a huge catch of fish which turned into coins.

In another version, Sadko was a minstrel whose music attracted a sea-god who took Sadko to his underwater palace and compelled him to play his lute while he danced. On the advice of an old sage, Sadko broke the strings of his lute to stop the dance and, when the sea-god offered him the choice of one of his hundreds of daughters as a wife, Sadko chose the last to appear, the lovely Chernava. He had been warned not to touch his bride but he inadvertently touched her with his foot as he turned in his sleep. He woke immediately to find himself on the bank of a river with his foot in the water but, by his side, he found a large sack of gold.

Sadok British

a Knight of the Round Table

Sadon European

a Saracen

cousin of Carahue

He challenged Charlot to single combat when Carahue challenged Ogier but the treacherous Charlot arrived with a troop of his followers and attacked the other three. Ogier and the two Saracens routed their attackers and became friends.

Sadona (see Sadana<sup>1</sup>)

Sador British

husband of Chelinde

father of Apollo

He left his family and his wife, thinking him dead, remarried. Returning years later, Sador was killed by his son who did not recognise him.

Sadraba Mesopotamian

[=Greek Satrapis]

a Syrian god of healing

Sadsta-akka (see Sarakka)

Sadyojata Hindu

one of the 5 aspects of Shiva known as Pancabrahma

Sadurn Irish

a deity

sibling of Gwen

Sae-no-kami (see Dosojin)

Saegr Norse

[Saegr]

a bucket

This is the bucket in which Hiuki and Bil were carrying song-mead when they were captured by the moon-god, Mani.

Saegr (see Saegr)

Saehrimnir Norse

[Serimnir]

a magical boar

This animal was slaughtered every day to provide meat for the warriors in Valhalla but came to life again, fully restored, after each meal.

Saeming Norse

[Seming]

a king of Norway

son of Odin by Skadi

Saemund Sigfusson Norse

(d 1133)

a Christian priest

He is said by some to have collected the works that make up the Elder Edda.

Saena Persian

a simurgh

Prevented by a voice from heaven from feeding on the infant Zal, who had been abandoned on Mount Alburz by his father Sam, Saena took the boy to his nest and gave him a feather which, whenever he needed help, he could throw into the fire to bring Saena to his rescue.

He later healed the wounds of the hero Rustem and his horse Rakush and also carried Rustem to China to get a branch of the tamarisk to make the arrow with which Rustem shot and killed Isfandyar.

Saena Meregha (see simurgh<sup>1</sup>)

Saetur Norse

a deity envisaged as an old man

Saeturnus (see Saturn)

Safa Russian

an Ossetian god of weaponry

Safekh-Aubi (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Safer British

[Safere.Safire]

a Knight of the Round Table

a Saracen

brother of Palamedes

He was made Duke of Languedoc.

Safere (see Safer)

Safirán British

a leader of a band of brigands and

Picts

He was leading a force against the castle of Leodegrance when Arthur went to seek the hand of Guinevere.

Safire (see Safer)

Safket-Awbi (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Safkhat-Awbi (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Safonet European

a Moorish king of Spain

Rinaldo and his brothers, out of favour with the emperor, served under this king for three years, helping him to achieve many victories. In the end, when the king failed to reward them for their efforts, they killed him and went into the service of Ivo.

Sag Egyptian

a drought-demon

This being is envisaged as having the body of a lioness, the head of a hawk and a tail with a lotus flower on the end.

Saga<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Laga]

the goddess of history

one of the Asynjur

one of the wives of Odin

saga<sup>2</sup> Norse

a Norse epic: a collection of legends

saga<sup>3</sup>

[femina saga: male=sage]

a wise woman: a witch

Sagalie Tyee North American

a supreme god of the Salish people

sagaman

one who recounts epic tales

Sangan-tengeri (see Zojan)

Sagara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a king of the nagas

Sagara<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a king

husband of Sumati

father of Sarasvati

It is said that he had one son by one of his two wives and 60,000 by his other wife, Sumati.

To achieve godlike status for himself, he planned to kill the celestial horse but Indra hid it in the earth. When his host of sons started to dig up the earth to find it, the god turned them all into termites.

In another version of this story, Sagara was given a fearsome weapon, the agneyastra, by the sage Aurva, and used it to kill all his enemies who had driven his father, Sachi, into exile. He then took the throne himself. When his favourite horse was missing, his 60,000 sons dug a huge pit in which they found not only the horse but the sage Kapila who killed them all when they accused him of having stolen the horse. Sagara's grandson, Anshumat, eventually recovered the horse and returned it to his grandfather.

Sagaramati Buddhist

a bodhisattva

Sagaris (see Sagaritis)

Sagaritis Mesopotamian

[Sagaris]

the nymph for whom Attis deserted Cybele

Sagbata African

[=Ashanti Asa-ase:=Yoruba Obaluwaye] a smallpox god in Dahomey son of Lisa and Mawu brother of Sogbo

sage

[female=saga]
a wise man: a wizard

Sage of the Toad *(see Kosensei)Sagittarius

[Centaur:=Arab Qaus]
the ninth sign of the Zodiac, the archer

sagittary Greek

a Centaur armed with bow and arrows
It was said that these beings could kill merely by looking.

Sagamore British

[Sagramour.Sagris.Sa(i)gremor]
a Knight of the Round Table
In some accounts, he was the son of the king of Hungary and brother of Claire.

He seduced Orainglais who bore
a son.

He was one of the many knights captured and imprisoned by Tarquin, who hated all Arthur's knights, until rescued by Lancelot.

Sagramour *(see Sagamore)Sagremor *(see Sagamore)Sagris *(see Sagamore)Saguaa South American

a chief of the Guarani tribe father of Tacuaree
When his daughter left home to meet the man she loved, Saguaa followed her, stopping at frequent intervals to put his ear to the ground to follow the sound of her footsteps. When he became exhausted and rested with his ear still to the ground, the ear put down roots and became the timbo tree, the fruit of which is ear-shaped.

Sah Egyptian

a god, personification of the constellation of Orion husband of Sopdet
father of Soped

Sahadeva Hindu

one of the 5 Pandavas son of the Aswins by Madri twin brother of Nakula husband of Vijaya

These twin boys were born to Madri, second wife of Pandu, when his first wife, Kunti, handed her the gift of producing a child by prayer to the gods.

Sahagun, Bernardino Central American

a Spanish monk in Mexico who recorded many of the Aztec myths

His manuscript, written in about 1530, was lost for about 300 years.

Sahe-no-kami Japanese guardian deities said to ward off diseaseSahlub Persian

son of Mulatib
He was sent by Azazil as an envoy to the rebellious jinn who killed him.

Sahar<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[Ab.Amm.Khil.Shahar.Wadd.Warah] an Aramaic moon-god (see also Salem)

Sahar<sup>2</sup> Muslim

a giant jinnee Solomon, wishing to find out how to cut metal noiselessly, had the water in a well replaced with wine and so made Sahar drunk. He then persuaded the jinnee to tell him the secret and was referred to the raven. The king hid two of the bird's eggs under a crystal bowl and the raven then arrived with a stone called a samur in its beak and used it to crack the bowl. Solomon then despatched his jinn to find the source of this mystery stone and they returned with enough for all his workmen who could thereafter work without disturbing others.

Sahassaras Mesopotamian

a Hittite goddess
consort of Teshub

Sahi-snin-po *(see Kshitigarbha<sup>1</sup>)Sahirim *(see Serim)Saho-biko Japanese

brother of Saho-hime

Saho-hime Japanese

sister of Saho-biko wife of Suinin
She betrayed her husband out of love for her brother.

Saho-Yama Japanese

a goddess of spring

Sahsnot *(see Saxnot)Sahte North American

a god of destruction in the lore of the Tuleyone Indians
a malevolent aspect of Coyote

He set the world on fire but the flames were extinguished by the Flood sent by Coyote.

Sahu<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

the spiritual body of the individual

Sahu<sup>2</sup> Egyptian

a cannibal ogre
This being appears in the heavens as the constellation Orion and is said to be roaming the heavens searching for food in the shape of men or gods.

Sai Egyptian

[=Arab Sai'Al Qaum:=Greek Psais]
a guardian god and god of destiny

Sai-no-Kawara Japanese

[Dry Bed of the River of Souls] the subterranean home of dead children

Sai nying po *(see Kshitigarbha<sup>1</sup>)Sai'Al Qaum Arab

[=Egyptian Sai:=Greek Psais]
a guardian god

Saidthe Irish

a hound

Saigremor *(see Sagamore)Saijosen Japanese

a woman skilled in embroidery At the request of an old man, she embroidered a pair of phoenix. As soon as the piece was finished, the birds came to life and carried off both Saijosen and the old man on their backs.

saikan Japanese

a building used by a Shinto priest to prepare himself for a ceremony

Sainnth Irish

son of Imbath
father of Macha, some say

Sainred Irish

son of Lir
brother of Manannan

Saint-Secairé Mass French

a form of black mass in Gascony, designed to kill an enemy

Saion Zenji Japanese

a hermit
When he was snowed up in his little hut for many days, his food ran out and he survived only by eating part of a dead deer which he found in the snow, leaving half in the pot for another day.

When the snow melted, visitors came to see the hermit and found a piece of wood in place of the meat in the pot. They also found that a piece of a wooden image of Kwannon, which the hermit kept in his shrine, had been gouged out and the wood from the pot fitted the wound exactly.

Sair

a demon associated with minerals

Sais Egyptian

an Egyptian version of Athena

Saitan Arab

the Arab version of Satan

Saivo-neida *(see Saivo-neita)Saivo-neita Baltic

[Saivo-neida:=Russian Rusalka]
a Lapp water-spirit or sea-maiden

Saiyamkoob Central American

Mayan dwarfs

These beings, which existed in the early days of creation, were fed by a pipeline from heaven. They are regarded as the builders of the ancient cities of the Maya. Later, when the sun appeared, the dwarfs were turned to stone.

Sajara African

a rainbow god of the Songhai people
He took the form of a multi-coloured serpent.

Sajigor Pakistani

a god in the Hindu Kush region

Saka Hindu

one of the 7 island-continents
(see also Dvipa)

saka-bashira Japanese

[sakasa-bakira]
an unlucky post

If a post is fixed so that it is upside down in relation to its original position in the tree from which it came, it will emit moans and groans at night.

Sakadonomaki Japanese

[Toyuga-nome]
a god of the drink, sake

sakaki Japanese

a tree sacred in Shinto
This tree, which grows on the celestial Mount Kagu, is hung with precious objects. (see also shinboku)

Sakaldakama South American

a pot
In the lore of the Indians of Honduras and Nicaragua, this pot is situated under the narrow bridge in the underworld. It is tended by a sikla bird who keeps it boiling ready to receive those who, as a result of meanness in life, fall off the bridge.

Sakar (see Saqar)

Sakara Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer

Sakarabru African

a god of darkness of the Agni people

Sakari African

the fifth stage of the Swahili hell, reserved for women who have committed adultery and for sorcerers

sakasi-bashira (see saka-bashira)

Sakata Kintoki Japanese

the name given to Kintaro when he became one of Yorimitsu's retainers

Sakata Kurando Japanese

[Kurando]
a soldier
father of Kintaro by Yaégiri

He fell in love with Yaégiri but, when he was dismissed from the emperor's bodyguard, he killed himself. His son, Kintaro, was born after Sakata's death.

Sakha Hindu

son of Skanda

Sakhar Hebrew

[Sakhr]
a demon

While Solomon was doing penance in the desert, Sakhar took his place and stole his magic ring which he threw into the sea. On his return, Solomon recovered the ring from a fish's stomach, captured Sakhar and threw him into the sea weighted with stones.

In later years, the ropes rotted and Sakhar escaped to carry on his evil work.

Sakhavati (see Sukhavati)

Sakhmet Egyptian

[Eye of Ra.Great Cat.Lady of the West.Mekhit.Mighty One.Sachmet. Sechmet.Sekhauit.Sekhautet. Sekhem.Sekhet.Sek(h)met.Semetet.

The Powerful.=Babylonian Allat: =Greek Sakhmis] goddess of fire and war, goddess of Memphis in some accounts

a name for Isis

daughter of Ra wife of Ptah

mother of Imhotep and Nefertem
She is regarded as an aspect of the angry Hathor and in this role she ravaged the earth, killing mankind, on the orders of Ra who had become disenchanted by man's lack of respect for him. To halt the slaughter, Ra flooded the earth with khakadi, a red-coloured beer. Sakhmet got drunk and forgot her mission.

In another story, she was rescued by Ashur from a gazelle who had abducted her and she became his consort as Mekhit.

In some cases she merged with the cat-goddess Bast and with Mut, the vulture-goddess, while others say that she was the consort of Seker.

She is often depicted as having the head of a lioness. (see also Hathor)

Sakhmis Greek

the Greek name for Sakhmet

Sakhr (see Sakhar)

saki mitama Japanese

a spirit which imparts blessings

Sakia Arab

an ancient rain-god

Sakka' Hindu

[Sakra]

a god, an aspect of Indra ruler of Tavatimsa

A hare, an otter, a monkey and a jackal, living together in the forest, all agreed to give food for the needy. The hare could find no food and offered his own body. When Sakka heard this, he set out to test the hare who willingly offered himself to the god who then built a fire to cook himself a meal. The hare, a previous incarnation of Buddha, threw itself into the flames and was taken up to the heavens. An outline of the hare, which many say they can see on the moon, was drawn there by Sakka.

Sakka' (see Sakkan)

Sakkan Mesopotamian

[Amakandu.Sakka:=Hittite.Sumukan.

Sumuqan:=Sumerian Lahar]

a Babylonian cattle-god

Sakket (see Sakut)

Sakut (see Sakut)

Sakpata African

the earth-god of the Fon

Sakra (see Sakka'.Shakra')

Sakri East Indian

son of Bambang Kalingga and Nilawata

sakta (see shakta)

Saktasura Hindu

a demon

The infant Krishna was resting under a cart when Saktasura noticed him. The demon landed on the cart in the form of a bird and then, resuming his former shape, smashed the cart on top of the small child. Krishna, though just a baby, tipped the broken cart on top of Saktasura who was himself crushed to death.

Saksit Thai

the realm of the spirits

sakti' (see shakti')

Sakti' (see Shakti'<sup>2,3</sup>)

Saktri Hindu

son of Vasishtha

When he refused to step off the road for the king Kalmashapada, the king hit Saktri with his whip. Saktri cursed him and Viswamitra, a rival of Saktri's father, caused a demon to take possession of the king who then devoured Saktri and his ninety-nine brothers.

Sakumo African

a war-god and guardian of the Gan people

Sakuntala (see Shakuntala)

Sakuru North American

a Pawnee sun-goddess consort of Pah mother of Closed Man

Sakut Mesopotamian

a name for Ninurta as god of the rising sun

Sakuya (see Sengen)

Sakyamuni (see Shakyamuni)

Sakyasinha (see Shakyasinha)

sal Burmese
a sacred tree

It is said that Maya, the mother of the Buddha, was holding a branch of this tree when her son was born.

Sal Cholgan Irish
an Ulster warrior

In a fight with Cet he had one of his heels cut off.

Sal Fhada Irish
son of the king of Greece

He was exiled to Ireland on the death of his father and became a member of the Fianna. He was killed in battle, restored to life by magic and regained his kingdom with the help of the Fianna.

Sala Mesopotamian

[Salas.Schala]
a Babylonian war-goddess wife of Adad or Dagan

Salacia Roman

[=Greek Amphitrite] goddess of springs
goddess of the salt seas, some say wife of Neptune (see also Canens)

Salados British
a knight

He took over Owain's castle and wife when Owain was away seeking adventure. When Owain returned, a fight ensued in which Owain was saved from death only when the lion, which had become his faithful companion, intervened killing Salados and routing his followers.

Salagrama Hindu

an icon of Vishnu used in ceremonies
In the story of Tulsi, she cursed Vishnu who had taken the form of her husband Jalandhar and seduced her, with the result that Vishnu was turned to stone.

salamander
a monster in the form of a lizard living in fire: an elemental fire-spirit

Salamannu Mesopotamian

[Sallamannu]
an Assyrian fish-god

Salamis Greek
a nymph

daughter of Asopus and Metope

Salas (see Sala)

Salbatanu Mesopotamian
a Babylonian god, the planet Mars personified

Salem Canaanite
[Shalem:=Syrian Salim]
a god of twilight
son of El

In some accounts he is equated with Sahar.

Salema Arab
an ancient god of good health

Saleos (see Zaleos)

Salevao Pacific Islands
a god of rocks

brother of Savea Si'uleo consort of Papa

father of Moa

Sali African
sister of Akaf

By custom, her brother, king of Kordofan, was due to be killed on a day decreed by the priests who read the stars. She was due to die with him so she induced the story-teller Far-limas to recite such marvellous stories that the priests forgot the stars and no date for the execution was ever fixed.

Salians (see Salii)

Salii Roman

['dancers'.Salians]
colleges of priests
They were the guardians of the Ancile, the shield that fell from heaven. The Salii Palatini served Mars, the Salii Collini served Quirinus. Each college consisted of twelve priests.

Salilus
a demon said to open doors

Salim<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[=Canaanite Salem]
a Syrian god of twilight

Salim<sup>2</sup> (see Salma)

Sallamannu (see Salamannu)

sallekama Japanese the ritual of fasting to death

Salm Persian

[Cairima]
son of Thraetona by Ahaharnaz or Aranvaz
brother of Eraj and Tur

When his father divided his empire between his three sons, Salm received the west.

In some accounts he is referred to as Cairima and is said to have killed Eraj with the help of Tur.

Salm of Mahram (see Salman)

Salma Mesopotamian

[Salim:=Canaanite Resep]
a Kenite sun-god
a deity of the hill of Jerusalem

(see also Salmaore)

Salmaat Mesopotamian

[=Greek Dionysus]
a Kenite god

Salmac (see Sabnak)

Salmacis<sup>1</sup> Greek [Salmakis]

a fountain nymph who was merged with Hermaphroditus to form one body

Salmacis<sup>2</sup> Greek

a fountain in Cariait: it was said that all who bathed here became hermaphrodites

Salmakis (see Salmacis)

Salmala Hindu
one of the 7 island-continent

(see also Dvipa)

Salman Arab

[Ilu Salman.Salm of Mahram.Salmon: Saraamana.Selamanes.Shulmanu: =Babylonian Sulmanu:=Canaanite Resep]

a pre-Islamic god of the northern region

Salmaone Mesopotamian
a goddess of the east (see also Salma)

Salmon (see Salman)

Salmon Boy North American
in the lore of the Indians of the north-west coastal area, a hero of many adventures

Salmon of Knowledge Irish
[Salmon of Wisdom]

a wise old fish

This fish obtained its knowledge from feeding on the Nuts of Knowledge that fell into the river (or the Well of Segais) from an overhanging hazel tree.

When it was caught and cooked by the druid Finegas, Finn mac Cool's tutor, its supernatural knowledge passed to Finn who sucked his thumb where it had been burnt on the side of the fish.

(see also Fintan')

Salmon of Llyn Llwl

(see Salmon of Llyn Llyw)

Salmon of Llyn Llyw Welsh

[Salmon of Llyn Llwl]
a wise old fish

This fish was consulted by Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen. It led him to the prison where Mabon was held.

In some versions, it carried Gwrhyr and Kay on its back to Mabon's prison.

Some say this fish lived in Llyn Feic.

Salmon of Wisdom

(see Salmon of Knowledge)

Salmoneus Greek

king of Elis
son of Aeolus and Enarete

brother of Athamas, Cretheus and Sisyphus husband of Alcidence and Sidero father of Tyro by Alcidence

He fathered Tyro by his first wife, Alcidence, and, when Alcidence died, he married Sidero.

He was expelled from Thessaly by Sisyphus who, having raped Tyro persuaded the people that Salmoneus had an incestuous relationship with his own daughter, and fled to Elis. When Tyro became the mother of Neleus and Pelias by Poseidon, Sidero treated her with great cruelty.

He foolishly pretended that he was Zeus and invited the people to worship him. Zeus killed him with a thunderbolt. In Tartarus he was placed under a rock overhang which was likely to fall on him at any time.

In other stories, Sidero was the second wife of Cretheus who abandoned Tyro, his first wife.

Salmoxis (see Zalmoxis)

Saloman European

[Salomon.Soloman.Solomon]
king or duke of Brittany
one of the paladins, adviser to Charlemagne

In some accounts, he was the father of Constantine and an ancestor of King Arthur.

Salomon (see Saloman)

Salt Man North American

a war-god, a spirit of the Hopi

Salt Mother (see Salt Woman)

Salt Woman North American

[Salt Mother.Salt Old Woman]
a tutelary spirit of the Pueblo tribes
the personification of salt

When she was refused hospitality in one town she lured all the children away from their homes and turned them into jays. In another town where she was well-received, she left some of herself so that the people could season their food. After that, she retired to her home in a lake.

Her companion was Turquoise boy.

Salt Old Woman (see Salt Woman)

salthane African

a Zulu evil spirit or demon

Saltu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

a Babylonian goddess of strife created by Ea

Saltu<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

a name for Ishtar as a war-goddess

Salus Roman

[=Greek Hygeia;=Sabine Strenia]
a goddess of health and public welfare
Her festival was celebrated on April 30th. (see also Valetudo)

Sam Persian

[Sama]
a hero in the Shanamar

an aspect of Keresaspa, some say father of Zal

He abandoned his infant son on Mount Alburz but the simurgh, Saena, instead of eating the boy's flesh, took Zal to his nest and gave him a feather which protected him in later life.

Sam Muk Thai
a Thai maiden

She was rejected by the parents of the young man she loved because she was of lower status and, in her grief, she threw herself to her death from a rocky headland. Her spirit now controls the weather of the island which now bears her name.

Sama<sup>1</sup> Indian

[=Hindu Samba]
a Tamil god
brother of Kama

Sama<sup>2</sup> Jain

gods of the underworld
These beings torture the wicked dead, beating them with sticks.

Sama<sup>3</sup> (see Sam)

Sama Veda (see Samaveda)

Samadhi Hindu

a merchant

He had been cheated out of all his wealth and became a recluse in the hermitage of the sage, Medhas, where he met Suratha. Together they started a new cult, worshipping Devi, who granted each of them one wish. Samadhi asked to be free of greed and self-regard.

Samael

[Red Dragon]
a fallen angel, a demon of the planet Mars
king of volcanoes

In some accounts, he is equated with the devil.

Samain (see Samhain)

Samain Feis (see Feis na Samhna)

Samal Canaanite

mother of vultures

She ate Aqhat's body when he was killed by Yatpan.

Samaliel European

a famous warrior
son of Frollo

Samaliliath Irish

a follower of Partholan

He is said to have introduced ale into Ireland.

Saman (see Samhain)

Samana Hindu

a name of Yama as 'the settler'

Samanala (see Adan's Peak)

Samano (see Ninimina)

Samantabhadra Buddhist

[Lokanatha;=Chinese P'u Hsien;=Japanese Fugen;=Tibetan Kuntu ban Po]
the final Buddha

an aspect of Vairocana
one of the 5 Dhyani bodhisattvas
of Mahayana Buddhism

A celestial bodhisattva who distributes instructions on how to avert disaster.

As Lokanatha he is an assistant to Avalokiteshvara.

He rides a white elephant.

Samantaka Hindu

a name for Kama as 'destroyer of peace'

samatapancaka Hindu

the altar of Brahma

Samantaprabha Buddhist

a goddess
one of the bhumis

Samas Mesopotamian

[Heres.Ma-banda-anna.Mes An Du.
Marduk.Sachi.Shamas.S(h)amash.Shemesh.
Utuki;=Akkadian Babbar.Shullat:
=Arab Aliha.Sams;=Canaanite
Sapas;=Moabite Chemosh;=Persian Aftab;=Semitic Samos;=Sumerian Utu]
a Babylonian sun-god

son of Sin

brother of Ishtar and Isum

twin brother of Nannar, some say consort of Aa

father of Giru, Kittu, Mesharu
and Nusku

A form of Marduk as 'lawgiver', originally the same as Tammuz but later regarded as a separate deity.

He is depicted holding a sword with a serrated edge and with flames round his head and shoulders.

Samash (see Samas)

Samaveda Hindu

[Sama Veda]
one of the 4 Vedas, sacred verses to be chanted at sacrifices

Samavurti Hindu

a name for Yama as the judge of the souls of the dead

Samba<sup>1</sup> African

king of Gana

He subdued eighty rebellious chieftains and won the hand of princess Annalia Tu-Bani. He also killed the dragon Isa Bere who had caused a drought by drinking all the water in the Niger.

Samba<sup>2</sup> (see Shamba<sup>2</sup>)

Sambara (see Shambhara)

sambhoga-kaya Buddhist

the communal body of the Buddha or a bodhisattva: one of the 3 jewels of a Buddha's existence: the body

in which he appears to other bodhisattvas (see also Three Bodies Doctrine)

Sambo-kojin (see Kojin)

Samébito Japanese
 a shark-man, retainer of the Dragon Kings
 When Samébito was dismissed from his post in the palace of the Dragon Kings, Totaro gave him a home in his lily-pond. Totaro met a lovely girl, Tamana, but she refused to marry him unless he could give her 10,000 jewels. Knowing he could never win her, Totaro pined away and Samébito wept at the sight of his dying patron. The tears turned into rubies and Totaro soon recovered his health and persuaded Samébito to produce enough rubies for him to claim Tamana as his wife.

Samedi (see Baron Samedi)

Samera Irish
 father of Buan

Sameval
 a demon

Samgut yusa Korean
 a 13th c book of mythology compiled by Iryon

samhailt Irish
 a spectre or apparition (see also soulth)

Samhain<sup>1</sup> Celtic [Allantide.Festival of Mongfhinn. Sama(i)n.Samhan.Samhuinn.Samp'in:=Irish Feis na Samhna.Geimredh:=Welsh Calan Gaef.Nos Galan-Gaef] a festival on October 31st/November 1st, the Celtic New Year
 This was the one occasion when the Otherworld became visible to mortals. The gates were opened so that those who had been wronged by those still living could exact vengeance.
 It was adapted by Christianity as St Martin's Mass or All Hallows, and the night of October 31st became Hallowe'en, a night when demons are let loose on the earth to entrap the innocent.

Samhain<sup>2</sup> Irish [Sawan] a god
 brother of Cian and Goibhniu
 He was in charge of Cian's magical cow, Glas Gabnach, when it was stolen by Balor who assumed the guise of a small boy and tricked Samhain into letting him hold the cow's halter.

Samhair Irish
 daughter of Finn mac Cool wife of Cormac Cas

Samhan (see Samhain<sup>1</sup>)

Samhanach Celtic
 Scottish goblins said to appear at Samhain

Samhita Hindu
 the corpus of sacred books of Vaishnism: a collection of hymns and Vedas

Samhuinn (see Samhain)

Samian Sibyl Greek
 a prophetess

Samil
 a demon of the hours of the day

Samildanach Irish
 [Ildanach] a name of Lugh as 'the many-gifted'

Samiri South American
 the sacred origins (caves, hills or lakes) of the Aymara
 This word also refers to the stone fetishes (huaca) used to guard herds and villages.

Samkarsana Indian
 a Tamil form of Balarama

Samkhat Mesopotamian
 a Babylonian goddess of pleasure (see also Shamhat)

Samksipta-Marici (see Marici)

Sammassambuddha Buddhist
 'the complete self-enlightened one', the Buddha Gautama

Sammuramat (see Semiramis)

Samonekoaner Pacific Islands
 [Semenkoror] a deity brother of Olofat, some say

Samos Mesopotamian
 [=Akkadian Babbar:=Arab Sams: =Babylonian Samas:=Canaanite Sapas: =Moabite Chemosh:=Sumerian Utu] a Semitic sun-god

Samothea British
 [White Goddess] a goddess

Samothés British
 a giant
 He was said to be the inventor of letters.

samovily (see vila)

Sampati Hindu
 a huge eagle
 son of Garuda
 brother of Jatayu
 His brother had been killed by the demon Ravana, so he was glad to help Rama in his search for Rama's wife, Sita, who had been abducted by Ravana.

Samp'in (see Samhain)

Sampo Finnish
 a mysterious object which grants all wishes

In some versions it was a magic mill which produced endless supplies of salt, flour and money. One such mill was made by Ilmarinen, in his quest for the hand of the Maiden of Pohjola, by loading his furnace with many unusual things such as sheep's milk and swansdown, over which he recited spells. On successive days, the furnace produced a golden bowl, a ship made of copper, a golden-horned cow and a gold and silver plough. He melted these things down again and, on the following day, the furnace produced the magic mill that he was seeking.

Sampsä Pellervo Baltic
 [Sampsä Pellervoinen] a Finnish god of vegetation
 He is said to have arrived in a corn-ship.

Sampsä Pellervoinen (see Sampsä Pellervo)

Samradh (see Beltane)

Samraj Hindu
 a name of Indra as 'supreme ruler' as a duality with Varuna

Samru (see Simurgh)

Sams Arab
 [Shams(hu)]=Akkadian
 Babbar:=Babylonian
 Samas:=Canaanite Sapas:=Moabite
 Chemosh:=Persian Aftab:=Phoenician
 Astarte:=Semitic Sams:=Sumerian Utu] a sun-deity
 Some accounts say that, in Arabia, Astarte became a northern god and a southern goddess as Sams.

samsara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
 the passage of the soul into another state or body

samsara<sup>2</sup> Hindu
 the continuous cycle of rebirth

Samsara-Guru Hindu
 a name for Kama as 'leader of the world'

Samson European
 a Frankish knight, one of Charlemagne's paladins
 He was one of the first to be killed when the second army of Saracens descended on Roland's force at Roncesvalles.

Samson Carrasco European [Knight of the White Moon] a friend of Don Quixote
 He took the part of a knight and overthrew Don Quixote in an effort to make him give up his adventures and return home.

Samudra Tibetan
 a Lamaist sorcerer

Samulayo Pacific Islands

a Fijian god of war
He lives in the underworld, Bulu, and requires the souls of dead warriors arriving in that realm to fight with him.

samurv (see senmerv)

Samvara Tibetan

[bDe-mchog.Cakra-Samvara] a Buddhist-Lamaist god
one of the Yi-dam
an aspect of Akshobhya

The Lamaist version depicts him as having four heads and twelve arms.

Samvarta Hindu

a huge mare
This animal is said to live in the sea but is due to emerge at doomsday and consume all living things with the fire held in her belly. Some say that there are seven such horses.

Samyasa (see Semiazas)Samyaza (see Semiazas)Samyong-Dang Korean

a magician
He challenged another magician, Sosan-Desa, to a contest in magic. They both swallowed live fish and regurgitated them; those swallowed by Sosan-Desa lived, Samyong-Dang's died. When they built a pile of eggs, Samyong-Dang started at the bottom, Sosan-Desa started at the top. Sosan-Desa finally offered his guest a bowl full of needles saying it was noodle soup. Samyong-Dang refused them but his host ate them all. Samyong-Dang conceded that his host was the greater magician.

samur<sup>1</sup> Muslim

a mysterious stone which could cut metal noiselessly (see Sahar<sup>2</sup>)

Samur<sup>2</sup> (see Mount Samur)san chiao Chinese

a written spell folded into the shape of a triangle

San Ch'ing Chinese

[Three Pure Ones.Three Purities]
a trinity of Taoist celestial immortals
These beings, said to live in their separate heavens, are Lao-tzu, Tao Chun and Yü Huang. (see also T'ien Tsun)

San Ch'ing Niang (see San Chou Niang)San Chou Niang Chinese

[Broom Goddess.San Ch'ing Niang.
Sao Ch'ing Niang]
a mother-goddess
ruler of the island home of the gods
In some accounts she is the Broom

Goddess who controls the rain, using her broom to sweep the weather clear.
In this guise, she is said to live in the Broom Star, Sao Chou.

San Dui Tibetan

a Lamaist guardian-god
He is one of the gods acting as guardians of the individual.

He is depicted as having three eyes and three heads.

San Hsien Shan (see Fortunate Isles<sup>3</sup>)San Hsing Chinese

the Fu Lu Shou as the Three Stars of Happiness

San-ku (see Keng San Ku-niang)San-kuai-kung Chinese a name for the San-kuan as Lords of the Three Worlds

San-kuan Chinese

[San-kuai-kung.San-kuan-ta-ti.
Three Agents]

3 deities who record good and evil
These deities are listed as Shui-kuan (water), Ti-kuan (earth) and T'ien-kuan (heaven). They could distribute various benefits and receive the confession of sinners.

San-kuan-ta-ti (see San Kuan)San-shen Kuo Chinese a mythical land where the inhabitants have 3 heads

San-shin Korean

a mountain-god
This ruler of all the mountains is depicted as an old man with a long white beard, often in the company of a tiger which he used as a messenger.

In some accounts, the hero-king, Tangun, became identified with San-shin when he died.

San Ta Shih (see Three Great Beings)San Tung Chinese

[Three Vaults]
one of the 2 parts of Tao Tsang, the Taoist canon

The other part of the canon is the Ssu Fu.

Sanagran British

a giant
He was in the mercenary band of Saxons and giants, led by Chaos, who looted London while King Arthur was away at his wedding feast. Gawain and his brothers, en route to Arthur's court to be made knights, routed the looters, killing both Sanagran and Chaos.

Sanam<sup>1</sup> Arab idols worshipped in pre-Islamic Arabia

Sanam<sup>2</sup> British

[Sevain]
an earl
father of Lyonors

Sancho<sup>1</sup> Spanish

[Don Sancho]
son of Ferdinand brother of Alfonso, Elvira, Garcia, and Urraca

On his father's death, he was given the province of Castile. His realm was attacked by Ramiro of Aragon and Sancho of Navarre but they were defeated by El Cid. He later sent an army to help his sister, Urraca, whose city of Zamora had been seized by her brother Garcia.

El Cid defeated Garcia and his kingdom, together with that of Alfonso who had helped Garcia, was taken over by Sancho. Greedy for more, he seized Toro from his other sister, Elvira, and laid siege to Urraca at Zamora. He sent El Cid to demand her surrender and when she refused, he dismissed El Cid from his service. He found he could not manage without his champion and soon restored him to favour. One of the defenders of Zamora, a man named Dolfos, crept out of the city under cover of darkness, killed Sancho, and returned safely to the city.

Sancho<sup>2</sup> Spanish

a king of Navarre
He and Ramiro attacked his namesake, Sancho of Castile but they were defeated by El Cid.

Sancho Panza Spanish

the squire of Don Quixote
He is depicted as a squat, pot-bellied character, who rides on his donkey, Dapple.

In the story of Don Quixote, Sancho Panza became governor of Baratania.

Sanctum Regnum

a book about a form of ceremonial magic, listing the spirits of the signs of the Zodiac

Sancus Italian

[=Greek Zeus Pistios:=Roman Fidius]
a Sabine god of marriage and oaths (see also Semo)

Sand Altar Woman North American

[Child Medicine Woman.Child Water Woman.Tihkuyi]
a Hopi spirit of childbirth and guardian of animals wife of Masauwu
sister of Mu'y'ingwa

It is said that she suffered a miscarriage while she was out walking with Snake Clan Woman.

sand squink North American
a fabulous animal

Sanda<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a demon

Sanda<sup>2</sup> Hittite
a fertility-god

Sandaf (see Sandda)

Sandalphon Hebrew
an angel of fire

Sandan Mesopotamian
[Sandas.Sandes.Sandon.Santas: =Babylonian Marduk.=Hittite Sanda]
a fire-god, god of Tarsus an aspect of Melkarth, some say

He is depicted with a double-headed axe and his animal is the lion.

Sandas (see Sandan)

Sandav (see Sandda)

Sandda British [Angel-face.Sandaf.Sandav.
Sandde-Byrd-Angel.Sanddef.Sannde]

a warrior at King Arthur's court

He was so beautiful that the enemy at the battle of Camlan were afraid to attack him, thinking that he was an angel supporting the other side.

He was one of those who accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Sandde-Byrd-Angel (see Sandda)

Sandeff (see Sandda)

Sande African

[Sane]
a Mende secret society for women

Sandes (see also Poro)

(see Sandan)

sandhill perch North American

a fabulous fish

Sandipani Hindu

a man whose son was abducted by Panchajana

This deed so angered Krishna that he dived to the bottom of the ocean, killed the demon, taking his conch-shell for use as a trumpet.

Sandoces Greek

a Syrian father of Cinyras, in some accounts

Sandhya Hindu

['twilight'] daughter of Brahma

a consort of Shiva,
some say

In some accounts, Brahma raped his own daughter and Shiva cut off one of his five heads as punishment. Others say that Shiva married Sandhya, then turned her into a doe and killed her to prevent Brahma from raping her.

(see also Sarasvati.Shatarupa)

Sandon (see Sandan)

Sandraudiga German

a minor deity

Sane (see Sande)

Sanemori Japanese

a warrior

He was killed by his enemy when his horse missed its footing and fell into a rice-field. The dead Sanemori became an insect pest which ate the rice-crops.

Sang Gala Raja Jin Malay

[Sangkara]
the black king of the demons

Sang Hyang Tunggal East Indian

a supreme god in Java

Sang Pertala Dewa East Indian

a Sumatran

father of Peri Dewa

After his death, he sent a message to his son that he should marry the girl, sent by the gods, who had first appeared as a silver cow.

Sangarios (see Sangarius)

Sangarius Greek

[Sangarios]

a river-god in Phrygia

father of Nana

father of Hecuba, some say

Sangen East Indian

son of Tunggal Garing and Puteri

Buala

brother of Buni and Sangiang

It is said that he was one of the sons of the first couple and became the first agriculturalist.

sangha Buddhist

the community of monks

Sanghamitta Buddhist

daughter of Ashoka

sister of Mahandra and Mahinda

She became a nun and took a bodhi tree to the monastery established by her brother Mahinda.

Sanghata-Parvata Hindu

a mountain in the underworld

The souls of sinners are forced to traverse a narrow cleft between this mountain and the one adjoining.

Occasionally, the two mountains clash together, crushing the unfortunates who happen to be passing at that moment.

Sangiang<sup>1</sup> East Indian

[=Philippines Sanian]

a demi-god

Sangiang<sup>2</sup> East Indian

son of Tunggal Garing and Puteri Buala

brother of Buni and Sangen

He was one of the sons of the first couple and became the first metal worker.

Sangiang Dewata (see Mahatala<sup>1</sup>)

Sangiang Sari East Indian

a rice-goddess

Sangika Hindu

the saint Mandalpana as a bird

When Mandalpana was debarred from heaven because he had no son, he became a bird, Sangika, and mated with the huge female bird, Jarita, who bore him four sons.

Sangive British

sister of King Arthur

wife of Lot, some say

mother of Cundrie

Sangkara (see Sang Gala Raja Jin)

Sangke (see Ilmarinen.Jumala)

Sangkuruwira East Indian

in the lore of Celebes, one of the first beings

brother of Guru ri Sleng

father of Batara Guru

Sanglamore British

[Sanglamort]

the sword of Braggadochio in

The Faerie Queene

Sanglamort (see Sanglamore)

Sango (see Shango)

Sangoma African

a priest or witch-doctor in some tribes of South Africa

These people claim to see visions and to cure the sick with herbal remedies, using ancient wisdom transmitted to them from their ancestors (amadlozis).

Sangraal (see Holy Grail)

Sangreal (see Holy Grail)

Sangrail (see Holy Grail)

Sangsara Japanese

a form of Nirvana

Sangu<sup>1</sup> African

a Ngbandi hippo-goddess, guardian of women in childbirth

Sangu<sup>2</sup> (see Mbomba<sup>2</sup>)

sanguma Pacific Islands

a way of killing by sorcery

It is said that evil spirits, appearing as human beings, can use this method to kill people or to drive them out of their minds.

Sangyas (see Tshangs-pa)

sanhita Hindu

a sub-division of a veda dealing with ganas and mantras

Sani<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a sky-god

Sani<sup>2</sup> (see Shani)

Sanian Pacific Islands

[=East Indian Sangiang]

a demi-god of the Philippines

saniva Japanese
a sacred plot, covered with white cobbles, used as a site for religious ceremonies (see also shinji)

sanja takusen Japanese the oracles of Amaterasu and Kasuga These oracles were said to have appeared on the surface of a lake in the thirteenth century.

Sanjana (see Sanjna)

Sanjaya Hindu

a charioteer to Dhartarashtra

Sanjna Hindu

['conscience'. Sanjana.S(h)aranyu.Savarna] daughter of Vishvakarma wife of Surya mother of the Aswins, Revanta, Vaivasvata, Yama and Yami

She had to leave Surya because she could not stand the heat of his glance
but she left one of her maids, Chhaya, to take her place. She went to live in the forest as a mare but Surya, in the form of a stallion, found her and they mated producing the warrior Revanta and the twin Aswins. They were reconciled when her father reduced Surya's intensity.

She is the Puranic version of the Vedic Sharanyu.

Sanjo Japanese

a princess

She discovered the tiny boy,
Issumboshi, and made him her page.
She also found a hammer, formerly owned by a demon, which would grant any wish.

Sanju Afghan

[Sanu.Sulmech]
a Kafir goddess of the harvest daughter of Sanu consort of Gish

In some cases, she is depicted as a bird or a goat.

Sanjuban-shin Japanese

30 deities. one for each day of the month

Sankara (see Shankara)

Sankari (see Shankari)

Sanke (see Ilmarinen.Jumala)

sankei Japanese

a shrine

Sankha<sup>1</sup> (see Shankha<sup>3</sup>)

sankha<sup>2</sup> (see shankha<sup>2</sup>)

Sankhapadya (see Shankhapadya)

Sankhapala (see Shankha<sup>3</sup>)

Sankichi Japanese

a dumb man

Sankichi dived into the sea at the point where Tarada had seen the vision of a girl dressed in white, expecting to find a corpse. Instead, he found a marvellous sword which he took up to the surface and placed in a shrine. The spirit of the sword, the maiden in white, was then satisfied and the fish, long absent from the bay, returned.

Sankpana (see Shankpana)

sanmudra Buddhist

an emblem made from human bones, used in necromancy

Sanmukha Hindu

a god of the calendar

an aspect of Skanda

son of Pasupati and Svadha

Sannayaka Japanese

daughter of Maheshvara and Uma sister of Vinayaka

She married her violent brother who became a reformed character. Their embracing figures are depicted in the form of Kwangiden.

She is regarded as a manifestation of Avalokiteshvara.

Sannde (see Sandda)

sannyasa Jain

a vow renouncing the world

Sannyasi Hindu

an ascetic or mendicant: the fourth stage of the orthodox Brahmin's progression

Sano Japanese

a samurai

Sano was cheated out of his estates by relatives and lived as a poor farmer.
When the regent, Tokiyori, called unrecognised at his house, Sano and his wife made him welcome and gave him what little food they had. Later, when he received a call to arms, Sano was surprised to be presented to the regent whom he had taken to be an itinerant priest and he had all his estates returned to him.

Sanru (see Sanu<sup>1</sup>)

Sanselchay Cambodian

a hero

He defeated the giant Yeak and rescued his aunt who had been captured by the giant.

Sansfoy British

a knight, faithlessness personified, in
The Faerie Queene

brother of Sansjoy and Sansloy

He was killed by the Red Cross Knight.

sanshi Japanese

3 worms living in the body of each person

On monkey-day, the fifty-seventh day of the sixty-day cycle, these three worms ascend to heaven while the person is asleep and report on that person's behaviour.

It is said that the worms are black,
green and white.

Sanshi-taisho Japanese

a guardian deity

one of the 28 Nijuhachi-Busho

(see also koshin)

sanshin gak Korean

shrines dedicated to the mountain-god, San-shin

sanshu no shinki Japanese the imperial regalia

The regalia consists of three items – the mirror of Amaterasu (yata no kagami), the sword of Susanowa (kusanagi no tsurugi), and Amaterasu's string of pearls (yasakani no magatama).

Sansjoy British

a knight, misery personified, in

The Faerie Queene

brother of Sansfoy and Sansloy

He was defeated by the Red Cross Knight. but saved by the witch Duessa who took him to the underworld and healed his wounds.

Sansloy British

a knight, lawlessness personified, in

The Faerie Queene

brother of Sansfoy and Sansjoy

He abducted Una and killed the lion which had protected her.

Sansonnet European

[Sansonetto]

a knight of Charlemagne

He was challenged by Rodomont at the bridge leading to the chapel and was taken prisoner but released when the warrior-maid, Bradamante, defeated Rodomont.

He was at the battle of Roncesvalles where he was killed by Grandonio.

Sansonnetto (see Sansonnet)

Santa<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a mother-goddess

one of the saptamataras

one of the astamataras

Santa<sup>2</sup> Roman

a Sabine fertility-goddess

Santa Barbara West Indian

the name for the Yoruban thunder-god in Cuba

Santakrodhamandala Buddhist

a group of gods in the afterworld

Santana Hindu

a minor god

son of Ugra and Diksha

Santanu (see Shantanu)

Santaraksita Buddhist

a deified monk who taught the tantric doctrine

Santas (see Sandan)

santer North American

a fabulous animal

Santeria African

a god of the Yoruba

Santi Hindu

a goddess

consort of Tivikrama

Santiago South American

a later version of Ilyapa derived from the Spanish St James

Santoshi Mata Hindu

a mother-goddess

Sanu<sup>1</sup> Afghan

[Sanru]

a Kafir god

father of Sanju

Sanu<sup>2</sup> (see Sanju)

Sanugi Japanese

a bamboo-cutter

He found the tiny Kaguya in the heart of a reed and reared her. He then found gold in the reeds and became wealthy.

Sanzu-no-Kawa (see River of Three Roads)

Sao Ch'ing Niang (see San Chou Niang)

Sao Chou Chinese

the Broom Star, home of San Chou

Niang

Sao Kang Burmese

a fertility-spirit living in a lake

Saon Greek

a Boeotian envoy

When his people were told to consult the oracle of Trophonius to find the cause of the drought that afflicted them, he followed a swarm of bees that led him to a cave where the shade of Trophonius appeared.

Saoshyant Persian

[Saoshyat.Soshans.Soshyant]

a saviour-god

son of Vispa-Taurvairi

In some accounts, this saviour is born every 1,000 years from the sperm of Zoroaster which is preserved in Lake Kasavya so that it impregnates virgins who swim in its waters.

Some say that there are three such saviours – Astvat-eveta, Hushedar (Ukshyat-ereta) and Hushedar-mah (Ukshyat-nemah). The third such deity conquers evil in the final battle to allow the world to start a new cycle.

(see also Frashkart)

Saoshyat (see Saoshyant)

Sapa Inca South American

son of the sun-god Inti

Sapan Mesopotamian

the palace of Baal

Sapas Canaanite

[Saps.Shapash:=Babylonian Samas:

=Sumerian Utu]

a sun-god

In some accounts, Sapas is female.

Saphon (see Mount Zaphon)

Sapling (see Djuskaha.Ioskeha)

Saps (see Sapas)

Sapta-Loka Hindu

the 7 realms of the universe

In some versions, the universe has three realms (Tri-Loka). In the version that postulates seven, Sapta-Loka, they are listed as:

1. Bhur-Loka, the earth

2. Bhuvar-Loka, the home of the sage in the sky

3. Jona-Loka, the home of Brahma's children

4. Marar-Loka, the home of the saints

5. Satya-Loka, the home of the gods

6. Svar-Loka, the heaven of Indra

7. Tapa-Loka, the home of the

demi-gods

At the end of each cycle of Brahma's life, these seven worlds will also come to an end and time and the universe will start all over again.

Some accounts envisage additional realms such as Gandharva-Loka, Indra-Loka, Pishasha-Loka, Ratshasha-Loka and Yaksha-Loka for various demons and spirits and Soma-Loka for the moon and planets.

(see also Tri-Loka)

Sapta Ratna Hindu

the Hindu version of the Seven

Treasures of Buddhism

Saptaksara Buddhist

a form of Heruka

In this version, the god is depicted as blue with three heads each with three eyes, and six arms, surrounded by six goddesses.

Saptamataras Hindu

a group of 7 minor goddesses

Saptarshi (see Seven Rishis)

Saptasbati Hindu

a poem of some 700 couplets in honour of Devi's conquest of demons

Sapurba East Indian

a king of Sumatra

son of Sulana and Muhtabul Bahri

father of Nila Utama

He was originally known as Mencha Terim, the eldest of Sulana's three sons, and adopted the name Sapurba when he took the throne.

He was said to have killed a huge serpent which was ravaging the area and adopted a maiden, Puteri Tunjung

Buih, who came, like Aphrodite, from the sea.

Sar (see Shar)

sara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

an arrow used in rites designed to ward off evil spirits (see also capa)

Sara<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

a war god, Babylonian and Sumerian son of Inanna, some say

Sara-mama (see Saramama)

Saracura South American

a water-hen

When Anatiwa caused the flood, this bird saved the ancestors of the tribes by carrying earth to build up the mountain-top on which the survivors stood.

Sarada Devi<sup>1</sup> Hindu

wife of Ramakrishna

Sarada Devi<sup>2</sup> Tibetan

a Buddhist-Lamaist fertility-goddess and goddess of autumn and vegetation

an attendant of Sridevi

Saraha Buddhist

a great sorcerer

Sarahiel

an angel, ruler of the Zodiacal sign

Aries, the ram (see also Malchidael)

Saraide British

a servant of the Lady of the Lake

She was able, by the use of magic powers, to rescue Bors and Lionel when they were held by Claudas.

Sarait Irish

daughter of Conn Ceadchathach

mother of Cairbre and Duibhind

She married Conaire mac Mogha Lamha who succeeded her father on the throne of Ireland. When he was killed, she married his killer, Neimheadh mac Sraibhghind.

Sarajas (see Pimentola)

Sarakka Baltic

[Sadsta-akka]

a Lapp goddess, guardian of birth

daughter of Mader Akka

It was said that she assisted both deer and humans.

Sarakuyel

a demon

Sarama (see Sharama)

Saramama South American

[Maize Mother.Sara-mama]

an Inca spirit controlling the growth of maize (see also huantaysara)

Saramana (see Salman)

Saran Irish

the man who killed Brandubh,

king of Leinster

He regretted what he had done and was forgiven but was punished when his arm fell off.

Saranyu (see Sharanyu)

Sarapiastai Greek devotees of Serapis

Sarapis (see Serapis)

Sarasraksha Hindu
a name for Indra as 'thousand-eyed'

Sarasvant Hindu
a female water-spirit

Sarasvati<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
a female Bodhisattva

goddess of music and poetry
She is sometimes depicted playing the flute.

Sarasvati<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Bharati.Brahmi.Logos.Mahasarasvati.
Queen of Love.Savitri.Shatarupa.
Vac(h).Vagdevi.Vak:=-Pacific Islands
Saraswati: =Japanese Benten]
an early mother-goddess and goddess of the river Sarasvati goddess of the arts and wisdom daughter of Sagara
wife of Vishnu and later of Brahma
In her earlier role as mother-goddess
she killed the demon Ahi.

In some stories, she was born from the body of Brahma with whom she mated to produce the first man, Manu, and was so beautiful that Brahma grew four more heads so that he could see her from all directions. The latter part of this tale is also told of Shatarupa who some equate with Sarasvati.

Shiva lost his temper when he was excluded from a sacrifice by Daksha and wounded many of those present including Sarasvati who had her nose cut off. Vishnu found her too quarrelsome for his liking and gave her to Brahma.

She is credited with the invention of Sanskrit and sometimes identified with Vach.

She is depicted with either two or four arms, sometimes with three heads, and riding a peacock or a swan.
(see also Sandhya.Shatarupa)

Sarasvati-puja Hindu

[Homage to Sarasvati] a festival of homage to Sarasvati in January or February

Saraswati Pacific Islands
the Balinese version of Sarasvati

Saratan Arab
the Zodiacal sign, Cancer

Sarbhile (see Moninne)

Sardian Sibyl Greek
a prophetess

sardius (see carnelian)

Sardoine Danish

daughter of Hengist
sister of Renwein

Sardon (see Adrammelech<sup>1</sup>)

sardrakapala Buddhist a tantric symbol in the form of a garland made of severed heads

sarga<sup>1</sup> Hindu
creation

Sarga<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a minor god

son of Shiva (Bhima) and Disa

Sargaz (see Sarur)

Sargon Mesopotamian
a king of Akkad

husband of Azag-Bau, some say He was abandoned at birth in a basket but found by Akki. He was made king by Ishtar who fell in love with him.

Sarigoys South American
father of one of a pair of twin boys

His wife was raped by the god Maire and gave birth to twins, Ariconte and Tamendonare, one fathered by the god, one by himself. They never found out which was which.

Sarikin Bakka African
the Hausa 'lord of animals'

He is said to be able to induce madness
in humans.

Sarindiel
a demon

Sariputra (see Shariputra)

Sariputta Buddhist
the Pali version of the Sanskrit
S(h)ariputra

Saris British
in Arthurian lore, a king of Hungary

He was killed in battle by Laris.

Saritiel
a demon, ruler of the sign Sagittarius

(see also Adnachiël)

Saritor Roman
a god of weeds

Sarkany European
a Hungarian demon

He has the power to turn people to stone. His function is to control the weather and he can be seen riding his horse in the thunder clouds.

In some versions he is regarded as a dragon.

He is depicted with seven or nine heads.

Sarkap Indian

[Beheader]
a warrior-hero

He earned the name Beheader from his habit of decapitating those whom he defeated in games.

Sarki Mongol

one of the burkhan

Sarmishtha Hindu
[Sarmistha]

a princess
mother of Anu and Puru by Yayati

mother of Trivasu, some say She quarrelled with her friend
Devayani and threw her down a well.

A king, Yayati, found Devayani and married her, forcing Sarmishtha to become a servant at his court. She had an affair with the king and bore three sons, Anu, Puru and Trivasu. Some say that Trivasu was Devayani's son.

Sarmistha (see Sarmishtha)

Sarnga Hindu
the bow of Vishnu

sarong East Indian a form of skirt worn in many parts of the Pacific

Javanese sorcerers, it is said, use a small piece of such a garment with black stripes on it and cause it to expand to cover the whole body and turn the wearer into a tiger.

Sarpanit (see Sarpanitu)

Sarpanitu Mesopotamian

[Aruru.Belti(y)a.Ealur.Erua.
Sarpanit(um).Zarbanit.Zarpanit.
Zarpanitu(m).Zerpanitu(m).Zirat-panitu:
=Semitic Succoth Benoth]

a goddess of childbirth
a name for Ishtar as a creator-goddess

a name for Belit, in some accounts consort of Marduk

Sarpanitum (see Sarpanitu)

Sarpedon<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Zeus by Europa

brother of Minos and Rhadamanthus father of Evander

When he was expelled from Crete by his brother Minos, after they quarrelled over a boy called Miletus, Sarpedon conquered and became king of what was later called Lycia.

He was said to have lived, in the form of a serpent, for three generations and was revered at some shrines. This was to account for his identification, in some accounts, with his grandson of the same name.

Sarpedon<sup>2</sup> Greek

a king of Lycia
son of Evander and Deidameia

son of Zeus by Laodamia,
some say

When Isander and Hippolochus contended for the throne of Lycia, Deidamia offered the child Sarpedon to bear on his chest the ring that the two men would use as a target for their arrows to settle the succession.

He fought on the side of the Trojans in the war against Greece and killed Tlepolemus but was himself killed by Patroclus.

In some accounts, he is equated with his grandfather of the same name.

Sarpedon<sup>3</sup> Greek

son of Poseidon
brother of Poltyx

He was shot and killed by Heracles after his ninth Labour.

Sarquamiel

a demon of the hours of the day

Sarra Itu Mesopotamian

[Sarr(a)hitu]

a Babylonian-Sumerian fertility-goddess

Sarrahitu (see Sarra Itu)

Sarras British

the city of the Holy Grail

It was to Sarras that Galahad returned the Holy Grail and where he was made king. Despite the fact that the Saracens were said, in some accounts, to have taken their name from this city, some say it was in Brittany, not the Holy Land. In some accounts, the king of Sarras was the giant Alchendic.

Sarrhitsu (see Sarra Itu)

Sarritor Roman

a god of agriculture

Sarruma Mesopotamian

[Saruma.Sharmas.Sharrumas.Sharuma]

a Hurrian god

son of Teshub and Hebat

Sarsaok (see Hadhayosh)

Sartiyas Mesopotamian

[Queen of Katapa]

a Hittite goddess

Sartziel

a demon, ruler of the sign Scorpio, the scorpion (see also Barbiel)

saru Japanese

a sign (monkey) of the Zodiac

Sarube Japanese

descendants of Saruto-hike and Uzume creators of ceremonial dance

Saruda-hiko (see Saruta-hiko)

Saruma (see Sarruma)

Sarur Mesopotamian

[S(h)argaz.Sharuk.Sharur]

a Sumerian god

The deified weapon (a cyclone) used by Ninurta which was capable of independent action.

Saruta Japanese

a monkey-god

Saruto-hiko Japanese

[Saruda-hiko]

an earthly deity

He was the commander of the forces supporting Ninigi when he took the throne from Onamuji.

In some accounts, he is described as a monkey-god and was said to have fathered a number of children on Ilzume. Their descendants, known as miko, were shamans or attendants at shrines.

He is now regarded as the guardian of cross-roads and procreation.

Sarva (see Agni.Rudra)

Sarvabhaksha Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer

Sarvabuddhadakini Buddhist

the Tibetan name for Narokhachoma

Sarvabuddhadharma-Kosavati Buddhist

a god of literature

one of the dharanis

(see also Sarvakarmavaranavisodhani)

Sarvaga Hindu

son of Bhima and Balandhara

Sarvakamadugha Buddhist

a cow owned by Indra

daughter of Surabhi

This animal is the supporter of the north corner of the heavens.

Sarvakarmavaranavisodhani Buddhist

a god of literature

one of the dharanis

(see also Sarvabuddhadharma-Kosavati)

sarvan European

elves or goblins who kept their masters informed of what was going on

Sarvanivaranaviskambhin Buddhist

[=Tibetan Dip-pa-nam-sel]

a god

one of the Dhyaniobodhisattvas

Sarvayajaha Hindu

a god

one of the Dhyaniobodhisattvas

Sarvara (see Carvara)

Sarvasokatamonirghatamati Buddhist

a god

one of the Dhyaniobodhisattvas

Sarvatma Hindu

the totality of spiritual force, represented by the Trimurti

Sary-khan Siberian

a Tartar deity of happiness grandson of Kudai

(see also Kyrgis-khan)

Saryata Hindu

a king

father of Sukanya

Sasabonsam African

[Sasabonsum:=Dahomey Yehwe Zogbanu]

a hairy forest monster of the Ashanti husband of Srahman

He had feet pointing both ways and ate any travellers he could capture with his feet when they passed under the tree in which he was sitting.

Sasabonsam (see Sasabonsam)

Sasanadevata Jain

one of the messenger goddesses

Sashi-mi-rig-giha Buddhist

Tibetan earth-gods

Sasquatch (see Bigfoot)

Sassu-wunnu Mesopotamian

Ea as a sea-monster

Sasthi Hindu

a goddess

She is the guardian of the sixth day after the birth of a child and protects her devotees from smallpox.

Sasuratum Canaanite

[=Hebrew Kosharot]

a group of 7 midwife-goddesses

daughters of Baal

Sacy-perere (see Cacy taperere)

Sata (see Zada)

Satabhisa Hindu

a goddess of fortune

one of the nakshatras

daughter of Daksha

wife of Candra

Sataere German

a god of agriculture regarded as a manifestation of Loki

Satan Hebrew

[Lord of Fire.Lord of the Underworld.

Old Bendy.Old Hangie.Old Harry.

Old Hornie.Nick.Old Driver.

Old Gentleman.Old Gooseberry.Old Ned.

Old One.Old Poker.Prince of Darkness.

Sathan(as).The Adversary:

=Arab shaitan:=Ethiopian shaytan:

=Scottish Auld Hornie.Clootie.

Little Gude.Old Seratch.Old Serpent.]

the devil: the personification of evil

He is generally depicted with horns, bat-like wings, a tail and cloven hooves but some German illustrations show a crow and mediaeval pictures show him as a human-headed serpent.

(see also Yazid)

Satan<sup>2</sup>

a demon of sorcery

In black magic, one of the Grand Dignitaries, leader of the opposition.

Satang goddesses East Indian

the 7 daughters of Mahatala sisters of Jata

These Dayak deities are the arbiters of fate who take it in turns to descend to earth on brooms to judge human beings.

Satan's Head (see Rosh ha Satan)

Satapatha Brabmana Hindu

a collection of stories including the story of Manu and the fish

Sataram (see Sudrem)

Sataran Mesopotamian

[Istaran]

a god of medicine

He also acts as a judge.

Satarupa (see Shatarupa)

Satavahana Hindu

a king

He rejected a poem sent to him by Gunadhya who had written it in his own blood. The poet tore some of the poem into small pieces and fed them slowly, one by one, into the fire, whereupon all the game animals gathered round, weeping at the beauty of the poem. The king then fell ill and was advised to eat game – but there was no game to be found anywhere. The king quickly changed his mind and bought the remaining part of the poem.

Satavasa Persian

a star-spirit created by Ahura Mazda ruler of the west

Satet (see Sati<sup>1</sup>)

Sathan (see Satan)

Sathanas (see Satan)

Sati<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Queen of Elephantine. Satet. Satjit:

=Greek Satis]

queen of goddesses,

goddess of the cataracts

first wife of Khnum

In some accounts, sister of Anuket, in others her mother.

She is depicted with the horns of an antelope and wearing the white crown of Upper Egypt.

Sati<sup>2</sup> Egyptian

a serpent in Sekhet-Aaru which preyed on the dead

Sati<sup>3</sup> Hindu

[Ambika. S(h)akti. Parvati. Uma. 'virtuous']

an aspect of Devi or Parvati an incarnation of Lakshmi or Uma

a name for Parvati as 'good wife'

daughter of Daksha and Prasuti

first wife of Shiva

When her father invited all the gods except Shiva to a sacrifice she immolated herself though some say that it was Gauri who immolated herself to become Sati. Another story says that she fell in love with Shiva but he was not invited to the ceremony at which a maiden chooses her husband. She nevertheless became his consort but burnt to death from the intensity of her own purity. In both versions she was later reborn as Parvati. The practice of suttee (sati), where a widow immolates herself on her husband's funeral pyre, stems from this incident.

Satis Greek

the Greek name for the Egyptian goddess Sati

Satjit (see Sati<sup>1</sup>)

Satki Hindu

a javelin, one of the weapons of Durga

Satmas (see Ummu Sibyani)

Satrajit Hindu

father of Satyabhama

Satrapis Greek

[=Syrian Sadrapa]

a god of healing

Satrud Thai

the Thai version of Satrugna

Satrugna Hindu

[=Thai Satrud]

a god

son of Dasa-ratha and Sumitra

brother of Lakshmana

sattva Hindu

one of the 3 gunas covering the transmigration of the soul

Saturday (see Baron Samedi)

Saturn Roman

[Sa(e)turnus. 'sower':=Greek Cronus]

god of agriculture, vines, workers husband of Lua and, later, Ops father of Juno, Jupiter, Neptune,

Picus and Pluto

In some accounts, he was regarded as an early Italian king, ruling jointly with Janus, who went to heaven as Saturn when he died.

Saturnalia Roman

a festival in honour of Saturn,

December 17th-19th

At this festival, masters and servants exchange roles for the day.

(see also Sigillaria)

Saturnus (see Saturn)

Satya-bhama East Indian

a wife of Kritarajasa

Satya-Loka Hindu

[Abode of Truth]

one of the 7 realms of the universe,

home of the gods

(see also Brahma-Loka)

satya-yuga (see krita-yuga)

Satyabhama Hindu

a Tamil goddess

daughter of Satrajit

a consort of Krishna and Vishnu

Satyavana Hindu

son of Dyumatsena

husband of Savitri

He died, as had been prophesied, within a year of his marriage to Savitri and she followed him to the underworld. Yama rewarded her devotion by granting her three wishes.

One of these was that she might have many children. Yama, realising that he had been tricked since she could have children only if she had a husband, restored Satyavana to life.

Satyavati Hindu

['truthful']

a fisher-girl

daughter of Adrika by a king

second wife of Shantanu

mother of Vyasa by Parashara

She bore a son, Vyasa, to Parashara.

Later, her father allowed Satyavati to marry the aged king, Shantanu, only on the condition that any son of the union should inherit Shantanu's throne instead of Bhishma, his son by his first wife. She produced two sons, both of whom died childless so she persuaded Vyasa, her son by Parashara or, some say, her husband's half-brother, that he had a duty to the widows to give them children and he complied.

Satyavata Hindu

[Trishanku]

a king of Dravidia

He helped Vishnu in his struggle with Hayagriva and, as a reward for his penance and charity, he was admitted to heaven as an immortal.

Satyavrata Hindu

[Trishanku]

a king of Dravidia

He helped Vishnu in his struggle with Hayagriva and, as a reward for his penance and charity, he was admitted to heaven as an immortal.

satyr Greek

[fem=satyra. satyress:=Roman faun. Silvan]

god of the woodlands, part man, part goat, with a long tail

a fertility spirit

Some say that the satyrs were sons of Hermes and brothers of the nymphs.

The modern Greek callicantzani have many of the features of the ancient satyrs.

satyra (see satyress)

satyra

a monster with parts of man, lion

and antelope

a fertility spirit

Some say that the satyrs were sons of Hermes and brothers of the nymphs.

The modern Greek callicantzani have many of the features of the ancient satyrs.

satyra (see satyress)

satyra

a monster with parts of man, lion

and antelope

Satyrane British

a noble in The Faerie Queene

who rescued Una

satyress

[satyra]

a female version of a satyr

satyrisci (see satyrisk)

satyrisk Greek

[plur=satyrisci]

a young satyr

sau (see siau. tahu<sup>1</sup>)

Sau Kompul Pacific Islands

a dog in the Gilbert Islands

This animal was said to spy on enemies of the tyrant Sau Telur.

- Sau Telur Pacific Islands
a tyrant killed by Isokalakal
- sauba (see Saubha)
- Saubha<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Sauba]
a flying city
- Saubha<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Dhapura.Tranga]
a floating city
- This city, home of the Daityas, was said to lie to the west of the sub-continent. It was overthrown by Krishna.
- Saubhadra (see Abhimanyu)
- Saubhagya-Bhuvanesvari Buddhist
a goddess of good fortune
- Saubhari Hindu
a hermit
Though he was old and shrivelled after years of asceticism, he demanded one of the king's fifty daughters as a wife. He turned himself into a handsome young man so that all fifty of them agreed to marry him and he ended up with a hundred and fifty sons.
- sauger (see guyascutus)
- Saul Mesopotamian
[Savul]
a Babylonian god
- Saule Baltic
a Latvian sun-goddess daughter of Perkunas consort of Dievs and Meness
She drives across the sky each day in a chariot and, each night, she washes the horses in the sea.
When her husband, Meness, had an affair with Ausrine, Perkunas cut him in half.
The berries of the shrubs on the hills were said to be her tears.
In some accounts, Saule is male and Meness is female.
- Saules meitas Baltic
daughters of Saule
They rake up the hay mown by the Dievadeli in the celestial meadows.
- Sauna Inuit
the spirit of the west wind
- Saunanda Hindu
the club of Balarama
- Saue Pacific Islands
a magician in the Marianas
brother of Sipe
To honour their ancestors and the deity Lugeilan, the brothers built monuments using their magic to cause stones to fly into position.
- Saura Persian [Sauru]
a demon, 'misgovernment', opposing Kshathra Varya
- Sauru (see Saura)
- Sauska Mesopotamian
[=Syrian Kubaba]
a Hurrian mother-goddess and fertility-goddess
- Sauvagine European [Sauvaigne]
a sword of Ogier, made by Munifican
- Sauvaigne (see Sauvagine)
- sauvastika (see svastika)
- Saw Meya (see Hnit-ma-dawgyi)
- Sava Pacific Islands
brother of I'i
He and his sister are regarded as the first to settle on Savai'i, becoming the ancestors of the people of that island.
- Savala (see Kamadhenu)
- Savali Pacific Islands
a Samoan messenger-god
- Savari<sup>1</sup> British a king of Spain
He carried off Lidoine after the death of her husband, Ladon. She was rescued by King Arthur.
- Savari<sup>2</sup> Tibetan a fearsome Buddhist-Lamaist goddess, one of the gauris
- Savarkama Hindu
a king
father of Rituparna
- Savarna (see Sanjna.Sharanyu)
- Savarni Hindu
son of Surya
brother of Shani
- Savary European
a duke of Aquitaine
father of Fezon
- Savea Si'uleo Pacific Islands
a god of the dead
brother of Salevao
- Savitar (see Savitri<sup>1</sup>)
- Savitri (see Savitri<sup>1</sup>)
- Savitri<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Mart(t)anda.Prajapati.Savit(a)r] a god of the morning and evening sun a version of Marttanda
son of Aditi
one of the Adityas
He has the power to grant immortality and longevity and arranges the rotation of the seasons. He was later assimilated into Surya.
He is depicted riding in a golden chariot drawn by white horses.
In some accounts he is equated with Agni.
- Savitri<sup>2</sup> Hindu
daughter of the sun-god
wife of Brahma
(see also Sarasvati.Shatarupa)
- Savitri<sup>3</sup> Hindu
a princess
daughter of Ashvapati wife of Satyavana
When her husband died, as had been prophesied, within a year of marriage, she followed him into the underworld. Yama rewarded her devotion by granting her three wishes. The first wish restored her father-in-law, Dyumatseni, to his throne, the second restored his eyesight. The third wish was that she might have many children. Yama, realising that he had been tricked, since she could have children only if she had a husband, restored Satyavana to life.
- Savul (see Saul)
- Sawan (see Samhain<sup>2</sup>)
- Sawara Japanese
an artist
He loved Kimi, the niece of his tutor, Tenko, but when he left to learn more from Myokei, this great artist wanted Sawara to marry his daughter. Kimi, distraught at this news, disappeared and, when Sawara returned to Tenko's house, she was nowhere to be found so he married a farmer's daughter named Kiku. When he later met Kimi, she stabbed herself to death on learning that her beloved had married another. He painted a picture of the dead Kimi which came to life and visited him every night. He finally gave the picture to be hung in a temple and put aside his wife, Kiku.
- Sawoye African
husband of Marwe
He had a terrible skin disease but when he married Marwe it miraculously disappeared.
He was killed by men jealous of his wealth but Marwe used her magic to restore him to life.
- Saxneat (see Saxnot)
- Saxnot Saxon
[Sahsnot.S(e)axneat.Swordbearer: =German Tiwaz:=Norse Cheru.
Heimdall.Tyr]
a war-god
He is regarded as a manifestation of Heimdall or Tyr.
- Saxo Grammaticus Danish
a writer
He was the author of Gesta Danorum.
- Say Egyptian
[Shay:=Greek Agathos Daimon]
a god of fate
He attends the weighing of the individual's heart in the underworld.

sayadaw Burmese

a title for the head of a monastery

Sayadio North American
an Iroquois brave

He was greatly grieved when his sister died and travelled to Shadowland in the hope of rescuing her. With the help of the keeper and Tarenyawago, the master of ceremonies, he captured her spirit and took it home with him. As he prepared to revivify his sister's corpse, a foolish brave (or, in some accounts, a young girl) lifted the lid of the gourd. The trapped spirit flew off and Sayadio fell dead from grief.

Sayings of Confucius (see Lun Yü)

Sayings of Odin (see Havamal)

Sayoni (see Sa-yoni)

saytan (see shaytan)

Sayuka-hime (see Sengen)

Sazquiel
a demon of the hours of the days

sBed-byed (see Gobaka)

Scaen gates Greek
the entrance gates to the city of Troy where Paris shot Achilles

Scaevola Roman
a young noble

When the Italians besieged Rome, he entered their camp to assassinate their leader, Lars Porsena, but killed the wrong man. When captured, he plunged his hand into a blazing fire without flinching and, by his bravery, persuaded Lars Porsena to make peace.

skald (see skald)

Scala Coeli
a 12th c book by Honorius describing many mythical animals

scales (see Libra)

Scalliotta British [Scalot]
the Italian name for Astolat, home of Elaine

Scalot (see Scalliotta)

Scamander Greek
[Scamandro(u)s.Skamandros.
Xanthos.Xanthus]

a river-god of Troy
father of Strymo
father of Teucer by Idaea

He was a Cretan who founded a colony in Phrygia. He fell into the river Xanthus, which thereafter became the Scamander, the source of fertility for maidens who bathed in its waters, and fathered Teucer on a river-nymph.

He was said to have fought Achilles who had filled the river with corpses to avenge the death of Patroclus.

Hephaestus stopped the fight by scorching the river dry.

Scamandrius (see Astyanax)

Scamandros (see Scamander)

Scamandrous (see Scamander)

scapulimancy [scapulomancy] divination from shoulder blades (see also omoplatoscopy)

scapulomancy (see scapulimancy)

scarab Egyptian [scarabaeus.scarabee]
a sacred beetle: the personification of Kephra

scarabaeus (see scarab)

scarabee (see scarab)

Scaramallion
the English version of Scarmiglione

Scarface North American [Poia]

a Blackfoot brave
son of Apisuahts by Soatsaki

He loved the daughter of a chief and she promised to marry him if he could persuade the sun-god, Natos, to release her from her undertaking not to marry (or to marry Natos, in some versions) and return without the scar, caused by a bear's claw, that disfigured his face. After many tribulations, he met the sun-god's son, Apisuahts, who took him to his father. Scarface and Apisuahts often hunted together and when Scarface saved his companion from a flock of savage birds, the sun-god agreed to allow him to marry his beloved and removed the scar from his face.

In another version, Feather-woman (Soatsaki) fell in love with Morning Star (Apisuahts) and was taken up to the star-country in a spider's web. When she disobeyed instructions never to dig up the great turnip which blocked the hole through which she had ascended, she was banished back to earth, taking her son, the star-boy named Poia, who was called Scarface. When he grew up, he sought his father in the star-country and, after saving his father from death, was permitted by the sun-god to return to earth without the scar that disfigured his face and to marry the maiden he loved. After teaching his people the Sun-dance, he returned to the star-country.

In some stories, a cooking-pot takes the place of the turnip and the scar on Poia's face was caused when he rubbed his cheek on the leather thong by which he and his mother were lowered through the hole below the cooking-pot when his mother disobeyed instructions and moved the pot.

Scarmiglione
[Scaramallion]
a demon in Dante's Inferno

Scath Irish
a realm of the afterworld from which Cuchulainn is said to have seized much treasure

Scathach (see Sgathach.Skatha)

scatomancy
divination from inspecting faeces

Sceaf Norse [Scef(ing).Scyld.Skeaf.Skidd(r).
Skiold.Skjold.Stigarde]

a king of the Danes
son of Odin
husband of Gefjon

He arrived mysteriously on the shores of Denmark in an open boat with a sheaf of corn for a pillow and was made king. When he died, he was placed in a boat which drifted out to sea.

In some accounts he was a form of Heimdall.

Sceanb Irish
wife of Craftny

She had an affair with Cormac Cond Longes and her jealous husband had him killed.

Scef (see Sceaf)

Scefig (see Sceaf)

Sceine (see Scena)

Sceiron (see Sciron)

Scena Irish [Sceine.Skena]

wife of Amergin Glungheal
She died on the voyage to Ireland and was buried there.

Scenmed Irish
sister of Forgall

Cuchulainn killed Forgall who had refused him the hand of his daughter Emer, abducting Emer and making her his wife. Scenmed raised an army and pursued them but Cuchulainn defeated her forces and killed Scenmed.

Sceolaing (see Sceolan)

Sceolan Irish
[Grey Dog.Sceolaing.Sgeolan.Skolawn]

a hound of Finn
Finn's sister (or, in other accounts, his sister-in-law or aunt) was Uirne and she was to be married to Iollan. When she was pregnant, Iollan's jealous mistress, a druidess, put a spell on Uirne, turning her into a bitch, with the result that her children, Sceolan and Bran, were born as hounds.

In other accounts, Urne was restored to her former self by Lugaid Lagha, whom she married, and the pups were born to them at the same time as human triplets.

In some versions, Bran and Sceolan were originally owned by a giant who stole children. When Finn killed the giant and rescued the children, he also took the giant's bitch and her two whelps. Finn kept the brindled one, Bran, and the other, called Sceolan, was left with the children's father. Later the hound was captured by invading Lochlanners and turned loose in Glen More where it became a wild, ravaging beast. Finn, who was later captured by the Lochlanners, was left bound at the mercy of the hound but he tamed Sceolan by showing it the golden leash he used for Bran. When Finn was rescued by the Fianna, he took Sceolan with him and he was reunited with Bran.

On one occasion, both Bran and Sceolan were stolen by Arthur, a son of the British king, Arthur, who had come to Ireland with twenty-eight warriors to seek adventure. Nine Fianna warriors followed them to Scotland and killed all of them, taking Arthur prisoner, and recovering the hounds.

When Angus Og said that the hounds could not kill a single pig in his herd, Finn set them to work and they killed all the herd of a hundred, including a famous black boar.

Schacabac Persian [Shacabac]
in The Arabian Nights, a beggar who was the subject of the cruel jest of Barmecide's feast

Schachlil
a demon associated with the sun's rays

Schal-jime Russian
a hero of the flood in Tartar lore

He became the ruler of the realm to which dead children go.

Schala (see Sala)

Schaltiel
a demon, ruler of the Zodiacal sign of Virgo, the virgin (see also Hamaliel)

schamir Norse
a magic stone said to make the holder invisible

Scharpfe Norse
son of Etzel by his first wife
brother of Porte

Schastel Marveil British

the home of Klingsor
It was here that Gawain slept in the magic bed that moved of its own accord.

Schedbarchemoth
a demon of the moon

shedim (see shedeem)
Schedius Greek

son of Iphitus
brother of Epistrophius
He and his brother were the leaders of the Phocian contingent at Troy.

Scheherazade Persian [Shahrazad]
wife of King Shahriyah

In The Arabian Nights, she told her husband a story each night for 1001 nights, leaving the tale unfinished, to escape execution, the fate of all the king's previous wives.

Scheliel
a moon-demon
Schenteflurs British
son of Gornemant

brother of Gurzgi, Liaze and Lascoyt

Scheria Greek

an island ruled by Alcinous
This is where Odysseus came ashore after his raft was wrecked and where he was found by Nausicaa.

Schethalim
a demon

Schiekron
a demon associated with lust

Schilbung Norse
brother of Nibelung
He quarrelled with his brother over sharing their father's estate; both were killed by Siegfried.

Schionatulander British [Tchionatulander] husband of Sigune

He was killed by the Red Knight when he tried to recover the pet dog that had been stolen from Sigune.

Schirim
a demon in the form of a goat

Schlauraffenland German
the German version of Cockaigne

Schlemihl
a man who sold his soul to the devil

Schoenius Greek
a king of Orchomenus son of Athamas and Themisto
husband of Clymene
father of Atalanta, in some accounts

Schratt German
[=Celtic Dus]
a goblin (see also Scrat)

sciapod
a mythical one-footed man with one large foot

Sciathbhreag Irish
a warrior of the Fianna

sciomancy (see necromancy)
Sciron<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Sceirion]
an outlaw
son of Poseidon

A bandit who demanded that travellers should wash his feet and then kicked them over the cliff where a tortoise ate the bodies. Theseus, on his journey to Athens to find his father, dealt with Sciron in the same fashion.

(see also Sciron<sup>2</sup>)
Sciron<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Sceirion]
son of Pylas
father of Endeis

He and Nisus were both claimants for the throne of Megara. Aeacus arbitrated and gave the throne to Nisus, making Sciron his army commander.

In some accounts, he is the same as Sciron the outlaw. (see also Sciron<sup>1</sup>)

Sciron<sup>3</sup> Greek
a wind from the north-west quarter

Scirophoria Greek
a festival in honour of Athena or of Core and Demeter, at which pigs were killed, held in June/July

Scobelleum British
a fruitful country

The inhabitants of this country had all the vices that afflict humanity and were punished for it – the women were turned into cows and the men into various other animals.

Scoithfhionn
a wife of Finn mac Cool, some say

scolopendra English

a fabulous fish (Spenser)
scopellim
in black magic, curses written on paper attached to stones thrown into gardens, etc.

Scoriath Irish
father of Moriath

Some versions say he was king of Feramorc in Munster, others of the Fir Morca in Gaul. Covac, king of Ireland, had killed the father and grandfather of Maon (Lugaid Loiseach) and forced the boy to eat parts of their hearts. The boy was either previously dumb or was rendered dumb by the experience and fled to Gaul. He fell in love with Moriath, the daughter of Scoriath, either in Munster or in Gaul, and her father not only agreed to let Maon marry his daughter but raised an army which invaded Ireland, killed

Covac and installed Maon on the throne.

Scorpio

[Scorpion:=Akkadian Girtab:=Arab Aqrab:=Hebrew Akrahb]
the eighth sign of the Zodiac, the scorpion

scorpion<sup>1</sup>

an arachnid with a sting in its tail:
(1) In Babylonian lore the scorpion appears as Scorpion Man.
(see separate entry)
(2) In Egypt the scorpion was regarded as the personification of Serket and was sacred to Isis.
(3) In Greece, a scorpion was sent by Artemis or Gaea to kill Orion, who had boasted that he could kill any animal, and was set in the heavens as the constellation Scorpio as a reward.

It was said that oil extracted from a scorpion acted as an antidote to the poison from its sting.
(4) The Hebrews regarded the scorpion as a symbol of evil.
(5) In Persia this animal represents autumn and decay. Mithra is depicted as a bull, the strength of life, in summer and the scorpion nibbles away at the bull's testicles representing the fading of summer and the onset of autumn.
(6) In Toltec lore, the god Yapon and his wife Tlahuitzin were both turned into scorpions when they were killed by Yaotl.

Scorpion<sup>2</sup> (see Scorpio)

Scorpion Man Mesopotamian
[Girtablii]
one of the Eleven Mighty Helpers
created by Tiamat.

Scota<sup>1</sup> Irish [Bera]
a Milesian queen
daughter of the pharaoh, Nectanebus second wife of Milesius
She died soon after reaching Ireland which was conquered by her sons who overcame the Danaans.

In some accounts she is equated with Cailleach Bheur.

Scota<sup>2</sup> Irish
daughter of the pharaoh, Cingris
wife of Niul mother of Gaedheal

Scotia Greek
a sea-goddess of Cyprus

Scotorum Historiae Scottish a history, written by Boece, which includes some Arthurian lore

Scox (see Shax)

Scrat German
[Schratt.Scrato:=Celtic Dus: =Icelandic Skratti]
a forest-demon

Scratchfoot European
a hen in Reynard the Fox
mate of Henning
She was killed by Reynard the Fox.

Scrato (see Scrat)

screbonie North American
a fabulous animal

Scritta Anglo-Saxon
[=Celtic Dus:=German Scrat]
a monster

scrying
[crystal-gazing.crystallo-mancy] divination from images seen in a crystal ball

Scuab Uasafach Irish [Terrible Broom]
a battalion of the Fianna

This elite battalion was commanded by Oscar and was renowned for never yielding.

Scyld Norse
in some accounts, the same as Sceaf;
in others, his son

Scylla<sup>1</sup> Greek [Ciris.Skulla.Skulle.Skylia.'whelp'] daughter of Nisus

She was nursed by Carme, a slave-woman from Crete. Her father, a king of Megara had been warned that he must never cut his purple hair or his kingdom would fall. When Minos attacked Megara, the siege lasted six months until Scylla fell in love with him and killed her father by cutting off a lock of his hair to give to Minos who seduced and then deserted her. She drowned when she tried to swim after his departing ship and her father's spirit, in the form of a sea-eagle, attacked her. She was changed into a lark, Ciris.

Scylla<sup>2</sup> Greek [Skulla.Skulle.'whelp']
a nymph
daughter of Zeus and Lamia daughter of Phorcus and Cratais or Hecate, some say

Some say she spurned the love of the sea-god Glaucus and Circe, who wanted Glaucus herself, turned her into a six-headed monster with three rows of teeth and twelve feet destroying everything that came within range of the cliff on which she was fixed, opposite the whirlpool Charybdis.

Another story says that Amphitrite, annoyed when her husband Poseidon looked at Scylla, turned her into a monster by putting magic herbs into the water where she bathed.

Some accounts say that she was killed by Heracles when she stole some of Geryon's cattle from him but she was revived by Phorcus. Others say that she was turned into a rock.

Scyrius Greek
a king of Scyros
father of Aegeus

Scyros Greek
the island ruled by Lycomedes

Scythes Greek
son of Heracles
brother of Agathyrus and Gelonus

On his way back to Greece after seizing Geryon's cattle, Heracles had his horses stolen by a snake-tailed woman (Echidna, some say) who returned the horses only when he slept with her. She bore him three sons.
Scythes became the first king of Scythia.

Scythians (see Arimaspi)

Se-irim Hebrew [Ceirim]
hairy, goatlike monsters

sea-dog
a monster in the form of a dog with fins and a beaver's tail

sea-dragon
a monster, part dragon, part fish

sea-horse
a monster in the form of a horse with a fish's tail

sea-king
the king of the mer-people

sea-lion
a monster, part lion, part fish

sea-maid (see mermaid)

sea-man (see merman)

sea-nymph
a minor sea-goddess

Sea of Clear Glass Irish
an area of smooth sea Maeldun encountered this glass-smooth sea during his voyage.

Sea of Death Mesopotamian
part of the underworld ruled by Sabitu

Sea of Two Knives Egyptian
a sacred lake

A symbol of the primaeval waters holding the Isle of Flames.

sea-serpent
a monster in the form of a marine animal

Sea Spirit<sup>1</sup> (see Sedna)
sea-spirit<sup>2</sup> (see roane.selkie)

sea-unicorn

a monster, part unicorn, part fish

sea-wolf

a monster, part wolf, part fish

sea-woman (see mermaid)

Seachnasach Irish

a king of Tara

Seachran Irish

a giant

Finn mac Cool made friends with this giant who took him to his home. His family were hostile and tried to kill Seachran. A huge claw appeared and grabbed hold of him and, in his efforts to escape, he accidentally knocked his mother in a boiling cauldron. Both Seachran and Finn fled the scene but were overtaken by Seachran's brother who killed Seachran. Finn avenged his death by killing the brother and then resuscitated Seachran with the aid of his magic ring.

Seaghdha (see Segda)

seal

an occult or demonic device in the form of a diagram or picture

seal-maiden (see roane.selkie)

Sean mac Semais Irish

a young man of Munster

He fell dead at his engagement party but was carried off and restored to life by Cliona. When Caitlin Og, his betrothed, demanded a large ransom from Cliona, she released him.

Seanaigh Irish

[Maol Seanaigh]

When Cellach was deposed by Guaire and fled to an island, Seanaigh and three other young monks went with him. They later accepted a bribe from Guaire and killed Cellach. The dead man's brother, Muireadhach, found the body and, when he caught the murderers, had them put to death.

Senan Irish

[Senan]

a saint

son of Geirgreann

He is said to have performed many miracles, including restoring the dead to life and banishing a monster from Scatter Island where he established a monastery. He was persuaded to allow women to join his community by the woman, Canair who walked to the island on the wave-tops.

Seanbheag Irish

a man from the Otherworld

In one story, he met Cuchulainn and gave him weapons that would ensure victory and clothes that would protect him from both fire and water.

Seancha mac Aillealla Irish

a counsellor and peacemaker

at the court of Conor mac

Nessa

Seanchan Torpest Irish

[Seanchan Torpeist.Senchan]

a chief poet

husband of Brighid

He was said to have killed ten rats merely by reciting a couplet and was once carried off by the king-cat Irusan for composing a satire.

At the court of Guaire, king of Connaught, he was challenged to recite the story of the Cattle Raid of Cooley. He knew this story because he had raised the dead king, Fergus mac Roth, and learned the whole story from him before allowing him to return to his grave.

Seanchan Torpeist
(see Seanchan Torpest)

Seang Irish

daughter of a Scythian king

first wife of Milesius

When she died, Milesius went to Egypt and married Scota.

Searbhan (see Sharvan)

Seasons (see Horae)

Seat of Danger (see Perilous Seat)

Seat of Dread (see Perilous Seat)

Seat Perilous (see Perilous Seat)

Seathrun Ceitinn Irish

a priest

He collected and distributed much Irish lore.

Seaxneat (see Saxnot)

Seb Egyptian

in some versions, a name of Geb

Seba Egyptian

in some accounts, a serpent

(see also Sati<sup>2</sup>)

Sebak (see Sebek)

Sebastian European

a king of Portugal

He was killed in a battle against the Moors but is said to lie sleeping, awaiting a call to rule Brazil.

Sebek Egyptian

[Rem(i).Sebak.Sob(e)k:=Greek Sekonopis.

Sochos.S(o)uchos]

a crocodile-god

son of Neith

father of Khons by Hathor, some say

In some accounts he is identified with Maka or Set.

He is depicted as a crocodile or as a crocodile with the head of a hawk.

(see also aart)

Sebek-Osiris Egyptian

a composite of Sebek and Osiris as a god of the dead

In this role he was envisaged as a crocodile with a human head.

Sebek-Ra Egyptian

a composite of Sebek and Ra, a manifestation of the sun-god

In this role he was envisaged as a man with a crocodile's head.

Sebettu Mesopotamian

a group of Akkadian demons

The malevolent Sebettu are the cause of eclipses and various disasters but are opposed by the benevolent Sebettu.

Sebile British

[Sebille]

a sorceress

a companion of Morgan le Fay

Sebille (see Sebile)

Sebitti Mesopotamian

Babylonian war-gods

children of Anu

Sechmet (see Sekhmet)

Sechobochobo African

in Zambia, a one-eyed, one-legged forest monster

Sechol-Hor Egyptian

a cow-goddess

foster-mother of Horsu, some

say

Second Lord of Quality
(see Erh-lang)

Second Sun Central American

[Four Wind.Sun of Air]

the second age of the Aztec

creation cycle

At the end of the first era, ruled by Tezcatlipoca and which lasted for 676 years, the animals ate all the human beings. Quetzalcoatl killed Tezcatlipoca and ruled for the period of the Second Sun which also lasted for 676 years. When he took over, Quetzalcoatl created a new race of humans and, by sacrificing his own son in the fire, brought light to the dark world they lived in.

At the end of this period, Tlaloc caused a great wind to blow away all these humans (except a few who became monkeys) and took over as ruler of the Third Sun.

Another version calls this period the Sun of Air and accepts that two humans escaped destruction at the end of the era. (see also sun<sup>1</sup>)

Secret Commonwealth, The British

a treatise on Gaelic fairy lore, written by Robert Kirk

Secular Games<sup>1</sup> Greek
a festival held every 4 years in honour of Hades

Secular Games<sup>2</sup> Roman a festival held at intervals of 100 years (at the beginning of a new saeculum) in honour of Dis and Proserpina

Securita Roman [Securitas]
a guardian goddess protecting the empire

Securitas (see Securitas)

Sed<sup>1</sup> Hebrew [plur=Sedim]
a demon with magical powers to whom children were sacrificed

Sed<sup>2</sup> Egyptian
a cannibalistic feast
If the king was still alive after thirty years on the throne he was killed and eaten so that his strength would pass to his successor.

Sed<sup>3</sup> Egyptian
a jackal-god, guardian of the individual

Sed<sup>4</sup> Mesopotamian
a Semitic sun-god

Seder (see Pasch)

Sedim (see Sed<sup>1</sup>)

Sedanta (see Setanta)

Sedeq (see Sydyk)

Sedhu (see Sedu)

Sedhu-Lal Hindu
an attendant on the smallpox goddess, Shitala

Sedit North American [Coyote]
a trickster-god of the Wintun people
Olelbis sent his brothers to earth with orders to build a ladder from earth to heaven so that men could ascend to renew their youth. Sedit persuaded the brothers to dismantle the work that they had already done but suddenly realised that he himself was now cut off from heaven. He tried to reach heaven, flying on a pair of home-made wings, but they shrivelled in the heat of the sun and Sedit was killed when he fell back to earth.

Sedna North American
[Arnaknagas.Arnaknagsak.Arnakua'gsak. Arn(a)quagssaq.Arna(r)ku(su)agsak. Great Goddess.Immap Ukua.Nuliajoq. Nuliajuk.'old woman'.Sea Spirit: =Greenland Nerrivik: =Siberian Nuli'rahak]
a one-eyed sea-goddess of the underworld in Alaska daughter of Anguta

She was one of the three spirits controlling the forces of nature.

When she started to eat her parents, they threw her into the sea from their boat and when she clung to the sides, they cut off her fingers which became fish, whales, etc.

In another version, she rejected humans in favour of animal lovers and was thrown into the sea by her father when he was taking her home from a meeting with one of these lovers.

In yet another version Sedna was a mortal who was carried off from a boat by a petrel. Her parents tried to drive the bird away but it then attacked them so they threw their daughter into the sea, cutting off her fingers when she tried to climb back into the boat.

Sedrat (see Sidrat al-Muntaha)

Sedu Mesopotamian

[Sedhu:=Hebrew Sed]
a Babylonian spirit of the underworld
He and the female Karibatu were installed as guardians at the entrance of palaces and both were depicted as winged bull/human hybrids.

seelie court Scottish benevolent fairies

Seere

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

This being is said to be able to make anything happen instantaneously and appears as a man riding a horse.

Seeta (see Sita)

Seeva Baltic

[=Slav Siva]

a Lithuanian love-goddess

Seewiesken German

a water-spirit

Sef Egyptian

a lion-god

ruler of yesterday

brother of Dua, some say

Sefkhet-Awby Egyptian

[Safekh-Aubi.Safket-Awbi.Safkhat-Awbi.

Ses(h)at.Ses(h)et.Sesheta]

a goddess of writing and libraries

She is often depicted wearing a long dress made of panther-skin.

Segais' Well (see Well of Segais)

Segard British

steward to Rohand, father of Guy of Warwick

Segda Irish

[Seaghdha.Segda Saerlabraid]

a prince of the Otherworld son of Manannan and Fand or

Rigrú Roiscléthan

When Conn, the high-king, was told to sacrifice the son of sinless parents, he sailed to the Land of Wonder and took Segda. The youth's life was saved when Conn was persuaded to sacrifice a cow instead.

Seger (see Seker)

Segesta (see Egesta)

Segomo Celtic

a war-god in Gaul

In some accounts he is equated with Cocidius.

Segun North American

the manitou of summer, in the lore of the Algonquin

Segurant British

[Knight of the Dragon.Knight of the Old Table]

a knight at Uther's court

Segwarides British

a knight of King Mark's court

Both Tristram and King Mark were attracted to this knight's wife. She preferred Tristram who seduced her and then defeated Segwarides when he challenged the seducer.

Sehem Egyptian

divine energy personified

Sei-O-Ba Japanese

[Seiobo:=Chinese Hsi Wang Mu]

goddess of the west

Seiobo (see Sei-O-Ba)

Seia Roman

a guardian-goddess of newly-planted corn

Seian Horse Roman

a horse apparently bringing ill-fortune to its owner

seid Norse

[seidr.seithr]

a form of divination, using magic, practised by Freya and others

Practitioners of this art could cause the soul to leave the body, take on the form of some animal and attack an enemy.

seidberendr (see vitkar)

seide Lapp

a sacred object in the form of a weathered stone or tree-stump, said to predict the future

seidean side (see sidhe gaoite)

Seider (see Pasch)

seidhkoma Norse

female magicians

seidhmadr Norse

male magicians

seidr (see seid<sup>1</sup>)

Seileni (see Silenus<sup>2</sup>)

Seilinos (see Selinus)

Seilinus (see Silenus)

Seimia (see Simi)

seirenes (see siren)

- Se'irim (see Serim)
- Seishi (Japanese)
a Shinto deity
- seistron (Egyptian)
a priest's staff imbued with protective powers
- Seit Ka-doji (Japanese)
an attendant on, or an aspect of, Fudo-myoo
- Seitaka (Japanese)
an attendant on, or an aspect of, Fudo-myoo
- Seithenyn (Welsh)
a man who, in some accounts, caused Cantref Gwaelod to be overwhelmed by the sea
- seithr (see seid<sup>1</sup>)
- Seizam (see Tokugawa<sup>2</sup>)
- Sejarab Melayu (Malay)
a 17th c book of history and myths
- Sek-ya (Burmese)
a deity, lord of supernatural weapons
One of his weapons was a magic drum which, when sounded, drove off the enemy. He gave this drum to Lan Yein and A-mong when they descended to earth.
- Seker (Egyptian)
[Closer of the Day.Seger.Sokar(i): =Greek Sokaris.Soucharis] a falcon-headed god of mercy consort of Sakhmet
He is a funerary god ruling over one section of the underworld, the Western Desert.
He is depicted as a hawk-headed human, a hawk with the body of a serpent and three human heads or sometimes with four heads – one of a ram, one of a bull and two of a hawk.
- Sekhauit (see Sakhmet)
- Sakhautet (see Sakhmet)
- sekhem<sup>1</sup> (Egyptian)
a vital force inherent in the individual which, in some cases, survived death
- Sekhem (see Sakhmet)
- Sekhemtaui (Egyptian) [Power of the Two Lands]
Wepwawet as an aspect of Osiris
- Sekhet (see Sakhmet)
- Sekhet-Aalu (see Sekhet-Aaru)
- Sekhet-Aaru (Egyptian)
[Place of the Reeds.Sekhet-Aalu: =Babylonian Aralu]
one of the realms of Amenti
- Sekhet-Hetep (Egyptian)
one of the realms of Amenti
- Sekhet-Hor (Egyptian)
a goddess protecting cattle
- Sekhet-Tchant (Egyptian) [Field of Zoan]
a realm equated in some accounts with Amenti
- Sekhmet (see Sakhmet)
- Sekmet (see Sakhmet)
- Sekonopis (see Souchos)
- Sekti (see Shakti)
- Sel (Welsh)
a warrior at King Arthur's court
son of Selgi
- Sela (African)
in the lore of the Abaluyia, the first woman daughter of Wele
sister and wife of Mwambu
She and Mwambu were born in heaven but Wele dropped a ladder down from the sky and they descended to earth and populated it with their offspring.
- Selamanes (see Salman)
- Selardi (Armenian) [Selardib]
a moon-god
- Selardib (see Selardi)
- Selekana (African)
in the lore of the Lesotho, a girl who was thrown into a river
She met the River Woman and worked in the underwater palace of the River King for which she was rewarded with jewellery. The daughter of the village chieftain jumped into the river, hoping for similar rewards, but she refused to work in the palace and was eaten by the River King, a huge crocodile.
- Selena (see Selene)
- Selenus (Greek)
a shepherd
This handsome young man was in love with Argyra and almost died of grief when she left him. Aphrodite turned the love-lorn fellow into the River Selemnus.
- Selene (Greek) [Asterodia.Mene.Phoebe.Selena. Seline:=Roman Luna] a moon-goddess and goddess of magicians
a Titaness
daughter of Hyperion and Thea daughter of Pallas or Helius by Euryphaessa, some say sister of Helius and Eos
She fell in love with the mortal Endymion and put him to sleep for ever so that she might visit him every night.
She is said to be the mother of his fifty sons.
Another story says that she slept
- with Pan who gave her a white fleece or appeared in the form of a white ram.
Some equate her with Artemis, Hera, Io or Pasiphae.
(see also Chromia)
- Selgi (British)
father of Sel
- Selindung Dalima (Malay)
daughter of Dewa Laksana and Seri Bunian
- Selinus<sup>1</sup> (Greek)
a king of Aegialus
father of Helice
- Selinus<sup>2</sup> (Greek)
a river-god
- Selises (British)
a Knight of the Round Table
- Selivant (British)
a knight of King Arthur's court
brother of Bliant
He and Bliant looked after Lancelot at Castle Blank for over a year and a half, during the period of Lancelot's madness.
(see Selket)
- Selk (Egyptian)
[Selk(it).Selq(u)et.Serket(-hetu). Serket-hetyt.Serq(u)et:=Greek Selkis]
a fertility-goddess and mortuary goddess
She guards the entrails of the dead and, in her role as scorpion-goddess, guards the king's throne. She is also said to guard the serpent, Apep.
She is depicted as having the head of a scorpion or as a scorpion with a woman's head and is personified in the scorpion.
- selkie (Scottish) [sea-spirit.seal-maiden.silkie] one of the sea-spirits, a seal race of the Orkneys (see also roane)
- Selkis (Greek)
the Greek name for Selket
- Selkit (see Selket)
- Sellen
a demon
- Selli (Greek) [Helli]
the inhabitants of Dodona who made bread from acorns: priests of Zeus at Dodona
- Selqet (see Selket)
- Selquet (see Selket)
- Selu (North American) [Corn Mother]
the first woman, in the lore of the Cherokee wife of Kanati
mother of the Thunder Boys

Selvans Roman
an Italian god, possibly a god of agriculture and forests

Selwanga African
a python-god of the Baganda

Selyf Welsh
son of Cynan Whiteshank
He appears as one of Owain's companions in The Dream of Rhonabwy where he is killed in battle.

Semagumba (see Semagunga)

Semagunga African [Semagunba]
a high priest of Mukasa

semangat (see sumangat)

semangko East Indian
the ghosts of the dead in Papua

Semaquiel
a demon, ruler of the Zodiacal sign Capricorn, the goat (see also Hanael)

Semar East Indian
a Javanese god brother of Batara Guru
father of Garang and Petruk
He was said to live on earth to protect the Pandawas.

Semara Pacific Islands
a Balinese god of love

Semargl Slav
a family god, the god of barley

Sembadra (see Subadra)

semblance
an apparition

Semektet (see solar bark)

Semele Greek
[Keraunia.Stimula.Thyone.=Phrygian Zemelo.=Roman Fauna]
a princess of Thebes daughter of Cadmus and Harmonia sister of Agave, Autonoe, Ino
She was the mother of Dionysus by Zeus and, at the instigation of Hera in the guise of Semele's old nurse, Beroe, foolishly demanded that he show himself to her in all his full glory and died before the divine light. Her unborn baby was placed by Hermes in the thigh of Zeus or, in some stories, Zeus himself saved the child by inserting it into his own side. In either event, the child, Dionysus was born at full term and, years later, descended to Tartarus and successfully demanded that Hades release the mother he had never seen. She was carried up to Olympus and, though a mortal, was received by the gods and deified by Zeus. Thereafter she was known as Thyone.

Another story says that Dionysus was born in the normal fashion but, when Semele claimed that Zeus was the father, Cadmus cast both Semele and her son adrift in a chest. Semele died but Dionysus was saved and reared by Ino. (see also Zagreus)

Semenkoror (see Samonekoaner)

Semeon (see Semion)

Semetet (see Sakhmet)

Semias (see Simias)

Semiazas
[Samyasa.Samyaza]
a demon leader

seminatrices malorum (see furiae<sup>1</sup>)

Seming (see Saeming)

Semion Irish
[Semeon]
an ancestor of the Fir Bolg grandson of Nemed
son of Stariat

Semiramis<sup>1</sup> Armenian
a goddess
She fell in love with Er and had him killed when he rejected her. She so regretted this that she persuaded another lover to masquerade as Er, pretending that he had returned from the dead.
Another version says that Er was, in fact, restored to life just as he was about to be cremated.

Semiramis<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian
[Sammuramat]
(c 800 BC)
a queen of Babylon
daughter of Oannes and Atargatis,
some say
wife of Menon and Ninus mother of Ninyas by Ninus
In some accounts, her father was an unnamed Syrian youth.
She was abandoned as a baby and fed by doves. Found and reared by Simmos, a shepherd, she married Menon who hanged himself when Ninus, the king of Assyria, demanded Semiramis for himself. She later killed Ninus and was herself killed by their son, Ninyas.
In one version of her death, she died of heartbreak when she failed to conquer India.
Another story says that, when her mother was changed into a fish, she became a dove.
In some accounts, her first husband, Menon, is referred to as Moenones or Onnes. Others say that Onnes was her father.

Semketet (see solar bark)

Semnai Greek
a Titaness
an Athenian goddess of the underworld mother of the Horae, some say

Semnai Theai Greek [Eumenides.'venerable goddesses'] earth-goddesses at Athens and Colonus
In some accounts, they became identified with the Furies.

Semnocosus Roman
a Spanish war-god

Semo Roman
a vegetation-god, sower of seed
He was later absorbed into Sancus as Semo-Sancus.

Semo Sancus (see Sancus.Semo)

Semutega African
in the lore of the Baganda, an umbilical cord dedicated to Kibuka

Sen Mag (see Senmag)

Sena<sup>1</sup> Hindu
the Hindu equivalent of bacchante

Sena<sup>2</sup> (see Devasena)

Sena-pati<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a name of Karttikeya as 'commander of armies'

Sena-pati<sup>2</sup> (see Senapati)

Senach Irish
a warrior
Fand, the wife of Manannan, had been promised to Cuchulainn if he would protect her from her enemies. One of his tasks was to fight Senach.
In some accounts he is referred to as a god of drought or frost.

Senan (see Seanan)

Senapati East Indian [Sena-pati]
a Javanese king
The sea-goddess Kidul took him to her underwater palace where he became her lover and learned to control the sea-spirits. When he returned home, walking on the surface of the sea, he became king of Java. Attempts to kill him by the assassin, Bochor, and by Ratna Jumilah failed because, as a divine king, he was invulnerable.

Senapus European
a king of Abyssinia
As a young man, he had attempted to invade the earthly paradise at the source of the Nile and for this presumption he was struck blind. He was also harried by the Harpies and, at the time of Astolpho's arrival, was dying from starvation since the Harpies snatched or fouled all his food. Astolpho drove off the Harpies and cured the king's blindness with a magic herb. In return, the king gave Astolpho a large army with which to support Charlemagne in his war with the Saracens.

In some accounts, it was Prester John, king of Nubia, who was harried by the Harpies until Astolpho drove them off.

Senators of the Gods Italian

a group of great gods

Senboth Irish

a chieftain

He acted as adviser to Partholan.

Sencha Irish

a warrior at the court of Conor mac Nessa

He fought alongside Conary at the siege of Da Derga's hostel and was one of the few to escape.

Sencha mac Ailella Irish

a judge and poet

He was a tutor of the young Cuchulainn.

Senchan (see Seanchan)

Sen'dah North American

[Sen'dah Old Man]

a trickster-god of the Kiowa

Sen'dah Old Man (see Sen'dah)

Sendai Kuji Hongi Japanese

a (probably) 9th c record of the early ages of the gods, etc., in ten parts

sending (see familiar)

Sengalang Burong East Indian

a bird-god of the Iban tribe of Borneo

He was the grandfather of Surong Gunting and instructed him in the rituals of the birds.

In some accounts, he is described as a war-god appearing in the form of a hornbill.

Sengann Irish

son of Dela

leader of the invading Fir Bolg

He and his brother Gann shared the province of Munster.

Sengen Japanese

[Asama.Blossom Princess.Child-Flower.

Fuji-hime.Ko-no-hana.

Kono-hana-sakuya-hime.Sakuya]

goddess of Mount Fuji

guardian of the cherry and plum blossom

daughter of Oho-yama sister of Iha-Naga

wife of Ninigi

mother of Fire Fade and Fire Flash

She married Ninigi but left him when he became jealous, immolating herself by setting fire to the wooden hut she lived in, after giving birth to three sons.

Senjemand Norse

a mountain-giant

He fell in love with Juterna-jesta who preferred Torge. In a rage, Senjemand shot a huge arrow that would have killed her had not Torge thrown his hat to deflect it. When Senjemand tried to ride off, the sun came up and he was turned to stone.

Senjiu-Kannon (see Senjiu Kwannon)

Senjiu Kwannon Japanese

[Senj(i)u-Kannon]

a name of Kwannon as 'the thousand-handed one'

In this version, she is depicted as having forty rather than a thousand hands, each of which holds some object.

Senju-Kannon (see Senjiu Kwannon)

Senkyo' Japanese

one of a race with a hole right through the chest

A senkyo who was tired or ill could be carried by two others on a pole through the hole in his chest.

Senkyo' Japanese

a paradisaical realm, home of the sennin, on Cosmic Mountain

Senmag Irish

[The Old Plain]

the plain where the Partholians buried their dead

senmerv Persian

[samurv.senmurv.seymorg]

a fabulous bird

This enemy of snakes was said to be part bird, part mammal.

(see also simurgh)

senmurv (see senmerv)

Sennan Holy Well British

a site where King Arthur and the kings of Cornwall gave thanks

after they had defeated the Danes

at Vellendrucher

sennin Japanese

a recluse

These beings appear as humans but they are in fact immortal. They are said to be skilled magicians, able to perform miracles such as producing an image of themselves from the mouth, walking on water and flying through the air.

Their home, the Cosmic Mountain, is said to be supported by a turtle.

Senotlke North American

a serpent-like monster, in the lore of the tribes of the northwest

sensum (see ntoro)

Senta Norse

daughter of Daland

She loved the Flying Dutchman and would have married him but he put to sea without her. She threw herself to her death from the cliff-top.

Sentait Egyptian

an ancient corn-goddess, later merged with Isis

Sentaro Japanese

a man who travelled to the Land of Eternal Youth

When Sentaro prayed at the shrine of Jofuku, he received a small crane made of paper which turned into a real bird that carried him to the land where all the inhabitants, blessed (or cursed) with eternal life, longed for death. When he returned to his home, he found that he had been away for 300 years.

Sentraille du Lushon British

a knight, attendant on Tristram

He helped Tristram to escape from the prison into which he had been thrown by Andred.

Senx North American

[Our Father.Sacred One.Sonx]

a sun-god of the Bella Coola Indians of Canada

Seoritsu-hime Japanese

a water-goddess living in rapids

Sept (see Sept)

Sepa (see Sept)

Separ (see Vepar)

Separate Heavenly Deities Japanese

[Kotoamatsukami]

the 5 primordial gods of the Shinto pantheon

These five gods, from whom all other deities are said to be descended, are Amanominakamushi, Amanotokotachi, Kamimusbubi, Takamimusbubi and Umashiashikabihikoji.

Septd Egyptian

a form of Bes as a handsome,

lion-faced man (see also Sept(u))

Sepi Malosi Pacific Islands

[Sepu Malosi]

a Samoan war-god

This deity took the form of a bat and indicated victory by flying in front of the eventual winners.

(see also Taisumale)

Sepo Malosi (see Sepi Malosi)

Setpset Egyptian

a goddess of the underworld

She is present when the hearts of the dead are weighed.

Sept Egyptian

[Sep]

the god of Sirius, the Dog-star

(see also Sepd)

Septentrio (see Aquilo)

Septentrional Signs

the first 6 signs of the Zodiac

Septu (see Bes.Sepd)

Sequana Celtic

[Sequena]

a river-goddess of the Seine and goddess of healing in Gaul

Sequana (see Sequana)

Sequence British

one of King Arthur's swords

Seqinek North American

an Inuit sun-spirit

Ser-thup Buddhist

the Tibetan version of Kanakamuni

Sera Irish

father of Agnoman, Partholan and Starn

Some versions have Sera, not Partholan, as the husband of Dealgnaid.

Serapati East Indian

a Javanese prince

When an enemy force was poised to attack, Serapati prayed to the sea-goddess who sent a shower of rocks to disperse the enemy.

Serapeum Egyptian

a temple of Serapis in Alexandria: a burial place for the Apis bulls

Seraph<sup>1</sup> British

[Seraphe]

the original name of Nascien

seraph<sup>2</sup>

a flying serpent

Seraphe (see Seraph<sup>1</sup>)

Seraphis (see Serapis)

Serapion

one of the Seven Sleepers

Serapis<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Asar-Hap(i).Osirap.Sarapis.

Seraphis.Usar-Api(s).Usar-Hapi]

a god of the underworld

the Greek version of Osir-Apis, the combination of Osiris and Apis consort of Isis

Serapis was the state god during the Greek occupation.

He is depicted as having curly hair and beard, sometimes with a dog at his feet, or as a bearded, human-headed serpent.

Serapis<sup>2</sup> Greek

[=Egyptian Apis.Osiris]

a god of the underworld, healer of the sick

Seratiel

a demon, ruler of the sign Leo,

the lion (see also Verchiel)

Serbonian Bog Greek

a morass at the mouth of the Nile, home of Typhon

Seri

Mesopotamian

a bull

This beast, together with Hurri, was a companion of Ishkur

Seri Turi

Malay

the name taken by Nila Utama when he became the first ruler of Singapore

Serida

Mesopotamian

[=Babylonian A-a]

a Sumerian mother-goddess

Serim

Semitic

[Sahirim.se'irim]

mythical hairy, goat-like beings

living in desert areas: satyrs

Serimnir

(see Saehrimnir)

Serket

(see Selket)

Serket-hetu

(see Serket-hetyt)

Serket-hetyt

Egyptian

[Serket(-hetu)]

a name for Selket as controller of breath

Serosevsky

Russian

a spirit of the forest

This being, which leads travellers astray, can appear as an animal or a human being.

serou

Tibetan

[kee.tso'po]

the unicorn

serpent

(see snake)

serpent-god

a deified snake

serpent-goddess

a deified snake

Serpent of the Obsidian Knives

Central American

an Aztec symbol of sacrifice

He was originally regarded as one of the four giants supporting the sky at the beginning of the Fifth Sun.

Serpent of the Sea (see Koloowise)

Serpent of Wisdom (see Python<sup>2</sup>)

Serpent Skirt (see Coatlantona)

Serpent-stone (see Copacati)

Serpent Woman (see Cihuacoatl)

Serqet

(see Selket)

Serquet

(see Selket)

serra

a griffin-like monster, said to breathe fire

In some accounts, this beast has the head of a lion and the tail of a fox.

Seru

North American

a corn-spirit of the Cherokee

wife of Kanati

mother of Wild Boy

Servage (see Isle of Servage)

Servant Rupert (see Knecht Ruprecht)

Servius Tullius

Roman

the sixth king of Rome

son of Ocesia

father of Tullia

He was said to have been born when his mother mated with Vulcan in the form of a phantom phallus rising from the fire.

He was reared by Tarquin and his queen, Tanaquil, and married their daughter, becoming king when Tarquin was assassinated.

His daughter plotted with Tarquinius Superbus to kill her Arruns, her husband. She then married Tarquinius who had Servius assassinated so that he could take the throne himself.

A similar story of the phantom phallus in the flames is told of the daughter of Tarchetius, mother, in that account, of Romulus and Remus.

In some accounts, he is identified with Mastarna.

Sesa (see Ananta.Basuki)

Sesame (see Open Sesame)

Sesanaga (see Ananta)

Sesat (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Sese African

an earth-god(dess) of the Ngbandi

people

Sesemu (see Sezmu)

Seset (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Sesha (see Ananta.Basuki)

Seshanaga (see Ananta.Basuki)

Seshat (see Sefkhet-Awby)

sheshaw Egyptian

magic rituals

Seshet (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Sesheta (see Sefkhet-Awby)

Sesmu (see Sezmu)

Sesotris Egyptian

a mythical king said to have conquered much of Africa and Asia

Sesshiu Japanese

an artist

At a very early age he was tied up in a temple for some misdemeanour and, using his tears for ink, and his toe for a brush, painted rats on the floor. These animals came to life and freed the boy by gnawing through his bonds.

Sessrumnir (see Sessrymnir)

Sessrymnir Norse

[Sessrumnir.Sessymir]

the palace of Freya in Folkvang

It was to this palace that Freya took her share of the warriors slain in battle.

Sessymir (see Sessrymnir)

Set Egyptian

[Ekhi.Iahu.Ombos.Seth(i).Seti.Sit.Sut:

=Arab Shayth:=Canaanite Baal:

=Greek Bapho.Typhon:=Mesopotamian

Setekh.Setes(h).Sutekh.Sutesh.Suty]

animal-headed god of darkness, sky-god and storm-god son of Geb and Nut or Ra and Nut
brother of Isis, Nephthys and Osiris
husband of Nephthys

When Geb abdicated, he divided the kingdom leaving the south to Set. Set wanted the whole of the kingdom so, in an attempt to get the north as well, he put his brother Osiris in a box and threw it into the Nile. When Isis recovered the body, Set cut it into fourteen pieces and threw them back into the river. Isis recovered and reassembled the pieces, restoring her husband to life, but he went off to rule in the underworld, leaving the northern kingdom to Horus.

Set later fought a battle with Horus for the whole kingdom. Set was castrated but, in the form of a pig, put out one of Horus' eyes. In another version, he gouged out both the eyes and buried them. Lotus blossom sprouted from the ground where the eyes were buried and Horus had his sight restored by the gods. In the end, the case was put to the gods for a decision and Horus won. Set was then transferred either to the heavens as a storm-god or the Great Bear or to the desert as a war-god.

He was one of the gods protecting Ra in his nightly journey through the underworld and once saved Ra when the serpent Apophis was about to swallow him.

He is sometimes depicted as a boar or as part ass, part pig, but, having been born prematurely and shapeless, he can take many different animal shapes.

In some accounts he is equated with Sebek (see also Bebon.Nuoni. Typhonian Beast)

Seta African

a fertility-goddess of East Africa consort of Tororut mother of Arawa, Ilat and Topoh

Setanta Irish

[Sedanta]
the original name of Cuchulainn

Setebos English

[Settaboth]
an evil spirit in Shakespeare, based on Settaboth

Setek European

[Sotek:=Czech Dedek; =Russian Dedushka Domovoy]
in Slovenia, a hobgoblin

Originally a guardian spirit, this being was downgraded.

It is envisaged as a boy with claws instead of nails, inhabiting sheep pens.

Setekh (see Sutekh)

seterty (see adykh)

Setes (see Sutekh)

Setesh (see Sutakh)

Setesuyara Pacific Islands

a Bali goddess of the underworld
She was said to rule jointly with Batara Kala.

Seth<sup>1</sup> Irish

son of Adam and Eve
Irish lore says that Seth and the three daughters of Cain were the first people to come to Ireland.

Seth<sup>2</sup> (see Set)

Sethi (see Set)

Sethlans Roman

[Sethlaus:=Greek Hephaestus; =Roman Vulcan]
an Italian smith-god

Sethlaus (see Sethlans)

Seti (see Set)

Setna Egyptian

a sorcerer-prince
a priest of Ptah father of Siosire

Setsubun Japanese

a festival, held on 3rd February, in which the individual's fortune for the coming year is fixed

Settaboth South American

a Patagonian deity (see also Setebos)

Settin-ki-jash North American

a supreme deity of the Haida
He owned the moon and the sun but they were taken from him by Ne-kilstluss who deceived him into handing them over.

Setu-Bandha (see Adam's Bridge)

Sevain (see Sanam)

Seven against Thebes Greek

7 champions who marched
against Thebes

Polyneices had been banished from Thebes by his twin Eteocles with whom he should have shared the throne and Tydeus had been banished from Calydon. King Adrastus of Argos married his daughter Aegia to Polyneices and his other daughter, Deiplya, to Tydeus, promising to restore both to their rightful kingdoms. He assembled a force led by the Seven to attack Thebes first. Tydeus tried to settle the matter by negotiation but failed and was ambushed on his way back by fifty Thebans, all of whom he killed.

Each of them took station opposite one of the seven gates of the city with Adrastus facing Megareus (the Neistan Gate), Amphiarus facing Lasthenes (the Homoloid Gate), Capaneus facing Polyphontes (the Electrian Gate), Hippomedon facing Hyperbius (the Oncaean Gate), Parthenopaeus facing Actor (the Borrhæan Gate), Polyneices facing Eteocles (the Hypsistian Gate) and Tydeus facing Melanippe (the Proetid Gate). The twin brothers tried to settle the issue in face-to-face combat but each killed the other.

In some accounts, Eteoclus is given in place of Adrastus and Mecisteus in place of Polyneices. Of the seven, only Adrastus survived the battle which ended in the defeat of the Argives.

Creon, who took over Thebes, refused to allow the Argives to collect the bodies of the dead for burial causing grave offence. Adastrus reported this to Theseus who marched on Thebes, captured Creon and returned the dead to the families. The sons of the seven champions, known as the Epigoni, later avenged the death of their fathers when they attacked Thebes ten years later.

Seven against Thebes Greek

a play by Aeschylus

Seven Ancient Elders Mesopotamian

Babylonian sages
These sages, who took the form of birds or fish, were said to have written down the arts of magic and divination.

Seven Brahma-rishis (see Seven Rishis)

Seven Caves, The (see Tulkan-Zuiva)

Seven Chaban Central American

the seventh of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
On this day the earth itself was created.
(see also Chaban)

Seven Champions

seven national saints

These are listed as:

- (1) St Andrew (Scotland), said to have lived for seven years as a swan
- (2) St Anthony (Italy) who used water from an enchanted fountain to perform miracles
- (3) St David (Wales) who was a prisoner in an enchanted garden for seven years
- (4) St Denis (France) who lived for seven years as a deer
- (5) St George (England) who was a prisoner of the king of Morocco

(6) St James (Spain) who was struck dumb for seven years when he fell in love

(7) St Patrick (Ireland) who dug his own grave with his hands when he was locked in a cell

Seven Flowers (see Chicomechotli)

Seven Gems (Buddhist) symbols used in Chinese Buddhism as amulets

These seven objects are given as the image of Chu Ts'ang, the image of Chu Ping Ch'en, the image of Yü Nü, Ma the steed of the sun, Hsiang the elephant, Chin Lun the Wheel of Victory, and Ju'i Chu a pearl.

(see also Seven Treasures)

Seven Gods of Happiness

(see Ch'i-fu-shen)

Seven Gods of Luck

(see Shichi Fukojin)

Seven Hathors, The (Egyptian)

deities of fate

7 aspects of Hathor

These were seven maidens, attendants of the souls of new-born babies. They were later identified with the Pleiades.

(see also Mothers<sup>2</sup>)

Seven Judges (see Anunnaki<sup>2</sup>)

Seven Kings of Cornwall (British)

those rulers who joined forces with

King Arthur to defeat the Danes

at Velendrucher

Seven League Boots (British)

a pair of boots, made by Merlin, which enabled the wearer to cover about 20 miles at each stride

Seven Macaw (see Vucub Caquix)

Seven Precious Stones (Malay)

jewels held by the Seven Sages

These jewels were used to predict the future and one of them, the moon-stone, was said to display portraits of the king's enemies.

Seven Rishis, The (Hindu)

[Manasa Putra.Manasaputra.Prajapati.

Seven Brahma Rishis.Seven Sages.

Seven Seers.Saptarshi]

wise men, created from the brain

of Brahma

They are listed as Atri, Bharadwaja, Gotama, Jamad-agni, Kashyapa, Vashishtha and Vishvamitra. Vishnu, in his sixth avatar as Parasurama, delivered the world into their hands and they now appear in the sky as the seven stars of the Plough constellation.

Another list gives Agastya, Angiras, Atri, Bhrihu, Kashyapa, Vashishtha and Vishvamitra while another lists Angiras, Brighu, Daksha, Kashyapa, Narada, Vashishtha and Vishvamitra.

Yet another list gives ten, omitting Vishvamitra and adding Atri, Kratu, Pulaha and Pulastya.

Some accounts list fourteen: Angiras, Atri, Bharadwaja, Brighu, Daksha, Gorama, Jamad-agni, Kashyapa, Kratu, Marichi, Pulaha, Pulastra, Vashishtha and Vishvamitra.

These personages are often referred to as the Prajapati. (see also rishi)

Seven Sages, The<sup>1</sup> (British) advisers to the Roman emperor

One such group was killed by Herowdes, on the advice of Merlin, to cure the emperor's blindness.

Seven Sages, The<sup>2</sup> (Greek)

7 wise men of ancient Greece

They are given as Bias, Chilon, Cleobulus, Periander (or Epimenides), Pittacus, Solon and Thales.

Seven Sages, The<sup>3</sup> (Malay)

seers at the court of the king

Seven Sages, The<sup>4</sup>

(see Apkallu.Seven Rishis)

Seven Seers, The (see Seven Rishis)

Seven-serpent (see Chicomecohuatl)

Seven Sisters<sup>1</sup> (Australian)

[Kungarankalpa]

ancestral heroines of the Aborigines

To escape the attentions of Nyiru, the sisters left their home and travelled south until they reached the coast. Here they entered the sea and then ascended into the sky as the Pleiades.

Seven Sisters<sup>2</sup> (see Pleiades)

Seven Sleepers, The

[The Seven Sleepers of Ephesus]

7 Christians who were persecuted

They were said to have been holed up in a cave on Mount Celion for 200 years until 497. They fell asleep, awaiting the Resurrection. Their names are given as Constantius, Dionysius, Joannes, Malchus, Martinianus, Maximianus and Serapion.

Seven Snakes (see Chicomecohuatl)

Seven Stars Mother (Chinese) a goddess of the constellation

Ursa Major

Seven Stars of the North (Korean)

the Korean version of the

constellation Ursa Major

It is said that these stars are seven brothers who were exceptionally good to their widowed mother and were set in the heavens as a reward.

Seven Treasures of Buddhism

[=Hindu Sapta Ratna] (Chinese)

revered objects of a universal sovereign

These objects are listed as Divine

Guardians of the Treasury, Elephants, Gemmeous Maidens, Gold Wheel, Horses, Military Governors and Pearl.

(see also Seven Gems)

Seven Wise Masters (Persian)

sages who instructed Prince Lucien

When the prince, who had been warned that he would die if he spoke within seven days of returning to court, was accused of rape by a female at the court, the Wise Masters told contrary tales which postponed his execution day by day until he was able to speak and refute the charge.

Seven Wise Ones (Egyptian)

deities created in the form of hawks

by Mehet-Weret to help to create

the world

Sevenfold Buddha (Buddhist)

a group of 7 Buddhas

This group comprises Lokeshvara and Vajrapani plus the five Dhyani Buddhas (Akshobhya, Amitabha, Amoghasiddhi, Ratnasambhara and Vairocana).

Seventh Heaven (Hebrew)

the highest, hence the happiest, of the 7 heavens postulated in the secret lore of the rabbis

Severa (see Sevira)

Severin (see Severinus)

Severinus (European)

[Severin]

duke of Bordeaux

brother of Eudes

husband of Alice

father of Girard and Huon

He was killed in battle, and his servant, Sherasmin, was taken prisoner, by the Saracens.

Sevira (British)

[Severa]

daughter of Macsen and Elen

first wife of Vortigern

mother of Vortimer

Sewingshields (British)

a site in Northumberland where King

Arthur and his knights are said to be sleeping

In this case, a horn had to be blown and a garter severed with a sword to waken the sleeping warriors.

Other sites suggested are Alderley Edge, Cadbury, Craig-y-Dinas, Mount Etna, Ogof Lanciau Eryri, Ogo'r Dinas and Richmond Castle.

Sextus Tarquinius

(see Tarquinius Sextus)

seymorg (see senmerv)

Seyon (Hindu)

[Ceyon.Muruga(n).Murukan:

=Hindu Skanda]

a Tamil creator-god
son of Korrawi
This deity is regarded as a hunter and is depicted riding an elephant. He holds a spear and a garland of flowers.

Sezarbil
a demon

Sezmu Egyptian
[Ses(e)mu.Sezumu]
a god of wine and unguents

Sezumu (see Sezmu)

Sforza European
brother of Achilles of Lombardy and Palamedes
He was a soldier in the army of Godfrey at the siege of Jerusalem.

Sga'na North American [Masset San]
a sea-god of the Haida Indians
He is envisaged as a killer whale.

Sgathach Irish
[Scathach]
daughter of Eannna
Her parents proposed to give her to Finn mac Cool for one year but, using a magic harp, she transported Finn and his men far away from the house while they were asleep.

sGeg-mo-ma Buddhist
the Tibetan version of Lasya

Sgeimh Solais Irish
[Light of Beauty]
daughter of Cairbre
She married the son of a Desi chieftain, precipitating a conflict between her father, the high-king, and the Fianna.

Sgeolan (see Sceolan)

Sgilti Welsh
[Lightfoot:=Irish Caitle]
a warrior at King Arthur's court
He could run on the tops of trees and on the tips of reeds without so much as bending them and was one of the party which accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

sGra-c'an-dsin Buddhist [Da-chen-dsin]
the Tibetan version of Rahula

sGrol-'bum Buddhist
the Tibetan name for Virudhaka as king of the Khumbandas

sGrol-dkar Buddhist
the Tibetan name for White Tara

sGrol-Ilang Buddhist
the Tibetan name for Green Tara (see also Syamatara)

sGrol-ma Buddhist [Dolma]
a Tibetan earth-goddess consort of sPyan-ras-gzigs
This rock giantess and sPyan-ras-gzigs

are regarded as the progenitors of all living things.

In some accounts, this is the Tibetan name for the goddess Tara or the Buddha's mother, Maya.

sGun-gi-rgyal-po Buddhist [Sung-gi-gval-po]
one of the Panchamaharajas
king of speech

He is depicted riding a blue mule.

Sha Ho-shang Chinese
a priest

He was originally a minister at the court of the Jade Emperor but was sent to earth in the form of a man-eating monster when he broke a crystal bowl. When Kuan Yin lifted the punishment placed on him, he mended his ways and was one of those who accompanied Tripitaka on his journey to India to learn the Buddhist doctrines.

He is depicted wearing a necklace of skulls.

Sha-lana North American
a sky-god of the Haida Indians

He was the ruler of a kingdom in the sky above the primordial waters. He threw his servant, Raven, out of the sky and the bird created the world and mankind.

Sha Shen Chinese
son of Tou-shen
brother of Chen Shen, Ma Shen and P'an Shen

He helps those who suffer from scarlet fever.

Shabaqo Stone Egyptian
a tablet engraved with the story of creation as told by Ptah

shabah Muslim
earth-bound spirits

Shabbathai (see Solday)

Shabiri
a demon said to cause blindness in those who drink the water he lives in shabti Egyptian [shawabti.ushabti.ushebti(u)]

a funerary figure in the form of a mummy which was said to do menial work for the deceased in the after life

Shacabac (see Schacabac)

Shachar Canaanite
a goddess of the dawn

Shachipati Hindu
a name for Indra as 'mighty lord'

Shadadi (see Shadad)

Shadanana-Subrahmanya Hindu
a form of Karttikeya

In this form, the god had six heads so that he could be suckled by the six consorts who had had relations with Agni, and twelve arms.

Shaddad Arab [Shadadi] husband of Zabiba
father of Antara

He conquered the Sudan and married Zabiba after freeing her from captivity.

He robbed his subjects and used his ill-gotten wealth to build the fabulous city of Iram.

Shaddanta Buddhist
a royal elephant

This beast had six tusks and a white body with a red head and feet.

A jealous queen persuaded a minister to kill the elephant and bring her a pair of its tusks. The hunter's saw would not penetrate the tusks so Shaddanta pulled them out himself. The queen, overcome with grief when she was given the tusks, died that day.

Shaddanta-Jataka Buddhist
the story of the elephant Shaddanta

Shadday (see Shaddai)

shade
[shadow]
a disembodied soul: a spirit:
a ghost

shaden Japanese shrine(s) or shrine hall(s)

shadow (see shade)

Shadowland North American
the Algonquian land of the dead

Shadrapi Mesopotamian
a Phoenician god of healing

Shafan (see Xaphan)

Shaggy Beast French
a monster with a green body and the head of a snake

This monster breathed fire which destroyed the crops and could shoot darts from the fur on its body which were fatal to humans. When it seized a young maiden, her lover cut off its tail and it died.

Shab Name Persian
[Book of Kings.Shah Nameh.
Shahnama(h)]

a 10th c book (120,000 lines)
This work, written by Firdausi, is a mythological history which includes the exploits of the heroes Alexander the Great, Gayomart, Hoshang, Rustem and Tahmurath and the kings of the Kayanian dynasty.

Shab Nameh (see Shah Name)

Shahan (see Sherah)

Shahapet Armenian
[Shvaz.Shvod]

a spirit, ruler of the land
He can appear either as a man or as a serpent.

Shahar (see Sahar)

Shahrevar (see Kshathra Varya)

Shahrijah Persian

[Shahryar]

a sultan in The Arabian Nights

He had killed each of his many wives on their wedding night but Scheherazade managed to avoid this fate by telling him a story each night.

Shahryar (see Sharijah)

Shai Egyptian

a god of fate
husband of Meshkenit

He was depicted as a man, a goat or a snake.

Shaibya Hindu

a devoted wife

Her husband, being a sinner, went through many incarnations as a bird or an animal before he was born again as a man. Shaibya, who lived through all these generations, recognised him and they were made man and wife again.

Shait Egyptian

a goddess of destiny

shaitan Arab

[abili.ssha(y)tan.she(i)tan.sheytan:

plur=shayatin:=Hebrew Satan]

an evil spirit; a devil: one of the forms of the jinn

These beings sometimes appear as snakes which can enter a mortal's body.

Shaka Japanese

[Shaka Muni.Shaka-Nyorai]

the Japanese version of Shakyamuni

Shaka Muni (see Shakyamuni)

Shaka-nyorai (see Shaka)

Shakan (see Shakkan)

Shakanli North American

a serpent-like monster of the Choctaws

Shakara Japanese

a guardian deity

one of the 28 Nijuhachi-Bushu

Shakini Hindu

a demoness attendant on Durga

Shakespeare, William English

(1564-1616)

a poet and playwright

He wrote The Rape of Lucrece, Venus and Adonis, etc.

Shakkan Mesopotamian

[Shakan]

an Akkadian god of animals

In some accounts, he was said to have married his sister, Tiamat.

Shakpono (see Obaluwaye)

Shakra<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Sakra:=Hindu Indra]

a god of the calendar

He helped the Buddha to perform miracles.

When intervention in human affairs is required, his throne becomes very hot.

Shakra<sup>2</sup> Hindu

the third eye of Shiva, in the centre of his forehead

Shakra<sup>3</sup> Hindu

a name for Indra as 'powerful'

Shakra<sup>4</sup> Hindu

the owl, a bird sacred to Indra

shakta Hindu

one who worships a skakti

Shaktar Hindu

the king Kalmashapada in the form of a man-eating demon

(see Kalmashapada)

shakti<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[=East Indies kesakten]

the female aspect of a deity

Shakti<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Sakti.Sekti:=Cambodian Bentei Srei]

the female aspect of Shiva: a name for Devi or Sati as consort of Shiva

Shakti<sup>3</sup> Hindu

[Sakti.Sekti]

a name for Durga, Kali, Parvati or Uma

Shaktiman Hindu

an epithet for Shiva as 'he who has power'

Shakuntala Hindu

[Sakuntala]

a moon-goddess

daughter of Vishvamitra and Menaka wife of King Dushyanta

mother of the Bharatas

She was abandoned by her parents and was reared by the hermit Kanwa.

She and her husband separated but, when their son, Bharata, was born, she set out to find his father. The ring by which she would be recognised was lost when she was bathing but was recovered from the belly of a fish and she was then reunited with the king.

Shakuru North American

[Atius]

a sun-god of the Pawnee tribe

Shakya Buddhist

a name for the historical Buddha

Shakyamuni Buddhist

[Amoghasiddhi.Sakyamuni.Shaka (Muni):

=Chinese Shih-chia(-mu-ni):=Japanese

Shaka(-nyorai):=Korean Sokka]

a name of Buddha as 'the silent sage',

one of the 5 Dhyani-bodhisattvas, in some accounts

son of Suddhodana and Maya husband of Yashodara

father of Rahula

In this form, he is revered in Zen Buddhism and is regarded as one of the seven manushibuddhas.

He is said to have given parts of his body to save threatened animals and birds and to have given one of his eyes to a blind man. Some say that, in various incarnations, he appeared four times as a horse, six as an elephant and ten as a deer.

He is depicted sitting on a lotus with his right hand raised, though sometimes he is seen holding the shuttle of a loom. When regarded as female, 'he' is the fertility goddess, depicted holding a grain of rice and a pot. Some images include Ananda and Kashyapa on his right and left respectively. (see also Shenrab Miwo)

Shakyasinha Buddhist

[Sakyasinha]

a name for the Buddha as 'lion'

Shala Canaanite

a storm-goddess

Shalakupurusha Jain

a spiritual leader

It is said that sixty-three such leaders appear during each of the earthly periods. They will include nine groups of three, each comprised of a Baladeva, a Pratisvasudeva and a Vasudeva.

Shalako North American

[=Zuni Niman]

a Zuni festival

This festival, which lasts for nine days in July, celebrates the return of the spirits to their underground home in Shipap where they will remain until winter returns.

Shalem (see Salem)

Shalim Canaanite

a goddess of dusk

Shalott British

another name for Astolat, home of Elaine

Shalya Hindu

a king

He fought on the side of the Kauravas against the Pandavas and was killed in battle.

Shalyat Canaanite

a seven-headed monster

This beast, in some accounts the same as Lotan, was killed by Anat.

(see also Lotan)

shaman Asian

[chaman:female=shamanka]

a sacred person: a magician-priest or witch-doctor

Shamanism Asian
a religion largely based on magic, sorcery and spirit-worship

shamanka Asian [shemanka:male=shaman]
a female witch-doctor

Shamas (see Samas)

Shamash (see Samas)

Shamba<sup>1</sup> African
a cultural hero of the Bushongo

He travelled widely and learned many skills which he passed on to his people.

Shamba<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Samba:=Tamil Sama]
an incarnation of Vishnu
son of Krishna and Rukmini
brother of Kama
consort of Indukari

Brahmins whom he had mocked laid a curse on Shamba saying that he would give birth to an iron club which would be the cause of his father's death. When this weapon eventually appeared, Shamba smashed it and threw the pieces into the sea. His father died from a wound inflicted by an iron arrowhead and it turned out that this had been made from one of the pieces of the broken club recovered from the belly of a fish.

Shamba was captured by Duryodhana in the war with the Pandavas and was kept in prison until Balarama secured his release when he demolished the walls of the city by ploughing beneath them.

Another story says that, for some slight to the sage Durvasas, he was cursed with leprosy but was cured by Surya to whom Shamba built a temple.

Shambhala Tibetan
a land in the north, home of spiritual wisdom

Shambhara Hindu
[Dasyu.Sambara]

a demon of drought, one of the Asuras
This demon carried off Krishna's son, Pradyumna, and threw him into the sea where he was swallowed by a fish. This fish was caught and given to Shambhara's queen, Mahadar, who cut it open and released the boy.

Shambhu (see Rudra)

Shamhat Mesopotamian
[Ukhat]

the prostitute who tamed the wild man, Enkidu (see also Samkhat)

shamil Hebrew

a worm said to be able to split rocks
The whereabouts of this creature was known to the demon Asmodeus.

Shamkara (see Shankara)

Shams (see Sams)

Shamshiel Hebrew

a prince of paradise

Shamshu (see Sams)

Shamur (see .Mount Samur)

Shan Hai Ching Chinese

[Book of Mountains and Seas]

a book of mythology

shan-hui Chinese a human-faced dog

Shan Kuei Chinese

a mountain-god

Shan-ts'ai Tung-tzu Chinese a male attendant on Kuan Yin

Shanama (see Shah Name)

Shanamah (see Shah Name)

Shanewis North American

an Iroquois woman

wife of Nekumonta

She was saved from dying of the plague by the water brought by Nekumonta who had been told in a dream where to find the underground waters which, when released, formed a healing spring.

Shang Ch'ing (see Higher Azure Palace)

Shang-lha Tibetan

a local god of good fortune

Shang-t'ai (see Ssu Ming)

Shang-te (see Shang Ti)

Shang Ti Chinese

[Celestial Emperor.Lord of Heaven.Lord on High.Shang-te.Yü Huang]

a creator-god and sky-god

He is regarded as a celestial emperor with his own court and ministers like the earthly institutions.

He allocated the planet Jupiter to Chuang-tzu after it was vacated by Mao Meng.

In some accounts, he is equated with Yü Huang.

(see also Sheng Ti.Ti.Ti.T'ien)

Shang-ti Yeh Chinese

[= Taiwanese Pak Tai]

a Taoist war-god

shang-yang Chinese a one-legged bird which was said to cause rain

Shango<sup>1</sup> African

[Sango:=Cuban Santa Barbara:

=Egyptian Amon-Ra]

a thunder-god, war-god and god of justice of the Yoruba

son of Aganju and Yemoja

son of Ogun, some say consort of Oba, Oshun and Oya

father of Shankpana

He was a king of Oyo who lived in a brass palace and owned a huge herd of horses. He was said to breathe flames.

He hanged himself to escape his enemies and was deified. In some stories he climbed a golden chain to get to heaven and became a thunder-god.

He is depicted with the head of a ram. (see also Yansan)

Shango<sup>2</sup> West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit derived from a Yoruba god of the same name

Shani Hindu

[Manda.Sani]

a god of ill-fortune

son of Surya and Chhaya or of Balarama and Revati

brother of Savarni

He is regarded as the planet Saturn personified.

In one account, it was his fierce gaze that burned the head off the infant Ganesha which Parvati (or Vishnu) replaced with the head of an elephant.

He is depicted as black-skinned and riding a vulture or a raven.

Shanka-Sura Hindu

in some accounts, a demon killed by Krishna

Shankapala (see Shankha<sup>3</sup>)

Shankara Hindu

[Sankara.Shamkara]

a manifestation of Bhairava: a name for Shiva as 'the auspicious one', 'peace' or 'healer'

Shankari Hindu

[Sankari]

a mother-goddess

one of the saptamataras

Shankha<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

the just king who will rule the earth at the time of the coming of Maitreya

shankha<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[sankha]

the horn of victory

This was a conch-shell, one of the attributes of Vishnu, which was the twelfth object to be created at the Churning of the Ocean.

Shankha<sup>3</sup> Hindu

[S(h)anka(pala)]

a snake-god

on of the mahanagas

shankhapadua Buddhist

a trumpet made from a thigh-bone, used in ceremonial rites

Shankpana African

[Shankpana.Shankpanna]

son of Shango

a plague-god of the Yoruba

Shankpanna (see Shankpana)

Shanta	Hindu	Sharabangha	Hindu	Sharfenebbe	European
daughter of Dasha-ratha		a hermit		a female crow wife of Risha-Shringa		When his great desire to meet a god		mate of Merkinau
She was adopted by the king,		was granted as a reward for his pious		She was killed by Reynard the Fox.
Lomopada, and married Risha Shringa,		life, he burnt himself to death and		Shargaz	(see Sarur)
a youth born of a doe.		went to heaven.		Sharin	(see Sharatz)
Shantanu	Hindu	sharada	Hindu	Shariputra	Buddhist
[Santanu]		the lute, symbol of Sarasvati		[Sariputra.Upatissa:=Pali Saripitta]
a king		Sharama<sup>1</sup>	Hindu	an early disciple of the Buddha half-brother of Vyasa		[Sarama]		He turned himself into a garuda to husband of Ganga and Satyavati		a divine bitch		defeat the heretic Agnidatta who had father of Bhishma by Ganga		When some Panis stole some of		assumed the form of a serpent with father of Vichitravirya		Indra's cattle, he created this animal to		many heads.
His first wife, Ganga, bore him eight		retrieve them. Instead, the dog was		sharira	Buddhist
sons and then reverted to her normal		given some milk by the Panis and		a substance found in the cremation
form as the river Ganges.		reported that she could not find the		ashes of saints
He said he would marry the young		cattle so Indra had to retrieve them		This material, in the form of pellets,
Satyavati on condition that any son of		himself, killing the Panis in the		is said to be indestructible.
the union should inherit the throne		process.		Sharis	Mesopotamian
instead of Bhishma, one of his sons by		Sharama<sup>2</sup>	Hindu	[=Akkadian Ishtar]
Ganga. Bhishma renounced his claim		[Sarama]		a Urartian goddess to the throne and the marriage went		a dawn-goddess		Sharmas	(see Sarruma)
ahead, producing two sons, both of		mother of Sharamaya		Sharo	(see Sharatz)
whom died childless.		In some accounts an attendant on		Sharpbeak	European
Shanti	Hindu	Indra but in others referred to as		a female rook in Reynard the Fox
a goddess of peace		a dog.		consort of Corbant
Shanti-Niketa	Hindu	Sharamaya	Hindu	She was killed and eaten by Reynard.
the heaven of Shanti, goddess of peace		a god of the air		Sharpfe	German
shao hui t'un fu	Chinese	offspring of Sharama		son of Etzel
[swallow-ashes charm]		In some accounts the Sharamayas are		brother of Orte incantations to ward off demons		two dogs guarding the underworld.		He and his brother, together with These incantations, written on paper,		sharanga	(see peacock <sup>3</sup> )	Dietrich's youngest brother, Diether, are burned and ground to ashes which		Sharanyu	Hindu	accompanied Dietrich von Bern on
are then swallowed.		[Sanjna.Saranyu.Savarna]		one of his forays against Ermenrich.
Shapash	(see Sapas)	a primaevial goddess and sun-		Left in charge of Elsan, they were
shape		goddess		allowed to go riding and all three were a spirit or apparition		daughter of Tvashtri		killed by the traitor, Wittich.
shape-changer		mother by Vivasvat of the Aswins,		Sharrumas	(see Sarruma)
a being made from fire and air,		Yama and Yami		Sharuk	(see Ninurta.Sarur)
capable of assuming any form,		mother by Indra of the minor gods,		Sharuma	(see Sarruma)
including that of a human, and of		the Ribhus		Sharur	(see Sarur)
mating with mortals		The Vedic version of Sanjna.		Sharvan	Irish
Shar	Mesopotamian	Sharatz	Serbian	[Lochlannach.Searbhan.Sharvan
[(Ilu) Sar:=Babylonian Ansar]		[Sharin.Sharo]		the Surly]
an early Syrian god of the dawn		the horse of Marko		a one-eyed giant
the god Ansar as the Pole Star		This piebald animal was given to		A magic quicken berry, dropped by Shar Apsi	Mesopotamian	Marko by a veela or, in some stories,		one of the Danaans, grew into a tree
a name for Ea as 'ruler of the		reared by Marko who bought him as		in the Forest of Dooros and produced deep waters'		a foal afflicted with leprosy. Other		many berries which could restore
Shara	Armenian	versions say that it came as a reward		youth to the aged. The Danaans
a storm-demon		for three years faithful service to his		decided to send Sharvan to guard the son of Armais		master. Marko always tested a horse by		tree to ensure that no mortals ate any Sharabda	Mesopotamian	swinging it round by its tail but		of the fruit.
a Babylonian deity,		Sharatz, though a young foal, could		When Grania developed a hunger
slander personified		not be budget.		for quicken berries, Dermot asked
Sharabha	Hindu	The horse, which was said to		Sharvan for permission to take some a huge monster		breathe blue flame, lived with Marko		for her. When the giant refused
a form of Shiva		for 160 years.		Dermot killed him with three
This beast is envisaged as having tusks		Sharaw	Mesopotamian	blows of Sharvan's own iron club, and claws and a body over 100 miles		a Sumerian god of Umma		which was the only way he could be long supported on eight legs.		Sharazad	(see Scheherazade)	killed.

- Shasha Hindu
a hare, said to live in the moon (see also Shashi)
- Shashi Hindu
[Shashin]
the moon
It is said that the hare lives on the moon or that the moon-goddess herself is a hare. (see also Shasha)
- Shashin (see Shashi)
- shasho Japanese
monks worshipping at a Buddhist shrine
- Shashthi Hindu [Shas(h)ti.'sixth'] a guardian goddess of children
In some versions, she was a form of Durga or Uma.
She is said to ride on a cat.
- Shashti (see Shashthi)
- Shasti (see Shashthi)
- Shatagat Canaanite
[Sha'taqat]
a goddess or witch created by El
This being, who could cause or cure illness, was sent to cure Keret.
- Shatahrada Hindu
consort of Kala
mother of Viradha
- shatan (see shaitan)
- Shatananda Hindu
husband of Radha
He found the child Karna who had been abandoned and reared him as his own son.
- Sha'taqat (see Shatagat)
- Shatarupa Hindu
[Satarupa.Savitri]
a goddess
daughter of Brahma
mother of Manu
mother of Priyavrata by Brahma
In one story, Brahma had incestuous designs on this daughter who was so beautiful that he grew four more heads so that he could admire her from all sides. Other stories say much the same about his consort Sarasvati. In some accounts she is the female aspect of Brahma.
In some versions, she is equated with Sarasvati.
(see also Sandhya.Sarasvati)
- Shathra (see Kshathra Vairya)
- Shatrughna Hindu
son of Dasa-Ratha and Su Mitra
twin brother of Lakshmana half-brother of Bharata and Rama husband of Shrutakirti
He fought alongside Rama in the battle with the demon Ravana and, some say, killed Ravana.
- Shaumya Hindu
a name for Shiva in his peaceful aspect
- Shaushga (see Shaushkas)
- Shaushkas Mesopotamian
[Lalwani.Lelwani(s).Shaushga.Shaushkash: =Akkadian Ishtar]
a Hurrian goddess of the underworld consort of Teshub
In early accounts, this deity was regarded as male.
- Shaushkash (see Shaushkas)
- shawabti (see shabti)
- Shawano North American
an Algonquian hero
He was one of quadruplets born to a primordial being who died in childbirth. He represented south; the others were Kabibiokka (north), Kabun (west) and Wabun (east).
- Shax
[Chax.Scox]
a demon, a duke of hell
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
He is said to be able to strike people dumb or blind and can find buried treasure. He appears in the form of a bird, perhaps a stork.
- Shay (see Say)
- shayatin (see shaitan)
- Shaya (see Chhaya)
- shaytan<sup>1</sup> African [saytan:=Arab shaitan:=Hebrew Satan] an Ethiopian evil spirit: demon: devil
- shaytan<sup>2</sup> Muslim
evil spirits
Made from fire, if one of these beings is wounded, the fire flows out and the shaytan is burnt to death.
They can appear in almost any form they choose – animals, a cloud of smoke, terrible monsters, etc. When they take human form, they are hard to detect but will teach the art of sorcery if a person pledges his or her soul.
Angels use meteorites to kill shaytans.
(see also shihab)
- Shayth Arab
the Arab name for Set
- Shazi (see Shazu<sup>2</sup>)
- Shazu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as 'mind-reader'
- Shazu<sup>2</sup> Persian [Shazi]
a river-god
- She (see Hou t'u)
- She-chi (see Hou t'u)
- She-tse (see Hou t'u)
- She Wang Chinese
[Fang Cheng-hsieh.The Snake King]
a sage
He was regarded as the deified form of the 14th C sage, Fang Cheng-hsieh, who was said to have had a split tongue. He was executed when he fell out with the emperor.
- Shebtaiel
a deity in white magic
- Shed Egyptian
a guardian god
an aspect of Atum
His role was to destroy snakes and crocodile eggs.
He was envisaged as an ichneumon.
- Shedad Muslim [Sheddad]
a king of Ad who designed the garden of Irem
- Sheddad (see Shedad)
- sheddim (see shedeem)
- shedeem<sup>1</sup> Hebrew [sheddim.s(c)hedim:sing=shedu]
a tribe of clawed demons led by Asmodaeus offspring of Adam and Lilith (see also mazikeen)
- shedeem<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian
[s(c)hedim:sing=shedu] storm-demons in the form of winged bulls, guardians of Babylonian palaces and temples
- shedim (see shedeem)
- Shedu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
a benevolent spirit, protector of the household
- shedu<sup>2</sup> (see shedeem)
- shee (see sidhe)
- Shee folk British
the English version of the Irish fairies, the aes sidhe
- Sheela Na Gig Irish
[Sheila Na Cioch.Sheala-No-Gig.
Sile na gCioch]
a mother goddess
This being was later downgraded to the level of a demon.
- Sheela-No-Gig (see Sheela Na Gig)
- Sheen Norse
a name for the moon
- Sheeree African
a female demon of the Berbers
- Sheik Ali (see Ali)
- Sheik Khaleel (see Khaleel)
- Sheila Na Cioch (see Sheela Na Gig)
- sheitan (see shaitan)
- Shel North American
a sun-god of the Klamath Indians
He came into being when Kumush and his daughter danced with the spirits of the underworld who were all turned into dry bones when the light of the sun fell on them. Kumush collected the bones and, following in the tracks of Shel, scattered the bones over the face of the land to produce the various tribes.

Shelan Nara Persian
a demon

Shelartish Mesopotamian
a Urartian mood-god

Shell
a demon, one of those who populate the 7 firmaments

Shelley, Percy Bysshe English (1792-1822)
a poet

He wrote the four-act play Prometheus Unbound.

shellycoat Scottish a water goblin

shem Hebrew
a charm such as that used to activate a golem

shemanka (see shamanka)

Shemesh (see Samas.Zemen)

Shemhaziel
a fallen angel

shen<sup>1</sup> Chinese [=Japanese shin]
gods collectively: a guardian god or goddess: the spirit or the numinous influence inherent in a particular object (see also hsien)

Shen<sup>2</sup> Chinese
the constellation Orion, ruled by the White Tiger

shen<sup>3</sup> Egyptian
a symbol of eternal life or of eternity

Shen-hsien Chinese celestial spirits who return as mortals and later resume their existence as immortals

Shen Hsien Chuan
(see Biographies of the Gods)

Shen I (see I<sup>1</sup>)

Shen Kung-pao Chinese
a magician

He pitted his skills against those of his former friend, Chiang Tzu-ya, hoping to win a list of ways of achieving immortality that the Old Man of the South Pole had given to the general. Shen cut off his own head and caused it to float in the air, claiming to have won. The Old Man of the South Pole sent the Crane Youth to carry the airborne head away but Chiang persuaded him to return it and it was rejoined to Shen's body.

Shen Lou (see Shou Shen)

Shen Mu (see Pi-hsia Yüan-chun)

Shen Nung Chinese

[Divine Farmer.Ardent Emperor]

an early emperor, one of the Three Sovereigns

a god of agriculture and medicine

son of An Teng and a dragon husband of Hsien Tsan

father of Chih Yü

He was the product of a miraculous birth and was nearly nine feet tall when born, with the head of a bull on a man's body.

He taught mankind the art of agriculture and introduced the art of medicine which he learned by studying nature and finding out secrets of herbal remedies. He was said to have a transparent stomach that allowed observation of the effects of medicinal plants, etc. He died when testing a species of grass which cut open his intestines and was deified.

He runs the Ministry of Healing with Fu-hsi and Huang Ti and is credited with the invention of the plough and the discovery of medicinal herbs, becoming the patron of chemists. He is regarded as a kitchen-god in some accounts. Others equate him with Yen Ti.

He died at the age of 168 and was deified.

Shen P'ao Chinese
the name of the deified Lao-tzu, in some accounts

Shen Seng-chao Chinese
a 5th c monk

It was said that once a month, after his normal duties, he took on the role of secretary to a celestial ministry and so acquired supernatural powers.

Shen Shu Chinese
a door-god
brother of Yü Lu

He and his brother lived on Mount Tu Shuo under a magical peach tree, the branches of which formed the Door of the Spirits through which every soul passed after death. They bound those with wicked spirits and fed them to tigers. Their image is put in doorways of houses to protect against evil spirits.

Shen-tsan Chinese
[Lan Ts'an]

an 8th c kitchen worker in a monastery who became a minister

one of the Eighteen Lohan,

in some accounts

He was said to be able to work miracles such as moving large rocks with a mere touch. When he left the monastery, wild beasts became a nuisance so he came back to remove the plague of beasts which all disappeared when he mounted a tiger and rode away, never to be seen again.

He is depicted with a staff and a hat slung over his shoulder.

Shen Wan-san Chinese a god of wealth, in some accounts

Shen Yo Chinese a 6th c writer who was deified as a god of Hu-chou

Shen Yü (see Shu Yü)

Shen Yung-pao
(see White Crane Youth)

Sheng Chinese
[Holy One]

a title given to many deities, including Confucius

Sheng-mu Chinese a name for Pi-hsia Yüan-chun

as Holy Mother

Sheng Ti Chinese
[Holy Emperor]

god of the sacred mountain T'ai Shan

a Taoist god of destiny, lord of the underworld (see also Shang Ti)

Sheng-jen Chinese
deified mortals: saints

Shenrab Miwo Tibetan founder of a modified form of Bon

He was said to have come from the mythical land Zhang Thung, and was later equated with Shakyamuni.

sheogue Irish
a fairy

She'ol Hebrew
[=Greek Hades]

hell: the home of the dead

(see also Belial)

Shepherd God Greek
a name for Pan

Shepherd of the Clouds (see Sitondo)

shepherd's crook Egyptian
the symbol of Seker

Shera Wali Matha Hindu
a goddess

Sherah Mesopotamian
[Shahan]

a Sumerian deity, the generative power of the sun's rays personified

Sherasmin European [Gerasmes.Gerasmin.Ger(i)aume.Solario]

a servant of Sevinus

brother of Guire

He was taken prisoner by the Saracens when his master was killed in battle but escaped after three years and lived alone in the deserts of Palestine until the arrival of Huon to whom he attached himself as guide on his journey to find the Sultan Gaudisso. When Huon was imprisoned by Gaudisso, Sherasmin planned his escape with the help of Clarimunda and, pretending to be Gaudisso's nephew, Solario, obtained some of the Sultan's beard and four of his teeth, the objects required by Huon, when the Sultan was killed on the orders of the Caliph.

Shesha (see Ananta)

Sheshanaga (see Ananta)

Sheshu African

a supreme god of some Nigerian tribes

shesmet girdle Egyptian

an apron of beads suspended from a belt

This adornment was worn by kings and deities and was personified by the goddess, Shesmetet.

Shesmetet Egyptian

a goddess, personification of the shesmet girdle

consort of Sheshmu

She was depicted as having the head of a lioness and was regarded as an aspect of Bast.

Shesmu Egyptian

executioner of the underworld
consort of Shesmetet

He is depicted as having the head of a lion or an ox.

shetan (see shaitan)

sheytan (see shaitan)

Shezbeth (see Xezbeth)

Shhri-var (see Kshathra Varya)

shi-ryo Japanese

a ghost of the dead

Shi Tenno Japanese

[Four Diamond Kings.Shitenno]

the 4 guardians of the cardinal points, protecting the world from demons

These beings are said to be very tall, 500 years old and living on the slopes of Mount Meru.

They are listed as Bishamon (north), Zocho (west), Jikoku (east) and Komoku (south).

(see also Four Diamond Kings)

Shibbeta Hebrew

a demones

Shichi Fukojin Japanese

[Shichi-Fuku-Jin.Seven Gods of Luck]

the 7 Shinto deities of good fortune

They are listed as Benten (the only goddess), Bishamon, Daikoku, Ebisu, Fukurokuju, Hotei and Jurojin. They travel together in their treasure-ship,

Takara-Bune, and own a never-empty purse, a hat that confers invisibility on the wearer and many other magical devices.

Shichi-Fuku-Jin (see Shichi Fukojin)

Shiduri (see Siduri)

Shidduri (see Siduri)

Shide Japanese

Shield Beautiful British

a shield won by Fergus

This shield was held in Castle Dunostre where it was guarded by a dragon and a giantess. Fergus was told by a dwarf that, to win the love of Galiene, he must acquire the shield and, after disposing of the two guardians, he was able to claim it.

Shield Maidens (see Valkyries)

Shield of Heracles Greek

a poem by Hesiod

Shih Chinese

a plant used in divination

Shih Che (see Ten Scholars)

Shih-chi Niang Niang Chinese a Taoist goddess

Shih-chia-mu-ni Chinese the Chinese version of Shakyamuni

shih chieh-hsien Chinese a Taoist immortal who has died, left his body and lives on as a soul

Shih Ching Chinese

[Book of Odes.Book of Poetry]

the third of the 9 major works of the Confucian canon, dealing with early beliefs and rites

one of the Five Classics

Shih Fen Chinese

the original name of Lu Hsing

Shih Kan Tang Chinese

inscribed tablets of stone or a spirit, said to ward off evil influences

Shih-te Tzu Chinese

one of the Eighteen Lohan,
in some accounts

He was found as a child by Feng-kan and raised by monks.

Shih T'ien-yen-wang<sup>1</sup> Chinese

the 10 departments of hell

Shih T'ien-yen-wang<sup>2</sup> (see Shih Wang)

Shih-tzu-pi-ch'iu Chinese

[Son of the Lion]

the Chinese name for Singhalaputra

Shih Wang Chinese

[Shih T'ien-yen-wang]

a name for the gods of the underworld as the Ten Yama Kings

Shih Wang Mu (see Hsi Wang Mu)

shihabu African in the lore of the Swahili, shooting stars

These are regarded as arrows fired by angels at demons attempting to gain entry to heaven in order to read the future written in Luah.(see also shihab)

Shihai West Indian

a wind-god

Shiho-tsuchi (see Shiko-tsutsu)

Shiju-Gara Japanese

a great tit

This bird carried love letters from the owl, Fukuro, to Uso-Dori, the bullfinch.

Shikaiya Wasobioye Japanese

a scholar

He was caught in a storm when sailing his boat and, after some months, landed on an island where the inhabitants were immortal and life was all pleasure. After twenty years he became disenchanted with this life and left, journeying through many strange lands and finally was given a ride lasting five months on the back of a stork which put him down in a land of giants.

Shikimi Japanese

a sacred tree

Shiko-tsutsu Japanese

[Shiho-tsuchi]

god of salt-traders
an old man of the sea

He made the basket in which Hoori descended to the realm of the sea-god.

Shikome Japanese

storm-deities, demons that bring about diseases

shikon Japanese

4 spirits

These are listed as ara-mitama. kushi-mitama. nig-i-mitama and saki-mitama

Shila Buddhist

[Sila(paramita).Shilaparamita]

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses,
good conduct personified

Shilaparamita (see Shila)

shilup North American

the individual's soul, in the lore of the Choctaws

Shilup Chito Osh North American

the Choctaw name for the Great Spirit

shilstone

a shrine used in sun-worship

Shimbei Japanese

the heron, servant of the owl Fukuo

Shimben-Kidoku-Shu Japanese

a form of saké

This magic drink was given to Raiko by the gods to help him in his quest to kill the Goblin King. When the goblin drank it, it put him to sleep and he was then killed by Raiko.

Shimegi Mesopotamian
a Hurrian sun-god

Shi'menawa (see Shiri-kume-na-nawa)

Shimga (see Holi)

Shimmoten Japanese

a guardian god
one of the 28 Nijuhachi-Bushu

shin
[=Chinese shen]

a collective name for Chinese and Japanese gods and spirits: the supreme deity

Shin Ne Mi Burmese
a nat in the form of a nature-spirit niece of Min Magaye

shin-po Japanese
sacred treasures kept in a shrine

Shina-to-be (see Shina-Tsu-Hiko)

Shina-Tsu-Hiko Japanese

[Shina-to-be] a Shinto wind-god
son of Izanagi and Izanami
consort of Shina-Tsu-Hime
He was said to have been born from Izanagi's breath.

He and his wife are reputed to have caused the offshore winds that kept the country safe from the invading army of Genghis Khan.

Shina-Tsu-Hime Japanese
consort of Shina-Tsu-Hiko

Shinbetsu Japanese
families which claim descent from deities other than Amaterasu (see also Kobetsu)

Shinboku Japanese
a Shinto sacred tree (see also Sakaki)

Shinda Daikoku Japanese
Daikoku depicted as a boy sitting down and holding a crystal

Shindwe-hla (see Hnit-ma-dawgyi)

Shiner Greek
one of the horses drawing the sky-chariot of Eos

Shingé Japanese
a princess
daughter of Zembei

When she was bitten by (or fainted at the sight of) a large snake, she was rescued by Yoshisawa and fell in love with him. When her father decreed that she could not marry a man of such low caste, she threw herself into the well where she had first met her beloved.

Shingrawa Burmese
a nat regarded as a creator ancestor of Shippawn Ayawng

He was created by Chinun Way Shun, taking the form of a pumpkin.

When the world flood subsided, Shingrawa refashioned the earth with his hammer and then ascended into the heavens.

Shining Brow (see Taliesin)

Shining Jewel (see Ratna Dumilah)

Shining Snake Mesopotamian
one of the Eleven Mighty Helpers
created by Tiamat
(see also Mushussu)

Shinje-chho-gyal Tibetan
a god of justice
ruler of Nyalwa, the underworld

He is depicted as a monkey-headed monster holding scales into which monstrous angels drop white or black pebbles to represent good or evil deeds performed by the one being judged.

He is regarded as a reincarnation of sPyan-ras-gzigs.

shinji Japanese
sacred ground used for religious ceremonies (see also saniwa)

shinkan (see shinshoku)

Shinmei (see Amaterasu)

Shinob North American

[=Navaho Nayenezgani]
a supreme deity of the Paiute people twin brother of Tobats

Shinsaku Japanese
a fisherman

Shinsaku fell in love with O Cho San and they arranged to be married. This caused so much trouble among the other fishermen, all of whom were in love with O Cho San, that they cancelled the wedding. Even this did not quell the unrest and Cho drowned herself, overcome with grief. Shinsaku would have followed her example had he not been prevented by her brother, Gisuke. Together, the two men built a shrine to her memory, a task in which they were helped by the other fishermen who were ashamed of their earlier conduct.

shinsen Japanese sacred food offered to the deities

shinsenden Japanese
a sacred rice-field where food for the deities is grown

shinshoku Japanese [shinkan]
Shinto clergy: a priest
(see also kannushi)

Shinta-lo-be Japanese a wind-goddess

shintai Japanese
some physical object in which a deity is inherent

Shinten Japanese
sacred Shinto scriptures

Shinto Japanese [Kami-no-Michi.S(h)intu] literally 'gods' or 'spirits'
a form of spirit-worship

Shintu (see Shinto)

Shinzaburo Japanese
a samurai

He fell in love with Tsuyu who died of grief when he was prevented from seeing her again. She and her maid, Youé, who had died of grief at the loss of her mistress, returned to visit Shinzaburo at the Feast of the Dead and came night after night, leaving before dawn. To the besotted Shinzaburo, Tsuyu was the lovely maiden he had fallen in love with but his servant, Tomozo, who spied on them, could see that she was a dead woman. Shinzaburo was advised by the wise Yusai that he was consorting with the dead and that this could lead to his own death, so he went in search of the two women but found only their tombs. The priest, Ryoseki, gave Shinzaburo various talismans to ward off the ghosts of the dead and, when they next came, Shinzaburo locked the doors and they could not get in. Youé bribed Tomozo to give them access and the affair started up again.

Next morning, Tomozo found Shinzaburo dead, lying beside the bones of Tsuyu.

Ship of Joy (see Nef de Joie)

Shipap North American [Shipapu(yna):=Zuni Shipapulima]
the Pueblo land of the dead, the underground kingdom of the corn-goddess, lyatiku

This place is regarded not only as the place to which the dead go but also as the place from which the tribes emerged and whence babies come.

Shipapu (see Shipap)

Shipapulima North American [=Pueblo Shipap]
the Zuni land of the dead

Shipapuyna (see Shipap)

Shipit Mesopotamian
[Shipit Baal]
a god of Byblos

Shipit Baal (see Shipit)

Shippawn Ayawng Burmese
the ancestor of the Kachin

people, descended from the creator, Shingrawa

Shippeitaro Japanese
a dog

A cat-monster every year demanded a maiden who was safely fastened in a cage and then devoured her. This happened until a knight took pity on the villagers and put himself in the cage with the dog, Shippeitaro. When the cat appeared, the dog seized it while the knight killed it with his sword. The dog then killed all the cat's attendants.

Shipton (see Mother Shipton)

shiqq Muslim
a form of jinn

These beings were envisaged as half a human, split vertically, and were said to mate with proper humans to produce nasnas.

Shiri-kume-na-nawa Japanese [Shimenawa]
a rope

Tajikara-wo placed this rope across the entrance to the cave where Amaterasu had hidden herself to prevent her from re-entering after she had been coaxed from hiding.

Shiro Japanese
an attendant Buddhist god

The Shinto god, Daikoku, often manifested himself as a rat. Shiro was sent by the Buddhist gods to get rid of the rat but the rat drove Shiro off with a holly branch.

Shirt of Nessus Greek
the robe sent by Deianeira to Hercules

This robe, impregnated with the poisoned blood of the centaur Nessus, killed Hercules when he put it on.

shishi Japanese
lionlike beasts guarding the entrance to temples and shrines

Shishi-o (see Shishi-wo)

Shishi-wo Japanese
[King of Lions.Shishi-o]
a sword

This weapon was given to Yorimasa as a reward for killing the sky-monster which had been harassing the emperor.

Shishupala Hindu
[Shisupala.Sis(h)upala]

the third and final manifestation of the demon Ravana son of Dama Ghosha and Shrutadeva

He was originally manifest as Hiranyakashipu and then as Ravana.

In this form, the demon-king had three eyes and only four, instead of twenty, arms. Some say that he was the son of Shiva by a mortal woman.

It was said that, should he ever sit on the knee of the one who would eventually kill him, his extra eye and arms would disappear and that is just what happened when he climbed up on to Shiva's knee. His mother made the god promise to give her son a hundred lives but that, in the end, was not enough because each time Shishupala tried to kill Shiva he failed and, when he tried once more, Shiva called upon the sun-disc which cut Shishupala in half from head to foot.

Shisrte Buddhist

a king of Lanka
consort of Sri, the goddess of disease

Shisupala (see Shishupala)

Shita-teru-hime Japanese
daughter of Susanowa
wife of Waka-Hiko

Shitala Hindu
[Mariammai.Shitalamata.Sitala(mata)]
a guardian goddess
an aspect of Devi

Shital is one of seven goddesses all of whom are connected with various diseases. She protected children from smallpox. The others are Agwani, Basanti, Lamkarya, Mahamai, Masani and Polamde.

Her attendants are Ghantakavana and Sedhu Lal. She is depicted as naked and painted red, riding a donkey, or as a four-armed goddess, sometimes living in a tree.

Shitalamata (see Shitala)

Shitenno (see Shi Tenno)

Shitkur Siberian
[Sholmo]
the Devil

It was this being who pushed his stick into the earth, so creating all the harmful creatures such as the snake.

He turned himself into a mouse and tried to gnaw through the timbers of the ark, ordered by the god Burkhan to save the people from the flood, but he was frustrated when the god created the cat.

shito dama Japanese the astral spirit of a dead person

Shitta Burmese
the nat of the moon
one of the original nats, created by Chinun Way Shun

Shiva<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Acyata.Adinatha.Aghora.Akula.Ananda.
Anant(es)a.Annamurti.Bathala.

Bhadra Vira.Bhagavan.Bhairava.
Bhatara Guru.Bhava.Bhavishya.Bhima.
Bhuta-Natha.Bhuteswara.Blue Throat.
Candesvara.Candrasekhara.Dakshina-Murti.Dhurjati.Digambara.Divine Yogi.
Durvasas.Ganga-dhara.Garudi.Gopala.
Goraknath.Great Ascetic.Gupta.Hara.
Harihara.Isha(na).Is(h)a.Is(h)ana.
Is(h)vara.Janardana.Kala(ri).
Khandoba.Linga.

Lingodbhava.Lord of the Dance.Lord of the Moon.Mahadeo.Mahadeva.

Mahakala.Mahapurusha.Maharaja.
Mahes(h)vara.Mangala.Mukhalinga.
Nataraja.Nates(h)a.Nilakantha.

Nritta-Murti.Pancanana.Panchamukti-Maruti.Pas(h)upati.Patsupati.

Petara.Rishabha.Rudra.Sadyojata.
Shaktiman.Shambhu.Shankara.

S(h)ankara.Sharabha.Shaumya.
Sikhandin.Siva.Somanatha.

Somaskanda.Srikantha.Sthanu.Sundara.
Supreme Lord.Syama.Tatpurusha.

Tri-lochana.Tripuratanka.Ugra.
Vamadeva.Vira-Bhadra.Virabhadra.

Virupashksa.Vishapaharana.
Vishvanatha.Warayana:=Buddhist

Amitabha:=Cambodian Hara.Prah
Eysor:=East Indies Karaeng Lowe.

Is(h)wara.Mahaiswara.Mahatala.
Mahayogi.Petara:=Greek Cronos:

=Japanese Amida:=Pacific Bat(h)ala.
Siwa:=Philippines Mahacabataras:

=Thai Phra In Suen]
a creator-god, moon-god, god of destruction, fertility and medicine, strengthener of men

the Hindu version of the Vedic Rudra consort of Devi, Ganga, Sakti,

Sati and Uma
consort of Bhavani, some say

father of Ganesha

He was said to have been born from Vishnu's forehead and to have had twenty-eight incarnations.

In another version, he appeared when a cosmic lingam rose out of the ocean and burst open to settle an argument between Brahma and Vishnu as to who had created the universe.

He killed Kama when he interrupted his meditations and to assert his authority he cut off Brahma's fifth head which he was condemned to carry for a long time before he was purified in the Ganges.

His first wife, Sati, immolated herself but was reborn as Parvati. When she (or Uma) covered his eyes, the world was put into darkness and Shiva developed a third eye in his forehead. This third eye can transmit his inner radiance with such power that it can destroy demons.

In the story where Sati immolated herself because Shiva was not invited to the feast of the gods, he became Nataraja, Lord of the Dance, and performed a funeral dance in her honour. He then spent many days in meditation and restored Sati to life as Uma.

His wife Devi, as Kali, killed the demon Raktavija and in the excitement of her victory she killed Shiva and danced on his body.

He is said to hold in his throat the poison visha that arose during the Churning of the Ocean to prevent mankind from being killed by it and, in some cases, he is depicted with a blue throat indicating this event.

When the sage Bhagiratha persuaded Vishnu to divert the waters of the Ganges from heaven to earth, which was barren from lack of water, Shiva allowed the torrent to pass through his hair, dividing it into seven separate streams, so that the force of the water streaming from heaven would not destroy the world.

At the end of each cycle he destroys the universe by opening his third eye and dancing the Tandava dance.

He is depicted as having two, four or ten arms, four faces and three eyes and sometimes wears a tiger skin and a snake round his neck and holds a flaming ball. Alternatively, he is represented in the form of Hari-Hara as a combined figure with Shiva on the right and Vishnu on the left. They combined thus to defeat the demon Guka since neither could defeat him single-handed. In another combination Shiva appears on the right, his female consort on the left, as Ardhanari, half man, half woman.

His weapons are the bow Ajagava, fire and lightning and his animal is the white bull, Nandi.

(see also Kala Shiva.

Lingodbhava.Pancabrahma)

Shiva<sup>2</sup> Buddhist the Hindu god adopted into the Buddhist pantheon as Buddha's doorkeeper

Shiva Bhuteswara Hindu
a name of Shiva as 'haunter of cemeteries'

Shiva Nataraja Hindu
a name of Shiva as 'Lord of the Dance'

Shiva Purana Hindu
a work comprising over 24,000 verses, in the tradition of Shaivism

Shiva-Sutra Hindu
a core text of Shaivism in Kashmir, said to have been composed by Vasugupta

Shivalingam (see lingam)

Shivananasiddhyar Hindu
the sacred writings of Shaivism

Shivaratri Hindu
a feast celebrating the marriage of Shiva and Parvati, held in the period February-March

Shivavakya (see Civavakkiyar)

Shivaya Voda Slav
water which can restore life

This water, like the Mertvaya Voda, is carried by the wind, hail and thunder and by birds.

Shiverer (see Phaon<sup>2</sup>)

Shivi Hindu
a devout king

Agni or, some say, Dharma, took the form of a dove and asked Shivi for shelter from a pursuing hawk – actually Indra. Rather than betray the dove when the raptor demanded his natural prey, the king cut off his own leg and offered it to the hawk. At that point, both gods returned to their proper form and restored Shivi's leg.

Shivven (see Essaunien)

shivan Japanese
an insect cucumber-pest

This insect is the ghost of a physician who became entangled in a cucumber-vine and was killed by a pursuing enemy.

Shiwana (see Shiwanna)

Shiwanna North American

[Cloud People.Shiwana]
rain-bringing spirits of the Pueblo tribes
These spirits, associated with the dead, live in many different places, such as mountains and holes under springs, and are represented as Kachina acting as rain-makers. They are said to travel on rainbows.

Shiwannee (see Shiwanni)

Shiwanni North American

[Priest Man.Shiwannee]
a rain-god, chief of the Shiwanna
a primeval being in the lore of the Zuni
consort of Shivanokia

He is said to have created the stars when he blew bubbles into the sky.

Shiwanokia<sup>1</sup> North American

[Priest Woman.Shiwanska]
a primeval being in the lore of the Zuni
consort of Shiwanni
She is said to have created Awitelin Tsta from her own saliva.

Shiwanokia<sup>2</sup> North American

priestesses of the goddess Shiwanska (see Shiwanokia)

Shkav-Bavas Russian

[=Erza Shka-Pas]
a sky-god and creator-god of the Moshka Mordvins

Shka-Pas Russian

[Tshi-Paz:=Moshka Shka-Bavas]
a sky-god and creator-god of the Erza Mordvins

Sho Japanese

[Kongoho.Sho Kwannon]
a name of Kwannon as 'wise one'

Sho Kwannon (see Sho)

Sho Ten (see Shoten)

Shoden (see Shoten)

Shoden Sama (see Shoten)

Shodo Shonin Japanese

a priest

He was the founder of a Buddhist temple who once found that the road he was travelling along was cut off by a raging flood. He was able to cross safely when a deity appeared on the far bank and threw across two snakes which formed a bridge over which he walked.

shojo Japanese

a monster, half man, half ape, the spirit of saké

These benevolent monsters have pink skin covered with red hair and are said to be very partial to saké which makes them immortal.

(see also shokuin)

Shoki Japanese

[Shoki-san:=Chinese Chung K'uei]
a gigantic demon-killer

He has a red face, wears a black cap and carries a sword. He kills demons by crushing them underfoot.

Shoki-san (see Shoki)

shokonsha Japanese

a shrine dedicated to the spirits of heroes such as the war-dead

shokuin Japanese

a huge dragon
This beast was said to have had red scales covering a body some 200 miles long. Despite having a human face, it had horns, the tail of a horse, hooves at the back and claws at the front. Its sleep pattern caused day and night and its breathing caused the seasons.

(see also shujo)

Shokujo (see Tanabata)

Shokuro Japanese

a man who tried to capture a god

Knowing that the thunder-god, Raiden, ate navels, he killed the maiden Chiyo, cut out her navel and flew it on a kite to attract the god. Raiden took Chiyo into the heavens and they both came down when they saw the kite. Strangely, Chiyo forgave her killer.

Sholmo (see Shitkur)

Shomde Afghan

[Usum.Wushum]

a Kafir creator-god

In some accounts he equates with Imra.

Shoney (see Shony)

Shong Li-kuan (see Han Chung-li)

Shonin Buddhist

a title for a distinguished monk

Shony Scottish

[Shoney]

a sea-god of the Hebrides

shoopiltee Scottish

[Orkney tang(ie)]

the name for the kelpie in Shetland

Shooting God (see Hashje Ohltohi)

Shooting Star<sup>1</sup> North American

a companion of Buckeye Bush and Fire Drill

These three beings are said to have set fire to the first world, created by Oelbis.

shooting star<sup>2</sup> (see meteor)

Shopona African

a Yoruba small-pox god

shoro Japanese

[shoryo]

souls: spirits of the dead

Shortshanks European

a legendary hero of stories from northern countries

shoryo (see shoro)

shoryobune (see shoryobuni)

shoryobuni Japanese

[shoryobune. 'soul ships']

the ships which transport the souls of the dead back to the Otherworld at the end of the Festival of the Dead

shosha Japanese

a shrine

Shossy Russian

a blacksmith-god of the Abkhaz people

Shosti Hindu

a goddess of birth

She is depicted as riding a cat.

Shosuko Baba Japanese

a Buddhist female attendant in hell

She supervises the river where the dead cross into hell, stealing their clothes if they cannot pay the required fee. She makes dead children build piles of rocks which she promptly knocks down.

She is depicted as sixteen feet tall with extremely pendulous breasts.

Shoten<sup>1</sup> Japanese

[(Daisho) Kwangiden.Daishoden.

Kwangiten.Sho Ten.Shoden (sama):

=Hindu Ganesha]

a god of wisdom

He is depicted either as a human with the head of an elephant or as two such figures embracing. The single-bodied version may have two, four or six arms and is yellowish-red in colour.

shoten<sup>2</sup> Japanese

priests in the service of the imperial household

Shotoku (see Shotoku)

Shotoku Japanese

[Shotoku]

(572-671)

a prince who was regarded as an incarnation of the Buddha or of Kwannon

Shou (see Shu)

Shou-ho Chinese

a god of longevity

In some accounts he is the same as Lao-tzu.

Shou Hsing Chinese

the star of longevity, home of Shou Shen

In some accounts, the god of longevity. (see also Shou Shen)

Shou-hsing Lao Tou-tzu

(see Fu Lu Shou.Shou Shen)

Shou Lao Chinese

[Shou Lou]

the original name of Shou Shen

Shou Lou (see Shou Lao)

Shou Shan Chinese

[Hills of Longevity]

the Taoist paradise

Shou Shen Chinese

[Ancient of the South Pole.Old Man of the South Pole.Nan-chi Hsien-weng.Nan-chi Lao Jen.Shen Lou.Shou Lao.Shou Lou.Shou-hsing Lao T'ao-tzu.Star of Longevity.Canopus:=Japanese Fukurokuju.Tobosaku]

a god of longevity

one of the Fu Lu Shou

He was originally the mortal Shou Lao who became the head of the celestial department which determines a person's lifespan and is said to visit earth once a year.

He gave Chiang Tzu-ya a list of ways to achieve immortality when the general visited the Jade Palace.

He is depicted with a very tall forehead and sometimes riding a deer.

His sacred bird is the crane and his home is in Shou Hsing, the star of longevity.

(see also P'eng Tsu.Shou Hsing)

Showa Tibetan

a deer-god

Showano North American

an Algonquian hero

He was one of quadruplets born to a primordial being who died in childbirth. He represented south; the others were Kabibonokka (north), Kabun (west) and Wabun (east).

Shozu-ga-no-Baba (see Shozuka Baba)

Shozuka Baba Japanese

[Shozu-ga-no-Baba]

an underworld goddess, guardian of crossroads (see also Sodzu Baba)

Shradda<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Sradda]

a goddess of faith wife of Dharma

mother of Kama, some say

shradda<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a festival of the dead: food and flowers offered to the spirits of ancestors

Shri (see Sri)

Shrikey British

a name for the bargaist, used in Lancashire

This name reflects the beast's habit of shrieking.

Sbrimad-Bhagavata

(see Bhagavata-Purana)

Shrimala Buddhist

[Srimala]

an Indian queen

a female bodhisattva

Shrivatsa Hindu

a mark on the breast of Vishnu

Shrouded Gods Italian

a group of gods of higher rank than the Senators of the Gods or the Penates of the Thunderer

Shru (see Sri)

Shrutadeva Hindu

sister of Vasudeva

mother of Shishupala by

Dama Ghosha

- Shruti Hindu
sacred scriptures
- shtabai Central American
Mayan demons
- Shu<sup>1</sup> Chinese [Ju.]
Emperor of the Southern (some say Northern) Seas
He is manifest in the lightning that pierced Chaos to form the universe. (see also Hu<sup>2</sup>.Hun-tun)
- Shu<sup>2</sup> Egyptian
[Khons.Lord of Air.Lord of All.Shou.Su. =Greek Sos] god of the air
son of Atum (Ra) or Khepra husband and brother of Tefnut father of Geb and Nut
He was created when Ra spat on the ground.
He separated the earth (Seb) and sky (Nut) by pushing them apart.
In some accounts he became the supreme ruler when Ra returned to the heavens and, when he himself became old, Geb seized the throne and took his mother as consort.
In some accounts he became a dual god with Anhur while others identify him with Ra Harakhta. (see also Heka<sup>3</sup>)
- Sbu Ching Chinese
[Book of Documents.Book of History] the second of the 9 major works of the Confucian canon, dealing with moral duty
one of the Five Classics
- Shu-po-chia (see Gobaka)
- Shu Yü Chinese
[Shen Yü.Yü Lei]
2 brothers who had power over demons
They could scare off demons by using amulets hung on peach trees. Any demons they caught they fed to tigers.
- Shualu (see Aralu)
- Shuang Yü (see Pisces)
- Shubin Japanese
a priest
He imprisoned in a water-jar a dragon which brought rain and so caused a drought which was ended by the intervention of the dragon-king, Zennyo.
- Shuddhodana (see Shuddhodhana)
- Shuddhodhana Hindu
[Shuddhodana.Suddhodama.Suddodhana]
a king of the Sakya tribe the deified father of the Buddha consort of Mayadevi
- Shudharma<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Sudharman]
a hall in Indra's heaven, Svarga
- Shudharma<sup>2</sup> Hindu
mother of Gumakesi by Matali
- Shuhiji-ni Japanese [Lady Mud Earth]
an early Shinto goddess sister of Uhiji-ni
She and her brother personified the slime from which the earth was born.
- Shui Ching-tzu Chinese
a water-spirit
father of Nü Kua, some say
- Shui Chun (see Shui-kuan)
- Shui I (see Shui-kuan)
- Shui Jung (see Ch'eng-huang)
- Shui-kuan Chinese
[Agent of Water.Feng I.Shui Chun.Shui I. Shui Jung.Shui Shen]
a water-deity
one of the San-kuan
He had the power to prevent misfortunes and confessions made to him by sinners were written down and then placed under water.
He was envisaged in the form of a human riding a horse over the sea and followed by a fish.
- Shui Shen (see Shui Kuan)
- Shukalletuda Mesopotamian
a Sumerian gardener
His garden was so beautiful that Inanna came to see it. When he tried to make love to her, a plague descended on the country.
- Shukasaptati Hindu
[=Persian Tuti Nameh]
a book of stories, 70 in all, told by a parrot
- Shuki Hindu
daughter of Surabhi
mother of parrots
- shukpa (see Abominable Snowman)
- Shukra<sup>1</sup> Hindu
['bright'.Sukra]
a sky-god, Venus personified
In some accounts, this god is regarded as female and is sometimes depicted riding a cat.
- Shukra<sup>2</sup> Hindu
['bright'.Sukra.Ushanas] chief priest of the Asuras son of Brighu
father of Devayani
Kacha came to him as a pupil to learn the secret of restoring the dead to life and when, on several occasions, he was killed by demons, Shukra brought him back to life at the request of his daughter, Devayani who loved Kacha.
- Finally, the Asuras killed Kacha, burned his body and mixed his ashes with Shukra's wine which he unwittingly drank. He then recited the magic formula that restored Kacha to life inside his stomach from where he was delivered by a surgeon. Shukra did not survive the operation but Kacha was now able to revive his master. (see also Kavya)
- Shulamite Hebrew
[Shulammité]
a dove-goddess (see Shulamite)
- Shullat Mesopotamian
[=Arab Hirmis.=Babylonian Samas: =Greek Hermes]
an Akkadian deity, herald of storms
- Shulman (see Shulmus)
- Shulmanu (see Salman)
- Shulmus Siberian
[Shulman]
a devil opposing Otshirvani
- Shulpac Mesopotamian
an Akkadian god of feasting an aspect of Marduk
- Shumbha Hindu
a demon
brother of Nishumbha
He and his brother became so powerful, as the result of extreme asceticism lasting for over 6,000 years, that the gods became afraid and sent Durga to kill them.
- Shun Chinese
one of the Five Emperors husband of Hsien Fu-jen
He married the two daughters of the emperor Yao and succeeded to his throne. When ten suns appeared in the sky all at once, Shun sent for the archer, I, who shot down nine of them.
In some accounts, he is said to have had two pupils in each eye; in others he is equated with Chuan Hsü.
- Shun-feng Erh (see Kao Chio)
- Shun-yang Tzu (see Lü Tung-pin)
- Shunem (see El)
- Shunk-Manitow (see Coyote)
- shu'nun North American
the soul, in the lore of the Tubatulabal tribe
These people say that the soul resides in the heart and can leave the body through the ears during sleep. If it should be caught by a shaman, the owner of the soul goes mad. At death, the soul leaves the body and becomes a ghost known as an abawal.

Shuqamuna Mesopotamian

a Babylonian war-god

shura Japanese

an angry spirit of a dead warrior

These beings live in the sky and the noise of their battles is heard on earth as thunder.

Shurala Russian

a Tartar spirit of the forest

Shurdi Balkan

an Albanian storm-god

Shurem Russian

a Cheremis festival, driving away the Devil, held in May

Shurpa-Naka (see Shurpanakha)

Shurpanakha Hindu

[Shurpa-Naka.Shurpanaka.Surpanak(h)a]

a rakshashi

sister of Ravana

She was in love with Rama who rejected her so, in revenge, she attacked Sita, Rama's wife. When Rama and Lakshmana came to the rescue, Shurpanakha tried to swallow Rama but was driven off, badly wounded and minus her ears and nose. In reprisal, Ravana abducted Sita, precipitating the battle with Rama who came to rescue his wife.

In some accounts she is the sister of Hidimba.

Shurripak Mesopotamian

[Shurripak]

a Babylonian city

It was said that this city was used as a meeting place for the gods.

Shurrupak (see Shurripak)

Shuten Doji (see Shutendoji)

Shutendoji Japanese

the Goblin-king of Mount Oye

He carried off young maidens, made them his slaves and even ate them. When he captured Kimitaka, daughter of the emperor Ichijo, the emperor sent Raiko and five of his companions to kill the goblin who drank the magic drink, Shimben-Kidoku-Shu, offered by Raiko, and fell asleep so that he was easily overcome and killed.

In some accounts, Yorimitsu appears in place of Raiko.

Shutu Mesopotamian

a Babylonian demoness, the south-west wind

Shuwe (see Nirmali)

Shuzianna (see Bigirhush)

Shvaz Armenian

a name for Shahapet as 'ruler'

Shvod Armenian

a name for Shahapet as a guardian-spirit of the household

Shwe Myet-hna (see Hnit-ma-dawgyi)

Shwe Na Be Burmese

wife of Min Magaye

Shwe Pyin-gyi

(see Shwe Pyin Nyi Naung)

Shwe Pyin-nge

(see Shwe Pyin Nyi Naung)

Shwe Pyin Nyi Naung Burmese

[Shwe Pyin-gyi.Shwe Pyin-nge]

2 nats in the form of nature spirits

Two children cast adrift on a river were rescued by a monk who named them Byat Ta and Byat Twe. The former had two sons who were put in a jar and sent down the river where they were rescued by a king who named them Shwe Pyin-gyi and Shwe Pyin-nge. When the courtiers became jealous, they castrated the pair who became known as Shwe Pyin Nyi Naung.

Si<sup>1</sup> African

a supreme god of the Bambileke

si<sup>2</sup> Irish

[sida.sioaga]

fairies: women of the Otherworld

(see also sidh)

Si<sup>3</sup> South American

an ore-Incan moon-god of the Indians of Peru

si-bean Irish

[bean si(dhe).si-bhean]

a woman of the Otherworld

(see also banshee)

si-bhean (see si-bean)

Si Boru Deak East Indian

daughter of Ompu Tuhan Mula Jadi

She descended from heaven to find a shuttle which she had dropped, a shuttle with which she had been weaving the world. When a young man from heaven joined her, they stayed on earth and became the ancestors of the tribes of Sumatra.

Si Jari Malay

[Finger Man]

a midget who outwitted a raksoso

Si Junaha Pacific Islands

a confidence trickster

He invented preposterous objects, such as a guitar which killed weeds when it was played, and traded them to offset his debts.

Si Luncai Malay

[Si Lunchai]

a peasant

He managed to escape when the king condemned him to death and,

by telling stories which convinced the king that he had been to heaven and returned to life, Si Luncai was allowed to marry the king's daughter.

Si Lunchai (see Si Luncai)

Si Raya Malay

in Java, Malaya, etc., the spirit which controls the seas from low-water mark to the middle of the ocean

Sia<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

a god of perception

He was one of the deities formed from the drops of blood that fell from Ra's penis when he mutilated himself and he travels with Ra in his boat.

Si'a<sup>2</sup> Phoenician

a minor goddess

siabhra Irish

sprites and elves collectively

Sialul

a demon associated with property

Siambuka East Indian

a Papuan creator-god

He came to earth and, forming a vagina in the first created woman, impregnated her so that she produced all living things.

Siarr Norse

[Sjarr]

one of the dwarfs

Siau Egyptian

[Sau]

a god, the personification of taste

Sib Anglo-Saxon

[=German Sippia]

a goddess

sibaso East Indian

a Sumatran shaman

Sibauk East Indian

a culture-hero of Sarawak

He is said to have climbed a tree which, in the early days of creation, had its roots at the top, planted in the sky, and met the souls of the dead in that celestial realm.

Sibech (see Sibich)

Sibeche (see Sibich)

Sibecke (see Sibich)

Sibhol (see Eire)

Sibich Norse

[Sibech(e).Sibecke]

a servant of King Ermenrich

He was sent with Randwer, the king's son, to escort Swanhild, betrothed to the king, to the royal palace. Sibich coveted the kingdom and plotted the death of the royal family so he lied to the king that Randwer had seduced Swanhild on the journey. The king had his son hanged and Swanhild trampled to death by horses.

In the Germanic stories, he was an adviser to Ermenrich but vowed vengeance when his wife said she had been insulted by the king during his absence. He told malicious stories about the king's eldest son and the king had him killed. Sibich then arranged for the second son to be drowned and, finally, told the king that his third son, Randwer, was having an affair with Swanhild, his step-mother. Ermenrich hanged his son and had Swanhild trampled to death by horses. Sibich was killed by Dietrich for his treachery.

(see also Bikki)

Sibilla European

a wife of Charlemagne mother of Loys

When she was found in bed with a dwarf, Charlemagne banished her and appointed Auberijn to escort her to the frontier. Macherijn, who lusted after her, attacked her party, killing Auberijn. Sibilla escaped and was sheltered by a farmer named Baroquel who later accompanied her on a journey to her home in Constantinople. They got as far as Hungary where Sibilla gave birth to a son, Loys, who was educated at the court of the king, also called Loys. In later years, she invaded Charlemagne's kingdom at the head of a large army and, when the pope intervened, she was restored to favour.

Sibillia
a fairy queen

Sibu Central American

a name for the Great Spirit in Panama

sibyl'

[sybil]

a prophetess: a sorceress: a witch

Sibyl' Greek

[Sibylla.Sybil]

a priestess of Apollo given the power of prophecy by that god

There were up to ten sibyls in various stories. The ten (with their emblems) are listed as the:

- Cumaean (cradle)
- Delphic (crown of thorns)
- European (sword)
- Erythraean (horn)
- Hellespont (T-cross)
- Libyan (lighted taper)
- Persian (dragon, lantern)
- Phrygian (banner, cross)
- Samian (rose)

Tiburine (dove)

Other lists include the Agrippine (whip) and Cimmerian (crown) sibyls.

Sibyl' Norse

[Sibylla.Sybil]

in some accounts, the early version of Sif

sibyl' Roman

[sybil]

in Roman myths, there was one (the Sibyl of Cumae), two, four, ten or twelve of these prophetesses

Sibyl of Cumae Roman

[Amalthea.Amphrysian Prophetess.

Cumaean Sibyl.Deiphobe.Demophile.

Erythraean Sibyl.Herophile]

an Italian prophetess

She was given the power of prophecy by Apollo who also granted her wish to live for as many years as the number of grains of sand she could hold in her hands. When she rejected his advances, he withheld the gift of youth so that she grew old and shrivelled and finally asked to be allowed to die.

She offered Tarquinius Priscus, king of Rome, the Sibylline Books, nine books of prophecies written on palm leaves, in return for half his fortune. When he declined, she burnt three of the books, made the same offer, then burnt another three and finally sold him the remaining three for the original price.

She advised Aeneas on his future when he arrived in Italy after the fall of Troy and guided him in the underworld to seek the advice of the ghost of his dead father.

Sibylla (see Siby<sup>1,2,3</sup>)

Sibylline Books Roman

9 books of prophecies written by the Sibyl of Cumae

(see also Sibyl of Cumae)

Sibzianna Mesopotamian

a name for Tammuz as a god of hunters and shepherds

Siculus (see Siculus)

Sichaeus (see Sychaeus)

Sicharbas (see Sychaeus)

Sicharbus (see Sychaeus)

Sichelm British

in Arthurian lore, a king of Norway

He left the throne to his nephew, Lot, but it was taken by Riculf instead. King Arthur invaded Norway, killed Riculf and installed Lot, Duke of Lothian as king.

Sicinus Greek

son of Thoas and Oenoe

sickle Greek

the symbol of Cronos

Sickness Woman (see Yama Enda)

Sicun North American

['thought'] one of the Godlike Spirits of the Sioux

an aspect of Wakan tanka

Sicunym Central American

a Mayan god of the underworld

Sicyon Greek

son of Pelops and Hippodamia

Siculus Greek

[Sicelus]

an ancestor of the people of Sicily

In some accounts, he was said to have built a city on the site of what was later Rome, before Aeneas arrived in Italy.

Sicyon Greek

son of Marathon

brother of Corinthus

His father shared his kingdom between Sicyon and his two sons.

sid' Irish

[sidh.siod; plur=sid(h)e]

a hill under which the Danaans lived after they were defeated by the Milesians: a mound-dwelling of the fairies (see also sidhe)

Sid' Irish

[=Welsh Annwfn.Caer Feddwid]

the underworld (see sidhe)

sida' (see si)

Sida' (see Sido)

Sidanu Mesopotamian

a Babylonian deity of sickness

Siddata (see Buddha'.Mahavira)

Siddha Hindu

[Sidha]

a demi-god

Some 88,000 of these beings, ruled by Vasvasu, are said to live in a realm somewhere between the earth and the sun and are regarded as mortals who have achieved perfection.

Siddha Sila Hindu

the heavenly home of the siddhas

Siddhaikaviramanjughosha Buddhist

[Sitamanjughosha]

one of the 4 aspects of Manjushri, the white one with a soft voice

Siddarta (see Mahavira.Siddartha)

Siddarth (see Mahavira.Siddartha)

Siddharth (see Mahavira Siddartha)

Siddhartha' Buddhist

[Siddarta.Siddarth.Siddata.Siddattha:

=Pali Siddhattha]

the personal name of Gautama

Siddhartha' Jain

[Siddarta.Siddarth.Siddata.Siddattha:

=Pali Siddhatt(h)a]

husband of Trishala
He became the 'father' of Mahavira when the boy, while still an embryo, was transferred from the womb of his real mother, Devananda, to Siddhartha's wife, Trishala.

Siddhatta Buddhist

[Siddhattha]
the Pali name for the Sanskrit Siddhartha

Siddhattha (see Mahavira.Siddhartha)

sidhhi<sup>1</sup> Greek

spiritual powers derived from meditation

Sidhhi<sup>2</sup> Hindu

['achievement']

a goddess of good fortune

a consort of Bhaga or Ganesha

She is sometimes depicted as seated on Ganesha's knee.

sidhu Hindu

an ascetic: religious instruction: a variety of yoga

Side<sup>1</sup> Greek

first wife of Orion

She was condemned to Tartarus by Zeus because the jealous Hera envied her beauty.

side<sup>2</sup> (see sid)

sidelock of youth (see Horus lock)

sidehill dodger (see gayascutus)

Sideng Irish

daughter of Mongan

In some accounts, she gave Finn mac Cool a marvellous weapon which consisted of a long chain with a stone on one end which he used to cut opponents in half.

Sidero Greek

a maid servant of Tyro

second wife of Cretheus, some say

second wife of Salmoneus, some say

When Alcidence died, Salmoneus married Sidero and she was very cruel to Tyro, her stepdaughter, who had abandoned the twins, Nelus and Pelias, she had borne to Poseidon.

In another version, Tyro married Cretheus who abandoned her when he found out about her affair with Poseidon and took Sidero, her maid, in her place. She was thereafter very cruel to Tyro and, when they were old enough, the twins exacted revenge by killing Sidero.

sideswiper (see gayascutus)

Sidfodir (see Sidfodr)

Sidfodr Norse

[Sidfodir]

Odin as god of victories

(see also Sigtyr)

sidh (see sid.sidhe)

Sidha (see Siddha)

sidhe Irish

[sing=shée.sid(h)]=Welsh Caer Feddwid]

a later name for side, the enchanted mounds

The people of the mounds were the aes sidhe and, and by extension, sidhe is used to mean 'fairies'. (see also sid)

sidhe goaiteq Irish

[goat side.seidean side]

the Irish version of the fairy wind

Sidin East Indian

a servant of Enggang

He released Rangkong, wife of Enggang, who had been shut in a tree by her husband.

Sidhottr Norse

a name for Odin referring to his broad hat (see also Breit-hut)

Sido East Indian

[Sida.Soido.Sosom.Souw:=New Zealand

Tawhaki]

a Papuan fertility-god

He shaped the earth, stocked the seas with fish and taught men to speak.

In one story, Sido was taught the art of shedding his skin like a snake, so achieving immortality, but he was once disturbed during the change and lost this power. His body died but his spirit survived to roam the earth until he married a mortal. At her death, his spirit first became a pig and then the pathfinder who leads the souls of the dead to the land of spirits.

As Sosum, he could cause the plants to grow merely by twirling his penis which made a noise like a bull-roarer.

Another version, in which he is Soido, says that he married a mortal woman who died at their first love-making but all the plants of the earth sprouted at the spot where she was buried. Soido later married another mortal, Pekai, and became the god of agriculture.

Some say that Sido was the first man to die and married Dirivo. From their union came all the plants of Adiri, the underworld, where they lived. Here he built a house, miles long, to accommodate all those who died after him. It was said that he could make fire by rubbing his teeth with wood.

In some accounts, Sido, Sosum and Soido are separate beings.

Sidonay (see Asmodeus)

Sidpa Bardo Tibetan

an after-death period, seeking rebirth

(see Bardo Thodol)

Sidrat European

[Liebgart]

daughter of Macheroll, king of Syria

wife of Ortnit

Ortnit fell in love with her when he saw a phantom image conjured up by the Fata Morgana. He set out to find her, and with the help of Albernich, sacked Tyre, besieged the fortress Muntabure, where she was held, and took her back to Lombardy. There she was baptised as a Christian, taking the name Liebgart, and married Ortnit.

Her father sent her, as a present, two eggs which, he said, would produce magic toads. She gave the eggs to the giantess Ruotze to care for and they hatched to produce monstrous dragons which ravaged the countryside. Ortnit was killed in an attempt to destroy the dragons and Sidrat was opposed by her nobles and reduced to penury, waiting patiently for the knight who, Ortnit had said, would one day arrive with his magic ring. This prediction came true when Wolfdietrich killed the dragons and claimed her hand.

Si'duku Siberian

a mother-goddess

daughter of Kutkhu

consort of Ti'zil Kutkhu

mother of Amle'i

Siduri Mesopotamian

[Sabatu.Siduru.Shidurri:

=Egyptian Tenemet]

a Babylonian goddess of brewing

a manifestation of Ishtar

She tried to persuade Gilgamesh to give up his search for immortality in favour of earthly pleasures and, when he refused, told him how to find Utnapishtim.

She is depicted as a serpent.

(see also Sitnapiishtim)

Siduru (see Siduri)

Siegdrifa Norse

[Sigdrifa]

a name for Brunhild as bringer

of victory

Siege of Troy (see Trojan War)

Siege Perilous (see Perilous Seat)

Siegelind (see Sieglinde)

Siegfried<sup>1</sup> German

[Sigfred.Sigfrid.Sigfrit]

a king of Moorland

husband of Ortrun

He was one of the suitors for the hand of Gudrun, daughter of Hettel and Hilde. While Herwig, another suitor, was away fighting Hettel for the right to marry Gudrun, Siegfried invaded his kingdom but made peace and joined forces with Herwig and Hettel when Hartmut carried off Gudrun. He later married Ortrun, Hartmut's sister.

Siegfried<sup>2</sup>German*

[Sigfred.Sigfrid.Sigfrit]

the Germanic version of the

Norse Sigurd

son of Siegmund and Sieglinde husband of Krimhild

father of Gunther

His mother died when he was a baby and he was raised by the dwarf Mime who was seeking a hero to kill the dragon Fafnir so that he could seize the treasure guarded by the dragon. He raised Siegfried to be such a hero and, armed with his father's Sword of Need which he had re-forged, Siegfried killed the dragon and took the treasure. When Mime tried to poison him, Siegfried killed the dwarf as well. The blood of the dragon made him invulnerable and gave him the power to understand the language of the birds and they told him of the plight of Brunhild. He sought her out on the mountain-top and found her surrounded by a wall of fire which parted to allow him to pass. He wakened her with a kiss and they fell in love. When he left her, Brunhild gave him her horse, Grani.

He met Gunther who was seeking a wife and rode back through the flames in the form of Gunther to woo Brunhild for the king, whom she married.

Siegfried married Gunther's sister, Gudrun, having been induced to take a drink that caused him to forget Brunhild. Hagen, half-brother of Gudrun, plotted to kill Siegfried to get from him the Ring of Power, part of the dragon's treasure, and stabbed him in the back. Brunhild, still in love with Siegfried, rode into the flames of his funeral pyre and tossed the Ring of Power into the Rhine. The Rhine-daughters rose on a huge wave which drowned Hagen as he tried to snatch the ring and swept the funeral pyre into oblivion.

In another version, after killing the dragon and acquiring the treasure, he married Krimhild. He also accompanied Gunther, her brother, on a visit to seek the hand of Brunhild who would marry only the man who could defeat her in a contest of spear-throwing and jumping. He used his magic Cloak of Invisibility to help Gunther win the contest and the hand of Brunhild. Siegfried later used the same cloak to help Gunther subdue his powerful bride who, thereafter, became a dutiful wife.

When Siegfried and Krimhild visited the court of Gunther, the two women quarrelled and Hagen plotted to avenge the perceived insult to Brunhild. He induced Gunther to invite Siegfried to help in repelling a purported invasion and, on a hunting trip, killed Siegfried by driving his spear into his only vulnerable spot, the spot between his shoulder-blades which had been covered by a leaf when he bathed in the blood of the dragon, Fafnir. (see also Siegmund)

Siegfried<sup>3</sup>German*

[Sifred.Sigfrid.Sigfrit]

son of Gunther and Brunhild

Siegfried<sup>4</sup>German*

one of the four Wagnerian operas based on the Nibelungenlied

This work tells of Siegfried's slaying of the dragon, Fafnir, and his meeting with Brunhild.

Sieglind(see Sieglinde)Sieglinde<sup>1</sup>Norse*

[Sieg(e)lind.Sigelint]

a childhood companion of Siegmund

daughter of Sigheer

wife of Hunding, some say

mother of Siegfried by Siegmund

In the Wagnerian story, she was carried off by a hunter and Siegmund vowed vengeance but could not find her.

Years later, she was restored to Siegmund but the hunter followed her and killed Siegmund in a duel when Odin intervened to break Siegmund's magic sword, the Sword of Need. Sieglinde was carried off to safety by Brunhild who gave her the pieces of the broken sword to keep in trust for her son.

She handed the baby to the dwarf, Mime, to be reared. (see also Signy<sup>1</sup>)

Sieglinde<sup>2</sup>Norse*

a niece of Hadburg

a swan-maiden

She prophesied death when Hagen saw her bathing as he was on his way to Etzel's court with Gunther.

SiegmundGerman*

[Sig(e)mund]

the Germanic version of the

Norse Sigmund

son of Odin

husband of Sieglinde

father of Siegfried

His beloved Sieglinde was carried off by a hunter and Siegmund vowed vengeance but could not find her. One day, exhausted, he took shelter in a hut where a maiden, who turned out to be Sieglinde, gave him food and drink. Here he found the Sword of Need, left by his father Odin against his hour of need, stuck into the trunk of the oak-tree which grew through the roof of the hut. He took the sword and fled with Sieglinde from the hut which was, in fact, the home of the hunter who had abducted Sieglinde years before.

Odin ordered Brunhild to help Siegmund in his fight with the hunter who followed the fleeing lovers and met Siegmund in a duel. He then changed his mind when Frigga asserted that justice demanded the return of the girl to the hunter and he intervened in the fight to break the Sword of Need so that the hunter was able to kill Siegmund. Odin then killed the hunter with a single glance.

(see also Siegmund)SielaBaltic*

the life-force

This force is said not to leave with the soul of the departed but is reincarnated in animals and plants.

SifNorse*

[Sibyl(la)]

a corn-goddess

one of the Asynjurr

second wife of Thor

mother of Lorrive, Thrud and Uller

In some accounts she was formerly Sibyl, a prophetess,

Her long golden hair was cut off and stolen (in some accounts, burnt off) by Loki. Thor caught him and would have strangled him had Loki not promised to restore the hair. The replacement, made from gold thread by the dwarf Dvalin, grew and was said to be even more beautiful than the original.

SifkaNorse*

a usurper

In Thidrekssaga, he seized power after the death of Erminrik but was defeated by Thidrek.

Sigar Norse

a king of Denmark
father of Signy

When Hagbard, Signy's lover, killed Sigar's sons, he had Hagbard executed.

Sigdrifa (see Siegdrifa)

Sige<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[=Akkadian Zi=:Sumerian Ziku]
a Babylonian mother-goddess: the primordial essence from which sprang Apon and Tauthe

Sige<sup>2</sup> (see Sigi)

Sigeband<sup>1</sup> German

a warrior serving with Dietrich von Bern

He was one of the party captured by Ermenrich.

Sigeband<sup>2</sup> Norse

a king of Denmark
father of Hagen

Sigeher German

an ancestor of Dietrich von Bern son of Dietwart

father of Ortnit and Sieglinde

He was the only one of Dietwart's children to survive. It was said that he, like his father, lived for 400 years, fathering thirty-one children of whom only two survived.

Sigelint (see Sieglinde)

Sigeminne German

[Rauch-Else]
a princess of Old Troy

She had been turned by magic into the bear-woman, Rauch-Else, but she was restored to her former self when Wolfdietrich promised to marry her. Later, she was carried off by the magician, Drusian, but her husband found them and rescued her and they lived happily together for some years until she died.

Sigemund (see Siegmund.Sigmund)

Sigenot German

a giant
brother of Grim

He vowed to avenge the death of his brother at the hand of Dietrich and captured him, putting him in chains in his mountain-top retreat. When Hildebrand came to look for Dietrich, Sigenot attacked him but was killed.

Sigensigdu Mesopotamian

Sumerian deities present at the creation of man by Enki

Sigfadr Norse

a name for Odin as 'father of victory'

Sigfred (see Siegfried)

Sigfrid (see Siegfried)

Sigfrit (see Siegfried)

Siggeir Norse

king of the Goths
husband of Signy

At his wedding to Signy, he failed to pull the sword Gram out of the oak tree, Branstock, where it had been planted by Odin, and became so jealous of Signy's twin brother, Sigmund, who succeeded and claimed the sword that he planned to kill the whole Volsung family. He invited them to his palace and, despite warnings of treachery, they accepted. The Goths ambushed them, killing Volsung and tying his sons to fallen trees in the forest where they were left to their fate. All except Sigmund were eaten by wolves.

Sigi Norse

[Sige]

a king of Franconia
son of Odin
father of Rerir

He was made an outlaw when, from jealousy over the spoils of the hunt, he killed another hunter, Bredi. Odin provided him with a ship so that, with a band of followers, he could raid adjoining lands and he eventually conquered the lands of the Huns. He was killed by his wife's relatives but they, in turn, were killed by Rerir who took over his father's throne.

Sigillaria Roman

the latter part of the Saturnalia

Sigird (see Sigurd)

Sigiri Buddhist

a temple in Ceylon, carved out of the rock, in the shape of a lion

Sigmund<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Siegmund.Sigemund.Sigmundr]

son of Volsung

twin brother of Signy

husband of Borghild and Hiordis

father of Hamond and Helgi by Borghild

father of Sigurd by Hiordis

father of Sinfiotli by Signy

At the wedding of his sister Signy to the Goth Siggeir, he was the only one able to draw the sword Gram that Odin had planted in the oak, Branstock.

In envy, Siggeir plotted to kill the whole Volsung family for their wealth and possessions and when the family paid a visit to the land of the Goths they were ambushed. Volsung was killed and his sons were captured and tied to fallen trees in the forest to await death. All except Sigmund were devoured by wolves. Signy managed to have one of her attendants spread honey over Sigmund's face so that, when a wolf came and licked the honey, Sigmund seized its tongue in his teeth and, in the struggle to kill the wolf, broke his bonds. He built a hut in the forest and worked as a smith, plotting revenge. Signy, also seeking to avenge the death of her father and brothers, sent Sigmund two of her sons by Siggeir to help her brother but they proved useless and finally she disguised herself and slept with her brother producing a son, Sinfiotli, who was worthy of the task.

Sigmund raised the boy in the warrior tradition. When they discovered two werewolves asleep they took their skins and rampaged through the forest killing everything they came upon and finally fought each other. Sigmund killed his son but, by the intervention of the gods, restored him to life with a magic herb. He then told his son what they had to do and they both hid in Siggeir's palace but were betrayed by the sons of Siggeir who were promptly killed by Sinfiotli. Overpowered by the numbers of Goths, they were buried alive in tombs from which they escaped with the help of Sigmund's magic sword Gram, which Signy managed to smuggle to them. Once free, they set fire to the palace, destroying all inside except the women. Signy, however, entered the burning building and died with her husband in true Norse tradition.

Father and son then returned to Hunaland where Sigmund married Borghild and fathered two more sons, Hamond and Helgi. When Borghild poisoned Sinfiotli, Sigmund deposed her and married Hiordis whose unsuccessful suitor, Lygni, then led an army against Sigmund. In the ensuing battle, Odin appeared and shattered Sigmund's magic sword. Deprived of any means of defence, Sigmund was killed but used his dying breath to instruct Hiordis to collect the broken pieces of his sword and save them for his son, soon to be born. The victorious Lygni took over Sigmund's kingdom.

In the Germanic version, Sigmund becomes Siegmund and Sigurd, his son by Hiordis, becomes Siegfried.

(see also Siegmund)

Sigmund<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Siegmund.Sigemund.Sigmundr]

son of Thorkeil
He was killed by Glum who quarrelled with Sigmund's father over a piece of land.

Sigmundr (see Sigmund)

Sign Master (see Koto-shiro-nushi)

signaduri European

Corsican sorcerers said to be able to deploy the evil eye

Signe<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Signe-Alweig]
a swan-maiden
wife of Halfdan

Signe<sup>2</sup> (see Sigyn)

Signe-Alweig (see Signe<sup>1</sup>)

Signy<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Sygny]
goddess of the dawn daughter of Volsung
twin sister of Sigmund wife of Siggeir
mother of Sinfiotli

She married Siggeir, whom she despised for his puny stature and grim nature, without seeing him before the wedding. At the wedding, Odin appeared in disguise and planted a sword in the oak, Branstock. All tried to draw it from the tree but only Sigmund succeeded.

When Siggeir killed her father and all her brothers with the exception of Sigmund, she plotted to have him killed by Sigmund and another of the same blood. She sent two of her children by Siggeir to Sigmund to help in the task but they proved useless so she disguised herself and slept with her brother, producing a son, Sinfiotli, who, when old enough, helped his father to kill all Siggeir's children and Siggeir himself by shutting him in the palace and setting it alight. Signy then entered the burning building and died with her husband. (see also Sieglinde)

Signy<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Sygny]
daughter of Siga, king of Denmark
When her lover, Hagbard, was executed for killing her brothers, she killed herself.

Signy<sup>3</sup> (see Sigyn)

Sigrdrifa (see Siegrifa)

Sigrun Norse

a Valkyrie
daughter of Hogni, some say
She was said to be Svava re-born.

She was herself re-born as the Valkyrie, Kara. (see also Kara.Svava)

Sigtuna Norse

a city in Sweden

When Odin spent some time on earth, Gylfi, the king of Sweden, gave him land on which to build a new city and temple.

Sigtyr Norse

[Sygtyr]
a name of Odin as god of victory (see Sidfodr)

Sigu South American

ruler of animals
son of Aimon Kondi

When the flood came he saved the animals by herding them into a cave and himself by climbing a tree.

Siguna (see Sigyn)

Sigune British

daughter of Josiane
cousin of Percival, in some accounts
Her mother died when Sigune was born and the child was raised by Josiane's sister, Herzloyde, together with another orphan, Schionatulander, whom she later married.

When Percival was en route to the Grail Castle he met Sigune carrying the body of her dead husband who had been killed by the Red Knight. Percival avenged his death by killing the Red Knight and Sigune became a recluse.

Sigurd' Norse

[Fafnisbani.Sigird.Sigurdr.Sigurthr:

=German Siegfried]
son of Sigmund and Hiordis husband of Gudrun
father of Aslaug and Swanhild

He was born after the death of his father in the battle with Lygni in which Sigmund's magic sword, Balmung, was shattered by Odin and after his mother, Hiordis, had remarried to Elf, king of the Vikings who treated him as his own son. He was tutored in all the manly arts by Regin and, at maturity, was given the horse, Grane.

It was Regin who told Sigurd the story of how Loki had killed his brother Otter and then forced Andvari to hand over his hoard of gold to pay the ransom demanded by their father, Hreidmar, and how his other brother, Fafnir, had killed their father for the treasure and turned himself into a monstrous serpent to guard it. He then persuaded Sigurd to seek out the monster and kill it. Sigurd agreed provided that Regin would make him an unbreakable sword. Two made by Regin broke when tested and they finally forged together the pieces of Sigmund's sword which Hiordis had saved and which proved capable of slicing through an anvil.

On the voyage back to Hunaland he picked up a man who was walking on the surface of the sea and who said his name was Feng. He was really Odin in disguise and he taught Sigurd how to look out for and recognise auspicious signs.

He killed Lygni to reclaim his father's throne and then set out with Regin to kill Fafnir. Again Odin appeared to him, this time advising Sigurd to dig a trench in the route used by the dragon on its way to drink. Hidden in the trench, Sigurd was able to strike at the dragon's heart as it slithered overhead. At Regin's behest, he cut out and cooked the dragon's heart and found when he tasted it that he could hear the language of the birds who warned him that Regin was planning mischief. He killed Regin, ate the heart and blood of Fafnir, seized the Helmet of Dread and the magic ring, Andvaranaut and as much of the gold as he could carry. The birds then told him of the plight of Brunhild so he rode off to where she was imprisoned within a wall of flame on the Hindarfiall. His horse, Grane, took him straight through the flames to the palace where Brunhild, clad in armour, lay in a trance. When he removed the armour, she awoke and immediately fell in love with her saviour. She had been a Valkyrie and had been banished from Valhalla for dis-obeying the wishes of Odin. Sigurd gave her the ring Andvaranaut in betrothal. In one version, they married and had a daughter, Aslaug, who was reared by Brunhild's father, but more usually it is said that Sigurd left her after a few days to seek further adventures abroad.

In the land of the Nibelungs he was entertained by Giuki and Grimhild, the king and queen, who had three sons, Gunnar, Guttorm and Hogni, and one daughter, Gudrun, with whom Sigurd fell in love and married. He also became the blood-brother of Gunnar and Hogni. Later, when Gunnar became king in succession to his father and wanted to claim Brunhild as his bride, his horse refused to carry him through the flames so Sigurd took on the appearance of Gunnar, rode once again through the flaming barrier and spent three days with Brunhild, wooing her as Gunnar. He retrieved the ring he had given her, replacing it with a ring from Gunnar and later gave Andvaranaut to Gudrun.

Brunhild married Gunnar but was bitter at the trick played on her by Sigurd whom she still loved. When she quarrelled with Gudrun over Sigurd, she asked her husband to kill Sigurd. Both he and Hogni were bound by their blood-oaths but Guttorm was not so bound and he stabbed Sigurd in the back with a spear. Sigurd killed his murderer using his last ounce of strength to throw his sword which cut Guttorm in half. Brunhild, full of remorse, stabbed herself and was burned alongside Sigurd on his funeral pyre. In another version, she rode her horse through the flames of his pyre to perish at his side. (see also Siegfried)

Sigurd<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Hringr.Ring.Sigird]

a king of Sweden

He fought Harald, king of Denmark, who was defeated when Odin intervened and killed the Danish king.

Sigurd<sup>3</sup> Norse

[Sigird]

son of Ragnar Lodbrok and Aslaug
brother of Biorn, Hvitserk, Ivar
and Rogenwald

Sigurd Ring Norse

king of Ringric

husband of Alfild and Ingeborg

father of Ragnar Lodbrok by Alfild

His first wife, and mother of his son Ragnar, was Alfild.

Another version says that he asked Helgé and Halfdan for the hand of their sister, Ingeborg, and, when Halfdan joked about his great age, he sent in his army. When Frithiof refused to help the co-kings to defend their kingdom, they signed a treaty with Sigmund Ring under which they paid an annual tribute and gave him Ingeborg, as wife.

At an advanced age, he fell in love with the princess Alfsol but her parents refused to sanction the match. When Sigurd tried to take Alfsol by force, her father poisoned her. Sigmund was so grief-stricken that he jumped aboard the ship in which her funeral pyre was built, stabbed himself and died with her.

Sigurd the Snake-eyed Norse

son of Ragnar Lodbrok and Aslaug

He was fostered with the pirate, Hastings, who taught him the arts of war.

Sigurd the Volsung British

a 19th c poem by William Morris,
in 4 books, Brynhild, Gudrun,

Regin and Sigmund

Sigurdr (see Sigurd)

Sigurthr (see Sigurd)

Signyn Norse

[Signe.Signy.Siguna]

the third wife of Loki

mother of Narve and Vali

When Loki was imprisoned in a cave for plotting the death of Balder, she sat beside him and caught in a cup the venom that constantly dripped on to his face from the jaws of the huge serpent above his head.

Sihai East Indian

a wind-god

In some accounts, Sihai was the first man, made by the god Sirao. The moon and sun came from his eyes and the world-tree grew from his heart.

Sihon

an evil demon, said to be king of the Amorites

sihr Arab

sorcery: magic

Sijobang (see Anggun Nan Tungga)

Sikandari African

the Swahili name for Alexander the Great

Sikantapatowada Thai

one of the sky-lords, the Thens

He came to earth when the flood waters receded to instruct the new race in the arts of music and dance.

Sikhandin Hindu

one of the vidyavasaras

an aspect of Shiva

Sikhi Buddhist

one of the 7 manushibuddhas

Sikhin Tibetan

a Buddhist god of medicine

one of the sMan-bla

Sikis Mesopotamian

a Babylonian deity

sikla bird South American

in the lore of the Indians of Honduras and Nicaragua,

the bird which tends the boiling pot, Sakaldakama, in

the underworld

Siksawp Burmese

a female spirit of heaven

consort of Hkrip Hkrawp

mother of Chanum, Ngawn-wa-

Mogam and Woi-shun

Sikulokobuzuka (see Chilube)

sikun North American

a supernatural power for good or evil

Sikuna-bikona (see Sukunu-biko)

Sila<sup>1</sup> Inuit

[Air Spirit.Sila Inua.Silap Inna]

one of the 3 spirits

controlling the forces of

nature

Sila lives in the sky and controls rain and snow.

Sila<sup>2</sup> Jain

a heaven for perfect souls

This realm, in the shape of a conch-shell, lies just above the paradise Isatpragbhara.

si'la (see ghul)

Sila Inua (see Sila<sup>1</sup>)

Silap Inna (see Sila<sup>1</sup>)

Silaparamita (see Shila)

Silappadikaram Hindu

a Tamil name for Balarama husband of Korraval

Silas (see Silvan)

Silat Muslim

a lightning-jinn: a she-devil living in the forest

Silcharde

a demon

Sile na gCioch (see Sheela Na Gig)

Sileinos (see Silenus)

Silen (see Silenus)

Silene (see Silenus<sup>2</sup>)

Sileni (see Silenus<sup>2</sup>)

Silent Country Pacific Islands

in the lore of the Cook Islands, a realm on the bottom of the primordial ocean

Silent One North American

a Hopi rain-god

Silent, The (see Vidar)

Silenus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Papposilenus.S(e)ilinus.S(e)ileinos.

Silen:=Roman Silenus]

a satyr

king of Nysa

son of Pan or of Hermes by Calypso son of Gaea, some say

father of Pholus

A fat, jovial fellow who rode on a donkey because he was usually too drunk to walk. He was the tutor and friend of Dionysus.

He was once captured by Midas who tried to extract from him the secret of life.

- Silenus<sup>2</sup> Greek
[S(e)ilinus.S(e)ileinos.Silen:
plur=Silene.S(e)ileni]
one of a race of beings, part horse,
part man, who unlike the Centaurs, had horses' ears and walked on 2
feet
- Silewe Nazarata East Indian
a goddess
wife of Lowalangi
Some say that she lives on the moon.
- Silfrintoppr (see Silvertop)
Silik Mulu-khi Mesopotamian
a Sumerian deity of healing son of Ea
- Silili Mesopotamian
the Babylonian celestial mare from which all horses are descended
- Siliniets Polish
a forest deity
- Silkisif Norse
a queen of Heliopolis
When Yngvarr arrived at her court during his epic search for the source of a Russian river, she offered to share her throne with him. Yngvarr rejected the offer, preferring to continue his search, but in later years his son, Sveinn, followed much the same route and married Silkisif.
- Silkworm Maiden (see Ts'an Nü) Silliam Aipane Inuit
the home of the dead: the house of winds
- Silliam Innua Inuit
a deity, ruler of the winds
- silkie (see selkie)
- Siloo Pacific Islands
sister of Dapie
- Siltim Persian
a malevolent forest-demon
- siluman East Indian a spirit, in Javanese lore
- Silvan Roman
[Silas.Silvanus.Sylvan(us)] god of agriculture and woods half man, half goat
In some accounts he was the son of Crathis, others say he was the son of Picus or Mars.
Some accounts identify him with Faunus, Mars or the Greek Pan, others with Cocidius. (see also Silvani)
- Silvani Roman [Silvanae:=Greek satyrs]
deities of agriculture and woods
It was said that each estate had three such guardian deities, one each for the house, the boundaries and the workers.
- Silvanus (see Silvan)
- Silver Circle (see Aranhod)
- Silver Cloud (see Argadnel)
- Silver Mountain (see Mount Kailasa)
- Silver Roan Russian
a magical horse given to Ivan the Fool by his dead father for guarding his grave
- Silvertop Norse
[Silfrintoppr]
a horse of the gods
- Silvester Irish
a hero of a voyage to many strange places with Emne and Lochan
- silvestres
elementals, spirits of the air,
in some accounts
- Silvia (see Rhea Silvia)
- Silvius Roman
[Sylvius]
first king of Alba Longa grandson of Aeneas, some say son of Ascanius brother of Iulus
father of Brutus
He usurped the throne of his brother, Iulus.
It had been prophesied that Brutus would kill both his parents. His mother, a cousin of Silvius, died after three days in labour when the boy was born and, when he was fifteen, Brutus accidentally shot and killed Silvius when they were out hunting.
Brutus was banished and sailed with a group of Trojans to Britain.
In some accounts, Silvius was the son of Aeneas and Lavinia.
- Simaethis Greek
[Symaethis]
a nymph
mother of Acis by Pan, some say
- Simandamanjughosha
(see Simha-nadamanjushri)
- simargh (see sinam)
- simarghu Persian [simorg:=Russian simarglu]
a winged dragon
This beast, invisible to human eyes, guarded the tree of life, one which produced seeds for all the other plants.
(see also simurgh)
- simarglu Russian
the Russian equivalent of the Persian simarghu
- Simbi West Indian
a Haitian river-snake god, god of rain
- Simbumba African
a Swahili ancestor
brother of Kanisimbo
- He was one of the people who descended from heaven in a ship with Faro.
- Simbu African
father of Nduala
In the lore of the Banyoro, he appeared as a stranger to the princess Nyina Mweru and disappeared again, leaving her pregnant.
- Simha Hindu
one of the signs of the Zodiac,
Leo the lion
- Simha-nadamanjushri
(see Simhanada)
- Simha-Rathi Hindu
a name for Devi or Durga riding a lion
- Simha Sana Buddhist
the lotus throne of Avalokiteshvara supported by lions
- Simha-Vahini Hindu
a name for Devi, Durga, Kali or Uma riding on a lion
- Simha-Vaktra Buddhist
a goddess of the air
one of the Dakinis
She is depicted as having the head of a lion.
- Simhala Cambodian
a merchant
When his ship was wrecked on an island where he was in danger from the rakshasas, Lokeshvara turned himself into a horse and carried the merchant to safety.
- Simhanada Buddhist
[Simandamanjughosha.
Simha-nadamanjushri]
a name for Manjushri as 'lion-voiced'
one of the 4 aspects of Manjushri
- Simhanara Lokeshvara Cambodian
a name for Avalokiteshvara with 5 buddhas emanating from his body
- Simi Mesopotamian
[Seimia.Shima.Shimi]
a Syrian goddess of fate
- Simias Irish
[Semias]
a wizard
He was the ruler of the mythical city of Murias and provided the Danaans with the magic cauldron of the Dagda.
- Simigi Mesopotamian
[=Armenian Sivini=Hittite Istanbul =Urartian Siwin]
a Hurrian sun-god
- Simild (see Kunhild)
- Similte (see Kunhild)
- Simmas (see Simmos)

Simmos Mesopotamian

[Simmas]
a shepherd
He found and reared the infant Semiramis.

Simoeis Greek

[Simois]
a river-god of Troy
father of Astyoche

Simois *(see Simoeis)Simon Breac Irish

son of Starn
After the Fomoiré defeated the invading Nemedians, Simon and his followers went to Greece. Here they became slaves and were regarded as the ancestors of the Fir Bolg, later invaders of Ireland.

Simon Magus<sup>1</sup> Canaanite

[Simon the Magician]
a Samaritan sorcerer

He is alleged to have flown above the throng in Rome where Peter, worried that this magical feat might make the people believe that Simon had divine powers, prayed to God who caused the sorcerer to fall to the ground, breaking his leg in three places.

In another story, he volunteered to be buried alive, proposing to reappear after three days. He was never seen again.

Simon Magus<sup>2</sup> Irish

a sorcerer
In Irish myth, his sons raped Tlachtga, a goddess and druidess, who produced three sons, each with a different father.

Simonides Greek

a poet
he wrote The Lamentation of Danae
Delivering a panegyric to Scopas, king of Thessaly, he included references to Castor and Polydeuces. The king paid him a half-fee and told him to look to the twins for the other half. Told that two young men on horseback were waiting to see him, he left the building minutes before the roof fell in. The horsemen, said to be Castor and Polydeuces, had disappeared.

simorg *(see simarghu.simurgh)Si'mskalin Siberian

a guardian god
son of Kutkhu

simul Norse

a pole or yoke
This is the pole used by Hiuki and Bil for carrying the bucket, Saegir.

simurg *(see simurgh)simurgh<sup>1</sup> Persian

[akra.samru.simorg.simurg.sinurgh:
=Arab anqa.roc.=Russian sinam(ru)]
a fabulous bird

This huge bird, which lived on Mount Alburz, was said to have rescued the god Zal when he was abandoned as a baby by his parents. In some accounts, it lived for 1,700 years and burned to death when its young hatched.

In one account, all the birds set out to look for the mysterious simurgh but only thirty survived the long search. These remaining birds merged into one, becoming the simurgh.

In the Avesta, one such bird is known as Saena Meregha (dragon-peacock). (see also phoenix.saena.senmerv.simarghu)

simurgh<sup>2</sup> Persian

in some accounts, a secret name for god

simyr *(see sinam)Sin<sup>1</sup> Arab

a pre-Islamic moon-god and god of wealth

Sin<sup>2</sup> Irish

[Maine Maghor]
son of Ailill and Maev
He was one of seven sons all known as Maine.

He went to woo the maiden, Fearbh, and when Conor mac Nessa heard of his presence he attacked her father's house. Despite the intervention of Maev, Conor won the battle and sacked the house, killing Sin.

Sin<sup>3</sup> Irish

a sorceress
She beguiled the king, Muirheartach, persuaded him to put aside his wife, Duaibhseach, and took her place. By conjuring up hosts of warriors for him to slaughter, she gradually weakened him and finally brought about his death. She later confessed that she had done it all to avenge the death of her family at the hands of the king and died of grief.

Sin<sup>4</sup> Mesopotamian

[Ma.Magar.Magula-Anna.Suen.Udsar: =Assyrian Suin.=Sumerian Nanna]
a Babylonian moon-god
a name for Marduk as 'ruler of the night' father of Ishtar, some say

Sin<sup>5</sup> Norse

[Syn(ia)]
a goddess of truth, attendant on Frigga
It was her duty to guard the entrance to Frigga's palace.

Sin<sup>6</sup> North American

a sky-god of the Haida
people

He was found as a baby inside a cockle-shell and grew very quickly. The chief's daughter who found him was Fine-weather Woman and she was given the power to cause storms simply by loosening her robe.

Sin became a fine hunter but, one day, he put on the skin, first of a wren, then of a blue-jay and finally of a kingfisher, soaring above the sea in each of these guises before finally disappearing into the heavens.

Sin<sup>7</sup> *(see Nanna<sup>1</sup>)Sin-liki-innuni Mesopotamian

the author of the Chaldaean epic of Gisdhubar

sin-yoo Japanese

a celestial sheep or unicorn
This animal acts as a judge of humans, punishing the guilty. (see also kirin)

Sina Pacific Islands

[Ma Sina.=Hervey Islands Ina: =Tahitian Hina]
the tropic bird
a Samoan moon-goddess sister of Maui
wife of Pili

She and Pili had five children who became the ancestors of the Polynesians.

Another story says that she was raped by Te Tuna in the form of an eel, a crime for which he was executed. His decapitated head was buried on the beach and from it grew the first coconut palm.

Sina Kwaw Pacific Islands

a culture-hero in the Solomon Islands
brother of Gwan Meo

These two heroes, known as the Red Heads, were regarded as children of the sun and were credited with the slaying of many monsters and bringing food, magic and other benefits to their people. They were said to have led a band of their followers by sea to inhabit the Solomon Islands and are now worshipped as war-spirits.

Sinaa South American

a creator and jaguar-ancestor of the Juruna Indians
son of Duca

He was born of a jaguar, Duca, and a woman and his eyes were in the back of his head. He could remove his skin and rejuvenate himself by taking a bath.

He is said to have created the world, propping up the sky on a stick.

He visited Uaica in dreams and told him how to make life better for the Juruna.

The world will end when he removes the stick that holds up the heavens.

Sinainn (see Sionan)

sinam Russian

[simargh.simyr.sinamru:=Arab Roc:

=Persian simurgh]

a huge bird

sinamru (see sinam)

Sinann (see Sionan)

Sinchi Roca South American

a legendary Inca king

His mother spread a rumour that the sun-god was about to send a new king so that, when she produced her son, Sinchi Roca, dressed in fine garments, emerging from a cave, he was accepted as king.

Some stories say he was the first Inca king.

Sinbad Arab

[Sinbad the Sailor]

a voyager, hero of The Arabian Nights

In one story he was carried by a rukh to a valley of diamonds where he collected as many as he could carry. He then tied himself to the rukh and was carried to its nest. Sinbad was rescued by a merchant before the huge bird could eat him and the two of them shared the diamonds.

Sinbuck

a demon

Sindhu Hindu

a river-goddess

Sindolt German

a warrior at Gunther's court

Sindre (see Sindri)

Sindri<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Sindr]

a dwarf

brother of Brock

When Loki persuaded Dvalin to make a replacement for the long golden hair of Sif that Loki had stolen, Brock, Sindri's brother, wagered that Sindri was a better craftsman than Dvalin, the loser to forfeit his head. Sindri fashioned the golden boar Gullinbursti, the magic ring Draupnir and the magic hammer Mjolnir. He later became king of the dwarfs.

Sindri<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Sindre]

a race of dwarfs, descendants of Sindri

Sindri<sup>3</sup> Norse

the golden hall of the dwarfs after Ragnarok

Sindur Norse

a giantess

She was one of the nine wave-maidens said to have simultaneously given birth to Heimdall, fathered by Odin.

Sineach Cro Irish

a woman who acted as foster-mother to Diarmaid mac Aodha Slaine

Sinebomatu Pacific Islands

[Woman of the North-east Wind]

keeper of the Melanesian afterworld, Bwebweso

wife of Kekewage

She and her husband care for the spirits of dead children until their parents also die and can take over.

Sinend (see Sionan)

Sinfjol (see Sinfiotli)

Sinfiotli Norse

[Sinfjol.Sinfjotli]

son of Sigmund and Signy

He was born of an incestuous liaison to provide a worthy helper for Sigmund in his efforts to exact vengeance on Siggeir, Signy's husband, who had treacherously killed her father, Volsung, and tied her four brothers to fallen trees in the forest where all except Sigmund were eaten by wolves. Sigmund trained the boy in the arts of the warrior and on one occasion they donned the skins of werewolves and rampaged through the forest killing all in their path, after which they fought each other and Sinfiotli was killed. The gods intervened and Sigmund was able to restore his son to life with the aid of a magic herb.

When they hid in Siggeir's palace they were betrayed by Siggeir's sons who were promptly killed by Sinfiotli. He and his father were overpowered and buried alive in stone tombs but escaped with the help of Sigmund's magic sword, Balmung, which Signy managed to smuggle to them. They then set fire to the palace, killing all inside except the women. Signy refused safe passage and died with her husband.

They then returned to Hunaland where Sigmund married Borghild. Her brother quarrelled with Sinfiotli and was killed. Borghild poisoned Sinfiotli and Sigmund carried the body of his dead son to the shore where Odin received it into his boat and sailed off into the west.

Sinfjotli (see Sinfiotli)

singa Pacific Islands

in Bali, an image of Agni in the form of a winged lion

Singala Arab

a local god

Singalang Burong East Indian

a Dayak bird-god, progenitor of the tribe

Singbanga Indian

[=Ho Sirma Thakur]

a supreme god of the Munda people

Singhalaputra Buddhist

[Son of the Lion:=Chinese

Shih-tzu-pi-ch'iu]

one of the Eighteen Lohan, in some accounts

He was originally an Indian Brahmin who became a Buddhist and a leader of that faith who was executed when he upset some officials of the court.

He is depicted standing and holding a staff.

Sinh Burmese

a cat

This animal shared daily worship with his master, the chief priest Mun-Ha, in front of the statue of the goddess Tsu-Kyan-Kse. When the priest was killed, the cat climbed on to his shoulders and looked hard into the face of the statue. The cat's yellow eyes became blue, like those of the goddess, and the white fur became the brown and gold of the present day Birman cat.

Sinhanada Tibetan

a Buddhist god of medicine an aspect of Avalokiteshvara one of the sMan-bla

Sini Norse

a horse of the gods

Sinis Greek

[Pinebender.Pityocampes.Sinnis]

son of Procrustes

father of Perigune

He was an outlaw who killed travellers by tying them to a pine tree bent to the ground and hurling them into the air when the tree was released, or to two trees which tore the victims apart. Theseus killed him by the same method.

Sinivali Hindu

a moon-goddess and goddess of good fortune

Sinlap Burmese

one of the first nats, created by

Chinum Way Shun

a giver of wisdom

Sinmora Norse
wife of Sutrur

She owned the sword which could kill the cock Gullinkambi.

Sinner King, The (see Le Roi Pêcheur)

Sinner Lord (see Chevalier Mal Fet)

Sinnis (see Sinis)

Sinon Greek

a Greek soldier at Troy

son of Sisyphus, some say

Sinon was left on shore when the Greeks apparently sailed from Troy and it was he who convinced the Trojans that they should take the wooden horse into the city and lit the beacon which summoned the Greeks back.

Sinopa North American

an Algonquian girl

sister of Bearskin Woman and

Okinai

Her elder sister married a grizzly bear which was killed by her angry family. She then became a bear and killed all her people except Sinopa and her six brothers who were away on a hunting trip. To escape death at the hands of the bear-woman, Okinai, the eldest brother, shot arrows carrying Sinopa and her other brothers high into the sky. They became the constellation known as the Great Bear.

Sinope Greek

a nymph

When Apollo made advances to her, she asked a single favour before accepting him. When the god agreed, she asked to be allowed to remain a virgin all her life.

Sins Sga'nagwai North American

a supreme god of the Haida

Indians

Sinsar Irish

[King of the World.Sinsar]

father of Borba

He took a large force to Ireland to help Midac in his struggle with the Fianna. Midac trapped Finn mac Cool and some of the Fianna in the Quicken Trees Hostel but the ford leading to the hostel was held by Dermot, Innsa, Fiachna and Fotla and successive waves of attackers were slaughtered. Finally, Sinsar himself gathered the remaining warriors and led an attack on the defenders of the ford. The rest of the Fianna reached the ford at about the same time and a great battle ensued. Sinsar was killed by Oscar and the invaders fled when they saw their king go down.

(see also Daire Donn)

Sinsear (see Sinsar)

Sinta East Indian

[Dewi Shri:=Hindu Sita]

the Javanese version of Sita

wife of Wisnu

mother of Watu Gunung

She was carried off by the demon Rawana but Rama and Hanuman came to her rescue.

In one story, she inadvertently married her own son, Watu Gunung.

Sinthgunt Norse

brother of Sunna

Sintram German

a knight

He became a devoted follower of Dietrich von Bern when the hero rescued him from a dragon.

Sintu (see Shinto)

sinurgh (see simurgh)

Sio Calakoq North American

a Hopi giant

Sio Humis North American

a Hopi rain-god

siod (see sid)

Sioda Irish

mother of Eoghan Mor by Ailill

Olom

siodbrad (see corpan side)

Siofn Norse

[Sjofn(a)]

a goddess of love, attendant on Frigga

sioga (see si?)

Sionan Irish

[Sina(i)nn.Sinend]

a river-goddess

daughter of Lodan

When she visited the Well of Knowledge in defiance of the prohibition on such visits, the water rose up and flooded over. She ran westwards but the water overtook her and she drowned. The course which the water followed became the Shannon.

Siosire Egyptian

a sorcerer-prince

son of Setna

He claimed to be the ancient sorcerer, Horus, son of Paneshe, and was known for defeating a Nubian sorcerer in a contest of magic.

Siovili Pacific Islands

chief priest of an eponymous cult founded in Samoa

Sipa Khorlo Buddhist

the Tibetan Wheel of Life

This is a device with three circles setting out the cycle of existence, etc.

The outer circle has twelve scenes which illustrate the reasons for rebirth such as ignorance, covetousness and similar vices. The second wheel has six triangles, each of which deals with one of the various realms, given as Chayula (home of the gods), Lamayin (home of demi-gods), Miyul (home of mankind), Yiddak (home of ghosts), Gholsong (home of animals) and Nyalwa (the underworld).

The third, innermost, circle portrays the three worlds of passion using a cock to portray desire or lust, a pig for ignorance or sloth and a snake for anger or hatred.

Sipapu North American

the hole or cave from which the ancestors of the Shoshone or Zuni

Indians emerged

By extension, this name is applied to the hole in the floor of the kiva, the underground ceremonial room.

sipar Hindu

a shield, one of the weapons of Durga

Sipe Pacific Islands

a magician in the Marianas

brother of Saupe

To honour their ancestor, the deity Lugellan, the brothers instituted festivals and built monuments, causing stones to fly into position by magic.

Sipe Gyalmo Tibetan

[Sipe Gyalmo]

a Bon mother-goddess

She is depicted with three eyes and six arms, riding a red mule.

Sipe Gyalmo (see Sipe Gyalmo)

siposo African

a mythical missile wielded by a sorcerer in Zambia

Sippia German

[=Anglo-Saxon Sib]

a goddess

Sipra Indian

a sacred river

Sipylene Mesopotamian

an Anatolian mother-goddess

Sir Gawain and Carl of Carlisle

British

a 15th c story of the encounter between Gawain and Carl

Sir Gawain and the Green Knight

British

a 15th c poem relating the encounter between Gawain and Bercilak de

Hautdesert

(see Green Knight)

Sir Perceval de Galles British

a 14th c story about the adventures of Percival

Sir-syv-kten (see Sir-syv-kudegen)

Sir-syv-kudegen Russian

[Sir-syv-kten]

a fertility deity of the Chuvash people

Sirao East Indian

a creator-god

Sirara Mesopotamian

a Babylonian and Sumerian goddess

Enki put her in charge of the Persian Gulf.

Sirash (see Siris)

Sirat (see Al sirat)

Sirat Bani Hilali Arab

a collection of stories of heroes

Siren Greek

[ˈbinderːplur=S(e)irenes]

a monster, part woman, part seabird

In some accounts the sirens were the daughters of Phorcus and Calliope or Ceto while others say that they were fathered by Achelous or Phorcus on either Melpomene or Terpsichore. The number and names of the group vary from one story to another and may be given as Himeropa and Thelxiepeia; Leucosia, Ligea and Parthenope; Aglaophone, Molpe, Peisinoe and Thelxiepeia.

They were originally winged beings but, when they were defeated by the Muses in a music competition, they lost their wings and took to the sea, living on the island of Anthemoessa, where their songs charmed the crews of passing ships and lured them on to the rocks.

Others say that they were originally maidens attendant on Core who were changed into the form of sirens for failing to prevent Core's abduction by Hades.

In some accounts, when they failed to seduce Odysseus and his crew, they jumped into the sea and were drowned while others say that when they failed to seduce the Argonauts, being outsung by Orpheus, they jumped into the sea and were turned into rocks.

They are usually depicted as birds with human faces.

Sirene, La African

consort of Agwé

sirenes (see siren)

Sirens, The English

a long ode by R. L. Binyon published in 1924

Siriadic Columns Egyptian

2 columns built by Thoth

These columns, one brick, one stone, had inscribed on their faces the history of past times. They were designed to withstand the ravages of fire or flood.

Sirima Hindu

one of the yakshas

Siris Mesopotamian

[Siris]

a Babylonian god of feasting

In some accounts Siris is female.

sirite Irish

an elfman

Sirius Greek

the dog of Orion

He was placed as a star in the sky with Orion.

Sirl British

[=Greek Athena:=Roman Minerva]

a goddess

Sirma Thakur Indian

[Lord of Heaven:=Munda Singbonga]

a supreme god of the Ho people

Sirona Celtic

[Dirona]

a goddess of healing or of springs

in Gaul

wife of Grannus

Sirout North American

an ancestor of the Juaneno tribe of California

husband of Yciaut

father of Ouiot

Sirrush Mesopotamian

a Babylonian scaly monster with parts of a bird, cheetah and having claws on its 2 rear

feet

Sirsir Mesopotamian

a name for Marduk as guardian of seamen

Sirtu (see Ishtar)

Sirtur Mesopotamian

a Babylonian goddess of sheep, an aspect of Ninsuna

sisaok North American

among the Bella Coola Tribe, a dancer

in a ceremony to commemorate the coming of the progenitors of the tribe

Sisera

a demon of desire

sishana Hindu

the phallus as an object of worship

(see also lingam)

Sishupala (see Shishupala)

Sisianlik East Indian

daughter of Timbehes

sister of Bangai and Lean

This family is regarded in New Guinea as the ancestors of the tribes.

Sisillus British

an early king of Britain, some say

Sisimatailaa Pacific Islands

son of the sun in the lore of the Tongans

On his marriage in Samoa, his father gave him two parcels, one of which must remain unopened until they reached Tonga. His bride disobeyed this instruction as they sailed back to Tonga and the weight of all the things that emerged from the parcel was enough to sink the boat and they both drowned.

Sisinjori East Indian

in the lore of New Guinea, son of the kangaroo, Amori

He was born after the female kangaroo, Amori, swallowed sperm found on the spot where the first human couple mated.

Sisiri South American

son of Purrunaminari

Sisiutl North American

a water-monster or rain-deity, in the lore of the Bella Coola Indians

This monster had two or three heads, one of them human, and lived in a lake in the sky. It could change into a fish and sometimes appeared on earth in response to invocations.

Sislau

a demon of poisons

Sison Thai

a mythical king

lover of Thewi Suthat

They had been lovers in several previous existences but never married until they met again as king and princess.

He owned a magic sword which could kill all the enemy forces which saw the light reflected from its blade, provided that Sison had propitiated the god Phra Sao. If he forgot, it was his own men who perished.

His horse, Tipaka, could fly his master instantaneously to wherever he wished to go.

Sispes Roman

[Sospita]

a local name for Juno

In this form, she is depicted as wearing a goatskin and armed.

Sisters of Long Life

(see Long Life Sisters)

Sisupala (see Shishupala)

Sisuphos (see Sisyphus)

Sisypheron Greek

a shrine to Sisyphus

Sisyphides Greek

a name of Odysseus reflecting his ingenuity and his relationship to Sisyphus

SisyphusGreek*

[Aeolides.Sisuphos]
king of Corinth
son of Aeolus and Enarete
brother of Athamas and Salmoneus husband of Merope
father of Almus, Glaucus, Ornytion and Thersander
father of Odysseus by Anticleia,
some say

He is said to have founded Corinth, rearing a race from mushrooms to populate it and to have instituted the Isthmian Games.

When Autolyclus began stealing his cattle, Sisyphus fixed lead markers inscribed 'Stolen by Autolyclus' to their hooves and was so able to prove the theft.

He seduced Anticleia, daughter of Autolyclus, on the morning of her wedding to Laertes, either in revenge for the theft of his cattle or, some say, with the connivance of Autolyclus with whom he became friends. In this way, he, rather than Laertes, became the father of Odysseus.

He raped Tyro, daughter of his brother Salmoneus, and she killed the children born of this union. Sisyphus persuaded the people that the infants were the result of incest between Tyro and her own father with the result that Salmoneus was banished and Sisyphus took the throne.

He imprisoned Hades (or Thanatos) when he came to take him down to the underworld as punishment for the rape of Tyro or for betraying the fact that Zeus had abducted Aegina. He was handed over to Hades when the latter was freed by Ares but he talked Persephone into releasing him. He was eventually brought back to Tartarus by Hermes and punished by being condemned everlastingly to roll a huge stone up a mountain, only for it to roll back to the bottom just before he reaches the top.

In some accounts he is regarded as a sun-god.

Sisythos (see Xithuthros)

Sisythus (see Xithuthros)

Sit (see Set)

Sita (Hindu)

['furrow'.Seeta.Vedavati:=Javanese Sinta]
an earth-goddess
daughter of Janaka sister of Urmila wife of Rama
mother of Kusha and Lava

She was said to have been born from a plough-furrow as an incarnation of Lakshmi and was the wife of Rama, the seventh incarnation of Vishnu, although some accounts have her as a consort of Indra and Parjanya. Rama was said to have won her hand by winning an archery contest organised by her father.

When she was carried off by Ravana, the king of the demons, her husband raised an attacking force under Hanuman and raised the demons' fortress, killing Ravana. To prove that she had been faithful during her captivity she invoked her dharma and was taken into a furrow in Mother Earth.

In a variation of this story, Rama rejected her when she became pregnant, believing that she had slept with Ravana, and sent her into exile where she gave birth to twin sons, Kusha and Lava. Despairing of winning back her husband she prayed to mother-earth for help. A golden throne rose out of the ground to receive her and she returned to the earth she came from.

Yet another story says that Sita underwent trial by fire but walked unharmed from the pyre due to the intervention of Agni.

(see also Tuls.Vedavati)

Sitabrahma (Hindu)

[White Brahma]
one of the 8 Dharmapalas

Sitala (see Shitala)

Sitalamata (see Shitala)

Sitamahakala (Buddhist)

[Great White Lord]
a god of wealth
guardian of dharm
one of the 8 Dharmapalas

Sitamanjughosha
(see Siddhaikaviramanjughosha)

Sitapatra (Buddhist)

[Sitapatra]
a parasol-goddess
an aspect of Vairocana
one of the bodhisattvas
She may be depicted with three heads and three eyes.

Sitatapatra (see Sitapatra)

Sitatapatra-Aparajita (Buddhist)

a version of Sitapatra with 8 arms

Sitatara (Tibetan)

a Buddhist-Lamaist goddess a form of Tara
an aspect of Amoghasiddhi
or Vairocana

She is depicted with either three or seven eyes.

She is said to be a Chinese princess, Weng Cheng, who was deified.

(see also White Tara).

Sitconsky (see Sitkonski)

Sith (Norse)

the second wife of Egil or Orvandel mother of Uller

Sithapishtim (Mesopotamian)

in the story of Izdubar, the sage who directed him to the underworld
(see also Siduri)

Sithchean (see Sithchenn)

Sithcheann (see Sithchenn)

Sithchenn (Irish)

[Sithchean(n)]
a druid

He worked as a smith and, when asked to foretell the future for Niall and his brothers, he set fire to his forge and watched to see what they would save from the blaze. Niall rescued the anvil which led Sithchenn to prophesy that he would become a high-king of Ireland.

In another test, he sent them into a forest where they met a hideous hag at a well. She would allow only the one who kissed her to drink. Only Niall complied and she thereupon turned into a beautiful woman.

Sithon (Greek)

a king of Thrace
father of Phyllis, in some accounts

Sitkonski (North American)

[Sitconsky]
a trickster-deity of the Assiniboine

Siton (see Dagan<sup>3</sup>)

sitondo (African)

[Shepherd of the Clouds:
plur=basitondo]
a rain-maker in Zambia

Sitri (see Sytry)

Sits-by-the-door (North American)

a Blackfoot maiden
She was captured by Crows but the wife of the brave by whom she had been seized took pity on her and helped her to escape. On the long journey back to her own people, she would have died of hunger but for the help of a wolf which followed her and killed game to keep her alive.

Situa (South American)

an Inca festival held in September

This festival involved offerings to the gods to avert sickness and disaster.

Sitting Above (see Ababinili)

siudleratuin (North American) ghosts of the Inuit

Siugmall Irish [Siugmhall] grandson of Midir
brother of Mormhaol
He and his brother killed Eochaid Airemh and fired his castle.

Siugmhall (see Siugmall)

Sius Mesopotamia
a Hittite sun-god (see also Istanu)

Siva<sup>1</sup> Slav [=Lithuanian Seeva]
a goddess of love

Siva<sup>2</sup> (see Shiva)

Sivini Armenian
[=Hittite Istanu;=Hurrian Simigi;=Urtian Siwini]
a sun-god
hero of the aborigines

Siviri Australian
a culture-hero in Cape York
He is regarded as the inventor of the drum and is said to have built the first canoe. In some accounts he is regarded as a thunder-god.

Sivottama Hindu
a minor god
one of the vidyesvaras

Siwa<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands
[=East Indies Mahatala.Panji;=India Shiva;=Philippines Bathala. Mahacabataras;=Sea-Dayak Petara]
the Pacific version of Shiva guardian of the east consort of Prawati

Siwa<sup>2</sup> (see Amonium)

Siwa Mahayogi (see Mahayogi)

Siwah (see Amonium)

Siward Norse
a hero-warrior
Odin healed his wounds in return for the dedication of the slain to the gods.

Siwini Mesopotamian
[=Armenian Sivini;=Hurrian Simigi;=Hittite Istanu]
a Urtian sun-god

Six Cib Central American
the sixth day of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
On this day light appeared. (see also Cib)

Six Honoured Ones (see Liu Tsung)

Six Muluc Central American
the nineteenth day of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
On this day all created things were given life. (see also Muluc)

Six Species Buddhist
the 6 main divisions of the Tibetan Wheel of Life

The lowest division is hell. The others are the realms of the brutes, men, demi-gods and gods, plus one known as Yi-dag for a race of beings with large stomachs and thin necks.

(see also Sipa Karlo.Wheel of Law)

sixth sense

(see extra sensory perception)

Siyakmak (see Siyamak)

Siyamak Persian

[Siyakmak]
a primordial being son of Mashje and Mashyane son of Gayomart, some say consort of Nashak
father of Fravak, Fravakain, Guzhak and Hoshang

Siyamak was said to be the first king and was killed in battle with Angra Many.

Siyavahsh (see Siyawush)

Siyavarshan (see Siyawush)

Siyawush Persian

[Siyavahsh.Siyavarshan]
son of Kay Kaus and Sudabe

His stepmother made advances which he rejected and she told her husband that his son had tried to rape her. The young man fled from the court but was killed by Afrasiyab.

Sizajazel

an angel, ruler of the Zodiacal sign Sagittarius, the archer

Sjarr (see Siarr)

sjen Slav

[sjenovik]
the soul of a man or an animal acting as the spirit controlling features such as forests and mountains

sjenovik (see sjen)

Sjofn (see Siofn)

Sjofna (see Siofn)

Sjora (see Sjoran)

Sjoradare (see Sjoran)

Sjoran Swedish

[Sjora(dare);=Norse Ran] a malevolent sea-spirit

Skade (see Skadi)

Skadhi (see Skadi)

Skadi Norse

[Skade.Skad(h)i.Skathi]
a giantess
goddess of winter
one of the Asynjur
daughter of Thiassi wife of Niord, Odin or Uller mother of Frey and Freya, some say When her father was killed in Asgard, she demanded that the gods compensate her for the loss. They offered any one of their number as a husband but she must choose by looking only at their feet. She hoped to choose Balder but got Niord. She was unhappy in the warmth of Noatun and so they moved to her old home, Thrymheim. Niord hated the cold and they finally separated although some stories say that they merely alternated between her home and his, every three days. She is said to have married Odin, bearing his son, Saeming; in other accounts she married Uller, god of winter, after leaving Niord.

When Loki was finally captured and bound, she placed over his head the serpent that constantly dripped venom on him.

She is depicted as a huntress in armour, short-skirted and bearing a spear.

In some accounts Skadi is male and Niord is female.

skagi North American

a medicine-man of the Haida

skald Norse

[scald]

a bard

The skalds were the authors of the Eddas.

Skaldatal (see Skaldskaparmal)

Skaldskaparmal Norse

[Skaldatal]

part of the Younger Edda, a book about the skalds and their poetry

Skamandrios (see Astyanax)

Skamandros (see Scamander)

Skamba (see Skambha)

Skambha Hindu

[Skamba;=Greek Atlas]

a name for Purusha in his role supporting the universe

Skan North American

['sky']

one of the 4 Superior Gods of the Sioux

an aspect of Wakan Tanka

Skanda Hindu

['attacker'.Gajavahana.K(a)umara.

Karttikaya.Karttikeya.Subra(h)manya:

=Greek Ares;=Tamil Gajavahana.Seyon]

a war-god and god of Mars

son of Shiva and Parvati consort of Devasena, Kumari

and Valli

father of Naigameya, Sena, Sakha and Visakha

He was said to have been generated after thousands of years from a huge pile of semen left over when Shiva and Parvati reduced their love-making. Some say that his father was Agni and his mother was either Ganga, Parvati or Uma, while others say that he was created to defeat the demon, Taraka.

He is depicted with six faces and twelve arms, riding the peacock, Paravani. (see also Karttikeya)

Skandar Norse

a dwarf, one of the Lovar

Skarp-Hedin Norse

son of Njal and Bergthora brother of Grim, Helga, Helgi and Thorgerd

It was he who had earlier killed Thrain, one of the Sigfussons, so starting the feud that led to the slaughter of his kinsmen.

He died with the rest of the Njalsson clan when they were trapped in their house, Bergthorsknoll, which was burnt to the ground by Flosi and his men but, before he died, Skarp-Hedin killed Gunnar, one of the attacking force, by hurling at him the jawbone which he had cut from the head of Thrain and kept.

Skate Icelandic

the Icelandic version of Scyld father of Bele

Skate Woman North American

a spirit in the lore of the Yurok tribe

When the original race, known as the Woge, finally died out, Skate Woman carried their creator to another land somewhere over the sea.

Skatha Irish

[Scathach]
a warrior-maid
daughter of Ard and Greimne sister of Aifa
mother of Cuare and Uathach

She lived in the Land of Shadows and taught Cuchulainn and many others the arts of war.

Skathi (see Skadi)

Skeaf (see Sceaf)

Skegg-Brodi Norse

son of Thorstein

He grew up to become an even greater hero than his father.

Skeidbrimnir (see Skidbrim)

Skena (see Scena)

Skialdarass Norse

[Skjaldarass]
a name for Uller as shield-god

Skjaldmeyjar Norse

[Skjaldmeyjar] shield-maidens: Valkyries

Skialf Norse

wife of Agni
a name of Freya in Sweden
She killed her husband with her necklace.

Skidbladner (see Skidbladnir)

Skidbladnir Norse

[Skidbladner.Skioblaonir.Skithblathnir]

Frey's ship

This magic ship, built by the dwarf Dvalin and presented to the gods by Loki, was capable of expanding to carry all the gods but could be folded up and carried in the pocket.

Skidbrim Norse

[Skeidbrimnir]
a horse of the gods

Skidd (see Sceaf)

Skiddr (see Sceaf)

Skidskegg Norse

a name for Odin referring to his long beard

Skilli North American

in the lore of the Cherokee,
evil witches

These beings were said sometimes to appear at night in the form of owls.

Skinfaxi Norse

a horse drawing the chariot of Dag, god of daylight (see also Ringfaxi)

Skioblaonir (see Skidbladnir)

Skiold (see Sceaf)

Skiolding (see Skjolding)

Skirflir Norse

a dwarf, one of the Lovar

Skirnir<sup>1</sup> Norse

a servant of Frey

When Frey fell in love with Gerda, Skirnir volunteered to woo her on his master's behalf in return for Frey's magic sword. Riding Bludog-hofi and carrying the sword, the magic ring Draupnir, some golden apples and a reflected image of Frey, he rode to Jotunheim and persuaded Gerda to marry his master.

It was he who fetched the magic fetter Gelgia from the realm of the dwarfs to fasten the wolf Fenris to the rock.

Skirnir<sup>2</sup> Norse

in some accounts, a name for Svipdag

Skirnis-For Norse

[Quest of Skirnir]
a story in the Elder Edda about the wooing of Gerda by Skirnir

Skithblathnir (see Skidbladnir)

Skjaldarass (see Skialdarass)

Skjaldmeyjar (see Skjaldmeyjar)

Skjold (see Sceaf)

Skjolding Norse

[Skiolding]
a deity
a descendant of Odin's son, Skjold (Sceaf)

Skobelegg Russian

a sleeping hero awaiting recall in the hour of his country's need

Skofnung Norse

the magic sword of the Danish king, Hrolf Krakki

skogsfru Norse

[=Danish skogsnufa:=Swedish skogsra]
a female wood-spirit

These beings are said to be drawn to camp-fires at night and try to lure away the young men.

skogsnufa Danish

[=Norse skogsfru:=Swedish skogsra]
a female wood-spirit

skogsra Swedish

[=Danish skogsnufa:=Norse skogsfru]
a female wood-spirit

skogsradare (see metsanhaltia)

skogsyngfru (see metsanaitstyt)

Skogul Norse

one of the Valkyries

Skolawn (see Sceolan)

Skoll Norse

a wolf
offspring of Fenris and Gollweig
one of the Varns

This animal was one of the wolves which pursued the sun and moon, trying to swallow them. When he and Hati succeeded in this, an eclipse ensued. They fed on the marrow from the bones of dead criminals. As crime increased they grew stronger and in the final days they overtook the sun and moon and swallowed them finally.

Skoyo North American

man-eating monsters, in the lore of
the Pueblo Indians

Skrata (see Skritek)

Skratti Icelandic

[=German Scrat]
an imp or devil

Skritek Slav

[Skrata.Skrzat(ek).Skrzot]
a Slovene spirit of the household This being is depicted as a boy wearing a crown.

Skrymir Norse

[Vasty]
a lord of the Frost Giants

He was an illusion created by the frost-giants to perplex Thor when he and Loki travelled to Jotunheim.

(see also Utgard-Loki)

Skrymsli Norse

a giant
He won a wager with a peasant and demanded the peasant's son as a prize but agreed to forfeit the prize if the father could hide the child. Odin changed the boy into a grain of wheat hidden in an ear of corn in a wheat-field; Hoenir changed him into a small down feather and concealed him in the breast of a swan; Loki changed him into a fish-egg hidden in the roe of a fish swimming in the ocean: in every case, the giant found the boy. On the last occasion, the boy ran off and, chasing after him, Skrymsli ran head-first into a pointed stake cunningly placed by Loki and was killed.

Shrzat (see Skritek)

Skrzatek (see Skritek)

Skrzot (see Skritek)

sKu-ina-rgyal-po
(see Mahapancharaja)

sKui-i-rgyal-po Tibetan one of the Panchmaharajas
king of the body

He is depicted riding a white lion.

Skuld Norse

[Skuldr]
one of the 3 Norns – the future, necessity daughter of Mimir, some say

Skuld sometimes rode with the Valkyries. She is depicted as veiled and holding an unopened book.

Skuldr (see Skuld)

Skulla (see Scylla)

Skulle (see Scylla)

Skunk North American

a character in Navaho lore

In a typical Tar-baby story, Skunk got stuck to a dummy which he had kicked while engaged in stealing corn.

Sky Elk North American

a sky-spirit of the Iroquois

Sky Father<sup>1</sup> North American

[Father Sky]
the supreme deity of the Pueblo tribes husband of Earth-Mother father of One Alone

Sky Father<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

a creator-god

Sky Father<sup>3</sup> (see Jupiter.Mixcoatl)

Sky People North American

the inhabitants of a supposed Otherworld in the heavens

Sky Woman (see Ataensic)

Sky Youth North American

a sky-spirit of the Kwakiutl

The cannibalistic female, Tsonqua, fell in love with Sky Youth when she saw a reflection of him in a pool but he was appalled by her advances and killed her.

Skyamsen (see Thunderbird<sup>2,3</sup>)

Skylla (see Scylla)

Slaalekam (see Quaaqua)

Slagfidr (see Slagfinn)

Slagfin (see Slagfinn)

Slagfinn<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Slagfidr.Slagfin]

son of Badi

brother of Egil and Volund

When the swan-maidens, Alvit, Olrund and Svanhvit, flew to earth to bathe they left their wings on the shore. Slagfinn and his brothers seized the wings and kept the maidens as their wives for nine years before, homesick, they recovered their wings and flew away. Slagfinn searched in vain for his wife.

Slagfinn<sup>2</sup> (see Ivald)

Slagfinn-Giuki (see Hiuki)

Slaigne (see Slaine)

Slaine<sup>1</sup> Irish

[Slaigne]

a physician

son of Partholan

Slaine<sup>2</sup> (see Slane)

Slaine the Firlbolg Irish

[Slaigne]

son of Dela

brother of Morca

He was the first high-king of Ireland.

Slane Irish

[Spring of Health.(Tiopra) Slaine]

the magic well of Dian Cecht

This well (or spring) was reputed to be able to restore dead and dying warriors immersed in its waters. The Fomoiré, led by Ostriallach, prevented this by piling rocks over the spring.

Slanting Eyes (see Tsul Kalu)

Slaughterbridge British

a site on Bodmin Moor said to be the site of the Battle of

Camlan

Slave of the Wheel (see Mogh Ruith)

Sleemish Irish

[Sliabh Mos]

the site of Curoi's fortress

It was said that the entrance to this fort, which would revolve on Curoi's command, could never be found after dark.

Sleep Heaven African

the sixth of the 7 heavens of the Bambara, used as a store for secrets

Sleep-joy Norse

a name for night

Sleetcold Norse

the palace of Hel

Sleipnir Norse

the eight-legged horse of Odin

offspring of Loki and Svadiflare

In some accounts, this animal had only one eye.

Slemuin Irish

a bull owned by Morrigan

Sliabh Mos (see Sleemish)

Slid Norse

[Slith]

a river in Niflheim filled with swords,

one of the 12 rivers known as Elivagar

Slidrugtanni Norse

one of the 2 boars that drew

Frey's chariot

In some accounts, this animal is the same as Gullinbursti.

slide-rock bolter North American

a fabulous animal

Slieve Fuad Irish

the home of Lir

Slieve Gallion Irish

the mountain home of Culann

It was here that Finn was put under a spell by Milucra.

Slievenamon Irish

a fairy mountain

Slith (see Slid)

sliver cat North American

a fabulous animal

sLob-dpon (see Rinpochhe)

slogute Baltic

a Lithuanian spirit: a nightmare

sluagh Scottish

a fairy race, souls of the dead, seen fighting in the sky

Sma Egyptian

an amulet worn as a love-charm

smallback

a name for death

sMan Bla Tibetan

(one of the) Buddhas of medicine

Smara Hindu

a name for Kama as 'memory'

smashana Hindu

the place where Shiva dances

Smertrios Celtic

[Smertullos]

a god of war in Gaul

Smertullos (see Smertrios)

Smicrus Greek

a servant of Patron

father of Branchus

He and some other servants caught a swan and gave it to their master, whereupon it turned into a woman who told Patron that Smicrus would bring him good fortune because, it was said, he was descended from Apollo. Patron gave Smicrus his daughter as wife.

Smieragatto Baltic

[=Finnish Para:=Scandinavian Buttercat]
a Lappish spirit in the form of a cat This spirit is said to bring its owner butter, cream and milk.

Smilax Greek

a nymph
When she rejected the love of Crocus the gods changed him into a flower of that name.

Smintheus (see Sminthius)Sminthian (see Sminthius)Sminthius Greek

[Smitheus.Smithian]
a name for Apollo as guardian against mice

Smirgat (see Smirnat)Smirnat Irish

[Smirgat] daughter of Fothadh Canainne wife of Finn mac Cool, in some accounts She warned Finn that, if he ever drank from a horn, he would die.

Smohala North American

a 19th c shaman
He founded the cult of the Dreamers in the early part of the century.
Another shaman, Moses, attacked him and thought he had killed him but Smohala survived and was rescued from the river.

He took advantage of this episode to claim that he had, in fact, been drowned, had gone to heaven where his spirit had talked with the Great Spirit and had been sent back to earth to spread the Great Spirit's teachings.

Smok (see Zmek)Smoking Mirror (see Tezcatlipoca)Smoking Mountain North American

a Metis hunter
brother of Broken War Club
Smoking Mountain and his brother, Broken War Club, met a very hairy and very strong person called Little Man and together they went looking for adventure. One day Broken War Club stayed in the lodge they had found to do the cooking and the other pair went hunting. When they returned, Broken War Club was still moaning from a beating he had received from a tiny dwarf and the same thing happened next day to Smoking Mountain. Little Man stayed home the next day and killed the ugly dwarf who came out from a deep hole.
They lowered first Broken War Club and then Smoking Mountain into the hole in a kettle on a rope and they were scared by the noises they heard so Little Man went down. He was attacked successively by monsters with two, then three and finally four heads and killed all three of them. He rescued the three girls the monsters had kept locked up and sent them up in the kettle together with much plunder from the monsters' home.

When it was his turn to go up, Broken War Club cut the rope and they left him to die but he managed to climb out. For helping them to settle an argument, a wasp, a worm and a woodpecker each gave him the power to assume their shape. He soon overtook the fleeing men and killed
Broken War Club, sending Smoking Mountain packing and keeping the girls and the treasure for himself.

Smol Irish

a king of Greece
When the Nemdians were decimated by plague and oppressed by the Fomoiré, they appealed to Smol for help and he sent supplies and an army to help them.

Smrti Buddhist

a minor god

Smulkin British

[Snulbug]
a demon in King Lear

Smyrna (see Myrrha)Snade Teched Irish

father of Mac Cecht

Snaer (see Snoer)Snaggletooth Woman (see Kokumthema)Snail Maiden (see Nü Wa)snake

a scaly, legless reptile with a forked tongue, sometimes venomous

This reptile, often under the name of serpent, appears in many mythologies.

(1) In African lore the snake is often depicted with its tail in its mouth as a symbol of eternity.

(see also ourobos)

(2) In the East Indies they say that a woman's menstruation is produced from a snake inside her body and that babies are produced from the snake's body.

The Dayaks believe that their ancestors are reincarnated as snakes and so refuse to kill them.

In Sumatra, Naga Pahoda appears as a serpent in the primeval waters.

Some tribes believe that, if a snake enters a house, the person who sees it first will die.

(3) In Hindu tradition the snake (naga) is a sacred animal. It is said to take many forms and is described as having a navel in its forehead. Some say that the nagas can mate with humans.

(4) In Muslim lore, an evil spirit, in the form of a snake, lives inside a woman's body.

(5) Norse stories include the snakes Ofirir and Svafnir who were continuously gnawing at the twigs of the world-tree, Yggdasril.

(6) In North America, the Navaho snake-spirit was involved in a plan with Bear, Frog and Turtle to capture two maidens from an underwater village but the plan went awry and the two girls were killed. Frog and Turtle were lucky to escape with their lives but Bear and Snake fared better. This pair captured two girls who were overcome by the smoke from the kidnappers' pipes which made Snake and Bear appear as handsome braves with whom the girls mated. One of the girls, Glipsa, escaped when Snake reverted to his former shape but he later found her and, once again as a young man, wooed her. He taught her many things, including the Hozoni chant, and eventually allowed her to return to her own
people.

(7) In Sumeria, the snake was regarded as a sacred animal. They say that it acquired the ability to slough its skin when it swallowed the 'Never-grow-old' plant which it stole from Gilgamesh.

snake<sup>2</sup> (see Naga.Nidhogg.Rainbow Snake.White Snake of Hangchow)

Snake Clan Woman North American

a spirit of the Hopi

She was with Sand Altar Woman when the latter suffered a miscarriage.

Snake Dance North American

a fertility rite of the Hopi

This ceremony, used to bring rain and fertility to the land, involves live snakes and represents the marriage of Snake Youth, a sky-spirit, and Snake
Girl, a spirit of the underworld.

Snake Girl North American

a snake-spirit of the Hopi

She is regarded as an ancestor of the Hopi and also of many reptiles.

Snake King, The

(see Ch'ang Hao.She Wang)

Snake People North American

in the lore of the Navaho,
a race who lived in the underworld,
one of whom abducted Glipsa

snake-stone (see ammonite)

Snake Woman (see Cihuacoatl)

Snake Youth North American

a sky-spirit of the Hopi

Snallygaster North American

[Snoligoster]

a monster in Maryland

This beast is envisaged as a huge reptile-like bird which carries off children at night.

sNam-gsal-ma (see Dipa)

Snarayatra Hindu

a festival in honour of Jagannath

Snavidka Persian

a sleet-demon

This being was killed by Keresaspa.

Snedgus Irish

a priest

He and Mac Riagla went on a voyage that took them to many wonderful places.

Snegurotchka Russian

[The Snow Maiden]

When she fell in love with a mortal, Lel the shepherd, she emerged from the cold forest and perished in the heat of the sun-god, Yarilo.

Snenanth Roman

an Italian deity

Sneneik (see Tsonqua)

Sneneikulala (see Tsonqua)

Sno-Nysoa African

the creator-god of Liberia

Snoer Norse

[Snaer]

a god of snow

a Frost giant

son of Thrym

brother of Drifta, Frosti and Jokul

Snoligoster (see Snallygaster)

Snookum North American

an evil spirit in the lore of the Chinook

Snoqalm North American

a sky-god of the tribes of the north-west

Snoqalm kept all the light in a box. Spider wove a rope for Snoqalm to descend to earth but, while he was there, Beaver climbed up the rope and stole the box, hanging the sun in the sky as he climbed down again.

Other versions say that it was Fox who climbed the rope, changed into Beaver and returned to earth with trees as well as fire. Snoqalm, in his haste to catch the intruder, fell to earth and was killed.

Snor Norse

wife of Karl

She and Kane were regarded as the founders of the class of husbandmen.

Snorri Sturluson Norse

[Snorro Sturleson.Sturlason]

(c 1178-1242)

an Icelandic poet and historian

He was the compiler of the Younger Edda (1220) and author of Heimskringla.

He was murdered when he upset the king of Norway.

Snorter, The (see Hang)

Snotra Norse

the goddess of virtue, attendant on Frigga

Snow Lodge North American

[Snow Tepee.Yellow Paint Lodge]

a magic tepee given to

Sacred Otter by Estonea-pesta

Snow Maiden, The (see Snegurotchka)

Snow Queen (see Devi.Haimavati.Parvati.
Queen of Northgales)

snow snake North American

a fabulous snake

This venomous, pink-eyed snake has a white body and hence is virtually invisible to its enemies when there is snow on the ground.

Snow Tepee (see Snow Lodge)

snow wassel North American

a fabulous animal

Snow Woman (see Yuki-onna)

Snulbug (see Smulkin)

Snulk'ulxa'Is North American

a primaevial god of the Bella

Coola Indians

snydal North American

a fabulous animal

So African

a weather-god of the Ewe people

He is regarded as an aspect of Sodza and Sogben in combination.

(see also Xewioso)

So-at-sa-ki (see Soatsaki)

So-no-hagaham Japanese

a rope

This rope was used by Omitsumu to tow parts of Korea across the sea to increase the size of his own kingdom.

Soatsaki North American

[Feather Woman.So-at-sa-ki]

a Blackfoot maiden

wife of Apisuahts

mother of Poia (see also Scarface)

Sobek (see Sebek)

Sobi-Si West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit depicted as a soldier

Sobk (see Sebek)

Sobrino European

a Saracen

a counsellor of Agramant

When Agramant's forces withdrew from France to relieve the besieged capital, Biserta, Sobrino, Agramant and Gradiiso challenged Florismart, Oliver and Roland to combat to settle their differences. He was badly wounded in the fight which was won by the Christians. He was taken with the wounded Oliver, by Roland and Rinaldo to an island where a hermit cured them both. This hermit had earlier baptised Rogero and now converted Sobrino to the Christian faith.

Sochla Irish

wife of Carthach

mother of Molua

Sochos (see Souchos)

Socht Irish

son of Fitheal

He who owned a sword formerly owned by Cuchulainn. When his grandfather was killed by Duibhdhriu with Socht's sword, the killer was ordered to pay compensation to Socht.

Socht's sword Irish

a sword formerly owned by Cuchulainn This wonderful sword once belonged to Cuchulainn and came down to Socht. It was once stolen by Duibhdhriu who used it to kill Socht's grandfather. As the result of a judgment by Fitheal, the sword was given to Cormac mac Airt.

It was said that the sword could split a man in half and one half of the body would be unaware that anything untoward had happened to the other half until they fell apart. It was also said that it could split a hair floating on water. (see also Amelias)

Socothbenoth

a demon said to take possession

of humans

Sodasi Hindu

a minor goddess

a sakti of Shiva

Sodem (see Sotem)

Sodric British

a leader of the Picts in Arthurian lore

Sodza African

a sky-god of the Hua

With Sogblen, he is regarded as So.

Sodzu Baba Japanese

[Old Woman of the Three Roads]
a woman receiving the souls
of the dead

wife of Ten Datsu-Ba

She demands money from all who arrive at her home on the bank of the River of Three Roads and, if it is not paid, takes their garments.

(see also Shozuka Baba)

Soft-Rot Pacific Islands

one of the 8 Spitters (see Spitter<sup>1</sup>)

Soga Sadayoshi Japanese

a silkworm breeder

She made a silk cap to keep warm the head of an image of Jizo. When she died, Jizo himself interceded on her behalf with Emma-O, god of the dead, and she was returned to life.

Sogblen African

a messenger-god of the Hua

Acting with Sodza, he is regarded as So.

Sogbo African

a storm-god and god of fire of the Fon people

son of Lisa and Mawu

brother of Sagbata

He set fire to the earth with his lightning but Otuto, the songbird, gave the alarm and Mawa sent the rain to put out the flames.

In some accounts, Sogbo is synonymous with Mawu who, confusingly, is female and the mother of Agbe. Others say that Sogbo is the same as Agbe.

sogpu (see Abominable Snowman)

Sohodo-No-Kami Japanese

a Shinto god of scarecrows, guardian of fields

Sohrab Persian

[Suhrab]

son of Rustem and Tamine

He was born after Rustem left Tamine and so did not know his father. In later years, they met in combat and the father unwittingly killed his own son.

Soido (see Sido)Sojo-bo Japanese

a storm-demon, leader of the Tengu

Sokar (see Seker)Sokai (see Seker)Sokaris Greek

[Soucharis]

the Greek name for Seker

Sokka Korean

[=Buddhist Shakyamuni]

the force of evil personified

He appeared after Miruk had created the universe and fought many battles with him. Miruk finally abandoned the world and returned to the heavens.

Sokkvabekk (see Sokvabek)Sokkvabekkr (see Sokvabek)Soko<sup>1</sup> African

[Tsoche]

a creator-god of the Nupe

people

Soko<sup>2</sup> Japanese

a guardian god

He and Fukaoitso were derived from Kongorikishi.

Soko-no-kuni Japanese

a name for the underworld,

Yomi-tsu-kuni, as 'the hollow land'

Sokogba African

a Nupe god of anger

Sokozutsumo Japanese

a sea and fish-god

Sokumapi North American

a Blackfoot brave

He was captured by a bear who taught him the arts of magic and instructed him to make a spear decorated with parts of a bear and eagle feathers.
When Sokumapi returned to his tribe, he made such a spear, the power of which routed the Crows who attacked his tribe and he became a famous war-chief.

Sokvabek Norse

[Sokkvabekk(r)]

the home of Odin and Saga, goddess of history

This crystal palace was built under the waters of a clear stream, the 'stream of time and events'.

Sol<sup>1</sup> British

a warrior at King Arthur's court

He was said to be able to stand all day on one foot and was one of the party that accompanied Culhwch in his
quest for the hand of Olwen.

Sol<sup>2</sup> Norse

a sun-goddess

daughter of Mundilfoeri

sister of Mani

wife of Glaur

wife of Ivald, some say

mother of Iduna, some say

She guided the chariot of the sun on its journey through the heavens.

In some accounts she is called Sunna.

Sol<sup>3</sup> Roman

[Sol Indiges.Sol Invictus:=Greek Helios]

the sun-god: a name for Mithra

Sol<sup>4</sup> (see Apollo.Helios)Sol Indiges (see Sol<sup>3</sup>)Sol Invictus (see Sol<sup>3</sup>)Solanang Pacific Islands

a deity who appeared in both male and female forms

Solanus Roman

[=Greek Ap(h)eliotes]

a wind from the north-east quarter

solar bark Egyptian

the boat in which the sun-god

Ra, or a dead pharaoh, travelled through the underworld

There is general agreement that there were two such boats, one used during the day, the other at night, but less agreement as to what they were called. Some say the day-boat was Manjet, others that it was Meseket (Mesektet, Mesenktet, Me'enzet) or Semketet, while some say that the night-boat was Meseket or Semketet.

Solario European

a nephew of Gaudisso

This name was used by Sherasmin when he went to Gaudisso's court to rescue Huon.

solarism

over-reliance on sun-myths as an explanation of mythology

Solarljod Norse

[Song of the Sun]

a Christianised poem in the

Elder Edda

Solas

[Stolas]

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to have wide knowledge of herbs and astrology and appears in the form of a raven.

Solbon (see Tsholbon)Soldan British

a king in Spenser's The Faerie Queene

husband of Aducia

When Arthur exposed his shield, the king's horses were so terrified that they overturned his chariot and he was torn to pieces.

Solday

[Shabbathai]

a demon associated with the planet

Saturn and Saturday

Soldier of Spain (see Miles Hispaniae)Solemn Ones (see Furies)Soleuiel (see Soleviel)Soleviel

[Soleueil]

a demon

Soley Norse

a princess

daughter of Visivald

sister of Gullbra

half-sister of Hiarandi

She promised to marry the slave Gol if he would kill an unwanted suitor but, when he did what she asked, she changed places with a servant-girl who married Gol in her place. She then left the court and went into the remote area of the country where Vilmund lived. He found her lost shoe and, after many adventures with Hiarandi, returned her to her family.

Solitary Youth

[Mac(h)aomh an Uaignis]

son of the Vagrant Youth by a princess of Orkney

Soloman (see Saloman)Solomon<sup>1</sup> Muslim

king of the world, animals and spirits: a dragon-slayer

He killed Jarada's father but she nevertheless married him and persuaded him to worship her father's image, whereupon god stripped him of his magic powers.

These powers were invested in a ring made of twelve jewels presented by the four animals, the four angels and the four spiritual beings who paid homage to Solomon when he became king. Each of these stones bore a secret mark or character. When he finally recovered the ring, his powers returned and he forced Jarada to convert to Islam.

It was said that he travelled on a flying carpet which was supported by jinns who were so huge and ugly that they frightened all into accepting Islam.

Solomon<sup>2</sup> (see Saloman)Solon Greek

one of the Seven Sages

Solonga loa West Indian a group of Haitian voodoo spirits based on the deities of the Congo

Solphine West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit

Solyman European

a Saracen king

In Jerusalem Delivered, this king fought bravely but was killed by Rinaldo.

Solymans (see Solymi)Solymi Greek

[Solymans.Solymoi]

a warrior race

Solymi (see Solymi)soma<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[sudha(n)]

a drink of the gods, later personified as a god

In some accounts, soma is the same as amrita, though others regard amrita

as a food, soma as a drink. Some say that it was the juice of a climbing plant, others that (like amrita) it was created at the Churning of the Ocean, still others that it fell as rain when the gods pressed it through holes in a celestial sieve.

One story says that soma was present in the heavens before the gods lived there and was retrieved by the children of Suparni.

The gods placed soma in the hands of the archer Gandharva for safe-keeping but he was unable to prevent Agni, in the form of a hawk, from seizing it. (see also amrita.jambu)

Soma<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Chandra.Orb of Night.Oshadhi-Pati.

Prajapati.Syenabhrita]

a name for Chandra

son of Atri and Anasuya

son of Parjanya, some say husband of Rohina or Suryaa

father of Bharda and Durvasas

the divine drink personified

In some accounts he married the many daughters of Daksha who cursed him when he neglected them. As Soma became weaker as a result of the curse, all the creatures on earth became weaker as well until Daksha was forced to lighten the curse. Now the moon, ruled by Soma, weakens and recovers every month. (see also Chandra)

Somadeva Hinduan 11th c writer, author of *Katha-Sarit-SagaraSomanatha Hindu

a name of Shiva as Lord of the Moon

Somapa Hindu

the spirit of Brahma, a class of Priti

Somaskanda Hindu

an aspect of Shiva

somatomancy

divination using parts of the human body

Somavita Hindu

a moon-goddess

Sombre Warrior (see Kuei Shen)Someone Powerful North American

a Cherokee name for the creator-spirit

somhlth Irish

[soulth.sowlth]

a shapeless supernatural being

(see also samhailt)

Somin-Shorai Japanese

a god of hospitality

brother of Kotan-Shorai

He gave hospitality he could ill afford to the god Buto who appeared in the guise of a beggar. The god rewarded him with a straw rope which, when placed across the doorway of the house, protected the occupants from disease.

Sommonacodum Thai

a saviour god

Somnus Roman

[=Greek Hupnus.Hypnus]

the god of sleep

son of Nyx

twin brother of Mors

Somtus (see Harsomtus)Son Norse

a bowl, 'expiation'

This was one of the three vessels into which the dwarfs Fialar and Galar drained the blood of Kvasir, whom they had killed to obtain his knowledge, from which they brewed the magic drink which endowed all who drank it with the power of poetry and music. Another was known as Boden.

Son-Gon Korean

son of a nobleman

He dreamed about a heavenly maiden who later became his wife and they had two children. While Son-Gon was away from home, a servant-girl named Mewol, who had been Son-Gon's mistress, told his parents that his wife had been unfaithful to him. They treated her so cruelly that she killed herself with a dagger but, though her spirit returned to heaven, her body remained as fresh as ever and, when Mewol confessed her wicked lies and repented, Son-Gon's wife was allowed to return to her husband.

Son of Ammon (see Alexander<sup>4</sup>)Son of Heaven<sup>1</sup> Chinese

the ruler of China, regarded as a deity

Son of Heaven<sup>2</sup> (see Tenshi)Son of Light North American

a hero of Hopi myths

When his wife was abducted by Man-Eagle, Son of Light set out to recover her. With the help of Spider Woman, a mole and several birds, he reached Man-Eagle's lair and defeated him in several contests of magic in the last of which Man-Eagle was burned to death. Spider Woman restored the ashes to a young man who undertook to mend his ways.

Son of Svarog (see Dabog)Son of the Hazel (see Mac Cool)Son of the Lion (see Shih-tzu-pi-ch'iu. Singhalaputra)Son of the Plough (see Mac Cecht)Son of the Spear (see Mac an Luin)

Son of the Waves (see Dylan)

Son of Three Dogs Irish

[Mac na Tri Con]

a name given to Lugaid, son of Curoi

This name arose because his mother was said to have slept with Conall Cearnach and Cuchulainn, as well as her husband. (see also Lugaid<sup>2</sup>)

Sondenach (see Sondennath)

Sondennath

[Sondenach]

an evil demon, depicted as a huntsman

Song of God (see Bhagavad-Gita)

Song of Govinda (see Gita-Govinda)

Song of Hiawatha North American

a long poem by Longfellow relating the life and death of the hero, Hiawatha

Song of Roland

(see Chanson de Roland)

Song of the Blessed Lord

(see Bhagavadgita)

Song of the Guru (see Guru-Gita)

Song of the Lord (see Bhagavadgita)

Song of the Ruler (see Ishvara-Gita)

Song of the Sun (see Solarljod)

Song of Ullikummi Hurrian

the story of the conflict between the gods

Song-t'sen Gam-po Tibetan

[Sron-btsan-sgam-po]

a warrior-king

He married Wen-Cheng and Bhṛkuti to increase his realm. They converted him to Buddhism and they lived in a statue of Avalokiteshvara.

Songkran Thai

a festival in honour of the god Phra In. It is said that Brahma lost his head in a wager with Phra In and the head was handed into the safekeeping of seven goddesses. They pass the head from one to another to signal the start of the New Year.

songlines Australian

[dreaming lines]

the trails of music and words left by ancestors of the Aborigines

When the ancestors rose from their sleep during the Dreamtime they sang men into existence. Each left a musical trail as a means of communication between men.

Sonjara (see Sunjata)

Sonna (see Jundeī Kwannin)

Sonneillon

[Sonnillon]

a demon of hate opposed to St Stephen

Sonnillon (see Sonneillon)

Sonobé Japanese

a retainer of the Lord of Kishiwada

When the spirit of Yenoki appeared as a handsome young man and carried off several maidens who had been involved in lewd dancing, Sonobé was sent by his master to tell Yenoki that the tree in which his spirit lived would be cut down unless he stopped seizing the village girls. Yenoki told Senobé where he could find the girls, who had been tied to trees, and he released them.

Sons of Aymon European

[Four Sons of Aymon]

these are given as Alardo, Guichard,

Ricardo and Rinaldo

Sons of Bor Norse

the gods Odin, Ve and Vili who killed Ymir and built the world from his body

Sons of Eochu Muigmedon

(see Adventures of the Sons of Muigmedon)

Sons of Hilal (see Banu Hilal)

Sons of Horus Egyptian

[Amentī]

the 4 gods guarding the organs of the deceased and the 4 quarters of the earth

These deities are given as Tuamutef, the jackal-headed guardian of the stomach and the east; Hapy, the baboon-headed guardian of the lungs and the north; Amset, the human-headed guardian of the liver and the south; Qebsehsenuf, the falcon-headed guardian of the intestines and the west.

Sons of Maghegh (see Imagheghan)

Sons of Mil (see Milesians)

Sons of Miled (see Milesians)

Sons of the Dark

Manichaean spirits who swallowed the light (see also Archons)

Sons of Turenn Irish

the children of Turenn by Brigit or, some say, by Dana

the brothers Brian, lúchar

and lúcharba

As punishment for killing Cian, the brothers were required to get a chariot, the hound Fail Inis, three apples from the Garden of the Sun, seven magical pigs from Asal, a magical spear from the Persian king, a golden cooking-spit from the undersea island of Finchory, a pigskin owned by Tuīs that could heal any wound on which it was laid, and then give three shouts on the hill protected by Mochaen. They carried out all these tasks but were killed by Mochaen and his sons who were themselves killed in the battle. The pigskin (or, in some accounts, Lugh's magic cloak) could have healed them but Lugh refused to let them use it.

(see also Tri de Dana)

Sons of Usna Irish

[Sons of Usnech]

the brothers Ainle, Ardan and Naisi. Ainle and Ardan accompanied Naisi and Deidre when they eloped to Scotland and died with him when Conor mac Nessa had all three of the brothers killed when they returned to Ireland.

Sons of Usnech (see Sons of Usna)

Sontso

North American

[Big Star]

a Navaho deity

Sonx

(see Senx)

Soogaot

North American

son of Kindawuss by a bear brother of Cunwhat

Sootash

Turkish

[=Chinese Yü:=Persian Yeshm]

jade or a drink made from it

(see also Yü<sup>1</sup>)

soothsay

foretell the future: a prediction

soothsayer

one who foretells future events

Sopatrus

Greek

a man who killed an ox

When an ox ate the cereal that Sopatrus had offered as a sacrifice to the gods, he slew it, immediately regretting his action. He fled to Crete and, when he was cursed by famine, instituted the Bouphonia.

Sopdet

Egyptian

[=Greek Sothis]

a goddess, the star Sirius personified wife of Sah

mother of Soped

She is sometimes depicted as a woman with a star on her head.

Sopdu

(see Soped)

Soped

Egyptian

[Sop(e)du]

a hawk-headed guardian god of the east

son of Sah and Sopdet

Sopedu

(see Soped)

Sophia

European

wife of Bertoldo

mother of Rinaldo

She and Bertoldo appear as the parents of Rinaldo in Jerusalem Delivered.

(see also Pistis)

Sophocles

Greek

(BC 496-406)

a poet and dramatist

He is said to have written some 120 plays, including Ajax, Antigone, Electra, Ichneutae, Oedipus at Colonus, Oedipus Rex, Oedipus Tyrannus, Philoctetes, Triptolemus and Trachininae.

Soprosyne Greek

a goddess, temperance personified

Sopona African

the small-pox god of the Yoruba

Soranus Roman

an Italian god

Sorath

a demon of the sun

sorcerer

one who performs magic or witchcraft

sorcery

divination aided by evil spirits:

magic: witchcraft

Sore-Gus African

[Sun-ram]

a sky-god and sun-god of the Hottentot

He is envisaged as a golden-fleeced ram.

Soredamor British

daughter of Lot sister of Gawain

wife of Alexander

mother of Cligés

soreisha Japanese

[tam-ya]

a small Shinto household shrine

dedicated to ancestors

Sorgalant European

a Saracen king

husband of Esclaramonde

His wife had an affair with his captive, Vivien, and the lovers fled together when the king found out.

Soripada East Indian

a Sumatran earth-goddess

Sorli Norse

son of Jonakur and Gudrun

In some versions of the story of Gudrun and Atli, Gudrun survived an attempted suicide by drowning and married King Jonakur by whom she had three more sons, Erp, Hamdir and Sorli.

When her daughter, Swanhild, was killed by King Ermenrich, Gudrun ordered her three sons to avenge Swanhild's death.

En route, Hamdir and Sorli killed their younger brother, Erp, deeming him to be too young for such a mission. When they found the king, they cut off his hands and feet and would have killed him, had not Odin intervened. The brothers were stoned to death, on the orders of Odin, by the king's subjects.

Sorlus of the Forest British

a knight of King Arthur's court

brother of Brian of the Forest

He fought his brother to decide which of them should chase the white stag that had interrupted Arthur's wedding feast. Gawain, who had been given this task by the king, stopped the fight and sent them to submit themselves to the king.

soroka African oracles of the Zande

Sororia (see Juno)

Sorrlog Celtic

Lord of Old Sarum

husband of Eigin

Sors Roman

a god of fortune

Sorta ketse (see Toste-mari)

Sorta pairam (see Toste-mari)

sortes

divination by random opening of a book

'Sortes Biblicae' refers to this practice when the Bible was used.

'Sortes Homericae' involved the use of a text by this poet, such as his Odyssey.

'Sortes Prenestinae' involves scattering letters of the alphabet from a jar and using words so found as prophetic.

'Sortes Sibyllinae' involves drawing verses of prophecy from a jar or throwing dice to choose such verses.

'Sortes Virgilianae' refers to the practice when the book used was Virgil's Aeneid.

(see also bibliomancy, rhapsodomancy)

sortilege

[sortilegy]

divination by drawing lots:

foretelling the future

sortilege (see sortilege)

sortition

the casting of lots by such means as throwing dice, spinning pointers, etc.

Sos Greek

the Greek form of the Egyptian Shu.

Sosan-Desa Korean

a magician

He was challenged to a contest of magic by Samyong-Dang. They each swallowed live fish and regurgitated them; those swallowed by Sosan-Desa lived, Samyong-Dang's died. When they each built a pile of eggs, Samyong-Dang started at the bottom but Sosan-Desa started at the top. Sosan-Desa finally offered his guest a bowl full of needles, saying they were noodle soup. Samyong-Dang refused them but his host ate them all and Samyong-Dang was forced to concede that his host was the greater magician.

Soshans (see Saoshyant)

Soshyant (see Saoshyant)

Sosil (see Muggo)

Sosioch (see Sraosha)

Sosipolis Greek

a child who became a serpent

When the Arcadians attacked Elis, a woman appeared who gave her new baby to the Eleans as she had been instructed to do in a dream. When the child was placed in front of the Elean troops, it turned into a fearsome snake, the sight of which routed the Arcadians. The snake then disappeared into the earth.

Sosol

an angel, ruler of the Zodiacal sign Scorpio

Sosom (see Sido)

Sosondowah North American

an Iroquois hunter

He had been taken up to heaven to guard the goddess of the dawn but fell in love with the mortal princess, Glendenwitha. When he took the form of a hawk and carried the maiden up to heaven, the goddess was so angry that she changed her into the morning star.

Sospita (see Sispes)

Soté Norse

a pirate

He stole a magic armband from Volund and buried himself alive with his treasure. The armband was recovered by Angantyr, Belé and Thorsten on one of their many voyages.

Sotem Egyptian

[Sodem.Sozem]

a god of hearing

Soter Greek

a name of Zeus as 'saviour'

Sothis Egyptian

the Greek name for Sopdet

Sotre European

an ugly French imp

He is said to appear in the form of a whirlwind, causing women and children to be carried away.

Sotuknang North American

a creator-god of the Hopi son of Taiowa

father of Kokyangwuti

When the first humans, created by Kokyangwuti, became wicked, he sent a flood to kill them but their creator led many of them from the lower regions to the earth's surface and they survived to spread across the face of the land.

Soucharis (see Sokaris)

Souchos Greek

[Sekonopis.Sochos.Suchos]
the Greek name for the Egyptian god Sebek

Souconna Celtic

a goddess of the Saône

soul

an immortal part of man and, in some authors, of animals

The idea of a soul appears in many religions and mythologies and is thought variously to reside in blood, the brain, the intestines or in such organs as the heart, liver or kidneys.

(1) In some African societies, a man has four souls, women and children only three. One of these souls can leave the body during sleep.

(2) In the East Indies, the Papuan say that the soul (sovai) survives death.

(3) The Chinese envisage two types of soul, the hun and the p'ò.
Everybody has three hun (the spirit soul) and seven po (the spirit which maintains the body).

(4) In Egypt, it was said that there were two souls; the ba which could leave the body and take any form, usually that of a bird, and the ka which lives on after death.

(5) Early Hebrew lore tells of a three-part soul, comprising the neshemah, the refesh and the ruach.

(6) The Malay soul (sumangat) is said to leave the body during illness.

(7) Muslim lore says that all humans, animals and plants have souls. After death, the soul may live in the form of a white dove, sheltered by god's throne, though others say that souls are kept in the crops of green birds in heaven.

(8) Some North American Indian tribes also believe in two souls – a small one in the heart which goes west at death and which can be reborn four times, and a large soul.
The latter was given by the hero, Wisaka, whereas the small soul is the gift of the supreme deity. Other tribes believe that the soul has a separate existence as a star. Still others believe that some animals have souls which leave the body finally only after it has been killed four times.

(9) In Siberia, the Buriats say that there are three souls in each person; one dies, one becomes a ghost and one is reborn.

(10) In South America, some equate the soul with a reflection in a mirror or in water, or with one's shadow; others say a person has several souls situated in various parts of the body. Some say there are only two souls, one kind, the other vicious. The soul is not always thought of as immortal.

(11) In the West Indies, the Haitian zombie is the body of one whose soul has been taken over by a sorcerer who uses it to control them.

soul animal

an animal into which the soul of a human is reborn

Another type of soul animal is an animal born at the same time as a human being, perhaps even a long way off, both being linked by fate.

Soul of Grief (see Tristram)

Soul of the Mirror (see Yayoi)

soul worship

the worship of ghosts

soulth (see somhlth)

Soului African

a god of vegetation and wealth of the Hua people

Soumilliot (British)

father of Fergus, king of Lothian

Soundiata (see Sunjata)

Sourakata African

the first bard among the Mande people, said to have descended from heaven

Source of Flowers (see Xochipilli)

Sousson-Pannan West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit
This being is reputed to be covered with sores and to drink blood.

Southiel, Ursula (see Mother Shipton)

Souw (see Sido)

sovai East Indian

[sovar] in Papuan lore, the soul

sovar (see sovai)

sovereignty (see sovranty)

Sovranty of Ireland Irish

[Sovereignty of Ireland.Spirit of Ireland]
the personification of kingship A female, usually old and wrinkled but turning into a beautiful maiden, who determines the rightful claimant to the throne.

sowth (see somhlth)

Sown-men Greek

[Spart(o)i]
a race of warriors

When Cadmus killed the guardian water-dragon of the Castilian spring, that had slain some of his companions,
he sowed its teeth in the ground.
Immediately, warriors sprang into being, fully armed, and when Cadmus threw a stone amongst them, they fought amongst themselves until only five were left. These five were Chthonius, Echion, Hyperenor, Pelorus and Udaeus, and they served Cadmus and helped him to build the city of Thebes.

The teeth left over from this operation were later sown by Jason with similar results. (see also Sparti)

Soyal North American

[Soyal(un)a] a nine-day Hopi festival, held at the winter solstice, instigating the return of the Katchinas

Soyala (see Soyal)

Soyaluna (see Soyal)

Sozem (see Sotem)

Space of Cold Death (see Mate-Anu)

Space of Extreme Cold

(see Whakerere-Anu)

soyoko North American

monsters of the Hopi

spadisir Norse

[spakonur.volur.vol(v)a] wise women: witches: spae-wives: a description of the Norns

(see also disir.vala)

spae Scottish

divine: foretell: prophesy

spaeman Scottish

[spaer]
a diviner: prophet

spaer (see spaeman)

spawives Scottish

witches: fairies: female soothsayers

spagyric

pertaining to alchemy

spagyric food (see elixir of life)

Spain Irish

a name used for the Land of the Dead: the home of the Milesians

spakonur (see spadisir)

Spandaramet<sup>1</sup> Persian

[Spantaramet.Spentaramet]
a name for hell

Spandaramet<sup>2</sup> (see Armaiti)

Spantaramet

(see Armaiti.Spandaramet<sup>1</sup>)

sparrow Greek

a bird sacred to Aphrodite

- Sparte Greek
daughter of Eurotas wife of Lacedaemon mother of Amyclas and Eurydice
- Sparti Greek
[Spartoi]
the 5 surviving Sown-men and their descendants
The five were Chthonius, Echion, Hyperenor, Pelorus and Udaeus. Their descendants were said to have a birthmark in the shape of a spear-head.
(see also Sown-men)
- Spartoi (see Sparti)
- spatulomancy
divination from burning shoulder-blades
- Spaul North American
the supreme god of the Indians of Queen Charlotte Island
This being is envisaged as a benevolent raven who killed the evil Queenah.
- Spealan Irish
a noble
He gave a feast to which he invited Cormac mac Airt after he had given up the throne in favour of his son Cairbre.
Cormac died at the feast when a fish bone got stuck in his throat.
- spear-bhean Irish a woman seen in a dream or vision: a sorrowing spirit
- Spear of Pisear Irish
a name for lightning, the magic spear of Lugh which he received from Pisear
- Spearmasters African
priests of the Dinka people
- Speckled Knight British
one of the knights defeated by The Great Fool
- Speckled Hen, The Irish
one of the halls at Emain Macha (see also Red Branch<sup>1</sup>)
- spectre
a ghost
- Spectre Huntsman Malay
a hunter
His wife gave birth to twins while he was away looking for a mouse-deer which she had asked him to get for her and he had promised never to return until he found one. This he never did. His son, when he grew up, looked for his missing father and found him in the forest, covered with moss. He had learned magic by which he made many people ill and he instructed his son as a doctor so that he could cure them.
- Speewah Australian
a fictitious cattle-station where everything is bigger or better
- spell
an incantation used by witches,
etc. to entrance
- Spell of Odin's Ravens
(see Hrafna Galdur Odins)
- Spénag Menog (see Spenta Mainya)
- Spendarmad (see Armaiti)
- Spendarmat (see Armaiti)
- Spenjaghyra Persian
a demon killed by Vazishta (lightning)
- Spentaramet
(see Armaiti.Spandaramet<sup>1</sup>)
- Spenishta Persian
one of the 5 types of sacred fire
This type of fire burns in paradise in the presence of Ohrmazd, the supreme divinity and hence is the holiest of all. (see Bahram fire)
- Spenser, Edmund English (1553-1599)
a poet
He wrote The Faerie Queene.
- Spenta Armaiti (see Armaiti)
- Spenta Mainya Persian [(Spénag) Menog.Spenta Mainyu]
a name and attribute of Ahura Mazda as 'the bounteous spirit', the good principle one of the 7 Ameshas
- Spenta Mainyu (see Spenta Mainya)
- Spercheius Greek
a river-god
father of Menestheus by Polydora father of Dryops, some say
- Spermo Greek
one of the Oenotropoe
daughter of Anius and Dorippa
sister of Elais and Oeno
- Spes Roman
a goddess, hope personified
- spetake North American
[=Chinook ikanam:=Kwakiutl nuyam:
=Tshimshian adaox]
a myth, in the lore of the Thompson Indians
- Sphaerus Greek
the charioteer of Pelops
- sphinx<sup>1</sup>
an image of a hybrid animal with the body of a lion, representing, in some cases,
a sun-god
The most widely-known is the huge statue (the Great Sphinx) of a recumbent lion with a human head, sited at Giza in Egypt.
Other forms exist; the androsphinx

has a male human head, the criosphinx has a ram's head and the hieracosphinx has the head of a hawk, in each case on the body of a lion.

A black sphinx symbolises evil, a white one symbolises goodness.

Aker, the Egyptian god of the underworld, is sometimes depicted as a double-headed sphinx.

(see also Sphinx<sup>2</sup>)

Sphinx<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Phix.The Strangler]

a winged monster, part woman, part lion, with the tail of a serpent

This beast, daughter either of Orthrus and Chimaera or of Typhon and Chimaera or the serpent Echidna, was sent by Artemis to ravage Thebes after Laius had abducted Chrysippus.
Some accounts say it was sent by Hera, others by Apollo or Dionysus.
In all versions, she killed and ate any traveller who failed to answer the riddle given to her by the Muses and was herself killed when Oedipus successfully replied. Some accounts say that she threw herself over a cliff, others that Oedipus drove her over the cliff at sword-point.

(see also Riddle of the Sphinx)

sphondulomancy

divination from spindles

Spider<sup>1</sup> African

a trickster-god of the Temne

This being is also regarded as a wise deity.

spider<sup>2</sup> North American

a female creator-spirit

Some tribes assert that the spider wove earthly phenomena (including plants, animals and mankind), the web of fate and the alphabet.

Spider Man (see Ictinike)

Spider, Mr (see Anansi)

Spider Woman North American

a Hopi spirit

She helped Son of Light to recover his wife who had been abducted by Man-Eagle. (see also Hahah Wugtu.

Kokyangwuti.Naste Estsan.

Old Spider)

spigena (see laumé)

Spinagros European

a giant in Italy

Spiniensis Roman

a god of agriculture

spirit

a ghost: a disembodied soul; the breath of life

Spirit Dog (see Pono-Kamita)

Spirit-land (see Ghost-land)

Spirit of Ireland (see Sovranty)

Spirit of Rain Japanese
an attribute of Inari as embodied in the fox

Spirit of the Stranger
(see Komba Ralingki)

Spirit of the Wind Chinese a spirit which leads those souls due for reincarnation over the bridge to the Tower of Forgetfulness

Spirit Star North American
a Pawnee sky-spirit

spirit trap South American
a plaited object of great intricacy

This object is used by the natives of the Guianas to frustrate the activities of spirits. It can be left on a path so that any following spirit will waste time puzzling over it, allowing the intended victim time to escape.

spirit world

the land of the dead

Spirits of Solomon Mesopotamian
72 rebellious demons

Solomon is said to have put these beings into a 'brass vessel' and thrown it into a lake from where it was recovered by the Babylonians who thought it contained great treasures.
When they opened it, the demons
escaped.

Spiritual Dragon Chinese
one of 4 Dragon Kings, responsible for rain and wind

spiritualism
the belief that we can communicate with the spirit world, generally through the agency of a medium

spiritus mendaciorum
the second order of demons,
the spirits of falsehood,
ruled by Pytho

Spitter<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands
a spirit of the Philippines

There are said to be eight of these spirits who take charge of the newly dead. If one of them spits on a living person, that person will fall ill with some disease, probably leprosy. They can be guarded against by two other spirits known as Tudong and Yungayung.

Spitter<sup>2</sup> (see Tefnut)

Spityura Persian
brother of Yima
He was said to have killed his brother by sawing him in half.

Splendid Mane (see Aonbharr)

splinter cat North American
a fabulous animal

Split Boys North American

[Half Boys]
twin culture-heroes of the Kiowa Although these boys were twins, one was born some time before the other and was playing by himself when the second was born. He threw his hoop into the air, something he had been forbidden to do, and, when it fell on his head, he turned round and found his new brother standing there. They did many things that they were not supposed to do but yet they survived.
On one occasion they escaped from a charging buffalo by changing themselves into moles.

Spring Boy (see Throwaway)

Spring-snake Charm (see Ch'iu She)

spodomancy

[tephromancy] divination from ashes

Spoils of Annwfn, The British

[Preiddeu Annwfn]
a poem by Taliesin

This poem relates the exploits of King Arthur in his quest to win the magic cauldron in the underworld. He took three shiploads of warriors on the expedition but only Arthur and seven others survived.

A similar story is that of Bran's invasion of Ireland to recover Branwen.

spook

a ghost

Spotted Eagle (see Wanblee Geshka)

spriggan British
a Cornish goblin living in stones

Spring and Autumn Annals
(see Ch'un-ch'iu)

Spring of Health (see Slane)

Spring Ox, The (see Mang Shen)

sprite
a brownie, elf, gnome or goblin

Spumador British
King Arthur's horse (Spenser)

Spurius Lartius Roman [Lartius]

a friend of Horatius
He and Titus Herminius helped Horatius to defend the Sublician bridge over the Tiber against the attacking Italians under Lars Porsena.

Spurius Tarpeius Roman

father of Tarpeia
sPyan-ras-gzigs Tibetan [Chen-re-zi.Chenresi]
a monkey-god
consort of sGrol-ma

He and sGrol-ma are regarded as the progenitors of all living things and he is manifest in the Dalai Lama.

In some accounts, this is the Tibetan name for Avalokiteshvara.

Squash North American
daughter of Eithinoha
sister of Bean and Onatah

Squonk North American
a monster with loose skin covered with warts

This beast spends much of its time beneath hemlock trees, weeping in grief at its own ugliness. Squonks are capable of evading capture by dissolving completely into a pool of tears and bubbles when cornered.

Sradda (see Shradda)

Srahman African
a Xhosa nymph of the silk-cotton tree wife of Sasabonsum

She instructed travellers in the lore of the forests.

Srahmandazi African
the Xhosa paradise

Sraoscha (see Sraosha)

Sraosha Persian [Craosa.Sosiosch.Sraoscha.Surush: =Muslim Jibril]
guardian of the earth during the hours of darkness

an aspect of Ahura Mazda, obedience':
He was regarded as the ear that heard the cries of man and, with Mithra and Rashnu, a judge who weighed souls in the scales in the underworld.

In some accounts, he is one of the Amesha Spentas or of the Yazatas.

Srat Slav
a flying demon

Sravakas Buddhist
the arhats, considered as auditors of the Good Word and very wise

Sravan Belgola Jain
[Sravana Belgola]
a sacred rock

Sravana Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Sravana Belgola (see Sravan Belgola)

Sravistha (see Dhanistha)

Sreang (see Sreng)

Sreca Serbian
[=Russian Dolya]

a benevolent female deity
She determines a mortal's fate at birth and is regarded as the converse of Nesreca.

Sredoï Serbian
a man betrothed to Iconia

His intended bride was carried off by Theodore.

- Sreng Irish [Sreang]
a Firbolg warrior
When the Danaans landed in Ireland, they suggested that they share the island with the Fir Bolg. They could not agree and fought the first Battle of Moytura, during which Sreng met Nuada and cut off his hand (or arm, in some accounts) which Dian Cecht later replaced with a silver model.
He became the king of the Firbolg.
- Sri' Hindu
[Anushayina.Shri.Shru.Sridevi]
an early goddess
consort of Dharma or Vishnu
She was later assimilated by Lakshmi or Sarasvati. (see also Devi Shri)
- Sri' Jain
[Shri.Shru.Sridevi]
a goddess
- Sri' Tibetan
[[dpal-iden] Lha Mo.Lhamo.Machi-pal
Lha-mo.Shri.Shru.Sridevi]
a Buddhist goddess of disease, protector of the Dalai Lama
one of the dharmapalas
a terrible aspect of Devi consort of Shisrte
She is said to bring death and disease to mankind.
She came to earth as a mortal and became the consort of Shisrte, king of Lanka. They had a son but Sri killed him and drank his blood.
She is shown dressed in the skins of the dead, rides a mule and lives on a diet of human flesh and blood.
She is sometimes depicted as having three heads and three eyes.
- Sri-gaja Hindu [Megha]
a white elephant associated with Lakshmi
- Sri Lanka Hindu
the island of Ceylon (Lanka) regarded as a goddess
This island was the site of the epic battle between Rama and Ravana described in the Ramayana.
- Sri lantra (see Sri Yantra)
- Sri Yantra Hindu
[Sri Lantra:=Chinese Yin-Yang:
=Japanese In-Yo:=Tibetan Yab-Yum]
a diagram, using concentric circles, lotus petals and 9 triangles
This diagram is said to represent the male and female energies of the cosmos.
- Sridevi (see Sri)
- Srikantha Hindu
one of the vidyesvaras
an aspect of Shiva
- Srimala (see Shrimala)
- srin Tibetan
early inhabitants of Tibet
These beings, armed with catapults and slings, were the precursors of the human race. Next came the lha.
- Srin-po Tibetan
a class of deity: ghouls: vampires
- Sripada (see Footprints of Buddha)
- Srishok Persian
a celestial ox due to be sacrificed at the renovation following the end of the world
- Srivasumukhi Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Vasudhara
- Srivasundara Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Vasudhara
- Srivdyadevi Hindu
a terrible goddess
- Srogbdag Buddhist
a Tibetan deity or demon brother of Rigs-bu-mo
He is regarded as an assistant to Lcham-Sring and is depicted riding a wolf.
- Sron-btsan-sgam-po (see Song-tsen Gam-po)
- Srosh Persian
a messenger of the gods
It was his duty to tell the king when his time on earth was up.
- Sru Irish
an ancestor of the Irish grandson of Gaedheal Glas son of Esru
father of Eber Scot
He led his people from Egypt, where they were persecuted, to Scythia, crossing the Red Sea with four ships holding twenty-four wedded couples. After quarrelling with the Scythians, they were led to Spain by Breoghan and later to Ireland by Milesius.
- srungma Tibetan
a group of Bon deities assimilated into the Buddhist pantheon
- Srvara Persian
a storm-demon
This being was slain by Keresaspa.
- Ssebinitu African
a name of Katonda as 'lord of all'
- Ssewannaku African
a name of Katonda as 'eternal one'
- Ssu Korean
a fabulous dog or the unicorn
- Ssu Fang Chinese
the 4 cardinal points guarded by the Ssu Ling
- Ssu Fu Chinese
[Four Supplements]
one of the parts of the Tao Tsang, the canon of Taoist literature
One of the works in this part of the Tao Tsang contains the Tao Te Ching. The other part is known as the San Tung.
- Ssu-hsien (see Four Saints)
- Ssu Ling (see Four Auspicious Animals)
- Ssu-ma Kuang Chinese
one of the disciples of Confucius
allowed to sacrifice in the Temple
of Confucius
- Ssu-ma Ta Shen (see Ma Wang)
- Ssu Ming' Chinese
a legendary hero
He assisted the gods in controlling events on earth. In some accounts he is divided into two, the deities Shang T'ai and Wen Ch'ang.
- Ssu Ming' (see Tsao Chün)
- ssu-niu Chinese
dragons said to appreciate music
- St Brendan's Isle (see Island of the Blessed)
- St Patrick's purgatory Irish
a cave said to be an entrance to
the underworld
- Sta-au North American ghosts of the wicked in the lore of the Blackfoot Indians
- Stackalee North American [Stackerlee.Stagolee]
a black stoker on a steamboat
He sold his soul to the Devil for a magic stetson which made him invulnerable to fire and enabled him to change shape as he wished. Even the Devil got fed up with his troublemaking and arranged for his hat to be stolen by a man who Stackalee shot.
- Staff of Fate (see Kala-danda)
- stag
the male deer
Technically, a stag is over four years old; over five years it is referred to as a hart.
(1) In Greece the deer was regarded as the animal of Diana.
(2) The Japanese regard the deer as the animal of Jurojin.
(3) In Mesopotamian lore the deer was a symbol of fertility.
(4) In Norse mythology four harts, Dain, Davalin, Duneyr and Durathor, grazed on the shoots of the world-tree Yggdrasil.
(5) In Welsh stories the Red Stag of Redynvre is one of the animals

- consulted by Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.
- Stag-gdon-can Buddhist
the Tibetan name for Vyaghravaktradakini
- Stag-Minos (see Minelaphos)
- Stag of Redenure
(see Red Stag of Redynvre)
- Stag of Rhedynfre
(see Red Stag of Redynvre)
- Staka-pas Russian [Kan Pa. Kuvan Pas. Onto] an evil deity
husband of Bonto
When regarded as husband and wife, this couple are referred to as Onto and Bonto.
- Standing Hollow Horn North American
chief of the Sioux when White Buffalo Woman came to visit them
- sTang-lha Tibetan
the gling-chos heaven
This realm, ruled by dBangpo-rgyabzhin, is the highest of three (or four) realms and contains the branches of the tree the roots of which are in the underworld, Yog-klu.
- Stanitakumara Jain
a minor god
one of the 10 Bhanavasi
- Stanzaic Morte Arthur British
a long poem dealing with the later life and death of King Arthur
- Staphylus<sup>1</sup> Greek
a goat-herd of Oeneus
He is said to have discovered the grape and given it to Oeneus.
- Staphylus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a god, the grape-cluster personified
son of Dionysus and Ariadne brother of Phanus father of Rhoeo
one of the 50 Argonauts
- Staphylus<sup>3</sup> Greek
a king of Delos
In some stories, he married Chrysothemis when she fled to Delos to escape death at the hand of Orestes.
- star Mesopotamian
the symbol of An
- Star Boy North American
the son of a maiden who rose up to heaven and married Star Husband
- Star Country North American
the sky, in the lore of the Hopi
- Star Creator South American
a creator-god of Tierra del Fuego
After the original giants inhabiting the earth had been killed, Star Creator made the ancestors of the present tribes from clay.
- Star Festival (see Hoshi matsuri)
- Star-folk North American in the lore of the Algonquians, the beings who live in the heavens
These handsome beings sometimes descend from their beautiful Star country to earth on ropes spun by the spider.
- Star Husband North American
a heavenly being who married an earthly maiden when she rose up to heaven
- Star-maiden North American
a fairy who came to earth in a basket
One such being married Algon, another married Cloud Carrier. In the story of Algon, he found a fairy-ring on the prairie and watched as twelve star-maidens descended from the sky in a basket and danced round the ring. He tried several times to catch the youngest star-maiden, without success, and finally turned himself into a mouse. When she tried to kill him, he returned to his normal form and carried her off. They married and had one son. Some years later, she made another wicker-basket and, taking the child with her, ascended to her home in the sky.
When the boy was grown up, he asked to see his father so they came back to earth in the basket. Algon returned to the skies with them, taking parts of all the animals and birds with him. The star-people each took one of the fragments and became the animal or bird whose part they had chosen. Algon, his wife and son, all became falcons.
- Star of Dignities (see Lu Hsing)
- Star of Emoluments (see Lu Hsing)
- Star of Happiness (see Fu Hsing)
- Star of Longevity (see Shou Shen)
- Star of Officials (see Lu Hsing)
- Star of Quarrels (see Lo-hou)
- Star of the Sea (see Isis)
- Star Woman South American
a supernatural female
An ugly man, whom no woman would marry, wished for a star as a wife. A woman then appeared who married him and he immediately became handsome and very successful. The Star Woman then took him to her own home in the sky but he found it too cold up there and died.
- Stariat Irish
an ancestor of the Fir Bolg
son of Nemed
father of Semion
- Starkad (see Starkader)
- Starkader Norse [Hrossharsgrani. Starkad(r). Starkath(r)] an eight-handed warrior
He was a favourite of Odin and was given the gift of poetry.
- Starkadr (see Starkader)
- Starkath (see Starkader)
- Starkathr (see Starkader)
- Starn<sup>1</sup> Irish
son of Sera
brother of Agnoman and Partholan, in some accounts father of Tuan mac Carell
- Starn<sup>2</sup> Irish
son of Nemed, in some accounts
- Stata Mater Roman
a fire-goddess
She was said to be able to make fires stand still.
- Stater British [Staterius]
a Welsh king
He fought against Dunvallo Molmutius and was killed in battle.
- Staterius (see Stater)
- Statius Roman
a 1st c BC poet
He was the author of Achilleis, Thebais, etc.
- Statue of Zeus Greek
a huge statue, in gold and ivory on wood, made by Phidias This statue was one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.
- Staurus Egyptian
the tree of life: the cross of Osiris as the symbol of immortality
- Steingud Norse
a woman due to be born after Ragnarok as the progenitor of a new race
- Stella Maris Greek
the Greek name for Isis
- Stellio Greek
a young boy
He was changed into a lizard by Demeter for making a joke about the rate at which she ate her food.
- Stentor Greek
a herald at Troy
His voice was said to be as loud as the combined voices of fifty other men. He died in a shouting match with Hermes.
- Stephan Serbian
a hero
brother of Demitrius
When the Turks attacked Belgrade, Demitrius fled and Stephan was captured. Despite offers of wealth and power, he resisted all attempts to make him embrace the faith of the Turks and escaped death only when the princess, Haykoon, fled with him and, converting to the Christian faith, married him.

Sterculia tree Korean
the tree of life: the tree supporting the world

Sterculius Roman [Stercutus.Sterquilinius]
a name for Picumnus as a god of manuring

Stercutus (see Sterculius)

Sterope<sup>1</sup> Greek [Asteria.Asterope]
a nymph, one of the Pleiades daughter of Atlas by Hippodamia or Pleione mother of Oenomaus by Ares wife of Oenomaus, some say (see also Electra<sup>3</sup>)

Sterope<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Asterope]
daughter of Acastus and Hippolyta or Astydamia
sister of Laodamia and Sthenele

Sterope<sup>3</sup> Greek
[Asterope]
daughter of Cepheus

She was given a lock of Medusa's hair by Heracles who instructed her to show it above the city walls to frighten off any invading forces.

Steropes Greek
['lightning']
one of the 3 original Cyclopes
son of Uranus and Gaea

Sterquilinius (see Sterculius)

Stesichorus Greek
a 6th c BC poet

He wrote Oresteia and stories of the Calydonian boar-hunt and the tenth labour of Heracles.

Sthanu Hindu
a name for Shiva as an ascetic

Sthavira Buddhist
the Sanskrit version of the Pali Thera a name for an arhat

Stheno (see Stheno)

Sthenealus (see Sthenalus)

Stheneboea (see Anteaia)

Stheneboia (see Anteaia)

Sthenele Greek
daughter of Acastus and Hippolyta or Astydamia sister of Laodamia and Sterope wife of Menoetius mother of Patroclus

Sthenelus<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Sthenelaus]
one of the Epigoni

son of Capaneus and Evadne father of Cometes and Cylarabes
He was one of the soldiers hidden inside the wooden horse at Troy.

Sthenelus<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Sthenelaus]
son of Androgeus or of Actor brother of Alcaeus

He and his brother served as slaves to Heracles on his ninth Labour to atone for the murder of two of Heracles' crewmen by subjects of his brother, Alcaeus. Heracles made them rulers of Thasos.

Sthenelus<sup>3</sup> Greek [Sthenelaus]
a king of Mycenae
son of Perseus and Andromeda
brother of Electryon husband of Nicippe
father of Alcinoe, Eurystheus and Medusa

He seized the throne of Mycenae when Electryon was accidentally killed by Amphitryon.

Some say that Sthenelus was killed by Hyllus.

Sthenno (see Stheno)

Stheno Greek
['mighty'.Stheino.Sthenno]
one of the 3 Gorgons daughter of Phorcus and Ceto
sister of Euryale and Medusa

Stigarde Norse
a name for Sceaf in some stories

Sthi Balkan
a female demon in Albania

In some accounts she is a fire-breathing dragon who guards a hoard of treasure.

Stilbe Greek
daughter of Peneus and Creusa sister of Cyrene, Daphne and Hypseus
Some say that she was the mother by Apollo of the Centaurs and the Lapiths.

Stillevolk (see Dwarfs)

Stimula Roman
a minor goddess

A goddess who excites passion in women. In some accounts, she is identified with Semele.

Stinger (see Girtab)

Stolas (see Solas)

Stone Boy North American [Iyan Hoshi]
a Sioux hero

Five brothers lived with their sister and they survived by hunting. On each of five consecutive days, one of the brothers failed to return from the hunt and the girl was left to fend for herself. Desperate for food, she swallowed a pebble hoping to die. Instead, four days later she gave birth to a boy who grew very quickly to manhood. When she told him about her five missing brothers, he vowed to find them and bring them back. After travelling for four days he came to a teepee where an old hag offered him food. When he discovered that she had tried to poison him, he killed her and then unpacked the five bundles standing in the corner. Inside he found the dried bodies of the five missing men. Instructed by a pile of talking bones, he built a little sweat-house in which he restored his uncles to life.

In the Ojibway version, Stone Boy was the twin brother of Wene-boozho, both of whom were fathered on a maiden by Geesis, the sun.

Stone Coat North American
a giant in the lore of the Ute

A young boy of immense strength came to Stone Coat's lodge, despite a warning from his father, and was challenged to eat one bear before Stone Coat could eat the other. By deception, the boy won and was challenged to kick a log higher than the giant could. The boy won, kicking the log very high so that when it fell on Stone Coat it killed him. The boy had earlier killed a family of thunder-spirits and later killed a gambler who had made a practice of decapitating those who lost to him at dice. He also helped the Bear and Wolf tribes to win a ball game and they invited him to become their chief, an honour he gave to his father.

Stone Giant South American
a giant of the Yahgan people of Tierra del Fuego

The only vulnerable parts of his body were the soles of his feet and he was killed by a humming-bird who discovered this and attacked him.

Stone Giants North American
the original inhabitants of the land of the Iroquois

These giants were defeated by the thunder-god, Hinun, who persuaded his brother, the west wind, to blow the giants over the edge of a deep ravine where they all perished.

Stone Man (see Darukaviteré)

Stone Men (see Hayunu)

Stone of Destiny

[Coronation Stone.Fal(stone).Jacob's Pillow.Jacob's Stone.Lia Fail.Stone of Fal. Stone of Scone.Tara Stone]
the stone on which the Pictish kings sat at their coronation

It is said to be the stone used as a pillow by Jacob, mentioned in Genesis, which was brought to Ireland by a princess called Tea or by Gaedheal. It was later taken to Iona and thence to Scone in Scotland, finally ending up in England as the Coronation Stone. It was said to roar when a new monarch sat on it, so confirming his right to the throne.

Other versions say that there were two such stones, the Lia Fail of Ireland, discovered by Conn Ceadchathach, and a similar stone (Jacob's Pillow) in Scotland brought to Scotland from Egypt by Gaedheal.

Stone of Dylan (see Maen Dylan)

Stone of Fal (see Stone of Destiny)

Stone of Scone (see Stone of Destiny)

Stone People Greek

a race created after the flood

The sole survivors of the flood, Deucalion and Pyrrha, threw stones over their shoulders, creating a new race to repopulate the earth.

Stone Woman (see Maiso)

Stonehenge British

a megalith on Salisbury Plain

Some say that these stones were originally standing in Ireland as the Giant's Ring. In some versions, they were brought over to England and re-erected by Merlin's magic or, some say, with the help of the Devil. In other stories, the structure was built by the druids.

Stoneribs North American

a hero of the tribes of the north-west son of Volcano Woman

He skinned the halibut which an eagle dropped on to the shore and, wearing the skin, took the form of a halibut and swam south towards the sound of voices calling for help. He found a tribe starving and helped them to collect mussels for food. When the monster whale, Qagwaai, wrecked some of the tribe's canoes, killing the occupants, Stoneribs lured the monster to the surface and, when it chased his canoe, mouth agape, Stobneribs jumped into the gaping maw and killed the monster by shooting it from the inside. He then skinned the whale and, by wearing the skin, was able to become a whale himself. Another monster trapped Stoneribs but he was able to escape by changing back to a halibut.

When he finally returned home, he took off the halibut skin and hung it up to dry. An eagle swooped down and carried off the skin and, thereafter, Stoneribs remained his normal human shape but became known as Crystalribs.

stones

some stones are said to have the power to conjure up or to ward off demons

Among the many stones to which such powers are attributed are anachitis, anacithidus, antiphates, chrisoletus, chrysolite, coral, kinocetus, pontica and synochitis. (see also sacred stones)

Stones of King Arthur's Knights

(see Cerrig Marchogion)

stoorworm Scottish

a huge water-monster with venomous breath

Assipattle killed this monster, after thirty-six great warriors had failed. The stoorworm swallowed him when he went out in his little boat to fight it, so he cut open its liver and pushed in burning peats which he had brought with him. The dead body became Iceland and the monster's teeth fell out to form the Orkney Islands.

stopan European

a Bulgarian spirit of an ancestor acting as guardian of the house

Storia del Merlino Italian

a 14th c Italian life of Merlin

stork<sup>1</sup> European

a sacred bird in Sweden

stork<sup>2</sup> Greek

the bird sacred to Hera

Storm-serene (see Bilskirnir)

Storm Winds Mesopotamian

one of the Eleven Mighty Helpers created by Tiamat

Stormalong British

a sailor-hero

One explanation for the white cliffs of Dover is that his great ship, Courser, scraped the sides of the Dover Straits as it passed through. It also carved out the Panama Canal when driven ashore by a storm.

Story-tree African

in the lore of the Chaga, a tree that reached the sky

This tree grew on the spot where a sheep and a cow had been sacrificed, following the death of a young girl who had sunk into a quagmire at that point. Two boys who climbed the tree disappeared into the heavens and were never seen again.

Stove God (see Kitchen God)

Stoymir Slav

a sleeping knight

He sleeps, with his companions-in-arms, in a cave in Bohemia awaiting a call to arms in an alternative version of the Wenceslas story.

Stradwawl Welsh

wife of Coel and mother of Gwawl, in some accounts

Strangler, The (see Sphinx<sup>2</sup>)

Strassburg, Gottfried von German

a 13th c writer who contributed to the Arthurian legends

strenae Roman

twigs used in the New Year festival

These twigs were taken from a grove sacred to Strenia and were given as tokens of good fortune.

Strenia Roman

[=Greek Hygeia:=Roman Salus]

a Sabine goddess of the New Year festivities

Stretcher (see Procrustes)

Stribog Slav

[Stribogu]

a wind-god and god of wealth

Striboga (see Stribog)

Stricta Greek

[Stricte]

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Stricta, tore him to pieces.

Stricte (see Stricta)

striges Roman

blood-sucking monsters

String Man (see Hi Haela)

String of Lights (see Deepavali)

Striped marten (see Hua-hu Tiao)

Stroke Lad (see Amadan)

Stromkarl Scandinavian

[Neck(ar).Necker.Nickel.Nicker.Nicor.

Nix(ie).Nixy]

a fish-tailed water-spirit, male

In Norway, this being is a spirit of the waterfall and a wonderful musician.

In Sweden, it is the spirit of any body of freshwater.

Strong One (see Guhyaka)

Strophades Island Greek

the home of the Harpies

Strophius<sup>1</sup> Greek

king of Phocis

husband of Anabixia

father of Pylades
He sheltered the young Orestes when he fled after the murder of his father Agamemnon by Clytemnestra.

Strophius<sup>2</sup> Greek

king of Phocis
son of Pylades and Electra

Stumphalides (see Stymphalian Birds)

stryge
a ghost or vampire

Strymo Greek

daughter of Scamander wife of Laomedon
mother of Antigone, Clytius, Hesione, Hicetaon, Lampos, Podarces, Thymoetes and Tithonus

In some accounts, she is referred to as Placia.

Strymon Greek

a river-god
father of Boreas by Eos, some say father of Phesus by Euterpe, some say

Studas German

father of Heime

He gave Heime the sword Blutgang with which to challenge Dietrich.

stupa Buddhist

[caitya.dagaba.dagoba.tope:=Pali thupa] a mound or shrine containing relics of the Buddha or a saint

(see also pagoda)

Sturlason (see Snorri Sturluson)

Sturleson (see Snorri Sturluson)

Stux (see Styx)

Stybjorn Norse

[Styrbjorn]

an enemy of Eric the Victorious

He fought with Eric who swore to sacrifice himself to Odin if he were granted victory. The god intervened on the side of Eric and Stybjorn's men were rendered blind and then swallowed up in an avalanche.

Stygeros Greek

a name for Hades as 'hateful one'

Stygian oath Greek

an oath sworn on the River Styx which was regarded as irrevocable

Stygian nymphs Greek

nymphs in Hades

These nymphs were in charge of the accoutrements of Hades – the helmet of invisibility, the winged sandals and the magic wallet – which were borrowed by Perseus when he set out to kill the Medusa.

Stymphalian birds Greek

[Stumphalides.Stymphalides]

man-eating brazen birds

These birds which thronged the Stymphalian Marshes were dispersed or killed by Heracles as his sixth Labour. Those that escaped flew to the island of Aretius where they later harassed the Argonauts.

They were described as being part crane, part eagle, part stork, and having feathers like arrows.

Stymphalian Marshes Greek

the home of the Stymphalian birds

Stynphalides (see Stymphalian Birds)

Stymphalus Greek

a king of Arcadia
son of Elatus and Laodice
brother of Aepytus, Cyllen and Pereus father of Parthenope

Pelops pretended to be his friend but murdered him during his attempt to conquer Arcadia.

Styrbjorn (see Stybjorn)

Styx<sup>1</sup> Greek

['hateful'.Stux: =Japanese Sodzu Baba]

a sea-goddess, chief of the Oceanids

daughter of Oceanus and Tethys

wife of Pallas

wife of Hades, some say mother of Bia, Cratus, Nike

and Zelos

She sent her four sons to help the gods in the battle with the giants and was rewarded with a place as the river of oaths in the underworld. (see Styx<sup>2</sup>)

Styx<sup>2</sup> Greek

['hateful'.Stux:=Babylonian Hubur:

=Hindu Rasa:=Norse Leipter]

one of the rivers in Hades

The Styx was said to encircle the underworld nine times and was regarded as the river of the unbreakable oath. A god who broke an undertaking sworn on the Styx was rendered unconscious for nine years, followed by nine years (some say one year) in exile. Mortals were poisoned by the waters of the river if they broke an oath.

Some say it was this river, rather than Acheron, over which Charon ferried the souls of the dead.

Su South American

a legendary monster

This cruel beast had the head of a woman, the forelegs of a tiger, the hindlegs of a wolf and a tail like a huge leaf which it used to protect its young in times of danger.

It was reputed to kill its own young rather than allow them to be captured.

Su (see Shu<sup>2</sup>)

Su-Mitra Hindu

[Sumitra]

third wife of Dasa-ratha

mother of Lakshmana and Shatrughna Vishnu gave the childless Dasa-ratha a portion which he shared between his three wives. Si-Mitra received a quarter and produced twin boys, Lakshmana and Shatrughna.

Su-p'in-t'e Chinese

[Su-p'in-t'o]

the Chinese version of Subhinda

(see Nandimitra)

Su-p'in-t'o (see Su-p'in-t'e)

Sua South American

a sun-god and culture-hero of the

Muyscaya Indians

consort of Cuchaviva

In some accounts he is equated with Bochica.

Suac Pacific Islands

a hero of the Philippines

His fame was due to the club which he stole from one of the giant bungisngis which enabled him to kill other monsters and all his enemies.

Suadela Roman

[=Greek Peitho]

the goddess of persuasion, particularly in romance, seduction and love

Suaixtis Prussian

[Suaitix]

a god of light

Suaixtix (see Suaixtis)

Sualdaim (see Sualtam)

Sualdaimh (see Sualtam)

Sualdam (see Sualtam)

Sualdamh (see Sualtam)

Sualt Irish

an ancestor of Finn mac Cool son of Ealtan

father of Trenmor

Sualtam mac Roth Irish

[Sualda(i)m(h).Sualtaim]

an Ulster chieftain

husband of Dectera

the earthly father of Cuchulainn

In some accounts, Cuchulainn was the son of Dectera by Lugh who had spirited her away to the Otherworld on her wedding eve but he was raised by Sualtam as his own son, then called Setanta.

In the battle with the forces of Connaught, he rallied the warriors of Ulster to save the province. In doing so, he spoke before the druid Cathbad and, for this breach of protocol, cut off his own head on the sharp edge of his shield but the head still gave out the rallying cry.

suan-i Chinese

dragons depicted as seated under the feet of the Buddha

suan side Irish
sleep induced by the fairies

Suanan Irish
a poet at the court of Conor mac Nessa

Suantrade Irish
a harpist
son of Uaithne and Boann
brother of Gentrade and Goltrade
He and his brothers played music so sad that men died weeping as they listened.

Suarga (see Svarga)

Subadra East Indian [Sembadra:=Indian Subhadra]
sister of Baladewa wife of Arjuna

Subaga African
in the lore of the people of Mali, these are people who can leave their own bodies and enter those of others

Subahu Hindu
a king
father of Sunanda
When Damayanti arrived at his court after weeks of wandering, he gave her shelter and made her an attendant on his daughter, Sunanda.

Subala Hindu
a king
father of Gandhari

Subhadra Hindu
[=East Indies Dewi Shri.Sembadra.Subadra]
a goddess
daughter of Surabhi or Vasudeva sister of Krishna
mother of Abhimanyu by Arjuna

Subhaga Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

Subhamekhala Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

Subhinda (see Nandimitra)

Subhuti Buddhist [=Tibetan Rab-'byor]
an incarnation of the Grand Lama
He is said to have been a Naga in a previous existence.

Subrahmanya<sup>1</sup> Hindu
[Brahmayus.Subramanya]
a minister at the court of Shankha husband of Brahmavati father of Maitreya
In some accounts, the husband of Brahmavati and father of Maitreya is referred to as Brahmayus.

Subrahmanya<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Subramanya]
a warrior-god
a form of Karttikeya or Skanda son of Agni and Svaha brother of Ganesha, some say He was created by Shiva to kill an asura who was attacking a rishi. By looking into the depths of a lake, Shiva engendered six infants. Parvati embraced the babies and compressed them into one child with six heads. This hero cut the asura in half, using one half to make the peacock which he uses as his vahama. The other half became the cockerel which is one of his symbols.

In this form, he was consort of Dewanei and Walliamei.

His various symbols include a bow and a cockerel.

Subramanya (see Subrahmanya)

Succat Irish
a nickname for St Patrick

Succor Benoth

a demon of jealousy
He is said to be a eunuch in hell and a personal favourite of Persephone.

In black magic he is the chief eunuch of the Royal Household.

(see also Succoth Benoth)

Succoth Benoth Mesopotamian
the Semitic version of Sarpanitu

succubi (see succubus)

succubos (see succubus)

succubus

[succubos: plur=succubi]

a demon in the form of a female which attacks sleeping men and has intercourse with them

Sucellos (see Sucellus)

Sucellus Roman

[Sucellos.The Good Striker.The Hammer

God:=Irish Dagda:=Roman Dis.Silvanus]

a Celtic thunder-god in Gaul consort of Nantsovelta

He is sometimes depicted with a three-headed dog and a raven and holding a mallet (or hammer) which he used in two ways. When he struck the earth with it, plants appeared. He also used it to strike the dying to give them a quick release.

When depicted beside Nantsovelta, they are accompanied by symbols of prosperity and domesticity.

Suchada (see Sujata)

Suchiloma Hindu

one of the Yakshas

Suchimukha Hindu

one of the realms of hell

This region is reserved for the punishment of misers who have strands of barbed wire wound round their bodies.

Suchos (see Souchos)

Sucking Monster North American

in Indian lore, a monster which sucks

in his victims instead of eating them

Suclagus

a fire-demon

Suculae Roman

[=Greek Hyades]

the Roman name for the Nysaeen nymphs (Hyades)

Sucunyum Central American

a Mayan creator-god and god of the underworld

brother of Hachacyum

He carried the sun-god Ah Kin back through the underworld each night ready for his next journey across the sky.

Sudabah (see Sudabe)

Sudabe Persian

[Sudabah]

a Yemeni princess wife of Kay Kaus

mother of Siyawush

Sudaram (see Sudrem)

sudarshana Hindu

Vishnu's discus which he used as a weapon

Suddhodama (see Shuddhodhana)

Suddhodana (see Shuddhodhana)

Suddhodhana (see Shuddhodhana)

Sudeva Hindu

a Brahmin

He acted as a counsellor to King Bhima who sent him out with 100 others to search for his daughter, Damayanti, who had disappeared when her husband, Nala, left her. Sudeva found the missing princess at the court of King Subahu.

sudha (see amrita.soma)

sudhan (see amrita.soma)

Sudhapani (see Dhanvantari)

Sudharma (see Shudharma)

Sudharmar (see Shudharma)

Sudhavan Hindu

an archer-god

Sudika-Mbambi African

['thunderbolt']

a hero of the Mbundu people of Angola

son of Nzuadia

twin brother of Kabundungulu

He was said to have been born armed and holding the tree of life, the Kilembe, and immediately set off in pursuit of the evil Makishi who had attacked his tribal village, assisted by the four Kipalende. His first wife was the daughter of a witch but he married a second wife, daughter of the king of the underworld, where he had been swallowed by the fish (or crocodile), Kimbuji, but rescued by his own brother, Kabundungulu. The brothers later fell out and fought, after which they went their separate ways.

Sudjumna Hindu
son of Vaivasvata

He is said to have changed sex quite often.

Sudolisa Slav
a princess

The ogre Kostey cast a spell on her which put her into a long sleep. She was rescued by the prince, Junak.

In some versions she is described as a fairy, wisdom personified.

Sudrem Afghan [Sataram.Sudaram.Sujum]

a Kafir weather-god husband of Nangi-Wutr

father of Disani
He was created either from the branch of a juniper bush or from the breath of Imra.

Sudri Norse
one of the 4 dwarfs supporting the sky (south)

Sudurjaya Buddhist
a minor goddess
one of the bhumis

Sudurmukha Hindu
an evil king, the second incarnation of Kubera (see Kubera)

sueje (see suoje)

Suje-lodde Baltic
a Lapp which reveals the names of those about to die

This spirit is said to appear in the form of a bird.

Suen (see Sin<sup>4</sup>.Suin)

Suffete of the River Pboenician
a river-beast

This animal fought on the side of Khoser-et-Hasis in his battle with Baal.

Sugaar European
a male spirit of the Basques

This being takes the form of a snake which lives underground but can fly. Some say that Sugaar is the devil while others regard him as a form of Maju.

Sugarloaf Mountain North American
the home of the Karok guardian spirit, Ai'krer

Sugata Buddhist
a name for the Buddha as one who follows the proper path (see also Tathagata)

sugi Japanese
a tree often planted near a shrine, the favourite home of the Tengu

Sugiwara-no-Michizane
(see Michizane-no-Sugiwara)

Sugnedydd Welsb
father of Sugyn

Sugriva Hindu
[Nala]

a monkey-god, king of monkeys
son of Surya
husband of Ruma

His brother, Balin, deposed Sugriva but Hanuman sought the help of Rama who killed Balin and restored Sugriva to the throne. In gratitude, Sugriva helped Rama in his attack on the fortress of Ravana who had abducted Sita, the wife of Rama, building a bridge of floating stones from India to Ceylon. (see also Nala)

Sugumonxe (see Nemquetcha)

Sugunsua (see Bohica.Nemquetcha)

Sugyn British
a warrior at King Arthur's court
son of Sugnedydd

He could suck up a huge area of the sea, leaving it dry, to cool a fever in his breast. In one story he is said to have caused a fleet of 300 ships to be stranded when he drank the sea-water.

Suhgurim (see Marduk)

Suhrab (see Sohrab)

Sui Jen Japanese
a man who learned how to produce fire by watching a bird pecking a tree

Sui Tengu Japanese
a sea-god

He was a deified emperor who drowned at sea, aged seven.

This deity is sometimes depicted in the form of a woman, Nii-no-ama, holding a baby. (see also Niidomo)

Suibhne Geilt Irish

[King Sweeney.Suibhne Gelt:=Welsh Myrrdin Wylt]

a poet-king of Dalriada husband of Eorann
father of Aedh Dubh, in some accounts

He insulted St Ronan who drove him mad with a form of madness that enabled him to jump hundreds of feet and to perch in trees where he grew feathers and lived on berries like a wild thing. Others say that he was driven mad by the sights he saw at the Battle of Magh Ratha.

He was restored to his kingdom by Loingseachan but later resumed his life as a wild man, going to Britain where he met another lunatic, Alladhan. After Alladhan drowned himself, Suibhne returned home but was rejected by his wife who was living with another man. Once again he went into the wilderness and his madness was brought on again when he was assaulted by phantoms. He was found and cared for by St Moling.

He was killed by a cowherd, the husband of Moling's cook, who mistook him for his wife's lover.

Suibhne Gelt (see Suibhne Geilt)

Suibhne mac Colmain Irish [Sweeney]

father of Conall
He was killed by his cousin, Aedh Slaine, who was then killed by Suibhne's son, Conall.

Suibhne Meann Irish [Suibhne Mend.Sweeney]

a high-king of Ireland
son of Fiachna
husband of Rona

He was killed by Congall Caoch so that his foster-father, Domhnall mac Aodha, could become king. In his dying moments, Suibhne threw a chess-piece which blinded Congall's previously damaged eye.

Suibhne Mend (see Suibhne Meann)

Suidhe Moling Irish
the place where Moling sat when he adjudicated between the joint high-kings, Diarmaid and Blathmhac

Suijin Japanese
Shinto water-gods: a water-nymph

Suijin-matsuri Japanese
a feast in honour of the water-deities, held on December 1st

Suilap Siberian
a Tartar deity

son of Kudai
brother of Pырshak-khan and Tos-khan

Suin Mesopotamian
[Suen:=Babylonian Sin:=Sumerian Hanna]
an Assyrian moon-god

Suinin Japanese
husband of Saho-hime

Her wife betrayed him out of love for her brother Saho-bime.

Suite de Merlin (see Huth-Merlin)

Sujata Buddhist [Suchada]

a Thai heroine
She sustained the Buddha with milk and rice during his sojourn under the bo-tree.

In another story, she donated to a monastery a large pumpkin. This changed into a diamond from which a mystery man carved a statue of the Buddha.

When she was accused of witchcraft and beheaded, her head flew up to heaven.

- Sujum (see Sudrem)
- Sukanabikona Japanese
son of Musubi
He fell from heaven when he was very young and was found by Okuni-Nushi. He became Okuni-Nushi's constant companion, helping him to clear the land. One day, he climbed a tall millet plant which bent under his weight and then sprang back, throwing the young god back to the land of Eternity, Tokoyo-no-kuni.
- Sukanya Hindu
daughter of King Saryata wife of Chyavana
She married the sage Chyavana despite his emaciated condition arising from asceticism. When he grew old, she tricked the Aswins into restoring his youth by offering them the status of gods. When they bathed the sage in a lake and restored his youth, he offered to worship them, the only one to do so.
- Sukara Hindu
a division of Naraka reserved for drunkards and stealers of gold
- Sukarasya Buddhist
a minor goddess
- Sukha Hindu
the capital of Varuna's undersea realm, Pushpagiri
- Sukhavati Buddhist
[Blessed Land. Pure land. Sakkavati.
Hsi-fang chi-lo shih-chieh:=Chinese Hsi T'ien:=Japanese Gokuraku-jodo]
the Pure Land of the west, ruled by Amitabha
This land of pleasure is full of flowers and birds, trees covered with precious stones and lotuses which bathe the Buddha in pure light. All those who reached this land became male and here enlightenment is guaranteed.
(see also Gokuraku-jodo. Pure Land. Taema-mandara)
- Sukhos (see Souchos)
- Sukkamielli Baltic
a Finnish goddess of orgiastic love
- Sukla-Tara (see White Tara)
- Sukra (see Shukra)
- Sukramukha Hindu
one of the realms of hell
This region is reserved for the punishment of tyrants – they are crushed between huge rollers.
- Suksendal Baltic
a Finnish deity of nightmares
This being can act either as a succubus or as an incubus to have intercourse with sleeping mortals.
- Suksma Hindu
a minor god
one of the vidyavasaras
- Suku African
a creator-god of the Ovimbundu people
- Sukuna-biko (see Sukuno-biko)
- Sukuna-Hikoni (see Sukuni-Hikona)
- Sukuni-Hikona Japanese [Sukuna-Hikoni:=Buddhist Yakushi]
a Shinto god of healing and traders
- Sukuno-biko Japanese [Sikuna-bikona. Sukuna-biko] a dwarf Shinto god of medicine
a king of Idzumo
He was reputed to know everything and he helped Okuni-Nushi to build the world.
In some accounts, he assisted Okuni-Nushi to quell unrest in his realm.
- sukuyan (see sukyan)
- sukya South American
[=Panamanian neles]
in Honduras and Nicaragua, a shaman
These people are said to be able to cure illness by exercising the spirit which caused it and prevent it from returning by tying round the patient a thread which the shaman has passed through a hole in his tongue until it is soaked with blood.
- sukyan West Indian [sukuyan:=Surinam azeman]
a female vampire of Trinidad
These beings beg for salt or matches and cannot be kept out of the houses of those who give to them.
- Sul<sup>1</sup> British ['shining':=Irish Brigit:=Roman Sulevia. Sulis-Minerva] a goddess of the underworld embodied in bubbling sulphur-springs
- Sul<sup>2</sup> Spanish
[Dona Sul]
daughter of El Cid and Ximena sister of Elvira
She and her sister married the Counts of Carrion. When their husbands ill-treated them, El Cid demanded redress. They later married the Princes of Navarre and Aragon.
- Sul-pa-e Mesopotamian
a Sumerian fertility and sky-god, Jupiter personified
consort of Ninhursaga, some say
- Sul-utula Mesopotamian
a Sumerian god of Eninnu
- Sulana Malay
[Raja Sulana. (Raja) Suran]
a descendant of Alexander the Great a king of India
father of Mencha Terim husband of Mutahbul Bahri and Onang Kiu
He is said to have conquered some of Malaya and married the ruler's sister. He later conquered Siam and took another wife, Onang Kiu, daughter of the king, Chulan. His third wife was Mutahbul Bahri, daughter of a sea-king, Aftabul Ardi.
After many more conquests, he returned to his home in Malaya riding the sea-horse, Farasul Bahri.
- Sulbundu Siberian
a shepherd-god
- Sulevia Roman
[Sulis(-Minerva): plur=Suleviae: =British Sul]
a Celtic goddess of thermal springs
In some accounts, as Sulis, she is described as a goddess of the underworld and prophecy. Often conceived as a nourishing, life-giving mother-goddess.
- Suleviae (see Sulevia)
- Sulini Hindu
a minor goddess
- Sulis (see Sulevia)
- Sulis-Minerva (see Sulevia)
- Sulla (see Sullat)
- Sullat Mesopotamian
[Sulla]
a minor god, attendant on Samas
- Sulmanitu Mesopotamian
a Semitic fertility and war-goddess
- Sulman (see Sulmanu)
- Sulmanu Mesopotamian
[Sulman:=Assyrian Salman]
a Babylonian fertility and war-god
- Sulmech (see Sanju)
- Sulpae Mesopotamian
a Sumerian god of the planet Jupiter
consort of Ninhursaga, some say
- Sulpicius British
a pope who, it is said, knighted Gawain before he joined King Arthur's court
- Sulsaga Mesopotamian
a Sumerian sky-goddess
- Sumalini Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala
- suman African [plur=asuman]
among the Ashanti, a talisman against evil
- Sumana<sup>1</sup> Buddhist consort of Champeyya
When her husband, in the form of a naga, was captured by a snake-charmer, she pleaded with the king who obtained Champeyya's release.
- Sumana<sup>2</sup> Hindu
wife of Dama

Sumana<sup>3</sup> Hindu
in Ceylon, a prince of the devas

Sumanakuta Hindu
the native name for Adam's Peak, regarded as the home of Sumana

sumangat Malay [semangat.tanoana.tondi]
the soul which, it is said, wanders away from the body during illness

sumangat negari Malay
a guardian spirit of the town

Sumangurur African
a tyrant with magic powers
His magic powers were derived from his father, a jinnee, who could be killed only with an arrow pointed with a cockerel's spur. He killed Sunjata's brothers and usurped the kingdom. When Sunjata's sister, Nyakhaleng, discovered the secret of the magic, Sunjata was able to kill the jinnee and Sumangurur lost his powers, changing into a bird which flew away leaving Sunjata in control of his kingdom.

Sumantra Hindu
Indra's heavenly palace

sumars blot Norse
spring sacrifices to the gods

Sumati Buddhist
a deity, literature personified one of the dharanis

Sumbha Buddhist
a guardian goddess one of the dikpala
She and Sumbharaja are responsible for guarding of the lowest point of the universe.

Sumbharaja Buddhist
a guardian god one of the dikpala
He and Sumbha are responsible for guarding of the lowest point of the universe. He is blue in colour and his three faces are blue, white and red. His appearance is wrathful.

Sumbula Arab
the Zodiacal sign Virgo

Sumbur Siberian
[Sumer.Sumur]
a sacred mountain
This mountain appeared out of the navel of the frog which, lying on its back, supports the earth.

Sumer (see Sumbur)

Sumé South American
a Brazilian culture-hero
He performed many miracles and taught the tribes the art of agriculture before departing for the heavens, leaving his footprints in the rocks.

Sumeru (see Mount Meru)

Sumitra (see Su Mitra)

Sumiyoshi-No-Kami Japanese
sea-gods and gods of poets
They include Munakata-No-Kami and are worshipped by the Jingu-kogo sect.

Summa Norse
a sun-goddess
sister of Nanna

Summamus Roman [‘highest’] an Italian storm-god
In the Roman pantheon, he was regarded as the god of the night sky. His festival was celebrated on 20th June.

Summer Country (see Summer Land)

Summer Land British [Summer Country]
the Otherworld, ruled by Melwas

Summer Mother North American
a guardian spirit of the Tewa tribe
She guarded one of the two caves in which humans sheltered while the earth dried out after the primordial ocean had receded. The other cave was guarded by Winter Mother.

Summer-snake charm (see ch'iu-she)

Sumono Japanese
a spirit of the plum tree
This spirit appeared, weeping, to the gardener Hambei when a noble proposed to transplant Hambei's plum tree to his own garden. When the noble tried to kill Hambei, he succeeded only in cutting off a branch of the tree, which fell on his head.

Sumplegadai (see Symplegades)

Sumua Pacific Islands
a forest-spirit
Sumua was born, a handsome boy, from the union of a woman and a cassowary and is credited with giving many gifts, including that of fire, to his people.
He is said to have had ten wives, all mortals. His function as a deity is to receive the souls of the dead.

Sumugan (see Sumukan)

Sumukan Mesopotamian
[Sumugan.Sumuqan:=Babylonian Sakkan:=Sumerian Lahar]
a Hittite god of animals

Sumukha Hindu
a Naga
husband of Gumakesi

Sumuqan (see Sumukan)

Sumur (see Sumbur)

sun<sup>1</sup> Central American an age of the Aztec creation cycle
The Aztec cosmology is said by some to be based on four periods or suns. There are, however, several versions of the symbolism of these periods which are variously given as:

hunger, wind, fire, water hunger, fire, wind, water water, famine, wind, fire water, wind, fire, famine

Others say there were more than four periods: in this book, references will be found to First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth Suns. (see also Ages)

Sun<sup>2</sup> Chinese
one of the Eight Diagrams: represents wind, wood and fowl

sun<sup>3</sup>
the star at the centre of our solar system
This star is central to many mythologies and systems of worship.
(1) In Australia, some tribes say that the sun is derived from an emu's egg which was thrown into the sky.
(2) In parts of Central America the sun is regarded as the home of the dead.
(3) The Chinese say that the sun was created by Pan-ku and regard it as an emblem of the emperor.
(4) In Christian tradition the sun is regarded as the emblem of the Virgin Mary and typifies Christ.
(5) In Egyptian lore the sun is Ra's golden boat in which he traverses the sky and came from a golden egg laid by the Nile Goose.
(6) Hebrew's regard the sun as a symbol of Jahwe's power.
(7) Hindus regard the sun as the eye of Mitra or Varuna.
(8) Muslim lore has the sun as the guardian of financiers and princes.
(9) In Norse mythology the sun was projected into the heavens from Muspelheim, the land of fire.
(10) In Persia the sun-god, Mithra, was the supreme deity of a major cult of sun-worship.
(11) In South America, the Inca cult of sun-worship was centred on their sun-god, Inti.

Sun Father<sup>1</sup> North American
a creator-deity of the Zuni consort of Underground Mother father of Paiyatemu

Sun Father<sup>2</sup> (see Page Abe)

Sun Halo North American
a sky-spirit of the Klamath
He followed the sun-spirit, Shel and eventually lived in the sky-lodge built by Kumush.

Sun Hou-shih (see Sun Hou-tzu)

Sun Hou-tzu Chinese

[Monkey King; Sun Hou-shih; Sun

Wu-k'ung;=Indian Hanuman]

a monkey-god

He was a companion of Hsüan Tsang on his journey to India to bring back the Buddhist scriptures, a story related in Pilgrimage to the West.

On the journey to India, he recovered Hsüan Tsang's robe which had been taken by the Black Bear spirit and helped to rescue him when he was captured by monks and again when he was held captive by the White Bone Lady. In one adventure, he met his identical self, in another he recovered the treasure stolen by a monster with nine heads and, when Hsüan Tsang was trapped by seven spider-women, he sought the help of a Hindu god who rescued the prisoner and his companions. In another country, he overcame a demon who had put a spell on the king who was about to eat the hearts of over 1,000 young boys and, when his companions were captured by the Leopard Spirit, he turned himself into a firefly to effect their rescue. In India, a woman killed her husband for his wealth and accused Hsüan Tsang of the crime but she received her just deserts when Sun Hou-tzu restored the man to life.

Some say that he was born from a fruit-stone and was made king of the monkeys by the emperor. He once made war on the hosts of heaven but was captured by the celestial dog, T'ien Kou. He was said to be able to cover 3,000 miles in one leap and once leaped to the edge of the universe in a vain attempt to prove himself greater than the Buddha.

He is also described, in another story, as a monkey-fairy who stole the peaches of immortality from the magic tree at the home of Hsi Wang Mu and the pills of immortality from Lao Chun. When he tried to assume the role of Governor of Heaven, the Buddha shut him up in a mountain from which he was released after 500 years by Kuan Yin.

(see also Hanuman)

Sun of Air (see Second Sun)

Sun of Earth (see Fourth Sun)

Sun of Fire (see Third Sun)

Sun of Jaguar (see First Sun)

Sun of Rain (see Third Sun)

Sun of Water (see First Sun.

Fourth Sun)

Sun Pi (see Sun Pin)

Sun Pin Chinese

[Sun Pi]

a minor deity, patron of shoemakers and cobblers

He was originally a 4th C general who invented the boot to cover his mutilated feet after having had his toes cut off.

Sun-ram (see Sore-Gus)

Sun Sister Inuit

a girl who became the sun

sister of Moon Brother

This girl was visited by a clandestine lover and, by putting paint or soot on her hands, was able to identify him as her own brother. Appalled, she cut off her breasts and flew up into the heavens where she became the sun. Her brother chased her and, failing to catch her, became the moon.

Sun Snarer North American

in the lore of the Seneca, a boy who captured the sun

This boy, whose clothes were burnt by the sun, made a noose of pubic hair and lassoed the sun. As a result, the sun nearly died from strangulation and the earth grew dark. The animals became afraid and, one after the other, chewed at the rope until it finally parted and the sun shone once again.

Sun Tear Irish

the name given to Der Greine, in some accounts

Sun Wu-k'ung (see Sun Hou-tzu)

Sunah-sepa Hindu

son of a Brahmin

Harischandra had promised to sacrifice his son to Varuna but delayed it by various ploys. When the boy came of age, he hid in the forest to escape death and eventually persuaded a Brahmin to sacrifice his son, Sunah-sepa, in his place in exchange for several herds of cattle. The young victim prayed to the gods and his bonds fell away. He became a pupil of Vishvamitra and later became a great sage.

Sunama Hindu

brother of Kansa

He was one of those killed by the young Krishna.

Sunan Ambu (see Ambu Dewi)

Sunanda<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a princess

daughter of Subahu

When Damayanti arrived at her father's court after weeks of wandering, Sunanda took her as one of her attendants.

Sunanda<sup>2</sup> Hindu

one of the Yogini, 8 demonesses attendant on Durga

Sunasira Hindu

a god of ploughshares

Sunawavi North American

[=Paiute Cunawabi]

a creator-god and culture-hero of the Ute

When Sunawavi urinated on a small rock it reported this to its father who then chased the hero, killing all the various animals that tried to halt its progress. Finally, it smashed itself to pieces when it collided with another boulder behind which the fugitive had taken shelter. As a result, Sunawavi decreed that rocks should last for ever.

In some accounts he is the brother of Coyote.

Sunbearer (see Tsohanoai)

Sunda Hindu

a god of the seasons

brother of Upasunda

These brothers were never apart and ruled together in harmony. Brahma, at their request, made each brother invulnerable, except to each other, but then asked Vishvakarma to create the beautiful Tilotamma with whom both brothers fell in love. They fought over her and each killed the other.

Sundara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

Sundara<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a goddess

an aspect of Shiva as 'prosperous'

Sunde (see Jundei Kwannon)

Sung Chinese

a minor deity of the underworld

Sung Chiang Chinese

a minor deity: a mortal who became the patron god of thieves

(see also Chi)

Sung-gi-gval-po (see sGun-gi-rgyal-po)

Sung Shan Chinese

a sacred mountain, one of the Five

Holy Mountains known as Wu Yüeh

Sung Su-k'ung Chinese

one of the 3 deities regarded as patrons of tea

Sung-ta Tibetan

a horoscope used in fortune-telling

Sung Ti Chinese

the third of the Ten Yama Kings

- Sung-tzu Kuan-yin Chinese a name for Kuan Yin as the giver of children
- Sung Yün Chinese
a 6th c pilgrim
He was said to have met Bodhidharma who was returning on foot to the Pure Land carrying one sandal in his hand.
- Suniti Hindu
wife of Uttanapada
mother of Dhruva
Her husband expelled Suniti and her young son, Dhruva, from his court at the behest of his younger wife and they lived together in the forest until Dhruva was seven when he left to find his father.
- Sunjata African [Sonjara.Soundiata]
a Mali prince
son of Fata Kung Makhong and Sukulung
He was seven years in the womb and seven years old before he walked. When Sumanguru killed Sunjata's brothers and usurped the kingdom, Sunjata's sister, Nyakhaleng, slept with Sumanguru and discovered his secret. She told her brother who shot Sumanguru's father, a jinnee, with an arrow tipped with a cockerel's spur, the only thing that could kill him. As a result, Sumanguru lost his magic powers, turned into a bird and flew away, leaving Sunjata in control of his kingdom.
- Sunna Norse
a sun-goddess
a name for Sol, in some accounts sister of Sinthgimt and Nanna
- Sunottara Hindu
a hunter who caught Chadanta, the elephant-bodhisattva
- Sunrta Hindu
a fertility-goddess
- Sunset Serpent African [Copper Dragon.Indombe]
a huge serpent caught in a trap and killed by Itonde
- Sunsetland North American
[House of the West]
in the lore of the Navaho,
the home of Estanatlehi
This land is thought of as existing far to the west, where the sun sets.
- Sunshaft North American
a Mexican deity
After the flood sent by Hokomata had subsided, he and Waterfall mated with Pukekeh to repopulate the world.
- Sunstone (see Syamantakara)
- Sunsum African
a god of the Ashanti
In some accounts, the soul of the tribe which was concealed in the golden stool which came (or was brought by Anochi) from heaven when King Osai Tutu was crowned.
- sunya Buddhist [sunyata]
the void: Nirvana
- sunyata (see sunya)
- suoje Baltic [sueje]
a spirit invoked by a Lappish sorcerer
This spirit can be passed on to a descendant or marriage partner – even purchased.
- suovetaurilia Roman
a sacrifice of pig, sheep and ox
- Supaka (see Gobaka)
- Suparikirtitanamasri Tibetan
a Buddhist god of medicine
one of the sMan-Bla
- Suparna (see Garuda)
- Suparnakumara Jain
a minor god
one of the 10 Bhvanavasi
- Suparshva Jain
the seventh Tirthankara
- Supavasu Hindu
one of the Yakshas
- Supay (see Cupay)
- Superi Roman
the gods and other inhabitants of the heavens (see also Inferi)
- Superior Gods North American [High Ones]
4 creator deities of the Sioux
These deities are given as Inyan, Maka, Skan and Wi and they are regarded as aspects of Wakan Tanka. When they felt lonely, they created other deities such as the Associated Gods, the Kindred Gods, etc. until there were sixteen deities known as Tob 'Tob.
- Supernatural Mother (see Binah')
- Supernatural People North American [Divine People]
a race of semi-divine people, inhabitants of the land of the dead
In the lore of the Haida, they were originally ten brothers who were trapped by nightfall on a mountain and found themselves transported back to the plains when, one by one, they threw themselves into the flames of their camp-fire. They took aboard their canoe a woman whose hands had been burned and took her with
- them to an island where a wizard painted them and they became the Supernatural People.
They appear in the stories of Blue Jay and his sister, Ioi, as the beings who restored to life the corpse that Blue Jay had married.
- Superwise (see Atrahasis)
- Suphlatus
a dust-demon
- Supidini Japanese ['mud-lady']
a Shinto goddess
consort of Upidini
These two deities were produced from a branch of the primaeval god, Umashiashikabihikoji.
- Suppinabiles British
a knight at King Hoel's court
He went to the court of King Arthur and told of Tristram's marriage to Isolde, Hoel's daughter. There he heard that Tristram was false to his lady.
- Suppliant Women Greek
a play by Aeschylus about the Theban wars
- Suppliants, The Greek
a play by Euripedes about the Theban wars
- Suprabha East Indian
in the Javanese version of the Mahabharata, she was the wife of Arjuna
- Supratika Hindu
one of the Dikpalas or the elephant helping him
- Supreme August Jade Emperor
(see Yü Huang Shang Ti)
- Supreme Goddess Hindu
a name for Devi
- Supreme Lord Hindu
a name for Shiva
- Supreme Lord of the August Heaven (see Huang-t'ien Shang Ti)
- Suqe-mutua Pacific Islands
a bad spirit of the New Hebrides the fork-headed ruler of the dead
- Sur-mummy Russian
a river-goddess of the Votyaks
- Sura<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a king of Mathura father of Kunti
- Sura<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a benevolent minor god
These gods were opposed by the Asuras.
- Sura<sup>3</sup> (see Varuni)
- Sura Uthaka Thai
a Khmer king
When he upset Thanamun, the snake-king, that king's followers undermined the capital city which then sank into the ground. Thanamun coiled himself round Sura Uthaka and drowned him in the river.

Surabhi Hindu

[Nandini.Surabji]
the cow of plenty mother of Hamsika and Nandi mother of Rohini and Subhadra,
some say

This sacred animal was the tenth thing to be produced at the Churning of the Ocean.

It had the power to grant wishes and was the mother of Shiva's white bull, Nandi.

Some say that Brahma granted Surabhi a heaven of her own, called Goloka, into which devotees who have given cows are permitted to enter.

In some accounts, Surabhi is the same as Nandini though others say that Nandini was the cow owned by Vashishtha which was one of the many calves of Surabhi, as was the bull Nandi.

In others she is equated with Kamadhenu.

Surabji (see Surabhi)

Suradevi (see Varuni)

Suraksini Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

Surali (see Ovda)

Suran (see Sulana)

Surangama Buddhist

a bodhisattva

Surasa Hindu

a female demon

She was a defender of the fortress of Ravana against the attack led by Hanuman and she pulled Hanuman under water by his shadow and swallowed him. He escaped by increasing his size to force her to open her mouth and then reducing his size and shooting out through her ear.

Suratan-tura Russian

a celestial god, guardian of women in childbirth

Suratha Hindu

a king

When Suratha was deposed, he became a hermit and met Somadhi at the hermitage of the sage Medhas. Together they started a new cult, worshipping Devi, who granted each of them one wish. Suratha was given a kingdom to rule over.

Suresvara Hindu

a god

one of the ekadasarudras

Surgat (see Aquiel)

Suria East Indian

[=Hindu Surya]

a Javanese sun-god

Surid Egyptian

a king

He ordered the construction of two pyramids in which were stored written accounts of all current knowledge.

Surites (see Curicaberis)

Surluse British

the realm of Galahad in Lyonesse

Surma Baltic

a monster guarding the Finnish underworld, Tuohela

This beast was envisaged as an enormous pair of fanged jaws without a body.

Suringx (see Syrinx)

Suro Russian

a sacred mountain, home of the gods

This mountain is in the third storey of heaven.

Surong Gunting East Indian

a culture-hero of the Iban people

He learned the arts of agriculture from the stars and the rituals of birds from his grandfather, Sengalong Burong, and passed his knowledge on to the tribe.

Surpanaka (see Shurpanakha)

Surpanakha (see Shurpanakha)

Sursunabi (see Ursanapi)

Sursunabu (see Ursanapi)

Surt (see Surtur)

Surtr (see Surtur)

Surtur Norse

[Surt(r)]

a Fire Giant

the ruler of Muspelheim

husband of Sinmora

father of Glaur

father of Suthung, some say

He was armed with a flaming sword and set the world on fire in the last battle, Ragnarok, where he killed Frey.

In some accounts, he was a manifestation of Loki.

Surupa Hindu

a ram-goddess

daughter of Surabhi

She is one of the four supporters of the heavens, standing at the eastern corner.

Surush (see Sraosha)

Surya Hindu

[Bhaga(savitar).Dharmesh.Diakara.Dinakar.Grahapati.Karma-Sakshi.Mahadeva.

Mart(t)anda.Mitra.Ravi.Savitar.

Savitri.'shiner'. 'sun'.Surya Narayana.

Vivasvat: =Greek Apollo.Helios:

=Javanese Suria]

a copper-bodied sun-god

son of Dyaus and Aditi or Prithivi son of Brahma or Kasyapa, some say husband of Sanjna

father of Mana, Revanta, Yama and Yami

father of Karna by Kunti

father of the Aswins, Soma and Ushas,
some say

He is regarded as one of the Dikpalas, guardian of the south-west with his elephant Kumuda.

He assimilated Savitri and Vivasvat.

His wife, Sanjna, unable to face his brilliance, left him to become a mare in the forest where he found her. They mated, with Surya in the form of a stallion, producing the Aswin twins and the warrior, Revanta. Sanjna left her maid, Chhaya, to take her place and Surya fathered three children on her during his wife's absence. His brightness was later reduced by Vishvakarma, Sanjna's father.

In some accounts, Surya is Agni, worshipped as the sun and these two forms, plus Trita (lightning) are referred to as Tryambaka.

He is depicted as dark-red, three-eyed, and four-armed, sometimes riding in a one-wheeled chariot drawn by four or seven red or white horses driven by Aruna.

(see also Dharmesh.Marttanda.

Pushan.Vivasvat)

Surya-Bai (see Suryaa)

Surya Narayana (see Surya)

Suryaa Hindu

['shiner'. 'sun'.Surya-Bai]

a sun-goddess

daughter of Surya or Savitri

wife of Chandra

She rides in a chariot with the Aswin twins and, in some accounts, is their consort.

Others regard her as a female aspect of Surya.

Suryabhauma Hindu

one of the Dikpalas or the elephant helping him (see also Kumuda<sup>1</sup>)

Suryananta East Indian

a sun-prince, in the lore of Borneo

husband of Tungung Buih

He found the maiden Tungung Buih standing in a waterfall and married her.

Suryaprabha (see Jalinprabha)

Suryapuja Hindu

a spring festival in honour of Surya

Susa-no-o (see Susanowa)

Susabo

a demon associated with voyages

Susama Susama Jain

the first period, a golden age
In this supremely happy age, it was said that all women bore twins and died a few weeks later, so avoiding the infirmities of old age. All that was required for existence could be found growing on trees in addition to lots of fruit. Life was perfect, without pain or sin.

Susano (see Susanowa)

Susano-Wo (see Susanowa)

Susanoo (see Susanowa)

Susanowa Japanese

[Gozo Tenno.Gozu Tenno.
Impetuous Male.Susa-no-o.
Susano(o).Susano-Wo.Take-haya Susanowo.Withering Wind of Summer] the ox-headed Shinto sea-god and god of fertility and storms
son of Izanagi and Izanami
brother of Amaterasu and Tsuki-yoni
consort of Inada consort of Miyazu, some say
father of Kamu-O-Ichi-Hime, Koto-shiro-nushi, O-Toshi, Shita-teru, Suseri, Take-minakata and Ya-Shima-Ji-Nu-Mi
father of Idakeru and Okuninushi,
in some accounts

He was born from the nose of Izanagi and cracked the necklaces of his sister Amaterasu between his teeth and, by breathing on them, produced five new gods. It was Susanowa's depredations on earth that frightened Amaterasu and caused her to shut herself away in a cave; as a result, he was banned from heaven and thereafter lived on earth, begging food from O-Ge-Tsu-Hime-No-Kami. Some say he was banished to the land of Yomi.

He is said to have conquered Korea and grown trees from his own hair planted on the mountainsides.

In some stories, Okuninushi is not his son but a son-in-law who eloped with his daughter Suseri-hime after tying Susanowa to a beam by his hair.

In one story, he found Ashi-nadzuchi and his wife, Te-nadzuchi, saying a tearful farewell to their daughter, Inada-hime, who was due to be devoured by an eight-headed dragon, Yamato-no-Orochi. Susanowa turned the girl into a comb, tempted the dragon with saké which made it so drunk that Susanowa was able to kill it, and then restored the girl to her normal form and married her. He retrieved the magic sword, Kusanagi, from the dragon's tail.

In some accounts he is identified with Kompira. (see also Buto<sup>1</sup>)

Susera-hima (see Suseri-hime)

Suseri-hime Japanese

[Susera-hima.Suseribime]

daughter of Susanowa

wife of Okuninushi

She eloped with Okuninushi after tying the sleeping Susanowa to a beam by his hair.

Suseribime (see Suseri-hime)

Susetka (see Domovik)

Sushna Hindu

a physician who could restore the dead to life

Sushna Hindu

[Susna.Witherer]

a drought demon

When Sushna was fighting Kutsa, Indra stopped his sun-chariot and pulled off one of the wheels which he used as a weapon to defeat Sushna.

Susinak Persian

the god of Susa

Susna (see Sushna)

Susravas Hindu

a sun-god

Sus'sistinnako North American

['spider']

a creator-god of the Sia Indians

He is envisaged as a spider and is said to have made mankind by singing and playing on a spider's web. The first mortals he made were Nowutset and Utset.

Susquatch (see Bigfoot)

Sut<sup>1</sup> Muslim

a jinné who causes people to lie son of Azrael or Eblis

Sut<sup>2</sup> (see Set.Sutekh)

Sutala Hindu

one of the 7 realms of Patala

Sutalidih North American

a sun-god of the Cherokee

Sutekh Mesopotamian

[Ja-stak.Setekh.Setes(h).Sut(esh).Suty:

=Babylonian Ramman.=Hittite Pappas:

=Egyptian Rimmon.Set]

a Hurrian weather-god

In some accounts he is identified with Teshub.

Sutesh (see Sutekh)

Sutra<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Sutta]

a collection of sacred writings,
the sayings of the Buddha

Sutra<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Sutta]

a book of ritual

Sutra<sup>3</sup> Jain

[Sutta]

scripture, especially the life of Mahavira

Sutta Buddhist

the Pali form of the Sanskrit Sutra

Sutta-Pitaka Buddhist

5 collections of the Buddha's teachings, part of the Tripitaka

Suttung Norse

[Suttungr]

a giant

son of Surtur, some say brother of Baugi

brother or son of Gilling

father of Gunlod

When his brother (in some accounts, his father) Gilling and his wife were killed by the dwarfs Fialar and Galar, Suttung captured them but was prevailed upon to spare their lives when they promised to give him the magical brew they had made from the blood of the sage, Kvasir, whom they had killed earlier. Suttung entrusted the three containers of this wondrous brew to his daughter, Gunlod, who concealed them in the centre of a mountain. When Odin, in disguise, seduced Gunlod and drank all the brew, making off in the form of an eagle, Suttung flew after him but just failed to catch him. The gods lit a fire on the battlements which burnt Suttung's wings and he fell into the fire and was killed.

Suttungr (see Suttung)

Suty (see Sutekh)

Suvarnamacha Siamese

a sea-goddess, appearing as a mermaid

Suvinange African

an earth-god in Dahomey

son of Dada Zodzi and Nyauhwe

Ananu

His function is to transport offerings made to the gods and to act as their messenger.

He is envisaged as having a bald human head on the body of a vulture.

Suwa Arab

an early sun-goddess

Suwanzipas Mesopotamian

a Hittite deity

Suyudana (see Duryudana)

Svadilfare Norse

[Svadilfari.Svathilfari]

the horse of a giant architect

This animal helped its owner to build the wall round Asgard but was seduced by Loki, in the form of a mare, so that the work was not finished within the stipulated period. The offspring of this union was the eight-legged horse, Sleipnir.

Svadilfari (see Svadilfare)

Svafnir<sup>1</sup> Norse

a name of Odin as a snake

(see also Ofrir)

Svafnir<sup>2</sup> Norse

a snake which gnawed the twigs of the ash-tree Yggdrasil

(see also Ofrir)

Svaha<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a minor goddess

daughter of Daksha and Prasuti

wife of Agni, some say

In one story of the birth of Karttikeya, Svaha seduced Agni, taking the form of each of the wives of the Seven Rishis whom the god had seen bathing. The result of this episode was the six-headed boy, Karttikeya.

Svaha<sup>2</sup> Hindu

the food of the gods

Svald (see Ivald)

Svalin Norse

['cooler']

a shield

This shield was made by the gods to protect the sun-chariot and the horses drawing it from the direct heat of the sun.

Svalk (see Svaul)

Svandovit (see Svantevit)

Svanhild (see Swanhild)

Svanhit Norse

a maiden loved by both Hromond and Balder

Svanhvit Norse

a swan-maiden

She flew to earth with her sisters, Alvit and Orlun, to bathe. They left their wings on the shore where they were seized by the brothers Egil, Slagfinn and Volund, who kept the maidens as their wives for nine years before they recovered their wings and flew away.

Svantevit Baltic

['energy'.Iarovit.Svandovit.Svantovit.

Sventovit.Svetovid.Svetovitu.

Swietowit.Triglav.=Slav Porenutius.

Rod.Rugievit.Svarog]

a Latvian god of crops

and war

In some accounts he is the father of Dazhbog and Svarozic.

He is depicted as having four heads and riding a white horse.

(see also Svarog)

Svantovit (see Svantevit)

Svar<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a sun-god

svar<sup>2</sup> (see svark)

Svar-Loka (see Svarga)

Svarbhanu Hindu

one of the asuras

The eclipse of the sun was attributed to Svarbhanu; that of the moon occurred when it was swallowed by Rahu.

Svarga-Loka (see Svarga)

Svaraghosaraja Tibetan

a Buddhist god of medicine

one of the sMan-Bla

Svarga Hindu

[Devaloka.Indra-Loka.Jarog.Nandana.

Rarach.Rarog.Suurga.Svar(ga)-Loka.

Swarga.=Buddhist Trayastrimsa]

one of the 7 realms of the universe,

the paradise of Indra

Svarga is the home of the Apsarasas and the Gandharvas.

The capital city of this land is known as Amaravati.

Svargapati Hindu

a name for Indra as 'lord of heaven'

svark Hindu

[svar]

a word said to have been uttered by

Prajapati which caused the sky to be created (see also Svarga)

Svarog Slav

[Jarog.Rarach.Rarog.Svarogu:

=Baltic Svantevit]

a supreme god and sky-god

father of Kresnik, some say

In some accounts he is the father of Dazhbog and Svarozic, in others Svarog is the heaven of the eastern Slavs.

(see also Svantevit.Svarozic)

Svarogich (see Svarozic)

Svarogu (see Svarog)

Svarozhich (see Svarovic)

Svarozic Slav

[Svarogich.Svaroz(h)ich.Svarozici]

a sun-god, smith-god and god of fire, especially the fire used to dry grain

son of Svarog or Svantevit

brother of Dabog

In some accounts he is the same as Svarog.

Svarozich (see Svarovic)

Svarozici (see Svarozic)

Svarttheim (see Svartalfheim)

Svartalfar (see dwarfs)

Svartalfheim Norse

[Svartalfaheim.Svartheim]

the home of the Black elves: the underground home of the dwarfs

Svartalfaheim (see Svartalfheim)

Svartelfar (see dwarfs)

Svartheim (see Svartalfheim)

Svaru Hindu

a deity who conveys sacrifices to the gods

Svarva (see Svava)

Svasthavesini Hindu

a terrible goddess

She is depicted with three heads and three eyes.

svastika Hindu

[=Buddhist swastika]

a symbol of Surya, the sun-god

a symbol of Shiva or Vishnu,

some say

Such a cross, with its arms pointing clockwise, is regarded as a symbol of the sun; one with counter-clockwise arms represents the moon, or the female principle, and is known as a sauvastika.

Svasud Norse

[Svathusr]

a mild and lovely god

a benevolent giant

father of Summer

Svathilfari (see Svadilfare)

Svathuthr (see Svasud)

Svati Hindu

[Nistya]

a goddess of fortune

one of the nakshatras

daughter of Daksha

wife of Candra

Svaul Norse

[Svalk]

a river of Niflheim, one of the 12

ivers known as Elivagar

Svava Norse

[Svarva]

a Valkyrie

daughter of Eflimi, some say

She fell in love with the mortal

Helgi, told him where to find a magic sword and protected him when he went into battle.

In some accounts she is Gudrun.

(see also Kara.Sigrun)

Svayambhu Hindu

[Svayambhuva]

a name for Brahma as creator

Svayambhuva (see Svayambhu)

Svegdir Norse

a man immured in a stone

A dwarf told him that he would find

Odin inside a stone. He entered and was never seen again.

Sveinn Norse

son of Yngvarr

He travelled to Heliopolis and married the queen, Silkisif, whose love had earlier been rejected by his father

Yngvarr. After some years, he left her and returned to Sweden with many tales of adventure to tell.

Svetambaras Jain
a Jain sect

Sventovit (see Svantevit)

Svetovid (see Svantevit)

Svetovit (see Svantevit)

Svetovitu (see Svantevit)

Sviagodh Norse

a name of Frey in Sweden

Sviagris (see Brisingamen)

Sviagriss (see Brisingamen)

Svigdur (see Ivald)

svikiro African

a medium used as an oracle by the gods and spirits of the Korekore

Svipdag Norse

[Eric.Erik.Herrick,Skirmir.Svipdagr]

son of Orvandel and Groa

brother of Hadding

a mortal who wooed Freya as Menglod
In some accounts he rescued her from the giant Fiolsvid, took her back to Asgard and married her.

In another story, his father was captured by Halfdan who forced Orvandel to shoot an apple from his son's head. Svipdag later killed Halfdan.

Svipdag was killed by Hadding who mistook him for the monster he was disguised as.

Some regard Svipdag as an aspect of Odur.

Svipdagr (see Svipdag)

Svithiod Norse

a home of Odin and deified heroes, some say

Svurtalfar (see dwarfs)

Svutaf Roman

an Italian god in the form of a youth with wings

Svyatogor Russian

a giant

He boasted that he could lift the world but, when he tried to lift a small bag that had been left lying in the road, the weight forced him into the earth from which he never escaped.

In later, Christian myths, he became Ilya Muromets.

Swaikhway North American

a ceremony of the tribes of the northwest

This rite celebrates a boy who was said to have met spirits living in a lake and was given magic powers.

(see also Swaixwe)

Swaixwe North American

a sky-spirit of the tribes of the northwest

This spirit was said to have come down to earth and lived in a lake. Some say that he gave magic powers to the boy who dived into the lake and who is remembered in the Swaikhway ceremony.

swallow<sup>1</sup> Greek

a bird sacred to Aphrodite

It was said that dead children could revisit their homes in the form of swallows.

swallow<sup>2</sup> Muslim

a sacred bird which is said to make an annual pilgrimage to Mecca

swallow<sup>3</sup> Roman

a bird sacred to the Penates

Swallow-Ashes Charm

(see shao hui t'un fu)

Swallow People North American

the inhabitants of the Blue World

In their ascent to the upper world, the Navaho spent some time in the Blue World but were forced to move on upwards when one of their number seduced the wife of the chief of the Swallow People.

swampanger North American

a fabulous animal (see also augerino)

swan<sup>1</sup> European

a graceful water bird with a long neck, usually white

(1) In Greek myths the swan is sacred to Apollo whose soul was said to reside in it.

Zeus himself took the form of a swan to seduce Leto.

(2) In the German story of Lohengrin the Swan Knight, the hero travelled in a boat drawn by swans and when rescuing Elsa, restored her brother Godfrey, who had been turned into a swan, to his former self.

In a different story of the Swan Knight, the six children of Oriant and Beatrix were turned into swans. The seventh child, the boy Elias, escaped and appeared later as the Swan Knight to rescue his mother from the stake and, at that time, the other six children regained their human form.

(3) In Hindu lore the bird is sacred to Brahma and is regarded as the bird which laid the cosmic egg.

(4) In the Irish legend of the Children of Lir, the three sons and one daughter of Lir were turned into swans by Lir's second wife and were forced to spend three periods, each of 300 years, in that form.

(5) Norse legends have the Valkyries appearing in the form of swans and in another story three swan-maidens flew to earth to bathe and were unable to return to heaven when Slagfinn and his two brothers seized the wings the girls had left on the shore while bathing.

(6) In Serbia, the Vila (water-spirits) sometimes appear as swans.

Swan Knight European

[Elias.Helias.Helyas]

son of Oriant and Beatrix

brother of Oriant

father of Ida

Six boys and a girl were born to Beatrix but were taken by Oriant's mother, Matabrune, who gave them to her servant, Marcon, with instructions to have them destroyed, replacing the children with seven puppies. Unable to kill them, Marcon abandoned the children in a wood where they were found and reared by a hermit. Oriant refused to believe his wife guilty of adultery and put her in prison rather than sending her to the stake.

Another servant, Maquares, later found the children, recognising them by the silver necklets which had been round their necks at birth. On the orders of Matabrune, he took the necklets from six of the children who immediately turned into swans and flew off. The seventh child, a boy, was away at the time and was saved from this fate. The necklets were to be melted and made into goblets but the silversmith made two goblets from one necklet and kept the other five.

Sixteen years later, Matabrune persuaded Oriant to put his wife to the stake but the remaining son, who had been baptised as Elias in the meantime, defeated a champion appointed by Matabrune and saved his mother's life. At the same time, the children who had been turned into swans regained their human form – except for the boy whose necklet had been melted down.

Elias took up the cause of the Duchess of Bouillon, killing and decapitating the usurper Reinier and marrying the duchess's daughter, Beatrix, whom he instructed never to ask about his real identity.

En route to their new home, they were attacked by Saxons. Galien, leader of the escort was killed but the Saxons were defeated and the party reached Bouillon safely. Seven years later, Beatrix asked the forbidden question and Elias left her, travelling in a boat drawn by the remaining swan-brother who was later restored to human form in a ritual involving the two goblets made from his necklet.

On the death of his father, Elias succeeded to the throne of Illefort but later abdicated in favour of his brother, Oriant, and became a monk.

In a separate German tradition, the Swan Knight was Lohengrin.

(see also Lohengrin)

swan-maiden Norse
a Valkyrie: a girl who can change into a swan swan-shift

a magic garment, made of swan feathers, which enabled the wearer to turn into a swan

Swanaya Hindu
a king noted for his generosity

Swanhild Norse
[Svanhild]
daughter of Sigurd and Gudrun
When Gudrun, desolate after the death of Sigurd, went to live with his step-father, Elf, she took the young Swanhild with her. When she was later forced into an unhappy marriage with Atli, Gudrun left her daughter with Elf and his wife Thora.

In some stories, Swanhild was reunited with her mother after she had killed Atli and fled to become the wife of King Jonakur. Swanhild became betrothed to Ermenrich, king of the Goths, who sent his son Randwer and a servant, Sibich, to escort her to the royal palace. Sibich lied to the king, claiming that Randwer had seduced Swanhild on the journey and the king had his son hanged and Swanhild trampled to death by horses.

In a Danish version, she was Svanhild, wife of Iarmerik, and she was accused by Bikki of adultery with the king's son, Broder. Her fate was the same.

Swarga (see Svarga)
swastika Buddhist

[fylfot.grammation:=Hindu svastika]
a Buddhist cross: a magical sun-symbol (see also yun-drun)

Sweat Lodge North American
a creator-god of the Sanpoil tribe

He is said to have created animals and birds.

Sweeney (see Suibhne)
Sweet-eyes Pacific Islands

daughter of Degei
Sweet Medicine North American
a culture-hero of the Cheyenne

Born to an unmarried maiden, he was abandoned as a baby but grew up to be a great medicine-man. His story of how he is instructed by the spirits and then teaches his people how to live properly is another version of the story of Arrow Boy.

Swelling Earth Chinese a magical substance, stolen by K'un from Huang Ti, used to construct dams

Swem African
a rock from which the Tiv people originated and which radiates the vital energy, Tsav

Swemmel German
a musician at the court of Etzel
He and Werbel were sent to invite Gunther and his nobles to visit Etzel's court at midsummer.

Swietowit (see Svantovit)

Swinburne, Algernon English
(1837-1909)
a poet and dramatist
He wrote Atalanta in Calydon, Erechtheus, Tristram of Lyonesse, etc.

Swinging the Lord Krishna (see Jhulanayatra)

sword
a weapon, often with magical properties, featured in many myths

Some of the more famous swords are listed below:

sword of:
Ali	Zuflagar
Agrican	Tranchera
Angantyr	Tyrffing
Antar	Djamy
Arthgallo	Chrysaor
Beowulf	Hrunting.Nagelring
Biausdous	Honorée
Brahma	Asi
Charlemagne	Flamberge.Joyeuse
Cuchulainn	Caladin
Dietlieb	Welsung
Dietrich von Bern	Nagelring
Doolin	Merveilleuse
Ecke	Eckesax
El Cid	Colada.Tizona
Fergus	Caladcholg
Finn mac Cool	Mac an Luin
Frithiof	Angurvadel
Gassire	Dama Ngile

Gwrnach	Dyrnwyn
Heimdall	Hofud
Heime	Blutgang.Miming
Hogni	Dainsleif
Hrolf Krakki	Skofnung
Iring	Waske
Izanagi	Ame-no-wo-ha bari
Kanyarundi	Inkoto
Kari	Life-taker
King Arthur	Caleburn.Chastiefol Excalibur.Marmyadose Sequence
King Ban	Courchouse
Koll	Greysteel
Lugh	Answerer.Claidhimh Soluis Fragarach.Freagarthach Sword of Light
Manannan	Answerer.Dioltach Fragarach.Freagarthach
Mimingus	Mistillteinn
Mo-li Ch'ing	Blue Cloud
Muhammed	Al battar.Da'hul Fakar Hatef.Medham
Ogier the Dane	Cortana.Courtain Sauvagine
Oliver	Glorious.Hauteclair
Ortnit	Rosen.Rosse
Otuel	Corrouge
Partinal	Grail Sword
Rhydderch	Dyrnwyn
Rinaldo	Flamberge.Floberge Fusberta
Rogero	Balisardo
Roland	Durindana
Sigmund	Balmung.Gram.Nothing Sword of Need
Sir Bevis	Morglay
Sir Galahad	Sword in the Stone Sword of Strange Girdles
Sir Lancelot	Arondight
St George	Ascalon.Askalon
Tethra	Orna
Thoralf Skolinson	Quernbiter Foots-breadth
Vishnu	Nandaka
Wittich	Miming
Yamato	Kusanagi.Murakumo
Yorimasa	Shishi-o

Sword Age Norse
one of the 4 ages referred to in the Eddas

Sword in the Stone British in the Arthurian legends, a sword set in a block of stone

There are two such swords. The more famous of the two is the sword which could be drawn only by the man destined to be king of Britain. The other was destined for Galahad.

When a successor to Uther was sought, Merlin arranged for a sword embedded in a block of stone (and, in some versions, an anvil as well) to appear in the churchyard near to where the assembled peers were to make their choice. Only Arthur was able to draw the sword from the stone, so establishing his claim to the throne. In some stories, this sword was Excalibur and had that name engraved upon it; in other versions, Excalibur was the sword which Arthur received from the hand rising from the lake, an event organised by Merlin when Arthur told him he was without a sword.

The second sword, set in a block of red stone, floated down the river to Camelot where Galahad had just arrived. He was the only knight able to withdraw the sword which he claimed and put into his empty scabbard.

Sword of Light

(see Claidhimh Soluis)

Sword of Need

Norse

Sigmund's sword, Gram

Sword of Strange Girdles

British

[Sword of Strange Hangings. Sword of Strange Renges. Sword of the Strange Belt] the sword of David appearing in the Grail Quest

The hilt of this sword was made of the rib-bones of the papalust and the ortenax. It had been used by Varlan to kill Lambor and had once been found by Nascien who drew the sword to defend himself from a giant, but the blade broke into two pieces. Evelake put the two pieces together and they became rejoined. Other versions say that it was mended by Galahad.

In another story, Parlan drew the sword and was pierced through the thighs by a flying lance.

This sword was found by Galahad and his companions on the Grail Quest when they boarded a ship covered in white samite. It was originally the sword of David and was placed in the ship by Solomon whose wife had made the original hangings. When it was found by Galahad and Percival, Dindrane made new hangings, using her hair.

Sword of Strange Hangings

(see Sword of Strange Girdles)

Sword of Strange Renges

(see Sword of Strange Girdles)

Sword of Tethra

(see Orna)

Sword of the Strange Belt

(see Sword of Strange Girdles)

Swordbearer

(see Saxsnot)

Syama<sup>1</sup>

Buddhist

a devoted son

an incarnation of the Buddha

Syama devoted his life to caring for his aged parents who were blind. He was killed by a king who was so impressed with Syama's devotion that he took the care of the old couple upon himself. Syama was then restored to life by Bahusodari who had given birth to him.

Syama<sup>2</sup>

Hindu

one of the 2 dogs of the underworld

Syama<sup>3</sup>

Hindu

a name for Shiva as 'black'

Syama-Jataka

Buddhist

the story of the devoted son, Syama

Syamantakara

Hindu

[Sunstone]

a precious stone

This jewel was said to bring great wealth to its owner if he were virtuous but the wicked would be destroyed by it.

Syamatarā

Buddhist

[=Tibetan sGrol-Ilang]

a goddess

a form of Tara (green)

an incarnation of Bhṛkūti

Syarul Baria

Malay

an Indian princess daughter of Kaidu

wife of Iskandar mother of Arisatun

Syavarsham

(see Siyawush)

Sybacco

a devil with horns and 3 eyes

Sybil

(see Sibyl)

Sycheaus

Greek

[Acherbas. Sicheaus. Sicheabus]

a king of Tyre

a priest of Heracles

husband of Dido

He was killed by Dido's brother Pygmalion but Dido escaped taking much of her husband's wealth with her.

In some accounts, Dido's husband was Acherbas.

Sycites

Greek

[Sykites]

a name for Dionysus as a fig-tree god

Sycorax

British

a demon or witch in The Tempest.

Sydonay

(see Asmodeus)

Sydyk<sup>1</sup>

Canaanite

[Sedeq]

a supreme god

father of Eshmun

In Babylonian lore, Sydyk is referred to as Kittu.

Syen

Slav

[Ovik]

guardian spirits of the household

These spirits can enter the body of a man or an animal.

Syenabhrita

Hindu

a name for Soma

This name, 'eagle-borne', reflects the fact that his journeys to earth are made on the back of an eagle.

Syfwlch

British

a warrior at King Arthur's court

son of Cilydd Cyfwlch

brother of Bwlch and Cyfwlch husband of Llwyrdyddwg

father of Eisywed

He was the owner of a dog called Gleisad and a horse called Cafall. He was one of those whose help Culhwch was required by Ysbaddaden to obtain in the hunt for Twrch Trwyth, as part of his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Syga-tojon

Siberian

a name for Ulu-tojon as 'axe-lord'

Sygný

(see Signy)

Sygytyr

(see Sigtyr)

Syiy-ajak

(see Yskal-pydo-murt)

Sykites

(see Sycites)

Sykraken

(see Kraken)

Syleus

Greek

an outlaw of Lydia

He forced travellers to work for him in his vineyards but when he tried this on Heracles, who was at that time acting as a slave to the queen Omphale, the hero killed him with his own hoe.

Sylgyl

Norse

a river of Niflheim, one of the 12

rivers known as Elivagar

Syllis

Greek

a nymph

sylyph

an elemental spirit of the air

In some accounts, they now live on Mars or Venus.

sylyphid

[sylphide]

a little sylph: a wife or daughter of a sylph

Sylvan

(see Silvan)

Sylvanus

(see Silvan)

Sylvia

(see Rhea Silvia)

Sylvius

(see Silvius)

Symaethis

(see Simaethis)

Symir

(see Sini)

sympathetic magic

wonder-working involving mimicry of real phenomena

(see also envoutement)

Symplegades

Greek

[Clashing Rocks. Cyanean Rocks.]

Sumplegadai. Wandering Rocks] rocks or islands at the entrance to the Black Sea

These rocks, regarded as living beings, the offspring of Gaea, moved towards one another threatening to smash passing ships. They finally became fixed in position after failing to smash the Argo on her voyage to Colchis. (see also Planctae)

Syn (see Sin<sup>4</sup>)

Synafor European
a Saracen king

He captured Guillaume and held him prisoner for seven years until Guillaume's nephew raised an army and rescued his uncle. Synafor was killed in the subsequent fighting.

Synge, J. M. Irish
(1871-1909)
a dramatist

He was the author of the play Deirdre of the Sorrows.

Synia (see Sin<sup>4</sup>)

Synnytar (see Luonnotar)

synochitis
a stone said to have the power to conjure up demons and compel them to answer questions

Syr Norse
a name of Freya as 'sow'

Syria Dea (see Anat.Syrian Goddess)

Syrian God (see Adonis)

Syrian Goddess Mesopotamian
[Dea Syria.Syria Dea:=Greek Aphrodite]
a name of Astarte or Atargatis

Syrinx Greek [Nonacris.Suringx]
a nymph
daughter of Peneus
She was changed into a tuft of reeds to escape the advances of Pan who took seven pieces of the reed and fashioned a set of pipes.

Syrna Greek
wife of Podaleirius
She was a king's daughter who fell from a roof and injured herself. Podaleirius was shipwrecked on the shore of her father's kingdom and, when he cured her, she married him.

Sytry
[Bitru.Sitri]
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
This being is said to control love affairs and appears in the form of a man with wings and the head of an animal.

Szelene Greek
wife of Endymion

Szeuka North American
a creator-god of the Pima tribe son of Earth-maker
His father had created the world and human beings but the water-spirit, Great Eagle, who preyed on humans, sent a flood to destroy the god's handiwork. Only Szeuka survived and, when the waters subsided, he killed Great Eagle and re-created humans from the bones and bodies left behind by the flood. It turned out that the eagle had not caused the flood – it had merely brought a warning of its impending arrival.

T

Ta-aroa

Pacific Islands

[Rua-i-tupra:=Marshall Islands Loa]

a Tahitian creator-god

father of Rai-tubu

Some say that he hatched from a cosmic egg and used the shell to create earth (Fa'ahotu) and sky (Atea), others that he created the world inside the shell of a mussel, others that he built the universe from his own body. Some say that he pulled up the islands from the bottom of the ocean on a hook and fishing-line.

He also made men from red clay and later put a man to sleep, took a bone from his body and, from it, made the first woman. (see also Tagalaoa, Tangalaoa, Tangarooa)

Ta-Bitjet

Egyptian

a scorpion-goddess

consort of Horus

T'a Chi

Chinese

a concubine of Chou Wang

T'a Chi was a particularly wicked woman who incited the emperor to deeds of great cruelty.

In some accounts she was executed while others say that she changed herself into a puff of smoke to escape death at the hand of T'ai Sui, Chou Wang's son.

Ta-chun

Chinese

a Taoist immortal, one of a celestial trinity

(see Ta-hsek-khi)

Ta-hsek-khi

Burmese

the first man, created by Hkun Hsang

Long

He and the female Ya-hsek-khi were born in tadpole form. After eating a gourd, they mated and were given new names. He became Ta-hsang-khi (Yatawn) and they produced a daughter called Nang-pyek-kha Yek-ki.

Ta Hsüeh

Chinese

[Great Learning]

the seventh of the 9 major works of the Confucian canon, dealing with ethics

one of the Four Books

Ta-hui Ch'an-shih (see I-hsing)

Ta-Itza

Central American

a Mayan chief

He loved the maiden Sac Niché and abducted her. She, however, did not love him and drowned herself in a lake to escape his attentions.

Ta-lo

Chinese

the highest of the 36 Taoist heavens

Ta-mo

Chinese

[=Indian Bodhidharma:=Japanese Daruma]

a Brahmin

the founder of the Ch'an Tsang school of Buddhism

the Chinese version of Bodhidharma

Angry with himself for falling asleep, he cut off his eyelids to prevent a recurrence. The first tea plants grew where the eyelids landed. He is said to have crossed a river riding on a single reed.

Ta-no-Kami

Japanese

a Shinto god of agriculture

He is sometimes identified with Ebisu or Daikoku.

Ta Pedn

Pacific Islands

the god of a negrito Malaysian

tribe the Semang

He is envisaged as seated alongside his wife on a multi-coloured mat in the sky.

Ta-ren-ya-wa-gon

(see Tarenyawagon)

Ta-shih-che

Chinese

[Ta-shih-chih]

the Chinese version of Mahasthama

In this version the bodhisattva is female.

Ta-shih-chih

(see Ta-shih-che)

Ta-urat

(see Tauret)

Ta-uret

(see Tauret)

Ta-urt

(see Tauret)

Ta-uz

Mesopotamian

a festival in honour of Tammuz

Ta Wei

Chinese

the constellation Ursa Major, the Great Bear, site of the Jade Palace of Yü Huang

Ta Yü

(see Yü)

Taapac

(see Thunupa)

Taara

Baltic

[Tharapita]

an Estonian sky-god, in some accounts

Taaroa

Pacific Islands

a Polynesian creator-god

He emerged from an egg which existed in the primaevaeal waters and produced Rai-tubu.

In Tahiti they say that he created Hina and mated with her to produce the world while in Hawaii the earth and sky were produced by Rai-tubu.

In some accounts, the seas resulted from the sweat of Taaroa's labours.

Taaut Phoenician
[=Egyptian Thoth]

a deity said to have invented writing

Tabakea Pacific Islands
[Turtle]

a primordial god of the Gilbert Islands brother of Na-kaa

He and Tituabine produced all the other deities of the Gilbertese pantheon.

Tabasco (see Tlapallan)

Table African
a royal drum

This instrument was fetched from heaven by a vulture at the behest of Lagare. When he beat the drum, a new city, Wagandoo, sprang up in the desert.

tabi Arab
the familiar of the Arab sorcerer

This spirit is said to pass on secret knowledge to the sorcerer.

Tabiti Russian
[=Roman Vesta]

a winged Scythian fire-goddess

Table Man British
a rock on which the 7 kings of Cornwall celebrated their victory

at Vellendrucher

Table of the Sun
(see Ethiopian Table)

Table of the Wandering Companions British

a table at the court of King Arthur

Not all the knights were members of the Round Table. For those others, this table was used.

table-rapping

knocking sounds said to impart communications from the spirit-world

table-turning

movements of a table said to imply the presence of departed spirits

Tablet of Emerald (see Luah)

Tablet of the Soul Chinese a board inscribed with the name of a deceased emperor

Tablets of Destiny Mesopotamian
[Book of Destinies. Dup Shimati.

Dupshimati. Tupsimati] tablets recording the fate of the living and the decrees of the god
of the underworld

These tablets, made by Marduk's scribe, were said to confer great power on the holder. They were carried by Kingu leading the primal forces in their struggle with the gods and taken by Marduk when he killed Kingu. They were later stolen by Zu but recovered by Ninurta.

taboo [tabu.tapu]
a prohibition on something considered to be holy or unclean

Tabris
a demon of free will

Tabuariki Pacific Islands
[Tabuerik]

a thunder-god of the Gilbert Islands

Tabuerik (see Tabuariki)

Tabulae Iguvinae
(see Iguvine Tablets)

Taburimai Pacific Islands
a semi-divine ancestor of the

Gilbert Islanders

son of Bakoa and Nai Nguiriki

father of Te-ariki-n-tarawa

Bakao's first offspring were fishes, then came Taburimai, a human, and Teanoi, a shark. The fishes intended to kill 'the fish with legs' so Teanoi carried him on his back to the safety of Samoa.

Tacatecutli Central American
an Aztec god of pedlars and travellers

Tachebrune European
a horse of Ogier

Tachi African
a mischievous deity

He is said to be visible only to those married women with whom he consorts. The children of such unions are deformed.

Tachibana (see Ototachibana)

Tachti Baltic
a Finnish god of the Pole Star

tachtli Central American
an Aztec ball-game

It was believed that this game was played by the gods.

Tacritan
a demon of earth-magic

Tacu North American
husband of Auzar

father of Chinigchinich, some say

Tacuaree South American
a Guarani maiden

daughter of Saguua

Tacuma African
the name for the Ashanti character

Ntikuma in the Americas and the West Indies

Tadaklam Pacific Islands
a thunder-god in Luzon

He owns the lightning-dog, Kimat.

Tadanobu Japanese
[Tadonobu]

a servant of Yoshitsune

When his master used the skin of a vixen to make a drum, the animal's son entered Tadanobu in revenge, making him a fox-man.

Tadhg mac Cein Irish
son of Cian of Munster brother of Airnealach and Eoghan husband of Li Ban

He fought against Ulster at the Battle of Crionna in alliance with Cormac mac Airt, the high-king, who promised a reward of as much land as he could drive round in his chariot. The king bribed the driver to traverse an L-shape to exclude Tara, the home of the high-kings of Ireland.

When his wife and sons were carried off by Camthann, king of Fresen, he set sail in pursuit but found himself in the Otherworld where he and his crew were entertained by Cessair, the first woman to reach Ireland. They stayed for a year which seemed like a single day and then sailed for Fresen. Tadhg killed Camthann, installed his nephew as king and brought his family safely home.

Tadhg mac Nuadhat Irish father of Murna

When Cumail eloped with Tadhg's daughter Murna, he ordered Goll mac Morna to kill him.

Taditkara Buddhist
[Vidyadhara]

a goddess of light
consort of Yamataka

Tadonobu (see Tadanobu)

tadu East Indian a priestess in the Celebes

These women have a role interceding with the gods when a mortal dies.

(see also walian)

Tae South American
a goddess of the Tukuna tribe

Tae Kieh (see T'ai Chi)

Taema-mandara Japanese the paradise of Amida (see also Kwangyo-mandara. Sukhavati)

Taenarum (see Cape Taenarum)

Taenarus (see Cape Taenarum)

Taepo New Zealand
a Maori ghost which has power only during the hours of darkness

Tafai (see Tawhaki)

Tafaki New Zealand

a shaman who was said to have visited heaven

Tafner Egyptian

wife of Horus of Two Eyes
a form of Hathor

Tafua Pacific Islands

a Polynesian rain-god

Tagalao Pacific Islands

[=Hawaiian Kanaloa:=Maori Tangaroa:

=Tahitian Ta'aroa:=Tongan Tangaloa]

a Samoan sea-god

father of Fue and Tuli

His offspring, Tuli, was a bird and Tagalao caused a rock to rise from the bed of the primordial ocean so that Tuli had somewhere to build a nest. He later split the rock into many parts to form the islands of the Pacific.

(see also Tagaroa.Tangaroa)

Tagamalng Pacific Islands

a type of Buso

This being alternates between a human being and a Buso, changing each month.

Tagaro Pacific Islands

a creator-god of the New Hebrides (Vanuatu) brother of Suqe-mutua husband of Vinmara

one of the 11 brothers of Qat

He made models of humans from mud, using them as skittles. One of the figures mated with the fruit he used to bowl them over, so producing the first children.

When a group of maidens flew down from heaven and took off their wings to bathe, he stole one pair of wings and hid them. The girl could not leave without her wings so she stayed on earth and married Tagaro. She later recovered her wings and flew back to her home in the sky.

When he is on earth, he is visible only to the dead.

In some versions, there are two – Tagaro the Wise, the creator, and Tagaro the Foolish who destroyed much of the other's work.

(see also Tangaroa)

Tagaroa (see Tangaroa)

Tages<sup>1</sup> Roman

[Tage]

an Etruscan deity or first man

He was said to have been uncovered when a field was being ploughed and took the form of a grey-headed child of immense wisdom which he passed on to the rulers of Etruscan cities. He then returned to the earth from which he arose.

His words were passed down the generations and recorded in the Twelve Books of Tages.

In some accounts, the ploughman was Tarchon while others say that Tages is the same as Tarchies.

tages<sup>2</sup> Roman

Etruscan deities

These beings take their name from the deity, Tages, and were said to read the future from the entrails of animals.

Tageuk (see Tahgook)

taghairm Scottish

divination: seeking inspiration by lying on an oxhide behind a waterfall

Taghut Arab

a deity worshipped in pre-Islamic times

Tagil

a moon-demon

Tago (see Tages<sup>1</sup>)

Tagtug Mesopotamian

[Tut(t)u:=Babylonian Marduk]

a Sumerian hero who was deified son of Ea or Enki, some say

son of Nintu, some say

In some accounts he was originally a deity who lost his immortality and is condemned to a life as a worker. As Tagtug he is a tailor; as Tibir he is a metalworker and as Uttukki he is a weaver.

Tahaki (see Tawhaki)

Tahekeroa New Zealand

the Maori land of the spirits in the centre of the earth

(see also Aratiatia.Irihia)

Tahgook Korean

[Tageuk:=Chinese T'ai Chi:

=Japanese Tomoye]

a symbol representing the 2 opposing principles of nature with a red comma and a blue comma inside a circle

Tahinariki Pacific Islands

mother of Pere, some say

Tahit North American

a Tlingit god of fate

Tahiti Tokerau Pacific Islands

daughter of Tawhaki

mother of Rata

Puna abducted her, made lights from her eyes and then buried her upside down in the sand. Rata came to her rescue and killed Puna.

Tahli Hindu

[Talee.Tali]

a talisman bearing the image of Lakshmi worn by Brahmin women

tahmahnawis North American

supernatural power, in the lore of the Chinook

Tahmurath Persian

[Takhma Urupi]

a hero-king

son of Vivahvant

brother of Yima

His exploits are recorded in the Sbab Name. He is said to have taught his people the arts of agriculture and spinning wool.

He overcame Angra Mainyu but the angry god turned on Tahmurath, who was riding on his back, and ate him.

Taho Japanese

a form of Amida

one of the 5 Dhyanibodhisattvas, in some accounts

Tahquitz North American

an evil spirit of the Indian tribes

tahu<sup>1</sup> African

[sau]

in the lore of the Efe, forbidden fruit

eaten by Baatsi's wife

Tahu<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

a magician in the lore of the Tuomotuans

son of Atea and Fa'ahotu

Tahua<sup>1</sup> New Zealand

a Maori hero

He was the only man to escape when Tuwhakapau laid an ambush for Manawa who came to arrange the wedding of his son to Tuwhakapau's daughter.

tahua<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

teacher-priests of ancient lore, magic and medicine

Tahuantin-Suyu-Kapac

South American

the 4 sons of Inti, the Inca sun-god

These four are given as Ayar Ayca, Ayar Cachi, Ayar Manco and Ayar Oco.

(see also Children of the Sun)

Tahuti Greek

[Tehuuti]

the Greek version of Thoth

Tai Chen Chinese

a king

husband of Wan

T'ai Chi Chinese

[Tae Kieh.The Great Pole]

the first fixed point in time and space to emerge from the primordial chaos:

the origin of all creation: a circular symbol representing the opposing forces of Yin and Yang with black and white comma shapes

(see Hun-tun.Tahgook)

T'ai Ch'u Chinese

[The Great First]
the first stage of the Great Change, T'ai I

In this period, it is said that form (Hsing) developed.

T'ai I' Chinese

[The Great Change]
the state which evolved after the creation of T'ai Chi, involving 2 periods of change, T'ai Ch'u and T'ai Shih

T'ai I' Chinese

[T'ai Yo Ta Ti]
god of the Pole Star
god of the eastern peak of T'ai Shan He determined the date of the birth and death of all humans and animals

T'ai I' Chinese

[Chiu-kung T'ai I. The Great Monad]
a primordial Taoist god
He lives in the constellation Tzu-kung.

T'ai I Ching Chinese

the essence of the great creator

T'ai Kung Wang (see Chiang Tzu-ya)T'ai-lao-tao Chinese

the second Taoist god, an emanation of Yü Huang

T'ai Shan<sup>1</sup> Chinese

[Mount T'ai]
a sacred mountain, one of the Five
Holy Mountains known as Wu Yüeh
This site is regarded as the starting point of the sun-chariot's journey or,
some say, is the site of the underworld.

T'ai Shan<sup>2</sup> Chinese

a goddess of the mountain T'ai Shan the lady of the whirlwind daughter of Tung Hai wife of Hsi Hai (see also Niang Niang)

T'ai Shan<sup>3</sup> Chinese

[T'ai Shang]
the third Taoist god, controller of earth
an emanation of Yü Huang

He is regarded as the deity in charge of the celestial Ministry of the Five Sacred Mountains, Wu Yüeh, and acts as a guide of souls.

T'ai Shan Kun Chinese

the seventh of the Ten Yama Kings

T'ai-shang (see T'ai Shan<sup>3</sup>)T'ai-shang lao (see Yü Huang)T'ai Shih Chinese

[The Great Beginning]
the second stage of The Great Change, T'ai I

In this period breath (Ch'i) developed.

T'ai Su Chinese

[The Great Primordial]
the combination of form and breath, giving rise to substance (Chih)

T'ai Sui Chinese

a god of astrology
son of Chou Wang and Chiang
On the advice of the evil concubine T'a Chi, the child T'ai Sui was abandoned and the queen, Chiang, was thrown to her death from a high building. The boy was rescued and raised by Ho Hsien-ku and, when he reached maturity, sought vengeance.
He was about to execute T'a Chi when she changed into a puff of smoke and vanished. (see also Yin Chiao)

T'ai Sui Hsing Chinese

a god of time, Jupiter personified

T'ai Sung Chinese

[T'ai-tsung]
an emperor

When he dreamt of demons, three of his ministers took turns in guarding his door. They were later immortalised as the Three Door Gods.

T'ai-tsung (see T'ai Sung)T'ai Yang Chinese

the sun, in astrology

T'ai Yin<sup>1</sup> Chinese

the moon, in astrology

T'ai Yin<sup>2</sup> Chinese

a celestial princess She chose the mortal Lu Chi for her husband but he, after meeting her in the palace of the Dragon King, changed his mind and returned to earth.

T'ai Yo Ta Ti (see T'ai I')T'ai Yüan Chinese

a primordial goddess consort of Pan-ku mother of Yüan Shih

Taichue Pacific Islands

a sea-god

Taiki African

a Hausa spirit said to cause stomach illness

Taijas Hindu

fire, one of the 5 forms of Parabrahma

Taikomo North American

[=Kato Nagaitco:=Sinkone Kyoil]
a creator-god of the Yuki tribe of the southwest coastal area

He created the earth and made men from sticks but it was all destroyed in a flood. The second world he made had no animals for the people to eat so they ate each other until the world was destroyed by fire. He then made a third world and placed animals under the corners of the earth to hold it steady. When it still wobbled, he made the animals lie down and thereafter, apart from earthquakes caused when one of them moved, the world remained steady.

He again created men from sticks and, when the first one died, Taikomo buried him. He allowed him to return to life the next day but the others complained of the smell of decay so Taikomo gave up the idea of resurrecting the dead.

tailed men European

a fictitious race of humans with tails Dwellers on the Continent once asserted that the English had tails while others said that this was true only of the Cornish people and Jews.

Tailltinn (see Battle of Tailltinn)Tailopa Buddhist

a great sorcerer, one of the Mahasiddhas

He is depicted as a seated man, naked and holding a rope.

Tailteann Games Irish

an event honouring Taltiu, foster-mother of Lugh

Taltiu<sup>1</sup> (see Battle of Tailltinn)Taltiu<sup>2</sup> (see Taltiu)Tailtu (see Taltiu)Tain bo Cuailnge Irish

the story of the Cattle Raid of Cooley

Tain bo Fraich (see Tain bo Fraoch)Tain bo Fraoch Irish

[Tain bo Fraich]
a tale of a cattle-raid

In the story, Fraoch a handsome warrior, sought the hand of Findbhair, daughter of Maev and Ailill, and retrieved Findbhair, their three children and their herds which had been carried off in a cattle-raid.

In some accounts, they had been taken to a castle in the Alps and Fraoch was helped in their rescue by Conall Cearnach.

Taiowa North American

[=Zuni Paiyatemu]
a Hopi creator-god
father of Sotuknang

Taipan

a name for the Rainbow Snake

Tairi New Zealand

father of Nganaoa

He had been missing for many years when his son killed three monsters and found both his father, Tairi, and his mother alive in the belly of one of them.

taishch (see taish)Taise Irish daughter of Donn, king of the Otherworld

She was betrothed to Congall Clairingseach and, when Nabgodon tried to seize her for himself, Congall killed him.

Another story says that she loved Finn mac Cool and was rescued by Goll mac Morna and Oscar when her father's soldiers held her prisoner.

taish Scottish

[taisch]

an apparition of the dying; second-sight

Taishaku Japanese

the Japanese name for Indra

Taisho Issaikyo Buddhist

the complete Buddhist scriptures in Chinese, occupying 55 volumes

Taistealach Irish

a warrior of the Fianna

A very strong man, he defeated the wrestling champion of Daire Don at the Battle of Fionn's Strand.

Taisumale Pacific Islands

a Samoan god of war, envisaged as a bat (see also Sepi Malosi)

Tajikara-wo Japanese

[Prince Mighty Power]

a deity of great strength

He stood near the entrance to the cave where Amaterasu had hidden herself and, when she looked out to see Izume dancing, he seized her by the wrist and pulled her out. He then placed the rope, Shiri-kume-na nawa, across the entrance to stop her from re-entering.

Tajima-mori Japanese

a man who visited the underworld and picked an orange from a tree growing there

Tajin Central American

[=Aztec Tlaloc:=Mayan Chac:=Mixtec Tzahui:=Zapotec Cocijo]

a group of Totonac rain-gods

Another version gives Tajin as the Totonac name for Tezcatlipoca.

tak-keng Burmese

posts bearing the skulls of the dead

It is said that the ghosts of the dead hover round the skulls and drive away evil spirits which would otherwise destroy the crops and herds.

Tak Pern Malay

the supreme being husband of Jalang

In some accounts, Jalang was his sister.

Taka-gi-no-kami

(see Takamimusubi)

Taka-Mi-Musubi

(see Takamimusubi)

Taka-Okami Japanese

a Shinto god of mountain rains in the form of a dragon (see Kura-okami)

Taka Rita New Zealand

sister of Tawheta

second wife of Uenuku

She slept with two other men and Uenuku killed all three of them. As a result, Tawheta and Uenuku became enemies and fought.

Takachiho Japanese

a sacred mountain

This is the site where Ninigi landed when he came down to earth.

Takadai Japanese

a samurai

He committed suicide by drowning but his soul was reborn as a seagull.

Takahama Japanese

an old man living near a cemetery

He had been betrothed to Akiko but she died just before they were to be married and he spent the rest of his life visiting and tending her grave. When he became too ill to visit the grave, Akiko came to him in the form of a white butterfly just before he died.

Takama-ga-hara Japanese

[Eterna;] Lands.High Plains of Heaven.Takama-no-hana]

the home of the early deities, the Shinto heaven

It is said that the Mikado joins the gods on this heaven when he dies.

Takama-no-hana

(see Takama-ga-hara)

Takamimusubi Japanese

[Taka-gi-no-kami.Taka-Mi-Musubi]

a Shinto creator god

one of the 5 Separate Heavenly Deities

one of the Eight Imperial Deities

grandfather of Ninigi

He formed ten men from mud, breathed life into them and then turned one of them into a warrior.

He sent Ninigi to earth to quell the unrest in Idzumo and later threw back the arrow fired by Waka-Hiko, killing him. (see also Zoka-no-sanshin)

Takara-bune Japanese

[Treasure-ship]

a ship

This vessel, which carries the Shichi Fukojin, is said to come at New Year with many wonderful gifts such as a hat which confers invisibility, a never-empty purse, etc.

Takaro Pacific Islands

a creator-god in the New Hebrides

Take-haya Susanowo

(see Susanowa)

Take-Mika-Dzuchi

(see Takemikadzuchi)

Take-Mika-Zuchi

(see Takemikadzuchi)

Take-minakata Japanese

son of Susanowa

Take-no-uji-no-sukune Japanese

a deity of longevity and wisdom

He was a mortal, a statesman who lived for 300 years, who was deified.

Takemikadzuchi Japanese

[Take-Mika-(D)zuchi]

a Shinto god of thunder

and swordsmen

one of the Raijin weather-gods

He was one of the envoys (the other was Futsu-Nushi), sent by Amaterasu, to depose the earth-god, Okuni-Nushi, so that her grandson, Ninigi, could take over the throne.

Takeminakatatomi-no-mikoto

Japanese

a deity of Lake Suwa

(see also Yasakatome)

Takeru

Japanese

an outlaw

Prince Yamato came to his camp disguised as a woman, got the outlaw drunk and then killed him.

Takhma Urupi (see Tahmurath)

Taki-tsu-hiko Japanese

[Takitsuhiko]

a rain-god and god of the waterfall

son or father of Aji-Shiki-Taka-

Hiko-Ne

Takitits Mesopotamian

an attendant on Hebat

Takitsuhiko (see Taki-tsu-hiko)

Takkiraja Buddhist

a guardian god

one of the dikpalas

He is responsible for the south-eastern direction.

Taklimtu Mesopotamian

an Assyrian ceremony in honour of Dumuzi

Takobah (see Mount Rainier)

Takotsi Nakawe Central American

a vegetation goddess of the

Huichol Indians

mother of Tatevali

Taksaka (see Takshaka)

Takshaka<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Taksaka]

a snake-god

one of the mahanagas

He was asked by the son of a hermit to help avenge an insult offered to his father by the king, Parikshit. With a troop of nagas in the form of monks, Takshaka attacked the fortress which the king had built in a lake and choked Parikshit to death while his monks burnt the building to ashes.

Takshaka<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a name for Vishvakarma as 'carpenter'

takusen Japanese
an oracle conveyed by a medium from a spirit or a deity

Takuskanskan North American
a trickster-god of the Dakotas

tala East Indian
oil found in a well in the underworld
In the lore of Java, this oil makes one invulnerable.

Ta'lab Arab
a moon-god of the southern region

Talac British
a vassal of King Arthur
When Talac rebelled against the king, Arthur besieged his home, the Castle Rougement. Yder decided to help Talac and defeated all Arthur's knights. When Kay treacherously plunged a sword into Yder's back, the others were so appalled that they called a truce and Talac and the king were reconciled.

Talaios Greek [Teleios]
a name for Zeus in Crete

Talaipo Pacific Islands
a magic canoe

This boat, made by the bird-spirits during the course of just one night, was given to the Samoans and is handed down through generations of chiefs.

talar-disir Norse evil spirits: a description used for the Norns (see also disir.vala)

talaria Greek
the winged sandals presented by the gods to Hermes

Talatala Hindu
one of the 7 realms of the underworld, Patala

Talatumsi North American
a Pueblo dawn-goddess

Talaus Greek
a king of Argos
son of Bias and Pero husband of Lysianessa or Lysimache father of Adrastus, Aristomachus, Eriphyle, Mecisteus and Pronax

Talay Mesopotamian
['dew'] daughter of Baal

Talee (see Tahli)

Talhaern British
a bard on the boat which carried the dead King Arthur to Avalon

Tali (see Tahli)

Taliesin<sup>1</sup> Welsh
[Taliessin]
a 6th c poet, author of The Book of Taliesin

Taliesin<sup>2</sup> Welsh
[Shining Brow.Taliessin] a bard and wizard
father of Addaon

Ceridwen, a witch, boiled a magic brew to yield just three drops of a liquid which would give all knowledge to whoever drank it, intending it for her ugly son, Avagddu. The boy Gwion whom she employed to stir the brew inadvertently swallowed the drops when they splashed on to his hand and he licked them off, so acquiring the supernatural knowledge. Ceridwen chased after him when he ran off and, after several shape-changes, eventually caught him, she in the shape of a hen, he as a grain of wheat. She swallowed the wheat-grain and found herself pregnant with Gwion who, when born again, was thrown into the sea in a sack. He was caught in a fish-trap (or, some say, found inside a leather wallet at the weir) and rescued by Elphin who reared him, calling him Taliesin.

Another version makes him the son of Eimon and Olwen while others maintain that he was created by the magician Gwydion.

When Elphin was thrown into prison by his uncle Maelgwn, for boasting that his bard, Taliesin, was the best in the country, Taliesin obtained his release by winning a bardic contest.

He was one of the seven survivors of the battle between Bran and Matholwch.

Some writers have suggested that he was reincarnated as Merlin.

Taliesin<sup>3</sup> Welsh
the story of the bard in one version of The Mabinogion

Taliesin, Book of (see Book of Taliesin)

Taliesin Through Logres English
a book by C. W. Williams about the bard of Arthurian legend

The Logres of the title is an old name for England.

Taliessin (see Taliesin)

talisman [amulet.charm.telesm]
an object which gives protection, strength or magic powers to its owner

Some say that a talisman made under the influence of a particular planet will communicate that influence to the wearer.

In African lore, such an object may sometimes be active, attacking the owner's enemies.

Muslims may carry a talisman, in the form of words from the Koran written on a scrap of paper, as protection from illness.

Talking God (see Hashje-Altye)
talking heads

a frequent theme in mythology is that of the head which continues to speak after it has been severed from the body

(1) In the Arthurian story of Gawain and the Green Knight, the Green Knight's head spoke and challenged Gawain to a rematch after Gawain had cut it off in a beheading contest.

(2) The German fairy tale, The Goose Girl, mentions the horse, Falada, which continued to speak to the girl through its decapitated head nailed over a gateway.

(3) The Greeks say that the severed head of Orpheus floated down the river still singing.

(4) In Irish lore, Bran's head continued to speak for many years until it was buried at the White Mount, and Canary Mor's head spoke to thank Mac Cecht for the drink of water he had brought.

(5) In Norse mythology, Odin preserved the head of the giant Mimir and frequently consulted it while another story says that he brought the head of the king, Minos, from Crete and used that as an oracle.

(6) The North American Natchez tribe have the story of Elder Brother and Younger Brother in which the head of the latter harries the former.

(7) The Philippine god, Montinig, carried on speaking, after being decapitated, mocking his attackers.

Tall Towers British
the building in which Gingalin was trapped by the Hags of Gloucester

Tallas British
a king of Denmark

He besieged Urien's castle and captured Laris. King Arthur came to the rescue and lifted the siege. Claris rescued Laris who became king of Denmark when Tallas was defeated.

Tallaus (see Taulus)

Talli North American

a culture-hero of the Lenapé Indians

Talliya Canaanite

one of the wives of Baal

Tallwch Welsh

the name of Tristram's father in Welsh stories

talonhaltia Finnish

a guardian spirit of the household

Talos<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Calus.Kalos.Perdix.Talos]

an apprentice and nephew of Daedalus

son of Polycaste

He is credited with the invention of the saw and died when Daedalus,

jealous of his nephew's skills, hurled him from the top of the temple of Athena. The goddess turned Talos into a partridge.

Talos<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Man of Brass.Talos]

guardian of Crete

father of Phaetus

Talos was a bronze, bull-headed giant forged by Hephaestus for King

Minos, with the help of the Cyclopes.

Some say he was given by Zeus to Europa when he carried her off to Crete. He patrolled the coasts of Crete three times a day to repel invaders and could kill by standing in a fire to heat himself up, and then enclosing people in his red-hot grasp.

He had just one vein which carried all his vital fluid and which stretched from his head down to one ankle where it was sealed with a stopper or membrane. He died when this stopper was removed when he was attempting to repel the Argonauts by throwing huge rocks at their ship and there are conflicting stories of how this came about. In one story, Medea lulled him into sleep and removed the plug or cut the membrane: in another, Medea prayed to Hades and he caused Talos to graze his ankle on a rock. Another version says that he was shot in the foot by Poeas, a story which assumes a vulnerable spot in the heel.

Talthubios (see Talthybius)

Talthybius Greek

[Talthubios]

a herald of the Greeks at Troy, later worshipped as a hero

Taltiu Irish

[Telta.Táilt(i)u]

daughter of Duach, king of the Great Plain

wife of Eochaid mac Erc

foster-mother of Lugh

She died as a result of her efforts in clearing the forest of Breg when the Danaans conquered the Fir Bolg. The feast of Lugnasad is held in her honour.

Talus<sup>1</sup> British

a man, in The Faerie Queene,

made of iron

He punished liars with a metal flail.

Talus<sup>2</sup> (see Talos)

Talvolte North American

a leader of the tortoise clan, a survivor of the flood

Tam<sup>1</sup> Scottish

a hero who killed the Loch-wife

Tam<sup>2</sup> (see Atum)

Tam-chhen Tibetan

a demon

Tam Kung Chinese

a sea-god

He was a young boy, emperor of China, who, with his servant Ho

Wang, jumped to his death from a cliff when Kublai Khan invaded. He was later deified.

Tam Lin Scottish

a magician who could turn himself

into various animal forms

He was captured by the queen of faery

but his lover, Janet, held him firmly while he changed into various animal shapes, finally freeing himself from the queen's enchantment.

tama<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

the third eye of the Buddha

Tama<sup>2</sup> Japanese

a servant of Kazaruja Kyubei

She used all her wages to buy memorial tablets for her dead parents and, when she died, left what little she owned to her mistress. She returned in the form of a fly and died only when Kyubei's wife decided to give the money to the priests.

tama<sup>3</sup> Japanese

an entity which gives life to anything, be it animal, human or a natural feature: an aspect of a deity: a deity

or spirit: the spirit of an ancestor

Tama<sup>4</sup> Pacific Islands

a sky-god

He rescued the infant Maui who had been thrown into the sea.

tama-matsuri Japanese

a festival honouring the spirits

of the dead

Tama-No-Ya Japanese

a Shinto god of jewellers

When Amaterasu shut herself away in a cave, Tama-No-Ya made a necklace which was used, with other lures, to entice her to come out.

Tama-nui-a-Rangi Pacific Islands

a Polynesian god of light

son of Rangi and Heke-heke-i-papa

Tama-nui-ate-Ra (see Ra<sup>2</sup>)

Tama-nui-te-Ra (see Ra<sup>2</sup>)

Tama-nui-ite-Ra (see Ra<sup>2</sup>)

Tama Rangi New Zealand

a name for Maui

tama-shizume Japanese

a rite performed over the sick to quieten the spirit and prevent it from leaving the body

Tama-yori Japanese

[Tamayori]

daughter of Watatsumi

sister of Otohime

wife of Amasuhiko

mother of Jimmu Tenno

She came from her father's undersea

realm to take over Amasuhiko, the son of her sister Otohime, who had been left on land when Otohime left her husband. When the boy grew up, they married and had four children, the youngest of whom, Toyo-mike-nu, was later known as Jimmu Tenno.

Tamacauí South American

a hero of the Xingu tribe of Brazil

He defeated all the enemies of his people and was killed only when they all joined forces and attacked him.

Many of those who were in the final battle died afterwards – they had eaten

his flesh which was poisonous.

Tamahnous North American

among the tribes of the north-west,

a guardian spirit

Tamana Japanese

wife of Totaro

She promised to marry Totaro if he would give her 10,000 jewels. With the help of the shark-man, Samebito, he was able to meet this condition.

Tamanduaire (see Tamendonar)

Tamano-no-maye Japanese

a fox-witch

This being, a fox with an eight-forked

tail, could become a beautiful woman and, in this form, ruined many important men. Her ugliness was finally revealed in a magic mirror which robbed her of her powers and she was killed by an army which emerged from this mirror and chased her as she fled. (see also Nasu-no)

Tamanui New Zealand

a Maori chief

husband of Rutukia

His wife left him and ran off with

Tu-te-Koropanga so he went to heaven to learn the wisdom of his ancestors who taught him magic. He found his wife dancing at a feast arranged by her new husband and lured her away with a magic scent. He then cut off her head, which he buried in a box, leaving the headless body for Tu-te-Koropanga to find. In the spring, when the new growth started in all living things, he dug up the box and out stepped Rutukia, now fully restored.

Tamape (see Tamapo)

Tamapo Pacific Islands

[Tamape.Tamapoulialamafoa]

a sky-god of Tonga

Tamapoulialamafoa (see Tamapo)

Tamar Hebrew

[=Mesopotamian Ashtoreth.Ishtar]

a goddess

tamas Hindu

one of the 3 gunas governing the transmigration of the soul

Tamate Pacific Islands

a ghost of the New Hebrides

Tamatsumepalike

Tamatsumemusubi Japanese

Tamayeke Central American

a wind-god and messenger-god of the Huichol Indians

Tamayori (see Tama-yori)

one of the Eight Imperial Deities

Tambarinang East Indian

a creator-god

Some of the people of Borneo claim that their ancestors were made by this being who is envisaged in the form of a hornbill.

Tamboeja East Indian

a hero who climbed up to heaven and stole fire for the benefit of his people

Tambon East Indian

the original name of the goddess Djata

Tambotocco (see Pacari)

Tamdrin Dorje Tibetan

a Bon guardian god

Tame Boy North American

a thunder-god of the Cherokee

one of the Thunder Boys

son of Kanati and Seru

brother of Wild Boy

Tamek-vui (see Tuoni)

Tamendonar South American

[Tamanduare.Tamendonare]

twin brother of Ariconte

These twins were born to a mortal mother, one fathered by the god Maire, the other by her mortal husband, Sarigoys. One was killed by the demon, Agnen, the other by the clashing rock, Itha-Irapi; in each case, the dead brother was restored to life by his sibling but they never found out which one of them was the son of a god.

In some accounts the twins are Ariconte and Arikute.

Tamendonare (see Tamendonar)

Tamesis British

a water-goddess, goddess of the Thames

Tametomo Japanese

a hero

brother of Yoshitomo

He is said to have sunk a ship with just one arrow.

Tamial (see Tamiel)

Tamiel

[Tamial]

a demon, one of the 7 Ischin

He reputedly taught men the science of astronomy.

Tamine Persian

a princess

wife of Rustem

mother of Sohrab

She stole Rustem's horse, knowing that he would follow its tracks to the palace. When he arrived, she proposed marriage. Rustem soon left his new wife to resume his warlike career and their son, Sohrab, was born after he left.

Tamjin Tibetan

a horse-faced demon

husband of Dorge, some say

Tammus (see Tammuz)

Tammuz Mesopotamian

[Dao(nu)s.Du'uzu.Ninib.Tammus.

Tamoza.Thammu.=Babylonian

Marduk.=Greek Adonis.=Phrygian Attis:

=Sumerian Dumuzi(-Abzu).Dumuzida]

an Akkadian sun-god and god of fertility

brother of Belil and Belet-Seri son and husband of Ishtar, some say brother of Ningishzida, some say

In some accounts, Tammuz was found floating on water, in others he was the son of Ishtar who had him torn to pieces and thrown into the sea. When, as a result, the earth became barren she regretted what she had done and descended to the underworld to demand his release from her sister Ereshkigal. Some say that he returned as Damu or as Ningishzida, others that he died every year, rising again in the spring, still others that he spent half the year with each of the sisters.

In some accounts, he is equated with

Hey-Tau, Kingu or Ningirsu; others say that Tammuz was killed by a boar.

He was one of the doorkeepers of heaven and was associated with the constellation Orion.

(see also Mirsi.Sibziann)

Tammuz of the Abyss Mesopotamian

a name for Dumuzi

Tamoancan (see Tamoanchan)

Tamoanchan Central American

[Palace of the West.

Tamoancan. Xochitlalpan]

part of the Aztec underworld, home of the ciuateteo, ruled by Chihuacoatl

In other accounts, this is regarded as one of the three homes of the Aztec gods.

Tamoi (see Izoï-tamoi)

Tamon (see Bishamon)

Tamosi South American

[Tamosikabotano]

a supreme god in Guyana

Tamosikabotano (see Tamosi)

Tamoza (see Tammuz)

Tamra Bhadra Buddhist

[=Chinese Po-to-lo.Tan-mo-lo-po-t'ò]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

He is depicted holding his prayer-beads.

Tamsika Hindu

those who worship ghosts and spirits such as bhutas, pretas, etc.

Tamtanamka South American

a Bolivian tribal chief

He fell ill and it turned out that the illness was caused by his wife's adultery – two serpents over his house were slowly eating his life away.

Huathiacuri learned the cause of the illness when he overheard two foxes talking and he was able to cure the chief whose daughter he subsequently married.

Tamtu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

the bitter waters of creation

Tamtu<sup>2</sup> (see Tiamat)

Tamu South American

[Tume.=Arawak Kamu.=Karaya Kaboi:

=Paraguayan Pay Zume]

a Carib culture-hero

Tamukujen African

a supreme god of the Didinga people

Tamuls (see Votan)

Tamulu South American

a warrior created by Amana to guard the sun

brother of Tamusi

Tamulu was responsible for the hours of darkness, his brother Tamusi for daylight. When the sun sent serpents to attack the earth, Tamulu killed them by smothering them with his dark cloak. He created all the monsters and evil beings.

Tamusi South American

[=Guarani Tamoi]
a warrior created by Amana to guard the sun
a creator-deity of the Caribs brother of Tamulu

Tamusi was responsible for the daylight hours, his brother Tamulu for darkness. When the sun sent serpents to attack the earth, Tamusi killed them with his sword, the lightning flash, and made meteors by cutting them up and throwing the pieces into the heavens.

He created human beings and animals.

Tamusra Hindu

one of the realms of hell
This region is reserved for the punishment of adulterers and thieves.

Tan<sup>1</sup> Celtic

the sacred fire of the druids

Tan<sup>2</sup> Chinese a dawn-god

son of Chang
twin brother of Fat

Tan Ching Chinese

[Cinnabar Classic]
a book of alchemy containing, inter alia, a recipe for immortality

Tan-gur (see Tanjur)

Tan-gyur Tibetan commentaries on the Kah-gyur

Tan-ma Tibetan

[bStan-ma]
12 furies, ruled by Ekagata, riding wild animals

Tan-mo-lo-po-t'o (see Po-to-lo)

Tan-tad European

in Breton fire-worship a log, representing the deity, which is burnt

Tanabata<sup>1</sup> Japanese

[Heavenly Weaver Girl.Lyra. Shokujo.Weaving Lady.Weaving Maiden:=Chinese Chih Nü] a Shinto goddess of weaving daughter of the god of the firmament
She spent much of her time weaving but neglected her work when she fell in love with Hikoboshi whose ox was then allowed to wander free, doing much damage. Her father caused her to be separated from him by a celestial river (The Milky Way) and they met thereafter only once a year when flocks of magpies formed a bridge spanning the river.

In some accounts, the name is used for the festival (7th July or 7th August) dedicated to the Weaving Lady and Hikoboshi.

(see also Chih Nu.Waka-Hiru-Me)

Tanabata<sup>2</sup> Japanese

[Weaver's Festival]
a festival, held on July 7th, in honour of Hikoboshi and Tanabata

Tanaburs British

a wizard
His magic powers were almost the equal of Merlin's.

Tanais Greek

son of Lysippe
He was a man who scorned women so Aphrodite caused him to fall in love with his own mother. To escape, he drowned himself.

Tanala African

in the lore of the Baganda, a harp dedicated to Kibuka

Tana'oa Pacific Islands

['darkness'.Tanava]
a Polynesian primeval god of darkness
the name of Tangaroa in the Marquesas

Tanaquil Roman

the Roman name for Caecilia

Tanara Siberian

a sky-god of the Yakuts

Tanaros Celtic

a thunder-god
This deity may be the same as Taran.

Tanava (see Tana'oa)

Tancanaymo South American
a Peruvian giant

Tancred European

(d. 1112)
a Norman knight
son of Otho and Emma

He appears in Jerusalem Delivered as a knight serving under Godfrey and is portrayed as a great warrior, second only to Rinaldo.

Tancree British

a niece of King Arthur wife of Guinganbresil

Tandava Hindu

a dance performed by Shiva at the end of each cycle of the universe

Tandim (see rTä-mgrim)

tandritanitani African
a curse

In some tribes, such a curse is accepted by the victim as fatal and he inevitably wastes away and dies.

Tandu Hindu

a god of the dance
the chief disciple of Shiva

Tane New Zealand

[Tanemahuta.Tapairu.Tuamotu:
=Hawaiian Kane]
a Maori light-god and god of forests

son of Rangi and Papa
brother of Haumea, Rongo, Tangaroa, Tawhiri and Tu husband of Hine-ahu-one father of Hine Titama

He forced apart his entwined parents, raising the sky (Rangi) above the earth (Papa) and used the thunderbolts of Fatu-tiri to kill Atea who, in the Tahitian version, was his father.

In some stories, his first wife was Hine-ahu-one whom he created from sand or carved from stone. He also mated with their daughter Hine Titama who died of shame and became Hine-nui-te-po, a goddess in the underworld, having produced a daughter, Hine Titamauri.

Other versions say that Tane had three other wives – Hine-tuanange who gave birth to reptiles and mountain streams, Mumuhango who produced grass and Rangahore who produced stone. The woman he made from sand was, in this version, Hine-i-tau-ira and it was she who killed herself when she realised that she had married her father, becoming goddess of the underworld.

Yet another story says that Tane made Tiki and Hina-ahu-one who mated to become the progenitors of the human race. Alternatively, Tane, Ku and Lono worked together to create mankind.

Taneborc British

one of the homes of King Arthur

Tanemahuta New Zealand

a name for Tane as god of the forests

Tanen (see Tatenen)

Tanentoa Pacific Islands

a Beru warrior who invaded the Gilbert Islands

Tang<sup>1</sup> Chinese a celestial swallow

This bird is regarded as a heavenly messenger and redeemer who overcame the prince of hell.

T'ang<sup>2</sup> (see Ch'eng T'ang)

tang<sup>2</sup> (see tangie)

T'ang Kung-fang Chinese

an official at the emperor's court
He asked the immortal Li Pa-pai for the secret of eternal youth which the sage promised to give him if T'ang could cure him of the boils which covered his body by licking them. When licking by T'ang's servants and then his wife failed, T'ang collected a million bottles of wine in which Li

Pa-pai bathed. This not only cured the sage's boils but restored the youth of T'ang, his wife and his servants when they also bathed in the wine.

An alternative version says that licking by his servants, his wife and finally by T'ang himself failed to effect a cure but, having passed the test set by Li Pa-pai, T'ang was raised to the status of an immortal by the agency of a potion he prepared from a copy of the Tan Ching given to him by Li Pa-pai.

T'ang Pin Chinese
one of the disciples of Confucius who was allowed to sacrifice in the Temple of Confucius

T'ang Sao-erh Chinese a 15th c Taoist sorceress
She claimed to have a magic sword and led a short-lived uprising.

T'ang Seng (see Tripitaka)
Tangalimlibo African
daughter of a tribal chief in Zaire
She was under a taboo to walk only by night. When she fetched water from the river by day, she offended the river-god who held her captive, so preventing her from feeding her son properly. The god released her only when a cow was sacrificed to him.

Tanga Tanga South American
in Peru, a three-headed god of birth, life and death

Tangaloa Pacific Islands
[=New Zealand Tangaroa]
a creator-god, in the lore of Tonga
He made himself a wife by carving her from stone and, when he threw the spare fragments of stone into the primordial ocean, they became the islands of the Pacific.

Tangara Siberian
[=Buriat Esege-Malan-Tengeri =Mongol Qormusta Tengri]
a Yakut sky-god

Tangaro Gilagilala Pacific Islands
brother of Qat

He was said to know everything.

Tangaro Loloqong Pacific Islands
brother of Qat

He was said to know nothing.

Tangaroa Pacific Islands
[Tagaroa.Tongaiti.Upao.Vahu:
=Hawaiian Kanaloa:=Marquesas Islands
Tana'oa:=Samoan Tagaloa:=Tahitian Ta'aroa:=Tongan Tangaloa]
a creator-god and sea-god a squid-god of Hawaii
a fish-god and god of reptiles of Tuamotu

son of Rangi and Papa
son of Atea and Papa, some say son of Te-More-tu, some say brother Haumea, Rongo, Ruamoko,

Tane, Tawhiri and Tu husband of Korero father of Pili,Tu-nui-ka-rere and Turi-a-Faumea

One story of the origin of Tangaroa says that he emerged from Po.

In one version of the creation story he created the world when, in the form of a bird, he laid an egg which, after floating on the primaevael waters, broke to form the sky and the earth.

He mated with the goddess Faumea after she had shown him how to remove the eels that normally lived in her vagina and killed men who slept with her. When Hina-a-rauriki, wife of Turi-a-Faumea was abducted by the demon octopus, Rogo-tumu-here, he and Turi-a-Faumea fished the monster up from the depths of the ocean and killed him, rescuing Turi-a-Faumea's wife.

He and Atea both claimed to be the father of Papa's first child, so she cut the baby in half for them. Atea threw his half into the heavens where it became the sun and later Tangaroa did the same, making the moon.

Another story makes Tangaroa and Rongo twins and says that he was born from his mother's arm.

*(see also Ta'aroa.Tagaro.
Tagaroa.Tangaloa)*

Tangi-kuku Pacific Islands
brother of Ina and Rupe

tangie Scottish [tang:=Scottish kelpie:=Shetland shoopiltee]
a water spirit of the Orkneys in the form of a sea-horse or a man draped with seaweed

Tangira Pacific Islands
a chieftain of Rarotonga who was deified after his death

Tango Pacific Islands
a god of the Hervey Islanders
son of Vari-ma-te-takere
brother of Atea and Tinirau

In the coconut which is the universe, he lives in Enuu-kura, the Land of Red Parrot Feathers, which is the realm below the home of Tinirau.

tangoma African Swazi diviners

Tangotango New Zealand
a heavenly fairy mother of Arahuta

She found the god Tawhaki in the woods and seduced him, bearing a daughter, Arahuta. She later met Tawhaki in heaven and they lived together thereafter.

Tangun Korean
[Dan-Gun.Wang-Gum]
son of Hwanung

His mother was a woman who had been changed from a bear by eating herbs given to her by Hwanung. Tangun became the founder of the first kingdom and, on his death, was identified with San-shin, god of the mountains.

Ta'ngwanla'na North American
a supreme god of the Haida Indians

tanha (see trishna)

Tani New Zealand
a Maori tree-god

He is said to hold up the heavens with his feet while his hair is represented as underground roots.

Tanin Mesopotamian
a Semitic monster in the form of a huge sea-serpent (see also Tannin)

Tanit Canaanite
[Dido.Rat-Tanit.Tanith.Tenit.Thinnit: =Egyptian Hathor:=Phoenician Astarte: =Roman (Juno) Caelestis]
a moon-goddess and guardian goddess of Carthage

After her death, Dido became identified with Tanit.

Tanith (see Tanit)

taniwha New Zealand
a Maori water-monster

Tanjur Tibetan
[Tan-gur]
a sacred book (see also Kanjur)

Tanlibik
a demon associated with fascination

Tannngiostr Norse
[Tannngjostr.Toothcracker.Toothgrinder]

one of the goats pulling Thor's chariot (see Tannngiostr)

Tannngjiostr (see Tannngiostr)

Tanngrisnr Norse
[Toothgnasher]

one of the goats pulling Thor's chariot

Tannhauser<sup>1</sup> German

[Knight of Song]
a knight at the court of the German king

He fell under the spell of the goddess Holda (as Frau Venus) and, for a year, indulged in all the sensual pleasures she offered. Finally sickened, he returned to the king's court at Wartburg where he was rejected by the other knights, so he sought absolution in Rome only to be told that he had as much chance of a pardon as his wooden staff had of producing flowers.

While he was away, Elizabeth, the king's daughter, who loved him, died of grief. He intended to return to Holda's cave but learned just in time that the staff had produced almond blossoms and he was pardoned after all. He died with his beloved Elizabeth.

Tannbauser<sup>2</sup> German
an opera by Wagner

Tannin Canaanite
[=Phoenician Ophioneus]
a sea-dragon subdued by Anat or Baal (see also Tanin)

Tannus (see Tinnus)

Tano African
a river-god of the Akan
son of the sun-god
brother of Bia

He should have been allocated the deserts but he disguised himself as his brother and was given the fertile parts of the earth.

tanoana (see sumangat)

Tans North American
local deities of the Hupa tribe
These beings are said to tend huge herds of deer hidden in the mountains, occasionally allowing a few out to provide sport and food for the hunters.

Tantalus British
wife of Alexander
mother of Alexander and Alis

Tantalos (see Tantalus)

Tantalus<sup>1</sup> Greek
[Tantalos]
king of Argos, Corinth or Lydia son of Zeus or Tmolus by Pluto husband of Dione or Euryanassa father of Broteas, Niobe and Pelops

He kept the golden dog stolen from Rhea by Pandareus and left in his care and denied having it.

He killed his son Pelops, cut him into small pieces and served him in stew to the gods. As punishment, Zeus condemned him to eternal torment. Immersed in water up to his chin which recedes whenever he tries to drink and with a fruit tree over his head which moves away each time he reaches out a hand, he can never satisfy his hunger or thirst.

In other versions, his punishment was for divulging secrets of the gods, for stealing ambrosia and nectar or for keeping the golden dog.

Some stories substitute a rock poised over the head of Tantalus for the fruit generally mentioned.

Tantalus<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Tantalos]
king of Pisa
son of Theystes
first husband of Clytemnestra

He was killed by Agamemnon who then took Clytemnestra as his wife.

Tantra<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
sacred writing: the worship of male and female energies

Tantra<sup>2</sup> Hindu
sacred writing, in 64 books, including conversations between Shiva and his consort

These works are said to have been recorded by Dattatreya.

tantrika Indian a seer or magician

Tantris British [Tramtris(t)]
the name used by Tristram when, in the guise of a minstrel, he first met Isolde (see also Pro of Iernesetir)

tanuki Japanese
a fox-spirit: the badger, said to have magic powers

Some say that the tamuki can change into a human being or a bottle of sake.

Tanunapat Hindu
a name for Agni as 'always young'

Tanushi (see Asoom)

Tanuta Siberian
a Koryak earth-guardian consort of Yine'ane'ut

Tao Chinese
[‘the way’:=Japanese To] the governing principle of the Taoist universe, combining yin and yang: the all-pervading basis of being: emptiness

Tao Chi Chinese
the name taken by Chi Kung when he became a monk

Tao Chun Chinese
[Chang Tsao-wang.Ling Pao]
the mortal form of a Taoist deity, one of the San Ch'ing, the Three Pure Ones

He controls the yang and the yin and regulates time. His home is the Higher Azure Palace, Shang Ch'ing.

Tao Hua Hsien-nü Chinese
a guardian goddess

tao-jen Chinese [female=tao-nü]
a sorcerer: one who practises Taoist magic

Tao ming Chinese
an assistant in the underworld

Tao Mu Chinese
Tou Mu as the Mother of the Way

tao-nü Chinese [male=tao-jen]
a sorceress: a female practitioner of Taoist magic

Tao Sha Shen Chun Chinese a god of the ancestral tablets

Tai-suan Chinese
a 7th c monk
He went mad and claimed to have received revelations from the many gods who visited him.

Tao Te Ching Chinese
[Treatise of the Way and of Virtue]
the principal work of Taoist philosophy, said to have been written by Lao-tzu in the 6th c

This work describes the essence and source of the world which underlies everything.

T'ao-t'ieh Chinese [Beast of Greed.Monster Face]
a monster with one head, 2 bodies and 6 legs

This beast may be a water-buffalo or it may have the face of a man, a lion or a tiger.

The term is also used to refer to the formalised depiction of some unidentified mythical animal.

Tao Tsang Chinese
the canon of Taoist literature

The present canon comprises over 1,100 volumes; an earlier one, burned in 1281, was even bigger.

The canon comprises two parts known as the San Tung and the Ssu Fu.

Tao-t'ung Chinese
one of the Eighteen Lohan,
in some accounts

He is depicted seated on a mat hugging his knees.

Tao T'ung Shih (see Yao)

Tao-yüeh Chinese
one of the Eighteen Lohan,
in some accounts

He is depicted in a sitting position, meditating, with his head supported on his hand.

Taoeuris (see Tauret)

Taoki-Ho-Oi Japanese
a Shinto god of carpenters
When Amaterasu hid herself in a cave, he built a beautiful hall which, together with other lures, was used to entice her out again.

Taonoui Pacific Islands
mother of the stars, in the lore of the Society Islanders consort of Roua mother of Fati

Taouris (see Tauret)

Taourt (see Tauret)
Tap (see Gaap)
Tapā-Loka Hindu
 one of the 7 realms of the universe,
 the home of the demi-gods (see also Pitri-Loka)
Tapac (see Thunupa)
Tapairu<sup>1</sup> New Zealand
 a name for Tane as king of the fairies
tapairu<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
 a Polynesian nymph
 daughter of Miru, goddess of the dead Their mother used these nymphs to lure mortals to the underworld so that she could cook and eat them.
Taparimarru South American
 consort of Purrunaminari mother of Sisiri
Tapati Hindu ['heat']
 daughter of the sun-god
Taphthartharath
 a demon of the planet Mercury
Tapio Baltic
 a Finnish god of the hunt and forests a male version of Virava husband of Mielkki
 father of Nyrikki and Tuulikki
 He is envisaged as the forested landscape of Finland.
Taqlikic North American
 a name for Yetl, the raven, as 'hammer-father', reflecting his toughness (see Raven<sup>2,3</sup>)
Tar African
 a Nigerian earth-god
Tar-baby
 a sticky figure featured in many cultures (see also Gum Girl)
Tara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [Arya-Tara.Bhrkuti-Tara.Dhanada.
 Ekajata.Janguli.Jayatara.
 Mahacinatara.Padmatara.Pandaravasini.
 Parnassavari.Prajna(paramita).
 Queen of Heaven.Queen of Knowledge.
 Sitatara.Sukla-Tara.Syamatarā.
 Vajratara.Vasya-Tara.Vidjyarajini:
 =Chinese Kuan Yin.=Tibetan Dolma.sGrol-ma]
 a Tibetan goddess of mercy, sailors and wisdom
 wife of Avalokiteshvara
 The name may be applied to Maya,
 the mother of the Buddha.
 Some say that there were twenty-one versions of Tara.
 In some accounts, Tara is said to have been generated from a tear-drop shed by Avalokiteshvara.
 She is depicted, sometimes with seven eyes, sitting on a lion, holding the sun, or as a maiden holding a lotus.

 (see also Blue Tara.Green Tara.Red
 Tara.sGrol-ma.Sitatara.Tara Amba.White Tara)
Tara<sup>2</sup> Hindu [Taraka.=Tibetan Dolma.sGrol-ma] a three-eyed goddess one of the mahavidyas
 a sakti of Shiva
 wife of Brhaspati
 mother of Budha
 She was carried off by Chandra but rescued by Brahma. She claimed that Chandra was the father of her son, Budha.
Tara<sup>3</sup> Irish [Teamhair (na Riogh).Temair.
 Temuir.Tiathdrom]
 home of the high-kings
 This was originally the fortress of the Fir Bolg taken over by the Danaans and later the seat of the high-kings of Ireland.
 One story says that the site was abandoned after St Ruadan cursed it, others that it continued in use long after the suggested date of that incident.
Tara<sup>4</sup> Pacific Islands
 a Polynesian sea-goddess
Tara<sup>5</sup> (see Dara<sup>3</sup>)
Tara Amba Buddhist
 a form of Tara as patron of sailors Tara Bai Hindu
 an ever-youthful star-maiden who lured mortals with her songs
Tara Dharani (see Green Tara)
Tara Stone (see Stone of Destiny)
Tara Utpala (see Green Tara) Tarab
 a demon of extortion Tarada Japanese
 a ship's captain
 He saw a vision of a maiden, dressed in white, standing on the surface of the sea to which she soon returned. She turned out to be the spirit of a wonderful sword which was recovered from the sea by the diver, Sankichi, and placed in a shrine. This satisfied the spirit and the fish, long absent from the bay, returned.
Tarafe African
 a bard who sang the praises of Samba Tarai Indian
 a deity of the Andaman Islands
 wife or sister of Bilik
 She controls the south-west monsoon while Bilik controls that from the north-east.

Taraipo New Zealand
 the first canoe, given to Rata by the bird-spirits
Taraka<sup>1</sup> Hindu ['star'] a female, man-eating demon killed by Rama
 mother of Maricha
Taraka<sup>2</sup> (see Tara<sup>2</sup>)
Tarakamaya Hindu
 the war between the followers of Soma and Brhaspati
 This conflict was precipitated when Soma abducted Brhaspati's wife, Tara.
 It was ended by the intervention of Brahma who ordered Soma to return
 Tara to her husband.
Tarakee Hindu
 a hero who lived to the age of 1100 Taramusubi Japanese
 one of the Eight Imperial Deities
Taran<sup>1</sup> Celtic [Heithiurum.Taranis.Taranos.
 Taranuces.Taranus.Thunderer]
 a Celtic deity in Gaul This deity is generally regarded as a thunder-god, equated by the Romans with Dis Pater or Jupiter. In other accounts, Taran is female, a goddess of death.
 (see also Taranos)
taran<sup>2</sup> Celtic
 the restless spirit of a child who died before being baptised Taran<sup>3</sup> Welsh
 father of Gluneu
Taranga Pacific Islands
 a mortal queen
 mother of Maui by Makea
Tarani Hindu
 a name for the sun: a saviour deity
Taranis (see Taran<sup>1</sup>)
Taranos (see Taran<sup>1</sup>)
Taranucus (see Taran<sup>1</sup>)
Taranushi (see Asoom)
Tarapaca (see Thunapu)
Taras Greek
 a man who was saved from drowning by a dolphin Tarasque European
 a French monster
 This beast was said to have the head of a lion, scales, six clawed legs and the tail of a serpent. In some accounts, it was killed by St Martha near Marseilles.
Taraswin Hindu
 a name for Garuda as 'swift one'
Tarawg British
 a warrior at King Arthur's court
 He was killed by the boar Twrch Trwyth.

Taraxippos (see Taraxippus)

Taraxippus Greek

['horse-frightener'.Taraxippos]
the ghost of Glaucus which frightened the horses at the Isthmian Games

tarb uisge Scottish

the Scottish version of the water-bull

Tarbféis (see Tarbhfeis)

Tarbh Conraidh Irish

a bull owned by Cailleach Bheur

It was said that every cow within earshot calved when this bull bellowed.
The hag who owned the bull turned it into a rock when it swam across a river after a cow.

Tarbhfeis Irish

[Bull Feast.Tarbféis.Tarbhfeis]

a druidic king-choosing ceremony

A druid who had eaten the flesh and drunk the blood of a sacrificed bull was put into a trance by the other druids.
The man he dreamt about was selected as the high-king.

Tarbhfeis (see Tarbhfeis)

Tarchetius Roman

a king of Alba Longa

He ordered his daughter to mate with a phantom phallus of Vulcan seen in the flames of the fire but she made her servant-girl take her place. The children of this union were Romulus and Remus. When the twins grew up they killed Tarchetius.

(see also Ocesia.Rhea Silvia)

Tarchies Roman

an Etruscan sage

He taught Tarchon the arts of haruspicy.

Some accounts equate him with Tages.

Tarchon Roman

[Tarchon(t)is] a leader of the Etruscans

son of Tyrrhenus

He led his tribe out of Lydia to settle in Northern Italy and later helped Aeneas and his band of Trojans in their struggles with the Latins and Rutulians.

Some say that he was the ploughman who unearthed Tages.

Tarchonis (see Tarchon)

Tarchontis (see Tarchon)

Tardif European

the snail in Reynard the Fox

Taredd Welsh

[Taredd Wledig]

father of the man who was turned into the boar, Twrch Trwyth

Tarenyawagon North American

[Great Upholder.Ta-ren-ya-wa-gon.

Upholder of the Heavens]

The Iroquois spirit who came to earth as Hiawatha.

Tarhuis (see Teshub)

Tarhun (see Teshub)

Tarhunt (see Teshub)

Tarhuntas (see Teshub)

Tarhuyiwaku North American

an Iroquois giant supporting the sky

Tari African

a Swahili spirit who takes possession
of humans

Tari Pennu Indian

an evil goddess

daughter and consort of Boora Pennu Boora Pennu created Tari Pennu and mated with her to generate the other gods.

Taria Nui Pacific Islands

[Taringa Nui]

a Polynesian deity, guardian of fishermen (see also canoe gods)

Taringa Nui (see Taria Nui)

Tarini (see Tara<sup>1</sup>)

Taripaca South American

an aspect of Viracocha as 'judge'

Tark (see Teshub)

Tarksyia (see Dadhikra)

Tarku (see Teshub)

Tarn Siberian

an evil deity of the Ostyak

god of war and disease

In some cases, Tarn is depicted as female.

Tarnhelm Norse

the Helmet of Invisibility

(see also Tarnkappe)

Tarnhut (see Tarnkappe)

Tarnkappe Norse

[Cap of Invisibility.Hel-kappe.

Nebelkappe Tarnhut]

the red cap worn by some dwarfs

These tiny beings hid behind rocks and repeated the last words of anything they overheard, giving rise to dwarf-talk or echoes. The red cap protected them from the daylight which would otherwise have turned them to stone.

In Germanic stories, it was worn by Laurin when he battled against Dietrich von Bern and his followers when they came to rescue Kunhild whom Laurin had seized.

Some say that this cap was worn by Sigurd when he rode through the flames to rescue Brunhild.

It is sometimes described as the cloak of Alberich, king of the dwarfs or fairies. (see also Tarnhelm)

Tarnush Persian

a jinnée

Taro<sup>1</sup> Japanese

a warrior

He and Jiro abandoned their leader, the prince Yuriwaka, on an island and stole his magic bow and arrows. Taro persuaded Yuriwaka's wife that her husband was dead and she agreed to marry him. Yuriwaka escaped from the island and arrived in time to stop the wedding and, recovering his bow and arrows, killed Taro.

Taro<sup>2</sup> Korean

father of Chopstick

taroc (see tarot)

tarocco (see tarot)

tarogoloa Pacific Islands

an evil spirit which seduces humans

These beings, of either sex, are said to kill their victims by cutting their genitalia.

tarok (see tarot)

Tarol Norse

a giant

tarot cards

[taroc(co).tarok]

a pack of 78 cards used in divination and fortune-telling

Taronhiawagon North American

the supreme god of the Onodago
tribe

Tarpeia Roman

a vestal virgin

daughter of Spurius Tarpeius

She fell in love with Titus Tatius, leader of the attacking Sabines, and opened the gates of the Capitol to them on condition that they gave her what they wore on their left arms.
She was referring to their bracelets but the Sabines instead threw their shields (also worn on their left arms) and she was killed. Another version says she was killed by the Sabines when she tricked them into surrendering their arms.

Tarpuntatita-cuma South American

Incas who performed human sacrifice

Tarreq Inuit

[Moon Spirit.Tarquiup Inua]

one of the 3 spirits controlling the forces of nature

He is a hunter-spirit who controls fertility and animals.

Tarquin<sup>1</sup> (see Turkin)

Tarquin<sup>2</sup> (see Tarquinius)

Tarquin the Proud

(see Tarquinius Superbus)

Tarquinia Roman

sister of Tarquinius Superbus

mother of Brutus

Tarquinius Arruns<sup>1</sup> Roman
 [Ar(r)uns.Tarquin]
 son of Demaratus
 brother of Lucumo
 father of Collatinus

He was said to have encouraged the Gauls to attack Rome to avenge himself on Lucumo who had seduced his wife.

Tarquinius Arruns<sup>2</sup> Roman
 [Ar(r)uns.Tarquin]
 son or grandson of Tarquinius Priscus brother of Tarquinius Superbus husband of Tullia

He was killed by Tarquinius Superbus who then married Tullia, his widow.

Tarquinius Arruns<sup>3</sup> Roman
 [Ar(r)uns.Tarquin]
 son of Tarquinius Superbus
 brother of Sextus

Tarquinius Collatinus Roman [Collatinus.Egerius.Tarquin]
 a governor of Collatia son of Tarquinius Arruns husband of Lucretia

When the leaders of the Roman siege at Ardea paid surprise visits to their wives, Lucretia was judged to have behaved best in their absence. When she was raped by Sextus Tarquinius, Collatinus started the movement that led to the abolition of the monarchy. He became one of the first consuls of the new republic.

Tarquinius Priscus Roman [Lucumo.Tarquin]
 an Etruscan
 fifth king of Rome
 son of Demaratus
 brother of Arruns
 husband of Tanaquil

Some say that his wife was Gaea Cecilia but this may be another name for the same woman.

He became king of Rome after Ancus Marcius whose two sons had a greater right to the throne. He ruled for thirty-eight years and was killed either by the sons of Ancus or by shepherds employed by them, who axed Priscus to death. His wife ensured that her favourite, Servius Tullius, succeeded to the throne.

He was originally known as Lucumo.

Tarquinius, Sextus Roman [Tarquin]
 son of Tarquinius Superbus

His father sent him to Gabii posing as a refugee from Roman persecution and he became a commander of the army. Once in power, he killed the leaders of Gabii and handed over the town to the tender mercies of his despotic father.

While the Roman leaders were engaged at Ardea, he raped Lucretia, wife of Collatinus. The enraged citizens rose up in anger, the monarchy was overthrown and a republic instituted. Expelled from Rome, he returned to Gabii where he was killed.

Tarquinius Superbus Roman [Tarquin Superbus.Tarquin the Proud] seventh and last king of Rome son or grandson of

Tarquinius Priscus
 father of Arruns and Sextus

He killed his first wife and his brother Arruns and married his brother's wife, Tullia. At her instigation, he then killed her father, the sixth king Servius Tullius, and took the throne.

His son's rape of Lucretia incensed the citizens, leading to the abolition of the monarchy.

He fled to Caere and came back with an Etruscan force to attack Rome. He was driven off and his second attempt, led by Lars Porsena, was no more successful. He was wounded in his final battle with Rome, at Lake Regillus, and died some time later at Cumae.

Tarquiuip Inua (see Tarqeq)
tarroo-ushtey Manx
 a monster in the form of a water-bull

This beast is said to have the habit of pulling mortals under the water and drowning them.

(see also cabyll-ushtey.glaistyn)

Tarsan British
 brother of Bagdemagus
 He was killed when fighting for King Arthur.

Tarsenesyde British
 in some accounts, mother of Enid by Liconaus or Yniol

Tartach
 a demon said to take possession of humans

Tartak Hebrew
 a deity of the Avites

Tartaro European [Tataro]
 a Basque monster

In some accounts, Tartaro is a one-eyed giant, rather like a Cyclops, while in others he may appear as a hunter or shepherd or as some strange animal.

He owned a ring which could speak. When it spoke to the girl to whom he gave the ring, she cut off her finger and threw both finger and ring into a pond.

Tartaros (see Tartarus)
Tartarus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Hades.Tartaros]
 hell: the home of the dead

The underworld which was ruled by Hades was divided into three areas: the Asphodel Fields for the souls of heroes, Erebus where the palace of Hades and his queen was situated and Elysium, the home of the souls of the virtuous. Sometimes it is regarded as having two divisions, Tartarus, the lower, and Erebus, in which case Elysium is regarded as a separate place away to the west. Other stories use either name to refer to the underworld as a whole.

Entry was by two gates, one of ivory for false dreams and one of horn for true dreams.

Newly-arrived souls were judged by three judges, Aeaceus, Minos and Rhadamanthys.

Tartarus<sup>2</sup> Greek [Tartaros]
 a primaeval god of the underworld son of Aether by Gaea

Taru Mesopotamian
 [=Hittite Teshub]
 a Hattic weather-god husband of Wurusemu father of Hulla
 father of Telepinu, some say

Tarutius Roman
 husband of Acca Larentia

In the story that identifies Acca Larentia with the prostitute Fabula, he married her after she gave up prostitution, a wealthy woman.

Tarvaa Mongolian
 a shaman

When, as a youth, he became unconscious, it was thought he was dead. His body was left outside and the crows pecked his eyes out. His soul was refused entry to the land of the dead but was given great wisdom so that, when he recovered consciousness, he was blind but very wise.

Tarvos Roman
 [(Tarvos)T(r)igaranos.(Tarvos)
 T(r)igaranus.Tigeranos.Tigeranus]
 a Celtic bull-god in Gaul

He is depicted sometimes as a three-horned bull, sometimes as a bull with three cranes on his back.

Tascar
 a ruler of one of the 7 supposed firmaments

- Taschlikh Hebrew
[=Japanese Ohobarai]
a rite for the expiation of sin in which clothes or figures are ceremonially burnt
- tase Burmese
evil spirits, vengeful souls of the dead
These beings appear in various forms known as hminza, thabet and thaye. They can be scared off by very loud noises.
- Tasenetnofret Egyptian
a goddess
an aspect of Hathor consort of Haroeris
- Tash British
an evil deity in the works of C. S. Lewis
He is depicted as manlike, with four arms and the head of a bird of prey, and is regarded as a form of Ahriman.
- Tasha Irish
[Princess Tasha]
a maiden of the Otherworld
She was one of many said to be the wife of Finn mac Cool to whom she was given for military assistance rendered by Finn to her father.
- Tashan Persian
a creator-god
- Tashi Lama (see Panchen Lama)
- Tashi Toeringma Tibetan
[Tashitsheringma]
a goddess of the Himalayas
one of the 5 Long Life Sisters, some say This deity lives on the peak Gaurishankar, west of Everest.
- Tashitsheringma
(see Tashi Toeringma)
- Tashmetu (see Tasmetu)
- Tashmetum (see Tasmetu)
- Tashmish (see Tasmisu)
- Tashmishu (see Tasmisu)
- Tashmit (see Tasmetu)
- Tashmitum (see Tasmetu)
- Tasimis Mesopotamian
a Hittite goddess
consort of Teshub
- Tasis Celtic
a minor god
- Tasisnemetum Celtic
a grove sacred to Tasis
- Tasmetu Mesopotamian
[Tashmetu(m).Tashmit(um).Tasmetum.Tasmit] a Babylonian love-goddess daughter of Marduk and Sarpanitu consort of Nabu
- Tasmetum (see Tasmetu)
- Tasmisu Mesopotamian
[Tashmish(u).Tasmisu] a Hurrian deity
brother and attendant on Teshub
He was one of the three gods spat out by Kumarbi or, as others say, produced from the earth, and he helped his brother, Teshub, in his fight with the demon Illuyankas. The other two were Aranzakh and Teshub.
- Tasmisus (see Tasmisu)
- Tasmit (see Tasmetu)
- tasoom North American
the soul, in the lore of the Cheyenne
- Tasso, Torquato Italian (1544-95)
an Italian poet
He wrote about the exploits of Charlemagne and his paladins, including the book Jerusalem Delivered.
- Tastar (see Tvashtri)
- Tat (see Ded.Thoth)
- Tata<sup>1</sup> Siberian progenitor of the Tartars and keeper of the Tree of Life
- Tata<sup>2</sup> (see Nata.Xiuhtecuhtli)
- tatabu Pacific Islands
a fetish in which a spirit is said to be trapped
- tatari Japanese
a curse laid on an individual by a deity or a spirit
- tatari-ishi Japanese
a stone said to bring bad luck or even death
- Tataro (see Tartaro)
- Tate North American
a creator-god and wind-god of the Sioux Indians
- Tate Hautse Kupuri Central American
a rain-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Tate Kyewimoka Central American
a rain-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Tate Naaliwahi Central American
a rain-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Tate Oteganaka Central American
a corn-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Tate Rapawiyema Central American
a rain-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Tate-Vali Central American
a fire-god of the Huichol Indians
- Tate Velia Vimali Central American
a sun-goddess of the Huichol Indians
- Taten (see Tatenen)
- Tatenen Egyptian
[Tanen.Taten.Tatjenen.Tatumen.Tatunen.Ten(en)]
a primaevial vegetation god
an androgynous aspect of Ptah
This deity was regarded as the personification of the dead king's phallus and guardian of the solar bark.
He is depicted as bearded with a crown of ram's horns.
- Tathagata Buddhist
[Buddha-nature.Dharma-body:
=Chinese Ju-lai.=Japanese Nyorai] a name for the Buddha as one who follows the path of his ancestors (see also Sugata)
- Tathatavasita Buddhist
a minor goddess
one of the vasitas
- Tathlum Irish
the magic stone flung from a catapult by Lugh to kill Balor at the Second Battle of Moytura
- Tatia Roman
first wife of Numa Pompilius
- Tatius Roman
a Sabine king
He is said to have captured the Capitol following the rape of the Sabine women and ruled jointly with Romulus.
- Tatjenen (see Tatenen)
- Tatosi Central American
a fire-god of the Huichol Indians
- Tatpurusa (see Tatpurusha)
- Tatpurusha Hindu
[Tatpurusa]
one of 5 aspects of Shiva known as Pancabrahma
- Tat'qahicnin Siberian
a Koryak vegetation-god
- Tatsu Japanese
a sign (dragon) of the Zodiac
- Tatsuta-hiko Japanese
a minor wind-god
- Tatsuta-hime Japanese
a minor wind-goddess
- Tatu-Karaia South American
a legendary race of people
It was believed that these people lived underground and were killed, when they came out of their dwellings, by the Xingu.
- Tatumen (see Tatenen)
- Tatunen (see Tatenen)
- Tatzelwurm European
a mythical dragon in the Alps
- Tatzitzete South American
a supreme god of the Chaco tribe of Colombia father of Carabagi
- Tau (see Tayau)
- Tau Titi New Zealand
son of Miru
- Tau-uta Pacific Islands
a Tahitian deity

taua Pacific Islands
evil spirits which may appear as animals or as monsters made of various animal parts

Taua Fatuna Pacific Islands
offspring of Limu, god of the dead

Taueret (see Tauret)

Tauctona African
the first man, in the lore of Botswana

He lived in the cave known as Lowe in the centre of the country.

Tauira-Ahua Pacific Islands
son of Tura and Turakihau

Taulat British
a knight-killer

He killed a knight at King Arthur's court and threatened to return each year to kill another. Jaufré was ordered to follow him and killed him in single combat.

Taulurd British
a giant in Cornwall
brother of Taulus

He ravaged the lands of earl Fergus until he was killed by Morholt.

Taulus British [Tállaus]
a giant in Cornwall
brother of Taulurd

Taumata-Atua Pacific Islands
a vegetation god

Tauni-kapi-kapi East Indian
a man-eating giant of New Guinea

He was killed by a man and his mother who climbed a beanstalk to his home in the sky.

Taunggyi-shin (see Hnit-ma-dawgyi)

Taunting of Loki (see Aegisdrekka)

Taurean West Indian
a Haitian voodoo spirit

Tauret Egyptian
[Apet.Beset.Epet.Heret.Opet.Rer(et).Sa. Ta-urat.Ta-uret.Ta-urt.Tao(e)uris. Ta(o)urt.Tawer(e)t.T(h)aueret.Thoeris. Thouart.Thoueret.Tie.Touart.Tueret: =Greek Athena.Thoueris] a hippopotamus-goddess, goddess of childbirth wife of Bes or Set

Depicted as having the head of a hippopotamus, the legs of a lion and the tail of a crocodile, her fearsome appearance drove off evil spirits at the birth of a child.

In later stories, Horus won her from Seb and she was put in charge of souls returning from the underworld for rebirth.

She was later assimilated into Hathor.

Taurica (see Artemis)

taurobolium Roman [criobolium]
the sacrificial slaughter of bulls to Mithras or Cybele when devotees bathed in the blood of the slaughtered animals

Tauropolos<sup>1</sup> Greek
a name for Artemis as a fertility-goddess associated with bulls

Tauropolos<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Dionysus and Ariadne

Taurt (see Tauret)

Taurua Pacific Islands
daughter of Hua'atua

Taurus
[=Arab Thaur]
the second symbol of the Zodiac,
the bull

Taurvi Persian
a demon opposing Ameretat

Taut Egyptian
a name of the young Horus

Tautabaoth
a Gnostic angel with a bear's head

Tauthe Mesopotamian
a demon of chaos
the Syrian version of Tiamat consort of Apason
mother of Lache, Lachos and Moynis

Tautohito New Zealand
a Maori sorcerer

He and Puarata owned a magic head that killed all who came near. Hakawau overcame his spells by superior magic and killed him and all his followers.

Tavan Thai
a demon

The fifth incarnation of Vishnu, in the Indian version, was Vamana the dwarf who was sent to deal with the king, Bali. In the Thai version, Vamana is an incarnation of Narayana who is sent to defeat the demon Tavan.

Tavatimsa Hindu
one of the lower regions of heaven,
ruled by Sakka

It was this heaven that the Buddha ascended to when he passed on his teachings to his mother.

Taverik (see Tayau)

Tavi-ayik (see Virava)

Tavola Ritonda Italian
a 14th c book of Arthurian legends

Tawa North American
a creator-god and sun-god of the Pueblo Indians

Tawa Makoce North American
a Sioux chief father of Makhta

His three sons were all killed in battles with their enemies, the Crow, but his daughter avenged their deaths in a later battle.

Tawadeintha Burmese
[=Siamese Taweda]
the land of the nats

Tawals Polish
a field-god

Tawara Toda (see Hidesato)

Taweda Siamese
the Siamese version of Tawadeintha

Tawenduare South American
a culture-hero of the Tupi Indians
brother of Arikute

In one version, he quarrelled with his brother and caused a flood when he stamped his foot. They saved themselves and their families by taking to the trees.

An alternative story regards him as god of the day in permanent conflict with Arikute, god of the night.

Taweret (see Tauret)

Tawert (see Tauret)

Taweskare (see Tawiscara)

Tawhaki New Zealand
[Tahaki:=Papuan Sido]

a semi-divine culture-hero a Maori thunder-god son of Hema and Urutonga brother of Kariki husband of Hine Piripiri father of Matuku, Tahiti Tokerau and Wahiora
father of Arahuta by Tangotango

He led souls across the rainbow bridge to meet their ancestors while his son, Rata, followed in his canoe.

When he married Hine Piripiri, her relatives tried to kill Tawhaki but he drove them off with lightning flashes and drowned them in a heavy rainstorm. Their father, Hema, had been killed by the ponaturi and these flying demons had taken over his house. Tawhaki and Kariki sealed the house so that the demons could see no light and, when dawn came, Tawhaki opened the door and the demons perished in the light of the sun. Only two, Kanae and Tonga-Hiti, escaped.

At the end of his life on earth, he climbed to heaven up a vine lowered by his grandmother, Whaitiri. In the sixth heaven, Nga Atua, he was reunited with Tangotango, a nymph who had seduced him, and he lived with her and their daughter, Arahuta, thereafter.

In some accounts he is the grandfather of Rata.

Tawheta New Zealand

a Maori chief brother of Taka-Rita father of Pou Matangatanga

His sister, Taka-Rita, was killed by her husband, Uenuku, for sleeping with two other men and Tawheta exacted vengeance by killing Uenuku's five sons by his first wife. Uenuku retaliated by attacking Tawheta's compound, killing many of his men, and seizing his daughter, Pou Matangatanga, whom he married. Tawheta escaped on that occasion and hid in the forest but Uenuku later found his hiding place and Tawheta and all his men were killed in the final battle, Ra Torua.

Tawhiri New Zealand

[Tawhiri-ma-tea]
a Maori storm-god
son of Rangi and Papa
brother of Haumea, Ruauumoko, Rongo, Tane, Tangaroa and Tu
father of Ao-Kahiwahiwa and many others

When the children of Rangi and Papa rebelled, he sided with his father and caused great storms. Only his brother, Tu-matauenga, stood up to his onslaughts.

Tawiscana *(see Tawiscara)Tawiscara North American

[Dark One. 'flint'. Hahgwehdaetgah.
Taweskare. Tawiscana. Tawiscaron.
Tawiskala. Tawiskara. Tawiskaron.
Tawiskava. Tehotennhiaron:=Abnaki
Malsum:=Algonquin Chibiabos]
an evil spirit of the Huron Indians grandson of the moon son of Wind-Ruler and Breath-of-Wind
twin brother of Ioskeha

He fought with his twin brother while still in their mother's womb and she died when they were born. From then on they fought for supremacy and eventually Ioskeha prevailed, becoming the supreme god of the Iroquois while Tawiscara was banished to the underworld.

(see also Othagwenda. Tawiscaron)

Tawiscaron North American

[Tawiskaron]
an Iroquois god
brother of Oterongtongnia

In some accounts, this being is the same as Tawiscara but others give them as separate, with Tawiscaron being a demon who collected beasts in the sky and occasionally allowed them back to earth to attack mortals.

Tawiskala *(see Tawiscara)Tawiskara *(see Tawiscara)Tawiskava *(see Tawiscara)Tawiskaron *(see Tawiscaron)tawlbwrdd British

a games board
This board, used for a game like chess, was made of gold and had silver pieces which could move themselves. It became one of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin.

Tawrat *(see Tawrah)Ta'xet North American

a god of death of the Haida Indians

taxims European

revenants with rotting, stinking bodies

taxus Greek

the yew, a sacred tree

Ta'yan Siberian

a supreme deity of the Koryak people consort of Lapna'ut father of Ya'halan

Tayau Central American

[Tau. Taverik]
a sun-god of the Huichol Indians

Tayau Sakaimoka Central American

a sun-god of the Huichol Indians, a helper of Tayau

Taygete Greek

a nymph of Mount Taygetus one of the Pleiades daughter of Atlas

mother of Lacedaemon by Zeus

She was changed into a doe by Artemis to escape the advances of Zeus.

In some accounts, she was the Ceryneian Hind captured by Heracles as this third Labour.

Taymus Muslim

father of Zuleikha

Tazh Persian

with Tazhak, one of the first pair of mortals, offspring of Frava and Fravakain

This couple became the progenitors of the Arabs while another pair, Haoshyanga and Guzhak, became the progenitors of the Iranians.

Tazhak *(see Tazh)Tcenés North American

a hero of the Kato Indians

He rescued the child, Nagaitco, from the flood and she became the ancestor of the tribe.

Tchakabech North American

a dwarf

The Algonquians say that Tchakabech climbed up a tree to escape the fate that had befallen his parents, who had been eaten by a bear, and found himself in heaven. He returned to earth and took his sister up to heaven where he is said to have caught the sun and tied it up, causing darkness to envelope the earth. Light was not restored until the sun was released by a mouse who ate through the ropes.

Tchue African

a creator-deity of the Bushman people
He was said to take the form of an animal or of a fruit which appeared at sunrise and died at sunset.

Tcikapis North American

a culture-hero of the tribes of the north-east

It is said that he was born when his sister removed him from the womb of his mother who, together with his father, had been killed by bears. Although only a tiny dwarf, he was immensely strong and used trees as arrows.

Tchile *(see Yaboutchilo)Tchionatulander

(see Schionatulander)

Tcochkut *(see Tcuchkuti)Tcolawitze North American

a Hopi fire-spirit

Tchom *(see Tehom)Tchue African

the founder-hero of the Bushman

He had the power to change into any form, including trees and animals, and it was he who gave man the gift of fire.

Tcuchkuti North American

[Tcochkut]
a benevolent Hopi spirit

Te Aa-tu-roa New Zealand

a goddess of the day
daughter of Te Kore

Te Aka Ia Roe Pacific Islands

a creator god of the Hervey islanders
He is envisaged as a huge worm. The world is seen as a coconut, the root of which is inhabited by three such beings. Te Aka Ia Roe lives at the top.

(see also Te Manava Roa.

Te Tanga Engae)

Te-ao Pacific Islands

a Polynesian deity

son of Po

father of Ao-Marama

Te Ariki-n-Tarawa Pacific Islands

son of Taburimai

husband of Nei Te-reere

father of Kirata-n-te-rerei

According to the Gilbert Islanders, he climbed the sacred tree to heaven, married the tree-goddess Te-reere and they became the ancestors of the people.

Te Ata New Zealand

a goddess of the dawn
daughter of Te Kore

Te Atua Wera New Zealand

[The Fiery God]

a Maori deity

Te Bo ma Te Maki Pacific Islands

the primordial substance from which the universe was made by Nareau.

Te Bongo Ro Pacific Islands

the primordial darkness

Te Enua Te Ki Pacific Islands

the home of Vari Ma Te Takere and her children at the bottom of the world coconut where they live in total silence

Te Hui (see Chu-ti Ho-shang)Te Ikawai Pacific Islands

a god of the Gilbert Islands son of Na Atibu and Nei Teukez

Te-io-Ora (see Motoro)Te Kanawa New Zealand

a Maori hunter who was said to have seen fairies in the forest

Te Kikinto Pacific Islands

a name of Nareau the Younger as a trickster-god of the Gilbert Islands

Te Kore New Zealand

the primeval void: a creator-god of the Maori

He had many aspects such as Tè Kore-tua-nia, Tè Kore-tua-rua, Tè Kore-tua-tahi, Tè Kore-tua-para, Tè Kore whiwhia, Tè Kore-rawea, and Tè Kore-tamaua referring to various properties of Tè Kore as the void and was the begetter of many deities such as Tè Ao-tu-roa, Tè Ata, Tè-Po and Whai-tua.

Te Maharo Pacific Islands

a Tahitian deity

Te Manava Roa Pacific Islands

a creator god of the Hervey islanders He is envisaged as a huge worm. The world is seen as a coconut the root of which is inhabited by three such beings. Tè Manava Roa lives at the bottom. (see also Tà Aka Ia Roe. Tè Tanga Engae)

Te Mangai (see Wiremu Ratana)Te More-tu New Zealand

a deity, space personified father of Tangaroa

Te-nadzuchi Japanese

wife of Ashi-nadzuchi mother of Inada-hime

Te Nao Pacific Islands

a sea-god of the Gilbert Islands son of Na Atibu and Nei Teukez

Te Parai Tea Pacific Islands

[The Hollow Grey Rocks]

the home of Tumuteanaoa below the home of Tango in the world coconut

Te Po New Zealand

a primeval deity, god of night

son of Te Kore

Like his father, Te Po had many aspects – Tè Po-whawha, Tè Po-teki, Tè Po-teroa, etc.

Te Putahi Nui Pacific Islands

a place in Rangì Tuarea, the home of the star-god Rehua

Te Rangì Whakaputa (see Whakaputa)Te Reinga (see Reinga)Te Rongo (see Rongo)Te Tanga Engae Pacific Islands

a creator god of the Hervey islanders

He is envisaged as a huge worm. The world is seen as a coconut the root of which is inhabited by three such beings. Tè Tanga Engae lives in the middle. (see also Tè Aka Ia Roe. Tè Manava Roa)

Te Toi-o-nga Rangì Pacific Islands

the highest heaven

Te Tumu Pacific Islands

[Kiho Tumu:=Tahitian Atea:

=New Zealand Rangì]

a supreme god in the Society Islands

As Kiho, he is equated in some accounts with the Maori god Io.

Te Tuna Pacific Islands

[Tuna(roa)]

a monster in the form of an eel

He seduced Hina when she came to earth to bathe.

In another version, he seduced a girl named Ina Moe-Aitu and then ordered her to cut off his head and bury it. The first coconut tree grew from the buried head.

Some say that it was Raukura, the wife of Maui, who was seduced and the angry god chopped Tè Tuna into pieces from which came not only the coconut palm but many species of fish.

Tea Irish

[Tea-Tephi]

an eastern princess

wife of Eremon

In some accounts, she is said to have been the daughter of the Biblical Zedekiah and to have brought the Stone of Destiny to Ireland.

tea plant Buddhist

a plant said to be grown from an eyelid of Bodhidharma

Tea-Tephi (see Tea)Teach Dhionn (see Tech Duinn)Teach Duinn (see Tech Duinn)Teach-na-deinedh Irish

a rite of purification by fire

Teacher of the World

(see Pachayachachic)

teakettle North American

a fabulous animal

Teamhair (see Tara<sup>3</sup>)Teamhair Luachra Irish

[Catair Curoi.Cathair Chon Roi]

the fortress of Curoi, in some accounts

It was said that Curoi uttered a chant each night, causing the building to revolve so that its entrance could never be found after sunset.

Teamhair na Riogh (see Tara<sup>3</sup>)Teanoi Pacific Islands

son of Bakoa and Nei Nguriki

The first children of Bakoa were the fishes. Next came the human, called Taburimai, and the shark, Teanoi. When Teanoi learned that the fishes planned to kill Taburimai, he carried him on his back to the safety of Samoa. He was rewarded by being made a star in the sky.

tearai Japanese

a basin in a shrine

This vessel is used in purification rites on entering the shrine.

tears of Eos Greek

dew

The dew was regarded as the tearshed by Eos over the death of her son Memnon.

Teatlahuiani Central American

a god of intoxication

one of the Centzon Totochtin

A sacrifice made to this god would ensure that the drinker did not die from drowning when drunk.

tebo African

[plur=matebo]

an evil spirit of the Bakongo

This spirit appears in the form of an ugly, wrinkled dwarf.

Teacacatl Central American

one of the leaders of the Aztecs when they left their homeland, Aztlan

Tecciztecatl Central American

[Metzli.Mex(i)tli]

a moon-god of the Aztecs

son of Tlaloc, some say

He is said to have cremated himself and the moon represents his heart.

He is depicted as an old man carrying a white shell.

(see also Fifth Sun)

Tech Duinn Irish

[Teach Dhionn.Teach Duinn]

the island home of Donn

home of the dead

This land is envisaged as an island to the south-west of Ireland.

Techu (see Thoth)

Tecmessa Greek [Tekmessa]

daughter of Teleutas or Teuthras mother of Eurysaces by Ajax

When Ajax raided her father's kingdom during the Trojan War, her father was killed and she was carried off as a prize by Ajax.

Tecolotl Central American
a ruler of the underworld in the form of an owl

Tecpaltzin Central American
an elder of the Aztecs

It was he who advised the Aztecs to move from their original homeland, which was somewhere north of the Colorado River, to Mexico.

Tecpatl Central American
the eighteenth of the 20 days of the Aztec month

Symbolising the stone knife (tecpatl) and north, the day was governed by Tezcatlipoca.

Tectamus Greek
father of Asterius, king of Crete

Tecumbalam Central American
a huge bird in Mayan lore

In one of the early attempts to create humans, the gods Tepeu and Gucamatz carved them from wood. When they proved unsuccessful, the gods sent four huge birds to destroy them. The others were known as Camazotz, Cotzbalam and Xecotcovach.

Teczistecatl Central American
a moon-goddess

Teelget North American [Delge(e)thTheelgeth]
a monster of the Navaho Indians in the form of a flesh-eating horned beast

Teelget lived in the middle of a huge plain with no cover so a ground-rat burrowed under the ground to a point beneath where the monster was standing. Nayenezgani then crawled along the tunnel and shot the beast from below.

Tefenet (see Tefnut)

Tefnut Egyptian
[Ma(yet).Tefenet.The Spitter]
a rain-goddess
daughter of Atum (Ra) or Khepra wife and sister of Shu mother of Geb and Nut

She and her brother Shu were created when Ra span on the ground.

In some accounts, she went into the desert as a lynx and was recovered by Shu and Thoth. Some say that she married Thoth.

She is depicted as having a lion's head and wearing a solar disc or sometimes as a snake.

Tegau Efron (see Tegau Eufron)

Tegau Eufron Welsh
[Tegau Efron.Tegau Eurfon]
in Welsh accounts, wife of Caradoc

Briefbas and mother of Meuric
She owned a famous carving knife, cup and mantle, the last of which is sometimes in the list of the Thirteen Treasures collected by Merlin.

In other versions, Caradoc's wife is Guimer.

Tegau Eurfon (see Tegau Eufron)

Tegid Foel (see Tegid Voel)

Tegid Voel Welsh
[Tegid Foel]
a noble

husband of Ceridwen
father of Avagddu, Creirwy and Morvran
Some versions regard him as a water-god; in other accounts 'he' is defined as a water-goddess.

Tegner (see Bishop Tegner)

tego African
a Swahili amulet worn to prevent a wife's adultery

Tego'o North American
a companion of Pelintsiek when he came to California from the north

Tegyrius Greek
a king of Thrace

Teharon (see Ioskeha)

Teharonhiawagon (see Ioskeha)

Tehenut Egyptian
[African]
an aspect of Neith, said to have originated in the mountains of the moon

Tehom<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
[Tehom]
the primaeval waters

Tehom<sup>2</sup> (see Tiamat)

Tehotennhiaron (see Tawiscara)

Tehuehuetl Central American
a large stone used in acts of penitence

Tehuti (see Tahuti)

Teicauhtzin Central American
an Aztec war-god

Teicu Central American
an Aztec goddess

sister of Ticapan, Tlaco and Xocutin
These four sisters are regarded as four aspects of Tlazolteotl as a witch.

Teimatini (see Tezcatlipoca)

Teiresias<sup>1</sup> Greek [Tire(i)sias]
a Theban prophet son of Evers and Chariclo father of Manto

He was said to combine male and female characteristics and lived for seven generations.

When he saw two snakes mating, he struck them with a stick, killing the female, and became a woman. When this happened again, he struck the male and became a man again and was thus able to settle an argument between Zeus and Hera by saying that women got nine times more pleasure from sexual intercourse than did men. In this story, it was the angry Hera who blinded him and Zeus who gave him the power of second sight.

In another version, he happened to see Athena when she was bathing so she blinded him but gave him the gift of second sight in compensation and decreed that he should live seven times longer than the normal span.

Others say that he was blinded by Aphrodite when, asked to judge her beauty against that of the three Graces, he awarded the prize to Cale.

Among other things, he foretold the fate of Narcissus and revealed to Jocasta the news that she had married her own son, Oedipus.

He died as a result of drinking at the poisoned spring of Telphusa when he accompanied the Thebans who, on his advice, evacuated the city when it was attacked by the Epigoni.

Other accounts say that he died when he was being taken to Delphi after being captured by the Epigoni, or at Colophon where he went with his daughter, Manto.

It was said that he continued to make prophecies in Hades even after his death.

Teiresis<sup>2</sup> British
a poem by Tennyson

Teirgwaedd Welsh
[Teirgwed]

father of Menw

Teirgwed (see Teirgwaedd)

Teirnyon Welsh
[Teyrnon.Tiernon.Turf Liant]

a farmer, Lord of Gwent Watching a mare foal, he saw a clawed hand appear through the window and grab the young colt. He cut off the hand with his sword and went out of the stable expecting to find a dragon. He saw nothing but found a baby abandoned on the doorstep when he re-entered the stable. He and his wife reared the baby as their own, calling him Gwri. When they discovered that he was the son of Pwyll and Rhiannon they returned him to his parents who called him Pryderi.

Teirtu Welsh
owner of a harp that could play itself Culhwch was required by Ysbaddaden to get this harp as part of his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Some equate Teirtu with the Dagda, owner of such a harp.

Teisbas Armenian
a god

Teishakuten Japanese
a guardian deity
one of the 28 Nijuhachi-Bushu

Teisiphone (see Tisiphone)

Teite Irish
sister of Fothadh Canainne
When her brother said that he would drink at Finn mac Cool's feast only in the presence of the dead, Finn killed both Teite and her husband to meet this condition.

Teithion Welsh
father of Madawg

Teiwa (see Tyr)

Tejosnisa Buddhist
a god

Tekkei Japanese
a sennin who blew his own soul into the heavens

Tekmessa (see Tecmessa)
tekoteko New Zealand
a wooden figure

These carved figures, which depict animals, demons and men, are erected at the entrance to Maori villages and are said to protect the people with their magical powers.

Telamon Greek
king of Salamis
son of Aeacus and Endeis
brother of Peleus
half-brother of Phocus
husband of Glauce and Periboea father of Ajax by Periboea father of Teucer by Hesione

He was one of the party hunting the Calydonian boar and sailed with the Argonauts. He also sailed with Heracles in his attack on Troy and, for his help, was given Hesione, Laomedon's sister, as a prize, fathering Teucer on her.

He and Peleus killed their half-brother Phocus and were exiled by their father, Telamon being sent to Salamis. Here he married the king's daughter, Glauce, and himself became king. He later married Periboea and was the father by her of Ajax the Great.

Some say that he was killed when helping Heracles in his war against Elis.

Sculptured male figures used as supporting columns are called telamones.

Telchins (see Telchines)

Telchines Greek [Telchins]
the original inhabitants of Rhodes or, some say, Crete children of Thalassa, some say

These people, who were said to be skilled both in magic and in the arts of metalwork, abandoned the island before Deucalion's flood. They were said to use their magic powers for evil purposes and Zeus came to hate them. Some say that Zeus, or Poseidon, drowned them all in the flood but others say that they were expelled by the sons of Helius and Rhodes.

In some accounts they are described as being like dogs with fins instead of feet and are said to have raised the infant Poseidon.

Tele Pacific Islands
the first man, in Samoan lore (see also Atu.Tutu<sup>2</sup>)

Teledamus Greek
son of Agamemnon by Cassandra
twin brother of Pelops

Agamemnon took Cassandra and her two sons back to Greece after the fall of Troy. All four were killed by Clytemnestra and her lover, Aegisthus.

Teledice Greek
a nymph
mother of Apis by Phoroneus

Telegonia Greek
one of the poems in the Epic Cycle, telling the story of Telegonus

Telegonos (see Telegonus)

Telegonus<sup>1</sup> Greek [Telegonos]
son of Odysseus and Circe brother of Agrius and Latinus father of Italus by Penelope
In some stories he killed Odysseus not knowing that he was killing his father. He then took Penelope and Telemachus, wife and son of Odysseus, back to Aeaea.

He is said to have married Penelope and Telemachus married Circe.
(see also Telemachus)

Telegonus<sup>2</sup> Greek
[Telegonos]
a king of Egypt

He married Io after she was restored to human form from a white cow.

Telegonus<sup>3</sup> Greek
[Telegonos]
son of Proteus

When he challenged Heracles to a wrestling match he was killed.

Teleia Greek
a name for Hera as 'matron'

Teleios (see Talaios)
Telemachos Greek [Telemakhos]
son of Odysseus and Penelope

He was a baby when the Trojan War broke out and his father feigned madness to escape military service, sowing his fields with salt. Palamede put the infant Telemachus in front of the plough and Odysseus quickly demonstrated that he was not mad.

Twenty years later he set out to find his father who had not returned from Troy. He travelled to Pylos to consult Nestor who knew nothing and then to Sparta only to find that Menelaus could tell him only that his father was held captive on an island by Calypso. When Odysseus did finally get home after all his wanderings, Telemachus helped him in the killing of the many suitors who had been pestering his mother, Penelope, for many years and they rounded up all the servants who had been unfaithful to Odysseus and hanged them.

In another story, Telegonus, a son of Odysseus by Circe, killed Odysseus and took Penelope to Aeaea where he married her. Telemachus, in this version, married Circe, on whom he fathered Latinus, while others say that he married Nausicaa who bore him a son, Perseptolis. Still others say that he married Polycaste.

(see also Telegonus<sup>1</sup>)

Telemakhos (see Telemachus)

Telemus Greek
a prophet
son of Eurymus

He foretold that Polyphemus would be blinded by Odysseus.

Teleon Greek
father of Butes and Erechtheus by Zeuxippe, in some accounts

Teleos Greek
a name for Zeus as guardian of the family

Telephassa Greek
wife of Agenor

Telipinu
mother of Cadmus, Cilix, Phineus, Phoenix, Thasus and a daughter, Europa

Her daughter was abducted by Zeus in the form of a bull. Telephassa died during the long search for her missing daughter.

Telephus Greek

a king of Teuthrania son of Heracles and Auge husband of Argiope, Astyoche or Laodice

father of Euryppylus by Astyoche

He was abandoned as a baby, found by shepherds, suckled by a deer and later found his mother who was then queen of Mysia. He became king on the death of her husband, Teuthras.

In some accounts, he was given Auge, the wife or adopted daughter of Teuthras, as a wife but they discovered their relationship in time to avoid marriage. He then married Argiope, the real daughter of Teuthras or, in some accounts, Astyoche or Laodice.

He killed Thersander but was wounded by Achilles when the Greeks, en route to Troy, mistakenly landed in Mysia. He was cured with the rust from the spear of Achilles and set the fleet on its proper course.

Telepinu (see Telipinu)

Telepinus (see Telipinu)

Telepuna (see Telipinu)

telesm (see talisman)

Telesphorus Greek

[Acesius.Aceso]

a child-god, assistant to Asclepius

Telethusa Greek

wife of Ligdus

mother of Iphis

She raised her daughter as a boy because her husband had ordered that any female children should be abandoned.

Teleutas Greek

a king of Phrygia

father of Tecmessa, some say

In some accounts, Tecmessa was the daughter of Teuthras.

teleze-awa Russian

[=Moravian kov-ava]

a Chermis tutelary spirit, guardian of the moon

Teli Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer

Teliko African

a wind-god of the Bambara people

He was killed by Faro who smashed him against the side of a mountain.

Telipinu Hittite

[Telepinu(s).Telepuna]

a fertility-god and god of agriculture
son of Taru or Teshub

Once, when he disappeared wearing his boots on the wrong feet, the earth became desolate and all things started to die off. He was stung by a bee sent by Hannahanna to find him but that only further angered him and caused him to send major floods. When Kamrusepa, the goddess of magic, dispelled his anger, or cured his illness, some say, he returned to his palace and the earth was saved.

In some accounts, Telipinu, as son of Teshub, retrieved the god's eyes and heart from the monster, Illuyankas, when he married the monster's daughter.

Teljavelik Baltic

[Telyaveli(k)]

a Lithuanian creator-god and smith-god

telkpenu African

a sand-diviner of Liberia

Tellumo Roman

an ancient earth-god

consort of Tellus

(see also Tellurus.Tellus)

Tellurus Roman

an ancient earth-god

consort of Tellus

(see also Tellumo.Tellus)

Tellus Roman

[Terra (Mater)Tellus Mater

:=German Nerthus:=Greek Gaea]

a primeval earth-goddess

consort of Coelus, Tellumo or Tellurus

She was superseded by Ceres.

Tellus Mater (see Tellus)

Telphusa Greek

[Tilphus(s)a]

a spring-nymph of Boeotia

Apollo asked advice on founding his own oracle and she deliberately sent him to face the Python. On his return, the god covered her spring with rocks. The water of this spring later poisoned the seer, Teiresias.

Telpochtli Central American

a name for Tezcatlipoca as

Youthful Warrior

Telque-huecuve South American

a cuttlefish in the lore of the Araucanians

This fearsome beast has a hoof on the end of each tentacle. (see also Manta)

Telramund (see Frederick)

Telta (see Taltiu)

Telyaveli (see Teljavelik)

Telyavelik (see Teljavelik)

Tem (see Atum)

Temair (see Tara<sup>3</sup>)

temalacatl Central American

a stone to which a prisoner could be tethered

A prisoner tied to this 'spindle-stone' could fight for his life against his captors and, if he managed to defeat seven, was set free. Failure resulted in sacrificial death.

Temaukel South American

the supreme god of the Ona Indians of Tierra del Fuego

Temazcalteci Central American

an Aztec goddess of the baths

a name for Cihuacoatl as

'grandmother of the baths'

In some accounts, she is equated with Tlazoteotl.

Tembo African

a legendary king of the Baganda

grandson of Kimera

His mother told Tembo that his father had been killed by his grandfather, Kimera, and Tembo took the opportunity, when Kimera was alone, to kill him with his club. He later went mad but was cured by the sacrifice of a human being.

Temenus<sup>1</sup> Greek

a king of Argos

son of Aristomachus

brother of Aristodemus

and Cresphontes

father of Archielaus, Creisus, Hyrnetho and Perdiccas

He was a descendant of Heracles who led an attack on the Peloponnese by the Heraclidae. The attackers defeated Tisamenus and shared the country, Temenus taking Argos.

When his daughter Hyrnetho married Deiphontes, Temenus showed that he preferred his son-in-law to his own sons, who then killed him.

Temenus<sup>2</sup> Greek

a king of Stymphalus

son of Pelasgus

Temenus was said to have reared the goddess Hera.

Temenus<sup>3</sup> Greek

son of Phegeus

brother of Arsinoe and Axion

His sister, Arsinoe, married Alcmaeon and, when he abandoned her, Temenus, with his brother and father, killed him.

temenus<sup>4</sup> Greek

a sacred enclosure

Temgu (see Tengu)

Temioua South American

an ancestral heroine of the Tupi

mother of Pinon

Fleeing from an unwanted marriage, she produced two eggs. From one of these emerged the boy Pinon, from the other a girl. The two children became constellations, he Orion, she the Pleiades.

Timmangu Japanese
the name for Tenjin in some accounts (see also Michizane Sugawara)

Tempe Greek
a most beautiful valley in Thessaly

It was here, between Mount Osso and Olympus, that Apollo was purified after killing the Python.

tempestor [tempestry]
a witch or wizard said to cause storms

tempestry (see tempestor)

Templars British
the knights helping Titurel to guard the Holy Grail in the temple on Mount Salvat (see also Templeise)

Temple of Heaven (see T'ien T'ang)

Temple of the Grail British
the temple in which the Holy Grail was kept

This temple was built on Mount Salvat by Titurel, the knight who first found the Holy Grail. He guarded it day and night during his lifetime, a duty taken over by his son, Amfortas, when Titurel died. (see also Templars)

Temple of the High Head
(see E-Sagila)

Temple of the Stars (see Glastonbury Zodiac)

Templeise British
in some accounts, the knights who acted as guardians of the Holy Grail (see also Templars)

Tempon Telon East Indian
[Tempon Telon:=Greek Charon:
=Egyptian Turnface:=Etruscan Charun: =Mesopotamian Arad Ea]

a sangiang
brother of Lilang

This demi-god's function is to conduct souls to the land of the dead.

Tempulcagne South American
the Araucanian angel of death

Tempun Telon (see Tempon Telon)

temu<sup>1</sup> (see Abominable Snowman)

Temu<sup>2</sup> (see Atum)

Temuir (see Tara<sup>3</sup>)

Ten<sup>1</sup> Japanese [=Hindu deva:=Tibetan lha]
a title given to a god: heaven: paradise

Ten<sup>2</sup> Japanese
a sky-god (see T'ien)

Ten<sup>3</sup> (see Tatenen)

Ten Ahau Central American
the tenth day of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day sinners were sent to hell.
(see also Ahau)

Ten Corn Maidens North American [Corn Maidens]

corn spirits in the lore of the Zuni
These beings were underworld spirits who came to the upper world only to find themselves turned into mortals and locked up by witches. Their absence caused the crops to fail but fertility was restored when the maidens were rescued by Payatami.

Another version of this story says that these ten deities followed the Ashiwi from the underworld and were given the seeds of maize and squash by two witches. They were found by the twin gods, Kowwituma and Watsusii, who took them to perform their dance in front of the tribes but they were frightened by Payatami and ran away, causing a great famine. The two gods managed to persuade the maidens to return and they performed their ritual dance once more, restoring the fertility of the land, before finally disappearing for ever.

Ten Datsu-Ba Japanese
husband of Sodzu Baba

Ten Geris Siberian
a thunder-god of the Buriats

Ten-gu (see Tengu)

Ten Rishis (see Seven Rishis)

Ten Scholars Chinese
[Shih Che]
10 disciples of Confucius

Ten Suns Chinese
offspring of Ti Chün and Hsi Ho

The suns lived in the giant tree, Fu Sang, in the east. They took it in turns to cross the sky each day, accompanied by their mother. When they decided to appear in the sky all at the same time, the earth was in danger of being burnt to a cinder but was saved when the archer, I, shot down nine of them.

Ten Yama Kings Chinese
[Kings of Hell.Shih T'ien-yen-wang.

Shih Wang]
judges of the dead

Each of these beings had his own court in the underworld. The first judge, Ts'en-kuang, decided whether the soul should be released to a new life or passed on for judgment; the second, Chi-chiang, held court over the corrupt and incompetent; the third, Sung Ti, dealt with liars; the fourth, Wu Kuan, with misers and the fifth, Yen Wang, with murderers. Atheists were tried in the court of the sixth judge, Pien-ch'eng, while slavers appeared in the seventh ruled by T'ai

Shan Kun. The eighth court, ruled by P'ing-teng, judged those who failed to honour their ancestors and the ninth, that of Tu-shih, dealt with arsonists. If they survived the punishments meted out by these courts, souls passed to the tenth and final court where the judge, Chuan Lun, made a decision on their future.

Tena-ranide North American
a plague-god of the Athapascans, god of death

Tenanto'mni Siberian
a creator-god of the Chukchee people

Tenanto'mwan Siberian
[Ya'qhienin:=Chukchee Va'irgin]
a creator-god of the Koryak people consort of Plena

tenebrio
a night spirit

Tenen (see Tatenen)

Tenes Greek
[Tennes] king of Tenedos
son of Cynus and Procleia

His real father was said to be Apollo. Cynus married a second wife, called Phylonome, who fell in love with Tenes and lied about him when he rejected her advances. Cynus cast both Tenes and his sister Hemitheia adrift in a chest but Poseidon kept them safe and they landed at Tenedos where Tenes became king.

In some stories, Cynus, having discovered his wife's deceit, killed her and went to Tenedos but was rejected by Tenes who was killed by Achilles when defending Hemitheia.

In another version, father and son were reconciled and fought together at Troy where both were killed by Achilles.

Tenenit Egyptian
a goddess of beer

Teng Kao Chinese
[Climbing the Hills]
a harvest festival

Tenga Japanese
[Ama-no-Yasu-no-gawa] the Milky Way regarded as a river in which the gods catch fish

Tengeri (see Tengri)

Tengri<sup>1</sup> Mongol
[Tengeri.Tura]
divine beings
children of the sky-god, Tengri
Some of them are Tangara, Esege-Malan-Tengri and Qormusta Tengri.

Tengri<sup>2</sup> Mongol

[Tengeri.Tura]
a sky-god

He appears in two aspects as Blue Tengri and Eternal Tengri.

Tengu Japanese

[Temgu.Ten-gu.=Buddhist Oni]

Shinto demons in the form of bird-men, offspring of Susanowa

These beings looked human but were hatched from eggs and lived in trees. They were adept in the arts of dancing and the use of the sword and were said to take possession of humans who then became proficient in these arts. Some say that they carried off humans and hid them; when they were recovered, these people were found to be mad.

In some accounts, they are regarded as female demons with huge noses and long ears who could fly great distances carrying a man and could bite through steel.

They are depicted as having wings, claws and beaks or as largely human with a fan.

Tengys Siberian

a sea-god

Tenit (see Tanit)

Tenjin Japanese

[Heavenly Deity.Temmangu]

a god of calligraphy

This is the name given to Michizane Sugawara when he was deified.

Tenkuraion (see Ashuku)

Tenko Japanese

a painter

father of Kimi

He took Sawara as a pupil.

Tennes (see Tenes)

tennin Buddhist

[tennyo]

in Japanese lore, beautiful maidens

living in paradise: female angels

Tenni Heika Japanese

a title of the emperor as a son of heaven, reflecting descent

from Amaterasu

Tenno Japanese

[Heavenly King.Tenshi]

an epithet of deities

Tenno-nei Japanese

['imperial soul']

the belief that a new emperor, on taking office, receives the soul passed down through preceding emperors

tennyo (see tennin)

Tennyson, Alfred British

(1809-1892)

a poet

He wrote Amphion, Death of Oenone, Idylls of the King, Lady of Shalott, Teiresias, The Lotus Eaters, Titbonus, Ulysses, etc.

Tenoch Central American

one of the leaders of the Aztecs when they left their homeland, Aztlan

Tenochtitlan Central American

a sacred city of the Aztecs, the modern Mexico City

Tenrio-no-mikoto Japanese

[Kashikone]

a deity worshipped by the Tenrikyo movement

Tenshi (see Tenno)

Tensho-ko-daijin (see Amaterasu)

Tenskwata North American

a 19th c Shawnee medicine-man

He forecast that a new world would appear in the early years of the 19th century.

tentatores

[infidiatores]

the ninth order of demons, spirits of temptation ruled by Mammon

Tenten South American

a serpent-deity of the Araucanians

When Carcai caused the flood, Tenten raised the mountains and so saved some of the people and animals.

In some accounts, Tenten was the peak on which humans assembled when Guecubu caused the flood and the mountains were raised by Guenu-Pillan.

Tenuantius British

duke of Cornwall, later king of Britain son of Lud

brother of Androgeus

father of Cunobelinus

Tenui British

[Tenwi]

son of Lot and Anna

brother of Mordred

Tenwi (see Tenui)

teocalli Central American

an Aztec temple or place of sacrifice in the form of a truncated pyramid

Teocipactli (see Coxcox)

teocote Central American

a form of pine tree from which the Aztecs extracted oil used in their sacred fire

Teojo Japanese

husband of Matsue

He got into difficulties when he swam across the sea to follow the flight of the heron and was rescued by Matsue whom he married. They both loved the huge pine tree that grew near their house and, when they died, their spirits came back and wandered round the old tree.

teopan Central American

an Aztec temple and courts around the teocalli

teotl Central American

the Aztec term for god

Teotl Iztacan Central American

the tenth of the 13 Aztec heavens,

ruled over by Tezcatlipoca

Teotl Tlatauhcam Central American

the house of the red god, the twelfth of the thirteen Aztec heavens, ruled by

Tlahuizcalpantecuhtli

Teotleco Festival Central American

[Coming of the Gods]

an Aztec festival celebrating the return of the gods

It was said that all the gods went away in the twelfth month so a festival was laid on for their return. It was heralded by the appearance of Tezcatlipoca on about the eighteenth day of the month with the remainder following on the last day.

teoxiutl Central American

a form of turquoise

This mineral was used in religious ceremonies and was said to emit smoke.

Teoyaomiqui Central American

[Huahuantli.Teoyaom(in)qui] in some accounts, a god of slain warriors

A huge statue dug up in Mexico in 1790 had figures on both front and back, identified as Huitzilpochtli and the goddess Teoyaomiqui. Others say that there was no such goddess and that the statue is of Chicomecohuatl.

Teoyaominqui (see Teoyaomiqui)

Teoyaomqui (see Teoyaomiqui)

Tepanaguaste Central American

a Mayan sacred musical instrument guarded by Votan

In some accounts, Tepanaguaste is the guardian of a sacred instrument of the same name.

Tepezoz Turkish

[Goggle-eye]

a one-eyed monster overcome by a hero in Dede Korkut

Tepeolotec Central American

a name for Tepeyollotl as Lord of Beasts

Tepeu Central American

a Mayan creator-god

When the earth rose out of the primordial ocean, Tepeu and Gucamatz made men from soil but they were disappointed with the results and destroyed them in a flood. Next they carved a race of beings from wood but these too were not satisfactory and the gods had them torn to pieces by four huge birds, Camazotz, Cotzbalam, Tecumbalam and Xocotcovach. The following race of giants was destroyed by Hunapu and Ixbalanque and the final population was created by Tepeu and Gucamatz who made the ancestors of the tribes, Balam Agab, Balam Quitzé, Iqi Balam and Mahacutah.

(see also Hurakan)

Tepeyollotl Central American

[Tepeolotlec.Votan]

an Aztec earth-god, a jaguar-god

He was regarded as a manifestation of Tezcatlipoca as the cause of earthquakes.

tepitonen Central American

household gods of the Aztecs

Teponaztli Central American

a sacred drum of the Aztecs

Teopotatango Pacific Islands

wife of Rangī, some say

Tepoxtecatl (see Tepoztecatl)

Tepoztecatl Central American

[Tepoxtecatl]

an Aztec fertility-god

In some accounts he was one of the Centzon Totochtīn.

Tepy-dju-ef Egyptian

a name of Anubis as 'the one on the mountain'

Tequehmecauiani Central American

a god of intoxication

one of the Centzon Totochtīn

A sacrifice made to this god would ensure that the drinker did not die from hanging when drunk.

tequendama Central American

a waterfall

This feature was created when Bochica appeared in the form of a rainbow when the world was flooded by Chibchacum.

Tequiua Central American

a name used by Tezcatlipoca in the form of a warrior

In this guise, the god invited all the inhabitants of Tollan to a flower-garden known as Xochitla and then attacked them with a hoe, killing many of them.

Terafim (see Teraphim)

Terah (see Elom)

Teraphim<sup>1</sup> Hebrew

[Terafim]

images of household gods used in divination

Teraphim<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

[Terafim]

Sumerian household gods

Teratius Roman

a man who was ordered to kill

Romulus and Remus

In the stories that ascribe the birth of Romulus and Remus to the servant of a daughter of Tarchetius, the twins were given to Teratius who was ordered to kill them. Instead, he left them on the bank of the Tiber where they were found by a cowherd.

Terdelaschoye British

a fairy

wife of Mazadan

mother of Brickus

Terer East Indian

the first man

When he died, he went to Boigu, the land of the dead, and he now leads souls from Beg to Boigu by an under-sea route.

Tereus Greek

a king of Thrace

son of Ares

father of Itys

He married Procne and fathered a son, Itys. He later went through a form of marriage with Philomela, Procne's younger sister, pretending that Procne was dead. In fact, she was incarcerated in the slave quarters. In some versions of the tale, Tereus had cut out Procne's tongue to prevent her from any communication with her sister, in others he cut out Philomela's tongue when she tried to denounce him as the monster he undoubtedly was.

The sisters did manage to communicate through words and pictures woven into a tapestry and they avenged themselves by killing Itys, cutting him up and serving him to Tereus in a stew.

Tereus would have slain them with an axe but the gods intervened and turned all three into birds, Tereus into a hawk (or owl or hoopoe), Philomela into a nightingale, Procne into a swallow and Itys into a pheasant or a sandpiper. Since the nightingale sings while the swallow can merely twitter, it seems perhaps more likely that it was Procne who had her tongue cut out.

In some accounts, the roles of Philomela and Procne are reversed.

terlaik Malay

[terlain]

a violent storm

It is said that such a storm can be called up by imitating bird calls or by teasing animals such as monkeys, cats, or dogs.

terlain (see terlaik)

Termagaunt<sup>1</sup> Muslim

an imaginary deity of violent character appearing in mediaeval plays

Termagaunt<sup>2</sup> Muslim

a Saracen idol

Termerus Greek

an outlaw

His speciality was to kill travellers by head-butting them. Heracles killed him in the same fashion.

Terminalia Roman

a festival in honour of Terminus,

23rd February

Terminal Roman

[=Greek Herma]

a bust of the god Terminus erected at street corners, etc.

Terminus<sup>1</sup> Roman

a god of boundaries

Terminus<sup>2</sup>

(see Hermes.Jupiter.Mercury)

Tern North American

wife of a son of Coyote

Coyote desired Tern and arranged to send her husband to the sky so that he could have her. Later her husband returned, dropped from the sky by Spider Woman in a box, and he found his favourite wife, Black Swan, and her children had been expelled from the camp. He thereupon killed all the inhabitants of the camp.

Ternova (see New Troy)

Terpsichore Greek

[Terpsikhore]

one of the 9 Muses – dance

mother of Rhesus by Strymonn, some say

Terpsikhore (see Terpsichore)

Terra (see Tellus)

Terra Mater (see Tellus)

Terrace of the Mirror

(see Hsieh-ching t'ai)

terrashot (see Funeral Mountain)

Terre Foraine, La British

[Distant Country.Listenise.Listenois(e)]

This realm was ruled at various times by Kalafes, Lambor, Joshua and, perhaps, Pellam or Pelles. In some accounts, it is equated with Listinoise or the Waste Land.

Terre Labur British

the realm ruled by Klingsor

Terrestrial Paradise British

the mediaeval concept of the Garden of Eden, still thought to exist

Terrible Broom (see Scuab Uasafach)

Terrible Face (see Hershef)

Terrible, The Irish

a demon conjured up by Bricciu (see Bricciu's Feast)

Tertiana *(see Febris)teruteru-bozu Japanese

dolls used as talismans

These dolls are fastened to trees or to the eaves of houses to bring fine weather.

tervils Norse

evil demons with the gift of prophecy

Tescatlipoca *(see Tezcatlipoca)Teshub Mesopotamian

[Tarhais.Tarhun(t).Tarhuntas.Tark(u).

Tes(h)up.Tesub.Tushup:=Canaanite Baal:

=Hattic [Taru:=Sumerian Ishkur]

the Hittite and Hurrian storm-god

son of Kumarbi

brother of Ishtar and Tasmisu consort of Hebat, Huwassanas,

Sabasarras and Tasimis

consort of Shoushkas, some say

father of Inara, Sharrumas and Telipinu

When Kumarbi overthrew Anu, he spat out three new gods, Teshub, Aranzakh and Tasmisu.

Teshub replaced Kumarbi as supreme god and married the daughter of the sea-god, producing the giant Ullikummi who was made of diorite. Others say that Kumarbi married the sea-god's daughter who bore Ullikummi or that this stone giant was created by Kumarbi to avenge his dethronement by Teshub. When Ullikummi grew so large that he threatened the whole world, Teshub (or Ea, in other versions) cut off the giant's feet and it fell into the ocean.

When his son Telipinu disappeared he searched for him in vain.

In one story he was defeated by the demon Illuyankas but Inara gave the dragon and his brood so much food that they got stuck in the opening to their lair. Hupasiyas then tied them up so that Teshub could kill them.

Alternatively, when the dragon defeated Teshub, he took his eyes and heart. Telipinu, a son of Teshub, married a daughter of Illuyankas and received the eyes and heart as a wedding gift. He returned them to his father who then slew both his son and the dragon. (see also Sutekh)

Teshup *(see Teshub)Tesub *(see Teshub)Tesup *(see Atabyrius.Teshub)Tet' Egyptian

a symbol of stability

This is one of the three symbols held by Ptah; the others are the ankh and was.

Tet' *(see Ded)Tete Brec Irish

[Twinkling Hoard]

one of the homes of the king of Ulster

tetele East Indian

a doll used in a ceremony to cure

the sick

Teteo Innan Teteo Central American

an Aztec fire-god

Teteoinnan Central American

[Mother of the Gods.Tetoinnan.Toci(tzin)]

an Aztec maize-goddess and goddess of physicians an aspect of Cihuacoatl, Tlazolteotl or

Tonantzin, in some accounts

In those accounts which say that Huitzilopochtli had two mothers, Teteoinnan was one of them. The other was Coatlicue.

Tethra Irish

a Formorian god of the undersea world

He was the owner of the magic speaking sword, Orna, which was seized by Ogma.

Tethys Greek

a sea-goddess

a Titaness

grandmother of Thetis

daughter of Uranus and Gaea

wife of Oceanus

mother of Dione, Iapetus, Metis, the Oceanids and all the river-gods

mother of Pluto (f) by Zeus or Imolus

She was said to be the mother of some 3,000 Oceanids.

In some accounts she is equated with Thetis.

Tetoinnan *(see Teteoinnan)Tetong Pacific Islands

father of Juan

tetragrammaton

a sacred four-letter word such as Jove,

JHWH, Zeus, etc.

Tetzahauteotl Central American

an Aztec war-god

Tetzahuid Central American

an Aztec war-god

Teu *(see Tyr)Teucer' Greek

[Teukros]

the first king of Troy

son of Scamander and Idaeia

father of Batea (see also Tros)

Teucer' Greek

[Teukros]

a celebrated archer

son of Telamon and Glauce or Hesione half-brother of Ajax the Great

He fought well at Troy and was one of the party concealed in the Wooden Horse but, because he had failed to avenge the death of Ajax, his father refused to welcome him on his return from Troy so he went off to Cyprus and founded Salamis.

Teucri Greek

descendants of Teucer: the Trojans

Teuhcatl Central American

an Aztec war-god

Teukros *(see Teucer)Teumessian Vixen *(see Cadmeian Vixen)Teutamides Greek

a king of Thessaly

It was he who organised the games at which Perseus inadvertently killed his grandfather, Acrisius, with a wayward discus.

Teutates Celtic

[Albiorix.T(e)utatis.T(o)utates.T(o)utatis:

=British Totates]

a war-god in Gaul

Teutatis *(see Teutates)Teuthras Greek

king of Teuthrania in Mysia

father of Argiope and Thespius

father of Tecmessa, some say

Ajax raided his kingdom during the Trojan War, killed Teuthras and carried off his daughter, Tecmessa. In other accounts, Tecmessa was the daughter of Teleutas.

He bought Auge as a slave and either married her or adopted her as his daughter. When Telephus, her son by Heracles, came to his court, he gave him Argiope as a wife and made him heir to the throne.

Tevnec European

in Breton lore, the land of the dead

This realm is an island to which the souls of the dead are transferred every night in boats.

Tevne Mongolian

a man who married a princess

Tevne trapped a servant of the princess in a deep pit and forced her to reveal the identity of her mistress. The king tried to frustrate Tevne by parading a number of identically-dressed girls in front of him but he picked out the real princess and married her. The king then used his book of divinations to locate the person who had betrayed him and, when he failed, burned the book. Later, some sheep ate the ashes of the book. That is why sheep, it is said, have divine insight.

tevoda Cambodian [=Hindu devata]
one of the blessed living in Indra's paradise or living in the forest to record the sins of humans
Some of these beings act as guardians
of the world.

Tew (see Tyr)

Tewada Siamese
[=Burmese Tawadeintha]
the land of the nats

Tewi'xilak North American
a god of the hunt in the lore of the Indians of British Columbia

Tezcatzoncatl (see Tezcatlipoca)

Teyocoyani Central American
a name for Tezcatlipoca as creator of men

Teyrnon (see Teirnyon)

Teyu-Yagua South American
a monster in the form of a jaguar-lizard
In the lore of the Guarani people of Paraguay, this beast is said to guard
Paititi, the land of gold.

Tezacacoac Ayopechtli Central American
an Aztec goddess of childbirth

Tezcaquahuil Central American
one of the 2 trees which, in Aztec lore, support the sky
The other supporting tree is known as Quetzalveixochitl.

Tezcatepuca (see Tezcatlipoca)

Tezcatlipoca Central American [Chalchihuitotolin.Fiery Mirror.
Huitzilopochtli.Itzlacolihque.Itzli.
Mixcoatl-Camaxtli.Moneneque.
Moyocoatzin.Moyocoyan.
Nezahuapilli.Omacatl.
Onachihuitonatiuh.Quetzalcoatl.
Smoking Mirror.Teimatiní.Telpochtli.
Tepeyollotl.Tezcatlipoca.Texcatzoncatl.
Tezcatepuca.Titlac(ah)uan.Tlaloc.
Tlamatzincatl.Tonatiuh.Tree of Mirrors.
Xipetotec.Yaotl.Yoalli Ehecatl.
Yoamaxtli.Yaotlinecoc.Yaotzin.
=Mayan Chac:=Mixtec Tzahui:
=Totanac Tajin:=Zapotec Cocijo]
an Aztec sun-god, giver of life and god of the smoking mirror
son of Ometeotl and Ometecuhtli son of Tonacatechtli and Tonacacihuatl, some say brother of Camaxtli, Huitzilopochtli and Quetzalcoatl, some say consort of Tlazolteotl
He was the father of 400 sons and the stars of the Milky Way, and was the opponent of Quetzalcoatl. His left foot was replaced by a mirror when it was bitten off by the monster,

Cipactli. He tore off the jaw of this monster crocodile and used it to make the earth. The mirror enabled him to foretell the future. Some accounts say that he lost his foot when it became trapped in the door of the underworld.

He appeared in four aspects, referred to as Blue Tezcatlipoca when he was Tlaloc, guardian of the south; Red Tezcatlipoca when he was Xipetotec, guardian of the east; and Quetzalcoatl, guardian of the west.
The north (black) region he kept for himself as Tlaluhan. As a warrior-god, he was Huitzilopochtli and, in some stories, was turned into a tiger by Quetzalcoatl who knocked him out of the heavens.

He fell in love with Xochiquetzal, wife of Tlaloc, and abducted her.

His story is one of continual conflict with Quetzalcoatl, representing the eternal struggle between good and evil.

In some versions, he died every year and was restored when a human heart, torn from a living man, was offered in sacrifice.

In the Aztec creation stories, he was the ruler of the First Sun, ruling for 676 years until he was killed by Quetzalcoatl who ruled during the period of the Second Sun. When he was killed, he became a jaguar.

He is usually depicted with a dart and spear-thrower in his right hand and a shield and a spare dart in his left hand, but sometimes appeared in the form of a turkey.

(see also Moquequelas.Pantecatle.

Tequiua.Teyocoyani.Touyo)

Tezozomoc Central American
a Mexican who recorded many Aztec myths

Tezpi (see Coxcox)

Thaah (see Thah)

Thab-Iha Tibetan

a Bon hearth-god

thabet Burmese
monsters, spirits of women who have died in childbirth

a form of tasé
These beings take the form of giants
with very long, slimy tongues.

(see also thaye)

thag (see thug)

Thagrinus

a demon of confusion

Thagya Burmese

spirits of the air: nats

Thagya Min Burmese
chief of the 37 nats

His appearance signals the start of the year and determines its outcome.

Thagyan (see Thingyan Pwe)

Thah Central American

[Thaah]

a supreme deity of the Maya

Thahog-chos-rgyal-po

(see Thok-chho)

Thaissa Greek

a girl restored to life by Cerimon

Thakur-Deo Hindu

a local god in the north of India

consort of Dharti Mata

Thakurani (see Gramadevata)

Thalaba

in Eastern legends, the personification of fertility

or the sun

Thalassa Greek

[Mare]

a sea-goddess

wife of Pontus

mother of the Curetes by Poseidon,

some say

Thalath Mesopotamian

[=Chaldean Omroca]

a Babylonian ruler of the primitive waters

Belus cut Thalath in half to make earth and sky.

Thalatta Greek

a sea-god of Rhodes

Thalea (see Thalia)

Thaleia (see Thalia)

Thales Greek

one of the Seven Sages

Thalestris Greek

a queen of the Amazons

She is said to have led a party of 300
Amazons to meet the all-conquering Alexander in the hope that he would father a whole race of such men.

Thalia<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Aethalian.Jollity.Thale(i)a] one of the 3 Graces – good cheer, jollity, bringer of flowers

Thalia<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Aethalian.Thale(i)a]

one of the 9 Muses – comedy

Thalia<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Aethalian.Thale(i)a]

a nymph, one of the Nereids

mother of the Palici by Zeus

Seduced by Zeus, she feared the wrath of Hera and prayed to be swallowed up by the earth. This prayer was granted and her two sons were born below ground.

Thalia<sup>4</sup> (see Pimplea)

Thallo Greek
a goddess of flowers and spring
one of the Horae, in some accounts

Thalna Roman
an Etruscan goddess of childbirth

thalysia Greek gifts to the gods, the first fruits or the first loaf baked

Tham (see Atum.Tiamat)

Thammuz (see Tammuz)

Thamuatz African
a calf-god of the Kabyle
This primaeval buffalo and her mate Itherther emerged from a place under the earth called Tlam. Their son, Achimi, drove off his father and mated with his mother and his sister.

Thamuris (see Thamyris)

Thamus Greek
a sailor who was told by a mysterious voice to announce the death of Pan

Thamuz European
a demon
In Spain, this being was said to have instituted the Inquisition and is credited with the invention of artillery.
In black magic, he is an ambassador to Spain.

Thamyras (see Thamyris)

Thamyris Greek [Thamuris.Thamyras]
a bard
son of Philammon and Argiope
He challenged the Muses in a poetry contest and, when he lost, was blinded for his arrogance.
He was one of those who fell in love with Hyacinthus.

Thanai Burmese
[Thanoi]
in the lore of the Karen the first man, made by Ea-pe consort of E-U

Thanatos Greek [ˈdeathː]=Roman Mors.Orcus]
god of night
death personified
Pluto as King of the Dead son of Erebus and Nyx brother of Hypnos
He collected those whose time on earth had expired, cut a lock of hair from their beards and took them to Hades.

Thanoi (see Thanai)

Thanor British
a king of Cornwall
He enlisted the help of the Irish king in his struggle with King Pelias and, as a result, was required to pay an annual tribute to Ireland. This tribute was later the cause of the fight between Tristram and Morholt.

Thaon Greek
a giant

He was killed by the Parcae in the war between the gods and the giants.

Tharapita (see Taara)

Thardid Jimbo Australian
a giant

This giant was also a cannibal, hunting and killing tribesmen for their flesh.
When he killed a young, newly-married man, the two wives of the dead man lured the giant into a cave and built a huge fire at the entrance so that he was burnt to death when he tried to escape.

Thargelia Greek

a feast at Athens in honour of Apollo, May/June

At this festival, the pharmakoi (ashes originally of two sacrificial victims, later dummies) were cast into the sea
to purify the city.

Tharmas

a demon of the senses
one of the 4 zoa, in the works of William Blake

Tharonhiawakon (see Ioskeha)

Tharonmaouagon (see Ioskeha)

Thasus Greek

son of Agenor and Telephassa

Thatmanitu Mesopotamian

a Semitic goddess of healing

Thau Celtic

a supreme deity

Thauk (see Thok)

Thaukt (see Thok)

Thaueret (see Tauret)

Thaumas Greek

[Thaum(a)us]

a sea-god
son of Pontus and Gaea or of Nereus and Doris

Some say he was the father of the Harpies and Iris by Electra.

thaumaturge

[thaumaturgus]

a miracle-worker

thaumaturgus (see thaumaturge)

Thaumas (see Thaumas)

Thaumel Hebrew

in the Cabbala, two-headed fallen angels

Thaumus (see Thaumas)

Thaur Arab

the Zodiacal sign Taurus

Thaut (see Thoth)

thaye Burmese

monsters, spirits of men who have died violently
a form of tasé

These beings take the form of giants
with very long, slimy tongues.

(see also thabet)

Thea Greek

[ˈdivineː.Euryphaessa.Theia]

a Titaness
daughter of Uranus and Gaea sister and wife of Hyperion mother of Eos, Helios and Selene by Hyperion mother of Acmon and Passalus
(the Cercopes) by Oceanus

Theaeno (see Theano)

Theandrios (see Theandros)

Theandros Greek

[Theandrios]

a god of northern Arabia

Theano<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Theaeno]

daughter of Cisseus sister of Hecuna wife of Antenor mother of Acamas, Agenor and Archelochus

Theano<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Theaeno]

wife of Metapontus

She adopted Aeolus and Boeotus, the two sons of Melanippe by Poseidon, who had been abandoned. She later had two sons of her own and encouraged them to kill the foundlings but Poseidon intervened and killed her real sons, whereupon she killed herself.

Thebais Roman

a poem by Statius dealing with the story of Oedipus

Theban Bacchus Greek

a name for Dionysus by which he is distinguished from Iacchus,
the Phrygian Bacchus

Theban Legend, The Greek

the story of Oedipus and Jocasta

Thebe Greek

daughter of Asopus and Metope or of Zeus and Iodama
wife of Zethus

(see also Aedon<sup>1</sup>.Iodama)

Theelgeth (see Teelget)

Theia (see Thea)

Theias Greek

a king of Syria
father of Adonis by Myrrha

In some stories, he, not Cinyras, was seduced by his own daughter, to beget Adonis. Other stories say that the father was Belus.

Thein Burmese

rain-nats

It is said that rain is caused by battles between these nats.

Theiodamus (see Theodamus)

Theispas (Mesopotamian)
a weather-god of the pre-Armenian Urartians

Theixinoe (Greek)
one of the Muses in those cases where there are said to be 4 of them

Thekkr<sup>1</sup> (Norse)
one of the dwarfs

Thekkr<sup>2</sup> (see Odin)

TheI (British) daughter of Mne Seraphim
She is the heroine of The Book of TheI by William Blake and was allowed to learn the secrets of hell.

Thelemites (European)
a fictitious order of monks (Rabelais)

Thelxiepeia (Greek)
one of the Sirens

Themis (Greek) [‘justice’, ‘order’] goddess of divine justice
a Titaness
daughter of Uranus and Gaea
wife of Iapetus
mother of Astraea, Prometheus and Schoenius by Iapetus mother of the Horae and the Moirae by Zeus
She was the second owner of the Delphic Oracle and told Deucalion and Pyrrha how to repopulate the world after the flood.
She weighed the souls of the dead in the underworld and, in some accounts, is equated with Gaea.
She is depicted as blind (-folded), holding the sword and scales of justice.
In some accounts she is the same as Ananke.

Themison (Greek)
a Libyan merchant
He was paid by King Etearchus to throw the king’s daughter, Phronime, into the sea. He did so but pulled her back to the ship with the rope he had attached to her and she later became the concubine of Polymnestris.

Themiste (Greek) daughter of Ilus and Eurydice sister of Laomedon
mother of Anchises by Capys

Themisto (Greek) daughter of Hypseus sister of Astgia and Cyrene,
in some accounts
the third wife of Athamas
In some accounts, she was the first wife of Athamas and mother of Helle, Leucon and Phrixus. Others say that she married Athamas, when Ino went mad and left him, bearing several children, including Erythrius, Leucon, Ptous and Schoenus. When Ino returned from her wanderings, Athamas sent Themisto away but, after the death of Ino, when Athamas founded a new kingdom, they were reunited.

In another version, she plotted to kill the children of Ino but her own children were killed instead. Stricken by remorse, she committed suicide.

Then Lo (Thai)
grandfather of the king of the Thens

He entertained the Three Great Men when they went to the sky, kingdom of the Thens.

Then Teng (Thai)
one of the sky-lords

After the flood waters had receded, he came to earth to teach the new race the arts of agriculture.

Thens (Thai)
lords of the sky

These beings sent a flood when the people refused tribute to the gods. The Three Great Men went to see the king of the Thens who sent them to his grandfather, Then Lo. When the waters receded, the three rulers went back to earth and repopulated it with people from gourds. Some of the Then lords came to earth and taught the people various skills before returning to the sky.

Theobule (Greek)
mother of Myrtilus by Hermes,
in some accounts (see also Cleobule)

Theoclymenus<sup>1</sup> (Greek)
a king of Egypt
son of Proteus and Psamathe brother of Theonoe

He was incarnate as a pharaoh at the time of the Trojan War and tried to force Helen (in the version where the real Helen was secreted in Egypt) into marriage. His sister, Theonoe, helped Helen to escape with Menelaus who had come to fetch her after the end of the war.

Theoclymenus<sup>2</sup> (Greek)
a prophet

He warned the suitors who were harassing Penelope that they would soon be killed but they ignored him and paid the penalty when Odysseus came home from his wanderings.

Theodaisia (see Theoxenia)

Theiodamus (see Theodamus)

Theodamus (Greek)

[Th(e)iodamas]
king of Euboea

father of Hylas by Menodice

When Heracles killed and ate one of his oxen, Theodamus attacked him but was killed. Heracles spared his son, Hylas, and took him as his armour-bearer.

Theodora (European)
sister of Constantine, emperor of Greece

Rogero killed her son at the siege of Belgrade and, when Rogero was captured, the emperor handed him over to his sister for punishment. Before she could exact her revenge, Leo, her nephew, released the prisoner.

Theodore<sup>1</sup> (European) a knight of St John

When several knights failed to return after going in search of the Dragon of Rhodes, the Grand Master of the Order ordered that no others should make the attempt.

Theodore ignored the injunction. He built a model of the dragon and practised his skills on it, trained his horse and dogs to help, and succeeded in killing the fearsome beast.

He was forgiven for disobeying an order and later became Grand Master.

Theodore<sup>2</sup> (Serbian)
a hero

Urged by his mother to find a wife, he searched for a long time until he saw the maiden, Iconia. Knowing that she was betrothed to Sredoji, he seized her and made her his wife.

Theodoric (German) [Thjodrorir]

the name taken by Dietrich von Bern when he was crowned Emperor of the West (see Thidrek)

Theodoricus (European)
a knight of Charlemagne

He was the last knight to be killed at the Battle of Roncesvalles.

theogamy (see hieros gamos)

Theogony (Greek) [Birth of the Gods]

Hesiod’s genealogy of the Greek deities

Theoi patrooi (Greek) [=Roman Di patrii]

ancestral gods: traditional gods

theomachist
one at war with the gods

theomachy
war of the gods

theomancy
divination by oracles: divine inspiration

theomorphic

having the form of a god

theomorphism

the state or condition of having the form of a god

Theonoe

Greek

daughter of Proteus and Psamathe sister of Theoclymenus

In one version of Helen's story, the real Helen was secreted in Egypt during the Trojan War. When Menelaus came to collect her after the war, he found her in hiding to escape a forced marriage to Theoclymenus. Theonoe helped them to escape.

Theophane

Greek

daughter of Bisaltes

When she caught the eye of Poseidon, he changed her into a ewe so that she would not be attractive to other suitors. He then mated with her, in the form of a ram, producing the golden-fleeced ram that saved Phrixus and carried him to Colchis.

theos<sup>1</sup>

Greek

[=Roman deus]
god: one of the great gods

Theos Hypsistos

(see Sabazius)

Theow

a monster in the form of a wolf with cloven feet

Theoxenia

Greek

[Theodaisia:=Roman lectisternium]
a ceremony held in honour of a particular deity said to be visiting the city and present at the feast

Thepla

Mesopotamian

an evil Armenian demon

thera<sup>1</sup>

Buddhist

[=Burmese pongyi:=Sanskrit sthavira]
a senior monk: an arhat

Thera<sup>2</sup>

(see Calliste)

TheraePHONE

Greek

twin sister of Theronice

TheraPEUTAE

Hebrew

[Healers]
Egyptian ascetics who practised magic and divination

Theras<sup>1</sup>

Greek

son of Autesian
brother of Argia

He acted as guardian to his sister's twin boys, Eurysthenes and Procles.

In some accounts, he led a contingent of Spartans and Minyans to settle on Calliste where he became king.

Theras

Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis discovered Actaeon, the hunter, spying on her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag.

His hounds, including Theras, tore him to pieces.

Thereus

British

a Roman emperor

In some accounts, he invaded Britain during the reign of King Arthur and was defeated.

Theridamas

Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis discovered Actaeon, the hunter, spying on her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Theridamas, tore him to pieces.

theriomorphism

belief in gods in the form of animals

Thermius

Greek

son of Andraemon and Haemon brother of Oxylus

He was accidentally killed by his own brother.

Thermouthis

(see Hermouthis)

Theron

Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis discovered Actaeon, the hunter, spying on her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Theron, tore him to pieces.

Theronice

Greek

twin sister of TheraePHONE

Thersander<sup>1</sup>

Greek

son of Polyneices and Argia
husband of Demonassa
father of Tisamanus

When Alcmaeon was reluctant to join the Epigoni in their assault on Thebes, he bribed Eriphyle to persuade her son to join them by giving her the wedding veil of Harmonia. He survived the battle at Thebes and later joined the expedition to Troy but, when they landed in Mysia, he was killed by Telephus.

Thersander<sup>2</sup>

Greek

son of Sisyphus and Merope brother of Adrastus and Timeas father of Coronus and Haliartius

Thersimachus

Greek

son of Heracles and Megara

Thersites

Greek

a Greek soldier at Troy
son of Agrius

He mocked Achilles for grieving at the death of Penthesilea whom Achilles had just killed in the battle with the Trojans. Achilles killed him and was purified at Lesbos.

Therytas

Greek

a wild man who, with Oreios, captured Silenus

Thesan

Roman

an Etruscan goddess of the dawn and childbirth

Thescelus

Greek

a supporter of Agenor

He was one of those who interrupted the wedding of Perseus and Andromeda and was turned to stone by a sight of the Medusa mask.

Theseia

Greek

a festival in honour of Theseus

Theseus<sup>1</sup>

Greek

[Attic Hercules]

king of Athens

son of Poseidon by Aethra

husband of Antiope and Phaedra

father of Demophoon or Hippolytus by Antiope

father of Acamas and Demophoon by Phaedra, some say

father of Melanippus by Perigune

Theseus was the son of Poseidon by Aethra but accepted by Aegeus as his own son since he had slept with Aethra on the same night as Poseidon.

He was tutored by Connidas and, at sixteen, recovered the sword and sandals hidden by Aegeus behind a rock and set off to Athens to meet his father, performing various labours in imitation of Heracles en route. He killed a number of outlaws including the crippled Periphetes with his own club which he then kept for himself; then Sinis, by tying him to two trees which tore him apart when released from the bent position – just as he had killed many a wayfarer – and Sciron by hurling him into the sea. He killed Cercyon by smashing him to earth and took over his kingdom of Eleusis and he killed Procrustes in the same way he had killed so many others – by 'adjusting his length to fit his bed'.

He also killed the Crommyonian sow which had been terrorising the locals and found time to father Melanippus on Perigune.

Some say he was one of the Argonauts and a member of the party hunting the Calydonian boar.

Aegeus, now king of Athens, had married the sorceress Medea and she tried to poison Theseus so that her son, Medus, might inherit the throne, but Aegeus recognised his son in time to prevent the tragedy and Medea fled the country.

After being reunited with his father Theseus crushed the revolt by Pallas and his fifty sons and captured and killed Poseidon's white bull which had been brought to Greece from Crete by Heracles and was now known as the Marathonian Bull, sacrificing it to the gods. In this adventure, he was given hospitality by Hecate.

The Athenians were still paying the tribute demanded by Minos and Theseus offered himself as one of those to be sacrificed to the Minotaur. When he arrived in Crete, Minos threw his ring into the sea and challenged Theseus to prove that he was a son of Poseidon by retrieving it from the sea-bed. With the help of the Nereids, Theseus recovered it easily. Using a ball of magic thread given to Minos' daughter Ariadne by Daedalus, he entered the Labyrinth, killed the Minotaur and was able to escape from the maze. He left Crete accompanied by Ariadne but soon abandoned her on Naxos. Or did he? In some versions, he put her ashore because she was seasick and returned to his ship to work on it. A storm blew him offshore and delayed his return. When he did get back, Ariadne was gone and he was told she had died. Another story has it that he saw the arrival of the ship of Dionysus, who rescued Ariadne, and was frightened off.

He went to the country of the Amazons either as part of Heracles' expedition or with Peirithous and came away with their queen, called Antiope or Hippolyta and fathered Demophoon or Hippolytus on her. In the first story, he was given the queen as his prize, in the second he abducted her when she came voluntarily aboard his ship. The Amazons invaded Greece in an effort to recover their queen but were defeated.

In some stories he married the Amazon queen and married Phaedra after her death but others say that he married Phaedra and, at that wedding, Antiope (or Hippolyta) broke in and would have killed those present had not Theseus killed her.

Aphrodite caused Phaedra to fall in love with Hippolytus who rejected her advances. She then falsely accused him of rape and hanged herself, whereupon Theseus invoked the help of his father Poseidon to kill his son to avenge her death.

When the survivors of the defeat of the Seven Against Thebes encounter sought his help, Theseus led a force against Creon, defeated him and recovered the bodies of the dead for the decent burial that Creon had refused.

With the help of Peirithous he abducted Helen and won when they drew lots for her. In compensation, he went with his friend to Tartarus and demanded Persephone as a bride for Peirithous.

Trapped by Hades in the Chair of Forgetfulness, he spent four years in torment before being rescued by Heracles. He found, on his return to Athens, that Menestheus had been installed in his place by Castor and Pollux who had invaded and rescued their sister Helen and that there was much disorder. He left for Crete but landed on the island of Scyros where he was killed by Lycomedes, the king of that island, who pushed Theseus over a cliff and pretended that it had been an accident.

Later stories say that Theseus returned from the dead to help the Athenians at the Battle of Marathon.

Theseus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a duke of Thebes in Chaucer's Knight's Tale
husband of Ypolita
father of Emily

He offered his daughter's hand to the winner of a contest which was won by Arcites who was killed en route to claim his bride. She married his cousin, Palamon, instead.

In some accounts, Emily is Ypolita's sister.

Thesmophoria Greek
a corn festival for married women, in honour of Demeter, held at Athens in October or November

Thesmophoriazusae Greek
a play by Aristophanes about the women's festival
honouring Demeter

Thesmophorus (see Demeter)
Thespian lion (see Cithaeronian lion)

Thespius Greek
a king, host to Heracles
during the hunt for the Cithaeronian Lion

He had fifty daughters and Heracles slept with each one of them in turn during the fifty days that it took to find and kill the lion, fathering fifty-one sons.

Thesprotus Greek
a king of Sparta

It was at his court that Pelopia served when she was raped by her own father, Thyestes.

Thessalus<sup>1</sup> Greek
a king of Iolcus
son of Jason and Medea, some say

He was said to be the only one of Medea's children to survive when she killed the others at Corinth.

Thessalus<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Haemon

Thestiades Greek
Plexippus and Toxeus,
the sons of Thestius

Thestios (see Thestius)

Thestius Greek [Thestios]
king of Calydon
son of Agenor and Epicaste son of Ares and Andronice or Demonice, some say brother of Demonice, some say husband of Eurythemis father of Althaea, Euippus, Eurypylus, Hypermnestra, Iphiclus, Leda
Plexippus and Toxeus

Theston Greek
father of Calchas

Thet Egyptian
a talisman: the girdle of Isis

Thether Norse
the name of Diether in Thidrekssaga

Thetis Greek
a sea-nymph, one of the Nereids granddaughter of Tethys daughter of Nereus and Doris wife of Peleus mother of Achilles

She reared the infant Apollo and (with Eurynome) rescued Hephaestus from the sea when he was dropped from Mount Olympus by Hera.

She married the mortal, King Peleus, and bore him a son, the hero Achilles. She had been wooed by both Poseidon and Zeus and many of the gods attended her wedding, including the uninvited Eris who threw the 'apple of discord' into the midst of the gathering setting in motion the events that led to the Trojan War.

She had killed six sons by testing their immortality in the fire and, when she tried the same test on Achilles, Peleus rescued him and handed him over to Chiron to be reared. She later tried to make her son invulnerable by dipping him into the river Styx but the ankle she held him with did not enter the water and remained a weak spot which eventually brought about his death.

After a disagreement with Peleus, she left him and returned to her home in the sea but they were later reconciled and he joined her in her undersea realm.

In some accounts she is equated with Tethys.

Thetleif Norse

the name of Dietlieb in Thidrekssaga

theurgia (see theurgy)

theurgist

a miracle-worker

theurgy

[theurgia]

divine intervention: miracle-working

Theutus

a demon of gambling

Thewi Suthat Thai

[Thewi Suthata]

a mythical princess lover of Sison

They had been lovers in several previous existences but never married until they met again as king and princess.

Thewi Suthata (see Thewi Suthat)

thi Thai

[=Burmese nat:=Pakistani neq]

a spirit of the dead

Thia (see Thea)

Thialfi Norse

[Thjalfi]

a servant of Thor

a champion runner

son of Egil

brother of Roskva

He was the son of a peasant who had been given by her father to serve Thor after she disobeyed the god's instructions to return the bones of the goats they had all fed on so that Thor could restore the goats to life.

He and his sister Roskva accompanied Thor and Loki on their trip to Jotunheim where Thialfi lost in a race with Hugi.

When Thor met Hrungrir in a duel, Thialfi acted as the god's squire and killed with a spade the huge creature, Mokerkialfi, that the giants had made to act as squire to Hrungrir.

thiasos (see thiasus)

Thiassa Greek

wife of Pericles

She was restored to life by Cerimon.

Thiassi Norse

[Byrr.Gustr.Thiazi.Thjasse.Thjazi.Thyazi]

a Frost-giant

god of storms

son of Kari

brother of Beli and Thrym

father of Skadi

He coveted Iduna and her apples of eternal youth. In the form of an eagle, he carried off Loki and kept him dangling from a staff with which he had struck the bird until he promised to get for Thiassi the two things he wanted most.

Loki tricked Iduna into going outside the borders of Asgard with a bowl of apples and she was immediately abducted by Thiassi. She refused to let him eat any of the apples and, when the gods found out what had happened, they ordered Loki to get Iduna back. He borrowed Freya's falcon-garb and flew to Thrymheim where Iduna was held, changed her into a nut – or, some say, a swallow – and carried her back to Asgard hotly pursued by Thiassi. The gods saw them coming and lit a fire which burned Thiassi's feathers and he crashed to the ground and was killed by the angry gods. His eyes were placed in the heavens as a constellation.

In some accounts he is regarded as an aspect of Volund.

thiasus Greek

[thiasos]

a Bacchic revel: a band of worshippers

Thiazi (see Thiassi)

Thidrandi Norse

a man killed by witches

The story relates that he was attacked by nine hags dressed all in black and, although he was armed with a sword and defended himself, they killed him.

Thidrek Norse

the Norse version of Theodoric (Dietrich von Bern)

husband of Herrad and Isolde

In this version, Thidrek is king of Amlungaland although his seat is still in Bern where he was reared by Hildebrand.

He won the helmet Hildigrimur from the giants Hildur and Grimur, the sword Naglring from the dwarf Alfrik and another sword, Ekkisax, from the giant Ecka.

He is said to have killed Sigurd with the sword Mimung.

He was driven from his own lands by Ermenrik but recovered them a year later.

During the final slaughter of the Niblungs, it was he, not Hildebrand, who killed Krimhild (here Grimhild)

by cutting her in half with his sword.

After the death of Herrad, he married Isolde, widow of Hertnit.

(see also Dietrich von Bern)

Thidrekssaga Norse

a version of the Nibelungenlied

with added material

Thiedric European

[Thierry]

a squire of Roland

When Gano was tried for treachery, Thiedric met Pinabel in single combat to determine Gano's fate. Thiedric won and Gano was condemned to death.

Thierry<sup>1</sup> European

a king of Maurienne

father of Blanchefleur

Thierry<sup>2</sup> (see Thiedric)

Thiga wa wairumbi African

a Kikuyu prophet who relayed messages from En-kai to the Kikuyu people

Thin Man (see Cailte)

Thinggishatsangma Tibetan

one of the Five Long Life Sisters

Thingyan Pwe Burmese

[Thagyan.Water Feast]

the New Year festival

During this festival much water is thrown by and at the participants and the chief nat, Thagya Min, appears on earth. The fortunes of the coming year are determined by whatever he decides to bring with him, be it a sword, fire or water.

Thinit (see Tanit)

Thinland Pacific Islands

the highest part of the coconut which is the universe, home of Atea

Thiodamus (see Theodamus)

Thipelas Pacific Islands

in the lore of the Carolines, a woman who married the god Luigelan

mother of Olofat

Third Lady (see Keng San Ku-niang)

Third Lady of the Privy

(see Keng San Ku-niang)

Third Person (see Thridi)

Third Sun Central American

[Four Rain.Sun of Fire.Sun of Rain]

the third age in the Aztec

creation cycle

The Second Sun, ruled over by Quetzalcoat, ended after 676 years when Tlaloc caused a great wind to blow away the race of humans that Quetzalcoat had created. Tlaloc then took over as ruler of the Third Sun which ended after a further 364 years when fire destroyed the earth. The next ruler was Chalchiuhtlicue.

Another story calls this period the Sun of Fire and says that the fire which destroyed the earth either fell from heaven or was started by the couple who had escaped destruction at the end of the Second Sun.

(see also Quiyauhtonatiuh.sun<sup>1</sup>)

Thirteen Akbal Central American
the thirteenth day of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day Month formed humans from clay. (see also Akbal)

Thirteen Treasures
(see Treasures of Britain)

Thirty-three Places Japanese
shrines to the goddess Kwannon

Thisbe Greek
a Babylonian maiden

She loved Pyramus but was forbidden to marry him. They planned to run away and arranged to meet by a certain mulberry bush near the tomb of Ninus. She arrived first but was scared by a lion and ran off, dropping her cloak. When Pyramus arrived he drew the wrong conclusions from the paw-marks in the sand and the abandoned cloak and killed himself in grief. Thisbe found him dying and killed herself with the same sword.

Thitmanet Mesopotamian
daughter of Keret

Thitis British
in some accounts, a sister of Morgan le Fay

Thixo (see Dxui)

Thjasse (see Thiassi)

Thjazi (see Thiassi)

Thjodrorir (see Theodoric)

Thjoldolf Norse
author of the Ynglingatal

thlawe North American in the lore of the Zuni, a plant growing in the underworld

T<sup>h</sup>lu-kluts (see Kalaitch)

Thoas<sup>1</sup> Greek [Thöon]

one of the Earthborn Giants
son of Uranus and Gaea

Thoas was killed by the Fates during the battle between the giants and the gods.

Thoas<sup>2</sup> Greek
king of Lemnos

son of Dionysus and Ariadne

husband of Myrina

father of Hypsipyle

father of Sicinus by Oenoe, some say

The only man to survive when the women of Lemnos killed all the other men for putting their wives aside in favour of Thracian concubines. His daughter, Hypsipyle, cast him adrift in a boat which came ashore on the island of Oenoe where he married a nymph of the same name, fathering a son, Sicinus. Other accounts say that he died with the other husbands on Lemnos.

Thoas<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Deiphilus.Nebrophonus]

a king of Lemnos

son of Jason and Hypsipyle

brother of Euneus

He became king after his grandfather, also Thoas, had been cast adrift by Hypsipyle.

He and his brother Euneus rescued their mother from Lycurgus.

Thoas<sup>4</sup> Greek

a king of Aetolia

son of Andraemon and Gorge

father of Haemon

He led the Aetolians in the Trojan War and was one of those concealed inside the Wooden Horse.

Thoas<sup>5</sup> Greek

a king of Tauris

son of Borysthenes

He was the guardian of an image of Artemis said to have fallen from the sky and sacrificed all prisoners to this image. When Orestes and Pylades came to seize this image, he captured them but they were saved by the intervention of Iphigenia who was acting as a priestess in the temple. He pursued the escaping party but was killed by Orestes.

Thobadestchin (see Tobadzistsini)

Thobadzistshini (see Tobadzistsini)

Thoeris (see Tauret)

Thok Norse

[Thauk(t).Thokk]

a giantess

She was the only living thing refusing to weep at the death of Balder so Hela refused to release him. It is suggested that she was Loki in one of his many disguises.

Thok-chho Buddhist

[Thahog-chos-rgyal-po]

one of the 5 Mahapancharajas

king of accomplishments

(see also Tsun-gyi-rgyal-po)

Thokk (see Thok)

Tholomer British

[Tolleme la Feintes]

a king of Babylon

He was originally a friend of Evelake but later waged war against him. Evelake defeated him with the help of Joseph of Arimathea.

In some accounts, he was the king of Sarras and is referred to as Tolleme la Feintes. Some say that he was converted to Christianity by Joseph of Arimathea.

Thom (see Atum)

Thomas of Enceldourne
(see Thomas the Rhymer)

Thomas of the Mountain British father of Tom Thumb

Thomas the Rhymer British [Thomas of Enceldourne.True Thomas]
(c. 1220-1297)

a poet and seer

He was said to have visited Elfland with the queen of that realm and was given the gift of prophecy. As a result, he was able to see the future and foretold the Battle of Bannockburn.

Thompson British
a potter

He was said to have found King Arthur and his knights asleep under Richmond Castle. When he tried to draw the sword which was lying on a table, some of the knights started to wake up so he dropped the sword and ran off.

Thon (see Thone)

Thon Pan Hla (see Hnit-ma-dawgyi)

Thonamun Thai
a king of the snakes

When the king, Sura Uthaka, upset the snake-king, the latter had his subjects dig tunnels under the capital city so that it subsided. He then coiled himself round Sura Uthaka and drowned him in the river.

Thonapa (see Thunupa)

Thone Greek

[Thon(is).Thonus]

a provincial governor in Egypt

husband of Polydamnia

In the stories that say that Helen was taken to Egypt, not Troy, she was said to have been held in the province governed by Thone.

Thonenli<sup>1</sup> North American

a Navaho rain-spirit

one of the Yei

Thoon (see Thoas<sup>1</sup>)

Thong Tilo African

a detiy, the king above

Thonis (see Thone)

Thonus (see Thone)

Thoos (see Thous)

Thoosa Greek

a nymph

one of the Nereids

daughter of Phorcus and Ceto,

some say

mother of Polyphemus by Poseidon

Thor Norse

[Ake-Thor.Aku-Thor.Atli.Hercules
Barbatus.Hlorridi.Hurler.Oku-Thor.
Red Beard.Thunderer.Vingthor:
=Anglo-Saxon Thunor:=German Dietrich.Donar:=LappHoragalles:
=Norman Thur:=Saxon

Thuna(e)r.Thunor=Slav Perenu] a thunder-god and fertility-god

son of Odin and Frigga,

Fiorgyn or Erda

brother of Balder, Hoder and Hermod

husband of Iarnsaxa and Sif

father of Lorrive, Magni, Modi and Thrud

Some accounts make Thor the father of Odin by Bestla.

As an infant he was so strong and unpredictable that his mother could not control him and he was tutored by Hlora and Vingnir.

At maturity he was given the realm of Thrudheim where he built a huge palace, Bilskirnir. It was said that, when he was angry, sparks came off his red hair and beard and he generated so much body heat that he was not allowed to use the Bifrost Bridge, wading through the river instead. His chariot was drawn by two goats, Tanngrisnr and Tanngniostr and when he was riding in the chariot he was known as Aku-Thor. He was given a magic belt, Megingjord, that doubled his strength when he wore it and a magical hammer, Mjolnir, which returned to his hand when thrown.
The hammer, which was a thunderbolt when he hurled it and which produced lightning when struck against a rock, was so hot that he wore a special grip called Iarn-greiper.

His first wife, the giantess Iarnsaxa, bore two sons, Magni and Modi; his second, Sif, who had previously borne a son, Uller, gave him two daughters, Lorrive and Thrud. When Loki stole Sif's long golden hair, Thor nearly strangled him, forcing him to return the tresses.

On another occasion he journeyed with Loki to Jotunheim with a view to forcing the giants to refrain from sending the icy winds which ruined the flowers. On the way, they collected two young helpers, Thialfi and his sister Roskva. They slept one night in what they thought was a house but which, by daylight, turned out to be merely the glove of the giant Skrymir who then led them to the palace of Utgard-Loki, king of the giants. To test the powers of the gods, the king arranged various contests. Loki tried to out-eat Logi, the king's cook; Thor tried to drink the contents of the giant's horn; Thialfi ran a race against Hugi; all to no avail. When Thor tried to lift the paw of the giant's cat he failed even to move it and he was beaten in a wrestling match by Elli, the old nurse of Utgard-Loki. When they left Jotunheim, Skrymir admitted that he had won all these events by the use of magic.

He once fought a duel with the giant Hrungnir who boasted that he would take over Asgard and, with it, Thor's wife, Sif. Thor killed the giant with his hammer but was himself wounded with a fragment from the giant's shattered flint club. As he fell to the ground, the dead giant's leg fell across his body so that he was unable to move until his young son, Magni, easily lifted the leg and freed his father. Thor gave Magni the giant's horse, Gullfaxi, as a reward.
Groa, a sorceress, tried to remove the flint fragment from his forehead but, forgetting where she had got to in her recitation of runes, failed to extract it.

His hammer was once stolen by the giant Thrym who would return it only if he were given Freya as a wife. Freya refused to leave her husband so Thor, dressed in her bridal clothes and with Loki similarly attired as a bridesmaid, presented himself to Thrym in Jotunheim. When Thrym produced the hammer, Thor seized it and killed all the giants present.

When the gods were invited by Aegir to a feast in his undersea kingdom, Thor and Tyr asked the giant Hymir for a kettle large enough to hold drink for all the gods. He and Hymir went fishing for breakfast.
Hymir caught two whales, just enough for their meal, and Thor fished for the Midgard serpent by baiting his hook with the head of Hymir's ox, Himinbrioter. He caught it and hauled it to the surface and would have killed it if Hymir, in fear, had not cut the line. When the two gods left with the huge kettle, the giants attacked them but Thor killed all of them with his hammer.

In the final battle, Thor killed the Midgard serpent but died in the flood of venom that poured from its jaws.
Some say that he also killed Garm.

(see also Hafra-drottin.
Reidartyr.Valdi Kjala)

Thora<sup>1</sup> Norse

daughter of King Hakon wife of Elf

She married Elf after the death of his first wife, Hiordis.

Thora<sup>2</sup> Norse

daughter of Jarl Herrand second wife of Ragnar Lodbrok mother of Agnar and Erik

Her father gave her an egg from which hatched a dragon which coiled itself around her house, allowing access only to her servant. Ragnar Lodbrok killed the dragon and claimed her hand in marriage.

Thora<sup>3</sup> (see Kaang)Thorah (see Torah)Thoralf Skolinson Norse

owner of the sword Quern-biter

Thorarin Norse

father of Thorstein

Thorbjorg Norse

wife of Holmkell mother of Ketelrid

Thord<sup>1</sup> Norse

son of Kari

This young boy was one of the Njalssons trapped in the house of his grandfather, Njal, when it was attacked by forces led by Flosi who burnt the house to the ground. He refused to leave his grandparents who put him between them as they lay quietly on their bed waiting to be overcome by the smoke and flames.

Thord<sup>2</sup> Norse

head groom of Bjarni

An argument with Thorstein about the result of a horse-fight led to blows and Thord struck Thorstein with his staff, cutting open his head. When later Thorstein sought an apology, he was rebuffed so he killed Thord.

Thord Freysgodi Norse

[Thord Freysgothi]
a priest of Frey

Thord Freysgothi
(see Thord Freysgodi)Thordis<sup>1</sup> Norse

a man who sacrificed a bull to the Light Elves to heal his wounds

Thordis<sup>2</sup> Norse

sister of Jokul wife of Thorstein mother of Ingimund

Thoror Norse
one of the 9 sons of Viking by his second wife

When the nine sons of Viking were attacked by the eight sons of Niorfe to avenge the death of their brother, Thoror and Thorsten were the only two survivors.

Thorgerd<sup>1</sup> Finnish
a storm-goddess

Thorgerd<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Bride of Helgi.Thorgerda Holgarbrud.
Thorgerther Holgarbruther]
a fertility goddess

Thorgerd<sup>3</sup> Norse
daughter of Njal and Bergthora
sister of Grim, Helga, Helgi
and Skarp-Hedin

She was trapped when Flosi's men surrounded the house but, with the other women and children, was given safe passage before the house was burnt to the ground.

Thorgerda Holgarbrud
(see Thorgerd<sup>2</sup>)

Thorgerther Holgarbruther
(see Thorgerd<sup>2</sup>)

Thorgestr (see Tuirgeis)

Thorgils (see Tuirgeis)

Thorgrim<sup>1</sup> Norse
[Thorgrimr]
a witch

With her sister Thorod she raised a storm that nearly wrecked Frithiof's ship en route to the Orkneys.

In other accounts, the two witches are Ham and Heid.

Thorgrim<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Thorgrimr]
a priest of Frey

He was killed by the outlaw, Gisli, who was his brother-in-law.

Thorgrim<sup>3</sup> Norse
[Thorgrimr]
husband of Olof
father of Trausti and Viglund

He was in love with Olof, the daughter of an earl, but her parents wanted her to marry a rich man, not the illegitimate son of a farmer. Thorgrim abducted her from the wedding ceremony and they eloped together and married.

Thorgrimr (see Thorgrim)

Thorhall<sup>1</sup> Norse
[Thorhallr]
a hero who sailed to Vinland

Thorhall<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Thorhallr]
a servant of Bjarni

He and Thorvald were sent by Bjarni to kill Thorstein who had killed Bjarni's head-groom, Thord. They were both killed by their intended victim who sent them back to Bjarni tied on to a horse. (see also Thorkell)

Thorhalla Norse daughter of Asgrim
wife of Helgi

She was trapped when Flosi's men surrounded the house of the Njalssons but, along with the other women and children, she was given safe passage before the house was burnt to the ground.

Thorhallr (see Thorhall)

Thorhild Norse
a woman of Njal's
household

She was trapped when Flosi's men surrounded the house but, with the other women and children, was given safe passage before the house was burnt to the ground.

Thorin Norse
one of the dwarfs

Thorir Norse
an earl
father of Olof

Thorkel<sup>1</sup> Norse
[Thorkell.Thorkil]
a man in dispute with Glum father of Sigmund

The argument was about a piece of land which they both claimed. Thorkel sacrificed an ox to Frey to ensure a favourable outcome but it did little good – Glum killed Thorkel's son, Sigmund, and was forced to give up the land which, at least according to Glum, he had illegally acquired from Glum's estate.

Thorkel<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Thorkell.Thorkil]
son of Geitir

In one version of the story of Bjarni, Helgi's father was killed by his brother-in-law, Geitir, and Bjarni killed Geitir to avenge his father's death. Thorkel then tried to exact vengeance on Bjarni but, after fighting and wounding each other, they became firm friends. In some versions, Thorstein takes the place of Thorkel and in others Geitir was not killed by Helgi but became his friend.

Thorkel<sup>3</sup> Norse
[Thorkell.Thorkil]
a Danish hero

He led a band of warriors to the underworld in search of treasure. Most of them were killed when they touched things or ate food in the underworld and few returned. Thorkel himself was so badly scarred as to be scarcely recognizable.

Thorkell (see Thorkel)

Thorkil (see Thorkel)

Thorleif Norse
[Thorleifr]
a rich merchant

Helgi and Geitir killed Thorleif's partner for his money but were frustrated when Thorleif sent the dead man's possessions to his heirs. Helgi then employed a man called Ketill to kill Thorleif but the two became friends, once again frustrating Helgi's plans.

Thorleifr (see Thorleif)

Thorn of Glastonbury
(see Glastonbury Thorn)

Thorn of Sleep Norse Odin's magic thorn which could induce sleep without aging or loss of beauty

Thorny Flowers Central American
an Aztec giant

At the beginning of the Fifth Sun, he and three other giants, Falling Eagle, Serpent of the Obsidian Knives and Resurrection, were given the task of holding up the sky.

Thorod Norse
a witch

With her sister Thorgrim she raised a storm that nearly wrecked Frithiof's ship en route to the Orkneys.

In other accounts, the two witches are Ham and Heid.

Thorstein<sup>1</sup> Norse
[Thorsteinn]
son of Thorarin father of Skegg-Brodi

In an argument about the result of a horse-fight, Thord struck Thorstein with his staff and cut his head open. When later Thorstein sought an apology, he was rebuffed so he killed Thord who was head-groom to the rich landowner, Bjarni. Bjarni then sent two of his retainers, Thorhall and Thorvald, to kill Thorstein but they too died at the hand of their intended victim. Finally, goaded by his wife, Bjarni himself went forth to exact vengeance. The two men fought each other to a standstill and ended up as friends, with Thorstein undertaking to be a loyal servant to Bjarni, who then took care also of Thorstein's father, an old man.

Thorstein<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Thorsteinn Ketilsson] husband of Thordis
father of Ingimund

He attacked and wounded a highwayman named Jokul but the bandit overpowered Thorstein and forgave him for the attack. Thorstein was even allowed to marry Jokul's sister, called Thordis.

Thorstein<sup>3</sup> Norse

[Thorsteinn]
son of Ingimund
father of Ingolf

He avenged the death of his father, who had been killed by a young relative, and then took over his late father's chieftainship and cleared the country of all the sorcerers and evil doers.

Thorsten Norse

the eldest of the 9 sons of Viking by his second wife husband of Ingeborg
father of Frithiof

When one of the brothers killed one of the nine sons of Niorfe in a quarrel, Viking banished him but all nine decided to go into exile. Viking gave Thorsten his sword, Angurvadel, and they went off to an island in Lake Wener where they were attacked by Niorfe's sons and only Thorsten and Thorer survived. The eldest son of Niorfe, Jokul, had conquered Sogn, killed the king, exiled his son Belé and turned his daughter Ingeborg into a witch. When Jokul twice called up storms that shipwrecked Thorsten, Ingeborg saved Thorsten from the sea.
In gratitude, he found her brother
Belé and restored his throne, returned Ingeborg to her former self and married her.

He and Belé, together with a former foe, Angantyr, mounted many raids at sea, recovering the ship Ellida stolen from his father, seizing the magic armlet from the tomb of Soté the pirate and conquering the Orkneys which were given to Angantyr.

Settling down after these adventures, Thorsten fathered a son, Frithiof, who,
as a child, played with the children of Belé, especially his daughter, also known as Ingeborg. When he and Belé died, they were interred in barrows in sight of one another.

Thorwald Norse

[Thorwald]
a servant of Bjarni

He and Thorhall were sent by Bjarni to kill Thorstein who had killed Bjarni's head-groom, Thord. They were both killed by their intended victim who sent them back to Bjarni tied on to a horse.

Thorvaror Norse

a physician

In the story of the feud between Bjarni and Thorkel, Thorvaror, who was Bjarni's doctor, also treated Thorkel when they were both wounded.

Thorwald *(see Thorvald)thorybism *(see poltergeist)Thot *(see Thoht)Thoht Egyptian

[Aah(-te-huti).Dhouti.Djeheuty.D(j)ehuti.

Eye of Horus.He Zur.Khons.Lord of

Magic.Lord of Sessenu.Lord of Time.

Tat. Techu. Thaut. Thot. Thouti. Tongue of

Ptah. Trismegistus. Zehuti. Zhouti:

=Greek Hermes. Tahuti. Tehuti:

=Phoenician Taaut]

god of art, law, magic, the moon,

science, time, writing, wisdom

god of Khnum

consort of Ma or Nehmetaway

father of Neferhor

He is sometimes regarded as the son of Ra but others say he was the son of Seth born from his father's head or from a lotus.

Originally he was a creator-god who brought into being the four pairs of deities from the primitive waters. He became the scribe and keeper of records, credited with the invention of hieroglyphics.

In the form of a baboon, he acted as a judge in the underworld, recording the weighing of souls in the balance.

He helped Isis in the resurrection of Osiris after he had been killed by Set.

He took over when Ra retired and was elevated to the heavens, though others say that Shu took over as supreme ruler. One of his duties was to stand in the prow of Ra's sunbarque, Manjet, to ward off enemies.

It was he who gambled with the moon and won five intercalary days which allowed Nut, who had been cursed by Ra so that she could not bear children in any normal month, to give birth to her five children.

He is depicted as having the head of an ibis or baboon.

Thouart *(see also Esden)Thoueret *(see Tauret)Thoueret *(see Tauret)Thoueris Greek

[=Greek Athena]
the Greek name for Tauret

Thoule *(see Thule)Thoume Kine Kimte Cacounce

North American

a creator-god of the Natchez Indians

Thous Greek

[Thoos]

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Thous, tore him to pieces.

Thousand and One Nights

(see Arabian Nights)

Thousand Named Egyptian

an epithet for Isis

Thout *(see Thoht)Thouti *(see Thoht)Thracias Greek

[=Roman Circius]

a wind from the north-west quarter

Thraell *(see Thrall)Thraetama *(see Thraetona)Thraetana *(see Thraetona)Thraetaona *(see Thraetona)Thraetona Persian [Faridun. Thraetama.

Thraeta(o)na. Thraitauna]

a hero

son of Thrita Athwya

He was the son of one of the first four men to press the divine drink, Haoma, from the fruit of the Gaokenera tree.

He fathered three sons (Eraj, Salm and Tur), on Ahaharnaz and Aranvaz, two of the wives of Azhi Dahak.

In a fight with Azhi Dahak he stabbed him and bound him with chains to Mount Demavand.

In some accounts, he is the same as Keresaspa. (see also Atar<sup>1</sup>)

Thrain Norse

a member of the Sigfusson clan

He was killed by Skarp-Hedin who cut out the dead man's jawbone. This started the feud between the Sigfussons and the clan of Njal, Skarp-Hedin's
father.

Thraitauna *(see Thraetona)Thrall Norse

[Thraell]

son of Heimdall and Edda

husband of Thyrr

Heimdall, visiting earth as Riger, fathered Thrall on Edda. Thrall married Thyrr, founding the class of thralls or serfs.

Thrasymides Greek

son of Nestor

brother of Antilochus

He, his father and his brother, fought with the Greeks at Troy.

Three Agents (see San-kuan)Three Ben *Central American*the third of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day many of the living things on earth, in the sea or in the sky were made.

(see also Ben)

Three Bodies Doctrine Buddhist

[Tri'kaya]

the doctrine that asserts that a Buddha has 3 levels of existence

These levels are referred to as nirmanakaya, sambhoga-kaya and Dharmakaya.

Three Cimi *Central American*the sixteenth of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day death is said to have come into existence.

(see also Cimi)

Three Door Gods Chinese

guardians of entrances

These beings were given the status of gods for devotion to the emperor, T'ai Sung, when they guarded his door against the demons of his dreams. Their names are given as Hu Ching-t'e, Ch'in Shu-p'o and Wei Cheng.

They are said to live near a peach tree, three million miles in circumference, in which there is a door through which the ghosts of the dead can return. The Door Gods are in charge of that door and throw evil ghosts to be eaten by tigers.

Three Eponae (see Demeter.Epona)Three Gods of Happiness

(see Fu Lu Shou)

Three Great Beings Chinese

[San Ta Shih]

a triad of deities

These three are the bodhisattvas Manjushri (or Wen Shu), Samantabhadra (or P'u Hsien) and Avalokitsevara (or Kuan Yin).

Three Great Men *Thai*the rulers of the earth at the time of the flood

These three, Khun Kan, Khun Ket and Pu Lang Seung, went to see the king of the Thens and returned to repopulate the world when the waters receded.

Three Isles of the Blest(see Fortunate Islands<sup>3</sup>)Three Isles of the Genii(see Fortunate Islands<sup>3</sup>)Three Lavatory Ladies

(see Keng San Ku-niang)

Three Mothers (see Duc Ba)Three Musketeers *Chinese*the 3 deities Chang Fei, Liu Pei and Kuan-tiThree Mystic Apes Japanese

[Koshin]

these apes are Mizaru, Kikazaru and Iwazaru

They are represented with hands covering respectively the eyes, the ears and the mouth – see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil.

Three Poisons *Chinese*the 3 animals at the centre of the Wheel of Law

These animals, a bird, a pig and a snake, are linked together inside the central boss of the wheel.

Three Pure Ones (see San Ch'ing)Three Purities, The

(see San Ch'ing)

Three Romances (see Mabinogion)Three Sovereigns, The Chinese

creator-gods

These three gods were Fu-hsi, Shen Nung and Yen-ti and, together with the Five Emperors, they created the universe.

Three Stars (see Fu Lu Shou)Three Theban Plays *Greek*3 plays by Sophocles based on the story of Oedipus

(see Oedipus)

Three Vaults (see San Tung)Threefold Manthe theory that man is composed of 3 parts

The physical body was regarded as comprising a mortal part, a divine part (the phren) and an ethereal part (the thumos).

The Romans regarded the soul as threefold – the manes, the anima and the umbra.

Thriac Greek

[Thriai]

the nymphs of Mount Parnassus

They were regarded as prophetesses and nursed the infant Apollo.

Thriai (see Thriac)Thride (see Thridi)Thridi Norse

[Third Person.Thride]

one of 3 mysterious deities visited by Gylfi, probably a manifestation of Odin

Thrimskvida (see Hammarsheimt)Thrita AthwyaPersian*

[=Hindu Trita Aptya]

a demi-god

father of Keresaspa
and Thraetona

His function was to protect man from disease and death. He was killed by Azhi Dahak who was killed by Thraetona to avenge his father's death.

Thrivaldi Norse

a nine-headed giant killed by Thor

Thror<sup>1</sup> Norse

one of the dwarfs

Thror<sup>2</sup> (see Odin)Throw (see Odin)Thrown Away North American

[Spring Boy]

in Creek lore, a boy who grew from a placenta

son of Turkey-Killer

When his wife was killed by a monster, Turkey-Killer cut open her abdomen and rescued their unborn son. The placenta, which he threw into the bushes, developed into another boy and Turkey-Killer reared them together. They caused a great deal of trouble and eventually killed their own father who became a crow. After that, the boys separated, one going east, the other west.

In another version, he was the twin of Lodge Boy who takes the major role.

(see also Lodge Boy)

Thrud<sup>1</sup> Norse

a giantess

daughter of Thor and Sif

sister of Lorrde

She was wooed by Alvis, a dwarf, and Thor, testing his intelligence, kept him up all night answering questions. When the sun rose, the dwarf, adapted only to the darkness of his underground kingdom, was turned to stone.

Thrud<sup>2</sup> (see Odin)Thrudgelmir Norse

a six-headed giant son of Ymir

father of Bergelmir

He was the offspring of the first giant, Ymir, produced from the sweat of his feet.

Thrudheim Norse

[Thrudvan(gar).Thrudvarg.Thruthheim]

the realm of Thor, site of his palace BilskirnirThrudr (see Odin.Thrudur)Thrudur Norse

[Thrudr]

one of the Valkyries

- Thrudvang (see Thrudheim)
- Thrudvangar (see Thrudheim)
- Thrudvang (see Thrudheim)
- Thrung (see Freya)
- Thrurrin Norse
one of the dwarfs
- Thruthheim (see Thrudheim)
- Thrym Norse
[Thrym(i)r]
a Frost Giant
god of ice
king of Jotunheim
son of Kari
brother of Beli and Thiassi father of Drifta, Frosti, Johul and Snocer
He stole Thor's hammer and said he would return it only if he were given Freya as a wife. When Freya refused to leave Odin, Thor dressed himself as a bride and, with Loki dressed as a bridesmaid in attendance, went to Jotunheim in the role of Freya. When Thrym produced the hammer, Thor seized it and killed all the giants present.
- Thrymheim Norse
[Thursar]
a forest glade, home of giants to which Iduna was abducted
- Thrymir (see Thrym)
- Thrymr (see Thrym)
- Thrymskvida (see Hammarsh Heimt)
- Th'uban Muslim [=Arab Tinnin]
a fire-breathing dragon
- thug Hindu
[phansigar.thag]
a devotee of Kali
- thuggee Hindu
the practice of strangling victims, used by the thugs
- Thule Greek
[Thoule.Thyle]
the most northerly country known to the ancient Greeks
This country could be Iceland, Norway or Shetland. (see also Ultima)
- Thulr Norse
a river in Niflheim, one of the 12 rivers known as Elivagar
- Thum (see Atum)
- Thummin (see Urim and Thummin)
- thumos Greek
the ethereal part of Threefold Man
- Thun-gyi-gyal-po (see Chos-skyon)
- Thunaer (see Thunor)
- Thunapa (see Thunupa)
- Thunar (see Thunor)
- Thunaraz (see Thunor)
- Thund Norse
a river which runs round the grove, Glasir, site of Valhalla
- Thunder North American
a god of many Indian tribes
The Coeur d'Alene people have a story that tells how Thunder kidnapped the wife of a hunter who then followed the couple to the god's home.
When Thunder went to sleep, the hunter stole all the god's shirts. These garments enabled the god to fly and without them he was quite helpless.
The Hauchnom tribe say that Thunder challenged the supreme god, Taikomol, but lost and was banished to the northern realms during the winter months.
Among the Kato, he was regarded as a creator-god, maker of man as well as of the earth.
The Lipan say that Thunder
quarrelled with the wind-god.
In Oregon, Thunder is regarded as an old man married to an old woman or, some say, to a tree.
In the lore of the White Mountain Apache, the contest for supremacy was between Thunder and the Sun.
- Thunder Animal (see Raiju)
- Thunderbearer Roman
a name of Jupiter
- Thunder bird (see Raicho)
- Thunder Boys North American [Little Men]
twin male spirits of thunder and lightning
sons of Kanati and Selu
These twins were known as Tame Boy, god of thunder, and Wild Boy, god of lightning. They are envisaged as wearing snakes for necklaces and cause thunder by playing ball in the sky.
- Thunder Child (see Raitaro)
- Thunder-darter Roman
a name of Jupiter
- Thunder-master Roman
a name of Jupiter
- Thunder Men North American
man-eating monsters in the lore of the Sioux
- Thunder Saint Burmese
a deity
When a princess, whose baby had been stolen by a dragon, prayed to this deity, he killed the dragon with a lightning-bolt and saved the child.
- Thunder-smiter Roman
a name of Jupiter
- Thunder Woman (see Kaminari)
- Thunderbearer Roman
a name of Jupiter
- Thunderbird<sup>1</sup> North American [Thunderer]
a name for the gods Hinun, Wakan Tanka Wakinyan and Wakonda
- Thunderbird<sup>2</sup> North American [Skyamsen.Thunderer:=Siberian Giant Eagle]
a spirit of thunder and lightning
The description of these beings varies from tribe to tribe. Sometimes they are human with the head of an eagle or wearing cloaks made from eagle feathers; others say that they are largely without definite form but have beaks with large fangs.
It is believed that they can make thunder by flapping their wings and lightning flashes come from their eyes.
Some tribes regard them as ancestors of the human race who played a part in the creation of the world.
(see also Thunderbird<sup>3</sup>)
- Thunderbird<sup>3</sup> North American [Skyamsen.Thunderer]
a totem figure of the American Indians This sacred figure was represented as an eagle, capable of lifting a whale, whose wings caused the sound of thunder and whose beak produced lightning. It is depicted as having a second head on its belly.
(see also Thunderbird<sup>2</sup>)
- Thunderbird<sup>4</sup> Siberian rain-spirits
In this case, the birds are ducks and it is said that it rains when they sneeze.
- Thunderbird<sup>5</sup> South American
a spirit of thunder and
lightning
This being features in the lore of several tribes who believe that the Thunderbird causes thunder by flapping his wings.
- thunderbolt<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [=Chinese Diamond Mace,Ju-i: =Japanese Nyoi:=Tibetan Dorje]
the embodiment of the power of the law
- thunderbolt<sup>2</sup> Greek
the weapon of Zeus
- thunderbolt<sup>3</sup> Hindu
the weapon of Indra (see also Thunderstone.Vajra)
- thunderbolt<sup>4</sup> Roman the weapon of Jupiter, known as fulgur
- thunderbolt<sup>5</sup> (see Sudika-Mbambi)

Thunderer<sup>1</sup>

a name for a thunder-god such as Baal, Odin, Taran, Thor or Zeus

Thunderer<sup>2</sup> North American

a Chinook fisherman

A giant killed four of five brothers and was pursuing the fifth when they came to a river where Thunderer was fishing. He threw the youth across the river to safety and invited the giant to cross the water over his prostrate body. He then tipped the giant, who he called Okulam, into the river where he drowned.

Thunderer<sup>3</sup> *(see Elias.Thunderbird)Thunderers<sup>1</sup> North American

3 emissaries of Hinun

Their function was to keep order on earth and to destroy evil monsters.

Thunders North American

2 fawns who were put in the sky as Thunders

A bear killed a deer and would have killed her two young fawns but they ran off. When the bear followed them, a lizard gave them shelter and killed the bear by inducing it to swallow some red-hot stones. To save the fawns from further trouble with bears he sent them into the skies where they make the noise of thunder as they move about wearing the dry, crackly skin of the bear which the lizard gave them.

Thunderstone Hindu

the weapon of Indra: a thunderbolt

(see also vajra)

Thung Thai

a king

When the people complained that wild animals, which the king's decree protected, were eating their crops, he told them to build fences. When this failed, he told them to build bamboo stars round their fields and these symbols effectively stopped the loss of their crops.

Thunor Saxon

[Thuna(e)r.Thun(a)raz:=German Donar: =Norse Thor]

a god of thunder

Thunraz *(see Thunor)Thunupa South American

[(Con Ticci) Viracocha.Conapa.

Pachaccan.Ta(a)pac.Tarapaca.

T(h)onapa.Thunapa.

Thunupu.Vicchaycamaya]

an Inca hero with magical powers

Thunupa was said to have appeared from the north with five disciples. He was able to raise mountains and was said to have brought the sun, moon and stars out of Lake Titicaca and worked other such miracles before disappearing into the sea.

Another version says that he carried a cross, preached peace and banned the worship of idols. He was killed by Makuri and his body was cast adrift in a reed boat on Lake Titicaca whence it sailed to Africa.

He is depicted as a tall, bearded man with blue eyes.

Thunupu *(see Thunupa)thupa Buddhist

the Pali version of the Sanskrit stupa

Thur French

the Norman name for the Norse god

Thor

Thuremlin *(see Daramulun)Thurisind German

a king of the Gepidae

father of Rosamund

Thursar *(see Thrymheim)Thurses *(see Thursir)Thursir Norse

[Thurses]

a name for the giants

These beings were envisaged as very hairy and with large ears.

Thviti Norse

the boulder sunk into the ground on the island of Lyngvi to which Fenris was forever bound

(see also Giall<sup>2</sup>)

Thyazi *(see Thiassi)Thyene Greek

one of the Hyades, in some accounts

Thyestes Greek

a king of Mycenae

son of Pelops and Hippodamia

brother of Atreus

father of Pelopia

father of Aegisthus by Pelopia

father of Aglaus, Callileon and Orchomenus by one of the Naiads

Thyestes was engaged in a feud with his brother Atreus over the throne of Mycenae and seduced Aerope, his brother's wife, who handed over the stuffed golden-fleeced lamb which was taken as proof of the owner's right to the throne. He also tricked Atreus into killing his own son, Pleisthenes. When Zeus reversed the motion of the sun, Thyestes abdicated in favour of Atreus who banished him from the kingdom. He unwittingly ate some of his own children killed by Atreus and served up at a meal. To avenge himself he raped his own daughter, Pelopia, who then married Atreus but bore Thyestes' son, Aegisthus.

The boy, when he was seven years old, was told by Atreus to kill Thyestes whom he had imprisoned but, recognising the sword the lad was carrying, Thyestes knew him for his own son and so avoided being killed.

When Thyestes confessed to Pelopia that he was the masked rapist, she killed herself with his sword. He gave the sword back to Aegisthus and ordered him to kill Atreus. This time there was no escape and Thyestes took over the throne of Mycenae once again. He was later driven from the throne by Agamemnon, son of Atreus, and fled to Cythera where he died.

Thyia Greek

the first woman devotee of

Dionysus

Thyiades *(see Bacchantes)Thyle *(see Thule)thymell Greek

an altar to Dionysus in the orchestra of a theatre

Thymius Greek

son of Phineus by his second wife,

Idaea

Thymoetes<sup>1</sup> Greek

son of Laomedon and Strymo

brother of Priam

father of Thymoetes

Thymoetes<sup>2</sup> Greek

son of Thymoetes

grandson of Priam

Thyone Greek

[Semele.'the raving queen']

In some accounts, wife of Dionysus, in others the name of Semele, his mother, after he rescued her from Hades and took her to Olympus.

(see also Dione<sup>1</sup>)

Thyoneus *(see Dionysus)Thyr Norse

wife of Thrall

She and Thrall are regarded as the founders of the class of thralls or serfs.

thyrsus Greek

the staff of Dionysus with a tip of pine-cone and twined

with ivy, used by satyrs and Maenads

Ti<sup>1</sup> Chinese

a title for an emperor regarded as a divine being

Ti<sup>2</sup> Chinese

an earth-goddess

consort of T'ien

Earth (Ti) and sky (T'ien) later joined to become the all-powerful creator-god, Shang-ti.

Ti ChünChinese*

[Lord of Heaven]
god of the eastern sky
husband of Heng Hsi and Hsi Ho

He was the father, by Hsi Ho, of the ten suns which one day appeared in the sky all together, instead of one per day. The heat was so unbearable that the archer I shot down nine of the suns, each of which fell to the earth in the form of a crow with three legs.

He also had ten sons by Heng Hsi who were moons.

ti hsienChinese* a Taoist immortal living on earth: a living saint

Ti JeanCanadian*

a hero

He killed a seven-headed monster and cut out all its tongues so that, when another man produced the seven heads and claimed to have killed the beast, Ti Jean was able to prove him a liar.

Ti Jean QuintoWest Indian*

a Haitian voodoo spirit envisaged as a policeman

Ti K'ang WangChinese*

a lord of the underworld

He was originally a monk and, when he died, he collected together a group of like-minded monks in the underworld. They made such a nuisance of themselves that the ruler returned Ti K'ang Wang's mother to the upper world as an animal and he was made a lord of the underworld.

Ti-kuanChinese*

[Agent of Earth]
one of the San-kuan

He had the power to grant absolution for sinners whose confessions, written on paper, were then buried in the earth.

Ti Malice(see Annency)Ti-miku(see Erem Tauga)Ti MuChinese*

[Earth Dumb.Earth Mother.Ti Ya]

a goddess, attendant of the god of literature Wen

Ch'ang Ti Chun as a groom

She was said to be dumb and so did not answer pleas made to Wen Ch'ang.

In some accounts, this deity mated with Hsüan T'ung-tzu to produce all the creatures on earth.

Ti-shihChinese*

[Yin-to-lo]

the Chinese version of Indra

(see also Wei-t'ö)ti-t'angChinese a shrine in which ancestral records are kept

Ti-ts'angChinese*

[Chin Ch'iao-chi.Chin Ti-ts'ang.

Earth-womb King.Ti-ts'ang Wang.Yüming Chiao-shih:=Indian

Kshitigarbha:=Japanese Jizo]

a ruler of hell

Ti-ts'ang was originally a Korean monk, Chin Ch'iao-chi, who founded a Buddhist sect in China and was known as Chin Ti-ts'ang by his followers. He died at the age of 99 and was deified as Ti-ts'ang Wang.

In one of many lives, some say he was a girl whose mother was an incurably wicked cannibal but Ti-ts'ang prayed so fervently for her when she died that she was saved from damnation.

He is depicted dressed as a priest and holding a khalkara.

Ti-ts'ang Wang (see Ti-ts'ang)

Ti Ya(see Ti Mu)Ti Yao(see Yao)Ti-yüChinese*

[Earth Prison]

hell: the underworld, ruled by Ti-ts'ang

TiaNorth American*

a god of death of the Haida Indians

Tiacapan(see Ticapan)TiahuanacoSouth American*

a ruined city

Said to be the home of a race of giants who lived before the sun was made. They killed the prophet who foretold the coming of the sun and were punished by being turned into stones when the sun finally rose.

Another account say they were killed for worshipping the moon-goddess, Ka-Ata-Killa.

TiamatMesopotamian*

[Amor(o)ka.Chaos Mother.

Great Mother.Mother Chuber.

Mother Tiamat.Tamtu.Tehom.Tham.

Tiawath:=Egyptian Apep.Apophis:

=Hebrew Leviatan.Rahab.Tohu:

=Sumerian Labbu:=Syrian Tauthe]

a Babylonian monster in the form of a she-dragon

deity of the salt-water

the female principle

consort of Abzu and Kingu mother of Lahmu and Lahamu mother of An and Kingu,

some say

When Ea killed Abzu, Tiamat attacked him with a horde of demons to which she gave birth. Ea and the other gods chose Marduk to lead them. Tiamat was slain by Marduk and her body was used to build the world. Her second husband (or son), Kingu, was killed at the same time and his blood was used to make mankind.

In some accounts, she was the sister of Shallak whom she married.

(see also Mummu)TiamuniNorth American

the first man, in the lore of the

Acoma tribe

son of Nao'tsiti

His mother was impregnated by the rainbow and bore twin sons. She gave one, Tiamuni, to her sister Ia'tiku and, when the boy reached manhood, he mated with Ia'tiku to produce the forerunners of the tribe.

tiang maleh rupaEast Indian* a formula which, it is said, will turn a man into a crocodile

Tiathdrom(see Tara<sup>3</sup>)Tiawath(see Tiamat)TiberinusRoman*

[Father Tiber.Volturnus]

a river-god, the Tiber personified

king of Alba Longa, some say son of Janus and Camise

son of Capetus, some say

He was drowned in the river which was named after him.

TiberiusRoman*

son of Brutus

brother of Titus

When their father deposed Tarquinius Superbus and set up the Republic, Tiberius and his brother plotted to restore the king. They were betrayed by a slave, tried and convicted. Their father pronounced sentence and watched while they were flogged and executed.

TibeertEuropean*

the name for Tybert in Dutch versions of Reynard the Fox

Tibert(see Tybert)Tibetan Book of the Dead(see Bardo Thodol)Tibir(see Tagtug)Tiburtine SibylGreek*

a prophetess

TicapanCentral American*

[Tiacapan]

an Aztec deity

sister of Teicu, Tlaco and Xocutin

These beings are regarded as four aspects of Tlazolteotl as a witch.

Ticci(see Tici)Ticci Viracocha(see Tici)*

- Tici South American [Ticci (Viracocha).Ticcu]
a name of Viracocha as 'beginning' (see also Illa)
- Ticotzicatzin Central American
major-domo to Papan
- Tide Jewels Japanese
a set of jewels giving control of the seas
These jewels were owned by Ryujin, Dragon King of the Sea and were given by his daughter to the prince,
Fire Fade, when they married.
Some versions say that there were but two jewels, both pearls. One, Kanji, controlled the ebb-tide, the other, Manji, controlled the flood-tide.
In some accounts, Ryujin's son,
Isora, lent them to the Empress Jingo for her conquest of Korea and later gave them to her son, Ojin.
- Tide of the Returning Ghosts
(see Hotoke-umi)
- Tie (see Tauret)
- Tiebaut de Bourges European
a Frankish knight
uncle of Esturmi
He was the leader of the forces fighting the Saracens at the Battle of Archamp.
- Tiécelin European [Týselin]
a raven in Reynard the Fox
He was tricked out of a piece of cheese by Reynard but escaped when the fox tried to eat him as well.
- T'ieh-kuai (see Li T'ieh-kuai)
- T'ieh-kuai Li (see Li T'ieh-kuai)
- Tieholtzodi North American
a water-god of the Navaho Indians
He lived in the third world inhabited by the Navaho and, when Coyote stole his children, he created a flood.
To escape the rising waters, the tribe and all the animals climbed up a reed into the fourth world. When the flood rose into this fourth world, Coyote released the captive children and the flood subsided.
- T'ien Chinese
['heaven'.Imperial Ancestor.T'ien-chu:
=Japanese Ten]
the supreme god of the Confucians, the heavens personified
consort of Ti Earth (Ti) and sky (T'ien) later became the all-powerful deity Shang Ti.
(see also Shang Ti)
- T'ien-ch'ün Chinese [Celestial Creature]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons
of Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien-chu<sup>1</sup> Chinese [Celestial Pillar]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien-chu<sup>2</sup> (see T'ien)
- T'ien-chung Chinese [Celestial Minor]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien Fei (see T'ien Hou<sup>1</sup>)
- T'ien-fu Chinese [Celestial Support]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien Hou<sup>1</sup> Chinese [Empress of Heaven.Chuan Hou.
Goddess of the Sea.
Heaven's Concubine.Holy Mother of Heaven.Lin Ma-tzu.Ma-Niang.Ma-tsup'o.Ma-tzu.Matron of the Measure.
Queen of Heaven.T'ien Fei.T'ien Shang Sheng-mu: =Japanese Marishiten] a sea-goddess, guardian of sailors daughter of Lin Yüan, Lin Ling-su or Ts'ai by Ch'en or Wang
She was originally the maiden Lin who died when she was only twenty-eight and was deified. She was reputed to be able to control the forces of nature and saved her family by abating a storm at sea merely by pointing a finger at the sea.
Models of the goddess are carried in Chinese ships to protect against piracy and stormy seas. She is often depicted flanked by her two attendants who are known as Thousand Mile Eyes and Fair Wind Ears.
- T'ien Hou<sup>2</sup> (see Chun T'i)
- t'ien hsien Chinese spirits (hsien) living in heaven
- T'ien-hsin Chinese [Celestial Heart]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien I Yüan Chinese
the celestial Ministry of Healing
This ministry was run by Fu-hsi, Huang Ti and Shen Nung.
- T'ien-jen Chinese [Celestial Official]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien-jui Chinese [Celestial Bird]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien Kou (see Heavenly Dog Star)
- T'ien-kuan Chinese [Agent of Heaven]
one of the San-kuan
- He had the power to grant happiness and confessions made to him were written down on paper and burned.
He is depicted in the robes of a mandarin, holding a scroll.
- T'ien-li Chinese [Celestial Principle]
the soul of the universe which emerged from the primordial chaos T'ien Li combined with Ch'i to form matter, Chih.
- t'ien-lu Chinese a mythical animal somewhat like a deer
- T'ien Lung (see Hsüan T'ung-tzu)
- T'ien Ming Chinese
celestial order and fate
- T'ien Mu Chinese
a goddess of lightning
a name for Tou Mu as Mother of Heaven, some say wife of Lei Tsu
She is said to cause lightning flashes by using two mirrors.
- T'ien Pao (see Yü Huang.Yüan Shih)
- T'ien-p'eng Chinese [Celestial Sail]
one of the Jen Wang, the 9 sons of
Tou Mu and Tou Fu
- T'ien Shang Sheng-mu Chinese a name for T'ien Hou as Holy Mother of Heaven
- T'ien-shih Chinese a 'celestial teacher' of Taoist doctrines
He is said to have received a revelation on Mount Ho-ming.
- T'ien T'an (see T'ien T'ang)
- T'ien T'ang Chinese
[Temple of Heaven.T'ien T'an]
the celestial palace
- T'ien Tsu Chinese
a deity of agriculture, a deified mortal
- T'ien Tsun Chinese
a collective name for Taoist gods
- T'ien-wang Chinese
the Chinese name for the Four Diamond Kings
- T'ien-wen Chinese a star
The cattle-god, Niu-wang, was said to be the spirit of this star.
- t'ien-wu Chinese [wu] a monster in the form of a sky-spirit with the body of an eight-footed tiger and 8 human heads
- T'ien-ying Chinese [Celestial Bravery]
the eldest of the Yen Wang, the 9 sons
of Tou Mu and Tou Fu

Tiermes Baltic

a Lapp thunder-god

Tiernmas (see Tigernmas)

Tiernon (see Teirnyon)

Tifenua Pacific Islands

[Pu-I-Tē-Muana]

a fertility god

son of Pusi

Tig Anglo-Saxon

[Tiu:=German Tiuz.Tiw(a).

Tiwaz:=Norse Tyr]

a war-god

Tigaranos (see Tārvos)

Tigaranus (see Tārvos)

Tigbanua Pacific Islands

a type of Buso

These beings are the most feared of the Buso since, not content with digging up corpses, they are forever trying to kill live humans to eat.

tiger

a large feline with a striped coat found in many eastern countries and their mythologies

(1) In Chinese lore the tiger is third of the Twelve Terrestrial Branches.

The north and winter are represented by the Black Tiger; the south and fire by the Red Tiger; the east and vegetation by the Blue Tiger; the centre and the sun by the Yellow Tiger.

It is also depicted as the favoured transport for various deities.

(2) In the East Indies it is said that there is a race of men who can appear as tigers.

In Sumatran lore, a sinner who prays for reincarnation may leave his grave in the form of a tiger.

(3) In Hindu lore the tiger is the mount of Shiva.

The Rajputs claim to be descended from tigers.

(4) In Japan the tiger is said to live for 1,000 years and its image is used as the emblem of warriors.

(5) In Malaysia these animals are said to be the incarnation of the dead or of the souls of sorcerers.

It is said that a man can buy a magic means of transforming himself into a tiger both in life and after death.

Tiger of the Moon (see Iqi Balam)

Tiger of the Night (see Balam Agab)

Tiger with the Sweet Smile (see Balam Quitze)

Tigeranos (see Tārvos)

Tigeranus (see Tārvos)

Tigernmas Irish

[Lord of Death.Tigernmus.

Ti(gh)ernmas.Tighearnach]

a Milesian high-king

son of Follach

He worshipped the idol Cenn Cruiach and indulged in human sacrifices. He was killed when the frenzy of the worshippers got out of hand.

Tigernmus (see Tigernmas)

Tigernonos Celtic

a title, meaning 'great king', given to various deities

Tiger's Claw (see Hu Chao)

Tighearnach (see Tigernmas)

Tighernmas (see Tigernmas)

Tigranes Armenian

a culture hero, a sun-god

brother of Tigranuki

His sister warned Tigranes that her husband Azdahah planned to kill him so Tigranes took the initiative and killed Azdahah.

Tigranuki Armenian

sister of Tigranes

wife of Azdahah

Her husband, god of darkness, the winter dragon, planned to kill her brother so she warned Tigranes who then killed Azdahah.

Tigridia British

sister of Darerca and St Patrick

wife of Gallo

She was said to be an ancestress of King Arthur.

Tigris Greek

one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Tigris, tore him to pieces.

Tihkuyi (see Sand Altar Woman)

Ti'htar Siberian

a supreme god of the Tungus

Tihugun North American

a good spirit of the Athapascans

He is said to live in the sun and the moon.

Ti'i (see Tiki<sup>1</sup>)

Ti'i-tapu Pacific Islands

son of Tiki

In some accounts he is regarded as the father of the human race.

Tijaz (see Tiwaz<sup>2</sup>)

Tikdoshe African

a half-bodied dwarf god of the Zulus

Any man who fights with this dwarf is killed if he loses but is given magic powers should he manage to win.

(see also Tikoloshe)

Tiki' Pacific Islands

[Ti'i:=Hawaiian Ki'i]

the first man or a creator-god

the procreative power of Tane

father of Ti'i-tapu and Tiki-ahua

In one version he was the first man, made from clay by Tane or fathered by Tane on Hine-ahu-one, the woman he made from sand. Alternatively he was the son of Rangī and Papa. In this version the first woman was Iowahine.

Another version says that both Tiki and Hina-ahu-one were made from sand by Tane and they mated to produce the human race.

Yet another version says that Tiki created a child in the sand which, when he returned later, had turned into a lovely woman, Hina. He married her and they produced children who populated the islands. Tiki created new islands as the population increased.

(see Kumu-honua.Tiki-ahua)

Tiki<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

sister of Veeteni

Tiki-ahua Pacific Islands

a primeval god of the Marquesas

son of Tiki

husband of Iowahine

He is said to have fished up the land from the bottom of the sea.

In some accounts, he was the first man, made by Tane. (see also Tiki<sup>1</sup>)

Tiki-kapakapa (see Hine Titama)

tiki-wananga Pacific Islands

'god stick': a charm in the shape of a phallus: a small statue of a deity

Tikikapaka (see Hine Titama)

Tikokura Pacific Islands

['storm-wave']

a Polynesian sea-god

Tikoloshe African

[Tokalosh.Tokoloshe]

a Xhosa monster

This ugly, hairy black dwarf lives in the river and chokes women who reject his sexual advances. He is said to be capable of becoming invisible from time to time. (see also Tikdoshe)

Tikshamanjughosha Buddhist

one of the 4 Manjugoshi

an aspect of Manjushri seated on a lion

Tiksnosnisa Buddhist

a god of the north-western direction

Tilantongo Central American

the realm of Eight Deer

Tilla Mesopotamian

a Hurrian bull-god, attendant

on Teshub

Tilleulenspiegel

(see Tyll Eulenspiegel)

Tilo

[Kajati.Lesa.Mkana.Mlenguwuwa.Mlengi.
Mlezi.Msungi.Mtaski.Nyangoi.
Nyifwa.Wanthazizose]

the sky-god of the Tonga

TilokaBuddhist*

the Pali version of the Sanskrit

Tri-loka

TilottamaHindu*a beautiful woman created by VishvakarmaThe brothers Sunda and Upasunda fought over her and each killed the other.In some accounts she is referred to as a love-goddess created by Brahma.Tilphusa

(see Telphusa)

Tilphussa

(see Telphusa)

TilpinEuropean*

(c. 753-800)

an archbishop of Rheims

He may be the same as the Carolingian archbishop, Turpin.Tima-te-kore

(see Timatekore)

TimagorasGreek*

a metic living in Athens

He loved the youth Meles who told him to jump from the Acropolis to prove his love. When he did so, Meles, in remorse, killed himself in the same way.Timaiti-NgavaPacific Islands*a primaeva female being in the lore of the Hervey IslandersThis being combined with Timatekore, the male principle, to produce Papa.TimandraGreek* daughter of Tyndareus wife of Echenus

mother of Laodacus

She left Echenus in favour of Phyleus, king of DulichiumTimatekorePacific Islands*

[Tima-te-kore]

a primaeva male being in the lore of the Hervey IslandersThis being combined with Timaiti-Ngava, the female principle, to produce Papa.TimbehesEast Indies*

[Mother of Many]

a mother-goddess in New Guinea mother of Bangar, Lean and Susianlik

She is said to have produced her children by impregnating herself with a banana. She taught them the art of reproduction and they became the ancestors of the tribes.timedifferent cultures have different modes of reckoning time, some of which are based on religious or mythological concepts–*Aztec*Time was reckoned in twenty-day periods known as cempohualli, each divided into four five-day periods. Four years were regarded as a year of the sun, and thirteen years as a bundle (xiumalpilli).
Four xiumalpilli made up a nexiuhpilitztlī. At the end of each cycle of fifty-two years, the world was expected to end and there was great rejoicing when the cycle passed and the prophesied doom failed to materialise.–*Hindu*The world has gone through four ages of varying lengths which, together with dawn and twilight periods, total 12,000 years. Each of these divine years equals 360 earthly years giving 4,320,000 for a complete cycle, the mahayuga. Yet 2,000 mahayugas are but one night and day of Brahma, a period, known as a kalpa, which equals 8,640,000 earthly years. One hundred kalpas equal a para which is the life of the universe and the universe is created anew by Brahma at the end of each such period. A fourteenth part of a kalpa is known as a manvantara. (see also yuga)–*Mayan*The solar year, the haab, had 365 days made up of twenty eighteen-day periods plus five intercalary days. The cycle of twenty periods was a tun and increments of this basic unit, multiplied successively by twenty, yielded the katun (c.
twenty years), the baktun (c. 400 years), the pictun (c. 8,000 years), the calabtun (c. 160,000 years), the kinchiltun (c. 3,200,000 years) and the alautun (c. 64,000,000 years).Another period, the tzolkin, had twenty thirteen-day periods, the month had twenty days and the day had twenty hours.

(see also day)

Timeas

(see Timeus)

TimeusGreek*

[Timeas]

son of Polyneices and Argia,

some say

brother of Adrastus and Thersander

TimiHebrew*a spirit of the underworld which spread diseasesTimiasEnglish*

a squire of King Arthur (Spenser)

Timirau

(see Tinirau)

Tin

(see Tinia)

Tin-le-gyal-poTibetan*[Prin-las-gyi-rgyal-po. Tin-le-gyi-gyal-po] one of the Panchamaharajas

king of magic or religious services

He is depicted with three faces and six arms, riding a lion. (see also Bihar)Tin-le-gyi-gyal-po

(see Tin-le-gyal-po)

Tina

(see Tinia)

tindaloPacific Islands*a ghost in the Solomon Islands: the spirit of one who has been posthumously deified: an oracle-deity

T'ing Chien

(see Kao-yao)

Ting LanChinese*

a devoted son

He made a wooden figure of his dead mother which he and his wife consulted as if it were his real mother.
The figure indicated that his wife should not lend a certain kitchen tool to a neighbour who, angry at the refusal, struck the effigy. Ting Lan got to hear about this and gave the neighbour a beating. Charged with assault, he told the magistrate what had happened and the magistrate came to inspect the statue for himself. He found the statue was shedding tears and acquitted Ting Lan.Ting-ling KuoChinese*a mythical land where the inhabitants have hooves like horses and hair growing out of their kneestingoiAfrican*good spirits of the Mende appearing as beautiful womenTinguian

(see Aponibolinayen)

Tingraa ruler of one of the 7 supposed firmamentsTini Rau

(see Tinirau)

TiniaRoman*

[Tin(a):=Greek Zeus:=Roman Jupiter]

an Etruscan supreme god, god of storms and thunder

consort of Uni

TinirauPacific Islands*

[Timirau. Tini Rau]

a sea-god

son of Vari-ma-te-takere

husband of Ina

father of Koro and Aroture

father of Tuhuruhuru by Hina-kehu or

Hina-uri, some say

son of Vari-Ma-Te-Takere
He abandoned Hina-uri, the moon-goddess who loved him, after their son was born. When Kae killed and ate Tinirau's pet whale, the sea-god killed Kae and ate him.

His home in the world coconut is below that of Atea and on the island of Motu-Tapu, the Sacred Isle.

He sometimes appeared as a handsome youth but is usually depicted as half-man, half-fish.

Tinne mac Conrach Irish

a king of Connaught
second husband of Maev,
some say

He was promised the province by Eochaid Feidhleach, king of Ireland, but when he killed Fiodhach, who was a suitor for the hand of the king's daughter, Maev, Eochaid deposed him and gave the province to Maev.

In some accounts, Maev took him as her second husband after leaving Conor mac Nessa who later killed Tinne in battle.

Tinnin Arab

[=Muslim Thuban]
a sea-serpent said to have been killed by Alexander

Tinnit (see Tanit)

Tinnus Roman

[Tannus]
a thunder-god in Gaul

Tino Tatta Pacific Islands

a creator-god of the Society Islanders

Tinoso Pacific Islands

[Tinyoso]
a hero of the Philippines

He is said to have had many adventures, both sexual and physical, including the liberation of the giant, Mauleon.

Tintagel British

[Dundage.Tintagil]
home of Gorlois
birthplace of Arthur

In later stories, this is the home of Mark, king of Cornwall.

Tintagil (see Tintagel)

Tintiya Pacific Islands

the supreme god of Bali

Tiny Flower North American

a Tewa hunter
husband of White Corn

When his wife was lured away by a Kachina rain-spirit, he sought help from Spider Woman and, using the magic pipe and lightning bolts which she gave him, he killed the Kachina and rescued his wife.

Tinyoso (see Tinoso)

Tiobraide¹ Irish

a king of Ulster
Eochaid Yellowmouth, who was in Ulster, was killed by men sent by his brother, the high-king Conn, to watch Eochaid who was a trouble-maker. Tiobraide took some warriors, disguised as women, to Tara where they killed the high-king.

(see also Fergus mac Leda)

Tiobraide² Irish

a monk
Mongan once assumed the guise of Tiobraide to gain access to his own wife, Dubh Lacha, who had been taken by Brandubh.

Tiopra Slaine (see Slane)

Tip of the Single Feather

Pacific Islands
an invincible hero of Flight of the Chiefs son of The Eldest

Tipa Pacific Islands

a Melanesian god of healing
The god's shadow appears in the form of a lizard.

Tipaka Thai

a flying horse owned by Sison

Tiphys Greek

a pilot of Argo
son of Hagnias or Phorbas

He died on the way to Colchis.

Tipitaka (see Tripitaka)

Tippakalleum (see Mailkun)

tipperu East Indian

a bull-roarer used in initiation rites
in New Guinea

Tippett, Michael English

a composer

He wrote the opera King Priam

tipua New Zealand

in Maori lore, these are shape-changing demons

Tir¹ Armenian

a god of wisdom and writing

Tir² Hindu

an arrow, one of the weapons of Durga

Tir³ Muslim

an evil spirit causing disasters
the son of Eblis

Tir fa Tonn Irish

[Land under the Sea.Land under the Waves.Tir fa Thonn.Tir fa Thuinn.

Tir fo-Thiunn]
paradise: Elysium

It was to this land that Gilla Dacar abducted some of Finn's men.

Tir fa Thonn (see Tir fa Tonn)

Tir fa Thuinn (see Tir fa Tonn)

Tir fo-Thiunn (see Tir fa Tonn)

Tir inna mBan Irish

[(Is)land of Women.Tir na mBan: =Welsh Annfwn]
a fabulous country visited by Bran

Bran and his crew stayed happily in this land for several centuries which passed like a single year. When they returned to Ireland, the one crew member who jumped ashore crumbled to dust. The island was also visited by Maeldun.

Tir inna mBeo Irish

[Land of Life.Land of the Living.
Tir na mBeo.Tir nam Beo]
the land of eternal life and good health: paradise: a fairyland away to the west

Tir inna nIongnadh Irish

[Land of Wonders.Tir na nIongnadh] an island visited by Conn in his search for a sinless couple

Tir na mBan (see Tir inna mBan)

Tir na mBeo (see Tir inna mBeo)

Tir inna n-Og Irish

[Land of Youth.Tir na nOc.Tir na n-Og.
Tir-nan-Og:=Welsh Underland]
the home of the blessed dead:
Elysium: a part of the Western Paradise

Tir na nIongnadh

(see Tir inna nIongnadh)

Tir-nam-Beo (see Tir inna Beo)

Tir na n-Oc (see Tir inna n-Og)

Tir na n-Og (see Tir inna n-Og)

Tir-nan-Og (see Tir inna n-Og)

Tir Taingire (see Tir Taimigiri)

Tir Taingiri (see Tir Taimigiri)

Tir Taimigiri Irish

[Land of Promise.Tir Taingire.
Tir Taingiri]
a fabulous island, home of Manannan

This was one of the islands visited by Brendan.

Tirawa (see Atius-Tirawa)

Tirawa-Atius (see Atius-Tirawa)

Tirawahat (see Tirawahut)

Tirawahut North American

[Tirawahat]
the celestial kingdom of Atius-Tirawa

Tiresias (see Teiresias)

Tiresias (see Teiresias)

Tiri¹ South American

a hunter or nature-spirit in Bolivia son of Ule

He was a hunter whose mother was killed by one of the four young jaguars whose lair she shared. Tiri was born as she died and continued to live with the jaguars. When he reached manhood, he killed three of the animals but the fourth escaped and was taken into the heaven by the moon.

Tiri<sup>2</sup> South American
a hunter or nature-spirit
in Brazil

He was said to have emerged from the trunk of a tree and was suckled by a jaguar. He later opened the tree trunk and all his tribe appeared.

Tirid Mesopotamian
a Babylonian storm-deity who caused terror

Tiriell<sup>1</sup> British a character in the works of William Blake
son of Har
brother of Zazal
father of Hela

He rebelled against his own father, imprisoned Zazel and then became a tyrannical ruler, killing many of his own children and turning Hela's hair into snakes.

Tiriell<sup>2</sup>
one of the 7 Intelligences, ruler of the planet Mercury

Tirre British
a knight of King Arthur's court
elder son of Bernard of Astolat brother of Lavaine and Elaine

Lancelot used his shield in the tournament, organised by Arthur, when he wore the red sleeve of Elaine.

tirthakara (see tirthankara)

tirthamkara (see tirthankara)

tirthanker (see tirthankara)

tirthanker (see tirthankara)

tirthankara Jain

[jina.tirtha(m)kara.tirthanker.tirthanker]

a prophet revered as a deity

It is said that with each fresh cycle of the universe forty-eight tirthankaras are produced who are regarded as superior to any gods and who are detached from all terrestrial matters and unaffected by change.

Other accounts refer to twenty-four such beings, all ascetics, who existed and preached the lore of Jainism even before Mahavira.

Tirrukural Hindu
a collection of poetic texts used in Shaivism in place of the 4 Vedas

Tirumal (see Mal)

Tiryak Hindu

[Tiryakloka]

one of the 6 gati, the region of beasts

Tiryakloka (see Tiryakloka)

Tirynthian Greek
a name for Heracles used by Spenser

tisalt Central American

a white powder

This was used by the Cihuateteo to whiten their arms.

Tisamenes (see Tisamenus)

Tisamenus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Tisamenes]

a king of Sparta

son of Orestes and Hermione

father of Cometes

He was driven from the throne by the Heracleidae and was later killed in battle.

Tisamenus<sup>2</sup> Greek

a king of Thebes

son of Thersander and Demonassa

father of Autesion

Tisander Greek

son of Jason and Medea,

in some accounts

Tishpak (see Tispak)

Tishtrya (see Tistrya)

Tisiphone<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Teisiphone.Tisyphone.'avenger']

one of the 3 Furies

Tisiphone<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Teisiphone.Tisyphone]

daughter of Alcmaeon by Manto

sister of Amphilochoch

Her father handed her over to Creon to be reared but Creon's wife sold her as a slave. Her father later rescued her.

Tisnavati East Indian

[=Indian Trishna]

a Javanese rice-goddess

Tispak Mesopotamian

[Tishpak]

a guardian god of Esumma

a name for Ninurta, some say

Tistrya Persian

[Tishtrya:=Roman Pluvius]

a rain-god and god of fertility

the star Sirius personified

one of the Yazatas

When the land was affected by draught, Tistrya descended into the sea, Vourukasha, and, in the form of a white horse, fought the demon of drought, Apaosha, as a black one.

He is sometimes depicted as a bull with golden horns, at others as a radiant youth.

Tisiphone (see Tisiphone)

Titaea Greek

[Titaea]

a name for Gaea as mother of the Titans

Titaea (see Titaea)

Titan<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Elder God]

any one of the 6 giants

fathered by Uranus on Gaea

The six giants are listed as Coeus, Crius, Cronus, Hyperion, Iapetus and Oceanus. Other versions include Atlas, Epimetheus and Prometheus. They had six sisters, the Titanesses.

Uranus had imprisoned his other offspring, the Cyclopes, in Tartarus and Gaea incited the Titans to attack their father and release the prisoners. In another version, all the Titans, Cyclopes and the Hundred-handed Ones were chained up in Tartarus. The leader of the Titans, Cronus, castrated his father with a flint sickle and took over the throne, marrying his sister Rhea, and putting the Cyclopes back into Tartarus. When the sons of Cronus, led by Zeus, rebelled, a ten-year war between the Titans and the younger gods ensued at the end of which the Titans were defeated and Zeus took on the role of Cronus as ruler of the universe. The defeated Titans (except Atlas who was condemned to bear the sky on his shoulders) were themselves incarcerated in Tartarus.

Some say that Zeus destroyed and burnt the Titans, making mankind from their ashes.

Titan<sup>2</sup> Greek

a name for Helios

Titanesses Greek

[Titanides:sing=Titans]

the 6 giantesses fathered by

Uranus on Gaea

The six are listed as Mnemosyne, Phoebe, Rhea, Tethys, Themis and Thea. Other lists include Dione, Eurybia and Titania.

Titania<sup>1</sup> British

[=Celtic Mab]

queen of the fairies

wife of Oberon

Titania<sup>2</sup> Greek

a Titaness, some say the moon personified

Titania (see Gaea)

Titanides (see Titanesses)

Titanis (see Titanesses)

Titanomachia<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Titanomachy]

the war between the

Titans and the Greek gods

Titanomachia<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Titanomachy]

one of the poems in the Epic Cycle dealing with the wars between the Titans and the gods

Titanomachy (see Titanomachia)

Titeli'ture (see Rumpelstiltskin)

Titha Hindu

a name of Kama as fire

Tithonus (see Tithonus)

Tithonus' British

a poem by Tennyson

Tithonus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Tithonos]

a prince of Troy

son of Laomedon and Strymo

brother of Priam

husband of Eos

father of Emathion and Memnon

Eos kidnapped Ganymede and Tithonus to become her lovers. She chose to marry Tithonus and asked

Zeus to make her husband immortal which he did. But she had forgotten to ask Zeus to give him eternal youth with the result that Tithonus just got older and older but could not die.

When he was reduced to a mere shrivelled husk, Eos changed him into a grasshopper.

Tithonus<sup>3</sup> Greek

the Greek name for the Nubian god, Dedwen

Tithorea Greek

one of the 2 peaks of Mount

Parnassus, sacred to Dionysus

(see also Lycorea)

Titi South American

a progenitor of the Anti tribe

After the world had been destroyed by fire, Titi split open a tree from which emerged a maiden and the culture-hero Ule who mated and produced a new race.

Titia Greek

a champion boxer

He fought Heracles at the games and was beaten.

Titias Greek

king of Mariandyne

father of Mariandynus

In some accounts he is equated with

Tityus.

Titicaca South American

a lake in Bolivia

In some accounts, this is the lake from which the sun first arose and also the place of origin of the god Viracocha.

Others say that Ayar Manco and Mama Ocllo came down from the heavens to an island in this lake.

Titivil (see Tutivillus)

Titlachuan Central American

[Black Tezcatlipoca.Titlachahuan]

a malevolent god of the Aztecs an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as guardian of the north

As part of his everlasting struggle with Quetzalcoatl, Tezcatlipoca, as Titlachuan, took the form of a physician and offered to cure his rival of the sickness caused by the demons that harassed Quetzalcoatl. The cure consisted of getting him drunk on wine and, in that sorry state,

Quetzalcoatl seduced a girl (his sister, in some accounts) and, having been guilty of drinking and seduction,

Quetzalcoatl was banished.

He or Tezcatlipoca warned Nata

and Nena of the impending flood.

Titlachahuan (see Titlachuan)

Titthium (see Myrtium)

Tituabine Pacific Islands

a primordial female deity of the Gilbert Islands

consort of Tabakea

She and Tabakea produced all the other deities of the Gilbertese pantheon.

Tituos (see Tityus)

Titurel British

son of Titurisona

husband of Richaude

father of Frimutel and Richaude

father of Amfortas, in some accounts

He built the Grail Temple on top of Mount Salvat to house the Holy Grail which he guarded with the help of the Templars.

He married Richaude, a Spanish

princess, when he was over 400 years old and, when she died, he handed responsibility for guarding the Grail to his son Frimutel or, in some accounts, Amfortas.

Titurisona British

father of Titurel

Titus Roman

son of Brutus

brother of Tiberius

When their father deposed Tarquinius

Superbus and set up the Republic,

Titus and his brother plotted to restore the king. They were betrayed by a slave, tried and sentenced. Their father pronounced sentence and watched while they were flogged and executed.

Titus Herminius Roman

[Herminius]

a friend of Horatius

With Spurius Lartius, he helped

Horatius to defend the Sublician Bridge over the Tiber against the attacking Etruscans led by Lars Porsena.

Titus Tatius Roman

a king of the Sabines

brother of Arruns

son of Tarquinius Superbus

He attacked Rome to try to recover the women who had been captured by the Romans. The treachery of Tarpeia gave the Sabines an advantage and Romulus sought the help of Jupiter to stop the battle. The women ran between the contestants and peace was restored with Titus and Romulus installed as co-rulers.

Tityos (see Tityus)

Tityus' Greek

[Tityos.Tityos]

a giant

son of Zeus and Gaea or Elare

father of Europe

Some say he was one of the Earthborn

Giants, son of Uranus and Gaea,

others equate him with Titias.

He was killed by Apollo, Artemis

or Zeus when attempting to rape

Artemis or Leto and was condemned to Tartarus where he was stretched out and fastened by his arms and legs to the ground, covering nine acres, while his liver was eaten by vultures.

Tityus<sup>2</sup> Greek

god of the waning year

It was said that he was killed by

Heracles at the winter games.

Tiu (see Tig.Tyr)

Tiuh Tiuh Central American

a Guatemalan creator-spirit in the form of a hawk

He is said to have killed Coyote after which he created humans from the blood of animals mixed with ground maize. When these humans bred to create the tribes, he led a force of warriors to the shore where, when a red staff was thrust into the water,

the sea parted to allow them to pass.

Tiur Mesopotamian

a scribe of the Armenian gods

He conducted souls to the underworld and recorded their deeds on their foreheads.

Tiuz (see Tiwaz)

Tiv Roman

an Etruscan moon-deity

Tivikrama Hindu

husband of Santi

Tivr East Indian

an ancestral hero of

New Guinea

He sent a bird to discover the cause of the noise in his wife's womb and the first bullroarer, Tokijenjeni, emerged.

Tiw (see Tiwaz)

Tiwa (see Tiwaz)

Tiwaiwaka Pacific Islands

a guardian on the road to paradise

Tiwanaku South American

the home of Viracocha

Tiwara African

a Bambara spirit of the wind

Tiwaz<sup>1</sup> German

[E(a)r.Erchtag.Ir.Tiuz.Tiw(a).Zio

Ziu(-Wara).Ziu(men)]=Saxon Tig:

=Norse Tyr]

a war-god

He is said to have had only one arm and, in some versions, was a huge wooden pillar or tree, holding up the universe, like Yggdrasil.

(see Hermensul)

Tiwaz<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

[Tijaz]

a sun-god

Tixe African

a supreme god of the Zulu

Tiy Egyptian

wife of Amenhotep or Amenphis

Ti'ykitiy Siberian

a sun-god of the Yakut

Ti'zil-Kutkhu Siberian

a guardian of the Kamchadal people

son of Kutkhu

Tizona Spanish

a sword of El Cid which was interred with him

Tjalon Arang Pacific Islands

a Balinese witch

It is said that she and her followers brought diseases which killed many people. Soldiers, sent by the king to kill her, were routed by the fire flashing from her eyes and the killing went on. The god Siwa told the king that only Bharada could help and the sage managed to get hold of the witch's book of spells. He was then able to cure those still alive and killed the witch.

Tjahepinu Egyptian

a pharaoh

father of Nectanebo

Tjapara Australian

[Moon Man]

a moon-god of the Bathurst

and Melville Islands

He went off with the wife of Purukupali who left her son to die in the heat of the sun. Tjapara fought with Purukupali who took his son's body and walked into the sea. Tjapara then became the moon.

Tjenenyet Egyptian

a goddess of Thebes

consort of Menthu

tjetajat Finnish

shamans: wizards

Tjinimin Australian

an ancestral bat

son of Kunmanggur

He stabbed his father in an argument about their sexual prowess and his father then dived into the sea taking all the fire with him.

tjukui Australian

the name for the dreamtime used by the tribes of the west and south

(see also alchera)

tjuringa (see churinga)

Tlachuepan Central American

an Aztec war-god

brother of Quetzalcoatl, some say

It is said that on one occasion he went to Tollan with Tezcatlipoca who fascinated the inhabitants by displaying a tiny infant (who was in fact, the god Huitzilopochtli) dancing on the palm of his hand. Many died in the crush to see this marvel and the remainder, angry at the loss of their friends, killed both Tezcatlipoca and the infant. The bodies then gave off a stench that killed many thousands of the Toltecs and more died when they tried to remove the bodies.

Tlacaoel Central American

an Aztec sage

Tlachtga Irish

a goddess

daughter of Mug Ruith

She was said to have been raped by Simon Magus. In another story she managed to produce three sons at one birth, each of them by a different father. She died in the effort.

In some accounts she is the same as Eire.

Tlachtliby Central American

[=Mayan Pok-ta-Pok]

a sacred ball-game of the Aztecs

Tlaco Central American

an Aztec deity

sister of Teicu, Ticapan and Xocutin

These beings are regarded as four aspects of Tlazolteotl as a witch.

Tlacolotl Central American

the owl which, in Aztec lore, is an omen of evil

Tlacolteotl

(see Tlazolteotl.Xochiquetzal)

Tlacotecuhtli Central American

an Aztec water-god

husband of Chalchiuhtlicue,

some say

Tlaelquani (see Tlaelquarni)

Tlaelquarni Central American

[Filtl-eater.Tlaelquani]

a name for Tlazolteotl as 'cleanser'

Tlahuicalpantecuhtli

Central American

[Lord of the (House of) Dawn.

Lord of the Light of Dawn.

Tlahuicalpantecuhtli]

an Aztec star-god, god of dawn

an aspect of Quetzalcoatl

He is regarded as the ruler of Teotl Tlatlauhan, the twelfth of the thirteen Aztec heavens and the supporter of the eastern corner of the heavens.

Tlahuitzin Central American

wife of Yappon

She and her husband were killed by Yaotl and became scorpions.

Tlahuizcalpantecuhtli

(see Tlahuicalpantecuhtli)

Tlaik North American

a sky-chief in the lore of the tribes of the northwest

He was killed by two sky-spirits and eaten by a sky-serpent.

Tlalecuhtli Central American

a Toltec deity

ruler of the second hour of the day

Tlalhuicole Central American

a warrior of Tlascal

He was captured on the battlefield and brought before the Aztec king, Montezuma, who was so impressed with the young man's prowess that he offered him his freedom. When he refused, asking to be sacrificed to the gods, the king put him in charge of a force which defeated the Tarascans. Again the king offered him his liberty and again Tlalhuicole refused. This time the king granted his wish and the Tlascalan was chained to the temalacatl (a commemorative stone) and faced combat with the best of Montezuma's warriors. After killing eight and wounding many others he was finally overcome and hauled to the teocalli (sacred pyramid) where his heart was torn out by the priest.

Tlalli-iyollo Central American

a name for Xochiquetzal as a love-goddess and goddess of flowers

Tlalnepantla Central American

a sacred site

This was the spot where Quetzalcoatl rested and wept, leaving a hand-print in the rock.

Tlaloc Central American

[Tlalotecuhtli]=Mayan (Xib) Chac: =Mixtec Tzahui:=Totonac Tajin: =Zapotec Cocijoj]

a rain-god of the Aztecs and Toltecs an aspect (south) of Tezcatlipoca husband and brother of Chalchihuitlicue husband of Xochiquetzal, some say father of the Tlalocs

In the Aztec creation stories, he became the ruler of the Third Sun. Quetzalcoatl had ruled for the 676 years of the Second Sun and had created a new race of people. Tlaloc caused a great wind which blew all these people away (except for a few who became monkeys) and took over for the period of the Third Sun which lasted for 364 years, after which Chalchihuitlicue became ruler of the Fourth Sun.

He is regarded as the ruler of Ilhuicatl Xoxouhcan, the eighth of the thirteen Aztec heavens, or of Tlalocan, the lowest of the three heavens.

In some accounts he is the father of Teciztecatl whom he burnt to make the moon. He owns four jugs from which he can pour rain, not all of it beneficial.

Other accounts make him an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as guardian of the south.

He is depicted as black, blue, red or white, with teeth like tusks, or as a toad wearing a serpent headdress or as a feathered serpent.

(see also Quiyauhtonatiah)

Tlalocan Central American

an Aztec heaven, lowest of 3, the home of Tlaloc and reserved for those drowned or killed by storms

Some say that this was the realm that provided a measure of happiness for the souls of the dead who spent their time eating, playing games and singing. After four years, they were reborn, allowing the possibility of improved status giving access to a higher heaven later on.

(see also Chamecaciuatl.
Ilhuicatl Xoxouhcan)

Tlalocs Central American

[Clouds.Tlalocues:=Mayan Bacabs]
minor Aztec rain-gods, the offspring of Tlaloc and Chalchihuitlicue

(see also Tlaloc-Tepictoton)

Tlalotecuhtli (see Tlaloc)Tlalocque-Tepictoton Central American
Aztec rain-gods, assistants to Tlaloc

These spirits supervised Tlalocan, the land of the dead. (see also Tlalocs)

Tlaltecuhtli Central American

[Tlaltecuhtli]
an Aztec creator-god and earth-god god of death, some say consort of Coatlicue, some say

This deity was said to have a huge body like a toad which was used by Quetzalcoatl and Tezcatlipoca to make the universe.

In some accounts, this deity is regarded as female and is the ruler of Ilhuicatl Tlalocan Ipan Meztli, second of the thirteen Aztec heavens.

(see Ilamatecuhtli)

Tlaltecuin Central American

one of the 4 sages of the Aztec migration

These four (the other sages were known as Chipactonal, Oxomoco and Xochicahuaca) were said to have invented the Aztec calendar.

Tlalticpac Central American

the home of Xiuhtecuhtli, the lowest of the 13 Aztec heavens

Tlalzicco Central American

[Navel of the Earth]
another name for Mictlan, the abode of the dead

Tlam African

in the lore of the Kabyle, the place below the earth from which the primeval buffalo and calf emerged

Tlamatzincatl (see Tezcatlipoca)Tlanuwa (see Great Hawk)Tlapallan Central American

[Land of Bright Colours.Tabasco.Xalac]
the land from which Quetzalcoatl came and to which he returned

In some accounts, this name is given to Quetzalcoatl himself.

Tlaltecuhtli (see Tlaltecuhtli)Tlauizcalpantecuhtli Central American

[Lord of the (House of) Dawn.
Lord of the Light of Dawn]
a name for Quetzalcoatl as the morning star

In Toltec lore, ruler of the twelfth hour of the day.

Tlazoleotl Central American

[Itzcuinen.Ixcuiname.Ixcuina(na).Ixquina.
Queen of Cotton.Temazcalteci.
Teteoinnan.Tlacolteotl.Tlaelquarni.
Tlazoleotli.Toci(tzin).Toxi]
an unclean goddess of the Aztecs goddess of childbirth, pleasure and death an aspect of Tonantzin consort of Tezcatlipoca

mother of Cinteotl and Xochiquetzal
In Toltec lore, ruler of the fifth hour of the day and the seventh hour of the night.

Devotees of this goddess were trained as prostitutes and killed after serving the soldiery.

In some accounts, she has four aspects, the sisters Teicu, Ticapan, Tlaco and Xocutin.

In some versions she is an aspect of Coatlicue as the eater of filth.

Tlazoleotli (see Tlazoleotl)tlecuil Central American

a god representing one of the gods, in the lore of the Aztecs

Tlehanoai North American

[Bekotshire.Khlenonoai.Moon-bearer] a moon-god of the Navaho Indians husband of Yolka Etsan

He and Tsohanoai found some soil and grew a reed that allowed the Navaho, on their journey from the underworld, to escape from the flood. As a reward, he was appointed Moon-bearer.

He is said to have created game and domestic animals.

Tlepolemeia Greek

a festival in honour of Tlepolemus, held in Rhodes

Tlepolemos (see Tlepolemus)Tlepolemos Greek

[Tlepolemos]
a king of Argos
son of Heracles by Astyoche or Astydamia husband of Polyxo

father of Deipylus

He killed his uncle Licymnius and fled to Rhodes. He fought at Troy and was killed by Sarpedon.

Tlesimes Greek

one of the Epigoni, some say

Tletonatiuh (see Quiahuitl)Tliewatuwadjigican North American

in the lore of the tribes of the northwest, a servant of Nascakiyelt

(see also Adawaulcanak)

Tlillan-Tlapallan Central American

the inhabitants of the second-highest Aztec heaven

These beings were believed to be fleshless.

In other accounts, Tlillan-Tlapallan was the second highest of the three original Aztec heavens, rather than its inhabitants.

Tlotli Central American

a hawk used as a messenger by the Aztec gods

Tloque Nahuague (see Ometeotl)

Tly Mesopotamian
daughter of Baal-Sapon and Pidray

Tm (see Atum)

Tmolus Greek
king of Lydia husband of Omphale father of Tantalus

He was the judge of the music competition between Apollo and Pan. He also judged the similar contest between Apollo and Maryas though others say that this contest was judged by the Muses.

Tmu (see Atum)

Tna'nto Siberian
a dawn goddess of the Koryak people

Tnceci'vune Siberian
one of the 4 dawn-goddesses of the Chukchee people

Tne'sqan Siberian
one of the 4 dawn-goddesses of the Chukchee people

to Burmese
a monster, part lion, part deer

Tnong Malay
a sun-god in the Malacca peninsula
This deity is envisaged as a dragon-fly.

To Japanese
[‘the way’:=Chinese Tao]
the guiding principle

To Fu Chinese
the yellow phoenix (see also ch'i-lin)

To-Kabinana Pacific Islands
an ancestor-hero in New Britain
twin brother of To-Karvuvu

A primordial god drew two figures in the earth and sprinkled them with his own blood, so producing To-Kabinana, the sun, and his brother To-Karvuvu, the moon.

He produced women by climbing a tree and throwing down two coconuts which broke open to disclose two beautiful girls. He also carved a wooden fish which drove other fish ashore so that he could collect them without effort.

To-Karvuvu Pacific Islands
an ancestor-hero in New Britain
twin brother of To-Kabinana

A primordial god drew two figures in the earth and sprinkled them with his own blood, producing To-Karvuvu, the moon, and his brother To-Kabinana, the sun.

When he tried to copy his brother's feats of magic he made a mess of things. The girls he produced from coconuts were either dead or had flat noses because he dropped the coconuts the wrong way up and the fish he carved was a shark which, far from driving fish ashore for him to collect, ate them.

He is said to have eaten the first woman.

To-Kwatsu Buddhist
in Japanese lore, the 8 hot hells

(see also Abuda)

T'o-t'a-li (see Li Ching)

To Wen Chinese

[=Hindu Vaishnavana:=Japanese

Bishamon:=Taoist Mo-li Shou]

a Buddhist guardian spirit of the north and winter

To Wo Buddhist

angry deities in Tibet

To'a-hiti Pacific Islands

a Tahitian deity

toad

an amphibian with long back legs in the manner of a frog

(1) In China, a three-legged toad is said to live in the moon and is regarded as a symbol of Liu Hai.

(2) The Greeks regard the toad as a symbol of Sabazius.

(3) The Romans believed that the toad carried in its head a stone known as the borax.

Toadpipe British

a demon in The Screwtape Letters by C. S. Lewis

On one occasion he was turned into a centipede by Screwtape.

Toa'lalit North American

[Toia'lalit]

a god of hunting of the Bella Coola tribe

Toar' East Indian

a priest of the sun-god of the Celebes

Toar' East Indian

son of Lumimu'ut, the first woman

His mother was made pregnant by the wind to produce Toar who, as a man, mated with his mother to produce the people and their gods.

Tob Tob North American

the 16 deities of the Sioux, aspects of Wakan Tanka

These deities are referred to as the Superior Gods, the Associated Gods, the Kindred Gods and the God-like.

Toba Japanese

an emperor of Japan

He took a fox-woman, Toji, as his concubine.

Tobachischini (see Tobadzistsini)

Tobadzistsini North American [Thobadestchin.Thobadzistshini.

Tobachischini]

a Navaho war-god and god of darkness

one of the Yeibeichi

son of Tsohanoai and Estanatlehi

son of Yolkai Etsan, some say

twin brother of Nayenezgani,

some say

He and his brother Nayenezgani were given feathers, to protect them from all dangers, by the spider-woman Naste Etsan. They travelled to the house of their father, the sun-god Tsohanoai, who accepted them as his sons only after testing them with spikes, scalding steam and poison. He then gave them weapons such as lightning with which to rid the land of monsters, the anaye.

They first killed the giant Yeitso and then the monster Teelget. They also killed the enormous beasts, with talons like eagles, known as the Tsenahale and plucked their feathers which changed into small singing birds. Other versions include adventures involving the killing of an enormous bear, the rock-spirit Tsenagahi and the people alleged to be able to kill just by looking, known as the Binaye Ahani.

Tobats North American

[=Navaho Tobadzistsini]

a trickster-deity of the Paiute

twin-brother of Shinob

brother of Cunawabi

Tobias Hebrew

son of Tobit

When his father was blinded by the excrement of sparrows, Tobias cured him by using fish-gall.

Tobikawa Japanese

a hunter

For a joke, he dressed as a tengu and climbed into a tree. The local peasants, thinking him a real deity, brought offerings and worshipped beneath the tree. When he tried to copy the antics of the tengu, he fell out of the tree and was killed.

Tobinus Streat de Montroy British
a knight of King Arthur's court

Tobit Hebrew

an ancient sun-god

father of Tobias

He was blinded by the excrement of sparrows but his son cured him by using fish-gall.

- Tobosaku Japanese [=Chinese Shou Shen]
a god of longevity
one of the Sennin
(see also Fukurokuju, Jurojin)
- Tocapo Viracocha South American [Tucupay, Tunapa]
son of Pachayachachic brother of Imaymana Viracocha
When his father created the earth, he gave Tocapo the task of naming all the things he had created. When the job was done, Tocapo resumed his place in the heavens. (see also Tocay)
- Tocay South American [Tokay]
an Inca king
In one story of the origins of the Incas, the land was divided into four parts, each ruled by a king, when the waters of the flood subsided. One king was Tocay, who was given the west; the others were Colla, Manco Capac and Pinahua.
In some accounts he is Ayar Cachi, in other versions of the story he is the same as Tocapo Viracocha.
- Tochipa Central American [Tochopa]
the creator-god of the Mohave Indians son of the earth-goddess twin brother of Kukumatz
father of Pukeheh
In some accounts, his brother caused the flood which drowned all the people with the exception of Tochipa's daughter, Pukeheh, who survived because her father had sealed her inside a tree. The human race was renewed when Pukeheh mated with Sunshaft and Waterfall.
- Tochmarc Emire Irish [Wooing of Emer]
the story of Cuchulainn and Emer
- Tochmarc Etaine Irish [Wooing of Elaine]
the story of Etain and her sisters (see Etain<sup>2</sup>)
- Tocho Japanese
one of the 5 dhyani-buddhas,
in some accounts
- Tochopa (see Tochipa)
- Tochtli<sup>1</sup> Central American the eighth of the 20 days of the Aztec month Symbolising the rabbit and south, the day was governed by Mayahuel.
- Tochtli<sup>2</sup> (see Ome Tochtli)
- Toçi Central American [Tocitzin]
a name for Teteoinnan or Tlazolteotl as 'grandmother' or as an earthquake goddess
In some accounts she is identified with Xilonen.
- Tocitzin (see Toci)
- Tocobatto
a demon of the dance
- Todtenschuh. (see Hel-shoes)
- Toeris (see Tauret)
- Togakushi Japanese
a god of wrestlers
In some accounts, it was he who pulled Amaterasu out of the cave in which she had hidden herself. (see also Tajikara)
- Togda Irish
[Topa]
a servant of Partholan
He had an affair with his master's wife, Dealgnaid, when Partholan was away. Some say he was killed by the angry Partholan.
- Toglas
a demon of treasure
- Togodumnas British
son of Cunobelinus
brother of Caractacus
- Toh (see Tohil)
- Tohil Central American
[The Rumbler, Toh]
a fire-god of the Quiche Indians
He was the tutelary deity of the clan of Balam Quitzé and was said to have brought them the gift of fire. He was turned to stone when the rays of the newly-formed sun fell on him.
- Tohoten Japanese
a guardian deity
one of the 28 Nijuhachi-Bushu
- Tohu Hebrew
[=Babylonian Tiamat]
a monster of primeval chaos
- tohunga New Zealand [=Hawaiian kahuna]
a Maori priest or shaman
These people perform normal religious rites such as funerals but are said to be able to converse with spirits, learning the secrets of the future.
- Tohwiyo African
divine founders of the Fon
- Toi-mata Pacific Islands
[Axe-Eye]
a Tahitian goddess daughter of Oro
sister of Ai-Tupuai, Hoa-Tapu and Mata-Fatu-Rau
She and her sisters accompanied their father in battle.
- Toia'lalit (see Toa'lalit)
- Toirdhealbhadh Irish
a sub-king
father of St Flannan
He was so impressed by the preaching of his son that he gave up his throne and became a monk himself.
- Toji Japanese
a fox-woman
She was a concubine of the emperor Toba.
- Tokakami Mesopotamian
a god of death of the Huichol Indians
- Tokalosh (see Tikoloshe)
- Tokay (see Tocay)
- Toki Norse
a famous archer
- Tokijjeneni East Indian
the spirit of the bullroarer, in the lore of New Guinea Tivr sent a bird to discover the cause of the roaring in his wife's womb and Tokijjeneni, the first bullroarer, emerged.
- Tokiwa Japanese
wife of Yoshitomo
mother of Yoshitsume
When her husband was killed by Kiyomori, leader of the Taira clan, she agreed to marry Kiyomori to save her children from death at his hands. She hated him and taught her son, Yoshitsume, to hate him too.
- Tokiyora Japanese
a regent
He travelled the country to find out how the poor lived and was entertained by Sano, an impoverished samurai who had been cheated out of his estates. When, at a later date, Sano appeared, very poorly equipped, to answer a call to arms, he was taken before Tokiyora who restored his lands and rewarded him with other villages.
- Toklok (see Dogedoi)
- Toko Tachi (see Tokotachi)
- Tokoloshe (see Tikoloshe)
- Tokotachi Japanese [Amanotokotachi, Toko-Tachi]
a Shinto creator-god, one of the 5 Separate Heavenly Deities
- Tokoyo Japanese
daughter of Oribe Shima
When her father was banished to a far off land by the emperor, Tokoyo went in search of him. She came upon a priest about to throw a maiden into the sea as a sacrifice to the serpent-god, Yofuné-Nushi, and volunteered to take the girl's place. Jumping into the sea, she met the serpent-god and killed him. She found an image of the emperor on the sea-bed and took this, together with the dead serpent, back to land. The return of the image returned the emperor to full health and, in gratitude, he recalled Oribe Shima who was re-united with Tokoyo.

Tokoyo-naganaki-dori Japanese the cockerel of heaven, herald of dawn

Tokoyo-no-kuni Japanese [Land of Eternity]
the world of the spirits: paradise

Toko'yoto Siberian
a guardian deity of the Koryak people

In some stories he is the father of Miti.

Tokubei Japanese
a 17th c robber

He successfully eluded his pursuers by the use of magic and disguise, sometimes taking the form of one of the group of frogs he lived with.

Tokudo Shonin Japanese
a Buddhist abbot

When he died, Tokudo found himself in the presence of Emma-O who instructed him to make known the existence of the Thirty-three Places, shrines sacred to Kwannon, giving him a seal which he could show to the doubters. Tokudo then returned to life and sent his disciples on a pilgrimage to the thirty-three shrines.

Tokugawa<sup>1</sup> Japanese
[Gangan Sama.Gengen Sama.
Ieyasu Tokugawa]
(1542-1616)
a shogun who unified the country

He was deified as Toshō dai-gongen.

Tokugawa<sup>2</sup> Japanese
[Giko.Mito-Komon.Mitsukum Tokugawa.Seizan]
(1628-1700)

grandson of Ieyasu Tokugawa
He was responsible for the destruction of hundreds of Buddhist monasteries and was deified on his death.

Tokutaro Japanese
a man deceived by foxes

Tokutaro refused to believe that foxes had power over humans and accepted a challenge to prove it. When a woman appeared, he suspected that she was a fox-woman and killed her, but she was a normal human and he was saved from death at the hands of her parents only when a priest pleaded for him. He undertook to become a priest and have his head shaved – only to wake up to find that his head had in fact been shaved by the cunning foxes.

Tokutaro-san Japanese
a male doll

These dolls, which represent a child of about two years of age, are said to bring good fortune if they are properly looked after. The female version is Otoku-san.

tol-ava Russian [=Cheremis tul-awa]
a Mordvin tutelary spirit, guardian of fire

Tola African
a chief priestess of Osun among the Yoruba

tolharubang Korean a statue of an ancestor venerated as a guardian of the village

Toli Mongol
a metal mirror used by a shaman in divination

Tollan<sup>1</sup> Central American [Tula(n).Tulla:=Toltec Tonatlan]
a city ruled by the Aztec god, Quetzalcoatl, in some accounts

In some versions, Quetzalcoatl destroyed this city when he left but others say that it was still in existence some 200 years later.

Tollan<sup>2</sup> (see Ilhuicatl Tonatiuh)

Tolleme la Feintes (see Tholomer)

Tollen Welsh
[Collen]

He is said to have fought and defeated Gwynn ap Nudd.

tolmen British in Druid lore, large stones placed so as to leave a hole

It was claimed that one could expiate one's sins by passing through this hole.

tolokende Pacific Islands
a ceremony to cure the sick

In this ceremony, a doll made of leaves is offered to the spirits in the belief that they will cure a sick person.

Tolomeo British
a chaplain, Merlin's scribe
Some say he was later made a cardinal.

Toltec Central American [Toltecatl]
a giant
son of Quetzalcoatl, some say

He is regarded as the progenitor of the Toltec people

Toltecatl (see Toltec)

Tom (see Atum)

Tom a'Lincoln British

[Red (Rose) Knight]

son of King Arthur by Angelica

He was reared by a shepherd and became a commander in King Arthur's army. He fathered the Faerie Knight on Caelia and the Black Knight on Anglitora with whom he eloped. She left him when she found out that he was a bastard and, when Tom followed her, she killed him. His son, the Black Knight, avenged his father by killing Anglitora.

Tom-Cat (see Bullkater)

Tom Thumb British

son of Thomas of the Mountain

Merlin foretold that Thomas' son would be no bigger than his thumb and this proved to be the case. He was fully formed as a man in a few minutes but grew no taller.

His godmother, queen of the fairies, gave him some wonderful gifts: a ring that could make him invisible, a hat that could impart whatever knowledge he needed, a belt that could change his shape and a pair of shoes that could carry him wherever he wished to go.

He was said to have been a friend of King Arthur. He had crawled into the sleeve of the giant, Grumbo, who shook Tom into the sea where he was swallowed by a fish. He met the king when the fish was served at one of Arthur's feasts.

Tom-Tit-Tot (see Rumpelstiltskin)

Tomam Siberian
a mother-goddess and bird-goddess of the Ostyaks

It is said that, in the spring, she shakes feathers out of her sleeves and these feathers become geese.

Tomartind Pacific Islands
a hero of Luzon

It is said that he made friends with a witch who gave him a rod which rendered monsters harmless and he had a tunnel dug so that he could travel to the land of the dead whenever he wished.

Tomiyauhtecuhli Mesopotamian
an Aztec fertility-god and rain-god

Tomo (see Tomomori)

Tomomori Japanese

[Tomo]

a hero who became a funa-yurei

His spirit was said to walk on the bottom of the sea and pull up the anchors of moored ships.

- Tomor Baltic
[Baba, Tomorr]
an Albanian creator-god and wind-god
- Tomorr (see Tomor)
- Tomorrow North American
mother of the south-east wind, in the lore of the tribes of the north-west
- Tomoye Buddhist
[=Chinese T'ai-chi.=Korean Tahgook] in Japan, a good luck talisman symbolising the revolving universe
- Tomozo Japanese
a servant of Shinzaburo
His master was entertaining Tsuyu and her maid, Yoné, both of whom had died, the former from unrequited love of Shinzaburo. To Shinzaburo, Tsuyu appeared as the beautiful maiden he had first met; to Tomozo she was the ghost of a dead woman and he ran to tell the sage, Yusai, what he had seen. With the help of a priest, Shinzaburo was able to keep the ghosts at bay but Tomozo took a bribe from Yoné and the affair was resumed. Next morning, Tomozo found his master dead beside the bones of Tsuyu.
- Tomsivi North American
a Cheyenne hero who is said to have introduced the sun-dance
- tomte Swedish
a guardian spirit of the household
This being lives in a tree near a house and dies if the tree is cut down unless it manages to reach the rafters of the house.
In some accounts, it is a spirit living in the forest.
- Tomwaya Pacific Islands
husband of Beyawa
He was so devoted to his wife that, when she died, he visited her in Vabusi, the home of the spirits of the dead.
- Tomwo'get Siberian
a creator-god of the Koryak people
husband of Ha'na father of Quikinna'qu and Tenanto'mwan
- tona' West Indian dwarf-like beings
In some accounts, the children abandoned by Guagugiana were turned into tona. Others say that they became frogs.
- tona' (see nagual)
- tonal (see nagual)
- Tonacacihuatl Central American
[Lady Nourishment.Lady of Our Flesh.Tzinteotl]
- the primaevial female principle of the Aztecs mother of Camaxtli, Huitzilopochtli, Quetzalcoatl and Tezcatlipoca, some say She combined with Tonacatecuhtli to create life on earth and, in some accounts, is identified with Omecihuatl.
This deity lived in the highest of the thirteen Aztec heavens.
(see also Chicimecohuatl. Citlalinicue.Ometeotl.Xochquetzal)
- Tonacatecuhtli Central American [Chicomexochtli.Lord Nourishment. Lord of Our Flesh.Tonacateotl]
the primaevial male principle of the Aztecs father of Camaxtli, Huitzilopochtli, Izinteotl, Quetzalcoatl and Tezcatlipoca, some say
It is said that he combined with Tonacacihuatl to create life on earth and, in some accounts, is identified with Ometecuhtli.
He drove four roads through the middle of the earth to drain away the waters of the flood which brought the fourth age of the world to an end.
This deity lived in the highest of the thirteen Aztec heavens or alternatively in Ilhuicatl Yayauhcan, the sixth.
(see also Ometecuhtli)
- Tonacajohua Central American
a female aspect of Cinteotl as 'sustainer'
- Tonacaquahuit Central American
the Mexican tree of life
- Tonacateot (see Tonacatecuhtli)
- Tonalamatl Central American [Book of the Calendar]
an Aztec book of divination
- Tonaleque Central American
an Aztec goddess
She is regarded as the ruler of Ilhuicatl Huixtotlan, the fifth of the thirteen Aztec heavens.
- Tonalpohualli Central American [=Maya Tzolkin]
a division of the sacred calendar of the Aztecs
This period of 260 days (twenty weeks of thirteen days each) was divided into five parts, one for each of the cardinal points plus one for the centre.
- Tonans Roman
a name of Jupiter as 'thunderer'
- Tonantzin Central American [Tonatzin]
an Aztec mother-goddess
She appears as Coatlicue, Cihuacoatl and Tlazolteotl.
- Tonapa (see Thunupa)
- Tonatiuh Central American [Pil(t)zintecuhtli.Young Prince]
an Aztec creator-god and sun-god
an aspect (east) of Tezcatlipoca
He is regarded as the ruler of the fifth age of the universe and lives in Ilhuicatl Tonatiuh, the fourth of the thirteen Aztec heavens or in Tonatiuhican, the highest of the three heavens.
- Tonatiuhican Central American [House of the Sun]
the highest of the 3 original Aztec heavens (see also Ilhuicatl Tonatiuh)
- Tonatlan Central American [=Aztec Tollan]
the home of the sun-god
- Tonatzin (see Tonantzin)
- tondi (see sumangat)
- Toneinili (see Tonenili)
- Tonenili North American [Grey God.Libabi.Toneinili.'waterer'] a Navaho rain-god
one of the Yeibechei
He is depicted as a dancing fool, wearing a blue mask.
- tong African
one of the 4 attributes of a king of the Alur, the shining spear
- Tonga' Pacific Islands
in Samoa, the southwest wind
- Tonga' Pacific Islands
the first woman, in the lore of Samoa
- Tonga-Hiti New Zealand
a headache-demon, one of the ponaturi
It is said that this demon and Kanae were the only two to escape when Tawhaki trapped the ponaturi who had killed his father.
- Tongatea Pacific Islands
wife of Ngaru
When she found that her husband was black and hairless, she left him but she returned later after he had bleached his body white and grown hair with the help of Tangaroa.
- Tongaiti (see Tangaroa)
- Tongue of Ptah Egyptian
Hu or Thoth as an aspect of Ptah
- toniwha New Zealand
a Maori spirit of fresh water
These beings are revered as ancestral spirits.
- Tonjo African
in the lore of Senegal, the drum which Marain Jagu took from the jinn
- tono (see nagual)
- Tonto (see Tonttu)

Tonttu Baltic
[Tonto]
a benevolent Finnish spirit of the household

Tonwenna British
wife of Dunvallo Molmutius mother of Belinius and Brennius

Too-lux North American
the Chinook god of the south wind
He cut open a whale and released the raven Hahness.

toolsey (see tulasi<sup>1</sup>)

toori akuma (see akuma)

Toothcracker (see Tanngniostr)

Toothgnasher (see Tanngrisnr)

Toothgrinder (see Tanngniostr)

Topa (see Togda)

Topa Huaco South American
one of 4 sisters, ancestresses of the Incas
(see also Children of the Sun)

Topa Ayar Cachi (see Ayar Cachi)

Tope<sup>1</sup> Norse
a torture-demon

tope<sup>2</sup> (see stupa)

Topileta East Indian
a gatekeeper in paradise
He intercepts souls en route to the land of the spirits and allows them to pass only when they give him a gift which, in the case of women, may be sex.
He is depicted as having very large ears.

Topiltcin (see Topiltzin)

Topiltzin Central American [Tōpiltcin]
a 10th c king of the Toltecs
This man, the last king of the Toltecs, was identified with Quetzalcoatl in some accounts.

Tophet Hebrew
a place of torment: hell
Tophet is a valley, south of Jerusalem, where, it is said, children were sacrificed to Moloch. The name, said to be an oven in which the victims were burnt, has been adopted as a synonym for hell.

Topoh African
a sky-god of the Pokot, the evening star son of Tororut and Seta

Tor (see Torre)

Tor Inis (see Tory Island)

Tor Mor Irish
the site of Balor's tower in Tory Island

tora Japanese
a sign (tiger) of the Zodiac

Tora Galles (see Horagalles)

Torach (see Tory Island)

Toran Buddhist [torana]
the gateway to a Buddhist temple

Torana. (see Toran)

Torc Triath Irish
[Orc Triath. Treithirne:=Welsh Twrch Trwyth]
the chief boar
This animal was said to be owned by Brigit, the Dagda's daughter.

Tore<sup>1</sup> African
an ancestral hero or forest-god of the Pygmies
This being is said to appear in the guise of a wind or a storm or as an animal such as a leopard.

Tore<sup>2</sup> African
a god of death among the Bambuti

Tore<sup>3</sup> African
a supreme god of the Logo people

Torec British
son of King Ydor and Tristoise husband of Miraude
A circlet that had belonged to Torec's grandmother, Mariole, had been stolen by Bruant. Torec defeated Bruant who told him that the diadem was now held by Miraude. When he tried to regain the circlet, Miraude said that she would marry him if he could defeat all the Knights of the Round Table. Gawain persuaded all the knights to co-operate and Torec was able to appear victorious, claiming the hand of Miraude.

Torem Siberian [=Lappish Turms]
a Vogul sky-god
He lives in a tent near the north pole to which he tethers his reindeer.

Totem-Talmas Siberian
deities, son of Torem

Torge Norse
lover of Joterna-jesta
The maiden he loved rejected the advances of the giant Senjemand who then tried to shoot her with a huge arrow. Torge threw his hat to deflect the missile and saved her life.

tori Japanese
a sign (cock) of the Zodiac

torii Japanese
a gateway to a Shinto temple
Some say that the gods sometimes use the torii as a perch.

Torito South American
a bird woman in the lore of the Incas sister of Aqua

Two brothers who escaped the flood came back to their hut one day to find food and drink already prepared. The elder brother watched and discovered that Aqua and Torito were responsible but they were frightened when they saw him and failed to return for some time. When they did come back, the younger brother trapped one of the bird-women and she lived with him for a long time, bearing a number of children who became the ancestors of the Canaris tribe.

Tork Armenian
a hideous mountain-god

torma Buddhist holy food: a cake used in rituals

Torna Eices Irish
a poet
foster-father of Niall

It is said that he rescued the infant Niall when he was abandoned by Mongfhinn, his stepmother, and reared him, taking him to Tara when he came of age. When he heard of Niall's death at the hands of Eochu, Torna died of grief.

tornait (see tornaq)

tornak (see tornaq)

tornaq North American

[tornak:plur=torna(i)t] an Inuit spirit controlling a shaman or, some say, the earth a form of inua

These beings are said to take the form of bears, humans or stones.

Tornasuk North American

[Great Tornak. Tornarsuk. Torngarsak]

a supreme Inuit deity ruler of the tornait

He lives in the underworld and may be variously depicted as a large seal, a bear, a warrior or a tiny midget.

(see also Torngasoau)

Tornarsuk (see Tornasuk)

tornat (see tornaq)

Torngarsak (see Tornasuk. Torngasoau)

Torngasoau North American

a supreme deity of the Inuit

(see also Tornarsuk)

Tornit<sup>1</sup> North American

an mythical race of giants in the lore of the Inuit (see also tornait)

tornit<sup>2</sup> (see tornaq)

Toro African

a creator-god of the Ngbandi people son of Kanglogba, the dragon-fly

Torongoi Mongol

the first man
consort of Edji

Tororut African

a creator-god of the Pokot brother of Asis husband of Seta
father of Arawa, Ilat and Topoh

Torquemada, Juan deCentral American*

a Spanish monk in Mexico who recorded much of Aztec religion and mythology

Torre British

[Tor]
a Knight of the Round Table
son of Pellimore
brother of Elaine

He was taken to Arthur's court as a youth by his cowherd father, Aries, who convinced Arthur to knight him before his wedding began. Merlin disclosed that he was, in fact, a son of Pellimore, who had forced himself on Torre's mother. At Arthur's wedding feast Torre was sent off to find the knight who had seized and ridden away with the white bitch that had chased the white stag into the hall, interrupting the proceedings.

He rode off and met a dwarf who required him to joust with two knights. He defeated them both and sent them to Arthur's court. The dwarf then attacked himself as servant to Torre and led him to the knight he was seeking. Torre retrieved the bitch from the knight's lady and set off back to Camelot. The knight, Arbellus, rode after him and they fought, with Torre toppling his opponent. He might have spared him, but a damsel rode up and demanded his head, claiming that Arbellus had killed her brother. He ran away but Torre overtook and killed him. When he returned to Camelot with the white bitch and the dead Arbellus, he was rewarded by the king who gave him an earldom.

He was one of those killed by Lancelot when he rescued Guinevere from the stake.

Tortain British

son of Eliaures
His father was forced by King Caradoc to mate with a bitch, a mare and a sow. The third coupling produced Tortain.

Torto European

a Basque demon
This being, whose only one eye is in his forehead, captures young people, cuts them up and eats them.

tortoise

a reptile with a hard carapace which moves very slowly

This beast is used to symbolise slowness of movement in many stories.

(1) The African Bulu tribe regard the tortoise as a quick-thinking trickster-deity rather than a plodder in the European tradition.

In one tale, he responded to a demand to bring water in a basket by asking for a strap on which to carry it – the strap to be made of smoke.

(2) The Chinese regard the tortoise as the animal on which the world is supported.

It is said that this animal can live for 3,000 years without food or air.
There are said to be ten types including a celestial tortoise which is described as having the head of a snake on a dragon's neck and its skeleton on the outside of the flesh.
Its four feet represent the four corners of the world.

It is regarded as the ruler of the north and the winter season and is known as Black Tortoise, Kuei Shen or Sombre Warrior. It is sometimes envisaged as the Great Triad, its body representing the earth with the upper and lower shells as the sky and oceans respectively.

(3) In Greek myths the tortoise is the symbol of Aphrodite, Hermes and Pan.

(4) In Hindu lore, the tortoise is said to be the form in which Vishnu appeared in his second incarnation, as Kurma.

The tortoise Chukwa supports on its back the elephant Maha-pudwa which in turn supports the earth.

(5) In Japan this animal is said to support the Cosmic Mountain, home of the sennin.

(6) In North America, some tribes believe that the world is supported by a turtle (or by four such animals) while others say that the world itself is a huge tortoise floating in the prim-ordial, waters.

The Delaware tribe say that the tree of life grows on the back of a tortoise.

(7) Some Siberian tribes say that Mandshire the supporter of the earth, is a huge tortoise which carries the world on its back.

Tortor Roman

a name for Apollo as tower

Toruguenket South American

the moon, Jacy, in its evil aspect The Tupi say that the moon falls and destroys the earth at the end of each age.

Torushompek South American

in the lore of the Tupi, the sun, Guaracy: the good principle

Torvatus

a demon who stirs up trouble

torx Armenian

demons causing earthquakes or volcanoes

Appearing as both demons and giants, these beings were enormously strong.

Tory Island Irish

[Tor Inis, Torach]
home of the Fomoiré

This rocky island was the site of Conan's tower and also the tower, Ture Bhalair, in which Balor locked up his daughter, Ethlinn.

*(see also Tor Mor)Tos-khan Siberian

a Tartar deity
son of Kudai
brother of Pyrshak-khan and Sulab

Toshitokujin Japanese

a goddess of lucky directions

Tosho-dai-gongen Japanese

the name given to the shogun, Ieyasu Tokugawa, when he was deified

*(see Tokugawa)Tosotsa-ten Buddhist

the Japanese version of the Buddhist paradise, Tushita Heaven

Tossarot Cambodian

a Lukabal
ruler of the white tevodas, the Khandas ruler of the east

Toste-mari Russian

[Sorta ketse, Sorta pairam]
a Cheremis festival of the dead, held in the weeks before Easter and Whitsun

On these days, it is said that the dead rise from the earth and walk in their own village. (see also Nelle parjam)

Tota Central American

a Mexican fire-god

totaphoth Hebrew

a talisman designed to guard against accidents or floods

Totaro Japanese

a man who befriended a shark-man Samébito had been dismissed from his post as servant to the Dragon Kings so Totaro gave him a home in his garden pond. Totaro fell in love with the lovely Tamana who would marry only the man who could give her 10,000 jewels. Totaro pined away and Samébito wept in sorrow. When Totaro saw the tears turn into rubies, he soon recovered. He persuaded Samébito to weep until he had collected 10,000 rubies and then claimed Tamana as his wife.

Totates British [Tutates:=Roman Teutates]
a war-god

Totailma'il Central American
an androgynous Mayan creator-deity tote-road shagamaw North American
a fabulous animal

Totec
[Our Great Chief]
a Zapotec sun-god adopted into the Aztec pantheon totem

a revered animal or object:
a symbol of a tribe, etc

totem pole North American
a carved and painted pole used by the Indians as a symbol of a tribe

totemism<sup>1</sup>
the use of totems: belief in a supernatural connection between humans and animals or objects

totemism<sup>2</sup> North American the belief that certain animals and birds were the ancestors of the tribes Admiring the qualities in animals which they would like to possess themselves, qualities such as cunning and speed, the tribes came to name themselves after the animal they most admired which became regarded as their ancestor and, eventually, as their tribal god.

totemist
a person or group indicated by a totem
Totochtin Central American
a god of intoxication

Totoima East Indian
a monster in Papua New Guinea
Totoima married a mortal woman and they mated, both in human form, producing children which were promptly eaten by their father who reverted to the form of a boar when they were born. When twins were born, he ate the girl but a shaman saved the boy and inserted the infant into Totoima's body where it grew immediately to manhood and burst out into the world and killed Totoima.

Totomono Japanese
a name for Kobo Daishi as a boy

Totoltecatl Central American
an Aztec fertility god

Totonge African
in Zaire, a huge mythical animal

Totrobonso African
a name of Nyame as 'rain-giver'

Tou Chi (see Shang Ti)

Tou Fu Chinese
husband of Tou Mu
father of the 9 Jen Wang

Tou Mu Chinese
[Tao Mu]
a name for Chun Ti as Mother of the Ladle wife of Tou Fu
mother of the 9 Jen Wang

In this role, she is the goddess of the constellation of the Southern Bushel (Sagittarius) and keeper of the registers of mortals and gods.

She was killed by Jan-teng Tao-jen who struck her with a pearl.

She is depicted with three eyes and eight arms, seated on a lotus.
(see also T'ien Mu)

Tou Shen Chinese
a tutelary goddess of smallpox mother of Chen Shen, Ma Shen, P'an Shen and Sha Shen
Her four sons help their mother in dealing with cases of smallpox.

T'ou-sheng Kuei
(see Heavenly Dog Star)

Touart (see Tauret)

toucan Malay
buttons made from the bill of this bird are said to detect poison by turning black

Toueyo (see Touyo)

Touia Fatuna Pacific Islands
a Tongan earth-goddess daughter of Kele and Limu

Touissant West Indian
a Haitian voodoo spirit

Touppart South American
a supreme deity of the Cariri people of Brazil

Toutates (see Teutates)

Toutatis (see Teutates)

Touyo Central American [Toueyo.Toveyo]
a name used by Tezcatlipoca

When Huemac's daughter saw a naked pepper-seller, Tezcatlipoca in disguise, she fell in love with him and, despite her father's objections, married him.

When the rule of the king, Huemac, descended into corruption and oppression, Touyo organised a mass meeting of the people and beating a drum caused them to dance themselves into unconsciousness and fall into a ravine where they were all turned to stone. He also destroyed a bridge on which thousands of people were standing and they too perished in the river below. As a result of this and the ensuing plagues the king repented his evil ways.

Toumou Egyptian
a god

Tovapod South American
one of the primordial beings known as the Vamo-pod, in the lore of the Tupari people of Brazil

He and Aroteh lived in a tent. When humans, who at that time lived under the earth, stole some of their food, the two beings dug down into the earth after them and, in so doing, made openings through which some of the people escaped into the upper world.

Toveyo (see Touyo)

Tovodu African
a guardian spirit or ancestral deity in Dahomey

Tow North American
twin brother of Tow-us-tussin
These twins are the Haida version of the War Twins.

Tow-us-tussin (see Tow)

Towaesendo North American
the Tewa version of the War Twins

Tower of Diamonds
(see Burju Alamasi)

Tower of Forgetfulness Chinese a tower in the tenth Taoist hell
Souls due for reincarnation are led by the Spirit of the Wind across a bridge to this tower where they are given a drink which causes them to forget their previous life.

Tower of the Winds Greek
a hexagonal temple in Athens devoted to Aeolus, god of the winds

Toxcatl Festival Central American
an Aztec festival in honour of Tezcatlipoca

This festival was held in the fifth month of each year and involved a youth who, for one year, reigned as the earthly embodiment of the god. His days were spent in idle pleasure in the company of four maidens with whom he mated and his nights in scouring the highways as Tezcatlipoca, the night-wind. On the final day he ascended the teocalli (sacred pyramid) and his heart was torn out by the officiating priest.

Toxeus<sup>1</sup> Greek
son of Thestius and Eurythemis brother of Althaea and Plexippus
He was one of the party hunting the Calydonian Boar and he objected when the pelt was awarded to Atalanta. For this, both he and his brother, Plexippus, were killed by Meleager.

Toxeus<sup>2</sup> Greek
son of Eurystus

Toxeus<sup>3</sup> Greek
son of Oeneus and Althaea
He was killed by his own father for disrespect when he jumped over the ditch being dug to protect Calydon.

Toxi Central American
a name for Tlazolteotl

Toyo Kumono (see Toyokumono)

Toyo Kuni (see Toyokuni)

Toyo-tama (see Otohime)

Toyo-uke-hime Japanese

[Toyo-uke no kami]

a Shinto food-goddess

She separated to form Kayanu-hime and Kukunochi.

In some accounts, this deity is regarded as an aspect of Ame-no-minaka-nushi.

Toyo-uke no kami
(see Toyo-uke-hime)

Toyokumono Japanese

a Shinto goddess

consort of Kuni-toko-tachi

These two deities were produced from one of the branches of the primeval god Umashiashikabihokoji.

Toyokuni Japanese

[Toyo Kuni]

the name given to Hideyoshi when he was deified

Toyotama (see Otohime)

Toyuga-nome (see Sakadonomaki)

Tozi Central American

an Aztec goddess of healing

Tperakl Pacific Islands

[Tepereakl]

a creator-god

husband of Latmikaik

He lived in the sky but his wife lived in the depths of the ocean.

Tpereakl (see Tperakl)

Trachas West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit

Trachinae (see Women of Trachis)

Trachmir British

[Trachmur.Trachmyr]

one of King Arthur's head

huntsmen

Trachmur (see Trachmir)

Trachmyr (see Trachmir)

Track of the Lightning

(see Raxa-Cakulha)

Traditions of Huarochiri South American

a book of Inca ritual and mythology

written in Quecha

Tragedie of Dido, The English

a poem by Christopher Marlowe

Tragedy of the Children of Lir

(see Oidead Clainne Lir)

tragelaph

a monster, part stag, part goat

(see also hircocervus)

Tragical Story of the Sons

of Uisnech, The

(see Longes mac Nusnig)

Tragmar (see Turbe)

tragopan

a monster in the form of an eagle with horns

Trailokaya Buddhist

the 3 worlds

Trailokyavijaya (see Acala<sup>2</sup>)

Trajan Roman

an emperor who was deified with the name Trojanus

Tramtris (see Tantris)

Tramtrist (see Tantris)

Tran-vu (see Huyen-thien)

Tranchera European

the sword of Agrican

Tranga (see Saubha<sup>2</sup>)

trano masino African

in Madagascar, a house built as the home for the spirit of a dead

king

Transcendent Dignitary Chinese

the doorkeeper in the palace of Yü Ti

Transcendent Goat (see Yang Ching)

Transcendent Pig (see Ling-chu)

Transeline British

in some accounts, a niece of

King Arthur

transfiguration (see metempsychosis)

transformation

many cultures (Buddhist, Egyptian, Hindu) believe that the soul can appear in new form (animal, plant or human) once or many times

Transformer North American

a trickster or culture-hero of some

Indian tribes

This being, variously known as Kivati,

Mink, Blue Jay, Raven and Chief Child

of the Root, is said to travel the country changing the scenery and animals into new forms.

transvection

the reputed flight of witches

through the air

Such flight was said to be on a broomstick, a poker or a spade. In later times, animals such as a dog, a goat, a ram or a wolf were said to carry the witches on their nocturnal journeys.

trapa Buddhist

a Tibetan monk

Trapusha Buddhist

one of the merchants who gave the Buddha sugar-cane when he broke his fast (see also Bhallika)

Trash British

a name for the bargaist

This name reflects the fact that this beast makes a splashing sound as it walks.

Tratr Hindu

a protective deity

Trausti Norse

son of Thorgrim and Olof

brother of Viglund

He and his brother were both wounded when they were ambushed

by Hakon who wanted to marry

Kitelrid who was in love with, and was loved by, Viglund.

Traveller, The (see Khons)

Trayastrimsa Buddhist

[Jaka.Trayastrins(k)a;=Hindu Svarga]

heaven: the home of Indra

This is the heaven to which the Buddha went to instruct his mother,

Queen Maya, who had died a week after his birth, in the new religion.

(see also Svarga)

Trayastrinsa (see Trayastrimsa)

Trayastrinska (see Trayastrimsa)

Treabhlann Irish

daughter of Angus Og

In some versions of the story of Fraoch, she takes the place of Findbhair and dies of grief when Midir tricks her into believing that Fraoch is dead.

Treanmhor (see Trenmor)

Treasure Bag of the Fianna Irish

[The Crane Bag]

the container in which the wealth and trophies of the Fianna were stored

It is said that this bag was made from the skin of Aoife who was killed when she was in the form of a crane. It was believed to hold many magical articles

as well as the money used to pay the warriors of the Fianna. It was seized by Finn mac Cool when he killed Lia, the treasurer of the Fianna, who some say had killed Cumail – leader of the Fianna and Finn mac Cool's father – to take the bag. Finn mac Cool gave the money to the survivors of the Battle of Knock.

Some of the treasures kept in this bag were Manannan's knife and his shirt, the belt of the smith Goibhniu, the bones of the pigs of Asal, the helmet of a Lochlanner king and a pair of shears once owned by the king of Alba. It was said that these items could be seen only when the tide was in and vanished from human sight when it ebbed.

Treasure Crown

(see Crown of Brahma)

Treasure-ship (see Takara-bune)

Treasures of Britain British

[Thirteen Treasures]

a collection of marvellous objects put together by Merlin

This list varies from one account to another and can include any of the following:

- chariot of Morgan (Cadair)
- coat of Padarn Redcoat (Pais Padarn)
- cauldron of Drynog or Diwrnach (Pair Drynog)
- dish of Rhyenydd (Dysgyl a Gren Rhydderch)
- gwyddbwl board of Gwenddolau (Tawlbrwdd)
- halter of Clydno
- hamper of Gwyddno (Mwys Gwyddno)
- horn of Bran Galed (Corn Brangaled)
- knife of Llaufrodedd (Cyllel Llaufrodedd)
- mantle of King Arthur (Llen Arthur)
- mantle of Tegau (Mantell)
- ring of Eluned (Modrwy Eluned)
- stone of Eluned
- sword of Rhydderch (Dyrnwyn)
- whetstone of Tudwal (Hogalen Tudno)

Treatise of the Way and of Virtue

(see Tao Tè Ching)

Trebizond

European

a horse of Guarinos

Trebuchet

British

a smith

He is said to have made the Grail Sword and repaired it after it was broken when Partinal used it to kill Goon Desert.

Trébuerden

British

a site in Brittany where a dolmen is said to be King Arthur's tomb

Tree maidens

Norse

[Wood maidens]

elves living in the trees and woods

Tree of Buddha (see bo-tree)

Tree of Heaven Egyptian

the tree producing the fruit which gave the gods their immortality

Tree of Intelligence (see bo tree)

Tree of Knowledge

(see bo tree, Jambustring, Parijata)

Tree of Life<sup>1</sup>

a tree appearing in many mythologies, often of unspecified species and having various functions, but always revered

(1) In Africa, Kilembe, the magical tree of life, was brought by the hero Sudika-mbambi when he was born.

(2) In Central America, the Nahua call the agave, from which they make pulque, by this name. The Mexicans call it Tonacaquahuit.

(3) Arthurian legends say that, in taking the fruit of this tree, Eve broke off a small branch which, after she and Adam had been evicted from Eden, she planted. It grew into a tree, all white, and cuttings from it produced white trees. It turned green when Abel was conceived and red when he was killed by Cain.

Solomon's wife had him build a ship which would last for hundreds of years to convey to Galahad his ancestry. The ship contained a bed with white, green and red posts, cut from trees propagated from the originals, and on this bed Solomon placed his own sword, inherited from his father, David, which later became known as the Sword of Strange Girdles.

(4) In the lore of the Dyaks, a tree which links heaven and earth.

(5) In Egypt, the Stauros, the cross of Horus, is also known as the Toh.

(6) The Hindu tree of life, known as Jambu and growing on Mount Meru, is regarded as the axis of the earth and the source of soma.

(7) The Irish version of the tree of life is called Crann Bethadh.

(8) The Korean version of the tree of life is the Sterculid tree.

(9) In Mesopotamian lore it is the symbol of Ishtar and Tammuz.

(10) In Siberia, the Yakut tree of life is known as Zambu and is said to grow in paradise. A dragon lives at the base of the tree and the goddess Kybai-Khotun uses the tree as her home. Two rivers are said to emerge from the base of the tree.

(11) The Tibetan version is known as Zampu which grows on the sacred mountain Himavan.

(12) In the West Indies, the Haitian tree of life is referred to as Grand Bois.

Tree of Mirrors

Central American

a name for Tezcatlipoca

Tezcatlipoca was given this name when he and Quetzalcoatl helped the four giants support the heavens at the beginning of the period of the Fifth Sun.

Tree of Wisdom

(see bo tree)

Tree of the End

(see Cedar of the End)

tree-squeak

North American

a fabulous animal

Tree-trunk God

Japanese

a name for Kimata-no-kami who was found in a tree when he was abandoned by his mother

tree-worship

[dendrolatry]

In Crete trees were regarded as deities.

In Greece, some trees and groves were regarded as sacred and dedicated to a particular deity.

Trees were the domain of the Dryads and some individual trees were the home of the Hamadryads who died when their tree was cut down or died.

(see also sacred plants)

trees

Hindu

an eagle carrying amrita to the moon was struck by an arrow fired by one of the asuras and the feathers thereby dislodged fell to earth and grew as trees

Trefuilngid Tre-Eochair

Irish

an ancient giant

He lived on the acorns, apples and hazel-nuts which grew on the branch of a tree he had brought from the Lebanon and told the council at Tara that the sun, of which he was the controller, had not shone that day because Jesus had been crucified.

Tregalen

British

in Welsh lore, the site of King

Arthur's final battle

In this version he was not killed by Mordred but died when archers shot him when he was chasing the survivors of the Battle of Tregalen through the pass of Bwlch-y-Saethu.

Tregeagle, Jan

British

a magistrate

He was said to have sold his soul to the Devil and, for his cruelty, he was condemned to empty Dosmary Pool on Bodmin Moor using a leaking limpet shell or to bind together a truss of sand.

Some say that his spirit is chased by the Wild Hunt.

Treithirne

(see Torc Triath)

trelque huecuvu (see huecuvu)

Tremeur British [Gildas, Judwal]

son of Cunomorus and Trepkina Cunomorus beheaded his wife Trepkina to prevent the birth of the son who, it was foretold, would kill him. He left it too late and Trepkina bore a son, Tremeur.

In some accounts, he is the son of Trepkina by Jonas and is also referred to as Judwal.

Trendhorn (see Trendorn)

Trendorn Irish [Trendhorn]

a servant of Conor
He had his eye knocked out by a chess piece thrown by Naisi when Trendorn was spying on him and Deirdre after their return from Scotland.

Trenmor Irish [Trenmhor]

son of Sualt grandfather of Finn mac Cool father of Cumail

Trentren South American

a supernatural serpent
The Araucanians say that this huge serpent, and another called Kaikai, caused the flood.

Treon (see Trewon)

Trepkina British

daughter of Warok wife of Cunomorus mother of Tremeur

Her second husband, Cunomorus, had her beheaded to prevent the birth of a son who, it was foretold, would kill him. He left it too late – she produced a son, Tremeur. The magician Gildas brought her back to life and, carrying her own head, she returned to the castle where, it is said, the walls fell in and killed Cunomorus.

Tresnawati East Indian

a Javanese rice-goddess
daughter of Bataru Guru
She fell in love with a farmer and came down to earth to marry him. Her father turned her into an ear of rice for her disobedience and the farmer then turned himself into a rice stalk, so that the two were united as the Pari Penganten.

Treta Yuga (see Tretayuga)

Tretayuga Hindu
[Treta Yuga]

an age of the world – the second – in which changes begin and men become less bound by duty (see also yuga)

Trevilian British

the only man to escape when the sea overwhelmed Lyonesse

Trevera Roman

Celtic mother-goddesses of Trier

Trevrezent British [Trevrisent]

son of Frimutel

brother of Amfortas, Herzelojede, Josiane and Repanse

He became a hermit and was able to tell Percival, when he arrived at his cell, that he could cure Amfortas if he would ask the right question.

Trevrizent (see Trevrezent)

Trewon Irish [Treon]

a giant
king of the Land of Maidens father of Bebhionn

Tri de Dana Irish

the 3 artisan gods of the Danaans

Credne the bronze-worker, Goibhniu the smith and Luchta the carpenter made the weapons used at the second Battle of Motyura. Not only were the weapons made at great speed, they were always fatal to those struck by them.

In some accounts the title refers to the three sons of Turenn.

Tri-Lochana Hindu

a name for Shiva as ‘three-eyed’

Tri-loka Hindu
[=Pali Tiloka]

the 3 realms of the universe

In some versions, the universe is divided into three realms, the underworld, earth and heaven, and Arupa-loka (the formless world), Kama-loka (the world of the five senses) and Rupa-loka (the formed but invisible world). An alternative version has seven or more realms.

(see also Sapta-Loka)

Tri-Novantum (see New Troy)

Tria Fata Roman [Fata]

goddesses of fate, assimilated to the Parcae or the Moirae

triad

a group of 3 deities

In many cases where a given culture has many gods, a group of three is especially revered. The Christian religion is said to be monotheistic and the Father, Son and Holy Ghost are to be regarded as one deity. This view would put them in the same category as many of the gods of other religions which have various names for one god according to the aspect under consideration, rather than in the groups of three separate gods. The membership of any triad may vary over time. Some of these are:

–Arab: Aglibol, Bel, Yarhibol Alilat, Manat, Uzza

–Armenian: Anahit, Aramazd, Vahagn

–Babylonian: Addad, Samas, Sin
Anu, Bel, Ea

Anu, Ea, Enlil
Ishtar, Samas, Sin

–Baltic: Patollus, Perkunos, Potrympus

–Buddhist: Jan-teng Fo, Mi-lo Fo, Shih-ch’ia-mou-ni

–Chinese: Lao-tzu, Pan-ku, Yü Huang

Lao-tzu, Ta-chun, Yüan Shih
T’ai-lao-tao, T’ai-shang-lao

–Christian: Father, Son and Holy Ghost

–Egyptian: Amon-Ra, Khons, Mut
Anuket, Khnum, Sati

Atum, Menthu, Ra
Banaded, Harpachrad, Hetmetit

Horus, Neith, Osiris
Horus, Renenutet, Sebek

Imhotep, Nut, Ptah
Imhotep, Ptah, Sakhmet

Isis, Osiris, Set
Kadesh, Min, Reshpu

Menthu, Seker, Ra
Nefertum, Ptah, Sakhmet

Osiris, Ptah, Seker
Sah, Sopdet, Soped

–Etruscan: Juno, Menfra, Tinia

–German: Donar, Tyr, Wodan

–Greek: Athena, Hera, Zeus
Core, Demeter, Iacchus

Hades, Poseidon, Zeus Hephaestus, Poseidon, Zeus

–Hawaiian: Kane, Ku, Lono

–Hindu: Agni, Indra, Surya
Agni, Indra, Yam

Agni, Surya, Trita
Agni, Surya, Vayu

Brahma, Shiva, Vishnu
Brahma, Rudra, Vishnu

–Irish: Ana, Badb, Macha
Badb, Brigit, Goibhniu

Badb, Macha, Nemain
Banba, Eire, Fohla

–Japanese
Buddhist: Amita, Kwannon, Seishi

Amita, Fugen, Monju
Shinto: Amaterasu, Susanowa,

Tsukiyomo
Minaka-Nushi, Kamimusubi,
Takamimusubi

–Mayan: Chac, Ek Chuah, Hobnil
 –Norse: Aegir, Kari, Loki
 Frey, Freya, Odin
 Har, Iafn-har, Thridi
 Odin, Frey, Thor
 Odin, Hoenir, Loki
 Odin, Ve, Vili
 –Polynesian: Rongo, Tane, Tu
 –Roman: Ceres, Liber Pater, Libera
 Juno, Jupiter, Minerva
 Jupiter, Mars, Quirinus
 Jupiter, Neptune, Pluto
 –Semitic: Attu, Ilmaqah, Sams
 –Sumatran: Batara Guru, Mangala Bulan, Soripada
 –Sumerian: Anu, Bel-Enlil, Ea
 –Urartian: Artinis, Khaldi, Theispas
 –Zoroastrian: Ahriman, Ahura
 Mazda, Mithra
 Ahura Mazda, Anahita, Mithra
 Ahura Mazda, Anahita, Vahagn

Triads, The Welsh

[Trioedd Ynys Prydein]
 a 6th c collection of poems which includes some Arthurian legends

Triamond English

[Knight of Friendship]
 son of Agape
 brother of Diamond and Priamond

In The Faerie Queene he fought all the other suitors for the hand of Canace and won her.

Trianor British

[Tryamour.Tryanon]

a witch

daughter of Olyroun

She seduced Launfal and gave him the trappings of a noble in which he returned to Camelot to expose the false Guinevere who he knew had taken over from the true queen at the wedding of King Arthur. When boasting of Trianor's beauty, he carelessly mentioned her name – something he had been forbidden to do – and all his fine clothes and wealth disappeared. The queen would have had him executed but Trianor went to Camelot, struck the false Guinevere blind and carried Launfal off to her magical fairyland or, in some accounts, to Avalon.

In some accounts, it is suggested that Trianor is yet another manifestation of Morgan le Fay.

Triastrinsu Buddhist

a group of gods

Tribog *(see Triglav)trident<sup>1</sup> Greek

the three-pronged spear of Poseidon

trident<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[trisul(a).trishula]

the symbol of Shiva as Bhairava

trick West Indian

a magic charm used for personal gain

Trickster<sup>1</sup>

a deity, demigod or a culture hero in many countries

(1) In Africa, the spider is the trickster in West Africa and in Dahomey it is Legba.

(2) In North America, Trickster is one of the five (or eight) great spirits created by Earth-maker.

The most widely known trickster is Coyote but there are others such as Inkotomi (Sioux), Manabozho (Chippewa), Nihansan (Arapaho),
 Old Man (Blackfoot), Rabbit
 (south-east), Sen'dah (Kiowa), Sitkonski (Assiniboine) and Wisagatac (Cree).

(3) In South America, Trickster is a deity in the Guianas where it is said that, in the early days, fish swam inside a large tree and men were permitted to shoot all but the large fish. Trickster ignored this rule and shot a dorado. As a result, the earth was flooded. Trickster saved the day by using his spear to open up a channel which drained the waters off to the sea.

In other stories, the fox plays the part of the trickster in Chaco lore, the moon in Apinaye lore.

Trigaranos *(see Tarvos)Trigaranus *(see Tarvos)Trigelawus *(see Triglav)Triglav Baltic

[Tribog.Trigelawus]

a war-god

an aspect of Svantevit

He was depicted as having three heads covered with veils and was later regarded as a god of disease.

trigon

the junction of 3 astrological signs

There are four such junctions said to represent the airy, earthly, fiery and watery aspects.

Trikantikadevi Hindu

a terrible goddess

Trikaya *(see Three Bodies Doctrine)Trikona Buddhist

triangle: the Buddha in a seated position

Trikurat Burmese

a forest-spirit

a nat who helps the hunter

Trikuta Hindu

Ravana's fortress, destroyed by Rama

Triloka *(see Tri-loka)Trimurti Hindu

[Parama.Sarvatma.Trishiras]

the trinity of gods, Brahma, Shiva and Vishnu

They are sometimes depicted as a triple-headed deity.

Trinavarta Hindu

a demon

In one story, he took the form of a whirlwind to kidnap the infant Krishna but the god kicked him over a cliff and killed him.

Tringad Welsh

father of Gwyn

He was able to tell King Arthur where to find the bitch Rhymhi and her two whelps which had been attacking his flocks.

Trinovantum *(see Trinoventum)Trinoventum British [Trinovantum]

an early name for London

(see also New Troy)

Trioedd Ynys Prydein *(see Triads)Triopas<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Triops.'three-eye']

a king of Dolion

son of Poseidon and Canace

father of Erysichthon and Iphimedia

In some accounts, he is the same as Triopas, son of Helios and Rhode.

Triopas<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Triops.'three-eye']

an ancient sky-god

son of Helios and Rhode

In some accounts, he is the same as Triopas, the son of Poseidon and Canace.

Triopas<sup>3</sup> Greek

[Triops.'three-eye']

a king of Argus

son of Phorbas

father of Agenor, Iasus and Pelasgus

Triops *(see Triopas)Tripada Hindu

a god of fever

Triphis<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

a lion-goddess of the Upper Kingdom

Triphis<sup>2</sup> *(see Hathor)Tripitaka<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Tipitaka.Tripitaka]

the complete canon of Buddhist writings

The work comprises three collections, the Abhidharma Pitaka – there are different versions of this collection but they all contain similar ideas and material, the Sutta Pitaka which contains accounts of Buddha's teachings and the Vinaya Pitaka, a code of ethics.

In English, it runs to 136 volumes.

Tripitaka<sup>2</sup> Chinese

[Ch'en Kuang-ju. Hsüan-tsang.

Kosa. T'ang Seng. Tipitaka. Tripiṭhaka] (602-664)

the name taken by Ch'en Kuang-ju when he became a monk

He travelled from China to India to obtain the Buddhist scriptures.

In one version, the emperor gave him a white horse for the journey but this animal was swallowed by a dragon so Tripitaka rode the dragon instead. His mortal companion on the journey was the priest, Sha Ho-shang, and they were guided and advised by the monkey-god, Hanuman, in the form of Sun Hou-tzu, and helped by Chu Pa-chieh, a piglike god. Buddha had arranged eighty-one tests for the pilgrim, all of which, with the help of his companions, he overcame.

An alternative story says that Ch'en married Wen-chiao, daughter of Yin K'ai Shan. She caught the fancy of the boatman, Liu Hung, who killed Ch'en and assumed his identity. When her child by Ch'en was born, Wen-chiao cast the boy adrift on the Yangtze from which he was rescued by a monk, Chang Lao. When the boy was of age, he took the name Hsüan Tsang and went in search of his family. He found his grandmother and his mother who gave him a letter for her father, Yin K'ai Shan, who came to her aid and killed the imposter, Liu Hung. The body of Ch'en then appeared out of the river and he came back to life, having been preserved by the Dragon King, Lung Wang, who had once, in the form of a carp, been treated kindly by Ch'en. Later, Hsüan Tsang was chosen to travel to India to receive the Buddhist scriptures.

He translated the Abhidharmakosa used by the Kosa sect and founded the Fa-hsing School.

Tripiṭhaka (see Tripitaka)

Triple Goddess<sup>1</sup>

[Triune Goddess]

a version of the White Goddess earth, sky, underworld

She is said to change from white to red to black with the waning of the moon.

(see also triad)

Triple Goddess<sup>2</sup> Irish

[Triune Goddess]

a group of 3 goddesses regarded as a triune goddess or as 3 aspects of the same deity

Ana, Badb and Macha, were sometimes regarded as comprising the triune goddess Morrigan. Banba, Eire and Fohla were regarded as aspects of Brigit. (see also triad)

Triple Muse Greek

the 3 original Muses, Calliope, Erato and Urania

tripod Greek

the three-legged stool of the priestess of the oracle of Delphi

tripodero North American

a fabulous animal with 3 legs

Triptolemos (see Triptolemus)

Triptolemus Greek

[Triptolemos]

a prince of Eleusis

son of Celeus and Metaneira or of Ocean and Gaea

son of Dysaules in some accounts brother of Demophoon

In some stories it was he who, as a baby, was placed in the fire to achieve immortality by Demeter who was temporarily employed as his wet nurse; in other versions, the baby was his brother Demophoon. In either case, the baby was snatched back by its mother and, though unharmed, did not achieve immortality. Some versions say that Demophoon was burned to death.

Other stories say that it was he who told Demeter where to find her daughter who had been abducted by Hades and, after Demeter had got her daughter back, she returned to teach Triptolemus the science of agriculture which he spread throughout the land. When Lynceus, king of Scythia, tried to kill her protégé, Demeter turned the king into a lynx.

Some versions describe him as a god depicted aboard the chariot drawn by winged serpents which Demeter gave him to compensate for the loss of his brother. Others say that he became a judge in the underworld with Rhadamanthos and Minos.

He was said to have promulgated the law of Triptolemus which requires a man to honour his parents, offer sacrifices to the gods and do nothing to harm any man or animal. He is also credited with establishing the Eleusinian mysteries.

tripudium

divination from observation of the hopping of feeding birds or of the bits of food they drop

Tripura<sup>1</sup> Hindu

the 'city of air', home of the asuras

Tripura<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a demon killed by Shiva

Tripura<sup>3</sup> Hindu

a mother-goddess

a sakti of Tripurantaka or a form of Parvati

Tripura<sup>4</sup> Jain

a goddess

one of the astamataras

Tripuratanka Hindu

an aspect of Shiva

Triratna Buddhist

3 jewels: Buddha, serpent and tree used as a symbol of the Trikona

Trisala (see Trishala)

Trisha (see Trishna)

Trishala Jain

[Trisala]

wife of Siddhartha

mother of Mahavira

Mahavira, while still an embryo, was transferred to Trishala from the womb of Devananda.

Trishanku (see Satyavrata)

Trishiras (see Trimurti)

Trishna Hindu

[Trisha. Trisna. Tris(h)navati]

daughter of Lakshmi

sister or daughter of Kama

Trishnavati (see Trishna)

trishula (see trident<sup>2</sup>)

Trismegistus Egyptian

['thrice greatest']

a name and attribute of Thoth

(see also Hermes Trismegistus)

Trisna (see Trishna)

Trisnavati (see Trishna)

Tristram (see Tristram<sup>1</sup>)

Tristan<sup>1</sup> British

a version of the Tristram and Isolde story by the 12th c poet

Thomas

Tristan<sup>2</sup> European

a 12th c French version of the

Tristram and Isolde story by Béroul

Tristan<sup>3</sup> European

[Tristan and Isolde]

a German version of the Tristram and Isolde story written by

Strassburg

Tristan<sup>4</sup> (see Tristram)

Tristano Panciatochiano Italian

a 14th c version of the Tristram and

Isolde story in Italian

Tristano Riccardiano Italian
a 13th c version of the Tristram and Isolde story in Italian

Tristoise British [Tristouse] daughter of King Briant
She was cast adrift on the sea at birth but was saved and grew up to marry King Ydor. When their son, Torec, was born, this sad lady (reflected in her name) was said to have laughed for the first time in her life.

Tristouse (see Tristoise)
Tristram<sup>1</sup> British [Drostan.Drust(an).Drustan(us).
Drystan.Pro of Iernesetir.Soul of Grief.Tantris.Tramtris(t).Tristam.
Tristan.Tristrem:=Welsh Trystan]
a prince of Lyonesse
a Knight of the Round Table
husband of Isolde
father of Iseo, Kalegras, Tristram
the Younger and Ysaie

His parents are variously given as Meliad and Elizabeth, Meliad and Eliabel, Rivalin or Rowland and Blanchefleur. In the Welsh version his father is Tallwch and in the Icelandic version he has a son, Kalegras.

In some stories, his father was imprisoned by an enchantress, in others captured by highwaymen. His mother, pregnant at the time, searched for him in the forest and died giving birth to Tristram. Meliad later married a daughter of Hoel, king of Brittany, and they had several children. She tried to poison Tristram to ensure that her own son inherited his father's kingdom of Lyonesse but her son took the drink by mistake and died. When the king ordered his wife to be burned at the stake, Tristram interceded on her behalf and she was pardoned. Meliad sent his son to the court of King Hoel for safety and here his stepmother's younger sister, Belinda, fell in love with him. When he rejected her love, she too tried to poison him.

In one account, he was carried off by Norsemen who put him ashore in Britain when they were caught in a storm which, they believed, was due to their crime. He found his way to the court of King Mark where he was made welcome.

In other versions, his father then sent him to live with his uncle Mark, king of Cornwall, where he learned that his father had been killed by Morgan. He rode straight to Morgan's castle and killed him. The Irish king, Anguish, sent his huge brother-in-law,

Morholt, to demand tribute from Mark but Tristram, though wounded by Morholt's spear, killed him in single combat, leaving a piece of his swordblade buried in Morholt's head. In some versions he killed Morholt and sent his severed head back to Ireland.
Other versions say that Morholt was merely wounded and returned to Ireland where he died. In either event, his sister, the queen, discovered the piece of the sword-blade and kept it.

Tristram's own wound refused to heal and, in one version, he sailed for Camelot to seek help from Merlin
but a storm landed him in Ireland.
He had been taught music at an early age and was a fine harpist and in another version he went to Ireland to recuperate in the guise of Tantris, a minstrel. He was tended by the king's daughter, Isolde, with whom he fell in love. When Palamedes, a Syrian prince, arrived and asked for the hand of Isolde, Tristram met him in single combat and defeated him so that he sailed for home in disgrace.

The queen noticed his broken sword and, comparing the broken pieces, realised that it was he who had killed Morholt. She tried to kill Tristram with his own sword but failed. Leaving the court, Tristram returned to Cornwall where both he and King Mark were attracted by the wife of Segwarides. She invited Tristram to meet her and, when Mark and two knights waylaid him, he defeated Mark and killed the two knights. He later defeated Segwarides who challenged him for sleeping with his wife.

Mark and Tristram were now enemies and the king sent Tristram to Ireland to ask for the hand of Isolde, hoping that he would be killed. In one story, Tristram's ship was thrown back by strong winds and he landed at Camelot at the same time as King Anguish who had been summoned to Arthur's court to answer a charge of treason. Tristram repaid the king's earlier kindness by taking the charge upon himself and fighting Blamor de Ganis, one of the king's accusers. He defeated Blamor but refused to kill him and they became friends. He went on to Ireland with Anguish and sued for the hand of Isolde on behalf of Mark. In another version, he saved the Irish king who was being attacked by an ogre or, some say, he killed a fearsome dragon which was ravaging the countryside.

Isolde's mother prepared a love potion to ensure that her daughter would come to love her husband, Mark, whom she had never seen, and entrusted it to Branwen, Isolde's maid, who was to travel with them on the journey to Cornwall. The potion was drunk by the young couple who fell hopelessly in love. Despite that, Isolde went through with the marriage to Mark but continued to meet Tristram at every opportunity.

Andred spied on Tristram and caught him in bed with Isolde.
Tristram was captured and put in prison but escaped after seizing Andred's sword and killing ten knights.
He rescued Isolde who had been immured by Mark and took her to a manor house in the forest. He was wounded by an arrow fired by a man whose brother Tristram had killed earlier and the wound refused to heal.
He was told that he could be cured only by Isolde of the White Hands, another daughter of King Hoel. He went to France where Isolde healed his wounds and he married her. While there, he defeated the giant, Beliagog, and forced him to build a palace decorated with scenes of Cornwall.

Other variations of the story say that when Mark was told of his wife's adultery, he condemned both the lovers to be burned at the stake.
Tristram asked to be allowed to pray in a small chapel and made his escape through a window, dropping down the cliff to the shore where his squire Gouvernail waited with horses and armour. Mark handed over Isolde to Ivan, leader of a band of filthy lepers, instead of burning her and Tristram arrived in time to rescue her from a fate worse even than the stake. Isolde was reconciled with Mark but further spying by Godron and Guerlon persuaded Mark that she really was unfaithful and a trial was arranged, in front of King Arthur and his knights, in which Isolde was declared innocent.
The lovers then resumed their meetings and, en route to one of these assignments, Tristram killed Donelan and then shot an arrow through the eye of Godwin as he spied on them. Mark finally found them together and killed Tristram with a poisoned spear.

Other stories say Tristram was banished by King Mark. During this banishment he wandered the land seeking adventure and saved the life of King Arthur. The king had been ensnared by the enchantress, Vivien, who had given him a magic ring that held him in her power. Tristram killed the three robbers who were attacking the king and, taking the girl servant of Vivien who had led him to Arthur, returned to Camelot with the king who made him a Knight of the Round Table. Mark came to Camelot intent upon killing Tristram and when Isolde was abducted by Bruce the Pitiless, it was Tristram who rescued her, killing her captor. In another story, Tristram carried off Isolde, who was being ill-treated by King Mark, and took her to Garde Joyeuse where she lived for some time with Guinevere. To avoid further conflict with Mark over his love for Isolde, Tristram went to Brittany where he married Isolde of the White Hands.

His abandonment of the first Isolde was condemned by Lancelot and they fought each other to a standstill when Tristram next returned to Britain.

Another version of this encounter says that Tristram fought Lancelot in the belief that he was Palamedes who had promised to meet him to settle their differences.

One version says that Lancelot and Tristram patched up their quarrel and Arthur installed Tristram as a Knight of the Round table in the seat formerly occupied by Morholt. Mark offered a false hand of friendship to Tristram who went back to Cornwall with the king. At the behest of Mark, who hoped to see Tristram killed by Bagdemagus and Galahaut who hated Lancelot, he took part in a tournament in the guise of Lancelot and frustrated Mark's scheme by defeating both of Lancelot's enemies.

He allowed Mark to treat his wounds and was drugged and put in prison. He was rescued by Percival with the help of Dinas who temporarily imprisoned Mark.

There are many versions of how Tristram came to receive the wound that caused his death. Some say it was inflicted in the struggle with Melot, others that Mark wounded him with a poisoned spear, some that he was wounded in a duel with a Breton knight in defence of Isolde's brother, some that it resulted from a rock dropped on his head as he scaled a castle wall when fighting King Hoel's enemies. When he lay wounded, Tristram sent Kaherdin, his brother-in-law, or Gesnes a mariner, to England to fetch his true love, the first Isolde, who came at his command in a ship with white sails, a pre-arranged signal. Tristram's wife lied to him, saying that the ship was carrying black sails and he died in despair. The beloved Isolde died at the sight of her dead lover and both were carried back to Cornwall and buried side by side. Two yew trees (in some accounts, a rose and a vine) planted on their graves entwined their branches and could not be separated.

In the Wagnerian version, Isolde had been betrothed to Morholt and wanted to avenge his death. She found a piece of a sword-blade embedded in Morholt's severed head and kept it hidden. Tristram had been wounded by a poisoned spear thrown by Morholt during their encounter and the wound refused to heal. He went to Ireland in the guise of Tantris, a minstrel, and Isolde ministered to his poisoned wound. When she saw his broken sword she realised that it was he who had killed Morholt. They fell in love but Tristram returned to Cornwall without her. Mark was so impressed by his description of Isolde that he sent Tristram back to Ireland to ask for her hand as his queen. Isolde, deeply unhappy that she was to be the wife of Mark, not Tristram, brewed a poisonous drink, intending to kill both herself and Tristram but Branwen, her maid, gave them instead a love-potion entrusted to her by Isolde's mother. They continued to meet after her marriage to Mark but were betrayed by Melot. Tristram was banished to France and when Isolde elected to go with him, Melot tried to prevent their departure and wounded Tristram who went off with Kurneval, who had killed Melot in the encounter, leaving Isolde in Cornwall. She came at his request when he was dying from the wound but arrived too late and died of a broken heart.

Tristram<sup>2</sup> British

a poem by the American Edwin Arlington Robinson

Tristram in Lyonesse British

a poem by Swinburne

Tristram the Dwarf European

a man appearing in the Norwegian version of the Tristram story

Despite his title, he was a big man but still needed the help of the real Tristram to recover his property which had been taken from him by another.

Tristram the Stranger British

a man appearing in a Norwegian version of the Tristram story

Like Tristram the Dwarf, he had been robbed of his property, in this case by seven brothers, and needed the help of the real Tristram to recover it.

Tristram the Younger British

son of Tristram and Isolde brother of Iseo husband of Maria

He features in the Continental versions of the Tristram and Isolde story and married Maria, sister of the king of Castile, whom he rescued from the clutches of an African chief, after rejecting the love of Guinevere.

In some accounts, he killed King Mark to avenge his father and became king of Cornwall.

Tristram's Saga European

a 13th c Norwegian version of the Tristram and Isolde story

Tristram and Isodd Norse

an Icelandic version of the story of Tristram and Isolde

Tristrano Panciatobiano European

a 14th c Italian version of the Tristram and Isolde story

Tristrano Riccardiano European

a 13th c Italian version of the Tristram and Isolde story

Tristrant European

a version of the Tristram and Isolde story written by Eilhart von Oberge

Tristrem (see Tristram)

Tristubh Hindu

daughter of Suparni

sister of Jagati and Gayatri

She changed into a bird and flew to heaven to bring back soma but failed. Her mother and her sister Jagati had failed earlier but Gayatri finally succeeded in the task.

trisul (see trident<sup>2</sup>)

trisula (see trident<sup>2</sup>)

Trita Hindu

[Aptya:=Greek Triton:=Persian Athwya.

Thrita.Thraetona]

a water-deity
a form of Indra
brother of Dvita and Ekata
His brothers pushed Trita into a well and placed a heavy stone over the top but failed to kill their sibling who burst through the cover and escaped.

He is said to have brought fire from heaven to earth.

In other accounts, Trita is a name for Agni in the form of lightning, one of three forms (with Agni and Surya) known as Tryamabaka.

Tritogeneia Greek
a name for Athena as a goddess of water

Triton Greek
a sea-god: a merman
son of Poseidon or Hermes and Amphitrite father of Pallas, some say

This god could cause storms or calm the seas by blowing on his conch-shell trumpet.

In some accounts, he was king of Libya and, when the Argonauts were stranded inland, he appeared as Eurypylos and dragged the Argo overland to the sea. He also gave Euphemus a clod of earth which, when later dropped into the sea, developed into the island of Calliste.

Some say that he had a daughter named Pallas who was killed by Athena.

As a sea-god, he is depicted as half-man, half-fish.

Some accounts speak of Tritons in the plural, attendants on Poseidon, sons of Phorcus and Ceto.

(see also centauro-triton)

Tritonis Greek
a lake-nymph in Libya, one of the Naiads mother of Caphaurus and Nausamon by Amphithemis

Tritopatores Greek ghosts: spirits of the dead

Tritos Greek
a name for Zeus as lord of the winds

Triumphator Roman
a named of Jupiter as 'the triumphant'

triumphus Roman
a celebration at the return of a victorious general when sacrifices were offered to Jupiter

Triune Goddess
(see Triple Goddess)

Trivia Roman
['three ways':=Greek Hecate.Trioditis.]

a name of Artemis, Diana or Hecate as goddess of the crossroads Statues of Diana (Trivia) erected at such sites sometimes had three heads – boar, dog and horse.

Trivikrama Hindu
['three steps']
a name of Visnu as Vamana consort of Santi

tro (see trowo)

Troades (see Trojan Women)

Troano Codex (see Madrid Codex)

Troas British
a king of Thessaly
father of Troiano

A Trojan, said to be descended from the hero Hector.

Troezen Greek
son of Pelops and Hippodamia
brother of Pittheus

trogodytes Greek
a legendary, uncivilised race, living in caves or holes, said to eat snakes

trogodice
a monster reindeer with forward-curving horns

Trograin Irish
an early tribal god

Troia Nova (see New Troy)

Troiae Halosis Roman
a poem by Petronius on the fall of Troy

Troiano British
son of Troas

In some accounts, he joined forces with Uther Pendragon and the Roman ruler, Remus, to reinstate the Trojans at Troy.

Troilos (see Troilus)

Troilus Greek
[Troilos]

son of Priam or Apollo by Hecuba
He was in love with Cressida and was heart-broken when she was handed over to the Greeks in exchange for a prisoner-of-war during the siege of Troy. She had promised to remain faithful to him and when she fell in love with the Greek hero Diomedes, Troilus rushed straight into the battle and was killed by Achilles.

In some accounts, he was ambushed by Achilles who killed him when he refused to become the Greek's lover: in others he died when his horses bolted.

In an earlier version, Cressida was Briseida, daughter of Calchas who had defected to the Greeks. She was escorted to join her father by Diomedes who fell in love with her.

Troilus and Cressida Greek
a play by William Shakespeare based on the story of these 2 lovers

Troilus and Cressida Greek
a 20th c opera by William Walton (libretto by Hassall)

Trojan Horse, The Greek
[Wooden Horse]
the hollow horse built by Epeius which enabled Greek soldiers to smuggle themselves into the city of Troy (see also Trojan War)

Trojan War Greek
[Siege of Troy]
a war between the Greeks and the Trojans

This ten-year struggle was precipitated by the abduction of the Greek Helen, the wife of Menelaus, by Paris, the son of Priam, king of Troy.

The battle raged backwards and forwards outside the impregnable walls of the city, built by Apollo and Poseidon, with many great heroes on both sides being killed.

The arch-schemer on the Greek side was Odysseus and it was he who finally conceived the plan that led to the fall of Troy. He had a skilled carpenter, Epeius, construct a huge wooden horse, hollow inside, in which he, Pyrrhus and a few others could hide. The horse was left outside the gates of Troy at night and the Greek army embarked and sailed out of sight of the city.

By daylight, the Trojans were deceived into hauling the huge horse into Troy, in some accounts demolishing part of the city walls to allow it to enter. During the following night the occupants descended and opened the city gates to the army who had sailed back under cover of darkness.

The city was sacked and burnt, nearly all the men were slaughtered and the women were taken as slaves and concubines. Aphrodite ensured that Aeneas escaped with his father and young son and Helen was returned to Menelaus.

Trojan Women, The Greek
[Troades]
a play by Euripides about Hecuba and her daughters

Trojanu Russian
the Russian version of Trojanus

Trojanus Roman
a god, the Roman Emperor Trajan deified

troll Scandinavian

[droll:=Orkney trow]
a supernatural dwarf goblin, originally a giant

It was said that a troll would burst if the sun ever shone on its face.

trollkona Scandinavian

[kvelldrida.myrkrida]
witches who rode by night

Sometimes they were mounted on wolves and used snakes for bridles.

Some say they could adopt many shapes and bring storms, illness and even death.

Tronc European

in some accounts, the original name of Oberon

Trophonius Greek

an architect son of Erginus
step-brother of Agamedes

He and his brother built a temple to Apollo, who some say was his father, and, after six days of merry-making,
they died in their sleep.

In another story, they built a treasury for King Hyrieus, leaving a secret access so that they were able to steal its contents. The king set a trap which caught Agamedes and Trophonius cut off his brother's head so that he could not betray their secret. He died when the earth opened and engulfed him and he became an oracle.

A very similar story is told of Rhapsinitus.

Tros Greek

the first king of Troy
son of Erichthonius and Astyoche husband of Callirrhoe father of Assaracus, Ganymede and Ilius

When his son Ganymede was abducted by Zeus to serve as lover and cupbearer, Thoas was given a golden vine and two horses by Hermes, as compensation.

(see also Teucer)

trow Scottish

[drow:=Scandinavian troll]
a dwarf goblin of the hills and sea

trowo African

[sing=tro]
the gods of the Ewe people

Troyes,Chrétien de
(see Chrétien de Troyes)

Troynovant (see New Troy)

Troynt (see Twrch Trwyth)

True Prince British

an epithet for Galahad

True Sakahi Tree Japanese

the tree on which the magic mirror was hung to lure Amaterasu out of the cave where she had hidden herself

True Thomas
(see Thomas the Rhymer)

Trulku (see Tulku)

Trumpet of the Last Day African a horn which the Swahili say will announce the end of the world and the day of judgment

Trung-nhi Burmese

a rain-deity, patriotism personified
sister of Trung-trac

Her sister's husband was executed without trial so the sisters raised an army to overthrow the government but they were defeated. She and her sister were later deified.

Trung-trac Burmese

a rain-deity, patriotism personified
sister of Trung-nhi

When her husband was executed without trial, the sisters raised an army to overthrow the government but they were defeated. She and her sister were later deified.

Tryambaka Hindu

a collective name for Agni and his two alternative forms, Trita (as Lightning) and Surya (as the sun)

Tryamour (see Trianor)

Tryanon (see Trianor)

Tryffin British

in Arthurian lore, a king of Denmark father of Drudwas

trygon Greek

the sting-ray

In the story that says that Telegonus killed his own father, Odysseus, it is said that his spear, given to him by Circe, bore the pointed spine of a trygon.

Tryphonius Greek

a thief

Trystan<sup>1</sup> Welsh

the Welsh name for Tristram

Trystan<sup>2</sup> Welsh

the Welsh version of the story of Tristram and Isolde.

When Trystan eloped with Esyllt, wife of March, taking their servants Bychan and Golwg and Trystan's companion Cae Hir, March tried to get her back by force. Three times their armies met and each time Trystan won. Some say that King Arthur was asked to judge the issue and decreed that her favours should be shared between the two men, one during the period when the trees are in leaf, the other when they are leafless. March chose the winter period but Trystan pointed out that evergreens never lose their leaves and so claimed Esyllt for himself.

Trystan and Ysolt British the Cornish version of the story of Tristram and Isolde

Ts'ai Shen Chinese

[Ts'ai Shen Yeh.Chao Kung-ming]
a Taoist god of wealth

Various stories are told about the origins of the god of wealth. In one version he was Chao Kung-ming, in others he was originally the 12th c sage, Pi Kan.

Ts'ai Shen Yeh (see Ts'ai Shen)

Tsakakaitiac North American

in the lore of the Hidatsa, a bird who changed into a man

He and another bird-man, Mahaitiac, had supernatural powers which they used for the benefit of the tribe, becoming great heroes.

Ts'an Nü Chinese

[Can Nü.Ma-t'ou.Lady Silkworm.Silkworm Maiden]
goddess of silkworms
a wife of the Jade Emperor

Her father disappeared and her mother offered Ts'an Nü as a wife to any man who could find him. Their horse ran off and came back carrying the missing man who then killed the horse which seemed to want to claim Ts'an Nü as the promised reward. The horse's hide, hung out to dry, curled itself round the maiden and they both disappeared forever.

In some accounts, the girl turned into a silkworm.

Tsan-rgyal Tibetan

[bStan-rgyal.Tsen-gyal]
a demon king

Ts'an T'ung Ch'i Chinese

[Kinship of the Three] a 2nd c book of alchemy written by Wei Po-yang

Ts'ang Chieh Chinese

a minor deity, patron of story-tellers

He is said to have invented writing based on the footprints left in the sand by birds.

Ts'ao Chinese

[pondweed]
a water-spirit

Ts'ao-ching-hsiu
(see Ts'ao Kuo-chiu)

Tsao Chün Chinese

[Chang Tsao-wang.P'u Sa.Ssu Ming.Tsao

Kung, Tsao Shen, Tsao Wang, Tung Chu] a Taoist kitchen-god husband of Kuo Ting-hsiang and Li Hai-t'ang

Chang was a mortal who was blinded by the gods when he deserted his first wife and took his mistress, Li Hai-t'ang, as his second wife. Begging for his living, he was handsomely entertained by his former wife and, in shame at his treatment of her, he killed himself by jumping into the fire. Taken up to heaven, he was made a kitchen-god. He laid down a long list of rules of hygiene and proper conduct in the kitchen and is said to travel once a year (or several times a month in some accounts) between heaven and earth to report to Cheng-huang on the state of the family.

In some accounts, Tsao Chün and Tsao Shen are separate beings. (see also Ho-shen)

Ts'ao Hou Chinese
an empress sister of Ts'ao Kuo-chiu

Tsao Kung (see Tsao Chün)

Ts'ao Kuo-chiu Chinese
[Ts'ao Ching-hsiu]
a 10th c warrior
one of the Eight Immortals son of Ts'ao Pin
brother of Ching-chih and Tsao Hou

His young brother killed a man in order to get his wife for himself but she resisted him and he had her thrown into a well. She was saved and complained to the Imperial Censor, Pao Lao-yeh, who had Ching-chih executed and his brother put in prison. He was later released under an amnesty and became a hermit as Tsao Kuo-chiu, receiving instruction from Chung-li. He became the patron saint of the theatre and is often depicted holding castanets.

Ts'ao Pin Chinese
father of Ching-chih, Ts'ao Hou and Ts'ao Kuo-chiu

Tsao Shen (see Tsao Chün)

Tsao Wang (see Tsao Chün)

Tsa'qamae North American
a god of salmon in British Columbia

Tsar of the Sea Russian
a sea-god (see Morskoi Tsar)

tsav African vital energy given off by swem, the rock which was the origin of the Tiv

Tse-mgon (see Tshe-gon)

Tse-ring Chhe-nga Tibetan
5 sisters, of Mount Everest
They are depicted in flowing robes and holding various fertility symbols.

Ts'en Kuang Chinese
the first of the Ten Yama Kings
The ninth Yama King, Tu-shih, is regarded as a manifestation of Ts'en-kuang.

T'sen-gyal (see Ban-rgyal)

Tsen Tsze (see Pisces)

Tsegihi North American
a site sacred to the Navaho
This is the place where a shaman was taught the night-chant by one of the Yeibechi and brought it back to the tribe.

Tsenagahi North American [Ogre]
a rock-spirit killed by Nayenezgani
This monster's favourite pastime was kicking people off a rocky path near his lair. His unlucky victims fell a long way on to the rocks below where the monster's wife and family cut them up, cooked them and ate them. He was safe from falling because his long hair grew into the rocks but Nayenezgani cut through the hair and the monster fell, suffering the same fate as his victims.

Tsenahale North American
eagle-beasts of the Navaho Indians, killed by Nayenezgani with thunderbolts

Tseng Chang Chinese
[=Buddhist Virudhaka:
=Hindu Virudka;=Japanese Komoku:
=Taoist Mo-li Hung]
a guardian spirit of the south and summer

Tsenta North American [Tsentsa]
the Huron name for loskeha

Tsentsa (see Tsenta)

Tsetse Bumba African
the Bushango spirit which brings fire

Tshan-pa (see Tshangs-pa)

Tshangs-pa Buddhist [Sangyas, Tshan-pa]
a Tibetan name for the Buddha as one of the Drag-shed

Tshe-dpag-med Buddhist [Tshe-pa-me]
the Tibetan name for Amitayus

Tshe-gon Tibetan [Tse-mgon]
the Buddhist lord of life

Tshe-pa-me (see Tshe-dpag-med)

Tshi-Paz (see Shka-Pas)

Tshindi North American
venomous spirits of the Navaho

Tshog-shing Tibetan
a family tree of the gods in order of rank

Tshohanoai (see Tshohanoai)

Tsholbon Siberian
[Solbon]
a celestial horse-rider who watches over the herds of stars
One of his three wives was a bride he carried off from her own wedding.

Tsi-sisnaaxil North American
a name of Qamai'ts as 'woman'

Tsita (see Awitelin Tsita)

Tsichtinaka (see Tsitctinako)

Tsiskagili North American
the red crayfish
This being is said to have got his red colouring when scorched by the sun during the creation period.

Tsitctinako North American [Tsichtinaka]
in Pueblo lore, a creator-spirit
She conveyed the instructions of the creator, Utc'tsiti, to his two daughters, Ia'tiku and Nao'tsiti, who emerged from below the earth to create animals and plants and to start the human race.
In some accounts she was the leader of the people who came up from the underworld.

Tsitsenuts North American
a rain-god of the Acoma, created by la'ticu

Tsmok (see Domovik)

Tsoche (see Soko)

Tsoede African [Tsoedi]
a founder-hero of the Nupe

Tsoedi (see Tsoede)

Tshohanoai North American [Sunbearer, Tshohanoai]
sun-god of the Navaho Indians husband of Estsanatlehi father of Nayenezgani, Tobadzistsini and Yeitso
He and Tlelanoai found some soil and grew a reed that allowed the Navaho, on their journey up from the underworld, to escape the flood. As a reward, he was appointed Sun-bearer. He was said to carry the sun on his back by day and hang it from a peg in his house by night. He may walk over the rainbow and ride a blue horse.

Tsokelai Pacific Islands
[=Hawaiian Menhine;=Marshall Islands
Anjinmar Nonieb;=Melanesian Mase]
the 'little people' of Ponape

Tsolb Central American

the people of the second world These people took over after the destruction of the first race, the Saiyamkoob, but were themselves eventually destroyed by a flood.

Tson-ka-pa (see Tsong-kha-po)

Tsong-kha-pa (see Tsong-kha-po)

Tsong-kha-po Tibetan

[Tson-ka-pa.Tsong-kha-pa]

a Buddhist reformer

He was said to be the bodhisattva
Vajrapani reincarnated or a form of Manjushri.

Tsonoqua (see Tsonqua)

Tsonqua North American

[Sneneik(ulala).Tsonoqua]

a cannibal mother, in the lore of the Kwakiutl tribe

She is said to have eaten corpses as well as young children. When she fell in love with Sky Youth, he failed to return her affection and killed her.

Her offspring were said to be wolves. (see Baxbakualanuchsiwae)

tso'po (see serou)

Tsotil North American

[Tsotsil]

a mountain sacred to the Navaho home of Yeitso

Tsotsil (see Tsotil)

Tsu-pao Chinese

a minor deity, assistant to Pi Kan

Ts'ui Chinese

a minor deity of the underworld

T'sui (see Dxui.Tsunigoab)

Tsui-erh Chinese

a poor bride

Her widowed mother was too poor to buy her a wedding dress until Lu Pan, in the guise of an old man, intervened.
He carved a stone which the builders of a new bridge realised was the exact key-stone they needed to finish the structure. He gave it to Tsui-erh who sold it to the builders for the price of her wedding dress.

Tsui Goab (see Tsunigoab)

Tsuigoab (see Tsunigoab)

Tsuki-gumo Japanese

a monstrous spider

This beast was invulnerable to all weapons and caused much trouble. It was finally killed when it was trapped and asphyxiated by smoke.

Tsuki no Iwakasa Japanese

a servant of the emperor

He took the scroll, given to his master by Kaguyu when she left to return to her home on the moon, to the top of a mountain and burned it as instructed by the emperor. The smoke from the burning still emerges from that mountain, now called Fujiyama.

Tsuki-yomi-otoko (see Tsukiyomo)

Tsuki-yumi (see Tsukiyomo)

Tsukihhi Japanese

a Shinto deity or a manifestation of another deity comprising the supreme Tenrikoyo deity,

Tenri-O-No-Mikoto

Tsukiyomo Japanese

[Tsuki-yomi-(otoko).Tsuki-yumi.Tsukuyomo]

a Shinto moon-god

son of Izanagi and Izanami

brother of Amaterasu and

Susanowa

consort of Amaterasu

He was created from the right eye of Izanagi and killed the food-goddess Uke-Mochi who offered him some disgusting food.

Tsukuyomo (see Tsukiyomo)

Tsukuba Japanese

a god of Mount Tsukuba

He welcomed the creator-god, Mioya, and that god rewarded him by making the mountain green and pleasant.

Tsul Kalu North American

[Slanting Eyes]

the Cherokee god of the hunt

He is envisaged as a huge deer living in the mountains.

Tsun-gyi-rgyal-po Tibetan

one of the Panchamaharajas

king of accomplishments or magic

He rides a white elephant.

(see also Thok Chho)

Tsun-Kyan-Kse Burmese

a goddess

When her chief priest, Mun-ha, was wounded and died, the white cat with yellow eyes, known as Sinh, climbed on to his shoulders and gazed into the eyes of the statue of this goddess before which they had both worshipped. The cat's eyes changed from yellow to blue, the colour of Tsun-Kyan-Kse's own eyes, and its white fur changed to the brown and gold of the present-day Burmese cat.

Tsuna (see Tsunna)

Ts'ung-shen Chinese

one of the Eighteen Lohan,

in some accounts

He founded a contemplative school of Buddhism and is depicted in the role of a teacher, holding a broom.

Tsunigoab African

[Tsui (Goab).Tsuigoab.Tsunigoam]

a Hottentot hero

In some accounts, he was the creator-god of the Khoi people.

He walks with a limp as a result of an injury sustained during his fight with Gaunab whom he vanquished.

Another version pits Tsunigoab against the monster Ga-gorib in place of Heitsi-eibib. (see also Dxui)

Tsunigoam (see Tsunigoab)

Tsunna Japanese

[Tsunna]

a retainer of Raiko

He accompanied his master in the adventure with the female Goblin Spider and helped him when he was trapped in her web.

Tsunu-guhi (see Tunogupi)

Tsurapako North American

in the lore of the Pawnee, one of the 5 houses of the animal-

spirits, the nahurak

Tsusgina'i North American

the Cherokee land of ghosts

This place is part of Usunhi'ya, the dark land in the west.

Tsuyu Japanese

[Morning Dew]

a maiden who died of love

for a sumurai

Tsuyu fell in love with Shinzaburo and, when he was prevented from seeing her again, she wasted away and died. Her servant, Yoné, died of grief at the loss of her mistress. At the Festival of the Dead, they both visited Shinzaburo, coming every night and departing before dawn.
To Shinzaburo, Tsuyu was still a beautiful maiden but to his servant, Tomozo, who spied on them, she was a virtual skeleton.

ttlaya North American

ghosts or spirits of the Fox Indians

Tu' New Zealand

[Tu-matauenga.Tumatauenga:=Hawaiian

Ku(matauenga):=Tahitian Oro:

=Polynesian Maru]

a war-god of the Maoris

son of Rangī and Papa

brother of Haumea, Rongo, Tane,

Tangaroa and Tawhiri

When the children of Rangī and Papa found it impossible to leave the womb because their parents were so tightly entwined, Tu-matauenga wanted to kill them. In the conflict between parents and children, only Tawhirima-tea sided with his parents and sent great storms and waves. Tu-matauenga destroyed all his brothers for deserting him in the struggle against Tawhirima-tea but could not subdue the storm-god and left him in charge of the sky.

T'u² (see hare.Hou-t'u)

Tu-chai-pai (see Tuchaipai)

Tu K'ang Chinese a patron-god of distilling

(see also I-ti)

Tu-matauenga (see Tu¹)

Tu Mea Pacific Islands

child of Atea and Atanua

Tu-metua Pacific Islands

a god of the Hervey Islanders

son of Vari-Ma-Te-Takere

brother of Tu-mute-anaoa

He is said to live with his mother in Tè-Enua-Tè-Ki at the bottom of the world coconut in complete silence.

Tu-mute-anaoa Pacific Islands

a god of the Hervey Islanders

son of Vari-Ma-Te-Takere

brother of Tu-metua

He is said to live with his mother in Tè-Enua-Tè-Ki at the bottom of the world coconut in complete silence.

Tu-Neta (see Tu-Papa)

Tu-nui-ka-rere Pacific Islands

son of Tangaroa and Faumea

He was lost in the sky when he and his father and brother set out to rescue Hina-a-rauriki from the demon octopus, Rogo-tumu-here.

Tu O Chinese

[Tu-o Chen-jen]

a magician

Tu O taught Ha how to project fatal rays of light from his nostrils and taught Hang how to breathe out poisonous fumes.

Tu-o Chen-jen (see Tu O)

Tu-Papa Pacific Islands

[Tu-Neta]

daughter of Papa

Tu-shih Chinese

the ninth of the Ten Yama Kings

(see also Ts'en-kuang)

Tu-te-Koropanga New Zealand

[Koropanga]

a Maori chief

He ran off with Rukutia, wife of the noble, Tamanui, but her husband later retrieved her by magic learned from his ancestors.

Tu-te-Wehiwehi (see Moko)

T'u-ti Kung Chinese a god of the soil

He is regarded as a protector of graves.

T'u-ti Lao-yeh Chinese a worthy person, deified

after death

consort of T'u-ti Nai-nai

T'u-ti Nai-nai Chinese consort of T'u-ti Lao-yeh

T'u-ti Shen Chinese

[Hou-t'u Shen]

local earth-gods

Tu Tumu Pacific Islands

the Tahitian name for Rangī

tua East Indian a guardian spirit of the Iban of

Borneo

These spirits were often manifest as deer, snakes or wild-cats.

Tua-uo-Loa Pacific Islands

the south wind

(see also Hakona Tipu)

Tuachell Irish

son of Nechtan Scene

brother of Fannell and Foill

He was a supernatural being but was nevertheless killed by Cuchulainn.

Tuag Inbir (see Tuage)

Tuage Irish

[Tuag Inbir]

a mortal loved by Manannan

The sea-god sent the druid Fer Fidail to bring Tuage to him but he accidentally let her drown. In retaliation, Manannan drowned the druid for his incompetence.

Tuakeka Pacific Islands

husband of the daughter of Maru

Maru had promised his daughter to the son of Whakaputa who, aggrieved by the loss of a future daughter-in-law, killed one of Maru's servants.

Tual

an angel, ruler of the Zodiacal sign

Taurus, the bull

Tuamatef (see Tuamutef)

Tuam Greine Irish

the tomb of the sun

This is where Giolla Greine died after jumping into Loch Greine.

Tuamoto Pacific Islands

[=New Zealand Tane]

son of Atea

He is the equivalent of Tane in Maori stories, each killing his own father with thunderbolts.

Tuamutef Egyptian

[Duamutef.Tuamatef]

one of the 4 Amenti

son of Horus

He was a jackal-headed or ape-headed god, guardian of the stomach (or, some say, the heart and lungs) and guardian of the east.

Tuan mac Carell Irish

[Tuan (mac Cairell).Tuan mac Cairill

Tuan mac Cuaille]

a reincarnation of Tuan mac Stern

Tuan mac Cuaille

(see Tuan mac Carell)

Tuan mac Sdain (see Tuan mac Stern)

Tuan mac Stern Irish

[Tuan mac Sdain]

son of Starn

Tuan mac Stern is variously described as a pagan chief or a Spanish royal personage who came to Ireland with his uncle, Partholan. He was the sole survivor of the Partholans, escaping to the mountains when the others were killed by a plague and lived in various forms, such as a stag, a boar, a sea-eagle and a salmon, through successive invasions of Ireland. In his final form, as a salmon, he was caught and eaten, whole, by Carell's wife, whereupon she became pregnant and bore a son, Tuan mac Carell.

Tuan Yang (see Dragon-boat Festival)

Tuapaca (see Viracocha)

Tuaret (see Tauret)

Tuat (see Amenti)

tuatal Irish

a counter-clockwise rotation performed to put a curse on a person or place

Tuatha de Danann (see Danaans)

Tuatha Dea (see Danaans)

Tuathal Maolgharbh Irish

a high-king of Ireland

He took the throne after a dispute with his cousin, Diarmaid mac Cearbhaill.

When a druid prophesied that Diarmaid would succeed to the throne, Maol Mor, one of Diarmaid's warriors, came to Tara with what he said was Diarmaid's heart on his spear. As Tuathal inspected the heart, Maol plunged the spear into the king, killing him.

Tuathal Teachtmar

(see Tuathal Techtmar)

Tuathal Techtmar Irish

[Tuathal Teachtmar]

a high-king of Ireland, some say

son of Fiachu and Eithne Imghéal

When his father was killed by the usurper, Eilim, Tuathal, helped by Fiachra Casan and Findhmall, raised an army, killed Eilim at the Battle of Achall and became high-king.

Eochaid mac Eachach, king of Leinster, married Tuathal's elder daughter, pretended she was dead and then married the younger one. Both girls died of shame when they found out what had happened. Tuathal waged war on Eochaid and exacted an annual tribute of cattle, the Boramha.

Tuau Egyptian
a lion-god, ruler of today

Tubal Cain Mesopotamian
a Kenite goat-god

In some accounts he was the offspring of the fallen angels Shamdon and Naamah and brother of Asmodeus.

Tubilstrium Roman
a festival held in March in honour of Mars

Tubua (see Roua)

Tuchaipai North American [Chaipa-komat.Chakumat.Kokoma(h)t.

Mayohu:=Mohave Matavilya:

=Yuma Kwikumat]

a creator-spirit of the Dieguenos brother of Yokomatis

He and his brother were born at the bottom of the sea and pushed up the sky so that there was room for them to move about and then created all the things in the world, including men and women.

In some accounts, Tuchaipai is referred to as Kokomat and his blind brother as Bakothal.

Tuche (see Tyche)

Tuchita Heaven (see Tushita Heaven)

Tuchulcha Roman
an Etruscan deity of the underworld an assistant to Mantus

Tudava Pacific Islands
a hero of the Tiobrand Islands

Tudeus (see Tydeus)

Tudno (see Tudwal)

Tudo-myoo Japanese the Buddhist saviour of souls

Tudong Pacific Islands
a guardian spirit of the Philippines
(see also Spitter<sup>1</sup>)

Tudwal<sup>1</sup> British [Tudno.Tutwal]
an ancestor of King Arthur (see also Tudwal<sup>2</sup>)

Tudwal<sup>2</sup> British [Tudno.Tudwal Tudglyd.Tutwal]
the owner of a whetstone that was one of the Thirteen Treasures collected by Merlin

In some accounts, he is the same as Tudwal, ancestor of King Arthur.

Tuesco (see Tvisto)

Tueret (see Tauret)

Tueva Pacific Islands
father of Veeteni

Tugarin Russian
a dragon-hero killed by Aljosa Popovic

Tuhurururu Pacific Islands
son of Rupe or Tinirau by Hina-keha or Hina-uri

Tui<sup>1</sup> Chinese one of the Eight Diagrams representing sea, water and goat

tui<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands
a bird

This bird, which looks rather like a starling, was regarded as an aspect of the supreme goddess created by Tane.

Tui Delai Gau Pacific Islands
a Fijian mountain-god

It is said that he can remove his head, which then flies off to see what is happening elsewhere in the world, and his hands, which can walk and swim and catch fish for him.

Tui Langa Pacific Islands
a sky-king in Fiji

His son went to sleep on the earth after sticking his walking-stick into the ground. When he awoke, he found that the stick had grown into a tree which reached right up to the sky. He climbed up the tree and met his own father for the first time.

tui tzu Chinese paper scrolls used as a charm to give protection to the home

Tuila Siberian
a spirit of the underworld

This being rides a dog which causes earthquakes when it shakes its head.

Tuir Gleasta Irish
a prince of Norway

He ran off with Cuchulainn's wife, Emer, but her husband tracked them to Norway, killed Tuir and rescued Emer.

Tuirbe Tragmar (see Turbe Tragmar)

Tuireall Irish [Dealbhaoth]
in some accounts, father by Dana, of 3 sons

In other versions, Tuireall, or Dealbhaoth, was Dana's father.

Tuireann (see Turenn.Uirne)

Tuiren (see Turenn.Uirne)

Tuirenn (see Turenn.Uirne)

Tuirgeis Irish [Thorgestr.Thorgils.Turgesius]
a Viking leader

He became ruler of much of Ireland and demanded the beautiful daughter of Maoilsheachlainn for himself and five other maidens for his chieftains. Young warriors, dressed as girls, were sent with the daughter and they killed the Viking chiefs and captured Tuirgeis and drowned him.

Tuirill (see Turenn)

Tuis British
a king of Greece

He owned a wine-skin which could turn water into wine. In the story of the Sons of Turenn, this was the pigskin which could heal any wound. In the story of Melora, the warrior-maid, Tuis owned a pig from which Melora was required to get some oil, one of the three items needed to lift the spell placed on her lover, Orlando.

Tuirren (see Turenn)

Tuisco (see Tvisto)

Tuisto (see Tvisto)

tuk Mongolian
the sacred standard of the khan

This emblem was made from nine yak tails.

Tuka heresy Pacific Islands
the teaching of Ndugomoi

The Fijian priest asserted that there were two gods, Jehovah and the snake-god, Ndengei.

Tukiphat

a demon

Tukis East Indian [=Banks Islands Nopitu:=Solomon Islands Kakamora] spirits in Papua New Guinea

Tukma (see Nocuma)

Tuku Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as 'enchanter'

Tukupay (see Tocapo Viracocha)

tul-awa Russian

[=Mordvin tol-ava]

a Cheremis tutelary spirit, guardian of fire

tul-wodez Russian

an evil fire-spirit

Tula<sup>1</sup> Hindu

one of the signs of the Zodiac, Libra the scales

Tula<sup>2</sup> (see Tollan)

Tulagola Pacific Islands
a dog

This animal, said to have invented the drum, is featured in stories in New Britain in which it usually manages to outwit the wallaby, Pakasa Uru.

Tulan (see Tollan)

Tulan-Zuiva (see Tulkan-Zuiva)

tulasi<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[toolsey.tulsi]

a sacred plant, emblem of Vishnu: basil

Tulasi<sup>2</sup> (see Tulsi<sup>1</sup>)

Tulasi Dasa (see Tulsi Das)

Tulca (see Tulcha)

Tulcha Irish

[Tulca]
brother of Finn mac Cool, some say

- Tulchaine Irish
a druid
When he eloped with Dil, she insisted on taking her two beloved oxen, Fea and Feimhean, with her. Morrigan used her magic to transport them across the sea from the Isle of Falga to Ireland.
- Tulchuherris North American
a lightning-god of the Wintun tribe
- Tule<sup>1</sup> African [Ture]
a spider-god of the Zande people
He descended from the sky with a bag of seeds with which he produced all plant-life.
He is said to have stolen fire from his uncles and given it to the tribe.
- Tule<sup>2</sup> North American
a lake
This is the lake from the bottom of which the Modoc say soil was brought by Qumoqums, soil which was used to create the earth.
- Tuli Pacific Islands [‘snipe’] daughter of Tangaroa
In the form of a bird she acted as messenger for Tangaroa.
In Samoan lore, Tuli is male, son of Tagaloa.
- Tulihand (see Puuk)
- Tulkan-Zuiva Central American
[The Seven Caves. Tulan-Zuiva: =Aztec Chicomoztoc]
the caves from which the ancestors of the Quiche Indians emerged after an earlier race had been destroyed by fire and flood
- Tulku Tibetan
[Rimpoche. Trulku]
the physical body conjured up by a Buddha or a bodhisattva: a phantom
- Tulla (see Tollan)
- Tullia Roman
daughter of Servius Tullius wife of Tarquinius Arruns
She encouraged Tarquinius Superbus to kill Arruns, her husband and his own brother, and then married him. He then killed Servius and took the throne with Tullia as his queen.
- Tullius Hostilius Roman [Tullus Hostilius]
the third king of Rome
For destroying Alba and its inhabitants, he and all his family were killed by Poseidon.
- Tullius Servius (see Servius Tullius)
- Tullus Hostilius (see Tullius Hostilius)
- Tulsi<sup>1</sup> Hindu [Tulasi]
a manifestation of Lakshmi
or Sita
wife of Jalandhara
Knowing that her husband was invulnerable as long as she remained faithful to him, she rejected all advances, even that of Shiva in the form of a handsome young man. Vishnu then appeared in the guise of Jalandhara and, when she allowed herself to be seduced by him, her real husband lost his invulnerability. Her curse on Vishnu turned him into the stone, Salagrama. She was turned into the plant basil by Vishnu.
(see also Vrindha)
- tulsi<sup>2</sup> (see tulasi<sup>1</sup>)
- Tulsi Das Indian
[‘servant of Lakshmi’. Tulasi Dasa] the 16th c writer of the Hindi version of the Ramayana
- Tulugal Australian
a man’s shadow
It is the duty of the god Daramulum to care for the shadow of a man when he dies.
- Tulungusaq Inuit
the crow father-god regarded as shaper of the world
- Tum (see Atum. Nefertem)
- Tuma Pacific Islands
[Island of the Blessed] the home of the spirits of the dead, in the lore of the Tobriand Islands This realm is envisaged as a paradise where everybody is happy and each man has several wives who do all the work.
- Tumatea (see Tumuteanoa)
- Tumatauenga (see Tu<sup>1</sup>)
- Tumburu Hindu
a Gandharva
As the result of a curse laid on him by Kubera, he became a giant rakshasa, Viradha. (see also Viradha)
- Tume (see Tamu)
- tumsa Burmese
an exorcist
- Tumo-pas Baltic
a Finnish thunder-god revered in the form of an oak tree
- Tumu-i-te-Are Toka Pacific Islands
[The Great Shark. Tumuitearetoka]
a sea-monster of Mangaia
He was defeated by the hero Ngaru.
- Tumu-ra’i-feuna Pacific Islands
a monster octopus
- Tumudurere Pacific Islands
the Papuan lord of the underworld
- Tumuitearetoka
(see Tumu-i-te-Are Toka)
- Tumujin (see Chinggis Khan)
- Tumuteanoa Pacific Islands
[Tumatea]
a goddess of the Hervey Islanders
daughter of Vari-Ma-Te-Takere
She lives in Te Parai Tea below the home of Tango in the world coconut.
- tun Central American
a period of 360 days, in the Mayan time-scale
- Tuna (see Te Tuna)
- Tunaroa (see Te Tuna)
- Tunapa (see Tocapa Viracocha)
- Tundun Australian
an Aboriginal culture-hero adopted son of Mungan-Ngana
He is regarded as the ancestor of the Kurnei tribe.
- Tuneful Nine, The (see Muses)
- Tunek Inuit
a god of seal-hunting
- Tung Chiao Chinese
the bridge used as a meeting place by Ch’ien Niu and Chih Nü
- Tung Chu (see Tsao Chiün)
- Tung Chun Chinese
god of the rising sun
a legendary hero
- Tung-fang Shuo Chinese [Chang Shao-p’ing]
a 1st c BC magician
patron of workers in precious metals spirit of the Metal Planet (Venus)
He gave the emperor Io some magical trees which could foretell illness or death. When one of the trees which the emperor gave back to the magician broke, it foretold Tung-fang Shuo’s own death and a dragon took him up to heaven.
Another story says that he stole three peaches from the tree, Shen t’ao, and, having eaten them, lived for 9,000 years.
- Tung Hai Chinese
father of T’ai Shan
- Tung Hkam Burmese
son of Hkun Ai
He could find no way to reach the island on which his beloved lived so his mother, a serpent-woman, made a bridge with her back.
- Tung Wang Kung Chinese
[Eastern Royal Duke. Lord of the Immortals. Mu Kung. Royal Lord of the East.=Hindu Indra] a Taoist god
husband of Hsi Wang Mu

father of Chung Wo, Hsien Hsiu, Hua Lin, Mei Lan, Yao Chi and Wan
He was the embodiment of the male yang principle and combined with Hsi Wang Mu to produce the world and all that is in it.

He was said to have the face of a bird and the tail of a tiger and he lived in the Cloud Palace.

(see also Mu Kung.
Tung Huang T'ai I)

Tung Yüeh Ta Ti Chinese

the deity in charge of the Ministry of Five Sacred Mountains, Wu Yüeh

Tung Yung (see Ch'ien Niu)

Tunggal Garing East Indian

the first man, in the lore of the Dayaks

husband of Puteri Buala

father of Bunu, Sangen and Sangiang
He was created by Mahatala who carved him from a stick.

Tungk-Pok Siberian

a Yakut deity

He chased a huge six-legged stag across the heavens and captured it but the sky-god turned it into a stone. The Milky Way represents the hunter's ski-trail.

Tuniai East Indian

a creator-god who made the earth

(see also Lahatala)

Tunjung Buih East Indian

a princess who came out of the sea

Like Aphrodite, she was a daughter of the foam. When she appeared on the shore of Sumatra, she was adopted by the king, Sapurba, and married an ambassador at his court.

In another story, she was found standing in a waterfall by Suryananta who married her.

Tunkan North American

a Dakota earth-spirit

Tunkashila (see Grandfather Mystery)

Tunnrida Scandinavian

a sorcerer

He would sit on a hedge or a roof and cast a spell on a house.

Tunogupi Japanese

[Tsunu-guhi]

a Shinto god

consort of Ikugupi

These two deities were produced from a branch of the primaeval god Umashiashikabihikoji.

Tuntu (see Kamui)

Tuonela Baltic

the Finnish underworld ruled by Tuoni
This realm is described as an island which can be reached only by crossing a black river which is totally devoid of light.

In some accounts, Tuonela is the same as Pohjola. (see also Manala)

Tuonen-portti Baltic

[=Norse Helgrind]

the gate at the entrance to the Finnish underworld, Tuonela

Tuonetar Baltic

[Manatar]

wife of Mana or Tuoni

mother of Kipu-Tyttto, Kivutas and Vammata

In some accounts, she was the daughter of Tuoni or Mana and took Vainamoinen across the black river to Tuonela in a boat.

Tuoni Baltic

[Kiyamat-tora. Tamek-rui]

ruler of the Finnish underworld,

Tuonela

husband of Tuonetar

father of Kipu-Tyttto, Kivutas

and Vammata (see also Mana<sup>1</sup>)

Tupa (see Tupan)

Tupan South American

[Tupa.Tupi]

the thunder-god of the Guarani Indians

Tupan was originally a demon who caused thunder when he crossed the heavens, but was later promoted to the status of deity.

He was one of the two brothers who survived the Flood. Some versions say he was one of four survivors, the others being Coem, Hermitten and Krimen.

He is depicted as a short man with curly hair, attended by two storm-birds.

Tuparan (see Wac)

Tuphoios (see Typhon)

Tuphon (see Typhon)

Tupi (see Tupan)

tupilaq<sup>1</sup> Inuit

in Greenland, a magic animal invoked by a shaman

This beast is usually envisaged as a seal and a model of the seal is used as the shaman's familiar.

tupilaq<sup>2</sup> Inuit

spirits of the underworld, Adlivum

Some of these spirits return to their villages, dressed in ragged clothes, and cause illness and disease.

After a year in Adlivum, the spirit goes to Adliparmiut where it becomes an Adliparmiio and no longer harmful.

Tupiles Central American

a low social caste in Mayan society

Tupimare South American

the hill where the ancestors of the Karaya Indians took refuge from the Flood

Tupsimati (see Tablets of Destiny)

Tur<sup>1</sup> Persian

[Tura]

son of Thraetona by Ahaharnaz or

Aranvaz

brother of Eraj and Salm

When his father divided his empire between his three sons, Tur received Asia.

He and Salm killed their brother Eraj of whom they were jealous.

Tur<sup>2</sup> Asian

a mythical hero in Turkestan

Tur Bhalair (see Dun Bhalair)

Tura<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

husband of Turakihau

father of Taurira-Ahua

It was only when his new bride took him to her home in a tree that Tura realised that he had married a spirit, one of the atua. Being a mortal, he died but his wife lived on as an immortal spirit.

Tura<sup>2</sup> (see Tengri.Tur)

Tura<sup>3</sup> (see Tengri<sup>2</sup>. Tur<sup>1</sup>)

Turakihau Pacific Islands

a spirit-woman

one of the atua

wife of Tura

mother of Tauri-Ahua

Turan Roman

[=Greek Aphrodite:=Roman Venus]

a winged Etruscan fertility-goddess and goddess of love

Turbe Tragmar Irish

[Tuirbe Tragmar]

a deity

father of Goibhniu

It is said that he threw his axe so that it landed on the shore and the sea obeyed his command not to pass beyond the axe.

Turcans British

in Arthurian lore, a king of

Armenia

Ture (see Tule)

Turehu Pacific Islands

fairies

These beings live in the land known as Rarohenga, which is believed to be below the earth's surface.

Turel

a demon

Turenn Irish

[Tuireann.Tuiren(n).Tuirill.Tuirren]

a god of night

son of Ogma

husband of Brigit
 father of Brian, Iuchar and Iucharba
 His family feuded with the family of Cian who was killed by Turenn's sons. When his three sons were killed and Lugh refused to revive them, Turenn dropped dead and was buried with them.

In some versions, Dana was the mother of his children.

(see also Sons of Turenn)

Turer East Indian

the first man, some say

He later acted as guide for the souls of the dead on their journey from Beg to Boigu.

Turf Liant (see Teirnyon)

Turgesius (see Tuirgeis)

Turi-a-faumea Pacific Islands

son of Tangaro and Faumea

husband of Hina-a-rauriki

His wife was carried off by the demon octopus, Rogo-tumu-here. Turi-a-faumea and his brother and father set out to rescue her but his brother, Tunui-ka-rere, was lost in the sky. The other two hauled the monster up from the depths on a hook baited with sacred feathers, and cut off all his tentacles and his head, releasing Hina-a-rauriki.

Turilas (see Turris)

Turinoro British

in Italian stories, a Carthaginian noble

When King Arthur was waging war on Lancelot in France, Turinoro came to help the beleaguered knight. Some versions say that Gawain was killed in the fighting, rather than on his return to Britain when the king was recalled to deal with Mordred's rebellion.

Turisas (see Turris)

Turja's Rapids (see Rustja's Rapids)

Turk and Gawain British

a 16th c poem relating the story of Gawain and Gromer

turkey South American

[Jewelled Fowl.Great Xolotl]

a bird sacred to the Aztecs, Maya and Toltecs

Turkey Girl North American

a character in Pueblo myths

Like Cinderella, she was a poor girl befriended by turkeys who gave her fine clothes and a carriage and sent her to a ball where she met a lover.

Turkey Hactcin North American

[Holy One]

a spirit of agriculture

He is said to have brought corn and tobacco to the Jicarilla Apache.

Turkey-Killer North American

a bead-spitter in Creek lore

father of Thrown Away

When he met two maidens seeking a bead-spitter, he tested their virginity with a sieve and water, marrying the one who was still a virgin – the other had been raped by Rabbit pretending to be a bead-spitter.

When, in his absence, his wife was killed by a monster, he cut open her abdomen and rescued their unborn son. The placenta, which he threw into the bushes, became another boy, Thrown Away, and the two grew up together but caused a great deal of trouble. They finally killed their own father who then became a crow.

Turkin British

[Tarquin.Turquin(e)]

a giant guarding the fairy kingdom

brother of Caradoc

His brother had been killed by Lancelot and Turkin hated all King Arthur's knights thereafter.

He captured Lionel while Lancelot slept under a tree and put him in a dungeon with about thirty others. Lancelot was placed under a spell by Morgan le Fay but escaped from her fairy castle with the help of a maid. He then killed the giant, cut off his head and freed the prisoners.

Turms<sup>1</sup> Baltic

[=Vogul Torem]

a Lapp sky-god

Turms<sup>2</sup> Roman

[=Greek Hermes]

an Etruscan god of the underworld

(see also Mahaf)

Turmwr Morvawr (see Morvawr)

Turnface Egyptian

[=Greek Charon]

the ferryman who conducted souls across the river in

the underworld

Turnus<sup>1</sup> Greek

king of the Rutulians

son of Daunus and Venilia

brother of Juturna

He joined the Latins in their fight against the Trojans under Aeneas who were looking for somewhere to settle in Italy and, after killing Pallas, was killed in battle by Aeneas.

He had been betrothed to Lavinia and in some stories he fought a duel with Aeneas for her hand and lost his life in so doing.

Turnus<sup>2</sup> Roman

a Latin

He opposed Tarquinius Superbus in an assembly and the king had him killed by drowning.

Turon<sup>1</sup> Polish

a festival in honour of Radegast, following Christmas

Turon<sup>2</sup> Polish

a fabulous beast

A head of this beast is one of the costumes worn at the post-Christmas festival.

Turpin European

an 8th c archbishop of Rheims,

one of Charlemagne's paladins

He appears in the Charlemagne stories and is said to have recorded the exploits of the emperor and his paladins. In some stories, he acted as adviser to the emperor and he was with Roland at Roncesvalles. Some say that he caused the walls of Pamplona to collapse as a result of prayer alone.

He came into possession of Fastrade's magic ring when she died and found that, as a result, the emperor became very attached to his adviser. Embarrassed by this new departure, Turpin eventually threw the ring into a pool. (see also Tilpin)

Turpy Scottish

a little dog

He barked to keep the hobyahs at bay but his master was so upset by his barking that he killed the dog. The hobyahs then attacked the house and took the owner's wife captive. Her husband restored Turpy to life and together they rescued the woman and Turpy killed and ate all the hobyahs.

Turquin (see Turkin)

Turquine (see Turkin)

Turquoise Boy (see Turquoise Man)

Turquoise Cloud Princess

(see Pi-hsia Yüan-chun)

Turquoise Princess

(see Pi-hsia Yüan-chun)

Turquoise Man North American

[Turquoise Boy]

consort of Turquoise Woman

In one story of the ascent of the Navaho from the underworld, Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin placed Turquoise Boy and Corn Girl on the newly-created Mount Taylor in the south and other deities on the three other cardinal points.

Another version has Ahsonnutli as Turquoise Man who placed men at these points while some accounts have him as the companion of Salt Woman.

(see also Ahsonnutli)

Turquoise Woman (see Estanatlehi)

Turrís Baltic

[Turilas.Turisas]

a god of war in Estonia and Finland

(see also Tursas)

Tursa Roman

an early goddess of terror

Tursas Baltic

a Finnish demon living in the sea, attendant on the sea-god, Ahti

Turtin, Heinrich von dem German

a 13th c poet who wrote the story of Gawain's Grail Quest, Diu Crone

Turtle<sup>1</sup> North American

a turtle-spirit of the Navaho

He was involved with Bear, Frog and Snake in a plan to capture two maidens from an underwater village. The plan went awry and the two girls were killed.

Frog and Turtle were lucky to escape with their lives but Bear and Snake fared better. This pair captured two girls who were overcome by the smoke from the kidnappers' pipes which made Bear and Snake appear as handsome braves with whom the girls mated.

Turtle<sup>2</sup> North American

a character in the lore of many Indian tribes

This character is usually regarded as the animal on the back of which the world is carried.

Turtle<sup>3</sup> (see Tabakea)

Turukawa Pacific Islands

a primeval bird

This hawk and Degei the serpent were the only two living things on earth. The hawk laid two eggs and the serpent incubated them, hatching a boy and a girl, the first humans.

Turvasu Hindu

son of Yayati and Sarmishtha
brother of Anu and Puru
half-brother of Yadu

In some accounts, he is the son of Devayani, Yayati's first wife, rather than of Sarmishtha.

Tushara Hindu

a name for Marisha as 'dew'

Tushita Hindu

one of a group of minor deities, a type of gana

Tushita Heaven Buddhist

[Tuchita Haven.Tusita Heaven:

=Japanese Tosota-ten]

the home of the bodhisattvas: the deva-world

Tushnamatay Persian

a goddess of meditation

Tushup (see Teshub)

tusin African

a priest of the Suk

Tusita (see Tushita)

Tusita Heaven (see Tushita heaven)

tut

a phantom (Lincs)

Tutates (see Totates)

Tutatis (see Teutates)

tutelar (see tutelary)

tutelary

[tutelar]

a guardian in the form of a god, saint or spirit

Tutgar African

a name of Kwoth as 'strong'

Tuti-Nameh Persian

the Persian version of Shukasaptati

Tutivillus

[Titivil]

a spirit that collects words

omitted from speeches,

divine service, etc.

Tutivillus takes these words to hell where they are used against the offender when he comes to judgment.

Tuto-Tamu Japanese

a deity

When Tajikara-wo pulled Amaterasu out of the cave in which she had hidden herself, Tuto-Tamu jumped behind her, holding a straw bale, to prevent her from going back inside.

Tutruica South American

in the lore of the Chaco people of Colombia, a destructive spirit opposed to Caragabi

Tuttu (see Tagtug.Tutu)

Tutu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[Aga-azag.Tuttu]

a name of Marduk as 'father of gods'

Tutu<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

the first man, in the lore of parts of Samoa (see also Atu.Tele)

Tutwal (see Tudwal)

Tuulikki Finnish

daughter of Tapio and Mielkki

sister of Nyriikki

Tuwale East Indian

a sun-god

He asked for the hand of Dapie but, as he appeared in the guise of a beggar, (or, some say, with a pimply face) her parents dressed a pig to take Dapie's place. When he discovered the deceit, the pig ran into the river but promised to appear again in three days.

Tuwapontamsi North American

[Manzraumana]

a hideous Pueblo earth-goddess

Tuwahakapau New Zealand

a Maori chief

One of his sons was killed by men of Manawa's clan so, when Manawa came to visit Tuwahakapau to arrange a marriage between their children, the chief set an ambush from which only one man of Manawa's party, a man named Tahua, escaped alive.

tuyebela African

a familiar in the form of an animal

such as the hyaena or jackal

They eat human flesh and will kill the owner's relatives to get food.

Tvashtar (see Tvashtri)

Tvashtri<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Prajapati.Tastar.Tvas(h)tar.Tvastr.

Twashtar.Twashtri.Visvakarma:

=Greek Hephaestus]

a creator-god and sun-god

an aditya

son of Prithivi and Dyaus brother of Indra

father of Chakshusha, Sharanyu

and Vishvarupa

father of Indra, some say

father of Indra by Nishtigri, some say

In some versions he is the same as Visvakarma, in others he is the father-in-law of Visvakarma.

He acted as artificer to the gods and made the thunderbolt, Vajra, for Indra, Shiva's trident and the magic bowl perpetually full of soma.

Tvashtri<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a sage

When his three-headed son was killed by Indra, the sage created the monster Vrita which swallowed the god's cloud-cattle and the god himself.

Tvastar (see Tvashtri)

Tvastr (see Tvashtri)

Tvisto German

[Tuesco.Tuisco.Tuisto.Twisto]

a double god

father of Mannus

This androgynous being came up out of the earth and made his home in the sky. He is regarded as the precursor of the human race.

Twaddell British

in Arthurian lore, a pigmy king

He was defeated by Tom Thumb at a tournament but nevertheless sent his physician to minister to the midget when he was taken ill.

Twain, the Greek
 the goddesses Demeter
 and Persephone
 These two deities were worshipped at ceremonies attended only by women.

Twanjiraka (see Twanyrika)

Twanyrika Australian [Twanjitaka]
 a mountain-spirit whose voice is that of the bull-roarer
 He taught his people the rite of circumcision.

Twashtar (see Tvashtri)

Twashtri (see Tvashtri)

Twe African
 a lake-god of Ghana
 He fathered a son, Twe Adodo, on an old leper woman.

Twe Adodo African
 son of Twe

Twelve Books of Tages Roman [Acherontian Books. Books of Tages] a record of the wisdom passed to the Etruscans by the god Tages

Twelve Ik Central American
 the twelfth of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle
 On this day the wind was created.
(see also Ik<sup>1</sup>)

Twelve Terrestrial Branches Chinese
 the Chinese Zodiac
 This version has six domestic and six wild animals as signs. These are the boar, cock, dog, dragon, goat, hare, horse, monkey, ox, rat, snake and
 tiger.

Twenty-four Examples of Filial Devotion Chinese a collection of stories, examples of respect for one's elders, collected by Kuei Chu-ching

Twenty-four Knights British an early list of the knights at King Arthur's court
 The more famous of the names on this list included Bors, Galahad, Gawain, Lancelot, Mordred, Owain, Percival, and Tristram.
 Others mentioned were Aron, Blaes,
 Cadog, Cyon, Drudwas, Eiddilig, Eliwlod, Glewlwyd, Hoel, Llywarch, Menw, Morfran, Nascien, Petroc and Sandda.

Twice-born Greek
 a name and attribute of Dionysus

Twilight of the Gods, The German [Götterdämmerung.=Norse Ragnarok] one of the 4 Wagnerian operas based on the Nibelungenleid
 This work tells the story of the death of Siegfried and Brunhild and the end of the kingdom of the gods.

(see also Ragnarok)

Twinkling Hoard (see Tete Brec)
twins<sup>1</sup>

twins are the subject of many and varied beliefs in cultures throughout the world

(1) In Africa, the Ibo regard twins with horror whereas other tribes, including the Yoruba, revere them.

(2) In Greek mythology, the twins Castor and Polyneices (Pollux), sons of Zeus and Leda, were placed in the heavens as the constellation Geminia (Twins).

(3) In Mexico, the Aztec killed one twin at birth, in the belief that it saved the life of a parent, and the surviving twin was said to have evil power; the Tarascans regard twins as gifted in the matter of medicine and say that the plants grown by twins will yield double fruits which, if eaten by a pregnant woman, will result in the birth of further twins; the Popaluca say that twins are good horse-breakers and can cure colic in domestic animals and such ailments as toothache
 in humans.

(4) In North America, the Apache have their heroes in the twins Child-of-the-Water and Killer-of-Enemies.

The Cherokee say that twins are able to see the 'little people'.

The Iroquois twins, Flint and Sapling, acted as transformers and creators.

The Kiowa talk of the Split Boys who have many strange adventures.

The Lillooet say that twins are the children of bears.

The Micmac creator, Gluskap, is the twin of Malsum.

In the lore of the Ojibwa, the trickster, Nanabozho is the twin of Wolf.

Plains Indians tell of the twins
 Lodge Boy and Thrown Away.

The Pueblo tribes have the twin war-gods Ahayuta achi.

The Shawnee are said to regard twins as lucky in some cases though in others it was said that the elder was likely to be evil.

Among the Tubatulabal Indians
 it was believed that, if one twin should die, both would die, and if one joked about a woman having twins she would do so.

The Winnebago have stories of the hero twins, Flesh and Stump
(see also Twins<sup>2</sup>).

(5) In Roman lore, the twins Romulus and Remus, founders of Rome, were suckled by a wolf after they were abandoned.

(6) In South America, the Bakairi twins, Kame and Keri ate the moon and sun respectively personified.

The Miskito father of twins, believing he could father only one child at a time, killed one or abandoned both.

The Yaghan talk of divine twins, culture-heroes, who taught the tribe the use of fire and the art of hunting.

A widespread theme has one clever and strong twin, the other stupid and clumsy, often regarded as sun and moon respectively.
 Another common motif is that of the woman killed, by jaguars who rear her twins; they, when they discover the truth, kill the jaguars and climb up to heaven on an arrow-ladder and become the moon and sun.

(7) Other beliefs about twins:
 twins result from adultery; they may have separate fathers; a woman who eats a double fruit will bear twins; twins are lucky or have second sight.

Twins<sup>2</sup> North American creators and culture-heroes of the Pueblo tribes

These primordial beings, Preceder
 and Follower, were given power over all the creatures on earth. Using their thunderbolts, they made cracks in the earth and descended into the depths on spider webs, finding partly-formed beings buried in the first womb of the earth. They led them up to the second womb, those that failed to make the ascent becoming monsters. In the next womb, these beings discovered the nature of sex and continued up through the fourth womb until they reached the outer world as men and women.

Twins<sup>3</sup> (see Gemini)

Twisto (see Twisto)

Two Brothers Egyptian

the story of Anpu and Bata

(see Bata)

Two Chiccan Central American

the fifteenth of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day evil appeared amongst men. (see also Chiccan)

Two Eb Central American
the second of the 20 days of the Mayan creation cycle

On this day Month created a ladder from earth to heaven. (see also Eb)

Two-God (see Ometeotl)
Two Goddesses Greek

[Great Goddesses]
the 2 deities Demeter and her daughter Core (Persephone)

Two-horned Greek
an epithet of Alexander the Great in Ethiopia

Two Ladies Egyptian
[Nebty]
the goddesses Nekhbet and Wadjet

Two Lady (see Ometecuhtli)

Two-legged North American
one of the 4 Kindred Gods of the Sioux

This category includes both humans and bears.

Two Lord (see Ometecuhtli)

Two Men (see Wati-kutjara)

Two-Rabbit (see Ome Tochtli)

Two Reeds (see Omacatl)
Two Swineberds, The Irish

[Cophur in da muccida]
the story of Friuch and Rucht

Twrch Llawin Welsh
a young boar
one of the offspring of Twrch Trwyth

Twrch Trwyd (see Twrch Trwyth)

Twrch Trwyth Welsh

[Porcus Troit.Troynt.Twrch Trwyd.

White Turk:=Irish Torc Triath]

a king transformed into a huge boar for his sins

son of Taredd Wledig

One of the tasks set for Culhwch by Ysbaddaden as a condition of marriage to his daughter Olwen was to bring to him the comb and scissors, which, together with a razor, this animal carried between his ears. King Arthur and his men helped Culhwch in this task and they hunted the boar through Wales to Cornwall. He killed many of Arthur's men in the fights that ensued en route and lost most of his own sons who were in the form of young boars. The comb and scissors were seized by Arthur's men and given to Culhwch and Twrch Trwyth was finally chased into the sea off Cornwall and never seen again.

In other versions, the role of Twrch Trwyth is played by a prince who leads a band of ferocious pigs.

Twrgadarn Welsh
father of Madawg

Twyll Huan Welsh
a name of Blodeuedd ('deception of Huan') as an owl

Ty (see Tyr)

Ty Gwydr Welsh ['glass house']
the home of Merlin on Bardsey Island, some say, in which he kept the Thirteen Treasures of Britain

Ty-newydd (see Cerrig Meibion Arthur)

Tya Australian
the world which, according to Aboriginal lore, was once part of the sun

Tybal (see Tybert)

Tybert European [Tibert.Tybal:=Dutch Tibeert]
a cat in Reynard the Fox

Reynard tried to lead Tybert into a trap during a race but got caught himself, escaping with a wound when the farmer accidentally knocked the trap open.

Tyblion Welsh
son of Cunedda
father of Meirion

His parents had eight sons of whom Tyblion was the eldest. He died before the family settled in Wales and his son, Meirion, took his place as one of the founders of the Welsh kingdoms.

Tyche Greek
[Agathe Tyche.Tuche:=Etruscan Nortia:=Persian Ardokhsho:=Roman Fortuna]
the goddess of good fortune daughter of Zeus and Hera or of Oceanus and Tethys wife of Agathadaemon

In some accounts, she is one of the Fates.

Tydeus Greek
one of the Seven Against Thebes
son of Oeneus and Althaea, Gorge or Periboea brother of Olenias husband of Deipyla
father of Diomedes

He was banished for killing his brother or uncle in a hunting accident and was purified by Admastus whose daughter Deipyla he married.

He tried to settle the quarrel with the Thebans by negotiation but failed. On his way back, he was ambushed by fifty Thebans and killed all of them. In the attack on Thebes, he faced Melanippus at the Proetid Gate and killed him in single combat, receiving a fatal wound at the same time. When Amphiarus decapitated Melanippus and gave the head to Tydeus, he split it open and ate the brains. Athena, who had arrived on the scene to save him, was so appalled that she left him to die.

Tydides Greek
a name for Diomedes as a son of Tydeus

tyet Egyptian
an amulet of bloodstone worn by Isis: a sacred symbol in the form of a girdle or knot

Tyfyng (see Tyrfyng)
tyger

a monster, part lion, part wolf

Tyll Eulenspiegel German

[(H)owleglass.Owl-glass.
Owlespiegle.Tilleulenspiegel]
a mythical clown

Tylwith Teg Welsh

[(Bendith y) Mamau]
the brownies or fairies ruled by Gwynn ap Nudd

These beings are said to vanish if they touch iron.

Tymborychos Greek
a name of Aphrodite as 'gravedigger'

Tyndareos (see Tyndareus)

Tyndareus<sup>1</sup> Greek

['pounder'.Tyndareos]
a king of Sparta with Icarus son of Oebalus or Perieres and Gorgophone or Batia brother of Aphareus, Hippocoon, Icarus and Leucippus husband of Leda
father of Philonöe, Phoebe and Timandra

He was banished from Sparta by Hippocoon and fled to Aetolia where he married Leda.

Of the four children born to his wife Leda, there are conflicting stories. In some, they are the natural parents of Clytemnestra only, in others of both Clytemnestra and Castor and in others of these two and Polydeuces, the fair Helen being the daughter of Zeus and Leda. It seems most likely that Clytemnestra and Castor were the children of Tyndareus and that Zeus was the father of Helen and Polydeuces, with Tyndareus adopting Polydeuces as his own son.

He sheltered Agamemnon and Menelaus who fled to Sparta when Aegisthus killed their father Atreus and later he helped them to recover their father's throne.

Heracles killed Hippocoon and his sons and restored Tyndareus and his brother Icarius to the throne. Tyndareus finally abdicated in favour of Menelaus.

So many princes wanted to marry Helen that he had them all stand on the skin of a sacrificial animal and swear to support whichever of them was chosen as her husband. She married Menelaus and, when she was later abducted by Paris, they were reminded of their oath and rallied to the Greek cause against the Trojans.

Tyndareus<sup>2</sup> Greek
a name for Zeus as 'thunderer'

Tyndaridae Greek
the descendants of Tyndareus

Tyndaris Greek
a daughter of Tyndareus
(Helen or Clytemnestra)

Tyno Helig (see Lafau Sands)

Tyolet British
a knight who spoke with animals

He had been brought up in the forests where he learned the language of the wild beasts.

To please the daughter of the king of Britain, he killed the lions which guarded a white stag and presented the stag's foot to this lady who then became his wife.

Typanon Tbai
a dancing angel holding a thunderbolt

Typhaon (see Typhon)

Typhis (see Typhus)

Typho (see Typhon)

Typhoeus Greek [Typhos]
a monster

In some accounts, this being was the father or son of Typhon; in others they are the same.

Typhon Greek
[Tuphon. Tuphoios. Typhaon. Typho(eus): =Egyptian Set;=Hittite Typhoon] an ass-headed or 100-headed monster the hurricane personified offspring of Tartarus and Gaea offspring of Typhoeus and Echidna,
some say
father by Echidna of Cerberus, the Chimaera, the Crommyonian Sow, the Harpies, the Hydra, Ladon, the Nemean Lion, Orthrus and the Sphinx

Typhon was a giant with hands in the form of serpents, serpent legs and huge wings who spewed flaming rocks from his mouth. He so frightened the gods that they concealed themselves, in the form of animals, in Egypt.

In a fight with Zeus, Typhon cut out the sinews of the god's limbs, leaving him helpless. He concealed the sinews in the Corycian cave where they were guarded by the dragon Delphyne until Aegipan (or Cadmus or Pan), and Hermes recovered them and made Zeus whole again. The god then chased Typhon to Sicily where he buried him under the weight of Mount Etna.

In another story, it was the giant Enceladus who was buried under Mount Etna while Typhon was thrown into Tartarus.

In those versions where it is said that there are two separate monsters, one is the terrible son of Tartarus and Gaea, the other is this monster's son and it is this son who fathered all the other monsters.

In some accounts, he is equated with Ophion. (see also Typhoeus)

Typhonian Beast Egyptian
a monster

This animal, which is depicted as having a long snout, square ears and a tufted tail, was the symbol of Set.

Typhoon Mesopotamian
[=Egyptian Set;=Greek Typhon]
a Hittite monster, half man, half serpent

This beast was slain by Tarku (Teshub).
(see also Illuyankas)

Typhos (see Typhoeus)

Typhus Greek [Typhis]
helmsman of the Argo

Typhus died on the voyage to Colchis and his duties were taken over by Ancaeus.

Tyr Norse
[E(a)r.Ir.Tei.wa.Teu.Tew.Ty(w): =German Dings.Erchtag.Irmin.Tiu(z).
Tiw(a).Tiwaz. Zio.Ziu(-Wara).
Ziumen.Ziw;=Saxon Saxnot.Tig:
=Roman Mars]

a sky-god and god of war son of Odin and Frigga, some say son of Hymir, some say His hand was bitten off by Fenris when Tyr put it in the wolf's mouth as a guarantee of good faith when Fenris allowed himself to be bound to a rock and then found that he could not break free.

At Ragnarok, he killed Garm but was himself killed in the battle by Garm. (see also Cheru)

Tyren (see Uirne)

Tyrting Norse
[Tyfing]

the sword of Angantyr
This magic sword, made by the dwarfs, would slice through rock or metal,
could fight of its own accord and needed to taste blood before it could be put back into its scabbard. It was buried with Angantyr when he died but his daughter, Hervor, used magic to force him to rise and hand the sword over to her.

This weapon also appears in the story of Heithrek and Gestumblindi.

Tyrnog Diwrnach Welsh
a magic cauldron

This vessel was said to boil food for brave warriors but not for cowards. It was one of the Treasures of Britain.

Tyro Greek
a dawn-goddess

daughter of Salmoneus and Alcideia wife of Cretheus mother of Aeson, Amythaon and Pheres by Cretheus
mother of Neleus and Pelias
by Poseidon

She was raped by Sisyphus who tried to persuade the people that she had had an incestuous affair with her own father, Salmoneus.

She loved Enipeus but had an affair with Poseidon, in the guise of Enipeus, and bore the twins Neleus and Pelias.
She abandoned them but they were found and reared by a horse-herder and adopted by Salmoneus and his wife. Her father's second wife, Sidero, treated Tyro very badly. Tyro married Cretheus and bore him a son, Aeson who became the father of Jason.

In another version, Cretheus adopted the twins as his own, in others, when he learned of her affair with Poseidon, he abandoned Tyro and took Sidero, her maid, in her place.
Tyro was badly treated and lived in very poor circumstances until the boys grew to manhood and went to look for her. When they found her, they were quick to exact revenge by killing Sidero.

Tyronoe British
in some accounts, a sister of Morgan le Fay

Tyrrhenus Italian
son of Atys

He was said to have emigrated from Lydia during a famine and is regarded as the founder of the Etruscans.

- Tyrxis Greek
a name for Apollo as keeper of wells
- Tyselin (see Tיעלין)
- Tyurin-muzykay Siberian
a hero who killed a man-eating sea-monster
- tyus Turkish
[=Altai Kurmes:=Buriat ongon]
a shamanist fetish in the form of an image (see also ongon)
- Tyw (see Tyr)
- Tzahui Central American
[=Aztec Tlaloc:=Maya Chac:=Tōtomac Tajin:=Zapotec Cocijo]
the Mixtec name for Tezcatlipoca as Tlaloc
- Tzakmaqiel
a demon, ruler of the Zodiacal sign, Aquarius (see also Gambiel)
- Tzatzitepec Central American
a sacred hill on which Quetzalcoatl's instructions were announced
- Tzedec (see Zedex)
- Tzequil (see Votan)
- Tzequiles Central American
a Mayan race of seafarers said to be descendants of Votan
- Tzi-daltai North American carved wooden figures worn as protection by the Apache Indians
- Tzinteotl Central American
an Aztec goddess of birth an aspect of Cinteotl or of Tonacacihuatl Another version gives Tzinteotl as male, an aspect of Tonacatecuhtli as god of lightning.
- tzité Central American
a plant
The berries of this plant were used, according to Aztec lore, by Gucumatx and Tepeu as a divining tool, helping them to decide what form they should use to create human beings. The wooden figures that they carved as a result proved to be unsatisfactory and were destroyed by huge predatory birds.
- Tzitzimime Central American [Tzizimine]
an Aztec star-spirit
These malevolent spirits are said to attack humans in the form of an eagle or vulture, causing fits in children and lust in men. At the end of the world they will devour all mankind.
In some accounts, they are the same as the Cihuateteo.
- Tzitzimitl Central American [Tzizimitl]
the old woman who guarded the sleeping maiden Mayahuel
- tzizhui North American
a sky-spirit of the Osage
- Tzizimime (see Tzitzimime)
- Tzizimitl (see Tzitzimitl)
- Tzolk'in Central American [=Aztec Tonalpohualli]
a period of 260 days in the Mayan sacred calendar
- Tzontemoc (see Mictlantecuhtli)
- Tzu-kung Chinese
the constellation in which the sky-god, T'ai I, lives
- Tzu-ssu Chinese
one of the Four Saints grandson of Confucius
- Tzu Sun Niang Niang Chinese
a mother-goddess
patroness of marriage
She was a mortal who committed suicide to escape the advances of the king and was later deified.
- Tzu-ts'ai Chinese
one of the Eighteen Lohan, in some accounts
He is said to have been buried alive and decapitated five times.
He is depicted with a fly-whisk in his hand.
- Tzu-t'ung Chinese a god of literature, in some accounts (see also Wen Ch'ang Ti Chun)
- Tzu Wei Chinese
[Purple Crepe Myrtle]
god of the Pole Star
- Tzultacah Central American
Mayan thunder-gods
These deities, of which there are at least thirteen, live in streams and rivers and each has his own mountain. They are said to send snakes to punish mankind for various offences.
- Tzununiha Central American
[House of the Water]
a woman created by the gods as a wife for Mahucutah

U

U-Sa Korean
[Chancellor Rain]
one of the 3 ministers who came to earth with Hwanung

Ua New Zealand
[Ua-nganga.Ua-nui.Ua-roa.Ua-whatu] a Maori rain-god
father of Hau Maringi

Ua-Ildak Mesopotamian
a Babylonian goddess of vegetation

Ua-nganga New Zealand
a name for Ua as 'rain-storm'

Ua-nui New Zealand
a name for Ua as 'heavy rain'

Ua-roa New Zealand
a name for Ua as 'long rain'

Ua-whatu New Zealand
a name for Ua as 'hail'

Uac-metun-ahau (see Itzamna)

Uachit (see Edjo.Wadjet)

Uacilla Russian
an Ossetian rain-spirit

Uadha (see Uadu)

Uadjit (see Edjo.Wadjet)

Uadu Irish [Uadha]
father of Ragallach

Uaica South American
a medicine-man of the Juruna Indians
He was said to receive from Sinaa in dreams instructions that enabled him to improve the conditions of his people. Sinaa gave him the bark of a magic tree and the drink which he brewed from this bark gave him magical powers such as the ability to cure illness. He married but his wife was unfaithful. Her lover tried to kill Uaica but, having eyes in the back of his head, Uaica was able to escape and disappeared into the earth.

Uaithne Irish
[Uathe]
the magical harp of the Dagda
The Fomoiré once stole this instrument. The Dagda found where they had put it and, when he called it, it jumped from the wall where it was hanging, killed the men who had stolen it and put the rest to sleep with its music.

Uakea Pacific Islands
a Beru warrior
He, with Kaitu, conquered the Gilbert Islands.

Uallabh Scottish
[=British Gawain]
a Scottish hero
In this story, Arthur is said to be king of Ireland, not Britain, and married a lady who arrived on a bier. Uallabh killed this lady's brother, married her younger sister and became king of Ireland after Arthur.

Uaman Irish
the sidhe ruled by Ethal Anubail

Uan Irish
a servant of the high-king

Uar Irish
a Fomoiré from Munster

He had three sons who were said to spread venom on anything they touched.

Uar-Gaeth-Sceo-Luchair-Sceo Irish
a giant

Some say that this name, essentially gibberish, is used to conceal the name of a divine being.

Uarad Garad Irish [Uaran Garaid]
a river in Connaught

This is the river where Mac Cecht filled the cup with water to take back to Conary when he was besieged at Da Derga's hostel.

In other stories it was Conall Cearnach, not Mac Cecht.

Uarahiulu South American wife of Darukavaitere mother of Uazale

When she gave birth to a series of parrots and other birds, her mother-in-law, Maiso, intervened and caused her to bear the first of the Paresi tribe, the boy Uazale.

Uaran Garaid (see Uarad Garad)
uas (see was)

Uasar Egyptian
a name for Osiris during the winter period when he slept

Uatchit (see Wadjet)

Uath mac Imoman Irish [Horror.Ulath mac Immomuin]

a shape-changing god
He lived at Oath's Lake and was asked to judge which of three warriors, Conall, Cuchulainn and Laoghaire, was the greatest. Uath proposed a beheading contest. In some versions, Conall and Laoghaire refused the challenge, in others they cut off Uath's head but refused to submit themselves for the axe. Cuchulainn accepted the challenge and when Uath tried to behead him, the axe turned on the executioner.

It is said that, when Cuchulainn put his head on the block, Uath resumed his normal form as King Curoi.

(see also Bricciu.Curoi)

Uathach Irish

a dawn goddess
daughter of Skatha
sister of Cuare

During his training on the Isle of Skye under Skatha, Cuchulainn accidentally broke Uathach's finger. Her lover, Cochar Cruife, challenged Cuchulainn to single combat and was killed. Cuchulainn then took Uathach as his own mistress.

Another version says that the woman he took as his mistress was Princess Aifa, Skatha's sister. and Uathach was his own daughter by Skatha. One or the other was the mother of Cuchulainn's son, Connla.

Uathe (see Uaithe)

Uatlan South American

a virgin mother-goddess of the Quiche Indians
mother of Xbalanque

Uayayab (see Uayeb)

Uayeb Central American

[Uayayab]
the god of the nemontemi, the five-day period of fasting and ill-luck at the end of each year

Uaz (see Wadjet)

Uazale South American

a culture-hero of the Paressi tribe son of Darukavaitere and Uarahiulu Uazale is said to have introduced tobacco and manioc and, by planting some of his own hair, grew the first cotton.

He was envisaged as having a tail and a bat-like membrane between his arms and legs.

Uazit (see Wadjet)

Uba Japanese

a pine-tree spirit
wife of Jo

Ubar-Tutu Mesopotamian

[Ubara-Tutu]
father of Atrahasis or Utnapishtim

Ubara-Tutu (see Ubar-Tutu)

Ubastet (see Bast)

Ubasti (see Bast)

Ubbe Norse

son of Ragnar Lodbrok and Aslaug and brother of Ivar, some say

Ubelluris (see Upelluri)

Ubertas Roman

a god of agriculture

Uberto European

a name used by Argalia at Charlemagne's great tournament

Ubugami Japanese

a guardian-god of childbirth

In some accounts he was the same as Yamano-kami.

ubiquity

the supposed power to be present at different places at the same time

Ubshuukina Mesopotamian

the hall or court of the Sumerian gods assembled

Ubyi Baltic

a Finnish god said to drink blood

This being is regarded as the spirit of a sorcerer or some evil person.

Ucakijana (see Hlakanyana)

Ucalegon Greek

an adviser to Priam

Uccaihsravas Hindu

[Uchchhaisravas]
a magical horse

This was the seventh thing to emerge at the Churning of the Ocean and became the horse of Indra.

Ucchusma Buddhist

an aspect of Aksobhya

a form of Jambhala

Uchak African

a king of the Alur

The stones that were found in his heart when he died are boiled in oil as part of a rain-making ceremony.

Uchchhaisravas (see Uccaihsravas)

Uchdryd (see Ychdryt)

Uchtdealb Irish

[Uchtdealbh]
a druidess

She loved Iollann but he married Uirne. Jealous, Uchtdealb turned her into a bitch and her twin children were born as the hounds Bran and Sceolan.

In another story, she was the wife of Manannan and, when Aillen fell in love with her, the god gave her to Aillen and took Aillen's sister, Aine.

Uchtdealbh (see Uchtdealb)

Uchtsiti North American

father of the gods of the Acoma tribe

Udadhikumara Jain

a minor god
one of the 10 Bhanavasi

Udaeus Greek

[Oudaeus]
one of the 5 surviving Sown-men

Udai (see Autak)

Udaijin Japanese

one of the 2 gatekeepers at the entrance to a Buddhist shrine known as Nio-san

This being stands on the right side of the entrance Niomon.

(see also Yadaijin)

udar Arabian

a type of ghul

This being lives in the desert and rapes male travellers. As a result, the victim may develop worms in his anus, a condition which is invariably fatal.

Udensmate Baltic

[Mother of Waters]
a Latvian water-goddess

Udgita Hindu

the Sanskrit version of the mantra Om

Uadjit (see Edjo.Wadjet)

Uddagubba Mesopotamian

a Sumerian deity, messenger for

Enlil

Uddushu-namir (see Ashushu-Namir)

Udelnicy (see Narucnici)

Udhili Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer

He was tutored by Karnari and was reputed to be able to fly.

udjat Egyptian

[Eye of Atum.Eye of Horus.Eye of Ra.

udjat-eye.wedjat eye]

a third eye, in the middle of a god's forehead, symbol of eternity

(see also Edjo)

Udo Central American

a Mexican moon-goddess wife of Uhubaput

Udot Egyptian

a cobra-goddess

Udsar (see Sin<sup>1</sup>)

Udu (see Udug)

Udug Mesopotamian

[Udu:=Akkadian Uttuku]

a demon

uDumakade African

a name of Unkulunkulu as the controller of lightning

Uduran Mesopotamian

[=Iranian Hutrām]

an Assyrian god

Udzume (see Izume)

Uekera Pacific Islands

a sacred tree of the Gilbert Islands, said to reach to heaven

- Uemac (see Huemac)
- Uenuku (New Zealand)
a Maori chief
husband of Pai Hutanga, Pou Matangatanga and Taka-Rita
His second wife, Taka-Rita, slept with two other men so Uenuku killed all three of them. Her brother, Tawheta, exacted vengeance by killing all five of Uenuku's sons by his first wife, Pai Hutanga. Uenuku attacked Tawheta's compound and killed many of his men but some, including Tawheta, escaped and hid in the forest. Uenuku then seized Tawheta's sister, Pou Matangatanga and married her. When Tawheta's hiding place was discovered, Uenuku killed Tawheta and his men. The blood-stained water was as red as the sea at sunset and the battle became known as The Day of Two Sunsets.
- Ueret (see Tauret)
- Uergo (see Huergo)
- Uert-Heket (see Iusas)
- Uetonga (Pacific Islands)
a king of the turehu grandson of Ruaumoko
- Ueucoyotl (Central American) [=North American Coyote]
a trickster-god of the Aztecs
- Uffern (see Annwfn)
- Ufir (see Uphir)
- Uga-no-kami (see Ugonomitama)
- Uga-no-Mitama (see Ugonomitama)
- Ugaine Mor (Irish) [Ugainy.Ughaine.Ugoine.Ugony]
a high-king of Ireland
husband of Cessair
brother of Bodhbhcha father of Covac and Laoghaire Lorc
When he died the country was divided into equal parts and shared among his twenty-five children.
In some accounts, he was killed by his brother, Bodhbhcha, who was himself killed by Ugaine's son, Laoghaire.
- Ugainy Mor (see Ugaine Mor)
- Ugallu (Mesopotamian) [=Sumerian Uridimmu]
Babylonian demons
These beings took the form of men with the head of a lion, the horns of a bull, and the claws of an eagle assisting Tiamat in her struggle with Marduk.
- Ugar (Mesopotamian)
a Syrian god of vegetation
- Ugarthilocus (European)
the Danish name for Utgard-Loki
- Ugatya (African)
an incubus in the form of a snake
- Uggerus (see Odin)
- Ughaine Mor (see Ugaine Mor)
- Uglesha (Serbian)
a noble
brother of Goiko and Vukashin
He and his brothers were building a fortress at Scutari when a veela warned them that it would never stand unless the infant twins, Stoyan and Stoyana, were buried beneath the walls. When these children could not be found, Goiko's wife was immured in the walls instead.
- uGobungquonggo (African) a name of Unkulunkulu as 'overthrower of kings'
- Ugoine Mor (see Ugaine Mor)
- Ugonomitama (Japanese) [Uga-no-kami.Uga-no-Mitama]
a Shinto goddess of agriculture (see also Inari<sup>1</sup>.Uke-mochi)
- Ugony Mor (see Ugaine Mor)
- Ugra (Hindu)
a god
a name for Agni or Shiva as 'fierce one' consort of Diksa father of Santana
- Ugracangika (Hindu)
a form of Durga
one of the navadurgas
- Ugrasena (Hindu)
a king
husband of Pavanarekha
His wife produced the demon Kansa, after being raped by the demon Drumlalika, and Ugrasena raised Kansa as his own son. Kansa deposed his 'father' but was killed by Krishna who restored Ugrasena to his throne. Ugrasena immolated himself on the god's pyre when he was killed.
- Ugrasura (Hindu)
a snake-demon
He swallowed the infant Krishna but the boy grew to full stature in an instant and escaped by splitting open the snake's gullet.
- Ugratara (Hindu)
a terrible goddess
She is depicted as carrying a corpse on her head.
- Ugunsmate (Baltic)
[Mother of Fire]
a Latvian fire-goddess
- uGuqubadele (African)
a name of Unkulunkulu as 'the irresistible one'
- Uh Panga Lwe Zizwe (African)
the reed from which, in the lore of the Zulus, the human race emerged
- Uhe Minu (see Lord Uhe Minu)
- Uheita (Japanese)
a peasant
He captured a witch and threw her on the fire in his house. She jumped off but could not escape from the room so she turned herself into a copy of the statue of Kwannon which stood on the peasant's shrine. He chose the right one by making an offering at which the real goddess smiled and quickly threw the other into a pot of boiling water where she died.
- Uhepono (North American)
a giant in the lore of the Zuni
This woolly-skinned monster with huge eyes is said to live in the underworld.
- Uhiji-ni (Japanese) [Lord Mud Earth]
one of the early Shinto gods brother of Shuhiji-ni
- Uhlakanyana (see Hlakanyana)
- Uhlathu Yesizibi (African)
son of a Zulu king and queen
The queen gave birth to a huge snake. When its skin peeled away, five boys and five girls were revealed. Uhlathu was the first boy to emerge.
- Uhubaput (Central American)
a Mexican creator-god and sun-god husband of Udo
- Ui Neill (Irish)
descendants of Niall
In some accounts, they are identified as the Milesians.
- Ui Tarsig (Irish)
a clan of the Fir Gailean of which Finn mac Cool was a member
- Uigreann (Irish)
[U(i)rgriu]
a warrior
When he was killed by Finn mac Cool, his five sons set out to avenge his death. In the Battle of Gabhra, each threw a spear at Finn at the same moment so that they could share in his death. In another version, Finn was killed by Aichleach, one of the five sons.
- Uigriu (see Uigreann)
- Uillin (Irish) [Aillen]
grandson of Nuada
In some accounts, Uillin drowned Manannan in Loch Corrib.
- Uinde (see Undry)
- Uira (see Kanapu)
- Uirgriu (see Uigreann)
- Uirne (Irish) [Tuirrean.Tuiren(n).Tyren]
an aunt of Finn mac Cool
She was promised in marriage to a king, Iollan, whose jealous first wife turned her into a hound and gave her to Fergus Fionnliat as a present. When Lugaid Lagha killed Iollan, she was restored to human form and married Lugaid. She later gave birth to triplets and, at the same time, two pups which became Finn's hounds, Bran and Sceolan.

In some accounts, she is referred to as Finn's sister and called Tuireann (Tyren) and the jealous woman was not his first wife but his mistress, the druidess Uchtdealb.

Uisneach (see Usna)

Uisneach, Hill of (see Hill of Aisneach)

Uisnech (see Usna)

Uisniu (see Usna)

Uitheachar (see Uthechair)

Uitzilopochtli (see Huitzilopochtli)

Uixtocihuatl Central American

[Uixtocijuatl]

the Aztec goddess of salt water

Uixtocijuatl (see Uixtocihuatl)

Uj Biblical

a giant

He was so tall that the flood reached no higher than his waist, so he was able to survive.

Ujigami Japanese

[Ujikami]

an ancestral god: the ghost of a former ruler

Ujikami (see Ujigami)

Uka-no-gami (see Inari<sup>1</sup>)

Ukaho African

in the lore of the Chagga people, a yam
This plant grew in the earthly paradise where the first humans, then immortal, lived. They were forbidden to eat the produce of Ukaho but were tempted by the serpent of death and cooked some yams. When they ate the yams, humans lost their immortality and Ukaho was taken up to heaven and restored for the use of the gods only.

Ukaipu Pacific Islands

wife of Ivo

She was made from the stem of the wild ginger-plant

Uke-mochi Japanese

[Ukeomochi]

a Shinto food-goddess

wife of Inari

Tsukiyomo thought that the food she offered him had been vomited up from Uke-mochi's stomach so he killed her. Her body brought forth various cereals, the silkworm, the ox and the horse. Her husband took over her duties.

In some versions, Inari is female, in others the partners are regarded as aspects of Ugonomitama.

Ukeomochi (see Uke-mochi)

Ukhat (see Shamhat)

Ukhshyat-ereta (see Hushedar)

Ukhshyat-nemah (see Hushedar-mah)

Ukko Balti'

[Ake-Thor.'old one'.Pauanne,Ukkonen]

a Finnish sky-god and god of thunder husband of Rauni

The noise of his chariot wheels is heard as thunder. When he sent fire to earth in the form of a thunderbolt it was swallowed by a fish but recovered from the fish's stomach by Vainamoinen.

He is regarded as a later version of Jumala.

Ukkonen (see Ukko)

Ukobach

a demon in hell

He is responsible for attending the oil-fired boilers in hell and is depicted as enveloped in flames.

uKqili African

a name of Unkulunkulu as 'wise'

Uksakka Baltic

[=Swedish Dorr-karing]

a Lapp door-goddess

She is said to live under the door and protects those going in and out. She is also regarded as a guardian of infants.

Uktena North American

a Cherokee water-monster

This huge horned beast was made by the Little Men to kill the sun so that its heat would no longer kill men and women. It went into the sky with a rattlesnake and, when the snake bit the daughter of the sun by mistake, the monster gave up the attempt and was banished.

ukubuyisa African

a Zulu rite said to bring back the spirit of a venerated ancestor

Ukulan-Tojon Mongolian

a Yakut water-spirit

Ukupanipo Pacific Islands

a shark-god in Hawaii

This being, who controls the fish population, is said to adopt a young child and endow it with the power to change into a shark.

Ukur (see Kur)

Ukwa African

an ancestral hero of the Shilluk grandson of Kola

Ulakhany Siberian

a Yakut fire-god consort of Sabaga

Ulala North American

[Walala]

a female monster of the Haida, said to eat men

Ulania European

a queen

She sent to Charlemagne a shield made of gold as a prize for the bravest of his paladins. Whoever won it could claim the queen's hand in marriage.

Ulanji Australian

a spirit-snake of the Aborigines

Ulard Irish

an early name for Ulster

Ulath (see Uath)

Ulay Pacific Islands

a Philippine prince

He fell in love with a beautiful girl, who was really a witch, but left her and married another girl. The witch was so angry that she turned his father's city into a forest, his people into animals and Ulay himself into a monkey, a form he was destined to keep for 500 years.

Uldra Baltic

[Ullda]

a fairy race in Lapland, living under the earth (see also Huldrafolk)

Ule South American

an ancestral hero of the Anti

Indians of Bolivia

father of Tiri

After the destruction of mankind by fire, Titi, the progenitor of the tribe, split open a tree and a beautiful maiden emerged from the tree and Ule married her. Together they became the ancestors of the Anti.

Another story says that he was torn to pieces by a jaguar but his wife reassembled the parts she could find and restored him to life. Ule realised that part of his face was missing and went off, leaving his wife and young son. His wife was later killed by jaguars but her son, Tiri, avenged her death when he grew up.

Ulfin British

a counsellor of Uther Pendragon

Ulfius British

[Urfin.Ursin]

a knight of Uther's court

a chamberlain to King Arthur

He helped Uther to gain access to Igraine, taking the form of Mark's knight, Brastias. In later years, he went with Brastias to the Continent to enlist the help of Bors and Ban on behalf of King Arthur in his battles with the rebellious barons.

- Ulfrun Norse
a giantess
daughter of Aegir and Ran
One of the nine wave-maidens said simultaneously to have given birth to Heimdall, fathered by Odin.
- Ulgan Siberian
[Ulgan:=Yakuts Yrin-ai-tojon]
a creator-god of the Buriats Ulgan used fish swimming in the primaevial waters to support the newly-created earth which he had formed in the shape of a huge, flat dish. Parts of the dish which broke off became the islands and land masses of earth and the god used one small part to make the first human, who was called Erlik.
He warned Nama of the impending flood, giving him time to build an ark in which he survived.
When Erlik killed Madere who had been sent to earth as a saviour by Ulgan, the sky-god destroyed Erlik.
- Ulgan (see Ulgan)
- Ulien European
father of Rodomont
- Ulixes (see Ulysses<sup>3</sup>)
- Ull (see Uller)
- Ullakupera Australian
hawk-men of the Aborigines
- Ullan (see Iollann)
- Ullda (see Uldra)
- Uller<sup>1</sup> Norse
[Bogass.Idazzlei.Oller(us).Ondurass. Skialdarass.Ullerus.Ull(r).Veidiass: =Anglo-Saxon Vulder.Wulder: =German Holder.Holler]
the god of archery, death, justice, oaths and winter son of Sif by a giant husband of Skadi
He took over from Odin and ruled during the winter months and ruled for ten years when Odin was banished from Asgard but was himself banished to Sweden when Odin returned.
He was a rider with, and sometimes leader of, the Wild Hunt. His home was known as Ydalir. In some accounts, he was the second husband of Skadi after she left Niord.
- Uller<sup>2</sup> Norse
[Ullerus.Ull(r)]
a son of Orvandel or of Egil and Sith
- Ullerus (see Uller)
- Ullikummi Mesopotamian
[Ullikummis]
a Hurrian giant made of stone
by Kumarbi
- Placed on the shoulder of Upelluri he grew to enormous size, even reaching the heavens. Ea, or Teshub in some versions, cut off his feet with the cosmic copper saw, so destroying him.
- Ullikummis (see Ullikummi)
- Ullr (see Uller)
- Ulmuka Hindu
son of Balarama and Revati
brother of Nisatha
- Ulster Cycle (see Red Branch Cycle)
- Ultan Irish
a monk
He served under Deaglan and was sent by him to confront an invasion fleet that threatened Ireland. It was said that Ultan merely raised his hand and the fleet sank beneath the waves and the sailors became rocks offshore.
- Ultima Thule
the supposed end of the world
(see also Thule)
- Ultonian Cycle
(see Red Branch Cycle)
- Ultor (see Mars Ultor)
- ultores scolorum
the fourth order of demons, spirits of vengeance, ruled by Asmodeus
- Ultud (see Illtyd)
- Ulu-tojon Siberian
[Syga-tojon]
a Yakut thunder-god
He was said to have brought fire from the heavens for the use of mankind.
- Ulupi Hindu
mother of Iravat
step-mother of Babhru-Vahana
When Babhru-Vahana accidentally killed his own father, Arjuna, he was prepared to commit suicide until Ulupi gave him a magic gemstone with which he restored his father to life.
- Ulupoka Pacific Islands
a Fijian god of evil
- Uluru Australian
the area round Ayers Rock
The Aborigines say that the rock was once a sandhill but, following a great battle between races of snake-people, it grew to its present size and turned into solid rock.
- Ulu'tuyar Ulu Toyo'n Siberian
a malevolent creator-god of the Yakuts
- Ulysses<sup>1</sup> British
a poem by Tennyson
- Ulysses<sup>2</sup> Irish
a novel by James Joyce based on the Odyssey
- Ulysses<sup>3</sup> Roman [Ulixes]
the Roman name for Odysseus
- Um Korean
[=Chinese Yin:=Japanese Yo]
the female principle
- Uma<sup>1</sup> Hindu [Ambi.Ambika.Bhagavati.Bhimadevi. Bhramari.Bhuta-Nayaki.Devi.Durga. Gana-Nayaki.Girija.Ishani.Kamakya. Kamaks(h)i.Kanyakumari.Karna-Moti. Kotari.Mahadevi.Mahes(h)vari. 'mother'.Parvati.Raktadanti.Rudrani. Sati.Shakti.Shas(ht)(h)i.Simha-Vahini:=Cambodian Lady Po Nagar: =East Indies Dewi:=Japanese Umahi] a name for Devi as 'gracious' or 'light' sister of Ganga
consort of Shiva
In some accounts, Sati is said to have immolated herself when Shiva was excluded from a feast of the gods and Shiva, having performed a frenzied funeral dance as Narajana, restored his wife to life as Uma.
Other accounts say that Uma was a formless goddess who, from time to time, entered the bodies of other goddesses. As a result, many of them are known as Uma. In this version, she could be Ambika, Devi, Durga, Parvati or Rudrani.
Some say that she married Maheshvara and bore 3,000 children, including Sannayaka and Vinayaka.
(see also Devi)
- uma<sup>2</sup> Japanese
a sign (horse) of the Zodiac
- Uma<sup>3</sup> Pacific Islands [Parwati]
a Balinese rice-goddess
- Umahi Japanese
[=Hindu Uma]
a goddess
wife of Jizanten
- Umai<sup>1</sup> Irish a famous piper
- Umai<sup>2</sup> Mongol
a mother-goddess
- Umai-hulhlya-wit North American
a water-monster of the lore of the tribes of California
His enormous body was burnt and from it came all things such as rituals and laws, songs and language.
- Umall (see Umhall)
- Uman-Struth Irish ['bronze stream']
the stream into which Cuchulainn's broken spear fell

Medb coveted Cuchulainn's spear, Cletine, and sent a bard to ask him for it, knowing that one can never refuse a poet's request. Cuchulainn threw the spear at the bard, killing him. The force of the throw broke the spear and the parts fell into the stream.

Umashi-Ashi-Kabi-Hiko-Ji

(see Umashiashikabihikoji)

UmashiashikabihikojiJapanese*

[Umashi-Ashi-Kabi-Hiko-Ji]

a Shinto creator-god

one of the 5 Separate Heavenly Deities

He was created from reeds from the primaevial waters and grew six branches, each of which produced a male and a female deity. The last pair were Izanagi and Izanami from whom many other gods were descended.

The other five pairs were Omodaru and Ayakisone; Opotonodi and Opotonobe; Tunogupi and Ikugupi; Upidini and Supidini; Kuni-toko-tachi and Toyokumono.

Umbara TutuMesopotamian*

father of Utnapishtim

umbra<sup>1</sup>

a ghost

umbra<sup>2</sup>Roman*

in the theory of a threefold soul, the umbra hovered over the body at death

UmhallIrish*

[Umall]

father of Finn, some say

Umhall is regarded as a variant of Cumail. In other accounts, he is regarded as the father of Noidhiu by Fingel.

UmhorIrish*

a leader of the Fir Bolg

His four sons were slain when he led a rebellion against the king of Tara, Cairbre Nia Fear.

Umi-no-kami

(see Kaijin)

Umi-no-oJapanese*

a sea-god or sea-dragon

father of Otohime

umiarissatInuit*

phantom boats

These boats, which are crewed by women are said to cause storms.

Umisachi

(see Fire Flash)

umkovuAfrican*

the familiar of the Zulu sorcerer

The Zulu sorcerer uses a corpse which he has exhumed and revived. After he has slit the tongue of the corpse and run a hot needle through the forehead, he can send the umkovu out at night to do his bidding.

UmmaMesopotamian*

a Babylonian weather-god

UmmanuMesopotamian*

7 sages said to have written the epic story of Gilgamesh

Ummu-Khubur

(see Melili)

Ummu SibyaniArabian*

[Karina.Kuntianak.Salmas]
a female demon, the bird of illness

This demoness can render animals and women barren and wither crops. She obtained these powers by eating her own children.

In one account, she is said to have appeared to Solomon as a beautiful young woman, naked except for her long hair, who turned into a white-haired old woman at the sight of the angel Solomon called upon for help.

It is said that she can appear as a dog or a snake.

UmgomaAfrican*

a legendary ancestor of the Vugusu people

(see also Malava)

Umu-DaprtiMesopotamian*

Babylonian spirits

These beings helped Tiamat in her fight with Marduk.

UmubumbiAfrican*

a supreme god in parts of Uganda

UmuluaMesopotamian*

a name for the Sumerian sun-god in benevolent mode

UmunesigaMesopotamian*

a name for the Sumerian sun-god in malevolent mode

UmunmutankuMesopotamian*

a Babylonian temple-god

UmvelinkwangiAfrican*

[Umvelinqangi]

a Zulu creator-god

father of Unkulunkulu

Umvelinqangi (see Umvelinkwangi)Un

(see Osiris)

Un SaKorean*

[Chancellor Cloud]

one of the 3 ministers who came to earth with Hwanung

UnaBritish*the personification of truth in TheFaerie Queene

wife of the Red Cross Knight

Una-baraJapanese*

the sea-plain, realm of Susanowa

Unakami-aze

(see Aze)

UnasEgyptian*

a deified king

He became a sun-god after eating his predecessor.

UnatamoFinnish*

brother of Kalervo

uncle of Kullervo

He killed his own brother, Kalervo, incurring the lifelong hatred of Kullervo.

Unbu

(see Osiris)

Uncegila

(see Unktahe)

Unci

(see Grandmother Earth)

Uncle Bouki

(see Bouki)

Unconquerable, TheRoman*

a Roman name for Heracles

undead

(see revenant)

Underground MotherNorth American*

a deity of the Zuni consort of Sun Father mother of Paiyatemu

UnderlandWelsh*

[=Irish Tir inna N'og]

a land of eternal youth: a fairy kingdom beneath the earth:

the underworld

Undersea Island, TheIrish*

an island encountered by Maeldun on his voyage

Through the water, Maeldun could see a submerged island, with houses and castles, where a warrior tended herds of cattle which were devoured by a huge monster sitting in a tree.

Underwater PanthersNorth American*

water-monsters of the eastern tribes

These beasts were said to be like the creatures of the earth in reverse, living under the surface of rivers and lakes.

They tried to destroy the earth by dragging it under the water or by inundation. When they tried to destroy Nokomis in one such flood, the trickster god, Manabazho, called on the beavers and others to bring up mud from the bottom from which he made dry land, so saving her life.

underworld

[afterworld.Otherworld.paradise]

the place to which the dead (or the souls of the dead) are said to go

Each culture has its own version of what happens to humans when they die. Many postulate a place where departed souls receive reward or punishment based on their conduct on earth. Some of these are

–African

(1) The Bantu say that the souls of the dead go to Ku-zimu, an underground world and, if they cause a commotion, an earthquake results.

(2) In Dahomey, some say that the land of the dead is in the sky, others that it is under the earth.

(3) In Ethiopia the underworld is known as Ekera.

(4) For the Swahili, Kuzimu is variously described as a place where waiting souls shiver in the dark, a pleasant realm where the inhabitants look down on earth or an underwater realm where the inhabitants live like fish on the bottom.

–Armenian

The Armenian underworld, Dzokhk, is envisaged as a fiery abyss below the earth's surface. A bridge known as Maze leads from hell to heaven. This bridge is very fragile and collapses under the weight of sin, casting the soul back into torment.

–Assyrian

The Assyrian underworld is called Ekurra.

–Babylonian

Arulu, a kingdom ruled by Ereshkigal. In another story it is called Cuthah.

–Buddhist

The Buddhists envisage a hell on seven levels, the lowest of which is Avici.

–Central American

(1) The Aztecs envisaged a nine-layered underworld, Mictlan, the land of the dead, as a gloomy place at the centre of the earth. To reach the underworld, the dead had to cross eight forests, eight deserts and eight mountains, each full of great dangers, and finally cross a river into the first layer of the underworld itself. Included in the hazards of the journey were the fierce alligator, Xochitonal, the demon Izpuzteque and the fiend Nextepehua. Souls who survived the journey finally found rest in the last of these underworld realms, Chicuauhmictlan.

(2) The Maya envisaged hell not as a place of permanent torment but as one stage in the progress of each individual between birth and finally reaching heaven. This region was called Xibalba. The place reserved for the punishment of the wicked is Mitnal.

–Chinese

In China, the underworld was known as Ti-yü, Earth Prison, and was ruled by Ti-ts'ang.

(see also Taoist)

–East Indian

The Papuan underworld, ruled by Tumudurere, is known as Hiyoyoa and lies under the sea.

–Egyptian

The underworld, Amenti, is divided into twelve provinces containing a Hall of Judgement where souls were weighed in the balance by Anubis against a feather in front of Osiris and forty-two judges. Those who pass the test proceed to the paradise Aalu; those who fail are condemned to everlasting torment.

–Inuit

(1) The home of the good dead is known as Qudlivum as opposed to Adlivum, the undersea world for sinners, some of whom suffer less torment in the lower section known as Adliparmiut.

(2) The souls of the dead of the Caribou Inuits go to the house of Pana, a realm in the sky which is full of holes to allow rain to fall. Here they are born again and brought back to earth by the moon and live out another life, sometimes as humans, sometimes as animals or birds.

–Greek

Tartarus, ruled by Hades, had three sections, the Asphodel Fields, Erebus and Elysium.

–Hindu

In Patala, the record of each soul is read out by Chitragupta and judged by Yama. As a result, the soul may be sent to heaven, to one of the many hells or back to earth for reincarnation.

Hell itself has twenty-eight (or twenty-one) regions, each reserved for a particular type of sinner. Some of these regions are:

- Asipatravana for heretics
- Avichimat for liars
- Kalashtra for those who have killed a Brahmin
- Krimibhoja for the selfish
- Kumbhika for the cruel
- Raurava for sadists
- Suchimikha for misers
- Sukramukha for tyrants
- Tamusra for adulterers and robbers
- Vajrakantaka for those who married into another caste

The river Vaitarani is used to punish religious dissidents.

(see also Patala)

–Irish

The underworld is variously Tech Duinn, the home of Donn, The Land of Women when regarded as ruled by a goddess or Sid, the Land of the Fairies or Dun Scaith, ruled by Midir.

–Jain

The Jain hell has seven layers, the lowest of which is Mahatuma. Another, filled with hot sand, is known as Valuka, home of the Valu.

Fenish tortures are applied by various underworld gods known as Amba, Ambaras, Asipalas, Dhanu, Kala, Kharasvara, Kumbha, Mahakali, Maharudra, Sabala, Sama, Valu and Vetarani.

–Japanese

(see Shinto)

–New Zealand

The Maori home of the ordinary dead is Lua-a-Milu under the earth or the sea; the souls of the exalted go to an island in the sky, the home of the gods.

Other accounts refer to the nether world of Reinga or Uranga-o-te-Ra.

–Norse

Niflheim, said to be beneath the earth and bounded by the river Giall. Spirits of the slain warriors went to Valhalla in Asgard, home of the gods, or were taken by Freya to her palace, but others entered Niflheim by crossing the bridge over the Giall guarded by Modgud to whom they had to pay a tribute of blood. Next came the area of Ironwood where the trees had metal leaves and then the entrance gates guarded by the dog Garm. Inside, in the cold and darkness, was Elvidnir, the hall of Hel, ruler of Niflheim, where spirits were judged. Criminals were consigned to Nastrand and were eaten by the serpent Nidhogg.

–North America

(1) The Cherokee envisage a world below which is the exact counterpart of their own world except that the seasons are reversed.

(2) The Klamash underworld is known as the Place of the Dark.

(3) Some tribes, including the Navaho, regard the underworld as the place where their ancestors came from, rather than as the home of the dead.

(4) The Omaha dead reach a seven-layered underworld by way of the Milky Way, directed by an old man who sits there.

–Pacific Islands

(1) The Banks Islanders called the underworld Panoi.

(2) In the Carolines, the good dead go to Pachet, a paradise under the sea; the others go to Pueliko, a gloomy hell under the earth.

Another version says there is a heaven in the sky for those who can reach it in the form of sea birds, another reserved for warriors where they can carry on their profession and a third for women who die in childbirth. This last one is situated where earth and sky meet.

(3) The Fijian underworld is Bulu and only the married can go there – single men are smashed to death on the rocks by Nangananga. The married man must be provided with the tooth of a whale which he must throw at a particular tree. Hitting it, he is allowed to proceed; if he misses, he is sent back to the grave. Those that pass now meet their former wives and they travel on together. If he defeats the demon that attacks them, they can proceed; if not, he is eaten by the demon. Passing through the two caves, Cibaciba and Drakulu, couples are taken by boat to Nabangatai and then before Dengei who acts as their judge.

(4) In Hawaii, the underworld is known as Hawaiki or Poluta and is the home of the spirits of the dead, either in the sky or under the earth.

(5) In the Marquesas, they envisage one superior heaven for gods and three lower ones for the rest, graded from the top (the harshest) to the most pleasant at the bottom. Where the soul ends up depends on the number of pigs sacrificed by the dead man during his lifetime.

(6) In Melanesia, the afterworld is Bwebweso, ruled by Sinebomatu and Kekwage. Most spirits reach this hill of the dead when sufficiently rotted, though some are condemned to roam the hill of lice, Koiakutu, and those who have been mutilated in life become fish with human heads living in a swamp at the foot of the hill. Others refer to Kibu which is envisaged as an island, home of the dead, far off to the west.

(see also Dokanikani)

(7) The people of Mindanao call their underworld Gimokodan. One part contains the spirits of slain warriors, the other contains all the other dead. A giantess with many nipples suckles the spirits of dead infants.

(8) In the New Hebrides, the underworld is known as Banoi or Abokas.

(9) In some parts of the Philippines the underworld is known as Maglawa, in others it is Kilot, the home of the left hand kalaloa (soul). The right hand one goes to a heaven in the sky.

(10) The Polynesian underworld is known as Hawaika.

(11) In Samoa the underworld is known as Poluta.

(12) In the Society Islands, some versions say that Po is the underworld where the soul is deified after being eaten three times by a god, rather than a deity, son of Ilu and Mamamo.

(13) In Tahiti, the underworld is known as Kahiki.

(14) The Tongan underworld is also called Poluta.

–Persian

Souls were assessed by three judges, Mithra, Rashnu and Sraosha. The worthy crossed a bridge to heaven, the unworthy fell into a place of torment known as Druj.

–Shinto

Yomi, a hell with two entrances, containing a huge chasm into which all the waters of the earth discharge. Yomi-tsu-kuni, ‘land of gloom’.

–South American

(1) In Bolivia it is said that the soul travels to the land of Grandfather. First it must cross two rivers, one by ferry, the other by a floating log. Those who fall off are eaten by fish. Next they are judged by Izoi-tamoi who splits evil ones in half. Those who pass the test journey through a land of darkness using as a torch a small straw which had been placed in the grave. Gathering feathers from the humming-bird to give to Tamoi (Grandfather), they then must pass between the clashing rocks known as Hacarú. Having been tested by a gallinazo bird, tickled by a monkey and passed the speaking tree, they finally reach the land of Tamoi where they live happily, much as they had done on earth.

(2) In Brazil, the Caingang Indians say that the dead are instructed by the tribal shaman on how to survive the dangerous journey to the underworld where it is always day, youth is restored and the forests are full of game to be hunted. But first the soul must avoid the path that leads to a giant spider's web, a trap in the form of a boiling pit and a slippery path where one false step will throw the soul into the lair of a giant crab. The happy life ends in a second death when the individual becomes some form of insect. When that insect dies it is the final end.

(3) The Incas believe that their ancestors came from the underworld which many tribes regard as the source of life on earth.

–Sumerian

The underworld is known as Kur-nu-gi-a or Mekan.

–Taoist

Yellow Springs, sited on the sacred mountain of the east, T'ai Shan, was divided into ten hells for different types of sinner.

(see also Ten Yama Kings)

–T'hai

The underworld realm, Patal, is ruled by Maiyarab. Entering it through the hollow stalk of the lotus, souls must cross a lake guarded by Machanu before being judged.

–Welsh

The underworld is known as Annwfn and is ruled by Arawn.

(see also Caer Feddwid,hell)

Undine<sup>1</sup> Greek
a water nymph

undine<sup>2</sup> Norse
a fish-tailed female water-deity

undine<sup>3</sup>
an elemental spirit, guardian of water

It was said that these beings were born without a soul but could acquire one if they married humans and bore children.

Undry Irish
[Cauldron of Dagda.Uinde]
a magic cauldron owned by the Dagda

The cauldron, which was never empty, provided food for all according to their worthiness. It also had the power to restore life to the dead.

Undutar Baltic
[Untar]
a Finnish goddess of fog and mist

Uneg Egyptian
a plant-god holding up the heavens

Unelanuki North American
a sun-goddess of the Cherokee

Unferth Danish
a counsellor of Hrothgar

He gave Beowulf the sword Hrunting with which to attack Grendel but Beowulf preferred to tackle the monster bare-handed. He returned the sword to Unferth after killing Grendel's mother with a huge sword he found in her lair.

Unfriendly Sea (see Axine)

Ungud Australian
a creator-being living underground in the form of a serpent

He is said to have helped Wallanganda in the creation of the world, causing rain to fall.

Ungur (see Yurlungur)

Unguramu Australian
a trickster of the Aborigines

He attacks the Ngandjala-Ngandjala and steals their food.

ungwin African in Ghana, the soul

Uni<sup>1</sup> Baltic
the Finnish god of sleep

Uni<sup>2</sup> Roman [=Roman Juno]
an Etruscan guardian goddess consort of Tin

Uni-No-Kami Japanese
a sea-god
one of the Munakata-No-Kami

unicorn

[=Biblical reem;=Chinese ch'i-lin:

=Ethiopian arucharis;=Greek

monoceros;=Japanese kirin:

=Mongolian kere; =Sudanese

arase;=Tibetan serou. tso'po]

a monster in the form of a horse with a single horn

Other descriptions of the unicorn include:

(1) Horse with the head of a dragon and the legs of a deer which emits flame at its tail and its joints.

(2) Horse with the head of a stag, the feet of an elephant and a horn three feet in length.

(3) White horse with cloven hoofs and spiral horns, a beard like a goat and a lion's tail.

(4) White horse with a red head and blue eyes, the legs of a deer and a red, black and white horn. This animal was variously described as being as big as a goat, a horse or an elephant and its horns as being four inches and four feet in length.

Some versions say that the unicorn was too large to enter the ark at the time of the flood; others that it did enter but was thrown overboard and left to drown. It could be captured or killed if a maiden sat under a tree and waited for it to emerge from its lair. The animal would then lay his head on her lap, admiring her beauty and could easily be taken by a hunter.

Some versions say that the unicorn died with its head in the virgin's lap but not before suckling at her breast.

This animal was regarded as a symbol of purity and marriage and was said to have the power of purifying polluted water while others say that any person who drinks from the horn of a unicorn will never be ill. It was said that a unicorn could tell whether water was poisoned merely by dipping a hoof into it. An ointment made from the unicorn's liver would cure leprosy and a belt made from its hide would ward off illness. The stories of the health-giving properties of the horn led to its adoption as the symbol of the apothecaries.

(see also reem)

Unig Irish [Unig Strongshoulder]
a messenger of Bran

Unilanuhi North American
a Cherokee sun-goddess

Unius Irish
a river

Morrigan was seduced by the Dagda as she stood with one foot on each side of this river.

Universal King, The Chinese a name for Yama after he had been reborn as a Buddha

universal magic

white magic used to oppose black magic

Unknowingly North American [Grandfather Power]

a Sioux creator-spirit

Unktahe North American [Uncegiila.Unktehi.Untunktahe]
a spirit of the Sioux in the form of a huge water-snake

In the first age, Wakan Tanka created human beings and the monstrous Unktahe and her brood, thinking they were ants, drowned them with water spouting from their horns. Wakan Tanka and the other Thunderbirds killed all the monsters with their thunderbolts.

In another version, Unktahe lived in the sea but, once in a while, came up the river Missouri, causing floods. The beast had only one vulnerable spot but this was known to twin boys who killed the monster with a well-aimed arrow. They cut out its heart and buried it, and found it gave them powers of prophecy until they allowed others to see it when it exploded.

Unktehi (see Unktahe)

Unktome (see Ictinike)

Unktomi (see Ictinike)

Unkulunkulu African

[uDumukade.uGobungqongqo.

uGuqabede. uKqili.uZivelele:

=Ndebele Nkulunkulu]

a creator-god and sky-god of the Zulus

He was an androgynous deity, created from a reed, who made mankind from grass or reeds.

Unneffer Egyptian

[Aunf.Wenneffer.Wenoffer.Winefred]

the name of Osiris as ruler of

Ashet

Unno (see Osiris)

Uno (see Osiris)

unseelie court Scottish

malevolent spirits or fairies

Unt (see Isis)

Unt-tongk Baltic

a Finnish forest-spirit

He is represented by a face carved into the trunk of a tree. Devotees feed the god by pressing food into the mouth of the carving.

Untamo Finnish

a god of dreams

brother of Kalervo

He killed his brother and sent Kalervo's son, Kullervo, as a slave to Ilmarinen.

Untar (see Undutar)

unterirdische (see Dwarfs)

Untombinde African

a daughter of a Zulu chieftain

When she was swallowed by the river-monster, Usiququmadevu, her father sent soldiers to rescue her but the monster swallowed them as well and then swallowed all the tribe. One man escaped and he killed the monster which, as it died, disgorged unhurt all the people it had swallowed.

Untunktahe (see Unktahe)

Unumbote African

[Unumbotta]

a creator-god in Togo

Unumbotta (see Unumbote)

Unut Egyptian

a goddess of the Upper Kingdom

Originally envisaged as a hare, later as a lioness, she eventually became a guardian goddess.

Unwaba African

the chameleon in the Zulu story of creation

Unxia Roman

a goddess of marriage

Uokesahs (see Eckesax)

Uor Siberian

a Yakut spirit of the dead which haunts its former home

Uote (see Ute)

Upadhyaya Buddhist

[=Tibetan Hva-sen.Hva-sheng]

one of the Eighteen Lohan, some say

Upaka Burmese

a nat, a snapper-up of human beings

Upakesini Buddhist

a god attendant on Arapacana

Upali Buddhist

one of the 5 chief disciples of the Buddha

Upanananda Buddhist

one of the nagas

This being, together with Nanda, provided water for the new-born Buddha.

upanayana Hindu

the sacred thread ceremony at puberty

Upangas Hindu

one of the groups of sacred writings covering puranas, rituals, etc.

Upanisad (see Upanishad)

Upanisad Hindu

[nana.Upanisad]

a philosophical or religious treatise:

:sacred writings: the doctrine of the forest hermits stressing unity of the individual with Brahman: the last section of the Veda

Upao (see Tangaroa)

Upapattivasita Buddhist

a minor goddess

one of the vasitas

Uparatat (see Vanainti)

upas East Indian

[upas tree]

a fabulous tree of Java, said to poison everything within miles

upashruti Hindu

a voice predicting disaster which can be heard in the night-watches

Upasunda Hindu

a god of the seasons

brother of Sunda

Brahma, at their request, made each brother invulnerable except to the other but then asked Vishvakarma to create the beautiful Tilotamma with whom both the brothers fell in love. They fought over her and each killed the other.

Upatissa (see Shariputra)

Upavedas Hindu

one of the groups of sacred writings covering the arts, etc.

Upaya Buddhist

[Upayaparamita]

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses, learning personified

Upayaparamita (see Upaya)

UPELLURI Mesopotamian

[Ubelluris:=Greek Atlas]

a Hurrian mountain-god

This giant being, standing in the ocean, was said to support the earth on his shoulders.

Uphir

[Ufir]

a demon said to act as physician to devils

Upholder of the Heavens

(see Tarenyawagon)

Uphukinaku Mesopotamian

a hall, meeting-place of the Babylonian gods

Upidini Japanese

['mud-lord']

a Shinto god

consort of Supidini

These two deities were produced from one of the branches of the primaevael god Umashiashikabihikoji.

Upinis Lithuanian

a river-god

upior (see upir)

upir Slav

[kruvnik.matwiec.olorolen.upior.

vedomec.wieszczy]

a vampire

These are said to be the souls of sorcerers or of the evil dead.

Upis (see Artemis.Opis)

Upkong African

the Efik name for a bush soul

upland trout North American

a fabulous fish

Upolu Pacific Islands

the first woman, in the lore of Samoa

Upsal (see Upsala)

Upsala Norse

[Upsal]

the home of Frey

Upshukinaku Mesopotamian

the great hall of the gods

Upsouranios (see Hyposouranios)

Upu Lero Pacific Islands

[Lord Sun]

a creator-god and sun-god in the Moluccas

Upuat (see Wepwawet)

Upuaut (see Wepwawet)

Upulevo East Indian

a sun-god in Timor

Upulvan Sri Lankan

[Pulvan:=Hindu Vishnu]

the chief of 4 Singhalese gods

He is said to have helped Buddha in his fight against Mara.

Ur (see Iubhar<sup>2</sup>)

Ur-Kuh Persian

a primaevael cow

This animal was slain, by Yima some say, and its body used to make men. At the end of the world, its fat will be used by Mithra to make men immortal.

Ur-mer Egyptian

a bull, symbol of Ptah

Ur-shanabi (see Ursanapi)

Ura Mesopotamian

a Babylonian plague-god

uraeus Egyptian

[Eye of Ra.iaret]

a snake symbol worn by pharaohs and gods on the forehead or headdress

Urabon (see Festival of the Dead)

Urakabameel

a demon

Urana (see Erana)

Uranga-o-te-Ra New Zealand

[Orang-o-te-Ra]

part of the underworld, ruled by

Rohe

Urania<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Ourania]

one of the 9 Muses – astronomy

In some accounts, she was the mother of Linus by Amphimarus, Apollo or Oeagus or of Hymenaeus by Apollo.

Urania<sup>2</sup> Greek
a name for Aphrodite as daughter of Uranus

Uranian deities Greek [=Roman Di superi]
sky-gods

Uranids (see Hundred-handed Ones)

Uranis Greek
one of the dogs of Actaeon

When Artemis caught Actaeon, the
hunter, watching her as she bathed, she turned him into a stag. His hounds, including Uranis, tore him to pieces.

Uranos (see Uranus)

Uranus<sup>1</sup> British
a prison guard

When Melora, on a quest to obtain the three items required to free her lover, Orlando, was imprisoned by the king of Asia, Uranus freed her.

Uranus<sup>2</sup> Greek

[Auchthon.'heaven'.Ouranos.Uranos:

=Phoenician Ouranos:=Roman

Caelus. Coelus]

one of the elder gods

son and husband of Gaea

father of the Cyclopes, the Hundred-handed Giants and the Titans

father of Aphrodite by Hemera,
some say

When he confined the unruly Cyclopes to Tartarus, his sons, the Titans, led by Cronus, rose against him. Cronus castrated his father and took over the throne of the gods. The blood from the wound fertilised Gaea and produced the Furies and Giants.

Uras<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
[Urash]

a Sumerian earth-goddess

a consort of An

mother of Nininsinna

Uras<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian
in some accounts, a name for Ninib

Urash (see Uras)

Urashima Japanese
a young fisherman
husband of Otohime

He married a sea-maiden, Otohime, daughter of the Dragon King, whom he had caught in the form of a tortoise, and lived under the sea, never aging.
When he returned to visit his parents, Otohime gave him a box to ensure his safe return to their undersea palace.
On land, he found everything changed and it transpired that he had been away for 300 years, although it had seemed like a few days. He opened the box, from which a small cloud emerged and floated away and he immediately grew old and died.

(see also Fire Fade)

Urbadda (see Kusug)

Urbadgungum (see Ninsar)

Urban of the Black Thorn British

a knight guarding a ford

He had a number of birds to help him but still Percival defeated him, killing one of the birds which then regained her former shape as a maiden.

Urbien British

an ancestor of King Arthur

urchin-show

a manifestation of goblins, etc.

Urda (see Urda)

Urda Norse

[Urd.Urdh(r).Urd(u)r.Urpr.Urthr.Wurd:

=Anglo-Saxon Wyrð]

one of the 3 Norns – the past, fate

daughter of Mimir, some say

She was regarded as the chief of the Norns and is depicted as an old woman looking backwards.

(see also Hel.Wyrð<sup>2</sup>)

Urdarbrunn Norse

[Urdar.Urda's well.Wyrð's Brook]

a sacred well in Midgard

This well or fountain, situated beside that root of Yggdrasil which leads up to Asgard and guarded by the three Norns, was so holy that nobody was allowed to drink from it.

In some accounts, the decapitated head of Mimir was placed beside this well, rather than beside Mimisbrunn in Asgard.

Urdar (see Urdarbrunn)

Urda's well (see Urdarbrunn)

Urdawl Ben (see Urddawl Ben)

Urddawl Ben British

['noble head'.Urdawl Ben.Venerable Head]

the head of Bran

Bran's head was cut off and brought back to Britain to be buried when he was killed in his battle with Matholwch in Ireland. It continued to speak and drink in the years that elapsed before it was finally buried at Tower Hill to protect the kingdom. It was later dug up by King Arthur who felt he could defend the country himself.

Urdh (see Urda)

Urdhr (see Urda)

Urdu-bihisht (see Asha Vahishta)

Urdr (see Urda)

Urdur (see Urda)

Uresici (see Narucnici)

Urethekau<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Werethekau]

A deity, supernatural power personified

Urethekau<sup>2</sup> Egyptian

[Werethekau]

a name for Isis and other goddesses

Uretsiti North American

[Iareku]

a creator-goddess of the Cochiti

Urfin (see Ulfius)

Urgan British

a giant

He was the owner of the magic fairy dog, Petitecrieu. Tristram killed him in order to obtain the dog as a present for Isolde.

Other stories say that the dog was given to Tristram by Gilan.

In another version, Urgan was a boy, stolen by fairies, who was transformed into an ugly pixie, returning to the form of a handsome youth when a beautiful girl kissed him.

Urganda Spanish

in Spanish stories, a sister of

King Arthur

She secured her brother's release when he was imprisoned in a cage by the king of Constantinople. In this account, she is equated with Morgan le Fay.

In the stories of Amadis, she was a benevolent fairy who carried his son, Esplandian, in her magic ship, Green Serpent, to the rescue of his grandfather, Lisuarte, who had been imprisoned by her great enemy, the enchanter, Archalaus.

Urgel Siberian

the Yakut name for the Pleiades

Urgriu (see Uigreann)

Uiriam (see Urien<sup>1</sup>)

Urian<sup>1</sup>

a devil, ruler of witches

Urian<sup>2</sup> (see Urien<sup>1</sup>)

Urias Irish

a sage of the city of Gorias

Uricus

one of the cardinal demons (east)

Uridimmu Mesopotamian

[=Babylonian Ugallu]

a Sumerian demon

This demon took the form of a terrible lion which helped Tiamat in her fight with Marduk.

Uriel

[Nariel]

a demon

Urien<sup>1</sup> British

[Uiriam.Urian.Urience.Uriens.Uryens]

a god of battle

a king of Gore, Murief or Rhaged

a knight of King Arthur's court

son of Cynfarch by Nefyn

twin brother of Efrddf husband of Morgan le Fay,
 some say
 father of Marine, Owain, Pascen Riwallawn and Run
 father of Owain by Morgan le Fay or Modron

He was hunting with King Arthur and Accolan when a ship sailing on a lake came in to the shore. They boarded the ship and were bewitched by Morgan le Fay. Urien found himself back with his wife while Arthur fought and killed Accolan.

In some accounts, Urien was a king in Scotland who abducted Orwen and married her, becoming king of Wales when her brother, Meriadoc, ousted Griffith who had usurped the throne after killing their father, Caradoc.

In other accounts, he is equated with King Arthur or Nanter; others say his wife was Brimesent or Modron.

Urien<sup>2</sup> (see Bran<sup>1</sup>, Gwyddno Caranhirtan)

Urience (see Urien<sup>1</sup>)

Uriens (see Urien<sup>1</sup>)

Uriko Korean
 wife of Chopstick

She and her two sisters were kidnapped by a gang of robbers but the tiny Chopstick rode to their rescue, routing their kidnappers. She married her rescuer who, after praying to a river-goddess, grew to normal size.

Urim and Thurrim Hebrew

fire and truth or light and perfection:
 figures on the breastplate of a high-priest: a divine oracle

Urion Greek
 the original name of Orion

Urisnici (see Naurucnici)

urisk Scottish

a supernatural being: a brownie

Urizen
 a demon associated with reason: one of the 4 zoa, in the works of William Blake

Urja Hindu

daughter of Daksha
 wife of Vashishtha, some say

Urme European

female spirits of fate
 These beings, usually three, are regarded by the gypsies of Poland, Russia, Serbia, etc, as being the arbiters of fate.

Urmila (see Urmita)

Urmita Hindu

[Urmila]
 sister of Sita

wife of Lakshmana mother of Angada and Chandraketu

urna Buddhist

a tuft of woolly hair, a third eye or a small jewel between the eyebrows of Shiva or the Buddha

Urnes Egyptian

a river in the underworld said by some to be the source of the Nile

uroboros (see ouroboros)

Uroica Irish

a Gaelic heather-goddess

Urpi-huachac South American

a Quechua fish-goddess

She had two daughters by Pachacamac. Coniraya called at her house when she was away and slept with one of the daughters and would have done the same with the other but she turned into a pigeon and flew away. Coniraya then took the fish out of Urpi-huachac's pond and threw them into the sea where they became the ancestors of all fish.

Urpr (see Urda)

Urraca Spanish

[Dona Urraca]
 daughter of Ferdinand sister of Alfonso, Elvira, Garcia and Sancho

On her father's death, she was given the city of Zamora. Her brother, Garcia, seized the city and she went to her eldest brother, Sancho of Castile, for help. He sent an army under El Cid to her aid.

Urré of Hungary British

[Urrey]

a Knight of the Round Table

He was miraculously healed of his wounds by Lancelot.

Urrey (see Urré)

Ursa Major (see Great Bear)

Ursanapi Mesopotamian

[Sursunabi.Sursunabu.
 Ur-shanabi.Urshanabi]

a ferryman in the underworld
 He was Utanapishtim's boatman during the flood and carried Gilgamesh across the waters of death to meet Utanapishtim.

urisceal Irish

a romance or saga

Ursel (see Ursula<sup>2</sup>)

Urshanabi (see Ursanapi)

Ursin (see Ulfius)

Ursula<sup>1</sup> British a 5th c princess daughter of Dionotus

 She led either 11, 1100 or 11000 virgins on a pilgrimage to Rome. All were murdered by the Huns at Cologne on their return journey because Ursula refused to marry their pagan leader.

An alternative version says that Conan in Armorica sent to Dionotus asking for wives for his soldier settlers. Dionotus sent 1100 noble ladies and 60,000 commoners, all of whom perished when storms scattered their ships.

Ursula<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Ursel]

a moon-goddess

Ursula Southiel (see Mother Shipton)

urt (see haltija)

Urt-Hikeu Egyptian

a wife of Ra in some accounts

Urth (see Urda)

Urthong

a demon associated with imagination: one of the 4 zoa in the works of William Blake

Urthr (see Urda)

Urtigernus (see Vortigern)

Urtzi European

a Basque sky-god and thunder-god

Uru-Anna Mesopotamian

a deity, the light of heaven, identified with the constellation Orion

Uru-Rangi New Zealand

a Maori wind-god
 husband of Maikuku

Uru-Tetefa Pacific Islands

a god
 brother of Oro-Tetefa

He and his brother came down to earth and established the religious order, Areoi.

Uruasi (see Urvashi)

Urubutsin South American

king of the vultures

He was captured by Kuat and Iae who released him only after he had handed over the gift of light.

Urukagura Mesopotamian

a priest-king of Lagash

He drastically reduced the fee payable to the clergy for presiding at a funeral.

Uruki (see Urvashi)

urus South American

a race of people in Bolivia

This race was created, it is said, when the sun shone on the slime which was floating on Lake Titicaca.

Urutonga New Zealand

wife of Hema

Uruvilva Kashyapa (see Kashyapa<sup>1</sup>)

Urvakhshaya Persian

a wise counsellor
 brother of Keresaspa

He was killed by the demon Hitaspa but Keresaspa avenged his brother's death by killing the demon.

urvan Persian
the soul

Urvara Hindu
a god of arable fields

Urvashi Hindu

[Uruasi.Uruki.Urvasi]
a nymph or a dawn-goddess one of the Apsaras wife of Pururavas mother of Ayu

mother of Agni, some say

The gods sent a beautiful nymph to upset the meditations of Naranarayana who, they felt, was acquiring too much power. The sage was not in the least disturbed – he merely placed a flower on his thigh and from it emerged Urvashi, an even more beautiful nymph. Both were sent to heaven by Naranarayana.

She was rescued from the clutches of a demon by Pururavas and married him, stipulating that she must never see him naked. The jealous Gandharvas arranged that this should happen, where upon Urvashi disappeared immediately. Her husband found her much later and she arranged to meet him once a year for five years. On each occasion, she presented him with a son, the first being Ayu. They were later reunited and had three more sons.

Urvasi (see Urvashi)

Urvazishta Persian

one of the 5 types of sacred fire

This type is the fire which exists in plants or is caused by friction.

(see also Bahram fire)

Urvis Persian

a lake on Mount Hugar

All the waters flow into this lake and are purified. It is said that its source is the lake Ardivisura Anahita.

Uryens (see Urien<sup>1</sup>)

usagi<sup>1</sup> (see hare<sup>2</sup>)

Usanas (see Shukra<sup>2</sup>)

Usar-Api (see Serapis<sup>1</sup>)

Usar-Apis (see Serapis<sup>1</sup>)

Usar-Hapi (see Serapis<sup>1</sup>)

Usas (see Ushas)

Usching Baltic

a horse-god

Uscias Irish

a wizard

He lived in Finias, one of the four cities cited as the origin of the Danaans, and provided them with Nuada's famous sword.

Usert Egyptian

an early earth-goddess, sometimes identified with Isis

Usha Hindu

daughter of Bana

When she fell in love with Krishna's grandson, Aniruddha, from a painting by Chitraklekha, her father imprisoned him but Krishna rescued him and Usha was reunited with her beloved.

ushabti (see shabti)

Ushanas (see Shukra<sup>2</sup>)

Ushapati Hindu

a god of the dawn

Ushas Hindu

[Dyotana.Usas:=Greek Athena.Eos]

goddess of the dawn, light, piety and wealth

daughter of Dyaus and Prithivi daughter of Prajapati, some say daughter or wife of Surya, some say

sister of Agni and Ratri

In some accounts, she mated with her father, Prajapati, to produce all living things, in others she was born from the head of Dyaus.

She may be depicted as a cow or riding in a chariot.

ushebt (see shabti)

ushebtu (see shabti)

ushi Japanese

a sign (ox) of the Zodiac

ushi-oni Japanese

['cattle-demon']

a sea-monster in the form of a whale-like dragon

Ushitoro-no-Konjin Japanese

[Konjin]

a primal Taoist deity

It was said that, if this deity were to be offended, he would kill seven people.

Ushnisa (see Ushnisha)

Ushnisha<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Us(h)nisa]

one of the Dikpalas

one of the Dhyani Buddhas

He is responsible for guarding the region above the earth.

In some accounts the term embraces all eight Dhyani Buddhas.

ushnisha<sup>2</sup> Buddhist

[us(h)nisa]

a dome depicted on top of the Buddha's head, said to contain his wisdom

Ushnisavijaya (see Ushnishavijaya)

Ushnishavijaya Buddhist

[Us(h)nisavijaya]

a deity variously given as male or female

This deity is regarded as the guardian of travellers and killer of demons and is depicted with three faces and eight arms or sometimes a thousand arms and heads.

Ushumgal (see Usumgal)

Ushumgalanna Mesopotamian

a Sumerian fertility-god: a celestial serpent

Usiel

a demon associated with buried treasure

Usil (see Cautha)

Usins Baltic

a Latvian god of the morning and evening star

Usiquumadevu African

a Zulu river-monster

This huge monster swallowed the maiden Untombinde, the soldiers sent to rescue her and all her tribe except one man. He managed to kill the monster which then disgorged unharmed all the people it had swallowed.

Usire (see Asari<sup>1</sup>)

Uslo Siberian

a Yakut mountain-deity

Usmu (see Usumu)

Usna Irish

[Uisniu.Uisne(a)ch.Usnach.Usnech]

husband of Elva

father of Ainlé, Ardan and Naisi

Usnach (see Usna)

Usnech (see Usna)

Usnisa (see Ushnisha)

Usnisavijaya (see Ushnishavijaya)

Uso-Dori Japanese

a bullfinch

Fukuro the owl fell in love with her and changed into a monk when she was killed by the jealous eagle, Uye-Minu.

Usukun Central American

an earthquake god

brother of Nohochacyum

Usum (see Shomde)

Usumgal Mesopotamian

[Ushumgal]

a monstrous serpent in Sumerian lore

Usumu Mesopotamian

[Usmu]

the Akkadian version of Isinu

Usunhi<sup>1</sup>ya Hindu

[Darkening Land]

the Cherokee home of the dead

Ut Baltic

a Finnish fire-goddess

Uta (see Ute)

Uta-napishtim (see Utnapishtim)

Utanapishtim (see Utnapishtim)

Utatheya Hindu

[Utathya.Utathys]

a god of spring

son of Angiras and Agneyi, some say husband of Bhadra
His wife was abducted by Varuna and Utathya prayed to Sarasvati for help.

When she caused all the rivers to dry up, Varuna quickly returned Bhadra to her husband.

Utathya (see Utathya)

Utathys (see Utathya)

Utc'siti North American

a creator-god of the Acoma

His two daughters, Ia'ticu and Nao'tsiti, were born under the earth at a place known as Cipapu and, instructed by the spirit Tsitctinako, later emerged on to the surface and created plants and animals.

Ute<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Uote.Uta]

a queen of Burgundy

sister of Pilgrim

wife of Dankrat

mother of Gernot, Giselher,

Gunther and Krimhild

(see also Ute<sup>2</sup>)

Ute<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Uote.Uta]

wife of Hildebrand

mother of Hadubrand

In some accounts, she is the same as Ute, wife of Dankrat.

Utgard Norse

[Outgard.Utgard(a)r.Utgarth(a)r]

The chief city of the giants in Jotunheim: an illusory city conjured up by the Frost Giants to confuse Thor and Loki.

Utgard-Hoki (see Utgard-Loki)

Utgard-Loki Norse

[Magus of Utgard.Utgard(a)r-Loki.

Utgard-Hoki.Utgarth(a)r-Loki:

=Danish Utgarthilocus]

ruler of Jotunheim

An imaginary being, conjured up by the giant Skrymir to confuse Thor and Loki when they visited Jotunheim.

Utgardar (see Utgard)

Utgardr (see Utgard)

Utgarthar (see Utgard)

Utgarthr (see Utgard)

Uthecar (see Uthechair)

Uthechair

[Uithechar.Uthecar]

father of Celtchair

Uther Ben (see Uther Pendragon)

Uther Bendragon

(see Uther Pendragon)

Uther Pendragon British

[Riiothamus.Uth(e)r Bendragon.Uther Ben.

Uthyr Ben:=Irish Iubhar]

king of Britain

son of Constantine brother of Aurelius and Constans husband of Igraine
father of King Arthur

When his brother, King Constans, was killed by Vortigern, he and his brother Aurelius Ambrosius were sent to the court of King Budicius in Brittany to escape from Vortigern but returned later to kill him by burning him in his castle.

In one story, they reappeared as the dragons buried on Mount Erith by Lud and released when Vortigern, building his castle there, uncovered the cavern where they were buried. They flew off to Brittany, returning later in human form at the head of an army, burning down Vortigern's castle and recapturing the kingdom. One version says that Uther met and defeated the invading forces of Vortigern's son Paschent, killing both Paschent and Gillomar who was helping him.

Uther became king on the death of his brother Aurelius and, from the dragon that appeared in the sky as a portent of his brother's death, he took the name Pendragon.

He fell in love with Igraine when she came to his court with her husband, Gorlois, who took her back to Cornwall and locked her in a tower. Uther invaded Cornwall and Merlin gave him the form of Gorlois so that he was able to gain access to her, fathering the future king, Arthur. After the death of Gorlois, Igraine and Uther married and, in some versions, they had a daughter, Anna.

He was poisoned by a Saxon, leaving the throne to a very young Arthur.

One version has it that Uther promised the offspring of his liaison to Merlin in return for giving him access to Igraine. When Uther objected to handing over the baby Arthur, Merlin blinded the king and took the child.

Another version says that Uther died childless and that Arthur was brought in by the sea and found by Merlin.

In some accounts, Aurelius was Uther and his brother, who became king, was Pendragon.

Others regard him as brother of Arthur and Constantine, all three being sons of Constans.

Uthr Bendragon

(see Uther Pendragon)

Uthyr Ben (see Uther Pendragon)

Uti<sup>1</sup> African

a legendary ancestor of the Bambuti wife of Mupe

Uti<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

a goddess who taught the islanders
the art of night-fishing

Uti Hiata North American

a Pawnee corn-goddess

Utingo Lwenkosikasi African

[Arch of the Queen]

the Zulu rainbow

Utiu Central American

a coyote

In Mayan lore, one of the four animals which brought the maize from which the gods created human beings.

Utixo African

the sky-god of the Hottentots

Utkha Siberian

a Buriat soul-animal or bird

If this being makes a woman pregnant, the child will be a shaman or founder of a clan.

Utnapishti (see Utnapishtim)

Utnapishtim Mesopotamian

[Pir-napishtim.Uta-napishtim.

Utanapishtim.Utnapishti:=Babylonian

Atrahasis:=Sumerian Ziusudra]

an Assyrian king

son of Umbara Tutu, some say

He and his wife were the survivors of the flood, as told in the Assyrian legend. They landed on Mount Nisu when the waters subsided and, like Ziusudra, they were made immortal and became the ancestors of a new race of human beings.

(see Atrahasis.Edjo.Wadjet)

Utompe African

the Liberian chieftain who captured the first woman, Gonzuole

Utopia Buddhist

a mythical land in a 1516 novel of the same name, written by Sir Thomas More

Utpalavarna Buddhist

a female disciple of the Buddha
She transformed herself into the guise of a king in order to command a place at the front of a crowd gathered to hear the Buddha.

Utr Afgban

consort of Imra

mother of Gish

Utsanati North American

a Pawnee rattlesnake-spirit

Utset North American

[Mother of the People]

one of 2 sisters, ancestresses of the human race

sister of Nowutset
She was the ancestor of all the Indian tribes; her sister, Nowutset, engendered all other races.

When the flood came, Utset led her people through a hollow reed into the upper world where they now live. She took the stars with her in a sack but they were spilled and scattered throughout the heavens.

Some say that she gave the stars in a sack to Ishits and told him to take them to the underworld but he bit a hole in the bag and many stars escaped. Those remaining, she herself placed in the sky as the Great Bear, Orion and the Pleiades.

Utset planted her own heart from which grew maize and other crops to feed the tribes.

Uttama Hindu
son of Uttanapada
brother of Dhruva

Uttanapada Hindu
a king
husband of Suniti
father of Dhruva and Uttama

His second wife persuaded the king to expel his senior wife, Suniti, together with her young son Dhruva who later became the Pole Star.

Uttanka Hindu
a saint
He was blind as a result of severe asceticism but his sight was restored by the Aswins.

He was burnt by the demon Dhundhu, as he meditated. The king, Kuvalayaswa, sent his 21,000 sons to kill the demon but all except three died in the flames. The three survivors killed Dhundhu.

Uttara Hindu
wife of Abhimanyu mother of Parikshit

Uttara Kuru Hindu
[=Greek Hyperboreans]
one of the 4 island-continent
mentioned in the Mahabharata

In some references, they are the inhabitants of this realm, said by some to be the ancestors of the Siddhas.

Uttarabhadrapada Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Uttarphalguni Hindu
a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras

daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

Uttarasadha Hindu

a goddess of fortune
one of the naksatras
daughter of Daksha
wife of Candra

uthana (see laghiman.levitation)

Uttu<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[Uttukki.Uttuk(k)u.Uttukku]
a Sumerian spider-goddess, goddess of weaving

goddess of earth and plants, some say daughter of Enki and Ninkurra

Enki fathered Ninsar on Ninhursaga, then Ninkurra on Ninsar and finally Uttu on Ninkurra, each birth requiring only a nine-day gestation. Other accounts say that she was Ninhursaga's daughter. She was seduced and abandoned by Enki whose wife, Ninhursaga, recovered some of his semen from Uttu's body and grew eight plants. (see also Tagtug)

Uttu<sup>2</sup> (see Utu)

Uttukki (see Tagtug.Uttu)

Uttukku (see Uttu.Uttuku)

Uttuku<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian

[Uttukku.Uttukku]

Akkadian armed monsters with the body of a man and the head and limbs of an animal.

These monsters become the evil Sebettu.

Uttuku<sup>2</sup> (see Uttu)

Utu Mesopotamian

[Uttu.Utug.Utuki:=Babylonian Samas:

=Canaanite Sapas]

a Sumerian sun-god and god of justice

son of Nanna and Ningal or created by Enlil

brother of Inanna

He acted as judge of men by day and of the dead by night.

Utug (see Utu)

Utuki (see Samas.Utu)

Uttukku (see Uttuku)

Utumo Baltic

Finnish spirits of the unknown dead

It is said that if pests are attacking crops, the spirits are demanding offerings and a feast is held to propitiate them.

Uumbwar African

a supreme god of the Konkomba
people

Uuodan (see Wodan)

Uwabami (see Yamato-no-Orochi)

Uwain (see Owain)

Uwaine (see Owain)

uwanami North American

[uwannami]

rain-spirits of the Zuni

uwannami (see uwanami)

Uwazutsumo Japanese

one of the 3 sea and fish-gods known as Munakata-no-kami

Uwen African

a god of the Edo

Uye-Minu Japanese

an eagle

He became jealous when Fukoru the owl and Uso-Dori the bullfinch fell in love and killed the bullfinch.

Uyuyewe (see Oyoyewa)

Uyuyewi (see Oyoyewa)

Uzat Egyptian

the eye of Horus worn as a talisman to protect the wearer from evil

Uzava Tumaspana Persian

a rain-spirit

In some accounts it was this spirit, rather than the hero Rustem, who overcame the demon Afrasiyab.

Uzimu African

[=Swahili Kuzimu]

in the lore of Tanzania, the land of the dead

uZivele African

a name of Unkulunkulu as 'he himself',
'all that there is'

Uzume Japanese

[Ame-no-Uzume-no-mikoto.

Heaven's Forthright Female.

Otafuku.Udzume]

a Shinto goddess of dancing and merrymaking

daughter of Amaterasu, some say

sister of Waka-hime

She came down to earth with Ninigi and some say that she became his wife although the story of his coming relates that he gave her to the giant Deity of the Field Paths who had helped him.

She danced in front of the cave in which Amaterasu had hidden herself after she had been affronted by Susanowa, enticing her to emerge.

In some accounts, she was a goddess of the dawn though others say that that post was held by her sister, Waka-hime.

Uzziel Hebrew

an angel

Guardian of the south, some say.

V

Va (see Vayu<sup>1</sup>)

Va'atale Pacific Islands
the canoe built by Olo Keu and Olo-i-Nano

Vab South American
a magician in the lore of the Tupari brother of Valedjad

Vab and his brother were born when a large black stone split open.

Vabam
a demon

Vabusi Pacific Islands
a home of the spirits of the dead

Vac (see Vach)

Vacabiel
a demon, ruler of the Zodiacal sign Pisces, the fish (see also Bauchiel)

Vach<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [Vac.Vak]
a god
an aspect of Amithaba
a form of Manjushri

Vach<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Logos.Queen of Gods.Vac.Vak]
the goddess of eloquence daughter of Kamo or Brahma consort of Prajapati

In those accounts where she is the daughter of Brahma, their incestuous relationship created mankind.

Originally thunder-goddess, she is sometimes identified with Sarasvati.
(see also Vagdevi)

Vach<sup>3</sup> Hindu
a lioness guarding a temple

Vachmiel
a demon of the hours of the day

Vacuna Roman
a Sabine goddess of horticulture

vada North American
among the tribes of the southwest, sorcery

Practitioners are able to kill a person by placing a curse on him or her.

Vadali Buddhist
a goddess attendant on Marici

Vadatajs Baltic
a Latvian demon leading travellers astray

Vadi (see Badi<sup>2</sup>)

vadjra (see vajra)

Vadriel
a demon of the hours of the day

vaetter (see vaettir)

vaettir Norse [vaett(e)r.vetter]

guardian spirits of the land or house
These spirits, originally beneficent beings, later wizards, are said to be visible only to those endowed with second sight.

vaetter (see vaettir)

Vafthrudnir (see Vafthruthnir)

Vafthruthnir Norse
[Vafthrudnir]
the wisest of the giants

He made a practice of killing those who, in a contest of knowledge, failed to tell him something he did not already know.

He took part in such a contest of knowledge with Odin who was disguised as Gangrad and who wished to test his own newly acquired wisdom resulting from drinking at the Well of Knowledge, the loser to forfeit his life. At the end of the near-equal contest, the giant recognised his opponent and declared himself to be the loser. He predicted that the final battle would take place on the field of Vigrid.

He was killed by Odin (Jalk).

Vafthrutbnis-Kvida (see Vafthruthnismal)

Vafthrutbnismal Norse
[The Lay of Vafthruthnir.

Vafthruthnis-Kvida]
the story in the Elder Edda of Vafthruthnir's contest with Odin.

Vafud (see Vegtam)

Vagdevercustis German
a minor deity

Vagdevi Hindu
a name of Sarasvati as goddess of speech (see also Vach)

vagina dentata
a condition where a woman's vagina is said to have teeth

In the usual story, these teeth are knocked out by the hero. In other cases, it is said that a serpent or carnivorous fish has entered the woman's vagina and bites off anything that enters.

- Vagisvara Buddhist a god of the spoken word
a form of Manjushri
- Vagitanus Roman
a guardian god of babies who caused them to utter their first cry (see also Fabulinus)
- Vagon British
owner of a castle of the same name
He gave shelter to the Knights of the Round Table on the first night after they set off from Camelot on the Grail Quest before each one set off on his own path.
- Vagonhofde Norse
a giant
father of Hardgrip
- Vagoniona (see Guagugiana)
- Vagor British
a king of Estrangot
father of Marabron
He once held Lionel prisoner and required him to fight a duel with his son, Marabron. Lionel fell ill, so Lancelot took his place, defeating Marabron and securing the release of his cousin.
- Vagrant Youth Irish
[Mac(h)aomh an Fhagain]
father of the Solitary Youth
When Cian was in bed, nursing a broken leg, this young man arrived claiming to be his nephew and healed the leg with a poultice. He said he had married a German princess who had borne him three sons and he also had a son, the Solitary Youth, by a princess of Orkney.
- Vahagn Armenian
[Vasapaklal:=Greek Heracles:=Hindu Vritrahan:=Persian Verethragna]
the sun-god, god of fire, lightning and war husband of Anahit and Astlik
He is said to have been born from a plant or, in other accounts from fire, and created all living things.
He is regarded as the creator of the Milky Way out of the straw scattered by his horse running through the heavens.
(see also Bahram)
- vahama (see vahana)
- vahana Hindu
[vahama.vahanam.'vehicle']
a vehicle of a god, often a bird or an animal
- vahanam (see vahana)
- Vahguru Sikh
[Govinda.Hari.Vahiguru]
a creator-god
- Vahiguru (see Vahguru)
- Vahine Nauhatu Pacific Islands [Enchantress Woman] in some accounts, she is said to have moulded Atea from the formless void
- Vahiynin Siberian ['existence'] a Koryak deity
- Vahman (see Vohu Manah)
- Vahram Persian
the Pahlavi version of Bahram
- Vahu (see Tangaroa)
- Vahuka Hindu
a charioteer in the Mahabharata
- Vai-mahse South American
a red dwarf-god of the Tukano Indians, controller of animals
- Vai-Ola (see Waiora)
- Vaisnavara Hindu
a name for Agni as 'one who belongs to all'
- Vaidehi Buddhist
a queen
wife of Bimbisara mother of Ajatasatru
- vaidualis Baltic
a ghost, in Lithuanian lore
- Vaijayanta Hindu
the flagstaff of Indra
- Vaikuntha Hindu
heaven, the home of Vishnu on Mount Meru
- Vaikunthanatha (see Adimurti)
- vaimana Jain
the flying palace of the gods
- Vaimanika Jain
the gods inhabiting the vaimana, the flying palace of the gods
- Vaimatse South American
a fertility-god of the Turkano tribe
- Vainamoinen Baltic
[Ainemoinen.Wainamoinen:=Estonian Vanemuine] a Finnish magician-hero son of Ilmatar
brother of Ilmarinen and Lemminkainen
His mother floated in the primordial ocean for 700 years and was made pregnant by Ahti, the god of the waters.
It was said that Vainamoinen was so long in the womb that he was an old man when he was born.
In some accounts, he also floated in the primordial waters for many years. An eagle laid its egg on his knee and, when it fell off and broke open, the shell became the earth and sky. A similar story is told of his mother, Ilmatar.

When Ukko sent fire to earth in the form of a thunderbolt, it was swallowed by a fish. Vainamoinen caught the fish and recovered the fire from its stomach.

He fought the giant Joukahainen and buried him chin-deep in a bog. Joukahainen gave him his sister, Aino, as the price for being released but she jumped into the sea rather than marry an old man. He then sought a wife in Pohjola and Louhi promised him her daughter if he would make her a sampo. The daughter also imposed a number of near-impossible tasks, such as tying a knot in an egg, which he failed to complete only because three evil spirits caused him to cut himself with an axe.

When building a boat, he recited spells that bound the various parts securely together but, when he came to build a boat (with oak collected by Sampsa Pellervo) as one of the tasks set by Louhi's daughter, he forgot the appropriate words and could find them nowhere on earth, so he went to Tuonela, the underworld. He escaped the clutches of Tuonetar by turning himself into a steel serpent and returned home empty-handed. He next went to Antero Vipunen who swallowed him but Vainamoinen hammered on his heart until the giant released him and told him the magic words he needed to complete the building of the ship. When the ship was finished, he returned to Pohjola where Ilmarinen had made the required sampo. Unhappily, Louhi's daughter had married Ilmarinen in preference to Vainamoinen. He later returned to Pohjola with Ilmarinen and Lemminkainen and stole the sampo but it was broken when Louhi caused a storm that wrecked his ship. He saved some of the fragments of the sampo which alone brought prosperity to the land.

In one story he caused a fir-tree to grow until it reached the sky and Ilmarinen climbed the tree in a vain attempt to capture the moon.

In another story Vainamoinen played such beautiful music on his kantele that even the sun and moon came down to listen and were captured by the mistress of Pohjola. Vainamoinen found them and released them.

He finally left the earth, sailing off in a copper boat.

He is credited with the invention of music and the zither.

vainnan tyttö Baltic [vainnan tytär]

Finnish water-maidens

vainnan tytär (see vainnan tyttö)

Vairacocha (see Viracocha)

Vairagi Hindu
[Vairaja]

one of the demi-gods: the spirit of an ascetic, a form of Pitri

These beings live in Tapa-Loka.

Vairaja (see Vairagi)

Vairaumati Pacific Islands

second wife of the god Oro

Va'irgin Siberian

[=Koryak Tenanto'mwan]

a supreme deity of the

Chukchee

Vairocana Buddhist

[Cunda.Grahamatrika.Kun-Rig.

Mahasahapramardani.Mahavairoc(h)ana.

Samantabhadra.Sitapatra.Sitatara.

Unsisavijaya.Vairochana:=Hindu

Brahma:=Japanese Dainichi]

the fourth (or, in Nepal, the first) of the 5 Dhyani Buddhas

one of the 5 Herukabuddhas

consort of Vajradhatvisvari

Vairochana (see Vairocana)

Vairochi (see Bana)

Vairotya Jain

a goddess of learning

one of the vidyadevis

Vais (see Kul)

Vaisakha Buddhist

the Sanskrit version of Wesak

Vaishnavi Hindu

[Vaisnavi]

a goddess

a sakti of Vishnu, a form of Lakshmi

one of the navasaktis

one of the 8 Matrikas

She was opposed to the demon Lobha.

Vaishno Devi Hindu

a mother-goddess

Vaishravana<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a minor deity

one of the Dikpalas, some say

king of the yakshas

Vaishravana<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Kubera.Vaishravana:=Cambodian

Peysrap:=Pali Vessavana:=Chinese To

Wen:=Taoist Mo-li Shou:

=Japanese Bishamon:

=Tibetan Rnam-thos-sras]

a name for Kubera as 'master of Ravana'

Vaisnavi (see Vaishnavi)

Vaitakere Pacific Islands

[Vaitere]

father of Ina

Vaitarani<sup>1</sup> Hindu

one of the 28 realms of hell

This realm is reserved for pillagers and those who have destroyed beehives.

(see also Vaitarani<sup>2</sup>)

Vaitarani<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Baitarani]

a river of death in hell

Into this river, full of the foulest things imaginable, which separates the land of the living from the land of the dead (Yamapura), were thrown religious dissidents. To cross the river, the dead had to grab the tail of a cow which towed them across. (see also Vaitarani<sup>1</sup>)

Vaitere (see Vaitakere)

Vaivarta (see Brahma<sup>2</sup>)

Vaivasvata Hindu

[Menu.Vaivaswata]

son of Vivasvat and Sanjna

father of Ikshvaku

In some accounts, he was the seventh incarnation of Manu. Others equate him with Yama. (see Manu<sup>1</sup>)

Vaivaswata (see Vaivasvata)

Vaivoo Persian

a demon, one of the

Austatikko-Pauligaur

Vaja Hindu

one of the 3 Rubhus

Vajgats Baltic

a holy island in Finnish lore

This site is used for the sacrifice of animals to the gods.

vajra<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[vadjra:=Japanese wajro:=Japanese kongo:

=Polynesian wajera:

=Tibetan dorje.rdo-rje]

the thunderbolt of Indra: a penis: an instrument shaped like a thunderbolt, used in incantation

It was said that this thunderbolt was made from the bones of the seer

Dadhica. (see also thunderstone)

Vajra<sup>2</sup> (see Chin-kang)

Vajrabhairava Buddhist

[rDo-rje-'jigs-byed]

a Tibetan Adi-Buddha

(see also Vajradhara)

Vajracarcika Buddhist

an aspect of Akshobhya

She is depicted as having three eyes and standing on a corpse.

Vajradaka Buddhist

an aspect of Akshobhya

consort of Vajravahi

Vajradakini Buddhist

a goddess of the air

She can confer supernatural powers on her devotees.

Vajradhara Buddhist

[=Tibetan rDo-rje-chang]

a form of Adi-Buddha in Tibet:

supreme Buddha-hood

(see also Vajrabhairava)

Vajradhatvisvari Buddhist

a goddess

a sakti of Vairocana

a form of Marichi

Vajragandhari Buddhist

a goddess

Vajragarbha Buddhist

a bodhisattva

Vajraheruka Buddhist

one of the 5 Herukabuddhas

Vajrakantaka Hindu

one of the realms of hell

This region is reserved for the punishment of those who have married into another caste. Here they are forced to clasp red-hot statues made of metal.

Vajrakarma Buddhist

[Vajrakarmaparamita]

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses,

perseverance personified

Vajrakarmaparamita (see Vajrakarma)

Vajrapani<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Acarya-Vajrapani.Acala-Vajrapani:

=Chinese Lou-chi.Wei-t'o

:=Tibetan P'yag-na-rdo-rje]

a god of holy teaching one of the Dhyani bodhisattvas of

Mahayana Buddhism

son of Akshobhya and Mamaki

In the Buddhist version of the story of Rahu and the stolen amrita, Vajrapani was left in charge of the elixir. Rahu stole it and left his own urine in its place. Vajrapani was forced to drink the urine and, when Rahu was caught, cut off his head.

He is regarded as a guardian against snakebite and is depicted holding

a thunderbolt.

Vajrapani<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a name of Indra holding the thunderbolt (see also Vajri)

Vajrapanibalin Hindu

[=Chinese Chin-kang-li-shih]

a name for the door-guardian,

Guhyaka, referring to the thunderbolt he holds

(see also Hang Ha Erh Chiang)

Vajrapasi Buddhist

a goddess

one of the Dikpalas

She is responsible for guarding the southern region.

Vajraputra Buddhist

[= Fa-she-lo Fu-to-lo.Fa-she-na-fu-to:

=Tibetan rDo-rje-moi-bu:]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

He is depicted as very hairy but so thin that his ribs are evident.

Vajrasana Buddhist

a form of Akshobhya

Vajrasattva Buddhist

[Ghantapani:=Indian Adi-Buddha:

=Japanese Kongo:

=Tibetan rDo-rje-sems-dpa:]

a primaeva Buddha, controller of elemental forces

one of the Dhyani Buddhas, in some accounts

Vajrasphota Buddhist

a goddess

one of the dikpalas

She is responsible for guarding the western region.

Vajrasrnkhala<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a goddess

an aspect of Amoghasiddhi

Vajrasrnkhala<sup>2</sup> Jain

a goddess of learning

one of the vidyadevis

Vajratara Buddhist

a goddess

a form of Bhṛkuti

Vajravahi (see Vajravarahi)

Vajravarahi Buddhist

[Adamantine Sow.Queen of Heaven.

Vajravahi:=Tibetan rDo-rje-ph-mo]

a goddess

an aspect of Vairocana

a sakti of Hevajira or Vajradaka

(see also Bhavani<sup>2</sup>)

Vajravidarani Buddhist

a goddess

She is depicted as having five heads.

Vajrayaksha (see Kongo-yasha-myoo)

Vajrayogini Buddhist

a goddess

She is sometimes depicted as carrying her own severed head.

Vajri Hindu

a name for Indra as 'thunderer'

(see also Vajrapani<sup>2</sup>)

Vairosnisa Buddhist

a god

one of the dikpalas

He is responsible for guarding the eastern region.

Vak<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Vax.Vech(a)]

the name of Odin when he appeared as an old woman in his wooing

of Rinda

In this guise, he claimed to be able to free Rinda from the spell he had put on her in an earlier encounter and carried her off as his wife.

Vak<sup>2</sup> (see Vach)

vak<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

the crane, a sacred bird

Vaka<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a demon

Bhima is said to have killed this being, tearing him apart.

Vaksoza Baltic

a Finnish spirit of water-mills

Vala (see Nakula)

Vala<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a cave

The celestial cows were kept in this cave. The name was also applied to the guardian of the cave. (see also Pani)

vala<sup>2</sup> Norse

[vol(v)a] prophetesses or sibyls

The best-known vala were the Norns.

(see also disir.Norns.tala-disir)

Valac

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be the ruler of reptiles and can indicate the site of hidden treasure.

He appears as a small boy with wings, astride a two-headed dragon.

Valafar (see Valfodir)

Valahaka Buddhist

[Cloud]

a flying horse (see also Padmapani)

Valanu

a good demon, said to teach the arts

of magic

Valaskialf Norse

[Valaskiof.Valaskjalf.Valaskjolf]

one of Odin's halls in Asgard

This thatched hall was built of silver.

(see also Valhalla)

Valaskiof (see Valaskialf)

Valaskjalf (see Valaskialf)

Valaskjolf (see Valaskialf)

Valdi Kyola Norse

a name for Thor as ruler of wagons

Valdichiana Italian

a swamp in Tuscany, home of demons

Valedjad South American

the first man, in the lore of the Tupari

brother of Vab

He and his brother were born when a large black stone split open. He was an evil magician who tried to destroy the earth's creatures by causing a flood but the magician, Arkaonyo, bound the giant and had him taken off to the mountains in the far north by a flock of huge birds.

The brothers were said to have killed an agouti and each made himself a wife from one of the animal's teeth.

Valefar (see Malephar)

Valentine European

son of Alexander and Bellisent

twin brother of Orson husband of Clerimond

He was abducted by his uncle, Pepin the Short, but, in later years, was reunited with his brother Orson, who had been reared by bears, and they had many adventures together.

Valerin British

[King of the Tangled Wood]

a king

He ruled a kingdom that was guarded by dragons. He claimed to have been betrothed to Guinevere before she married King Arthur and, although Lancelot fought and defeated him on this issue, he abducted her and kept her in his castle in an enchanted sleep. The sorcerer, Malduc, secured her release when Erec and Gawain were handed over to him.

Valetudo Roman

[=Greek Hygeia]

a goddess of health

In some accounts she is the same as Salus.

Valfadir (see Valfodir)

Valfather (see Valfodir)

Valfodr Norse

[Valfadir.Valfather]

Odin as the god of the slain warriors in Valhalla

Valfreyja (see Freyja)

Valgrind (see Helgrind)

Valhall (see Valhalla)

Valhalla Norse

[Valhall.Valholl.Walhall(a):

=Hindu Amaravata]

the hall of the chosen slain or palace of the dead in Asgard:

heaven

This palace of Odin was situated in the grove of Glasir and was said to have 540 huge doors. The walls were composed of shining spears, the roof of golden shields.

The 800 occupants fought and died every day and were revived every night, training to fight on the side of the gods in the final battle, Ragnarok.

The building was destroyed after Ragnarok. In the Wagnerian version, it was destroyed by fire as the final act in the curse of the Ring when the ring was thrown into the Rhine by Brunhild on the death of Siegfried.

In some accounts, Valhalla is a corruption of Valaskialf, the home of Vali.

Valhamr Norse

[falcon garb.Feather Cloak]
a flying-suit owned by Freya

This garment enabled the wearer to fly. Freya occasionally lent it to others and it was used by Loki when he went to Jotunheim to bring back Idun.

Valholl (see Valhalla)

Vali<sup>1</sup> Norse

[Ali.Beav.Boe.Bous.Wali]

a god of light
son of Odin and Rinda

He was fathered by Odin on Rinda on the advice of the magician Rossthiof and he grew to manhood in a single day. Carrying a bow and arrows, he went immediately to Asgard to avenge the murder of Balder by shooting Hoder.

He was destined to be one of the survivors of Ragnarok.

Vali<sup>2</sup> Norse

[Wali]

son of Loki and Sigyn brother of Narve

When the gods finally banished Loki and bound him hand and foot in a cave, the bonds they used were the entrails of Narve who had been torn to pieces by Vali in the form of a wolf.

Another version says that the entrails used were those of Vali who was torn to pieces by Narve as a wolf.

Valin (see Balin<sup>2</sup>)

Valkjösandi Norse

a name for Odin as the one who chooses the warriors to go to Valhalla

Valkyr (see Valkyries)

Valkyrie, The German

[Die Walküre]

one of the 4 Wagnerian operas based on the Nibelungenlied

This work tells the story of Brunhild.

Valkyries Norse

[Battle-maidens.Herjan's Maids.

Osk-meyjar.Shield Maidens.

Skjaldmeyjar.Skjaldmeyjar.

Valkyrior.Valkyriur.Valkyrja.

Walkyries.Wish-maidens:sing=Valkyr:

=Muslim houri l'Aini]

minor goddesses acting as handmaidens of Freya and choosers of the slain

It was the work of the Valkyries to decide who should fall in battle and to bring the bodies of some of the fallen to Valhalla; the others were taken by Freya. Those chosen for Valhalla were destined to fight on the side of the gods at Ragnarok and, having conducted the warriors to Valhalla, the Valkyries then waited on their needs.

Some depict them as bloodthirsty giants, rather than maidens, and various accounts put their numbers at three, six, nine or twenty-seven. They had the ability to put on swan-plumage and fly down to earth and, on one occasion, three of them (Alvit, Olrund and Svanhvit) left their wings on the shore while they bathed. The brothers Egil, Slagfinn and Volund seized the wings and kept the maidens as their wives for nine years.

Some say they could change into wolves or ravens.

Valkyrior (see Valkyries)

Valkyriur (see Valkyries)

Valkyrja (see Valkyries)

Vallant (see Volund)

Valldemar Norse

the name of Waldemar in Thidrekssaga

Valley of Thorns (see Roncesvalles)

Valli Hindu

a goddess
a consort of Skanda

Valmik (see Balmik)

Valmiki (see Balmik)

Valtam Norse

father of Vegtam

Valtari Norse

[Vaskasteini]

the name for Walter von Wasgenstein in Thidrekssaga

Valu Jain

gods of the underworld

These beings, who live in Valuka, torture the wicked dead by burying them in hot sand.

Valuka Jain

one of the 7 hells, home of the

Valu

Valyant British

a king of Wales, said to be related to Lancelot

Vamacharins Hindu

a left-handed sect of Hindus who revere Sakti (see also Daksinacharins)

Vamadeva Hindu

one of the 5 aspects of Shiva known as the Pancabrahma

Vamana<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Trivikrama.Vamana-avatara.Vamen]

the fifth incarnation of Vishnu, as a dwarf

son of Kasyapa and Aditi

The king Bali tried to take over the powers of Indra. The dwarf asked him for just three paces of land and then became an enormous being whose three paces would have covered the whole world. He took but two steps, covering heaven and earth, leaving the third pace, the underworld Patala, to Bali.

Others say that he kept the whole universe when he covered it in three steps and forced Bali down into the underworld.

Vamana<sup>2</sup> Hindu

Yama, as one of the Dikpalas, or his elephant

Vamana-avatara (see Vamana<sup>1</sup>)

Vamen (see Vamana<sup>1</sup>)

Vammatar Finnish

a goddess of sickness

daughter of Tuoni and Tuonetar

sister of Kipu-Tyho and Kivutar

Vamoa-pod South American

a primordial being, in the lore of the Tupari of Brazil

(see Aroteh.Tovapod)

Vamoa-toga-toga South American

one of the Vamoa-pod

This being was noted for the size of his navel, said to be a span in length.

vampire

a monster leaving the grave to suck blood from the living: the spirit of one excommunicated, a heretic, etc.

It is said that a vampire can be killed only by driving a stake through its heart or by shooting it with a silver bullet.

vampirism

the state or condition of being a blood-sucking monster: belief in blood-sucking monsters

vampirovitch Slav

a son of a vampire

Van<sup>1</sup> Armenian

a feathered dragon

Van<sup>2</sup> (see Vanir)

Van Xuong Burmese

a dragon-god of literature

Vana-mother (see Wave-maidens)

vana-vyantara (see vyantara)

vanadevata Hindu

a tree spirit

Vanabride (see Freya)

Vanadis (see Freya)

Vanagod (see Vanir)

Vanaheim Norse

[Vannheim]

the home of the Vanir under the earth or, some say, in the air and sea

Vanainti Persian

[Uparatat]

a goddess of victory (see also Vanant)

Vanand (see Vanant)

Vanant Persian

[Vanand]

a guardian star-deity of the west

This star-deity is one of the leaders of the stars fighting on the side of Ahura Mazda against the forces of evil.

(see also Vanainti)

Vanaprastha (see brahmin)

Vanas (see Vanir)

Vanaspatis Hindu

a deity who passes sacrificial offerings to the gods

Vanavasa Buddhist

[=Chinese Fa-na-p'o-ssu]

one of the Eighteen Lohan

He is depicted in a contemplative posture, sitting inside a cave.

Vanbride (see Freya)

Vanderdecker (see Flying Dutchman)

Vanemuind (see Vanemuine)

Vanemuine Estonian

[Vanemuind:=Finnish Vainamoinen]

a god of music

This deity is based on the Finnish Vainamoinen.

Vanen (see Vanir)

Vaner (see Vanir)

Vanir Norse

[Vanas.Vanen.Vaner:sing=Van]

the later deities of the Norse pantheon, earth-gods

deities of fertility, sea and wind

Some accounts say that they preceded the Aesir, others that they were later arrivals from the east.

They waged war with the Aesir for many years but finally made peace, exchanging hostages as a safeguard against future strife.

Vanity Fair English

a year-long fair in Pilgrim's Progress, started by Beelzebub

Vannheim (see Vanaheim)

Vanoc British

[Varoc]

a Knight of the Round Table

son of Merlin

Vanquech North American

a place of worship devoted to Chinigchinich

Vanth Roman

an Etruscan goddess of the underworld

This being has wings each of which has a large eye on the inside.

Vaoctare Pacific Islands

a malevolent tree-spirit of Fiji

Vapnfrdinga Saga Norse

the story of the feud between the families of Helgi and Geitir

vaporise

to turn oneself into vapour

This is said to be one of the powers of a witch.

Vapula

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to impart knowledge of science and philosophy and appears as a winged lion.

Vapushmat Hindu

a demon

This being was killed by Dama whose father had been killed by Vapushmat.

Var<sup>1</sup> Persian

a cave or enclosure built by Yima in which he and the selected species survived the Flood

Var<sup>2</sup> (see Vara)

Vara Norse

[Var<sup>2</sup>]

a goddess of oaths, attendant on Frigga

Her job was to hear oaths and punish those who lied.

In some versions she is the same as Vor.

Varagna Persian

an incarnation of Verethragna as a falcon or raven

Varaha<sup>1</sup> Hindu

in Vedic myth, a manifestation of Brahma

In this version, Brahma dived to the bottom of the primordial ocean, seeking the root of the lotus which floated on the surface, and discovered land. He changed into a huge boar and raised the land above the surface of the ocean on his back.

Another story says that the earth was so overpopulated that the weight of the people caused the earth to sink. The boar lifted its back into position on one tusk. When he moves the earth from one tusk to another, an earthquake results. (see also Varaha<sup>2</sup>)

Varaha<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Adivaraha.Varaha-avatara]

the third incarnation of Vishnu, as a boar

In this incarnation he fought, for a thousand years, and finally killed the giant Hiranyaksha who had dragged the earth down to the sea-bottom.

(see also Varaha<sup>1</sup>)

Varaha-avatara (see Varaha<sup>2</sup>)

Varahi Hindu

a mother-goddess

one of the 8 Matrikas

She was opposed by the demon Asuyu.

Varahmukhi Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Marici

Varali Buddhist

a goddess attendant on Marici

Varalden-Olmei Lapp

[=Norse Frey]

a fertility-god

His pole, spattered with blood, supports the earth.

Varcin Hindu

a drought-demon

Varddhamana (see Vardhamana)

Vardhamana (see Mahavira.

Varddhamana)

Vardtrad (see Vartrad)

Vare-jielle (see Leshi)

Vareghna Persian

the god Verethragna in the form of a raven

Varena Persian

heaven

This region is depicted as four-cornered and was the site of the battle between Azhi Dahak and Thraetona.

Vareshava Persian

a monster slain by Keresaspa

Varhagn (see Verethragna)

Vari Ma Te Takere Pacific Islands

[Varima Te Takere]

a mother-goddess of the Hervey Islands

mother of Atea, Raka, Tango, Tinirau,

Tu-Metua and Tumuteanaoa

Three of her children were born from her left side, three from the right.

She is said to live curled up in the lowest part of the world coconut or in an egg on the bed of the primordial ocean.

Variloma Hindu

a name of Varuna as sea-god, 'he with the watery hair'

Varima Te Takere

(see Vari Ma Te Takere)

Varjohaltia (see Varjohaltija)

Varjohaltija Baltic

[Varjohaltia]

in Finnish lore, a man's shadow-ruler

This being is said to be able to forecast the future. (see also haltija)

Varlan British

[Brulan.Brulens.Brutan.Hurlame.Hurlane]

a king of Gales

His army met the army of Lambor on a beach where a mysterious ship came ashore. He used the sword he found on the ship to kill Lambor but, when he returned to replace the sword in its scabbard, he fell down dead.

When he killed Lambor, his realm and that of Lambor became desolate, and were known as the Waste Land. In some accounts, the sword-stroke that killed Lambor was known as the Dolorous Stroke.

As Hurlane, he is described as a Saracen king who made peace with Lambor but killed him when Lambor treacherously killed some of his men when he re-entered his ship to put away his sword.

varm-ava Russian [=Cheremis mendez-ava]
a Mordvin tutelary spirit, guardian of the wind

Varnefrid European
an adviser to Charlemagne

Varns Norse
wolves

offspring of Fenris and Gollweig
Their names are Hati and Skoll and, in some accounts, Managarm.

Varoc (see Vanoc)

Varoonon Persian
a demon, one of the Austatikco-Pauligaur

varoyi African warlocks in Zimbabwe

Varpulis European
a Czech god of storms

Vartrad European [Vardtrad]
in Sweden, a sacred tree which delivered oracles

If such a tree were felled, the house where it grew would no longer prosper.

Varuna Hindu

[Anjana.Jalapati.Kesa.Lord of the Ocean.Pashabhrit.Pasi.Prasetas. Samraj.Variloma.Yadahpati.Yadhapati: =Balinese Waruna:=Greek Poseidon: =Japanese Ryujin]
a creator-god, ruler of the heavens, the night sky, seas and rivers
son of Aditi
son of Kasyapa and Vinata,
some say
brother of Aryaman and Mitra consort of Ganga, Jumna or Varuni father of Pushkara and Vashishtha
He resigned in favour of Indra and became a sea-god with his own heaven, Pushpagiri, in the sea. He is sometimes regarded as one of the Dikpalas responsible for guarding the west with his elephant, Anjana, or as one of the adityas.

He is depicted as having four heads, 1,000 arms and a fat stomach and may ride on a fish or in a seven-horse chariot or on the water-monster, Makara.

Varunapragh Hindu

a festival in honour of Varuna

Varunani (see Varuni)

Varuni Hindu

[Gauri.Mada.Sura.Varunani:=Greek Hebe]
a goddess of wine

consort of Varuna

She was the fourth thing to emerge when the gods churned the ocean to make amrita.

Some say that she was the daughter of Varuna; in other accounts, she is called Sura.

Vasa (see Kul)

Vasa Iniquitatis

[Vessels of Anger]

the third order of demons, spirits of iniquity, ruled by Belial

Vasa Mortis British

an old English monster

Vasanta Hindu

[Vasantadevi]

a goddess, spring personified

Vasanta-Bandhu Hindu

an aspect of Kama as god of spring

Vasantadevi (see Vasanta)

Vasapaklal Armenian

[Visapaklal]

a name for Vahagn as Dragon-Slayer

Vasava (see Indra.Vritra)

Vashishtha Hindu

[Prajapati.Vashishtra.Vasistha]

a sage

one of the Seven Rishis

one of the Prajapatis

son of Varuna and Mitra husband of Arundhati or

Urja

father of Shakta

He was so depressed when a rakshaha ate all his 100 sons that he tried to kill himself but jumping from the top of a mountain, entering a blazing forest and jumping into the ocean and a river all left him unscathed.

He owned the sacred cow Nandini which could grant any wish. He became the enemy of Vishvamitra when the latter tried to steal the cow and Vashishtha used his fiery breath to incinerate his enemy's 100 sons. He also fell out with the rishi Gotama over the supervision of a sacrifice for King Nimi resulting in a curse which caused him to lose his body which was later restored by the gods.

Vashishtra (see Vashishtha)

Vashita (see Paramita)

Vasistha (see Vasishtha)

Vasita (see Paramita)

Vaskasteini (see Valtari)

Vasolt Norse

a storm-demon

Vassago

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be able to impart knowledge of the past and the future.

Vassilisa Russian

a peasant girl

When her mother died, she gave Vassilisa a doll which would protect her. Her father then married again and his new wife and her two daughters became jealous of Vassilisa and sent her on an errand to the witch Baba-Yaga, hoping that she would be killed. The witch gave the girl several near-impossible tasks which, with the help of the doll, Vassilisa was able to accomplish. She waited until the witch fell asleep and then ran home, taking one of the many skulls from the witch's house. This skull had glowing eyes and it burned the stepmother and her daughters to ashes. Thereafter, Vassilisa lived happily with her old father.

(see also Vassilissa)

Vassilissa Slav

a swan-maiden

daughter of Morskoi Tzar

wife of Ivan

Prince Ivan stole her feather dress while she was swimming and later married her. (see also Vassilisa)

Vastospati Hindu

a guardian house-spirit

vasty (see Skrymir)

Vasu<sup>1</sup> Hindu

one of a group of minor gods attendant on Indra: a type of

Gana

These deities are listed as Anala, Anila, Apa, Dhara, Dhruva, Prabhasa, Pratyusha and Soma. Others include Antariksha (sky) and Vasu (wealth).

The leader of the vasus is Agni or Indra.

Vasu<sup>2</sup> (see Vishnu)

Vasud Norse

a god of icy winds

father of Vindsual

Vasudeva<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Devadeva:=Pacific Basudewa]

a god

son of Yadu

brother of Kunti

consort of Devaki and Rohini

father of Balarama and Krishna

father of Subhadra, some say

He is said to have immolated himself on Krishna's funeral pyre and returned to heaven.

Vasudeva<sup>2</sup> Hindu
[Devadeva:=Pacific Basudewa]
a name for Krishna as 'good god'

Vasudeva<sup>3</sup> Jain
a spiritual leader
a Shalakupurusha

Nine such leaders appear in each of the earthly periods.

Vasudhara<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
a female bodisattva
a sakti of Vajrasattva
a form of Akshobhya
(see also Bhumidevi)

Vasudhara<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a fertility-goddess
a sakti of Kubera

Vasuki Hindu
[=Pacific Basuki]
king of the nagas

He is regarded as the ruler of Nitala, one of the seven realms of Patala and home of the nagas.

In some accounts, Vasuki is identified with the world-serpent, Ananta; others say that they are separate and Vasuki is Ananta's son. Shiva is said to wear this serpent round his neck. (see also Ananta)

Vasumatisri Buddhist [Vasusri]
a goddess attendant on Vasudhara

Vasusri (see Vasumatisri)

Vasya-Tara Buddhist
[Arya-Tara]
an aspect of Amoghasiddhi, some say

Vata<sup>1</sup> East Indian
a disease-bearing demon in Papua

vata<sup>2</sup> Hindu [anjina.vatavritsha]
the fig-tree

This tree is an object of worship for some women wishing to become mothers.

Vata<sup>3</sup> Persian [Asvara]
an ancient wind-god

Vata<sup>4</sup> (see Vayu<sup>2</sup>)

Vatak (see Autak)

vatavritsha (see vata<sup>1</sup>)

Vatea (see Atea.Rangi)

vates Roman
a prophet

Vathek Muslim
a king who made a compact with Iblis
He soon found himself forever doomed to a place of torture.

Vatican Codex Central American
a manuscript source of Aztec and Mayan mythology

Vatnsdoela Saga Norse
the story of Thorstein and his descendants

vatsa Hindu
a mark on Shiva's breast

This mark was caused when water was thrown over Shiva by a sage, whose meditations the god had interrupted.

Vatsasuraa Hindu
one of the demons, in the form of a cow, sent by Kansa to kill the infant Krishna

Vatuka Hindu
one of a group of minor female deities

vauderie (see sabbat)

vaudoiserie (see sabbat)

vaoodoo (see voodoo)

vaudou (see voodoo)

vaudoux (see voodoo.Votan)

Vaugh'eh South American
a female shaman of the Tupari

This giantess is one of the rulers of the village of the dead; the other is the giant Mpokalero. Newly-arrived souls are required to have intercourse with one or the other of these rulers.

Vaux, Roland de (see Roland de Vaux)

Vax (see Vak<sup>1</sup>)

Vaya (see Vayu<sup>2</sup>)

Vaybrama (see Baidrama)

Vayu<sup>1</sup> Buddhist [Va]
a god of air and wind (see also Vayuvarvat)

Vayu<sup>2</sup> Hindu
['breath'.Gandhavaha.Mahadeva.Maruta.
Pavana.Pushpadanta.Sadagata.
Vata.Vaya.Wai:=Greek Aeolus]

god of air and wind
one of the Dikpalas

consort of Anjana
father of Bhima and Hanuman

He is responsible for guarding the north-west with his elephant, Pushpadanta.

When he was induced to break off the top of Mount Meru, Vayu tried to blow it away but was at first frustrated by the huge bird Garuda which shielded the peak with his wings. Later he succeeded and the mountain-top fell into the sea to become Ceylon.

He is sometimes referred to as Indra's charioteer or as a servant of Lakshmi and Vishnu and may be depicted holding a wheel and riding a deer.

In some accounts he is one of the five forms (wind) of Parabrahma.

Vayu<sup>3</sup> Persian [Vata]
a wind-god

one of the Yazatas
He formed the ocean round Mount Alburz by blowing raindrops together.

In some accounts he is equated with vatas, in others with Rama.

He is depicted wearing a suit of armour and carrying a spear and sword.

Vayu<sup>4</sup> Persian
a demon

This being is an aspect of Vayu the wind-god in the form of an evil demon.

Vayubala Hindu
one of the 49 Maruts

Vayumandala Hindu
one of the 49 Maruts

Vayukumara Jain
a minor god

one of the 10 Bhavanavasi

Vayuvarvat Buddhist
[Airy Horse:=Tibetan rLun-rta.Lung-ta]
a deity

the horse of the wind
This animal carries the cintamani on its back.

Vayuvega Hindu
one of the 49 Maruts

Vazishta Persian
one of the 5 types of sacred fire

This type of fire is lightning.
(see also Bahram fire)

Ve Norse
[We]
son of Bor and Bestla

He helped his brothers Odin and Vili kill the Frost Giant, Ymir, from whose body they built the world.
(see also Hoenir)

Ve'ai Siberian
a vegetation-goddess of the Koryak people a consort of Eme'mqut

Vech (see Vak<sup>1</sup>)

Vecha (see Vak<sup>1</sup>)

Vecu (see Begoe)

ved-ava Russian [=Cheremis wut-awa]
a Mordvin tutelary spirit, guardian of water

Veda Hindu
['knowledge']
one of 4 holy books in the Hindu canon

The four divisions of the Vedas are the Atharva-veda, Rig-veda, Sama-veda and Yajur-veda.

Each of the Vedas consists of a mantra and brahmana. Other treatises, such as the Aryanakas and the Upanishads, are added.

Veda Yaka (see Bilindi)

- Vedangas Hindu
one of the groups of sacred writings covering poetry, religious ceremonies, etc.
- Vedavati Hindu
daughter of Kushadhvaja
As a practising ascetic, devoted to Vishnu, she felt defiled when the demon Ravana, seeking to marry her, touched her hair, and she burnt herself to death, only to be reborn as Sita. In that incarnation, she was the wife of Rama and was abducted by Ravana. (see also Sita)
- Vedavyasa (see Vyasa)
- Vedenhaltia (see Vedenhaltija)
- Vedenhaltija Baltic
[Vedenhaltia.Vederaj.Vestaeraj: =Lapp Kul:=Russian Vodyanoi]
an evil Finnish water-spirit
- Vederaj (see Vedenhaltija)
- Vedfolnir Norse
a falcon
This bird sat on an eagle perched on the highest branch of Yggdrasil and watched and reported on all that happened in the realms below. (see also Gullinkambi)
- Vediovis (see Veiovis)
- Vedius (see Veiovis)
- vedomec (see upir)
- Vecho North American [Vihio]
a Cheyenne trickster
He once stole a pair of magic leggings from the sun and got burned for his trouble.
- veela European [plur=veele:=Norse Volva]
a woodland sprite
The equivalent in southern Europe of the vila of the northern parts, they were fond of dancing and occasionally married mortal men. (see also vila)
- veele (see veela)
- veeran Hindu
spirit-soldiers
These beings, controlled by Ayyanar, nightly rode out to fight demons.
- Veeteni Pacific Islands
the first man to die on the island of Mangaia son of Tueva and Manga brother of Tiki
As a result of the grief experienced by his family on the death of Veeteni, the gods allowed his spirit to return during the day and even lengthened the day to allow him as much time as possible with his friends before he had to return to the land of the spirits at sunset.
- Vegliantino European
a horse of Orlando in some Italian stories (see also Veillantif)
- Vegoia (see Begoe)
- Vegtam Norse
[Vafud.Wegtam]
son of Valtam
a name used by Odin when he went to Niflheim to consult Volva about the future of his son Balder
- Vegtamskvida Norse
[Balder's Dream.Baldr's Drauma.
Lay of Vegtam]
the story of Balder's dream of death and the subsequent events
- Veguaniel
a demon of the hours of the day
- Veihne hae Pacific Islands
wild women
These beings were said to carry off men and rape them.
- Veidiass Norse
a name for Uller as god of the hunt
- Veigur (see Virgir)
- Veil of Invisibility Irish [Faet Fiada.Feth Fiadha]
a protective cloak that made Danaans invisible to mortals and gave them immortality
This cloak was said to have been one of the three gifts to the Danaans by Manannan. The others were the Feast of Giobhniu and the Pigs of Manannan.
It was said that the power to become invisible was exercised by some druids. St Patrick is said to have acquired this power and used it to turn himself into a deer and his companion into a fawn so that they would not be recognised by enemies who lay in wait for them.
- Veillantif European
a horse of Roland in some French stories
Some say that the dying Roland killed the horse at Roncesvalles to prevent it from falling into the hands of the Saracens. (see also Vegliantino)
- Veiovis Roman
[Vediovis.Vedius.Veive.Vejovis.Vetis: =Greek Apollo]
a youthful Etruscan god of shepherds whose festival, the Agonium, was held on May 21st
- Veive (see Veiovis)
- Veja Mate (see Vejasmate)
- Vejasmate Baltic
[Mother of the Wind.Veja Mate]
a Latvian wind-goddess, goddess of birds and woods
- Vejopatis Baltic
a Lithuanian wind-god
- Vejovis (see Veiovis)
- Velaute'mtilan Siberian
a Koryak vegetation-deity
- Velchanos Greek
a Cretan cock-demon
He became the Roman god Vulcan.
- vele Baltic
[=Latvian velis]
a Lithuanian spirit of the dead (see also velnias.vila)
- Veleda Norse
one of the Vala, a prophetic Roman times, who foretold the death of the general, Drusus
- Veleva Pacific Islands
a Fijian poet and seer
He composed many tales which were recorded by B H Querin in The Flight of the Chiefs, derived, he said, from predecessors or from direct contact with the spirits of his ancestors.
- Veles European [=Lithuanian Ganyklos:=Russian Vlas(sy):=Slav Volos.Volusu.Vyeles]
a Czech god of domestic animals and the underworld
- Velesu (see Vlas)
- Velinir Serbian
son of Voutcha
He and his father were captured by Marko and released only when Marko's friends Ivan, Milan and Milosh, who had been cast into prison by Voutcha, were released.
- Velint (see Volund)
- velis Baltic
[=Lithuanian vele]
a Latvian spirit of the dead
- Vellamo Finnish
[Wellamo]
a sea-goddess
consort of the sea-god, Ahti
- Vellendrucher British
a site, in Cornwall, of the battle in which King Arthur, with the help of the Seven Kings, defeated the Danes
- Vellido (see Dolfos)
- velnias Baltic
a wicked Lithuanian spirit of the dead: the devil (see also vele.vila)
- velns Baltic
[juods:=Estonian juudas:=Finnish juutas] a Latvian devil

- Velo men African in the lore of Madagascar, a race of men created when god breathed life into small clay figures
- Veltis
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
This demon was reputedly exorcised by St Margaret.
- Veltune Roman
an Etruscan god
- Velu Mate (see Velumate)
- Velumate Baltic
[Kapumate.Velu Mate]
a Latvian goddess of the underworld
- Vema Hindu
a goddess of sexual love
- Vena Hindu
a drought-demon
a Vedic emperor
When he tried to abolish the rite of sacrifice, the priests killed him and, with the help of Agni, produced a new ruler, Prithu, from the dead man's right arm. (see Prithu<sup>1</sup>)
- Venda Indian
[=Hindu Indra]
a Tamil creator-god
- vendenhaltia Baltic
[=Lappish cacce-haldde]
a Finnish water-spirit
- Vendidad Persian [law against demons'.
Videvdad.Videvdat]
the first part of the Avesta
This work deals with the creation of the earth and the coming of Ahura Mazda; it also describes the various laws, rites of purification, etc.
- Venedotia Celtic
a name for North Wales
- Venerable Head (see Urddawl Ben)
- Venerable Teacher (see Batara Guru)
- Veneralia Roman
a festival in honour of Venus, held on 1st April
- Vengeance Raguidel British
a 13th c French story of how Gawain avenged the murder of Raguidel
- Venilia<sup>1</sup> Roman
a nymph
daughter of Pilumnus sister of Amata wife of Daunus
mother of Juturna and Turnus
- Venilia<sup>2</sup> Roman
a minor goddess
wife of Janus
mother of Canens
- Venilia<sup>3</sup> (see Amphitrite)
- Venilia<sup>4</sup> (see Canens)
- Venkata Hindu
[Venkatesa]
a form of Vishnu
- Venkatesa (see Venkata)
- venti (see winds)
- Venus Roman [Appiades.Cloacina.Dione.Felix.
Hesper.Libentina.Libitina.
Queen of Love.Vesper.Victrix; =Greek Aphrodite.Charis] goddess of beauty, gardens, love, springs
one of the 5 Appiades
daughter of Jupiter and Dione,
some say
wife of Vulcan
Originally an Italic goddess of vegetation, Venus was adopted into the Roman pantheon and was given the attributes of the Greek Aphrodite.
The Romans claim that she was the mother of Aeneas.
In some accounts, she was carried on the back of, or turned into, a fish to escape the monster Typhon. The pair of them are represented in the heavens as Pisces.
- Venus Anadyomene Roman
Venus rising from the foam
- Venus and Adonis English
a poem by Shakespeare telling of the love of a goddess for a mortal
- Venus Callipyges (see Kallipyges)
- Venus Erucina (see Venus Erycina)
- Venus Erycina Roman [(Venus) Erucina]
a Sicilian love-goddess
Some say she was the wife of Anchises.
- Venus Genetrix Roman
Venus as the goddess of motherhood
- Venus Verticordia Roman
Venus as the goddess of virtue
- Venus Victrix Roman
Venus as the goddess of victory, worshipped particularly in the colonies
- Venusberg German [Horselberg]
a sacred mountain, site of the cave occupied by a witch
It was here that Tannhauser was seduced from the path of righteousness by earthly pleasures.
- Vepar
[Separ]
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
Appearing as a mermaid, he is said to control the seas and can cause storms that wreck ships.
- Ver (see Mer<sup>1</sup>)
- Veraldar-nagli Norse
the Pole Star
- Veraldargod (see Frey)
- Veralden-olmai Baltic
[Veralden-rade:=Norse Frey]
a Lapp supreme god
He is said to support the heavens.
- Veralden-rade (see Veralden-olmai)
- Veralden-shuold Baltic
[Ilma-samba.Maailmanpatsas] trees which help Veralden-olmai to support the world
These trees, which are erected at altars, are daubed with the blood of animals sacrificed.
- Veran European
a French saint
He (or Front) is said to have defeated the man-eating monster, Coulobre.
- Veratiel
a demon of the hours of the day
- Veratyr Norse
a name of Odin as 'lord of all men'
- Verbenalia Roman
festivals in honour of the plant vervain which was said to have magic properties (see herba sacra)
- Verbti Balkan
an Albanian god of fire and winds
- Verchenyaya Zvezda Slav
the evening star
daughter of Dabog
sister of Zvezda Dennitsa
wife of Meness, some say
In some accounts, Myesdats is male and Verchenyaya Zvezda is his wife rather than the wife of Meness.
- Verchiel
a demon, ruler of the Zodiacal sign, Leo the lion (see also Seratiel)
- Verdandi Norse
[Verthandi]
one of the 3 Norns – the present, being daughter of Mimir, some say
She is depicted as youthful and active.
- Verdelet
a demon acting as master of ceremonies in hell who carried witches to Sabbat
- Vere African [Were]
in Pokono lore, the first man
In some accounts Mitsotsozini was the first man and he taught Vere how to make fire.
- Verethraghna (see Verethragna)
- Verethragna Persian
[Varhagn.Verethraghna.Vrt(h)ragna:
=Armenian Vahagn:=Greek Heracles:
=Hindu Indra.Vritrahan]

a god of victory
one of the Yazatas
This four-faced, irresistible god had ten incarnations – a wind, a golden-horned bull, a white horse, a camel, a boar, a fifteen-year-old youth, a bird (Varagna), a ram, a buck and a man with a golden sword. As a boar, he was used by Mithra to kill his enemies.

He was born in the primordial ocean and some say he overcame the demon Azhi Dahak, chaining him to Mount Demavand.

(see also Atar<sup>1</sup>.Bahram.
Thraetona. Vareghna)

Vereticus British

a king of Wales
It was said that he was changed into a wolf by St Patrick.

Vergenia (see Verginia)

Vergil<sup>1</sup> Welsh
a sorcerer of Toledo

It was his recipe that Ceridwen used for the magic brew that was intended to endow her son, Avagddu, with supernatural knowledge but which was drunk instead by Gwion.

Vergil<sup>2</sup> (see Virgil)

Vergilia Roman
wife of Coriolanus, in some accounts
Others give her name as Volumnia.

Verginia Roman [Vergenia]
daughter of Verginius

She was betrothed to Icilius but Appius Claudius lusted after her and arranged for her to be declared a slave. Her father, to prevent her from being taken by Appius, stabbed her to death.

Verginius Roman
a centurion
father of Verginia

He was away from Rome with the army when he learned that his daughter, Verginia, had been declared a slave at the instigation of Appius Claudius who wanted her for himself. He hurried back to Rome and, when prevented by force from saving his daughter from the hands of Appius, stabbed her to death.

Vergulaht British
a king of Ascalun
brother of Antikonie

When he was asked by Percival to undertake the quest for the Holy Grail he gave the task to Gawain who was in love with his sister, Antikonie.

Verin (see Verrine<sup>1</sup>)

verjuice
a potion used by witches

This concoction is said to turn human beings into animals.

vermiculate

a witch's amulet

Vermilion Bird (see Feng<sup>1</sup>)

Vermilion Hills Chinese
the home of the bird Feng (the phoenix)

Verng Spanish
[=Catalan Berng;=Irish Bran]
a Majorcan god

Verona British
daughter of the king of Narsinga wife of Levander

She owned the carbuncle sought by Melora as one of the three items she had to obtain to secure the release of her lover, Orlando, from the spell put on him by Merlin. Verona and her father became friends with Melora and Verona gave Melora the stone. She married Levander who had accompanied Melora in the later part of her quest.

Veronica

[Verrine<sup>2</sup>]

the patron saint of drapers
She wiped Christ's face at the Crucifixion with a cloth that allegedly retained an imprint of his face.

In an alternative version, she is said to have asked St Luke to paint a portrait of Christ on a piece of cloth but, when she appeared dissatisfied with the result, Christ pressed the cloth to his face to produce a better likeness. The cloth is said to have effected miraculous cures.

In Arthurian lore, she appears as Verrine and cured Vespasian's leprosy with the cloth.

Verrier
a demon of disobedience

Verrine<sup>1</sup>
[Ver(r)in] a demon of impatience

Verrine<sup>2</sup> (see Veronica)

versacrum Roman
a dedication to the gods of the produce of spring

Verseria British
wife of Ferragunze

versipelle
a werewolf

versipellous
pertaining to lycanthropy

Verthandi (see Verdandi)

Vertumnus Roman [Vortumnus;=Etruscan Vultumna]
the god of fertility, fruit trees and gardens
husband of Pomona

He approached Pomona in many different guises before finally winning her love.

Vervacator Roman
a goddess of agriculture

vervain (see herba sacra)

Vesak Buddhist
the Sinhalese version of Wesak

Vesakha Buddhist
the Pali version of Wesak

Vesandar Cambodian [=Buddhist Vessantara;
=Hindu Vishvantara]

the Cambodian version of Vessantara

veshtitza (see veshititze)

veshtitze Serbian [sing=veshtitza]
female evil spirits

Vsva Slav
a goddess of spring

Vespasian British
a Roman emperor

In Arthurian lore, he released Joseph of Arimathea from a Jerusalem prison. Verrine cured him of leprosy by wiping his face with a cloth that bore Christ's image.

Vesper Roman
[Hesper;=Greek Hesperus]

Venus as the evening star

Vessantara Buddhist
[=Cambodian Vesandar; =Hindu Vishvantara]

an Indian prince son of Sanjaya
husband of Madri

His father banished him for giving away all his possessions but that did not stop him from giving his children to the mendicant, Jujaka. His father ransomed the children and lifted the ban on Vessantara.

He was regarded as the last incarnation of the Buddha before Siddhartha.

Vessantara-Jataka Buddhist
the story of Vessantara and Madri

Vessavana Hindu
the Pali version of Vaishravana

Vessels of Anger (see Vasa Iniquitatis)

Vesta Roman [=Greek Hestia]

the goddess of fire, the hearth, the household
one of the 5 Appiades

A sacred fire in her temple, brought from Troy by Aeneas, was never allowed to go out and was tended by the Vestal Virgins.

She is depicted with a bowl and a torch. (see also Fornax)

- Vestaera (see Vedenhaltija)
- Vestal Roman
[Vestal Virgin]
one of 6 maidens dedicated to the service of the goddess Vesta
Each maiden had to serve, tending the fire in the temple and keeping her virginity, for thirty years. Those who broke their vows were buried alive. It is said that only eighteen failed in this way in a thousand years.
- Vestal Virgin (see Vestal)
- Vestalia Roman
a festival for women, in honour of Vesta, held on 9th July
- Vestius Aloneius Roman
an ancient bull-god in Spain
- Vestri (see Westri)
- vetala Hindu
an evil spirit of graveyards
These beings, a later version of the pretas, are said to have hair standing on end and feet that point to the rear.
- Vetali Buddhist
a terrible goddess
one of the gauris
- Vetarani Jain
gods of the underworld
These beings torture the wicked dead by hurling them against rocks. Some say Vetarani is a realm of hell.
- Vetehinen Finnish
a demon living in the sea, attendant on the sea-god, Ahti
This being normally brings disease and bad luck but can be appeased to ensure good fishing.
- Vetis<sup>1</sup>
a demon sent to corrupt the holy
- Vetis<sup>2</sup> (see Veiovis)
- Vetru Slav
wind personified
- Vetter (see Vaettir)
- Veturia Roman
mother of Coriolanus, some say Others say her name was Volumnia.
- Viator-indefessus Norse
a name for Odin as unwearied traveller
- Vibenna (see Aulus.Caeles)
- Vibhandaka Hindu
king of the underworld
father of Rishya-Shringa
- Vibhishana Hindu
[Vibishana]
son of Vishravas by one of the rakshasis brother of Kumbhakarna and Ravana
He was made the immortal king of Ceylon for helping Rama in his battle with Ravana whom Vibhishana had failed to prevent from seizing Sita.
- Vibhu Hindu
[Vibhvan]
one of the 3 Ribhus
- Vibhvan (see Vibhu)
- Vibshana (see Vibhishana)
- Vica Pota Roman
a minor goddess of victory or, some say, of food and drink
- Vicchaycamaya South American
a name for Thunupa as 'preacher'
- Vichama South American [Wichama]
son of the sun-god in Peru half-brother of Pachacamac
The first woman was fertilised by the sun. Her first son was killed by the god Pachacamac who used the body to grow plants. When Pachacamac killed the woman as well, Vichama, her second son, drove him into the sea where he remained as a sea-god. Vichama then changed the race of people that Pachacamac had created from stones, replacing them with a new race hatched from three eggs.
- Vichitravirya Hindu
son of Shantanu and Satyavati half-brother of Bhisma husband of Ambalika and Ambika
He died before he had fathered any children and so the duty fell to his half-brother, Bhisma.
- victimarius Roman
an official who carried out the slaughter of those animals and humans brought for sacrifice
- Victoria Roman [=Greek Nike]
a goddess of victory
Her festival is held on 12th April.
- Victory-wafer (see Brunhild)
- Victrix (see Venus)
- Vidar Norse
[The Silent.Vidarr.Vidur.Vigar.Vitharr]
a war-god and god of silence son of Odin and Grid son of Loki and Sigyn, some say
His palace was known as Landvidi. He was destined to be one of the survivors of Ragnarok where he killed the wolf Fenris by placing his one large foot on the animal's lower jaw, grasping his upper jaw in his hands and tearing him apart.
He is depicted as having one foot much larger than the other.
- Vidarr (see Vidar)
- Videvdad (see Vendidad)
- Videvdat (see Vendidad)
- Vidfinner (see Ivald)
- Vidga Norse
the name for Wittich in Thidrekssaga
- Vidgorull Norse
a name for Odin as one who travels far
- Vidhatr Hindu
a god of death
- Vidiji Milanda African
an Angolan prince
He was bewitched as he lay asleep on a river-bank and could be wakened only by a maiden who wept eleven jugfuls of tears. Fenda Maria did this but foolishly gave one jugful to a slave-girl. Tired of crying, she asked the slave to weep the last jugful, which she did. She also claimed the sleeping prince, pretending to be Fenda Maria who then became her slave called Kamaria.
When the prince gave Kamaria the present she had asked for (a lamp which lit itself, a razor which sharpened itself, scissors which cut unaided and a stone which told the truth), the girl was able to prove that she was the real Fenda Maria and they married, burning the imposter in a barrel of tar.
- Vidolf Norse
[Vidolfus.Vitholf.Vitolfus]
a giant living in the woods an ancestor of witches and wizards (see also Vilmeth)
- Vidolfus (see Vidolf)
- Vidossava Serbian
wife of Momtchilo
She left her husband for Voukashin who then ambushed her husband. The nine brothers of Momtchilo were killed but he managed to escape, only to be killed later at the gates of his own castle. Dying, Momtchilo warned Voukashin not to trust Vidossava, so he had her torn apart by horses.
- Vidur (see Vidar)
- Vidya (see Prajna)
- Vidyadevi Jain
a group of 16 goddesses of knowledge
- Vidyadhara<sup>1</sup> Hindu
demi-gods
These beings, whose realm is between heaven and earth, can assume any shape they choose and sometimes marry mortals.
- Vidyadhara<sup>2</sup> (see Tadtikara)
- vidyadhari Hindu
[bijadhari.=Javanese widyadhari =Pacific bidadari]
a nymph
These beings live in the forests and rivers.

Vidyaraja	Buddhist	Vigneshava	Hindu	Vikhar	( see Vikhor)
[Raga-Vidyaraja:=Japanese Aizen-myoo]		[Vigneshvara]		Vikhor	Slav
a god of law: spirits of frightening appearance who defend the sacred lore of the faithful		a name of Ganesha as 'lord of obstacles'		[Vikhar]	the god of whirlwinds
Vidyarajni	Hindu	Vigneshvara	( see Vigneshava)	This being, in the form of an eagle- demon, is said to cause violent winds when he flies.
a name for Tara as Queen of Knowledge		Vignir	( see Vingnir)	Viking	Norse
Vidyeshvara	Hindu	vigona	Pacific Islands	grandson of Haloge husband of Hunvor father of Ring by Hunvor
a group of 8 goddesses aspects of Shiva		a term for a figona in the Solomon Islands		His mother, daughter of Haloge, was carried off by a warrior to Bornholm where Viking was born.
Vidyujvalakarili	Buddhist	Vigridr	Norse	He was given the magic sword, Angurvadel, by his father and killed the giant who was forcing his attentions on the princess Hunvor. Too young to marry the maiden, he set off in search of great adventures, accompanied by his friend Halfdan.
a goddess a form of Ekajata		[Vigridr.Vigrithr]		He later rescued Hunvor who had been abducted to India and married her but she died at an early age and Viking put their son, Ring, into the care of a foster-father and married again, fathering nine sons. A quarrel arose between them and the nine sons of Niorfe and one of the latter was killed. Viking banished his offending son, whereupon the other eight decided to go with him into exile. Viking gave his sword, Angurvadel, to the eldest son, Thorsten, and they all went off to an island in Lake Werner. Here they were attacked by Niorfe's remaining sons and only two on each side survived the battle. Viking sent his two surviving sons, Thorsten and Thorer, to stay with his friend Halfdan.
She is said to have been created from the sweat of the Buddha and is depicted as black with bared fangs, twelve heads and twenty-four arms.		a plain, the site of the final battle (Ragnarok) when the gods are defeated	( see Vigridr)	He was once able to render a service to the sea-god, Aegir, and had been rewarded with the gift of a magic ship, Ellida , which was stolen from him but later recovered by his son Thorsten.
Vidyutkumara	Jain	Vigrithr	( see Vigridr)	Vikrama	Hindu
a minor god one of the 10 Bhavanavasi		Vihansa	German	[Vikramaditya]	a god of the light of the morning a 4th c king
Vienna Codex		a minor deity		He acquired great knowledge from a wise priest who was, in fact, the god Vishnu who taught him also how to change his shape by transferring his soul to a dead body. Vikrama then changed himself into a bird and flew to the the home of the princess Malayavati who slept in a pomegranate. He brought the fruit back, resumed his normal shape and,
( see Codex Vindobonsis)		Vihara	Buddhist
Viga-Glums Saga	Norse	[=Burmese Kyoung]
the story of Glum, his dispute with Thorkel and his dreams		a monastery
Vigar	( see Vidar)	Vihio	( see Veeho)
Vigara	African	Vii	Serbian
first husband of Nyavirezi		a god of lightning
Vibhu	Hindu	His eyelids are so heavy that a pitchfork is needed to raise them. He can incinerate men and whole cities with his fiery glance.
father of Nyavirungu		Vijaya<sup>1</sup>	Hindu
When he discovered that his wife could become a lioness, she killed and ate him.		a god one of the Ekadasarudras
Vighnantaka	Buddhist	Vijaya<sup>2</sup>	Hindu
[Vignari:=Hindu Ganesha]		a goddess an aspect of Parvati as 'victorious' wife of Sahadeva
a door-god an aspect of Akshobhya		Vijaya<sup>3</sup>	Hindu
Viglund	Norse	a prince husband of Kuvanna father of Pulinda and Pulindi
[Viglundr]		A yakshi in the form of a bitch put a spell on the prince's men and then turned into a lovely maiden. Her name was Kuvanna and Vijaya married her as the price of saving his followers. He later became king of the yakshas.
son of Thorgrim and Olof brother of Trausti husband of Ketelrid		Vijaya<sup>4</sup>	Hindu
He fell in love with Ketelrid but her parents had promised her to a rich merchant called Hakon who, with Ketelrid's brothers, ambushed Viglund and his brother Trausti, after which these two brothers went overseas. When they returned to Iceland, Ketelrid was married to a farmer called Ketill but it turned out that this was an arranged marriage to protect Ketelrid who was finally allowed to marry Viglund.		the bow or spear of Indra
Viglundar Saga	Norse	Vijaya sabti	Buddhist
the story of Viglund and his family		a goddess, guardian of the door of the east
Viglundr	( see Viglund)	Vikarr	Norse
Vignari	( see Vighnantaka)	a Viking king
		When he was chosen as a sacrifice to Odin to ensure favourable winds, he tried to deceive the god with a symbolic execution, but the entrails he had placed round his neck turned into ropes and he was hanged.
		Vikalaratri	Buddhist
		a goddess attendant on Buddhakapala

when the princess emerged, made her his wife.

Vikramaditya (see Vikrama)

vila European

[samovily.veela.wile.willi:plur=vile.vily:
=Norse Volva]

a Serbian water-sprite

These beings are envisaged as beautiful girls with fair, flowing hair, who are the spirits of the unbaptised dead.

Other stories say that they are the spirits of betrothed maidens who died before they were married. In this form, they are said to roam at night, forcing young men to dance with them until they drop dead from exhaustion.

It was said that they sometimes appeared in the form of swans.

(see veela.vele.velnias)

Vilcinus Norse

husband of Watchilt father of Badi

vile (see vila)

Vili Norse

[Wili]
son of Bor and Bestla

He helped his brothers Odin and Ve kill the Frost Giant, Ymir, from whose body they built the world.

(see also Hoenir)

Vilino Kollo Serbian

[Vrzino Kollo]
dance-rings of the veela

Vilkakis (see Vilkakis)

Vilkakis Baltic

[Vilkakis:=Lithuanian Vilkatas:
=Slav Vilkodlak]
a Latvian werewolf

Vilkatas Baltic

[=Latvian Vilkakis:=Slav Vilkodlak] a Lithuanian werewolf

vilkolakis Baltic

a Lithuanian wolf-spirit

Ville au Camp West Indian

an underwater city, home of the Haitian voodoo spirits

Villians the Valiant British

a Knight of the Round Table
After the death of King Arthur, he joined Lancelot, Bedivere and the other knights in a hermitage.

Vilmeth Norse

an ancestor of witches and wizards (see also Vidolf)

Vilmund Norse

[Vilmundr]
a hero

He lived with his parents in a remote area and knew no other people. One day, he heard a voice from behind a rock declare that the owner of the shoe, which Vilmund had just found, would marry only the man who returned it to her.

Vilmund then set off to explore the world and came to a kingdom ruled by King Visivald and, after defeating the king's son Hjarandi in a wrestling match, became his friend. He joined forces with Hjarandi to destroy the army of a suitor for the hand of Hjarandi's half-sister, Gullbra, and then they killed Kolr who had married Soley, Gullbra's sister. In fact, the girl Kolr had married was a servant-girl substituted for Soley who had disappeared. Her father believed that Vilmund had killed her and banished him. To prove his innocence, Vilmund returned to the rock, handed over the shoe to Soley who was living there and took her back to her father's palace.

Vilmundar Saga Norse

the story of Vilmund and Soley

Vilmundr (see Vilmund)

vily (see vila)

Vimala Buddhist

a goddess
one of the bhumis

Vimana Hindu

the chariot of the gods

Vimur Norse

in some accounts, one of the 12 rivers known as Elivagar

Vina Buddhist

a goddess of music

Vinalia Roman

a wine festival in honour of Bacchus or Jupiter, held on 23rd April

Vinata Hindu

daughter of Daksha
sister of Kadru, some say a consort of Kasyapa mother of Aruna and Garuda mother of all birds

Her sister, Kadru, another wife of Kasyapa, bore a thousand snake-children (nagas) while Vinata had only two children – Aruna and Garuda. She quarrelled with Kadru and was imprisoned in the underworld. Garuda secured her release by providing the ransom demanded – amrita in one story, the moon itself to illuminate the gloomy underworld in another.

In some versions, they argued over the colour of Surya's horses and Kadru won by cheating, having the nagas spit all over these animals, making them appear darker. As a result of losing, Vinata became Kadru's slave rather than being imprisoned in the underworld but the ransom was still the same – amrita, stolen from heaven by Garuda who killed the children of Kadru. It was as a result of this episode that Garuda became the implacable enemy of all snakes.

Vinaya Pitaka Hindu

[Book of Sermons]
the rules of Buddhism, part of the Tripitaka

Vinayaka Japanese

son of Maheshvara and Uma brother of Sannayaka

He was a very violent character but reformed when he married his sister, Sannayaka.

Their embracing figures are depicted in the form of Kwangiden.

In some accounts he is a Buddhist demon and is depicted as having the head of an elephant, often dancing on a rat.

Vindalfr Norse

one of the dwarfs

Vindhjalsmbr (see Bifrost)

Vindhya<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a mountain

This mountain, in its efforts to grow higher than Mount Meru, threatened to block out the light of the sun. Agastya, at the request of the gods, put a stop to its growth. He merely asked the mountain to pause for a while until Agastya returned – which he never did. (see also Vindhya<sup>2</sup>)

Vindhya<sup>2</sup> Hindu

a mountain-god (see also Vindhya<sup>1</sup>)

Vindhya-Vasini Hindu

an evil aspect of Parvati

Vindhyavali Hindu

wife of Bali, king of Sutala

Vindlir (see Heimdall)

Vindonnus Celtic

[=Irish Find]
a Gaulish deity, wisdom personified

Vindsual Norse

[Vindsval]
an early god
son of Vasud

Vindsval (see Vindsual)

Vine<sup>1</sup>

a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be able to build impregnable towers and can impart knowledge of the past and the future. He is often depicted as a lion on a black horse.

vine<sup>2</sup>

the tree of Bacchus

Vingnir Norse

[Vignir] husband of Flora
foster-father of Thor

Vingolf Norse

a palace, the home of the goddesses
in Asgard

Vingskornir Norse

the home of Brunhild

Vingthor Norse

a name taken by Thor in honour of his foster-father, Vingnir

Vinmara Pacific Islands

a celestial being of the New Hebrides wife of Tagaro

She is said to have flown down from heaven with her sisters to bathe.
Tagaro hid her wings so that she could not leave and she stayed on earth and married him. When she later found her wings, she left him and flew back to heaven.

Viofn Norse

[Vjofn.Vjofr]
a goddess, attendant on Frigga
Her function was to maintain peace among mankind.

Vipascit Hindu

a sage who spent a short time in hell

He refused to leave the realm of Yima until he had relieved the suffering of the inmates. When he left he was transported to heaven.

Vipassin Buddhist

[Vipasyin]
in some accounts, the first Buddha
one of the 7 manushibuddhas
(see also Dipankara')

Vipasyin (see Vipassin)

vikper Mesopotamian

one of the Eleven Mighty Helpers
created by Tiamat

vir-ava Russian

a Mordvin tutelary spirit, guardian of woodlands

Vira-Bhadra (see Virabhadra)

Virabhadra Hindu

[Bhadra Vira.Tokay.Vira-Bhadra.Zapala]
a form of Shiva

Shiva, angry at being excluded from a sacrificial rite, created the monster of destruction known as Virabhadra which had 1,000 arms and legs, 1,000 fiery eyes and tusks projecting from its sides. This demon knocked out Bhaga's eyes and Pushan's teeth, cut off
Agni's hands and decapitated Daksha.

Viracocha South American

[Arunaua.(Con) Ticci Viracocha.
Huiracocha.Illa(-Tiki).Kon-Tiki.

Tici.Tuapaca.Vairacocha.Wiracocha:

=Inca Thunupa]
an ancient Peruvian creator-god, storm-god and sun-god, recognised by the Incas

son of Inti, some say husband of Mama Cocha

He is said to have emerged from Lake
Titicaca or from the Pacari cave.

He destroyed in a flood the humans created by an earlier god, or by his own unsuccessful efforts, and made new races appropriate to their environment, travelling amongst them, teaching them the basic skills.
He finally disappeared over the Pacific, walking on the water.

In another version he is said to have emerged from the cave, Pacari, with Ayar Manco and Pachacamac. In this version they were all sons of Inti.

He is depicted as crowned with the sun and holding thunderbolts.

Some writers regard Viracocha as a generic name for sacred beings rather than the name of a specific deity.

(see also Taripaca.Tocay)

Virada (see Viradha)

Viradha Hindu

[Tumburu.Virada]

a rakshasa

son of Kala and Shatahrada

A terryfying, man-eating monster the size of a mountain, he attacked Rama and Lakshmana who, failing to kill him with arrows or clubs, buried him alive. Soon after, a Gandharva appeared from the place where Viradha had been buried. His name was Tumburu and he had been cursed by Kubera who had turned him into the monster, Viradha.

Viraf Persian

a writer said to have had a vision of heaven and hell

In his vision, Sraosha conducted him across the Chinvat Bridge to heaven.
He was also shown purgatory and travelled through all the ascending spheres until he met Ahura Mazda in the highest realm. After that he was given a conducted tour of hell and saw souls in torment.

Viraj Hindu

a creator-god
son of Brahma and Shatarupa
father of Purusha

An alternative rendering says that Viraj is a primaevial goddess, the female creative principle, formed when Purusha split into two parts, male and female, while others say that Brahma split into the male, Viraj, and the female, Shatarupa.

Virankannos Baltic

a Finnish cat-god

Viraratri (see Chinnamasta)

Viratapurusu (see Vishvarupa)

Virava Baltic

[Tava-ajik]

a Finnish goddess of the woods

She can appear either as an animal, a flame or a whirlwind. (see also Tapio)

Virbius

Roman

a minor woodland god

In some stories, Hippolytus, the son of Theseus, was brought back to life by Asclepius and then became an immortal in Italy, worshipped as Virbius.

In some accounts he was a Roman
sun-god.

(see also King of the Wood)

virga medicinus Roman

a variation on the caduceus

In this version, the snake wound round the wand gazes into a mirror mounted on the top and is able to fortell the future. (see also aurea virga)

Virgil Roman

[Publius Vergilius Maro.Vergil]

(70-19 BC)

a poet

He wrote the Aeneid, a story in two volumes, about the wanderings of Aeneas after the fall of Troy and the early history of Rome.

Virgin (see Virgo)

Virgin Lady (see Ninhursaga.Ninsikil)

Virginal German

an ice-queen

When she was seized by the magician, Ortgis, her protector, Bibing, went to Dietrich for help. Dietrich killed Ortgis, routed the forces besieging Virginal's castle and married her.

Some say that she yearned for her home in the icy mountains and soon left Dietrich who lived in the green countryside.

Another version says that Dietrich and Hildebrand came across a weeping maiden who was due to be part of an annual tribute paid by the queen, Virginal, to the heathen Ortgis.
Hildebrand killed Ortgis and the two heroes set off for Virginal's castle in the mountains. Dietrich, who somehow got separated from his companion, ended up imprisoned by Nitger in Castle Muter, but Hildebrand

led a force to free him, killing many giants, led by Wicram, in the process.

Virgins of Helicon Greek

the name given to the Muses in Spenser's works

Virgins of the Sun<sup>1</sup> South American

the maidens who attended the fires in the temple of the sun-god, Inti, or acted as concubines of Sapa Inca, son of the Sun

Virgins of the Sun<sup>2</sup> South American

the female members of the Children of the Sun

Virgins of the Waves Finnish

sea-nymphs

Virgir Norse

[Veigur]

a dwarf, one of the Lovar

Virgin

[Virgin:=Arab Sumbula]

the sixth sign of the Zodiac, the virgin

Vi-rochana Hindu

a demon

son of Prahlava

father of Bali and Kalanemi, some say

Virtus Roman

a god of military might, the personification of male vigour

Virudhaka Buddhist

the Buddhist version of the Hindu

Virudka

Virudka Hindu

[=Buddhist Virudhaka:=Cambodian

Virulak:=Chinese Tseng Chang:

=Japanese Komoku:=Pali Virulha:

=Taoist Mo-li Hung:

=Tibetan Phags-skyes-po.sGrul-'bum]

a guardian spirit of the south

one of the Dikpalas

king of the Kumbhandas

Virula Hindu

the Pali version of Virudka

Virulak

[=Buddhist Virudhaka]

a Lukabal

guardian of the south

ruler of the blue tevodas, the

Kampean

Virulappak Cambodian

a Lukabal

guardian of the west

ruler of the Kruths and Nagas

Virupa Hindu

a fire-priest

Virupaksa (see Virupaksha)

Virupaksha<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Virupaksa:=Chinese Kuang Mu:

=Japanese Zocho:=Taoist Mo-li Hai:

=Tibetan Klu.Mig-mi-bzang-Klu]

a snake-god

one of the Dikpalas

He was responsible for guarding the western region.

Virupaksha<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Virupaksa]

a god

one of the ekadasarudras

a name of Shiva

Virvir Norse

one of the dwarfs

Virya Buddhist

[Viryaparamita]

one of the 12 Paramita goddesses,

strength of character personified

Viryaparamita (see Virya)

vis<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

a vampire

These demons are said to have long nails which they use to tear out the eyes of their victims.

Vis<sup>2</sup> South American

an earth-deity in pre-Inca Peru

Visakha Hindu

son of Skanda

Visapaklal (see Vasapaklal)

visha Hindu

a poison

This was the fourteenth and last thing to emerge at the Churning of the Ocean.

The Nagas seized this poison which became the venom of cobras, though others say that Shiva swallowed this poison to save mankind and holds it in his throat.

Vishadhari (see Manasa)

Vishap (see Azhi Dahak)

Vishapa (see Azhi Dahak)

Vishapaharana (see Shiva)

Vishnu Hindu

[Abjaja.Abjayoni.Achyuta.Acyata.

Adhoksaja.Adimurti.Ananta.

Anatas(h)ayana.Annamurti.Bhumiya.

Caturmurti.Dakshina.Dhanvantari.

Dharma.Dhruva.Erlanga.Girija.hamsa.

Hanuman.Hayagriva.Hrsikesa.Ishvara.

Jala-Shayin.Janardana.Kala.Kesava.

Lord Creator.Lord of Sacred Wisdom.

Lord of the Universe.Mahadeva.

Mahapurusha.Maharaja.

Mandhatha.Manmatha.Mohini.Mukunda.

Narada.Narasinha.Narayana.

Padma(-Nabha). 'pervader'.

Panchayudha.Pandurganga.

Piyusaharana.Pradyumna.Primaeval

Being.Pr(i)thu.Rsabha.Salagrama.

S(h)amba.Trivikrama.Vasu.Venkata.

Visnu.Viratapurusa.Vis(h)varupa.

Vithoba.Vitthali.Vyasa.Wishnu.World

Maintainer.Yajna.Yajnes(h)h(var)a:

=Buddhist Akshobhya:=Cambodian

Hari.Harihara.Prah Noreai-Narayana:

=Chinese Wu-shun:=Japanese Ashuku:

=Japanese Kresna.Sadana.Sadona:

=Pacific Islands Poe Mpalaburu.

Wisnu:=Thai Narayana.Phra Narai]

god the preserver

son of Aditi

husband of Bhumadevi, Ganga,

Lakshmi and Saraswati

As a preserver of life, he intervenes as an avatar whenever evil becomes dominant, making it hard for men to progress upwards. In this capacity, he has ten incarnations:

1. Matsya, a fish

2. Kurma, a tortoise

3. Varaha or Keseva, a boar

4. Narasinha, a man/lion

5. Vamana, a dwarf

6. Parashurama, son of a hermit

7. Rama (Ramachandra), a mortal

8. Krishna (or Balarama)

9. Buddha

with the tenth, as Kalki, a white horse, yet to come. Some say Krishna is a god in his own right and that the eighth incarnation was as Balarama.

Lakshmi appeared in each of his incarnations and married him. There are also said to be between sixteen and thirty-nine minor avatars (amsavartas).

He gave his wife Ganga to Shiva and Saraswati to Brahma when he found that three wives were more than he could cope with.

His weapons are the sword

Handaka, the bow Sarnga and the discus and he is transported by the sunbird, Garuda.

He is generally depicted as a handsome, dark blue youth with four hands in which he holds a club, a discus, a lotus blossom and a shell but is sometimes shown in a combined form with Shiva on the right and Vishnu on the left. They combined thus to defeat the demon Guha since neither could defeat him single-handed.

(see also Jagannath)

Vishnu-Chaturbhuj Hindu

a version of Vishnu with 4 arms

Vishnu Sahasranaman Hindu

the 1,000 names of Vishnu

Vishnu Trivikrama Hindu

the name of Vishnu when, as his fifth avatar Vamana, he changed from dwarf to giant

Vishravas Hindu

[Visravas]

son of Pulashtya

husband of Ilavida
 father of Kubera by Idavida father of Kumbhakarna, Ravana and Vibhishana by a rakshashi

Vishtaspa Persian

[Gushtaspa.Hystaspas]
 a fertility lord
 a prince who protected Zoroaster
 brother of Zariadres

Later, as king, he became Zoroaster's first convert and fought several battles with Arejataspa who tried to suppress the new religion.

Vishvabhu Buddhist

one of the 7 manushibuddhas

Vishvakarma Hindu

[Takshaka.Vis(h)vakarman.
 Visvakarman.Viswakarma]
 a creator-god and god of artisans an aspect of Brahma, Indra or Prajapati
 son of Bhuvana and Yogasiddha father of Sanjna

The brilliance of Surya the sun-god was too overpowering for his wife, Sanjna, so her father shaved away some of his power on a lathe. He used the shavings to make Visnu's discus, Shiva's trident, and, some say, the elephant Airavata. He is said to have established the art and science of architecture, built chariots for the gods, a hall for Yudhishtira, and the city of Chandrapura and created the monkey-king, Nala. He is also credited with the creation of Jagannath when he attempted to put new flesh on the bones of the dead Vishnu and was interrupted by Krishna so that the job was never completed, leaving the deformed version.

In some versions, this is a later name for Tvashtri. Others say he was Tvashtri's son-in-law.

Vishvakarman (see Vishvakarma)

Vishvamisra<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

a sage, teacher of Shakyamuni

Vishvamisra<sup>2</sup> Hindu

[Prajapati.Visvamisra.Viswamisra]

a sage
 one of the Seven Rishis
 son of Gadhi
 father of Shakuntala by Menaka

He was once seduced by a nymph, Menaka, who bore a daughter named Shakuntala, and also by the nymph Rambha, and then did penance, living as an ascetic for 100 years in the Himalayas. He caused a demon to possess Kalmashapada so that he ate the 100 sons of Vashishtha, his great rival. He was involved in a feud with Vashishtha (or Kamadhenu) over the ownership of the cow Nandini which he had tried to steal. In the battle over the cow, he was defeated and his 100 sons were killed by the fiery glance of Vashishtha with whom he was finally reconciled.

Vishvanatha Hindu
 a name for Shiva as 'lord of all things'

Vishvantara Hindu

the Hindu version of Vessantara

Vishvapani Buddhist

[Visvapani]
 one of the 5 Dhyani-bodhisattvas of Mahayana Buddhism
 an aspect of Amoghasiddhi

Vishvarupa Hindu

[Viratapurusa.Visvarupa]
 a serpent-god
 an incarnation of Vishnu, some say
 son of Tvashtri

This three-headed being was slain by Indra and his father then created a demon, Vritra, to avenge his death.

Vision of Mac Conglinne
(see Aislinge meic Conglinne)

Vision Serpent Central American

a Mayan creation spirit

This being is sometimes depicted as spitting out gods or kings.

Visit of Grey Ham Irish

a book of legends, including the story of Ailleann, the woman of the Otherworld

visitant

a supernatural visitor: a spirit

visitation

a divine dispensation: a visit from a god: the appearance of a ghost

Visivald Norse

a king
 father of Gullbra, Hjarandi and Soley

Visnu (see Vishnu)

Vispa-Taurvairi Mesopotamian

mother, by a virgin birth, of Saoshyant

Vispala Hindu

an early deity

When his leg was cut off in battle, it was replaced with one made of iron.

Visparad (see Visperad)

Vispati (see Grahapati)

Visperad Persian

[Visparad.Vispered]
 the second part of the Avesta: a liturgy in the Avesta

Vispered (see Visperad)

Visra-vajra Buddhist

an emblem, in the form of crossed thunderbolts, held by some statues

Visravas (see Vishravas)

Vistauru Persian

a hero who attacked idolaters

It was said that once, when he was pursued by enemies, a river dried up to allow him to cross and so escape.

Visu Japanese

a woodman

He and his family were witnesses to the creation of Mount Fuji which took place in a single night. He later left his family and climbed the mountain where he saw two ladies playing go.
 For what seemed like one summer afternoon, he watched them play but, when he disturbed them, they turned into foxes and ran off. He discovered then that he had grown very old and, when he returned to his own lands, all sign of his house and family had long since disappeared – he had been away for 300 years.

Visvadakini Buddhist

a spirit of air

Visvakarma (see Vishvakarma)

Visvakarman (see Vishvakarma)

Visvamitra (see Vishvamitra)

Vishvapani (see Vishvapani)

Visvarupa (see Vishvarupa)

Visvavasu Hindu

one of the Gandharvas father of Yama by a water-
 nymph

Visvedeva Hindu

one of a group of minor deities: a type of Gana

Visvosnisa Buddhist

a god
 one of the Ushnishas

Viswakarma (see Vishvakarma)

Viswamisra (see Vishvamitra)

Vita Merlini British

the 12th c life story of Merlin, written in Latin by Geoffrey of Monmouth

Vitala Hindu

one of the 7 realms of Patala

Vith Norse

a river in Niflheim, one of the 12 rivers known as Elivagar

Vithafnir (see Gullinkambi)

Vithafnir (see Gullinkambi)

Vitharr (see Vidar)

Vithi Norse

the realm of Vidar

Vithoba (see Vitthali)

Vithofnir (see Gullinkambi)

Vitholf (see Vidolf)

Vithur Norse

one of the dwarfs

Viticus (see Mars)

vitkar Norse [seidberendr] male wizards

Vitolfus (see Vidolf)

Vitra (see Vritra)

Vitthali Hindu
[Pandurganga.Vithoba]
a god
an incarnation of Vishnu

Vitu Pacific Islands
the first woman, in the lore of Fiji

Vitza-kuguza Baltic
a Finnish spirit of the cattleyard

Vitza-kuva Baltic
a female version of Vitza-kuguzu

Vitzillopochtli (see Huizilopochtli)

Vivahvant Persian [Vivanghvant:=Hindu Vivasvat]
a sun-god
father of Jamahid or Yima and Yimeh

Vivanghvant (see Vivahvant)

Vivar, Rodrigo (see Bivar)

Vivasvan (see Vivasvat)

Vivasvant (see Vivasvat)

Vivasvat Hindu
[Marttanda.Vivasvan(t): =PersianVivahvant]
god of the rising sun, assimilated into Surya
one of the Adityas
son of Kasyapa
brother of Surya, some say husband of Saranyu father of the twin Aswins, Vaivasvata, Yama and Yami father of Manu, some say
He is the Vedic version of the Hindu Surya and was originally known as Marttanda, a son of Aditi. He later served as charioteer to his brother, Surya, though other accounts equate him with Surya. (see also Marttanda)

Vivenna (see Aulus.Caeles)

Vivian (see Nimue)

Viviane (see Nimue)

Vivien<sup>1</sup> European
son of Garin
At the age of seven, he was handed to the Saracens in exchange for his father who had been captured by them some time before. A band of pirates saved him from death at the stake and sold him to the wife of the merchant, Godfrey, who raised him as their own son.
As a young man, he led a train of wagons to the city where he had been held captive and, en route, defeated a pirate crew and took their treasure and arms. Equipping his men with weapons taken from the ship, he attacked the infidel's city and captured it. They were then besieged by the Saracens but rescued by a force led by his uncle, Guillaume, and Vivien was reunited with his real father, Garin.

After being knighted by Guillaume, he led a small force against the Saracens to avenge the death at Roncesvalles of his kinsman, Roland, but the leader of the Saracens called for reinforcements and assembled a huge army, overwhelming Vivien's force. His cousin, Girard, broke through the enemy lines to seek help and Guillaume came with an army to help out. The odds were still too great and many of the Franks died in the battle. Vivien himself died of his wounds and Guillaume barely escaped with his life.

Vivien<sup>2</sup> European

son of Beuve
twin brother of Maugis
He was captured at birth by the Saracens but his twin was saved by the fairy Oriande whose brother, Baudris, taught the young Maugis the art of magic.

As a young man, Vivien had an affair with Esclarmonde, wife of the king Sorgalant, and fled with her when the king found out, joining the expedition of another king, Antenor, who was trying to win Oriande for his wife. Vivien met Maugis in single combat but the fight ended when they recognised each other and they set out together to find their parents.

Vivien<sup>3</sup> (see Nimue)

Vivienne (see Nimue)

Vivionn (see Bebhionn)

Vixen-goddess (see Inari)

Vjedogonja Slav

[Zduh(acz)
the soul

It is said that the soul can leave the body in the form of a small insect or bird.

Vjeshitza Slav

an ogrish succubus

Vjofn (see Viofn)

Vjofr (see Viofn)

Vlad the Impaler (see Dracula)

Vlah-Ali Serbian

a Turkish rebel
He abducted the wife of Banovitch but the Serb killed him after a tremendous fight and rescued her.

Vlas Russian

[Blasius.Velesu.Vlasy:

=Lithuanian Ganyklos:=Slav Volos]

the god of domestic cattle

Vlasy (see Vlas)

Vlasta Slav

a warrior-maid, leader of the Amazons

Vlkodlaks Slav

[Volkun.Vookodlaks.Vrkolak.Vukodlak:

=Lithuanian valkakis]

a werewolf: an evil spirit

Children who are born with teeth or are delivered feet first are said to develop into Vlkodlaks who, it is said, attack various animals and are the cause of eclipses.

Voc Central American

a huge bird, messenger of the god

Hurakan

Voden (see Odin.Woden)

Vodnik Slav

[=Russian Vodyanik]

a water-spirit or demon

These beings are said to be the spirits of unbaptised children who have drowned.

Vodnipanny Slav

[Bile-panny]

a water-nymph

vodou (see Vodun.voodoo)

vodu (see vodun)

Vodun<sup>1</sup> African

[hun:plur=vodu:=Ashanti Obosum:

=Ibo Aloze:=Congo Nkisi:

=Yoruba Orisha]

a deity of the Fon: a group of minor deities

vodun<sup>2</sup> West Indian [voodoo]

a fetish used by snake-worshippers

vodunsi<sup>1</sup> African

a worshipper of the gods of Dahomey

vodunsi<sup>2</sup> South American

a worshipper of the voodoo gods

derived from African deities

Vodyanik Russian

[plur=Vodyanoi:=Finnish Cacce-haldd:

=Lapp Kul]

a male water-spirit

a type of Karliki

These beings can take many different forms, overturning fishermen's boats and drowning swimmers. They often live in millponds. They use the souls of the drowned as servants on the bottom and allow the dead bodies to float to the surface. They can be propitiated by the sacrifice of a black pig.

In some accounts, their youth is restored with the phases of the moon; in others they may be depicted as fat old men wearing a cap of reeds.

(see also Rusalka)

Vodyanoi (see Vodyanik) water spirits

Vodyz (see Vorsud)

Vofionus Italian
an ancient Umbrian deity

Vohu Fryana Persian
one of the 5 types of sacred fire

This type is the one that keeps warm the bodies of animals and humans.

(see also Bahram fire)

Vohu Manah Persian
[Bahman. 'good thought'. Vahman]

one of the 7 Amesha Spentas an aspect of Ahura Mazda as 'wisdom',

This being is said to be in charge of animals and records the deeds of men. He was opposed by the demon Akah Manah.

Voil
an angel, ruler of the Zodiacal sign
Virgo, the virgin

Voinovitch<sup>1</sup> Serbian
[Petrashin Voinovitch]
brother of Milosh and Voukashin
nephew of Doushan

Voinovitch<sup>2</sup> Serbian
[Voukashin Voinovitch]
brother of Milosh and Petrashin
nephew of Doushan

Voinovitch<sup>3</sup> (see Milosh<sup>1</sup>)

Vol Norse
[Phol]
a fertility god
consort of Volla (see also Volla)

Vola<sup>1</sup> (see Fulla)

vola<sup>2</sup> (see vala<sup>2</sup>)

Voland (see Volund)

Volcanalia (see Vulcanalia)

Volcanis (see Vulcanatis)

Volcanus (see Vulcan)

Volcano Woman (see Dzelarhons.
Neegyauks)

Volga (see Volkh)

Voli Norse
another version of Vali

In this version, Bildr (Balder) is a rival of Hromund for the hand of Svanhit. He killed both Bildr and Voli with the magic sword Mistellteimm.

Volkanus (see Vulcan)

Volker<sup>1</sup> German
a minstrel at Gunther's court

Volker<sup>2</sup> Norse
a wind-deity

Volkh Russian [Volga]
a hero of Kiev, one of the Bogatiri

Volkh was a shape-changer with superhuman strength who often appeared as an animal or a bird. He is said to have saved the city from the invading King of India.

volkun (see vlkodlak)

Volla Norse

a goddess
sister of Fruwa
consort of Vol

In some accounts she is Fulla. Others say Vol is her alternative name.

(see also Fulla)

Vollmar (see Gollemar)

Volos Slav

[Veles(u).Volusu.Vyeles.=Czech Veles: =Lithuanian Ganyklos.=Russian Vlas(sy)]
a wolf-headed god of domestic animals and the underworld

Volscens Roman

leader of a troop of Rutilians
It is said that when Euryalus and Nisus tried to break through the mass of enemy lines to take a message to Aeneas, they were spotted by a troop led by Volscens who killed them both but was himself killed by Euryalus at the same time.

Volsung Norse

[Volsungr] grandson of Odin
son of King Rerir father of a daughter, Signy, and of Sigmund and 9 other sons

When his father, Rerir, bemoaned the lack of offspring, Frigga sent her messenger, Gna, to drop an apple from the sky. When Rerir's wife ate the apple she gave birth to Volsung after a seven-year pregnancy. The boy's parents died soon after he was born and he became ruler of Hunaland as a child.

His palace had a huge oak, Branstock, into which Odin thrust the sword Gram, growing up through the roof.

His daughter, Signy, married Siggeir, king of the Goths, and, shortly after the wedding, he and his sons paid a visit to Siggeir's country. They were ambushed by the Goths and Volsung was killed.

Volsung Cycle (see Volsungasaga)

Volsungasaga Norse

[Volsung Cycle]
the 13th c epic story of the Volsung family from which the Nibelungenlied and other stories are derived

Volsungr (see Volsung)

Voltumna Roman

[Voltumnia.Volturna.=Roman Vertumnus]

an Etruscan goddess of vegetation and the south-east wind

Voltumnia (see Voltumna)

Volturna (see Voltumna)

Volturnus<sup>1</sup> Roman

[Vulturus.=Greek Caicias.Eurus]
the east wind

Volturnus<sup>2</sup> (see Tiberinus)

Volumna Roman

a goddess of infants

Volumnia Roman

mother of Coriolanus, in some accounts, in others, his wife (see also Vergilia.Veturia)

Volund Norse

[Foland.Phaland.Vallant.Velint.Voland.
Volundr.Volunthr.Wise Elf.Woland:

=British Wayland.=French Galand:

=German Wieland]

king of the Elves

a blacksmith

son of Badi

brother of Egil and Slagfinn husband of Alvit

father of Heime, in some accounts

It is said that when the three swan-maidens, Alvit, Orlun and Svanhvit, flew to earth to bathe, they left their wings on the shore and Volund and his brothers seized the wings and kept the maidens as their wives for nine years until they recovered their wings and flew away. Alvit had given Volund a ring and, instead of going on a fruitless search for her, he occupied himself with making 700 copies of this ring.

He was captured by Nidud who accused him of theft and cut the sinews of Volund's legs, forcing him to work ceaselessly making ornaments and weapons. Volund killed the two sons of Nidud and sent their heads, decorated with precious metals and stones, to their father. He also put Nidud's daughter, Bodwild, into a trance and raped her then, using wings that he had made himself, flew to Alfheim where he was reunited with Alvit. There, he carried on his trade as smith, forging many wonderful weapons including the swords Miming for his son Heime, Balmung for Sigmund, Joyeuse for Charlemagne and, some say, Excalibur for King Arthur.

In the Germanic stories, his son was Wittich and his brother was Amelias. (see also Thiassi)

Volundarhaus Norse

a labyrinth

Volund was forced to build this maze when he was held captive by Nidud.

Volundarkvida Norse

[Lay of Volund]

a poem in the Elder Edda, the tale of Volund and his exploits

Volundr (see Volund)

Volunthr (see Volund)

Volupta Roman

[Joy.Voluptas]

the goddess of pleasure

daughter of Cupid and Psyche

Voluptas (see Volupta)

volur (see spadisir)

Voluspa Norse

[Wise Woman's Prophecy]

an epic poem in the Elder Edda

dealing with prophecies of the doom of the gods

In some accounts, these prophecies were made by a vala, Haid or by Volva.

Volusu (see Volos)

Volva<sup>1</sup> Norse

[=European Veela.Vila]

a fate goddess

a prophetess

The prophecies of Volva (or of Haid, one of the vala) are the subject of the Voluspa.

In one version of Balder's dream, Odin rode to Niflheim to consult Volva who told him that Balder would be killed by his own brother.

In some accounts, she is called Gollveig. (see also vala)

volva<sup>2</sup> (see spadisir.vala)

Von Norse

a river of blood

When Fenris was bound to a rock and opened his jaws to howl, the gods thrust in a sword. The subsequent rush of blood formed this large river.

voodoo West Indian

[voodoo.vaudou(x).vodu.

voodooism.voudou]

black magic of the West Indies: a religion imported from Africa with the transport of slaves

(see also hoodoo)

voodooism (see voodoo)

Vook Serbian

a zmay

When Lazar found that his wife, Militza, was being seduced by another zmay, he employed Vook who flew after the seducer and killed him with his club.

vookodlak (see vlkodlak)

Vopadeva Hindu

a poet

He is said to have composed the Bhagavata-Purana.

Vor Norse

a goddess of wisdom, attendant on Frigga

She knew everything that was to happen.

In some versions she is the same as Vara.

Vorsud Baltic

[Vodyz]

a Finnish guardian-spirit who brings good fortune

Vortigern British

['overlord'.Urtigernus:=Welsh

Gwrytheyrn]

a prince of Gwent

a king of Britain

husband of Renwein and Sevira

father of Catigern, Faustus, Paschent

and Vortimer

He killed King Constantine and put his eldest son, Constans, in his place, treating him as a puppet. He later killed Constans to become king himself.

In another version it was Moines, son of Constans, who was killed when Vortigern took the throne.

After the death of Sevira, he married Renwein, a daughter of Hengist the Saxon, who poisoned Vortigern's son, Vortimer. When Hengist treacherously killed many of Vortigern's nobles, the king retreated to Wales and built a castle at Dinas Emrys on Mount Erith. When the walls started to sink, he tried using magic. A boy, fathered by an incubus, said that the subsidence was caused by two dragons, red and white, hidden years before by Lud. In one version, the boy was Ambrosius, later called Emrys Gwledig; others say he was the wizard Merlin. Some say the two dragons fought and the red one killed the white one. Another version says that the dragons were Aurelius and Uther who flew off to Brittany, returning later in human form at the head of an army which reclaimed the kingdom. In this version, they burned down Vortigern's tower and killed him.

In some accounts, the fortress was being built on Salisbury Plain.

Vortimer British

son of Vortigern and Sevira

He was poisoned by his father's second wife, Renwein.

Vortumnalia Roman

a festival in honour of Vertumnus

held on 13th August

Vortumnus (see Vertumnus)

Vorumila African

a Yoruba god

Vorys-mort Russian

a forest-spirit

This being takes the form of a whirlwind to carry off animals and humans. Those who fear to use his real name call him Dyadya.

Vosegus Roman

a Celtic mountain-god in Gaul

Vostaert, Pieter Dutch

the author of Walewein, a story of Gawain

Votan<sup>1</sup> Central American

[Master of the Sacred Drum.Odon.

Oton.Tamuls.Tzequil.Vaudoux]

a mysterious Mayan god

husband of Ix Chel, some say

This deity, who said he was a serpent, claimed that he had been sent to earth by the sky-gods to start a new culture based on his teachings.

One of his roles was as guardian of the sacred instrument, the Tēpanaguaste.

In some accounts he is identified with Quetzalcoatl or Tepeyollotl.

Votan<sup>2</sup> (see Vodan)

voudou (see voodoo)

Voukashin<sup>1</sup> Serbian

a king of Scutari

husband of Yevrossima

He persuaded Vidossava to betray her husband, Momtchilo, and come to him. Taking a force of warriors, he ambushed Momtchilo and killed his nine brothers. Momtchilo fled but was caught and killed at his castle gates. Dying, he warned Voukashin not to trust Vidossava so Voukashin had her torn apart by horses and married Yevrossima.

Voukashin<sup>2</sup> (see Voinovitch<sup>2</sup>)

Vourokasha<sup>1</sup> Persian

the sea or lake where the gaokerena grew

The ass Khara is said to stand in the middle of this stretch of water.

Vourokasha<sup>2</sup> Persian

a sea-deity

father of Apam Napat

Voutcha Serbian

a Hungarian general

father of Velimir

He captured the Serbian knights Ivan, Milan and Milosh and kept them in prison. Marko came to their rescue and, after killing hundreds of the Hungarian troops, captured both Voutcha and his son, Velimir, trading them for the release of his friends.

Voutché Serbian

one of the 3 men who tried to steal Goulash, the horse of Milosh, and was killed

Vozdushnui Slav

a stormspirit
a type of Karliki

Vran (see Bran<sup>1</sup>)

Vrhaspati (see Brhaspati)

Vretil (see Pravuil)

Vriddhi Hindu

[Vriddi]
a goddess of growth
a manifestation of Lakshmi
consort of Kubera

Vriddi (see Vriddhi)

Vrihaspati (see Brhaspati)

Vrikodara Hindu

[=Javanese Werkudara]
a name for Bhima as 'wolf's belly', reflecting his voracious appetite

Vrindavana Hindu

a wood
This wood is regarded as the site of Krishna's birth.

Vrindha Hindu

a female demon
consort of Jalandhara
When the gods decided that her husband's power was becoming a threat to them, Vishnu took the form of her husband and seduced her. Vrindha committed suicide in shame when she realised what had happened and Jalandhara was angry enough to attack the gods who were then able to kill him. The same story is told of Tulsī. (see also Tulsī)

Vrishabha Hindu

one of the signs of the Zodiac,
Taurus the bull

Vrishakapi Hindu

a monkey-god
a friend of Indra

Vrishchika Hindu

one of the signs of the Zodiac, Scorpio the scorpion

Vrishni Hindu

an ancestor of Krishna
one of the Yadavas

Vrita (see Vritra)

Vritra Hindu

['choker'.Dasa.Namuci.Vasava.Visvarupa.
Vitra.Vrita.Vritrasura.Vritra]
a drought-demon

When Indra killed the three-headed son of Tvashtri, the sage is said to have created a monster, in the likeness of Ahi, which swallowed the god's cloud-cattle and Indra himself. The other gods forced it to open its jaws, allowing Indra to escape and Vishnu, in the form of a knife, cut off the monster's head.

In some accounts, this monster is referred to as Namuci. (see also Ahi)

Vritrasura (see Vritra)

Vritrahana Hindu

[=Armenian Vahagn.=Greek Heracles.
=Persian Verethragna]
a title of Indra as the killer of

Vritra (see Ahi)

Vrkolak (see Vlkodlak)

Vrou-Elde Dutch

a name for Holda in Holland

(see also Frigga)

Vrthragna (see Verethragna)

Vrtra (see Vritra)

Vrtragna (see Verethragna)

Vrzino Kollo (see Vilino Kollo)

Vu-kuzo (see Vu-murt)

Vu-murt Russian

[Vu-kuzo]
a Votyak river-god

He is generally regarded as an evil being but is sometimes helpful to fishermen.

He is said to appear on the bank of a river, either as a man or a woman, completely naked, combing his or her long black hair, disappearing if a human approaches.

Vu-toza Russian

a water-spirit

This being is said to capture both animals and humans.

Vual

[Egyptian Demon.Vuall]
a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He can impart knowledge of the past and the future and can cause a woman to fall in love.

He appears as a camel or sometimes as a man.

Vuall (see Vual)

Vucub Aphu (see Vucub-Hanapu)

Vucub Came Central American

[Vucubcame.Vucubcame]
one of the rulers of Xibalba, the Aztec underworld

He shared the sovereignty of Xibalba with Huncame. They were both killed when they tried to copy the feat of Hunapu and Ixbalanque who had immolated themselves and had been restored.

Vucub-Caquix Central American

[Seven Macaw.Vukub-Cakix.

Vukub-Caquix]

a Mayan giant husband of Chimalmatl
father of Cabraca and Zipacna

This giant and his two sons claimed power over the sun, moon and earth so the gods sent Hunapu and Ixbalanque to deal with them. Their first attempt, when they shot Vucub-Caquix with a poisoned arrow, was unsuccessful and Hunapu lost one of his arms in the encounter but recovered it later. For their next attempt, they pretended to be physicians and extracted the giant's emerald teeth, the source of his strength, and gouged out his eyes, after which treatment he died.

In an entirely different version, Vucub-Caquix is described as a monster in the form of a bird known alternatively as Seven Macaw.

(see also Xibalba)

Vucub-Hunapu Central American

[Vucub Ahpu.Vukub-Hunapu]
a culture-hero of the Quiche Indians son of Xmucane and Xpiyacoc brother of Hunhunapu

He and his brother were invited to a game of tlachtli by Huncame and Vucub Came, rulers of the underworld, Xibalba. After spending a night in the House of Gloom, they were killed.

Their deaths were later avenged by Hunapu and Ixbalanque, sons of Hunhunapu and Xquia.

Vucubcame (see Vucub Came)

Vue Pacific Islands

an ancient race regarded as the builders of the megaliths in the islands

vui Pacific Islands

a spirit or demi-god

Vukashin Serbian

a noble
brother of Goiko and Uglesha

The three brothers were warned by a veela that the fortress they were building at Scutari would never stand unless the infant twins, Stoyan and Stoyana, were buried under the walls. He sent the servant, Dessimir, to find the twins but he failed. The veela then said that the wife of one of the brothers must be immured in the walls. Goiko's wife, bringing their food next morning, was chosen as the victim. Responding to her pleas, the builder, Rado, left an opening in the wall at breast level through which, for a whole year, she fed her baby son, Yovo.

Vukodlak (see Vlkodlak)

Vukub-Cakix (see Vucub-Caquix)

Vukub-Caquix (see Vucub-Caquix)

Vukub-Hunapu (see Vucub-Hunapu)

Vukubcame (see Vucubcame)

Vulcan Roman

[Mulciber. Quietus. Velchanos.

Volcanus. Volkanus. Vulcanus:

=Etruscan Sethlans:=Greek Hephaestus]

god of fire and metalwork son of Jupiter and Juno

husband of Venus

He was lame as the result of being thrown out of heaven and set up his forge in Mount Etna where he made a golden throne for Juno, the thunderbolts hurled by Jupiter and the arrows for Cupid's bow.

He was also the owner of a mirror which could tell the past, the present and the future.

In one story, angered by the infidelities of Venus, he made a special robe. All who wore it became wicked.

Vulcanalia Roman

[Vulcanalia:=Greek Hephaestia]

a festival in honour of the gods, including Vulcan, held on 23rd August

Vulcanatis Roman

[Volcanis. Vulcanis]

a flamen of the god Vulcan

Vulcans

elementals, fire spirits in some accounts

Vulcanis (see Vulcanatis)

Vulcanus (see Vulcan)

Vulder Anglo-Saxon

[Wulder. Wuldor:=Norse Uller]

the god of winter

Vulgate Cycle (see Vulgate Version)

Vulgate Version English

[Vulgate Cycle]

the name given to a 13th c collection of Arthurian stories

Vulnerarius (see Archagathus)

vulture<sup>1</sup> Egyptian

[Pharaoh's Hen]

the emblem of Isis and Mat

vulture<sup>2</sup> Greek

the bird of Apollo and Ares

This bird was also sacred to Hercules who had killed the vulture that attacked the liver of Prometheus.

vulture<sup>3</sup> Roman

the bird of Mars

vulture<sup>4</sup>

a scavenging bird

Some say that this bird bears live young rather than laying eggs. Others, that it can, by dipping its beak into food or drink, tell if it has been poisoned. Sweet smells, pomegranates or myrrh were said to kill the vulture.

Vulturnus (see Volturnus)

Vuojala Baltic

a realm in Finnish lore, sometimes equated with Pohjola

Vyaghravaktradakini Buddhist

[=Tibetan Stag-gdon-can]

a goddess

Vyagrapada Hindu

a saint

Vyali Tibetan

a Lamaist sorcerer

vyantara Jain

one of the demons living in Patala

A more terrible version of this demon is known as vana-vyantara.

Vyasa Hindu

['gatherer'. (Krishna) Dvaipayana.

Vedavyasa:=Javanese Abiasa]

a god of wisdom

an incarnation of Vishnu, some say

son of Parashara and Satyavati half-brother of Santhanu, some say

father of Dhartarashtra by Ambika

father of Pandu by Ambalika

He is said to have written the Vedas and the Puranas and The Mahabharata, which, it is said, he dictated to Ganesha.

He was said to have been extremely ugly but when the two sons of Santanu died childless, he performed his duty to give their widows, Ambalika and Ambika, children.

Vyeles (see Volos)

W

Wa'a (see Waka)

Wabanang North American

a star-god of the Menominee tribe Originally a flint, he developed into a rabbit and later into a man.

wabanunaqsiwot North American in Algonquian lore, a mythical race of dawn-people

Wabasso North American

[Wabosso:=Menominee Wabus]
brother of Nanabozho
the Potawatomi version of the Great Hare

He was turned into the White Hare when the sun first appeared and later became a deity. (see also White Hare)

Wabosso (see Wabasso)

Wabun North American

a sun-god
an Algonquian hero
husband of Wabund Annung

He was one of the quadruplets born of the primordial being who died in childbirth. He represented east; the other three were Kabibonokka (north), Kabun (west) and Shawano (south). He chased away darkness, heralding the day.

In some accounts he is equated with Michabo.

Wabund Annung North American

the morning star
wife of Wabun

Wabus North American

[=Potawatomi Wabasso]

the Menominee version of the Great Hare

It is said that he later became the mortal Manabush.

Wac North American

[Tuparan]
a god of the Pericue people

He made war on Niparaya and lost, being then cast out of heaven into an undersea cave guarded by whales.

Wacabe (see Black Bear<sup>2</sup>)

wacanda (see wakanda)

Wakanda (see Wakan Tanka)

Wace, Robert French

a 12th c Norman poet, author of Roman de Brut

Wachilde (see Watchilt)

Watchilt (see Watchilt)

Wackerlos European

the dog in Reynard the Fox
He accused Reynard of stealing his sausage.

Wada (see Badi<sup>2</sup>)

Wadarimba (see Wakonyingo)

Wadd (see II'.Sahar<sup>1</sup>)

Wade British

[=Norse Badi]
father of Wayland

Wadj Wer Egyptian

a fertility-god

Wadjet Egyptian

[B(o)uto.Edjo.Lady of Heaven.Queen of Gods.Uadjit.Ua(t)chit.Uaz(it).Uto.Wadjyt.Wa(t)chet]

a snake-goddess of Lower Egypt sister of Nekhbet

mother of Nefertum

She is depicted as a cobra which breathes fire and represents the pharaoh's sovereignty. She is said to have created the papyrus swamps and to have suckled the infant Horus.

(see also Edjo)

Wadjyt (see Wadjet)

Waelcyrge Norse

a name for the Furies

Waendel British

a warrior-hero

Waga (see Waka)

Wagadoo African

a city in the desert

This city sprang into being when Lagarre beat the royal drum, Tabele. It was guarded by the dragon, Bida, who allowed Lagarre to enter and become king in return for the provision of a young maiden every year.

Wagalik (see Wawalag)

Waganga African

medicine men of the Makoni

Wagner, Wilhelm Richard German

(1813-83)
a composer

He wrote the operas Parsifal, Lobengrin, Tristan und Isolde, and also the four in the Ring Cycle, based on the Nibelungenleid, entitled Götterdämmerung, Siegfried, Das Rheingold and Die Walküre.

Wagor Priest (see Hotei)

Wagoner (see Great Bear)
wagtail<sup>1</sup> Hindu

a prophetic bird

Prophecies are made based on the direction from which the bird arrives and from the place where it alights.

wagtail<sup>2</sup> Japanese
a bird sacred to Izanagi and Izanami

Wagu Australian
a culture-hero of the Aborigines

He and Biljata laid down rules of marriage to avoid incest. Both became birds as a result of tricks played on each other, Wagu becoming a crow.

Wahari South American
brother of Bucka

When Wahari found that his brother had seduced all the women in the tribe, he cut off his over-long penis.

Wahie Loa (see Wahieloa)

Wahie Roa (see Wahieroa)

Wahieloa Pacific Islands

[Wahie Loa]

a god of comets

husband of Pele

Wahieroa Pacific Islands

[Wahie Roa]

son of Tawhaki, some say brother of Matuku and Tahiti Tokerau husband of Pere

father of Rata, some say

He was killed and eaten by the giant cannibal Matuku. His son, born posthumously, avenged his father's death, killing Matuku by throwing hot coals into his mouth.

Wai<sup>1</sup> African

a sun-god in Zaire

father of Mokele

Wai<sup>2</sup> Hindu

an evil aspect of Vayu

Wai-gla-a-Tane New Zealand

a river

The Maori say that the moon bathes in this river to restore her health.

Waiet East Indian

a culture-hero of New Guinea

Waimariwi Australian

one of the Wawalog sisters

Wain Harrow (see Great Bear)

Wainadula Pacific Islands

a well of forgetfulness in Fiji

It is said that the dead drink the water of this well in order to forget the sorrows of this world.

Wainamoinen (see Vainamoinen)

Waiola (see Waiora)

Waiora<sup>1</sup> Pacific Islands

[Kaiora.Vai-Ola.Waiola]

a goddess of health

Sick people who bathed in her well were restored to health.

(see also Waiora<sup>2</sup>)

Waiora<sup>2</sup> Pacific Islands

[Kaiora.Vai-Ola.Waiola]

in Polynesian lore, a lake said to restore the youth of those who drank or bathed in its waters

(see also Waiora<sup>1</sup>)

Wairi Australian

the heavens: a sky-god

wairon (see werewolf)

Waisa (see Gro Mama)

Waitiri (see Waitiri)

wajera Pacific Islands

[=Indian vajra:=Javanese wajro]

the Polynesian version of Indra's

lightning-bolt, Vajra

wajro East Indian

[=Indian vajra:=Pacific wajera]

the Javanese version of Indra's

lightning-bolt, Vajra

Wak (see Waka)

Waka African

[Wa'a.Waga.Wak]

a creator-god of the Galla tribe of Ethiopia

He made the first man and then the first woman from a drop of the man's blood. They soon produced thirty children but hid half of them in holes when Waka called to see them. These hidden children became the progenitors of all the demons and wild animals while the other fifteen became the ancestors of the human race.

Waka-Hiko Japanese

[Ame-Waka-Hiko]

a Shinto god

son of Amaterasu

husband of Shita-teru-hime

When he was sent to earth on an important mission to prepare the way for the arrival on earth of Ninigi, he became so enamoured of a mortal woman, Shita-teru-hime, that he forgot what he had come for. The gods sent the pheasant Na-naki to find him but Waka-Hiko shot it. The arrow went right through the bird and up to the abode of the gods, one of whom, Takamimusubi, flung it back, hitting Waka-Hiko and killing him. His body was taken back to heaven.

Waka-hime Japanese

[Ori-hime]

goddess of the dawn, some say sister of Uzume

(see also Waka-Hiru-Me)

Waka-Hiru-Me Japanese

a Shinto sun-goddess

sister of Amaterasu

She is said to weave the clothes worn by the Shinto gods.

(see also Waka-hime)

Waka-Sa-Na-Me Japanese

a Shinto goddess of agriculture

daughter of Ha-Yama-To and O-Ge-Tsu-Hime

Waka-Toshi Japanese

a Shinto god of agriculture

son of Ha-Yama-To and O-Ge-Tsu-Hime

wakan North American

[wacanda.wakanda.wakonda:

=Algonquin manitou:=Iroquois orenda]

in the lore of the Sioux, supernatural power: the spirit of the individual

Wakan Tanka North American

[Great Mystery.Thunderbird.

Tob Tob.Wacanda.Wakinyan:

Wakonda.=Arikara Nesaru]

a creator-god of the Sioux

He created the four groups of deities known as Superior Gods, Associated Gods, Kindred Gods and Godlike Spirits, all of them regarded as aspects of himself.

He then created human beings but the water-monster, Unktahe, caused a flood to drown them. Wakan Tanka and his thunderbird followers battled with the monster and its offspring, killing them with thunderbolts. He split himself into four to make Inyan, Maka, Skan and Wi.

(see also Wakonda<sup>1</sup>)

Wakanda<sup>1</sup> (see Wakonda<sup>1</sup>)

wakanda<sup>2</sup> (see wakan)

Wakdjunkaga North American

a trickster-god of the Winnebago tribe

In some accounts, he is equated with Hereshguina.

Wakea Pacific Islands

[=Maori Rangi:=Polynesian Atea]

an ancestral chief of Hawaii

Although a mortal, he was the husband of the earth goddess, Papa, by whom he had a daughter, Ho'ohoku-ka-lani. His wife left him when he fathered children on his own daughter; the first was a root which grew into a plant, the second was a human, Ha-loa.

In one story he made the world from a gourd borne by Papa.

Wakiash North American

a Kwakiutl chief

Seeking a dance of his own, he was carried off on the back of a raven. He landed in a house full of animals which had adopted human form and was allowed to take some of their dances and songs. Back home, he found that he had been away not four days but four years. He taught his people the songs and his new dance and made a totem pole, Kalakuyuwish, and took this name for himself.

Wakinyan North American

[The Flyers.Thunderbird.

Wakinyan.Wauk(h)eon]

a Thunderbird god, a manifestation of Wakan Tanka

In the lore of the Dakota Indians, they are The Flyers, the deities which bring storm-winds.

Wakinyan (see Wakinyan)

wakonda<sup>1</sup> (see wakan)

Wakonda<sup>2</sup> (see Wakan Tanka)

the spirit of the individual, in the lore of the Sioux (see also wakan)

Wakonyingo African

[Wadarrimba]

dwarfs living on Mount Kilimanjaro

It is said that these people have very large heads and sleep sitting up because, if they lie down, they cannot get up again unaided. They own ladders with which they can reach the heavens.

Wakyet-wa (see Chinun Way Shun)

Wala North American

a dawn-spirit of the Fox Indians

Walafar (see Malephar)

Walaganda Australian

a Wandjina who became the Milky Way

Walala (see Ulala)

walawatu African [mazimwi]

ogres of the Swahili

Walcott, Derek West Indian

(1930- )

a poet and dramatist, author of the play Odyssey, based on the Greek story

Walcerz Polish

the name of Walther in the Polish version of the story of Walther and Hildegunde

In this version, his wife is known as Helgunda.

Waldegrave, Richard de British

a 13th c hero

He is said to have banished a dragon by driving it into a marsh.

Waldemar German

[Valldemarr]

a king of Reussen

In a war with Etzel, Waldemar's forces surrounded Dietrich and some of his men in a fortress from which they were rescued by Rudiger. They killed Waldemar and took his son prisoner.

In Thidreksaga, he is Valldemarr.

Walewein<sup>1</sup> European

[Walwain.Walga(i)nus.Walwanus]

the name used by the Dutch for Gawain

Walewein<sup>2</sup> European

a 13th c Dutch story of Gawain's exploits, written by Pieter Vostaert

Walgainus (see Walganus)

Walganus British

[Walgainus]

the Latin name for Gawain

Walgino Polish

a god of cattle

Walgund German

a king of Thessalonica

father of Hildburg

Walhall (see Valhalla)

Walhall (see Valhalla)

wali<sup>1</sup> (see vali<sup>1</sup>)

Wali<sup>2</sup> (see Vali<sup>2</sup>)

walian East Indian

a priestess of the Celebes (see also tadu)

Walia-Allah Arabian

the Arab version of wali (see vali<sup>1</sup>)

walichu South American

evil spirits of the Araucanian people

Walkers in the Sky (see Dakinis)

Walküre, Die (see The Valkyrie)

Walkyries (see Valkyries)

Wall

a demon, a duke in hell

Walla-gudjail-uan Australian

a goddess of birth

Walla-guroon-buan Australian

a goddess of birth

wallaby East Indian

a progenitor of the human race

In Papua they say that the maggots that bred in the body of a dead female wallaby turned into the first human beings.

Wallace Scottish

a storm-demon

This being is said to throw large rocks.

Wallanganda Australian

a sky-god who created the world, helped by Ungud

Walleyneup Australian

a supreme god

husband of Doronop

father of Bindinoor

His son was wounded and Walleyneup, though a supreme god, could not heal his wounds and this son died. As a result, Walleyneup decided that mankind should no longer be immortal.

Walliamei Hindu

one of the consorts of Subramanya

Walum Olum North American

the Lenape Indian story of creation

walozi

African

Swahili warlocks

Walpurgis Night

the eve of May Day

On this night, all the witches come out and are led in their revelry by the devil himself.

Walter

European

son of Guyon

He was adopted by Ogier who took him on the expedition to the Middle East where the combined forces of Carahue, Guyon and Ogier attacked the Saracens in their own country. When Ogier, feeling homesick for Charlemagne's court, sailed for France, he handed over his responsibilities to Walter.

Walther

German

one of the kobolds

Waltharius

(see Walther von Wasgenstein)

Walther von Wasgenstein German

[Valtari.Vaskasteini.Walcerz.Waltharius]

a duke of Aquitaine

son of Albhere

His father had handed the young Walther over to Attila (Etzel) as a hostage to avoid having his kingdom overrun by the invading Huns. At the Hun's court he met another hostage Hildegunde, daughter of Hereric and the girl with whom he later fell in love, and a third hostage, young Hagen. The two boys were taught the arts of war by Attila while Hildegunde was schooled in the management of the household. When he reached manhood, Walther and Hildegunde escaped, taking with them a large part of Attila's treasure on Walther's horse, Lion. Hagen had escaped some time before, joining Gunther who was now king of Burgundy. These two set out to find Walther and Hildegunde in order to kill them and seize the treasure, but Walther killed all the warriors sent against him and, when he met the two leaders in combat, he cut off Gunther's leg and knocked out one of Hagen's eyes. Walther lost his right hand, but the three men were reconciled and Walther and Hildegunde were able to continue their journey to his home in Aquitaine where they were married.

In Thidreksaga, he is known as Valtari or Vaskasteini and his wife is Hilldigundr.

Waltherius

German

a 9th c Latin version of the story of

Walther von Wasgenstein

walum olum North American

sticks, painted red, used as records by the Delaware Indians

These sticks are used to record details of the tribe's origins and migrations.

Walumbe African

a Baganda god of death

son of Gulu

brother of Kaizuki and Nambi

When Kintu went to heaven to ask for a wife, Gulu gave him his daughter, Nambi. When the couple left to return to earth, Nambi's brother Walumbe (death) followed them. His brother, Kaizuki, tried to kill Walumbe so that mankind would not be subject to death but Walumbe escaped to the underworld.

Walwain (see Walewain)

Walwanus (see Walewain)

Walweitha British

Gawain's realm

Wamala African

a fertility-god of the Bunyoro people brother of Mukasa

wampus cat North American

a fabulous animal

Wamtatakuya African

a name of Chiuta as 'the eternal one'

Wan<sup>1</sup> Chinese

[Lady of the Jade Flower]

youngest daughter of Tung Wang

Kung and Hsi Wang Mu

wife of Tai Chen

She played music of such beauty that even the birds gathered round to listen.

Wan<sup>2</sup> North American

the red fox, created by Kumash

Wan<sup>3</sup> (see Chang<sup>1</sup>)

Wan Hui (see Ho Ho<sup>1</sup>)

wanagemeswak North American

one of the 'little people' in Penobscot lore

These people, who live in streams and pools, are said to be so thin that they can be seen only when viewed from the side. Their faces are said to be hatchet-shaped.

wanagi North American

a ghost or spirit

The Sioux assert that the soul of a dead person stays close to the body for four days before departing to the land of the spirits, the Happy Hunting Ground. In the case of a child, the father might take some of the dead child's hair and keep it in a tent where the child's soul could be kept for perhaps a year.

wanagi-wachipi North American

a ghost-dance of the Sioux

Wanajo (see Wonajo)

Wanakawri (see Huana Cauri)

wananga Pacific Islands

secret lore

Wanax Mesopotamian

a deity

Wanblee Cikala North American

[Little Eagle]

a Sioux brave

He was killed in the final battle between the Sioux and the Crow and was mourned by Makhta whom he loved and who had fought alongside him.

Wanblee Galeshka North American

an eagle which acted as a messenger

for Wakan Tanka

He rescued a girl when all the people had perished in a flood caused by Unktahe and carried her up to his nest on a high peak. They mated and produced a boy and girl who became the progenitors of a new tribe.

Wanblee Geshka North American

[Spotted Eagle]

a Sioux brave

He was left to die on a narrow ledge by his friend, Kangi Sapa, but survived when fed by the eagles who carried him safely to the ground.

Wand of Jacob

a rod which was said to have the power to conjure up or repel demons

Wanderer Norse

a name used by Odin on some of his visits to Midgard

(see also Gangrad.Wayfarer)

Wandering Rocks

(see Planctae.Symplegades)

wandi Japanese

a sea-dragon

Wandjina Australian

[Wondjina]

rain-spirits of the Aborigines

Disgusted with the behaviour of the first humans, these beings caused the flood which destroyed them all and then created another, more civilised race. Satisfied with their handiwork, they became invisible and retreated to live in water-holes.

They are said to control the weather and can appear in various forms such as birds and human beings.

These beings are depicted as semi-human with a bony face which has no mouth. Sometimes limbs are missing. The Aborigines say that, if the spirit had a mouth, it would rain all the time.

Wanema (see Manema Mairwa.Musisi)

Wang<sup>1</sup> Chinese

a minor deity of the underworld

Wang<sup>2</sup> Chinese

a title for a king regarded as a divine being

Wang<sup>3</sup> Chinese

a young man who was deified

The God of Walls and Moats appeared to Wang and told the young man that he was to be appointed to that office. Wang told his family and friends of the vision and said that he would die ten days later. He did just that and was said to have appeared to others in dreams in the role of God of Walls and Moats.

Wang<sup>4</sup> Chinese

[Ling-kuan]

a porter in the highest heaven, Ta-lo

He is depicted in full armour and holding a staff. (see Wei-t'ò)

Wang-chug-mas Tibetan

28 Buddhist goddesses of fate

These deities are envisaged as having the heads of birds or animals and are regarded as part of the Bardo group of goddesses.

Wang Chung-kao (see Huai-nan-tzu)

Wang-gon (see dBan-mgon)

Wang-Gum (see Tangun)

Wang Mu<sup>1</sup> Chinese a widow who supported I-hsing as a young student

Wang Mu<sup>2</sup> (see Hsi Wang Mu)

Wang Mu Niang Niang

(see Hsi Wang Mu)

Wang Shou-jen Chinese

[Yang Ming]

one of the disciples of Confucius

allowed to sacrifice in the Temple

of Confucius

Wang Shu Chinese

[Hsien O]

the spirit of the moon

Wang-ssu Ch'eng Chinese

[City of the Dead by Accident]

a place in the ninth hell from which sinners never return to be born again

wang un keng (see erawng mot krak)

Wang Yang Chinese

a devoted son

It is said that he lay on the ice until it melted so that he could catch fish for his step-mother.

Wang-yang Tzu (see Han Chung-li)

Wanga<sup>1</sup> African

a Baganda god of earthquakes

Wanga<sup>2</sup> African

[=West Indian Ouanga]

witchcraft and sorcery: wizards

These people are said to knock on the door of a house at night and lure those who answer into the forest where they kill and eat them.

wanga<sup>3</sup> West Indian a Haitian charm

This type of magic charm is said to work evil as opposed to the arret, drogue or garde which protect from evil.

wanganga African
medicine-men of the Makoni

wangarr Australian creator-beings of the Aborigines

Wango African
a child of Faran Maka

Wangol loa East Indian a group of Haitian voodoo spirits derived from the deities of Angola

Wanka South American
an Inca guardian deity, the personification of the huaca monumental stones

Wanthaziose African
a name of Tilo as 'the almighty one'

Wantley dragon British
a legendary monster

wapaloosie North American
a fabulous animal

Wapanananagwa North American
the morning star in the lore of the Fox Indians father of Wapassaiya

Wapaq Siberian
a spirit said by the Koryaks to inhabit the fly agaric toadstool

Wapassaiya North American
a hero of the Fox Indians son of Wapanananagwa

War Brothers (see Ahayuta achi)

War Twins North American
[=Haida Tow.Tow-us-Tussin: =Tewa Towaesendo:=Zuni Ahayuta achi]
twin war-gods of the Acoma

These twins, gods and culture-heroes, were said to have stolen the staffs that control the weather from the Direction Chiefs when they were asleep. When they realised their loss, these weather guardians sent a water-snake after the culprits, followed by a huge flood. The tribe escaped by climbing to high ground while the twins killed the serpent.

(see also Ahayuta achi)

Warah (see II'.Sarah')

Warai-botoke Japanese [=Chinese Fu-tai-shih]
guardian of the sacred scriptures
He is regarded as the Laughing Buddha.

(see also Maitreya)

Waralden Olmai Baltic
a Lapp creator-god

Waramurungundju (see Imberombera)

Warayana Hindu
a name of Vishnu

Warden of the Pass (see Yin Hsi)

Ware South American
a shaman
He killed many of the anchunga by setting fire to their long hair.

waringin (see fig-tree)

warlock
[female=witch]
a magician: a demon

Warohunuga Pacific Islands
a creator-god in the Solomon Islands

Warok British
father of Trepkina

Warongo Japanese
16th c sacred Shinto writings

Wart, The (see Arthur)

Wartburgkrieg British
a collection of stories in which the magician, Klingsor, challenges Wolfram von Eschenbach to a contest of riddles which Wolfram wins

Waruna Pacific Islands
[Mahadewa:=Indian Varuna:=Japanese Ryujin:=Japanese Kala]
a Balinese sea-god and wind-god consort of Durga

He acted as guardian of the west.

was Egyptian [vas]
a rod of power held by Ptah

This rod took the form of a sceptre with an animal's head at the top and two prongs at the bottom. It is also the name for a talisman worn to ensure prosperity. (see also ankh.tet)

Wasboga
a demon

Wasco North American [=Tlingit Konakadset]
a hero of the Haida

He was envisaged as an aquatic beast, a kind of wolf-whale.

Washaliyas Mesopotamian
a Hittite deity

Washer by the Ford Irish [bean nighe.Grey Washer by the Ford.=Scottish ban nighechain.
nigheag na h-àth: Welsh =Gwrach y Rhybin]

a hag who sits beside a stream washing the clothes and bloody limbs of slain warriors

She is always dressed in black and is said to have the wings of a bat and red, webbed feet.

She is regarded as an aspect of Morrigan and sometimes appears as a beautiful woman.

Wasis North American
an Algonquian baby

This tiny infant ignored Gluskap, making the god very angry and frustrated. In some accounts, Wasis was the son of Gluskap.

Waske German
the sword of Iring

Waso-byoye Japanese
a legendary traveller

He visited many strange lands such as those of immortality, antiquities, vanity, etc. When he came to the land of the giants, one of them carried him to his home town, Nagasaki, and set him down there.

Wasserman German
a man-shaped sea monster

Waste Forest British
the place where Galahad was attacked by Lancelot and Percival

Both his attackers failed to recognise Galahad and he defeated them both.

Waste Land British
the land which was desolated when the Dolorous Stroke fell

This area, described variously as the whole of Britain, the realms of Varlan and Lambor, or just Wales, could be restored only if a knight on the quest for the Holy Grail asked the important question 'Whom does the Grail serve?'

Waste Land, The English
a poem by T. S. Eliot

wasure-gai Japanese
a shell said to induce forgetfulness

Wat German
[Wate]

a warrior at Hettel's court
He, with Frute and Horant, abducted Hilde who married Hettel and he later raised Ortwin, Hettel's son, in the warrior tradition.

Wata Rian Pacific Islands
an Indonesian fisherman

It is said that he discovered the wild woman Bota Hi and made her drunk. When he cut off her body hair, he found that she was a real woman and married her.

Wata-tsu-mi (see Watatsumi)

Watatsumi Japanese
[Owatatsumi.Wata-tsu-mi]
a sea-god

father of Tama-yori and Toyo-Tama
He gave the Tide Jewels to Fire Fade when he married Toyotama-hime.

Watauneiwa South American

[Most Ancient One]
a supreme god of the Yahgan Indians of Tierra del Fuego

Watch Merti (see Isis.Mert.Nephthys)Watchilt Norse

[Wachilt.Watchilde]
a sea-witch
wife of Vilcinus
mother of Badi

She rose out of the sea and halted the ship of Vilcinus. He took her with him and she bore his giant son, Badi. She then disappeared but later rose again from the sea to save her grandson Wittich when he plunged into the sea to escape the vengeance of Dietrich whose brother, Dietmar, he had killed.

Wate (see Wat)watege African in the lore of the Swahili, those possessed by spirits

water babies North American

spirits living in water sources such as streams, lakes, etc.

These beings, met in the lore of several Indian tribes, are small but not necessarily young. They may appear in the guise of an old man who tugs at a fisherman's line or as an old woman who appears on the bank of the stream at dusk.

Water Beetle (see Dayunsi)water-bull

[=Scotidh tarbh uisge]
an amphibious monster in the form of a bull

Water-carrier (see Aquarius)Water Door South American

a door which caused the flood when it was opened

In the lore of the Barasana people, the female shaman, Romi Kumu, opened this door, which stood at the eastern edge of the world, and water poured through, flooding the earth.

Water Feast (see Thingyan Pwe)Water Girl (see kisimbi)Water Nymph (see kisimbi)Water of Life African

the water in the Well of Life under the Sahara

This water had the power to restore health and vigour. When El Khidr drank it, he turned a bluish-green.

Water of Parrots (see Cakixa)Water of Precious Stones

(see Cozcaapa)

Water-olla Boy North American

the Pueblo version of the Cheyenne story of Arrow Boy

Water People African

a mythical race living in the rivers of Liberia

These people were said to have the body of a fish.

Water Serpent North American

a monster in the lore of the Pueblo tribes

This beast takes the form of a water-snake with horns.

Waterfall' Central American

a Mexican deity

After the flood sent by Hokomata had subsided, Waterfall and Sunshaft mated with Pukeheh to repopulate the world.

Waterfall' (see Dripping Water)Waterlord African

the Fulani name for the Hydra

He took the mortal, Jinde Sirinde, as a wife but she called on her lover for help. He killed the monster and cut off his seven heads.

waterman

mythical being living in water

Wathi-wathi Australian

the paradise of the Aborigines

Wati-kutjara Australian

[Men Iguana.Two Men]

two lizard-men, creator-ancestors of the Aborigines

Kurukadi and Mumba killed Kidilli when he tried to rape one of the first women. Kidilli became the moon, the women became the Pleiades and the two men became the constellation Gemini.

W'Atira North American

a Pawnee corn-spirit

Watusii North American

a Zuni war-god
twin brother of Kowwituma

He and his brother found the Corn Maidens and later persuaded them to return to the tribe after they had fled to escape from Patayami.

Watu Gunung East Indian

[=Greek Oedipus]

a king

son and husband of Sinta

He inadvertently married his own mother, Sinta.

Watwat Egyptian

the bat, which is said to be the spirit of a dead persona

Waukeon (see Wakinyan)Waukheon (see Wakinyan)Wave-maidens Norse

[Billow-maidens.Vana-mothers.Waves]

9 giantesses. daughters of Aegir and Ran

They were Atla, Augeia, Aurgiafa,

Egia, Gialp, Greip, Iarnsaxa, Sindur
and Ulfrun and they were said simultaneously to have given birth to Heimdall, fathered by Odin.

Some accounts mention Eistla and Imder as members of this group.

Wave of Cliona Irish

one of the 4 great waves in the seas
round Ireland

These waves were said to cry out when
a king died.

Wave of Rugraidhe Irish

one of the 4 great waves in the seas
round Ireland

These waves were said to cry out when
a king died.

Wave of Toim Irish

one of the 4 great waves in the seas
round Ireland

These waves were said to cry out when
a king died.

Wave of Tuaidhe Irish

one of the 4 great waves in the seas
round Ireland

These waves were said to cry out when
a king died.

Wave-sweeper (see Ocean-sweeper)Waves (see Wave-maidens)Wawalag sisters Australian

[Wagalik.Wawalik.Wawilak]

ancestral heroines of the Aborigines

These beings were regarded as the daughters of the elder of the two Djanggalawul sisters and, in some accounts, their names are given as Boaliri and Waimariwi.

They angered Yurlunggur who swallowed them and vomited them up repeatedly. Each time, the green ants revived them.

They are said to have travelled throughout northern Australia, prodding the ground with their sticks.
Waterholes formed at each such site.

Wawalik (see Wawalag)Wawilak (see Wawalag)Wawki South American

an Inca guardian-deity, the personification of the emperor's huaca

Wawn Burmese

one of the original nats created by
Chinun Way Shun

Waxmuth German

son of Hugdietrich and Hildburg
brother of Bogen and Wolfdietrich

Wayfarer Norse

a name used by Odin on some of his visits to Midgard

In this role, Odin claimed to be the son of Longbeard. (see also Wanderer)

- Wayland British
[Wayland Smith.We(i)land.Weyland:
=French Galand.=German Wieland: =Norse Volund]
the smith-god, god of craftsmen son of Wade
father of Widia
- Wayland's Smithy British
[Wayland's Stoc]
a megalithic circle in Berkshire
A horse left here with some money (sixpence) will be shod by an invisible smith.
- Wayland's Stoc
(see Wayland's Smithy)
- wazimi African in Tanzania, spirits of the dead
- Wé African
a supreme god of the Ashanti
- We (see Ve)
- We-e Mesopotamian
a leader of the Igigi
He led the Igigi in a rebellion against the god Enlil but was killed in the battle by Enlil's wife.
- We-Ota-Wichasha (see Rabbit Boy)
- Wealthew Danish
[Wealthitew] wife of Hrodgar mother of Freawaru
She was said to have owned the necklace, Brisingamen, and gave it to Beowulf when he killed Grendel and the monster's mother.
- Wealthitew (see Wealthew)
- Wealthy Father (see Dis Pater)
- weasel
a small carnivore
(1) The Chinese say that this animal has the power to bewitch humans.
(2) In Egypt the weasel is regarded as a sacred animal.
(3) In ancient Greece the Thebans worshipped the weasel.
(4) Some tribes of North American Indians say the weasel can detect hidden meanings and, using its fabled insight, forecast the arrival of the white man.
- Weaver's Festival (see Tanabata<sup>2</sup>)
- Weaving Lady
(see Chih Nü.Tanabata)
- Weaving Maiden
(see Chih Nü.Tanabata)
- Wecta Anglo-Saxon
son of Woden
- wedjat-eye (see Eye of Horus)
- Wee Folk (see Faylinn)
- Weepers (see Pleiades)
- Weeping Sisters Egyptian
Isis and Nephthys, so-called from their wailing at the death of Osiris
- Wegtam (see Vegtam)
- wehr wolf (see werewolf)
- Wei Cheng Chinese
one of the 3 Door Gods
- Wei Po-yang Chinese a 2nd c writer, author of Ts'an Tung
Ch'i
- Wei-t'ò Chinese [=Buddhist Vajrapani.=Hindu Indra.=Japanese Ida Ten]
a god of the kitchen or a war-god a guardian deity of temples and monasteries
a bodhisattva
It is said that this deity will become the last Buddha of this era, Lou-chi.
He is depicted in full armour and holding a knotty staff or club.
(see also Ti-shih.Wang<sup>4</sup>)
- Weikare African
a child of Faran Maka
- Weiland (see Wayland)
- Weird (see Wyrd)
- Weisse Frauen Norse
spirits of women
It is said that these spirits bathe at midday and try to induce mortals to help them.
- Weiwobo Japanese
a goddess, queen of the west
She is described as a beautiful, eternally young woman, ruler of the sennin.
- Wekwek North American
a falcon
In one version of the legends of the Indians of the south-west coastal area, this bird stole fire and accidentally set the world ablaze when he dropped it.
The fire was put out by Olle.
Another story says that he was killed when he was defeated by the giant, Kelok, in a stone-slinging contest, but Coyote restored him back to life. It was the body of Kelok, which was burned, which started the world-wide blaze.
- Weland (see Wayland)
- Weldegg Norse
king of East Saxony
son of Odin
- Wele African
[‘high one’.Isaiwa.Isaywa.Khakaba]
the creator-god of the Abaluyia Like the Christian god, he was said to have created all things in six days and rested on the seventh. The first couple created in this story were Mwambu and Sela.
- Wele Gumali African [Gumali]
an Ethiopian god of evil
the ‘black’ version of Wele
- Wele Omuwanga African [Omuwanga]
the ‘white’ version of Wele, the benevolent aspect
- Well Beloved Central American son of Precious Flower
He died at birth and was buried. All the plants needed to sustain human life grew from his body.
- Well Famed (see Mo-li Shou)
- Well of Conlai (see Well of Segais)
- Well of Knowledge
(see Mimisbrunnr.Well of Segais)
- Well of Life<sup>1</sup>
a source of water giving immortality
- Well of Life<sup>2</sup> African a magical water-source said to lie beneath the Sahara Alexander the Great was said to have ridden under the desert to look for this water-source.
- Well of Segais Irish [Conlai's Well.Conla's Well.Segais' Well.Well of Conlai.Well of Knowledge]
a magic well owned by the water-god, Nechtan
This magic well, a source of knowledge, was said to be under the sea in Tir inna nOg.
In some accounts, this is the well in which the salmon Fintan lived, eating the Nuts of Knowledge which fell from the overhanging hazel tree. Some say that it overflowed to become the River Boyne when Boann, in defiance of instructions to keep away from the well, walked all round it.
(see also Sinend)
- Wellamo (see Vellamo)
- Wellgunde German
one of the 3 Rhine-daughters
- Wels Baltic
a sea-god
A festival in his honour is held in October.
- Welsung German
the sword of Dietlieb
- wemawe North American
Zuni animal-spirits
- Wemicus North American
a trickster-deity of the Ojibwa
- Wen Chinese
a Taoist deity
one of the Four Diamond Kings
He is depicted as holding a spiked club.

Wen Ch'ang

(see Wen Ch'ang Ti Chün)

Wen Ch'ang Ti Chün

[Chang Ya-tzu.Wen Ch'ang.Wen Ti]

a god of literature and scholars

He was originally the Taoist scholar known as Chang Ya-tzu who became an immortal.

In some accounts, the god of literature was Tzu-t'ung while others say that it was Chung K'uei.

He is usually depicted in a long blue gown and with his four attendants.

(see also Ssu Ming)

Wen Chiao

daughter of Yin K'ai-shan wife of Ch'en

mother of Hsüan Tsang

A boatman, Liu Hung, killed her husband Ch'en and assumed his identity. She was forced to remain silent and live with the murderer until, years later, Hsüan Tsang, her son by Ch'en whom she had abandoned as an infant, came to find her. He took a message to her father who came to her rescue and killed Liu Hung.

Wen Chung T'ai-shih

[Lei Tsu]

a minister at the court of the emperor Chou Wang who became the deity Lei Tsu

Wen Fang*Wen kamui

evil spirits of the Ainu

(see also Nitne kamui)

Wen Kung*Wen Liang

an official in the celestial Ministry of Time, responsible for the daytime

Wen Shu

[=Buddhist Manjushri]

a Chinese buddha of great wisdom

He is depicted riding an elephant or the lion, Chiu-shou.

Wen Ti*Wen Wang<sup>1</sup>

[Hsi Po.Hsi Pei.Literary King.Wen Fang]

(1231-1135 BC)

father of Fa and Po I-kao
He was originally the prince, Hsi Po, and received the title of Wen Wang, Literary King, after his death.At one stage of his life, he was thrown into prison by the emperor, Chou Wang, and was forced to eat pies made from pieces of the body of his own son, Po I-kao. During this period he compiled the I Ching.Wen Wang<sup>2</sup>

a general

When his men brought him the infant Lei Jen Tsu, he handed him to a hermit who reared him. Later, when Wen Wang was taken prisoner, Lei Jen Tsu repaid the general's kindness by turning himself into a dragon and rescuing him.

Wenceslas

[Wenceslaus.Wenzel]

a duke or king of Bohemia

a saint

He was murdered by his brother, Boleslav, and later sanctified, becoming the patron saint of Czechoslovakia and brewers. His feast is celebrated on September 28th.

He is said to be sleeping with his knights under a mountain, awaiting a call to save his country.

(see also Stoymir)

Wenceslaus*Wendigo*Wene-boozhoo

son of Gleesis

brother of Stone Boy

An Ojibway maiden, daughter of the first woman on earth, was impregnated by the sun, Gleesis, and gave birth to twin boys, Wene-boozhoo and Stone Boy.

Weneland*Wenezlam

a Slavic prince

He represented Odoacer, who had seized Dietrich's kingdom, in single combat with Dietrich. Dietrich won and retrieved his kingdom, releasing his friends who had been captured by Odoacer.

Weng Cheng

the original name of White Tara.

Weng Ming*Wenhaverthe name for Guinevere in *BrutWenneffer*Wenoffer*Wenonah

daughter of Nokomis

wife of Mudjekeewis

mother of Hiawatha

She died in childbirth and Hiawatha was raised by his grandmother, Nokomis.

Wenzel*Weohstan

father of Wiglaf

Wepwawet

[Ap-uat.Apuat.Opener of Ways.Ophois.

Pathfinder.Sekhemtaui.Upua(u)t]

Chinese

Chinese

Slav

North American

North American

German

German

Tibetan

British

(see Unneffer)

(see Unneffer)

North American

Norse

Egyptian

Egyptian

Egyptian

Mesopotamian

Mer]

a Babylonian storm-god

Werbel

a musician at the court of Etzel

He and Swemmel were sent by Etzel to invite Gunther and his nobles to visit the king's court at midsummer.

Were<sup>1</sup>

[Hono.Ja Mrima.Jahera.Jalweny.Janen.

Jan'gwono.Nyakalaga.Piny k'nyal.Polo.

Ratego.Wuon Kwere.Wuon Lowo.Wuon

Ogendi.Wuon Oru.Wuonji.Wuonwa]

a god of the Luo

He controls birth and death and all nature. His weapon is the thunderbolt, used on sinners.

Were<sup>2</sup>*Werethekau

(see Vere)

werewolf

[Chin-Grelin.Galipande.Gallou.

Garelant.Gerulf.Leperou.Liberou.

loublin.Neure.versipelle.wairon.

weht.wolf.werwolf.werwulff:

=Haiti legerau]

a human said to be able to change

into a wolf

In those cases where men were turned into wolves by others, it was

said that, if they refrained from

eating human flesh for eight years,

they would be restored to their

human form.

Other animals take the place of

wolves in those places where the wolf is not feared. Examples include the bear (North America), boar

(Greece.Turkey), crocodile (Africa),

fox (China.Japan), hyaena (Africa),

jaguar (South America), leopard

(Africa), lion (Africa) and tiger

(Borneo.China.Japan).

a wolf-god, god of the underworld brother of Anubis

Depicted as having the body of a dog, jackal or wolf, he sits in the front and guides the boat Meseket which ferries Auf on his nightly journey through the underworld.

He was said to be the first to find the road to the underworld.

In some accounts he is identified with Khenti-Amentiu, in others he is the son of Osiris, while some regard him as a jackal-headed version of Anubis.

Wer<sup>1</sup>

[Harwer]

an early god

His eyes were the sun and the moon. He became assimilated as Harwer, an aspect of Horus.

Wer<sup>2</sup>

[Mer]

a Babylonian storm-god

Werbel

a musician at the court of Etzel

He and Swemmel were sent by Etzel to invite Gunther and his nobles to visit the king's court at midsummer.

Were<sup>1</sup>

[Hono.Ja Mrima.Jahera.Jalweny.Janen.

Jan'gwono.Nyakalaga.Piny k'nyal.Polo.

Ratego.Wuon Kwere.Wuon Lowo.Wuon

Ogendi.Wuon Oru.Wuonji.Wuonwa]

a god of the Luo

He controls birth and death and all nature. His weapon is the thunderbolt, used on sinners.

Were<sup>2</sup>*Werethekau

(see Urethekau)

werewolf

[Chin-Grelin.Galipande.Gallou.

Garelant.Gerulf.Leperou.Liberou.

loublin.Neure.versipelle.wairon.

weht.wolf.werwolf.werwulff:

=Haiti legerau]

a human said to be able to change

into a wolf

In those cases where men were

turned into wolves by others, it was

said that, if they refrained from

eating human flesh for eight years,

they would be restored to their

human form.

Other animals take the place of

wolves in those places where the

wolf is not feared. Examples include

the bear (North America), boar

(Greece.Turkey), crocodile (Africa),

fox (China.Japan), hyaena (Africa),

jaguar (South America), leopard

(Africa), lion (Africa) and tiger

(Borneo.China.Japan).

In European belief, a werewolf removes his skin and resumes his human shape at daybreak and will die if the skin is found and destroyed. A German story says that a person wearing a belt made from the skin of a wolf or a man who has been hanged will become a werewolf. In the lore of some North American Indians, werewolves can be either men or women. It is said that those who can become werewolves also practise witchcraft when in their normal human shape.

Weri Kumbamba African

[Mweri]

a creator-god in Uganda

Werkudara East Indian

[=Hindu Vrikodara]

a name for Bima as 'wolf-belly', in Java

werwolf (see werewolf)

werwulf (see werewolf)

Wesak Buddhist

[Buddha Day:=Pali Vesakha:=Sanskrit Vaiusakha:=Sinhalese Vesak]

a festival in honour of the Buddha, May 14th (April 8th in Japan)

West Wind (see Kabeyun.Zephyr)

Western Desert Egyptian

a part of the underworld ruled by Seker

Western Paradise<sup>1</sup> Chinese a place on the sacred mountain, K'un Lun, identified as India

This paradise was the home of Hsi Wang Mu and, later, of Kuan Yin. Admission was granted to those who constantly repeated the name of the Buddha.

Western Paradise<sup>2</sup> (see Emain Ablach)

Western Royal Mother

(see Hsi Wang Mu)

Western Tengri (see White Tengri)

Westmer British

a king of Britain

Westri Norse

[Vestri]

one of the 4 dwarfs supporting the sky (west)

Westwoods British

a site in Cambridgeshire suggested by some as the site of the Battle of Camlan

Weto Chinese

a Buddhist divine general

He is the guide who leads souls to heaven and is depicted in full armour.

Weyland (see Wayland)

Weza Burmese

necromancers

There are eight different types of weza,

each working with specific elements.

Whai-tua New Zealand

a Maori deity

offspring of Te Kore

progenitor of Maku

and Mahora-nui-a-Rangi

Whaitari (see Whaitiri)

Whaitiri New Zealand

[Waitiri.Whaitari]

a Maori cannibal sky-goddess wife of Kai Tangata

mother of Hema

She descended from the sky and married Kai Tangata whom she taught to fish with hooks. When he offended her, she left him and returned to the sky.

In some accounts, Whaitiri was a cannibal chief and Kai Tangata was the sky-goddess he married.

Whakaputa Pacific Islands

[Te Rangi Whakaputa]

a Polynesian chief

Maru had promised his daughter's hand to Whakaputa's son and, when she married Tuakeha, Whakaputa killed one of Maru's servants, so precipitating a battle between the two clans.

Whakarere-Anu Pacific Islands;

[Space of Extreme Cold]

one of 4 storm-gods

(see Multitude of Space)

Whakatau (see Matuku)

Whakatoro-Anu Pacific Islands

[Cold Space Creeping On]

one of 4 storm-gods

(see Multitude of Space)

whale

the largest marine mammal

(1) The Arabs say the whale supports the world on its back.

(2) In the Christian tradition, Jonah was saved from shipwreck when he was swallowed by a whale and vomited safely on shore after three days.

(3) In Japan the whale was a protected species, and one is said to have saved a shipwrecked emperor.

(4) In Norse mythology, these animals were often used as transport by witches and were credited with magical powers.

(5) Slav lore says that four of these animals support the world.

(6) In Taiwan the whale is said to have brought millet to the island.

Whale's Ness (see Hronesness)

whangdoodle North American

a fabulous animal

whapperknocker North American

a fabulous animal in Connecticut

Whatu New Zealand

a Maori god of hail

Whee-me-me-ow-ah

(see Whememeowah)

Wheel-eyed (see Cyclops)

Wheel of 1000 Spokes

(see Wheel of the Law)

Wheel of Good Law North American

the heaven of some tribes, envisaged as an eight-spoked wheel

Wheel of Life (see Sipa Khorlo)

Wheel of the Law Buddhist

[Holy Wheel.Wheel of 1000 Spokes.

Wheel of Life.Wheel of Truth:

=Hindu Dharmachakra]

a symbol of the powerful effect of Buddhism on other faiths

an exposition of the law of dharma

This is based on the Buddha's concept of life as a closed chain with twelve links. In the final stages of their journey through hell, the spirits of evil-doers pass through the spokes of this wheel and their life after reincarnation is determined by which gap between the spokes they escape through.

In the Lamaist version of the wheel, the central boss contains a bird, a pig and a snake linked together, representing the Three Poisons. The middle section has six divisions, the lower three comprising hell, Yiddak and the brute division; the upper three representing the homes of man, demi-gods and the gods. The outer rim of the wheel is divided into twelve sections (the links of the chain) representing the various stages of life.

(see also Sipa Khorlo)

Wheel of Truth

(see Wheel of the Law)

Whememeowah North American

[ˈgreat chiefː.Great Chief

Above.Whee-me-me-ow-ah]

a creator-god of the Yakima tribe

In the beginning, only this deity existed in the sky. To cure his boredom, he paddled in the primordial waters and made the world and all things in it from the mud at the bottom of the ocean.

Wheenua (see Papa<sup>2</sup>)

Where-Ao Pacific Islands

an ancestral god

Whetstone of Tudwal British

[Hogalen Tudno]

a stone that would sharpen only the weapons of the brave

This stone became one of the Thirteen Treasures of Britain collected by Merlin.

Whi (see Lisa)

whiffenpoof (see giddy fish)

whiffenpuff (see giddy fish)

whifflepoof (see giddy fish)

whifflepoof (see giddy fish)

Whinnymoor Celtic

in Gaul, an area of gorse which the souls of the dead pass through

whintossa Central American

a fabulous animal

Whirling-wheel Norse

a name for the moon

whirling wimpus North American

a fabulous animal

whirlpool

a sea-monster like a whale

Whirlwind<sup>1</sup> North American

a spirit of the Hidatsa Indians

It is said that, when a person is buried, the spirit rises from the grave in the form of a small whirlwind.

Whirlwind<sup>2</sup> North American

one of the Four Kindred Gods of the Sioux

Whiro New Zealand

an evil Maori lizard-god, god of the dead

Whiskey Jack (see Wisagatcak)

Whistle-gust Norse

a name for the wind

whistler

a mythical bird whose whistle was fatal to all who heard it

Whistling God (see Hasje Iditchonsi)

Whistling Grandmother

North American

an evil spirit of the tribes of the north-west

This being is said to breathe out sickness which causes the death of young children.

White Body North American

a Navaho god

It is said that this was one of four gods encountered by the tribe during their ascent from below the earth into the upper world.

White Bone Lady Chinese

a spirit who captured Hsüan Tsang

In one of his adventures on his journey to India, Hsüan Tsang was captured by this being but Sun Houtzu rescued him.

White Book of Rhydderch Welsh

[Llyfr Gwyn Rhydderch]

a 14th c book of early legends

White Brother (see Bahana)

White Buffalo Woman North American

[Ptesan-Wi.White She-Buffalo]

an ancestral heroine of the Sioux

This maiden brought to the tribe the sacred pipe used in their ceremonies and drops of milk which, when planted, produced maize. Having taught the tribes the secrets of agriculture and magic ritual, she changed into a buffalo and left.

White Bull, The (see Whitehorn)

White Castle (see Castle Blank)

White Corn North American

a Tewa maiden

wife of Tiny Flower

It is said that she was lured away by a Kachina rain-spirit who lived on top of a mountain. Her husband rescued her with the help of a magic pipe and lightning bolts given to him by Spider Woman.

White-corn Boy North American

a Navaho deity

He, together with Yellow-corn Girl, was placed on Mount San Francisco by Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin when they formed the land of the Navaho on their ascent from the underworld.

White Corn Maiden North American

wife of Deerhunter

This young Tewa maiden was the prettiest and most talented girl of her tribe and she fell in love with their finest hunter, a youth named Deerhunter. They married and became inseparable, neglecting everything so that they could be together. When White Corn Maiden died soon afterwards, Deerhunter was inconsolable and wandered the plains seeking her spirit. He found her, apparently unchanged, and persuaded her to return with him. Soon the smells and signs of death appeared and her husband was repelled but she would not be parted from him and followed him wherever he went. Eventually a spirit in the form of a tall hunter with a huge bow appeared and told the couple that they had offended the gods by their behaviour. To ensure that they always remained together, he shot each of them into the heavens where they now appear as two stars, the smaller one forever following the other across the sky. (see also Willow Flower)

White Crane Youth Chinese

[Pai-ho T'ung-tzu]

a disciple of Yüan-shih

This youth was sent by the Old Man of the South Pole to intervene in the contest of magic between Chiang Tzu-ya and Shen Yung-pao who had cut off his own head and caused it to float in the air. The youth would have carried the head off but Chiang persuaded him to rejoin it to Shen's body.

He killed Chan Shao with his jade club when Chan tried to kill his master with hot sand.

White Deity Malay

a sun-god, god of the noonday sun (see also Yellow Deity)

White Demon, The (see Dew-i-Safid)

White Feather (see Chacopee)

White Ghost (see Yuki-Onna)

White Giant (see Mbomba<sup>1</sup>)

White God (see Bylebog.Heimdall)

White Goddess<sup>1</sup> Greek

a name variously given to Albina,

Alphito, Artemis, Belli, Cybele,

Demeter, Ino, Io, Leucippe

and Marpessa

White Goddess<sup>2</sup> (see Freya.Hag of the Mill.Olwen.Samothea)

White Hactcin North American

a supernatural being of the Apache

He gave Holy Boy the sun which he placed in the heavens.

White Haoma (see Gaokerana)

White Hare North American

[Maker of White.Wabasso.Wabosso]

the name for Great Hare in the lore

of the Potawatomi people

He is regarded as a brother of Nanabozho and, it is said, he was turned into a white hare (or rabbit) when the sun first appeared. He later became a deity.

In some accounts he is called Wolf.

(see also Chibiabos)

White Hart British

a deer that changed into a man

Bors, Galahad and Percival, on the Grail Quest, followed this animal, which was attended by four lions, to a hermitage. The hart became a man, the lions became a man, a beast, a calf and an eagle, all with wings. The four lifted the deer/man on a throne and disappeared through a window without breaking the glass.

White Hawk (see Gwalchgwyn)

White Hom (see Gaokerana)

White Horse<sup>1</sup> Chinese

the steed given to Hsüan Tsang for use on his journey to India

In some accounts, this horse was swallowed by a water-monster but Kuan Yin intervened to obtain a pardon for the convicted son of a Dragon King, turning him into an identical copy of the horse which then carried Hsuan Tsang during the remainder of his journey.

White Horse<sup>2</sup> (see Bach-ma)

White House (see Airgtheach)

White Island (see Leuce<sup>2</sup>)

White Kingdom Pacific Islands

the realm of the moon-goddess, Lona

White Knight British

a knight of King Arthur's court

son of the king of Gaul

White Lady<sup>1</sup> French

a wayside spirit

These spirits accost travellers in ravines or near bridges and ask them to dance. Those who refuse are thrown into the ravine or river.

(see also Dame Blanche)

White Lady<sup>2</sup> (see Bertha<sup>3</sup>)

White Lady of Avenel Irish

a banshee

White Lord (see Po-ti)

white magic

wonder-working without the aid of evil spirits, with beneficial intent: a form of witchcraft

White Mare<sup>1</sup> British

the horse of Epona or Rhiannon

White Mare<sup>2</sup> Irish

[Lair Bhan]

the leader of the procession on the eve of Samhain

This man, dressed in a white robe, carried a fake horse's head. Food was left out overnight to propitiate the spirits of the dead. (see also lair ban)

White Merle Basque

a fairy which has the power to restore sight

White Mount British

[=Welsh Bryn Gwyn]

Tower Hill in London

It was here that the decapitated head of Bran lay buried until it was dug up, years later, by King Arthur.

White One (see Gwenhwyfar.Ioskeha)

White Painted Woman<sup>1</sup> North American

the earth-mother, the female principle of the Chiricahua tribe

White Painted Woman<sup>2</sup> (see Yol kai Estsan)

White Serpent (see Lady of the Lake)

White She-Buffero (see White Buffalo Woman)

White Shell Woman (see Yol kai Estsan)

White Snake of Hangchow Chinese a monster in the form of a huge snake

This beast lived for thousands of years and brought many disasters on the city. Then she changed into a woman who married a young man but, when she drank some wine, she turned back into a snake, causing her husband to flee in terror. A priest captured her spirit in a box which he buried on the shore.

White Sow Goddess (see Albina.Alphito.Ceridwen)

White Swan, The (see Gwen<sup>3</sup>)

White, T. H. English

a 20th c writer, author of A Once and Future King, stories of King Arthur and his knights

White Tara Buddhist

[Aryajangulitara.Sukla-Tara.=Hindu

Pandaravasini: =Tibetan sGrol-dkar]

a Tibetan queen regarded as an incarnation of Tara

wife of Song-tsen Gam-po

She was originally the Chinese princess Weng Cheng who married a Tibetan warrior-king and came to be regarded as an incarnation of Sitatara.

White Tengri Mongol

[Western Tengri]

a benevolent aspect of Tengri

White Tezcatlipoca Central American
an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as Quetzalcoatl, guardian of the west

White Thunderbird North American

one of the elders of the Thunderbirds

He and the other three elders guarded the nest holding the eggs from which other Thunderbirds were hatched.

He was the guardian of the south and, in some accounts, was referred to as Blue Thunderbird.

White Tiger<sup>1</sup> Japanese

guardian of the western quadrant of the Zodiac

White Tiger<sup>2</sup> (see Pai Hu.Yin Chen Hsin)

White Track (see Niwalen)

White Turk (see Twrch Trwyth)

white witch<sup>1</sup>
a witch practising white magic

White Witch<sup>2</sup> (see Orwen)

White Woman (see Iztac Ciuat<sup>1</sup>)

White Youth Baltic

a Finnish deity regarded as the father of mankind

Whitehorn Irish

[Find Bennach.Finn(h)e(a)nach.

Finnebenach.White Bull]

It is said that Friuch and Rucht changed shape many times in their feuding and, in the form of worms, were swallowed by cows and reborn as bulls. Whitehorn was born into

Maev's herd but regarded it as an indignity to be owned by a woman, even the queen of Connaught, so he moved to the herd owned by her husband, Ailill. Maev then coveted the Brown Bull of Cooley and persuaded her husband to raid Ulster to seize it for her. The two bulls fought and Whitehorn was killed. In one story, the Brown Bull carried the dead Whitehorn back to Ulster on its horns. (see also Friuch)

Whooper Norse

a name for the wind

Whope North American

a goddess of the Sioux Indians

daughter of Wi

She was sent to earth to bring the pipe of peace.

Wi North American

['sun']

a sun-god, one of the Four Superior

Gods of the Sioux

father of Whope

He was regarded as an aspect of Wakan Tanka.

Wiamot (see Ouiot)

wicca<sup>1</sup>

an old name for a male witch

wicca<sup>2</sup>

paganism: witchcraft

Wicca<sup>3</sup>

a cult practising witchcraft

Wiccan

a member of the Wicca cult

Wichama (see Vichama)

Wicked Spirit (see Coulobre)

Wicram Norse

a giant

He helped Nitger to capture and imprison Dietrich von Bern.

Widerolf, Bishop (see Bishop Widerolf)

Widia Anglo-Saxon

[=Norse Wittich]

son of Wayland

In some accounts he is equated with Witege.

Widjingara Australian

in the lore of the Aborigines, the first human to die

He was killed by Wandjara and is regarded as incarnate in the native cat.

widodari (see widyadhari)

Widow (see Rangda)

Widukind European

[Guitechin.Guiteclin.Wittekind]

a Saxon king

He led a revolt against the rule of Charlemagne but his army was defeated and he was killed. Others say that he was captured and died in captivity shortly afterwards.

widyadhari East Indian

[widodari.wijadhari]

the Javanese version of vidyadhari

Wieland German

the German form of Volund

or Wayland

Wiendigo (see Windigo)

Wieszczy (see Upir)

Wigalois<sup>1</sup> British

son of Gawain and Florie

husband of Larie

He did not know his father and, when he grew up, set out to find him. He joined King Arthur's court and was sent on a quest to help the widowed queen Amene who was being oppressed by Roaz. Having defeated Roaz, Wigalois married the queen's daughter, Larie.

Another version says that the besieged Lady of Kornton herself was Larie and Wigalois could marry her only after defeating Roaz which he did after various other adventures, during the course of which he defeated the hag Rual and killed the dragon Pfetan with divine help.

Wigalois<sup>2</sup> German

a 13th c German story about

Wigalois, son of Gawain, written by Grafenberg

Wigan Pacific Islands

brother and husband of Bugar

This couple were the sole survivors of the flood in the lore of the Philippines.

Wigit North American

a raven-spirit of the Haida Indians

wiggle-wiffit Norse

a fabulous animal

Wiglaf Danish

a follower of Beowulf

son of Weohstan

When one of Othere's sons killed Heardred, Wiglaf promptly slew the killer.

It is said that in a fight with the Firedrake, Wiglaf was the only one to stay and help Beowulf who, despite killing the dragon, was mortally wounded. As a final act, Beowulf gave the young man his armour and weapons.

Wihio North American

a trickster-god of the Cheyenne

Wihgils British

an ancestor of Hengist

Wiikita North American

a solstice festival of the Papago tribe

wijadhari (see widyadhari)

Wikramadatta East Indian

a king of the giants in Java

He made the people surrender all their weapons with the result that there was no more strife on the island.

Wild Boar (see Wildeber)

Wild Boy North American

a lightning-god of the Cherokee

one of the Thunder Boys

son of Kanati and Seru

brother of Tame Boy

Wild Cat North American

a hunter-god of some Indian tribes

brother of Coyote

Wild Edric British

a man who married an elf-maiden

It is said that the elf-maiden married Edric on the understanding that he would never reproach her and, when he broke his promise, she vanished.

Wild Herdsman

a name given to various characters

with power over wild animals

Two such characters are Custennin in the story of Culhwch and Olwen and the black giant in the story of the Lady of the Fountain.

Wild Hunt European

[Asgardreia.Asgard(s)reid.Cain's

Hunt.Devil and his Dandy Dogs.

Gabriel's Hounds.Herod's Hunt.

Raging Host.Woden's Hunt:

=Anglo-Saxon Chasse Artur:

=English Herlathing.Wish Hunt:

=French Mesnée d'Hellequin:

=Norse Asgardsreid.Gandr(i)eid]

a noisy phantom host rushing through the sky on horseback accompanied by a pack of hounds

One explanation of the origins of the Wild Hunt involves the Cornish priest, Dando, who was a keen huntsman. Finding that all the flasks of his hunting-party were empty, he declared that he 'would go to hell for a drink', whereupon the Devil, in the form of a huntsman, gave him a full cup but then put Dando in front of him on his horse which galloped off with both of them. When they crossed a stream, fire blazed from the water and the horse, riders and dogs disappeared forever.

It is said that anyone who sees the Wild Hunt is likely to suffer some injury or even death but such results can be avoided by asking the riders for parsley.

Those who mocked the spirits could be whisked away; those who joined in the hullabaloo might be rewarded with the leg of a horse thrown down from the sky which would miraculously turn into gold the following day. The Hunt presaged an on-coming storm, a plague, the outbreak of war or some similar misfortune. On occasions, a black dog would be left behind by the Hunt and this could be exorcised only by brewing beer in egg-shells. Some say the hunt was led by King Arthur, others that it was chasing the criminal, Tregeagle.

Some people say that the bird known as the night-raven flies with the Wild Hunt.

(see also Herelethingi.Hounds of Hell)

Wild Huntsman European

[=French Great Huntsman

of Fontainebleu]

the leader of the Wild Hunt

In the Norse mythology it was Odin, in France Charlemagne, in England King Arthur. Other suggested leaders were Cain, Dietrich von Bern, Erlkonig, Frederick Barbarossa, Gabriel, Hans von Hackelberg, Harlequin, Hel, Herla, Hermes, Herod or the Wandering Jew. In some parts of Germany, the leader is said to be Frau Gode.

Wild Reindeer Buck (see Elwe'kyen)

Wildeber German

[Wild Boar]

a warrior in Dietrich's forces

He seized the plumage of a mermaid and, to get it back, she gave him a magic bracelet which gave him great strength.

When Wittich was captured and imprisoned by Hertnit, Wildeber, dressed as a dancing bear, got access to the prison, killed Hertnit and rescued Wittich.

wile (see vila)

Wili (see Vili)

will-am-alone North American

a fabulous animal

Willi (see Vila)

William of Malmesbury British

a 12th c historian

His historical work Gesta Regum Anglorum includes stories of King Arthur in which the king is depicted as a great warrior.

Williams, C. W. English

(1886-1945)

a poet and novelist

He was the author of several works on Arthurian themes, including Taliesin Through Logres.

Willow Flower North American

a Pueblo girl wife of Ca-peen

She died young but Ca-peen found her again in a house outside the village. He stayed overnight with her but recoiled from the stench of her dead body and fled. Both were shot into the sky by a medicine man.

(see also White Corn Maiden)

Wilolane North American

a lightning-spirit of the Zuni

Wilotama East Indian

a Javanese nymph mother of Aswatama

She took the form of a flying mare to carry the sage Durna from India to Java. His sperm impregnated her and she bore a son called Aswatama.

Wimpe (see Winpe)Win-pe (see Winpe)Winabozho (see Manabozho)wind<sup>1</sup>

—Greek and Roman

Winds (venti) play an important part in Greek and Roman myths, sometimes personified or deified. There are a number of variations in the names given to the winds, some of which are listed below:

North:	Aparctias.Aquilo(n). Boreas.Sepentrio
-east:	Ap(h)eliotes.Caicias Meses.Solanus
-north-west:	Thra(s)cias
-west:	Argestes.Caurus.Chrus. Circius.Corus.Iapyx. Olympias.Sciron
East:	Ap(h)eliotes.Eurus
South:	Auster.Notus
-east:	Eurus.Phoenicias Volturnus
-west:	Afer ventus.Africus Auster.Notus
West:	Aquilo.Favonius Zephyr(us)
-south-west:	Libs

In some accounts, they are the offspring of Aeolus and Eos. In others the benevolent winds are sons of Atracus and Eos while the stormy winds are the offspring of Typhoeus. (see also Aeolus<sup>1</sup>)

—Pacific Islands

Winds are very important in the life of the Polynesians, fine sailors and fishermen. The north wind was Matuu, the south wind was Hakona Tipu or Tua-uo-Loa and the south-west wind was Tonga. A soft breeze was called Fisaga.

Wind<sup>2</sup> North American

one of the Four Associated Gods of the Sioux

Wind Age Norse

one of the 4 ages referred to in the Eddas

Wind-Fine Wheel Chinese

a means of rapid transport used by Li No-cha

Wind Men (see Lunggompá)Wind-Nine-Cave Central American

a primordial god of the Mixtecs

son of Puma-Snake and Jaguar-Snake

brother of Wind-Nine-Snake

He and his brother were given the power to change into the form of any animal or bird and to become invisible. They were for progenitors of the human race.

Wind-Nine-Snake Central American

a primordial god of the Mixtecs

son of Puma-Snake and Jaguar-Snake

brother of Wind-Nine-Cave

He and his brother were given the power to change into the form of any animal or bird and to become invisible. They were for progenitors of the human race.

Wind Old man North American

a wind-spirit of the Pueblo tribes

Wind Old Woman North American

a wind-spirit of the Pueblo tribes

Wind-Ruler North American

husband of Breath of Wind

father of Tawiscara and loskeha

Windbreath (see Breath of Wind)Windfall Run British

the site of Great Spirit Springs in North America

In some stories, King Arthur went to America and took the healing waters at this spring when he was wounded.

Windigo<sup>1</sup> Inuit

[W(i)endigo]

an ice-god

This man-eating monster of the icy wastes of North America was said to have been a human being whose love of human flesh turned him into a monster.

Windigo<sup>2</sup> North American

[W(i)endigo]

a cannibalistic monster of the Algonquians

Any man who is lost in the forest is soon driven to eating human flesh and so becomes a windigo.

Winefred (see Unneffer)Winet (see Winetland)Winetland British

[Wenland.Winet]

in some accounts, the realm of Rummaret

winged disc Egyptian

[py wer]

the solar disc with the wings of a hawk on either side, symbol of

Horus

Wingi (see Knefrud)windjan Thai

the soul of the individual which leaves the body at death

(see also khwan)

Winjarning Brothers Australian

2 great wirununs

These brothers spent the whole of their lives helping those who appealed to them for help and were responsible for the extermination of the Keen Keengs and many other monsters.

Winlaye British

daughter of Bragas

This haughty maiden rejected the love of Edgar, saying that she would consider him only when he had proved himself the greatest champion. She had to humble herself when, as the result of an elaborate trick involving Edgar's friend Grahame, it appeared that Edgar had killed the tyrant, Grey-steel, and they were married. When she learned the truth, that it was Grahame who had killed Grey-steel, she left Edgar and retired to a convent where she died.

Winloge British

a carved figure in the cathedral

in Modena, said by some to represent Guinevere

Winner of Battles

(see Laoghaire Buadhach)

Winpe North American

[Wimpe.Win-pe]

a giant Algonquian sorcerer

In a struggle with Gluskap, he abducted Gluskap's family and took them off in a canoe. Gluskap rode on the back of a fish to overtake them and rescue his family. Winpe grew taller than a tree but Gluskap grew even higher and killed him by striking him with the end of his bow.

Winter Ghost (see Yuki-Onna)Winter Mother North American

a guardian spirit of the Tewa tribe

She guarded one of the two caves in which humans sheltered while the earth dried out after the primordial ocean had receded. The other cave was guarded by Summer Mother.

Winter-snake charm (see ch'iu-she)

Winti South American

[Wintima]

a wind-spirit in the Guianas: a priest practising magic

Wintima (see winti)

wintiman (see lukuman)

Winwina North American

a guardian deity of the salmon among the tribes of British Columbia

Winyan Ohitika (see Makhta)

Wip (see Anubis)

Wirachita Pacific Islands

son of Diarsa

His parents gave hospitality to a beggar even though they had little to spare. The beggar took Wirachita as a follower and then, revealing himself to be Siwa, took the youth to heaven where he became stronger than any mortal and was returned to earth as a king.

Wiraqocha (see Viracocha)

wireneen (see wirinun)

wirinun Australian

[wir(r)eenen.wirrinun]

an Aboriginal sorcerer or medicine-man

Wiremu Ratana New Zealand

[Ratana.Te Mangai]

the Maori founder of the Ratana Church

Ratana himself was revered as a god-like being.

wirreeneen (see wirinun)

wirricow Scottish

[worrlicow.worrycow]

a hobgoblin

wirrinun (see wirinun)

Wisaaka (see Wisaka)

Wisagatcak North American

[Whiskey Jack.Wisakedjak.Wisagatcak.

Wolverine:=Fox Wisaka]

a trickster-god of the Cree Indians

He annoyed Gitche Manitou by stirring up trouble between man and animals so the supreme god sent a flood which only a few (including Wisagatcak) survived to repopulate the world.

Another version says that when he failed to spear a beaver, he brought down their dam. The beavers used their magic to keep the waters flowing until they covered the whole world. Wisagatcak made a raft and saved as many animals as he could. Several died trying to find land under the waters and finally the wolf spread moss over the raft. Earth grew in the moss and kept on growing until it covered the raft and finally the whole world.

Wisaka North American

[Wisaaka:=Abnaki Gluskap:

=Cree.Wisagatcak]

an ancestral hero of the Fox Indians

He is said to have given man a large soul; the small soul came from the supreme deity.

Wisakedjak (see Wisagatcak)

Wisdom Buddhas (see Dhyani Buddhas)

Wise Elf (see Volund)

Wise Lips (see Fergus*)

Wise Lord (see Ahura Mazda)

Wise One North American

brother of Killer-of-Enemies

Wise One of the Sea (see Daiera)

Wise Woman's Prophecy (see Voluspa)

Wisgatcat (see Wisagatcak)

Wish God (see Odin)

Wish Hounds British

the dogs accompanying the Midnight Hunter when the Wish Hunt appears over Dartmoor

(see also Yeth Hounds)

Wish Hunt British

a version of the Wild Hunt

This version is said to have been seen over Dartmoor and is led by the Midnight Hunter accompanied by his pack of Wish Hounds.

(see also Wild Hunt)

Wish Maidens (see Valkyries)

wishinu South American

a shaman in Ecuador

Wishnu (see Vishnu)

Wishpoosh North American

a monster in the form of a beaver

This monster appears in the lore of the Nez Percé Indians, and they are his descendants. The trickster-god, Coyote, fought a titanic battle with the monster, winning when he turned himself first into a branch that the monster swallowed and then back into his normal shape, stabbing the monster in the heart. Coyote then created new tribes from the immense carcase of Wishpoosh.

wisiman (see lukuman)

Wisnu Pacific Islands

[Narai.Narayana.Prabu Makukuwan:

=Cambodian Hari:=Hindu Vishnu]

a Balinese god, guardian of the north

son of Bataru Guru

consort of Dewi Sri

Witburgis (see Guibourc)

witch

[cunning woman:male=warlock]

a woman with supernatural powers derived from some evil spirit

These beings are said to have two pupils in each eye and the power of flight, sometimes riding on a broomstick or besom. Others say that the witch was a vampire who fed on human flesh and particularly that of new-born babies. Many convicted of witchcraft were burned at the stake.

It was said that a witch could shed only three tears (always from her left eye), had a birthmark in her armpit or under her nose and had poisonous spittle so that a bite from a witch was fatal.

In Africa, witches are said to ride hyaenas by night; other say that they can become hyaenas at will.

witch-doctor African

one who smells out witches and casts or counteracts magic spells

(see also juju man.medicine-man.shaman)

witch-finder

one who smells out witches

Witch God

(see Red Champion.Robin)

witch mark

an extra breast or nipple

It was said that a witch could be recognised by the presence of such a feature which provided nourishment for the witch's familiar.

witchcraft

[faticaria.black magic.necromancy.

the black art.witchery]

the art of the witch: the exercise of supernatural powers: sorcery:

wizardry

Witches of Caer Llyw Welsh

the Welsh version of the Hags

of Gloucester

Witches' Sabbath (see Sabbat)

witchknot

a knot in the hair of horses, etc.

resulting from witchcraft

Witege<sup>1</sup> British

a smith

He made some of King Arthur's armour. In some accounts he is identified as Widia, son of the smith-god, Wayland.

Witege<sup>2</sup> (see Wittich)

Witherer (see Sushna)

Withering Wind of Summer

(see Susanowa)

Witij

Australian

a snake-spirit of the Aborigines who was said to cause the monsoon rains

Witta

Anglo-Saxon

an ancestor of Hengist

Witsanukam Thai

a supreme god, architect of the gods

Wittich German

[Vigda.Witege.Wittig:=Anglo-Saxon Widia]

son of Wieland

husband of Bolfriana

It is said that his father made him a suit of armour and gave him the magic sword, Miming, before he set off to challenge Dietrich. En route to the encounter, he met Hildebrand who stole Miming to save his friend Dietrich from its blows and, when Wittich fought Dietrich with the sword that Hildebrand had substituted, it broke in his hand. Hildebrand then returned Miming to its rightful owner and with it Wittich defeated Dietrich but became one of his devoted followers.

In the battle with Osantrix, when Dietrich and his warriors helped Etzel, Wittich was imprisoned by Hertnit, brother of Osantrix. He was rescued by Wildeber who dressed in the skin of a bear and killed Hertnit.

After helping Dietrich in the defeat of the rebellious Rimstein, he was given the hand of Bolfriana.

He later turned traitor and killed Diether, brother of Dietrich who would have killed Wittich had he not plunged into the sea where his grandmother, the sea-witch Watchilt, took him to safety. (see also Heime)

Wittig (see Wittich)Wiu African

a Sudanese war-god and god of storms

wivern

[wyvern]

a winged monster in the form of a dragon with 2 legs

The wingless form of this beast is known as the lindworm.

Wixalagillis North American

a guardian deity of the Kwakiutl tribe

Wiyot (see Ouiot.Wy'ot)wizard

[cunning man]

one skilled in magic

Wizard's Foot (see pentacle)Wlencing British

son of Aelle

brother of Cissa and Cymen

Wo African

the chimpanzee

son of Zamba

brother of Ngi, Nkoko and Otkut

Zamba allowed his four sons to make human beings and Wo made the inquisitive ones.

Wo Huang Chinese

one of the Hsien Fu-jen

daughter of Yao

sister of Nü Ying

Wo-usu Japanese

a name for O-Usu-no-Mikito

(Yamato Take) as Little Foot Pestle

Wo-Wakan North American

in the lore of the Sioux, the supernatural, one of the 7 forms of mankind developed from We-Ota-

Wachisha

Woarion Greek

an early name for Orion

Wodan German

[Godan.Grim.Poudan.Uuodan.Votan.

W(u)otan:=Anglo-Saxon.Woden:

=Norse Odin]

a war-god

the German form of Odin

(see also Wooanaz)

wodehouse

a monster in the form of a man

covered with green hair

Wode (see Frau Gode.Wudes Heer)Woden Anglo-Saxon

[Voden.Votan.Wotan:=German Wodan:

=Norse Odin]

a war-god

father of Wecta (see also Wooanaz)

Woden's Hunt (see Wild Hunt)wodez Russian

an evil spirit

There are many such spirits, each connected with one specific item such as fire, a house, water, etc.

Wodoy Australian

a culture-hero of the Aborigines

He and Djunggun each married the other's daughter and, when Djunggun tried to keep his own daughter, Wodoy killed him. Both men were turned into nightjars.

Wodziwob North American

a 19th c Paiute medicine-man

He proclaimed a vision of ancestors returning and the destruction of the white man to be brought about by Ghost Dances which he had been taught and which he passed on to his adherents. (see also Wovoka)

Woge North American

in the lore of the Yurok Indians, the race of beings which first inhabited the world

Woglinde German

one of the 3 Rhine-daughters

Wohpekumen North American

a creator-god of the Yurok

He was the creator of the Woge and, when they finally died out, Skate Woman carried him away to a country across the sea.

Woi-shun Burmese

offspring of Hkrip Hkrawp

and Sik Sawp

consort of Chanun

parent of Ngawn-wa Ma-gam

Woi-shun and Chanun are regarded as the creators of all things.

Woinunggur (see Yurlungur)Wokuk North American

a mythical bird

The Wintun tribe say that many of the animals sprang from a feather of this huge bird.

Wokulos African

Mali bush-spirits

These beings are said to be about three feet tall with large heads and feet pointing to the rear. They can see through solid objects and can make themselves invisible at will. They eat as slaves to Dume, a devil.

Woland (see Volund)Wolaro Australian

a creator-spirit of the Gwini tribe

father of Dagubal

He is said to have created the world and all that is in it with the help of the birds, his son and the Rainbow Serpent.

wolf

a fierce carnivore

(1) In Greece, the wolf was regarded as the animal of both Apollo and Ares.

(2) In Egypt, the wolf was sacred to Wepwawet.

(3) In Irish lore, a she-wolf suckled Cormac mac Airt.

(4) Some North American Indian tribes say that a man's soul can pass into a wolf while others claim wolves as their ancestors.

(5) Roman lore claims that Romulus and Remus, the founders of Rome, were suckled by a she-wolf.

It was also said that, if a man saw a wolf with its mouth shut, the beast would never be able to open it again. On the other hand, if a wolf saw a man with his mouth shut, that man would lose the power of speech.

Wolf North American

a creator-deity of the Shoshone

Coyote asked Wolf to restore his son who had been killed by a snake-bite but Wolf reminded him of an earlier discussion in which Coyote had said that the dead should not be brought back to life, otherwise the world would soon become overcrowded.

(see also Malsum)

Wolf Age Norse
one of the 4 ages referred to in the Eddas

wolf madness (see lycanthropy)

Wolf-Man North American

a creator-deity of the Arikara
He and Lucky Man appeared over the primordial waters and created the world from soil brought up by the ducks. He created the prairies while Lucky Man created the hills and valleys.

(see also Lucky Man)

Wolf Prey God North American
one of the 6 Prey Gods guarding the home of Po-shai-an-K'ia

It is believed that this being is responsible for the east.

Wolfdietrich German

son of Hugdietrich and Hildburg
brother of Bogen and Waxmuth husband of Sigeminne and Liebgart father of Hugdietrich

As a baby, he was taken by wolves but was recovered by his grandfather, Walgund, and Berchther.

He inherited the sovereignty of Constantinople when his father died but the nobles, who had been turned against Wolfdietrich and his mother by malicious rumours started by Sabene, refused to accept him and gave the throne to Sabene who banished Hildburg and her sons. Wolfdietrich raised a force to recover his kingdom but was defeated. He drew back to a castle where he was besieged for some years by Sabene's army, finally slipping out to seek help from Ortnit.

En route, he met the bear-woman, Rauch-Else, who gave him a magic root to eat. It is said that when he proposed to marry her, she was restored to her former self as the beautiful princess Sigeminne. Forgetting his besieged family and friends, he lived with Sigeminne for some time. She was once abducted by the magician, Drusian, but Wolfdietrich managed to rescue her. When she died, he set off again to find help for the besieged.

After killing the tyrant Belligan, who adorned the city walls with the skulls of Christians he had killed, Wolfdietrich met a giantess who told him how Ortnit had been killed by the dragons. He met the grieving Liebgart and went off to fight the dragons but was overcome and thrown to the young dragons for food. He found the magic ring of Ortnit and his sword, Rosen, which he used to kill all the dragons. A knight named Gerhart claimed to have killed the dragons but Wolfdietrich was able to produce the dragons' tongues which he had cut out, so proving his own claim. Liebhart recognised her late husband's ring and realised that Wolfdietrich was the knight who Ortnit had said would help her.

He married Liebgart and later took an army to Constantinople to rescue his family and friends. He had Sabene executed and became emperor. He and Liebgart had a son whom they called Hugdietrich after his grandfather.

It was said that Wolfdietrich lived to be 501 years of age.

Wolhart German

a warrior
nephew of Dietrich von Bern
He accompanied Dietrich, Hildebrand and Wittich when they rescued Kunhild. He was also one of the party captured by Ermenrich.

Wolfram German

a friend of Tannhäuser
a suitor for the hand of Elizabeth wolfsbane (see aconite)

Wolkenthrut Norse

one of the Valkyries

Wolunkwa

a name for the Rainbow Snake

Wolverine<sup>1</sup> North American

a trickster-deity of some Algonquian tribes

Wolverine<sup>2</sup> (see Wisagatcak)

Woman Chun Chinese

a woman who was deified
She was exposed on a mountainside as a sacrifice to lift a drought and died in the heat of the sun.

Her shrivelled body was deified.

Woman Kua Chinese

a primeval being
In some versions of the creation story, she assisted Pan-ku by making humans from clay.

In later years she was regarded as the initiator of marriage.

Woman of the North-east Wind

(see Sinebomatu)

Woman of the Sea Inuit

a sea-goddess

Woman of the Waters (see Nchiengé)

Woman Shaman (see Roimikumu)

Women of the Sea Greek

attendants on Dionysus

Women of Trachis Greek

[Trachiniae]

a play by Sophocles dealing with Deianeira and Iole and the death of Heracles

Wonajo East Indian

[Wanajo]

a culture-hero of Rossel Island

He is said to have brought the dog, the pig and the taro to his people.

He is envisaged in the form of a snake.

Wonambi

[Worombi]

a name for the Rainbow Snake

Wonders of Creation

(see Aja'ib al-Makhlukat)

Wondjina (see Wandjina)

Wongan Australian

the ancestral spirits of the tribes of Arnhem Land who lived in the dream-time, Bamum

Wonomi North American

[Kodo-yampe.Kodo-yapeu.Kodo-yaponi]
the creator god of the Maidu Indians

He and Coyote created the first man and woman from wooden images and showed them how to revivify the dead by immersing them in a lake. He was eventually deposed by Coyote and retreated to the heavens.

Wooanaz German

a war-god (see also Wodan.Woden)

Wood Maidens (see Tree Maidens)

Wood of Two Sallows Irish

a wood to which Angus Og took Grania

Angus rescued Grania when she and Dermot were trapped by the Fianna in the Wood of Two Tents. Dermot escaped by his own efforts and was reunited with Grania in the Wood of Two Sallows.

Wood of Two Tents Irish

a wood where Dermot and Grania were trapped by the Fianna

Angus Og intervened to save Grania and took her to the Wood of Two Sallows where she was later reunited with Dermot who escaped by his own efforts.

wood-spirit

a spirit living in the forest

Wooden Horse<sup>1</sup> Spanish

[Clavileno]
a magic horse

This animal could be controlled by a peg protruding from its head to take its rider wherever he wished to go.

(see also Brazen Horse)

Wooden Horse<sup>2</sup> *(see Trojan Horse. Trojan War)woodhouse

[woodwose.(w)oooser]
a satyr or faun: a minor woodland god: a god of shepherds woodpecker Greek

a bird sacred to Ares: a form sometimes assumed by Zeus

Woodtick North American

a character in one of the stories about Coyote

She gave Coyote meat when he was starving and he went to live with her. She kept them well supplied with meat by calling the deer to her tent where she pierced the ears of two and let the rest go free. Coyote thought that he could do the same so he killed Woodtick. When he tried to do what she had done, all the meat in the tent turned into deer and ran away and Coyote was soon starving again.

(see woodhouse)

Woing of Emer (see Tochmarc Emire)Woing of Etain (see Tochmarc Etaine)woolsaw Central American

an evil spirit

wooser (see woodhouse)Woot African

an ancestral king of the Bakuba son of Mbomba
brother and husband of Mweel
father of Nyimi Lele

It is said that he was one of nine sons of Mbomba, all called Woot, all of whom helped their father in different aspects of creation. One of the sons was banished for sleeping with his sister, Mweel, and he put a curse on the village so that all the women living there became barren as a result. He eventually relented and became the ancestor of the Bakuba royal family.

Wordsworth, William English

(1770-1850)
a poet

He wrote Laodamia.

Works and Days Greek

a poem by Hesiod

Although the theme of this work is agriculture, it contains much information on myths.

World Maintainer (see Vishnu)World Mill (see Grotte)World Serpent (see Ananta.Iormungandr)World Tree (see Yggdrasil)worm

an old name for a dragon or serpent

Wormwood British

a young devil in The Screwtape
Letters by C. S. Lewis

Worombi (see Wonambi)worricow (see wirricow)worrycow (see wirricow)Worshipful Master (see Batara Guru)Worshipful Personages Buddhist

those to whom reverence is due,
including bodhisattvas, Buddhas,
gods, saints, etc.

Worthies

(see Eighteen Lohan.Nine Worthies)

Wosret Egyptian

[Wosyet]
a guardian goddess, protector
of Horus

Wosyet (see Wosret)Wotan (see Odin.Wodan)Woto African

a founder of the Bushongo son of Bomazi
twin brother of Moelo

Some stories say that he was the first man, son of Nchieng and brother and husband of Labama.

He became king of the Bushongo and owned a magic horn that could make trees grow, cause bamboos to speak and attract crocodiles from the river.

Wounded King (see Fisher King)Wovoka North American

a 19th c Paiute medicine-man

He foretold that the dead and the living would be reunited in a new world full of happiness and free from death and instituted a further series of Ghost Dances. (see also Wodziwob)

Woyengi African

a creator-goddess

She came down to earth and created humans from mud, breathing life into them and giving them the choice of sex and occupation.

wraith

[fetch:=German doppelganger] an apparition: the spirit of one dead or alive

Wrath Norse

a name for Sigmund's sword, Gram

wren<sup>1</sup> Greek

a bird sacred to Triptolemus

wren<sup>2</sup> Norse

in Norse stories, the wren was regarded as the king of the birds

This title was awarded to the bird which could fly nearest to the sun. The eagle flew higher than any of the other birds in the contest but lost to the wren who, cunningly, had ridden on the eagle's back.

In another story, a siren who lured men to their death at sea escaped death herself only by turning into a wren. The bird returned every year, was killed but always came again the following year.

wren<sup>3</sup> Welsh

the bird of Taliesin

Wrnach (see Gwrnach)Wrynach (see Gwrnach)Wu<sup>1</sup> African

[Hoo-Hwu]
a sea-god of the Uwe people

wu<sup>2</sup> Chinese

a magician: worker of miracles:

Wu<sup>3</sup>

a witch or wizard

Wu<sup>4</sup> Chinese

a witch

She organised the annual sacrifice of a maiden to the god of the Yellow River until she herself was forced to become the sacrificial victim by Hsi-men Pao.

wu<sup>5</sup> (see t'ien-wu)Wu-an Wang Chinese a name for Kuan Ti as King of Military Pacification

Wu Chang (see Wu-ch'ang Kuei)Wu-ch'ang Kuei Chinese

[Ghosts of Impermanence.

Unpredictable Ghosts]

messengers for Yen Wang, king
of the underworld

These beings are the male ghost, Yang Wu-ch'ang, and the female ghost, Yin Wu-ch'ang. Yang deals with the souls of those who died before the age of fifty, his sister with the older ones.

In some accounts Wu-ch'ang Kuei is a god of wealth and patron of merchants.

Wu Chi Chinese

the unlimited state that arose when the Tao came into existence

It is said that from this state came Hun-tun, the state of chaos, from which evolved time and space.

Wu I Chinese

a king

He shot an arrow at the heavens and was killed by a bolt of lightning.

- Wu Kang Chinese
a man in the moon
He was banished to the moon when he upset the spirits. His punishment condemned him everlastingly to chop down a cassia tree but every cut of the axe immediately closed up so that he never completed the job.
In other versions it is said that he was set to chop down cinnamon trees but, as fast as he cut them down, they grew again.
- Wu-k'o Chinese
one of the Eighteen Lohan, in some accounts
He is said to have lived in a tree and is depicted in this situation.
- Wu Kuan Chinese
the fourth of the Ten Yama Kings
- Wu Kung Ching Chinese
a centipede: a devil of Mei Shan, the sacred mountain
He became an army officer and pretended to run away in battle. His opponent chased after him and found himself in a dense fog where Wu Kung Ching had resumed his real form as a centipede. When the fog cleared, the enemy found their leader dead but no sign of what had killed him.
He is depicted as a bearded warrior with two swords.
- Wu Meng Chinese a 4th c magician
He was said to be able to sail against the wind merely by waving his fan.
- Wu-no African
a chief priest of the god Wu
- Wu Sang Chinese
brother of Wu Ta-lang
It is said that when his brother died, Wu Sang was left in charge of the widow. He came upon her making love to Hsi-men Ch'ing and decapitated her with his sword. She was later immortalised.
- Wu-sheng Lao-mu Chinese a deity of the Taoist I-kuan Tao sect
It is said that he will save the world after the third of the three predicted catastrophes.
- Wu Shun Chinese
the Chinese version of Vishnu
- Wu Ta-lang Chinese brother of Wu Sang husband of P'an Chin-lien
When he died, he left his brother in charge of his widow. When Wu Sang found her making love to another man, he cut off her head.
- Wu-tai (see Lei Hai-ch'ing)
- Wu T'ai Shan Chinese
a sacred mountain
- Wu Ti<sup>1</sup> Chinese
an emperor
one of the Eighteen Lohan, in some accounts
- Wu-ti<sup>2</sup> Chinese
worship, of the Five Emperors
- Wu Ti<sup>3</sup> Chinese a name for Kuan Ti as Military Emperor
- Wu tsoo tsu Chinese a book about dragons and their offspring
- Wu Tsi-su Chinese a god of the Chekiang river
He was a minister who, when deified, caused great waves to batter the city of Hangchow in an effort to take revenge on those who had unjustly put him to death.
- wu t'ung shu Chinese
the Chinese name for the Parasol tree
- Wu Wang Chinese [Fa.Military King]
son of Wen Wang
His original name, as son of Hsi Po, was Fa and he was credited with completing the sacred book, the I Ching, which his father had begun while imprisoned.
In some accounts, he is referred to as Chou.
- Wu-wu Chinese
nothingness, the state that existed before the Tao came into existence
- Wu Yo (see Wu Yüeh)
- Wu Yüeh Chinese
[Five Holy Mountains.Wu Yo]
5 mountains regarded as the home of the gods
These are named as Heng Shan (in Hunan), Heng Shan (in Shansi), Hua Shan, Sung Shan and T'ai Shan.
The celestial Ministry of the Five Sacred Mountains (also Wu Yüeh) is run by Tung Yüeh Tà Ti.
- Wude (see Wudes Heer)
- Wudes Heer Norse
[Wode.Wude.Wuentunde Her.Wute]
a storm-god
In some accounts he is the leader of the Wild Hunt.
- Wuentunde Her (see Wudes Heer)
- Wulbari African
a sky-god of the Akan mate of Asase Yao
- Wulder (see Vulder)
- Wuldor (see Vulder)
- Wulleb Pacific Islands
the first man in the lore of the Marshall Islands consort of Lejman
father of Edao and Jemaliwut
He was said to have been born with Lejman from the leg of Loa.
The sons of Lejman, known as Lanej and Lewoj, tried to kill Wulleb but he managed to escape. In doing so, he fell to earth, splitting open the blood blister on his leg, bringing forth two more children, the boys Edao and Jemaliwut.
- In another version, he and Lejman, worms living in a shell, became the first humans. They raised the upper half of the shell to form the sky, leaving the lower half as the world. Wulleb is said now to live on an island in the west known as Eb Island.
- Wunderer Norse
a giant
When he tried to eat a beautiful, princess, she ran to Etzel's court for protection. Dietrich von Bern fought a long duel with the giant and beheaded him. The princess, who turned out to be Frau Seld, then disappeared.
- Wunekam East Indian
a sun-god and creator-god in New Guinea
He is sometimes seen in the form of the huge snake, Make.
- wunk North American
a fabulous animal
- Wunschelwybere German
young girls who became swan-maidens
- Wuon Kwere (see Were)
- Wuon Lowo (see Were)
- Wuon Ogendi (see Were)
- Wuon Oru African
a name of Were as 'controller of the future'
- Wuonji (see Were)
- Wuonwa African
a name of Were as 'father'
- Wuotan (see Odin.Wodan)
- Wuraka Australian
a creator-spirit of the Kakadu tribe
When Wuraka met Imberombera, they mated and instantly produced all living things to which Wuraka gave names. When it was all over, they both walked out into the sea, whence they had come, and disappeared.
- wurake East Indian spirits, in the lore of the Celebes
- Wurd (see Urd.Wyrd)
- Wurekaddo South American
an Arawak goddess wife of Kururumany

Wurruri Australian
 an old woman in the lore of the Aborigines
 It was said that she was responsible for the fact that the tribes spoke different languages. In life, she had a habit of scattering fires with the stick she carried and, when she died, people celebrated and ate her body. Those eating different parts of the body thereafter spoke different languages.

Wurukatti Mesopotamian
 [King of the Land.Wurunkatte: =Sumerian Zubaba]
 a Hattic war-god

Wurulu-Wurulu Australian
 trickster-spirits of the Aborigines

Wurunkatte (see Wurukatti)

Wurusema Mesopotamian
 [Wurunsemu]
 a Hattic sun-goddess wife of Taru mother of Hulla and Mezula

Wurunsemu (see Wurusema)

Wushum (see Shomde)

Wu'squus Siberian
 a god of night of the Chukchee people brother of Na'chitna'irgin

Wusuns (see Asiani)

wut-awa Russian [Mordvin ved-ava]
 a Cheremis tutelary spirit, guardian of water

wut-ia (see wut-wodaz)

wut-ian uder Russian
 a female sea-spirit
 These beautiful spirits, offspring of wut-wodaz, may sometimes marry humans.

wut-oza (see wut-wodaz)

wut-wodaz Russian [wut-ia.wut-oza]
 an evil water-spirit

Wut (see Wudes Heer)

Wuwuchim North American
 a Pueblo male initiation ceremony
 The initiates are said to descend to the underworld, Shipap, and rise again.

Wygar British
 King Arthur's hauberk
 This piece of the king's armour was made by the smith Witege, in some accounts.

Wyirrawarre Australian
 the Aboriginal sky or heaven

Wynebgwrthucher British King Arthur's shield

Wy'ot North American
 [Wiyot]

in the lore of the Luisenos of California, the first man
 In some accounts, Frog was jealous of Wy'ot, envying his beautifully shaped legs, so she spat into the water from which Wy'ot drank and he died. From his ashes grew an oak tree which bore huge acorns which became food for the tribe. (see also Ouiot)

Wyrd' Anglo-Saxon
 [Weird.Wurd.Wyrde:=Norse Urda]
 one of the 3 Fates

Wyrd' Norse
 [Weird.Wurd.Wyrde]
 a goddess of fate
 In some accounts, she is the same as Urda; in others she is all three of the Fates in one; in others, she is their mother.

Wyrde (see Wyrd)

Wyrd's Brook (see Urdarbrunn)

Wyungare Australian
 a legendary hunter
 He was created from excrement and grew to be a great hunter. He tied a rope to his spear and threw it into the heavens and then he and his two wives climbed the rope into the sky where they are now seen as stars.

wyvern (see wivern)

X

Xalac (see Tlapallan)
Xalaquia Central American

an Aztec festival in honour of Chicomecohuatl
 This festival took place at the end of June when the maize was fully grown and featured the Xalaquia, a female slave, painted to represent a maize plant. She was required to dance throughout the sixteen days of the festival until, on the last morning, she was led to the teocalli and killed by the officiating priest who tore out her heart and offered it to the goddess.

Xam South American
 [Xan]

a servant of Naymlap, acting as a sort of make-up artist

Xaman Ek Central American
 the Mayan god of merchants, the north star

Xan<sup>1</sup> Central American
 an animal, in the lore of the Maya
 It is said that this animal, of unspecified species, was sent ahead of Hanapu and Ixbalanque when they went to Xibabla, to find out the names of the rulers. He did this by pricking each one, causing them to shout out, so that the others would call to ask what the fuss was about.

Xan<sup>2</sup> (see Xam)

Xanthos (see Xanthus)

Xanthus<sup>1</sup> Greek [Xanthos]

a horse fathered by Zephyrus or Zeus on Podarge, together with Balios
 These animals were originally given to Peleus by Poseidon as a wedding present. Later they acted as the horses of Achilles at Troy. Xanthus told Achilles that, following the death of Patroclus (for which Achilles blamed the horses) he too would soon be dead – as, of course, he was. The horse never spoke again thereafter.

Xanthus<sup>2</sup> (see Scamander)

Xaphan [Shafan]

a demon of the second order
 He induced the rebel angels to try to set the heavens on fire by blowing flames to kill off the hosts of angels. After the rebels were defeated, Xaphan was condemned forever to stoke the furnaces in hell.

Xasce (see Hashje)

Xax-coc-ahmut (see Itzamna)

Xaya Iccita Siberian

a mountain-god of the Yakuts

Xbakiyalo Central American

wife of Hunhunapu

Xbalanque (see Ixbalanque)

Xecotcovach Central American

a huge bird, in the lore of the Maya
 In one of their early attempts to create humans, the Mayan gods Tepeu and Gucamatz carved them from wood. When they proved unsuccessful, the gods sent four huge birds to destroy their creation. The others were known as Camazotz, Cotzbalam and Tecumbalam.

Xelas North American
 a culture-hero of the Lummi people of the north-west

Xelhua Central American
 an Aztec culture-hero

He was a giant who survived the Flood by climbing to the top of a mountain.

Another version says that he built a brick tower to escape the flood but the building was destroyed by lightning.

Xenia Greek
 a maiden

She fell in love with Daphnis, who had vowed to be faithful to Nais, and seduced him. Nais blinded him for his infidelity.

In another version, Daphnis died of longing for Xenia.

Xenios Greek
 a name for Zeus as the guardian of strangers

Xenoclea (see Xenocleia)

Xenocleia Greek [Xenoclea]

a prophetess: the Pythoness at Delphi

Xenodice Greek
 daughter of Minos and Pasiphae

xenogenesis
 the power of enchantment, said to be given to witches: the generation of life from foul matter

xenoglossia

[xenoglossy]
 knowledge of languages never learned This phenomenon is said to be observed in some cases of possession.
 (see also glossolalia)

xenoglossy (see xenoglossia)

Xevioso (see Xewioso)

Xewioso African

[Khebioso.Xevioso]
 a fertility-god and god of thunder
 in Dahomey

Some say that the Xewioso are minor thunder-gods and their leader is So.

Xezbeth

[Shezbeth:=Arab Al-kazzab]
 a demon of falsehood

Xhindi Balkan

Albanian spirits
 These beings are usually beneficent and betray their presence in the house by causing stairs to creak and lights to flicker.

Xib Chac (see Chac)

Xibalba Central American

[Xibalba:=Guatemalan Xibalbay]
 the Mayan underworld or, in some versions, its inhabitants or its ruler Vucub-Caquix

Xibalbay Central American

[=Mayan Xibalba]
 the Guatemalan underworld

Xibalha (see Xibalba)

Xil Sga'nagwai North American

a god of medicine of the Haida
 Indians

Xilonen Central American

an Aztec goddess of vegetation
 a form of Chicomecohuatl

In some accounts she is equated with Toci.

Ximena Spanish

[Dona Ximena]
 daughter of Gomez wife of El Cid
 mother of Elvira and Sul

When El Cid killed her father, she went to King Ferdinand to seek revenge but fell in love with El Cid and married him.

Ximenes, Francisco Central American

a Spanish monk
 He copied the Popul Vub in the original Quiche language and made a translation into Spanish.

Xipe (see Xipetotec)

Xipe Totec (see Xipetotec)

Xipetotec Central American

[Red Tezcatlipoca.Xipe (Totec)]
 an Aztec flayed god of agriculture, fortune, metallurgists and spring

offspring of Ometeotl and Ometecuhtli
 In one aspect he brought food to man by allowing himself to be skinned alive; in another he is responsible for many of the diseases that afflict mankind.

He is regarded as an aspect of Tezcatlipoca, Nanahuatl or Quetzalcoatl.
 He could be envisaged in any one of three different forms: a spoonbill, a blue continga or a tiger, representing heaven, earth and hell or fire, earth and water, but was most often depicted as a red god carrying a round shield.

Xiquipat Central American

one of the lords of Xibalba

Xisuthros (see Xithuthros)

Xithuthros Mesopotamian

[Sisythes.Sisythus.Xisuthros]
 a survivor of the flood

He is variously described as Armenian, Babylonian and Chaldean. In the Babylonian version he was king of Babylon and son of Opartes. He built an ark in which he and his family and a few others survived the Flood. When the ark landed on Ravandiz, Xithuthros became an immortal.

In some accounts this is the Greek name for Ziusudra.

Xiuhocoatl Central American

a serpent-torch

The god Huitzilopochtli was born holding this torch and he used it to kill his sister, Coyolxauhqui.

Xiuhocoatl is usually described as a fire-serpent with a segmented body and a backward-pointing snout.

Xiuhtecuhtli Central American

[Huehueteotl.Ixcozauhqui.Old God.
 Otontecuhtli.Otontecuhtli.Tata]

an Aztec god of fire and volcanoes

He acted as guide to the souls of the dead and is the ruler of the Tlalticpac, lowest of the thirteen heavens.

He is said to support the universe on a pillar of fire and acts as the guardian of the centre.

He is depicted as an old man carrying a brazier or mirror and a yellow serpent.

xiumalpilli Central American

a group of 13 years in the Aztec
 calendar

Four such groups constituted a unit known as a nexihuilpiltztl.

Xixiquipilihui Central American

an Aztec sea-goddess
 a form of Chalchihuitlicue

Xmucane Central American

[Xmukane]

a Mayan creator-goddess husband of Xpiyacoc

father of Hunhunapu and Vucub-Hunapu (also Oxomoco)

Xmukan (see Xmucane)

xoana (see xoanon)

xoanon Greek

[plur=xoana]

a wooden statue used as a fetish a statue alleged to have fallen from heaven

Xoblah

a demon

Xoc Bilum (see Xoc Bitum)

Xoc Bitum Central American

[Xoc Bilum]

a Mayan god of song

Xochichahuaca Central American

one of the 4 sages of the Aztec migration

These four (the others were Chipactonal, Oxomoco and Tlaltecuin) were said to have invented the Aztec
 calendar.

Xochimalca Central American

['flower-weavers']

the priests of an Aztec sect using hallucinogenic drugs

Xochipili (see Xochipilli)

Xochipilli Central American

[Five Flower.Flower Prince.

Huitzilopochtli.Macuilxochitl.

Source of Flowers.Xochipili]

a flayed Aztec flower-god, god of pleasure and souls

son of Cinteotl, some say

brother of Xochiquetzal

consort of Xochiquetzal, some say

He is depicted as a jaguar or a white butterfly.

(see also Huitzilopochtli)

Xochiquetzal Central American

[Flower Feather]

an Aztec fertility-goddess and goddess of childbirth, craftsmen and flowers

sister of Xochipilli

wife of Cinteotl, Mixcoatl or Tlaloc wife of Coxcox or Xochipilli,

some say

In some accounts, she was the queen of a paradise for those killed in battle.
 Some say that she was the wife of Tlaloc and that she was abducted by Tezcatlipoca who fell in love with her.

(see also Itzcuinan.

Tlalcolteotl.Tlalli-iyollo)

Xochitican Central American

[Palace of Flowers]

one of the 3 celestial homes of the Aztec gods

Xochitla Central American
a flower-garden
Tezcatlipoca, in the guise of the warrior, Tequiua, invited all the inhabitants of Tollan to this garden and killed many of them with a hoe.

Xochitlalpan Central American
the Toltec paradise

Xochitli Central American
the last of the 20 days of the Aztec month
Symbolising the flower and the south, the day was governed by Xochiquetzal.

Xochitonal Central American
a fierce alligator in the lore of the Aztecs
This beast was one of the many hazards faced by the souls of the dead in their journey through the various layers of the underworld.

Xocotl Central American
an Aztec fire-god and god of the stars

Xocotl Vetzi Central American
an Aztec festival in honour of the dead, held in August

Xocutin Central American [Xocutzin]
an Aztec deity
sister of Teicu, Ticapan and Tlaco
These beings are regarded as four aspects of Tlazolteotl.

Xocutzin (see Xocutin)

xoil Siberian
a figure used in sorcery
This figure has a body made of wood and a head made from the skull of the dead shaman it is supposed to represent. The success or otherwise of any project could be predicted by the effort required to lift the figure from the floor.

Xolas South American
a supreme deity in parts of Tierra del Fuego

Xolotl Central American [=Maya Pek]
an Aztec sun-god or god of misfortune a dog-headed god of the underworld twin brother of Quetzalcoatl
He took the form of a dog in some aspects and his feet were said to point towards the rear. In his role as lord of the evening star he caused the sun to sink each night.

He descended into the underworld and brought out bones from which mankind was created.

In the story that tells how the gods sacrificed themselves to create man, he acted as their executioner and then killed himself.

Another version says that the gods died to persuade the sun to resume its journey across the sky and, in this version, Xolotl executed the other gods but refused to kill himself. To escape, he changed himself first into the maize-plant xolotl, then into the agave mexolotl and finally into the larval salamander axolotl. He was eventually sacrificed and the sun started to move again. Some say that he was killed by being boiled in a kettle.

He is depicted as a dwarf jester and has empty eye-sockets because, it is said, his eyes fell out when he cried over the death of the other gods.

In some accounts he is equated with Nanahuatl or Xipetotec.

Xorginae (see Bruxae)

Xomimitl Central American
one of the leaders of the Aztecs when they left their homeland, Atzlan

Xoxchitalpan (see Tamoanchan)

Xpiyacoc Central American wife of Xmucane
mother of Hunhunapu and Vucub-Hunapu

Xquic (see Xquiq)

Xquiq Central American

[Blood.Xquic]

a princess in Xibalba

daughter of Cuchumaquiq

mother of Hunapu and Ixbalanque by Hunhunapu

She saw the head of Hunhunapu hanging on a tree after he had been killed and decapitated by Huncame and Vocabcame. The head spat into her hand and she became the mother of his two sons. When her father found out, he sent the owls of Xibalba to kill her and bring him her heart but she charmed the owls and they returned with a substitute made of sap from the bloodwort.

Xrostrag Persian

a Manichaeian diety

He and Padvaxtag are a pair involved in the ritual of prayer and the answer to that prayer.

Xucau Russian

the supreme god of the Ossetians

Xue (see Xuhé)

Xuhé Central American

[ˈlordˈ.Xue.Zuhé]

a name for Bochica as the visible sun

Xulu Central American

a Mayan sorcerer

He and Bacam arranged for the resurrection of Hunapu and Ixbalanque in Xibalba after they had been killed on a pyre.

Xumio Central American

in Aztec lore, the first woman

She and Cipactonal existed before the deluge. In some accounts they were created by Hometeuli.

Xursu Dazibogu (see Dabog)

Xutlizic Siberian

sister of Kutkhu

Xuthus Greek

a god of darkness

son of Hellen and Orseis or of Aeolus and Enarate

brother of Aeolus and Dorus husband of Creusa

father of Achaeus and Ion

He was expelled from Iolus, where he was king, by his brothers Aeolus and Dorus, and fled to Athens where he married the king's daughter, Creusa. He chose Cecrops as the new king of Athens when Erichtheus died and was driven from the city by the brother of Cecrops, an unsuccessful claimant, and fled with his family to Aegilia.

In another account, Creusa had borne a son, Ion, to Apollo before she met Xanthus. The boy was abandoned at birth. When it appeared that Creusa and Xuthus could not produce a child of their own, they consulted the oracle at Delphi. A young priest of the temple turned out to be the abandoned son of Creusa and they were happily reunited.

He was killed in single combat by Codrus.

xylomancy

divination using wooden rods or twigs

(see also rhabdomancy)

Y

Y Brenhin Bychan Welsh
the Welsh name for Gwiffred Petit

Y Gododdin (see Gododdin)

Y Mamau (see Mamau)

Y Saint Greal Welsh
the Welsh version of the story of the Holy Grail

Y-Wyddla British
a mountain

It is said that King Arthur sleeps here, awaiting a call to return.

Ya-daganu Mesopotamian
a Semitic fish-god and god of agriculture

Ya-gami-hime Japanese first or second wife of Okuninushi

mother of Kimata-no-kami

Ya-hsang-kahsi (see Ya-hsek-khi)

Ya-hsek-khi Burmese
the first woman, created by Hkun Hsang L'rong

He and the male Ta-hsek-khi were born in tadpole form. After eating a gourd they mated and were given new names. She became Ya-hsang-kahsi (Yatai). They produced a daughter called Nang-pyek-kha Yek-ki.

ya-kut (see iya-kut)

Ya-o-ga North American [Bear.Ya-o-ga]

the north wind in the lore of the Seneca

He took the form of a bear tethered at the entrance to Ga-oh's cave.

(see also Ga-oh)

Ya-o-gah (see Ya-o-ga)

Ya-Shima-Ji-Nu-Mi Japanese
son of Susanowa and Inada

Yaai North American
spirits living on the tops of mountains in Vancouver Island

Yaaru Egyptian [Yaru]
the fields of the afterlife

These peaceful fields, where the wheat grew taller than a man, were in the lower reaches of Amenti, the realm of the dead.

Ya'askidi North American
a humpbacked Navaho god
one of the Yeibechei

Yab Tibetan
[=Chinese Yang:=Japanese In]
the Buddhist male principle: eternity

Yab-Yum Tibetan
[=Chinese Yin-Yang:=Hindu Sri Yantra:=Japanese In-Yo]

a state experienced by devotees of Tantric Buddhism of oneness with the primaevial essence: the union of a bodhisattva with his female aspect: the eternal peace of Nirvana

Yabamat Liimmim Mesopotamian
a name for Anat as 'Mother of Nations'

Yabmeaimo Baltic
the Lapp underworld, home of the dead, ruled by Yabmeakka

Yabmeakka Baltic
a god of the dead, ruler of the underworld Yabmeaimo

Yabuling East Indian
a Papuan god

He is said to have created pigs.

Yabune Japanese
a Shinto house-god

yabusame Japanese
archery on horseback

This military art was used as a form of divination. (see also bokusen)

Yaboutchilo Serbian
[Tehile]
the winged horse of Momtchilo

Yac Central American
a wild cat

This was one of the four animals which brought to the gods the maize from which they made human beings.

Yacacoliuhqui (see Yacatecuhtli)

Yacahuiztli Central American
an Aztec goddess of the underworld consort of Yoaltecuhtli

Yacu-mama South American
a monster in the form of a sea-snake

Yacapitzahuac Central American
an Aztec god of trade

Yacatecuhtli Central American [Yacacoliuhqui]

an Aztec god of trade

He is depicted as carrying a bundle of twigs, his symbol of power.

Yachi-Mata Japanese
one of 3 guardians of boundaries and roads

one of the Yakushin deities, some say

Yachihoko (see Okuni-nushi)

Ya'china'ut Siberian
a moon-goddess of the Koryak people

yadageri Siberian
a form of magic used to control the weather

Yadahpati (see Yadhapati)

Yadaijin Japanese
one of the 2 gatekeepers at the entrance to a Buddhist shrine, known as Nio-san
He stands on the left side of the entrance, Niomon. (see also Udaijin)

Yadavas Hindu
ancestors of Krishna descendants of Yadu

Yadhapati Hindu
[Yadahpati]
a name of Varuna in his role as sea-god, 'king of sea creatures'

Yadilyil North American
father of Estantlehi by Naestan

Yadu Hindu
an ancestor of Krishna
son of Yayati and Devayani brother of Turvasu
father of Kunti and Vasudeva Dhumavarna, king of the sea-serpents, seized Yadu and took him to his underwater palace where he married the king's five daughters.

Yae-koto-shiro-nushi (see Koto-shiro-nushi)

Yae'giri Japanese
a mountain spirit
one of the Yama-uba
mother of Kintaro by Sakata Kurando
She fell in love with Sakata Kurando who was a soldier. When he was dismissed from the emperor's bodyguard, he killed himself and she went off into the mountains where her son was born.
She was an evil spirit who became a beautiful woman to lure men into the mountains. There she became a terrible demon and killed her victims.

yaga South American
a plant which produces a powerful hallucinatory drug used in divination

Yaghuth Arabian
an early god, time personified

Yagis North American
a man-eating sea-monster in the lore of the Kwakiutl

Yagrush Mesopotamian
[Chaser.Expeller]
a mace of Baal
This was one of the two maces (the other was Ayamur) made by Kothar for Baal to use in his fight with Yam.

Yaguarogin South American [Yaguarogui]
a green tiger
Some tribes in Bolivia say that this animal lives in the sky and causes eclipses of the sun when he first swallows and then regurgitates it.

Yaguarogui (see Yaguarogin)

Yah Egyptian
a moon-god(dess)

Yah-li-Yah
a good demon associated with virgins

Ya'halan Siberian
a guardian-god of the Koryak people son of Tenanto'mwan
consort of Yine'ane'ut
In some stories he is the son of Ina'hitelan. (see also Ya'halna'ut)

Ya'halna'ut Siberian
a guardian-deity of the Koryak people (see also Ya'halan)

Yahata (see Hachiman)

Yahia Spanish
son of Alimaymon
When his father died, he inherited the city of Toledo which was under siege by Alfonso. In the absence of El Cid, he broke out of the city but Alfonso recalled El Cid who soon completed the capture of Toledo.

Yahualli-Ehecacatl Central American
a name for Quetzalcoatl as ruler of the winds

Yahweh Hebrew
an ancient moon-god sometimes equated with Baal (see also Elom)

Yajna Hindu
a god, personifying ritual an avatar of Vishnu
son of Ruchi and Dakshina
He resides in the heavens as a minor constellation and is depicted as having the head of a deer.

Yajnesha Hindu [Yajnesvara]
a name for Vishnu as 'lord of sacrifice'

Yajnesvara (see Yajnesha)

Yajuj Arabian
the Arab version of Gog
He, with Majuj, will lead the barbarian hordes that will destroy the world.

Yajur Veda Hindu
one of the 4 Vedas, a collection of prayers relating to sacrificial rites
This work was passed to Yajnavalkya by Surya who, at that period, took the form of a horse.

Yak Indian
a ghost, guardian of treasure, in Bengal
These beings are the spirits of young boys who have been buried alive by wealthy men, with their treasure, in the hope of regaining their wealth in a later existence.

Yak Lepeh Malay
mother of Yulang

yaka (see yaku)

Yakami Japanese
a princess
She was wooed by eighty-one brothers of whom only one was gentle and peaceful. It was he who, for his kindness to a white hare which had lost its fur, won the hand of the lovely Yakami. (see yaksha)

yakha (see yaksha)

yakho (see yaksha)

yakirai (see yakiri)

yakiri East Indian [yakirai] sky-demons of Papua

yakkha (see yaksha)

yakkus North American in the lore of the Indian tribes, spirits which cause disease

Yakomba African [Nzakomba]
a god of morals

yaksa (see yaksha)

Yaksha' Buddhist
a god of fertility, forests, streams, and wells

yaksha<sup>2</sup> Hindu [yakho.yak(k)ha.yaksa:
female=yakshi(ni)]
a forest or mountain demon
offspring of Hariti
These beings are shape-changers and can appear in the form of handsome youths or fat black dwarfs, or even as objects such as trees. In a friendly role they are the punyajana. (see also Kubera.rakshasa)

Yaksha-Loka Hindu
the home of the yakshas

yakshagraha Hindu
a version of a yaksha which can take possession of mortals and drive them mad

yakshi' Hindu [yaks(h)ini.yaksi]
a female version of a yaksha
It is said that these beings often appear in the guise of attractive females who bewitch travellers. Some, known as Ashramukhi, are in the form of women with the face of a horse.

Yakshi<sup>2</sup> Hindu
 [Charvi.K(a)uveri.Yaksi]
 a goddess
 daughter of Mura
 consort of Kubera

yakshini (see yakshi<sup>1</sup>)
yaksi (see yakshi<sup>1</sup>)
Yaksi (see Yakshi<sup>2</sup>)
yaksini (see yakshi<sup>1</sup>)
yaku Ceylonese [sing=yaka]
 spirits of dead ancestors (see also Nae-yaku)

Yakushi Japanese
 [Bhechad-jagaru.Healing Buddha: =Shinto Sukuni-Hikona =Tibetan Bhaishajya]
 a Buddhist god of healing
 one of the 5 Dhyani Buddhas,
 in some accounts

Yakushin Japanese
 Buddhist guardians against plague
 Some say that they are the same as the Michi-No-Kami, guardians of boundaries and roads.

Yal-un eke Mongol
 a female fire-spirit

Yalafath Pacific Islands
 a creator-god of the Caroline Islands

Yalahau Central American
 a Mayan water-god and god of the dead

Yalaing Australian
 a paradise for the gods Spirits on their way to Yalaing can kill and eat the two forty-mile-long snakes that guard the road.

yale British [=African eale:=Welsh bagwyn]
 a monster in the form of an antelope

Some versions describe the yale as a horse-bodied animal, with swivelling horns, tusks and the tail of an elephant.
 Others say it is a combination of boar,
 elephant, horse, stag and unicorn.

(see also yali)

Ya'lgil Siberian
 a drum
 This instrument is used to represent a lake into which a shaman can dive to gain access to the underworld.

yali
 a mythical lion-like beast (see also yale)

Yalnavakia Hindu
 a hermit
 He wrote some of the Upanishads. It was said that he so soundly defeated his teacher in a philosophical debate that the teacher's head fell off.

Yalungur Australian ['eagle-hawk']
 a creator-spirit of some of the northern tribes

Yalungur was originally male but Gidja,
 the other creator of the Dreamtime, cut off his penis and inserted a doll into the wound (which became the vagina) where it was brought to life and born as the first human being.
 (see also Yurlungur)

yalwalyu Australian body-painting on women designed to promote fertility

Yam<sup>1</sup> Canaanite
 [Yam-Nahar.Yamm(u):=Biblical Leviathan]
 a sea-god

He fought with Baal for control of the earth and was defeated when Baal struck him with his two clubs, Ayamur and Yagrush.

yam<sup>2</sup> East Indian a sacred plant

Yam-Nahar (see Yam<sup>1</sup>)
Yama<sup>1</sup> Buddhist

[Universal King:=Chinese Yen-lo (Wang).Yen Wang:=Tibetan Chos-rgyal. gShin-rje.Phyi-sgrub]
 a god of the dead
 ruler of one of the courts of
 the underworld

He was originally one of the first pair of humans and later came to be regarded as an evil deity who will one day be reborn as a Buddha known as the Universal King. In one story of his origins, he was a Tibetan saint who was killed and decapitated by robbers who had stolen and killed a bull. The saint immediately came to life again, took the bull's head in place of his own and became a rampaging demon who was finally subdued and converted to Buddhism by Manjushri who had assumed the form of an even more terrifying demon, Yamantaka.

(see also Emma-O.Ten Yama Kings.Yama<sup>2</sup>.Yen Wang)

Yama<sup>2</sup> Hindu [Adipati.Dandadhara.Dharma-Raja.
 Kala(ri).Kritanta.Pasi.Preta-raj.
 Pitripati.Samana.Samavurti.Yamaraja; =Buddhist Ratnasambhava.Vamana:
 =Chinese Yen Wang:=Greek Hades:
 =Japanese Emma-O:=Norse Ymir:
 =Pacific Yama-Raja:=Persian Yama: =Tibetan Phyi-Sgrub]
 the first man: god of the dead
 one of the Dikpalas
 son of Vivasvat or Surya by Sanjna twin brother and husband of Yami consort of Dhumorna, some say Yama was the appointed god of the dead, lord of the underworld, who owned two four-eyed hounds, Sabala and Syama, which guarded his palace, Kalichi, and rounded up the souls of the dead. Some say that his messengers, the owl and the pigeon, tied the spirits of the dead in a noose and transported them across the river Vaitarani to Yamapura. When souls reached his capital city of Yamapura, he greeted them as Pitripati, Lord of Ancestors, acted as their judge, Samavurti, and, as Dandadhara, put the judge's verdict into effect. His verdict on a soul determined whether it was returned for rebirth, sent to heaven or despatched to one of twenty-one hells.

As a Dikpala he was responsible,
 with his elephant Vamana, for the southern region.

He is depicted as green, dressed in red, carrying a club and a noose, riding a buffalo. (see also Vaivasvata.Yama<sup>1</sup>)

Yama<sup>3</sup> Persian a god of the underworld, controller of Chinvat Bridge

Yama<sup>4</sup> Tibetan a Buddhist guardian-god
 an aspect of Akshobhya
 one of the Dharmapalas
 one of the Dikpalas

He is one of the guardians of the Dalai Lama and, as a Dikpala, is responsible for the eastern region. His sakti is Vidyadhara.

(see also Yama<sup>1,2</sup>)

Yama Enda East Indian [Sickness Woman]

a female demon in Papua She takes the form of a beautiful maiden to attract men and then eats them.

Yama-miya Japanese
 a Shinto mountain shrine

Yama-No-Kami (see Oyamakui)
Yama-omba Japanese

a female demon
Yama-Raja Pacific Islands

[=Greek Hades:=Hindu Yama:=Indian Ratnasambhava:=Japanese Emma-O: =Norse Ymir:=Persian Yama]

a Buddhist god of judgment in Bali This terrifying god sits in judgment on the souls of the dead in the underworld.

He is depicted with claws and tusks.

Yama-sue-no-o-nushi
 (see Oyamakui)

Yama-tsu-mi Japanese
 a mountain-god

Yama-uba Japanese

[Yamauba:maie=oni]
a female mountain-spirit

These spirits were said to have snakes for hair and a mouth on top of the head.

Yamadewa Buddhist

[=Japanese Emma-ten] an underworld deity

Yamadi Burmese
a lord

He rescued a drowning youth and the young man's mother gave the rescuer a dead bird which, though very old, had not decayed. Yamadi found a seed lodged in the bird's throat and removed it, whereupon the body immediately started to rot. The seed, planted in holy ground, became the first tea tree.

Yamaduta Hindu

a servant of Yama

His function is to guide the souls of the dead from this world to the underworld.

Yamaduti Hindu

a goddess attendant on Yama

Yamagoshi-no-Amida Japanese

a form of Amida appearing behind mountains

Yamano Japanese

a mountain deity, guardian of women
in childbirth

In some accounts, Yamano and Ubugami are the same.

Yamantaka Buddhist

[(Nakta-)Yamari.Yamataka:=Japanese Dai-itoku:Tibetan gShin-rje-gsed]
a name for Manjushri as a demon
one of the Yi-dam

one of the 8 Dharmapalas

consort of Yamantasakti

When Yama assumed the form of a bull-headed demon, Manjushri took on the form of an even more terrifying demon, Yamantaka, and subdued Yama, converting him to Buddhism, in which faith he became god of the dead, lord of the underworld.

Yamantasakti Buddhist

a celestial doorkeeper of the south consort of Yamantaka

Yamapura Hindu

the capital city of Yama's realm, site of his palace Kalichi

In some accounts, Yamapura is Yama's realm and his palace is known as Yamasadana.

Yamaraja (see Raja<sup>2</sup>)

Yamari (see Yamantaka)

Yamasachi (see Fire Fade)

Yamasadana Japanese

the palace of Yama in Yamapura

(see also Kalichi.Yamapura)

Yamataka (see Yamantaka)

Yamato-no-Orochi Japanese

[Koshi.Uwabami]

an eight-headed dragon

This beast, which was large enough to cover eight mountains and valleys and even had trees growing on its back, was attacking the maiden Inadahime when Susanowa arrived on the scene. He killed the dragon and married the girl.

In one of the dragon's tails, Susanowa found the magic sword, Kusangi.

In some stories, the killer of this beast was Yegaro-no-Heida.

Yamato Take (see O-Uso-No-Mikoto)

Yamato-takere
(see O-Uso-No-Mikoto)

Yamatodake (see O-Uso-No-Mikoto)

Yamauba (see Yama-uba)

Yambe (see Nzambi)

Yambe-akka Lapp

a woman in charge of the underworld

Yami<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[Yamuna:=Persian Yimeh]

the first woman

daughter of Vivasvat or Surya

by Sanjna

twin sister and wife of Yama

She became the goddess Yamuna, goddess of the river Jumna.

Yami<sup>2</sup> (see Camunda)

Yamilka Arabian

a disaster story from the

Arabian Nights

The story relates how a star fell from heaven and killed the family of a serpent-king.

Yamm (see Yam<sup>1</sup>)

Yammu (see Yam<sup>1</sup>)

Yamri (see Imra)

Yamuna (see Yami<sup>1</sup>)

Yamutbal Mesopotamian

a Sumerian storm-demon

This monster took the form of a six-headed ram. It was killed by Ningursu.

Yananamca Intanamca South American

a huaca in the form of a man

He was in conflict with Huallallo and was defeated.

Yanari Japanese

an earthquake goblin

Yanauluha South American

a medicine man of the Zuni Indians

He taught mankind the arts of agriculture, etc.

When he tapped the earth with his staff, four eggs appeared, two white and two blue. Some people chose white; these hatched into colourful macaws which flew south. Those who chose blue fed the whitish birds that emerged, only to find that these changed into ravens. These two groups evolved into the active and strong on the one hand and the gentle and wise on the other.

Yandu (see Kuri)

Yang<sup>1</sup> Chinese

[light':=Japanese In] the positive, light, dry, hot, male principle, representing creation, dominance and heaven, as opposed to the female principle, Yin

The symbol for Yang is a short undivided line. (see also Yin.Yin-Yang)

Yang<sup>2</sup> Korean

an ancestral hero

Yang, together with Ko and Pu, emerged from the earth and survived by hunting. A box which they found on the shore contained three princesses and a number of domestic animals. The three men each married a princess and, determining the site of their new homes by shooting arrows, settled down and founded three clans.

Yang<sup>3</sup> Korean

[=Chinese Yang:=Japanese In]

the male principle, as opposed to the female principle, Um

Yang Ch'eng Chinese

[Yang-hsi-chi]

the original name of Fu Hsing,
in some accounts

Yang Chien Chinese

[Erh-lang.Second Lord of Quality]

nephew of the Jade Emperor

He uses the celestial dog, T'ien Kou, to drive away evil spirits. On one occasion he was swallowed by the pig-god, Ling-chu.

Yang Ching Chinese

[Goat Spirit.Transcendent Goat]

a celestial god, god of the star Fan
Yin

Yang-hsi-chi (see Yang Ch'eng)

Yang Kai-sheng Chinese a god of the city of Peking (Beijing)

He was originally a 16th c official at the emperor's court.

Yang Ming Chinese

the original name of Wang Shou-jen

Yang Wu-ch'ang Chinese

a spirit of the underworld

His job was to collect the souls of those who died young. Older ones were collected by Yin Wu-ch'ang.

(see Wu-ch'ang Kuei)

Yang-wu Chinese

[=Japanese Yatagarasu]

a sun-crow

- Yanko Serbian
one of the 3 men who tried to steal Goulash, the horse of Milosh, and were killed
- Yansan African
a Yoruba wind-god
- yantra Hindu
a magical diagram used in meditation and worship
- Yao Chinese
[Tao T'ung Shih.Ti Yao]
a sage who became one of the Five Emperors father of Nü Ying and Wo Huang
He ruled for seventy years and then gave the throne to Shun who married his daughter.
He is credited with the invention of the calendar and the construction of the first observatory.
- Yao Chi Chinese
[Lady of the Flowered Clouds] twenty-third daughter of Tung Wang Kung and Hsi Wang Mu
She is said to have provided the emperor Yü with the magic formula for evoking spirits.
- Yao-shih Chinese [Yao-shih-to.Yao-shih-wang-fo.Yao-shih-wang (Fo):=Tibetan Bhaishajyaguru] a physician-god (see Yao-shih)
- Yao-shih-to (see Yao-shih)
- Yao-shih-wang-fo (see Yao-shih)
- Yao Wang<sup>1</sup> Chinese a hermit-physician, later deified
He was said to live on air and wine and once saved the life of a snake and removed a bone lodged in a tiger's throat. The grateful feline guarded the physician's house thereafter. When he was taken to the home of the dragon-king, Ching Yang, the king's daughter thanked him for saving her child's life – the snake had been that child.
As a deity, he became head of the Ministry of Medicine.
- Yao Wang<sup>2</sup> (see Ch'ien<sup>1</sup>)
- Yao-yoruzo-no-kami Japanese a term which covers all the deities and spirits (kami): the 80 myriad kami
- Yaotl Central American
a Toltec drought-demon
He was sent to kill Yappon and his wife Tlahuitzin. Having done so, he was turned into a locust.
- Yaotlneccoc Central American
an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as the cause of strife
- Yaotzin Central American
an aspect of Tezcatlipoca as a bringer of disease and famine
- Yappon Central American
a Toltec fertility-god husband of Tlahuitzin
When Yappon sinned with Tlazolteotl, the drought-demon Yaotl killed both Yappon and his wife and they both became scorpions.
- Ya'qhicnin Siberian
a creator-god of the Koryak people
the Christian version of Tenanto'mwan
- Yara South American
a siren in Brazilian lore
- Yarhibol Arabian
an early sun-god and god of spring
- Yarikh Mesopotamian
[Yarikh.Yerah]
a Canaanite moon-god
husband of Nikkal
He sent Hirihi to ask Baal for Nikkal's hand in marriage.
- Yarikh (see Yarikh)
- Yarilo Slav
[Eriol]
a sun-god and fertility-god
- Yarnwid (see Ironwood)
- Yaro African [Yero]
a creator-god in Ethiopia
- Yarovit Baltic
a war-god and god of agriculture
- Yaru (see Yaaru)
- Yaruba African
a supreme god of the Tangale people
- Yasaka (see Yasakani no magatama)
- Yasakani no magatama Japanese [Yasaka]
a string of pearls
This ornament, said to have belonged to Amaterasu, now forms part of the imperial regalia.
- Yasakatome no mikoto Japanese
a deity of Lake Suwa
(see also Takeminakatatomi)
- Yasapani Buddhist
a king
His prime minister, Kalaka, jealous of the bodhisattva who was the king's senior judge, persuaded Yasapani to instruct the judge to make a pleasure garden, then a lake and finally a palace. With the help of Indra, all these tasks were accomplished overnight and the judge was made prime minister in place of Kalaka.
- Yasas Buddhist
the son of a banker
He became an early disciple of the Buddha.
- Yasha Japanese
a vampire bat, said to be the spirit of a woman
- Yasha Daikoku Japanese
a form of Daikoku holding the Wheel of Law
In some accounts, Yasha is female.
(see also Mahakara Daikoku)
- Yashiro Japanese
a Shinto shrine or ghost-house
- Yashodhara Buddhist [Gopa.Yasodhara]
daughter of Dandapani consort of the Buddha mother of Rahula
Some say that the Buddha won his wife at sixteen, in an armed contest against Devadatta, others that he chose her from a group of 500 princesses. When her husband left her for his new life, Yashodhara entered a monastery.
- Yashts Persian [Yasts]
hymns in the Avesta: stories of the gods (yazatas): hymns to the angels and heroes
- Yasib Mesopotamian
[Yassib.Yasub]
son of Keret
He was suckled by the goddess Anat. As a young man, he led an unsuccessful rebellion against his father.
- Yasigi African
in the lore of the Dogon, sister of Ogo
She and Ogo were hatched from one of the two yolks of the primordial egg created by Amma. She mated with Amma to populate the world.
- Yasna Persian
the third part of the Zend-Avesta
- Yasoda<sup>1</sup> Hindu
wife of Nanda
She and her husband exchanged their baby daughter for the infant Krishna to save him from Kansa who was killing all new-born boys.
- Yasoda<sup>2</sup> Jain
wife of Mahavira
mother of Riyadarshana
- Yasodhara (see Yashodhara)
- Yassib (see Yasib)
- Yasub (see Yasib)
- Yasts (see Yashts)
- Yasu Japanese
a celestial river
- Yasukawara Japanese
a field used as a meeting-place by the gods (see Ono Yasuman)
- Yata (see Jata-Kagami)
- Yata-kagami (see Kagami)
- Yatagarasu Japanese [=Chinese Yang-wu]
the sun-crow of Amaterasu

Yatai (see Ya-hsek-khi)
Yatawn (see Ta-hsek-khi)
Yati<sup>1</sup> Hindu
 an ascetic
 A group of these men were killed by Indra who fed them to the hyaenas.
Yati<sup>2</sup> Persian [Jadu.Yatu]
 sorcerers: male counterparts of the Pairika
Yatim Mustafa (see Asmara Dewa)
Yatim Nustapa (see Asmara Dewa)
Yatin South American
 [The Ruler]
 the Aymara name for Pachayachachic
yatiri South American
 a priest or diviner of the Aymara people of Bolivia Yatpan Canaanite
 a soldier
 Anat collected him from Abelim when he was drunk, carried him over Aqhat and dropped him to kill Aqhat who had refused to give Anat his marvellous bow. Paqhat, sister of the dead man, disguised herself as a man, travelled to Abelim and killed Yatpan to avenge her brother.
Yatu (see Yatis<sup>2</sup>)
Yatus Hindu
 demons in the form of dogs or vultures Yaudheya Hindu
 son of Yudhishtira and Devika Yauhqueme Central American
 an Aztec fertility-god
Yaun-Goicoa Basque
 a supreme god
 He is said to have created three principles: Begia, the light of the body which is the eye; Egia, the light of the spirit; and Ekhia, the light of the world which is the sun.
Ya'uq Arabian
 an early deity, one of the Aliha
Yavishta (see Agni)
Yavishtu (see Agni)
Yawata (see Hachiman)
Yawning Gap (see Ginnungagap)
yawo South American
 an initiate in the worship of the voodoo gods (see also vodunsi) Yaxche Central American
 a tree in the paradise of the Maya
 The souls of warriors killed in battle were transported to Yaxche by Ixtab.
Yaxcocahtut (see Itzamna)
Yaxzatas (see Yazatas)
Yaya West Indian
 a supreme spirit
 His son was rebellious so Yaya killed him, putting his bones in a gourd hung from the roof. These bones turned to fish which Yaya and his wife lived on.

Another version says that four brothers seized the gourd and ate some of the fish but the gourd broke and the water which flooded out became the seas, full of fish.

Ya'yai Siberian
 a guardian of the household
 This being takes the form of a drum and speaks through a drumstick made of whalebone.

Yayati Hindu
 a king
 husband of Devayani father of Yadu by Devayani
 father of Anu, Puru and Turvasu by Sarmishtha

He found Devayani lying in a well, where she had been thrown by the princess Sarmishtha, and married her. Sarmishtha was made a servant at the court of Yayati who had an affair with her, fathering three sons. As a result, Devayani left him and her father, the priest Shukra, placed a curse of impotence on Yayati.

In some versions, Turvasu was the son of Devayani.

Yayoi Japanese [Soul of the Mirror]
 a maiden controlled by a dragon
 Yayoi fell into the clutches of the Poison Dragon who lived in a well in the house occupied by Matsumura, a priest. When the dragon was forced to leave the well, she was freed and warned Matsumura to leave the house which would be destroyed by floods. He did as she said and also, as instructed, presented her mirror to the shogun who then gave him the funds he needed to repair his monastery.

Yayu African
 a sky-god of the Ngbandi people

Yazad (see Yazata)

Yazata Persian
 ['the wonderful one'.Yaxzata.Yazad. Yazdan.Zyed] one of the ancient gods of the Zoroastrian pantheon, attendant on Ahura Mazda: guardian spirits: the embodiment of abstract ideas

Yazdan Persian
 a Yazata as a benevolent spirit in modern belief

Yazid Armenian
 the devil

This name is given to the devil by the Yezidis who allege that he was reinstated as an angel.

Yblis (see Iblis)

Ycauit North American [Ikaiut]
 a descendant of Ejoni and Ae consort of Sirout mother of Ouioit

Ych Brych Welsb
 an ox

This was one of the oxen that Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get from Glwlwydd, in his quest for the hand of Olwen. (see also Melyn Gwanwyn.Nyniaw.Peibiaw)

Ychdryt Welsb
 [Uchdryd]

a warrior at the court of King Arthur
 It was said that his beard could shelter many of his companions in bad weather. He was one of the party that accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Ydain British
 a mistress of Gawain

When she grew tired of Gawain and tried to leave him, he gave her to the dwarf, Druidan.

Ydalir Norse
 the valley of yews in Asgard, home of Uller

Yder British [Edern.Isdernus]
 a Knight of the Round Table
 son of Nuc
 husband of Gwenloie

His father abandoned his mother when Yder was born and he grew up not knowing who his father was. As a young man, he set out to find his father. He fell in love with a queen, Gwenloie, but had to prove himself worthy. Having killed two knights who were attacking King Arthur, he expected the king to knight him but was disappointed. He was later made a knight by another king, Ivenant, as reward for resisting the efforts of the king's wife to seduce the young stranger.

When he came to Castle Rougemont, home of Talac, he found it besieged by Arthur's forces and decided to help Talac and defeated all Arthur's best knights in combat. When Kay treacherously plunged a sword into Yder's back, the others were so appalled that a truce was declared and Talac and the king were reconciled. Luguain, Yder's squire, took his master to a monastery where his wounds were healed and Yder was later welcomed at the court where he saved the queen, Guinevere, from a bear.

When Talac's castle again came under siege, Yder rode to help his friend but the siege had already been lifted when he arrived. There he found a maiden who asked him to discover the identity of a knight who visited her in her tent every day. Yder found the man and a great fight ensued which ended only when the knight recognised Yder as his own son.

Arthur, who was jealous of Yder, decided to get rid of him and when Gwenloie asked his help in finding a husband, told her to marry the man who could kill two giants and bring her their knife. Yder did just that and claimed her hand. Kay gave Yder some poisoned water and he was left for dead but he recovered and returned to court. Arthur then made Yder a king and he married Gwenloie.

One story tells how he went with King Arthur in a foray against three giants and went on ahead of the others. When the rest of the party arrived at the hill where the giants lived, they found all three of them dead. Yder was also killed in the fight.

Some accounts say he killed Gwengasaoin's bear and married the giant's daughter, Belinette. In the story of Geraint and Enid he is known as Edern.

Ydor British

a king
husband of Tristoise
father of Torec

Y'dun (see Iduna)

Ye-hime Japanese
a beautiful girl selected to be a wife of the emperor

The emperor sent his son, Oho-uso, to escort Ye-hime and Oto-hime to the court but instead, Oho-uso married both the girls and sent two others in their place.

Yeak<sup>1</sup> Cambodian

a giant
Yeak carried off an aunt of the hero Sanelchay and hid her in the forests of Prah Hembopean until he was defeated by Sanelchay.

Yeak<sup>2</sup> Cambodian

[=Hindu Yaksha]
a flying ogre

These beings are shape-changers who can fire arrows that become serpents.

Yeak<sup>3</sup> Cambodian

one of a race of underground beings, guardians of buried treasure

Yeats, William Butler Irish

(1839-1922)

a poet

He wrote Cuchulainn's Fight with the Sea, In Tara's Halls, Leda and the Swan, The Old Age of Maeve, The Wanderings of Oisín, etc.

Yebaka (see Hastsbaka)

Yebegen Russian

a Tartar monster

He cut off the head of Komdei-mirgan.

Yebitshai (see Hasteyalti)

Yeces mGon-po Tibetan

a Buddhist guardian of knowledge an aspect of Mahakala

yech (see yeck)

yeck North American

[yech.yeksh]

a mischievous spirit

This demon has the strength to lift mountains and delights in leading travellers astray. It can take any shape and sometimes appears as a small animal wearing a white cap. If anyone can get this cap and place it under a millstone, he can require the yeck to do his bidding since, although the yeck can lift a mountain, he cannot lift a millstone without getting his fingers pinched.

yega North American

in Athapascan lore, the double in the form of a vengeful spirit

Yegara-no-Heida Japanese

a hero who killed the serpent Yamata-no-Heida

In some accounts the killer was Susanowa.

yegbogha African

a Dahomey magic charm

The gbo, which is in the form of a toe-ring made of iron steeped in snake venom, is said to protect the wearer from snakes.

Yegi'le (see Lo'cin-coro'mo)

Yegwe Zogbanu African

[Yehwe Zogbanu:=Ashanti Sasabonsam]
a forest monster

This monster is said to have thirty horns.

Yeh Chinese

a young man of Peking

En route to see a friend, he fell in with another man who was visiting the same person. Yeh woke in the night to find the stranger eating a servant. He called on the god Kuan Ti who appeared waving a sword, whereupon the demon turned into a butterfly and escaped.

Yeh-jen (see yeren)

Yehl (see Raven<sup>2,3</sup>)

Yehwe Zogbanu (see Yegwe Zogbanu)

Yei (see Yeibeichi)

Yeibeichi North American

[Hashje.Xasce.Yei.Yeibichai]

gods of the Navaho living in ravines and mountains

Yeibichai (see Yeibeichi)

Yeitso North American

a man-eating giant anaye
son of Tsohanoai

He lived on the mountain, Tsoitil, and was killed by the brothers Nayenezgani and Tobadzistsini.

yek North American

the spirits inherent in all things, in the lore of the Tlingit

yekeela Siberian

the familiar of the Siberian shaman

If the yekeela should be killed, the shaman also dies.

yeksh (see yeck)

Yelafath (see Olofat)

Yelafaz (see Olofat)

Yelanna Hindu

a goddess

The priests of her cult recruit young girls and boys for prostitution.

Yelena Russian

wife of Ivan

Yelitza Serbian

sister of Paul and Radool

Paul's jealous wife persuaded him that his sister had killed their son, so Paul had Yelitza pulled apart by horses. A church arose on the spot where she died.

Yell Hounds (see Yeth Hounds)

Yellow Body North American

a Navaho god

One of the four gods encountered by the tribe during their journey from the underworld into the upper world.

Yellow Book of Lecan, The Irish

a 12th c book of legends including the Cattle Raid of Cooley, the voyage of Snedgus and Mac Riagla, the story of the Sons of Usna, etc.

Yellow Corn-ear Maiden

North American

a Hopi maiden

She quarrelled with Blue Corn-ear Maiden who used magic to turn her into a coyote. This animal was captured and taken to Spider Woman who returned the girl to her proper form and gave her a magic cup. When Blue Corn-ear Maiden drank from this cup, she was turned into a snake.

Yellow-corn Girl North American

a Navaho deity

She, together with White-corn Boy, was placed on Mount San Francisco by Atse Estsan and Atse Hastin when they formed the land of the Navaho on their ascent from the underworld.

Yellow-corn Maiden North American
a corn-spirit of the Zuni leader of the Ten Corn Maidens

She and her sisters were changed into mortals and locked up by witches. Payatami, who was in love with Yellow Corn Maiden, rescued them all from their prison.

Yellow-corn Maidens North American
2 sisters, Pueblo witches

These maidens were jealous when Nahchuruchu married the moon so they drowned her in a well. All the birds and animals searched in vain until the buzzard spotted a mound with flowers on it. Nahchuruchu placed one of the white flowers between two robes and sang over it until at last his wife emerged restored to life and beauty. With the help of a magic hoop made by her husband, the moon turned the Yellow-corn Maidens into snakes.

Yellow Deity Malay
a sun-god, god of the setting sun

(see also White Deity)

Yellow Devi (see Gauri)

Yellow Dragon Chinese

ruler of the centre

This beast is said to have emerged from the River Lo to impart the secret of writing to the emperor. Others say it brought the secret from heaven.

Yellow Emperor (see Huang Ti)

Yellow Lion Demon Chinese

one of the many demons overcome by Hsüan Tsang and his friends on their journey to India

Yellow Lord (see Huang Ti)

Yellow Mountains North American

sacred mountains of the Navaho

Yellow Muileartach, The Irish

a female demon slain by Finn mac Cool

Yellow Paint Lodge (see Snow Lodge)

Yellow River Chinese

a celestial river

Yellow Springs Japanese

[huang-chien.huangquan.Land of the Yellow Springs]

the Taoist underworld: purgatory

Yellow Tara (see Brhkuti Tara)

Yellow Thunderbird North American

one of the elders of the Thunderbirds. He, together with the other three elders, guarded the nest containing the eggs from which all the other Thunderbirds hatched. He was the guardian of the east.

Yellow World North American

one of the 4 worlds that the Navaho passed through before emerging into the upper world

The Navaho arrived here after being expelled from the Blue World and found it occupied by the Grasshopper People. They were soon expelled from this world also when some of their number seduced the women of the Yellow World.

Yeloje Siberian

[Pu'gu.Ye'rpeyen]

a sun-god and guardian of the oppressed

Yemaja (see Yemoja)

Yeman'gnyem Siberian

an Ostyak fish-god

The aurora borealis, it is said, is a fire that this god lights to guide travellers.

Yemaja (see Yemoja)

Yemay African

a Yoruba sea-god

Yemaya (see Yemoja)

Yemekonji African

a creator-god in Zaire

It is said that he gave Nkombe three parcels; one of them, opened by Nkombe, released the light of the sun.

Yemma (see Emma-O)

Yemma-Dai-O (see Emma-O)

Yemma-O (see Emma-O)

Yemoja African

[Yema(n)ja.Yemaya.Yemowa]

a water-goddess of the Yoruba people

daughter of Oduduwa

sister and wife of Aganju mother of Oranyan, some say consort of Obatala, some say mother of Ogun, Oko, Olokun,

Orunjan, Shango and Shankpana

Yemowa (see Yemoja)

Yen Hui Chinese

a sage, pupil of Confucius

Yen Kuang Niang Niang Chinese

a mother-goddess

One of her functions is to cure eye diseases.

Yen Kung Chinese

a sea-god

He is said to have caused a huge wave which wrecked the ship of the pirates who were attacking Shanghai.

Yen-lo (see Yen Wang)

Yen Ti Chinese

one of the Three Sovereigns

In some accounts, he is regarded as the same as Shen Nung, in others they are separate characters.

Yen Wang Chinese

[Yanluo.Yen-lo (Wang).Yen Wang Yeh:

=Hindu Yama:-Japanese Emma-O]

the double-bodied Buddhist god

of death

the fifth and chief of the Ten

Yama Kings (see also Cheng-huang)

Yanluo Chinese

a king of hell

the supreme Yama

He was the overseer of the ten courts of the underworld in which souls were judged and he himself presided over the first court. (see Yen Wang)

Yen Wang Yeh (see Yen Wang)

Yen Yüan Chinese

one of the disciples of Confucius

allowed to sacrifice in the temple

of Confucius

Yen-tzu Chinese

the favourite disciple of Confucius

one of the Four Saints

Yenesei Serbian

a holy river

This river rises in heaven and passes through the earth to the underworld.

Yen-lo (see Yen Wang)

Yenoki Japanese

a priest at a shrine dedicated to

Fudo

He broke the rules by looking at the ugly god in the shrine for which he was blinded in one eye and turned into a tengu.

When he died, his spirit entered the cryptomeria tree. He appeared in the form of a handsome youth and enticed many maidens from the nearby village where they were taking part in wicked rites. When a priest threatened to chop his tree down, Yenoki admitted that he had taken the girls and tied them to trees. They now repented and led blameless lives.

Yerah (see Yarih)

Yeren Chinese

[Yeh-jen]

a mythical humanoid said to live in the mountains of China

Yero<sup>1</sup>

a name for the Rainbow Snake

Yero<sup>2</sup> (see Yaro)

Ye'rpeyen (see Yeloje)

Yerro (see Kuri)

Yerunthully Australian

a rope

When a person dies, this rope is lowered from the heavens so that the spirit can climb up. When the spirit reaches the top, the rope falls as a meteor.

Yesda Slav
a thunder-god

Yeshm Persian
[=Chinese Yü:=Turkish Sootash]
jade or a drink made from it (see also Yü<sup>1</sup>)

Yeth Hounds English
[Yell Hounds:=Welsh Hounds of Hell]
the spirits of unbaptised children in the form of headless dogs (see also Wish Hounds)

yeti (see Abominable Snowman)

Yetl (see Raven<sup>2,3</sup>)

Yevrossima Serbian [Euphrosyne.Helen]
sister of Momtchilo wife of Voukashin
mother of Andrias and Marko

When Voukashin killed her brother and sacked his palace, he took Yevrossima as a captive to his own castle. He later came to love her and they married and had two children.

Yezdi (see Ized<sup>2</sup>)

Yezedi (see Ized<sup>2</sup>)

Ygdrasil (see Yggdrasil)

Ygdrasill (see Yggdrasil)

Ygerna (see Igraine)

Ygerne (see Igraine)

Ygg Norse
[Uggerus.Yggr]
a name for Odin as god of the tree Yggdrasil

Yggdrasil Norse [Igdrasil.Mimameid.Mimameith.
World Tree.Ygdrasil(l).Yggdrasill]
an evergreen ash-tree

This huge tree was said to support the universe. It had three main roots, one each sheltering the underworld, the Frost Giants and mankind. In some accounts, a further root reached Asgard, the home of the gods. The shoots were eaten by the harts Dain, Davalin, Duneyr and Durathor while the root in Niflheim was constantly gnawed away by the serpent Nidhogg and his brood, threatening one day to bring the whole universe crashing down.

Odin is said to have hung for nine days on this tree in one of his efforts to acquire wisdom.

Yggdrasil (see Yggdrasil)

Yggr (see Ygg)

Yglais British

mother of Percival by Julain, some say

Yguerne (see Igraine)

Yhi Australian

a sun-goddess

She awoke from her age-long sleep when Baime whispered to her and she came down to earth in the form of a radiant goddess who, with her warmth and light, woke all the plants, birds and animals into life. She then retired to the heavens in the form of a glowing ball and became the sun.

Yi Korean
a general

When, as Do Son had predicted, he deposed the king, the people resented him and he was forced to move out of the capital. He appointed Muhag to find a site for his new capital which later became Seoul.

Yi-dag Buddhist
one of the Six Species

Yi-dam Buddhist [Yidam]
tutelary deities in Tibet

Yi Sun-Sin Korean
a 16th c admiral said to have invented a submarine

Yiacatecuhtli Central American
an Aztec guardian-god of travellers

Yidam (see Yi-dam)

Yiddak Buddhist
[Yi-dag]
one of the 6 regions shown on the second ring of the Tibetan Wheel of Life, Sipa Khorlo

This is the realm of ghosts, characterised by hunger and thirst.

Yid'oni Hindu
a necromancer

He is said to be able to call up the spirit of a dead person, catch it in a leather bag and squeeze it to make it reveal what the necromancer wishes to know.

Yima Persian
[Jamshid.Manu.The Great Shepherd: =Buddhist Yen Wang:=Hindu Yama:
=Norse Ymir]

son of one of the first 4 men to produce the divine drink, Haoma, from the fruit of the Gaokerena tree brother of Tahmurath and Yimeh husband of Yimeh

Some accounts describe Yima himself as the first man, son of Vivahvant, the sun-god.

He was a semi-divine being, said to have ruled for 700 years, who, in attempting to make men immortal, sacrificed a bull, so upsetting the gods whose prerogative this was. For his presumption he was killed either by Spityura or by the demon Azhi Dahak as Zahak.

In another version, he was not killed but lost his own immortality and when Ahura Mazda set out to destroy mankind he was warned in advance and constructed a vast cave, Var, in which he sheltered the best of all species with which to repopulate

the world. (see also Jamshid)

Yimaha (see Yimeh)

Yimak (see Yimeh)

Yimaka (see Yimeh)

Yimantuwingyai (see Yimantuinyai)

Yimantuinyai North American
a creator-god of the south-west coastal region

a culture-hero of the Hupa
He was said to have established order in the world and was the leader of a group of Kihunai, who inhabited
the area before the Hupa, when he left for a new home across the sea to the north.

Yimeh Persian
[Yimaha.Yimak(a):=Hindu Yami]
sister of Tamurath and Yima

Yin Chinese
[‘dark’:=Japanese Yo:=Tibetan Yum]
the negative, dark, moist, cold, female principle, representing earth and passivity, as opposed to the male principle, Yang

The symbol for Yin is a short broken line. (see also Yang.Yin-Yang)

Yin Chen Hsin Chinese [White Tiger]
a legendary empress

Yin Chiao Chinese
a god of astrology
son of Chou Wang

Some accounts say that, in the Battle of Mu, he fought on the side of his father, others that he fought against him.

He was deified as the god of astrology and put in charge of the celestial Ministry of Time.
(see also T'ai Sui)

Yin-chieh-t'o Chinese
the Chinese version of Angida
one of the Eighteen Lohan

Yin-fu Chinese a written spell, sealed and kept in a temple

Yin Hsi Chinese [Warden of the Pass]
a Taoist sage, a disciple of Lao-tzu

Yin K'ai-shan Chinese a minister
father of Wen Chiao

He killed Liu Hung, the man who had murdered his daughter's husband, Ch'en, and assumed his identity.

Yin Wu-ch'ang Chinese
a spirit of the underworld

This spirit had the task of collecting the souls of those who died in middle age or later. The younger ones were collected by Yang Wu-ch'ang.

(see Wu-ch'ang Kuei)

Yin-Yang Chinese

[=Hindu Sri-Yantra:=Japanese In-Yo:
=Tibetan Yum-Yab]

the opposing but complementary forces upholding the entire universe

These forces can be represented as good and evil, life and death, male and female, lightness and darkness, etc., and are together symbolised by the circular T'ai Chi.

Yina'mna'ut Siberian

a Yakut goddess of fog and mist consort of Yina'mitlan

Yina'mitlan Siberian

a Yakut god of fog and mist consort of Yina'mna'ut

Yine'ane'ut Siberian

a guardian-goddess of the Koryak people
daughter of Quik'inna'qu and Miti consort of Tanuta

Ying-chou Chinese

one of the 3 Islands of the Blessed, the Taoist island paradise where the inhabitants were immortal
(see also Fortunate Islands<sup>3</sup>)

Yingi Norse

one of the dwarfs

Yinlugen Bud Malayan

a tree-spirit

Yin-to-lo (see Ti-shih)

Yinukatsidai North American

a vegetation god of some Californian tribes

Yirdswine Scottish

a beast, said to live in graveyards, which eats corpses

Yityanitsinni North American

a group of minor Navaho deities

These beings were charged with the task of holding up the sky.

Yiyi African

a man who became an oracular spider

Ylgr Norse

a river in Niflheim, one of the 12 rivers known as Elivagar

Ylyas German

[Elias]
uncle of Ortnit

He interpreted Ortnit's vision of a castle and a beautiful maiden.

Yma Sumac South American

[How Beautiful]

daughter of Ollanta and Curi-Coyllur

Her mother's father, the Inca, was so angry when his daughter gave birth to a child by a common chieftain that he locked both mother and daughter in a convent. When the old ruler died, Yma Sumac pleaded with the new Inca, Yupanqui, who released them and blessed her parents' union.

Ymer<sup>1</sup> Welsb

father of Hoel by Gwyar, some say

Ymer<sup>2</sup> (see Ymir)

Ymir Norse

[Augelmir.Fornjot(nr).Orgelmir.Ymer]

the first giant father of Aegir, Hymir, Kari, Loki, and Thrudgelmir, some say

He was formed from the frost that came from the condensing of the warm mists of Muspelheim when they met the cold from the icy rivers of Niflheim. The cow, Audhumbla, was formed at the same time and Ymir survived by drinking her milk.
From the sweat of his armpit he produced a son and a daughter and from his feet came the six-headed giant Thrudgelmir.

Odin and his brothers Ve and Vili killed Ymir and made the earth from his body. The rush of blood from the giant's body killed all the other giants with the exception of Bergelmir and his wife who survived to produce more giants. Dwarfs grew from Ymir's dead body, his skull became the heavens and his brains the clouds.

Ynawc (see Ynawg)

Ynawg British

[Ynawc]

a warrior with Bran's army

He was one of only seven who returned from Bran's expedition to Ireland to rescue his sister, Branwen, from Matholwch.

Yng (see Ingvi-Frey)

Ynglingasaga Norse

a story by Snorri Sturluson about the children of Yngvi who became kings of Norway

Ynglingatal Norse

a poem by Thjodolf about the children of Yngvi who became kings of Norway

Yngona Danish

[Anna of the Angles]

a goddess

Yngvarr Norse

a prince

father of Sveinn

When he was denied the title of king, Yngvarr led a fleet of thirty ships to Russia to find the source of a large river, said by some to be the Dvina. After countless adventures involving demons, dragons and giants, he travelled to Heliopolis where the queen, Silkisif, offered to share her throne with him, an honour he rejected, preferring to continue his search. He eventually discovered the source of the river and set off for home but died en route.

In later years, his son, Sveinn, followed his father's footsteps and married Silkisif.

Yngve (see Ingvi-Frey)

Yngvarssaga Vidforla Norse

the story of Yngvarr's travels and adventures

Yngvi<sup>1</sup> Norse

a dwarf, one of the Lovar

Yngvi<sup>2</sup> (see Ingun.Ingvi-Frey)

Yngvi-Frey (see Ingvi-Frey)

Ynid (see Enid)

Yniol British

[Niwl.Ynwyl]

an earl

father of Enid by Tarsenesyde,

some say

When Geraint was seeking satisfaction for an insult to Guinevere's maid he sought shelter with Yniol who, although impoverished because his nephew had expropriated his lands, made the knight welcome. The following day, using armour provided by the earl, Geraint fought and defeated Edern, the lord whose servant had caused the original offence. He then forced the nephew to restore the land to Yniol and married Yniol's daughter, Enid. (see also Erec)

Ynwyl (see also Enid)

Ynys Avallach Welsb

[Afallon.Avallach.Avalloc(h):

=Irish Ablach]

a Welsh name for Avalon

Ynys Enlli (see Bardsey)

Ynys Fanaw Welsb

the Welsh name for the Isle of Man, home of Llyr

Ynys Wair Welsb

[Lundy Island]

the island home of Gywdion

Ynys Witrin Welsb

the name for Glastonbury, in Welsh legends

Yo<sup>1</sup> African

['the word']

a creator-god of the Bambara people:
the voice of creation

Yo<sup>2</sup> African

a trickster-deity in Dahomey

Yo<sup>3</sup> Japanese

[=Chinese Yin:=Korean Um:

=Tibetan Yum]

the dark, negative, female principle opposed to In: earth

Yo combined with In to form the cosmic egg which split to form the earth, Yo,
and the sky, In, while the embryo formed the Separate Heavenly Deities (see also In)

Yo Fei Chinese
a minor deity, patron of actors

He was a general who was deified as the god of Hangchow.

Yo-ko-mat-is (see Yokomatis)

Yo-shin-shi Japanese grass growing in paradise which can confer eternal youth on those who eat it

Yo Wang Chinese
a god of healing

Yoalax South American
a culture-hero of the tribes of Tierra del Fuego

Yoalli Ehécatl Central American [Yoatl Ehécatl]
a name for Tezcatlipoca as 'night-wind'

Yoaltecutli Central American
an Aztec creator-god
consort of Yacahuiztli

He was the ruler of Teotlcozauhcan, the sixth of the thirteen heavens.

Yoamaxtli
(see Coamaxtli.Tezcatlipoca)

Yoatl Ehécatl (see Yoalli Ehécatl)

Yobanua-borná West Indian a rain-deity of the Taino people

Yobin-Pogli Siberian
a god of the forests

Yocahu West Indian [Jocakuvague-Maorocon.
Marcoti. Yocahuguama]
a guardian god

In some accounts, he is the same as Guamaonocon.

Yocahuguama (see Yocahu)

Yodo Emon Japanese
an emperor said to have been saved by a whale when his ship was wrecked

yoel Central American
the wheel of the wind symbolised by a sacred pentagram

Yofuné Nushi Japanese
a serpent-god

He lived in a cave under the sea and demanded the yearly sacrifice of a young maiden. On one occasion, Tokoyo, who was searching for her exiled father, took the place of the maiden due to be sacrificed and killed the great white serpent.

Yog-klu Tibetan
the underworld, ruled by Icogpo, in the world gling

Yoga<sup>1</sup> Hindu
a sage referred to in the Mahabharata

Yoga<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a system of mystic philosophy based on breathing and physical exercise

It is said that yoga can make a man invisible, cause him to grow so tall he can reach the heavens or transport him to any place in the world. He can also learn to communicate with the dead, foretell the future and read the past.

Yogadayu Japanese
a general

As the result of a dream, he was able to rout his enemies by using bees stored in 1,000 jars.

Yogambara Tibetan
a Buddhist god
an aspect of Vajradhara consort of Digambara

Yoganidra Hindu
son of Nanda and Yasoda

The infant Krishna was taken by Nanda and his wife to save the child from the clutches of the demon Kansa and they handed over their own baby son to replace him. When Kansa tried to kill the boy, he flew away.

Yogasiddha Hindu
mother of Vishvakarma by Bhuvana

yogee (see yogi)

Yogeshvari Buddhist [Yogesvari]
a mother-goddess
one of the 8 Magrikas
one of the saptamataras

She was opposed to the demon Kama.

Yogesvari (see Yogeshvari)

yogi Hindu [yogee:fem=yogini]
a practitioner of yoga: a sorcerer

Yogini<sup>1</sup> Buddhist
female door guardians

These four beings are depicted as having the heads of birds or animals.

yogini<sup>2</sup> Hindu
a female yogi

Yogini<sup>3</sup> Hindu
one of a group of minor goddesses:
female demons
aspects of Durga

These deities are variously said to number from eight to over sixty (or over ten million).

Yohualticitl Central American
a name for Metzli as Lady of the Night

Yohualticetl Central American
a moon-goddess, guardian of babies

Yoishta Persian
a legendary hero

He solved the ninety-nine riddles posed by Akhtya who, failing to answer
Yoishta's three riddles, was killed.

Yokomatis North American
[Blind Old Man.Kokoma(h)t: =Mohave Mastamho]
a creator-spirit of the Dieguenos brother of Tuchaipai

He and his brother were born under the sea and Yokomatis was blinded by the effect of the salt water on his eyes.
They pushed up the sky so that they had room to move about and then created all the things in the world, including men and women. He is regarded as the one who caused death while his brother is the giver of life.

In some accounts, this blind god was known as Bakothal and his brother Tuchaipai was Kokomaht.

Yolkai Estan (see Yolkai Estsan)

Yolkai Estsan North American [White Painted Woman.White Shell
Woman.Yolkai Estan.Yolkaiains]
a sea-goddess and fertility-goddess of the Navaho Indians sister of Estanatlehi wife of Tlehanoi
mother of Tobadzistsini,
some say

She was created by Hasteyalti and Hastehogan from white shell though others say that both she and Estanatlehi were created by Changing Woman from flakes of skin from beneath her breasts.

In some versions, she, rather than Estanatlehi, created humans from maize-flour. (see Estanatlehi)

Yolkaiains (see Yolkai Estsan)

Yomi (see Yomi-tsu-kuni)

Yomi-no-yo (see Yomi-tsu-kuni)

Yomi-tsu-kuni Japanese [Jigoku.Jugokudo.'land of gloom'.Meido.
Naraka.Ne-no-kuni.Nenokatatsu-kuni.
No-nokata-tsu-kuni.Soko-no-kuni.
(The Land of) Yomi. Yomi
(-no-yo).Yomitsu-kuni]
the Shinto underworld ruled by Emma-O

This realm is said to have sixteen regions, eight hot and eight freezing, with sixteen sub-divisions.
(see also Hell)

Yomitsu-kuni (see Yomi-tsu-kuni)

Yomo-tsu-kami Japanese
a god of the underworld

Yomo-tsu-shiko-me Japanese
a goddess of the underworld

Yon-tan-rgyal-po Tibetan

[Yon-ten-gyal-po]
one of the 5 Panchamaharaja king of deeds

He is said to ride a blue horse.

(see also Bihar)

Yon-ten-gyal-po (see Yon-tan-rgyal-po)Yoné Japanese

a servant of Tsuyu

She died of grief when her mistress died of unrequited love for the samurai, Shinzaburo. At the Festival of the Dead, they both visited Shinzaburo and came to his house every night. When finally Shinzaburo was advised by the priest, Ryoseki, that he was entertaining ghosts of the dead and could himself lose his life, he locked the doors against them and used the talismans given to him by Ryoseki to keep the dead at bay.

Yoné bribed Tomozo, Shinzaburo's servant, to let them in and the affair was resumed. Next day, Shinzaburo was found dead beside the bones of Tsuyu.

yonī<sup>1</sup> Hindu

[=Greek cteis]

female genitalia as the symbol of the goddess, Shakti

Yoni<sup>2</sup> Korean

a maiden
wife of Willow

Her father remarried when her mother died and the step-mother forced her to go out in the snow to find fresh vegetables. A young man called Willow gave her some fresh vegetables and three bottles of magic fluid. After several visits, each time bringing back the fresh food, her stepmother discovered the secret and killed Willow. Yoni gathered his bones, sprinkled them with the three fluids and he was restored to life. It transpired that he was a heavenly being in charge of spring rains and he took Yoni back to heaven where she became his wife.

Yonijas Hindu

worshippers of the yoni

Yorimasa Japanese

[Minamoto no Yorimasa]

a knight
husband of Ayame

He killed a nue, a huge sky-monster with the body of a tiger and the head of an ape, which had been harassing the emperor. As a reward, he was given the sword, Shishi-wo, and married Ayame, a lady of the court.

Yorimitsu Japanese

a noble
He saw the young Kintaro performing a feat of great physical strength and took him as his retainer, calling him Sakata Kintoki. (see also Raiko<sup>1</sup>)

Yoritomo Japanese

a samurai
son of Yoshitomo

Hiding in a hollow tree after fleeing from a lost battle with Kage-chika, he was saved by two doves which flew out of the tree, so convincing Kage-chika that nobody could be hidden inside. The birds had saved the lives of the man who became shogun.

Yorka South American

[Yoroka]

the malevolent ghost of an ancestor in Guiana (Surinam)

Yoroka (see Yorka)Yoru-no-wushi-kuni Japanese the realm of night ruled by Tsukiyomo

Yoruba loa West Indian

a group of Haitian voodoo spirits derived from Nigerian deities

yosei Japanese

[=Hindu apsarāsas:=Persian

peris:=Turkish houris]

fairies

Yoshi-iyē Japanese

a legendary warrior

He prayed to the war-god Hachiman when his men were dying of thirst. The god answered his prayer so that when Yoshi-iyē shot an arrow into a rock, a stream of water, which has never ceased since then, flowed out from the rock.

Yoshisawa Japanese

a doctor

He saved the life of the princess Shingé who had been frightened or bitten by a large snake and they fell in love. Shingé's father refused to sanction their marriage and she killed herself by jumping into the well near where they first met. When he heard of her death, Yoshisawa died in the same way.

Yoshitomo Japanese

a hero
brother of Tametomo

husband of Tokiwa

father of Yoritomo and Yoshitsune

He was killed by Kiyomori, leader of the Taira clan, but his death was finally avenged by his son, Yoshitsune, with the help of Benkei.

Yoshitsune Japanese

a hero
son of Yoshitomo and Tokiwa

His father had been killed by Kiyomori, leader of the Taira clan, and he grew up intent upon revenge. He was taught the art of swordsmanship by the king of the tengu and became extremely agile. When he met the giant, Benkei, he defeated him without a weapon merely by dodging all Benkei's blows. The giant became his lifelong friend and servant and together they defeated the Taira and drove them into the sea. When, on a later voyage, Yoshitsune's shop was assailed by the ghosts of the Taira, Benkei warded them off by reading Buddhist prayers.

Yosho Japanese

(870-901)

a sennin

He lived the life of an ascetic and, in later life, existed on a grain of millet per day. He was reputed to have returned in spirit form after his death to visit his grieving father.

Yoskeha (see Ioskeha)Yosogi Japanese

[Yosoji]

a youth who met the goddess of Mount Fuji

When his mother fell ill, Yosogi consulted a magician, Kamo Yamakiko, who advised him to get water from a stream on the slopes of Mount Fuji. On each of five occasions, he was met by the goddess of the mountain who guided him to the stream, the water from which cured his mother.

Yosoji (see Yosogi)Young God (see Angus Og)Young Immortal Chinese

an attendant on the god Tung Wang Kung

Young Mute, The (see Peredur)Young Prince (see Pilzintecuhltli)Young Spider Pacific Islands

son of Old Spider

This deity is credited with the creation of fire.

Young Unknown, The (see Gingalin)Younger Brother<sup>1</sup> North American

a character in a 'rolling-head' story (see Elder Brother<sup>1</sup>)

Younger Brother<sup>2</sup> North American

a culture hero of the Pima

He helped Elder Brother to fashion the first humans. (see also Elder Brother<sup>2</sup>)

Younger Edda Norse

[The Prose Edda]

the more recent of the 2 major books of epic stories, collected by Snorri Sturluson

The various works included in this collection are entitled Braga Raedur; Eptirmati, Formali, Gylfa-ginning, Hattatal and Skaldskaparmal.

Youth Irish

the maiden who placed the love-spot on Dermot's forehead

Youthful Warrior (see Telpochtli)

Yovo Serbian

son of Gaiko

To placate a veela, Yovo's mother was immured in the walls of the fortress being built at Scutari by Voukashin and his brothers but the builder, Rado, left a small opening through which she was able to breast-feed Yovo for a year.

yoyolche Central American

monsters of the Maya

Ypolita Greek

[Hippolyta]

wife of Theseus, duke of Athens, in Chaucer's Knights Tale

sister of Emily

Ypotrill

a monster, said to be part camel, part goat

Yryn-ai-tojon Siberian

[Yryn-ajy-tojon:=Buriat Ulgan]

the supreme god of the Yakuts

He challenged Satan to bring up land from the bottom of the primordial waters and when Satan, in the form of a swallow, did what he was asked, Yryn floated down to earth and sat on it. It grew and grew until it formed the world.

Yryn-ajy-tojon (see Yryn-ai-tojon)

Yrid West Indian

a Carib beneficent spirit, one of a pair with Akambou

Ys European

[Ker Is.Ker Ys]

a city in Brittany, the French version of Lyonesse

This city is said to have been submerged under the sea as the result of the activities of Ahes.

Ysabele British

in some accounts, wife of Gawain

Ysaie British

son of Tristram and Isolde

husband of Martha

father of Marc

Ysaive (see Ysenne)

Ysambras (see Isumbras)

Ysbadadan (see Ysbaddaden)

Ysbaddaden Welsh

[Hawthorn.Ysbadadan.

Yspaddaden (Pencawr)]

the chief giant son of Anlawdd, some say brother of Custennin

father of Olwen

He had deprived Custenin of his rightful inheritance and had killed all his brother's twenty-four sons, except Goreu.

It had been foretold that he would die when his daughter married so he required would-be suitors to meet thirty-nine conditions which none of them could meet until Culhwch, helped by King Arthur and his men, did what the giant asked and won her hand. The prophecy of his death was fulfilled when Goreu killed him and cut off his head.

Ysengrimus (see Isengrim)

Ysengrim (see Isengrim)

Ysengrin (see Isengrim)

Ysenne British

[Ysaive]

niece of King Arthur

wife of Caradoc, king of Vannes

mother of Caradoc

She had an affair with the wizard, Eliaures, and bore him a son.

Ysent (see Isolde<sup>2</sup>)

Yseudydd (see Ysgudydd)

Yseult (see Isolde<sup>2</sup>)

Ysgawd Welsh

father of Glew

Ysgithyrwyn Welsh

the chief boar

Ysbaddaden required Culhwch to get a tusk from this boar as one of the conditions to be fulfilled in his quest for the hand of Olwen. The tusk was cut out by Cadw who used it to shave Ysbaddaden.

Ysgudydd British

[Yseudydd]

a servant of Guinevere

He was reputed to be a very fast runner and was one of the party which accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Ysgyrdaf British

[Yskyrdaw]

a servant of Guinevere

He was reputed to be a very fast runner and was one of the party which accompanied Culhwch in his quest for the hand of Olwen.

Yshiel

a demon

Yskal-pydo-murt Russian

[Siyir-ajak]

an evil forest-spirit with hoofs and hairy legs

Yskyrdaw (see Ysgyrdaf)

Ysolde (see Isolde<sup>2</sup>)

Ysoré

European

a Saracen king

When this king besieged King Louis, Guillaume left the hermitage to which he had retired and killed Ysoré in single combat.

Ysoud (see Isolde<sup>2</sup>)

Yspaddaden (see Ysbaddaden)

Ystoria Trystan British

the story of Tristram and Isolde in the Celtic language

Yü<sup>1</sup> Chinese

[=Persian Yeshm:=Turkish Sootash]

jade or a drink made from this mineral
A drink of this liquid not only imparts desirable qualities to the drinker but also allows him to overcome gravity.

Yü<sup>2</sup> Chinese

[Ta Yü.The Great Yü.Weng Ming.

Yellow Emperor]

a winged dragon with horns

father of Ch'i

This monster emerged from the body of K'un three years after he was killed by Chu-jung for stealing the magic Swelling Earth from Huang Ti. Yü was given permission by Huang Ti to use the Swelling Earth and became a famous builder of dams and irrigation engineer, controlling the flood-waters. He later became a master smith, making nine cauldrons on which he inscribed all the details of his works. Others say that the inscriptions were made on a stone tablet which he erected on a mountain peak.

He sometimes took the form of a bear and when his wife saw him in this guise she turned to stone.

In another account, he was the son of Hsiu-chi and was born with a nose like the muzzle of a tiger but with three nostrils. He grew to be over nine feet tall.

He became emperor in 2205 BC when Shun abdicated and is regarded as the founder of the first dynasty.

Yü Ch'iang Chinese

[Yü Hu]

god of the winds of the Northern Sea
He guarded the islands of P'eng-lai in the form of a being with a human head, the body of a bird and with serpents hanging from his ears.

Yü Ch'ien Chinese

a god of the city of Nanking (Nanjing)
He was originally a 15th c minister for war.

Yü Ch'ih Ching-te

(see Ch'ih Ching-te)

Yü Ch'ing

(see Yü Huang)

Yü Hu (see Yü Ch'iang)
Yü Huang Chinese
 [August (Personage) of Jade. Jade Emperor. Jade Purity. Jade Ruler. Pearly Emperor. Pure August. Shang Ti. T'ai-lao-tao. T'ai-shang lao. T'ien Pao. Yü Ch'ing. Yü Huang Yü Jing. Yüan Ch'ing.=Buddhist Yü Ti] a Taoist supreme god, one of the San Ch'ing, the Three Pure Ones consort of Hsi Wang Mu
 It was said that, at his birth, a glowing light was emitted by his body. He was reared by mortal foster-parents, the emperor Ching Tè and his wife Pao Yüeh. He could have succeeded to his foster-father's throne but gave it up for a life of meditation, finally being translated to heaven. He came to earth 800 times to help the sick and the poor, followed by a further 800 visits when he spread goodness throughout the world, and yet another such series when he took upon himself much suffering.
 His jade palace is situated in the constellation of Ta Wei (the Great Bear). In some accounts, he is equated with Shang Ti or Yüan Shih.
Yü Huang Shang Ti Chinese
 [Mr Heaven]
 a title for Yü Huang as Supreme August Jade Emperor Yü-huang Sheng-mu Chinese [Holy Jade Empress]
 a deity to whom the wives of the Gods of the Hearth report once a year
Yü Lei (see Shu Yü)
Yü Lan Hui (see Festival of Hungry Ghosts)
Yü Lu Chinese
 a door-god
 brother of Shen Shu
 He and his brother captured wicked spirits and fed them to tigers.
 (see Shen Shu)
Yü Men Chinese
 a gate constructed by Yü to control the floods Yü-min Kuo Chinese a mythical land where the inhabitants are born from eggs and have wings instead of arms Yü-ming Chiao-shih Chinese a name for Ti-ts'ang as 'instructor of the regions of darkness'
Yü Nü' Chinese [Jade Maiden]
 a maidservant
 consort of all rulers, some say
 In one account, Yü Nü is a servant of Mu Kung, in others the name refers to the five female attendants of Hsi Wang Mu.

Yü Nü<sup>2</sup> (see Pi-hsia Yüan-chun) Yü Po Chinese
 a fish-god
Yü-Riyaku Japanese
 an emperor
 He fell in love with a beautiful peasant girl, Akawi-ko, and forbade her to marry until he sent for her. He forgot his promise and, when she came to the palace eighty years later, she was so old and ugly that he sent her away.
Yü Shan Chinese [Jade Mountain]
 the home of the Three Pure Ones
Yü Shih (see Yüan Shih)
Yü Ti Chinese
 [=Taoist Yü Huang]
 a Buddhist god of justice
Yü Tsu Chinese
 a rain-god
Yü Yin (see Ching Wo)
Yü Ying Fu Jen (see Mei Lan)
Yüan Ch'ing (see Yü Huang)
Yüan Shih Chinese [T'ien Pao. Yü Shih]
 a supreme Taoist god and rain-god son of Pan-ku and T'ai Yüan
 When Pan-ku had finished creating the universe he entered through the mouth of an ascetic hermaphrodite in the form of a ray of light. Twelve years later the hermit gave birth to Yüan Shih, allegedly through his spine.
 In another account the ascetic hermit is replaced by the holy virgin T'ai Yüan.
 Yüan Shih lives in a palace on Jade Mountain and learns about the people on earth from the kitchen-god, Tsao Chün.
 Others say that he was reincarnated as Chen Wu or Pei-chi-chen-chun.
 In some accounts, he is equated with Yü Huang.
Yüan-tan Chinese [Hsüan Tan]
 a god of wealth
 He owned a magic bowl, Chu-pao P'en, which produced all the gold he could ever want.
 He is depicted riding a tiger and holding a club.
Yucahu West Indian
 a god of the Tainé people, the spirit of cassava Yudhishtira Hindu
 [Yudhist(h)ira:=Javanese Yudistira] the eldest of the 5 Pandavas son of Pandu and Kunti

father of Yaudheya by Devika father of Prativindhya by Draupadi
 He was born when Kunti prayed to Dharma.

When, after the war with the Kauravas, the Pandavas made a pilgrimage to Mount Meru, he was the only one to survive the journey. After a journey to hell where he saw the tortures of the wicked, he bathed in the Ganges to wash away his mortal existence and was transported to heaven where he found the rest of his family living in peace with their former enemies.

Yudhishtira (see Yudhishtira)

Yudhistira (see Yudhishtira)

Yudistira East Indian

[Darma]

the Javanese version of Yudhishtira

Yüeh Lao (see Chieh Lin)

Yufugawo Japanese

a mistress of Genji

It is said that she died of fright when she saw a ghost.

yuga (see yuga)

yuga Hindu

[yug]

one of 4 ages of the world

These are given as:

1. krita-yuga, lasting 4,000 years
2. treta-yuga, lasting 3,000 years
3. dvapara-yuga, lasting 2,000 years
4. kali-yuga, the present age, lasting 1,000 years

In some accounts the four ages total 12,000 years, made up as follows:

1. krita-yuga, 4,800
2. treta-yuga, 3,600
3. dvapara-yuga, 2,400
4. kali-yuga, 1,200 including dawn and twilight periods.

The years referred to are divine years, and, since each divine year equals 360 human years, the complete cycle of four ages, a mahayuga, equals 4,320,000 human years.

Yuguru African

the name for Ogo after he was maimed by one of the Nommo

Yuhwa Korean

daughter of a river-earl

mother of Chumong

When she was raped by a son of the ruler of heaven, she was banished by her family and was found wandering on a mountainside by the king, Kumowa, who gave her shelter. She became pregnant and eventually gave birth to a large egg from which emerged the boy Chumong.

Yuki-onna Japanese

[Lady of the Snow.Oyazu.Snow Woman.
White Ghost.Winter Ghost.Yuki-onne]
an evil female spirit of winter

She appeared to Mosaku and Minokichi and killed the former with her icy breath but spared the younger man. She later married him but disappeared in a cloud of cold mist when he finally recognised her as the phantom who had killed his master.

In another story, she appeared in the guise of Oyazu, a woman who had died and whose husband then left her parents without support.

Yuki-onne *(see Yuki-onna)Yul-khor-bsrun *(see Yul-khor-srung)Yul-khor-srung Tibetan

[Yul-khor-bsrun]
the Tibetan name for Dhritarashtra (Dharmarashtra) as guardian of the east

Yul-lha Tibetan

local gods, of which there are 8 classes

Yule Norse

a festival in honour of the Aesir, January 14th

Yum Tibetan

[=Chinese Yin:=Japanese Yo]
the Buddhist female principle: time

Yum Caax Central American

[Ghanan.Lord of the Harvest.Yum Kaax: =Aztec Cinteotl]
the Mayan maize-god, an aspect of Kukulcan

Yum Cimil Central American

a name of Ah Puch as 'lord of death'

Yum Kaax *(see Yum Caax)yumbalamob Central American

Mayan spirits in the first heaven, guardians of the villages

yumchabob Central American

[mukuchyumchakob]
Mayan spirits of the sixth heaven, envisaged as old men controlling rain

Yün Chung-chun *(see Yün Chung-tzu)Yün Chung-tzu Chinese

[Yün Chung-chun]
a son of the clouds

He raised the infant Lei Chen-tzu.

After the Battle of Mu, he surrounded Wen-chung T'ai-shih with eight columns of fire so that he was burnt to ashes and was elevated to divine status as Lei T'su.

yun-drun Tibetan

[ryungdrung]
the swastika, a symbol of the sun

In the Buddhist form, it has the arms

bent to the right; the Bon version has them bent to the left.

Yün Fan *(see Han Chung-li)Yün Tun Chinese

a weather-god

He is envisaged as a young boy playing with the clouds.

Yung-chen *(see Hua Lin)Yung-ku Wang Chinese

an early god of the city of Hangchow

Yungayung Pacific Islands

a guardian spirit of the Philippines

(see also Spitter)

yupa Hindu

a post used in Brahmin sacrificial

rites

Yurine Japanese

a peasant

father of Koyuri

On his deathbed, Yurine craved a drink of saké and his son set out with a gourd to find some. The boy met two shojo who took pity on him and gave him some of their sacred white saké which restored Yurine's youth and allowed him to live for 300 years.

Yuriwaka Japanese

a warrior

He made many conquests using his magic bow and arrows until two of his men, Jigo and Taro, marooned him on an island and stole his weapons. Yuriwaka's wife, persuaded that her husband was dead, agreed to marry Taro, but Yuriwaka escaped from the island, arrived just in time to stop the wedding and, recovering his bow and arrows, killed the treacherous Taro.

Yurlunggar *(see Yurlungur)Yurlunggur *(see Yurlungur)Yurlungur Australian

[Copper Python.Julunggah.Julunggul.
Kunmanggur.Ngalbjod.Nialyod.
Rainbow Serpent.Rainbow Snake.
Ungur.Woinunggur.Yurlunggar.
Yurlunggur.Yurlunyor]

a snake-spirit of the Aborigines

A bisexual fertility symbol, he was regarded as the ancestor of some of the tribes and lived in the waterhole, Mirrimina.

He swallowed and regurgitated the Wawalag sisters and subsequently regurgitated all the plants and animals he had previously swallowed before disappearing into the sky where he appears as the rainbow.

(see also Kunmanggur.Rainbow Snake.Yalungur)

Yurlunyor *(see Yurlungur)Yurugu *(see Ogo)Yurupari South American

a bush-demon of the Tupi of Brazil

Yurupary South American

[Manioc Stick Anaconda]

a culture-hero of Colombia brother of Macaw

He stole fire from the underworld and killed his brother with it. He was himself burnt to death.

Yusai Japanese

a sage

Yusai advised Shinzaburo that the woman who came to him each night during the Festival of the Dead was not the maiden he had fallen in love with but the ghost of the dead, and referred him to the priest, Ryoseki, for further help.

Yusuf ibn Wasif Persian

an envoy to the jinn

Azazil sent him to the rebellious jinn who had killed several earlier envoys. He reported back and Azazil led his forces to put down the rebellion.

Yusup Pacific Islands

a Polynesian fisherman

He caught the magic white tortoise, Notu, which he then carried in the front of his boat. The tortoise could lead him to sites where he was sure of a good catch of fish and, when they met a sea-monster, Notu found the ring lost in the ocean which restored the monster to its proper form as a prince, a feat for which Yusup was well rewarded.

Yuttoere North American

the supreme deity of the Carrier tribe

Yuvanasha Hindu

a man who, after drinking a potion, bore a boy from his side

Yuzu Japanese

a holy tree

This is the citron, the fruit and needles of which are said to cure the sick.

Yvain<sup>1</sup> French

[Ywain]

the French name for Owain

Yvain<sup>2</sup> French

[Le Chevalier au Lion.Ywain] a 12th c story of the exploits of Owain, written by Chrétien de Troyes

Yvan British

[Evrain]

a magician

He and Mabon had turned the Lady of Sinadun into a snake. When Gingalin came to her aid, they attacked him. Mabon was killed but Yvan vanished into thin air in time to save himself.

Yvoirin uncle of Esclaramonde Yvonet a squire at the court of King Arthur He helped the unworldly Percival to remove the armour of the Red Knight after Percival had killed him and took	European British	the golden cup that Percival had recovered back to Camelot from where the Red Knight had stolen it. Yvain<sup>1</sup> (see Yvain<sup>1</sup>)  Yvain<sup>2</sup> (see Yvain<sup>2</sup>)  Ywein Welsh  an earl	He owned the valley which held the hedge of mist and where enchanted games were held which were ended only when Geraint overcame the champion of the games. Ywerit British  in some accounts, father of Bran
--	--	---	---

Z

Zaazuash
a demon

Zababa Mesopotamian
[Zubaba:Hattic Wurukatti= Hittite Zamama]
a Babylonian war-god

Zabel of the Sea Pboenician
a sea-beast
This animal was used by Khoser in his fight with Baal.

Zabiba Arab
a princess
mother of Antar

She was freed from captivity by Shaddad when he conquered the Sudan and became his wife.

Zac Cimi Central American
a Mayan god
one of the 4 Bacabs

He supported the western corner of the world (black). (see also Ix)

Zac-Mitun-Ahau Central American
a Mayan deity, guardian of the city

Zac-u-Uayeyab Central American
a Mayan deity, guardian of
the city

Zacharias (see Zechariah)
Zactecauh Central American
a Guatemalan warrior

He and Gagavitz were the two oldest men in the force led by Tiuh Tiuh.
Both of them fell asleep on the shore and were drowned when the sea rose.

Zad (see Ded)

Zada Siberian
[Sata]
a wind-spirit

Zaden Spanish
a guardian god of fishermen

Zadusnica European [=Russian Dziady]
a guardian spirit

Zaebos
a demon of hell
He is depicted as a crocodile with a man's head.

Zagam (see Zagan)

Zagan
[Zagam]
a demon of forgers
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be able to perform miracles such as turning water into wine and appears in the form of a winged bull.

Zagmak Mesopotamian
[Zagmuk]
a festival in honour of Marduk held at the Spring equinox

Zagmuk (see Zagmak)

Zagreus Greek
[=Greek Dionysus]
a Cretan vegetation-god

Zeus mated with Persephone to produce Zagreus with the intention of handing over his own powers to this son, but the jealous Hera incited the Titans to kill him. He tried to escape by changing shape but was killed in the shape of a bull and the Titans tore him to pieces and ate him. Some say that man was created from his body and the soul from his blood. Athena rescued the boy's heart and returned it to Zeus who swallowed it and used it in his coupling with Semele to produce Dionysus. (see also Dionysus)

Zaguaguaya South American
a sun-god of the Guarayo tribe brother of Abaangui

It is said that the country he lives in is lit by small birds, each of which carries a small light in its beak.

Zahadolchahi North American
a god of the Navaho
one of the Yeibechi

Zahak Persian [Zahhak.Zohak.Zuhak]
a tyrant

a form of the demon Ahzi Dahak A prince who followed the path of corruption and developed snakes growing one from each shoulder which fed on human brains. He killed Yima or Jamshid by cutting him in half but was himself overthrown and imprisoned by Thraetona.

Zahgurim Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as 'helper of friends'

Zahhak (see Azhi Dahak.Zahak)

Zahi West Indian

a Haitian voodoo spirit

zahlenquadrat (see magic square)

- Zahoris European
Spanish sorcerers
These people are said to have made a pact with the Devil who has given them the power to see through solid objects.
- Zahrim Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as 'scourge of wickedness'
- Zahun
a demon associated with scandal
- Zaim Arab
a nocturnal manifestation of the devil
- Zainigav Arab
a storm-demon
This demon overran Persia but was driven out by Afrasiyab.
- Zairicha Persian
a demon opposing Hauravat
- Zairivairi (see Zariadres)
- Zajan Siberian
[Sagan-tengeri]
a Buriat god of fate
- Zakar<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
an Assyrian supreme god
- Zakar<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian
a Babylonian god of dreams
- Zakiqoxol Central American
a Guatemalan fire-spirit
- Zakitzunum Central American
a Guatemalan warrior
He accompanied Zactecauh on a trip to the top of a mountain.
- Zal Persian
a sun-god
son of Sam
father of Rustem by Rudabah
He was said to have been born with white hair and was abandoned by his parents on Mount Alburz from where he was rescued by the simurgh, Saena.
- Zalambur Arab [Zalumbur]
a demon of dishonest trading son of Eblis
- Zalburis
a demon associated with healing
- Zaleos
[Saleos]
a demon
one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon
He is depicted as a soldier riding a crocodile.
- Zaleukos Greek
a sun-god in Locris
- Zalktis Baltic
[Lithuanian Zaltys]
a Latvian snake-god
- Zalmoxis Greek
[Salmoxis]
- a Thracian sky-god who became a god of the underworld
In some accounts, he is equated with Cronus.
- Zalumbur (see Zalambur)
- Zaltys Baltic
[=Latvian Zalktis]
a Lithuanian snake-god: a green snake revered as a fertility symbol
- Zam-Armatay Persian
an earth-goddess
- Zamama Mesopotamian
[Zamanas:=Assyrian Ninib:=Babylonian Zababa:=Sumerian Ninurta]
a Hittite sun-god and god of war
He was later equated with Marduk.
- Zamanas (see Zamana)
- Zamangad Hebrew
[Zuburijad]
an emerald kingdom ruled by Lilith
This pleasant land was regarded as the home of lovers.
- Zamba African
a supreme god of the Yuande father of Ngi, Nkokn, Otkut and Wo
- Zambanta (see Irke)
- Zambi (see Nzambi)
- Zambu Siberian
[=Hindu Jambu:=Tibetan Zampu]
the Yakut Tree of Life, growing in paradise
The goddess Kypai-khotun lived in this tree and gave nourishment from her breasts to mankind. At the base of the tree, from which emerged four rivers, lay a dragon.
- Zami-Mata (see Bhumidevi)
- Zamin Persian
an earth-goddess
- Zamna (see Itzamna)
- Zampu Tibetan
[=Hindu Jambu:=Siberian Zambu]
the Tree of Life which grows on the sacred mountain, Himavan
- Zamzummin Hebrew
a race of giants: drought demons (see also Zuzim)
- Zan Greek
a name for Zeus in Crete
- Zana Balkan
[=Roman Diana]
an Albanian fairy
She is said to be protected by goats.
- Zanahary African [Railanitra]
the supreme god of Madagascar
husband of Andriamanitra
He created the universe and breathed life into the first humans made from clay by Ratovoantany.
Another story asserts that Zanahary existed in two forms, Light and Dark. The latter made humans from clay and persuaded the other to give them life in exchange for some female versions. When Dark reneged on his promise, the two separated, Light remaining in the heavens while Dark came to earth.
(see also Andriamanitra)
- Zand (see Zend)
- zanges (see loa<sup>2</sup>)
- Zangze Korean
a cruel man
When he gave a beggar a bag of horse manure to eat, Zangze's daughter ran after the beggar and gave him rice instead. The beggar disappeared just as a clap of thunder shook the heavens and Zangze and his house disappeared and a lake appeared where the house had stood. A statue of the Buddha was found on the shore of the lake on the following day.
- Zaothra Persian
holy water used in Zoroastrian rites
- Zapala (see Viracocha)
- Zaphon (see Mount Zaphon)
- Zapotlantenan Central American
an Aztec goddess of healing
- Zappu Mesopotamian
a Babylonian star-god, the Pleiades personified
- Zar African
an early Ethiopian sky-god
- Zara (see Zariadres)
- Zara-Mama South American
a maize-goddess in Peru
- Zaradusht (see Zoroaster)
- Zaradushti (see Zoroaster)
- Zarathushtra (see Zoroaster)
- Zarathustra (see Zoroaster)
- Zarbanit (see Sarpanitu)
- Zardusht (see Zoroaster)
- Zaren
an avenging demon
- Zariadres Persian
[Zairivairi.Zara.Zarir(an).Zarivari]
a hero
lover of Katayun
Their story is told in ancient epic poems. In some versions, Hystaspes takes the place of Zariadres and Odatis replaces Katayun.
- Zarir (see Zariadres)
- Zariran (see Zariadres)
- Zarivari (see Zariadres)
[Zara]

Zarobi

a demon associated with precipices

Zarpanit (see Sarpanitu)

Zarpanitum (see Sarpanitu)

Zarpanitum (see Sarpanitu)

Zaru Egyptian

a legendary king who was killed in the Sed ceremony

Zarvan (see Zurvan)

Zarya<sup>1</sup> Slav

a lake-priestess

Zarya<sup>2</sup> (see Zoroya)

Zarzikhoven, Ulrich von German

a 13th c writer, author of Lanzelet

Zas<sup>1</sup> Chinese

a sun-god

His arrival was heralded by a golden cockerel.

Zas<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian

a Phoenician version of Baal

He overcame the dragon Ophroneus.

Zasis Baltic

a Lithuanian herald of dawn

Zatik Armenian

a vegetation-god

Zaub'a Arab

an evil spirit which takes the form of a whirlwind

Zavebe

a demon

Zazel

a demon of the planet Saturn

son of Har

brother of Tiriël

In the works of William Blake, Tiriël rebelled against his father, Har, and put Zazel in prison.

Zernoboch (see Chernobog)

Zdral Serbian

the horse of Ivan Tzrnoyevitch

offspring of Bedevia

Zduh (see Vjedogonja)

Zduhacz (see Vjedogonja)

Zebauti (see Djebauti)

zebu Hindu

a hump-backed ox

This animal is sacred in many parts of Asia.

Zebul (see Baal-Zebul)

Zedechias European

an 8th c Frankish magician

It is said that he caused sylphs to appear in ships of the air.

Zedex

[Tzedek]

a demon associated with the planet

Jupiter and Thursday

Zeffar

a demon associated with irrevocable choices

Zehuti (see Thoth)

Zeidkele

Baltic

an epithet for Zemnya as 'the one who grows flowers'

Zelos

Greek

[Zelus]

a god of emulation, rivalry, zeal

son of Pallas and Styx brother of Bia, Cratis and Nike

(see also Phthonos)

Zelotes

British

a suitor of Perse

He had been promised the hand of Perse by her father but Ector, who was also in love with the maiden, carried her off.

Zeirna

a demon associated with infirmity

Zel

British

in some accounts, a king of Britain

It was said that, when he died, he was buried on horseback.

Zelah

a demon

Zeli

African

in Dahomey, a drum used in funeral

rites

Money is thrown into this drum to provide the fare for the dead person's journey to the afterworld.

Zelus (see Zelos)

Zem

Persian

an earth-god

one of the Yazatas

Zembei

Japanese

a noble

father of Shingé

His daughter killed herself when Zembei refused to allow her to marry Yoshisawa.

Zemelo

Phrygian

[=Lettish Zemesmate:=Lithuanian

Zemyna:=Russian Zemlya:=Slav Mata-

Syra-Zemla]

an earth-goddess

mother of Diounsias

In some accounts, she is equated with Semele.

Zemen

[Shemesh]

a demon associated with the sun and Sunday

Zemepatis

Baltic

[Dimstipatis.Zemininkas:=Latvian

Majas kungs]

a Lithuanian earth-god, guardian of farmers

brother of Zemyna

zemes

(see zemi<sup>2</sup>)

Zemes Mate (see Zemesmate)

Zemesmate

Baltic

[Mother of the Earth:=Lithuanian

Zemyna:=Phrygian Zemelo:=Russian

Zemlya:=Slav Mata-Syra-Zemla]

a Lettish earth-goddess

Zemi<sup>1</sup>

West Indian

either of the primaeval beings,

Morobo and Binatel, progenitors of the gods

zemi<sup>2</sup>

West Indian

[cemis:plur=zemes]

a deity: a spirit: a ghost: a carving representing a deity or containing the souls of the ancestors of the tribal chiefs (see also zemi)

Zemlya

Russian

[=Lettish Zemesmate:=Lithuanian

Zemyna:=Phrygian Zemelo:=Slav Mata-

Syra-Zemla]

an earth-goddess

Zemyna

Baltic

[Zeidkele:=Lettish Zemesmate:

=Phrygian Zemelo:=Russian Zemlya:

=Slav Mata-Syra-Zemla]

a Lithuanian vegetation-goddess

sister of Zemepatis

Zen-po

Buddhist

[bZan-po]

the Tibetan name for Bhadra, the

arhat

Zend

Persian

[Zand.Zend-Avesta]

a commentary on the Avesta

Zend-Avesta

(see Zend)

Zendik

Arab

a magician

Zenenet

Egyptian

a goddess at Hermonthis

consort of Menthu

This goddess was later merged with Rattawy.

Zennyo

Japanese

a dragon-king

When the priest Shubin imprisoned the dragon which brought rain in a water-jug and so caused a drought, Zennyo intervened. Rain then fell for three days.

Zepar

a demon

one of the 72 Spirits of Solomon

He is said to be able to cause women to fall in love and appears as a soldier. Others say that he is a duke in hell who incites men to indulge in unnatural sexual practices.

Zephon

British

an angel in Paradise Lost

Zephon and Ithuriel were sent to search for Satan who had entered paradise.

Zephuros

(see Zephyr<sup>2</sup>)

Zephyr<sup>1</sup>

British

a spirit

In some accounts, an ancestor of Merlin.

Zephyr<sup>2</sup> Greek

[West Wind.Zephuros.Zephyros.

Zephyrus:=Roman Favonius]

god of the west wind

son of Aeolus or Astraeus and Eos husband of Chloris, some say husband of Iris, some say

father of Carpus, some say

When Psyche threw herself from the top of a cliff to escape the harassment of Aphrodite who was jealous of her beauty, Zephyr caught her in mid-air and wafted her off to a splendid palace where she lived with Eros who visited her every night.

In one account, he killed Hyacinthus when the youth rejected him as a lover and, in remorse, changed his boisterous ways and became a gentle breeze.

In the Roman version he is the husband of Flora.

In some accounts, he fathered Balios and Xanthus, the horses of Achilles, on Podarge; in others he was the father of Carpus by Chloris and of Eos by Aphrodite.

Zephyros (see Zephyr<sup>2</sup>.Zephyrus<sup>1</sup>)

Zephyrus<sup>1</sup> Greek

[Zephyros]

a horse, sire of Xanthus

Zephyrus<sup>2</sup> (see Zephyr<sup>2</sup>)

Zerbino European

son of a king of Scotland

husband of Isabella

He attended a tournament arranged by the king of Galicia and fell in love with the king's daughter, Isabella. Her father refused to sanction their marriage because she was a Muslim, he a Christian, so they married secretly. He was recalled to Scotland to lead an army to the assistance of Charlemagne, leaving his wife behind. During that campaign he was taken prisoner by armed bandits. Roland, who had earlier rescued Isabella from pirates, freed Zerbino who was reunited with his wife. He was leading a troop of soldiers when they came across Medoro and Cloridan who had crept from their camp in the night to recover the dead body of their leader, Dardinel. Cloridan was killed and Medoro was wounded in the encounter. When Roland went mad at the news that Angelica had married Medoro, Zerbino found the armour and sword that Roland had abandoned.

He was challenged by Mandricardo for the ownership of the sword, Durindana, and was killed by the Saracen.

Zernebock (see Chernobog)

Zerpanitu (see Sarpanitu)

Zerpanitum (see Sarpanitu)

Zervan (see Zurvan)

Zesa Korean

a wise man

He, together with Muggo and Mugol, helped Chumong to set up a new kingdom. He was later given the family name of Gugsi.

Zetes Greek

winged son of Boreas and Oreithyia

twin brother of Calais

brother of Chione and Cleopatra

He sailed with the Argonauts and, with his brother Calais, chased off the Harpies that had been harassing King Phineus. It had been decreed that the twins must catch whatever they pursued and, because they failed to catch the Harpies, they died.

Other versions of the story say that the brothers were killed by Heracles when they persuaded the Argonauts to sail off without Heracles when he was searching for his armour-bearer, Hylus.

Other accounts say that their sister, Cleopatra, had been imprisoned by her husband Phineus. Zetes and Calais freed Cleopatra and put her on the throne of Salmydessus in place of Phineus.

Zetheus (see Zethus)

Zethos (see Zethus)

Zethus Greek

[Zetheus.Zet(h)os]

son of Lycus or Zeus by Antiope, wife of Lycus

twin brother of Amphion husband of Aedon or Thebe

father of Itylus and Neis

He and his brother were abandoned as babies on a mountainside but were found and brought up by a herdsman.

Together they built the walls of Thebes, using Amphion's music to move the stones into position and named the city after Thebe, wife of Zethus.

Another version of the story says that Zethus married Aedon who accidentally killed Itylus and was turned into a nightingale while Zethus himself died of grief at the death of his young son.

Zetos (see Zethus)

Zeus

Greek

[Aether.Agoraios.Alastor.Apomyios.

Basileus.Boracus.Boulaios.Cloud-

Gatherer.Dictaeus.Dios.Eleutherios.

Ephestios.Ether.Gamelios.

Herkeios.Horios.Kataibates.Keraunos.

Khesios.King of Men.Lord of the Sky.Lykaios.Marnos.Me(i)lichios.

Nephelegeretes.Nicophoros.Olympios.

Ombrios.Panomphaean.Pater.Phratrios.

Pilar.Pistios.PolieusSabazios.Sabazius.

Soter.Talaios.Tele(i)os.Thunderer.Tritos.

Xenios.Zagreus.Zan.Zio:=Egyptian

Amon:=Etruscan Tinia:

=Hindu Dyaus:=Lycian Cragus:

=Persian Ahura Mazda.

=Roman Diu-pater,Jupiter]

a supreme god, rain-god and sky-god

son of Cronus and Rhea

brother of Demeter, Hera, Hestia,

Pluto and Poseidon

husband of Metis, Themis and finally Hera

father of Ares, Hebe, Hephaestus

and Ilithyia by Hera

His father, Cronus, had made a habit of swallowing his offspring to prevent their becoming a threat to his position so his wife Rhea hid the infant Zeus as soon as he was born in a cave in Crete where he was reared by the nymphs Io and Adrasteia and the goat-nymph Amaltheia whose skin he wore.

He became cup-bearer to Cronus and gave him an emetic which forced him to regurgitate all the children he had swallowed.

He led the gods in the war against the Titans and killed Campe, the female guardian of Tartarus, releasing the Cyclopes and the hundred-handed Giants who helped in the fight against the Titans. After a ten-year struggle the gods were the victors and the three brothers shared the world between them, Pluto taking the underworld, Poseidon the sea and Zeus the earth and heavens.

He was defeated in a single-handed fight with Typhon who cut out all his sinews. Pan and Hermes restored them and Zeus carried on the fight with Typhon finally burying him for all time when he threw Mount Etna at him.

Angered by the impiety of the sons of Lycaon, he caused a universal flood from which only Deucalion with his wife Pyrrha and a few others managed to escape.

He is said to have created Pandora, the most beautiful of all women, as a gift to Epimetheus who rejected her and to have placed the Pleiades in the sky as stars to escape the attentions of Orion who had pursued them relentlessly.

In the form of an eagle, he abducted the beautiful youth Ganymede and made him cup-bearer to the gods after Hebe.

He married his sister Hera and they had three children, Ares, Hebe and Hephaestus (and, some say, Ilithyia) but he is said to have raped his mother, Rhea, both of them in the form of serpents, and to have fathered many other children on various goddesses, nymphs and mortals.

One of these children was Athena. Zeus had seduced Metis and she was expecting his child. When he heard that the child would be a girl but any second child would be a boy who would dethrone him, Zeus swallowed Metis and her unborn baby. When he later developed a headache, Hephaestus split open his skull and out sprang Athena fully armed.

Another child was Heracles. When he decided there was a need for a protector of both gods and man, he set out to produce such a champion, selecting Alcmena, the wife of Amphitryon as his partner. He caused the motions of the earth to slow so that one night lasted for three as he lay with Alcmena in the guise of her husband. The son of this union was the hero Heracles.

In the form of a white bull he carried off Europa and then, changing to an eagle, fathered Minos, Rhadamanthys and Sarpedon on her and he also abducted Aegina, fathering Aeacus on her and turning himself into a huge rock to escape the vengeance of her father Asopus.

In the case of Castor, Pollux, Helen and Clytemnestra, there is some dispute but there is no doubt that Zeus was involved in some way with their mother Leda. In some tales he seduced Leda taking the form of a swan on a night when she had also lain with her husband Tyndareus. Four children resulted and these are attributed variously to the two potential fathers. In another version, Helen was fathered on Nemesis (as a goose) by Zeus (as a swan).

Amongst others, he was the father of:

Aeacus by Aegina or Europa
 Aegipan by Aex
 Agdistis by Cybele
 Amphion by Antiope
 Aphrodite by Dione, some say Apollo by Leto (as quails)
 Ares by Hera
 Argus by Niobe
 Aros by Callisto
 Artemis by Leto (as quails)
 Astraea by Themis
 Athena by Metis (from his head)
 Balio by Podarge, some say Britomartis by Carme
 Castor by Leda (as swan)
 Charities by Eurynome Clytemnestra by Pyrrha
 Core (Persephone) by Demeter Dardanus by Electra
 Dike by Themis
 Dionysus by Semele or by Demeter
 Eirene by Themis
 Eunomia by Themis
 Epaphus by Io
 Eros by Aphrodite, some say Harmonia by Electra, some say Hebe by Hera
 Helen by Pyrrha
 Hephaestus by Hera
 Heracles by Alcmena
 Hermes by Maia
 Herophile by Lamia
 Horae by Themis
 Iasion by Electra
 Ilithyia by Hera
 Lacedemon by Taygete
 Magnes by Thyia
 Minos by Europa (as bull or eagle)
 Moirae by Themis
 Muses by Mnemosyne
 Orchomenus by Isonoe
 Pan by Aphrodite, some say Peirithous by Dia (as a stallion)
 Pelasgus by Niobe
 Perseus by Danae
 Pollux (Polyneices) by Leda (as swan)
 Rhadamanthys by Europa (as bull or eagle)
 Sarpedon by Europa (as bull or eagle), or by Laodamia Scylla by Lamia, some say Tantalus by Pluto, some say
 The Graces by Eurynome
 The Moirae by Themis
 The Muses by Mnemosyne
 The Seasons by Themis
 Thebe by Iodamia

Tityus by Elare, some say Xanthus by Podarge
 Zagreus by Persephone
 Zethus by Antiope

He killed Tantalus when he put pieces of his son Pelops in a stew served to the gods and, when Nyctimus was similarly treated by his brothers, Zeus restored him to life and turned all his brothers into wolves. He killed Salmoneus for pretending to be Zeus himself, Iasion for seducing Demeter and he killed Asclepius when the physician tried to restore Hippolytus to life.

His bird was the eagle, his tree the oak, his weapon the thunderbolt and his oracle was at Dodona.

(see also Q're.Tyndareus)

Zeus-Ammon Greek

[=Roman Jupiter-Ammon]

a combined deity represented by a bull and a ram

This version of Zeus was said to be the father of Alexander the Great.

Zeus-Amphitryon Greek

Zeus in the form of Amphitryon when he seduced Alcmena and begot Heracles

Zeus Curois (see Zeus Kouros)

Zeus Demaros Phoenician

[Demares.Demaros]

son of Ouranos and Ga

Zeus Herkios Greek

a name of Zeus as god of courtyards

Zeus Hikesios Greek

a name of Zeus as god of those seeking sanctuary

Zeus Horkios Greek

a name for Zeus as god of oaths

(see also Zeus Pistios)

Zeus Hypsistos Greek

a title of Zeus as supreme god

Zeus Kasios Mesopotamian

[Kasios]

a Semitic weather-god or mountain-god, identified with Zeus

Zeus Katachthonios Greek

a name for Hades as supreme god of the underworld

Zeus Kouros Greek

[Zeus Curois]

an early Cretan fertility-god: the boy Zeus

Zeus Ktesios Greek

Zeus as the protector of property

Zeus Lycaeus Greek

a name of Zeus as a wolf-god

Any man who ate the flesh of a victim sacrificed to this god would turn into a wolf. They were called lukoi.

- Zeus Maimaktes Greek
a bloody aspect of Zeus Meilichios
- Zeus Meilichios Greek [‘mild’] a form of Zeus represented as a snake
- Zeus Papas (see Attis)
- Zeus Pistios Greek [=Roman Fidius]
a name of Zeus as god of oaths (see also Zeus Horkios)
- Zeus Polieus Greek
a name of Zeus as god of the state
- Zeus Xenios Greek
a name of Zeus as sustainer of friendship
- Zeuxippe Greek
a nymph, one of the Naiads
daughter of Eridanus
wife of Pandion
mother of Butes, Erechtheus, Philomena, and Procne
- Zeveac
[Lebanah]
a demon associated with the moon and Monday
- Zhang Thung Tibetan
a mythical land
The realm was said to be the home of Shenrab Miwo.
- Zhiwud Afghan [Zhuwut]
a Kafir messenger-goddess
She took messages to Mon during his struggle to save the gods who had been imprisoned by the giants.
- Zhouiti (see Thoth)
- Zhuwut (see Zhiwud)
- Zi Mesopotamian
[=Babylonian Sige; Sumerian Ziku]
the Akkadian spirit which was said to inhere in all things
- Zibethiurdos Thracian
a storm-god
- Zigarun (see Abzu)
- Zikr Arab
a Dervish ceremony which ends with their wild, whirling dancing
- Ziku<sup>1</sup> Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as ‘pure goodness’
- Ziku<sup>2</sup> Mesopotamian
[=Akkadian Zi]
the Sumerian version of the Babylonian Sige
- Zikum Mesopotamian
a Sumerian mother-goddess
- Zimbabwe African
a sun-god of the Shona
- Zimwi African
a demon or devil
- Zin African
a Songhay water-spirit
- Zin-Kibaru African
a water-spirit in the River Niger This spirit owned a magic guitar with which he could enchant all the river creatures. When he caused the fish to eat Faran Maka’s rice plants, the man fought and killed Zin and won his guitar, giving him control of all the river creatures. (see also Zin)
- Zin-Zi Korean
a king
He invited the beautiful Do-Wha to his court but she refused because she was already married. The king and her husband both died and the king appeared to Do-Wha in a dream. She later found herself pregnant and bore a son, Bi-Hyong, who was adopted by the new king, Zin-Pyong.
- Zin-Pyong Korean
a king
He adopted the boy, Bi-Hyong, and had a bridge built by the goblins who were controlled by the boy’s magical
powers.
- Zinez Baltic
a perpetual fire used by oakworshippers in Lithuania
- Zinimar
one of the cardinal demons (north)
- Zinsi African
a magician in the lore of Dahomey
twin brother of Zinsu
- Zinsu African
a magician in the lore of Dahomey
twin brother of Zinsi
- Zintkala Luta Win North American [Red Bird]
a Sioux maiden
wife of Kangi Sapa and Wanblee Gleshka
She grieved at the reported death of Wanblee Gleshka and married his friend Kangi Sapa who had left his friend to die in the mountains.
Wanblee survived and returned to his tribe and when Kangi Sapa was killed in battle, Zintkala Luta Win married the man she really loved.
- Zintui Mesopotamian
a granddaughter of Wurusema
- Zinuhiyas Mesopotamian
a Hittite deity
- Zio (see Tiwaz.Tyr.Zeus)
- Zipacna Central American
[Cockspur.Earth-heaper.Zipakna] a Mayan dawn-god and god of earthquakes
son of Vucub-Caquix and Chimalmat brother of Cabraca
He and his brother were giants whose power threatened that of the gods.
The twins Hunapu and Ixbalanque trapped him in a pit and piled trees on top, then built a house over it. The giant broke out, killing the 400 young men who had helped the twins, but they later trapped him in a ravine, dropped huge boulders on him to kill him, and finally used their magical powers to turn him into stone.
- Zipakna (see Zipacna)
- Ziparwas Mesopotamian
a Hittite deity
- Zirat-panitu (see Sarpanitu)
- Zisi (see Marduk)
- Zitus European
the name for King Arthur in some Spanish stories
- Ziu (see Tiwaz.Tyr)
- Ziu-Wara (see Tiwaz.Tyr)
- Ziudsudda (see Ziusudda)
- Ziukinna Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as ‘leader of gods’
- Ziusuttu (see Ziusudra)
- Ziumen (see Tiwaz.Tyr)
- Ziusudra Mesopotamian
[Tut(t)u.Ziudsudda.Ziusuttu:=Syrian Utnapishtim:=Babylonian Atrahasis] the Sumerian king of Sippar A name for Atrahasis in some versions of the flood story.
(see also Xithuthros)
- Ziv (see Ziz)
- Ziva Slav
[Siva:=Polish Zywie]
a goddess of life
- Zivena Vizcatl Central American
the highest heaven of the Aztecs
- Ziw (see Tiwaz.Tyr)
- Ziz Hebrew
[Ziv]
a monstrous bird
This bird was so large that its wings blotted out the light of the sun.
- Ziza European [Zizi]
a name for Isis in the north
- zizal Central American
a plant sacred to the Maya This plant was said to be immortal but harmful to all who touched it.
- Zizi (see Ziza)
- Zizuph
a demon associated with mysteries
- zli doossi Serbian
evil spirits
- Zlotababa Russian
[Golden Old Woman]
an idol representing an old woman and 2 children, worshipped by the Vogul

Zluidni Slav
malevolent fairies

Zmay Serbian
a dragon

He was turned into a handsome youth by the love of a princess.

Zmayevska Vatra Serbian
[Fire of the Dragons]

fire as an object of worship

Zmei Goruinich Slav
a winter-demon

This being, said to capture maidens, is envisaged as a snake with many heads.

Zmek Slav
[Cmok.Smok:=German Hospodaricek]

a guardian spirit

This being is said to take the form of a snake.

Zmyrna (see Myrrha)

Zmyrne (see Myrrha)

Zo-Han-Zun Korean
a poor man who became a stone buddha

For his public-spiritedness in collecting money to build a bridge, Zo was rewarded by the King of Heaven who arranged for him to be reborn as a princess to the empress of China. If he had not used some of the money to buy himself a pair of sandals, he would have been born a prince. The Emperor, fearing that the child was an evil spirit, had it killed and Zo's spirit became a stone buddha protecting his descendants.

Zoa<sup>1</sup> African
a sage and ancestral-hero of the Songhay

He was said to have cut open a pregnant slave and saw the unborn child eating sheep's liver which had earlier been given to the mother.

He grew angry when his son cried over the death of a bird which Zoa had killed with a single word and caused a huge fissure to appear in the earth. He jumped into the crack, which closed after him, and four trees grew on the site which became a shrine.

zoa<sup>2</sup> British 4 demons in the works of William Blake

These beings are given as Luvah, Tharmas, Urizen and Urthona.

zobop West Indian a voodoo sorcerer in Haiti

Zocho Japanese
[Zochoten:=Chinese Kuang Mu:=Hindu Virupaksha:=Taoist Mo-li Hai]
a guardian-god of the south one of the Shi Tenno

In some accounts he is guardian of the west and is one of the twenty-eight Nijuhachi-Bushu.

Zochoten (see Zocho)

Zodiac

the circle of the sky, divided into 12 parts, each of 30 degrees

Each part of the circle is identified by one of the Zodiacal signs used in casting horoscopes. These signs are given as six in the northern hemisphere (Aries, Cancer, Gemini, Leo, Taurus and Virgo) and six more in the southern hemisphere (Aquarius, Capricorn, Libra, Pisces, Sagittarius and Scorpio).

(1) The Arabic names are Aqrab (Scorpio), Asad (Leo), Dalu (Aquarius), Hamal (Aries), Hut (Pisces), Jadi (Capricorn), Jauza (Gemini), Mizan (Libra), Qaus (Sagittarius), Saratan (Cancer), Sumbula (Virgo) and Thaur (Taurus).

(2) The Babylonian Zodiac has Aqrabu (Scorpion), Aru (Leo), Enzu (Capricorn), Gu (Aquarius), Ku or Sarikku (Aries), Masu (Gemini), Pa (Sagittarius), Pulkka (Cancer), Seru (Virgo), Te or Mennu (Taurus), Zib (Pisces) and Zibanitu (Libra).

(3) In the Chinese Zodiac, one bird and eleven animals appear. These are Cockerel, Dog, Dragon, Horse, Monkey, Ox (or Buffalo), Pig (or Wild Boar), Rabbit (or Hare), Rat, Sheep (or Goat), Snake and Tiger.

(4) In Egypt, in the denderah as it is known, the scarab is used in place of the crab (Cancer) and the goat has the tail of a fish.

(5) The Hebrew names are given as Akrav (Scorpio), Aryeh (Leo), Betulah (Virgo), Dagim (Pisces), D'lee (Aquarius), G'de (Capricorn), Keshet (Sagittarius), Moznayim (Libra), Sartan (Cancer), Shor (Taurus), T'leh (Aries) and T'omim (Gemini).

(6) A similar system to that used in Egypt is used by Hindus in their Rasi Chakra, which has the chariot of the sun as its centre.

(7) In the Japanese version, based on the Chinese, the names are respectively tori, inu, uma, saru, ushi, i, u, ne, hitsuji, mi and tora.

(8) The Muslim version has three signs that are dry and hot

(east/fire) represented by Aries, Leo and Sagittarius; three dry and cold (south/east) represented by Capricorn, Taurus and Virgo; three wet and hot (west/air) represented by Aquarius, Gemini and Libra; and three wet and cold (north/water) represented by Cancer, Pisces and Scorpio.

Zoe

a Gnostic goddess of life daughter of Pistis Sophia consort of Sabaoth

She and her consort were said to have been the creators of Jesus and the angels.

Zohak (see Zahak)

Zohar Hebrew
a book of secret doctrine telling of the creation

Zoi Korean
a friend of Chumong

When Chumong fled to escape death at the hand of Kumwa, Zoi and two other friends, Hyobbu and Mari, went with him.

Zoka-no-kami Japanese a deity of creation (see also Zoka-no-sanshin)

Zoka-no-sanshin Japanese the 3 gods of creation

These deities are usually referred to as Ame-no-minaka-nushi, Kaminusubi and Takaminusubi.

zombi (see zombie)

zombie<sup>1</sup> African [zombi.zumbi]

an enslaved spirit: a state between life and death, physically mobile but without a soul: a python-god

zombie<sup>1</sup> West Indian [zombi.zumbi]

a living body without a soul: the power in such a body: a snake-god
In Haiti, a zombie is said to be under the control of the hougan who raised the body from death and will do anything the priest orders.

Some say that the zombie can be turned into an animal and killed so that its flesh can be eaten.

zombie errant West Indian
the spirit of one who has died as the result of an accident

These spirits are not controlled by a hougan but are free to roam at night. They are finally laid to rest when the term of life originally allotted to them runs out.

zombiism West Indian belief in snake-gods, and voodooism

- Zonnysos (see Dionysus)
- Zool Fakari (see Dhu'l Fakar)
- zoomancy
divination from watching animals
- zoomorph
an image of a god in the form of an animal
- zoomorphism
[zoomorphy]
representing god in animal form
- zoomorphy (see zoomorphism)
- zootheism
the attribution to animals of divine qualities
- Zoph (see Qoph)
- Zophas
a demon associated with pentacles
- Zophiel British
an angel in Paradise Lost
- Zora Balkan
a deity of the dawn in Illyria
- Zorasabel
a demon of the east
- Zoroaster Persian
[Zaradusht(i).Zarathus(h)tra.Zardusht]
(c 628-551 BC)
the Greek form of Zarathustra
a prophet or priest
son of Hushhedar
son of Pourushaspa, some say
He was the son of one of the first four men to press the divine drink, haoma, from the fruit of the Gaokereena tree and was the founder or reformer of the old Persian religion based on the writings of the Zend-Avesta.
Some say that Hushhedar absorbed the fravashi of Zoroaster from a haoma tree and so produced his son.
In some accounts, as an infant he was thrown on the fire to die but the burning logs turned into a bed of roses. As a young man of twenty he left his home and took up a life of solitude, protected by Ahura Mazda when he confronted Ahriman and resisted the temptations that he offered. He prophesied that, in the final battle between good and evil, Ahriman would be defeated by Saoshyant.
His sperm was preserved in Lake Kasavya (which is now Hamoun) and impregnated any virgins who swam in its waters. As a result, every 1,000 years, a Saoshyant is born.
- Zoroya Utrennyaya Slav [Zarya.Zorya.]
a goddess of the dawn
- daughter of Dabog and Myesyats
sister of Zoroya Vechernyaya wife of Pyerun
- Zoroya Verchernyaya Slav [Zarya.Zoroya]
a goddess of the evening
daughter of Dabog and Myesyats sister of Utrennyaya
- Zorya (see Zoroya)
- Zosim Slav
a bee-god and god of mead
- Zotz (see Camazotz)
- Zotzils Central American
in the lore of the Maya, bat people
These people are said to be able to see in the dark.
- Zotzilaha Chimalman (see Camazotz)
- Zrvan Akarana (see Zurvan)
- Ztak Mesopotamian
a supreme deity of the Hittites
- Zu Mesopotamian [Anzu]
a Babylonian lion-headed storm bird
Zu (or Imdugud) once stole the Tablets of Destiny, originally belonging to Tiamat, from Enlil, threatening to become supreme ruler of the world, but Lugalbanda found Zu's nest and recovered the tablets.
In some accounts, the tablets were recovered by Marduk, in others by Ninurta.
(see also Erin-bird.Imdugud.Imgug.)
- Zu-en (see Nanna')
- Zu-ena (see Nanna')
- Zu-mong (see Chumong)
- Zubaba (see Zababa)
- Zuen (see Nanna')
- Zuflagar Arab
the sword of Ali
- Zugia Greek
a name for Hera as 'yoker'
- Zuhak (see Zahak)
- Zuhé (see Xuhé)
- Zuijin Japanese
guardian deities armed with bows and arrows (see also Kado-mori)
- Zuib (see Nanna')
- Zul Fikari (see Dhu'l Fakar)
- Zul-Qarnain Arab [Dhul Karnain.Dhul-Qarnayn]
the Arab name for Alexander the Great, in some accounts
He is said to have built a metal wall in the north to keep out Majuj and Vajuj.
(see also Al-Iskandar)
- Zulayka (see Zeleikha)
- Zulimas Mesopotamian
a Hittite deity
- Zulum Mesopotamian
a name of Marduk as 'clay-cutter'
- Zulummar (see Enlil)
- zumbi (see zombie)
- Zume West Indian [=Arawak Kamu:=Carib Kame.Tamu.
Tume:=Karaya Kaboi:=Paraguay Pay Zume]
a culture-hero and sun-god
He taught the people the arts of agriculture and the chase.
- Zungsil (see Mugol)
- Zuphlas
a demon associated with forests
- Zurburijad (see Zamangad)
- Zuriel
a demon ruling the Zodiacal sign Libra, the scales (see also Chadakiel)
- Zurvan Persia' [Aeon.'infinite time'.Zarvan.Zervan.
Z(u)rvan Akarana:=Buddhist Amitayas]
a primeval creator-god embodying both good and evil
the personification of time progenitor of Ahura Mazda and Ahriman, some say
- Zurvan Akarana (see Zurvan)
- Zuttibur Slav
a forest-spirit
- Zutup Central American
in the lore of the Iraya, a magic herb which can restore the power of speech to the dumb
- Zuyua Central American
a sacred language of the Maya
- Zuzim Hebrew
a race of giants (see also Zamzummin)
- Zvezda Dennitsa Slav
the morning star
daughter of Dabog
sister of Verchernyaya Zvezda
wife of Meness, some say
- Zwisi African
days which the Shona regard as sacred to Mwari
- Zya Siberian
a figure in shamanism
It is said that if one draws the figure of an enemy on cloth or paper and hides the drawing in that person's house, he will fall ill and die.
(see Yazata)
- Zyed (see Yazata)
- Zywie European [=Slav Ziva]
a Polish goddess of life

THE DICTIONARY OF MYTHOLOGY

Painstakingly researched and compiled over a period of twenty years, The Dictionary of Mythology is uniquely comprehensive. Covering myths and legends from around the world, no other work on the subject offers such a tantalizing mixture of information.

From A Colla mo Rum (a musical legend that credits the bagpipes with the power of speech) to Zya (a figure drawn by Siberian shamans), this book contains a treasure trove of invaluable insights into the world's cultures. Gods, real characters such as Charlemagne, imaginary characters such as Ali Baba, as well as those who, like King Arthur, live in the shadowlands between fact and fiction, are all brought together.

With concise cross-referencing, The Dictionary of Mythology will be an invaluable reference source for anyone who wants to discover the provenance of the world's greatest stories and read about the deeds of its greatest heroes.

ISBN 978-0-572-03222-7

9 780572 032227

LifeLock

Guarantee Your Good Name

LifeLock is proud to have sponsored this ebook for you. If you would like to know more about us, please call us at...

888.658.9577