The NCAA Hall of Champions (📍800-735-6222; www.ncaahallofchampions.org; 700 W Washington St; adult/child $5/3; 🕒10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from noon Sun) is also here, and reveals the country's fascination with college sports. Interactive exhibits let you shoot free throws or climb onto a swimming platform à la Michael Phelps.

Indianapolis Museum of Art

MUSEUM, GARDENS

(📍317-920-2660; www.imamuseum.org; 4000 Michigan Rd; 🕒11am-5pm Tue-Sat, 11am-9pm Thu & Fri, noon-5pm Sun) FREE The museum has a terrific collection of European art (especially Turner and post-impressionists), African tribal art, South Pacific art and Chinese works. The complex also includes Old-fields – Lilly House & Gardens, where you can tour the 22-room mansion and flowery grounds of the Lilly pharmaceutical family, and Fairbanks Art & Nature Park, with eye-popping mod sculptures set amid 100 acres of woodlands.

Kurt Vonnegut Memorial Library

MUSEUM

(www.vonnegutlibrary.org; 340 N Senate Ave; 🕒noon-5pm Thu-Tue) FREE Author Kurt Vonnegut was born and raised in Indy, and this humble museum pays homage with displays including his Pall Mall cigarettes, Purple Heart medal and box of hilarious rejection letters from publishers. The library also replicates his office, complete with checkerboard carpet, red-rooster lamp and blue Coronamatic typewriter. You're welcome to sit at the desk and type Kurt a note.

Rhythm! Discovery Center

MUSEUM

(www.rhythmdiscoverycenter.org; 110 W Washington St; adult/child $9/6; 🕒10am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) Bang drums, gongs, xylophones and exotic percussive instruments from around the globe at this hidden gem downtown. Kids love the interactive whomping. Adults appreciate the exhibits of famous drummers' gear and the soundproof, drum-kitted studio where you can unleash (and record) your inner Neil Peart.

Monument Circle

MONUMENT, MUSEUM

(1 Monument Circle) At Monument Circle the city center is marked by the jaw-dropping 284ft Soldiers & Sailors Monument. For a

INDIANA FACTS

Nickname Hoosier State

Population 6.5 million

Area 36,420 sq miles

Capital city Indianapolis (population 835,000)

Sales tax 7%

Birthplace of Author Kurt Vonnegut (1922–2007), actor James Dean (1931–55), TV host David Letterman (b 1947), rocker John Mellencamp (b 1951), King of Pop Michael Jackson (1958–2009)

Home of Farmers, corn

Politics Typically Republican

Famous for Indy 500 motor race, basketball fanaticism, pork tenderloin sandwich

Official pie Sugar cream

Driving distances Indianapolis to Chicago 185 miles, Indianapolis to Bloomington 53 miles bizarre (and cramped) experience, take the elevator ($2) to the top. Beneath is the Civil War Museum (🕒10:30am-5:30pm Wed-Sun) FREE, which neatly outlines the conflict and Indiana's abolition position. A few blocks north, the World War Memorial (cnr Vermont & Meridian Sts) is another impressively beefy monument.

Sun King Brewing

BREWERY

(www.sunkingbrewing.com; 135 N College Ave; 🕒4-7pm Thu, noon-7pm Fri, 1-5pm Sat) FREE Join Indy's young and hip, slurping free beers at Sun King's unvarnished downtown warehouse. You get six tastings (about the equivalent of a pint overall) in plastic cups, including year-round brews such as Osiris Pale Ale and seasonals like a pepper-spiced amber ale.

Indiana Medical

History Museum

MUSEUM

(📍317-635-7329; www.imhm.org; 3045 W Vermont St; adult/child $7/3; 🕒10am-3pm Thu-Sat) When you think 'horror movie insane asylum,' this century-old state psychiatric hospital is exactly what you envision. Guided tours roam the former pathology lab, from the cold-slabb'd autopsy room to the eerie specimen room filled with brains in jars. It's a few miles west of White River park.

Bicycle Garage Indy

BICYCLE RENTAL

(www.bgin Indy.com; 222 E Market St; rental per hr/day $15/40) Cycling has really taken off in the city. Hop on the Cultural Trail in front of the shop; it eventually connects to the Monon Trail greenway. Rates include helmet, lock and map.

★ Festivals

The city celebrates the Indy 500 throughout May with the 500 Festival (www.500festival.com; tickets from $7). Events include a race-car drivers' parade and a community shindig at the racetrack.

🛏 Sleeping

Hotels cost more and are usually full during race weeks in May, July and August. Add 17% tax to the prices listed here. Look for low-cost motels off I-465, the freeway that circles Indianapolis.

Indy Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 317-727-1696; www.indyhostel.us; 4903 Winthrop Ave; dm/r from $29/58; 🍷 🍺 🍻 🍷) This small, friendly hostel has four dorm rooms in configurations from four to six beds. One room is for females only, while the others are mixed. There are also a couple of private rooms. The Monon Trail hiking/cycling path runs beside the property. It's located by Broad Ripple, so it's a bit of a haul from downtown (on bus 17).

Hilton Garden Inn

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 317-955-9700; www.indianapolisdowntown.gardeninn.com; 10 E Market St; r incl breakfast $150-190; 🍷 🍺 🍻 🍷) The century-old neoclassical architecture, plush beds, free omelet-laden breakfast and downtown location right by Monument Circle make this a fine chain-hotel choice. Parking is $25.

Stone Soup

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 866-639-9550; www.stonesoupinn.com; 1304 N Central Ave; r incl breakfast $85-145; 🍷 🍺 🍻 🍷) The nine rooms sprawl throughout a rambling, antique-filled house. It's a bit ramshackle, but it has its charm. The less-expensive rooms share a bath.

Alexander

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 317-624-8200; www.thealexander.com; 333 S Delaware St; r $160-280) Opened in 2013, the 209-room Alexander is all about art. Forty original works decorate the lobby; the Indianapolis Museum of Art curates the contemporary collection (the public is welcome to browse). The mod rooms have dark-wood floors and, of course, cool wall art. It's a block from the basketball arena, and it's where visiting teams typically stay. Parking is $27.

🍴 Eating

Massachusetts Ave (Mass Ave; www.discovermassave.com), by downtown, is bounteous when the stomach growls. Broad Ripple (www.discoverbroadripplevillage.com), 7 miles north, has pubs, cafes and ethnic eateries.

Mug 'N' Bun

AMERICAN $

(www.mug-n-bun.com; 5211 W 10th St; mains $3-5; ☺ 10am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) The mugs are frosted and filled with a wonderful home-brewed root beer. The buns contain burgers, chili dogs and juicy pork tenderloins. And don't forget the fried macaroni-and-cheese wedges. At this vintage drive-in near the Speedway, you are served - where else? - in your car.

City Market

MARKET $

(www.indycm.com; 222 E Market St; ☺ 6am-9pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat; 🍷) A smattering of food stalls fill the city's old marketplace, which dates from 1886. The 2nd-floor bar pours 16 local brews; most other vendors close by 3pm.

Bazbeaux

PIZZERIA $$

(www.bazbeaux.com; 329 Massachusetts Ave; mains $8-12; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) A local favorite, Bazbeaux offers an eclectic pizza selection, like the 'Tchoupitoulas,' topped with Cajun shrimp and andouille sausage. Muffaletta sandwiches, stromboli and Belgian beer are some of the other unusual offerings.

Shapiro's Deli

DELI $$$

(☎ 317-631-4041; www.shapiros.com; 808 S Meridian St; mains $8-15; ☺ 6am-8pm; 🍷) Chomp into a towering corned-beef or peppery pastrami sandwich on homemade bread, and then chase it with fat slices of chocolate cake or fruit pie.

INDIANA FOODWAYS

Which restaurants serve the best pork tenderloin and sugar cream pie? Where are the local farmers markets and rib fests? What's the recipe for corn pudding? The Indiana Foodways Alliance (www.indianafoodways.com) is your one-stop shop for Hoosier cuisine info.

Drinking & Entertainment

Downtown and Mass Ave have some good watering holes; Broad Ripple also has several.

Bars & Nightclubs

Slippery Noodle Inn

BAR

(www.slipperynoodle.com; 372 S Meridian St; ☺ from 11am Mon-Fri, from noon Sat, from 4pm Sun) Downtown's Noodle is the oldest bar in the state, and has seen action as a whorehouse, slaughterhouse, gangster hangout and Underground Railroad station; currently it's one of the best blues clubs in the country. There's live music nightly, and it's cheap.

Rathskeller

BEER HALL

(www.rathskeller.com; 401 E Michigan St; ☺ from 2pm Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat & Sun) Quaff German and local brews at the outdoor beer garden's picnic tables in summer, or at the deer-head-lined indoor beer hall once winter strikes. It is located in the historic Atheneum building near Mass Ave.

Plump's Last Shot

BAR

(www.plumpslastshot.com; 6416 Cornell Ave; ☺ from 3pm Mon-Fri, from noon Sat & Sun; 🍷) Bobby Plump inspired the iconic movie Hoosiers. He's the kid who swished in the last-second shot, so his tiny school beat the 'big city' school in the 1950s state basketball championship. There's sports memorabilia everywhere. It's located in a big house in Broad Ripple – great for people-watching and sipping a cold one on the dog-friendly patio.

Sports

The motor races aren't the only coveted spectator events. The NFL's Colts win football games under a huge retractable roof at Lucas Oil Stadium (☎ 317-262-3389; www.colts.com; 500 S Capitol Ave). The NBA's Pacers shoot hoops at Bankers Life Fieldhouse (☎ 317-917-2500; www.pacers.com; 125 S Pennsylvania St).

Shopping

You could buy a speedway flag or Colts jersey as your Indy souvenir. Or you could purchase a bottle of mead made by a couple of enthusiastic former beekeepers at New Day Meadery (www.newdaymeadery.com; 1102 E Prospect St; ☺ 2-9pm Tue-Fri, noon-9pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun). Sip the honeyed wares in the tasting room (six samples for $6) before making your selection.

WORTH A TRIP

GRAY BROTHERS CAFETERIA

Cafeterias are an Indiana tradition, but most have disappeared – except for Gray Brothers (www.graybrotherscafe-tering.com; 555 S Indiana St; mains $4-8; ☺ 11am-8:30pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun). Enter the time-warped dining room, grab a blue tray and behold a corridor of food that seems to stretch the length of a football field. Stack on plates of pan-fried chicken, meatloaf, mac 'n' cheese and sugar cream pie, then fork in with abandon. It's located in Mooresville, about 18 miles south of downtown Indianapolis en route to Bloomington.

Information

Gay Indy (www.gayindy.org) Gay and lesbian news and entertainment listings.

Indiana University Medical Center (☎ 317-274-4705; 550 N University Blvd)

Indianapolis Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 800-323-4639; www.visitindy.com) Download a free city app and print out coupons from the website.

Indianapolis Star (www.indystar.com) The city's daily newspaper.

Nuvo (www.nuvo.net) Free, weekly alternative paper with the arts and music low-down.

Getting There & Around

The fancy Indianapolis International Airport (IND; www.indianapolisairport.com; 7800 Col H Weir Cook Memorial Dr) is 16 miles southwest of town. The Washington bus (8) runs between the airport and downtown ($1.75, 50 minutes); the Go Green Airport van does it quicker ($10, 20 minutes). A cab to downtown costs about $35.

Greyhound (☎ 317-267-3076; www.greyhound.com) shares Union Station (350 S Illinois St) with Amtrak. Buses go frequently to Cincinnati (two hours) and Chicago (3½ hours). Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) stops at 200 E Washington St, and is often cheaper. Amtrak travels these routes but takes almost twice as long and (nonsensically) costs more.

IndyGo (www.indygo.net; fare $1.75) runs the local buses. Bus 17 goes to Broad Ripple. Service is minimal during weekends.

For a taxi, call Yellow Cab (☎ 317-487-7777).

Bloomington & Central Indiana

Bluegrass music, architectural hot spots, Tibetan temples and James Dean all furrow into the farmland around here.

Fairmount

This small town, north on Hwy 9, is the birthplace of James Dean, one of the original icons of cool. Fans should head directly to the Fairmount Historical Museum (☎765-948-4555; www.jamesdeanartifacts.com; 203 E Washington St; ☎10am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun Apr-Oct) FREE to see Dean's bongo drums, among other artifacts. This is also the place to pick up a free map that will guide you to the farmhouse where Jimmy grew up and his lipstick-kissed grave site, among other sights. The museum sells Dean posters, zippo lighters and other memorabilia, and sponsors the annual James Dean Festival (☎late Sep) FREE, when as many as 50,000 fans pour in for four days of music and revelry. The privately owned James Dean Gallery (☎765-948-3326; www.jamesdeangallery.com; 425 N Main St; ☎9am-6pm) FREE has more memorabilia a few blocks away.

Columbus

When you think of the USA's great architectural cities – Chicago, New York, Washington, DC – Columbus, Indiana, doesn't quite leap to mind, but it should. Located 40 miles south of Indianapolis on I-65, Columbus is a remarkable gallery of physical design. Since the 1940s the city and its leading corporations have commissioned some of the world's best architects, including Eero Saarinen, Richard Meier and IM Pei, to create both public and private buildings. Stop at the visitor center (☎812-378-2622; www.columbus.in.us; 506 5th St; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat year-round, noon-5pm Sun Mar-Nov, closed Sun Dec-Feb) to pick up a self-guided tour map ($3) or join a two-hour bus tour (adult/child $20/10) departing at 10am Monday to Friday, 10am and 2pm Saturday and 2:30pm Sunday. Over 70 notable buildings and pieces of public art are spread over a wide area (car required), but about 15 diverse works can be seen on foot downtown.

Hotel Indigo (☎812-375-9100; www.hotel-indigo.com; 400 Brown St; r $135-180; 🏠📶🚰), downtown, offers the chain's trademark mod, cheery rooms, plus a fluffy white dog who works as the lobby ambassador (he even has his own email address). A few blocks away you can grab a counter stool, chat up the servers, and let the sugar buzz begin at retro, stained-glass-packed Zaharakos (www.zaharakos.com; 329 Washington St; ☎11am-8pm), a 1909 soda fountain.

Nashville

Gentrified and antique-filled, this 19th-century town west of Columbus on Hwy 46 is now a bustling tourist center; at its busiest in fall when leaf-peepers pour in. The visitor center (☎800-753-3255; www.browncounty.com; 10 N Van Buren St; ☎9am-6pm Mon-Thu, 9am-7pm Fri & Sat, 10am-5pm Sun; 📍) provides maps and coupons.

Beyond gallery browsing, Nashville is the jump-off point to Brown County State Park (☎812-988-6406; tent & RV sites $12-36, cabins from $77), a 15,700-acre stand of oak, hickory and birch trees, where trails give hikers, mountain bikers and horseback riders access to the area's green hill country.

Among several B&Bs, central Artists Colony Inn (☎812-988-0600; www.artistscolonyinn.com; 105 S Van Buren St; r incl breakfast $112-180; 📍) stands out for its spiffy Shaker-style rooms. The dining room (mains $9-17; ☎7:30am-8pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat) offers traditional Hoosier fare, such as catfish and pork tenderloins.

As with Nashville Tennessee, Nashville Indiana enjoys country music, and bands play regularly at several venues. To shake a leg, mosey into Mike's Music & Dance Barn (☎812-988-8636; www.mikesmusicbarn.com; 2277 Hwy 46; ☎from 6:30pm Thu-Mon). The Bill Monroe Museum (☎812-988-6422; 5163 Rte 135 N; adult/child $4/free; ☎9am-5pm, closed Tue & Wed Nov-Apr), 5 miles north of town, hails the bluegrass hero.

Bloomington

Lively and lovely Bloomington, 53 miles south of Indianapolis via Hwy 37, is the home of Indiana University. The town centers on Courthouse Sq, surrounded by restaurants, bars, bookshops and the historic facade of Fountain Sq Mall. Nearly everything is walkable. The Bloomington CVB (www.visitbloomington.com) has a downloadable guide.

On the expansive university campus, the Art Museum (☎812-855-5445; www.indiana.edu/~iuam; 1133 E 7th St; ☎10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from noon Sun) FREE, designed by IM Pei, contains an excellent collection of African art, as well as European and US paintings.

The colorful, prayer-flag-covered Tibetan Mongolian Buddhist Cultural Center (☎812-336-6807; www.tmbcc.net; 3655 Snoddy Rd; ☀ sunrise-sunset) FREE – founded by the Dalai Lama's brother – as well as the Dagom Gaden Tensung Ling Monastery (☎812-339-0857; www.dgtlmonastery.org; 102 Clubhouse Dr; ☀ 9am-6pm) FREE, indicate Bloomington's significant Tibetan presence. Both have intriguing shops and offer free teachings and meditation sessions; check the websites for weekly schedules.

If you arrive in mid-April and wonder why an extra 20,000 people are hanging out in town, it's for the Little 500 (www.iusf.indiana.edu; tickets $25; ☀ mid-Apr). It's one of the coolest bike races you'll see, in which amateurs ride one-speed Schwinn for 200 laps around a quarter-mile track.

Look for cheap lodgings along N Walnut St near Hwy 46. Grant Street Inn (☎800-328-4350; www.grantstinn.com; 310 N Grant St; r incl breakfast $159-239; @☀) has 24 rooms in a Victorian house and annex near campus.

For a town of its size, Bloomington offers a mind-blowing array of ethnic restaurants – everything from Burmese to Eritrean to Mexican. Browse Kirkwood Ave and E 4th St. Anyetsang's Little Tibet (☎812-331-0122; www.anyetsangs.com; 415 E 4th St; mains $9-13; ☀ 11am-9:30pm Wed-Mon) offers specialties from the Himalayan homeland. Pubs on Kirkwood Ave, close to the university, cater to the student crowd. Nick's English Hut (www.nicksenglishhut.com; 423 E Kirkwood Ave; ☀ from 11am) pours not only for students and professors, but has filled the cups of Kurt Vonnegut, Dylan Thomas and Barack Obama, as well.

Southern Indiana

The pretty hills, caves, rivers and utopian history of southern Indiana mark it as a completely different region from the flat and industrialized north.

Ohio River

The Indiana segment of the 981-mile Ohio River marks the state's southern border. From tiny Aurora, in the southeastern corner of the state, Hwys 56, 156, 62 and 66, known collectively as the Ohio River Scenic Route, wind through a varied landscape.

Coming from the east, a perfect place to stop is little Madison, a well-preserved river settlement from the mid-19th century where architectural beauties beckon genteelly from the streets. At the visitor center (☎812-265-2956; www.visitmadison.org; 601 W First St; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun), pick up a walking-tour brochure, which will lead you by notable landmarks.

Madison has motels around its edges, as well as several B&Bs. Main St lines up numerous places for a bite, interspersed with antique stores. Large, wooded Clifty Falls State Park (☎812-273-8885; tent & RV sites $12-36), off Hwy 56 and a couple of miles west of town, has camping, hiking trails, views and waterfalls.

In Clarksville, Falls of the Ohio State Park (☎812-280-9970; www.falloftheohio.org; 201 W Riverside Dr) has only rapids, no falls, but is of interest for its 386-million-year-old fossil beds. The interpretive center (adult/child $5/2; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, from 1pm Sun) explains it all. Quench your thirst in adjacent New Albany, home to New Albanian Brewing Company (www.newalbanian.com; 3312 Plaza Dr; ☀ 11am-midnight Mon-Sat). Or cross the bridge to Louisville, Kentucky, where the tonsil-singeing native bourbon awaits...

Scenic Hwy 62 heads west and leads to the Lincoln Hills and southern Indiana's limestone caves. A plunge into Marengo Cave (☎812-365-2705; www.marengocave.com; ☀ 9am-6pm Jun-Aug, to 5pm Sep-May), north on Hwy 66, is highly recommended. It has a 40-minute tour (adult/child $14/8), 70-minute tour ($16/9) or combination tour ($24/13) walking past stalagmites and other ancient formations. The same group operates Cave Country Canoes (www.cavecountrycanoes.com; ☀ May-Oct) in nearby Milltown, with half-day ($25), full-day ($28) or longer trips on the scenic Blue River; keep an eye out for river otters and rare hellbender salamanders.

Four miles south of Dale, off I-64, is the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial (☎812-937-4541; www.nps.gov/libo; adult/child/family $3/free/$5; ☀ 8am-5pm), where young Abe lived from age seven to 21. This isolated site also includes admission to a working pioneer farm (☀ 8am-5pm late May-Aug).

New Harmony

In southwest Indiana, the Wabash River forms the border with Illinois. Beside it, south of I-64, captivating New Harmony is the site of two early communal-living experiments and is worth a visit. In the early 19th century a German Christian sect, the Harmonists, developed a sophisticated town here while awaiting the Second Coming. Later, the British utopian Robert Owen acquired the town. Learn more and pick up a walking-tour map at the angular Atheneum Visitors Center (☎812-682-4474; www.usi.edu/hnh; 401 N Arthur St; ☉9:30am-5pm).

Today New Harmony retains an air of contemplation, if not otherworldliness, which you can experience at its newer attractions, such as the templelike Roofless Church and the Labyrinth, a maze symbolizing the spirit's quest. The town has a couple of guesthouses and camping at Harmonie State Park (☎812-682-4821; campsites $12-29). Pop into Main Cafe (508 Main St; mains $4-7; ☉5:30am-1pm Mon-Fri) for a ham, bean and cornbread lunch, but save room for the coconut cream pie.

Northern Indiana

The truck-laden I-80/I-90 tollways cut across Indiana's northern section. Parallel US 20 is slower and cheaper, but not much more attractive.

Indiana Dunes

Hugely popular on summer days with sunbathers from Chicago and South Bend, the Indiana Dunes National Lakeshore (☎219-395-8914; www.nps.gov/indu; campsites $18; ☉Apr-Oct) stretches along 21 miles of Lake Michigan shoreline. In addition to its beaches, the area is noted for its plant variety: everything from cacti to pine trees sprouts here. Hiking trails crisscross the dunes and woodlands, winding by a peat bog, a still-operating 1870s farm and a blue-heron rookery, among other payoffs. Oddly, all this natural bounty lies smack-dab next to smoke-belching factories, which you'll also see at various vantage points. Stop at the Dorothy Buell Visitor Center (☎219-926-7561; Hwy 49; ☉8:30am-6:30pm Jun-Aug, to 4:30pm Sep-May) for beach details, a schedule of ranger-guided walks and activities, and to pick up hiking, biking and birding maps.

Or get guides in advance via the Porter County Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.indianadunes.com).

Indiana Dunes State Park (☎219-926-1952; www.dnr.in.gov/parklake; per car $10) is a 2100-acre shoreside pocket within the national lakeshore; it's located at the end of Hwy 49, near Chesterton. It has more amenities than the National Foreshore, but also more regulation and more crowds (plus the vehicle entry fee). Wintertime brings out the cross-country skiers; summertime brings out the hikers. Seven trails zigzag over the landscape; Trail 4 up Mt Tom rewards with Chicago skyline views.

Other than a couple of beachfront snack bars, you won't find much to eat in the parks, so stop at Great Lakes Cafe (201 Mississippi St; mains $6-9; ☉5am-3pm Mon-Fri, 6am-1pm Sat; ☎), the steelworkers' hearty favorite, at the Dunes' western edge in Gary.

The Dunes are an easy day trip from Chicago. Driving takes one hour. The South Shore Metra train (www.nictd.com) makes the journey from Millennium Station downtown, and it's about 1¼ hours to the Dune Park or Beverly Shores stops (both stations are a 1½-mile walk from the beach). Those who want to make a night of it can camp (national lakeshore campsites $18, state park tent & RV sites $19-36).

Near Illinois, the steel cities of Gary and East Chicago present some of the bleakest urban landscapes anywhere. Taking the train (Amtrak or South Shore line) through here will get you up close and personal with the industrial underbelly.

South Bend

South Bend is home to the University of Notre Dame. You know how some people say, 'football is a religion here'? They mean it at Notre Dame, where 'Touchdown Jesus' lords over the 80,000-capacity stadium (it's a mural of the resurrected Christ with arms raised, though the pose bears a striking resemblance to a referee signaling a touchdown).

Tours of the pretty campus, with its two lakes, Gothic-style architecture and iconic Golden Dome atop the main building, start at the visitor center (www.nd.edu/visitors; 111 Eck Center). Less visited but worth a stop is the Studebaker National Museum (☎574-235-9714; www.studebakermuseum.org; 201 S Chapin St; adult/child $8/$5; ☉10am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) near downtown, where you can gaze at a gorgeous 1956 Packard and other classic beauties that used to be built in South Bend.

Amish Country

East of South Bend, around Shipshewana and Middlebury, is the USA's third-largest Amish community. Horses and buggies clip-clop by, and long-bearded men hand-plow the tidy fields. Get situated with maps from the Elkhart County CVB (☎800-517-9739; www.amishcountry.org). Better yet, pick a back-road between the two towns and head down it. Often you'll see families selling beeswax candles, quilts and fresh produce on their porch, which beats the often-touristy shops and restaurants on the main roads. Note that most places close on Sunday.

Village Inn (☎574-825-2043; 105 S Main St; mains $3-7; ☎5am-8pm Mon-Fri, 6am-2pm Sat; ☎), in Middlebury, sells real-deal pies; bonneted women in pastel dresses come in at 4:30am to bake the flaky wares. Arrive before noon, or you'll be looking at crumbs.

Auburn

Just before reaching the Ohio border, classic car connoisseurs should dip south on I-69 to the town of Auburn, where the Cord Company produced the USA's favorite cars in the 1920s and '30s. The Auburn Cord Duesenberg Museum (☎260-925-1444; www.automobilemuseum.org; 1600 S Wayne St; adult/child $12.50/7.50; ☎10am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) has a wonderful display of early roadsters in a beautiful art-deco setting. Next door are the vintage rigs of the National Automotive and Truck Museum (☎260-925-9100; www.natmus.org; 1000 Gordon Buehrig Pl; adult/child $7/4; ☎9am-5pm).

OHIO

All right, time for your Ohio quiz. In the Buckeye State you can 1) watch butter churn on an Amish farm; 2) lose your stomach on one of the world's fastest roller coasters; 3) suck down a dreamy creamy milkshake fresh from a working dairy; or 4) examine a massive, mysterious snake sculpture built into the earth. And the answer is...all of these. It hurts locals' feelings when visitors think the only thing to do here is tip over cows, so c'mon, give Ohio a chance. Besides these activities, you can partake in a five-way in Cincinnati and rock out in Cleveland.

Information

Ohio Division of Travel and Tourism (☎800-282-5393; www.discoverohio.com)

Ohio Highway Conditions (www.ohgo.com)

Ohio State Park Information (☎614-265-6561; http://parks.ohiodnr.gov) State parks are free to visit; some have free wi-fi. Tent and RV sites cost $19 to $38; reservations accepted (☎866-644-6727; www.ohio.reserveworld.com; fee $8.25).

Cleveland

Does it or does it not rock? That is the question. Drawing from its roots as a working man's town, Cleveland has toiled hard in recent years to prove it does. Step one was to control the urban decay/river-on-fire thing – the Cuyahoga River was once so polluted that it actually burned. Check. Step two was to bring a worthy attraction to town, say the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. Check. Step three was to get grub beyond steak-and-potatoes. Check. So can Cleveland finally wipe the sweat from its brow? More or less. Some of the downtown area remains bleak, though there are definite pockets of freshness.

OHIO FACTS

Nickname Buckeye State

Population 11.5 million

Area 44,825 sq miles

Capital city Columbus (population 810,000)

Other cities Cleveland (population 391,000), Cincinnati (population 297,000)

Sales tax 5.5%

Birthplace of Inventor Thomas Edison (1847–1931), author Toni Morrison (b 1931), entrepreneur Ted Turner (b 1938), filmmaker Steven Spielberg (b 1947)

Home of Cows, roller coasters, aviation pioneers the Wright Brothers

Politics Swing state

Famous for First airplane, first pro baseball team, birthplace of seven US presidents

State rock song 'Hang On Sloop'

Driving distances Cleveland to Columbus 142 miles, Columbus to Cincinnati 108 miles

👁️ Sights & Activities

Cleveland's center is Public Sq, dominated by the conspicuous Terminal Tower. It's bustling thanks to a ka-chinging new casino. Most attractions are downtown on the lakefront or at University Circle (the area around Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland Clinic and other institutions).

👁️ Downtown

Rock and Roll Hall of Fame & Museum

MUSEUM

(📍216-781-7625; www.rockhall.com; 1 Key Plaza; adult/child $22/13; 🕒10am-5:30pm, to 9pm Wed year-round, to 9pm Sat Jun-Aug) Cleveland's top attraction is like an overstuffed attic bursting with groovy finds: Jimi Hendrix's Stratocaster, Keith Moon's platform shoes, John Lennon's Sgt Pepper suit and a 1966 piece of hate mail to the Rolling Stones from a cursive-writing Fijian. It's more than memorabilia, though. Multimedia exhibits trace the history and social context of rock music and the performers who created it.

Why is the museum in Cleveland? Because this is the hometown of Alan Freed, the disk jockey who popularized the term 'rock 'n' roll' in the early 1950s, and because the city lobbied hard and paid big. Be prepared for crowds (especially thick until 1pm or so).

Great Lakes Science Center

MUSEUM

(📍216-694-2000; www.glsc.org; 601 Erieside Ave; adult/child $14/12; 🕒10am-5pm; ♿) One of 10 museums in the country with a NASA affiliation, Great Lakes goes deep in space with rockets, moon stones and the 1973 Apollo capsule, as well as exhibits on the lakes' environmental problems.

William G Mather

MUSEUM

(📍216-574-6262; www.glsc.org/mather\_museum.php; 305 Mather Way; adult/child $8/6; 🕒11am-5pm Tue-Sun Jun-Aug, Fri-Sun only May, Sep & Oct, closed Nov-Apr) Take a self-guided walk on this humungous freighter incarnated as a steamship museum. It's docked beside the Great Lakes Science Center, which manages it.

USS Cod

MUSEUM

(📍216-566-8770; www.usscod.org; 1089 E 9th St; adult/child $10/6; 🕒10am-5pm May-Sep) The storied submarine USS Cod saw action in WWII. You're free to climb through it, tight spaces, ladders and all, while listening to audio stories about life on board.

The Flats

WATERFRONT

(www.flatseast.com) The Flats, an old industrial zone turned nightlife hub on the Cuyahoga River, has had a checkered life. After years of neglect, it's on the upswing once again. Developers poured $500 million into the East Bank for a waterfront boardwalk, restaurants, bars, an Aloft hotel and concert pavilion, all opened in 2013.

👁️ Ohio City & Tremont

West Side Market

MARKET

(www.westsidemarket.org; cnr W 25th St & Lorain Ave; 🕒7am-4pm Mon & Wed, to 6pm Fri & Sat) The European-style market overflows with greengrocers and their fruit and vegetable pyramids, as well as purveyors of Hungarian sausage, Mexican flat breads and Polish pierogi.

Christmas Story House & Museum

MUSEUM

(📍216-298-4919; www.achristmasstoryhouse.com; 3159 W 11th St; adult/child $10/6; 🕒10am-5pm Thu-Sat, from noon Sun) Remember the beloved 1983 film A Christmas Story, in which Ralphie yearns for a Red Ryder BB gun? The original house sits in Tremont, complete with leg lamp. This attraction's for true fans only.

👁️ University Circle

Several museums and attractions are within walking distance of each other at University Circle, 5 miles east of downtown. Carless? Take the HealthLine bus to Adelbert.

Cleveland Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(📍216-421-7340; www.clevelandart.org; 11150 East Blvd; 🕒10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Wed & Fri) FREE Fresh off a whopping expansion, the art museum houses an excellent collection of European paintings, as well as African, Asian and American art. Head to the 2nd floor for rock-star works from impressionists, Picasso and surrealists. Interactive touch screens are stationed throughout the galleries and provide fun ways to learn more. There's also a neat-o free iPad app.

Cleveland Botanical Garden

GARDENS

(📍216-721-1600; [www.cb garden.org](http://www.cb garden.org); 11030 East Blvd; adult/child $9.50/4; 🕒10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun, noon-9pm Wed) It has a Costa Rican cloud forest and Madagascan desert exhibits. An ice-skating rink opens nearby in winter; skate rentals cost $3. Parking costs $5 to $10 per day and gives access to all the museums here.

Museum of Contemporary

Art Cleveland

MUSEUM

(MOCA; 📞 audio tours 216-453-3960; www.mocacleveland.org; 11400 Euclid Ave; adult/child $8/5; 🕒 11am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Thu) The shiny new building impresses, with four stories of geometric black steel, though there's not a lot to see inside. Floors 2 and 4 have the galleries; exhibits focus on an artist or two and change often. Call for an audio tour of the architecture and installations.

Lakeview Cemetery

CEMETERY

(📞 216-421-2665; www.lakeviewcemetery.com; 12316 Euclid Ave; 🕒 7:30am-7:30pm) Beyond the circle further east, don't forget this eclectic 'outdoor museum' where President Garfield and John Rockefeller rest, or, more intriguingly, local comic-book hero Harvey Pekar and crime-fighter Eliot Ness.

🛏 Sleeping

Prices listed here are for summer, which is high season, and do not include the 16.25% tax. Modest motels are southwest of Cleveland's center, near the airport. The W 150th exit off I-71 (exit 240) has several options for less than $100.

Cleveland Hostel

HOSTEL $

(📞 216-394-0616; www.theclevelandhostel.com; 2090 W 25th St; dm/r from $25/65) This new hostel in Ohio City, steps from an RTA stop and the West Side Market, is fantastic. There are 15 rooms, a mix of dorms and private chambers. All have fluffy beds, fresh paint in soothing hues and nifty antique decor. Add in the rooftop deck, free parking lot and cheap bike rentals (per day $15), and no wonder it's packed.

Holiday Inn Express

HOTEL $$

(📞 216-443-1000; www.hiexpress.com; 629 Euclid Ave; r incl breakfast $130-190; 📞 📞 📞 📞) This goes way beyond the usual chain offering and is more like a true boutique hotel with large, nattily decorated rooms and lofty views. It's set in an old bank building that's conveniently located near the E 4th St entertainment strip. Parking costs $14.

Brownstone Inn

B&amp;B $$

(📞 216-426-1753; www.brownstoneinndowntown.com; 3649 Prospect Ave; r incl breakfast $89-139; 📞 📞 📞 📞) This Victorian townhouse B&B has a whole lotta personality. All five rooms have a private bath, and each comes equipped with robes to lounge in and an invitation for evening aperitifs. It's between downtown and University Circle, though it's in a bit of a no-man's-land for walking to entertainment.

Hilton Garden Inn

HOTEL $$

(📞 216-658-6400; www.hiltongardeninn.com; 1100 Carnegie Ave; r $110-169; 📞 📞 📞 📞) While it's nothing fancy, the Hilton's rooms are good value with comfy beds, wi-fi-rigged workstations and mini refrigerators. It's right by the baseball park. Parking costs $16.

🍴 Eating

There's more range than you might expect in a Rust Belt town.

🍴 Downtown

The Warehouse District, between W 6th and W 9th Sts, jumps with trendy restaurants. Off the beaten path and east of the city center, Asiatown (bounded by Payne and St Clair Aves, and E 30th and 40th Sts) has several Chinese, Vietnamese and Korean eateries.

Noodlecat

NOODLES $$

(www.noodlecat.com; 234 Euclid Ave; mains $9-13; 🕒 11am-11pm) Hep-cat noodles fill bowls at this Japanese-American mash-up. Slurp mushroom udon, spicy octopus udon, beef-brisket ramen and fried-chicken ramen dishes. Lots of sake, craft beer and gluten-free options are available. There's another, smaller branch in the West Side Market.

Lola

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(📞 216-621-5652; www.lolabistro.com; 2058 E 4th St; mains $26-34; 🕒 11:30am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, 5-10pm Mon-Thu, 5-11pm Fri & Sat) Famous for his piercings, Food Channel TV appearances and multiple national awards, local boy Michael Symon has put Cleveland on the foodie map with Lola. The lower-priced lunch dishes are the most fun; say, coconut-and-lime-tinged scallop ceviche, or the showstopper: an egg-and-cheese-topped fried bologna sandwich.

Pura Vida

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(📞 216-987-0100; www.puravidabybrandt.com; 170 Euclid Ave; mains $23-29; 🕒 11:30am-2pm & 4-10pm Mon-Sat; 📞) Pura Vida serves creative, locally sourced comfort foods in a bright, ubermodern space fronting Public Sq. The trout po' boy and duck-leg confit with buttermilk waffles win praise. Small plates let you sample a couple of dishes, or you can load up on a main.

Ohio City & Tremont

Ohio City and Tremont, which straddle I-90 south of downtown, are areas that have lots of new establishments popping up.

West Side Market Cafe CAFE $
(☎216-579-6800; 1995 W 25th St; mains $6-9; ☼7am-3pm Mon-Thu, 6am-6pm Fri & Sat, 9am-3pm Sun) This is a smart stop if you're craving well-made breakfast and lunch fare, and cheap fish and chicken mains. The cafe is inside West Side Market itself, which overflows with prepared foods that are handy for picnicking or road-tripping.

South Side AMERICAN $$
(☎216-937-2288; www.southsidecleveland.com; 2207 W 11 St; mains $14-20; ☼11am-2am; ☎) Local athletes, blue-collar electricians and everyone in between piles into this sleek Tremont establishment to drink at the wind-ing granite bar. They come for the late-night food too, like the grouper sandwich and bacon-cheddar burger.

Little Italy & Coventry

These two neighborhoods make prime stops for refueling after hanging out in University Circle. Little Italy is closest: it's along Mayfield Rd, near Lake View Cemetery (look out for the Rte 322 sign). Alternatively, relaxed Coventry Village is a bit further east off Mayfield Rd.

Presti's Bakery BAKERY $
(www.prestisbakery.com; 12101 Mayfield Rd; items $2-6; ☼6am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 6pm Sun) Try Presti's for its popular sandwiches, stromboli and divine pastries.

Tommy's INTERNATIONAL $
(☎216-321-7757; www.tommiscoventry.com; 1823 Coventry Rd; mains $7-11; ☼9am-9pm Sun-Thu, 9am-10pm Fri, 7:30am-10pm Sat; ☎☎) Tofu, seitan and other old-school veggie dishes emerge from the kitchen, though carnivores have multiple options, too.

Drinking

The downtown action centers on the young, testosterone-fueled Warehouse District (around W 6th St), and around E 4th St's entertainment venues. Tremont is also chock-a-block with chic bars. Most places stay open until 2am.

Great Lakes Brewing Company BREWERY
(www.greatlakesbrewing.com; 2516 Market Ave; ☼from 11:30am Mon-Sat) Great Lakes wins many prizes for its brewed-on-the-premises beers. Added historical bonus: Eliot Ness got into a shootout with criminals here; ask the bartender to show you the bullet holes.

Market Garden Brewery BREWERY
(www.marketgardenbrewery.com; 1947 W 25th St; ☼4pm-2am Mon-Thu, 11am-2am Fri & Sat, 10am-3pm Sun) Since launching in 2011 this micro-brewer has made a splash with its brown ale, though the other beers on tap are excellent, too. Sip indoors under the low-lit chandeliers, or outdoors at the communal wood tables striping the beer garden. It also distills small-batch whiskeys and rum, and shakes up beer cocktails.

Major Hoopples BAR
(1930 Columbus Rd; ☼from 3pm Mon-Sat) Look over the bar for Cleveland's best skyline view from this friendly, eclectic watering hole. Films and sports games are projected on the bridge abutment out back.

★ Entertainment

Gordon Square Arts District (www.gordonsquare.org) has a fun pocket of theaters, live-music venues and cafes along Detroit Ave between W 56th and W 69th Sts, a few miles west of downtown.

Live Music
Check Scene (www.clevescene.com) and Friday's Plain Dealer (www.cleveland.com) for listings.

★ Happy Dog LIVE MUSIC
(www.happydogcleveland.com; 5801 Detroit Ave; ☼from 4pm Mon-Thu, from 11am Fri-Sun) Listen to scrappy bands while munching on a weenie, for which you can choose from among 50 toppings, from gourmet (black truffle) to, er, less gourmet (peanut butter and jelly); in the Gordon Sq district.

Grog Shop LIVE MUSIC
(☎216-321-5588; www.grogshop.gs; 2785 Euclid Hts Blvd) Up-and-coming rockers thrash at Coventry's long-established music house.

Beachland Ballroom LIVE MUSIC
(www.beachlandballroom.com; 15711 Waterloo Rd) Hip young bands play at this venue east of downtown.

Sports

Cleveland is a serious jock town with three modern downtown venues.

Progressive Field

BASEBALL

(www.indians.com; 2401 Ontario St) The Indians (aka 'the Tribe') hit here; great sightlines make it a good park to see a game.

Quicken Loans Arena

BASKETBALL

(www.nba.com/cavaliers; 1 Center Ct) The Cavaliers play basketball at 'the Q,' which doubles as an entertainment venue.

First Energy Stadium

FOOTBALL

(www.clevelandbrowns.com; 1085 W 3rd St) The NFL's Browns pass the football and score touchdowns on the lakefront.

Performing Arts

Severance Hall

CLASSICAL MUSIC

(☎216-231-1111; www.clevelandorchestra.com; 11001 Euclid Ave) The acclaimed Cleveland Symphony Orchestra holds its season (August to May) at Severance Hall, located by the University Circle museums. The orchestra's summer home is Blossom Music Center in Cuyahoga Valley National Park, about 22 miles south.

Playhouse Square Center

THEATER

(☎216-771-4444; www.playhousesquare.org; 1501 Euclid Ave) This elegant center hosts theater, opera and ballet. Check the website for $10 'Smart Seats.'

i Information

INTERNET ACCESS

Many of Cleveland's public places have free wi-fi, such as Tower City and University Circle.

MEDIA

Gay People's Chronicle (www.gaypeople-chronicle.com) Free weekly publication with entertainment listings.

Plain Dealer (www.cleveland.com) The city's daily newspaper.

Scene (www.clevescene.com) A weekly entertainment paper.

MEDICAL SERVICES

MetroHealth Medical Center (☎216-778-7800; 2500 MetroHealth Dr)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Cleveland Convention & Visitors Bureau

(www.positivelycleveland.com) Official website; the Twitter feed lists daily deals.

Visitor center (☎216-875-6680; 334 Euclid Ave; ☀8:30am-6:30pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat) Staff provide maps and reservation assistance.

WEBSITES

Cool Cleveland (www.coolcleveland.com) Hip arts and cultural happenings.

Ohio City (www.ohiocity.org) Eats and drinks in the neighborhood.

Tremont (www.tremontwest.org) Eats, drinks and gallery hops.

i Getting There & Around

Eleven miles southwest of downtown, Cleveland Hopkins International Airport (CLE; www.clevelandairport.com; 5300 Riverside Dr) is linked by the Red Line train ($2.25). A cab to downtown costs about $30.

From downtown, Greyhound (☎216-781-0520; 1465 Chester Ave) offers frequent departures to Chicago (7½ hours) and New York City (13 hours). Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) also goes to Chicago, often for lower fares; check the website for the departure point.

Amtrak (☎216-696-5115; 200 Cleveland Memorial Shoreway) runs once daily to Chicago (seven hours) and New York City (13 hours).

The Regional Transit Authority (RTA; www.riderta.com; fare $2.25) operates the Red Line train that goes to both the airport and Ohio City. It also runs the HealthLine bus that motors along Euclid Ave from downtown to University Circle's museums. Day passes are $5.

For cab service, try phoning Americab (☎216-429-1111).

Around Cleveland

Sixty miles south of Cleveland, Canton is the birthplace of the NFL and home to the Pro Football Hall of Fame (☎330-456-8207; www.profootballhof.com; 2121 George Halas Dr; adult/child $22/16; ☀9am-8pm, to 5pm Sep-May). The shrine for the gridiron-obsessed sports sweet new interactive exhibits since the museum's expansion. Look for the football-shaped tower off I-77.

West of Cleveland, attractive Oberlin is an old-fashioned college town, with noteworthy architecture by Cass Gilbert, Frank Lloyd Wright and Robert Venturi. Further west, just south of I-90, the tiny town of Milan is the birthplace of Thomas Edison. His home has been restored to its 1847 likeness and is now a small museum (☎419-499-2135; www.tomedison.org; 9 Edison Dr; adult/child $7/4; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from 1pm Sun, reduced hours winter, closed Jan) outlining his inventions, including the light bulb and phonograph.

Still further west, on US 20 and surrounded by farmland, is Clyde, which bills itself as the USA's most famous small town. It got that way when native son Sherwood Anderson published Winesburg, Ohio in 1919. It didn't take long for the unimpressed residents to figure out where the fictitious town really was. Stop at the Clyde Museum (☎ 419-547-7946; www.clydeheritageleague.org; 124 W Buckeye St; ☺ 1-4pm Thu Apr-Sep & by appointment) FREE in the old church for Anderson tidbits or at the library, a few doors down.

Erie Lakeshore & Islands

In summer this good-time resort area is one of the busiest – and most expensive – places in Ohio. The season lasts from mid-May to mid-September, and then just about everything shuts down. Make sure you prebook your accommodations.

DON'T MISS

CEDAR POINT'S RAGING ROLLER COASTERS

Cedar Point Amusement Park

(☎ 419-627-2350; www.cedarpoint.com; adult/child $55/30; ☺ 10am-10pm, closed Nov-mid-May) regularly wins the 'world's best amusement park' award, chosen each year by the public, which goes wild for the venue's 16 adrenaline-pumping roller coasters. Stomach-droppers include the Top Thrill Dragster, one of the globe's tallest and fastest rides. It climbs 420ft into the air before plunging and whipping around at 120mph. Meanwhile, the winglike GateKeeper loops, cork-screws and dangles riders from the world's highest inversion (meaning you're upside down a lot). If those and the 14 other coasters aren't enough to keep you occupied, the surrounding area has a nice beach, a water park and a slew of old-fashioned, cotton-candy-fueled attractions. It's about 6 miles from Sandusky. Buying tickets in advance online saves money. Parking costs $15.

Sandusky, long a port, now serves as the jump-off point to the Erie Islands and a mighty group of roller coasters. The visitor center (☎ 419-625-2984; www.shoresandislands.com; 4424 Milan Rd; ☺ 8am-7pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6pm Sat, 9am-4pm Sun) provides lodging and ferry information. Loads of chain motels line the highways heading into town.

Bass Islands

In 1812's Battle of Lake Erie, Admiral Perry met the enemy English fleet near South Bass Island. His victory ensured that all the lands south of the Great Lakes became US, not Canadian, territory. But history is all but forgotten on a summer weekend in packed Put In Bay, the island's main town and a party place full of boaters, restaurants and shops. Move beyond it and you'll find a winery and opportunities for camping, fishing, kayaking and swimming.

A singular attraction is the 352ft Doric column known as Perry's Victory and International Peace Memorial (www.nps.gov/pevi; admission $3; ☺ 10am-7pm). Climb to the observation deck for views of the battle site and, on a good day, Canada.

The Chamber of Commerce (☎ 419-285-2832; www.visitputinbay.com; 148 Delaware Ave; ☺ 10am-4pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) has information on activities and lodging. Ashley's Island House (☎ 419-285-2844; www.ashleysislandhouse.com; 557 Catawba Ave; r with/without bath from $100/70; ☹ ☺) is a 13-room B&B, where naval officers stayed in the late 1800s. The Beer Barrel Saloon (www.beerbarrelpib.com; Delaware Ave; ☺ 11am-1am) has plenty of space for imbibing – its bar is 406ft long.

Cabs and tour buses serve the island, though cycling is a fine way to get around. Two ferry companies make the 20-minute trip regularly from the mainland. Jet Express (☎ 800-245-1538; www.jet-express.com) runs passenger-only boats direct to Put In Bay from Port Clinton (one way adult/child $15/2.50) almost hourly. It also departs from Sandusky ($19.50/5.50), stopping at Kelleys Island en route. Leave your car in the lot (per day $10) at either dock. Miller Boatline (☎ 800-500-2421; www.millerferry.com) operates a vehicle ferry that is the cheapest option, departing from further-flung Catawba (one way adult/child $7/1.50, car $15) every 30 minutes. It also cruises to Middle Bass Island, a good day trip from South Bass, offering nature and quiet.

Kelleys Island

Peaceful and green, Kelleys Island is a popular weekend escape, especially for families. It has pretty 19th-century buildings, Native American pictographs, a good beach and glacial grooves raked through its landscape. Even its old limestone quarries are scenic.

The Chamber of Commerce (☎419-746-2360; www.kelleysislandchamber.com; Seaway Marina Bldg; ☀9:30am-4pm), by the ferry dock, has information on accommodations and activities – hiking, camping, kayaking and fishing are popular. The Village, the island's small commercial center, has places to eat, drink, shop and rent bicycles – the recommended way to sightsee.

Kelleys Island Ferry (☎419-798-9763; www.kelleysislandferry.com) departs from the wee village of Marblehead (one way adult/child $9.50/6, car $15). The crossing takes about 20 minutes and leaves hourly (more frequently in summer). Jet Express (☎800-245-1538; www.jet-express.com) departs from Sandusky (one way adult/child $15/4.50, no cars) and goes onward to Put In Bay on South Bass Island (island-hopping one way $22/6.50, no cars).

Pelee Island

Pelee, the largest Erie island, is a ridiculously green, quiet wine-producing and bird-watching destination that belongs to Canada. Pelee Island Transportation (☎800-661-2220; www.ontarioferries.com) runs a ferry (one way adult/child $13.75/6.75, car $30) from Sandusky to Pelee and onward to Ontario's mainland. Check www.pelee.org for lodging and trip-planning information.

Amish Country

Rural Wayne and Holmes counties are home to the USA's largest Amish community. They're only 80 miles south of Cleveland, but visiting here is like entering a pre-industrial time warp.

Descendants of conservative Dutch-Swiss religious factions who migrated to the USA during the 18th century, the Amish continue to follow the ordnung (way of life), in varying degrees. Many adhere to rules prohibiting the use of electricity, telephones and motorized vehicles. They wear traditional clothing, farm the land with plow and mule, and go to church in horse-drawn buggies. Others are not so strict.

Unfortunately, what would surely be a peaceful country scene is often disturbed by behemoth tour buses. Many Amish are happy to profit from this influx of outside dollars, but you shouldn't equate this with free photographic access – the Amish typically view photographs as taboo. Drive carefully as roads are narrow and curvy, and there's always the chance of pulling up on a slow-moving buggy just around the bend. Many places are closed Sunday.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Kidron, on Rte 52, makes a good starting point. A short distance south, Berlin is the area's tchotchke-shop-filled core, while Millersburg is the region's largest town, more antique-y than Amish; US 62 connects these two 'busy' spots.

To get further off the beaten path, take Rte 557 or County Rd 70, both of which twist through the countryside to wee Charm, about 5 miles south of Berlin.

Lehman's

DEPARTMENT STORE

(www.lehman.com; 4779 Kidron Rd, Kidron; ☀8am-6pm Mon-Sat) Lehman's is an absolute must-see. It is the Amish community's main purveyor of modern-looking products that use no electricity, housed in a 32,000-sq-ft barn. Stroll through to ogle wind-up flashlights, wood-burning stoves and hand-cranked meat grinders.

Kidron Auction

MARKET

(www.kidronauction.com; 4885 Kidron Rd, Kidron; ☀from 10am Thu) FREE If it's Thursday, follow the buggy line-up down the road from Lehman's to the livestock barn. Hay gets auctioned at 10am, cows at 11am and pigs at 1pm. A flea market rings the barn for folks seeking non-mooing merchandise. Similar auctions take place in Sugarcreek (Monday and Friday), Farmerstown (Tuesday) and Mt Hope (Wednesday).

Heini's Cheese Chalet

CHEESEMAKING FACTORY

(☎800-253-6636; www.heinis.com; 6005 Hwy 77, Berlin; tours free; ☀8am-6pm Mon-Sat) Heini's whips up more than 70 cheeses. Learn how Amish farmers hand-milk their cows and spring-cool (versus machine-refrigerate) the output before delivering it each day. Then grab abundant samples and peruse the kitschy 'History of Cheesemaking' mural. To see the curd-cutting in action, come before 11am weekdays (except on Wednesday).

WORTH A TRIP

MALABAR FARM

What do Bogie, Bacall and Johnny Appleseed have in common? They've all spent time at Malabar Farm State Park (www.malabarfarm.org). There's a lot going on here: hiking and horse trails; pond fishing (ask for a free rod at the visitor center); tours of Pulitzer-winner Louis Bromfield's home (where Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall got married); monthly barn dances; a farmhouse hostel (www.hiusa.org/lucas); and a fine restaurant (☺ 11am-8pm Tue-Sun) that uses ingredients from the grounds. Malabar is 30 miles west of Millersburg via Hwy 39.

Hershberger's Farm & Bakery

FARM

(☎ 330-674-6096; 5452 Hwy 557, Millersburg; ☺ bakery 8am-5pm Mon-Sat year-round, farm from 10am mid-Apr-Oct; 🏠) Gorge on 25 kinds of pie, homemade ice-cream cones and seasonal produce from the market inside. Pet the farmyard animals (free) and take pony rides ($3) outside.

Yoder's Amish Home

FARM

(☎ 330-893-2541; www.yodersamishhome.com; 6050 Rte 515, Walnut Creek; tours adult/child $12/8; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat mid-Apr-late Oct; 🏠) Peek into a local home and one-room schoolhouse, and take a buggy ride through a field at this Amish farm that's open to visitors.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating*Hotel Millersburg

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 330-674-1457; www.hotelmillersburg.com; 35 W Jackson St, Millersburg; r $79-149; 🏠 🍷) Built in 1847 as a stagecoach inn, the property still provides lodging in its 26 casual rooms, which sit above a modern dining room and tavern (one of the few places you can get a beer in Amish Country).

Guggisberg Swiss Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 330-893-3600; www.guggisbergswissinn.com; 5025 Rte 557, Charm; r incl breakfast $110-160; 🏠 🍷) The 24 tidy, bright and compact rooms have quilts and light-wood furnishings. A cheesemaking facility and horseback riding stable are on the grounds, too.

Boyd & Wurthmann Restaurant

AMERICAN $

(☎ 330-893-3287; www.boydandwurthmann.com; Main St, Berlin; mains $6-11; ☺ 5:30am-8pm Mon-Sat) Hubcap-sized pancakes, 23 pie flavors, fat sandwiches and Amish specialties such as country-fried steak draw locals and tourists alike. Cash only.

i Information*Holmes County Chamber of Commerce

(www.visitamishcountry.com)

Columbus

Ohio's capital city is like the blind date your mom arranges – average looking, restrained personality, but solid and affable. Better yet, she's easy on the wallet, an influence from Ohio State University's 55,000 students (the university is the nation's second largest). A substantial gay population has taken up residence in Columbus in recent years.

👁 Sights & Activities*German Village

NEIGHBORHOOD

(www.germanvillage.com) The remarkably large, all-brick German Village, a half-mile south of downtown, is a restored 19th-century neighborhood with beer halls, cobbled streets, arts-filled parks and Italianate and Queen Anne architecture.

Short North

NEIGHBORHOOD

(www.shortnorth.org) Just north of downtown, the browseworthy Short North is a redeveloped strip of High St that holds contemporary art galleries, restaurants and jazz bars.

Wexner Center for the Arts

ARTS CENTER

(☎ 614-292-3535; www.wexarts.org; cnr 15th & N High Sts; admission $8; ☺ 11am-6pm Tue & Wed, 11am-8pm Thu & Fri, noon-7pm Sat, noon-4pm Sun) The campus arts center offers cutting-edge art exhibits, films and performances.

Columbus Food Tours

GUIDED TOUR

(www.columbusfoodadventures.com; tours $40-80) Foodie guides lead tours by neighborhood or theme (ie taco trucks, desserts, coffee), some by foot and others by van.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

German Village and the Short North provide fertile grazing and guzzling grounds. The Arena District (www.arenadistrict.com) bursts with midrange chains and brewpubs. Around the university and along N High St from 15th Ave onward, you'll find everything from Mexican to Ethiopian to sushi.

Marriott Residence Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 614-222-2610; www.marriott.com; 36 E Gay St; r incl breakfast $129-199; P ☎ @ ♿) A great location downtown, close to everything. All rooms are suites with a full kitchen. The cute breakfast buffet is served in the old bank vault each morning. Wi-fi is free; parking is $20.

Short North B&B

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 614-299-5050; www.columbus-bed-breakfast.com; 50 E Lincoln St; r incl breakfast $129-149; P ☎ ♿) The seven well-maintained rooms are steps away from the eponymous neighborhood's scene.

North Market

MARKET $

(www.northmarket.com; 59 Spruce St; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon, 9am-7pm Tue-Fri, 8am-5pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Local farmers' produce and prepared foods; renowned ice cream by Jeni.

Schmidt's

GERMAN $$

(☎ 614-444-6808; www.schmidthaus.com; 240 E Kossuth St; mains $8-15; ☺ 11am-9pm Sun & Mon, to 10pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) In German Village, shovel in Old Country staples like sausage and schnitzel, but save room for the whopping half-pound cream puffs. Oompah bands play Wednesday to Saturday.

Skillet

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 614-443-2266; www.skilletruf.com; 410 E Whittier St; mains $12-16; ☺ 11am-2:30pm & 5:30-9pm Wed-Fri, 8am-2pm Sat & Sun) ☞ A teeny restaurant in German Village serving rustic, locally sourced fare.

★ Entertainment

Spectator sports rule the city.

Ohio Stadium

FOOTBALL

(☎ 800-462-8257; www.ohiostatebuckeyes.com; 411 Woody Hayes Dr) The Ohio State Buckeyes pack a rabid crowd into legendary, horse-shoe-shaped Ohio Stadium for their games, held on Saturdays in the fall. Expect 102,000 extra partiers in town.

Nationwide Arena

HOCKEY

(☎ 614-246-2000; www.bluejackets.com; 200 W Nationwide Blvd) The pro Columbus Blue Jackets slap the puck at downtown's big arena.

Crew Stadium

SOCCER

(☎ 614-447-2739; www.thecrew.com) The popular Columbus Crew pro soccer team kicks north off I-71 and 17th Ave, from March to October.

i Information

Alive (www.columbusalive.com) Free weekly entertainment newspaper.

Columbus Convention & Visitors Bureau

(☎ 866-397-2657; www.experiencecolumbus.com)

Columbus Dispatch (www.dispatch.com) The daily newspaper.

Outlook (www.outlookmedia.com) Monthly gay and lesbian publication.

i Getting There & Away

The Port Columbus Airport (CMH; www.flycolumbus.com) is 10 miles east of town. A cab to downtown costs about $25.

Greyhound (☎ 614-221-4642; www.greyhound.com; 111 E Town St) buses run at least six times daily to Cincinnati (two hours) and Cleveland (2½ hours). Often cheaper, Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) runs a couple times daily to Cincinnati and Chicago. Check the website for locations.

Athens & Southeastern Ohio

Ohio's southeastern corner cradles most of its forested areas, as well as the rolling foothills of the Appalachian Mountains and scattered farms.

Around Lancaster, southeast of Columbus, the hills lead gently into Hocking County, a region of streams and waterfalls, sandstone cliffs and cavelike formations. It's splendid to explore in any season, with miles of trails for hiking and rivers for canoeing, as well as abundant campgrounds and cabins at Hocking Hills State Park (☎ 740-385-6165; www.hockinghills.com; 20160 Hwy 664; campsites/cottages from $24/130). Old Man's Cave is a scenic winner for hiking. Hocking Valley Canoe Livery (☎ 740-385-8685; www.hockinghillscanoeing.com; 31251 Chieftain Dr; 2hr tours $44; ☺ Apr-Oct) lets you paddle by moonlight and tiki torch from nearby Logan. Earth-Water-Rock: Outdoor Adventures (☎ 740-664-5220; www.ewroutdoors.com; half-day tour $85-110) provides thrills with guided rock climbing and rappelling trips; beginners are welcome.

Athens (www.athensohio.com) makes a lovely base for seeing the region. Situated where US 50 crosses US 33, it's set among wooded hills and built around the Ohio University campus (which comprises half the town). Student cafes and pubs line Court St, Athens' main road. The Village Bakery & Cafe (www.dellazona.com; 268 E State St; mains $4-8; ☎7:30am-8pm Tue-Sat, 9am-2pm Sun) uses organic veggies, grass-fed meat and farmstead cheeses in its pizzas, soups and sandwiches.

The area south of Columbus was a center for the fascinating ancient Hopewell people, who left behind huge geometric earthworks and burial mounds from around 200 BC to AD 600. For a fine introduction visit the Hopewell Culture National Historical Park (☎740-774-1126; www.nps.gov/hocu; Hwy 104 north of I-35; ☎8:30am-6pm Jun-Aug, to 5pm Sep-May) FREE, 3 miles north of Chillicothe. Stop in the visitor center, and then wander about the variously shaped ceremonial mounds spread over 13-acre Mound City, a mysterious town of the dead. Serpent Mound (☎937-587-2796; www.ohiohistory.org; 3850 Hwy 73; per vehicle $7; ☎10:30am-4pm Mon-Fri, from 9:30am Sat & Sun, reduced hours in winter), southwest of Chillicothe and 4 miles northwest of Locust Grove, is perhaps the most captivating site of all. The giant uncoiling snake stretches over a quarter of a mile and is the largest effigy mound in the USA.

Dayton & Yellow Springs

Dayton has the aviation sights, but little Yellow Springs (18 miles northeast on US 68) has much more to offer in terms of accommodations and places to eat.

👁️ Sights & Activities

National Museum of the US Air Force

MUSEUM

(☎937-255-3286; www.nationalmuseum.af.mil; 1100 Spaatz St, Dayton; ☎9am-5pm) FREE Located at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, 6 miles northeast of Dayton, the huge museum has everything from a Wright Brothers 1909 Flyer to a Sopwith Camel (WWI biplane) and the 'Little Boy' atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima. The hangars hold miles of planes, rockets and aviation machines. Download the audio tour from the website before arriving. Plan on three or more hours here.

Wright Cycle Company

HISTORIC SITE

(☎937-225-7705; www.nps.gov/daav; 16 S Williams St, Dayton; ☎8:30am-5pm) FREE Browse exhibits in the original building where Wilbur and Orville developed bikes and aviation ideas.

Huffman Prairie Flying Field

HISTORIC SITE

(Gate 16A off Rte 444, Dayton; ☎8am-6pm Thu-Tue) FREE This peaceful patch of grass looks much as it did in 1904 when the Wright Brothers tested aircraft here. A one-mile walking trail loops around, marked with history-explaining placards. It's a 15-minute drive from the Air Force museum.

Carillon Historical Park

HISTORIC SITE

(☎937-293-2841; www.daytonhistory.org; 1000 Carillon Blvd, Dayton; adult/child $8/5; ☎9:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) The many heritage attractions include the 1905 Wright Flyer III biplane and a replica of the Wright workshop.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

The following are located in artsy, beatnik Yellow Springs.

Morgan House

B&B $$

(☎937-767-1761; www.arthurmorganhouse.com; 120 W Limestone St, Yellow Springs; r incl breakfast $105-125; 🍷🍷) The six comfy rooms have super-soft linens and private baths. Breakfasts are organic. It's walkable to the main business district.

★ Young's Jersey Dairy

AMERICAN $$

(☎937-325-0629; www.youngsdairy.com; 6880 Springfield-Xenia Rd, Yellow Springs; 🍷) Young's is a working dairy farm with two restaurants: the Golden Jersey Inn (mains $9-15; ☎11am-8pm Mon-Thu, 11am-9pm Fri, 8am-9pm Sat, 8am-8pm Sun), serving dishes like buttermilk chicken; and the Dairy Store (sandwiches $3.50-6.50; ☎7am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat), serving sandwiches, dreamy ice cream and Ohio's best milkshakes. There's also mini-golf, batting cages, cheesemaking tours and opportunities to watch the cows get milked.

Winds Cafe

AMERICAN $$$

(☎937-767-1144; www.windscafe.com; 215 Xenia Ave, Yellow Springs; mains $18-25; ☎11:30am-2pm & 5-10pm Tue-Sat, 10am-3pm Sun) A hippie cop 30-plus years ago, the Winds has grown up to become a sophisticated foodie favorite plating seasonal dishes like fig-sauced asparagus crepes and rhubarb halibut.

Cincinnati

Cincinnati splashes up the Ohio River's banks. Its prettiness surprises, as do its neon troves, its twisting streets to hilltop Mt Adams, and the locals' unashamed ardor for a five-way. Amid all that action, don't forget to catch a baseball game, stroll the riverfront and visit the dummy museum.

Sights & Activities

Many attractions are closed on Monday.

Downtown

National Underground Railroad Freedom Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 513-333-7500; www.freedomcenter.org; 50 E Freedom Way; adult/child $12/8; ☀ 11am-5pm Tue-Sun) Cincinnati was a prominent stop on the Underground Railroad and a center for abolitionist activities led by residents such as Harriet Beecher Stowe. The Freedom Center tells their stories. Exhibits show how slaves escaped to the north, and the ways in which slavery still exists today. Download the free iPhone app for extra insight while touring.

Findlay Market

MARKET

(www.findlaymarket.org; 1801 Race St; ☀ 9am-6pm Tue-Fri, 8am-6pm Sat, 10am-4pm Sun) Indoor-outdoor Findlay Market greens the somewhat blighted area at downtown's northern edge. It's a good stop for fresh produce, meats, cheeses and baked goods. The Belgian waffle guy will wow your taste buds.

Rosenthal Center for Contemporary Arts

MUSEUM

(☎ 513-721-0390; www.contemporaryartscenter.org; 44 E 6th St; adult/child $7.50/5.50, Mon evening free; ☀ 10am-9pm Mon, 10am-6pm Wed-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat & Sun) This center displays modern art in an avant-garde building designed by Iraqi architect Zaha Hadid. The structure and its artworks are a pretty big deal for traditionalist Cincy.

Fountain Square

PLAZA

(www.myfountainssquare.com; cnr 5th & Vine Sts; ☀) Fountain Sq is the city's centerpiece, a public space with a seasonal ice rink, free wi-fi, concerts (7pm Tuesday to Saturday in summer), a Reds ticket kiosk and the fancy old 'Spirit of the Waters' fountain.

Roebling Suspension Bridge

BRIDGE

(www.roeblingbridge.org) The elegant 1876 spanner was a forerunner of John Roebling's famous Brooklyn Bridge in New York. It's cool to walk across while passing cars make it 'sing' around you. It links to Covington, Kentucky.

Purple People Bridge

BRIDGE

(www.purplepeoplebridge.com) This pedestrian-only bridge provides a unique crossing from Sawyer Point (a nifty park dotted by whimsical monuments and flying pigs) to Newport, Kentucky.

Covington & Newport

Covington and Newport, Kentucky, are sort of suburbs of Cincinnati, just over the river from downtown. Newport is to the east and known for its massive Newport on the Levee (www.newportonthelvee.com) restaurant and shopping complex. Covington lies to the west and its MainStrasse (www.mainstrasse.org) quarter is filled with funky restaurants and bars in the neighborhood's 19th-century brick row houses. Antebellum mansions fringe Riverside Dr, and old paddle-wheel boats tie up along the water's edge.

Newport Aquarium

AQUARIUM

(☎ 859-491-3467; www.newportaquarium.com; 1 Aquarium Way; adult/child $23/15; ☀ 9am-7pm Jun-Aug, 10am-6pm Sep-May; 🐠) Meet parading penguins, Sweet Pea the shark ray and lots of other razor-toothed fish at Newport's large, well-regarded facility.

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

VENT HAVEN VENTRILOQUIST MUSEUM

Jeepers creepers! When you first glimpse the roomful of goggle-eyed wooden heads staring mutely into space, try not to run screaming for the door. (If you've seen the film Magic, you know what dummies are capable of.) Local William Shakespeare Berger started the Vent Haven Museum (☎ 859-341-0461; www.venthavenmuseum.com; 33 W Maple Ave; admission $5; ☀ by appointment May-Sep) after amassing a collection of some 700 dolls. Today Jacko the red-fezzed monkey, turtleneck-clad Woody DeForest and the rest of the crew sit silently throughout three buildings.

Lest you think this form of entertainment is history, stop by in July, when the annual conVENTion takes place and 400 ventriloquists arrive with their talkative wooden pals. The museum is located in Fort Mitchell, Kentucky, about 4 miles southwest of Covington off I-71/75.

🗨 Mt Adams

It might be a bit of a stretch to compare Mt Adams, immediately east of downtown, to Paris' Montmartre, but this hilly 19th-century enclave of narrow, twisting streets, Victorian town houses, galleries, bars and restaurants is certainly a pleasurable surprise. Most visitors ascend for a quick look around and a drink.

To get here, follow 7th St east of downtown to Gilbert Ave, bear northwest to Elsinore Ave, and head up the hill to reach the lakes, paths and cultural offerings in Eden Park. The yard at nearby Immacula Church (30 Guido St) is worth a stop for its killer views over the city.

Cincinnati Art Museum MUSEUM
(📞 513-721-2787; www.cincinnatiartmuseum.org; 953 Eden Park Dr; 🕒 11am-5pm Tue-Sun) FREE

The collection spans 6000 years, with an emphasis on ancient Middle Eastern art and European old masters, plus a wing devoted to local works. Parking costs $4.

Krohn Conservatory GARDENS
(📞 513-421-4086; www.cincinnatiartmuseums.com/krohn; 1501 Eden Park Dr; adult/child $3/2; 🕒 10am-5pm Tue-Sun) The greenhouse sprouts a rainforest, desert flora and glorious seasonal flower shows. Special exhibits cost extra.

🗨 West End

Cincinnati Museum Center MUSEUM
(📞 513-287-7000; www.cincymuseum.org; 1301
Western Ave; adult/child $12.50/8.50; 🕒 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-6pm Sun; 🚗) Two miles northwest of downtown, this museum complex occupies the 1933 Union Terminal, an art-deco jewel still used by Amtrak. The interior has fantastic murals made of Rookwood tiles. The Museum of Natural History & Science is mostly geared to kids, but it does have a limestone cave with real bats inside. A history museum, children's museum and Omnimax theater round out the offerings; the admission fee provides entry to all. Parking costs $6.

American Sign Museum MUSEUM
(📞 513-541-6366; www.signmuseum.org; 1330 Monmouth Ave; adult/child $15/10; 🕒 10am-4pm Wed-Sat, from noon Sun) This museum stocks an awesome cache of flashing, lightbulb-studded beacons in an old parachute factory. You'll burn your retinas staring at vintage neon drive-in signs, hulking genies and the Frisch's Big Boy, among other nostalgic novelties. Guides lead tours at 11am and 2pm that also visit the on-site neon-sign-making shop. It's located in the Camp Washington neighborhood (near Northside); take exit 3 off I-75.

👉 Tours

American Legacy Tours WALKING TOUR
(www.americanlegacytours.com; 1218 Vine St; 90min tours $20; 🕒 Fri-Sun) Offers a variety of historical jaunts. The best is the Queen City Underground Tour that submerges into old lagering cellars deep beneath the Over-the-Rhine district.

🌟 Festivals & Events

Bunbury Music Festival MUSIC
(www.bunburyfestival.com; 🕒 mid-Jul) Big-name indie bands rock the riverfront for three days; a day pass costs $55.

Oktoberfest FOOD
(www.oktoberfestzincincinnati.com; 🕒 mid-Sep) German beer, brats and mania.

🛏 Sleeping

Hotel tax is cheaper on the Kentucky side at 11.3%, versus the 17% charged in Cincinnati. Tax is not included in the following prices.

Several midrange chain options line up on the Kentucky riverfront. You'll save money (less tax, free parking), but be prepared either to walk a few miles or take a short bus ride to reach downtown Cincy.

The Greater Cincinnati B&B Network (www.cincinnatiabb.com) has links to Kentucky-side properties.

Holiday Inn Express HOTEL $$
(📞 859-957-2320; www.hiexpress.com; 109 Landmark Dr; r incl breakfast $125-180; 📞 📞 📞 📞) A good pick among the riverfront chains; located about three-quarters of a mile east of Newport on the Levee.

Hotel 21c HOTEL $$$
(📞 513-578-6600; www.21cmuseumhotels.com/cincinnati; 609 Walnut St; r $189-299; 📞 📞 📞) The second outpost of Louisville's popular art hotel opened in 2013, next door to the Center for Contemporary Arts. The mod rooms have accoutrements such as a Nespresso machine, free wi-fi, plush bedding and, of course, original art. The lobby is a public gallery, so feel free to ogle the trippy videos and nude sculptures. The on-site restaurant and rooftop bar draw crowds. Parking costs $28.

Residence Inn Cincinnati Downtown

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 513-651-1234; www.marriott.com; 506 E 4th St; r incl breakfast $199-299; ♿ ☎ @ 📺) All of the glistening rooms are suites with full kitchens. Parking costs $22.

🍴 Eating

Vine St west of 12th St (in the Over-the-Rhine area) holds several hip new eateries. Restaurants also concentrate along the riverfront and in the Northside neighborhood (north of the intersection of I-74 and I-75, 5 miles north of downtown).

★ Tucker's

DINER $

(1637 Vine St; mains $4-9; ☺ 9am-3pm Tue-Sat, 10am-2pm Sun; ♿) Located in a tough neighborhood a few blocks from Findlay Market, Tucker's has been feeding locals – black, white, foodies, penniless – since 1946. It's an archetypal diner, serving shrimp and grits, biscuits and gravy, and other hulking breakfast dishes, along with wildly inventive vegetarian fare (like beet sliders) using ingredients sourced from the market.

Son Joe Tucker cooks; Ma Tucker, age 90-plus, still peels the veggies. Try the goetta (pronounced get-uh), an herb-spiced, pork-and-oats breakfast sausage that's found only in Cincinnati.

Graeter's Ice Cream

ICE CREAM $

(www.graeters.com; 511 Walnut St; scoops $2.50-5; ☺ 6:30am-9pm Mon-Fri, 7am-9pm Sat, 11am-7pm Sun) A local delicacy, with scoop shops around the city. The flavors that mix in the gargantuan, chunky chocolate chips top the list.

Terry's Turf Club

BURGERS $$

(☎ 513-533-4222; 4618 Eastern Ave; mains $10-15; ☺ 11am-11pm Wed & Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, to 9pm Sun) This 15-table beer-and-burger joint glows inside and out with owner Terry Carter's neon stash. A giant, waving Aunt Jemima beckons you in, where so many fluorescent beer and doughnut signs shine that no other interior lighting is needed. Terry grills a mean burgundy-mushroom-sauced burger to munch on while admiring the finery (the rosemary garlic and red curry ginger versions rock, too). Located 7 miles east of downtown via Columbia Pkwy.

Honey

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 513-541-4300; www.honeynorthside.com; 4034 Hamilton Ave; mains $15-23; ☺ 5-9pm Tue-Thu, 5-10pm Fri & Sat, 11am-2pm Sun; ♿) Seasonal

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

CHILI FIVE-WAY

Don't worry – you can keep your clothes on for this experience, though you may want to loosen your belt. A 'five-way' in Cincinnati has to do with chili, which is a local specialty. It comprises meat sauce (spiced with chocolate and cinnamon) ladled over spaghetti and beans, then garnished with cheese and onions. Although you can get it three-way (minus onions and beans) or four-way (minus onions or beans), you should go the whole way – after all, life's an adventure. Skyline Chili (www.skylinechili.com; 643 Vine St; items $3.50-7.50; ☺ 10:30am-8pm Mon-Fri, 11am-4pm Sat) has a cultlike following devoted to its version. There are outlets throughout town; this one is downtown near Fountain Sq.

comfort food – maybe Creole meatloaf or sweet pea ravioli – fills the plates on Honey's low-lit, sturdy wood tables. Brunch is a fan favorite, offering a special gift to herbivores: vegan goetta.

Drinking

Mt Adams and Northside are busy nightspots. The Banks, the riverfront area between the baseball and football stadiums, has several new hot spots.

Moerlein Lager House

BREWERY

(www.moerleinelagerhouse.com; 115 Joe Nuxall Way; ☺ from 11am) Copper kettles cook up the house beers (Moerlein is an age-old Cincy brand that was defunct until the new brew-house revitalized it). The patio unfurls awesome views of the riverfront and Roebling bridge. It's a busy spot pre or post a Reds game, as it sits across the street from the stadium.

Blind Lemon

BAR

(www.theblindlemon.com; 936 Hatch St; ☺ from 5:30pm Mon-Fri, from 3pm Sat & Sun) Head down the passageway to enter this atmospheric old speakeasy in Mt Adams. It has an outdoor courtyard in summer, with a fire pit added in winter, and there's live music nightly.

Motr Pub

BAR

(www.motrpub.com; 1345 Main St; ☺ from 5pm Mon-Fri, from 2pm Sat, from 10am Sun) Located in the on-again, off-again – currently on-again – gritty Over-the-Rhine neighborhood on downtown's northern edge, Motr lets arty types congregate around Hudepohls (local beer) and live rock bands.

★ Entertainment

Scope for free publications like CityBeat for current listings.

Sports

Great American Ballpark

BASEBALL

(☎ 513-765-7000; www.cincinnati Reds.com; 100 Main St) Home to the Reds – pro baseball's first team – Cincy is a great place to catch a game thanks to its bells-and-whistles river-side ballpark.

Paul Brown Stadium

FOOTBALL

(☎ 513-621-3550; www.bengals.com; 1 Paul Brown Stadium) The Bengals pro football team scrimmages a few blocks west of the ballpark.

Performing Arts

Music Hall

CLASSICAL MUSIC

(☎ 513-721-8222; www.cincinnatiarts.org; 1241 Elm St) The acoustically pristine Music Hall is where the symphony orchestra, pops orchestra, opera and ballet hold their seasons. This is not the best neighborhood, so be cautious and park nearby.

Aronoff Center

THEATER

(☎ 513-621-2787; www.cincinnatiarts.org; 650 Walnut St) The mod Aronoff hosts touring shows.

i Information

Cincinnati Enquirer (www.cincinnati.com)

Daily newspaper.

Cincinnati USA Regional Tourism Network

(☎ 800-344-3445; www.cincinnatiusa.com)

There's a visitor center on Fountain Sq.

CityBeat (www.citybeat.com) Free alternative weekly paper with good entertainment listings.

Rainbow Cincinnati (www.gaycincinnati.com)

GLBT news and business listings.

i Getting There & Around

The Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport (CVG; www.cvgairport.com) is actually in Kentucky, 13 miles south. To get downtown, take the TANK bus ($2) from near Terminal 3; a cab costs about $30.

Greyhound (☎ 513-352-6012; www.greyhound.com; 1005 Gilbert Ave) buses travel daily to Indianapolis (2½ hours) and Columbus (two hours). Often cheaper and quicker, Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) travels the same routes, and goes to Chicago (six hours). It departs from downtown Cincy at 4th and Race Sts.

Amtrak (☎ 513-651-3337; www.amtrak.com) choo-choos into Union Terminal (1301 Western Ave) thrice weekly en route to Chicago (9½ hours) and Washington, DC (14½ hours), departing in the middle of the night.

Metro (www.go-metro.com; fare $1.75) runs the local buses and links with the Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK; www.tankbus.org; fare $1-2).

MICHIGAN

More, more, more – Michigan is the Midwest state that cranks it up. It sports more beaches than the Atlantic seaboard. More than half the state is covered by forests. And more cherries and berries get shoveled into pies here than anywhere else in the USA. Plus its gritty city Detroit is the Midwest's rawest of all – and we mean that in a good way.

Michigan occupies prime real estate, surrounded by four of the five Great Lakes (Superior, Michigan, Huron and Erie). Islands (Mackinac, Beaver and Isle Royale) freckle its coast and make top touring destinations. Surfing beaches, colored sandstone cliffs and trekkable sand dunes also woo visitors.

The state consists of two parts split by water: the larger Lower Peninsula, shaped like a mitten; and the smaller, lightly populated Upper Peninsula, shaped like a slipper. They are linked by the gasp-worthy Mackinac Bridge, which spans the Straits of Mackinac (pronounced mac-in-aw).

i Information

Michigan Highway Conditions (☎ 800-381-8477; www.michigan.gov/mdot)

Michigan State Park Information (☎ 800-447-2757; www.michigan.gov/stateparks) Park entry requires a vehicle permit (per day/year $9/31). Campsites cost $16 to $33; reservations accepted (www.midnrreservations.com; fee $8). Some parks have wi-fi.

Travel Michigan (☎ 800-644-2489; www.michigan.org)

Detroit

Tell any American that you're planning to visit Detroit, and then watch their eyebrows shoot up quizzically. They'll ask "Why?" and warn you that the city is bankrupt, and has off-the-chart homicide rates, nearly 80,000 abandoned buildings and whoppingly high foreclosure rates, a place where homes sell for $1. 'Detroit's a crap-hole. You'll get killed there.'

While the city does have a bombed-out, apocalyptic vibe, these same qualities fuel a raw urban energy you won't find anywhere else. Artists, entrepreneurs and young people are moving in, and a DIY spirit pervades. They're converting vacant lots into urban farms and abandoned buildings into hostels and museums. Plus, they shred a mean guitar in 'the D.' Very mean.

History

French explorer Antoine de La Mothe Cadillac founded Detroit in 1701. Sweet fortune arrived in the 1920s, when Henry Ford began churning out cars. He didn't invent the automobile, as so many mistakenly believe, but he did perfect assembly-line manufacturing and mass-production techniques. The result was the Model T, the first car the USA's middle class could afford to own.

Detroit quickly became the motor capital of the world. General Motors (GM), Chrysler and Ford were all headquartered in or near Detroit (and still are). The 1950s were the city's heyday, when the population exceeded two million and Motown music hit the airwaves. But racial tensions in 1967 and Japanese car competitors in the 1970s shook the city and its industry. Detroit entered an era of deep decline, losing about two-thirds of its population.

In July 2013 Detroit filed the largest municipal bankruptcy claim in US history: $18 billion. Stay tuned to see how it plays out.

Sights & Activities

Sights are commonly closed on Monday and Tuesday. And that's Canada across the Detroit River (Windsor, Canada, to be exact).

Midtown & Cultural Center

★Detroit Institute of Arts MUSEUM
( 313-833-7900; www.dia.org; 5200 Woodward Ave; adult/child $8/4;  9am-4pm Tue-Thu, 9am-10pm Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun) The cream of the museum crop. The centerpiece is Diego Rivera's mural Detroit Industry, which fills an entire room and reflects the city's blue-collar labor history. Beyond it are Picassos, suits of armor, mod African American paintings, puppets and troves more.

★Museum of Contemporary Art Detroit

MUSEUM
(MOCAD;  313-832-6622; www.mocadetroit.org; 4454 Woodward Ave; suggested donation $5;  11am-5pm Wed-Sun, to 8pm Thu & Fri) MOCAD is set in an abandoned, graffiti-splattered auto dealership. Heat lamps hang from the ceiling over peculiar exhibits that change every few months. Music and literary events take place regularly. The cafe hosts pop-up restaurants for Wednesday lunch and Sunday brunch.

New Center

Motown Historical Museum MUSEUM
( 313-875-2264; www.motownmuseum.org; 2648 W Grand Blvd; adult/child $10/8;  10am-6pm Mon-Fri & 10am-8pm Sat Jul & Aug, 10am-6pm Tue-Sat Sep-Jun) In this row of modest houses Berry Gordy launched Motown Records – and the careers of Stevie Wonder, Diana Ross, Marvin Gaye and Michael Jackson – with an $800 loan in 1959. Gordy and Motown split for Los Angeles in 1972, but you can still step into humble Studio A and see where the famed names recorded their first hits.

MICHIGAN FACTS

Nicknames Great Lakes State, Wolverine State

Population 9.9 million

Area 96,720 sq miles

Capital city Lansing (population 114,000)

Other cities Detroit (population 701,000)

Sales tax 6%

Birthplace of Industrialist Henry Ford (1863–1947), filmmaker Francis Ford Coppola (b 1939), musician Stevie Wonder (b 1950), singer Madonna (b 1958), Google co-founder Larry Page (b 1973)

Home of Auto assembly plants, freshwater beaches

Politics Leans Democratic

Famous for Cars, cornflakes, tart cherries, Motown music

State reptile Painted turtle

Driving distances Detroit to Traverse City 255 miles, Detroit to Cleveland 168 miles

Detroit

Detroit

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Detroit Institute of Arts..... C1
- 2 Eastern Market..... D4
- 3 Museum of Contemporary Art
Detroit ..... C2

📍 Sights

- 4 Hart Plaza ..... C6
- 5 People Mover ..... B6
- 6 Renaissance Center ..... C7

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 7 Wheelhouse Bikes ..... D7

📍 Sleeping

- 8 Ft Shelby Doubletree Hotel ..... B6
- 9 Inn on Ferry Street..... C1

📍 Eating

- 10 Cass Cafe..... B2
- 11 Foran's Grand Trunk Pub ..... C6

- 12 Good Girls Go to Paris Crepes..... C1
- 13 Lafayette Coney Island..... B6

📍 Drinking & Nightlife

- 14 Bronx..... B2
- 15 Great Lakes Coffee Bar ..... B3

📍 Entertainment

- 16 Cliff Bell's Jazz Club ..... B5
- 17 Comerica Park..... C5
- 18 Detroit Opera House..... C5
- 19 Ford Field..... C5
- 20 Joe Louis Arena ..... B7
- 21 Magic Stick & Majestic Theater..... C2
- 22 P.J.'s Lager House..... A5
- 23 Puppet ART/Detroit Puppet
Theater ..... C5

📍 Shopping

- 24 People's Records..... B4
- 25 Pure Detroit..... C6

A tour takes about 1½ hours, and consists mostly of looking at old photos and listening to guides' stories. The museum is 2 miles northwest of Midtown.

Model T Automotive Heritage Complex

MUSEUM

(☎313-872-8759; www.tplex.org; 461 Piquette Ave; admission $10; ☀10am-4pm Wed-Fri, from 9am Sat, from noon Sun Apr-Oct) Henry Ford cranked out the first Model T in this landmark factory. Admission includes a detailed tour by enthusiastic docents, plus loads of shiny vehicles from 1904 onward. It's about 1 mile northeast of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

through Friday at noon and 2pm) or embark on the riverfront walkway.

Hart Plaza

PLAZA

(cnr Jefferson & Woodward Aves) This is the site of many free summer weekend festivals and concerts. While there, check out the sculpture of Joe Louis' mighty fist.

People Mover

MONORAIL

(www.thepeoplemover.com; fare $0.75) As mass transit, the monorail's 3-mile loop on elevated tracks around downtown won't get you very far. As a tourist attraction, it's a sweet ride providing great views of the city and riverfront.

📍 Downtown & Around

Busy Greektown (centered on Monroe St) has restaurants, bakeries and a casino.

★ Eastern Market

MARKET

(www.detroiteasternmarket.com; Adelaide & Russell Sts) Produce, cheese, spice and flower vendors fill the large halls on Saturday, but you also can turn up Monday through Friday to browse the specialty shops (props to the peanut roaster), cafes, ethnic eats and occasional food trucks that flank the market on Russell and Market Sts.

Renaissance Center

BUILDING

(RenCen; www.gmrencen.com; 330 E Jefferson Ave) GM's glossy, cloud-poking headquarters is a fine place to mooch off the free wi-fi, take a free hour-long tour (Monday

Heidelberg Project

ART INSTALLATION

(www.heidelberg.org; 3600 Heidelberg St; ☀sunrise-sunset) FREE Polka-dotted streets, houses covered in Technicolor paint blobs, strange sculptures in yards – this is no acid trip, but rather a block-spanning neighborhood art installation. It's the brainchild of street artist Tyree Guyton, who wanted to beautify his run-down community. A 2013 fire burned much of the project, but Guyton has vowed to keep it open and turn what remains into art once again.

Get here by taking Gratiot Ave northwest to Heidelberg St; the project spans from Ellery to Mt Elliott Sts.

Riverwalk & Dequindre Cut

WALKING, CYCLING

(www.detroitriverfront.org) The city's swell riverfront path runs for 3 miles along the churning Detroit River from Hart Plaza east to

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

DETROIT'S RUINS

More than 78,000 abandoned buildings blight Detroit's landscape. It has become popular among urban explorers to seek out the most spectacular 'ruins.' You can't go inside, obviously, but the exteriors make for striking photographs. Top of the list is Michigan Central Station (2405 W Vernor Hwy), the once-grand beaux-arts rail terminal now crumbling into oblivion within eyeshot of Corktown's main drag. The Packard Auto Plant (E Grand Blvd at Concord St) is another. Renowned architect Albert Kahn designed the 3.5-million-sq-ft factory, and it was a thing of beauty when it opened in 1903. Now it looks like something from a zombie movie. Stay tuned to see what happens to the structures. The city would like to demolish them, but it doesn't have the money. Detroiturbex (www.detroiturbex.com) provides good historical info on these and other ruins around town.

Mt Elliott St, passing several parks, outdoor theaters, riverboats and fishing spots en route. Eventually it will extend all the way to beachy Belle Isle (detour onto Jefferson Ave to get there now). About halfway along the Riverwalk, near Orleans St, the 1.5-mile Dequindre Cut Greenway path juts north, offering a convenient passageway to Eastern Market.

Wheelhouse Bikes BICYCLE RENTAL
(☎ 313-656-2453; www.wheelhousedetroit.com; 1340 E Atwater St; per 2hr $15; ☀ 10am-8pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun Jun-Aug, reduced hours Sep-May) Cycling is a great way to explore the city. Wheelhouse rents sturdy two-wheelers (helmet and lock included) on the Riverwalk at Rivard Plaza. Tours ($35 including bike rental) on weekends roll by various neighborhoods and architectural sites.

 Tours

Preservation Detroit WALKING
(☎ 313-577-7674; www.preservationdetroit.org; 2½hr tours $10-15; ☀ 5:30pm Tue & 10am Sat May-Sep) Offers architectural walking tours through downtown, Midtown and other neighborhoods; departure points vary.

 Festivals & Events

North American International Auto Show CARS
(www.naias.com; tickets $13; ☀ mid-Jan) It's autos galore for two weeks at the Cobo Center.

Movement Electronic Music Festival MUSIC
(www.movement.us; day pass $50; ☀ late May) The world's largest electronic music festival congregates in Hart Plaza over Memorial Day weekend.

 Sleeping

Add 9% to 15% tax (it varies by lodging size and location) to the rates listed here, unless stated otherwise.

Affordable motels abound in Detroit's suburbs. If you're arriving from Metro Airport, follow the signs for Merriman Rd when leaving the airport and take your pick.

Detroit Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎ 313-451-0333; www.hosteldetroit.com; 2700 Vermont St; dm $27-30, r $40-60; P @ ☎) Volunteers rehabbed this old building, gathered up recycled materials and donations for the patchwork furnishings, and opened it to the public in 2011. There's a 10-bed dorm, a couple of smaller dorms and a handful of private rooms; everyone shares the four bathrooms and three kitchens. Bookings are taken online only (and must be done at least 24 hours in advance).

Bike rentals costs $10 per day. The hostel is located in Corktown on a desolate street, but near several good bars and restaurants.

Inn on Ferry Street INN $$
(☎ 313-871-6000; www.innonferrystreet.com; 84 E Ferry St; r incl breakfast from $159; P @ ☎) Forty guest rooms fill a row of Victorian mansions right by the art museum. Lower-cost rooms are small but have deliciously soft bedding; the larger rooms feature plenty of antique wood furnishings. The healthy hot breakfast and shuttle to downtown are nice touches.

Ft Shelby Doubletree Hotel HOTEL $$
(☎ 800-222-8733, 313-963-5600; <http://doubletree1.hilton.com>; 525 W Lafayette Blvd; ste $126-189; P @ ☎) This newish hotel fills a historic beaux-arts building downtown. All rooms are suites, with both the sitting area and bedroom equipped with HDTV and free wi-fi. Parking costs $23, and there's free shuttle service around downtown.

Eating

Two nearby suburbs also have caches of hip restaurants and bars: walkable, gay-oriented Ferndale at 9 Mile Rd and Woodward Ave, and Royal Oak just north of Ferndale between 12 and 13 Mile Rds.

Midtown & Cultural Center

Good Girls Go to Paris Crepes CREPERIE $
(☎ 877-727-4727; www.goodgirlsgotopariscrepes.com; 15 E Kirby St; mains $6-9; ☉ 9am-4pm Mon-Wed, to 8pm Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 5pm Sun) This red-walled, French-style cafe transports diners across the pond via its sweet (Heath Bar and ricotta) and savory (goat's cheese and fig) pancakes.

Cass Cafe CAFE $$
(☎ 313-831-1400; www.casscafe.com; 4620 Cass Ave; mains $8-15; ☉ 11am-11pm Mon-Thu, 11am-1am Fri & Sat, 5-10pm Sun; ☎ ☎) The Cass is a bohemian art gallery fused with a bar and restaurant that serves soups, sandwiches and veggie beauties, like the lentil-walnut burger. Service can be fickle.

Downtown

Lafayette Coney Island AMERICAN $
(☎ 313-964-8198; 118 Lafayette Blvd; items $2.50-4; ☉ 8am-4am) The 'coney' – a hot dog smothered with chili and onions – is a Detroit specialty. When the craving strikes (and it will), take care of business at Lafayette. The minimalist menu consists of burgers, fries and beer; in addition to the signature item. Cash only.

Foran's Grand Trunk Pub PUB $$
(☎ 313-961-3043; www.grandtrunkpub.com; 612 Woodward Ave; mains $8-13; ☉ 11am-midnight) If the high vaulted ceiling and long narrow space make you feel like you're in an old railroad ticket station, that's because you are. The food is pub grub – sandwiches, burgers and shepherd's pie – but made with local ingredients such as Avalon bread and Eastern Market produce. The taps pour 18 Michigan craft brews.

Corktown & Mexicantown

Corktown, a bit west of downtown, shows the city's DIY spirit. Hipster joints slinging burgers, cocktails and artisanal coffee drinks line Michigan Ave. Mexicantown, along Bagley St 3 miles west of downtown, offers several inexpensive Mexican restaurants.

Green Dot Stables

BURGERS $

(www.greendotstables.com; 2200 W Lafayette Blvd; mains $2-3; ☉ 11am-midnight Mon-Wed, 11am-1am Thu-Sat, noon-10pm Sun) It's a bit inconveniently located between downtown, Corktown and Mexicantown, but that doesn't deter young urbanites from flocking in to munch on 19 types of gourmet mini-burgers (say, wasabi-mayo tempeh or peanut-butter kimchi) with a side of poutine.

★ Slows Bar BQ

BARBECUE $$

(☎ 313-962-9828; www.slowsbarbq.com; 2138 Michigan Ave; mains $10-19; ☉ 11am-10pm Sun & Mon, to 11pm Tue-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ☎) Mmm, slow-cooked southern-style barbecue in Corktown. Carnivores can carve into the three-meat combo plate (brisket, pulled pork and chicken). Vegetarians have options from okra fritters to a faux-chicken sandwich. The taps yield 55 quality beers.

Drinking

★ Bronx

BAR

(4476 2nd Ave; ☉ from noon; ☎) There's not much inside Detroit's best boozier besides a pool table, dim lighting and a couple of jukeboxes filled with ballsy rock and soul. But that's the way the hipsters, slackers and rockers (the White Stripes used to hang here) like their dive bars. They're also fond of the beefy burgers served late at night and the cheap beer selection.

Great Lakes Coffee Bar

CAFE

(www.greatlakescoffee.com; 3965 Woodward Ave; ☉ 7am-11pm Mon-Thu, 7am-midnight Fri & Sat, 10am-6pm Sun) Roasts its own beans and serves them pour-over style. Locally sourced brewskis, vinos, cheeses and charcuterie are available too. The hep furnishings are made of wood reclaimed from razed houses nearby.

★ Entertainment

Live Music

Cover charges hover between $5 and $15.

Magic Stick & Majestic Theater

LIVE MUSIC

(www.majesticdetroit.com; 4120-4140 Woodward Ave) The White Stripes and Von Bondies are rockers who've risen from the beer-splattered ranks at the Magic Stick. The Majestic Theater next door hosts larger shows. There's bowling, billiards, a pizza joint and cafe. Something cool rocks here nightly.

FROM MOTOWN TO ROCK CITY

Motown Records and soul music put Detroit on the map in the 1960s, while the thrashing punk rock of the Stooges and MC5 was the 1970s response to that smooth sound. By 1976, Detroit was dubbed 'Rock City' by a Kiss song (though – just Detroit's luck – the tune was eclipsed by its B-side, 'Beth'). In recent years it has been hard-edged rock – aka whiplash rock 'n' roll – that has pushed the city to the music-scene forefront. Homegrown stars include the White Stripes, Von Bondies and Dirtbombs. Rap (thank you, Eminem) and techno are Detroit's other renowned genres. Many music aficionados say the city's blight is what produces such a beautifully angry explosion of sound, and who's to argue? Scope free publications like the Metro Times and blogs like Motor City Rocks (www.motorcityrocks.com) for current show and club listings.

PJ's Lager House

LIVE MUSIC

(www.pjslagerhouse.com; 1254 Michigan Ave; ☺ from 11am) Scrappy bands or DJs play most nights at this small Corktown club. By day it serves surprisingly good grub with a New Orleans/vegan twist (like the temphe po' boy on gluten-free bread).

Cliff Bell's Jazz Club

LIVE MUSIC

(www.cliffbells.com; 2030 Park Ave) With its dark wood, candlelight and art-deco decor, Bell's evokes 1930s elegance. Local jazz bands and poetry readings attract a diverse young audience nightly.

Performing Arts

Puppet ART/Puppet

Theater

THEATER

(☎ 313-961-7777; www.puppetart.org; 25 E Grand River Ave; adult/child $10/5; ♿) Soviet-trained puppeteers perform beautiful shows in this 70-person theater; a small museum displays puppets from different cultures. Shows are typically held on Saturday afternoon.

Detroit Opera House

OPERA

(☎ 313-237-7464; www.motopera.com; 1526 Broadway Ave) Gorgeous interior, top-tier company and nurturer of many renowned African American performers.

Sports

Comerica Park

BASEBALL

(www.detroittigers.com; 2100 Woodward Ave; ♿) The Detroit Tigers play pro baseball at Comerica, one of the league's most decked-out stadiums. The park is particularly kid friendly, with a small Ferris wheel and carousel inside (per ride $2).

Joe Louis Arena

HOCKEY

(www.detroitredwings.com; 600 Civic Center Dr) The much-loved Red Wings play pro ice hockey at this arena where, if you can wrangle tickets, you might witness the strange octopus-throwing custom.

Ford Field

FOOTBALL

(www.detroitlions.com; 2000 Brush St) The Lions toss the pigskin at this indoor stadium next to Comerica Park.

Palace of Auburn Hills

BASKETBALL

(www.nba.com/pistons; 5 Championship Dr) The Palace hosts the Pistons pro basketball team. It's about 30 miles northwest of downtown; take I-75 to exit 81.

Shopping

Pure Detroit

SOUVENIRS

(www.puredetroit.com; 500 Griswold St; ☺ 10:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat) Local artists create stylish products for Pure Detroit that celebrate the city's fast-cars-and-rock-music culture. Pick up handbags made from recycled seatbelts, groovy hoodies and local Pewabic pottery. Located in the landmark, mosaic-strewn Guardian Building (worth a peek in its own right).

People's Records

MUSIC

(3161 Woodward Ave; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat) Calling all crate-diggers: DJ-owned People's Records is your vinyl Valhalla. Used 45s are the specialty, with more than 80,000 jazz, soul and R&B titles filling bins.

Information

The area between the sports arenas north to around Willis Rd is pretty deserted and best avoided on foot come nighttime.

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Detroit Receiving Hospital (☎ 313-745-3000; 4201 St Antoine St)

INTERNET ACCESS

You'll find free wi-fi in many cafes and bars, as well as the Renaissance Center lobby.

MEDIA*Between the Lines (www.pridesource.com)

Free weekly gay and lesbian paper.

Detroit Free Press (www.freep.com) Daily.Detroit News (www.detnews.com) Daily.Metro Times (www.metrotimes.com) Free alternative weekly that is the best guide to the entertainment scene.TOURIST INFORMATION*Detroit Convention & Visitors Bureau
(☎ 800-338-7648; www.visitdetroit.com)WEBSITES*DetroitYES (www.detroityes.com) Images organized as 'tours' reveal the city's soul.Model D (www.modeldmedia.com) Weekly e-zine about local developments and food/entertainment options, broken down by neighborhood.i Getting There & Around*Detroit Metro Airport (DTW; www.metroairport.com), a Delta Airlines hub, is about 20 miles southwest of Detroit. Transport options from the airport to the city are few: you can take a cab for about $45; or there's the 125 SMART bus ($2), but it takes one to 1½ hours to get downtown.Greyhound (☎ 313-961-8005; 1001 Howard St) runs to various cities in Michigan and beyond. Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) runs to/from Chicago (5½ hours) daily; departures are from downtown (corner of Cass and Michigan) and Wayne State University (corner of Cass and Warren Aves).Amtrak (☎ 313-873-3442; 11 W Baltimore Ave) trains go three times daily to Chicago (5½ hours). You can also head east – to New York (16½ hours) or destinations en route – but you'll first be bused to Toledo.Transit Windsor (☎ 519-944-4111; www.city-windsor.ca/transitwindsor) operates the Tunnel Bus to Windsor, Canada. It costs $4 (American or Canadian) and departs by Mariner's Church (corner of Randolph St and Jefferson Ave) near the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel entrance, as well as other spots downtown. Bring your passport.For taxi service, call Checker Cab (☎ 313-963-7000).Around Detroit

Stunning Americana and good eatin' lie just down the road from Detroit.

DearbornDearborn is 10 miles west of downtown Detroit and home to two of the USA's finest museums. The indoor Henry Ford Museum (☎ 313-982-6001; www.thehenryford.org; 20900 Oakwood Blvd; adult/child $17/12.50; ☀ 9:30am-5pm) contains a fascinating wealth of American culture, such as the chair Lincoln was sitting in when he was assassinated, the presidential limo in which Kennedy was killed, the hot-dog-shaped Oscar Mayer Wienermobile (photo op!) and the bus on which Rosa Parks refused to give up her seat. Don't worry: you'll get your vintageCLASSIC CARS IN MICHIGAN

More than sand dunes, beaches and Mackinac Island fudge, Michigan is synonymous with cars. While the connection hasn't been so positive in recent years, the state commemorates its glory days via several auto museums. The following fleets are within a few hours' drive of the Motor City.

Henry Ford Museum (p576) This Dearborn museum is loaded with vintage cars, including the first one Henry Ford ever built. In adjacent Greenfield Village you can ride in a Model T that rolled off the assembly line in 1923.Automotive Hall of Fame (☎ 313-240-4000; www.automotivehalloffame.org; 21400 Oakwood Blvd; adult/child $8/4; ☀ 9am-5pm Wed-Sun) Next door to the Henry Ford Museum, the interactive Auto Hall focuses on the people behind famed cars, such as Mr Ferdinand Porsche and Mr Soichiro Honda.Gilmore Car Museum (☎ 269-671-5089; www.gilmorecarmuseum.org; 6865 Hickory Rd; adult/child $12/9; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat & Sun) North of Kalamazoo along Hwy 43, this museum complex offers 22 barns filled with 120 vintage autos, including 15 Rolls Royces dating back to a 1910 Silver Ghost.RE Olds Transportation Museum (p578) Twenty vintage cars sit in the old Lansing City Bus Garage, including the first Oldsmobile, which was built in 1897.

car fix here, too. Parking is $5. The adjacent outdoor Greenfield Village (adult/child $24/17.50; ☎9:30am-5pm daily mid-Apr–Oct, Fri–Sun Nov & Dec) features historic buildings shipped in from all over the country, reconstructed and restored, such as Thomas Edison's laboratory from Menlo Park and the Wright Brothers' airplane workshop. Plus you can add on the Rouge Factory Tour (adult/child $15/11; ☎9:30am-3pm Mon–Sat) and see F-150 trucks roll off the assembly line where Ford first perfected his self-sufficient mass-production techniques.

The three attractions are separate, but you can get a combination ticket (adult/child $35/25.50) for Henry Ford and Greenfield Village. Plan on at least one very full day at the complex.

Dearborn has the nation's greatest concentration of people of Arab descent, so it's no surprise that the Arab American National Museum (☎313-582-2266; www.arabamericanmuseum.org; 13624 Michigan Ave; adult/child $8/4; ☎10am-6pm Wed–Sat, noon–5pm Sun) popped up here. It's a noble concept, located in a pretty, bright-tiled building, but it's not terribly exciting unless actor Jamie Farr's *M*A*S*H* TV-show script wows you. The Arabian eateries lining nearby Warren Ave provide a more engaging feel for the culture. Turquoise-roofed Hamido (www.hamidorestaurant.com; 13251 W Warren Ave; mains $5–12; ☎11am-midnight) serves hummus, chicken shwarma and other staples. The number of birds roasting on the spit show its popularity.

Ann Arbor

Forty-odd miles west of Detroit, liberal and bookish Ann Arbor is home to the University of Michigan. The walkable downtown, which abuts the campus, is loaded with free-trade coffee shops, bookstores and brewpubs. It's also a mecca for chow-hounds; follow the drool trail toward anything named 'Zingerman's.'

👁 Sights & Activities

University of Michigan Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(☎734-764-0395; www.umma.umich.edu; 525 S State St; ☎11am-5pm Tue–Sat, from noon Sun)

FREE The campus' bold art museum impresses with its collections of Asian ceramics, Tiffany glass and modern abstract works.

Ann Arbor Farmers Market

MARKET

(www.a2gov.org/market; 315 Detroit St; ☎7am-3pm Wed & Sat May–Dec, Sat only Jan–Apr) Given the surrounding bounty of orchards and farms, it's no surprise this place is stuffed to the rafters with everything from spicy pickles to cider to mushroom-growing kits; located downtown near Zingerman's Deli. On Sunday an artisan market with jewelry, ceramics and textiles takes over.

Zingerman's Bakehouse

COOKING COURSE

(www.bakewithzing.com; 3723 Plaza Dr) Part of Zingerman's epicurean empire, the Bakehouse offers popular 'bake-cations,' from two-hour cookie-making classes to week-long pastry courses.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Zingerman's Delicatessen

DELI $$$

(☎734-663-3354; www.zingermansdeli.com; 422 Detroit St; sandwiches $11–17; ☎7am–10pm; 🚶) The shop that launched the foodie frenzy, Z's piles local, organic and specialty ingredients onto towering sandwiches in a sprawling downtown complex that also includes a coffee shop and bakery.

Frita Batidos

CUBAN $$

(www.fritabatidos.com; 117 W Washington St; mains $8–13; ☎11am–11pm Sun–Wed, to midnight Thu–Sat) This mod take on Cuban street food is all the rage, offering burgers with tropical, citrusy toppings and booze-spiked milkshakes.

★ Zingerman's Roadhouse

AMERICAN $$$

(☎734-663-3663; www.zingermansroadhouse.com; 2501 Jackson Ave; mains $17–27; ☎7am–10pm Mon–Thu, 7am–11pm Fri, 9am–11pm Sat, 9am–9pm Sun) Two words: doughnut sundae. The bourbon-caramel-sauced dessert is pure genius, as are the traditional American dishes like Carolina grits, Iowa pork chops and Massachusetts oysters, all using sustainably produced ingredients. It's 2 miles west of downtown.

Jolly Pumpkin

BREWERY

(www.jollypumpkin.com; 311 S Main St; ☎from 11am Mon–Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun) Known for its housemade sour beers (try the Bam Biere), rooftop patio, pizzas and truffle fries.

★ Entertainment

If you happen to arrive on a fall weekend and wonder why 110,000 people – the size of Ann Arbor's entire population, more or less – are crowding into the school's stadium, the answer is football. Tickets are nearly impossible to purchase, especially when nemesis Ohio State is in town. You can try by contacting the U of M Ticket Office (☎ 734-764-0247; www.mgoblue.com/ticketoffice).

Blind Pig

LIVE MUSIC

(www.blindpigmusic.com; 208 S 1st St) Everyone from John Lennon to Nirvana to the Circle Jerks has rocked the storied stage.

Ark

LIVE MUSIC

(www.a2ark.org; 316 S Main St) The Ark hosts acoustic and folk-oriented tunesmiths.

i Information

There are several B&Bs within walking distance of downtown. Hotels tend to be about 5 miles out, with several clustered south on State St.

Ann Arbor Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.visitannarbor.org) Information on accommodations.

Lansing & Central Michigan

Michigan's heartland, plunked in the center of the Lower Peninsula, alternates between fertile farms and highway-crossed urban areas.

Lansing

Smallish Lansing is the state capital; a few miles east lies East Lansing, home of Michigan State University. The Greater Lansing CVB (www.lansing.org) has information on both.

Between Lansing's downtown and the university is the 8-mile River Trail (www.lansingrivertrail.org). The paved path is popular with cyclists and joggers, and links a number of attractions, including a children's museum, zoo and fish ladder.

On campus, the new Broad Museum of Art (www.broadmuseum.msu.edu; 547 E Circle Dr; ☎ 10am-5pm Tue-Thu & Sat-Sun, noon-9pm Fri) FREE is a must-see. Renowned architect Zaha Hadid designed the wild-looking parallelogram of stainless steel and glass. It holds everything from Greek ceramics to Salvador Dali paintings. The RE Olds Transportation Museum (☎ 517-372-0529; www.reolds-museum.org; 240 Museum Dr; adult/child $6/4; ☎ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat year-round, noon-5pm Sun Apr-Oct) will please car buffs.

Lansing's downtown hotels feed off politicians and lobbyists, so they're fairly expensive. It's best to head to East Lansing's Wild Goose Inn (☎ 517-333-3334; www.wildgooseinn.com; 512 Albert St; r incl breakfast $139-159; ☎), a six-room B&B one block from Michigan State's campus. All rooms have fireplaces and most have Jacuzzis.

Golden Harvest (☎ 517-485-3663; 1625 Turner St; mains $7-9; ☎ 7am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun) is a loud, punk-rock-meets-hippie diner serving the sausage-and-French-toast Bubba Sandwich and hearty omelets; cash only. Abundant restaurants, pubs and nightclubs also fill Michigan State's northern campus area.

Grand Rapids

The second-largest city in Michigan, Grand Rapids is known for office-furniture manufacturing and, more recently, beer tourism. Twenty craft breweries operate in the area. The Grand Rapids CVB (www.experiencegr.com) has maps and self-guided tour information online.

Let's cut to the chase: if you've only got time for one brewery, make it rock-and-roll Founders Brewing Company (www.foundersbrewing.com; 235 Grandville Ave SW; ☎ 11am-2am Mon-Sat, noon-midnight Sun). The ruby-tinged Dirty Bastard Ale is good swillin', and there's meaty (or vegetable-y, for vegetarians) deli sandwiches to soak it up. Want to try one more? Head to Brewery Vivant (www.breweryvivant.com; 925 Cherry St SE; ☎ from 3pm Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat, from noon Sun), which specializes in Belgian-style beers. Set in an old chapel with stained glass and a vaulted ceiling, the atmospheric brewpub also serves locally sourced cheese plates and burgers at farmhouse-style communal tables.

For intriguing non-beer sights, the downtown Gerald R Ford Museum (☎ 616-254-0400; www.fordlibrarymuseum.gov; 303 Pearl St NW; adult/child $7/3; ☎ 9am-5pm) is dedicated to Michigan's only president. Ford stepped into the Oval Office after Richard Nixon and his vice president, Spiro Agnew, resigned in disgrace. It's an intriguing period in US history, and the museum does an excellent job of covering it, down to displaying the burglary tools used in the Watergate break-in. Ford and wife Betty are buried in the museum's grounds.

The 118-acre Frederik Meijer Gardens (☎ 616-957-1580; www.meijergardens.org; 1000 E Beltline NE; adult/child $12/6; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 9am-9pm Tue, 11am-5pm Sun) features impressive blooms and sculptures by Auguste

Rodin, Henry Moore and others. It is 5 miles east of downtown via I-196. There's a good art museum downtown, too.

At night, tuck in under bamboo sheets at the CityFlats Hotel (☎ 866-609-2489; www.cityflatshotel.com/grandrapids; 83 Monroe Center St NW; r $169-239; 🍷🍷) downtown; it's gold-certified by the LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) program.

Lake Michigan Shore

They don't call it the Gold Coast for nothing. Michigan's 300-mile western shoreline features seemingly endless stretches of beaches, dunes, wineries, orchards and B&B-filled towns that boom during the summer – and shiver during the snow-packed winter. Note all state parks listed here take campsite reservations (☎ 800-447-2757; www.midnrreservations.com; fee $8) and require a vehicle permit (day/year $9/31), unless specified otherwise.

Harbor Country

Harbor Country refers to a group of eight small, lake-hugging towns just over the Michigan border (an easy day trip from Chicago). Yep, they've got your requisite beaches, wineries and antique shops; they've got a couple of big surprises too. The Harbor Country Chamber of Commerce (www.harborcountry.org) has the basics.

First up, surfing. Believe it, people: you can surf Lake Michigan, and the VW-bus-driving dudes at Third Coast Surf Shop (☎ 269-932-4575; www.thirdcoastsurfshop.com; 110-C N Whittaker St; ☀ 10am-6pm mid-May-late Sep) will show you how. They provide wet-suits and boards for surfing, skim boarding and paddleboarding (rentals per day $20 to $35). For novices, they offer 1½-hour lessons (including equipment $55 to $75) right on the public beach June through mid-September. The surf shop is in New Buffalo, Harbor Country's biggest town.

i WINE TRAIL

A dozen wineries cluster between New Buffalo and Saugatuck. The Lake Michigan Shore Wine Trail (www.lakemichiganshorewinetrail.com) provides a downloadable map of vineyards and tasting rooms. Most are signposted off the highway.

Three Oaks is the only Harbor community that's inland (6 miles in, via US 12). Here Green Acres meets Greenwich Village in a funky farm-and-arts blend. By day, rent bikes at Dewey Cannon Trading Company (☎ 269-756-3361; www.appleclidercentury.com; 3 Dewey Cannon Ave; bike per day $20; ☀ 9am-5pm) and cycle lightly used rural roads past orchards and wineries. By eve, catch a provocative play or arthouse flick at Three Oaks' theaters.

Hungry? Get a wax-paper-wrapped cheeseburger, spicy curly fries and cold beer at Redamak's (www.redamaks.com; 616 E Buffalo St; burgers $5-10; ☀ noon-10:30pm Mar-Oct) in New Buffalo.

Saugatuck & Douglas

Saugatuck is one of the Gold Coast's most popular resort areas, known for its strong arts community, numerous B&Bs and gay-friendly vibe. Douglas is its twin city a mile or so south, and they're pretty much sprawled into one. The Saugatuck/Douglas CVB (www.saugatuck.com) provides maps and more.

The best thing to do in Saugatuck is also the most affordable. Jump aboard the clackety Saugatuck Chain Ferry (foot of the Mary St; one way $1; ☀ 9am-9pm late May-early Sep) and the operator will pull you across the Kalamazoo River. On the other side, walk to the dock's right and soon you'll come to Mt Baldhead, a 200ft-high sand dune. Huff up the stairs to see the grand view, and then race down the other side to beautiful Oval Beach.

Galleries and shops proliferate downtown on Water and Butler Sts. Antiquing prevails on the Blue Star Hwy running south for 20 miles. Blueberry U-pick farms share this stretch of road and make a juicy stop, too.

Several frilly B&Bs are tucked into the Saugatuck's century-old Victorian homes, with most ranging from $125 to $300 per night. Try the Bayside Inn (☎ 269-857-4321; www.baysideinn.net; 618 Water St; r incl breakfast $150-280; 🍷), a 10-room former boathouse on Saugatuck's waterfront, or the retro-cool Pines Motorlodge (☎ 269-857-5211; www.thepinesmotorlodge.com; 56 Blue Star Hwy; r incl breakfast $139-199; 🍷), with rooms amid the firs in Douglas.

For eats, Wicks Park Bar & Grill (☎ 269-857-2888; www.wickspark.com; 449 Water St; mains $11-25; ☀ 11:30am-9pm), by the chain ferry, gets props for its lake perch and live music.

Locals like to hang out and sip the house-made suds at Saugatuck Brewing Company (www.saugatuckbrewing.com; 2948 Blue Star Hwy; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat). For dessert, buy a bulging slice at Crane's Pie Pantry (☎ 269-561-2297; www.cranespiepantry.com; 6054 124th Ave; pie slices $4; ☺ 9am-8pm Mon-Sat, from 11am Sun May-Oct, reduced hours Nov-Apr), or pick apples and peaches in the surrounding orchards. Crane's is in Fenville, 3 miles south on the Blue Star Hwy, then 4 miles inland on Hwy 89.

Muskegon & Ludington

The Lake Express ferry (☎ 866-914-1010; www.lake-express.com; ☺ May-Oct) crosses between Muskegon and Milwaukee (one way adult/child/car from $83/26/87, 2½ hours), providing a substantial shortcut over driving the Michigan-to-Wisconsin route. The town isn't much, but the Muskegon Luge & Sports Complex (☎ 231-744-9629; www.msports.org; 442 Scenic Dr) kicks butt with its full-on luge track (usable during summer, too) and cross-country ski trails. To the north, lakeside Ludington State Park (☎ 231-843-8671; tent & RV sites $16-29, cabins $45) is one of Michigan's largest and most popular playlots. It has a top-notch trail system, a renovated lighthouse to visit (or live in, as a volunteer lighthouse keeper) and miles of beach.

Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore

This national park stretches from north of Frankfort to just before Leland, on the Leelanau Peninsula. Stop at the park's visitor center (☎ 231-326-5134; www.nps.gov/slbe; 9922 Front St; ☺ 8:30am-6pm Jun-Aug, to 4pm Sep-May) in Empire for information, trail maps and vehicle entry permits (week/year $10/20).

Attractions include the famous dune climb along Hwy 109, where you trudge up the 200ft-high dune and then run or roll down. Gluttons for leg-muscle punishment can keep slogging all the way to Lake Michigan, a strenuous 1½-hour trek one way; bring water. The Sleeping Bear Heritage Trail (www.sleepingbeartrail.org) paves 5 pretty miles from Glen Arbor to the Dune Climb; walkers and cyclists are all over it. It will stretch to Empire by summer 2014. Short on time or stamina? Take the 7-mile, one-lane, picnic-grove-studded Pierce Stocking Sce-

WORTH A TRIP

MANITOU ISLANDS

If you're looking for a wilderness adventure, the Manitou Islands – part of Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore – deliver. Manitou Island Transit (☎ 231-256-9061; www.manitoutransit.com) can help plan overnight camping trips on North Manitou, or day trips to South Manitou. Kayaking and hiking are popular activities, especially the 7-mile trek to the Valley of the Giants, a mystical stand of cedar trees on South Manitou. Ferries (round trip adult/child $35/20, 1½ hours) sail from Leland two to seven times per week from May to mid-October.

nic Drive, perhaps the best way to absorb the stunning lake vistas.

After you leave the park, swing into little Leland (www.lelandmi.com). Grab a bite at a waterfront restaurant downtown, and poke around atmospheric Fishtown with its weatherbeaten shacks-cum-shops. Boats depart from here for the Manitou Islands.

Onward near Suttons Bay, Tandem Ciders (www.tandemciders.com; 2055 Setterbo Rd; ☺ noon-6pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun) pours delicious hard ciders in its small tasting room on the family farm.

Traverse City

Michigan's 'cherry capital' is the largest city in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula. It's got a bit of urban sprawl, but it's still a happenin' base from which to see the Sleeping Bear Dunes, Mission Peninsula wineries, U-pick orchards and other area attractions.

Stop at the downtown visitor center (☎ 231-947-1120; www.traverscity.com; 101 W Grandview Pkwy; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) for maps and the do-it-yourself foodie tour brochure (also available online; click 'Things to Do' on the website).

Road tripping out to the wineries is a must. Head north from Traverse City on Hwy 37 for 20 miles to the end of the grape- and cherry-planted Old Mission Peninsula. You'll be spoiled for choice: Chateau Grand Traverse (www.cgtwines.com; ☺ 10am-7pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun) and Chateau Chantal (www.chateauchantal.com; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun) pour crowd-pleasing Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Peninsula Cellars (www.peninsulacellars.com; ☺ 10am-6pm), in an old schoolhouse, makes fine whites and is often less crowded. Whatever bottle you buy, take it out to Lighthouse Park beach, at the peninsula's tip, and enjoy it with the waves chilling your toes. The wineries stay open year-round, with reduced hours in winter.

The town goes all Hollywood during the Traverse City Film Festival (www.traverscityfilmfest.org; ☺ late Jul), when founder (and native Michigander) Michael Moore comes in and unspools a six-day slate of documentaries, international flicks and 'just great movies.'

Dozens of beaches, resorts, motels and water-sports operators line US 31 around Traverse City. On weekends, lodgings are often full, and more expensive; the visitor center website has contact details. Most resorts overlooking the bay cost $150 to $250 per night. The Chantal and Grand Traverse wineries also double as B&Bs and fit into this price range.

Guests can rent jet skis and enjoy nightly bonfires at Park Shore Resort (☎ 877-349-8898; www.parkshoresort.com; 1401 US 31 N; r incl breakfast from $199; 🏠 🍷 🍷). Motels on the other side of US 31 (away from the water) are more moderately priced, such as Mitchell Creek Inn (☎ 231-947-9330; www.mitchellcreek.com; 894 Munson Ave; r/cottages from $60/125; 🏠), near the state park beach.

After a day of fun in the sun, refresh with sandwiches at gastronome favorite Folgarelli's (☎ 231-941-7651; www.folgarellis.net; 424 W Front St; sandwiches $7-11; ☺ 9:30am-6:30pm Mon-Fri, to 5:30pm Sat, 11am-4pm Sun) and Belgian and Michigan craft beers at 7 Monks Taproom (www.7monkstap.com; 128 S Union St; ☺ noon-midnight).

i HIKING-TRAIL MAPS

Plot out your walk in the woods with Michigan Trail Maps (www.michigantrailmaps.com), a free resource with more than 100 trail guides. Search by county, trail length or activity (eg birding), then download and print the high-quality maps as pdfs. So far the trails covered are on the Lower Peninsula, but Upper Peninsula treks are reportedly in the works.

Charlevoix & Petoskey

These two towns hold several Hemingway sights. They're also where Michigan's upper-crusters maintain summer homes. The downtown areas of both places have gourmet restaurants and high-class shops, and the marinas are filled with yachts.

In Petoskey, Stafford's Perry Hotel (☎ 231-347-4000; www.staffords.com; Bay at Lewis St; r $149-269; 🏠 🍷 🍷) is a grand historic place in which to stay. Petoskey State Park (☎ 231-347-2311; 2475 Hwy 119; tent & RV sites $27-29) is north along Hwy 119 and has a beautiful beach. Look for indigenous Petoskey stones, which are honeycomb-patterned fragments of ancient coral. From here, Hwy 119 (aka the Tunnel of Trees scenic route) dips and curves through thick forest as it rolls north along a sublime bluff, en route to the Straits of Mackinac.

Straits of Mackinac

This region, between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas, features a long history of forts and fudge shops. Car-free Mackinac Island is Michigan's premier tourist draw.

One of the most spectacular sights in the area is the 5-mile-long Mackinac Bridge (known locally as 'Big Mac'), which spans the Straits of Mackinac. The $4 toll is worth every penny as the views from the bridge, which include two Great Lakes, two peninsulas and hundreds of islands, are second to none in Michigan.

And remember: despite the spelling, it's pronounced mac-in-aw.

Mackinaw City

At the south end of Mackinac Bridge, bordering I-75, is touristy Mackinaw City. It serves mainly as a jump-off point to Mackinac Island, but it does have a couple of interesting sights.

Next to the bridge (its visitor center is actually beneath the bridge) is Colonial Michilimackinac (☎ 231-436-5564; www.mackinacparks.com; adult/child $11/6.50; ☺ 9:30am-7pm Jun-Aug, to 5pm May & Sep-mid-Oct). This National Historic Landmark features a reconstructed stockade first built in 1715 by the French. Some 3 miles southeast of the city on US 23 is Historic Mill Creek (☎ 231-436-4226; www.mackinacparks.com; adult/child

HEMINGWAY'S HAUNTS

A number of writers have ties to northwest Michigan, but none is as famous as Ernest Hemingway, who spent the summers of his youth at his family's cottage on Walloon Lake. Hemingway buffs often tour the area to view the places that made their way into his writing.

First up: Horton Bay. As you head north on US 31, past yacht-filled Charlevoix, look for Boyne City Rd veering off to the east. It skirts Lake Charlevoix and eventually arrives at the Horton Bay General Store (☎ 231-582-7827; www.hortonbaygeneralstore.com; 05115 Boyne City Rd; ☀ 8am-2pm mid-May–mid-Oct). Hemingway fans will recognize the building, with its 'high false front,' from his short story 'Up in Michigan.' For the mother lode of Hemingway books and souvenirs, pop into the Red Fox Inn Bookstore (05156 Boyne City Rd; ☀ late May–early Sep) next door.

Further up Hwy 31 in Petoskey, you can see the Hemingway collection at the Little Traverse History Museum (☎ 231-347-2620; www.petoskeymuseum.org; 100 Depot Ct; admission $3; ☀ 10am-4pm Mon-Fri, from 1pm Sat late May–mid-Oct), including rare first-edition books that the author autographed for a friend when he visited in 1947. Afterward, toss back a drink at City Park Grill (☎ 231-347-0101; www.cityparkgrill.com; 432 E Lake St; ☀ 11:30am-midnight), where Hemingway was a regular.

Tour Hemingway's Michigan (www.mihemingwaytour.org) provides further information for self-guided jaunts.

$8/4.75; ☀ 9am-5pm Jun-Aug, to 4pm May & Sep–mid-Oct), which has an 18th-century sawmill, historic displays and nature trails. A combination ticket for both sights, along with Fort Mackinac, is available at a discount.

If you can't find lodging on Mackinac Island – which should be your first choice – motels line I-75 and US 23 in Mackinaw City. Most cost $100-plus per night. Try Days Inn (☎ 231-436-8961; www.daysinn.com; 206 N Nicolet St; r incl breakfast $115-170; ♿ ♿ ♿).

St Ignace

At the north end of Mackinac Bridge is St Ignace, the other departure point for Mackinac Island and the second-oldest settlement in Michigan – Père Jacques Marquette founded a mission here in 1671. As soon as you've paid your bridge toll, you'll pass a huge visitor center (☎ 906-643-6979; I-75N; ☀ 9am-5:30pm daily summer, Thu-Mon rest of year) which has racks of statewide information.

Mackinac Island

From either Mackinaw City or St Ignace you can catch a ferry to Mackinac Island. The island's location in the straits between Lake Michigan and Lake Huron made it a prized port in the North American fur trade, and a site the British and Americans battled over many times.

The most important date on this 3.8-sq-mile island was 1898 – the year cars were banned in order to encourage tourism. Today all travel is by horse or bicycle; even the police use bikes to patrol the town. The crowds of tourists – called Fudgies by the islanders – can be crushing at times, particularly during summer weekends. But when the last ferry leaves in the evening and clears out the day-trippers, Mackinac's real charm emerges and you drift back into another, slower era.

The visitor center (☎ 800-454-5227; www.mackinacisland.org; Main St; ☀ 9am-5pm), by the Arnold Line ferry dock, has maps for hiking and cycling. Eighty percent of the island is state parkland. Not much stays open between November and April.

👁 Sights & Activities

Edging the island's shoreline is Hwy 185, the only Michigan highway that doesn't permit cars. The best way to view the incredible scenery along this 8-mile road is by bicycle; bring your own or rent one in town for $8 per hour at one of the many businesses. You can loop around the flat road in about an hour.

The two best attractions – Arch Rock (a huge limestone arch that sits 150ft above Lake Huron) and Fort Holmes (the island's other fort) – are both free. You can also ride past the Grand Hotel, which boasts a porch stretching halfway to Detroit. Unfortunately, if you're not staying at the Grand (minimum $240 per night per person), it costs $10 to stroll its long porch. Best to admire from afar.

Fort Mackinac

HISTORIC SITE

(📞 906-847-3328; www.mackinacparks.com; adult/child $11/6.50; 🕒 9:30am-6pm Jun-Aug, 9:30am-4:30pm May & Sep-mid-Oct; 🚶) Fort Mackinac sits atop limestone cliffs near downtown. Built by the British in 1780, it's one of the best-preserved military forts in the country. Costumed interpreters and cannon and rifle firings (every half-hour) entertain the kids. Stop into the tearoom for a bite and million-dollar view of downtown and the Straits of Mackinac from the outdoor tables.

The fort admission price also allows you entry to five other museums in town along Market St, including the Dr Beaumont Museum (where the doctor performed his famous digestive tract experiments) and the Benjamin Blacksmith Shop. The Mackinac Art Museum (adult/child $5/3.50), housing Native American and other arts by the fort, is the newest member of the fold.

Sleeping

Rooms are booked far in advance during summer weekends; July to mid-August is peak season. The visitor center website has lodging contacts. Camping is not permitted anywhere on the island.

Most hotels and B&Bs charge at least $180 for two people. Exceptions (all are walkable from downtown) include the following.

Bogan Lane Inn

B&B $$

(📞 906-847-3439; www.boganlaneinn.com; Bogan Lane; r incl breakfast $90-130) Four rooms, shared bath.

Cloghaun B&B

B&B $$

(📞 906-847-3885; www.cloghaun.com; Market St; r incl breakfast $112-197; 🕒 mid-May-late Oct; 🚶) Eleven rooms, some with shared bath.

Hart's B&B

B&B $$

(📞 906-847-3854; www.hartsmackinac.com; Market St; r incl breakfast $150-190; 🕒 mid-May-late Oct; 🚶) Eight rooms, all with private bath.

Eating & Drinking

Fudge shops are the island's best-known eateries; resistance is futile when they use fans to blow the aroma out onto Huron St. Hamburger and sandwich shops abound downtown.

JL Beanery Coffeehouse

CAFE $

(📞 906-847-6533; Huron St; mains $6-13; 🕒 7am-7pm; 🚶) Read the newspaper, sip a steaming cup of joe and gaze at the lake at this waterside cafe. It serves dandy breakfasts, sandwiches and soups.

Horn's Bar

BURGERS, MEXICAN $$

(📞 906-847-6154; www.hornsbar.com; Main St; mains $10-19; 🕒 11am-2am) Horn's saloon serves American burgers and south-of-the-border fare, and there's live entertainment nightly.

Cawthorne's Village Inn

AMERICAN $$$

(📞 906-847-3542; www.grandhotel.com; Hoban St; mains $18-27; 🕒 11am-2am) Planked whitefish, pan-fried perch and other fresh-from-the-lake fish, meat and pasta dishes stuff diners at this year-round local hang-out with a bar and outdoor seating. Operated by the Grand Hotel.

Getting There & Around

Three ferry companies – Arnold Line (📞 800-542-8528; www.arnoldline.com), Shepler's (📞 800-828-6157; www.sheplersferry.com) and Star Line (📞 800-638-9892; www.mackinac-ferry.com) – operate out of Mackinaw City and St Ignace, and charge the same rates: round-trip adult/child/bicycle $25/13/8. Book online and you'll save a few bucks. The ferries run several times daily from May to October; Arnold Line runs longer, weather permitting. The trip takes about 15 minutes; once on the island, horse-drawn cabs will take you anywhere, or you can rent a bicycle.

Upper Peninsula

Rugged and isolated, with hardwood forests blanketing 90% of its land, the Upper Peninsula (UP) is a Midwest highlight. Only 45 miles of interstate highway slice through the trees, punctuated by a handful of cities, of which Marquette (population 20,000) is the largest. Between the small towns lie miles of undeveloped shoreline on Lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior; scenic two-lane roads; and pasties, the local meat-and-vegetable pot pies brought over by Cornish miners 150 years ago.

You'll find it's a different world up north. Residents of the UP, aka 'Yoopers,' consider themselves distinct from the rest of the state – they've even threatened to secede in the past.

Sault Ste Marie & Tahquamenon Falls

Founded in 1668, Sault Ste Marie (Sault is pronounced 'soo') is Michigan's oldest city and the third oldest in the USA. The town is best known for its locks that raise and lower 1000ft-long freighters between the different lake levels. Soo Locks Park & Visitors Center (☎9am-9pm mid-May-mid-Oct) FREE is on Portage Ave downtown (take exit 394 off I-75 and go left). It features displays, videos and observation decks from which you can watch the boats leap 21ft from Lake Superior to Lake Huron. Pubs and cafes line Portage Ave. The Sault CVB (www.saultstemarie.com) has all the lowdown.

An hour's drive west of Sault Ste Marie, via Hwy 28 and Hwy 123, is eastern UP's top attraction: lovely Tahquamenon Falls, with tea-colored waters tinted by upstream hemlock leaves. The Upper Falls in Tahquamenon Falls State Park (☎906-492-3415; per vehicle $9), 200ft across with a 50ft drop, wow onlookers – including Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, who mentioned them in his Song of Hiawatha. The Lower Falls are a series of small cascades that swirl around an island; many visitors rent a rowboat and paddle out to it. The large state park also has camping (tent & RV sites $16-23), great hiking and – bonus – a brewpub near the park entrance.

North of the park, beyond the little town of Paradise, is the fascinating Great Lakes Shipwreck Museum (☎888-492-3747; www.shipwreckmuseum.com; 18335 N Whitefish Point Rd; adult/child $13/9; ☎10am-6pm May-Oct), where the intriguing displays include items trawled up from sunken ships. Dozens of vessels – including the Edmund Fitzgerald that Gordon Lightfoot crooned about – have sunk in the area's congested sea lanes and storm-tossed weather, earning it such nicknames as the 'Shipwreck Coast' and 'Graveyard of the Great Lakes.' The grounds also include a lighthouse that President Lincoln commissioned and a bird observatory that 300 species fly by. To have the foggy place to yourself, spend the night at Whitefish Point Light Station B&B (☎888-492-3747; r $150; ☎May-Oct), which offers five rooms in the old Coast Guard crew quarters on site.

Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore

Stretching along prime Lake Superior real estate, Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore (www.nps.gov/piro) is a series of wild cliffs and caves where blue and green minerals have streaked the red and yellow sandstone into a kaleidoscope of color. Rte 58 (Alger County Rd) spans the park for 52 slow miles from Grand Marais in the east to Munising in the west. Top sights (from east to west) include Au Sable Point Lighthouse (reached via a 3-mile round-trip walk beside shipwreck skeletons), agate-strewn Twelvemile Beach, hike-rich Chapel Falls and view-worthy Miners Castle Overlook.

Several boat tours launch from Munising. Pictured Rock Cruises (☎906-387-2379; www.picturedocks.com; 100 W City Park Dr; 2½hr tours adult/child $36/10; ☎mid-May-mid-Oct) departs from the city pier downtown and glides along the shore to Miners Castle. Shipwreck Tours (☎906-387-4477; www.shipwrecktours.com; 1204 Commercial St; 2hr tours adult/child $32/12; ☎late May-mid-Oct) sails in glass-bottom boats to see sunken schooners.

Grand Island (www.grandislandmi.com), part of Hiawatha National Forest, is also a quick jaunt from Munising. Hop aboard the Grand Island Ferry (☎906-387-3503; round-trip adult/child $15/10; ☎late May-mid-Oct) to get there and rent a mountain bike (per day $30) to zip around. There's also a ferry/bus tour package ($22). The ferry dock is on Hwy 28, which is about 4 miles west of Munising.

Munising has lots of motels, such as tidy Alger Falls Motel (☎906-387-3536; www.algerfallsmotel.com; E9427 Hwy 28; r $60-90; ☎☎). Falling Rock Cafe & Bookstore (☎906-387-3008; www.fallingrockcafe.com; 104 E Munising Ave; mains $5-9; ☎7am-10pm; ☎) provides sandwiches and live music.

Staying in wee Grand Marais, on the park's east side, is also recommended. Turn in at Hilltop Cabins and Motel (☎906-494-2331; www.hilltopcabins.net; N14176 Ellen St; r & cabins $85-175; ☎) after a meal of whitefish sandwiches and brewskis at rustic Lake Superior Brewing Company (☎906-494-2337; N14283 Lake Ave; mains $7-13; ☎noon-11pm).

Marquette

From Munising, Hwy 28 heads west and hugs Lake Superior. This beautiful stretch of highway has lots of beaches, roadside parks and rest areas where you can pull over and enjoy the scenery. Within 45 miles you'll reach outdoorsy, oft-snowy Marquette.

Stop at the log-lodge visitor center (www.travelmarquettetemichigan.com; 2201 US 41; ☎ 9am-5pm) as you enter the city for brochures on local hiking trails and waterfalls.

The easy Sugarloaf Mountain Trail and the harder, wildernesslike Hogsback Mountain Trail offer panoramic views. Both are reached from County Rd 550, just north of Marquette. In the city, the high bluffs of Presque Isle Park make a great place to catch the sunset. The Noquemanon Trail Network (www.noquetrails.org) is highly recommended for mountain biking and cross-country skiing. Kayaking is awesome in the area; Downwind Sports (www.downwind-sports.com; 514 N Third St; ☎ 10am-7pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) has the lowdown on it, as well as fly fishing, surfing, ice climbing and other adventures.

Marquette is the perfect place to stay put for a few days to explore the central UP. Budgeteers can bunk at Value Host Motor Inn (☎ 906-225-5000; www.valuehostmotorinn.com; 1101 US 41 W; r incl breakfast $55-70; 🏠) a few miles west of town. Downtown's Landmark Inn (☎ 906-228-2580; www.thelandmarkinn.com; 230 N Front St; r $139-229; 🏠) fills a historic lakefront building and has a couple of resident ghosts.

Sample the local meat-and-veggie pie specialty at Jean Kay's Pasties & Subs (www.jeankayspasties.com; 1635 Presque Isle Ave; items $4-7.50; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon-Fri, to 8pm Sat & Sun).

DON'T MISS

DA YOOPERS TOURIST TRAP

Behold Big Gus, the world's largest chainsaw. And Big Ernie, the world's largest rifle. Kitsch runs rampant at Da Yoopers Tourist Trap and Museum (☎ 800-628-9978; www.dayoopers.com; ☎ 9am-9pm Mon-Fri, to 8pm Sat, to 7pm Sun) FREE. 15 miles west of Marquette on Hwy 28/41, past Ishpeming. Browse the store for only-in-the-UP gifts like a polyester moose tie or beer-can wind chimes.

In a quonset hut at Main St's foot, Thill's Fish House (☎ 906-226-9851; 250 E Main St; items $4-9; ☎ 8am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat) is Marquette's last commercial fishing operation, and it hauls in fat catches daily; try the smoked whitefish sausage. Hop-heads and mountain bikers hang out at Black-rocks Brewery (www.blackrocksbrewery.com; 424 N Third St; ☎ from 4pm), set in an cool refurbished house downtown.

Isle Royale National Park

Totally free of vehicles and roads, Isle Royale National Park (www.nps.gov/isro; per day $4; ☎ mid-May–Oct), a 210-sq-mile island in Lake Superior, is certainly the place to go for peace and quiet. It gets fewer visitors in a year than Yellowstone National Park gets in a day, which means the packs of wolves and moose creeping through the forest are all yours.

The island is laced with 165 miles of hiking trails that connect dozens of campgrounds along Superior and inland lakes. You must be totally prepared for this wilderness adventure, with a tent, camping stove, sleeping bags, food and water filter. Otherwise, be a sofite and bunk at the Rock Harbor Lodge (☎ 906-337-4993; www.isleroyaleresort.com; r & cottages $237-271; ☎ late May-early Sep)

From the dock outside the park headquarters (800 E Lakeshore Dr) in Houghton, the Ranger III (☎ 906-482-0984) departs at 9am on Tuesday and Friday for the six-hour boat trip (round-trip adult/child $126/46) to Rock Harbor, at the east end of the island. Royale Air Service (☎ 877-359-4753; www.royaleairservice.com) offers a quicker trip, flying from Houghton County Airport to Rock Harbor in 30 minutes (round-trip $299). Or head 50 miles up the Keweenaw Peninsula to Copper Harbor (a beautiful drive) and jump on the Isle Royale Queen (☎ 906-289-4437; www.isleroyale.com) for the 8am three-hour crossing (round-trip adult/child $130/65). It usually runs daily during peak season from late July to mid-August. Bringing a kayak or canoe on the ferries costs an additional $50 round-trip; ensure you make reservations well in advance. You can also access Isle Royale from Grand Portage, Minnesota.

Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park

Michigan's largest state park, with 90 miles of trails, is another UP winner; and it's a heck of a lot easier to reach than Isle Royale. "The Porkies,' as they're called, are so rugged that loggers bypassed most of the range in the early 19th century, leaving the park with the largest tract of virgin forest between the Rocky Mountains and Adirondacks.

From Silver City, head west on Hwy 107 to reach the Porcupine Mountains Visitor Center (☎906-885-5275; www.porcupinemountains.com; 412 S Boundary Rd; ☀10am-6pm mid-May-mid-Oct), where you buy vehicle entry permits (per day/year $9/31) and backcountry permits (one to four people per night $14). Continue to the end of Hwy 107 and climb 300ft for the stunning view of Lake of the Clouds.

Winter is also a busy time at the Porkies, with downhill skiing (a 787ft vertical drop) and 26 miles of cross-country trails on offer; sketch with the ski area (☎906-289-4105; www.skitheporkies.com) for conditions and costs.

The park rents rustic cabins (☎906-885-5275; www.mi.gov/porkies; cabins $60) perfect for wilderness adventurers, as you have to hike in for 1 to 4 miles, boil your own water and use a privy. Sunshine Motel & Cabins (☎906-884-2187; www.ontonagon.net/sunshinemotel; 24077 Hwy 64; r $60, cabins $68-120; 🏠🚰), 3 miles west of Ontonagon, is another good base.

WISCONSIN

Wisconsin is cheesy and proud of it. The state pumps out 2.5 billion pounds of cheddar; Gouda and other smelly goodness – a quarter of America's hunks – from its cow-speckled farmland per year. Local license plates read 'The Dairy State' with udder dignity. Folks here even refer to themselves as 'cheeseheads' and emphasize it by wearing novelty foam-rubber cheese-wedge hats for special occasions (most notably during Green Bay Packers football games).

So embrace the cheese thing, because there's a good chance you'll be here for a while. Wisconsin has heaps to offer: exploring the craggy cliffs and lighthouses of Door County, kayaking through sea caves at Apostle Islands National Lakeshore, cow-chip throwing along US 12 and soaking up beer, art and festivals in Milwaukee and Madison.

i Information

Travel Green Wisconsin (www.travelgreenwisconsin.com) Certifies businesses as ecofriendly by grading them on waste reduction, energy efficiency and seven other categories.

WISCONSIN FACTS

Nicknames Badger State, America's Dairyland

Population 5.7 million

Area 65,500 sq miles

Capital city Madison (population 240,000)

Other cities Milwaukee (population 599,000)

Sales tax 5%

Birthplace of Author Laura Ingalls Wilder (1867–1957), architect Frank Lloyd Wright (1867–1959), painter Georgia O'Keeffe (1887–1986), actor Orson Welles (1915–85), guitar maker Les Paul (1915–2009)

Home of 'Cheesehead' Packer fans, dairy farms, water parks

Politics Leans Democratic

Famous for Breweries, artisanal cheese, first state to legislate gay rights

Official dance Polka

Driving distances Milwaukee to Minneapolis 336 miles, Milwaukee to Madison 80 miles

Wisconsin B&B Association (www.wbba.org)

Wisconsin Department of Tourism (☎800-432-8747; www.travelwisconsin.com) Produces loads of free guides on subjects like bird-watching, biking, golf and rustic roads; also a free app.

Wisconsin Highway Conditions (☎511; www.511wi.gov)

Wisconsin Milk Marketing Board (www.eatwisconsincheese.com) Provides a free statewide map of cheesemakers titled A Traveler's Guide to America's Dairyland.

Wisconsin State Park Information (☎608-266-2181; www.wiparks.net) Park entry requires a vehicle permit (per day/year $10/35). Campsites cost from $14 to $25; reservations (☎888-947-2757; www.wisconsinstateparks.reserveamerica.com; fee $10) accepted.

Milwaukee

Here's the thing about Milwaukee: it's cool, but for some reason everyone refuses to admit it. Yes, the reputation lingers as a working man's town of brewskis, bowling alleys and polka halls. But attractions like the Calatrava-designed art museum, badass Harley-Davidson Museum and stylish eating and shopping 'hoods have turned Wisconsin's largest city into a surprisingly groovy place. In summertime, festivals let loose with revelry by the lake almost every weekend. And where else on the planet will you see racing sausages?

History

Milwaukee was first settled by Germans in the 1840s. Many started small breweries, but a few decades later the introduction of bulk brewing technology turned beer production into a major industry here. Milwaukee earned its 'Brew City' and 'Nation's Watering Hole' nicknames in the 1880s when Pabst, Schlitz, Blatz, Miller and 80 other breweries made suds here. Today, only Miller and a few microbreweries remain.

Sights & Activities

Lake Michigan sits to the east of the city, and is rimmed by parkland. The Riverwalk path runs along both sides of the Milwaukee River downtown.

Harley-Davidson Museum MUSEUM
(☎ 877-436-8738; www.h-dmuseum.com; 400 W Canal St; adult/child $18/10; ☀ 9am-6pm Fri-Wed, to 8pm Thu May-Oct, reduced hours Nov-Apr) Hundreds of motorcycles show the styles through the decades, including the flashy rides of Elvis and Evel Knievel. You can sit in the saddle of various bikes (on the bottom floor, behind the Design Lab), as well as get a mini lesson on how to ride (by the front entrance). Even nonbikers will enjoy the place.

It all started in 1903, when Milwaukee schoolmates William Harley and Arthur Davidson built and sold their first motorcycle. A century later the big bikes are a symbol of American manufacturing pride. The museum is located in a sprawling industrial building just south of downtown.

Harley-Davidson Plant TOUR
(☎ 877-883-1450; www.harley-davidson.com/experience; W156 N9000 Pilgrim Rd; 30min tours free; ☀ 9am-2pm Mon) Hog-heads can get a fix at the plant where engines are built, in suburban Menomonee Falls. In addition to Monday's free tour, longer tours take place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, but only as part of a package deal you buy from the museum (per person $32, including tour, museum admission, and transport between the two venues).

Milwaukee Art Museum MUSEUM
(☎ 414-224-3200; www.mam.org; 700 N Art Museum Dr; adult/child $15/12; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue, Wed & Fri-Sun, to 8pm Thu Sep-May) Even those who aren't usually museum-goers will be struck by this lakeside museum, which features a stunning winglike addition by Santiago Calatrava. It soars open and closed every day at 10am, noon and at closing time, which is wild to see. There are fabulous folk and outsider art galleries, and a sizeable collection of Georgia O'Keeffe paintings.

Miller Brewing Company BREWERY
(☎ 414-931-2337; www.millercoors.com; 4251 W State St; ☀ 10:30am-3:30pm Mon-Sat, to 4:30pm summer) FREE Pabst and Schlitz have moved on, but Miller preserves Milwaukee's beer legacy. Join the legions of drinkers lined up for the free tours. Though the mass-produced beer may not be your favorite, the factory impresses with its sheer scale: you'll visit the packaging plant where 2000 cans are filled each minute, and the warehouse where a half-million cases await shipment. And then there's the generous tasting session at the tour's end, where you can down three full-size samples. Don't forget your ID.

Lakefront Brewery BREWERY
(☎ 414-372-8800; www.lakefrontbrewery.com; 1872 N Commerce St; 1hr tours $7; ☀ 9am-4:30pm Mon-Thu, 9am-9pm Fri, 11am-4:30pm Sat, noon-4:30pm Sun) Well-loved Lakefront Brewery,

TWO-WHEELING WISCONSIN

Wisconsin has converted an impressive number of abandoned railroad lines into paved, bike-only paths. They go up hills, through old tunnels, over bridges and alongside pastures. Wherever you are in the state, there's likely a sweet ride nearby; check the Travel Wisconsin Bike Path Directory (www.travelwisconsin.com/things-to-do/outdoor-fun/biking-/traffic-free-paved). The 400 State Trail (www.400statetrail.org) and Elroy-Sparta Trail (www.elroy-sparta-trail.com) top the list.

Bike rentals are available in gateway towns, and you can buy trail passes (per day/year $4/20) at area businesses or trailhead drop-boxes.

across the river from Brady St, has afternoon tours, but the swellest time to visit is on Friday nights when there's a fish fry, 16 beers to try and a polka band letting loose. Tour times vary throughout the week, but there's usually at least a 2pm and 3pm walk-through.

Discovery World at Pier Wisconsin MUSEUM
(☎ 414-765-9966; www.discoveryworld.org; 500 N Harbor Dr; adult/child $17/13; ☀ 9am-4pm Tue-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun; ♿) The city's lakefront science and technology museum is primarily a kid-pleaser, with freshwater and saltwater aquariums (where you can touch sharks and sturgeon) and a dockside, triple-masted Great Lakes schooner to climb aboard ($2 extra). Adults will appreciate the Les Paul exhibit, showcasing the Wisconsin native's pioneering guitars and sound equipment.

Lakefront Park PARK
The parkland edging Lake Michigan is prime for walking, cycling and in-line skating. Also here is Bradford Beach, which is good for swimming and lounging.

★ Festivals & Events

Summerfest MUSIC
(www.summerfest.com; day pass $17; ☀ late June-early Jul) It's dubbed 'the world's largest music festival,' and indeed hundreds of rock, blues, jazz, country and alternative bands swarm its 10 stages over 11 days. The scene totally rocks; it is held at downtown's lakefront festival grounds.

Other popular parties, held downtown during various summer weekends, include PrideFest (www.pridefest.com; ☀ mid-Jun), Polish Fest (www.polishfest.org; ☀ late Jun), German Fest (www.germanfest.com; ☀ late Jul) and Irish Fest (www.irishfest.com; ☀ mid-Aug).

🛏 Sleeping

Rates in this section are for summer, the peak season, when you should book in advance. Tax (15.1%) is not included. For cheap chain lodging, try Howell Ave, south near the airport.

County Clare Irish Inn INN $$
(☎ 414-272-5273; www.countyclare-inn.com; 1234 N Astor St; r incl breakfast $129-179; 📞 📺 📶) A winner near the lakefront. Rooms have that snug Irish-cottage feel, with four-poster beds, white wainscot walls and whirlpool baths. There's free parking and an on-site Guinness-pouring pub, of course.

DON'T MISS

THE BRONZE FONZ

Rumor has it the Bronze Fonz (east side of Riverwalk), just south of Wells St downtown, is the most photographed sight in Milwaukee. The Fonz, aka Arthur Fonzarelli, was a character from the 1970s TV show Happy Days, which was set in the city. What do you think – do the blue pants get an 'Aaay' or 'Whoa!'

Aloft HOTEL $$
(☎ 414-226-0122; www.aloftmilwaukee.com; 1230 Old World 3rd St; r $129-179; 📞 📺 📶) The chain's Milwaukee property has the usual compact, industrial-looking tone. It's inland near Old World 3rd St and Water St's bar action (thus a bit noisy). Parking costs $23.

Brewhouse Inn & Suites HOTEL $$$
(☎ 414-810-3350; www.brewhousesuites.com; 1215 N 10th St; r incl breakfast $189-229; 📞 📺 📶) This 90-room hotel opened in 2013 in the exquisitely renovated old Pabst Brewery complex. Each of the large chambers has steampunk decor, a kitchenette and free wi-fi. It's at downtown's far west edge, about a half-mile walk from sausage Old World 3rd St and a good 2 miles from the festival grounds. Parking costs $26.

Iron Horse Hotel HOTEL $$$
(☎ 888-543-4766; www.theironhorsehotel.com; 500 W Florida St; r $189-259; 📞 📺 📶) This boutique hotel near the Harley museum is geared toward motorcycle enthusiasts, with covered parking for bikes. Most of the loft-style rooms retain the post-and-beam, exposed-brick interior of what was once a bedding factory. Parking costs $25.

🍴 Eating

Good places to scope for eats include Germanic Old World 3rd St downtown; hip, multi-ethnic Brady St by its intersection with N Farwell Ave; and the gastropub-filled Third Ward, anchored along N Milwaukee St south of I-94.

Milwaukee Public Market MARKET $
(www.milwaukeepublicmarket.org; 400 N Water St; ☀ 10am-8pm Mon-Fri, 8am-7pm Sat, 10am-6pm Sun; 📞) Located in the Third Ward, it stocks mostly prepared foods – cheese, chocolate, beer, tacos, frozen custard. Take them upstairs where there are tables, free wi-fi and $1 used books.

Leon's ICE CREAM $
(www.leonsfrozencustard.us; 3131 S 27th St; items $1.30-4; ☺11am-midnight) This 1950s-era neon-lit drive-in specializes in frozen custard, a local concoction that's like ice cream but smoother and richer. Cash only.

★ Comet Cafe AMERICAN $$
(www.thecometcafe.com; 1947 N Farwell Ave; mains $8-12; ☺10am-10pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat & Sun; ☺) Students, young families, older couples and bearded, tattooed types pile in to the rock-and-roll Comet for gravy-smothered meatloaf, mac 'n' cheese, vegan gyros and hangover brunch dishes. It's a craft-beer-pouring bar on one side, and retro-boothed diner on the other. Be sure to try one of the giant cupcakes for dessert.

Distil AMERICAN $$
(☎414-220-9411; www.distilmilwaukee.com; 722 N Milwaukee St; mains $10-20; ☺from 5pm Mon-Sat) It's all about artisanal fare at dark, cop-py Distil. The menu focuses on cheese and charcuterie (burgers, too). Heck, the beef comes from the owner's cow. Mixologists stir up Corpse Revivers and Sidecars to accompany the food.

🍷 Drinking & Entertainment Bars

Milwaukee has the second most bars per capita in the country (a hair behind New Orleans). Several pour around N Water and E State Sts downtown and in the Third Ward. Drinkeries stay open to 2am.

Best Place BAR
(www.bestplacemilwaukee.com; 901 W Juneau Ave; ☺noon-midnight Thu-Sat, to 6pm Sun) Join the locals knocking back beers and massive whiskey pours at this small tavern in the former Pabst Brewery headquarters. A fireplace warms the cozy, dark-wood room; original murals depicting Pabst's history adorn the walls. Staff give daily tours ($8, including a 16oz Pabst or Schlitz tap brew) that explore the building.

Uber Tap Room BAR
(www.ubertaproom.com; 1048 N Old 3rd St; ☺11am-8pm Sun-Wed, to 10pm Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) It's touristy, in the thick of Old World 3rd St and attached to the Wisconsin Cheese Mart, but it's a great place to sample local fare. Thirty Wisconsin beers flow from the taps, and cheese from the state's dairy bounty accompanies. Themed plates (spicy cheeses, stinky cheeses etc) cost $8 to $12.

Palm Tavern BAR
(2989 S Kinnickinnic Ave; ☺from 5pm Mon-Sat, from 7pm Sun) Located in the fresh south-side neighborhood of Bay View, this warm, jazzy little bar has a mammoth selection of beer (heavy on the Belgians) and single-malt Scotches.

Kochanski's Concertina Beer Hall BAR
(www.beer-hall.com; 1920 S 37th St; ☺from 6pm Wed-Fri, from 1pm Sat & Sun; ☺) Live polka music rules at kitschy Kochanski's, with beers from Schlitz to Polish drafts to Wisconsin craft labels. It's 5 miles southwest of downtown.

Sports
Miller Park BASEBALL
(www.brewers.com; 1 Brewers Way) The Brewers play baseball at fab Miller Park, which has a retractable roof, real grass and racing sausages. It's located near S 46th St.

Bradley Center BASKETBALL
(www.nba.com/bucks; 1001 N 4th St) The NBA's Milwaukee Bucks dunk here.

📍 Information

The East Side neighborhood near the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee has several coffee shops with free wi-fi.

Froedtert Hospital (☎414-805-3000; 9200 W Wisconsin Ave)

Milwaukee Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎800-554-1448; www.visitmilwaukee.org) Tourist information.

Milwaukee Journal Sentinel (www.jsonline.com) The city's daily newspaper.

On Milwaukee (www.onmilwaukee.com) Traffic and weather updates, plus restaurant and entertainment reviews.

AMERICA'S BOWLING CAPITAL

You're in Milwaukee, so you probably should just do it: bowl. The city once had more than 200 bowling alleys, and many retro lanes still hide in timeworn dives. To get your game on try Landmark Lanes (www.landmarklanes.com; 2220 N Farwell Ave; per game $2.50-3.50; ☺5pm-1:30am Mon-Thu, noon-1:30am Fri-Sun; ☺), offering 16 beat-up alleys in the historic 1927 Oriental Theater. An arcade, three bars and butt-cheap beer round out the atmosphere.

Quest (www.quest-online.com) GLBT entertainment magazine.

Shepherd Express (www.expressmilwaukee.com) Free alternative weekly paper.

i Getting There & Around

General Mitchell International Airport (MKE; www.mitchellairport.com) is 8 miles south of downtown. Take public bus 80 ($2.25) or a cab ($30).

The Lake Express ferry (☎ 866-914-1010; www.lake-express.com) sails from downtown (the terminal is located a few miles south of the city center) to Muskegon, Michigan, providing easy access to Michigan's beach-lined Gold Coast.

Greyhound (☎ 414-272-2156; 433 W St Paul Ave) runs frequent buses to Chicago (two hours) and Minneapolis (seven hours). Badger Bus (☎ 414-276-7490; www.badgerbus.com; 635 N James Lovell St) goes to Madison ($19, two hours). Megabus (www.megabus.com/us; 446 N 4th St) runs express to Chicago (two hours) and Minneapolis (six hours), often for lower fares than Greyhound.

Amtrak (☎ 414-271-0840; www.amtrakhiawatha.com; 433 W St Paul Ave) runs the Hiawatha train seven times a day to/from Chicago ($24, 1½ hours); catch it downtown (it shares the station with Greyhound) or at the airport.

The Milwaukee County Transit System (www.ridemcts.com; fare $2.25) provides the local bus service. Bus 31 goes to Miller Brewery; bus 90 goes to Miller Park.

For taxi service, try phoning Yellow Cab (☎ 414-271-1800).

Madison

Madison reaps a lot of kudos: most walkable city, best road-biking city, most vegetarian-friendly, gay-friendly, environmentally friendly and just plain all-round friendliest city in the USA. Ensnared on a narrow isthmus between Mendota and Monona Lakes, it's a pretty combination of small, grassy state capital and liberal, bookish college town. An impressive foodie/locavore scene has been cooking here for years.

i Sights & Activities

State St runs from the capitol west to the University of Wisconsin. The pedestrian-only avenue is lined with free-trade coffee shops, parked bicycles and incense-wafting stores selling hacky sacks and flowing Indian skirts.

DON'T MISS

RACING SAUSAGES

It's common to see strange things after too many stadium beers. But a group of giant sausages sprinting around Miller Park's perimeter – is that for real? It is if it's the middle of the 6th inning. That's when the famous 'Racing Sausages' (actually five people in costumes) waddle onto the field to give the fans a thrill. If you don't know your encased meats, that's Brat, Polish, Italian, Hot Dog and Chorizo vying for supremacy.

Chazen Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(www.chazen.wisc.edu; 750 University Ave; ☎ 9am-5pm Tue-Fri, 9am-9pm Thu, 11am-5pm Sat & Sun)

FREE The university's art museum is huge and fabulous, fresh off an expansion and way beyond the norm for a campus collection. The 3rd floor holds most of the genre-spanning trove: everything from the old Dutch masters to Qing Dynasty porcelaine vases, Picasso sculptures and Andy Warhol pop art. Free chamber-music concerts and arthouse films take place on Sundays from September to mid-May.

Monona Terrace

ARCHITECTURE

(www.mononaterrace.com; 1 John Nolen Dr; ☎ 8am-5pm) Frank Lloyd Wright designed the cool, white semicircular structure in 1938, though it wasn't completed until 1997. The one-hour tours ($3) explain why; they're offered daily at 1pm. The building serves as a community center, offering free lunchtime yoga classes and evening concerts; check the events schedule online. The rooftop garden and cafe offer sweeping lake views.

Dane County Farmers Market

MARKET

(www.dcfm.org; Capitol Sq; ☎ 6am-2pm Sat late Apr-early Nov) 🍃 On Saturdays, a food bazaar takes over Capitol Sq. It's one of the nation's most expansive markets, famed for its artisanal cheeses and breads. In winter it moves indoors to varying locations.

State Capitol

BUILDING

(☎ 608-266-0382; ☎ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun) FREE The X-shaped capitol is the largest outside Washington, DC, and marks the heart of downtown. Tours are available on the hour most days, or you can go up to the observation deck on your own for a view.

Museum of Contemporary Art MUSEUM
(☎ 608-257-0158; www.mmoca.org; 227 State St; ☀ noon-5pm Tue-Thu, noon-8pm Fri, 10am-8pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun) FREE It's worth popping into the angular glass building to see what's on the walls. Diego Rivera? Claes Oldenburg? Exhibits change every three months or so. The museum connects to the Overture Center for the Arts (www.overturecenter.com; 201 State St), home to jazz, opera, dance and other performing arts.

Arboretum GARDENS
(☎ 608-263-7888; http://uwarboretum.org; 1207 Seminole Hwy; ☀ 7am-10pm) FREE The campus' 1260-acre arboretum is dense with lilac.

Machinery Row CYCLING
(☎ 608-442-5974; www.machineryrowbicycles.com; 601 Williamson St; rental per day $20; ☀ 9am-9pm Mon-Fri, 9am-7pm Sat, 10am-7pm Sun) It'd be a shame to leave town without taking advantage of the city's 120 miles of bike trails. Get wheels and maps at this shop, located by various trailheads.

🌟 Festivals & Events

World's Largest Brat Fest FOOD
(www.bratfest.com; ☀ late May) FREE More than 209,000 bratwursts go down the hatch; carnival rides and bands provide the backdrop.

Great Taste of the Midwest Beer Festival BEER
(www.greattaste.org; tickets $50; ☀ early Aug) Tickets sell out fast for this festival where 120 craft brewers pour their elixirs.

🏠 Sleeping

Moderately priced motels can be found off I-90/I-94 (about 6 miles from the town center), off Hwy 12/18 and also along Washington Ave.

Hi Madison Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎ 608-441-0144; www.hiusa.org/madison; 141 S Butler St; dm $25-27, r $57-114; 📞 @ 📧) The brightly painted, 33-bed brick house is located on a quiet street a short walk from the State Capitol. Dorms are gender segregated;

WORTH A TRIP

ODDBALL US 12

Unusual sights huddle around US 12, all within an easy northerly day trip from Madison.

Heading west out of town (take University Ave), stop first at the National Mustard Museum (☎ 800-438-6878; www.mustardmuseum.com; 7477 Hubbard Ave; ☀ 10am-5pm) FREE in suburban Middleton. Born of one man's ridiculously intense passion, the building houses 5200 mustards and kooky condiment memorabilia. Tongue-in-cheek humor abounds, especially if CMO (chief mustard officer) Barry Levenson is there to give you the shtick.

About 20 miles further on US 12 is the town of Prairie du Sac. It hosts the annual Cow Chip Throw (www.wisconsinchip.com; ☀ 1st weekend Sep) FREE, where 800 competitors fling dried manure patties as far as the eye can see; the record is 248ft.

Seven miles onward is Dr Evermor's Sculpture Park (www.worldofdrevermor.com; ☀ 11am-5pm Thu-Mon) FREE. The doc welds old pipes, carburetors and other salvaged metal into a hallucinatory world of futuristic birds, dragons and other bizarre structures. The crowning glory is the giant, egg-domed Forevertron, once cited by Guinness World Records as the globe's largest scrap-metal sculpture. Finding the park entrance is tricky. Look for the Badger Army Ammunition Plant, and then a small sign leading you into a driveway across the street.

Baraboo, about 45 miles northwest of Madison, was once the winter home of the Ringling Brothers Circus. Circus World Museum (☎ 608-356-8341; circusworld.wisconsinhistory.org; 550 Water St; adult/child summer $18/8, winter $9/3.50; ☀ 9am-6pm summer, reduced hours winter; 📞) preserves a nostalgic collection of wagons, posters and equipment from the touring big-top heyday. In summer, admission includes clowns, animals and acrobats doing the three-ring thing.

Continue north another 12 miles to the Wisconsin Dells (☎ 800-223-3557; www.wisdells.com; 📞), a megacentr of kitschy diversions, including 21 water parks, water-skiing thrill shows and mini-golf courses. It's a jolting contrast to the natural appeal of the area, with its scenic limestone formations carved by the Wisconsin River. To appreciate the original attraction, take a boat tour or walk the trails at Mirror Lake or Devil's Lake state parks.

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

FISH FRIES &amp; SUPPER CLUBS

Wisconsin has two dining traditions that you'll likely encounter when visiting the state:

Fish Fry Friday is the hallowed day of the 'fish fry.' This communal meal of beer-battered cod, French fries and coleslaw came about years ago, providing locals with a cheap meal to socialize around and celebrate the workweek's end. The convention is still going strong at many bars and restaurants, including Lakefront Brewery (p587) in Milwaukee.

Supper Club This is a type of time-warped restaurant common in the upper Midwest. Supper clubs started in the 1930s, and most retain a retro vibe. Hallmarks include a woodsy location, a radish- and carrot-laden relish tray on the table, a surf-and-turf menu and a mile-long, unironic cocktail list. See www.wisconsinsupperclub.com for more information. The Old Fashioned (p592) in Madison is a modern take on the venue (it's named after the quintessential brandy-laced supper-club drink).

linens are free. There's a kitchen and common room with DVDs. Parking is $7.

★ Arbor House

(☎ 608-238-2981; www.arbor-house.com; 3402 Monroe St; r incl breakfast $135-230; ☎) Arbor House was a tavern back in the mid-1800s. Now it's a wind-powered, energy-efficient-appliance-using, vegetarian-breakfast-serving B&B. It's located about 3 miles southwest of the State Capitol but is accessible by public transportation. The owners will lend you mountain bikes, too.

B&amp;B $$

University Inn

(☎ 800-279-4881, 608-285-8040; www.universitinn.org; 441 N Frances St; r $99-129; ☎) The rooms are fine, though flowery-bedspread dowdy; the inn's greatest asset is its handy location right by State St and university action. Rates are highest at weekends.

HOTEL $$

✂ Eating & Drinking

A global smorgasbord of restaurants peppers State St amid the pizza, sandwich and cheap-beer joints; many places have inviting patios. Cruising Williamson ('Willy') St turns up cafes, dumpling bars and Lao and Thai joints. Bars stay open to 2am. Isthmus (www.thedailypage.com) is the free entertainment paper.

Food Trucks

(mains $1-8; ☎) Madison's fleet impresses. The more traditional ones, serving barbecue, burritos, southwestern-style fare and Chinese food, ring the Capitol. Trucks laddling out more adventurous dishes – East African, Jamaican, Indonesian, vegan – huddle at the foot of State St by the campus.

INTERNATIONAL $

★ The Old Fashioned

(☎ 608-310-4545; www.theoldfashioned.com; 23 N Pinckney St; mains $8-16; ☎ 7:30am-10:30pm Mon & Tue, 7:30am-2am Wed-Fri, 9am-2am Sat, 9am-10pm Sun) With its dark, woodsy decor, the Old Fashioned evokes a supper club, a type of retro eatery that's common in this state. The menu is all Wisconsin specialties, including walleye, cheese soup and sausages. It's hard to choose among the 150 types of state-brewed suds in bottles, so opt for a sampler (four or eight little glasses) from the 30 Wisconsin tap beers. The restaurant also serves $5 breakfast dishes (pancakes, eggs and bacon etc) on weekdays.

AMERICAN $$

Graze

(☎ 608-251-2700; www.grazemadison.com; 1 S Pinckney St; mains $11-21; ☎ 7am-10pm Mon-Wed, 7am-11pm Thu-Sat, 9:30am-3pm Sun) ☎ Set in a glassy building with floor-to-ceiling windows and Capitol views, this green, cool-cat gastropub dishes up comfort foods such as fried chicken and waffles, mussels and frites, and burgers. Breakfast brings fresh-baked pastries, and lunch piles up fat sandwiches with vodka-battered cheese curds.

AMERICAN $$

Himal Chuli

(☎ 608-251-9225; 318 State St; mains $8-15; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon-Thu, 11am-10pm Fri & Sat, noon-8pm Sun; ☎) Cheerful and cozy Himal Chuli serves up homemade Nepali fare, including lots of vegetarian dishes.

ASIAN $$

L'Etoile

(☎ 608-251-0500; www.lettoile-restaurant.com; 1 S Pinckney St; mains $36-44; ☎ from 5:30pm Mon-Fri, from 5pm Sat) ☎ L'Etoile started doing the farm-to-table thing more than three decades ago. It's still the best in the biz, offering creative meat, fish and vegetable dishes, all sourced locally and served in a casually elegant room. Reserve in advance. The chef also runs Graze, the lower-priced, sustainably focused eatery that shares the building.

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

Memorial Union

(www.union.wisc.edu/venue-muterrace.htm; 800 Langdon St; ☺ 7am Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ☎) The campus Union is Madison's gathering spot. The festive lakeside terrace pours microbrews and hosts free live music and free Monday-night films, while the indoor ice-cream shop scoops hulking cones from the university dairy.

PUB

Shopping

Fromagination

FOOD

(☎ 608-255-2430; www.fromagination.com; 12 S Carroll St; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 8am-5pm Sat, 11am-4pm Sun) The state's best cheese shop specializes in small-batch and hard-to-find local hunks. Browse the basket of 'orphans' by the cash register, where you can buy small quantities for $2 to $5. The shop also sells sandwiches, beer and wine.

Information

Madison Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.visitmadison.com)

Getting There & Around

Badger Bus (www.badgerbus.com) uses Memorial Union as its pick-up/drop-off point for trips to Milwaukee ($19, two hours), as does Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) for trips to Chicago (four hours) and Minneapolis (4½ hours).

Taliesin & Southern Wisconsin

This part of Wisconsin has some of the prettiest landscapes in the state, particularly the hilly southwest. Architecture fans can be unleashed at Taliesin, the Frank Lloyd Wright ubersight, and Racine, where two of his other works stand. Dairies around here cut a lot of cheese.

Racine

Racine is an unremarkable industrial town 30 miles south of Milwaukee, but it has two key Frank Lloyd Wright sights, both of which offer tours that must be prebooked. The first, the Johnson Wax Company

Administration Building (☎ 262-260-2154; www.scjohnson.com/visit; 1525 Howe St; ☺ Fri & Sat) FREE, dates from 1939 and is a magnificent space with tall, flared columns. There are three tour options, ranging from one hour to 3½ hours; departure times vary. The second is the lakeside Wingspread (☎ 262-681-3353; www.johnsonfdn.org; 33 E Four Mile Rd; ☺ 9:30am-2:30pm Tue-Fri) FREE, the last and largest of Wright's Prairie houses. Tours take 45 minutes.

Green County

This pastoral area holds the nation's greatest concentration of cheesemakers, and Green County Tourism (www.greencounty.org) will introduce you to them. Monroe is a fine place to start sniffing. Follow your nose to Roth Käse (657 2nd St; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun), a store and factory where you can watch cheesemakers in action from the observation deck (weekday mornings only) and delve into the 'bargain bin' for hunks. Bite into a fresh limburger-and-raw-onion sandwich at Baumgartner's (www.baumgartnercheese.com; 1023 16th Ave; sandwiches $4-7; ☺ 8am-11pm), an old Swiss tavern on the town square. At night, catch a flick at the local drive-in movie theater, and then climb into bed at Inn Serendipity (☎ 608-329-7056; www.innserendipity.com; 7843 County Rd P; r incl breakfast $110-125), a two-room, wind-and-solar-powered B&B on a 5-acre organic farm in Browntown, about 10 miles west of Monroe.

For more on local dairy producers and plant tours, pick up, or download, A Traveler's Guide to America's Dairyland (www.eatwisconsincheese.com) map.

Spring Green

Forty miles west of Madison and 3 miles south of the small town of Spring Green, Taliesin was the home of Frank Lloyd Wright for most of his life and is the site of his architectural school. It's now a major pilgrimage destination for fans and followers. The house was built in 1903, the Hillside Home School in 1932, and the visitor center (☎ 608-588-7900; www.taliesinpreservation.org; Hwy 23; ☺ 9am-5:30pm May-Oct) in 1953. A wide range of guided tours ($16 to $80) cover various parts of the complex; reserve in advance for the lengthier ones. The one-hour Hillside Tour ($16) provides a nice introduction to Wright's work.

A few miles south of Taliesin is the House on the Rock (☎608-935-3639; www.thehouseontherock.com; 5754 Hwy 23; adult/child $12.50/7.50; ☼9am-6pm May-Aug, to 5pm Aug-mid-Nov & mid-Mar-May, closed mid-Nov-mid-Mar), one of Wisconsin's busiest attractions. Alex Jordan built the structure atop a rock column in 1959 (some say as an 'up yours' to neighbor Frank Lloyd Wright). He then stuffed the house to mind-blowing proportions with wonderments, including the world's largest carousel, whirring music machines, freaky dolls and crazed folk art. The house is broken into three parts, each with its own tour. Visitors with stamina (and about four hours to kill) can experience the whole shebang for adult/child $28.50/15.50.

Spring Green has a B&B in town and six motels strung along Hwy 14, north of town. Small Usonian Inn (☎877-876-6426; www.usonianinn.com; E 5116 Hwy 14; r $85-135; ☼☎) was designed by a Wright student. Check www.springgreen.com for more options.

Chomp sandwiches or inventive specials like sweet-potato stew at Spring Green General Store (www.springgreengeneralstore.com; 137 S Albany St; mains $5-8; ☼9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 8am-6pm Sat, 8am-4pm Sun).

The American Players Theatre (☎608-588-2361; www.americanplayers.org) stages classical productions at an outdoor amphitheater by the Wisconsin River.

Along the Mississippi River

The Mississippi River forms most of Wisconsin's western border, and alongside it run some of the most scenic sections of the Great River Road (www.wigreatriverroad.org) – the designated route that follows Old Man River from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico.

From Madison, head west on US 18. You'll hit the River Rd (aka Hwy 35) at Prairie du Chien. North of town, the hilly riverside wends through the scene of the final battle in the bloody Black Hawk War. Historic markers tell part of the story, which finished at the Battle of Bad Ax when Native American men, women and children were massacred trying to flee across the Mississippi.

At Genoa, Hwy 56 leads inland for 20 miles to the trout-fishing mecca of Viroqua (www.viroquatourism.com), a pretty little town surrounded by organic farms and distinctive round barns. Pop into Viroqua Food Cooperative (www.viroquafood.coop; 609 Main St; ☼7am-9pm) to meet farmers and munch their wares.

Back riverside and 18 miles upstream, La Crosse (www.explorelacrosse.com) has a historic center with restaurants and pubs. Grandad Bluff offers grand views of the river. It's east of town along Main St (which becomes Bliss Rd); follow Bliss Rd up the hill and then turn right on Grandad Bluff Rd. The World's Largest Six-Pack (3rd St S) is also in town. The 'cans' are actually storage tanks for City Brewery and hold enough beer to provide one person with a six-pack a day for 3351 years (or so the sign says).

Door County & Eastern Wisconsin

Rocky, lighthouse-dotted Door County draws crowds in summer, while Green Bay draws crazed football fans in the freakin' freezing winter.

Green Bay

Green Bay (www.greenbay.com) is a modest industrial town best known as the fabled 'frozen tundra' where the Green Bay Packers win Super Bowls. The franchise is unique as the only community-owned nonprofit team in the NFL; perhaps pride in ownership is what makes the fans so die-hard (and also makes them wear foam-rubber cheese wedges on their heads).

While tickets are nearly impossible to obtain, you can always get into the spirit by joining a pre-game tailgate party. The generous flow of alcohol has led to Green Bay's reputation as a 'drinking town with a football problem.' On nongame days, visit the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame (☎920-569-7512; www.lambeaufield.com; adult/child $10/5; ☼9am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun) at Lambeau Field, which is indeed packed with memorabilia and movies that'll intrigue any pigskin fan.

The National Railroad Museum (☎920-437-7623; www.nationalrrmuseum.org; 2285 S Broadway; adult/child $9/6.50; ☼9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun, closed Mon Jan-Mar) features some of the biggest locomotives ever to haul freight into Green Bay's vast yards; train rides ($2) are offered in summer.

Bare-bones Bay Motel (☎920-494-3441; www.baymotelgreenbay.com; 1301 S Military Ave; r $52-75; ☼) is located a mile from Lambeau Field. Hinterland (☎920-438-8050; www.hinterlandbeer.com; 313 Dousman St; ☺ from 4pm Mon-Sat) gastropub brings a touch of rustic swankiness to beer drinkers.

Door County

With its rocky coastline, picturesque light-houses, cherry orchards and small 19th-century villages, you have to admit that Door County is pretty damn lovely. The area spreads across a narrow peninsula jutting 75 miles into Lake Michigan, and visitors usually loop around on the county's two highways. Hwy 57 runs beside Lake Michigan and goes through Jacksonport and Baileys Harbor; this is known as the more scenic 'quiet side.' Hwy 42 borders Green Bay and passes through (from south to north) Egg Harbor, Fish Creek, Ephraim and Sister Bay; this side is more action oriented. Only about half the businesses stay open from November to April.

👁 Sights & Activities

Parkland blankets the county. Bayside Peninsula State Park is the largest, with bluffside hiking and biking trails and Nicolet Beach for swimming, kayaking and sailing (equipment rentals available on site). In winter, cross-country skiers and snowshoers take over the trails. On the lake side, secluded Newport State Park offers trails, backcountry camping and solitude. Whitefish Dunes State Park has sandscapes and a wide beach (beware of riptides). Adjacent Cave Point Park is known for its sea caves and kayaking.

Bay Shore Outfitters

OUTDOORS

(☎920-854-9220; www.kayakdoorcounty.com; Sister Bay) Rents kayaks, stand-up paddleboards and winter gear and offers tours from locations in Sister Bay and Ephraim.

Nor Door Sport & Cyclery

OUTDOORS

(☎920-868-2275; www.nordoorsports.com; Fish Creek) Nor Door rents bikes and snow shoes near the entrance to Peninsula State Park.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

The bay side has the most lodgings. Prices listed are for July and August, the peak season; many places have minimum-stay requirements. Local restaurants often host a 'fish boil,' a regional specialty started by Scandinavian lumberjacks, in which whitefish, potatoes and onions are cooked in a fiery cauldron. Finish with Door's famous cherry pie.

Julie's Park Cafe and Motel

MOTEL $

(☎920-868-2999; www.juliesmotel.com; Fish Creek; r $85-106; ♿ ☺) A great low-cost option located beside Peninsula State Park.

Peninsula State Park

CAMPGROUND $

(☎920-868-3258; Fish Creek; tent & RV sites $15-17) Holds nearly 500 amenity-laden campsites.

Egg Harbor Lodge

INN $$

(☎920-868-3115; www.eggharborlodge.com; Egg Harbor; r $160-200; ♿ ☺ ☹) All rooms have a water view and free bike use.

Village Cafe

AMERICAN $

(☎920-868-3342; www.villagecafe-doorcounty.com; Egg Harbor; mains $7-10; ☺ 7am-8pm; ♿) Delicious all-day breakfast dishes, plus sandwiches and burgers.

Wild Tomato

PIZZERIA $$

(☎920-868-3095; www.wildtomatopizza.com; Fish Creek; mains $8-15; ☺ 11am-10pm) Join the crowds indoors and out munching pizzas from the stone, wood-fired ovens. A lengthy list of craft beers help wash it down. It's extremely gluten-free friendly.

📍 Information

Door County Visitors Bureau (☎800-527-3529; www.doorcounty.com) Special-interest brochures on art galleries, cycling and light-houses.

WORTH A TRIP

WASHINGTON ISLAND & ROCK ISLAND

From Door County's tip near Gills Rock, daily ferries (☎920-847-2546; www.wisferry.com; Northport Pier) go every half hour to Washington Island (round-trip adult/child/bike/car $13/7/4/26), which has 700 Scandinavian descendants, a couple of museums, beaches, bike rentals and carefree roads for cycling. Accommodations and camping are available. More remote is lovely Rock Island, a state park with no cars or bikes at all. It's a wonderful place for hiking, swimming and camping. Get there via the Karfi ferry (www.wisferry.com), which departs Jackson Harbor on Washington Island (round-trip adult/child $11/5).

Apostle Islands & Northern Wisconsin

The north is a thinly populated region of forests and lakes, where folks paddle and fish in summer; and ski and snowmobile in winter. The windswept Apostle Islands steal the show.

Northwoods & Lakelands

Nicolet National Forest is a vast wooded district ideal for outdoor activities. The simple crossroads of Langlade is a center for white-water river adventures. Bear Paw Resort (☎ 715-882-3502; www.bearpawoutdoors.com; cabins $72-85; 🏠) rents mountain bikes and kayaks, and provides full-day paddling lessons that include a trip on the river (per person $99). It also provides cozy cabins where you can dry off, get warm and celebrate your accomplishments in the on-site pub.

North on Hwy 13, folk artist and retired lumberjack Fred Smith's Concrete Park (www.friendsoffredsmith.org; ☀ sunrise-sunset) FREE in Phillips is extraordinary, with 200-plus whimsical life-size sculptures.

West on Hwy 70, Chequamegon National Forest offers exceptional mountain biking with 300 miles of off-road trails. The Chequamegon Area Mountain Bike Association (www.cambatrails.org) has trail maps and bike rental information. The season culminates in mid-September with the Chequamegon Fat Tire Festival (www.cheqfatfitter.com), when 1700 strong-legged men and women pedal 40 grueling miles through the woods. The town of Hayward (www.haywardareachamber.com) makes a good base.

Apostle Islands

The 21 rugged Apostle Islands, floating in Lake Superior and freckling Wisconsin's northern tip, are a state highlight. Jump off from Bayfield (www.bayfield.org), a humming resort town with hilly streets, Victorian-era buildings, apple orchards and nary a fast-food restaurant in sight.

The Apostle Islands National Lakeshore visitors center (☎ 715-779-3397; www.nps.gov/apis; 410 Washington Ave; ☀ 8am-4:30pm daily Jun-Sep, Mon-Fri Oct-May) has camping permits (per night $10) and paddling and hiking information. The forested islands have no facilities, and walking is the only way to get around.

SCENIC DRIVE: HIGHWAY 13

After departing Bayfield, Hwy 13 takes a fine route around the Lake Superior shore, past the Ojibwa community of Red Cliff and the Apostle Islands' mainland segment, which has a beach. Tiny Cornucopia, looking every bit like a seaside village, has great sunsets. The road runs on through a timeless countryside of forest and farm, reaching US 2 for the final miles back to civilization at Superior.

Various companies offer seasonal boat trips around the islands, and kayaking is very popular. Try Living Adventure (☎ 715-779-9503; www.livingadventure.com; Hwy 13; half-/full-day tour $59/99; ☀ Jun-Sep) for a guided paddle through arches and sea caves; beginners are welcome. If you prefer a motor to power your explorations, climb aboard a vessel with Apostle Islands Cruises (☎ 715-779-3925; www.apostleisland.com; ☀ mid-May-mid-Oct). The 'grand tour' departs at 10am from Bayfield's City Dock for a three-hour narrated trip past sea caves and lighthouses (adult/child $40/24). A glass-bottom boat goes out to view shipwrecks at 2pm.

Inhabited Madeline Island (www.madelineisland.com), a fine day trip, is reached by a 20-minute ferry (☎ 715-747-2051; www.madferry.com) from Bayfield (round-trip adult/child/bicycle/car $13/7/7/24). Its walkable village of La Pointe has some mid-priced places to stay, and restaurants. Bus tours are available, and you can rent bikes and mopeds – everything is near the ferry dock. Big Bay State Park (☎ 715-747-6425; tent & RV sites $15-17, vehicle $10) has a beach and trails.

Back in Bayfield, there are loads of B&Bs and inns, but reserve ahead in summer; see www.bayfield.org for options. Most rooms at no-frills Seagull Bay Motel (☎ 715-779-5558; www.seagullbay.com; 325 S 7th St; r $75-105; 🏠) have decks; ask for a lake view. Going upscale, Pinehurst Inn (☎ 877-499-7651; www.pinehurstinn.com; 83645 Hwy 13; r incl breakfast $139-229; 🏠) is a carbon-neutral, solar-heated, eight-room B&B.

Ecoconscious Big Water Cafe (www.bigwatercoffee.com; 117 Rittenhouse Ave; mains $5-10; ☀ 6:30am-7pm summer, to 4pm winter) serves sandwiches, local farmstead cheeses and area microbrews. Kitschy, flamingo-themed Maggie's (☎715-779-5641; www.maggies-bayfield.com; 257 Manyenny Ave; mains $7-16; ☺11:30am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) is the place to sample local lake trout and whitefish; there are pizza and burgers too.

The Big Top Chautauqua (☎888-244-8368; www.bigtop.org) is a major regional summer event that includes big-name concerts and musical theater.

MINNESOTA

Is Minnesota really the land of 10,000 lakes, as it's so often advertised? You betcha. Actually, in typically modest style, the state has undermarketed itself – there are 11,842 lakes. Which is great news for travelers. Intrepid outdoorsfolk can wet their paddles in the Boundary Waters, where nighttime brings a blanket of stars and the lullaby of wolf howls. Those wanting to get further off the beaten path can journey to Voyageurs National Park, where there's more water than roadway. If that all seems too far-flung, stick to the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St Paul, where you can't swing a moose without hitting something cool or cultural. And for those looking for middle ground – a cross between the big city and big woods – the dramatic, freighter-filled port of Duluth beckons.

i Information

Minnesota Highway Conditions (☎511; www.511mn.org)

Minnesota Office of Tourism (☎888-868-7476; www.exploreminnesota.com)

Minnesota State Park Information (☎888-646-6367; www.dnr.state.mn.us) Park entry requires a vehicle permit (per day/year $5/25). Campsites cost $12 to $28; reservations (☎866-857-2757; www.stayatmnparks.com; fee $8.50) accepted.

Minneapolis

Minneapolis is the biggest and artiest town on the prairie, with all the trimmings of progressive prosperity – swank art museums, rowdy rock clubs, organic and ethnic eateries and edgy theaters. It's always happenin', even in winter. But there's no attitude to go along with the abundance. It's the kind of place where homeless people are treated kindly at coffee shops, where the buses are kept immaculately clean, and where public workers tell everyone to 'Have a nice day' come rain or shine (or snow). The city is 'Minnesota Nice' in action.

History

Timber was the city's first boom industry, and water-powered sawmills rose along the Mississippi River in the mid-1800s. Wheat from the prairies also needed to be processed, so flour mills churned into the next big business. The population boomed in the late 19th century with mass immigration, especially from Scandinavia and Germany. Today Minneapolis' Nordic heritage is evident, whereas twin city St Paul is more German and Irish-Catholic.

👁 Sights & Activities

The Mississippi River flows northeast of downtown. Despite the name, Uptown is actually southwest of downtown, with Hennepin Ave as its main axis. Minneapolis' twin city, St Paul, is 10 miles east.

Most attractions are closed Monday; many stay open late on Thursday.

MINNESOTA FACTS

Nicknames North Star State, Gopher State

Population 5.4 million

Area 86,940 sq miles

Capital city St Paul (population 291,000)

Other cities Minneapolis (population 393,000)

Sales tax 6.88%

Birthplace of Author F Scott Fitzgerald (1896–1940), songwriter Bob Dylan (b 1941), filmmakers Joel Coen (b 1954) and Ethan Coen (b 1957)

Home of Lumberjack legend Paul Bunyan, Spam, walleye fish, Hmong and Somali immigrants

Politics Leans Democratic

Famous for Niceness, funny accents, snowy weather, 10,000 lakes

Official muffin Blueberry

Driving distances Minneapolis to Duluth 153 miles, Minneapolis to Boundary Waters 245 miles

📍 Downtown & Loring Park

Nicollet Mall

STREET

Nicollet Mall is the pedestrian-friendly portion of Nicollet Ave in the heart of downtown, and is dense with stores, bars and restaurants. It's perhaps most famous as the spot where Mary Tyler Moore of '70s TV fame threw her hat into the air during the show's opening sequence. A cheesy MTM statue (7th St S & Nicollet Mall) depicts our girl doing just that. A farmers market (www.mplsfarmersmarket.com; ☀️6am-6pm) takes over the mall on Thursdays from May to November.

★ Minneapolis Sculpture Garden

GARDENS

(726 Vineland Pl; ☀️6am-midnight) FREE The 11-acre garden, studded with contemporary works such as the oft-photographed Spoonbridge & Cherry by Claes Oldenburg, sits beside the Walker Art Center. The Cowles Conservatory, abloom with exotic hothouse flowers, is also on the grounds. The garden connects to attractive Loring Park by a sculptural pedestrian bridge over I-94.

★ Walker Art Center

MUSEUM

(☎️612-375-7622; www.walkerart.org; 725 Vineland Pl; adult/child $12/free, Thu evening & 1st Sat of month admission free; ☀️11am-5pm Tue, Wed & Fri-Sun, to 9pm Thu) The first-class center has a strong permanent collection of 20th-century art and photography, including big-name US painters and great US pop art.

📍 Riverfront District

At the north edge of downtown at the foot of Portland Ave is the St Anthony Falls Heritage Trail, a recommended 2-mile path that provides both interesting history (placards dot the route) and the city's best access to the banks of the Mississippi River. View the cascading St Anthony Falls from the car-free Stone Arch Bridge. On the north side of the river, Main St SE has a stretch of redeveloped buildings housing restaurants and bars. From here you can walk down to Water Power Park and feel the river's frothy spray. Pick up a free trail map at the Mill City Museum.

Definitely head next door to the cobalt-blue Guthrie Theater (p603) and make your way up to its Endless Bridge, a cantilevered walkway overlooking the river. You don't need a theater ticket, as it's intended as a public space - though see a show if you can as the Guthrie is one of the Mid-west's finest companies. Gold Medal Park spirals next door.

Mill City Museum

MUSEUM

(☎️612-341-7555; www.millcitymuseum.org; 704 2nd St S; adult/child $11/6; ☀️10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun, open daily Jul & Aug) The building is indeed a former mill, and highlights include a ride inside an eight-story grain elevator (the 'Flour Tower'), Betty Crocker exhibits and a baking lab. It's not terribly exciting unless you're really into milling history. The Mill City Farmer's Market (www.millcityfarmersmarket.org; ☀️8am-1pm Sat mid-May-late Oct) takes place in the museum's attached train shed; cooking demos fire up at 10am.

📍 Northeast

Once a working-class Eastern European neighborhood, Northeast (so named because of its position to the river) is where urbanites and artists now work and play. They appreciate the dive bars pouring microbrews along with Pabst, and the boutiques selling ecogifts next to companies grinding sausage. Hundreds of craftsfolk and galleries fill historic industrial buildings. They fling open their doors the first Thursday of each month when the Northeast Minneapolis Arts Association (www.nemaa.org) sponsors a gallery walk. Heady streets include 4th St NE and 13th Ave NE.

📍 University Area

The University of Minnesota, by the river southeast of Minneapolis' center, is one of the USA's largest campuses, with over 50,000 students. Most of the campus is in the East Bank neighborhood. Dinkytown, based at 14th Ave SE and 4th St SE, is dense with student cafes and bookshops. A small part of the university is on the West Bank of the Mississippi River, near the intersection of 4th St S and Riverside Ave. This area has a few restaurants, some student hang-outs and a big Somali community.

★ Weisman Art Museum

MUSEUM

(☎️612-625-9494; www.weisman.umn.edu; 333 E River Rd; ☀️10am-5pm Tue-Fri, to 8pm Wed, 11am-5pm Sat & Sun) FREE The Weisman, which occupies a swooping silver structure by architect Frank Gehry, is a uni (and city) highlight. It recently reopened with double the space and five new, airy galleries for American art, ceramics and works on paper.

Minneapolis

Minneapolis

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Endless Bridge .....E2
- 2 Minneapolis Sculpture Garden.....A3
- 3 Walker Art Center .....A4
- 4 Weisman Art Museum.....G3

📍 Sights

- 5 Mill City Farmer's Market .....E2
- Mill City Museum .....(see 5)
- 6 Nicollet Mall .....C2

🛏 Sleeping

- 7 Aloft .....E3
- 8 Wales House .....G2

🍴 Eating

- 9 Al's Breakfast .....G2
- 10 Bar La Grassa .....C1

- 11 Butcher & the Boar .....B3
- 12 Hell's Kitchen .....C3

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 13 Brit's Pub .....C3
- 14 Fulton Beer .....B1

🎭 Entertainment

- 15 Brave New Workshop Theatre .....C3
- 16 First Avenue & 7th St Entry.....C2
- 17 Gay Nineties .....C2
- 18 Guthrie Theater .....E2
- 19 Hubert H Humphrey Metrodome.....E3
- 20 Lee's Liquor Lounge .....B2
- 21 Nye's Polonaise Room.....E1
- 22 Orchestra Hall.....C3
- 23 Target Center.....C2
- 24 Target Field .....C2
- 25 Triple Rock Social Club.....F4

👁 Uptown, Lyn-Lake & Whittier

These three neighborhoods are south of downtown.

Uptown, based around the intersection of Hennepin Ave and Lake St, is a punk-yuppie collision of shops and restaurants that stays lively until late. Lyn-Lake abuts Uptown to the east and sports a similar urban-cool vibe; it's centered on Lyndale and Lake Sts. (Get the name?)

Uptown is a convenient jump-off point to the 'Chain of Lakes' – Lake Calhoun, Lake of the Isles, Lake Harriet, Cedar Lake and Brownie Lake. Paved cycling paths (which double as cross-country ski trails in winter) meander around the five lakes, where you can go boating in summer or ice skating in winter.

Lake Calhoun sits at the foot of Lake St, where there are amenities galore. Further around Lake Calhoun, Thomas Beach is popular for swimming. Cedar Lake's freewheeling Hidden Beach (aka East Cedar Beach) used to bring out the nudists, though it's mostly clothed folks lolling about these days.

Minneapolis Institute of Arts MUSEUM
 (📞 612-870-3131; www.artsmia.org; 2400 3rd Ave S; 🕒 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, 10am-9pm Thu, 11am-5pm Sun) FREE This museum is a huge treasure trove housing a veritable history of art. The modern and contemporary collections astonish, while the Prairie School and Asian galleries are also highlights. Brochures at the front desk can help you winnow it down to the must-sees if you're short on time. The museum is 1 mile due south of the convention center via 3rd Ave S.

Calhoun Rental CYCLING
 (📞 612-827-8231; www.calhounbikere.com; 1622 W Lake St; per half/full day $25/35; 🕒 10am-7pm Mon-Fri, 9am-8pm Sat, 10am-8pm Sun Apr-Oct) In Uptown, a couple blocks west of Lake

MINNEAPOLIS FOR CHILDREN

Note that many of the other top sights for wee ones are in St Paul, at the Mall of America and Fort Snelling.

Minnesota Zoo (📞952-431-9500; www.mnzoo.org; 13000 Zoo Blvd; adult/child $18/12; ☀️9am-6pm summer, to 4pm winter; 🚗) You'll have to travel a way to get to the respected zoo in suburban Apple Valley, which is 20 miles south of town. It has naturalistic habitats for its 400-plus species, with an emphasis on cold-climate creatures. Parking is $7.

Valleyfair (📞952-445-7600; www.valleyfair.com; 1 Valleyfair Dr; adult/child $44/30; ☀️10am daily mid-May–Aug, Sat & Sun only Sep & Oct, closing times vary; 🚗) If the rides at the Mall of America aren't enough, drive out to this full-scale amusement park 25 miles southwest in Shakopee. The animatronic dinosaur park ($5 extra) is a big hit. Save money by booking tickets online. Parking costs $12.

Children's Theatre Company (📞612-874-0400; www.childrenstheatre.org; 2400 3rd Ave S; 🚗) So good it won a Tony award for 'outstanding regional theater.'

Calhoun, this shop rents bikes (helmet, lock and bike map included); credit card and driver's license are required. It also offers two- to four-hour cycling tours ($39 to $49) around the water Friday through Sunday; reserve in advance.

Lake Calhoun Kiosk WATER SPORTS (📞612-823-5765; base of Lake St; per hr $11-18; ☀️10am-8pm daily late May-Aug, Sat & Sun only Sep & Oct) The kiosk, at the foot of Lake St, rents canoes, kayaks, bikes and pedal boats. It's a busy spot as there's also a patio restaurant and sailing school here.

★ Festivals & Events

Art-A-Whirl MUSIC (www.nemaa.org; ☀️mid-May) The Northeast's weekend-long, rock-and-roll gallery crawl heralds the arrival of spring.

Minneapolis Aquatennial CULTURAL (www.aquatennial.com; ☀️mid-Jul) Ten days celebrating the ubiquitous lakes via parades, beach bashes and fireworks.

Holidazzle CULTURAL (www.holidazzle.com; ☀️Dec) Parades, lights and lots of good cheer downtown throughout December.

🛏 Sleeping

B&Bs offer the best value – they have budget prices but are solidly midrange in quality. Tax adds 13.4% to prices.

Wales House B&B $ (📞612-331-3931; www.waleshouse.com; 1115 5th St SE; r incl breakfast $80, without bath $70; 🚗🚰🚰) This cheery 10-bedroom B&B often houses scholars from the nearby University of Minnesota. Curl up with a book on the porch, or lounge by the fireplace. A two-night minimum stay is required.

Evelo's B&B B&B $ (📞612-374-9656; 2301 Bryant Ave S; r without bath incl breakfast $75-95; 🚗) Evelo's three rooms creak and charm in this polished-wood-filled Victorian home. They're close quartered, but the B&B's strategic location between the Walker Art Center and Uptown compensates.

Minneapolis International Hostel HOSTEL $ (📞612-522-5000; www.minneapolishostel.com; 2400 Stevens Ave S; dm $28-34, r from $60; 🚗🚰🚰) A cool old building with antique furniture and wood floors, and the location beside the Minneapolis Institute of Arts is excellent. But it's also not very well tended. The rooms come in a variety of configurations, from a 15-bed male dorm to private rooms with en suite bath.

Aloft HOTEL $$ (📞612-455-8400; www.aloft-hotels.com/minneapolis; 900 Washington Ave S; r $139-189; 🚗🚰🚰) Aloft's compact, efficiently designed, industrial-toned rooms draw a younger clientele. The clubby lobby has board games, a cocktail lounge and 24-hour snacks. There's a tiny pool and decent fitness room. Parking costs $15.

🍴 Eating

Minneapolis has ripened into a rich dining scene known for its many restaurants that use local, sustainable ingredients.

Downtown & Northeast

Nicollet Mall is loaded with eateries.

Hell's Kitchen

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 612-332-4700; www.hellskitcheninc.com; 80 9th St S; mains $10-20; ☺ 6:30am-10pm Mon-Fri, from 7:30am Sat & Sun; ☎) Descend the stairs to Hell's devilish lair, where spirited waitstaff bring you uniquely Minnesotan foods, like the walleye bacon-lettuce-tomato sandwich, bison burger and lemon-ricotta hotcakes. It morphs from a restaurant into a club with DJs late on weekend nights. Upstairs there's a delicious bakery and coffee shop.

Butcher & the Boar

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 612-238-8887; www.butcherandtheboar.com; 1121 Hennepin Ave; mains $25-32; ☺ 5pm-midnight; ☎) The coppery, candlelit room is carnivore nirvana. Get your carving knife ready for wild-boar ham with country butter, rabbit pate with pickled cherries, chicken-fried veal sausage and many more house-crafted meats. Sampler plates are the way to go. The 30 taps flow with regional brews, backed up by a lengthy bourbon list. Reservations essential.

Bar La Grassa

ITALIAN $$$

(☎ 612-333-3837; www.barlagrassa.com; 800 Washington Ave N; pasta $12-24, mains $16-35; ☺ 5pm-midnight Mon-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun) Chef Isaac Becker won the 2011 James Beard award for 'best in the midwest,' so expect great things from the small plates menu of fresh pastas, bruschetta and secondi.

University Area

Low-priced eateries cluster in the campus area by Washington Ave and Oak St.

Al's Breakfast

BREAKFAST $

(☎ 612-331-9991; 413 14th Ave SE; mains $4-8; ☺ 6am-1pm Mon-Sat, 9am-1pm Sun) The ultimate hole in the wall: 14 stools at a tiny counter. Whenever a customer comes in, everyone picks up their plates and scoots down to make room for the newcomer. Fruit-full pancakes are the big crowd-pleaser. Cash only.

Uptown, Lyn-Lake & Whittier

Vietnamese, Greek, African and other ethnic restaurants line Nicollet Ave S between Franklin Ave (near the Minneapolis Institute of Arts) and 28th St – the stretch is known as 'Eat Street.' Lake St in Uptown is a rich vein for stylish bars and cafes.

★ Bryant-Lake Bowl

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 612-825-3737; www.bryantlakebowl.com; 810 W Lake St; mains $9-14; ☺ 8am-12:30am; ☎) A workingman's bowling alley meets epicurean food at the BLB. Biscuit-and-gravy breakfasts, artisanal cheese plates, mock-duck rolls and cornmeal-crustwed walleye strips melt in the mouth. A long list of local beers washes it all down. The on-site theater always has something intriguing and odd going on too.

Peninsula

ASIAN $$

(☎ 612-871-8282; www.peninsulamalaysiancuisine.com; 2608 Nicollet Ave S; mains $9-15; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☎) Malaysian dishes – including achar (tangy vegetable salad in peanut dressing), red-curry hot pot, spicy crab and fish in banana leaves – rock the palate in this contemporary restaurant.

Drinking

Bars stay open until 2am. Happy hour typically lasts from 3pm to 6pm.

Brit's Pub

PUB

(www.britspub.com; 1110 Nicollet Mall; ☺ from 11am) A lawn-bowling green on the roof, plus Brit's sweeping selection of Scotch, port and beer, are sure to unleash skills you never knew you had.

GAY & LESBIAN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis has one of the country's highest percentages of gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender (GLBT) residents, and the city enjoys strong GLBT rights. The Minneapolis Convention & Visitors Association (p604) has a comprehensive website for events, nightlife, news and attractions. Or pick up the free biweekly magazine Lavender (www.lavendermagazine.com) at coffee shops around town.

For nightlife, Gay Nineties (www.gay90s.com; 408 Hennepin Ave S) has dancing, dining and drag shows that attract both gay and straight clientele. Wildie Roast Cafe (www.wildieroastcafe.com; 65 Main St SE; ☺ 7am-11pm Mon-Sat, to 8pm Sun) features amazing baked goods, riverfront digs and a Victorian ambience worthy of its namesake, Oscar Wilde; it was ranked 'best cafe' by Lavender.

The Pride Festival (www.tcpride.com; ☺ late Jun), one of the USA's largest, draws about 400,000 revelers.

TAP ROOM BOOM

In 2011 Minnesota passed a law that allowed brewers to open tap rooms on site, and since then the concept has exploded throughout the Twin Cities. Excellent ones to try for beer fresh from the tank:

Fulton Beer (www.fultonbeer.com; 414 6th Ave N; ☎ 3-10pm Wed-Fri, noon-10pm Sat) There's usually a fab pale ale and red ale among the selection that you sip at communal picnic tables in the warehouse. It's a few blocks from the baseball stadium and fills up on game days. Food trucks hang out in front.

Dangerous Man Brewing (www.dangerousmanbrewing.com; 1300 2nd St NE; ☎ 4-10pm Tue-Thu, 3pm-midnight Fri, noon-midnight Sat) Pours strong, European-style beers. You're welcome to bring in your own food. It's one of many tap rooms colonizing the Northeast neighborhood.

Surly Brewing (www.surlybrewing.com; Malcolm Ave & 5th St SE) One of the biggest brewers, and it's not kidding around: it hired the architects who designed the Guthrie Theater to build a huge brewery and bar in southeast Minneapolis' Prospect Park neighborhood. It's scheduled to open in 2014.

Grumpy's

BAR

(www.grumpys-bar.com/northeast; 2200 4th St NE; ☎ from 2pm Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat & Sun) Grumpy's is the Northeast's classic dive, with cheap (but good) beer and an outdoor patio. Sample the specialty 'hot dish' on Tuesdays for $1.

Entertainment

With its large student population and thriving performing-arts scene, Minneapolis has an active nightlife. Check Vita.MN and City Pages for current goings on.

Live Music

Minneapolis rocks; everyone's in a band, it seems. Acts such as Prince and post-punkers Hüsker Dü and the Replacements cut their teeth here.

First Avenue & 7th St Entry

LIVE MUSIC

(www.first-avenue.com; 701 1st Ave N) This is the bedrock of Minneapolis' music scene, and it still pulls in top bands and big crowds. Check out the exterior stars; they're all bands that have graced the stage.

Nye's Polonaise Room

LIVE MUSIC

(www.nyepolonaise.com; 112 E Hennepin Ave) The World's Most Dangerous Polka Band lets loose Friday and Saturday. It's smashing fun, and enhanced if you find yourself an old-timer to twirl you around the room.

Triple Rock Social Club

LIVE MUSIC

(www.triplerocksocialclub.com; 629 Cedar Ave) Triple Rock is a popular punk-alternative club.

Lee's Liquor Lounge

LIVE MUSIC

(www.leesliquorlounge.com; 101 Glenwood Ave) Rockabilly and country-tinged alt bands twang here.

Theater & Performing Arts

The city hosts a vibrant theater scene. The neon-lit Hennepin Theater District (www.hennepintheatretrust.org) consists of several historic venues on Hennepin Ave between 6th and 10th Sts that host big touring shows.

Guthrie Theater

THEATER

(☎ 612-377-2224; www.guthrietheater.org; 818 2nd St S) This is Minneapolis' top-gun theater troupe, with the jumbo facility to prove it. Unsold 'rush' tickets go on sale 30 minutes before showtime for $15 to $35 (cash only). Download free audio tours from the website for self-guided jaunts around the funky building.

Brave New Workshop Theatre

THEATER

(☎ 612-332-6620; www.bravenewworkshop.com; 824 Hennepin Ave) An established venue for musical comedy, revue and satire.

Orchestra Hall

CLASSICAL

(☎ 612-371-5656; www.minnesotaorchestra.org; 1111 Nicollet Mall) Superb acoustics for concerts by the acclaimed Minnesota Symphony Orchestra.

Sports

Minnesotans love their sports teams. Note that ice hockey happens in St Paul.

Target Field

(www.minnesotatwins.com; 3rd Ave N btwn 5th & 7th Sts N) The new stadium for the Twins pro baseball team is notable for its beyond-the-norm, locally focused food and drink.

Hubert H Humphrey Metrodome FOOTBALL (www.vikings.com; 900 5th St S) The Vikings pro football team passes in the marshmallow-like 'Dome.

Target Center

(www.nba.com/timberwolves; 600 1st Ave N) This is where the Timberwolves pro basketball team plays.

i Information

City Pages (www.citypages.com) Weekly entertainment freebie.

Fairview/University of Minnesota Medical Center (☎ 612-273-6402; 2450 Riverside Ave)

Minneapolis Convention & Visitors Association (www.minneapolis.org) Coupons, maps, guides and bike-route info online.

Minneapolis Public Library (www.hclib.org; 300 Nicollet Mall; ☎ 10am-8pm Tue & Thu, 10am-6pm Wed, Fri & Sat, noon-5pm Sun; ♿) Mod facility with free internet and wi-fi (plus a great used bookstore).

Pioneer Press (www.twincities.com) St Paul's daily.

Star Tribune (www.startribune.com) Minneapolis' daily.

Vita.mn (www.vita.mn) The Star Tribune's weekly entertainment freebie.

i Getting There & Around*AIR

The Minneapolis-St Paul International Airport (MSP; www.mspairport.com) is between the two cities to the south. It's the home of Delta Airlines, which operates several direct flights to/ from Europe.

The Blue Line light-rail service (regular/rush-hour fare $1.75/2.25, 25 minutes) is the cheapest way into Minneapolis. Bus 54 (regular/rush-hour fare $1.75/2.25, 25 minutes) goes to St Paul. Taxis cost around $45.

BICYCLE

Minneapolis hovers near the top of rankings for best bike city in the US. The bicycle-share program Nice Ride (www.niceridemn.org; ☎ Apr-Oct) has 1500 bikes in 170 self-serve kiosks around the Twin Cities. Users pay a subscription (per day/year $6/65) online or at the kiosk, plus a small fee per half-hour of use (with the first half-hour free). Bikes can be returned to any kiosk. Traditional rentals work better if you're riding for recreation versus transportation purposes. See the Minneapolis Bicycle Program (www.ci.minneapolis.mn.us/bicycles) for rental shops and trail maps.

BUS

Greyhound (☎ 612-371-3325; 950 Hawthorne Ave) runs frequent buses to Milwaukee (seven hours), Chicago (nine hours) and Duluth (three hours).

Megabus (www.megabus.com/us) runs express to Milwaukee (six hours) and Chicago (eight hours), often for lower fares than Greyhound. It departs from both downtown and the university; check the website for exact locations.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Metro Transit (www.metrotransit.org; regular/rush-hour fare $1.75/2.25) runs the excellent Blue Line light-rail service between downtown and the Mall of America. The new Green Line is slated to begin running in mid-2014, connecting downtown Minneapolis to downtown St Paul. Until then, express bus 94 (regular/rush-hour fare $2.25/3) plies the route between cities; it departs from 6th St N's south side, just west of Hennepin Ave. A day pass ($6) is available from any rail station or bus driver.

TAXI

Call Yellow Cab (☎ 612-824-4444).

TRAIN

Amtrak chugs in to the newly restored Union Depot (www.uniondepot.org; 214 E 4th St; ♿) in St Paul. Trains go daily to Chicago (eight hours) and Seattle (37 hours).

St Paul

Smaller and quieter than its twin city Minneapolis, St Paul has retained more of a historic character. Walk through F Scott Fitzgerald's old stomping grounds, trek the trails along the mighty Mississippi River, or slurp some Lao soup.

👁 Sights & Activities

Downtown and Cathedral Hill hold most of the action. The latter features eccentric shops, Gilded Age Victorian mansions and, of course, the hulking church that gives the area its name. Downtown has the museums. An insider's tip: there's a shortcut between the two areas, a footpath that starts on the Hill House's west side and drops into downtown.

Revitalized Harriet Island, running south off Wabasha St downtown, is a lovely place to meander; it has a park, river walk, concert stages and fishing dock.

F Scott Fitzgerald Sights & Summit Ave

STREET

The Great Gatsby author F Scott Fitzgerald is St Paul's most celebrated literary son. The Pullman-style apartment at 481 Laurel Ave is his birthplace. Four blocks away, Fitzgerald lived in the brownstone at 599 Summit Ave when he published This Side of Paradise. Both are private residences. From here stroll along Summit Ave toward the cathedral and gape at the Victorian homes rising from the street.

Literature buffs should grab the Fitzgerald Homes and Haunts map at the visitor center to see other footprints.

Landmark Center

MUSEUM

(www.landmarkcenter.org; 75 W 5th St; ☎ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 8am-8pm Thu, 10am-5pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Downtown's turreted 1902 Landmark Center used to be the federal courthouse, where gangsters such as Alvin 'Creepy' Karpis were tried; plaques by the various rooms show who was brought to justice here. In addition to the city's visitor center, the building also contains a couple of small museums.

On the 2nd floor the Schubert Club Museum (☎ 651-292-3267; www.schubert.org; ☎ noon-4pm Sun-Fri) has a brilliant collection of old pianos and harpsichords – some tickled by the likes of Brahms and Mendelssohn – as well as old manuscripts and letters from famous composers. The club plays free chamber-music concerts Thursday at noon from October to April. A free wood-turning museum (it's a decorative form of woodworking) is also on the 2nd floor.

Mississippi River Visitors Center

INTERPRETIVE CENTER

(☎ 651-293-0200; www.nps.gov/miss; ☎ 9:30am-5pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat) FREE The National Park Service visitor center occupies an alcove in the science museum's lobby. Stop by to pick up trail maps and see what sort of free ranger-guided activities are going on. Most take place at 10am on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday in summer. In winter the center hosts ice-fishing and snowshoeing jaunts.

Science Museum of Minnesota

MUSEUM

(☎ 651-221-9444; www.smm.org; 120 W Kellogg Blvd; adult/child $13/10; ☎ 9:30am-9:30pm, reduced hours in winter) Has the usual hands-on kids' exhibits and Omnimax theater ($8 extra). Adults will be entertained by the wacky quackery of the 4th floor's 'questionable medical devices.'

Cathedral of St Paul

CHURCH

(www.cathedralsaintpaul.org; 239 Selby Ave; ☎ 7am-7pm Sun-Fri, to 9pm Sat) Modeled on St Peter's Basilica in Rome, the cathedral presides over the city from its hilltop perch. Tours ($2) are available at 1pm weekdays.

James J Hill House

HISTORIC BUILDING

(☎ 651-297-2555; www.mnhs.org/hillhouse; 240 Summit Ave; adult/child $9/6; ☎ 10am-3:30pm Wed-Sat, from 1pm Sun) Tour the palatial stone mansion of railroad magnate Hill. It's a Gilded Age beauty, with five floors and 22 fireplaces.

St Paul Curling Club

SNOW SPORTS

(www.stpaulcurlingclub.org; 470 Selby Ave; ☎ from 11am Oct-May) For those uninitiated in northern ways, curling is a winter sport that involves sliding a hubcap-sized 'puck' down the ice toward a bull's-eye. The friendly folks here don't mind if you stop in to watch the action. Heck, they might invite you to share a Labatt's from the upstairs bar.

Tours

Down In History Tours

WALKING TOUR

(☎ 651-292-1220; www.wabashstreetcaves.com; 215 S Wabasha St; 45min tours $6; ☎ 5pm Thu, 11am Sat & Sun) Explore St Paul's underground caves, which gangsters once used as a speakeasy. The fun ratchets up on Thursday nights, when a swing band plays in the caverns (admission $7).

Festivals & Events

St Paul Winter Carnival

CULTURAL

(www.winter-carnival.com; ☎ late Jan) Ten days of ice sculptures, ice skating and ice fishing.

Sleeping

You'll find a bigger selection of accommodations in Minneapolis.

Covington Inn

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 651-292-1411; www.covingtoninn.com; 100 Harriet Island Rd; r incl breakfast $150-235; P ☎) This four-room Harriet Island B&B is on a tugboat in the Mississippi River; watch the river traffic glide by while sipping your morning coffee.

Holiday Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 651-225-1515; www.holiday-inn.com/stpaulmn; 175 W 7th St; r $99-169; P ☎ ☎) The rooms are the usual decent quality you expect from the Holiday Inn chain; the perks are the location adjacent to the RiverCentre (convention center), a small pool and an on-site Irish pub. Parking is $15.

Eating & Drinking

Grand Ave between Dale St and Lexington Pkwy is a worthy browse, with cafes, foodie shops and ethnic eats in close proximity. Selby Ave by the intersection of Western Ave N also holds a quirky line-up.

Mickey's Dining Car DINER $
(www.mickeysdiningcar.com; 36 W 7th St; mains $4-9; ☺24hr) Mickey's is a downtown classic, the kind of place where the friendly waitress calls you 'honey' and satisfied regulars line the bar with their coffee cups and newspapers. The food has timeless appeal, too: burgers, malts and apple pie.

Hmongtown Marketplace ASIAN $
(www.hmongtownmarketplace.com; 217 Como Ave; mains $5-8; ☺8am-8pm) The nation's largest enclave of Hmong immigrants lives in the Twin Cities, and this market delivers their favorite Vietnamese, Lao and Thai dishes at its humble food court. Find the West Building and head to the back where vendors ladle hot-spiced papaya salad, beef ribs, sticky rice and curry noodle soup. Then stroll the market, where you can fix your dentures or buy a cockatoo or brass gong.

WA Frost & Company AMERICAN $$$
(☎651-224-5715; www.wafrost.com; 374 Selby Ave; mains $18-28; ☺11am-1:30pm Mon-Fri, 10:30am-2pm Sat & Sun, 5-10pm daily) Frost's tree-shaded, ivy-covered, twinkling-light patio is right out of a Fitzgerald novel, perfect for a glass of wine, beer or gin. The restaurant locally sources many ingredients for dishes like the artisanal cheese plate, Moroccan-spiced roasted chicken and heirloom bean cassoulet.

Happy Gnome PUB
(www.thehappygnome.com; 498 Selby Ave; ☺from 11:30am; ☺) Seventy craft beers flow from the taps, best sipped on the fireplace-warmed outdoor patio. The pub sits across the parking lot from the St Paul Curling Club.

Entertainment

Fitzgerald Theater THEATER
(☎651-290-1221; www.fitzgeraldtheater.org; 10 E Exchange St) Where Garrison Keillor tapes his radio show A Prairie Home Companion.

Ordway Center for Performing Arts CLASSICAL MUSIC
(☎651-224-4222; www.ordway.org; 345 Washington St) Chamber music and the Minnesota Opera fill the hall here.

Xcel Energy Center HOCKEY
(www.wild.com; 199 Kellogg Blvd) The Wild pro hockey team skates at Xcel.

Shopping
Common Good Books BOOKS
(www.commongoodbooks.com; 38 S Snelling Ave; ☺9am-9pm Mon-Sat, 10am-7pm Sun) Garrison Keillor owns this bright bookstore where statues of literary heroes stand guard over long shelves of tomes. It's west of downtown on the Macalester College campus.

Information
Visitor center (☎651-292-3225; www.visitsaintpaul.com; 75 W 5th St; ☺10am-4pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) In the Landmark Center; makes a good first stop for maps and DIY walking tour info.

Getting There & Around
St Paul is served by the same transit systems as Minneapolis. See p604 for details. Union Depot (p604) is the hub for everything: Greyhound buses, city buses, the Green Line light-rail service and Amtrak trains.

Around Minneapolis–St Paul

Sights
Mall of America MALL, AMUSEMENT PARK
(www.mallofamerica.com; off I-494 at 24th Ave; ☺10am-9:30pm Mon-Sat, 11am-7pm Sun; ♿) The Mall of America, located in suburban Bloomington near the airport, is the USA's largest shopping center. Yes, it's just a mall, filled with the usual stores, movie theaters

DON'T MISS

BIG BALL O' TWINE

Behold the World's Largest Ball of Twine (1st St; admission free; ☺24hr) FREE in Darwin, 62 miles west of Minneapolis on US 12. To be specific, it's the 'Largest Built by One Person' – Francis A Johnson wrapped the 17,400lb whopper on his farm over the course of 29 years. Gawk at it in the town gazebo. Better yet, visit the the museum (☎320-693-7544; ☺by appointment) beside it and buy your own twine ball starter kit in the gift shop.

and eateries. But there's also a wedding chapel inside. And an 18-hole mini-golf course (☎952-883-8777; 3rd fl; admission $8). And an amusement park, aka Nickelodeon Universe (☎952-883-8600; www.nickelodeonuniverse.com), with 24 rides, including a couple of scream-inducing roller coasters. To walk through will cost you nothing; a one-day, unlimited-ride wristband is $30; or you can pay for rides individually ($3 to $6). What's more, the state's largest aquarium, Minnesota Sea Life (☎952-883-0202; www.visitsealife.com/minnesota; adult/child $24/16) – where children can touch sharks and stingrays – is in the mall too. Combination passes are available to save dough. The Blue Line light-rail runs to/from downtown Minneapolis. The mall is a 10-minute ride from the airport.

Fort Snelling

HISTORIC SITE

(☎612-726-1171; www.historicfortsnelling.org; cnr Hwys 5 & 55; adult/child $11/6; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sat & noon-5pm Sun Jun-Aug, Sat only Sep & Oct; 🚻) East of the mall, Fort Snelling is the state's oldest structure, established in 1820 as a frontier outpost in the remote Northwest Territory. Guides in period dress show restored buildings and reenact pioneer life.

Southern Minnesota

Some of the scenic southeast can be seen on short drives from the Twin Cities. Better is a loop of a few days' duration, following the rivers and stopping in some of the historic towns and state parks.

DON'T MISS

SPAM MUSEUM

Sitting by its lonesome in Austin, near where I-35 and I-90 intersect in southern Minnesota, lies the Spam Museum (☎800-588-7726; www.spam.com; 1101 N Main St; ☉10am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun; 🆓) FREE, an entire institution devoted to the peculiar meat. It educates about how the blue tins have fed armies, become a Hawaiian food staple and inspired legions of haiku writers. What's more, you can chat up the staff (aka 'spambassadors'), indulge in free samples, and try your hand at canning the sweet pork magic.

Due east of St Paul, on Hwy 36, touristy Stillwater (www.discoverstillwater.com), on the lower St Croix River, is an old logging town with restored 19th-century buildings, river cruises and antique stores. It's also an official 'booktown,' an honor bestowed upon a few small towns worldwide that possess an extraordinary number of antiquarian bookshops. What's more, the town is filled with classy historic B&Bs.

Larger Red Wing, to the south on US 61, is a similar but less interesting restored town, though it does offer its famous Red Wing Shoes – actually more like sturdy boots – and salt-glaze pottery.

The prettiest part of the Mississippi Valley area begins south of here. To drive it and see the best bits, you'll need to flip-flop back and forth between Minnesota and Wisconsin on the Great River Road.

From Red Wing, cross the river on US 63. Before heading south along the water, though, make a cheesy detour. Go north on US 63 in Wisconsin for 12 miles until you hit US 10. Turn right and within a few miles you're in Ellsworth, the 'Cheese Curd Capital.' Pull into Ellsworth Cooperative Creamery (☎715-273-4311; www.ellsworth-cheeseconds.com; 232 N Wallace St; ☉8am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun) – curd-maker for A&W and Dairy Queen – and savor squeaky goodness hot off the press (11am is prime time).

Back along the river on Wisconsin Hwy 35, a great stretch of road edges the bluffs beside Maiden Rock, Stockholm and Pepin. Follow your nose to local bakeries and cafes in the area.

Continuing south, cross back over the river to Wabasha in Minnesota, which has a historic downtown and large population of bald eagles that congregate in winter. To learn more, visit the National Eagle Center (☎651-565-4989; www.nationaleaglecenter.org; 50 Pembroke Ave; adult/child $8/5; ☉10am-5pm).

Inland and south, Bluff Country is dotted with limestone bluffs, southeast Minnesota's main geological feature. Lanesboro (www.lanesboro.com) is a gem for rails-to-trails cycling and canoeing. Seven miles westward on County Rd 8 (call for directions) is Old Barn Resort (☎507-467-2512; www.barnresort.com; dm/r/ tent site/RV site $25/50/30/44; ☉Apr-mid-Nov; 🚻), a pastoral hostel-campground-restaurant-outfitter. Harmony, south of Lanesboro, is the center of an Amish community and another welcoming town.

Duluth & Northern Minnesota

Northern Minnesota is where you come to 'do some fishing, do some drinking,' as one resident summed it up.

Duluth

At the Great Lakes' westernmost end, Duluth (with its neighbor, Superior, Wisconsin) is one of the busiest ports in the country. The town's dramatic location spliced into a cliff makes it a fab place to see changeable Lake Superior in action. The water, along with the area's trails and natural splendor, has earned Duluth a reputation as a hot spot for outdoors junkies.

Sights & Activities

The waterfront area is distinctive. Mosey along the Lakewalk trail and around Canal Park, where most of the sights cluster. Look for the Aerial Lift Bridge, which rises to let ships into the port; about 1000 ships a year pass through here.

Maritime Visitors Center MUSEUM
( 218-720-5260; www.lsmma.com; 600 Lake Ave S;  10am-9pm Jun-Aug, reduced hours Sep-May) FREE Check the computer screens inside to find out what time the big ships will be sailing through port. The first-rate center also has exhibits on Great Lakes shipping and shipwrecks.

William A Irvin MUSEUM
( 218-722-7876; www.williamairvin.com; 350 Harbor Dr; adult/child $10/8;  9am-6pm Jun-Aug, 10am-4pm May, Sep & Oct) To continue the nautical theme, tour this mighty 610ft Great Lakes freighter.

Great Lakes Aquarium AQUARIUM
( 218-740-3474; www.glaquarium.org; 353 Harbor Dr; adult/child $16.50/10.50;  10am-6pm;  ) One of the country's few freshwater aquariums; the highlights here include the daily stingray feedings at 2pm, and the otter tanks.

Leif Erikson Park PARK
(cnr London Rd & 14th Ave E) This is a lakefront sweet spot with a rose garden, replica of Leif's Viking ship and free outdoor movies each Friday night in summer. Take the Lakewalk from Canal Park (about 1½ miles) and you can say you hiked the Superior Trail, which traverses this stretch.

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

DYLAN IN DULUTH

While Hibbing and the Iron Range are most often associated with Bob Dylan, he was born in Duluth. You'll see brown-and-white signs on Superior and London Sts for Bob Dylan Way (www.bobdylanway.com), pointing out places associated with the legend (like the armory where he saw Buddy Holly in concert, and decided to become a musician). But you're on your own to find Dylan's birthplace (519 N 3rd Ave E), up a hill a few blocks northeast of downtown. Dylan lived on the top floor until age six, when his family moved inland to Hibbing. It's a private residence (and unmarked), so all you can do is stare from the street.

Enger Park PARK
(Skyline Pkwy) For a spectacular view of the city and harbor, climb the rock tower in Enger Park, located a couple miles southwest by the golf course.

Vista Fleet BOAT TOUR
( 218-722-6218; www.vistafleet.com; 323 Harbor Dr; adult/child $20/10;  mid-May-Oct) Ah, everyone loves a boat ride. Vista's two-hour harbor cruise is a favorite, departing from the dock beside the William A Irvin in Canal Park.

Spirit Mountain SKIING
( 218-628-2891; www.spiritmt.com; 9500 Spirit Mountain Pl; per day adult/child $35/28;  from 9am winter, from 10am summer) Skiing and snowboarding are big pastimes come winter; in summer there's a zip line, alpine slide and mini-golf. The mountain is 10 miles south of Duluth.

Sleeping

Duluth has several B&Bs; rooms cost at least $125 in the summer. Check Duluth Historic Inns (www.duluthbandb.com) for listings. The town's accommodations fill up fast in summer, which may mean you'll have to try your luck across the border in Superior, Wisconsin (where it's cheaper too).

Fitger's Inn HOTEL $$$
( 218-722-8826; www.fitgers.com; 600 E Superior St; r incl breakfast $149-239;  ) Fitger's created its 62 large rooms, each with slightly varied decor, from an old brewery. Located on the Lakewalk, the pricier rooms have great water views. The free shuttle to local sights is handy.

SCENIC DRIVE: HIGHWAY 61

Hwy 61 conjures a headful of images. Local boy Bob Dylan mythologized it in his angry 1965 album Highway 61 Revisited. It's the fabled 'Blues Hwy' clasp the Mississippi River en route to New Orleans. And in northern Minnesota it evokes red-tinged cliffs and forested beaches as it follows Lake Superior's shoreline.

But let's back up and get a few things straight. The Blues Hwy is actually US 61, and it starts just north of the Twin Cities. Hwy 61 is a state scenic road, and it starts in Duluth. To confuse matters more, there are two 61s between Duluth and Two Harbors: a four-lane expressway and a two-lane 'Old Hwy 61' (also called North Shore Scenic Drive, which morphs from London Rd in Duluth). Whatever the name, take it. After Two Harbors, it's one wondrous strip of pavement all the way to the Canadian border. For more information, check the North Shore Scenic Drive at www.superiorbyways.com.

Willard Munger Inn

INN $$

(☎800-982-2453, 218-624-4814; www.mungerinn.com; 7408 Grand Ave; r incl breakfast $70-136; @☎) Family-owned Munger Inn offers a fine variety of rooms (from budget to Jacuzzi suites), along with perks for outdoors enthusiasts, such as hiking and biking trails right outside the door, free use of bikes and canoes, and a fire pit. It's near Spirit Mountain.

Eating & Drinking

Most restaurants and bars reduce their hours in winter. The Canal Park waterfront area has eateries in all price ranges.

Duluth Grill

AMERICAN $$

(www.duluthgrill.com; 118 S 27th Ave W; mains $8-16; ☺7am-9pm; ♻️♻️) The garden in the parking lot is the tip-off that this is a sustainable, hippie-vibed place. The diner-esque menu is huge, ranging from eggy breakfast skillet to curried polenta stew to bison burgers, with plenty of vegan and gluten-free options to boot. It's a couple miles southwest of Canal Park, near the bridge to Superior, Wisconsin.

DeWitt-Seitz Marketplace

ASIAN, AMERICAN $$

(www.dewittseitz.com; 394 Lake Ave S) This building in Canal Park holds several eateries, including vegetarian-friendly Taste of Saigon (☺11am-8:30pm Sun-Thu, to 9:30pm Fri & Sat; ♻️), hippie cafe Amazing Grace (☺7am-10pm; ♻️) and Northern Waters Smokehaus (☺10am-8pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun), with sustainably harvested salmon and whitefish (primo for picnics).

Pizza Luce

PIZZERIA $$

(☎218-727-7400; www.pizzaluce.com; 11 E Superior St; mains $10-20; ☺8am-1:30am Sun-Thu, to 2:30am Fri & Sat; ♻️) Cooks locally sourced breakfasts and gourmet pizzas. It's also plugged into the local music scene and hosts bands. Fully licensed.

★ Thirsty Pagan

BREWERY

(www.thirstypaganbrewing.com; 1623 Broadway St; ☺from 11am) This one's a bit of a trek, over the bridge in Superior, Wisconsin (a 10-minute drive), but worth it for the aggressive, spicy beers to wash down hand-tossed pizzas.

Fitger's Brewhouse

BREWERY

(www.fitgersbrewhouse.net; 600 E Superior St; ☺from 11am) In the hotel complex, the Brewhouse rocks with live music and fresh brews. Try them via the seven-beer sampler (3oz glasses $8).

Shopping

Electric Fetus

MUSIC

(☎218-722-9970; www.electricfetus.com; 12 E Superior St; ☺9am-9pm Mon-Fri, 9am-8pm Sat, 11am-6pm Sun) Sells a whopping selection of CDs, vinyl and local arts and crafts, including Dylan tunes. It sits across the street from Pizza Luce.

Information

Duluth Visitors Center

(☎800-438-5884; www.visitduluth.com; Harbor Dr; ☺9:30am-7:30pm summer) Seasonal center, opposite the Vista dock.

Getting There & Around

Greyhound (☎218-722-5591; 4426 Grand Ave) has a couple of buses daily to Minneapolis (three hours).

North Shore

Hwy 61 is the main vein through the North Shore. It edges Lake Superior and passes numerous state parks, waterfalls, hiking trails and mom-and-pop towns en route to Canada. Lots of weekend, summer and fall traffic makes reservations essential.

Two Harbors (www.twoharborschamber.com) has a museum, lighthouse and B&B. Actually, the latter two are one and the same; the Lighthouse B&B (☎888-832-5606; www.lighthousebb.org; r incl breakfast $135-155) is a unique place to spend the night if you can snag one of its four rooms. Nearby, Betty's Pies (www.bettyspies.com; 1633 Hwy 61; sandwiches $5-9; ☎7am-9pm, reduced hours Oct-May) has a five-layer chocolate tinful among its rackful of wares.

Route highlights north of Two Harbors are Gooseberry Falls, Split Rock Lighthouse and Palisade Head. About 110 miles from Duluth, artsy little Grand Marais (www.grandmarais.com) makes an excellent base for exploring the Boundary Waters and environs. For Boundary permits and information, visit the Gunflint Ranger Station (☎218-387-1750; ☎8am-4:30pm May-Sep), just south of town.

Do-it-yourself enthusiasts can learn to build boats, tie flies or brew beer at the North House Folk School (☎218-387-9762; www.northhouse.org; 500 Hwy 61). The course list is phenomenal – as is the school's two-hour sailing trip aboard the Viking schooner Hjordis (per person $45). Reserve in advance.

Grand Marais' lodging options include camping, resorts and motels, like the Harbor Inn (☎218-387-1191; www.harborinnhotel.com; 207 Wisconsin St; r $115-135; 🏠) in town or rustic, trail-encircled Naniboujou Lodge (☎218-387-2688; www.naniboujou.com; 20 Naniboujou Trail; r $95-115; ☎late May-late Oct), which is 14 miles northeast of town. Sven and Ole's (☎218-387-1713; www.svenandoles.com; 9 Wisconsin St; sandwiches $6-9; ☎11am-8pm, to 9pm Thu-Sat) is a classic for sandwiches and pizza; beer flows from the attached Pickled Herring Pub. Ecofriendly Angry Trout Cafe (☎218-387-1265; www.angrytroutcafe.com; 416 Hwy 61; mains $20-27; ☎11am-8:30pm May-mid-Oct) grills fresh-plucked lake fish in a converted fishing shanty.

Hwy 61 continues to Grand Portage National Monument (☎218-475-0123; www.nps.gov/grpo; ☎9am-5pm mid-May-mid-Oct) FREE, beside Canada, where the early voyageurs had to carry their canoes around the Pigeon River rapids. This was the center of a far-flung trading empire, and the reconstructed 1788 trading post and Ojibwe village is well worth seeing. Isle Royale National Park in Lake Superior is reached by daily ferries (☎218-475-0024; www.isleroyaleboats.com; day trip adult/child $58/32) from May to October. (The park is also accessible from Michigan).

Boundary Waters

From Two Harbors, Hwy 2 runs inland to the legendary Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness (BWCAW). This pristine region has more than 1000 lakes and streams in which to dip a paddle. It's possible to go just for the day, but most people opt for at least one night of camping. If you're willing to dig in and canoe for a while, you'll lose the crowds. Camping then becomes a wonderfully remote experience: just you, the howling wolves, the moose who's nuzzling the tent and the aurora borealis' greenish light filling the night sky. Beginners are welcome, and everyone can get set up with gear from local lodges and outfitters.

Permits for camping (☎877-550-6777; www.recreation.gov; adult/child $16/8, plus reservation fee $6) are required for overnight stays. Day permits, though free, are also required; get them at BWCAW entry-point kiosks or ranger stations. Call Superior National Forest (☎218-626-4300; www.fs.usda.gov/attmain/superior/specialplaces) for details; the website

SUPERIOR HIKING TRAIL

The 290-mile Superior Hiking Trail (www.shta.org) follows the lake-hugging ridgeline between Duluth and the Canadian border. Along the way it passes dramatic red-rock overlooks and the occasional moose and black bear. Trailheads with parking lots pop up every 5 to 10 miles, making it ideal for day hikes. The Superior Shuttle (☎218-834-5511; www.superiorhikingshuttle.com; from $15; ☎Fri-Sun mid-May-mid-Oct) makes life even easier, picking up trekkers from 17 stops along the route. Overnight hikers will find 81 backcountry campsites and several lodges to cushion the body come nightfall; the trail website has details. The whole footpath is free, with no reservations or permits required.

has a useful trip planning guide. Try to plan ahead, as permits are quota restricted and sometimes run out.

Many argue the best BWCAW access is via the engaging town of Ely (www.ely.org), northeast of the Iron Range area, which has accommodations, restaurants and scores of outfitters. The International Wolf Center (☎218-365-4695; www.wolf.org; 1369 Hwy 169; adult/child $9.50/5.50; ☉10am-5pm daily mid-May-mid-Oct, Fri & Sat only mid-Oct-mid-May) offers intriguing exhibits and wolf-viewing trips. Across the highway from the center, Kawishiwi Ranger Station (☎218-365-7600; 1393 Hwy 169; ☉8am-4:30pm May-Sep) provides expert BWCAW camping and canoeing details, trip suggestions and required permits.

In winter, Ely gets mushy – it's a renowned dogsledding town. Outfitters such as Wintergreen Dogsled Lodge (☎218-365-6022; www.dogsledding.com; 4hr tour $125) offer numerous packages.

Iron Range District

An area of red-tinged scrubby hills rather than mountains, Minnesota's Iron Range District consists of the Mesabi and Vermilion Ranges, running north and south of Hwy 169 from roughly Grand Rapids northeast to Ely. Iron was discovered here in the 1850s, and at one time more than three-quarters of the nation's iron ore was extracted from these vast open-pit mines. Visitors can see working mines and the terrain's raw, sparse beauty all along Hwy 169.

In Calumet, a perfect introduction is the Hill Annex Mine State Park (☎218-247-7215; www.dnr.state.mn.us/hill\_annex; 880 Gary St; tours adult/child $10/6; ☉12:30pm & 3pm Fri & Sat), with its open-pit tours and exhibit center. Tours are held in summertime only, on Friday and Saturday; there's also a fossil tour both days at 10am.

An even bigger pit sprawls in Hibbing, where a must-see viewpoint (☉9am-5pm mid-May-mid-Sep) FREE north of town overlooks the 3-mile Hull-Rust Mahoning Mine. Bob Dylan lived at 2425 E 7th Ave as a boy and teenager; the Hibbing Public Library (☎218-362-5959; www.hibbing.lib.mn.us; 2020 E 5th Ave; ☉10am-7pm Mon-Thu, to 5pm Fri) has well-done Dylan displays and a free walking-tour map (available online, too) that takes you past various sites, like the place where Bobby had his bar mitzvah. Zimmy's (www.zimmys.com; 531 E Howard St; mains $14-20; ☉11am-1am) has more memorabilia, plus drinks and pub grub. For a bed, try Hibbing Park Hotel (☎218-262-3481; www.hibbingparkhotel.com; 1402 E Howard St; r $60-100; ☎☎☎).

Soudan sports the area's only underground mine (www.dnr.state.mn.us/soudan; 1379 Stuntz Bay Rd; tours adult/child $12/7; ☉10am-4pm late May-early Sep); wear warm clothes.

Voyageurs National Park

In the 17th century, French-Canadian fur traders (voyageurs) began exploring the Great Lakes and northern rivers by canoe. Voyageurs National Park (www.nps.gov/voya) covers part of their customary waterway, which became the border between the USA and Canada.

It's all about water up here. Most of the park is accessible only by hiking or motorboat – the waters are mostly too wide and too rough for canoeing, though kayaks are becoming popular. A few access roads lead to campgrounds and lodges on or near Lake Superior, but these are mostly used by people putting in their own boats.

The visitor centers are car accessible and good places to begin your visit. Twelve miles east of International Falls on Hwy 11 is Rainy Lake Visitors Center (☎218-286-5258; ☉9am-5pm daily late May-Sep, Wed-Sun Sep-late May), the main park office. Ranger-guided walks and boat tours are available here. Seasonal visitor centers are at Ash River (☎218-374-3221; ☉9am-5pm late May-Sep) and Kabetogama Lake (☎218-875-2111; ☉9am-5pm late May-Sep). These areas have outfitters, rentals and services, plus some smaller bays for canoeing.

Houseboating is all the rage in the region. Outfitters such as Ebel's (☎888-883-2357; www.ebel.com; 10326 Ash River Trail) and Voyagaire Houseboats (☎800-882-6287; www.voyagaire.com; 7576 Gold Coast Rd) can set you up. Rentals range from $275 to $700 per day, depending on boat size. Novice boaters are welcome and receive instruction on how to operate the vessels.

Otherwise, for sleeping, your choices are pretty much camping or resorts. The 12-room, shared-bath Kettle Falls Hotel (☎218-240-1724; www.kettlefallshotel.com; r/cottage incl breakfast $80/180; ☉May-mid-Oct) is an exception, located inside the park and accessible only by boat; make arrangements with the owners for pick-up (per person round-trip $45). Nelson's Resort (☎800-433-0743; www.nelsonsresort.com; 7632 Nelson Rd; cabins from $180) at Crane Lake is a winner for hiking, fishing and relaxing under blue skies.

While this is certainly a remote and wild area, those seeking wildlife, canoeing and forest camping in all their glory are best off in the Boundary Waters.

---

Bemidji & Chippewa National Forest

This area is synonymous with outdoor activities and summer fun. Campsites and cottages abound, and almost everybody is fishing-crazy.

Itasca State Park (☎ 218-266-2100; www.dnr.state.mn.us/itasca; off Hwy 71 N; per vehicle $5, tent & RV sites $12-22) is an area highlight.

You can walk across the tiny headwaters of the mighty Mississippi River; rent canoes or bikes, hike the trails and camp. The log Hi Mississippi Headwaters Hostel (☎ 218-266-3415; www.hiusa.org/parkrapids; dm $24-27, r $80-130; ♿) is in the park; winter hours vary, so call ahead. Or if you want a little rustic luxury, try the venerable Douglas Lodge (☎ 866-857-2757; r $95-140; ♿), run by the park, which also has cabins and a good restaurant.

On the western edge of the forest, about 30 miles from Itasca, tidy Bemidji is an old lumber town with a well-preserved downtown and a giant statue of logger Paul Bunyan and his faithful blue ox, Babe. The visitor center (www.visitbemidji.com; 300 Bemidji Ave N; ☎ 8am-5pm, closed Sat & Sun Sep-May) displays Paul's toothbrush.

Great Plains

Includes →

Missouri.....	616
St Louis.....	617
Kansas City.....	627
Iowa.....	631
North Dakota.....	636
South Dakota.....	639
Nebraska.....	649
Omaha.....	650
Kansas.....	654
Wichita.....	654
Oklahoma.....	659
Tulsa.....	662

Best Places to Eat

- Oklahoma Joe's (p629)
- Rieger Hotel Grill & Exchange (p629)
- Ted Drewes (p622)
- Cattlemen's Steakhouse (p660)

Best Places to Stay

- Hotel Fort Des Moines (p632)
- Magnolia Hotel (p651)
- Hotel Donaldson (p636)
- Hotel Alex Johnson (p644)

Why Go?

To best appreciate this vast and underappreciated region in the heart of the US, you need to split the name. The first word, 'great,' is easy. Great scenery, great tornadoes, great eats, great people all apply. The problem is with 'plains.' 'Humdrum' and 'flat' are two words that come to mind. Neither apply. Amid the endless horizons and raw natural drama are surprises such as St Louis and Kansas City, the Alpine beauty of the Black Hills and the legacy of Route 66.

Great distances across the beguiling wide-open spaces are the biggest impediment to enjoying this enormous region, which includes the states of Missouri, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. Many sights lie near the interstates and the more intriguing two-laners, but other far-flung points of interest and scenic drives are also worth seeking out.

From miles of sand dunes to lushly forested countryside, small towns to great cities, the majestic sweep of the continent's center is yours to explore.

When to Go

St Louis

Nov–Mar Attractions cut back hours, or close. Blizzards shut down roads and trains for days.

Apr, May, Sep & Oct Average maximum of 55°F (13°C); un-crowded seasons to visit.

Jun–Aug Thunderstorms and even tornadoes add drama; sultry days and wild-flowers bloom.

Getting There & Around

The main airport is Lambert-St Louis International (www.flystl.com), but visitors from abroad will be better off flying to Chicago, Denver or Dallas and connecting to one of the region's myriad airports or hitting the open roads.

Greyhound buses only cover some interstates, but Jefferson Lines (www.jeffersonlines.com) and Burlington Trailways (www.burlingtontrailways.com) take up some of the slack. They both honor Greyhound's Discovery Pass.

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) routes across the Plains make getting here by train easy, but getting around impractical. The main train services are:

California Zephyr Between Chicago and San Francisco via Iowa (including Osceola, south of Des Moines) and Nebraska (including Omaha and Lincoln).

Empire Builder Between Chicago and Seattle via North Dakota.

Heartland Flyer Between Fort Worth and Oklahoma City.

Lincoln Service Fast trains between Chicago and St Louis.

Missouri River Runner Between St Louis and Kansas City.

Southwest Chief Between Chicago and Los Angeles via Missouri (including Kansas City) and Kansas (including Topeka and Dodge City).

Texas Eagle Between Chicago and San Antonio via St Louis.

GET YOUR KICKS

Unlike elsewhere in the US, you can get somewhat of a feel for this region from the interstate, since the wide-open spaces know no bounds. But the real joy of the region is the many two-lane roads. Substantial stretches of Route 66 survive and are covered in the Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma sections. And don't overlook other roads like US 2, US 20 and US 50.

Top Great Plains Parks

- ➔ Theodore Roosevelt National Park Buffalo roam amid stunning canyons carved by rivers after the ice age.
- ➔ Badlands National Park Bizarrely eroded rocks and canyons offer an unforgettable spectacle.
- ➔ Wind Cave National Park Below ground is one of the world's largest cave formations; above ground, deer, antelope and bison play.
- ➔ Homestead National Monument Farmland with hikes amid rivers and wildflowers.
- ➔ Tallgrass Prairie National Preserve Most of the prairie grasslands have gone the way of the farmer's plow; only 1% of the original tallgrass survives at places like this.

DON'T MISS

Local diners and cafes with fab home-cooked food are where locals gather to chew on all the news and gossip.

Fast Facts

- ➔ Hub cities Kansas City (population 460,000), Omaha (population 409,000)
- ➔ Time zones Central (one hour behind NYC), Mountain (two hours behind NYC)
- ➔ Temperature Enjoy balmy summer evenings when it stays light well past 8pm.
- ➔ Driving Check road conditions and forecasts in winter when even interstates can be closed.

Did You Know?

The population density in North Dakota is 9.9 people per sq mile. In NYC it's 26,800 people per sq mile.

Resources

- ➔ National Scenic Byways (www.byways.org) details scores of nationally designated scenic drives in the region.
- ➔ National Park Service (www.nps.gov) lists little-known sites.
- ➔ Tornado HQ (www.tornadohq.com) has maps and the latest official warnings.

Great Plains Highlights

- 1 Immerse yourself in the blues rhythms of one of America's great old cities: St Louis (p617).
- 2 Go from mountain highs in the Black Hills to valley lows in Badlands National Park (p641).
- 3 Gape at the wildly striated, otherworldly landscapes of Theodore Roosevelt National Park (p637).
- 4 Eat yourself silly on the amazing barbecues in Kansas City (p627).
- 5 Find your own rhythms in quietly beautiful Chase County (p658), Kansas.

6 Veer off the interstates for beguiling alternate routes such as the old Route 66 (p625, p656 and p663) through Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

7 Put the pedal to the metal and to your eyeballs on high through the entrancing rolling hills and inland dunes traversed by Nebraska's Hwy 2 (p654).

History

Spear-toting nomads hunted mammoths here 11,000 years ago, long before cannon-toting Spaniards introduced the horse around 1630. Fur-frenzied French explorers, following the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, claimed most of the land between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains for France. The territory passed to Spain in 1763, the French got it back in 1800 and then sold it to the USA in the 1803 Louisiana Purchase.

Settlers' hunger for land pushed resident Native American tribes westward, often forcibly, as in the notorious relocation of the Five Civilized Tribes – Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek and Seminole – along the 1838–39 'Trail of Tears,' which led to Oklahoma from back east. Pioneers blazed west on trails such as the Santa Fe across Kansas.

Earlier occupants, including the Osage and Sioux, had different, but often tragic, fates. Many resettled in pockets across the region, while others fought for lands once promised.

Railroads, barbed wire and oil all brought change as the 20th century hovered. The 1930s Dust Bowl ruined farms and spurred many residents to say: 'I've had enough of this crap – I'm heading west.' Even today, many regions remain eerily empty.

Local Culture

The people who settled the Great Plains usually faced difficult lives of scarcity, uncertainty and isolation; and it literally drove many of them crazy. Others gave up and got out (failed homesteads dot the region). Only fiercely independent people could thrive in those conditions and that born-and-bred rugged individualism is the core of Plains culture today. Quiet restraint is considered an important and polite trait here.

MISSOURI

The most populated state in the Plains, Missouri likes to mix things up, serving visitors ample portions of both sophisticated city life and down-home country sights. St Louis and Kansas City are the region's most interesting cities and each is a destination in its own right. But, with more forest and less farm field than neighboring states, Missouri also cradles plenty of wild places and wide-open spaces, most notably the rolling Ozark Mountains, where the winding valleys invite adventurous exploring or just some laid-back meandering behind the steering wheel. Maybe you'll find an adventure worthy of Hannibal native Mark Twain as you wander the state.

History

Claimed by France as part of the Louisiana Territory in 1682, Missouri had only a few small river towns by the start of the 19th century when the land passed to American hands and Lewis and Clark pushed up the Missouri River. Missouri was admitted to the Union as a slave state in 1821, per the

GREAT PLAINS IN...

One Week

Spend your first two or three days in either St Louis or Kansas City and the next two or three exploring the small-town standouts of Nebraska and Iowa, such as Lincoln or Iowa City. Try scenic routes such as Nebraska's Hwy 2 or the Great River Road at either end of Iowa. Then head north to South Dakota where the gorgeous Black Hills and Badlands National Park will vie for your remaining time.

Two Weeks

With two weeks behind the wheel, you can take a big bite out of the Plains. Do the trip as above. Then head south from South Dakota along eastern Nebraska, stopping at fascinating, isolated sites such as the Agate Fossil Beds National Monument, Carhenge and Scotts Bluff National Monument.

Meander into Kansas and pick up US 50 heading east. Stop at the amazing, astonishing Cosmosphere & Space Center in Hutchinson. Head south to Oklahoma and join historic Route 66 going northeast for sights such as the Will Rogers Memorial Museum. Follow the road into Missouri and finish your trip at either of the major cities you skipped on the way out.

Missouri Compromise (which permitted slavery in Missouri but prohibited it in any other part of the Louisiana Territory above the 36°30' parallel), but abolitionists never compromised their ideals, and bitter feelings were stoked along the Missouri-Kansas border by Civil War time.

The state's 'Show-Me' nickname is attributed to Congressman Willard Duncan Vandiver, who said in an 1899 speech, 'I come from a state that raises corn and cotton and cockleburs and Democrats, and frothy eloquence neither convinces nor satisfies me. I am from Missouri. You have got to show me.' The name now implies a stalwart, not-easily-impressed character.

Information

Bed & Breakfast Inns of Missouri (www.bbim.org)

Missouri Division of Tourism (www.visitmo.com)

Missouri State Parks (www.mostatoparks.com) State parks are free to visit. Site fees range from $12 to $26 and some sites may be reserved in advance.

St Louis

Slide into St Louis and revel in the unique vibe of the largest city in the Great Plains. Beer, bowling and baseball are some of the top attractions, but history and culture, much of it linked to the Mississippi River, are a vital part of the fabric. And, of course, there's the iconic Gateway Arch that you have seen in a million pictures; it's even more impressive in reality. Many music legends, including Scott Joplin, Chuck Berry, Tina Turner and Miles Davis got their start here and the bouncy live-music venues keep the flame burning.

History

Fur-trapper Pierre Laclède knew prime real estate when he saw it, so he put down stakes at the junction of the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers in 1764. The hustle picked up considerably when prospectors discovered gold in California in 1848 and St Louis became the jump-off point (aka 'Gateway to the West') for get-rich-quick dreamers.

St Louis became known as a center of innovation after hosting the 1904 World's Fair. Aviator Charles Lindbergh furthered the reputation in 1927 when he flew the

MISSOURI FACTS

Nickname Show-Me State

Population 6 million

Area 69,710 sq miles

Capital city Jefferson City (population 43,000)

Other cities St Louis (population 319,000), Kansas City (population 460,000)

Sales tax 4.23-8.98%

Birthplace of Author Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain; 1835-1910), scientist George Washington Carver (1864-1943), author William S Burroughs (1914-97), author Maya Angelou (b 1928), singer Sheryl Crow (b 1962)

Home of Budweiser, Chuck Berry

Politics Split between Democrats and Republicans

Famous for Gateway Arch, Branson

Official dance Square dance

Driving distances St Louis to Kansas City 250 miles, St Louis to Chicago 300 miles first nonstop, solo transatlantic flight in the 'Spirit of St Louis,' named for the far-sighted town that funded the aircraft.

Sights

The landmark Gateway Arch rises right along the Mississippi River. Downtown runs west of the arch. Begin a visit here and wander for half a day. Then explore the rest of the city.

The neighborhoods of most interest radiate out from this core. These include the following:

Central West End Just east of Forest Park, a posh center for nightlife and shopping.

The Hill An Italian-American neighborhood with good delis and eateries.

Lafayette Square Historic, upscale and trendy.

The Loop Northwest of Forest Park, funky shops and nightlife line Delmar Blvd.

Soulard The city's oldest quarter, with good cafes, bars and blues.

Downtown St Louis

Downtown St Louis

📍 Top Sights

- 1 City Museum .....B1
- 2 Jefferson National Expansion
Memorial/Gateway Arch .....D2

📍 Sights

- 3 Museum of Westward
Expansion .....D2
- 4 Old Courthouse & Museum.....C2

🚶 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 5 Gateway Arch Riverboats .....D3

🏠 Sleeping

- 6 America's Best Value
Downtown St Louis.....D1

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 7 Blueberry Hill.....B2
- 8 Bridge Tap House & Wine Bar.....C2
- 9 Schlafly Tap Room.....A1

🎭 Entertainment

- 10 BB's.....C3
- 11 Beale.....C3
- 12 Busch Stadium.....C2

South Grand Bohemian and gentrifying, surrounds beautiful Tower Grove Park and has a slew of ethnic restaurants.

Cross the river to see Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site (p548).

★ Jefferson National Expansion Memorial/Gateway Arch

MONUMENT

(www.gatewayarch.com; tram ride adult/child $10/5; 🕒8am-10pm Jun-Aug, 9am-6pm Sep-May) As a symbol for St Louis, the arch has soared above any expectations its backers could have had in 1965 when it opened. The centerpiece of this National Park Service property, the silvery, shimmering Gateway Arch is the Great Plains' own Eiffel Tower. It stands 630ft high and symbolizes St Louis' historical role as 'Gateway to the West.' The tram ride takes you to the tight confines at the top.

The grounds around the arch are bucolic, but are something of an island. Unfortunately, well-founded fears of flooding mean that the arch site sits high atop levees and walls to the east while the west side is blocked by the noxious barriers of Memorial Dr and I-70. (Voters approved a tiny tax increase in 2013 to greatly improve the area; find out more at www.cityarchriver.org). Download downtown walking tours at www.gatewayarch.com/visit/walking-tours.

Museum of Westward Expansion MUSEUM
(www.nps.gov/jeff; films adult/child $7/2.50; ☺8am-10pm Jun-Aug, 9am-6pm Sep-May) FREE
This subterranean museum, under the Arch, chronicles the Lewis and Clark expedition. Two theaters here show films throughout the day.

Old Courthouse & Museum HISTORIC BUILDING
(11 N 4th St; ☺8am-4:30pm) FREE Facing the Gateway Arch, this 1845 courthouse is where the famed Dred Scott slavery case was first tried. Galleries depict the trial's history, as well as that of the city.

★ City Museum MUSEUM
(www.citymuseum.org; 701 N 15th St; admission $12, Ferris wheel $5; ☺9am-5pm Mon-Thu, 9am-1am Fri & Sat, 11am-5pm Sun; 🚶) Possibly the wildest highlight to any visit to St Louis is this frivolous, frilly fun house in a vast old shoe factory. The Museum of Mirth, Mystery and Mayhem sets the tone. Run, jump and explore all manner of exhibits. The summer-only rooftop Ferris wheel offers grand views of the city.

Grant's Farm AMUSEMENT PARK
(www.grantsfarm.com; 10501 Gravois Rd; ☺9am-3:30pm Tue-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat, 9:30am-4pm Sun mid-May-mid-Aug, reduced hr spring & fall, closed Nov-mid-Apr; 🚶) FREE A small-time theme park on the beer-brewing Busch family's rural retreat, Grant's Farm thrills kids with its Clydesdale horses and 1000 other animals from six continents; a tram takes you through the preserve where the beasts roam free. Parking costs $12.

Missouri Botanical Garden GARDENS
(www.mobot.org; 4344 Shaw Ave; adult/child $8/free; ☺9am-5pm) These 150-year-old gardens hold a 14-acre Japanese garden, carnivorous plant bog and Victorian-style hedge maze.

Museum of Transportation MUSEUM
(www.transportmuseumassociation.org; 3015 Barrett Station Rd, I-270, near exit 8; adult/child $8/5; ☺9am-4pm) Huge railroad locomotives, historic cars cooler than your rental and more that moves.

Pulitzer Foundation for the Arts MUSEUM
(www.pulitzerarts.org; 3716 Washington Blvd; ☺noon-5pm Wed, from 10am Sat) FREE Grand Center landmark, has programs and exhibits across disciplines including architecture.

Forest Park

New York City may have Central Park, but St Louis has the bigger (by 528 acres) Forest Park (www.stlouis.missouri.org/citygov/parks/forestpark; ☺6am-10pm). The superb, 1371-acre spread was the setting of the 1904 World's Fair. It's a beautiful place to escape to and is dotted with attractions, many free. Two walkable neighborhoods, The Loop and Central West End, are close.

The Visitor & Education Center (www.forestparkforever.org; 5595 Grand Dr; ☺8:30am-7pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat & Sun) is in an old streetcar pavilion and has a cafe. Free walking tours leave from here, or you can borrow an iPod audio tour.

Missouri History Museum MUSEUM
(www.mohistory.org; 5700 Lindell Blvd; ☺10am-5pm, to 8pm Tue) FREE Presents the story of St Louis, starring such worthies as the World's Fair, Charles Lindbergh (look for the sales receipt for his first plane – he bought it at a variety store!) and a host of bluesmen. Oral histories from those who fought segregation are moving.

St Louis Art Museum MUSEUM
(www.slam.org; 1 Fine Arts Dr; ☺10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Fri) FREE A grand beaux-arts palace originally built for the World's Fair. Now housing this storied institution, its collections span time and styles. A stunning new wing opened in 2013.

St Louis Zoo ZOO
(www.stlzoo.org; 1 Government Dr; fee for some exhibits; ☺8am-5pm daily, to 7pm Fri-Sun Jun-Aug; 🚶) FREE Divided into themed zones, this vast zoo includes a fascinating River's Edge area with African critters.

St Louis Science Center MUSEUM
(www.slsc.org; 5050 Oakland Ave; ☺9:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, from 11am Sun Jun-Aug, to 4:30pm rest of year; 🚶) FREE Live demonstrations, dinosaur exhibits, a planetarium and an IMAX theater (additional fee).

Activities

In warm weather head to Forest Park and sail over to the Boathouse (www.boathouse-forestpark.com; 6101 Government Dr; boat rental per hr $15; ☺10am-approx 1hr before sunset) to romp over Post-Dispatch Lake. In cooler

YOUR BELGIAN BUD

The world's largest beer plant, the historic Anheuser-Busch Brewery (www.budweisertours.com; crnr 12th & Lynch Sts; ☀9am-4pm Mon-Sat, 11:30am-4pm Sun, to 5pm Jun-Aug, from 10am Sep-May) FREE, gives the sort of marketing-driven tours you'd expect from the company with nearly half of the US market. View the bottling plant and famous Clydesdale horses. One thing to note: the purchase of this St Louis icon by Belgium's InBev in 2008 is still a sore spot locally. And don't ask: 'How do you remove all the flavor?'

weather, make for the Steinberg Ice Skating Rink (www.steinbergskatingrink.com; off N Kingshighway Blvd; admission $6, skates rental $4; ☀10am-9pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat mid-Nov-Feb) in the park. City Cycling Tours (www.citycyclingtours.com; 3hr tour $30; ☀daily year-round, call for times) offers narrated rides through the park (bicycles and helmets included) starting at the visitor center. Bike rental from the visitor center costs $10/25 per hour/half day.

Gateway Arch Riverboats BOAT TOUR (1hr tour adult/child $14/8; ☀10:30am-6pm) Churn up the Big Muddy on replica 19th-century steamboats. A park ranger narrates the midday cruises and those after 3pm sail subject to availability. There are also numerous dinner and drinking cruises. Various combo tickets are available.

★ Festivals & Events

Big Muddy Blues Festival MUSIC (www.bigmuddybluesfestival.com; ☀early Sep) FREE Five stages of riverfront blues at Laclede's Landing on the Labor Day weekend.

🛏 Sleeping

Most midrange and upscale chains have a hotel near the Gateway Arch in downtown. Indie cheapies are thin on the ground in interesting areas but you'll find plenty near the airport and you can ride the MetroLink light-rail into the city. Upscale Clayton on I-170 (exit 1F) also has rail access and a cluster of chains.

Huckleberry Finn Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎314-241-0076; www.huckfinnhostel.com; 1908 S 12th St; dm from $25; 📶) In two old town houses, this independent hostel is basic, but it's a friendly gathering spot with a piano in the lounge/kitchen, and free lockers. Its Souldard location is ideal. Be sure to reserve ahead.

America's Best Value Downtown St Louis MOTEL $
(☎314-421-6556; www.americasbestvalueinn.com; 1100 N 3rd St; r $60-100; 📶📶📶) When you're sleeping in one of the bare bones but clean rooms here, you can't see just what a charmless place this is. But the Laclede's Landing location is good, as are the prices.

Water Tower Inn HOSTEL $
(☎314-977-7500; www.watertowerinnstl.com; 3545 Lafayette Ave, St Louis University; r $80-120; 📶📶📶) Right in the middle of St Louis University and near the interesting Central West End, the 62 rooms over six floors here have corporate decor (some have views to the Arch). There's a laundry and free continental breakfast.

Parkway Hotel HOSTEL $$
(☎314-256-7777; www.theparkwayhotel.com; 4550 Forest Park Ave; r $105-270; 📶📶📶) Right in the midst of Central West End's upscale fun, this indie eight-story hotel contains 217 modern rooms inside a grand limestone building. Standards are high, hot breakfasts are included and you can't beat the location right across from Forest Park.

Napoleon's Retreat B&B $$
(☎314-772-6979; www.napoleonsretreat.com; 1815 Lafayette Ave; r $120-180, 2-night min weekends; 📶📶📶) A lovely Second French Empire home in historic and leafy Lafayette Sq, this B&B has five bold and beautiful rooms, each with private bath and antique furnishings.

Moonrise Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎314-721-1111; www.moonrisehotel.com; 6177 Delmar Blvd; r $120-280; 📶📶📶) The stylish eight-story Moonrise has a high profile amid the high energy of the Loop neighborhood. The 125 rooms sport a lunar motif but are grounded enough to slow things down to comfy.

🍴 Eating

St Louis boasts the region's most diverse selection of food. The magazine and website Sauce (www.saucemagazine.com) is full of reviews.

Downtown & Midtown

Laclede's Landing, along the riverfront next to the historic Eads Railway Bridge, has several restaurants, though generally people pop down here for the atmosphere – cobblestoned streets, converted brick buildings and free-flowing beer – rather than the food.

★ Crown Candy Kitchen CAFE $
(1401 St Louis Ave; mains $5-10; ☺ 10:30am-9pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun) An authentic family-run soda fountain that's been making families smile since 1913. Malts (try the butterscotch) come with spoons, the floats, well, float, and you can try the famous BLT. Homemade candies top it off. It's an oasis in the struggling North St Louis neighborhood.

Pappy's Smokehouse BARBECUE $$
(☎ 314-535-4340; www.pappysmokehouse.com; 3106 Olive St; mains from $9; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat, to 4pm Sun) Named one of the nation's best joints for barbecue, Pappy's serves luscious ribs, pulled pork, brisket and smoked turkey. With fame, however, comes popularity, so be prepared for long lines and crowded communal dining. Ameliorate the wait with dreams of the sweet-potato fries.

Soulard & Lafayette Square

Restaurants and pubs occupy most corners in Soulard, with plenty of live blues and Irish music. Just wander. Historic Lafayette Sq, 1 mile northwest, has various stylish spots.

★ Soulard Farmers Market MARKET $
(www.soulardmarket.com; 7th St; ☺ 8am-5pm Wed-Sat) A local treasure with a range of vendors selling regional produce, baked goods and prepared foods. Picnic or nosh yourself silly. Dating to 1779, it's pretension-free.

Bogart's Smoke House BARBECUE $$
(www.bogartssmokehouse.com; 1627 S 9th St; mains $7-15; ☺ 10:30am-4pm Tue-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat) The soul of Soulard? The smoky meats here draw lines of people who tear into all the standards plus specialties like prime rib. Extras such as the searingly hot voodoo sauce and the 'fire and ice pickles' have creative flair.

Joanie's Pizzeria PIZZERIA $$
(www.joanies.com; 2101 Menard St; mains $10-15; ☺ 11am-11pm) Long a favorite before a Cardinals game, this unassuming neighborhood bar and grill turns out beloved local-style pizza (although this version isn't made with Provel, the locally beloved cheese concoction). The sauce wins kudos as does the toasted ravioli. Grab a table in the hidden courtyard.

Eleven Eleven Mississippi MODERN AMERICAN $$
(☎ 314-241-9999; www.1111-m.com; 1111 Mississippi Ave; mains $9-22; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ☎) This popular bistro and wine bar fills an old shoe factory. Dinner mains draw on regional specialties with an Italian accent. Other options on the seasonal menu include sandwiches, pizzas, steaks and many veggie options. Excellent wine bar.

South Grand

Running along South Grand Blvd, this young, bohemian area near beautiful Tower Grove Park has a slew of excellent ethnic restaurants, many with outside terraces.

MoKaBe's Coffeehouse CAFE $
(www.mokabes.com; 3606 Arsenal St; mains $5-7; ☺ 8am-midnight; ☎) Overlooking Tower Grove Park, this hangout for neighborhood activists, hipsters and generally cool folk buzzes day and night. Grab a coffee, a baked treat, breakfast or a sandwich and ponder the views.

★ Local Harvest Cafe CAFE $$
(www.localharvestcafe.com; 3137 Morganford Rd; mains $8-16; ☺ 8am-9pm, to 2pm Mon) This small storefront place has a huge heart and a changing menu that's fresh and inventive, with lots of vegan and vegetarian options. Balance is provided by excellent mains such as the 'Locavore's Dream Burger.' Excellent Missouri-brewed beer list.

The Hill

This Italian neighborhood crammed with tortellini-sized houses has innumerable pasta joints. Stroll the tidy streets and stop for a coffee at an Italian cafe or deli.

Mama Toscano's ITALIAN $
(www.mamatoscano.com; 2201 Macklind Ave; mains $5-8; ☺ 7am-4pm Tue-Sat) More grocery than cafe, this corner Hill legend is renowned for its ravioli. Get an order toasted and enjoy outside at a picnic table (it's table-free inside). Other highlights include the sandwiches, especially the eggplant number; get it on garlic bread.

Adriana's ITALIAN $
(www.adrianasonthehill.com; 5101 Shaw Ave; mains $5-10; ☺10:30am-3pm Mon-Sat) Redolent of herbs, this Italian deli serves up fresh salads and sandwiches (get the meaty Hill Boy) to ravenous lunching crowds. There's also good pizza and pasta.

Milo's Bocce Garden ITALIAN $$
(www.milosboccegarden.com; 5201 Wilson Ave; mains $6-14; ☺11am-1am Mon-Sat) Enjoy sandwiches, pizzas and pastas in the vast outdoor courtyard or inside the old-world bar. Watch and join the regulars on the busy bocce ball courts.

☘ Central West End & the Loop

Sidewalk cafes rule Euclid Ave in posh and trendy old Central West End. The Loop is near Washington University and runs along Delmar Blvd (embedded with the St Louis Walk of Fame); it has many bars and ethnic restaurants catering to a hipster crowd.

Pickles Deli DELI $
(www.picklesdelistl.com; 22 N Euclid Ave; mains $5-10; ☺9am-7pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat) Top ingredients separate this slick deli from humdrum sandwich chains; for example, the French dip is laden with house-roasted beef. Options include excellent avocado spread and much more. Dine in or picnic in Forest Park.

Duff's AMERICAN $$
(www.duffsrestaurant.com; 392 N Euclid Ave; mains $8-20; ☺11:30am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri, 10am-11pm Sat) The hippies who once tossed back cheap Chablis here are now enjoying the many fine wines on the long list. Duff's has gentrified with the neighborhood and serves an eclectic fusion menu of sandwiches, salads and more ambitious fare. Score a sidewalk table outside under the trees.

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

Schlafly, Civil Life and Urban Chestnut are excellent local microbrews that will let you forget that you're in the home of Bud. StL Hops (www.stlhops.com) is a guide to local beers and where to drink them.

Laclede's Landing, Soulard and the Loop are loaded with pubs and bars, many with live music. Most bars close at 1:30am, though some have 3am licenses.

★ Blueberry Hill BAR
(www.blueberryhill.com; 6504 Delmar Blvd; ☺11am-late) St Louis native Chuck Berry still rocks the small basement bar here at least one Wednesday a month. The $35 tickets sell out very quickly. The venue hosts smaller-tier bands on the other nights. It has good pub food, games, darts and more.

Bridge Tap House & Wine Bar BAR
(www.thebridgestl.com; 1004 Locust St; ☺11am-1am) Slip onto a sofa or rest your elbows on a table at this romantic bar where you can savor fine wines, the best local beers and a variety of exquisite little bites from a seasonal menu.

Schlafly Tap Room BREWERY
(www.schlafly.com; 2100 Locust St; ☺11am-10pm, to 1am Wed-Sat) The most famous local craft brewer runs this excellent pub just west of downtown. The menu has lots of pub classics like sandwiches and fish-and-chips, while the beer list comprises many of the 50 brews produced during the year. Nab a seat in the beer garden.

ST LOUIS: LOCAL SPECIALTIES

Try these local specialties:

Frozen custard Don't dare leave town without licking yourself silly on this super-creamy ice-cream-like treat at historic Ted Drewes (6726 Chippewa St; cones 50c to $2.50; ☺11am-11pm Feb-Dec), west of the city center. There's a smaller summer-only branch south of the city center at 4224 S Grand Blvd. Rich and poor rub elbows enjoying a 'concrete,' a delectable stirred-up combination of flavors.

Toasted ravioli They're filled with meat, coated in breadcrumbs, then deep-fried. Practically every restaurant on the Hill serves them, most notably Mama Toscano's (p621).

St Louis pizza Its thin-crust, square-cut pizzas are really addictive. They're made with Provel cheese, a locally beloved gooey concoction of processed cheddar, Swiss and provolone. Local chain Imo's (www.imospizza.com; large specials $16), with over 70 locations across the metro area, bakes 'the square beyond compare.'

★ Entertainment

Check the Riverfront Times (www.riverfronttimes.com) for updates on entertainment options around town. Purchase tickets for most venues through MetroTix (<http://metrotix.com>).

Grand Center, west of downtown, is the heart of St Louis' theater scene and home of the St Louis Symphony Orchestra (www.stlsymphony.org; 718 N Grand Blvd), which has 50 free tickets for most performances (available online).

The Muny (www.muny.com; Forest Park; ☺mid-Jun–mid-Aug), an outdoor theater, hosts nightly summer Broadway musicals outdoors in Forest Park; some of the 12,000 seats are free (check the website).

The Grove, a strip of Manchester Ave between Kingshighway Blvd and S Vandeventer Ave, is the gay-and-lesbian community's hub, but Soulard, the Central West End and South Grand also have hangouts. Peruse Vital Voice (www.thevitalvoice.com) for more.

Pageant

LIVE MUSIC

(☎314-726-6161; www.thepageant.com; 6161 Delmar Blvd) A big venue for touring bands.

BB's

BLUES

(www.bbssjazzbluessoups.com; ☺6pm–3am) Part blues club, part blues museum, there's good music most nights in this glossy two-level joint. Good bar food includes legendary sweet-potato fries. Beale (www.bealeonbroadway.com; 701 S Broadway; ☺7pm–3am), right across the street, is also a great blues venue.

Just John's Club

GAY

(www.justjohnsclub.com; 4112 Manchester Ave; ☺3pm–3am) A Grove anchor, John's has a variety of bars inside and out and an ever-welcoming vibe.

Busch Stadium

BASEBALL

(www.stlcardinals.com; cnr Broadway & Clark Ave) The Cardinals play in this fun, retro stadium, opened in 2006. Second only to the New York Yankees in World Series wins, they last won the pennant in 2011.

Shopping

The Loop and Euclid Ave in the Central West End have the best mix of local shops.

Cherokee Antique Row

ANTIQUES

(www.cherokeeantiquerow.com; Cherokee St, east of Jefferson Ave to Indiana Ave) Six blocks of antique-filled stores in the appropriately historic Cherokee-Lemp neighborhood.

MISSOURI: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Sixty-five miles south of St Louis, the petite, French-founded Mississippi River town of Sainte Genevieve oozes history. Many of the restored 18th- and 19th-century buildings are now B&Bs and gift shops.

The George Washington Carver National Monument (www.nps.gov/gwca; ☺9am–5pm) FREE is at the birthplace of this African American scientist. Carver's experimentations with peanuts have been taught to generations of American school kids but, as the park makes clear, he was truly a renaissance man, with a vast range of interests and accomplishments. The museum is near Joplin. Take exit 11A off I-44, then follow US 71 4.5 miles south to Hwy V, then go east.

Left Bank Books

BOOKS

(www.left-bank.com; 399 N Euclid Ave; ☺10am–10pm Mon–Sat, 11am–6pm Sun) A great indie bookstore stocking new and used titles. There are excellent recommendations of books by local authors and frequent author readings.

i Information

MEDIA

KDHF FM 88.1 (www.kdhx.org) Community-run radio playing folk, blues, odd rock and local arts reports.

Riverfront Times (www.riverfronttimes.com) The city's alternative weekly.

St Louis Post-Dispatch (www.stltoday.com) St Louis' daily newspaper.

POST

Post Office (1720 Market St; ☺8am–8pm Mon–Fri, 8am–1pm Sat)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Explore St Louis (www.explorestlouis.com; cnr 7th St & Washington Ave, America's Center; ☺8:30am–5pm Mon–Sat, 11am–4pm Sun) An excellent resource, with other branches in Kiener Plaza (corner of 6th and Chestnut), and at the airport.

Missouri Welcome Center (☎314-869-7100; www.visitmo.com; I-270 exit 34; ☺8am–5pm)

i Getting There & Around

Lambert-St Louis International Airport (STL; www.flystl.com) is the hub of the Great Plains, with flights to many US cities. The airport is 12 miles northwest of downtown and is connected by the light-rail MetroLink ($4), taxi (about $40) and Go Best Express (☎314-222-5300; www.gobestexpress.com; one-way from $21) shuttles, which can drop you off in the main areas of town.

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com; 551 S 16th St) Lincoln Service travels five times daily to Chicago (from $26, 5½ hours). Two daily Missouri River Runner trains go to/from Kansas City (from $29, 5½ hours). The daily Texas Eagle goes to Dallas (16 hours; check website for prices as the fare range is vast).

Greyhound (430 S 15th St) Buses depart several times daily to Chicago ($25, six to seven hours), Memphis ($25, six hours), Kansas City ($25, 4½ hours) and many more cities. The station is near Amtrak downtown.

Megabus (www.megabus.com) Runs services to Chicago and Kansas City from as little as $15 one way; it stops next to Union Station on 20th St.

Metro (www.metrostlouis.org; single/day pass $2.25/7.50) Runs local buses and the MetroLink light-rail system (which connects the airport, the Loop, Central West End and downtown). Buses 30 and 40 serve Soulard from downtown.

St Louis County Cabs (☎314-993-8294; www.countycab.com) If you need a taxi, text or call this company.

Around St Louis

Several appealing and historic river towns north and south of St Louis on the Mississippi and just west on the Missouri make popular weekend trips for St Louisans, including the historic pair of St Charles and Hannibal. If you're looking for some grand meeting of the two rivers however, don't. The two muddies meet in a swirl of silt and are surrounded by square miles of – you guessed it – muddy and inaccessible floodplains.

St Charles

This Missouri River town, founded in 1769 by the French, is just 20 miles northwest of St Louis. The cobblestoned Main St anchors a well-preserved downtown where you can visit the first state capitol (200 S Main St; admission free, tours adult/child $4/2.50; ☎10am-4pm Mon-Sat, noon-4pm Sun, closed Mon Nov-Mar). Ask at the visitor center (☎800-366-2427; www.historicstcharles.com; 230 S Main St; ☎8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun) about tours, which pass some rare French colonial architecture in the Frentown neighborhood just to the north.

Lewis and Clark began their epic journey in St Charles on May 21, 1804, and their encampment is reenacted annually on that date. The Lewis & Clark Boathouse & Nature Center (www.lewisandclarkcenter.org; 1050 Riverside Dr; adult/child $5/2; ☎10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) has displays about the duo and replicas of their boats.

Hotels are spread along St Charles' four I-70 exits. St Charles also has several historic B&Bs, including Boone's Colonial Inn (☎888-377-0003; www.boonescolonialinn.com; 322 S Main St; r $165-370; ☎☎). The three rooms in the 1820 stone row houses are posh.

Hannibal

When the air is sultry in this old river town, you almost expect to hear the whistle of a paddle steamer. Mark Twain's boyhood home, 100 miles northwest of St Louis, has some authentically vintage sections and plenty of sites where you can get a sense of the muse and his creations Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn.

The Mark Twain Boyhood Home & Museum (www.marktwainmuseum.org; 415 N Main St; adult/child $11/6; ☎9am-5pm) presents eight buildings, including two homes Twain lived in and that of Laura Hawkins, the real-life inspiration for Becky Thatcher. Afterward, float down the Mississippi on the Mark Twain Riverboat (www.marktwainriverboat.com; Center St; 1hr sightseeing cruise adult/child $16/11; ☎Apr-Nov, schedule varies). National Tom Sawyer Days (www.hannibaljaycees.org; ☎around Jul 4 weekend) features frog-jumping and fence-painting contests and much more.

Many of Hannibal's historic homes are now B&Bs. The Hannibal Visitors Bureau (☎573-221-2477; www.visithannibal.com; 505 N 3rd St; ☎9am-5pm) keeps contacts for all forms of lodging. Reagan's Queen Anne (☎573-221-0774; www.reagansqueenanne.com; 313 N 5th St; r $110-270) is a lavish B&B in a period house. Catch up on your Twain reading on the verandah.

ROUTE 66: GET YOUR KICKS IN MISSOURI

The Show-Me State will show you a long swath of the Mother Road. Meet the route in St Louis, where Ted Drewes (p622) has been serving frozen custard to generations of roadies from its Route 66 location on Chippewa St. There are a couple of well-signed historic routes through the city.

Follow I-44 (the interstate is built over most of Route 66 in Missouri) west to Route 66 State Park (www.mostateparks.com/route66.htm; I-44 exit 266; ☀️ 7am-30min after sunset) with its visitor center and museum (☀️ 9am-4:30pm Mar-Nov) FREE inside a 1935 roadhouse. Although the displays show vintage scenes from around St Louis, the real intrigue here concerns the town of Times Beach, which once stood on this very site. It was contaminated with dioxin and in the 1980s the government had to raze the entire area.

Head southwest on I-44 to Stanton, then follow the signs to family mobbed Meramec Caverns (www.americascave.com; Exit 230 off I-44; adult/child $20/10; ☀️ 8:30am-7:30pm summer, reduced hours rest of year), as interesting for the Civil War history and hokey charm as for the stalactites; and the conspiracy-crazy Jesse James Wax Museum (www.jessejameswaxmuseum.com; adult/child $7/3; ☀️ 9am-6pm Jun-Aug, reduced hr rest of yr), which posits that James faked his death and lived until 1951.

The Route 66 Museum & Research Center (www.lebanon-laclede.lib.mo.us; 915 S Jefferson St; ☀️ 8am-8pm Mon-Thu, 8am-5pm Fri & Sat) FREE at the library in Lebanon has memorabilia past and present. Ready for a snooze? Head to the 1940s Munger Moss Motel (☎️ 417-532-3111; www.mungermoss.com; 1336 E Rte 66; r from $50; 🚰 🚿 🚻). It's got a monster of a neon sign and Mother Road-loving owners.

Ditch the interstate west of Springfield, taking Hwy 96 to Civil War-era Carthage with its historic town square and 66 Drive-In Theatre (www.66drivein.com; 17231 Old 66 Blvd; adult/child $7/3; ☀️ Fri-Sun Apr-Oct). In Joplin, which is still recovering from its horrible 2011 tornado, get on State Hwy 66, turning onto old Route 66 (the pre-1940s route), before the Kansas state line.

The Route 66 Association of Missouri (www.missouri66.org) has loads of info. And don't miss the Conway Welcome Center (I-44 Mile 110, near Conway), which has an over-the-top Route 66 theme and scads of info on the historic road and Missouri in general.

Along I-70

The main highway artery between St Louis and Kansas City, I-70 is a congested dud (with a surprising number of porn and sex shops); whenever possible, leave the interstate.

You'll find much to engage with on US 50, which meanders on a parallel path south of I-70. From Jefferson City, Hwy 94 follows the Missouri River east toward St Louis and passes through a beautiful region of wineries and forests.

There are a couple of good excuses to exit if you are on I-70. Columbia is home to the much-lauded University of Missouri. The downtown is easily walkable and is a very attractive collection of old brick buildings that feature thriving cafes, bars, bookstores and more. Try Uprise Bakery (10 Hitt St; meals $3-10; ☀️ 7am-8pm Mon-Sat), renowned for its organic meals and baked goods.

Some 30 miles west of Columbia and 10 miles north of I-70, Arrow Rock State Historic Site (www.mostateparks.com/park/arrow-rock-state-historic-site; ☀️ visitor center 10am-4pm daily Mar-Nov, Fri-Sun Dec-Feb) is a small preserved town that feels little changed since the 1830s when it was on the main stage-coach route west.

The Ozarks

Ozark hill country spreads across southern Missouri and extends into northern Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma.

At lush and sprawling Johnson's Shut-Ins State Park (www.mostateparks.com/jshutins.htm), 8 miles north of Lesterville on Hwy N, the swift Black River swirls through canyon-like gorges (shut-ins). The swimming is some of the most exciting you'll find outside a water park.

North of US 60, in the state's south-central region, the Ozark National Scenic Riverways (www.nps.gov/ozar) – the Current and Jack's Fork Rivers – boast 134 miles of splendid canoeing and inner-tubing (rental agencies abound). Weekends often get busy and boisterous. The park headquarters, outfitters and motels are in Van Buren. Eminence also makes a good base. There are many campgrounds along the rivers. Sinuous Hwy E is a scenic gem.

Branson

Hokey Branson is a cheerfully shameless tourist resort. The main attractions are the more than 50 theaters hosting 100-plus country music, magic and comedy shows. The neon-lit '76 Strip' (Hwy 76) packs in miles of motels, restaurants, wax museums, shopping malls, fun parks and theaters. As Bart Simpson once said: 'It's like Vegas; if it were run by Ned Flanders.'

During the summer and again in November and December, the SUV-laden traffic often crawls. It's often faster to walk than drive, although few others have this idea.

The Branson/Lakes Area Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎800-296-0463; www.explorebranson.com; junction Hwy 248 & US 65; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-4pm Sun), just west of the US 65 junction, has town and lodging information. The scores of 'Visitor Information' centers around town (even the 'official' ones) are fronts for time-share sales outfits. Sit through a pitch, however, and you can get free tickets to a show.

👁 Sights & Activities

While fudge is available in copious quantities, irony is not: when we drove by a much-hyped Titanic attraction, the sign implored people to come in and 'renew your wedding vows.' Expect every kind of hokey attraction along the main strips – yes there's even a giant ball of twine.

However, there is an actual old town of Branson, which has an authentic charm and a nice setting down by the White River (stroll the pretty walks). Drop into Dick's 5 & 10 (www.dicksoldtime5and10.com; 103 West Main St; ☀8:30am-9pm), where 'I haven't seen that in years!' is heard up and down the aisles jammed with old-time candies, treats, toys, homewares and more. Could we say no to the BB Bats? No!

Silver Dollar City

AMUSEMENT PARK

(www.silverdollarcity.com; adult/child $58/48; ☀hrs vary) A Branson original, this huge amusement park west of town has thrilling roller coasters and water rides.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

There are dozens of indie and chain motels (starting at around $35) along Hwy 76 on the strip. Nicer places are in quieter locales. Table Rock Lake, snaking through the hills southwest of town, is a deservedly popular destination for boating, fishing, camping and other outdoor activities, and it also has good-value lodging.

Branson cuisine consists mostly of fast food, junk food and all-you-can-eat buffets (most priced from $5 to $10).

Branson Hotel

B&amp;B $$

(☎417-544-9814; www.thebransonhotel.com; 214 W Main St; r $120-150) Dating to 1903, this plush B&B has been remodelled into a fine nine-room boutique lodge right in the old town. It's away from the frenetic commercialism of the strips and anonymous chains.

Indian Trails Resort

RESORT $$

(☎417-338-2327; www.indiantrailsresort.com; Indian Point Rd; cabins $95-190; ☀☒) On Table Rock Lake 9 miles south of Branson, this low-key resort has cozy cabins.

Billy Bob's Dairyland

AMERICAN $

(1901 W 76 Country Blvd; mains $4-9; ☀10:30am-8pm) Excellent shakes and juicy, no-nonsense burgers are the stars at this always-busy diner.

★ Entertainment

Popular theater shows feature performers you may have thought were dead (eg Andy Williams). However, Branson has been the salvation for scores of entertainers young and old whose careers were otherwise fading. Patriotic themes are a stock part of every show. Fundamentalist Christian themes are also common; expect dancers wearing enough fabric to outfit all of their counterparts in Vegas for a year.

Showtimes are geared for older travelers – you can catch a 'Red Skelton Tribute' at 10am (other tribute shows include John Denver, Neil Diamond, Journey et al), but most performances are in the afternoon and early evening. Prices range from about $25 to $50 a head, but you rarely need pay full price. Pick up any of the coupon books around town or stop by the myriad ticket outlets offering ‘deals.’

Baldknobbers Jamboree VARIETY
(www.baldknobbers.com; 2835 W Hwy 76; adult/child $30/15) From the fake buck teeth in the comedy acts to the cornball country music, this show helped put Branson on the map back in 1959 and it hasn't let up since.

i Getting There & Away

Tucked into the scenic southern corner of the state, Branson is surprisingly hard to reach, although this means you may end up driving some rural and lovely Ozark two-lane roads. Branson Airport (BKG; www.flybranson.com) has limited service from Southwest and Frontier airlines.

Kansas City

Wide open and inviting, Kansas City (KC) is famed for its barbecues (100-plus joints smoke it up), fountains (more than 200; on par with Rome) and jazz. Attractive neighborhoods jostle for your attention and you can easily run aground for several days as you enjoy the local vibe, among the hippest in the Plains.

History

Kansas City began life in 1821 as a trading post but really came into its own once westward expansion began. The Oregon, California and Santa Fe trails all met steamboats loaded with pioneers here.

Jazz exploded in the early 1930s under Mayor Tom Pendergast's Prohibition-era tenure, when he allowed alcohol to flow freely. At its peak, KC had more than 100 nightclubs, dance halls and vaudeville houses swinging to the beat (and booze). The roaring good times ended with Pendergast's indictment on tax evasion (the same way they got Capone) and the scene had largely faded by the mid-1940s.

i Sights & Activities

State Line Rd divides KC Missouri and KC Kansas (a conservative suburban sprawl with little to offer travelers). KC Missouri has some distinct areas, including the art deco-filled downtown. Quality Hill, around W 10th St and Broadway, has grand, restored buildings from the 1920s.

Interesting neighborhoods include the following:

JUDGING A LIBRARY BY ITS COVER

Talk about large-format books! The Kansas City Public Library (112 W 10th St) took inspiration from its shelves when it built an adjoining parking garage: the facade looks like 22 25-foot-tall books. Titles include Catch-22, Fahrenheit 451 and To Kill a Mockingbird.

39th St West KC's funkier area is a strip of hemp shops, boutiques and lots of ethnic eateries; it's sometimes called 'Restaurant Row'.

Country Club Plaza Often shortened to 'the Plaza,' this 1920s shopping district is an attraction in itself.

Crossroads Arts District Around Baltimore and 20th Sts, it lives up to its name.

Crown Plaza South of downtown, this 1970s development is anchored by several major hotels and Hallmark (yes, the greeting card company is located right here).

Historic Jazz District On the upswing, this old African American neighborhood is at 18th and Vine Sts.

River Market Historic and still home to a large farmers market; immediately north of downtown.

Westport On Westport Rd just west of Main St and filled with alluring locally owned restaurants and bars.

★ National WWI Museum MUSEUM
(www.theworldwar.org; 100 W 26th St; adult/child $14/8; ☀10am-5pm, closed Mon Sep-May) You enter this impressive modern museum on a glass walkway over a field of red poppies, the symbol of the trench fighting. Through detailed and engaging displays you learn about a war that is almost forgotten by most Americans. The only quibble is that more effort is spent on the hardware and uniforms of the war as opposed to the actual horrific conditions. The museum is crowned by the historic Liberty Memorial, which has views over the city.

Museums at 18th & Vine MUSEUMS
(1616 E 18th St; one museum adult/child $10/6, both museums $15/8; ☀9am-6pm Tue-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) At the heart of KC's 1920s African American neighborhood is this museum complex. You'll learn about different styles, rhythms, instruments and musicians – including KC native Charlie Parker – at the interactive American Jazz Museum (www.americanjazzmuseum.com). The Negro Leagues Baseball Museum (www.nlbm.com) covers African American teams (such as the KC Monarchs and New York Black Yankees) that flourished until baseball became fully integrated.

College Basketball Experience MUSEUM
(www.collegebasketballexperience.com; 1401 Grand Blvd; adult/child $12/9; ☺ 10am-6pm Wed-Sun) Really a gussied-up basketball hall of fame, this fun memorabilia-filled museum lets you try free throws or pretend you're an announcer calling them. It's connected to the glitzy Sprint Center, a vast arena in search of a major pro-sports franchise.

Country Club Plaza NEIGHBORHOOD
(www.countryclubplaza.com) Built in the 1920s, this posh commercial district (centered on Broadway and 47th St) boasts finely detailed, sumptuous Spanish architecture. It's rich with public art and sculptures – look for the walking tour brochure and check out just two examples: the Spanish Bullfight Mural (Central St) and the Fountain of Neptune (47th St & Wornall Rd).

Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art MUSEUM
(www.nelson-atkins.org; 4525 Oak St; ☺ 10am-5pm Wed & Sat, 10am-9pm Thu & Fri, noon-5pm Sun) FREE Giant badminton shuttlecocks (the building represents the net) surround this encyclopedic museum, which has standout European painting, photography and Asian art collections. Its luminescent Bloch Building, designed by Steven Holl, has earned rave reviews.

Arabia Steamboat Museum MUSEUM
(www.1856.com; 400 Grand Blvd; adult/child $16/6; ☺ 10am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, noon-5:30pm Sun, last tour 90min before closing) In River Market, this museum displays 200 tons of salvaged 'treasure' from a riverboat that sank in 1856 (one of hundreds claimed by the river).

Kemper Museum of Contemporary Art MUSEUM
(☎ 816-753-5784; www.kemperart.org; 4420 Warwick Blvd; ☺ 10am-4pm Tue-Thu, 10am-9pm Fri & Sat, 11am-5pm Sun) FREE Near the Nelson-Atkins and Country Club Plaza, this museum is small and edgy.

Toy & Miniature Museum of Kansas City MUSEUM
(www.toyandminiaturemuseum.org; 5235 Oak St; adult/child $7/5; ☺ 10am-4pm Wed-Sat, from 1pm Sun; ♿) Over 100 years of toys spread over 38 rooms.

★ Festivals & Events

American Royal World Series of Barbecue FOOD
(www.americanroyal.com; ☺ first weekend in Oct) The world's largest barbecue contest (over 500 teams); it takes place in the old stockyards.

🏠 Sleeping

Downtown, Westport and the Plaza offer good lodging options near the action. For something cheap, you'll need to head out on the interstate: there are scores of chains north on I-35 and I-29, and east on I-70.

America's Best Value Inn MOTEL $
(☎ 816-531-9250; www.americasbestvalueinn.com; 3240 Broadway; r $60-80; 📞 📺 📺 📺) Ideally located and convenient to everything, this basic 52-room motel has inside corridors and a pool big enough for a small family.

★ Q Hotel MOTEL $$
(☎ 816-931-0001; www.theqhotel.com; 560 Westport Rd; r $110-140; 📞 📺 📺 📺) This environmentally conscious indie hotel is centrally located in Westport. All 123 rooms have a bright color scheme that seems as fresh as spring. Bounteous free breakfasts include fair-trade coffee. Extras include free local shuttles and evening drinks.

Southmoreland on the Plaza B&B $$
(☎ 816-531-7979; www.southmoreland.com; 116 E 46th St, Country Club Plaza; r incl breakfast $120-200; 📞 📺 📺) The 12 rooms at this posh B&B are furnished like the home of your rich country-club friends. It's a big old mansion between the art museums and the Plaza. Extras include Jacuzzis, decks, sherry, fresh flowers and more.

Aladdin BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎ 816-421-8888; www.hialaddin.com; 1215 Wyandotte St; r $90-220; 📞 📺 📺) Affiliated with Holiday Inn, this 16-story hotel dates from 1925. It has been restored to its Italian Romanesque splendor and has 193 compact yet daringly stylish rooms. It was a legendary haunt of mobsters and Greta Garbo.

BARBECUE JOINTS IN KANSAS CITY

Savoring hickory-smoked brisket, pork, chicken or ribs at one of the barbecue joints around town is a must for any visitor. The local style is pit-smoked and slathered with heavily seasoned vinegar-based sauces. You may well swoon for 'burnt ends,' the crispy ends of smoked pork or beef brisket. Amazing.

★ Oklahoma Joe's (www.oklahomajoesbbq.com; 3002 W 47th Ave; mains $6-15; ☎ 11am-8:30pm Mon-Thu, to 9:30pm Fri & Sat) The best reason to cross the state border (it's not far from the Plaza), this legendary BBQ joint housed in a brightly lit old gas station makes grown men's voices crack with joyous emotion. The pulled pork is pleasure on a plate; expect lines.

Arthur Bryant's (www.arthurbryantsbbq.com; 1727 Brooklyn Ave; mains $8-15; ☎ 10am-9:30pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, 11am-8pm Sun) Not far from the Jazz District, this famous institution serves up piles of superb BBQ in a somewhat slick setting. The sauce is silky and fiery; service is sweet.

LC's Bar-B-Q (5800 Blue Pkwy; mains $6-12; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon-Sat) Just 4 miles east of the Plaza, this unadorned eatery does nothing to distract from KC's best burnt ends.

✂ Eating & Drinking

Westport and 39th St W are your best bets for clusters of atmospheric local food and drink places. Don't leave town without hitting several barbecue joints.

The heavily hyped Power & Light District (www.powerandlightdistrict.com) is a vast urban development centered on Grand Blvd and W 12th St. It has dozens of chain restaurants, formula bars and live-performance venues. When there's no sporting event or convention in town it can seem rather bleak.

Be sure to try a locally brewed Boulevard Beer; bars close between 1:30am and 3am.

City Market

MARKET $

(www.thecitymarket.org; cnr W 5th St & Grand Blvd; ☎ hrs vary) City Market is a haven for small local businesses selling an idiosyncratic range of foods and other items. Ethnic groceries abound and there is a farmers market for regional producers on weekends. Little cafes and greasy spoons do big business from breakfast through to dinner.

Winstead's Steakburger

BURGERS $

(www.winsteadsteakburger.com; 101 Emanuel Cleaver III Blvd; mains $4-6; ☎ 6am-midnight) Cheery waiters sling plates of excellent fresh burgers to families, hungover hipsters and more at this Country Club Plaza institution. Don't miss the onion rings and chili.

Room 39

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 816-753-3939; www.rm39.com; 1719 W 39th St; mains lunch $7-12, dinner $20-30; ☎ 7am-3pm & 5-10pm Mon-Sat; 🍷) The local provenance of the food at this excellent restaurant is listed at the top of the menu. Breakfast and lunch are casual with excellent eggs, burgers, salads and more. Dinner brings out white tablecloths and seasonal fare. The $39 tasting menu is a bargain.

★ Rieger Hotel Grill & Exchange

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 816-471-2177; www.theriegerkc.com; 1924 Main St; mains $20-30; ☎ 11am-2pm Mon-Fri, 5-10pm Mon-Sat) One of KC's most innovative restaurants is housed in what was once a humdrum 1915 vintage hotel in the Crossroads Arts District. Today it's been spiffed up to match the creative fare on Howard Hanna's seasonal menu. (Note the bathroom plaque pointing out where Al Capone once sought release.)

★ Zoo Bar

BAR

(1220 McGee St; ☎ 11am-1:30am) The raw-edged antidote to the artifice of the nearby Power & Light District. Shoot some pool, shoot off your mouth, write something stronger than 'shoot' on the highly entertaining bathroom walls.

McCoy's Public House

BREWERY

(www.beerkc.com; 4057 Pennsylvania Ave; ☎ 11am-3am, to midnight Sun) The patio at this Westport brewpub is the place to be on a balmy day. Beers are excellent and vary through the year. The food is strictly comfort and quite good: warm your cockles with mac 'n' cheese on a snowy night.

Westport Coffeehouse

CAFE

(www.westportcoffeehouse.com; 4010 Pennsylvania St; mains $6-7; ☺7:30am-11pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, 10am-10pm Sun; ☎) This laid-back place off the main drag has good coffee and specialty teas. Look for live music, comedy, art films and more at night.

★ Entertainment

The free weekly Pitch (www.pitch.com) has the best cultural calendar. Live-music venues are scattered across the city.

★ Mutual Musicians Foundation

JAZZ

(www.thefoundationjamson.org; 1823 Highland Ave; ☺midnight-6am Fri & Sat) Near 18th and Vine in the Historic Jazz District, this former union hall for African American musicians has hosted after-hours jams since 1930. Famous veteran musicians jam with young hotshots. It's friendly and pretension-free. A little bar serves cheap drinks in plastic cups.

Blue Room

BLUES, JAZZ

(www.americanjazzmuseum.com; 1616 E 18th St; free Mon & Thu, cover varies Fri & Sat; ☺5-11pm Mon & Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) This slick club, part of the American Jazz Museum, hosts local talent for free on Monday and Thursday. Touring acts perform weekends.

Riot Room

LIVE MUSIC

(www.theriotroom.com; 4048 Broadway; cover varies; ☺5pm-3am) Part dive, part cutting-edge live-music venue, the Riot Room always rocks – and has many good beers.

Kauffman Center for the Performing Arts

PERFORMING ARTS

(www.kauffmancenter.org; 1601 Broadway) Twin venues headline this stunning new place designed by Moshe Safdie. There's a varied schedule of theater, opera, ballet, music and more through the year.

Truman Sports Complex

STADIUM

(I-70 exit 9) Locals are passionate about Major League Baseball's Royals (www.kcroyals.com) and the NFL's Chiefs (www.kcchiefs.com). Both play at gleaming side-by-side stadiums east of the city near Independence.

🛍 Shopping

Historic Country Club Plaza is KC's most appealing shopping destination (its lavish architecture is modeled on Seville, Spain, and dates to 1923), though sadly it's mostly upscale national chains. Westport has more eclectic shops, as does 39th St. Over 60 galleries call Crossroads Arts District home.

Halls

DEPARTMENT STORE

(www.halls.com; 211 Nichols Rd, Country Club Plaza; ☺10am-6pm, to 8pm Fri & Sat) Founded in 1913 by the same family behind, you guessed it, Hallmark, this high-end store is so gracious you may wish you were wearing gloves. There's top merchandise in KC's answer to Nordstroms.

Prospero's Books

BOOKS

(www.prosperosbookstore.com; 1800 W 39th St; ☺10am-9pm) Funky used bookstore in a vibey part of town. Great recommendations, live poetry and even a few bands.

📍 Information

Greater Kansas City Visitor Center (☎800-767-7700; www.visitkc.com; Union Station, 30 W Pershing Rd; ☺9:30am-4pm Tue-Sun) The National WWI Museum also has lots of local info.

Missouri Welcome Center (☎816-889-3330; www.visitmo.com; I-70 exit 9; ☺8am-5pm) Statewide maps and information near the Truman Sports Complex.

📍 Getting There & Around

KC International Airport (MCI; www.flykci.com) is a confusing array of circular terminals 16 miles northwest of downtown. A taxi to downtown/Plaza costs about $40/45. Or take the cheaper Super Shuttle (☎800-258-3826; www.super-shuttle.com; downtown/Plaza $18/20).

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) In majestic Union Station; has two daily Missouri River Runner trains to St Louis (from $29, 5½ hours). The Southwest Chief stops here on its daily runs between Chicago and LA.

Greyhound (www.greyhound.com; 1101 Troost St) Sends buses daily to St Louis ($25, 4½ hours) and Denver ($70, 11 hours) from the station poorly located east of downtown.

Jefferson Lines (www.jeffersonlines.com) Heads to Omaha ($45, three to five hours), Minneapolis ($75, eight to 10 hours) via Des Moines, and Oklahoma City ($75, seven hours) via Tulsa.

Megabus (www.megabus.com; cnr 3rd St & Grand Blvd) Serves St Louis and Chicago for as little as $15.

Metro (www.kcata.org; adult/child $1.50/75¢) A one-day unlimited bus pass costs $3 on the bus. Bus 47 runs regularly between downtown, Westport and Country Club Plaza.

Yellow Cab (☎888-471-6050; www.kansas-city-taxi.com)

Around Kansas City

Independence

Just east of Kansas City, picture-perfect Independence is the perfect stereotype for an old Midwestern small town. It was the home of Harry S Truman, US president from 1945 to 1953.

Sights & Activities

Independence's attractions can easily fill a day.

★ Truman Home HISTORIC BUILDING
(www.nps.gov/hstr; 219 N Delaware St; tours adult/child $4/free; ☉9am-4:30pm Tue-Sat) See the simple life Harry and Bess lived in this basic but charming wood house. It is furnished with their original belongings and you fully expect the couple to wander out and say hello. Truman lived here from 1919 to 1972 and in retirement entertained visiting dignitaries in his strictly pedestrian front room – he's said to have hoped none of the callers would linger more than 30 minutes.

Tour tickets are sold at the visitor center (223 N Main St; ☉8:30am-5pm Tue-Sat). Ask for directions to the Truman Family Farm, where the future president 'got his common sense.'

Truman Presidential Museum & Library MUSEUM
(www.trumanlibrary.org; 500 W US 24; adult/child $8/3; ☉9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Thousands of objects, including the famous 'The BUCK STOPS here!' sign, from the man who led the US through one of its most tumultuous eras, are displayed in this vast, modern building.

National Frontier Trails Museum MUSEUM
(www.frontiertrailsmuseum.org; 318 W Pacific St; adult/child $6/3; ☉9am-4:30pm Mon-Sat, 12:30-4:30pm Sun) Gives a good look at life for the pioneers along the Santa Fe, California and Oregon Trails; many began their journey in Independence.

★ Truman Historic Walking Trail WALKING TOUR
Starting at the Truman Home visitor center, this 2.7-mile self-guiding route leads to dozens of Truman-related sites, including the courthouse where he began his political career. On summer Saturdays at 9am rangers lead the walk.

Sleeping & Eating

Higher Ground Hotel HOTEL $
(☎816-836-0292; www.highergroundhotel.com; 200 N Delaware St; r $75-100; ♿☎) Stay across from the Truman House at this modern place that looks like a school. The 30 rooms are commodious and comfortable.

Clinton's Soda Fountain ICE CREAM $
(www.clintonsodafountain.com; 100 W Maple Ave; menu $4-8; ☉11am-8pm Mon-Sat) Little changed from when Truman got his first job here as a soda jerk.

St Joseph

The first Pony Express set out, carrying mail from 'St Jo' 2000 miles west to California, in 1860. The service, making the trip in as little as eight days, lasted just 18 months before telegraph lines made it redundant. The Pony Express National Museum (www.ponyexpress.org; 914 Penn St; adult/child $6/3; ☉9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun) tells the story of the Express and its riders, who were mostly orphans due to the dangers.

St Jo, 50 miles north of Kansas City, was also home to outlaw Jesse James. He was killed at what is now the Jesse James Home Museum (www.ponyexpressjessejames.com; cnr 12th & Penn Sts; adult/child $4/2; ☉9am-4pm Mon-Sat, 1-4pm Sun, Sat & Sun only Nov-Mar). The fateful bullet hole is still in the wall.

Housed in the former 'State Lunatic Asylum No 2,' the Glore Psychiatric Museum (www.stjosephmuseum.org; 3406 Frederick Ave; adult/child $5/3; ☉10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) gives a frightening and fascinating look at lobotomies, the 'bath of surprise' and other discredited treatments. Tickets also include entrance to several other museums.

Get details on the town's many museums at the visitor center (☎816-232-1839; www.stjomo.com; 502 N Woodbine Rd; ☉hrs vary) near I-29 exit 47, where most hotels are located.

IOWA

Instead of two girls for every boy, Iowa has eight pigs for every person. But there's a lot more to do here than roll in the mud. The towering bluffs on the Mississippi River and the soaring Loess Hills lining the Missouri River bookend the state; in between you'll find the writers' town of Iowa City, the commune-dwellers of the Amana Colonies and lots of little towns full of highlights.

In fact, Iowa surprises in many ways. It makes or breaks presidential hopefuls: the Iowa Caucus opens the national election battle, and wins by George W Bush in 2000 and Barack Obama in 2008 stunned many pundits and launched their victorious campaigns.

History

After the 1832 Black Hawk War pushed local Native Americans westward, immigrants flooded into Iowa from all parts of the world and hit the ground farming. Some established experimental communities such as the Germans of the Amana Colonies. Others spread out and kept coaxing the soil (95% of the land is fertile) until Iowa attained its current status as a leading grain producer (biofuel has caused a boomlet) and the US leader in hogs and corn (much of the latter ends up as syrup in junk food).

i Information

Iowa Bed & Breakfast Guild (☎ 800-743-4692; www.ia-bednbreakfast-inns.com)

Iowa State Parks (www.iowadnr.gov) State parks are free to visit. Half of the park campsites are reservable; fees range from $6 to $20 per night.

Iowa Tourism Office (www.traveliowa.com)

IOWA FACTS

Nickname Hawkeye State

Population 3.1 million

Area 56,275 sq miles

Capital city Des Moines (population 206,600)

Sales tax 6-7%

Birthplace of Painter Grant Wood (1891–1942), actor John Wayne (1907–79), author Bill Bryson (b 1951)

Home of Madison County's bridges

Politics Center-right with flashes of liberalism

Famous for Iowa Caucus that opens the presidential election season

Official flower Wild rose

Driving distances Dubuque to Chicago 180 miles, Des Moines to Rapid City 625 miles

Iowa Wine & Beer (www.iowawineandbeer.com) Craft brewing and, yes, winemaking are booming in Iowa. Get the handy app.

Des Moines

Des Moines, meaning 'of the monks' not 'in the corn' as the surrounding fields might suggest, is Iowa's snoozy capital. The town really is rather dull, but does have a stately state capitol and one of the nation's best state fairs. Pause, but then get out and see the state.

👁 Sights & Activities

The Des Moines River slices through downtown. The Court Ave Entertainment District sits just west, while East Village, at the foot of the capitol, and east of the river, is home to galleries, eateries, clubs and a few gay bars.

State Capitol

HISTORIC BUILDING

(cnr E 9th St & Grand Ave; ☎ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat) FREE The bling-heavy capitol (1886) must have been Liberace's favorite government building. Every detail, from the sparkling gold dome to the spiral staircases and stained glass in the law library, seems to strive to outdo the other. Join a free tour and you can climb halfway up the dome.

★ Festivals & Events

★ Iowa State Fair

FESTIVAL

(www.iowastatefair.org; cnr E 30th St & E University Ave; adult/child $11/5; ☎ 9am-midnight mid-Aug; 📍) Much more than just country music and butter sculpture, this festival draws a million visitors over its 10-day run. They enjoy the award-winning farm critters and just about every food imaginable that can be shoved on a stick. It's the setting for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical State Fair and the 1945 film version.

🛏 Sleeping

Chains of all flavors congregate on I-80 at exits 121, 124, 131 and 136.

★ Hotel Fort Des Moines

HOTEL $$

(☎ 515-243-1161; www.hotelfortdesmoines.com; 1000 Walnut St; r $90-200; 📍 📞 📺) Everyone from Mae West to JFK has spent the night in this locally owned old-school hotel. It retains its 1917 elegance and the 204 rooms spread across 11 floors are well equipped.

Eating & Drinking

Downtown's Court Ave, Ingersoll Ave in the west, and East Village (Grand Ave and Locust St) are good for browsing restaurants.

B & B Grocery, Meat & Deli AMERICAN $
(www.bbgrocerymeatdeli.com; 2001 SE 6th St; mains $4-9; ☺8:30am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 3pm Sat) 'Keeping Iowans on top of the food chain since 1922!' is the slogan at this hole-in-the-wall store just south of downtown. Take your place in line for meaty sandwiches that include the 'killer pork tenderloin,' a bun-smothering creation.

Court Avenue Brewing Co AMERICAN $$
(www.courtavebrew.com; 309 Court Ave; mains $7-20; ☺food 11am-11pm, bar to 1am) Enjoy good microbrews in a vintage brick building downtown and select from various Iowa classics like a big burger, steak or pork chop.

House of Bricks BAR
(www.thehouseofbricks.com; 525 E Grand Ave; meals $10-15; ☺11am-late) A gritty live-music legend in the East Village, it serves up tasty, beer-absorbent chow and has a rooftop bar.

Madison County

This scenic county, about 30 miles southwest of Des Moines, slumbered for half a century until Robert James Waller's blockbuster, tear-jerking novel The Bridges of Madison County and its 1995 Clint Eastwood/Meryl Streep movie version brought in scores of fans to check out the covered bridges where Robert and Francesca fueled their affair. Pick up (or download) a map to all six surviving bridges and other movie sets at the Chamber of Commerce (☎800-298-6119; www.madisoncounty.com; 73 Jefferson St; ☺9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat, noon-4pm Sun) in Winterset.

The humble birthplace of John Wayne (www.johnwaynebirthplace.org; 216 S 2nd St, Winterset; adult/child $7/3; ☺10am-4:30pm), aka Marion Robert Morrison, is now a small museum.

The farms and open land in this region are as bucolic as a painting. And that applies to the towns too. Besides Winterset and its silver-domed courthouse, Adel, 20 miles north on US 169, has its own beautiful courthouse square surrounded by shops and cafes.

WORTH A TRIP

GRANT WOOD'S ELDON

Grab a 'tool' out of your trunk and make your very own parody of Grant Wood's iconic painting American Gothic (1930) – the pitchfork painting – in tiny Eldon, about 90 miles southeast of Des Moines. The original house is across from the American Gothic House Center (www.americangothichouse.net; American Gothic St; ☺10am-5pm Tue-Sat, 1-4pm Sun & Mon summer, 10am-4pm Tue-Fri, 1-4pm Sat-Mon rest of yr) FREE, which does a swell job of interpreting the artwork that sparked a million parodies. The actual painting is in the Art Institute of Chicago.

Wood spent much of his time in tiny Stone City, a cute little burg 14 miles north of Mt Vernon, off Hwy 1. It's on the 68-mile-long Grant Wood Scenic Byway (www.byways.org).

Along I-80

Many of Iowa's attractions are within an easy drive of bland I-80, which runs east-west across the state's center. Much more interesting alternatives are US 20 and US 30.

Quad Cities

Four cities straddle the Mississippi River by I-80: Davenport and Bettendorf in Iowa and Moline and Rock Island in Illinois. See p546 for the Illinois-side details. The visitor center (www.visitquadcities.com; 102 S Harrison St, Davenport; ☺9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm) has bike rentals ($10 per hour) for a ride along the Big Muddy.

Cruise the gorgeous Mississippi aboard the vintage-style riverboat Twilight (www.riverboattwilight.com; $380 per person incl hotel & meals; ☺Jun-Oct), which runs two-day round trips to Dubuque from Le Claire, east of Davenport. Motels are found at I-74 exit 2 and I-780 exit 295A.

Iowa City

The youthful, artsy vibe here is courtesy of the University of Iowa campus (www.uiowa.edu), home to good art and natural history museums. It spills across both sides of the Iowa River (which has good walks on the banks); to the east it mingles with the charming downtown. In summer (when the student-to-townie ratio evens out) the city mellows somewhat. The school's writing programs are renowned and Iowa City was named a Unesco City of Literature in 2008. For a sharp parody of the town and school, read Jane Smiley's Moo.

The cute gold-domed building at the heart of campus is the Old Capitol Museum (www.uiowa.edu/oldcap; cnr Clinton St & Iowa Ave; ☎10am-5pm Tue, Wed, Fri & Sat, to 8pm Thu, 1-5pm Sun) FREE. Built in 1840, it was the seat of government until 1857 when Des Moines grabbed the reins. It's now a museum with galleries and furnishings from back in its heyday.

Sleeping

Chain motels line 1st Ave in Coralville (I-80 exit 242) like hogs at the trough. Beer and cheap chow abound downtown.

Brown Street Inn B&B $$
(☎319-338-0435; www.brownstreetinn.com; 430 Brown St; r $95-165; 🏠🍷🍺) Four-poster beds and other antiques adorn this six-room 1913 Dutch Colonial place that's an easy walk from downtown.

Hotel Vetro HOTEL $$
(☎319-337-4961; www.hotelvetro.com; 201 S Lynn St; r $120-300; 🏠🍷🍺) Enjoy many of the comforts of home in the 56 studio apartments spread over six floors at this campus hotel. While your duds spin in the laundry, enjoy the indoor pool.

Eating & Drinking

This is a college town, which means lots of cheap ethnic eateries (and beer!).

★ Shorts Burger & Shine BURGERS $
(18 S Clinton St; mains $10; ☎food 11am-10pm, bar to 2am; 🍷) A local legend, Shorts serves up all manner of gourmet burgers, including a fine selection of veggie burgers. The regional beer list is inspired.

Dave's Foxhead Tavern BAR
(402 E Market St; ☎5pm-2am Mon-Sat) Popular with the writers' workshop crowd, who debate gerunds while slouched in booths. Pool is also big in this tiny boozier, which boasts a wonderfully eclectic jukebox.

Shopping

Prairie Lights BOOKS
(www.prairielight.com; 15 S Dubuque St; ☎9am-9pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun) A bookstore worthy of a university that runs the famous Iowa Writers' Workshop.

Information

The visitor center (☎800-283-6592; www.iowacitycoralville.org; 900 1st Ave, at I-80 exit 242; ☎8am-5pm Mon-Fri) is in neighboring Coralville, an unfortunate town with all the chains and urban sprawl missing from Iowa City.

Amana Colonies

These seven villages, just northwest of Iowa City, are stretched along a 17-mile loop. All were established as German religious communes between 1855 and 1861 by inspirationists who, until the Great Depression, lived a utopian life with no wages paid and all assets communally owned. Unlike the Amish and Mennonite religions, inspirationists embrace modern technology (and tourism).

Today the seven well-preserved (and discreetly tasteful) villages offer a glimpse of this unique culture, and there are lots of arts, crafts, cheeses, baked goods and wines to buy. However they are not immune to commercial pressures as evidenced by establishments such as a 'Man Cave' and gift shops selling the sorts of gewgaws that perplex the inspirationists' heirs.

Four museums are sprinkled throughout the villages, including the insightful Amana Heritage Museum (4310 220th Trail, Amana; ☎10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-4pm Sun Apr-Oct, Sat only Mar & Nov-Dec). The others are open in summer only. A pass (adult/child $7/free) gets you into them all. Another popular stop is the privately owned Barn Museum (413 P St, South Amana; adult/child $3.50/1.25; ☎9am-5pm Apr-Oct), which has miniature versions of the hay-filled buildings found across rural America.

The villages have many good-value B&Bs and historic inns, including Zuber's Homestead Hotel (☎319-622-3911; www.zubershomesteadhotel.com; 2206 44 Ave, Amana; r $85-120; 🏠🍷), with 15 individually decorated rooms in an 1890s brick building.

One of the Amanas' top draws is the hefty-portioned, home-cooked German cuisine dished out at various humble dining spots. Pick up a picnic at Amana Meat Shop & Smokehouse (4513 F St, Amana; snacks from $3; ☎9am-5pm), which even has coolers. Millstream Brewing (835 48th Ave, Amana; ☎9am-7pm summer, reduced hr rest of yr) is an excellent microbrewery. It serves its own beer and brews from others in Iowa at its shop and beer garden.

Stop at the grain-elevator-shaped visitor center (☎800-579-2294; www.amana-colonies.com; 622 46th Ave, Amana; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun May-Oct, 9am-3pm rest of yr) for the essential guide-map. It offers bike rental ($15 per day), an ideal way to tour the area.

Along US 30

Like a clichéd needlepoint come to life, US 30 passes through fertile fields dotted with whitewashed farmhouses and red-hued barns. It parallels I-80 an average of 20 to 30 miles to the north before dropping down to Nebraska near Omaha.

The real attraction here is just enjoying the succession of small towns. In a state blessed with pretty places, Mt Vernon is one of the loveliest. It may be only two blocks long but there's much here, especially in the eating department. Lincoln Cafe (☎319-895-4041; www.foodisimportant.com; 17 1st St W; mains $7-25; ☀11am-2pm & 5-9pm Tue-Sat, 10am-2pm Sun) is a foodie favorite; it cooks with fine local foods (try the burger with Maytag blue cheese).

Ames, 25 miles north of Des Moines, is home to Iowa State University and has lots of good motels and undergrad dives.

Along US 20

Stretching from Dubuque on the Mississippi River to Sioux City on the Missouri River, US 20 has offered up charms similar to those on US 30 to generations of travelers seeking new lives, adventure or just a new farm implement.

Dubuque

Dubuque makes a great entry to Iowa from Illinois: 19th-century Victorian homes line its narrow and lively streets between the Mississippi River and seven steep limestone hills.

The 4th Street Elevator (www.dbq.com/fenplco; cnr 4th St & Fenelon; adult/child round-trip $3/1.50; ☀8am-10pm Apr-Nov), built in 1882, climbs a steep hill for huge views. Ring the bell to begin the ride. Learn about life (of all sorts) on the Mississippi at the impressive National Mississippi River Museum & Aquarium (www.rivermuseum.com; 350 E 3rd St; adult/child $15/10; ☀9am-6pm summer, 10am-

IOWA: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Effigy Mounds National Monument (www.nps.gov/efmo; ☀8am-6pm summer, to 4:30pm rest of yr) FREE preserves hundreds of Native American burial mounds, which sit in the bluffs high above the Mississippi River in far northeast Iowa.

The only museum of its kind, Hobo Museum (☎641-843-9104; www.hobo.com; 51 Main Ave S; admission $3; ☀10am-5pm Jun-mid-Aug), located in north-central Britt, hosts the National Hobo Convention on the second weekend in August. Confirm hours in advance.

Great River Road has an Iowa route that hugs the Mississippi and passes through some isolated towns (Bellevue is a gem and lives up to its name with good river views) and some verdant, rural scenery. Burlington has an excellent visitor center and is good for a break. Get info at www.byways.org and www.iowagreatriverroad.com.

5pm rest of year). Nearby, the Spirit of Dubuque (☎563-583-8093; www.dubuqueriverrides.com; 3rd St, at Ice Harbor; adult/child from $22/15; ☀May-Oct) offers a variety of Mississippi sightseeing and dining cruises on a mock-paddleboat.

The historic eight-story Hotel Julien (☎563-556-4200; www.hoteljuliendubuque.com; 200 Main St; r $110-250; ☎☎) was built in 1914 and was once a refuge for Al Capone. A lavish renovation has turned it upscale and it's a real antidote for chains.

Main St has eateries grand and humble.

Get information from the downtown visitor center (☎800-798-4748; www.traveldubuque.com; 300 Main St; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Thu & Sat, to 6pm Fri, to 3pm Sun).

Waterloo & Around

Home to five John Deere tractor factories, Waterloo is the place to get one of those prized green-and-yellow caps you've seen across middle America. Fun tractor-driven Tractor Assembly Tours (☎800-765-9588; 3500 E Donald St; ☀tours 8am, 10am & 1pm Mon-Fri) FREE show how these vehicles are made. The minimum age is 13 years and reservations are required.

NORTH DAKOTA

'Magnificent desolation.' Buzz Aldrin used it to describe the moon and it applies just as well in North Dakota. Fields of grain – green in the spring and summer, bronze in the fall and white in winter – stretch beyond every horizon. Except for the rugged 'badlands' of the far west, geographic relief is subtle. More often it is the collapsing remains of a failed homestead that breaks up the vista.

Isolated in the far US north, North Dakota is the least visited state. But that just means that there's less traffic as you whiz along at the usual legal limit of 75mph. This is a place to get lost on remote two-lane routes and to appreciate the magnificence of raw land.

But note that despite those seemingly endless summer fields of grain, the state's economy is tied to large oil deposits in the west. Soaring energy prices have turned once-moribund towns such as Williston and Watford City into boomtowns, with vast trailer encampments for oil-field workers and roads clogged – and battered – by huge trucks. Most are surprised to learn that North Dakota is the fastest growing state in the US.

History

During their epic journey, Lewis and Clark spent more time in what is now North Dakota than any other state, meeting up with Shoshone guide Sacagawea on their way west. In the mid-19th century, smallpox epidemics came up the Missouri River, decimating the Arikara, Mandan and Hidatsa tribes, who affiliated and established the Like-a-Fishhook Village around 1845. When the railroad arrived in North Dakota in the 1870s, thousands of settlers flocked in to take up allotments under the Homestead Act. By 1889 the state population was more than 250,000, half foreign-born (one in eight was from Norway).

Young Theodore Roosevelt came here to ditch his city-slicker image. As president, inspired by his time in North Dakota, he earned the title 'The Father of Conservation' for his work creating national forests and parks.

i Information

North Dakota Bed & Breakfast Association
(☎888-271-3380; www.ndbba.com)

North Dakota State Parks (☎800-807-4723; www.parkrec.nd.gov) Vehicle permits cost $5/25 per day/year. Nearly half of the park campsites are reservable; fees range from $10 to $20 per night.

North Dakota Tourism Division (☎800-435-5663; www.ndtourism.com)

Along I-94

Arrowing across North Dakota, I-94 provides easy access to most of the state's top attractions, although it would not be the road of scenic choice (US 2 is more atmospheric).

Fargo

Named for the Fargo of Wells Fargo Bank, North Dakota's biggest city has been a fur-trading post, a frontier town, a quick-divorce capital and a haven for folks in the Federal Witness Protection Program; not to mention the namesake of the Coen Brothers' film Fargo – though the movie was set across the Red River in Minnesota. Still, expect to hear a lot of accents similar to Frances McDormand's unforgettable version in the film. Film fame aside, there's not a lot in Fargo worth more than a quick stop off the highway.

The modern, ambitious Plains Art Museum (www.plainsart.org; 704 1st Ave N; adult/child $5/free; ☉11am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun, to 8pm Tue & Thu) features sophisticated programming in a renovated warehouse. The permanent collection includes contemporary work by Native American artists.

Sleeping & Eating

Chain motels cluster at exits 64 on I-29 and 348 on I-94.

★ Hotel Donaldson HOTEL $$$
(☎701-478-1000; www.hoteldonaldson.com; 101 Broadway; r from $190; ♿ @ ☎) A stylish and swank revamp of a flophouse, the 17 luxurious suites here are each decorated by a local artist. Fargo's most chic restaurant and rooftop bar (and hot tub!) may lack competition but are still cool.

i MOUNTAIN TIME IN NORTH DAKOTA

The southwest quarter of North Dakota, including Medora, uses Mountain Time, which is one hour earlier than the rest of the state's Central Time.

THE FARGO WOODCHIPPER

Fargo's embrace of its namesake film is on full display at the town's visitor center, which houses the actual wood-chipper used for the scene where Gaear feeds the last of Carl's body into its maw and is discovered by Marge. And you can reenact the scene – although not the results – while wearing Fargo-style hats and jamming a fake leg in (both provided!).

i Information

The grain-elevator-shaped visitor center (☎800-235-7654; www.fargomoorhead.org; 2001 44th St; ☀7:30am-8pm Mon-Fri, 10am-6pm Sat & Sun summer, 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat rest of yr) is off I-94 exit 348.

Bismarck

Like the surrounding plains of wheat, Bismarck, North Dakota's capital, has a quick and bountiful summer. Otherwise, it's a compact place that hunkers down for the long winters where the lows average -4°F (-20°C).

The stark 1930s State Capitol (☎701-328-2480; N 7th St; ☀8am-4pm Mon-Fri, tours hourly except noon, plus 9am-4pm Sat & 1-4pm Sun summer) FREE is often referred to as the 'skyscraper of the prairie' and looks something like a Stalinist school of dentistry from the outside, but has some art-deco flourishes inside. There's an observation deck on the 18th floor.

Behind the Sacagawea statue, the huge North Dakota Heritage Center (www.history.nd.gov; Capitol Hill; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun) FREE has details on everything from Norwegian bachelor farmers to the scores of nuclear bombs perched on missiles in silos across the state.

Fort Abraham Lincoln State Park (www.parkrec.nd.gov; per vehicle $5, plus adult/child to tour historical sites $6/4; ☀park 9am-5pm, tours May-Sep), 7 miles south of Mandan on SR 1806, is well worth the detour. Its On-a-Slant Indian Village has five re-created Mandan earth lodges, while the fort, with several replica buildings, was Custer's last stop before the Battle of Little Bighorn.

In Bismarck, chain motels congregate around I-94 exit 159. Get info at the Bismarck-Mandan Visitor Center (☎800-767-3555; www.discoverbismarckmandan.com; 1600 Burnt Boat Dr; ☀8am-7pm Mon-Fri, 8am-5pm Sat, 10am-4pm Sun summer, 8am-5pm Mon-Fri rest of yr), off I-94 exit 157.

West of Bismarck

West on I-94, stop and see Sue, the World's Largest Holstein Cow at New Salem (exit 127). At exit 72, there's a unique detour south along the Enchanted Hwy (p638). In Dickinson, an hour west of Sue, the Dakota Dinosaur Museum (☎701-225-3466; www.dakotadino.com; I-94 exit 61; adult/child $8/5; ☀9am-5pm May-Aug) has oodles of dinosaur fossils and statues, most found in the state.

Theodore Roosevelt National Park

A tortured land known as the 'badlands', the colors of which seem to change with the moods of nature, Theodore Roosevelt National Park (www.nps.gov/thro; 7-day pass per vehicle $10) is the state's natural highlight. Bizarre rock formations, streaked with a rainbow of red, yellow, brown, black and silver minerals, are framed by green prairie.

Roosevelt described this area as 'a land of vast, silent spaces, of lonely rivers, and of plains where the wild game stared at the passing horsemen,' and it's hard to describe the place better even today. Wildlife is still

NORTH DAKOTA FACTS

Nickname Peace Garden State

Population 701,000

Area 70,705 sq miles

Capital city Bismarck (population 63,000)

Sales tax 5-8%

Birthplace of legendary Shoshone woman Sacagawea (1788–1812), cream of wheat (1893), bandleader Lawrence Welk (1903–92), singer-writer of westerns Louis L'Amour (1908–88)

Home of World's largest bison, turtle and Holstein statues

Politics Conservative Republican

Famous for The movie Fargo

Official fish Northern pike

Driving distances Fargo to Bismarck 193 miles everywhere: mule deer, wild horses, bighorn sheep, elk, bison, around 200 bird species and, of course, sprawling subterranean prairie dog towns.

The park is divided into sections:

South Unit Most visitors opt for the 36-mile scenic drive that begins in Medora, an enjoyable town just off I-94. Prairie dogs are a highlight.

North Unit Gets few visitors but is well worth the journey for the 14-mile drive to the Oxbow Overlook, with its wide views into the vast and colorfully striated river canyon. The verdant surrounds are protected as the Little Missouri National Grassland and bison are everywhere. It is 68 miles north of I-94 on US 85.

The park has three visitor centers, including the South Unit visitor center (Medora; ☺ 8am-6pm summer, 8am-4:30pm rest of year), with Theodore Roosevelt's old cabin out back. The park has two simple campgrounds (campsites $10) and free backcountry camping (permit required).

Hikers can explore 85 miles of backcountry trails. For a good adventure, hike or cycle the 96-mile Maah Daah Hey Trail between the park units. Driving, continue north on US 85 to Fort Buford.

Medora

Medora (www.medora.com) is a somewhat re-created and restored pioneer town that is quite appealing and relatively uncommercialized. Accommodations include motels and B&Bs.

The most atmospheric choice is the Rough Riders Hotel (☎ 701-623-4444; www.medora.com; 301 3rd Ave; r $135-200; ♿ ☎ ☎), which dates back to 1885. Renovations made the eight original rooms dude-worthy and added 68 new ones.

Along US 2

US 2 is the more interesting alternative to I-94. The endless sky vistas stretch even further than the seas of golden grain. Grand Forks is a stolid city, while Devils Lake is one of the top waterfowl hunting destinations in the country. The entire area is subject to inundation by the flood-prone Red River.

Rugby

Rugby is about halfway down the highway, but its more notable location identity is as the geographical center of North America. The Prairie Village Museum (www.prairievillagemuseum.com; 102 US 2 SE; adult/child $7/3; ☺ 8:30am-5pm, from noon Sun mid-May-mid-Sep) re-creates Great Plains life through the decades.

Minot

North Dakota's fourth-largest city is home to military bases and not much else of note. But it does celebrate its Scandinavian roots during Norsk Høstfest (www.hostfest.com;

NORTH DAKOTA: DETOURS & EXTRAS

North Dakota still has underground nuclear missiles waiting for launch orders, however many more have been deactivated because of treaty agreements with the Russians.

Minuteman Missile Site (www.history.nd.gov; adult/child $10/3; ☺ 10am-6pm mid-May-mid-Sep, reduced hours rest of year), near Cooperstown on Hwys 45 and 200, includes an underground command center from where missiles were launched. Visits are by tour. A nearby missile silo is actually more eerie. Often unattended, you can ponder the doors that hid a rocket with over 500 kilotons of nuclear explosive power (the Hiroshima bomb had 15 kilotons). It's surrounded by mundane farmland and a few distant farmhouses.

The International Peace Garden (www.peacegarden.com; per vehicle $10; ☺ 10am-5pm) provides a change of pace from nukes; some 150,000 flowers and several monuments sit symbolically on the North Dakota-Manitoba border on US 281.

The Enchanted Highway has huge whimsical metal sculptures of local folks and critters by local artist Gary Greff. It runs for 32 miles straight south to Regent from I-94 exit 72. Once there, you can stay in Greff's fun new motel, the Enchanted Castle (www.enchanted-castle.net; 607 Main St; r $90-125; ♿ ☎ ☎), which is an elementary school remodeled to look like just that.

LEWIS & CLARK IN NORTH DAKOTA

North of Bismarck are several worthwhile attractions near the spot where Lewis and Clark wintered with the Mandan in 1804–05. They offer an evocative look at the lives of the Native Americans and the explorers amid lands that even today seem little changed.

The North Dakota Lewis & Clark Interpretive Center (www.fortmandan.com; junction US 83 & ND Hwy 200A; adult/child $7.50/5; ☀9am–5pm daily year-round, from noon Sun winter) is a newly renovated center where you can learn about the duo's epic expedition and the Native Americans who helped them. Check out the beautiful drawings from George Catlin's Portfolio.

The same ticket gets you into Fort Mandan (CR 17), a replica of the fort built by Lewis and Clark, 2.5 miles west (10 miles downstream from the flooded original site). It sits on a lonely stretch of the Missouri River marked by a monument to Seaman, the expedition's dog. Inside the small but worthwhile info building, look for the display on period medicine, including 'Thunderclappers.'

At Knife River Indian Villages National Historical Site (www.nps.gov/knri; off Hwy 200; ☀8am–6pm, to 4:30pm winter) FREE you can still see the mounds left by three earthen villages of the Hidatsas, who lived on the Knife River, a narrow tributary of the Missouri, for more than 900 years. The National Park Service has re-created one of the earthen lodges. A stroll through the mostly wide-open and wild site leads to the village site where Lewis and Clark met Sacagawea. The historic site is just north of Stanton (22 miles west of Washburn) on Hwy 200, which runs through verdant rolling prairie for 110 miles between US 83 and US 85.

☀early Oct), which is promoted as the world's largest Scandinavian festival.

Minot has a full range of modest chain motels along US 2, 52 and 83. However, North Dakota's oil boom means that it can be hard to find a motel room from Minot west to Montana. Vacancies are few and prices are very high.

West to Montana

West of Minot the land is dotted with forlorn little settlements slipping back into the prairie soil. However, the skyline is enlivened by the flames and bright lights of hundreds of oil drilling rigs. It's a huge boom fueled by the same high prices you curse when refilling your tank and the result is that small towns between Minot and Montana are swamped with workers.

Twenty-two miles southwest of Williston along SR 1804, Fort Buford (www.history.nd.gov; adult/child $5/2.50; ☀10am–6pm mid-May–mid-Sep) is the bleak army outpost where Sitting Bull surrendered. The adjacent Missouri-Yellowstone Confluence Interpretive Center (☀9am–7pm mid-May–mid-Sep, 9am–4pm Wed–Sat, 1–5pm Sun rest of year) includes the fort's visitor center. Swing by the boat landing in May to see anglers reeling in paddlefish.

About 2 miles west, on the Montana–North Dakota border, the more evocative

Fort Union Trading Post (www.nps.gov/fous; SR 1804; ☀8am–6:30pm Central Time summer, 9am–5:30pm rest of year) FREE is a reconstruction of the American Fur Company post built in 1828.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Gently rolling prairies through shallow fertile valleys mark much of this endlessly attractive state. But head southwest and hell breaks loose – in a good way. The Badlands National Park is the geologic equivalent of fireworks. The Black Hills are like opera: majestic, challenging, intriguing and even frustrating. Mt Rushmore matches the Statue of Liberty for five-star icon status. Throughout the state are important Native American sites and interesting towns big and small.

Information

Bed & Breakfast Innkeepers of South Dakota (☎888-500-4667; www.southdakotabb.com)

South Dakota Department of Tourism (☎800-732-5682; www.travelsd.com)

South Dakota State Parks (☎800-710-2267; www.gfp.sd.gov) Vehicle permits cost $6/30 per day/year. Many park campsites are reservable; fees range from $8 to $25 per night. Cabins start at $35.

Sioux Falls

South Dakota's largest city (population 154,000) lives up to its name at Falls Park just north of downtown where the Big Sioux River plunges down a long series of rock faces. The park has an excellent visitor center (☎ 605-367-7430; www.siouxfallscvb.com; 900 N Phillips Ave; ☼ 10am-9pm daily Apr-mid-Oct, reduced hours other times) with citywide information and an observation tower.

The huge pink quartzite Old Courthouse Museum (www.siouxlandmuseums.com; 200 W 6th St; ☼ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun, to 8pm Thu) FREE, a restored 1890s building, has three floors of well-curated changing exhibits on the region.

Sioux Falls has motels at I-29 exits 77 to 83. For diner fare, there are good choices on lively S Phillips Ave downtown, including Minervas (www.minervas.net; 301 S Phillips Ave; mains $10-25; ☼ 11am-10pm), a plush local fave with good bars (for drinks and salad).

Along I-90

Easily one of the least interesting stretches of interstate highway, I-90 across South Dakota fortunately has some worthy stops along the way.

SOUTH DAKOTA FACTS

Nickname Mt Rushmore State

Population 834,000

Area 77,125 sq miles

Capital city Pierre (population 13,900)

Sales tax 4-6%

Birthplace of Sitting Bull (c 1831-90), Crazy Horse (c 1840-77) and Black Elk (c 1863-1950), all of Battle of Little Bighorn fame, and genial broadcaster Tom Brokaw (b 1940)

Home of Mt Rushmore, the Sioux

Politics Increasingly Republican

Famous for HBO TV show Deadwood, Wounded Knee Massacre

Official animal Coyote

Driving distances Sioux Falls to Rapid City 341 miles, Sioux Falls to Des Moines 283 miles

Mitchell

Every year, half a million people pull off I-90 (exit 332) to see the Taj Mahal of agriculture, the all-time-ultimate roadside attraction, the Corn Palace (www.cornpalace.org; 604 N Main St; ☼ 8am-9pm summer, reduced hours rest of year) FREE. Close to 300,000 ears of corn are used each year to create a tableaux of murals on the outside of the building. Ponder the scenes and you may find a kernel of truth or just say 'aw shucks.'

Chamberlain

In a picturesque site where I-90 crosses the Missouri River, Chamberlain (exit 263) is home to the excellent Akta Lakota Museum & Cultural Center (www.aktalakota.org; 1301 N Main St; suggested donation $5; ☼ 8am-6pm Mon-Sat, 9am-5pm Sun summer, 8am-5pm Mon-Fri rest of year) at St Joseph's Indian School. It has Lakota cultural displays and contemporary art from numerous tribes.

History buffs should pop into the hilltop rest stop, between exits 263 and 265, where the Lewis & Clark Information Center (☼ 8:30am-4:30pm mid-May-Sep) FREE has exhibits on the intrepid band.

Pierre

Pierre (pronounced 'peer') is just too small (population 14,100) and ordinary to feel like a seat of power. Small-town Victorian homes overlook the imposing 1910 State Capitol (500 E Capitol Ave; ☼ 8am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) FREE with its black copper dome.

The best reason to detour off I-90 here is because it lies along the Native American Scenic Byway and lonely, stark US 14 (for both, see p647).

Exhibits at the South Dakota Cultural Heritage Center (www.history.sd.gov; 900 Governor's Dr; adult/child $4/free; ☼ 9am-6:30pm Mon-Sat, 1-4:30pm Sun summer, to 4:30pm rest of year) include a bloody Ghost Dance shirt from Wounded Knee.

At a bend on the Missouri River, French Island has several hiking trails and plentiful wildlife. It's across from where the Lewis and Clark expedition spent four days and was nearly derailed when they inadvertently offended members of the local Brule tribe.

Most hotels lie along US 83. The cute center of Pierre includes the excellent Prairie Pages (321 S Pierre St; ☎9am-6pm Mon-Sat) bookstore.

Minuteman Missile National Historic Site

In the 1960s and 1970s, 450 Minutemen II intercontinental ballistic missiles, always at the ready in underground silos, were just 30 minutes from their targets in the Soviet Union. The missiles have since been retired (more modern ones still lurk in silos across the northern Great Plains). The first national park dedicated to the Cold War preserves a silo and its underground launch facility.

At the small temporary visitor contact station (☎605-433-5552; www.nps.gov/mimi; I-90 exit 131; ☎8am-4:30pm) (a permanent spot to house it has yet to be built), you can get tickets for the free tours of the nearby launch complex where two people stood ready around the clock to turn keys launching missiles from this part of South Dakota. Tours are given daily and are first-come, first-served.

The silo (I-90 exit 116; ☎8am-4pm) can be viewed without a tour through a glass cover.

Wall

Hyped for hundreds of miles, Wall Drug (www.walldrug.com; 510 Main St; ☎6:30am-6pm, extended hours in summer; 🚗) is a surprisingly enjoyable stop. It really does have 5¢ coffee, free ice water, good doughnuts and enough diversions and come-ons to warm the heart of schlock-lovers everywhere. But amid the fudge in the faux frontier complex is a superb bookstore with a great selection of regional titles. Out back, ride the mythical jackalope and check out the historical photos.

Wall is a good place for an overnight pause. It's compact and walkable, there are tasty and cheap cafes and bars, and several good indie motels, including Sunshine Inn (☎605-279-2178; www.sunshineinnatwallsd.com; 608 Main St; r $50-80; 🚗🚰🚲), which has a general owner and 22 basic and sparkling rooms.

Badlands National Park

This otherworldly landscape, oddly softened by its fantastic rainbow hues, is a spectacle of sheer walls and spikes stabbing the dry

i MOUNTAIN TIME

Roughly the western one-third of South Dakota – including the Black Hills and everything west of I-90 exit 177 – uses Mountain Time, which is one hour earlier than Central Time in the rest of the state.

air. It was understandably named mako sica (badland) by Native Americans. Looking over the bizarre formations from the corrugated walls surrounding Badlands is like seeing an ocean someone boiled dry.

The park's north unit gets the most visitors; the Hwy 240 Badlands Loop Rd is easily reached from I-90 (exits 110 and 131) and you can drive it in an hour if you're in a hurry (and not stuck behind an RV). Lookouts and vistas abound.

Much less visited is the portion west of Hwy 240 along the gravel Sage Creek Rim Rd. There are stops at prairie dog towns and this is where most backcountry hikers and campers go. There is nearly no water or shade here, so don't strike out into the wilderness unprepared. The less-accessible south units are in the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation and see few visitors.

The Ben Reifel Visitor Center (www.nps.gov/badl; Hwy 240; ☎7am-7pm summer, 8am-5pm Apr-May & Sep-Oct, 8am-4pm rest of year) has good exhibits and advice for ways to ditch your car to appreciate the geologic wonders. The White River Visitor Center (Hwy 27; ☎10am-4pm Jun-Aug) is small. A seven-day pass costs $15 for cars and $7 for cyclists.

Neither the developed Cedar Pass Campground (campsites $10-28) or primitive Sage Creek Campground (campsites free) take reservations. Hotels can be found on I-90 in Kadoka and Wall, or stay at a cozy cabin inside the park at Cedar Pass Lodge (☎605-433-5460; www.cedarpasslodge.com; Hwy 240; cabins $130-140; ☎mid-Apr–mid-Oct; 🍷). There is a restaurant and shops.

The national park, along with the surrounding Buffalo Gap National Grassland, protects the country's largest prairie grasslands, several species of Plains mammal (including bison and black-footed ferret), prairie falcons and lots of snakes. The National Grasslands Visitors Center (www.fs.fed.us/grasslands; 798 Main St, Wall; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) has good displays on the wealth of life in this complex ecosystem

LITTLE HOUSE(S) ON THE PRAIRIE

Fans of Little House on the Prairie should head to Laura Ingalls Wilder's former home, De Smet. The pint-sized author lived here from age 12 when her peripatetic Pa finally settled down (much of her famous book was based on her time in Independence, KS). The town is 40 miles west of I-29 (exit 133) on US 14.

Right in town, the fussy and frilly complex that's home to the Laura Ingalls Wilder Memorial Society (www.discoverlaura.org; 105 Olivet Ave; adult/child $10/5; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun summer, reduced hours rest of year; 🚗) has tours inside two original Wilder homes – the one where the Wilders spent the first winter in 1879 and the home Michael Landon, er, 'Pa', later built.

Just outside town and down a dirt road, the actual Ingalls Homestead (www.ingallshomestead.com; 20812 Homestead Rd; admission $10; ☺ 9am-7pm summer; 🚗) has been much gussied up and includes all manner of attractions about 19th-century farm life and Laura herself. It's well done, with nary a fudge shop in sight.

Near the homestead, the long-running outdoor Laura Ingalls Wilder Pageant (www.desmetpageant.org; adult/child $10/7; ☺ weekends Jul) reenacts melodramatic scenes from Laura's books. Townfolk fill the roles, including one very lucky young girl.

For more info on the plethora of LHOTP-related sites across middle America, see www.livfrontiergirl.com.

you've been whining about as 'boring' while you barrel down the freeway. Rangers can map out back-road routes that will let you do looping tours of Badlands National Park and the grasslands without ever touching I-90. Hwy 44 to Rapid City is also a fine alternative to the interstate.

Pine Ridge Indian Reservation

Home to the Lakota Oglala Sioux, the Pine Ridge reservation south of Badlands National Park is one of the nation's poorest 'counties,' with over half the population living below the poverty line. Despite being at times a jarring dose of reality, it is also a place welcoming to visitors.

In 1890 the new Ghost Dance religion, which the Lakota followers believed would bring back their ancestors and eliminate the white man, became popular. This struck fear into the area's soldiers and settlers and the frenetic circle dances were outlawed. The 7th US Cavalry rounded up a band of Lakota under Chief Big Foot and brought them to the small village of Wounded Knee. On December 29, as the soldiers began to search for weapons, a shot was fired (nobody knows by whom), leading to the massacre of more than 250 men, women and children, most of them unarmed. It's one of the most infamous atrocities in US history. Twenty five soldiers also died.

The shabby Wounded Knee Massacre Site, 16 miles northeast of Pine Ridge town, is bisected by two-lane Hwy 27 and marked by a faded roadside sign. The mass grave, often frequented by people looking for handouts, sits atop the hill near a church. The nearby visitor center has little to offer. North of the site, Hwy 27 passes through some seldom-visited tracts of the Badlands.

Four miles north of Pine Ridge town at the Red Cloud Indian School is the Red Cloud Heritage Center (www.redcloudschool.org; Hwy 18; ☺ 9am-7pm Mon-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat & Sun summer, 8am-5pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat rest of year) FREE, a well-curated art museum with traditional and contemporary work and a craft shop. Look for photos taken after the massacre showing the frozen bodies of the dead with their expressions of shock locked in place.

Tune in to what's happening on KILI (90.1 FM), 'the voice of the Lakota nation,' which broadcasts community events and often plays traditional music.

Black Hills

This stunning region on the Wyoming-South Dakota border lures oodles of visitors with its winding canyons and wildly eroded 7000ft peaks. The region's name – the 'Black' comes from the dark Ponderosa pine-covered slopes – was conferred by the Lakota Sioux. In the 1868 Fort Laramie Treaty, they were assured that the hills would be theirs for eternity, but the discovery of gold changed that and the Sioux were shovled out to low-value flatlands only six years later. Dances with Wolves covers some of this period.

You'll need several days to explore the area. Throughout are bucolic back-road drives, caves, bison herds, forests, Mt Rushmore and Crazy Horse monuments, and outdoor activities (ballooning, cycling, rock climbing, boating, fishing, hiking, downhill skiing, gold-panning etc). Like fool's gold, gaudy tourist traps lurk in corners and keep things lively.

i Information

There are hundreds of hotels and campgrounds across the hills; still, during summer, room rates shoot up like geysers and reservations are essential. Avoid visiting during the Sturgis Motorcycle Rally (early August), when motorbikes rule the roads and fill the rooms. Much is closed October to April.

Visitor centers and reservations:

Black Hills Central Reservations (☎866-601-5103; www.blackhillsvacations.com) Accommodation reservations and last-minute deals.

Black Hills Visitor Center (☎605-355-3700; www.blackhillsvacations.com; I-90 exit 61; ☼8am-8pm summer, to 5pm rest of year) Tons of info and apps.

Black Hills National Forest

The majority of the Black Hills lie within this 1875-sq-mile mixture of protected and logged forest, perforated by pockets of private land on most roads. The scenery is fantastic, whether you get deep into it on the 450 miles of hiking trails or drive the byways and gravel fire roads.

The 109-mile George S Mickelson Trail (www.mickelsontrail.com; daily/annual fee $3/15) cuts through much of the forest, running from Deadwood through Hill City and Custer to Edgemont on an abandoned railway line. There are bike rentals at various trailside towns.

The forest headquarters (☎605-673-9200; www.fs.fed.us/bhnf; 25041 US 16; ☼9am-5pm Mon-Fri) is in Custer and a modern visitor center (US 385, near Hwy 44; ☼8:30am-5pm mid-May-mid-Sep) sits on the Pactola Reservoir between Hill City and Rapid City.

Good camping abounds in the forest. There are 30 basic (no showers or electricity) campgrounds (☎877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; campsites free-$25); reserve in summer. Backcountry camping is allowed just about anywhere (free; no open fires).

Rapid City

A worthy capital to the region, 'Rapid' has an intriguing, lively and walkable downtown. Well-preserved brick buildings, filled with quality shopping and dining, make it a good urban base.

👁 Sights

Get a walking-tour brochure of Rapid's historic buildings and public art from the Black Hills Visitor Center (p643). Check out the watery fun on Main St Square.

Family friendly and delightfully hokey tourist attractions vie for dollars along Hwy 16 on the way to Mt Rushmore; these include Bear Country USA and Reptile Gardens.

★ Statues of Presidents MONUMENT (www.cityofpresidents.com; 631 Main St; ☼info center noon-9pm Mon-Sat Jun-Sep) From a shifty-eyed Nixon in repose to a triumphant Harry Truman, lifelike statues dot corners throughout the center. Collect all 42.

Museum of Geology MUSEUM (museum.sdsmt.edu; 501 E St Joseph St, O'Hara Bldg; ☼9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun summer, 9am-4pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat rest of year) FREE All that drama underground has produced some spectacular rocks. See these plus dinosaur bones and some stellar fossils here, at the South Dakota School of Mines & Technology.

Bear Country USA WILDLIFE RESERVE (www.bearcountryusa.com; Hwy 16; adult/child $16/10; ☼8am-6pm summer, reduced hours rest of year, closed winter; 🗺) Oodles of bears big and small in this drive-through park live off the land and hope you'll do something forbidden like offering them a Big Mac, or your hand. The reserve is 8 miles south of Rapid City.

Reptile Gardens WILDLIFE RESERVE (www.reptilegardens.com; Hwy 16; adult/child $16/11; ☼8am-6pm summer, reduced hours rest of year, closed winter; 🗺) Reptiles, snakes, giant tortoises and many more critters inspire countless 'wows!'

Black Hills & Badlands National Park

Sleeping & Eating

Motels, many indie, cluster at I-90 exits 57 and 60, downtown and US16 south of town. Downtown has scores of eateries and bars.

★ Hotel Alex Johnson

HOTEL $$
 (765) 605-342-1210; www.alexjohnson.com; 523 6th St; r $60-200; * @ ☎

The design of this 1927 classic magically blends Germanic Tudor architecture and traditional Lakota Sioux symbols – note the lobby's painted ceiling and the chandelier made of war lances. The 127 rooms are modern and slightly posh but the real appeal here is that it hasn't been turned into a boutique hotel. Its timeless qualities include a portrait of guest Al Capone near the front desk. The rooftop bar is a delight.

Adoba Eco Hotel

HOTEL $$

(☎ 605-348-8300; www.adobahotelrapidcity.com; 445 Mt Rushmore Rd; r $80-200; ♿ @ 📶 🍷)

A former highrise Radisson has been reborn as a high-concept downtown hotel with green accents. Furniture is made from recycled materials yet there's no skimping on comfort. The marble floor in the lobby is a stunner.

Tally's

AMERICAN $$

(530 6th St; mains $6-20; ☺ 7am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Carter or Reagan? Both statues are out front and you can ponder your preference while you savor the upscale diner fare at this stylish cafe and bar. Breakfasts are as good as ever; more creative regional fare is on offer at night.

Murphy's Pub & Grill

AMERICAN $$

(www.murphyspubandgrill.com; 510 9th St; mains $6-20; ☺ food 11am-10pm, bar to 1am) Pub fare with creative flair makes this bustling downtown bar an excellent dining choice. Specials feature seasonal and local ingredients. The vast terrace is matched by the big interior.

Drinking

★ Independent Ale House

PUB

(www.independentalehouse.com; 625 St Joseph St; ☺ 3pm-late) Enjoy a fabulous (and changing) line-up of the best microbrews from the region in this vintage-style bar. There are chairs on the sidewalk and a short snack menu.

Sturgis

Fast food, Christian iconography and billboards for glitzy biker bars featuring dolled-up models unlikely to ever be found on the back of a Harley are just some of the cacophony of images of this tacky small town on I-90 (exits 30 and 32). Things get even louder for the annual Sturgis Motorcycle Rally (www.sturgismotorcyclerrally.com; ☺ early Aug), when around 500,000 riders, fans and curious onlookers take over the town. Temporary campsites are set up and motels across the region unmuffle their rates. Check the rally website for vacancies.

The Sturgis Motorcycle Museum (www.sturgismuseum.com; 999 Main St; adult/child $10/free; ☺ 10am-4pm) houses dozens of bikes, including many classics. The 'freedom fighters' exhibit honors those who have fought for the rights of bikers.

Spearfish

Spearfish Canyon Scenic Byway (www.byways.org; US 14A) is a waterfall-lined, curvaceous 20-mile road that cleaves into the heart of the hills from Spearfish. There's a sight worth stopping for around every bend; pause for longer than a minute and you'll hear beavers hard at work.

The chamber of commerce (☎ 800-626-8013; www.spearfishchamber.org; 106 W Kansas St; ☉ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, info available 24hr in lobby) has a self-guided tour of the byway and hiking trail maps.

Chain hotels cluster around I-90 exits 10 and 14, and aging indie motels are downtown. For a rural retreat, the Spearfish Canyon Lodge (☎ 605-584-3435; www.spfcanyon.com; US 14A; r $90-220; ♿ ☎) is 13 miles south of Spearfish near trails and streams. The massive lobby fireplace adds charm and the 55 modern piney rooms are cozy.

Deadwood

'No law at all in Deadwood, is that true?' So began the iconic HBO TV series. Today things have changed, although the 80 gambling halls big and small would no doubt put a sly grin on the faces of the hard characters who founded the town.

Settled illegally by eager gold rushers in the 1870s, Deadwood is now a National Historic Landmark. Its atmospheric streets are lined with gold-rush-era buildings lavishly restored with gambling dollars. Its storied past is easy to find. There's eternal devotion to Wild Bill Hickok, who was shot in the back of the head here in 1876 while gambling.

👁 Sights

Actors reenact famous shootouts (☉ 2pm, 4pm & 6pm Jun-Aug) on Main St during summer. Hickok's murder (657 Main St; ☉ 1pm, 3pm, 5pm & 7pm Jun-mid-Sep) is acted out in Saloon No 10. A trial (cnr Main & Pine Sts; ☉ 8pm) of the killer takes place in the Masonic Temple.

Downtown is walkable, but the fake trolley (per ride $1) can be handy for getting between attractions, hotels and parking lots.

Mount Moriah Cemetery

HISTORIC SITE

(adult/child $1/50¢; ☉ 8am-8pm summer, 8am-5pm rest of year) Calamity Jane (born Martha Canary; 1850-1903) and Hickok (1847-76) rest side by side up on Boot Hill at the very steep cemetery. Entertaining bus tours (adult/child $9/5) leave hourly from Main St.

Deadwood History & Information Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 800-999-1876; www.deadwood.org; Pine St; ☉ 8am-7pm summer, 9am-5pm rest of year) This splendid center, in the restored train depot, has tons of local info for visitors, plus exhibits and photos of the town's history.

Adams Museum

MUSEUM

(www.deadwoodhistory.com; 54 Sherman St; admission by donation; ☉ 9am-5pm daily summer, 10am-4pm Tue-Sat rest of year) Does an excellent job of capturing the town's colorful past.

Days of '76 Museum

MUSEUM

(www.daysof76museum.com; 18 76 Dr; adult/child $5.50/2.50; ☉ 9am-5pm, closed Sun Sep-Apr) Focusing on 1876, this newly enlarged museum does a good job of documenting life in the region at that time.

🛏 Sleeping

Casinos offer up buffets with plenty of cheap chow. There are scores of motels to stay at right in the center; steer clear of new ones that are far removed from the heart of town.

Deadwood Dick's

HOTEL $$

(☎ 605-578-3224; www.deadwooddicks.com; 51 Sherman St; r $60-160; ♿ ☎) These home-style and idiosyncratic rooms feature furniture from the owner's ground-floor antique shop, and range in size from small doubles to large suites with kitchens. The characterful bar on the ground floor abuts the shop.

Bullock Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 605-578-1745; www.historicbullock.com; 633 Main St; r $75-160; ♿ ☎) Fans of the TV show will recall the conflicted but upstanding sheriff Seth Bullock. This hotel was opened by the real Bullock in 1895. The 28 rooms are modern and comfortable while retaining the period charm of the building.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Saloon No 10

BAR

(www.saloon10.com; 657 Main St; mains $10-25; ☉ food noon-10pm, bar 8am-2am) Dark paneled walls and sawdust on the floor are

SOUTH DAKOTA: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Large swaths of South Dakota are unchanged since the 19th century when the Native Americans and the US Army clashed. See the land as it was then along the Native American Scenic Byway (www.byways.org), which begins in Chamberlain on Hwy 50 and meanders 100 crooked miles northwest to Pierre along Hwy 1806, following the Missouri River through rolling, rugged countryside. This stretch makes a good detour off I-90.

Highway 14 runs across the middle of the state, crossing I-29 at Brookings (exit 133), then traveling west through De Smet to Pierre and on to Wall. It meanders through a sea of grassland under big skies colored by long sunsets stretching across the broad horizon.

Way off in the northwest corner of the state, Petrified Wood Park (500 Main St; ☎ park 24hr, museum 9am-5pm Jun-Aug) is a 1930s collection of geologic oddities covering an entire city block in the center of little Lemmon.

features of this storied bar. The original, where Hickok literally lost big time, stood across the street, but the building burned to the ground and the owners brought the bar over here. There's a rooftop bar and decent Italian-accented food.

Lead

Just uphill from Deadwood, Lead (pronounced lead) has an unrestored charm and still bears plenty of scars from the mining era. Gape at the 1250ft-deep Homestake Gold Mine (☎ 605-584-3110; www.homestake-tour.com; 160 W Main St; viewing area free, tours adult/child $7.50/6.50; ☎ tours 9am-4pm May-Sep) to see what open-pit mining can do to a mountain. Nearby are the same mine's shafts, which plunge more than 1.5 miles below the surface and are now being used for physics research.

The Main Street Manor Hostel (☎ 605-717-2044; www.mainstreetmanorhostel.com; 515 W Main St; per person/d $25/50; ☎ closed Dec & Jan; 🍷) is a gem in its own right. Guests get use of the kitchen, garden and laundry at this very friendly place.

US 385

The scenic spine of the Black Hills, US 385 runs 90 miles from Deadwood to Hot Springs and beyond. Beautiful meadows and dark stands of conifers are interspersed with roadside attractions that include kangaroos, mistletoe and, of course, Elvis.

Hill City

One of the most appealing towns up in the hills, Hill City (www.hillcitysd.com) is less frenzied than places such as Keystone. Its main drag has cafes and galleries.

★ 1880 Train (www.1880train.com; 222 Railroad Ave; adult/child round-trip $28/12; ☎ early May-mid-Oct) is a classic steam train running through rugged country to and from Keystone. A train museum is next door.

Right in the center, the Alpine Inn (☎ 605-574-2749; www.alpineinnhillcity.com; 133 Main St; r $80-160) dates to 1886 and has comfy rooms in bright red, and filling German fare. Dine amidst frontier charm at Desperados (301 Main St; mains $9-20; ☎ 11:30am-9pm) (have the burger).

Mount Rushmore

Glimpses of Washington's nose from the roads leading to this hugely popular monument never cease to surprise and are but harbingers of the full impact of this mountainside sculpture once you're up close (and past the less impressive parking area and entrance walk). George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt each iconically stare into the distance in 60ft-tall granite glory.

Hugely popular, you can easily escape the crowds and fully appreciate the Mount Rushmore National Memorial (www.nps.gov/moru; off Hwy 244; parking $11; ☎ 8am-10pm summer, 8am-5pm other times) while marveling at the artistry of sculptor Gutzon Borglum and the immense labor of the workers who created the memorial between 1927 and 1941.

The Presidential Trail loop passes right below the monument for some fine nostril views and accesses the worthwhile Sculptor's Studio. Start clockwise and you're right under Washington's nose in under five minutes. The nature trail to the right as you face the entrance connects the viewing and parking areas, passing through a pine forest and avoiding the crowds and commercialism.

The official Park Service information centers have excellent bookstores with proceeds going to the park. Avoid the schlocky Xanterra gift shop and the awful Carvers Cafe, which looked much better in the scene where Cary Grant gets plugged in North by Northwest. The main museum is spotty but the fascinating Sculptor's Studio conveys the drama of how the monument came to be.

Keystone

The nearest lodging and restaurants to Mt Rushmore are in Keystone, a one-time mining town now solely devoted to milking the monument. Gaudy motels vie with fudgeries for your attention, however you can get great sandwiches at Teddy's Deli (236 Winter St; mains from $5; ☺ 9am-9pm summer, shorter hours other times).

👁 Sights

Crazy Horse Memorial MONUMENT
(www.crazyhorsememorial.org; US 385; per person/car $10/27; ☺ 8am-dusk summer, to 5pm rest of year) The world's largest monument is a 563ft-tall work-in-progress, with a lot of work to go. When finished it will depict the Sioux leader astride his horse, pointing to the horizon saying, 'My lands are where my dead lie buried.'

Never photographed or persuaded to sign a meaningless treaty, Crazy Horse was chosen for a monument that Lakota Sioux elders hoped would balance the presidential focus of Mt Rushmore. In 1948 a Boston-born sculptor, the indefatigable Korczak Ziolkowski, started blasting granite. His family have continued the work since his death in 1982. (It should also be noted that many Native Americans oppose the monument as a desecration of sacred land.)

No one is predicting when the sculpture will be complete (the face was dedicated in 1998). A rather thrilling laser-light show tells the tales of the monument on summer evenings.

The visitor center complex includes a Native American museum, a cultural center where you can see artisans at work, cafes and Ziolkowski's studio. A bus takes you to the base of the mountain.

Custer State Park

The only reason 111-sq-mile Custer State Park (www.custerstatepark.info; 7-day pass per car $15) isn't a national park is that the state grabbed it first. It boasts one of the largest free-roaming bison herds in the world (about 1500), the famous 'begging burros' (donkeys seeking handouts) and more than 200 bird species. Other wildlife include elk, pronghorns, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, coyotes, prairie dogs, mountain lions and bobcats.

The Peter Norbeck Visitor Center (☎ 605-255-4464; www.custerstatepark.info; US 16A; ☺ 8am-8pm summer, 9am-5pm rest of year), situated on the eastern side of the park, contains good exhibits and offers activities such as gold-panning demonstrations and guided nature walks. The nearby Black Hills Playhouse (www.blackhillspayhouse.com; tickets adult/child $32/15; ☺ schedule varies Jun-mid-Aug) hosts summer theater.

Meandering over awesome stone bridges and across sublime Alpine meadows, the 18-mile Wildlife Loop Road and the incredible 14-mile Needles Highway (SD 87) are two superb drives in the park. The latter links with US 385 at either end.

However, the real road star is Iron Mountain Road (Hwy 16A). It's a 16-mile roller coaster of wooden bridges, virtual loop-the-loops, narrow tunnels and stunning vistas on the section between the park's west entrance and Keystone.

Hiking through the pine-covered hills and prairie grassland (keep an eye out for rattlesnakes) is a great way to see wildlife and rock formations. Trails through Sylvan

MOUNT RUSHMORE'S FIFTH PRESIDENT

Only four presidents on Mt Rushmore right? Well, maybe not. Nature may have provided a fifth. Drive 1.3 miles northwest from the Mt Rushmore parking entrance (away from Keystone) on Hwy 244 and look for a sheer rock face that's the backside of Mt Rushmore. Pull over safely and then decide just which president might be honored by the rather lurid shape on the rock face. Which head of state it represents may depend on your politics.

Lake Shore, Sunday Gulch, Cathedral Spires and French Creek Natural Area are all highly recommended.

You can pitch a tent in eight campgrounds (☎800-710-2267; www.campsd.com; tent sites $18-27) around the park. At four, you can rent a well-equipped camping cabin for $47 per night. Reservations are vital in summer.

Backcountry camping (per person per night $6) is allowed in the French Creek Natural Area. The park also has four impressive resorts (☎888-875-0001; www.custerresorts.com) with a mix of lodge rooms and cabins starting at $95 and going much higher. Book well ahead. The town of Custer, the main gateway into the park, has plenty of hotels and restaurants.

Wind Cave National Park

This park, protecting 44 sq miles of grassland and forest, sits just south of Custer State Park. The central feature is, of course, the cave, which contains 132 miles of mapped passages. The cave's foremost feature is its 'boxwork' calcite formations (95% of all that are known exist here), which look like honeycomb and date back 60 to 100 million years. The strong gusts, which are felt at the entrance, but not inside, give the cave its name. The visitor center (www.nps.gov/wica; ☎9am-6pm summer, reduced hours rest of year) has details on the variety of tours (☎reservations 605-745-4600; adult $7-23, child $3.50-4.50) that are offered. The four-hour Wild Cave Tour offers an orgy of spelunking.

Hiking is a popular activity in the park, where you'll find the southern end of the 111-mile Centennial Trail to Sturgis. The campground (campsites $12) usually has space; backcountry camping (free with permit) is allowed in limited areas.

Jewel Cave National Monument

Another of the Black Hills' many fascinating caves is Jewel Cave, 13 miles west of Custer on US 16, so named because calcite crystals line nearly all of its walls. Currently 145 miles have been surveyed, making it the second-longest known cave in the world, but it is presumed to be the longest. Tours (adult $4-27, child free-$4) range in length and difficulty and are offered on a first-come basis. Make arrangements at the visitor center (www.nps.gov/jeca; ☎8am-5:30pm summer, to 4:30pm other times). If you'll only visit one Black Hills cave, this would be a good choice.

Hot Springs

This surprisingly attractive town, south of the main Black Hills circuit, boasts ornate 1890s red sandstone buildings and warm mineral springs feeding the Fall River.

You can fill your water bottles at Kidney Springs, just south of the visitor center (☎800-325-6991; www.hot springs-sd.com; 801 S 6th St; ☎9am-7pm summer) or swim at Cascade Falls, which is 71°F (22°C) all year, 11 miles south on US 71. The water at Evans Plunge (www.evansplunge.com; 1145 N River St; adult/child $12/10; ☎10am-9pm summer, reduced hours rest of year), a giant indoor geothermal springs waterpark, is always 87°F (30.5°C).

The remarkable Mammoth Site (www.mammothsite.com; 1800 US 18 bypass; adult/child $9/7; ☎8am-8pm May 15-Aug 15, reduced hours rest of year) is the country's largest left-as-found mammoth fossil display. Hundreds of animals perished in a sinkhole here about 26,000 years ago.

★Red Rock River Resort (☎605-745-4400; www.redrockriverresort.com; 603 N River St; r $85-170; ☎☎) has cozy and stylish rooms in a beautiful 1891 downtown building, plus spa facilities (day passes for nonguests $25).

NEBRASKA

Those who just see Nebraska as 480 miles of blandness along I-80 are missing out on a lot. The Cornhusker State (they do grow a lot of ears) has beautiful river valleys and an often stark bleakness that is entrancing. Its links to the past – from vast fields of dinosaur remains to Native American culture to the toils of hardy settlers – provide a dramatic storyline. Dotted with cute little towns, Nebraska's two main cities, Omaha and Lincoln, are vibrant and artful.

The key to enjoying this long stoic stretch of country is to take the little roads, whether it's US 30 instead of I-80, US 20 to the Black Hills or the lonely and magnificent US 2.

i Information

Nebraska Association of Bed & Breakfasts (☎877-223-6222; www.nebraskabb.com)

Nebraska State Parks (☎reservations 402-471-1414; www.outdoornebraska.ne.gov) Vehicle permits cost $5/21 per day/year. Some campsites at popular parks are reservable; fees are $7 to $26 per night.

Nebraska Tourism Commission (📞 888-444-1867; www.visitnebraska.com)

Omaha

Be careful if you're planning a quick pit stop in Omaha. Home to the brick-and-cobblestoned Old Market neighborhood downtown, a lively music scene and several quality museums, this town can turn a few hours into a few days. After all, billionaire Warren Buffett lives here and when is he ever wrong?

Omaha grew to prominence as a transport hub. Its location on the Missouri River and proximity to the Platte made it an important stop on the Oregon, California and Mormon Trails, and later the Union Pacific Railroad stretched west from here. These days Omaha is in the nation's top 10 for billionaires and Fortune 500 companies per capita.

👁️ Sights & Activities

It's easy to spend much of your Omaha visit in Old Market on the river edge of downtown. This revitalized warehouse district, full of nightclubs, restaurants and funky shops, easily holds its own when it comes to aesthetics, energy and sophistication. Nearby parks boast fountains and waterside walks.

★ Durham Museum

MUSEUM

(📞 402-444-5071; www.durhammuseum.org; 801 S 10th St; adult/child $9/6; 🕒 10am-8pm Tue, to 5pm Wed-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) The soaring art-deco Union Station train depot houses a remarkable museum. Covering local history from the Lewis and Clark expedition to the Omaha stockyards to the trains that once called here, the Durham makes the most of its beautiful surrounds. The soda fountain still serves hot dogs and phosphates.

The museum offers themed history tours of Omaha in summer several days per week ($20).

Riverfront

LANDMARK

(8th St & Riverfront Dr) The riverfront along the Missouri River, downtown, has been massively spiffed up. Highlights include the architecturally stunning Bob Kerry Pedestrian Bridge, which soars over to Iowa; the Heartland of America Park, with fountains and lush botanical gardens; and Lewis & Clark Landing, where the explorers did just that in 1804. The riverfront is home to the Lewis & Clark National Historic Trail Visitor Center (www.nps.gov/lecl; 601 Riverfront Dr; 🕒 9am-5pm summer, Mon-Fri only rest of the year).

Joslyn Art Museum

MUSEUM

(www.joslyn.org; 2200 Dodge St; 🕒 10am-4pm Tue-Sat, noon-4pm Sun, to 8pm Thu) FREE This admired and architecturally imposing museum has a great collection of 19th- and 20th-century European and American art. There's also a good selection of Western-themed works plus an exciting sculpture garden.

★ Union Pacific Railroad Museum

MUSEUM

(www.uprr.com; 200 Pearl St, Council Bluffs, IA; 🕒 10am-4pm Tue-Sat) FREE Just across the river in the cute little downtown area of Council Bluffs, IA, this grand museum tells the story of the world's most profitable railroad, the company that rammed the transcontinental railroad west from here in the 1860s. Look for the pictures of Ronald Reagan and his chimp-pal Bonzo aboard a train.

🏠 Sleeping

There is a good mix of midrange and budget hotels along US 275 near 60th St, at I-80

NEBRASKA FACTS

Nickname Cornhusker State

Population 1.86 million

Area 77,360 sq miles

Capital city Lincoln (population 262,000)

Other cities Omaha (population 415,000)

Sales tax 5.5-7%

Birthplace of Dancer Fred Astaire (1899-1987), actors Marlon Brando (1924-2004) and Hilary Swank (b 1974), civil rights leader Malcolm X (1925-65)

Home of Air Force generals

Politics Solid Republican

Famous for Johnny Carson, corn

Official beverage Milk

Driving distances Omaha to the Wyoming border on I-80 480 miles, Omaha to Kansas City 186 miles exits 445 and 449, and across the river in Council Bluffs, IA, at I-29 exit 51. Old Market and downtown have several midrange chains.

★ Magnolia Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$
(☎ 402-341-2500; www.magnoliahotelmomaha.com; 1615 Howard St; r $130-200; 📶 @ 📺 🍷) Not far from Old Market, the Magnolia is a boutique hotel housed in a restored 1923 Italianate high-rise. The 145 rooms have a vibrant, modern style. Rates include a full buffet breakfast and bedtime milk and cookies.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

The best thing you can do is just wander Old Market and see what you find.

Ted & Wally's Ice Cream ICE CREAM $
(www.tedandwallys.com; 1120 Jackson St; ice cream from $3; ☺ 11am-10pm) Ultra-creamy ice cream in myriad flavors made fresh daily.

Upstream Brewing Company AMERICAN $$
(☎ 402-344-0200; 514 S 11th St; mains $10-30; ☺ 11am-1am) In a big old firehouse, the beer here is also big on flavor. The Caesar salads have enough garlic to propel you over the Missouri to Iowa. Steaks are thick and up to local standards. There are sidewalk tables, a rooftop deck and a huge bar.

Spencer's STEAKHOUSE $$$
(☎ 402-280-8888; www.spencersforsteaksandchops.com; 102 S 10th St; mains $25-55; ☺ 5-10pm) Omaha's famous for steaks and this lavish restaurant is the current reigning champ for seared meat. Prices reflect its no-compromises philosophy, but you can enjoy excellent casual fare in the bar for a fraction of the price (the $14 burger is excellent).

Mister Toad's BAR
(1002 Howard St; ☺ noon-1am) Sit out front on benches under big trees or nab a corner table inside while you work through the beer and cocktail list. It's woodsy, worn and flirting with dive-bar status. There's live jazz Sunday nights.

📍 Information

Reader (www.thereader.com) Good entertainment listings.

Visitor Center (☎ 866-937-6624; www.visito-maha.com; 1001 Farnam St; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, to 4pm Sun summer, reduced hours rest of year; 📶) Near Old Market; has a good coffee bar and rents Trek bikes (from $10 per hour).

WORTH A TRIP

AMERICA'S FIRST HOMESTEAD

Homestead National Monument

(www.nps.gov/home; Hwy 4; ☺ heritage center 9am-5pm) FREE is on the site of the very first homestead granted under the landmark Homestead Act of 1862, which opened much of the US to settlers who received free land if they made it productive. The pioneering Freeman family is buried here and you can see their reconstructed log house and hike the site. The heritage center is a striking building with good displays. The site is 4 miles west of Beatrice, 35 miles south of Lincoln on Hwy 77. It's off Hwy 136, which is designated the 'Heritage Highway' scenic byway and passes through tumbledown yet evocative old towns such as Franklin.

📍 Getting There & Away

Amtrak's California Zephyr stops in Omaha on its run between northern California and Chicago.

Around Omaha

If you see large military planes drifting across the sky slowly, they're likely headed for one of Omaha's large military air bases.

👁 Sights

Strategic Air & Space Museum MUSEUM
(www.strategicairandspace.com; I-80 exit 426; adult/child $12/6; ☺ 10am-5pm) After WWII Omaha's Offutt Air Force Base was home to the US Air Force Strategic Air Command, the force of nuclear bombers detailed in Stanley Kubrick's Dr Strangelove. This legacy is documented at this cavernous museum, which boasts a huge collection of bombers, from the B-17 to the B-52. Don't expect exhibits looking at the wider implications of bombing. It's 30 miles southwest of Omaha.

Lincoln

Home to the historic Haymarket District and a lively bar scene thanks to the huge downtown campus of the University of Nebraska, Lincoln makes a good overnight stop. Nebraska's capital city is a very livable place and has more parks per capita than any other similarly sized US city.

Sights

The University of Nebraska (www.unl.edu) has its main campus in the middle of town. The complex is as practical as a farmer and lacks real highlights but is an interesting stroll. However, you'll have no end of excitement on one of the six fall Saturdays when the Cornhuskers football team plays at home; on these days passions run high and games are sold out.

State Capitol

LANDMARK

(www.capitol.org; 1445 K St; tours free; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun, tours hourly) From the outside, Nebraska's remarkable 1932 400ft-high state capitol represents the apex of phallic architecture (like many tall buildings in the Plains, it's often called 'the penis on the prairie'), while the symbolically rich interior curiously combines classical and art-deco motifs. Enjoy views from the 14th-floor observation decks.

Museum of Nebraska History

MUSEUM

(www.nebraskahistory.org; 131 Centennial Mall N; admission by donation; ☺ 9am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, 1-4:30pm Sat & Sun) Follows the Cornhusker State's story, starting with a large First Nebraskans room.

Sleeping

Most hotels are near I-80. Those around exit 403 are mostly midrange, while there are budget motels aplenty at exit 399. There are some midrange chains downtown.

Rogers House

B&B $$

(☎ 402-476-6961; www.rogershouseinn.com; 2145 B St; r $90-170; 🏠📞) Close to downtown, the 11 rooms here are spread out over two 100-year-old houses. Refreshingly, the decor eschews the froufrou silliness of many B&Bs.

Eating & Drinking

Lincoln's Haymarket District, a strolling-friendly six-block warehouse area dating from the early 20th century, has numerous cafes, restaurants, coffeehouses and bars. If you're after falafel sandwiches followed by beer and body shots, follow the undergrads down O St to 14th St.

★ Indigo Bridge

CAFE $

(701 P St; mains $0-5; ☺ 8am-10pm; 📞) This fine cafe in a fantastic bookstore serves coffee and snacks throughout the day. At lunch on Monday, Wednesday and Friday enjoy hearty organic soup and bread and pay what you can afford.

Yia Yia's Pizza

PIZZERIA $$

(1423 O St; mains $8-15; ☺ 11am-1pm Mon-Sat, 11am-9pm Sun) Many a hangover has been chased away by the cheesy, gooey goodness at this Lincoln legend. The pizzas are cracker-thin, the regional beer list thick. Sit at a sidewalk table or inside amid the gregarious college crowd.

Information

The visitor center (☎ 800-423-8212; www.lincoln.org; 201 N 7th St; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri, 8am-2pm Sat, reduced hours rest of year) is inside Lincoln Station, where Amtrak's California Zephyr stops.

Along I-80

Shortly after Lincoln, I-80 runs an almost razor-straight 83 miles before hugging the Platte River. Several towns along its route to Wyoming make up for its often monotonous stretches. Whenever possible, use parallel US 30, which bounces from one interesting burg to the next (Gothenburg, exit 211, is especially attractive). It follows the busy Union Pacific (UP) mainline the entire way.

Grand Island

★ Stuhr Museum of the Prairie Pioneer

(www.stuhrmuseum.org; I-80 exit 312, 3133 W Hwy 34; adult/child $8/6; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) is a remarkable combination of museum exhibits with a vast outdoor living museum. Note how conditions dramatically improved from the homes in 1860 to 1890 thanks to riches made possible by the railroad.

Upstream of Grand Island, the Platte hosts 500,000 sandhill cranes (80% of the world population) and 15 million waterfowl during the spring migration (mid-February to early April). The Nebraska Nature & Visitor Center (www.nebraskanature.org; I-80 exit 305; admission free, tours $25; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat year-round, 8am-6pm daily Mar) is a good place to break out the binoculars.

Kearney

The Great Platte River Road Archway Monument (www.archway.org; adult/child $12/5; ☉9am-6pm summer, reduced hours rest of year) arches unexpectedly over I-80 east of Kearney near exit 272. The multimedia exhibits tell an engaging story of the people who've passed this way, from those riding wagon trains to those zipping down the interstate.

Like all the I-80 towns, Kearney has no shortage of motels by the interstate. A good indie choice near downtown is Midtown Western Inn (☎308-237-3153; www.midtown-westerninn.com; 1401 2nd Ave; r $50-80; ♿ ☎ ☎), which has a vintage motel vibe with huge, clean rooms.

The compact downtown, near US 30 and the busy Union Pacific mainline, has good cafes and bars including Thunderhead Brewing Co (www.thunderheadbrewing.com; 18 E 21st St; mains $5-10; ☉ noon-1am), which makes a fine IPA and serves pizza.

North Platte

North Platte, a rail-fan mecca, is home to the Buffalo Bill Ranch State Historical Park (www.outdoornebraska.ne.gov; 2921 Scouts Rest Ranch Rd; house adult/child $2/1, vehicle permit $5; ☉9am-5pm daily summer, to 4pm Mon-Fri mid-Mar-May & Sep-mid-Oct), 2 miles north of US 30. Once the home of Bill Cody, the father of rodeo and the famed Wild West Show, it has a fun museum that reflects his colorful life.

Enjoy sweeping views of Union Pacific's Bailey Yard, the world's largest railroad yard, from the Golden Spike Tower (www.goldenspiketower.com; 1249 N Homestead Rd; adult/child $7/5; ☉9am-7pm Mon-Sat, from 1pm Sun summer, to 5pm rest of year), an eight-story observation tower with indoor and outdoor decks. From I-80, take exit 177.

Along US 20

The further west you go on US 20, the more space – and Sandhills – you'll see between towns, trees and pickup trucks. The western end of the road, known as the Bridges to Buttes Byway, traverses a Nebraska barely touched by time. Look for wild geologic features that pop out of the rolling green hills.

Royal

Watch paleontologists work at Ashfall Fossil Beds (www.ashfall.unl.edu; 86930 517th Ave; admission $5 plus vehicle permit $5; ☉9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun, reduced hours May & Sep-

NEBRASKA: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Carhenge (www.carhenge.com) is a Stonehenge replica assembled from 38 discarded cars that lures 80,000 DeSoto druids a year. This artful reproduction rises out of a field 3 miles north of Alliance along Hwy 87, east of US 385, the road to the Black Hills.

Scotts Bluff National Monument has been a beacon to travelers for centuries. Rising 800ft above the flat plains of western Nebraska, it was an important waypoint on the Oregon Trail in the mid-19th century. You can still see wagon ruts today in the park. The visitor center (www.nps.gov/scbl; per vehicle $5; ☉9am-5pm) has displays and can guide you to walks and drives. It's off US 26 south of Scottsbluff town.

mid-Oct), 8 miles northwest of town. You can see unearthened prehistoric skeletons of hundreds of animals, including rhinoceroses, buried 12 million years ago by ash from a Pompeii-like explosion in what is now Idaho.

Valentine

Fortunately, 'America's Heart City' doesn't milk the schtick. It sits on the edge of the Sandhills and is a great base for canoeing, kayaking and inner-tubing the winding canyons of the federally protected Niobrara National Scenic River (www.nps.gov/niob). The river crosses the Fort Niobrara National Wildlife Refuge (www.fws.gov/fortniobrara; Hwy 12; ☉ visitor center 8am-4:30pm daily Jun-Aug, closed weekends rest of year). Driving tours here take you past bison, elk and more.

Floating down the river draws scores of people through the summer. Sheer limestone bluffs, lush forests and spring-fed waterfalls along the banks shatter any 'flat Nebraska' stereotypes. Most float tours are based in Valentine (www.visitvalentine.com).

Northern Panhandle

Get a feel for the tough lives led by early residents at the Museum of the Fur Trade (www.furtrade.org; off US 20; adult/child $5/free; ☉8am-5pm May-Oct), 3 miles east of Chadron. It includes the restored sod-roofed Bordeaux

SCENIC DRIVE: NEBRASKA'S SANDHILLS

Nebraska's Hwy 2 branches northwest from I-80 and Grand Island through Broken Bow 272 miles to Alliance in the panhandle. It crosses the lonely and lovely Sandhills – 19,000 sq miles of sand dunes covered in grass – one of the country's most isolated areas. With the wind whistling in your ears, the distant call of a hawk and the biggest skies imaginable, this is pure iconic Great Plains travel.

Trading Post, which swapped pelts for guns, blankets and whiskey from 1837 to 1876.

Fort Robinson State Park (www.outdoornebraska.ne.gov; Hwy 20; admission per vehicle $5; ☀ sunrise-sunset), 4 miles west of Crawford, is where Crazy Horse was killed in 1877 while in captivity. It has a museum, camping and cabins.

At Harrison, detour 23 miles south on pastoral Hwy 29 to reach Agate Fossil Beds National Monument (☎ 308-668-2211; www.nps.gov/agfo; ☀ 9am-5pm summer, 8am-4pm rest of year) FREE, a rich source of unusual fossils dating back 20 million years. The Native American artifact display is small but excellent.

KANSAS

Wicked witches and yellow-brick roads, pitched battles over slavery and tornadoes powerful enough to pulverize entire towns are some of the more lurid images of Kansas. But the common image – amber waves of grain from north to south and east to west is closer to reality.

There's a simple beauty to the green rolling hills and limitless horizons. Places such as Chase County beguile those who value understatement. Gems abound, from the superb space museum in Hutchinson to the indie music clubs of Lawrence. Most importantly, follow the Great Plains credo of ditching the interstate for the two-laners and make your own discoveries. The website www.kansassampler.org is a brilliant resource for finding the best the state has to offer, as is the guidebook 8 Wonders of Kansas.

i Information

Kansas Bed & Breakfast Association (☎ 888-572-2632; www.kbba.com)

Kansas State Parks (www.kdwpt.state.ks.us) Per vehicle per day/year $5/25. Campsites cost $7 to $13.

Kansas Travel & Tourism (☎ 785-296-2009; www.travelks.com)

Wichita

From its early cow-town days at the head of the Chisholm Trail in the 1870s to its current claim as Air Capital of the World (thanks to about half the world's general aviation aircraft being built here by the likes of Cessna and others), Kansas' largest city has always been a busy place. It's a worthwhile stopover but not at the expense of the rest of the state.

👁 Sights

Wichita's historic, all-brick Old Town, good for shopping, eating and drinking, is on the east side of downtown.

The Museums on the River district includes the first three sights listed here, plus botanical gardens and a science museum aimed at kids. It fills a triangle of green space between the Big and Little Arkansas Rivers to the west of downtown.

★ Old Cowtown Museum MUSEUM
(www.oldcowtown.org; 1865 Museum Blvd; adult/child $8/5.50; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat; 🚗) An open-air museum that re-creates the Wild West (as seen on TV...). Pioneer-era buildings, staged gunfights and guides in cowboy costumes thrill kids. The river walks here are bucolic.

Mid-America All-Indian Center MUSEUM
(www.theindiancenter.org; 650 N Seneca St; adult/child $7/3; ☀ 10am-4pm Tue-Sat) Guarded by Wichita artist Blackbear Bosin's 44ft statue 'Keeper of the Plains,' this museum has exhibits of Native American art and artifacts, as well as a traditional Wichita-style grass lodge.

Exploration Place MUSEUM
(www.exploration.org; 300 N McLean Blvd; adult/child from $10/6; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 🚗) Right on the river confluence, this striking modern museum has no end of cool exhibits, including a tornado chamber where you can feel 75mph winds and a sublime erosion model where you can see water create a new little Kansas.

Museum of World Treasures MUSEUM
(www.worldtreasures.org; 835 E 1st St; adult/child $9/7; ☀️10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 🚻) With a complete T-Rex, Egyptian mummies, Wizard of Oz props, Abraham Lincoln's walking cane, military relics, a sports hall of fame and much more, this museum has something for everyone.

Sleeping

Hotbeds for chains include I-135 exit 1AB, I-35 exit 50 and the Hwy 96 Rock Rd and Webb Rd exits. Broadway north of the center offers a mixed bag of indie cheapies.

Hotel at Old Town HOTEL $$
(☎️316-267-4800; www.hotelatoldtown.com; 830 1st St; r $100-200; 🚻📺📶) In the midst of Old Town nightlife, this restored hotel is housed in the 1906 factory of the Keen Kutter Corp, a maker of household goods. Rooms have high ceilings, fridges and microwaves and there's a good breakfast buffet.

Hotel at Waterwalk HOTEL $$
(☎️316-263-1061; www.hotelatwaterwalk.com; 711 S Main St; r $110-180; 🚻📺📶) On the south edge of downtown, suites here range up to two-bedroom in size and have kitchens. It's modern and commodious, perfect for families or quarreling couples.

Eating & Drinking

Wichita is the home of Pizza Hut, but that's far from the pinnacle of the city's dining options. For some real-deal Mexican or Vietnamese, drive north on Broadway and take your pick. Old Town has a fruitful farmers market (www.oldtownfarmersmarket.com; 1st St & Mosley St; ☀️7am-noon Sat May-Oct).

★Doo-Dah Diner DINER $$
(www.doodahdiner.com; 206 E Kellogg Dr; mains $5-9; ☀️7am-2pm Wed-Sun) A model for diners everywhere. This bustling local fave has fabulous chow, including corned-beef hash, banana-bread French toast and eggs Benedict.

Nu Way Cafe BURGERS $
(1416 W Douglas Ave; mains $3-5; ☀️11am-9pm) Frosty glasses of homemade root beer are among the highlights at this west-of-downtown outlet of a beloved Wichita chain. Old-style Formica is a backdrop for delicate onion rings and loose-meat sandwiches.

KANSAS FACTS

Nickname Sunflower State

Population 2.9 million

Area 82,282 sq miles

Capital city Topeka (population 128,200)

Other cities Wichita (population 385,000)

Sales tax 6.3-9.8%

Birthplace of Aviator Amelia Earhart (1897–1937), temperance crusader Carrie Nation (1846–1911), TV talker Dr Phil (b 1950), Pizza Hut (established 1958), singer-songwriter Melissa Etheridge (b 1961)

Home of Dorothy and Toto (of Wizard of Oz fame)

Politics Very conservative

Famous for Wheat

Official state song 'Home on the Range'

Driving distances Wichita to Kansas City 200 miles, Dodge City to Abilene 188 miles

Anchor AMERICAN $$

(www.anchorwichita.com; 1109 E Douglas Ave; mains $7-12; ☀️11am-late) On the edge of Old Town, this vintage pub has high ceilings, a tiled floor, a great beer selection and tasty food. The sandwiches and burgers are fab, the specials sublime. It totally outclasses the nearby chain and theme bars.

Along I-70

What it lacks in glamour, Kansas' 420-mile 'Main Street' makes up for in efficiency, quickly shuttling you from Kansas City to the Colorado border. The scenery can be monotonous, but as always there are many interesting stops along the way. West of Salina, the landscape around I-70 stretches into rolling, wide-open plains, with small wind-blown towns like Hays, which did a desolate turn in many scenes in Paper Moon. US 50 and US 56 are intriguing alternatives.

ROUTE 66: GET YOUR KICKS IN KANSAS

Only 13 miles of Route 66 pass through the southeast corner of Kansas, but it's a good drive along Hwy 66 and US 69.

The first town you hit after Joplin, Galena, has been on the decline since even before the last of the area's lead and zinc mines closed in the 1970s.

Three miles down the road is Riverton, where you might consider a detour 20 miles north to Pittsburg for some famous fried chicken (p658).

Cross US 400 and stay on old Route 66 to the 1923 Marsh Rainbow Arch Bridge, the last of its kind.

From the bridge, it's less than 3 miles south to Baxter Springs, the site of a Civil War massacre and numerous bank robberies. The multifaceted Baxter Springs Heritage Center (www.baxterspringsmuseum.org; 740 East Ave; ☎ 10am-4:30pm Mon-Sat, 1-4:30pm Sun Apr-Oct, closed Mon-Wed Nov-Mar) FREE has helped restore a 1939 Phillips 66 gas station into the Kansas Route 66 Visitor Center (cnr Military Ave & 10th St; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat). Military Ave (US 69A) takes you into Oklahoma.

Lawrence

Lawrence, 40 miles west of Kansas City, has been an island of progressive politics from the start. Founded by abolitionists in 1854 and an important stop on the Underground Railroad, it became a battlefield in the clash between pro- and antislavery factions. In 1863, the Missouri 'Bushwhackers' of William Clarke Quantrill raided Lawrence, killing nearly 200 people and burning much of it to the ground. The city survived, however, and so did its free-thinking spirit, which is fitting for the home of the University of Kansas (KU; www.ku.edu).

Sights

The appealing downtown, where townies and students merge, centers on Massachusetts St, one of the most pleasant streets in this part of the country for a stroll.

Spencer Museum of Art GALLERY
(www.spencerart.ku.edu; 1301 Mississippi St; ☎ 10am-4pm Tue-Sat, noon-4pm Sun, to 8pm Wed & Thu) FREE It isn't large, but this museum has a collection encompassing work by Western artist Frederic Remington and many European masters.

Sleeping & Eating

Lawrence's motels cluster at the junction of US 40 and US 59 south of I-70. The choices downtown make Lawrence the state's best stop for the night.

Halcyon House B&B B&B $$
(☎ 888-441-0314; www.thehalcyonhouse.com; 1000 Ohio St; r $70-120;  ) The nine cute bedrooms here (some share bathrooms) have lots of natural light, and there's a landscaped garden and homemade baked goods for breakfast. Downtown is just a short walk away.

Eldridge Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$
(☎ 785-749-5011; www.eldridgehotel.com; 701 Massachusetts St; r from $140;   ) The 56 modern two-room suites at this historic 1926 downtown hotel have antique-style furnishings. The bar and restaurant are stylish, the ghost misunderstood (rumors abound).

★ Free State Brewing PUB $
(www.freestatebrewing.com; 636 Massachusetts St; mains $6-14; ☎ 11am-late) One of many good places on Mass downtown, this was the first brewery to open in Kansas since Carrie Nation got one closed in 1880. A cut above brewpub standards, the beers are excellent. The food is creative with daily specials.

Entertainment

Bottleneck LIVE MUSIC
(www.bottlenecklive.com; 737 New Hampshire St) The music scene in town is up to college-town standards and this joint usually has the best of the newest. Top bands often skip KC for the Bottleneck.

Information

Visitor Information Center (☎ 785-865-4499; www.visitlawrence.com; 402 N 2nd St; ☎ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) In the restored old Union Pacific depot, with trains still passing by constantly.

Topeka

Kansas and its vital role in America's race relations is symbolized in the otherwise humdrum state capital of Topeka.

Sights

★ Brown vs Board of #### Education National Historic Site MUSEUM

(www.nps.gov/brvb; 1515 SE Monroe St; ☎9am-5pm) FREE It took real guts to challenge the segregationist laws common in the US in the 1950s and the stories of these courageous men and women are here. Set in Monroe Elementary School, one of Topeka's African American schools at the time of the landmark 1954 Supreme Court decision that banned segregation in US schools, the displays cover the whole Civil Rights movement.

State Capitol LANDMARK

(300 SW 10th St; tours free; ☎8am-5pm daily, tours 9am-3pm Mon-Fri) Under the huge green dome, don't miss the fiery John Steuart Curry mural of abolitionist John Brown.

Kansas History Center MUSEUM

(www.kshs.org; 6425 SW 6th Ave; adult/child $8/6; ☎9am-5pm Tue-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) From a Cheyenne war lance to Carrie Nation's hammer, this engaging center is packed with Kansas stories.

Eating

Porubsky's Grocery DELI $

(508 NE Sardou Ave; ☎10am-7pm Mon-Sat) Hard by the old Santa Fe mainline close to downtown, this old Russian deli has been serving up simple sandwiches at its Formica counters since 1947. The chili (only Monday to Thursday) is best with piles of crackers. Try the housemade pickles, which burst with horseradish goodness.

Abilene

In the late 19th century, Abilene was a rowdy cow town at the end of the Chisholm Trail. Today its compact core of historic brick buildings and well-preserved neighborhoods seems perfectly appropriate for the birthplace of Dwight D Eisenhower (1890-1969), president and WWII general.

Fittingly set against a backdrop of grain elevators, the rather regal Eisenhower Center (www.eisenhower.archives.gov; 200 SE 4th St; museum adult/child $10/2; ☎8am-5:45pm summer, 9am-4:45pm rest of year) includes Ike's boyhood home, a museum and library, and his and Mamie's graves. Displays cover the Eisenhower presidential era (1953-61) and his role as allied commander in WWII. However, his ability to forge agreement between the squabbling allies is not fully covered. A highlight is the original text of his speech warning about the military-industrial complex.

The Brookville Hotel (www.brookvillehotel.com; 105 E Lafayette St; meals $15; ☎11am-2pm & 4-7:30pm Wed-Sun) has been serving fried chicken since Ike graduated from West Point (1915). Cream-style corn, fresh biscuits and much more come with every meal.

Lucas

'Outsider art,' meaning works created outside the bounds of traditional culture, has blossomed in tiny Lucas. Samuel Dinsmoor began the trend in 1907 by filling his yard with enormous concrete sculptures reflecting his eccentric philosophies. His Garden of Eden (www.garden-of-eden-lucas-kansas.com; 301 2nd St; adult/child $6/1; ☎10am-5pm May-Oct, 1-4pm Mar & Apr, 1-4pm Sat & Sun Nov-Feb) is visible from the sidewalk, but admission lets you hear some wonderful stories and see his remains in a glass-topped coffin (!).

AMERICA'S BEST SPACE MUSEUM

Possibly the most surprising sight in Kansas, the amazing Cosmosphere & Space Center (www.cosmo.org; 1100 N Plum St; all-attraction pass adult/child $18/16, museum only $12/10; ☎9am-9pm Mon-Sat, noon-9pm Sun; 🚻) captures the race to the moon better than any museum on the planet. Absorbing displays and artifacts such as the Apollo 13 command module will enthral you for hours. The museum is regularly called in to build props for Hollywood movies portraying the space race, including Apollo 13.

All puns aside, the museum's isolated location in Hutchinson might as well be the moon, but it's an easy day trip from Wichita or diversion off I-70.

KANSAS: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Nicodemus is the only surviving town in the west built by emancipated slaves from the south after the Civil War. A national park visitor center (www.nps.gov/nico; ☎ 9am-4:30pm) FREE recounts the town's history and the experience of African Americans in the west. The town is on US 24 about 35 miles north of I-70 via US 183 or US 283.

Monument Rocks are 80ft-tall pyramid-shaped chalk formations that look like a Jawa hangout in Star Wars. Go 25 miles southeast of Oakley via US 83 off I-70 exit 76.

Norton, a burg up in the north, is the home of the They Also Ran Gallery (☎ 785-877-3341; First State Bank, 105 W Main St; ☎ call for hours) FREE, which is devoted to people who ran for president and lost. The ignoble collection includes Aaron Burr, Thomas Dewey and many more.

Fort Scott (www.nps.gov/fosc; ☎ 8am-5pm) FREE is a restored fort near the Missouri border that dates to 1842. While the parade grounds and buildings in the heart of its namesake city are interesting, the real draw here is the story of the battles between pro- and antislavery forces that were fought here before the Civil War.

Legendary fried chicken is a hallmark of several restaurants in far southeastern Crawford County. In Pittsburgh try Chicken Mary's (www.chickenmarys.us; 1133 E 600th Ave; meals from $6; ☎ 4-8:30pm Tue-Sat, 11am-8pm Sun), which isn't far from where Route 66 crosses into Kansas.

The phenomenal Grassroots Art Center (☎ 785-525-6118; www.grassrootsart.net; 213 S Main St; adult/child $6/2; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun May-Sep, 10am-4pm Mon & Thu-Sat, 1-4pm Sun Oct-Apr) has gathered works made of materials such as buttons, barbed wire, pull-tabs and strange machines by self-taught Kansas artists.

The best way to reach Lucas is along the Post Rock Scenic Byway, a picturesque 18-mile jaunt past Wilson Lake starting at I-70 exit 206.

Along US 50

Fabled US 50 splits off from I-35 at Emporia and follows the old Santa Fe mainline west through classic Kansas vistas.

Chase County

Nearly a perfect square, this is the county William Least Heat-Moon examined mile by mile in his best-selling PrairyErth.

The beautiful Flint Hills roll through here and are home to two thirds of the nation's remaining tallgrass prairie. The 10,894-acre Tallgrass Prairie National Preserve (www.nps.gov/tapr; Hwy 177; ☎ buildings 8:30am-4:30pm, trails 24hr) FREE, 2 miles northwest of Strong City and US 50, is a perfect place to hike the prairie and revel in its ever-changing colorful flowers. Rangers offer tours of the preserved ranch and bus tours (☎ tour info 620-273-8494; ☎ tour times vary) of the prairie from a beautiful new visitor center.

The rangers also have maps of some evocative remote drives in the county, as well as a tour of sights from Moon's book. Don't miss the showstopping County Courthouse in Cottonwood Falls, 2 miles south of Strong City. Completed in 1873, it is a fantasy of French Renaissance style.

Along US 56

US 56 follows the old Santa Fe Trail to Dodge City through the heart of the heartland. Most sights along here are also easily reached from US 50.

The large Mennonite communities around Hillsboro are descendants of Russian immigrants who brought the 'Turkey Red' strain of wheat to the Plains, where it thrived despite harsh conditions.

A further 110 miles west in Larned, the Santa Fe Trail Center Museum (www.santafetrailcenter.org; 1349 Hwy 156; adult/child $4/1.50; ☎ 9am-5pm Tue-Sat, also Sun Jun-Aug) details the vital route linking the US and Mexico for much of the 19th century. Six miles west of town on Hwy 156, Fort Larned National Historic Site (www.nps.gov/fofs; ☎ 8:30am-4:30pm) FREE is a remarkably well-preserved Santa Fe Trail fort.

Dodge City

Dodge City, where famous lawmen Bat Masterson and Wyatt Earp tried, sometimes successfully, to keep law and order, had a notorious reputation during the 1870s and 1880s. The long-running TV series Gunsmoke (1955–75) spurred tourism and big crowds have got the heck into Dodge ever since. Geared toward families, historical authenticity here plays a distant third fiddle to fun and frolic.

Tours (adult/child $8/5; ☀ 9:30am–3pm summer) on fake trolleys start at the visitor center (☎ 800-653-9378; www.visitdodgecity.org; 400 W Wyatt Earp Blvd; ☀ 8am–6:30pm summer, 8:30am–5pm Mon–Fri Sep–Apr). Expect to hear a lot of well-spun apocryphal yarns. Self-guided audio tours and free maps let you visit on your own schedule.

The studio-backlot-like Boot Hill Museum (www.boothill.org; 500 W Wyatt Earp Blvd; adult/child from $10/8; ☀ 8am–8pm Jun–Aug, 9am–5pm Sep–May; 🏠) includes a cemetery, jail and saloon, where gunslingers reenact high-noon shootouts while Miss Kitty and her dancing gals do the cancan.

Escape the schmaltz and view surviving Santa Fe Trail wagon-wheel ruts about 9 miles west of town on US 50. The site is well marked.

Chain and indie motels line Wyatt Earp Blvd.

OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma gets its name from the Choctaw name for 'Red People.' One look at the state's vividly red earth and you'll wonder if the name is really an ethnic comment. Still, with 39 tribes located here, it is a place with deep Native American significance. Museums, cultural displays and more abound.

The other side of the Old West coin, cowboys, also figure prominently in the Sooner State. Although pickups have replaced horses, there's still a great sense of the open range, interrupted only by urban Oklahoma City and Tulsa. Oklahoma's share of Route 66 links some of the Mother Road's iconic highlights and there are myriad atmospheric old towns. And just when it seems the vistas go on forever, mountains in the south and far west add texture.

Information

Oklahoma Bed & Breakfast Association

(☎ 866-676-5522; www.okbba.com)

Oklahoma Department of Tourism (www.travelok.com)

Oklahoma State Parks (www.touroklahoma.com) Most parks are free for day use; campsites cost $12 to $28 per night, and some are reservable.

Oklahoma City

Often abbreviated to OKC, Oklahoma City is nearly dead-center in the state and is the cultural and political capital. It has worked hard over the years to become more than just a cow town, all without turning its back on its cowboy heritage. It makes a good pause on your Route 66 travels.

The city is forever linked to the 1995 bombing of the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building; the memorials to this tragedy are moving and worthy stops.

Sights

You'll brush up against real cowboys in Stockyards City (www.stockyardscity.org; Agnew Ave & Exchange Ave), southwest of downtown, either in the shops and restaurants that cater to them or at the Oklahoma National Stockyards (www.onys.com; ☀ auctions 8am Mon & Tue), the world's largest stocker and feeder cattle market.

★ Oklahoma City

National Memorial Museum

MUSEUM

(www.oklahomacitynationalmemorial.org; 620 N Harvey Ave; adult/student $12/10; ☀ 9am–6pm Mon–Sat, noon–6pm Sun) The story of America's worst incident of domestic terrorism is told at this poignant museum, which avoids becoming mawkish and lets the horrible events speak for themselves. The outdoor Symbolic Memorial has 168 empty chair sculptures for each of the people killed in the attack (the 19 small ones are for the children who perished in the day-care center).

National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum

MUSEUM

(www.nationalcowboymuseum.org; 1700 NE 63rd St; adult/child $12.50/6; ☀ 10am–5pm) Only the smells are missing here, with both art and history covered. Even if you come for just one, you're sure to be enthralled by the other. The excellent collection of Western painting and sculpture features many works by Charles M Russell and Frederic Remington.

OKLAHOMA FACTS

Nickname Sooner State

Population 3.8 million

Area 69,900 sq miles

Capital city Oklahoma City (population 592,000)

Other cities Tulsa (population 397,000)

Sales tax 4.5-11%

Birthplace of Humorist Will Rogers (1879–1935), athlete Jim Thorpe (1888–1953), folk musician Woody Guthrie (1912–67), parking meters (invented 1935), actor Brad Pitt (b 1963)

Home of The band The Flaming Lips

Politics Deeply conservative

Famous for 1930s dust bowl, Carrie Underwood

Official state meal Okra, chicken fried steak and 10 more dishes

Driving distances Oklahoma City to Tulsa 104 miles, Kansas to Texas following historic Route 66 426 miles

Oklahoma History Center

MUSEUM

(www.okhistorycenter.org; 2401 N Laird Ave; adult/child $7/4; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) Makes people the focus as it tells the story of the Sooner State.

State Capitol

LANDMARK

(2300 N Lincoln Blvd; admission & tours free; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat & Sun, tours 9am-3pm Mon-Fri) Built in 1917, but only got its dome in 2002. Note the oil wells outside.

American Indian Cultural Center & Museum

MUSEUM

(www.theamericanindiancenter.org; junction I-40 & I-35) This center with its arresting design will be one of the premier Native American institutions in the world when it's completed. In the meantime, however, its construction has slowed due to state budget cuts.

★ Festivals & Events

State Fair Park

CULTURE

(www.okstatefairpark.com; I-44 & NW 10th St) State Fair Park hosts frequent horse- or rodeo-related events. (The state fair itself is a dud.)

🏠 Sleeping

Many older motels line I-35 south of town; newer chain properties stack up along I-44, the NW Expwy/Hwy 3 and at Bricktown (which puts you near nightlife action).

Grandison Inn at Maney Park

B&B $$

(☎ 405-232-8778; www.grandisoninn.com; 1200 N Shartel St; r $110-190; ☑ ☒ ☓ ☕) In a genteel quarter of OKC just northwest of downtown, this gracious 1904-vintage B&B welcomes guests to eight rooms with period charm and modern amenities such as DVD players. The house has amazing woodwork, including a showstopping staircase.

Colcord Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 405-601-4300; www.colcordhotel.com; 15 N Robinson Ave; r $150-200; ☑ ☒ ☓ ☕) OKC's first skyscraper, built in 1910, is now a 12-story luxurious hotel. Many original flourishes, like the marble-clad lobby, survive, while the 108 rooms have a stylish, contemporary touch. It's within walking distance of Bricktown.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Bunches of eateries cluster in Bricktown, line Western Ave between 41st and 82nd Sts, and anchor the Asian district (around 23rd St and Classen Blvd).

Tucker's Onion Burgers

BURGERS $

(www.tuckersonionburgers.com; 324 NW 23rd St; mains from $4; ☺ 11am-9pm) 🍃 A new kind of burger joint with an old-time Route 66 vibe, Tuckers has high-quality food (locally sourced) that includes iconic OK onion burgers, fresh-cut fries and shakes. It even has a green ethos and a fine patio.

★ Cattlemen's Steakhouse

STEAKHOUSE $$

(www.cattlemensrestaurant.com; 1309 S Agnew Ave; mains $5-25; ☺ 6am-10pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) OKC's most storied restaurant, this Stockyards City institution has been feeding city slickers slabs of beef and lamb's fries (that's a polite way of saying gonads) since 1910. Deals are still cut at the counter (where you can jump the wait for tables) and back in the luxe booths.

Ann's Chicken Fry House

SOUTHERN $$

(4106 NW 39th St; mains $4-12; ☺ 11am-8:30pm Tue-Sat) Part real diner, part tourist attraction, Ann's is a Route 66 veteran renowned for its – you guessed it – chicken fried steak. Okra and cream gravy also star, and the fried chicken lives up to the rep. Get the black-eyed peas.

Cheever's Cafe

CAFE $$

(www.cheeverscafe.com; 2409 N Hudson Ave; mains $10-25; ☺11am-9pm Sun-Thu, 11am-10:30pm Fri, 5-10:30pm Sat) This former art-deco flower shop is now an upscale cafe with excellent Southern- and Mexican-influenced fare. The menu changes seasonally and features foods drawn from the surrounding rich countryside.

Bricktown Brewery

BREWERY

(www.bricktownbrewery.com; 1 N Oklahoma Ave; ☺11am-1am) A large microbrewery in Bricktown, with revelers played out across large rooms enjoying pool, darts and just being spectators. Always hopping and has a decent food menu.

★ Entertainment

For listings, check out the free weekly Oklahoma Gazette (www.okgazette.com) or just head to the renovated warehouses in the Bricktown District, which contain a vast array of bars, some good, some purely chain.

To make a complete night of it in the district, watch the Triple A Redhawks (www.oklahomaredhawks.com; 2 Mickey Mantle Dr; tickets $5-25) play at Bricktown Ballpark. The NBA's Oklahoma City Thunder (www.nba.com/thunder; 100 W Reno Ave; tickets from $30) play nearby at Chesapeake Energy Arena.

🛒 Shopping

The Paseo Arts District isn't much more than Paseo Dr itself, but there are several art galleries and boutiques in the Spanish colonial buildings. The 16th St Plaza District is also a good bet for interesting shops.

You can buy all forms of Western wear and gear in Stockyards City, which is the real deal for cowboys. Start at Langston's (www.langstons.com; 2224 Exchange Ave; ☺10am-6pm Mon-Sat), which has a vast selection.

i Information

Oklahoma Welcome Center (☎405-478-4637; www.travelok.com; 1-35 exit 137; ☺8:30am-5pm) Also has city info.

i Getting There & Around

Will Rogers World Airport (OKC; www.flyokc.com) Will Rogers World Airport is 5 miles southwest of downtown; a cab costs about $25 to downtown.

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com; 100 S EK Gaylord Blvd) The Heartland Flyer goes from OKC to Fort Worth ($28, 4¼ hours). Buy your ticket on the train.

Go Metro (www.gometro.org; single fare/day pass $1.50/4) Runs city buses.

Greyhound (Union Bus Station, 427 W Sheridan Ave) Daily buses to Dallas ($58, five hours), Wichita ($46, 2¾ hours) and Tulsa

CHASING TORNADES

Much of the Great Plains is prone to severe weather, including violent thunderstorms, hail the size of softballs, spectacular lightning storms and more. But the real stars of these meteorological nightmares are tornadoes. Far less benign than the cyclones that carried Dorothy off to Oz, tornadoes cause death and destruction from the Great Plains east across the central US. In 2013, two tornadoes in 11 days caused much havoc on the Oklahoma City area. With winds of 300mph or more, tornadoes are both awesome and terrifying. Still, each year many people visit the region hoping to spot a funnel cloud, drawn by the sheer spectacle and elemental drama.

Tour companies use gadget-filled vans to chase storms across multiple states, with no guarantee that you'll actually see a storm. Costs average $200 to $400 a day and April to July offer the best spotting. Operators include the following:

Cloud 9 Tours (☎405-323-1145; www.cloud9tours.com)

Extreme Tornado Tours (www.extremetornadotours.com)

Silver Lining Tours (☎832-717-4712; www.silverliningtours.com)

Tempest Tours (☎817-274-9313; www.tempesttours.com)

The book Storm Kings: The Untold History of America's First Tornado Chasers by Lee Sandlin, is an excellent and surprise-filled account of early tornado research. Read the recollections of veteran tornado chaser Roger Hill in Hunting Nature's Fury. For a completely overhyped look at the world of storm-spotters – in the best Hollywood tradition – check out the 1996 movie Twister.

ROUTE 66: GET YOUR KICKS IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma's connection with America's Main Street runs deep: the road's chief proponent, Cyrus Avery, was a Sooner; John Steinbeck's Grapes of Wrath told of the plight of Depression-era Okie farmers fleeing west on Route 66; and Oklahoma has more miles of the original alignment than any other state. The Oklahoma Route 66 Association (www.oklahomaroute66.com) puts out an excellent booklet that you can pick up from most visitor centers along the road. It's vital because so many of the brown-and-white Historic Route 66 signs have been stolen for souvenirs and the original road goes by a variety of monikers, including OK 66, US 69, US 270 etc.

Shortly after you enter the state from Kansas on US 69A you'll come to Miami. Continue south through town on Main St and 2.5 miles after crossing the Neosho River turn right at the T-intersection. This will take you to the first of two original and very rough 9ft-wide alignments. The second, E 140 Rd (turn west) comes soon after the first, just before I-44.

You'll cross I-44 twice before rolling into Vinita. Clanton's (www.clantonscafe.com; 319 E Illinois Ave; mains $4-10; ☺ 6am-8pm Mon-Fri, to 2pm Sat & Sun) dates back to 1927 and is the place for chicken fried steak and calf fries (don't ask).

Thirty miles further on, Foyil is worth a 4-mile detour on Hwy 28A for the massive and colorful concrete sculptures of Totem Pole Park (www.rchs1.org; Hwy 28A) FREE. Another 10 miles brings you to Claremore, former home of Will Rogers. Next up at the port city of Catoosa, just before Tulsa, is one of the most photographed Route 66 landmarks, the 80ft-long Blue Whale (www.bluewhaleroute66.com; 2680 N Hwy 66).

East 11th St takes you into and right through art deco-rich Tulsa; be sure to look for the iconic neon wonder of the restored Meadow Gold sign at S Quaker Ave. Southwest Blvd takes you across the river and out of town.

The rural route from Tulsa to Oklahoma City is one of the longest continuous stretches of Mother Road remaining (110 miles), a fine alternative to the I-44 tollway. At Chandler, 60 miles southwest of Tulsa, the Route 66 Interpretive Center ([\(\$24, two hours, five daily\), among other destinations.](http://www.route66interpretive-

<div data-bbox=)

Western Oklahoma

West of Oklahoma City toward Texas the land opens into expansive prairie fields, nowhere as beautifully as in the Wichita Mountains, which, along with some Route 66 attractions and Native American sites, make this prime road-trip country. US 281 passes through beautiful country.

Washita Battlefield National Historic Site

Washita Battlefield National Historic Site (www.nps.gov/waba; Hwy 47A, 2 miles west of Cheyenne; ☺ site dawn-dusk, visitor center 9am-5pm, talks & tours 10am-2pm Sat & Sun Jun-Aug) FREE is where George Custer's troops launched a dawn attack on November 27, 1868 on the peaceful village of Chief Black Kettle. It was a slaughter of men, women, children and domestic animals, an act some would say led to karmic revenge on Custer eight years later.

Self-guiding trails traverse the site of the killings, which is remarkably unchanged. A new visitor center 0.7 miles away contains a good museum. Seasonal tours and talks are very worthwhile. The site is near Cheyenne, 30 miles north of I-40 via US 283.

Tulsa

Self-billed as the 'Oil Capital of the World,' Tulsa has never dirtied its hands much on the black gold that oozes out elsewhere in the state. Rather, it is home to scores of energy companies that make their living drilling for oil, selling it or supplying those who do. The steady wealth this provides once helped create Tulsa's richly detailed art-deco downtown. But today Tulsa is not the most charming Great Plains town: suburban sprawl has dispersed its appeal, although the Brady Arts District downtown holds promise.

👁 Sights & Activities

Downtown Tulsa has so much art-deco architecture it was once known as the center.org; 400 E Rte 66; adult/child $5/4; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) re-creates the experience of driving the road through the decades. It's housed in a magnificent 1936 armory.

Route 66 follows US 77 into Oklahoma City and beyond that, it's unmarked. Take Kelley Ave south, head over to Lincoln Blvd at 50th St and turn west on NW 23rd St at the capitol. You'll leave OKC by turning north on May Ave and west on NW 39th St past Ann's Chicken Fry House (p660). Beyond this, the route follows Business I-40.

El Reno, 20 miles west of OKC, is home to the fried onion burger, a road-food classic. Among several historic drive-ins and dives, try Johnnie's Grill (301 S Rock Island; ☉9am-7pm) or Sid's (300 S Choctaw Ave; ☉11am-7pm). Ground beef is combined with raw onions and then cooked and caramelized on the grill (Sid's has outdoor tables, Johnnie's the bigger dining area).

Some 17 miles west of El Reno, take a stretch of US 281 that runs on the north side of I-40 between exits 108 and 101. Where it crosses the Canadian River on the 38-truss-long Pony Bridge, stop at the west end. Here's the spot they had to ditch gramps in the 1939 movie version of the Grapes of Wrath.

Leave I-40 at exit 95 and follow a 1930s stretch of 66 that parallels the north side of the interstate. Just west of Hydro and Hwy 58, Lucille's is the atmospheric moldering remains of a legendary roadhouse. Some 4 miles further on as you approach Weatherford, the modern Lucille's Roadhouse (www.lucillesroadhouse.com; 1301 N Airport Rd, at I-40 exit 84; mains $4-10; ☉6am-10pm) carries on the legacy with excellent food and a fine beer selection.

In Clinton, walk through six decades of history, memorabilia and music at the mid-sized Route 66 Museum (www.route66.org; 2229 W Gary Blvd; adult/child $5/1; ☉9am-7pm Mon-Sat, 1-6pm Sun summer, reduced hours rest of year). Thirty miles further west in Elk City, the National Route 66 Museum (2717 W 3rd St/Hwy 66; adult/child $5/4; ☉9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 2-5pm Sun summer, reduced hours rest of year) is three museums in one: old cars and photos, a re-created pioneer town and a farm museum. Route 66 spills into Texas at Texola, which is just a dust devil away from being a ghost town.

'Terra-Cotta City.' The Philcade Building (511 S Boston St), with its glorious T-shaped lobby, and Boston Avenue United Methodist Church (1301 S Boston St; ☉8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, 8am-5pm Sun, guided tours noon Sun), rising at the end of downtown, are two exceptional examples. A free walking guide from the visitor center will lead you to dozens more.

★ Woody Guthrie Center MUSEUM
(www.woodyguthriecenter.org; 102 E Brady St; adult/child $8/6; ☉10am-6pm Tue-Sun) Woody Guthrie gained fame for his 1930s folk ballads that told stories of the Dust Bowl and the depression. His life and music are recalled in this impressive new museum, where you can listen to his music and explore his legacy via the works of Dylan and more.

★ Oklahoma Jazz Hall of Fame MUSEUM
(www.okjazz.org; 111 E 1st St; admission free, concerts $5; ☉11am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-7pm Sun, concerts 5pm Sun) Tulsa's beautiful Union Station is filled with sound again, but now it's melodious as opposed to cacophonous. During the first half of the 20th century, Tulsa was literally at the crossroads of American music with performers both homegrown and from afar. Learn about greats like Charlie Christian, Ernie Fields Senior and Wallace Willis in detailed exhibits. Sunday jazz concerts are played in the grand concourse.

Gilcrease Museum MUSEUM
(www.gilcrease.org; 1400 Gilcrease Museum Rd; adult/child $8/free; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sun) Northwest of downtown, off Hwy 64, this superb American art museum sits on the manicured estate of a Native American who discovered oil on his allotment.

Philbrook Museum of Art MUSEUM
(www.philbrook.org; 2727 S Rockford Rd, east of Peoria Ave; adult/child $9/free; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 8pm Thu) South of town, another oil magnate's converted Italianate villa, also ringed by fabulous foliage, houses some fine Native American works.

Sleeping

Chain motels aplenty line Hwy 244 and I-44, especially at the latter's exits 229 and 232. You can also recapture some of the adventure of Route 66 – but not the bugs that were once commonplace – at two restored places.

Desert Hills Motel

MOTEL $

(☎918-834-3311; www.deserthillstulsa.com; 5220 E 11th St; r from $40; ♿) The glowing neon cactus out front beckons you in to this lovingly restored 1950s motor court with 50 rooms (with fridges and microwaves) arranged diagonally around the parking lot. It's 5 miles east of downtown, on historic Route 66.

Hotel Campbell

HOTEL $$

(☎918-744-5500; www.thecampbellhotel.com; 2636 E 11th St; r from $140; ♿) Restored in 2011 to its 1927-era Route 66 splendor, this historic hotel east of downtown has 26 luxurious rooms with hardwood floors, and plush, period furniture. Ask for a tour.

Eating & Drinking

Dining options are on Peoria Ave between 31st and 51st Sts; on Historic Cherry St (now 15th St) just east of Peoria Ave; and in the Brady Arts District, centered on Brady and Main Sts immediately north of downtown.

Ike's Chili House

DINER $

(5941 E Admiral Pl; mains under $7; ☎10am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 3pm Sat) Ike's has been serving chili for over 100 years and its classic version is much-loved. You can get it straight or over Fritos, a hot dog, beans or spaghetti. Top with red peppers, onions, jalapeños, saltines and cheddar cheese for pure joy.

LEGACY OF A RIOT

On Memorial Day, May 30, 1921 an African American man and a white woman were alone on an elevator in downtown Tulsa and the woman screamed. The how and why have never been answered but it sparked three days of race riots in which 35 blocks of Tulsa's main African American neighborhood were destroyed by roving gangs and even by bombs lobbed from airplanes. Thousands were left homeless, hundreds injured and scores killed.

Near the center of the violence, the John Hope Franklin Reconciliation Park (www.jhfcenter.org; 415 N Detroit Ave; ☎8am-8pm) tells the story of the riot.

Elmer's

BARBECUE $

(www.elmersbbq.com; 4130 S Peoria Ave; mains $5-10; ☎11am-8pm Tue-Sat) A legendary barbecue joint where the star of the menu is the potentially deadly 'Badwich,' a bun-crushing combo of superbly smoked sausages, ham, beef, pork and more. The dining room is bright and has a house piano for the blues.

Tavern

AMERICAN $$

(www.taverntulsa.com; 201 N Main St; mains $10-30; ☎11am-late) This beautiful pub anchors the Brady Arts District and serves excellent fare. The hamburgers are legendary or you can opt for steaks, salads or seasonal specials. The bartenders are true mixologists.

★ Entertainment

Open-air Guthrie Green (www.guthriegreen.com; Boston Ave & Brady St) often hosts events. The Urban Tulsa Weekly (www.urbantulsa.com) has the scoop on what's going on.

★ Cain's Ballroom

LIVE MUSIC

(www.cainsballroom.com; 423 N Main St) Rising rockers grace the boards where Bob Wills played Western swing in the '30s and the Sex Pistols caused confusion in 1978 (check out the wall Sid Vicious punched a hole in).

i Information

Tulsa lacks a visitor center but the Tulsa website (www.visittulsa.com) is useful.

i Getting There & Around

Greyhound (317 S Detroit Ave) Buses include Oklahoma City ($24, two hours, five daily) and St Louis ($100, eight hours).

Tulsa Transit (www.tulsatransit.org; one-day pass $3.25) Buses originate downtown at 319 S Denver Ave.

Green Country

Subtle forested hills interspersed with iconic red dirt and lakes cover Oklahoma's northeast corner, aka Green Country (www.greencountryok.com), which includes Tulsa. The area has a strong Native American influence, as it is where several of the Five Civilized Tribes (Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Creek and Seminole) were relocated in the 1820s and '30s.

Bartlesville

Oklahoma's first commercial oil well was dug in Bartlesville, 50 miles north of Tulsa, and soon after in 1905 Frank Phillips, of Phillips 66 fame, arrived to dig more. You can relive these rough-and-tumble days at the slick-as-a-lube-job Phillips Petroleum Company Museum (www.phillips66museum.com; 410 S Keeler Ave; ☉10am-4pm Mon-Sat) FREE right in town.

Phillips' country estate, the 1927 rustic-luxe Woolaroc (www.woolaroc.org; Rte 123, 12 miles southwest of Bartlesville; adult/child $10/free; ☉10am-5pm Wed-Sun, open Tue summer), is now an excellent museum of southwestern art and culture, and a wildlife refuge with buffalo.

The only Frank Lloyd Wright–designed skyscraper ever built, the 1956, 221ft-tall Price Tower looms over the small downtown. Inside and out it's like Architectural Digest meets the Jetsons. Wright shopped the design around for 30 years before he found clients willing to build it here. The Price Tower Arts Center (www.pricetower.org; 510 Dewey Ave; art gallery adult/child $6/free, tours $12/10; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun, call for tour times) has rotating exhibits and original furniture from the building. Tours are a good way to fully appreciate the building's typically Wrightian idiosyncrasies. You can stay in one of 19 Wright-inspired rooms at the Inn at Price Tower (☎918-336-1000; www.pricetower.org; r from $135; 🏠📶). The 15th-floor Copper Bar (☉4-9pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) has sweeping views of the surrounding oil fields.

Claremore

This was the setting for the 1931 play Green Grow the Lilacs, which became the hugely popular musical Oklahoma! The latter chronicles highly fictionalized events in 1906.

Born in a log cabin just north of town in 1879, Will Rogers was a cowboy, hilarious homespun philosopher, star of radio and movies, and part Cherokee. The hilltop Will Rogers Memorial Museum (www.willrogers.com; 1720 W Will Rogers Blvd; ☉8am-5pm) FREE, 30 miles northeast of Tulsa off Route 66, is an entertaining tribute to a man good for quotes such as 'We shouldn't elect a president. We should elect a magician' and 'No man is great if he thinks he is.'

OKLAHOMA: DETOURS & EXTRAS

Following Route 66 through Oklahoma can seem like one long detour and can offer days of exploration. But there are many more options in various corners of the state.

Brick-and-stone Victorian buildings line street after street of Guthrie, Oklahoma's first capital, 25 miles north of Oklahoma City. The well-preserved downtown contains shops, museums, B&Bs and eateries.

Pioneer Woman Museum (www.pioneerwomanmuseum.com; 701 Monument Rd; adult/child $4/1; ☉10am-5pm Tue-Sat) honors the people who did the real work in the Old West, while the men hung around towns waiting for shoot-outs or getting liquored up in saloons (at least that's how it seems in the movies). It segues to the modern age with a gallery of Oklahoma's female rock musicians. It's 15 miles east of I-35 in Ponca City.

Trail of Tears Country

The area southeast of present-day Tulsa was, and to some degree still is, Creek and Cherokee land. This is an excellent place to learn about Native American culture, especially before the 1800s.

Namesake of Merle Haggard's 1969 hit 'Okie from Muskogee?', Muskogee ('where even squares can have a ball'), 49 miles southeast of Tulsa, is home to the Five Civilized Tribes Museum (www.fivetribes.org; Honor Heights Dr, Agency Hill; adult/student $4/2; ☉10am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 2pm Sat). It's inside an 1875 Union Indian Agency house and recalls the cultures of the Native Americans forcibly moved here from America's southeast.

Twenty miles east on Hwy 62 is Tahlequah (tal-ah-quaw), the Cherokee capital since 1839. The excellent Cherokee Heritage Center (www.cherokeeheritage.org; 21192 Keeler Rd; adult/child $8.50/5; ☉9am-5pm Jun-Aug, short hours rest of year) features Native American–led tours through a re-creation of a pre-European contact woodland village. The museum focuses on the Trail of Tears.

Texas

Includes →

Austin .....	671
Hill Country .....	679
San Antonio.....	682
Houston.....	687
Corpus Christi & Around .....	695
Dallas.....	697
Fort Worth.....	705
Big Bend National Park.....	708
El Paso.....	714

Best Places to Eat

- Cochineal (p712)
- Güero's Taco Bar (p676)
- Bread Winners (p701)
- Cove (p685)
- Hugo's (p691)

Best Places to Stay

- Gage Hotel (p713)
- Hotel San José (p674)
- Hotel Belmont (p701)
- Hotel ZaZa (p690)
- Stockyards Hotel (p706)

Why Go?

Cue the theme music, and make it something epic: Texas is as big and sweeping a state as can be imagined. If it were a country, it would be the 40th largest. And as big as it is geographically, it is equally large in people's imaginations.

Cattle ranches, pickup trucks, cowboy boots and thick Texas drawls – all of those are part of the culture, to be sure. But an Old West theme park it is not. With a state this big, there's room for Texas to be whatever you want it to be.

You can find beaches, amusement parks, citified shopping and nightlife, historical monuments and a vibrant music scene. And the nearly year-round warm weather makes it ideal for outdoor activities such as rock climbing, cycling, hiking and rowing. So saddle up for whatever adventure suits you best: the Lone Star state is ready to ride.

When to Go

Austin

Mar Warm weather during spring break attracts college students and families with kids.

Apr–May Wildflowers line roadsides, festivals are in full swing and summer is yet to swelter.

Oct Crowds have thinned, the heat has broken, but it's still warm enough for shorts.

Getting Around

Texas is big, but it's easy to get around. The best way to travel is to rent a car or bring your own. Flying is another good option if time is short, especially with cut-rate carrier Southwest Airlines (p1191), which offers short hops within Texas for as little as $59 one way if you book ahead.

There's also limited train service within Texas. Amtrak's Sunset Limited (Florida-California) passes through Houston, San Antonio and El Paso, and the Texas Eagle (San Antonio-Chicago) stops in Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin. Note that trains often have late-night arrivals or departures in Texas.

Greyhound and its partner Kerrville Bus Lines (☎800-231-2222; www.iridekbc.com) serve all but the tiniest towns, though it may take several transfers and twice as long as by car.

TEXAS PARKS

In a state as big as Texas, there's plenty of exploring to be done, and packed into the wide, open spaces you'll find more than 125 state parks, historic sites and natural areas. You could seek out the unique ecosystem at swampy Caddo Lake, watch bats fly out of the Devil's Sinkhole, or descend into a 120-mile-long chasm at Palo Duro Canyon, just to name a few. Some parks are remote and rustic; others are downright fancy. Create your own adventure using the free guide from Texas Parks & Wildlife (☎800-792-1112; www.tpwd.state.tx.us), available both in print and online.

Texas Barbecue

Make no bones about it: Texas barbecue is an obsession. It's the subject of countless newspaper and magazine articles, from national press like the New York Times to regional favorite Texas Monthly, which publishes what many consider a definitive listing of the top barbecue joints in Texas.

Some of central Texas' smaller towns – Lockhart and Elgin, to name only two – maintain perennial reputations for their smokehouse cultures and routinely draw dedicated pilgrims from miles around. To find the best barbecue, you can either follow your nose or check out the Texas Barbecue Trail (www.texasbbqtrails.com), a list of some of the best family-owned joints in central Texas.

However you like it best – sliced thick onto butcher paper, slapped down on picnic plates, doused with a tangy sauce or eaten naturally flavorful right out of the smokehouse barbecue pit – be sure to savor it and then argue to the death that your way is the best way. Like a true Texan.

DID YOU KNOW?

Texas is unique in the USA as the only state that was once its own republic (1836–45). It still sometimes threatens to secede.

Fast Facts

- ➔ Hub cities Dallas (population 1.2 million), Houston (population 2.1 million)
- ➔ Time zone Central, except El Paso, which is Mountain
- ➔ State flower Bluebonnet (you'll see it everywhere in Texas)

Best Small Towns

- ➔ Marfa (p711) boasts minimalist art and mystery lights.
- ➔ Fredericksburg (p680) is lovely during wildflower season.
- ➔ Terlingua (p709) is a pretty happening ghost town.
- ➔ Under-the-radar Denton (p704) rocks.
- ➔ Find Texas' oldest dance hall in Gruene (p679).

Resources

- ➔ Texas Tourism (www.traveltex.com)
- ➔ TX Department of Travel (www.txdot.gov/travel)
- ➔ State Parks (www.tpwd.state.tx.us)

Texas Highlights

1 Scooting across a well-worn wooden floor at Texas' oldest dance hall in Gruene (p679).

2 Remembering The Alamo (p682), a historical shrine in San Antonio to the men who fought for Texas independence.

3 Getting your fill of live music and funky food trucks in beguiling Austin (p671).

4 Pondering JFK conspiracy theories at Dallas' one-of-a-kind Sixth Floor Museum (p699).

5 Immersing yourself in cowboy culture at the Stockyards National Historic District (p705) in Fort Worth.

6 Discovering the rugged natural beauty of Big Bend National Park (p708).

7 Getting a stellar view of the night sky at the McDonald Observatory (p711) star party.

8 Peeking at postmodern art at Houston's Menil Collection (p687).

9 Wandering the shady trails through fragrant piney woods at Big Thicket National Preserve (p695).

Dodge City

Newton

Lebanon

eral

Kansas

Wichita

Pittsburg

Springfield

Ozark Mountain

Sedan

Bartlesville

Branson

Enid

Tulsa

Fayetteville

Arkansas

Pampa

McLean

Palo Duro Canyon State Park

Texola

Oklahoma City

Muskogee

Lawton

Wichita Falls

Lake Texoma

Sherman

Hot Springs National Park

Conway

Little Rock

Pine Bluff

Turkey

Vernon

Gainesville

Denton

Paris

Texarkana

Sweetwater

Abilene

Mineral Wells

Sulphur Springs

Mount Pleasant

San Angelo

Stamford

Fort Worth

Dallas

Longview

Shreveport

San Antonio

Stephenville

Hillsboro

Jacksonville

Tyler

Carthage

Louisiana

San Antonio

Coleman

Brownwood

West Mexia

Palestine

Lufkin

Alexandria

Sonora

Fredericksburg

Killeen

Temple

Huntsville

Jasper

Del Rio

Enchanted Rock State Natural Area

Lake Travis

Austin

College Station

Sam Houston National Forest

Beaumont

Del Rio

Bandera

Gruene

Lockhart

Luling

Houston

Liberty

Orange

Del Rio

Uvalde

San Antonio

Gonzales

Clear Lake

Wharton

Galveston

Del Rio

Eagle Pass

Beeville

Victoria

Port Victoria

Lavaca

Aransas National Wildlife Refuge

Del Rio

Carrizo Springs

Rockport

Port Aransas

Mustang Island

Padre Island National Seashore

Gulf of Mexico

Nuevo León

Rio Grande City

Weslaco

Harlingen

South Padre Island

Saltillo

Reynosa

Nuevo Progreso

Port Isabel

Brownsville

Monterrey

Tamaulipas

TEXAS FACTS

Nickname The Lone Star State

Population 26.06 million

Area 261,797 sq miles

Capital city Austin (population 842,592)

Other cities Houston (population 2,160,821), San Antonio (1,382,951), Dallas (1,241,162), El Paso (672,538)

Sales tax 6.25%

Birthplace of Singer Buddy Holly (1936–59), entrepreneur Howard Hughes (1905–76), rocker Janis Joplin (1943–70), country singer George Strait (b 1952), actor Matthew McConaughey (b 1969)

Home of Shiner Bock beer, Dr Pepper, two presidents Bush

Politics Leans Republican (but don't tell the Austinites)

Famous for Barbecue, cowboys

Best souvenir 'Don't Mess with Texas' items, from T-shirts to toilet paper

Driving distances Austin to San Antonio 78 miles, Austin to Dallas 196 miles, Dallas to Houston 242 miles, Houston to El Paso 745 miles, El Paso to Big Bend 291 miles

History

Texas hasn't always been Texas. Or Mexico, for that matter. Or the United States, or Spain, or France...or any of the six flags that once flew over this epic state in its eight changes of sovereignty.

Given that the conquerors' diseases wiped out much of the indigenous population, it seems a bit ironic that the Spaniards named the territory Tejas (tay-has) – a corruption of the Caddo word for 'friend.' Caddo, Apache and Karankawa were among the tribes that Spanish explorers encountered when they arrived to map the Gulf Coast in 1519.

Spain's rule of the territory continued until Mexico won its independence in 1821. That same year, Mexican general Antonio López de Santa Anna eliminated the state federation system, outlawed slavery and curtailed immigration. None of this sat well with independent-minded 'Texians' (US-and Mexico-born Texans) who had been given cheap land grants and Mexican citizenship. Clashes escalated into the Texas War for Independence (1835–36). A month after Santa Anna's forces massacred survivors of the siege in San Antonio, Sam Houston's rebels routed the Mexican troops at San Jacinto with the cry 'Remember the Alamo!' and thus the Republic of Texas was born. The nation's short life ended nine years later when, by treaty, Texas opted to become the 28th state of the Union.

The last battle of the Civil War (Texas was on the Confederate side) was reputedly fought near Brownsville in May of 1865 – one month after the war had ended. Cattle-ranching formed the core of Texas' postwar economy, but it was the black gold that spewed up from Spindletop in 1910 that really changed everything. From then on, for better or worse, the state's economy has run on oil.

Local Culture

Trying to typify Texas culture is like tryin' to wrestle a pig in mud – it's awful slippery. In a vast generalization, Austin is alternative Texas, where environmental integrity and quality of life are avidly discussed. Dallasites are the shoppers and society trendsetters; more is spent on silicone implants there than anywhere else in the US besides LA. In conservative, casual Houston, oil-and-gas industrialists dine at clubby steakhouses. And San Antonio is the most Tex-Mexican of the bunch – a showplace of Hispanic culture.

SOUTH-CENTRAL TEXAS

So what if the hills are more mole-size than mountainous? They – and the rivers that flow through them – are what define south-central Texas. To the north is the state capital, Austin, where music, music and more music are on the schedule, day or night. Eighty miles south, the major metropolitan center of San Antonio is home to the Alamo and the festive Riverwalk. Between and to the west of the two towns is the Hill Country. Here you can eat great barbecue, dance across an old wooden floor or spend a lazy day floating on the river in small Texas-y towns. If you want to get to the heart of Texas in a short time, this is the way to go.

Austin

You'll see it on bumper stickers and T-shirts throughout the city: 'Keep Austin Weird.' And while old-timers grumble that Austin has lost its funky charm, the city has still managed to hang on to its incredibly laid-back vibe. Though this former college town with a hippie soul has seen an influx of tech types and movie stars, it's still a town of artists with day jobs, where people try to focus on their music or write their novel or annoy their neighbors with crazy yard art.

Along the freeway and in the 'burbs, big-box stores and chain restaurants have proliferated at an alarming rate. But the neighborhoods still have an authentically Austin feel, with all sorts of locally owned businesses, including a flock of food trailers – a symbol of the low-key entrepreneurialism that represents Austin at its best.

The one thing everyone seems to know about Austin, whether they've been there or not, is that it's a music town, even if they don't actually use the words 'Live Music Capital of the World' (though that's a claim no one's disputing). The city now hosts two major music festivals, South by Southwest and the Austin City Limits festival, but you don't have to endure the crowds and exorbitant hotel prices to experience the scene, because Austin has live music all over town every night of the week.

Sights

Don't limit yourself to the sights; Austin is about the experience. Bars, restaurants and even grocery stores and the airport have live music. And there are outdoor activities galore.

A full day might also include shopping for some groovy vintage clothes, sipping a margarita at a patio cafe and lounging on the shores of Barton Springs. But if your vacation isn't complete without a visit to a museum, there are some stops that are worth your while.

Downtown

Bob Bullock Texas

State History Museum

MUSEUM

( 512-936-8746; www.thestoryoftexas.com; 1800 Congress Ave; adult/child 4-17yr $9/6, Texas Spirit film $5/4;  9am-6pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) This is no dusty old historical museum. It's a big and glitzy ramble through the Lone Star State's history, all the way from when it used to be part of Mexico up to the present, with high-tech interactive exhibits and fun theatrics. Allow at least a few hours for your visit.

Blanton Museum of Art

MUSEUM

( 512-471-5482; www.blantonmuseum.org; 200 E Martin Luther King Jr Blvd; adult/child $9/free;  10am-5pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun) A big university with a big endowment is bound to have a big art collection and now, finally, it has a suitable building to show it off properly. With one of the best university art collections in the USA, the Blanton showcases a variety of styles. It doesn't go into any of them in great depth, but then again you're bound to find something of interest.

Texas State Capitol

HISTORIC BUILDING

( 512-305-8402; cnr 11th St & Congress Ave;  7am-10pm Mon-Fri, 9am-8pm Sat & Sun) FREE Built in 1888 from sunset-red granite, this state capitol is the largest in the US, backing

TEXAS IN...

Five Days

Spend a day and a night enjoying San Antonio, sipping margaritas in the cafes along the Riverwalk and bargain-hunting for Mexico-made trinkets in Market Square. Then head 80 miles north: book two nights at the funky Austin Motel and arrange to listen to as much live music in the capital as you can, maybe catching a set at the Continental Club and taking a dip in frigid Barton Springs Pool. On days four and five, indulge in some shopping and dining in Dallas before moving on to see the Western art and sights in Cowtown, the apt nickname given to Fort Worth.

Ten Days

Follow the five-day itinerary in reverse, then drive west from San Antonio to west Texas – or fly, since driving takes the better part of a day. Stay a night at the Old West-era Gage Hotel before heading south to hike or raft among the deep canyons and craggy mountains of Big Bend National Park. You should also stop to see some stunning avant-garde art in Marfa and stargaze at the McDonald Observatory in Fort Davis.

Austin

0 500 m
0 0.25 miles

TEXAS
AUSTIN

Austin

📍 Sights

- 1 Austin Children's Museum..... C3
- 2 Texas State Capitol..... D1

🚲 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 3 Bicycle Sport Shop..... A4
- 4 Capital Cruises..... C4
- 5 Lone Star Riverboat..... C4

🛏 Sleeping

- 6 Austin Motel..... B6
- 7 Driskill Hotel..... D3
- 8 Firehouse Hostel..... D3
- 9 Hotel San José..... B6

🍷 Eating

- 10 Amy's Ice Cream..... A2
- 11 Bouldin Creek Coffee
House..... A7
- 12 Güero's Taco Bar..... B7

- 13 Lambert's..... B3
- 14 Moonshine Patio Bar & Grill..... D3
- 15 South Austin Trailer Park &
Eatery..... A6

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- Hotel San José..... (see 9)

🎬 Entertainment

- 16 Alamo Drafthouse Cinema..... D3
- 17 Antone's..... C3
- 18 Austin Convention Center..... D3
- 19 Continental Club..... B6
- 20 Long Center for the Performing Arts..... B4

🛍 Shopping

- 21 Book People Inc..... A2
- 22 Uncommon Objects..... B7
- 23 Waterloo Records..... A2

up the ubiquitous claim that everything is bigger in Texas. If nothing else, take a peek at the lovely rotunda and try out the whispering gallery created by its curved ceiling.

Austin Children's Museum

MUSEUM

(📞 512-472-2499; www.austinkids.org; 201 Colorado St; admission $6.50, child under 1yr free; 🕒 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, to 8pm Wed, noon-5pm Sun; 🚗) Kids can try their hand at running a ranch, ordering a meal at the Global Diner and hanging upside down beneath a bridge, just like the real Austin bats. At the time of research, construction had begun on a brand new facility at 1830 Simond Ave that will double the exhibition space, so check the website before you visit.

Activities

Barton Springs Pool

SWIMMING

(📞 512-867-3080; 2201 Barton Springs Rd; adult/child $3/2; 🕒 9am-10pm Fri-Wed mid-Apr-Sep) Hot? Not for long. Even when the temperature hits 100, you'll be shivering in a jiff after you jump into this icy-cold natural-spring pool. Draped with century-old pecan trees, the area around the pool is a social scene in itself, and the place gets packed on hot summer days.

Lady Bird Lake

CANOEING

(📞 512-459-0999; www.rowingdock.com; 2418 Stratford Dr; 🕒 6:30am-8pm) Named after former first lady Lady Bird Johnson, Lady Bird Lake kind of looks like a river. And no wonder: it's actually a dammed-off section of the Colorado River that divides Austin into north and south. Get out on the water at the Rowing Dock, which rents kayaks, canoes and paddleboards for $10 to $20 per hour, and paddleboats for slightly more.

Zilker Park

HIKING, CYCLING

(📞 512-974-6700; www.austintexas.gov/department/zilker-metropolitan-park; 2100 Barton Springs Rd) This 350-acre park is a slice of green heaven, lined with hiking and biking trails. The park provides access to the famed Barton Springs natural swimming pool and Barton Creek Greenbelt. Find boat rentals, a miniature train and a botanical garden, too. During busy summer weekends admission is $5 per car.

Bicycle Sport Shop

BICYCLE RENTAL

(📞 512-477-3472; www.bicyclesportshop.com; 517 S Lamar Blvd; per 2hr from $16; 🕒 10am-7pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun) The cool thing about Bicycle Sport Shop is its proximity to Zilker Park, Barton Springs and the Lady Bird Lake bike paths, all of which are within a few blocks. Rentals range from $16 for a two-hour cruise on a standard bike to $62 for a full day on a top-end full-suspension model. On weekends and holidays, advance reservations are advised.

Festivals & Events

South by Southwest

MUSIC, FILM

(SXSW; www.sxsw.com; single festival $625-1150, combo pass $900-1600; 🕒 mid-Mar) One of the American music industry's biggest gatherings has now expanded to include film and interactive. The city is absolutely besieged

BY THE LIGHT OF THE MOON

Keep an eye out for Austin's moonlight towers. All the rage in the late 1800s, these 165ft-tall street lamps were designed to give off the light of a full moon. Austin is the only city in which these historic triangular metal towers topped by a halo of six large bulbs still operate. Fifteen burn bright around the city: how many can you spot?

with visitors during this two-week window, and many a new resident first came to Austin to hear a little live music.

Austin City Limits Music Festival MUSIC
(www.acfestival.com; 3-day pass $200-225; ☺ Oct) Move over SXSW. This growing festival is a favorite with the locals and is gaining swiftly on the March event, with over 100 pretty impressive acts filling the eight stages in Zilker Park. Tickets usually sell out months in advance.

Formula 1 Grand Prix CAR RACING
(www.formula1.com; ☺ Nov) A brand-spanking-new racetrack means a city overtaken by F1 fans during this high-octane weekend.

🛏 Sleeping

South Congress (SoCo) has the coolest and quirkiest digs, and downtown has more high-rent options. For a complete list of choices, check with the Austin Visitor Information Center (p678).

Hotel rates soar and locals flee during SXSW and F1, so plan accordingly.

★ Firehouse Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎ 512-201-2522; www.firehousehostel.com; 605 Brazos St; dm $29-32, r $70-90, ste $120-145; 🏠 ☺) A hostel in downtown Austin? Finally! And a pretty darned spiffy one at that. Opened in January 2013 in a former firehouse, it's still fresh and new, and the downtown location right across from the historic Driskill Hotel is as perfect as you can get.

Goodall Wooten HOSTEL $
(☎ 512-472-1343; 2112 Guadalupe St; r $35; 🏠 ☺) A private dorm near the University of Texas, 'the Woo' generally has rooms available mid-May to mid-August, and sometimes has space for travelers at other times of the year. Just the basics - expect sheets and toilet paper, but no decor - but each room has a small refrigerator. Cash only.

★ Hotel San José BOULIQUE HOTEL $$$
(☎ 512-444-7322; www.sanjosehotel.com; 1316 S Congress Ave; r without bath $95-145, with bath $165-285; 🏠 🏠 🏠) Local hotelier Liz Lambert revamped a 1930s-vintage motel into a chic SoCo retreat with minimalist rooms in stucco bungalows, native Texas gardens and a very Austin-esque hotel bar in the courtyard that's known for its celebrity-spotting potential. South Congress has become quite the scene, and this hotel's location puts you right in the thick of it.

★ Austin Motel MOTEL $$
(☎ 512-441-1157; www.austinmotel.com; 1220 S Congress Ave; r $84-139, ste $163; 🏠 🏠 🏠) 'Garage-sale chic' is the unifying factor at this wonderfully funky motel that embodies the spirit of the 'Keep Austin Weird' movement. Each room is individually decorated with whatever happened to be lying around at the time, with varying degrees of success.

Inn at Pearl Street B&B $$$
(☎ 512-478-0051; www.innpearl.com; 1809 Pearl St; d $175-215, ste $225; 🏠 🏠 🏠) This is a preservationist's dream come true. The owners picked up this run-down property, dusted it off and - well, they more than dusted it off. They completely restored it and decorated it in a plush European style.

★ Driskill Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$$
(☎ 800-252-9367, 512-474-5911; www.driskillhotel.com; 604 Brazos St; r $199-299, ste $300-900; 🏠 🏠 🏠) Every city should have a beautiful historic hotel made of native stone, preferably built in the late 1800s by a wealthy cattle baron. No generic hotel decor here; this place is pure Texas, from the leather couches to the mounted longhorn head on the wall. (Not to worry: the elegant rooms are taxidermy-free.)

🍴 Eating

It's easy to find good, cheap food in Austin. South Congress provides a slew of options, but you'll be competing with lots of other hungry diners for a table. Those in the know go instead to S 1st St (1400 to 2100 blocks), where Mexican herbalists and tattoo parlors alternate with trailer-park food courts and organic cafes. Barton Springs Rd (east of Lamar Blvd) also has a number of interesting eateries, and Guadalupe St by UT is the place to look for cheap eats. Some great meat-market barbecue is available in nearby central Texas (p679).

Downtown

★ Franklin BBQ

BARBECUE $

(📞 512-653-1187; www.franklinbarbecue.com; 900 E 11th St; mains $6-13; ☺ 11am-2pm Tue-Sun) It only serves lunch, and only till it runs out – usually well before 2pm. Don't wait till you're hungry to find out whether Franklin's is worth the insane amount of hype; there's usually a long line of people waiting before it even opens. When your moment of glory arrives, go for the two-meat plate, or nab all you can for a feast to enjoy later. (Just be quick about it. The people behind you are starving.)

★ Amy's Ice Cream

ICE CREAM $

(📞 512-480-0673; www.amysicecreams.com; 1012 W Sixth St; ☺ 11am-midnight Sun-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) It's not just the ice cream we love; it's the toppings that get pounded and blended in, violently but lovingly, by the staff wielding a metal scoop in each hand. Look for other locations on Guadalupe St north of the UT campus, on South Congress near all the shops, or at the airport for a last-ditch fix.

Moonshine Patio Bar & Grill

AMERICAN $$

(📞 512-236-9599; www.moonshinegrill.com; 303 Red River St; dinner mains $11-21; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, 9am-2pm & 5-10pm Sun) Dating from the mid-1850s, this historic building is a remarkably well preserved homage to Austin's early days. Within its exposed limestone walls you can enjoy upscale comfort food, half-price appetizers at happy hour or a lavish Sunday brunch buffet ($16.95). Or chill on the patio under the shade of pecan trees.

★ Lambert's

BARBECUE $$$

(📞 512-494-1500; 401 W 2nd St; mains $14-42; ☺ 11am-2pm & 5:30-10pm) Torn between barbecue and fine dining? Lambert's serves intelligent updates of American comfort-food classics – some might call it 'uppity barbecue' – in a historic stone building run by Austin chef Lou Lambert. Sides are extra, so be prepared to spend. Or come early and nosh on half-price appetizers at happy hour (5pm till 7pm).

South Austin

Green Mesquite BBQ & More

BARBECUE $

(📞 512-479-0485; www.greenmesquite.net; 1400 Barton Springs Rd; mains $6-11, kids' plates $5; ☺ 11am-10pm) As its T-shirts say, Green Mesquite has been 'horrifying vegetarians since 1988.' This inexpensive, low-key spot has lots of tasty meat, pecan pie, cold beer and a shady outdoor area that's lovely on cool days.

Bouldin Creek Coffee House

VEGETARIAN $

(📞 512-416-1601; 1900 S 1st St; meals $5-9; ☺ 7am-midnight Mon-Fri, 8am-midnight Sat & Sun; ☺ ☺) You can get your veggie chorizo scrambler or organic oatmeal with apples all day long at this vegan-vegetarian eatery. It has an eclectic South Austin vibe and is a great place for people-watching, finishing your novel or joining a band.

DON'T MISS

MEALS ON WHEELS

Food trailers are here to stay – even if they can move around at whim. We haven't listed any of these rolling restaurants because of their transient nature, but instead invite you to explore some of the areas where they congregate. Wander from trailer to trailer till one strikes your fancy, or make a progressive dinner out of it. Look for clusters of air-streams and taco trucks in some of these likely spots:

South Austin Trailer Park & Eatery (1311 S 1st St) Seems to be a rather settled trailer community, with a fence, an official name, a sign and picnic tables.

1503 S 1st St Has a cluster of food trailers, and if you're lucky you'll find Gourdough's among them. The gourmet doughnuts here are expensive but provide a full dessert for two.

South Congress Between Elizabeth and Monroe, it yields lots of options, including the awesome Mighty Cone.

East Austin Has its own little enclave, conveniently located right among all the bars on the corner of E 6th and Waller Sts.

Flip Happy Crepes (📞 512-552-9034; cnr Jessie St & Butler Rd; crepes $5-7; ☺ 10am-2pm Wed-Sun, plus 6:30-9pm Sat) Doesn't travel in a pack, but it was among the first (if not the first) so we thought it deserved a mention.

GAY & LESBIAN AUSTIN

With a thriving gay population – not to mention pretty mellow straight people – Austin is arguably the most gay-friendly city in Texas. The Austin Gay & Lesbian Chamber of Commerce (www.aglcc.org) sponsors the Pride Parade in June, as well as smaller events throughout the year. The Austin Chronicle (www.austinchronicle.com) runs a gay event column among the weekly listings, and the glossy L Style/G Style (www.lstylegstyle.com) magazine has a dual gal/guy focus.

★ Güero's Taco Bar

TEX-MEX $$

(☎ 512-447-7688; 1412 S Congress Ave; mains $6-15; ☺ 11am-10pm) Oh Güero's, how we love you. Why must you make us wait? Well, clearly it's because of the three million other hungry people crammed into your bar area. Still, we'll try to be patient, because we love the atmosphere lent by the century-old former feed-and-seed store, and because we have an obsessive craving for your chicken tortilla soup.

✂ Around Town

Trudy's Texas Star

TEX-MEX $$

(☎ 512-477-2935; www.trudys.com; 409 W 30th St; mains $7-12; ☺ 4pm-2am Mon-Thu, from 11am Fri, from 9am Sat & Sun) Get your Tex-Mex fix here; the menu is consistently good, with several healthier-than-usual options. But we'll let you in on a little secret: this place could serve nothing but beans and dirt and people would still line up for the margaritas, which might very well be the best in Austin.

Shady Grove Restaurant

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 512-474-9991; www.theshadygrove.com; 1624 Barton Springs Rd; mains $7-12; ☺ 11am-10:30pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) 'Do you want inside or out?' What kind of question is that? We came for the shady patio, like everyone else. Outdoors under the pecan trees is prime real estate for enjoying everything from chili cheese fries to the vegetarian Hippie Sandwich.

★ Salt Lick Bar-B-Que

BARBECUE $$

(☎ 512-858-4959; www.saltlickbbq.com; 18300 FM 1826, Driftwood; mains $11-20; ☺ 11am-10pm; 🍷) It's worth the 20-mile drive out of town just to see the massive outdoor barbecue pits at this parklike place off US 290. It's a bit of a tourist fave, but the crowd-filled experience still gets our nod. BYOB. Hungry? Choose the family style all-you-can-eat option (adult/child $19.95/6.95).

Drinking

There are bejillions of bars in Austin, so what follows is only a very short list. The legendary 6th St bar scene has spilled onto nearby thoroughfares, especially on Red River St.

Many of the new places on 6th St are shot bars aimed at party-hardy college students and tourists, while the Red River establishments retain a harder local edge. The lounges around the Warehouse District (near the intersection of W 4th and Colorado Sts) are a bit more upscale, while SoCo caters to the more offbeat in eclectic Austin.

★ Hotel San José

BAR

(☎ 512-444-7322; 1316 S Congress Ave; ☺ 5pm-midnight Mon-Thu, from noon Fri-Sun) Transcending the hotel-bar genre, this one is actually a cool, Zenlike outdoor patio that attracts a chill crowd. It's a nice place to hang if you want to actually have a conversation.

★ East Side Showroom

BAR

(☎ 512-467-4280; 1100 E 6th St; ☺ 5pm-2am) With an ambience that would feel right at home in Brooklyn (in the late 1800s), this bar on the emerging east-side scene is full of hipsters soaking up the craft cocktails and bohemian atmosphere.

★ Ginny's Little Longhorn Saloon

BAR

(☎ 512-407-8557; 5434 Burnet Rd; ☺ 5pm-midnight Tue, 5pm-1am Wed-Sat, 2-8pm Sun) This funky little cinder-block building is one of those dive bars that Austinites love so very much – and did even before it became nationally famous for chicken-shit bingo on Sunday night.

Contigo

BAR

(2027 Anchor Lane; ☺ 5-11pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Big shade trees over a relaxed patio make this one of the nicest places in town to chill out with a cocktail.

★ Entertainment

Live Music

On any given Friday night there are several hundred acts playing in the town's 200 or so venues, and even on an off night (Monday and Tuesday are usually the slowest) you'll typically have your pick of more than two dozen performances.

To plan your attack, check out the weekly Austin Chronicle or Thursday's Austin American-Statesman.

★ Continental Club

LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 512-441-0202; www.continentalclub.com; 1315 S Congress Ave; ☎ 4pm-2am) No passive toe-tapping here; this 1950s-era lounge has a dance floor that's always swinging with some of the city's best local acts.

Broken Spoke

LIVE MUSIC
(www.brokenspokeaustintx.com; 3201 S Lamar Blvd; ☎ 11am-midnight Tue-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) With sand-covered wood floors and wagon-wheel chandeliers that George Strait once hung from, Broken Spoke is a true Texas honky-tonk.

Cactus Cafe

LIVE MUSIC
(www.utexas.edu/universityunions; Texas Union, cnr 24th & Guadalupe Sts; ☎ varies by show) Listen to acoustic up close and personal at this intimate club on the UT campus.

Antone's

LIVE MUSIC
(www.antoness.net; 213 W 5th St; ☎ showtimes vary, check website) A key player in Austin's musical history, Antone's has attracted the best of the blues and other popular local acts since 1975. All ages, all the time.

Emo's East

LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 512-693-3667; www.emosaustin.com; 2015 E Riverside Dr; ☎ showtimes vary, check website) For nearly 20 years, Emo's led the pack in the punk and indie scene in a crowded space on Red River St. Now it's got some shiny new digs (and a whole lot more space) out on Riverside.

Theater & Cinema

Long Center for the Performing Arts

PERFORMING ARTS
(☎ 512-474-5664; www.thelongcenter.org; 701 W Riverside Dr) This state-of-the-art theater opened in late 2008 as part of a waterfront redevelopment along Lady Bird Lake. The multistage venue hosts drama, dance, concerts and comedians.

Alamo Drafthouse Cinema

CINEMA
(☎ 512-476-1320; www.drafthouse.com; 320 E 6th St; admission $10) Easily the most fun you can have at the movies: sing along with Grease, quote along with The Princess Bride, or just enjoy food and drink delivered right to your seat during first-run films. Check the website for other locations.

Sports

TXRD Lonestar Rollergirls SPECTATOR SPORT
(www.txrd.com) Get ready to rumble – it's roller-derby night and the Hellcat women skaters are expected to kick some CHERRY Bomb ass. No matter who wins, the TXRD Lonestar Rollergirls league always puts on a good show, usually at the Austin Convention Center (☎ 512-404-4000; www.austinconventioncenter.com; 500 E Cesar Chavez St).

🏠 Shopping

Not many folks visit Austin just to shop. That said, music is a huge industry here and you'll find heaps of it in Austin's record stores. Vintage is a lifestyle, and the city's best hunting grounds for retro fashions and furnishings are South Austin and Guadalupe St near UT. Get a map at www.vintagearoundtownguide.com.

On the first Thursday of the month, S Congress Ave is definitely the place to be, when stores stay open until 10pm and there's live entertainment; visit www.first-thursday.info for upcoming events.

★ Uncommon Objects

VINTAGE
(☎ 512-912-1613; 1512 S Congress Ave; ☎ 11am-7pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat) 'Curious oddities' is what they advertise at this quirky antique

MUSIC FESTIVALS

In mid-March tens of thousands of record-label reps, musicians, journalists and rabid fans descend on Austin for South by Southwest (p673), a musical extravaganza that attracts a couple of thousand groups and solo artists from around the world to 90 Austin venues.

Though SXSW started out as an opportunity for little-known bands and singers to catch the ear of a record-label rep, it has since become a wildly popular industry showcase for already-signed bands. Add to that a hugely popular interactive festival, as well as a more subdued but still well-attended film festival, and you've got a major international draw that takes over the city and sends most of the locals into hiding for two weeks every spring.

Too much hoopla? Come in October for a slightly more mellow experience at the Austin City Limits Music Festival (p674), an outdoor event at Zilker Park.

THE SWARM: AUSTIN'S BATS

Looking very much like a special effect from a B movie, a funnel cloud of up to 1.5 million Mexican free-tailed bats swarms from under the Congress Avenue Bridge nightly from late March to early November. Turns out, Austin isn't just the live-music capital of the world; it's also home to the largest urban bat population in North America.

Austinites have embraced the winged mammals – figuratively speaking of course – and gather to watch the bats' nightly exodus right around dusk as they leave for their evening meal. (Not to worry: they're looking for insects, and they mostly stay out of your hair.)

There's lots of standing around parking lots and on the bridge itself, but if you want a more leisurely bat-watching experience, try the TGI Friday's restaurant by the Radisson Hotel on Lady Bird Lake, or the Lone Star Riverboat (☎512-327-1388; www.lonestarriverboat.com; adult/child/senior 2-12yr $10/7/8) or Capital Cruises (☎512-480-9264; www.capitalcruises.com; adult/child/senior $10/5/8) for bat-watching tours.

store that sells a range of fabulous knick-knackery, all displayed with an artful eye. More than 20 vendors scour the state to stock their stalls, so there's plenty to look at.

Waterloo Records

MUSIC

(☎512-474-2500; www.waterloorecords.com; 600 N Lamar Blvd; ☀10am-11pm Mon-Sat, from 11am Sun)

If you want to stock up on music, this is the record store to head to. There are sections reserved for local bands, and listening stations featuring Texas, indie and alt-country acts.

University Co-op

SOUVENIRS

(☎512-476-7211; 2246 Guadalupe St; ☀8:30am-7:30pm Mon-Fri, 9:30am-6pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun)

Stock up on souvenirs sporting the Longhorn logo at this store brimming with school spirit. The sheer quantity of objects that come in burnt orange and white is amazing.

Book People Inc

BOOKS

(☎512-472-5050; 603 N Lamar Blvd; ☀9am-11pm)

Grab a coffee and browse the shelves of this lively independent bookstore across the street from Waterloo Records.

i Information

Austin indoors is nonsmoking, period (bars, too). A vast wi-fi network blankets downtown. For other hot spots check out www.austinwirelesscity.org. City of Austin libraries (www.ci.austin.tx.us) have free internet.

Austin American-Statesman (www.statesman.com) Daily newspaper.

Austin Chronicle (www.austinchronicle.com) Weekly newspaper, lots of entertainment info.

Austin Visitor Information Center (☎512-478-0098; www.austintexas.org; 209 E 6th St; ☀9am-5pm) Helpful staff, free maps, extensive racks of brochures and a sample of local souvenirs for sale.

FedEx Office (327 Congress Ave; ☀7am-11pm Mon-Fri, 9am-9pm Sat & Sun) Internet access for 30¢ a minute.

KLRU TV (www.klr.org) PBS affiliate with local programming that includes the popular music show Austin City Limits.

i Getting There & Around

Austin-Bergstrom International Airport (AUS; www.austintexas.gov/airport) is off Hwy 71, southeast of downtown. The Airport Flyer (bus 100, $1) runs to downtown (7th St and Congress Ave) and UT (Congress Ave and 18th St) every 40 minutes or so. SuperShuttle (☎512-258-3826; www.supershuttle.com) charges around $15 from the airport to downtown. A taxi between the airport and downtown costs from $25 to $30. Most of the national rental-car companies are represented at the airport.

The downtown Amtrak station (☎512-476-5684; www.amtrak.com; 250 N Lamar Blvd) is served by the Texas Eagle that extends from Chicago to Los Angeles. The Greyhound Bus Station (www.greyhound.com; 916 E Koenig Lane) is on the north side of town off I-35; take bus 7-Duval ($1) to downtown.

Austin's handy public transit system is run by Capital Metro (CapMetro; ☎512-474-1200; www.capmetro.org). Call for directions to anywhere or stop into the downtown Capital Metro Transit Store (323 Congress Ave; ☀7:30am-5pm Mon-Fri) for information.

Around Austin

Northwest of Austin along the Colorado River are the six Highland Lakes. Though recent years have seen serious droughts, one of the most popular lakes for recreation – when there's water – is the 19,000-sq-acre Lake Travis off Hwy 71. Rent boats and Jet Skis at the associated marina, or overnight in the posh digs at Lakeway Resort and Spa (☎ 512-261-6600; www.lakewayresortandspa.com; 101 Lakeway Dr; r from $189; ♿ @ ☎ ☎). Lake Austin Spa Resort (☎ 512-372-7300; www.lakeaustin.com; 1705 S Quinlan Park Rd, off FM 2222; 3-night packages from $1600; ♿ @ ☎ ☎) is the premier place to be pampered in the state. And Lake Travis has Texas' only official nude beach, Hippie Hollow (www.hippiehollow.com; 7000 Comanche Trail; day pass car/bicycle $12/5; ☀ 9am-dusk Sep-May, 8am-dusk Jun-Aug). To get to Hippie Hollow from FM 2222, take Rte 620 south 1.5 miles to Comanche Trail and turn right. The entrance is 2 miles ahead on the left.

Hill Country

New York has the Hamptons, San Francisco has the wine country, and Texas has the Hill Country, whose natural beauty paired with its easygoing nature has inspired more than a few early retirements. Detour down dirt roads in search of fields of wildflowers, check into a dude ranch, float along the Guadalupe River or twirl around the floor of an old dance hall. Most of the small towns in the rolling hills and valleys west of Austin and San Antonio are easy day trips from either city.

Gruene

False-front wood buildings and old German homes make this the quintessential rustic Texas town. All of Gruene (pronounced green) is on the National Historic Register – and boy, do day-trippers know it. You won't be alone wandering among the antiques, arts-and-crafts and knickknack shops.

👁 Sights & Activities

Gruene Hall

DANCE HALL

(www.gruenehall.com; 1280 Gruene Rd; ☀ 11am-midnight Mon-Fri, 10am-1am Sat, 10am-9pm Sun) Folks have been congregating here since 1878, making it one of Texas' oldest dance halls and the oldest continually operating one. Toss back a longneck, two-step to live music on the well-worn wooden dance floor, or play horseshoes out in the yard.

Rockin' R River Rides

WATER SPORTS

(☎ 830-629-9999; www.rockinr.com; 1405 Gruene Rd; tubes $17) Floating down the Guadalupe in an inner tube is a Texas summer tradition. This outfitter buses you upstream and you float the three to four hours back to base. Put a plastic cooler full of beverages (no bottles) in a bottom-fortified tube next to you and you have a day.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Gruene Mansion Inn

INN $$$

(☎ 830-629-2641; www.gruenemansioninn.com; 1275 Gruene Rd; d $195-250) This cluster of buildings is practically its own village, with rooms in the mansion, a former carriage house and the old barns. Richly decorated in a style the owners call 'rustic Victorian elegance,' the rooms feature lots of wood, floral prints and pressed-tin ceiling tiles.

WORTH A TRIP

LOCKHART BARBECUE

In 1999 the Texas Legislature adopted a resolution naming Lockhart – 33 miles south of Austin – the barbecue capital of Texas. Of course, that means it's the barbecue capital of the world. You can eat very well for under $10 at these places:

Black's Barbecue (215 N Main St; sandwiches $4-6, brisket per pound $11; ☀ 10am-8pm Sun-Thu, to 8:30pm Fri & Sat) A longtime Lockhart favorite since 1932, with sausage so good Lyndon Johnson had Black's cater a party at the nation's capital.

Kreuz Market (☎ 512-398-2361; 619 N Colorado St; brisket per pound $11.90, sides extra; ☀ 10:30am-8pm Mon-Sat) Serving Lockhart since 1900, the barnlike Kreuz Market uses a dry rub. This means you shouldn't insult it by asking for barbecue sauce – Kreuz doesn't serve it, and the meat doesn't need it.

Chisholm Trail Bar-B-Q (☎ 512-398-6027; 1323 S Colorado St; lunch plates $6, brisket per pound $7.50; ☀ 8am-8:30pm) Like Black's and Kreuz Market, Chisholm Trail has been named one of the top 10 barbecue restaurants in the state by Texas Monthly magazine.

Smitty's Market (208 S Commerce St; lunch plates $6, brisket per pound $11.90; ☀ 7am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-6:30pm Sat, 9am-3pm Sun) The blackened pit room and homely dining room are all original (knives used to be chained to the tables). Ask to have the fat trimmed off the brisket if you're particular about that.

Gristmill Restaurant

AMERICAN $$

(www.gristmillrestaurant.com; 1287 Gruene Rd; mains $7-20; ☺ 11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Behind Gruene Hall and right under the water tower, this restaurant is located within the brick remnants of a long-gone gristmill. Indoor seating affords a rustic ambience, and outdoor tables get a view of the river.

i Getting There & Away

Gruene is just off I-10 and Rte 46, 45 miles south of Austin and 25 miles northeast of San Antonio.

Fredericksburg

With fields full of wildflowers, shops full of antiques and streets full of historic buildings and B&Bs, Fredericksburg is the poster child for 'quaint,' serving as the region's largest old German-settled town (c 1870) and unofficial capital of the Hill Country. It's more cute than cool, but it's not a bad place to linger a bit – especially during wildflower season. It also makes a good base for exploring the surrounding areas. Stop by the Fredericksburg Visitor Information Center (☎ 888-997-3600, 830-997-6523; www.visitfredericksburgtx.com; 302 E Austin St; ☺ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) to get your bearings.

SCENIC DRIVE: WILDFLOWER TRAILS

You know spring has arrived in Texas when you see cars pulling up roadside and families climbing out to take the requisite picture of their kids surrounded by bluebonnets – the state flower. From March to April in Hill Country, orange Indian paintbrushes, deep-purple winecups and white-to-blue bluebonnets are at their peak.

To see vast cultivated fields of color, there's Wildseed Farms (www.wildseedfarms.com; 100 Legacy Dr; ☺ 9:30am-6:30pm) FREE, which is 7 miles east of Fredericksburg on US 290. Or for a more do-it-yourself experience, check with TXDOT's Wildflower Hotline (☎ 800-452-9292) to find out what's blooming where. Taking Rte 16 and FM 1323, north from Fredericksburg and east to Willow City, is usually a good route. Then again you might just set to wandering – most backroads host their own shows daily.

👁 Sights & Activities

Spend an hour or two wandering Fredericksburg's historic district; despite having more than its share of touristy shops, it's retained the look (if not the feel) of 125 years ago.

Mid-May through June is peach-pickin' season around town. You can get them straight from the farm, and some will let you pick your own. For a list of more than 20 local peach farms, visit www.texaspeaches.com.

Thanks to its conducive terroir, the area is also becoming known for its prolific wineries. If winery-hopping is on the agenda, print a map at www.texaswinetrail.com or www.wineroad290.com.

National Museum of the Pacific War

MUSEUM

(www.pacificwarmuseum.org; 340 E Main St; adult/child $14/7, children 5yr & under free; ☺ 9am-5pm) Three war-centric galleries comprise this museum complex: the Admiral Nimitz Museum, chronicling the life and career of Fredericksburg's most famous son; the George Bush Gallery of the Pacific War, which houses big planes, big boats and big artillery; and the Pacific Combat Zone, a 3-acre site that's been transformed into a South Pacific battle zone. History buffs can learn about (or refresh their memories on) battles and campaigns, and kids will be awed by the enormous vehicles.

Enchanted Rock State Natural Area

PARK

(☎ 830-685-3636; www.tpwd.state.tx.us; 16710 Ranch Rd 965; adult/child 12yr & under $7/free; ☺ 8am-10pm) About 18 miles north of town is a dome of pink granite dating from the Proterozoic era that rises 425ft above ground – one of the largest batholiths in the US. If you want to climb it, go early; gates close when the daily attendance quota is reached.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Fredericksburg is a popular weekend getaway, especially during the spring, when room rates are at their highest. Guesthouses and B&Bs are a popular choice in Fredericksburg, and local reservation services can help you find anything from a flowery guestroom in a B&B to your own 19th-century limestone cottage.

Gastehaus Schmidt

ACCOMMODATION SERVICES

(☎ 830-997-5612, 866-427-8374; www.fbglodging.com; 231 W Main St) Nearly 300 B&Bs do business in this county; this reservation service helps sort them out.

Fredericksburg Inn & Suites MOTEL $$
 (☎) 830-997-0202; www.fredericksburg-inn.com;
 201 S Washington St; d $109-179, ste $139-209;
 ☎☎☎) Tops in the mid-priced-motel category, this place was built to look like the historic house it sits behind, and it succeeds. A fabulously inviting pool with a waterslide, all-day complimentary beverages and clean, updated rooms make it good value for the price.

Mahaley's Cafe CAFE $
 (☎) 830-997-4400; 341 E Main St; menu items $2-8; ☎ 6:30am-3pm Mon-Sat, from 7:30am Sun; ☎) Breakfast tacos are the big draw at this little cafe in a former gas station, but the cupcakes and coffee drinks are pretty tasty, too. It's also mighty generous with the wi-fi.

Hill Top Café AMERICAN $$ (☎) 830-997-8922; mains $12-25; ☎ 11am-2pm & 5-9pm Tue-Sun) Ten miles north of town inside a renovated 1950s gas station, this cozy roadhouse serves up satisfying meals and Hill Country ambience at its best. On weekends it has live blues from the owner, Johnny Nicholas, a former member of the west-coast swing band Asleep at the Wheel. Reservations recommended.

① Getting There & Away

You can get a shuttle service from the San Antonio Airport through Stagecoach Taxi and Shuttle (☎) 830-385-7722; www.stagecoachtaxiandshuttle.com); the cost is $95 each way for up to four people. However, since driving around the Hill Country is half the fun, your best bet is to drive yourself.

Luckenbach

As small as Luckenbach is – three permanent residents, not counting the cat – it's big on Texas charm. You won't find a more laid-back place, where the main activity is sitting under an old oak tree with a bottle of Shiner Bock and listening to guitar pickers, who are often accompanied by roosters.

The heart of the, er, action is the old trading post established back in 1849 – now the Luckenbach General Store (☎) 10am-9pm Mon-Sat, noon-9pm Sun), which also serves as the local post office, saloon and community center.

Check www.luckenbachtexas.com for the music schedule. Sometimes the guitar picking starts at 1pm, sometimes 5pm, and weekends usually see live-music events in the old dance hall – a Texas classic. The 4th

U-R-B-A-N P-L-A-N-N-I-N-G

Street names in Fredericksburg appear to be a mishmash of trees, Texas towns and former US presidents. But they were actually named so their initials spell out secret codes. The streets crossing Main St to the east of Courthouse Sq are Adams, Llano, Lincoln, Washington, Elk, Lee, Columbus, Olive, Mesquite and Eagle. And the streets to the west are Crockett, Orange, Milam, Edison, Bowie, Acorn, Cherry and Kay.

of July and Labor Day weekends are deluged with visitors for concerts.

We'd be remiss if we didn't mention that Luckenbach was made famous in a country song by Waylon Jennings – but we figured you either already knew that, or wouldn't really care.

From Fredericksburg, take US 290 east then take FM 1376 south for about 3 miles.

Bandera

It's not always easy finding real live cowboys in Texas, but it is in Bandera, which has branded itself the Cowboy Capital of Texas. In summer there are usually rodeos every weekend, and on Saturday afternoons gunslingers and cowboys roam the streets and entertain the crowds during Cowboys on Main. Check the Bandera County Convention & Visitors Bureau (CVB; ☎) 800-364-3833; www.banderacowboycapital.com; 126 Hwy 16; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat) website for the exact schedules and locations.

Ready to saddle up? The friendly folks at the visitors bureau also know nearly a dozen places in and around town where you can go horseback riding. For overnights, they can direct you to dude ranch accommodations, with packages that include lodging, meals and an equine excursion; plan on spending about $130 to $160 per adult per night ($45 to $90 for the young 'uns).

Another great reason to come to Bandera? Drinking beer and dancing in one of the many hole-in-the-wall cowboy bars and honky-tonks, where you'll find friendly locals, good live music and a rich atmosphere. Mosey over to the patio at 11th Street Cowboy Bar (www.11thstreetcowboybar.com; 307 11th St; ☎) 10am-2am Tue-Fri, from 9am Sat, from noon

Sun) or Arky Blue's Silver Dollar Saloon (308 Main St; ☀10am-2am). Both bars have live country crooners from Friday to Sunday.

San Antonio

In most large cities, downtown is bustling with businesspeople dressed for office work hurrying to their meetings and luncheons. Not so in San Antonio. Instead, downtown is filled with tourists in shorts consulting their maps. In fact, many people are surprised to find that two of the state's most popular destinations – the Riverwalk and the Alamo – are right smack dab in the middle of downtown, surrounded by historical hotels, tourist attractions and souvenir shops. The volume of visitors is daunting (as is the amount of commercial crap that's developed around the Alamo – Davy Crockett's wild amusement ride?), but the lively Tex-Mex culture is worth experiencing.

Sights & Activities

The intersection of Commerce and Losoya Sts is the very heart of downtown and the Riverwalk, which runs in a U shape below street level. Signs point out access stairways, but a 3D map bought at the info center is the best way to get oriented. The artsy Southtown neighborhood and the King William Historic District lie south along the river.

Downtown

★ The Alamo

HISTORIC BUILDING

(☎210-225-1391; www.thealamo.org; 300 Alamo Plaza; ☀9am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun) FREE Find out why the story of the Alamo can rouse a Texan's sense of state pride like few other things. For many, it's not so much a tourist attraction as a pilgrimage. You might see visitors get dewy-eyed at the description of how a few hundred revolutionaries died defending the fort against thousands of Mexican troops.

San Antonio

★ Riverwalk

WATERFRONT
(www.thesanantonioriverwalk.com) A little slice of Europe in the heart of downtown San Antonio, the Riverwalk is an essential part of experiencing this city. This is no ordinary riverfront, but a charming canal and pedestrian street that is the main artery at the heart of San Antonio's tourism efforts.

Buckhorn Saloon & Museum MUSEUM

(☎ 210-247-4000; www.buckhornmuseum.com; 318 E Houston St; adult/child 3-11yr $19/15; ☺ 10am-5pm, to 8pm summer) An overpriced beverage is enough to buy your admission to the Saloon, which has an impressive number of mounted animals watching over you, including a giraffe, a bear and all manner of horn-wielding mammals. If that doesn't quench your thirst for taxidermy, pony up for a kitsch adventure that includes wildlife from all over the world, as well as oddities like a two-headed cow and an eight-legged lamb.

Rio San Antonio Cruises BOAT TOUR

(☎ 800-417-4139, 210-244-5700; www.riosanantonio.com; adult/child under 5yr $8.25/2; ☺ 9am-9pm) One of the best ways to experience the Riverwalk is with these 40-minute narrated cruises that give you a good visual overview of the river and a light history lesson. You can buy your tickets online, or get them on the waterfront at any of the stops. No reservations are necessary and tours leave every 15 to 20 minutes.

🕒 Around Town

Brackenridge Park PARK

(3910 N St Mary's St; miniature train adult/child $3.25/2.70, carousel adult/child $2.50/2; ☺ 5am-11pm) North of downtown near Trinity University, this 343-acre park is a great place to spend the day with your family. In addition to the San Antonio Zoo (☎ 210-734-7184; www.sazoo-aq.org; 3903 N St Mary's St; adult/child 3-11yr $12/9.50; ☺ 9am-5pm), you'll find the Brackenridge Eagle miniature train, an old-fashioned carousel and the Japanese Tea Gardens.

San Antonio Museum of Art MUSEUM

(SAMA; www.samuseum.org; 200 W Jones Ave; adult/child $10/free, Tue free; ☺ 10am-9pm Tue, Fri & Sat, 10am-5pm Wed & Thu, 10am-6pm Sun) Housed in the original 1880s Lone Star Brewery, which is a piece of art in itself, the San Antonio Museum of Art is off Broadway St just north of downtown. San Antonio's strong Latino influence is reflected in an impressive trove of Latin American art, including Spanish colonial, Mexican and pre-Columbian pieces; it's one of the most comprehensive collections in the US.

McNay Art Museum MUSEUM

(☎ 210-824-5368; www.mcnayart.org; 6000 N New Braunfels Ave; adult/12 & under $10/free, special exhibits extra; ☺ 10am-4pm Tue, Wed & Fri, to 9pm Thu, to 5pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun, grounds 7am-6pm daily) In addition to seeing paintings by household names such as Van Gogh, Picasso, Matisse, Renoir, O'Keeffe and Cézanne, half the fun here is wandering the spectacular Spanish Colonial Revival-style mansion that was the private residence of Marion Koogler McNay.

Mission Trail HISTORIC SITE

(www.nps.gov/saan) Spain's missionary presence can best be felt at the ruins of the four missions south of town: Missions Concepción (1731), San José (1720), San Juan (1731) and Espada (1745-56) make up San Antonio Missions National Historical Park. Stop first at Mission San José (6701 San José Dr; ☺ 9am-5pm) FREE, which is also the location of the main visitor center. Known in its time as the Queen of the Missions, it's certainly the largest and arguably the most beautiful.

San Antonio

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Riverwalk.....C2
- 2 The Alamo.....D2

📍 Sights

- 3 Buckhorn Saloon & Museum.....C2
- 4 La Villita Historic Arts Village.....C3

🕒 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 5 Rio San Antonio Cruises.....C2

🛏 Sleeping

- 6 Hotel Havana.....C1
- 7 Hotel Valencia.....C2
- 8 Ogé House.....C4
- 9 Omni La Mansion del Rio.....C2

🍴 Eating

- 10 Boudro's.....C2
- 11 Las Canarias.....C2
- 12 Mi Tierra Cafe & Bakery.....A2

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 13 Bonham Exchange.....D2

🛍 Shopping

- 14 Market Square.....A2
- 15 Paris Hatters.....C2
- 16 Southwest School of Art & Craft.....C1

★ Festivals & Events

San Antonio Stock Show & Rodeo RODEO
(www.sarodeo.com; ☺ mid-Feb) Big-name concerts follow each night's rodeo; 16 days in mid-February.

Fiesta San Antonio CULTURE
(www.fiesta-sa.org; ☺ mid-Apr) For over 10 days in mid-April there are river parades, carnivals, Tejano music, dancing and tons of food in a mammoth citywide party.

🛏 Sleeping

San Antonio has at least 10 gazillion-trillion hotel rooms, so you have plenty of choices right downtown. Because of the tourist trade, rates are higher on weekends. San Antonio also has its fair share of B&Bs, and generally speaking they're good value, ensconced in fine old homes in the more historic areas of the city.

Rodeway Inn Downtown MOTEL $
(☎ 210-223-2951; www.rodewayinn.com; 900 N Main Ave; d $39-79; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) You could walk to the Alamo and Riverwalk, which are just one mile away, but you don't even have to because the downtown trolley comes right to your door. Rooms are as basic as can be, but staying here will save you some dollars, especially when you factor in free parking and continental breakfast.

Hill Country Inn & Suites HOTEL $
(☎ 800-314-3424, 210-599-4204; www.stayhci.com; 2383 NE Loop 410; d incl breakfast $65-99; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) Just north of downtown, this anachronistic place feels like it belongs in the Hill Country more than off an interstate, with cabin-style rooms, ranch-style porches and country-style furnishings. With its playground and picnic tables, it's great for families.

★ King William Manor B&B $$
(☎ 800-405-0367, 210-222-0144; www.kingwilliammanor.com; 1037 S Alamo St; d incl breakfast $129-175; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) In a neighborhood known for beautiful old houses and B&Bs, this grand Greek Revival mansion occupying a large corner lot still manages to jump out at you and say, 'Hey, look at me!' Maybe it's the columns, maybe it's the sprawling lawn or perhaps the wraparound porches. The inside lives up to the exterior, with understated elegant rooms, some of which are enormous.

★ Hotel Havana HOTEL $$
(☎ 210-222-2008; www.havanasanantonio.com; 1015 Navarro St; d $106-189; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) Texas design guru and hotelier Liz Lambert could make a radish look cool. Luckily she's turned her sights on fixing up a few lucky properties such as this one, judiciously adding eclectic touches – a retro pink refrigerator, for example – to her simple, clean designs. Check online for discounts for Texas residents or advance purchases.

Noble Inns B&B $$
(☎ 800-242-2770, 210-223-2353; www.nobleinns.com; d incl breakfast from $139; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) This collection of three inns has something for everyone – at least everyone who likes antiques and Victorian style. The Ogé House (209 Washington St; d $179-349) is the most elegant of the three, with lushly appointed rooms and a prime location on the residential end of the Riverwalk.

Omni La Mansion del Rio HISTORIC HOTEL $$$
(☎ 210-518-1000; www.lamansion.com; 112 College St; d $199-399; 📞 📺 📶 🚰) This fabulous downtown property was born out of 19th-century religious school buildings in the Spanish-Mexican hacienda style. It's

WORTH A TRIP

THE HOME OF SHINER BOCK

The highlight of any trip to Shiner, Texas, the self-proclaimed 'cleanest little city in Texas,' is a tour of the Spoetzl Brewery (www.shiner.com; 603 E Brewery St; tours free; ☺ tours 11am & 1:30pm Mon-Fri year-round, plus 10am & 2:30pm Jun-Aug) FREE where Shiner Bock beer is brewed. Czech and German settlers who began making beer under brewmaster Kosmos Spoetzl founded the brewery 100 years ago. Today the brewery still produces several types using the same methods, including bock, blonde, honey wheat, summer stock and winter ale. You can sample the beers for free after the tour in the little bar.

Shiner is about an hour and a half (92 miles) east of San Antonio by car; to get there, take I-10 east 57 miles, head south on US-183, then east on US-90 at Gonzales. It's about the same distance from Austin; just take US-183 south and follow the same directions starting at Gonzales.

on a quiet stretch of the Riverwalk and its discreet oasis attracts stars and other notables. Enjoy in-room spa services, swim in the outdoor heated pool or unwind at the hotel's exceptional restaurant, Las Canarias (breakfast $12-16, mains $31-50; ☎ 6:30am-2pm & 5:30-10pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun).

Hotel Valencia

BOUQUET HOTEL $$$

(☎ 210-227-9700; www.hotelvalencia-riverwalk.com; 150 E Houston St; d $159-459; ♿ ☎ ☎) Faux-mink throws, molded concrete, light shining through perforated metal – this place is all about texture. It could have been transported from New York City, both in its minimalist-chic style and in the size of some of the smaller rooms, but it's a hip option if you eschew chains and historic hotels.

🍴 Eating

The Riverwalk offers easy pickings for dinner and drinks, but they're there for the tourists, so don't be surprised if there are busloads of the latter. South St Marys and S Alamo Sts in the Southtown–King William districts also host a good number of eateries. Look for hole-in-the-wall Mexican joints scattered the length of N Flores St.

★ Cove

AMERICAN $

(☎ 210-227-2683; www.thecove.us; 606 W Cypress St; mains $8-12; ☎ 11am-10pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, noon-6pm Sun; ♿) This weird, wonderful place northwest of downtown is a restaurant, bar, laundromat and car wash. As casual as the restaurant is, the food is top-notch, made from organic, sustainable meat and produce. Sure, it's just burgers, tacos and nachos, but they're made with love. There's even a playground for the kids so you can reward them for all their hard work washing your car.

Green Vegetarian Cuisine

VEGETARIAN $

(☎ 210-320-5865; www.greensanantonio.com; 200 E Grayson St; meals $6-10; ☎ 7am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri, 9am-9pm Sun; ♿) Vegetarians rejoice: San Antonio's first vegetarian restaurant has a cool new location in the Pearl Brewery complex. With dishes like enchiladas, eggplant Parmesan and 'neatloaf,' it's the kind of place even a meat-eater can enjoy. Not only is it 100% vegetarian, it's 100% kosher and any meal can be made vegan.

★ Monterey

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 210-745-2581; www.themontereyusa.com; 1127 S St Marys St; brunch $7-12, mains $10-17; ☎ 5-11pm Tue-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, 10am-2pm Sun) Extra style points to this King William gastro-

DITCH THE CAR

Parking-garage fees in San Antonio really add up, but you can park free at the VIA Ellis Alley Park & Ride (btwn E Crockett & Center Sts), a quick two stops from the Alamo. Ask for a parking transfer on the bus and put it in the slot to 'pay' when you exit the garage.

pub located in a former gas station with a big old patio. Despite the small number of options, the menu will please most foodies and you'll be dazzled by the choices available when it comes to its extensive selection of microbrews and wine. A great all-round place to hang out, day or night.

Paloma Blanca

MEXICAN $$$

(☎ 210-822-6151; 5800 Broadway St; lunch $8-10, mains $10-18; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon-Wed, to 10pm Thu & Fri, 10am-10pm Sat, 10am-9pm Sun) There are oodles of great Mexican choices around, but this place sets itself apart with a sleek and stylish ambience – think dim lighting, exposed brick walls and oversized artworks – and food that definitely lives up to the decor.

Mi Tierra Cafe & Bakery

TEX-MEX $$

(☎ 210-225-1262; www.mitierracafe.com; 218 Produce Row; mains $12-16; ☎ 24hr) Dishing out traditional Mexican food since 1941, this 500-seat behemoth in Market Sq sprawls across several dining areas, giving the busy wait staff and strolling mariachis quite a workout. It's also open 24 hours, making it ideal for 3am enchilada cravings.

Boudro's

TEX-MEX $$$

(☎ 210-224-8484; 421 E Commerce St, Riverwalk; lunch $8-12, dinner mains $20-32; ☎ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) This brightly colored restaurant is hugely popular with locals. Fresh guacamole is made right at your table. The upscale Tex-Mex menu reveals some gourmet surprises, such as black-bean soup made with sherry and white cheddar, lobster-tail fajitas drizzled with pineapple pico de gallo (a type of salsa), and wines from Texas and California.

Drinking & Nightlife

The Riverwalk's many chain clubs blur together even before you've started drinking. Resist their glossy allure and opt for one of these San Antonio originals.

FLOORE'S COUNTRY STORE

This terrific old bar and dance hall first opened in 1942 as a store run by a friend of Willie Nelson. (Willie used to play here nightly; the sign still says so.) Visit John T Floore's Country Store (www.liveatfloores.com; 14492 Bandera Rd; tickets $10-30; ☺ 11am-1am Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun) today and you'll discover the true way to hear Texas country music, whether in the outdoor yard or by the fire in the rustic building. There are performances on Friday and Saturday nights; Sunday night is family dance night and there's no cover. Bandera Rd is off Hwy 16.

★ Friendly Spot Ice House

BAR

(☎ 210-224-2337; 943 S Alamo St; ☺ 3pm-midnight Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat & Sun; 🍷🍸) What could be friendlier than a big pecan-tree-shaded yard filled with colorful metal lawn chairs? Friends (and their dogs) gather to knock back some longnecks, while the kids amuse themselves in the playground.

Brooklynite

COCKTAIL BAR

(☎ 212-444-0707; www.thebrooklynitesa.com; 516 Brooklyn Ave; ☺ 5pm-2am) Beer and wine are easy to come by in San Antonio, but this is where you head for a creative, handcrafted cocktail. Vintage wallpaper and wingback chairs give the place a dark, Victorian-esque decor, where you can sip your Boulevardier or Widow's Kiss in a fittingly dignified atmosphere.

Cove

BEER HALL

(☎ 210-227-2683; www.thecove.us; 606 W Cypress St; ☺ 11am-10pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, noon-6pm Sun; 🍷) Live music is just part of the reason to hang out at this chill beer hall. The Cove is a unique combo of food stand/cafe/Laundromat/car wash. It even has a kiddie playground.

Bonham Exchange

BAR

(www.bonhamexchange.net; 411 Bonham St; ☺ 7pm-2am Wed-Sun) There's plenty of room for everyone at the Bonham: although it's predominantly a gay bar, the sheer enormity of the place attracts a mixed crowd with drinking and dancing on their mind. Located in an imposing Victorian edifice built in 1892, it has huge dance floors and five bars spread over three floors.

★ Entertainment

For listings of local music and cultural events, pick up the free weekly San Antonio Current (www.sacurrent.com).

Four-time NBA champions the San Antonio Spurs (www.nba.com/spurs) shoot hoops at the AT&T Center (☎ tickets 800-745-3000; www.attcenter.com; 1 AT&T Center Pkwy) off I-35. Purchase tickets through Ticketmaster (☎ 210-525-1100; www.ticketmaster.com).

🔒 Shopping

A few artisan craft shops exist along the tourist-T-shirt-filled Riverwalk. The old buildings of the city's first neighborhood, La Villita Historic Arts Village (☎ 210-207-8610; www.lavillita.com; 418 Villita St; ☺ most shops 10am-6pm) FREE, house the largest concentration of galleries and boutiques.

Pearl Complex

MALL

(www.atpearl.com; 200 E Grayson St) The old Pearl Brewery has received a massive facelift as part of the new Pearl development north of downtown, including shops, cafes and restaurants.

Market Square

MARKET

(www.marketsquaresa.com; 514 W Commerce St; ☺ 10am-8pm Jun-Aug, to 6pm Sep-May) A little bit of Mexico in downtown San Antonio, Market Sq is a fair approximation of a trip south of the border, with Mexican food, mariachi bands, and store after store filled with Mexican wares.

Paris Hatters

ACCESSORIES

(☎ 210-223-3453; www.parishatters.com; 119 Broadway St; ☺ 9:30am-6:30pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Despite the name, this is no Parisian haberdashery but a purveyor of fine cowboy hats since 1917. You'll walk out looking like a real cowboy or girl with a hat that's been shaped and fitted to your very own noggin.

Southwest School of Art & Craft

HANDICRAFTS

(☎ 210-224-1848; www.swschool.org; 300 Augusta St; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) The gallery shop exhibits and sells works by the school's artists and visiting artists, representing an eclectic mix of almost every medium imaginable.

📍 Information

Visitor center 'amigos' (in turquoise shirts and straw hats) roam the downtown core offering direction.

Downtown Visitors Center (☎210-207-6875; www.visitsanantonio.com; 317 Alamo Plaza; ☀9am-5pm, to 6pm Jun-Aug) Stop by the well-stocked visitors center, opposite the Alamo, for maps and brochures; its website also has loads of information useful for pre-planning. The staff can answer any questions you have, and also sell passes for tours or VIA buses and streetcars.

San Antonio Express-News (www.mysanantonio.com) Daily news and travel info on the web.

San Antonio Public Library (www.mysapl.org; 600 Soledad St; ☀9am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 5pm Fri & Sat, 11am-5pm Sun) Free internet. Other branch locations across the city also provide free access.

i Getting There & Away

San Antonio is served by the San Antonio International Airport (SAT; ☎210-207-3433; www.sanantonio.gov/sat; 9800 Airport Blvd), about 9 miles north of downtown. VIA Metropolitan Transit (☎210-362-2020; www.viainfo.net; ride/day pass $1.20/4) city bus 2 runs from the airport to downtown. A taxicab ride will cost about $25. Major car-rental agencies all have offices at the airport.

From the Greyhound Bus Station (www.greyhound.com; 500 N St Marys St), you can get to all the big cities in the state (and lots of the small ones). The Sunset Limited (Florida–California) and Texas Eagle (San Antonio–Chicago) trains stop a few days a week (usually late at night) at the Amtrak Station (www.amtrak.com; 350 Hoefgen Ave).

The extremely tourist-friendly downtown trolleybus routes ($1.10 one way) are the best way to cover any distance around downtown. Buy a day pass ($4) at the VIA Downtown Information Center (☎210-362-2020; www.viainfo.net; 211 W Commerce St; ☀7am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-2pm Sat).

Houston

Concrete superhighways may blind you to Houston's good points when you first zoom into this sprawling city that covers a greater area than all of New Jersey. You'll miss out if you limit yourself to downtown: diverse residential neighborhoods and enclaves of restaurants and shops are spread far and wide.

The leafy Museum District is the city's cultural center; Upper Kirby and River Oaks have upscale shopping and dining; Montrose contains cute bungalows, quirky shops and eateries; Midtown has up-and-coming condos and some good restaurants; Washington Ave is nightlife central; and the Heights has historic homes and boutiques.

👁 Sights & Activities

Museum lovers will find plenty to love in the area north of Hermann Park. To get a full list of options or to plot your route, check out the map on the Houston Museum District (www.houstonmuseumdistrict.org) website.

A couple of the city's main attractions – NASA's Space Center Houston in Clear Lake and Galveston Island – are outside the city limits, requiring a 45-minute drive down I-45.

★ Menil Collection

MUSEUM

(www.menil.org; 1515 Sul Ross St; ☀11am-7pm Wed-Sun) FREE The late local philanthropists John and Dominique de Menil collected more than 17,000 works of painting, drawing, sculpture, archeological artifacts and more during their lives. The modernist building housing the main collection exhibits everything from 5000-year-old antiquities to avant-garde art, as well as rotating exhibits. Don't miss the Cy Twombly Gallery and Rothko Chapel, annexes of the collection.

Museum of Fine Arts Houston

MUSEUM

(www.mfah.org; 1001 Bissonnet St; adult/child $13/6; ☀10am-5pm Tue & Wed, to 9pm Thu, to 7pm Fri & Sat, 12:15-7pm Sun; Metro Rail Museum District) French impressionism and post-1945 European and American painting really shine in this nationally renowned palace of art, which includes major works by Picasso

DON'T MISS

HOUSTON, WE HAVE AN ATTRACTION...

Dream of a landing on the moon? You can't get any closer (without years of training) than at Space Center Houston (☎281-244-2100; <http://space-center.org>; 1601 NASA Pkwy 1; with audio guide adult/child $23.50/19.50; ☀9am-7pm) off I-45 S, the official visitor center and museum of NASA's Johnson Space Center. Interactive exhibits let you try your hand at picking up an object in space or landing the shuttle. Be sure to enter the theater that shows short films, because you exit past Apollo capsules and history exhibits. The free tram tour covers the center at work – shuttle training facilities, zero-gravity labs and the original mission control, from which was uttered the famous words, 'Houston, we have a problem.'

Central Houston

and Rembrandt. Across the street, admire the talents of luminaries such as Rodin and Matisse in the associated Cullen Sculpture Garden (cnr Montrose Blvd & Bissonnet St; ☀️ dawn-dusk) FREE.

Art Car Museum MUSEUM
(www.artcarmuseum.com; 140 Heights Blvd; ☀️ 11am-6pm Wed-Sun) FREE The handful of art cars here are something to behold; some of them are straight out of Mad Max. But they're really just bait to lure you in to check out the quirky-cool rotating art exhibits, whose subjects have included road refuse and bone art.

Houston Museum of Natural Science

MUSEUM
(☎️ 713-639-4629; www.hmns.org; 5555 Hermann Park Dr; adult/child $20/15, butterfly conservatory/special exhibits extra per person $5; ☀️ 9am-6pm; 🚇 Metro Rail Hermann Park/Rice) World-class traveling exhibits – on everything from Medici gems to Mayan civilization – have always been a big part of the attraction at this stellar museum. With the $30-million addition of an impressive dino-focused paleontology wing and the opening of an ancient Egyptian hall, there are now even more reasons to visit.

Central Houston

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Menil Collection.....C2

📍 Sights

- 2 Children's Museum of Houston .....E4
 3 Cullen Sculpture Garden .....D3
 4 Hermann Park .....D5
 5 Houston Museum of Natural Science.....D4
 6 Houston Zoo.....D5
 7 Museum of Fine Arts Houston .....D4

🚗 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 8 Hermann Park Miniature Train .....D5

🏠 Sleeping

- 9 Hotel ZaZa .....D4
 10 Houston International Hostel.....E4
 11 La Colombe d'Or Hotel.....D1
 12 Modern B&B .....B2

🍴 Eating

- 13 Breakfast Klub.....E2
 14 Eatsie Boys Cafe.....D2
 15 Goode Co BBQ .....A3
 16 Hugo's .....C1
 17 Reef.....F1
 Sparrow Bar & Cookshop ..... (see 13)

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 18 Poison Girl.....C1
 19 West Alabama Ice House.....B2

🎭 Entertainment

- 20 McGonigel's Mucky Duck .....A3
 21 Miller Outdoor Theatre .....D4

🌟 Festivals & Events

★ Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo

RODEO

(www.hlsr.com; 🗓️Feb-Mar) For three weeks from February to March, rodeo fever takes over Houston and everyone gets gussied up in their Western best. The barbecue cook-off is a hot seller but so are the nightly rodeos followed by big-name concerts – starring everyone from Bruno Mars to Blake Shelton. Buy tickets way in advance. Fairgrounds-only admission gets you access to midway rides, livestock shows, shopping and nightly dances.

Art Car Parade & Festival

PARADE

(www.orangeshow.org; 🗓️2nd Sun May) Wacky, arted-out vehicles (think Mad Max or giant rabbits) hit the streets en masse. The parade itself is complemented by weekend-long festivities, including concerts.

🏠 Sleeping

Chain motels line all the major freeways. If you are visiting the Space Center and Galveston, consider staying on I-45 south.

Houston International Hostel

HOSTEL $

(📞713-523-1009; www.houstonhostel.com; 5302 Crawford St; dm/d/q $16/50/110; 📍🚶🚰📶📶) A mix of semipermanent residents and backpackers. A friendly, eccentric staff and worn '70s furnishings lend the place a throwback hippie feel. It's an easy walk to Houston's major museums and light rail.

QUIRKY HOUSTON

Conservative Houston has a wacky creative streak, especially when it comes to its quirkier museums. Follow up a visit to the Art Car Museum with a pilgrimage to the Orange Show Center for Visionary Art (☎ 713-926-6368; www.orangeshow.org; per person $1), a mazelike junk-art tribute to one man's favorite citrus fruit. The center fosters the folk-art vision by offering children's art education and keeping up the 50,000-strong Beer Can House (www.beercanhouse.org; 222 Malone St, off Memorial Dr; admission $2; ☺ noon-5pm Sat & Sun).

★ Hotel ZaZa BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎ 713-526-1991; www.hotelzaza.com; 5701 Main St; r $205-270; ☎ ☰ ☹ ☺ ☷; Metro Rail Hermann Park/Rice) Hip, flamboyant and fabulous. From the bordello-esque colors to the zebra-accented chairs, everything about Hotel ZaZa is good fun. Our favorite rooms are the concept suites, such as the eccentric Asian Geisha or the space-age 'Houston We Have a Problem.' You can't beat the location overlooking the Museum District's Hermann Park, near the light rail.

Modern B&B B&B $$
(☎ 832-279-6367; http://modernbb.com; 4003 Hazard St; r incl breakfast $100-225; ☎ ☰ ☹ ☺ ☷) ☹ An architect's dream, this mod solar-powered 11-room inn is rife with airy decks, spiral staircases and sunlight. Think organic mattresses, in-room Jacuzzis, private decks and iPod docking stations. The owners also rent two nearby apartments.

Sara's Inn on the Boulevard INN $$
(☎ 713-868-1130; www.saras.com; 941 Heights Blvd; r incl breakfast $115-180; ☎ ☰ ☹ ☺ ☷) A Queen Anne Victorian feels right at home among the historic houses of the Heights. Eleven airy rooms say 'boutique hotel' more than 'frilly B&B,' but the inn still has the kind of sprawling Southern porch that makes you want to gossip over mint juleps.

La Colombe d'Or Hotel LUXURY HOTEL $$$
(☎ 713-524-7999; www.lacolombedor.com; 3410 Montrose Blvd; ste $295-400; ☎ ☰ ☹ ☺ ☷) Each of the five exquisite one-bedroom suites here were inspired by the colors and styles of a painting master - Cézanne, Van Gogh, Renair - and suitably so, as the rare oils and antiques decorating this 1923 Montrose mansion are museum quality. Standards at the intimate on-site French restaurant are in keeping with such refined tastes.

Eating

Houston's restaurant scene is smokin' hot - and we don't just mean the salsa. In fact, Houstonians eat out more than residents of any other US city. To keep abreast of what's in and what isn't, we recommend the razor-tongued Fearless Critic (www.fearlesscritic.com). Twitterites can follow @eatdrinkhouston.

Downtown

Treebeards SOUTHERN $
(http://treebeards.com; 315 Travis St; specials $8-11; ☺ 11am-2pm Mon-Fri) Locals flock here at lunchtime to chow down on great Cajun gumbos and jambalaya, but don't discount the appeal of daily changing specials like jerk chicken and stuffed pork chops.

Grove Restaurant & Bar AMERICAN $$
(☎ 713-337-7321; http://thegrovehouston.com; 1611 Lamar St; lunch & brunch mains $13-21, dinner mains $15-29; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; Metro Rail Main Street Sq) Free-range chicken pot pie, pork-belly sliders...the American classics get a metropolitan update at the Grove. The modern, glass-filled dining room overlooks Discovery Green park.

Original Ninfas MEXICAN $$ (www.ninfas.com; 2704 Navigation Blvd; mains $10-21; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Fri, 10am-10pm Sat & Sun) Generations of Houstonians have come here since the 1970s for shrimp diablo, tacos al carbon (tacos cooked over charcoal) and handmade tamales crafted with pride. Hopefully the recent new ownership will not change anything vital.

Midtown

Breakfast Klub SOUTHERN $
(www.thebreakfastklub.com; 3711 Travis St; dishes $8-15; ☺ 7am-2pm Mon-Fri, 8am-2pm Sat; ☎ ☹) Come early: devotees line up around the block for down-home breakfast faves like fried wings 'n' waffles. Lunch hours are only slightly less crazy at this coffeehouse-like eatery favored by local girl Beyoncé and her boy, Jay-Z. Coffee is great and there's wi-fi.

Reef

SEAFOOD $$

(☎) 713-526-8282; www.reefhouston.com; 2600 Travis St; lunch dishes $12-26, dinner mains $20-29; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Fri, 5-11pm Sat; Metro Rail McGowen) Gulf Coast seafood is creatively prepared and served in a sleek and sophisticated dining room – with a skyline-view raw bar. Chef Bryan Caswell has won oodles of national awards for himself and his restaurant.

Sparrow Bar &amp; Cookshop

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎) 713-524-6922; <http://sparrowhouston.com>; 3701 Travis St; mains $16-32; ☺ 11am-3pm & 5-10pm Tue-Sat) Nationally renowned chef Monica Pope brings top-quality local and organic ingredients to life in her new American cuisine. Share plates might include shiitake dumplings with blue-cheese sauce, or wild boar. On a nice night, patio dining is a must.

Montrose

★ Eatsie Boys Cafe

CAFE $

(<http://eatsieboys.com>; 4400 Montrose Blvd; dishes $6-12; ☺ 8am-10pm Mon-Sat, brunch 9am-3pm Sun; ☎) The Eatsie Boys intergalactic food truck has landed. Its owners now operate out of a fun cafe, and we're all the better for it. Order your matzo-ball pho (trust us, it's good) or a Gulf shrimp po'boy with jalepeño tartar sauce, then sidle up to one of the shady picnic tables to enjoy. They brew their own craft beers, too. Mmmmmmm...

Goode Co BBQ

BARBECUE $$

(www.goodecompany.com; 5109 Kirby Dr; plates $10-16; ☺ 11am-10pm) Belly up to the beef brisket, smoked sausage and gallon ice teas in a big ol' barn or out back on picnic tables.

★ Hugo's

MEXICAN $$$

(☎) 713-524-7744; <http://hugosrestaurant.net>; 1600 Westheimer Rd; lunch & brunch $14-19, dinner mains $22-30; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, 11am-11pm Fri & Sat, 10am-9pm Sun) Chef Hugo Ortega's inspired interior-Mexican regional cuisine tastes like nothing else in town. You might try squash-blossom crepes or Veracruz snapper with tomatoes, olives and capers. Brunch is not to be missed. Book ahead for any meal.

Drinking &amp; Nightlife

To the youngish set, the stretch of Washington Ave bars and clubs defines all that is hip and happening in Houston nightlife (although lately downtown is none too shabby in that department). The corner of White Oak Dr and Studemont St in the Heights has a few funky little bars, including a roadhouse, a tiki bar and a live-music club in an old house.

★ Onion Creek Cafe

CAFE

(3106 White Oak Dr; ☺ 7am-midnight Sun-Wed, 7am-2am Thu-Sat) Open for early morning coffee and late-night cocktails, Onion Creek is the Heights' quintessential neighborhood hangout, just west of Studemont St. Every table on the sprawling ultrachill patio is taken on weekends. Great daily specials; Saturday morning farmers market.

La Carafe

BAR

(813 Congress St; ☺ 1pm-2am) In an 1860 building, this intimate downtown place claims the title of the 'oldest bar in Houston.' Expect well-priced wines by the glass and an ancient wooden bar lit by candles.

HOUSTON FOR CHILDREN

Kids in tow? Don't miss downtown's Discovery Green (www.discoverygreen.com; 1500 McKinney St; ☺ 6am-11pm; ♿; Metro Rail Main St Sq). This 12-acre park has a lake, playground, fountains to splash in, outdoor art, restaurants and a performance space. The Green has become a hub for fun festivals and activities such as movies on the green, nighttime flea markets – even a Christmas-time ice rink. Check the online calendar for more.

Another great open space for kids is Hermann Park (www.hermannpark.org; Fannin St & Hermann Park Dr; ☺ 6am-11pm). This 445-acre park is home to playgrounds, a lake with paddleboats, the Hermann Park Miniature Train (☎) 713-529-5216; www.hermannpark.org/railroad.php; 6104 Hermann Park Dr, Kinder Station, Lake Plaza; per ride $3; ☺ 10am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-6pm Sat & Sun; ♿) and the Houston Zoo (www.houstonzoo.org; 6200 Hermann Park Dr; adult/child $14/10; ☺ 9am-6pm).

Within walking distance of Hermann Park is the activity-filled Children's Museum of Houston (www.cmhouston.org; 1500 Binz St; admission $9; ☺ 9am-6pm Tue-Sat, noon-6pm Sun), where kids can make tortillas in a Mexican village or draw in an open-air art studio.

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT

In the late afternoon on April 21, 1836, General Sam Houston and his ragtag Texan army caught up with the Mexican forces of General Antonio López de Santa Anna who were resting on the banks of the San Jacinto River. Fighting was fierce, as Houston's men 'remembered the Alamo' and the massacre at Goliad. Santa Anna's surrender came relatively quickly. The final tally: 630 Mexicans dead and hundreds more wounded, but only nine Texan casualties. Victory was total. The Mexican army retreated; Texas had won its independence.

More than 1100 acres of the battleground are now preserved as the San Jacinto Battleground State Historical Site (www.tpwd.state.tx.us; 3523 Hwy 134; park admission free, attractions vary; ☀9am-6pm). Tour the museum, watch the movie, then ride up to the observation deck to look over the field. Also part of the historic site is the docked 1912 battleship, USS Texas, one of the first steel-plated ships of its era.

The park lies 22 miles east of downtown Houston, via I-10 E. Exit at Crosby-Lynchberg Rd, turn south and take the small car ferry across to the site.

West Alabama Ice House

☎713-528-6874; 1919 W Alabama St; ☀10am-midnight Mon-Fri, to 1am Sat, noon-midnight Sun) In Montrose, Texas' oldest 'ice house' (where people used to come to get their ice, now an open-air drinkery) draws the crowds, from bikers to lawyers. We think it's because of the cheap beer and huge dog-friendly yard with picnic tables.

BAR

McGonigal's Mucky Duck

☎713-528-5999; www.mcgonigels.com; 2425 Norfolk St; ☀11am-11pm Mon-Thu, 11am-2am Fri & Sat, 5:30-9pm Sun) Acoustic, Irish, folk and country performers play nightly in pubby surroundings. Tickets are cash-only. Arrive early if you want supper before the show.

LIVE MUSIC

Poison Girl

(1641 Westheimer Rd; ☀4pm-2am) Add a killer back patio with a Kool Aid-man statue to an arty interior with vintage pinball games and you get one very cool, divey bar. Nice eclectic crowd, too.

LOUNGE

Last Concert Cafe

☎713-226-8563; www.lastconcert.com; 1403 Nance St; ☀11am-2am Tue-Sat, 10:30am-9pm Sun) For a real local original, find your way to the warehouse district northeast of downtown. After you knock on the red door (there's no sign), you can hang out drinking cheap suds at the bar or dig into cheap Tex-Mex and listen to live music evenings in the courtyard.

LIVE MUSIC

★ Entertainment

There's a fair bit of nightlife around the Preston and Main Street Sq Metro Rail stops downtown. Montrose and Midtown have clubs, but they're spread around. Look for listings in the independent weekly Houston Press (www.houstonpress.com) and in the Thursday edition of the Houston Chronicle (www.chron.com).

Live Music

When it's time to rock out, visit www.spacecityrock.com, the online version of a local music mag.

Rudyard's Pub

☎713-521-0521; www.rudyards.com; 2010 Waugh Dr; ☀11:30am-2am) Host to eclectic - OK, sometimes downright kooky - theatrical fare, as well as good local-band concerts. Hipsters just love to hang at Rudyard's.

LIVE MUSIC

Theater & Performing Arts

The Houston Grand Opera, the Society of the Performing Arts, Houston Ballet, Da Camera chamber orchestra and the Houston Symphony all perform downtown in the Theater District (www.houstontheater-district.org). From the district's website you can purchase tickets and view all schedules.

Miller Outdoor Theatre

☎281-373-3386; www.milleroutdoortheatre.com; 6000 Hermann Park Dr) Hermann Park's outdoor theater is a great place to spread a blanket on a summer night and enjoy a free play, musical or concert.

THEATER

Alley Theatre

☎713-220-5700; www.alleytheatre.org; 615 Texas Ave) Houston's heavy-hitter theater is one of the last in the nation to keep a resident company of actors. From classics to modern plays, the magic of this ensemble is palpable.

THEATER

Sports

While Houston teams don't get quite the rabid following of, say, the UT Longhorns or the San Antonio Spurs, there's plenty of sports action to be found.

Reliant Stadium

FOOTBALL

(www.reliantpark.com; 1 Reliant Park) The Houston Texans (www.houstontexans.com) play at this high-tech retractable-roof stadium.

Minute Maid Park

BASEBALL

(☎ 713-259-8000; 501 Crawford St) The Houston Astros (http://houston.astros.mlb.com) play pro baseball right downtown.

Toyota Center

BASKETBALL

(www.houstontoyotacenter.com; 1510 Polk St) Basketball fans can follow the NBA's Houston Rockets (www.nba.com/rockets/) here.

Shopping

For browsing in more eclectic and locally owned stores, hit the neighborhoods. Along 19th St (between Yale St and Shepherd Dr) in the Heights (www.houstonheights.org) you'll find unique antiques, clever crafts and cafes. On the first Saturday of every month the street takes on a carnival-like air with outdoor booths and entertainment.

In Montrose, Westheimer St is a dream for crafty fashionistas and antique-hunters alike. Start on Dunlavy Rd and work your way down the street, where you'll find a mix of used- and new-clothing stores running the gamut from vintage to punk rock to Tokyo mod, plus lots of funky old furniture.

For slightly less rebellious fashion terrain, stroll around Rice Village and let the window displays lure you in.

Galleria

MALL

(www.simon.com; 5075 Westheimer Rd; ☎ 10am-9pm) Welcome to THE mall, Houston's Valhalla of shopping. The sprawling Galleria is Texas' biggest indoor shopping center, with 2.4 million sq ft, 400 stores, 30 restaurants, two hotels - oh, and an ice-skating rink.

Just about every upscale national department and chain store you can think of is represented here, plus exclusive design houses and boutiques. This place is so iconic to Houston that 'the Galleria' refers to the whole surrounding neighborhood, which has many more shopping and dining plazas.

Information

Chase Bank (www.chase.com; 712 Main St) Currency exchange and ATM.

Greater Houston Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 713-437-5200; www.visithoustontexas.com; City Hall, 901 Bagby St; ☎ 9am-4pm Mon-Sat) As much a giant souvenir shop as an info center. Note that the office closes Saturdays during downtown events (festivals, marathons etc). Free parking on Walker St.

Houston Public Library (www.hpl.lib.tx.us; 500 McKinney St; ☎ 10am-8pm Mon-Thu, 10am-5pm Fri & Sat, 1-5pm Sun; ☎) Free internet computers and wi-fi.

Main post office (401 Franklin St; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri) Plenty of parking; at the north edge of downtown.

Getting There & Away

Houston Airport System (www.fly2houston.com) has two airports. Twenty-two miles north of the city center, George Bush Intercontinental (IAH; www.fly2houston.com/iah; Will Clayton Parkway or JFK Blvd, off I-59, Beltway 8 or I-45) serves cities worldwide and is home base for Continental Airlines. Twelve miles southeast of town, William P Hobby Airport (HOU; www.fly2houston.com/hobby; Airport Blvd, off Broadway or Monroe Sts; ☎) is a major hub for Southwest Airlines and domestic travel. Read your ticket closely: some airlines, like Delta, fly out of both airports. You can find every major car-rental agency at either airport.

If you're not renting a car, a shuttle is the most convenient and cost-effective way to get downtown. SuperShuttle (☎ 800-258-3826; www.supershuttle.com) provides regular service from both Bush ($25) and Hobby ($20) airports to hotels and addresses around town.

Cabs are readily available at both airports. Airport rates are determined by zone, and you'll pay either the flat zone rate or the meter rate, whatever's less. You'll shell out $50 to get from George Bush Intercontinental to downtown; from Hobby it's about $25.

The Metropolitan Transit Authority (METRO; ☎ 713-635-4000; www.ridemetro.org; one-way $1.25) runs bus 102 between George Bush Intercontinental and downtown from 5:30am to 8pm. Bus 88 operates between Hobby and downtown 6am to 11pm every day except Sunday.

Long-distance buses arrive at the Greyhound Bus Terminal (www.greyhound.com; 2121 Main St), which is located between downtown and the Museum District, and the Sunset Limited train stops at the Amtrak Station (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com; 902 Washington Ave) three times a week.

i Getting Around

Houston's public transportation is run by the Metropolitan Transit Authority. Bus transit is geared toward weekday, downtown commuters. The light-rail train, Metro Rail, however, is exceptionally useful for travelers. It has only one simple line, but that line links most sights – and some restaurants – along its Downtown–Museum District–Reliant Park corridor. Look for maps, including downloadable smartphone ones, online. The Metro Rail operates from 5am until midnight Sunday through Thursday, and until 2:20am on Friday and Saturday.

Around Houston

Galveston

Don't think of Galveston as just another beach town. What makes it irresistible is that it's actually a historic town that happens to have some beaches. An easy day trip from Houston, it's also a very popular cruise-ship port, which has been a vital boost to the economy.

In 2008 Galveston was ravaged by a direct hit from Hurricane Ike. Many of the gingerbread-covered Victorian homes in the historic districts have been restored, but missing is the canopy of mature trees that once graced the island.

👁 Sights & Activities

Nothing more than a sandy barrier island, Galveston stretches 30 miles in length and is no more than 3 miles wide. The center of activity on the island, the historic 'Strand' district (around the intersection of 22nd and Mechanic Sts) is best covered on foot so you can check out the many attractions, shops, restaurants and bars. Find loads more dining and activity info at Galveston Island Visitors Center (☎409-797-5145; www.galveston.com; Ashton Villa, 2328 Broadway; ☀10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 9am-4pm Sun).

For easy beach access, park anywhere along the seawall. Or, if you want more sand to spread out on, head to East Beach (1923 Boddecker Dr, off Seawall Blvd; per vehicle $16; ☀dawn-dusk Mar-Oct) at the eastern end of the island.

🎭 Pier 21 Theatre

THEATRE

(☎409-763-8808; www.galveston.com/pier21theatre; cnr Pier 21 & Harborside Dr; adult/child $5/4; ☀11am-6pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat) The 30-minute multimedia documentary shown here avoids the maudlin as it recounts the 1900 hurricane through photos, special effects and eyewitness accounts of the deadliest natural disaster in US history.

🏛 Texas Seaport Museum & Tallship Elissa

MUSEUM

(www.galvestonhistory.org; cnr Harborside Dr & 21st St; adult/child $8/5; ☀10am-4:30pm) This vast museum explains every facet of life around Galveston's port during its heyday in the 19th century. Outside, climb aboard to tour the Elissa, a beautiful 1877 Scottish tall ship that is still seaworthy.

🌳 Moody Gardens

AMUSEMENT PARK

(www.moodygardens.com; 1 Hope Blvd; day pass $50; ☀10am-6pm; ♿) Three colorful glass pyramids form the focus of one entertainment complex. The Aquarium Pyramid showcases king penguins, fur seals and the largest array of sea horses in the world. The 10-story Rainforest Pyramid is a lush tropical jungle full of plants, birds, butterflies and a wonderful creepy-crawly bug exhibit. The Discovery Pyramid hosts traveling exhibits and some so-so space-related stuff.

🍴 Sleeping & Eating

The sea is the primary food source in Galveston; fish restaurants (mostly chains) line the seaside piers near the Strand.

🏠 Beachcomber Inn

MOTEL $

(☎800-733-7133; www.galvestoninn.com; 2825 61st St; r $35-120; ♿☎☎) A block removed from the beach, this basic two-story motel provides a neat-and-clean budget break. Minifridges and microwaves in every room.

🏨 Hotel Galvez

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(☎409-765-7721; www.galveston.com/galvez; 2024 Seawall Blvd; r $160-400; ♿☎☎) Bask in palm-fringed Spanish-colonial luxury at this 1911 historic hotel. The spa services – muscle-soaking milk bath or seaweed contour wraps, anyone? – are renowned, and the pool deck has a lovely gulf view. Ask about spa special package deals.

🍤 Shrimp N Stuff

SEAFOOD $

(3901 Ave O; mains $6-12; ☀10:30am-8:30pm Mon-Thu, to 9:30pm Fri & Sat) Skip the big, expensive seafood emporiums and get your fried seafood fix at this beachy-casual fave.

★ Farley Girls

AMERICAN $$

(www.farleygirls.com; 901 Post Office St; dishes $9-13; ☀10:30am-3:30pm Mon-Fri, from 8:30am Sat & Sun) The historic building may be elegant, with fern-studded colonnades and high wood ceilings, but the tasty comfort food and counter service are down-home casual. Eclectic offerings include both Latin American-spiced chimichurri steak salad and mac 'n' cheese.

The Spot

CAFE $$

(3204 Seawall Blvd; mains $11-21; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Sat & Sun) The three old houses containing this restaurant-tiki bar/ice-cream parlor are a favorite local hangout, with a great Gulf-view patio.

i Getting There & Away

From Houston, follow I-45 southeast for 51 miles.

Hurricane Ike knocked the Galveston Island Trolley off the rails. Until it's restored – at some far distant, undetermined date – you really need a car to get around. The island's bus service caters to local commuters, not tourists.

Piney Woods

In Piney Woods, northeast Texas, 100ft-plus-tall trees outnumber people. Nature is the attraction, but don't expect breathtaking vistas; here you'll find quiet trails and varied ecosystems. At Big Thicket National Preserve (www.nps.gov/bith), coastal plains meet desert sand dunes, and cypress swamps stand next to pine and hardwood forests. If you're lucky, you may run across one of 20 species of small wild orchids while hiking the 45 miles of trail. The eight disparate park units are 100 miles northwest of Houston.

SOUTHERN GULF COAST

Images of rowdy spring breakers aside, the Gulf Coast is known for its sparkling bays, small harbors filled with shrimp boats and more than 60 miles of protected beaches. Some parts of the Gulf Coast – like Port Arthur and Brazosport – have shunned the tourist trade and embraced the steady income that refineries and oil rigs can provide. But tiny coastal communities and wandering coastal back roads are reason enough to visit.

Aransas National Wildlife Refuge

For bird-watchers, the premier site on the Texas coast is the 115,000-acre Aransas National Wildlife Refuge (www.fws.gov/refuge/aransas; FM 2040; per person/carload $3/5; ☺ 6am-dusk, visitor center 8:30am-4:30pm). The scenery alone is spectacular, and close to 400 bird species have been documented here.

None are more famous than the extremely rare whooping cranes that summer in Canada and spend their winters in the refuge. These endangered white birds – the tallest in North America – can stand 5ft tall with a 7ft wingspan.

From the observation tower you can usually spot one or two, but boats tour the estuaries from November to March, and this is easily the best way to get a good view of rare birds. Captain Tommy with Rockport Birding & Kayak Adventures (☎ 877-892-4737; www.whoopingcranetours.com; 202 N Fulton Beach Rd, Fulton Harbor; 3½hr tours $50; ☺ 7:30am & 1pm) has a relatively small, shallow-drafting boat, and so can get you into back bays that larger charters can't reach.

Corpus Christi & Around

The salt breezes and palm-tree-lined bay are quite pleasant in this 'city by the sea', with a population of just over 300,000. Downtown has a waterfront promenade and a few museums, but there's not too much in town to entice visitors. Trip out to Padre Island and the National Seashore for a beachy break, though don't expect the windblown surf to be azure. To the north, Port Aransas is a bustling little fishing town with tons of restaurants and boat charters.

Shoreline Dr, in downtown Corpus, has a small beach; the street continues south as Ocean Dr, which has bay-front playgrounds and parks, as well as some serious mansions lining it. Corpus Christi Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 800-766-2322; www.visit-corpuschristitx.org; 1823 N Chaparral St; ☺ 10am-4pm Mon-Sat, plus noon-4pm Sun summer) has helpful coupons online.

i Sight & Activities

★ USS Lexington Museum MUSEUM (www.usslexington.com; 2914 N Shoreline Blvd; adult/child $14/9; ☺ 9am-5pm, to 6pm Jun-Aug) The second sight you are likely to notice in Corpus (after the bay) is this 900ft-long aircraft carrier moored just north of the ship channel. The ship served in the Pacific during WWII and was finally retired in 1991. High-tech exhibits give visitors a chance to relive some wartime experiences. During the evening, the ship is eerily lit with blue lights that recall its WWII nickname, 'the Blue Ghost.'

WORTH A TRIP

PORT ARANSAS

Driving north, Padre Island morphs into Mustang Island, at the tip of which (20 miles along) is Port Aransas (www.portaransas.org). This bustling fishing and vacation village is worth a stop. There are lots of places to eat seafood, from divey to divine. Gulf fishing charters depart from here; Fisherman's Wharf (www.wharfcatt.com; 900 N Tarpon St; 5hr trip adult/child $60/30) has regular deep-sea excursions and runs jetty boats to outer islands (adult/child $12/6).

Museum of Science & History MUSEUM

(www.ccmuseum.com; 1900 N Chaparral St; adult/child $12.50/6; ☎ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 🚗) Explore shipwrecks at this fun museum, right on the south side of the ship channel. See how Texas proved to be the doom of the French explorer La Salle and see the moldering remains of reproductions of two of Columbus' ships.

 Sleeping & Eating

Bars and restaurants are clustered on the streets surrounding Chaparral and Water Sts downtown; there are few restaurants on the island.

George Blucher House B&B $$

(☎ 361-884-4884; www.georgeblucherhouse.com; 211 N Carrizo St; r $120-190; 🚗 @) A large wood-and-brick 1904 mansion near the center of town, the George Blucher House has six bedrooms, each with a bathroom. All are decorated in what could be described as 'period plush.' Sit on the covered porch and listen to the pecan trees grow.

V Boutique Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 361-883-9200; www.vhotelcc.com; 701 N Water St; r $150-250; 🚗 📺) Adored by its guests, this small hotel in the heart of downtown offers a high level of service, including 24-hour concierge. Rooms come in eight styles, from studios to one-bedroom loft suites.

Executive Surf Club SOUTHERN $

(309 N Water St; mains $6-10; ☎ 11am-11pm Sun-Wed, to midnight Thu-Sat) Eat a fried-shrimp po'boy from a surfboard table at this long-time fave, which has tables inside and out plus live music. It's just divey enough that you can forget you're downtown.

Brewster Street
Icehouse BURGERS, SEAFOOD $$

(1724 N Tanchua St; mains $7-16; ☎ 11am-2am; 🚗) Has fried everything, cold brews, live music (Thursday to Saturday night) and a huge deck. This old warehouse really rocks after baseball games at nearby Whataburger Field. Kids love the playground.

Padre Island National Seashore

The 60 southern miles of 'North' Padre Island that lie outside Corpus Christi city limits are all a protected part of the Padre Island National Seashore (www.nps.gov/pais; Park Rd 22; 7-day pass per car $10; ☎ visitor center 9am-5pm). Four-wheel drive is necessary to see the extent of the park, but if you hike even a short distance from the visitor center, you'll be free of the crowds. The constant wind not only creates and moves dunes, it also attracts kitesurfers and windsurfers to the inland-side Bird Island Basin area.

Camping is available at the park's semi-developed, paved Malaquite Campground (campsites $8). Or go primitive: beach camping is free with the Padre Island National Seashore entrance permit.

Watch for the endangered Kemp Ridley sea turtles that nest in the park and are closely protected. If you're visiting in late summer, you might be able to take part in a turtle release; call the Hatchling Hotline (☎ 361-949-7163) for information.

South Padre Island

South Padre Island has discovered gold in spring break, the period in March when hordes of college students congregate at beaches for a week or more of completely pleasurable excess that's limited only by the capacity of their livers, loins and billfolds. To welcome this annual bacchanal, this condocrammed island has beach activities and bars galore.

The website of the South Padre Island Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 956-761-4412; www.spichamber.com; 600 Padre Blvd; ☎ 9am-5pm) has a comprehensive list of mini-golf courses, rowdy restaurants, condo rentals and beachfront hotels. You can settle right in at the Tiki Condominium Hotel (☎ 800-551-8454, 956-761-2694; www.thetiki.com; 6608 Padre Blvd; r $100-350; 🚗 📺 🍷), which plays the tiki cliché to the max; it has units ranging in size from one to three bedrooms.

Stop in for a drink or a meal at the Padre Island Brewing Company (☎956-761-9585; www.pibrewingcompany.com; 3400 Padre Blvd; mains from $10; ☀11am-late), where you can wash down your burgers and seafood with a microbrew, or assemble a beach picnic at Zeste Cafe & Market (☎956-761-5555; 3508 Padre Blvd; meals from $8; ☀hours vary, usually 11am-8pm) (which will cause great envy among the hot-dog-scoffing masses).

For some refreshingly educational entertainment, try the tours and feeding presentations every 30 minutes at Sea Turtle Inc (www.seaturtleinc.com; 6617 Padre Blvd; suggested donation adult/child $3/2; ☀10am-4pm Tue-Sun) rescue facility.

The Valley

Way down here in the Rio Grande Valley (known simply as ‘the Valley’), you’re spitting distance from Mexico. Citrus-tree plantations are gradually giving way to new subdivisions, but there are enough remaining to supply the roadside stands at which you can pick up fresh local grapefruits and oranges (harvested November through May).

Birders flock to the Valley’s parks associated with the World Birding Center (www.worldbirdingcenter.org). Migrating avian masses, including thousands of hawks, pass through this natural corridor along the main north-south American fly route from March to April and September to October. Twenty miles or so west of Weslaco, the visitor and educational center at Bentsen-Rio Grande Valley State Park (www.tpwd.state.tx.us; 2800 S Bentsen Palm Dr; adult/child $5/free; ☀park 7am-10pm, center 8am-5pm) is a model of sustainable, green-driven architecture, including rainwater collection. Rent a bike (from $5 a day) or take the tram the 2 miles into the park. There, alligators and birds roam the wetlands, and you may spot a javelina (wild pig) or a horny toad on your way to the hawk-observation tower.

Twenty-seven miles southwest of South Padre is Brownsville (www.brownsville.org), the southernmost town in Texas, which has an authentic and slightly gritty culture that make it an excellent day trip. During the 19th century the fast-growing town was filled with ornate brick structures that drew architectural inspiration from Mexico and New Orleans. Many survive today and help make Brownsville an atmospheric stop.

DALLAS–FORT WORTH

Dallas and Fort Worth are as different as a Beemer-driving yuppie and a rancher in a Dodge dually pickup truck – the proverbial city slicker and his country cousin. Just 30 miles apart, the two towns anchor a giant megalopolis of six million people known as the Metroplex. Go see the excesses of the Big D and then day-trip to Fort Worth – the cowboy and Western sights and museums there might be the state’s best-kept secret.

Dallas

Bright lights, big hair, shiny cars... In many ways, upscale Dallas is the belle of the Texas ball. From JR Ewing and the TV show Dallas to the Dallas Cowboys and their cheerleaders,

i DAY TRIPS TO MEXICO: SHOULD YOU VISIT?

Time was when no visit to the Rio Grande Valley was complete without a jaunt across the border. Good and cheap Mexican food (and tequila), mariachis and cheap souvenirs were just some of the lures. Plus there was the thrill of entering a dramatically different culture, just by strolling across a bridge spanning the Rio Grande.

But several years of lurid headlines caused by the carnage of Mexico’s drug wars have put a big question mark over day trips into Mexico. While Tex has always mixed well with Mex, the flow of Texans casually crossing into Mexican border towns has slowed to a trickle due to drug-cartel-related violence. Although tourists are not targets, fear of getting caught up in the violence is a real concern.

Should you visit? The best answer is to ask locally on the Texas side of the border; conditions change constantly. No matter what, you’ll probably be safest going during the day. You can also check with the US State Department (<http://travel.state.gov/travel>) for travel advisories. The state department urges caution when visiting all border towns in Mexico – as do we.

Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex

0 10 km
0 5 miles

Dallas has made a heavy mark on American popular culture, which seems fitting for a city whose ethos is image-consciousness and conspicuous consumption.

With all that money, it's no surprise that there's an amazing dining scene. (You can tell which place is hot by the caliber of cars the valet leaves out front.) And with more malls per capita than anywhere else in the US, shopping is definitely this city's guiltiest pleasure.

The museums are not only excellent, but unique – history buffs should not miss the memorials to former president John F Kennedy. The most impressive addition to Dallas' cultural landscape in recent years is the massive 68-acre Arts District, now the largest in the country.

North of downtown, uptown has smart, trendy bars, restaurants and hotels; follow Harwood St (or St Paul St, if you're taking the trolley) to McKinney Ave. Bars also line Greenville Ave, northeast of downtown off Ross Ave. Deep Ellum, at the eastern end of Elm St, is a bit gritty, but it's the nucleus of Dallas' small live-music scene.

Sights

Downtown

★ Sixth Floor Museum MUSEUM
(Map p700; www.jfk.org; Book Depository, 411 Elm St; adult/child $16/13; ☀ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun, noon-6pm Mon; light rail West End) No city wants the distinction of being the site of a presidential assassination – especially if that president happens to be John F Kennedy. But rather than downplay the events that sent the city reeling in 1963, Dallas gives visitors a unique opportunity to delve into the shooting in this fascinating and memorable museum, located in the former Book Depository.

Dealey Plaza & the Grassy Knoll PARK
(Map p700; light rail West End) Conspiracy theorists, get your cameras out. Dealey Plaza became famous for all the wrong reasons as the location of the Kennedy assassination, and the 'grassy knoll' entered our collective vernacular as the place from which witnesses reported to have heard shots fired. (Look for the hillock that rises from the north side of Elm St to the edge of the picket fence.)

Dallas Museum of Art MUSEUM
(Map p700; www.dallasmuseumofart.org; 1717 N Harwood St; ☀ 11am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Thu; 🚏; light rail St Paul) FREE This museum is a high-caliber world tour of decorative and fine art. Highlights include Edward Hopper's enigmatic Lighthouse Hill and Rodin's Sculptor and his Muse. The Spanish Colonial art section is extraordinary. The museum's collection contains over 22,000 works of art spanning 5000 years. Kids (and parents) will appreciate the Young Learners' Gallery, with fun projects.

Nasher Sculpture Center MUSEUM
(Map p700; www.nashersculpturecenter.org; 2001 Flora St; adult/child $10/free; ☀ 11am-5pm Tue-Sun; light rail St Paul) Modern-art installations shine at the fabulous glass-and-steel Nasher Sculpture Center. The Nashers accumulated what might be one of the greatest privately held sculpture collections in the world, with works by Calder, de Kooning, Rodin, Serra and Miró, and the divine sculpture garden is one of the best in the country.

Dallas World Aquarium AQUARIUM
(Map p700; www.dwazoo.com; 1801 N Griffin St; adult/child $21/13; ☀ 9am-5pm; 🚏) The flora and fauna of 14 countries (think the watery Mayan cenote swimming with sharks and rays) come alive here.

Tours

John Nagle WALKING TOUR
(☎ 214-674-6295; www.jfktours.com; tours $20; ☀ by appointment Sat & Sun) Dramatic and committed conspiracy-theorist historian guides 1¼-hour tours of JFK assassination sights.

Festivals & Events

State Fair of Texas FAIR
(www.bigtext.com; Fair Park, 1300 Cullum Blvd; adult/child $17/13; ☀ late-Sep–Oct) This massive fair is the fall highlight for many a Texan. Come ride one of the tallest Ferris wheels in North America, eat corn dogs (it's claimed that this is where they were invented) and browse among the prize-winning cows, sheep and quilts.

Sleeping

Staying uptown, you're closest to restaurants and nightlife, but hotels there can get pricey. The further you get from the center, the cheaper the highway chain motels get.

Abby Guest House GUESTHOUSE $
(☎ 214-264-4804; www.abbyguesthouse.com; 5417 Goodwin Ave; cottage from $65; 🚏 🚗 📞 📺) This bright and cheerful garden cottage is within walking distance of great cafes and bars on

Downtown Dallas

Downtown Dallas

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Sixth Floor Museum .....A5

📍 Sights

- 2 Dallas Museum of Art .....B3
3 Dallas World Aquarium .....B4
4 Dealey Plaza & the Grassy Knoll .....A5
5 Nasher Sculpture Center .....C3

🛏 Sleeping

- 6 Hotel Lawrence .....A6

🍴 Eating

- 7 Dream Cafe ..... B1
8 S&D Oyster Company ..... B1
9 Zodiac .....C5

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 10 Ginger Man ..... B1

🎭 Entertainment

- 11 American Airlines Center .....A3
12 AT&T Performing Arts Center .....C3
13 Winspear Opera House .....C3
14 Wylie Theatre .....C3

🛍 Shopping

- 15 Neiman Marcus .....C5

Upper Greenville Ave. With a full kitchen and sunny private patio, it's a great deal although often booked. Two-night minimum.

★ Hotel Belmont

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(📞 866-870-8010; www.belmontdallas.com; 901 Fort Worth Ave; r $100-200; 📶 @ 📺 🍷) Just two miles west of downtown, this stylish 1940s bungalow-hotel is a fabulously low-key antidote to Dallas' flashier digs, with a touch of mid-century modern design and more than its share of soul. The garden rooms – with soaking tubs, Moroccan-blue tile work, kilim rugs and some city views – are tops.

Hotel Lawrence

HOTEL $$

(Map p700; 📞 214-761-9090; www.hotellawrencedallas.com; 302 S Houston St; r $90-180; 📶 @ 📺) One of the better deals among the midrange indie hotels, Hotel Lawrence has a convenient downtown location in a 1925 building. Rooms include a great buffet breakfast.

Hotel Palomar

HOTEL $$

(📞 214-520-7969; www.hotelpalomar-dallas.com; 5300 E Mockingbird Lane; r from $169; 📶 @ 📺 🍷) The Palomar combines dramatic flair – like zebra robes, a Hollywood-esque infinity pool and a chichi spa – with eco-conscious policies and enough freebies (eg the nightly wine-and-cheese happy hour) to make you feel good about being spoiled.

Rosewood Mansion on

Turtle Creek

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(📞 214-559-2100; www.rosewoodhotels.com; 2821 Turtle Creek Blvd; r $275-600; 📶 @ 📺 🍷) Step into a life of ease, where for every two guests there's one staff member attending. This is the definitive five-star Dallas hotel, and a worthy splurge. Rooms have fresh flowers and hand-carved European furnishings, and dinner is served in the original, marble-clad, 1925 Italianate villa.

🍴 Eating

Deep Ellum, just east of downtown, is your choice for eclectic eats. Otherwise, head uptown for myriad choices. Bishop Ave, dotted with interesting places to eat and drink, merges hipster and funky – walk off your vitles by window-shopping the idiosyncratic boutiques.

🍴 Uptown & Knox-Henderson

Highland Park Soda Shop

AMERICAN $

(📞 214-521-2126; 3229 Knox St; mains $4-8; ☺ 7am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun; 📶) Since 1912 this classic soda fountain has been serving up malts and comfort fare such as grilled-cheese sandwiches to generations of diners. When in doubt, get the root-beer float.

★ Bread Winners

AMERICAN $$

(www.breadwinnerscafe.com; 3301 McKinney Ave; mains $9-20; ☺ 7am-10pm; 📶) If sipping a peach Bellini in a lush courtyard atrium is the reward for the agony of choosing what to order for brunch, then bring on the pain. Lunch and dinner offer similar, though less torturous, conundrums. In a pinch, at least stop in for something decadent from the bakery.

Dream Cafe

CAFE $$

(Map p700; www.thedreamcafe.com; 2800 Routh St; mains $8-20; ☺ 7am-9pm Sun & Tue-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 3pm Mon; 📶) Start your day early with a fabulous breakfast, or chill on the shady patio at lunchtime with some healthy, hearty fare. It has a playground plus on some nights it also has live jazz.

S&D Oyster Company

SEAFOOD $$$

(Map p700; www.sdoyster.com; 2701 McKinney Ave; mains $12-20; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Sat) An uptown staple for years – the simple Gulf Coast decor and great fried seafood keep 'em coming back (especially gents of a certain age wearing bow ties). Try the BBQ shrimp and leave room for the bread pudding.

★ Javier's

MEXICAN $$$

(📍 214-521-4211; www.javiers.net; 4912 Cole Ave; mains $20-30; ☎ 5:30-10:30pm Mon-Sat) Discard any ideas you have about Tex-Mex at this deeply cultured restaurant that takes the gentrified food of old Mexico City to new levels. The setting is dark, leathery and quiet. The food meaty and piquant. Steaks come with a range of Mexican flavors that bring out the best in beef. Get a table under the stars.

Abacus

AMERICAN $$$

(📍 214-559-3111; www.kentrathbun.com; 4511 McKinney Ave; mains $35-60, tasting menus from $65; ☎ 6-10pm Mon-Sat) Too many steakhouses in Dallas are part of chains. For the real deal with a contemporary twist, Abacus delivers the beef. Start with sushi or the wildly popular lobster shooters and then make your way through a menu of small, seasonal plates. Then feast on simply superb steaks. The bar is excellent.

🔪 Downtown & Deep Ellum

★ Santiago's Taco Loco Express

MEXICAN $

(3014 Main St; mains $3-8; ☎ 6am-10pm Mon-Thu, to 3am Fri & Sat) The breakfast tacos and tamales are addictive and draw locals who know how to start their day. At any time the fine range of tacos includes massive combos that make for an all-day meal. Service is from a window, with tables outside.

Angry Dog

AMERICAN $

(2726 Commerce St; mains $5-9; ☎ 11am-midnight Mon-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat, noon-10pm Sun) Nice, greasy, old-style burgers lure folks into this saloon at all hours. Other bar stalwarts, including wings, are good. The beer selection is tops.

★ Zodiac

AMERICAN $$

(Map p700; 📍 214-573-5800; Neiman Marcus, 1618 Main St; mains $14-24; ☎ 11am-3pm Mon-Sat; 🍷) This classic lunch spot, which has been tucked into Neiman Marcus for more than 50 years, evokes old-school Dallas. Attentive waiters bustle about, soothing and pampering diners with hot chicken consommé, popovers with strawberry butter, and elegant salads.

Drinking

Numerous pubs with outdoor patios are to be found in uptown along not only McKinney Ave (in the 2500 to 2800 blocks especially) but also Knox St near Willis Ave. Note that bars and clubs in Dallas (at least mostly) have succumbed to the indoor smoking ban.

★ Ginger Man

PUB

(Map p700; 📍 214-754-8771; www.dallas.ginger-manpub.com; 2718 Boll St; ☎ noon-2am) An appropriately spice-colored house is home to this always-busy neighborhood pub. It has multilevel patios and porches, out front and back, as well as dartboards.

Old Monk Pub

PUB

(📍 214-821-1880; www.oldmonkdallas.com; 2847 N Henderson Ave; ☎ 4pm-2am Mon-Fri, 11am-2am Sat & Sun) The dimly lit patio on a starry night! The perfect cheese plate! The Belgian beers! Add in the upscale pub food and outdoor seating and you might not leave.

Double Wide

BAR

(📍 214-887-6510; www.double-wide.com; 3510 Commerce St; ☎ 6pm-2am) Are these rednecks pretending to be hipsters, or hipsters pretending to be rednecks? Live music keeps the irony from killing the fun. The two sides of the bar explain the name, with a fine patio in between.

TASTES BORN IN TEXAS

Corn dogs Cornbread-batter-dipped hot dogs on a stick were created in 1948 by Neil Fletcher for the State Fair of Texas; Fletcher's still sells 'em there. Now available with jalapeño cornbread, too.

Shiner Bock The state's favorite amber ale came to be when Kosmos Spoetzl brought Bavarian brewing to Shiner, Texas, in 1914. Available countrywide, Shiner Bock is still brewed at Spoetzl Brewery (p684).

Chicken-fried bacon You may have heard of steak coated and deep-fried like chicken, but the taste (and heart-attack factor) was taken to new heights when Sodolak's, in Somerville, started cooking bacon the same way in the early 1990s.

Dr Pepper A pharmacist in a Waco drugstore-soda shop invented this aromatic cola in the 1880s.

Reno's Chop Shop Saloon

BAR

(☎ 214-742-7366; www.renoschopshop.com; 2210 N Crowds St; ☎ 6pm-2am Mon-Fri, 2pm-2am Sat & Sun) Slightly off Deep Ellum's Elm St artery, this is where you'll find Dallas' friendliest bikers. Hogs line the front while a delightfully jovial crowd parties inside. The rear patio, which hosts bands on Sundays, has great tables with umbrellas.

★ Entertainment

For entertainment listings, check the weekly alternative newspaper Dallas Observer (www.dallasobserver.com) or Guide Live (www.guidelive.com), which appears in Friday's Dallas Morning News.

Live Music & Nightclubs

During lunch hour, office workers crowd into the bars and restaurants of downtown's Deep Ellum (www.deepellumtexas). The scene at night is definitely grittier, but this is still live-music central. Most of the clubs are hard-core, but you'll occasionally find country or jazz. The bars and clubs of Lower Greenville Ave (1500 to 2200 blocks) cater to a crowd temperament somewhere between the uptown yuppies and downtown grunge set.

Sports*Mesquite ProRodeo

RODEO

(☎ 972-285-8777; www.mesquiterodeo.com; 1818 Rodeo Dr, Mesquite; ☎ 7:30pm Fri & Sat Jun-late-Aug) The competition is fierce in classic rodeo events including bareback, steer wrestling and bull riding. The prize money attracts top talent to this series.

Dallas Cowboys Stadium

FOOTBALL

(☎ 817-892-4467; http://stadium.dallascowboys.com; 1 Legends Way, off I-30 exits 28 & 29) The Dallas Cowboys gave themselves the nickname 'America's Team' after they had great success (with cheerleaders and otherwise) in the 1970s. Although the team's fortunes have been modest of late, they still have swagger, as shown in their enormous, retractable-roof home, which opened in 2009.

American Airlines Center

STADIUM

(Map p700; www.americanairlinescenter.com; 2500 Victory Ave) Located in Victory Park, this stadium hosts mega-concerts and is home to the Dallas Stars ice-hockey team and the Dallas Mavericks pro basketball team.

GAY & LESBIAN DALLAS

You've got to love that the top gay and lesbian bars in Dallas are named JR's and Sue Ellen's, respectively, after the two lead (and presumably straight) characters in Dallas.

JR's Bar & Grill (www.jrsdallas.com; 3923 Cedar Springs Rd; ☎ 11am-2am) One of the busiest bars in Texas, JR's serves lunch daily and boasts a variety of fun entertainment at night.

Sue Ellen's (www.sueellensdallas.com; 3014 Throckmorton St; ☎ 4pm-2am) Chill out in the 'lipstick lounge' or on the dance floor at Dallas' favorite lesbian bar.

Theater & Culture*AT&T Performing Arts Center

THEATER

(Map p700; www.attpac.org; 2403 Flora St) Four architecturally noteworthy performance venues are here, including the 2000-seat Winspear Opera House (Map p700; 2403 Flora St), home to the Dallas Opera (☎ 214-443-1000; www.dallasopera.org); the 1500-seat Wyly Theatre (Map p700; 2400 Flora St); and Strauss Square, an open-air stage.

Shopping

You can find some interesting gifts of arty homewares, like vintage Fiestaware plates, in the quirky, but small, Bishop Arts District (www.bishopartsdistrict.com). On the northern end of uptown (at Lemmon and McKinney Aves), the West Village (www.westvil.com) neighborhood has a collection of chain stores and individual boutiques, including Cowboy Cool.

Neiman Marcus

DEPARTMENT STORE

(Map p700; ☎ 214-741-6911; www.neimanmarcus.com; 1618 Main St; ☎ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, to 8pm Thu; light rail Akard) A downtown landmark, this six-story veteran was the first Neiman Marcus store. Today it's still a wonderful place to enjoy a timeless shopping experience.

★ NorthPark Center

MALL

(☎ 214-363-7441; www.northparkcenter.com; 8687 N Central Expwy; ☎ 10am-9pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) Almost 2 million sq ft of retail space, NorthPark's major stores include Neiman Marcus, Nordstrom and Macy's. It has hundreds of other retailers, including most upscale brands. Despite its size, it gets jammed and parking on a Saturday afternoon can be a pain.

Galleria

MALL

(☎972-702-7100; www.galleriadallas.com; 13350 Dallas Pkwy; ☀10am-9pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) The Galleria defined Dallas and conspicuous consumption in the 1980s and 1990s. Its main anchors include Nordstrom, Saks Fifth Ave and Macy's, as well as an iconic ice-skating rink. But the last time we were there, we couldn't help wondering if it hadn't, well, peaked.

i Information

Dallas CVB Visitor Center (Map p700; ☎214-571-1000; www.visitdallas.com; Old Red Courthouse, 100 S Houston St; ☀9am-5pm) Vast amounts of material.

Dallas Morning News (www.dallasnews.com) The city's daily newspaper.

Police station (☎214-670-4413; 334 S Hall St)

Travelex (☎214-559-3564; www.travelex.com; 2911 Turtle Creek Blvd; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Fri) Foreign-currency exchange.

i Getting There & Away

American Airlines' main hub is Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport (DFW; www.dfwwairport.com), 16 miles northwest of the city via I-35 E.

Southwest Airlines uses the smaller Dallas Love Field (DAL; www.dallas-lovefield.com), just northwest of downtown.

Greyhound buses make runs all over the country from the Greyhound Bus Terminal (Map p700; 205 S Lamar St).

The Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) San Antonio–Chicago Texas Eagle train stops at downtown's Union Station (401 S Houston St).

i Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

From Monday to Saturday you can ride the Trinity Railway Express (www.trinityrailwayexpress.org; one way $2.50) between downtown's Union Station and the CenterPort/DFW Airport stop, which is actually in a parking lot; free shuttle buses then take you to the terminals. DART Bus 39 (Map p700; 800 Pacific Ave; one way $2.50) travels between downtown's West End Transit Station and Dallas Love Field daily, but service is limited on weekends.

It's often easiest to take a shared-ride shuttle: SuperShuttle (☎817-329-2000; www.super-shuttle.com; fare from $17) runs from DFW or Dallas Love Field to downtown and major hotels in the region. A taxi between either airport and central Dallas should cost about $40 to $60.

BUS & LIGHT RAIL

Dallas Area Rapid Transit (DART; ☎214-979-1111; www.dart.org; 2hr ticket $2.50) operates buses and an extensive light-rail system that connects downtown with outlying areas. Day passes ($5) are available from the store (Map p700; 1401 Pacific Ave; ☀7:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri) at Akard Station.

Travel from downtown to uptown on the historic and free M-Line Trolley (☎214-855-0006; www.mata.org; ☀7am-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri, 10am-midnight Sat, to 10pm Sun), which runs from the corner of Ross Ave and St Paul St, near the Dallas Museum of Art, and up McKinney Ave to Blackburn St. An extension bringing the line into downtown should open by 2014.

WORTH A TRIP

DENTON

A bastion of college cool and indie cred, Denton has a great music scene. Home to the University of North Texas and its renowned arts programs, the fast-growing city rightfully claims the title as the most musical city in the region. The downtown, centered on Court-house Square, boasts a plethora of music venues, music shops and instrument stores.

By day, pop into the Courthouse on the Square Museum (☎940-349-2850; 110 W Hickory St; ☀10am-4:40pm Mon-Fri, 11am-3pm Sat) FREE for local lore and an amazing display of art created with pecans. Outside, check out the 1918 Confederate War Memorial, which has been modified with apologetic disclaimers. Nearby, Recycled Books Records CDs (☎940-566-5688; www.recycledbooks.com; 200 N Locust St; ☀9am-9pm) has hard-to-find tunes.

For music, the top venue is Dan's Silver Leaf (☎940-320-2000; www.dansilverleaf.com; 103 Industrial St; ☀7pm-2am), with a revered owner who books top bands but doesn't gouge on drink prices. Other clubs and bars are nearby.

Every March the city hosts 35 Denton (www.35denton.com; ☀Mar), a music festival featuring everything from rock to blues to jazz.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

If you do rent a car, be warned that rush-hour freeway traffic is bad and there's little free parking downtown. Public garages cost from $12 per day.

Fort Worth

Often called 'Where the West Begins' – and more often referred to as 'Cowtown' – Fort Worth is one town that still has its twang.

The place first became famous during the great open-range cattle drives of the late 19th century, when more than 10 million head of cattle tramped through the city on the Chisholm Trail. Today you can see a mini cattle drive in the morning and a rodeo on Saturday night.

Down in the Cultural District, tour the Cowgirl Museum and others, including three amazing art collections. Then, after you've meditated on minimalism, Sundance Sq's restaurants and bars call you to the kick-up-your-heels downtown.

Whatever you do, don't mistake Fort Worth for being Dallas' sidekick. This city's got a headstrong spirit of its own, and it's more user-friendly than Dallas (and greener and cleaner). Bottom line? There's a lot to do here – without a lot of pretense.

Sights

The area around the Stockyards is cowboy central; most area museums call the leafy Cultural District home.

Stockyards National Historic District

Sure, you'll spot cowboys on horseback roaming around, but wander the dusty streets of the Stockyards and you'll soon be mingling with a mix of families, bikers, curious European tourists and novelty-seeking college kids. This place puts fun first, with equal parts authentic history and camera-ready tourism thrown into the pot.

Stockyards HISTORIC SITE
(www.fortworthstockyards.org; Exchange Ave)
Western-wear stores and knickknack shops, saloons and steakhouses occupy the Old West-era buildings of the Stockyards. City-paid cowboys on horseback roam the district, answering questions and posing for photos.

Cultural District

Five major museums and the Will Rogers Memorial Center are part of the parklike Cultural District (www.fwculture.com).

Kimbell Art Museum MUSEUM
( 817-332-8451; www.kimbellart.org; 3333 Camp Bowie Blvd;  10am-5pm Tue-Thu & Sat, noon-8pm Fri, to 5pm Sun) FREE Some art aficionados say this is the country's best 'small' art museum, while others say it's one of the unqualified best. Take your time perusing; the stunning architecture lets in natural light that allows visitors to see paintings from antiquity to the 20th century the way the artists originally intended.

National Cowgirl Museum MUSEUM
( 817-336-4475; www.cowgirl.net; 1721 Gendy St; adult/child $10/8;  10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) This airy, impressive museum explores the myth and the reality of cowgirls in American culture. From rhinestone costumes to rare film footage, this is a fun and educational ride. By the time you walk out, you'll have a whole new appreciation for these tough workers.

Amon Carter Museum of American Art MUSEUM
(www.cartermuseum.org; 3501 Camp Bowie Blvd;  10am-5pm Tue-Sat, to 8pm Thu, noon-5pm Sun) FREE Pre-1945 American art shines at this museum, including iconic works by John Singer Sargent, Winslow Homer and Alexander Calder, as well as an impressive collection of works depicting the American West by artists Frederic Remington and Charles M Russell.

Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth MUSEUM
(www.themodern.org; 3200 Darnell St; adult/child $10/free;  10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 8pm Thu) In a stunning, soaring space, this museum houses an incredible number of provocative and mind-expanding works by luminaries such as Mark Rothko and Picasso.

Downtown

Sundance Square NEIGHBORHOOD
(www.sundancesquare.com) You can stroll yourself happy in the 14-block Sundance Sq, near Main and 3rd Sts. Colorful architecture, art galleries and a host of bars and restaurants make this one 'hood not to miss. New in 2013 was a big, spurting fountain and lots of surrounding condos.

DON'T MISS

THE WORLD'S LARGEST HONKY-TONK

Scoot on in to Billy Bob's Texas (☎ 817-624-7117; www.billybobstexas.com; 2520 Rodeo Plaza; cover $2-5 Sun-Thu, varies Fri & Sat; ☀ 11am-2am Mon-Sat, noon-2am Sun), the world's largest honky-tonk. The 100,000-sq-ft building was once a barn that housed prize cattle during the Fort Worth Stock Show. After the stock show moved to the Will Rogers Memorial Center, the barn became a department store so big that the stock keepers wore roller skates.

Now Billy Bob's can hold more than 6000 people and has 40 bars to serve the thirsty masses. The most bottled beer sold in one night was 16,000 bottles, during a 1985 Hank Williams Jr concert. Top country-and-western stars, house bands and country DJs play on two stages. On Friday and Saturday nights a live bull-riding competition takes place at an indoor arena. Pool tables and games help make this a family place; under 18s are welcome with a parent.

Sid Richardson Collection of Western Art

MUSEUM

(www.sidrichardsonmuseum.org; 309 Main St; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat, noon-5pm Sun) FREE If the Stockyards didn't sate your hunger for all things Western, pop in here for some art. It's known for its Frederic Remington paintings and bronzes.

Festivals & Events

Fort Worth Stock Show & Rodeo RODEO
(www.fwssr.com; ☀ Jan) Catch the rodeo craze with nearly a million other people. Held in January for several weeks each year at Will Rogers Memorial Center (1 Amon Carter Sq) in the Cultural District.

Sleeping

Fort Worth is an easy day trip from Dallas, but if you're staying over, here are your best choices.

Miss Molly's Hotel

B&amp;B $

(☎ 817-626-1522; www.missmollyshotel.com; 109 W Exchange Ave; r incl breakfast $100-175; ☹ ☹) Set in the heart of the Stockyards, eight-room Miss Molly's occupies a former bordello. Its heavily atmospheric vibe will feel authentic to some (Miss Josie's room still looks like a bordello), eerie to others (they say it's haunted...), but probably at least a little charming either way. Look for cheap deals during the week – as low as $50.

Etta's Place

INN $$

(☎ 817-255-5760; www.ettas-place.com; 200 W 3rd St; r $150-240; ☹ ☹) A grand piano, a comfy library and quilts galore are among the cozy pleasures at this Sundance Sq inn. Breakfast can be taken on the airy patio. The 10 rooms are large; suites have kitchenettes.

Texas White House

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 817-923-3597; www.texaswhitehouse.com; 1417 Eighth Ave; r $150-250; ☹ ☹) A large historic home with contemporary Texas style near downtown. The five rooms are well equipped; larger suites have fridges and microwaves.

★ Stockyards Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(☎ 817-625-6427; www.stockyardshotel.com; 109 E Exchange Ave; r $140-350; ☹ ☹) First opened in 1907, this 52-room place clings to its cowboy past with Western-themed art, cowboy-inspired rooms and a grand Old West lobby with lots of leather. Hide out in the Bonnie and Clyde room, actually occupied by Clyde Barrow during his 1932 Fort Worth stay (the faux bullet holes and boot jacks only add to the mystique).

Ashton Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 866-327-4866; www.theashtonhotel.com; 610 Main St; r $208-290; ☹ ☹ ☹) This 39-room, six-story boutique hotel in a turn-of-the-century building off Sundance Sq offers hush-hush elegance without an ounce of snootiness. Parking is valet-only.

Eating

Put on the feed bag and grab some Texas-style fixins' in Sundance Sq and in the Stockyards. Head to West 7th for new-fangled additions to the dining scene, or just walk down Magnolia and breathe in the foodie revolution. Many of the museums, such as the Kimbell, also have excellent cafes. PS: You're in Fort Worth – have a steak.

★ Curly's Frozen Custard

ICE CREAM $

(☎ 817-763-8700; www.curlysfrozencustard.com; 4017 Camp Bowie Blvd; treats from $2; ☀ 11am-9pm) Creamy frozen custard that you can customize with all sorts of mix-ins to make a 'concrete.' Good any day the temp is above freezing.

★ Kincaid's

BURGERS $
(☎ 817-732-2881; www.kincaidshamburgers.com; 4901 Camp Bowie Blvd; mains $4-7; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) Sit at picnic tables amid disused grocery shelves at this local institution (which unfortunately has an institutional shade of green on the walls) and wolf down some of the best burgers in the region. The burgers are thick, juicy and come covered in condiments.

Love Shack

BURGERS $
(110 E Exchange Ave; mains from $6; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) Enjoy a gourmet burger (the spicy Amore Caliente, yum!) at this joint owned by TV chef and Texas-born Tim Love. Don't miss the home-cut fries or Parmesan chips. There's live local music many nights.

★ Zio Carlo Magnolia

Brew Pub

PIZZERIA $$
(☎ 817-923-8000; www.gr8ale.com; 1001 Magnolia Ave; mains $12-16; ☺ 11:30am-midnight Mon-Fri, 11:30am-1am Sat, 10:30am-midnight Sun; ☺) Pizza and beer: the perfect combo. Both are superb here. The pizza is thin-crust Italian and comes in 17 varieties. The beers are also fine and diverse. Enjoy some of both in the exposed-brick dining area or outside on the patio.

Esperanza's Bakery & Cafe

MEXICAN $$
(☎ 817-626-5770; 2122 N Main St; mains $7-15; ☺ 6:30am-5:30pm) Breakfasts are spicy, plentiful and awfully tasty at this always-busy local fave. It even has a full bar so you can get a leg up on the day. Lunch items include Tex-Mex in fine form. Get campanchanas (crunchy sweet bread) from the bakery to go, or let the sun warm you on the terrace.

Joe T Garcia's

MEXICAN $$
(www.joets.com; 2201 N Commerce St; mains $8-14; ☺ 11am-2:30pm & 5-10pm Mon-Thu, 11am-11pm Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun) The most famous restaurant in Fort Worth, this fourth-generation place takes up a city block. Dinners in the candlelit walled courtyard are magical, as Mexican-tile fountains bubble among the acres of tropical foliage. On weekends the line (no reservations!) often stretches around the block.

★ Lonesome Dove

Western Bistro

SOUTHERN $$$
(☎ 817-740-8810; www.lonesomedovebistro.com; 2406 N Main St; mains $20-40; ☺ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-10pm Tue-Sat, 5-10pm Mon) At Tim Love's mod-Western dining experience, even the chefs wear cowboy hats. It's Southern fusion, with the traditional flavors of the region enlivened by all manner of influences. The wine list is superb and the $9 lunch special is truly the best deal in town.

Drinking

All the restaurants in and around Sundance Sq have popular bars attached.

Usual Bar

COCKTAIL BAR
(☎ 817-810-0114; www.theusualbar.com; 1408 W Magnolia Ave; ☺ 4pm-2am) Craft-cocktail lust packs hipsters in nightly at this bar that serves up debonair drinks such as 'Jimador's Revenge' and 'Taxation & Representation.' Of course you can be ironic and just have a well-poured Old Fashioned. Great terrace.

Flying Saucer Draught Emporium

BAR
(☎ 817-336-7470; 111 E 3rd St; ☺ 11am-1am Mon-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat, noon-midnight Sun) You definitely won't go thirsty: with 80 beers on tap, this downtown joint is made for craft-beer lovers. How can you not love a bar whose jam-packed patio is called 'Half-Acre Hell?'

Lola's Saloon

BAR
(☎ 817-877-0666; www.lolasfortworth.com; 2736 W 6th St; ☺ noon-2am) Dive into this dive bar for a fairly intimate music experience. Good bands many nights, otherwise a good local crowd more than happy to tell you where to go - in a nice, helpful way, of course.

Entertainment

On weekend evenings, country music becomes common in the Stockyards District, and a variety of live bands play in and around Sundance Sq. Look for listings in Fort Worth Weekly (www.fwweekly.com).

Cowtown Coliseum Rodeo

RODEO
(www.stockyardsrodeo.com; 121 E Exchange Ave; adult/child rodeo from $15/10, Wild West Show $12/8; ☺ 8pm Fri & Sat) See a real live rodeo at 8pm on Friday and Saturday nights year-round. From June to August, horses and

FREE RIDE

Fort Worth's coolest transportation option is the free Molly the Trolley (☎ 817-215-8600; www.mollythetrolley.com; ☺ 10am-10pm) FREE, a vintage trolley system that serves passengers traveling around downtown.

riders show off at Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show (2:30pm and 4:30pm on Saturday and Sunday).

★ Pearls Dance Hall

LIVE MUSIC

(www.pearlsdancehall.com; 302 W Exchange Ave; ☎7pm-2am) On the edge of the stockyards, this raucous old brothel once owned by Buffalo Bill Cody is an atmospheric place to hear traditional country music with an edge. Texas luminaries like Dale Watson are known to rock out here.

White Elephant Saloon

LIVE MUSIC

(www.whiteelephantsaloon.com; 106 E Exchange Ave; ☎noon-midnight Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat) Stockyards cowboys have been bellying up to this bar since 1887 (now owned by Tim Love). Local singers and songwriters are regularly showcased.

i Information

Central Library (500 W 3rd St; ☎10am-6pm Mon, Wed, Fri & Sat, noon-8pm Tue & Thu, 1-5pm Sun) Free internet access.

Fort Worth Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.fortworth.com) The most together tourist board in the state, with three branches: Cultural District (☎817-882-8588; 3401 W Lancaster Ave; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat); Downtown (☎800-433-5747; 415 Throckmorton St; ☎8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat); Stockyards (☎817-625-9715; www.stockyardsstation.com/information; 130 E Exchange Ave; ☎8:30am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun). Ask for the spiffy, free 3D maps.

i Getting There & Away

Dallas–Fort Worth International Airport (p704) is 17 miles east of Fort Worth.

The Amtrak (www.amtrak.com; 1001 Jones St) Texas Eagle stops in Fort Worth en route to San Antonio and Chicago. The Heartland Flyer serves Oklahoma City.

Monday to Saturday the Trinity Railway Express (TRE; ☎817-215-8600; www.trinity-railwayexpress.org; 1001 Jones St) connects downtown Fort Worth with downtown Dallas ($5, 1¼ hours, roughly every 30 minutes).

Several Greyhound (www.greyhound.com; 1001 Jones St) buses a day make the one-hour trip from downtown Fort Worth to Dallas ($9). There's also service to other major Texas cities.

i Getting Around

Fort Worth is fairly compact and easy to drive around: I-30 runs east–west through downtown, and I-35 W runs to the south.

The Fort Worth Transit Authority (The T; ☎817-215-8600; www.the-t.com; single ride/day pass $1.75/3.50) runs bus 1N to the Stockyards and bus 2 to the Cultural District. Stops include the Intermodal Transportation Center. Both of these lines run well into the evening.

WEST TEXAS

Welcome to the land of wide open spaces. Along I-10 there's not much to look at – just scrub brush and lots of sky – but dip below the interstate and you'll find vistas that are as captivating as they are endless. Sometimes the rugged terrain looks like the backdrop in an old Western movie; other times it looks like an alien landscape, with huge rock formations suddenly jutting out of the desert.

But what is there to do? Plenty. Exploring an enormous national park that's nearly the size of Rhode Island. Stopping in small towns that surprise you with minimalist art, planet-watching parties or fascinating ghost-town ruins. Chatting with friendly locals whenever the mood strikes you. And letting the slowness of west Texas get thoroughly under your skin.

Big Bend National Park

Everyone knows Texas is huge. But you can't really appreciate just how big it is until you visit this national park (www.nps.gov/bibe; 7-day pass per vehicle $20) that's almost the size of Rhode Island. Despite its sprawl, Big Bend is laced with enough well-placed roads and trails to permit short-term visitors to see a lot in two to three days.

Like many popular US parks, Big Bend has one area – the Chisos Basin – that absorbs the overwhelming crunch of traffic. But any visit should also include time in the Chihuahuan Desert, home to curious creatures and adaptable plants, and the Rio Grande, providing a watery border between the US and Mexico.

With over 200 miles of trails to explore, it's no wonder hiking is big in Big Bend. Get the scoop on the most popular hikes at the Panther Junction Visitors Center (☎915-477-2251; ☎8am-6pm) on the main park road, 29 miles south of the northern Persimmon Gap entrance and 26 miles east of the Maverick entrance at Study Butte. Or find a plethora of options in the park's booklet, Hiker's Guide to Trails of Big Bend National Park ($1.95 at park visitor centers).

In the heart of the park, Chisos Mountain Lodge (☎ 877-386-4383, 432-477-2291; www.chisosmountainlodge.com; lodge & motel r $123-127, cottages $150) offers lodging in the sought-after Roosevelt Stone Cottages or in one of two motel-style lodges. There's also a dining room (Lodge Dining Room; Chisos Mountain Lodge; mains $8-23; ☎ 7-10am, 11am-4pm & 5-8pm) within the complex, as well as a camp store (☎ 9am-9pm) with basic supplies.

For tent campers or smaller RVs that don't require hookups, there are three main campgrounds, some of which can be reserved, some of which are first-come, first-served. When everything's full, rangers direct tent campers to primitive sites throughout the Big Bend backcountry. Most popular – thanks to its mountain climate – is the Chisos Basin Campground (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; campsites $14).

West of Big Bend National Park

Small towns. Ghost towns. Towns that aren't even really towns. Throw in lots of dust and a scorching summer heat that dries out the stream of visitors until it's just a trickle. This isn't everyone's idea of a dream vacation. But if you can't relax out here, then you just plain can't relax. Whatever concerns you in your everyday life is likely to melt away along with anything you leave in your car. Speaking of cars, this is the land that public transportation forgot. You'll need a car out 'round these parts.

Terlingua

A former mining boomtown in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, Terlingua went bust when the mines were closed down in the 1940s. The town dried up and blew away like a tumbleweed, leaving buildings that fell into ruins and earning Terlingua a place in Texas folklore as a ghost town. But slowly the area has become repopulated, thanks in large part to the fact that it's only a few miles outside of Big Bend National Park. You'll hear people talk about Terlingua, Study Butte and Terlingua ghost town as if they're three different towns, but the only real town here is Terlingua; the other two are just areas of the town.

Sleeping & Eating

Chisos Mining Co Motel

MOTEL $

(☎ 432-371-2254; www.cmcm.cc; 23280 FM 170; s/d $60/78, cabins from $101; ☎) You'll recognize this quirky little place less than a mile west of Hwy 118 when you spot the oversized Easter eggs on the roof. The rooms are minimalist but as cheap as you'll find.

★ La Posada Milagro

INN $$

(☎ 432-371-3044; www.laposadamilagro.net; 100 Milagro Rd; d $185-210; ☎ ☎) Built on top of and even incorporating some of the adobe ruins in the historic ghost town, this guesthouse pulls off the amazing feat of providing stylish rooms that blend in perfectly with the surroundings. The decor is west-Texas chic, and there's a nice patio for enjoying the cool evenings. Budget travelers can book a simpler room with four bunk beds for $145 a night.

ROUTE 66: GET YOUR KICKS IN TEXAS

The Texas Panhandle isn't exactly a hub of tourism, but it does get plenty of folks passing through as they pay homage to the Mother Road. If you find yourself up thataway, here are the top Texas stops on a Route 66 road trip, going from west to east:

Cadillac Ranch (I-40, btwn exits 60 & 62) This iconic roadside attraction features 10 Cadillacs buried headlights down and tailfins up.

Downtown Amarillo The San Jacinto District still has original Route 66 businesses, and W 6th St is a short, but entirely original, Mother Road segment.

★ Big Texan Steak Ranch (www.bigtexan.com; 7701 I-40 E, exit 74; mains $10-40; ☎ 7am-10:30pm; ☎) A giant waving cowboy welcomes you to this roadside attraction/steakhouse that'll serve you a 72oz steak – free if you can eat it in under an hour.

Bug Ranch (Hwy 207 access road) In response to Cadillac Ranch, five stripped-down VW bugs have sprouted 18 miles east of Amarillo.

Devil's Rope Museum (www.barbwiremuseum.com; 100 Kingsley St, McLean; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat Mar-Nov) FREE Learn more about barbed wire than you ever thought possible.

SCENIC DRIVE: RIVER ROAD

West of Lajitas, Rte 170 (also known as River Rd, or El Camino Del Rio in Spanish) hugs the Rio Grande through some of the most spectacular and remote scenery in Big Bend country. Relatively few Big Bend visitors experience this driving adventure, even though it can be navigated in any vehicle with good brakes. Strap in and hold on: you have the Rio Grande on one side and fanciful geological formations all around, and at one point there's a 15% grade – the maximum allowable. When you reach Presidio, head north on US 67 to get to Marfa. Or, if you plan to go back the way you came, at least travel as far as Colorado Canyon (20 miles from Lajitas) for the best scenery.

Espresso...Y Poco Mas

CAFE $

(☎ 432-371-3044; 100 Milagro Rd; food $2.50-6.50; ☼ 8am-2pm, to 1pm summer; ♿) We love this friendly little walk-up counter at La Posada Milagro, where you can find pastries, breakfast burritos, lunches and what might just be the best iced coffee in all of west Texas. Like the casitas (cottages), the cafe incorporates stone ruins for an authentic ghost-town feel, and the shady patio is a great place to soak up the ambience, make friends, fuel yourself up and use the wi-fi.

★ Starlight Theater

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 432-371-2326; www.thestarlighttheatre.com; 631 Ivey St; mains $9-25; ☼ 5pm-midnight) You'd think a ghost town would be dead at night (pardon the pun), but the Starlight Theater keeps things lively. This former movie theater had fallen into roofless disrepair (thus the 'starlight' name) before being converted into a restaurant. Monday nights are famous for two-for-one burgers.

🛒 Shopping

Terlingua Trading Co

GIFTS

(☎ 432-371-2234; 100 Ivey St; ☼ 11am-8pm) This store in the ghost town has great gifts, from hot sauces and wines to an impressive selection of books. Pick up a brochure on the walking tour of historic Terlingua, or buy a beer inside the store and hang out on the porch with locals at sunset.

Lajitas to Presidio

About half an hour west from the junction in Terlingua, you can trade funky and dusty for trendy and upscale (but still dusty) at Lajitas Golf Resort & Spa (☎ 432-424-5000; www.lajitasgolfresort.com; d from $169; ♿ ♿ ♿ ♿). What used to be small-town Texas got bought up and revamped into a swanky destination. The old Trading Post is gone and in its place is a new general store. (The former Trading Post was the stuff of folk legend, as it was the home of a beer-drinking goat who got elected mayor of the town. Alas, no more.)

The nine-hole golf course that included a shot over the river into Mexico has moved to drier ground to escape flooding, and now it's the 18-hole Black Jack's Crossing. Lajitas Stables (☎ 432-371-2212; www.lajitastables.com; Rte 170; 2hr rides $70) offers short horseback trail rides as well as full-day rides to the Buena Suerte Mine and Ghost Town.

Lajitas is the eastern gateway of the massive Big Bend Ranch State Park (☎ 432-358-4444; www.tpwd.state.tx.us; off Rte 170; adult peak/nonpeak $5/3, child under 12yr free). At 433 sq miles, it's more than 11 times larger than Texas' next biggest state park (Franklin Mountains in El Paso). Taking up almost all the desert between Lajitas and Presidio, Big Bend Ranch reaches north from the Rio Grande into some of the wildest country in North America. It is full of notable features, most prominently the Solitario, formed 36 million years ago in a volcanic explosion. The resulting caldera measures 8 miles east to west and 9 miles north to south. As massive as it is, this former ranch is one of the best-kept secrets in Big Bend country.

Access to the park is limited and a permit is required, even if you're just passing through. Coming from Lajitas, stop at the Barton Warnock Visitor Center (☎ 432-424-3327; www.tpwd.state.tx.us; FM 170; ☼ 8am-4:30pm daily) for your day-use and camping permits (primitive campsites $8, backcountry $5). This education center is staffed by some of the most knowledgeable folks in the region. On the western edge of the park, you can pick up a permit at the Fort Leaton State Historic Site (☎ 432-229-3613; FM 170; ☼ 8am-4:30pm), a restored adobe fortress.

Central West Texas

The small towns of west Texas have become more than just the gateway to Big Bend National Park. Fort Davis, Marfa, Alpine and Marathon have a sprawling, easygoing charm and plenty of ways to keep a road-tripper entertained.

Fort Davis

False-front wooden buildings, an old fort and a stellar observatory make Texas' tallest town (elevation 5000ft) a Big Bend must-see. Its altitudinal advantage makes it a popular oasis during the summer, when west Texans head towards the mountains to escape the searing desert heat.

Sights & Activities

★ McDonald Observatory OBSERVATORY
(☎ 432-426-3640; www.mcdonaldobservatory.org; 3640 Dark Sky Dr; daytime pass adult/child 6-12yr/under 12yr $8/7/free, star parties adult/child $12/8; ☀ visitor center 10am-5:30pm; 🏠) Away from all the light pollution of the big cities, the middle of west Texas has some of the clearest and darkest skies in North America, making it the perfect spot for an observatory. They have some of the biggest telescopes in the world here, perched on the peak of 6791ft Mt Locke and so enormous you can spot them from miles away.

Fort Davis National Historic Site

HISTORIC SITE

(☎ 432-426-3224; www.nps.gov/foda; Hwy 17; adult/child $3/free; ☀ 8am-5pm) A remarkably well-preserved frontier military post with an impressive backdrop at the foot of Sleeping Lion Mountain, Fort Davis was established in 1854 and abandoned in 1891. More than 20 buildings remain – five of them restored with period furnishings – as well as 100 or so ruins.

Davis Mountains State Park

PARK

(☎ 432-426-3337; <http://www.tpwd.state.tx.us>; Hwy 118; adult/child under 12yr $6/free) Hiking, mountain biking, horseback riding (BYO horse), bird-watching and stargazing are all big attractions here amid the most extensive mountain range in Texas.

Sleeping & Eating

Old Schoolhouse Bed & Breakfast B&B $
(☎ 432-426-2050; www.schoolhousebnb.com; 401 Front St; s incl breakfast $84-93, d $96-105; 🏠 📶) You can't really tell it used to be the town's schoolhouse, but you can tell the owners put a lot of work into being great hosts, from the comfy rooms to the wonderful homemade breakfasts.

★ Indian Lodge

INN $$

(☎ lodge 432-426-3254, reservations 512-389-8982; Hwy 118; d $95-125, ste $135-150; 🏠 📶 🚰) Located in the Davis Mountains State Park, this historic 39-room inn has 18in-thick adobe walls, hand-carved cedar furniture and ceilings of pine viga and latilla that give it the look of a Southwestern pueblo – that is, one with swimming pool, gift shop and restaurant. The comfortable and surprisingly spacious guest rooms are a steal, so reserve early.

Fort Davis Drug Store

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 432-426-3118; www.fortdavisdrugstore.net/; 113 N State St; mains $6-19; ☀ 7am-9pm; 🏠 📶) Part diner, part old-fashioned soda fountain – but no 1950s nostalgia here. The theme is pure cowboy, with corrugated metal, big wooden chairs and lots of saddles providing the backdrop. Dine on country-style breakfasts, diner-style lunches and full mains at dinner. But, whatever you do, save room for a banana split (or at least a milkshake).

Murphy's Pizzeria & Café

PIZZERIA $$

(107 Musquiz Dr; mains $7-13; ☀ 11am-9pm Mon & Wed-Sat) Plenty of choices, including thin-crust pizza, sandwiches and salads, make this casual cafe an easy sell.

Marfa

Founded in the 1880s Marfa got its first taste of fame when Rock Hudson, Elizabeth Taylor and James Dean came to town to film the

DON'T MISS

A STAR-STUDED EVENT

On Tuesday, Friday and Saturday nights, about half an hour after sunset, McDonald Observatory shows off its favorite planets, galaxies and globular clusters at its popular Star Parties, where professional astronomers guide you in some heavy-duty stargazing. Using powerful laser pointers, they give you a tour of the night sky, and you'll get to use some of the telescopes to play planetary Peeping Tom. (It gets surprisingly brisk up there at night, so dress warmly and bring blankets.)

1956 Warner Brothers film Giant. It's also become a pilgrimage for art lovers, thanks to one of the world's largest installations of minimalist art. This, in turn, has attracted a disproportionate amount of art galleries, quirky lodging options and interesting restaurants.

Marfa is on its own schedule, which is pretty much made up according to whim. Plan on coming late in the week or on a weekend; half the town is closed early in the week.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Marfa has all sorts of art to explore, and you can pick up a list of galleries at the Marfa Visitors Center (📞 432-729-4942; www.visit-marfa.com; 302 S Highland Ave; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri & event weekends).

Chinati Foundation Museum MUSEUM
(📞 432-729-4362; www.chinati.org; 1 Calvary Row; adult/student $25/10; ☺ by guided tour only 10am & 2pm Wed-Sun) This is it. This is what all the fuss is about. Minimalist artist Donald Judd single-handedly put Marfa on the art-world map when he created the Chinati Foundation on the site of a former army post, using the abandoned buildings to create and display one of the world's largest permanent installations of minimalist art.

Marfa Lights LOOKOUT
Ghost lights, mystery lights...call them what you want, but the real mystery of the lights that flicker on the horizon at night seems to be how many of the sightings are actually just car headlights. And because the Marfa Lights are one of west Texas' top tourist attractions, no one wants to be too specific about how to tell for sure. Decide for yourself at the Marfa Lights Viewing Area about 8 miles east of Marfa on Hwy 90/67.

ART IN THE MIDDLE OF NOWHERE

So you're driving along a two-lane highway in dusty west Texas, out in the middle of nowhere, when suddenly a small building appears up in the distance like a mirage. As you zip past it you glance over and see...a Prada store? Known as the Marfa Prada (although it's really more like Valentino), this art installation doesn't sell $1700 handbags, but it does get your attention as a tongue-in-cheek commentary on consumerism.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

★ El Cosmico CAMPGROUND $$
(📞 432-729-1950; www.elcosmico.com; 802 S Highland Ave; tent camping per person $12, safari tents $65, tipis $80, trailers $110-180; 📞) One of the funkier choices in all of Texas, El Cosmico lets you sleep in a stylishly converted travel trailer, a tipi or a safari tent. It's not for everyone: the grounds are dry and dusty, you might have to shower outdoors, and there's no air-con (luckily, it's cool at night). But, hey, how often do you get to sleep in a Kozy Coach? The cool and colorful community lounge and the hammock grove make particularly pleasant common areas.

Thunderbird BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(📞 877-729-1984; www.thunderbirdmarfa.com; 601 W San Antonio St; d $120-150; 📞 📞 📞) This classic 1950s motel was reopened in 2005 as a small boutique hotel with a spiffy new look. The rooms are hip and minimalist, and the grounds and common areas are as cool as the desert air at night.

Hotel Paisano HOTEL $$
(📞 432-729-3669; www.hotelpaisano.com; 207 N Highland Ave; d $99-149, ste $159-220; 📞 📞 📞) Marfa's historic hotel has a unique claim to fame: it's where the cast of the movie Giant stayed. Some of the rooms could stand a little updating, but the place does have a dignified charm, along with a snazzy indoor pool and a touch of taxidermy for good measure.

Food Shark FOOD TRAILER $
(105 S Highland Ave; meals $5-8; ☺ noon-3pm Thu-Sat) See that battered old food trailer pulled up under the open-air pavilion where the weekend farmers market is? If you do, that means Food Shark is open for business. If you're lucky enough to catch it, you'll find incredibly fresh food like pulled-pork tacos and the specialty, the Marfalafel. Daily specials are excellent, and sell out early.

★ Cochineal AMERICAN $$$
(📞 432-729-3300; 107 W San Antonio St; breakfast $4-10, small plates $5-15, dinner $24-28; ☺ 9am-1pm Sat & Sun, 6-10pm Thu-Tue ) This is where foodies get their fix at dinnertime, with a menu that changes regularly due to a focus on local, organic ingredients. Portions are generous, so don't be afraid to share a few small plates in lieu of a full dinner. Weekend brunch is also a treat. Reservations are recommended.

Drinking & Nightlife

★ Planet Marfa

BAR

(☎ 432-386-5099; 200 S Abbott St; ☎ 2pm-midnight Fri-Sun) Nightlife, Marfa style, is epitomized in this wonderful and funky open-air bar. There's usually live music at night, and shelters are scattered about to protect you from the elements. If you're lucky, someone will have saved you a spot inside the tipi.

Alpine

Primarily a pit stop, this university town has no real attractions of note. But it is the most sizable population (5700) in Big Bend – and the only place with big-name chain motels, numerous restaurants, grocery stores and more than one gas station.

You can get regionwide information at the Alpine Chamber of Commerce (☎ 432-837-2326; www.alpinetexas.com; 106 N 3rd St; ☎ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat).

Sleeping & Eating

Antelope Lodge

CABIN $

(☎ 432-837-2451; www.antelopelodge.com; 2310 W Hwy 90; s $53-75, d $58-80, ste $105-120; ☎ ☎ ☎) Rustic stucco cottages with Spanish-tile roofs – each one holding two guest rooms – sit sprinkled about a shady lawn. There's a casual, pleasant vibe, and the rooms have kitchenettes, making this great value for your money.

★ Holland Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 800-535-8040, 432-837-3844; www.thehollandhoteltexas.com; 209 W Holland Ave; d $99-120, ste $120-220; ☎ ☎ ☎) Built in 1928 and beautifully renovated in 2009, the Holland is a Spanish Colonial building furnished in an understated hacienda-style decor that retains all of its 1930s charm, but with just the right contemporary touches.

Maverick Inn

MOTEL $$

(☎ 432-837-0628; www.themaverickinn.com; 1200 E Holland Ave; r $96-117; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) The maverick road-tripper will feel right at home at this retro motor court that's been smartly renovated to include luxury bedding and flat-screen TVs. We can't help but love this place, from the west Texas-style furnishings to the cool neon-art sign to the resident cat. Plus, the pool is mighty nice after a hot, dusty day.

Alicia's Burrito Place

MEXICAN $

(☎ 432-837-2802; 708 E Ave G; mains $4-11; ☎ 8am-8:30pm Mon, Tue & Thu-Sat, to 3pm Wed, to 4pm Sun) Alicia's is known for its quick and hot breakfast burritos, which, yes, is a Texas thing. Eggs, bacon and the like get rolled up in a portable meal you can eat with your hands (they've been known to cure a hangover or two in their time). The Mexican cheeseburger is also a favorite.

★ Reata

STEAKHOUSE $$

(☎ 432-837-9232; www.reata.net; 203 N 5th St; lunch $9-14, dinner $10-25; ☎ 11:30am-2pm & 5-10pm Mon-Sat, 11:30am-2pm Sun) Named after the ranch in the movie Giant, Reata does turn on the upscale ranch-style charm – at least in the front dining room, where the serious diners go. Step back into the lively bar area or onto the shady patio and it's a completely different vibe, where you can feel free to nibble your way around the menu and enjoy a margarita.

Marathon

The tiny town of Marathon (population 455) isn't much more than a main street with a few cafes and a historic hotel, but it does have two claims to fame: it's the closest town to Big Bend's north entrance, providing a last chance to fill up your car and your stomach before immersing yourself in the park. And it's got the Gage Hotel (☎ 432-386-4205; www.gagehotel.com; 102 NW 1st St/Hwy 90; d without bath $97, with bath $136-156; ☎ ☎), a true Texas treasure.

Built in 1927, the Gage has a fabulous Old West style that's matched only by its love of taxidermy. Each room at this property is individually (though similarly) decorated with Native American blankets, cowboy gear and leather accents. The associated 12 Gage (☎ 432-386-4205; 101 US 90 W; dinner mains $17-37; ☎ 6-8:45pm Sun & Mon-Thu, to 9:45pm Fri & Sat) whips up gourmet renditions of Texas faves, and the White Buffalo Bar (☎ 432-386-4205; 101 US 90 W; ☎ 5pm-midnight) invites you to enjoy a margarita while trying to ignore its namesake's glassy stare.

Before heading to Big Bend, stock up on picnic supplies at French Co Grocer (☎ 432-386-4522; www.frenchcogrocer.com; 206 N Ave D; ☎ 7:30am-9pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat, from 9am Sun), or enjoy them at the tables outside at this charming little grocery – formerly the WM French General Merchandise store, established in 1900.

El Paso

Well, you've made it. You're just about as far west in Texas as you can go. Surrounded mostly by New Mexico and Mexico, El Paso seems to have more in common with its non-Texas neighbors than it does with Texas itself.

Sadly, El Paso and its sister city – Ciudad Juárez, Mexico, which is right across the river – have had a bit of a falling out. At one time the two cities were inextricably linked, with tourists streaming back and forth across the Good Neighbor International Bridge all day long. But with the rise in gang- and drug-related violence, Juárez has become so dangerous that there is now little traffic between the two sides.

Sights & Activities

★ El Paso Museum of Art MUSEUM
(☎915-532-1707; www.elpasoartmuseum.org; 1 Arts Festival Plaza; admission charge for special exhibits; ☀9am-5pm Tue-Sat, to 9pm Thu, noon-5pm Sun)

FREE This thoroughly enjoyable museum is in a former Greyhound bus station. They'd want us to brag about their Madonna and Child (c 1200), but the Southwestern art is terrific, and the engaging modern pieces round out the collection nicely. All this, and it's free?! Well done, El Paso, well done.

El Paso Holocaust Museum MUSEUM
(www.elpasoholocaustmuseum.org; 715 N Oregon St; ☀9am-4pm Tue-Fri, 1-5pm Sat & Sun) FREE
This Holocaust Museum is as much a surprise inside as out for its thoughtful and moving exhibits that are imaginatively presented for maximum impact.

Franklin Mountains State Park PARK
(www.tpwd.state.tx.us; Transmountain Rd; adult/child $5/free; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 6:30am-8pm Sat & Sun) At 23,863 acres, this is the largest urban park in the US. Although it's in the middle of a city, it's home to ringtail cats, coyotes and a number of other smaller animals and reptiles, and it's capped by 7192ft North Franklin Peak.

Wyler Aerial Tramway CABLE CAR
(☎915-566-6622; 1700 McKinley Ave; adult/child 12yr & under $8/4; ☀noon-7pm Fri & Sat, 10am-5pm Sun) Sure, you'd feel a sense of accomplishment if you hiked to the top of the Franklin Mountains. We're not suggesting you take the easy way out (or are we?), but it only takes about four minutes for a gondola ride to the top. After gliding 2400ft and gaining 940ft in elevation, you'll reach the viewing platform on top of Ranger Peak, where you'll enjoy spectacular views of Texas, New Mexico and Mexico.

Sleeping

In addition to the exceptions below, there are scads of characterless chain motels found along I-10.

★ El Paso Suites HOTEL $
(☎915-779-6222; www.elpasosuiteshotel.com; 6100 Gateway Blvd E; ste $80-120;   ) This is the only independent hotel in town – but it used to be an Embassy Suites, so the rooms still have that generic chain-hotel feel. Still, it's a bargain, especially considering you get two full rooms. Each suite opens onto an eight-story skylit atrium with iron balconies, which does actually make up for the rooms quite a bit.

Coral Motel MOTEL $
(☎915-772-3263; fax 915-779-6053; 6420 Montana Ave; s/d $45/55; ) Anyone who loves 1950s roadside nostalgia will feel right at home at this funky little motel that mixes genres wildly, from the Spanish-style barrel-tile roof to the Jetsons-esque sign to the mishmash interiors.

Camino Real Hotel HOTEL $$
(☎915-534-3000, 800-769-4300; www.caminorealelpaso.com; 101 S El Paso St; d $72-109, ste from $132;   ) The only US location of an upscale Mexican hotel chain, the historic Camino Real – which has been in operation for over 100 years – has a prime location, steps from the convention center and downtown museums. There's also a gorgeous bar with an art-glass dome; large, comfortable rooms; and pretty friendly service, even when it's swamped.

WHAT TIME IS IT?

When it comes to time zones, El Paso sides with New Mexico, conforming to Mountain Time rather than Central Time like the rest of Texas. Confusing? Occasionally. If you're telling someone in neighboring Van Horn or Fort Stockton what time you'll meet them, be sure to add on the extra hour you'll lose just by leaving El Paso.

CUSTOM BOOTS

The ultimate west-Texas souvenir? A gorgeous pair of cowboy boots made just for you. As bootmaker to the stars, Rocketbuster Boots (☎ 915-541-1300; www.rocketbuster.com; 115 S Anthony St; ☺ showroom 8am-4pm Mon-Fri, personalized service by appointment) has shod such celebrities as Julia Roberts, Dwight Yoakum, Emmylou Harris and Oprah Winfrey. Its over-the-top designs include everything from wild floral prints to 1950s-era pin-up cowgirls to Day of the Dead skeletons.

Sure, you could just pick up a pair of mass-produced boots somewhere else, like most people do – after all, these beauties start at $850 and go up to $3500 or more for a one-of-a-kind design – but it's not the same as having something created just for you. Your feet will know the difference, and besides, you'll be much more likely to get stopped on the street by awestruck admirers.

One visit to the showroom and you might be a little awestruck yourself. It's not a shop, per se, but there are lots of samples so you can get some inspiration. Call first if you'd like some personalized attention from owner-designer Nevena Christi. Otherwise, poke your head in for a visual treat, both from the boots and from the whimsical shop that's decorated with space-age gadgets and cowboy memorabilia.

Eating

Mexican is the food of choice in El Paso; the town's known for a special bright-red chili-and-tomato sauce used on enchiladas. Tex-Mex in El Paso is cheap and abundant.

L&J Cafe

MEXICAN $

(☎ 915-566-8418; <http://landjcafe.com>; 3622 E Missouri Ave; mains $7-12; ☺ 10am-9pm) This El Paso staple is located next to the Concordia Cemetery. It's a great place to cure a hang-over on Saturday morning, when it serves its famous menudo (tripe stew with chili). If the outside looks divey, it's because it's been open since 1927. Don't be scared; the inside is much more inviting.

Chicos Tacos

MEXICAN $

(5305 Montana Ave; tacos $1-4; ☺ 9am-1:30am Sun-Thu, to 3am Fri & Sat) With several locations, Chicos Tacos specializes in its namesake fare – with lots of garlic. Expect a crowd from about 10pm to midnight, when El Pasoans citywide experience a collective craving.

★ Tabla

TAPAS $$

(115 Durango St; small plates $6-15; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri, 5pm-midnight Sat, 9:30am-3pm Sun) Get ready to share all sorts of awesomeness. The small plates here are less Spanish-style tapas and more like an excuse to try a little bit of everything, like a big buffet of fun. The stylish warehouse space has tall ceilings, an open kitchen and the requisite pig motif sprinkled about (we're guessing you've spotted the mighty pig in many a trendy restaurant on your US travels), all making the vibe refreshingly current.

Crave

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 915-351-3677; www.cravekitchenandbar.com; 300 Cincinnati Ave; mains $9-30; ☺ 7am-11pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun) Winning bonus points for style – from the cool sign to the forks hanging from the ceiling – this hip little eatery serves up comfort food and classics with extra flair. Although dinner goes up to $30, there's still plenty to munch on in the $15-and-under category. There's also a newer branch on the east side (☎ 915-594-7971; 11990 Rojas Dr; ☺ 7am-11pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun).

★ Cattleman's Steakhouse

STEAKHOUSE $$$

(☎ 915-544-3200; Indian Cliffs Ranch; mains $16-38; ☺ 5-10pm Mon-Fri, 12:30-10pm Sat, 12:30-9pm Sun; 🍷) This place is 20 miles east of the city, but local folks would probably drive 200 miles to eat here. The food is good, and the scenery is even better. Portions are huge, and for just $6 extra you can share a main course and gain full access to the all-you-can-eat sides.

★ Entertainment

Bars come and go quickly in El Paso. Your best bet is to head to the mini-entertainment district near the University of Texas El Paso (around Cincinnati St between Mesa and Stanton) to see what's happening in the bars and restaurants that are clustered there. For cultural and music listings, pick up the free weekly El Paso Scene (www.epscene.com) or the Friday 'Tiempo' supplement to the El Paso Times (www.elpasotimes.com).

Shopping

On I-10 east of town, several warehouselike shops sell all the goodies you can find in Mexico – pottery, blankets, silver – at similar prices.

El Paso Saddleblanket

SOUVENIRS

(☎915-544-1000; www.saddleblanket.com; 6926 Gateway Blvd E; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Sat) ‘Incredible 2-acre shopping adventure!’ the billboards scream. This place is indeed huge, and it’s chock-full of all things Southwestern. Stuff your suitcases with pottery, blankets, turquoise jewelry, even a sombrero if you must. They’ve got mounted steer horns, but we can tell you right now you’re not going to be able to carry them onto the plane.

El Paso Connection

HOMEWARES

(☎915-852-0898; 14301 Gateway Blvd; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Sun) Competing with El Paso Saddleblanket, this sprawling place east of town is made up of several showrooms and warehouses that are crowded with antique and imported goods, such as lampshades made from cowhide and large pieces of Southwestern-motif furniture.

Information

El Paso Public Library (☎915-543-5433; www.elpasolibrary.org; 501 N Oregon St; ☀10am-7pm Mon-Thu, 11am-6pm Fri, 10am-6pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun) has free internet access.

The El Paso Visitors Center (☎800-351-6024, 915-534-0600; www.visitelpaso.com; 1 Civic Center Plaza; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat) stocks racks and racks of brochures, and the staff are quite helpful.

Getting There & Around

El Paso International Airport (ELP; www.elpasointernationalairport.com), 8 miles northeast of downtown off I-10, serves 16 US and two Mexican cities. Numerous chain rental-car companies are on site (you really need a car here).

HOT TOPIC: MEXICO BORDERLANDS

Tex has always mixed well with Mex. But the flow of Texans casually crossing from El Paso into Mexican border towns has slowed to a trickle due to drug cartel-related violence. The state department urges caution when visiting all border towns in Mexico – as do we.

Amtrak’s Florida–California Sunset Limited stops at Union Depot (www.amtrak.com; 700 San Francisco Ave). The terminal for Greyhound (www.greyhound.com; 200 W San Antonio Ave) is four blocks from the center of downtown.

Hueco Tanks State Historical Park

About 32 miles east of El Paso is the 860-acre Hueco Tanks State Historical Park (☎park 915-857-1135, reservations 512-389-8900; www.tpwd.state.tx.us; 6900 Hueco Tanks Rd/FM 2775; adult/child $7/free; ☀8am-6pm). Popular today among rock climbers, the area has attracted humans for as many as 10,000 years, and park staff estimate there are more than 2000 pictographs at the site, some dating back 5000 years.

To minimize human impact, a daily visitor quota is enforced; make reservations 24 hours in advance to gain entry. You can explore the North Mountain area by yourself, but to hike deeper into the park – where the more interesting pictographs are – you have to reserve and join one of the pictograph, birding or hiking tours (☎915-857-1135; per person $2; ☎ call for schedule).

Guadalupe Mountains National Park

We won’t go so far as to call it Texas’ best-kept secret, but the fact is that a lot of Texans aren’t even aware of the Guadalupe Mountains National Park (☎915-828-3251; www.nps.gov/gumo; US Hwy 62/180; 7-day pass adult/child under 16yr $5/free). It’s just this side of the Texas–New Mexico state line and a long drive from practically everywhere in the state.

Despite its low profile, it is a Texas high spot, both literally and figuratively. At 8749ft, Guadalupe Peak is the highest point in the Lone Star State. The fall foliage in McKittrick Canyon is the best in west Texas, and more than half the park is a federally designated wilderness area.

The National Park Service has deliberately curbed development to keep the park wild. There are no restaurants or indoor accommodations and only a smattering of services and programs. There are also no paved roads within the park, so whatever you want to see, you’re going to have to work for it. But if you’re looking for some of the best hiking and high-country splendor Texas can muster, you should put this park on your itinerary.

USA's National Parks

National parks are America's big backyards. Every cross-country road trip rolls through the USA's big-shouldered cities, but many visitors skip these remarkable parks, rich in unspoiled wilderness, rare wildlife and history. There's no better time to go than now, as the National Park Service (NPS) celebrates its upcoming centennial in 2016.

Above Glacier National Park (p793)

Contents

- ➔ Evolution of the Parks
- ➔ The Parks Today
- ➔ Eastern USA
- ➔ Great Plains & Rocky Mountains
- ➔ Southwest USA
- ➔ West Coast
- ➔ Final Frontiers

Evolution of the Parks

Many parks look much the same as they did centuries ago, when this nation was just starting out. From craggy islands off the Atlantic Coast, to prairie grasslands and buffalo herds across the Great Plains, to the Rocky Mountains raising their jagged teeth along the Continental Divide, and onward to the tallest trees on earth – coast redwoods – standing sentinel on Pacific shores, you'll be amazed by the USA's natural bounty.

Go West!

Historically speaking, the nation's voracious appetite for land and material riches drove not only the false doctrine of Manifest Destiny, but also a bonanza of building – pioneer homesteads, farms, livestock fences, great dams, roadways and train tracks from sea to shining sea. This artificial infrastructure quickly swallowed up vast wilderness tracts from the Appalachian Mountains to the mighty Mississippi River and far into the West. That is, until the creation of a web of federally protected public lands, starting with the national parks.

Voices in the Wilderness

During a trip to the Dakotas in 1831, artist George Catlin had a dream. As he watched the USA's rapid westward expansion harm both the wilderness and Native American tribes, Catlin penned a call to action for 'a nation's park, containing man and beast, in all the wild and freshness of their nature's beauty!' Four decades later, Congress created Yellowstone National Park, the nation's first.

The late 19th century saw a rush of new parks – including Yosemite, Sequoia

GERHARD SCHULZ / GETTY IMAGES ©

WITOLD SKRIPKOW / GETTY IMAGES ©

1. The Fly Geyser, Great Basin National Park (p824)
2. Canyonlands National Park (p870)
3. Bison, Badlands National Park (p641)

FRILETT PATRICK / HEMIS / R / GETTY IMAGES ©

and Mount Rainier – as a nascent conservation movement fired up public enthusiasm. The poetic herald of the Sierra Nevada, naturalist John Muir, galvanized the public while campaigning for a national park system, delivering open-air lectures and writing about the spiritual value of wilderness above its economic opportunities.

Growing the Parks

Inspired by a visit to Yosemite with Muir in 1903, President Theodore Roosevelt, a big-game hunter and rancher, worked to establish more wildlife preserves, national forests and national parks and monuments. The Antiquities Act of 1906 preserved a priceless trove of archaeological sites from Native American cultures, including Mesa Verde, and two years later the Grand Canyon itself.

The National Park Service (NPS) was created in 1916, with self-made millionaire and tireless parks promoter Stephen Mather as its first director. In the 1930s, President Franklin D Roosevelt added 50 more historic sites and monuments to the NPS portfolio and hired Depression-era Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) workers to build scenic byways and create recreational opportunities in the parks.

After WWII, the NPS kept growing. First lady during the 1960s, ‘Lady Bird’ Johnson contributed to the groundbreaking report With Heritage So Rich, which led to the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 expanding the NPS system. Her parks advocacy also influenced her husband, President Lyndon Johnson, who enacted more environmental-protection legislation than any administration since FDR.

The Parks Today

Today the NPS protects over 400 parklands and more than 80 million acres of land from coast to coast. Recent additions designated by President Barack Obama include noteworthy historical sites: Ohio's Charles Young Buffalo Soldiers National Monument, Maryland's Harriet Tubman Underground Railroad National Monument and First State National Monument in Delaware and Pennsylvania. Thousands more natural areas are overseen by other federal land-management agencies, including the US Forest Service (USFS; www.fs.fed.us), US Fish & Wildlife Service (USFWS; www.fws.gov) and Bureau of Land Management (BLM; www.blm.gov).

Not all national parks growth has been free of controversy, for example, when local residents protest restrictions on public land use, or when agency goals conflict with the self-determination rights of Native Americans. Federal budget cuts and the enormous pressures of 280 million visitors every year have also taken huge tolls on the parks, as has global warming, leading to habitat loss and species extinction. Recent media spotlights that have helped sway public opinion about the vital importance of parks include Ken Burns' documentary film The National Parks: America's Best Idea (www.pbs.org/nationalparks).

Practical Tips for Park Visitors

Park entrance fees vary from nothing at all to $25 per vehicle. The 'America the Beautiful' annual pass ($80; <http://store.usgs.gov/pass>), which admits four adults and all children under 16 years old free to all federal recreational lands for 12

1. The Subway, Zion National Park (p874)
2. Glacier National Park (p793)
3. Grand Canyon National Park (p840)

calendar months, is sold at park entrances and visitor centers. Lifetime senior-citizen passes ($10) and access passes for those with disabilities (free) are also available. ATMs are scarce in parks, so bring cash for campsites, permits, tours and activities.

Park lodges and campgrounds book up far in advance; for summer vacations, reserve six months to one year ahead. Some parks offer first-come, first-served campgrounds – if so, try to arrive between 10am and noon, when other campers may be checking out. For overnight backpacking and some day hikes, you'll need a wilderness permit; the number of permits is often subject to quotas, so apply far in advance (up to six months before your trip). Some park stores sell basic camping and outdoor supplies, but prices are usually inflated and some items may be out of stock – try to bring your own gear if you can.

ECO-TRAVEL IN THE PARKS

Do your utmost to preserve the parks' wild and beautiful natural environments. Follow the principles of the Leave No Trace (www.lnt.org) outdoor ethics. To help kids learn about conservation and how they can help protect the parks, inquire at visitor centers about free (or low-cost) junior ranger activity programs (www.nps.gov/learn/juniorranger.cfm).

Park policies and regulations may seem restrictive, but they're intended to keep you safe and to protect both natural and cultural resources. Pets are not allowed outside of the parks' developed areas, where they must be leashed and attended to at all times.

Flora & Fauna

Along winding scenic drives and forested hiking trails, from mountain wildflower meadows to arid deserts and deep river-cut canyons, the USA's national parks present prime-time opportunities for wildlife watching. They're also biodiverse havens for endangered and threatened species that you may not be able to spot anywhere else.

1. Grizzly bear

Prowling from the Rocky Mountains up into Alaska, these fierce, omnivorous predators can grow up to 8ft tall and weigh 800lb.

2. Black bear

Smaller than their grizzly cousins, these skilled tree climbers range almost continent-wide. Their fur shows a variety of colors, even cinnamon and blond.

3. Moose

The biggest of all deer species, this forest-dwelling grazer's giant antlers spread up to 6ft across. Although sedentary, moose can surprisingly sprint up to 35mph.

4. Gray wolf

These howling pack hunters were nearly extirpated from the lower 48 states, but controversial conservation projects have reintroduced them to the Rocky Mountains.

5. Bison

Few animals evoke the spirit of the West more than the American bison, also known as the buffalo, which 19th-century hunters drove almost to extinction.

6. Beaver

Busy builders of river dams, canals and lodges with underwater entrances, North America's largest rodent has soft fur historically prized for hat-making.

7. Alligator

Native only to the US and China, these prehistoric lizard-like amphibians inhabit freshwater swamps, marshlands, ponds, rivers and lakes in southeastern USA.

8. Bighorn sheep

Identified by their curved horns, these sure-footed mountain climbers range from the Sierra Nevada and Rocky Mountains to lowland deserts in California and the Southwest.

9. Desert tortoise

Long-lived natives of the Mojave and Sonoran Deserts, slow-moving tortoises can go long periods without food or water. Habitat loss now threatens the species.

10. Bald eagle

The white-headed national bird has soared off the endangered species list. Feeding mostly on fish, these birds of prey build the world's largest tree nests.

11. Coast redwood

Holding the world's record for the tallest tree, coast redwoods thrive in forests along the foggy Pacific shores of Northern California and southern Oregon.

12. Saguaro

Symbols of the desert Southwest, these tree-sized cacti can grow over 60ft tall and live for up to 150 years.

ALAN VERNON / GETTY IMAGES ©

LARIUS M. VIZAR / GETTY IMAGES ©

DARRY CORALLE / GETTY IMAGES ©

KERRIS SU / GETTY IMAGES ©

2

KONRAD WOTHE / GETTY IMAGES ©

3

ZACK SCHNEPP / GETTY IMAGES ©

5

EASTOCTA MOKARTNIK / GETTY IMAGES ©

6

BOB BERNETT / GETTY IMAGES ©

8

SCHNITZERPHOTO.COM / GETTY IMAGES ©

9

WAYNE LYNCH / GETTY IMAGES ©

11

FLICHO OPEN / GETTY IMAGES ©

12

MARK NEWMAN / GETTY IMAGES ©

Eastern USA

Roam from New England's rocky, wild and weather-beaten shores to Florida's sugar-sand beaches shaded by palm trees. Or immerse yourself in the USA's wealth of historic sites starting in the nation's capital, Washington DC, then roll through the pastoral hills of old-timey Appalachia on the scenic Blue Ridge Parkway.

Great Smoky Mountains National Park

Receiving more visitors than any other US national park, this southern Appalachian woodland pocket protects thickly forested ridges where black bears, white-tailed deer, antlered elk, wild turkeys and more than 1500 kinds of flowering plants find sanctuary.

Acadia National Park

Catch the first sunrise of the new year atop Cadillac Mountain, the highest point on the USA's eastern seaboard. Or come in summer to play on end-of-the-world islands tossed along this craggy, wind-whipped North Atlantic coastline.

Shenandoah National Park

Drive from the Great Smoky Mountains north along the historic Blue Ridge Parkway past Appalachian hillside hamlets to Shenandoah, a pastoral preserve where waterfall and woodland paths await, just 75 miles from the nation's capital.

Everglades National Park

Home to snaggle-toothed crocodiles, stealthy panthers, pink flamingos and mellow manatees, South Florida's Caribbean bays and 'rivers of grass' attract wildlife watchers, especially to unique flood-plain islands called hammocks.

Mammoth Cave National Park

With hidden underground rivers and more than 400 miles of explored terrain, the world's longest cave system shows off sci-fi-looking stalactites and stalagmites up close.

KENNAN HARRIS / GETTY IMAGES ©

1. Appalachian Trail (p327) 2. Great Smoky Mountains National Park (p349) 3. Acadia National Park (p249)

Great Plains & Rocky Mountains

EMILY ROEBEL / GETTY IMAGES ©

1. St Mary's Lake, Glacier National Park (p793) 2. Grand Prismatic Spring (p777), Yellowstone National Park 3. Elk, Rocky Mountain National Park (p751)

Wildflower-strewn meadows, saw-toothed peaks and placid lakes along the spine of the Continental Divide are among America's most prized national parks. Equally rich in wildlife, Native American culture and Old West history, the Rocky Mountains and Great Plains embody the American frontier.

Yellowstone National Park

The country's oldest national park is full of geysers, hot springs and a wealth of megafauna – grizzly bears, bison, elk and more – that range across North America's largest intact natural ecosystem.

Rocky Mountain National Park

Atop the Continental Divide, jagged mountain peaks are only the start of adventures at this park, speckled with more than 150 lakes and 450 miles of streams running through aromatic pine forests.

Glacier National Park

Fly along the high-altitude Going-to-the-Sun Rd, which appears to defy gravity as it winds for 50 miles through the mountainous landscape that some Native Americans call 'The Backbone of the World.'

Badlands National Park

Amid native prairie grasslands, where bison and bighorn sheep roam, this alarmingly named park is a captivating outdoor museum of geology, with fossil beds revealing traces of North America's prehistoric past.

Mesa Verde National Park

Clamber onto the edge of the Colorado Plateau to visit the well-preserved Native American cliff dwellings of Ancestral Puebloans who inhabited the remote Four Corners area for many generations.

3

HOLGER LEHLE / GETTY IMAGES ©

Southwest

It takes time to explore the Southwest's meandering canyon country, arid deserts and Native American archaeological ruins. An ancient, colorful chasm carved by one of the USA's most powerful rivers is just the beginning. Meander down backcountry byways to discover ancient sand dunes, twisting slot canyons and giant cacti.

Grand Canyon National Park

Arguably the USA's best-known natural attraction, the Grand Canyon is an incredible spectacle of colored rock strata, carved by the irresistible flow of the Colorado River. Its buttes and peaks spire into a landscape that's always changing with the weather.

Zion National Park

Pioneers almost believed they'd reached the promised land at this desert oasis, run through by a life-giving river. Get a thrill by rappelling down a slot canyon or pulling yourself up the cables to aerial Angels Landing viewpoint.

Bryce Canyon National Park

On the same geological 'Grand Staircase' as the Grand Canyon, Bryce Canyon shows off a whimsical landscape of totem-shaped hoodoo rock formations, some rising as tall as a 10-story building.

Arches National Park

Just outside the four-seasons base camp of Moab, Utah, this iconic landscape of more than 2000 naturally formed sandstone arches is most mesmerizing at sunrise and sunset, when the gorgeously eroded desert rocks seem to glow.

Saguaro National Park

An icon of the American West, spiky saguaro cacti stretch toward the sky in this Arizona desert park, where coyotes howl, spotted owls hoot and desert tortoises slowly crawl through the sere landscape.

JOHN ELK III / GETTY IMAGES ©

1. Grand Canyon National Park (p840) 2. Double Arch, Arches National Park (p869) 3. Saguaro National Park (p851)

VITOLD SHRYTZAK / GETTY IMAGES ©

3

West Coast

Thunderous waterfalls, the sirens' call of glacier-carved peaks and the world's tallest, biggest and oldest trees are just some of the natural wonders that California offers. Meet smoking volcanic mountains, misty rainforests and untamed beaches in the Pacific Northwest.

Yosemite National Park

Visit glaciated valleys, alpine wildflower meadows, groves of giant sequoia trees and earth-shaking waterfalls that tumble over sheer granite cliffs in the USA's second-oldest national park.

Olympic National Park

Lose yourself in the primeval rainforests, mist-clouded mountains carved by glaciers and lonely, wild Pacific Coast beaches. Watch salmon swim free in the restored Elwha River, site of the world's largest dam removal project.

Death Valley & Joshua Tree National Parks

Slide down sand dunes and stroll across salt flats at Badwater, the USA's lowest elevation spot, in hellishly hot Death Valley. Or hop between boulders, native fan-palm oases and forests of crooked Joshua trees, all in Southern California's deserts.

Mt Rainier National Park

Meet a glacier-covered, rumbling giant that may have last erupted only 120 years ago and still reigns over the Pacific Northwest's volcanic Cascades Range. Day hike among wildflower meadows or tramp across snow fields even in midsummer.

Redwood National Park

Be awed by towering ancient stands of coast redwoods, the tallest trees on earth, along the often foggy Northern California coast. Spot shaggy Roosevelt elk foraging in woodland prairies, then go tide-pooling along rugged beaches.

NANPHOTOS / GETTY IMAGES ©

1. Redwood trees 2. Death Valley National Park (p949)
3. Yosemite Valley (p1009). Yosemite National Park

Lava flow, Kilauea Volcano, Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park (p1113)

Final Frontiers

Officially US states for little more than 50 years, far-flung Alaska and Hawaii offer some unforgettable wilderness experiences you just can't get in the 'Lower 48' or on 'da mainland'. Active volcanoes, icy glaciers, rare and endangered wildlife and a rich vein of historic sites make these parks worth a detour.

Alaska

In 1980, the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act turned more than 47 million acres of wilderness over to the NPS, more than doubling the federal agency's holdings with a single stroke of President Jimmy Carter's pen.

Today Alaska's national parks give visitors a chance to see glacial icebergs calve at Kenai Fjords and Glacier Bay, watch brown bears catch salmon at Katmai or summit the USA's highest peak, Denali (Mt McKinley). Along the aquatic Inside Passage, admire Native Alaskan totem poles in Sitka and retrace the hardy steps of 19th-century Klondike gold-rush pioneers at Skagway.

Hawaii

The USA's remotest archipelago is tailor-made for tropical escapades. On Hawai'i, the Big Island, witness the world's longest continuous volcanic eruption or possibly see lava flow at Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park, then snorkel with sea turtles beside an ancient Hawaiian place of refuge on the Kona coast. On Maui, trek deep inside a volcano and swim in stream-fed pools at mind-bogglingly diverse Haleakala National Park. Last, pay your respects to O'ahu's WWII-era USS Arizona Memorial.

Rocky Mountains

Includes ➔

Colorado.....	739
Denver.....	739
Boulder.....	747
Wyoming.....	773
Yellowstone National Park.....	777
Montana.....	786
Idaho.....	795

Best Places to Eat

- ➔ Root Down (p744)
- ➔ Salt (p749)
- ➔ Rickshaw (p798)
- ➔ Pine Creek Cookhouse (p761)
- ➔ Silk Road (p791)

Best Places to Stay

- ➔ Curtis (p742)
- ➔ Boise Guest House (p796)
- ➔ Chautauqua Lodge (p748)
- ➔ Alpine House (p785)
- ➔ Old Faithful Inn (p781)

Why Go?

The high backbone of the lower 48, the Rockies are nature on steroids, with rows of snowcapped peaks, rugged canyons and wild rivers running buckshot over the Western states. With its beauty and vitality, it's no wonder that 100 years ago, it beckoned ailing patients with last-ditch hopes for cures.

The healing power of the Rocky Mountains persists. You can choose between tranquility (try Wyoming, the USA's most under-populated state) and adrenaline (measured in vertical drop). Locals love a good frozen, wet or mud-spattered adventure and, with plenty of climbing, skiing and white-water paddling, it's easy to join in. Afterwards, relax by soaking in hot springs under a roof of stars, sipping cold microbrews or feasting farm-to-table style.

Lastly, don't miss the supersized charms of Yellowstone, Rocky Mountain, Grand Teton and Glacier national parks, where the big five (grizzly bears, moose, bison, mountain lions and wolves) still roam wild.

When to Go

Denver

Jun-Aug Long days of sunshine ideal for cycling, hiking, farmers markets and summer festivals.

Sep & Oct Fall foliage coincides with terrific lodging deals.

Jan & Feb Snow dusted peaks, powdery slopes, après-ski parties deluxe.

DON'T MISS

Don a Stetson hat and gallop the sagebrush wilderness of Wyoming or Montana. Guest ranches offer memorable summer rides in the Rockies.

Fast Facts

- ➔ Hub city Denver (population 600,000)
- ➔ Mountains Colorado has the most summits over 14,000ft in the continental US
- ➔ Time zone Mountain (two hours behind NYC)

Did You Know?

Pitch your tent in Yellowstone National Park and you'll be sleeping atop one of the world's largest supervolcanoes. It's active every 640,000 years: an eruption is due soon – give or take 10,000 years.

Resources

- ➔ Denver Post (www.denverpost.com) The region's top newspaper
- ➔ 5280 (www.5280.com) Denver's best monthly magazine
- ➔ Discount Ski Rental (www.rentskis.com) At major resorts
- ➔ 14ers (www.14ers.com) Resource for hikers climbing the Rockies' highest summits

Getting There & Around

Denver (DEN) has the only major international airport in the region. Both Denver and Colorado Springs offer flights on smaller planes to Jackson, WY, Boise, ID, Bozeman, MT, Aspen, CO, and other destinations.

Two Amtrak train routes pass through the region. California Zephyr, traveling daily between Emeryville, CA and Chicago, IL, has six stops in Colorado, including Denver, Fraser-Winter Park, Glenwood Springs and Grand Junction. Empire Builder runs daily from Seattle, WA, or Portland, OR, to Chicago, IL, with 12 stops in Montana (including Whitefish and East and West Glacier) and one stop in Idaho at Sandpoint.

Greyhound travels some parts of the Rocky Mountains. But to really get out and explore you'll need a car.

NATIONAL PARKS

The region is home to some of the USA's biggest national parks. In Colorado, Rocky Mountain National Park offers awesome hiking through alpine forests and tundra. There's also the Sahara-like wonder of Great Sand Dunes National Park and Mesa Verde National Park, an archaeological preserve with elaborate cliff-side dwellings.

Wyoming has Grand Teton National Park, with dramatic craggy peaks, and Yellowstone National Park, the country's first national park, a true wonderland of volcanic geysers, hot springs and forested mountains. In Montana, Glacier National Park features high sedimentary peaks, small glaciers and lots of wildlife, including grizzly bears. Idaho is home to Hells Canyon National Recreation Area, where the Snake River carves the deepest canyon in North America. National Park Service (NPS; www.nps.gov) also manages over two dozen other historic sites, monuments, nature preserves and recreational areas in Idaho.

Best in Outdoor Instruction

With plenty of wilderness and tough terrain, the Rockies are a natural school for outdoor skills, and a perfect place to observe nature in action.

- ➔ Chicks with Picks (p766) Fun ice-climbing clinics for women, by women.
- ➔ Yellowstone Institute (www.yellowstoneassociation.org) Study wolves, ecology or arts with experts in the park.
- ➔ Teton Science Schools Ecology (p784) Best for kids; both about nature and experiencing it.
- ➔ Colorado Mountain School (p753) Climb a peak safely or learn belay skills.

History

Before the late 18th century, when French trappers and Spaniards stepped in, the Rocky Mountain area was a land of many tribes, including the Nez Percé, the Shoshone, the Crow, the Lakota and the Ute.

Meriwether Lewis and William Clark claimed enduring fame after the USA bought almost all of present-day Montana, Wyoming and eastern Colorado in the 1803 Louisiana Purchase. Their epic survey covering 8000 miles in three years. Their success urged on other adventurers, setting migration in motion. Wagon trains voyaged to the Rockies right into the 20th century, only temporarily slowed by the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad across southern Wyoming in the late 1860s.

To accommodate settlers, the US purged the western frontier of the Spanish, British and, in a truly shameful era, most of the Native American population. The government signed endless treaties to defuse Native American objections to increasing settlement, but always reneged and shunted tribes onto smaller reservations. Gold-miners' incursions into Native American territory in Montana and the building of US Army forts along the Bozeman Trail ignited a series of wars with the Lakota, Cheyenne, Arapaho and others.

ROCKY MOUNTAINS IN...

Two Weeks

Start your Rocky Mountain odyssey in the Denver area. Go tubing, vintage-clothes shopping or biking in outdoor-mad, boho Boulder, then soak up the liberal rays eaves-dropping at a sidewalk cafe. Enjoy the vistas of the Rocky Mountain National Park before heading west on I-70 to play in the mountains around Breckenridge, which also has the best beginner slopes in Colorado. Go to ski and mountain bike mecca Steamboat Springs before crossing the border into Wyoming.

Your first stop in the state should be Lander, rock-climbing destination extraordinaire. Continue north to chic Jackson and the majestic Grand Teton National Park before hitting iconic Yellowstone National Park. Save at least three days for exploring this geyser-packed wonderland.

Cross the state line into 'big sky country' and slowly make your way northwest through Montana, stopping in funky Bozeman and lively Missoula before visiting Flathead Lake. Wind up your trip in Idaho. If it's summer, you can paddle the wild white-water of Hells Canyon National Recreation Area before continuing to up-and-coming Boise. End your trip with a few days skiing Sun Valley and partying in Ketchum. The town and ski resort, despite being the winter playground du jour for Hollywood, are refreshingly unpretentious.

One Month

With a month on your hands, you can really delve into the region's off-the-beaten-path treasures. Follow the two-week itinerary, but dip southwest in Colorado – an up-and-coming wine region – before visiting Wyoming. Ride the 4WD trails around Ouray. Be sure to visit Mesa Verde National Park and its ancient cliff dwellings.

In Montana, you'll want to get lost backpacking in the Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex and visit Glacier National Park before the glaciers disappear altogether. In Idaho, spend more time playing in Sun Valley and be sure to explore the shops, pubs and yummy organic restaurants in delightful little Ketchum. With a one-month trip, you also have time to drive along a few of Idaho's fantastically remote scenic byways. Make sure you cruise Hwy 75 from Sun Valley north to Stanley. Situated on the wide banks of the Salmon River, this stunning mountain hamlet is completely surrounded by national forest land and wilderness areas. Wild good looks withstanding, Stanley is also blessed with world-class trout fishing and mild to wild rafting. Take Hwy 21 from Stanley to Boise. This scenic drive takes you through miles of dense ponderosa forests, and past some excellent, solitary riverside camping spots – some of which come with their own natural hot-springs pools.

Rocky Mountains Highlights

- 1 Spotting bears, bison and geysers at Yellowstone National Park (p.777).
- 2 Reveling in Hollywood gone cowboy in the party resort of Aspen (p.759).
- 3 Hiking and climbing the craggy wilderness of Grand Teton National Park (p.782).
- 4 Paddling top-notch white water at the Middle Fork of the Salmon River (p.799).
- 5 Getting your groove on in the outdoor mecca of Boulder (p.747).
- 6 Roaming the San Juan's picturesque Wild West towns of Southern Colorado (p.755).

- 7 Enjoying the untamed splendor of Glacier National Park (p793).
- 8 Powder skiing in the sunshine of classic ski resort Sun Valley (p797).
- 9 Scaling the heights of majestic Rocky Mountain National Park (p751).
- 10 Roaming the high deserts of Great Sand Dunes National Park (p773).

Gold and silver mania preceded Colorado's entry to statehood in 1876. Statehood soon followed for Montana (1889), Wyoming (1890) and Idaho (1890). Along with miners, white farmers and ranchers were the people with power in the late 19th century.

Mining, grazing and timber played major roles in regional economic development, sparking growth for financial and industrial support. They also subjected the region to boom-and-bust cycles by unsustainable resource management.

After the economy boomed post-WWII, national parks started attracting vacationers. Tourism is now a leading industry in all four states, with the military a close second, particularly in Colorado.

Local Culture

The Rocky Mountain states tout a particular brand of freedom ethos in the vast and rugged landscape. There's lots of public land for many uses and rules are few – just take the out-of-bound skiing available at many resorts. Using your own judgment (and pushing the envelope) is encouraged.

It also boasts live and let live values. Coloradoans may be split on whether they vote red or blue, but most balk at a government mandate. In 2013, Colorado became the first state to have legal, regulated and taxed recreational marijuana use for adults.

Though even the wealthiest resort towns, such as Aspen, Vail, Jackson and Ketchum, took a big hit with the 2008 financial collapse and ensuing real-estate woes, along with most of the region, they are finally on the rebound. Towns like blue-collar Billings, patriotic Colorado Springs and every other town with military families, are on a slow mend from the human toll of the campaigns in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Land & Climate

While complex, the physical geography of the region divides into two principal features: the Rocky Mountains proper and the Great Plains. Extending from Alaska's Brooks Range and Canada's Yukon Territory all the way to Mexico, the Rockies sprawl northwest to southeast, from the steep escarpment of Colorado's Front Range westward to Nevada's Great Basin. Their towering peaks and ridges form the Continental Divide: to the west, waters flow to the Pacific, and to the east, toward the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico.

For many travelers, the Rockies are a summer destination. It starts to feel summery around June, and the warm weather generally lasts until about mid-September (though warm outerwear is recommended for evenings in mountain towns during summer). The winter, which brings in packs of powder hounds, doesn't usually hit until late November, though snowstorms can start in the mountains as early as September. Winter usually lasts until March or early April. In the mountains, the weather is constantly changing (snow in summer is not uncommon), so always be prepared. Fall, when the aspens flaunt their fall gold, and early summer, when wildflowers bloom, are wonderful times to visit.

Getting There & Around

Travel here takes time. The Rockies are sparsely developed, with attractions spread across long distances and linked by roads that meander between mountains and canyons. With limited public transportation, touring in a private vehicle is best. After all, road-tripping is one of the reasons to explore this scenic region.

In rural areas services are few and far between – the I-80 across Wyoming is a notorious offender. It's not unusual to go more than 100 miles between gas stations. When in doubt, fill up.

The main travel hub is Denver International Airport (DIA;  information 303-342-2000; www.flydenver.com; 8500 Peña Blvd;  24hrs; ), although if you are coming on a domestic flight, check out Colorado Springs Airport (www.springsgov.com/airportindex.aspx) as well: fares are often lower, it's quicker to navigate than DIA and it's nearly as convenient. Both Denver and Colorado Springs offer flights on smaller planes to cities and resort towns around the region – Jackson, WY, Boise, ID, Bozeman, MT, and Aspen, CO, are just a few options. Salt Lake City, UT, also has connections with destinations in all four states.

Greyhound ( 800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com) has fixed routes throughout the Rockies, and offers the most comprehensive bus service.

The following Amtrak (p746) services run to and around the region:

California Zephyr Daily between Emeryville, CA (in San Francisco Bay Area), and Chicago, IL, with six stops in Colorado, including Denver, Fraser-Winter Park, Glenwood Springs and Grand Junction.

Empire Builder Runs daily from Seattle, WA, or Portland, OR, to Chicago, IL, with 12 stops in Montana (including Whitefish and East and West Glacier) and one stop in Idaho at Sandpoint.

COLORADO

From double-diamond runs to stiff espressos, Colorado is all about vigor. This is also the state graced with the greatest concentration of high peaks – dubbed 14ers for their height of 14000ft. But it isn't all about the great outdoors. Universities and high-tech show the state's industrious side, though even workaholics might call in sick when snow starts falling.

It's no wonder that the sunny state attracts so many East Coasters and Californians. Latinos also have answered the calling to shore up a huge hospitality industry. And while much of the state is considered conservative, there is common ground in everyone's mad love for the outdoors and a friendly, can-do ethos that inspires.

i Information

Colorado Road Conditions (☎877-315-7623; www.state.co.us) Highway advisories.

Colorado State Parks (☎303-470-1144; www.parks.state.co.us) Tent and RV sites cost from $10 to $24 per night, depending on facilities. Rustic cabins and yurts are also available in some parks and those with wood-burning stoves may be available year-round. Advance reservations for specific campsites are taken, but subject to a $10 nonrefundable booking fee. Reservation changes cost $6.

Colorado Travel & Tourism Authority (☎800-265-6723; www.colorado.com) State-wide tourism information.

Denver Post (www.denverpost.com) Denver's major daily newspaper.

Denver

Denver's mile-high gravity is growing, pulling all objects in the Rocky Mountain West toward her glistening downtown towers, hopped-up brewpubs, hemped-out cannabis dispensaries, trails, toned-and-tanned mountain warriors, and growing western cosmopolitanism that's fostered a burgeoning arts scene, and brought great restaurants and hip bars to a cow-town gone world-wide crazy.

While most of the tourist action centers on the Downtown and Lower Downtown (LoDo) Districts, travelers in the know are heading out to neighborhoods like Highlands, Washington Park, Cherry Creek, Five Points, South Santa Fe and the River North (RiNo) to dive into the spirited heart of Denver's ever-expanding culture club.

Top that off with back-door service to the Rocky Mountains, one of the best off-road bike trail systems in the USA, and plenty of parks, open spaces, riverfronts and sunshiny perches for a sky-high psychedelic carpet ride.

👁 Sights & Activities

★ Denver Art Museum

MUESUM

(DAM; ☎ ticket sales 720-865-5000; www.denverartmuseum.org; 100 W 14th Ave; adult/child/student $13/5/10, 1st Sat of each month free; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Thurs, 10am-8pm Fri, 10am-5pm Sat-Sun; ♿; 🚗 9, 16, 52, 83L RTD) 🍃 The DAM is home to one of the largest Native American art collections in the USA, and puts on special avant-garde multimedia exhibits. The Western American Art section of the permanent collection is justifiably famous. This isn't your Momma's museum, and the best part of a visit is diving into the interactive exhibits – kids love this place.

COLORADO FACTS

Nickname Centennial State

Population 5 million

Area 104,247 sq miles

Capital city Denver (population 566,974)

Other cities Boulder (population 91,500), Colorado Springs (population 372,400)

Sales tax 2.9% state tax, plus individual city taxes

Birthplace of Ute tribal leader Chief Ouray (1833–80); South Park creator Trey Parker (b 1969); actor Amy Adams (b 1974); climber Tommy Caldwell (b 1978)

Home of Naropa University (founded by Beat poets), powder slopes, boutique beers

Politics Swing state

Famous for Sunny days (300 per year), the highest altitude vineyards and longest ski run in the continental USA

Kitschiest souvenir Deer-hoof bottle openers

Driving distances Denver to Vail 100 miles, Boulder to Rocky Mountain National Park 38 miles

Denver

ROCKY MOUNTAINS DENVER

The landmark $110-million Frederic C Hamilton wing, designed by Daniel Libeskind, is quite simply awesome. Whether you see it as expanding crystals, juxtaposed mountains or just architectural indulgence, it's an angular modern masterpiece. If you think the place looks weird from the outside, look inside: shapes shift with each turn thanks to a combination of design and uncanny natural-light tricks.

Denver

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Denver Art Museum ..... C5

📍 Sights

- 2 Clyfford Still Museum ..... C5
 3 History Colorado Center ..... C5
 4 Museum of Contemporary Art ..... A2

🏠 Sleeping

- 5 11th Avenue Hotel ..... C6
 6 Brown Palace Hotel ..... C4
 7 Curtis ..... B4
 8 Denver International Youth
 Hostel ..... D4
 9 Hotel Monaco ..... B3
 10 Patterson Historic Inn ..... D6
 11 Queen Anne Bed & Breakfast Inn ..... C3

🍴 Eating

- 12 Buenos Aires Pizzeria ..... B2
 13 City O' City ..... C5
 14 Rioja ..... A3
 15 Root Down ..... A1
 16 Snooze ..... C2

- 17 Steuben's Food Service ..... D4

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 18 Ace ..... D4
 19 Bar Standard ..... C6
 20 Denver Wrangler ..... C4
 21 Great Divide Brewing Company ..... C2
 22 Matchbox ..... C1
 23 The Church ..... C5

🎭 Entertainment

- 24 Cinco de Mayo ..... C5
 25 Comedy Works ..... B3
 26 Coors Field ..... B2
 27 Denver Performing Arts Complex ..... B4
 28 El Chapultepec ..... B2
 29 Great American Beer Festival ..... B4
 30 Lannie's Clocktower Cabaret ..... B3
 31 Ogden Theatre ..... D4
 32 Taste of Colorado ..... C5

🛍 Shopping

- 33 Tattered Cover Bookstore ..... A3
 34 Wax Trax Records ..... D5

Clyfford Still Museum

MUSEUM

(📍 720-354-4880; www.clyffordstillmuseum.org; 1250 Bannock St; adult/child $10/3; 🕒 10am-5pm, till 8pm Fri) Dedicated exclusively to the work and legacy of 20th century American Abstract Expressionist, Clyfford Still, this fascinating museum's collection includes over 2400 works by the powerful and narcissistic master of bold. When he died in 1980, in his will Still insisted that his body of work only be exhibited in a singular space. So Denver built him a museum.

History Colorado Center

MUSEUM

(📍 303-447-8679; www.historycoloradocenter.org; 1200 Broadway; adult/student/child $10/8/8; 🕒 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 📄) Discover Colorado's frontier roots and high-tech modern triumphs at this sharp, smart and charming museum. There are plenty of interactive exhibits, including a Jules Verne-esque 'Time Machine' that you push across a giant map of Colorado to explore seminal moments in the Centennial State's history.

★ Confluence Park

PARK

(2200 15th St; 📄; 🕒 10 RTD) 🆓 Where Cherry Creek and Platte River meet is the nexus and plexus of Denver's sunshine loving culture. It's a good place for an afternoon picnic, and there's a short white-water park for kayakers and tubers.

Head south from here along the Cherry Creek trail and you can get all the way to Cherry Creek Shopping Center and beyond to Cherry Creek Reservoir. If you go Southwest along the Platte Trail, you'll eventually ride all the way to Chatfield Reservoir. By heading north, and connecting to the Clear Creek Trail, you can get to Golden.

Museum of Contemporary Art

GALLERY

(📍 303-298-7554; www.mcadenver.org; 1485 Delgany St; adult/student/child/after 5pm $8/5/1/5; 🕒 noon-7pm Tue-Thu, noon-8pm Fri, 10am-7pm Sat-Sun; 📄; 🕒 6 RTD) This space was built with interaction and engagement in mind, and Denver's home for contemporary art can be provocative, delightful or a bit disappointing, depending on the show.

Denver Museum of Nature & Science

MUSEUM

(📍 303-370-6000; www.dmns.org; 2001 Colorado Blvd; museum adult/child $13/8, IMAX $10-8, Planetarium $5/4; 🕒 9am-5pm; 📄; 🕒 20, 32, 40 RTD) The Denver Museum of Nature & Science is located on the eastern edge of City Park. This classic natural science museum has excellent temporary exhibits, plus those cool panoramas we all loved as kids. The IMAX theater and Gates Planetarium are especially fun.

BEST MILE HIGH DAY HIKES

There are literally hundreds of day hikes within an hour of Denver. Many people choose to head up to Boulder's Mountain Parks or Colorado Springs for a day.

Jefferson County Open Space Parks (www.jeffco.us/openspace; 📍) Top picks include Matthews Winters, Mount Falcon, Elk Meadow and Lair o' the Bear.

Golden Gate Canyon State Park (📍 303-582-3707; www.parks.state.us/parks; 92 Crawford Gulch Road, Golden; entrance/camping $7/24; 🕒 5am-10pm) Located halfway between Denver and Nederland, this massive 12,000-acre state park can be reached in about 45 minutes from downtown Denver.

Staunton State Park (📍 303-816-0912; www.parks.state.co.us/parks) Colorado's newest state park sits on a historic ranch site 40 miles west of Denver. It is accessed from Hwy 285 between Conifer and Bailey.

Waterton Canyon (📍 303-634-3745; www.denverwater.org/recreation/watertoncanyon; Kessler Center) South of the city, just west of Chatfield Reservoir, this pretty canyon has an easy 6.5-mile trail to the Strontia Springs Dam. From there, the Colorado Trail (CTF; 📍 303-384-3729; www.coloradotrail.org; PO Box 260876; 🕒 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) will take you all the way to Durango!

Buffalo Creek Mountain Bike Area (www.frbmp.org; Pine Valley Ranch Park) If you're into single-track mountain biking, this area has about 40 miles of bike trails.

🌟 Festivals & Events

Cinco de Mayo

CULTURAL

(www.cincodemayodenver.com; 🕒 May; 📍) FREE Enjoy salsa music and margaritas at one of the country's biggest Cinco de Mayo celebrations, held over two days on the first weekend in May.

Cherry Creek Arts Festival

ARTS

(www.cherryarts.org; cnr Clayton St & E 3rd Ave; 📍) A sprawling celebration of visual, culinary and performing arts where a quarter of a million visitors browse the giant block party.

Taste of Colorado

FOOD

(📍 303-295-6330; www.atasteofcolorado.com; Civic Center Park; 📍) Food stalls of over 50 restaurants; there's also booze, live music, and arts-and-crafts vendors at this Labor Day festival.

Great American Beer Festival

BEER

(📍 303-447-0816; www.greatamericanbeerfestival.com; 700 14th St; $75; 🕒 early Sept; 📍) 101 D-Line, 101 H-Line, 📍 1, 8, 30, 30L, 31, 48 RTD) 🍷 Colorado has more microbreweries than any other US state, and this hugely popular event in early September sells out in advance.

🛏 Sleeping

Besides the places mentioned here, there are chain and independent motels throughout the city, with rooms starting at $75. Save big with the online aggregators. Denver's hostels tend to cater more to transients than backpackers.

Denver International Youth Hostel

HOSTEL $

(📍 303-832-9996; www.youthhostels.com/denver; 630 E 16th Ave; dm $19; 📍 📞 📺 📺 15, 15L, 20 RTD) If cheap really matters then the Denver International Youth Hostel might be the place for you. It's basic and vaguely chaotic, but has a ramshackle charm and a great downtown location. All dorms have attached bathroom facilities and the common area in the basement has a large-screen TV, library and computers for guests to use.

11th Avenue Hotel

HOTEL $

(📍 303-894-0529; www.11thavenuehotel.com; 1112 Broadway; dm $19-22, r with/without bath $45/39; 📍 📞 📺 📺) This budget hotel has a good location for art lovers in the Golden Triangle district. The lobby looks vaguely like something from a Jim Jarmusch movie. The upstairs rooms, some with attached bathrooms, are bare but clean. It's safe, secure and a decent place for budget travelers.

★ Curtis

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(📍 303-571-0300; www.thecurtis.com; 1405 Curtis St; d $159-279; 📍 📞 📺 📺) It's like stepping into a doobop Warhal wonderworld at this temple to post-modern pop culture. Attention to detail – be it through the service or the decor in the rooms – is paramount at the Curtis, a one of a kind hotel in Denver.

There are 13 themed floors and each is devoted to a different genre of American pop culture. Rooms are spacious and very mod without being too out there to sleep. The hotel's refreshingly different take on sleeping may seem too kitschy for some – you can get a wake up call from Elvis – but if you're tired of the same old international brands and looking for something different, this joint in the heart of downtown might be your tonic.

★ Queen Anne Bed & Breakfast Inn

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 303-296-6666; www.queenannebnb.com; 2147 Tremont Pl; r incl breakfast $135-215; )

Soft chamber music wafting through public areas, fresh flowers, manicured gardens and evening wine tastings create a romantic ambience at this ecoconscious B&B in two late-1800s Victorian homes. Featuring period antiques, private hot tubs and exquisite hand-painted murals, each room has its own personality.

Green features include mattresses made from recycled coils and green-tea insulation, organic fabrics (just like the delicious full breakfast), and products and produce purchased from local merchants when possible. They even have free bikes.

Patterson Historic Inn

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 303-955-5142; www.pattersoninn.com; 420 E 11th Ave; r incl breakfast from $169; )

This 1891 Grande Dame was once a Senator's home. It's now one of the best historic bed-and-breakfasts in town. The gardens are limited, but the Victorian charm, sumptuous breakfast, and well appointed chambers in this nine-room château will delight. Rooms come with modern touches like silk robes, down comforters and flat-screens.

Lumber Baron Inn Gardens

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 303-477-8205; www.lumberbaron.com; 2555 W 37th Ave; r $149-239; )

Murder mystery dinners and romance-inducing suites make this elegantly quirky B&B in the cooled-out Highlands neighborhood stand out from the pack – even the locals choose to stay here for a weekend mystery getaway! The five suites are all different, although all feature Jacuzzis and giant plasma TVs.

Brown Palace Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(☎ 303-297-3111; www.brownpalace.com; 321 17th St; r from $299; )

Standing agape under the stained-glass crowned atrium, it's clear why this palace is shortlisted among the country's elite historic hotels. There's deco artwork, a four-star spa, imported marble, and staff who discretely float down the halls.

The rooms, which have been hosting presidents since Teddy Roosevelt's days, have the unique elegance of a distant era, but can be a bit small by modern standards.

JW Marriott Denver at Cherry Creek

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 303-316-2700; www.jwmarriottdenver.com; 150 Clayton Ln; d from $245; ); 1, 2, 3, 46 RTD) Spacious digs come with high-thread count sheets, plump beds and marble bathrooms featuring top class soaps and shampoos. The onsite bar is also quite cool – you might even spot a Denver Bronco... Local artwork and colorful blown glass grace lobbies and rooms.

Hotel Monaco

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 303-296-1717, 800-990-1303; www.monaco-denver.com; 1717 Champa St; r from $127; ); 0, 6, 30, 30L, 31, 36, 48, 52 RTD)

This ultrastylish boutique is a favorite with the celebrity set. Modern rooms blend French and art-deco styles – think bold colors and fabulous European-style feather beds. Don't miss the evening 'Altitude Adjustment Hour,' when guests enjoy free wine and five-minute massages. The place is 100% pet-friendly; staff will even deliver a named goldfish to your room upon request!

Eating

While the downtown restaurants offer the greatest depth and variety in Denver, insiders head to strollable neighborhoods like Highlands, Cherry Creek, South Pearl Street, Uptown, Five Points, Washington Park and Old Town Littleton, where little five-block commercial strips hold some of Denver's best eateries. Check out www.5280.com or www.diningout.com/denver for new eats.

Snooze

BREAKFAST $

(☎ 303-297-0700; www.snoozeeatery.com; 2262 Larimer St; mains $6-12; ☺ 6:30am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, 7am-2:30pm Sat & Sun; )

This retro-styled cheery breakfast-and-brunch spot is one of the hottest post-party breakfast joints in town. It dishes up spectacularly crafted breakfast burritos and a smokin' salmon benedict. The coffee's always good, but you have the option of an early-morning Bloody Mary. The wait can be up to an hour on weekends!

City O' City

VEGETARIAN, VEGAN $

(☎ 303-831-6443; www.cityocitydenver.com; 206 E 13th Ave; mains $8-15; ☀ 7am-2am Mon-Fri, 8am-2am Sat, 8am-midnight Sun; 🍷🍺🍻; 📍 2, 9, 52 RTD)

🌿 This popular vegan/vegetarian restaurant mixes stylish decor with an innovative spin on greens, grains, faux meat and granola. The menu offers tapa boards, big salads, some good trans-national noodle dishes and the best vegan pizza pie in D-Town.

Buenos Aires Pizzeria

ARGENTINEAN $

(☎ 303-296-6710; www.bapizza.com; 1307 22nd St; empanadas $2.50, mains $6-10; ☀ 11:30am-10pm Tues-Sat, noon-8pm Sun) An authentic taste of Argentina in the heart of cow-town Colorado, this wide-angled pizzeria looks and feels like the real-deal Holyfield. You can either pig out on two or three empanadas (stuffed pastries) or dig into yummy sandwiches, above average pizza and pasta. Alas, no steaks.

★ Beatrice & Woodsley

TAPAS $$

(☎ 303-777-3505; www.beatriceandwoodsley.com; 38 S Broadway; small plates $9-13; ☀ 5-11pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm, 5-10pm Sat-Sun; 📍 0 RTD) Beatrice and Woodsley is the most artfully designed dining room in Denver. Chainsaws are buried into the wall to support shelves, there's an aspen growing through the back of the dining room and the feel is that of a mountain cabin being elegantly reclaimed by nature. The menu of small plates is whimsical and Continental inspired.

★ Steuben's Food Service

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 303-803-1001; www.steubens.com; 523 E 17th Ave; mains $8-21; ☀ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, 11am-midnight Fri & Sat; 🍷🍺🍻) 🌿 Although styled as a midcentury drive-in, the upscale treatment of comfort food (mac and cheese, fried chicken, lobster rolls) and the solar-powered kitchen demonstrate Steuben's contemporary smarts. In summer, open garage doors lining the street create a breezy atmosphere and after 10pm they have the most unbeatable deal around: a burger, hand-cut fries and beer for $5.

★ Root Down

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 303-993-4200; www.rootdowndenver.com; 1600 W 33rd Ave; small plates $7-17, mains $18-28; ☀ 5-10pm Sun-Thu, 5-11pm Fri & Sat, brunch 10am-2:30pm Sat & Sun; 🍷🍺🍻) 🌿 In a converted gas station, chef Justin Cucci has undertaken one of the city's most ambitious culinary concepts, marrying sustainable 'field-to-fork' practices, high-concept culinary fusions and a low-impact, energy efficient ethos. The menu changes seasonally, but consider yourself lucky if it includes the sweet-potato falafel or hoisin-duck confit sliders.

★ Rioja

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 303-820-2282; www.riojadenver.com; 1431 Larimer St; mains $18-29; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm Wed-Fri, 10am-2:30pm Sat & Sun, 5-10pm Mon-Sun; 🍷🍺🍻; 📍 2, 12, 15, 16th St Shuttle) This is one of Denver's most innovative restaurants. Smart, busy and upscale, yet relaxed and casual – just like Colorado – Rioja features modern cuisine inspired by Italian and Spanish traditions and powered by modern culinary flavors.

Drinking

Top nightlife districts include Uptown for gay bars and a young professional crowd, LoDo for loud sports bars, heavy drinking and dancing, River North for hipsters, Lower Highlands for an eclectic mix and sweet decks, Cherry Creek over 35s, and Broadway and Colfax for old school wannabees.

★ Forest Room 5

BAR

(☎ 303-433-7001; www.forestroom5.com; 2532 15th St; ☀ 4pm-2am) One of the best damned bars in Denver, this LoHi (that's Lower Highlands) juggernaut has an outdoor patio with fire circles (where you can smoke!), streams and a funky-out Airstream.

Linger

LOUNGE

(☎ 303-993-3120; www.lingerdenver.com; 2030 W 30th Ave; mains $8-14; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm, 4pm-2am Tues-Sat, 10am-2:30pm Sun) This rambling LoHi complex sits in the former Olinger mortuary. Come nighttime, they black out the 'O' and it just becomes Linger. The light-up-the-night rooftop bar has a replica of the RV made famous by the Bill Murray smash Stripes.

Bar Standard

CLUB

(☎ 303-534-0222; www.coclubs.com; 1037 Broadway; ☀ 8pm-2am Fri & Sat; 📍 0 RTD) It's ice cold without the attitude, and when the right DJ is on the tables it can be some of the best dancing in town.

The attached Milk Bar takes a page from Anthony Burgess' classic A Clockwork Orange.

Tracks

GAY

(☎ 303-863-7326; www.tracksdenver.com; 3500 Walnut St; ☀ 9pm-2am Fri & Sat, hrs vary Sun-Thu) Denver's best gay dance club has an 18-and-up night on Thursdays, Friday drag shows, and lesbian nights (just once a month).

Denver Wrangler GAY
(☎ 303-837-1075; www.denverwrangler.com; 1700 Logan St; ☀ 11am-2am; 🚗 101 RTD) Though it attracts an amiable crowd of gay male professionals after work, the central location endows Denver's premiere bear bar.

Great Divide Brewing Company BREW PUB
(www.greatdivide.com; 2201 Arapahoe St; ☀ 2-8pm Mon & Tue, 2-10pm Wed-Sat) This excellent local brewery does well to skip the same old burger menu and the fancy digs to keep its focus on what it does best: crafting exquisite beer.

Ace BAR
(☎ 303-800-7705; www.acedenver.com; 501 E 17th Ave; ☀ 11am-midnight Mon-Fri, 2pm-midnight Sat-Sun) The best ping-pong bar in Denver - street rules apply.

Matchbox BAR
(www.matchboxdenver.com; 2625 Larimer St; ☀ 4pm-2am Mon-Fri, noon-2am Sat-Sun) Located in the ever-hip RiNo (River North) art district, this hole-in-the-wall appeals to the thick-glasses and blue-jeans crowd.

The Church CLUB
(www.coclubs.com; 1160 Lincoln St) The Church has three dance floors, acrobats, a couple of lounges and even a sushi bar!

★ Entertainment

To find out what's happening with music, theater and other performing arts, pick up a free copy of Westword (www.westword.com).

★ Denver Performing Arts Complex PERFORMING ARTS
(☎ 720-865-4220; www.artscomplex.com; cnr 14th & Champa St) This massive complex - one of the largest of its kind - occupies four city blocks and houses several major theaters, including the historic Ellie Caulkins Opera House and the Seawell Grand Ballroom. It's also home to the Colorado Ballet, Denver Center for the Performing Arts, Opera Colorado and the Colorado Symphony Orchestra.

★ El Chapultepec LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 303-295-9126; www.thepeclodo.com; 1962 Market St; ☀ 7am-2am, music from 9pm) This smoky old-school jazz joint attracts a diverse mix of people. Since it opened in 1951 Frank Sinatra, Tony Bennett and Ella Fitzgerald have played here, as have Jagger and Richards.

Red Rocks Amphitheatre CONCERT VENUE
(☎ 303-640-2637; www.redrocksonline.com; 18300 W Alameda Pkwy; ☀ 5am-11pm; 🚗) Red Rocks Amphitheatre is set between 400ft-high red sandstone rocks 15 miles southwest of Denver. Acoustics are so good many artists record live albums here.

Hi-Dive LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 303-733-0230; www.hi-dive.com; 7 S Broadway) Local rock heroes and touring indie bands light up the stage at the Hi-Dive, a venue at the heart of Denver's local music scene.

Grizzly Rose LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 303-295-1330; www.grizzlyrose.com; 5450 N Valley Hwy; ☀ from 6pm Tue-Sun; 🚗) This is one kick-ass honky-tonk - 40,000 sq ft of hot live music - attracting real cowboys from as far as Cheyenne.

Bluebird Theater LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 303-377-1666; www.bluebirdtheater.net; 3317 E Colfax Ave; 🚗; 🚗 15, 15L RTD) This medium-sized theater is general admission standing-room, and has terrific sound and clear sight lines from the balcony.

Ogden Theatre LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 303-832-1874; www.ogdentheatre.net; 935 E Colfax Ave; 🚗; 🚗 15 RTD) One of Denver's best live-music venues.

Comedy Works COMEDY
(☎ 303-595-3637; www.comedyworks.com; 1226 15th St; 🚗 6, 9, 10, 15L, 20, 28, 32, 44, 44L RTD) Denver's best comedy club occupies a basement space in Larimer Sq (enter down a set of stairs at the corner of Larimer and 15th).

Lannie's Clocktower Cabaret CABARET
(☎ 303-293-0075; www.lannies.com; 1601 Arapahoe St; tickets $25-40; ☀ 1-5pm Tue, to 11pm Wed-Thu, 1pm-1:30am Fri & Sat; 🚗 Arapahoe) Bawdy, naughty and strangely romantic, Lannie's Clocktower Cabaret is a wild child standout among LoDo's rather straight-laced (or at least straight) night spots.

Coors Field BASEBALL
(☎ 800-388-7625; www.mlb.com/col/ballpark/; 2001 Blake St; 🚗) The Colorado Rockies play baseball at the highly rated Coors Field. Tickets for the outfield - The Rockpile - cost $4. Not a bad deal.

Sports Authority Field at Mile High STADIUM
(☎ 720-258-3000; www.sportsauthorityfieldatmilehigh.com; 1701 S Bryant St; 🚗) The much-lauded

Denver Broncos football team and the Denver Outlaws lacrosse team play at Mile High Stadium, 1 mile west of downtown.

Pepsi Center STADIUM
(☎ 303-405-1111; www.pepsicenter.com; 1000 Chopper Circle) The mammoth Pepsi Center hosts the Denver Nuggets basketball team, the Colorado Mammoth of the National Lacrosse League and the Colorado Avalanche hockey team.

🛒 Shopping

Head to the pedestrian mall on 16th Street or LoDo for downtown shopping. Cherry Creek, Highlands Square and South Broadway are other top shopping districts.

★ Tattered Cover Bookstore BOOKS
(www.tatteredcover.com; 1628 16th St; ☎ 6:30am-9pm Mon-Fri, 9am-9pm Sat, 10am-6pm Sun) There are plenty of places to curl up with a book in Denver's beloved independent bookstore, one of two locations in the Denver area.

★ REI OUTDOOR EQUIPMENT
(Recreational Equipment Incorporated; ☎ 303-756-3100; www.rei.com; 1416 Platte St; 🚻) In addition to top outdoor gear, it has a rental department, maps and a climbing wall.

Wax Trax Records MUSIC
(☎ 303-831-7246; www.waxtraxrecords.com; 638 E 13th Ave; 🚗 2, 10, 15, 15L RTD) Your best spot for vinyl.

📍 Information

Visitors & Convention Bureau Information Center (☎ 303-892-1112; www.denver.org; 1600 California St; 🚻 📺 📺 California)

ORIC Desk (Outdoor Recreation Information Center; ☎ REI main line 303-756-3100; www.oriconline.org; 1416 Platte St; 📺) For outdoor trips, hit this desk inside the REI store.

Police Headquarters (☎ 720-913-2000; 1331 Cherokee St)

Post Office (www.usps.com; 951 20th St; ☎ 8am-6:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6:30pm Sat) Main branch.

University of Colorado Hospital (☎ 720-848-0000; www.uch.edu; 12605 E 16th Ave, Aurora; ☎ 24hr) Emergency services.

📍 Getting There & Away

Denver International Airport (p738) is served by around 20 airlines and offers flights to nearly every major US city. Located 24 miles east of downtown, DIA is connected with I-70 exit 238 by 12-mile-long Peña Blvd. Tourist and airport information is available at a booth (☎ 303-342-2000) in the terminal's central hall.

Greyhound buses stop at Denver Bus Center (☎ 303-293-6555; 1055 19th St), which runs services to Boise (from $151, 19 hours), Los Angeles (from $125, 22 hours) and other destinations.

The Colorado Mountain Express (CME; ☎ 800-525-6363; www.coloradomountainexpress.com; 📺) has shuttle service from DIA, downtown Denver or Morrison to Summit County, including Breckenridge and Keystone ($35-$49, 2.5 hours) and Vail ($45-$82, 3 hours).

Amtrak's California Zephyr runs daily between Chicago and San Francisco via Denver. Trains arrive and depart from a Temporary Station (1800 21st St) behind Coors Field until light-rail renovations at Union Station (☎ Amtrak 303-534-2812; www.denverunionstation.org; cnr 17th & Wynkoop Sts; 🚗 31X, 40X, 80X, 86X, 120X RTD) finish in 2014. Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com) can also provide schedule information and train reservations.

📍 Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

All transportation companies have booths near the baggage-claim area. Public Regional Transit District (RTD; ☎ 303-299-6000; www.rtd-denver.com) runs a SkyRide service to the airport from downtown Denver hourly ($9 to $13, one hour). RTD also goes to Boulder ($13, 1½ hours) from the Market Street Bus Station (cnr 16th & Market Sts). Shuttle King Limo (☎ 303-363-8000; www.shuttlekinglimo.com) charges $65 for rides from DIA to destinations in and around Denver. SuperShuttle (☎ 303-370-1300; www.supershuttle.com) offers shared van services (from $22) between the Denver area and the airport.

BICYCLE

BikeDenver.org (www.bikedenver.org) or City of Denver (www.denvergov.org) have downloadable bike maps for the city.

Denver B-Cycle (denver.bcycle.com) is the first citywide bicycle-share program in the US. Directions are given at the over 80 stations found throughout the city. Rentals under 30 minutes are free. Helmets are not included, and not required in Denver.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

Street parking can be a pain, but there are slews of pay garages in downtown and LoDo. Nearly all the major car-rental agencies have counters at DIA, a few have offices in downtown Denver.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

RTD provides public transportation throughout the Denver and Boulder area. Free shuttle buses operate along the 16th St Mall. RTD's light rail line currently has six lines servicing 46 stations. Fares are $2.25 for one to two stops, $4 for three fare zones, and $5 for all zones.

TAXI

For 24-hour cab service:

Metro Taxi (☎ 303-333-3333; www.metrotaxi-denver.com)

Yellow Cab (☎ 303-777-7777; www.denveryellowcab.com)

Boulder

Tucked against the Flatirons' cragged and near-vertical rockface, this idyllic town has a sweet location and a palpable idealism that's a magnet to entrepreneurs, athletes, hippies and hard-bodies. It's also home to the University of Colorado and the Beat-founded, Buddhist-leaning Naropa University.

Boulder's mad love of the outdoors was officially legislated in 1967, when it became the first US city to tax itself specifically to preserve open space. Thanks to such vision, packs of cyclists whip up and down the Boulder Creek corridor, which links city and county parks those taxpayer dollars have purchased. The pedestrian-only Pearl St Mall is lively and perfect for strolling, especially at night, when residents peruse until the wee hours.

In many ways it is Boulder, not Denver, that is the region's tourist hub. The city is about the same distance from Denver International Airport, and staying here puts you closer to local trails in the foothills, as well as the big ski resorts west on I-70 and Rocky Mountain National Park.

👁 Sights & Activities

Boulder's two areas to see and be seen are the downtown Pearl St Mall and the University Hill district (next to campus), both off Broadway, though The Hill is rarely the haunt of anyone over 25. Overlooking the city from the west are the Flatirons, an eye-catching rock formation.

★ Chautauqua Park

PARK

(www.chautauqua.com; 900 Baseline Rd; admission free; 🅒 HOP 2) FREE This historic landmark park is the gateway to Boulder's most magnificent slab of open space (we're talking about the Flatirons), and it also has a wide, lush lawn that attracts picnickers. It gets copious hikers, climbers and trail runners. World-class musicians perform each summer at the auditorium and there's a quality restaurant at the dining hall.

Boulder Creek Bike Path

CYCLING

(admission free; 🕒 24 hr; 🚰) FREE The most utilized commuter bike path in town, this fabulously smooth and mostly straight creekside concrete path follows Boulder Creek from Foothill Parkway all the way to the split of Boulder Canyon and Four Mile Canyon Rd west of downtown – a total distance of over 5 miles one-way. The path also feeds urban bike lanes that lead all over town.

Eldorado Canyon State Park

OUTDOORS

(☎ 303-494-3943; 🕒 visitor center 9am-5pm) One of the country's most favored rock-climbing areas, offering class 5.5 to 5.12 climbs and some nice hiking trails. The park entrance is on Eldorado Springs Dr, west of Hwy 93. Information is available from Boulder Rock Club.

University Bicycles

CYCLING

(www.ubikes.com; 839 Pearl St; 4hr rental $15; 🕒 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun) Plenty of places rent bicycles to cruise around town, but U Bikes has the widest range of rides and the most helpful staff.

Boulder Rock Club

ROCK CLIMBING

(☎ 303-447-2804; http://boulderrockclub.com; 2829 Mapleton Ave; day pass adult/child $17/10; 🕒 8am-10pm Mon, 6am-11pm Tue-Thu, 8am-11pm Fri, 10am-8pm Sat & Sun; 🚰) Climb indoors at

THE THOUSAND-YEAR FLOOD

It came after a drought that followed the worst wildfire in Colorado history. On September 12, 2013, the Front Range woke up to flooding canyons and inundations that isolated mountain communities. Eight people died and thousands lost their homes. A disaster of this magnitude is considered a thousand-year flood, with a 0.1% probability in any given year. The month's 17in of rainfall blasted September's usual 1.7in average. Now cited as the second-largest natural disaster in US history, after Hurricane Katrina, it will take years to recover from. The affected area was roughly the size of Connecticut. Losses were estimated at $2 billion.

this massive warehouse full of artificial rock faces cragged with ledges and routes. The auto-belay system allows solo climbers an anchor. The staff are a great resource for local climbing routes and tips too.

★ Festivals & Events

Boulder Creek Festival

MUSIC, FOOD

(☎ 303-449-3137; www.bceproductions.com; Canyon Blvd, Central Park; ☀ May; 🏠; 📅 206, JUMP) FREE Billed as the kick-off to summer and capped with the fabulous Bolder Boulder, this massive Memorial Day weekend festival has 10 event areas featuring more than 30 live entertainers and 500 vendors. With food and drink, music and sunshine, what's not to love?

Bolder Boulder

ATHLETICS

(☎ 303-444-7223; www.bolderboulder.com; adult from $59; ☀ May; 🏠) Held in a self-consciously hyper athletic town, this is the biggest foot race within the city limits. It doesn't take itself too seriously – spectators scream, there are runners in costume, and live music plays throughout the course. It's held on Memorial Day.

🏠 Sleeping

Boulder has dozens of options – drive down Broadway or Hwy 36 to take your pick. Booking online usually scores the best discounts.

Boulder Outlook

HOTEL $

(☎ 303-443-3322, 800-542-0304; www.boulder-outlook.com; 800 28th St; d incl breakfast $89-99; 🏠 📅 📅 📅 📅) 🌿 Boulder's first zero-waste hotel is just off the highway at the south end of town, with easy access from Denver, and has funky colors, a sustainability focus and pet-friendly atmosphere. Strangely, motel-style rooms with outdoor access are less expensive than their main building counterparts. There's a dimly-lit indoor pool and climbing wall.

The onsite restaurant and bar often hosts blues bands.

★ Chautauqua Lodge

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 303-442-3282; www.chautauqua.com; 900 Baseline Rd; r from $73, cottages $125-183; 🏠 📅 📅 📅 📅; 📅 HOP 2) Adjoining beautiful hiking trails to the Flatirons, this leafy neighborhood of cottages is our top pick. It has contemporary rooms and one- to three-bedroom cottages with porches and beds with patchwork quilts. It's perfect for families and pets. All have full kitchens, though the wraparound porch of the Chautauqua Dining Hall is a local favorite for breakfast.

Hotel Boulderado

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 303-442-4344; www.boulderado.com; 2115 13th St; r from $264; 🏠 📅 📅 📅; 📅 HOP, SKIP) With over a century of service, the charming Boulderado is a National Registered Landmark and a romantic getaway. Think Victorian elegance and antique-filled rooms. The stained glass atrium and glacial water fountain accent the lobby, usually awash with jazz music.

St Julien Hotel & Spa

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 720-406-9696, reservations 877-303-0900; www.stjulien.com; 900 Walnut St; r from $309; 🏠 📅 📅 📅 📅) In the heart of downtown, Boulder's finest four-star is modern and refined, with photographs of local scenery and cork walls that warm the room ambience. With fabulous Flatiron views, the back patio hosts live world music, jazz concerts and wild salsa parties. Rooms are plush, and so are the robes.

🍴 Eating

Boulder's dining scene has dozens of great options. Most are centered on the Pearl Street Mall, while bargains are more likely to be found on the Hill. Between 3:30pm and 6:30pm nearly every restaurant in the city features a happy hour with some kind of amazing food and drink special. It's a great way to try fine dining on a budget – check websites for details.

Spruce Confections

BAKERY $

(☎ 303-449-6773; 767 Pearl St; cookies from $3.25; ☀ 6:30am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-6pm Sat & Sun; 🏠; 📅 206) Boulder's go-to bakehouse has sinful scones and breakfast lattes. Come for lunch for good homemade soups and salads.

Dish

SANDWICHES $

(☎ 720-565-5933; www.dishgourmet.com; 1918 Pearl St; mains $10; ☀ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 11am-4pm Sat; 🏠; 📅 204, HOP) Bank lines flank this gourmet deli at lunchtime. At $10, the sandwiches are hardly cheap but they are satisfying. Think roasted turkey carved in chunks, pate, natural beef, slow-cooked brisket and baguettes smothered with butter and top-tier cheeses.

Zoe Ma Ma

CHINESE $

(2010 10th St; mains $5-13; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, 11am-11pm Fri & Sat; ☑ 206, SKIP, HOP) 🍴 At Boulder's hippest noodle bar you can slurp and munch fresh street food at a long outdoor counter. Mama, the Taiwanese matriarch, is on hand, cooking and chatting up customers in her Croc sandals. Organic noodles are made from scratch, as are the garlicky melt-in-your-mouth pot stickers.

The Sink

PUB $

(www.thesink.com; 1165 13th St; mains $5-12; ☺ 11am-2am, kitchen to 10pm; ☑ 203, 204, 225, DASH, SKIP) Dim and graffiti-scrawled, the Sink has been a Hill classic since 1923 and once Robert Redford worked here. Colorful characters cover the cavernous space – the scene alone is almost worth a visit. Almost. Once you've washed back the legendary Sink burger with a slug of a local microbrew, you'll be glad you stuck around.

Alfalfa's

SELF-CATERING $

(www.alfalfas.com; 1651 Broadway St; ☺ 7:30am-10pm; ☑ AB, B, JUMP, SKIP) A small, community-oriented natural market with a wonderful selection of prepared food ($1 to $16) and an inviting indoor-outdoor dining area to enjoy it in.

Cafe Aion

SPANISH $$

(☎ 303-993-8131; www.cafeaion.com; 1235 Pennsylvania Ave; tapas $5-13; ☺ 11am-10pm Tues-Fri, 9am-3pm Sat-Sun; ☑ 203, 204, 225, DASH, SKIP) Original and unpretentious, this side street cafe mimics the relaxed rhythms of Spain with fresh tapas and delectable house-made sangria. Papas bravas have the perfect crisp, and grilled spring onions and dolmas are springtime-fresh. Check out the all-evening happy hour on Tuesday.

Lucile's

CAJUN $$

(☎ 303-442-4743; www.luciles.com; 2142 14th St; mains $8-14; ☺ 7am-2pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ☑ 205, 206, HOP) 🍴 This New Orleans-style diner has perfected breakfast; the Creole egg dishes (served over creamy spinach alongside cheesy grits or perfectly blackened trout) are all-stars. Start with the chicory coffee and an order of beignets. Their homemade jam is perfect on a steaming biscuit.

★ Salt

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 303-444-7258; www.saltboulderbistro.com; 1047 Pearl St; mains $14-28; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Wed, to 11pm Thu-Sat, 10am-10pm Sun; ☑ 208, HOP, SKIP) While farm-to-table is

FOODIE FINDS IN THE ROCKIES

Start by digging into regional Edible (www.ediblecommunities.com) magazines online – a great resource for farmers markets and innovative eats. There are editions for the Front Range and Aspen.

Boulder is worth a stop since being named America's Foodiest Small Town, according to Bon Appetit. At Kitchen (p749) Monday is community night, which means shared tables and a homegrown five-course meal served family-style, with 20% of proceeds going to charity. Go behind the scenes with Local Table Tours (☎ 303-909-5747; www.localtabletours.com; tours $25-70), a tour presenting a smattering of great local cuisine and inside knowledge on food and wine or coffee and pastries. The cocktail crawl is a hit.

For fine dining in a warehouse or an airplane hangar, Denver's Hush (www.hushdenver.com) sponsors fun pop-up dinners with top regional chefs, by invitation only – make contact online.

ubiquitous in Boulder, this spot surpasses expectations. The sweet pea ravioli with lemon buerre blanc and shaved radishes is a feverish delight. But Salt also knows meat: local and grass-fed, basted, braised and slow roasted to utter perfection. When in doubt, ask – the servers really know their stuff.

It also has one of Boulder's best happy hours, with bargain bites. The house mixologist has repeatedly won the competition for Boulder's best.

Kitchen

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 303-544-5973; www.thekitchencafe.com; 1039 Pearl St; mains $18-32; ☑ 206, HOP) 🍴 Clean lines and fresh farmers-market ingredients provide the building blocks at Boulder's most lauded kitchen. Think tapas of roasted root vegetables, shaved prosciutto and mussels steamed in wine and cream. The pulled-pork sandwich rocks, but save room for the sticky toffee pudding.

A younger crowd gathers at the more casual upstairs bar and the Kitchen Next Door, with cheaper eats (mains $10).

Drinking & Entertainment

Playboy didn't vote CU the best party school for nothing – the blocks around the Pearl St Mall and the Hill churn out fun, with many restaurants doubling as bars or turning into all-out dance clubs come 10pm.

★ Mountain Sun Pub & Brewery BREWERY (1535 Pearl St; ☎ 11am-1am; 🍷; 📍 HOP, 205, 206) Boulder's favorite brewery serves a rainbow of brews from chocolatey to fruity, and packs in an eclectic crowd of yuppies, hippies and everyone in between. Walls are lined with tapestries, there are board games to amuse you and the pub grub (especially the burgers) is delicious. There's usually live music of the bluegrass and jam-band variety on Sunday and Monday nights. Second location 627 S Broadway.

Bitter Bar

COCKTAIL BAR

(☎ 303-442-3050; www.thebitterbar.com; 835 Walnut St; cocktails $9-15; ☎ 5pm-12am Mon-Thur, 5pm-2am Fri-Sat; 📍 HOP) A chic Boulder speakeasy where killer cocktails – such as the scrumptious lavender-infused Blue Velvet – make the evening slip happily out of focus. The patio is great for conversation and their monthly classes buy you the know-how to mix two drinks that would make a Mad Man weep. There's live music at 9pm on Thursday.

WORTH A TRIP

SUSTAINABLE BREWS

New Belgium Brewing Co (☎ 800-622-4044; www.newbelgium.com; 500 Lined St; ☎ guided tours 10am-6pm, Tue-Sat) FREE satisfies beer connoisseurs with its hearty Fat Tire Amber Ale, and diverse concoctions like 1554, Trippell and Sunshine Wheat. Recognized as one of the world's most environmentally conscious breweries, a 100,000kw turbine keeps it wind-powered. The brewery also sponsors cool events such as bike-in cinema and ski resort scavenger hunts. It's in the college town of Fort Collins (home to Colorado State University), a worthwhile 46-mile drive north of Boulder on I-25 – especially if you're heading to Wyoming. Reserve tickets online – these popular tours include complimentary tasting of the flagship and specialty brews.

Boulder Dushanbe Teahouse

TEAHOUSE

(☎ 303-442-4993; 1770 13th St; mains $8-19; ☎ 8am-10pm; 📍 203, 204, 205, 206, 208, 225, DASH, JUMP, SKIP) Step into this incredible Tajik work of art – a gift from Boulder's sister city (Dushanbe, Tajikistan). Incredible craftsmanship and meticulous painting envelop the vibrant multicolored interior. The international fare is sadly less notable than the setting, but it's perfect for tea.

Boulder Theater

CINEMA, MUSIC

(☎ 303-786-7030; www.bouldertheatre.com; 2032 14th St) This old movie theater-turned-historic venue brings in slightly under-the-radar acts like jazz great Charlie Hunter, the madmen rockers of Gogol Bordello and West African divas, Les Nubians. But it also screens classic films and short-film festivals that can and should be enjoyed with a glass of beer.

Shopping

Boulder has great shopping and galleries. The outdoor 29th St Mall, with a movie theatre, just off 28th St between Canyon and Pearl St, is a more recent addition.

Pearl Street Mall

MALL

The main feature of downtown Boulder is the Pearl Street Mall, a vibrant pedestrian zone filled with kids' climbing boulders and splash fountains, bars, galleries and restaurants.

Momentum

HANDICRAFTS

(www.ourmomentum.com; 1625 Pearl St; ☎ 10am-7pm Tue-Sat, 11am-6pm Sun) 🍃 The kitchen sink of unique global gifts – Zulu wire baskets, fabulous scarves from India, Nepal and Ecuador – all handcrafted and purchased at fair value from disadvantaged artisans. Every item purchased provides a direct economic lifeline to the artists.

Common Threads

CLOTHING

(www.commonthreadsboulder.com; 2707 Spruce St; ☎ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Vintage shopping at its most haute couture, this fun place is where to go for secondhand Choos and Prada purses. The shop is a pleasure to browse, with clothing organized by color and type on visually aesthetic racks, just like a big-city boutique. Also runs clothes-making courses.

Boulder Bookstore

BOOKS

(www.boulderbookstore.indiebound.com; 1107 Pearl St; 📍) Boulder's favorite indie bookstore has a huge travel section downstairs and hosts readings and workshops.

i Information

Boulder Visitor Center (📍 303-442-2911; www.bouldercoloradousa.com; 2440 Pearl St; ☎ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Thu, 8:30am-4pm Fri) Offers information and internet access.

i Getting There & Around

Boulder has fabulous public transportation, with services extending as far away as Denver and its airport. Ecofriendly buses are run by RTD (📍 303-299-6000; www.rtd-denver.com; per ride $2-4.50; ♿). Maps are available at Boulder Station (cnr 14th & Walnut Sts). RTD buses (route B) operate between Boulder Station and Denver's Market St Bus Station ($5, 55 minutes). RTD's SkyRide bus (route AB) heads to Denver International Airport ($13, one hour, hourly). SuperShuttle (📍 303-444-0808; www.supershuttle.com; one-way around $27) provides hotel ($27) and door-to-door ($34) shuttle service from the airport.

For two-wheel transportation, Boulder B-Cycle (boulder.bicycle.com; 24-hr rental $7) is a new citywide program with various bikes available at strategic locations, but riders must sign up online first.

Northern Mountains

With one foot on either side of the continental divide and behemoths of granite in every direction, Colorado's Northern Mountains offer out-of-this-world alpine adventures, laid-back skiing, kick-butt hiking and biking, and plenty of rivers to raft, fish and float as you stare into the big-blue arching Colorado sky.

Rocky Mountain National Park

Rocky Mountain National Park showcases classic alpine scenery, with wildflower meadows and serene mountain lakes set under snowcapped peaks. There are over 4 million visitors annually, but many stay on the beaten path. Hike an extra mile and enjoy the incredible solitude. Elk are the park's signature mammal - you will even see them grazing on hotel lawns, but also keep an eye out for bighorn sheep, moose, marmots and black bear.

i Sights & Activities

With over 300 miles of trail, traversing all aspects of its diverse terrain, the park is suited to every hiking ability.

Those with the kids in tow might consider the easy hikes in the Wild Basin to Calypso

Falls or to Gem Lakes in the Lumpy Ridge area, or the trail to Twin Sisters Peak south of Estes Park, while those with unlimited ambition, strong legs and enough trail mix will be lured by the challenge of summiting Longs Peak.

Regardless, it's best to spend at least one night at 7000ft to 8000ft prior to setting out to allow your body to adjust to the elevation. Before July, many trails are snowbound and high water runoff makes passage difficult.

In the winter, avalanches are a hazard.

★ Moraine Park Museum

MUSEUM

(📍 970-586-1206; Bear Lake Rd; ☎ 9am-4:30pm Jun-Oct) Built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1923 and once the park's proud visitors lodge, this building has been renovated in recent years to host exhibits on geology, glaciers and wildlife.

i Sleeping & Eating

The only overnight accommodations in the park are at campgrounds. Dining options and the majority of motel or hotel accommodations are around Estes Park or Grand Lake, located on the other side of the Trail Ridge Road Pass (open late May to October).

You will need a backcountry permit to stay outside developed park campgrounds. None of the campgrounds have showers, but they do have flush toilets in summer and outhouse facilities in winter. Sites include a fire ring, picnic table and one parking spot.

Olive Ridge Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(📍 303-541-2500; campsites $19; ☎ mid-May-Nov) This well-kept USFS campground has access to four trailheads: St Vrain Mountain, Wild Basin, Longs Peak and Twin Sisters. In the summer it can get full, though sites are mostly first come, first served.

Longs Peak Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(📍 970-586-1206; MM 9, State Hwy 7; campsites $20; ♿) This is the base camp of choice for the early morning ascent of Longs Peak. There are no reservations, but if you're planning to bag Longs Peak after sleeping here, get here early one day before the climb.

Moraine Park Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(📍 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; off Bear Lake Rd; summer campsites $20) In the middle of a stand of ponderosa pine forest off Bear Lake Road, this is the biggest of the park's campgrounds.

Reservations are accepted and recommended from the end of May through to the end of September; other times of the year the campground is first come, first served. At night in the summer, there are numerous ranger-led programs in the amphitheater.

Aspenglen Campground CAMPGROUND $ (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; State Hwy 34; campsites summer $20) With only 54 sites, this is the smallest of the park's reservable camping. There are many tent-only sites, including some walk-ins.

Timber Creek Campground CAMPGROUND $ (Trail Ridge Rd, US Hwy 34; campsites $20) This campground has 100 sites and remains open through winter. No reservations accepted. The only established campground on the west side of the park, it's 7 miles north of Grand Lake.

Glacier Basin Campground CAMPGROUND $ (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; off Bear Lake Rd; campsites summer $20) This developed campground has a large area for group camping and accommodates RVs. It is served by the shuttle buses on Bear Lake Rd throughout the summer. Make reservations through the website.

i Information

For private vehicles, the park entrance fee is $20, valid for seven days. Individuals entering the park on foot, bicycle, motorcycle or bus pay $10 each. All visitors receive a free copy of the park's information brochure, which contains a good orientation map and is available in English, German, French, Spanish and Japanese.

Backcountry permits ($20 for a group up to 12 people for seven days) are required for overnight stays in the 260 designated backcountry camping sites in the park. They are free between November 1 and April 30. Phone reservations can be made only from March 1 to May 15. Reservations by snail mail or in person are accepted via the Backcountry Office. (☎ 970-586-1242; www.nps.gov/romo).

A bear box to store your food is required if you are staying overnight in the backcountry (established campsites already have them). These can be rented for around $3 to $5 per day from REI (p746) or the Estes Park Mountain Shop (☎ 970-586-6548; www.estesparkmountain-shop.com; 2050 Big Thompson Ave; 2-person tent $10, bear box $3 per night; ☉ 8am-9pm).

Alpine Visitor Center (www.nps.gov/romo; Fall River Pass; ☉ 10:30am-4:30pm late May-mid-Jun, 9am-5pm late Jun-early Sep, 10:30am-4:30pm early Sep-mid-Oct; 🚰) The views from this popular visitors center and souvenir store at 11,796ft, and right in the middle of the park, are extraordinary.

Beaver Meadows Visitor Center (☎ 970-586-1206; www.nps.gov/romo; US Hwy 36; ☉ 8am-9pm late Jun-late Aug, to 4:30pm or 5pm rest of year; 🚰) The primary visitors center and best stop for park information if you're approaching from Estes Park.

Kawuneeche Visitor Center (☎ 970-627-3471; 16018 US Hwy 34; ☉ 8am-6pm last week May-Labor Day, 8am-5pm Labor Day-Sep, 8am-4:30pm Oct-May; 🚰) This is the main visitors center on the west side of the park, offering a film about the park, ranger-led walks and discussions, backcountry permits and family activities.

i Getting There & Away

Trail Ridge Rd (US 34) is the only east-west route through the park and is closed in winter. The most direct route from Boulder follows US 36 through Lyons to the east entrances.

There are two entrance stations on the east side, Fall River (US 34) and Beaver Meadows (US 36). The Grand Lake Station (also US 34) is the only entry on the west side. Year-round access is available through Kawuneeche Valley along the Colorado River headwaters to Timber Creek Campground. The main centers of visitor activity on the park's east side are the Alpine Visitor Center, high on Trail Ridge Rd and Bear Lake Rd, which leads to campgrounds, trailheads and the Moraine Park Museum.

North of Estes Park, Devils Gulch Rd leads to several hiking trails. Further out on Devils Gulch Rd, you pass through the village of Glen Haven to reach the trailhead entry to the park along the North Fork of the Big Thompson River.

i Getting Around

In summer a free shuttle bus operates from the Estes Park Visitor Center multiple times daily, bringing hikers to a park-and-ride location where you can pick up other shuttles. The year-round option leaves the Glacier Basin parking area toward Bear Lake, in the park's lower elevations. During the summer peak, a second shuttle operates between Moraine Park campground and the Glacier Basin parking area. Shuttles run on weekends only from mid-August through September.

Estes Park

It's no small irony that becoming a nature-lovers hub has turned the gateway to one of the most pristine outdoor escapes in the US into kind of Great Outdoors Disney. And while there are plenty of T-shirt shops and mountain kitsche, a nice river runs through town, it has cool parks, decent restaurants and a haunted hotel.

Activities

★ Colorado Mountain

School

ROCK CLIMBING

(☎ 800-836-4008; www.totalclimbing.com; 341 Moraine Ave; half-day guided climbs per person from $125) There's no better resource for climbers in Colorado. Basic courses, such as Intro to Rock Climbing, are a great way for novices to deeply experience the Rockies, more experienced climbers can hire guides to take them up some of the radical neighboring peaks. It has an stay on-site in dorm lodging.

Sleeping

Estes Park's dozens of hotels fill up fast in summer. There are some passable budget options but the many lovely area campgrounds are the best-value.

Try the Estes Park Visitor Center (☎ 970-577-9900; www.estesparkresortcvb.com; 500 Big Thompson Ave; ☀ 9am-8pm Jun-Aug, 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat, 10am-4pm Sun Sep-May), just east of the US 36 junction, for help with lodging; note that many places close in winter.

Total Climbing Lodge

HOSTEL $

(☎ 303-447-2804; www.totalclimbing.com; 341 Moraine Ave; dm $25;   A bustling hub of climbers, lodging here is the best dorm option in town. Expect simple pine bunks, a ping-pong table and a laid-back vibe.

Estes Park Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 970-237-0152; www.estesparkhostel.com; 211 Cleave St; dm/s/d $26/38/52; ) This hostel, with a handful of shared rooms and simple privates, isn't going into history books as the plushest digs ever, but there's a kitchen on site, and Terri, the owner, is helpful. The price is right too.

★ YMCA of the Rockies –

Estes Park Center

RESORT $$

(☎ 970-586-3341; [www.ymc ROCKIES.ORG](http://www.ymc ROCKIES.ORG); 2515 Tunnel Rd; r & d from $109, cabins from $129;  ) Estes Park Center is not your typical YMCA boarding house. Instead it's a favorite vacation spot. There are upmarket motel-style accommodations and cabins set on hundreds of acres of high alpine terrain. Book ahead.

Riversong

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 970 586 4666; www.romanticriversong.com; 1766 Lower Broadview Dr; d from $165; ) Tucked down a dead-end dirt road overlooking the Big Thompson River, Riversong offers nine romantic rooms with private bath in an arts-and-crafts-style mansion. The minimum stay is two nights, and prices vary by amenities. West of town take Moraine Ave, turn onto Mary's Lake Rd and take the first right.

Stanley Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 970-577-4000; www.stanleyhotel.com; 333 Wonderview Ave; r from $199;  ) The white Georgian Colonial Revival hotel stands in brilliant contrast to the towering peaks of Rocky Mountain National Park framing the skyline. A favorite local retreat, this best-in-class hotel served as the inspiration for Stephen King's famous cult novel The Shining. Rooms are decorated to retain some of the Old West feel while still ensuring all the creature comforts.

Eating

Estes Park Brewery

BREWERY

(www.epbrewery.com; 470 Prospect Village Dr; ☀ 11am-2am Mon-Sun) The town's brewpub serves pizza, burgers and wings, and at least eight different house beers, in a big, boxy room resembling a cross between a classroom and a country kitchen. Pool tables and outdoor seating keep the place rocking late into the night.

Ed's Cantina & Grill

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 970-586-2919; www.edscantina.com; 390 E Elkhorn Ave; mains $9-13; ☀ 11am-late daily, from 8am-10pm Sat & Sun; ) With an outdoor patio right on the river, Ed's is a great place to kick back with a margarita and one of the daily $3 blue-plate specials (think fried, rolled tortillas) with shredded pork and guacamole). Serving Mexican and American staples, the restaurant is in a retro-mod space with leather booth seating and a bold primary color scheme. The bar is in a separate room with light-wood stools featuring comfortable high backs.

Getting There & Away

From Denver International Airport, Estes Park Shuttle (☎ 970-586-5151; www.estesparkshuttle.com) runs four times daily to Estes Park (one-way/return $45/85).

Steamboat Springs

With luxuriant tree-skiing, top-notch trails for mountain-biking and a laid-back Western feel, Steamboat beats out other ski towns in both real ambience and offerings.

Its historic center is cool for rambling, its hot springs top off a hard day of play, and locals couldn't be friendlier.

Sights & Activities

Steamboat Mountain Resort SNOW SPORTS
( ticket office 970-871-5252; www.steamboat.com; lift ticket adult/child $94/59;  ticket office 8am-5pm) Known for a 3600ft vertical drop, excellent powder and trails for all levels, this is the main draw for winter visitors, offering some of the best skiing in the US. In the ski area there are (overpriced) food and equipment vendors galore.

★ Strawberry Park Hot Springs HOT SPRING
( 970-870-1517; www.strawberryhotsprings.com; 44200 County Rd; per day adult/child $10/5;  10am-10:30pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat;   Steamboat's favorite hot springs are actually outside the city limits, but offer great back-to-basics relaxation. Water is 104°F in these tasteful stone pools formed by cascading drops. To stay over, choose from camping or rustic cabins. There's no electricity (you get gas lanterns) and you'll need your own linens.

Be sure to reserve. Weekend reservations require a two-night stay. Note that the thermal pools are clothing optional after dark.

Orange Peel Bikes BICYCLE RENTAL
( 970-879-2957; www.orangepeelbikes.com; 1136 Yampa St; bike rental per day $20-65;  10am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat;  Stop by the coolest bike shop in town to pick up a cruiser or top-line mountain bike. They have a great biking map, and plenty of info on the best spots to ride, including Emerald Mountain (just out of town), Spring Creek, Mad Creek and Red Dirt. Families can rent cruisers and do the 7-mile-trail that follows the Yampa near town.

Bucking Rainbow Outfitters RAFTING, FISHING
( 970-879-8747; www.buckingrainbow.com; 730 Lincoln Ave; inner tubes $17, rafting $43-100, fishing $150-340;  daily) This excellent outfitter offers rafting trips on the Yampa, Platte, Eagle and Elk Rivers (Class II-IV), tubes and shuttle services for the relatively flat section of the Yampa in town, fishing year round and plenty more.

Old Town Hot Springs HOT SPRING
( 970-879-1828; www.oldtownhotsprings.org; 136 Lincoln Ave; adult/child $16/9, waterslide $6;

 5:30am-10pm Mon-Fri, 7am-9pm Sat, 8am-9pm Sun;  Right in the center of town, the mineral water here is warmer than most in the area. The springs recently underwent a $5-million renovation and now there's a new pool, a pair of 230ft-long waterslides and, perhaps coolest of all, an aquatic climbing wall! Kids will dig it!

Sleeping & Eating

There are plenty of places to sleep; contact Steamboat Central Reservations ( 877-783-2628; www.steamboat.com; Mt Werner Circle, off Gondola Sq) for condos and other options near the ski area.

Hotel Bristol HOTEL $$
( 970-879-3083; www.steamboathotelbristol.com; 917 Lincoln Ave; d $129-149;   The elegant Hotel Bristol has small, but sophisticated, Western digs, with dark-wood and brass furnishings and Pendleton wool blankets on the beds. There's a ski shuttle, a six-person indoor Jacuzzi and a cozy restaurant.

The Boathouse MODERN AMERICAN $$
( 970-879-4797; 609 Yampa; $12-20;  restaurant 11am-10pm, bar to 1am) You can't beat the view from the riverfront deck, and the creative menu takes you across continents with innovative plates such as 'When Pigs Fly,' a piquant pork-chop-wasabi invention. Great for afternoon cloud-watching.

Carl's Tavern AMERICAN $$
( 970-761-2060; www.carlstavern.com; 700 Yampa Ave; $14-31) This local's favorite has great pub grub, a happening patio, live music, cool waitstaff, and a raucous spirit that will get your hear thumping.

Information

Steamboat Springs Visitor Center ( 970-879-0880; www.steamboat-chamber.com; 125 Anglers Drive;  8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat)

Getting There & Away

Buses between Denver and Salt Lake City stop at the Greyhound Terminal ( 800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com; 1505 Lincoln Ave), about half a mile west of town. Steamboat Springs Transit ( 970-879-3717, for pick-up in Mountain Area 970-846-1279; <http://steamboat-springs.net>) runs free buses between Old Town and the ski resort year-round. Steamboat is 166 miles northwest of Denver via US 40.

Central Colorado

Colorado's central mountains are well known for their plethora of world-class ski resorts, sky-high hikes and snow-melt rivers. To the southeast is Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak, which anchor the southern Front Range.

Winter Park

Less than two hours from Denver, unpretentious Winter Park is a favorite ski resort with Front Rangers, who flock here from as far away as Colorado Springs to ski fresh tracks each weekend. Beginners can frolic on miles of powdery groomers while experts test their skills on Mary Jane's world-class bumps. Most services are along US 40 (the main drag), including the visitor center (☎ 970-726-4118; www.winterpark-info.com; 78841 Hwy 40; ☀ 9am-5pm daily).

South of town, Winter Park Resort (☎ 970-726-1564; www.winterparkresort.com; Hwy 40; lift ticket adult/child $104/62; 🚠) covers five mountains and has a vertical drop of more than 2600ft. Experts love it here because more than half of the runs are geared solely for highly skilled skiers. It also has 45 miles of lift-accessible mountain-biking trails (www.trestlebikepark.com; day pass adult/child $39/29; ☀ mid-Jun-mid-Sep) connecting to a 600-mile trail system running through the valley.

★ Devil's Thumb Ranch (☎ 800-933-4339; www.devilsthumbbranch.com; 3530 County Rd 83; bunkhouse $100-180, lodge $240-425, cabins from $365; 🍷🍷🍷🍷) 🍷, with a cowboy chic lodge and cabins alongside a 65-mile network of trails, makes an ultra-romantic getaway for the active-minded. Geothermal heat, reclaimed wood and low-emission fireplaces make it green. It's ideal for cross-country skiing and horseback rides (☎ 970-726-5632; www.devilsthumbbranch.com; 3530 County Rd 83; trail passes adult/child $20/8, horseback riding $95-175; 🐎) in the high country.

The best deal around is the friendly Rocky Mountain Chalet (☎ 970-726-8256; www.therockymountainchalet.com; 15 Co Rd 72; dm $30, r summer/winter $89/149; 🍷🍷), with plush, comfortable doubles, dorm rooms and a sparkling kitchen.

For inspired dining, Tabernash Tavern (☎ 970-726-4430; www.tabernashtavern.com; 72287 US Hwy 40; mains $20-34; ☀ 5-9pm Tue-Sat) 🍷 whets the appetite with buffalo rib ragout or venison burgers. Reserve ahead. It's north of town.

Breckenridge & Around

Set at 9600ft, at the foot of a marvelous range of treeless peaks, Breck is a sweetly surviving gold-mining town with a lovely national historic district. With down-to-earth grace, the town boasts family-friendly ski runs that don't disappoint and always draw a giddy crowd. If you should happen to grow restless, there are five great ski resorts and outlet shopping less than an hour away.

🚠 Activities

Breckenridge Ski Area

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 800-789-7669; www.breckenridge.com; lift ticket adult/child $115/68; ☀ 8:30am-4pm Nov-mid-Apr; 🚠) Spans five mountains and features some of the best beginner and intermediate terrain in the state (the green runs are

THE ROCKIES FOR POWDER HOUNDS

Well worth the five-hour road trip from Denver, Crested Butte promises deep powder and lovely open terrain next to a mining outpost re-tooled to be one of Colorado's coolest small towns.

If you're short on travel time, go directly to Summit County. Use lively Breckenridge as your base and conquer five areas on one combo lift ticket, including the mastodon resort of Vail, our favorite for remote back bowl terrain, and the ultralocal and laid-back Arapahoe Basin Ski Area. A-Basin stays open into June, when spring skiing means tail-gating with beer and barbecue in between slush runs.

From Crested Butte, you can head a little further south and ski the slopes at Telluride; from Summit County and Vail, Aspen is nearby. Both are true old gold towns. Be sure to devote at least a few hours to exploring Aspen's glitzy shops and Telluride's down-to-earth bars for a real local vibe in a historic Wild West setting.

From Aspen, catch a local flight up to Jackson Hole Mountain Resort to do some real vertical powder riding in the Grand Tetons.

flatter than most in Colorado), as well as killer steeps and chutes for experts, and a renowned snowboard park.

Arapahoe Basin Ski Area

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 970-468-0718; www.arapahoebasin.com; Hwy 6; lift adult/child 6-14yr $79/40; ☀ 9am-4pm Mon-Fri, from 8:30 Sat & Sun) North America's highest resort, about 12 miles from Breck, is smaller, less commercial and usually open until at least mid-June! Full of steeps, walls and back-country terrain, it's a local favorite because it doesn't draw herds of package tourists.

Peak 8 Fun Park

AMUSEMENT PARK

(☎ 800-789-7669; www.breckenridge.com; Peak 8; day pass 3-7yr/8yr & up $34/68; ☀ 9:30am-5:30pm mid-Jun-mid-Sep; 🚫) With a laundry list of made-for-thrills activities, including a big-air trampoline, climbing wall, mountain-bike park (rental half/full day $49/59) and the celebrated SuperSlide – a huge-like course taken on a sled at exhilarating speeds. Get the day pass, do activities à la carte or simply take a scenic ride up the chair lift (without/with bike $10/17).

★ Festivals & Events

Ullr Fest

CULTURE

(www.gobreck.com; ☀ early to mid-January) The Ullr Fest celebrates the Norse god of winter with a wild parade and four-day festival featuring a twisted version of the Dating Game, an ice-skating party and a bonfire.

International Snow

Sculpture Championship

ART

(www.gobreck.com; ☀ mid-Jan; 🚫) Sculptors from around the world descend on Breck to create meltable masterpieces. It starts in mid-January and lasts for two weeks on Riverwalk.

🏠 Sleeping

For upscale slope-side rentals, contact Great Western Lodging (☎ 888-453-1001; www.gw-lodging.com; 322 N Main St; condos summer/winter from $125/275; 📄 📺 📶). Campers can look for USFS campgrounds (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov) outside of town.

Fireside Inn

B&B, HOSTEL $

(☎ 970-453-6456; www.firesideinn.com; 114 N French St; summer/winter dm $30/41, summer/winter d $101/140; 📄 📺 📶) The best deal for budget travelers in Summit County, this chummy hostel and B&B is a find. All guests can enjoy the chlorine-free barrel hot tub and resident snuggly dog. The English hosts are delight and very helpful with local information. It's a 10-minute walk to the gondola in ski boots.

★ Abbet Placer Inn

B&B $$$

(☎ 970-453-6489; www.abbetplacer.com; 205 S French St; r summer $99-179, winter $119-229; 📄 📺 📶) This violet house has five large rooms decked-out with wood furnishings, iPod docks and fluffy robes. It's very low key. The warm and welcoming hosts cook big breakfasts, and guests can enjoy a lovely outdoor Jacuzzi deck and use of a common kitchenette. The top-floor room has massive views of the peaks from a private terrace. Check-in is from 4pm to 7pm.

Eating & Drinking

Clint's Bakery & Coffee House

CAFE $

(131 S Main St; sandwiches $4.95-7.25; ☀ 7am-8pm; 📄 📺 📶) Rainy baristas steam up a chalkboard full of latte and mocha flavors and dozens of loose-leaf teas. If you're hungry, the downstairs bagelry (which closes at 3pm) stacks burly sandwiches and tasty breakfast bagels with egg and ham, lox, sausage and cheese.

WORTH A TRIP

THE VAGABOND RANCH

Moose outnumber people at the remote Vagabond Ranch (☎ 303-242-5338; www.vagabondranch.com; per person $50; 🚫), a fine backcountry spot in Colorado's pristine Never Summer Range. By backcountry we mean a 3-mile dirt access road – it can be driven in summer but you'll need to park the car and ski or snowmobile in for winter fun.

Ringed by high peaks and ponderosa forest, this former stagecoach stop features a smattering of comfortable cabins – ranging from rustic to elegant – at 9000ft. Features include chef-worthy cooking facilities, firewood, a hot tub, solar power and composting toilets. Like any ski hut, lodgings may be shared, but couples or groups can book privates (we recommend the retro-gorgeous Parkview for couples). Dedicated trails are groomed in winter for cross-country skiing or snowmobiling. It also hosts yoga and meditation retreats.

It's 22 miles from Granby (near Winter Park).

CLIMBING YOUR FIRST 14ER

Known as Colorado's 'easiest' 14er, Quandary Peak (www.14ers.com; County Rd 851), near Breckenridge, is the state's 15th-highest peak at 14,265ft. Though you will see plenty of dogs and children, easiest may be misleading – the summit remains three grueling miles from the trailhead. Go between June and September.

The trail ascends to the west; after about 10 minutes of moderate climbing, follow the right fork to a trail junction. Head left, avoiding the road, and almost immediately you will snatch some views of Mt Helen and Quandary (although the real summit is still hidden).

Just below timberline you'll meet the trail from Monte Cristo Gulch – note it so you don't take the wrong fork on your way back down. From here it's a steep haul to the top. Start early and aim to turn around by noon, as afternoon lightning is typical during summer. It's a 6-mile round-trip, taking roughly between seven and eight hours. To get here, take Colorado 9 to County Rd 850. Make a right and turn right again onto 851. Drive 1.1 miles to the unmarked trailhead. Park parallel on the fire road.

Hearthstone

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎970-453-1148; hearthstonerestaurant.biz; 130 S Ridge St; mains $26-44; ☺4pm-late; ☑) One of Breck's favorites, this restored 1886 Victorian churns out creative mountain fare such as blackberry elk and braised buffalo ribs with tomatillos, roasted chiles and polenta. Fresh and delicious, it's worth a splurge, or hit happy hour (4pm to 6pm) for $5 plates paired with wine. Reserve.

Downstairs at Eric's

BAR

(www.downstairsaterics.com; 111 S Main St; ☺11am-midnight; ☑) Downstairs at Eric's is a Breckenridge institution. Locals flock to this game-room-style basement joint for the brews, burgers and delicious mashed potatoes. There are over 100 beers (20 on tap) to choose from.

Shopping

Outlets at Silverthorne

CLOTHING

(www.outletsatsilverthorne.com; ☺10am-8pm Mon-Sat, 10am-6pm Sun) Located 15 minutes from Breckenridge, just off I-70, are three shopping villages of designer brand stores with discount prices. Brands include Calvin Klein, Nike, Levi's, Gap and many others.

Information

Visitor Center (☎877-864-0868; www.gobreck.com; 203 S Main St; ☺9am-9pm; ☑) Partly set in a 19th-century cabin, with plenty of info and a small but interesting museum.

Getting There & Around

Breckenridge is about 80 miles from Denver, 9 miles south of I-70 on Hwy 9.

Colorado Mountain Express (☎800-525-6363; www.coloradomountainexpress.com; adult/child $70/36; ☑) runs shuttles between Breckenridge and Denver International Airport.

Free buses (www.townofbreckenridge.com; ☺8am-11:45pm) run along four routes throughout town.

To get between Breckenridge, Keystone and Frisco, hop on free Summit Stages buses (☎970-668-0999; www.summitstage.com; 150 Watson Ave). To get to Vail, take the Fresh Tracks shuttle (☎970-453-4052; www.fresh-trackstransportation.com; $20 one-way).

Vail

Darling of the rich and sometime famous, Vail resembles an elaborate adult amusement park, with everything man-made from the golf greens down to the indoor waterfalls. It's compact and highly walkable, but the location (I-70 runs alongside) lacks the natural drama of other Rocky Mountain destinations. That said, no serious skier would dispute its status as the best ski resort in Colorado, with its powdery back bowls, chutes and wickedly fun terrain.

Sights & Activities

Colorado Ski Museum

MUSEUM

(www.skimuseum.net; 3rd fl, ☺10am-5pm; ☑) FREE Humble but informative, this museum takes you from the invention of skiing to the trials of the Tenth Mountain Division, a decorated WWII alpine unit that trained in these mountains. There are also hilarious fashions from the past, as well as the fledgling Colorado Ski and Snowboard Hall of Fame. It's located at the exit of the Vail Village parking garage.

★ Vail Mountain

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 970-754-8245; www.vail.com; lift ticket adult/child $129/89; ☀ 9am-4pm Dec-mid-Apr; 🏠) Vail Mountain is our favorite in the state, with 5289 skiable acres, 193 trails, three terrain parks and some of the highest lift-ticket prices in the country. If you're a Colorado ski virgin, it's worth paying extra to start here – especially on a sunny, blue, fresh-powder day. Multiday tickets are good at four other resorts. The mountaintop Adventure Ridge has child-friendly winter and summer sports and is slated to morph into the much larger Epic Discovery (www.epicdiscovery.com) in summer 2015.

Holy Cross Wilderness

HIKING

(☎ 970-827-5715; www.fs.usda.gov/whiteriver; 24747 US Hwy 24, Minturn; ☀ 9am-4pm Mon-Fri) Consult rangers for hiking tips. The strenuous Notch Mountain Trail affords great views of Mt of the Holy Cross (14,005ft), or very experienced hikers can climb the mountain itself (a class 2 scramble) via Half Moon Pass Trail.

Vail to Breckenridge Bike Path

CYCLING

(www.fs.usda.gov) This paved car-free bike path stretches 8.7 miles from East Vail to the top of Vail Pass (elevation gain 1831ft), before descending 14 miles into Frisco (nine more if you go all the way to Breckenridge). If you're only interested in the downhill, hop on a shuttle from a bike rental shop (☎ 970-476-5385; www.bikevalet.net; 520 E Lionshead Cir; bike rental per day from $30; ☀ 10am-5pm; 🏠) and enjoy the ride back to Vail.

🏠 Sleeping

Vail is as expensive as Colorado gets, and lodging – generally private condo rentals – is very hit or miss.

Gore Creek Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; Bighorn Rd; campsites $18; ☀ mid-May-Sep; 🏠) At the end of Bighorn Rd, this campground has 25 first-come, first-served tent sites with picnic tables and pit toilets nestled in the woods by Gore Creek. It's 6 miles east of Vail Village via exit 180 (East Vail) off I-70.

★ Minturn Inn

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 970-827-9647; www.minturninn.com; 442 Main St; r summer/winter from $100/150; 🏠 🍷 🌿 ECO) If you don't need to be at the heart of the action, the rustic Minturn Inn should be your pick. Set in a 1915 log-hewn building in Minturn (8 miles from Vail), this cozy B&B lays on the mountain charm with handcrafted log beds, river-rock fireplaces and antlered decor. Reserve one of the newer River Lodge rooms for private Jacuzzi access.

★ The Sebastian

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 800-354-6908; www.thesebastianvail.com; 16 Vail Rd; r summer/winter from $230/500; 🏠 🍷 🌿 🌿 🌿) Deluxe and modern, this sophisticated hotel showcases tasteful contemporary art and an impressive list of amenities from a mountainside ski valet to spectacular pool area with hot tubs frothing and spilling over like champagne. Given the prices in Vail, the Sebastian certainly offers the most bang for your buck, but you'll need to reserve months in advance for the best rates.

🍴 Eating & Drinking★ Yellowbelly

SOUTHERN $

(www.yellowbellychicken.com; unit 14, 2161 N. Frontage Rd; $10 plates; ☀ 11am-8:30pm; 🏠 🍷 🌿 🌿 🌿) Vail Transit It may be hidden in a West Vail strip mall, but man is this chicken good. We could tout the healthy angle (free-range, no GMOs, veggie-fed birds), but it's the dynamite gluten-free batter that earns this place its stars. Spicy, tender pieces of chicken come with two sides (brussel slaw, citrus quinoa, mac and cheese) and a drink; alternatively, order an entire rotisserie bird for the whole gang.

★ bōl

MODERN AMERICAN $$

(☎ 970-476-5300; www.bolvail.com; 141 E Meadow Dr; mains $14-28; ☀ 5pm-1am, from 2pm in winter; 🏠 🍷 🌿 🌿) Half hip -atery, half space-age bowling alley, bōl is hands down the funkiest hangout in Vail. You can take the kids bowling in the back ($50 per hour), but it's the surprisingly eclectic menu that's the real draw: creations range from a filling chicken paillard salad with gnocchi to shrimp and grits with grapefruit. Prices are relatively affordable by Vail standards. Reserve.

Matsuhisa

JAPANESE $$$

(☎ 970-476-6628; www.matsuhisavail.com; 141 E Meadow Dr; mains $29-39, 2 piece sushi $8-12; ☀ 6-10pm) Legendary chef Nobu Matsuhisa has upped Vail's gastronomic standards with this modern, airy space, set at the heart of the Solaris complex. Expect traditional sushi and tempura alongside his signature new-style sashimi – Matsuhisa opened his first restaurant in Peru, and continues to incorporate South American influences into his cuisine. Star dishes include black cod with miso and scallops with jalapeño salsa. Reserve.

Los Amigos

BAR

(400 Bridge St; ☎11:30am-9pm) If you want views, tequila, and rock and roll with your après-ski ritual, come to Los Amigos. The Mexican food is decent at best, but the happy hour prices and slope-side seating more than make up for any culinary shortcomings.

Information

Vail Visitor Center (☎970-479-1385; www.visitvailvalley.com; 241 S Frontage Rd; ☎8:30am-5:30pm winter, till 8pm summer; 📶) A second office is located in Lionshead Village.

Getting There & Around

Eagle County Airport (☎970-328-2680; www.flyvail.com; 219 Eldon Wilson Drive), 35 miles west of Vail, has services to destinations across the country (many of which fly through Denver) and rental car counters.

Colorado Mountain Express (☎800-525-6363; www.coloradomountainexpress.com; 📶) shuttles run to/from Denver International Airport ($92) and Eagle County Airport ($51). Greyhound buses stop at the Vail Transportation Center (☎970-476-5137; 241 S Frontage Rd) en route to Denver ($33, 2½ hours) or Grand Junction ($28, three hours).

Vail's free buses (www.vailgov.com; ☎6:30am-1:50am) shuttle between West Vail, Lionshead and Vail Village; most have ski/bike racks. Regional buses (ECO; www.eaglecounty.us; per ride $4, $7 to Leadville) also run to Beaver Creek, Minturn and Leadville. To get to Breckenridge and other Summit County resorts, take the Fresh Tracks shuttle (p757).

Compact Vail Village, filled with upscale restaurants, bars and boutiques, is traffic free. Motorists must park in the public parking garage ($25 per day in winter, free in summer) before entering the pedestrian mall area near the chairlifts. Lionshead is a secondary base area about half a mile to the west; it also has a parking garage (same rates). It has direct lift access and is usually less crowded.

Aspen

Immodestly posh Aspen is Colorado's glitziest high-octane resort, playing host to some of the wealthiest skiers in the world. The handsome, historic red-brick downtown is as alluring as the glistening slopes, but Aspen's greatest asset is its magnificent scenery. The stunning alpine environment – especially during late September and October, when the aspen trees put on a spectacular display – just adds extra sugar to an already sweet cake.

Sights & Activities

★ Aspen Center for Environmental Studies

WILDLIFE RESERVE

(ACES; ☎970-925-5756; www.aspennature.org; Hallam Lake, 100 Puppy Smith St; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri; 📶) FREE The Aspen Center for Environmental Studies is a 22-acre (10-hectare) wildlife sanctuary that hugs the Roaring Fork River. It has three other locations throughout the region and runs guided hikes, birding programs and snowshoe tours year-round. Great for families.

Aspen Art Museum

MUSEUM

(☎970-925-8050; www.aspenartmuseum.org; cnr East Hyman Ave & Spring St; ☎10am-6pm Tue-Sat, to 7pm Thu, noon-6pm Sun) FREE No permanent collection here, just edgy, innovative contemporary exhibitions. Its brand-new home was under construction at press time; it's expected to open in summer 2014, with gorgeous rooftop views. Art lovers will not leave disappointed.

★ Aspen Mountain

SNOW SPORTS

(☎800-525-6200; www.aspensnowmass.com; lift ticket adult/child $117/82; ☎9am-4pm Dec-mid-Apr; 📶) The Aspen Skiing Company runs the area's four resorts – Aspen (intermediate/expert), Snowmass (longest vertical drop in the US), Buttermilk (beginner/terrain parks) and the Highlands (expert) – which are spread out through the valley and connected by free shuttles. Both Aspen and Snowmass are open in summer (lift ticket adult/child $28/11) for sightseeing, mountain biking and kids activities.

Maroon Bells

WILDERNESS AREA

If you have but one day to enjoy a slice of the pristine, you'd be wise to spend it in the shadow of Colorado's most iconic peaks. Hikes

DON'T MISS

CYCLING TO MAROON BELLS

According to the Aspen cycling gurus, the most iconic road-bike ride in Aspen is the one to the stunning Maroon Bells. The climb is 11 lung-wrenching miles to the foot of one of the most picturesque wilderness areas in the Rockies. If you crave sweet, beautiful pain, rent two-wheelers at Aspen Bike Tours (☎970-925-9169; www.aspenbikerentals.com; 430 S Spring St; half/full day adult from $33/40, child $22/29; ☎9am-6pm; 📶).

range from the popular 1.8-mile-long excursion (Crater Lake) to more serious challenges like Buckskin Pass (12,462ft). To get here, you'll need to catch a shuttle (Aspen Highlands; adult/child $6/4; ☎9am-4:30pm daily Jun 15-Aug, Fri-Sun Sep-Oct 6) from the Highlands.

The access road is only open to vehicle traffic ($10) from 5pm to 9am and is not plowed in winter. It can get awfully crowded, so if you prefer solitude, check out the Hunter-Fryingpan Wilderness near Basalt.

Ashcroft Ski Touring

SNOW SPORTS

(☎970-925-1971; www.pinecreekcookhouse.com/tours; 11399 Castle Creek Rd; adult/child $15/10; 🏠) Twenty miles of groomed Nordic trails through 600 acres of subalpine country with a truly spectacular backdrop. You can rent gear and sign up for various lessons and tours. Shuttles ($35) to/from Aspen are available.

🌟 Festivals

Aspen Music Festival

MUSIC

(☎970-925-9042; www.aspenmusicfestival.com; ☎Jul & Aug) Every summer classical musicians from around the world come to play, perform and learn from the masters of their craft.

🛏 Sleeping

Aspen is popular year-round. Reserve well in advance. The Aspen Ranger District (☎970-925-3445; www.fs.usda.gov/whiteriver; 806 W Hallam St; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) operates some-twenty campgrounds (☎877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; campsites $15-21) in the Maroon Bells, Independence Pass and Hunter-Fryingpan wilderness areas.

WORTH A TRIP

SCENIC DIVE: INDEPENDENCE PASS

Looming at 12,095ft, Independence Pass on Hwy 82 is one of the more high-profile passes along the Continental Divide. The views along the narrow ribbon of road range from pretty to stunning to downright cinematic, and by the time you glimpse summer snowfields just below knife-edged peaks, you'll be living in your own IMAX film. Stop at the ghost town of Independence (www.aspenhistorysociety.com; suggested donation $3; ☎10am-6pm mid-Jun-Aug) FREE on the way up. Hwy 82 is only open from late May to October.

St Moritz Lodge

HOSTEL $

(☎970-925-3220; www.stmoritzlodge.com; 334 W Hyman Ave; dm summer/winter $60/66, d summer $130-269, winter $155-299; 📶📶📶📶) St Moritz is the best no-frills deal in town. Perks include a heated outdoor pool and grill overlooking Aspen Mountain, and a lobby with games, books and a piano. The European-style lodge offers a wide variety of options, from quiet dorms to two-bedroom condos. The cheapest options share bathrooms. There's a kitchen downstairs.

Annabelle Inn

HOTEL $$$

(☎877-266-2466; www.annabelleinn.com; 232 W Main St; r incl breakfast summer/winter from $169/199; 📶📶📶📶) Personable and unpretentious, the cute and quirky Annabelle Inn resembles an old-school European-style ski lodge in a central location. Rooms are cozy and come with flat-screen TVs and warm duvets. You can also enjoy after-dark ski video screenings from the upper-deck hot tub (one of two on the property).

★ Limelight Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(☎800-433-0832; www.limelighthotel.com; 355 S Monarch St; r summer/winter from $245/395; 📶📶📶📶) Sleek and trendy, the Limelight's brick-and-glass modernism reflects Aspen's effortless alpine chic vibe. Rooms are spacious and have their perks: gas fireplaces, leather furnishings and mountain views from the balconies and rooftop terraces. In addition to the ski valet and shuttle services, you can also catch live music most winter nights in the lobby's Italian kitchen. Breakfast is included.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

★ Justice Snow's

PUB $$

(☎970-429-8192; www.justicesnows.com; 328 E Hyman Ave; mains $10-22; ☎11am-2am; 📶📶) 🍷 Located in the historic Wheeler Opera House, Justice Snow's is a retro-fitted old saloon that marries antique wooden furnishings with a deft modern touch. Although nominally a bar – the speakeasy cocktails give the place its soul – the affordable and locally sourced menu ($10 gourmet burger! in Aspen!) is what keeps the locals coming back.

The Meatball Shack

ITALIAN $$$

(☎970-925-1349; www.themeatballshack.com; 312 S Mill Rd; lunch $13, dinner $21-28; ☎11:30am-11:30pm; 🏠) 🍷 Helmed by Florentine chef Eddie Baida and NYC transplant Michael Gurtman, the shack specializes in – you guessed it – fettuccine and meatballs (nonna's, chicken or veal). It's quite the happening place come evening, but forget about the scene for a minute and concentrate on what's on your plate: this is some of the best Italian fare in the Rockies.

★ Pine Creek Cookhouse AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 970-925-1044; www.pinecreekcookhouse.com; 12700 Castle Creek Rd; lunch and summer dinner mains $13-41, winter dinner prix-fixe with ski tour/sleigh $90/110; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm daily, 2:30-8:30pm Wed-Sun Jun-Sep, seatings at noon & 1:30pm daily, plus 7pm Wed-Sun Dec-Mar; 🍷 🍴)

🍷 This log-cabin restaurant, located 1.5 miles past the Ashcroft ghost town at the end of Castle Creek Rd (about 30 minutes from Aspen), boasts the best setting around. In summer you can hike here; in winter it's cross country skis or horse-drawn sleigh in the shadow of glorious white-capped peaks. Sample alpine delicacies like house-smoked trout, buffalo tenderloin and grilled elk brats.

★ Aspen Brewing Co BREWERY

(www.aspenbrewingcompany.com; 304 E Hopkins Ave; ☀ noon-late daily; 🍷) With six signature flavors and a sun-soaked balcony facing the mountain, this casual spot is definitely the place to unwind after a hard day's play. Brews range from the flavorful This Year's Blonde and high-altitude Independence Pass Ale (its IPA) to the mellower Conundrum Red Ale and the chocolatey Pyramid Peak Porter.

Woody Creek Tavern PUB

(☎ 970-923-4585; www.woodycreektavern.com; 2 Woody Creek Plaza, 2858 Upper River Rd; ☀ 11am-10pm) Formerly one of Hunter S Thompson's favorite watering holes, this funky tavern is well worth the 8-mile trek from Aspen. The lunch menu features organic salads, low-fat but juicy burgers and popular Mexican food including some quality guacamole. The dinner menu is less imaginative, but there's plenty of alcohol. Eleven gallons of margaritas a day can't be wrong.

📍 Information

Aspen Visitor Center (☎ 970-925-1940; www.aspenchamber.org; 425 Rio Grande Pl; ☀ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri)

📍 Getting There & Around

Four miles north of Aspen on Hwy 82, Aspen-Pitkin County Airport (☎ 970-920-5380; www.aspenairport.com; 233 E Airport Rd; 🍷) has direct flights from Denver, Los Angeles, Dallas and Chicago. Colorado Mountain Express (☎ 800-525-6363; www.coloradomountain-express.com; adult/child $118/61; 🍷) runs frequent shuttles to/from Denver International Airport ($118, three hours).

Roaring Fork Transit Agency (www.rfta.com) buses connect Aspen with all four ski areas (free) and runs free trips to and from Aspen-Pitkin County Airport.

If you're driving, it's easiest to park in the public garage ($15 per day) next to the Aspen Visitor Center on Rio Grande Pl.

Salida

Blessed with one of the state's largest historic downtowns, Salida is not only a charming spot to explore, it also has an unbeatable location, with the Arkansas River on one side and the intersection of two mighty mountain ranges on the other. The plan of attack here is to raft, bike or hike during the day, then come back to town to refuel with grilled buffalo ribs and a cold IPA at night.

🚣 Activities

Most rafting companies are based just south of Buena Vista (25 miles north of Salida), near where Hwys 24 and 285 diverge.

Buffalo Joe's Whitewater Rafting RAFTING

(☎ 866-283-3563; www.buffalोजoe.com; 113 N Railroad St; half/full day adult $64/98, child $54/78; ☀ May-Sep; 🍷) One of the top river outfitters, this shop is located in downtown Buena Vista.

River Runners RAFTING

(☎ 800-723-8987; www.riverrunnersltd.com; 24070 Co Rd 301; half/full day adult $60/98, child $50/88; ☀ May-Sep; 🍷) Another recommended river outfitter based in both Buena Vista and the Royal Gorge.

Absolute Bikes BICYCLE RENTAL

(☎ 719-539-9295; www.absolutebikes.com; 330 W Sackett Rd; bike rental $40-80, tours from $90; ☀ 9am-7pm; 🍷) From the Monarch Crest and Rainbow Trails to across-the-river cruising. Maps, gear, advice, guided tours and rentals.

🏠 Sleeping

The Arkansas Headwaters Recreation Area operates six campgrounds (bring your own water) along the river. The nicest is Hecla Junction (☎ 800-678-2267; <http://coloradostateparks.reserveamerica.com>; Hwy 285, MM135; $16 per site; 🍷), located north of Salida. Reserve in summer.

RAFTING THE ARKANSAS RIVER

The headwaters of the Arkansas is Colorado's most popular stretch of river for rafters and kayakers, with everything from extreme rapids to mellow flatwater. Although most rafting companies cover the river from Leadville to the Royal Gorge, the most popular trips descend Brown's Canyon, a 22-mile stretch that includes class III/IV rapids. If you're with young kids or just looking for something mellower, Bighorn Sheep Canyon is a good bet. Those after more of an adrenaline rush can head upstream to the Numbers or downstream to the Royal Gorge, both of which are class IV/V.

Water flow varies by season, so time your visit for early June for a wilder ride – by the time August rolls around, the water level is usually pretty low. If you're rafting with kids, note that they need to be at least six years old and weigh a minimum 50 pounds.

★ Simple Lodge & Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 719-650-7381; www.simplelodge.com; 224 E 1st St; dm/d/q $24/55/76; ♿ ☎ 📺) If only Colorado had more spots like this. Run by a super-friendly husband-wife team (Jon and Julia), this hostel is simple but stylish, with a fully stocked kitchen and comfy communal area that feels just like home. It's a popular stopover for touring cyclists following the coast-to-coast Hwy 50.

🔪 Eating & Drinking

★ Amicas

PIZZA, MICROBREWERY $$

(www.amicassalida.com; 136 E 2nd St; pizzas & paninis $8.10-11.55; ☎ 11:30am-9pm; ♿ 📺) Thin-crust woodfired pizzas and six microbrews on tap? Amicas can do no wrong. This laid-back, high-ceilinged hangout (formerly a funeral parlor) is the perfect spot to replenish all those calories you burned off during the day. Savor a Michelangelo (pesto, sausage and goat cheese) or Vesuvio (artichoke hearts, sun-dried tomatoes, roasted peppers) alongside a cool glass of Headwaters IPA.

Fritz

TAPAS $$

(☎ 719-539-0364; <http://thefritzdowntown.com>; 113 East Sackett St; tapas $4-8, mains $9-14; ☎ 11am-2am; ♿) This fun and funky riverside watering hole serves up clever American-style tapas. Think Mac and three-cheese with bacon, fries with truffle aioli, shrimp curry and even bone marrow with red onion jam. It also does a mean grass-fed beef burger and other sandwiches at lunch. Good selection of beers on tap.

📍 Information

USFS Ranger Office (☎ 719-539-3591; www.fs.usda.gov; 5575 Cleora Rd; ☎ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) Located east of town off Hwy 50, with info on hiking and camping in the Collegiates and northern Sangre de Cristo ranges.

📍 Getting There & Away

Salida is located at the intersection of Hwys 285 and 50, west of Cañon City and south of Leadville. You'll need your own car to get here.

Colorado Springs

The site of one of the country's first destination resorts, Colorado Springs sits at the foot of majestic Pikes Peak. Pinned down with four military bases and recently beset by a series of devastating summer wildfires, the city has evolved into a strange and sprawling quilt of neighborhoods – visitors can best come to grips with the layout by dividing it in three. From east to west along Hwy 24 is the downtown district, an odd mix of fine art, Olympic dreams and downbeat desperation; Old Colorado City, whose Old West brothels and saloons now host restaurants and shops; and new agey Manitou Springs, whose mountainside location makes it the most visitor-friendly part of town.

📍 Sights & Activities

★ Pikes Peak

MOUNTAIN

(☎ 719-385-7325; www.springsgov.com; highway per adult/child $12/5; ☎ 7:30am-8pm Jun-Aug, 7:30am-5pm Sep, 9am-3pm Oct-May; ♿) Originally known as the Mountain of the Sun by the Ute, Pikes Peak (14,110ft) may not be the tallest of Colorado's 54 14ers, but it's certainly the most famous. Maybe because it's the only one with a train to the top? Or perhaps because the views from the summit inspired Katherine Bates to write the lyrics for America the Beautiful in 1893?

In all likelihood, its location as the easternmost 14er – rising 7400ft straight up from the plains – has contributed significantly to its renown. Today, over half a million visitors ascend its summit every year. The  cog rail- way (☎719-685-5401; www.cograilway.com; 515 Ruxton Ave; round-trip adult/child $35/19; ☀8am-5:20pm May-Oct, reduced hours rest of year; 🚶) leaves from Manitou Springs (about three hours 10 minutes round-trip), while the Pikes Peak Highway (about five hours round trip) climbs 19 miles to the top from Hwy 24 west of town. For an entirely different experience, consider hiking up (p763) instead.

Garden of the Gods PARK
(www.gardenofgods.com; 1805 N 30th St; ☀5am-11pm May-Oct, 5am-9pm Nov-Apr; 📄🚶) FREE
This gorgeous vein of red sandstone (about 290 million years old) appears elsewhere along Colorado's Front Range, but the exquisitely thin cathedral spires and mountain backdrop of the Garden of the Gods are particularly striking. Explore the network of paved and unpaved trails, enjoy a picnic and watch climbers test their nerve on the sometimes flaky rock.

In the summer, Rock Ledger Ranch (www.rockledgeranch.com; adult/child $8/4; ☀10am-5pm Wed-Sat Jun-mid-Aug; 📄🚶), a living history museum near the park entrance, is worth a visit for those interested in the lives of Native Americans and 19th-century homesteaders in the region.

★ Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center MUSEUM
(FAC; ☎719-634-5583; www.csfineartscenter.org; 30 W Dale St; adult/student $10/8.50; ☀10am-5pm Tue-Sun; 📄) A sophisticated collection with terrific Latin American art, Mexican clay figures, Native American basketry and quilts, wood-cut prints and abstract work from local artists. One of Colorado's best fine arts museums.

US Air Force Academy MILITARY ACADEMY
(☎719-333-2025; www.usafa.af.mil; I-25 exit 156B; ☀visitor center 9am-5pm; 📄) FREE One of the highest-profile military academies in the country, a visit to this campus offers a limited but nonetheless fascinating look into the lives of an elite group of cadets. The visitor center provides general background on the academy; from here you can walk over to the dramatic chapel (1963) or embark on a driving tour of the grounds. The entrance is via the North Gate, 14 miles north of Colorado Springs.

Barr Trail HIKING
(www.barrcamp.com; Hydro Dr) The tough 12.5-mile Barr Trail ascends Pikes Peak with a substantial 7400ft of elevation gain. Most hikers split the trip into two days, stopping to overnight at Barr Camp, the halfway point. If you're interested in doing it as a day hike, you can buy a one-way ticket up to Barr Camp ($22; first or last departure only) from the Cog Railway. The trailhead is just above the Manitou Springs cog railway depot; parking is $5.

★ Festivals & Events

Colorado Balloon Classic BALLOONING
(www.balloonclassic.com; 1605 E Pikes Peak Ave; ☀Labor Day weekend; 📄🚶) For nearly 40 years running, hot-air ballooners, both amateur and pro, have been launching Technicolor balloons just after sunrise for three straight days over the Labor Day weekend. You'll have to wake with the roosters to see it all, but it's definitely worth your while.

🛖 Sleeping

Barr Camp CAMPGROUND $
(www.barrcamp.com; tent sites $12, lean-tos $17, cabin dm $28; 📄) At the halfway point on the Barr Trail, about 6.5 miles from the Pikes Peak summit, you can pitch a tent, shelter in a lean-to or reserve a bare-bones cabin. There's drinking water and showers; dinner ($8) is available Wednesday to Sunday. Reservations are essential and must be made online in advance. It's open year-round.

Mining Exchange HOTEL $$
(☎719-323-2000; www.wyndham.com; 8 S Nevada Ave; r $135-200; 📄📞🚶) Opened in 2012 and set in the turn-of-the-century bank where Cripple Creek prospectors once traded in their gold for cash (check out the vault door in the lobby), the Mining Exchange takes the prize for Colorado Spring's most stylish hotel. Twelve-foot-high ceilings, exposed brick walls and leather furnishings make for an inviting, contemporary feel, though its downtown location lacks the charm of Manitou Springs. Excellent-value rates.

Two Sisters Inn B&B $$
(☎719-685-9684; www.twosisinnc.com; 10 Otoe Pl, Manitou Springs; r without bath $79-94, with bath $135-155; 📄📞🚶) A longtime favorite among B&B aficionados, this place has five rooms (including the honeymoon cottage out back) set in a rose-colored Victorian home, built in 1919 by two sisters. It was originally a boarding house for schoolteachers and has been an inn since 1990. There's a magnificent stained-glass front door and an 1896 piano in the parlor; it has won awards for its breakfast recipes.

CRIPPLE CREEK CASINOS

Just an hour from Colorado Springs yet worlds away, Cripple Creek hurls you back into the Wild West of lore. This once lucky lady produced a staggering $413 million in gold by 1952.

The booze still flows and gambling still thrives, but yesteryear's saloons and brothels are now modern casinos. If you're more interested in the regional history or simply need a break from the slots, check out the Heritage Center (www.visitcripplecreek.com; 9283 Hwy 67; ☺ 8am-7pm; ♿), the popular gold mine tour (www.goldminetours.com; 9388 Hwy 67; adult/child $18/10; ☺ 8:45am-6pm mid-May–Oct; ♿) and the narrow gauge railroad (<http://cripplecreekrailroad.com>; Bennet Ave; adult/child $13/8; ☺ 10am-5pm mid-May–mid-Oct; ♿) to historic Victor.

Cripple Creek is 50 miles southwest of Colorado Springs on scenic Hwy 67. For an even more impressive drive, check out the old Gold Camp Rd (Hwy 336) out of Victor on the way home. It's unpaved and narrow, but provides spectacular views. It takes about 90 minutes down to the Springs. Alternatively, catch the Ramblin' Express (☎ 719-590-8687; www.ramblinexpress.com; round-trip tickets $25; ☺ departures 7am-midnight Wed-Sun) from Colorado Springs' 8th St Depot.

Broadmoor

RESORT $$$

(☎ 855-634-7711; www.broadmoor.com; 1 Lake Ave; r from $280-500; ♿ ♿ ♿ ♿ ♿) One of the top five-star resorts in the US, the 744-room Broadmoor sits in a picture-perfect location against the blue-green slopes of Cheyenne Mountain. Everything here is exquisite: acres of lush grounds and a lake, a glimmering pool, world-class golf, myriad bars and restaurants, an incredible spa and ubercomfortable guest rooms (which, it must be said, are of the 'grandmother' school of design).

There's a reason that hundreds of Hollywood stars, A-list pro athletes and nearly every president since FDR have made it a point to visit.

 Eating & Drinking

Shuga's

CAFE $

(www.shugas.com; 702 S Cascade St; dishes $8-9; ☺ 11am-midnight; ♿ ♿) If you thought Colorado Springs couldn't be hip, stroll to Shuga's, a southern-style cafe with a knack for knockout espresso drinks and hot cocktails. Cuter than buttons, this little white house is decked out in paper cranes and red vinyl chairs. There's also patio seating. The food – brie BLT on rosemary toast, Brazilian coconut shrimp soup – comforts and delights. Don't miss vintage-movie Saturdays.

★ Marigold

FRENCH $$

(☎ 719-599-4776; www.marigoldcafeandbakery.com; 4605 Centennial Blvd; lunch $8.25-11, dinner $9-19; ☺ 11am-2:30pm & 5pm-9pm Mon-Sat, bakery 8am-9pm) Way out by the Garden of the Gods is this buzzy French bistro and bakery that's easy on both the palate and the wallet. Feast on delicacies such as snapper Marseillaise, garlic and rosemary rotisserie chicken, and gourmet salads and pizzas, and be sure to leave room for the double (and triple!) chocolate mousse cake and lemon tarts.

Adam's Mountain Cafe

MODERN AMERICAN $$

(☎ 719-685-1430; www.adamsmountain.com; 934 Manitou Ave; mains $9-19; ☺ 8am-3pm daily, 5-9pm Tue-Sat; ♿ ♿ ♿) In Manitou Springs, this slow-food cafe makes a lovely stop. Breakfast includes orange-almond French toast and huevos rancheros (eggs and beans on a tortilla). Lunch and dinner are more eclectic with offerings such as Moroccan chicken, pasta gremolata and grilled watermelon salad. The interior is airy and attractive with marble floors and exposed rafters, and there's patio dining and occasional live music too.

Jake &amp; Telly's

GREEK $$

(☎ 719-633-0406; www.greekdining.com; 2616 W Colorado Ave; lunch $9-12, dinner $16-24.50; ☺ 11:30am-9pm daily; ♿ ♿) One of the best choices in Old Colorado City, this eatery looks slightly touristy – lots of Greek monument murals on the walls and themed music on the stereo – but the food is absolutely delicious. It does a nice Greek-dip sandwich as well as traditional dishes such as souvlaki, dolmadas and spanakopita. It's set on a 2nd-story terrace above a magic wand shop.

★ Swirl

WINE BAR

(www.swirlwineemporium.com; 717 Manitou Ave; ☺ noon-10pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Behind a stylish bottle shop in Manitou Springs, this nook bar is intimate and cool.

The garden patio has dangling lights and vines while inside are antique armchairs and a fireplace. If you're feeling peckish, sample the tapas and homemade pasta.

Bristol Brewing Co

BEWERY

(www.bristolbrewing.com; 1604 S Cascade Ave; ☺ 11am-10pm; ☺) Although a bit out of the way in south Colorado Springs, this brewery – which in 2013 spearheaded a community center in the shuttered Ivywild Elementary School – is worth seeking out for its Laughing Lab ale and Blue Star-inspired pub grub. Other back-to-school tenants include a bakery, deli, cafe, art gallery and movie theater in the former gym.

i Information

Colorado Springs Convention and Visitors Bureau (☎ 719-635-7506; www.visitcos.com; 515 S Cascade Ave; ☺ 8:30am-5pm; ☺)

i Getting There & Around

Colorado Springs Municipal Airport (☎ 719-550-1900; www.springsgov.com; 7770 Milton E Proby Parkway; ☺) is a viable alternative to Denver. The Yellow Cab (☎ 719-777-7777) fare from the airport to the city center is $30.

Buses between Cheyenne, WY, and Pueblo, CO, stop daily at Greyhound (☎ 719-635-1505; 120 S Weber St). Mountain Metropolitan Transit (www.springsgov.com; per trip $1.75, day pass $4) offers schedule information and route maps for all local buses; find information online.

All street parking is meter only; if you have your own wheels, bring lots of quarters.

Southern Colorado

Home to the dramatic San Juan and Sangre de Cristo mountain ranges, Colorado's bottom half is just as pretty as its top, has fewer people and is filled with stuff to see and do.

Crested Butte

Powder-bound Crested Butte has retained its rural character better than most Colorado ski resorts. Remote, and ringed by three wilderness areas, this former mining village is counted among Colorado's best ski resorts (some say it's the best). The old town center features beautifully preserved Victorian-era buildings refitted with shops and businesses. Strolling two-wheel traffic matches its laid-back, happy attitude.

Most everything in town is on Elk Ave, including the visitor center (☎ 970-349-6438; www.crestedbuttechamber.com; 601 Elk Ave; ☺ 9am-5pm).

★ Crested Butte Mountain Resort (☎ 970-349-2222; www.skicb.com; 12 Snowmass Rd; lift ticket adult/child $98/54; 🏠) sits 2 miles north of the town at the base of the impressive mountain of the same name, surrounded by forests, rugged mountain peaks and the West Elk, Raggeds and Maroon Bells-Snowmass Wilderness Areas. The scenery is breathtakingly beautiful. It caters mostly to intermediate and expert riders.

Crested Butte is also a mountain-biking mecca, full of excellent high-altitude single-track trails. For maps, information and mountain-bike rentals, visit the Alpineer (☎ 970-349-5210; www.alpineer.com; 419 6th St; bike rental per day $20-55; 🏠).

Crested Butte International Hostel (☎ 970-349-0588, toll-free 888-389-0588; www.crestedbuttehostel.com; 615 Teocalli Ave; dm $35, d shared bath $89, r $99-109; ☺) is one of Colorado's nicest hostels. The best private rooms have their own baths. Dorm bunks come with reading lamps and lockable drawers. The communal area is mountain rustic with a stone fireplace and comfortable couches. Rates vary dramatically by season, with fall being cheapest.

With phenomenal food, the funky-casual Secret Stash (☎ 970-349-6245; www.theseecretstash.com; 303 Elk Ave; mains $8-20; ☺ 8am-late; 🍷🍸) is adored by locals, who also dig the original cocktails. The house specialty is pizza; its Notorious Fig (with prosciutto, fresh figs and truffle oil) won the World Pizza Championship. Breakfast is best enjoyed at Izzy's (218 Maroon Ave; mains $7-9; ☺ 7am-1pm Wed-Mon), where fresh bagels, eggs and latkes are served at crowded picnic tables.

The original Montanya (130 Elk; snacks $3-12; ☺ 11am-9pm) distillery has moved here, with wide acclaim. Its basilini, made with basil-infused rum, fresh grapefruit and lime, will have you levitating. For music, lively Eldo Brewpub (☎ 970-349-6125; www.eldobrewpub.com; 215 Elk Ave; cover charge varies; ☺ 3pm-late, music from 10:30pm; 🍷) is one of the town's most popular microbreweries, it also hosts the most out-of-town bands. Check out the great deck.

Crested Butte's air link to the outside world is Gunnison County Airport (☎ 970-641-2304), 28 miles south of the town. Shuttle Alpine Express (☎ 970-641-5074; www.alpineexpressshuttle.com; per person $34) goes to Crested Butte; reserve ahead in summer.

The free Mountain Express (☎970-349-7318; www.mtnexp.org) connects Crested Butte with Mt Crested Butte every 15 minutes in winter, less often in other seasons; check times at bus stops.

Ouray

With gorgeous ice falls draping the box canyon and soothing hot springs that dot the valley floor, Ouray is a privileged place for nature, even for Colorado. For ice-climbers it's a world-class destination, but hikers and 4WD fans can also appreciate its rugged (and sometimes stunning) charms. The town is a well-preserved quarter-mile mining village sandwiched between imposing peaks.

Between Silverton and Ouray, US 550 is one of the state's most memorable drives and is paved, but the road is scary in rain or snow, so take extra care.

Activities

The visitor center is at the hot-springs pool. Check out their leaflet on an excellent walking tour that takes in two-dozen buildings and houses constructed between 1880 and 1904.

Ouray Ice Park

ICE CLIMBING

(☎970-325-4061; www.ourayicepark.com; Hwy 361; ☀7am-5pm mid-Dec–March; 🚰) FREE Enthusiasts from around the globe come to ice climb at the world's first public ice park, spanning a 2-mile stretch of the Uncompahgre Gorge. The sublime (if chilly) experience offers something for all skill levels.

★ Chicks with Picks

COURSE, CLIMBING

(☎970-316-1403, office 970-626-4424; www.chickswithpicks.net; 163 County Rd 12) Arming women with ice tools and crampons, this group of renowned women athletes gives excellent instruction for all-comers (beginners included) in rock climbing, bouldering and ice climbing. Programs are fun and change frequently, with multiday excursions or town-based courses. The climbing clinics also go on the road all over the US.

Ouray Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS

(☎970-325-7073; www.ourayhotsprings.com; 1220 Main St; adult/child $12/8; ☀10am-10pm Jun-Aug, noon-9pm Mon-Fri & 11am-9pm Sat & Sun Sep-May; 🚰) For a healing soak, try the historic Ouray Hot Springs. The natural spring water is free of the sulfur smells plaguing other hot springs around here, and the pool features a variety of soaking areas at temperatures ranging from 96° to 106°F (35.5° to 41°C). The complex also offers a gym and massage service.

San Juan

Mountain Guides

ROCK CLIMBING, SKIING

(☎800-642-5389, 970-325-4925; www.ourayclimbing.com; 725 Main St; 🚰) Ouray's own professional guiding and climbing group is certified with the International Federation of Mountain Guides Association (IFMGA). It specializes in ice and rock climbing and wilderness backcountry skiing.

DON'T MISS

SCENIC DRIVE: SAN JUAN MOUNTAIN PASSES

With rugged peaks and deep canyon drops, the scenery of the San Juan mountain range is hard to beat. Suitable for all vehicles, the Million Dollar Highway (US 550) takes its name from the valuable ore in the roadbed. But the scenery is also golden – the paved road clings to crumbly mountains, passing old mine-head frames and big alpine scenery.

A demanding but fantastic drive, the 65-mile Alpine Loop Backcountry Byway (www.alpineloop.com) begins in Ouray and travels east to Lake City – a wonderful mountain hamlet worth a visit – before looping back to its starting point. Along the way you'll cross two 12,000ft mountain passes and swap pavement and people for solitude, spectacular views and abandoned mining haunts. You'll need a high-clearance 4WD vehicle and some off-road driving skills to conquer this drive: allow six hours.

Spectacular during autumn for the splendor of its yellow aspens, Ophir Pass connects Ouray to Telluride via a former wagon road. The moderate 4WD route passes former mines, with a gradual ascent to 11,789ft. To get there, drive south of Ouray on Hwy 550 for 18.1 miles to the right-hand turnoff for National Forest Access, Ophir Pass.

As with all 4WD routes and mountain passes, check for road closures before going. The road is scary in rain or snow, so take extra care.

★ Festivals & Events

Ouray Ice Festival

ICE CLIMBING

(☎ 970-325-4288; www.ourayicefestival.com; donation for evening events; ☀ Jan; 🏠) The Ouray Ice Festival features four days of climbing competitions, dinners, slide shows and clinics in January. There's even a climbing wall set up for kids. You can watch the competitions for free, but to check out the various evening events you will need to make a donation to the ice park. Once inside you'll get free brews from popular Colorado microbrewer New Belgium.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Amphitheater Forest

Service Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 877-444-6777; <http://www.recreation.gov>; US Hwy 550; tent sites $16; ☀ Jun-Aug) With great tent sites under the trees, this high-altitude campground is a score. On holiday weekends a three-night minimum applies. South of town on Hwy 550, take a signposted left-hand turn.

★ Wiesbaden

HOTEL $$

(☎ 970-325-4347; www.wiesbadenhotsprings.com; 625 5th St; r $132-347; 🏠 ☀ ☹) Few hotels can boast their own natural indoor vapor cave (long ago used by Chief Ouray). This quirky New Age inn charms with quilted bedcovers, free organic coffee and a spacious outdoor hot-spring pool. Guests can use the Aveda salon or book a private, clothing-optional soaking tub with a waterfall ($35 per hour).

Box Canyon Lodge & Hot Springs

LODGE $$

(☎ 970-325-4981, 800-327-5080; www.boxcanyonouray.com; 45 3rd Ave; r $110-165, apt $278-319; 🏠) With geothermal heat, these pine-board rooms are toasty and spacious. A set of outdoor spring-fed barrel hot tubs are perfect for a romantic stargazing soak. Book well ahead.

Buen Tiempo Mexican

Restaurant & Cantina

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 970-325-4544; 515 Main St; mains $7-20; ☀ 6-10pm; 🍷) From the chili-rubbed sirloin to the posole (hearty hominy soup) served with warm tortillas, Buen Tiempo delivers. Start with one of its signature margaritas, served with chips and spicy homemade salsa.

📍 Information

Visitor Center (☎ 970-325-4746; www.ouray-colorado.com; 1220 Main St; ☀ 9am-5pm)

📍 Getting There & Away

Ouray is 24 miles north of Silverton along US 550 and best reached by private vehicle.

Telluride

Surrounded on three sides by mastodon peaks, exclusive Telluride feels cut off from the hubbub of the outside world, and it often is. Once a rough mining town, today it's dirtbag-meets-diva - mixing the few who can afford the real estate with those scratching out a slope-side living for the sport of it. The town center still has palpable old-time charm and the surroundings are simply gorgeous.

Colorado Ave, also known as Main St, is where you'll find most businesses. From downtown you can reach the ski mountain via two lifts and the gondola. The latter also links Telluride with Mountain Village, the true base for the Telluride Ski Area. Located 7 miles from town along Hwy 145, Mountain Village is a 20-minute drive east, but is only 12 minutes away by gondola (free for foot passengers).

Activities

Telluride Ski Resort

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 970-728-7533, 888-288-7360; www.telluride-ski-resort.com; 565 Mountain Village Blvd; lift tickets $98) Covering three distinct areas, Telluride Ski Resort is served by 16 lifts. Much of the terrain is for advanced and intermediate skiers, but there's still ample choice for beginners.

Festivals & Events

★ Mountainfilm

FILM

(www.mountainfilm.org; ☀ Memorial Day weekend, May) A four-day screening of outdoor adventure and environmental films on Memorial Day weekend.

Telluride Bluegrass Festival

MUSIC

(☎ 800-624-2422; www.planetbluegrass.com; 4-day pass $195; ☀ late Jun) A wild frolic held in June, with all-day and evening music, food stalls and local microbrews. Camping is popular during the festival. Check out the website for info on sites, shuttle services and combo ticket-and-camping packages - it's all very organized!

Telluride Film Festival

FILM

(☎ 603-433-9202; www.telluridefilmfestival.com) National and international films are premiered throughout town in early September, and the event attracts big-name stars. For more information on the relatively complicated pricing scheme, visit the film festival website.

Sleeping

Telluride's lodgings can fill quickly, and for the best rates it's best to book online. Unless you're planning to camp, however, don't expect budget deals. Telluride's activities and festivals keep it busy year-round. For vacation rentals, the most reputable agency is Telluride Alpine Lodging (☎ 888-893-0158; www.telluridelodging.com; 324 W Colorado Ave).

Telluride Town Park Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 970-728-2173; 500 E Colorado Ave; campsite with/without vehicle space $23/15; ☀ mid-May-mid-Oct; 🏠) Right in the center of town, these 20 sites have access to showers, swimming and tennis. It fills up quickly in the high season. For other campgrounds within 10 miles of town, check with the visitor center. 'Walk-in' camping spots don't have space for a car, but you can park your car in an adjacent lot.

Victorian Inn

LODGE $$

(☎ 970-728-6601; www.victorianintelluride.com; 401 W Pacific Ave; r incl breakfast from $124; 🍷 🍷 🍷) The smell of fresh cinnamon rolls greets visitors at one of Telluride's better deals, offering comfortable rooms (some with kitchenettes), and a hot tub and dry sauna in a nice garden area. Staff are friendly and guests get lift-ticket discounts. Kids aged 12 and under stay free, and you can't beat the downtown location.

Hotel Columbia

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 970-728-0660, toll-free 800-201-9505; www.columbiatelluride.com; 300 W San Juan Ave; d/ste from $175/305; 📞 🚗 🍷 🍷 🍷) Locally owned and operated, this stylish hotel pampers guests. The gondola is across the street, so leave your gear in the ski and boot storage and head directly to a room with espresso maker, fireplace and heated tile floors. With shampoo dispensers and recycling, it's also pretty ecofriendly. Other highlights include a rooftop hot tub and fitness room.

Eating & Drinking

For the best deals, look for food carts serving Mediterranean food, hot dogs, tacos and coffee on Colorado Ave.

★ La Cocina de Luz

MEXICAN, ORGANIC $$

(www.lacocinatelluride.com; 123 E Colorado Ave; mains $9-19; ☀ 9am-9pm; 🍷) 🍷 As they lovingly serve two Colorado favorites (organic and Mexican), it's no wonder that the lunch line runs deep at this healthy taqueria. Delicious details include a salsa and chip bar, handmade tortillas and margaritas with organic lime and agave nectar. Vegan, gluten-free options too.

The Butcher & The Baker

CAFE $$

(☎ 970-728-3334; 217 E Colorado Ave; mains $10-14; ☀ 7am-7pm Mon-Sat, 8am-2pm Sun; 📞) 🍷 Two veterans of upscale local catering started this heartbreakingly cute cafe, and no one beats it for breakfast. Organic ingredients and locally sourced meats make it a cut above. The to-go sandwiches are the best bet for a gourmet meal on the trail.

Brown Dog Pizza

PIZZA $$

(☎ 970-728-8046; www.browndogpizza.net; 10 E Colorado Ave; pizzas $10-22; ☀ 11am-10pm) The pizza? It's thin crust and fair enough, but the crowd makes the place interesting. Ten minutes after you belly up to the bar for a slice and a cheap pint of Pabst, you'll be privy to all the local dirt. Among the most affordable meals on the strip.

New Sheridan Bar

BAR

(☎ 970-728-3911; www.newsheridan.com; 231 W Colorado Ave; ☀ 5pm-2am) Mixes real local flavor with the see-and-be-seen crowd. Most of this historic bar survived the waning mining fortunes even as the adjoining hotel sold off

WORTH A TRIP

COLORADO HUT TO HUT

An exceptional way to enjoy hundreds of miles of single-track in summer or virgin powder slopes in winter, San Juan Hut Systems (☎ 970-626-3033; www.sanjuanhuts.com; per person $30) continues the European tradition of hut-to-hut adventures with five backcountry mountain huts. Bring just your food, flashlight (torch) and sleeping bag; amenities include padded bunks, propane stoves, wood stoves for heating and firewood.

Mountain-biking routes go from Durango or Telluride to Moab, winding through high alpine and desert regions. Or pick one hut as your base for a few days of backcountry skiing or riding. There's terrain for all levels, though skiers should have knowledge of snow and avalanche conditions. If not, go with a guide.

The website has helpful tips and information on rental skis, bikes and (optional) guides based in Ridgway or Ouray.

chandeliers to pay the bills. Look for the bullet holes in the wall.

There

COCKTAIL BAR

(☎ 970-728-1213; <http://therebars.com>; 627 W Pacific Ave; appetizers from $4; ☎ 5pm-12am Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat-Sun) A hip social alcove for cocktails and nibbling, plus weekend brunch. For those with a bigger appetite, there's shareable entrees. East-meets-West in yummy lettuce wraps, duck ramen and sashimi tostadas, paired with original hand-shaken drinks. We liked the jalapeño kiss.

★ Entertainment

Fly Me to the Moon Saloon

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 970-728-6666; 132 E Colorado Ave; ☎ 3pm-2am) Let your hair down and kick up your heels to the tunes of live bands at this saloon, the best place in Telluride to groove to live music.

Sheridan Opera House

THEATER

(☎ 970-728-4539; www.sheridanoperahouse.com; 110 N Oak St; 🎫) This historic venue has a burlesque charm and is always the center of Telluride's cultural life.

i Information

Visitor Center (☎ 888-353-5473, 970-728-3041; www.telluride.com; 398 W Colorado Ave; ☎ 9am-5pm)

i Getting There & Around

Commuter aircraft serve the mesa-top Telluride Airport (☎ 970-778-5051; www.tellurideairport.com; Last Dollar Rd) 5 miles east of town on Hwy 145. If the weather is poor, flights may be diverted to Montrose, 65 miles north. For car rental, National and Budget both have airport locations.

In ski season Montrose Regional Airport, 66 miles north, has direct flights to and from Denver (on United), Houston, Phoenix and limited cities on the East Coast.

Shared shuttles by Telluride Express (☎ 970-728-6000; www.tellurideexpress.com) go from the Telluride Airport to town or Mountain Village for $15. Shuttles between the Montrose Airport and Telluride cost $50.

Mesa Verde National Park

Shrouded in mystery, Mesa Verde, with its cliff dwellings and verdant valley walls, is a fascinating, if slightly eerie, national park to explore. It is here that a civilization of Ancestral Puebloans appears to have vanished in AD 1300, leaving behind a complex civilization

DON'T MISS

TELLURIDE'S GREAT OUTDOORS

Sure, the festivals are great, but there's much more to a Telluride summer.

Mountain biking

Follow the River Trail from Town Park to Hwy 145 for 2 miles. Join Mill Creek Trail west of the Texaco gas station; it climbs and follows the contour of the mountain and ends at the Jud Wiebe Trail (hikers only).

Hiking

Just over 2 miles, Bear Creek Trail ascends 1040ft to a beautiful cascading waterfall. From here you can access the strenuous Wasatch Trail, a 12-mile loop that heads west across the mountains to Bridal Veil Falls – Telluride's most impressive waterfalls. The Bear Creek trailhead is at the south end of Pine St, across the San Miguel River.

Cycling

A 31-mile (one-way) trip, Lizard Head Pass features amazing mountain panoramas.

of cliff dwellings, some accessed by sheer climbs. Mesa Verde is unique among parks for its focus on preserving this civilization's cultural relics so that future generations may continue to interpret the puzzling settlement, and subsequent abandonment, of the area.

Mesa Verde rewards travelers who set aside a day or more to take the ranger-led tours of Cliff Palace and Balcony House, explore Wetherill Mesa or participate in one of the campfire programs. But if you only have time for a short visit, check out the Chapin Mesa Museum and walk through the Spruce Tree House, where you can climb down a wooden ladder into the cool chamber of a kiva (ceremonial structure, usually partly underground).

👁️ Sights & Activities

Chapin Mesa Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 970-529-4475; www.nps.gov/meve; Chapin Mesa Rd; admission included with park entry; ☎ 8am-6:30pm Apr-mid-Oct, 8am-5pm mid-Oct-Apr; 🎫 🚻) A good first stop, with detailed dioramas and exhibits pertaining to the park. When park headquarters are closed on weekends, staff at the museum provide information.

Chapin Mesa ARCHEOLOGICAL SITE

The largest concentration of Ancestral Puebloan sites is at Chapin Mesa, where you'll see the densely clustered Far View Site and the large Spruce Tree House, the most accessible of sites, with a paved half-mile round-trip path.

If you want to see Cliff Palace or Balcony House, the only way is through an hour-long ranger-led tour booked in advance at the visitor center ($3). These tours are extremely popular; go early in the morning or a day in advance to book. Balcony House requires climbing a 32ft and 60ft ladder – those with medical problems should skip it.

Wetherill Mesa ARCHEOLOGICAL SITE

This is the second-largest concentration. Visitors may enter stabilized surface sites and two cliff dwellings, including the Long House, open late May to August. South from Park Headquarters, the 6-mile Mesa Top Road connects excavated mesa-top sites, accessible cliff dwellings and vantage points to view inaccessible dwellings from the mesa rim.

★ Aramark Mesa Verde HIKING

(☎ 970-529-4421; www.visitmesaverde.com; adult $42-48) Highly recommended, these backcountry ranger tours are run through the park concessionaire. Backcountry hikes sell out fast, since they provide exclusive access to Square House (via an exposed one-mile hike) and Spring House (an eight-hour, 8-mile hike), but make very personalized trips to excavated pit homes, cliff dwellings and the Spruce Tree House daily from May to mid-October. Tickets available only online.

🍴 Sleeping & Eating

The nearby towns of Cortez and Mancos have plenty of midrange places to stay; inside the park there's camping and a lodge.

Morefield Campground CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 970-529-4465; www.visitmesaverde.com; North Rim Rd; tent/RV site $29/37; ☺ May–early-Oct; 🏠) 🌿 Deluxe campers will dig the big canvas tents kitted out with two cots and a lantern. The park's camping option, located 4 miles from the entrance gate, also has 445 regular tent sites on grassy grounds conveniently located near Morefield Village. The village has a general store, gas station, restaurant, free showers and laundry. Free evening campfire programs take place nightly from Memorial Day (May) to Labor Day (September) at the Morefield Campground Amphitheater.

Far View Lodge LODGE $$

(☎ 970-529-4421, toll-free 800-449-2288; www.visitmesaverde.com; North Rim Rd; r $115-184; ☺ mid-Apr–Oct; 📶 🚰 🚿) Perched on a mesa top 15 miles inside the park entrance, this tasteful Pueblo-style lodge has 150 rooms, some with kiva fireplaces. Standard rooms don't have air con (or TV) and summer daytimes can be hot. The Southwestern-style kiva rooms are a worthwhile upgrade, with balconies, pounded copper sinks and bright patterned blankets. You can even bring your dog for an extra $10 per night.

Far View Terrace Café CAFE $

(☎ 970-529-4421, toll-free 800-449-2288; www.visitmesaverde.com; North Rim Rd; dishes from $5; ☺ 7-10am, 11am-3pm & 5-8pm May–mid-Oct; 📶 🚰 🚿) Housed in Far View Lodge, this self-service place offers reasonably priced meals. Don't miss the house special – the Navajo Taco.

Metate Room MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 800-449-2288; www.visitmesaverde.com; North Rim Rd; mains $15-28; ☺ 5-7:30pm year-round, & 7-10am Apr–mid-Oct; 📶 🚰 🚿) 🌿 Featuring lovely views, this innovative restaurant in the Far View Lodge offers regional flavors with some innovation, serving dishes such as cinnamon chili pork, elk shepherd's pie and trout crusted in pine nuts. You can also get local Colorado beers.

📍 Information

The park entrance is off US 160, midway between Cortez and Mancos. New in 2012, the Mesa Verde Visitor and Research Center (☎ 800-305-6053, 970-529-5034; www.nps.gov/meve; North Rim Rd; ☺ 8am-7pm daily Jun–early Sep, 8am-5pm early Sep–mid-Oct, closed mid-Oct–May; 📶 🚰 🚿), located near the entrance, has information and news on park closures (many areas are closed in winter). It also sells tickets for  tours ($3) of the magnificent Cliff Palace or Balcony House.

Durango

An archetypal old Colorado mining-town, Durango is a regional darling that is nothing short of delightful. Its graceful hotels, Victorian-era saloons and tree-lined streets of sleepy bungalows invite you to pedal around soaking up all the good vibes. There is plenty to do outdoors. Style-wise, Durango is torn between its ragtime past and a cool, cutting-edge future where townie bikes, caffeine and farmers markets rule.

The town's historic central precinct is home to boutiques, bars, restaurants and theater halls. Foodies will revel in the innovative organic and locavore fare that is making it the best place to eat in the state. But the interesting galleries and live music, combined with a relaxed and congenial local populace, also make it a great place to visit.

Activities

Mountain Biking

CYCLING

From steep single-track to scenic road rides, Durango is a national hub for mountain biking. The easy Old Railroad Grade Trail is a 12.2-mile loop that uses both US Hwy 160 and a dirt road following the old railway tracks. From Durango take Hwy 160 west through the town of Hesperus. Turn right into the Cherry Creek Picnic Area, where the trail starts. For something a bit more technical, try Dry Fork Loop, accessible from Lightner Creek just west of town. It has some great drops, blind corners and vegetation. Cycling shops on Main or Second Ave rent out mountain bikes.

★ Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad

RAILWAY

(☎ 970-247-2733, toll-free 877-872-4607; www.durangotrain.com; 479 Main Ave; adult/child return from $85/51; ☺ departure at 8am, 8:45am, 9:30am; 🚿) Riding the Durango Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad is a Durango must. These vintage steam locomotives have been making the scenic 45-mile trip north to Silverton (3½ hours each way) for over 125 years. The dazzling journey allows two hours for exploring Silverton. This trip operates only from May through October. Check online for different winter options.

Durango Mountain Resort

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 970-247-9000; www.durangomountainresort.com; 1 Skier Pl; lift tickets adult/child from $75/45; ☺ mid-Nov–Mar; 🚿) Also known as Purgatory, this resort, 25 miles north on US 550, offers 1200 skiable acres of varying difficulty and boasts 260in of snow per year. Two terrain parks offer plenty of opportunities for snowboarders to catch big air. Check local grocery stores and newspapers for promotions and two-for-one lift tickets.

Sleeping

Hometown Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 970-385-4115; www.durangohometownhostel.com; 736 Goeglein Gulch Rd; dm $28; ☺ reception 3:30-8pm; 📺 @ 📺) The bee's knees of hostels, this suburban-style house sits on the winding road up to the college, next to a convenient bike path. A better class of backpackers, it's all-inclusive, with linen, towels, lockers and wi-fi. There are two single-sex dorms and a larger mixed dorm, and a great common kitchen and lounge area. Room rates fall with extended stays.

Adobe Inn

MOTEL $

(☎ 970-247-2743; www.durangohotels.com; 2178 Main Ave; d $84; 📺 @ 📺) Locally voted the best value lodging, this friendly motel gets the job done with clean, decent rooms and friendly service. You might even be able to talk them into giving their best rate if you arrive late night. Check out their Durango tip sheet.

★ Rochester House

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 970-385-1920, toll-free 800-664-1920; www.rochesterhotel.com; 721 E 2nd Ave; d $169-229; 📺 @ 📺) Influenced by old Westerns (movie posters and marquee lights adorn the hallways), the Rochester is a little bit of old Hollywood in the new West. It's linked to smaller accommodations, Leland House, across the street, where all guests check in. Rooms in both are spacious but slightly worn, some with kitchenettes. Still, you can't beat the cool townie bikes, available for guests to take spins around town. Pet rooms come with direct access outside.

Strater Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 970-247-4431; www.strater.com; 699 Main Ave; d $197-257; 📺 @ 📺) The past lives large in this historical Durango hotel with walnut antiques, hand-stenciled wallpapers and relics ranging from a Stradivarius violin to a gold-plated Winchester. But we can boast about the friendly staff, who go out of their way to resolve guests' queries. Rooms lean toward the romantic, with comfortable beds amid antiques, crystal and lace. The hot tub is a romantic plus (reserved by the hour) as is the summertime melodrama (theater) the hotel runs. In winter, rates drop by more than 50%, making it a virtual steal. Look online.

Eating & Drinking

Durango has a fantastic dining scene, especially strong on organic and locally sourced foods. Get a local dining guide (available in most hostels and at the visitors center) for all the options. It's also home to a slew of breweries.

Homeslice

PIZZERIA $

(☎ 970-259-5551; <http://homeslicedelivers.com>; 441 E College Ave; slice $4; ☺ 11am-10pm) Locals pile into this no-frills pizza place for thick pies with bubbly crust, sriracha sauce on the side. There's patio seating, gluten-free crust options and salads too.

Durango Diner

DINER $$

(☎ 970-247-9889; www.durangodiner.com; 957 Main Ave; mains $7-18; ☺ 6am-2pm Mon-Sat, 6am-1pm Sun; ♿ ♻️) Enjoy the open view of the griddle at this lovable greasy spoon with monstrous plates of eggs, smothered burritos or French toast. It's a local institution.

Jean Pierre Bakery

FRENCH, BAKERY $$

(☎ 970-247-7700; www.jeanpierrebakery.com; 601 Main Ave; mains $9-22; ☺ 8am-9pm; ♿ ♻️) This French patisserie has tempting delicacies made from scratch. Prices are dear, but the soup-and-sandwich lunch special, with a sumptuous French pastry (we recommend the sticky pecan roll), is a good deal.

East by Southwest

FUSION, SUSHI $$

(☎ 970-247-5533; <http://eastbysouthwest.com>; 160 E College Dr; sushi $4-13, mains $12-24; ☺ 11:30am-3pm, 5-10pm Mon-Sat, 5-10pm Sun; ♿ ♻️) Low-lit but vibrant, this is a worthy local favorite. Skip the standards for goosebump-good house favorites like sashimi with jalapeño and rolls with mango and wasabi honey. Fish is fresh and sustainably sourced. An extensive fusion menu also offers Thai, Vietnamese and Indonesian, well matched with creative martinis and sake cocktails. For a deal, hit the happy-hour food specials (5pm to 6:30pm).

Steamworks Brewing

BREWERY

(☎ 970-259-9200; www.steamworksbrewing.com; 801 E 2nd Ave; mains $10-15; ☺ 11am-midnight Mon-Thur, 11am-2am Fri-Sun) DJs and live music pump up the volume at this industrial micro-brewery with high sloping rafters and metal pipes. College kids fill the large bar area, but there's also a separate dining room with a Cajun-influenced menu.

Diamond Belle Saloon

BAR

(☎ 970-376-7150; www.strater.com; 699 Main Ave; ☺ 11am-late; ♻️) A rowdy corner of the historic Strater Hotel, this elegant old-time bar has waitresses dressed in vintage Victorian garb and flashing fishnets, and live ragtime that keeps out-of-town visitors packed in – standing room only at happy hour (4pm to 6pm daily). The food is below average.

Information

Visitor Center (☎ 800-525-8855; www.durango.org; 111 S Camino del Rio) South of town at the Santa Rita exit from US 550.

Getting There & Around*Durango-La Plata County Airport (DRO; ☎ 970-247-8143; www.flydurango.com; 1000 Airport Rd) is 18 miles southwest of Durango via US 160 and Hwy 172. Greyhound buses run daily from the Durango Bus Center (☎ 970 259 2755; 275 E 8th Ave), north to Grand Junction and south to Albuquerque, NM.

Check Durango Transit (☎ 970-259-5438; www.getarounddurango.com) for local travel information. Durango buses are fitted with bicycle racks. It's free to ride the red T shuttle bus that circulates Main St.

Durango is at the junction of US 160 and US 550, 42 miles east of Cortez, 49 miles west of Pagosa Springs and 190 miles north of Albuquerque.

Silverton

Ringed by snowy peaks and steeped in sooty tales of a tawdry mining town, Silverton seems more at home in Alaska than the lower 48. But here it is. Whether you're into snowmobiling, powder skiing, fly-fishing, beer on tap or just basking in some very high-altitude sunshine, Silverton delivers.

It's a two-street town, but only one is paved. The main drag, Greene St, is where you'll find most businesses. Notorious Blair St, still unpaved, runs parallel to Greene and is a blast from the past. During the silver rush, Blair St was home to thriving brothels and boozing establishments.

Activities

In summer, Silverton has some of the west's best 4WD trails. Traveling in modified Chevy Suburbans without the top, San Juan Backcountry (☎ 970-387-5565, toll-free 800-494-8687; www.sanjuanbackcountry.com; 1119 Greene St; 2hr tours adult/child $60/40; ☺ May-Oct; ♻️) offers both tours and rental jeeps.

Sleeping & Eating*Red Mountain Motel*& RV Park

MOTEL, CAMPGROUND $$

(☎ 970-382-5512, toll-free 800-970-5512; www.redmtmotelrvpk.com; 664 Greene St; motel r from $110, cabins from $120, tent/RV sites $22/38; ☺ year-round; ♻️ ♻️ ♻️) Campers can try Red Mountain Motel & RV Park, a pet-friendly place that stays open year-round.

Inn of the Rockies at the Historic Alma House

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 970-387-5336, toll-free 800-267-5336; www.innoftherockies.com; 220 E 10th St; r incl breakfast $109-173; 📍☎☎) Splurge for romance here with an outdoor hot tub and New Orleans-inspired breakfast.

Stellar

ITALIAN $$

(☎ 970-387-9940; 1260 Blair St; mains $8-20; ☎ 4pm-9:30pm; 📍) Your best bet for a sit-down meal is Stellar, an atmospheric pizzeria with full bar and beer on tap. Go for the lasagna if it isn't sold out.

Drinking

★ Montanya Distillers

BAR

(www.montanyadistillers.com; 1309 Greene St; mains $6-13; ☎ 12pm-10pm) The town has its share of Western-style saloons, but for something original seek out Montanya Distillers, a smart bar with rooftop summer seating and exotic cocktails crafted with homemade syrups and award-winning rum. Organic tamales and other yummy edibles are served.

Getting There & Away

Silverton is 50 miles north of Durango and 24 miles south of Ouray off US 550.

Great Sand Dunes National Park

Landscapes collide in a shifting sea of sand at Great Sand Dunes National Park (☎ 719-378-6399; www.nps.gov/grsa; 11999 Hwy 150; adult/child $3/free; ☎ visitor center 8:30am-6:30pm summer, shorter hours rest of year), making you wonder whether a spaceship has whisked you to another planet. The 55-sq-mile dune park – the tallest sand peak rises 700ft above the valley floor – is squeezed between the jagged 14,000ft peaks of the Sangre de Cristo and San Juan Mountains and flat, arid scrub-brush of the San Luis Valley.

Plan a visit to this excellent-value national park ($3 admission is a steal) around a full moon. Stock up on supplies, stop by the visitor center for your free backcountry camping permit and hike into the surreal landscape to set up camp in the middle of nowhere (bring plenty of water). You won't be disappointed.

There are numerous hiking trails, like the half-mile Zapata Falls (BLM road 5415), reached through a fun slot canyon (wear grippy shoes, you may be in standing water). And there's always sandboarding, where you ride a snowboard down the dunes, though it's best left to those who already snowboard.

The most popular month to visit is June, when Medano Creek is flowing and kids get a natural refreshment by wading in. Be sure to bring lots of water. Walking in loose sand is difficult, and summer temperatures on the dunes can exceed 130°F (54°C).

Sleeping

Pinyon Flats Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 888-448-1474; www.recreation.gov; Great Sand Dunes National Park; campsites $20; 📍) In the national park, Pinyon Flats has 88 sites and year-round water.

Zapata Falls Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(www.fs.usda.gov; BLM road 5415; campsites $11; ☎ year-round; 📍) With awesome valley panoramas, the more secluded Zapata Falls lies seven miles south via a steep 3.6-mile dirt access road. Bring your own water.

Zapata Ranch

RANCH $$$

(☎ 719-378-2356; www.zranch.org; 5303 Hwy 150; d with full board $300) Ideal for horse-riding enthusiasts, the exclusive Zapata Ranch is a working cattle and bison ranch set amid groves of cottonwood trees. Owned and operated by the Nature Conservancy, the main inn is a refurbished 19th-century log structure, with distant views of the sand dunes.

Getting There & Away

The national park is about 35 miles northeast of Alamosa and 250 miles south of Denver. From Denver, take I-25 south to Hwy 160 west and turn onto Hwy 150 north. There is no public transportation.

WYOMING

With wind, restless grasses and wide blue skies, the most sparsely populated state offers solitude to spare. Called the 'Bunchgrass edge of the World' by writer Annie Proulx, Wyoming may be nuzzled in the bosom of America, but it's emptiness that defines it.

Though steeped in ranching culture – just see the line of Stetsons at the local credit union – Wyoming is the number-one coal producer in the US, and is also big in natural gas, crude oil and diamonds. Deeply conservative, its propensity toward industry has sometimes made it an uneasy steward of the land.

But wilderness may be Wyoming's greatest bounty. Its northwestern corner is home to the magnificent national parks of Yellowstone and Grand Teton. Chic Jackson and

WYOMING FACTS

Nickname Equality State

Population 576,000

Area 97,100 sq miles

Capital city Cheyenne (population 60,100)

Sales tax 4%

Birthplace of Artist Jackson Pollock (1912-1956)

Home of Women's suffrage, coal mining, geysers, wolves

Politics Conservative to the core

Famous for Rodeo, ranches, former Vice President Dick Cheney

Kitschiest souvenir Fur jock strap from a Jackson boutique

Driving distances Cheyenne to Jackson 440 miles progressive Lander make great bases for epic hiking, climbing and skiing. For a truer taste of Western life, check out the plain prairie towns of Laramie and Cheyenne.

i Information

Even on highways, distances are long, with gas stations few and far between. Driving hazards include frequent high gusty winds and fast-moving snow squalls that can create whiteout blizzard conditions. If the weather gets too rough, the highway patrol will shut the entire interstate until it clears.

Wyoming Road Conditions (☎307-772-0824, 888-996-7623; www.wyoroada.info)

Wyoming State Parks & Historic Sites (☎307-777-6323; www.wyo-park.com; admission $6, historic site $4, campsite per person $17) Wyoming has 12 state parks. Camping reservations are taken online or over the phone.

Wyoming Travel & Tourism (☎800-225-5996; www.wyomingtourism.org; 1520 Etchepare Circle)

Cheyenne

Many a country tune has been penned about Wyoming's state capital and largest city, though Cheyenne is more like the Hollywood Western before the shooting begins – that is, until Frontier Days festival, a raucous July celebration of cowboy fun. At the junction of I-25 and I-80, it's an obvious pit stop.

👁️ Sight & Activities

Cheyenne Gunslingers

WILD WEST SHOW

(☎800-426-5009; www.cheyennegunslingers.com; cnr W 15th at Pioneer Ave; 🕒 noon Sat & 6pm Thu-Fri Jun, 6pm Mon-Fri, 12pm Sat Jul; 📍) FREE A non-profit group of actors who puts on a lively, if not exactly accurate Old West show – from near hangings to slippery jailbreaks. Stars include corrupt judges, smiling good guys and, of course, the bad-ass villains.

Frontier Days Old West Museum

MUSEUM

(☎307-778-7290; www.oldwestmuseum.org; 4601 N Carey Ave; adult/child $10/5; 🕒 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun summer, 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun winter) For a peek into the pioneer past, visit the lively Frontier Days Old West Museum at I-25 exit 12. It is chock-full of rodeo memorabilia – from saddles to trophies. For the audio tour, call ☎307-316-0071.

🌟 Festivals & Events

★ Cheyenne Frontier Days

RODEO

(☎1-800-227-6336; www.cfdrodeo.com; 4501 N Carey Ave; admission free-$32; 🕒 July; 📍) If you've never seen a steer wrestler leap into action, this very Western event is bound to brand an impression. Beginning in late July, Wyoming's largest celebration features 10 days of rodeos, concerts, dances, air shows, and chili cook-offs. Free events include morning 'slack' rodeos, pancake breakfasts and parades. There's also an art sale and 'Indian village.'

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Reservations are a must during Frontier Days, when rates double and everything within 50 miles is booked; see www.cheyenne.org/availability for bookings. The cheapest motels line noisy Lincolnway (I-25 exit 9).

Nagle Warren Mansion

Bed & Breakfast

B&B $$

(☎307-637-3333; www.naglewarrenmansion.com; 222 E 17th St; r incl breakfast from $155; 📍📞📧) This lavish spread is a fabulous find. In a quickly-going-hip neighborhood, this historic 1888 house is decked out with late-19th-century regional antiques. Spacious and elegant, the mansion boasts a hot tub, a reading room tucked into a turret and classic 1954 Schwinn bikes for cruising. Jim, the owner, entertains with his deep knowledge of local history.

It's worth stopping at the excellent art gallery next door.

Tortilla Factory

(715 S Greeley Hwy; mains $3-10; ☺ 6am-8pm Mon-Sat, 8am-5pm Sun) A delicious Mexican dive serving homemade tamales for $1.50, and authentic classics such as shredded-beef tacos and huevos rancheros.

MEXICAN $

Shadows Pub & Grill

(Depot Station; mains $8-15; ☺ 11am-11pm Mon-Thur, 11am-1am Fri-Sat, 11am-9pm Sun) It's hard to beat the ambience at this handsome brick brewpub at the 1860s Union Pacific depot. The pub fare is standard, but there's ample patio seating for sunny days and good microbrews on tap.

BREWERY $

Shopping

Boot Barn

(1518 Capitol Ave; ☺ 9am-9pm Mon-Sat, 9am-6pm Sun) If you are hankering after a Stetson hat, rhinestone belt-buckle or authentic cowboy boots, look no further. This hub of Western wear is full of gems.

CLOTHING, SOUVENIRS

Information

Cheyenne Visitor Center (☎ 307-778-3133; www.cheyenne.org; 1 Depot Sq; ☺ 8am-7pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun, closed weekends in winter) A great resource.

Getting There & Around

Cheyenne Airport (CYS; ☎ 307-634-7071; www.cheyenneairport.com; 200 E 8th Ave) has daily flights to Denver. Greyhound buses depart from the Black Hills Stage Lines (☎ 307-635-1327; www.blackhillstage.com; 5401 Walker Rd) daily for Billings, MT, ($84, 9½ hours) and Denver, CO ($31, 2¾ hours), among other destinations.

On weekdays, the Cheyenne Transit Program (☎ 307-637-6253; adult $1, 6-18yr 75¢; ☺ service 6am-7pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat) operates six local bus routes. Also, Cheyenne Street Railway Trolley (☎ 800-426-5009; 121 W 15th St; adult/child $10/5; ☺ May-Sep) takes visitors on tours through downtown.

Laramie

Home to the state's only four-year university, Laramie can be both hip and boisterous, a vibe missing from most Wyoming prairie towns. Worth exploring is the small historic downtown, a lively five-block grid of attractive two-story brick buildings with hand-painted signs and murals pushed up against the railroad tracks.

For an infusion of culture, check out one of the museums on the University of Wyoming (UW) campus, the newly refurbished Geological Museum (☎ 307-766-2646; www.uwyo.edu/geomuseum; Hwy 287 at I-80; ☺ 10am-4pm Tues-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat-Sun) FREE features an impressive collection of dinosaur remains, including those of a Tyrannosaurus rex. If you're traveling with the kids (or just feel like one), stop by the Wyoming Frontier Prison (☎ 307-745-616; www.wyomingfrontierprison.org; 975 Snowy Range Rd; adult/child $7/6; ☺ 8am-5pm; 🏠), a curious restoration of an early prison and frontier town.

There are numerous cheap sleeps off I-80 at exit 313. With landscaped gardens, lauded homemade granola and three snug rooms, Mad Carpenter Inn (☎ 307-742-0870; madcarpenter.com; 353 N 8th St; r incl breakfast $95-125; 🏠) has warmth to spare. A serious game room features billiards and table tennis. In town, the Gas Lite Motel (☎ 307-742-6616; 960 N 3rd St; r $61; 🏠 🏠 🏠 🏠) relies on an outrageously kitsch setup (think cowboy cutouts and plastic horses) to sell its well-priced and pet-friendly digs.

With superlative brews, Coal Creek Coffee Co (110 E Grand Ave; mains $3-6; ☺ 6am-10pm; 🏠) is modern and stylish, with Fair Trade roasts and tasty sandwiches (eg blue-cheese and portobello panini). Doubtless the healthiest food for miles, Sweet Melissa's (213 S 1st St; mains $8-10; ☺ 11am-9pm Mon-Sat; 🏠) does good down-home vegetarian. It's packed at lunchtime.

For live country music and beer, favorite dive Old Buckhorn Bar (☎ 307-742-3554; 114 Vinson St; ☺ 9am-12am Sun-Wed, 9am-2am Thur-Sat) is Laramie's oldest standing bar. Check out the hand-scratched graffiti and old condom dispenser in the bathroom.

Located 4 miles west of town via I-80 exit 311, Laramie Regional Airport (☎ 307-742-4164) has daily flights to Denver ($98 one-way). Greyhound (☎ 307-742-5188) buses stop at the Diamond Shamrock gas station (1952 Banner Road). Fill up your tank (and tummy) in Laramie; heading west on I-80, the next services aren't for 75 miles.

Lander

Lander just might be the coolest little one-street town in Wyoming – and there are many of those. Just a stone's throw from the Wind River Reservation, it's a rock-climbing and mountaineering mecca in a friendly and unpretentious foothills setting. It is also home to NOLS (www.nols.edu; 284 Lincoln St.), the National Outdoor Leadership School, a renowned outdoor school that leads trips around the world and locally into the Wind River Range.

The Lander Visitor Center (☎307-332-3892; www.landerchamber.org; 160 N 1st St; ☺9am-5pm Mon-Fri) is a good source of general information. If you've come to hike, camp or climb, you're best popping into Wild Iris Mountain Sports (☎307-332-4541; 166 Main St), a gear shop offering good advice and rental climbing or snow shoes. Pick up their cheat sheet with local tips. If you want to check out the single-track trails outside town, head to Gannett Peak Sports (351B Main Street; ☺10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat).

The beautiful Sinks Canyon State Park (☎307-332-3077; 3079 Sinks Canyon Rd; admission $6; ☺visitor center 9am-6pm Jun-Aug), 6 miles south of Lander, features a curious underground river. Flowing through a narrow canyon, the Middle Fork of the Popo Agie River disappears into the soluble Madison limestone called the Sinks and returns warmer a quarter-mile downstream in a pool called the Rise. The scenic campgrounds (campsites $17) come highly recommended by locals.

Chain hotels line Main St, but for a deal try the locally owned Holiday Lodge (☎307-332-2511; www.holidaylodgeland.com; 210 McFarlane Dr; camping $10 per person, r incl breakfast from $50; ☎☎). The look might say 1961, but it's scrubbed shiny and friendly, with thoughtful extras like an iron, makeup remover and sewing kits. Recommended riverside camping includes breakfast and showers.

Decompress from long hours of travel or adventure at the backyard patio of Gannett Grill (☎307-332-8227; 128 Main St; mains $6-9; ☺11am-9pm), a local institution, where you take a microbrew from the Lander Bar (☎307-332-8228; 126 Main St; mains $6-9; ☺11am-late) next door and wander back to your shady picnic table to dine on local beef burgers, crisp waffle fries and stone-oven pizzas. If you're feeling fancy, try the adjoining Cowfish, a more upscale dinner offering from the same folks. There's live music many nights.

Grab your coffee at chic Old Town Coffee (300 Main St; ☺7am-7pm; ☎) where each cup is brewed to order, as stiff as you like it.

Wind River Transportation Authority (☎307-856-7118; www.wrtabuslines.com) provides bus service to Jackson ($160) and other destinations; check the website for schedules.

Cody

Raucous Cody revels in its Wild West image (it's named after legendary showman William 'Buffalo Bill' Cody). With a staged streak of yeehaw, the town happily relays yarns (not always the whole story, mind you) about its past. Summer is high season, and Cody puts on quite an Old West show for the throngs of visitors making their way to Yellowstone National Park, 52 miles to the west. From Cody, the approach to geysersland through the Wapiti Valley is dramatic to say the least. President Teddy Roosevelt once said this stretch of pavement was 'the most scenic 50 miles in the world.'

The visitor center (☎307-587-2777; www.codychamber.org; 836 Sheridan Ave; ☺8am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-3pm Sun Jun-Aug, 8am-5pm Mon-Fri Sep-May) is the logical starting point.

Cody's major tourist attraction is the superb Buffalo Bill Historical Center (www.bbhc.org; 720 Sheridan Ave; adult/child $18/10; ☺8am-6pm May-Oct, 10am-5pm Nov, Mar & Apr, 10am-5pm Thu-Sun Dec-Feb). A sprawling complex of five museums, it showcases everything Western: from posters, grainy films and other lore pertaining to Buffalo Bill's world-famous Wild West shows, to galleries showcasing frontier artwork and a museum dedicated to Native Americans. Its Draper Museum of Natural History is a great primer for the Yellowstone ecosystem, with information on everything from wolves to grizzlies.

Also popular is the Cody Nite Rodeo (www.codystampederoedo.com; 519 West Yellowstone Ave; adult/child 7-12 yr $18/8), which giddy-ups nightly from June to August.

The lovely Chamberlin Inn (☎307-587-0202; 1032 12th St; d/stg $185/325) offers an elegant downtown retreat. Built by ol' Bill himself in 1902, Irma Hotel (☎307-587-4221; www.irmahotel.com; 1192 Sheridan Ave; mains $8-23; ☎) is now better known for its restaurant - the ornate cherrywood was a gift from Queen Victoria. Gunfights break out nightly at 6pm in front of the hotel from June through September.

The Silver Dollar Bar (1313 Sheridan Ave; mains $7-12; ☺11am-12pm) is a historic watering hole with live music nightly on the outdoor deck. It serves epic burgers and has pool tables.

Yellowstone Regional Airport (COD; www.flyyra.com) is 1 mile east of Cody and runs daily flights to Salt Lake City and Denver.

Yellowstone National Park

They grow their critters and geysers big up in Yellowstone, America's first national park and Wyoming's flagship attraction. From shaggy grizzlies to oversized bison and magnificent packs of wolves, this park boasts the lower 48's most enigmatic concentration of wildlife. Throw in half the world's geysers, the country's largest high-altitude lake and a plethora of blue-ribbon rivers and waterfalls, all sitting pretty atop a giant supervolcano, and you'll quickly realize you've stumbled across one of Mother Nature's most fabulous creations.

When John Colter became the first white man to visit the area in 1807, the only inhabitants were Tukadikas (aka Sheepeaters), a Shoshone Bannock people who hunted big-horn sheep. Colter's reports of exploding geysers and boiling mud holes (at first dismissed as tall tales) brought in expeditions and tourism interest eagerly funded by the railroads. The park was established in 1872 (as the world's first) to preserve Yellowstone's spectacular geography: the geothermal phenomena, the fossil forests and Yellowstone Lake.

The 3472-sq-mile park is divided into five distinct regions (clockwise from the north): Mammoth, Roosevelt, Canyon, Lake and Geyser Countries.

Of the park's five entrance stations, only the North Entrance, near Gardiner, MT, is open year-round. The others, typically open May to October, offer access from the northeast (Cooke City, MT), east (Cody, WY), south (Grand Teton National Park) and west (West Yellowstone, MT). The park's main road is the 142-mile Grand Loop Rd scenic drive.

Sights & Activities

Just sitting on the porch of the Old Faithful Inn with a cocktail in hand waiting for Old Faithful geyser to erupt could be considered enough activity by itself but there's plenty else to keep you busy here, from hiking and backpacking to kayaking and fly-fishing. Most park trails are not groomed, but unplowed roads and trails are open for cross-country skiing.

Yellowstone is split into five distinct regions, each with unique attractions. Upon entering the national park you'll be given a basic map and a park newspaper detailing the excellent ranger-led talks and walks (well worth attending). All the visitor centers have information desks staffed by park rangers who can help you tailor a hike to your tastes, from great photo spots to best chance of spotting a bear.

Geyser Country

GEYSER, HIKING

With the densest collection of geothermal features in the park, Upper Geyser Basin contains 180 of the park's 250-odd geysers. The most famous is Old Faithful, which spews from 3700 to 8400 gallons of water 100ft to 180ft into the air every 1½ hours or so. For an easy walk, check out the predicted eruption times at the brand new visitor center and then follow the easy boardwalk trail around the Upper Geyser Loop. The park's most beautiful thermal feature is Grand Prismatic Spring in the Midway Geyser Basin. The Firehole and Madison Rivers offer superb fly-fishing and wildlife viewing.

Mammoth Country

GEYSER, HIKING

Known for the geothermal terraces and elk herds of historic Mammoth and the hot springs of Norris Geyser Basin, Mammoth Country is North America's most volatile and oldest-known continuously active thermal area. The peaks of the Gallatin Range rise to the northwest, towering above the area's lakes, creeks and numerous hiking trails.

Roosevelt Country

HIKING

Fossil forests, the commanding Lamar River Valley and its tributary trout streams, Tower Falls and the Absaroka Mountains'

BEAT THE CROWDS

Yellowstone's wonderland attracts up to 30,000 visitors daily in July and August and over three million gatecrashers annually. Avoid the worst of the crowds with the following advice:

- Visit in May, September or October for decent weather and few people; or even in winter.
- Ditch 95% of the crowds by hiking a backcountry trail. Lose 99% by camping in a backcountry site (permit required).
- Mimic the wildlife and be most active in the golden hours after dawn and before dusk.
- Pack lunch for one of the park's many scenic picnic areas and eat lodge dinners late (after 9pm).
- Make reservations for park lodging months in advance and book concession campgrounds at least the day before.

Yellowstone & Grand Teton National Parks

📍 Top Sights

- 1 National Museum of Wildlife Art ..... A6

👁️ Sights

- 2 Center for the Arts ..... A7
 3 Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone ..... C3
 4 Grand Prismatic Spring ..... B3
 5 Mammoth Hot Springs ..... C2
 6 Mud Volcano ..... C3
 7 National Elk Refuge ..... A7
 8 Old Faithful ..... B3
 9 Tower Falls ..... C2

🚶 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 10 Elephant Back Trailhead ..... C3
 11 Fairy Falls Hiking Trail ..... B3
 12 Lone Star Geyser Trailhead ..... B3
 13 Mt Washburn Trail ..... C2
 14 South Rim Trail ..... C3

🛏️ Sleeping

- 15 Alpine House ..... A7
 16 Bridge Bay Campground ..... C3
 17 Buckrail Lodge ..... A7
 18 Canyon Campground ..... C2
 Canyon Lodge & Cabins ..... (see 18)
 19 Climbers' Ranch ..... B6
 20 Colter Bay Village ..... C5
 21 Fishing Bridge RV Park ..... C3
 22 Flagg Ranch Resorts ..... C5

- 23 Grant Village ..... C4
 24 Grant Village Campground ..... C4
 25 Jackson Lake Lodge ..... C5
 26 Jenny Lake Lodge ..... C6
 Lake Lodge Cabins ..... (see 27)
 27 Lake Yellowstone Hotel ..... C3
 28 Madison Campground ..... B3
 29 Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel &
 Cabins ..... C2
 30 Old Faithful Inn ..... B3
 Old Faithful Lodge Cabins ..... (see 30)
 Old Faithful Snow Lodge ..... (see 30)
 31 Roosevelt Lodge Cabins ..... C2
 32 Signal Mountain Lodge ..... C5
 33 Spur Ranch Log Cabins ..... C6

🍴 Eating

- 34 Bubba's Bar-B-Que ..... A7
 35 Coco Love ..... A7
 Lake Yellowstone Hotel Dining Room ..... (see 27)
 Mural Room ..... (see 25)
 Old Faithful Inn Dining Room ..... (see 30)
 Peaks ..... (see 32)
 Pioneer Grill ..... (see 25)
 36 Snake River Grill ..... A7

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 37 Million Dollar Cowboy Bar ..... A7
 38 Snake River Brewing Co ..... A7

craggy peaks are the highlights of Roosevelt Country, the park's most remote, scenic and undeveloped region. Several good hikes begin near Tower Junction.

Canyon Country

LOOKOUT, HIKING

A series of scenic overlooks linked by hiking trails highlight the colorful beauty and grandeur of the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone and its impressive Lower Falls. South Rim Dr leads to the canyon's most spectacular overlook, at Artist Point. Mud Volcano is Canyon Country's primary geothermal area.

Lake Country

LAKE, BOATING

Yellowstone Lake, the centerpiece of Lake Country and one of the world's largest alpine lakes, is a watery wilderness lined with volcanic beaches and best explored by boat or sea kayak. Rising east and southeast of the lakes, the wild and snowcapped Absaroka Range hides the wildest lands in the lower 48, perfect for epic backpacking or horseback trips.

Hiking Trails

HIKING

Hikers can explore Yellowstone's backcountry from more than 92 trailheads that give access to 1100 miles of hiking trails. A free backcountry-use permit, which is available at visitor centers and ranger stations, is required for overnight trips. Backcountry camping is allowed in 300 designated sites, 60% of which can be reserved in advance by mail; a $25 fee applies to all bookings that are more than three days in advance.

After much heated debate and a narrowly avoided fistfight, we have settled on the following as our favorite five-day hikes in the park.

➔ Lone Star Geyser Trail

A good family hike or bike ride along an old service road to a geyser that erupts every three hours. Start at the Kepler Cascades parking area, southeast of the Old Faithful area (5 miles, easy).

➔ South Rim Trail

A web of interconnected trails that follows the spectacular Yellowstone Canyon rim past the Lower Falls to scenic Artists Point then Lily Pad Lake, returning to Uncle Tom's trailhead via thermal areas and Clear Lake (3.5 miles, easy).

➔ Mt Washburn

A fairly strenuous uphill hike from Dunraven Pass trailhead to a mountaintop fire tower, for 360-degree views over the park and nearby bighorn sheep (6.4 miles, moderate).

➔ Elephant Back Mountain

An 800ft climb from near Lake Hotel to a panoramic viewpoint over Yellowstone Lake (3.5 miles, moderate).

➔ Fairy Falls

Climb off-trail to a viewpoint over spectacular Grand Prismatic Spring and then hike through lodgepole forest to the falls, before continuing on to beautiful Imperial Geyser (6 miles, easy).

Cycling

CYCLING

Cyclists can ride on public roads and a few designated service roads, but not on the backcountry trails. The best season is April to October, when the roads are usually snow-free. From mid-March to mid-April the Mammoth–West Yellowstone park road is closed to cars but open to cyclists, offering a long but stress-free ride.

Yellowstone Raft Company ADVENTURE TOUR (☎ 800-858-7781; www.yellowstoneraft.com; half-day adult/child $40/30) There is exhilarating white water through Yankee Jim Canyon on the Yellowstone River just north of the park boundary in Montana. This company offers a range of guided adventures out of Gardiner starting in late May.

Sleeping

NPS and private campgrounds, along with cabins, lodges and hotels, are all available in the park. Reservations are essential in summer. Contact the park concessionaire Xanterra (☎ 307-344-5395; www.yellowstone-nationalparklodges.com) to reserve a spot at its campsites, cabins or lodges.

Plentiful accommodations can also be found in the gateway towns of Cody, Gardiner and West Yellowstone.

The best budget options are the seven NPS–run campgrounds (campsites from $15-20) in Mammoth (campsites $14; ☺ year-round), Tower Fall, Indian Creek, Pebble Creek, Slough Creek, Norris and Lewis Lake, which are first-come, first-served. Xanterra runs five more campgrounds (listed below; reservations accepted, $20 to $45 per night), all with cold-water bathrooms, flush toilets and drinking water. RV sites with hookups are available at Fishing Bridge.

Xanterra-run cabins, hotels and lodges are spread around the park and are open from May or June to October. Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel and Old Faithful Snow Lodge are the exceptions; these are also open mid-December through March. All places are nonsmoking and none have air con or TV. Where wi-fi is available, it costs extra.

Bridge Bay Campground CAMPGROUND $ (campsite $21) Near the west shore of Yellowstone Lake, popular with boaters, and with 425 sites for tents and RVs.

WHERE THE BEARS & BISON ROAM...

Along with the big mammals – grizzly, black bear, moose and bison – Yellowstone is home to elk, pronghorn antelope and bighorn sheep. Wolves have been part of the national park since reintroduction in 1996, though they are now legally hunted outside park boundaries. Native to the area, both wolves and bison nearly met extinction by the end of the last century because of hunting and human encroachment. While their numbers have resurged, taking them off the endangered species list means they may yet be hunted out of the park.

In Yellowstone's heart between Yellowstone Lake and Canyon Village, Hayden Valley is your best all-round bet for wildlife viewing. For the best chances of seeing wildlife, head out at dawn or dusk and stakeout a turnout anywhere off the Grand Loop Rd. Bring patience and binoculars, a grizzly just might wander into your viewfinder, or perhaps you'll spy a rutting elk or hear the bugle of a solitary moose reaching the river for a drink.

Lamar Valley, in the northeast, is where wolves were first reintroduced and ground zero for spotting them. Ask rangers where packs are most active or attend a wolf-watching (or other) excursion with the recommended Yellowstone Institute (www.yellowstoneassociation.org). Hearing howls echo across the valley at dusk is a magical, primeval experience.

Canyon Campground CAMPGROUND $
(campsite $25.50) Centrally located, with pay showers and coin laundry nearby. There are 250 sites for tents and RVs.

Fishing Bridge RV Park CAMPGROUND $
(campsite $45) Full hook-ups for hard-shell RVs only ($37). Pay showers and coin laundry. There are 325 sites.

Grant Village Campground CAMPGROUND $
(campsite $25.50) On Yellowstone Lake's southwest shore, it has 400 sites for tents and RVs. Pay showers and coin laundry nearby.

Madison Campground CAMPGROUND $
(☎ 307-344-7311; www.yellowstonenationalparklodges.com; campsite $21; ☀ early May-late Oct) The closest campground to Old Faithful, with 250 sites for tents and RVs.

Old Faithful Lodge Cabins CABIN $
(cabins $69-115) Views of Old Faithful; simple, rustic cabins.

Roosevelt Lodge Cabins CABIN $$
(☎ 866-439-7375; www.yellowstonenationalparklodges.com; cabins $69-115; 🍷) These cabins are good for families. With a cowboy vibe, the place offers nightly 'Old West dinner cook-outs,' during which guests travel by horse or wagon to a large meadow 3 miles from the lodge for open-air buffets (book ahead).

Lake Lodge Cabins CABIN $$
(cabins $75-188) The main lodge boasts a large porch with lakeside mountain views and a cozy room with two fireplaces. Choose from rustic 1920s wooden cabins or more modern motel-style modules.

Old Faithful Snow Lodge HOTEL $$
(cabins $99-155, r from $229; 🍷) A stylish modern option that combines timber-lodge style with modern fittings and park motifs.

★ Old Faithful Inn HOTEL $$
(☎ 866-439-7375; www.yellowstonenationalparklodges.com; old house d with shared/private bath from $103/140, standard from $164; ☀ early May-early Oct) Next to the signature geyser, this grand inn is the most requested lodging in the park. A national historic landmark, it features an immense timber lobby, with huge stone fireplaces and sky-high knotted-pine ceilings. Rooms come in all price ranges, and many of the most interesting historic rooms share baths. Public areas offer plenty of allure.

It's worth staying two nights to soak up the atmosphere.

Lake Yellowstone Hotel HOTEL $$
(☎ 866-439-7375; www.yellowstonenationalparklodges.com; cabins $130, r $149-299; ☀ mid-May-Sep) Oozing grand 1920s Western ambience, this romantic, historic hotel is a classy option. It has Yellowstone's most divine lounge, which was made for daydreaming, with big picture windows overlooking the lake, ample natural light and a live string quartet playing in the background. Rooms are well appointed, cabins more rustic.

Canyon Lodge & Cabins CABIN $$
(cabins $99-188, r $185) Clean and tidy in a central locale.

Mammoth Hot Springs Hotel & Cabins HOTEL $$
(cabins $86-229, r with/without bath $123/87; 🍷) Wide variety of sleeping options; elk are often seen grazing on the front lawn.

Grant Village HOTEL $$
(r $155) Near the southern edge of the park, it offers comfortable but dull motel-style rooms. Two nearby restaurants have fabulous lake views.

🍴 Eating

Snack bars, delis, burger counters and grocery stores are scattered around the park. In addition, most of the lodges offer breakfast buffets, salad bars, and lunch and dinner in formal dining rooms. Food, while not always exceptional, is quite good considering how many people the chef is cooking for, and not too overpriced for the exceptional views.

★ Lake Yellowstone Hotel Dining Room AMERICAN $$$
(☎ 307-344-7311; mains $13-33; ☀ 6:30-10am, 11:30am-2:30pm, 5-10pm; 🍷) Keep one unwrinkled outfit to dine in style at the dining room of the Lake Yellowstone Hotel, the best in the park. Lunch options include Montana lamb sliders, lovely salads and bison burgers. Local and gluten-free options. Dinner consists of heavier fare, with reservations highly recommended.

Old Faithful Inn Dining Room AMERICAN $$$
(☎ 307-545-4999; dinner mains $13-29; ☀ 6:30-10:30am, 11:30am-2:30pm, 5-10pm; 🍷) The buffets here will maximize your time spent geyser gazing but the à la carte options are more innovative, think elk burgers, bison pot roast and the ever-popular pork osso bucco. With gluten-free options. Reservations recommended.

WORTH A TRIP

SCENIC DRIVE: THE ROOF OF THE ROCKIES

The most scenic route into Yellowstone Park, Beartooth Highway (www.beartoothhighway.com; US 212; ☺ Jun–mid-Oct) connects Red Lodge to Cooke City and Yellowstone's north entrance by an incredible 68-mile journey alongside 11,000ft peaks and wildflower-sprinkled alpine tundra. It's been called both American's most scenic drive and its premier motorcycle ride. There are a dozen USFS campgrounds (reservations for some accepted at www.recreation.gov) along the highway, four within 12 miles of Red Lodge.

i Information

The park is open year-round, but most roads close in winter. Park entrance permits (hiker/vehicle $12/25) are valid for seven days for entry into both Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. Summer-only visitor centers are evenly spaced every 20 to 30 miles along Grand Loop Rd.

Albright Visitors Center (☎ 307-344-2263; www.nps.gov/yell; ☺ 8am–7pm Jun–Sep, 9am–5pm Oct–May) Serves as park headquarters. The park website is a fantastic resource.

i Getting There &amp; Away

The closest year-round airports are: Yellowstone Regional Airport (COD) in Cody (52 miles); Jackson Hole Airport (JAC) in Jackson (56 miles); Gallatin Field Airport (BZN) in Bozeman, MT (65 miles); and Idaho Falls Regional Airport (IDA) in Idaho Falls, ID (107 miles). The airport (WYS) in West Yellowstone, MT, is usually open June to September. It's often more affordable to fly into Billings, MT (170 miles), Salt Lake City, UT (390 miles) or Denver, CO (563 miles) and rent a car.

There is no public transportation to or within Yellowstone National Park.

Grand Teton National Park

With its jagged, rocky peaks, cool alpine lakes and fragrant forests, the Tetons rank among the finest scenery in America. Directly south of Yellowstone, Grand Teton National Park has 12 glacier-carved summits, which frame the singular Grand Teton (13,770ft). For mountain enthusiasts, this sublime and crazy terrain is thrilling. Less crowded than Yellowstone, the Tetons also have plenty of tranquility, along with wildlife such as bear, moose, grouse and marmot.

The park has two entrance stations: Moose (south), on Teton Park Rd west of Moose Junction; and Moran (east), on US 89/191/287 north of Moran Junction. The park is open year-round, although some roads and entrances close from around November to May 1, including part of Moose-Wilson Rd, restricting access to the park from Teton Village.

🏔 Activities

With 200 miles of hiking trails you can't really go wrong. Consult at the visitor center where you can grab a hiking map. A free backcountry-use permit, also available here, is required for overnight trips. The Tetons are also known for excellent short-route rock climbs as well as classic longer routes to summits like Grand Teton, Mt Moran and Mt Owen.

Fishing is another draw, with several species of whitefish and cutthroat, lake and brown trout thriving in local rivers and lakes. Get a license at the Moose Village store, Signal Mountain Lodge or Colter Bay Marina.

Cross-country skiing and snowshoeing are the best ways to take advantage of park winters. Pick up a brochure detailing routes at Craig Thomas Discovery & Visitor Center.

Jenny Lake Ranger Station ROCK CLIMBING
(☎ 307-739-3343; ☺ 8am–6pm Jun–Aug) For climbing information.

Exum Mountain Guides ROCK CLIMBING
(☎ 307-733-2297; www.exumguides.com) For instruction and guided climbs.

🏠 Sleeping

Three different concessionaires run the park's six campgrounds. Demand is high from early July to Labor Day. Most campgrounds fill by 11am (Jenny Lake fills much earlier; Gros Ventre rarely fills up). Colter Bay and Jenny Lake have tent-only sites reserved for backpackers and cyclists.

Climbers' Ranch CABIN $
(☎ 307-733-7271; www.americanalpineclub.org; Teton Park Rd; dm $25; ☺ Jun–Sep) Started as a refuge for serious climbers, these rustic log cabins run by the American Alpine Club are now available to hikers who can take advantage of the spectacular in-park location. There is a bathhouse with showers and a sheltered cook station with locking bins for coolers. Bring your own sleeping bag and pad (bunks are bare, but still a steal).

Flagg Ranch Resorts

CAMPGROUND $

(www.flaggranch.com; 2-person campsites $35) Accepts online reservations for Flagg Ranch campground, and also has cabins. Forever Resorts manages Signal Mountain and Lizard Creek campgrounds in the park.

Grand Teton Lodge*Company

ACCOMMODATIONS SERVICES $

(☎ 307-543-2811; www.gtlc.com; campsites $21) Runs most of the park's private lodges, cabins and the campgrounds of Colter Bay, Jenny Lake and Gros Ventre. Call for last-minute cancellations, though it's best to reserve ahead, as nearly everything is completely booked by early June. Each lodge has an activity desk.

Colter Bay Village

CABIN $$

(☎ 307-543-2811; www.gtlc.com; tent cabins $57, cabins with bath $135-239, without bath $73; ☺ Jun-Sep) Half a mile west of Colter Bay Junction, the village has two types of accommodations. Tent cabins (June to early September) are very basic structures with bare bunks and shared bathrooms in a separate building. At these prices, you're better off camping. The log cabins, some original, are much more comfortable and a better deal; they're available late May to late September.

Signal Mountain Lodge

CAMPGROUND, LODGE $$

(☎ 307-543-2831; www.signalmtnlodge.com; campsites $21, r $194-230, cabins $156-185; ☺ May-mid-Oct) This spectacularly located place at the edge of Jackson Lake offers cozy, well-appointed cabins and rather posh rooms with stunning lake and mountain views.

★ Jenny Lake Lodge

LODGE $$$

(☎ 307-733-4647; www.gtlc.com; Jenny Lake; cabins incl half board $655; ☺ Jun-Sep) Worn timbers, down comforters and colorful quilts imbue this elegant lodging off Teton Park Rd with a cozy atmosphere. It doesn't come cheap, but includes breakfast, a five-course dinner, bicycle use and guided horseback riding. Rainy days are for hunkering down at the fireplace in the main lodge with a game or book from the stacks. The log cabins sport a deck but no TVs or radios (phones on request).

Jackson Lake Lodge

LODGE $$$

(☎ 307-543-2811; www.gtlc.com; r & cabins $249-335; ☺ Jun-Sep; 🍷🍷🍷) With soft sheets, meandering trails for long walks and enormous picture windows framing the luminous peaks, this lodge is the perfect place to woo. Yet, you may find the 348 cinder-block cottages generally overpriced. Has a heated pool and pets are OK.

Spur Ranch Log Cabins

CABIN $$$

(☎ 307-733-2522; www.dornans.com; cabins $185-265; ☺ year-round) Gravel paths running through a broad wildflower meadow link these tranquil duplex cabins on the Snake River in Moose. Lodgepole-pine furniture, Western styling and down bedding create a homey feel, but the views are what make it.

Eating

Colter Bay Village, Jackson Lake Lodge, Signal Mountain and Moose Junction have several reasonably priced cafes for breakfast and fast meals.

Pioneer Grill

DINER $$$

(☎ 307-543-1911; Jackson Lake Lodge; mains $9-23; ☺ 6am-10:30pm; 🍷) A casual classic with leatherette stools lined up in a maze, the Pioneer serves up wraps, burgers and salads. Kids adore the hot fudge sundaes. A takeout window serves boxed lunches (order a day ahead) and room-service pizza for pooped hikers (5pm to 9pm).

Mural Room

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 307-543-1911; Jackson Lake Lodge; mains $22-40; ☺ 7am-9pm) With stirring views of the Tetons, gourmet selections include game dishes and imaginative creations like trout wrapped in sushi rice with sesame seeds. Breakfasts are very good; dinner reservations are recommended.

Peaks

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 307-543-2831; Signal Mountain Lodge; meals $18-31) Dine on selections of cheese and fruit, local free-range beef, and organic polenta cakes. Small plates, like wild game sliders, are also available. While the indoor ambience is rather drab, the patio seating, starring sunsets over Jackson Lake and top-notch huckleberry margaritas, gets snapped up early.

Jenny Lake Lodge*Dining Room

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 307-543-3352; breakfast $24, lunch mains $12-15, dinner prix-fixe $85; ☺ 7am-9pm) A real splurge, this may be the only five-course wilderness meal of your life, but it's well worth it. For breakfast, crab-cake eggs benedict is prepared to perfection. Trout with polenta and crispy spinach satisfies hungry hikers, and you can't beat the warm atmosphere snuggled in the Tetons. Dress up in the evening, when reservations are a must.

i Information

Park permits (hiker/vehicle $12/25) are valid for seven days for entry into both Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks. It's easy to stay in one park and explore the other in the same day.

Craig Thomas Discovery & Visitor Center (📍 307-739-3399; backcountry permits 307-739-3309; Teton Park Rd; ☀️ 8am-7pm Jun-Aug, 8am-5pm rest of year) Located in Moose.

Laurance S Rockefeller Preserve Center (📍 307-739-3654; Moose-Wilson Rd; ☀️ 8am-6pm Jun-Aug, 9am-5pm rest of year) This recent addition gives information about the new and highly recommended Rockefeller Preserve, a less crowded option for hiking, located 4 miles south of Moose.

Park Headquarters (📍 307-739-3600; www.nps.gov/grte; ☀️ 8am-7pm Jun-Aug, 8am-5pm rest of year) Shares a building with the Craig Thomas center.

Jackson

Technically this is Wyoming, but you'll have a hard time believing it. With a median age of 32, this Western town has evolved into a mecca for mountain lovers, hard-core climbers and skiers, easily recognizable as sun-burned baristas. The upswing of being posh and popular? Jackson is abuzz with life: trails and outdoor opportunities abound. Fresh sushi is flown in daily and generous purse-strings support a vigorous cultural life. Skip the souvenirs and remember why you came to Jackson in the first place: to visit its glorious backyard, Grand Teton National Park.

👁 Sights

Downtown Jackson has a handful of historic buildings.

★ National Museum of Wildlife Art

MUSEUM

(📍 307-733-5771; www.wildlifeart.org; 2820 Rungius Rd; adult/child $12/6; ☀️ 9am-5pm) If you visit one area museum, make it this one. Major works by Bierstadt, Rungius, Remington and Russell that will make your skin prickle. The discovery gallery has a kids' studio for drawing and print rubbing that adults plainly envy. Check the website for summer film series and art-class schedules.

Center for the Arts

ARTS CENTER

(📍 307-733-4900; www.jhcenterforthearts.org; 240 S Glenwood S) One-stop shopping for culture, attracting big-name concert acts and featuring theater performances, classes, art exhibits and events. Check the calendar of events online.

National Elk Refuge

WILDLIFE RESERVE

(📍 307-733-9212; www.fws.gov/nationalelkrefuge; Hwy 89; horse-drawn sleigh ride adult/child $18/14; ☀️ 8am-5pm Sep-May, 8am-7pm Jun-Aug, horse-drawn sleigh ride 10am-4pm mid-Dec-Mar) FREE Protects thousands of migrating wapiti from November to March. A 45-minute horse-drawn sleigh ride is a highlight of a winter visit.

Town Square Shoot-out

WILD WEST SHOW

(📍 6.15pm Mon-Sat summer; 🏠) FREE In summer this hockey tourist draw takes place at 6:15pm Monday to Saturday.

👤 Activities

★ Jackson Hole Mountain Resort

SNOW SPORTS

(📍 307-733-2292; www.jacksonhole.com; lift ticket adult/child $99/59) One of the country's top ski destinations, Jackson Hole Mountain Resort boasts the USA's greatest continuous vertical rise – from the 6311ft base at Teton Village to the 10,450ft summit of Rendezvous Mountain. Terrain is mostly advanced, boasting lots of fluffy powder and rocky ledges made for jumping. Tickets are slightly discounted online.

When the snow melts, the resort runs a plethora of summertime activities; check the website for details.

🎓 Courses

Teton Science Schools Ecology

SCIENCE SCHOOL

(📍 307-733-1313; www.tetonscience.org) No one beats this nonprofit for fun experiential education, with programs ranging from GPS scavenger hunts to ecology expeditions. Make inquiries through the website.

🏠 Sleeping

Jackson has plenty of lodging options, both in town and around the ski hill. Reservations are essential in summer and winter.

Hostel

HOSTEL $

(📍 307-733-3415; www.thehostel.us; 3315 Village Dr; dm/d $34/99; ☀️ closed fall & spring shoulder seasons; @) Teton Village's only budget option, this old ski lodge offers private doubles and bunk-bed rooms with renovated showers for up to four. The spacious lounge with fireplace is ideal for movies or Scrabble tournaments and there's a playroom for tots. Guests can use a microwave and outdoor grill, coin laundry and a ski-waxing area.

Buckrill Lodge

(📍) 307-733-2079; www.buckrillodge.com; 110 E Karnes Ave; r from $93; (♿) Spacious and charming log-cabin-style rooms, this steal is centrally located, with ample grounds and an outdoor Jacuzzi.

MOTEL $

Golden Eagle Motor Inn

(📍) 307-733-2042; 325 E Broadway; r $148; (♿) Super-friendly and just far enough out of the fray, this refurbished motel with friendly hosts is a reliable choice in the center.

MOTEL $$

Alpine House

(📍) 307-739-1570; www.alpinehouse.com; 285 N Glenwood St; d $250, cottage $450; (📍) Two former Olympic skiers have infused this downtown home with sunny Scandinavian style and personal touches like great service and a cozy mountaineering library. Amenities include plush robes, down comforters, a shared Finnish sauna and an outdoor Jacuzzi. Save your appetite for the creative breakfast options such as poached eggs over ricotta with asparagus or multigrain French toast.

B&amp;B $$$

Eating & Drinking

Jackson is home to Wyoming's most sophisticated and exotic food. Many restaurants double as bars, with the real deals dished out for happy hour.

★ Coco Love

(📍) 307-733-3253; 55 N Glenwood Dr; desserts $5-8; (🕒) 9am-8pm) Master dessert chef Oscar

DESSERT $

Ortega shows off his French training with a pastry case of exquisite object d'art desserts and handmade chocolates that make you quiver in delight. Do it.

Pica's Mexican Taqueria

(📍) 1160 Alpine Lane; mains $7-15; (🕒) 11:30am-9pm Mon-Fri, 11am-4pm Sat & Sun; (♿) Cheap and supremely satisfying, with Baja tacos wrapped in homemade corn tortillas or cochinita pibil (chili-marinated pork), served with Mexican sodas. Locals love this place; it's the best value around.

MEXICAN $$

Pizzeria Caldera

(📍) 307-201-1472; 20 West Broadway; pizzas $12-16; (🕒) 11am-9:30pm; (♿) Fresh and unpretentious, this upstairs pizzeria serves their pies on the thinner side. Try topping yours with briny kalamata olives or fragrant bison sausage with sage, which begs one of the beers on tap. Salads use locally-grown arugula and beets.

PIZZERIA $$

Bubba's Bar-B-Que

(📍) 307-733-2288; 100 Flat Creek Dr; mains $6-20; (🕒) 7am-10pm; (♿) Get the biggest, fluffiest breakfast biscuits for miles at this friendly and energetic bring-your-own-bottle (BYOB) eatery. Later on, it's got a decent salad bar, and serves up a ranch of ribs and racks.

BARBECUE $$$

★ Snake River Grill

(📍) 307-733-0557; 84 E Broadway; mains $21-52; (🕒) from 5:30pm) With a roaring stone fireplace, an extensive wine list and snappy

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

IF YOU HAVE A FEW MORE DAYS

Wyoming is full of great places to get lost, sadly there are too many for us to elaborate on in this guide, but we'll prime you with a taster.

With vast grassy meadows, seas of wildflowers and peaceful conifer forests, the Big-horn Mountains in north-central Wyoming are truly awe-inspiring. Factor in gushing waterfalls and abundant wildlife and you've got a stupendous natural playground with hundreds of miles of marked trails.

Rising a dramatic 1267ft above the Belle Fourche River, the nearly vertical monolith of Devil's Tower National Monument is an awesome site. Known as Bears Lodge by some of the 20-plus Native American tribes who consider it sacred, it's a must-see if you are traveling between the Black Hills (on the Wyoming-South Dakota border) and the Tetons or Yellowstone.

West of Laramie, the lofty national forest stretching across Medicine Bow Mountains and Snowy Range is a wild and rugged place, perfect for multiday hiking and camping trips.

Nestled in the shadow of the Bighorn Mountains, Sheridan boasts century-old buildings once home to Wyoming cattle barons. It's popular with adventure fanatics who come to play in the Bighorns.

white linens, this grill creates notable American haute cuisine. Start with tempura string beans with spicy sriracha dipping sauce. The crispy pork falls off the bone and grilled elk chops show earthy goodness. Splurge-desserts like crême brûlée or homemade ice cream easily satisfy two.

★ Stagecoach Bar

BAR

(☎ 307-733-4407; 5755 W Hwy 22, Wilson) Wyoming has no better place to shake your booty. 'Mon-day' means reggae, Thursday is disco night and every Sunday the house band croons country-and-western favorites until 10pm. Worth the short drive to Wilson (just past the Teton Village turnoff).

Snake River Brewing Co

BREW PUB

(☎ 307-739-2337; 265 S Millward St; ☺ 11:30am-midnight) With an arsenal of 22 microbrews crafted on the spot, some award-winning, it's no wonder that this is a favorite rendezvous spot. Food includes wood-fired pizzas and pasta (mains $6 to $18). Happy hour is from 4pm to 6pm.

Million Dollar Cowboy Bar

BAR

(25 N Cache Dr) Touristy to the gills, but tempting nonetheless. Plunk your hind quarters on a saddle stool in this dark chop house, an obligatory stop on the Western tour. On weekends the dance floor sparks up and karaoke drones.

i Information

Jackson Hole Wyoming (www.jacksonhole.net.com) A good website for information on the area.

Valley Bookstore (125 N Cache St) Sells regional maps.

Visitor Center (☎ 307-733-3316; www.jacksonholechamber.com; 532 N Cache Dr; ☺ 9am-5pm)

i Getting There & Around

Jackson Hole Airport (JAC; ☎ 307-733-7682) is 7 miles north of Jackson off US 26/89/189/191 within Grand Teton National Park. Daily flights serve Denver, Salt Lake City, Dallas and Houston, while weekend flights connect Jackson with Chicago.

Alltrans' Jackson Hole Express (☎ 307-733-3135; www.jacksonholebus.com) buses provide a shuttle to Grand Teton National Park ($14 per day) and the airport ($16). It also departs at 6:30am daily from Maverik County Store (cnr Hwy 89 S and S Park Loop Rd) for Salt Lake City ($70, 5½ hours).

MONTANA

Maybe it's the independent frontier spirit, wild and free and oh-so American, that earned Montana its 'live and let live' state motto. The sky seems bigger and bluer. The air is crisp and pine-scented. From its mountains that drop into undulating ranchlands to brick brewhouses and the shaggy grizzly found lapping at an ice-blue glacier lake, Montana brings you to that euphoric place, naturally. And then it remains with you long after you've left its beautiful spaces behind.

i Information

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks (☎ 406-444-2535; <http://fwp.mt.gov>) Camping in Montana's 24 state parks costs around $15/23 per night for residents/nonresidents, while RV hookup sites (where available) cost an additional $5. Make reservations at ☎ 1-855-922-6768 or <http://montanas-tateparks.reserveamerica.com>.

Montana Road Conditions (☎ 800-226-7623, within Montana 511; www.mdt.mt.gov/travinfo)

Travel Montana (☎ 800-847-4868; www.visitmt.com)

Bozeman

In a gorgeous locale, surrounded by rolling green hills, pine forests and snowcapped peaks, Bozeman is the defending title holder of Coolest Town in Montana. Brick buildings with brewpubs and boutiques line historic Main St, mashing bohemian style up against cowboy cool and triathlete verve. A prime location up against the Bridger and Gallatin mountains makes it one of the very best outdoor towns in the West.

👁 Sights & Activities

Museum of the Rockies

MUSEUM

(☎ 406-994-2251; www.museumoftherockies.org; 600 W Kagy Blvd; adult/child $14/10; ☺ 8am-8pm; 🏠) Montana State University's (MSU) museum is the most entertaining in Montana and shouldn't be missed, with stellar dinosaur exhibits, early Native American art and laser planetarium shows.

★ Bridger Bowl Ski Area

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 406-587-2111; www.bridgerbowl.com; 15795 Bridger Canyon Rd; day lift ticket adult/child under 12yr $49/16; ☺ mid-Dec-Mar) Only in Bozeman would you find a nonprofit ski resort. But this excellent community-owned facility, 16 miles north of Bozeman, is just that. It's known for its fluffy, light powder and unbeatable prices – especially for children under 12.

Sleeping

The full gamut of chain motels lies north of downtown on 7th Ave, near I-90. There are more budget motels east of downtown on Main St, with rooms starting at around $50, depending on the season.

Bear Canyon Campground CAMPGROUND $
(☎) 800-438-1575; www.bearcanyoncampground.com; tent sites $20, RV sites $28-33; ☀ May–mid-Oct; 🏠 (🚰) Three miles east of Bozeman off I-90 exit 313, Bear Canyon Campground is on top of a hill with great views of the surrounding valley. There's even a pool.

Howlers Inn B&B $$
(☎) 406-586-0304; www.howlersinn.com; 3185 Jackson Creek Rd; dincl breakfast $110-150, 2-person cabin $195; 🏠 (🚰) Wolf-watchers will love this beautiful sanctuary 15 minutes outside of Bozeman. Rescued captive-born wolves live in an enclosed 4-acre area, supported by profits of the B&B. There's three spacious Western-style rooms in the main lodge and a two-bedroom cabin. With luck, you will drift off to sleep serenaded by howls. Take exit 319 off I-90.

Lewis & Clark Motel MOTEL $$
(☎) 800-332-7666; www.lewisandclarkmotelbozeman.com; 824 W Main St; r weekend/weekday $159/99; 🏠 (🚰) For a drop of Vegas in your Montana, stay at this flashy, locally owned motel. The large rooms have floor-to-ceiling front windows and the piped 1950s music adds to the retro Rat Pack vibe. With hot tub and steam room.

Eating & Drinking

As a college town, Bozeman has no shortage of student-oriented cheap eats and enough watering holes to quench a college football team's thirst. Nearly everything is located on Main St.

La Tinga MEXICAN $
(12 E Main St; mains $1.50-7; ☀ 8:30am-2:30pm) Simple, cheap and authentic, La Tinga is no-frills dining at its tastiest. The tiny order-at-the-counter taco joint makes a delicious version of the Mexican pork dish it is named after, and lots of freshly made tacos starting at just $1.50, or choose the daily lunch combo deal for less than $7.

Community Co-Op SUPERMARKET $
(www.bozo.coop; 908 W Main; mains $5-10; ☀ 7am-10pm Mon-Sat, 8am-10pm Sun; 🏠 (🚰) 🌿 This beloved local is the best place to stock up on organic and bulk foods, as well as hot meals, salads and soups to eat in or take away. The W Main branch has a great organic coffee-house upstairs.

Plonk WINE BAR $$
(www.plonkwine.com; 29 E Main St; dinner mains $13-32; ☀ 11:30am-midnight) Where to go for a drawn-out three-martini, gossipy lunch? Plonk serves a wide-ranging menu from light snacks to full meals, mostly made from local organic products. In summer the entire front opens up and cool breezes enter the long building, which also has a shotgun bar and pressed-tin ceilings.

John Bozeman's Bistro AMERICAN $$ (☎) 406-587-4100; www.johnbozemansbistro.com; 125 W Main St; mains $14-34; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm, 5-9:30pm Tues-Sat; 🍷) Bozeman's best

MONTANA FACTS

Nickname Treasure State, Big Sky Country

Population 1,005,000

Area 145,552 sq miles

Capital city Helena (population 28,600)

Other cities Billings (population 105,600), Missoula (67,300), Bozeman (38,000)

Sales tax No state sales tax

Birthplace of Movie star Gary Cooper (1901–61), motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel (1938–2007), actress Michelle Williams (1980)

Home of Crow, Blackfeet and Salish Native Americans

Politics Republican ranchers and oilmen generally edge out the Democratic students and progressives of left-leaning Bozeman and Missoula

Famous for Fly-fishing, cowboys and grizzly bears

Random fact Some Montana highways didn't have a speed limit until the 1990s!

Driving distances Bozeman to Denver 695 miles, Missoula to Whitefish 136 miles

DON'T MISS

FLY-FISHING IN BIG SKY

Ever since Robert Redford and Brad Pitt made it look sexy in the 1992 classic, A River Runs Through It, Montana has been closely tied to fly-fishing cool. Whether you are just learning or a world-class trout wrangler, the wide, fast rivers are always spectacularly beautiful and filled with fish. Although the film – and book it is based on – is set in Missoula and the nearby Blackfoot River, the movie was actually shot around Livingston and the Yellowstone and Gallatin Rivers.

For DIY trout fishing, the Gallatin River, 8 miles southwest of Bozeman along Hwy 191, has the most accessible, consistent angling spots, closely followed by the beautiful Yellowstone River, 25 miles east of Bozeman in the Paradise Valley.

For the scoop on differences between rainbow, brown and cutthroat trout – as well as flies, rods and a Montana fishing license – visit Bozeman Angler (☎ 406-587-9111; www.bozemanangler.com; 23 E Main St; ☼ 9:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, 10am-3pm Sun). Owned by a local couple for nearly two decades, the downtown shop runs a great introduction-to-fly-fishing class ($125 per person, casting lessons $40 per hour) on the second Saturday of the month between May and September.

restaurant offers Thai, Creole and pan-Asian slants on the cowboy dinner steak, plus starters like lobster chowder and a weekly 'superfood' special, featuring especially nutritious seasonal vegetarian fare.

Molly Brown

BAR

(www.mollybrownbozeman.com; 703 W Babcock) Popular with local MSU students, this noisy dive bar offers 20 beers on tap and eight pool tables for getting your game on.

Zebra Cocktail Lounge

LOUNGE

(☎ 406-585-8851; 15 N Rouse St; ☼ 8pm-2am) Inside the Bozeman Hotel, this place is the epicenter of the local live music scene, strong on club and hip-hop.

i Information

Visitor Center (☎ 406-586-5421; www.bozemanchamber.com; 1003 N 7th Ave; ☼ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) Information on lodging and area attractions.

i Getting There & Away

Gallatin Field Airport (BZN; ☎ 406-388-8321; www.bozemanairport.com) is 8 miles northwest of downtown. Karst Stage (☎ 406-556-3540; www.karststage.com) runs buses daily, December to April, from the airport to Big Sky ($51, one hour) and West Yellowstone ($102, two hours); summer service is by reservation only.

Rimrock Stages buses depart from the bus depot (☎ 406-587-3110; www.rimrocktrails.com; 1205 E Main St), half a mile from downtown, and service all Montana towns along I-90.

Gallatin & Paradise Valleys

Outdoor enthusiasts could explore the expansive beauty around the Gallatin and Paradise Valleys for days. Big Sky Resort (☎ 800-548-4486; www.bigskyresort.com; lift ticket adult $89), with multiple mountains, 400in of annual powder and Montana's longest vertical drop (4350ft), is one of the nation's premier downhill and cross-country ski destinations, especially now it has merged with neighboring Moonlight Basin. Lift lines are the shortest in the Rockies, and if you are traveling with kids then Big Sky is too good a deal to pass up – children under 10 ski free, while even your teenager saves $20 off the adult ticket price. In summer it offers gondola-served hiking and mountain biking.

For backpacking and backcountry skiing, head to the Spanish Peaks section of the Lee Metcalf Wilderness. It covers 389 sq miles of Gallatin and Beaverhead National Forest land west of US 191. Numerous scenic USFS campgrounds snuggle up to the Gallatin Range on the east side of US 191.

Twenty miles south of Livingston, off US 89 en route to Yellowstone, unpretentious Chico Hot Springs (☎ 406-333-4933; www.chicohot-springs.com; 2-person cabin $225, main lodge r $55-93; ☼ 8am-11pm; ♿) has garnered quite a following in the last few years, even attracting celebrity residents from Hollywood. Some come to soak in the swimming-pool-sized open-air hot pools (admission for nonguests $7.50), others come for the lively bar hosting swinging country-and-western dance bands on weekends. The on-site restaurant (mains $20 to $32) is known for fine steak and seafood. You can stay here overnight, too. It's not called Paradise Valley for nothing.

Absaroka Beartooth Wilderness

The fabulous, vista-packed Absaroka Beartooth Wilderness covers more than 943,377 acres and is perfect for a solitary adventure. Thick forests, jagged peaks and marvelous, empty stretches of alpine tundra are all found in this wilderness, saddled between Paradise Valley in the west and Yellowstone National Park in the south. The thickly forested Absaroka Range dominates the area's west half and is most easily reached from Paradise Valley or the Boulder River Corridor. The Beartooth Range's high plateau and alpine lakes are best reached from the Beartooth Hwy south of Red Lodge. Because of its proximity to Yellowstone, the Beartooth portion gets two-thirds of the area's traffic.

A picturesque old mining town with fun bars and restaurants and a good range of places to stay, Red Lodge offers great day hikes, backpacking and, in winter, skiing right near town. The Red Lodge Visitor Center (☎ 406-446-1718; www.redlodge.com; 601 N Broadway Ave; ☉ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun) has information on accommodations.

Billings

It's hard to believe laid-back little Billings is Montana's largest city. The friendly oil and ranching center is not a must-see but makes for a decent overnight pit stop. The historic downtown is hardly cosmopolitan, but has its own unpolished charm.

Road-weary travelers will appreciate the downtown Dude Rancher Lodge (☎ 800-221-3302; www.duderancherlodge.com; 415 N 29th St; d from $89; @ ☎), a fine and friendly motel with groovy oak furniture dating back to the 1940s, Western-styling, flat-screen TVs and in-room coffee.

With a hefty dose of Martha Stewart, plush Harper & Madison (☎ 406-281-8550; 3115 10th Av N; mains $4-10; ☉ 7am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-1pm Sat) does some brisk business. It's no wonder with the excellent coffee, homemade quiches and gourmet pressed sandwiches. If you're rushing to hit the road, grab some French pastries to go.

The upscale Walkers Grill (www.walkers-grill.com; 2700 1st Ave N; tapas $8-14, mains $17-33; ☉ 5-10pm) offers good grill items and fine tapas at the bar, with sophisticated Western decor. For classic dive ambience, check out Angry Hank's (☎ (406) 252-3370; 2405 1st Ave N; ☉ 4-8pm Mon-Sat), a former auto repair shop turned popular tap room and brewery.

Logan International Airport (BIL; www.flybillings.com), 2 miles north of downtown, has direct flights to Salt Lake City, Denver, Minneapolis, Seattle, Phoenix and destinations within Montana. The bus depot (☎ 406-245-5116; 2502 1st Ave N; ☉ 24hr) has services to Bozeman ($30, three hours) and Missoula ($61, eight hours).

Helena

With one foot in cowboy legend (Gary Cooper was born here) and the other in the more hip, less stereotypical lotus land of present-day Montana, diminutive Helena is one of the nation's smallest state capitals (population 28,000), a place where white-collared politicians draft legislation, while white-knuckle

WORTH A TRIP

CUSTER'S LAST STAND

The best detour from Billings is to the Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument (☎ 406-638-3224; www.nps.gov/libi; admission per car $10; ☉ 8am-9pm), 65 miles outside town in the arid plains of the Crow (Apsaalooke) Indian Reservation. Home to one of the USA's best-known Native American battlefields, this is where General George Custer made his famous 'last stand.'

Custer, and 272 soldiers, messed one too many times with Native Americans (including Crazy Horse of the Lakota Sioux), who overwhelmed the force in a (frequently painted) massacre. A visitor center tells the tale or, better, take one of the five daily tours with a Crow guide through Apsalooke Tours (☎ 406-638-3897; apsaalooketourism@gmail.com; ☉ Memorial Day-Labor Day). The entrance is a mile east of I-90 on US 212. If you're here for the last weekend of June, the Custer's Last Stand Re-enactment (www.custerslaststand.org; adult/child $20/10) is an annual hoot, 6 miles west of Hardin.

adventurers race into the foothills to indulge in that other Montana passion.

Back in town, half hidden among the Gore-tex and outdoor outfitters, you will find an unexpected Gallic-inspired neo-Gothic cathedral. Another pleasant surprise is the artsy pedestrian-only shopping quarter.

Sights & Activities

Many of Helena's sites are free, including the elegant old buildings along Last Chance Gulch (Helena's pedestrian shopping district), and the sights covered here.

State Capitol

LANDMARK

(cnr Montana Ave & 6th St; ☎ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri) This grand neoclassical building was completed in 1902 and is known for its beacon-like dome, richly decorated with gold-rimmed paintings inside.

Cathedral of St Helena

CHURCH

(530 N Ewing St) Rising like an apparition from old Europe over the town is this neo-Gothic cathedral completed in 1914. Highlights include the baptistry, organ and intricate stained-glass windows.

Holter Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(www.holtermuseum.org; 12 E Lawrence St; ☎ 10am-5.30pm Tue-Sat, noon-4pm Sun) FREE Exhibits modern pieces by Montana artists.

Mt Helena City Park

OUTDOORS

Nine hiking and mountain-biking trails wind through Mt Helena City Park, including one that takes you to the 5460ft-high summit of Mt Helena.

Sleeping & Eating

East of downtown near I-15 is a predictable string of chain motels. Most rooms are $70 to $95, and come with free continental breakfast, pool and Jacuzzi.

Sanders

B&B $$

(☎ 406-442-3309; www.sandersbb.com; 328 N Ewing St; r incl breakfast $130-145; ☎) A historic B&B with seven elegant guest rooms, a wonderful old parlor and a breezy front porch. Each bedroom is unique and thoughtfully decorated, it's run by a relative of the Ringling Brothers Circus family, with appropriate memorabilia.

Fire Tower Coffee House

CAFE, BREAKFAST $

(www.firetowercoffee.com; 422 Last Chance Gulch; breakfast $4-9; ☎ 6.30am-6pm Mon-Fri, 8am-3pm Sat; ☎) The hub for coffee, light meals and live music on Friday evening. The breakfast menu features granola and breakfast burritos, while lunch has a wholesome and interesting sandwich selection.

Information

Helena Visitor Center (☎ 406-442-4120; www.helenachamber.com; 225 Cruse Ave; ☎ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri)

Getting There & Around

Two miles north of downtown, Helena Regional Airport (HNL; www.helenairport.com) operates flights to most other airports in Montana, as well as to Salt Lake City, Seattle and Minneapolis. Rimrock Trailways leave from Helena's Transit Center (630 N Last Chance Gulch; ☎ 2-4pm, 8-9pm) where at least daily buses go to Missoula ($25, 2¼ hours), Billings ($52, 4¾ hours) and Bozeman ($22, two hours).

Missoula

Outsiders in Missoula usually spend the first 30 minutes wondering where they took a wrong turn; Austin, Texas? Portland, Oregon? Canada, perhaps? The confusion is understandable given the city's lack of standard Montana stereotypes. There's no Wild West saloons here and even fewer errant cowboys. Instead, Missoula is a refined university city with ample green space and abundant home pride.

Not surprisingly, its metro-west bounty is contagious. Though among the fastest growing cities in the US, sensible planning means that Missoula rarely feels clamorous. The small traffic-calmed downtown core broadcasts an interesting array of historic buildings, and bicycle transportation is ever hip.

Sights

Missoula is a great city for walking, especially in the spring and summer, when enough people emerge onto the streets to give it a definable metro personality.

Smokejumper Visitor Center

MUSEUM

(W Broadway; ☎ 10am-4pm Jun-Aug) FREE Located seven miles west of downtown is this active base for the heroic men and women who parachute into forests to combat raging wildfires. Its visitor center has thought-provoking audio and visual displays that do a great job illustrating the life of the Western firefighter.

Missoula Art Museum

MUSEUM

(www.missoulaartmuseum.org; 335 North Pattee; ☎10am-5pm Mon-Thu, 10am-3pm Fri-Sun) FREE
All hail a city that encourages free-thinking art and then displays it in a plush new building that seamlessly grafts a sleek contemporary addition onto a 100-year-old library.

Activities

Clark Fork River Trail System CYCLING, HIKING

Sitting astride the Clark Fork River, Missoula has been bequeathed with an attractive riverside trail system punctuated by numerous parks. Caras Park is the most central and active green space with over a dozen annual festivals and a unique hard-carved carousel.

Mount Sentinel

HIKING

A steep switchback trail from behind the football stadium leads up to a concrete whitewashed 'M' (visible for miles around) on 5158ft Mt Sentinel. Tackle it on a warm summer's evening for glistening views of this much-loved city and its spectacular environs.

★ Adventure Cycling HQ

CYCLING

(www.adventurecycling.org; 150 E Pine St; ☎8am-5pm Mon-Fri, open Sat Jun-Aug) 🌬 The HQ for America's premier nonprofit bicycle travel organization is something of a pilgrimage site for cross-continental cyclists, many of whom plan their route to pass through Missoula. Staff offer a warm welcome and plenty of cycling information.

Fly-fishing

FISHING

A River Runs Through It was set here (although it was filmed outside Bozeman) and fly-fishers will find some of the best angling in the state. Rock Creek, 21 miles east, is a designated blue-ribbon trout stream and the best year-round fishing spot.

Sleeping

Mountain Valley Inn

MOTEL $

(☎800-249-9174; www.mountainvalleyinnmissoula.com; 420 W Broadway; d from $79; 📞📺📶) Offering a good deal for the downtown location, the Mountain Valley pulls few surprises, but delivers where it matters – clean rooms and a polite welcome.

Goldsmith's Bed & Breakfast

B&amp;B $$

(☎406-728-1585; www.missoulabedandbreakfast.com; 809 E Front St; r $124-169; 📞📺) A delightful riverside B&B. The wraparound deck is the perfect place to kick back with other guests or a good novel. Comfy Victorian-style rooms are simply lovely. Some come with private decks, river views, fireplaces and reading nooks.

Eating & Drinking

Liquid Planet

CAFE $

(www.liquidplanet.com; 223 N Higgins; mains $4-9) 🌬 Started by a university professor in 2003, this sustainable coffeehouse and wine outlet proffers handwritten recommendations for every bottle. Coffee beans are also thoughtfully deconstructed. For smoothies, teas and pastries, you're on your own.

★ Silk Road

INTERNATIONAL $$

(www.silkroadcatering.com; 515 S Higgins; tapas $4-12; ☎5-10pm) Spanning global dishes from the Ivory Coast to Piedmont, Silk Road takes on lesser-known world cuisine and, more often than not, nails it. Dishes are tapas-sized, allowing you to mix and match. A warm welcome and an ambience of cushions and candlelit tapestries set the scene.

Caffe Dolce

MODERN AMERICAN $$

(☎406-830-3055; www.caffedolcemissoula.com; cnr Brooks & Beckwith; mains $11-30; ☎7am-9pm Mon-Thur, 7am-10pm Fri, 8am-9pm Sat, 8am-3pm Sun) In a stately stone building, this chic newcomer is abuzz with well-clad Missoulanders getting their fix of gelato, pastries, wine and gorgeous salads. Dinner can be pricey but exotic pizzas like the salty fig and prosciutto offer a lighter, cheaper option. Coffee is a serious business here, and it deals in the best Montana roasters. With patio seating. It's located after the bridge going north of downtown.

Iron Horse Brewpub

BREWERY

(www.ironhorsebrewpub.com; 501 N Higgins St; ☎11:30am-late) Rather swanky for a brewpub, the Iron Horse includes a plush upstairs bar complete with a saltwater aquarium. It's popular with students for its microbrews and traditional American pub grub.

Information

Visitor Center (☎406-532-3250; www.missoulacvb.org; 101 E Main St; ☎8am-5pm Mon-Fri)

Getting There & Around

Missoula County International Airport (MSO; www.flymissoula.com) is 5 miles west of Missoula on US 12 W.

Greyhound buses serve most of the state and stop at the depot (1660 W Broadway), 1 mile west of town. Rimrock Trailways (www.rimrock-trailways.com) buses, connecting to Kalispell, Whitefish, Helena and Bozeman, also stop here.

Flathead Lake

The largest natural freshwater lake west of the Mississippi, sitting not an hour's drive from Glacier National Park, completes western Montana's embarrassment of natural lures. The lake's north shore is dominated by the nothing-to-write-home-about city of Kalispell; far more interesting is the southern end embellished by the small polished settlement of Polson, which sits on the Flathead Indian Reservation. There's a visitor center (www.polsonchamber.com; 418 Main St; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri) and a handful of accommodations here including the lakeside Kwataqnuk Resort (☎406-883-3636; www.kwataqnuk.com; 49708 US 93; r from $130; 🏠🍷🍷), an above-average Best Western with a boat dock, indoor and outdoor pools and a relatively innocuous game room. Directly opposite, the lurid pink Betty's Diner (49779 US 93; meals $10-15) delivers salt-of-the-earth American food with customary Montana charm. From town you can walk 2 miles south along a trail starting on 7th Ave E to the mind-boggling Miracle of America Museum (www.miracleofamericamuseum.org; 58176 Hwy 93; admission $5; ☎8am-8pm). At turns random and fascinating, it consists of 5 acres cluttered with the leftovers of American history. Wander past weird artifacts including the biggest buffalo (now stuffed) ever recorded in Montana.

Flathead Lake's eastern shore is kissed by the mysterious Mission Mountains while the west is a more pastoral land of apple orchards and grassy hills. To get the best all-round view, hit the water. Soloists can kayak or canoe the conceptual Flathead Lake Marine Trail, which links various state parks and campsites (☎406-751-4577; tent sites from $10) around the lake. The nearest site to Polson is Finley Point 5.5 miles away by water.

Lake cruises (www.kwataqnuk.com) are run out of the Kwataqnuk Resort in Polson. The 1½ hour Bay Cruise leaves daily at 10:30am and costs $15. Summer dining cruises leave at 4pm on Wednesdays and Saturdays (cost per person is $30).

Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex

Away from the Pacific coast, America's northwest harbors some of the most lightly populated areas in the lower 48. Point in question: the Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex, an astounding 2344 sq miles of land strafed with 3200 miles of trails including sections that are a 40-mile slog from the nearest road. And you thought the US was car-obsessed.

Running roughly from the southern boundary of Glacier National Park in the north to Rogers Pass (on Hwy 200) in the south, there are actually three designated wilderness areas within the complex: Great Bear, Bob Marshall and Scapegoat. On the periphery the complex is buffered with national-forest lands offering campgrounds, road access to trailheads and quieter country when 'the Bob' (as locals and park rangers call it) hosts hunters in fall.

The main access point to the Bob from the south is from Hwy 200 via the Monture Guard Station Cabin (cabins $60), on the wilderness perimeter. To reach it you'll need to drive 7 miles north of Ovando and snowshoe or hike the last mile to your private abodes at the edge of the gorgeous Lewis and Clark Range. Contact the USFS about reservations.

Other Bob access points include the Seeley-Swan Valley in the west, Hungry Horse Reservoir in the north and the Rocky Mountain Front in the east. The easiest (and busiest) access routes are from the Benchmark and Gibson Reservoir trailheads in the Rocky Mountain Front.

Trails generally start steep, reaching the wilderness boundary after around 7 miles. It takes another 10 miles or so to really get into the Bob's heart. Good day-hikes run from all sides. Two USFS districts tend to the Bob, Flathead National Forest Headquarters (☎406-758-5208; www.fs.fed.us/r1/flathead; 650 Wolfpack Way; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) and Lewis & Clark National Forest Supervisors (☎406-791-7700; www.fs.fed.us/r1/lewis-clark; 1101 15th St N; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri).

Whitefish

One square mile of rustic Western chic, tiny Whitefish (population 8000) easily charms. Once sold as the main gateway to Glacier National Park, this charismatic and caffeinated New West town would merit a long-distance trip itself. Aside from grandiose Glacier (an easy day's cycling distance), Whitefish is home to an attractive stash of restaurants, a historic railway station that doubles up as a museum (www.stumptownhistoricalsociety.org; 500 Depot St; ☎10am-4pm Mon-Sat) FREE and underrated Whitefish Mountain Resort (☎ 406-862-2900; www.bigmtn.com), known as Big Mountain until 2008, guards 3000 acres of varied ski terrain and offers night skiing on weekends. In the summer there's lift-assisted mountain biking and zip lines.

Check with the Whitefish Visitor Center (www.whitefishvisit.com; 307 Spokane Ave; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) for more info on activities.

A string of chain motels lines US 93 south of Whitefish, but the savvy dock in town at the cheerful Downtowner Inn (☎ 406-862-2535; www.downtownermotel.cc; 224 Spokane Ave; d $123; 🏠 🚿) with a gym, a Jacuzzi and a morning bagel bar. The more upmarket Pine Lodge (☎ 406-862-7600; www.thepinelodge.com; 920 Spokane Ave; d from $145; 🏠 🚿 🍷), offers deep discounts outside the peak seasons. Decent restaurants and bars abound, though most locals will point you in the direction of the Buffalo Café (www.buffalocafewhitefish.com; 514 3rd St E; breakfast $7-10), a breakfast and lunch hot spot. Later check out The Great Northern Brewing Co (☎ 406-863-1000; www.greatnorthernbrewing.com; 2 Central Ave; ☎ tours 1pm & 3pm Mon-Thu), with factory tours and sampling.

Amtrak stops daily at Whitefish's railroad depot (☎ 406-862-2268; 500 Depot St; ☎ 6am-1:30pm, 4:30pm-midnight) en route to West Glacier ($7, 30 minutes) and East Glacier ($15, two hours). Rimrock Trailways (www.rimrocktrailways.com) runs daily buses to Kalispell and Missoula from the same location.

Glacier National Park

Few of the world's parks of great natural wonders can emulate the US national park system, and few national parks are as magnificent and pristine as Glacier. Created in 1910 during the first flowering of the American conservationist movement, Glacier ranks with Yellowstone, Yosemite and the Grand Canyon.

It is renowned for its historic 'parkitecture' lodges, spectacular arterial road (the Going-to-the-Sun Road), and intact pre-Columbian ecosystem. This is the only place in the lower 48 states where grizzly bears still roam in abundance and smart park management has kept the place accessible yet, at the same time, authentically wild (there is no populated town site à la Banff or Jasper). Among a slew of outdoor attractions, the park is particularly noted for its hiking, wildlife-spotting, and sparkling lakes, ideal for boating and fishing.

Although Glacier's tourist numbers are relatively high (two million a year), few visitors stray far from the Going-to-the-Sun Road and almost all visit between June and September. Choose your moment and splendid isolation is yours for the taking. The park remains open year-round; however, most services are open only from mid-May to September.

Glacier's 1562 sq miles are divided into five regions, each centered on a ranger station: Polebridge (northwest); Lake McDonald (southwest), including the West Entrance and Apgar village; Two Medicine (southeast); St Mary (east); and Many Glacier (northeast). The 50-mile Going-to-the-Sun Road is the only paved road that traverses the park.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Going-to-the-Sun Road

OUTDOORS

(☎ mid-Jun-late Sep) A strong contender for the most spectacular road in America, the 53-mile Going-to-the-Sun Road is a national historic landmark, flanked by hiking trails and a mountain pass, served by a free shuttle

The road skirts near shimmering Lake McDonald before angling sharply to the Garden Wall - the main dividing line between the west and east sides of the park. At Logan Pass you can stroll 1.5 miles to Hidden Lake Overlook; heartier hikers can try the 7.5-mile Highline Trail. The shuttle stops on the western side of the road at the trailhead for Avalanche Lake, an easy 4-mile return hike to a stunning alpine lake in a cirque beautified with numerous weeping waterfalls.

Many Glacier

HIKING

Anchored by the historic 1915 Many Glacier Lodge and sprinkled with more lakes than glaciers, this picturesque valley on the park's east side has some tremendous hikes, some of which link to the Going-to-the-Sun Road. A favorite is the 9.4-mile (return) Iceberg Lake Trail, a steep but rewarding jaunt through flower meadows and pine forest to an iceberg infested lake.

Glacier Park Boat Co

BOATING, HIKING

(☎ 406-257-2426; www.glacierparkboats.com; St Mary Lake cruise adult/child $25/12) Rents out kayaks and canoes, and runs popular lake cruises from five locations in Glacier National Park. Also offers guided hikes.

Sleeping

There are 13 NPS campgrounds (📞 406-888-7800; <http://reservations.nps.gov>; tent & RV sites $10-23) and seven historic lodges in the park, which operate between mid-May and the end of September. Of the sites, only Fish Creek and St Mary can be reserved in advance (up to five months). Sites fill by mid-morning, particularly in July and August.

Glacier also has seven historic lodges dating from the early 1900s.

★ Many Glacier Hotel

HOTEL $$

(📞 406-732-4411; www.glacierparkinc.com; r $163-250; ☀ mid-Jun-mid-Sep; 🏠) Modeled after a Swiss chalet, this national historic landmark on Swiftcurrent Lake is the park's largest hotel, with 208 rooms featuring panoramic views. Evening entertainment, a lounge and fine-dining restaurant specializing in fondue all add to the appeal.

Lake McDonald Lodge

HOTEL $$

(📞 406-888-5431; www.glacierparkinc.com; cabin/lodge r from $137/79; ☀ May-Sep; 🏠) Built in 1913, this old hunting lodge is adorned with stuffed-animal trophies and exudes relaxation. The 100 rooms are lodge, chalet or motel style. Nightly park-ranger talks and lake cruises add a rustic ambience. There's a restaurant and pizzeria.

Glacier Park Lodge

HOTEL $$

(📞 406-226-5600; www.glacierparkinc.com; r $152-235; ☀ late May-Sep) The park's flagship lodge is a graceful, elegant place featuring interior balconies supported by Douglas fir timbers and a massive stone fireplace in the lobby. It's an aesthetically appealing, historically charming and very comfortable place to stay. Pluses include nine holes of golf and cozy reading nooks.

Rising Sun Motor Inn

MOTEL $$

(📞 406-732-5523; www.glacierparkinc.com; r $134-142; ☀ late May-early Sep) One of two classic 1940s-era wooden motels, the Rising Sun lies on the north shore of St Mary Lake in a small complex that includes a store, restaurant and boat launch. The rustic rooms and cabins offer everything an exhausted hiker could hope for.

Eating

In summer there are grocery stores with limited camping supplies in Apgar, Lake McDonald Lodge, Rising Sun and at the Swiftcurrent Motor Inn. Most lodges have on-site restaurants. Dining options in West Glacier and St Mary offer mainly hearty hiking fare.

Polebridge Mercantile BAKERY, SUPERMARKET $ (Polebridge Loop Rd, North Fork Valley; snacks $4; ☀ 8am-6pm May-Nov; 🏠) Come here for the cinnamon buns, known to pump a good couple of hours into tired hiking legs.

Park Café

AMERICAN $

(www.parkcafe.us; US 89, St. Mary; breakfast $7-12; ☀ 7am-10pm Jun-Sep) Offers hearty breakfasts and comes recommended for the homemade pies topped in whipped cream or ice cream.

Ptarmigan Dining Room

INTERNATIONAL $$$

(Many Glacier Lodge; mains $15-32; ☀ 6:30am-9:30pm, mid-Jun-early Sep) With its lakeside views, this is the most refined of the lodge restaurants, also serving wine and microbrews.

Information

Visitor centers and ranger stations in the park sell field guides and hand out hiking maps. Those at Apgar and St Mary are open daily May to October; the visitor center at Logan Pass is open when the Going-to-the-Sun Road is open. The Many Glacier, Two Medicine and Polebridge Ranger Stations close at the end of September. Park headquarters (📞 406-888-7800; www.nps.gov/glac; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri), in West Glacier between US 2 and Apgar, is open year-round.

Entry to the park (hiker/vehicle $12/25) is valid for seven days. Day-hikers don't need permits, but overnight backpackers do (May to October only). Half of the permits are available on a first-come, first-served basis from the Apgar Backcountry Permit Center (permits per person per day $4; ☀ May 1-Oct 31), St Mary Visitor Center, and the Many Glacier, Two Medicine and Polebridge ranger stations.

The other half can be reserved at the Apgar Backcountry Permit Center, St Mary and Many Glacier visitor centers and Two Medicine and Polebridge ranger stations.

Getting There & Around

Amtrak's Empire Builder train stops daily at West Glacier (year-round) and East Glacier Park (April to October) on its route between Seattle and Chicago. Glacier National Park (www.nps.gov/glac) runs shuttles (adult/child $10/5) from Apgar Village to St Mary over Going-to-the-Sun Road from July 1 to Labor Day. Glacier Park, Inc (www.glacierparkinc.com) offers the East Side Shuttle (adult/child $10/5) on the eastern side of the park with daily links to Waterton (Canada), Many Glacier, St Mary, Two Medicine and East Glacier.

IDAHO

Famous for not being particularly famous, the nation's 43rd state is a pristine wilderness of Alaskan proportions, rudely ignored by passing traffic heading west to Seattle or east to Montana. In truth, much of this lightly trodden land is little changed since the days of Lewis and Clark, including a vast 15,000-sq-km 'hole' in the middle of the state which is bereft of roads, settlements, or any other form of human interference.

Flatter, dryer southern Idaho is dominated by the Snake River, deployed as a transportation artery by early settlers on the Oregon Trail and tracked today by busy Hwy 84. But, outside of this narrow populated strip, the Idaho landscape is refreshingly free of the soulless strip-mall, fast-food infestations so ubiquitous elsewhere in the US.

Boise

Understated, underrated and underappreciated, Idaho's state capital (and largest city) gets little name recognition from people outside the northwest. The affable downtown surprises blinkered outsiders with the modest spirit of an underdog. Cool surprises include Basque culture, a grandiose Idaho capitol building and a fair number of well-heeled bars and Parisian-style bistros. With a university campus to boot and a 'city of trees' moniker, it's not just a marketing ploy. Boise leaves a poignant and lasting impression – primarily because it's not supposed to.

Sights & Activities

Delve into the main business district, bounded by State, Grove, 4th and 9th Sts.

Basque Block

(www.thebasqueblock.com) NEIGHBORHOOD
Unbeknownst to many, Boise harbors one of the largest Basque populations outside Spain. European émigrés first arrived in the 1910s to work as Idaho shepherds. Elements of their distinct culture can be glimpsed along Grove St between 6th St and Capitol Blvd.

Sandwiched between the ethnic taverns, restaurants and bars is the Basque Museum & Cultural Center (www.basquemuseum.com; 611 Grove St; adult/senior & student $5/4; ☉10am-4pm Tue-Fri, 11am-3pm Sat), a commendable effort to unveil the intricacies of Basque culture and how it was transposed 6000 miles west to Idaho. Language lessons in Euskara, Europe's oldest language, are held here, while next door in the Anduiza Fronton Building (619 Grove St) there's a Basque handball court where aficionados play the traditional sport of pelota.

Idaho State Capitol

LANDMARK

The joy of US state capitol buildings is that visitors can admire some of the nation's best architecture for free. The Boise building, constructed from native sandstone, celebrates the neoclassical style in vogue when it was built in 1920. It was extensively refurbished in 2010 and is now heated with geothermal hot water.

Boise River & Greenbelt

PARK, MUSEUM

 Laid out in the 1960s, the tree-lined riverbanks of the Boise River protect 30 miles of vehicle-free trails. It personifies Boise's 'city of trees' credentials, with parks, museums and river fun.

The river is insanely popular for its floating and tubing. The put-in point is Barber Park (Eckert Rd; tube rental $12) 6 miles east of downtown. It's a 5-mile float to the take-out

IDAHO FACTS

Nickname Gem State

Population 1,596,000

Area 83,570 sq miles

Capital city Boise (population 210,100)

Other cities Idaho Falls (population 57,600)

Sales tax 6%

Birthplace of Lewis and Clark guide Sacagawea (1788–1812); politician Sarah Palin (b 1964); poet Ezra Pound (1885–1972)

Home of Star garnet, Sun Valley ski resort

Politics Reliably Republican with small pockets of Democrats, eg Sun Valley

Famous for Potatoes, wilderness, the world's first chairlift

North America's deepest river gorge Idaho's Hells Canyon (7,900 ft deep)

Driving distances Boise to Idaho Falls 280 miles, Lewiston to Coeur d'Alene 116 miles point at Ann Morrison Park. There are four rest-stops en route and a shuttle bus ($3) runs from the take-out point.

The most central and action-packed space on the Greenbelt, 90-acre Julia Davis Park contains the Idaho State Historical Museum (610 N Julia Davis Dr; adult/child $5/3; ☺ 9am-5pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat) with well thought-out exhibits on Lewis and Clark; and the Boise Art Museum (www.boiseart-museum.org; 670 N Julia Davis Dr; adult/senior & student $6/3; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun). There's also a pretty outdoor rose garden.

Ridge to Rivers Trail System HIKING
(www.ridgetorivers.org) ☹ More rugged than the greenbelt are the scrub- and brush-covered foothills above town offering 75 miles of scenic, sometimes strenuous hiking and mountain-biking routes. The most immediate access from downtown is via Fort Boise Park on E Fort St, five blocks southeast of the state capitol building.

Sleeping

Here are three true gems.

Leku Ona HOTEL $
(☎ 208-345-6665; www.lekuonaid.com; 117 S 6th St; r $65-85; ☺) Run by a Basque-born immigrant, this central boarding house has seen some wear. The downtown location can be noisy on weekends, but it certainly is economical. The restaurant next door serves delicious pintxos (Basque tapas).

★ Boise Guest House GUESTHOUSE $$
(☎ 208-761-6798; boiseguesthouse.com; 614 North 5th St; suites $89-119; ☺) The dearest home away from home, this artist-owned guest-house has a handful of stylin' suites with kitchens and living areas. Whimsical and well thought-out, it's decked out in lovely decor with good books on the shelf and appealing local art. The free cruiser bikes (with handlebar streamers – hello!) encourage further exploration.

Modern Hotel BOUTIQUE MOTEL $$
(☎ 208-424-8244; www.themodernhotel.com; 1314 W Grove St; d incl breakfast from $99; ☑ ☺) Making an oxymoron (a boutique motel!?) into a fashion statement, the Modern Hotel offers retro-trendy minimalist rooms and a slavishly hip bar slap-bang in the middle of downtown. The power showers are huge and the service is five-star.

Eating & Drinking

Restaurants and nightspots are found downtown in the brick-lined pedestrian plaza of the Grove, and the gentrified former warehouse district between 8th St and Idaho Ave. Count on some exciting Basque specialties, authentic bistros and exceptional bars.

★ Fork MODERN AMERICAN $$
(☎ 207-287-1700; www.boisefork.com; 199 North 8th St; mains $8-29; ☺ 11am-10pm; ☹) ☹ Twenty years ago, this kind of upscale green-boosted menu would have been Idaho heresy. No more. Down-home starts with cast-iron-fried chicken with waffles and balsamic maple syrup. But there's also heaping salads and braised greens in addition to local meat and many regionally-sourced ingredients. Don't even think of skipping the rosemary parmesan fries. So popular, service can be slow.

Vietnam Pho Nouveau VIETNAMESE $$
(☎ 208-367-1111; www.phonouveau.com; 780 West Idaho St; mains $9-15; ☺ 11am-9:30pm Mon-Thur, 11am-10:30pm Sat, 12-8:30pm Sun) A small, smart cafe oozing understated cool, it's Boise's happy destination for Asian comfort food. Dig into bun (a big bowl of noodles with grilled meat and plenty of greens), lily blossom salad with tender shredded pork, or Saigon crepes.

Grape Escape WINE BAR $$
(800 W Idaho St; appetizers $7-11, mains $11-18; ☺ 11am-close) Sit alfresco and enjoy your Pinot Noir with light supper fare (bruschetta, salads and highly creative pizzas) while logging the ubiquity of downtown cyclists, closet intellectuals and bright young things out for an early evening aperitif. The wine menu is almost as good as the people-watching. With jazz Sundays.

Bittercreek Ale House & Red Feather Lounge MODERN AMERICAN $$ (www.justeatlocal.com; 246 N 8th St; mains $7-15; ☺ 11:30am-late) ☹ These adjoining restaurants offer lively, intimate environs and lots of personality. They also serve wholesome, usually locally produced food with an emphasis on sustainable growth. The nouveau-American menu features a good selection of vegetarian options. The more polished Red Feather does delicious wood-oven pizza.

Order one of the whiskey cocktails that are made using an old-fashioned pre-Prohibition-era recipe.

Bar Gernika

PUB
(www.bargernkia.com; 202 S Capitol Blvd; lunch $8-10; ☺ 11am-midnight Mon-Thu till 1am Fri & Sat) Ongi etorri (welcome) to the Basque block's most accessible pub-tavern with a menu that leans heavily on old-country favorites such as lamb kebab, chorizo and beef tongue (Saturdays only). Pair your meal with a 20oz Guinness or regional microbrew. It's a true only-in-Boise kind of place.

Bardenay

PUB
(www.bardenay.com; 610 Grove St; mains $8-18; ☺ 11am-late) Bardenay was the USA's very first 'distillery-pub,' and remains a one-of-a-kind watering hole. Today it serves its own home-brewed vodka, rum and gin in casual, airy environs. It gets consistently good reviews.

i Information

Visitor Center (☎ 208-344-7777; www.boise.org; 250 S. 5th St, Ste. 300; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm Sat Jun-Aug, 9am-4pm Mon-Fri Sep-May) Stop by the visitor center.

i Getting There & Around

Boise Municipal Airport (BOI; I-84 exit 53) has daily flights to Denver, Las Vegas, Phoenix, Portland, Salt Lake City, Seattle and Spokane. Greyhound services depart from the bus station (1212 W Bannock St) with routes fanning out to Spokane, Pendleton and Portland, and Twin Falls and Salt Lake City.

Ketchum & Sun Valley

In one of Idaho's most stunning natural locations sits a piece of ski history. Sun Valley was the first purpose-built ski resort in the US, hand-picked by Union Pacific Railroad scion William Averell Harriman (after an exhaustive search) in the 1930s and publicized by glitterati Ernest Hemingway, Clark Gable and Gary Cooper. When Sun Valley opened in 1936 it sported the world's first chairlift and a showcase 'parkitecture' lodge that remains its premier resort.

Sun Valley has kept its swanky Hollywood clientele and extended its facilities to include the legendary Bald Mountain, yet it remains a refined and pretty place (no fast-food joints or condo sprawl here). Highly rated nationwide, the resort is revered for its reliably good snow, big elevation drop and almost windless weather. The adjacent village of Ketchum, 1 mile away, holds a rustic beauty despite the skiing deluge. Hemingway made it prime territory for fishing and hunting, though these days fat tires are the summer rage.

Activities

Main St between 1st and 5th Sts is where you'll find nearly all the businesses. Sun Valley and its lodge is 1 mile to the north and easily walkable. Twelve miles south of Ketchum, also on Hwy 75, is Hailey, another delightful small town with a bar scene.

Wood River Trail*HIKING, CYCLING

There are numerous hiking and mountain biking trails around Ketchum and Sun Valley, as well as excellent fishing spots. The Wood River Trail is the all-connecting artery linking Sun Valley with Ketchum and continuing 32 bucolic miles south down to Bellevue via Hailey. Bikes can be hired from Pete Lane's (bikes per day $35) in the mall next to the Sun Valley Lodge.

Sun Valley Resort*SNOW SPORTS

(www.sunvalley.com; adult/child Bald Mountain $95/54, Dollar Mountain $54/39) Famous for its light, fluffy powder and celebrity guests, the dual-sited resort comprises advanced-terrain Bald Mountain and easier-on-the-nerves Dollar Mountain, which also has a tubing hill. In summer, take the chairlift to the top of either mountain (adult/child ride $15/10), and hike or cycle down. Facilities are predictably plush.

Sleeping

In summer, there is free camping on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) land very close to town, see the visitor center for details.

Lift Tower Lodge*MOTEL $

(☎ 208-726-5163; 703 S Main St; r $89-109; ☑ ☺) Lifelong members of the hoi polloi can hobnob with millionaires and decamp afterwards to this friendly and economical small motel on the cusp of Ketchum with firm quilted beds. A landmark exhibition chairlift (c 1939) is lit up after dark.

Tamarack Lodge*HOTEL $$

(☎ 208-726-3344; www.tamaracksunvalley.com; 500 E Sun Valley Rd; r $149-169; ☑ ☺ ☻) Taste-ful rooms complete with fireplace, balcony and many amenities are offered at this well-maintained lodge. Sterling service, a Jacuzzi and indoor pool are definite assets. Discounts are often available midweek and off-season.

HEMINGWAY: THE FINAL DAYS

Although Sun Valley and Ketchum never featured explicitly in the work of Ernest Miller Hemingway, the globe-trotting author had a deep affection for the area. He became a frequent visitor following its development as a ski resort in the late 1930s. Legend has it that he completed his Spanish Civil War masterpiece For Whom the Bell Tolls in room 206 of the Sun Valley Lodge in between undertaking fishing and hunting excursions with friends such as Gary Cooper and Clark Gable.

In the 1940s and '50s, Hemingway migrated south to Key West and Cuba. After the Cuban revolution in 1959, Hemingway's Havana house was expropriated and the author moved permanently to Idaho. Increasingly paranoid and in declining physical and mental health, on July 2, 1961, Hemingway took his favorite gun, walked out onto the porch of his home off Warm Springs Rd and blew his brains out at age 61.

There is a surprising (and refreshing) lack of hullabaloo surrounding Hemingway in Ketchum. You'll have to look hard to find the small, pretty cemetery half a mile north of the center on Hwy 75, where he is buried alongside his granddaughter Margaux. Pennies, cigars and the odd bottle of liquor furnish his simple grave. Hemingway's house is out of bounds to the public but a monument honors him near Trail Creek, 1 mile beyond the Sun Valley Lodge. In Ketchum, his favorite drinking holes were the Casino Club (p798) and the Alpine Club, now known as Whiskey Jacques (☎208-726-5297; 251 Main St; cover up to $5; ☺4pm-2am).

Sun Valley Lodge

(☎208-622-2001; www.sunvalley.com; 1 Sun Valley Rd; r $287-405; ♿@☺☺) Hemingway completed For Whom the Bell Tolls in this swank 1930s-era beauty and the place has lost little of its luxurious pre-war sheen. Old-fashioned elegance is the lure in comfortable rooms that sometimes feel a little small by today's standards. Amenities include a fitness facility, game room, bowling alley and sauna. There's also a ski shuttle and children's program.

HOTEL $$$

✂ Eating & Drinking

Despo's

(☎208-726-3068; 211 4th St; mains $7-14; ☺11:30am-10pm Mon-Sat) Locals dig this healthy Mexican joint, even if it isn't the most authentic. Everything is fresh, salads huge, and homemade salsas (warm, hot and smokin') are worthy.

MEXICAN $

★Rickshaw

(www.eat-at-rickshaw.com; 460 Washington Ave N; small plates & mains $4-15; ☺5:30-10:30pm Tue-Sat, 5:30-9:30pm Sun) Small and crooked as an actual rickshaw, welcoming and with the vitality of a busy thoroughfare, this red-hot fusion restaurant turns out A-plus versions of street food from Vietnam, Thailand, Korea and Indonesia. Tender short ribs with a jalapeno-cilantro glaze are maddeningly wonderful. From green curry to cashew stir fry, the default here is spicy. A must.

ASIAN $$

Glow

(380 Washington #105; mains $7-12; ☺10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat; ☎) A pleasure palace for raw and vegan dining. With a laundry list of smoothies, chia pudding for breakfast, organic salads, blended soups and (thank God) handmade raw chocolates, you too might glow. The crowd: perfect, Sun Valley types in yoga pants.

VEGAN $$

Pioneer Saloon

(www.pioneersaloon.com; 320 N Main St; mains $9-29; ☺5:30-10pm) Around since the 1950s and originally an illicit gambling hall, the Pio is an unashamedly Western den decorated with deer heads, antique guns, bullet boards and – oh yes – good food too, as long as you like beef and trout. All dinners are guaranteed.

STEAKHOUSE $$$

Casino Club

(220 N Main St) In a ski resort less than 75 years old, this dive bar is the oldest thing still standing from days of yore. It has witnessed everything from gambling fist fights, to psychedelic hippies, to the rise and fall of Ernest Hemingway, to tattooed men on Harley riding through the front door.

BAR

i Information

Sun Valley/Ketchum Visitors Center (☎208-726-3423; www.visitsunvalley.com; 491 Sun Valley Rd; ☺6am-7pm) Staffed only from 9am-6pm, you can still come in and get maps and brochures before and after hours as it smartly doubles as a Starbucks cafe.

i Getting There & Around

The region's airport, Friedman Memorial Airport (www.flyfma.com) in Hailey is 12 miles south of Ketchum. A-1 Taxi (☎ 208-726-9351; www.a1sunvalley.com) offers transportation.

Sun Valley Express (www.sunvalleyexpress.com) operates a daily shuttle between Sun Valley and Boise Airport in both directions ($65 one-way).

Stanley

Backed by the ragged Sawtooths, Stanley (population 100), with its gravel roads, log homes and rusted iron sheds might be the most scenic small town in America. Surrounded by protected wilderness and national-forest land, the remote outpost sits in the crook of the Salmon River, miles from anywhere. Here the high summer twilight stretches past 10pm and the roaring creek lulls you to sleep.

i Activities

Middle Fork of the Salmon

RAFTING

Stanley is the jumping-off point for rafting the legendary Middle Fork of the Salmon. Billed as the 'last wild river,' it's part of the longest undammed river system outside Alaska. Full trips last six days and allow you to float for 106 miles through the 300 or so rapids (class I to IV) of the 2.4-million-acre Frank Church–River of No Return Wilderness, miles from any form of civilization.

Main Fork of the Salmon

RAFTING

(i) For more affordable, albeit slightly less dramatic, white-water action than Middle Fork, do a DIY float trip down the Main Fork of the Salmon in a raft or inflatable kayak. There are 8 miles of quiet water, starting in Stanley, with views of the Sawtooth Mountains you can't see from the road. Bring fishing gear.

DON'T MISS

CENTRAL IDAHO'S SCENIC BYWAYS

Goodbye suburban strip malls, hello unblemished wilderness. All three roads into the remote Idahoan outpost of Stanley are designated National Scenic Byways (it's the only place in the US where this happens). Considering there are only 125 such roads in the country, it means 2.4% of American's prettiest pavement runs through bucolic Stanley.

Sawtooth Scenic Byway

Following the Salmon River along Hwy 75 north from Ketchum to Stanley this 60-mile drive is gorgeous, winding through a misty, thick ponderosa pine forest – where the air is crisp and fresh and smells like rain and nuts – before ascending the 8701ft Galena Summit. From the overlook at the top, there are views of the glacially carved Sawtooth Mountains.

Ponderosa Pine Scenic Byway

Hwy 21, between Stanley and Boise, is so beautiful it will be hard to reach your destination because you'll want to stop so much. From Stanley the trees increase in density, until you find yourself cloaked in pine – more Pacific Northwest than classic Rockies. With frequent bursts of rain, the roadway can feel dangerous. Even in late May the snowfields stretch right down to the highway.

Two of the road's many highlights are Kikham Creek Hot Springs (parking $6; ☎ 6am-10pm), 6 miles east of Lowman, a primitive campground and natural hot springs boiling out of the creek; and the old restored gold rush town of Idaho Falls.

Salmon River Scenic Byway

Northeast of Stanley, Hwy 75 and US 93 make up another scenic road that runs beside the Salmon River for 161 miles to historic Lost Trail Pass on the Montana border, the point where Lewis and Clark first crossed the continental divide in 1805. Much of the surrounding scenery has changed little in over 200 years.

Fly Fishing

(☺ Mar-Nov) The Salmon and surrounding mountain lakes have epic trout fishing from March until November, with late June to early October best for dry fly-fishing. The eight species of local trout include the mythical steelhead, which measure up to 40in. These fish travel 900 miles from the Pacific Ocean at winter's end, arriving near Stanley in March and April.

👉 Tours

White Otter

RAFTING

(☎ 208-788-5005; www.whiteotter.com; 100 Yankee Fork Road and Hwy 75, Sunbeam, ID; half-day adult/child $75/55) The sole rafting outfit that's locally run, White Otter is recommended for fun class III day trips. It also arranges float trips in inflatable kayaks.

Solitude River Trips

RAFTING

(☎ 800-396-1776; www.rivertrips.com; 6-day trip $2185; ☺ Jun-Aug) Offers top-notch multiday trips on the famed Middle Fork of the Salmon. Camping is riverside and guides cook excellent food.

Silver Creek Outfitters

FISHING

(☎ 207-622-5282; www.silver-creek.com; 1 Sun Valley Rd) Run out of Sun Valley, Silver Creek does custom trips to the Salmon and remote river spots, only accessible via drift boat or float tube.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

There are about half a dozen hotels in Stanley, all done in traditional pioneer log-cabin style. During the short summer season a couple of restaurants open up.

Sawtooth Hotel

HOTEL $

(☎ 208-721-2459; www.sawtoothhotel.com; 755 Ace of Diamonds St; d with/without bath $100/70; 🏠) Set in a nostalgic 1931 log motel, the Sawtooth updates the slim comforts of yesterday, but keeps the hospitality effusively Stanley-esque. Six rooms are furnished old-country style, two with private bathrooms. Room No 9 is the fave. Don't expect TVs or room phones, but count on home-spun dining that is exquisite.

★ Stanley Baking Co

BAKERY, BREAKFAST $

(www.stanleybakingco.com; 250 Wall St; breakfast & lunch $3-10; ☺ 7am-2pm May-Oct) After having lumbered the world with unhealthy delights, this middle-of-nowhere bakery and brunch spot is a godsend. Operating for five months of the year out of a small log cabin, Stanley Baking Co is the only place in town where you're likely to see a queue. The reason: off-the-ratings-scale homemade baked goods and oatmeal pancakes.

Idaho Panhandle

Idaho grabbed the long, skinny spoon-handle that brushes up against Canada in an 1880's land dispute with Montana. Yet in both looks and attitude, the area has more in common with the Pacific Northwest than the Rockies. Spokane, a few miles west in Washington, acts as the regional hub and most of the panhandle observes Pacific Standard Time.

Near the Washington border, fast-growing Coeur d'Alene (population 44,000) is an extension of the Spokane metro area and the panhandle's largest town. There's a rather tacky boardwalk waterfront and one of those Anywhere USA-type golf and spa resorts. The adjacent lake is ideal for water-based activities like standup paddling. The Coeur d'Alene Visitors Bureau (☎ 877-782-9232; www.coeurdalene.org; 105 N 1st; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat) has further information. Lodgers can count on the quirky pink-door Flamingo Motel (☎ 208-664-2159; www.flamingomotel-idaho.com; 718 Sherman Ave; d/ste $100/170; 🏠), a retro 1950s throwback with themed rooms like English Garden and Americana. The best coffee is at Java on Sherman (324 Sherman, Coeur d'Alene; mains $4-9; ☺ 6am-7pm), also serving good breakfasts and sandwiches.

Sandpoint, on Lake Pend Oreille, is the nicest panhandle town. Set in a gorgeous wilderness locale surrounded by mountains, it also sports Idaho's only serviceable Amtrak train station, an attractive historic building dating from 1916. The Empire Builder, running daily between Seattle/Portland and Chicago, stops here.

You can soak up Idaho's largest lake from the Pend Oreille Scenic Byway (US 200), which hugs the north shore. Eleven miles northwest of town is highly rated Schweitzer Mountain Resort (www.schweitzer.com; ski tickets adult/child $68/50), lauded for its tree-skiing, with mountain biking in summer.

The best accommodation bargain for miles around is the clean, friendly mom-and-pop-run Country Inn (☎ 208-263-3333; www.countryinnsandpoint.com; 470700 Hwy 95; s/d $64/80; 🏠 🏠), 3 miles south of Sandpoint.

Southwest

Includes ➔

Nevada.....	803
Las Vegas.....	806
Arizona.....	825
Phoenix.....	826
Grand Canyon National Park.....	840
Tucson.....	850
Utah.....	856
Salt Lake City.....	857
New Mexico.....	876
Albuquerque.....	876
Santa Fe.....	882

Best Places to Eat

- ➔ Elote Cafe (p839)
- ➔ Hell's Backbone (p872)
- ➔ Love Apple (p892)
- ➔ Cafe Roka (p856)
- ➔ Raku (p815)

Best Places to Stay

- ➔ Ellis Store Country Inn (p899)
- ➔ El Tovar Hotel (p844)
- ➔ Motor Lodge (p840)
- ➔ St Regis Deer Valley (p864)
- ➔ Vdara (p812)

Why Go?

The Southwest is America's untamed backyard, where life plays out before a stunning backdrop of red rocks, lofty peaks, shimmering lakes and deserts dotted with saguaros (cacti). Reminders of the region's multicultural beginnings and hardscrabble past dot the landscape, from curious pictographs and abandoned cliff dwellings to crumbling missions and rusty mining towns. Today, history-making continues, with astronomers and rocket builders peering into star-filled skies while artists and entrepreneurs flock to urban centers and quirky mountain towns, energizing the region.

The best part for travelers? A splendid network of scenic drives linking the most beautiful and iconic sites. But remember: it's not just iconic, larger-than-life landscapes that make a trip through the Southwest memorable. Study that saguaro up close. Ask a Hopi artist about his craft. Savor some green-chile stew. It's the tap-you-on-the-shoulder moments you may just cherish the most.

When to Go

Las Vegas

Jan Ski near Taos and Flagstaff. In Park City, hit the slopes and the Sundance Film Festival.

Jun–Aug High season for exploring national parks in New Mexico, Utah and northern Arizona.

Sep–Nov Hike to the bottom of the Grand Canyon or gaze at bright leaves in northern New Mexico.

DON'T MISS

A hike in the desert. Your choices? The Sonoran, Chihuahuan and Great Basin.

Fast Facts

➔ Hub cities Las Vegas (population 596,400), Phoenix (population 1.4 million), Salt Lake City (population 189,314)

➔ Las Vegas to Grand Canyon National Park South Rim 280 miles

➔ Los Angeles to Albuquerque 670 miles

➔ Time zones Nevada (Pacific), Arizona (Mountain, does not observe DST), Utah (Mountain), New Mexico (Mountain)

Did You Know?

Flash floods can occur from mid-July to early September. Avoid camping on sandy washes and canyon bottoms; don't drive across flooded roads. If hiking, move quickly to higher ground.

Resources

➔ Public Lands Information Center

(www.publiclands.org)
Descriptions, maps and book recommendations.

➔ Grand Canyon Association (www.grandcanyon.org) Extensive online bookstore.

➔ Recreation.gov (www.recreation.gov)
Reservations for camping and activities at nationally run outdoor areas.

Getting There & Around

Las Vegas' McCarran International Airport and Phoenix' Sky Harbor International Airport are the region's busiest airports, followed by the airports serving Salt Lake City, Albuquerque and Tucson.

Greyhound stops at major points within the region but doesn't serve all national parks or off-the-beaten-path towns such as Moab. In larger cities, bus terminals can be in less-safe areas of town. Private vehicles are often the only means to reach out-of-the-way towns, trailheads and swimming spots.

Amtrak train service is much more limited than the bus system, although it does link many major cities and offers bus connections to others (including Santa Fe and Phoenix). The California Zephyr crosses Utah and Nevada; the Southwest Chief stops in Arizona and New Mexico; and the Sunset Limited traverses southern Arizona and New Mexico.

NATIONAL & STATE PARKS

Containing 50 national parks and monuments, the Southwest is a scenic and cultural jackpot. Add several stunning state parks, and, well, you might need to extend your trip.

One of the most deservedly popular national parks is Arizona's Grand Canyon National Park (p840). Other Arizona parks include Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park (p849), a desert basin with towering sandstone pillars and buttes; Canyon de Chelly National Monument (p848), with ancient cliff dwellings; Petrified Forest National Park (p849), with its odd mix of Painted Desert and fossilized logs; and Saguaro National Park (p851), with pristine desert and giant cacti.

The southern red-rock Canyon Country in Utah includes five national parks: Arches (p869), Canyonlands (p870), Zion (p874), Bryce Canyon (p873) and Capitol Reef (p871), which offers exceptional wilderness solitude. Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument (p872) is a mighty region of undeveloped desert. New Mexico boasts Carlsbad Caverns National Park (p899) and the mysterious Chaco Culture National Historic Park (p893). In Nevada, Great Basin National Park (p824) is a rugged, remote mountain oasis. For more information, check out the National Park Service website (www.nps.gov).

Top Five Day Hikes

- ➔ Angels Landing Zion National Park, UT
- ➔ Winsor Trail Santa Fe, NM
- ➔ Navajo Loop Bryce Canyon National Park, UT
- ➔ South Kaibab Trail to Cedar Ridge (p841) South Rim, Grand Canyon, AZ
- ➔ Cape Final North Rim, Grand Canyon, AZ

History

By about AD 100, three dominant cultures had emerged in the Southwest: the Hohokam, the Mogollon and the Ancestral Puebloans (formerly known as the Anasazi).

The Hohokam lived in the Arizona deserts from 300 BC to AD 1450, and created an incredible canal irrigation system, earthen pyramids and a rich heritage of pottery. Archaeological studies suggest that a cataclysmic event in the mid-15th century caused a dramatic decrease in the Hohokam's population, most notably in larger villages. Though it's not entirely clear what happened or where they went, the oral traditions of local tribes suggest that some Hohokam remained in the area and that members of these tribes are their descendants. From 200 BC to AD 1450 the Mogollon lived in the central mountains and valleys of the Southwest, and left behind what are now called the Gila Cliff Dwellings.

The Ancestral Puebloans left the richest heritage of archaeological sites, such as that at Chaco Culture National Historic Park. Today descendants of the Ancestral Puebloans are found in the Pueblo groups throughout New Mexico. The Hopi are descendants, too, and their village Old Oraibi may be the oldest continuously inhabited settlement in North America.

In 1540 Francisco Vázquez de Coronado led an expedition from Mexico City to the Southwest. Instead of riches, his party found native Americans, many of whom were then killed or displaced. More than 50 years later, Juan de Oñate established the first capital of New Mexico at San Gabriel. Great bloodshed resulted from Oñate's attempts to control Native American pueblos, and he left in failure in 1608. Santa Fe was established as the new capital around 1610.

Development in the Southwest expanded rapidly during the 19th century, mainly due to railroad and geological surveys. As the US pushed west, the army forcibly removed whole tribes of Native Americans in often horrifyingly brutal Indian Wars. Gold and silver mines drew fortune seekers, and practically overnight the lawless mining towns of the Wild West mushroomed. Capitalizing on the development, the Santa Fe Railroad lured an ocean of tourists to the West.

Modern settlement is closely linked to water use. Following the Reclamation Act of 1902, huge federally funded dams were built to control rivers, irrigate the desert and encourage development. Rancorous debates and disagreements over water rights are ongoing, especially with the phenomenal boom in residential development. Other big issues today are illegal immigration and fiscal solvency.

Local Culture

The Southwest is one of the most multicultural regions of the country, encompassing a rich mix of Native American, Hispanic and Anglo populations. These groups have all influenced the area's cuisine, architecture and arts, and the Southwest's vast Native American reservations offer exceptional opportunities to learn about Native American culture and history. Visual arts are a strong force as well, from the art colonies dotting New Mexico to the roadside kitsch on view in small towns everywhere.

NEVADA

Nevada has a devil-may-care exuberance that's dangerously intoxicating – and sometimes a little bit wacky. Here, dazzling replicas of the Eiffel Tower, the Statue of Liberty and an Egyptian pyramid rise from the desert. Cowboys gather to recite poetry. Artists build a temporary city on a wind-swept playa. An Air Force base inspires alien conspiracies. And smack in the middle of it all is a lonely tree, its branches draped in sneakers tossed by mischievous road trippers.

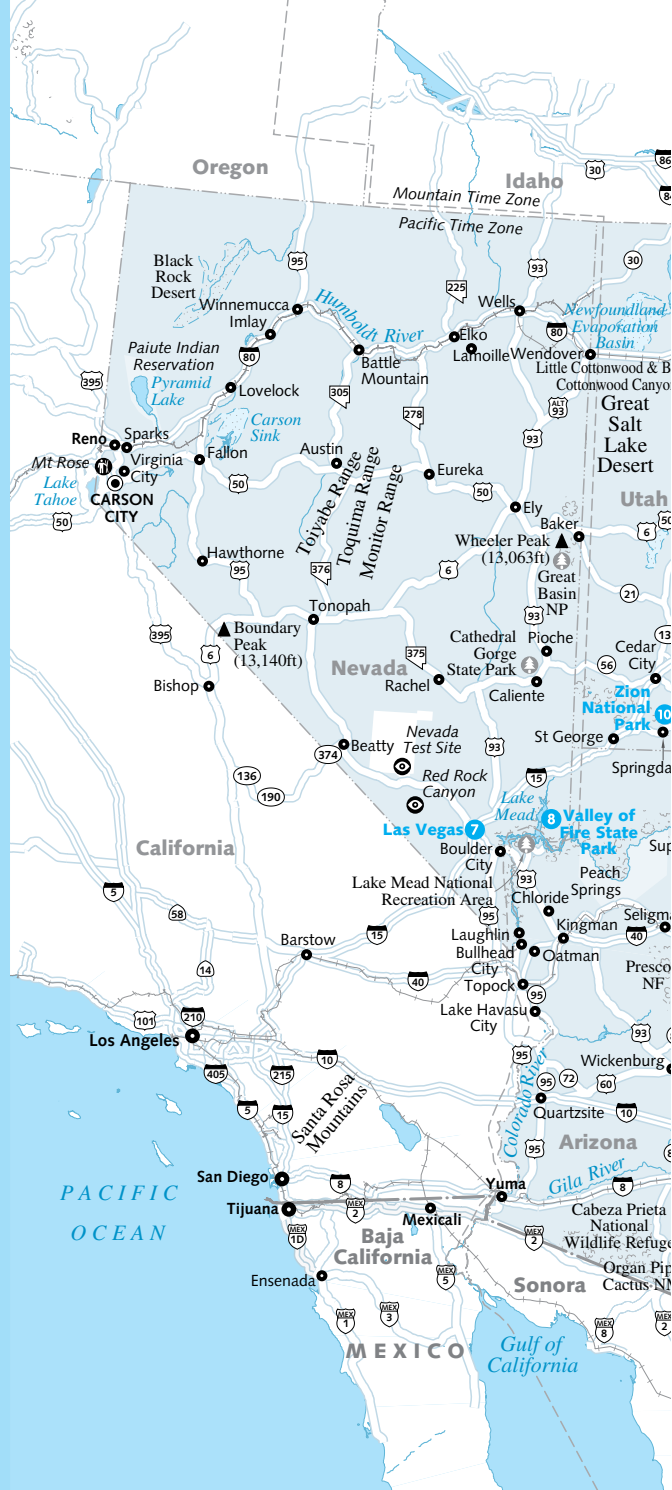

On the map, the state is a vast and mostly empty stretch of desert, dotted with former mining towns that have traded pickaxes for slot machines. The mother lode is Las Vegas, an over-the-top place where people still catch gold fever. In the west, adventure outfitters are staking their claims on new treasures: gorgeous scenery and outdoor fun, which beckon from the Sierra Nevada mountains.

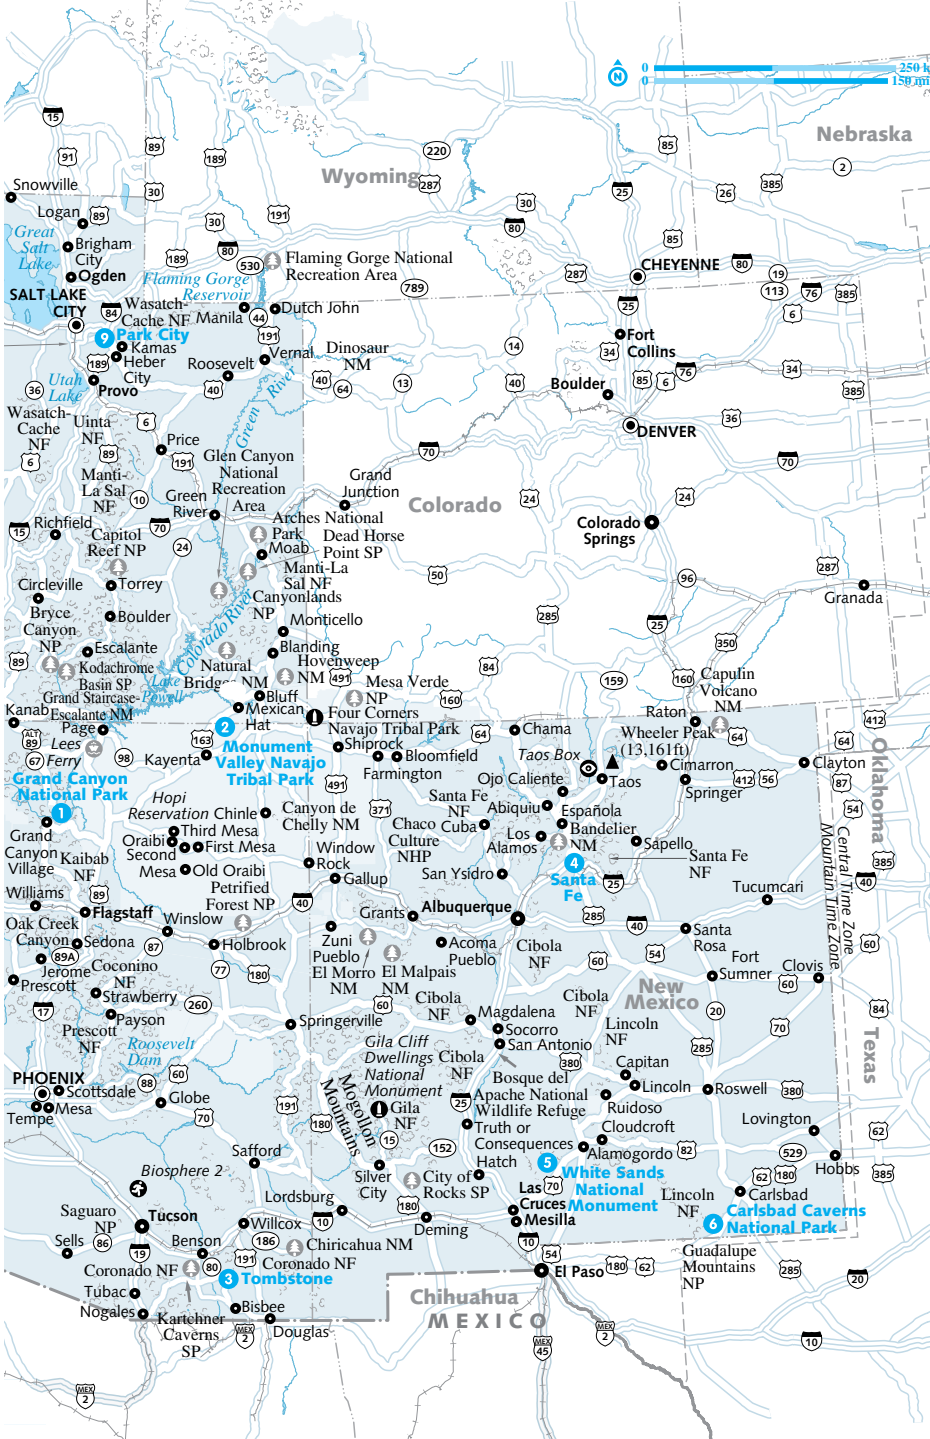

The first state to legalize gambling, Nevada is loud with the chime of slot machines singing out from gas stations, supermarkets and hotel lobbies. There's no legally mandated closing time for bars, and in rural areas, legalized brothels and hole-in-the-wall casinos sit side by side with Mormon and cowboy culture.

Our advice? Never ask 'Why?' Just embrace the state's go-for-broke joie de vivre.

Southwest Highlights

- 1 Stroll the Rim Trail at Grand Canyon National Park (p840).
- 2 Live your own John Wayne Western in northeastern Arizona's Monument Valley (p849).
- 3 Practice your fast draw in dusty Tombstone (p855).
- 4 Gallery-hop and jewelry-shop on the stylish streets of Santa Fe (p882).
- 5 Sled down a shimmering sand dune at White Sands National Monument (p897).
- 6 Wander a wonderland of stalactites at Carlsbad Caverns National Park (p899).
- 7 Live the high life on Las Vegas' Strip (p809).
- 8 Drive through flaming-red sandstone formations in Valley of Fire State Park (p819).
- 9 Ski incredible terrain and enjoy chichi nightlife in Park City (p862).
- 10 Explore a majestic canyon and climb Angels Landing at Zion National Park (p874).

Nebraska

Wyoming

Colorado

Colorado Springs

New Mexico

Chihuahua MEXICO

SALT LAKE CITY

CHEYENNE

Wasatch-Cache National Forest

Grand Canyon National Park

Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park

Santa Fe

PHOENIX

White Sands National Monument

Tombstone

Carlsbad Caverns National Park

SOUTHWEST IN...

One Week

Museums and a burgeoning arts scene set an inspirational tone in Phoenix, an optimal springboard for exploring. In the morning, follow Camelback Rd into Scottsdale for top-notch shopping and gallery-hopping in Old Town. Drive north to Sedona for spiritual recharging before pondering the immensity of the Grand Canyon. From here, choose either bling or buttes. For bling, detour onto Route 66, cross the new bridge beside Hoover Dam then indulge your fantasies in Las Vegas. For buttes, drive east from the Grand Canyon into the Navajo country, cruising beneath the giant rock formations in Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park, then stepping back in time at stunning Canyon de Chelly National Monument.

Two Weeks

Start in glitzy Las Vegas before kicking back in funky Flagstaff and peering into the abyss at Grand Canyon National Park. Check out collegiate Tucson or frolic among cacti at Saguaro National Park. Watch the gunslingers in Tombstone before settling into Victorian Bisbee.

Secure your sunglasses for the blinding dunes of White Sands National Monument in nearby New Mexico then sink into Santa Fe, a magnet for art-lovers. Explore a pueblo in Taos and watch the sunrise at awesome Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park. Head into Utah for the red-rock national parks, Canyonlands and Arches. Do the hoodoos at Bryce Canyon then pay your respects at glorious Zion.

i Information

Prostitution is illegal in Clark County (which includes Las Vegas) and Washoe County (which includes Reno), although there are legal brothels in many of the smaller counties.

Nevada is on Pacific Standard Time and has two areas codes: Las Vegas and vicinity is 702, while the rest of the state is 775.

Nevada Commission on Tourism (☎800-638-2328; www.travelnevada.com) Sends free books, maps and information on accommodations, campgrounds and events.

Nevada Department of Transportation (☑in-state 511, 877-687-6237; www.nvroads.com) For up-to-date road conditions.

Nevada Division of State Parks (☎775-684-2770; www.parks.nv.gov; 901 S Stewart St, 5th fl, Carson City; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Fri) Camping in state parks ($10 to $15 per night) is first-come, first-served. You can pick up maps and brochures at this office.

the most lavish places on earth, nothing is halfway – even the illusions.

A city of multiple personalities, Las Vegas has been reinventing itself since the days of the Rat Pack. To grab your attention, not to mention your cash, the old is constantly torn down for the new. Once-famous signs collect dust in a neon boneyard while the clang of construction echoes over the Strip. The horizon is ever-evolving. But it's a different story inside the casinos, where time seems to stand still. There are no clocks, just fresh-pumped air, endless buffets and ever-flowing drinks.

Sin City's reach is all-inclusive. Hollywood bigwigs gyrate at A-list ultralounges, while college kids seek cheap debauchery and grandparents whoop it up at the penny slots. You can sip designer martinis as you sample the apex of world-class cuisine or wander the casino floor with a 3ft-high cocktail tied around your neck.

Las Vegas

Ah, Vegas. A dazzling rhinestone of a city where you can sip champagne inside a three-story chandelier. You can also travel the world in a day, gliding through the canals of Venice, climbing the Eiffel Tower and crossing the Brooklyn Bridge. It's a slice of desert that's transformed itself into one of

History

Contrary to popular legend, there was much more at the dusty crossroads than a gambling parlor and some tumbleweeds the day mobster Ben 'Bugsy' Siegel rolled in and erected a glamorous tropical-themed casino, the Flamingo, under the searing sun.

Spurred into the modern era by the completion of a railroad that linked up Salt Lake City to Los Angeles in 1902, Las Vegas boomed in the 1920s thanks to federally sponsored construction projects. The legalization of gambling in 1931 carried Vegas through the Great Depression, WWII brought a huge air-force base and aerospace bucks, plus a paved highway to Los Angeles. Soon after, the Cold War justified the Nevada Test Site. It proved to be a textbook case of 'any publicity is good publicity': monthly above-ground atomic blasts shattered casino windows downtown while the city's official Miss Mushroom Cloud mascot promoted atomic everything in tourism campaigns.

A building spree sparked by the Flamingo in 1946 led to mob-backed tycoons upping the glitz ante at every turn. Big-name entertainers like Frank Sinatra, Liberace and Sammy Davis Jr arrived on stage at the same time as topless French showgirls.

The high-profile purchase of the Desert Inn in 1966 by eccentric billionaire Howard Hughes gave the gambling industry a much-needed patina of legitimacy. The debut of the MGM Grand in 1993 signaled the dawn of the corporate mega-resort era.

An oasis in the middle of a final frontier, Sin City continues to exist chiefly to satisfy the desires of visitors. Hosting 39.7 million people a year, until recently Las Vegas was the engine of North America's fastest-growing metropolitan area. The housing crisis hit residents here especially hard, but construction has picked up on the Strip and the Downtown Project is revitalizing the Fremont area.

Sights

Roughly 4 miles long, the Strip, aka Las Vegas Blvd, is the center of gravity in Sin City. Circus Circus Las Vegas caps the north end and Mandalay Bay is at the south end, near the airport. Whether you're walking or driving, distances on the Strip are deceiving; a walk to what looks like a nearby casino usually takes longer than expected.

Downtown Las Vegas is the original town center and home to the city's oldest hotels and casinos: expect a retro feel, cheaper drinks and lower table limits. Its main drag is fun-loving Fremont St, a four-block stretch of casinos and restaurants covered by a dazzling canopy that runs a groovy light show every evening.

Major tourist areas are safe. However, Las Vegas Blvd between downtown and the Strip gets shabby, and Fremont St east of downtown is rather unsavory, although that's beginning to change, with new bars and restaurants opening their doors.

At press time, the $550 million LINQ shopping and entertainment district on the central Strip planned to open soon. LINQ's calling card is the 550ft-tall High Roller, billed as the world's tallest Ferris wheel. Projections aren't as certain for Skyvue, a 500ft-tall Ferris wheel (and electronic billboard) at the south end of the Strip across from Mandalay Bay. Construction has stagnated, and there are rumors of financial problems.

Openings are ongoing in the Fremont East neighborhood, where the online retailing giant Zappos is moving its headquarters. Zappos CEO Tony Hsieh, through

NEVADA FACTS

Nickname Silver State

Population 2.76 million

Area 109,800 sq miles

Capital city Carson City (population 54,800)

Other cities Las Vegas (population 596,400), Reno (population 227,000)

Sales tax 6.85%

Birthplace of Patricia Nixon (b 1912), Andre Agassi (b 1970), Greg LeMond (b 1961)

Home of The slot machine, Burning Man

Politics Nevada has six electoral votes – the state went for Obama in the 2012 presidential election, but it is split evenly in sending elected officials to Washington; US Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid (D) is Nevada's best-known politician

Famous for The 1859 Comstock Lode (the country's richest known silver deposit), legalized gambling and prostitution (outlawed in certain counties), and liberal alcohol laws allowing 24-hour bars

Best Las Vegas T-Shirt "I saw nothing at the Mob Museum."

Driving distances Las Vegas to Reno: 452 miles. Great Basin National Park to Las Vegas: 313 miles

Las Vegas

Las Vegas

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Cosmopolitan ..... B5
- 2 Hard Rock ..... D5
- 3 Mob Museum ..... B1

📍 Sights

- 4 Atomic Testing Museum ..... D5
- 5 Bellagio ..... B5
  - Bellagio Conservatory & Botanical Gardens ..... (see 5)
  - Bellagio Gallery of Fine Art ..... (see 5)
- 6 Caesars Palace ..... B5
- 7 Emergency Arts ..... B2
- 8 Flamingo ..... B5
- 9 Fremont Street Experience ..... A1
- 10 Golden Nugget ..... A1
- 11 Mirage ..... B4
- 12 New York-New York ..... B6
- 13 Palazzo ..... B4
- 14 Paris-Las Vegas ..... B5
- 15 Venetian ..... B4
  - Wildlife Habitat ..... (see 8)

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 16 Adventuredome ..... C2
- 17 Fast Lap ..... A5
  - Qua Baths & Spa ..... (see 6)
- 18 Stratosphere Tower ..... C1
- 19 Vegas Indoor Skydiving ..... C3

📍 Sleeping

- Caesars Palace ..... (see 6)
- Cosmopolitan ..... (see 1)
- 20 Encore ..... C3
  - Hard Rock ..... (see 2)
- 21 Mandalay Bay ..... B7
- 22 MGM Grand ..... B6
- 23 Platinum Hotel ..... C5
- 24 Tropicana ..... B6
- 25 Vdara ..... B5

📍 Eating

- 26 Bacchanal Buffet ..... B5
  - DOCG Enoteca ..... (see 1)

- 27 Earl of Sandwich ..... B5
- 28 Firefly ..... D4
  - Gordon Ramsay Steak ..... (see 14)
  - Joël Robuchon ..... (see 22)
  - L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon ..... (see 22)
  - Pink Taco ..... (see 2)
- 29 Sage ..... B6
  - Secret Pizza ..... (see 1)
- 30 Social House ..... B6
- 31 Society Café ..... C3
- 32 Todd English PUB ..... B5
  - Wicked Spoon Buffet ..... (see 1)

📍 Drinking & Nightlife

- 33 Carnival Court ..... B4
  - Chandelier Bar ..... (see 1)
- 34 Double Down Saloon ..... D6
- 35 Downtown Cocktail Room ..... B2
- 36 Fireside Lounge ..... C3
- 37 Griffin ..... B2
  - Mix ..... (see 21)
  - Parasol Up – Parasol Down ..... (see 31)
- 38 Rhubarb ..... B4
- 39 The Beat Coffeehouse ..... B2

📍 Entertainment

- 40 Circus Circus ..... C2
  - House of Blues ..... (see 21)
  - La Réve ..... (see 31)
  - LOVE ..... (see 11)
  - Marquee ..... (see 1)
- 41 Tao ..... B4
- 42 Ticketmaster ..... B3
  - Tix 4 Tonight ..... (see 8)
  - XS ..... (see 20)
- 43 Zumanity ..... B6

📍 Shopping

- 44 Bonanza Gift Shop ..... C2
  - Fashion Show Mall ..... (see 42)
  - Forum Shops ..... (see 6)
  - Grand Canal Shoppes ..... (see 15)
  - Shoppes at the Palazzo ..... (see 13)
- 45 The Shops at Crystals ..... B6

his Downtown Project initiative, has injected hundreds of millions of dollars into community-based projects to revitalize the neighborhood.

📍 The Strip

★ Cosmopolitan

CASINO

(www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd S; 🕒 24hr) The twinkling three-story chandelier inside this sleek addition to the Strip isn't a piece of contemporary art only to be ogled. It's a step-inside, sip-a-swanky-cocktail and survey-your-domain kind of place, worthy of your wildest fairy tale. And Cinderellas, you simply must step into the Roark Gourley–designed giant slipper for an Instagrammy moment. A bit much? Not really. It's all pure fun, and the Cosmopolitan manages to avoid utter pretension, despite the near-constant wink-wink moments, from the Art-o-Matics (vintage cigarette machines hawking local art not nicotine) to the hidden pizza joint.

★ Hard Rock

CASINO

(www.hardrockhotel.com; 4455 Paradise Rd; 🕒 24hr) This casino hotel has got the moves like Jagger – getting older, but still strutting across the stage like a pouty-lipped bad boy.

Fresh off a $750 million expansion that added two new towers, the tres-hip Hard Rock is still luring them in with concerts, attitude and a very impressive collection of rock and roll memorabilia. Highlights include Jim Morrison's handwritten lyrics to one of the Doors' greatest hits and leather jackets from a who's who of famous rock stars. The Joint concert hall, Vanity Nightclub and 'Rehab' summer pool parties at Paradise Beach attract a pimped-out, sex-charged crowd flush with celebrities.

Bellagio

CASINO

(www.bellagio.com; 3600 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☺24hr) The Bellagio dazzles with Tuscan architecture and an 8.5-acre artificial lake, complete with don't-miss choreographed dancing fountains. Look up as you enter the lobby: the stunning ceiling is adorned with a backlit glass sculpture composed of 2000 handblown flowers by renowned artist Dale Chihuly. The Bellagio Gallery of Fine Art (adult/student/child $16/11/free; ☺10am-8pm) showcases temporary exhibits by top-notch artists. The Bellagio Conservatory & Botanical Gardens (☺24hr) FREE features changing exhibits throughout the year.

Caesars Palace

CASINO

(www.caesarspalace.com; 3570 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☺24hr) Forget Caesar. It's King Minos who springs to mind at this sprawling, labyrinth-like Greco-Roman fantasyland where maps are few (and not oriented to the outside). The interior is captivating, however, with marble reproductions of classical statuary, including a not-to-be-missed 4-ton Brahma shrine near the front entrance. Towering fountains, goddess-costumed cocktail waitresses and the swanky haute-couture Forum Shops all up the glitz. And the minotaur? It's the new Bacchanal Buffet. But it can never be slayed.

Venetian

CASINO

(www.venetian.com; 3355 Las Vegas Blvd S; gondola ride adult/private $19/76; ☺24hr) Hand-painted ceiling frescoes, roaming mimes, gondola rides and full-scale reproductions of famous Venice landmarks are found at the romantic Venetian. Next door, the Palazzo (www.palazzo.com; 3325 Las Vegas Blvd S) exploits a variation on the Italian theme with a luxurious but less interesting effect.

Mirage

CASINO

(www.mirage.com; 3400 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☺24hr) A domed atrium filled with jungle foliage and soothing cascades captures the imagination at this tropically themed wonderland. Circling the atrium is a vast Polynesian-themed casino, which places gaming areas under separate roofs to evoke intimacy, including a popular high-limit poker room. Pause by the front desk for the 20,000-gallon saltwater aquarium, with 60 species of critters hailing from Fiji to the Red Sea. Out front in the lagoon, a fiery faux volcano erupts hourly after dark until midnight.

Paris-Las Vegas

CASINO

(www.parislv.com; 3655 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☺24hr) Evoking the gaiety of the City of Light, Paris Las Vegas strives to capture the essence of the grand dame by re-creating her land-

LAS VEGAS FOR CHILDREN

With its recent focus on adult-oriented fun – marked by the now-iconic slogan 'What happens in Vegas stays in Vegas' – the city isn't a great choice for families. People under 21 can walk through most casinos on their way to shops, shows and restaurants but they cannot stop. Policies vary on whether under-21s must be accompanied by an adult, but younger children should always be with an adult for safety reason. Some casinos prohibit strollers.

If you do land in Sin City with the kids, don't abandon all hope. The Circus Circus (www.circuscircus.com; 2880 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☺24hr; 🎪) hotel complex is all about kiddie fun, and its AdventureDome (www.adventuredome.com; day pass over/under 48in tall $28/17, per ride $5-8; ☺hour vary; 🎪) is a 5-acre indoor theme park with rock climbing, bumper cars and a new 70mph roller coaster, the El Loco, which is set to open by the end of 2013. The Midway (☺11am-midnight; 🎪) FREE features animals, acrobats and magicians performing on center stage.

If your kids are literally bouncing off the walls, take them to the trampoline-filled Sky-zone (www.skyzone.com/LasVegas; 4915 Steptoe St; 30 min/60 min $9/12; ☺2-8pm Mon-Thu, 2-10pm Fri, 10am-9pm Sat, 11am-8pm Sun) where such behavior is encouraged.

marks. Fine likenesses of the Opéra, the Arc de Triomphe, the Champs-Élysées, the soaring Eiffel Tower and even the Seine frame the property.

Flamingo

CASINO

(www.flamingolasvegas.com; 3555 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎ 24hr) The Flamingo is quintessential vintage Vegas. Weave through the slot machines to the Wildlife Habitat (3555 S Las Vegas Blvd; ☎ 8am-dusk) FREE to see the flock of Chilean flamingos that call these 15 tropical acres home.

New York-New York

CASINO

(www.newyorknewyork.com; 3790 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎ 24hr) A mini metropolis featuring scaled-down replicas of the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, a September 11 memorial, and the Brooklyn Bridge. There's also a classic roller coaster with a drop of 144ft (tickets $14).

📍 Downtown & Off the Strip

★ Mob Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 702-229-2734; www.themobmuseum.org; 300 Stewart Ave; adult/child $20/14; ☎ 10am-7pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat) Bugs. Lucky. Whitey. Yeah goombah, all the boys are hanging out at downtown's new mob museum, which fills three floors in the old federal building. The fascinating, often lurid, exhibits trace the development of organized crime in America and look at the mob's connection to Las Vegas. Learn how money is laundered, listen in on a wiretap, get your mug shot taken and catch your breath in front of the bullet-and-blood-ridden wall that backed the victims of the 1929 St Valentine's Day Massacre.

Plan to spend several hours here. The museum is not appropriate for children.

★ Neon Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 702-387-6366; www.neonmuseum.org; 770 Las Vegas Blvd N; day tour adult/child $18/12, night tour $25/22; ☎ 9-10am & 7:30-9pm Jun-Aug, extended daytime hours beginning at 10am rest of the year) A tour of the neon boneyard here is a fun stroll through Sin City's 'electrifying' past. Guides share stories about the city's former bigwigs as you walk past the gaudy signs that fronted their casinos, from Binion's to the Stardust. The new visitor center is housed in the lobby of the La Concha Motel, a striking mid-city modern structure that was saved from demolition in 2005 and moved here. All tours are guided, and they sell out quickly, so reserve beforehand online. At press time, the museum was offering evening tours on a trial basis, when a few of the signs are illuminated. There are no afternoon tours in the summer due to the heat. Call ahead to confirm tour times, which change seasonally.

The museum also has a public-art component, with a series of restored vintage signs scattered across downtown. This 'urban gallery' is best viewed at night when the neon blazes. Most of these signs are on Las Vegas Blvd between Fremont St and Washington Ave.

Atomic Testing Museum

MUSEUM

(www.atomictestingmuseum.org; 755 E Flamingo Rd; adult/child $14/11; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Recalling an era when the word 'atomic' conjured modernity and mystery, the Smithsonian-run Atomic Testing Museum remains an intriguing testament to the period when the fantastical – and destructive – power of nuclear energy was tested just outside Las Vegas. Don't skip the deafening Ground Zero Theater, which mimics a concrete test bunker.

Fremont Street Experience

PLAZA

(www.vegasexperience.com; Fremont St, btwn Main St & Las Vegas Blvd; ☎ hourly 7pm-midnight) A four-block pedestrian mall topped by an arched steel canopy and filled with computer-controlled lights, the multi-sensory Fremont Street Experience, between Main St and Las Vegas Blvd, has re-energized downtown. Every evening, the canopy transforms into a six-minute light-and-sound show enhanced by 550,000 watts of wraparound sound. Bands play on several stages and zipliners whizz past overhead after stepping off Slotzilla, a 12-story slot machine scheduled to open soon.

Golden Nugget

CASINO

(www.goldennugget.com; 129 E Fremont St; ☎ 24hr) This casino hotel has set the downtown benchmark for extravagance since opening in 1946. It's currently earning wows for its three-story waterslide, which drops through a 200,000-gallon shark tank. No brass or cut glass was spared inside the swanky but lovely casino, known for its nonsmoking poker room and the RUSH Lounge, where live local bands play. The gigantic 61lb Hand of Faith, the world's largest gold nugget, is around the corner from the hotel lobby.

Downtown Arts District

ARTS

On the First Friday (www.firstfridaylasvegas.com; ☎ 5-11pm) of each month, 10,000 art-lovers, hipsters, indie musicians and hang-ers-on descend on Las Vegas' downtown arts district for gallery openings, performance art, live bands and tattoo artists. The action revolves around S Casino Center Blvd between Colorado Ave and California Ave, northwest of the Stratosphere. Activities have also extended to Fremont East.

Activities

For area hiking and biking trails, check out the Neon to Nature listings on www.gethealthyclarkcountry.org.

Qua Baths & Spa

SPA

(☎ 866-782-0655; www.harrahs.com/qua-caesars-palace; 3570 Las Vegas Blvd S, Caesars Palace; ☎ 6am-8pm) Social spa-going is encouraged in the tea lounge, herbal steam room and arctic ice room, where dry-ice snowflakes fall.

Desert Adventures

KAYAKING, HIKING

(☎ 702-293-5026; www.kayaklasvegas.com; 1647 Nevada Hwy, Suite A, Boulder City; trips from $149) With Lake Mead and Hoover Dam just 30 minutes away, would-be river rats should check out Desert Adventures for guided half-, full- and multiday kayaking adventures. Hiking and horseback-riding trips, too.

Escape Adventures

MOUNTAIN BIKING

(☎ 800-596-2953; www.escapeadventures.com; 10575 Discovery Dr; trips incl bike from $129) The source for guided mountain-bike tours of Red Rock Canyon State Park.

Sleeping

Rates rise and fall dramatically. Some hotel websites feature calendars listing day-by-day room rates. Most of the hotels on the Strip are now adding a daily resort fee. These daily fees are noted below.

The Strip

★ Vdara

HOTEL $$

(☎ 702-590-2767; www.vdara.com; 2600 W Harmon Ave; r $159-196; ☎ ☎ ☎) Cool sophistication and warm hospitality merge easily at Vdara, a no-gaming, all-suites hotel in the new CityCenter complex. With earth-toned walls, chocolate-brown furniture and riparian green pillows, the suites have a soothing "woodland" appeal, apropos for a LEED-certified property. If you're nice, you might score a room with a view of Bellagio's dancing waters. The hotel is near the Bellagio monorail stop. Resort fee is $28.

Tropicana

CASINO HOTEL $$

(☎ 702-739-2222; www.troplv.com; 3801 Las Vegas Blvd S; r from $129, ste from $229; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) After a multi-million-dollar renovation this

LAS VEGAS: HIGH-OCTANE THRILLS

Driving Hop into a race car at Richard Petty Driving Experience (☎ 800-237-3889; www.drivepetty.com; 6975 Speedway Blvd, Las Vegas Motor Speedway, off I-15 exit 54; ride-alongs from $99; drives from $449; ☎ hour vary) or career around the track in a souped-up go-kart at Fast Lap (☎ 702-736-8113; www.fastlaplv.com; 4288 S Polaris; per race $25; ☎ 10am-11pm Mon-Sat, 10am-10pm Sun).

Indoor Skydiving No time to jump from a plane? Enjoy the thrill without the altitude at Vegas Indoor Skydiving (☎ 702-731-4768; www.vegasindoorskydiving.com; 200 Convention Center Dr; single flight $85; ☎ 9.45am-8pm).

Shooting If you're dying to fire a sub-machine gun or feel the heft of a Glock in your hot little hands, visit the high-powered Gun Store (☎ 702-454-1110; www.thegunstorelasvegas.com; 2900 E Tropicana Ave; from $99; ☎ 9am-6:30pm; ☎ 201), with an indoor video training range.

Stratosphere Atop this 110-story casino (☎ 702-380-7777; www.stratospherehotel.com; Stratosphere, 2000 Las Vegas Blvd S; elevator adult/concession $18/15, incl 3 thrill rides $33, all-day pass $34, SkyJump from $110; underground rail Sahara) you can ride a roller coaster, drop 16 stories on the Big Shot, spin above thin air, or plummet 108ft over the edge.

Ziplining Whoosh over Bootleg Canyon on four separate ziplines with Flightlinez (☎ 702-293-6885; www.flightlinezbootleg.com; 1152 Industrial Rd, Boulder City; adult/child $159/99; ☎ 7am-5pm). You'll drop 11 stories over throngs of tourists from the 12-story Slotzilla, set to open on Fremont St.

retro property, which has kept the Strip's tropical love going since 1953, just got cool again. The vibe is finger-snappin' hip, but still inviting, with a bright, monochromatic color scheme, lush, relaxing gardens and earth-toned, breezy rooms and bi-level suites. Resort fee is $20.

MGM Grand

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 702-891-7777, 800-929-1111; www.mgmgrand.com; 3799 Las Vegas Blvd S; r from $122, ste from $150; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) With more than 5000 rooms, this green leviathan is one of the world's largest hotels, but is bigger better? That depends, but top-drawer restaurants, a sprawling pool complex and a monorail station always make it a good bet – if you can find your room. Standard rooms have blah decor, so stay in the minimalist-modern West Wing instead. Try the Signature Suites for more space, high thread counts and a kitchenette. Resort fee is $28.

Caesars Palace

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 866-227-5938; www.caesarspalace.com; 3570 Las Vegas Blvd S; r from $197; (P)(*)@(☎) Send aside the centurions and decamp in style – Caesars' standard rooms are some of the most luxurious in town. Resort fee is $25.

Cosmopolitan

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 702-698-7000; www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd S; r/ste from $320/470; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) This place is like Hogwarts for hipsters, an uber-trendy warren tantalizing guests with magically impressive details and fun surprises. The wonder starts in the lobby where digitally enhanced columns display eye-catching backdrops. Rooms preen with mod designs, but the real delight is to stumble from your room at 1am to play pool in the upper lobbies before going on a mission to find the 'secret' pizza joint. Resort fee is $25.

Mandalay Bay

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 702-632-7777, 877-632-7800; www.mandalaybay.com; 3950 Las Vegas Blvd S; r $141-291; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) The ornately appointed rooms here have a South Seas theme, and the amenities include floor-to-ceiling windows and luxurious bathrooms. Swimmers will swoon over the pool complex, with a sand-and-surf beach. Resort fee is $28.

Encore

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 702-770-8000; www.encorelasvegas.com; 3121 Las Vegas Blvd S; r/ste from $303/449; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) Classy and playful rather than overblown and opulent – even people cheering at the roulette table clap with more elegance. The rooms are studies in subdued luxury. Resort fee is $28.

Downtown & Off The Strip

Downtown hotels are generally less expensive than those on the Strip.

Main Street Station

CASINO HOTEL $

(☎) 800-713-8933, 702-387-1896; www.mainstreet-casino.com; 200 N Main St; r from $50; (P)(*)@(☎) For one of the best deals out there, try this 17-floor downtown hotel with marble-tiled foyers and Victorian sconces in the hallways. The classically styled rooms lack 'oomph,' but they do come with plantation shutters and comfy beds. The Mob Museum and Fremont St are within walking distance, and there's a microbrewery on-site.

Golden Nugget

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 800-846-5336, 702-385-7111; www.goldennugget.com; 129 E Fremont St; r $99-239, ste $179-269; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) Rooms feel swankier in the Gold and Rush Towers, but the vibe is still nice in the more traditionally decorated Carson Tower. Outside, enjoy the lavish pool area, or brave the three-story water slide, which plunges through a shark tank.

Platinum Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎) 702-365-5000, 877-211-9211; www.theplatinumhotel.com; 211 E Flamingo Rd; r from $152; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) Just off the Strip, the coolly modern rooms at this non-gaming property are comfortable, spacious and full of nice touches – many have fireplaces and all have kitchens and Jacuzzi tubs. The Strip is a 10 to 15-minute walk. One-time pet fee of $75.

Hard Rock

CASINO HOTEL $$$

(☎) 800-473-7625, 702-693-5000; www.hardrock-hotel.com; 4455 Paradise Rd; r $122-399; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) Everything about this boutique hotel spells stardom. French doors reveal skyline and palm tree views, and brightly colored Euro-minimalist rooms feature souped-up stereos and plasma TVs. While we dig the jukeboxes in the HRH All-Suite Tower, the standard rooms are nearly as cool. The hottest action revolves around the lush Beach Club.

Red Rock Resort

RESORT $$$

(☎) 702-797-7777; www.redrock.sclv.com; 1101 W Charleston Blvd; r $140-380; (P)(*)@(☎)(☎) If you're planning to hike in Red Rock Canyon, this oasis-like resort 15 miles west of the Strip is a stylish place to rest beforehand.

Rooms are comfy, spacious and well-appointed, with forest greens, deep browns and lots of pillows. On-site you'll find a bowling alley and a movie theater. There's free transportation to and from the Strip and the airport.

Eating

Sin City is an unmatched eating adventure. Reservations are a must for fancier restaurants.

The Strip

On the Strip itself, cheap eats beyond fast-food joints are hard to find.

Secret Pizza PIZZA $$
(3708 Las Vegas Blvd S, Cosmopolitan; slice $5, pizza $25; ☺11:30am-3am) There's an unmarked pizza joint hidden deep within Cosmopolitan. We're not going to reveal its exact location because, well, where's the fun in that? But if you're craving a late-night slice of New York pizza, go to the third level and look for the narrow hallway between the other eateries. Or just join the queue of over-imbibers already waiting.

Earl of Sandwich SANDWICHES $
(www.earlofsandwichusa.com; 3667 Las Vegas Blvd S, Planet Hollywood; mains under $7; ☺24hr) Yes, calm down, we know it's a chain. But you know what? The sandwiches are tasty, the prices are easy on the wallet and it's in a convenient central Strip location. And everybody seems to like it.

WORTHY INDULGENCES: BEST BUFFETS

Extravagant all-you-can-eat buffets are a Sin City tradition. Three of the best include:

Bacchanal Buffet (www.caesars-palace.com; 3570 Las Vegas Blvd S, Caesars Palace; breakfast $20, lunch $30, dinner $40)

Wicked Spoon Buffet (www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 2708 Las Vegas Blvd S, Cosmopolitan; brunch $33, dinner $41)

Buffet Bellagio (☎702-693-7111; www.bellagio.com; Bellagio, 3600 Las Vegas Blvd S; breakfast $18, lunch $22, dinner $33)

Todd English PUB PUB $$
(www.toddenglishpub.com; 3720 Las Vegas Blvd S, Crystals; mains $16-24; ☺11am-2am Mon-Fri, 9:30am-2am Sat & Sun) A rollicking City Center venture from Bostonian chef Todd English, PUB is a strangely fun cross between a British pub and a frat party, with creative sliders, an 80+ beer list that includes English pub classics, and an interesting promotion: if you drink your beer in less than seven seconds, it's on the house.

Society Café CAFE $$
(www.wynnlasvegas.com; 3121 Las Vegas Blvd S, Encore; breakfast $14-22, lunch $14-24, dinner $15-39; ☺7am-11pm Sun-Thu, 7am-11:30pm Fri & Sat; ☎) A slice of reasonably priced culinary heaven amid Encore's loveliness. The basic cafe here is equal to fine dining at other joints. There's a short list of vegan options on all menus.

Social House JAPANESE $$
(☎702-736-1122; www.socialhouselv.com; 3720 Las Vegas Blvd S, Crystals Mall, CityCenter; lunch prix fixe $20, sushi $6-24, mains $22-38; ☺5-10pm Mon-Thu, noon-11pm Fri & Sat, noon-10pm Sun) Nibble on creative dishes inspired by Japanese street food in one of the Strip's most serene yet sultry dining rooms. Water-marked scrolls, wooden screens, and loads of dramatic red and black conjure visions of Imperial Japan, while the sushi and steaks are totally contemporary.

Joël Robuchon FRENCH $$$
(☎702-891-7925; www.mgmgrand.com; 3799 Las Vegas Blvd S, MGM Grand; mains $135-175, menu per person $120-420; ☺5:30-10pm Sun-Thu, to 10:30pm Fri & Sat) A once-in-a-lifetime culinary experience; block off a solid three hours and get ready to eat your way through the multicourse seasonal menu of traditional French fare. Next door at L'Atelier de Joël Robuchon (☎702-891-7358; www.mgmgrand.com; 3799 Las Vegas Blvd S, MGM Grand; mains $41-97; ☺5-11pm), you can belly up to the counter for a slightly more economical but still delicious meal.

Picasso FRENCH $$$
(☎702-693-8865; www.bellagio.com; 3600 Las Vegas Blvd S, Bellagio; prix-fixe menu $115; ☺5:30-9:30pm Wed-Mon) Why yes, I would like to dine with Picasso tonight – or a least one of his paintings. But the art isn't just on the wall at chef Julian Serrano's swanky French restaurant, where dishes on the four-course prix-fixe menu are masterworks themselves. Servings are small, but you should leave satisfied after several courses. Desserts are spectacular:

Gordon Ramsay Steak STEAKHOUSE $$$
(☎ 877-346-4642; www.parislasvegas.com; 3655 Las Vegas Blvd S, Paris; mains $32-63; ☎ 4:30-10:30pm, bar to midnight Fri & Sat) For a top-notch steak, leave Paris and the Eiffel Tower behind and stroll through 'the chunnel' to Gordon Ramsay's new steakhouse. Rib-boned in red and and domed by a jaunty Union Jack, this is one of the top seats in town. No reservation? Sit at the bar, where the knowledgeable bartenders will explain the cuts and their preparations. And definitely say yes to the side of bread. Fish, chops and one lonely chicken dish round out the a la carte menu.

Sage AMERICAN $$$
(☎ 702-590-8690; www.ariaslasvegas.com; 3730 Las Vegas Blvd S, Aria; mains $35-54; ☎ 5-11pm Mon-Sat) Acclaimed chef Shawn McClain meditates on the seasonally sublime with global inspiration and artisanal, farm-to-table ingredients in one of Vegas' most drop-dead gorgeous dining rooms. Don't miss the inspired seasonal cocktails doctored with housemade liqueurs, French absinthe and fruit purees.

DOCG Enoteca ITALIAN $$$
(☎ 877-893-2003; www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd S, Cosmopolitan; mains $22-45; ☎ 6-11pm) Order to-die-for fresh pasta or a wood-fired pizza in the stylish enoteca (wine shop)-inspired room that feels like you've joined a festive dinner party. Or head next door to sexy Scarpetta (☎ 877-893-2003; www.cosmopolitalasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd S; mains $24-55; ☎ 6-11pm), which offers a more intimate, upscale experience by the same fantastic chef, Scott Conant.

Downtown & Off The Strip

For gourmands, off the Strip is where dining gets really interesting. Downtown's restaurants offer better value than those on the Strip, and new eateries are popping up in the E Fremont St neighborhood.

The Asian restaurants on Spring Mountain Rd in Chinatown are also good budget options, with lots of vegetarian choices.

Raku JAPANESE $$
(☎ 702-367-3511; www.raku-grill.com; 5030 W Spring Mountain Rd; small plates $2-18, mains $8-19; ☎ 6pm-3am Mon-Sat) Japanese owner-chef Mitsuo Edo crafts small plate dishes that simmer with delicate, exquisite flavors. You'll find yourself ordering just one more thing – again and again – from the menu of grilled meats, homemade tofu and seasoned vegetables. Try one of the tofus and the kobe beef with wasabi. Raku is a 15-minute cab ride from the Strip. Make reservations or call for a seat at the small bar.

Lotus of Siam THAI $$
(☎ 702-735-3033; www.saipinchutima.com; 953 E Sahara Ave; mains $9-30; ☎ 11:30am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, buffet to 2pm, 5:30-10pm daily) The top Thai restaurant in the US? According to Gourmet Magazine, this is it. One bite of simple pad Thai – or any of the exotic northern Thai dishes – nearly proves it.

Firefly TAPAS $$
(www.fireflylv.com; 3824 Paradise Rd; small dishes $4-10, large dishes $12-20; ☎ 11:30am-2am Sun-Thu) A meal at Firefly can be twice as fun as an overdone Strip restaurant, and half the price. Is that why it's always hopping? Nosh on traditional Spanish tapas, while the bartender pours sangria and flavor-infused mojitos.

Eat BREAKFAST, AMERICAN $$$
(☎ 702-534-1515; www.facebook.com/eatdowntownlv; 707 Carson Ave; breakfast $8-20, lunch $9-25; ☎ 8am-3pm Mon-Fri, to 2pm Sat & Sun) What makes newcomer Eat so special? Community spirit and down-home cooking are what first leap to mind. Trust us, you'll feel compelled to share 'ooohs' and 'aahhs' with fellow diners when a humongous serving of chicken-fried steak lands at the adjacent table. With a concrete floor and spare decor, it can get loud, but that just adds to the fun as folks chow down on beignets, truffled egg sandwiches, and shrimp and grits.

The restaurant is a collaboration between chef Natalie Young, a veteran of Las Vegas kitchens, and the Downtown Project, led by Zappo's CEO Tony Hsieh.

Pink Taco MEXICAN $$
(www.hardrockhotel.com; 4455 Paradise Rd, Hard Rock; mains $14-21; ☎ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to late Fri & Sat) Whether it's the $5 margarita happy hour, the leafy poolside patio, or the friendly rock and roll clientele, Pink Taco always feels like a worthwhile party.

Hugo's Cellar STEAK, SEAFOOD $$$
(Four Queens; ☎ 702-385-4011; www.hugoscellar.com; 702 Fremont St; mains $37-60; ☎ 5:30-

EMERGENCY ARTS

A coffee shop, an art gallery, studios, and a de facto community center of sorts, all under one roof and right smack downtown? The Emergency Arts (www.emergencyartslv.com; 520 Fremont St) building, also home to Beat Coffeehouse (www.thebeatlasvegas.com; sandwiches $6-8; ☺ 7am-midnight Mon-Fri, 9am-midnight Sat, 9am-5pm Sun; ☎) is a friendly bastion of laid-back cool and strong coffee where vintage vinyl spins on old turntables. If you're aching to meet some savvy locals who know their way around town, this is your hangout spot.

10:30pm) This is old-school Vegas, but in a good way. In a dark and clubby space beneath the Four Queens, Hugo's Cellar is a return to the days when service was king. Ladies are given a rose, salads are tossed beside the table and the service is attentive but not intrusive. Party like it's 1959 with veal Oscar, beef Wellington and cherries jubilee.

Drinking

Loads of new and interesting bars are opening on E Fremont St. Zip down Slotzilla then walk over. Definitely worth a wander.

The Strip

★ Chandelier Bar BAR
(www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd S, Cosmopolitan; ☺ varies by floor, 24hr for 1st fl) In a city full of lavish hotel lobby bars, this one pulls out all the stops. Kick back with the Cosmopolitan hipsters and enjoy the curiously thrilling feeling that you're tipsy inside a giant crystal chandelier.

Mix LOUNGE
(www.mandalaybay.com; 3950 Las Vegas Blvd S, 64th fl, THEhotel at Mandalay Bay; cover after 10pm $20-25; ☺ 5pm-1am Sun-Wed, to 2am Thu, to 3am Fri & Sat) The place to grab sunset cocktails. The glassed-in elevator has amazing views, and that's before you even glimpse the mod interior design and soaring balcony.

Rhumbur COCKTAIL BAR
(☎ 702 792-7615; www.mirage.com; 3400 Las Vegas Blvd S, Mirage; ☺ 1pm-midnight Sun-Thu, 1pm-2am Fri & Sat) Minty mojitos and frozen daiquiris are pure mixology magic at this Caribbean-flavored bar and cigar lounge. Rhumbur is handy to the Mirage's south entrance. Chill at breezy, beachy open-air lounge tables on the chic Strip-view patio.

Parasol Up – Parasol Down BAR, CAFE
(www.wynnlasvegas.com; 3131 Las Vegas Blvd S, Wynn; ☺ 11am-2am, to 4am Fri & Sat at Parasol Up) Unwind with a fresh fruit mojito by the soothing waterfall at the Wynn to experience one of Vegas' most successful versions of paradise.

Carnaval Court BAR
(☎ 702-369-5000; www.harrahslasvegas.com; 3475 Las Vegas Blvd S, outside Harrah's; cover varies; ☺ 11am-3am) Bartenders juggle fire for raucous crowds at this outdoor bar. Live pop and rock cover bands tear up the stage at night, but all eyes are on the hot bods at the bar. Party on, dudes.

Downtown & Off the Strip

Want to chill out with the locals? Head to one of their go-to favorites. New bars and cafes are opening along E Fremont St, making it the number one alternative to the Strip.

Griffin BAR
(☎ 702-382-0577; 511 E Fremont St; cover $5-10; ☺ 5pm-3am Mon-Fri, 7pm-3am Sat, 8pm-2am Sun) Escape from the casinos' clutched and imbibe at this indie joint, a short walk along the less illuminated side of Fremont St. Crackling fireplaces, leather booths and an almost unbearably cool jukebox make this dark and cozy spot popular with rebels, hipster sweethearts and surely an in-the-know vampire or two.

Commonwealth COCKTAIL BAR
(www.commonwealthlv.com; 525 E Fremont St; ☺ 6pm-2am Wed-Fri, 8pm-2am Sat & Sun) This new cocktail bar might be a little too hip for laid-back E Fremont St, but whoa, its Steampunk interior is worth a look. Softly glowing chandeliers. Saloon-style bar. Victorian-era bric-a-brac. Enjoy your tippie. It also has a rooftop bar and, we hear, a secret bar within the bar.

Downtown Cocktail Room LOUNGE
(☎ 702-880-3696; www.downtownlv.net; 111 Las Vegas Blvd S; cover free-$10; ☺ 4pm-2am Mon-Fri, 7pm-2am Sat) With a retro cocktail list you must take seriously, this speakeasy with saten pillows and suede-covered couches feels decades removed from the old-school carpet joints on Fremont St. In true Prohibition-era style, the entrance is disguised.

Fireside Lounge

COCKTAIL BAR

(www.peppermillasvegas.com; 2985 Las Vegas Blvd S, Peppermill; ☺ 24hr) The Strip's most unlikely romantic hideaway is inside a retro coffee shop. Courting couples flock here for the low lighting, sunken fire pit and cozy nooks built for sipping on multistrawed tiki drinks.

Double Down Saloon

BAR

(www.doubledownsaloona.com; 4640 Paradise Rd; no cover; ☺ 24hr) You can't get more punk rock than a dive whose tangy, blood-red house drink is named 'Ass Juice' and where the noon to 5pm happy hour means everything in the bar is two bucks. Killer jukebox, cash only.

★ Entertainment

Las Vegas has no shortage of entertainment on any given night, and Ticketmaster (☎ 800-745-3000; www.ticketmaster.com) sells tickets for pretty much everything. Tix 4 Tonight (☎ 877-849-4868; www.tix4tonight.com; 3200 Las Vegas Blvd S, Fashion Show; ☺ 10am-8pm) offers half-price tickets for a limited lineup of same-day shows and small discounts on 'always sold-out' shows.

Nightclubs & Live Music

In 2012, seven of the 10 highest-earning nightclubs in the US were in Vegas, with both XS and Marquee earning more than $80 million each. Admission prices to nightclubs vary wildly based on the mood of door staff, male-to-female ratio, and how crowded the club is that night. Avoid waiting in line by booking ahead with the club VIP host. Most bigger clubs have someone working the door in the late afternoon and early evening. Your hotel concierge will also typically have free passes for clubs, or be able to make reservations. Also consider bottle service. It usually waives cover charges and waiting in line.

XS

CLUB

(www.xslasvegas.com; 3131 Las Vegas Blvd S, Encore; cover $20-50; ☺ 9:30pm-4am Fri & Sat, 10:30pm-4am Sun & Mon) The only club where we've seen club-goers jump in the pool to dance (and not be thrown out by the bouncers), XS is a Vegas favorite with a more diverse crowd (read: you won't feel outta place if you're over 30) than most. Dress up or you won't get in.

Marquee

CLUB

(www.cosmopolitanlasvegas.com; 3708 Las Vegas Blvd, Cosmopolitan) When someone asks what the coolest club in Vegas is, Marquee is the undisputed answer. Celebrities (we spotted Macy Gray as we danced through the crowd), an outdoor beach club, hot DJs and that certain je ne sais quoi that makes a club worth the line.

Tao

CLUB

(www.taolasvegas.com; 3355 Las Vegas Blvd S, Venetian; ☺ lounge 5pm-midnight Sun-Thu, to 1am Thu-Sat, nightclub 10pm-5am) Some Vegas clubbing aficionados claim that Tao has reached a been-there-done-that saturation point. Newbies, however, still gush at the decadent details and libidinous vibe: from the giant gold Buddha to the near-naked go-go girls languidly caressing themselves in rose petal-strewn bathtubs.

Stoney's Rockin' Country

LIVE MUSIC

(www.stoneysrockincountry.com; 6611 Las Vegas Blvd S; cover free-$20; ☺ 7pm-2am Sun-Wed, to 3am Thu-Sat) This fun-lovin' country-western bar recently moved closer to the Strip. Dance lessons are offered every night of the week, with two-stepping on Tuesdays at 7:30pm. On Fridays, chicks wearing Daisy Dukes and cowboy boots get in free. On Saturdays, come for the $15 all-you-can-drink drafts.

Production Shows

There are hundreds of shows to choose from in Vegas. Any Cirque du Soleil show tends to be an unforgettable experience.

★ LOVE

PERFORMING ARTS

(☎ 800-963-9634, 702-792-7777; www.cirquedusoleil.com; tickets $99-150; ☺ 7pm & 9:30pm Thu-Mon; 🍷) This show at the Mirage is a popular addition to the Cirque du Soleil lineup; locals who have seen many Cirque productions come and go say it's the best.

Zumanity

PERFORMING ARTS

(☎ 702-740-6815; www.cirquedusoleil.com; tickets $76-138) A sensual and sexy adult-only show at New York-New York.

La Réve

LIVE PERFORMANCE

(☎ 888-320-7110; www.wynnlasvegas.com; 3131 Las Vegas Blvd S, Wynn; tickets from $105; ☺ 7pm & 9:30pm Fri-Tue) Aquatic acrobatic feats are the centerpiece of La Réve, which means 'The Dream' in French. The theater holds a one-million-gallon swimming pool and performers must be scuba-certified. Note that cheaper seats are in the 'splash zone.'

House of Blues

(☎702-632-7600; www.hob.com; 3950 Las Vegas Blvd S, Mandalay Bay) Blues is the tip of the hog at this Mississippi Delta juke joint, showcasing modern rock, pop and soul.

LIVE MUSIC

Shopping*Bonanza Gift Shop

(www.worldslargestgiftshop.com; 2440 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎8am-midnight) More than 40,000 sq ft of...stuff! The best place for only-in-Vegas kitsch souvenirs.

SOUVENIRS

Gold & Silver Pawn

(☎702-385-7912; http://gspawn.com; 713 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎shop 9am-9pm, night window 9pm-9am) As seen on the reality-TV hit series Pawn Stars, this humble-looking storefront has untold treasures inside, from Wild West shotguns and restored 1950s classic cars to vintage Vegas casino and autographed star memorabilia. Line up outside by the red-velvet rope.

JEWELRY

Fashion Show Mall

(www.thefashionshow.com; 3200 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎10am-9pm Mon-Sat, 11am-7pm Sun) Nevada's biggest and flashiest mall.

MALL

Forum Shops

(www.caesarspalace.com; 3570 Las Vegas Blvd S, Caesars Palace; ☎10am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Upscale stores in an air-conditioned version of Ancient Rome.

MALL

The Shops at Crystals

(www.crystalsatcitycenter.com; 3720 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎10am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) From Assouline to Versace, this posh new mall beside Aria preens with more than 40 luxury shops.

MALL

Grand Canal Shoppes

(www.thegrandcanalshoppes.com; 3355 Las Vegas Blvd S, Venetian; ☎10am-11pm) Italianate indoor luxury mall with gondolas.

MALL

Shoppes at the Palazzo

(www.theshoppesatthepalazzo.com; 3327 Las Vegas Blvd S, Palazzo; ☎10am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Sixty international designers flaunt their goodies.

MALL

Information*EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Gamblers Anonymous (☎855-222-5542; www.gamblersanonymous.com) Assistance with gambling concerns.

Police (☎702-828-3111; www.lvmpd.com)

Sunrise Hospital & Medical Center (☎702-731-8000; www.sunrisehospital.com; 3186 S Maryland Pkwy) Children's hospital and 24-hour emergency room.

University Medical Center (☎702-383-2000, emergency 702-383-2661; www.umcsn.com; 1800 W Charleston Blvd; ☎24hr) Nevada's most advanced trauma center, and 24-hour emergency department.

INTERNET ACCESS & MEDIA

Wi-fi is available in most hotel rooms (about $10 to $25 per day, sometimes included in the 'resort fee') and there are internet kiosks with attached printers in most hotel lobbies.

Eater Vegas (www.vegas.eater.com) News about Sin City's chefs and new restaurants, with a regularly updated list of the city's top 38 eateries.

Las Vegas Review-Journal (www.lvrj.com) Daily paper with a weekend guide, Neon, on Friday.

Las Vegas Weekly (www.lasvegasweekly.com) Free weekly with good entertainment and restaurant listings.

Vegas Chatter (www.vegaschatter.com) The latest on what's happening in Vegas, from restaurant openings to the hottest pools.

MONEY

Every hotel-casino and bank and most convenience stores have an ATM. The ATM fee at most casinos is around $5. Best to stop at off-Strip banks if possible.

Travelx Currency Services (☎702-369-2219; 3200 Las Vegas Blvd S, Fashion Show; ☎10am-9pm Mon-Sat, 11am-7pm Sun) Changes currencies at Fashion Show Mall.

POST

Post office (www.usps.com; 201 Las Vegas Blvd S; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri) Downtown.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Las Vegas Tourism (www.onlyinvegas.com) Official tourism website.

Las Vegas Visitor Information Center (LVCVA | Las Vegas Convention & Visitors Authority; ☎702-892-7575, 877-847-4858; www.visitlasvegas.com; 3150 Paradise Rd; ☎8am-5:30pm Mon-Fri) Free local calls, internet access and maps galore.

Las Vegas.com (www.lasvegas.com) Travel services.

Vegas.com (www.vegas.com) Travel information with booking service. Also lists kid-friendly attractions.

Getting There & Around

Just south of the major Strip casinos and easily accessible from I-15, McCarran International Airport (LAS; ☎ 702-261-5211; www.mccarran.com; 5757 Wayne Newton Blvd; ✈) has direct flights from many US cities, and some from Canada and Europe. Most domestic flights arrive in Terminal 1. International flights arrive in the new Terminal 3. Bell Trans (☎ 702-739-7990; www.bell-trans.com) offers a shuttle service ($7) between the airport and the Strip. Fares to downtown destinations are slightly higher. At the airport, exit at door 9 near baggage claim to find the Bell Trans booth.

Most of the attractions in Vegas have free self-parking and valet parking available (tip $2). Fast, fun and fully wheelchair accessible, the monorail (www.lvmonorail.com; 1 ride $5, 24/72hr pass $12/28, child under 6yr free; ☎ 7am-midnight Mon, to 2am Tue-Thu, to 3am Fri-Sun) connects the Sahara Station (closest to Circus Circus) to the MGM Grand, stopping at major Strip megaresorts along the way. The Duce (☎ 702-228-7433; www.rtcsonthernnevada.com; 2/24hr pass $6/8), a local double-decker bus, runs frequently 24 hours daily between the Strip and downtown.

Around Las Vegas

Red Rock Canyon

National Conservation Area

PARK

(☎ 702-515-5350; www.redrockcanyonlv.org; day-use per car/bicycle $7/3; ☎ scenic loop 6am-8pm Apr-Sep, earlier Oct-Mar, visitor center 8am-4:30pm) This dramatic park is the perfect antidote to Vegas' artificial brightness. A 23-mile drive west of the Strip, the canyon is actually more like a valley, with the steep, rugged red-rock escarpment rising 3000ft on its western edge. There's a 13-mile scenic loop with access to hiking trails and first-come, first-served camping (September to May) 2 miles east of the visitor center. The 2.5-mile round-trip hike to Calico Tanks climbs through the red rocks and ends with a lofty view of Las Vegas.

Lake Mead & Hoover Dam

LAKE, HISTORIC SITE

Lake Mead and Hoover Dam are the most-visited sites within the Lake Mead National Recreation Area (☎ park information desk 702-293-8906, visitor center 702-293-8990; www.nps.gov/lake; car/bicycle $10/5; ☎ 24hr, visitor center 9am-4:30pm Wed-Sun), which encompasses 110-mile-long Lake Mead, 67-mile-long Lake Mohave and many miles of desert around the lakes. The excellent Alan Bible Visitor Center (☎ 702-293-8990; www.nps.gov/lake; Lakeshore Scenic Dr, off US Hwy 93; ☎ 9am-4:30pm), on Hwy 93 halfway between Boulder City and Hoover Dam, has information on recreation and desert life. Here, hikers and cyclists can pick up a map of the River Mountains Loop Trail (www.rivermountainstrail.com), which offers 32-miles of hiking and biking around the lake. From the visitor center, North Shore Rd and Lakeshore Rd wind around the lake and make a great scenic drive. Lakeshore Rd stretches all the way to Valley of Fire Hwy, which leads to the stunning Valley of Fire State Park.

Straddling the Arizona-Nevada border, the graceful curve and art-deco style of the 726ft Hoover Dam (☎ 866-730-9097, 702-494-2517; www.usbr.gov/lc/hooverdam; Hwy 93; visitor center $8, incl power-plant tour adult/child $11/9, all-inclusive tour $30; ☎ 9am-6pm, last ticket sold 5:15pm) contrasts superbly with the stark landscape. Don't miss a stroll over the new Mike O'Callaghan-Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge, which features a pedestrian walkway with perfect views upstream of Hoover Dam. Not recommended for anyone with vertigo. Parking for access to the bridge is off Hwy 172/Hoover Dam Access Rd. Visitors can either take the 30-minute power plant tour (adult/child $11/9) or the more in-depth, one-hour Hoover Dam tour (no children under 8yr; tours $30). If you're interested in history and construction, spring for the longer tour.

Tickets for both tours are sold at the visitor center. Tickets for the power plant tour only can be purchased online.

Nearby Boulder City was home to the men and women who built the dam. Today, the inviting downtown is a nice place to grab a meal or spend the night. Center-of-the-action Milo's (www.milowinebar.com; 538 Nevada Hwy; mains $9-13; ☎ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) serves fresh sandwiches, salads and gourmet cheese plates at sidewalk tables outside its wine bar. Around the corner is the pleasant Boulder Dam Hotel

VALLEY OF FIRE STATE PARK

A masterpiece of desert scenery filled with psychedelically shaped sandstone outcroppings, this park (☎ 702-397-2088; www.parks.nv.gov/parks/valley-of-fire-state-park; per vehicle $10; ☎ visitor center 8:30am-4:30pm) is a great escape 55 miles from Vegas. Hwy 169 runs right past the visitor center, which has hiking and camping (tent/RV sites $20/30) information and excellent desert-life exhibits.

BURNING MAN

For one week at the end of August, Burning Man (www.burningman.com; admission $380) explodes onto the sunbaked Black Rock Desert, and Nevada sprouts a third major population center – Black Rock City. An experiential art party (and alternative universe) that climaxes in the immolation of a towering stick figure, Burning Man is a whirlwind of outlandish theme camps, dust-caked bicycles, bizarre bartering, costume-enhanced nudity and a general relinquishment of inhibitions.

(☎ 702-293-3510; www.boulderadamhotel.com; 1305 Arizona St; r incl breakfast $72-89, ste $99; 🍷🍷🍷), where the rate includes made-to-order breakfasts and admission to the onsite Boulder City/Hoover Dam museum.

Western Nevada

A vast and mostly undeveloped sagebrush steppe, the western corner of the state is carved by mountain ranges and parched valleys. It's the place where modern Nevada began with the discovery of the famous Comstock silver lode in and around Virginia City. This part of the state lures visitors today with outdoor adventure in the form of hiking, biking, and skiing on its many mountains. Contrasts here are as extreme as the weather: one moment you're driving through a quaint historic town full of grand homes built by silver barons, and the next you spot a tumbleweed blowing by a homely little bar that turns out to be the local (and legal) brothel.

Reno

In downtown Reno you can gamble at one of two-dozen casinos in the morning then walk down the street and shoot rapids at the Truckee River Whitewater Park. These contrasts are what makes 'The Biggest Little City in the World' so interesting – it's holding tight to its gambling roots but also earning kudos as a top-notch basecamp for outdoor adventure. The Sierra Nevada Mountains and Lake Tahoe are less than an hour's drive away, and the region is teaming with lakes, trails and ski resorts.

👁 Sights

The downtown Riverwalk District (www.renoriver.org) hugs the Truckee River. Kayakers and inner tubers ride the rapids in the whitewater park that stretches east from Wingfield Park to Virginia St.

National Automobile Museum MUSEUM

(☎ 775-333-9300; www.automuseum.org; 10 S Lake St; adult/child $10/4; ☀ 9:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, 10am-4pm Sun; 🚗) Stylized street scenes illustrate a century's worth of automobile history at this engaging car museum. The collection is enormous and impressive, with one-of-a-kind vehicles, including a 1928 Model A Ford given to Mary Pickford by Douglas Fairbanks and a 1935 Dusenburg owned by Sammy Davis Jr. Rotating exhibits bring in all kinds of souped-up or fabulously retro rides.

Nevada Museum of Art MUSEUM

(☎ 775-329-3333; www.nevadaart.org; 160 W Liberty St; adult/child $10/1; ☀ 10am-5pm Wed-Sun, 10am-8pm Thu) In a sparkling building inspired by the geological formations of the Black Rock Desert north of town, a floating staircase leads to galleries showcasing temporary exhibits and images related to the American West. Climb to the roof for a view of the Sierras. Great cafe for postcultural refueling.

Virginia Street

Wegged between the I-80 and the Truckee River, downtown's N Virginia St is casino central. South of the river it continues as S Virginia St. All of the following hotel-casinos are open 24 hours.

Circus Circus CASINO

(www.circusreno.com; 500 N Sierra St; 🎪) The most family-friendly of the bunch, it has free circus acts to entertain kids beneath a giant, candy-striped big top, which also harbors a gazillion carnival and video games.

Silver Legacy CASINO

(www.silverlegacyreno.com; 407 N Virginia St) A Victorian-themed place, it's easily recognized by its white landmark dome, where a giant mock mining rig periodically erupts into a tame sound-and-light show.

Eldorado

(www.eldoradoreno.com; 345 N Virginia St) The Eldorado has a kitschy Fountain of Fortune that probably has Italian sculptor Bernini spinning in his grave.

CASINO

Harrah's

(www.harrahreno.com; 219 N Center St) Founded by Nevada gambling pioneer William Harrah in 1946, it's still one of the biggest and most popular casinos in town.

CASINO

Activities

Reno is a 30- to 60-minute drive from Tahoe ski resorts, and many hotels and casinos offer special stay and ski packages.

Truckee River*Whitewater Park

(www.reno.gov) Mere steps from the casinos, the park's Class II and III rapids are gentle enough for kids riding inner tubes, yet sufficiently challenging for professional freestyle kayakers. Two courses wrap around Wingfield Park, a small river island that hosts free concerts. Tahoe Whitewater Tours (☎ 775-787-5000; www.gowhitewater.com) and Wild Sierra Adventures (☎ 866-323-8928; www.wildsierra.com) offer kayak trips and lessons.

WATER SPORTS

Historic Reno*Preservation Society

(☎ 775-747-4478; www.historicreno.org; tours $10) Dig deeper with a walking or cycling tour highlighting subjects including architecture, politics and literary history.

WALKING TOUR

Sleeping

Lodging rates vary widely depending on the day of the week and local events. Sunday through Thursday are generally the best; Friday is more expensive and Saturday can be as much as triple the midweek rate.

In summer, there's gorgeous high-altitude camping at Mt Rose (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; Hwy 431; RV & tent sites $17-50).

Sands Regency

(☎ 775-348-2200; www.sandsregency.com; 345 N Arlington Ave; r Sun-Thu from $29, Fri & Sat $69; P ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) The exterior is a little tired, but rooms are fine, decked out in a cheerful tropical palette of upbeat blues, reds and greens. Empress Tower rooms are best. A good deal.

CASINO HOTEL $

Wildflower Village

(☎ 775-747-8848; www.wildflowervillage.com; 4395 W 4th St; hostel $30, motel $55, B&B $125;

MOTEL, B&amp;B $

P ☎ ☎ ☎) This welcoming artists' colony on the west edge of town has a tumbledown yet creative vibe. Murals decorate the facade of each room, and you can hear the freight trains rumble on by. Has three types of rooms: hostel, motel and B&B.

★Peppermill

(☎ 866-821-9996, 775-826-2121; www.peppermillreno.com; 2707 S Virginia St; r/stc Sun-Thu from $70/130, Fri & Sat from $170/200; P ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) Now awash in Vegas-style opulence, the popular Peppermill boasts Tuscan-themed rooms in its newest 600-room tower, and has almost completed a plush remodel of its older rooms. The three sparkling pools (one indoor) are dreamy, with a full spa on hand. Geothermal energy powers the resort's hot water and heat.

CASINO HOTEL $$

Eating

Reno's dining scene goes far beyond the casino buffets.

★Peg's Glorified Ham & Eggs

(www.eatatpegs.com; 420 S Sierra St; breakfast $9-14, lunch $8-12; ☎ 6:30am-2pm; P ☎) Locally regarded as the best breakfast in town, Peg's offers tasty grill food that's not too greasy. Look for the mint-and-white striped awning.

DINER $

★Old Granite Street Eatery

(☎ 775-622-3222; www.oldgranitestreeteatery.com; 243 S Sierra St; lunch $9-14, dinner $11-26; ☎ 11am-11pm Mon-Thu, 11am-midnight Fri, 10am-midnight Sat, 10am-4pm Sun) A lovely place for organic and local comfort food, old-school artisanal cocktails and seasonal craft beers, this antique-strewn hot spot enchants diners with its stately wooden bar, water served in old liquor bottles and its lengthy seasonal menu.

AMERICAN $$

RENO AREA TRAIL INFORMATION

For extensive information on regional hiking and biking trails, including the Mt Rose summit trail and the Tahoe-Pyramid Bikeway, download the Truckee Meadows Trails Guide (www.reno.gov/Index.aspx?page=291). You can pick up a copy of the guide at the Galena Creek Visitor Center (www.galenacreekvisitorcenter.org; 18250 Mt Rose Hwy; ☎ 9am-6pm Tue-Sun) at Galena Creek Regional Park, where you'll find three of the trails that are included in the guide.

No reservation? Check out the iconic rooster and pig murals and wait for seats at a 'community table' fashioned from a barn door.

Silver Peak Restaurant & Brewery PUB $$
(124 Wonder St; mains lunch $8.25-11, dinner $9.25-22; ☺ restaurant 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Sat & Sun, pub open 1 hour later) Casual and pretense-free, this place hums with the chatter of happy locals settling in for a night of microbrews and great eats, from pizza with pesto shrimp to spinach and ricotta ravioli to filet mignon. In the heart of the downtown Riverwalk District.

Drinking

Great Basin Brewing Co BREWERY $$
(www.greatbasinbrewingco.com; 5525 S Virginia St; mains $8-19; ☺ 11am-midnight Sun-Thu, 11am-1:30am Fri & Sat) There's a debate in town over who brews the best beer, Great Basin or Silver Peak. We're not picking sides, but we give extra points to Great Basin for its outdoorsy ambience, which includes a mountain scene splashed across the wall. Serves five flagship beers with 13 seasonal brews. Also has a nice selection of Belgian ales. It's 3 miles south of downtown on Virginia St.

Imperial Bar & Lounge BAR
(150 N Arlington Ave; ☺ 11am-2am Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun-Thu) A classy bar inhabiting a relic of the past, this building was once an old bank, and in the middle of the wood floor you can see cement where the vault once stood. Sandwiches and pizzas go with 16 beers on tap and a buzzing weekend scene.

Jungle Java & Jungle Vino CAFE, WINE BAR
(www.javajunglevino.com; 246 W 1st St; ☺ coffee 6am-midnight, wine 3pm-midnight Mon-Fri, noon-midnight Sat & Sun; ☺) A side-by-side coffee shop and wine bar with a cool mosaic floor and an internet cafe all rolled into one.

Entertainment

The free weekly Reno News & Review (www.newsreview.com) is your best source for listings.

Edge CLUB
(www.edgeofreno.com; 2707 S Virginia St, Peppermill; admission $10-20; ☺ from 9pm Thu & Sat, from 7pm Fri) The Peppermill reels in the night-hounds with a big glitzy dance club, where go-go dancers, smoke machines and laser lights may cause sensory overload. If so, step outside to the patio and relax in front of cozy fire pits.

Knitting Factory

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 775-323-5648; <http://re.knittingfactory.com>; 211 N Virginia St) This mid-sized venue opened in 2010, filling a gap in Reno's music scene with mainstream and indie favorites.

Information

An information center sits near the baggage claim at Reno-Tahoe International Airport, which also has free wi-fi.

Reno-Sparks Convention & Visitors Authority Visitor Center (☎ 775-682-3800; www.visitrenotahoe.com; 135 N Sierra St; ☺ 9am-6pm) Inside the RENO eNVy store (get it?) in the Riverwalk District. Has brochures and maps and free parking with validation. Also has an airport desk.

Getting There & Away

About 5 miles southeast of downtown, Reno-Tahoe International Airport (RNO; www.renoairport.com; ☺) is served by most major airlines.

The North Lake Tahoe Express (☎ 866-216-5222; www.northlaketahoeexpress.com) operates a shuttle ($45 one-way, about six to eight daily, 3:30am to midnight) to and from the airport to multiple North Shore Lake Tahoe locations including Truckee, Squaw Valley and Incline Village. Reserve in advance.

To reach South Lake Tahoe (weekdays only), take the wi-fi-equipped RTC Intercity bus (www.rtcwashoe.com) to the Nevada DOT stop in Carson City ($4, one hour, six per weekday) and then the BlueGo (www.bluego.org) 21X bus ($2 with RTC Intercity transfer, one hour, five to six daily) to the Stateline Transit Center.

Greyhound (☎ 775-322-2970; www.greyhound.com; 155 Stevenson St) buses run daily service to Truckee, Sacramento and San Francisco ($11 to $41, five to seven hours), as does the once-daily westbound California Zephyr train route operated by Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245, 775-329-8638; 280 N Center St). The train is slower and more expensive, but also more scenic and comfortable, with a bus connection from Emeryville for passengers to San Francisco ($60, eight hours).

Getting Around

The casino hotels offer frequent free airport shuttles for their guests.

Local RTC Ride buses (☎ 775-348-7433; www.rtcwashoe.com; per ride $2, daily pass pre-paid/on-board $4/5) blanket the city, and most routes converge at the RTC 4th St Station downtown. Useful routes include the RTC Rapid line for Center St and S Virginia St, 11 for Sparks and 19 for the airport. The free Sierra Spirit bus, which has wi-fi, loops around all major downtown landmarks – including the casinos and the university – every 15 minutes from 7am to 7pm.

Carson City

This underrated town is an easy drive from Reno or Lake Tahoe, and it's a perfect stop for lunch and a stroll around the quiet, old-fashioned downtown.

The Kit Carson Blue Line Trail passes pretty historic buildings on pleasant tree-lined streets. Pick up a copy of the trail map at the visitor center (☎ 800-638-2321, 775-687-7410; www.visitcarsoncity.com; 1900 S Carson St; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun), a mile south of downtown, or download it from the visitor center website.

Anchoring downtown is the 1870 Nevada State Capitol (cnr Musser & Carson; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) FREE, where you might spot the governor himself chatting with one of his constituents. There's a small museum with state-related paraphernalia on the 2nd floor – check out that elk-antler chair. Ouch! Train buffs shouldn't miss the Nevada State Railroad Museum (☎ 775-687-6953; www.museumnevadaculture.org; 2180 S Carson St; adult/child $6/free; ☺ 9am-5pm Fri-Mon), which displays some 65 train cars and locomotives from the 1800s to the early 1900s.

Grab lunch at fetching Comma Coffee (www.commacoffee.com; 312 S Carson St; breakfast $6-8, lunch $8-10; ☺ 7am-8pm Mon & Wed-Thu, to 10pm Tue, Fri & Sat; ☎ ☺ ☻ ☼) and eavesdrop on the politicians. Or spend the evening at the locally owned microbrewery, High Sierra Brewing Company (www.highsierrabrewco.com; 302 N Carson St; mains $9-17; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat), for great beer and burgers.

Hwy 395/Carson St is the main drag. For hiking and camping information in the area, stop by the United States Forest Service (USFS) Carson Ranger District Office (☎ 775-882-2766; 1536 S Carson St; ☺ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri).

Virginia City

The discovery of the legendary Comstock Lode in 1859 sparked a silver bonanza in the mountains 25 miles south of Reno. During the 1860s gold rush, Virginia City was a high-flying, rip-roaring Wild West boomtown. Newspaperman Samuel Clemens, alias Mark Twain, spent some time in this raucous place during its heyday; years later his eyewitness descriptions of mining life were published in a book called Roughing It.

The high-elevation town is a National Historic Landmark, with a main street of Victorian buildings, wooden sidewalks and some hokey but fun museums. To see how the mining elite lived, stop by the Mackay Mansion (☎ 775-847-0173; 129 South D St; adult/child $5/free; ☺ 10am-5pm in summer, vary in winter) and the Castle (B St). Mark Twain's desk and, er, toilet, are among a haphazard collection of artifacts in the Mark Twain Museum at The Territorial Enterprise (53 South C St; adult/child $4/3; ☺ 10am-5pm) in the old newspaper press room. The basement level space survived the devastating 1878 town fire.

Locals agree that the best food in Virginia City is probably at Cafe del Rio (www.cafedelriovc.com; 394 S C St; dinner $19-15, brunch $9.25-14; ☺ 11am-8pm Wed-Sat, 10am-7pm Sun), serving a nice blend of nuevo Mexican and good cafe food, including breakfast. Wet your whistle at the longtime family-run Bucket of Blood Saloon (www.bucketofbloodsaloonvc.com; 1 S C St; ☺ 9am-7pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat), which serves up beer and 'bar rules' at its antique wooden bar ('If the bartender doesn't laugh, you are not funny').

The main drag is C St, where you'll find the visitor center (☎ 800-718-7587, 775-847-7500; www.visitvirginiacitynv.com; 86 S C St; ☺ 10am-5pm).

Nevada Great Basin

A trip across Nevada's Great Basin is a serene, almost haunting experience. But those on the quest for the 'Great American Road Trip' will relish the fascinating historic towns and quirky diversions tucked away along lonely desert highways.

Along I-80

Heading east from Reno, Winnemucca, 150 miles to the northeast, is the first worthwhile stop. It boasts a vintage downtown and a number of Basque restaurants, along with a yearly Basque festival. For information, stop by the Winnemucca Visitor Center (☎ 775-623-5071, 800 962 2638; www.winnemucca.com; 30 W Winnemucca Blvd; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri). Check out the displays here, like a buckaroo (cowboy) hall of fame and big-game museum. Don't miss the Griddle (www.thegriddle.com; 460 W Winnemucca Blvd; mains $10-15; ☺ 6am-2pm), one of Nevada's

CATHEDRAL GORGE STATE PARK

Awe, then ahhh. Cathedral Gorge State Park (☎775-728-4460; www.parks.nv.gov/parks/cathedral-gorge; Hwy 93; entry $7, tent & RV sites $17; ☀ visitor center 9am-4:30pm) really does feel like you've stepped into a magnificent, many-spined cathedral, albeit one whose dome is a view of the sky. Sleep under the stars at the first-come, first-served tent & RV sites ($17) set amid badlands-style cliffs.

best retro cafes, serving up fantastic breakfasts, diner classics and homemade desserts since 1948.

The culture of the American West is most diligently cultivated in Elko. Aspiring cowboys and cowgirls should visit the Western Folklife Center (www.westernfolklife.org; 501 Railroad St; adult/child $5/1; ☀ 10am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat), which offers art and history exhibits, musical jams, dance nights and also hosts the popular Cowboy Poetry Gathering each January. Elko also holds a National Basque Festival every July 4, with games, traditional dancing and a 'Running of the Bulls' event. If you've never sampled Basque food, the best place in town for your inaugural experience is the Star Hotel (www.elkostarhotel.com; 246 Silver St; lunch $6-12, dinner $15-32; ☀ 11am-2pm & 5-9pm Mon-Fri, 4:30-9:30pm Sat), a family-style supper club located in a circa-1910 boardinghouse for Basque shepherders.

Along Highway 50

In Nevada, the transcontinental Hwy 50 is better known by its nickname, 'The Loneliest Road in America.' It cuts across the heart of the state, connecting Carson City in the west to Great Basin National Park in the east. It was once part of the Lincoln Hwy and follows the route of the Overland Stagecoach, the Pony Express and the first transcontinental telegraph line. Towns are few, and the only sounds are the hum of the engine or the whisper of wind.

About 25 miles southeast of Fallon, the Sand Mountain Recreation Area (☎775-885-6000; www.blm.gov/nv; admission free for brief, non-motorized use; ☀ 24hr) FREE is worth a stop for a look at its 600ft sand dune and the ruins of a Pony Express station. Just east, enjoy a juicy burger at an old stagecoach stop, Middlegate Station (42500 Austin Hwy) then toss your sneakers onto the new Shoe Tree on the north side of Hwy 50 just ahead (the old one was cut down).

A fitting reward for surviving Hwy 50 is the awesome, uncrowded Great Basin National Park (☎775-234-7331; www.nps.gov/grba; ☀ 24hr) FREE. Near the Nevada-Utah border, it's home to 13,063ft Wheeler Peak, which rises abruptly from the desert. Hiking trails near the summit take in superb country with glacial lakes, ancient bristlecone pines and a permanent ice field. In summer, the Great Basin Visitor Center (☎775-234-7331; www.nps.gov/grba; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Jun-Aug), just north of the town of Baker, is the place to get oriented.

For a 60- or 90-minute guided tour of the caves here, which are richly decorated with rare limestone formations, head to the year-round Lehman Caves Visitor Center (☎775-234-7331, tour reservations 775-234-7517; www.nps.gov/grba; adult $8-10, child $4-5; ☀ 8am-4:30 pm, tours 8:30am-4pm) five miles outside of Baker. Reservations recommended. In warmer months, drive 12 scenic miles to the Wheeler Peak summit. There are five first-come, first-served developed campgrounds (☎775-234-7331; www.nps.gov/grba; primitive camping free, tent & RV sites $12) in the park.

Along Highway 95

Hwy 95 runs roughly north-south through the western part of the state; the southern section is starkly scenic as it passes the Nevada Test Site (where more than 720 nuclear weapons were exploded in the 1950s).

Along Highways 375 & 93

Hwy 375 is dubbed the 'Extraterrestrial Hwy' because of the huge number of UFO sightings along this stretch and because it intersects Hwy 93 near top-secret Area 51, part of Nellis Air Force Base and a supposed holding area for captured UFOs. Some people may find Hwy 375 more unnerving than the Loneliest Road; it's a desolate stretch of pavement and cars are few and far between. In the tiny town of Rachel, on Hwy 375, Little A'Le'Inn (☎775-729-2515; www.littlealeinn.com; 1 Old Mill Rd, Alamo; RV sites with hookups $15, r $35-150; ☀ restaurant 8am-9pm; 🍷🍷🍷) accommodates earthlings and aliens alike, and sells extraterrestrial souvenirs. Probing not included.

ARIZONA

The nation's 6th-largest state is dotted with stunning works of nature: the Grand Canyon, Monument Valley, the Chiricahua Mountains, and the red rocks of Sedona, to name a few. In the shadows of these icons, a compelling cast of settlers and explorers tried to tame Arizona's wilds, building pre-historic irrigation canals through desert scrub, mapping the labyrinth of canyons and mining the state's underground riches. Gorgeous backroads link these natural and historic sites, making Arizona a prime destination for roadtrippers.

Greater Phoenix, ringed by mountains, is one of the biggest metro areas in the Southwest. It has the eateries, sights and glorious spas you'd expect in a spot that stakes its claim on rest and renewal. Tucson is the funky, artsy gateway to southern Arizona's astronomical and historical sights. Only 60 miles from the Mexican border, it embraces its cross-border heritage.

History

Arizona was the last territory in the Lower 48 to become a state, and it celebrated its centennial in 2012. Why did it take so long for a territory filled with copper and ranchland to join the Union? Arizonans were seen as troublemakers by the federal government, and for years acquiring their riches wasn't worth the potential trouble.

Cynics might say that Arizonans are still making trouble. In 2010, Arizona's legislature passed the most restrictive anti-immigration law in the nation, known as SB 1070. The controversial bill was passed soon after the mysterious shooting death of a popular rancher near the Mexican border.

The US Supreme Court recently struck down several sections of the hot-button law but retained the provision stating that an officer can try to determine the immigration status of a person who has been stopped, as long as the officer has a reasonable suspicion that the person is here illegally. At press time, implementation of the provision is facing legal challenge.

The state was shaken in 2011 by the shooting of Democratic Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords during a public appearance. She was critically injured and six bystanders and staff members were killed.

An ongoing statewide fiscal crisis led to deep cuts for the state park system, forcing many parks to join forces with non-profit groups and local governments for funding.

i Information

Arizona is on Mountain Standard Time but is the only western state that does not observe daylight saving time from spring to early fall. The exception is the Navajo Reservation, which does observe daylight saving time.

Generally speaking, lodging rates in southern Arizona (including Phoenix, Tucson and Yuma) are much higher in winter and spring, which are considered the 'high season.' Great deals are to be had in the hot areas at the height of summer.

Arizona Department of Transportation (📍 in-state 511, 888-411-7623; www.az511.com) Updates on road conditions and traffic statewide, with links to weather and safety information.

Arizona Office of Tourism (📍 602-364-3700; www.arizonaguide.com) Free state information.

Arizona Public Lands Information Center (📍 602-417-9200; www.publiclands.org) Information about USFS, NPS, Bureau of Land Management (BLM) and state lands and parks.

Arizona State Parks (📍 602-542-4174; www.azstateparks.com) Fifteen state parks have

ARIZONA FACTS

Nickname Grand Canyon State

Population 6.5 million

Area 113,637 sq miles

Capital city Phoenix (population 1.48 million)

Other cities Tucson (population 524,000), Flagstaff (population 67,400), Sedona (population 10,000)

Sales tax 6.6%

Birthplace of Apache chief Geronimo (1829–1909), political activist Cesar Chavez (1927–93), singer Linda Ronstadt (b 1946)

Home of Sedona New Age movement, mining towns turned art colonies

Politics Majority vote Republican

Famous for Grand Canyon, saguaro cacti

Best souvenir Pink cactus-shaped neon lamp from roadside stall

Driving distances Phoenix to Grand Canyon Village: 235 miles, Tucson to Sedona: 230 miles campgrounds. Online reservations are available for all of them, with a $5 reservation fee. (campsites $15 to $50, cabins and yurts $35 to $75).

Phoenix

Despite the heat, Phoenix has a bit of spring in its step. The city, which is hosting the 2015 Super Bowl, is welcoming guests these days to its new downtown dining-and-entertainment district, Cityscape. And the city-to-airport rail line, the SkyTrain, opened ahead of schedule.

Several 'towns' make up the region known as Greater Phoenix, which is the largest urban area in the Southwest. The City of Phoenix, with its downtown high-rises and top-notch museums, is the patriarch of the bunch. Scottsdale is the stylish big sister who married up, Tempe the good-natured but occasionally rowdy college kid, and Mesa is the brother who wants a quiet life in the suburbs. And mom? She left for Flagstaff in June because it's just too darn hot.

How hot? In summer temperatures reach above 110°F (43°C). Resort rates drop dramatically, which is great for travelers on a budget, but the most popular time to visit is winter and spring, when pleasant days prevail.

Sights

Greater Phoenix, also known as the Valley of the Sun, is ringed by mountains that range from 2500ft to more than 7000ft in elevation. Central Ave runs north-south through Phoenix, dividing west addresses from east addresses; Washington St runs west-east, dividing north addresses from south addresses.

Scottsdale, Tempe and Mesa are east of the airport. Scottsdale Rd runs north-south between Scottsdale and Tempe. The airport is 3 miles southeast of downtown.

Phoenix

Heard Museum

MUSEUM

( 602-252-8848; www.heard.org; 2301 N Central Ave; adult/child 6-12 yr & student/senior $18/7.50/13.50;  9:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun; ) This private museum opened in 1929 when Dwight and Maie Bartlett Heard decided to share their extensive collection of Native American artifacts. Today, across 10 galleries, the museum displays Native American art, textiles, and ceramics, and spotlights Native American history and traditions. The focus is Southwestern tribes.

Check out the kachina (Hopi spirit doll) collection as well as the 'Boarding School Experience' gallery, a moving look at the controversial federal policy of removing Native American children from their families and sending them to remote boarding schools to Americanize them.

Musical Instrument Museum

MUSEUM

( 480-478-6000; www.themim.org; 4725 E Mayo Blvd; adult $18, teen 13-19 yr $14, child $10;  9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun, to 9pm first Fri of the month) From Ugandan thumb pianos to Hawaiian ukuleles to an Indonesian gong, the ears have it at this new museum that celebrates the world's musical instruments. More than 200 countries and territories are represented within five regional galleries, where music and video performances automatically start as you stop beside individual displays.

The free-to-use wireless headsets are a necessity, but they are very easy to operate. Just don't walk too quickly between the Alice Cooper exhibit and the Fife & Drums display in the United States gallery - your head will spin! To get to the museum from downtown, follow Hwy 51 north to Hwy 101 east. From 101, take exit 31. Turn right onto N Tatum Blvd and then turn right just ahead and you're there.

Desert Botanical Garden

GARDENS

( 480-941-1225; www.dbg.org; 1201 N Galvin Pkwy; adult/child/student/senior $18/8/10/15;  8am-8pm Oct-Apr, 7am-8pm May-Sep) On 14.5 acres, this inspirational garden is a refresh-

CACTUS LEAGUE SPRING TRAINING

Before the start of the major league baseball season, teams spend March in Arizona (Cactus League) and Florida (Grapefruit League) auditioning new players, practicing and playing games. Tickets are cheaper (from about $8 to $10 depending on venue), the seats better, the lines shorter and the games more relaxed. Check www.cactus-league.com for schedules and links for purchasing tickets, or www.visitphoenix.com for a summary of team and ticket information.

ing place to reconnect with nature and offer a great introduction to desert plant life. Looping trails lead past an astonishing variety of desert denizens arranged by theme, including a desert wildflower loop and a Sonoran Desert nature loop. Check for special seasonal events like the summer flashlight tours (7pm Tuesday and Saturday June to August).

★ Phoenix Art Museum MUSEUM
 (☎ 602-257-1222; www.phxart.org; 1625 N Central Ave; adult/child 6-17yr/student/senior $15/6/10/12, free 3-9pm Wed & 1st Fri of the month 6-10pm; ☀ 10am-9pm Wed, 10am-5pm Thu-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; ♿) The Phoenix Art Museum is Arizona's premier repository of fine art. Galleries include works by Claude Monet, Diego Rivera and Georgia O'Keeffe. Landscapes in the Western American gallery set the tone for adventure.

◉ Scottsdale

Scottsdale's main draw is its popular shopping districts, which include Old Town, known for its early-20th-century buildings (and others built to look old), and the adjacent Arts District. The neighborhoods are stuffed with art galleries, clothing stores for the modern cowgirl, and some of the best eating and drinking in the Valley of the Sun.

Taliesin West ARCHITECTURE
 (☎ 480-860-2700; www.franklloydwright.org; 12621 Frank Lloyd Wright Blvd; ☀ 9am-4pm, closed Tue & Wed Jul & Aug) Taliesin West was Frank Lloyd Wright's desert home and studio, built between 1938 and 1940. Still home to an architecture school and open to the public for guided tours, it's a prime example of organic architecture with buildings incorporating elements and structures found in surrounding nature. To see the house and grounds, you must take a tour. The 90-minute Insights Tour (adult/4-12yr/student & senior $32/17/28; ☀ half-hourly 9am-4pm Nov-mid-Apr, hourly 9am-4pm mid-Apr-Oct) is both informative and quick-moving. Shorter and longer tours are also available; see website for prices and times.

◉ Tempe

Founded in 1885 and home to around 58,000 students, Arizona State University (ASU; www.asu.edu) is the heart and soul of Tempe. The Gammage Auditorium (☎ box

SCENIC DRIVES: ARIZONA'S BEST

Oak Creek Canyon A thrilling plunge past swimming holes, rockslides and crimson canyon walls on Hwy 89A between Flagstaff and Sedona.

Hwy 89/89A Wickenburg to Sedona
 The Old West meets the New West on this lazy drive past dude ranches, mining towns, art galleries and stylish wineries.

Patagonia-Sonoita Scenic Road This one's for the birds, and those who like to track them, in Arizona's southern wine country on Hwys 82 and 83.

Kayenta-Monument Valley Become the star of your own Western on an iconic loop past cinematic red rocks in Navajo country just off Hwy 163.

Vermilion Cliffs Scenic Road A solitary drive on Hwy 89A through the Arizona Strip linking condor country, the North Rim and Mormon hideaways.

office 480-965-3434, tours 480-965-6912; www.asugammage.com; cnr Mill Ave & Apache Blvd; tickets from $20; ☀ 1-4pm Mon-Fri Oct-May) was Frank Lloyd Wright's last major building.

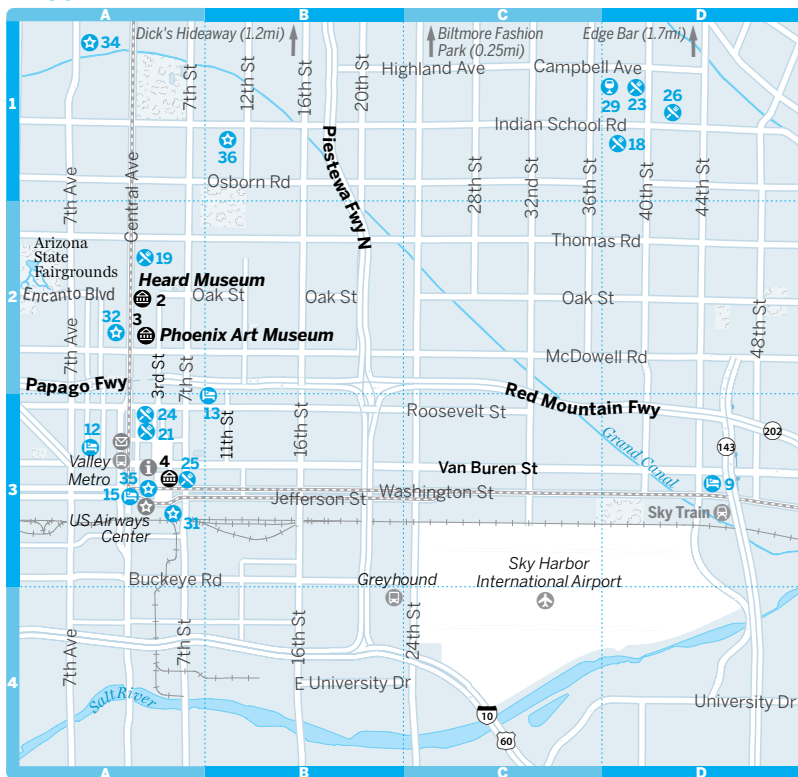

Easily accessible by light-rail from downtown Phoenix, Mill Avenue, Tempe's main drag, is packed with chain restaurants, themed bars and other collegiate hangouts. While visiting, it's worth checking out Tempe Town Lake (www.tempe.gov/lake), an artificial lake with boat rides and paths perfect for strolling or biking its fringes. At Cox Splash Playground (☀ 10am-7pm Apr-Sep; ♿) at the beach park, kids love to frolic under the oversized sprinklers.

◉ Mesa

Founded by Mormons in 1877, low-key Mesa is one of the fastest-growing cities in the nation and is the third-largest city in Arizona, with a population of 452,000.

Arizona Museum of Natural History MUSEUM
 (☎ 480-644-2230; www.azmnh.org; 53 N MacDonald St; adult/child 3-12yr/student/senior $10/6/8/9; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun; ♿) Worth a trip if your kids are into dinosaurs (aren't they all?). In addition to the multilevel Dinosaur Mountain, there are loads of life-sized casts of the giant beasts plus a touchable Apatosaurus thigh-bone. Other exhibits highlight Arizona's colorful past, from a prehistoric Hohokam village to an eight-cell territorial jail.

Phoenix

Activities

Find trail information for Piastewa Peak, South Mountain Park, Camelback Park and others at <http://phoenix.gov/recreation/rec/parks/preserves/index.html>.

Piastewa Peak/Dreamy Draw Recreation Area

HIKING
 (☎602-261-8318; www.phoenix.gov/parks; Squaw Peak Dr, Phoenix; ☀trails 5am-11pm, last entry 6:59pm) Previously known as Squaw Peak, this easy-to-access viewpoint was renamed for local Native American soldier Lori Piastewa, killed in Iraq in 2003. The trek to the 2608ft summit is hugely popular and the saguaro-dotted park can get jammed on winter weekends. Dogs are allowed on some trails.

South Mountain Park

HIKING
 (☎602-262-7393; 10919 S Central Ave, Phoenix; ☀5am-11pm, last entry 6:59pm) The 51-mile trail network (leashed dogs allowed) dips through canyons, over grassy hills and past granite walls, offering city views and access to Native American petroglyphs.

Cactus Adventures

BIKING
 (☎480-688-4743; www.cactusadventures.com; half-day rental from $45; ☀hours vary) Cactus Adventures rents bikes and offers guided hiking and biking tours. Will deliver bikes to South Mountain trailhead or Arizona Grand Resort; flexible with pick-up times for bikes.

Ponderosa Stables

HORSEBACK RIDING
 (☎602-268-1261; www.arizona-horses.com; 10215 S Central Ave, Phoenix; 1/2hr rides $33/55;

★ Festivals & Events

Tostitos Fiesta Bowl

SPORTS

(☎480-350-0911; www.fiestabowl.org) Held in early January at the University of Phoenix Stadium in Glendale, this football game is preceded by massive celebrations and parades.

🛏 Sleeping

Greater Phoenix is well stocked with hotels and resorts, but you won't find many B&Bs or cozy inns. Prices plummet in the scorching summer, a time when Valley residents take advantage of super-low prices at their favorite resorts.

🏠 Phoenix

HI Phoenix Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎602-254-9803; www.phxhostel.org; 1026 N 9th St; dm from $20, s/d $37/47; 🍷📺📶) This inviting 14-bed hostel sits in a working-class residential neighborhood and has relaxing garden nooks. The owners are fun, and they know Phoenix. Check-in is from 8am to 10am (until noon Friday and Saturday) and 5pm to 10pm. Closed July and August. No credit cards.

Budget Lodge Downtown

MOTEL $

(☎602-254-7247; www.blphx.com; 402 W Van Buren St; r incl breakfast $60-67; 📺📶🍷) In the heart of downtown, this simple, two-story motel is a clean, low-cost place to lay your head, and it provides the most important amenities: a microwave and fridge in every room, and complimentary breakfast.

Aloft Phoenix-Airport

HOTEL $$$

(☎602-275-6300; www.aloftphoenixairport.com; 4450 E Washington St; r $109-149; 📺📶🍷) Rooms blend a pop-art sensibility with the cleanest edges of modern design. The hotel is near Tempe and across the street from the Pueblo Grand Museum. No extra fee for pets.

Palomar Phoenix

HOTEL $$$

(☎877-488-1908, 602-253-6633; www.hotelpalomar-phoenix.com; 2 E Jefferson St; r $349-359; 📺📶🍷) Shaggy pillows, antler-shaped lamps and portraits of blue cows. Yep, whimsy takes a stand at the new, 242-room Palomar, and we like it. Rooms, which are larger than average, pop with modern style and come with a yoga mat and animal-print robes. You can relax in style at the ☉6am-5pm Jun-Sep, 8am-5pm rest of year) This outfitter leads rides through South Mountain Park. Reservations required for most trips.

👉 Tours

Arizona Detours

SIGHTSEEING

(☎866-438-6877; www.detoursaz.com) Leads day tours to far-flung locations such as Tombstone (adult/child $145/75) and the Grand Canyon (adult/child $155/90), and a half-day Phoenix/Scottsdale tour (adult/child $80/45).

Arizona Outback Adventures

HIKING

(☎480-945-2881; www.aoa-adventures.com; 16447 N 91st St, Scottsdale) Offers half-day trips for hiking ($95, minimum two people), mountain biking ($115, minimum two people), and Salt River kayaking ($150, minimum two people).

Phoenix

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Desert Botanical Garden ..... E2
- 2 Heard Museum ..... A2
- 3 Phoenix Art Museum ..... A2

📍 Sights

- 4 Arizona Science Center ..... A3
- 5 Arizona State University ..... F4
- Cox Splash Playground ..... (see 8)
- 6 Gammage Auditorium ..... F4
- 7 Old Town Scottsdale ..... F1
- 8 Tempe Town Lake ..... E4

🏠 Sleeping

- 9 Aloft Phoenix-Airport ..... D3
- 10 Bespoke Inn, Cafe & Bicycles ..... F1
- 11 Best Western Inn of Tempe ..... F4
- 12 Budget Lodge Downtown ..... A3
- 13 HI Phoenix Hostel ..... B3
- 14 Hotel Valley Ho ..... F1
- 15 Palomar Phoenix ..... A3
- 16 Royal Palms Resort & Spa ..... E1
- 17 Saguaro Inn ..... F1

🍴 Eating

- 18 Beckett's Table ..... D1
- 19 Durant's ..... A2

- 20 Essence ..... E4
- 21 Food Truck Friday ..... A3
- 22 Herb Box ..... F1
- 23 La Grande Orange Grocery ..... D1
- 24 Matt's Big Breakfast ..... A3
- 25 Pizzeria Bianco ..... A3
- Sugar Bowl ..... (see 7)
- 26 Tee Pee Mexican Food ..... D1
- 27 The Mission ..... F1

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 28 Four Peaks Brewing Company ..... F4
- 29 Postino Winecafé Arcadia ..... D1
- 30 Rusty Spur Saloon ..... F1

🎬 Entertainment

- 31 Arizona Diamondbacks ..... A3
- 32 Arizona Opera ..... A2
- 33 BS West ..... F1
- 34 Char's Has the Blues ..... A1
- 35 Phoenix Symphony ..... A3
- 36 Rhythm Room ..... B1
- Symphony Hall ..... (see 35)

🛍 Shopping

- Heard Museum Shop & Bookstore (see 2)
- 37 Scottsdale Fashion Square ..... F1

3rd-floor outdoor pool and lounge, with nice views of downtown. The hotel anchors the new CityScape dining and entertainment district. Rates are slightly lower on weekends.

Royal Palms Resort & Spa RESORT $$$
 (☎ 602-840-3610; www.royalpalmsresortandspa.com; 5200 E Camelback Rd; r $333-423, ste from $342-519; 📞 🍷 🍴 🍷 🍷) This posh boutique resort at the base of Camelback Mountain is a hushed and elegant place, dotted with Spanish Colonial villas, flower-lined walkways, and palms imported from Egypt. Pets are pampered with soft beds, personalized biscuits and walking services. There's a $34 daily resort fee.

🏠 Scottsdale

Sleep Inn HOTEL $$$
 (☎ 480-998-9211; www.sleepinnscottsdale.com; 16630 N Scottsdale Rd; r incl breakfast $139-159; 📞 🍷 🍴 🍷 🍷) This outpost of the national chain in North Scottsdale wins points for its extensive breakfast, friendly staff and proximity to Taliesin West. Rooms have microwaves and refrigerators.

Saguaro Inn HOTEL $$$
 (☎ 480-308-1100; www.jdvhotels.com; 4000 N Drinkwater Blvd; r $189; 📞 🍷 🍴 🍷 🍷) Embrace your inner hipster at this candy-bright hideaway beside Old Town. The vibe skews young and attention to detail may sometimes be lacking, but the location is great, palm trees surround the pool and the rate is lower than neighborhood competitors.

★ Hotel Valley Ho BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
 (☎ 480-248-2000; www.hotelvalleyho.com; 6850 E Main St; r $249-299, ste $399-509; 📞 🍷 🍴 🍷 🍷) Everything's swell at the Valley Ho, a jazzy joint that once bedded Bing Crosby, Natalie Wood and Janet Leigh. Today, bebop music, upbeat front staff and the 'ice fireplace' recapture the Rat Pack-era vibe, and the theme travels well to the balconied rooms. Pets stay free; wi-fi is complimentary for 12 hours per day.

Bespoke Inn, Cafe & Bicycles B&B $$$
 (☎ 480-664-0730; www.bespokeinn.com; 3701 N Marshall Way; r from $299; 📞 🍷 🍴 🍷 🍷) Ooh la la. Are we in the French countryside or downtown Scottsdale? At this breezy new B&B guests can sip coffee in the chic cafe, loll in the infinity edge pool, or pedal the neighborhood on Pashley city bikes. Rooms are plush with handsome touches like handcrafted furniture and nickel bath fixtures. Gourmet breakfasts are served around a communal farm table. From $199 in summer.

Boulders

RESORT $$$

(☎ 480-488-9009; www.theboulders.com; 34631 N Tom Darlington Dr, Carefree; casitas $319-369, villas $599-1149; 📞 📧 📺 📺) Blending nearly imperceptibly into a landscape of natural rock formations, this escape-the-city retreat is simultaneously sumptuous and laid-back. Everything here is calculated to take the edge off travel. Extra stressed? Enjoy a session at the ultraposh on-site spa. Daily resort fee is $30. Weekend rates can drop as low as $125 in summer.

🏠 Tempe

Best Western Inn of Tempe

HOTEL $

(☎ 480-784-2233; www.innoftempe.com; 670 N Scottsdale Rd; r incl breakfast $89-99; 📞 📧 📺) This well-kept, helpful hotel is within walking distance of Tempe Town Lake and close to ASU and lively Mill Ave. Has 24-hour airport shuttle.

★ Sheraton Wild Horse

Pass Resort & Spa

RESORT $$$

(☎ 602-225-0100; www.wildhorsepassresort.com; 5594 W Wild Horse Pass Blvd, Chandler; r $209-279, ste $284-520, mains $44-54; 📞 📧 📺 📺) Scan the horizon for the namesake wild horses at this striking property, designed by the Gila River tribe as a luxurious place to soak up the best of Native American healing and wisdom. This oasis has comfortable rooms, spacious common areas, fine dining, two 18-hole golf courses, an equestrian center, tennis courts, a spa and a water slide modeled after Hohokam ruins.

🍴 Eating

The Phoenix-Scottsdale area has the largest selection of restaurants in the Southwest. To sample a variety of Arizona's finest foods, stop by Food Truck Friday (www.phxstreet-food.org; 721 N Central Ave, Phoenix Public Market, downtown; ☎ 11am-1:30pm Fri) at the Phoenix Public Market downtown.

★ Matt's Big Breakfast

BREAKFAST $

(☎ 602-254-1074; www.mattsbigbreakfast.com; 825 N 1st St, at Garfield St; breakfast $5-10, lunch $7-10; ☎ 6:30am-2:30pm) Matt re-opened his legendary breakfast joint in a bigger location down the block from its old digs, but folks still cluster on the sidewalk to wait for a table. Regular menu items are great, but daily specials, such as eggs scrambled with peppers and chorizo into fluffy-spicy-ohmygoodness on a bed of mouth-watering crispy homefries, are supremely yummy.

Tee Pee Mexican Food

MEXICAN $

(☎ 602-956-0178; www.teepeemexicanfood.com; 4144 E Indian School Rd; mains $5-14; ☎ 11am-10pm Mon-Sat, to 9pm Sun) If you like piping-hot plates piled high with cheesy, messy American-style Mexican fare then grab a booth at this 40-year-old fave. When George W Bush ate here in 2004, he ordered two cheese and onion enchiladas, rice and beans – now called the Presidential Special.

La Grande Orange Grocery

CAFE $

(www.lagrandeorangegrocery.com; 4410 N 40th St; breakfast under $8, lunch $7-9, pizza $12-15; ☎ cafe 6:30am-10pm, pizzeria from 4pm Mon-Thu, from 11am Fri & Sat) Take away a muffin and coffee for breakfast, pop in for a guacamole BLT at lunch or nibble margherita pizza at dinner. This bustling gourmet market, bakery, cafe and pizzeria sits at the corner of 40th St and E Campbell Ave.

★ Dick's Hideaway

NEW MEXICAN $$

(☎ 602-241-1881; http://richardsonsnm.com; 6008 N 16th St; breakfast $5-20, lunch $12-16, dinner $12-35; ☎ 7am-midnight Sun-Wed, to 1am Thu-Sat) Grab a table beside the bar or join the communal table in the side room and settle in for hearty servings of savory, chile-slathered enchiladas, tamales and other New Mexican cuisine. We especially like the Hideaway for breakfast, when the Bloody Marys arrive with a shot of beer. The unmarked entrance is between the towering shrubs.

Pizzeria Bianco

PIZZERIA $$

(☎ 602-258-8300; www.pizzeriabianco.com; 623 E Adams St; pizza $12-16; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon, 11am-10pm Tue-Sat) The dining room is small and the menu short, but flavors are big and savory at this famed eatery run by James Beard winner Chris Bianco. The thin crust, wood-fired pies include the Rosa, with red onion, parmesan, rosemary and Arizona pistachios, and the Wiseguy with wood-roasted onions, house-smoked mozzarella and fennel sausage.

Beckett's Table

NEW AMERICAN $$

(☎ 602-954-1700; www.beckettstable.com; 3717 E Indian School Rd; mains $13-21; ☺ 5-10pm Tue-Sat, 5-9pm Sun) Enjoy a country supper in the village's most stylish barn, complete with concrete floor, trussed beams and wooden accents. The urban farm concept really shines as you savor chef Justin Beckett's locally sourced dishes, from tender pork osso bucco to short ribs with mashed potatoes. Don't miss the bacon cheddar biscuit with candied jalapeno apple butter. Dining solo? Join the conversation at the black-walnut communal table.

Durant's

STEAKHOUSE $$$

(☎ 602-264-5967; 2611 N Central Ave; lunch $10-30, dinner $20-50; ☺ 11am-4pm Mon-Fri, dinner daily) This dark and manly place is a gloriously old-school steakhouse. You will get steak. It will be big and juicy. There will be a potato. The ambience is awesome too: cozy red-velvet booths and the sense the Rat Pack is going to waltz in at any minute.

PHOENIX FOR CHILDREN

Wet 'n' Wild Phoenix (☎ 623-201-2000; www.wetwildphoenix.com; 4243 W Pinnacle Peak Rd, Glendale; over/under 42in tall $39/30, senior $30; ☺ 10am-6pm Sun-Wed, 10am-10pm Thu-Sat, varies May, Aug & Sep; 🚿) water park has pools, tube slides, wave pools, waterfalls and floating rivers. It's in Glendale, 2 miles west of I-17 at exit 217.

At the re-created 1880s frontier town Rawhide Western Town & Steakhouse (☎ 480-502-5600; www.rawhide.com; 5700 W N Loop Rd, Chandler; admission free, per attraction or show $5, unlimited day pass $15; ☺ 5-10pm Wed-Sun, varies seasonally; 🚿), about 20 miles south of Mesa, kids can enjoy all sorts of hokey-but-fun shenanigans. The steakhouse has rattlesnake for adventurous eaters.

Arizona Science Center (☎ 602-716-2000; www.azscience.org; 600 E Washington St; adult/child 3-17 yr/Senior $15/11/13; ☺ 10am-5pm; 🚿) is a high-tech temple of discovery; there are more than 300 hands-on exhibits and a planetarium.

 Scottsdale*Sugar Bowl

ICE CREAM $

(☎ 480-946-0051; www.sugarbowlscottsdale.com; 4005 N Scottsdale Rd; ice cream $2.25-9, mains $6-12; ☺ 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, 11am-midnight Fri & Sat; 🚿) This pink-and-white Valley institution has been working its ice-cream magic since the '50s. For more substantial fare, there's a whole menu of sandwiches and salads.

The Mission

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 480-636-5005; www.themissionaz.com; 3815 N Brown Ave; lunch $9-12, dinner $12-32; ☺ 11am-3pm & 5-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) With its dark interior, glowing votives and religious icons, this nuevo Latin spot looks very 15th-century, but sunny patios with orange umbrellas keep the vibe light. For a satisfying lunch, try the steak taco with green chile salsa, avocado and tecate-marinated beef. The guacamole is made table-side. Margaritas and mojitos round out the fun.

Herb Box

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 480-289-6160; www.theherbbox.com; 7134 E Stetson Dr; lunch $10-19, dinner $15-28; ☺ lunch daily, dinner Tue-Sat) It's not just about sparkle and air kisses at this chichi bistro. It's also about fresh, regional ingredients, artful presentation and attentive service.

 Tempe*★ Essence

CAFE $

(☎ 480-966-2745; 825 W University Dr; breakfast $5-9, lunch $7.25-9; ☺ 7am-3pm Mon-Sat; 🚿) This breezy box of deliciousness serves egg dishes and French toast at breakfast, and salads, gourmet sandwiches and a few Mediterranean specialties at lunch. The iced caramel coffee and the macaroons make a nice mid-afternoon reward.

★ Kai Restaurant

NATIVE AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 602-225-0100; www.wildhorsepassresort.com; 5594 W Wild Horse Pass Blvd, Chandler; mains $44-54, tasting menus $135-$225; ☺ 5-9pm Tue-Thu, to 9:30pm-Fri & Sat) Simple ingredients from mainly Native American farms and ranches are turned into something extraordinary. Dinners are like fine tapestries with dishes – such as the pecan-crust Colorado lamb with native seeds mole – striking just the right balance between adventure and comfort. Dress nicely (no shorts or hats). It's at the Sheraton Wild Horse Pass Resort & Spa on the Gila River Indian Reservation. Kai closes for one month in August.

Drinking

Scottsdale has the greatest concentration of trendy bars and clubs; Tempe attracts the student crowd.

★ Postino Winecafé Arcadia WINE BAR

(www.postinowinecafe.com; 3939 E Campbell Ave, at 40th St, Phoenix; ☎ 11am-11pm Mon-Thu, 11am-midnight Fri, 9am-midnight Sat, 9am-10pm Sun) This convivial, indoor-outdoor wine bar is a perfect gathering spot for a few friends ready to enjoy the good life, but solos will do fine too. Highlights include the misting patio, rave-inducing bruschetta and $5 wines by the glass from 11am to 5pm.

Edge Bar BAR

(5700 E McDonald Dr, Sanctuary on Camelback Mountain, Paradise Valley) Enjoy a sunset 'on the edge' at this stylish cocktail bar perched on the side of Camelback Mountain at the Sanctuary resort. No room outside? The equally posh, big-windowed Jade Bar should do just fine. Complimentary valet.

Four Peaks Brewing Company BREWERY

(☎ 480-303-9967; www.fourpeaks.com; 1340 E 8th St, Tempe; ☎ 11am-2am Mon-Sat, 10am-2am Sun) So this is where everybody is. Beer-lovers are in for a treat at this quintessential neighborhood brewpub in a cool Mission Revival-style building.

Rusty Spur Saloon BAR

(☎ 480-425-7787; www.rustyspursaloon.com; 7245 E Main St, Scottsdale; ☎ 10am-1am Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat) Nobody's putting on airs at this fun-lovin', pack-'em-in-tight country bar where the grizzled Budweiser crowd gathers for cheap drinks and twangy country bands; check the website to see who's playing. It's in an old bank building that closed during the Depression.

★ Entertainment

The Phoenix Symphony Orchestra (☎ administration 602-495-1117, box office 602-495-1999; www.phoenixsymphony.org; 75 N 2nd St, box offices 1 N 1st St, 75 N 2nd St) performs at Symphony Hall (75 N 2nd St). In 2013, the Arizona Opera (☎ 602-266-7464; www.azopera.com; 1636 N Central Ave) moved into a new opera hall across the street from the Phoenix Art Museum wnba.com/mercury; 201 E Jefferson St, Phoenix), play at the US Airways Center. The Arizona Cardinals (☎ 602-379-0101; www.azcardinals.com; 1 Cardinals Dr, Glendale) football team plays in Glendale at the new University of Phoenix Stadium, which will host the Super Bowl in 2015. The Arizona Diamondbacks (☎ 602-462-6500; www.arizona.diamondbacks.mlb.com; 401 E Jefferson St, Phoenix) play baseball at Chase Field.

The men's basketball team, the Phoenix Suns (☎ 602-379-7900; www.nba.com/suns; 201 E Jefferson St, Phoenix), and the women's team, the Phoenix Mercury (☎ 602-252-9622; www.

Rhythm Room LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 602-265-4842; www.rhythmroom.com; 1019 E Indian School Rd, Phoenix; ☎ doors usually open 7:30pm) Some of the Valley's best live acts take the stage at this small venue, where you pretty much feel like you're in the front row of every gig. It tends to attract more local and regional talent than the big names, which suits us just fine.

Char's Has the Blues BLUES

(☎ 602-230-0205; www.charshastheblues.com; 4631 N 7th Ave, Phoenix; Mon-Wed no cover, Thu & Sun $3, Fri & Sat $7; ☎ 8pm-1am Sun-Wed, 7:30pm-1am Thu-Sat) Dark and intimate, but very welcoming, this blues and R & B cottage packs 'em in with solid acts most nights of the week, but somehow still manages to feel like a well-kept secret.

BS West GAY

(☎ 480-945-9028; www.bswest.com; 7125 E 5th Ave, Scottsdale; ☎ 2pm-2am) A high-energy gay video bar and dance club in the Old Town Scottsdale area. This place has go-go dancers and hosts karaoke on Sundays.

Shopping

The valley has several notable shopping malls. For more upscale shopping, visit the Scottsdale Fashion Square (www.fashion-square.com; 7014 E Camelback, at Scottsdale Rd, Scottsdale; ☎ 10am-9pm Mon-Sat, 11am-6pm Sun) and the even more exclusive Biltmore Fashion Park (www.shopbiltmore.com; 2502 E Camelback Rd, at 24th St, Phoenix; ☎ 10am-8pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun). In northern Scottsdale, the outdoor Kierland Commons (www.kierland-commons.com; 15205 N Kierland Blvd, Scottsdale; ☎ 10am-8pm Mon-Thu, 10am-9pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun) pulls in the crowds.

Heard Museum Shop & Bookstore ARTS & CRAFTS

(www.heardmuseumshop.com; 2301 N Central Ave, Phoenix; ☎ shop 9:30am-5pm, from 11am Sun, bookstore 9:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun) Has a range of books about Native Americans, and a reliable and expansive selection of Native American arts and crafts, including jewelry and kachina dolls.

i Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Banner Good Samaritan Medical Center (☎ 602-839-2000; www.bannerhealth.com; 1111 E McDowell Rd, Phoenix) Has a 24-hour emergency room.

Police (☎ 602-262-6151; http://phoenix.gov/police; 620 W Washington St, Phoenix)

INTERNET RESOURCES & MEDIA

Arizona Republic (www.azcentral.com) Arizona's largest newspaper; publishes a free entertainment guide, Calendar, every Thursday.

Burton Barr Central Library (☎ 602-262-4636; www.phoenixpubliclibrary.org; 1221 N Central Ave, Phoenix; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon, Fri & Sat, 9am-9pm Tue-Thu, 1-5pm Sun; ♿) Free internet access.

KJZZ 91.5 FM (http://kjzz.org) National Public Radio (NPR).

Phoenix New Times (www.phoenixnewtimes.com) The major free weekly; lots of event and restaurant listings.

POST

Downtown Post Office (☎ 602-253-9648; 522 N Central Ave, Phoenix; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Downtown Phoenix Visitor Information Center (☎ 877-225-5749; www.visitphoenix.com; 125 N 2nd St, Suite 120; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) The Valley's most complete source of tourist information.

Mesa Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 800-283-6372, 480-827-4700; www.visitmesa.com; 120 N Center St, Mesa; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri)

Scottsdale Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 800-782-1117, 480-421-1004; www.experiencescottsdale.com; 4343 N Scottsdale Rd, Suite 170; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) Inside the Galleria Corporate Center. Very helpful staff. Pick up the free Desert Discovery Guide for a good list of area trails.

Tempe Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 866-914-1052, 480-894-8158; www.tempetourism.com; 51 W 3rd St, Suite 105; ☀ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri)

i Getting There & Around

Sky Harbor International Airport (☎ 602-273-3300; http://skyharbor.com; 3400 E Sky Harbor Blvd; ♿) is 3 miles southeast of downtown Phoenix and served by 17 airlines, including United, American, Delta and British Airways. Its three terminals (Terminals 2, 3 and 4; Terminal 1 was demolished in 1990) and the parking lots are linked by the free 24-hour Airport Shuttle Bus. The free Phoenix Sky Train, which began operating in 2013, currently runs between the economy parking lot, Terminal 4 and the METRO light-rail station at 44th St and E Washington St.

Greyhound (☎ 602-389-4200; www.greyhound.com; 2115 E Buckeye Rd) runs buses to Tucson ($21 to $23, two hours, eight daily), Flagstaff ($38, three hours, five daily), Albuquerque

VERDE VALLEY WINE TRAIL

Vineyards, wineries and tasting rooms have opened their doors along Hwy 89A and I-17, bringing a dash of style and energy to Cottonwood, Jerome and Cornville.

In Cottonwood, you can float to Verde River—adjacent Alcantara Vineyards (www.alcantaravineyard.com; 3445 S Grapevine Way) then stroll through Old Town where two new tasting rooms, Arizona Stronghold (www.azstronghold.com; 1023 N Main St; tastings $9; ☀ noon-7pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat) and Pillsbury Wine Company (www.pillsburywine.com; 1012 N Main St; ☀ 11am-6pm Sun-Thu, 11am-8pm Fri), sit across from each other on Main St. Art, views and wine-sipping converge in Jerome, where there's a tasting room on every level of town, starting with Cellar 433 (www.bittercreekwinery.com; 240 Hull Ave; ☀ 11am-5pm Mon-Wed, 11am-6pm Thu-Sun) near the chamber of commerce visitor center. From there, stroll up to Caduceus Cellars (www.caduceus.org; 158 Main St; ☀ 11am-6pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Sun) then end with a final climb to Jerome Winery (☎ 928-639-9067; 403 Clark St; ☀ 11am-5pm Mon-Thu, 11am-8pm Sat, 11am-4pm Sun Jun-Aug, shorter hours Sep-May) with its inviting patio.

Three wineries with tasting rooms hug a short stretch of Page Springs Rd east of Cornville: bistro-housing Page Springs Cellars (www.pagespringscellars.com; 1500 N Page Springs Rd; wine tasting $10; ☀ 11am-7pm Mon-Wed, to 9pm Thu-Sun), welcoming Oak Creek Vineyards (www.oakcreekvineyards.net; 1555 N Page Springs Rd; wine tasting $5; ☀ 10am-6pm) and mellow-rock-playing Javelina Leap Vineyard (www.javelinaleapwinery.com; 1565 Page Springs Rd; wine tasting $8; ☀ 11am-5pm).

($78 to $85, 10 to 12½ hours, seven daily) and Los Angeles ($38, seven to eight hours, eight daily). Valley Metro's No 13 buses link the airport and the Greyhound station.

Valley Metro (📍 602-253-5000; www.valley-metro.org; tickets $2) operates buses all over the Valley and a 20-mile light-rail line linking north Phoenix with downtown Phoenix, Tempe/ASU and downtown Mesa. Fares for light-rail and bus are $2 per ride (no transfers) or $4 for a day pass. Buses run daily at intermittent times. FLASH buses (www.tempe.gov) operate daily around ASU and downtown Tempe, while the Scottsdale Trolley (www.scottsdaleaz.gov/trolley; 🕒 11am-6pm Fri-Wed, to 9pm Thu during Artwalk) loops around downtown Scottsdale, both at no charge.

Flagstaff

Flagstaff's laid-back charms are myriad, from its pedestrian-friendly historic downtown crammed with eclectic vernacular architecture and vintage neon to its high-altitude pursuits such as skiing and hiking. Locals are generally a happy, athletic bunch, skewing more toward granola than gunslinger. Northern Arizona University (NAU) gives Flagstaff its college-town flavor, while its railroad history still figures firmly in the town's identity. Throw in a healthy appreciation for craft beer, freshly roasted coffee beans and an all-round good time and you have the makings of a town you want to slow down and savor.

👁 Sights

With its cultural sites, historic downtown and access to outdoorsy pursuits, it's easy to fall for Flagstaff. Pick up walking-tour maps for Route 66 and haunted buildings at the visitor center.

Museum of Northern Arizona MUSEUM
(📍 928-774-5213; www.musnaz.org; 3101 N Fort Valley Rd; adult/child/senior $10/6/9; 🕒 9am-5pm) For a helpful primer about the region, stop here. Three miles north of downtown, the museum spotlights local geology, biology and arts as well as Native American anthropology, with exhibits spotlighting archaeology, history and customs of local tribes.

Lowell Observatory OBSERVATORY
(📍 928-233-3212; www.lowell.edu; 1400 W Mars Hill Rd; adult/child $12/5; 🕒 9am-10pm Jun-Aug, shorter hour Sep-May) This observatory witnessed the first sighting of Pluto in 1920. Weather permitting, there's nightly stargazing, helped by the fact that Flagstaff is the first International Dark Sky city in the world. Day tours are offered from 1pm to 4pm.

Walnut Canyon National Monument CANYON
(📍 928-526-3367; www.nps.gov/waca; 7-day admission adult/child $5/free; 🕒 8am-5pm May-Oct, 9am-5pm Nov-Apr) Sinagua cliff dwellings are set in the nearly vertical walls of a small limestone butte amid a forested canyon at this worth-a-trip monument. A short hiking trail descends past many cliff-dwelling rooms. The monument is 11 miles southeast of Flagstaff, off I-40 exit 204.

🚶 Activities

Alpine Pedaler CYCLING
(📍 928-213-9233; www.alpinepedaler.com; per person $25) Hop on the bus – or should we say communal bicycle – to pedal to downtown bars. This 15-seater makes pub crawling a whole lot easier. Tours are two hours.

Humphreys Peak HIKING
The state's highest mountain (12,663ft) is a reasonably straightforward, though strenuous, hike in summer. The trail, which begins in the Arizona Snowbowl, winds through forest, eventually coming out above the beautifully barren tree line. The distance is 4.5 miles one-way; allow six to eight hours round-trip.

Arizona Snowbowl SKIING
(📍 928-779-1951; www.arizonasnowbowl.com; Hwy 180 & Snowbowl Rd; lift ticket adult/child $55/15; 🕒 9am-4pm) Six lifts service 40 runs and a snowboarding park at elevations between 9200ft and 11,500ft. You can ride the chairlift (adult/child $15/10) in summer.

🛏 Sleeping

Flagstaff provides the widest variety of lodging choices in the region. Unlike in southern Arizona, summer is high season here.

Grand Canyon International Hostel HOSTEL $
(📍 928-779-9421; www.grandcanyonhostel.com; 19½ S San Francisco St; dm $22-24, r without bath room $44-56, both incl breakfast; 🍷🍺📺) A site along Flagstaff's Route 66 walking tour, this historic property now holds a hostel. Run by friendly people, dorms are clean and small. There's a kitchen, laundry facilities and tours to the Grand Canyon and Sedona. It's one block from the Amtrak station, and guests are fetched from the Greyhound bus for free. This hostel gets more traffic than sister-property Dubeau Hostel.

Dubeau Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎928-774-6731; www.grandcanyonhostel.com; 19 W Phoenix St; dm $22-24, r $48-68, both incl breakfast; P ♻️ @ ☺) Run by the Grand Canyon International Hostel folks. The private rooms are like basic hotel rooms, with refrigerators and bathrooms with showers, but at half the price. The quieter of the two hostels.

Hotel Monte Vista

HOTEL $$

(☎928-779-6971; www.hotelmontevista.com; 100 N San Francisco St; d $65-110, ste $120-140; ☺) Feather lampshades, vintage furniture, bold colors and old-fashioned layouts – things are historically frisky in the 50 rooms and suites here, which are named for the film stars who slept in them. Ask for a quiet room if you're opposed to the live music that may drift up from Monte Vista Lounge. For the supernaturally curious, there's a ghost information sheet at the front desk.

Drury Inn & Suites

HOTEL $$

(☎928-773-4900; www.druryhotels.com; 300 S Milton Rd; r incl breakfast $155-165, ste $200; P ♻️ @ ☺ ☻ ☼) The stone columns in the lobby set an adventurous mood at this six-story, LEED-certified property, but the deal clincher is the hearty Kickback happy hour which serves up complimentary beer and wine (with a limit) and a hearty spread of appetizers. The free breakfast is also filling. All rooms have a microwave and refrigerator. Pets are $10 per day.

Eating

Wander around downtown and you'll stumble on plenty of eating options.

Diablo Burger

BURGERS $

(www.diabloburger.com; 120 N Leroux St; mains $10-13.25; ☺ 11am-9pm Mon-Wed, 11am-10pm Thu-Sat) The cheddar-topped Blake at this gourmet burger joint gives a nod to New Mexico with Hatch chile mayo and roasted green chilies. Diablo uses locally sourced, antibiotic-free beef and fresh cut, deep-fried fries with dipping sauce. The place is tiny, four tables inside and a few bar seats (serves wine and beer), so come early.

Beaver Street Brewery

BREW PUB $$

(www.beaverstreetbrewery.com; 11 S Beaver St; lunch $8-13, dinner $10-20; ☺ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ♻️) This bustling brewpub does bar food right, offering delicious pizzas, burgers and salads. It usually has five hand-made beers on tap and some seasonal brews. Surprisingly, it's very family friendly.

Criollo Latin Kitchen

FUSION $$

(☎928-774-0541; www.criollolatinkitchen.com; 16 N San Francisco St; lunch $8-17, dinner $10-22, brunch $8-10; ☺ 11am-9pm Mon-Thu, 11am-10pm Fri, 9am-10pm Sat, 9am-9pm Sun) This Latin fusion spot has a romantic, industrial setting for cozy cocktail dates and delectable late-night small plates. The blue-corn blueberry pancakes make a strong argument for showing up for Sunday brunch. Food is sourced locally and sustainable when possible.

Drinking & Entertainment

Follow the 1-mile Flagstaff Ale Trail (www.flagstaffaletrail.com) to sample craft beer at downtown breweries and a pub or two.

★ Museum Club

BAR

(☎928-526-9434; www.themuseumclub.com; 3404 E Rte 66; ☺ 11am-2am) This honky-tonk roadhouse has been kickin' up its boot heels since 1936. Inside what looks like a huge log cabin you'll find a large wooden dance floor, animals mounted on the walls and a sumptuous elixir-filled mahogany bar. The origins of its name? In 1931 it housed a taxidermy museum.

Macy's

CAFE

(www.macyscoffee.net; 14 S Beaver St; mains under $8; ☺ 6am-8pm; ☺) Macy's delicious house-roasted coffee has kept Flagstaff buzzing for over 30 years. Tasty vegetarian menu includes many vegan choices, with traditional cafe grub.

Cuvee 928

WINE BAR

(☎928-214-9463; www.cuvee928winebar.com; 6 E Aspen Ave; ☺ 11:30am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, 10am-3pm Sun) With a central location on Heritage Sq, and patio seating, this wine bar is a pleasant venue for people-watching.

Charly's Pub & Grill

LIVE MUSIC

(☎928-779-1919; www.weatherfordhotel.com; 23 N Leroux St; ☺ 8am-10pm) This restaurant at the Weatherford Hotel has live music on the weekends. Its fireplace and brick walls provide a cozy setting for the blues, jazz and folk played here. Upstairs, stroll the wraparound verandah outside the popular 3rd-floor Zane Grey Ballroom.

i Information

Visitor Center (📞 800-842-7293, 928-774-9541; www.flagstaffarizona.org; 1 E Rte 66; ☀️ 8am-5pm Mon-Sat, 9am-4pm Sun) Inside the historic Amtrak train station.

i Getting There & Around

Flagstaff Pulliam Airport is 4 miles south of town off I-17. US Airways (📞 800-428-4322; www.usairways.com) offers several daily flights between Pulliam Airport and Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport. Greyhound (📞 800-231-2222, 928-774-4573; www.greyhound.com; 880 E Butler Ave) stops in Flagstaff en route to/ from Albuquerque, Las Vegas, Los Angeles and Phoenix. Arizona Shuttle (📞 800-888-2749, 928-226-8060; www.arizonashuttle.com) has shuttles that run to the park (one-way $29), Sedona (one-way $25) and Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport (one-way $45).

Operated by Amtrak (📞 800-872-7245, 928-774-8679; www.amtrak.com; 1 E Rte 66; ☀️ 3am-10:45pm), the Southwest Chief stops at Flagstaff on its daily run between Chicago and Los Angeles.

Central Arizona

This part of Arizona draws people year-round for outdoor fun and is an oasis for summer visitors searching for cooler climes. After Phoenix, the land gains elevation, turning from high rolling desert to jagged hills covered in scrubby trees. Farther north still, mountains punctuate thick stands of pine.

Williams

Affable Williams, 60 miles south of Grand Canyon Village and 35 miles west of Flagstaff, is a gateway town with character. Classic motels and diners line Route 66, and the old-school homes and train station give a nod to simpler times.

Most tourists visit to ride the turn-of-the-19th-century Grand Canyon Railway (📞 800-843-8724, 928-635-4253; www.thetrain.com; Railway Depot, 233 N Grand Canyon Blvd; round trip adult/child from $75/45; 🚿) to the South Rim; departs Williams 9:30am, returns at 5:45pm. Even if you're not a train buff, a trip is a scenic stress-free way to visit the Grand Canyon. Characters in period costumes provide historical and regional narration, and banjo folk music sets the tone. There's also a wildly popular Polar Express service (adult/child from $32/18) from November through early January, ferrying pajama-clad kids to

ARIZONA'S QUIRKIEST SLEEPS

- ➔ Wigwam Motel (p838) Concrete teepee.
- ➔ Bisbee Grand Hotel (p856) Covered wagon.
- ➔ Red Garter Bed & Bakery (p837) An 1897 bordello.
- ➔ Jerome Grand Hotel (p840) Former mining hospital.
- ➔ Shady Dell RV Park (p856) Retro Airstream.
- ➔ Canyon Motel & RV Park (p837) Santa Fe train caboose.
- ➔ Grand Canyon Caverns (p838) Underground cavern.

the 'North Pole' to visit Santa. Kids and preteens will most enjoy Bearizona (📞 928-635-2289; www.bearizona.com; 1500 E Rte 66; adult/child/under 4yr $20/10/free; ☀️ 8am-6pm Jun-mid-Aug, hours vary rest of year), an awesomely named drive-through wildlife park where visitors drive themselves past gray wolves, bison, bighorn sheep and black bears. Stop by the Fort Bearizona walking area for an up-close look at younger bears.

The Red Garter Bed & Bakery (📞 928-635-1484; www.redgarter.com; 137 W Railroad Ave; d $135-160; 🍳🍷) is an 1897 bordello turned B&B where the ladies used to hang out the windows to flag down customers. The four rooms have nice period touches and the downstairs bakery has good coffee. The funky little Grand Canyon Hotel (📞 928-635-1419; www.thegrandcanyonhotel.com; 145 W Rte 66; dm $40, r without bathroom $67, r with bathroom $74-125; ☀️ Mar-Nov; 🍳🍷🍷) has small themed rooms and a six-bed dorm room; no TVs. You can sleep inside a 1929 Santa Fe train caboose or a Pullman railcar at the Canyon Motel & RV Park (📞 928-635-9371; www.thecanyonmotel.com; 1900 E Rodeo Rd, Williams; RV sites $35-38, cottages $74-78, train cars $78-160; 🍳🍷🍷), just east of downtown.

Sedona

Nestled amid majestic red sandstone formations at the southern end of Oak Creek Canyon, Sedona attracts artists, spiritual seekers, hikers and cyclists, and day-trippers from Phoenix fleeing the oppressive heat. Many New Age types believe that this area is the center of vortexes that radiate the earth's power, and Sedona's combination of scenic beauty and mysticism draws throngs of tourists year-round. New Age businesses dot downtown, along with galleries and gourmet restaurants, while the surrounding canyons offer excellent hiking and mountain biking.

In the middle of town, the 'Y' is the landmark junction of Hwys 89A and 179. Businesses are spread along both roads.

Sights & Activities

New Agers believe Sedona's rocks, cliffs and rivers radiate Mother Earth's mojo. The world's four best-known vortexes are here: Bell Rock near Village of Oak Creek east of Hwy 179, Cathedral Rock near Red Rock Crossing, Airport Mesa along Airport Rd, and Boynton Canyon. Airport Rd is also a great location for watching the Technicolor sunsets.

Coconino National Forest PARK
Red Rock Visitor Contact Center; ☎928-203-7500; www.redrockcountry.org/recreation; 8375 Hwy 179; ☼8am-5pm) The best way to explore the area is by hiking, biking or horseback riding in the surrounding forest. Many day-use and parking areas require a Red Rock Pass ($5/15 per day/week), which can be purchased at most area stores and lodgings, and self-serve kiosks at popular sites.

For a map of local trails, download the Red Rock Country map (www.redrockcountry.org/maps/index.shtml) or pick up a free copy at the helpful USFS visitor center just south of the Village of Oak Creek.

The most scenic spots are along Hwy 89A north of Sedona, which snakes alongside Oak Creek through the heavily visited Oak Creek Canyon, and the drive between Sedona and the Village of Oak Creek to the south.

Chapel of the Holy Cross CHURCH
☎928-282-4069; www.chapeloftheholycross.com; 780 Chapel Rd; ☼9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun) FREE Situated between spectacular, statuesque red-rock columns 3 miles south of town, this modern, nondenominational chapel was built in 1956 by Marguerite Brunwig Staude in the tradition of Frank Lloyd Wright.

Slide Rock State Park PARK
☎928-282-3034; www.azstateparks.com/Parks/SLRO; 6871 N Hwy 89A; per car Memorial Day-Labor Day $20, Sep-May $10; ☼8am-7pm Memorial Day-Labor Day, 8am-5pm Sep-May) Swoosh down big rocks into cool creek water at Oak Creek Canyon's star attraction, or walk the hiking trails.

Pink Jeep Tours DRIVING TOUR
☎928-282-5000; www.pinkjeptours.com; 204 N Hwy 89A) Many companies offer 4WD tours,

ROADSIDE ATTRACTIONS ON ROUTE 66

Route 66 enthusiasts will find 400 miles of pavement stretching across Arizona, including the longest uninterrupted portion of old road left in the country, between Seligman and Topock. The Mother Road (www.azrt66.com) connects the dots between gun-slinging Oatman, Kingman's mining settlements, Williams' 1940s-vintage downtown, and Winslow's windblown streets, with plenty of kitschy sights, listed here from west to east, along the way.

Wild Burros of Oatman Mules beg for treats in the middle of the road.

Grand Canyon Caverns & Inn ☎928-422-3223; www.gccaverns.com; Route 66, Mile 115; 1hr tour adult/child $19/13, r $85, campsites $15-30; ☼8am-6pm May-Sep, 10am-4pm Oct-Apr) A guided tour 21 stories underground loops past mummified bobcats, civil-defense supplies and a $800 motel room.

Burma Shave signs Red-and-white ads from a bygone era between Grand Canyon Caverns and Seligman.

Seligman's Snow-Cap Drive In Prankish burger and ice-cream joint open since 1953.

Meteor Crater ☎928-289-5898; www.meteorcrater.com; adult/child/senior $16/8/15; ☼7am-7pm Jun-mid-Sep, 8am-5pm mid-Sep-May) A 550ft-deep pockmark that's nearly 1 mile across, near Flagstaff.

Wigwam Motel ☎928-524-3048; www.galerie-kokopelli.com/wigwam; 811 W Hopi Dr, Holbrook; r $56-62; ☼) Concrete wigwams with hickory logpole furniture in Holbrook.

but Pink Jeep Tours has a great reputation and a vast variety of outings.

Sedona Bike & Bean

MOUNTAIN BIKING

(☎) 928-284-0210; www.bike-bean.com; 75 Bell Rock Plaza; 2hr/half-/full day from $30/40/50) A mountain-bike rental place near trails for hiking, biking and vortex-gazing. Also serves coffee.

Sleeping

Sedona hosts many beautiful B&Bs, creek-side cabins, motels and full-service resorts.

Dispersed camping is not permitted in Red Rock Canyon. The USFS (☎) 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; campsites $18) runs campgrounds, none with hookups, along Hwy Alt 89 in Oak Creek Canyon. All are nestled in the woods just off the road. It costs $18 to camp, and you don't need a Red Rock Pass. Reservations are accepted for all campgrounds except Pine Flat East. Six miles north of town, Manzanita has 19 sites, showers and is open year-round; 11.5 miles north, Cave Springs has 78 sites, and showers; Pine Flat East and Pine Flat West, 12.5 miles north, together have 58 sites, with 18 reservable.

Star Motel

MOTEL $

(☎) 928-282-3641; www.starmotelsedona.com; 295 Jordan Rd; r $80-100) Low rates, warm hospitality and a prime uptown location are the big draw at the retro Star Motel. You won't find candy on your pillow, but the bed is clean, the shower strong and the refrigerator handy for chilling those sunset beers.

Cozy Cactus

B&B $$$

(☎) 928-284-0082; www.cozycactus.com; 80 Canyon Circle Dr; r incl breakfast $190-290; ☎ @ ☎) This five-room, recently revamped B&B is particularly well suited to adventure-loving types ready to enjoy the great outdoors. The Southwest-style abode bumps up against a National Forest trail and is just around the bend from cyclist-friendly Bell Rock Pathway.

Eating & Drinking

Coffee Pot Restaurant

BREAKFAST $

(☎) 928-282-6626; www.coffeepotsedona.com; 2050 W Hwy Alt 89; mains $6-14; ☎ 6am-2pm; ☎) The go-to breakfast and lunch joint for decades, it's always busy. Meals are reasonably priced and the selection is huge - 101 types of omelet, for a start.

Sedona Memories

DELI $

(☎) 928-282-0032; 321 Jordan Rd; sandwiches under $7; ☎ 10am-2pm Mon-Fri) This tiny local spot assembles gigantic sandwiches on slabs of homemade bread, with several vegetarian options. Cash only.

★ Elote Cafe

MEXICAN $$$

(☎) 928-203-0105; www.elotecafe.com; 771 Hwy 179, King's Ransom Hotel; mains $17-26; ☎ 5pm-late Tue-Sat) Arrive early for some of the best, most authentic Mexican food you'll find in the region, with unusual traditional dishes you won't find elsewhere, such as the fire-roasted corn with lime and cotija cheese, or tender, smoky pork cheeks. No reservations.

Oak Creek Brewery & Grill

PUB

(☎) 928-282-3300; www.oakcreekpub.com; 336 Hwy 179; beers $5.75; ☎ 11:30am-8:30pm; ☎) For an outdoor town, Sedona is surprisingly short on microbreweries. Fortunately, this spacious brewpub at Tlaquepaque Village will satisfy your post-hike drinking needs. The menu includes upmarket pub-style dishes. Oak Creek also runs a low-frills brewery (☎) 928-204-1300; www.oakcreekbrew.com; 2050 Yavapai Dr; ☎ 4-10pm Mon-Thu, noon-midnight Fri-Sun) in West Sedona; it's open later than the brewpub and has live music regularly.

Information

Sedona Chamber of Commerce Visitor

Center (☎) 800-288-7336, 928-282-7722; www.visitsedona.com; 331 Forest Rd, Uptown Sedona; ☎ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, 9am-3pm Sun) Has tourist information and last-minute hotel bookings.

Getting There & Around

The Sedona-Phoenix Shuttle (☎) 800-448-7988, 928-282-2066; www.sedona-phenix-shuttle.com; one-way/return $50/90) runs between Phoenix Sky Harbor International Airport and Sedona eight times daily. For Jeep rentals, try Barlow Jeep Rentals (☎) 800-928-5337, 928-282-8700; www.barlowjeeprentals.com; 3009 W Hwy 89A; ☎ 8am-6pm summer, 9am-5pm winter).

Jerome

The childhood game Chutes and Ladders comes to mind on a stroll up and down the stairways of Jerome, a historic mining town clinging to the side of Cleopatra Hill - not always successfully as evidenced by the crumbling Sliding Jail. Shabbily chic, this resurrected ghost town was known as the 'Wickedest Town in the West' during its late-1800s mining heyday, but today its historic buildings have been lovingly restored and turned into galleries, restaurants, B&Bs and wine-tasting rooms.

Feeling brave? Stand on the glass platform covering the 1910ft mining shaft at Audrey Headframe Park (55 Douglas Rd; ☉ 8am-5pm) FREE – it's longer than the Empire State Building by 650ft! Just ahead is the excellent Jerome State Historic Park (☎ 928-634-5381; www.azstateparks.com; adult/child $5/2; ☉ 8:30am-5pm), which preserves the 1916 mansion of mining mogul Jimmy 'Rawhide' Douglas and spotlights the town's mining past.

A community hospital during the town's mining years, the Jerome Grand Hotel (☎ 928-634-8200; www.jeromegrandhotel.com; 200 Hill St; r $120-205, ste $270-460; 🏠 🍷) plays up its past with hospital relics in the hallways and an entertaining ghost tour that kids will enjoy. Wi-fi is available in the lobby only. The adjoining Asylum Restaurant (☎ 928-639-3197; www.theasylum.biz; 200 Hill St; lunch $10-16, dinner $20-32; ☉ 11am-9pm), with its valley and red-rock views, is a breathtaking spot for a fine meal and glass of wine. Downtown, the popular Spirit Room Bar (☎ 928-634-8809; www.spiritroom.com; 166 Main St; ☉ 10:30am-1am) is the town's liveliest watering hole. For wine drinkers, there are three tasting rooms just a few steps away.

Step into the Flatiron Café (☎ 928-634-2733; www.theflatironjerome.com; 416 Main St; breakfast $3-11, lunch $8-10; ☉ 8am-4pm Wed-Mon) at the Y intersection for a savory gourmet breakfast or lunch. Its specialty coffees are delicious.

The chamber of commerce (☎ 928-634-2900; www.jeromechamber.com; Hull Ave, Hwy 89A north after the Flatiron Café split; ☉ 10am-3pm), inside a small trailer, offers tourist information on the local attractions and art scene.

Prescott

With a historic Victorian-era downtown and a colorful Wild West history, Prescott feels like the Midwest meets cowboy country. Residents are a diverse mix of retirees, artists and families looking for a taste of yesteryear's wholesomeness. The town boasts more than 500 buildings on the National Register of Historic Places and is the home of the world's oldest rodeo. Along the plaza is Whiskey Row, an infamous strip of old saloons that still serve up their fair share of booze.

Just south of downtown, the fun-loving Motor Lodge (☎ 928-717-0157; www.themotorlodge.com; 503 S Montezuma St; r $99-119, ste $149, apt $159; 🏠 🍷) welcomes guests with 12 snazzy bungalows arranged around a central driveway – it's indie lodging at its best.

For breakfast, mosey into the friendly Lone Spur Café (☎ 928-445-8202; www.the-onespur.com; 106 W Gurley St; breakfast & lunch $8-17, dinner $14-24; ☉ 8am-2pm daily, 4:30-8pm Fri), where you always order your breakfast with a biscuit and a side of sausage gravy. Portions are huge, and there are three bottles of hot sauce on every table. Cajun and Southwest specialties spice up the menu at welcoming Iron Springs Cafe (☎ 928-443-8848; www.ironspringscafe.com; 1501 Iron Springs Rd; brunch $10-13, lunch $10-15, dinner $10-21; ☉ 8am-8pm Wed-Sat, 9am-2pm Sun), which sits inside an old train station 3 miles northwest of downtown.

On Whiskey Row, the Palace (☎ 928-541-1996; www.historicpalace.com; 120 S Montezuma St; lunch $9-12, dinner $16-27; ☉ lunch & dinner, bar opens at 11am) is an atmospheric place to drink; you enter through swinging saloon doors into a big room anchored by a Brunswick bar (saved during a 1900 fire).

The chamber of commerce (☎ 800-266-7534, 928-445-2000; www.visit-prescott.com; 117 W Goodwin St; ☉ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm Sat & Sun) has tourist information, including a handy walking tour pamphlet ($1) of historical Prescott.

Prescott Transit Authority (☎ 928-445-5470; www.prescotttransit.com; 820 E Sheldon St) runs buses to/from Phoenix airport (one-way adult/child $30/17, two hours, eight daily). Also offers a local taxi service.

Grand Canyon National Park

Mather Point, near the park's southern entrance, is usually packed elbow-to-elbow with a global array of photo-snapping tourists. But even with the crowds, there's a sense of communal wonder that keeps the scene polite. The sheer immensity of the canyon grabs you first, followed by the dramatic layers of rock, which pull you in for a closer look. Next up are the artistic details – rugged plateaus, crumbly spires, maroon ridges – that flirt and catch your eye as shadows flicker across the rock.

Snaking along its floor are 277 miles of the Colorado River, which has carved the canyon over the past six million years and exposed rocks up to two billion years old – half the age of the earth.

The two rims of the Grand Canyon offer quite different experiences; they lie more than 200 miles apart by road and are rarely visited on the same trip. Most visitors choose the South Rim with its easy access, wealth of services and vistas that don't disappoint. The quieter North Rim has its own charms; at 8200ft elevation (1000ft higher than the South Rim), its cooler temperatures support wildflower meadows and tall, thick stands of aspen and spruce.

June is the driest month, July and August the wettest. January has average overnight lows of 13°F (-11°C) to 20°F (-7°C) and daytime highs around 40°F (4°C). Summer temperatures inside the canyon regularly soar above 100°F (38°C). While the South Rim is open year-round, most visitors come between late May and early September. The North Rim is open from mid-May to mid-October.

i Information

The most developed area in the Grand Canyon National Park (📍 928-638-7888; www.nps.gov/grca; entrance ticket vehicles/cyclists & pedestrians $25/12) is Grand Canyon Village, 6 miles north of the South Rim Entrance Station. The North Rim has one entrance, which is 30 miles south of Jacob Lake on Hwy 67; continue another 14 miles south to the actual rim. The North Rim and South Rim are 215 miles apart by car, 21 miles on foot through the canyon, or 10 miles as the condor flies.

The park entrance ticket is valid for seven days and can be used at both rims.

All overnight hikes and backcountry camping in the park require a permit. The Backcountry Information Center (📞 fax 928-638-2125 928-638-7875; 🕒 8am-noon & 1-5pm, phone staffed 1-5pm Mon-Fri) accepts applications for back-packing permits ($10, plus $5 per person per night) starting four months before the proposed month. Your chances are decent if you apply early (four months in advance for spring and fall) and provide alternative hiking itineraries. Reservations are accepted in person or by mail or fax. For more information see www.nps.gov/grca/planyourvisit/backcountry-permit.htm.

If you arrive without a permit, head to the backcountry office, by Maswik Lodge, to join the waiting list.

As a conservation measure, note that the park no longer sells bottled water. Instead, fill your thermos at water filling stations along the rim or at Canyon View Marketplace. Water bottles constituted 20% of the waste generated in the park.

VISITOR CENTERS

In addition to the visitor centers listed below, information is available inside the park at Yavapai Museum of Geology (🕒 8am-7pm Mar-Nov, to 6pm Dec-Feb), Verkamp's Visitor Center (🕒 8am-7pm Mar-Nov, to 6pm Dec-Feb), Kolb Studio (📍 928-638-2771; Grand Canyon Village; 🕒 8am-7pm Mar-Nov, to 6pm Dec-Feb), Tusayan Ruin & Museum (📍 928-638-2305; 🕒 9am-5pm) and Desert View Information Center (📍 928-638-7893; 🕒 9am-5pm).

Grand Canyon Visitor Center (www.nps.gov/grca; South Rim; 🕒 8am-5pm Mar-Nov, from 9am Dec-Feb) Three hundred yards behind Mather Point, a large plaza holds the visitor center and the Books & More Store. Outdoor bulletin boards display information about trails, tours, ranger programs and the weather. The center's bright, spacious interior includes a ranger-staffed information desk, a theater and a lecture hall, where rangers offer daily talks.

National Geographic Visitor Center (📍 928-638-2468; www.explorethecanyon.com; 450 Hwy 64, Tusayan; adult/child $14/11; 🕒 8am-10pm Mar-Oct, 10am-8pm Nov-Feb) In Tusayan, 7 miles south of Grand Canyon Village; pay your $25 vehicle entrance fee here and spare yourself a potentially long wait at the park entrance, especially in summer. The IMAX theater screens the terrific 34-minute film Grand Canyon – The Hidden Secrets.

The North Rim Visitor Center (p846) is adjacent to the Grand Canyon Lodge, with maps, books, trail guides and current conditions.

South Rim

To escape the throngs, visit during fall or winter, especially on weekdays. You'll also gain some solitude by walking a short distance away from the viewpoints on the Rim Trail or by heading into the canyon itself.

👁 Sights & Activities

Driving & Hiking

A scenic route follows the rim on the west side of Grand Canyon Village along Hermit Rd. Closed to private vehicles March through November, the 7-mile road is serviced by the free park shuttle bus; cycling is encouraged because of the relatively light traffic. Stops offer spectacular views, and interpretive signs explain canyon features.

Hiking along the South Rim is among park visitors' favorite pastimes, with options

Grand Canyon National Park

0 25 miles
0 50 km

for every skill level. The Rim Trail is the most popular, and easiest, walk in the park. It dips in and out of the scrubby pines of Kaibab National Forest and connects a series of scenic points and historical sights over 13 miles. Portions are paved, and every viewpoint is accessed by one of the three shuttle routes. The new Trail of Time exhibit borders the Rim Trail just west of Yavapai Geology Museum. Here, every meter along the trail represents one million years of geologic history, with exhibits providing the details.

Desert View Drive starts to the east of Grand Canyon Village and follows the canyon rim for 26 miles to Desert View, the east entrance of the park. Pullouts offer spectacular views, and interpretive signs explain canyon features and geology.

The most popular of the corridor trails is the beautiful Bright Angel Trail. The steep and scenic 8-mile descent to the Colorado River is punctuated with four logical turnaround spots. Summer heat can be crippling; day hikers should either turn around at one of the two resthouses (a 3- to 6-mile round-trip) or hit the trail at dawn to safely make the longer hikes to Indian Garden and Plateau Point (9.2 and 12.2 miles round-trip respectively). Hiking to the river in one day should not be attempted. In 2013 the park spruced up the Bright Angel Trailhead by adding a shaded plaza, new restrooms and a stone trailhead marker. These improvements are just west of Bright Angel Lodge.

The South Kaibab is arguably one of the park's prettiest trails, combining stunning scenery and unobstructed 360-degree views with every step. Steep, rough and wholly exposed, summer ascents can be dangerous, and during this season rangers discourage all but the shortest day hikes – otherwise it's a grueling 12.6-mile round-trip to the river and back. Turn around at Cedar Ridge, (about 3 miles round-trip), perhaps the park's finest short day hike.

Individuals and groups who prefer a more in-depth experience while giving something back can apply for various programs with Grand Canyon Volunteers (☎ 928-774-7488; www.gcvolunteers.org). Multiday regional programs include habitat assessments, wildlife monitoring and botany training.

Cycling

Bright Angel Bicycles

BICYCLE RENTAL

(☎ 928-638-3055; www.bikegrandcanyon.com; 10 S Entrance Rd, Grand Canyon Visitor Center; full-day adult/child $40/30; ☀ 8am-6pm May-Oct, 10am-4pm Nov, Mar-Apr & Oct) Renting 'comfort cruiser' bikes, the friendly folks here custom-fit each bike to the individual. Rate includes helmet. Also rents wheelchairs ($10 per day).

👉 Tours

Xanterra

(☎ 303-297-2757, 888-297-2757; www.grandcanyonlodges.com) Park tours are run by Xanterra, which has information desks at Bright Angel (p844), Maswik (p844) and Yavapai (p844) lodges. Various daily bus tours (tickets from $22) are offered.

Due to erosion concerns, half-day mule rides into the canyon from the South Rim are not offered and the NP has limited inner-canyon mule rides to those traveling all the way to Phantom Ranch. Rather than going below the rim, three-hour day trips ($123) now take riders along the rim, through the ponderosa, piñon and juniper forest to the Abyss overlook. Overnight trips (one/two people $507/895, year-round) and two-night trips (one/two people $714/1192, November to March) follow the Bright Angel Trail to the river, travel east on the River Trail and cross the river on the Kaibab Suspension Bridge. Riders spend the night at Phantom Ranch.

If you arrive at the park and want to join a mule trip the following day, ask about availability at the transportation desk at Bright Angel Lodge.

🛏 Sleeping

Advance or same-day reservations are required for the South Rim's six lodges, which are operated by Xanterra (☎ 888-297-2757, 303-297-2757; www.grandcanyonlodges.com). Use this phone number to make advance reservations (highly recommended) at any of the places (although its best to call Phantom Ranch directly) listed here. For same-day reservations or to reach a guest, call the South Rim switchboard (☎ 928-638-2631). If you can't find accommodations in the national park, try Tusayan (at South Rim Entrance Station), Valle (31 miles south), Cameron (53 miles east) or Williams (about 60 miles south).

All campgrounds and lodges are open year-round except Desert View.

Phantom Ranch

CABIN $

(☎ reservations 888-297-2727; dm $46, cabin $148; ☀ year-round; 🏠) It's not the Four Seasons, but this summer-campy complex has undeniable charm. Perched beside Phantom Creek at the bottom of the canyon, the ranch has basic cabins sleeping four to 10 people and segregated dorms. Call at the first of the month for reservations 13 months ahead. The canteen serves family-style meals (breakfast from $21, dinner $29 to $44). No overnight reservation? Stop by the Bright Angel Lodge transportation desk to get on the waiting list, then show up at the desk at 6:30am the following morning to try to snag any canceled bunks.

Desert View Campground CAMPGROUND $
(campsites $12; ☺ May-mid-Oct) Near the East Entrance Station, 26 miles east of Grand Canyon Village, this first-come, first-served campground is a quieter alternative to Mather. A small cafeteria/snack shop serves meals.

Mather Campground CAMPGROUND $
(☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; Grand Canyon Village; campsites $18; ☺ year-round) Well-dispersed, relatively peaceful sites amid pine and juniper trees. There are pay showers and laundry facilities nearby, drinking water, toilets, grills and a small general store. First-come, first-served during winter months.

Trailer Village CAMPGROUND $
(☎ 888-297-2757, same-day reservations 928-638-2631; www.xanterra.com; Grand Canyon Village; campsites $35; ☺ year-round) Camp here if everywhere else is full. You can reserve well in advance or same day. Managed by Xanterra.

Bright Angel Lodge LODGE $$
(www.grandcanyonlodges.com; Grand Canyon Village; r without/with bathroom $83/94, suites $185-362, cabins $120-340; ☺ year-round; ♿ @ ☺) The log-and-stone Bright Angel offers historic charm and refurbished rooms, the cheapest of which have shared bathrooms. Don't expect a TV in these very basic rooms (think university dorm room), but rim cabins have better views than TV.

Maswik Lodge LODGE $$
(Grand Canyon Village; r South/North $92/176, cabins $94; ☺ year-round; ♿ @ ☺) Set away from the rim, Maswik is comprised of 16 modern, two-story buildings. Rooms at Maswik North have private patios, air-con, cable TV and forest views; those at Maswik South are smaller with fewer amenities and more forgettable views. Cabins are available in summer only.

Kachina & Thunderbird Lodges LODGE $$
(Grand Canyon Village; r streetside/rimside $180/191; ☺ year-round; ♿) Decent motel-style rooms in a central location. Some have canyon views.

Yavapai Lodge LODGE $$
(Grand Canyon Village; r West/East $125/166; ☺ Apr-Oct; ♿ @ ☺) Basic lodging amid peaceful piñon and juniper forest. No air-conditioning in Yavapai West.

★ El Tovar Hotel LODGE $$$
(Grand Canyon Village; r $183-281, ste $348-440; ♿ @) Open since 1905, this dark-timbered lodge encourages lingering, even if you're not a guest. Inviting porches wrap around the rambling structure and the lobby has plenty of comfy seats – better for gazing at the impressive collection of animal mounts. These public spaces show the lodgelike, genteel elegance of the park's heyday. The standard rooms are small but first-class. Suites are fantastic.

✂ Eating & Drinking

Maswik Cafeteria CAFETERIA $
(Maswik Lodge; mains $7-15; ☺ 6am-10pm) A cafeteria-style place.

Yavapai Cafeteria CAFETERIA $
(Yavapai Lodge; breakfast $6-10, lunch & dinner $5-11; ☺ 6:30am-8pm) Cafeteria food, service and seating.

Canyon Village Marketplace MARKET $
(Market Plaza; ☺ 8am-7pm) Stock up on groceries or hit the deli (8am to 6pm).

★ El Tovar Dining Room INTERNATIONAL $$$
(El Tovar; ☎ 928-638-2631, ext 6432; breakfast $9-13, lunch $10.25-16, dinner $17.25-33; ☺ 6:30-10:45am, 11:15am-2pm & 4:30-10pm) A stone's throw from the canyon's edge, it has the best views of any restaurant in the state, if not the country. The grand stone and dark-oak dining room warms the soul like an upscale lodge of yore, and the food, especially the steaks, makes the trip worthwhile. If you're not seated near a window, head to the verandah of the El Tovar Lounge afterward for a guaranteed Grand Canyon vista.

Arizona Room AMERICAN $$$
(Bright Angel Lodge; lunch $8-12, dinner $8-28; ☺ 11:30am-3pm Mar-Oct & 4:30-10pm Mar-Dec) ☞ Antler chandeliers hang from the ceiling and picture windows overlook the canyon. Mains include steak, chicken and fish dishes. No reservations; there's often a wait.

Bright Angel Bar

BAR

(Bright Angel Lodge; mains $4-9; ☺ 11:30am-10pm) Come here for your post-hike beer and burger. It's a fun place to relax at night when the lack of windows and dark decor aren't such a big deal. Some evenings there might be musical entertainment. The bar is beside the charmless Bright Angel Restaurant.

Getting There & Around

Most people arrive at the canyon in private vehicles or on a tour. Parking can be a chore in Grand Canyon Village. Under the Park-n-Ride program, summer visitors can buy a park ticket at the National Geographic Visitor Center, park their vehicle at a designated lot, then hop aboard a free park shuttle (☺ 8am-9:30pm mid-May-early Sep) that follows the Tusayan Route to the Grand Canyon Visitor Center inside the park. Park passes are also OK for this option. The trip takes 20 minutes, and the first bus departs from Tusayan at 8am. The last bus from the park leaves at 9:30pm.

Inside the park, free park shuttles operate along three routes: around Grand Canyon Village, west along Hermit's Rest Route and east along Kaibab Trail Route. Buses typically run at least twice per hour, from one hour before sunset to one hour afterward.

A free shuttle from Bright Angel Lodge during the summer months, the Hiker's Express (☺ 4am, 5am & 6am Jun-Aug, 5am, 6am & 7am May & Sep) has pickups at the Backcountry Information Center and Grand Canyon Visitor Center, and then heads to the South Kaibab trailhead.

North Rim

Head here for blessed solitude; of the park's 4.4 million annual visitors, only 400,000 make the trek to the North Rim. Meadows are thick with wildflowers and dense clusters of willow aspen and spruce trees, and the air is often crisp, the skies big and blue.

Facilities on the North Rim are closed from mid-October to mid-May, although you can drive into the park and stay at the campground until the first snow closes the road from Jacob Lake.

Call the North Rim Switchboard (☎ 928-638-2612) to reach facilities on the North Rim.

Sights & Activities

The short and easy paved trail (0.5 miles) to Bright Angel Point is a canyon must. Beginning from the back porch of Grand Canyon Lodge, it goes to a narrow finger of an overlook with fabulous views.

The North Kaibab Trail is the North Rim's only maintained rim-to-river trail and connects with trails to the South Rim. The first 4.7 miles are the steepest, dropping 3050ft to Roaring Springs – a popular all-day hike. If you prefer a shorter day hike below the rim, walk just 0.75 miles down to Coconino Overlook or 2 miles to the Supai Tunnel to get a taste of steep inner-canyon hiking. The 28-mile round-trip to the Colorado River is a multiday affair. For a ranger-recommended short hike that works well for families, try the 4-mile round-trip Cape Final trail, which leads through ponderosa pines to sweeping views of the eastern Grand Canyon area.

RAFTING THE COLORADO RIVER

A boat trip down the Colorado is an epic, adrenaline-pumping adventure. The biggest single drop at Lava Falls plummets 37ft in just 300yd. But the true highlight is experiencing the Grand Canyon by looking up, not down from the rim. Its human history comes alive in ruins, wrecks and rock art. Commercial trips run from three days to three weeks and vary in the type of watercraft used. At night you camp under stars on sandy beaches (gear provided). It takes about two or three weeks to run the entire 279 miles of river through the canyon. Shorter sections of around 100 miles take four to nine days. Space is limited and the trips are popular, so book as far in advance as possible – although you might luck out and find a last-minute bargain on a rafting company Facebook page.

Arizona Raft Adventures (☎ 800-786-7238, 928-526-8200; www.azraft.com; 6-day Upper Canyon hybrid trips/paddle trips $2025/2125, 10-day Full Canyon motor trips $2965)

Arizona River Runners (☎ 800-477-7238, 602-867-4866; www.raftarizona.com; 6-day Upper Canyon oar trip $1925, 8-day Full Canyon motor trip $2650)

Canyon Trail Rides (📞 435-679-8665; www.canyonrides.com; ☀️ mid-May–mid-Oct) offers one-hour ($40) and half-day ($80, minimum age 10 years) mule trips. Of the half-day trips, one is along the rim and the other drops into the Canyon on the North Kaibab Trail.

🛏 Sleeping

Accommodations are limited to one lodge and one campground. If these are booked, try your luck 80 miles north in Kanab, UT, or 84 miles northeast in Lees Ferry. There are also campgrounds in the Kaibab National Forest north of the park.

North Rim Campground CAMPGROUND $
(📞 928-638-7814, 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; tent sites $6-18, RV sites $18-25; ☀️ mid-May–Oct; 🏠) This campground, 1.5 miles north of Grand Canyon Lodge, offers pleasant sites on level ground blanketed in pine needles. There is water, a store, a snack bar and coin-operated showers and laundry facilities, but no hookups. Hikers and cross-country skiers can use the campground during winter months if they have a backcountry permit. Reservations accepted.

Grand Canyon Lodge LODGE $$
(📞 advance reservations 877-386-4383, reservations outside USA 480-337-1320, same-day reservations 928-638-2611; www.grandcanyonlodgenorth.com; r $124, 2-person cabins $124-192, extra guest over 15yr $10; ☀️ mid-May–mid-Oct; 🏠) Made of wood, stone and glass, the lodge enjoys a lofty perch beside the rim. Rustic yet modern cabins make up the majority of accommodations. The most expensive cabins offer two rooms, a porch and beautiful rim views. The canyon views from the Sun Room are stunning, the lobby regal. Reserve far in advance.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

The lodge will prepare sack lunches ($12), ready for pickup as early as 5:30am, for those wanting to picnic on the trail. Place your order the day before. For sandwiches, pizza and breakfast burritos, try Deli in the Pines (mains $4-8; ☀️ 7am-9pm mid-May–mid-Oct), also at the Lodge.

★ Grand Canyon Lodge Dining Room AMERICAN $$
(📞 928-638-2611, 928-645-6865 call Jan 1-Apr 15 for next season; www.grandcanyonlodgenorth.com; breakfast $7-12, lunch & dinner $12-30; ☀️ 6:30-10am, 11:30am-2:30pm & 4:45-9:45pm mid-May–mid-Oct) The windows are so huge that you can sit anywhere and get a good view. The menu includes rainbow trout, bison flank steak, several vegetarian dishes and Arizona-crafted microbrews. Dinner reservations are required. Next door is the atmospheric Rough Rider Saloon (snacks $2-5; ☀️ breakfast 5:30am-10:30am, drinks & snacks 11:30am-10:30pm), full of memorabilia from the country's most adventurous president. Come here for coffee, pastries and breakfast burritos in the morning and saloon drinks later in the day.

Grand Canyon Cookout Experience AMERICAN $$
(adult/child/child under 6yr $30/15/free; ☀️ 6:15pm Jun-Sep; 🏠) This chuck-wagon-style cookout featuring barbecue and cornbread is more of an event than a meal. Kids love it. Make arrangements at the Grand Canyon Lodge.

📍 Information

North Rim Visitor Center (📞 928-638-7864; www.nps.gov/grca; North Rim; ☀️ 8am-6pm mid-May–mid-Oct, 9am-4pm Oct 16-31) Sitting beside Grand Canyon Lodge, this is the place to get information about the park. It's also the starting point for ranger-led nature walks and evening programs.

📍 Getting There & Around

The Transcanyon Shuttle (📞 877-638-2820, 928-638-2820; www.trans-canyonshuttle.com; one-way/return $85/160; ☀️ May 15-Oct 31) departs daily from Grand Canyon Lodge for the South Rim (five hours) and is perfect for rim-to-rim hikers. Reserve at least one or two weeks in advance. A complimentary hikers' shuttle to the North Kaibab Trail departs at both 5:45am and 7:10am from Grand Canyon Lodge. You must sign up for it at the front desk 24 hours ahead; if no one signs up, it will not run.

Around the Grand Canyon

Havasu Canyon

In a hidden valley with stunning, spring-fed waterfalls and azure swimming holes, this is one of the most beautiful spots in the region. It's also hard to reach, but the hike down and back up is what makes the trip unique – and a bit of an adventure.

Located on the Havasupai Indian Reservation, Havasu Canyon is about 195 miles west of the South Rim. The four falls lie 10 miles below the rim, accessed via a moderately challenging hiking trail, and trips require an overnight stay in the nearby village of Supai.

Supai offers two sleeping options and reservations must be secured before starting out. There's a $35 entrance fee for all overnight guests. The Havasupai Campground (☎ 928-448-2180, 928-448-2141, 928-448-2121; www.havasupai.nsn.gov.tourism.html; Havasupai Tourist Enterprise, PO Box 160, Supai, AZ 86435; per night per person $17), 2 miles north of Supai, has primitive campsites along a creek. In addition, every camper must pay a $5 environmental fee. The Havasupai Lodge (☎ 928-448-2111; www.havasupai.nsn.gov.tourism.html; PO Box 159, Supai, AZ 86435; r $145; ☹) has motel rooms with canyon views but no phones or TVs. Check in by 5pm, when the lobby closes. A village cafe serves meals and accepts credit cards.

Continue through Havasu Canyon to the waterfalls and blue-green swimming holes. If you don't want to hike to Supai, call the lodge or campground to arrange for a mule or horse (round-trip to lodge/campground $135/197) to carry you there. Rides depart from Hualapai Hilltop, where the hiking trail begins. The road to Hualapai Hilltop is 7 miles east of Peach Springs off Route 66. Look for the marked turnoff and follow the road for 62 miles.

Grand Canyon West

Grand Canyon West is not part of Grand Canyon National Park, which is about 215 driving miles to the east. Run by the Hualapai Nation, the remote site is 70 miles north-east of Kingman, and the last 9 miles are unpaved and unsuitable for RVs.

Grand Canyon Skywalk

PARK
(☎ 928-769-2636; www.grandcanyonwest.com; per person $88; ☉ 7am-7pm Apr-Sep, 8am-5pm Oct-Mar) A slender see-through glass horseshoe levitates over a 4000ft chasm of the Grand Canyon. The only way to visit is to purchase a package tour. A hop-on, hop-off shuttle travels the loop road to scenic points along the rim. Tours can include lunch, horse-drawn wagon rides from an ersatz Western town, and informal Native American performances.

Northeastern Arizona

Between the brooding buttes of Monument Valley, the blue waters of Lake Powell and the fossilized logs of the Petrified Forest National Park are photogenic lands locked in ancient history. Inhabited by Native Americans for centuries, this region is largely made up of reservation land called Navajo Nation, which spills into surrounding states. The Hopi reservation is here as well, completely surrounded by Navajo land.

Lake Powell

The country's second-largest artificial reservoir and part of the Glen Canyon National Recreation Area (☎ 928-608-6200; www.nps.gov/glca; 7-day pass per vehicle $15), Lake Powell stretches between Utah and Arizona. Set amid striking red-rock formations, sharply cut canyon and dramatic desert scenery, it's water-sports heaven.

South of the lake and looking out over a pleasant stretch of the Colorado River is Lee's Ferry (www.nps.gov/glca; tent & RV sites $12), a very scenic stopover with first-come, first served camping.

HOPI NATION

Descendants of the Ancestral Puebloans, the Hopi are one of the most untouched tribes in the United States. Their village of Old Oraibi may be the oldest continuously inhabited settlement in North America.

Hopi land is surrounded by the Navajo Nation. Hwy 264 runs past the three mesas (First, Second and Third Mesa) that form the heart of the Hopi reservation. On Second Mesa, some 10 miles west of First Mesa, the Hopi Cultural Center Restaurant & Inn (☎ 928-734-2401; www.hopiculturalcenter.com; Hwy 264; r $95-110, breakfast $5-15, lunch $8-20, dinner $13-20; ☉ breakfast, lunch, dinner) is as visitor-oriented as things get on the Hopi reservation. It provides food and lodging, and there's the small Hopi Museum (☎ 928-734-6650; adult/child $3/1; ☉ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-3pm Sat), filled with historic photographs and introductory cultural exhibits.

Photographs, sketching and recording are not allowed.

The region's central town is Page, and Hwy 89 forms the main strip. The Carl Hayden Visitor Center (☎928-608-6404; www.nps.gov/glca; Hwy 89; ☀8am-6pm Jun-Aug, shorter hours rest of year) is located at Glen Canyon Dam, 2.5 miles north of Page. Tours (☎928-608-6072; www.glen canyon.org; adult/child $5/2.50) run by the Glen Canyon Natural History Association take you inside the dam.

To visit photogenic Antelope Canyon (www.navajonationalparks.org/htm/antelope canyon.htm), a stunning sandstone slot canyon with two main parts, you must join a tour. Upper Antelope Canyon is easier to navigate and more touristed. Several tour companies offer trips into Upper Antelope Canyon; expect a bumpy ride and a bit of a cattle call; try Roger Ekis's Antelope Canyon Tours (☎928-645-9102; www.antelopecanyon.com; 22 S Lake Powell Blvd; adult/child 5-12yr from $35/25). The more strenuous Lower Antelope Canyon sees much smaller crowds.

A deservedly popular hike is the 1.5 mile roundtrip trek to Horseshoe Bend, where the river wraps around a dramatic stone outcropping to form a perfect U. The trailhead is south of Page off Hwy 89, across from mile marker 541.

Chain hotels line Hwy 89 in Page and a number of independent places line 8th Ave. The revamped Lake Powell Motel (☎928-645-3919; www.powellmotel.com; 750 S Navajo Dr; r $69-159; ☀Apr-Oct; ♿☎), formerly Bashful Bob's, was originally constructed to house Glen Canyon Dam builders. Four units here have kitchens, and book up quickly. A fifth, smaller room is typically held for walk-ups.

For breakfast in Page, the Ranch House Grille (www.ranchhousegrille.com; 819 N Navajo Dr; mains $7-16; ☀6am-3pm) has good food, huge portions and fast service. The murals of local landscapes are impressive inside Bonkers (www.bonkerspagaz.com; 810 N Navajo Dr; mains $9-22; ☀from 4pm Mon-Sat), which serves satisfying steaks, seafood, pasta and a few burgers and sandwiches.

Navajo Nation

The wounds are healing but the scars remain on Arizona's Navajo lands, a testament to the forced relocation of thousands of Native Americans to reservations.

Amid the isolation is some of North America's most spectacular scenery, including Monument Valley and Canyon de Chelly. Cultural pride remains strong and many still speak Navajo as their first language. The Navajo rely heavily on tourism; visitors can help keep their heritage alive by staying on reservation land or purchasing their renowned crafts. Stopping at roadside stalls is a nice way for personal interaction and making sure money goes straight into the artisan's pocket.

Unlike Arizona, the Navajo Nation observes Mountain daylight saving time. During summer, the reservation is one hour ahead of Arizona.

For details about hiking and camping, and required permits, visit www.navajonationalparks.org.

CAMERON

Cameron is the gateway to the east entrance of the Grand Canyon's South Rim, but the other reason people come here is for Cameron Trading Post (www.camerontradingpost.com), just north of the Hwy 64 turnoff to the Grand Canyon. Food, lodging, a gift shop and a post office are in this historic settlement. It's one of the few worthwhile stops on Hwy 89 between Flagstaff and Page.

CANYON DE CHELLY NATIONAL MONUMENT

This many-fingered canyon (pronounced duh-shay) contains several beautiful Ancestral Puebloan sites important to Navajo history, including ancient cliff dwellings. Families still farm the land, wintering on the rims then moving to hogans on the canyon floor in spring and summer. The canyon is private Navajo property administered by the NPS. Enter hogans only with a guide and don't photograph people without their permission.

The only lodging in the park is Sacred Canyon Lodge (☎800-679-2473; www.sacredcanyonlodge.com; r $122-129, ste $178, cafeteria mains $5-17; breakfast, lunch & dinner; ♿☎☎☎),

i HIGHWAY 89

Travelers should note that the 24-mile stretch of Hwy 89 between Page and Bitter Springs, which is just south of Lees Ferry, closed in February 2013 after a landslide buckled the road. Beginning in August 2013, drivers will be rerouted to Navajo Route 20, which has been paved and renamed 89T. It is the most direct route until 89A re-opens.

formerly Thunderbird Lodge. It has comfortable rooms and an inexpensive cafeteria serving Navajo and American meals. The nearby Navajo-run campground has about 90 sites on a first-come, first-served basis ($10), with water but no showers.

The Canyon de Chelly visitor center (☎ 928-674-5500; www.nps.gov/cach; ☀ 8am-5pm) is 3 miles from Rte 191 in the small village of Chinle. Two scenic drives follow the canyon's rim. For travel within the canyon, stop by the visitor center for a list of tour companies; this list is also on the park website.

FOUR CORNERS NAVAJO TRIBAL PARK

Don't be shy: do a spread eagle at the four corners marker (☎ 928-871-6647; www.navajonationalparks.org; admission $3; ☀ 8am-7pm May-Sep, 8am-5pm Oct-Apr), the middle-of-nowhere landmark that's looking spiffy after a 2010 renovation of the central plaza. The only spot in the US where you can straddle four states - Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, and Utah - it makes a good photograph, even if it's not 100% accurate. According to government surveyors, the marker is almost 2000ft east of where it should be (but it is the legally recognized border point, regardless).

MONUMENT VALLEY NAVAJO TRIBAL PARK

With flaming-red buttes and impossibly slender spires bursting to the heavens, the Monument Valley landscape off Hwy 163 has starred in countless Hollywood Westerns and looms large in many a road-trip daydream.

For up-close views of the towering formations, you'll need to visit the Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park (☎ 435-727-5874; www.navajonationparks.org/htm/monumentvalley.htm; adult/child $5/free; ☀ drive 6am-8:30pm May-Sep, 8am-4:30pm Oct-Apr, visitor center 6am-8pm May-Sep, 8am-5pm Oct-Apr), where a rough and unpaved scenic driving loop covers 17 miles of stunning valley views. You can drive it in your own vehicle or take a tour (1½ hours $75, 2½ hours $95) through one of the kiosks in the parking lot (tours enter areas private vehicles can't).

Inside the tribal park is the View Hotel at Monument Valley (☎ 435-727-5555; www.monumentvalleyview.com; Hwy 163; r $209-265, ste $299-329; 🍷@☀). Built in harmony with the landscape, the sandstone-colored hotel blends naturally with its surroundings, and most of the 96 rooms have private balconies facing the monuments. The Navajo-based specialties at the adjoining restaurant (mains $10 to $30, no alcohol) are mediocre, but the red-rock panorama is stunning. Wi-fi is available in the lobby. A gift shop and small museum are within the hotel complex. At press time the campground was closed for construction.

The historic Goulding's Lodge (☎ 435-727-3231; www.gouldings.com; r $205-242, tent sites $26, RV sites $5, cabins $92; 🍷@☀☀), just across the border in Utah, offers lodge rooms, camping and small cabins. Book early for summer. In Kayenta, 20 miles south, there are a handful of okay hotels. Try the Wetherill Inn (☎ 928-697-3231; www.wetherillinn.com; 1000 Main St/Hwy 63; r incl breakfast $136; 🍷@☀☀) if everything in Monument Valley is booked.

Winslow

'Standing on a corner in Winslow, Arizona, such a fine sight to see...' Sound familiar? Thanks to the Eagles' twangy 1970s tune 'Take It Easy,' otherwise nondescript Winslow has earned its wings in pop-culture heaven. A small park (www.standinonthe.corner.com; 2nd St) on Route 66 at Kinsley Ave pays homage to the band.

Just 50 miles east of Petrified Forest National Park, Winslow is a good regional base. Old motels border Route 66, and eateries sprinkle the downtown. The inviting 1929 La Posada (☎ 928-289-4366; www.laposada.org; 303 E 2nd St; r $119-169; 🍷@☀) is a restored hacienda designed by star architect du jour Mary Jane Colter. Elaborate tilework, glass-and-tin chandeliers, Navajo rugs and other details accent its palatial Western-style elegance. The on-site restaurant, the much-lauded Turquoise Room (www.theturquoise-room.net; La Posada; breakfast $8-12, lunch $9-13, dinner $19-40; ☀ 7am-9pm), serves the best meals between Flagstaff and Albuquerque; dishes have a neo-Southwestern flair.

Petrified Forest National Park

The multicolored Painted Desert here is strewn with fossilized logs predating the dinosaurs. This national park (☎ 928-524-6228; www.nps.gov/pefo; vehicle/walk-in, bicycle & motorcycle $10/5; ☀ 7am-8pm Jun & Jul, shorter hour Aug-May) is an extraordinary site. The hard-to-miss visitor center is just half a mile north of I-40 and has maps and information on guided tours and science lectures.

The park straddles I-40 at exit 311, 25 miles east of Holbrook. From this exit, a 28-mile paved park road offers a splendid scenic drive. There are no campsites, but a number of short trails, ranging from less than a mile to 2 miles, pass through the best stands of petrified rock and ancient Native American dwellings in the park. Those prepared for rugged backcountry camping need to pick up a free permit at the visitor center.

Western Arizona

The Colorado River is alive with sun worshippers at Lake Havasu City, while Route 66 offers well-preserved stretches of classic highway near Kingman. South of the I-10, the wild, empty landscape is among the most barren in the West. If you're already here, there are some worthwhile sites, but there's nothing worth planning an itinerary around unless you're a Route 66 or boating fanatic.

Kingman & Around

Faded motels and gas stations galore grace Kingman's main drag, but several turn-of-the-19th-century buildings remain. If you're following the Route 66 trail (aka Andy Devine Ave here) or looking for cheap lodging, it's worth a stroll.

Pick up maps and brochures at the historic Powerhouse Visitor Center (☎ 866-427-7866, 928-753-6106; www.gokingman.com; 120 W Andy Devine Ave; ☎ 8am-5pm), which has a small but engaging Route 66 museum (☎ 928-753-9889; www.kingmantourism.org; 120 W Andy Devine Ave; adult/child/senior $4/free/3; ☎ 9am-5pm).

A cool neon sign draws road-trippers to the Hilltop Motel (☎ 928-753-2198; www.hilltopmotelaz.com; 1901 E Andy Devine Ave; r $44; 🍷🍷🍷🍷) on Route 66. Rooms are a bit of a throwback, but are well kept, and the views are superb. Pets (dogs only) stay for $5. As rednecks, we can confirm that the pork at Redneck's Southern Pit BBQ (www.redneckssouthernpitbbq.com; 420 E Beale St; mains $5-22; ☎ 11am-8pm Tue-Sat; 🍷) is tasty, but Southerners rarely use the word 'sammich,' as displayed on the menu. 'Big ole tater,' however, is fine.

Lake Havasu City

When the city of London auctioned off its 1831 bridge in the late 1960s, developer Robert McCulloch bought it, took it apart, shipped it, and then reassembled it at Lake Havasu City, which sits along a dammed-up portion of the Colorado River. The place attracts hordes of young spring-breakers and weekend warriors who come to play in the water and party hard. An 'English Village' of pseudo-British pubs and tourist gift shops surrounds the bridge and houses the visitor center (☎ 928-855-5655; www.golakehasvu.com; 422 English Village; ☎ 9am-5pm; 📶) where you can pick up tourist information and access the internet.

The hippest hotel in town is Heat (☎ 928-854-2833; www.heathotel.com; 1420 N McCulloch Blvd; r $209-299, ste $249-439; 🍷🍷), a slick boutique property where the front desk doubles as a bar. Rooms are contemporary and most have private patios with views of London Bridge. For a hearty, open-air breakfast, rise and shine at the Red Onion (☎ 928-505-0302; www.redonionhavasu.com; 2013 N McCulloch Blvd; mains $7-12; ☎ 7am-2pm), a popular eatery where the menu is loaded with omelets and diet-busting fare. For microbrews and good pub grub, try the Barley Brothers (☎ 928-505-7837; www.barleybrothers.com; 1425 N McCulloch Blvd; mains $9-24; ☎ 11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat), which has great views of the lake.

Tucson

Arizona's second-largest city is set in the Sonoran Desert, full of rolling, sandy hills and crowds of cacti. The vibe here is ramshackle-cool and cozy compared with the shiny vastness of Phoenix. A college town, Tucson (the 'c' is silent) is home turf to the 40,000-strong University of Arizona (U of A) and was an artsy, dress-down kind of place before that was the cool thing to be. Eclectic shops and scores of funky restaurants and bars flourish in this arid ground. Tucsonans are proud of the city's geographic and cultural proximity to Mexico (65 highway miles south); more than 35% of the population is of Mexican or Central American descent.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Downtown Tucson and the historic district are east of I-10 exit 258. About a mile northeast of downtown is the U of A campus; 4th Ave is the main drag here, packed with cafes, bars and interesting shops. For downtown's historic highlights, pick up a Presidio Trail walking tour map at the visitor center (p854).

Saguaro National Park

PARK

(📍 Tucson Mountain District 520-733-5158, headquarters 520-733-5100; www.nps.gov/sagu; 2700 N Kinney Rd, western district; 7-day pass per vehicle/bicycle $10/5; 🚗 vehicles sunrise-sunset, walkers & cyclists 24hr) This prickly canvas of green cacti and desert scrub is split in half by 30 miles of freeway and farms. Both sections sit at the edges of Tucson, but are still officially within the city.

You'll have a nice time exploring in either section, but if you want to make a day of it, head to Saguaro West (Tucson Mountain District), where you'll find several fun activities in and around the park. For maps and ranger-led programs, stop at the Red Hills Visitor Center (📍 520-733-5158; 2700 N Kinney Rd; 🕒 9am-5pm), which is also the starting point for the Cactus Garden Trail, a short, wheelchair-accessible path with interpretive signs for many of the park's cacti. The Bajada Loop Drive, an unpaved 6-mile loop that begins 1.5 miles west of the visitor center, provides fine views of cactus forests, several picnic spots and access to trailheads.

Saguaro East is 15 miles east of downtown. The visitor center (📍 520-733-5153; 3693 S Old Spanish Trail; 🕒 9am-5pm) has information about day hikes, horseback riding and backcountry camping. Backcountry camping requires a permit ($6 per site per day) and must be obtained by noon on the day of your hike. This section of the park has about 130 miles of hiking and 5.3 miles of mountain biking. The meandering 8-mile Cactus Forest Scenic Loop Drive, a paved road open to cars and bicycles, provides access to picnic areas, trailheads and viewpoints.

★ Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum

MUSEUM

(📍 520-883-2702; www.desertmuseum.org; 2021 N Kinney Rd; adult/child Sep-May $14.50/5, Jun-Aug $12/4; 🕒 8:30am-5pm Oct-Feb) This tribute to the Sonoran Desert is one part zoo, one part botanical garden and one part museum – a trifecta that'll keep young and old entertained for easily half a day. All sorts of desert denizens, from precocious coatis to playful prairie dogs, make their home in natural enclosures hemmed in by invisible fences. The grounds are thick with desert plants,

DON'T MISS

MINI TIME MACHINE MUSEUM OF MINIATURES

'Meddle ye not in the affairs of Dragons, for ye are crunchy and tasteth good with condiments,' reads the sign beside the Pocket Dragons, one of several magical creatures inhabiting the Enchanted Realm gallery at this gob-smackingly fun museum (www.theminitimemachine.org; 4455 E Camp Lowell Rd; adult/child $9/6; 🕒 9am-4pm Tue-Sat, noon-4pm Sun; 🚗). Here you can walk over a snowglobe-y Christmas village, peer into intricate mini-homes built in the 1700s and 1800s, and search for the tiny inhabitants of a magical tree. This is a great museum for families and for adults who still have a sense of fun.

To get here from downtown, follow E Broadway Blvd east 3.5 miles. Turn left onto N Alvernon Way and drive 3 miles to E Fort Lowell Rd, which turns into Camp Lowell. Turn right and continue almost 1 mile.

and docents are on hand to answer questions and give demonstrations. Strollers and wheelchairs are available, and there's a gift shop, art gallery, restaurant and cafe. Hours vary seasonally.

Old Tucson Studios

FILM LOCATION

(📍 520-883-0100; www.oldtucson.com; 201 S Kinney Rd; adult/child $17/11; 🕒 hours vary; 🚗) A few miles southeast of the Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum, Old Tucson Studios was an actual Western film set. Today it's a Western theme park with shootouts and stagecoach rides. Call or check website for opening hours.

Pima Air & Space Museum

MUSEUM

(📍 520-574-0462; www.pimaair.org; 6000 E Valencia Rd; adult/child/senior & military $16/9/13; 🕒 9am-5pm, last admission 4pm; 🚗) An SR-71 Blackbird spy plane and JFK's Air Force One are among the stars at this private aircraft museum, home to 300 'birds.' Hard-core plane-spotters should book ahead for the 90-minute bus tour of the nearby 309th Aerospace Maintenance & Regeneration Center (AMARG; adult/child $7/4; 🕒 Mon-Fri, departure times vary seasonally) – aka the 'boneyard' – where almost 4000 aircraft are mothballed. Book through the Pima Air & Space Museum.

★ Festivals & Events

Fiesta de los Vaqueros RODEO
(Rodeo Week; ☎ 520-741-2233; www.tucsonrodeo.com; ☺ last week of Feb) This huge nonmotorized parade with Western-themed floats is a locally famous spectacle.

🛏 Sleeping

Lodging prices vary considerably, with lower rates in summer and fall. To sleep under stars and saguaros, try Gilbert Ray Campground (☎ 520-877-6000; www.pima.gov/nrpr/camping; Kinney Rd; tent/RV sites $10/20) near the western district of Saguaro National Park.

Roadrunner Hostel & Inn HOSTEL $
(☎ 520-940-7280; www.roadrunnerhostelinn.com; 346 E 12th St; dm/r incl breakfast $22/45; 🏠 @ 📶) This comfortable hostel within walking distance of the arts district has a large kitchen, free coffee and waffles in the morning, and a big-screen TV for watching movies. Dorms close between noon and 3pm for cleaning. Takes cash and traveler's checks only.

Quality Inn Flamingo Hotel MOTEL $
(☎ 520-770-1910; www.flamingohotel.tucson.com; 1300 N Stone Ave; r incl breakfast $65-80; 🏠 @ 📶 🍷) Though not as spiffy as it used to be, this motel retains its great 1950s Rat Pack vibe. And the fact that Elvis slept here doesn't hurt. Rooms have stylish striped bedding, comfy beds and flat-screen plasma TVs. Pets stay for $20 per day.

★ Catalina Park Inn B&B $$
(☎ 520-792-4541; www.catalinaparkinn.com; 309 E 1st St; r $140-170; ☺ closed Jul & Aug; 🏠 @ 📶) Style, hospitality and comfort merge seamlessly at this inviting B&B just west of the University of Arizona. Hosts Mark Hall and Paul Richard have poured their hearts into restoring this 1927 Med-style villa, and their efforts are on display in the six guest rooms, from the oversized and over-the-top peacock-blue-and-gold Catalina Room to the white and uncluttered East Room with an iron canopy bed.

Hotel Congress HISTORIC HOTEL $$
(☎ 520-622-8848; www.hotelcongress.com; 311 E Congress St; r $89-129; 🏠 @ 📶 🍷) A little bit hip, a little bit historic and whole lotta fun, the Congress is a nonstop buzz of activity, mostly because of its popular bar, restaurant and nightclub. Infamous bank robber John Dillinger and his gang were captured here in 1934 – check out the wall of photos and articles beside the lobby. Many rooms have period furnishings, rotary phones and wooden radios – but no TVs. Ask for a room at the far end of the hotel if you're noise-sensitive. Pets stay for $10 per night.

Windmill Inn at St Philips Plaza HOTEL $$$
(☎ 520-577-0007; www.windmillinns.com; 4250 N Campbell Ave; r incl breakfast $120-134; 🏠 @ 📶 🍷) This modern, friendly place wins kudos for spacious two-room suites (no charge for kids under 18 years of age), free continental breakfast, a lending library, a heated pool and free bike rentals. Pets stay free.

Arizona Inn RESORT $$$
(☎ 800-933-1093, 520-325-1541; www.arizonainn.com; 2200 E Elm St; r $329-399, ste $459-579; 🏠 @ 📶 🍷) The mature gardens and old Arizona grace provide a respite not only from city life but also from the 21st century. Sip coffee on the porch, take high tea in the library, lounge by the small pool or join a game of croquet, then retire to rooms furnished with antiques. The on-site spa is our favorite in town.

🍴 Eating

Your best bet for great food at good prices is 4th Ave; we've listed some of Tucson's standouts.

Mi Nidito MEXICAN $
(☎ 520-622-5081; www.minidito.net; 1813 S 4th Ave; mains $6-13; ☺ lunch & dinner Wed-Sun) The wait is worth it at this bustling spot (My Little Nest), where Bill Clinton's order has become the signature president's plate: a heaping mound of tacos, tostadas, burritos, enchiladas etc – groaning under melted cheese. Also give the prickly pear cactus chile or the birria (spicy, shredded beef) a whirl.

★ Cafe Poca Cosa SOUTH AMERICAN $$
(☎ 520-622-6400; www.cafepocacosatucson.com; 110 E Pennington St; lunch $12-15, dinner $18-26; ☺ 11am-9pm Tue-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) At this award-winning Nuevo-Mexican bistro, a chalkboard menu circulates between tables because dishes change twice daily. It's all freshly prepared, innovative and beautifully presented. The undecided can't go wrong by ordering the Plato Poca Cosa and letting chef Suzana D'Avila decide. Great margaritas, too.

Cup Cafe

AMERICAN, GLOBAL $$

(☎ 520-798-1618; www.hotelcongress.com/food; 311 E Congress St; breakfast $7-12, lunch $10-12, dinner $13-23; ☀ 7am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☞) Wine-bottle chandeliers above. Penny-tiled floor below. And 'Up on Crippled Creek' on the speakers. Yep, we're gonna like it here. In the morning, choices include a Creole dish with andouille sausage, eggs and potatoes, as well as cast-iron baked eggs with Gruyere cheese. There's a global mix of dishes for lunch and dinner, with a decent selection of vegetarian entrees. The coffee is excellent.

Lovin' Spoonfuls

VEGAN $$

(☎ 520-325-7766; 2990 N Campbell Ave; breakfast $7-9, lunch $6-8, dinner $8-12; ☀ 9:30am-9pm Mon-Sat, 10am-3pm Sun; ☞) Burgers, country-fried chicken, a BLT, salads... The menu here reads like a typical cafe, but there's one big difference: no animal products find their way into this vegan haven.

Hub Restaurant & Creamery

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 520-207-8201; www.hubdowntown.com; 266 E Congress Ave; lunch $9-16, dinner $10-21; ☀ 11am-midnight Sun-Wed, to 2am Thu-Sat) Upscale comfort food is the name of the game here, plus a few sandwiches and salads. If you don't want a meal, pop in for a scoop of flavor-packed gourmet ice cream - bacon scotch anyone?

El Charro Café

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 520-622-1922; www.elcharrocafe.com; 311 N Court Ave; lunch $6-10, dinner $7-18; ☀ lunch & dinner) The Flin family has been making innovative Mexican food at this busy hacienda since 1922. It's famous for the carne seca, sundried lean beef that's been reconstituted, shredded and grilled with green chile and onions.

Drinking & Entertainment

Downtown 4th Ave, near 6th St, is the happening bar-hop spot, and there are a number of nightclubs on downtown Congress St.

Che's Lounge

BAR

(☎ 520-623-2088; 350 N 4th Ave; ☀ noon-2am) A slightly skanky but hugely popular watering hole that rocks with live music Saturday nights. And it never charges a cover.

Thunder Canyon Brewery

MICROBREWERY

(www.thundercanyonbrewery.com; 220 E Broadway Blvd; ☀ 11am-11pm Sun-Wed, to 2am Thu-Sat) This cavernous new microbrewery, within walk-

HOT DIGGETY DOG

Tucson's signature 'dish' is the Sonoran hot dog, a tasty example of what happens when Mexican ingredients meet America's processed meat and penchant for excess. The ingredients? A bacon-wrapped hot dog layered with tomatillo salsa, pinto beans, shredded cheese, mayo, ketchup or mustard or both, chopped tomatoes and onions. We like 'em at El Guero Canelo (www.elguerocanelo.com; 5201 S 12th Ave; Sonoran hot dog $3).

ing distance of Hotel Congress, serves its own brews as well as beer from other breweries. Forty beers on tap.

Chocolate Iguana

COFFEE SHOP

(www.chocolateiguanaon4th.com; 500 N 4th Ave; ☀ 7am-8pm Mon-Thu, 7am-10pm Fri, 8am-10pm Sat, 9am-6pm Sun) For coffee-lovers and chocoholics, this is the place.

Club Congress

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 520-622-8848; www.hotelcongress.com; 311 E Congress St; cover free-$24) Live and DJ music are found at this very popular place that's sometimes a rock hangout and sometimes a dance club. The crowd depends on the night, but it's almost always a happening place.

Information*EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Police (☎ 520-791-4444; <http://cms3.tucsonaz.gov>; 270 S Stone Ave)

Tucson Medical Center (☎ 520-327-5461; www.tmc.com/TucsonMedicalCenter; 5301 E Grant Rd) Has 24-hour emergency services.

INTERNET ACCESS

Joel D Valdez Main Library (☎ 520-594-5500; 101 N Stone Ave; ☀ 9am-8pm Mon-Wed, 9am-6pm Thu, 9am-5pm Fri, 10am-5pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun; ☞) Free internet, including wi-fi.

MEDIA

Arizona Daily Star (<http://azstarnet.com>) The Tucson region's daily newspaper.

Tucson Weekly (www.tucsonweekly.com) A free weekly full of entertainment and restaurant listings.

POST

Post office (☎ 520-629-9268; 825 E University Blvd, Suite 111; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-12:30pm Sat)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Tucson Convention & Visitors Bureau

(☎ 800-638-8350, 520-624-1817; www.visit-tucson.org; 100 S Church Ave; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun) Ask for its free Official Destination Guide.

i Getting There & Around

Tucson International Airport (☎ 520-573-8100; www.flytucson.com; 7250 S Tucson Blvd) is 15 miles south of downtown.

Arizona Stagecoach (☎ 520-889-1000; www.azstagecoach.com) runs shared van service with fares for about $25 between downtown and the airport.

Greyhound (☎ 520-792-3475; www.greyhound.com; 471 W Congress St) runs buses to Phoenix ($21 to $23, two hours, daily) and other destinations. The station is on the western end of Congress St, 3 miles from downtown. Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245, 520-623-4442; www.amtrak.com; 400 E Toole Ave) is across from Hotel Congress and has train services to Los Angeles (from $56, 10 hours, three weekly) on the Sunset Limited.

The Ronstadt Transit Center (215 E Congress St, cnr Congress St & 6th Ave) is the major downtown transit hub. From here Sun Tran (☎ 520-792-9222; www.suntran.com) buses serve metropolitan Tucson (day pass $3.50).

Around Tucson

The places listed here are less than 1½ hours' drive from town and make great day trips.

West of Tucson

You want wide solitude? Follow Hwy 86 west from Tucson into some of the emptiest parts of the Sonoran Desert – except for the ubiquitous green-and-white border patrol trucks.

The lofty Kitt Peak National Observatory (☎ 520-318-8726; www.noao.edu/kpno; Hwy 86; visitor center by donation; ☀ 9am-4pm) west of Sells features the largest collection of optical telescopes in the world. Guided tours (adult/child $9.75/4.25 November to May, $7.75/3.25 June to October, at 10am, 11:30am and 1:30pm) last about an hour. Book two to four weeks in advance for the worthwhile nightly observing program (adult/child $49/45; no programs from mid-July through August because of monsoon season). Clear, dry skies equal an awe-inspiring glimpse of the cosmos. Dress warmly, buy gas in Tucson (the nearest gas station is 30 miles from the observatory) and note that children under eight years of age are not allowed at the evening program for safety reasons. The picnic area draws amateur astronomers at night. It's about a 75-minute drive from Tucson.

If you truly want to get away from it all, you can't get much further off the grid than the huge and exotic Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument (☎ 520-387-6849; www.nps.gov/orpi; Hwy 85; per vehicle $8; ☀ visitor center 8:30am-4:30pm) along the Mexican border. It's a gorgeous, forbidding land that supports an astonishing number of animals and plants, including 28 species of cacti, first and foremost its namesake organ-pipe. A giant columnar cactus, it differs from the more prevalent saguaro in that its branches radiate from the base. The 21-mile Ajo Mountain Drive takes you through a spectacular landscape of steep-sided, jagged cliffs and rock tinged a faintly hellish red. There are 208 first-come, first-served sites at Twin Peaks Campground (www.nps.gov/orpi; tent/RV sites $12) by the visitor center.

South of Tucson

South of Tucson, I-19 is the main route to Nogales and Mexico. Along the way are several interesting stops.

The striking Mission San Xavier del Bac (☎ 520-294-2624; www.patronatosanxavier.org; 1950 W San Xavier Rd; donations appreciated; ☀ museum 8:30am-5pm, church 7am-5pm), 9 miles south of downtown Tucson, is Arizona's oldest European building still in use. It's a graceful blend of Moorish, Byzantine and late Mexican Renaissance architecture with an unexpectedly ornate interior.

At exit 69, 16 miles south of the mission, the Titan Missile Museum (☎ 520-625-7736; www.titanmissilemuseum.org; 1580 W Duval Mine Rd, Sahuarita; adult/child/senior $9.50/6/8.50; ☀ 8:45am-5pm) features an underground launch site for Cold War-era intercontinental ballistic missiles. Tours are chilling and informative.

If history or shopping for crafts interest you, head 48 miles south of Tucson to the small village of Tubac (www.tubacaz.com), with more than 100 galleries, studios and shops.

Patagonia & the Mountain Empire

This lovely riparian region, sandwiched between the Mexican border and the Santa Rita and Patagonia Mountains, is one of the shiniest gems in the Arizona jewel box. It's a tranquil destination for bird-watching and wine tasting.

Bird-watchers and nature-lovers wander the gentle trails at the Patagonia-Sonoita Creek Preserve (☎ 520-394-2400; www.nature.org/arizona; 150 Blue Heaven Rd; admission $6; ☀ 6:30am-4pm Wed-Sun Apr-Sep, 7:30am-4pm Wed-Sun Oct-Mar), an enchanting creekside willow and cottonwood forest managed by the Nature Conservancy. The peak migratory seasons are April through May, and late August to September. For a leisurely afternoon of wine tasting, head to the villages of Sonoita and Elgin north of Patagonia (see www.arizonavinesandwines.com). The big-sky views are terrific.

If you stick around for dinner, try the fantastic gourmet pizzas at Velvet Elvis (☎ 520-394-2102; www.velvetelvispizza.com; 292 Naugle Ave, Patagonia; mains $10-26; ☀ 11:30am-8:30pm Thu-Sat, to 7:30pm Sun). Salute the old West and its simple charms at the Stage Stop Inn (☎ 520-394-2211; www.stagestophotelpatagonia.com; 303 McKeown, Patagonia; s $79, d $89-99, ste $109; 🍷 🍷 🍷), where rooms surround a central courtyard and pool. The stage coach did indeed stop here on the Butterfield Trail.

A small visitor center (☎ 888-794-0060; www.patagoniaaz.com; 307 McKeown Ave, Patagonia; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Thu & Sat, 11am-4pm Fri) is tucked inside Mariposa Books & More in Patagonia.

Southeastern Arizona

Chockablock with places that loom large in the history of the Wild West, southern Arizona is home to the wonderfully preserved mining town of Bisbee, the OK Corral in Tombstone, and a wonderland of stone spires at Chiricahua National Monument.

Kartchner Caverns State Park

The emphasis is on education at Kartchner Caverns State Park (☎ information 520-586-4100, reservations 520-586-2283; http://azstateparks.com; Hwy 90; park entrance per vehicle/bicycle $6/3, Rotunda Tour adult/child $23/13, Big Room Tour mid-Oct-mid-Apr $23/13; ☀ 8am-5pm Jun-Sep, 7am-6pm Oct-May), a 2.5-mile wet limestone fantasia of rocks. Two guided tours explore different areas of the caverns, which were 'discovered' in 1974. The Rotunda/Throne Room Tour is open year-round; the Big Room Tour closes in mid-April for five months to protect the migratory bats that roost here. The park is 9 miles south of Benson, off I-10 at exit 302. The $6 entrance fee is waived for reserved tour tickets.

Chiricahua National Monument

The towering rock spires at remote but mesmerizing Chiricahua National Monument (☎ 520-824-3560; www.nps.gov/chir; Hwy 181; adult/child $5/free) in the Chiricahua Mountains sometimes rise hundreds of feet high and often look like they're on the verge of tipping over. The Bonita Canyon Scenic Drive takes you 8 miles to Massai Point (6870ft) where you'll see thousands of spires positioned on the slopes like some petrified army. There are numerous hiking trails, but if you're short on time, hike the Echo Canyon Trail at least half a mile to the Grottoes, an amazing 'cathedral' of giant boulders where you can lie still and enjoy the wind-caressed silence. The monument is 36 miles southeast of Willcox off Hwy 186/181.

Tombstone

In Tombstone's 19th-century heyday as a booming mining town the whiskey flowed and six-shooters blazed over disputes large and small, most famously at the OK Corral. Now a National Historic Landmark, it attracts hordes of tourists to its old Western buildings, stagecoach rides and gunfight reenactments.

And yes, you must visit the OK Corral (☎ 520-457-3456; www.ok-corral.com; Allen St btwn 3rd & 4th Sts; admission $10, without gunfight $6; ☀ 9am-5pm), site of the legendary gunfight where the Earps and Doc Holliday took on the McLaurys and Billy Clanton on October 26, 1881. The McLaurys and Clanton now rest at the The Boot Hill Graveyard on Hwy 80 north of town. Also make time for the dusty Bird Cage Theater (☎ 520-457-3421; 517 E Allen St; adult/child/senior $10/8/9; ☀ 9am-6pm), a one-time dance hall and saloon now crammed with historic odds and ends. And a merman.

The Visitor & Information Center (☎ 520-457-3929; www.tombstonechamber.com; cnr 395 E Allen & 4th Sts; ☀ 9am-5pm) has walking maps and local recommendations.

Bisbee

Oozing old-fashioned ambience, Bisbee is a former copper-mining town that's now a delightful mix of aging Bohemians, elegant buildings, sumptuous restaurants and charming hotels. Most businesses are found in the Historic District (Old Bisbee), along Subway and Main Sts.

To burrow under the earth in a tour led by the retired miners who worked here, take the Queen Mine Tour (☎520-432-2071; www.queenminetour.com; 478 Dart Rd, off Hwy 80; adult/child $13/5.50; ☺ tours 9am-3:30pm; 🚗). Right outside of town, check out the Lavender Pit, an ugly yet impressive testament to strip mining.

Rest your head at Shady Dell RV Park (☎520-432-3567; www.theshadydell.com; 1 Douglas Rd; rates $87-145, closed early Jul–mid-Sep; 🏠), a kitschy trailer park extraordinaire. Everything's done up with fun, retro furnishings. Swamp coolers provide cold air. You can sleep in a covered wagon at the quirky but fun Bisbee Grand Hotel (☎520-432-5900; www.bisbeegrandhotel.com; 61 Main St, Bisbee; r incl breakfast $89-175; 🏠🚰), which brings the Old West to life (or maybe it never died) with Victorian-era decor and a kick-up-your-spurs saloon.

For good eats, stroll up Main St and pick a restaurant – you can't go wrong. For fine American food, try stylish Cafe Roka (☎520-432-5153; www.caferoka.com; 35 Main St; dinner $17-24; ☺5-9pm Thu-Sat), where four-course dinners include salad, soup, sorbet and a rotating choice of crowd-pleasing mains. Continue up Main St for wood-fired pizzas and punk-rock style at Screaming Banshee Pizza (☎520-432-1300; 200 Tombstone Canyon Rd; pizzas $7-15; ☺4-9pm Tue & Wed, 11am-10pm Thu-Sat, 11am-9pm Sun). Bars cluster in Brewery Gulch, at the south end of Main St.

The visitor center (☎520-432-3554; www.discoverbisbee.com; 478 Dart Rd; ☺8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat & Sun), in the Queen Mine Tour Building just south of downtown, is a good place to start.

UTAH

Shhhhh, don't tell. We wouldn't want word to get out that this oft-overlooked state is really one of nature's most perfect playgrounds. Utah's rugged terrain comes ready-made for hiking, biking, rafting, rappelling, rock climbing, skiing, snowboarding, snow riding, horseback riding, four-wheel driving... Need we go on?

More than 65% of the state's lands are public, including 12 national parks and monuments – a dazzling display of geology that leaves many awestruck. Southern Utah is a seemingly endless expanse of sculpted sandstone desert, its red-rock country defined by soaring Technicolor cliffs, spindles and spires. The 11,000ft-high forest- and snow-covered peaks of the Wasatch and other mountains and valleys dominate north-eastern Utah.

Across the state you'll find well-organized towns with pioneer-era buildings dating to when the first Mormon settlers arrived; still today, church members make up more than 50% of the wonderfully polite population. Rural towns may be quiet and conservative, but the rugged beauty has attracted many outdoorsy, independent thinkers as well. Salt Lake and Park cities especially have vibrant nightlife and foodie scenes.

So come wonder at the roadside geologic kaleidoscope, hike out into the vast expanses or enjoy a great craftworks micro-brew. Just don't tell your friends: we'd like to keep this secret to ourselves.

History

Traces of the Ancestral Puebloan (or Anasazi) and Fremont people, this land's earliest human inhabitants, can today be seen in the rock art and ruins they left behind. But it was the modern Ute, Paiute and Navajo tribes who were living here when settlers of European heritage arrived in large numbers. Led by second church president, Brigham Young, Mormons fled to this territory to escape religious persecution starting in the late 1840s. They set about attempting to settle every inch of their new land, no matter how inhospitable, which resulted in skirmishes with Native Americans – and more than one abandoned ghost town.

For nearly 50 years after the United States acquired the Utah Territory from Mexico, petitions for statehood were rejected as a result of the Mormon practice of polygamy (taking multiple wives), which was illegal in the US. Tension and prosecutions grew until 1890, when Mormon leader Wilford Woodruff had a divine revelation and the church officially discontinued the practice. Utah became the 45th state in 1896. The modern Mormon church, now called the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS) continues to exert a strong influence here.

i Information

Note that it can be difficult to change currency outside Salt Lake City, but ATMs are widespread.

Utah Office of Tourism (☎800-200-1160; www.utah.com) Publishes the free Utah Travel Guide; runs several visitor centers statewide.

Utah State Parks & Recreation Department (☎801-538-7220; www.stateparks.utah.gov) Produces comprehensive guide to the 40-plus state parks; available online and at visitor centers.

i Getting There & Away

Salt Lake City (SLC) has the state's only international airport. It may be cheaper to fly into Las Vegas (425 miles south) and rent a car.

i Getting Around

You will need a private vehicle to get around anywhere besides SLC and Park City. Utah towns are typically laid out in a grid with streets aligned north-south or east-west. There's a zero point in the town center at the intersection of two major streets (often called Main St and Center St). Addresses and numerical street names radiate out from this point, rising by 100 with each city block. Thus, 500 South 400 East will be five blocks south and four blocks east of the zero point. The system is complicated to explain, but thankfully it's quite easy to use.

Salt Lake City

Snuggled up against the soaring peaks of the Wasatch Mountains, Salt Lake City is a small town with just enough edge to satisfy city slickers. Yes, it is the Mormon equivalent of Vatican City, but Utah's capital city is quite modern. A redeveloped downtown and local foodie scene balance out the city's charming anachronisms.

i Sights & Activities

Top church-related sights cluster near downtown's zero point: the corner of S Temple (east-west) and Main St (north-south). See those 132-ft-wide streets? They were originally built so that four oxen pulling a wagon could turn around.

Don't forget that just 45 minutes away, world-class hiking, climbing and snow sports await in the Wasatch Mountains (p862).

UTAH FACTS

Nickname Beehive State

Population 2.85 million

Area 82,169 sq miles

Capital city Salt Lake City (population 189,314), metro area (1.2 million)

Other cities St George (population 75,561)

Sales tax 5.95%

Birthplace of Entertainers Donny (b 1957) and Marie (b 1959) Osmond, beloved bandit Butch Cassidy (1866–1908)

Home of 2002 Winter Olympic Games

Politics Mostly conservative

Famous for Mormons, red-rock canyons, polygamy

Best souvenir Wasatch Brewery T-shirt: 'Polygamy Porter – Why Have Just One?'

i Temple Square Area

Temple Square

PLAZA

(www.visittemplesquare.com; cnr S Temple & N State Sts; ☺grounds 24hr, visitor centers 9am-9pm) FREE The city's most famous sight, a 10-acre square filled with stunning LDS architecture, flower gardens and fountains, is certainly awe-inspiring. Disarmingly nice LDS-member 'sister' and 'brother' volunteers answer questions and lead free 30-minute grounds tours from the visitor centers, just inside the two entrances (on S and N Temple).

Lording over the square, the 210ft-tall Salt Lake Temple is at its most ethereal when lit up at night. Atop the tallest spire stands a statue of the angel Moroni, who appeared to first LDS prophet, Joseph Smith, and led him to the Book of Mormon. The Temple and its ceremonies are private, open only to LDS members. In addition to the sights listed, the square also contains a church history museum, Joseph Smith theater and restaurants.

Tabernacle

RELIGIOUS

(http://mormontabernaclechoir.org; Temple Sq; ☺9am-9pm) FREE This domed, 1867 auditorium – with a massive 11,000-pipe organ –

SALT LAKE CITY FOR CHILDREN

Young and old alike appreciate the attractions in the University-Foothill District, but there are also a couple of kid-specific sights to see.

Discovery Gateway (www.childmuseum.org; 444 W 100 South; admission $8.50; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon-Thu, 10am-8pm Fri & Sat, noon-6pm Sun; 🚗) is an enthusiastic, hands-on children's museum. The mock network-news desk in the media zone is particularly cool for budding journo's.

More than 800 animals inhabit zones like the Asian Highlands on the landscaped 42-acre grounds of Hogle Zoo (www.hoglezoo.org; 2600 E Sunnyside Ave; adult/child $13/10; ☺ 9am-5pm; 🚗). Daily animal-encounter programs help kids learn more about their favorite species.

has incredible acoustics. A pin dropped in the front can be heard in the back, almost 200ft away. Free organ recitals are held here at noon Monday through Saturday. For more on the famous choir performances, see Entertainment.

Beehive House

HOUSE

(☎ 801-240-2671; www.visittemplesquare.com; 67 E South Temple St; ☺ 9am-8:30pm Mon-Sat) FREE The Beehive House was Brigham Young's main home during his tenure as governor and church president in Utah. The required tours begin on your arrival and vary in the amount of historic house detail versus religious education offered.

Family History Library

LIBRARY

(www.churchhistory.org; 35 N West Temple St; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon, 8am-9pm Tue-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat) FREE Investigating your ancestors? This incredible library contains more than 3.5 million genealogy-related microfilms, microfiches, books and other records gathered from more than 110 countries.

Greater Downtown

Utah State Capitol

HISTORIC BUILDING

(www.utahstatecapitol.utah.gov; 350 N State St; ☺ building 7am-8pm Mon-Fri, 8am-6pm Sat & Sun, visitor center 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri) FREE Inside the 1916 State Capitol, colorful Works Progress Administration (WPA) murals of pioneers, trappers and missionaries adorn the dome. Free, hourly guided tours (9am to 5pm, Monday to Friday) start at the 1st-floor visitor center; self-guided tours are also available.

City Creek

PLAZA

(www.shopcitycreekcenter.com; Social Hall Ave, btwn Regent & Richards Sts) Smack dab in the middle of the city you'll find this 20-acre pedestrian plaza fraught with pleasant fountains and outdoor fireplaces, plus a whole host of restaurants and an indoor-outdoor mall.

University-Foothill District & Beyond

★ Natural History Museum of Utah

MUSEUM

(<http://umnh.utah.edu>; 301 Wakara Way; adult/child $11/6; ☺ 10am-5pm Thu-Tue, 10am-8pm Wed) The stunning architecture of the Rio Tinto Center forms a multistory indoor 'canyon' that showcases exhibits to great effect. Walk up through the layers as you explore both indigenous peoples' and natural history.

The Past Worlds paleontological displays are the most impressive. You get an incredible perspective from beneath, next to, and above a vast collection of dinosaur fossils – one that represents the full breadth of pre-history.

This Is the Place Heritage Park

HISTORIC SITE

(www.thisistheplace.org; 2601 E Sunnyside Ave; adult/child $10/7; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat; 🚗) A 450-acre park marks the spot where Brigham Young uttered the fateful words, 'This is the place.' The centerpiece is a living-history village where, June through August, costumed docents depict mid-19th-century life. Admission includes a tourist train ride and activities. During the off-season guests can wander the village at reduced rates.

Red Butte Garden

GARDEN

(www.redbuttegarden.org; 300 Wakara Way; adult/child $10/6; ☺ 9am-7:30pm) Both landscaped and natural gardens cover the lovely 150, trail-accessible acres of Red Butte Gardens in the Wasatch foothills. Check online to see who's playing at the popular, outdoor summer concert series also held here.

Church Fork Trail

(Millcreek Canyon, off Wasatch Blvd; day-use $3) Looking for the nearest workout with big views? Hike the 6-mile round-trip, pet-friendly trail up to Grandeur Peak (8299ft). Millcreek Canyon is 13.5 miles southwest of downtown.

HIKING

Tours

Utah Heritage Foundation

(801-533-0858; www.utahheritagefoundation.com; tours per person $5-20) The local heritage society offers walking tours of different neighborhoods, as well as 'Thirst Fursday' pub crawls. For do-it-yourselfers, detailed self-guided walking-tour brochures are available online (or at the city visitor center).

WALKING TOURS

Sleeping

Downtown, rates vary greatly depending on local events and daily occupancy. Cheaper chain motels cluster off I-80: near the airport and south in suburban Midvale. Outside ski season, prices plunge at Wasatch Mountain resorts, about 45 minutes from downtown.

Crystal Inn & Suites

(800-366-4466, 801-328-4466; www.crystalinnsaltlake.com; 230 W 500 South; r incl breakfast $78-120; P * @ @ @) Utah-owned, multi-story motel with a super-friendly staff and loads of free amenities (including a huge, hot breakfast buffet).

MOTEL $

Avenues Hostel

(801-539-8888, 801-359-3855; www.saltlakehostel.com; 107 F St; dm $18, s/d without bathroom $40/46, with bathroom $56/60; * @ @) Well-worn hostel, a bit halfway house-like with long-term residents. But it has a convenient location.

HOSTEL $

Inn on the Hill

(801-328-1466; www.inn-on-the-hill.com; 225 N State St; r incl breakfast $135-220; P * @ @) Exquisite woodwork and Maxfield Parrish Tiffany glass are just some of the adornments in this sprawling 1906 Renaissance Revival mansion turned inn. Guest rooms are classically comfortable, not at all stuffy, and you have the run of two patios, a billiard room, a library and a dining room. High above Temple Sq, expect great views – and an uphill hike back from town.

INN $$

Peery Hotel

(801-521-4300, 800-331-0073; www.peeryhotel.com; 110 W 300 South; r $90-130; P * @ @) This stately historic hotel (1910) has a great location in the Broadway Ave entertainment district, within walking distance of restaurants, bars and theaters. Expect upscale conveniences such as Egyptian-cotton robes, iPod docking stations and Tempurpedic mattresses.

HOTEL $$

SVEA

(801-832-0970; www.svea.us; 720 Ashton Ave; r incl breakfast $155-165; P * @ @) Both elegant and eclectic, the 1890s Victorian house that contains this B&B has a few odd angles and room configurations. Continental breakfast arrives in a basket at your door daily.

B&amp;B $$

Grand America

(800-621-4505; www.grandamerica.com; 555 S Main St; r $199-289; P * @ @ @) Italian marble bathrooms, English wool carpeting, tasseled damask draperies and other cushy details decorate SLC's most luxurious hotel. If that's not enough to spoil you, there's always afternoon high tea or the lavish Sunday brunch.

HOTEL $$$

Eating

Many of Salt Lake City's bountiful assortment of ethnic and organically minded restaurants are within the downtown core. There's also a good collection (Middle Eastern, a noodle house, upscale new American, a cafe...) at 9th and 9th (cnr 900 East and 900 South Sts).

POLYGAMY TODAY

Though the Mormon church eschewed plural marriage in 1890, there are unaffiliated offshoot sects that still believe it is a divinely decreed practice. Most of the roughly 7000 residents in Hilldale-Colorado City on the Utah-Arizona border are polygamy-practicing members of the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (FLDS). Walk into a Walmart in Washington or Hurricane and the shoppers you see in pastel-colored, prairie-style dresses – with lengthy braids or elaborate updos – are likely sister wives. Other, less-conspicuous polygamy-practicing sects are active in the southern parts of the state as well.

Lion House Pantry Restaurant AMERICAN $
(www.temple-square-hospitality.com; 63 E South Temple St; meals $7-13; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat) Down-home, carb-rich cafeteria cookin' just like your Mormon grandmother made. Several of Brigham Young's wives used to live in this historic house (including this author's great-great-great grandmother).

Ekamai Thai THAI $
(http://ekamaithai.com/; 336 W 300 South; dishes $6-9; ☺ 11am-9pm Mon-Sat) In nice weather you can enjoy this tasty Thai curry take-away at the patio tables outside.

★ Tin Angel MODERN AMERICAN $$
(http://thetinangel.com; 365 W 400 South; small plates & sandwiches $10-16, dinner mains $19-25; ☺ 11am-3pm & 5-10pm Mon-Sat) Using ingredients from local growers, the chef melds different cuisines to create fresh, new American flavors. Think wild boar ribs with gorgonzola gnocchi. Vintage china and local art lining the walls give this great little place an even more eclectic vibe.

Red Iguana MEXICAN $$
(www.rediguana.com; 736 W North Temple; mains $8-16; ☺ 11am-10pm) Ask for a sample plate of mole if you can't decide which of the seven chile- and chocolate-based sauces sounds best. Really, you can't go wrong with any of the thoughtfully flavored Mexican food at this always-packed, family-run restaurant.

Squatters Pub Brewery AMERICAN $$
(www.squatters.com; 147 W Broadway; dishes $10-22; ☺ 11am-midnight Sun-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) Come for an Emigration Pale Ale, stay for the blackened tilapia salad. The lively pub atmosphere here is always fun.

Copper Onion INTERNATIONAL $$$
(☎ 801-355-3282; www.thecopperonion.com; 111 E Broadway Ave; brunch & small plates $7-15, dinner mains $22-29; ☺ 11am-3pm & 5-10pm) Locals keep the Copper Onion bustling at lunch, at dinner, at weekend brunch, at happy hour in the bar... And for good reason: small plates like wagyu beef tartare and pasta carbonara call out to be shared. Design-driven rustic decor provides a convivial place to enjoy it all.

Takashi JAPANESE $$$
(☎ 801-519-9595; 18 W Market St; rolls $10-18, mains $18-30; ☺ 11:30am-2pm & 5:30-10pm Mon-Sat) The best of a number of surprisingly good sushi restaurants in landlocked Salt Lake; even LA restaurant snobs rave about the excellent rolls at oh-so-chic Takashi.

Drinking & Nightlife

Epic Brewing Company CAFE
(www.epicbrewing.com; 825 S State St; ☺ 11am-9pm Mon-Thu, 10am-11pm Fri & Sat, 11am-7pm Sun) Utah's first full-strength beer brewery. You have to order something small to eat (Utah law) at this small tasting counter, but then staff pour samples ($0.40 to $1) and full glasses of their 30 ales, IPAs, lagers and stouts.

Gracie's BAR
(326 S West Temple; ☺ 11am-2am) Even with two levels and four bars, this upscale hang-out still gets crowded. The two sprawling patios

CAN I GET A DRINK IN UTAH?

Absolutely. Although there are still a few unusual liquor laws on the books, regulations have relaxed somewhat in recent years. Private club memberships are no more: a 'bar' is now a bar (no minors allowed), and you don't have to order food to consume alcohol in one of them. These are few and far between though. Most establishments, even brewpubs, are 'restaurants', where you have to order something small to imbibe alcohol. Also note that not all restaurants have full liquor licenses; many sell only wine and beer.

Remaining rules to remember:

- ➔ You must be actually dining at a fully licensed restaurant to order any alcoholic drink there.
- ➔ Mixed drinks and wine are available only after noon. In bars and restaurants, beer can be served from 10am.
- ➔ Packaged liquor can only be sold at state-run liquor stores (closed on Sundays), some beer is sold in convenience stores.
- ➔ Most beer you get here does not exceed 3.2% alcohol content by weight (a typical Budweiser is 5%).

are the best place to kick back. Live music or DJs most nights.

Beerhive Pub PUB
(128 S Main St; ☺ noon-1am) More than 200 beer choices, including many Utah-local microbrews, are wedged into this small downtown bar.

Coffee Garden CAFE
(895 E 900 South; ☺ 6am-11pm Sun-Thu, 6am-midnight Fri & Sat; ☺) Amazing baked goods and great coffee in one of SLC's most character-filled neighborhood coffeehouses.

★ Entertainment

Music

A complete list of local music is available online at www.cityweekly.net. Orchestra, organ, choir and other LDS-linked performances are listed at www.mormontabernacle-choir.org.

Mormon Tabernacle Choir LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 801-570-0080; www.mormontabernaclechoir.org) FREE Hearing the world-renowned Mormon Tabernacle choir is a must-do during any SLC visit. A live, half-hour choir broadcast goes out every Sunday at 9:30am. Doors open at 8:30am and tickets are free, but guests must be seated by 9:15am.

September through November and January through May, attend the broadcast in person at the Tabernacle. From June to August and in December, to accommodate larger crowds, the choir performs at the 21,000-seat LDS Conference Center. Public rehearsals are held at the Tabernacle year round from 8pm to 9pm on Thursdays.

Theater

The Salt Lake City Arts Council provides a complete cultural events calendar on its website (www.slccgov.com/city-life/ec). Local venues include Abbravanel Hall (www.slccfa.org; 123 W South Temple St), Capitol Theater (<http://theatresaltlakecity.com>; 50 W 200 South) and the Rose Wagner Performing Arts Center (www.slccfa.org; 138 W 300 South). You can reserve through ArtTix (☎ 888-451-2787, 801-355-2787; www.arttix.org).

Sports

Energy Solutions Arena STADIUM
(☎ 801-355-7328; www.energysolutionsarena.com; 301 W South Temple St) Utah Jazz, the men's professional basketball team, play at this downtown stadium – as does the indoor soccer league. Concerts are held here, too.

THE BOOK OF MORMON, THE MUSICAL

Singing and dancing Mormon missionaries have been lighting up Broadway since 2011. But rumor has it that The Book of Mormon, the musical, may actually open in Salt Lake City before the 10-years-down-the-road date originally forecast. This light-hearted satire about brothers and sisters on their mission trip in Uganda came out of the comic minds that created the Avenue Q musical and the animated TV series South Park. No wonder people laughed them all the way to nine Tony Awards. The LDS church's official response? Actually quite measured, though it was made clear that their belief is that while the Book, the musical, can entertain you, the Book, the scripture, can change your life.

Maverik Center STADIUM
(☎ tickets 800-745-3000; www.maverikcenter.com; 3200 S Decker Lake Dr, West Valley City) The International Hockey League's Utah Grizzlies play 8.5 miles outside town.

🛍 Shopping

City Creek (p858) is the indoor-outdoor mall of choice for big-name-brand shopping downtown. A small but interesting array of boutiques line up along Broadway Avenue (300 South), between 100 and 300 East. A few crafty shops can be found on the 300 block of W Pierpont Avenue.

📍 Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Salt Lake Regional Medical Center (☎ 801-350-4111; www.saltlakeregional.com; 1050 E South Temple; ☺ emergency24hr)

INTERNET ACCESS

Main Library (www.slcp.org; 210 E 400 South; ☺ 9am-9pm Mon-Thu, 9am-6pm Fri & Sat, 1-5pm Sun; ☺) Free wi-fi and computer internet access.

MEDIA

City Weekly (www.cityweekly.net) Free alternative weekly with restaurant and entertainment listings.

Salt Lake Tribune (www.sltrib.com) Utah's largest-circulation paper; entertainment section lists eateries and events.

WORTH A TRIP

GREAT SALT LAKE

Once part of prehistoric Lake Bonneville, Great Salt Lake today covers 2000 sq miles and is far saltier than the ocean; you can easily float on its surface. The pretty, 15-mile-long Antelope Island State Park (☎ 801-773-2941; <http://stateparks.utah.gov>; Antelope Dr; day use per vehicle $9, tent & RV sites without hookups $13; ☀ 7am-10pm Jul-Sep, 7am-7pm Oct-Jun), 40 miles northwest of SLC, has nice hiking and the best beaches for lake swimming (though at low levels they're occasionally smelly). It's also home to one of the largest bison herds in the country. A basic campground operates year-round. Six of the 26 sites are available first-come, first-served, the rest by reservation.

MONEY

Wells Fargo (www.wellsfargo.com; 79 S Main St; ☀ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-3pm Sat) Currency-exchange services.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Public Lands Information Center (☎ 801-466-6411; www.publiclands.org; REI Store, 3285 E 3300 South; ☀ 10:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-1pm Sat) Recreation information for the Wasatch-Cache National Forest; located inside the REI store.

Visit Salt Lake (☎ 801-534-4900; www.visit-saltlake.com; visitor center 90 S West Temple, Salt Palace Convention Center; ☀ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun) Large office with lots of brochures and gift shop.

WEBSITES

Downtown SLC (www.downtownslc.org) Arts, entertainment and business information about the downtown core.

Getting There &amp; Away

AIR

A new terminal is in the planning stages, but for now the Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC; www.slcairport.com; 776 N Terminal Dr), 5 miles northwest of downtown, has mostly domestic flights except for a few jaunts to Canada and Mexico. Delta (☎ 800-221-1212; www.delta.com) is the main SLC carrier.

BUS

Greyhound (☎ 800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com; 300 S 600 West) connects SLC with Southwestern towns such as Las Vegas, NV ($86, eight hours), and Denver, CO ($114, 10 hours).

TRAIN

Traveling between Chicago and Oakland/Emeryville, the California Zephyr from Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com) stops daily at Union Pacific Rail Depot (340 S 600 West). Scheduled delays can be substantial, and trains depart at odd hours, but you can connect with destinations such as Denver ($150, 15 hours) and Reno, NV ($68, 10 hours).

Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

In 2013 the Utah Transit Authority (UTA; www.rideuta.com; one-way $2) completed a 6-mile TRAX light-rail extension that connects the airport with the Energy Solutions Arena stop (green line). Bus 453 also connects the airport with downtown.

Express Shuttle (☎ 800-397-0773; www.xpressshuttleutah.com) shared van service costs about $16 to downtown; a taxi will run you roughly $25

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Utah Transit Authority (p862) continues to expand its TRAX light-rail system. The seven stops in the center of downtown SLC are a fare-free zone and are on all three, color-coded lines. During ski season UTA buses serve the local ski resorts (one-way $4.50).

Park City &amp; the Wasatch Mountains

Utah has awesome skiing, some of the best anywhere in North America. Its fabulous low-density, low-moisture snow – between 300in and 500in annually – and thousands of acres of high-altitude terrain helped earn Utah the honor of hosting the 2002 Winter Olympics. The Wasatch Mountain Range, which towers over SLC, is home to numerous ski resorts, abundant hiking, camping and mountain biking – not to mention chichi Park City with its upscale amenities and famous film festival.

Salt Lake City Resorts

On the western side of the Wasatch mountain range, the four impressive snow-sport resorts in Little Cottonwood and Big Cottonwood Canyons lie within 40 minutes' drive of downtown SLC. All have lodging and dining facilities. A one- to 10-day Super Pass (www.visitsaltlakecity.com/ski/superpass; 3-day pass adult/child $219/114) offers ski access to all resorts (one per day) plus round-trip transportation from SLC.

For a full list of summer hiking and biking trails, see www.utah.com/saltlake/hiking.htm.

BIG COTTONWOOD CANYON

Solitude

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 801-534-1400; www.skisolitude.com; 12000 Big Cottonwood Canyon Rd; day lift ticket adult/child $72/46) Exclusive, European-style village surrounded by excellent snow-sport terrain. The Nordic Center has cross-country skiing in winter and nature and mountain-biking trails in summer.

Brighton Resort

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 800-873-5512; www.brightonresort.com; 12601 Big Cottonwood Canyon Rd; day lift ticket adult/child $57/31) Small but stellar slopes where all of SLC learned to ski and snowboard. Brighton is still an old-school, family and first-timer favorite.

LITTLE COTTONWOOD CANYON

Snowbird

SNOW SPORTS

(☎ 800-232-9542; www.snowbird.com; Hwy 210, Little Cottonwood Canyon; day lift ticket adult/child $65/42) Biggest and busiest of SLC's snow-sport resorts, Snowbird has all-round great snow riding – think steep and deep. Numerous lift-assist summer hiking trails; aerial tramway runs year-round.

Alta Ski Area

SKIING

(☎ 800-258-2716; www.alta.com; Highway 210, Little Cottonwood Canyon; day lift ticket adult/child $65/42) A laid-back choice exclusive to skiers. No snowboarders affecting snow cover here. Enjoy summer hiking among the hundreds of wildflowers in Albion Basin.

Park City

A mere 35 miles east of SLC via I-80, Park City (elevation 6900ft) first skyrocketed to international fame when it hosted the downhill, jumping and sledding events at the 2002 Winter Olympics. The Southwest's most popular ski destination is still home to the US ski team. Come summer, residents (population 7873) gear up for hiking and mountain biking among the nearby peaks.

The town itself – a silver-mining community during the 19th century – has an attractive main street lined with upscale galleries, shops, hotels, restaurants and bars. Despite the spread of prefab condos across the valley, the setting remains relatively charming. Winter (roughly late December through March) is high season. In other months, businesses may close various days and resorts operate limited facilities.

👁 Sights

Park City Museum

MUSEUM

(www.parkcityhistory.org; 528 Main St; adult/child $10/4; ☀ 10am-7pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) A well-staged, interactive museum touches on the highlights of the town's history as a mining boomtown, hippie hang-out and premier ski resort.

Utah Olympic Park

ADVENTURE SPORTS

(☎ 435-658-4200; <http://utaholympiclegacy.com>; 3419 Olympic Pkwy; tours adult/child $10/7; ☀ 10am-6pm, tours 11am-4pm) FREE Tour the 2002 Olympic ski-jumping, bobsledding, skeleton, Nordic combined and luge facilities, check out the free ski museum, and if you're lucky, watch the pros practice during a freestyle show (summer and winter; $10). Activities (rates $15 to $200 per ride) include a winter/summer bobsled, an alpine slide, zip lines and a chair lift.

Activities

In addition to snow sports, each area resort has posh lodging close to the slopes, abundant eateries and various summer activities, including mountain-bike rental and lift-assist hiking. More than 300 miles of interconnecting hiking/biking trails crisscross area mountains; maps are available from the visitor center or online at <http://mountaintrails.org>. Two of the newer trails to open, Armstrong (4 miles; Park City Mountain Resort

SCENIC DRIVE: MIRROR LAKE HIGHWAY

This alpine route, also known as Hwy 150, begins about 12 miles east of Park City in Kamas and climbs to elevations of more than 10,000ft as it winds the 65 miles into Wyoming. The highway provides breathtaking mountain vistas, passing scores of lakes, campgrounds and trailheads in the Uinta-Wasatch-Cache National Forest (www.fs.usda.gov/uwcnf). Note that sections may be closed to traffic into late spring due to heavy snowfall; check online.

trailhead) and Pinecone Ridge (4 miles) combine for excellent mountain biking.

Park City Mountain Resort

ADVENTURE SPORTS

(☎ 435-649-8111; www.parkcitymountainresort.com; 1310 Lowell Ave; day lift ticket adult/child $80/50) Family-friendly, super-central Park City Mountain Resort has activities galore: more than 3300 acres of skiable terrain, snow-tubing, an alpine coaster, year-round in-town lift, summer trails, a zip line...

Deer Valley

ADVENTURE SPORTS

(☎ 800-424-3337; www.deervalley.com; Deer Valley Dr; day lift ticket adult/child $100/64) The area's most exclusive resort is known as much for its superb dining and luxury hilltop hotels, such as the St Regis, as it is for the meticulously groomed, capacity-controlled slopes and ski valets. No snowboarding.

Canyons

ADVENTURE SPORTS

(☎ 888-226-9667; www.thecanyons.com; 4000 Canyons Resort Dr; day lift ticket adult/child $80/60) The largest resort in Utah, with a year-round gondola, encompasses nine mountain peaks, five bowls and three terrain parks. In summer there are guided hiking and mountain biking in addition to zip-line tours.

Festivals & Events

Sundance Film Festival

FILM

(☎ 888-285-7790; www.sundance.org/festival) Independent films, their makers, movie stars and fans fill the town to bursting for 10 days in late January. Passes, ticket packages and the few individual tickets sell out well in advance; plan ahead.

Sleeping

More than 100 condos, hotels and resorts rent rooms in Park City; none are dirt cheap. For complete listings, check www.visitparkcity.com. High-season winter rates are quoted below (minimum stays may be required); prices drop by half or more out of peak season. Better deals are to be found at chain motels at the intersection of I-40 and Hwy 248, and in SLC.

Chateau Apres Lodge

HOSTEL $

(☎ 800-357-3556, 435-649-9372; www.chateauapres.com; 1299 Norfolk Ave; dm $40, d/q $125/175; ☺) The only budget-ish accommodation in town is this very basic, 1963 lodge - with a 1st-floor dorm - near the town ski lift. Reserve ahead.

★ Old Town Guest House

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 800-290-6423, 435-649-2642; www.oldtownguesthouse.com; 1011 Empire Ave; r incl breakfast $169-199; ☺@☺) Grab the flannel robe, pick a paperback off the shelf and snuggle under a quilt on your lodgepole-pine bed or relax in the hot tub on the large deck at this comfy in-town B&B. The host will gladly provide space for your gear and give you the lowdown on the area's great outdoors.

Park City Peaks

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 800-333-3333, 435-649-5000; www.parkcitypeaks.com; 2121 Park Ave; r $149-249; ☺@☺☺) Hobnob with junior bobsledders and other US team hopefuls who stay at this hotel between downtown and Olympic Park. December through April, breakfast is included with the cushy contemporary rooms.

Sky Lodge

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(☎ 888-876-2525, 435-658-2500; www.thesky-lodge.com; 201 Heber Ave; ste $400-1000; ☺@☺☺) The urban-loft-like architecture containing the chic Sky Lodge suites both complements and contrasts with the three historic buildings that house the property's stellar restaurants. You can't be more stylish, or more central, if you stay here.

St Regis Deer Valley

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(☎ 866-932-7059, 435-940-5700; www.stregis-deervalley.com; 2300 Deer Valley Dr E; r $700-1300; ☺@☺☺) You have to ride a private funicular just to get up to the St Regis. So whether you're lounging by the outdoor fire pits, dining on an expansive terrace or peering out over your room's balcony rail, the views are sublime. The studied elegant rusticity here is the height of Deer Valley's luxury lodging.

Eating

Park City is not known for cheap eats, but it does have exceptional upscale dining; Deer Valley (p864) has some of the best resort restaurants. Pick up the menu guide put out by Park City Magazine (www.parkcitymagazine.com) for more. Note that from April through November restaurants reduce hours and may take extended breaks. Reservations are required for all top end ($$$) establishments.

Java Cow Coffee & Ice Cream

CAFE $

(402 Main St; dishes $3-8; ☺ 7am-10pm; ☺) Enjoy a scoop of site-made ice cream like Mooana (with organic banana chunks) along with your Ibis coffee at this always lively cafe. Sandwiches and crepes, too.

Uptown Fare

CAFE $

(227 Main St; sandwiches $6-11; ☺ 11am-3pm) Comforting house-roasted turkey sandwiches and homemade soups are served at this cozy cafe hidden below Treasure Mountain Inn.

★ Silver Star Cafe

NEW AMERICAN $$

(www.thesilverstarcafe.com; 1825 Three Kings Dr; breakfast & small plates $9-14, dinner mains $15-20; ☺ 8am-9pm) We can't decide if it's the inventive, hearty Western dishes or the perfect, out-of-the-way mountain-base location that first hooked us. Either way, we love kicking back on the sunny patio après ski or enjoying the singer-songwriter showcases.

Good Karma

FUSION $$

(www.goodkarmarestaurants.com; 1782 Prospector Ave; breakfast $7-12, mains $12-22; ☺ 7am-10pm) 🍃 Whenever possible, local and organic ingredients are used in the Indo-Persian meals, with an Asian accent. You'll recognize the place by the Tibetan prayer flags flapping out front.

Vinto

ITALIAN $$

(www.vinto.com; 900 Main St, Summit Watch Plaza; dishes $8-17; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Sat, 4-9pm Sun) Minimalist surrounds are suitably stylish for Main St. But the wood-fired pizzas and light, fresh Italian dishes, surprisingly, won't break your bank.

Riverhorse on Main

NEW AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 435-649-3536; http://riverhorseparkcity.com; 540 Main St; brunch $25-35, dinner mains $35-45; ☺ 5-10pm Mon-Thu, 5-11pm Fri & Sat, 11am-2:30pm & 5-10pm Sun) Consistently one of the town's top performers, garnering numerous awards for its upscale American dishes such as pistachio-covered Utah trout. Live music nightly in winter.

Wahso

ASIAN $$$

(☎ 435-615-0300; www.billwhiterestaurantgroup.com/wahso.html; 577 Main St; mains $30-50; ☺ 5:30-10pm Wed-Sun) Engagingly exotic. A see-and-be-seen crowd frequents this sophisticated Indochine fusion restaurant.

Drinking & Nightlife

Main St is where it's at, with half a dozen or more bars, clubs and pubs. In winter, there's action nightly – even restaurants have music. Outside peak season, the scene is week-ends-only. For listings, see www.thisweekin-parkcity.com.

DON'T MISS*ROBERT REDFORD'S SUNDANCE RESORT

Wind your way up narrow and twisting Hwy 92, for a truly special experience at Robert Redford's Sundance Resort (☎ 800-892-1600, 801-225-4107; www.sundanceresort.com; 9521 Alpine Loop Rd, Provo; r $199-500; ☺). 🍃 Even if a night's stay at this elegantly rustic, ecoconscious wilderness getaway is out of reach, you can have a stellar meal at the Treehouse Restaurant or deli, attend an outdoor performance at the amphitheater or watch pottery being made (and sold) at the art shack. Skiing, hiking and spa services are also on site. Just walking the grounds is an experience. The resort is 30 miles south of Park City and 50 miles south-east of SLC.

High West Distillery & Saloon

BAR

(703 Park St; ☺ 11am-10pm, tours 3pm & 4pm) A former livery and Model A-era garage is home to Park City's own microdistillery. Take a tour, sample some rye, order a whiskey lemonade and stay for supper.

No Name Saloon & Grill

BAR

(447 Main St; ☺ 11am-1am) There's a motorcycle hanging from the ceiling, Johnny Cash's 'Jackson' playing on the stereo and a waitress who may or may not be lying about the history of this memorabilia-filled bar.

i Information

Library (☎ 435-615-5600; http://parkcity-library.org; 1255 Park Ave; ☺ 10am-9pm Mon-Thu, 10am-6pm Fri & Sat, 1-5pm Sun; ☺) Free wi-fi and internet stations for use.

Main Street Visitor Center (☎ 435-649-7457; 528 Main St; ☺ 10am-7pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun) Small desk inside the busy Park City Museum.

Visitor Information Center (☎ 800-453-1360, 435-649-6100; www.visitparkcity.com; 1794 Olympic Pkwy; ☺ 9am-6pm; ☺) Vast visitor center with a coffee bar, terrace and incredible views of the mountains near Olympic Park. Visitor guides available online.

i Getting There & Around

Park City Transportation (☎ 800-637-3803, 435-649-8567; www.parkcitytransportation.com) and Canyon Transportation (☎ 800-255-1841; www.canyontransport.com) both run shared-van service ($40 one-way) and private-charter vans (from $100 for one to three people) to/from Salt Lake City airport. The latter also has ski transfers (from $50) that will take you from Park City to Salt Lake City resorts.

PC-SLC Connect (bus 902) takes you from central Salt Lake to the Park City Transit Center (www.parkcity.org; 558 Swede Alley). No need for a car once you get to Park City. The excellent transit system covers the town: accessing the historic district, Kimbell Junction and all three ski resorts. The free buses run one to six times an hour from 8am to 11pm (reduced frequency in summer). There's a downloadable route map online.

Northeastern Utah

Most people head northeast to explore Dinosaur National Monument, but this rural, oil-rich area also has some captivating wilderness terrain. All towns are a mile above sea level.

Vernal

As the closest town to Dinosaur National Monument, it's not surprising that Vernal welcomes you with a large pink dinobuddy. Since oil and gas production in the region has expanded, and the monument is fully operational after many dormant years, new things are popping up in town all the time.

The informative film at the Utah Field House of Natural History State Park Museum (<http://stateparks.utah.gov>; 496 E Main St; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat; 📺) is a great all-round introduction to Utah's dinosaurs. Interactive exhibits, video clips and, of course, giant fossils are wonderfully relevant to the area.

Don Hatch River Expeditions (☎ 435-789-4316, 800-342-8243; www.donhatchrivertrips.com; 221 N 400 East; 1 day adult/child $99/76) offers rapid-riding and gentler float trips on the nearby Green and Yampa Rivers.

Chain motels are numerous along Main St, but they book up with local workers – so don't expect a price break. Holiday Inn Express & Suites (☎ 435-789-4654; www.vernal-hotel.com; 1515 W Hwy 40; r incl breakfast $100-170, ste $130-200; 📺📺📺) has the most amenities, and Econo Lodge (☎ 435-789-2000; www.econolodge.com; 311 E Main St; r $69-99) will do in a bargain pinch. For something different, try Landmark Inn & Suites (☎ 888-738-1800, 435-781-1800; www.landmark-inn.com; 301 E 100 S; motel r incl breakfast $129-169, B&B $80-100; 📺), which has both an upscale motel and an off-site inn.

Backdoor Grille (87 W Main St; mains $5-8; ☺ 11am-6pm Mon-Sat) makes fresh sandwiches and cookies, which are great to take on a picnic; you can also pick up a hiking guide at the associated bookshop. For dinner, the Porch (www.facebook.com/theporchvernal; 251 E Main St; lunch $8-12, dinner $14-22; ☺ 11am-2pm & 5-9pm Mon-Fri, 5-9pm Sat) is the place to go for Southern US favorites. Don Pedro's Mexican Family Restaurant (<http://kicyads.com/don-pedros>; 3340 N Vernal Ave; dishes $8-15; ☺ 11am-2pm & 5-10pm), north of town, serves festive meals from south of the border.

Vernal Chamber of Commerce (☎ 800-477-5558; www.dinoland.com; 134 W Main; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) provides information on the entire region, including numerous driving-tour brochures for area rock art and dino tracks.

Dinosaur National Monument

Straddling the Utah–Colorado state line, Dinosaur National Monument (www.nps.gov/dino; off Hwy 40; 7-day per vehicle $10; ☺ 24hr) protects one of North America's largest dinosaur fossil beds, discovered here in 1909. Though both state's sections are beautiful, Utah has the bones. Don't miss the Quarry Exhibit (9am to 4pm), which is an enclosed, partially excavated wall of rock with more than 1600 bones protruding – quite the sight to see.

In summer, you will have to take a shuttle to see the quarry and hours may be extended a little; out of season you may be required to wait until a ranger-led caravan of cars is scheduled to drive up. From below the quarry parking lot, follow the Fossil Discovery Trail (2.2 miles round-trip) to see a few more giant femurs and such sticking out of the rock. The rangers' interpretive hikes are highly recommended. Plus there's easily-accessible Native American rock art to see on the Utah side.

In Colorado, the Canyon Area is at a higher elevation – with some stunning overlooks – but is closed to snow until late spring. Both sections have numerous hiking trails, interpretive driving tours (brochures for sale), Green or Yampa river access and campgrounds ($8 to $15 per tent and RV site). The Quarry portion of the park is 15 miles northeast of Vernal, UT, on Hwy 149. The Canyon Area is roughly 30 miles farther east, outside Dinosaur, CO.

There are two visitor centers: the Quarry Visitor Center (☎ 8am-6pm mid-May-late Sep, 9am-5pm late Sep-mid-May) and, in Colorado, the Canyon Area Visitor Center (☎ 970-374-3000; www.nps.gov/dino; Dinosaur, CO; ☎ 9am-5pm Jun-early Sep, 10am-4pm Sat & Sun only mid-April-May).

Flaming Gorge National Recreation Area

Named for its fiery red sandstone, this gorge-ous park has 375 miles of reservoir shoreline, part of the Green River system. Area resort activities at Red Canyon Lodge (☎ 435-889-3759; www.redcanyonlodge.com; 790 Red Canyon Rd, Dutch John; cabins $115-145) include fly-fishing, rowing, rafting and horseback riding, among others. Its pleasantly rustic cabins have no TVs. Flaming Gorge Resort (☎ 435-889-3773; www.flaminggorgeresort.com; 155 Greendale/Hwy 191, Dutch John; r $90-120, ste $120-160) has similar water-based offerings and rents motel rooms and suites. Both have decent restaurants.

Get general information at www.flaminggorgecountry.com and contact the USFS Flaming Gorge Headquarters (☎ 435-784-3445; www.fs.fed.us/r4/ashley; 25 W Hwy 43, Manila; ☎ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) for the public camping slowdown. The area's 6040ft elevation ensures pleasant summers - daytime highs average about 80°F.

Moab & Southeastern Utah

Snow-blanketed peaks in the distance provide stark contrast to the red-rock canyons that define this rugged corner of the Colorado Plateau. For 65 million years water has carved serpentine, sheer-walled gorges along the course of the Colorado and Green Rivers. Today these define the borders of expansive Canyonlands National Park (p870). At nearby Arches National Park (p869), erosion sculpted thousands of arches and fin rock formations. Base yourself between the parks in Moab, aka activity central - a town built for mountain biking, river running and four-wheel driving. In the far southeastern corner of the state, Ancestral Puebloan sites are scattered among remote and rocky wilderness areas and parks. Most notable is Monument Valley, which extends into Arizona.

Green River

The 'World's Watermelon Capital,' the town of Green River offers a good base for river running on the Green and Colorado Rivers. The legendary one-armed Civil War veteran, geologist and ethnologist John Wesley Powell first explored these rivers in 1869 and 1871. Learn about his amazing travels at the extensive John Wesley Powell River History Museum (www.jwprhm.com; 885 E Main St; adult/child $3/1; ☎ 8am-7pm Apr-Oct, 8am-4pm Nov-Mar), which also has exhibits on the Fremont Indians, geology and local history. The museum serves as the local visitor center.

Outfitters Holiday Expeditions (☎ 800-624-6323, 435-564-3273; www.holidayexpeditions.com; 10 Holiday River St; day trip adult/child $195/175) and Moki Mac River Expeditions (☎ 800-284-7280, 435-564-3361; www.mokimac.com; day trip $160) run one-day rafting trips in Westwater Canyon, as well as multiday excursions.

Family-owned, clean and cheerful, Robbers Roost Motel (☎ 435-564-3452; www.rrmotel.com; 325 W Main St; s $35, d $45; ☎ ☎) is a motorcourt budget-motel gem. Otherwise, there are numerous chain motels where W Main St (Business 70) connects with I-70. Residents and rafters alike flock to Ray's Tavern (25 S Broadway; dishes $8-26; ☎ 11am-10pm), the local beer joint, for the best hamburgers and fresh-cut French fries in Southeastern Utah.

Green River is the only stop in the area on the daily California Zephyr train run by Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com; 250 S Broadway) to Denver, CO ($90, 10¼ hours). Green River is 182 miles southeast of Salt Lake City and 52 miles northwest of Moab.

Moab

Southeastern Utah's largest community (population 5093) bills itself as the state's recreation capital, and... oh man, does it deliver. Scads of rafting and riding (mountain bike, horse, 4WD...) outfitters here make forays into surrounding public lands. Make this your base, too, and you can hike Arches or Canyonlands National Parks during the day, then come back to a comfy bed, a hot tub and your selection of surprisingly good restaurants at night. Do note that this alfresco adventure gateway is not a secret: the town is mobbed, especially during spring and fall events. If the traffic irritates you, remember that you can disappear into the vast surrounding desert in no time.

Activities

The Moab visitor center puts out several brochures on near-town rock art, hiking trails, driving tours, etc. It also keeps a list of the numerous area outfitters that offer half-day to multiday adventures (from $60 for a sunset 4WD tour to $170 for a white-water day on the river) that include transport, the activity and, sometimes, meals. Book ahead.

Outfitters

Sheri Griffith Expeditions RAFTING
(☎ 800-332-2439; www.griffithexp.com; 2231 S Hwy 191; day trip $170) Highly rated rafting outfitter; some multisport adventures.

Poison Spider Bicycles MOUNTAIN BIKING
(☎ 800-635-1792, 435-259-7882; www.poison-spiderbicycles.com; 497 N Main St; per day rental $45-70) Mountain- and road-bike rentals and tours; superior advice and service.

Farabee's Jeep Rental & Outlaw Tours ADVENTURE SPORTS
(☎ 877-970-5337; www.farabeesjeeprentals.com; 1125 S Highway 191; per day Jeep rental $150-225) Four-wheel-drive rentals, self-drive and fully guided off-road Jeep tours.

Moab Desert Adventures ADVENTURE SPORTS
(☎ 877-765-6622, 435-260-2404; www.moabdesertadventures.com; 415 N Main St; half-/full-day $165/285) Top-notch climbing tours scale area towers and walls; canyoneering and multisport packages available.

Red Cliffs Lodge HORSEBACK RIDING
(☎ 866-812-2002, 435-259-2002; www.redcliffs-lodge.com; Mile 14, Hwy 128; half-day $80) Daily half-day trail rides offered; advanced, open-range rides also available.

Sleeping

Most lodgings in town have bike storage facilities and hot tubs to soothe sore muscles. Despite having an incredible number of motels, the town does fill up; reservations are highly recommended March through October. Rates drop significantly in the off-season.

Individual BLM campsites (www.blm.gov/utah/moab; tent & RV sites $10-12; ☺ year-round) in the area are first-come, first-served. In peak season, check with the Moab Information Center to see which sites are full.

Adventure Inn MOTEL $
(☎ 866-662-2466, 435-259-6122; www.adventureinnmoab.com; 512 N Main St; r incl breakfast $80-105; ☺ Mar-Oct; ☹ ☹) A great little indie motel, the Adventure Inn has spotless rooms (some with refrigerators) and decent linens, as well as laundry facilities.

Cali Cochitta B&B $$
(☎ 888-429-8112, 435-259-4961; www.moab-dreaminn.com; 110 S 200 East; cottages incl breakfast $135-170; ☹ ☹) Make yourself at home in one of the charming brick cottages a short walk from downtown. A long wooden table on the patio provides a welcome setting for community breakfasts.

Sunflower Hill INN $$
(☎ 800-662-2786, 435-259-2974; www.sunflower-hill.com; 185 N 300 East; r incl breakfast $165-225; ☹ ☹ ☹) Relax amid the manicured gardens of a rambling 100-year-old farmhouse and an early-20th-century home. All 12 guest quarters have a sophisticated country sensibility.

Gonzo Inn MOTEL $$
(☎ 800-791-4044, 435-259-2515; www.gonzoinn.com; 100 W 200 South; r incl breakfast Apr-Oct $160-180; ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹) Brushed metal-and-wood headboards, concrete shower stalls and colorful retro patio furniture spruce up this desert-colored adobe motel.

Sorrel River Ranch LODGE $$$
(☎ 877-359-2715, 435-259-4642; www.sorrelriver.com; Mile 17, Hwy 128; r $420-530; ☹ ☹ ☹) Southeast Utah's full-service luxury lodge, set on 240 acres along the banks of the Colorado River, was originally an 1803 homestead. Horseback riding, spa services and gourmet restaurant on site.

Eating

There's no shortage of places at which to fuel up in Moab, from backpacker coffeehouses to gourmet dining rooms. Pick up the Moab Menu Guide (www.moabmenuguide.com) at area lodgings. Some restaurants close earlier, or on variable days, from December through March.

Love Muffin CAFE $
(www.lovemuffincafe.com; 139 N Main St; dishes $6-8; ☺ 7am-2pm; ☹) The largely organic menu at this vibrant cafe includes imaginative sandwiches, breakfast burritos and egg dishes such as 'Verde,' with brisket and slow-roasted salsa.

Milt's BURGERS $
(356 Mill Creek Dr; dishes $5-10; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat) A classic 1954 burger stand with fresh-cut fries and oh-so-thick milkshakes.

Miguel's Baja Grill MEXICAN $$ (www.miguelsbajagrill.com; 51 N Main St; mains $14-24; ☺ 5-10pm) Dine on fish tacos or fajitas, and sip margaritas, in the sky-lit breezeway patio lined with brightly painted walls.

Cowboy Grill AMERICAN $$
(☎ 435-259-2002; http://redcliffslodg.com; Mile 14, Hwy 128, Red Cliffs Lodge; breakfast & lunch $10-16, dinner $14-28; ☺ 6:30-10am, 11:30am-2pm & 5-10pm) Incredible Colorado River sunset views are to be had from the patio or behind the huge picture windows here. The hearty meat and seafood dishes aren't bad either.

★ Sabuku Sushi FUSION $$$
(☎ 435-259-4455; http://sabakusushi.com; 90 E Center St; rolls $12-18, small plates $14-19; ☺ 5-10pm Tue-Sun) Such impossibly fresh sushi is especially impressive this far into the desert. Try inventive rolls and small plates such as elk tataki (like carpaccio, with an Asian twist).

Desert Bistro SOUTHWESTERN $$$
(☎ 435-259-0756; http://desertbistro.com; 36 S 100 West; mains $20-50; ☺ 5:30-10pm Mar-Nov) Stylized preparations of game and seafood are the specialty at this welcoming white-tablecloth restaurant. Great wine list, too

Shopping

Look for art and photography galleries – along with T-shirt and Native American knickknacks – near the intersection of Center and Main Sts.

Arches Book Company & Back of Beyond BOOKS
(83 N Main St; ☺ 9am-8pm; ☎) Excellent, adjacent indie bookstores with extensive regional selection, including guides and maps.

Information

Most businesses and services, including fuel and ATMs, are along Hwy 191, also called Main St in the center of town.

BLM (Bureau of Land Management; ☎ 435-259-2100; www.blm.gov/utah/moab) Public-land phone and internet assistance only.

Grand County Public Library (www.moablibrary.org; 257 E Center St; per hr free; ☺ 9am-8pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat) Easy 15-minute internet; register for longer access.

Moab Information Center (www.discovermoab.com; cnr Main & Center Sts; ☺ 8am-7pm Mon-Sat, 9am-6pm Sun) Excellent source of information on area parks, trails, activities, camping and weather; big bookstore, too. Free brochures also available online.

Getting There & Around

Great Lakes Airlines (☎ 800-554-5111; www.flygreatlakes.com) has regularly scheduled flights from Canyonlands Airport (CNY; www.moabairport.com; off Hwy 191), 16 miles north of town via Hwy 191, to Denver, CO, and Prescott, AZ.

Moab Luxury Coach (☎ 435-940-4212; www.moabluxurycoach.com) operates van service to and from SLC ($160 one-way, 4¾ hour) and Grand Junction ($90 one-way, 3¾ hour).

Roadrunner Shuttle (☎ 435-259-9402; www.roadrunnershuttle.com) and Coyote Shuttle (☎ 435-260-2097; www.coyoteshuttle.com) offer on-demand Canyonlands Airport, hiker-biker and river shuttles.

Moab is 235 miles southeast of Salt Lake City, 150 miles northeast of Capital Reef National Park.

Arches National Park

One of the Southwest's most gorgeous parks, Arches (☎ 435-719-2299; www.nps.gov/arch; Hwy 191; 7-day per vehicle $10; ☺ 24hr, visitor center 7:30am-6:30pm Mar-Oct, 9am-4pm Nov-Feb) boasts the world's greatest concentration of sandstone arches – more than 2000, ranging from 3ft to 300ft wide at last count. Nearly one million visitors make the pilgrimage here, just 5 miles north of Moab, every year. Many noteworthy arches are easily reached by paved roads and relatively short hiking trails; much of the park can be covered in a day. To avoid crowds, consider a moonlight exploration, when it's cooler and the rocks feel ghostly.

Highlights include Balanced Rock, oft-photographed Delicate Arch (best captured in the late afternoon), spectacularly elongated Landscape Arch and popular Windows Arches. Reservations are necessary for the twice-daily ranger-led hikes into the maze-like fins of the Fiery Furnace; book at least a few days in advance – in person or online at www.recreation.gov.

Because of water scarcity and heat, few visitors backpack, though it is allowed with free permits (available from the visitor center). Advance reservations are a must for the

DON'T MISS

NEWSPAPER ROCK RECREATION AREA

This tiny, free recreation area showcases a single large sandstone rock panel packed with more than 300 petroglyphs attributed to Ute and Ancestral Puebloan groups during a 2000-year period. It's about 12 miles along Hwy 211 from Hwy 191, en route to the Needles section of Canyonlands National Park (8 miles further).

scenic Devils Garden Campground (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; tent & RV sites $20), 18 miles from the visitor center. Dates book up far in advance for stays from March to October. No showers, no hook-ups.

Canyonlands National Park

Red-rock fins, bridges, needles, spires, craters, mesas, buttes – Canyonlands (www.nps.gov/cany; 7-day per vehicle $10, tent & RV sites without hookups $10-15; ☎ 24hr) is a crumbling, decaying beauty, a vision of ancient earth. Roads and rivers make inroads into this high-desert wilderness stretching 527 sq miles, but much of it is still untamed. You can hike, raft and 4WD here but be sure that you have plenty of gas, food and water. Cataract Canyon offers some of the wildest white water in the West (find outfitters in Moab and Green River).

The canyons of the Colorado and Green Rivers divide the park into separate districts. The Island in the Sky district offers amazing overlooks. The visitor center (☎ 435-259-4712; Hwy 313, Canyonlands National Park; ☎ visitor center 8am-6pm Mar-Oct, 9am-4pm Nov-Feb) is 32 miles northwest of Moab. Our favorite short hike there is the half-mile loop to oft-photographed Mesa Arch, a slender, cliff-hugging span framing a picturesque view of Washer Woman Arch and Buck Canyon. Drive a bit further to reach the Grand View Overlook trail; the path follows the canyon's edge and ends at a praise-your-maker precipice. Wilder and more far-flung, the Needles section is ideal for backpacking and off-roading. To reach the visitor center (☎ 435-259-4711; Hwy 211; ☎ 8am-6pm Mar-Oct, 9am-4:30pm Nov-Feb), follow Hwy 191 south and Hwy 211 west, 40 miles from Moab. Both sections have small, basic campgrounds (no showers) that are available first-come, first served.

In addition to normal entrance fees, advance-reservation permits ($10 to $30) are required for backcountry camping, 4WD trips and river trips. For more, contact the Backcountry Reservations Office (☎ 435-259-4351; http://www.nps.gov/cany/planyourvisit/backcountrypermits.htm; Canyonlands National Park).

Dead Horse Point State Park

Tiny but stunning Dead Horse Point State Park (www.stateparks.utah.gov; Hwy 313; park day-use per vehicle $10, tent & RV sites $20; ☎ park 6am-10pm, visitor center 8am-6pm Mar-Oct, 9am-4pm Nov-Feb) has been the setting for numerous movies, including scenes from Mission Impossible II and Thelma & Louise. Located en route to the Needles Section of Canyonlands NP, the park is an easy stop off Hwy 313. Mesmerizing views are worth the detour: look out at red-rock canyons rimmed with white cliffs, the Colorado River, Canyonlands and the distant La Sal Mountains. The 21-site campground has limited water (bringing your own is highly recommended); no showers, no hookups. Reserve ahead.

Bluff

One hundred miles south of Moab, this tiny tot town (population 258) makes a comfortable, laid-back base for exploring the desolately beautiful southeastern corner of Utah. Bluff sits surrounded by redrock and public lands near the junction of Hwys 191 and 162, along the San Juan River. The settlement was founded by Mormon pioneers in 1880. Other than a trading post and a couple of places to eat or sleep, there's not much town.

For backcountry tours that access rock art and ruins, hire Far Out Expeditions (☎ 435-672-2294; www.faroutexpeditions.com; half-day from $125) to lead a day or multiday hike into the remote region. A rafting trip with Wild Rivers Expeditions (☎ 800-422-7654; www.riversandruins.com; 101 Main St; day trip adult/child $175/133), a history and geology-minded outfitter, also includes ancient site visits.

The hospitable Recapture Lodge (☎ 435-672-2281; www.recapturelodge.com; Hwy 191; r incl breakfast $70-90; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) is a rustic, cozy place to stay. Owners sell maps and know the region inside and out; you can follow trails from here to the river. Also nice are the spacious log rooms at the Desert Rose Inn (☎ 888-475-7673, 435-672-2303; www.desert-roseinn.com; Hwy 191; r $105-119, cabins $139-179; 🍷 📶 📶).

Artsy Comb Ridge Coffee (www.comb-ridgecoffee.com; 680 S Hwy 191; dishes $3-7; ☺ 7am-5pm Tue-Sun, varies Nov-Feb; ☕) serves espresso, muffins and sandwiches inside a timber and adobe cafe. For lunch and dinner, the organic-minded San Juan River Kitchen (www.sanjuanriverkitchen.com; 75 E Main St; mains $14-20; ☺ 5:30-10pm Tue-Sat) offers regionally sourced, inspired Mexican American dishes.

Hovenweep National Monument

Beautiful, little-visited Hovenweep (www.nps.gov/hove; Hwy 262; park 7-day per vehicle $6, tent & RV sites $10; ☺ park dusk-dawn, visitor center 8am-6pm Jun-Sep, 9am-5pm Oct-May), meaning ‘deserted valley’ in the Ute language, contains impressive towers and granaries that are part of prehistoric Ancestral Puebloan sites. The Square Tower Group is accessed near the visitor center; other sites require long hikes. The campground has 31 basic, first-come, first-served sites (no showers, no hookups). The main access is east of Hwy 191 on Hwy 262 via Hatch Trading Post, more than 40 miles northeast of Bluff.

Monument Valley

Twenty-five miles west from Bluff, after the village of Mexican Hat (named for an easy-to-spot sombrero-shaped rock), Hwy 163 winds southwest and enters the Navajo Indian reservation. Thirty miles south, the incredible mesas and buttes of Monument Valley rise up. Most of the area, including the tribal park with a 17-mile unpaved driving loop circling the massive formations, is in Arizona (p849).

Natural Bridges National Monument

Fifty-five miles northwest of Bluff, this really remote monument (www.nps.gov/nabr; Hwy 275; park 7-day per vehicle $6, tent & RV sites $10; ☺ 24hr, visitor center 8am-6pm May-Sep, 9am-5pm Oct-Apr) protects a white sandstone canyon (it’s not red!) containing three impressive and easily accessible natural bridges. The oldest, the Owachomo Bridge, spans 180ft but is only 9ft thick. The flat 9-mile Scenic Drive loop is ideal for overlooking. The campground has 13 basic sites (no showers, no hookups) that are available on a first-come, first-served basis. There is some primitive overflow camping space, but be aware that there are no services before Blanding (40 miles east).

Zion & Southwestern Utah

Local tourist boards call it ‘color country,’ but the cutesy label hardly does justice to the eye-popping hues that saturate the landscape. The deep-crimson canyons of Zion, the delicate pink-and-orange minarets at Bryce Canyon, the swirling yellow-white domes of Capitol Reef – the land is so spectacular that located here are three national parks and the gigantic Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument (GSENM).

Capitol Reef National Park

Not as crowded as its fellow parks but equally scenic, Capitol Reef (☎ 435-425-3791, ext 4111; www.nps.gov/care; cnr Hwy 24 & Scenic Dr; admission free, 7-day scenic drive per vehicle $5, tent & RV sites $10; ☺ 24hr, visitor center & scenic drive 8am-6pm Apr-Oct, to 4:30pm Nov-Mar) contains much of the 100-mile Waterpocket Fold, created 65 million years ago when the earth’s surface buckled up and folded, exposing a cross-section of geologic history that is downright painterly in its colorful intensity. Hwy 24 cuts grandly through the park, but

i ELEVATION MATTERS

As elsewhere, southern Utah is generally warmer than northern Utah. But before you go making any assumptions about weather, check the elevation of your destination. Places less than an hour apart may have several thousand feet of elevation – and 20°F temperature – difference.

- ➔ St George (3000ft)
- ➔ Zion National Park – Springdale entrance (3900ft)
- ➔ Cedar Breaks National Monument (10,000ft)
- ➔ Bryce National Park Lodge (8100ft)
- ➔ Moab (4026ft)
- ➔ Salt Lake City (4226ft)
- ➔ Park City (7100ft)

make sure to take the scenic drive south, which passes through orchards – a legacy of Mormon settlement. In season, you can freely pick cherries, peaches and apples, as well as stop by the historic Gifford Farmhouse to see an old homestead and buy fruit-filled minipies. The shady, green campground (no showers, no hookups) is first-come, first-served; it fills early spring through fall.

Torrey

Just 15 miles west of Capital Reef, the small pioneer town of Torrey serves as the base for most national park visitors. In addition to a few Old West–era buildings, there are a dozen or so restaurants and motels.

Western-themed on the outside, Austin's Chuckwagon Motel (☎ 435-425-3335; www.austinschuckwagonmotel.com; 12 W Main St; r $75-85, cabins $135; ☺ Mar-Oct; ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹) has nice, clean, slightly characterless guest rooms on the inside. Note that budget digs are over the general store, where you can grab supplies or sandwiches.

Dressed with country elegance, each airy room at the 1914 Torrey Schoolhouse B&B (☎ 435-633-4643; www.torreyschoolhouse.com; 150 N Center St; r incl breakfast $118-148; ☺ Apr-Oct; ☹ ☹) has a story to tell. (Butch Cassidy may have attended a town dance here.) After consuming the full gourmet breakfast, laze in the garden or the huge 1st-floor lounge before you head out hiking.

Whenever possible, Capitol Reef Cafe (☎ 435-425-3271; www.capitolreeffinn.com; 360 W Main St; breakfast & lunch $6-12, dinner $16-22; ☺ 7am-9pm Apr-Oct) uses local and organic ingredients in its meals. Homemade pies are a hit, but so are healthier dishes like trout. At this writing, the renowned local restaurant, Cafe Diablo (☎ 435-425-3070; http://cafediabolo.net; 599 W Main St; lunch $10-14, dinner $22-40; ☺ 11:30am-10pm mid-Apr-Oct; ☹) was undergoing an ownership change.

If you want to explore further or find local outfitters, contact the Wayne County Travel Council (☎ 800-858-7951, 435-425-3365; www.capitolreef.org; cnr Hwys 24 & 12; ☺ noon-7pm Mon-Sat Apr-Oct).

Boulder

Though the tiny outpost of Boulder (www.boulderutah.com), population 227, is just 32 miles south of Torrey on Hwy 12, you have to cross over Boulder Mountain to get there. The area is so rugged and isolated that a paved Hwy 12 didn't connect through until 1985. From here, the attractive Burr Trail Rd heads east across the northeastern corner of the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument, eventually winding up on a gravel road that leads either up to Capital Reef or down to Bullfrog Marina on Lake Powell.

To explore area canyons and rock art, consider a one-day (pet-friendly) trek with knowledgeable Earth Tours (☎ 435-691-1241; www.earth-tours.com; trips per person from $150; ☺ Mar-Oct; ☹). The small but excellent Anasazi State Park Museum (www.stateparks.utah.gov; Main St/Hwy 12; admission $5; ☺ 8am-6pm Mar-Oct, 9am-5pm Nov-Apr) curates artifacts and a Native American site inhabited from AD 1130 to 1175. Get information on area public lands inside the museum, at the GSENM Interagency Desk.

Rooms at Boulder Mountain Lodge (☎ 435-335-7460; www.boulder-utah.com; 20 N Hwy 12; r $110-175; ☹ @ ☹) are plush, but it's the 15-acre wildlife sanctuary setting that's unsurpassed. An outdoor hot tub with mountain views is a particularly soothing spot to bird-watch. The lodge's destination restaurant, Hell's Backbone Grill (☎ 435-335-7464; http://hellsbackbonegrill.com; 20 N Hwy 12, Boulder Mountain Lodge; breakfast $8-12, lunch $12-18, dinner $18-27; ☺ 7:30-11:30am & 5-9:30pm Mar-Oct) serves soulful, earthy preparations of regionally inspired and sourced cuisine. Book ahead.

Organic vegetable tarts, eclectic burgers and scrumptious homemade desserts at Burr Trail Grill & Outpost (http://burtrailgrill.com; cnr Hwy 12 & Burr Trail Rd; dishes $8-18; ☺ grill 11am-2:30pm & 5-9:30pm, outpost 7:30am-8pm Mar-Oct; ☹) rival dishes at the more famous Hell's Backbone Grill nearby. You'll also find a coffee shop and a gallery.

Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument

The 2656-sq-mile Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument (GSENM; www.ut.blm.gov/monument; ☺ 24hr) FREE covers more territory than Delaware and Rhode Island combined. It sprawls between Capitol Reef National Park, Glen Canyon National Recreation Area and Bryce Canyon National Park. The nearest services, and GSENM visitor centers, are in Boulder and Escalante on Hwy 12 in the north, and Kanab on US 89 in the south. Otherwise, infrastructure is minimal, leaving a vast, uninhabited canyonland full of 4WD roads that call to adventurous travelers who have the time, equipment and knowledge to explore. Be warned: this waterless region was so inhospitable that it was the last to be mapped in the continental US.

A 6-mile round-trip to the falls at Lower Calf Creek (Mile 75, Hwy 12; day use $2, tent & RV sites $7; ☀ day use dawn-dusk), between Boulder and Escalante, is the most accessible and most used trail in the park. The 13 popular creekside campsites (no showers, no hookups) fill fast; no reservations taken.

Escalante

This national monument gateway town of 792 people is the closest thing to a metropolis for miles and miles. It's a good place to base yourself – or to stock up and map it out – before venturing into the adjacent GSENM. The Escalante Interagency Office (☎ 435-826-5499; www.ut.blm.gov/monument; 775 W Main St; ☀ 8am-4:30pm daily Apr-Sep, Mon-Fri Oct-Mar) is a superb resource center with complete information on all monument and forest service lands in the area. Escalante is 30 slow and windy miles from Boulder and 65 from Torrey, near Capital Reef National Park.

Escalante Outfitters & Cafe (☎ 435-826-4266; www.escalanteoutfitters.com; 310 W Main St; ☀ 8am-9pm) is a traveler's oasis: the bookstore sells maps, guides, camping supplies – and liquor(!). The pleasant cafe is the place for homemade breakfast, pizzas and salads. It also rents out tiny, rustic cabins ($45) and mountain bikes (from $35 per day). Long-time area outfitter Excursions of Escalante (☎ 800-839-7567; www.excursionsofescalante.com; 125 E Main St; full-day from $145; ☀ 8am-6pm) leads canyoneering, climbing and photo hikes; it, too, has a cafe on site.

There are a number of decent lodgings in town, including Canyons Bed & Breakfast (☎ 866-526-9667, 435-826-4747; www.canyonsbnb.com; 120 E Main St; r incl breakfast $135-165; 🏠 🍷) with upscale cabin-rooms that surround a shady courtyard, and the Circle D Motel (☎ 435-826-4297; www.escalantecircledmotel.com; 475 W Main St; r $65-75; 🏠 🍷 🍷), an older-but-updated budget motel with a friendly proprietor and a full-service restaurant.

Kodachrome Basin State Park

Dozens of red, pink and white sandstone chimneys highlight this colorful state park (☎ 435-679-8562; www.stateparks.utah.gov; off

SCENIC DRIVE: HIGHWAY 12

Arguably Utah's most diverse and stunning route, Highway 12 Scenic Byway (http://scenicbyway12.com) winds through rugged canyonland on a 124-mile journey west of Bryce Canyon to near Capitol Reef. The section between Escalante and Torrey traverses a moonscape of sculpted slickrock, crosses narrow ridgebacks and climbs over an 11,000ft mountain.

Cottonwood Canyon Rd; day-use per vehicle $6, tent & RV sites with/without hookups $25/16; ☀ day use 6am-10pm), named for its photogenic landscape by the National Geographic Society. Some of the developed campsites (showers available) at the campground can be reserved online. Horseback riding and cabin concessions also on-site.

Bryce Canyon National Park

The Grand Staircase, a series of steplike uplifted rock layers elevating north from the Grand Canyon, culminates at this rightly popular national park (☎ 435-834-5322; www.stateparks.utah.gov; Hwy 63; 7-day vehicle pass $25, tent & RV sites without hookups $15; ☀ 24hr; visitor center 8am-8pm May-Sep, to 4:30pm Oct-Apr) in the Pink Cliffs formation. It's full of wondrous sorbet-colored pinnacles and points, steeples and spires, and totem-pole-shaped 'hoodoo' formations. The 'canyon' is actually an amphitheater eroded from the cliffs. From Hwy 12, turn south on Hwy 63; the park is 50 miles southwest of Escalante.

Rim Road Scenic Drive (8000ft) travels 18 miles, roughly following the canyon rim past the visitor center, the lodge, incredible overlooks (don't miss Inspiration Point) and trailheads, ending at Rainbow Point (9115ft). From early May through early October, a free shuttle bus runs (8am until at least 5:30pm) from a staging area just north of the park to as far south as Bryce Amphitheater.

The park has two camping areas, both of which accept some reservations through the park website. Sunset Campground is bit more wooded, but is not open year round. Coin-op laundry and showers are available at the general store near North Campground. During summer, remaining first-come sites fill before noon.

The 1920s Bryce Canyon Lodge (☎ 877-386-4383, 435-834-8700; www.brycecanyon-forever.com; Hwy 63, Bryce Canyon National Park; r & cabins $175-200; ☺ Apr-Oct; Ⓜ) exudes rustic mountain charm. Rooms are in modern hotel-style units, with up-to-date furnishings, and thin-walled duplex cabins with gas fireplaces and front porches. No TVs. The lodge restaurant (☎ 435-834-8700; Bryce Canyon National Park; breakfasts $6-12, lunch & dinner $18-40; ☺ 7-10:30am, 11:30am-3pm & 5:30-10pm Apr-Oct) is excellent, if expensive.

Just north of the park boundaries, Ruby's Inn (☎ 435-834-5341; www.rubysin.com; 1000 S Hwy 63; r $115-170, tent sites $26-55, RV sites with hookups $35-60; Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ) is a town as much as it is a resort complex. Choose from several motel lodging options, plus a campground, before you take a helicopter ride, watch a rodeo, admire Western art, wash laundry, shop for groceries, fill up with gas, dine at one of several restaurants and then post a letter about it all.

Eleven miles east of the park on Hwy 12, the small town of Tropic (www.brycecanyoncountry.com/tropic.html) has additional food and lodging.

Kanab

At the southern edge of Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument, vast expanses of rugged desert surround remote Kanab (population 3564). Western filmmakers made dozens of films here from the 1920s to the 1970s, and the town still has an Old West movie-set feel to it.

The Kanab GSENM Visitor Center (☎ 435-644-1300; www.ut.blm.gov/monument; 745 E Hwy 89; ☺ 8am-4:30pm) provides monument information; Kane County Office of Tourism (☎ 800-733-5263, 435-644-5033; www.kaneutah.com; 78 S 100 East; ☺ 9am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat) focuses on town and movie sites. John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara and Gregory Peck are a few Hollywood notables who slumbered at the somewhat-dated Parry Lodge (☎ 888-289-1722, 435-644-2601; www.parrylodge.com; 89 E Center St; r 70-125; Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ).

A colorful, retro-cool style pervades all 13 rooms at Quail Park Lodge (☎ 435-215-1447; www.quailparklodge.com; 125 N 300 W; r $115-159; Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ), a refurbished 1963 motorcourt motel. Stay there, then eat downtown at Rocking V Cafe (www.rockingvcafe.com; 97 W Center St; lunch $9-14, dinner $15-29; ☺ 11:30am-10pm; 🍷), where fresh ingredients star in dishes such as buffalo tenderloin and curried quinoa.

Zion National Park

Entering Zion National Park (www.nps.gov/zion; Hwy 9; 7-day per vehicle $25; ☺ 24hr; Zion Canyon visitor center 8am-7:30pm Jun-Aug, closes earlier rest of year) from the east along Hwy 9, the route rolls past yellow sandstone and Checkerboard Mesa before reaching an impressive gallery-dotted tunnel and 3.5 miles of switchbacks going down in red-rock splendor. More than 100 miles of park trails here offer everything from leisurely strolls to wilderness backpacking and camping.

If you've time for only one activity, the 6-mile Scenic Drive, which pierces the heart of Zion Canyon, is it. From April through October, taking a free shuttle from the visitor center is required, but you can hop off and on at any of the scenic stops and trailheads along the way. The famous Angels Landing Trail is a strenuous, 5.4-mile vertigo-inducer (1400ft elevation gain, with sheer drop-offs), but the views of Zion Canyon are phenomenal. Allow four hours round-trip.

For the 16-mile backpacking trip down through the Narrows (June to September only), you need a hiker shuttle (book through Zion Adventure Company (p875) and a back-country permit from the visitor center, which in season requires advance reservations available on the park website. You can get part of the experience by walking up from Riverside Walk 5 miles to Big Springs, where the canyon walls narrow and day trips end. Remember, in either direction, you're hiking in the Virgin River for most of the time.

Reserve far ahead and request a riverside site in the cottonwood-shaded Watchman Campground (☎ for reservations 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; Hwy 9, Zion National Park; tent sites $16, RV sites with hookups $18-20) by the canyon. Adjacent South Campground (Hwy 9, Zion National Park; tent & RV sites without hookups $16; ☺ early Mar-Oct) is first-come, first-served only. Together these two campgrounds have almost 300 sites.

Smack in the middle of the scenic drive, rustic Zion Lodge (☎ 435-772-7700, 888-297-2757; www.zionlodge.com; Zion Canyon Scenic Dr; r $185, cabins $195, ste $225; Ⓜ Ⓜ Ⓜ) has 81 well-appointed motel rooms and 40 cabins with gas fireplaces. All have wooden porches with stellar red-rock cliff views, but no TVs. The lodge's full-service dining room, Red Rock Grill (☎ 435-772-7760; Zion Canyon Scenic Dr, Zion Lodge; breakfast & sandwiches $8-14, dinner $18-30; ☺ 6:30-10:30am, 11:30am-3pm & 5-10pm Mar-Oct, hours vary Nov-Feb), has similarly amazing views. Just outside the park, the town of Springdale offers many more services.

Note that you must pay an entrance fee to drive on public Hwy 9 through the park, even if you are just passing through. Motorhome drivers are also required to pay a $15 escort fee to cross through the 1.1-mile Zion-Mt Carmel tunnel at the east entrance.

Springdale

Positioned at the main south, entrance to Zion National Park, Springdale is a perfect little park town. Stunning red cliffs form the backdrop to eclectic cafes, restaurants are big on organic ingredients, and artist galleries are interspersed with indie motels and B&Bs.

In addition to hiking trails in the national park, you can take outfitter-led climbing, canyoneering, mountain biking and 4WD trips (from $140 per person, per half-day) on adjacent BLM lands. All the excellent excursions from Zion Rock & Mountain Guides (☎ 435-772-3303; www.zionrockguides.com; 1458 Zion Park Blvd; ☺ 8am-8pm Mar-Oct, hours vary Nov-Feb), including family trips, are private; solo travelers may be able to save money by joining an existing group through Zion Adventure Company (☎ 435-772-1001; www.zionadventures.com; 36 Lion Blvd; ☺ 8am-8pm Mar-Oct, 9am-noon & 4-7pm Nov-Feb). Both offer Narrows outfitting and have hiker/biker shuttles; the latter also offers river tubing in summer.

Springdale has an abundance of good restaurants and nice lodging options. The updated motorcourt rooms at Canyon Ranch Motel (☎ 866-946-6276, 435-772-3357; www.canyonranchmotel.com; 668 Zion Park Blvd; r $99-119, apt $120-140; 🏠 🚰 🚰) ring a shady lawn with picnic tables and swings. Five flower-filled acres spill down to the Virgin River bank at Cliffrose Lodge (☎ 800-243-8824, 435-772-3234; www.cliffroselodge.com; 281 Zion Park Blvd; r $159-189; 🏠 🚰 🚰).

Of the area B&Bs, Zion Canyon B&B (☎ 435-772-9466; www.zioncanyonbandb.com; 101 Kokopelli Circle; r incl breakfast $135-185; 🏠 🚰) is the most traditional, serving a full, sit-down repast. We like the Red Rock Inn (☎ 435-772-3139; www.redrockinn.com; 998 Zion Park Blvd; cottages incl breakfast $127-132; 🏠 🚰) for its individual, upscale cottages and pastry-chef-quality goodies delivered to your door. The owners' creative collections of art and artifact enliven the 1930s bungalow that is Under the Eaves Inn (☎ 435-772-3457; www.undertheeaves.com; 980 Zion Park Blvd; r incl breakfast $110-160, ste $185; 🏠 🚰); the morning meal is a gift certificate to a local restaurant.

For a coffee and trés bonnes crêpes – both sweet and savory – make Meme's Cafe (www.facebook.com/memescafezion#!; 975 Zion Park Blvd; dishes $6-10; ☺ 7am-9pm) your first stop of the day. It also serves paninis and waffles, and in season has live music and barbecues on the patio. In the evening, the Mexican-tiled patio with twinkly lights at Oscar's Cafe (www.cafeoscars.com; 948 Zion Park Blvd; breakfast & burgers $10-15, dinner mains $16-30; ☺ 8am-10pm) and the rustic Bit & Spur Restaurant & Saloon (www.bitandspur.com; 1212 Zion Park Blvd; mains $16-28; ☺ 5-10pm daily Mar-Oct, 5-10pm Thu-Sat Nov-Feb) are local-favored places to hang out, eat and drink.

Zion Canyon Visitors Bureau (☎ 888-518-7070; www.zionpark.com) does not have a physical office; research or request a town guide online. A free Springdale menu magazine, available at local lodgings, comes out every spring.

St George

Nicknamed 'Dixie' for its warm weather and southern location, St George (population 75,561) is popular with retirees. This spacious Mormon town, with an eye-catching temple and pioneer buildings, is a possible stop between Las Vegas (120 miles) and Salt

IF YOU HAVE A FEW MORE DAYS: CEDAR CITY & BREAKS

At 10,000ft, the summer-only road to Cedar Breaks National Monument (☎ 435-586-0787; www.nps.gov/cebr; Hwy 148; 7-day per person $4; ☺ 24hr, visitor center 9am-6pm mid-Jun–mid-Oct) is one of the last to open after winter snow. But it's worth the wait for the amazing amphitheater overlooks that rival those of Bryce Canyon. Nearby Cedar City (www.scenicssouthernutah.com) is known for its four-month-long Shakespeare Festival and an abundance of B&Bs. The town is on I-15, 52 miles north of St George and 90 miles west of Bryce Canyon; the national monument is 22 miles northeast of the town.

Lake City (304 miles) – or en route to Zion National Park. The 15,000-sq-ft collection of in-situ dino tracks and exhibits at Dinosaur Discovery Site (www.dinotrax.com; 2200 E Riverside Dr; adult/child $6/$3; ☀️ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat) are worth a detour.

Nearly every chain motel known to man is represented somewhere in St George; they're your best bet if you're looking for lodging cheaper than what's available 40 miles (one hour) east in Springdale. Best Western Coral Hills (☎️ 800-542-7733, 435-673-4844; www.coralhills.com; 125 E St George Blvd; r incl breakfast $80-139; 🏠📶🚰) is walking distance from downtown restaurants and historic buildings. Two lovely, late-1800 houses contain Seven Wives Inn (☎️ 800-600-3737, 435-628-3737; www.sevenwivesinn.com; 217 N 100 West; r & ste incl breakfast $99-185; 🏠📶🚰), a B&B with a small, central swimming pool.

The Utah Welcome Center (☎️ 435-673-4542; <http://travel.utah.gov>; 1835 S Convention Center Dr, Dixie Convention Center; ☀️ 8:30am-5:30pm), off I-15, addresses statewide queries.

NEW MEXICO

It's called the Land of Enchantment for a reason. The play of sunlight on juniper-speckled hills that roll to infinity; the traditional Hispanic mountain villages with pitched tin roofs atop old adobe homes; the gentle magnificence of the 13,000ft Sangre de Cristo Mountains; plus volcanoes, river canyons and vast high desert plains beneath an even vaster sky – the beauty sneaks up on you, then casts a powerful spell. The culture, too, is alluring, with silhouetted crosses topping historic mud-brick churches, ancient and living Indian pueblos, chili-smothered enchiladas, real-life cowboys and a vibe of otherness that makes the state feel like it might be a foreign country.

The legend of Billy the Kid lurks around every corner. Miracle healings bring flocks of faithful pilgrims to Chimayo. Bats plumb the ethereal corners of Carlsbad Caverns. Something crashed near Roswell...

Maybe New Mexico's indescribable charm is best expressed in the captivating paintings of Georgia O'Keeffe, the state's patron artist. She herself exclaimed, on her very first visit: 'Well! Well! Well!...This is wonderful! No one told me it was like this.'

But seriously, how could they?

History

People roamed the land here as far back as 10,500 BC, but by Coronado's arrival in the 16th century, pueblos (Native American villages) were the dominant communities. Santa Fe was crowned the colonial capital in 1610, after which Spanish settlers and farmers fanned out across northern New Mexico, and missionaries began their often violent efforts to convert the area's Pueblos to Catholicism. Following a successful revolt in 1680, Native Americans occupied Santa Fe until 1692, when Diego de Vargas recaptured the city.

In 1851 New Mexico became US territory. Native American wars, settlement by cowboys and miners and trade along the Santa Fe Trail further transformed the region, and the arrival of the railroad in the 1870s created an economic boom.

Painters and writers set up art colonies in Santa Fe and Taos in the early 20th century. In 1943 a scientific community descended on Los Alamos and developed the atomic bomb. For the past few years, New Mexico has been hit hard by drought.

i Information

Where opening hours are listed by season (not month), readers should call first, as hours can fluctuate based on weather, budgets or for no reason at all.

New Mexico Route 66 Association (www.rt66nm.org) Information on the famous path through the state.

New Mexico State Parks Division (☎️ 888-667-2757; www.emnrd.state.nm.us/SPD) Info on state parks, with a link to camping reservations.

Public Lands Information Center (☎️ 877-661-8946; www.publiclands.org) Camping and recreation information.

Albuquerque

This bustling crossroads has a sneaky charm, one based more on its locals than big-city sparkle. The citizens here are proud of their city, and folks are more than happy to share history, highlights and must-try restaurants – which makes the state's most populous city much more than a dot on the Route 66 map.

Centuries-old adobes line the lively Old Town area, and the shops, restaurants and bars in the hip Nob Hill zone are all within easy walking distance of each other. Ancient petroglyphs cover rocks just outside town while modern museums explore space and nuclear energy. There's a distinctive and vibrant mix of university students, Native Americans, Hispanics, gays and lesbians. You'll find square dances and yoga classes flyered with equal enthusiasm, and ranch hands and real-estate brokers chowing down at hole-in-the-wall taquerias and retro cafes.

Albuquerque's major boundaries are Paseo del Norte Dr to the north, Central Ave to the south, Rio Grande Blvd to the west and Tramway Blvd to the east. Central Ave is the main artery (aka old Route 66) - it passes through Old Town, Downtown, the university and Nob Hill. The city is divided into four quadrants (NW, NE, SW and SE), and the intersection of Central Ave and the railroad tracks just east of Downtown serves as the center point of the city.

Sights

Old Town

From its foundation in 1706 until the arrival of the railroad in 1880, the plaza was the hub of Albuquerque; today Old Town is the city's most popular tourist area.

Also in the Old Town are San Felipe de Neri Church (www.sanfelipedeneri.org; Old Town Plaza; ☀7am-5:30pm daily, museum 9:30am-4:30pm Mon-Sat), built in 1793, ¡Explora! (p878) and the New Mexico Museum of Natural History & Science (www.nmnatural-history.org; 1801 Mountain Rd NW; adult/child $7/4; ☀9am-5pm; ♿).

★ American International Rattlesnake Museum

MUSEUM

(www.rattlesnakes.com; 202 San Felipe St NW; adult/child $5/3; ☀10am-6pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun May-Sep, 11:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-6pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun, Sep-May) From eastern diamond-back to rare tiger rattlers, you won't find more types of live rattlesnakes anywhere else in the world. Once you get over the freak-out factor, you'll be amazed not just by the variety of vipers but by the intricate beauty of their colors and patterns. Hopefully you'll never see them this close in the wild! Weekday hours are a little longer in summer.

Albuquerque Museum of Art & History

MUSEUM

(www.cabq.gov/museum; 2000 Mountain Rd NW; adult/child $4/1; ☀9am-5pm Tue-Sun) Conquis-

NEW MEXICO FACTS

Nickname Land of Enchantment

Population 2 million

Area 121,599 sq miles

Capital city Santa Fe (population 68,700)

Other cities Albuquerque (population 553,000), Las Cruces (population 99,700)

Sales tax 5% to 8%

Birthplace of John Denver (1943-97), Smokey Bear (1950-76)

Home of International UFO Museum & Research Center (Roswell), Julia Roberts

Politics A 'purple' state, with a more liberal north and conservative south

Famous for Ancient pueblos, the first atomic bomb (1945), where Bugs Bunny should have turned left

State question 'Red or green?' (chili sauce, that is)

Highest/Lowest points Wheeler Peak (13,161ft)/Red Bluff Reservoir (2842ft)

Driving distances Albuquerque to Santa Fe 50 miles, Santa Fe to Taos 71 miles tador armor and weaponry are highlights at the Albuquerque Museum of Art & History, where visitors can study the city's tricultural Native American, Hispanic and Anglo past. Works by New Mexico artists also featured.

Around Town

The University of New Mexico (UNM) area has loads of good restaurants, casual bars, offbeat shops and hip college hangouts. The main drag is Central Ave between University and Carlisle Blvds. Just east is trendy Nob Hill, a pedestrian-friendly neighborhood lined with indie coffee shops, stylish boutiques and patio-wrapped restaurants.

★ Indian Pueblo Cultural Center

MUSEUM

(IPCC; ☎505-843-7270; www.indianpueblo.org; 2401 12th St NW; adult/child $6/3; ☀9am-5pm) Operated by New Mexico's 19 pueblos, the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center is a must for contextualizing the history of northern

New Mexico. Appealing displays trace the development of Pueblo cultures, exhibit customs and crafts, and feature changing exhibits.

National Museum of Nuclear Science & History

MUSEUM

(www.nuclearmuseum.org; 601 Eubank Blvd SE; adult/child & senior $8/7; ☎9am-5pm; 🚗) Exhibits examine the Manhattan Project, the history of arms control and the use of nuclear energy as an alternative energy source. Docents here are retired military, and they're very knowledgeable.

Petroglyph National Monument

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITE

(www.nps.gov/petr; ☎visitor center 8am-5pm) 🚗 More than 20,000 rock etchings are found inside the Petroglyph National Monument northwest of town. Stop by the visitor center (on Western Trail at Unser Blvd) to determine which of three viewing trails – in different sections of the park – best suits your interests. For a hike with great views but no rock art, hit the Volcanoes trail. Note: smash-and-grab thefts have been reported at some trailhead parking lots, so don't leave valuables in your vehicle. Head west on I-40 across the Rio Grande and take exit 154 north.

Sandia Peak Tramway

CABLE CAR

(www.sandiapeak.com; Tramway Blvd; vehicles $1, adult/youth 13-20yr/child $20/17/12; ☎9am-8pm Wed-Mon, from 5pm Tue Sep-May, 9am-9pm Jun-Aug) The 2.7-mile Sandia Peak Tramway starts in the desert realm of cholla cactus and soars to the pines atop 10,378ft Sandia Peak in about 15 minutes. The views are huge and that's what you're paying for at the restaurant at the top.

Activities

The omnipresent Sandia Mountains and the less-crowded Manzano Mountains offer outdoor activities, including hiking, skiing (downhill and cross-country), mountain biking, rock climbing and camping. For information and maps, head to the Cibola National Forest office (☎505-346-3900; 2113 Osuna Rd NE; ☎8am-4:45pm Mon-Fri) or the Sandia Ranger Station (☎505-281-3304; 11776 Hwy 337, Tijeras; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri), off I-40 exit 175 south, about 15 miles east of Albuquerque.

Sandia Crest National Scenic Byway

DRIVING, HIKING

(I-40 exit 175 north) Reach the top of the Sandias via the eastern slope along the lovely Sandia Crest National Scenic Byway, which passes numerous hiking trailheads. Alternatively, take the Sandia Peak Tramway or Hwy 165 from Placitas (I-25 exit 242), a dirt road through Las Huertas Canyon that passes the prehistoric dwelling of Sandia Man Cave.

Sandia Peak Ski Park

SKIING/CYCLING

(☎505-242-9052; www.sandiapeak.com; lift tickets adult/child $50/40; ☎9am-4pm Dec-Mar & Jun-Sep) Sometimes the snow here is great, other times it's lame, so check before heading up. The ski area opens on summer weekends and holidays (June to September) for mountain bikers. You can rent a bike at the base facility ($58 with $650 deposit) or ride the chairlift to the top of the peak with your own bike ($14). Drive here via Scenic Byway 536, or take the Sandia Peak Tramway (skis are allowed on the tram, but not bikes).

Discover Balloons

BALLOONING

(☎505-842-1111; www.discoverballoons.com; 205c San Felipe NW; adult/under 12yr $160/125) Sev-

ALBUQUERQUE FOR CHILDREN

The gung-ho iExplora! (www.explora.us; 1701 Mountain Rd NW; adult/child $8/4; ☎10am-6pm Mon-Sat, noon-6pm Sun; 🚗) will captivate your kiddies for hours. From the lofty high-wire bike to the leaping waters to the arts-and-crafts workshop, there's a hands-on exhibit for every type of child (don't miss the elevator). Not traveling with kids? Check the website to see if you're in town for the popular 'Adult Night.' Typically hosted by an acclaimed local scientist, it's become one of the hottest tickets in town.

The teen-friendly New Mexico Museum of Natural History & Science (p877) features an Evolator (evolution elevator), which transports visitors through 38 million years of New Mexico's geologic and evolutionary history. The new Space Frontiers exhibit highlights the state's contribution to space exploration, from ancient Chaco observatories to an impressive, full-scale replica of the Mars Rover. The museum also contains a Planetarium (adult/child $7/4) and the 3-D IMAX-screened DynaTheater (adult/child $10/6).

eral companies will float you over the city and the Rio Grande, including Discover Balloons. Flights last about an hour, and many are offered early in the morning to catch optimal winds and the sunrise.

Tours

From mid-March to mid-December, the Albuquerque Museum of Art & History (p877) offers informative, guided Old Town walking tours (☉11am Tue-Sun, Mar-Dec). They last 45 minutes to an hour and are free with museum admission.

Festivals & Events

Gathering of Nations Powwow CULTURAL (www.gatheringofnations.com; ☉April) The biggest Native American powwow in the world, with traditional music, dance, food, crafts and the crowning of Miss Indian World.

International Balloon Fiesta FIESTA (www.balloonfiesta.com; ☉early Oct) Some 800,000 spectators are drawn to this week-long event. The highlight is the mass ascension, when more than 500 hot-air balloons launch nearly simultaneously.

Sleeping

Route 66 Hostel HOSTEL $ (☎505-247-1813; www.rt66hostel.com; 1012 Central Ave SW; dm $20, r from $25; ) Clean, fun and inexpensive, this place is simple and has a good travelers' vibe. A kitchen, library and outdoor patio are available for its guests to use.

Hotel Blue HOTEL $ (☎877-878-4868; www.thehotelblue.com; 717 Central Ave NW; r incl breakfast $60-99; ) Well positioned beside a park and Downtown, the art-deco 134-room Hotel Blue has Tempurpedic beds and a free airport shuttle. Bonus points awarded for the good-sized pool and 40in flat-screen TVs.

★ Andaluz BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$ (☎505-242-9090; www.hotelandaluz.com; 125 2nd St NW; r $160-290; ) Albuquerque's best hotel will wow you with style and attention to detail, from the dazzling lobby – where six arched nooks with tables and couches offer alluring spaces to talk and drink in public-privacy, to the Italian-made hypoallergenic bedding. The restaurant is one of the best in town, and there's a beautiful guest library and a rooftop bar. The hotel is so 'green' you can tour its solar water-heating system – the largest in the state. You'll get big discounts if you book online.

Mauger Estate B&B B&B $$ (☎800-719-9189, 505-242-8755; www.maugerbb.com; 701 Roma Ave NW, cnr 7th St NW; r incl breakfast $99-195, ste $160-205, townhouse $129-195; ) This restored Queen Anne mansion (Mauger is pronounced 'major') has comfortable rooms with down comforters, stocked fridges and freshly cut flowers. Kids are welcome and there's one dog-friendly room complete with Wild West decor and a small yard ($20 extra).

Böttger Mansion B&B $$ (☎505-243-3639, 800-758-3639; www.bottger.com; 110 San Felipe St NW; r incl breakfast $104-179; ) A friendly and informative proprietor gives this well-appointed Victorian-era B&B an edge over some tough competition. The eight-bedroom mansion, built in 1912, is close to Old Town Plaza, top-notch museums and several in-the-know New Mexican restaurants. The honeysuckle-lined courtyard is a favorite with bird-watchers. Famous past guests include Elvis, Janis Joplin and Machine Gun Kelly.

Eating

★ Frontier NEW MEXICAN $ (www.frontierrestaurant.com; 2400 Central Ave SE; mains $3-11; ☉5am-1am; ) An Albuquerque tradition, the Frontier boasts enormous cinnamon rolls, addictive green-chili stew, and the best huevos rancheros ever. The food and people-watching are outstanding, and students love the low prices on the breakfast, burgers and Mexican food.

Flying Star Café AMERICAN $ (www.flyingstarcafe.com; 3416 Central Ave SE; mains $6-12; ☉6am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ) With seven constantly packed locations, including a branch at Juan Tabo Blvd (4501 Juan Tabo Blvd NE; ☉6am-10pm Sun-Thu, 6am-11pm Fri & Sat; ☉), this is the place to go for creative diner food made with regional ingredients, including homemade soups, main dishes from sandwiches to stir-fries, and yummy desserts. There's something here for everyone.

Golden Crown Panaderia BAKERY $ (☎505-243-2424; www.goldencrown.biz; 1103 Mountain Rd NW; mains $5-20; ☉7am-8pm Tue-Sat, 10am-8pm Sun) Who doesn't love a friendly neighborhood bakery? Especially one with gracious staff, fresh-from-the-oven bread and pizza, fruit-filled empanadas, smooth coffee and the frequent free cookie. Call ahead to reserve a loaf of quick-selling green-chili bread. Go to the website to check out the 'bread cam.'

Annapurna

INDIAN $

(www.chaishoppe.com; 2201 Silver Ave SE; mains $7-12; ☺ 7am-9pm Mon-Fri, 8am-9pm Sat, 10am-8pm Sun; ☺☺) For some of the freshest, tastiest health food in town, grab a seat within the bright, mural-covered walls of Annapurna. The delicately spiced ayurvedic dishes are all vegetarian or vegan, but they're so delicious that even carnivores will find something to love.

Artichoke Café

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 505-243-0200; www.artichokecafe.com; 424 Central Ave SE; lunch mains $10-16, dinner mains $19-30; ☺ 11am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, 5-9pm daily, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Voted an Albuquerque favorite many times over, this place takes the best from Italian, French and American cuisine and serves it with a touch of class.

Drinking & Entertainment

Popejoy Hall (www.popejoypresents.com; Central Ave, at Cornell St SE) and the historic KiMo Theatre (www.cabq.gov/kimo; 423 Central Ave NW, downtown) are the primary venues for big-name national acts, local opera, symphony and theater. To find out what's happening in town, grab a free copy of the weekly Alibi or visit www.alibi.com. Most of Albuquerque's trendy cafes and bars are found in the Nob Hill/UNM districts, though a few good ones are downtown.

Satellite Coffee

CAFE

(2300 Central Ave SE; ☺ 6am-11pm; ☺) Don't be put off by the hip, space-age appearance. The staff is welcoming and seats are filled with all manner of laptop-viewing, java-swilling locals. There are eight locations scattered across town; also try the one in Nob Hill (3513 Central Ave NE, Nob Hill).

Anodyne

BAR

(409 Central Ave NW; ☺ 4pm-1:30am Mon-Fri, 7pm-1:30am Sat, 7-11:30pm Sun) Anodyne is a huge but cozy space with 10 red pool tables, wood ceilings, plenty of overstuffed chairs, more than 100 bottled beers. You'll find a diverse crowd where everyone belongs.

Kelly's Brewery

BREWERY

(www.kellysbrewpub.com; 3222 Central Ave SE; ☺ 8am-10:30pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat)

Grab a seat at a communal table then settle in for a convivial night of people-watching and house-brewed pints at this former Ford dealership and gas station. On warm spring nights, it seems everyone in town is chilling on the sprawling patio.

Launch Pad

LIVE MUSIC

(www.launchpadrocks.com; 618 Central Ave SW, downtown) Indie, reggae, punk and country bands rock the house most nights (though not at the same time). Look for the spaceship on Central Ave. Right next door is the El Rey Theater (www.elreytheater.com; 620 Central Ave SW, downtown), another longtime favorite for live music.

Shopping

For eclectic gifts, head to Nob Hill, east of the university. Park on Central Ave SE or one of the college-named side streets, then take a stroll past the inviting boutiques and specialty stores.

Palms Trading Post

ARTS & CRAFTS

(1504 Lomas Blvd NW; ☺ 9am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5:30pm Sat) If you're looking for Native American crafts and informed salespeople who can give you advice, come here.

Silver Sun

JEWELRY

(116 San Felipe St NW; ☺ 10am-4:30pm) Just south of the plaza, Silver Sun is a reputable spot for turquoise and silver, where you can sometimes see the smiths at work.

Mariposa Gallery

ART & CRAFTS

(www.mariposa-gallery.com; 3500 Central Ave SE, Nob Hill) Beautiful and funky arts, crafts and jewelry, mostly by regional artists.

Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Police (☎ 505-764-1600; 400 Roma Ave NW)

Presbyterian Hospital (☎ 505-841-1234, emergency 505-841-1111; 1100 Central Ave SE; ☺ emergency 24hr)

UNM Hospital (☎ 505-272-2411; 2211 Lomas Blvd NE; ☺ emergency 24hr) Head here if you don't have insurance.

INTERNET ACCESS

Lots of restaurants and cafes have wi-fi.

Main Library (☎ 505-768-5141; 501 Copper Ave NW; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon & Thu-Sat, 10am-7pm Tue & Wed; ☺) Free internet access after purchasing a $3 SmartCard. Wi-fi available for free but must obtain access card.

POST

Post Office (201 5th St SW; ☎ 9am-4:30pm Mon-Fri)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Albuquerque Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.itsatrip.org; Albuquerque International Airport; ☎ 9:30am-8pm Sun-Fri, to 4:30pm Sat) At the lower-level baggage claim.

Old Town Information Center (☎ 505-243-3215; www.itsatrip.org; 303 Romero Ave NW; ☎ 10am-5pm Oct-May, to 6pm Jun-Sep)

USEFUL WEBSITES

Albuquerque.com (www.albuquerque.com) Attractions, hotels and restaurants.

City of Albuquerque (www.cabq.gov) Information on public transportation, area attractions and more.

i Getting There & Around*AIR

Albuquerque International Sunport (☎ 505-244-7700; www.cabq.gov/airport; 2200 Sunport Blvd SE) is New Mexico's main airport and most major US airlines fly here. Cabs to Downtown cost $20 to $25; try Albuquerque Cab (☎ 505-883-4888; www.albuquerquecab.com).

BUS

The Alvarado Transportation Center (100 1st St SW, cnr Central Ave) houses ABQ RIDE (☎ 505-243-7433; www.cabq.gov/transit; 100 1st St SW; adult/child $1/35, day pass $2), the public bus system. It covers most of Albuquerque from Monday to Friday and hits the major tourist spots daily. Most lines run until 6pm. ABQ RIDE Route 50 connects the airport with downtown (last bus at 8pm Monday to Friday, limited service Saturday). Check the website for maps and exact schedules. Route 36 stops near Old Town and the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center.

Greyhound (☎ 800-231-2222, 505-243-4435; www.greyhound.com; 320 1st St SW) serves destinations throughout New Mexico. Sandia Shuttle (☎ 888-775-5696; [www.sandia shuttle.com](http://www.sandia shuttle.com); one-way/return $28/48; ☎ 8:45am-11:45pm) runs daily shuttles from the airport to many Santa Fe hotels, while Twin Hearts Express (☎ 575-751-1201; [www.twinhearts-express transportation.com](http://www.twinhearts-express transportation.com)) runs a shuttle service from the airport to northern New Mexico destinations, including Taos and surrounding communities.

TRAIN

The Southwest Chief stops daily at Albuquerque's Amtrak station (☎ 800-872-7245, 505-842-9650; 320 1st St SW; ☎ 10am-5pm), heading east to Chicago ($173, 26 hours) or west through Flagstaff, AZ ($91, five hours), to Los Angeles, CA (from $114, 16½ hours).

A commuter line, the New Mexico Rail Runner Express ([www.nm railrunner.com](http://www.nm railrunner.com)), shares the station, with eight departures for Santa Fe weekdays (one-way/day pass $8/9), four on Saturday and three on Sunday, though weekend service may be discontinued. The trip takes about 1½ hours.

Along I-40

Although you can zip between Albuquerque and Flagstaff, AZ, in less than five hours, the national monuments and pueblos along the way are well worth a visit. For a scenic loop, take Hwy 53 southwest from Grants, which leads to all the following sights except Acoma. Hwy 602 brings you north to Gallup.

SCENIC DRIVES: NEW MEXICO'S BEST

Billy the Kid National Scenic Byway This mountain-and-valley loop (www.billybyway.com) in southeastern New Mexico swoops past Billy the Kid's stomping grounds, Smokey Bear's gravesite and the orchard-lined Hondo Valley. From Roswell, take Hwy 380 west.

High Road to Taos The back road between Santa Fe and Taos passes through sculpted sandstone desert, fresh pine forests and rural villages with historic adobe churches and horse-filled pastures. The 13,000ft Truchas Peaks soar above. From Santa Fe, take Hwy 84/285 to Hwy 513 then follow the signs.

NM Highway 96 From Abiquiu to Cuba, this little road wends through the heart of Georgia O'Keeffe country, beneath the distinct profile of Cerro Pedernal, then passing Martian-red buttes and sandstone cliffs striped purple, yellow and ivory.

NM Highway 52 Head west from Truth or Consequences into the dramatic foothills of the Black Range, through the old mining towns of Winston and Chloride. Continue north, passing the Monticello Box – where Geronimo finally surrendered – and emerging onto the sweeping Plains of San Augustin before reaching the bizarre Very Large Array.

Acoma Pueblo

The dramatic mesa-top 'Sky City' sits 7000ft above sea level and 367ft above the surrounding plateau. One of the oldest continuously inhabited settlements in North America, this place has been home to pottery-making people since the later part of the 11th century. Guided tours (adult/senior/child $23/20/15; ☀ hourly 9:30am-3:30pm Apr-early Nov, check online or call for winter schedule) leave from the visitor center (☎ 800-747-0181; www.acomaskycity.org; ☀ 9am-5pm Apr-early Nov; check online or call for winter opening hours) at the bottom of the mesa and take two hours, or one hour just to tour the historic mission. From I-40, take exit 102, which is about 60 miles west of Albuquerque, then drive 12 miles south. Call ahead to make sure it's not closed for ceremonial or other reasons.

El Morro National Monument

The 200ft sandstone outcropping at this monument (www.nps.gov/elmo; admission free; ☀ 9am-5pm, last trail entry 4pm) FREE, also known as 'Inscription Rock,' has been a travelers' oasis for millennia. Thousands of carvings – from petroglyphs in the pueblo at the top (c 1275) to elaborate inscriptions by the Spanish conquistadors and the Anglo pioneers – offer a unique means of tracing history. It's about 38 miles southwest of Grants via Hwy 53.

Zuni Pueblo

The Zuni are known worldwide for their delicately inlaid silverwork, which is sold in stores lining Hwy 53. Check in at the visitor center (☎ 505-782-7238; www.zunitourism.com; 1239 Hwy 53; tours $10; ☀ 8:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10:30am-4pm Sat, noon-4pm Sun) for information, photo permits and tours of the pueblo, which lead you among stone houses and beehive-shaped adobe ovens to the massive Our Lady of Guadalupe Mission, featuring impressive kachina murals. The Ashiwi Awan Museum & Heritage Center (www.ashiwi-museum.org; Ojo Caliente Rd; admission by donation; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) displays early photos and other tribal artifacts.

The friendly, eight-room Inn at Halona (☎ 800-752-3278, 505-782-4547; www.halona.com; Halona Plaza; r from $79; 📶), decorated with local Zuni arts and crafts, is the only place to stay on the pueblo. Its breakfasts rank with the best of any B&B in the state.

Gallup

Not just a classic Route 66 town, Gallup also serves as the Navajo and Zuni peoples' major trading center, making it one of the best places in New Mexico to buy top-quality Native American art and crafts at fair prices. You'll find many trading posts, pawnshops, jewelry stores and crafts galleries in the historic district.

The town's lodging jewel is El Rancho (☎ 505-863-9311; www.elranchohotel.com; 1000 E Hwy 66; r from $85; 📶 📺 🍷). Many of the great actors of the 1940s and '50s stayed here. El Rancho features a superb Southwestern lobby, a restaurant, a bar and an eclectic selection of simple rooms. There's wi-fi in the lobby. Most chain hotels are found along Route 66, west of the town center.

Santa Fe

Walking among the historic adobe neighborhoods or even around the tourist-filled plaza, there's no denying that Santa Fe has a timeless, earthy soul. Founded around 1610, Santa Fe is the second-oldest city and oldest state capital in the USA. It's got the oldest public building and throws the oldest annual party in the country (Fiesta). Yet the city is synonymous with contemporary chic, and boasts the second-largest art market in the nation, gourmet restaurants, great museums, spas and a world-class opera.

At 7000ft, it's also the highest state capital in the US, sitting at the base of the Sangre de Cristo range, a conveniently fantastic place to hike, mountain bike, backpack and ski.

Cerrillos Rd (I-25 exit 278), a 6-mile strip of hotels and fast-food restaurants, enters town from the south; Paseo de Peralta circles the center of town; St Francis Dr (I-25 exit 282) forms the western border of downtown and turns into Hwy 285, which heads north toward Los Alamos and Taos. Most downtown restaurants, galleries, museums and sights are within walking distance of the plaza, the historic center of town.

👁 Sights

Art enthusiasts coming for the weekend may want to arrive early on Friday to take advantage of the evening's free admission policies at many museums.

MUSEUM OF NEW MEXICO

The Museum of New Mexico administers four (or five, depending on how you count them) unique and excellent museums around town. Admission is free for children 16 and under. Adults can buy a four-day pass with entry into all four (or five) museums for $20. Two (or three) are at the plaza, two are on Museum Hill.

Museum of International Folk Art (www.internationalfolkart.org; 706 Camino Lejo; adult/child $9/free, free 5-8pm Fri summer; ☀️ 10am-5pm, closed Mon Sep-May) The galleries here, on Museum Hill, are at once whimsical and mind-blowing – featuring the world's largest collection of traditional folk art. Try to hit the incredible folk-art market, held each July.

Museum of Indian Arts & Culture (www.indianartsandculture.org; 710 Camino Lejo; adult/child $9/free, free Fri 5-8pm in summer; ☀️ 10am-5pm, closed Mon Sep-May) On Museum Hill, this is one of the most complete collections of Native American arts and crafts – and a perfect companion to the nearby Wheelwright Museum.

Palace of the Governors (☎️ 505-476-5100; www.palaceofthegovernors.org; 105 W Palace Ave; adult/child $9/free; ☀️ 10am-5pm, closed Mon Oct-May) On the plaza, this 400-year-old abode was once the seat of the Spanish colonial government. It displays a handful of regional relics, but most of its holdings are now shown in an adjacent exhibit space called the New Mexico History Museum (113 Lincoln Ave), a glossy, 96,000-sq-ft expansion. One ticket works for both.

New Mexico Museum of Art (www.nmartmuseum.org; 107 W Palace Ave; adult/child $9/free; ☀️ 10am-5pm, closed Mon Sep-May) Just off the plaza, there are more than 20,000 pieces of fine art here, mostly by Southwestern artists.

★ Georgia O'Keeffe Museum MUSEUM
(☎️ 505-946-1000; www.okeeffemuseum.org; 217 Johnson St; adult/child $12/free; ☀️ 10am-5pm, to 7pm Fri) Possessing the world's largest collection of her work, the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum features the artist's paintings of flowers, bleached skulls and adobe architecture. Tours of O'Keeffe's house in Abiquiu require advance reservations.

Canyon Rd GALLERIES
(www.canyonroadarts.com) The epicenter of the city's upscale art scene, more than 100 galleries, studios, shops and restaurants line this narrow historic road. Look for Santa Fe School masterpieces, rare Native American antiquities and wild contemporary work. The area positively buzzes with activity during the early-evening art openings on Fridays, and especially on Christmas Eve.

Wheelwright Museum of the American Indian MUSEUM
(www.wheelwright.org; 704 Camino Lejo; ☀️ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) FREE In 1937, Mary Cabot established the Wheelwright Museum of the American Indian, part of Museum Hill, to showcase Navajo ceremonial art. While its strength continues to be Navajo exhibits, it now includes contemporary Native American art and historical artifacts as well.

St Francis Cathedral CHURCH
(www.cbsfa.org; 131 Cathedral Pl; ☀️ 8:30am-5pm) Houses the oldest Madonna statue in North America.

Shidoni Foundry GARDENS, GALLERY
(www.shidoni.com; 1508 Bishop's Lodge Rd, Tesuque; ☀️ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat; 🚗) Five miles north of the plaza; outdoor sculpture garden (open dawn to 5pm), indoor gallery and an on-site glass-blowing studio (open 9am to 5pm). On Saturdays, watch the artisans do huge bronze pours in the workshop ($5).

Loretto Chapel CHURCH
(www.lorettochapel.com; 207 Old Santa Fe Trail; admission $3; ☀️ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10:30am-5pm Sun) Famous for its 'miraculous' spiral staircase that appears to be supported by thin air.

🚶 Activities

The Pecos Wilderness and Santa Fe National Forest, east of town, have more than 1000 miles of hiking trails, several of which lead to 12,000ft peaks. The popular and scenic Winsor Trail starts at the Santa Fe Ski Basin. Summer storms are frequent, so prepare for hikes by checking weather reports. For maps and details, contact the Public Lands Information Center. If mountain biking is your thing, drop into Mellow Velo (☎ 505-995-8356; www.mellowvelo.com; 132 E Marcy St; rentals per day from $35; 🕒 9am-5:30pm Mon-Sat), which rents bikes and has loads of information about regional trails.

Santa Fe

Busloads of people head up to the Rio Grande and Rio Chama for white-water river running on day and overnight adventures. Contact Santa Fe Rafting Co (☎ 505-988-4914; www.santaferafting.com; 🕒 Apr-Sep) and stay cool on trips through the Rio Grande Gorge (half-day/full day $65/99), the wild Taos Box (full day $110) or the Rio Chama Wilderness (three days $595).

Ski Santa Fe

SKIING

(☎ 505-982-4429, snow report 505-983-9155; www.skisantafe.com; lift ticket adult/child $66/46; 🕒 9am-4pm late Nov-Apr) A half-hour drive from the plaza up Hwy 475, you'll find the second-highest ski area in the USA. When the powder is fresh and the sun is shining, it's as good as it gets.

Ten Thousand Waves

SPA

(☎ 505-982-9304; www.tenthousandwaves.com; 3451 Hyde Park Rd; communal tubs $24, private tubs per person $31-51; 🕒 noon-10:30pm Tue, 9am-10:30pm Wed-Mon Jul-Oct, reduced hours Nov-Jun) The Japanese-style 10,000 Waves, with landscaped grounds concealing eight attractive tubs in a smooth Zen design, offers waterfalls, cold plunges, massage and hot and dry saunas. Call to reserve private tubs.

🎓 Courses

Santa Fe School of Cooking

COOKING

(☎ 505-983-4511; www.santafeschoolofcooking.com; 125 N Guadalupe St; classes $75-98; 🕒 9:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 9:30am-5pm Sat, noon-4pm Sun) If you develop a love for New Mexican cuisine, try cooking lessons here. Classes, including hands-on green and red chili workshops, are typically between two and three hours long.

★ Festivals & Events

★ Spanish Market

CULTURAL

(www.spanishcolonial.org; ☺ late Jul) Traditional Spanish colonial arts, from retablos (paintings on wooden panels) and bultos (wooden carvings of religious figures) to handcrafted furniture and metalwork, make this juried show an artistic extravaganza.

★ Santa Fe Indian Market

CULTURAL

(www.swaia.org) Typically held the weekend after the third Thursday in August, this event draws the country's finest Native American artisans to the plaza – and tens of thousands of visitors.

★ Santa Fe Fiesta

CULTURAL

(www.santafefiesta.org; ☺ early Sep) Two weeks of events, including concerts, dances, parades and the burning of Zozobra (Old Man Gloom).

🛏 Sleeping

Cerrillos Rd is lined with chains and independent motels. There's camping in developed sites in Santa Fe National Forest and Hyde State Park on Hwy 475, the road to the ski basin; for more information, go to the Public Lands Information Center (p876).

Silver Saddle Motel

MOTEL $

(☎ 505-471-7663; www.santafesilversaddlemotel.com; 2810 Cerrillos Rd; r winter/summer from $45/62; 📶 📺 🍷 🍽 🛏) Shady wooden arcades outside and rustic cowboy-inspired decor inside, including some rooms with attractively tiled kitchenettes. For a bit of kitsch, request the Kenny Rogers or Wyatt Earp room. Probably the best value in town.

Rancheros de Santa Fe Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ 505-466-3482; www.rancheros.com; 736 Old Las Vegas Hwy; tent/RV sites/cabins $25/41/49; ☺ Mar-Oct; 📶 📺 🍷 🍽 🛏) Super-friendly, this wooded campground is 7 miles southeast of town. Enjoy hot showers, cheap morning coffee and evening movies.

Santa Fe Motel & Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 505-982-1039; www.santafemotel.com; 510 Cerrillos Rd; r $89-155, casitas $129-169; 📶 📺 🍷 🍽 🛏) It's the aesthetic and technological attention to detail that make this downtown-adjacent motel a great pick. Bright tiles, clay sunbursts, LCD TVs and a welcoming chili pepper carefully placed atop your towels are just a few memorable pluses. Savor hot breakfasts on the kiva-anchored patio.

El Rey Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 505-982-1931; www.elreyinnsantafe.com; 1862 Cerrillos Rd; r incl breakfast $105-165, ste from $150; 📶 📺 🍷 🍽 🛏) A highly recommended classic courtyard hotel, with super rooms, a great pool and hot tub, and even a kids' playground scattered around 5 acres of greenery. The inn recycles and takes a lot of green-friendly steps to conserve resources. Most rooms have air con.

★ La Fonda

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(☎ 800-523-5002; www.lafondasantafe.com; 100 E San Francisco St; r/ste from $140/260; 📶 📺 🍷 🍽 🛏) Claiming to be the original 'Inn at the end of the Santa Fe Trail,' here in one form or another since perhaps 1610, La Fonda has always offered some of the best lodging in town. Freshly renovated in 2013, the hotel blends modern luxury with folk-art touches; it's authentic, top-shelf Santa Fe style.

Santa Fe

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Georgia O'Keeffe Museum ..... D2

📍 Sights

- 2 Canyon Rd ..... E3
 3 Loretto Chapel ..... D3
 4 New Mexico History Museum ..... D2
 5 New Mexico Museum of Art ..... D2
 6 Palace of the Governors ..... D2
 7 St Francis Cathedral..... E2

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 8 Mellow Velo..... E2
 9 Santa Fe School of Cooking ..... C2

📍 Sleeping

- 10 La Fonda ..... D2
 11 Santa Fe Motel & Inn ..... C3

🍴 Eating

- 12 Cafe Pasqual's ..... D2
 13 Cleopatra's Cafe ..... C3
 14 Cowgirl Hall of Fame ..... C3
 15 Tia Sophia's ..... D2

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 16 317 Aztec ..... C3
 Bell Tower Bar..... (see 10)
 17 Evangelo's ..... D2

🎭 Entertainment

- 18 Lentic Performing Arts Theater..... D2

🛒 Shopping

- 19 Kowboyz ..... B3
 20 Santa Fe Farmers Market ..... B4
 21 Travel Bug ..... E3

🍴 Eating

★ San Marcos Café

NEW MEXICAN $

(☎ 505-471-9298; www.sanmarcosfeed.com; 3877 Hwy 14; mains $7-10; ☺ 8am-2pm; ♿) About 10 minutes' drive south on Hwy 14, this spot is well worth the trip. San Marcos has a down-home feeling and the best red chili you'll ever taste. The whole place is connected to a feed store, giving it some genuine Western soul – and turkeys and peacocks strut and squabble outside. The pastries and desserts – especially the bourbon apple pie – sate any sweet tooth. Make reservations on weekends.

Horseman's Haven

NEW MEXICAN $

(4354 Cerrillos Rd; mains $8-12; ☺ 8am-8pm Mon-Sat, 8:30am-2pm Sun; ♿) Hands down the hottest green chili in town! (The timid should order it on the side). Service is friendly and fast, and the enormous 3-D burrito might be the only thing you need to eat all day.

Cleopatra's Cafe

MIDDLE EASTERN $

(www.cleopatrasantafe.com; 418 Cerrillos Rd, Design Center; mains $6-14; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Sat; ☺) Makes up for lack of ambience with taste and value – big platters of delicious kebabs, hummus, falafel and other Middle Eastern favorites. It's inside the Design Center.

Tia Sophia's

NEW MEXICAN $

(210 W San Francisco St; mains $7-10; ☺ 7am-2pm Mon-Sat, 8am-1pm Sun; ♿) Arguably the best New Mexican food downtown.

Tune-Up Café

INTERNATIONAL $$

(www.tuneupsantafe.com; 1115 Hickox St; mains $7-14; ☺ 7am-10pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ♿) This local favorite is casual, busy and does food right. The chef, from El Salvador, adds a few twists to classic New Mexican and American dishes, while also serving Salvadoran pupusas (stuffed corn tortillas), huevos and other specialties. The fish tacos and the mole colorado enchiladas (flavored with red chili and a hint of chocolate) are especially tasty. Enjoy the patio when the weather allows.

Cowgirl Hall of Fame

BARBECUE $$

(www.cowgirlsantafe.com; 319 S Guadalupe St; mains $8-18; ☺ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ♿) Two-step up to the cobblestoned courtyard and try the salmon tacos, butter-nut-squash casserole or the BBQ platter – all served with Western-style feminist flair. Youngsters are welcomed, with an outdoor play yard and buckets of coloring crayons to draw on the lengthy kids' menu. It also has a perennially popular bar with live music and attached pool hall.

★ Cafe Pasqual's

INTERNATIONAL $$$

(☎ 505-983-9340; www.pasquals.com; 121 Don Gaspar Ave; breakfast & lunch mains $9-17, dinner mains $16-30; ☺ 7am-3pm & 5:30-9pm; ♿) Sante Fe's most famous breakfast, for good reason.

Geronimo

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 505-982-1500; www.geronimorestaurant.com; 724 Canyon Rd; mains $30-45; ☺ 5:45-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) Housed in a 1756 adobe, Geronimo is among the finest and most romantic restaurants in town. The short but diverse menu includes fiery sweet chili and honey-grilled prawns and peppery elk tenderloin with applewood-smoked bacon.

Drinking & Entertainment

You'll also find live music and good drinking most nights at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame (p886).

★ 317 Aztec CAFE
(317 Aztec St; ☺ 8am-10pm Mon-Sat; ☎) Even with new owners, the former Aztec Cafe remains our pick for best local coffeehouse and juice/smoothy bar, with its colorful indoor art space and outdoor patio. The food is great (and healthy) too!

Evangelo's BAR
(200 W San Francisco St; ☺ midday-1:30am Mon-Sat, to midnight Sun) There's foot-stompin' live music nightly at Evangelo's. The sounds of rock, blues, jazz and Latin combos spill into the street.

Bell Tower Bar BAR
(100 E San Francisco St; ☺ 3pm-sunset Mon-Thu, 2pm-sunset Fri-Sun May-Oct, closed rest of yr) At La Fonda hotel, ascend five floors to the newly renovated Bell Tower and watch one of those patented New Mexico sunsets.

★ El Farol TRADITIONAL DANCE, LIVE MUSIC
(www.elfarolsf.com; 808 Canyon Rd; ☺ 11am-midnight Mon-Sat, 11am-11pm Sun) As much a restaurant as a bar, El Farol specializes in tapas ($8), live music, world-class flamenco and the ambience of Santa Fe's oldest cantina.

★ Santa Fe Opera OPERA
(☎ 505-986-5900; www.santafeopera.org; Hwy 84/285, Tesuque; backstage tours adult/child $5/free; ☺ late Jun-late Aug, backstage tours 9am Mon-Fri Jun-Aug) You can be a decked-out socialite or show up in cowboy boots and jeans; it doesn't matter. Opera fans (and those who've never attended an opera in their lives) come to Santa Fe for this alone: an architectural marvel, with views of wind-carved sandstone wilderness crowned with sunsets and moonrises, and at center stage internationally renowned vocal talent performing masterworks of aria and romance.

Lensic Performing Arts Theater PERFORMING ARTS
(☎ 505-984-1370; www.lensic.com; 211 W San Francisco St) For live performances and movies, see what's doing at the Lensic Performing Arts Center. This beautifully renovated 1930s movie house is the city's premier venue for performing arts. Continuing its film history, it also holds $5 classic-movie screenings.

Shopping

Offering carved howling coyotes, turquoise jewelry and fine art, Santa Fe attracts shoppers of all budgets. Head to the sidewalk outside the Palace of the Governors to buy Indian jewelry direct from the craftspeople who make it.

★ Santa Fe Farmers Market MARKET
(☎ 505-983-4098; 55yd west of Guadalupe St, Paseo de Peralta; ☺ 7am-noon Sat & Tue Apr-Nov; 🚗) Don't miss this market at the redeveloped rail yard. Free samples and a festive mood make for a very pleasant morning.

Pueblo of Tesuque Flea Market MARKET
(Hwy 84/285; ☺ 8am-4pm Fri-Sun Mar-Nov) This outdoor market a few minutes' drive north of Santa Fe at Tesuque Pueblo offers deals on high-quality rugs, jewelry, art and clothing.

Kowboyz CLOTHING
(www.kowboyz.com; 345 W Manhattan Ave) This secondhand shop has everything you need to cowboy up. Shirts are a great deal at $10 each; the amazing selection of boots, however, demands top dollar. Movie costumers looking for authentic Western wear often come in here.

Travel Bug MAPS
(www.mapsofnewmexico.com; 839 Paseo de Peralta; ☺ 7:30am-5:30pm Mon-Sat, 11am-4pm Sun; ☎) A huge selection of guidebooks, maps and travel gear, plus travel slide shows on Saturdays.

Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Police (☎ 505-955-5000; 2515 Camino Entrada)

St Vincent's Hospital (☎ 505-983-3361; 455 St Michael's Dr) Has 24-hour emergency care.

INTERNET ACCESS

Santa Fe Public Library (☎ 505-955-6781; 145 Washington Ave) Reserve up to an hour of free access.

Travel Bug (☎ 505-992-0418; 839 Paseo de Peralta; 📶) Free wi-fi and internet access from on-site terminals.

POST

Post office (120 S Federal Pl)

TOURIST INFORMATION

New Mexico Tourism Bureau (☎ 505-827-7440; www.newmexico.org; 491 Old Santa Fe Trail; ☺ 8am-5pm) Has brochures, a hotel

DON'T MISS

CHIMAYO

Twenty-eight miles north of Santa Fe is the so-called 'Lourdes of America' – El Santuario de Chimayo (www.elsantuariodechimayo.us; ☎ 9am-5pm Oct-Apr, to 6pm May-Sep), one of the most important cultural sites in New Mexico. In 1816, this two-towered adobe chapel was built where the earth was said to have miraculous healing properties – even today, the faithful come to rub the tierra bendita – holy dirt – from a small pit inside the church on whatever hurts; some mix it with water and drink it. During holy week, about 30,000 pilgrims walk to Chimayo from Santa Fe, Albuquerque and beyond, in the largest Catholic pilgrimage in the USA. The artwork in the santuario is worth a trip on its own. Stop at Rancho de Chimayo (☎ 505-984-2100; www.ranchodechimayo.com; County Rd 98; mains $8-18; ☎ 8:30-10:30am Sat & Sun, 11:30am-9pm daily, closed Mon Nov-Apr) afterward for lunch or dinner.

reservation line, free coffee and free internet access.

Public Lands Information Center (☎ 505-438-7542; www.publiclands.org; 301 Dinosaur Trail; ☎ 8:30am-4pm Mon-Fri) Tons of maps and information on exploring New Mexico's National Forests, Parks and Monuments, wilderness areas, and other public lands. Just south of the intersection of Cerillos Rd and I-25.

Useful Websites

New Mexican (www.santafenewmexican.com) Daily paper with breaking news.

SantaFe.com (www.santafe.com) Listings for upcoming concerts, readings and openings in northern New Mexico.

Santa Fe Information (www.santafe.org) Official online visitors' guide.

Santa Fe Reporter (www.sfreporter.com) Free alternative weekly; culture section has thorough listings of what's going on.

i Getting There & Around

A few commercial airlines fly daily between Santa Fe Municipal Airport (SAF; ☎ 505-955-2900; www.santafenm.gov; 121 Aviation Dr) and Dallas, Denver, Los Angeles, and Phoenix; historically, these routes have been added and cut with surprising frequency, so check to make sure they are all still active. Many more flights arrive at and depart from Albuquerque (one-hour drive south of Santa Fe).

Sandia Shuttle Express (☎ 888-775-5696; www.sandiashuttle.com) runs between Santa Fe and the Albuquerque Sunport ($28). North Central Regional Transit (www.ncrtd.org) provides free shuttle bus service to Espanola, where you can transfer to shuttles to Taos, Los Alamos, Ojo Caliente and other northern destinations. Downtown pickup/drop-off is on Sheridan St, a block northwest of the plaza.

The Rail Runner (www.nmtrainrunner.com) commuter train has multiple daily departures for Albuquerque – with connections to the airport and the zoo. The trip takes about 1½ hours. Weekend service may be discontinued. Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com) stops at Lamy; buses continue 17 miles to Santa Fe.

Santa Fe Trails (☎ 505-955-2001; www.santafenm.gov; one-way adult/child $1/free, day pass $2) provides local bus services. If you need a taxi, call Capital City Cab (☎ 505-438-0000; www.capitalcitycab.com).

If driving between Santa Fe and Albuquerque, try to take Hwy 14 – the Turquoise Trail – which passes through the old mining town (now art-gallery town) of Madrid, 28 miles south of Santa Fe.

Around Santa Fe

Pueblos

North of Santa Fe is the heart of Puebloan lands. Eight Northern Indian Pueblos (www.enipc.org) publishes the excellent and free Eight Northern Indian Pueblos Visitors Guide, available at area visitor centers. Its annual arts-and-crafts show is held in July; check the ENIPC website for exact dates and location.

Eight miles west of Pojoaque along Hwy 502, the ancient San Ildefonso Pueblo (☎ 505-455-3549; per vehicle $10, camera/video/sketching permits $10/20/25; ☎ 8am-5pm) was the home of Maria Martinez, who in 1919 revived a distinctive traditional black-on-black pottery style. Stop at the Maria Poveka Martinez Museum (☎ 8am-4pm Mon-Fri) FREE and browse the shops of the exceptional potters (including Maria's direct descendants) who work in the pueblo today.

Just north of San Ildefonso, on Hwy 30, Santa Clara Pueblo is home to the Puye Cliff Dwellings (☎ 888-320-5008; www.puye-cliffs.com; tours adult/child $20/18; ☎ hourly 9am-5pm May-Sep, 10am-2pm Oct-Apr), where you can visit Ancestral Puebloan cliffside and mesa-top ruins.

Las Vegas

Not to be confused with the glittery city to the west in Nevada, this Vegas is one of the loveliest towns in New Mexico and one of the largest and oldest towns east of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains. Its eminently strollable downtown has a pretty Old Town Plaza and some 900 historic buildings listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Its architecture is a mix of Southwestern and Victorian.

Built in 1882 and carefully remodeled a century later, the elegant Plaza Hotel (☎800-328-1882, 505-425-3591; www.plazahotel-nm.com; 230 Old Town Plaza; r incl breakfast from $89; 📞📧📺📺) is Las Vegas's most celebrated and historic lodging. Choose between Victorian-style, antique-filled rooms in the original building or bright, modern rooms in a newer adjoining wing.

Right on the plaza, you can get your chili fix at El Encanto Restaurant (1816 Plaza; mains $5-9; ☺6am-2pm), your caffeine fix at World Treasures Travelers Cafe (1814 Plaza St; snacks $3-6; ☺7:30am-4:30pm Mon-Sat; ☺), and your ice cream fix at the soda fountain at Plaza Drug (178 Bridge St; ☺8am-6pm Mon-Sat).

From the plaza, Hot Springs Blvd leads 5 miles north to Gallinas Canyon and the massive Montezuma Castle; once a hotel, it's now the United World College of the West. Along the road there, you can soak in a series of natural hot-spring pools. Bring a swimsuit and test the water – some are scalding hot! Don't miss the Dwan Light Sanctuary (admission free; ☺6am-10pm) FREE on the school campus, a meditation chamber where prisms in the walls cast rainbows inside.

Ask for a walking-tour brochure from the visitor center (☎800-832-5947; www.lasvegas-newmexico.com; 500 Railroad Ave; ☺9am-5pm).

Los Alamos

The top-secret Manhattan Project sprang to life in Los Alamos in 1943, turning a sleepy mesa-top village into a busy laboratory of secluded brainiacs. Here, in the 'town that didn't exist,' the first atomic bomb was developed in almost total secrecy. Today you'll encounter a fascinating dynamic in which souvenir T-shirts emblazoned with atomic explosions and 'La Bomba' wine are sold next to books on pueblo history and wilderness hiking.

You can't actually visit the Los Alamos National Laboratory, where lots of classified cutting-edge research still takes place, but you can visit the well-designed, interactive Bradbury Science Museum (www.lanl.gov/museum; 1350 Central Ave; ☺10am-5pm Tue-Sat, 1-5pm Sun & Mon) FREE, which covers atomic history and includes new exhibits on security technology. A short film traces the community's wartime history and reveals a few fascinating secrets. The small but interesting Los Alamos Historical Museum (www.losalamoshistory.org; 1050 Bathtub Row; ☺10am-4pm Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat, from 1pm Sun) FREE is on the nearby grounds of the former Los Alamos Ranch School – an outdoorsy school for boys that closed when the scientists arrived.

Grab a bite with local braniacs at the Coffee House Cafe (www.thecoffeebooth.com; 723 Central Ave; mains $6-12, pizzas $21-30; ☺6am-8pm Tue-Fri, 7am-3pm Sat, 8am-3pm Sun, 6am-3pm Mon), opposite Smith's supermarket.

Bandelier National Monument

Ancestral Puebloans dwelt in the cliffsides of beautiful Frijoles Canyon, now preserved within Bandelier (www.nps.gov/band; per vehicle $12; ☺visitor center 9am-4:30pm, park to dusk; 📞). The adventurous can climb ladders to reach ancient caves and kivas used until the mid-1500s. There are also almost 50 sq miles of canyon and mesalands offering scenic backpacking trails, plus camping at Juniper Campground (campsites $12), set among the pines near the monument entrance. Note that between 9am and 3pm, from the end of May to mid-October, you need to take a shuttle bus to Bandelier from the White Rock Visitor Center, along Hwy 4.

Abiquiu

The tiny community of Abiquiu (sounds like 'barbecue'), on Hwy 84 about 45 minutes' drive northwest of Santa Fe, is famous because the renowned artist Georgia O'Keeffe lived and painted here from 1949 until her death in 1986. With the Chama River flowing through farmland and spectacular rock landscape, the ethereal setting continues to attract artists, and many live and work in Abiquiú. O'Keeffe's adobe house is open for limited visits, with one-hour tours (☎505-685-4539; www.okeeffemuseum.org; tours $35-45) offered on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from March to November, and Tuesday through Saturday from June to October, often booked months in advance.

A retreat center on 21,000 Technicolor acres that obviously inspired O'Keeffe's work (and was a shooting location for the movie City Slickers), Ghost Ranch (☎505-685-4333; [www.ghost ranch.org](http://www.ghost ranch.org); US Hwy 84; suggested donation $3; 🏠) has hiking trails, a dinosaur museum (suggested donation $2; ☀9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 1-5pm Sun) and offers horseback rides (from $50), including instruction for kids four and up ($30). Basic lodging (tent sites $19, RV sites $22-29, dm incl breakfast $50, r without/with bathroom incl breakfast from $70/80) is available, too.

The lovely Abiquiú Inn (☎888-735-2902, 505-685-4378; www.abiquiuin.com; US Hwy 84; RV sites $18, r $110-150, casitas from $179; 🏠🚰) is a sprawling collection of shaded faux-adobes. Its spacious casitas have kitchenettes, and wi-fi is available in the lobby and the on-site restaurant, Cafe Abiquiú (breakfast mains under $10, lunch & dinner mains $10-20; ☀7am-9pm). The lunch and dinner menu includes numerous fish dishes, from chipotle honey-glazed salmon to trout tacos.

Ojo Caliente

At 140 years old, Ojo Caliente Mineral Springs Resort & Spa (☎800-222-9162, 505-583-2233; www.ojospa.com; 50 Los Baños Rd; r $139-169, cottages $179-209, ste $229-349; 🏠🚰) is one of the country's oldest health resorts – and Pueblo Indians were using the springs long before then! Fifty miles north of Santa Fe on Hwy 285, the newly renovated resort offers 10 soaking pools with several combinations of minerals (shared/private pools from $18/40). In addition to the pleasant, if nothing special, historic hotel rooms, the resort has added 12 plush, boldly colored suites with kiva fireplaces and private soaking tubs, and 11 New Mexican-style cottages. Wi-fi is available in the lobby. The on-site Artesian Restaurant (breakfast mains $5-10, lunch mains $9-12, dinner mains $16-28; ☀7:30am-11am, 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-8:30pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat) prepares organic and local ingredients with aplomb.

Taos

Taos is a place undeniably dominated by the power of its landscape: 12,300ft snow-capped peaks rise behind town; a sage-speckled plateau unrolls to the west before plunging 800ft straight down into the Rio Grande Gorge; the sky can be a searing sapphire blue or an ominous parade of rumbling thunderheads so big they dwarf the mountains. And then there are the sunsets...

Taos Pueblo, believed to be the oldest continuously inhabited community in the United States, roots the town in a long history with a rich cultural legacy – including conquistadors, Catholicism and cowboys. In the 20th century, Taos became a magnet for artists, writers and creative thinkers, from DH Lawrence to Dennis Hopper. It remains a relaxed and eccentric place, with classic adobe architecture, fine-art galleries, quirky cafes and excellent restaurants. Its 5000 residents include Bohemians, alternative-energy aficionados and old-time Hispanic families. It's rural and worldly, and a little bit otherworldly.

👁️ Sights

The Museum Association of Taos offers a pass for $25 to five museums: Harwood Museum of Art, Taos Historic Museums, Millicent Rogers Museum and Taos Art Museum & Fechin Institute.

★ Millicent Rogers Museum MUSEUM
(www.millicentrogers.org; 1504 Millicent Rogers Rd; adult/child $10/2; ☀10am-5pm, closed Nov-Nov-Mar) Filled with pottery, jewelry, baskets and textiles, this has one of the best collections of Native American and Spanish Colonial art in the US.

Harwood Foundation Museum MUSEUM
(www.harwoodmuseum.org; 238 Ledoux St; adult/child $10/free; ☀10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Housed in a historic mid-19th-century adobe compound, the Harwood Museum of Art features paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture and photography by northern New Mexico artists, both historical and contemporary.

Taos Historic Museums MUSEUM
(www.taohistoricmuseums.org; each museum adult/child $8/4; ☀10am-5pm Mon-Sat, midday-5pm Sun) Taos Historic Museum runs two houses: Blumenschein Home ( toricmuseums.org; 222 Ledoux St; adult/child $8/4), a trove of art from the 1920s by the Taos Society of Artists, and Martínez Hacienda (708 Hacienda Way, off Lower Ranchitos Rd), a 21-room colonial trader's former home from 1804.

Taos Art Museum & Fecchin Institute

MUSEUM

(www.taosartmuseum.org; 227 Paseo del Pueblo Norte; adult/child $8/free; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, shorter hours in winter) The home of Russian-born artist Nicolai Fecchin, the house itself is worth just as much of a look as the collection of paintings, drawings and sculptures.

San Francisco de Asís Church

CHURCH

(St Francis Plaza; ☺ 9am-4pm Mon-Fri) Four miles south of Taos in Ranchos de Taos, the San Francisco de Asís Church, famed for the angles and curves of its adobe walls, was built in the mid-18th century but didn't open until 1815. It's been memorialized in Georgia O'Keeffe paintings and Ansel Adams photographs. Hours are not really fixed, and the church may be open on Saturday. Mass is held three times on Sunday morning, once in Spanish.

Rio Grande Gorge Bridge

BRIDGE, CANYON

At 650ft above the Rio Grande, the steel Rio Grande Gorge Bridge is the second-highest suspension bridge in the US; the view down is eye-popping. For the best pictures of the bridge itself, park at the rest area on the western end of the span.

Earthships

ARCHITECTURE

(www.earthship.com; US Hwy 64; self-guided tours $7; ☺ 10am-4pm) 🌿 Just 1.5 miles west of the bridge is the fascinating community of Earthships, with self-sustaining, environmentally savvy houses built with recycled materials that are completely off the grid. You can also stay overnight in one.

Activities

During summer, white-water rafting is popular in the Taos Box, the steep-sided cliffs that frame the Rio Grande. Day-long trips begin at around $100 per person; contact the visitor center for local outfitters, where there's also good info about hiking and mountain-biking trails.

Taos Ski Valley

SKIING

(www.skitaos.org; half-/full-day lift ticket $64/77) With a peak elevation of 11,819ft and a 2612ft vertical drop, Taos Ski Valley offers some of the most challenging skiing in the US and

DON'T MISS

TAOS PUEBLO

Built around AD 1450 and continuously inhabited ever since, the streamside Taos Pueblo (☎ 505-758-1028; www.taospueblo.com; Taos Pueblo Rd; adult/child $10/free, photo or video permit $6; ☺ 8am-4:30pm) is the largest existing multistoried pueblo structure in the US and one of the best surviving examples of traditional adobe construction. Dances held at the pueblo during the Pow-Wow (in July) and San Geronimo Day (September) are open to the public; call or check the website for exact dates. The pueblo closes for 10 weeks around February to March.

yet remains low-key and relaxed. The resort now allows snowboarders on its slopes.

Sleeping

Sun God Lodge

MOTEL $

(☎ 575-758-3162; www.sungodlodge.com; 919 Paseo del Pueblo Sur; r from $55; 📞 📺 📺) The hospitable folks at this well-run two-story motel can fill you in on local history as well as the craziest bar in town. Rooms are clean – if a bit dark – and decorated with low-key Southwestern flair. Located 1.5 miles south of the plaza, it's one of the better budget choices in town.

Abominable Snowmansion

HOSTEL $

(☎ 575-776-8298; www.snowmansion.com; 476 Hwy 150, Arroyo Seco; tent sites $22, dm $27, r without/with bathroom $50/55, tepee $55; 📞 📺 📺) About 9 miles northeast of Taos, this well-worn and welcoming hostel is a cozy mountainside alternative to central Taos. A big, round fireplace warms guests in winter, and kitschy tepees are available in summer.

★ Earthship Rentals

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 505-751-0462; www.earthship.com; US Hwy 64; earthship $145-305; 📞 📺) Experience an off-grid overnight in a boutique-chic, solar-powered dwelling. A cross between organic Gaudí architecture and space-age fantasy, these sustainable dwellings are put together using recycled tires, aluminum cans and sand, with rain catchment and gray-water systems to minimize their footprint. Half-buried in a valley surrounded by mountains, they could be hastily camouflaged alien vessels – you never know.

Historic Taos Inn

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(☎ 575-758-2233; www.taosinn.com; 125 Paseo del Pueblo Norte; r $75-275; 📍 🍷 🍴) Even though it's not the plushest place in town, it's still fabulous, with a cozy lobby, a top-notch restaurant, heavy wooden furniture, a sunken fireplace and lots of live local music at its famed Adobe Bar. Parts of this landmark date to the 1800s – the older rooms are actually the nicest.

 Eating*Michael's Kitchen

NEW MEXICAN $

(www.michaelskitchen.com; 304c Paseo del Pueblo Norte; mains $7-16; ☺ 7am-2:30pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri-Sun; 🍴) Great breakfasts, freshly made pastries and tasty New Mexican fare. Go for the stuffed sopapilla! Then try to walk...

El Gamal

MIDDLE EASTERN $

(www.elgamaltaos.com; 12 Doña Luz St; mains $7-12; ☺ 9am-5pm Sun-Wed, to 9pm Thu-Sat; 📍 🍷 🍴) Vegetarians rejoice! Here's a fabulous meatless Middle Eastern menu. There's a big kids' playroom in back, plus a pool table and free wi-fi.

Taos Pizza Out Back

PIZZA $

(www.taospizzaoutback.com; 712 Paseo del Pueblo Norte; slices $4-8, whole pies $13-29; ☺ 11am-10pm May-Sep, to 9pm Oct-Apr; 🍴 🍷) Warning: these pizza pies may be cruelly habit-forming. This place uses organic ingredients and serves epicurean combos such as a Portabella Pie with sun-dried tomatoes and gorgonzola. Slices are the size of a small country.

Taos Diner

DINER $

(www.taosdiner.com; 908 Paseo del Pueblo Norte; mains $4-14; ☺ 7am-2:30pm; 🍴) It's with some reluctance that we share the existence of this marvelous place, a mountain-town diner with wood-paneled walls, tattooed waitresses, fresh-baked biscuits and coffee cups that are never less than half-full. This is diner grub at its finest, prepared with a Southwestern, organic spin. Mountain men, scruffy jocks, solo diners and happy tourists – everyone's welcome here. We like the Copper John's eggs with a side of green chili sauce. There's another branch south of the plaza.

 Love Apple

ORGANIC $$$

(☎ 575-751-0050; www.theloveapple.net; 803 Paseo del Pueblo Norte; mains $13-22; ☺ 5-9pm Tue-Sun) Housed in the 19th-century-adobe Placitas Chapel, the understated rustic-sacred atmosphere is as much a part of this only-in-New-Mexico restaurant as the food is. From the veggie lasagne to the grilled antelope with couscous, every dish is made from organic or free-range regional foods. Make reservations!

 Trading Post Cafe

INTERNATIONAL $$$

(☎ 575-758-5089; www.tradingpostcafe.com; Hwy 68, Ranchos de Taos; lunch mains $8-14, dinner mains $15-32; ☺ 11am-9pm Tue-Sat) A longtime favorite, the Trading Post is a perfect blend of relaxed and refined. The food, from paella to pork chops, is always great. Portions of some dishes are so big you should think about splitting a main course – or if you want to eat cheap but well, get a small salad and small soup. It'll be plenty!

Drinking & Entertainment*Adobe Bar

BAR

(125 Paseo del Pueblo Norte, Historic Taos Inn; ☺ 11am-11pm) Everybody's welcome in 'the living room of Taos.' And there's something about it: the chairs, the Taos Inn's history, the casualness, the tequila. There's a street-side patio in summer, an indoor kiva fireplace in winter, plus top-notch margaritas and an eclectic lineup of live music all year round.

KTAO Solar Center

LIVE MUSIC

(www.ktao.com; 9 Ski Valley Rd; ☺ bar from 4pm) Watch the DJs at the 'world's most powerful solar radio station' while hitting happy hour at the solar center bar. It's also a happenin' live-music venue for grooving local or big-name bands. There's even a play area for kids on the grassy lawn.

Alley Cantina

LIVE MUSIC

(121 Terracina Lane; ☺ 11:30am-11pm) It's a bit-cooler-than-thou, but maybe 'tude happens when you inhabit the oldest building in town. Catch live rock, blues, hip-hop or jazz almost nightly.

Shopping

Taos has historically been a mecca for artists, demonstrated by the huge number of galleries and studios in and around town. Indie stores and galleries line the John Dunn Shops (www.johndunnshops.com) pedestrian walkway linking Bent St to Taos Plaza. Here you'll find the well-stocked Moby Dickens Bookshop (www.mobydickens.com; 124A Bent Street; ☺ 10am-6pm) and the tiny but intriguing G Robinson Old Prints & Maps (124D Bent St; ☺ 11am-5pm), a treat for cartography geeks.

Just east of the Plaza, pop into El Rincón Trading Post (114 Kit Carson Rd; ☺ 10am-5pm) and Horse Feathers (109 Kit Carson Rd; ☺ 10:30am-5:30pm) for classic Western memorabilia.

i Information

Taos.org (www.taos.org) Great resource for visitors, with easy-to-navigate links.

Taos Visitor Center (☎ 575-758-3873; Paseo del Pueblo Sur, Paseo del Cañon; ☺ 9am-5pm; 📶)

Wired? (705 Felicidad Lane; ☺ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, 8:30am-6pm Sat & Sun, shorter hours weekends in winter) Funky coffee shop with computers ($7 per hour). Free wi-fi for customers.

i Getting There & Away

From Santa Fe, take either the scenic 'high road' along Hwys 76 and 518, with galleries, villages and sites worth exploring, or follow the lovely unfolding Rio Grande landscape on Hwy 68.

North Central Regional Transit (www.ncrtd.org) provides free shuttle-bus service to Espanola, where you can transfer to Santa Fe and other destinations. Twin Hearts Express (☎ 800-654-9456; www.twinhearts-expresstransportation.com) will get you to Santa Fe ($40) and the Albuquerque airport ($50).

Northwestern New Mexico

Dubbed 'Indian Country' for good reason – huge swaths of land fall under the aegis of the Navajo, Pueblo, Zuni, Apache and Laguna tribes – this quadrant of New Mexico showcases remarkable ancient Indian sites alongside solitary Native American settlements and colorful geological badlands.

Farmington & Around

The largest town in New Mexico's northwestern region, Farmington makes a convenient base from which to explore the Four Corners area. The visitors bureau (☎ 505-326-7602; www.farmingtonnm.org; 3041 E Main St, Farmington Museum at Gateway Park; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) has more information.

Shiprock, a 1700ft-high volcanic plug that rises eerily over the landscape to the west, was a landmark for the Anglo pioneers and is a sacred site to the Navajo.

An ancient pueblo, Salmon Ruin & Heritage Park (www.salmonruins.com; adult/child $3/1; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat & Sun; from noon Sun Nov-Apr) features a large village built by the Chaco people in the early 1100s. Abandoned, resettled by people from Mesa Verde and again abandoned before 1300, the site also includes the remains of a homestead, petroglyphs, a Navajo hogan and a wickiup (a rough brushwood shelter). Take Hwy 64 east 11 miles toward Bloomfield.

Fourteen miles northeast of Farmington, the 27-acre Aztec Ruins National Monument (www.nps.gov/azru; adult/child $5/free; ☺ 8am-5pm Sep-May, to 6pm Jun-Aug) features the largest reconstructed kiva in the country, with an internal diameter of almost 50ft. A few steps away, let your imagination wander as you stoop through low doorways and dark rooms inside the West Ruin. In summer, rangers give early-afternoon talks about ancient architecture, trade routes and astronomy.

About 35 miles south of Farmington along Hwy 371, the undeveloped Bisti Badlands & De-Na-Zin Wilderness is a trippy, surreal landscape of strange, colorful rock formations, especially spectacular in the hours before sunset; desert enthusiasts shouldn't miss it. The Farmington BLM office (☎ 505-564-7600; www.nm.blm.gov; 6251 College Blvd; ☺ 7:45am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) has information.

The lovely, three-room Silver River Adobe Inn B&B (☎ 800-382-9251, 575-325-8219; www.silveradobe.com; 3151 W Main St, Farmington; r $115-175; 📶📶) offers a peaceful respite among the trees along the San Juan River.

Managing to be both trendy and kid-friendly, the hippish Three Rivers Eatery & Brewhouse (www.threeriversbrewery.com; 101 E Main St, Farmington; mains $8-26; ☺ 11am-9pm; 🍷) has good steaks, pub grub, and its own microbrews. It's the best restaurant in town by a mile.

Chaco Culture National Historic Park

Featuring massive Ancestral Puebloan buildings set in an isolated high-desert environment, intriguing Chaco (www.nps.gov/chcu; per vehicle/bike $8/4; ☺ 7am-sunset) contains evidence of 5000 years of human occupation. In its prime, the community at Chaco Canyon was a major trading and ceremonial hub for the region – and the city the Puebloan people created here was masterly in its layout and design. Pueblo Bonito is four stories tall and may have had 600 to 800 rooms and kivas. As well as taking the self-guided loop tour, you can hike various backcountry trails. For stargazers, there's the Night Skies program offered Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings April through October.

The park is in a remote area approximately 80 miles south of Farmington. Gallo Campground (campsites $10) is 1 mile east of the visitor center. No RV hook-ups.

---

Chama

Nine miles south of the Colorado border, Chama's Cumbres & Toltec Scenic Railway (☎575-756-2151; www.cumbrestoltec.com; adult/child from $89/49; ☀late May–mid-Oct) is the longest (64 miles) and highest (over the 10,015-ft-high Cumbres Pass) authentic narrow-gauge steam railroad in the US. It's a beautiful trip, particularly in September and October during the fall foliage, through mountains, canyons and high desert. Lunch is included and on many trips kids ride free. See the website for details on trip options.

---

Northeastern New Mexico

East of Santa Fe, the lush Sangre de Cristo Mountains give way to vast rolling plains. Dusty grasslands stretch to infinity and further – to Texas. Cattle and dinosaur prints dot a landscape punctuated with volcanic cones. Ranching is an economic mainstay, and on many roads you'll see more cows than cars.

The Santa Fe Trail, along which pioneer settlers rolled in wagon trains, ran from New Mexico to Missouri. You can still see the wagon ruts in some places off I-25 between Santa Fe and Raton. For a bit of the Old West without a patina of consumer hype, this is the place.

---

Cimarron

Cimarron once ranked among the rowdiest of Wild West towns; its name even means 'wild' in Spanish. According to local lore, murder was such an everyday occurrence in the 1870s that peace-and-quiet was newsworthy, one paper going so far as to report:

'Everything is quiet in Cimarron. Nobody has been killed in three days.'

Today, the town is quiet, luring nature-minded travelers who want to enjoy the great outdoors. Driving here to or from Taos, you'll pass through gorgeous Cimarron Canyon State Park, a steep-walled canyon with several hiking trails, excellent trout fishing and camping.

You can stay or dine (restaurant mains $7 to $20) at what's reputed to be one of the most haunted hotels in the USA, the 1872 St James (☎888-376-2664; www.exst-james.com; 617 Collison St; r $85-135; 🏠🍷) – one room is so spook-filled that it's never rented out! Many legends of the West stayed here, including Buffalo Bill, Annie Oakley, Wyatt Earp and Jesse James, and the front desk has a long list of who shot whom in the now-renovated hotel bar. The authentic period rooms make this one of the most historic-feeling hotels in New Mexico.

---

Capulin Volcano National Monument

Rising 1300ft above the surrounding plains, Capulin (www.nps.gov/cavo; admission per vehicle $5; ☀8am-4pm) is the most accessible of several volcanoes in the area. From the visitor center, a 2-mile road spirals up the mountain to a parking lot at the crater rim (8182ft), where trails lead around and into the crater. The entrance is 3 miles north of Capulin village, which itself is 30 miles east of Raton on Hwy 87.

---

Southwestern New Mexico

The Rio Grande Valley unfurls from Albuquerque down to the bubbling hot springs of funky Truth or Consequences and beyond. Before the river hits the Texas line, it feeds one of New Mexico's agricultural treasures: Hatch, the so-called 'chili capital of the world.' The first atomic device was detonated at the Trinity Site, in the bone-dry desert east of the Rio Grande known since Spanish times as the Jornada del Muerto – Journey of Death.

To the west, the rugged Gila National Forest is wild with backpacking and fishing adventures. The mountains' southern slopes descend into the Chihuahuan Desert that surrounds Las Cruces, the state's second-largest city.

Truth or Consequences & Around

An offbeat joie de vivre permeates the funky little town of Truth or Consequences, which was built on the site of natural hot springs in the 1880s. A bit of the quiriness stems from the fact that the town changed its name from Hot Springs to Truth or Consequences (or 'T or C') in 1950, after a popular radio game show of the same name. Publicity these days comes courtesy of Virgin Galactic CEO Richard Branson and other space-travel visionaries driving the development of nearby Spaceport America, where wealthy tourists will launch into orbit sometime soon. Spaceport tours (☎ 575-740-6894; www.ftstours.com; adult/under 12yr $59/29; ☉ 9am & 1pm Fri & Sat, 9am Sun) include a look at the launch site and mission control.

About 60 miles north of town, sandhill cranes and Arctic geese winter in the 90 sq miles of fields and marshes at Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge (www.fws.gov/southwest/refuges/newmex/bosque; per vehicle $5; ☉ dawn-dusk). There's a visitor center and driving tour. The Festival of the Cranes is held in mid-November.

Sleeping & Eating

Many local motels double as spas.

★ Blackstone Hot Springs BOUTIQUE HOTEL $ (☎ 575-894-0894; www.blackstonehotsprings.com; 410 Austin St; r $75-135; 🏠 🚿 🛀) Blackstone embraces the T or C spirit with an upscale wink, decorating each of its seven rooms in the style of a classic TV show, from the Jetsons to the Golden Girls to I Love Lucy. Best part? Each room comes with its own hot-spring tub or waterfall. Worst part? If you like sleeping in darkness, quite a bit of courtyard light seeps into some rooms at night.

Riverbend Hot Springs BOUTIQUE HOTEL $ (☎ 575-894-7625; www.riverbendhotsprings.com; 100 Austin St; r from $70; 🏠 🚿 🛀) Former hostel Riverbend Hot Springs now offers more traditional motel-style accommodations – no more tepees – from its fantastic perch beside the Rio Grande. Rooms exude a bright, quirky charm, and several units work well for groups. Private hot-spring tubs are available by the hour (guest/nonguest $10/15), as is a public hot-spring pool (guest/nonguest free/$10).

Happy Belly Deli

DELI $

(313 N Broadway; mains $2-8; ☉ 7am-3pm Mon-Fri, 8am-3pm Sat, 8am-noon Sun) Draws the morning crowd with fresh and filling breakfast combos.

★ Café Bellaluca

ITALIAN $$

(www.cafebellaluca.com; 303 Jones St; lunch mains $8-15, dinner mains $13-38; ☉ 11am-9pm Mon, Wed & Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 8pm Sun) Earns raves for its Italian specialties; pizzas are amazing.

Las Cruces & Around

The second-largest city in New Mexico, Las Cruces is home to New Mexico State University (NMSU), but there's surprisingly little of real interest for visitors.

Sights

For many, a visit to neighboring Mesilla (aka Old Mesilla) is the highlight of their time in Las Cruces. Wander a few blocks off Old Mesilla's plaza to gather the essence of a mid-19th-century Southwestern town of Hispanic heritage.

★ New Mexico Farm & Ranch Heritage Museum

MUSEUM

(www.nmfarmandranchmuseum.org; 4100 Dripping Springs Rd; adult/child $5/2; ☉ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 🏠) This terrific museum in Las Cruces has more than just engaging displays about the agricultural history of the state – it's got livestock! There are daily milking demonstrations and an occasional 'parade of breeds' of beef cattle, along with stalls of horses, donkeys, sheep and goats. Other demonstrations include blacksmithing (Friday to Sunday), spinning and weaving (Wednesday), and heritage cooking (call for schedule).

White Sands Missile Test Center Museum

MUSEUM

(www.wsmr-history.org; Bldg 200, Headquarters Ave; ☉ 8am-4pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat) FREE About 25 miles east of Las Cruces along Hwy 70 (look for the White Sands Missile Range Headquarters sign), White Sands has been a major military testing site since 1945, and it still serves as an alternative landing site for the space shuttle. Look for the crazy outdoor missile park. Since it's on an army base, everyone entering over the age of 18 years must show ID, and the driver might have to present car registration and proof of insurance.

WORTH A TRIP

EAVESDROPPING ON OUTER SPACE

Past the town of Magdalena on Hwy 60 is the Very Large Array (VLA; www.nrao.edu; off Hwy 52; ☀ 8:30am-sunset)

FREE radio telescope facility, a complex of 27 huge antenna dishes sprouting like giant mushrooms in the high plains. At the visitor center, watch a short film about the facility and take a self-guided walking tour with a window peek into the control building. It's 4 miles south of Hwy 60 off Hwy 52.

 Sleeping
 Lundeen Inn of the Arts

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 505-526-3326; www.innofthearts.com; 618 S Alameda Blvd, Las Cruces; r incl breakfast $80-125, ste $99-155; ♿ ☎) In Las Cruces, Lundeen Inn of the Arts, a large turn-of-the-19th-century Mexican territorial-style inn, has seven guest rooms (all unique), genteel hosts, an airy living room with soaring ceilings (made of pressed tin) and impressive freshly made breakfasts.

 Eating
 Nellie's Café

NEW MEXICAN $

(1226 W Hadley Ave; mains $5-8; ☀ 8am-2pm Tue-Sun) A favored local New Mexican restaurant, great for breakfast and lunch. Cash only.

 La Posta

NEW MEXICAN $$

(www.laposta-de-mesilla.com; 2410 Calle de San Albino; mains $8-15; ☀ 11am-9pm) The most famous restaurant in Old Mesilla, in a 200-year-old adobe, may at first raise your doubts with its fiesta-like decor and touristy feel. But the New Mexican dishes are consistently good, portions are huge and service is prompt.

 Information

Las Cruces Visitors Bureau (☎ 575-541-2444; www.lascrucesvb.org; 211 N Water St; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri)

 Getting There & Away

Greyhound (☎ 575-524-8518; www.greyhound.com; 800 E Thorpe Rd, Chucky's Convenience Store) buses traverse the two interstate corridors (I-10 and I-25). Daily destinations include Albuquerque ($29, 3½ hours), Roswell ($52, four hours) and El Paso ($12.60, one hour).

Silver City & Around

The spirit of the Wild West still hangs in the air here, as if Billy the Kid himself – a former resident – might amble past at any moment. But things are changing, as the mountain-man/cowboy vibe succumbs to the charms of art galleries, coffeehouses and gelato. (One word of caution when strolling through downtown Silver City – look carefully before you step off the sidewalk. Because of monsoonal summer rains, curbs are higher than average, built to keep the Victorian and the brick and cast-iron buildings safe from quick-rising waters.)

Silver City is also the gateway to outdoor activities in the Gila National Forest, which is rugged country suitable for remote cross-country skiing, backpacking, camping, fishing and other activities.

Two hours north of Silver City, up a winding 42-mile road, is Gila Cliff Dwellings National Monument (www.nps.gov/gicl; admission $3; ☀ trail 9am-4pm, visitor center to 4:30pm), occupied in the 13th century by Mogollons. Mysterious and relatively isolated, these remarkable cliff dwellings are easily accessed from a 1-mile loop trail and look very much as they would have at the turn of the first millennium. For pictographs, stop by the Lower Scorpion Campground and walk a short distance along the marked trail.

Weird rounded monoliths make the City of Rocks State Park (www.nmparks.com; Hwy 61; day-use $5, tent/RV sites $8/10) an intriguing playground, with great camping among the formations; there are tables and fire pits. For a rock-lined gem of a spot, check out campsite 43, the Lynx. Head 24 miles northwest of Deming along Hwy 180, then 3 miles north-east on Hwy 61.

For a smattering of Silver City's architectural history, overnight in the 22-room Palace Hotel (☎ 575-388-1811; www.silvercity-palacehotel.com; 106 W Broadway; r from $51; ♿ ☎). Exuding a low-key, turn-of-the-19th-century charm (no air con, older fixtures), the Palace is a great choice for those tired of cookie-cutter chains. On the corner, the lofty Javalina (201 N Bullard St; pastries from $2; ☀ 6am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 7pm Sun; ☎) offers coffee, snacks and wi-fi in a comfy, come-as-you-are space.

Downtown offers a variety of eateries, including the deservedly popular Diane's Restaurant & Bakery (☎ 575-538-8722; www.dianesrestaurant.com; 510 N Bullard St; lunch $8-10, dinner $15-30; ☺ 11am-2pm & 5:30-9pm Tue-Sat, 11am-2pm Sun) and the Peace Meal Cooperative (www.peacemealcoop.com; 601 N Bullard St; mains $6-10; ☺ 11am-7pm Wed-Mon; 🍴) build-your-own burrito bar. For a real taste of local culture, head 7 miles north to Pinos Altos and the Buckhorn Saloon (📞 575-538-9911; www.buckhornsaloonandoperahouse.com; Main St, Pinos Altos; mains $10-39; ☺ 5-9pm Mon-Sat), where the specialty is steak and there's live music most nights. Call for reservations.

i Information

The visitor center (📞 575-538-3785; www.silvercity.org; 201 N Hudson St; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-2pm Sat & Sun) and the Gila National Forest Ranger Station (📞 575-388-8201; www.fs.fed.us/r3/gila; 3005 E Camino Del Bosque; ☺ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) have area information. To learn about the town's contentious mining history, watch the blacklisted 1954 movie Salt of the Earth.

Southeastern New Mexico

Two of New Mexico's greatest natural wonders are tucked down here in the arid southeast - mesmerizing White Sands National Monument and magnificent Carlsbad Caverns National Park. This region is also home to some of the state's most enduring legends: aliens in Roswell, Billy the Kid in Lincoln and Smokey Bear in Capitan. Most of the lowlands are covered by hot, rugged Chihuahuan Desert, but you can escape to cooler climes by driving up to higher altitudes around the popular forested resort towns such as Cloudcroft and Ruidoso.

White Sands National Monument

Slide, roll and slither through brilliant, towering sand hills. Sixteen miles southwest of Alamogordo (15 miles southwest of Hwy 82/70), gypsum covers 275 sq miles to create a dazzling white landscape at this crisp, stark monument (www.nps.gov/whsa; adult/under 16yr $3/free; ☺ 7am-9pm Jun-Aug, to sunset Sep-May). These captivating windswept dunes are a highlight of any trip to New Mexico. Don't forget your sunglasses - the sand is as bright as snow!

Spring for a $17 plastic saucer at the visitor center gift store then sled one of the back dunes. It's fun, and you can sell the disc back for $5 at day's end (no rentals to avoid liability). Check the park calendar for sunset strolls and occasional full-moon bike rides (adult/under 16 years $5/2.50), the latter best reserved far in advance. Backcountry campsites, with no water or toilet facilities, are a mile from the scenic drive. Pick up one of the limited permits ($3, issued first-come, first-served) in person at the visitor center at least one hour before sunset.

Alamogordo & Around

Alamogordo is the center of one of the most historically important space- and atomic-research programs in the country. The four-story New Mexico Museum of Space History (www.nmspacemuseum.org; Hwy 2001; adult/child $6/4; ☺ 9am-5pm; 🏠) has excellent exhibits on space research and flight. Its Tombaugh IMAX Theater & Planetarium (adult/child $6/4.50; 🏠) shows outstanding science-themed films on a huge wraparound screen.

Numerous motels stretch along White Sands Blvd, including Best Western Desert Aire Hotel (📞 575-437-2110; www.bestwestern.com; 1021 S White Sands Blvd; r from $78; 🏠 @ 📞 📺), with standard-issue rooms and suites (some with kitchenettes), along with a sauna. If you'd rather camp, hit Olivier Lee State Park (www.nmparks.com; 409 Dog Canyon Rd; tent/RV sites $8/14), 12 miles south of Alamogordo. Grab some grub at the friendly Pizza Patio & Pub (2203 E 1st St; mains $7-15; ☺ 11am-8pm Mon-Thu & Sat, to 9pm Fri; 🏠), which has pizzas, pastas, big salads and pitchers or pints of beer on tap.

Cloudcroft

Pleasant Cloudcroft, with turn-of-the-19th-century buildings, offers lots of outdoor recreation, a good base for exploration and a low-key feel. Situated high in the mountains, it provides welcome relief from the lowlands heat to the east. For good information on hiking trails, free maps of forest roads, and topo maps for sale, go to the Lincoln National Forest Ranger Station (4 Lost Lodge Rd; ☺ 7:30am-4:30pm Mon-Fri). High Altitude (📞 575-682-1229; www.highaltitude.org; 310 Burro Ave; ☺ 10am-5:30pm Mon-Thu, to 6pm Fri & Sat, to 5pm Sun) rents mountain bikes and has maps of local fat-tire routes.

The Loge Resort & Spa (📞 888-395-6343; www.thelodgeresort.com; 601 Corona Pl; r from $125; @ 📞 📺) is one of the Southwest's best historic hotels. Rooms in the main Bavarian-style hotel are furnished with period and Victorian pieces. Within the lodge, Rebecca's (☎ 575-682-3131; Lodge Resort & Spa, 601 Corona Pl; mains $8-36; ☀ 7-10am, 11:30am-2pm & 5:30-9pm), named after the resident ghost, offers by far the best food in town.

Ruidoso

Downright bustling in summer and big with racetrack bettors, resorty Ruidoso (it means 'noisy' in Spanish) has an utterly pleasant climate thanks to its lofty and forested perch near Sierra Blanca (12,000ft). It's spread out along Hwy 48 (known as Mechem Dr or Sudderth Dr), the main drag.

👁 Sights & Activities

To stretch your legs, try the easily accessible forest trails on Cedar Creek Rd just west of Smokey Bear Ranger Station (☎ 575-257-4095; 901 Mechem Dr; ☀ 7:30am-4:30pm Mon-Fri year-round, plus Sat in summer). Choose from the USFS Fitness Trail or the meandering paths at the Cedar Creek Picnic Area. Longer day hikes and backpacking routes abound in the White Mountain Wilderness, north of town. Always check fire restrictions around here – it's not unusual for the forest to close during dry spells.

Ski Apache

SKIING

(www.skiapache.com; lift ticket adult/child $51/33) The best ski area south of Albuquerque. It's 18 miles northwest of Ruidoso on the slopes of beautiful Sierra Blanca Peak (about 12,000ft). To get there, take exit 532 off Hwy 48.

Ruidoso Downs Racetrack

HORSE RACING

(www.raceruidoso.com; Hwy 70; grandstand seats free; ☀ Fri-Mon late May-early Sep) Serious horse racing happens here.

Hubbard Museum of the American West

MUSEUM

(www.hubbardmuseum.org; 26301 Hwy 70; adult/child $6/2; ☀ 10am-4:30pm; 🏠) Displays Western-related items, with an emphasis on Old West stagecoaches, Native American artifacts and, well, all things horse.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Numerous motels, hotels and cute little cabin complexes line the streets. There's plenty of primitive camping along forest roads on the way to the ski area.

Sitzmark Chalet

HOTEL $

(☎ 800-658-9694; www.sitzmark-chalet.com; 627 Sudderth Dr; r from $60; 🏠 🍷) This ski-themed chalet offers 17 simple but nice rooms. Picnic tables, grills and an eight-person hot tub are welcome perks.

Upper Canyon Inn

LODGE $$

(☎ 575-257-3005; www.uppercanyoninn.com; 215 Main Rd; r/cabins from $79/119; 🏠) Rooms and cabins range from simple good values to rustic-chic luxury.

Cornerstone Bakery

BREAKFAST $

(www.cornerstonebakerycafe.com; 359 Sudderth Dr; mains under $10; ☀ 7am-2pm; 🍳) Stay around long enough and this eatery may become your touchstone. Everything on the menu, from the omelets to croissant sandwiches, is worthy, and the piñon-flavored coffee is wonderful.

Café Rio

PIZZA $

(2547 Sudderth Dr; mains $8-25, cash only; ☀ 11:30am-8pm, closed Wed off-season; 🍷 🍴) Friendly service isn't the first description that leaps to mind at this scruffy pizza joint, but oh...take one bite of a pillowy slice and all will be forgiven.

★ Entertainment

Flying J Ranch

VARIETY

(☎ 888-458-3595; www.flyingjiranch.com; 1028 Hwy 48; adult/child $27/15; ☀ from 5:30pm Mon-Sat late May-early Sep, Sat only to mid-Oct; 🏠) Circle the wagons and ride over about 1.5 miles north of Alto for a meal. This 'Western village' stages gunfights and offers pony rides with its cowboy-style chuckwagon.

📍 Information

The chamber of commerce (☎ 575-257-7395; www.ruidoso.net; 720 Sudderth Dr; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-3pm Sat) has visitor information.

Lincoln & Capitan

Fans of Western history won't want to miss little Lincoln. Twelve miles east of Capitan along the Billy the Kid National Scenic Byway (www.billybyway.com), this is where the gun battle that turned Billy the Kid into a legend took place. The whole town is beautifully preserved in close to original form and the main street has been designated the Lincoln State Monument (www.nmmonuments.org/lincoln; adult/child $5/free; ☀ 8:30am-4:30pm); modern influences (such as neon-

DON'T MISS

CARLSBAD CAVERNS NATIONAL PARK

Scores of wondrous caves hide under the hills at this unique national park (☎ 575-785-2232, bat info 505-785-3012; www.nps.gov/cave; 3225 National Parks Hwy; adult/child $6/free; 🕒 caves 8:30am-5pm late May-early Sep, 8:30am-3:30pm early Sep-late May; 🚰), which covers 73 sq miles. The cavern formations are an ethereal wonderland of stalactites and fantastical geological features. From the visitor center (🕒 8am-5pm, to 7pm late May-early Sep) you can ride an elevator, which descends the length of the Empire State Building in under a minute, or take a 2-mile subterranean walk from the cave mouth to the Big Room, an underground chamber 1800ft long, 255ft high and more than 800ft below the surface. If you've got kids (or are just feeling goofy), plastic caving helmets with headlamps are sold in the gift shop.

Guided tours (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; adult $7-20, child $3.50-10) of additional caves are available, and should be reserved well in advance. Wear long sleeves and closed shoes; it gets chilly.

The cave's other claim to fame is the 300,000-plus Mexican free-tailed bat colony that roosts here from mid-May to mid-October. Be here by sunset, when they cyclone out for an all-evening insect feast.

lit motel signs, souvenir stands, fast-food joints) are not allowed.

Buy tickets to the historic town buildings at the Anderson-Freeman Museum, where you'll also find exhibits on Buffalo soldiers, Apaches and the Lincoln County War. Make the fascinating Courthouse Museum your last stop; this is the well-marked site of Billy's most daring – and violent – escape. There's a plaque where one of his bullets slammed into the wall.

For overnighters, the Ellis Store Country Inn (☎ 800-653-6460; www.ellisstore.com; Hwy 380; r incl breakfast $89-129) offers three antique-filled rooms (complete with wood stove) in the main house; five additional rooms are located in a historic mill on the property. From Wednesday to Saturday the host offers an amazing six-course dinner ($75 per person), served in the lovely dining room. Perfect for special occasions; reservations recommended.

A few miles west on the road to Capitan, Laughing Sheep Farm and Ranch (☎ 575-653-4041; www.laughingsheepfarm.com; Hwy 380; mains $10-35; 🕒 5-9pm Thu-Sat; 🚰) raises sheep, cows and bison – along with vegetables and fruit – then serves them up for dinner. The dining room is comfortable and casual, with a play-dough table and an easel for kids and live music each night it's open. Comfortable cabins with hot tubs are rented by the night from $130.

Like Lincoln, cozy Capitan is surrounded by the beautiful mountains of Lincoln National Forest. The main reason to come is so the kids can visit Smokey Bear Historical State Park (118 W Smokey Bear Blvd; adult/child $2/1; 🕒 9am-5pm), where Smokey (yes, there actually was a real Smokey Bear) is buried.

Roswell

If you believe 'The Truth Is Out There', then the Roswell Incident is already filed away in your memory banks. In 1947 a mysterious object crashed at a nearby ranch. No one would have skipped any sleep over it, but the military made a big to-do of hushing it up, and for a lot of folks, that sealed it: the aliens had landed! International curiosity and local ingenuity have transformed the city into a quirky extraterrestrial-wannabe zone. Bulbous white heads glow atop the downtown streetlamps and busloads of tourists come to find good souvenirs.

Believers and kitsch-seekers must check out the International UFO Museum & Research Center (www.roswellufomuseum.com; 114 N Main St; adult/child $5/$2; 🕒 9am-5pm), displaying documents supporting the cover-up as well as lots of far-out art and exhibitions. The annual Roswell UFO Festival (www.roswellufofestival.com) beams down in early July, with an otherworldly costume parade, guest speakers, workshops and concerts.

Ho-hum chain motels line N Main St. About 36 miles south of Roswell, the Heritage Inn (☎ 575-748-2552; www.artesiaheritage-inn.com; 209 W Main St, Artesia; r incl breakfast from $119; 🏠🍷🍷) in Artesia offers 11 Old West-style rooms and is the nicest lodging in the area.

For simple, dependable New Mexican fare, try Martin's Capitol Cafe (110 W 4th St; mains $7-15; ☺6am-8:30pm Mon-Sat); for American eats, Big D's Downtown Dive (www.bigdsdowntowndive.com; 505 N Main St; mains $7-10; ☺11am-9pm) has the best salads, sandwiches and burgers in town.

Pick up local information and have your picture snapped with an alien at the visitors bureau (☎575-624-6860; www.seeroswell.com; 912 N Main St; ☺8:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat & Sun; 🏠).

The Greyhound Bus Depot (☎575-622-2510; www.greyhound.com; 1100 N Virginia Ave) has buses to Carlsbad ($30, 1½ hours) and El Paso, TX, via Las Cruces ($52, four hours).

Carlsbad

Travelers use Carlsbad as a base for visits to nearby Carlsbad Caverns National Park and the Guadalupe Mountains. The Park Service office (☎575-885-8884; 3225 National Parks Hwy; ☺8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) on the south edge of town has information on both.

On the northwestern outskirts of town, off Hwy 285, Living Desert State Park (www.nmparks.com; 1504 Miehls Dr, off Hwy 285; adult/child $5/3; ☺8am-5pm Jun-Aug, 9am-5pm Sep-May) is a great place to see and learn about desert plants and wildlife. There's a good 1.3-mile trail that showcases different habitats of the Chihuahuan Desert, with live antelopes, wolves, roadrunners and more.

Most of Carlsbad lodging consists of chain motels on S Canal St or National Parks Hwy. The top value is the Stagecoach Inn (☎575-887-1148; 1819 S Canal St; r from $50; 🏠🍷🍷), with clean rooms, a pool, and a good on-site playground for kids. The best accommodation in town is the new, luxurious Trinity Hotel (☎575-234-9891; www.thetrinityhotel.com; 201 S Canal St; r from $169-219; 🏠🍷), a historic building that was originally the First National Bank; the sitting room of one suite is inside the old vault! The restaurant here is Carlsbad's classiest.

The perky Blue House Bakery & Cafe (609 N Canyon St; mains $4-8; ☺6am-noon Mon-Sat) brews the best coffee in this quadrant of New Mexico and specializes in breakfasts and pastries. For country-style dinner, hit the lip-smackin' good Red Chimney Pit Barbecue (www.redchimneypitbarbecue.com; 817 N Canal St; mains $7-15; ☺11am-2pm & 4:30-8:30pm Mon-Fri), where you're sure to get your fill.

For other in-the-know advice, visit the chamber of commerce (☎575-887-6516; www.carlsbadchamber.com; 302 S Canal St; ☺9am-5pm Mon, 8am-5pm Tue-Fri).

Greyhound (☎575-628-0768; www.greyhound.com; 3102 National Parks Hwy) buses depart from the Shamrock gas station inside Food Jet South, heading only to El Paso ($52, three hours) and Lubbock, TX ($52, four hours).

California

Includes →

Los Angeles .....	906
San Diego .....	933
Palm Springs.....	944
Joshua Tree National Park.....	946
Death Valley National Park .....	949
Santa Cruz.....	961
San Francisco .....	964
Yosemite National Park .....	1009

Best Places to Eat

- Benu (p982)
- Chez Panisse (p993)
- French Laundry (p996)
- George's at the Cove (p942)
- Bazaar (p924)

Best Places to Hike

- Yosemite National Park (p1009)
- Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks (p1013)
- Marin County (p991)
- Redwood National & State Parks (p1001)

Why Go?

With bohemian spirit and high-tech savvy, not to mention a die-hard passion for the good life – whether that means cracking open a bottle of old-vine Zinfandel, climbing a 14,000ft peak or surfing the Pacific – California soars beyond any expectations sold on Hollywood's silver screens.

More than anything, California is iconic. It was here that the hurly-burly gold rush kicked off in the mid-19th century, poet-naturalist John Muir rhapsodized about the Sierra Nevada's 'range of light,' and Jack Kerouac and the Beat Generation defined what it really means to hit the road.

California's multicultural melting pot has been cookin' since this bountiful promised land was first staked out by Spain and Mexico. Today, waves of immigrants from around the world still look to find their own American dream on these palm-tree-studded Pacific shores.

Come see the future in the making in California. Then stay for the beaches.

When to Go

Los Angeles

Jun-Aug Mostly sunny weather, some coastal fog; summer vacation crowds.

Apr-May & Sep-Oct Cooler nights, mostly cloudless days; travel bargains.

Nov-Mar Peak tourism at mountain ski resorts and in SoCal's warm deserts.

DON'T MISS

You can't leave California without hugging a tree! We suggest a coast redwood, which can live for 2000 years and grow to 379ft tall.

Fast Facts

- ➔ Hub cities Los Angeles (population 3,819,702), San Francisco (population 812,826)
- ➔ Driving time LA to San Francisco (5½ hours via inland I-5 & I-580 Fwys, 8½ hours via coastal Hwys 101 & 1)
- ➔ Time zone Pacific Standard

Did You Know?

Just a few of California's inventions: the internet and the iPad, power yoga and reality TV, the space shuttle and Mickey Mouse, the Cobb salad and the fortune cookie.

Resources

- ➔ California Travel & Tourism Commission (www.visitcalifornia.com) Official state tourism info.
- ➔ California Department of Transportation (www.dot.ca.gov/cgi-bin/roads.cgi) Road conditions and highway closures.
- ➔ USGS Earthquake Hazards (<http://quake.usgs.gov/recenteqs/latest.htm>) Real-time earthquake maps.

Getting There & Around

Los Angeles (LAX) and San Francisco (SFO) are major international airports. Small airports in San Diego, Orange County, Oakland, San Jose, Sacramento, Burbank, Long Beach and Santa Barbara handle primarily domestic flights.

Four long-distance Amtrak routes connect California with the rest of the USA: California Zephyr (Chicago–San Francisco Bay Area), Coast Starlight (Seattle–Los Angeles), Southwest Chief (Chicago–LA) and Sunset Limited (New Orleans–LA). Amtrak's intrastate routes include the Pacific Surfliner (San Diego–LA–Santa Barbara–San Luis Obispo), the Capitol Corridor (San Jose–Oakland–Berkeley–Sacramento) and the San Joaquin (Bakersfield to Oakland or Sacramento, with Yosemite Valley buses from Merced).

Greyhound buses travel to many corners of the state. But to really get out and explore, especially away from the coast, you'll need a car.

CALIFORNIA'S NATIONAL & STATE PARKS

Yosemite and Sequoia became California's first national parks in 1890, and today there are seven more: Kings Canyon, Death Valley, Joshua Tree, Channel Islands, Redwood, Lassen Volcanic and Pinnacles. The National Park Service (www.nps.gov) manages two dozen other historic sites, monuments, nature preserves and recreational areas statewide. Entry fees vary from nothing up to $25 per vehicle for a seven-day pass; campsites cost up to $20 nightly. Recreation.gov (☎ 877-444-6777, 518-885-3639; www.recreation.gov) handles camping reservations for all federal lands.

California's 280 state parks (☎ 800-777-0369, 916-653-6995; www.parks.ca.gov) are a diverse bunch – everything from marine preserves to redwood forests – protecting a third of the coastline and offering 3000 miles of hiking, biking and equestrian trails. Some state parks may be closed or have reduced opening hours due to budget cutbacks (call ahead or check the website). Day-use parking fees are $4 to $15, campsites $5 to $75 nightly. ReserveAmerica (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com) handles state-park camping reservations.

Top Five California Beaches

- ➔ Huntington Beach (p932) Bonfires, beach volleyball and rolling waves in 'Surf City USA.'
- ➔ Coronado (p935) Sun yourself along San Diego's boundless Silver Strand.
- ➔ Zuma (p917) Aquamarine waters, frothy surf and tawny sand near Malibu.
- ➔ Santa Cruz (p961) Surf's up! And the beach boardwalk's carnival fun never stops.
- ➔ Point Reyes (p992) Wild, windy, walkable beaches for sunsets and wildlife watching.

History

By the time European explorers arrived in the 16th century, as many as 300,000 indigenous people called this land home. Spanish conquistadors combed through what they called Alta (Upper) California in search of a fabled 'city of gold,' but they left the territory virtually alone after failing to find it. Not until the Mission Period (1769–1833) did Spain make a serious attempt to settle the land; it established 21 Catholic missions – many founded by Franciscan priest Junípero Serra – and presidios (military forts) to deter the British and Russians.

After winning independence from Spain in 1821 Mexico briefly ruled California, but then was trounced by the fledgling United States in the Mexican War (1846–48). The discovery of gold just 10 days before the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo was signed soon saw the territory's nonindigenous population quintuple to 92,000 by 1850, when California became the 31st US state. Thousands of imported Chinese laborers helped complete the transcontinental railroad in 1869, which opened up markets and further spurred migration to the Golden State.

The 1906 San Francisco earthquake was barely a hiccup as California continued to grow exponentially in size, diversity and importance. Mexican immigrants streamed in during the 1910–20 Mexican Revolution, and again during WWII, to fill labor shortages. Military-driven industries developed during wartime, while anti-Asian sentiments led to the unjust internment of many Japanese Americans, including at Manzanar in the Eastern Sierra.

California has long been a social pioneer thanks to its size, confluence of wealth, a diversity of immigration and technological innovation. Since the early 20th century, Hollywood has mesmerized the world with its cinematic dreams. Meanwhile, San Francisco reacted against the banal complacency of post-WWII suburbia with Beat poetry in the 1950s, hippie free love in the '60s and gay pride in the '70s. The internet revolution, initially spurred by high-tech visionaries in Silicon Valley, rewired the nation and led to a 1990s boom in overspeculated stocks.

When that tech bubble burst, plunging the state's economy into chaos, Californians blamed their Democratic governor, Gray Davis, and, in a controversial recall election, voted to give actor-turned-Republican Arnold Schwarzenegger (aka 'The Governator') a shot at fixing things. During the US recession that started in 2008, California's budget shortfalls caused another staggering

CALIFORNIA FACTS

Nickname Golden State

State motto Eureka ('I Have Found It')

Population 38 million

Area 155,779 sq miles

Capital city Sacramento (population 472,178)

Other cities Los Angeles (population 3,819,702), San Diego (population 1,326,179), San Francisco (population 812,826)

Sales tax 7.5%

Birthplace of Author John Steinbeck (1902–68), photographer Ansel Adams (1902–84), US president Richard Nixon (1913–94), pop-culture icon Marilyn Monroe (1926–62)

Home of The highest and lowest points in the contiguous US (Mt Whitney, Death Valley), world's oldest, tallest and biggest living trees (ancient bristlecone pines, coast redwoods and giant sequoias, respectively)

Politics Majority Democrat (multiethnic), minority Republican (mostly white), one in five Californians votes independent

Famous for Disneyland, earthquakes, Hollywood, hippies, Silicon Valley, surfing

Kitschiest souvenir 'Mystery Spot' bumper sticker

Driving distances Los Angeles to San Francisco 380 miles, San Francisco to Yosemite Valley 200 miles

California Highlights

- 1 Chasing waterfalls and climbing granite domes in Yosemite National Park (p1009).
- 2 Making the most of multicultural neighborhoods and Hollywood's red-carpet nightlife in Los Angeles (p906).
- 3 Cruising Hwy 1 above sculpted sea cliffs along the rocky coast of Big Sur (p957).
- 4 Tasting farm-fresh bounty at the Ferry Building in San Francisco (p964).
- 5 Wallowing in mud baths near famous Napa Valley vineyards in Calistoga (p994).
- 6 Chowing on fish tacos and surfing perfect waves off sunny San Diego (p933) beaches.

- 7 Craning your neck at the world's tallest trees along Avenue of the Giants in the Humboldt Redwoods State Park (p1001).
- 8 Trekking across sand dunes and ambulating Old West ghost towns in Death Valley (p949).
- 9 Spotting whales, seals and tule elk at Point Reyes National Seashore (p992).
- 10 Dipping into swimming holes and panning like a '49er in Gold Country (p1005).

CALIFORNIA IN...

One Week

California in a nutshell: start in Los Angeles, detouring to Disneyland. Head up the breezy Central Coast, stopping in Santa Barbara and Big Sur, before getting a dose of big-city culture in San Francisco. Head inland to nature's temple, Yosemite National Park, then zip back to LA.

Two Weeks

Follow the one-week itinerary above, but at a saner pace. Add jaunts to NorCal's Wine Country; Lake Tahoe, perched high in the Sierra Nevada; the bodacious beaches of Orange County and laid-back San Diego; or Joshua Tree National Park, near the chic desert resort of Palm Springs.

One Month

Do everything described above, and more. From San Francisco, head up the North Coast, starting in Marin County at Point Reyes National Seashore. Stroll Victorian-era Mendocino and Eureka, find yourself on the Lost Coast and ramble through fern-filled Redwood National & State Parks. Inland, snap a postcard-perfect photo of Mt Shasta, detour to Lassen Volcanic National Park and ramble California's historic Gold Country. Trace the backbone of the Eastern Sierra before winding down into Death Valley National Park.

financial crisis that once-again Governor Jerry Brown has now begun to resolve.

Meanwhile, the need for public education reform builds, prisons overflow, state parks are chronically underfunded and the conundrum of illegal immigration from Mexico, which fills a critical cheap labor shortage (especially in agriculture), vexes the state.

Local Culture

Currently the world's ninth-largest economy, California is a state of extremes, where grinding poverty shares urban corridors with fabulous wealth. Waves of immigrants keep arriving, and neighborhoods are often mini versions of their homelands. Tolerance for others is the social norm, but so is intolerance, which you'll encounter if you smoke, or drive on freeways during rush hour.

Untraditional and unconventional attitudes define California, a trendsetter by nature. Image is an obsession, appearances are stridently youthful and outdoorsy, and self-help all the rage. Whether it's a luxury SUV or Nissan Leaf, a car may define who you are and how important you consider yourself to be, especially in SoCal (Southern California).

Think of California as the USA's most futuristic social laboratory. If technology identifies a new useful gadget, Silicon Valley will build it at light speed. If postmodern celebrities, bizarrely famous for the mere fact of being famous, make a fashion statement or get thrown in jail, the nation pays attention. No other state's pop culture has as big an effect on how the rest of Americans work, play, eat, love, consume and, yes, recycle.

LOS ANGELES

LA County – America's largest – represents the nation in extremes. Its people are among America's richest and poorest, most established and newest arrivals, most refined and roughest, most beautiful and most botoxed, most erudite and most airheaded. Even the landscape is a microcosm of the USA, from cinematic beaches to snow-dusted mountains, skyscrapers to suburban sprawl, and wilderness where mountain lions prowl.

If you think you've already got LA figured out – celebutants, smog, traffic, bikini babes and pop-star wannabes – think again. Although it's an entertainment capital, the city's truths aren't delivered on movie screens or reality shows; rather, in bite-sized portions of everyday experiences on the streets. The one thing that brings together Angelenos is that they are seekers – or the descendants of seekers – drawn by a dream of fame, fortune or rebirth.

Now is an especially exciting time to visit LA: Hollywood and Downtown are undergoing an urban renaissance, and the art, music, food and fashion scenes are all in high gear. Chances are, the more you explore, the more you'll love 'La-La Land.'

History

The hunter-gatherer existence of the Gabrieleño and Chumash peoples ended with the arrival of Spanish missionaries and colonial pioneers in the late 18th century. Spain's first civilian settlement, El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de Los Ángeles, remained an isolated farming outpost for decades after its founding in 1781. The city wasn't officially incorporated until 1850.

LA's population repeatedly swelled after the collapse of the California gold rush, the arrival of the transcontinental railroad, the growth of the citrus industry, the discovery of oil, the launch of the port of LA, the birth of the movie industry and the opening of the California Aqueduct. After WWII, the city's population doubled from nearly two million in 1950 to almost four million today.

LA's growth has caused problems, including suburban sprawl and air pollution – though, with aggressive enforcement, smog levels have fallen every year since records have been kept. Traffic, a fluctuating real-estate market and the occasional earthquake or wildfire remain nagging concerns but, with a diverse economy and decreasing crime rate, all things considered, LA's a survivor.

Sights

A dozen miles inland from the Pacific, Downtown LA combines history and high-brow arts and culture. Hip-again Hollywood awaits northwest of Downtown, while urban-designer chic and lesbi-gays rule West Hollywood. South of WeHo, Museum Row is Mid-City's main draw. Further west are ritz Beverly Hills, Westwood near the UCLA campus and West LA. Beach towns include kid-friendly Santa Monica, boho Venice, star-powered Malibu and busy Long Beach. Up-scale Pasadena lies northeast of Downtown.

Downtown

For decades, LA's historic core and main business and government district emptied out on nights and weekends. No more. Crowds fill performance and entertainment venues, and young professionals and artists have moved into new lofts, bringing bars, restaurants and art galleries. Don't expect Manhattan just yet; still, adventurous urbanites won't want to miss Downtown.

Downtown is most easily explored on foot combined with short subway and DASH minibus rides. Parking is cheapest (from $6 all day) around Little Tokyo and Chinatown.

EL PUEBLO DE LOS ANGELES & AROUND

Compact, colorful and car-free, this historic district is an immersion in LA's Spanish-Mexican roots. Its spine is Olvera St, a festive kitsch-o-rama where you can snap up handmade folkloric trinkets, then chomp on tacos or sugar-sprinkled churros.

'New' Chinatown is about a half-mile north along Broadway and Hill St, crammed with dim-sum parlors, herbal apothecaries, curio shops and Chung King Rd's edgy art galleries.

La Plaza de Cultura y Artes

MUSEUM

(Map p910; ☎213-542-6200; www.lapca.org; 501 N Main St; ☺noon-7pm Wed-Mon) FREE Open

LOS ANGELES IN...

Distances are ginormous in LA, so allow extra time for traffic and don't try to pack too much into a day.

One Day

Fuel up for the day at the Griddle Cafe and then go star-searching on the Hollywood Walk of Fame along Hollywood Blvd. Up your chances of spotting actual celebs by hitting the fashion-forward boutiques on paparazzi-infested Robertson Blvd, or get a dose of nature at Griffith Park. Then drive west to the lofty Getty Center or head out to the Venice Boardwalk to see the seaside sideshow. Catch a Pacific sunset in Santa Monica.

Two Days

Explore rapidly evolving Downtown LA. Dig up its roots at El Pueblo de Los Angeles, then catapult to the future at dramatic Walt Disney Concert Hall topping the Cultural Corridor. Walk off lunch ambling between Downtown's historic buildings and nouveau art galleries nearby Little Tokyo. At South Park's glitzy LA Live entertainment center, romp through the multimedia Grammy Museum, then join real-life celebs cheering on the LA Lakers next door at Staples Center.

since 2010, La Plaza chronicles the Mexican-American experience in LA with exhibits about the city's history from the Zoot Suit Riots to the Chicana movement and Latino art. It adjoins 1822 La Placita (Map p910; www.laplacita.org; 535 N Main St) church.

Avila Adobe

(Map p910; ☎ 213-628-1274; <http://elpueblo.lacity.org>; Olvera St; 🕒 9am-4pm) FREE Claiming to be LA's oldest building, this 1818 ranch home is decorated with period furniture. A video gives history and highlights of the neighborhood.

MUSEUM

Greater Los Angeles

Union Station

LANDMARK

(Map p910; 800 N Alameda St; ) The last of America's grand rail stations (1939), Union Station's glamorous art-deco interior appears in Blade Runner, 24, Speed and many other films and TV shows. Parking costs from $2 for 20 minutes, $6 all day.

Chinese American Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p910;  213-485-8567; www.camla.org; Garnier Bldg, 425 N Los Angeles St; adult/child $3/2;  10am-3pm Tue-Sun) Small but smart, this museum inhabits a 19th-century Chinese merchant's building and community center, built before LA's Chinatown moved north.

CIVIC CENTER & CULTURAL CORRIDOR

North Grand Ave's 'Cultural Corridor' is anchored by the Music Center (Map p910;  213-972-7211; www.musiccenter.org; 135 N Grand Ave), where performing arts fill the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, Mark Taper Forum and Ahmanson Theater.

★ Museum of Contemporary Art

MUSEUM

(MOCA; Map p910;  213-626-6222; www.moca.org; 250 S Grand Ave; adult/child $12/free, 5-8pm Thu free;  11am-5pm Mon & Fri, to 8pm Thu, to 6pm Sat & Sun) Housed in a building designed by Arata Isozaki, MOCA Grand Ave stages headline-grabbing special exhibits. Its permanent collection presents heavy hitters from the 1940s to the present. Parking at Walt Disney Concert Hall costs from $9 (cash only). MOCA has two other branches: the Geffen Contemporary in Little Tokyo and at West Hollywood's Pacific Design Center.

★ Walt Disney Concert Hall

CULTURAL BUILDING

(Map p910;  info 213-972-7211, tickets 323-850-2000; www.laphil.org; 111 S Grand Ave;  guided tours usually 10:30am & 12:30pm Tue-Sat; ) FREE Architect Frank Gehry's now-iconic 2003 building is a gravity-defying sculpture of curving and billowing stainless-steel walls that's home base for the Los Angeles Philharmonic (p926). Free tours are available subject to concert schedules, and walkways encircle the maze-like roof and exterior. Parking from $9 (cash only). Self-guided audio tours usually run between 10am and 2pm daily. Reservations are required for all tours.

Cathedral of Our Lady of the Angels

CHURCH

(Map p910;  213-680-5200; www.olacathedral.org; 555 W Temple St;  6:30am-6pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat, from 7am Sun;  FREE Architect José Rafael Moneo mixed Gothic proportions with bold contemporary design for the main church of LA's Catholic Archdiocese. Built in 2002 it teems with art, and soft light through alabaster panes lends serenity. Tours (1pm Monday to Friday) and organ recitals (12:45pm Wednesday) are both free and popular.

Downtown Los Angeles

Weekday parking costs from $4 per 15 minutes (daily maximum $18) until 4pm, $5 flat-rate on weekends and holidays.

City Hall

LANDMARK

(Map p910; ☎213-978-1995; www.lacity.org; 200 N Spring St; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri) FREE Until the mid-1960s, no LA building stood taller than City Hall. This 1928 building, with its ziggurat-shaped top, came in the Superman and Dagnet TV series and the 1953 sci-fi thriller War of the Worlds. Soak up views of the city and mountains from the observation deck. Weekday morning tours are free (reservations required).

Wells Fargo History Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p910; ☎213-253-7166; www.wellsfargohistory.com; 333 S Grand Ave; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri) FREE Sponsored by California-based Wells Fargo Bank, this small but intriguing museum chronicles the gold-rush era with an original Concord stagecoach, a 100oz gold nugget and all sorts of other historical artifacts.

ANGELS FLIGHT

Part novelty act, part commuter train for the lazy, Angels Flight (☎213-626-1901; <http://angelsflight.org/>; btwn 351 S Hill St & 350 S Grand Ave; fare 50¢; ☎6:45am-10pm) is a funicular built in 1901 and billed as the 'shortest railway in the world' (298ft). The adorable cars chug up and down Bunker Hill's steep incline between Hill St and California Watercourt Plaza.

LITTLE TOKYO

Little Tokyo swirls with shopping arcades, Buddhist temples, public art, traditional gardens, authentic sushi bars and noodle shops and a branch of MOCA (Map p910; ☎ 213-626-6222; www.moca.org; 152 N Central Ave; adult/child $12/free; ☺ 11am-5pm Mon & Fri, to 8pm Thu, to 6pm Sat & Sun).

Downtown Los Angeles

📍 Top Sights

- |                                   |    |
|-----------------------------------|----|
| 1 Grammy Museum.....              | A4 |
| 2 Museum of Contemporary Art..... | D3 |
| 3 Walt Disney Concert Hall.....   | D3 |

📍 Sights

- |   |    |
|---|----|
| 4 Avila Adobe.....                            | E2 |
| 5 Bradbury Building.....                      | D3 |
| 6 Cathedral of Our Lady of theAngels..... | D2 |
| 7 Chinese American Museum.....                | E2 |
| 8 City Hall.....                              | E3 |
| 9 Fashion District.....                       | C5 |
| 10 Flower Market.....                         | D5 |
| 11 Geffen Contemporary at MOCA.....           | E3 |
| 12 Japanese American NationalMuseum.....  | E4 |
| 13 LA Live.....                               | A4 |
| 14 La Placita.....                            | E2 |
| 15 La Plaza de Cultura y Artes.....           | E2 |
| 16 Nokia Theatre.....                         | A4 |
| 17 Pershing Square.....                       | C4 |
| 18 Union Station.....                         | F3 |
| 19 Wells Fargo History Museum.....            | C3 |

🏠 Sleeping

- |                              |    |
|------------------------------|----|
| 20 Figueroa Hotel.....       | A4 |
| 21 Standard Downtown LA..... | C3 |

🍴 Eating

- |                               |    |
|-------------------------------|----|
| 22 Bâco Mercat.....           | D4 |
| 23 Bottega Louie.....         | C4 |
| 24 Gorbals.....               | C4 |
| 25 Grand Central Market.....  | D3 |
| 26 Nickel Diner.....          | D4 |
| 27 Philippe the Original..... | F2 |

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- |                     |    |
|---------------------|----|
| 28 Edison.....      | D3 |
| 29 Seven Grand..... | C4 |

🎭 Entertainment

- |                                   |    |
|-----------------------------------|----|
| 30 Los Angeles Opera.....         | D2 |
| 31 Los Angeles Philharmonic.....  | D3 |
| 32 Music Center of LA County..... | D2 |
| 33 Orpheum Theatre.....           | C5 |
| 34 Staples Center.....            | A5 |

Japanese American National Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p910; ☎ 213-625-0414; www.janm.org; 100 N Central Ave; adult/child $9/5; ☺ 11am-5pm Tue-Wed & Fri-Sun, noon-8pm Thu) Get an in-depth look at the Japanese immigrant experience, including the painful chapter of WWII internment camps. Traveling exhibitions focus on Asian American art and civil rights. Check the online calendar for neighborhood

HISTORIC DOWNTOWN LA

At the center of Downtown's historic district, Pershing Square (Map p910; www.laparks.org/pershingsquare; 532 S Olive St) was LA's first public park (1866) and has been modernized many times since. Now encircled by high-rises, the park exhibits public art and hosts summer concerts and outdoor movie nights.

Nearby, some of LA's turn-of-the-last century architecture remains as it once was. Pop into the 1893 Bradbury Building (Map p910; www.laconservancy.org; 304 S Broadway; ☺ lobby usually 9am-5pm), whose dazzling galleried atrium cameoed in several hit movies, including Blade Runner, (500) Days of Summer and The Artist.

In the early 20th century, Broadway was a glamorous shopping and theater strip, where megastars such as Charlie Chaplin leapt from limos to attend premieres at lavish movie palaces. Some of these – such as the 1926 Orpheum Theater (Map p910; www.laorpheum.com; 842 S Broadway) – have been restored and once again host film screenings and events. Otherwise, the best way to get inside is with Los Angeles Conservancy (p920) on a weekend walking tour (reservations advised).

walking tours, film screenings, Japanese cooking classes and folkcraft workshops.

SOUTH PARK

South Park isn't actually a park but an emerging Downtown LA neighborhood around LA Live (Map p910; www.lalive.com; 800 W Olympic Blvd), a dining and entertainment hub where you'll find the Staples Center (p926) and the Nokia Theatre (Map p910; ☎ 213-763-6030; www.nokiatheatrelive.com; 777 Chick Hearn Court), home of the MTV Music Awards and American Idol finals. Parking at LA Live or in nearby private lots is expensive (flat-rate from $10 to $30).

★ Grammy Museum

MUSEUM
(Map p910; www.grammymuseum.org; 800 W Olympic Blvd; adult/child $13/11, after 6pm $8; ☺ 11:30am-7:30pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun; 📺) Music fans of all stripes will get lost in these mind-expanding interactive displays about the history of American music, where interactive sound booths let you and your entourage try mixing and remixing pop and rock hits, and singing and rapping with the stars.

EXPOSITION PARK & AROUND

Just south of the University of Southern California (USC) campus, this park has a full day's worth of kid-friendly museums. Outdoor landmarks include the Rose Garden (www.laparks.org; 701 State Dr; admission free; ☺ 9am-sunset Mar 15–Dec 31) and the 1923 Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, site of the 1932 and 1984 Summer Olympic Games. Parking costs from $8. From Downtown, take the Metro Expo Line or DASH minibus F.

★ Natural History

Museum of Los Angeles

MUSEUM
(☎ 213-763-3466; www.nhm.org; 900 Exposition Blvd; adult/child $12/5; ☺ 9:30am-5pm; 📺) Dinosaurs to diamonds, bears to beetles, even an ultra-rare megamouth shark: this science museum will take you around the world and back millions of years in time. Great activities for kids include digging for fossils in the Discovery Center and gazing at gigantic skeletons in the recently reopened Dinosaur Hall.

California Science Center

MUSEUM
(☎ film schedule 213-744-2109, info 323-724-3623; www.californiasciencecenter.org; 700 Exposition Park Dr; ☺ 10am-5pm; 📺) FREE A simulated earthquake, hatching baby chicks and a giant techno-doll named Tess bring out the kid in everyone at this great hands-on science museum. It's the new home of the retired Space Shuttle Endeavour (reservations are required for viewing). IMAX movies (adult/child $8.25/5) cap off an action-filled day.

California African American Museum

MUSEUM
(☎ 213-744-7432; www.caamuseum.org; 600 State Dr; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from 11am Sun) FREE Browse a handsome showcase of African American art, culture and history, focusing on California and the western US.

Watts Towers

MONUMENT
(www.wattstowers.org; 1727 E 107th St; adult/child $7/free; ☺ art center 10am-4pm Wed-Sat, from noon Sun; 📺) South LA's beacon of pride, the world-famous Watts Towers are a huge and fantastical free-form sculpture cobbled together from found objects – from 7-Up bottles to seashells and pottery shards – by folk artist Simon Rodia. Entry by guided tour only. Tours every 30 minutes; 10:30am to 3pm Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from 12:30pm Sunday.

Hollywood

Just as aging movie stars get the occasional facelift, so has Hollywood. While it still hasn't recaptured its mid-20th century 'Golden Age' glamour, its modern seediness is disappearing. The Hollywood Walk of Fame (Map p915; www.walkoffame.com; Hollywood Blvd) honors over 2000 celebrities with stars embedded in the sidewalk.

The Metro Red Line stops beneath Hollywood & Highland (Map p915; ☎ 323-467-6412; www.hollywoodandhighland.com; 6801 Hollywood Blvd), a multistory mall with nicely framed views of the hillside Hollywood Sign, erected in 1923 as an advertisement for a land development called Hollywoodland. Validated mall parking costs $2 for two hours (daily maximum $13).

TCL Chinese Theatre CINEMA

(Map p915; ☎ tour info 323-461-3331; 6925 Hollywood Blvd) Even the most jaded visitor may feel a thrill in Grauman's famous forecourt, where generations of screen legends have left their imprints in cement: feet, hands, dreadlocks (Whoopi Goldberg), and even magic wands (young stars of Harry Potter films). Actors dressed as Superman, Marilyn Monroe and the like pose for photos (for tips), and you may be offered free tickets to TV shows.

Dolby Theatre THEATER

(Map p915; ☎ 323-308-6300; www.dolbytheatre.com; tour adult/child $17/12; ☺ tours usually 10:30am-4pm) Real-life celebs sashay along this theater's red carpet for the Academy Awards – columns with names of Oscar-winning films line the entryway. Pricey 30-minute tours take you inside the auditorium, VIP room and past an actual Oscar statuette.

Hollywood Forever Cemetery CEMETERY

(☎ 323-469-1181; www.hollywoodforever.com; 6000 Santa Monica Blvd; ☺ 8am-5pm; P) Rock-and-roll faithful flock to the monument of Johnny Ramone at this historical boneyard, whose other famous residents include Rudolph Valentino, Cecil B DeMille and Bugsy Siegel. Check the online calendar of movie screenings and concerts (yes, really).

Hollywood Museum MUSEUM

(Map p915; www.thehollywoodmuseum.com; 1660 N Highland Ave; adult/child $15/5; ☺ 10am-5pm Wed-Sun) Inside the art-deco Max Factor Building, this slightly musty 35,000-sq-ft shrine to the stars is crammed with kitsch, costumes, knickknacks and props from Marilyn Monroe to Glee.

Griffith Park

America's largest urban park (☎ 323-913-4688; www.laparks.org/dos/parks/griffithpk; 4730 Crystal Springs Dr; ☺ 5am-10:30pm, trails sunrise-sunset; P f) FREE is five times the size of New York's Central Park, with an outdoor theater, zoo, observatory, museum, merry-go-round, antique and miniature trains, children's playgrounds, golf, tennis and over 50 miles of hiking paths, including to the original Batman TV series cave.

WORTH A TRIP

TOURING MOVIE & TV STUDIOS

Half the fun of visiting Hollywood is hoping you'll see stars. Up the odds by joining the studio audience of a sitcom or game show, which usually tape between August and March. For free tickets, contact Audiences Unlimited (☎ 818-260-0041; www.tvtickets.com).

For an authentic behind-the-scenes look, take a small-group shuttle tour at Warner Bros Studios (☎ 877-492-8687, 818-972-8687; www.wbstudioutour.com; 3400 W Riverside Dr, Burbank; tours from $49; ☺ 8:15am-4pm Mon-Sat, hours vary Sun) or Paramount Pictures (☎ 323-956-1777; www.paramount.com; 5555 Melrose Ave; tours from $48; ☺ tours 9:30am-2pm Mon-Fri, hours vary Sat & Sun), or a walking tour of Sony Pictures Studios (☎ 310-244-8687; www.sonypicturesstudiotours.com; 10202 W Washington Blvd; tour $35; ☺ tours usually 9:30am-2:30pm Mon-Fri). All of these tours show you around sound stages and backlots (outdoor sets), and inside wardrobe and make-up departments. Reservations are required (minimum-age restrictions apply); bring photo ID.

★ Griffith Observatory

MUSEUM

(☎ 213-473-0800; www.griffithobservatory.org; 2800 E Observatory Rd; admission free, planetarium shows adult/child $7/3; ☺ noon-10pm Tue-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun; ♿) FREE Inside the iconic triple domes of this 1935 observatory are a state-of-the-art planetarium and the Leonard Nimoy Event Horizon multimedia theater. If nighttime skies are clear, you can often peer through public telescopes at heavenly bodies.

★ Los Angeles Zoo & Botanical Gardens

ZOO

(☎ 323-644-4200; www.lazoo.org; 5333 Zoo Dr; adult/child $17/12; ☺ 10am-5pm; ♿) Make friends with 1100 finned, feathered and furry creatures at this conservation-oriented zoo, including in the Campo Gorilla Reserve and the Sea Life Cliffs, which replicate the California coast complete with harbor seals.

★ Museum of the American West

MUSEUM

(☎ 323-667-2000; www.autrynationalcenter.org; 4700 Western Heritage Way; adult/child $10/4, 2nd Tue of month free; ☺ 10am-4pm Tue-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun; ♿) Exhibits on the good, the bad and the ugly of America's westward expansion rope in even the most reluctant of cowpokes (lazy cowboys). Gems include a Colt firearms collection, an ornate saloon and Native American and California gold-rush relics.

👁️ West Hollywood

Welcome to the city of WeHo, where rainbow flags fly proudly over Santa Monica Blvd and celebs keep gossip rags happy by misbehaving at clubs on the fabled Sunset

Strip. Boutiques along Robertson Blvd and Melrose Ave purvey sassy and ultrachic fashions for Hollywood royalty and celebrities. WeHo's also a hotbed of cutting-edge interior design, particularly along the Avenues of Art, Fashion & Design (www.avenueswh.com).

★ Pacific Design Center

BUILDING

(PDC; Map p916; www.pacificdesigncenter.com; 8687 Melrose Ave; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) Some 120 galleries and showrooms fill the monolithic blue, green and red 'whales' of this Cesar Pelli-designed building, which houses a branch of MOCA (Map p916; ☎ 213-621-1741; www.moca.org; ☺ 11am-5pm Tue-Fri, to 6pm Sat & Sun) FREE. Visitors can window-shop, though most sales are to the trade. Hourly parking from $6 (daily maximum $13).

👁️ Mid-City

Some of LA's best museums line 'Museum Row,' a short stretch of Wilshire Blvd east of Fairfax Ave.

★ Los Angeles County*Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(LACMA; Map p916; ☎ 323-857-6000; www.lacma.org; 5905 Wilshire Blvd; adult/child $15/free; ☺ 11am-5pm Mon-Tue & Thu, to 9pm Fri, 10am-7pm Sat & Sun; ♿) One of the country's top art museums (and the largest in the western US), LACMA's seven buildings brim with paintings, sculpture and decorative arts: European masters such as Rembrandt, Cézanne and Magritte; ancient pottery from China, Turkey

DON'T MISS

UNIVERSAL STUDIOS HOLLYWOOD

Universal Studios Hollywood (www.universalstudioshollywood.com; 100 Universal City Plaza; admission from $80, child under 3yr free; ☺ daily, hours vary; ♿) first opened to the public in 1915, when studio head Carl Laemmle invited visitors at a quaint 25¢ each (including a boxed lunch) to watch silent films being made. Nearly a century later, Universal remains one of the world's largest movie studios.

Your chances of seeing an actual movie shoot are approximately nil at Universal's current theme park incarnation, yet generations of visitors have had a ball here. Start with the 45-minute narrated studio tour aboard a giant multicolor tram that takes you past working soundstages, outdoor sets and King Kong 360, the planet's biggest 3D experience. Also prepare to survive a shark attack à la Jaws. It's cheesy but fun.

Among dozens of other attractions, take a motion-simulated romp on the Simpsons Ride, splash down among Jurassic Park dinosaurs or fight off Decepticons in Transformers: The Ride 3-D. The Special Effects Stage illuminates the craft of movie-making. WaterWorld may have bombed as a movie, but the live action show based on it is a runaway hit, with stunts including giant fireballs and a crash-landing seaplane.

Self-parking is $15 (after 3pm $10), or arrive via the Metro Red Line.

Hollywood

and Iran; photographs by Ansel Adams; and a jewel-box of Japanese screen paintings and sculpture. Parking is $10.

Inside the Renzo Piano–designed Broad Contemporary Art Museum at LACMA are seminal pieces by Jasper Johns, Cindy Sherman and Ed Ruscha, and two gigantic works in rusted steel by Richard Serra. LACMA often has headline-grabbing touring exhibits too.

La Brea Tar Pits

ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITE

(Map p916) Between 11,000 and 40,000 years ago, tarlike bubbling crude oil trapped saber-toothed cats, mammoths and other extinct ice-age critters, which are still being excavated here. Check out their fossilized remains at the Page Museum (Map p916; ☎ 323-934-7243; www.tarpits.org; 5801 Wilshire Blvd; adult/child $12/5, 1st Tue of month Sep-Jun free; ☀ 9:30am-5pm; 🅇). New fossils are being discovered all the time, and an active staff of archaeologists works behind glass. Parking is $7 to $9 (cash only).

Petersen Automotive Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p916; www.petersen.org; 6060 Wilshire Blvd; adult/child $12/3; ☀ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun; 🅇) A four-story ode to the auto, Petersen's exhibits shiny vintage cars galore, plus a fun LA streetscape showing how the city's growth has been shaped by traffic. Parking costs from $2 (maximum $12).

🗎 Beverly Hills & Around

The mere mention of Beverly Hills conjures images of Maseratis, manicured mansions and megarich moguls. It's a stylish, sophisticated haven for the well-heeled and famous.

Hollywood

🗎 Sights

- 1 Dolby Theatre.....A1
- 2 Hollywood Museum.....B1
- 3 TCL Chinese Theatre.....A1

🏠 Sleeping

- 4 Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.....A1
- 5 Magic Castle Hotel.....A1
- 6 USA Hostels Hollywood.....B2

🍴 Eating

- 7 Musso & Frank Grill.....B1
- 8 Umami Urban.....C2

🎬 Entertainment

- 9 Arclight Cinemas.....C2
- 10 Egyptian Theater.....B1
- 11 Hotel Cafe.....C2
- 12 Upright Citizens Brigade Theatre.....D1

🛍 Shopping

- 13 Amoeba Music.....C2
- 14 Hollywood & Highland.....A1

Stargazers could take a guided bus tour to scout for stars' homes.

No trip to LA would be complete without a saunter along pricey, pretentious Rodeo Drive, a three-block ribbon where sample-size fembots browse for fashions from international houses – from Armani to Zegna – in couture-design stores. If the prices make you gasp, Beverly Dr, one block east, has more down-to-earth boutiques.

Several central municipal lots and garages offer two hours of free parking.

Beverly Hills, West Hollywood &amp; Mid-City

Paley Center for Media

MUSEUM

(Map p916; ☎ 310-786-1000; www.paleycenter.org; 465 N Beverly Dr; suggested donation adult/child $10/5; ☀ noon-5pm Wed-Sun; [P]) TV and radio addicts can indulge their passion at this mind-boggling archive of TV and radio broadcasts from 1918 through the internet age. Pick your faves, grab a seat at a private console and enjoy. Public programs include lectures and screenings.

Annenberg Space for Photography

MUSEUM

(www.annenbergsspaceforphotography.org; 2000 Ave of the Stars; ☀ 11am-6pm Wed-Fri, 11am-7:30pm Sat & 11am-6pm Sun; [P]) FREE See thought-provoking rotating exhibitions inside the camera-shaped interior of this museum just west of Beverly Hills, among the skyscrapers of Century City. Validated self-parking is $3.50 from Wednesday to Friday ($1 after 4:30pm), $1 on weekends.

West LA*★ Getty Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 310-440-7300; www.getty.edu; 1200 Getty Center Dr, off I-405 Fwy; ☀ 10am-5:30pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Sat; [P]) FREE Triple delights: a stellar art collection from Renaissance masters

Beverly Hills, West Hollywood & Mid-City

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Los Angeles County Museum of Art ..E4

📍 Sights

- La Brea Tar Pits.....(see 4)
 2 MOCA Pacific Design Center .....C2
 3 Pacific Design Center .....C2
 4 Page Museum.....E4
 5 Paley Center for Media .....A4
 6 Petersen Automotive Museum.....E5

🏠 Sleeping

- 7 Avalon Hotel .....A5
 8 Farmer's Daughter Hotel.....E3
 9 London West Hollywood.....B2

🍴 Eating

- 10 Bazaar .....C4
 11 Griddle Café.....E1
 12 Night + Market .....B1
 13 Original Farmers Market.....E4
 14 Veggie Grill.....D1

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 15 Abbey .....B2
 16 El Carmen .....D4

🎭 Entertainment

- 17 House of Blues .....D1
 18 Largo at the Coronet.....C3
 19 Troubadour.....B2

🛍 Shopping

- 20 Book Soup .....C1
 21 It's a Wrap.....C5
 22 Melrose Avenue .....E2
 23 Melrose Trading Post.....E2
 24 Robertson Boulevard .....C3
 25 Rodeo Drive .....A4

to David Hockney, with Richard Meier's fabulous architecture and Robert Irwin's ever-changing gardens. On clear days, add breathtaking views of the city and ocean to the list. Crowds thin in the late afternoon. Parking is $15 (after 5pm $10).

University of California, Los Angeles

UNIVERSITY

(UCLA; www.ucla.edu; 🅇) Westwood is dominated by the vast campus of prestigious UCLA, with its impressive botanical and sculpture gardens. The university's excellent Hammer Museum (<http://hammer.ucla>.

edu; 10899 Wilshire Blvd; adult/child $10/free, Thu free; ☀️ 11am-8pm Tue-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) has cutting-edge contemporary art exhibits; validated parking is $3.

Westwood Village Memorial Park CEMETERY (www.dignitymemorial.com; 1218 Glendon Ave; ☀️ 8am-dusk) Tucked among Westwood's high-rises, this postage-stamp-sized graveyard is packed with such famous 6ft-under residents as Marilyn Monroe and Dean Martin. The gate is south of Wilshire Blvd, one block east of Westwood Blvd.

🌊 Malibu

Hugging 27 spectacular miles of the Pacific Coast Hwy, Malibu has long been synonymous with surfing and Hollywood stars, but it actually looks far less posh than glossy tabloids make it sound. Still, it has been celebrity central since the 1930s. Steven Spielberg, Barbra Streisand, Dustin Hoffman and other A-listers have homes here, and can sometimes be spotted shopping at the village-like Malibu Country Mart (www.malibucountrymart.com; 3835 Cross Creek Rd) or more utilitarian Malibu Colony Plaza (www.malibucolonyplaza.com; 23841 W Malibu Rd).

One of Malibu's twin natural treasures is mountainous Malibu Creek State Park (☎818-880-0367; www.malibucreekstatepark.org; ☀dawn-dusk), a popular movie- and TV-filming location with hiking trails galore (parking $12). The other is a string of beaches, including aptly named Surfrider west of Malibu Pier, wilder Point Dume State Beach and family fave Zuma Beach (beach parking $10).

★ Getty Villa

MUSEUM

(☎310-430-7300; www.getty.edu; 17985 Pacific Coast Hwy; ☀10am-5pm Wed-Mon; 🅗) FREE Malibu's cultural star, this replica Roman villa is a fantastic showcase of Greek, Roman and Etruscan antiquities, embraced by peristyle and herb gardens. Admission is by timed ticket (no walk-ins, reservations required). Parking is $15.

🕒 Santa Monica

The belle by the beach mixes urban cool with a laid-back vibe. Tourists, teens and street performers make car-free, chain-store-lined Third Street Promenade the most action-packed zone. For more local flavor, shop celeb-favored Montana Avenue or eclectic Main Street, backbone of the neighborhood once nicknamed 'Dogtown,' the birthplace of skateboard culture.

There's free 90-minute parking in most public garages downtown.

Santa Monica Pier

AMUSEMENT PARK

(Map p919; http://santamonicipier.org; all-day ride pass $13-20; 🅗 🅘) FREE Kids love the venerable pier, where attractions include a quaint carousel and a solar-powered Ferris wheel. Peer under the pier at the tiny aquarium (Map p919; ☎310-393-6149; www.healthebay.org; 1600 Ocean Front Walk; adult/child $5/free; ☀2-5pm Tue-Fri, 12:30-5pm Sat & Sun; 🅗). Parking rates vary seasonally.

Bergamot Station Arts Center

ARTS CENTER

(www.bergamotstation.com; 2525 Michigan Ave; ☀10am-6pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5:30pm Sat; 🅗) Art fans gravitate inland toward this former trolley stop that houses 35 avant-garde galleries and the progressive Santa Monica Museum of Art (www.smmoa.org; 2525 Michigan Ave; donation adult/child $5/3; ☀11am-6pm Tue-Sat).

🕒 Venice

The Venice Boardwalk (Ocean Front Walk) is a freak show, a human zoo, a wacky carnival and an essential LA experience. This cauldron of counterculture is the place to get your hair braided and a qi gong back massage, or pick up cheap sunglasses and a Rastafarian-colored-knit beret. Encounters with bodybuilders, hoop dreamers, a Speedo-clad snake charmer or a roller-skating Sikh minstrel are almost guaranteed, especially on sunny afternoons. Alas, the vibe gets creepy after dark.

To escape the hubbub, meander inland to the Venice Canals, a vestige of Venice's early days when Italian gondoliers poled tourists along artificial waterways. Today locals lollygag in rowboats in this flower-festooned neighborhood. Funky, hipper-than-ever Abbot Kinney Blvd is a palm-lined mile of restaurants, cafes, yoga studios, art galleries and eclectic shops selling vintage furniture and handmade fashions.

There's street parking near Abbot Kinney Blvd, and beach parking lots ($5 to $15).

🕒 Long Beach

Long Beach stretches along LA County's southern flank, heralding the world's third-busiest container port after Singapore and Hong Kong. Its industrial edge has been worn smooth downtown – Pine Ave is chockablock with restaurants and bars – and along the restyled waterfront.

The Metro Blue Line connects Downtown LA with Long Beach in about an hour. Passport (www.lbtransit.com) minibuses shuttle around major tourist sights for free ($1.25 elsewhere in town).

Queen Mary

BOAT

(www.queenmary.com; 1126 Queens Hwy; tours adult/child from $14/7; ☀10am-6:30pm; 🅗) Long Beach's 'flagship' is the grand (and supposedly haunted!) British ocean liner, which is permanently moored here. Larger and fancier than the Titanic, it transported royals, dignitaries, immigrants and troops during its 1001 Atlantic crossings between 1936 and 1964. Parking is $12.

Santa Monica & Venice

Aquarium of the Pacific

AQUARIUM

(📍) tickets 562-590-3100; www.aquariumofpacific.org; 100 Aquarium Way; adult/child $26/15; ☀️ 9am-6pm; ♿) Let kids take a high-tech adventure through an underwater world where sharks dart, jellyfish dance and sea lions frolic. Validated parking is $8 to $15. Queen Mary or LA Zoo combination tickets are discounted for even less online.

USS Iowa

MUSEUM, MEMORIAL

(📍) 877-446-9261; www.pacificbattleship.com; 250 S Harbor Blvd, Berth 87; adult/child $18/10; ☀️ 10am-5pm, from 9am Jun-Aug; (♿) Near the port in San Pedro, step onto the gangway

Santa Monica & Venice

👁️ Sights

- 1 Santa Monica Pier.....A2
- 2 Santa Monica Pier Aquarium.....A2

🏠 Sleeping

- 3 HI Los Angeles-Santa Monica.....A2
- 4 Sea Shore Motel.....A4
- 5 Viceroy.....A2

🍴 Eating

- 6 Santa Monica Farmers Markets.....A1
- 7 Santa Monica Place.....A2

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 8 Copa d'Oro.....A2
- 9 Intelligentsia Coffeebar.....B5
- 10 Roosterfish.....A5

🛍️ Shopping

- 11 Abbot Kinney Boulevard.....A5
- 12 Magellan.....B1
- 13 Main Street.....A3

and take a self-guided audio tour of this retired Pacific battleship, which transported FDR and General MacArthur during WWII and saw action in the Cold War. Parking from $1.

Museum of Latin American Art

MUSEUM

(www.molaa.org; 628 Alamitos Ave; adult/child $9/free, Sun free; ☀️ 11am-5pm Wed-Sun, to 9pm Thu; ♿) Although small, it's the only western US museum specializing in contemporary art from south of the border. The permanent collection highlights spirituality and landscapes, with colorful temporary exhibits and a sculpture garden out back.

🌟 Pasadena

Below the lofty San Gabriel Mountains, this city drips with wealth and gentility, feeling a world apart from urban LA. It's known for its early 20th-century arts-and-crafts architecture and the Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day.

Amble on foot around the shops, cafes, bars and restaurants of Old Town Pasadena, along Colorado Blvd east of Pasadena Ave. Metro Gold Line trains connect Pasadena and Downtown LA (30 minutes).

★Huntington Library

MUSEUM, GARDEN

(📍) 626-405-2100; www.huntington.org; 1151 Oxford Rd, San Marino; adult weekday/weekend & hol $20/23, child $8, 1st Thu of month free; ☀️ 10:30am-4:30pm Wed-Mon Jun-Aug, noon-4:30pm Mon &

Wed-Fri, from 10:30am Sat, Sun & hol Sep-May; Its name is LA's biggest understatement. While the Huntington does have a library of rare books, including a Gutenberg Bible, it's the masterful collection of European art and exquisite gardens that make it a destination. The Rose Garden blooms with over 1200 varieties and the Desert Garden has Seussian-shaped succulents. Free admission on first Thursdays requires advance ticketing.

Gamble House

ARCHITECTURE

info 626-793-3334, tickets 800-979-3370; www.gamblehouse.org; 4 Westmoreland Pl; tours adult/child from $12.50/free; tours noon-3pm Thu-Sun, gift shop 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, 11:30am-5pm Sun; A masterpiece of California arts-and-crafts architecture, the 1908 Gamble House designed by architects Charles and Henry Greene was Doc Brown's home in the movie Back to the Future. Admission is only by guided tour (reservations recommended).

Norton Simon Museum

MUSEUM

www.nortonsimon.org; 411 W Colorado Blvd; adult/child $10/free; noon-6pm Wed-Mon, to 9pm Fri; Stroll west of Old Town to visit Rodin's The Thinker, a mere overture to the symphony of European, Asian, modern and contemporary art - even priceless prints and photography - at this modest museum.

Activities

Cycling & In-line Skating

Get scenic exercise in-line skating or riding along the paved South Bay Bicycle Trail, which parallels the beach for most of the 22 miles between Santa Monica and Pacific Palisades. Rental outfits are plentiful in beach towns. Warning: it's crowded on weekends.

Hiking

Turn on your celeb radar while strutting it with the hot bods along Runyon Canyon Park above Hollywood. Griffith Park is also laced with trails. For longer rambles, head to the Santa Monica Mountains, where Will Rogers State Historic Park, Topanga State Park and Malibu Creek State Park are all excellent gateways to beautiful terrain (parking $8 to $12).

Swimming & Surfing

Top beaches for swimming are Malibu's Zuma Beach, Santa Monica State Beach and the South Bay's Hermosa Beach. Malibu's Surfrider Beach is a legendary surfing spot. Parking rates vary seasonally.

'Endless Summer' is, sorry to report, a myth, so much of the year you'll want to wear a wet suit in the Pacific. Water temperatures become tolerable by June and peak at about 70°F (21°C) in August and September. Water quality varies; check the 'Beach Report Card' at www.healthbay.org.

Tours

★ Esotouric

BUS TOUR

323-223-2767; www.esotouric.com; tours $58) Hip, offbeat, insightful and entertaining tours themed around famous crime sites (Black Dahlia), literary lions (Chandler to Bukowski) and LA's historic neighborhoods.

Los Angeles Conservancy

WALKING TOUR

info 213-430-4219, reservations 213-623-2489; www.laconservancy.org; tours adult/child $10/5) Thematic guided tours, mostly of Downtown LA, focusing on architecture and history. Check the website for self-guided audio tours.

Museum of Neon Art

BUS TOUR

213-489-9918; <http://neonmona.org>; tours $55; Sat Jun-Sep) Nighttime guided bus tours that cruise the city's neon jungle, starting from Downtown LA.

Melting Pot Tours

WALKING TOUR

800-979-3370; www.meltingpottours.com; tours adult/child from $53/28) Eat your way through the Original Farmers Market, Thai Town or East LA's Latin flavors.

Dearly Departed

BUS TOUR

800-979-3370; www.dearlydepartedtours.com; tours $45-75) Occasionally creepy, hilarious 'tragic' history tours of where famous stars kicked the bucket.

Festivals & Events

Monthly street fairs for art-gallery hopping, shopping and food-truck meet-ups include Downtown LA Art Walk (www.downtownartwalk.com; 2nd Thu of month) and First Fridays in Venice ( 1st Fri of month).

Tournament of Roses

PARADE, SPORTS

www.tournamentofroses.com) New Year's Day cavalcade of flower-festooned floats along Pasadena's Colorado Blvd, followed by the Rose Bowl college football game.

Fiesta Broadway

STREET FAIR

<http://fiestabroadway.la>) Mexican-themed market in Downtown LA, with performances by Latino stars, on the last Sunday in April.

Watts Towers Day of the Drum & Jazz Festivals

ART, MUSIC

(<http://wattstowers.org>) Two days of drums circles, jazz jams and an arts-and-crafts fair in South LA during late September.

West Hollywood Halloween Carnival

STREET FAIR

(www.visitwesthollywood.com) Eccentric, often NC17-rated costumes, live bands and DJs along Santa Monica Blvd on October 31.

Sleeping

For seaside life, base yourself in Santa Monica, Venice or Long Beach. Cool-hunters and party people will be happiest in Hollywood or WeHo; culture-vultures, in Downtown LA. Expect a lodging tax of 12% to 14%.

Downtown

Figueroa Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$
(Map p910; ☎ 213-627-8971, 800-421-9092; www.figueroahotel.com; 939 S Figueroa St; r $148-194, ste $225-265; ) A rambling 1920s oasis across from LA Live welcomes travelers with a richly tiled Spanish-style lobby that segues to a sparkling pool. Rooms are furnished in a global mash-up of styles (Morocco, Mexico, Zen), varying in size and configuration. Parking is $12.

Standard Downtown LA BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(Map p910; ☎ 213-892-8080; <http://standardhotels.com/downtown-la>; 550 S Flower St; r $245-525; ste $1150-1300; ) This design-savvy hotel in a former office building goes for a young, hip and shag-happy crowd – the rooftop bar fairly pulses – so don't come here to get a solid night's sleep. Mod, minimalist rooms have platform beds and peek-through showers. Parking from $33.

Hollywood & West Hollywood

USA Hostels Hollywood HOSTEL $
(Map p915; ☎ 800-524-6783, 323-462-3777; www.usahostels.com; 1624 Schrader Blvd; dm $28-41, r without bath $81-104; ) Not for introverts, this energetic hostel puts you within steps of Hollywood's party circuit. Make new friends during BBQ and comedy nights, city tours or fruit-and-pancake breakfasts in the common kitchen.

★ Magic Castle Hotel HOTEL $$
(Map p915; ☎ 323-851-0800; <http://magiccastlehotel.com>; 7025 Franklin Ave; r incl breakfast from $175; ) Walls are thin, but renovated

LOS ANGELES FOR CHILDREN

Keeping kids happy is child's play in LA. The sprawling Los Angeles Zoo (p914) in family-friendly Griffith Park (p913) is a sure bet. Dino-fans will dig the La Brea Tar Pits (p915) and the Natural History Museum (p912), while budding scientists crowd the California Science Center (p912). For under-the-sea creatures, head to the Aquarium of the Pacific (p919) in Long Beach, where teens might get a kick out of ghost tours of the Queen Mary (p918). The amusement park at Santa Monica Pier (p918) is fun for all ages. Activities for younger kids are more limited at tween/teen-oriented Universal Studios Hollywood (p914). In neighboring Orange County, Disneyland (p930) and Knott's Berry Farm (p930) are ever-popular theme parks.

apartments in this courtyard building come with contemporary furniture and attractive art, and suites have a separate living room. Complimentary snacks and access to a private club for magicians. Parking is $10.

Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(Map p915; ☎ 323-466-7000, 800-950-7667; www.hollywoodroosevelt.com; 7000 Hollywood Blvd; r from $330; ) Venerable historic hotel has hosted elite players since the first Academy Awards were held here in 1929. It pairs a palatial Spanish lobby with sleek Asian contemporary rooms, a glam pool scene and rockin' restos and lounges. Parking is $33.

London West Hollywood LUXURY HOTEL $$$
(Map p916; ☎ 866-282-4560; www.thelondonwest-hollywood.com; 1020 N San Vicente Blvd; ste incl breakfast from $279; ) Gleaming like Harry Winston diamonds, just south of the Sunset Strip, the London dazzles with slick design, a swish restaurant by Hell's Kitchen chef Gordon Ramsay and a rooftop pool sporting panoramic views of the Hollywood Hills. Parking is $30.

Mid-City & Beverly Hills

StayOn Beverly HOSTEL $
(www.stayonbeverly.com; 4619 Beverly Blvd; r without bath $50-55; ) In Koreatown, this Danish photographer's stripped-down hostel is a tidy, secure base camp for backpackers and flashpackers. Ten basic rooms each have a mini fridge, with a shared microwave in the common coffee corner. Limited free self-parking.

Farmer's Daughter Hotel

MOTEL $$

(Map p916; ☎ 323-937-3930, 800-334-1658; www.farmersdaughterhotel.com; 115 S Fairfax Ave; r from $185; 📞📺📺📺) Opposite the Original Farmers Market and CBS Studios, this perennial pleaser gets high marks for its sleek 'urban cowboy' look. Adventurous lovebirds, ask about the No Tell Room. Parking is $18.

Avalon Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(Map p916; ☎ 310-277-5221, 800-670-6183; www.viceroyhotelgroup.com/avalon; 9400 W Olympic Blvd; r from $210; 📞📺📺📺) Mid-century modern gets a 21st-century spin at this fashion-crowd fave, formerly Marilyn Monroe's pad in its apartment-building days. Today the beautiful, moneyed and metrosexual vamp it up in the buzzy resto-bar overlooking an hourglass-shaped pool. Parking is $30.

Santa Monica

★ HI Los Angeles-Santa Monica

HOSTEL $

(Map p919; ☎ 310-393-9913; www.hilosangeles.org; 1436 2nd St; dm $38-49, r without bath $99-159; 📞📺📺) Near the beach and Third Street Promenade, the location is the envy of much fancier places. Its 260 beds in single-sex dorms and bed-in-a-box doubles are clean and safe, and there are plenty of groovy public spaces to lounge or surf the web. All accommodation with shared bath.

Sea Shore Motel

MOTEL $$

(Map p919; ☎ 310-392-2787; www.seashoremotel.com; 2637 Main St; r from $110; 📞📺📺) Clean, friendly, family-owned lodgings are two blocks from the beach and right on happening Main St (expect ambient noise). Spanish-tiled rooms are basic but attractive, and kitchen suites are roomy enough for families.

★ Viceroy

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(Map p919; ☎ 310-260-7500, 800-622-8711; www.viceroyasantamonica.com; 1819 Ocean Ave; r from $350; 📞📺📺📺) Ignore the high-rise eyesore exterior to plunge headlong into Top Design judge Kelly Wearstler's campy 'Hollywood Regency' decor and color palette of dolphin gray to lime green. Lounge in pool-side cabanas, Italian designer linens and a chic resto-bar. Parking is $35.

Long Beach

Hotel Varden

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 562-432-8950, 877-382-7336; www.thevarden-hotel.com; 335 Pacific Ave; r incl continental breakfast from $119; 📞📺📺📺) Interior designers clearly had a modernist field day renovating the 35 diminutive rooms at this 1929 hotel: tiny desks, tiny sinks, lots of right angles, cushy beds, white, white and more white. It's two blocks west of hoppin' Pine Ave. Parking is $11.

Pasadena

Saga Motor Hotel

MOTEL $

(☎ 626-795-0431, 800-793-7242; www.thesagamotorhotel.com; 1633 E Colorado Blvd; r incl breakfast $79-99; 📞📺📺📺) On historic Route 66, this midcentury modern 1950s motel has rooms that are spotless, even if they don't set new style standards. A heated pool ringed by chaises lets you soak up SoCal sunshine.

Eating

LA's culinary scene is California's most vibrant and eclectic, from celebrity chefs whipping up farmers-market menus to down-home authentic global cuisine. With some 140 nationalities living in LA, ethnic neighborhoods for foodies to explore abound, including downtown's Little Tokyo and Chinatown, Mid-City's Koreatown, Thai Town east of Hollywood, East LA's Boyle Heights for Mexican flavors, the South Bay's Torrance for Japanese kitchens, and Monterey Park and Alhambra, east of Pasadena, for dim sum and regional Chinese cooking.

Downtown

For cheap, fast meals-on-the-go, graze the international food stalls of the historic Grand Central Market (Map p910; www.grandcentralsquare.com; 317 S Broadway; ☉ 9am-6pm).

Philippe the Original

DINER $

(Map p910; ☎ 213-628-3781; www.philippes.com; 1001 N Alameda St; mains $4-10; ☉ 6am-10pm; 📞📺) LAPD hunks, stressed-out attorneys and Midwestern vacationers chow down at this legendary 'home of the French dip sandwich,' dating back to 1908. Order your choice of meat on a crusty roll dipped in jus, and hunker down at community tables on the sawdust-covered floor. Cash only.

Gorbals

EASTERN EUROPEAN $$

(Map p910; ☎ 213-488-3408; www.thegorbalsla.com; 501 S Spring St; dishes $6-43; ☺ lunch & dinner) Top Chef winner Ilan Hall tweaks traditional Jewish comfort food: bacon-wrapped matzo balls, potato latkes with smoked apple sauce, gribenes (chicken-skin cracklings) served BLT style. It's hidden at the back of the Alexandria Hotel lobby.

Nickel Diner

DINER $$$

(Map p910; ☎ 213-623-8301; http://nickeldiner.com; 524 S Main St; mains $7-14; ☺ 8am-3:30pm Tue-Sun, 6-10:30pm Tue-Sat) In Downtown's historic theater district, this red-vinyl joint feels like a 1920s throwback. Ingredients are 21st-century, though: avocados stuffed with quinoa salad, 'lowrider' chili burgers and must-try doughnuts. Expect long waits.

Bäco Mercat

TAPAS $$$

(Map p910; ☎ 213-687-8808; http://bacomercat.com; 408 S Main St; small plates $8-19; ☺ 11:30am-2pm & 5:30-11pm Mon-Thu, 11:30-3pm & 5:30pm-midnight Fri & Sat, 11:30am-3pm & 5-10pm Sun) Daringly creative pan-Asian and Californian twists on traditional Spanish tapas flow out to outdoor patio tables at this elegant downtown kitchen. Specialty bäco (flatbread sandwiches) comes happily stuffed with anything from oxtail hash to pork carnitas.

Bottega Louie

ITALIAN $$$

(Map p910; ☎ 213-802-1470; www.bottegalouie.com; 700 S Grand Ave; mains $8-35; ☺ 8am-11pm Mon-Thu, 8am-midnight Fri, 9am-midnight Sat, 9am-11pm Sun) Louie's wide marble bar has become a magnet for the artsy loft set and office workers alike. The open-kitchen crew, in chef's whites, grills housemade sausage and wood-fired thin-crust pizzas in the white-on-white dining room. Always busy, always buzzy.

Hollywood*Griddle Café

BREAKFAST $$

(Map p916; ☎ 323-874-0377; www.thegriddlecafe.com; 7916 W Sunset Blvd; mains $10-18; ☺ 7am-4pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun) Whimsically named sugar-bomb pancakes, giant-sized egg scrambles and French-press coffee pots keep the wooden tables and U-shaped counter full all day long at this pit-stop favored by Hollywood's young and tousled. Hungover hordes huddle outside on weekends.

Umami Urban

BURGERS $$$

(Map p915; ☎ 323-469-3100; www.umami.com; 1520 N Cahuenga Blvd; mains $10-15; ☺ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Inside hip Space 15 Twenty shopping plaza, Umami elevates gourmet burgers with green Hatch chilies, smoked-salt onion strings and more. Order poutine fries, craft beers or peppermint lemonade on the side. Also in Los Feliz, Santa Monica, Westwood and Mid-City.

Pizzeria & Osteria Mozza

ITALIAN $$$

(☎ 323-297-0100; www.mozza-la.com; 6602 Melrose Ave; pizzas $11-20, dinner mains $27-38; ☺ pizzeria noon-midnight daily, osteria 5:30-11pm Mon-Fri, 5-11pm Sat, 5-10pm Sun) Reserve weeks ahead for LA's hottest Italian eatery, run by celebrity chefs Mario Batali and Nancy Silverton. Two restaurants share the same building, with a wide-ranging traditional Italian menu at the osteria, and precision-made pizzas and savory antipasti inside the pizzeria.

Musso & Frank Grill

AMERICAN $$$

(Map p915; ☎ 323-467-7788; www.mussoandfrank.com; 6667 Hollywood Blvd; mains $9-45; ☺ 11am-11pm Tue-Sat) Hollywood history hangs thickly in the air at the boulevard's oldest eatery. Waiters balance platters of steaks, chops and other heart-attack dishes harking back to the days when cholesterol wasn't part of our vocabulary. Service is smooth, and so are the martinis.

West Hollywood,
Mid-City & Beverly Hills*Veggie Grill

VEGETARIAN $

(Map p916; ☎ 323-822-7575; www.veggiegrill.com; 8000 W Sunset Blvd; mains $7-10; ☺ 11am-11pm; ☎ ☎) If crispy chicken wings or a carne asada sandwich don't sound vegetarian, know that this darn tasty local chain uses seasoned vegetable proteins (mostly tempeh). Gluten-free and nut-free options are offered too. Also in Hollywood, Mid-City, Westwood, Santa Monica and Long Beach.

Original Farmers Market

MARKET $

(Map p916; www.farmersmarketla.com; 6333 W 3rd St; most mains $6-12; ☺ 9am-9pm Mon-Fri, to 8pm Sat, 10am-7pm Sun; ☎ ☎) Although now heavily commercialized, the market still has a few worthy, budget-friendly eateries, most alfresco. Try Du-Par's classic diner, Cajun-style cooking at the Gumbo Pot or iLoteria! Mexican grill. Free two-hour validated parking.

★ Night + Market

THAI $$

(Map p916; ☎ 310-275-9724; www.nightmarketla.com; 9041 W Sunset Blvd; mains $10-19; ☺ 6-10:30pm Tue-Sun, last order 9:45pm) Dying for spicy-hot Thai food? Good, because that's the only way you're going to get it at this tiny Sunset Strip kitchen dishing up street food like salt-crusted fish, duck larb and 'startled' grilled pork. Enter through Talesai restaurant and duck behind the red curtain by the bar.

★ Bazaar

SPANISH $$$

(Map p916; ☎ 310-246-5555; www.thebazaar.com; SLS Hotel, 465 S La Cienega Blvd; small plates $8-42; ☺ 6-10:30pm Sun-Wed, to 11:30pm Thu-Sat) Bazaar dazzles with over-the-top interior design by Philippe Starck and 'molecular gastronomic' tapas by José Andrés. Stuffed piquillo peppers and sea-urchin sandwiches explode with flavor in your mouth, or bite into cotton-candy foie gras and Wagyu-beef Philly cheese-steaks on 'air bread.'

✂ Malibu*Malibu Seafood

SEAFOOD $$$

(☎ 310-456-3430; www.malibuseafood.com; 25653 Pacific Coast Hwy; most mains $8-15; ☺ 11am-8pm; ☐ ☒) Beloved by locals, this roadside seafood market grills tasty, simply prepared fish fillets, baskets of fried seafood, sandwiches and salads. Homemade tartar sauce and clam chowder are both winners.

Paradise Cove Beach Cafe

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 310-457-2503; www.paradisecovemalibu.com; 28128 Pacific Coast Hwy; mains $11-36; ☺ 8am-10pm; ☐ ☒) It's your movie-perfect image of SoCal: stick your feet in the sand and knock back piña colodas and fish tacos at this California-casual institution on a private beach where Beach Blanket Bingo was filmed. Four-hour validated parking $6.

✂ Santa Monica & Venice★ Santa Monica*Farmers Markets

MARKET $

(Map p919; www.smgov.net/portals/farmersmarket; Arizona Ave, btwn 2nd & 3rd Sts; ☺ 8:30am-1:30pm Wed, to 1pm Sat; ☐ ☒) Downtown Santa Monica's twice-weekly farmers market brings out even star chefs to peruse a cornucopia of fresh, often organic produce, while local restaurants set up stalls in the food tent. Main St's Saturday morning market is more of a community street fair.

Lemonade

CALIFORNIAN $$

(http://lemonadela.com; 1661 Abbot Kinney Blvd; small dishes $5-11; ☺ 11am-9pm) Look for an imaginative seasonal line-up of deli salads, such as butter lettuce with pink grapefruit; seafood plates like seared tuna with watermelon radish; jerk pineapple chicken; custom-made sourdough sandwiches; and lotsa flavored lemonades – blueberry-mint! Also in Downtown LA, Mid-City, Pasadena and at LAX airport.

Santa Monica Place

SHOPPING CENTER $$

(Map p919; www.santamoniacplace.com; 395 Santa Monica Pl; ☺ restaurants daily, hours vary; ☐ ☒) We wouldn't normally eat at a mall, but this one gets high marks for Latin-Asian fusion at Zengo, Antica's wood-oven-fired pizzas and M.A.K.E. raw vegan cuisine. Most 3rd-floor restaurants have seating with views across rooftops – some to the ocean – while market stalls do everything from salumi to souflés. Ground floor True Food Kitchen trends healthy, vegetarian-friendly and gluten-free.

Father's Office

PUB $$

(☎ 310-736-2224; www.fathersoffice.com; 1018 Montana Ave; dishes $5-15; ☺ 5-10pm Mon-Wed, 5-11pm Thu, 4-11pm Fri, noon-11pm Sat, noon-10pm Sun) Everybody knows your name, or they soon will, at this loud, elbow-to-elbow watering hole where barkeeps skillfully explain dozens of beers on tap. Just don't ask for substitutions on their decadent burgers. Bar open till midnight or later daily. Second location in Culver City.

✂ Long Beach*George's Greek Café

GREEK $$$

(☎ 562-437-1184; www.georgesgreekcafe.com; 135 Pine Ave; mains $9-26; ☺ 10am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) George himself may greet you at the entrance by the airy patio, in the heart of Pine Ave's restaurant row. Locals are addicted to the flaming saganaki (fried cheese), fresh pita bread and lamb chops.

✂ Pasadena*Ración

SPANISH $$$

(☎ 626-396-3090; http://racionrestaurant.com; 119 W Green St; shared plates $5-27; ☺ 6-10pm Tue-Thu, 6-11pm Fri, 11am-2pm & 5:30-11pm Sat, 11am-2pm & 5:30-10pm Sun) Two blocks south of Old Town Pasadena, this warm, streetfront tapas bar lets you sample Basque-inspired dishes, including house-cured charcuterie, imported cheeses and seasonal smoked vegetables.

Drinking

Hollywood has been legendary sipping territory since before the Rat Pack days, and the rockin' Sunset Strip is almost as much of a party zone as it was in the 1960s. Creative cocktails are the order of the day at the reinvented watering holes in Downtown LA and edgier neighborhoods. Beachside bars run the gamut from surfer dives and Irish-esque pubs to candlelit cocktail lounges.

★ Edison

BAR

(Map p910; ☎213-613-0000; www.edisondowntown.com; 108 W 2nd St, off Harlem Pl; ☺5pm-2am Wed-Fri, from 7pm Sat) Metropolis meets Blade Runner at this industrial-chic basement boîte, where you'll be sipping hand-crafted cocktails surrounded by turbines and other machinery back from its days as a power plant. It's all tarted up with cocoa leather couches, three cavernous bars and a hoity-toity dress code.

Copa d'Oro

BAR

(Map p919; www.copadoro.com; 217 Broadway, Santa Monica; ☺5:30pm-midnight Mon-Wed, to 2am Thu-Sat) A smooth, lamplit ambience will woo your sweetheart at this Santa Monica sanctuary. Artisanal cocktails draw from a well of top-end liquors and a farmers market's basket of fresh herbs, fruit and even veggies. Teetotaler? Ask for a fresh-pressed organic juice or homemade soda.

Seven Grand

BAR

(Map p910; ☎213-614-0737; <http://sevengrand-bars.com>; 2nd fl, 515 W 7th St; ☺5pm-2am Mon-Wed, from 4pm Thu & Fri, from 7pm Sat) At Seven Grand, hipsters have invaded Mummy and Daddy's hunt club, amid tartan-patterned carpeting and deer heads on the walls. Whiskey is the drink of choice: choose from over 100 brands from Tennessee, Scotland, Ireland and Japan. There's an enforced dress code.

El Carmen

BAR

(Map p916; 8138 W 3rd St; ☺5pm-2am Mon-Fri, from 7pm Sat & Sun) Mounted bull heads and lucha libre (Mexican wrestling) masks create an over-the-top 'Tijuana North' look that pulls in an entertainment-industry-heavy crowd. Swig happy-hour margaritas or peruse the 100-strong tequila and mezcal menu.

Intelligentsia Coffeebar

CAFE

(Map p919; www.intelligentsiacoffee.com; 1331 Abbot Kinney Blvd; ☺6am-8pm Mon-Wed, to 11pm Thu & Fri, 7am-11pm Sat, 7am-8pm Sun; ☎) In Venice's hip, architecturally minimalist monument to coffee, perfectionistic baristas never short you on foam or caffeine, and direct-trade beans are artfully roasted. Also in Silver Lake and Pasadena.

GAY & LESBIAN LA

'Boystown,' along Santa Monica Blvd in West Hollywood (WeHo), is gay ground zero, where dozens of high-energy bars, cafes, restaurants, gyms and clubs mostly cater to men. Silver Lake, LA's original gay enclave, has evolved from largely leather-and-Levi's to encompass multiethnic, metrosexual hipsters. Long Beach has a more laid-back gay community.

Out & About (www.outandabout-tours.com) Leads weekend walking tours of the city's lesbi-gay cultural landmarks. LA Pride (www.lapride.org) celebrations in mid-June attract hundreds of thousands of LGBT locals and out-of-town visitors for nonstop partying and a parade down Santa Monica Boulevard.

Abbey (Map p916; www.abbeyfoodandbar.com; 692 N Robertson Blvd; mains $9-13; ☺8am-2am) At WeHo's essential gay bar and restaurant, take your pick of preening on a leafy patio, in a slick lounge or on a dance floor, and enjoy flavored martinis and upscale pub grub. A dozen other bars and nightclubs are within walking distance.

Akbar (www.akbarsilverlake.com; 4356 W Sunset Blvd) Killer jukebox and a Los Feliz crowd that's been known to change from hour to hour – gay, straight or just hip, but not too-hip-for-you. Some nights the back room becomes a dance floor.

Roosterfish (Map p919; www.roosterfishbar.com; 1302 Abbot Kinney Blvd; ☺11am-2am) Venice's oldest gay bar has been serving men for over three decades. It's dark and divey yet chill, with a pool table and back patio.

★ Entertainment

LA Weekly (www.laweekly.com) and the Los Angeles Times (www.latimes.com) have extensive entertainment listings. Buy tickets online, at the box office or through Ticketmaster (☎213-480-3232; www.ticketmaster.com). For discounted and half-price tickets, check Goldstar (www.goldstar.com) and ScoreBig (www.scorebig.com) for stage, concert, comedy and sports events, or LA Stage Alliance (www.lastagealliance.com) and Plays 411 (www.plays411.com) strictly for theater.

To confirm all your pre-conceived prejudices about LA, look no further than a velvet-rope nightclub in Hollywood. Come armed with a hot bod or a fat wallet to impress the goonish bouncers. Clubs are generally open from 9:30pm to 2am Thursdays to Sundays; cover charges average $20 (bring photo ID).

★ Hollywood Bowl LIVE MUSIC
(☎323-850-2000; www.hollywoodbowl.com; 2301 N Highland Ave; ☺Jun-Sep; ♣) This historic outdoor amphitheater is the LA Phil's summer home and a stellar place to catch big-name rock, jazz, blues and pop acts. Come early for a preshow picnic (alcohol allowed).

Staples Center SPECTATOR SPORTS, LIVE MUSIC
(Map p910; ☎213-742-7340; www.staplescenter.com; 1111 S Figueroa St; ♣) Fans fill this flying-saucer-shaped home of the LA Lakers, Clippers and Sparks basketball teams, and Kings ice-hockey team. Headliners – Brunos Mars to Justin Bieber – also perform.

Los Angeles Philharmonic ORCHESTRA
(Map p910; ☎323-850-2000; www.laphil.org; 111 S Grand Ave) The world-class LA Phil performs classics and cutting-edge works at Walt Disney Concert Hall (p909) under the baton of Venezuelan phenom Gustavo Dudamel.

★ Upright Citizens Brigade Theatre COMEDY
(Map p915; ☎323-908-8702; <http://losangeles.ucbtheatre.com>; 5919 Franklin Ave; tickets $5-10) Founded in NYC by Saturday Night Live alum Amy Poehler and others, this sketch-comedy and improv club is frequented by Hollywood screenwriters and young TV stars.

★ Egyptian Theater CINEMA
(Map p915; ☎323-466-3456; www.americancinema.theque.com; 6712 Hollywood Blvd) Exotic 1922 movie house, home to the American Cinematheque, which presents arty retrospectives and Q&As with directors, writers and actors.

Actors' Gang Theater THEATER
(www.theactorsgang.com; 9070 Venice Blvd, Culver City) Co-created by Tim Robbins, this socially mindful troupe wins awards for its bold reinterpretations of classic plays and new works pulled from ensemble workshops.

Arclight Cinemas CINEMA
(Map p915; ☎323-464-1478; www.arclightcinemas.com; 6360 W Sunset Blvd; tickets $14-16) Star-sighting potential is exceptionally high at this state-of-the-art cineplex that has all-reserved seating (no late admission), at Hollywood's landmark Cinerama Dome.

House of Blues LIVE MUSIC
(Map p916; ☎323-848-5100; www.hob.com; 8430 W Sunset Blvd) Despite a Disneyfied 'Mississippi blues shack' exterior, this Sunset Strip music hall books quality, and sometimes quirky, rock, hip-hop, jazz and blues acts.

Center Theatre Group THEATER
(☎213-628-2772; www.centertheatregroup.org) Contemporary and classic plays and musicals, including Broadway touring productions, perform on three stages in Downtown LA and Culver City.

Largo at the Coronet LIVE MUSIC, PERFORMING ARTS
(Map p916; ☎310-855-0530; www.largo-la.com; 366 N La Cienega Blvd) Pop-culture lab brings edgy comedy (Sarah Silverman), nouveau radio plays (Thrilling Adventure Hour) and indie bands to Mid-City's historic theatre.

Hotel Cafe LIVE MUSIC
(Map p915; ☎323-461-2040; www.hotelcafe.com; 1623½ N Cahuenga Blvd; tickets $10-20) The 'it' place for handmade music is a social stepping stone for message-minded newbie balladeers. Get there early and enter from the alley.

Troubadour LIVE MUSIC
(Map p916; ☎tickets 877-435-8949; www.troubadour.com; 9081 Santa Monica Blvd) Decades after catapulting Joni Mitchell and Tom Waits to stardom, this music hall is still great for catching tomorrow's headliners.

Los Angeles Opera OPERA
(Map p910; ☎213-972-8001; www.laopera.com; 135 N Grand Ave, Dorothy Chandler Pavilion) Helmed by Plácido Domingo, this renowned ensemble plays it safe with crowd-pleasers like Tosca.

Will Geer's Theatricum Botanicum THEATER
(☎310-455-3723; www.theatricum.com; 1419 N Topanga Canyon Blvd, Topanga; ♣) Enchanting summer repertory in the woods for Shakespearean classics and family-friendly plays.

Dodger Stadium

BASEBALL

(☎ 866-363-4377; www.dodgers.com; 1000 Elysian Park Ave; ☺ Apr-Sep) LA's Major League Baseball team plays within tobacco-spitting distance of downtown.

Shopping

Although Rodeo Drive is the most iconic strip in LA, the city abounds with other options for retail therapy. Besides those listed below, chain-free strips include Main Street (Map p919; btwn Bay & Marine Sts) in Santa Monica, Abbot Kinney Boulevard (Map p919) in Venice and Vermont Avenue (btwn Franklin & Prospect Aves) in Los Feliz.

Rodeo Drive

SHOPPING AREA

(Map p916; btwn Wilshire & Santa Monica Blvds) LA's most famous shopping street, in Beverly Hills.

Robertson Boulevard

SHOPPING AREA

(Map p916; btwn Beverly Blvd & 3rd St) Where fashionistas, and their paparazzi piranhas, flock to in Mid-City.

Montana Avenue

SHOPPING AREA

(btwn Lincoln Blvd & 20th St) Santa Monica's poshest shopping promenade.

Melrose Avenue

SHOPPING AREA

(Map p916; btwn San Vicente Blvd & La Brea Ave) In West Hollywood, Melrose Ave is still a fave of Gen-Y hipsters, including at Melrose Trading Post (Map p916; http://melrosetradingpost.org; Fairfax High School, 7850 Melrose Ave; admission $2; ☺ 9am-5pm Sun), a weekly flea market. Celebs are frequently sighted at Book Soup (Map p916; ☎ 310-659-3110; www.booksoup.com; 8818 W Sunset Blvd; ☺ 9am-10pm Mon-Sat, to 7pm Sun) on the Sunset Strip.

Amoeba Music

MUSIC

(Map p915; ☎ 323-245-6400; www.amoeba.com; 6400 W Sunset Blvd; ☺ 10:30am-11pm Mon-Sat, 11am-9pm Sun) Hollywood is ground zero for groovy tunes at this import from San Fran's Bay Area.

Sunset Junction

SHOPPING AREA

(Sunset Blvd, btwn Santa Monica & Griffith Park Blvds) Silver Lake, to the east of Hollywood, has cool kitsch, collectibles and emerging LA designers, especially around Sunset Junction.

Retro Row

SHOPPING AREA

(E 4th St, btwn Cherry & Junipero Aves) Long Beach's Retro Row brims with shops selling vintage clothing and mid-century furniture at prices from 'how much?' to 'how much?'

DON'T MISS*IT'S A WRAP

Dress just like a movie star – in their actual clothes! Packed to the rafters, Mid-City's It's a Wrap (Map p916; ☎ 310-246-9727; www.itsawraphollywood.com; 1164 S Robertson Blvd; ☺ 10am-8pm Mon-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat & Sun) sells wardrobe castoffs – tank tops to tuxedos – worn by actors and extras working on TV or movie shoots. Tags are coded, so you'll be able to brag with the knowledge of which studio or show's clothing you're wearing. Original location in Burbank.

Distant Lands

BOOKS

(☎ 626-449-3220; www.distantlands.com; 20 S Raymond Ave; ☺ 10:30am-8pm Mon-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat, 11am-6pm Sun) Pasadena's Distant Lands bookshop is a treasure chest of travel guides and gadgets.

Rose Bowl Flea Market

MARKET

(www.rgscshows.com; 1001 Rose Bowl Dr, Pasadena; admission from $8; ☺ 9am-4:30pm 2nd Sun of month, last entry 3pm) There are more than 2500 vendors and 15,000 buyers here every month.

Fashion District

FASHION

(Map p910; www.fashiondistrict.org) Bargain hunters with couture taste head to Downtown LA's markets. The 100-block Fashion District is a head-spinning selection of samples, knockoffs and original designs at cut-rate prices; hagglng is ubiquitous. Nearby, gold and diamonds are the main currency in the Jewelry District along Hill St.

Flower Market

MARKET

(Map p910; www.laflowerdistrict.com; Wall St; admission Mon-Fri $2, Sat $1; ☺ 8am-noon Mon, Wed & Fri, 6am-noon Tue, Thu & Sat) Downtown LA's flower market is the USA's largest, dating from 1919.

i Information*DANGERS & ANNOYANCES

Crime rates are lowest in West LA, Beverly Hills, beach towns (except Venice and Long Beach) and Pasadena. Avoid walking alone and after dark around Downtown's 'Skid Row', roughly bounded by 3rd, Alameda, 7th and Main Sts.

INTERNET ACCESS

Coffee shops offer wi-fi with purchase (sometimes for free).

Los Angeles Public Library (☎ 213-228-7000; www.lapl.org; 630 W 5th St; ☀ 10am-8pm Mon-Thu, to 5:30pm Fri & Sat; @ 📶) Free wi-fi and public internet terminals. Call or check the website for branch locations and hours.

Santa Monica Public Library (☎ 310-458-8600; www.smpl.org; 601 Santa Monica Blvd, Santa Monica; ☀ 10am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 5:30pm Fri & Sat, 1-5pm Sun; @ 📶) Free wi-fi and public internet terminals.

MEDIA

KCRW 89.9 FM (www.kcrw.org) National Public Radio (NPR) station for cutting-edge music, news and public-affairs shows.

KPCC 89.3 FM (www.kpcc.org) NPR station airs BBC programming and intelligent SoCal talk shows.

LA Weekly (www.laweekly.com) Free alternative news, arts and entertainment weekly with a current-events calendar.

Los Angeles Magazine (www.lamag.com) Glossy lifestyle monthly has a useful restaurant guide.

Los Angeles Times (www.latimes.com) Pulitzer Prize-winning daily newspaper and info-packed website.

MEDICAL SERVICES

Cedars-Sinai Medical Center (☎ 310-423-3277; http://cedars-sinai.edu; 8700 Beverly Blvd, West Hollywood) Has a 24-hour emergency room.

MONEY

TravelEx (☎ 310-659-6093; www.travelex.com; US Bank, 8901 Santa Monica Blvd, West Hollywood; ☀ 9:30am-5pm Mon-Thu, 9am-6pm Fri, 9am-1pm Sat) Additional branches in Hollywood, Mid-City and Santa Monica open weekdays only.

TELEPHONE

LA County is covered by multiple area codes. Dial ☎ 1 + (area code) before all local seven-digit numbers.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Beverly Hills Visitor Center (Map p916; ☎ 310-248-1015; www.lovebeverlyhills.com; 9400 S Santa Monica Blvd, Beverly Hills; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun)

Downtown LA Visitor Information Center (Map p910; http://discoverlosangeles.com; 800 N Alameda St, Union Station; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri)

Hollywood Visitor Information Center (Map p915; ☎ 323-467-6412; http://discoverlosangeles.com; Hollywood & Highland complex, 6801 Hollywood Blvd; ☀ 10am-10pm Mon-Sat, to 7pm Sun)

Santa Monica Visitor Center (Map p919; ☎ 800-544-5319, 310-393-7593; www.santamonica.com; 1920 Main St, Santa Monica; ☀ 9am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) Additional info kiosks at Santa Monica Pier, Palisades Park and Third St Promenade.

WEBSITES

Daily Candy LA (www.dailycandy.com/los-angeles/) Little bites of LA style.

Discover Los Angeles (http://discover-losangeles.com) Official tourist info site.

Experience LA (www.experienceca.com) Comprehensive cultural events calendar.

LAist (http://laist.com) Arts, entertainment, food, events and pop-culture gossip.

LA Observed (www.laobserved.com) News blog that often scoops mainstream media.

Getting There & Away

AIR

LA's gateway hub is Los Angeles International Airport (LAX; ☎ 310-646-5252; www.lawa.org/lax; 1 World Way; 🗺️), the USA's second busiest. The nine terminals are linked on the lower (arrivals) level by free shuttle bus A. Hotel and car-rental shuttles stop there as well.

Smaller Long Beach Airport and Burbank's Bob Hope Airport (BUR; ☎ 818-840-8840; www.burbankairport.com; 2627 N Hollywood Way) handle mostly domestic flights.

BUS

Greyhound's main bus terminal (☎ 213-629-8401; www.greyhound.com; 1716 E 7th St) is in an unsavory part of Downtown LA, so avoid arriving after dark. If you absolutely must, call a taxi from inside the bus terminal.

CAR

The usual international car-rental agencies have branches at LAX airport and throughout LA.

TRAIN

Long-distance Amtrak trains roll into Downtown LA's historic Union Station (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com; 800 N Alameda St). Pacific Surfliner regional trains run southwards to San Diego ($37, 2¾ hours) and northwards to Santa Barbara ($25 to $30, three hours) and San Luis Obispo ($40, 5½ hours).

Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

Door-to-door shared-ride vans operated by Prime Time (☎ 800-733-8267; www.primetime-shuttle.com) and Super Shuttle (☎ 800-258-3826; www.supershuttle.com) leave from the lower level of LAX terminals; typical destinations include Santa Monica ($19), Hollywood ($25) and Downtown LA ($16). Disneyland Express (☎ 714-978-8855; <http://graylineanaheim.com>; one way/round-trip $22/32; ☀ 7:30am-10:30pm) travels at least hourly between LAX and Disneyland-area hotels; a round-trip family pass costs $99.

Curbside dispatchers summon taxis at LAX. A flat fare applies to Downtown LA ($46.50) or Santa Monica ($30 to $35). Otherwise, metered fares (including $4 airport surcharge) average $45 to $55 for Hollywood and up to $95 to Disneyland, excluding tip.

LAX FlyAway Buses (☎ 866-435-9529; www.lawa.org; one way $7) depart LAX terminals every 30 minutes for Westwood ($10, 25 to 45 minutes) between 6am and 11pm daily, and 24 hours to Downtown LA's Union Station ($7, 30 to 50 minutes).

Other public transportation is slower and less convenient but cheaper. From the lowest level outside any LAX terminal, catch a free shuttle bus C to the Metro Bus Center, a hub for buses serving all of LA; or take shuttle bus G to Aviation Station on the Metro Green Line light rail, then transfer at Willowbrook Station to the Blue Line, which connects Downtown LA and Long Beach.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

Driving in LA doesn't need to be a hassle (a GPS device helps), but be prepared for some of the worst traffic in the country during weekday rush hours (roughly 7:30am to 9am and 4pm to 6:30pm).

Self-parking at motels is usually free; most hotels charge anywhere from $10 to $35. Valet parking at restaurants, hotels and nightspots is commonplace, with rates averaging $3 to $10.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

If you're not in a hurry, public transportation suffices around – but not necessarily between – LA's most-touristed neighborhoods.

Local DASH minibuses (☎ 323-808-2273, 213-808-2273; www.ladotttransit.com; fare 50¢; ☀ 6am-7pm) run around Downtown LA, Hollywood and Los Feliz. Santa Monica-based Big Blue Bus (☎ 310-451-5444; www.bigbluebus.com; fares from $1) covers much of West LA, including Westwood, Venice and LAX; its Rapid 10 Freeway Express connects Santa Monica with Downtown LA ($2, one hour).

Trip-planning help is available via LA's Metro (☎ 323-466-3876; www.metro.net), which operates 200 bus lines and the following six subway and light-rail lines:

Blue Line Downtown (7th St/Metro Center) to Long Beach

Expo Line Downtown (7th St/Metro Center) to Culver City, via Exposition Park

Gold Line Union Station to Pasadena and east LA

Green Line Norwalk to Redondo Beach

Purple Line Downtown to Koreatown

Red Line Downtown (Union Station) to North Hollywood, via Hollywood and Universal City

Metro train or bus fares are $1.50. On buses, bring exact change and ask the driver when boarding for a transfer. Note there are no free transfers between trains and buses. Metro 'TAP card' unlimited ride passes cost $5/20/75 per day/week/month. Purchase train tickets and TAP cards at vending machines inside train stations, or check www.metro.net for other locations.

TAXI

Except for taxis lined up outside airports, train and bus stations and major hotels, it's best to phone for a cab. Metered taxis charge $2.85 at flagfall, then $2.70 per mile. Taxis accept major credit cards, though sometimes grudgingly.

Checker (☎ 800-300-5007; <http://inedtaxi.com>)

Independent (☎ 800-521-8294; <http://taxi4u.com>)

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

CAR-FREE LA

'Nobody walks in LA,' the '80s band Missing Persons famously sang. That was then. Fed up with traffic, smog and high gas prices, the city that defined car culture is slowly developing an alt-transportation culture. Angelenos are moving into more densely populated neighborhoods where walking, cycling and taking public transit makes more sense.

The Metro Red Line subway connects Downtown LA with Koreatown, Hollywood and Universal Studios. Base yourself near one of its art-filled stations and you may not even need a car. Unlimited-ride tickets (per day $5) are a bargain; plus, given LA's legendary traffic, it's often faster to travel below ground than above.

While eventual plans call for a 'Subway to the Sea,' for now you'll be bussing it to Mid-City, Beverly Hills, Westwood and Santa Monica. From the Red Line (Wilshire/Vermont station) or Purple Line (Wilshire/Western station), transfer to Metro's Rapid 720 bus, making limited stops along Wilshire Blvd. For more information visit www.metro.net.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA COAST

Disneyland & Anaheim

The mother of all West Coast theme parks, aka the 'Happiest Place on Earth,' Disneyland is a parallel world that's squeaky clean, enchanting and wacky all at once. Smaller and somewhat more modest than Florida's Disney World, this was Walt Disney's original theme park. He famously dreamt of a 'magical park' where children and their parents could have fun together. For all his visions of waterfalls, castles and gigantic teacups, Disney was also a practical businessman, choosing to construct his fantasy land within easy reach of metropolitan LA.

Disneyland opened to great fanfare in 1955 and the workaday city of Anaheim grew up around it. Today the Disneyland Resort comprises the original theme park and newer California Adventure Park. Anaheim itself doesn't have much in the way of attractions outside the Disney juggernaut.

Sights & Activities

You can see either theme park (📞 714-781-4636; www.disneyland.com; 1313 Harbor Blvd; adult/child 3-9yr 1-day pass $92/86, 2-day park-hopper pass $210/197; 🕒 daily, seasonal hours vary) in a day, but going on all the rides requires at least two days, as waits for top attractions can be an hour or more. To minimize wait times, especially in summer, arrive midweek before the gates open, buy print-at-home tickets online and use the parks' Fastpass system, which pre-assigns boarding times at some rides and attractions. Check online for seasonal park hours and schedules of parades, shows and fireworks. Admission prices, contact information and opening hours are the same for both theme parks, although you'll need to buy a higher-priced park-hopper ticket to visit both parks rather than just one.

Disneyland Park

THEME PARK

(📍) Spotless, wholesome Disneyland is still laid out according to Walt's original plans. Main Street USA, a pedestrian thoroughfare lined with old-fashioned ice-cream parlors and shops, is the gateway. At its far end is Sleeping Beauty Castle, an obligatory photo op and a central landmark worth noting – its towering blue turrets are visible from many areas.

The park's themed sections stuffed with rides and attractions radiate out from Sleeping Beauty Castle like spokes on a wheel. Although kids will make a beeline for the rides, adults may enjoy the antique photos and history exhibit just inside the main entrance at the Disneyland Story.

Your best bet for meeting princesses and other characters in costume is Fantasyland, home to the spinning teacups of Mad Tea Party, It's a Small World cruise and Peter Pan's Flight. For something a bit more fast-paced, head to the exhilarating Space Mountain roller coaster in Tomorrowland, where the Finding Nemo Submarine Voyage and Star Wars' Jedi Training Academy await.

The ever-popular Indiana Jones Adventure ride awaits in Adventureland. Nearby New Orleans Square offers several worthwhile attractions – the Haunted Mansion (not too scary for older kids) and Pirates of the Caribbean cruise, where cannons shoot

WORTH A TRIP

KNOTT'S BERRY FARM

What, Disney's not enough for you? Find even more thrill rides and cotton candy at Knott's Berry Farm (📞 714-220-5200; www.knotts.com; 8039 Beach Blvd, Buena Park; adult/child $60/31; 🕒 from 10am daily, closing time varies seasonally 6-11pm; 📍). This Old West-themed amusement park teems with packs of speed-crazed adolescents testing their mettle on a line-up of rides. Gut-wrenchers include the Boomerang 'scream machine,' wooden GhostRider and 1950s-themed Xcelerator, while the single-digit-aged find tamer action at Camp Snoopy. From late September through October, the park transforms into Halloween-themed 'Knott's Scary Farm.'

When summer heat waves hit, jump next door to Soak City OC (📞 714-220-5200; www.soakcityoc.com; 8039 Beach Blvd, Buena Park; adult/child 3-11yr $35/25; 🕒 10am-5pm, 6pm or 7pm mid-May-mid-Sep) water park. Save time and money by buying print-at-home tickets for both parks online. Parking is $15.

across the water, wenches are up for auction and the mechanical Jack Sparrow character is creepily lifelike. Big Thunder Mountain Railroad, another popular roller coaster, is in cowboy-themed Frontierland.

If you've got little ones in tow, you'll likely spend time at Mickey's Toontown and in Critter Country, where families can cool off on Splash Mountain's log-flume ride.

Disney's California Adventure THEME PARK (DCA; 🗺️) Disneyland resort's larger but less crowded park, DCA celebrates the natural and pop-cultural glories of the Golden State but lacks the density of attractions and depth of imagination. The best rides are Soarin' Over California, a virtual hang-glide; the famous Twilight Zone Tower of Terror, which drops you down an elevator chute; and Grizzly River Run, a white-water rafting ride.

Smaller children will love A Bug's Land and the Radiator Springs Racers, a slot-car roller coaster mimicking the Route 66 scenery of the Cars movie. Hang around Paradise Bay after dark to gawk at the World of Color light, sound and special-effects spectacular.

🛏 Sleeping

Chain motels and hotels are a dime a dozen in the surrounding city of Anaheim.

HI Fullerton HOSTEL $ (📞 714-738-3721; www.hiusa.org; 1700 N Harbor Blvd, Fullerton; dm $24-27; ☀️ mid-Jun-early Sep; 🍷 @ 🍷) About 6 miles north of Disneyland on an old dairy farm, this two-story hacienda houses 20 beds in mixed and single-sex dorms. Rates include continental breakfast. Public buses stop nearby.

Hotel Menage HOTEL $$ (📞 714-758-0900; www.hotelmenage.com; 1221 S Harbor Blvd; r $100-200; @ 🍷 🍷 🍷 🍷) Off the I-5 Fwy, this stylish modern hotel pulls off an urbane atmosphere with leather headboards, plasma TVs and some sofa beds. The poolside tiki bar makes a relaxing respite after a day of running around Disney's 'Mouse House.'

Alpine Inn MOTEL $$ (📞 714-772-4422; www.alpineinnanaheim.com; 715 W Katella Ave; r incl breakfast $79-149; 🍷 @ 🍷 🍷 🍷) Connoisseurs of kitsch will delight in this alpine chalet covered to the tippy-top of its A-framed rafters with artificial snow and icicles. Compact rooms have mod cons, but it's all about the convenient location outside Disneyland Resort's main gate.

Paradise Pier Hotel HOTEL $$$ (📞 info 714-999-0990, reservations 714-956-6425; http://disneyland.disney.go.com/paradise-pier-hotel; 1717 S Disneyland Dr; d from $240; 🍷 @ 🍷 🍷 🍷) It's one big surfin' safari at the sun-dappled Paradise Pier Hotel, the brightest, happy-go-luckiest of the Disneyland Resort hotel trio, with splashy colors, Beach Boys tunes, upbeat staff and a rooftop pool deck with a waterslide and after-dark fireworks viewing. It's a 10-minute walk to Downtown Disney.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

There are dozens of dining options inside the theme parks; it's part of the fun to hit the walk-up food stands for treats like giant turkey legs and sugar-dusted churros.

For reservations or information on Disneyland Resort restaurants, call Disney Dining (📞 714-781-3463; http://disneyland.disney.go.com/dining). No alcohol is allowed inside Disneyland Park; it's sold at DCA and Downtown Disney. Budget-conscious visitors and families with kids can store their own food and drinks (no glass) in the lockers ($7 to $15) along Disneyland's Main Street USA, DCA's Buena Vista Street and outside both parks' main entrance.

An open-air pedestrian mall adjacent to the parks, Downtown Disney (http://disneyland.disney.go.com/downtown-disney/; ☀️ open daily, seasonal hours vary) has generic but family-friendly chain restaurants. The same is true of Anaheim GardenWalk (www.anaheimgardenwalk.com; 321 W Katella Ave; ☀️ 11am-9pm, some restaurants open later), an outdoor mall just east of the parks. If you want to steer clear of Mickey Mouse food, drive to retro-flavored Old Towne Orange (7 miles southeast), Little Arabia (3 miles west) or Little Saigon (12 miles southwest).

Earl of Sandwich DELI $ (www.earlofsandwichusa.com; Downtown Disney; dishes $2-8; ☀️ 8am-11pm Sun-Thu, to 12am Fri & Sat; 🍷) Lines are long, but worth it for Downtown Disney's best budget eats: hot and cold sandwiches, wraps, salads and soups that won't break the bank, and warm, oven-fresh cookies.

Café Orleans CAJUN, CREOLE $$ (Disneyland Park; mains $15-20; ☀️ seasonal hours vary; 🍷) In Disneyland's New Orleans Sq, this cafeteria-style Southern restaurant dishes up bowls of jambalaya and gumbo, serves pan-fried Monte Cristo sandwiches and will shake up virgin mint-julep cocktails for customers. Reservations accepted.

Napa Rose

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(Grand Californian Hotel; mains $38-45, 4-course prix-fixe dinner from $90; ☎5:30-10pm; 🍷) Inside a soaring Craftsman-style dining room with colorful leaded-glass windows, Napa Rose is Disney's top-drawer restaurant. The chef's tasting menu exquisitely pairs seasonal ingredients with California-grown wines. Reservations essential.

Catal Restaurant & Uva Bar

MEDITERRANEAN $$$

(☎714-774-4442; www.patinagroup.com/catal; Downtown Disney; mains breakfast $10-15, dinner $23-41; ☎8am-10pm; 🍷) Looking for something sophisticated yet unfussy? Share Mediterranean-inspired tapas and grill plates as you sip cocktails and craft beer in Downtown Disney. Book ahead, especially for balcony seating.

i Information

Stroller rentals ($15 per day) and drop-off pet kennels ($20 per day) are available outside the parks' main entrance.

Anaheim/Orange County Visitor & Convention Bureau (www.anaheimoc.org) Free travel-planning website and smartphone mobile app.

Disneyland City Hall (☎714-781-4565; Main Street USA) One of several theme-park guest information centers, it offers foreign-currency exchange.

MousePlanet (www.mouseplanet.com) One-stop online resource for news, updates, trip planning and discussion boards.

MouseWait (www.mousewait.com) Free phone app with up-to-the-minute wait times and what's happening in the parks.

Touring Plans (http://touringplans.com)

Online crowd calendar and free phone app with theme-park itineraries, wait times and restaurant menus.

i Getting There & Around

The Disneyland Resort is just off I-5 (Santa Ana Fwy), about 30 miles southeast of Downtown LA. As you approach the area, freeway signs indicate which exit ramps to take for Disney's theme parks, hotels or Anaheim's streets.

Amtrak trains between LA's Union Station ($14, 40 minutes) and San Diego ($28, two hours) stop almost hourly in Anaheim. The train station (☎714-385-1448; 2150 E Katella Ave), next to Angel Stadium, is a quick bus or taxi ride east of Disneyland. Metrolink (☎800-371-5465; www.metrolinktrains.com) commuter trains from LA's Union Station ($8.75, 45 minutes) stop at the same station.

Anaheim Resort Transit (ART; ☎714-563-5287; www.rideart.org; day pass adult/child $5/2) provides frequent bus service between Disneyland Resort and many area hotels and motels.

A free tram connects Disneyland Resort's main parking garage (per day $15 to $20) and Downtown Disney, a short walk from the theme parks.

Orange County Beaches

If you've seen The OC or Real Housewives, you'll think that you already know what to expect from this giant quilt of suburbia connecting LA and San Diego, which lolls beside 42 miles of glorious coastline. In reality, Hummer-driving hunks and Botoxed beauties mix it up with hang-loose surfers and beatnik artists to give each of Orange County's beach towns a distinct vibe.

Just across the LA-OC county line, old-fashioned Seal Beach is refreshingly non-commercial, with a quaint walkable downtown. Nine miles further south along the Pacific Coast Hwy (Hwy 1), Huntington Beach – aka 'Surf City, USA' – epitomizes So-Cal's surfing lifestyle. Fish tacos and happy-hour specials abound at bars and cafes along downtown HB's Main St, not far from a shortboard-sized surfing museum (☎714-960-3483; www.surfingmuseum.org; 411 Olive Ave; admission by donation; ☎noon-5pm Sun & Mon, to 9pm Tue, to 7pm Wed-Fri, 11am-7pm Sat).

Next up is the ritziest of the OC's beach communities: yacht-filled Newport Beach. Families and teens steer toward Balboa Peninsula for its beaches, vintage wooden pier and quaint amusement center. From nearby the 1906 Balboa Pavilion, Balboa Island Ferry (www.balboaislandferry.com; 410 S Bay Front; adult/child $1/50¢, car incl driver $2; ☎6:30am-midnight Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat) shuttles across the bay to Balboa Island for strolls past historic beach cottages and boutiques along Marine Ave.

Continuing south, Hwy 1 zooms past the wild beaches of Crystal Cove State Park (☎949-494-3539; www.parks.ca.gov; 8471 N Coast Hwy; per car $15, campsites $25-75) before winding downhill into Laguna Beach, the OC's most cultured and charming seaside community, where secluded beaches, glassy waves and eucalyptus-covered hillsides create a Riviera-like feel. Art galleries dot the narrow streets of the 'village' and the coastal highway, where the cliff-top Laguna Art Museum (☎949-494-8971; www.lagunaartmuseum.org; 307 Cliff Dr; adult/child $7/free; ☺ usually 11am-5pm Fri-Tue, to 9pm Thu) exhibits modern and contemporary Californian artworks. Soak up the natural beauty right in the center of town at Main Beach.

Another 10 miles south, detour inland to Mission San Juan Capistrano (☎ 949-234-1300; www.missionsjc.com; 26801 Ortega Hwy, San Juan Capistrano; adult/child $9/6; ☺ 9am-5pm), one of California's most beautifully restored missions, with flowering gardens, a fountain courtyard and the charming 1778 Serra Chapel.

Sleeping & Eating

Oceanside motels and hotels along PCH (Hwy 1) charge surprisingly steep rates, especially on summer weekends. Dive inland near the freeways for better bargains.

★ Crystal Cove Beach Cottages CABIN $$
(☎ reservations 800-444-7275; www.crystalcovebeachcottages.com; 35 Crystal Cove, Newport Beach; r without bath $42-127, cottages $162-249; ☺ check-in 4-9pm; 🏠) To snag one of these historic mid-20th-century oceanfront cottages at Crystal Cove State Park, book on the first day of the month, seven months before your intended stay – or pray for last-minute cancellations.

Shorebreak Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(☎ 714-861-4470; www.shorebreakhotel.com; 500 Pacific Coast Hwy, Huntington Beach; r $189-495; 🍷🍷🍷) Fashionably hip hotel livens things up with a surf concierge, beanbag chairs in the lobby and geometric-patterned rooms. Knock back sunset cocktails on the upstairs deck. Parking is $27.

Zinc Cafe & Market HEALTHY $
(www.zinccafe.com; 350 Ocean Ave, Laguna Beach; mains $6-11; ☺ market 7am-6pm, cafe until 4pm; 🍴) Maybe it's the happy-making tomato-colored walls or the open-air patio that draws the young and beautiful here. An all-vegetarian cafe menu ranges from breakfast quiche to pizzettes, garden-fresh salads and deli sandwiches for lunch.

Bear Flag Fish Company SEAFOOD $$
(☎ 949-673-3434; www.bearflagfishco.com; 407 31st St, Newport Beach; dishes $8-15; ☺ 11am-9pm Tue-Sat, to 8pm Mon & Sun; 🏠) Seafood market dishes up spankin' fresh oysters, fish tacos, Hawaiian-style poke and more. Pick exactly what you want from the ice-cold display cases. Expect long lines. Cash only.

DON'T MISS

LAGUNA'S FESTIVAL OF ARTS

Hey, did that painting just move? Welcome to the Pageant of the Masters (☎ 800-487-3378; tickets from $15; ☺ 8:30pm daily mid-Jul-Aug), in which elaborately costumed humans step into painstaking recreations of famous paintings on an outdoor stage. The pageant began in 1933 as a sideshow to Laguna Beach's Festival of Arts (www.foapom.com; admission $7-10; ☺ usually 10am-11:30pm Jul & Aug) and has been a prime attraction ever since. Our favorite part: watching the paintings deconstruct.

San Diego

San Diegans shamelessly promote their hometown as 'America's Finest City.' Smug? Maybe, but it's easy to see why: the weather is practically perfect, with coastal high temperatures hovering around 68°F (20°C) all year, and beaches are rarely more than a quick drive away. San Diego's population (1.3 million) makes it America's eighth-largest city and California's second-largest after LA, yet we're hard-pressed to think of a more laid-back metropolis anywhere.

The city grew by leaps and bounds during WWII, when the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor prompted the US Navy to relocate the US Pacific Fleet from Hawaii to San Diego's natural harbor. The military, tourism, education and scientific research industries (especially medicine and oceanography), as well as high-tech ventures cropping up in inland valleys, have helped to shape the city. It all makes SD seem quintessentially all-American – its Mexico borderlands notwithstanding.

Sights

San Diego's compact downtown hinges on the historic Gaslamp Quarter, a beehive after dark. Coronado is reached via a stunning bridge to the southwest, while museum-rich Balboa Park (home of the San Diego Zoo) is north of downtown. Neighboring the park to the northwest is Hillcrest, the city's lesbian-gay hub, where everyone's welcome in the restaurants, cafes, bars and shops. Heading west is touristy Old Town and Mission Bay's aquatic playground.

Greater San Diego

Cruising up the coast, Ocean Beach, Mission Beach and Pacific Beach live the laid-back SoCal dream, while La Jolla sits pretty and privileged. Further north, line up North County's eclectic beach towns: ritzy Del Mar; design-savvy Solana Beach, new-agey Encinitas and flowery Carlsbad, home of Legoland. The I-5 Fwy cuts through the region north-south.

📍 Downtown & Embarcadero

In the 1860s, real-estate wrangling by developer Alonzo Horton created so-called 'New Town', which is Downtown San Diego today. The main street, 5th Ave, was once a notorious strip of saloons, gambling joints and bordellos known as Stingaree. These days, Stingaree has been beautifully restored and rechristened the Gaslamp Quarter, a heart-thumping playground of restaurants, bars, clubs, boutiques and galleries.

At downtown's northern edge, Little Italy (www.littleitalysd.com) has evolved into one of the city's hippest places to live, eat and shop. India St is the neighborhood's main drag.

★ USS Midway Museum MUSEUM
(Map p936; ☎ 619-544-9600; www.midway.org; 910 N Harbor Dr; adult/child $19/10; ☀ 10am-5pm, last entry 4pm; 📻 📺) Step aboard the US Navy's longest-serving 20th-century aircraft carrier (1945-91). Self-guided audio tours take in berthing spaces, the galley, sick bay and the killer flight deck with its restored aircraft, including an F-14 Tomcat. Flight simulator experiences cost extra. Parking is $5 to $20.

★ Maritime Museum MUSEUM
(Map p936; ☎ 619-234-9153; www.sdmaritime.org; 1492 N Harbor Dr; adult/child $16/8; ☀ 9am-9pm late May-early Sep, to 8pm rest of year; 📻) The 1863 Star of India is one of seven historic sailing vessels open to the public at this museum. Don't miss clambering down inside the B-39 Soviet attack submarine. A 45-minute historical bay cruise costs just $5 extra.

Museum of Contemporary Art MUSEUM
(MCASD Downtown; Map p936; ☎ 858-454-3541; www.mcasd.org; 1001 Kettner Blvd; adult/child $10/free, 5-7pm 3rd Thu of month free; ☀ 11am-5pm Thu-Tue, to 7pm 3rd Thu of month) MCASD emphasizes minimalist and pop art, plus conceptual and cross-border works. The 1100 Kettner Bldg is at the historic Santa Fe Depot. There's another branch in La Jolla (p939). Same ticket valid for seven-day admission to all.

Gaslamp Museum MUSEUM
(Map p936; ☎ 619-233-4692; www.gaslampquarter.org; 410 Island Ave; adult/child $5/4; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, noon-4pm Sun) Peruse the period exhibits inside this Victorian-era saltbox house that was the one-time home of William Heath Davis, the man credited with founding 'New Town.' Guided historical walking tours of the quarter usually depart at 11am Saturday (adult/child $15/free).

Petco Park STADIUM
(Map p936; ☎ 619-795-5011; www.padres.com; 100 Park Blvd; tours adult/child/senior $11/7/8) In the Gaslamp Quarter's southeast corner stands the home of the San Diego Padres Major League Baseball (MLB) team. You can take a behind-the-scenes tour year-round. Call for tour schedules.

📍 Coronado

Technically a peninsula, Coronado Island is joined to the mainland by a soaring boomerang-shaped bridge. The main draw here is the Hotel del Coronado (p940), known for its seaside Victorian architecture and illustrious guest book, which includes Thomas Edison, Brad Pitt and Marilyn Monroe (its exterior stood in for a Miami hotel in the classic flick Some Like it Hot).

The hourly Coronado Ferry (Map p936; ☎ 619-234-4111; www.sdhe.com; fare $4.25; ☀ 9am-10pm) departs from the Embarcadero's Broadway Pier (990 N Harbor Dr) and from Downtown's San Diego Convention Center. All ferries arrive on Coronado at the foot of 1st St, where Bikes & Beyond (☎ 619-435-7180; <http://hollandsbicycles.com>; 1201 1st St, Coronado; rental per hr/day from $7/25; ☀ 9am-sunset) rents cruisers and tandems, perfect for pedaling past Coronado's beaches sprawled south along the Silver Strand.

📍 Balboa Park

Balboa Park is an urban oasis brimming with more than a dozen museums, gorgeous gardens and architecture, performance spaces and a zoo. Early 20th-century beaux arts and Spanish-Colonial buildings (the legacy of world's fairs) are grouped around plazas along east-west El Prado promenade.

Stop by the Balboa Park Visitors Center (p943) for maps, events information and discount attraction passes. Free parking lots off Park Blvd fill quickly on weekends.

Downtown San Diego

From downtown, take MTS bus 7 ($2.25, 20 minutes). A free tram shuttles visitors around the park, but it's more enjoyable to stroll around the botanical gardens, past the Spreckels Organ Pavilion, the shops and galleries of the Spanish Village Art Center and the international-themed exhibitions cottages by the United Nations Building.

★ San Diego Zoo

ZOO

(☎ 619-231-1515; www.sandiegozoo.org; 2920 Zoo Dr; adult/child $44/34; ☀ 9am-9pm mid-Jun-early Sep, to 5pm or 6pm rest of year; (P) (♿) (🌿) If it slithers, crawls, stomps, swims, leaps or flies, chances are you'll find it in this world-famous zoo. It's home to more than 4000 animals representing 800-plus species in a beautifully landscaped setting, including the Australian Outback and Panda Canyon. Admission includes a narrated 35-minute double-decker-bus tour. For a wildlife viewing experience that's closer to the real thing, get a combo ticket to Escondido's San Diego Zoo Safari Park (p943).

Museum of Man

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-239-2001; www.museumofman.org; Plaza de California, 1350 El Prado; adult/child $12.50/5; ☀ 10am-4:30pm) Topped by a dazzling blue-and-yellow-tiled tower, the churrigueresque California Building houses the Museum of Man, exhibiting world-class pottery, jewelry, baskets and anthropological artifacts from all around the Americas. Behind are the Old Globe theaters, an historic three-stage venue hosting a summer Shakespeare festival.

San Diego Air & Space Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-234-8291; www.sandiegoairandspace.org; 2001 Pan American Plaza; adult/child $18/7; ☀ 10am-5:30pm Jun-Aug, to 4:30pm Sep-May; (♿)) Highlights include the original Apollo 9 command module and a replica of Charles Lindbergh's Spirit of St Louis. Flight simulators entail a surcharge.

San Diego Natural History Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-232-3821; www.sdnhm.org; 1788 El Prado; adult/child $17/11; ☀ 10am-5pm; 🏠) Dinosaur skeletons, glow-in-the-dark scorpions, ice-age fossils and nature-themed movies in a giant 3D cinema bring family crowds to 'The Nat.'

Timken Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-239-5548; www.timkenmuseum.org; 1500 El Prado; ☀ 10am-4:30pm Tue-Sat, from 1:30pm Sun) FREE Small but exquisite museum showcases European and American heavyweights, from Rembrandt to Cézanne, and Western landscape painters.

San Diego Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-232-7931; www.sdmart.org; 1450 El Prado; adult/child $12/4.50; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Tue & Thu-Sat, from noon Sun, also 5-9pm Thu Jun-Sep) SDMA gets accolades for its European old masters and curated collections of American and Asian art.

Downtown San Diego

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Maritime Museum ..... A1
- 2 USS Midway Museum ..... A2

📍 Sights

- 3 Gaslamp Museum ..... D3
- 4 Museum of Contemporary Art ..... B2
- 5 Petco Park ..... E4

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 6 Another Side of San Diego ..... D3

🏠 Sleeping

- 7 500 West Hotel ..... C2
- 8 HI San Diego Downtown Hostel ..... D3
- 9 Hotel Indigo ..... E3
- 10 USA Hostels San Diego ..... D3

🍴 Eating

- 11 Cafe 21 ..... D3
- 12 Hodad's ..... E2
- 13 Neighborhood ..... E3

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 14 Noble Experiment ..... E3
- 15 Prohibition ..... D3
- 16 Topsy Crow ..... D2

🌟 Entertainment

- 17 Arts Tix ..... D2

Mingei International Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-239-0003; www.mingei.org; 1439 El Prado; adult/child $8/5; ☀ 10am-4pm Tue-Sun; 🏠) This museum exhibits stunning folk art, craft and design from around the globe, along with a colorful gift shop.

Reuben H Fleet Science Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-238-1233; www.rhfleet.org; 1875 El Prado; adult/child $12/10, incl IMAX movie $16/13; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri, to 7pm Sat, to 6pm Sun; 🏠) Family-oriented hands-on science museum and IMAX movie theater near the fountain.

San Diego Model Railroad Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 619-696-0199; www.sdmrrm.org; Casa de Balboa, 1649 El Prado; adult/child $8/free; ☀ 11am-4pm Tue-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun; 🏠) The world's largest of its kind, with evocatively landscaped train sets.

📍 Old Town & Mission Valley

In 1769 a band of Spanish soldiers and missionaries, led by Franciscan friar Junípero Serra, founded the first of California's 21 historic mission churches on San Diego's Presidio Hill. A small pueblo (village) grew up around it, but the spot turned out to be less than ideal for a mission. In 1774 the mission moved upriver, closer to a steady water supply and fertile land.

★ Old Town State Historic Park

HISTORIC SITE

(📍 619-220-5422; www.parks.ca.gov; 4002 Wallace St; ☺ visitor center & museums 10am-4pm Oct-Apr, to 5pm May-Sep; 🅒) FREE This open-air park preserves five original adobe buildings and several recreated structures from the first pueblo, including a schoolhouse and newspaper office. Most buildings now contain museums, shops or restaurants. The visitor center offers free guided walking tours at 11am and 2pm daily.

Mission Basilica San Diego de Alcalá

CHURCH

(📍 619-281-8449; www.missionsandiego.com; 10818 San Diego Mission Rd; adult/child $3/1; ☺ 9am-4:45pm; 🅒) Secluded in a corner of what's now called Mission Valley, California's 'Mother of the Missions' hides beautifully restored buildings in bougainvillea gardens with views over the valley to the ocean.

Junipero Serra Museum

MUSEUM

(📍 619-232-6203; www.sandiegohistory.org; 2727 Presidio Dr; adult/child $6/3; ☺ 10am-4pm Sat & Sun mid-Sep-May, 10am-5pm Fri-Sun Jun-mid-Sep; 🅒) Atop Presidio Hill, in a handsome 1920s Spanish Revival building, multicultural historical exhibits highlight life during the city's rough-and-tumble early days.

🌀 Point Loma

This pretty peninsula wraps around the entrance to crescent-shaped San Diego Bay.

Cabrillo National Monument

MONUMENT

(📍 619-557-5450; www.nps.gov/cabr; 1800 Cabrillo Memorial Dr; per car $5; ☺ 9am-5pm, last entry 4:30pm; 🅒) Soak up bay panoramas or go hiking and tide pooling at this monument, which honors the leader of the first Spanish exploration of the West Coast in 1542. The Old Point Loma Lighthouse (1854) here is now a tiny historical museum.

🌀 Mission Bay & Beaches

San Diego's big three beach towns all have ribbons of hedonism where armies of tanned, taut bodies frolic in the sand.

West of amoeba-shaped Mission Bay, surf-friendly Mission Beach and its northern neighbor, Pacific Beach (aka 'PB'), are connected by car-free Ocean Front Walk, which swarms with skaters, joggers and cyclists year-round. Mission Beach's pint-sized Belmont Park (📍 858-458-1549; www.belmontpark.com; 3146 Mission Blvd; per ride $2-6, all-day pass adult/child $27/16; ☺ from 11am daily, closing time varies; 🅒) beckons with a historic wooden roller coaster, wave simulators and an indoor pool.

South of Mission Bay, bohemian Ocean Beach ('OB') has a fishing pier, beach volleyball and good surf. Its main drag, Newport Ave., is chockablock with scruffy bars, flip-flop eateries and shops selling surf gear, tattoos, vintage clothing and antiques.

SeaWorld San Diego

THEME PARK

(📍 800-257-4268; www.seaworld.com/seaworld/ca; 500 SeaWorld Dr; adult/child 3-9yr $70/62; ☺ 9am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri-Sat mid-Jun-mid-Aug, shorter hours rest of year; 🅒) It's easy to spend a day at Mission Bay's four-star attraction. The biggest draws are live animal shows, but there are also zoolike animal exhibits and a few amusement-park rides. Recent controversy about SeaWorld's safety policies after the death of a trainer, along with questions about the ethics of keeping killer whales and dolphins in captivity, have arisen. Parking is $15.

🌀 La Jolla

Facing one of SoCal's loveliest sweeps of coastline, wealthy La Jolla (la-hoy-ah; Spanish for 'the jewel') possesses shimmering beaches and an upscale downtown filled with boutiques. Oceanfront diversions include the Children's Pool (no longer for swimming, it's now home to barking sea lions), kayaking and exploring sea caves at La Jolla Cove and snorkeling at San Diego-La Jolla Underwater Park.

Torrey Pines State

Natural Reserve

PARK

(📍 858-755-2063; www.torreypine.org; 12600 N Torrey Pines Rd, La Jolla; per car $10; ☺ 7:15am-dusk, visitor center 10am-4pm Oct-Apr, 9am-6pm May-Sep; 🅒) 🌿 Up the coast near Del Mar, this wildlife reserve protects endangered Torrey pine trees and is perfect for ocean-view hikes and bird-watching.

Birch Aquarium at Scripps AQUARIUM
 (☎858-534-3474; <http://aquarium.ucsd.edu>;
 2300 Exhibition Way, La Jolla; adult/child $14/9.50;
 ☀9am-5pm; University-run ocean-front aquarium for kids uncovers tide-pool and kelp-forest displays, floating seahorses and a shark reef.

MCASD La Jolla MUSEUM
 (☎858-454-3541; www.mcasd.org; 700 Prospect St, La Jolla; adult/child $10/free, 5-7pm 3rd Thu of month free; ☀11am-5pm Thu-Tue, to 7pm 3rd Thu of month) Sister venue of Downtown's contemporary art museum (same ticket valid for seven-day entry to both).

Activities

Surfing and windsurfing are both excellent, although in some areas territorial locals are a major irritation. For surf reports, call ☎619-221-8824.

Pacific Beach Surf School SURFING (☎858-373-1138; www.pbsurfshop.com; 4150 Mission Blvd; ☀store 9am-7pm, lessons hourly until 4pm) Learn to hang 10 (private lesson $85) or just rent a board and wet suit (half-day from $35) at SD's oldest surf shop.

Surf Diva SURFING (☎858-454-8273; www.surfdiva.com; 2160 Avenida de la Playa; ☀store 9am-5:30pm) In La Jolla, women board riders teach newbies how to shred with private lessons (from $75) and weekend clinics.

OEX Dive & Kayak WATER SPORTS
 (☎858-454-6195; www.oexcalifornia.com; 2243
 Avenida de la Playa; ☀9am-6pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun) For kayak, snorkel, scuba-diving and stand-up paddleboarding (SUP) rentals and guided tours, talk to La Jolla's one-stop resource. There is a second location at Mission Bay (☎619-866-6129; www.oexcalifornia.com;
 1010 Santa Clara Pl; ☀8am-6pm Mon-Fri,
 9am-5pm Sat & Sun).

Hike, Bike, Kayak
 San Diego ADVENTURE SPORTS
 (☎858-551-9510; www.hikebikekayak.com; 2216 Avenida de la Playa) Just what it says: hiking, cycling and kayaking tours, plus stand-up paddleboarding lessons and water-sports gear and bicycle rentals. Based in La Jolla.

Tours

Another Side of San Diego GUIDED TOUR (Map p936; ☎619-239-2111; [www.anotherside-ofsan diegotours.com](http://www.anotherside- ofsan diegotours.com); 308 G St; tours from $30)

Gaslamp Quarter food and history walking tours and Segway tours all over town.

Old Town Trolley Tours TOUR (☎888-910-8687; www.trolleytours.com; adult/child $36/18) Hop-on, hop-off narrated tour around the city's main tourist attractions.

Sleeping

Rates skyrocket in summer, especially by the beaches. Chain hotels and motels cluster inland off major freeways and in Mission Valley. Expect a 10.5% lodging tax.

Downtown

HI San Diego Downtown Hostel HOSTEL $
 (Map p936; ☎619-525-1531; www.sandiegohostels.org;
 521 Market St; dm/d with shared bath incl breakfast from $31/75; At this well-run hostel inside a 19th-century hotel, there's loads of space to socialize. Dorms lack pizzazz, but they're clean. Rates include a pancake breakfast. Quieter second location at Point Loma (☎619-223-4778; [www.sandiegohostels.org](http://www.sandiego- hostels.org); 3790 Udall St; dm/r with shared bath incl breakfast $25/54; ).

★USA Hostels San Diego HOSTEL $
 (Map p936; ☎800-438-8622, 619-232-3100; www.usahostels.com;
 726 5th Ave; dm/r with shared bath incl breakfast from $30/71; In a converted Victorian-era brothel, this Gaslamp hostel sports cheerful rooms, a shared kitchen and a lounge for chilling. Rates include a pancake breakfast. Taco dinners and Tijuana tours are cheap.

500 West Hotel HOSTEL $
 (Map p936; ☎info 619-234-5252, reservations
 619-231-4092; www.500westhotelsd.com; 500
 W Broadway; s/d with shared bath from $59/79;
 Rooms are shoebox-sized and baths are down the hallway in this renovated 1920s YMCA, but hipsters on a budget love the bright decor, communal kitchen and fitness gym ($5).

★Hotel Indigo BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
 (Map p936; ☎619-727-4000; www.hotelinsd.com;
 509 9th Ave; r from $149;
 San Diego's first hotel to be certified by Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design (LEED), this Gaslamp boutique hotel is smartly designed. Popping with vibrant color, room decor is contempo-chic, with huge floor-to-ceiling windows, rain showers and hardwood floors. Parking is $38. Second location in coastal Del Mar.

Hotel Vyant

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 800-518-9930; www.hotelvyant.com; 505 W Grape St; r with/without bath from $149/109; ♿) This pretty Little Italy B&B is a charming place to hang your hat. Two dozen rooms all have inviting beds and bathrobes; deluxe rooms come with a whirlpool tub or kitchenette. Upgrade to an urban-chic apartment for a full kitchen.

Beaches*Pearl

MOTEL $$

(☎ 619-226-6100, 877-732-7574; www.thepearl.com; 1410 Rosecrans St; r from $130; ♿) A mash-up of a boutique hotel and a 1960s motel, this swingin' crash-pad pulls in cool cats. Every sassy room comes with its own pet goldfish, and the tiniest digs have mirrored ceilings. Poolside movie nights and a cocktail bar keep things buzzing. Limited self-parking $10.

Best Western Island Palms

MOTEL $$

(☎ 800-922-2336, 619-222-0561; www.islandpalms.com; 2051 Shelter Island Dr; r from $149; ♿) Gaze out over the bobbing boats of the marina at this tiki-inspired motor lodge on Shelter Island, right across the bay from Downtown. Say aloha to tropical-island style in crisp rooms with balconies swathed by sea breezes.

Ocean Beach Hotel

HOTEL $$

(☎ 619-223-7191; www.obhotel.com; 5080 Newport Ave; r from $100; ♿) In surf-shabby OB, this remodeled courtyard hotel is across the street from the beach. Spotless guest rooms with mini fridges and microwaves are small and the French-provincial look is a tad dated.

★ Hotel del Coronado

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(☎ 619-435-6611, 800-468-3533; www.hoteldel.com; 1500 Orange Ave; r from $325; ♿) San Diego's iconic hotel, the Del provides more than a century of star-spangled history, plus tennis courts, a spa, shops, splashy restaurants, manicured grounds and a white-sand beach. The original Victorian building lacks ocean views. Parking is $30.

Crystal Pier Hotel & Cottages

COTTAGE $$$

(☎ 800-748-5894, 619-483-6983; www.crystalpier.com; 4500 Ocean Blvd; d from $175; ♿) White clapboard, blue-shuttered cottages with kitchenettes – some built in the 1930s – sit right atop Pacific Beach's oceanfront Crystal Pier, offering one-of-a-kind sea views from private decks. Book up to 11 months in advance.

Tower23

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 866-869-3723; www.t23hotel.com; 723 Felspar St; r from $249; ♿) A mod and modernist showplace for an ubercool beach stay, this boxy, bold white hotel is splashed with lots of teals and mint blues – and a sense of humor. Catch sunset from the rooftop deck and cocktail bar. Parking is $20.

Inn at Sunset Cliffs

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 866-786-2453, 619-222-7901; www.innatsunsetcliffs.com; 1370 Sunset Cliffs Blvd; r/ste from $175/289; ♿) Hear the surf crashing onto the rocky shore at this breezy 1960s oceanfront charmer wrapped around a flower-bedecked courtyard. Recently renovated rooms are light-filled but on the small side; some suites have a kitchen.

Eating

San Diego's dynamic dining scene caters to all tastes and budgets. Generally speaking, you'll find fine steakhouses and seafood institutions near Downtown's waterfront, boisterous gastropubs in the Gaslamp Quarter, casual seafood and burgers by the beach, hip kitchens in neighborhoods around Balboa Park, and tacos and margaritas, well, everywhere.

Downtown & Embarcadero*Neighborhood

PUB $$$

(Map p936; www.neighborhoods.com; 777 G St; mains $7-14; ☺ noon-midnight) More down-to-earth than other trendy gastropubs, this corner joint churns out crowd-pleasers like smoky chipotle burgers, kicky jalapeno mac 'n' cheese and hot dogs with braised pork and fried egg. Order a pint of microbrewed beer that's hoppy, fruity, malty or sour.

Underbelly

ASIAN, FUSION $$$

(☎ 619-269-4626; 750 W Fir St; dishes $5-12; ☺ 11:30am-midnight) Off Little Italy's bustling strip of pizzerias and wine bars, this sleek noodle shop loads up steaming bowls of ramen with oxtail dumplings, hoisin-glazed short ribs and smoked brisket and bacon (vegetarian versions available). Two dozen craft beers on tap.

Cafe 21

BREAKFAST $$

(Map p936; ☎ 619-795-0721; www.cafe-21.com; 750 5th Ave; breakfast mains $9-15; ☺ 8am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ♿) The Gaslamp's favorite brunch stop slings stuffed French toast with agave cream cheese, fruit-topped pancakes and farm-fresh egg frittatas served in mini iron skillets. Housemade sangria rocks.

Island Prime SEAFOOD, STEAKHOUSE $$$
(☎619-298-6802; www.islandprime.com; 880 Harbor Island Dr; mains restaurant $25-52, lounge $15-30; ☺restaurant 5-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, lounge from 11:30am daily) The bay views are panoramic at this elegant seafood restaurant on Harbor Island, west of Downtown. Ever-popular dishes include the lobster BLT sandwich, seared tuna stack and shrimp with grits. Weekday happy hour in C Level lounge offers $5 'bites, brews and libations.'

Balboa Park & Around

★ Carnitas' Snack Shack CALIFORNIAN, MEXICAN $
(<http://carnitassnackshack.com>; 2632 University Ave; mains $7-9; ☺noon-midnight Wed-Mon; ☎) Like a food truck that has rolled to a stop in happening North Park, this dressed-down shack has a daily-changing menu of all things porky: carnitas tacos, pork burgers with bacon jam, pork schnitzel sandwiches, pulled pork poutine with bacon crumble etc.

Bread & Cie BAKERY, CAFE $
(www.breadandcie.com; 350 University Ave; mains $5-11; ☺7am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat, 8am-6pm Sun; ☐) Crusty sandwiches, salads, French quiche and decadent pastries (try a ridiculously oversized pain au chocolat) make this busy bakery-cafe a Hillcrest institution. Free parking in rear lot.

★ Buona Forchetta ITALIAN $$
(www.buonaforchettasd.com; 3001 Beech St; pizzas $7-15, small plates $5-13; ☺5-10pm Sun & Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☎) A gold-painted brick wood-fired oven custom-built in Italy delivers authentic Neapolitan pizzas straight to merrily jammed-together tables at this South Park trattoria with a dog-friendly patio. Leafy salads, handmade pasta and sweet dolci (desserts) are just as satisfying. No reservations.

Hash House a Go Go AMERICAN $$ (☎619-298-4646; www.hashhouseagogo.com; 3628 5th Ave; mains breakfast $9-18, dinner $15-29; ☺7:30am-2pm Mon-Fri, to 2:30pm Sat & Sun, dinner 5:30-9pm Tue-Thu, to 9:30pm Fri-Sun; ☎) This Hillcrest bungalow makes towering plates of 'twisted farm food': sausage-gravy pot pie, giganormous meatloaf sandwiches, tractor-wheel-sized pancakes and potato hash seven different ways. Come hungry for brunch.

★ Prado CALIFORNIAN $$$
(☎619-557-9441; www.pradobalboa.com; House of Hospitality, 1549 El Prado; mains lunch $12-21, dinner $22-35; ☺11:30am-3pm Mon-Fri, from 11am Sat & Sun, 5-9pm Sun & Tue-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) This sought-after Balboa Park spot spices up fresh Cal-Mediterranean cuisine with Latin and Asian touches, from the seafood paella and chorizo pork burgers to chopped salads. Breezy outdoor seating and a colorfully tiled interior are equally inviting. Happy-hour food and drinks are a steal.

Beaches

South Beach Bar & Grille SEAFOOD, MEXICAN $ (www.southbeachob.com; 5059 Newport Ave, Ocean Beach; most dishes $3-12; ☺11am-2am) Maybe it's the lightly fried mahi and wahoo fish. Or the zippy white sauce. Or layered fresh cabbage and peppery tomato salsa. Whatever the secret, the fish tacos (discounted on Tuesdays) at this raucous beachside bar really stand out.

Hodad's BURGERS $
(www.hodadies.com; 5010 Newport Ave, Ocean Beach; dishes $3-10; ☺11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) OB's legendary burger joint serves great shakes, massive baskets of onion rings and paper-wrapped hamburgers. The walls are covered in license plates and your bearded, tattooed server might sidle right into your booth to take your order. Also has a branch in Downtown (Map p936; 945 Broadway Ave; ☺11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat).

Point Loma Seafoods SEAFOOD $$
(<http://pointlomaseafoods.com>; 2805 Emerson St; dishes $3-16, mains $9-13; ☺9am-7pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun; ☐☎) Stroll up and order right at the counter inside this fish market, grill and deli with a sushi bar, where almost everything is fresh off the boat. It's a briny San Diego institution, with picnic tables outside.

★ George's at the Cove CALIFORNIAN $$$ (☎ 858-454-4244; www.georgesatthecove.com;
 1250 Prospect St, La Jolla; mains $18-50; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri-Sun) George's has graced just about every list of top restaurants in California, and chef Trey Foshee's Euro-Cal cuisine is as dramatic as the oceanfront location. Three venues allow you to enjoy it at stratospherically ascending price points: George's Bar (lunch mains $10-18), Ocean Terrace (dinner mains $18-35)
 and California Modern (dinner mains $30-50).
 Walk-ins welcome at the bar (hit happy hour from 3:30pm to 6:30pm weekdays).

Drinking & Entertainment

Downtown's Gaslamp Quarter has the rowdiest bars and hottest nightclubs. Check the San Diego Reader (www.sandiegoreader.com) or U-T San Diego (www.utsandiego.com) for the latest happenings around town.
Arts Tix (Map p936; ☎ 858-381-5595; www.sdarts.tix.com;
 Lyceum Theatre, 79 Horton Plaza; ☺ hours vary) sells half-price and discounted tickets to performing arts events, including plays, comedy shows, music concerts and more.

Prohibition LOUNGE
 (Map p936; www.prohibitionsd.com; 548 5th Ave; ☺ 7pm-2am Wed-Sat) Sophisticated 1930s-style bar takes music and cocktails seriously.
 The house rules aren't a joke either: no cell phones at the bar and a strict dress code.
 Live jazz, blues, soul sounds or tiki tunes after 9pm.

Noble Experiment BAR
 (Map p936; ☎ 619-888-4713; <http://nobleexperimentsd.com>; 777 G St; ☺ 7pm-2am Tue-Sun) Knock on the hidden door of this contempospeakeasy with gold skulls adorning the walls and a 400-strong cocktail list. Text a week ahead for a reservation and cryptic directions.

Hamilton's Tavern BAR
 (<http://hamiltonstavern.com>; 1521 30th St; ☺ 3pm-2am Mon-Fri, from 1pm Sat & Sun; ☎) Detour to the South Park 'hood and squeeze yourself onto a barstool at this low-key hangout with shuffleboard, pool, A+ pub grub and a head-spinning menu of craft beers.

Tipsy Crow BAR
 (Map p936; ☎ 619-338-9300; <http://thetipsycrow.com>;
 770 5th Ave; ☺ 3pm-2am Mon-Fri, from noon Sat & Sun) In a historic Gaslamp building, this atmospheric watering hole has a lounge-like 'Nest' (rumored to have been a brothel) and brick-walled 'Underground' dance floor with rockin' live bands and comedy acts.

Casbah LIVE MUSIC
 (☎ 619-232-4355; www.casbahmusic.com; 2501 Kettner Blvd; tickets $5-45) MGMT, Liz Phair and the Smashing Pumpkins all rocked the funky Casbah on their way up the charts.
 Catch local bands and indie-rock headliners here and at the legendary Belly Up (☎ 858-481-8140; www.bellyup.com; 143 S Cedros Ave, Solana Beach; tickets $10-45) in Solana Beach.

DON'T MISS

SAN DIEGO'S MICROBREWERIES

San Diegans take their craft beers seriously – even at a dive bar, you might overhear local beer geeks debating the merits of 'hoppiness' and cask conditioning. Gargantuan to garage-sized microbreweries around the city specialize in all kinds of brews. Check out the following:

Stone Brewing Company (☎ 760-471-4999; www.stonebrew.com; 1999 Citracado Pkwy, Escondido; ☺ tours noon-6pm daily) Take a tour ($3) before tasting the Oaked Arrogant Bastard Ale and Old Guardian Barley Wine.

Lost Abbey (☎ 800-918-6816; www.lostabbey.com; Suite 104, 155 Mata Way, San Marcos;
 ☺ 1-6pm Mon-Tue, to 9pm Wed & Fri, to 8pm Thu, 11:30am-8pm Sat, noon-7pm Sun) More than 20 brews ($1 per taste) are on tap in the tasting room, including the Belgian-style ales Judgment Day and Red Barn.

Green Flash (☎ 858-622-0085; www.greenflashbrew.com; 6550 Mira Mesa Blvd; ☺ 3-9pm Tue-Thu, to 10pm Fri, noon-9pm Sat, noon-6pm Sun) Sip American and Belgian ales ($1 per taste) in an outdoor beer garden; book ahead online for tours ($5).

AleSmith (☎ 858-549-9888; www.alesmith.com; 9366 Cabot Dr; ☺ 2-8pm Tue-Thu, to 9pm Fri, 11am-8pm Sat, 11am-6pm Sun) The Scotch ale Wee Heavy, citrusy Horny Devil and Speedway Stout ($1 to $2 per taste) are addictive.

La Jolla Playhouse

THEATER

(☎ 858-550-1010; www.lajollaplayhouse.org; 2910 La Jolla Village Dr; tickets $15-70) Award-winning plays and world-premiere musicals that sometimes go on to shine brightly on Broadway take over multiple stages inside this coastal performing arts center.

i Information*INTERNET ACCESS

Coffee shops offer wi-fi with purchase (sometimes for free).

San Diego Public Library (☎ 619-236-5800; www.sandiego.gov/public-library; 820 E St; ☺ noon-8pm Mon & Wed, 9:30am-5:30pm Tue & Thu-Fri, 9:30am-2:30pm Sat, 1-5pm Sun; @ ☺) Free wi-fi and public internet terminals. Call or check the website for branch locations.

MEDIA

San Diego Magazine (www.sandiegomagazine.com) Glossy monthly lifestyle magazine.

San Diego Reader (www.sandiegoreader.com) Free alternative weekly tabloid.

U-T San Diego (www.utsandiego.com) The city's major daily newspaper.

MEDICAL SERVICES

Scrrips Mercy Hospital (☎ 619-294-8111; www.scripps.org; 4077 5th Ave) Has a 24-hour emergency room.

MONEY

TravelEx (www.travelex.com) Foreign currency-exchange services are at the airport (p943), Downtown (☎ 619-235-0901; www.travelex.com; 177 Horton Plaza; ☺ 10am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat, 11am-4pm Sun), Fashion Valley (☎ 619-542-1173; www.travelex.com; 7007 Friars Rd; ☺ 10am-9pm Mon-Sat, 11am-7pm Sun) and La Jolla (☎ 858-457-2412; www.travelex.com; University Town Centre, 4417 La Jolla Village Dr; ☺ 10am-7pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat, 11am-4pm Sun).

TOURIST INFORMATION

Balboa Park Visitors Center (☎ 619-239-0512; www.balboapark.org; House of Hospitality, 1549 El Prado; ☺ 9:30am-4:30pm) Buy discounted one-day ($39) and seven-day (adult/child $39/27, including zoo $85/49) passports to park museums.

San Diego Visitor Information Centers (☎ 619-236-1212; www.sandiego.org) Downtown (Map p936; 1140 N Harbor Dr; ☺ 9am-5pm Jun-Sep, to 4pm Oct-May) La Jolla (☎ 858-454-5718; www.sandiego.org; 7966 Herschel Ave; ☺ 11am-6pm Jun-Sep, to 4pm Oct-May) Downtown's waterfront location sells discounted attraction and tour tickets.

WEBSITES

Gaslamp Quarter Association (<http://gaslamp.org>) Everything about the bustling Gaslamp Quarter, including parking tips.

San Diego Convention & Visitors Bureau (www.sandiego.org) Official tourist info site.

i Getting There & Away

Served mainly by domestic US and Mexico flights, San Diego International Airport (SAN; ☎ 619-400-2404; www.san.org; 3325 N Harbor Dr) sits 3 miles northwest of downtown.

Greyhound (Map p936; ☎ 619-515-1100; www.greyhound.com; 1313 National Ave) has hourly direct buses to Los Angeles ($19, two to three hours).

Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com) runs the Pacific Surfliner several times daily to Los Angeles ($37, 2½ hours) and Santa Barbara ($41, 5¾ hours) from downtown's historic Santa Fe Depot (1055 Kettner Blvd).

Major international car-rental companies have desks at the airport. Smaller, independent West Coast Rent a Car (☎ 619-544-0606; <http://sandiegoautos.org>; 834 W Grape St; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun) rents to under-25s, with free airport pick-ups.

i Getting Around

City buses ($2.25 to $2.50) and trolleys ($2.25), including south to the Mexico border, are operated by Metropolitan Transit System (MTS; ☎ 619-557-4555; www.sdmts.com). MTS's Transit Store (Map p936; ☎ 619-234-1060; 102 Broadway; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri) sells regional passes ($5/9/12/15 for one/two/three/four days); purchase one-day passes on-board buses.

MTS bus 992 ($2.25) runs every 15 to 30 minutes between the airport and downtown from 5am to 11pm daily. Airport shuttles such as the Super Shuttle (☎ 800-258-3826; www.supershuttle.com) charge $8 to $10 to downtown. An airport taxi to downtown averages $10 to $15, plus tip.

Metered taxi charge $2.80 at flag fall, then $3 per mile.

Around San Diego*San Diego Zoo Safari Park

Take a walk on the 'wild' side at this 1800-acre open-range zoo (☎ 760-747-8702; www.sdzsafaripark.org; 15500 San Pasqual Valley Rd; adult/child from $44/34, 2-day ticket incl San Diego Zoo $79/61; ☺ 9am-7pm late Jun-mid-Aug, to 5pm or 6pm rest of year; P ♿). Giraffes graze, lions lounge and rhinos roam more or less freely on the valley floor. For that instant safari feel, board the Africa tram ride, which tours you around the second-largest continent in just 25 minutes.

The park is in Escondido, about 35 miles northeast of Downtown San Diego. Take the I-15 Fwy to the Via Rancho Pkwy exit, then follow the signs. Parking is $10.

Legoland

This fun fantasy theme park (📞760-918-5346; <http://california.legoland.com>; 1 Legoland Dr, Carlsbad; adult/child from $78/68; ☀️ daily mid-Mar–Aug, Wed–Sun only Sep–mid-Mar, seasonal hours vary; 📺) of rides, shows and attractions is mostly suited to the elementary-school set. Tots can dig for dinosaur bones, pilot helicopters and earn their driver's license. Families with young children can overnight in the brand-new, colorful Lego-themed hotel. From Downtown San Diego (about 33 miles), take the I-5 Fwy north to Carlsbad's Cannon Rd exit. Parking is $15.

PALM SPRINGS & THE DESERTS

From swanky Palm Springs to desolate Death Valley, Southern California's desert region swallows 25% of the entire state. At first what seems harrowingly barren may eventually be transformed in your mind's eye to perfect beauty: weathered volcanic peaks, booming sand dunes, purple-tinged mountains, cactus gardens, tiny wildflowers pushing up from hard-baked soil in spring, lizards scurrying beside colossal boulders, and in the night sky uncountable stars. California's deserts are serenely spiritual, surprisingly chic and ultimately irresistible, whether you're a bohemian artist, movie star, rock climber or 4WD adventurer.

Palm Springs

The Rat Pack is back, baby – or, at least, its hangout is. In the 1950 and '60s, Palm Springs (population 45,573), some 100 miles east of LA, was the swinging getaway of Sinatra, Elvis and other stars. Once the Rat Pack packed it in, however, Palm Springs surrendered to retirees in golf clothing. Recently a new generation has rediscovered the city's retro-chic charms: kidney-shaped pools, 'starchitect' bungalows, midcentury-modern boutique hotels and bars serving perfect martinis. Today retirees mix comfortably with hipsters and a significant lesbian community.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Palm Springs is the hub of the Coachella Valley, a string of desert towns along Hwy 111. In PS' compact downtown, one-way southbound Palm Canyon Dr is paralleled by northbound Indian Canyon Dr.

★ Palm Springs Aerial Tramway CABLE CAR
(📞888-515-8726; www.pstramway.com; 1 Tram Way; adult/child $24/17; ☀️10am–8pm Mon–Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun, last tram down 9:45pm) Enjoy dizzying views as you're whisked 2.5 miles from sunbaked desert to a pine-scented alpine wonderland atop Mt San Jacinto. It gets chilly up here, so bring a jacket. Hiking trails wind through the adjacent wilderness, or rent snowshoes and cross-country skis at the Mountain Station's Winter Adventure Center (snowshoe/skis rental per day $18/21; ☀️10am–4pm Thu–Fri & Mon, from 9am Sat & Sun, last rentals 2:30pm).

Living Desert Zoo & Gardens ZOO
(📞760-346-5694; www.livingdesert.org; 47900 Portola Ave, Palm Desert, off Hwy 111; adult/child $17.25/8.75; ☀️9am–5pm Oct–May, 8am–1:30pm Jun–Sep) 📺 At this engaging zoo off Hwy 111, kids can spy on North American and African wildlife, take a spin on the endangered species carousel and walk through a wildlife hospital. It's worth the 30-minute drive down-valley.

Palm Springs Art Museum MUSEUM
(📞760-322-4800; www.psmuseum.org; 101 Museum Dr; adult/child $12.50/free, 4–8pm Thu free; ☀️10am–5pm Tue–Wed & Fri–Sun, noon–8pm Thu) Downtown's art beacon views the evolution of American painting, sculpture, photography and architecture over the past century or so. Second location in Palm Desert.

Palm Springs Air Museum MUSEUM
(📞760-778-6262; www.air-museum.org; 745 N Gene Atry Trail; adult/child $15/8; ☀️10am–5pm) An exceptional collection of WWII aircraft, flight memorabilia and photos near the airport.

Tahquitz Canyon HIKING
(📞760-416-7044; www.tahquitzcanyon.com; 500 W Mesquite Ave; adult/child $12.50/6; ☀️7:30am–5pm Oct–Jun, Fri–Sun only Jul–Sep) Featured in Frank Capra's 1937 movie Lost Horizon, this canyon is famous for its seasonal waterfall and ancient rock art. Explore on your own or join a ranger-guided hike.

Indian Canyons

HIKING

(📍) 760-323-6018; www.indian-canyons.com; off S Palm Canyon Dr; adult/child $9/5, 90min guided hike $3/2; ☀️ 8am-5pm Oct-Jun, Fri-Sun only Jul-Sep) Shaded by fan palms and flanked by soaring cliffs, these ancestral lands of the Calhuilla people are a desert hiker's delight, especially during spring wildflower blooms.

Knott's Soak City

SWIMMING

(📍) 760-327-0499; www.soakcityps.com; 1500 S Gene Autry Trail; adult/child $35/25; 🕒 hours vary, mid-Apr–early Oct) Keep cool on hot days with Knott's massive wave pool, towering water slides and tube rides. Buy discount tickets online. Parking is $12.

🛏 Sleeping

High-season winter rates are quoted below; rates drop midweek and during summer. Chain motels hug Hwy 111 southeast of downtown. Book ahead.

Caliente Tropics

MOTEL $

(📍) 800-658-6034, 760-327-1391; www.caliente-tropics.com; 411 E Palm Canyon Dr; r from $60; 🍹🍹🍹🍹) Tiki-style motor lodge, where Elvis once frolicked poolside, shelters surprisingly spacious rooms with comfy beds.

★ Orbit In

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(📍) 877-966-7248, 760-323-3585; www.orbitin.com; 562 W Arenas Rd; r incl breakfast from $149; 🍹🍹🍹) Swing back to the Rat Pack era at this quintessential mid-century modern property set around a saline pool and hot tub. Rooms sport designer furniture (Eames, Noguchi et al), while freebies include cocktail hour, daytime sodas and snacks, and cruiser bicycles to borrow.

Del Marcos Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(📍) 800-676-1214, 760-325-6902; www.delmarcoshotel.com; 225 W Baristo Rd; r incl breakfast $139-189; 🍹🍹🍹🍹) At this 1947 gem designed by William F Cody, groovy tunes usher you toward a saltwater pool and ineffably chic rooms (some have kitchenettes) named for mid-century modern architectural luminaries. Complimentary beach cruisers for guests. No kids allowed.

Ace Hotel & Swim Club

HOTEL $$

(📍) 760-325-9900; www.acehotel.com/palm-springs; 701 E Palm Canyon Dr; r from $100; 🍹🍹🍹🍹) Get all the sass sans attitude at this hipster hangout. Rooms (many with patios) sport a glorified cabana-shack look and are crammed with digerati lifestyle es-

WORLD'S BIGGEST DINOSAURS

West of Palm Springs near Cabazon's outlet malls, you might do a double-take when you see the World's Biggest Dinosaurs (📍) 951-922-0076; www.cabazondinosaurs.com; 50770 Seminole Dr, Cabazon; adult/child $8/7; ☀️ 10am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 9:30am-6:30pm Sat & Sun). Claude K Bell, a sculptor for Knott's Berry Farm (p930), spent over a decade crafting these concrete behemoths, now owned by Christian creationists. In the gift shop, alongside the sort of dino-swig you might find at science museums, you can read about the alleged hoaxes and fallacies of evolution and Darwinism. To get here, exit the I-10 Fwy at Main St in Cabazon.

entials. Laughable karaoke, trivia and bingo nights, with DJs and live bands to boot.

El Morocco Inn & Spa

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(📍) 760-288-2527, 888-288-9905; www.elmoroccoinn.com; 66814 4th St, Desert Hot Springs; r incl breakfast $179-219; 🍹🍹🍹) Heed the call of the kasbah at this exotic adult-only hideaway whose 10 rooms wrap around a pool deck. Perks include a spa, natural-springs pool and homemade mint tea and 'Moroccotinis.' It's a 20-minute drive north of PS.

🍴 Eating

Some restaurants keep shorter hours and close for a few weeks in summer.

Tyler's Burgers

BURGERS $

(<http://tylersburgers.com>; 149 S Indian Canyon Dr; dishes $2-9; ☀️ 11am-4pm Mon-Sat; 🍷) The best burgers in town. 'Nuff said. Expect a line.

Native Foods

VEGAN $

(📍) 760-416-0070; www.nativefoods.com; Smoke Tree Village, 1775 E Palm Canyon Dr; mains $8-11; ☀️ 11am-9:30pm Mon-Sat; 🍷🍷) Organic, meatless and made-from-scratch salads, wraps and bowls that don't sacrifice a lick of taste.

★ Cheeky's

CALIFORNIAN $$

(📍) 760-327-7595; www.cheekysps.com; 622 N Palm Canyon Dr; mains $8-13; ☀️ 8am-2pm Wed-Mon, last seating 1:30pm) 🍷 Waits can be oh-so long, but the seasonal and often organic farm-to-table menu dazzles with its witty inventiveness. Actual dishes change weekly, but tomatillo chilaquile plates, bacon 'flights' and pomegranate mimosas keep making appearances.

Sherman's

DELI, BAKERY $$$

(☎ 760-325-1199; www.shermansdeli.com; 401 E Tahquitz Canyon Way; mains $8-18; ☺ 7am-9pm; ♿) With a breezy sidewalk patio, this 1950s kosher-style deli pulls in an all-ages crowd with its 40 sandwich varieties (great hot pastrami!), finger-lickin' rotisserie chicken and to-die-for pies. Also in Palm Desert (☎ 760-568-1350; www.shermansdeli.com; 73-161 County Club Dr; mains $8-18; ☺ 7am-9pm; ♿).

Trio

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎ 760-864-8746; www.triopalmssprings.com; 707 N Palm Canyon Dr; mains $13-29; ☺ 11am-10pm) The winning formula at this 1960s modernist space equals updated American comfort food (Yankee pot roast and mac 'n' cheese), eye-catching artwork and picture windows. Three-course prix-fixe dinner ($19) before 6pm.

Copley's

AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 760-327-9555; www.copleypalmssprings.com; 621 N Palm Canyon Dr; mains $19-39; ☺ from 5:30pm daily late Aug-mid-Jun, Tue-Sun only mid-Jun-early Jul, closed early Jul-Aug) Swoon-worthy American fare on the former Cary Grant estate. The 'Oh My Lobster Pot Pie' is unlikely to ever go out of style. Bring your sweetie and your platinum AmEx card.

Drinking & Entertainment

Arenas Rd, east of Indian Canyon Dr, is lesbi-gay nightlife central.

Koffi

CAFE

(www.kofficoffee.com; 1700 S Camino Real; ☺ 5:30am-7pm) Minimalist coffee shop for gourmet baked goods, organic coffee and handcrafted espresso drinks. Also downtown at 515 N Palm Canyon Dr.

Birba

BAR

(www.birbaps.com; 622 N Palm Canyon Dr; ☺ 5-11pm Sun & Wed-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) At this seductive cocktail lounge, floor-to-ceiling glass doors open onto a hedge-fringed patio with sunken fire pits.

Shanghai Red's

BAR

(www.fishermans.com; 235 S Indian Canyon Dr; ☺ 4pm-late Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) Behind a seafood shack, this courtyard watering hole has happy-hour drink specials and live blues music on Friday and Saturday nights.

Shopping

For art galleries, modern design stores and fashion boutiques, including fabulous Trina Turk (☎ 760-416-2856; www.trinatürk.com; 891 N Palm Canyon Dr; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat, noon-5pm Sun), head 'Uptown' to North Palm Canyon Dr. If you're riding the retro wave, uncover treasures in thrift, vintage and consignment shops scattered around downtown and along Hwy 111. For a local version of Rodeo Dr, drive down-valley to Palm Desert's El Paseo.

Information

Desert Regional Medical Center (☎ 760-323-6511; www.desertregional.com; 1150 N Indian Canyon Dr) Has a 24-hour emergency room.

Palm Springs Library (www.palmsspringsca.gov; 300 S Sunrise Way; ☺ 10am-5pm Wed-Sat, to 7pm Tue; @ ♻️) Free wi-fi and public internet terminals.

Palm Springs Official Visitors Center (☎ 760-778-8418; www.visitpalmssprings.com; 2901 N Palm Canyon Dr; ☺ 9am-5pm) Inside a 1965 Albert Frey-designed gas station at the tramway turnoff, 3 miles northwest of downtown.

Getting There & Around

About 3 miles east of downtown, Palm Springs International Airport (PSP; ☎ 760-323-8299; www.palmsspringsairport.com; 3400 E Tahquitz Canyon Way) is served by US and Canadian airlines; major car-rental agencies are on-site.

Thrice-weekly Amtrak trains to/from LA ($40, 2¾ hours) stop at the unstaffed, kinda-creepy North Palm Springs station, 6 miles north of downtown, as do several daily Greyhound buses to/from LA ($26, three hours).

SunLine (www.sunline.org; fare/day pass $1/3) runs slow-moving local buses throughout the valley.

Joshua Tree National Park

Like figments from a Dr Seuss book, whimsical-looking Joshua trees (actually tree-sized yuccas) welcome visitors to this wilderness park where the Sonora and Mojave Deserts converge. You'll find most of the main attractions, including all of the Joshua trees, in the park's northern half. 'J-Tree' is perennially popular with rock climbers and day hikers, especially in spring when the trees bloom with cream-colored flowers. The mystical quality of this stark, boulder-strewn landscape has inspired countless artists, most famously the rock band U2.

Sights & Activities

Dominating the north side of the park (☎760-367-5500; www.nps.gov/jotr; 7-day entry per car $15), the epic Wonderland of Rocks calls to climbers. Sunset-worthy Keys View overlooks the San Andreas Fault and, on clear days, as far as Mexico. For pioneer history, tour Keys Ranch (☎reservations 760-367-5555; www.nps.gov/jotr; adult/child $5/2.50; ☀10am & 1pm late Sep-early Apr). Hikers seek out native desert fan-palm oases like 49 Palms Oasis (3-mile round-trip) and Lost Palms Oasis (7.2-mile round-trip). Kid-friendly nature trails include Barker Dam (1.3-mile loop), which passes Native American petroglyphs; Skull Rock (1.5-mile loop); and Cholla Cactus Garden (0.25-mile loop). For a scenic 4WD route, tackle bumpy 18-mile Geology Tour Road, which is also open to mountain bikers.

Sleeping

The park itself only has camping. Bunches of independent and chain motels line Hwy 62.

Joshua Tree National Park Campgrounds

CAMPGROUND $

(www.nps.gov/jotr; camping & RV sites $10-15; 🏠🚰) Of the park's nine campgrounds, only Cottonwood and Black Rock have potable water and flush toilets. Indian Cove and Black Rock accept reservations (☎518-885-3639, 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov) from October to May. Other campgrounds are first-come, first-served, often filling by 10am in spring. Joshua Tree Outfitters (☎760-366-1848; www.joshuatreeoutfitters.com; 61707 Hwy 62) rents camping gear.

Harmony Motel

MOTEL $

(☎760-367-3351; www.harmonymotel.com; 71161 Hwy 62; r $65-90; 🏠🚰🚰) Where U2 wrote its album The Joshua Tree, this minimalist motel is a bit designy, with oversized rooms and cabin decorated in a jumble of styles. There's a communal kitchenette and library.

★ Kate's Lazy Desert

INN $$

(☎845-688-7200; www.lazymeadow.com; 58380 Botkin Rd, Landers; d $175-200; 🏠🚰🚰🚰) Owned by Kate Pierson of the B-52s, this desert camp surrounds a petite pool. Six Airstream trailers are kitted out with a kitchenette and fanastapop design, from groovy tiki to woodsy lodge kitsch. It's a 30-minute drive north of Yucca Valley, near the wacky Integratron (☎760-364-3126; www.integratron.com; 2477 Belfield Boulevard, Landers; sound baths $20-80).

WORTH A TRIP

PIONEERTOWN

About 4.5 miles northwest of Yucca Valley, Pioneertown was built as a Hollywood movie set in 1946, and it hasn't changed much since. On Mane St, witness mock gunfights at 2:30pm on Saturdays from April to October. Enjoy BBQ, cheap beer and live music at honky-tonk Pappy & Harriet's Pioneertown Palace (☎760-365-5956; www.pappyandharriets.com; 53688 Pioneertown Rd; mains $8-29; ☀11am-2am Thu-Sun, from 5pm Mon). Snooze at the Pioneertown Motel (☎760-365-7001; www.pioneertownmotel.com; 5040 Curtis Rd; r $70-120; 🏠🚰🚰), where old-time movie stars once slept. Simple rooms are crammed with Western-themed memorabilia.

Spin & Margie's Desert Hide-a-Way

INN $$

(☎760-366-9124; www.deserthideaway.com; 64491 Hwy 62; ste $135-175; 🏠🚰) Not far from the park, this hacienda-style inn encloses five boldly colored kitchenette suites with striking design using corrugated tin, old license plates and cartoon art. Two-night minimum stay required.

Eating & Drinking

Natural Sisters Cafe

VEGETARIAN $

(☎760-366-3600; 61695 Hwy 62, Joshua Tree; dishes $4-8; ☀7am-7pm; 🏠🚰) Fill up on fruit smoothies, garden-fresh salads, tofu wraps, vegan curries and homemade kombucha at this much-adored J-Tree cafe.

★ Palm Kabob House

MIDDLE EASTERN $$

(☎760-362-8583; 6341 Adobe Rd, Twentynine Palms; mains $6-14; ☀11am-9pm; 🚰🚰) Hustle over to near Twentynine Palms' marine base for home-baked pita bread, lamb or chicken shwarma, refreshingly cool eggplant dip and vegetable salads.

Pie for the People

PIZZERIA $$

(<http://pieforthepeople.com>; 61740 Hwy 62, Joshua Tree; pizzas $13-25; ☀11am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, to 8pm Sun; 🚰) Chew thin-crust NYC-style pizzas, calzones and other stuff-your-face Italian-American fare, just outside the park.

Ma Rouge

CAFE

(www.marouge.net; 55844 Hwy 62, Yucca Valley; ☀7am-6pm) Swing by this community coffee house for organic coffee, espresso and baked goods.

i Information

Pick up park information at NPS visitor centers at Joshua Tree (6554 Park Blvd; ☎ 8am-5pm), Oasis (74485 National Park Dr; ☎ 8am-5pm) and Cottonwood (Cottonwood Springs, 8 miles north of I-10 Fwy; ☎ 9am-3pm) and at Black Rock Nature Center (9800 Black Rock Canyon Rd; ☎ 8am-4pm Sat-Thu, noon-8pm Fri Oct-May; ♿). There are no park facilities aside from restrooms. Get gas and stock up in the three desert communities linked by the Twentynine Palms Hwy (Hwy 62) along the park's northern boundary: down-to-earth Yucca Valley, which has the most services (banks, supermarkets, post office, public library with free wi-fi and internet terminals etc); beatnik Joshua Tree, where outdoor outfitters cluster; and Twentynine Palms, home of the USA's largest marine base.

Anza-Borrego Desert State Park

Shaped by an ancient sea and tectonic forces, Anza-Borrego is the largest state park in the USA outside Alaska. Cradling the park's only commercial hub – tiny Borrego Springs (pop 3429) – are 600,000 acres of mountains, canyons and badlands; a fabulous variety of plants and wildlife; and intriguing historical

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

SALTON SEA & SALVATION MOUNTAIN

East of Anza-Borrego and south of Joshua Tree awaits a most unexpected sight: the Salton Sea (<http://salton-sea.ca.gov>), California's largest lake, which sits in the middle of its biggest desert. After the Colorado River flooded in 1905, it took 1500 workers and half a million tons of rock to put it back on course. With no natural outlet, the artificial lake's surface is 220ft below sea level and its waters 30% saltier than the Pacific – an environmental nightmare that's yet to be cleaned up.

An even stranger sight near the lake's eastern shore is Salvation Mountain (www.salvationmountain.us), a 50ft-high hill of hand-mixed clay blanketed in colorful acrylic paint and found objects, and inscribed with Christian messages. It's the vision of folk artist Leonard Knight. It's in Niland, about 3 miles east of Hwy 111, via Main St and Beal Rd.

relics of Native American tribes, Spanish explorers and gold-rush pioneers. Wildflower blooms (usually from late February through April – call ☎ 760-767-4684 for updates) bring the biggest crowds, right before Hades-like heat makes daytime exploring dangerous.

👁 Sights & Activities

Two miles west of Borrego Springs, the park visitor center (☎ 760-767-4205; www.parks.ca.gov; 200 Palm Canyon Dr; ☎ 9am-5pm Oct-May, Sat & Sun only Jun-Sep) has natural-history exhibits, informational handouts and updates on road conditions. Driving through the park is free, but if you camp, hike or picnic, a day-use parking fee (per car $5 to $8) applies. You'll need 4WD to tackle the 500 miles of backcountry dirt roads. If you'll be hiking or mountain biking, pack extra water.

Park highlights include: Fonts Point desert lookout; Clark Dry Lake for birding; Elephant Tree Discovery Trail near Split Mountain's wind caves; and Blair Valley, with its Native American pictographs and morteros (grinding stones). Further south, soak in hot-springs pools at Agua Caliente County Park (☎ 760-765-1188; www.sdcounty.ca.gov/parks/; 39555 Rte S2; entry per car $5; ☎ 9:30am-5pm Sep-May).

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Free backcountry camping without a permit is permitted anywhere in the park, as long as you're at least 100ft from water or roads (no campfires or gathering of vegetation).

For country-style B&Bs and famous apple pie, the gold-mining town of Julian (www.julianca.com) is a 30-mile drive southwest of Borrego Springs.

Anza-Borrego Desert State Park Campgrounds

CAMPGROUND $

(☎ reservations 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; tent/RV sites $25/35; ♿) Book ahead for campsites at busy Borrego Palm Canyon Campground, 3 miles northwest of Borrego Springs, or smaller but shadier Tamarisk Grove (nonpotable water only), 12 miles south near Hwy 78.

Borrego Springs Motel

MOTEL $

(☎ 760-767-4339; www.borregospringsmotel.com; 2376 Borrego Springs Rd; r $75-95; ☎ late Sep-early Jun; ♿) Just north of in-town Christmas Circle, this refurbished 1940s motel (now solar-powered) has eight spic-and-span, spartan rooms with deluxe mattresses. Go stargazing by the outdoor fire pit.

Borrego Valley Inn

(☎) 800-333-5810, 760-767-0311; www.borregovalleyinn.com; 405 Palm Canyon Dr; r incl breakfast $180-280; (♿) (♿) (♿) An intimate adults-only spa resort sports 15 elegant adobe-style rooms (some with kitchenettes) accented with Southwestern decor, plus two pools (one clothing-optional) and an outdoor hot tub.

Carlee's Place

(AMERICAN $$$) (666 Palm Canyon Dr; mains lunch $7-14, dinner $12-23; ☺ 11am-9pm) Join locals for OK bar-and-grill food, pool tables and crazy karaoke.

i Information

Borrego Springs has banks with ATMs, gas stations, a post office, supermarket and public library with free wi-fi and internet terminals, all on Palm Canyon Dr.

Mojave National Preserve

If you're on a quest for the 'middle of nowhere,' you may find it in Mojave National Preserve (☎) 760-252-6100; www.nps.gov/moja) FREE a 1.4-million-acre jumble of sand dunes, Joshua trees, volcanic cinder cones and habitats for desert tortoises, jack rabbits and coyotes. No gas is available here.

Southeast of Baker and the I-15 Fwy, Kelbaker Rd crosses a ghostly landscape of cinder cones before arriving at Kelso Depot, a 1920s Mission Revival-style railroad station. It now houses the park's main visitor center (☎) 760-252-6108; ☺ 9am-5pm Fri-Tue), which has excellent natural and cultural history exhibits, and an old-fashioned lunch counter. It's another 11 miles southwest to 'singing' Kelso Dunes. When wind conditions are right, they emanate low-pitched vibrations caused by shifting sands - running downhill can jump-start the effect.

From Kelso Depot, the Kelso-Cima Rd takes off northeast. After 19 miles, Cima Rd slingshots northwest toward I-15 around Cima Dome, a 1500ft-high hunk of granite with crusty lava outcroppings, whose slopes are home to the world's largest Joshua tree forest. For close-ups, summit Teutonia Peak (3 miles round-trip); the trailhead is 6 miles northwest of Cima.

Further east, Mojave Rd is a scenic backdoor route to first-come, first-served campgrounds (tent sites $12) with potable water at Mid Hills (no RVs) and Hole-in-the-Wall. The campgrounds bookend a rugged 12-mile scenic drive along Wild Horse Canyon

Rd, ending near Hole-in-the-Wall's visitor center (☎) 760-252-6104; ☺ 9am-4pm Wed-Sun Oct-Apr, 10am-4pm Sat May-Sep) and the slot-canyon Rings Loop Trail. Both of these dirt roads usually don't require 4WD.

🍴 Sleeping & Eating

Free backcountry and roadside camping is permitted throughout the preserve in already impacted areas; ask at the visitor center or consult the free park newspaper.

For historical ambience, Hotel Nipton (☎) 760-856-2335; http://nipton.com; 107355 Nipton Rd; cabins/r with shared bath from $65/80; ☺ reception 8am-6pm; (♿) encompasses a century-old adobe villa with rustic rooms and tent cabins in a remote railway outpost, northeast of the preserve. Check in at the trading post next to Mexican American Oasis (dishes $7-10; ☺ usually 11am-6pm Sun-Fri, to 8pm Sat) cafe.

Off I-15, Baker (35 miles northwest of Kelso) is the nearest town with bare-bones motels and fast food, while state-line Primm, NV (50 miles northeast) has well-worn casino hotels and restaurants by an outlet mall.

Death Valley National Park

The name itself evokes all that is harsh and hellish - a punishing, barren and lifeless place of Old Testament severity. Yet closer inspection reveals nature puts on a spectacular show here, with water-sculpted canyons, windswept sand dunes, palm-shaded oases, jagged mountains and wildlife aplenty. It's also a land of superlatives, holding the US records for the hottest temperature (134°F/57°C), lowest point (Badwater, 282ft below sea level) and largest national park outside Alaska (more than 5000 sq miles). Peak tourist season is when spring wildflowers bloom.

👁 Sights & Activities

From Furnace Creek, the central hub of the park (☎) 760-786-3200; www.nps.gov/deva; 7-day entry per car $20), drive southeast up to Zabriskie Point for spectacular sunset views across the valley and golden badlands eroded into waves, pleats and gullies. Twenty miles southeast at Dante's View, you can simultaneously spot the highest (Mt Whitney, 14,505ft) and lowest (Badwater) points in the contiguous USA.

Badwater itself, a timeless landscape of crinkly salt flats, is 17 miles south of Furnace Creek. Along the way, Golden Canyon and Natural Bridge are easily explored on short hikes from roadside parking lots. A 9-mile detour along Artists Drive through a narrow canyon is best in late afternoon when the eroded hillsides erupt in fireworks of color.

Northwest of Furnace Creek, near Stovepipe Wells Village, trek across the Saharan-esque Mesquite Flat sand dunes – magical during a full moon – and scramble along the smooth marble walls of Mosaic Canyon.

About 35 miles north of Furnace Creek is whimsical Scotty's Castle (reservations 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; tours adult/child from $15/7.50; ☺ grounds 7am-5:30pm, tour times vary), where tour guides in historical character dress bring to life the Old West tales of con-man 'Death Valley Scotty' (reservations advised). Five miles west of Grapevine junction, circumambulate volcanic Ubehebe Crater and its younger sibling.

In summer, stick to paved roads (dirt roads can quickly overheat vehicles), limit your exertions and visit higher-elevation areas: for example, the scenic drive up Emigrant Canyon, starting 8 miles west of Stovepipe Wells, passing turnoffs to ghost towns and ending with a 3-mile unpaved stretch up to the historic beehive-shaped Charcoal Kilns. Nearby is the trailhead for the 8.4-mile round-trip hike up Wildrose Peak (9064ft). At the park's western edge, utterly remote Panamint Springs offers panoramic vistas and a 2-mile round-trip hike to tiny Darwin Falls.

WORTH A TRIP

RHYOLITE

Four miles west of Beatty, NV, look for the turnoff to the ghost town of Rhyolite (www.rhyolitesite.com; off Hwy 374; ☺ sunrise-sunset) FREE, which epitomizes the hurly-burly, boom-and-bust story of so many Western gold-rush mining towns. Don't miss the 1906 'bottle house' or the skeletal remains of a three-story bank. Next door is the bizarre Goldwell Open Air Museum (www.goldwellmuseum.org; off Hwy 374; ☺ 24hr) FREE of trippy art installations begun by Belgian artist Albert Szukalski in 1984.

Activities offered at the Ranch at Furnace Creek include horseback riding, golf, mountain biking and hot-springs pool swimming.

Sleeping & Eating

In-park lodging is often booked solid in springtime when campgrounds fill by mid-morning, especially on weekends. Backcountry camping (no campfires) is allowed in previously impacted sites 2 miles away from any paved road and developed or day-use area, and 100yd from water sources; pick up free permits at the visitor center.

The closest town with cheaper lodging is Beatty, NV (40 miles northeast of Furnace Creek); accommodations are more plentiful in Las Vegas, NV (120 miles southeast) and Ridgecrest, CA (120 miles southwest).

Death Valley National Park Campgrounds

CAMPGROUND $

(www.nps.gov/deva; campsites free-$30; 🚻🚰) Of the park's nine campgrounds, only Furnace Creek accepts reservations (☎ 518-885-3639, 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov) and only from mid-October to mid-April. In summer, Furnace Creek is first-come, first-served, and the only other campgrounds open are Mesquite Spring, near Scotty's Castle, and those along Emigrant Canyon Rd (high-clearance 4WD may be required). Other valley-floor campgrounds – including RV-oriented Stovepipe Wells and Sunset, and shadier tent-friendly Texas Springs – are open October to April.

Ranch at Furnace Creek

MOTEL, CABINS $$

(☎ 760-786-2345, 800-236-7916; www.furnacecreekresort.com; Hwy 190; d $139-219; 🚻🚰🚿🛏) Tailor-made for families, this rambling resort offers lodge rooms awash in desert colors, with French doors opening onto porches or patios, as well as duplex cabins. The ranch encompasses a natural spring-fed pool, golf course and tennis courts. The 49'er Cafe (mains $10-25) cooks up decent American standards, or grab beers and pizza at Corkscrew Saloon.

Cynthia's

HOSTEL, INN $$

(☎ 760-852-4580; www.discovercynthias.com; 2001 Old Spanish Trail Hwy, Tecopa; dm $22-25, r $75-140, tipi $165; ☺ check-in 3-8pm; 🚻) Match your budget to your bed: eclectic-looking private rooms and dorm beds come in vintage trailers with common kitchens, or camp out at China Ranch in a Native American-style tipi with thick rugs, a fire pit and king-sized bed. Reservations essential. It's in the hot-springs town of Tecopa, 70 miles southeast of Furnace Creek.

Stovepipe Wells Village

MOTEL $$

(☎) 760-786-2387; www.escapetodeathvalley.com; Hwy 190; RV sites $33, r $95-160; ♻️ (🚰 🚰 🚰) Spruced-up rooms lay out quality linens beneath cheerful Native American bedspreads. The small pool is cool, while a cowboy-style saloon and restaurant deliver three square yet unmemorable meals a day (mains $6 to $23).

Inn at Furnace Creek

HOTEL $$$

(☎) 800-236-7916, 760-786-2345; www.furnacecreekresort.com; Hwy 190; r/ste from $345/450; ☺ mid-Oct-mid-May; ♻️ (🚰 🚰) Enjoy languid valley views while lounging by the spring-fed pool or when you roll out of bed and pull back the curtains at this minimalist 1927 mission-style hotel. The upscale restaurant (dress code at dinner) is only recommended for its Sunday brunch buffet ($25). Come for sunset cocktails on the terrace.

i Information

Purchase a seven-day entry pass ($20 per car) at self-service pay stations throughout the park. For a free map and newspaper, show your receipt at the visitor center (☎) 760-786-3200; www.nps.gov/deva; ☺ 8am-5pm) in Furnace Creek, where you'll also find a general store, gas station, post office, ATM, laundromat and showers. Stovepipe Wells Village, a 30-minute drive northwest, has a general store, gas station, ATM and showers. Panamint Springs, on the park's western edge, has an ATM, gas, wi-fi, snacks and drinks. Cell-phone reception is spotty to nonexistent in the park.

CENTRAL COAST

No trip to California would be worth its salt without a jaunt along the surreally scenic Central Coast. Among California's most iconic roads, Hwy 1 skirts past posh Santa Barbara, retro Pismo Beach, collegiate San Luis Obispo, fantastical Hearst Castle, soul-stirring Big Sur, cutesy Carmel, down-to-earth Monterey and hippie Santa Cruz, often within view of the Pacific. Slow down – this idyllic coast deserves to be savored, not gulped. Incidentally, that same advice goes for award-winning locally grown wines too.

Santa Barbara

Life is sweet in Santa Barbara, a coastal Shangri-La where the air is redolent of citrus and jasmine, flowery bougainvillea drapes whitewashed buildings with Spanish red-tiled roofs, and it's all cradled by pearly beaches – just ignore those pesky oil derricks out to sea. Downtown's main drag, State St, abounds with bars, cafes, theaters and boutiques.

👁 Sights

Mission Santa Barbara

CHURCH

(www.santabarbaramission.org; 2201 Laguna St; adult/child $5/1; ☺ 9am-4:15pm) Established in 1786, California's hilltop 'Queen of the Missions' was the only one to escape secularization under Mexican rule. Look for Chumash artwork inside the vaulted church, unusually topped by twin bell towers, and a moody cemetery out back.

Santa Barbara Museum of Art

MUSEUM

(www.sbma.net; 1130 State St; adult/child $10/6, 5-8pm Thu free; ☺ 11am-5pm Tue-Wed & Fri-Sun, to 8pm Thu) Downtown galleries house an impressive, tightly edited collection of contemporary California artists, modern masters including Matisse and Chagall, 20th-century photography and Asian art, plus provocative special exhibits.

County Courthouse

HISTORIC BUILDING

(☎) 805-962-6464; www.sbcourts.org; 1100 Anacapa St; ☺ 8am-4:45pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun) FREE Built in Spanish-Moorish revival style, it's an absurdly beautiful place to stand trial. Marvel at hand-painted ceilings and intricate murals, then climb the Vertigo-esque clock tower for panoramic views. Free tours given daily (call for schedules).

Santa Barbara Historical Museum

MUSEUM

(www.santabarbaramuseum.com; 136 E De La Guerra St; donations welcome; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from noon Sun) FREE Around a romantic cloistered adobe courtyard, peruse a fascinating mishmash of memorabilia, including Chumash woven baskets. Learn about odd historical footnotes, like the city's involvement in toppling the last Chinese monarchy.

Santa Barbara Maritime Museum

MUSEUM

(www.sbmm.org; 113 Harbor Way; adult/child $7/4, 3rd Thu of month free; ☺ 10am-5pm, to 6pm late May-early Sep; 🚢) Set by the harbor, this

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

IF YOU HAVE A FEW MORE DAYS

Remote, rugged Channel Islands National Park (www.nps.gov/chis) earns the nickname 'California's Galápagos' for its unique wildlife. These islands offer superb snorkeling, scuba diving and sea kayaking. Spring, when wildflowers bloom, is a gorgeous time to visit; summer and fall can be bone-dry, and winter stormy.

Anacapa, an hour's boat ride from the mainland, is the best island for day-tripping, with easy hikes and unforgettable views. Santa Cruz, the biggest island, is for overnight camping excursions, kayaking and hiking. Other islands require longer channel crossings and multiday trips. San Miguel is often shrouded in fog. Tiny Santa Barbara supports seabird and seal colonies. So does Santa Rosa, which also protects Torrey pines and Chumash archaeological sites.

Boats leave from Ventura Harbor, off Hwy 101, where the park's visitor center (☎805-658-5730; 1901 Spinnaker Dr, Ventura; ☀8:30am-5pm) has info and maps. The main tour-boat operator is Island Packers (☎805-642-1393; www.islandpackers.com; 1691 Spinnaker Dr; cruises adult/child from $36/26); book ahead. Primitive island campgrounds require reservations; book through Recreation.gov (p902) and bring food and water.

two-story exhibition hall celebrates the town's briny history with yesteryear artifacts, documentary videos and hands-on and virtual-reality exhibits.

Santa Barbara Botanic Garden GARDEN
(www.sbbg.org; 1212 Mission Canyon Rd; adult/child $8/4; ☀9am-6pm, to 5pm Nov-Feb; 📍) Uphill from the mission, this garden devoted to California's native flora meanders beside rolling trails past cacti and wildflowers. Nearby is a natural-history museum for kids.

Activities

Overlooking busy municipal beaches, 1872 Stearns Wharf is the West's oldest continuously operating wooden pier, strung with touristy shops and restaurants. Outside town off Hwy 101, bigger palm-fringed state beaches (www.parks.ca.gov; entry per car $10; ☀8am-sunset) await at Carpinteria, 12 miles east, and El Capitan and Refugio, over 20 miles west of town.

Santa Barbara Sailing Center WATER SPORTS
(☎800-350-9090, 805-962-2826; www.sbsail.com; off Harbor Way; kayak/SUP rentals from $10/15, cruises/tours from $25/50) Rent kayaks or join a paddling tour, sign up for sailing classes or take a whale-watching or sunset cocktail cruise.

Channel Islands Outfitters WATER SPORTS
(☎rentals 805-617-3425, tours 805-899-4925; www.channelislands.com; 117b Harbor Way; surfboard/kayak/SUP rentals from $10/25/40) Friendly kayaking, surfing and stand-up paddle boarding (SUP) outfitter also leads coastal kayaking tours.

Wheel Fun CYCLING
(www.wheelfunrentalssb.com; 22 State St & 23 E Cabrillo Blvd; 1hr/half-day bicycle rentals from $9/24; ☀8am-8pm, to 6pm Nov-Feb) Pedal along the paved recreational trail connecting miles of beautiful beaches.

Santa Barbara Adventure Co WATER SPORTS, CYCLING
(☎877-885-9283, 805-884-9283; www.sbadventureco.com; 720 Bond Ave; tours/lessons from $49/109) Take a kayak or cycling tour or a traditional board-surfing or SUP lesson.

Sleeping

Hello, sticker shock: even basic motel rooms can command over $200 in summer. Less expensive motels line upper State St, north of downtown, and Hwy 101. Make reservations (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $10-70; 📍🐾) for state-park campgrounds outside town.

Santa Barbara Auto Camp CAMPGROUND $$
(☎888-405-7553; <http://sbautocamp.com>; 2717 De La Vina St; trailer q $139-199; 📍📍📍📍📍) Slumber inside a vintage Airstream trailer decked out with minimalist mod decor, sustainable design features, a full kitchen, redwood deck and outdoor BBQ grill. Book far ahead (two-night minimum stay).

Agave Inn MOTEL $$
(☎805-687-6009; <http://agaveinnsb.com>; 3222 State St; r from $119; 📍📍) This affordable gem has arty panache and personality, with its

'Mexican pop meets modern' motif. Family-sized rooms have kitchenettes. Thin walls and limited parking.

Marina Beach Motel

MOTEL $$

(☎ 877-627-4621, 805-963-9311; www.marina-beachmotel.com; 21 Bath St; r incl breakfast $150-210; ♿ (♿ ♿)) Old-fashioned one-story motor lodge, a short walk from the beach, has been all done up inside with crisp linens and plantation shutters. Some rooms have kitchenettes. Free bikes to borrow.

El Capitan Canyon

CABINS, CAMPGROUND $$$

(☎ 866-352-2729, 805-685-3887; www.elcapitan-canyon.com; 11560 Calle Real, off Hwy 101; safari tents $155, cabins from $225; ♿ (♿ ♿)) Go 'glamping' in this car-free zone near El Capitan State Beach, a 30-minute drive west of town via Hwy 101. Safari tents are rustic, while creekside cedar cabins come with dreamy beds and outdoor fire pits.

Spanish Garden Inn

BOULIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎ 805-564-4700; www.spanishgardeninn.com; 915 Garden St; d incl breakfast from $319; ♿ @ (♿ ♿)) Elegant Spanish Revival-style hotel downtown harbors two dozen romantic luxury rooms and suites facing a gracious fountain courtyard. Concierge services are top-notch.

Eating

Silvergreens

CALIFORNIAN $

(www.silvergreens.com; 791 Chapala St; dishes $4-10; ☉ 7am-10pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ♿) Who says fast food can't be fresh and tasty? With the tag line 'Eat smart, live well,' this sun-drenched cafe makes nutritionally sound salads, soups, sandwiches, burgers, breakfast burritos and much more.

Lilly's Taquería

MEXICAN $

(<http://lillystacos.com>; 310 Chapala St; items from $1.75; ☉ 10:30am-9pm Sun-Mon & Wed-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) There's almost always a line out the door, so be snappy with your order – locals will fight for these authentic street tacos, especially with adobada (marinated pork) or lengua (beef tongue).

Olio Pizzeria

ITALIAN $$

(☎ 805-899-2699; www.oliopizzeria.com; 11 W Victoria St; mains $9-18; ☉ 11:30am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Convivial, high-ceilinged pizzeria with a happening wine bar sets out a tempting selection of crispy pizzas, imported cheeses and meats, traditional antipasti and dolci (desserts).

Santa Barbara

Shellfish Company

SEAFOOD $$

(www.sbfishhouse.com; 230 Stearns Wharf; dishes $3-16; ☉ 11am-9pm) 'From sea to skillet to plate' best describes this end-of-the-wharf crab shack that's more of a counter joint. Great crab cakes, ocean views and the same location for 30 years.

Drinking & Entertainment

Nightlife orbits lower State St. You can ramble between a dozen wine-tasting rooms along the city's Urban Wine Trail (www.urbanwinetrailsb.com). The free alt-weekly Santa Barbara Independent (www.independent.com) has an entertainment calendar.

Brewhouse

BREWERY

(www.brewhousesb.com; 229 W Montecito St; ☉ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ♿) Rowdy dive down by the railroad tracks crafts its own unique small-batch beers and has rockin' live music from Wednesday to Saturday nights.

Soho

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 805-962-7776; www.sohosb.com; Suite 205, 1221 State St; tickets $5-30) Unpretentious brick room located upstairs behind a McDonald's has live bands almost nightly, from indie rock, folk and world beats to jazz and blues.

Information

Santa Barbara Car Free (www.santabarbaracarfree.org) Eco-travel tips and discounts.

Santa Barbara Visitors Center (☎ 805-965-3021; www.santabarbaraca.com; 1 Garden St; ☉ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun, to 4pm Nov-Jan) Maps and self-guided tour brochures by the waterfront.

Getting There & Around

From the train station (209 State St) south of downtown, Amtrak trains roll toward LA ($25 to $30, three hours) and San Luis Obispo ($28 to $34, 2¾ hours). From a downtown bus station (☎ 805-965-7551; 224 Chapala St), Greyhound has a few daily buses to LA ($19, two to three hours) and via San Luis Obispo ($28, two hours) to Santa Cruz ($53, six hours) and San Francisco ($57, nine hours).

Metropolitan Transit District (MTD; ☎ 805-963-3366; www.sbmtd.gov) runs city-wide buses ($1.75) and electric shuttles (50¢) between downtown's State St and Stearns Wharf and along beachfront Cabrillo Blvd.

Santa Barbara to San Luis Obispo

You can speed up to San Luis Obispo in less than two hours along Hwy 101, or take all day detouring to wineries, historical missions and hidden beaches.

A scenic backcountry drive north of Santa Barbara follows Hwy 154, where you can go for the grape in the wine country (www.sbcountywines.com) of the Santa Ynez and Santa Maria Valleys. For eco-conscious vineyard tours, ride along with Sustainable Vine (☎ 805-698-3911; www.sustainablevine.com; tour $125) 🍷, or just follow the pastoral Foxen Canyon Wine Trail (www.foxencanyonwinetrail.com) north to cult winemakers' vineyards. In the town of Los Olivos, where two dozen more wine-tasting rooms await, Los Olivos Cafe & Wine Merchant (☎ 805-688-7265; www.losolivoscafe.com; 2879 Grand Ave; mains $12-29; ☎ 11:30am-8:30pm) 🍷 is a charming Cal-Mediterranean bistro with a wine bar.

Further south, the Danish-immigrant village of Solvang (www.solvangusa.com) is afluster with kitschy windmills and fairytale-esque bakeries. Fuel up on buffalo chicken breakfast biscuits, cinnamon-cumin pork-belly sandos and organic Thai salads at Succulent Cafe & Trading Company (☎ 805-691-9235; www.succulentcafe.com; 1555 Mission Dr; breakfast & lunch mains $8-12; ☎ 9am-1pm & 11am-3pm Wed-Sun, 5:30-9pm Thu-Sat) 🍷. For a picnic lunch or BBQ takeout, swing into El Rancho Marketplace (www.elrancho-market.com; 2886 Mission Dr; ☎ 6am-10pm), east of Solvang's 19th-century Spanish mission (☎ 805-688-4815; www.missionsantaines.org; 1760 Mission Dr; adult/child $5/free; ☎ 9am-4:30pm). West of Hwy 101 in Buellton, Avant (www.avantwines.com; 35 Industrial Way; ☎ 11am-9pm) wine bar and Figueroa Mountain Brewing Co (www.figmtnbrew.com; 45 Industrial Way; ☎ 4-9pm Mon-Thu, from 11am Fri-Sun) are side-street locals' hangouts.

Follow Hwy 246 about 15 miles west of Hwy 101 to La Purísima Mission State Historic Park (www.lapurisimamission.org; 2295 Purisima Rd; entry per car $6; ☎ 9am-5pm, guided tour 1pm). Exquisitely restored, it's one of California's most evocative Spanish Colonial missions, with flowering gardens, livestock pens and adobe buildings. South of Lompoc off Hwy 1, Jalama Rd travels 14 twisting miles to windswept Jalama Beach County Park (☎ 805-736-3616; www.sbparcs.org; 9999 Jalama Rd; per car $10). Book ahead for its crazy-popular campground (http://sbparcs.org/reservations; tent/RV sites $28/43, cabins $110-210), where newly built, simple wooden cabins have kitchenettes.

Heading north on Hwy 1, rough-and-tumble Guadalupe is the gateway to North America's largest coastal dunes, where the Lost City of DeMille (www.lostcitydemille.com), a movie set from The Ten Commandments (1923), lies buried beneath the sands. Scenes from Hidalgo (2004) and Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End (2007) were also filmed here. The best dunes access is west of town via Hwy 166.

Where Hwy 1 rejoins Hwy 101, Pismo Beach has a long, lazy stretch of sand and a butterfly grove (www.monarchbutterfly.org; Hwy 1) FREE, where migratory monarchs perch in eucalyptus trees from late October to February. Adjacent North Beach Campground (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; Hwy 1; campsites $35; 🚰) offers beach access and hot showers. Dozens of motels and hotels stand by the ocean and along Hwy 101, but rooms fill quickly, especially on weekends. Pismo Lighthouse Suites (☎ 805-773-2411, 800-245-2411; www.pisamolighthousesuites.com; 2411 Price St; ste incl breakfast from $219; 📞 📺 📶 🚰 🚿) has everything vacationing families need, from kitchenette suites to a life-sized outdoor chessboard; ask about off-season discounts. Nearby Pismo's seaside pier, Old West Cinnamon Rolls (www.oldwestcinnamon.com; 861 Dolliver St; items $3-5; ☎ 6:30am-5:30pm) is gooey goodness. Uphill at the Cracked Crab (www.crackedcrab.com; 751 Price St; mains $9-53; ☎ 11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat; 🚰), make sure you don a plastic bib before a fresh bucket o' seafood gets dumped on your butcher-paper-covered table.

The nearby town of Avila Beach has a sunny waterfront promenade, an atmospherically creaky old wooden fishing pier and a historical lighthouse (☎ hiking info 805-541-8735, trolley tour 855-533-7843; www.sanluislighthouse.org; entry per hiker $5, trolley tour $20; ☎ Sat only, reservations required). Back toward Hwy 101, pick juicy berries or apples and feed the goats at Avila Valley Barn (http://avilavalleybarn.com; 560 Avila Beach Dr; ☎ 9am-6pm; 🐐) farmstand, then do some stargazing from a private redwood hot tub at Sycamore Mineral Springs (☎ 805-595-7302; www.sycamoresprings.com; 1215 Avila Beach Dr; 1hr per person $13.50-17.50; ☎ 8am-midnight, last reservation 10:45pm).

San Luis Obispo

Halfway between LA and San Francisco, San Luis Obispo is a low-key place. But CalPoly university students inject a healthy dose of hubbub into the streets, pubs and cafes, especially during the weekly farmers market (☎ 6-9pm Thu; 📍) 🍃, which turns downtown's Higuera St into a carnival with live music and sidewalk BBQs. Like several other California towns, SLO grew up around a Spanish Catholic mission (☎ 805-543-6850; www.missionsanluisobispo.org; 751 Palm St; donation $2; ☎ 9am-5pm, to 4pm early Nov-mid-Mar), founded in 1772 by Junípero Serra. These days, SLO is just a grape's throw from thriving Edna Valley wineries (www.slowine.com), known for crisp Chardonnay and smooth Pinot Noir.

🛏 Sleeping

SLO's motel row is north of downtown along Monterey St. Chain motels line Hwy 101.

HI Hostel Obispo

HOSTEL $

(☎ 805-544-4678; www.hostelobispo.com; 1617 Santa Rosa St; dm $25-28, r from $55; ☎ check-in 4:30-10pm; 📍 📶) 🍃 Solar-powered hostel inhabits a cozy Victorian near the train station. Amenities include a common kitchen and bike rentals (from $10 per day). No credit cards or curfew; BYOT (bring your own towel). All accommodation with shared bath.

Peach Tree Inn

MOTEL $$

(☎ 805-543-3170, 800-227-6396; www.peachtreeinn.com; 2001 Monterey St; r incl breakfast $70-175; 📍 📶 📺 📺) Folsy, nothing-fancy motel rooms are relaxing, especially those set creekside or with rocking chairs overlooking a rose garden. Hearty continental breakfasts include homemade breads.

Madonna Inn

MOTEL $$$

(☎ 805-543-3000; www.madonnainn.com; 100 Madonna Rd; r $189-309; 📍 📶 📺 📺) Fantastically campy, this garish confection is visible from Hwy 101. Overseas tourists, vacationing Midwesterners and irony-loving hipsters adore the 110 themed rooms – including the rock-walled Caveman and hot-pink Floral Fantasy (gawk at photos online).

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Downtown abounds with cafes, restaurants, wine bars, brewpubs and the USA's first solar-powered cinema, Palm Theatre (☎ 805-541-5161; www.thepalmtheatre.com; 817 Palm St; tickets $5-8) 🍃, screening indie flicks.

Firestone Grill

BARBECUE $

(www.firestonegrill.com; 1001 Higuera St; dishes $4-10; ☎ 11am-10pm Sun-Wed, to 11pm Thu-Sat; 📍) Sink your teeth into an authentic Santa Maria-style tri-tip BBQ sandwich on a toasted garlic roll, or a chopped Cobb steak salad.

Sidocar

CALIFORNIAN $$

(☎ 805-540-5340; http://sidecarslo.com; 1127 Broad St; mains $7-22; ☎ 11am-11pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun) 🍃 Pull out a chair around a 1950s dinette table and feast on a creative chef's seasonal menu of local farm and ranch goodness. Weekend brunch is social, and so is the regional wine list.

Big Sky Café

CALIFORNIAN $$

(www.bigskycafe.com; 1121 Broad St; mains $9-20; ☎ 7am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri, 8am-10pm Sat, 8am-9pm Sun; 📍) 🍃 With the tagline 'analog food for a digital world,' this airy, sustainable-minded cafe gets top marks for market-fresh breakfasts (served until 1pm daily), healthy big-plate dinners and homemade soups and baskets of cornbread.

📍 Information

San Luis Obispo Car Free (http://slocarfree.org) Eco-travel tips and discounts.

Visitor Center (☎ 805-781-2777; www.visitslo.com; 895 Monterey St; ☎ 10am-5pm Sun-Wed, to 7pm Thu-Sat) Downtown near Higuera St.

WORTH A TRIP

PINNACLES NATIONAL PARK

Named for the towering spires that rise abruptly out of the chaparral-covered hills, Pinnacles National Park (☎ 831-389-4485; www.nps.gov/pinn; 5000 Hwy 146, Paicines; per car $5) is a study in geologic drama, with craggy monoliths, sheer-walled canyons and ancient volcanic remnants. Besides hiking and rock climbing, the park's biggest attractions are talus caves and endangered California condors. Visit during spring or fall – summer heat and humidity are extreme. A family campground (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; tent/RV sites $23/36; 📍 📶 📺) is situated near the park's east entrance, off Hwy 25 northwest of King City, a two-hour drive north of San Luis Obispo.

i Getting There & Around

Amtrak trains from Santa Barbara ($28 to $34, 2¾ hours) and LA ($40, 5½ hours) arrive at SLO's train station (1011 Railroad Ave), 0.6 miles southeast of downtown. Inconveniently stopping 2.5 miles southwest of downtown off Hwy 101, Greyhound (1460 Calle Joaquin) has a few daily buses to Santa Barbara ($28, two hours), LA ($40, five hours), Santa Cruz ($42, four hours) and San Francisco ($53, seven hours).

Operated by SLO Regional Transit Authority (☎ 805-541-2228; www.slorta.org; fares $1.50-3, day pass $5), county-wide buses with limited weekend services converge on downtown's transit center (cnr Palm & Osos Sts).

Morro Bay to Hearst Castle

A dozen miles northwest of SLO via Hwy 1, Morro Bay is a sea-sprayed fishing town where Morro Rock, a volcanic peak jutting up from the ocean floor, is your first hint of the coast's upcoming drama. (Never mind those powerplant smokestacks obscuring the views.) Hop aboard a cruise or rent kayaks along the Embarcadero, packed with touristy shops, cafes and bars. A classic seafood shack, Giovanni's (www.giovannifishmarket.com; 1001 Front St; mains $6-17; ☎ 11am-6pm; 🍴) cooks killer garlic fries and fish-and-chips. Midrange motels cluster uphill off Harbor and Main Sts and along Hwy 1.

Nearby are fantastic state parks for coastal hikes and camping (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $5-50; 🍴🚰). South of the Embarcadero, Morro Bay State Park (☎ 805-772-2694; www.parks.ca.gov; admission free, museum entry adult/child $2/free) has a natural-history museum and heron rookery. Further south in Los Osos, west of Hwy 1, wilder Montaña de Oro State Park (www.parks.ca.gov; Pecho Valley Rd) FREE features coastal bluffs, tide pools, sand dunes, peak hiking and mountain-biking trails. Its Spanish name ('mountain of gold') comes from native California poppies that blanket the hillsides in spring.

Heading north of downtown Morro Bay along Hwy 1, surfers love the Cal-Mexican Taco Temple (2680 Main St; mains $8-15; ☎ 11am-9pm Mon & Wed-Sat, to 8:30pm Sun), a cash-only joint, and Ruddell's Smoke-house (www.smokerjim.com; 101 D St; dishes $4-16; ☎ 11am-6pm), serving smoked-fish tacos by the beach in Cayucos. Vintage motels line Cayucos' Ocean Ave, including the cute, family-run Seaside Motel (☎ 805-995-3809; www.seasidemotel.com; 42 S Ocean Ave; d $80-160; 🍴), offering kitchenettes. Inhabiting a historic sea captain's home, Cass House Inn (☎ 805-995-3669; http://casshouseinn.com; 222 N Ocean Ave; r incl breakfast $175-365; 🍴) has plush rooms, some with soaking tubs and antique fireplaces to ward off chilly coastal fog, and an elegant, seasonally inspired French-Californian restaurant (4-course prix-fixe menu $68; ☎ 5:30pm-7:30pm Thu-Mon) downstairs.

North of Harmony (population: just 18 souls), Hwy 46 leads east into the vineyards of Paso Robles wine country (www.paso.wine.com). Further north along Hwy 1, quaint Cambria has lodgings along un-earthly pretty Moonstone Beach, where the Blue Dolphin Inn (☎ 805-927-3300, 800-222-9157; www.cambriainns.com; 6270 Moonstone Beach Dr; r incl breakfast from $179; 🍴🚰) offers crisp, modern rooms with romantic fireplaces. Inland, Hi Cambria Bridge Street Inn (☎ 805-927-7653; www.bridgestreetinn.com; 4314 Bridge St; dm $25-28, r $49-75, all with shared bath; 🍴 check-in 5pm-9pm; 🚰) sleeps like a hostel but feels like a grandmotherly B&B, while the retro Cambria Pines Motel (☎ 866-489-4485, 805-927-4485; www.cambriapalmshotel.com; 2662 Main St; r $89-139; 🍴 check-in 3pm-9pm; 🍴🚰🚰) has clean-lined rooms, some with kitchenettes. An artisan cheese and wine shop, Indigo Moon (☎ 805-927-2911; www.indigomooncafe.com; 1980 Main St; mains lunch $9-14, dinner $14-35; ☎ 10am-9pm) has breezy bistro tables and market-fresh salads and sandwiches at lunch. With a sunny patio and take-out counter, Linn's Easy as Pie Cafe (www.linnfruitbin.com; 4251 Bridge St; mains $7-12; ☎ 10am-6pm; 🍴) is famous for its olallieberry pie.

About 10 miles north of Cambria, hilltop Hearst Castle (☎ reservations 800-444-4445; www.hearstcastle.org; 750 Hearst Castle Rd; tours adult/child from $25/12; ☎ usually 9am-sunset) is California's most famous monument to wealth and ambition. William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper magnate, entertained Hollywood stars and royalty at this fantasy estate dripping with European antiques, accented by shimmering pools and surrounded by flowering gardens. Try to make tour reservations in advance, especially for Christmas holiday evening living-history programs.

Across Hwy 1, overlooking a historic whaling pier, Sebastian's Store (442 Slo San Simeon Rd; mains $6-12; ☎ 11am-5pm Wed-Sun, deli closes 4pm) sells Hearst Ranch beef burgers and giant sandwiches for impromptu beach picnics. Five miles back south along Hwy 1, past a forgettable row of budget and mid-range motels in San Simeon, Hearst San Simeon State Park (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $5-35; 🏠🚰) has primitive and developed creekside campsites.

Heading north, Point Piedras Blancas is home to an enormous elephant seal colony that breeds, molts, sleeps, frolics and, occasionally, goes aggro on the beach. Keep your distance from these wild animals, who move faster on the sand than you can. The signposted vista point, 4.5 miles north of Hearst Castle, has interpretive panels. Seals haul out year-round, but the frenzied birthing and mating season runs from January through March, aptly peaking on Valentine's Day. Nearby, the 1875 Piedras Blancas Light Station (☎805-927-7361; www.piedrasblancas.org; tours adult/child $10/5; ☀ tours usually 9:45am Mon-Sat mid-Jun-Aug, Tue, Thu & Sat Sep-mid-Jun) is an outstandingly scenic spot; call ahead to check tour schedules and meeting points.

Big Sur

Much ink has been spilled extolling the raw beauty and energy of this 100-mile stretch of craggy coastline sprawling south of Monterey Bay. More a state of mind than a place you can pinpoint on a map, Big Sur has no traffic lights, banks or strip malls. When the sun goes down, the moon and stars are the only illumination – if summer fog hasn't extinguished them, that is.

Lodging, food and gas are all scarce and pricey in Big Sur. Demand for rooms is high year-round, especially on weekends, so book ahead. The free Big Sur Guide (www.bigsur-california.org), an info-packed newspaper, is available everywhere along the way. Note the day-use parking fee ($10) charged at Big Sur's state parks is valid for same-day entry to all.

It's about 25 miles from Hearst Castle to blink-and-you-miss-it Gorda, home of Treebones Resort (☎877-424-4787, 805-927-2390; www.treebonesresort.com; 71895 Hwy 1; d with shared bath incl breakfast from $199; 🏠🚰🚰), which offers back-to-nature clifftop yurts and a small locavarian restaurant (dinner mains $24-33; ☀ noon-2pm & 5:30pm-8pm) and sushi bar. Basic USFS campgrounds (☎877-444-6777, 518-885-3639; www.recreation.gov; campsites $22; 🏠) are just off Hwy 1 at Plaskett Creek and Kirk Creek.

Ten miles north of Lucia is the new-agey Esalen Institute (☎831-667-3047; www.esalen.org; 55000 Hwy 1), famous for its esoteric workshops and ocean-view hot-springs baths. By reservation, you can frolic nekkid in the latter from 1am to 3am nightly ($25, credit cards only). It's surreal.

Another 3 miles north, Julia Pfeiffer Burns State Park hides one of California's only coastal waterfalls, 80ft-high McWay Falls; the viewpoint is reached via a quarter-mile stroll. Two more miles north, a steep dirt trail descends from a hairpin turn on Hwy 1 to Partington Cove, a raw and breathtaking spot where crashing surf salts your skin – but swimming isn't safe, sorry.

Seven miles further north, nestled among redwoods and wisteria, quaint Deetjen's Restaurant (☎831-667-2378; www.deetjens.com; Deetjen's Big Sur Inn, 48865 Hwy 1; dinner mains $24-38; ☀ 8am-noon Mon-Fri, to 12:30pm Sat & Sun, 6-9pm daily) serves country-style comfort fare. Just north, the beatnik Henry Miller Memorial Library (☎831-667-2574; www.henrymiller.org; 48603 Hwy 1; ☀ 11am-6pm Wed-Mon) is the heart and soul of Big Sur bohemia, with a jam-packed bookstore, live-music concerts and DJs, open-mike nights and outdoor film screenings. Opposite, food takes a back seat to dramatic ocean views at clifftop Nepenthe (☎831-667-2345; www.nepenthebigsur.com; 48510 Hwy 1; mains $15-42; ☀ 11:30am-4:30pm & 5-10pm), meaning 'island of no sorrow.' Its Ambrosia burger is mighty.

Heading north, Big Sur Station (☎831-667-2315; www.fs.usda.gov/lpnf/; ☀ 8am-4pm, closed Mon & Tue Oct-Apr) can clue you in about hiking trails and camping options. Rangers issue overnight parking ($5) and campfire permits (free) for backpacking trips into Ventana Wilderness, including the popular 10-mile one-way hike to Sykes Hot Springs.

i DRIVING HWY 1

Navigating the narrow two-lane highway through Big Sur can be slow going. Allow at least 2½ hours to drive nonstop between Hearst Castle and Monterey Bay, much more if you stop to explore. Driving after dark can be risky and, more to the point, it's futile because you'll miss all the scenery. Watch out for cyclists and use signposted roadside pullouts to let faster-moving traffic pass. For updates on road conditions, call ☎800-427-7623.

On the opposite side of Hwy 1 just south, turn onto obscurely marked Sycamore Canyon Rd, which drops two narrow, twisting miles to crescent-shaped Pfeiffer Beach (per car $5; ☀ 9am-8pm), with a towering offshore sea arch and strong currents too dangerous for swimming. Dig down into the sand – it's purple!

Next up, Pfeiffer Big Sur State Park is crisscrossed by sun-dappled trails through redwood forests, including the 1.4-mile round-trip to seasonal Pfeiffer Falls. Make campground (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-50; 🏠 🚰) reservations or stay at the rambling, old-fashioned Big Sur Lodge (☎ 800-424-4787, 831-667-3100; www.bigsurlodge.com; 47225 Hwy 1; d $205-365; 🏠 🚰), which has rustic duplex cottages (some with kitchens and wood-burning fireplaces), a simple restaurant (mains $10-27; ☀ 8-11:30am & noon-10pm) and a well-stocked general store.

Most of Big Sur's commercial activity is concentrated just north along Hwy 1, including private campgrounds with rustic cabins, motels, restaurants, gas stations and shops. Glen Oaks Motel (☎ 831-667-2105; www.glenoaksbigsur.com; 47080 Hwy 1; d from $225; 🏠 🚰), a redesigned 1950s redwood-and-adobe motor lodge, rents snug rooms and cabins with gas fireplaces. Nearby, the Big Sur River Inn's general store (http://bigsurriverinn.com; 46840 Hwy 1; mains $6-9; ☎ 11am-7pm) hides a burrito and fruit-smoothie bar at the back, while Maiden Publick House (☎ 831-667-2355; Hwy 1; ☀ 3pm-2am Mon-Fri, from noon Sat & Sun) pulls off an encyclopedic beer menu and live-music jams. Back south, near the post office, grab a sandwich from Big Sur Deli (http://bigsurdeli.com; 47520 Hwy 1; dishes $1.50-7; ☀ 7am-8pm), attached to the laid-back Big Sur Taphouse (www.bigsurtaphouse.com; 47520 Hwy 1; ☀ noon-10pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, 10am-10pm Sun; 🍺 🏠), a craft beer bar with pub grub, board games and sports TVs.

Heading north again, don't skip Andrew Molera State Park, a gorgeous trail-laced pastiche of grassy meadows, waterfalls, ocean bluffs and rugged beaches. Learn all about endangered California condors at the park's Discovery Center (☎ 831-624-1202; www.ventanaws.org; ☀ 10am-4pm Sat & Sun late May-early Sep; 🏠) FREE; book ahead for popular bird-tracking tours ($50). From the dirt parking lot, a 0.4-mile trail leads to a first-come, first-served primitive campground (www.parks.ca.gov; tent sites $25).

Six miles before landmark Bixby Creek Bridge, you can tour 1889 Point Sur Light-station (☎ 831-625-4419; www.pointsur.org; adult/child from $12/5). Check online or call for tour schedules, including seasonal moonlight walks, and directions to the meeting point. Arrive early because space is limited (no reservations).

Carmel

Once a bohemian artists' seaside resort, quaint Carmel-by-the-Sea now has the well-manicured feel of a country club. Simply plop down in any cafe and watch the parade of behatted ladies toting fancy-label shopping bags and dapper gents driving top-down convertibles along Ocean Ave, the village's slow-mo main drag.

👁 Sights & Activities

Often foggy, municipal Carmel Beach is a gorgeous white-sand crescent, where pampered pups excitedly run off-leash.

★ Point Lobos State Natural Reserve

PARK

(www.pointlobos.org; Hwy 1; per car $10; ☀ 8am-7pm, closes 30min after sunset early Nov-mid-Mar) They bark, they Bray, they bathe and they're fun to watch – sea lions are the stars here, 4 miles south of town, where a dramatically rocky coastline offers excellent tide-pooling. The full perimeter hike is 6 miles, but shorter walks take in Bird Island, Piney Woods and the Whalers Cabin. Show up early on weekends since parking is limited.

San Carlos Borroméo de Carmelo Mission

CHURCH

(www.carmelmission.org; 3080 Rio Rd; adult/child $6.50/2; ☀ 9:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, from 10:30am Sun) A mile south of downtown, this gorgeous mission is an oasis of calm and solennity, ensconced in flowering gardens. Its stone basilica is filled with original art, while a separate chapel holds the memorial tomb of California's peripatetic mission founder Junípero Serra.

Tor House

HISTORIC BUILDING

(☎ 831-624-1813; www.torhouse.org; 26304 Ocean View Ave; adult/child $10/5; ☀ 10am-3pm Fri & Sat) Even if you've never heard of 20th-century poet Robinson Jeffers, a pilgrimage to his handbuilt house with its Celtic-inspired Hawk Tower offers fascinating insights into bohemian Old Carmel. Admission only by guided tour (reservations essential).

Eating & Drinking

Bruno's Market & Deli

DELI, MARKET $

(www.brunosmarket.com; cnr 6th & Junipero Aves; sandwiches $6-9; ☺ 7am-8pm) Pick up a saucy tri-trip beef sandwich and all the other accoutrements for a beach picnic.

Mundaka

SPANISH $$

(☎ 831-624-7400; www.mundakacarmel.com; San Carlos St, btwn Ocean & 7th Aves; small plates $7-20; ☺ 5:30-10pm Sun-Wed, to 11pm Thu-Sat) This courtyard hideaway is a svelte escape from Carmel's stuffy 'newly wed and nearly dead' crowd. Take Spanish tapas plates for a spin and sip housemade sangria while DJs spin or flamenco guitarists play.

Katy's Place

AMERICAN $$

(http://katysplacecarmel.com; Mission St, btwn 5th & 6th Aves; mains $11-21; ☺ 7am-2pm; ♿) In a cutesy cottage, this popular breakfast kitchen cooks 16 different kinds of eggs Benedict, from crab-meat to spicy Cajun, along with equally filling omelettes, fruit-topped pancakes, chef's salads and club sandwiches.

Monterey

Working-class Monterey is all about the sea. It lures visitors with a top-notch aquarium that's a veritable temple to Monterey Bay's underwater universe. A National Marine Sanctuary since 1992, the bay begs for exploration by kayak, boat, scuba or snorkel. Meanwhile, downtown's historic quarter preserves California's Spanish and Mexican roots. Don't waste too much time on touristy Fisherman's Wharf or Cannery Row. The latter was immortalized by novelist John Steinbeck back when it was the hectic, smelly epicenter of the sardine-canning industry, which was Monterey's lifeblood until the 1950s.

Sights

★ Monterey Bay Aquarium

AQUARIUM

(☎ info 831-648-4800, tickets 866-963-9645; www.montereybayaquarium.org; 886 Cannery Row; adult/child $35/22; ☺ 9:30am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 8pm Sat & Sun Jun-Aug, 10am-5pm or 6pm daily Sep-May; ♿) 🍌 Give yourself at least half a day to see sharks and sardines play hide-and-seek in kelp forests, observe the antics of frisky otters, meditate upon psychedelic jellyfish and get touchy-feely with sea cucumbers, bat rays and other tide-pool creatures. Feeding times are the most fun. To avoid the biggest crowds, get tickets in advance and arrive when the doors open.

Monterey State Historic Park

HISTORIC SITE

(☎ audio tour 831-998-9458; www.parks.ca.gov) Downtown, Old Monterey boasts a cluster of lovingly restored 19th-century brick-and-adobe buildings, including novelist Robert Louis Stevenson's one-time boarding house and the Cooper-Molera Adobe, a sea captain's home. Admission to the gardens is free, but individual buildings' opening hours, admission fees and tour schedules vary. Pick up walking-tour maps and check current schedules at the Pacific House (☎ 831-649-7118; www.parks.ca.gov; 20 Custom House Plaza; admission $3, incl walking tour $5; ☺ 10am-4pm Fri-Mon), a multicultural historical museum.

Museum of Monterey

MUSEUM

(☎ 831-372-2608; http://museumofmonterey.org; 5 Custom House Plaza; admission $5; ☺ 10am-7pm Tue-Sat & noon-5pm Sun late May-early Sep, 10am-5pm Wed-Sat & noon-5pm Sun early Sep-late May) Near the waterfront, this voluminous modern exhibition hall illuminates Monterey's helter-skelter past, from its Spanish colonial mission days to the roller-coaster rise and fall of the local sardine industry. Gems include the ship-in-a-bottle collection and historic Fresnel lens from Point Sur Lightstation.

Point Pinos Lighthouse

LIGHTHOUSE

(☎ 831-648-3176; www.pointpinos.org; 90 Asilomar Ave, Pacific Grove; adult/child $2/1; ☺ 1-4pm Thu-Mon) The West Coast's oldest continuously operating lighthouse has been warning ships off this peninsula's hazardous point since 1855. Inside are exhibits on its history and its failures: local shipwrecks.

Monarch Grove Sanctuary Park

PARK

(www.ci.pg.ca.us; off Ridge Rd, Pacific Grove; ☺ dawn-dusk) FREE Between October and February, over 25,000 migratory monarch butterflies cluster in a thicket of eucalyptus trees off Lighthouse Ave.

Activities

Diving and snorkeling reign supreme, although the water is rather frigid, even in summer. Year-round, Fisherman's Wharf is a launchpad for whale-watching trips. Rent a bicycle or walk the paved Monterey Peninsula Recreation Trail, which edges the coast past Cannery Row, ending at Lovers Point in Pacific Grove. The overhyped 17-Mile Drive (www.pebblebeach.com; per car/bicycle $10/free) toll road connects Monterey and Pacific Grove with Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Adventures by the Sea WATER SPORTS, CYCLING (☎ 831-372-1807; <http://adventuresbythesea.com>;
299 Cannery Row; rental per day kayak or bicycle $30, SUP set $50) Stop by for bicycle and water-sports gear rentals, SUP lessons ($60) and kayaking tours (from $60). Also downtown at 210 Alvarado St.

Monterey Bay Kayaks KAYAKING (☎ 800-649-5357; www.montereybaykayaks.com;
693 Del Monte Ave; rental per day kayak or SUP set from $30) Kayak and SUP rentals, paddling lessons (from $50) and tours (from $50) of Monterey Bay and Elkhorn Slough, including sunrise and full-moon trips.

Sanctuary Cruises WHALE-WATCHING (☎ 831-917-1042; www.sanctuarycruises.com; adult/child $50/40) 🍃 Departing from Moss Landing, over 20 miles north of Monterey, this biodiesel boat runs whale-watching tours year-round (reservations essential).

Seven Seas Scuba SCUBA DIVING
(☎ 831-717-4546; <http://sevenseasscuba.com>;
225 Cannery Row; snorkel/scuba rental package per day $35/65) Call ahead for scuba equipment rental and guided bayshore dives ($50 to $100), including at Point Lobos.

🛏 Sleeping

Skip the frills and save a bunch of dough at motels along Munras Ave south of downtown, or on N Fremont St east of Hwy 1. For camping, drive south to Big Sur.

HI Monterey Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎ 831-649-0375; www.montereyhostel.org; 778 Hawthorne St; dm $27-35, r from $99; ☺ check-in 4-10pm; 📶) Four blocks from Cannery Row, this simple, clean hostel is just the ticket for backpackers on a budget (reservations strongly recommended). Take MST bus 1 from downtown's Transit Plaza. All accommodation with shared bath.

Asilomar Conference Grounds LODGE $$
(☎ 888-635-5310, 831-372-8016; www.visitasilomar.com; 800 Asilomar Ave; r incl breakfast $115-175; 📶 📺 📺 📺) This coastal state-park lodge preserves buildings designed by architect Julia Morgan, of Hearst Castle fame. Historic rooms are small and thin-walled, but charming nonetheless. The lodge's fire-side rec room has pool tables and bicycle rentals.

Monterey Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$
(☎ 800-966-6490, 831-375-3184; www.monterey-hotel.com; 406 Alvarado St; r $80-195; 📶) Right downtown, this quaint 1904 edifice harbors small, somewhat noisy renovated rooms sporting reproduction Victorian furniture. No elevator. Parking is $17.

InterContinental-Clement HOTEL $$$
(☎ 866-781-2406, 831-375-4500; www.ictheclementmonterey.com; 750 Cannery Row; r from $220; 📶 📺 📺 📺 📺) Like an upscale version of a millionaire's seaside clapboard house, this resort presides over Cannery Row. For utmost luxury, book an ocean-view suite with a private balcony and fireplace. Parking is $21.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Restaurants, bars and live-music venues line Cannery Row and downtown's Alvarado St.

First Awakenings DINER $$
(www.firstawakenings.net; American Tin Cannery, 125 Oceanview Blvd; mains $6-13; ☺ 7am-2pm Mon-Fri, to 2:30pm Sat & Sun; 📺) Sweet and savory creative breakfasts and lunches, bottomless pitchers of coffee and an outdoor patio make this hideaway cafe in a mall near the aquarium worth finding.

Cannery Row Brewing Co PUB $$
(☎ 831-643-2722; www.canneryrowbrewingcompany.com; 95 Prescott Ave; mains $8-18; ☺ 11:30am-11pm, bar till midnight Sun-Thu, 2am Fri & Sat) Dozens of craft beers from around the world pull raucous crowds into this bar-and-grill, with roaring fire pits on the back deck. Decent burgers, barbecue, salads and garlic fries.

★ Passionfish SEAFOOD $$$
(☎ 831-655-3311; www.passionfish.net; 701 Light-house Ave; mains $16-26; ☺ 5-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Eureka! Finally, a perfect, chef-owned seafood restaurant where the sustainable fish is dock-fresh, every preparation fully flavored and the wine list affordable. Reservations strongly recommended.

East Village Coffee Lounge CAFE
(www.eastvillagecoffeelounge.com; 498 Washington St; ☺ 6am-late Mon-Fri, from 7am Sat & Sun) Sleek coffeehouse with a liquor license and live-music, DJ and open-mike nights.

📍 Information

Monterey Visitors Center (☎ 877-666-8373, 831-657-6400; www.seemonterey.com; 401 Camino El Estero; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun, closes 1hr earlier Nov-Mar) Ask for a free Monterey County Literary & Film Map.

i Getting There & Around

Regional and local Monterey-Salinas Transit (MST; ☎ 888-678-2871; www.mst.org; fares $1.50-3, day pass $10) buses converge on downtown's Transit Plaza (cnr Pearl & Alvarado Sts), including routes to Pacific Grove, Carmel, Big Sur (summer only) and Salinas (for Greyhound bus and Amtrak train connections). In summer, free trolleys shuttle between downtown Monterey and Cannery Row and around Pacific Grove.

Santa Cruz

SoCal beach culture meets NorCal counter-culture in Santa Cruz. The university student population makes this old-school radical town youthful, hip and lefty-political. Some worry that Santa Cruz's weirdness quotient is dropping, but you'll disagree when you witness the freak show (and we say that with love, man) along Pacific Ave downtown.

i Sights & Activities

Most of the action takes place by Main Beach, a mile south of downtown. Locals favor less-trampled beaches off E Cliff Dr.

Santa Cruz Beach Boardwalk

AMUSEMENT PARK

(☎ 831-423-5590; www.beachboardwalk.com; 400 Beach St; rides $3-6, all-day pass $32; ☀ daily late May-early Sep, off-season hours vary; ♿) A short walk from the municipal wharf, this slice of Americana is the West Coast's oldest beachfront amusement park, boasting the 1924 Giant Dipper roller coaster and 1911 Looff carousel. Show up in summer for free concerts and outdoor movies.

Santa Cruz State Parks

PARK

(www.thatsmypark.org; per car $8-10; ☀ sunrise-sunset) Streamside trails through coastal redwood forests await at Henry Cowell Redwoods and Big Basin Redwoods State Parks, off Hwy 9 north of town in the Santa Cruz Mountains, and the Forest of Nisene Marks State Park, off Hwy 1 south near Aptos. For mountain biking, explore Wilder Ranch State Park, off Hwy 1 northbound.

Santa Cruz Surfing Museum

MUSEUM

(www.santacruzsurfingmuseum.org; 701 W Cliff Dr; admission by donation; ☀ 10am-5pm Wed-Mon Jul 4-early Sep, noon-4pm Thu-Mon early Sep-Jul 3) About a mile southwest of the wharf, the old lighthouse is packed with memorabilia, including vintage redwood boards. It overlooks experts-only Steamers Lane and beginners' Cowells, both popular surf breaks.

Natural Bridges State Beach

BEACH

(www.parks.ca.gov; 2531 W Cliff Dr; per car $10; ☀ 8am-sunset) This pretty beach bookends a scenic coastal cycling path about 3 miles southwest of the wharf. There are tide pools to explore and leafy trees where monarch butterflies roost from October to February.

Seymour Marine Discovery Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 831-459-3800; http://seymourcenter.ucsc.edu; end of Delaware Ave; adult/child $6/4; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from noon Sun; ♿) University-run Long Marine Lab has cool interactive science exhibits for kids, including touch tanks. Look for the world's largest blue-whale skeleton outside.

Sanctuary Exploration Center

MUSEUM

(☎ 831-421-9993; http://montereybay.noaa.gov; 35 Pacific St; ☀ 10am-5pm Wed-Sun; ♿) FREE Virtually journey into the kelp forests and submarine canyons of Monterey Bay National Marine Sanctuary at this educational mini museum down by the wharf.

Venture Quest

KAYAKING

(☎ 831-425-8445, 831-427-2267; www.kayaksantacruz.com; Municipal Wharf; kayak rentals from $30) Experience the craggy coastline on sea-cave and wildlife-watching kayak tours (adult/child from $60/35), including moonlight paddles and excursions to Elkhorn Slough.

Roaring Camp Railroads

TRAIN RIDES

(☎ 831-335-4484; www.roaringcamp.com; adult/child from $26/19; ♿) For family fun, hop aboard a narrow-gauge steam train up into the redwoods or a standard-gauge train leaving from the beach boardwalk.

O'Neill Surf Shop

SURFING

(☎ 831-475-4151; www.oneill.com; 1115 41st Ave; wetsuit/surfboard rental $10/20; ☀ 9am-8pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun) Head east to Capitola to this internationally renowned surfboard maker's mothership store. There's a smaller downtown branch at 110 Cooper St.

Santa Cruz Surf School

SURFING

(☎ 831-426-7072; www.santacruzsurfschool.com; 131 Center St; group/private lesson from $90/120; ♿) Friendly folks can teach you how to get out there on the waves (surfboard and wetsuit rental included with lessons).

Sleeping

Motels border Ocean St near downtown, Mission St by the university campus and Hwy 1 heading south. Make reservations for state-park campgrounds (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-65; 🏠 🚰) at beaches off Hwy 1 and in forests off Hwy 9.

HI Santa Cruz Hostel

HOSTEL $$

(☎ 831-423-8304; www.hi-santacruz.org; 321 Main St; dm $26-29, r $60-110; ☺ check-in 5pm-10pm; 📞) Budget overnights dig this cute hostel at the Carmelita Cottages in a flowery garden setting, two blocks from the beach. All accommodations come with shared bath. Make reservations. Parking is $2.

Adobe on Green B&B

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 831-469-9866; www.adobeongreen.com; 103 Green St; r incl breakfast $149-219; 📞) ☺ Peace and quiet are the mantras here. Your hosts are practically invisible, but their thoughtful touches are everywhere: from boutique amenities inside airy solar-powered rooms to breakfast spreads from organic gardens.

Pelican Point Inn

INN $$$

(☎ 831-475-3381; www.pelicanpointinn-santacruz.com; 21345 E Cliff Dr; ste $109-199; 📞 🏠 🚰) Ideal for families, these roomy apartment-style lodgings near kid-friendly Twin Lakes Beach are equipped with everything you'll need for a lazy beach vacation, including kitchenettes. Expect some noise.

Dream Inn

HOTEL $$$

(☎ 866-774-7735, 831-426-4330; www.dreaminnsantacruz.com; 175 W Cliff Dr; r $200-380; 📞 📞 📞) Overlooking the wharf from its hillside perch, this retro-chic boutique hotel is as stylish as Santa Cruz gets. Rooms have all mod cons, while the beach is just steps away. Hit happy hour at the bar inside ocean-view Aquarius Restaurant. Parking is $24.

Eating

Downtown is chockablock with just-OK cafes. Cruise Mission St near the university campus and 41st Ave in neighboring Capitola for cheaper takeout and international eats.

Picnic Basket

DELI, BAKERY $

(http://thepicnicbasketsc.com; 125 Beach St; items $3-8; ☺ 7am-9pm, shorter hours off-season; 🏠) Locavores' kitchen across the street from the beach boardwalk makes creative sandwiches, soups, fruit sodas and baked goodies from scratch.

Penny Ice Creamery

DESSERT $

(http://thepennyicecreamery.com; 913 Cedar St; items $2-4; ☺ noon-11pm) ☺ Artisanal ice-cream shop dreams up zany flavors using local, often organic ingredients like avocado, Meyer lemon and wildflower honey.

Hula's Island Grill

FUSION $$$

(☎ 831-426-4852; www.hulastiki.com; 221 Cathart St; dinner mains $11-20; ☺ 11:30am-9:30pm Sun & Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, 4:30pm-9:30pm Mon) Sip a tropical cocktail at the tiki bar inside this faux lil' grass shack with glowing lanterns. Fish tacos, macadamia-nut-encrusted ahi (tuna) and luau pork plates will sate big kahunas.

Laili

AFGHAN $$$

(☎ 831-423-4545; www.lailirestaurant.com; 101 Cooper St; dinner mains $13-26; ☺ 11:30am-3pm & 5-10pm) Taste the flavors of the Silk Road at this chic, high-ceilinged dining room: pomegranate eggplant, lamb kabobs, lentil-yogurt soup and savory flatbreads are all delish.

Soif

BISTRO $$$

(☎ 831-423-2020; www.soifwine.com; 105 Walnut Ave; small plates $5-17, mains $19-26; ☺ 5-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Downtown wine shop caters to bon vivants with a heady selection of 45 international wines by the glass paired with a sophisticated, seasonally driven Euro-Cal menu.

Drinking & Entertainment

Downtown is jam-packed with bars, live-music lounges, low-key nightclubs and coffeehouses. Check the free Santa Cruz Weekly (www.santacruzweekly.com) tabloid for more venues and current events.

Santa Cruz Mountain Brewing

BREWERY

(www.scmbrew.com; 402 Ingalls St; ☺ noon-10pm) Bold, organic brews are poured west of downtown off Mission St, squeezed between Santa Cruz Mountains winery tasting rooms.

Caffe Pergolesi

CAFE

(www.theperg.com; 418 Cedar St; ☺ 7am-11pm; 📞) On a leafy sidewalk verandah, discuss art and conspiracy theories over strong coffee, organic juices or beer.

Surf City Billiards & Café

BAR

(http://surfcitybilliardscafe.com; 931 Pacific Ave; ☺ 5pm-midnight Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat) For shooting stick, dartboards, big-screen TVs and darn good pub grub.

Catalyst

(☎ 831-423-1338; www.catalystclub.com; 1011 Pacific Ave) Over the years, this landmark concert venue downtown has put cutting-edge national acts up on stage, from Nirvana to the Cold War Kids.

LIVE MUSIC

i Information

KPIG 107.5 FM Plays the classic Santa Cruz soundtrack – think Bob Marley, Janis Joplin and Willie Nelson.

Santa Cruz Visitor Center (☎ 800-833-3494, 831-425-1234; www.santacruzca.org; 303 Water St; ☀ 9am-4pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat & Sun; 🅓)

i Getting There & Away

Regional Santa Cruz Metro (☎ 831-425-8600; www.scmttd.com; fare/day pass $2/6) buses converge on downtown's Metro Center (920 Pacific Ave). From there, Greyhound operates a few daily buses to San Francisco ($16, three hours), San Luis Obispo ($42, four hours), Santa Barbara ($53, six hours) and LA ($59, nine hours). Daily during summer and on weekends in fall, a trolley (25¢) shuttles between downtown and the wharf.

Santa Cruz to San Francisco

Far more scenic than any freeway, this curvaceous 70-mile stretch of coastal Hwy 1 is bordered by wild beaches, organic farm stands and sea-salted villages, all scattered like loose diamonds in the rough.

About 20 miles northwest of Santa Cruz, Año Nuevo State Park (☎ tour reservations 800-444-4445; www.parks.ca.gov; entry per car $10, tour per person $7; ☀ 8:30am-5pm, last entry 3:30pm Apr-Aug, to 4pm, last entry 3pm Sep-Nov, tours only mid-Dec–Mar) is home base for the world's largest mainland breeding colony of northern elephant seals. Call ahead to reserve a 2½-hour, 3-mile guided walking tour, given during the cacophonous winter birthing and mating season.

On a quiet windswept coastal perch further north, green-business-certified HI Pigeon Point Lighthouse Hostel (☎ 650-879-0633; www.norcalhostels.org/pigeon; 210 Pigeon Point Rd; dm $26-30, r $75-180, all with shared bath; ☀ check-in 3:30pm-10:30pm; 📞 📺 📶 📶) inhabits the historic lightkeepers' quarters; it's popular, so book ahead. For more creature comforts, sleep in a tent bungalow or cozy fireplace cabin at Costanoa (☎ 877-262-7848, 650-879-1100; www.costanoa.com; 2001 Rossi Rd; tent/cabin with shared bath from $89/179; 📞 📶).

Five miles north of Pigeon Point, Pescadero State Beach (www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8; ☀ 8am-sunset) attracts beachcombers and birders to its marshy nature preserve nearby. For picnic supplies, head a few miles inland to Pescadero village and the bakery-deli at Arcangeli Grocery Co (www.norms-market.com; 287 Stage Rd; ☀ 10am-6pm). Nearby family-owned Harley Farms Cheese Shop (☎ 650-879-0480; www.harleyfarms.com; 250 North St; ☀ 10am-5pm Thu-Sun; 📶) offers goat-dairy farm tours by reservation.

Another 15 miles north, busy Half Moon Bay is bordered by 4-mile-long Half Moon Bay State Beach (www.parks.ca.gov; per car $10; 📶) and scenic campsites (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-50). Get out on the water with Half Moon Bay Kayak (☎ 650-773-6101; www.hmbkayak.com; Pillar Point Harbor; kayak rentals/tours from $25/75). For oceanfront luxury, the Inn at Mavericks (☎ 650-728-1572; www.innatmavericks.com; 364 Princeton Ave; r from $209; 📞 📶) has spacious, romantic roosts. It overlooks Pillar Point Harbor, which has a decent brewpub with a sunset-view patio. In Half Moon Bay's quaint downtown, homey cafes, restaurants and eclectic shops line Main St, just inland from Hwy 1. Flying Fish Grill (☎ 650-712-1125; www.flyingfishgrill.net; 211 San Mateo Rd; dishes $5-17; ☀ 11am-8:30pm Wed-Mon; 📶) is the tastiest seafood shack around.

North of the harbor off Hwy 1, follow the signs to Moss Beach Distillery (www.mossbeachdistillery.com; 140 Beach Way; ☀ noon-8:30pm Sun-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat), a historic bootleggers' joint with a dog-friendly ocean-view deck for sunset drinks. Just north, Fitzgerald Marine Reserve (www.fitzgeraldreserve.org; end of California Ave; ☀ 8am-sunset; 📶) FREE protects tide pools teeming with colorful sea life; time your visit for low tide. Another mile north, ecofriendly HI Point Montara Lighthouse Hostel (☎ 650-728-7177; www.norcalhostels.org/montara; 16th St & Hwy 1; dm $27-30, r $74-110, all with shared bath; ☀ check-in 3:30pm-10:30pm; 📞 📺 📶 📶) fronts a small private beach (reservations essential). From there, it's less than 20 miles to San Francisco via Pacifica and the Devil's Slide Tunnels.

SAN FRANCISCO & THE BAY AREA

San Francisco

If you've ever wondered where the envelope goes when it's pushed, here's your answer. Psychedelic drugs, newfangled technology, gay liberation, green ventures, free speech and culinary experimentation all became mainstream long ago in San Francisco. After 160 years of booms and busts, losing your shirt has become a favorite local pastime at the clothing-optional Bay to Breakers race, Pride Parade and hot Sundays on Baker Beach. So long, inhibitions; hello, San Francisco.

History

Before gold changed everything, San Francisco was a hapless Spanish mission built by conscripts from the Native American Ohlone and Miwok communities. Without immunity to European diseases, some 5000 of these native builders fell sick and died; they are buried beside the aptly named 18th-century Mission Dolores, 'Mission of Sorrows'.

In 1849 the gold rush turned a 800-person village into a port city of 100,000 prospectors, con artists, prostitutes and honest folk. Panic struck when Australian gold flooded the market in 1854. Frustrated miners rioted against San Francisco's Chinese community, who from 1877 to 1943 were restricted to living and working in Chinatown by anti-

Chinese laws. Chinese laborers were left with few options in the 1860s to '90s besides dangerous work building railroads for San Francisco's robber barons, who dynamited, mined and clear-cut across the Golden West, and built grand Nob Hill mansions.

The city's lofty ambitions came crashing down in 1906, when earthquake and fire reduced the city to rubble. San Franciscans rebuilt an astounding 15 buildings per day. By 1915, the rebuilt city hosted the Panama-Pacific International Expo in grand style.

During WWII, soldiers accused of homosexuality and insubordination were dismissed in San Francisco, cementing the city's counterculture reputation. The Summer of Love brought free food, love and music to the hippie Haight, and enterprising gay activists founded an out-and-proud community in the Castro.

San Francisco's unconventional thinking spawned the web in the mid-1990s, and is behind today's boom in social media, mobile apps and biotech. Congratulations: you're just in time for San Francisco's next wild ride.

Sights

Let San Francisco's 43 hills and more than 80 arts venues stretch your legs and your imagination, and deliver breathtaking views. Downtown sights are within walking distance of Market St, but keep your city smarts and wits about you, especially around South of Market (SoMa) and the Tenderloin (5th to 9th Sts).

SAN FRANCISCO IN...

One Day

Since the Gold Rush, San Francisco adventures have started in Chinatown, where you can still find hidden fortunes – in cookies, that is. Beat it to City Lights Bookstore to revel in Beat poetry, then pass Transamerica Pyramid en route to dumplings at City View. Hit downtown galleries, then head to the Asian Art Museum, where art transports you across centuries and oceans within an hour. Take a spooky night tour of Alcatraz, then make your escape from the island prison in time for dinner at the Ferry Building before you hit the dance floor in SoMa clubs.

Two Days

Start your day amid mural-covered garage doors lining Balmy Alley, then window-shop to 826 Valencia for pirate supplies and ichthyoid antics in the Fish Theater. Break for burritos, then hoof it to the Haight for flashbacks at vintage boutiques and the Summer of Love site: Golden Gate Park. Glimpse Golden Gate Bridge views atop MH de Young Museum, take a walk on the wild side inside California Academy of Sciences, then dig into organic Cal-Moroccan feasts at Aziza.

San Francisco & the Bay Area

SoMa

Cartoon Art Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p968; ☎ 415-227-8666; www.cartoonart.org; 655 Mission St; adult/student $7/5; ☀ 11am-5pm Tue-Sun; 📍 Montgomery, 📍 Montgomery) Founded on a grant from Bay Area cartoon legend Charles M Schultz of Peanuts fame, this bold museum covers comics from '70s R Crumb drawings to political cartoons from the Economist. At lectures and openings, mingle with comic legends, Pixar studio heads, and obsessive collectors. First Tuesday of the month is 'pay what you wish' entry.

Contemporary Jewish Museum

MUSEUM

(Map p968; ☎ 415-344-8800; www.thebcm.org; 736 Mission St; adult/child $10/free, after 5pm Thu $5; ☀ 11am-5pm Fri-Tue, 1-8pm Thur; 📍 Montgomery, 📍 Montgomery) That upended brushed-steel box isn't a sculpture, but a gallery for the Contemporary Jewish Museum. Exhibits are thoughtfully curated and compelling, investigating ideas and ideals through artists as diverse as Andy Warhol, Gertrude Stein and Harry Houdini.

Museum of the African Diaspora

MUSEUM

(MoAD; Map p968; ☎ 415-358-7200; www.moadsf.org; 685 Mission St; adult/student/child $10/5/free; ☀ 11am-6pm Wed-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; 📍 Montgomery, 📍 Montgomery) Exploring four main themes - origins, movement, adaptation and transformation - MoAD tells the epic story of diaspora, including a moving video of slave narratives, told by Maya Angelou.

Union Square

Bordered by high-end department stores, Union Sq (at the intersection of Geary, Powell, Post & Stockton Sts) was named for pro-Union Civil War rallies held here 150 years ago. People-watch with espresso from Emporio Rulli, and score half-price theater tickets at TIX Bay Area's booth.

Greater San Francisco

0 5 km
0 2.5 miles

Powell St Cable Car Turnaround LANDMARK
(Map p968; cnr Powell & Market Sts; M Powell, B Powell) Cable cars can't go backwards, so cable-car operators turn them by hand on a revolving platform at the terminus of Powell St lines. Powell-Mason cars are quickest to the Wharf, but Powell-Hyde cars traverse more terrain and hills.

Civic Center

Asian Art Museum MUSEUM
(Map p968; ☎ 415-581-3500; www.asianart.org; 200 Larkin St; adult/student/child $12/8/free, 1st Sun of month free; ☀ 10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 9pm Thu Feb-Sep; M Civic Center, B Civic Center) Imaginations race from ancient Persian miniatures to cutting-edge Japanese fashion through three floors spanning 6000 years of Asian arts. Besides the largest collection outside Asia – 18,000 works – the museum offers excellent programs, from shadow-puppet shows to mixers with cross-cultural DJ mash-ups.

City Hall HISTORICAL BUILDING
(Map p968; ☎ art exhibit info 415-554-6080, tour info 415-554-6023; www.ci.sf.ca.us/cityhall; 400 Van Ness Ave; ☀ 8am-8pm Mon-Fri, tours 10am, noon & 2pm; M Civic Center, B Civic Center) FREE That mighty beaux-arts dome covers San Francisco's grandest ambitions and swinging tendencies. Designed in 1915 to outclass Paris and outsize Washington, DC's capitol dome, San Francisco's Rotunda remained unsteady until its retrofit after the city's 1989 earthquake, which enabled the dome to swing on its base.

Financial District

Suits abound, but the 'FiDi' has redeeming quirks such as a redwood grove sprouted from whaling ships below rocket-shaped Transamerica Pyramid (Map p968; www.thepiramidcenter.com; 600 Montgomery St; ☀ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri; M Embarcadero, B Embarcadero). Eccentric art collectors descend from hilltop mansions for First Thursday gallery openings at 14 Geary, 49 Geary and 77 Geary, which are all run by the San Francisco Art Dealers Association (SFADA; www.sfada.com; ☀ gallery openings 10:30am-5:30pm Tue-Fri, 11am-5pm Sat).

Ferry Building LANDMARK
(Map p968; ☎ 415-983-8000; www.ferrybuilding-marketplace.com; Market St & the Embarcadero; ☀ 10am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6pm Sat, 11am-5pm Sun; M 2, 6, 9, 14, 21, 31, M F, J, K, L, M, N, T) Hedonism thrives at this transit hub turned gourmet emporium, where foodies happily miss their ferries while slurping local oysters and bubbly. Star chefs are spotted at the Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday farmers market (p982) year-round.

Chinatown

Since 1848 this community has survived riots, earthquakes, bootlegging gangsters and politicians' attempts to relocate it down the coast.

Chinese Historical Society of America MUSEUM
(CHSA; Map p968; ☎ 415-391-1188; www.chsa.org; 965 Clay St; adult/child $5/2, 1st Thu of month free; ☀ noon-5pm Tue-Fri, 11am-4pm Sat; M 1, 30, 45, B California St) Picture what it was like to be

Greater San Francisco

Top Sights

- 1 Baker Beach ..... C3
- 2 Golden Gate Bridge ..... C3

Sights

- 3 Alcatraz ..... C2
- 4 Bay Area Discovery Museum ..... C2
- 5 Bay Model Visitor Center ..... B2
- 6 California Palace of the Legion of Honor ..... C3
- 7 Golden Gate National Recreation Area ..... B2
- 8 Lands End ..... B3
- 9 Legion of Honor ..... B3
- 10 Marine Mammal Center ..... B2
- 11 Mt Tamalpais State Park ..... A1
- 12 Muir Woods ..... A1

- 13 Muir Woods National Monument ..... A1
- 14 Ocean Beach ..... B3
- 15 Point Bonita Lighthouse ..... B3
- 16 Sutro Baths ..... B3

Sleeping

- 17 Cavallo Point ..... C2
- 18 HI Marin Headlands Hostel ..... B2
- 19 Pantoll Campground ..... A1
- 20 West Point Inn ..... A1

Eating

- 21 Aziza ..... C3
- 22 Outerlands ..... B4

Entertainment

- 23 San Francisco 49ers ..... D4

Downtown San Francisco

0 0.5 miles
0 1 km

Downtown San Francisco

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Exploratorium .....E3
2 Musée Mécanique.....C2

📍 Sights

- 3 Aquarium of the Bay.....D2
4 Asian Art Museum.....C7
5 Beat Museum.....D4
6 Cartoon Art Museum.....E6
7 Children's Creativity Museum.....E6
8 Chinatown Gate.....D5
9 Chinese Historical Society of America.....D4
10 City Hall.....C7
11 Coit Tower.....D3
12 Contemporary Jewish Museum.....E6
13 Ferry Building.....F4
14 Grace Cathedral.....C5
15 Hyde Street Pier Historic Ships.....B1
16 Jack Kerouac Alley.....D4
17 Lombard St.....C3
18 Maritime Museum.....B2
19 Museum of the African Diaspora.....E6
20 Powell St Cable Car Turnaround.....D6
21 Saints Peter & Paul Church.....D3
22 Sea Lions at Pier 39.....D1
23 Transamerica Pyramid & Redwood Park.....E4
24 USS Pampanito.....C1

- 25 Waverly Place.....D4

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 26 Blazing Saddles.....B2
27 Fire Engine Tours.....C2
28 Kabuki Springs & Spa.....A6

📍 Sleeping

- 29 Argonaut Hotel.....B2
30 Golden Gate Hotel.....D5
31 HI San Francisco Fisherman's Wharf.....A2
32 Hotel Abri.....D6
33 Hotel Bohème.....D3
34 Hotel des Arts.....E5
35 Hotel Monaco.....D6
36 Hotel Rex.....D5
37 Hotel Triton.....E5
38 Hotel Vitale.....F4
39 Hotel Zetta.....D6
40 Orchard Garden Hotel.....E5
41 Pacific Tradewinds Hostel.....E4
42 San Remo Hotel.....C2
43 Tuscan Inn.....C2

📍 Eating

- 44 Benkyodo.....A6
45 Benu.....E6
46 Brenda's French Soul Food.....C6

Chinese in America during the gold rush, the transcontinental railroad construction or San Francisco's Beat heyday in this 1932 landmark, built as Chinatown's YWCA by Julia Morgan (also chief architect of Hearst Castle).

Waverly Place

STREET
(Map p968; ☑ 30, ☑ California St, Powell-Mason) At Waverly Place's flag-festooned historic temples, services have been held since 1852 – even in 1906, while altars were smoldering after San Francisco's earthquake and fire. Due to 19th-century race-based restrictions, temples were built atop barber shops, laundries and restaurants lining Waverly Place.

📍 North Beach

Beat Museum

MUSEUM
(Map p968; ☎ 1-800-537-6822; www.kerouac.com; 540 Broadway; admission adult/student $8/5; ☀ 10am-7pm Tue-Sun; 📍; ☑ 10, 12, 30, 41, 45, ☑ Powell-Hyde, Powell-Mason) The Beat goes on at this obsessive collection of San Francisco literary-scene ephemera c 1950–69. The banned edition of Allen Ginsberg's Howl is the ultimate free-speech trophy, but those Jack Kerouac bobble-head dolls are real head-shakers.

Jack Kerouac Alley

STREET
(Map p968; btwn Grant & Columbus Aves; ☑ 1, 10, 12, 30, 45, ☑ Powell-Hyde, Powell-Mason) 'The air was soft, the stars so fine, the promise of every cobbled alley so great...' This ode by On the Road author Jack Kerouac is embedded in his namesake alley, a fittingly poetic and slightly seedy shortcut between Chinatown bars and North Beach via City Lights.

📍 Russian Hill & Nob Hill

Grace Cathedral

CHURCH
(Map p968; ☎ 415-749-6300; www.gracecathedral.org; 1100 California St; suggested donation adult/child $3/2, Sun services free; ☀ 8am-6pm, services 8:30am & 11am Sun; ☑ 1, ☑ California St) This Episcopal church has been rebuilt three times since the gold rush, and the current concrete Gothic cathedral features stained-glass windows honoring human endeavor, including a depiction of Albert Einstein uplifted in swirling nuclear particles.

47	Cinecittà.....	D3
48	City View.....	E4
49	Coi.....	E4
50	Cotogna.....	E4
51	Gary Danko.....	B2
	Gott's Roadside.....	(see 13)
52	Greens.....	A2
	Hog Island Oyster Company.....	(see 13)
53	In-N-Out Burger.....	C2
54	Jardinière.....	B7
55	Liguria Bakery.....	D3
	Mijita.....	(see 13)
56	Off the Grid.....	A2
57	Rich Table.....	B8
58	Ristorante Ideale.....	D3
59	Rosamunde Sausage Grill.....	A8
60	Saigon Sandwich Shop.....	C6
	Slanted Door.....	(see 13)
61	State Bird Provisions.....	A6
62	Sweet Woodruff.....	C5
63	Z & Y.....	D4
64	Zero Zero.....	E6

☕ Drinking & Nightlife

65	Aunt Charlie's.....	D6
66	Bar Agricole.....	C8
67	Comstock Saloon.....	D4
68	EndUp.....	E7
69	Smuggler's Cove.....	B7

70	Specs Museum Cafe.....	D4
71	Stud.....	D8
72	Toronado.....	A8

🎭 Entertainment

73	American Conservatory Theater.....	D6
74	AsiaSF.....	D8
75	Beach Blanket Babylon.....	D3
76	Cat Club.....	D8
77	Davies Symphony Hall.....	B7
78	DNA Lounge.....	D8
79	Fillmore Auditorium.....	A6
80	Great American Music Hall.....	C6
81	Honey Soundsystem.....	C8
82	Mezzanine.....	D6
83	San Francisco Ballet.....	B7
84	San Francisco Giants.....	G7
	San Francisco Opera.....	(see 83)
85	SFJAZZ Center.....	C7
86	Slim's.....	C8
87	Sundance Kabuki Cinema.....	A6
88	TIX Bay Area.....	D5
89	Yoshi's.....	A6

🛍 Shopping

90	City Lights.....	D4
91	Ferry Plaza Farmers Market.....	F4
92	New People.....	A6

Lombard St

STREET

(Map p968; 900 block of Lombard St; 🚶 Powell-Hyde) You've probably already seen Lombard Street's flower-lined switchbacks, made famous by Hitchcock's Vertigo and notorious in Tony Hawk's Pro Skater video game. In the 1920s, Lombard St's natural 27% grade was too steep for automobiles to ascend – so local property owners added eight turns to this redbrick street.

🐟 Fisherman's Wharf

★ Exploratorium

MUSEUM

(Map p968; ☎415-528-4444; www.exploratorium.edu; Pier 15; adult/child $25/19, Thu evening $15; ☀10am-5pm Tue-Sun, to 10pm Wed, adults over-18yr only Thu 6pm-10pm; 🚶; 🅓🅕) 🍷 Hear salt sing, stimulate your appetite with color, and find out what cows see, through hands-on exhibits by MacArthur Genius grant-winners. Manhattan Project nuclear physicist Frank Oppenheimer founded the Exploratorium in 1969 to explore science and human perception, and you might experience '60s flashbacks as you grope through the Tactile Dome.

★ Musée Mécanique

AMUSEMENT PARK

(Map p968; www.museumechanique.org; Pier 45, Shed A; ☀10am-7pm; 🚶; 🅓🅕 47, 🚶 Powell-Mason, Powell-Hyde, 🅓🅕) Where else can you guillotine a man for a quarter? Here, creepy 19th-century arcade games such as macabre French Execution compete for your spare change with the diabolical Ms Pac-Man.

Maritime Museum

MUSEUM

(Aquatic Park Bathhouse; Map p968; www.maritime.org; 900 Beach St; ☀10am-4pm; 🚶; 🅓🅕 19, 30, 47, 🚶 Powell-Hyde) FREE A monumental hint to sailors needing a scrub, the ship-shape 1939 streamline moderne Aquatic Park Bathhouse is decked out with a playful seal sculpture by Beniamino Bufano, Hilaire Hiler's underwater murals, Richard Ayer's reliefs, and veranda mosaics and a carved slate doorway by pioneering African American artist Sargent Johnson.

USS Pampanito

HISTORIC SITE

(Map p968; ☎415-775-1943; www.maritime.org/pampanome.htm; Pier 45; adult/child $12/6; ☀9am-8pm Thu-Tue, to 6pm Wed; 🚶; 🅓🅕 19, 30, 47, 🚶 Powell-Hyde, 🅓🅕) Explore a restored WWII submarine that survived six tours of duty, while you listen to

City Walk Chinatown to the Waterfront

START CHINATOWN'S DRAGON GATE
FINISH FERRY BUILDING
LENGTH 1.8 MILES; 4½ HOURS

Discover revolutionary plots, find hidden fortunes, see controversial art and go gourmet with Gandhi. Starting at 1 Chinatown's Dragon Gate, head past Grant St's gilded dragon lamps to 2 Old St Mary's Square, site of a brothel leveled in the 1906 fire. Today, renegade skateboarders turn different kinds of tricks under the watchful eye of Beniamino Bufano's 1929 statue of Chinese revolutionary Sun Yat-Sen. Pass flag-festooned temple balconies along 3 Waverly Place, then head to the 4 Chinese Historical Society of America (p967) museum, in the majestic Chinatown YWCA built by Julia Morgan.

Enter 5 Spofford Alley, where mahjong tiles click, Chinese orchestras play and beauticians gossip over blow-dryers – hard to believe this is where Prohibition bootleggers fought turf wars, and Sun Yat-Sen plotted the 1911 overthrow of China's last dynasty at No

36. Once packed with brothels, 6 Ross Alley turned movie star as a location for Karate Kid II and Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom. At No 56, make a fortune and watch it get folded into a warm cookie at 7 Golden Gate Fortune Cookie Factory.

Back on Grant, take a shortcut through 8 Jack Kerouac Alley (p970), where the binge-prone author often wound up On the Road. Stop by 9 City Lights (p989) bookstore on Columbus Ave, champion of Beat poetry and free speech, and savor free verse with espresso at 10 Caffe Trieste at 601 Vallejo St, under the Sicilian mural where Francis Ford Coppola wrote The Godfather script.

Climb to 11 Coit Tower (p973) for viewing-platform panoramas and 1930s lobby murals. Take 12 Filbert St Steps downhill past wild parrots and hidden cottages to 13 Levi's Plaza, named for the denim inventor. Head right on Embarcadero to the 14 Ferry Building (p967) for lunch Bayside, with a gaunt bronze Gandhi peering over your shoulder.

sub-mariners' tales of stealth mode and sudden attacks in a riveting audio tour ($2) that makes surfacing afterwards a relief.

Hyde Street Pier Historic Ships HISTORIC SITE
(Map p968; ☎415-447-5000; www.nps.gov/safr; 499 Jefferson St, at Hyde St; adult/child $5/free; ☀9am-5pm; M-F, ☑Powell-Hyde) Tour 19th-century ships moored here as part of the Maritime National Historical Park, including triple-masted 1886 Balclutha and 1890 steamboat Eureka; summer sailing trips are available aboard elegant 1891 schooner Alma (☀Jun-Nov; adult/child $40/20).

Sea Lions at Pier 39 OUTDOORS
(Map p968; ☎981-1280; www.pier39.com; Beach St & the Embarcadero, Pier 39; ☀Jan-Jul; ☑15, 37, 49, F) Since California law requires boats to make way for marine mammals, yacht owners relinquish valuable slips to hundreds of sea lions who 'haul out' onto the docks from January to July, and whenever else they feel like sunbathing.

🔍 The Marina & Presidio

★Crissy Field PARK
(www.crissyfield.org; 1199 East Beach; P; ☑30, PresidioGo Shuttle) The Presidio's army airstrip has been stripped of asphalt and re-invented as a haven for coastal birds, kite fliers and windsurfers enjoying sweeping views of Golden Gate Bridge.

★Baker Beach BEACH
(Map p966; ☀sunrise-sunset; P; ☑29, PresidioGo Shuttle) Unswimmable waters but unbeatable views of the Golden Gate make this former Army beachhead San Francisco's tanning location of choice, especially the clothing-optional north end – at least until the afternoon fog rolls in.

🔍 The Mission

★Balmy Alley STREET ART
(☎415-285-2287; www.precitaeyes.org; btwn 24th & 25th Sts; ☑10, 12, 27, 33, 48, ☑24th St Mission) Inspired by Diego Rivera's 1930s San Francisco murals and outraged by US foreign policy in Central America, Mission artists set out in the 1970s to transform the political landscape, one mural-covered garage door at a time.

Dolores Park PARK
(www.doloresparkworks.org; Dolores St, btwn 18th & 20th Sts; P; ☑14, 33, 49, ☑16th St Mission, M-J) Semiprofessional tanning, taco picnics and a Hunky Jesus Contest every Easter: welcome to San Francisco's sunny side. Dolores Park has something for everyone, from tennis and political protests to the Mayan pyramid playground.

★826 Valencia CULTURAL SITE
(☎415-642-5905; www.826valencia.org; 826 Valencia St; ☀noon-6pm; P; ☑14, 33, 49, ☑16th St Mission, M-J) The eccentric Pirate Supply Store sells eye patches, scoops from an actual tub o' lard, and McSweeney's literary magazines to support a teen-writing nonprofit organization and the Fish Theater. It's a shop, but really it's much more than that. There's even a vat of sand where kids can rummage for buried pirates' booty.

Mission Dolores CHURCH
(Misión San Francisco de Asís; ☎415-621-8203; www.missiondolores.org; 3321 16th St; adult/child $5/3; ☀9am-4pm Nov-Apr, to 4:30pm May-Oct; ☑22, 33, ☑16th St Mission, M-J) The city's oldest building and its namesake, whitewashed adobe Misión San Francisco de Asís was founded in 1776 and rebuilt in 1782 with conscripted Ohlone and Miwok labor – note the ceiling patterned after native baskets.

🔍 The Castro

GLBT History Museum MUSEUM
(☎415-777-5455; www.glbthistory.org/museum; 4127 18th St; admission $5; ☀11am-7pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun; M-Castro) America's first gay-history museum showcases Harvey Milk's

COIT TOWER

Adding an exclamation mark to San Francisco's landscape, Coit Tower (Map p968; ☎415-362-0808; http://sfrecpark.org/destination/telegraph-hill-pioneer-park/coit-tower; Telegraph Hill Blvd; elevator entry (nonresident) adult/child $7/5; ☀10am-5:30pm Mar-Sep, 9am-4:30pm Oct-Feb; ☑39) offers views worth shouting about – especially after you climb the giddy, steep Filbert St steps to get here. Check out 360-degree views of downtown from the viewing platform, and wrap-around 1930s lobby murals glorifying San Francisco workers – once denounced as communist but now a beloved landmark. To glimpse murals hidden inside Coit Tower's stairwell, take free docent-led tours at 11am Saturdays.

SAN FRANCISCO NEIGHBORHOODS IN A NUTSHELL

North Beach Poetry and parrots, sidewalk cafes, Italian restaurants.

Fisherman's Wharf Sea-lion antics, vintage video games, and getaways to and from Alcatraz.

Downtown & the Financial District Glossy flagship stores and top-chef bistros, gallery openings and clearance sales.

Chinatown Pagoda roofs, dim sum, and fortunes made and lost in historic alleyways.

Hayes Valley & Civic Center Grand buildings and great performances, foodie finds and local designs.

Tenderloin Theater district, Skid Row, dive bars and noodle shops.

SoMa Where high technology meets higher art, and everyone gets down and dirty on the dance floor.

Mission A book in one hand, a burrito in the other, murals all around.

Castro Out and proud with samba whistles, rainbow flags and policy platforms.

Haight Sixties flashbacks, alternative fashion, free music and pricey skateboards.

Japantown & the Fillmore Sushi, shopping and rock at the Fillmore.

Marina & the Presidio Boutiques, organic dining, nature and nudity at a former army base.

Golden Gate Park & Around San Francisco's mile-wide wild streak, surrounded by gourmet surfer hangouts.

campaign literature, matchbooks from long-gone bathhouses, audiovisual interviews with Gore Vidal and pages of the 1950s penal code banning homosexuality.

🕒 The Haight

Alamo Square Park

(Hayes & Scott Sts; 🗺️; 🕒 5, 21, 22, 24) PARK FREE Summit Alamo Sq to see downtown framed by gabled Victorian rooflines and wind-sculpted pines. Pastel 'Painted Lady' Victorian mansions along eastside Postcard Row pale in comparison to colorful neighbors, including gilded green 1889 Westfield House, which survived tenancies by czarist bootleggers, hippie communes, even tower rituals by Church of Satan founder Anton LaVey.

Haight & Ashbury

(🗺️ 6, 33, 37, 43, 71) LANDMARK The legendary psychedelic '60s intersection remains a counterculture magnet, where you can sign Green Party petitions, commission poems, hear Hare Krishna on keyboards and Bob Dylan on banjo. The clock overhead always reads 4:20 – better known in herbal circles as International Bong-Hit Time.

🕒 Golden Gate Park & Around

San Francisco was way ahead of its time in 1865, when the city voted to turn 1017 acres of sand dunes into the world's largest city stretch of green, Golden Gate Park. Tenacious park architect William Hammond Hall ousted hotels and casinos for this nature preserve. The park ends at Ocean Beach (Map p966; 🗺️ 415-561-4323; www.parkconservancy.org; Great Hwy; 🌅 sunrise-sunset; 🕒 5, 18, 31, 🚏 N), where Cliff House restaurant overlooks the splendid ruin of Sutro Baths (Map p966; www.nps.gov/goga/historyculture/sutro-baths.htm; Point Lobos Ave; 🌅 sunrise-sunset; visitor center hours 9am-5pm; 🗺️; 🕒 5, 31, 38) 🌿 FREE. Follow the partly paved trail around Lands End for shipwreck sightings and Golden Gate Bridge views.

California Academy of Sciences

MUSEUM

(🗺️ 415-379-8000; www.calacademy.org; 55 Music Concourse Dr; adult/child $35/25, discount with Muni ticket $3; 🌅 9:30am-5pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun; 🗺️; 🕒 5, 6, 31, 33, 44, 71, 🚏 N) 🌿 Architect Renzo Piano's LEED-certified green building houses 38,000 weird and wonderful animals, with a four-story rainforest and aquarium under a 'living roof' of California wildflowers. After the penguins nod off to sleep, the wild rumpus starts at kids-only Academy Sleepovers and over-21 NightLife Thursdays.

MH de Young Museum MUSEUM

(☎ 415-750-3600; www.famsf.org/deyoung; 50 Hagiwara Tea Garden Dr; adult/child $10/6, discount with Muni ticket $2, 1st Tue of month free, online booking fee $1 per ticket; ☀ 9:30am-5:15pm Tue-Sun, to 8:45pm Fri mid-Jan-Nov; ☒ 5, 44, 71, (M) N) Follow sculptor Andy Goldsworthy's sidewalk fault line into Herzog & de Meuron's sleek copper-clad building, and broaden your artistic horizons with Oceanic ceremonial masks and sculptor Al Farrow's cathedrals built from bullets.

Legion of Honor MUSEUM

(Map p966; ☎ 415-750-3600; <http://legionofhonor.famsf.org>; 100 34th Ave; adult/child $10/6, discount with Muni ticket $2, 1st Tue of month free; ☀ 9:30am-5:15pm Tue-Sun; ☒ 1, 18, 38) A museum as eccentric and illuminating as San Francisco itself, the Legion showcases a wildly eclectic collection, ranging from Monet water lilies to John Cage soundscapes, ancient Iraqi ivories and R Crumb comics.

Conservatory of Flowers NATURAL SITE

(☎ info 415-831-2090; www.conservatoryofflowers.org; 100 John F Kennedy Dr; adult/child $7/5; ☀ 10am-4:30pm Tue-Sun; ☒ 71, (M) N) This recently restored 1878 Victorian greenhouse is home to outer-space orchids, contemplative floating lilies and creepy carnivorous plants that reek of insect belches.

Japanese Tea Garden GARDEN

(☎ tea ceremony reservations 415-752-1171; www.japaneseteagardensf.com; 75 Hagiwara Tea Garden Dr; adult/child $7/5, before 10am Mon, Wed & Fri free; ☀ 9am-6pm Mar-Oct, to 4:45pm Nov-Feb; ☒ 5, 44, 71, (M) N) Since 1894, this picturesque 5-acre garden and bonsai grove has blushed with cherry blossoms in spring and turned flaming red with maple leaves in fall. Lose all track of time in the meditative Zen Garden.

San Francisco Botanical Garden GARDEN

(Strybing Arboretum; ☎ 415-661-1316; www.strybing.org; 1199 9th Ave; adult/child $7/5, 2nd Tue of month free; ☀ 9am-6pm Apr-Oct, to 5pm Nov-Mar, bookstore 10am-4pm; ☒ 6, 43, 44, 71, (M) N) ☕ Sniff your way around the world inside this 55-acre garden. Almost anything grows in the peculiar microclimates of this corner of Golden Gate Park, from South African savannah grasses to Japanese magnolias.

San Francisco Bay

★ Golden Gate Bridge

BRIDGE

(Map p966; www.goldengatebridge.org/visitors; off Lincoln Blvd; northbound free, southbound toll $6; ☒ 28, all Golden Gate Transit buses) San Francisco's 1937 suspension bridge was almost nixed by the navy in favor of yellow-striped concrete pylons. Instead, engineer Joseph B Strauss, architects Gertrude and Irving Murrow and daredevil workers created an International Orange deco icon. The southbound toll is billed electronically to your vehicle's license plate; for details, see www.goldengate.org/tolls.

Activities

★ Kabuki Springs & Spa

SPA

(Map p968; ☎ 415-922-6000; www.kabukisprings.com; 1750 Geary Blvd; admission $25; ☀ 10am-9:45pm, co-ed Tue, women-only Wed, Fri & Sun, men-only Mon, Thu & Sat; ☒ 22, 38) Scrub down with salt in the communal steam room, soak in the hot pool, take the cold plunge and reheat in the sauna. Silence sets a meditative mood – if you hear the gong, it means shhhh!

DON'T MISS

ALCATRAZ

Over 150 years, Alcatraz (Map p966; ☎ Alcatraz Cruises 415-981-7625; www.alcatrazcruises.com; day tours adult/child/family $30/18/92, night tours adult/child $37/22; ☀ call center 8am-7pm, ferries depart Pier 33 half-hourly 9am-3:55pm, night tours 6:10pm & 6:45pm) has been the nation's first military prison, a maximum-security penitentiary housing A-list criminals including Al Capone, and hotly disputed Native American territory. No prisoners escaped Alcatraz alive, but since importing guards and supplies cost more than putting up prisoners at the Ritz, the prison was closed in 1963.

Day visits include the cruise to and from the penitentiary and captivating audio tours with prisoners and guards recalling life on 'the Rock,' while night tours are led by a park ranger; reserve tickets at least two weeks ahead.

Alcatraz

Book a ferry from Pier 33 and ride 1.5 miles across the bay to explore America's most notorious former prison. The trip itself is worth the money, providing stunning views of the city skyline. Once you've landed at the Ferry Dock & Pier 1, you begin the 580-yard walk to the top of the island and prison; if you're out of shape, there's a twice-hourly tram.

As you climb toward the Guardhouse 2, notice the island's steep slope; before it was a prison, Alcatraz was a fort. In the 1850s, the military quarried the rocky shores into near-vertical cliffs. Ships could then only dock at a single port, separated from the main buildings by a sally port (a drawbridge and moat in what became the guardhouse). Inside, peer through floor grates to see Alcatraz' original prison.

Volunteers tend the brilliant Officer's Row Gardens 3 – an orderly counterpoint to the overgrown rose bushes surrounding the burned-out shell of the Warden's House 4. At the top of the hill, by the front door of the Main Cellhouse 5, beauty shots unfurl all around, including a view of the Golden Gate Bridge 6. Above the main door of the administration building, notice the historic signs & graffiti 7, before you step inside the dank, cold prison to find the Frank Morris cell 8, former home to Alcatraz' most notorious jail-breaker.

TOP TIPS

- ➔ Book at least two weeks prior for self-guided daytime visits. Longer for ranger-led night tours. For info on garden tours, see www.alcatrazgardens.org.
- ➔ Be prepared to hike; a steep path ascends from the ferry landing to the cell block. Most people spend two to three hours on the island. You need only reserve for the outbound ferry; take any ferry back.
- ➔ There's no food (just water) but you can bring your own; picnicking is allowed at the ferry dock only. Dress in layers as weather changes fast and it's usually windy.

Historic Signs & Graffiti

During their 1969–71 occupation, Native Americans graffitied the water tower: 'Home of the Free Indian Land.' Above the cellhouse door, examine the eagle-and-flag crest to see how the red-and-white stripes were changed to spell 'Free.'

Warden's House

Fires destroyed the warden's house and other structures during the Indian Occupation. The government blamed the Native Americans; the Native Americans blamed agents provocateurs acting on behalf of the Nixon Administration to undermine public sympathy.

Ferry Dock & Pier

A giant wall map helps you get your bearings. Inside nearby Bldg 64, short films and exhibits provide historical perspective on the prison and details about the Indian Occupation.

View of Golden Gate Bridge

The Golden Gate Bridge stretches wide on the horizon. Best views are from atop the island at Eagle Plaza, near the cellhouse entrance, and at water level along the Agave Trail (September to January only).

Main Cellhouse

During the mid-20th century, the maximum-security prison housed the day's most notorious troublemakers, including Al Capone and Robert Stroud, the 'Birdman of Alcatraz' (who actually conducted his ornithology studies at Leavenworth).

Frank Morris Cell

Peer into cell 138 on B-Block to see a re-creation of the dummy's head that Frank Morris left in his bed as a decoy to aid his notorious – and successful – 1962 escape from Alcatraz.

Guardhouse

Alcatraz' oldest building dates to 1857 and retains remnants of the original drawbridge and moat. During the Civil War the basement was transformed into a military dungeon – the genesis of Alcatraz as prison.

Officer's Row Gardens

In the 19th century soldiers imported topsoil to beautify the island with gardens. Well-trusted prisoners later gardened – Elliott Michener said it kept him sane. Historians, ornithologists and archaeologists choose today's plants.

DON'T MISS

JAPANTOWN &amp; PACIFIC HEIGHTS

Atop every Japantown sushi counter perches a maneki neko, the porcelain cat with one paw raised in permanent welcome: you are invited for shopping at New People (p989), shiatsu massages at Kabuki Springs & Spa (p975), eco-entertainment at Sundance Kabuki Cinema (p988), world-class jazz at Yoshi's (p987) or mind-blowing rock at the Fillmore (p987).

★ 18 Reasons

COOKING

(☎ 415-568-2710; www.18reasons.org; 3674 18th St; classes & events $5-35; ☺ varies by event; 📍; 🕒 22, 33, 📅 J) 🍴 Deliciously educational events: shochu tastings, knife-skills and cheese-making workshops, and California cuisine classes. Mingle at family-friendly Wednesday soup suppers and Thursday happy hours.

Blazing Saddles

CYCLING

(Map p968; ☎ 415-202-8888; www.blazingsaddles.com; 2715 Hyde St; bike rental per hour $8-15, per day $32-88; electric bikes per day $48-88; ☺ 8am-7:30pm; 📍; 📅 Powell-Hyde) Convenient for biking the Embarcadero or to the Golden Gate Bridge, this outfit offers electric bikes, rentals with packs and bungee cords, and 24-hour return service.

👉 Tours

★ Precita Eyes Mission Mural Tours

TOUR

(☎ 415-285-2287; www.precitaeyes.org; adult $15-20, child $5; ☺ see website calendar for tour dates; 📍) Muralists lead two-hour tours on foot or bicycle covering 60 to 70 murals in a six-to-10-block radius of mural-bedecked Balmy Alley; proceeds fund mural upkeep at this community arts nonprofit.

Chinatown Alleyway Tours

TOUR

(☎ 415-984-1478; www.chinatownalleywaytours.org; adult/student $18/12; ☺ 11am Sat & Sun; 📍) Neighborhood teens lead two-hour community nonprofit tours for up-close-and-personal peeks into Chinatown's past (weather permitting). Book five days ahead or pay double for Saturday walk-ins; cash only.

Oceanic Society Expeditions

TOUR

(☎ 415-474-3385; www.oceanicsociety.org; 3950 Scott St; whale-watching trips per person $120-125; ☺ office 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, trips Sat & Sun; 📅 30) Naturalist-led weekend boating day-trips depart from Yacht Harbor. Kids must be 10 years or older. Reservations required.

Public Library City Guides

TOUR

(www.sfcityguides.org; donations/tips welcome) FREE Volunteer local historians lead non-profit tours organized by neighborhood and theme: Gold Rush Downtown, Secrets of Fisherman's Wharf, Telegraph Hill Stairway Hike and more.

★ Festivals &amp; Events

Chinese New Year Parade

CULTURE

(www.chineseparade.com; ☺ Feb) Chase the 200ft dragon, and see lion dancers and toddler kung-fu classes parade through Chinatown.

SF International Film Festival

FILM

(www.sffs.org; ☺ Apr) Stars align and directors launch premieres at the nation's oldest film festival.

Bay to Breakers

SPORT

(www.baytobreakers.com; race registration $58-90; ☺ May) Run costumed from Embarcadero to Ocean Beach on the third Sunday in May, while joggers dressed as salmon run upstream.

Carnaval

CULTURE

(www.carnavalsf.com; ☺ May) Brazilian, or just faking it with a wax and a tan? Shake your tail feathers in the Mission on the last weekend of May.

SF Pride Celebration

CULTURE

(☺ Jun) A day isn't enough to do San Francisco proud: June begins with International LGBT Film Festival (www.frameline.org), and goes out in style the last weekend with Pink Saturday's Dyke March (www.dykemarch.org) and the frisky, million-strong Pride Parade (www.sfpride.org).

Folsom Street Fair

STREET FAIR

(www.folsomstreetfair.com; ☺ Sep) Work that leather look and enjoy public spankings for local charities at this adults-only bondage festival. Runs the last weekend of September.

Hardly Strictly Bluegrass

MUSIC

(www.strictlybluegrass.com; ☺ Oct) San Francisco celebrates Western roots with three days of free Golden Gate Park concerts and headliners ranging from Elvis Costello to Gillian Welch in early October.

Litquake

(www.litquake.com; ☺ Sep) Score signed books and grab drinks with authors afterwards.

Green Festival

(www.greenfestivals.org; ☺ mid-Nov) Energy-saving spotlights are turned on green cuisine, technology, fashion and booze for three days in mid-November.

LITERATURE

CULTURE

Sleeping

San Francisco is the birthplace of the boutique hotel, which offers stylish rooms for a price: $120 to $200 midrange, plus 15.5% hotel tax (hostels exempt) and $35 to $50 for overnight parking. For vacancies and deals, check San Francisco Visitor Information Center's reservation line (p990), Bed & Breakfast San Francisco (☎ 415-899-0060; www.bbsf.com) and Lonely Planet (http://hotels.lonelyplanet.com).

ell, B Powell) 🍷 French gramophone lobby music conjures New York's Algonquin in the 1920s, and handsome guest rooms feature hand-painted lampshades, local art and plush beds with crisp linens and down pillows. Street-facing rooms are bright but noisy; request air-con.

Hotel Triton

BOULIQUE HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 800-800-1299, 415-394-0500; www.hoteltriton.com; 342 Grant Ave; r $175-275, ste $350; 🍷 @ ☺ 🍷; 📍 Montgomery, B Montgomery) 🍷

Beyond the colorful, comic-bookish lobby are hip rooms with San Francisco-centric details – such as wallpaper of Kerouac's On the Road – plus ecofriendly amenities, shag-worthy beds and unlimited ice cream. Don't miss tarot-card readings and chair massages during nightly wine hour.

Hotel Zetta

HOTEL $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 855-212-4187, 415-543-8555; www.hotelzetta.com; 55 5th St; r $189-249; 🍷 @ ☺ 🍷; B Powell St, M Powell St) 🍷

Opened in 2013, this eco-conscious downtowner caters to play-hard techies; there's billiards, shuffleboard and a Plinko wall above the art-filled lobby. Bigger-than-average rooms have padded black-leather headboards, low-slung platform beds and web-enabled flat-screen TVs.

Golden Gate Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 800-835-1118, 415-392-3702; www.goldengatehotel.com; 775 Bush St; r with/without bath $175/115; 🍷 @ ☺; 📍 2, 3, B Powell-Hyde, Powell-Mason) Like an old-fashioned pension, this 1913 Edwardian hotel has kindly owners and homey mismatched furniture.

Union Square & Civic Center*★ Orchard Garden Hotel BOULIQUE HOTEL $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 888-717-2881, 415-399-9807; www.theorchardgardenhotel.com; 466 Bush St; r $189-259; 🍷 @ ☺; 📍 2, 3, 30, 45, B Montgomery) 🍷

San Francisco's first all-green-practices hotel uses sustainably grown wood, chemical-free cleaning products and luxe recycled fabrics in its soothingly quiet rooms. Don't miss the sunny rooftop terrace.

Hotel Rex

BOULIQUE HOTEL $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-433-4434, 800-433-4434; www.jdvhotels.com; 562 Sutter St; r $159-229; 🍷 @ ☺ 🍷; 📍 Powell-Hyde, Powell-Mason, M Pow-

SAN FRANCISCO FOR CHILDREN

Although it has the least kids per capita of any US city – according to recent San Francisco SPCA data, there are 32,000 more dogs than children in town – San Francisco is packed with attractions for kids, including Golden Gate Park, Exploratorium, California Academy of Sciences, Cartoon Art Museum and Musée Mécanique. For babysitting, American Child Care (☎ 415-285-2300; www.americanchildcare.com; 580 California St, Suite 1600) charges $20 per hour plus gratuity; four-hour minimum.

The Children's Creativity Museum (Map p968; ☎ 415-820-3320; www.zeum.org; 221 4th St; admission $11; ☺ 10am-4pm Wed-Sun Sep-May, Tue-Sun Jun-Aug; 📍; M Powell, B Powell) has technology that's too cool for school: robots, live-action video games, DIY music videos and 3D animation workshops with Silicon Valley innovators.

At Aquarium of the Bay (Map p968; www.aquariumofthebay.com; Pier 39; adult/child/family $18/10/50; ☺ 9am-8pm summer, 10am-6pm winter; 📍; 📍 49, B Powell-Mason, M F), glide through glass tubes underwater on conveyer belts as sharks circle overhead.

Fire Engine Tours (Map p968; ☎ 415-333-7077; www.fireenginertours.com; departs Beach St, at the Cannery; adult/child $50/30; ☺ tours depart 9am, 11am, 1pm, 3pm) are hot stuff: take a 75-minute, open-air vintage fire-engine ride over Golden Gate Bridge.

Rooms are small but comfortable; most have private baths. Homemade cookies and a resident kitty-cat provide comfort after sightseeing.

Hotel Abri

HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-392-8800, 888-229-0677; www.hotelabrisf.com; 127 Ellis St; r $169-249; 📶 @ 📶 📶; 🚗 Powell, 🏠 Powell) Contemporary chic, with bold black-and-tan motifs, pillow-top beds with feather pillows, iPod docks, flat-screen TVs and big workstations. Few bathrooms have tubs, but rainfall showerheads compensate.

Hotel des Arts

ART HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 800-956-4322, 415-956-3232; www.sfhotelesarts.com; 447 Bush St; r with bath $119-159, without bath $79-99; 📶; 🚗 Montgomery, 🏠 Montgomery) A budget hotel for art freaks, with jaw-dropping murals by underground artists. Downsides: thin linens, earplugs possibly needed, and rooms with private bath require seven-night stays.

★ Hotel Monaco

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-292-0100, 866-622-5284; www.monaco-sf.com; 501 Geary St; r $179-269; 📶 @ 📶 📶; 🚗 38, 🏠 Powell-Hyde, Powell-Mason) 🍷 Snazzy Monaco gets the details right: colorful guest rooms offer high-thread-count sheets, ergonomic workspaces and ample closet space. Extras include spa with Jacuzzi, gym, evening wine and bicycles.

🏠 Financial District & North Beach

San Remo Hotel

HOTEL $

(Map p968; ☎ 800-352-7366, 415-776-8688; www.sanremohotel.com; 2237 Mason St; d with shared bath $79-129; 📶 @ 📶 📶; 🚗 30, 47, 🏠 Powell-Mason) One of the city's best-value spots, this 1906 inn is an old-fashioned charmer with vintage furnishings. Bargain rooms face the corridor; family suites accommodate up to five. No elevator.

Pacific Tradewinds Hostel

HOSTEL $

(Map p968; ☎ 888-734-6783, 415-433-7970; www.sanfranciscohostel.org; 680 Sacramento St; dm $30; 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 1, 🏠 California St, 🏠 Montgomery) San Francisco's smartest-looking all-dorm hostel has a blue-and-white nautical theme, fully equipped kitchen, spotless glass-brick showers, no lockout time and great service. No elevator means hauling bags up three flights.

★ Hotel Bohème

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-433-9111; www.hotelboheme.com; 444 Columbus Ave; r $174-224; 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 10, 12, 30, 41, 45) A love letter to the Beat era, with moody orange, black and sage-green color schemes nodding to the 1950s, parasol lights and vintage photos. Rooms are smallish and some face noisy Columbus Ave, but you're in the heart of vibrant North Beach.

Hotel Vitale

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 888-890-8688, 415-278-3700; www.hotelvitale.com; 8 Mission St; r from $255; 📶 @ 📶 📶; 🚗 Embarcadero, 🏠 Embarcadero) Tinted glass disguises a fashion-forward hotel, with up-to-the-minute luxuries: 450-thread-count sheets, on-site spa with rooftop hot tubs, and some rooms that offer spectacular bridge views.

🏠 Fisherman's Wharf & The Marina

★ HI San Francisco

Fisherman's Wharf

HOSTEL $

(Map p968; ☎ 415-771-7277; www.sfhostels.com; Bldg 240, Fort Mason; dm incl breakfast $30-40, r $65-100; 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 28, 30, 47, 49) A former army hospital building offers bargain-priced private rooms and dorms (some co-ed) with four to 22 beds and a huge kitchen. No curfew, but no heat during the day; bring warm clothes. Limited free parking.

Hotel del Sol

MOTEL $$

(☎ 415-921-5520, 877-433-5765; www.thehoteldel-sol.com; 3100 Webster St; d $189-269; 📶 @ 📶 @ 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 22, 28, 30, 43) 🍷 A spiffy, kid-friendly, tropical-themed 1950s motor lodge, with palm-lined central courtyard and heated outdoor pool. Family suites have trundle beds and board games. Free parking.

Tuscan Inn

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(Map p968; ☎ 800-648-4626, 415-561-1100; www.tuscaninn.com; 425 North Point St; r $169-299; 📶 @ 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 47, 🏠 Powell-Mason, 🏠 F) 🍷 Managed by fashion-forward Kimpton, the Tuscan's spacious jewel-toned rooms have more character than most chain-hotel digs. Kids love in-room Nintendo; parents love afternoon wine hours.

Marina Motel

MOTEL $$

(☎ 800-346-6118, 415-921-9406; www.marinamotel.com; 2576 Lombard St; r $139-199; 📶 @ 📶; 🚗 28, 30, 41, 43, 45) The vintage 1939 Marina has a Spanish-Mediterranean look, with a bougainvillea-lined courtyard. Rooms are homey and well maintained, and some have full kitchens (extra $10 to $20).

★ Argonaut Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(Map p968; ☎ 866-415-0704, 415-563-0800; www.argonauthotel.com; 495 Jefferson St; r $205-325, with view $305-550; 📶 📺 🍷 🍷 🍷; 📅 19, 47, 49, 📍 Powell-Hyde) 🍃 Built as a cannery in 1908, Fisherman's Wharf's best inn has wooden beams, exposed brick walls, and an over-the-top nautical theme that includes porthole-shaped mirrors. Ultracomfy beds and iPod docks are standard, though some rooms are tiny, with limited sunlight – pay extra for a mesmerizing bay view.

🏠 The Mission

Inn San Francisco B&B $$$
(☎ 415-641-0188, 800-359-0913; www.innsf.com; 943 S Van Ness Ave; r incl breakfast $185-295, with shared bath $135-185, cottage $325-385; 📶 📺 🍷; 📅 14, 49) 🍃 An impeccably maintained 1872 Italianate-Victorian mansion, this inn has period antiques, fresh-cut flowers and fluffy feather beds; some have Jacuzzi tubs. Outside there's an English garden and a redwood hot tub. Limited parking; reserve ahead. No elevator.

🏠 The Castro

Parker Guest House B&B $$$
(☎ 888-520-7275, 415-621-3222; www.parkerguesthouse.com; 520 Church St; r incl breakfast $159-269; 📶 📺; 📅 33, 📍 J) The Castro's staliest gay digs occupy two side-by-side Edwardian mansions sharing a garden and steam room. Rooms have supercomfortable beds and down duvets; bath fixtures gleam. No elevator.

🏠 The Haight

Metro Hotel HOTEL $$$
(☎ 415-861-5364; www.metrohotelsf.com; 319 Divisadero St; r $88-138; 📶 📺; 📅 6, 24, 71) A central Haight hotel providing cheap, clean rooms with private bath and garden patio. Ragazza pizzeria (p984) is downstairs. No elevator.

Red Victorian Bed, Breakfast & Art B&B $$$ (☎ 415-864-1978; www.redvic.net; 1665 Haight St; r incl breakfast $159-189, without bath $99-139; 📶 📺; 📅 33, 43, 71) 🍃 The trippy '60s live at this 1904 Victorian, with room themes that include Sunshine, Flower Children and Summer of Love. Only four of the 18 rooms have private baths; but all include breakfast in organic Peace Café downstairs.

Chateau Tivoli B&B $$$
(☎ 800-228-1647, 415-776-5462; www.chateautivoli.com; 1057 Steiner St; r incl breakfast $170-215, without bath $115-135, ste $275-300; 📶; 📅 5, 22) This glorious chateau off Alamo Sq once hosted Isadora Duncan and Mark Twain, and shows character with turrets, cornices, woodwork and, rumor has it, the ghost of a Victorian opera diva. No elevator; no TVs.

🍴 Eating

Hope you're hungry – there are 10 times more restaurants per capita in San Francisco than in any other US city. Most of San Francisco's top restaurants are quite small, so reserve ahead. For bargain eats, hit Mission taquerias, Chinatown dim-sum joints and North Beach delis.

🍴 SOMA, Union Square & Civic Center

Saigon Sandwich Shop VIETNAMESE $
(Map p968; ☎ 415-474-5698; saigon-sandwich.com; 560 Larkin St; sandwiches $3.50; ☀ 7am-5pm; 📅 19, 31) Wait on a sketchy sidewalk for baguettes piled high with your choice of roast pork, chicken, pâté, meatballs and/or tofu, plus pickled carrots, cilantro, jalapeño and onion.

Brenda's French Soul Food CREOLE, SOUTHERN $$$
(Map p968; ☎ 415-345-8100; www.frenchsoulfood.com; 652 Polk St; mains lunch $9-13, dinner $11-17; ☀ 8am-3pm Mon & Tue, to 10pm Wed-Sat, to 8pm Sun; 📅 19, 31, 38, 47, 49) Chef-owner Brenda Buenviaje serves Cal-Creole classics, including Hangtown fry (eggs with bacon and fried oysters), shrimp-stuffed po' boys, fried chicken with collard greens, hot-pepper jelly and watermelon sweet tea.

★ Rich Table CALIFORNIAN $$$
(Map p968; ☎ 415-355-9085; http://richtablesf.com; 199 Gough St; meals $30-40; ☀ 5:30-10pm Sun-Thu, to 10:30pm Fri-Sat; 📅 5, 6, 21, 47, 49, 71, 📍 Van Ness) 🍃 Licking plates is the obvious move after finishing apricot soup with pancetta and rabbit cannelloni with nasturtium cream. Co-chefs/co-owners/spouses Sarah and Evan Rich invent playful Californian food such as the Dirty Hippie: silky goat-buttermilk panna cotta topped with nutty hemp. Book two to four weeks ahead (call the restaurant directly).

Sweet Woodruff

CAFE, CALIFORNIAN $$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-292-9090; www.sweetwoodruff.com; 798 Sutter St; dishes $8-13; ☀ 11am-9:45pm; ☑ 2, 3, 27) ☞ Little sister to Michelin-starred Sons & Daughters, this storefront cafe uses seasonal-regional ingredients for small plates such as roasted padron peppers with fromage blanc and sea-urchin baked potatoes with bacon. There's no waiter service and no stove – just an oven, hot plate and imagination.

Zero Zero

PIZZA $$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-348-8800; www.zerofosf.com; 826 Folsom St; pizzas $10-19; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5:30-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri, 11:30am-11pm Sat, 11:30am-10pm Sun; ☑ Powell, ☒ Powell) Neapolitan pizza credentials – '00' flour is used for Naples' famous puffy-edged crust – with inspired San Francisco-themed toppings. The cross-town, cross-cultural Geary includes Manila clams, bacon and chilies, and the crowd-pleasing Castro comes turbo-loaded with housemade sausage.

★ Benu

CALIFORNIAN, FUSION $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-685-4860; www.benusf.com; 22 Hawthorne St; mains $26-42; ☀ 5:30-10pm Tue-Sat; ☑ 10, 12, 14, 30, 45) San Francisco has refined fusion cuisine over 150 years, but no one rocks it quite like chef-owner Corey

Lee (formerly of Napa's French Laundry), who remixes local, sustainable fine-dining staples and Pacific Rim flavors with a SoMa DJ's finesse. Dungeness crab and black-truffle custard bring such outsize flavor to faux-shark's-fin soup, you'll swear there's Jews in there.

★ Jardinière

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-861-5555; www.jardiniere.com; 300 Grove St; mains $19-37; ☀ 5-10:30pm Tue-Sat, to 10pm Sun & Mon; ☑ 5, 21, 47, 49, ☑ Van Ness) ☞ Iron Chef, Top Chef Master and James Beard Award winner Traci des Jardins has a particular flair with California's organic vegetables, free-range meats and sustainably caught seafood. Housemade tagliatelle is lavished with bone marrow and velvety scallops are topped with satiny sea urchin. On Mondays $49 scores you three decadent courses with wine pairings.

✂ Financial District, Chinatown & North Beach

★ Liguria Bakery

BAKERY $

(Map p968; ☎ 415-421-3786; 1700 Stockton St; focaccia $4-5; ☀ 8am-1pm Mon-Fri, from 7am Sat; ☑ ☑; ☑ 8X, 30, 39, 41, 45, ☑ Powell-Mason) Blear-eyed art students and Italian grandmothers line up by 8am for cinnamon-raisin focaccia hot from the 100-year-old oven, leaving 9am dawdlers a choice of tomato or classic rosemary/garlic and 11am stragglers out of luck. Cash only.

FIVE TASTY REASONS TO MISS THAT FERRY

When it comes to California dining, you'll be missing the boat unless you stop for local specialties at the Ferry Building:

- ➔ Today's catch at Hog Island Oyster Company (Map p968; ☎ 415-391-7117; www.hogislandoysters.com; 1 Ferry Bldg; 6 oysters $16-20; ☀ 11:30am-8pm Mon-Fri, 11am-6pm Sat & Sun; ☑ Embarcadero, ☒ Embarcadero) ☞, including $1 oysters at happy hour.
- ➔ Gourmet picnic supplies from the farmers market (Map p968; ☎ 415-291-3276; www.cuesa.org; ☀ 10am-2pm Tue & Thu, from 8am Sat) – especially 4505 artisan meats, Donna's tamales and Namu Gaji's Korean tacos.
- ➔ Iron Chef Traci des Jardins' nuevo Mexican street eats at Mijita (Map p968; ☎ 415-399-0814; www.mijitasf.com; 1 Ferry Bldg; dishes $4-8; ☀ 10am-7pm Mon-Thu, to 8pm Fri-Sat, 8:30am-3pm Sun; ☑ ☑; ☑ Embarcadero, ☒ Embarcadero).
- ➔ Free-range beef burgers and sweet-potato fries at Gott's Roadside (Map p968; www.gotts.com; 1 Ferry Bldg; burgers $8-11; ☀ 10:30am-10pm; ☑ ☑; ☑ Embarcadero, ☒ Embarcadero) ☞
- ➔ Cal-Vietnamese Dungeness crab over cellophane noodles at Charles Phan's family-operated Slanted Door (Map p968; ☎ 415-861-8032; www.slanteddoor.com; 1 Ferry Bldg; lunch $15-28, dinner $19-42; ☀ 11am-2:30pm & 5:30-10pm Mon-Sat, 11:30-3pm & 5:30-10pm Sun; ☑ Embarcadero, ☒ Embarcadero).

City View

CHINESE $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-398-2838; 662 Commercial St; dishes $3-8; ☉ 11am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, from 10am Sat & Sun; ☒ 8X, 10, 12, 30, 45, ☒ California St) Take your seat in the sunny dining room and take your pick from carts loaded with delicate shrimp and leek dumplings, garlicky Chinese broccoli, tangy spare ribs, coconut-dusted custard tarts and other tantalizing dim sum.

Cinecittà

PIZZA $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-291-8830; www.cinecittarestaurant.com; 663 Union St; pizza $12-15; ☉ noon-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☒ 8X, 30, 39, 41, 45, ☒ Powell-Mason) Follow tantalizing aromas into this 22-seat eatery for thin-crust Roman pizza, including the classic Travestere (fresh mozzarella, arugula and prosciutto) and Neapolitan O Sole Mio (capers, olives, mozzarella and anchovies). Local brews are on tap, house wine is $5 from 3pm to 7pm, and house-made tiramisu is SF's best.

★Cotogna

ITALIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-775-8508; www.cotognasf.com; 470 Pacific Ave; mains $14-26; ☉ 11:30am-11:30pm Mon-Sat, 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-9pm Sun; ☒ 10, 12) Since chef-owner Michael Tusk won the James Beard Award for best chef, bookings are coveted at rustic Italian Cotogna (and fancier sister-restaurant Quince) for pristine pastas, toothsome wood-fired pizzas and rotisserie-caramelized meats.

Z & Y

CHINESE $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-981-8988; www.zandyrestaurant.com; 655 Jackson St; mains $9-18; ☉ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri-Sun; ☒ 8X, ☒ Powell-Mason, Powell-Hyde) Sensational Szechuan dishes that go down in a blaze of glory: spicy pork dumplings, heat-blistered string beans, housemade tantan noodles with peanut-chili sauce, and fish poached in flaming chili oil and buried under red Szechuan chili-peppers. Go early; expect a wait.

Ristorante Ideale

ITALIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-391-4129; www.idealrestaurant.com; 1315 Grant Ave; pasta $15-18; ☉ 5:30-10:30pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri-Sat, 5-10pm Sun; ☒ 8X, 10, 12, 30, 41, 45, ☒ Powell-Mason) Roman chef Maurizio Bruschi serves authentic bucatini ammatriciana (tube pasta with tomato-peperoncino sauce and house-cured pancetta), and ravioli and gnocchi that are both hand-made and housemade ("of course!"). Ask the Tuscan staff to recommend well-priced wine, and everyone goes home happy.

★Coi

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-393-9000; www.coirestaurant.com; 373 Broadway; set menu $175; ☉ 5:30-10pm Wed-Sat; ☒ 8X, 30, 41, 45, ☒ Powell-Mason) Chef-owner Daniel Patterson's imaginative eight-course tasting menu is like licking the California coastline: purple ice-plant petals are strewn atop warm duck's tongue, and wild-caught Monterey Bay abalone appears in a tidepool of pea shoots, inducing a uniquely Golden State of bliss.

✂ Fisherman's Wharf & the Marina*Off the Grid

FOOD TRUCK $

(Map p968; www.offthegridsf.com; dishes $5-10; ☉ 5-10pm Fri; ☒ 22, 28) Thirty food trucks circle their wagons at Fort Mason for mobile gourmet feasts. Arrive before 6:30pm or expect 20-minute waits for Chairman Bao's clam-shell buns with duck and mango, Roli Roti's free-range herbed roast chicken, and dessert from the Crème Brûlée Man. Cash only.

In-N-Out Burger

BURGERS $

(Map p968; ☎ 800-786-1000; www.in-n-out.com; 333 Jefferson St; meals under $10; ☉ 10:30am-1am Sun-Thu, to 1:30am Fri & Sat; ☒ 30, 47, ☒ Powell-Hyde) Prime chuck beef processed on site, plus fries and shakes made with ingredients you can pronounce, all served by employees paid a living wage. Order yours off the menu 'animal style' - cooked in mustard with grilled onions.

★Greens

VEGETARIAN, CALIFORNIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-771-6222; www.greensrestaurant.com; Bldg A, Fort Mason Center, cnr Marina Blvd & Laguna St; lunch $15-17, dinner $17-24; ☉ 11:45am-2:30pm & 5:30-9pm Tue-Fri, from 11am Sat, 10:30am-2pm & 5:30-9pm Sun, 5:30-9pm Mon; ☒ 8X, ☒ 28) Career carnivores won't realize there's zero meat in the hearty black-bean chili with crème fraîche and pickled jalapeños or in the roasted eggplant panini packed with ingredients mostly grown on a Zen organic farm. Enjoy takeout on a wharf-side bench; reserve ahead for weekend diners or Sunday brunch.

★Gary Danko

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(Map p968; ☎ 415-749-2060; www.garydanko.com; 800 North Point St; 3-/5-course menu $73/107; ☉ 5:30-10pm; ☒ 19, 30, 47, ☒ Powell-Hyde) Smoked-glass windows prevent passersby from tripping over their tongues at the sight of James Beard Award-winning feasts: roasted lobster with trumpet mushrooms, blushing duck breast and rhubarb compote, lavish cheeses and trios of crèmes brûlées. Reservations required.

The Mission

★ La Taqueria

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 415-285-7117; 2889 Mission St; burritos $6-8; ☉ 11am-9pm Mon-Sat, to 8pm Sun; ☎; ☑ 12, 14, 48, 49, ☒ 24th St Mission) The definitive burrito at La Taqueria has no debatable saffron rice, spinach tortilla or mango salsa, just perfectly grilled meats, slow-cooked beans and classic tomatillo or mesquite salsa wrapped in a flour tortilla. Spicy pickles and crema (Mexican sour cream) complete the burrito bliss.

★ Namu Gaji

KOREAN, CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎ 415-431-6268; www.namuf.com; 499 Dolores St; small plates $8-22; ☉ 11:30am-10pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☎ 22, 33, ☒ J, ☒ 16th St Mission) San Francisco's unfair culinary advantages – organic local ingredients, Silicon Valley inventiveness and Pacific Rim roots – are showcased in Namu's Korean-inspired soul food. Menu standouts include ultrasavory shiitake-mushroom dumplings, tender marinated beef tongue, and Marin Sun Farms grass-fed steak atop sizzling rice served in a stone pot.

★ Commonwealth

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎ 415-355-1500; www.commonwealthsf.com; 2224 Mission St; small plates $11-16; ☉ 5:30-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☎; ☑ 14, 22, 33, 49, ☒ 16th St Mission) California's most imaginative farm-to-table dining isn't in some quaint barn but in a converted cinderblock Mission dive. Here chef Jason Fox serves green strawberries and black radishes with fennel pollen, and poached oysters atop foraged succulents and rhubarb ice. Savor the $75 prix-fixe knowing $10 is donated to charity.

The Castro

Chilango

MEXICAN $$

(☎ 415-552-5700; www.chilangorestaurantsf.com; 235 Church St; dishes $8-12; ☉ 11am-10pm; ☒ Church) Upgrade from taqueria to sit-down restaurant at this casual Mexican spot that uses all-organic ingredients in filetmignon tacos, chicken mole (cocoa-based sauce) and succulent carnitas (roast pork).

Starbelyly

CALIFORNIAN, PIZZA $$$

(☎ 415-252-7500; www.starbelylysf.com; 3583 16th St; dishes $6-19; ☉ 11:30am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat; ☒ Castro) Nab a spot on the heated garden patio for salumi (Italian cured meat), market-fresh salads, scrumptious pâté, roasted mussels with housemade sausage and thin-crust pizzas.

★ Frances

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎ 415-621-3870; www.frances-sf.com; 3870 17th St; mains $27-28; ☉ 5-10:30pm Tue-Sun; ☒ Castro) Chef-owner Melissa Perello's daily menus showcase bright, seasonal flavors and luxurious textures: cloudlike sheep's milk ricotta gnocchi with crunchy breadcrumbs and broccoli, grilled calamari with preserved Meyer lemon, and Sonoma artisan wine on tap.

The Haight

★ Rosamunde Sausage Grill

FAST FOOD $

(Map p968; ☎ 415-437-6851; http://rosamunde-sausagegrill.com; 545 Haight St; sausages $4-6; ☉ 11:30am-10pm; ☒ 6, 22, 71, ☒ N) Impress a dinner date on the cheap: load up classic Brats or duck-fig links with complimentary roasted peppers, grilled onions, wholegrain mustard and mango chutney. Enjoy with your choice from 100 beers at Tornado, next door.

Ragazza

PIZZA $$

(☎ 415-255-1133; www.ragazzaf.com; 311 Divisadero St; pizza $13-18; ☉ 5-10pm Mon-Thu, to 10:30 Fri & Sat; ☎; ☑ 6, 21, 24, 71) 'Girl' is what the name means, as in, 'Oooh, girl, did you try the potato-leek pizza?' Artisan salumi is the star of many Ragazza pies, from the Amatriciana with pecorino, bacon and egg to the pork belly with Calabrian chili and beet greens. Arrive early to nab garden patio tables.

GOURMET TO GO

Bi-Rite (☎ 415-241-9760; www.biritemarket.com; 3639 18th St; sandwiches $7-10; ☉ 9am-9pm; ☎; ☑ 14, 22, 33, 49, ☒ 16th St Mission) Nemesis of grocery budgets and ally of foodies best at reheating, the Bi-Rite store in the Mission area displays artisan chocolates, sustainable cured meats and organic fruit like jewels, with dazzling California wine-and-cheese selections. Get deli sandwiches to go to Dolores Park.

Magnolia Brewpub CALIFORNIAN, AMERICAN $$
 (Map p966; ☎ 415-864-7468; www.magnoliapub.com; 1398 Haight St; mains $11-20; ☀ 11am-midnight Mon-Thu, to 1am Fri, 10am-1am Sat, to midnight Sun; ☑ 6, 33, 43, 71) 🍷 Organic pub grub and homebrew samplers keep conversation flowing at communal tables, while grass-fed Prather Ranch burgers satisfy stoner appetites in the booths – it's like the Summer of Love all over again, only with better food.

🍷 Japantown & Pacific Heights

Benkyodo JAPANESE $$
 (Map p968; ☎ 415-922-1244; www.benkyodocompany.com; 1747 Buchanan St; dishes $1-10; ☀ 8am-5pm Mon-Sat; ☑ 2, 3, 22, 38) The perfect retro lunch counter cheerfully serves an old-school egg-salad sandwich or pastrami for $5, but the real draw is the $1.25 mochi (Japanese filled rice cake) made in-house daily – come early for popular flavors including green tea and chocolate-filled strawberry. Cash only.

Tataki JAPANESE, SUSHI $$
 (Map p968; ☎ 415-931-1182; www.tatakisushibar.com; 2815 California St; dishes $12-20; ☀ 11:30am-2pm & 5:30-10:30pm Mon-Thu, to 11:30pm Fri, 5-11:30pm Sat, 5-9:30pm Sun; ☑ 1, 24) 🍷 Pioneering sushi chefs Kin Lui and Raymond Ho rescue dinner and the oceans with sustainable delicacies: silky Arctic char drizzled with yuzu-citrus replaces at-risk wild salmon; and the Golden State Roll features spicy, line-caught scallop, Pacific tuna, organic-apple slivers and edible 24-carat gold.

State Bird Provisions CALIFORNIAN $$
 (Map p968; ☎ 415-795-1272; statebirdsf.com; 1529 Fillmore St; ☀ 5:30pm-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri-Sat; ☑ 22, 38) Forget Kentucky-fried: San Francisco prefers its poultry creative, locally sourced and dim-sum-sized. Pumpkin seeds and baguette crumbs are secrets to the golden state bird (quail), the signature of this high-concept, low-key California cuisine hot spot, which was the 2013 James Beard Award winner for best new restaurant in America. Reserve ahead or join the 5pm bar-seat line.

🍷 The Richmond

★ Outerlands CALIFORNIAN $$
 (Map p966; ☎ 415-661-6140; www.outerlandssf.com; 4001 Judah St; sandwiches & small plates $8-9, mains $12-27; ☀ 11am-3pm & 6-10pm Tue-Fri, 10am-3pm & 5:30-10pm Sat & Sun; ☑ 18, 19 N) 🍷 When windy Ocean Beach leaves you feeling shipwrecked, drift into this beach-shack bistro for organic California comfort food. Brunch demands Dutch pancakes in iron skillets with housemade ricotta, lunch brings $12 grilled artisan cheese combos with farm-inspired soup, and slow-cooked lamb shoulder slouches on flatbread at dinner. Reserve ahead.

★ Aziza MOROCCAN, CALIFORNIAN $$$
 (Map p966; ☎ 415-752-2222; www.aziza-sf.com; 5800 Geary Blvd; mains $16-29; ☀ 5:30-10:30pm Wed-Mon; ☑ 1, 29, 31, 38) Chef Mourad Lahlou's inspiration is Moroccan, his ingredients organic Californian, and his flavors out of this world: Sonoma duck confit melts into caramelized onion inside flaky pastry basteeya, while saffron infuses slow-cooked local lamb atop barley.

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

For a pub crawl, your best bets are North Beach saloons or Mission bars around Valencia and 16th St. Top chefs serve craft cocktails downtown, Hayes Valley has wine bars and the Tenderloin mixes dives with speakeasies. The Castro has historic gay bars and SoMa has leather bars, while Marina bars are preppy and straight, and Haight bars draw mixed alterna-crowds.

★ Bar Agricole BAR
 (Map p968; ☎ 415-355-9400; www.baragricole.com; 355 11th St; ☀ 6-10pm Sun-Wed, to late Thu-Sat; ☑ 9, 12, 27, 47) Drink your way to a history degree with well-researched cocktails: Bellamy Scotch Sour with egg whites passes the test, but Tequila Fix with lime, pineapple gum and hellfire bitters earns honors. For its modern design with natural materials and a sleek deck, Agricole won a James Beard Award.

★ Smuggler's Cove BAR
 (Map p968; ☎ 415-869-1900; www.smugglerscovesf.com; 650 Gough St; ☀ 5pm-1:15am; ☑ 5, 21, 49, 19 Van Ness) Yo-ho-ho and a bottle of rum...or perhaps you'll try a Dead Reckoning with Angostura bitters, Nicaraguan rum, tawny port and vanilla liqueur, unless someone will share the flaming Scorpion Bowl? With 400 rums and 70 cocktails gleaned from rum-running around the world, you won't be dry-docked long.

★ Comstock Saloon

BAR

(Map p968; ☎ 415-617-0071; www.comstocksaloon.com; 155 Columbus Ave; ☎ 4pm-2am Sat-Thu, from noon Fri; ☏ 8X, 10, 12, 30, 45, ☑ Powell-Mason) Welcome to the Barbary Coast, where cocktails at this Victorian saloon remain period-perfect: Pisco Punch is made with pineapple gum, and martini-precursor Martinez features gin, vermouth, bitters and maraschino liqueur. Call ahead to claim booths or tufted-velvet parlour seating.

★ Toronado

PUB

(Map p968; ☎ 415-863-2276; www.toronado.com; 547 Haight St; ☎ 11:30am-2am; ☏ 6, 22, 71, ☑ N) Glory hallelujah, beer-lovers: your prayers have been heard with 50-plus beers on tap and hundreds more bottled, including spectacular seasonal microbrews. Bring cash. Order sausages from Rosamunde next door to accompany ale made by Trappist monks.

★ Specs Museum Cafe

BAR

(Map p968; ☎ 415-421-4112; 12 William Saroyan Pl; ☎ 5pm-2am; ☏ 8X, 10, 12, 30, 41, 45, ☑ Powell-Mason) What do you do with a drunken sailor? Here's your answer. The walls are plastered with Merchant Marine mementos, and you'll be plastered too if you try to keep up with the salty old-timers holding court in back. Your order is obvious: pitcher of Anchor Steam, coming right up.

★ Elixir

BAR

(☎ 415-522-1633; www.elixirsf.com; 3200 16th St; ☎ 3pm-2am Mon-Fri, noon-2am Sat & Sun; ☏ 16th St Mission) 🍷 Do the planet a favor and have a drink at San Francisco's first certified-green bar in an actual 1858 Wild West saloon. Elixir serves knock-out cocktails made with farm-fresh organic mixers and small-batch spirits that will get you air-guitar-rocking to the killer jukebox.

GAY/LES/BI/TRANS SAN FRANCISCO

Doesn't matter where you're from, who you love or who's your daddy: if you're here, and queer, welcome home. The Castro is the heart of the gay cruising scene, but South of Market (SoMa) has thump-thump clubs. The Mission is the preferred 'hood of all-chicks, trans FTMs (female-to-males) and flirty femmes. Bay Area Reporter (aka BAR; www.ebar.com) covers community news and listings; San Francisco Bay Times (www.sfbaytimes.com) also has good resources for transsexuals; free mag Gloss Magazine (www.glossmagazine.net) covers nightlife. For roving dance parties, check Honey Soundsystem (Map p968; www.honeysoundsystem.com); Juanita More (www.juanitamore.com); and Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence (www.thesisters.org). San Francisco is home to some top GLBT venues.

Stud (Map p968; ☎ 415-252-7883; www.studsf.com; 399 9th St; admission $5-8; ☎ 5pm-3am; ☏ 12, 19, 27, 47) Join parties in-progress since 1966: Meow Mix Tuesday drag variety shows; Wednesday raunchy comedy; and Friday 'Some-thing' parties with midnight drag, pool-table crafts and dance beats.

Aunt Charlie's (Map p968; ☎ 415-441-2922; www.auntcharlieslounge.com; 133 Turk St; admission $5; ☑ Powell, ☑ Powell) Divey Aunt Charlie's brings vintage pulp-fiction covers to life with drag Hot Boxxx Girls Friday and Saturday nights (call for reservations) and Thursday's Tubesteak Connection ($5), featuring vintage porn and '80s disco.

EndUp (Map p968; www.theendup.com; 401 6th St; admission $5-20; ☎ 10pm-4am Mon-Thu, 11pm-11am Fri, 10pm Sat-4am Mon; ☏ 12, 27, 47) Anyone on the streets after 2am weekends is subject to the magnetic pull of the EndUp's marathon dance sessions and gay Sunday tea dances, in full force since 1973.

Lexington Club (☎ 415-863-2052; www.lexingtonclub.com; 3464 19th St; ☎ 3pm-2am; ☏ 14, 33, 49, ☑ 16th St Mission) San Francisco's all-grrrrr bar can be cliquish, so compliment someone on her skirt (she designed it herself) or tattoo (ditto) and mention you're undefeated at pinball, pool or thumb-wrestling. When she wins (because she's no stranger to the Lex), pout and maybe she'll buy you a $4 beer.

Cafe Flore (☎ 415-621-8579; www.cafeflore.com; 2298 Market St; ☎ 7am-midnight Sun-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat; ☏; ☑ Castro) You haven't done the Castro till you've unwound on Flore's sunny patio. Great happy-hour drink specials, such as two-for-one margaritas. Wi-fi weekdays only, no electrical outlets.

Zeitgeist

BAR
(☎ 415-255-7505; www.zeitgeistsf.com; 199 Valencia St; ☉ 9am-2am; ☑ 22, 49, ☒ 16th St Mission) You've got two seconds flat to order one of 40 beers on draft from tough-gal barkeeps used to putting macho bikers in their place. Regulars head straight to the bar's huge graveled beer garden to sit at long picnic tables to smoke. Bring cash for the bar and for late-night food vendors who circulate.

Trick Dog

BAR
(☎ 415-471-2999; www.trickdogbar.com; 3010 20th St; ☉ 3pm-2am; ☑ 12, 14, 49) Choose your drink by Pantone-paint-swatch color: Razzle Dazzle Red gets you local Hangar One vodka with house cordials, strawberries and lime, while Gypsy Tan means Rittenhouse rye with Fernet, lemon-ginger and nutmeg.

El Rio

CLUB
(☎ 415-282-3325; www.elriosf.com; 3158 Mission St; admission $3-8; ☉ 1pm-2am; ☑ 12, 14, 27, 49, ☒ 24th St Mission) The DJ mix at El Rio takes its cue from the patrons: eclectic, fearless, funky and sexy, no matter your orientation. Powerful margaritas will get you bopping to disco-post-punk mashups and flirting shamelessly in the back garden. Cash only.

★ Entertainment

TIX Bay Area (Map p968; www.tixbayarea.org) sells last-minute theater tickets half-price. Other event listings are covered in 7x7 magazine (www.7x7.com), SF Bay Guardian (www.sfbg.com) newspaper, SF Weekly (www.sfwweekly.com) newspaper and Squid List (www.squidlist.com/events) blog.

Live Music*★ SFJazz Center

JAZZ
(Map p968; ☎ 866-920-5299; www.sfjazz.org; 201 Franklin St; ☉ showtimes vary; ☑ 5, 7, 21, ☒ Van Ness) Jazz greats coast-to-coast and further afield from Argentina to Yemen are showcased at America's newest, largest, LEED-certified green jazz center. The San Francisco Jazz Festival takes place here in July, but year-round the calendar features such legends as McCoy Tyner, Regina Carter, Bela Flek and Tony Bennett (who left his heart here, after all). Upper-tier cheap seats are more like stools, but offer clear stage views.

Fillmore Auditorium

LIVE MUSIC
(Map p968; ☎ 415-346-6000; http://thefillmore.com; 1805 Geary Blvd; admission $15-50; ☉ box office 10am-4pm Sun, 7:30-10pm show nights; ☑ 22, 38) Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, the Doors – they all played the Fillmore. Now you might catch the Indigo Girls, Duran Duran or Tracy Chapman in the historic 1250-capacity standing-room theater; don't miss the '60s psychedelic posters in the upstairs gallery.

Slim's

LIVE MUSIC
(Map p968; ☎ 415-255-0333; www.slims-sf.com; 333 11th St; tickets $12-30; ☉ 5pm-2am; ☑ 9, 12, 27, 47) Guaranteed good times by Gogol Bordello, Tenacious D and the Expendables fit the bill at this mid-sized club, owned by R&B star Boz Skaggs. Shows are all-ages, though shorties may have a hard time seeing once the floor starts bouncing. Reserve dinner for $25, and score seats on the small balcony.

Mezzanine

LIVE MUSIC
(Map p968; ☎ 415-625-8880; www.mezzaninesf.com; 444 Jessie St; admission $10-40; ☒ Powell, ☒ Powell) Big nights come with bragging rights at the Mezzanine, which has one of the city's best sound systems. Crowds are hyped for alt-bands, breakthrough hip-hop and R&B shows by Wyclef Jean, Quest Love, Method Man, Nas and Snoop Dogg.

Great American Music Hall

LIVE MUSIC
(Map p968; ☎ 415-885-0750; www.gamh.com; 859 O'Farrell St; admission $12-35; ☉ box office 10:30am-6pm Mon-Fri & on show nights; ☑ 19, 38, 47, 49) Once a bordello, the rococo Great American Music Hall has a balcony with table seating, a top-notch sound system, and reasonable food and drinks. Music ranges from alt-rock and metal to jazz and bluegrass.

Yoshi's

JAZZ, LIVE MUSIC
(Map p968; ☎ 415-655-5600; www.yoshis.com; 1300 Fillmore St; ☉ shows 8pm and/or 10pm Tue-Sun, dinner Tue-Sun; ☑ 22, 31) San Francisco's definitive jazz club draws the world's top talent, and hosts appearances by the likes of Leon Redbone and Nancy Wilson, along with occasional classical and gospel acts. Students: ask about half-priced tickets.

Cafe du Nord/Swedish

LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 415-861-5016; www.cafedunord.com; 2170 Market St; cover varies; ☒ Church) Rockers, chanteuses, comedians, raconteurs and burlesque acts perform nightly at this former basement speakeasy with bar and show-room, and the joint still looks like it did in the '30s.

Drag*Cat Club

DRAG

(Map p968; www.catclubsf.com; 1190 Folsom St; admission after 10pm $5; ☺ 9pm-3am Tue-Sun; 📍 Civic Center, 📍 Civic Center) You never really know your friends till you've seen them belt out A-ha's 'Take on Me' at 1984, Cat Club's Thursday-night retro dance party. Tuesdays it's karaoke, Wednesdays Bondage-a-Go-Go, Fridays Goth, and Saturdays '90s power pop - but confirm online, lest you dress the wrong part.

DNA Lounge

DRAG

(Map p968; www.dnalounge.com; 375 11th St; admission $3-25; ☺ 9pm-3am Fri & Sat, other nights vary; 📍 12, 27, 47) One of San Francisco's last megaclubs hosts live bands, mash-up dance party Bootie, epic drag at Trannyshack, and Monday's 18-and-over Goth Death Guild. Early arrivals may hear crickets.

AsiaSF

DRAG CABARET

(Map p968; ☎ 415-255-2742; www.asiasf.com; 201 9th St; per person from $39; ☺ 7-11pm Wed & Thu, 7pm-2am Fri, 5pm-2am Sat, 7-10pm Sun, reservation line 1-8pm; 📍 Civic Center, 📍 Civic Center) Cocktails and Asian-inspired dishes are served with sass and a secret: your servers are drag stars. Every hour, they dance atop the bar, while gaggles of girlfriends squeal and straight blushing businessmen play along. Once inspiration and drinks kick in, everyone mixes it up on the downstairs dance floor.

Classical Music & Opera*★ Davies Symphony Hall

CLASSICAL MUSIC

(Map p968; ☎ 415-864-6000; www.sfsymphony.org; 201 Van Ness Ave; 📍 Van Ness, 📍 Civic Center) Home of nine-time Grammy-winning San Francisco Symphony, conducted with verve by Michael Tilson Thomas. The season runs September to July.

★ San Francisco Opera

OPERA

(Map p968; ☎ 415-864-3330; www.sfopera.com; War Memorial Opera House, 301 Van Ness Ave; tickets $10-350; 📍 Civic Center, 📍 Van Ness) San Francisco has been obsessed with opera since the gold rush, and it remains a staple from July to December. Tuesdays attract local socialites, when you can spot fabulous gowns and tuxedos. After 10am, the box office sells 150 standing-room spots ($10; cash only); snag empty seats after intermission.

San Francisco Ballet

DANCE

(Map p968; ☎ 415-861-5600, tickets 415-865-2000; www.sfballet.org; War Memorial Opera House, 301 Van Ness Ave; tickets $10-120; 📍 Van Ness) The San Francisco Ballet is America's oldest ballet company and the first to premier the Nutcracker. The company regularly performs at War Memorial Opera House.

Theater*★ American Conservatory*Theater

THEATER

(ACT; Map p968; ☎ 415-749-2228; www.act-sf.org; 415 Geary St; 📍 38, 📍 Powell-Mason, Powell-Hyde) Breakthrough shows begin at ACT's turn-of-the-century Geary Theater, which has launched Tony Kushner's Angels in America and Robert Wilson's Black Rider, with a libretto by William S Burroughs and music by the Bay Area's own Tom Waits. ACT's Strand Theater (1127 Market St) is scheduled to open late 2014.

Beach Blanket Babylon

CABARET

(BBB; Map p968; ☎ 415-421-4222; www.beachblanketbabylon.com; 678 Green St; admission $25-100; ☺ shows 8pm Wed, Thu & Fri, 6:30pm & 9:30pm Sat, 2pm & 5pm Sun; 📍 8X, 📍 Powell-Mason) Snow White searches for Prince Charming in San Francisco: what could possibly go wrong? The Disney-gone-drag musical-comedy cabaret has been running since 1974, but topical jokes keep it outrageous and wigs as big as parade floats are gasp-worthy.

Cinemas*★ Castro Theatre

CINEMA

(☎ 415-621-6120; www.thecastrotheatre.com; 429 Castro St; adult/child $11/8.50; ☺ Tue-Sun; 📍 Castro) The Mighty Wurlitzer organ rises from the deco movie palace's orchestra pit before evening shows, ending with (sing along, now): 'San Francisco open your Golden Gate/ You let no stranger wait outside your door..'

★ Roxie Cinema

CINEMA

(☎ 415-863-1087; www.roxie.com; 3117 16th St; regular screening/matinee $10/7; 📍 14, 22, 33, 49, 📍 16th St Mission) A little neighborhood non-profit cinema with major international clout for indie premieres, controversial films and documentaries banned elsewhere. No ads; personal introductions to every film.

Sundance Kabuki Cinema

CINEMA

(Map p968; ☎ 415-929-4650; www.sundancecinemas.com; 1881 Post St; adult $9.50-15, child $9; 📍 2, 3, 22, 38) 🍷 A multiplex initiative by Robert Redford's Sundance Institute, Kabuki features big-name flicks and festivals, served with local chocolates and booze. And it's green, with recycled-fiber seating.

Sports

San Francisco Giants

BASEBALL

(Map p968; <http://sanfrancisco.giants.mlb.com>; AT&T Park; tickets $5-135) Watch and learn how the World Series is won – bushy beards, women's underwear and all.

San Francisco 49ers

FOOTBALL

(Map p966; ☎ 415-656-4900; www.sf49ers.com; Levi's Stadium from 2014; tickets $25-100 at www.ticketmaster.com; Ⓜ T) The 49ers were the National Football League dream team from 1981 to 1994, claiming five Superbowl championships. After decades shivering through games and a fumbled bid for the 2012 Superbowl, the 49ers have a new home in 2014: Santa Clara's brand-new Levi's Stadium.

Shopping

★ City Lights

BOOKS

(Map p968; ☎ 415-362-8193; www.citylights.com; 261 Columbus Ave; ☺ 10am-midnight; ☑ 8X, 10, 12, 30, 41, 45, ☑ Powell-Mason, Powell-Hyde) ☞ 'Abandon all despair, all ye who enter,' orders the sign by the door to City Lights bookstore by founder and San Francisco poet laureate Lawrence Ferlinghetti. This commandment is easy to follow when you're upstairs in the sunny Poetry Room, with freshly published verse, designated Poet's Chair and views over Jack Kerouac Alley.

★ New People

CLOTHING, GIFTS

(Map p968; www.newpeopleworld.com; 1746 Post St; ☺ noon-7pm Mon-Sat, to 6pm Sun; ☑ 2, 3, 22, 38) Wall-to-wall kawaii (cuteness): Japanimation T-shirts; Alice in Wonderland-inspired Lolita fashions at 2nd-floor Baby the Stars Shine Bright; ninja shoes with contemporary graphics at Sou-Sou; contemporary art at Superfrog Gallery; and tea cakes at Crown & Crumpet.

★ Betabrand

CLOTHING

(☎ 800-694-9491; www.betabrand.com; 780 Valencia St; ☺ 11am-6pm Mon-Thu, to 7pm Fri-Sat, noon-6pm Sun; ☑ 14, 22, 33, 49, ☑ 16th St Mission) Crowd-source fashion decisions at Betabrand, where experimental designs are put to an online vote, and winners are produced in limited editions: lunch-meat-patterned socks, reversible smoking jackets, disco-ball windbreakers and bike-to-work pants with reflective-strip cuffs.

Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

American College of Traditional Chinese

Medicine (☎ 415-282-9603; www.actcm.edu; 450 Connecticut St; ☺ 8:30am-9pm Mon-Thu, 9am-5:30pm Fri & Sat; ☑ 10, 19, 22) Acupuncture, herbal remedies and other traditional Chinese medical treatments provided at low cost.

Haight Ashbury Free Clinic (☎ 415-762-3700; www.healthright360.org; 558 Clayton St; ☺ by appointment; ☑ 6, 33, 37, 43, 71, Ⓜ N) Clinic whose services are offered by appointment only; provides substance abuse and mental-health services.

Police, Fire & Ambulance (☎ 911, nonemergency 311)

San Francisco General Hospital (☎ emergency 415-206-8111, main hospital 415-206-8000; www.sfdph.org; 1001 Potrero Ave; ☺ 24hr; ☑ 9, 10, 33, 48) Provides care to uninsured patients, including psychiatric care; no documentation required beyond ID.

Trauma Recovery & Rape Treatment Center (☎ 415-437-3000; www.traumarecoverycenter.org) A 24-hour hotline.

Walgreens (☎ 415-861-3136; www.walgreens.com; 498 Castro St, cnr 18th St; ☺ 24hr; ☑ 24, 33, 35, Ⓜ F, K, L, M) Pharmacy and over-the-counter meds; dozens of locations citywide.

BEST SHOPPING AREAS

All those rustic-chic dens, well-stocked cupboards and fabulous outfits don't just pull themselves together – San Franciscans scoured their city for it all. Here's where to find what:

Hayes Valley Local and independent designers, home design, sweets, shoes.

Valencia St Bookstores, local design collectives, art galleries, vintage whatever.

Haight St Head shops, music, vintage, skate, snow and surf gear.

Upper Fillmore & Union Sts Date outfits, girly accessories, wine and design.

Powell & Market Sts Department stores, megabrands, discount retail, Apple store.

Grant St From Chinatown souvenirs to eccentric North Beach boutiques.

Ferry Building Local food, wine and kitchenware.

INTERNET ACCESS

San Francisco has free wi-fi hot spots citywide – locate one nearby with www.openwifispots.com. Connect for free in Union Sq, most cafes and hotel lobbies.

Apple Store (www.apple.com/retail/sanfrancisco; 1 Stockton St; ☺ 9am-9pm Mon-Sat, 10am-8pm Sun; 📶 📶; 📍 Powell St) Free wi-fi and internet terminal usage.

San Francisco Main Library (www.sfpl.org; 100 Larkin St; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon & Sat, 9am-8pm Tue-Thu, noon-5pm Fri & Sun; 📶 📶; 📍 Civic Center) Free 15-minute internet terminal usage; spotty wi-fi access.

MEDIA

KALW 91.7 FM (www.kalw.org) National Public Radio (NPR) affiliate.

KPFA 94.1 FM (www.kpfa.org) Alternative news and music.

KPOO 89.5 FM (www.kpoo.com) Community radio with jazz, R & B, blues and reggae.

KQED 88.5 FM (www.kqed.org) NPR and Public Broadcasting (PBS) affiliate offering podcasts and streaming video.

San Francisco Bay Guardian (www.sfbg.com) San Francisco's free, alternative weekly covers politics, theater, music, art and movie listings.

San Francisco Chronicle (www.sfgate.com) Main daily newspaper with news, entertainment and event listings.

MONEY

Bank of America (www.bankamerica.com; 1 Market Plaza; ☺ 9am-6pm Mon-Fri)

POST

Rincon Center Post Office (Map p968; ☎ 800-275-8777; www.usps.gov; 180 Steuart St; ☺ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, 9am-2pm Sat; 📍 Embarcadero, 📧 Embarcadero) Postal services, plus historic murals in historic wing.

TOURIST INFORMATION

San Francisco Visitor Information Center (Map p968; ☎ 415-391-2000, events hotline 415-391-2001; www.onlyinsanfrancisco.com; Market & Powell Sts, lower level, Hallidie Plaza; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 3pm Sat & Sun; 📍 Powell-Mason, Powell-Hyde, 📍 Powell St, 📍 Powell St) Provides practical information for tourists, publishes glossy tourist-oriented booklets and runs a 24-hour events hotline.

WEBSITES

The global social media platforms Craigslist (<http://sfbay.craigslist.org>), Twitter (www.twitter.com) and Yelp (www.yelp.com) were all invented in San Francisco and are city institutions; check them out for news on pop-up shops, free shows, bar and restaurant reviews and the like.

i Getting There & Away

AIR

San Francisco International Airport (SFO; www.flysfo.com) is 14 miles south of downtown off Hwy 101 and accessible by Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART). Oakland International Airport (OAK; ☎ 510-563-3300; www.oaklandairport.com) serves primarily domestic destinations and is located about a 50-minute drive or BART ride across the Bay from San Francisco.

BUS

Until 2017, San Francisco's intercity hub remains the Temporary Transbay Terminal (Map p968; Howard & Main Sts), where you can catch buses on AC Transit (☎ 511; www.actransit.org) to the East Bay, Golden Gate Transit (Map p968; www.goldengatetransit.org) north to Marin and Sonoma Counties, and SamTrans south to Palo Alto and the Pacific coast. Greyhound (☎ 800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com) buses leave daily for Los Angeles ($59, eight to 12 hours), Truckee near Lake Tahoe ($31, 5½ hours) and other destinations.

TRAIN

Amtrak (☎ 800-872-7245; www.amtrakcalifornia.com) offers rail passes that are good for seven days of travel in California within a 21-day period (from $159). Coast Starlight's spectacular 35-hour run from Los Angeles to Seattle stops in Oakland, and California Zephyr takes its sweet time (51 hours) from Chicago to Oakland. Both have sleeping cars and dining/lounge cars with panoramic windows. Amtrak runs free shuttle buses to San Francisco's Ferry Building and CalTrain station.

CalTrain (www.caltrain.com; cnr 4th & King Sts) connects San Francisco with Silicon Valley hubs and San Jose.

i Getting Around

For Bay Area transit options, departures and arrivals, call ☎ 511 or check www.511.org.

TO/FROM SAN FRANCISCO INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

A taxi to downtown San Francisco costs $35 to $50.

BART (Bay Area Rapid Transit; www.bart.gov; one way $8.25) Fast 30-minute ride to/from downtown San Francisco from/to SFO BART station of the International Terminal.

SamTrans (www.samtrans.com; one way $5) Express bus KX takes about 30 minutes to reach Temporary Transbay Terminal.

SuperShuttle (☎ 800-258-3826; www.super-shuttle.com) Shared van rides to downtown San Francisco for $17.

TO/FROM OAKLAND INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

From Oakland International Airport, take the AirBART shuttle ($3) to Coliseum station to catch BART to downtown San Francisco ($3.85); take a shared van to downtown for $27 to $35 with SuperShuttle; or pay $55 to $70 for a taxi to San Francisco destinations.

BOAT

Blue & Gold Ferries (Map p968; www.blueand-goldfleet.com) operates the Alameda–Oakland ferry from Pier 41 and the Ferry Building. Golden Gate Ferry (www.goldengateferry.org) runs from the Ferry Building to Sausalito and Larkspur in Marin County.

CAR

Avoid driving in San Francisco if possible: street parking is elusive and meter readers are ruthless. Downtown parking lots are at Embarcadero Center, 5th and Mission Sts, Union Sq, and Sutter and Stockton Sts. National car-rental agencies have airport and downtown offices.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

MUNI (Municipal Transit Agency; ☎ 511; www.sfmta.com) operates bus, streetcar and cable-car lines; MUNI Street & Transit Map is available free online. Standard fare for buses or street-cars is $2; cable-car fare is $6. MUNI Passport (1/3/7 days $14/22/28) allows unlimited travel on all MUNI transportation, including cable cars; it's sold at San Francisco Visitor Information Center and Union Sq's TIX Bay Area kiosk. City Pass (www.citypass.com; adult/child $84/59) covers Muni and admission to four attractions.

BART links San Francisco with the East Bay and runs beneath Market St, down Mission St, south to SFO and Millbrae, where it connects with CalTrain.

TAXI

Fares run about $2.75 per mile; meters start at $3.50.

DeSoto Cab (☎ 415-970-1300)

Green Cab (☎ 415-626-4733; www.626green.com) Fuel-efficient hybrids; worker-owned collective.

Luxor (☎ 415-282-4141)

Yellow Cab (☎ 415-333-3333)

Marin County

Majestic redwoods cling to coastal hills just across the Golden Gate Bridge in wealthy, laid-back Marin (www.visitmarin.org). The southernmost town, Sausalito, is a tiny bayside destination for bike trips over the bridge (take the ferry back to San Francisco). Near the harbor, the San Francisco Bay-Delta Model (Map p966; ☎ 415-332-3871; www.spn.usace.army.mil; 2100 Bridgeway Blvd, Sausalito; admission by donation; ☀ 9am-4pm Tue-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun late May-early Sep, 9am-4pm Tue-Sat early Sep-late May; ♿) is a way-cool giant hydraulic recreation of the entire bay and delta.

Marin Headlands

These windswept, rugged headlands are laced with hiking trails, providing panoramic views of the city and bay. To find the visitor center (Map p966; ☎ 415-331-1540; www.nps.gov/goga/marin-headlands.htm; Fort Barry, Bldg 948; ☀ 9:30am-4:30pm Sat-Mon Apr-Sep), take the Alexander Ave exit after crossing north over the Golden Gate Bridge, turn left under the freeway onto Bunker Rd then follow the signs.

Nearby attractions include Point Bonita Lighthouse (Map p966; www.nps.gov/goga/pobo.htm; off Field Rd; ☀ 12:30-3:30pm Sat-Mon) FREE, Rodeo Beach and the educational Marine Mammal Center (Map p966; ☎ 415-289-7325; www.tmmc.org; 2000 Bunker Rd; admission by donation; ☀ 10am-5pm; ♿) ♿ at Fort Cronkite. East of Hwy 101 at Fort Baker, the interactive Bay Area Discovery Museum (Map p966; ☎ 415-339-3900; www.baykidsmuseum.org; 557 McReynolds Rd, Sausalito; admission $11, 1st Wed of month free; ☀ 9am-5pm Tue-Sun; ♿) is awesome for kids.

Near the visitor center, eco-conscious HI Marin Headlands Hostel (Map p966; ☎ 415-331-2777; www.norcalhostels.org/marin; Fort Barry, Bldg 941; dm $26-30, r without bath $72-92; @) ♿ occupies two historic 1907 buildings on a forested hill, with private rooms in a former officer's house. For historical luxury, book a fireplace room with bay views at Fort Baker's LEED-certified Cavallo Point (Map p966; ☎ 415-339-4700, 888-651-2003; www.cavallopoint.com; 601 Murray Circle; r from $379; ♿ ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) ♿ lodge.

Mt Tamalpais State Park

Majestic Mt Tam (2571ft) is a woody playground for hikers and mountain bikers. Mt Tamalpais State Park (Map p966; ☎ 415-388-2070; www.friendsofmontam.org; per car $8) encompasses 6300 acres of parklands and over 200 miles of trails; don't miss driving up to East Peak Summit lookout. Panoramic Hwy climbs from Hwy 1 through the park to Stinson Beach, a mellow seaside town with a sandy crescent-shaped beach.

Park headquarters are at Pantoll Station (Map p966; ☎ 415-388-2070; 801 Panoramic Hwy, Mill Valley; ☀ 8am-7pm Fri-Sun, shorter hr winter; 📶), the nexus of many trails, with a first-come, first-served campground (Map p966; tent sites $25). Book far ahead for a rustic cabin (no electricity or running water) or walk-in campsite at Steep Ravine (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; tent site $25, cabin $100), off Hwy 1 south of Stinson Beach. Or hike in with food, a sleeping bag and a towel to off-the-grid West Point Inn (Map p966; ☎ info 415-388-9955, reservations 415-646-0702; www.westpointinn.com; 100 Old Railroad Grade Fire Rd, Mill Valley; r per adult/child $50/25; reservations required).

Muir Woods National Monument

Wander among an ancient stand of the world's tallest trees at 520-acre Muir Woods National Monument (Map p966; ☎ 415-388-2595; www.nps.gov/muwo; Muir Woods Rd, Mill Valley; adult/child $7/free; ☀ 8am-7:30pm, closes earlier mid-Sep-mid-Mar), 10 miles northwest of the Golden Gate Bridge. Easy hiking trails loop past thousand-year-old redwoods at Cathedral Grove. By the entrance, a cafe serves light lunches and drinks. Come midweek to avoid crowds; otherwise arrive early morning or late afternoon. Take Hwy 101 to the Hwy 1 exit, then follow the signs.

The Muir Woods Shuttle (Marin Transit Bus 66; ☎ 415-455-2000; www.goldengatetransit.org; round-trip adult/child $5/free) operates weekends and holidays from early May through late October, running every 10 to 20 minutes from Marin City, with limited connections to Sausalito's ferry terminal.

Point Reyes National Seashore

The windswept peninsula of Point Reyes National Seashore (www.nps.gov/pore) juts 10 miles out to sea on an entirely different tectonic plate, protecting over 100 sq miles of beaches, lagoons and forested hills. A mile west of Olema, Bear Valley Visitor Center (☎ 415-464-5100; www.nps.gov/pore; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat & Sun) has maps, information and natural-history displays. The 0.6-mile Earthquake Trail, which crosses the San Andreas Fault zone, starts nearby.

Crowning the peninsula's westernmost tip, Point Reyes Lighthouse (end of Sir Francis Drake Blvd; ☀ 2:30pm-4pm Thu-Mon, weather permitting) FREE is ideal for winter whale-watching. Off Pierce Point Rd, the 9.5-mile round-trip Tomales Point Trail rolls atop blustery bluffs past herds of tule elk to the peninsula's northern tip. Paddling Tomales Bay gets you up close to seabirds and seals; Blue Waters Kayaking (☎ 415-669-2600; www.bwkayak.com; rentals/tours from $50/70; 🚣) launches from Inverness and Marshall (reserve in advance).

Nature lovers bunk at the only in-park lodging, Hi Point Reyes Hostel (☎ 415-663-8811; www.norcalhostels.org/reyes; 1390 Limantour Spit Rd; dm $24, r without bath $82-120; ☀ check-in 2:30pm-10pm; 📶) 🍃, 8 miles inland from the visitor center. By marshy wetlands, Motel Inverness (☎ 866-453-3839, 415-236-1967; www.motelinverness.com; 12718 Sir Francis Drake Blvd; r $99-190; 📶) sports spiffy rooms and a fireplace lounge with pool tables. The West Marin Chamber of Commerce (☎ 415-663-9232; www.pointreyes.org) checks availability at cozy inns, cottages and B&Bs.

Two miles north of Olema, the tiny town of Point Reyes Station has heart-warming bakeries, cafes and restaurants. Gather a picnic lunch at Tomales Bay Foods & Cowgirl Creamery (www.cowgirlcreamery.com; 80 4th St; sandwiches $6-12; ☀ 10am-6pm Wed-Sun; 🚶) 🍃 or revel in handmade, seasonal Cal-Italian cuisine at Osteria Stellina (☎ 415-663-9988; http://osteriastellina.com; 11285 Hwy 1; mains $14-24; ☀ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-9pm; 🚶) 🍃.

Berkeley

Not much has changed since the 1960s heyday of anti-Vietnam War protests – except the bumper stickers: 'No Blood for Oil' has supplanted 'Make Love Not War'. You can't walk around nude on campus anymore, but 'Berserkeley' remains the Bay Area's radical hub, crawling with university students, scoffing skateboarders and aging Birkenstock-shod hippies.

👁 Sights & Activities

Leading to the campus's south gate, Telegraph Avenue is as youthful and gritty as San Francisco's Haight St, packed with cafes, cheap eats, bookshops and music stores.

University of California, Berkeley

UNIVERSITY

(www.berkeley.edu) One of the country's top universities, 'Cal' is home to over 35,000 diverse, politically conscious students. The Visitor Services Center (☎ 510-642-5215; <http://visitors.berkeley.edu>; 101 Sproul Hall; ☺ tours usually 10am Mon-Sat, 1pm Sun) leads free campus tours (reservations required). Ride the elevator to the top of the landmark 1914 Campanile (Sather Tower; adult/child $2/1; ☺ 10am-3:45pm Mon-Fri, to 4:45pm Sat, 10am-1:30pm & 3-4:45pm Sun; ♿). The Bancroft Library displays the small gold nugget that kicked off California's gold rush in 1848.

UC Berkeley Art Museum MUSEUM
(☎ 510-642-0808; www.bampfa.berkeley.edu; 2626 Bancroft Way; adult/child $10/7; ☺ 11am-5pm Wed-Sun) Eleven galleries showcase a wide range of works, from ancient Chinese to cutting-edge contemporary American art. Across the street, its Pacific Film Archive (PFA; ☎ 510-642-5249; www.bampfa.berkeley.edu; 2575 Bancroft Way; adult/child $9.50/6.50) screens independent and avant-garde films. Both are scheduled to move to a new location on Oxford St, between Center and Addison Sts.

Tilden Regional Park PARK
(www.ebparks.org/parks/tilden) Up in the Berkeley Hills, escape on 40 miles of hiking and biking trails, with botanical gardens, swimming at Lake Anza and a merry-go-round and a steam train for kiddos.

🛏 Sleeping

Motels line University Ave west of campus.

YMCA HOSTEL $
(☎ 510-848-6800; www.ymca-cba.org/downtown-berkeley; 2001 Allston Way; s/d without bath from $49/81; @☎☎) The recently remodeled 100-year-old downtown 'Y' is Berkeley's best budget option. Rates for austere private rooms include pool, fitness center and kitchen access.

Downtown Berkeley Inn MOTEL $$
(☎ 510-843-4043; www.downtownberkeleyinn.com; 2001 Bancroft Way; r from $109; ♿☎☎) Showing off elements of boutique style, this 27-room motel has good-sized rooms with modern amenities. Free parking.

Hotel Durant BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(☎ 510-845-8981; www.hoteldurant.com; 2600 Durant Ave; r $195-309; ♿@☎☎) A block from campus, the lobby of this 1928 hotel is cheekily adorned with embarrassing year-book photos, while smallish rooms have bongs repurposed into bedside lamps. Parking is $16 (free for hybrid cars).

🍴 Eating

Cream DESSERTS $
(www.creamnation.com; 2399 Telegraph Ave; items $2-4; ☺ noon-midnight Mon-Wed, to 2am Thu-Fri, 11am-2am Sat, 11am-11pm Sun) Crazy creative ice-cream sandwiches let you mix and match your own flavors – salted caramel with snickerdoodles, anyone? Cash only.

Cheese Board Pizza PIZZERIA $
(<http://cheeseboardcollective.coop>; 1512 Shattuck Ave; slice/half pizza $2.50/10; ☺ 11:30am-3pm & 4:30-8pm Tue-Sat; ♿☎☎) Sit down for a slice of crispy one-option-per-day veggie pizza at this worker-owned collective, where live music often plays at night.

Bette's Oceanview Diner DINER $$
(www.bettesdiner.com; 1807 4th St; mains $6-13; ☺ 6:30am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun) At this buzzing breakfast spot near the I-80 Fwy, table waits can be long, but it's worth it for baked souffle pancake perfection.

★ Chez Panisse CALIFORNIAN $$$
(☎ cafe 510-548-5049, restaurant 510-548-5525; 1517 Shattuck Ave; cafe dinner mains $18-29, restaurant prix-fixe dinner $65-100; ☺ cafe 11:30am-2:45pm & 5-10:30pm Mon-Thu, to 3pm & to 11:30pm Fri & Sat; restaurant seatings 6-6:30pm & 8:30-9:15pm Mon-Sat) ♿ Genuflect at the culinary temple of Alice Waters: the birthplace of California cuisine remains at the pinnacle of Bay Area dining. Book one month ahead for its seasonally inspired prix-fixe restaurant menu (no substitutions) or upstairs at the à la carte cafe.

🍷 Drinking & Entertainment

Caffe Strada CAFE
(2300 College Ave; ☺ 6am-midnight; ♿☎) Caffeine-wired students mob the outdoor patio to study, ardently talk philosophy or flirt.

Freight & Salvage Coffeehouse LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 510-644-2020; <http://thefreight.org>; 2020 Addison St; tickets $5-30) Originating in the radical '60s era, this legendary club stages all-ages shows of traditional folk and world music.

Berkeley Repertory Theatre THEATER
(☎ 510-647-2949; www.berkeleyrep.org; 2025 Addison St; tickets $35-100) Highly respected company has produced bold versions of classical and contemporary plays since 1968.

i Getting There & Around

AC Transit (p990) runs local buses around Berkeley ($2.10) and to Oakland ($2.10) and San Francisco ($4.20). BART (☎ 511, 510-465-2278; www.bart.gov) trains connect downtown Berkeley, a short walk from campus, with Oakland ($1.75) and SF ($3.70).

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

The Golden State goes wild in Northern California, with coast redwoods swirled in fog and Wine Country vineyards and mud-bath wallows. Befitting this dramatic meeting of land and water is an unlikely melange of local residents: timber barons and hippie tree huggers, dreadlocked Rastafarians and biodynamic ranchers, pot farmers and political radicals of every stripe. Come for the scenery, but stay for the top-notch wine and farm-to-fork restaurants, along with misty hikes among the world's tallest trees, a nekid hot-springs soak and rambling conversations that begin with 'Hey, dude!' and end hours later.

Wine Country

A patchwork of vineyards stretches from sunny inland Napa to windy coastal Sonoma – California's premier wine-growing region. Napa has art-filled tasting rooms by big-name architects, with prices to match. In down-to-earth Sonoma, you may drink in a shed and meet the vintner's dog. Wine Country is at least an hour's drive north of San Francisco via Hwy 101 or I-80.

Napa Valley

Over 200 wineries crowd 30-mile-long Napa Valley along three main routes. Traffic-jammed on weekends, Hwy 29 is lined with blockbuster wineries. Running parallel, Silverado Trail moves faster, passing boutique winemakers, bizarre architecture and cult-hit Cabernet Sauvignon. West toward Sonoma, Hwy 121 (Carneros Hwy) has landmark vineyards specializing in sparkling wines and Pinot Noir.

At the southern end of the valley, Napa – the valley's workaday hub – lacks rusticity, but has trendy restaurants and tasting rooms downtown. Stop by the Napa Valley Welcome Center (☎ 855-333-6272, 707-251-5895; www.visitnapavalley.com; 600 Main St; ☎ 9am-5pm Sep-Apr, 9am-5pm Mon-Thu, to 6pm Fri-Sun May-Oct) for wine-tasting passes and winery maps.

Heading north on Hwy 29, the former stagecoach stop of tiny Yountville has more Michelin-starred eateries per capita than anywhere else in the USA. Another 10 miles north, traffic rolls to a stop in charming St Helena – the Beverly Hills of Napa – where there's genteel strolling and shopping, if you can find parking, that is.

At the valley's northern end, folksy Calistoga – Napa's least-gentrified town – is home to hot-spring spas and mud-bath emporiums using volcanic ash from nearby Mt St Helena.

i Sights & Activities

Most Napa wineries require reservations. Book one appointment, then build your day around it. Plan to visit no more than a few tasting rooms each day.

★ Hess Collection

WINERY, GALLERY

(☎ 707-255-8584; www.hesscollection.com; 4411 Redwood Rd, Napa; tasting $10; ☎ 10am-5pm) Northwest of downtown Napa, this sustainable winery pairs monster Cabernet with blue-chip modern art by Robert Rauschenberg and others. Reservations suggested.

★ di Rosa Art + Nature Preserve

GALLERY, GARDEN

(☎ 707-226-5991; www.dirosaart.org; 5200 Hwy 121, Napa; admission $5, tours $12-15; ☎ 10am-4pm Wed-Sun, to 6pm Wed-Sun Apr-Oct) When you notice scrap-metal sheep grazing Carneros vineyards, you've spotted one of the best collections of modern NorCal art anywhere. Reservations advised for tours.

Frog's Leap

WINERY

(☎ 707-963-4704; www.frogslap.com; 8815 Conn Creek Rd, Rutherford; tasting $15, incl tour $20; ☎ 10am-4pm; ♿ ♿) Meandering paths wind through gardens surrounding an 1884 barn at this LEED-certified winery, pouring stand-out Sauvignon Blanc and Cabernet. Book tours in advance.

Pride Mountain

WINERY

(☎ 707-963-4949; www.pridewines.com; 3000 Summit Trail, St Helena; tasting $10, incl tour $15-75; ☎ by appointment) Cult-favorite Pride straddles the Sonoma-Napa border and makes stellar Cabernet, Merlot, Chardonnay and Viognier at an unfussy hilltop estate with spectacular picnicking.

Casa Nuestra

WINERY

(☎707-864-9463; www.casanuestra.com; 3451 Silverado Trail, St Helena; tasting $10; ☺ by appointment) 🍷 A peace flag and portrait of Elvis greet you at this tiny solar-powered winery, known for growing unusual varietals. Goats frolic beside the picnic area.

Castello di Amorosa

WINERY, CASTLE

(☎707-967-6272; www.castellodiamorosa.com; 4045 Hwy 29, Calistoga; admission & tasting $18-28, incl guided tour $33-69; ☺ 9:30am-6pm, to 5pm Nov-Feb) Tour a recreated 13th-century Tuscan castle, complete with a dungeon tasting room stocked with Italian varietals.

Indian Springs Spa

SPA

(☎707-942-4913; www.indianspringscalistoga.com; 1712 Lincoln Ave, Calistoga; ☺ by appointment 9am-8pm) Book ahead for a volcanic-mud bath at Calistoga's original 19th-century mineral-springs resort. Treatments include access to spring-fed pools.

🛏 Sleeping

The valley's best values are midweek at Napa's less-than-exciting motels.

Bothe-Napa Valley*State Park Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; 3801 Hwy 128, Calistoga; camping & RV sites $35; 🚰🚿🚻) Hillside campsites with a summertime swimming pool, coin-op hot showers and hiking trails beneath moss-covered oaks await.

Chablis Inn

MOTEL $$

(☎707-257-1944; www.chablisinn.com; 3360 Solano Ave, Napa; r $105-179; 🍷🍷🍷) On Napa's suburban strip, these crisp, modern rooms are spacious and don't cut corners – some even have jetted tubs for couples.

EuroSpa & Inn

MOTEL $$$

(☎707-942-6829; www.eurospa.com; 1202 Pine St, Calistoga; r incl breakfast $145-195; 🍷🍷🍷) Immaculate single-story motel on a quiet side street has just 13 rooms with two-person whirlpool tubs and gas fireplaces. Skip the on-site spa, though.

★ Indian Springs Resort

RESORT $$$

(☎707-942-4913; www.indianspringscalistoga.com; 1712 Lincoln Ave, Calistoga; r/cottage from $199/229; 🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷) At Calistoga's most harmonious hot-springs resort, charming bungalows (some with kitchens) face a broad lawn with rustling palm trees, shuffleboard and bocce courts, hammocks and BBQ grills. Bicycles are free for pampered guests to borrow.

🍴 Eating

Many Wine Country restaurants keep shorter hours in winter and spring.

Oxbow Public Market

MARKET $

(☎707-226-6529; www.oxbowpublicmarket.com; 644 1st St, Napa; dishes from $3; ☺ 9am-7pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun) 🍷 Oxbow showcases sustainably produced artisanal foods by 20-plus vendors. Feast on Hog Island oysters, Model Bakery muffins, Ca' Momi's crispy pizzas or Three Twins organic ice cream.

Gott's Roadside

AMERICAN $$

(☎707-963-3486; <http://gotts.com>; 933 Main St, St Helena; dishes $3-14; ☺ 7am-9pm, to 10pm May-Sep; 🚗) A 1950s drive-in diner with 21st-century sensibilities: burgers are all-natural beef, organic chicken or sushi-grade tuna, with sides like chili-dusted sweet-potato fries and handmade milkshakes.

Oakville Grocery

DELI, MARKET $$

(☎707-944-8802; www.oakvillegrocery.com; 7856 Hwy 29, Oakville; sandwiches $9-14; ☺ 6:30am-5pm) Pick up picnic staples or grab a gourmet meal on the go, with specialty sandwiches crafted from locally made artisanal ingredients and decadent desserts. Second location in downtown Healdsburg.

Wine Spectator*Greystone Restaurant

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎707-967-1010; www.ciarestaurants.com; 2555 Main St, St Helena; dinner mains $22-34; ☺ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-9pm Mon-Fri, 11:30am-9pm Sat, noon-7:15pm Sun; 🍷) An 1889 stone chateau houses the Culinary Institute of America's fine-dining restaurant, bakery-cafe and gadget-filled shop. Book ahead for weekend cooking demos and wine-tasting classes.

Ad Hoc

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎707-944-2487; www.adhocrestaurant.com; 6476 Washington St, Yountville; prix-fixe dinner from $52; ☺ 5-10pm Wed-Sun, plus 10am-1pm Sun) Don't ask for a menu at chef Thomas Keller's dressed-down 'experimental' kitchen. Changing daily, a four-course family-style dinner allows no substitutions (except for dietary restrictions), but none are needed – every dish is comforting, fresh and spot-on.

★ French Laundry CALIFORNIAN $$$
 (☎ 707-944-2380; www.frenchlaundry.com; 6640 Washington St, Yountville; prix-fixe dinner $270; ☺ seatings 11am-1pm Fri-Sun & 5:30pm-9:15pm daily) Sparkling with three Michelin stars, the French Laundry is a high-wattage culinary experience, full of whimsy and wit. Book exactly two months ahead: call at 10am (or try OpenTable.com at midnight). If you can't score a reservation, console yourself at chef Thomas Keller's nearby note-perfect French brasserie Bouchon or with pastries from Bouchon Bakery.

Sonoma Valley

More laid-back, less commercial than Napa, Sonoma Valley enfolds over 70 wineries off Hwy 12 – and, unlike in Napa, most welcome picnicking. Note there are actually three Sonomas: the town, the valley and the county.

👁 Sights & Activities

Downtown Sonoma was once the capital of the short-lived Bear Flag Republic. Today Sonoma Plaza – the state's largest town square – is bordered by chic boutiques, historical buildings and a visitor center (☎ 866-996-1090, 707-996-1090; www.sonomavalley.com; 453 1st St E; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, from 10am Sun).

Jack London State Historic Park PARK
 (☎ 707-938-5216; www.jacklondonpark.com; 2400 London Ranch Rd, Glen Ellen; per car $8, tour adult/child $4/2; ☺ 9:30am-5pm Thu-Mon) Obey the call of the wild where adventurer-novelist Jack London built his dream house – it burned on the eve of completion in 1913. Tour the writer's original cottage or browse memorabilia inside the small museum standing in a redwood grove. Twenty miles of hiking and mountain-biking trails weave through the park's 1400 hilltop acres.

★ Bartholomew Park Winery WINERY
 (☎ 707-939-3024; www.bartpark.com; 1000 Vineyard Lane, Sonoma; tasting $10, incl tour $20; ☺ 11am-4:30pm) 🍷 In a 400-acre nature preserve that's perfect for picnicking, the family-owned vineyards originally cultivated in 1857 are now organic-certified, yielding citrus-sunshine Sauvignon Blanc and smoky-midnight Merlot.

Gundlach-Bundschu Winery WINERY
 (☎ 707-939-3015; www.gunbun.com; 2000 Denmark St, Sonoma; tasting $10, incl tour $20-50; ☺ 11am-4:30pm, to 5:30pm Jun-mid-Oct) 🍷 West of downtown, this sustainable winery dating from 1858 looks like a storybook castle. Winemakers craft legendary Tempranillo and signature Gewürztraminer.

Kunde WINERY
 (☎ 707-833-5501; www.kunde.com; 9825 Hwy 12, Kenwood; tasting & tour $10-40; ☺ 10:30am-5pm) 🍷 Make reservations for a sustainable vineyard tour, guided hike or mountain-top tasting of estate-grown Cabernet, Zinfandel and Sauvignon Blanc.

Kaz Winery WINERY
 (☎ 707-833-2536; www.kazwinery.com; 233 Adobe Canyon Rd, Kenwood; tasting $5; ☺ 11am-5pm Fri-Mon, by appointment Tue-Thu; 🍷 🍷 🍷) 🍷 Veer off Hwy 12 for offbeat, organically grown, cult-favorite wines, poured at a wooden barrel-top bar inside a barn.

Ravenswood Winery WINERY
 (☎ 707-933-2332; www.ravenswoodwinery.com; 18701 Gehricke Rd, Sonoma; tasting $10, incl tour $15; ☺ 10am-4:30pm) With the slogan 'no wimpy wines,' this buzzing tasting room pours a full slate of Zinfandels. Novices welcome.

Cornerstone Sonoma GARDENS
 (☎ 707-933-3010; www.cornerstonegardens.com; 23570 Arnold Dr, Sonoma; ☺ 10am-4pm) FREE There's nothing traditional about this avante-garde tapestry of landscaped gardens, 5 miles south of downtown Sonoma.

🏠 Sleeping

At the valley's north end, Santa Rosa has more budget-saving motels and hotels.

Sugarloaf Ridge State Park CAMPGROUND $
 (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; 2605 Adobe Canyon Rd, Kenwood; camping & RV sites $35; 🍷 🍷) Near mid-valley wineries, campsites laze in a stream-fed hillside meadow by forested hiking trails. Coin-op hot showers available.

Sonoma Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$$
 (☎ 800-468-6016, 707-996-2996; www.sonoma-hotel.com; 110 W Spain St, Sonoma; r incl breakfast $115-240) Old-fashioned rooms squeeze inside this 19th-century plaza landmark. No elevator or parking lot. Two-night minimum stay most weekends

Beltane Ranch

B&B $$$

(☎ 707-996-6501; www.beltaneranch.com; 11775 Hwy 12, Glen Ellen; d incl breakfast $150-265; ☺) Wide porches are dotted with swings and white wicker chairs at this cheerful lemon-yellow 1890 ranch house and cottage surrounded by pasturelands. No phones or TVs.

Gaige House Inn

B&B $$$

(☎ 800-935-0237, 707-935-0237; www.gaige.com; 13540 Arnold Dr, Glen Ellen; d incl breakfast from $275; ☺ ☹ ☹) Near vineyards, Asian-chic rooms and fireplace suites adorn a historic home, with pebbled meditation courtyards out by the pool. Sister inns in Sonoma, Healdsburg and Yountville.

Eating

Fremont Diner

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 707-938-7370; http://thefremontdiner.com; 2698 Fremont Dr, Sonoma; breakfast & lunch mains $6-14; ☺ 8am-3pm Mon-Wed, to 9pm Thu-Sun; ☹) ☹ Feast on Southern-inspired, farm-to-table cooking at this down-home diner with picnic tables outside. Arrive early to avoid long waits.

Fig Cafe & Winebar

FRENCH $$

(☎ 707-938-2130; www.thefigcafe.com; 13690 Arnold Dr, Glen Ellen; mains $10-20; ☺ 10am-3pm Sat & Sun, 5:30pm-9pm daily) Imagine French-inspired comfort food like steamed mussels and duck cassoulet in a convivial room with vaulted wooden ceilings. Even better: no reservations or corkage fee.

Red Grape

ITALIAN $$

(☎ 707-996-4103; http://theredgrape.com; 529 1st St W, Sonoma; mains $10-20; ☺ 11:30am-10pm; ☹) At this sunlight-filled pizzeria, thin-crust pies topped with locally made cheeses, panini sandwiches and pasta shake hands with small-production Sonoma wines.

★ Cafe La Haye

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎ 707-935-5994; www.cafelahaye.com; 140 E Napa St, Sonoma; mains $20-30; ☺ 5:30pm-9pm Tue-Sat) ☹ This tiny bistro with an open kitchen creates earthy New American dishes from ingredients all sourced within 60 miles. Tables are squeezed together elbow-to-elbow. Book ahead.

Russian River Valley

Redwood trees tower over small wineries in the Russian River Valley, about 75 miles northwest of San Francisco (via Hwys 101 and 116), in western Sonoma County.

Famous for its apple orchards and farm-tour trails, Sebastopol has a New Age spiritual aura, with downtown bookshops, art galleries and boutiques and antiques stores further south. Have a pint and pub grub in the beer garden at Hopmonk Tavern (☎ 707-829-9300; www.hopmonk.com; 230 Petaluma Ave; mains $12-23; ☺ 11:30am-9pm Sun-Wed, to 9:30pm Thu-Sat, bar till 1:30am; ☺), shaking with world beats at night. Four miles northwest, Willow Wood Market Cafe (☎ 707-823-0233; www.willowwoodgraton.com; 9020 Graton Rd, Graton; most mains $7-17; ☺ 8am-9pm Mon-Sat, to 3pm Sun; ☹) cooks comfort-food breakfasts and hot, haute sandwiches at lunch.

Guerneville is the main river beach town, buzzing with Harleys and gay-friendly honky-tonks. Explore old-growth redwoods at Armstrong Redwoods State Reserve (☎ 707-869-2015; www.parks.ca.gov; 17000 Armstrong Woods Rd; per car $8; ☺ 8am-sunset; ☹), next to no-reservations Bullfrog Pond Campground (www.stewardsofthecoastandredwoods.org; campsites $25; ☹ ☹). Paddle downriver, past herons and otters, with Burke's Canoe Trips (☎ 707-887-1222; www.burkescanoetrips.com; 8600 River Rd, Forestville; canoe rental incl shuttle $60). Head southeast to sip bubbly at the outdoor hilltop tasting bar at Iron Horse Vineyards (☎ 707-887-1507; www.ironhorsevineyards.com; 9786 Ross Station Rd, Sebastopol; tasting $15, incl tour $20; ☺ 10am-4:30pm). Other excellent wineries are scattered along rural Westside Rd, which follows the river to Healdsburg. Guerneville's visitor center (☎ 877-644-9001, 707-869-9000; www.russianriver.com; 16209 1st St; ☺ 10am-5pm) offers winery maps and lodging info. The town's best eats are at California-smart Boon Eat + Drink (☎ 707-869-0780; http://eatatboon.com; 16248 Main St; dinner mains $15-26; ☺ 11am-3pm Mon-Tue & Thu-Fri, 5-9pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm & 5-10pm Sat & Sun), which manages the boutique Boon Hotel + Spa (☎ 707-869-2721; www.boonhotels.com; 14711 Armstrong Woods Rd; r $165-275; ☺ ☹ ☹) ☹, a minimalist green oasis with a saline pool.

The aptly named 10-mile Bohemian Hwy winds south of the river to tiny Occidental, where Howard Station Cafe (www.

howardstationcafe.com; 3811 Bohemian Hwy; mains $6-11; ☺ 7am-2:30pm Mon-Fri, to 3pm Sat & Sun; ☺☺☺ serves hearty breakfasts like blueberry cornmeal pancakes (cash only) and Barley & Hops Tavern (☎ 707-874-9037; www.barleynhops.com; 3688 Bohemian Hwy; ☺ 4-9:30pm Mon-Wed, 11am-9:30pm Thu & Sun, to 10pm Fri & Sat) pours craft beers. It's another three miles south to Freestone, home of the phenomenal bakery Wild Flour Bread (www.wildflourbread.com; 140 Bohemian Hwy; items from $3; ☺ 8:30am-6pm Fri-Mon) and invigorating cedar-enzyme baths at Osmosis (☎ 707-823-8231; www.osmosis.com; 209 Bohemian Hwy; ☺ by appointment) spa.

Healdsburg to Boonville

More than 100 wineries dot the valleys within a 20-mile radius of Healdsburg, where upscale eateries, wine-tasting rooms and stylish hotels surround a Spanish-style plaza. For tasting passes and maps, drop by the visitor center (☎ 800-648-9922, 707-433-6935; www.healdsburg.org; 217 Healdsburg Ave; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 3pm Sat, 10am-2pm Sun). Dine with California-chic locavores on the leafy patio at Barndiva (☎ 707-431-0100; www.barndiva.com; 231 Center St; dinner mains $25-36; ☺ noon-2pm Wed-Sat, 11am-2pm Sun & 5:30pm-9:30pm Wed-Sun, to 10pm Fri & Sat), or grab lunch near the Alexander Valley's vineyards at country-style Jimtown Store (☎ 707-433-1212; www.jimtown.com; 6706 Hwy 128; sandwiches $6-14; ☺ 7:30am-4pm Mon-Thu, to 5pm Fri-Sun). Afterward bed down at old-fashioned L&M Motel (☎ 707-433-6528; www.landmmotel.com; 70 Healdsburg Ave; r $85-165; ☺☺☺☺☺) or retro-romantic Healdsburg Modern Cottages (☎ 866-964-0110; www.healdsburgcottages.com; 425 Foss St; d from $250; ☺☺☺☺).

Picture-perfect farmstead wineries await discovery in Dry Creek Valley, west of Hwy 101 from Healdsburg. Pedal a bicycle out to taste Zinfandel at Truett Hurst Vineyards (☎ 707-433-9545; www.truethurst.com; 5610 Dry Creek Rd; tastings $5-10; ☺ 10am-5pm) ☺ and Bella Vineyards & Wine Caves (☎ 707-473-9171; www.bellawinery.com; 9711 West Dry Creek Rd; tasting $10; ☺ 11am-4:30pm), or motor toward the Russian River and biodynamic Porter Creek Vineyards (☎ 707-433-6321; www.portercreekvineyards.com; 8735 Westside Rd; tasting $10; ☺ 10:30am-4:30pm) ☺ for Pinot Noir and Viognier poured at a bar made from a bowling-alley lane.

North of Healdsburg, follow Hwy 128 through the Anderson Valley, known for its fruit orchards and stand-out winemakers like Navarro (☎ 707-895-3686; www.navarrowine.com; 5601 Hwy 128, Philo; ☺ 9am-5pm, to 6pm May-Sep) and Husch (☎ 800-554-8724; www.huschvineyards.com; 4400 Hwy 128, Philo; ☺ 10am-5pm). Outside Boonville, which has roadside cafes, bakeries, delis and ice-cream shops, brake for disc-golf and beer at solar-powered Anderson Valley Brewing Company (☎ 707-895-2337; www.avbc.com; 17700 Hwy 253; ☺ 11am-6pm Sat-Thu, to 7pm Fri, tours 1:30pm & 3:30pm daily, closed Tue & Wed Jan-Mar) ☺.

Getting There & Around

Getting to and around Wine Country by public transportation is slow, but just possible.

For Napa, take Vallejo Baylink Ferry (☎ 877-643-3779; www.baylinkferry.com) from San Francisco's Ferry Building ($13, one hour). In Vallejo, connect with Napa Valley's Vine Transit (☎ 707-251-2800; www.ridethevine.com) buses to Napa ($1.50 to $3.25, 40 to 55 minutes), with limited onward connections to Yountville, St Helena and Calistoga. Alternatively, take BART to El Cerrito del Norte station, then connect on weekdays with Vine Transit bus 29 to Napa ($3.25, 1¼ hours); on weekends, transfer to SolTrans (☎ 707-648-4666; www.soltransride.com) bus 80 to Vallejo ($1.75, 25 minutes), then catch Vine Transit bus 11 to Napa ($1.50, 55 minutes).

For Sonoma, Greyhound (☎ 800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com) buses connect San Francisco and Santa Rosa ($24, 1¼ hours). Golden Gate Transit (☎ 415-455-2000, 511; http://goldengate.org) also links San Francisco to Santa Rosa ($10.75, two to three hours). From Santa Rosa, Sonoma County Transit (☎ 800-345-7433, 707-576-7433; www.sctransit.com) buses connect to Sonoma ($3.05, 70 minutes) via Sonoma Valley towns.

Rent bicycles (per day $30 to $85) from Napa River Vélo (☎ 707-258-8729; www.napariverve.com; 680 Main St, Napa), Wine Country Cyclery (☎ 707-966-6800; www.winecountrycyclery.com; 262 W Napa St, Sonoma), Calistoga Bike Shop (☎ 707-942-9687; www.calistogabikeshop.com; 1318 Lincoln Ave, Calistoga) or Spoke Folk Cyclery (☎ 707-433-7171; www.spokefolk.com; 201 Center St, Healdsburg).

North Coast

Metropolitan San Francisco, only a few hours behind in the rearview mirror, feel eons away from the frothing, frigid crash of Pacific tide and two-stoptight towns on this jagged edge of the continent. Valleys of redwoods brush up against the moody ocean waves and rural farms here on California's North Coast, home to hippies, hoppy microbrews and, most famously, the tallest trees on earth. The winding coastal drive gets more rewarding with every gorgeous, white-knuckled mile of narrow highway.

Bodega Bay to Fort Bragg

Compared with the famous Big Sur coast, the serpentine stretch of Hwy 1 up the North Coast is more challenging, remote and real: it passes farms, fishing towns and hidden beaches. Drivers use roadside pullouts to scan the hazy Pacific horizon for migrating whales and to amble the coastline dotted with rock formations and relentlessly pounded by the surf. The 110-mile stretch from Bodega Bay to Fort Bragg takes at least three hours of nonstop driving; at night in the fog, it takes steely nerves and much, much longer.

Bodega Bay, the first pearl in a string of sleepy fishing towns, was the setting for Hitchcock's terrifying 1963 psycho-horror flick The Birds. Today the skies are free from bloodthirsty gulls, but you'd best keep an eye on that picnic basket as you explore the arched rocks, secret coves and wildflower-covered bluffs of Sonoma Coast State Park (www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8), with beaches rolling even beyond Jenner, 10 miles north. Bodega Bay Charters (☎707-875-3495; <http://bodegacharters.com>; Eastshore Rd) runs winter whale-watching trips (adult/child $50/35). Bodega Bay Surf Shack (☎707-875-3944; <http://bodegabaysurf.com>; 1400 N Hwy 1; surfboard/wet-suit/kayak rentals from $17/17/45) rents surfboards, wet-suits and kayaks. Landlubbers hike Bodega Head or saddle up horses at Chanslor Riding Stables (☎707-785-8849; www.chanslorranch.com; 2660 N Hwy 1; rides from $40).

Where the wide, lazy Russian River meets the Pacific, there isn't much to Jenner, a cluster of shops and restaurants dotting coastal hills. Informative volunteers protect the resident colony of harbor seals at the river's mouth during pupping season, between March and August.

Twelve miles north of Jenner, the salt-weathered structures of Fort Ross State Historic Park (☎707-847-3286; www.fortrossstatepark.org; 19005 Hwy 1; per car $8; ☉10am-4pm Sat & Sun, also 10am-4pm Fri late May-early Sep) preserve an 1812 trading post and Russian Orthodox church. It's a quiet place, but the history is riveting; this was once the southernmost extent of Tsarist Russia's North American trading expeditions. The small, wood-scented museum offers historical exhibits and respite from the windswept cliffs.

Seven miles further north, Salt Point State Park (☎707-847-3321; per car $8; ☉visitor center 10am-3pm Sat & Sun Apr-Oct) abounds with hiking trails and tide pools and has two campgrounds (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35, walk-in tent sites $25; 🏠 🚻). At neighboring Kruse Rhododendron State Reserve, pink blooms spot the misty green woods in springtime. Cows graze the surrounding rock-strewn fields on the bluffs heading north to Sea Ranch, where public-access hiking trails lead from roadside parking lots downhill to pocket beaches.

Two miles north of Point Arena town, detour to wind-battered Point Arena Lighthouse (☎707-882-2777; www.pointarenalighthouse.com; 45500 Lighthouse Rd; adult/child $7.50/1; ☉10am-3:30pm, to 4:30pm late May-early Sep), built in 1908. Ascend 145 steps to inspect the flashing Fresnel lens and get jaw-dropping coastal views. Eight miles north of the Little River crossing at Hwy 128 is Van Damme State Park (☎707-937-5804; www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8), where the popular 5-mile round-trip Fern Canyon Trail passes through a lush river canyon with young redwoods, continuing another mile each way to a pygmy forest. The park's campground (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; walk-up/drive-in sites $25/35; 🏠 🚻) has coin-op hot showers.

In Mendocino, a historical village perched on a gorgeous headland, baby boomers stroll around New England saltbox and water-tower B&Bs, quaint shops and art galleries. Wilder paths pass berry brambles, wildflowers and cypress trees standing guard over rocky cliffs and raging surf at Mendocino Headlands State Park (www.parks.ca.gov) FREE. Ask at the Ford House Museum & Visitor Center (☎707-537-5397; <http://mendoparks.org>; 735 Main St; ☉11am-4pm) about guided weekend wildlife-watching walks. Just south of town, paddle your way up the Big River tidal estuary with Catch a Canoe & Bicycles Too! (☎707-937-0273; www.catchacanoe.com; Stanford Inn, 44850 Comptche-Ukiah Rd; kayak & canoe rental adult/child from $28/14; ☉9am-5pm).

Mendocino's scrappy sister city, Fort Bragg is trying to lure some of the well-heeled weekenders 10 miles further north, but it still has a way to go. You'll find cheap gas here and the historic Skunk Train (☎707-964-6371; www.skunktrain.com; foot of Laurel St; adult/child from $20/10; 🚗🚚), whose diesel and steam engines make diverting half-day excursions through the woods.

🛏 Sleeping

Every other building in Mendocino seems to be a B&B; there are dozens to choose from, but always book ahead. Fort Bragg, just 10 miles north, has plenty of motels.

Gualala Point Regional Park CAMPGROUND $ (http://parks.sonomacounty.ca.gov; 42401 Highway 1, Gualala; camp sites & RV sites $30-45; 🚗) Shaded by redwoods and fragrant California bay laurel trees, a short trail connects this creekside campground to the windswept beach. Choose a drive-up campsite or secluded hike-in tent site. Coin-op hot showers available.

Andiorn CABIN $$ (☎800-955-6478, 707-937-1543; http://theandiorn.com; 6051 N Hwy 1, Little River; most cabins $109-199; 🚗🚚) 🍃 This cluster of 1950s roadside cottages is a refreshingly playful after the cabbage-rose and lace aesthetic of Mendocino. Duplex cabins come with complementary whimsical themes; some have kitchenettes and fireplaces.

★ Mar Vista Cottages CABIN $$$ (☎877-855-3522, 707-884-3522; www.marvistamendocino.com; 35101 S Hwy 1, Gualala; cottages $175-295; 🚗🚚) 🍃 These renovated 1930s cottages with kitchens are a simply restful seaside escape at Anchor Bay. Linens are line-dried over lavender; guests harvest their own dinner from the organic vegetable garden and chickens cluck around the grounds, laying the next morning's breakfast. Two-night minimum.

Brewery Gulch Inn B&B $$$ (☎800-578-4454, 707-937-4752; www.brewerygulchinn.com; 9401 N Hwy 1, Mendocino; d incl breakfast $245-495; 🚗) 🍃 Just south of Mendocino, this serene, eco-conscious inn wins hearts that crave luxury, with modern fireplace rooms and hosts who pour heavily at wine hour and leave sweets for midnight snacking. Cooked-to-order breakfasts are served in a small dining room overlooking the distant sea.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

Even small coastal towns usually have a bakery, deli, natural-foods market and a few roadside cafes and restaurants.

Spud Point Crab Company SEAFOOD $ (www.spudpointcrab.com; 1910 Westshore Rd, Bodega Bay; dishes $4-11; ☎9am-5pm; 🚗) Classic dockside seafood shack makes salty-sweet crab sandwiches and real clam chowder to eat at picnic tables overlooking the marina.

Franny's Cup & Saucer BAKERY $ (www.frannyscupandsaucer.com; 213 Main St, Point Arena; items from $2; ☎8am-4pm Wed-Sat) Fairytale patisserie pops colorful fresh berry tarts, handmade cookies and rich chocolate confections into petite shopfront windows.

GoodLife Cafe CAFE $ (http://goodlifecafemendo.com; 10485 Lansing St, Mendocino; items $3-10; ☎8am-4pm) 🍃 Strong organic espresso, buttery baked goods, savory empanadas, from-scratch soups and fresh salads and juices will wake you up.

Piaci Pub & Pizzeria ITALIAN $$ (www.piacipizza.com; 120 W Redwood Ave, Fort Bragg; mains $8-18; ☎11am-9:30pm Mon-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, 4-9:30pm Sun) Chat up locals while downing microbrews and wood-fired brick-oven pizzas, calzones and focaccia topped with 'adult' flavors like pesto-chevre and prosciutto-potato. It's tiny, loud and fun.

Café Beaujolais CALIFORNIAN $$$ (☎707-937-5614; www.cafebeaujolais.com; 961 Ukiah St, Mendocino; dinner mains $23-35; ☎11:30am-2:30pm Wed-Sun, dinner from 5:30pm daily) 🍃 Mendocino's iconic, beloved country Cal-French restaurant occupies an 1893 farmhouse restyled into a chic dining room, perfect for holding hands by candlelight. Refined and inspired, the locally sourced menu merrily changes with the seasons.

North Coast Brewing Co BREWERY (☎707-964-3400; www.northcoastbrewing.com; 444 N Main St, Fort Bragg; ☎4-9:30pm Wed-Thu & Sun, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Overpriced fish-and-chips and garlicky waffle fries are not up to the same standard as the stellar handcrafted brews like Red Seal Ale and Belgian-style 'Brother Thelonious' poured in the taproom.

📍 Getting There & Around

Neither Greyhound nor Amtrak serves towns along Hwy 1. Mendocino Transit Authority (MTA; ☎800-696-4682; www.mendocinotransit.org) bus 65 travels daily between Fort Bragg and Santa Rosa ($21, 2½ hours) via Ukiah; from Santa Rosa, catch hourly Golden Gate Transit (☎ 415-455-2000; <http://goldengate.org>) bus 101 to San Francisco ($10.75, 2¾ hours). On weekdays, MTA bus 60 shuttles several times between Fort Bragg and Mendocino ($1.25, one hour), with one onward connection to Point Arena and Gualala.

Ukiah to Garberville

While the coastal Hwy 1 route is ideal for dawdling, much of the traffic on inland Hwy 101 is rushing toward remote regions beyond the 'Redwood Curtain.' Diversions along the way include the down-home vineyards around Ukiah, bounteous redwood forests north of Leggett and the abandoned wilds of the Lost Coast.

Although Ukiah is mostly a place to gas up or get a bite, nearby Vichy Springs Resort (☎ 707-462-9515; www.vichysprings.com; 2605 Vichy Springs Rd; 2hr/day pass $30/50) offers North America's only naturally carbonated mineral baths (swimwear required).

Just north of tiny Leggett on Hwy 101, you can take a dip or fish in the Eel River at Standish-Hickey State Recreation Area (☎ 707-925-6482; www.parks.ca.gov; 69350 Hwy 101; per car $8; 🏠), where 9 miles of hiking trails traipse through virgin and second-growth redwoods; look for the 225ft-tall Miles Standish tree. Seven miles south of Garberville on Hwy 101, Richardson Grove State Park (☎ 707-247-3318; www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8) protects 2000 acres of old-growth redwood forest. Both parks have developed campgrounds (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-45; 🏠 🚰).

The Lost Coast tops any dedicated hiker's itinerary, offering the most rugged coastal backpacking in California. It became 'lost' when the highway bypassed the mountains of the King Range, which rise 4000ft within several miles of the ocean, leaving the region largely undeveloped. From Garberville, it's 23 miles along a rough road to Shelter Cove, the main supply point but little more than a seaside subdivision with a general store, cafes and motels. Heed 'no trespassing' signs before wandering off-trail, lest you encounter extremely territorial farmers of the region's illicit cash crop, marijuana.

Along Hwy 101, 82-sq-mile Humboldt Redwoods State Park (www.humboldtredwoods.org) FREE protects some of the world's oldest redwoods and has 80% of the world's tallest 137 trees. Magnificent groves rival those in Redwood National Park, a long drive further north. Even if you don't have time to hike, at least drive the awe-inspiring Avenue of the Giants, a 32-mile, two-lane road parallel to Hwy 101. Book ahead for campsites (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $20-35; 🏠). Get hiking info and maps at the visitor center (☎ 707-946-2263; ☀ 9am-5pm Apr-Oct, 10am-4pm Nov-Mar).

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Campgrounds and RV parks are plentiful along Hwy 101, where every one-horse town guarantees at least a natural-foods store with a deli, a drive-thru espresso stand, a hippie-owned cafe and a handful of motels. Woodsy cabin resorts and aging motels along Avenue of the Giants are mostly mediocre at best.

Benbow Inn

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(☎ 707-923-2124, 800-355-3301; www.benbowinn.com; 445 Lake Benbow Dr, Garberville; r/cottage from $180/230; 🏠 🚰 🚿 🚻) With almost comically highbrow decor, this 1926 Tudor-style manor is nevertheless a memorable getaway. There's complimentary afternoon tea service and decanted sherry in each room. The white-tablecloth restaurant and wood-paneled bar are inviting on foggy evenings.

Ardella's

DINER $

(77 S Main St, Willits; mains $6-11; ☀ 7am-2:45pm Wed-Sat, 8am-2pm Sun; 🏠) On Hwy 101, hippie hitchhikers, truckers and tourists all pat their bellies after gobbling giant omelets, potato hashes, gourmet salads and homemade soups like curried carrot-ginger. Cash only.

📍 Getting There & Around

Daily Greyhound buses connect San Francisco with Ukiah ($43, three hours), Willits ($43, 3½ hours) and Garberville ($58, 5½ hours).

Redwood Transit System (☎ 707-443-0826; www.hta.org; 🏠) operates infrequent weekday buses between Garberville and Eureka ($5, 1¾ hours).

Eureka to Crescent City

Past the strip malls that sprawl from its edges, the heart of Eureka is Old Town, abounding with fine Victorians buildings, antique shops and restaurants. Cruise the harbor aboard the blue-and-white 1910 Madaket (☎707-445-1910; www.humboldt-bay-maritimemuseum.com; tour from $10; ☺Jun-early Oct), departing from the foot of C St; sunset cocktail cruises serve from the state's smallest licensed bar. The visitor center (☎800-356-6381, 707-442-3738; www.eurekachamber.com; 2112 Broadway; ☺8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri; 📍📶) is on Hwy 101, south of downtown.

On the north side of Humboldt Bay, Arcata is a patchouli-dipped hippie haven of radical politics. Biodiesel-fueled trucks drive in for the weekly farmers market (www.humfarm.org; Arcata Plaza; ☺9am-2pm mid-Apr-mid-Oct; 📍) 📍 on the central plaza, surrounded by art galleries, shops, cafes and bars. Make reservations to soak at Finnish Country Sauna & Tubs (☎707-822-2228; http://cafemokkaarcatata.com; cnr 5th & J Sts; 30min per adult/child $10/2; ☺noon-11pm Sun-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat). Northeast of downtown is the Humboldt State University (www.humboldt.edu) campus.

A working fishing town 16 miles north of Arcata, Trinidad sits on a bluff overlooking a breathtakingly beautiful harbor. Stroll sandy beaches or take short hikes around Trinidad Head after meeting tide-pool critters at the HSU Telonicher Marine Laboratory (☎707-826-3671; www.humboldt.edu/marinelab; 570 Ewing St; donation $1; ☺9am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, plus noon-4pm Sat & Sun mid-Sep-mid-May; 📍). Heading north of town, Patrick's Point Dr is dotted with forested campgrounds, cabins and lodges. Patrick's Point State Park (☎707-677-3570; www.parks.ca.gov; 4150 Patrick's Point Dr; per car $8) has stunning rocky headlands, beachcombing, wildlife-watching and an authentic reproduction of a Yurok village. The park's campgrounds (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-45; 📍📶) offer coin-op hot showers.

Heading north, Hwy 101 passes Redwood National Park's Thomas H Kuchel Visitor Center (☎707-465-7765; www.nps.gov/redw; Hwy 101, Orick; ☺9am-5pm, to 4pm Nov-Mar; 📍). Together, the national park and three state parks - Prairie Creek, Del Norte and Jedediah Smith - are a World Heritage site containing over 40% of all remaining old-growth redwood forests. The national park is free, while some state-park areas have an $8 day-use parking fee and also developed campgrounds (☎800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35; 📍📶).

This patchwork of state and federally managed land stretches all the way north to the Oregon border, interspersed with several towns. Furthest south, you'll first encounter Redwood National Park, where a 1-mile nature trail winds through Lady Bird Johnson Grove. Pick up a first-come, first-served permit (free) back at the Thomas H Kuchel Visitor Center to visit Tall Trees Grove, home to some of the world's tallest trees.

Six miles north of Orick, the 10-mile Newton B Drury Scenic Parkway runs parallel to Hwy 101 through Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park. Roosevelt elk graze in the pastoral meadow outside the visitor center (☎707-488-2039; www.parks.ca.gov; ☺9am-5pm May-Oct, 10am-4pm Nov-Apr), where several sunlight-dappled hiking trails begin. Three miles back south, unpaved Davison Rd heads northwest to Gold Bluffs Beach, dead-ending at lush Fern Canyon, which cameoed in the Lost World: Jurassic Park.

North of tiny Klamath, Hwy 101 passes the Trees of Mystery (☎800-638-3389; www.treesofmystery.net; 15500 Hwy 101; adult/child $15/8; ☺8am-6:30pm Jun-Aug, 9:30am-4:30pm Sep-May; 📍📶), a kitschy roadside attraction with aerial tram rides. Next up, Del Norte Coast Redwoods State Park preserves virgin redwood groves and 8 miles of unspoiled coastline. The 5-mile round-trip Damnation Creek Trail careens over 1000ft downhill past skyscraping redwoods to a hidden rocky beach, best visited at low tide. The trailhead is at a parking turn-out on Hwy 101 near Mile 16.

Sprawling over a crescent-shaped bay, Crescent City is a drab little town, but it's the only sizable coastal settlement north of Arcata. More than half the town was destroyed by a tidal wave in 1964 and rebuilt with utilitarian architecture. When the tide's out, you can walk across to the 1856 Battery Point Lighthouse (☎707-467-3089; www.delnortehistory.org; adult/child $3/1; ☺10am-4pm Wed-Sun Apr-Oct) from the south end of A St.

Jedediah Smith Redwoods State Park is the northernmost park in the system, 5 miles beyond Crescent City. The redwood stands here are so dense that there are few trails, but a couple of easy hikes start near riverside swimming holes along Hwy 199 and rough, unpaved Howland Hill Rd, an 11-mile scenic drive. The park visitor center (☎707-458-3496; www.parks.ca.gov; Hwy 199, Hiouchi; ☺9am-5pm mid-May-mid-Sep) has maps and information.

Sleeping & Eating

A mixed bag of motels are scattered along Hwy 101, including in Eureka, Arcata and Crescent City. Arcata has the biggest variety of dining options, from organic juice bars and vegan cafes to Californian and world-fusion bistros.

Requa Inn

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 707-482-1425; www.requainn.com; 451 Requa Rd, Klamath; r $119-199; 🏠) Built in 1914, this simple inn caters to outdoorsy types, with a big breakfast and old-fashioned rooms overlooking the river. No TVs or phones.

Carter House Inns

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 800-404-1390, 707-444-8062; http://carterhouse.com; 301 L St, Eureka; r incl breakfast $189-385; 🏠 🍷) The cushiest option near Eureka's Old Town are these lovingly tended Victorians. Many of the rooms and suites have romantic fireplaces. Evening wine and hors d'oeuvres and milk with cookies are complimentary. Seasonal Cal-French cuisine at the hotel's Restaurant 301 (dinner mains $20-30; 🕒 6-9pm) is the most haute dining around.

Wildberries Marketplace

MARKET, DELI $

(www.wildberries.com; 747 13th St, Arcata; sandwiches $4-10; 🕒 6am-midnight; 🚗) Step inside the North Coast's best natural-foods grocery store, with a healthy-minded deli and fruit-smoothie bar. Stock up on snacks and drinks for beach picnics and trailside lunches.

Samoa Cookhouse

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 707-442-1659; www.samoacookhouse.net; 908 Vance Ave, Samoa; all-you-can-eat meals $11-16; 🕒 7am-9pm; 🍷 🍷) On Humboldt Bay's Samoa Peninsula, this popular dining hall was originally built for an 1890s lumber camp. Today road-trippers and hippies stuff themselves at long red-checked oilcloth-covered tables. Kids eat for half-price.

Lost Coast Brewery

BREWERY $$

(☎ 707-445-4480; www.lostcoast.com; 617 4th St, Eureka; mains $9-15; 🕒 11am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; 🏠 🍷) At this legendary North Coast brewery, the Downtown Brown and Great White beers are worth stopping for, but the kitchen turns out only so-so wings, nachos and other pub grub. True beer geeks should also visit Fortuna's organic Eel River Brewing, Arcata's Redwood Curtain Brewing, McKinleyville's Six Rivers Brewery and Blue Lake's Mad River Brewing Company.

Getting There & Around

Arcata's Greyhound depot (925 E St) has daily buses to San Francisco ($57, seven hours) via Eureka, Garberville, Willits and Ukiah. Several daily Redwood Transit System (☎ 707-443-0826; www.hta.org) buses stop in Eureka and Arcata on the Trinidad-Scotia route ($2.75, 2½ hours).

Sacramento

California's first nonmission European settlement, the state capital is an anomalous place: the first city to shoot up during the gold-rush era is flat and fairly bland, with shady trees, withering summer heat and jammed highways.

In 1839 eccentric Swiss immigrant John Sutter built a fort here. Once gold was discovered in the nearby Sierra foothills in 1848, the town's population boomed. After much legislative waffling, Sacramento eventually became California's capital in 1854.

Old Sacramento remains a visitor's magnet – a riverside area with raised wooden sidewalks that can feel like a ye olde tourist trap. More interesting food and culture are hidden on the grid of streets downtown and in Midtown, where a fledgling arts scene quietly defies the city's reputation as a cow town.

Sights

California Museum

MUSEUM

(www.californiamuseum.org; 1020 O St; adult/child $8.50/6; 🕒 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, from noon Sun) This modern museum is home to the California Hall Of Fame – perhaps the only place to simultaneously encounter Amelia Earhart, Cesar Chavez and Mark Zuckerberg. The exhibit 'California Indians: Making A Difference' covers the traditions and culture of indigenous tribes, past and present.

California State Capitol

HISTORIC BUILDING

(☎ 916-324-0333; http://capitolmuseum.ca.gov; 1315 10th St; 🕒 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat & Sun, tours hourly 9am-4pm) FREE The 19th-century state capitol is a white jewel rising from the manicured Capitol Mall. Inside are California art and history exhibits and period-furnished chambers. The Assembly and Senate rooms are open to the public.

California State Railroad Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 916-445-6645; www.californiastaterailroadmuseum.org; 125 I St; adult/child $10/5, incl train ride $20/10; 🕒 10am-5pm, train rides hourly Apr-Sep;

 Step aboard dozens of meticulously restored beasts of steam and diesel by the river in Old Sacramento (www.oldsacramento.com), a walkable district of historical buildings and tiny museums.

Sutter's Fort State Historic Park

HISTORIC SITE

 916-445-4422; www.parks.ca.gov; 2701 L St; adult/child $5/3; ☺ 10am-5pm) Within the walls of this restored fort, the original cannon and a working ironsmith are straight out of the 1850s. Next door is the tiny but fascinating California State Indian Museum  916-324-0971; www.parks.ca.gov; 2618 K St; adult/child $3/2; ☺ 10am-5pm Wed-Sun).

Crocker Art Museum

MUSEUM

 916-264-5423; www.crockerartmuseum.org; 216 O St; adult/child $10/5; ☺ 10am-5pm Tue-Wed & Fri-Sun, to 9pm Thu) Adjoining the handsome residence of a 19th-century California Supreme Court judge, modern galleries highlight early and contemporary California art.

Sleeping & Eating

Sacramento's hotels cater to business travelers, so look for weekend bargains. The freeways and suburbs around the city are glutted with chain lodgings. For more restaurants and bars, make for Midtown, especially J St east of 16th St.

HI Sacramento Hostel

HOSTEL $

 916-443-1691; <http://norcalhostels.org/sac>; 925 H St; dm $30-36, r with/without bath from $76/58; ☺ check-in 2pm-10pm; @ ☺) A short walk from the capitol, this restored Victorian mansion has common areas of nearly B&B quality, spacious dorms and staff who know about local nightlife.

Delta King

B&amp;B $$$

 800-825-5464, 916-444-5464; www.deltaking.com; 100 Front St; d incl breakfast from $139; @ ☺) Snuggle into compact rooms aboard the Delta King, a 1927 paddle-wheeler docked in Old Sacramento. The boat has a nautical-themed bar and restaurant. Parking is $18.

Citizen Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

 info 916-447-2700, reservations 916-492-4460; www.jdvhotels.com; 926 J St; r $139-269; @ @ ☺ ☺) Elegant rooms at this 1920s downtown office building are lovely with luxurious linens, bold-patterned fabrics and iPod docking stations. Little touches make a big impression: vintage political cartoons adorning the walls and political movies to borrow. On the ground floor, Grange  916-492-4450; www.grangesacramento.com; 926 J St; dinner mains $19-39; ☺ 6:30-10:30am & 11:30am-2pm Mon-Fri, 8am-2pm Sat & Sun, 5:30pm-10pm Mon-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun; ☺) cooks California farm-to-table fare. Hotel parking is $25.

La Bonne Soupe Cafe

DELI $

 916-492-9506; 920 8th St; items $4-8; ☺ 11am-3pm Mon-Fri) Divinely epicurean sandwiches and scratch soups, all handmade with love by a chef, bring downtown office workers to line up out the door.

Tower Cafe

ECLECTIC $$

 916-441-0222; www.towercafe.com; 1518 Broadway; mains $7-18; ☺ 8am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat) Best bet for big ol' breakfasts – custardy French toast topped with fruit, or chorizo sausage with eggs – at a 1938 art-deco movie theater.

Mulvaney's B & L

CALIFORNIAN $$$

 916-441-6022; www.mulvaneybsbl.com; 1215 19th St; dinner mains $26-38; ☺ 11:30am-2:30pm Tue-Fri, 5-10pm Tue-Sat) Arguably the classiest restaurant in town, here inside an 1890s fire house a hyper-seasonal, European-touched menu changes every single day.

Drinking & Entertainment

Temple Coffee

CAFE

www.templecoffee.com; 1010 9th St; ☺ 6am-11pm; ☺) ☺) Sip sustainably sourced, locally roasted coffee at communal wooden tables.

Rubicon Brewing Company

BREWERY

 916-448-7032; www.rubiconbrewing.com; 2004 Capitol Ave; ☺ 11am-11:30pm Mon-Thu, to 12:30am Fri & Sat, to 10pm Sun) The place for award-winning ales, hot wings and brew-house chili-cheese fries.

Sacramento River Cats

SPORTS

www.milb.com; Raley Field, 400 Ballpark Dr; tickets $5-65; ☺ Apr-Sep) Minor-league baseball team plays at Raley Field, with dazzling views of Tower Bridge.

Getting There & Around

About 11 miles northwest of downtown off I-5, Sacramento International Airport  919-929-5411; www.sacairports.org; 6900 Airport Blvd) is served mainly by domestic flights.

From downtown's train station  877-974-3322; www.capitolcorridor.org; 401 I St), Amtrak runs frequent Capitol Corridor trains to/from the San Francisco Bay Area ($28 to $38, 90 minutes to three hours); twice-daily San Joaquin trains, with onward bus connections to Yosemite Valley ($37, five hours); and daily long-distance Coast Starlight and California Zephyr trains. Greyhound (420 Richards Blvd) has several daily buses to San Francisco ($27, two hours) and Los Angeles ($78, 7½ to nine hours).

Sacramento Regional Transit (www.sacrt.com; fare/day pass $2.25/6) runs a bus and light-rail system around town.

Gold Country

Hard to believe, but this is where it all began – the quiet hill towns and drowsy oak-lined byways of Gold Country belie the wild, chaotic, often violent establishment of California. After a glint caught James Marshall's eye in Sutter's Creek in 1848, the gold rush brought a 300,000-stong stampede of '49ers to these Sierra foothills. The frenzy paid little heed to the starved moral decorum of Victorian society, and traces of its lawless boom towns and environmental havoc remain today.

Traveling here might be a thrill ride for history buffs – the fading historical markers tell tales of bloodlust and banditry – but more tactile pleasures await the traveler willing to plunge into a swimming hole, rattle down a mountain-biking trail or go white-water rafting in the icy currents of the American, Stanislaus and Tuolumne Rivers. Based in the Central Valley, All-Outdoors California Whitewater Rafting (☎ 800-247-2387; www.aorrafting.com) outfits a variety of day and overnight rafting trips for all skill levels from spring through fall.

Hwy 50 divides the Northern and Southern Mines. Winding Hwy 49, which connects everything, has plenty of pull-outs and vistas of the surrounding hills. The Gold Country Visitors Association (www.calgold.org) has many more touring ideas.

Northern Mines

Known as the 'Queen of the Northern Mines,' Nevada City has narrow streets gleaming with lovingly restored buildings, tiny theaters, art galleries, cafes and shops. The visitor center (☎ 530-265-2692; www.nevadacitychamber.com; 132 Main St; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 11am-4pm Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) dispenses information and self-guided walking-tour maps. On Hwy 49, Tahoe National Forest Headquarters (☎ 530-265-4531; [\[gov/tahoe\]\(http://gov/tahoe\); 631 Coyote St; ☎ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri\) provides camping, hiking and mountain-biking information and wilderness permits.](http://www.fs.usda.

<div data-bbox=)

Four miles south, Grass Valley is Nevada City's functional sister, where artists, hippies and ranchers get their trucks' oil changed. Just over a mile east of Hwy 49, Empire Mine State Historic Park (☎ 530-273-8522; www.empiremine.org; 10791 E Empire St; adult/child $7/3; ☎ 10am-5pm) marks the site of one of the richest mines in California. From 1850 to 1956 it produced more than 5.6 million ounces of gold – about $5 billion in today's market.

When it's swelteringly hot outside during summer, if you see a line of cars parked roadside along Hwy 49, that's your signal to discover a swimming hole. One of the best is where the North and South forks of the American River join up, a few miles east of Auburn, an I-80 pit stop about 25 miles south of Grass Valley.

Coloma is where California's gold rush started. Riverside Marshall Gold Discovery State Historic Park (☎ 530-622-3470; www.parks.ca.gov; per person/car $6/8; ☎ park 8am-5pm, to 7pm late May-early Sep, museum 10am-3pm, to 4pm Mar-Nov; ♿) pays tribute to James Marshall's riot-inducing discovery, with a replica of Sutter's Mill, restored buildings and gold-panning opportunities. There's a hilltop monument to Marshall himself, who, in one of the many ironic twists of the gold rush, died as a penniless ward of the state.

Sleeping & Eating

Nevada City boasts the biggest spread of restaurants and historical B&Bs. Motels speckle Hwy 49 in Grass Valley and I-80 in Auburn.

Broad Street Inn

INN $$

(☎ 530-265-2239; www.broadstreetinn.com; 517 E Broad St, Nevada City; r $110-120; ♿☎☎) Unlike dozens of frilly bed-and-breakfasts in Gold Country, this sun-drenched, six-room inn keeps things refreshingly simple with modern, brightly furnished rooms.

Outside Inn

MOTEL, CABIN $$

(☎ 530-265-2233; www.outsideinn.com; 575 E Broad St, Nevada City; r $79-155, cottage $200; ♿☎☎☎☎) More fun than any ho-hum chain are these knotty-pine-walled themed rooms (some with kitchenettes), BBQ grills and friendly owners who are outdoor enthusiasts.

Treats

(http://treatsnevadacity.com; 110 York St, Nevada City; items $2-5; ☺ noon-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat, shorter hr winter; 🍷) Handmade, often organic ice cream, seasonal sorbets and other cool treats.

DESSERT $

Ikedas

(www.ikedas.com; 13500 Lincoln Way, Auburn; items from $3; ☺ 8am-7pm, to 8pm Sat & Sun) Off I-80 north of downtown Auburn, Tahoe-bound travelers stop for fresh fruit, homemade pies and picnic fixin's.

MARKET $

Ike's Quarter Cafe

(☎ 530-265-6138; www.ikesquartercafe.com; 401 Commercial St, Nevada City; mains $7-15; ☺ 8am-3pm Wed-Mon; 🍷) Dig into gut-busting breakfasts like the 'Hangtown Fry,' a gold miners' mess of cornmeal-crust oysters and bacon, or N'awlins-style fare like muffaletta sandwiches on the fountain patio. Cash only.

CREOLE, CALIFORNIAN $$

Southern Mines

The towns of the Southern Mines – from Placerville to Sonora – receive less traffic and their dusty streets have a whiff of Wild West, today evident in the motley assortment of Harley riders, gold prospectors (still!) and outsider winemakers who populate them. Some, like Plymouth (Ole Pokerville) and Mokelumne Hill, are virtual ghost towns, slowly crumbling into photogenic oblivion. Others, like Sutter Creek, Murphys and Angels Camp, are gussied-up showpieces of Victorian Americana. Get off the beaten path at family-run vineyards and subterranean caverns, where geological wonders reward those willing to navigate the touristy gift shops above ground.

A short detour off Hwy 49 is Columbia State Historic Park (☎ 209-588-9128; www.parks.ca.gov; 11255 Jackson St, Columbia; ☺ museum 9am-4:30pm Apr-Oct, from 10am Nov-Mar; 🍷) FREE, which preserves four square blocks of authentic 1850s buildings complete with shopkeepers and street musicians in period costumes; it's crazy-busy with school-kids panning for gold. Also near Sonora, Railtown 1897 State Historic Park (☎ 209-984-3953; www.railtown1897.org; 18115 5th Ave, Jamestown; museum adult/child $5/3, incl train ride $15/8; ☺ 9:30am-4:30pm Apr-Oct, 10am-3pm Nov-Mar, train rides 11am-3pm Sat & Sun Apr-Oct; 🍷) offers excursion trains through the surrounding hills where Hollywood Westerns including High Noon were filmed.

Sleeping & Eating

Lacy B&Bs, cafes and ice-cream parlors are in nearly every town. Busy Sonora, just over an hour's drive from Yosemite National Park, and Placerville have the most motels.

Indian Grinding Rock State*Historic Park Campground

CAMPGROUND $

(www.parks.ca.gov; 14881 Pine Grove-Volcano Rd, Pine Grove; camping & RV sites $30; ☺ mid-Mar-Sep; 🍷🍷) Around 10 miles northeast of Sutter Creek, this pastoral state-park campground has 22 sites set among trees (no reservations) and coin-op hot showers.

Gunn House Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 209-532-3421; www.gunnhousehotel.com; 286 S Washington St, Sonora; r incl breakfast $79-115; 🍷🍷) For an alternative to cookie-cutter chains, this historic hotel hits the sweet spot. B&B-esque rooms feature period decor. On summer evenings, sink back into rocking chairs on the front porch.

City & Fallon Hotels

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 800-532-1479; www.briggshospitalityllc.com; 22768 Main St, Columbia; r incl breakfast without bath $105-175; 🍷🍷) Twin restored period hotels in historic Columbia town are decked out with museum-quality pieces. After dark, shoot whiskey at What Cheer Saloon or watch plays at the Fallon's repertory theater.

Volcano Union Inn

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 209-296-7711; www.volcanunion.com; 21375 Consolation St, Volcano; r incl breakfast $119-149; 🍷🍷) Of a quartet of lovingly updated rooms with crooked floors, two have street-facing balconies. Downstairs, Union Pub (mains $10-19; ☺ 5-8pm Thu & Mon, 3-9pm Fri, noon-9pm Sat, 10am-8pm Sun) has billiards, shuffleboard, darts and gourmet pub grub.

Cozmic Café & Pub

HEALTHY $

(www.ourcoz.com; 594 Main St, Placerville; items $4-10; ☺ 7am-6pm Tue & Wed, to 8pm Thu-Sun; 🍷🍷) Grab tables inside a historic mining tunnel at Placerville's funky organic, health-conscious cafe. There are microbrews on tap and live music on weekends.

Magnolia Cafe

CAFE $$

(☎ 209-728-2186; www.magnoliacafemurphys.com; 64 Mitchler St, Murphys; mains $7-13; ☺ 8am-3pm Wed-Sun) Breakfast on chef Devon's chorizo-egg tortas and vanilla-bean French toast, or Asian-spiced pulled-pork burritos and classic steak sandwiches with mustard aioli at lunch.

★ Taste

CALIFORNIAN $$$

(☎209-245-3463; www.restauranttaste.com; 9402 Main St, Plymouth; dinner mains $27-43; ☎11:30am-2pm Sat & Sun, dinner from 5pm Thu & Fri, 4:30pm Sat & Sun) The antidote to Gold Country's dependence on burgers, Taste plates artful, fresh, seasonal dishes with European influences that pair well with wines from Amador County's vineyards.

📍 Getting There & Around

A patchwork of public buses sporadically serves some towns. For the Northern Mines, Gold Country Stage (☎888-660-7433, 530-477-0103; www.mynevadacounty.com; fares $1.50-3) buses link Nevada City, Grass Valley and Auburn, while Placer County Transit (☎530-885-2877; www.placer.ca.gov/transit; fare $1.25) buses connect Auburn with Sacramento. Among the Southern Mines, weekday-only Amador Transit (☎209-267-9395; http://amadortransit.com; fares $1-2) runs buses between Sutter Creek and Sacramento, Jackson and Plymouth. Calaveras Transit (☎209-754-4450; http://transit.calaverasgov.us; fare $2) buses serve Angels Camp, Jackson and Murphys. Tuolumne County Transit (☎209-532-0404; www.tuolumnecountytransit.com; fare $1.50) buses and trolleys loop between Sonora, Columbia and Jamestown.

Northern Mountains

Remote, empty and eerily beautiful, these are some of California's least-visited wild lands, an endless show of geological wonders, alpine lakes, rushing rivers and high desert. The major peaks - Lassen, Shasta and the Trinity Alps - have few geological features in common, but all offer backcountry camping under starry skies. Isolated towns dotting the region aren't attractions, but are handy resupply points for wilderness adventures.

Redding to Yreka

Much of the drive north of Redding is dominated by Mt Shasta, a 14,179ft snow-capped goliath at the southern end of the volcanic Cascades Range. It rises dramatically, fueling the anticipation felt by outdoor enthusiasts who seek to climb its slopes. A helpful pit stop just off I-5 is the California Welcome Center (☎800-474-2784, 530-365-1180; www.shastascadecade.com; 1699 Hwy 273, Anderson; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-4pm Sun), 12 miles south of Redding at the Shasta Outlets mall.

Don't believe the tourist brochures; Redding, the region's largest city, is a snooze. The best reason to detour off I-5 is the Sundial Bridge, a glass-bottomed pedestrian marvel designed by Spanish architect Santiago Calatrava. It spans the Sacramento River at Turtle Bay Exploration Park (☎800-887-8532; www.turtlebay.org; 844 Sundial Bridge Dr; adult/child $14/10, after 3:30pm $9/5; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat & 10am-5pm Sun, closes 1hr earlier Oct-Mar; ♿), a kid-friendly science center with botanical gardens.

About 6 miles west of Redding along Hwy 299, explore a genuine gold-rush town at Shasta State Historical Park (☎520-243-8194; www.parks.ca.gov; museum adult/child $3/2; ☎10am-5pm Fri-Sun). Two miles further west, Whiskeytown National Recreation Area (☎530-246-1225; www.nps.gov/whis; per car $5; ☎visitor center 9am-5pm late May-early Sep, 10am-4pm early Sep-late May) FREE is home to Whiskeytown Lake, with sandy beaches, waterfall hikes and water-sports and camping opportunities.

At Weaverville, another 35 miles west of Whiskeytown, Joss House State Historic Park (☎530-623-5284; www.parks.ca.gov; cnr Hwy 299 & Oregon St; tour adult/child $4/2; ☎10am-5pm Thu-Sun, hourly tours until 4pm) preserves an 1874 Chinese immigrant temple. Weaverville Ranger Station (☎530-623-2121; www.fs.usda.gov/stnf; 360 Main St; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) issues backcountry permits for the near-pristine wilderness of the surrounding Trinity Alps.

North of Redding, I-5 crosses deep-blue Shasta Lake, California's biggest reservoir, formed by towering Shasta Dam (☎530-275-4463; www.usbr.gov/mp/ncao/shasta/; 16349 Shasta Dam Blvd; ☎visitor center 8am-5pm, tours 9am-3pm) FREE and surrounded by shoreline hiking trails and RV campgrounds. High in the limestone megaliths at the lake's northern end are the prehistoric caves of Lake Shasta Caverns (☎800-795-2283, 530-238-2341; http://lakeshastacaverns.com; 20359 Shasta Caverns Rd; adult/child $24/14; ☎tours 9am-4pm late May-early Sep, to 3pm Apr-late May & Sep, 10am-2pm Oct-Mar; ♿), where guided tours include a catamaran ride.

Another 35 miles north on I-5, Dunsmuir is a teeny historic railroad town with vibrant cafes and art galleries in its quaint downtown. If for no other reason, stop to fill your bottle from the public fountains:

Dunsmuir claims to have the best H<sub>2</sub>O on earth. Just south off I-5, Castle Crags State Park (☎ 530-235-2684; www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8) shelters forested campsites (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $15-30; 🏠 🚰). Be awed by stunning views of Mt Shasta from the summit of the 5.4-mile round-trip Crags Trail.

Ten miles north of Dunsmuir, Mt Shasta town lures climbers, New Age hippies and back-to-nature types, all of whom revere the majestic mountain looming overhead. The Everitt Memorial Hwy ascends the mountain to a perfect sunset-watching perch at almost 8000ft; simply head east from town on Lake St and keep going 14 more miles. For experienced mountaineers only, climbing the peak above 10,000ft requires a Summit Pass ($20), available from Mt Shasta Ranger Station (☎ 530-926-4511; www.fs.usda.gov/stnr; 204 W Alma St; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri), which has weather reports and sells topographic maps. Stop by downtown's Fifth Season (☎ 530-926-3606; http://thefifthseason.com; 300 N Mt Shasta Blvd) outdoor-gear shop for equipment rentals. Shasta Mountain Guides (☎ 530-926-3117; http://shastaguides.com) offers multiday mountaineering trips (from $500).

Sleeping & Eating

Roadside motels are abundant in all parts but the remote northeast. Redding has the most chain motels and hotels, clustered near major highways. Campgrounds are abundant, especially on public lands.

McCloud River Mercantile Hotel INN $$$
(☎ 530-964-2330; www.mccloudmercantile.com; 241 Main St, McCloud; r $139-250; 🏠) Guests are greeted with fresh flowers and can drift to sleep on feather beds after soaking in claw-foot tubs. Exposed brick and antique accents are a perfect marriage of preservationist class and modern panache. The 1930s soda fountain downstairs cooks country-style breakfasts and lunches (mains $6 to $10). It's about 10 miles east of Mt Shasta town off Hwy 89.

Railroad Park Resort INN, CAMPGROUND $$
(☎ 530-235-4440, 800-974-7245; www.rpark.com; 100 Railroad Park Rd, Dunsmuir; tent/RV sites from $29/37, d $115-150; 🏠 🚰 🚻 🚰 🚰) The most memorable overnight stay is inside a wood-paneled caboose, off I-5 just south of town.

Sengthongs

THAI, VIETNAMESE $$$

(☎ 530-235-4770; http://sengthongs.com; 5855 Dunsmuir Ave, Dunsmuir; mains $11-20; ☀ usually 5-8:30pm Thu-Sun) Beloved long-running Southeast Asian restaurant hosts live music a few doors down in its Blue Sky Room.

Café Maddalena

BISTRO $$$

(☎ 530-235-2725; www.cafemaddalena.com; 5801 Sacramento Ave, Dunsmuir; mains $14-25; ☀ 5-10pm Thu-Sun Feb-Nov) Chef-owner Bret LaMott maintains this cozy riverfront restaurant's stellar reputation with Mediterranean specialties and a well-stocked wine bar. Reservations recommended.

Getting There & Around

Amtrak's Coast Starlight trains stop in Redding and Dunsmuir, inconveniently in the middle of the night. Greyhound buses serve Redding and Weed. Siskiyou County STAGE (☎ 800-247-8243, 530-842-8295; www.co.siskiyou.ca.us/GS/stage.aspx; fares $2.50-4) buses run up and down I-5 several times daily, connecting Dunsmuir, Mt Shasta and Weed.

Northeast Corner

Site of California's last major Native American conflict and a half-million years of volcanic destruction, Lava Beds National Monument (☎ 530-667-8113; www.nps.gov/labe; 7-day entry per car $10) is a peaceful monument to centuries of turmoil. This park's got it all: lava flows, craters, cinder and spatter cones, and more than 500 lava tubes. It was the site of the Modoc War, and Native American petroglyphs are etched into cave walls. Pick up info, maps and flashlights for spelunking at the visitor center (☎ 530-667-8113; 1 Indian Well, Tulelake; ☀ 8am-6pm late May-early Sep, 8:30am-5pm mid-Sep-mid-May). Nearby is the park's campground (campsites $10), where basic sites accommodate tents and small RVs; drinking water is available.

Just north, the Klamath Basin National Wildlife Refuge Complex (www.fws.gov/klamathbasinrefuges) comprises six separate refuges. This is a prime stopover on the Pacific Flyway and an important wintering site for bald eagles. The visitor center (☎ 530-667-2231; 4009 Hill Rd, Tulelake; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat & Sun) is off Hwy 161, about 4 miles south of the Oregon border. Self-guided 10-mile auto tours of the Lower Klamath and Tule Lake reserves provide excellent birding opportunities. For gas, food and lodging, drive into Klamath Falls, OR.

The Modoc National Forest (☎ 530-233-5811; www.fs.usda.gov/modoc) blankets over 3000 sq miles of northeastern California. Camping is free and reservations are not accepted, although campfire permits are required. Medicine Lake, about an hour's drive southwest of Lava Beds National Monument, is a pristine, gleaming blue crater lake surrounded by pine forest, hulking volcanic formations and cool, secluded campgrounds. Further east is landmark Glass Mountain, where Native Americans quarried jet-black obsidian. East of Cedarville via Hwy 299, near the Nevada border, the high desert of Surprise Valley is a gateway to the wild Warner Mountains – possibly California's least-visited range.

Quietly impressive Lassen Volcanic National Park (☎ 530-595-4444; www.nps.gov/lavo; 7-day entry per car $10) has hydrothermal sulfur pools, boiling mud pots and steaming pools, as glimpsed from the Bumpass Hell boardwalk. At 10,462ft, Lassen Peak is the world's largest plug-dome volcano. The park has two entrances: an hour's drive east of Redding off Hwy 44, near popular Manzanita Lake Campground (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; campsites $10-18, cabins $59-84); and northwest of Lake Almanor off Hwy 89, by the Kohm Yah-ma-nee Visitor Center (☎ 530-595-4480; www.nps.gov/lavo; ☉ 9am-5pm, closed Tue & Wed Nov-Mar). Hwy 89 through the park is typically snow-free and open to cars from May or June through October or November (snowshoes and cross-country skis permitted in winter).

SIERRA NEVADA

The mighty Sierra Nevada – baptized the 'Range of Light' by naturalist John Muir – is California's backbone. This 400-mile phalanx of craggy peaks, chiseled and gouged by glaciers and erosion, both welcomes and challenges outdoor-sports enthusiasts. Cradling three national parks (Yosemite, Sequoia and Kings Canyon), the Sierra is a spellbinding wonderland of superlative wilderness, embracing the contiguous USA's highest peak (Mt Whitney), North America's tallest waterfall (Yosemite Falls) and the world's oldest and biggest trees (ancient bristlecone pines and giant sequoias, respectively).

Yosemite National Park

There's a reason why everybody's heard of it: the granite-peak heights are dizzying, the mist from thunderous waterfalls drenching, the Technicolor wildflower meadows amazing and the majestic silhouettes of El Capitan and Half Dome almost shocking against a crisp blue sky. It's a landscape of dreams, surrounding oh-so-small people on all sides.

Then, alas, the hiss and belch of another tour bus, disgorging dozens, rudely breaks the spell. While staggering crowds can't be ignored, these rules will shake most of 'em:

- ✦ Avoid summer in the valley. Spring's best, especially when waterfalls gush in May. Autumn is blissfully peaceful, and snowy winter days can be magical too.
- ✦ Park your car and leave it – simply by hiking a short distance up almost any trail, you'll lose the car-dependent hordes.
- ✦ Forget jet lag. Get up early, or go for moonlit hikes with stargazing.

👁 Sights

The main entrances to the park (☎ 209-372-0200; www.nps.gov/yose; 7-day entry per car $20) are at Arch Rock (Hwy 140), Wawona (Hwy 41) and Big Oak Flat (Hwy 120 west). Tioga Pass (Hwy 120 east) is open only seasonally.

📍 Yosemite Valley

From the ground up, this dramatic valley cut by the meandering Merced River is song-inspiring; rippling green meadow-grass; stately pines; cool, impassive pools reflecting the looming granite monoliths; and cascading

📍 IMPASSABLE TIOGA PASS

Hwy 120 is the only road connecting Yosemite National Park with the Eastern Sierra, climbing through Tioga Pass (9945ft). Most maps mark this road 'closed in winter,' which, while literally true, is also misleading. Tioga Rd is usually closed from the first heavy snowfall in October or November, not reopening until May or June. If you are planning a trip through Tioga Pass in spring, you'll likely be out of luck. Call ☎ 209-372-0200 or check www.nps.gov/yose/planyourvisit/conditions.htm for current road conditions.

ribbons of glacially cold white-water. Often overrun and traffic-choked, Yosemite Village is home to the park's main visitor center (p1012), museum, photography gallery, general store and many more services. Curry Village is another valley hub, offering public showers and outdoor equipment rental and sales, including for camping.

Spring snowmelt turns the valley's famous waterfalls into thunderous cataracts; most are reduced to a mere trickle by late summer. Yosemite Falls is North America's tallest, dropping 2425ft in three tiers. A wheelchair-accessible trail leads to the bottom of this cascade or, for solitude and different perspectives, you can trek the grueling switchback trail to the top (7.2 miles round-trip). No less impressive are other waterfalls around the valley. A strenuous granite staircase beside Vernal Fall leads you, gasping, right to the waterfall's edge for a vertical view – look for rainbows in the clouds of mist.

You can't ignore the valley's monumental El Capitan (7569ft), an El Dorado for rock climbers. Toothed Half Dome (8842ft) soars above the valley as Yosemite's spiritual centerpiece. The classic panoramic photo op is at Tunnel View on Hwy 41 as you drive into the valley. Early or late in the day during spring or early summer, hike 2 miles round-trip from the eastern valley floor out to Mirror Lake to catch the ever-shifting reflection of Half Dome in the still waters.

◉ Glacier Point

Rising 3200ft above the valley floor, dramatic Glacier Point (7214ft) practically puts you at eye level with Half Dome. It's about an hour's drive from Yosemite Valley up Glacier Point Rd (usually open from late May into November) off Hwy 41, or a strenuous hike along the Four Mile Trail (actually, 4.8 miles one way) or the less-crowded, waterfall-strewn Panorama Trail (8.5 miles one way). To hike one-way downhill from Glacier Point, reserve a seat on the hikers' shuttle bus (p1013).

◉ Wawona

At Wawona, almost an hour's drive south of Yosemite Valley, drop by the Pioneer Yosemite History Center, with its covered bridge, pioneer cabins and historic Wells Fargo office. Further south, wander giddily around towering Mariposa Grove, home of the Grizzly Giant and other giant sequoias. Free shuttle buses run to the grove from Wawona from spring through fall; in winter, the access road is usually closed to vehicles, but you can snowshoe along it.

◉ Tuolumne Meadows

A 90-minute drive from Yosemite Valley, high-altitude Tuolumne Meadows (pronounced tuol-uh-mee) draws hikers, backpackers and climbers to the park's northern wilderness. The Sierra Nevada's largest sub-alpine meadow (8600ft), it's a vivid contrast to the valley, with wildflower fields, azure lakes, ragged granite peaks and polished domes, and cooler temperatures. Hikers and climbers have a paradise of options; swimming and picnicking by lakes are also popular. Access is via scenic Tioga Rd (Hwy 120), which is only open seasonally (see p1009), following a 19th-century wagon road and older Native American trading route. West of Tuolumne Meadows and Tenaya Lake, stop at Olmsted Point for epic vistas of Half Dome.

◉ Hetch Hetchy

It's the site of perhaps the most controversial dam in US history. Despite not existing

DON'T MISS

SUPERSIZED FORESTS

In California you can stand under the world's oldest trees (ancient bristlecone pines) and its tallest (coast redwoods), but the record for biggest in terms of volume belongs to giant sequoias (Sequoiadendron giganteum). They grow only on the western slope of the Sierra Nevada range and are most abundant in Sequoia, Kings Canyon and Yosemite National Parks. John Muir called them 'Nature's forest masterpiece,' and anyone who's ever craned their neck to take in their soaring vastness has probably done so with the same awe. These trees can grow to over 300ft tall and 100ft in circumference, protected by bark up to 2ft thick. The Giant Forest Museum (p1013) in Sequoia National Park has exhibits about the trees' unusual ecology.

in its natural state, Hetch Hetchy Valley remains pretty and mostly crowd-free. It's a 40-mile drive northwest of Yosemite Valley. A 5.4-mile round-trip hike across the dam and through a tunnel to the base of Wapama Falls lets you get thrillingly close to an avalanche of water crashing down into the sparkling reservoir. In spring, you'll get drenched.

Activities

With over 800 miles of varied hiking trails, you're spoiled for choice. Easy valley-floor routes can get jammed; escape the teeming masses by heading up. The ultimate hike summits Half Dome (14 miles round-trip), but be warned: it's very strenuous, and advance permits (www.nps.gov/yose/planyourvisit/hdpermits.htm; from $12.50) are required even for day hikes. It's rewarding to hike just as far as the top of Vernal Fall (3 miles round-trip) or Nevada Fall (5.8 miles round-trip) via the Mist Trail. A longer, alternate route to Half Dome follows a more gently graded section of the long-distance John Muir Trail.

For overnight backpacking trips, wilderness permits (☎209-372-0826; www.nps.gov/yose/planyourvisit/wildpermits.htm; from $10) are required year-round. A quota system limits the number of hikers leaving from each trailhead. Make reservations up to 24 weeks in advance, or try your luck at the Yosemite Valley Wilderness Center or another permit-issuing station, starting at 11am on the day before you want to hike.

Yosemite Mountaineering

School

ROCK CLIMBING

(☎209-372-8344; www.yosemitemountaineering.com; Curry Village; ☉Apr-Oct) With sheer spires, polished domes and soaring monoliths, Yosemite is rock-climbing nirvana. YMS offers topflight instruction for novice to advanced climbers, plus guided climbs and equipment rental. During summer, it also operates at Tuolumne Meadows.

Badger Pass

SKIING, SNOWBOARDING

(☎209-372-8430; www.badgerpass.com; lift ticket adult/child $42/23; ☉9am-4pm mid-Dec-Mar) Gentle slopes are perfect for beginner skiers and snowboarders. Cross-country skiers can glide along 25 miles of groomed tracks and 90 miles of marked trails, which are also open to snowshoers. Equipment rental and lessons available for all ages.

Sleeping & Eating

Concessionaire DNC (☎801-559-4884; www.yosemitepark.com) has a monopoly on park lodging and eating establishments, including ho-hum food courts and snack bars. Lodging reservations (up to 366 days in advance) are essential during peak season (May through September). During summer, DNC sets up simple canvas-tent cabins at riverside Housekeeping Camp (d from $95) in Yosemite Valley; busy Tuolumne Meadows Lodge (d from $120), a 90-minute drive from the valley; and quieter White Wolf Lodge (d from $120) off Tioga Rd, an hour away from the valley.

Curry Village

CABINS $$

(d without bath from $95;   ) With a nostalgic summer-camp atmosphere, Curry Village has hundreds of helter-skelter cabins scattered beneath towering evergreens in Yosemite Valley. Soft-sided tent cabins resemble Civil War army barracks with scratchy wool blankets. Solid-wood cabins are smaller but cozy.

Wawona Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(r with/without bath incl breakfast from $225/155;  ) Filled with character, this Victorian-era throwback has wide porches, manicured lawns, tennis courts and a golf course. Half the thin-walled rooms share baths. The dining room serves three just-OK meals a day (dinner mains $19 to $34). Wawona is about a 45-minute drive south of the valley.

Ahwahnee Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$$

(r from $470;   ) Sleep where Steve Jobs, Eleanor Roosevelt and JFK bedded down at this national historic landmark, built in 1927. Sit a spell by the roaring fireplace beneath soaring sugar-pine timbers. Skip the formal dining room, serving overpriced California fare (dinner mains $26 to $46), for cocktails at the lobby bar instead.

Yosemite Lodge at the Falls

LODGE $$$

(r from $220;   )  Spacious motel rooms come with ecofriendly upgrades and patios or balconies overlooking Yosemite Falls, meadows or the parking lot. Fork into sustainably caught river trout and organic veggies at the lodge's Mountain Room (dinner mains $18 to $35), open nightly (no reservations). For a beer and small bites, the next-door lounge has a convivial fireplace.

Degnan's Deli & Loft

DELI, PIZZERIA $$$

(mains $8-12; ☺ deli 7am-5pm year-round, pizzeria usually 5-9pm Apr-Sep; 🍷) Grab a deli sandwich and bag of chips downstairs before hitting the trail. After dark, head upstairs for cold brewskies and crispy pizzas.

🏠 Outside Yosemite National Park

Gateway towns that have a mixed bag of motels, hotels, lodges and B&Bs include Fish Camp, Oakhurst, El Portal, Midpines, Mariposa, Groveland and Lee Vining.

★ Yosemite Bug*Rustic Mountain Resort

HOSTEL, CABINS $

(☎ 866-826-7108, 209-966-6666; www.yosemite-bug.com; 6979 Hwy 140, Midpines; dm $23-26, tent cabins $45-75, r with/without bath from $75/65; ☺ cafe 7am-4pm & 6-8:30pm; 🍷📶🚰)

🌿 Tucked into the forest about 30 miles west of Yosemite Valley, this mountain hostelry hosts globetrotters who dig the clean rooms, low-key spa, shared kitchen access and laundry. The cafe's fresh, organic and vegetarian-friendly meals (mains $5 to $18) get raves.

★ Evergreen*Lodge Resort

CABINS, CAMPGROUND $$$

(☎ 209-379-2606; www.evergreenlodge.com; 33160 Evergreen Rd, Groveland; tents $80-120, cabins $210-380; 🍷📶🚰🚰) 🌿 Near Hetch Hetchy, this woodsy 1920s resort welcomes families and couples with its prefurnished tents and comfy mountain cabins. Outdoor recreational activities abound, with equipment rentals and nightly s'mores in the rec room. There's a general store, a tavern with a pool table and a country restaurant (dinner mains $18 to $30) serving three hearty meals a day.

📍 Information

Yosemite Village, Curry Village and Wawona stores all have ATMs. Drivers should fill up before entering the park. High-priced gas is sold at Wawona and Crane Flat year-round and at Tuolumne Meadows in summer. Cell-phone service is spotty throughout the park. Unreliable pay-as-you-go internet kiosks are available next to Degnan's Deli and at Yosemite Lodge, which offers slow fee-based wi-fi.

Wawona Branch Library (www.mariposalibrary.org; Chilnualna Falls Rd; ☺ 1-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat late May-early Sep, noon-5pm Mon, Wed & Fri, 10am-3pm Sat early Sep-late May; 📶) Free public internet terminals.

Yosemite Medical Clinic (☎ 209-372-4637; 9000 Ahwahnee Dr; ☺ 9am-7pm daily late May-late Sep, 9am-5pm Mon-Fri late Sep-late May) Urgent-care clinic in Yosemite Valley.

Yosemite Valley Branch Library (www.mariposalibrary.org; Girls Club Bldg, 9000 Cedar Ct; ☺ 9am-noon Mon, 8:30am-12:30pm Tue, 3-7pm Wed & 4-7pm Thu; 📶) Free public internet terminals.

Yosemite Valley Visitor Center (☎ 209-372-0200; www.nps.gov/yose; ☺ 9am-6pm, to 5pm

CAMPING IN YOSEMITE

From March through October, many park campgrounds require reservations (☎ 518-885-3639, 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov), which are available starting five months in advance. Campsites routinely sell out online within minutes. All campgrounds have bearproof lockers and campfire rings; most have potable water.

In summer, most campgrounds are noisy and booked to bulging, especially North Pines (campsites $20; ☺ Apr-Oct; 🚰📶), Lower Pines (campsites $20; ☺ Apr-Oct; 🚰📶) and year-round Upper Pines (campsites $20; 🚰📶) in Yosemite Valley; Tuolumne Meadows (campsites $20; ☺ mid-Jul-late Sep; 🚰📶) off Tioga Rd, a 90-minute drive from the valley; and riverside Wawona (campsites $20; 🚰📶), under an hour's drive from the valley.

Year-round Camp 4 (shared tent sites per person $5), a rock-climber's hangout in the valley; Bridalveil Creek (campsites $14; ☺ mid-Jul-early Sep), a 45-minute drive from the valley off Glacier Point Rd; and White Wolf (campsites $14; ☺ Jul-mid-Sep; 📶), an hour's drive from the valley off Tioga Rd, are all first-come, first-served and often full before noon, especially on weekends.

Looking for a quieter, more rugged experience? Try the primitive campgrounds (no potable water) at Tamarack Flat (tent sites $10; ☺ Jul-Sep), Yosemite Creek (tent sites $10; ☺ Jul-mid-Sep; 📶) and Porcupine Flat (campsites $10; ☺ Jul-Sep; 📶) off Tioga Rd. They're all first-come, first-served.

in winter) Smaller visitor centers at Wawona, Tuolumne Meadows and Big Oak Flat are open seasonally.

Yosemite Valley Wilderness Center (20 9-372-0826; www.nps.gov/yose; ☺ 8am-5pm May-Oct, 7:30am-5pm Jul & Aug) Backcountry permits and bear-canister rentals also available seasonally at Wawona, Tuolumne Meadows and Big Oak Flat.

Getting There & Around

The nearest Greyhound and Amtrak stations are in Merced. YARTS (2 877-989-2787; www.yarts.com) buses travel year-round from Merced to Yosemite Valley via Hwy 140, stopping at towns along the way. In summer, YARTS buses run from Yosemite Valley to Mammoth Lakes via Tuolumne Meadows along Hwy 120. One-way fares (including park entry fee) are $12.50 from Merced, $18 from Mammoth Lakes.

Free shuttle buses loop around Yosemite Valley and, in summer, the Tuolumne Meadows and Wawona/Mariposa Grove areas. DNC (2 209-372-4386; www.yosemitepark.com) runs hikers' buses from the valley to Tuolumne Meadows (one way/round-trip $15/23) and Glacier Point (one way/round-trip $25/41). Valley bike rentals (per hour/day $11/32) are available seasonally at Yosemite Lodge and Curry Village.

In winter, highways to the parks are kept open (except Tioga Rd/Hwy 120, see p1009), although snow chains may be required at any time. During ski season, a free twice-daily shuttle bus connects Yosemite Valley with Badger Pass.

Sequoia & Kings Canyon National Parks

In these neighboring parks, giant sequoia trees are bigger – up to 30 stories high! – and more numerous than anywhere else in the Sierra Nevada. Tough and fire-charred, they'd easily swallow two freeway lanes each. Giant, too, are the mountains – including Mt Whitney (14,505ft), the tallest peak in the lower 48 states. Finally, there is the deep Kings Canyon, carved out of granite by ancient glaciers and a powerful river. For quiet, solitude and close-up sightings of wildlife, including black bears, hit the trail and lose yourself in peaceful wilderness.

Sights

Sequoia was designated a national park in 1890; Kings Canyon, in 1940. Though distinct, the two parks (2 559-565-3341; www.nps.gov/seki; 7-day entry per car $20) operate as one unit with a single admission fee. From the south, Hwy 198 enters Sequoia National Park beyond the town of Three Rivers at Ash Mountain, then ascends the zigzagging Generals Hwy to Giant Forest. From the west, Hwy 180 enters Kings Canyon National Park near Grant Grove, then plunges down into the canyon to Cedar Grove.

Sequoia National Park

We dare you to try hugging the trees in Giant Forest, a 3-sq-mile grove that protects the park's most gargantuan specimens – the world's largest is the General Sherman Tree. With sore arms and sticky sap fingers, lose the crowds by venturing onto the network of forested hiking trails (bring a map).

Giant Forest Museum MUSEUM

(2 559-565-4480; Generals Hwy; ☺ 9am-4:30pm or 6pm mid-May–mid-Oct; 🗺) A short drive or shuttle ride south of Lodgepole Village, this tiny museum has exhibits on giant sequoia ecology and wildlife conservation. For 360° panoramic mountain views, climb the steep quarter-mile staircase up Moro Rock off Crescent Meadow Rd nearby.

Crystal Cave CAVE

(2 info 559-565-3759; www.sequoiahistory.org; Crystal Cave Rd; tours adult/child from $15/8; ☺ mid-May–Nov; 🗺) Discovered in 1918, this cave protects marble formations estimated to be 10,000 years old. First-come, first-served tickets for the 45-minute introductory tour are only available in person at the Lodgepole and Foothills visitor centers, not at the cave. Bring a jacket.

Mineral King HISTORIC SITE

(Mineral King Rd) Take a detour to Mineral King Valley (7500ft), a late-19th-century mining and logging camp ringed by craggy peaks and alpine lakes. The 25-mile one-way scenic drive – navigating almost 700 hair-raising hairpin turns – is usually open from mid-May to late October.

Kings Canyon National Park & Scenic Byway

Just north of Grant Grove Village, General Grant Grove brims with majestic giants. Beyond, Hwy 180 begins its 30-mile descent into Kings Canyon, serpentine past chiseled rock walls laced with waterfalls. The road meets the Kings River, its roar ricocheting off granite cliffs soaring over 8000ft high, making this one of North America's deepest canyons. The scenic byway past Hume Lake to Cedar Grove Village is usually closed from mid-November through mid-April.

Cedar Grove

OUTDOORS

Cedar Grove Village is the last outpost of civilization before the rugged grandeur of the Sierra Nevada backcountry begins. Hike from Roads End, with its river beach and summertime swimming holes, to roaring Mist Falls (8.4 miles round-trip). Popular with birders, an easy 1.5-mile nature trail loops around Zumwalt Meadow, just west of Roads End.

Boyden Cavern

CAVE

(www.boydencavern.com; Hwy 180; tours adult/child from $13/8; ☺ May–mid-Nov; 🏠) While its smaller and less impressive than Sequoia National Park's Crystal Cave, tours of the beautiful and whimsical formations here require no advance tickets.

🚶 Activities

Hiking is why people come here – with over 850 miles of marked trails to prove it. Cedar Grove and Mineral King offer the best backcountry access. Trails usually begin to open by early summer, though there's hiking year-round in the Foothills area. Overnight backcountry trips require wilderness permits (☎ 559-565-3766; www.nps.gov/seki/plan-yourvisit/backpacking.htm; per trip $15), subject to a quota system from late May through late September, so reserve in advance.

In summer, cool off by swimming in Hume Lake, on national forest land off Hwy 180, and at riverside swimming holes in both parks. In winter, you can cross-country ski or snowshoe among giant sequoias; equipment rental is available at Grant Grove Village and Wuksachi Lodge. For groomed cross-country ski trails and other winter sports, visit old-fashioned Montcito Sequoia Lodge, off the Generals Hwy between the two parks.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Camping reservations (☎ 518-885-3639, 877-477-6777; www.recreation.gov) are accepted only during summer at Lodgepole and Dorst Campgrounds in Sequoia National Park. The parks' dozen other developed campgrounds (campsites $10 to $20) are first-come, first-served. Lodgepole, Azalea, Potwisha and South Fork are open year-round. Overflow camping is available in the surrounding Sequoia National Forest.

The markets in Grant Grove, Lodgepole and Cedar Grove have limited groceries. Lodgepole and Cedar Grove also have snack bars serving basic, budget-friendly meals; Grant Grove has a simple restaurant, seasonal pizzeria and espresso cart.

Outside Sequoia's southern entrance, mostly well-worn independent and chain motels, rustic cabins and down-home eateries line Hwy 198 through Three Rivers town.

John Muir Lodge & Grant Grove Cabins

LODGE, CABINS $$

(☎ 559-335-5500, 866-522-6966; www.sequoia-kingscanyon.com; Hwy 180; cabins without bath $65-95, r $120-190; 🏠 🏠) In Grant Grove Village, this woodsy lodge has amply sized, if generic-looking, rooms and a fireplace lobby with board games. Oddly assorted cabin types range from thin-walled canvas tents to historical cabins.

Cedar Grove Lodge

LODGE $$

(☎ 559-335-5500, 866-522-6966; www.sequoia-kingscanyon.com; Hwy 180; r $129-135; ☺ mid-May–early Oct; 🏠 🏠) The almost two dozen motel-style rooms with shared porches overlooking the Kings River are simple and worn, but they're your best option down canyon.

Montcito Sequoia Lodge

LODGE $$

(☎ 559-565-3388, 800-227-9900; www.mslodge.com; 63410 Generals Hwy; cabins with/without bath from $ 159/79, r $99-249; 🏠 🏠) Family camps keep things raucous all summer long. In winter, go ice-skating and snow tubing. Basic lodge rooms and rustic cabins are mid-way between the parks. Rates include meals.

DON'T MISS

TOP SIERRA NEVADA SCENIC DRIVES

Tioga Road (Hwy 120) Yosemite's rooftop of the world

Generals Highway (Hwy 198) Historic byway past giant sequoias

Kings Canyon Scenic Byway (Hwy 180) Drop into one of North America's deepest canyons

Mineral King Rd Wind up into a high Sierra valley

Eastern Sierra Scenic Byway (US 395) Where snowy mountains overshadow the desert

Wuksachi Lodge

(☎ 559-565-4070, 866-807-3598; www.visitsequoia.com; 64740 Wuksachi Way, off Generals Hwy; r from $225; 🍷) Don't be misled by the grand lobby because oversized motel-style rooms here are nothing to brag about. The upscale Peaks Restaurant (☎ 559-565-4070; www.visitsequoia.com; dinner mains $17-32; 🍳 breakfast, lunch & dinner daily, seasonal hr vary) is hit-or-miss (dinner reservations required). If you've got stamina, hike 11.5 miles each way to the lodge's Bearpaw High Sierra Camp (☎ 866-807-3598, 801-559-4930; www.visitsequoia.com; tent cabin incl all meals s/d $175/225; 🌞 mid-Jun-mid-Sep), which books up far in advance.

Information

Lodgepole Village and Grant Grove Village are the parks' main commercial hubs. Both have visitor centers, post offices, markets, ATMs, coin-op laundry and public showers (summer only).

Lodgepole Visitor Center (☎ 559-565-4436; 🌞 9am-4:30pm or 6pm daily, shorter winter hr) in Lodgepole Village, Foothills Visitor Center (☎ 559-565-4212; 🌞 8am-4:30pm) at Ash Mountain and Kings Canyon Visitor Center (☎ 559-565-4307; 🌞 8am or 9am to 4:30pm or 5pm, shorter winter hr) in Grant Grove stay open year-round. Cedar Grove Visitor Center (☎ 559-565-4307; 🌞 8am or 9am to 4:30pm or 5pm late May-early Sep) in Kings Canyon and Mineral King Ranger Station (☎ 559-565-3768; 🌞 8am-4pm late May-early Sep) in Sequoia are open seasonally. Check the free park newspaper for other visitor services.

Expensive gas is available at Hume Lake (year-round) and Stony Creek (summer only) outside the park boundaries on national forest land.

Getting There & Around

From late May to early September, free buses loop around the Giant Forest and Lodgepole Village areas of Sequoia National Park, while the Sequoia Shuttle (☎ 877-287-4453; www.sequoiashuttle.com) links the park to Three Rivers and Visalia (round-trip fare including park entry fee $15, reservations required), with onward connections to Amtrak from Visalia. Kings Canyon National Park has no public transportation.

Eastern Sierra

Vast, empty and majestic, here jagged peaks plummet down into the Great Basin desert, a dramatic juxtaposition that creates a potent scenery cocktail. Hwy 395 runs the entire length of the Sierra Nevada, with turnoffs leading to pine forests, wildflower-strewn meadows, placid lakes, hot springs and glacier-gouged canyons. Hikers, backpackers, mountain bikers, fishers and skiers all escape here. The main visitor hubs are Mammoth Lakes and Bishop.

At Bodie State Historic Park (☎ 760-647-6445; www.bodiefoundation.org; Hwy 270; adult/child $7/5; 🌞 9am-6pm mid-May-Oct, to 3pm Nov-mid-May), a gold-rush ghost town is preserved in a state of 'arrested decay.' Weathered buildings sit frozen in time on a dusty, windswept plain. To get there, head east for 13 miles (the last three unpaved) on Hwy 270, about 7 miles south of Bridgeport. The access road is closed by snow during winter.

Further south at Mono Lake (www.monolake.org), unearthly tufa towers rise from the alkaline water like drip sandcastles. Off Hwy 395, Mono Basin Scenic Area Visitor Center (☎ 760-647-3044; 🌞 8am-5pm Apr-Nov) has excellent exhibits and schedules of guided walks and talks. The best photo ops are from the south shore's South Tufa Area (adult/child $3/free). From the nearby town of Lee Vining, Hwy 120 heads west into Yosemite National Park via seasonal Tioga Pass (p1009).

Continuing south on Hwy 395, detour along the scenic 16-mile June Lake Loop or push on to Mammoth Lakes, a popular four-seasons resort guarded by 11,053ft Mammoth Mountain (☎ 800-626-6684; www.mammothmountain.com; 10001 Minaret Rd), a top-notch skiing area. The slopes morph into a mountain-bike park in summer, when there's also camping, fishing and day hiking around Mammoth Lakes Basin and Reds Meadow. Nearby are the 60ft-high basalt columns of Devils Postpile National Monument (☎ 760-934-2289; www.nps.gov/depo; shuttle day pass adult/child $7/4; 🌞 late May-Oct), formed by volcanic activity. Hot-springs fans can soak in primitive pools off Benton Crossing Rd or view the geysering water at Hot Creek Geological Site (www.fs.usda.gov/inyo; Hot Creek Hatchery Rd; 🌞 sunrise-sunset) FREE, both off Hwy 395 southeast of town. The in-town Mammoth Lakes Welcome Center & Ranger Station (☎ 866-466-2666; www.visitmammoth.com; 2510 Main St; 🌞 8am-5pm) has helpful maps and information.

Further south, Hwy 395 descends into the Owens Valley, soon arriving in frontier-flavored Bishop, whose minor attractions include art galleries and a historical railroad museum (☎760-873-5950; www.lawsmuseum.org; Silver Canyon Rd; donation $5; ☀10am-4pm; ♿). Bishop is the main gateway for pack-horse trips and access to the best fishing and rock climbing in the entire Eastern Sierra.

Budget a half-day for the thrilling drive up to the Ancient Bristlecone Pine Forest (☎760-873-2500; www.fs.usda.gov/inyo; per car $6; ☀usually mid-May–Nov). These gnarled, otherworldly looking trees are found above 10,000ft on the slopes of the White Mountains, where you'd think nothing could grow. The oldest tree – called Methuselah – is estimated to be over 4700 years old. The road (closed by snow in winter and spring) is paved to the visitor center at Schulman Grove, where hiking trails await. From Hwy 395 in Big Pine, take Hwy 168 east for 13 miles, then head up another 10 miles on White Mountain Rd.

Hwy 395 barrels south to Independence and Manzanar National Historic Site (☎760-878-2194; www.nps.gov/manz; 5001 Hwy 395, Independence; ☀dawn-dusk, visitor center 9am-4:30pm) FREE, which memorializes the war relocation camp where some 10,000 Japanese Americans were unjustly interned during WWII following the attack on Pearl Harbor. Interpretive exhibits and a short film vividly chronicle life at the camp, marked by a short self-guided auto tour route.

Further south in Lone Pine, you will finally catch a glimpse of 14,505ft Mt Whitney (www.fs.usda.gov/inyo), the highest mountain in the lower 48 states. The heart-stopping, 12-mile scenic drive up Whitney Portal Road (closed in winter) is spectacular. Climbing the peak is hugely popular, but requires a permit (www.recreation.gov; per person $15) issued on a lottery basis. West of Lone Pine, the bizarrely shaped boulders of the Alabama Hills have enchanted the makers of Hollywood Westerns. Peruse vintage memorabilia and movie posters at the Museum of Lone Pine Film History (☎760-876-9909; www.lonepinefilmhistorymuseum.org; 701 S Main St; adult/child $5/free; ☀10am-6pm Mon-Wed, to 7pm Thu-Sat, to 4pm Sun). South of town, the Eastern Sierra InterAgency Visitor Center (☎760-876-6222; www.fs.fed.us/r5/inyo; Hwys 395 & 136; ☀8am-5pm) issues wilderness permits, dispenses outdoor-recreation information and sells books and maps.

🛏 Sleeping

The Eastern Sierra is freckled with campgrounds; backcountry camping requires a wilderness permit, reservable in advance and available at ranger stations. Bishop, Lone Pine and Bridgeport have the most motels. Mammoth Lakes has a few motels and dozens of inns, B&Bs and condo and vacation rentals. Reservations are essential everywhere in summer.

El Mono Motel

MOTEL $

(☎760-647-6310; www.elmonomotel.com; 51 Hwy 395, Lee Vining; r with/without bath from $89/69; ☀mid-May–Oct; ♿) Neighboring a coffee shop, snug motel rooms nearby Mono Lake are a short drive from Yosemite National Park's Tioga Pass entrance.

Whitney Portal Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎760-876-0030; www.whitneyportalstore.com; 238 S Main St, Lone Pine; dm/q $25/84; ♿♿♿) Carpeted bunk-bed rooms at this ultrabasic hostel are popular launchpads for Whitney summit hikes. Public showers ($5) available.

★ Tamarack Lodge

LODGE, CABINS $$

(☎800-626-6684, 760-934-2442; www.tamaracklodge.com; 163 Twin Lakes Rd, Mammoth Lakes; r with/without bath from $149/99, cabins from $169; ♿♿♿) Since 1924, this heart-warming lakeside resort has rented lodge rooms and cabins with kitchens, ranging from rustic to deluxe – some have wood-burning fireplaces.

Dow Hotel & Dow Villa Motel

HOTEL, MOTEL $$

(☎800-824-9317, 760-876-5521; www.dowillamotel.com; 310 S Main St, Lone Pine; r $85-150, without bath $70; ♿♿♿♿♿) John Wayne and Errol Flynn are among the movie stars who have slept at this 1922 hotel, restored with rustic charm. Modern motel rooms are a mite more comfortable.

DON'T MISS

TOP EASTERN SIERRA OUTDOOR SPOTS

Bodie State Historic Park (p1015) An eerie gold-rush ghost town.

Mono Lake (p1015) Unearthly, mysterious-looking mineral formations.

Mammoth Mountain (p1015) Lofty winter sports and mountain biking.

Ancient Bristlecone Pine Forest (p1016) Earth's oldest living trees.

Manzanar National Historic Site (p1016) Uncensored history of WWII-era internment camps.

Eating & Drinking

Good Life Café

AMERICAN $
(<http://mammothgoodlifecafe.com>); 126 Old Mammoth Rd, Mammoth Lakes; mains $7-10; ☺ 6:30am-3pm) Stomach-stuffing breakfasts, brawny burgers and Cal-Mexican burritos, healthy veggie wraps and big salad bowls keep this spot with a sunny patio packed.

Raymond's Deli

DELI $
(<http://raymondsdeli.com>); 206 N Main St, Bishop; items $5-9; ☺ 10am-5:30pm; 🍷) A brash den of kitsch and pinball, Raymond's makes overstuffed sandwiches with names like 'When Pigs Fly' and 'Flaming Farm.' Kick back with California craft beers.

★ Whoa Nellie Deli

CALIFORNIAN $$
(☎ 760-647-1088; Tioga Gas Mart, 22 Vista Point Rd, off Hwy 120, Lee Vining; mains $7-20; ☺ 7am-9pm late Apr-early Nov; 🍷) Great food in a gas station? Really, you gotta try chef Matt Toomey's amazing roadside kitchen, dishing up fish tacos, wild buffalo meatloaf and barbecue ribs.

Skadi

EUROPEAN $$$
(☎ 760-934-3902; <http://skadirestaurant.com>); 587 Old Mammoth Rd, Mammoth Lakes; mains $24-32; ☺ 5:30-9:30pm) As you gaze out at dreamy mountain vistas, feast on Scandinavian 'alpine cuisine' – like roasted crispy-skin salmon and juniper-spiced duck breast with lingonberries – with stellar wines.

Mammoth Brewing Company Tasting Room

BREWERY
(www.mammothbrewingco.com); 94 Berner St, Mammoth Lakes; ☺ 10am-6pm) Sample a dozen brews on tap for free, then buy take-home bottles of IPA 395 or Double Nut Brown.

Looney Bean Coffee

CAFE
(www.looneybean.com); 399 N Main St, Bishop; ☺ 6am-6pm Mon-Sat, 7am-5pm Sun; 🍷) Local hangout for freshly roasted brews, fruit smoothies and baked goods. Also in Mammoth Lakes.

Lake Tahoe

Shimmering in myriad blues and greens, Lake Tahoe is the nation's second-deepest lake. Driving around its spellbinding 72-mile scenic shoreline gives you quite a workout behind the wheel. The north shore is quiet and upscale; the west shore, rugged and old-timey; the east shore, undeveloped; and the south shore, busy with families and flashy casinos. The horned peaks surrounding the lake (elevation 6225ft), which straddles the California-Nevada state line, are year-round outdoor playgrounds.

Tahoe gets packed in summer, on winter weekends and over holidays, when reservations are essential. Lake Tahoe Visitors Authority (☎ 800-288-2463; www.tahoessouth.com) and North Lake Tahoe Visitors' Bureau (☎ 888-434-1262; www.gotahoenorth.com) run multiple visitor information centers. There's camping in state parks (☎ 800-444-7275; www.reserveamerica.com; campsites $35-50; 🍷🍷) and on USFS lands (☎ 877-444-6777, 518-885-3639; www.recreation.gov; campsites $20-40; 🍷🍷).

South Lake Tahoe & West Shore

With retro motels and eateries lining busy Hwy 50, South Lake Tahoe gets crowded. Gambling at Stateline's casino hotels, just across the Nevada border, attracts thousands, as does the world-class ski resort of Heavenly (☎ 775-586-7000; www.skiheavenly.com; 3860 Saddle Rd; 🍷). In summer, a trip up Heavenly's gondola (adult/child $38/20) guarantees fabulous views of the lake and Desolation Wilderness, a starkly beautiful landscape of raw granite peaks, glacier-carved valleys and alpine lakes that's a favorite of hikers. Get maps, information and wilderness permits (☎ 877-444-6777; www.recreation.gov; per adult $5-10) from the USFS Taylor Creek Visitor Center (☎ 530-543-2674; www.fs.usda.gov/ttbmu; Hwy 89; ☺ daily late May-Oct, hr vary). It's 3 miles north of the 'Y' intersection of Hwys 50/89, at Tallac Historic Site (Tallac Rd; entry free, tour adult/child $5/3; ☺ 10am-4:30pm mid-Jun-Sep, Fri & Sat only late May-mid-Jun; 🍷), preserving early-20th-century vacation estates.

From sandy, swimmable Zephyr Cove across the Nevada border or the in-town Ski Run Marina, Lake Tahoe Cruises (☎ 800-238-2463; www.zephyrcove.com; adult/child from $47/10) ply the 'Big Blue' year-round. Back on shore, boutique-chic motels include the Alder Inn (☎ 530-544-4485; www.thealderinn.com; 1072 Ski Run Blvd; r $85-229; 🍷🍷) and the hip Basecamp Hotel (☎ 530-208-0180; <http://basecamphotels.com>; 4143 Cedar Ave; r incl breakfast $115-239; 🍷🍷), which has a rooftop hot tub and communal fire pits. Fuel up at vegetarian-friendly Sprouts (3123 Harrison Ave; mains $6-10; ☺ 8am-9pm; 🍷), a natural-foods cafe, or with a peanut-butter-topped burger and garlic fries at the Burger Lounge (☎530-542-2010; www.burgerloung-eintahoe.com; 717 Emerald Bay Rd; items $4-9; ☺10am-8pm, shorter hr Oct-May; ♿).

Hwy 89 threads northwest along the thickly forested west shore to Emerald Bay State Park (☎530-541-6498; www.parks.ca.gov; per car $8-10; ☺daily late May-Sep), where granite cliffs and pine trees frame a sparkling fjordlike inlet. A 1-mile trail leads steeply downhill to Vikingsholm Castle (tours adult/child $10/8; ☺10:30am or 11am-4pm daily late May-Sep). From this 1920s Scandinavian-style mansion, the Rubicon Trail ribbons 4.5 miles north along the lakeshore past petite coves to DL Bliss State Park (☎530-525-7277; www.parks.ca.gov; per car $10; ☺usually late May-Sep; ♿), offering sandy beaches. Further north, Tahoma Meadows B&B Cottages (☎866-525-1533, 530-525-1553; www.tahomameadows.com; 6821 W Lake Blvd, Homewood; cottages incl breakfast $109-199; ♿♿♿) rents darling country cabins.

North & East Shores

The north shore's commercial hub, Tahoe City is great for grabbing supplies and renting outdoor gear. It's not far from Squaw Valley USA (☎800-403-0206; www.squaw.com; 1960 Squaw Valley Rd, Olympic Valley; ♿), a megasized ski resort that hosted the 1960 Winter Olympics. Après-ski crowds gather at woody Bridgetender Tavern (www.tahoe-bridgetender.com; 65 W Lake Blvd; mains $8-12; ☺11am-11pm, to midnight Fri & Sat) back in town. In the morning, gobble eggs Benedict with house-smoked salmon at down-home Fire Sign Cafe (www.firesigncafe.com; 1785 W Lake Blvd, Sunnyside; mains $7-11; ☺7am-3pm; ♿), 2 miles south along the lakeshore.

In summer, swim or kayak at Tahoe Vista or Kings Beach. Overnight at Franciscan Lakeside Lodge (☎800-564-6754, 530-546-6300; http://franciscanlodge.com; 6944 N Lake Blvd, Tahoe Vista; d $95-285; ♿♿♿), where simple cabins, cottages and suites have kitchenettes, or at well-kept, compact Hostel Tahoe (☎530-546-3266; http://hostel-tahoe.com; 8931 N Lake Blvd, Kings Beach; dm $32, r $65-80; ☺check-in 4-7pm; ♿♿). East of Kings Beach's casual lakeside eateries, Hwy 28 barrels into Nevada. You can catch a live-music show at Crystal Bay Club Casino (☎775-833-6333; www.crystalbaycasino.com; 14 Hwy 28, Crystal Bay), but, for more happening bars and bistros, drive further to Incline Village.

With pristine beaches, lakes and miles of multi-use trails, Lake Tahoe-Nevada State Park (http://parks.nv.gov; per car $7-12) is the east shore's biggest draw. Summer crowds splash in the turquoise waters of Sand Harbor. The 13.5-mile Flume Trail, a mountain biker's holy grail, ends further south at Spooner Lake. Back in Incline Village, Flume Trail Bikes (☎775-298-2501; www.flumetrailtahoe.com; 1115 Tunnel Creek Rd; bike rental per day $35-90, shuttle $10-15) offers bicycle rentals and trailhead shuttles.

Truckee & Around

North of Lake Tahoe off I-80, Truckee is not in fact a truck stop but a thriving mountain town, with coffee shops, trendy boutiques and dining in downtown's historical district. Ski bums have several area resorts to pick from, including glam Northstar-at-Tahoe (☎800-466-6784; www.northstar-tahoe.com; 5001 Northstar Dr; ♿); kid-friendly Sugar Bowl (☎530-426-9000; www.sugarbowl.com; 629 Sugar Bowl Rd, Norden; ♿), cofounded by Walt Disney; and Royal Gorge (☎530-426-3871; www.royalgorge.com; 9411 Pahatsi Rd, Soda Springs; ♿), paradise for cross-country skiers.

West of Hwy 89, Donner Summit is where the infamous Donner Party became trapped during the fierce winter of 1846-47. Fewer than half survived – some by cannibalizing their dead friends. The grisly tale is chronicled at the museum inside Donner Memorial State Park (www.parks.ca.gov; Donner Pass Rd; per car $8; ☺museum 10am-5pm, closed Tue & Wed Sep-May; ♿), where Donner Lake is popular with swimmers and paddlers.

Do-it-yourself hikers and skiers who don't mind doing small chores stay at the Sierra Club's rough-hewn Clair Tappan Lodge (☎800-679-6775, 530-426-3632; www.sierraclub.org/outings/lodges/ct; 19940 Donner Pass Rd, Norden; dm incl meals adult/child from $60/30; ♿) ☞ outside town. On the outskirts of Truckee, green-certified Cedar House Sport Hotel (☎866-582-5655, 530-582-5655; www.cedarhousesporthotel.com; 10918 Brockway Rd; r incl breakfast $170-290; ♿♿) ☞ offers stylish boutique rooms and an outdoor hot tub. Down pints of 'Donner Pass Porter' at Fifty Fifty Brewing Co (www.fifty-fiftybrewing.com; 11197 Brockway Rd; ☺11am-9pm, to 9:30pm Fri & Sat) ☞.

i Getting There & Around

South Tahoe Express (☎ 866-898-2463, 775-325-8944; www.southtahoexpress.com; one way/round-trip $30/53) runs several daily shuttles from Nevada's Reno-Tahoe International Airport to Stateline. North Lake Tahoe Express (☎ 866-216-5222, 775-786-3706; www.north-laketahoexpress.com; one way/round-trip $45/85) connects Reno's airport with Truckee, Northstar, Squaw Valley and north-shore towns.

Truckee's Amtrak depot (10065 Donner Pass Rd) has daily trains to Sacramento ($50, 4½ hours) and Reno ($16, 1½ hours), and twice-daily Greyhound buses to Reno ($18, one hour), Sacramento ($45, 2½ hours) and San Francisco ($41, six hours). Amtrak buses connect Sacramento with South Lake Tahoe ($34, 2½ hours).

Tahoe Area Regional Transit (TART; ☎ 800-736-6365, 530-550-1212; www.placer.ca.gov/tart; fare/day pass $1.75/3.50) operates local buses from Truckee around the north and west shores. South Lake Tahoe is served by BlueGO (☎ 530-541-7149; www.bluego.org; fare/day pass from $2/5) buses. BlueGO's summer-only Nifty 50 trolley heads up the west shore to Tahoma, connecting with TART.

If you're driving, tire chains are often required in winter on I-80, US 50 and other mountain highways, which may close temporarily due to heavy snow.

Pacific Northwest

Includes →

Washington .....	1026
Seattle .....	1026
Olympic Peninsula .....	1041
San Juan Islands .....	1045
North Cascades .....	1047
South Cascades .....	1050
Oregon .....	1053
Portland .....	1053
Willamette Valley .....	1065
Columbia River Gorge .....	1068
Oregon Coast .....	1077

Best Places to Eat

- Cascina Spinasse (p1036)
- Saffron Mediterranean Kitchen (p1053)
- Ox (p1060)
- New Sammy's Cowboy Bistro (p1074)

Best Places to Stay

- Sun Mountain Lodge (p1048)
- Kennedy School (p1059)
- Oxford Hotel (p1071)
- Hotel Five (p1033)

Why Go?

As much a state of mind as a geographical region, the US's northwest corner is a land of subcultures and new trends, where evergreen trees frame snow-dusted volcanoes, and inspired ideas scribbled on the back of napkins become tomorrow's business start-ups. You can't peel off the history in layers here, but you can gaze wistfully into the future in fast-moving, innovative cities such as Seattle and Portland, which are sprinkled with food carts, streetcars, microbreweries, green belts, coffee connoisseurs and weird urban sculpture.

Ever since the days of the Oregon Trail, the Northwest has had a hypnotic lure for risk takers and dreamers, and the metaphoric carrot still dangles. There's the air, so clean they ought to bottle it; the trees, older than many of Rome's Renaissance palaces; and the end-of-the-continent coastline, holding back the force of the world's largest ocean. Cowboys take note; it doesn't get much more 'wild' or 'west' than this.

When to Go

Seattle

Jan-Mar Most reliable snow cover for skiing in the Cascades and beyond.

May Festival season: Portland Rose, Seattle International Film Festival, Oregon Shakespeare.

Jul-Sep The best hiking months in between the spring snowmelt and the first fall flurries.

Grunge & Other Subcultures

Synthesizing Generation X angst with a questionable approach to personal hygiene, grunge first dive-bombed onto Seattle's music scene in the early 1990s like a clap of thunder on an otherwise dry and sunny afternoon. The anger had been fermenting for years. Hardcore punk originated in Portland in the late 1970s, led by resident contrarians the Wipers, whose antifashion followers congregated in legendary dive bars such as Satyricon. Another musical blossoming occurred in Olympia, where DIY-merchants Beat Happening invented 'lo-fi' and coyly mocked the corporate establishment. Scooping up the fallout of a disparate youth culture, Seattle quickly became grunge's pulpit, spawning bands such as Pearl Jam, Soundgarden and Alice in Chains. The genre went global in 1991 when Nirvana's Nevermind album knocked Michael Jackson off the number-one spot, but the movement was never meant to be successful and the kudos quickly killed it. Since the mid '90s the Pacific Northwest has kept its subcultures largely to itself, though the music's no less potent or relevant.

MICROBREWERIES

'Beer connoisseurship' is a nationwide phenomenon these days, but the campaign to put a dash of flavor into commercially brewed beer was first ignited in the Pacific Northwest in the 1980s.

One of America's first microbreweries was the mercurial Cartwright Brewing Company, set up in Portland in 1980. The nation's first official brewpub was the now defunct Grant's, which opened in the Washington city of Yakima in 1982. The trend went viral in 1984 with the inauguration of Bridgeport Brewing Company in Portland, followed a year later by Beervana's old-school brewing brothers Mike and Brian McMenamin, whose quirky beer empire still acts as a kind of personification of the craft-brewing business in the region.

Today, Washington and Oregon operate nearly 300 microbreweries (Portland alone has more than 50). These take classic, natural ingredients – malt, hops and yeast – to produce high-quality beer in small batches.

DON'T MISS

Between them, the states of Washington and Oregon harbor four of the US's most spectacular national parks: Mt Rainier (established 1899), Crater Lake (1902), Olympic (1938) and North Cascades (1968).

Fast Facts

- ➔ Hub cities Seattle (621,000), Portland (594,000)
- ➔ Distances from Seattle Portland (172 miles), Vancouver BC (140 miles)
- ➔ Time zone Pacific Standard

Did You Know?

Over the winter of 1998–99, the Mt Baker ski resort in northwest Washington received 1140in of snow in a single season, the largest annual snowfall ever recorded.

Resources

- ➔ Washington State Parks & Recreation Commission (www.parks.wa.gov)
- ➔ Oregon State Parks & Recreation Dept (www.oregonstateparks.org)
- ➔ Washington State Tourism Office (www.tourism.wa.gov)
- ➔ Oregon Tourism Commission (www.traveloregon.com)

Best State Parks

- ➔ Moran State Park Orcas Island
- ➔ Ecola State Park Cannon Beach
- ➔ Deception Pass State Park Whidbey Island
- ➔ Fort Worden State Park Port Townsend
- ➔ Lime Kiln Point State Park San Juan Island
- ➔ Cape Perpetua State Park Near Yachats
- ➔ Smith Rock State Park Near Bend

Pacific Northwest Highlights

1 Cycling and kayaking around the quieter corners of the San Juan Islands (p1045).

2 Exploring the gorgeous Oregon Coast (p1077), from scenic Astoria to balmy Port Orford.

3 Admiring trees older than Europe's Renaissance castles in Washington's Olympic National Park (p1041).

4 Watching the greatest outdoor show in the Pacific Northwest in Seattle's theatrical Pike Place Market (p1026).

5 Walking the green and serene neighborhoods of Portland (p1053), energized by beer, coffee and food-cart treats.

6 Witnessing the impossibly deep blue waters and scenic panoramas of Crater Lake National Park (p1072).

PACIFIC OCEAN

California

Nevada

History

Native American societies, including the Chinook and the Salish, had long-established coastal communities by the time Europeans arrived in the Pacific Northwest in the 18th century. Inland, on the arid plateaus between the Cascades and the Rocky Mountains, the Spokane, Nez Percé and other tribes thrived on seasonal migration between river valleys and temperate uplands.

Three hundred years after Columbus landed in the New World, Spanish and British explorers began probing the northern Pacific coast, seeking the fabled Northwest Passage. In 1792 Captain George Vancouver was the first explorer to sail the waters of Puget Sound, claiming British sovereignty over the entire region. At the same time, an American, Captain Robert Gray, found the mouth of the Columbia River. In 1805 the explorers Lewis and Clark crossed the Rockies and made their way down the Columbia to the Pacific Ocean, extending the US claim on the territory.

In 1824 the British Hudson's Bay Company established Fort Vancouver in Washington as headquarters for the Columbia region. This opened the door to waves of settlers but had a devastating impact on the indigenous cultures, which were assailed by European diseases and alcohol.

In 1843 settlers at Champoege, on the Willamette River south of Portland, voted to organize a provisional government independent of the Hudson's Bay Company, thereby casting their lot with the US, which formally acquired the territory from the British by treaty in 1846. Over the next decade, some 53,000 settlers came to the Northwest via the 2000-mile Oregon Trail.

Arrival of the railroads set the region's future. Agriculture and lumber became the pillars of the economy until 1914, when WWI and the opening of the Panama Canal brought increased trade to Pacific ports. Shipyards opened along Puget Sound, and the Boeing aircraft company set up shop near Seattle.

Big dam projects in the 1930s and '40s provided cheap hydroelectricity and irrigation. WWII offered another boost for aircraft manufacturing and shipbuilding, and agriculture continued to thrive. In the postwar period, Washington's population, especially around Puget Sound, grew to twice that of Oregon.

In the 1980s and '90s, the economic emphasis shifted with the rise of the high-tech industry, embodied by Microsoft in Seattle and Intel in Portland.

Hydroelectricity production and massive irrigation projects along the Columbia, however, have threatened the river's ecosystem in the past few decades and logging has also left its scars. But the region has reinvigorated its eco credentials by attracting some of the country's most environmentally conscious companies and its major cities are among the greenest in the US. It stands at the forefront of US efforts to tackle climate issues.

Local Culture

The stereotypical image of a Pacific Northwesterner is a casually dressed, latte-sipping urbanite who drives a Prius, votes Democrat and walks around with an unwavering diet

THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST IN...

Four Days

Hit the ground running in Seattle to see the main sights, including Pike Place Market and the Seattle Center. On day three, head down to Portland, where you can be like the locals and cycle to bars, cafes, food carts and shops.

One Week

Add a couple highlights like Mt Rainier, Olympic National Park, the Columbia River Gorge and Mt Hood. Or explore the spectacular Oregon Coast (try the Cannon Beach area) or the historic seaport of Port Townsend on the Olympic Peninsula.

Two Weeks

Crater Lake is unforgettable, and can be combined with a trip to Ashland and its Shakespeare Festival. Don't miss the ethereal San Juan Islands up near the watery border with Canada, or Bend, the region's biggest outdoor draw. If you like wine, Washington's Walla Walla is your mecca, while the Willamette Valley is Oregon's Pinot Noir paradise.

of Nirvana-derived indie rock programmed into their iPod. But, as with most fleeting regional generalizations, the reality is far more complex.

Noted for their sophisticated cafe culture and copious microbrew pubs, the urban hubs of Seattle and Portland are the Northwest's most emblematic cities. But head east into the region's drier and less verdant interior, and the cultural affiliations become increasingly more traditional. Here, strung out along the Columbia River Valley or nestled amid the arid steppes of southeastern Washington, small towns host raucous rodeos, tourist centers promote cowboy culture, and a cup of coffee is served 'straight up' with none of the chai lattes and frappés that are par for the course in Seattle.

In contrast to the USA's hardworking eastern seaboard, life out West is more casual and less frenetic than in New York or Boston. Idealistically, Westerners would rather work to live than live to work. Indeed, with so much winter rain, the citizens of the Pacific Northwest will dredge up any excuse to shun the nine-to-five treadmill and hit the great outdoors a couple of hours (or even days) early. Witness the scene in late May and early June, when the first bright days of summer prompt a mass exodus of hikers and cyclists making enthusiastically for the national parks and wilderness areas for which the region is justly famous.

Creativity is another strong Northwestern trait, be it redefining the course of modern rock music or reconfiguring the latest Microsoft computer program. No longer content to live in the shadow of California or Hong Kong, the Pacific Northwest has redefined itself internationally in recent decades through celebrated TV shows (Frasier and Portlandia, for example), iconic global personalities (Bill Gates) and a groundbreaking music scene that has spawned everything from grunge rock to riot grrrl feminism.

Tolerance is widespread in Pacific Northwestern society, from recreational drug use to gay rights to physician-assisted suicide. Commonly voting Democrat in presidential elections, the population has also enthusiastically embraced the push for 'greener' lifestyles in the form of extensive recycling programs, 'sustainable' restaurants and bio-diesel whale-watching tours. An early exponent of ecofriendly practices, former Seattle mayor Greg Nickels has become a leading spokesperson on climate change, while progressive Portland regularly features at the top of America's most sustainable and bike-friendly cities.

i Getting There & Around

AIR

Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (p1039), aka 'Sea-Tac' and Portland International Airport (p1064) are the main airports for the region, serving many North American and a few international destinations.

BOAT

Washington State Ferries (WSF; p1039) links Seattle with Bainbridge and Vashon Islands. Other WSF routes cross from Whidbey Island to Port Townsend on the Olympic Peninsula, and from Anacortes through the San Juan Islands to Sidney, BC. Victoria Clipper (p1039) operates services from Seattle to Victoria, BC, and ferries to Victoria also operate from Port Angeles.

Alaska Marine Highway (AMHS; ☎ 800-642-0066; www.ferryalaska.com) ferries go from Bellingham, WA, to Alaska.

BUS

Greyhound (www.greyhound.com) provides service along the I-5 corridor from Bellingham in northern Washington down to Medford in southern Oregon, with connecting services across the US and Canada. East-west routes fan out toward Spokane, Yakima, the Tri-Cities (Kennewick, Pasco and Richland in Washington), Walla Walla and Pullman in Washington, and Hood River and Pendleton in Oregon. Private bus companies service most of the smaller towns and cities across the region, often connecting to Greyhound or Amtrak.

CAR

Driving your own vehicle is by far the most convenient way of touring the Pacific Northwest. Major and minor rental agencies are commonplace throughout the region. The I-5 is the major north-south artery. In Washington I-90 heads east from Seattle to Spokane and into Idaho. In Oregon I-84 branches east from Portland along the Columbia River Gorge to link up with Boise in Idaho.

TRAIN

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) runs train services north (to Vancouver, Canada) and south (to California) linking Seattle, Portland and other major urban centers with the Cascades and Coast Starlight routes. The famous Empire Builder heads east to Chicago from Seattle and Portland (joining up in Spokane).

WASHINGTON

Divided in two by the spinal Cascade Mountains, Washington isn't so much a land of contrasts as a land of polar opposites. Centered on Seattle, the western coastal zone is wet, urban, liberal and famous for its fecund evergreen forests; splayed to the east between the less celebrated cities of Spokane and Yakima, the inland plains are arid, rural, conservative and covered by mile after mile of scrublike steppe.

Of the two halves it's the west that harbors most of the quintessential Washington sights, while the more remote east is less heralded, understated and full of surprises.

WASHINGTON FACTS

Nickname Evergreen State

Population 6,897,000

Area 71,342 sq miles

Capital city Olympia (population 47,266)

Other cities Seattle (population 620,778), Spokane (population 210,103), Yakima (population 92,512), Bellingham (population 81,862), Walla Walla (population 32,148)

Sales tax 6.5%

Birthplace of Singer and actor Bing Crosby (1903–77), guitarist Jimi Hendrix (1942–70), computer geek Bill Gates (b 1955), political commentator Glen Beck (b 1964), musical icon Kurt Cobain (1967–94)

Home of Mt St Helens, Microsoft, Starbucks, Nordstrom, Evergreen State College

Politics Democrat governor, Democrat senators, Democrat in presidential elections since 1988

Famous for Grunge rock, coffee, Grey's Anatomy, Twilight, volcanoes, apples, wine, precipitation

State vegetable Walla Walla sweet onion

Driving distances Seattle to Portland 174 miles, Spokane to Port Angeles 365 miles

Seattle

Combine the brains of Portland, OR, with the beauty of Vancouver, BC, and you'll get something approximating Seattle. It's hard to believe that the Pacific Northwest's largest metropolis was considered a 'secondary' US city until the 1980s, when a combination of bold innovation and unabashed individualism turned it into one of the dot-com era's biggest trendsetters, spearheaded by an unlikely alliance of coffee-sipping computer geeks and navel-gazing musicians. Reinvention is the buzzword these days in a city where grunge belongs to the history books and Starbucks now competes among a cavalcade of precocious indie coffee providers eking out their market position.

Surprisingly elegant in places and coolly edgy in others, Seattle is notable for its strong neighborhoods, top-rated university, monstrous traffic jams and proactive city mayors who harbor green credentials. Although it has fermented its own pop culture in recent times, it has yet to create an urban mythology befitting Paris or New York, but it does have 'the Mountain.' Better known as Rainier to its friends, Seattle's unifying symbol is a 14,411ft mass of rock and ice, which acts as a perennial reminder to the city's huddled masses that raw wilderness and potential volcanic catastrophe are never far away.

Sights

Downtown

★ Pike Place Market

MARKET

(www.pikeplacemarket.org; btwn Virginia St & Union St & 1st Ave & Western Ave; ☺ 9am–6pm Mon–Sat, to 5pm Sun; 📍 Westlake) 🍃 Take a bunch of small-time businesses and sprinkle them liberally around a spatially challenged waterside strip amid crowds of old-school bohemians, new-wave restaurateurs, tree-huggers, bolshe students, artists, urban buskers and artisans. The result: Pike Place Market, a cavalcade of noise, smells, personalities, banter and urban theater that's almost London-like in its cosmopolitanism. In operation since 1907, Pike Place is Seattle in a bottle, a wonderfully 'local' experience that highlights the city for what it really is: all-embracing, eclectic and proudly singular.

PIONEER SQUARE

Pioneer Sq is Seattle's oldest quarter, which isn't saying much if you're visiting from Rome or London. Most of the buildings here date from just after the 1889 fire (a devastating inferno that destroyed 25 city blocks, including the entire central business district), and are referred to architecturally as Richardsonian Romanesque, a red-brick revivalist style in vogue at the time. In the early years, the neighborhood's boom-bust fortunes turned its arterial road, Yesler Way, into the original 'skid row' – an allusion to the skidding logs that were pulled downhill to Henry Yesler's pier-side mill. When the timber industry fell on hard times, the road became a haven for the homeless and its name subsequently became a byword for poverty-stricken urban enclaves countrywide.

Thanks to a concerted public effort, the neighborhood avoided being laid to waste by the demolition squads in the 1960s and is now protected in the Pioneer Sq–Skid Rd Historic District.

The quarter today mixes the historic with the seedy, while harboring art galleries, cafes and nightlife. Its most iconic building is the 42-story Smith Tower (cnr 2nd Ave S & Yesler Way; observation deck adult/child $7.50/5; ☀️ 10am–dusk), completed in 1914 and, until 1931, it was the tallest building west of the Mississippi. Other highlights include the 1909 Pergola, a decorative iron shelter reminiscent of a Parisian Metro station, and Occidental Park, containing totem poles carved by Chinook artist Duane Pasco.

Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park (www.nps.gov/klse; 117 S Main St; ☀️ 9am–5pm; 🗺️ International District/Chinatown) is a shockingly good museum eloquently run by the US National Park Service. It's full of exhibits, photos and news clippings from the 1897 Klondike gold rush, when a Seattle-on-steroids acted as a fueling depot for prospectors bound for the Yukon in Canada. It would cost $10 anywhere else; in Seattle it's free!

Seattle Art Museum

MUSEUM

(SAM; www.seattleartmuseum.org; 1300 1st Ave; adult/child $17/11; ☀️ 10am–5pm Tue, Wed, Sat & Sun, to 9pm Thu & Fri; 🗺️ University St) While it can't be compared with the big guns in New York and Chicago, Seattle Art Museum is no slouch and is constantly updating. Over the last decade, it has added more than 100,000 sq ft to its gallery space and acquired about $1 billion worth of new art, including works by Zurbarán and Murillo. The museum is known for its extensive Native American artifacts and work from the local Northwest school, in particular by Mark Tobey (1890–1976). Modern American art is also well represented.

Belltown

NEIGHBORHOOD

Where industry once fumed, glassy condos now rise in the thin walkable strip of Belltown. The neighborhood gained a reputation for trend-setting nightlife in the 1990s and two of its bar-clubs, the Crocodile (p1037) and Shorty's (p1036), can still claim legendary status. Then there are the restaurants – more than 100 of them – and not all are prohibitively expensive. Belltown covers an area of roughly 10 blocks by six blocks, sandwiched in between downtown and the Seattle Center.

Olympic Sculpture Park

PARK, SCULPTURE

(2901 Western Ave; ☀️ sunrise–sunset; 🗺️ 13) FREE Hovering above train tracks, in an unlikely oasis between the water and busy Elliott Ave, is the 8.5-acre, $85-million Olympic Sculpture Park. Worth a visit just for its views of the Olympic Mountains over Elliott Bay, the park has begun to grow into its long-range plan by filling a former brown-field industrial site with vibrant art and plant life.

International District

For 'international' read Asian. East of Pioneer Sq, the shops and businesses are primarily Chinese, Vietnamese and Filipino.

Wing Luke Asian Museum

MUSEUM

(www.wingluke.org; 719 S King St; adult/child $12.95/8.95; ☀️ 10am–5pm Tue–Sun; 🗺️ Chinatown/International District E) Relocated and refurbished in 2008, the Wing Luke examines Asian and Pacific American culture, focusing on prickly issues such as Chinese settlement in the 1880s and Japanese internment camps in WWII. There are also art exhibits and a preserved immigrant apartment. Guided tours are available and recommended.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST SEATTLE

Seattle

Lake Union (0.3mi);
U District (3.5mi);
University of
Washington (3.5mi)

Fremont (2mi);
Green Lake (3mi);
Ballard (3mi)

Lower Queen Anne (100m)
McCaw Hall
Seattle Center
Seattle Memorial Stadium
Key Arena
Seattle Center
Monorail

Aurora Ave N

CAPITOL HILL

DENNY TRIANGLE

BELLTOWN

THE WATERFRONT

Lincoln Reservoir

Seattle Visitor Center & Concourse Services

Westlake Hub

Victoria Clipper

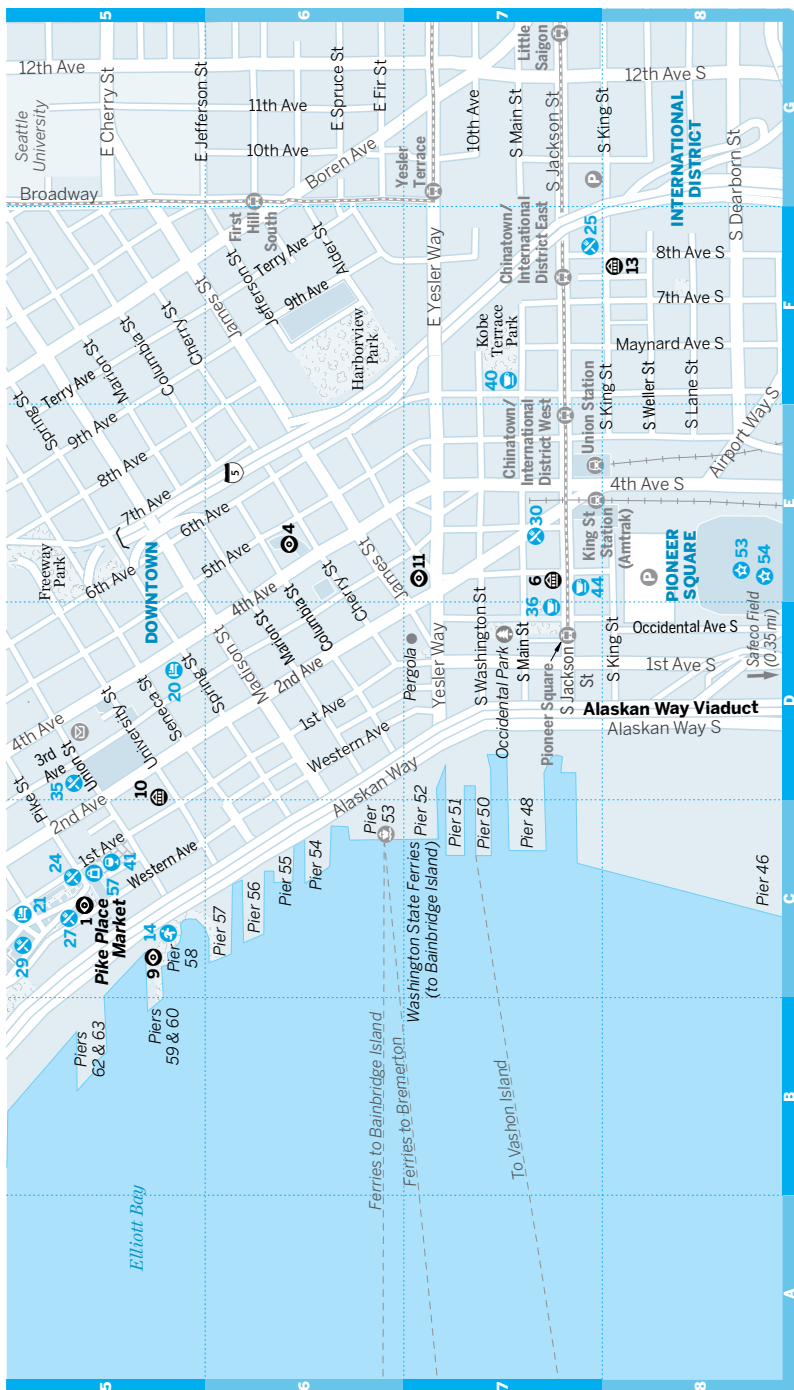

Pier 66 (Bell St Pier)

13th Ave E, 12th Ave E, Broadway E, Harvard Ave E, Belmont Ave E, Summit Ave E, Bellevue Ave E, Melrose Ave E, Eastlake Ave E, Yale Ave N, Pontius Ave N, Minor Ave N, Fairview Ave N, Terry Ave N, Westlake Ave N, 9th Ave N, 8th Ave N, Dexter Ave N, 6th Ave N, Taylor Ave N, 5th Ave N, 4th Ave N, 2nd Ave N, Warren Ave N

E Mercer St, E Republican St, E Harrison St, E Thomas St, E John St, E Denny Way, E Howell St, E Olive St, E Pine St, E Pike St, Union St, E Madison St, First Hill North

Capitol Hill, Denny Way, Denny Park, Westlake & 9th, Westlake & 7th, Westlake & 6th, Westlake & 5th, Westlake & 4th, Westlake & 3rd, Westlake & 2nd, Westlake & 1st

38, 37, 50, 58, 49, 56, 32, 42, 45, 46, 44, 43, 42, 41, 40, 39, 38, 37, 36, 35, 34, 33, 32, 31, 30, 29, 28, 27, 26, 25, 24, 23, 22, 21, 20, 19, 18, 17, 16, 15, 14, 13, 12, 11, 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1

Seattle

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Pike Place Market ..... C5

📍 Sights

- 2 Belltown ..... B4
 3 Chihuly Garden & Glass ..... A2
 4 Columbia Center ..... E6
 5 EMP Museum ..... B1
 6 Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park ..... E7
 7 Olympic Sculpture Park ..... A3
 8 Pacific Science Center ..... A2
 9 Seattle Aquarium ..... C5
 10 Seattle Art Museum ..... D5
 11 Smith Tower ..... E7
 12 Space Needle ..... A2
 13 Wing Luke Asian Museum ..... F8

📍 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 14 SBR Seattle Bicycle Rental &
 Tours ..... C5

📍 Sleeping

- 15 Ace Hotel ..... B3
 16 Belltown Inn ..... B3
 17 City Hostel Seattle ..... B3
 18 Edgewater ..... A4
 19 Hotel Five ..... C3
 20 Hotel Monaco ..... D5
 21 Inn at the Market ..... C5
 22 Moore Hotel ..... C4

📍 Eating

- 23 360 Local ..... B4
 24 Crumpet Shop ..... C5
 25 Green Leaf ..... F7
 26 Le Pichet ..... C4
 27 Lowells ..... C5

- 28 Macrina ..... B3
 29 Piroshky Piroshky ..... C5
 30 Salumi ..... E7
 31 Serious Pie ..... C4
 32 Sitka & Spruce ..... E3
 33 Tavalàta ..... B3
 34 Top Pot Hand-Forged Doughnuts ..... C3
 35 Wild Ginger ..... D5

📍 Drinking & Nightlife

- 36 Caffè Umbria ..... D7
 37 Elysian Brewing Company ..... G3
 38 Espresso Vivace at Brix ..... F1
 39 Neighbours ..... F3
 40 Panama Hotel Tea & Coffee House ..... F7
 41 Pike Pub & Brewery ..... C5
 42 Re-Bar ..... E3
 43 Shorty's ..... B3
 44 Zeigzeit ..... E7

📍 Entertainment

- 45 A Contemporary Theatre ..... D4
 46 Cinerama ..... C3
 47 Crocodile ..... B4
 48 Intiman Theater Company ..... A1
 49 Neumo's ..... G3
 50 Northwest Film Forum ..... G3
 51 Pacific Northwest Ballet ..... A1
 52 Seattle Opera ..... A1
 53 Seattle Seahawks ..... E8
 54 Seattle Sounders ..... E8
 55 TicketMaster ..... D4
 Triple Door ..... (see 35)

📍 Shopping

- 56 Babeland ..... F4
 57 DeLaurenti's ..... C5
 58 Elliott Bay Book Company ..... G3

📍 Seattle Center

The remnants of the futuristic 1962 World's Fair hosted by Seattle and subtitled Century 21 Exposition are now into their sixth decade at the Seattle Center. And what remnants! The fair was a major success, attracting 10 million visitors, running a profit (rare for the time) and inspiring a skin-crawlingly kitschy Elvis movie, It Happened at the World's Fair (1963).

Space Needle

LANDMARK

(www.spaceneedle.com; 400 Broad St; adult/child $19/12; ☀️9:30am-11pm Sun-Thu, 9am-11:30pm Fri & Sat, 9am-11pm Sun; 🚗Seattle Center) You might be from Alabama or Timbuktu, but your abiding image of Seattle will probably be of the Space Needle, a streamlined, modern-before-its-time tower built for the 1962

World's Fair that has been the city's defining symbol for more than 50 years. The needle anchors the World's Fair site, now called the Seattle Center, and, despite its rather steep admission fee, still persuades over one million annual visitors to ascend to its flying-saucer-like observation deck.

EMP Museum

MUSEUM

(www.empsfm.org; 325 5th Ave N; adult/child $20/14; ☀️10am-7pm Jun-mid-Sep, to 5pm mid-Sep-May; 🚗Seattle Center) Recently rebranded as the EMP Museum, this dramatic marriage of supermodern architecture and rock-and-roll history was inaugurated as the Experience Music Project (EMP) in 2000. Founded by Microsoft co-creator Paul Allen, it was inspired by the music of Seattle-born guitar icon Jimi Hendrix and was initially intended as a tribute to Hendrix alone, although the collection has since expanded to include other local musicians.

Chihuly Garden & Glass

MUSEUM

(☎206-753-3527; www.chihulygardenandglass.com; 305 W Harrison St; adult/child $19/12; ☀11am-7pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat; 📍Seattle Center) It's not every year that a city of Seattle's size adds a museum of such high quality to its list of urban attractions. Reinforcing the metropolis's position as the Venice of North America, this exquisite expose of the life and work of dynamic local glass sculptor Dale Chihuly requires a sharp intake of breath on first viewing. It opened in May 2012, and has quickly become a top city icon to rival the Space Needle.

Capitol Hill

Millionaires mingle with goth musicians in irreverent Capitol Hill, a well-heeled but liberal neighborhood rightly renowned for its fringe theater, alternative music scene, indie coffee bars, and vital gay and lesbian culture. You can take your dog for a herbal bath here, go shopping for ethnic crafts on Broadway, or blend in (or not) with the young punks and the old hippies on the eclectic Pike-Pine Corridor. The junction of Broadway and E John St is the nexus from which to navigate the quarter's various restaurants, brewpubs, boutiques and dingy, but not dirty, dive bars.

Fremont

Fremont pitches young hipsters among old hippies in an unlikely urban alliance, and vies with Capitol Hill as Seattle's most irreverent neighborhood. It's full of junk shops, urban sculpture and a healthy sense of its own ludicrousness.

Public Sculpture

MONUMENT

Public art has never been as provocative as it is in Fremont. Look out for Waiting for the Interurban (cnr N 34th St & Fremont Ave N), a cast-aluminum statue of people awaiting a train that never comes: the Interurban linking Seattle and Everett stopped running in the 1930s (it started up again in 2001 but the line no longer passes this way). Check out the human face on the dog; it's Armen Stepanian, once Fremont's honorary mayor, who made the mistake of objecting to the sculpture. Equally eye-catching is the Fremont Troll (cnr N 36th St & Troll Ave), a scary-

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

HIGHER THAN THE SPACE NEEDLE

Everyone makes a rush for the iconic Space Needle, but it's neither the tallest nor the cheapest of Seattle's glittering viewpoints. That honor goes to the sleek, tinted-windowed Columbia Center (701 5th Ave; adult/concession $9/6; ☀8:30am-4:30pm Mon-Fri), built in 1985. At 932ft high it's the loftiest building in the Pacific Northwest. From the plush observation deck on the 73rd floor you can look down on ferries, cars, islands, roofs and – ha, ha – the Space Needle!

looking 18ft troll crushing a Volkswagen Beetle in its left hand. The Fremont Rocket (cnr Evanston Ave & N 35th St) is a rocket that was found lying around in Belltown in 1993 and that now sticks out of a building – mmm, interesting. Fremont's most controversial art is the statue of Lenin (cnr N 36th St & Fremont PIN) salvaged from Slovakia after it was toppled during the 1989 revolution. Even if you hate the politics, you have to admire the art – and the audacity!

The U District

U-dub, a neighborhood of young, studious out-of-towners, places the beautiful, leafy University of Washington campus next to the shabbier 'Ave,' an eclectic strip of cheap boutiques, dive bars and ethnic restaurants.

University of Washington

UNIVERSITY

(www.washington.edu; ☎70) Founded in 1861, Seattle's university is almost as old as the city itself and is ranked highly worldwide (the prestigious Times Higher Education magazine listed it 24th in the world in 2013). The present-day 700-acre campus that sits at the edge of Lake Union, about 3 miles north-east of downtown, is flecked with stately trees and beautiful architecture, and affords wondrous views of Mt Rainier framed by fountains and foliage.

Burke Museum

MUSEUM

(www.burkemuseum.org; cnr 17th Ave NE & NE 45th St; adult/child $10/7.50; ☀10am-5pm; ☎70) Of the University of Washington's two on-site museums, the Burke is the best. The main collection has an impressive stash of fossils including a 20,000-year-old sabre-toothed cat. Equally compelling is the focus on 17 different Native American cultures.

👁️ Ballard

A former seafaring community with a strong Scandinavian heritage, Ballard still feels like a small town engulfed by a bigger city. Traditionally gritty, no-nonsense and uncommercial, it's slowly being condo-ized, but remains a good place to down a microbrew or see a live band.

Hiram M Chittenden Locks GARDENS
(3015 NW 54th St; 🕒locks 24hr, ladder & gardens 7am-9pm, visitor center 10am-6pm May-Sep; 📍62) Seattle shimmers like an impressionist painting on sunny days at the Hiram M Chittenden Locks. Here, the fresh waters of Lake Washington and Lake Union that flow through the 8-mile-long Lake Washington Ship Canal drop 22 feet into salt-water Puget Sound. On the southern side of the locks you can view a fish ladder from underwater glass-sided tanks. Flanking Carl English Jr Botanical Gardens on the northern side is a small museum and a visitors center documenting the history of the locks.

DON'T MISS

DISCOVERY PARK

A former military installation that has been transformed into a wild coastal park, Discovery Park (www.seattle.gov/parks/environment/discovery.htm; 📍33) is a relatively recent addition to the city landscape – it wasn't officially inaugurated until 1973 and the American military finally left in 2012. Comprising the largest green space in the city, the park's 534 acres are laced with cliffs, meadows, sand dunes, forest and beaches, all of which provide a welcome breathing space for hemmed-in Seattleites and a vital corridor for wildlife. For a map of the park's trail and road system, stop by the Discovery Park Environmental Learning Center (📍206-386-4236; 3801 W Government Way; 🕒8:30am-5pm) near the Government Way entrance. The park is located five miles northwest of downtown Seattle in the neighborhood of Magnolia. To get there, catch bus 33 from 3rd Ave & Union St downtown.

🚲 Activities

Cycling

A cycling favorite, the 16.5-mile Burke-Gilman Trail winds from Ballard to Log Boom Park in Kenmore on Seattle's Eastside. There, it connects with the 11-mile Sammamish River Trail, which winds past the Chateau Ste Michelle winery in Woodinville before terminating at Redmond's Marymoor Park.

More cyclists pedal the popular loop around Green Lake, situated just north of Fremont and 5 miles north of the downtown core. From Belltown, the 2.5-mile Elliott Bay Trail runs along the Waterfront to Smith Cove.

Get a copy of the Seattle Bicycling Guide Map, published by the City of Seattle's Transportation Bicycle & Pedestrian Program (www.cityofseattle.net/transportation/bikemap.htm) online or at bike shops.

For bicycle rentals and tours, try Recycled Cycles (www.recycledcycles.com; 1007 NE Boat St; rentals per 6/24hr $20/40; 🕒10am-8pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat & Sun; 📍66), a friendly U District shop that also rents out chariots and trail-a-bike attachments for kids, or SBR Seattle Bicycle Rental & Tours (📞800-349-0343; www.seattlebicyclerentals.com; Pier 58; rental per hr/day $10/40; 🕒11am-7pm Wed-Mon; 📍University St), which offers reasonable rates and daily tours (book online).

Water Sports

Seattle is not just on a network of cycling trails. With Venice-like proportions of downtown water, it is also strafed with kayak-friendly marine trails. The Lakes to Locks Water Trail links Lake Sammamish with Lake Washington, Lake Union and – via the Hiram M Chittenden Locks – Puget Sound. For launching sites and maps, check the website of the Washington Water Trails Association (www.wwta.org).

Northwest Outdoor Center Inc (www.nwoc.com; 2100 Westlake Ave N; kayaks per hr $14-22; 📍62) on Lake Union rents kayaks, and offers tours and instruction in sea and white-water kayaking.

👉 Tours

Seattle Free Walking Tours WALKING TOUR
(www.seattlefreewalkingtours.org) A nonprofit set up by a couple of world travelers and Seattle residents in 2012. These intimate two-hour tours meet daily at 11am on the corner of Western Ave and Virginia St. If

SEATTLE FOR CHILDREN

Make a beeline for the Seattle Center, preferably on the monorail, where food carts, street entertainers, fountains and green space will make the day fly by. One essential stop is the Pacific Science Center (www.pacsci.org; 200 2nd Ave N; adult/child exhibits-only $18/13, with IMAX $22/17; ☀️ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 6pm Sat & Sun; 🏠 Seattle Center), which entertains and educates with virtual-reality exhibits, laser shows, holograms, an IMAX theater and a planetarium – parents won't be bored either.

Downtown on Pier 59, Seattle Aquarium (www.seattleaquarium.org; 1483 Alaskan Way, Pier 59; adult/child $19/12; ☀️ 9:30am-5pm; 🚶🏻, 🚶🏻 University St) is a fun way to learn about the natural world of the Pacific Northwest. Even better is Woodland Park Zoo (www.zoo.org; 5500 Phinney Ave N; adult/child Oct-Apr $12.50/8.75, May-Sep $18.75/11.75; ☀️ 9:30am-4pm Oct-Apr, to 6pm May-Sep; 🚶🏻, 🚶🏻 5) in the Green Lake neighborhood, one of Seattle's greatest tourist attractions and consistently rated as one of the top 10 zoos in the country.

you have a rip-roaring time (highly likely), there's a suggested $15 donation.

Seattle by Foot

WALKING TOUR

(www.seattlebyfoot.com; tours $20-25) This company runs a handful of tours including the practically essential Coffee Crawl, which will ply you liberally with caffeine while explaining the nuances of latte art and dishing the inside story on the rise of Starbucks. It costs $25 including samples. Registration starts at 9.50am from Thursday to Sunday outside Seattle Art Museum.

Savor Seattle

FOOD TOUR

(www.savorseattletours.com; tours $59.99) These guys lead a handful of gastronomic tours, the standout being the two-hour Booze-n-Bites that runs daily at 4pm from the corner of Western Ave & Virginia St.

Festivals & Events

Seattle International Film Festival

FILM

(SIFF; www.siff.net; tickets $13-30; ☀️ mid-May) The city's biggest film festival uses a half-dozen cinemas around town but also has its own dedicated cinema in McCaw Hall's Nesholm Family Lecture Hall.

Seafair

WATER

(www.seafair.com; ☀️ Jul/Aug) Huge crowds attend this festival held on the water, which includes hydroplane races, a torchlight parade, an air show, music and a carnival.

Bumbershoot

MUSIC, LITERATURE

(www.bumbershoot.com; ☀️ Sep) A major arts and cultural event at Seattle Center on the Labor Day weekend in September, with live music, author readings and lots of unclassifiable fun.

Sleeping

From mid-November through to the end of March, most downtown hotels offer Seattle Super Saver Packages – generally 50% off rack rates, with a coupon book for savings on dining, shopping and attractions. Make reservations online at www.seattlesuper-saver.com.

★ Moore Hotel

HOTEL $

(www.moorehotel.com; 1926 2nd Ave; s/d with shared bath $68/80, with private bath $85/97; 🚶🏻, 🚶🏻 Westlake) Old-world and allegedly haunted, the Moore nonetheless has a friendly front desk and a prime location. If that doesn't swing you, the price should. There's a cute little cafe on the premises and the divey Nitelite Lounge next door. You can practically hold your breath and walk to Pike Place Market from here.

City Hostel Seattle

HOTEL $

(www.hostelseattle.com; 2327 2nd Ave; 6-/4-bed dm $28/32, d $73, all incl breakfast; 📶, 🚶🏻 Rapid Ride D-Line) 🍷 Sleep in an art gallery for peanuts – in Belltown, no less. That's the reality in this new 'art hostel', which will make your parent's hostelling days seem positively spartan by comparison. Aside from arty dorms, expect a common room, hot tub, in-house movie theater (with free DVDs) and all-you-can-eat breakfast.

★ Hotel Five

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(www.hotel5vaseattle.com; 2200 5th Ave; r from $165; 🚶🏻, 🚶🏻 13) This wonderful reincarnation of the old Ramada Inn on Fifth Ave in Belltown mixes retro '70s furniture with sharp color accents to produce something that is dazzlingly modern. And it's functional, too. The ultracomfortable by the father of celebrity chef Mario Batali probably helps.

★ Pie

PIES $

(☎) 206-436-8590; www.sweetandsavorypie.com; 3515 Fremont Ave N; pies $5.95; ☺ 9am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 2am Fri & Sat, 10am-6pm Sun; ☑ 26) 🍴 It's as simple as P-I-E. Bake fresh pies daily on-site, stuff them with homemade fillings (sweet and savory) and serve them in a cool, bold-colored Fremont cafe. The pies are ideal for a snack lunch, or you can double up and get a sweet one for desert, too.

★ Green Leaf

VIETNAMESE $

(☎) 206-340-1388; www.greenleaftaste.com; 418 8th Ave S; pho $7.95, specials $11.95; ☺ 11am-10pm; ☑ Chinatown/International District E) As narrow as a railway carriage and as crowded as a pub full of Sounders supporters, Green Leaf shoots out rapid-fire dishes from its tiny kitchen to its shiny black tables. People shout about the huge bowls of traditional or vegetarian pho (noodle soup) and a swoon-inducing version of bahn xeo – a sort of cross between a pancake and an omelet.

Crumpet Shop

CRUMPETS $

(1503 1st Ave; crumpets $3-6; ☺ 7am-5pm; ☑ Westlake) Take a treasured British culinary invention (the crumpet) and give it a distinct American twist (ridiculously lavish toppings) and you've got another reason to have your breakfast or lunch in Pike Place Market.

Macrina

BAKERY $

(☎) 206-448-4032; 2408 1st Ave; pastries $2-3.75; ☺ 7am-7pm; ☑ 13) That snaking queue is there for a reason – damned good artisan bread (you can watch through the window as the experts roll out the dough). There are two options and two lines at Macrina. One for the fantastic takeout bakery (possibly the best in Seattle); the other for the sit-down cafe with its so-good-it-could-be-Paris sandwiches, soups and other such snacks. Join the pilgrimage.

Lowells

DINER $

(www.eatatlowells.com); 1519 Pike Pl; mains $6-9; ☺ 7am-6pm; ☑ Westlake) Fish and chips is a simple meal often done badly – but not here. Slam down your order for Alaskan cod at the front entry and take it up to the top floor for delicious views over Puget Sound. Lowells also serves corned-beef hash and an excellent clam chowder.

★ Serious Pie

PIZZA $$

(www.tomdouglas.com); 316 Virginia St; pizzas $16-18; ☺ 11am-11pm; ☑ Westlake) It's an audacious move to take the down-to-earth Italian pizza and give it a gourmet spin, but local culinary phenomenon Tom Douglas pulls off the trick with casual aplomb. In the crowded confines of Serious Pie, you can enjoy beautifully blistered pizza bases topped by such unconventional ingredients as clams, kale, potato, apples, pistachio and more. It's seriously good!

★ Wild Ginger

ASIAN $$

(www.wildginger.net); 1401 3rd Ave; mains $15-28; ☺ 11am-3pm & 5-11pm Mon-Sat, 4-9pm Sun; ☑ University St) Food from around the Pacific Rim – via China, Indonesia, Malaysia, Vietnam and Seattle, of course – is the wide-ranging theme at this highly popular downtown fusion restaurant. The signature fragrant duck goes down nicely with a glass of Riesling. The restaurant also provides food for the swanky Triple Door (☎) 206-838-4333; www.thetripledoornet; 216 Union St; ☑ University St) club downstairs.

★ Toulouse Petit

CAJUN $$

(☎) 206-432-9069; 601 Queen Anne Ave N; mains $13-17; ☺ 8am-2am; ☑ 13) Something of a Seattle phenomenon, Toulouse Petit is hailed for its generous happy hours, cheap brunches and rollicking atmosphere – it's perennially (and boisterously) busy. Somewhere underneath all this cacophony is the specialty food, which pays more than a passing nod to the 'Big Easy' (aka New Orleans).

360 Local

NORTHWEST $$

(☎) 206-441-9360; www.local360.org; cnr 1st Ave & Bell St; mains $16-26; ☺ 11am-late Mon-Fri, 8am-late Sat & Sun; ☑ 13) 🍴 Snaring 90% of its ingredients from within a 360-mile radius, this new restaurant follows its ambitious 'locavore' manifesto pretty rigidly. The farms where your meat was reared are displayed on the daily blackboard menu and the restaurant's wood-finish interior looks like a rustic barn. With such a fertile hinterland to draw upon the food is pretty special; try the rabbit, the oysters or the chickpea cake.

Le Pichet

FRENCH $$

(www.lepichetseattle.com); 1933 1st Ave; lunch/mains $9/18; ☺ 8am-midnight; ☑ Westlake) Say bienvenue to Le Pichet just up from Pike Place Market, a very French bistro with pâtés, cheeses, wine, chocolate and a refined Parisian feel. An economical way to impress a date.

★ Cascina Spinasse ITALIAN $$$
 (☎ 206-251-7673; www.spinasse.com; 1531 14th Ave; 2-course meal $40; ☺ 5-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ☑ 11) Behind the rather fussy lace curtains hides what is possibly the finest new restaurant in Seattle. Spinasse specializes in cuisine of the Piedmont region of northern Italy. This means delicately prepared ravioli, buttery risottos (enhanced with stinging nettles, no less), rabbit meatballs and roasted artichokes.

★ Sitka & Spruce NORTHWEST $$$
 (☎ 206-324-0662; www.sitkaandspruce.com; 1531 Melrose Ave E; small plates $8-24; ☺ 11:30am-2pm & 5:30-10pm; ☑ 10) Now in a new location in the Capitol Hill 'hood, this small-plates fine-diner has won acclaim for its casual vibe, constantly changing menu, good wine selection and involved chef-owner (he'll be the guy who brings bread to your table). All the ingredients are obtained from local producers, and the idea is to assemble a meal out of a bunch of different taster-sized dishes.

★ Tavolàta ITALIAN $$$
 (☎ 206-838-8008; 2323 2nd Ave; meals $40-75; ☺ 5-11pm; ☑ 13) Eating around a large communal table was once something you did reluctantly in youth hostels, but lately it's been deemed trendy, which is why it's become a feature in cool restaurants in Belltown such as Tavolàta, owned by top Seattle chef Ethan Stowell. Decor is industrial Belltown, but the menu is more Italian trattoria (homemade pasta) with some Northwestern inflections (nettles).

Drinking & Nightlife

Starbucks is the tip of the iceberg when it comes to coffee culture in Seattle; the city has spawned plenty of smaller indie chains, many with their own roasting rooms. Look out for Uptown Espresso, Caffè Ladro and Espresso Vivace.

You'll find cocktail bars, dance clubs and live music on Capitol Hill. The main drag in Ballard has brick taverns both old and new, filled with the hard-drinking older set in daylight hours and indie rockers at night. Belltown has gone from grungy to shabby chic, and has the advantage of many drinking holes neatly lined up in rows.

★ Zeitgeist CAFE
 (www.zeitgeistcoffee.com; 171 S Jackson St; ☺ 6am-7pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ☺; ☑ Pioneer Sq) Listen. The comforting buzz of conversation! People actually talk in the attractive exposed-brick confines of Zeitgeist - they're not all glued to their laptops. Bolstered by tongue-loosening doses of caffeine, you can join them discussing the beautiful smoothness of your doppio macchiato or the sweet intensity of your to-die-for almond croissant.

★ Pike Pub & Brewery BREWERY
 (www.pikebrewing.com; 1415 1st Ave; ☺ 11am-midnight; ☑ University St) Leading the way in the microbrewery revolution, this brewpub was an early starter, opening in 1989 underneath Pike Place Market. Today it continues to serve sophisticated pub food and hop-heavy beers in a neoindustrial multilevel space that's a beer nerd's heaven. The brewery runs free tours daily at 2pm.

★ Espresso Vivace at Brix CAFE
 (www.espressovivace.com; 532 Broadway E; ☺ 6am-11pm; ☑ 60) Loved in equal measure for its no-nonsense walk-up stand on Broadway and this newer cafe (a large retro place with a beautiful streamline moderne counter), Vivace is known to have produced some of the Picassos of latte art. But it doesn't just offer pretty toppings. Many of Seattle's coffee experts rate the espresso shots as the best in the city.

★ Fremont Brewing BREWERY
 (www.fremontbrewing.com; 3409 Woodland Park Ave N; ☺ 11am-7pm Mon-Wed, to 8pm Thu-Sat, to 6pm Sun; ☑ 26) No conventional bar (this, after all, is Fremont!), this 2008-inaugurated brewery has what is called an 'Urban Beer Garden'; ie you sit at a couple of communal tables in the brewery and enjoy samples of what are quickly being hailed as some of the finest microbrews in the city.

★ Shorty's BAR
 (www.shortydog.com; 2222 2nd Ave; ☺ noon-2am; ☑ 13) Shorty's is all about beer, pinball and music, which is punk and metal mostly. A remnant of Belltown's grungier days that refuses to become an anachronism, it keeps the lights low (to cover the grime?) and the music loud. Pinball machines are built into every table and very basic snacks (hot dogs, nachos) soak up the beer.

★ Noble Fir BAR
 (☎ 206-420-7425; www.thenoblefir.com; 5316 Ballard Ave NW; ☺ 4-11pm Mon-Wed, to 1am Thu-Sat, noon-11pm Sun; ☑ 17) Possibly the first bar devoted to the theme of wilderness hiking, the Noble Fir is a bright, shiny, new Ballard spot with an epic beer list that might just make you want to abandon all your plans for outdoor adventure. Should your resolve begin to flag, head to the back corner, where there's a library of activity guides and maps that will reinspire you.

Elysian Brewing Company BREWERY
(www.elysianbrewing.com; 1221 E Pike St; ☎ 11:30am-2am; ☑ Pike-Pine) The Elysian's huge windows are great for people-watching – or being watched. This is one of Seattle's best brewpubs, and is loved in particular for its spicy pumpkin beers. The same folks also run the Tangletown Pub near Green Lake.

Panama Hotel Tea & Coffee House CAFE
(607 S Main St; ☎ 8am-7pm Mon-Sat, from 9am Sun; ☑ Chinatown/International District W) The Panama, a historic 1910 building containing the only remaining Japanese bathhouse in the US, doubles as a memorial to the neighborhood's Japanese residents forced into internment camps during WWII. The beautifully relaxed cafe has a wide selection of teas and is one of the few places in Seattle to sell Lavazza Italian coffee.

Caffè Umbria CAFE
(www.caffeumbria.com; 320 Occidental Ave S; ☎ 6am-6pm Mon-Fri, from 7am Sat, 8am-5pm Sun; ☑ Pioneer Sq) Umbria has a European flavor with its 8oz cappuccinos, chatty clientele, pretty Italianate tiles and baguettes so fresh they must have been teleported over from Milan. Ideal for Italio-philes and Starbucks-phobes.

Blue Moon BAR
(712 NE 45th St; ☎ 2pm-late; ☑ 66) A legendary counterculture dive near the university that first opened in 1934 to celebrate the repeal of the prohibition laws, the Blue Moon makes much of its former literary patrons: doyens Dylan Thomas, Allen Ginsberg and Tom Robbins get mentioned a lot.

Re-Bar GAY
(www.rebarseattle.com; 1114 Howell St; ☑ 70) This storied dance club, where many of Seattle's defining cultural events have happened (such as Nirvana album releases), welcomes gay, straight, bi or undecided revelers to its lively dance floor. It's in the Denny Triangle.

Neighbours GAY
(www.neighboursnightclub.com; 1509 Broadway Ave E; ☑ Pike-Pine) Check out the always-packed dance factory for the gay club scene and its attendant glittery straight girls.

★ Entertainment

Consult the Stranger, Seattle Weekly or the daily papers for listings. Tickets for big events are available at TicketMaster (www.ticketmaster.com). Tickets can be picked up at branches of Fred Meyer electronics stores. Local addresses are listed on the TicketMaster website.

Live Music

★ Crocodile LIVE MUSIC
(www.thecrocodile.com; 2200 2nd Ave; ☑ 13) Nearly old enough to be called a Seattle institution, the Crocodile is a clamorous 560-capacity music venue that first opened in 1991, just in time to grab the coattails of the grunge explosion. Everyone who's anyone in Seattle's alt music scene has since played here, including a famous occasion in 1992 when Nirvana appeared unannounced on a bill supporting Mudhoney.

Neumo's LIVE MUSIC
(www.neumos.com; 925 E Pike St; ☑ Pike-Pine) A punk, hip-hop and alternative-music venue that counts Radiohead and Bill Clinton (not together) among its former guests, Neumo's (formerly known as Moe's) fills the big shoes of its original namesake. Yes, it can get hot, and yes, mid-show it's a long walk to the toilets; but that's rock and roll.

Tractor Tavern LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 206-789-3599; www.tractortavern.com; 5213 Ballard Ave NW; ☑ 17) The premier venue for folk and acoustic music, the elegant Tractor Tavern in Ballard also books local songwriters and regional bands such as Richmond Fontaine, plus touring acts like John Doe and Wayne Hancock. It's a gorgeous room, usually with top-quality sound.

Cinema

Northwest Film Forum CINEMA
(www.nwfilmforum.org; 1515 12th Ave; ☑ Pike-Pine) A film arts organization whose two-screen cinema offers impeccable programming, from restored classics to cutting-edge independent and international films. It's in Capitol Hill, of course!

Cinerama CINEMA
(www.cinerama.com; 2100 4th Ave; ☑ 13) Possibly Seattle's most popular theater, Cinerama is one of only three of its type left in the world (with a giant curved three-panel screen). Regular renovations, the latest in 2010, have kept it up to date. It presents a good mix of new releases and 70mm classics.

Performing Arts

★ A Contemporary Theatre

THEATRE

(ACT; www.acttheatre.org; 700 Union St; ☒ University St) One of the three big companies in the city, ACT fills its $30-million home at Kreielsheimer Place with performances by Seattle's best thespians and occasional big-name actors. Terraced seating surrounds a central stage and the interior has gorgeous architectural embellishments.

Intiman Theater Company

THEATRE

(☎ 206-269-1900; www.intiman.org; 201 Mercer St; ☎ ticket office noon-5pm Tue-Sun; ☒ Seattle Center)

In a shocking move, Seattle's Tony Award-winning Intiman Theater abruptly closed in April 2011, a victim of the financial crisis. But city icons aren't allowed to die. The theater raised the $1 million necessary for a heroic reopening in 2012 and is back doing what it does best: magnificent stagings of Shakespeare and Ibsen. Time for another Tony?

Seattle Opera

CLASSICAL MUSIC

(www.seattleopera.org; ☒ Seattle Center) Features a program of four or five full-scale operas every season at Seattle Center's McCaw Hall, including Wagner's Ring cycle that draws sellout crowds in summer.

On the Boards

THEATRE

(☎ 206-217-9888; www.ontheboards.org; 100 W Roy St; ☒ 13) The place for avant-garde performance art, the nonprofit On the Boards makes its home at the intimate Behnke Center for Contemporary Performance in the Lower Queen Anne neighborhood. It showcases some innovative and occasionally weird dance and music.

Pacific Northwest Ballet

DANCE

(www.pnb.org; ☒ Seattle Center) The foremost dance company in the Northwest puts on more than 100 shows a season September through June at Seattle Center's McCaw Hall.

Sport

Seattle Mariners

BASEBALL

(www.mariners.org; tickets $7-60) Established in 1977 but yet to appear in a World Series, the Mariners make their home at Safeco Field.

Seattle Seahawks

FOOTBALL

(www.seahawks.com; tickets $42-95) Runners up to Pittsburgh Steelers in the 2006 Super Bowl, the Seahawks play at CenturyLink Field.

Seattle Sounders

SOCCER

(☎ 206-622-3415; www.seattlesounders.net; tickets from $37) Share CenturyLink with the Seahawks. The Sounders are the best supported team in Major League Soccer with average gate attendance of 43,000.

🛒 Shopping

The main big-name shopping area is downtown between 3rd and 6th Aves and University and Stewart Sts. Pike Place Market is a maze of arts-and-crafts stalls, galleries and small shops. Pioneer Sq and Capitol Hill have locally owned gift and thrift shops. There are many only-in-Seattle shops that are worth seeking out.

Elliott Bay Book Company

BOOKS

(www.elliottbaybook.com; 1521 10th Ave; ☎ 10am-10pm Mon-Fri, to 11pm Sat, 11am-9pm Sun; ☒ Pike-Pine) Perish the day when e-books render bookstores obsolete. What will happen to the Saturday-afternoon joy of Elliott Bay books, where 150,000 titles inspire author readings, discussions, reviews and hours of serendipitous browsing?

★ DeLaurenti's

FOOD

(☎ 206-622-0141; cnr 1st Ave & Pike Pl; ☎ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-5pm Sun; ☒ University St) DeLaurenti's is a mandatory market stop for the Italian chef or continental food enthusiast. Not only is there a stunning selection of cheese, sausages, ham and pasta, but there's also the largest selection of capers, olive oil and anchovies that you're likely to find this side of Genoa.

★ Bop Street Records

MUSIC

(www.bopstreetrecords.com; 2220 NW Market St; ☎ noon-8pm Tue-Wed, to 10pm Thu-Sat, to 5pm Sun; ☒ 17) What is probably the most impressive collection of vinyl you're ever likely to see lines the heavily stacked shelves of Bop Street Records, in the north Seattle neighborhood of Ballard. The collection of half-a-million records covers every genre - there's even old-school 78s.

Babeland

ADULT

(www.babeland.com; 707 E Pike St; ☎ 11am-10pm Mon-Sat, noon-7pm Sun; ☒ Pike-Pine) Remember those pink furry handcuffs and that glass dildo you needed? Well, look no further.

📍 Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

45th St Community Clinic (☎ 206-633-3350; 1629 N 45th St) Medical and dental services.

Harborview Medical Center (☎206-731-3000; 325 9th Ave) Full medical care, with emergency room.

Seattle Police (☎206-625-5011)

Washington State Patrol (☎425-649-4370)
The local traffic police.

MEDIA

KEXP 90.3 FM Legendary independent music and community station.

Seattle Times (www.seattletimes.com) The state's largest daily paper.

The Stranger (www.thestranger.com) Irreverent weekly edited by Dan Savage of 'Savage Love' fame.

MONEY

Travellex-Thomas Cook Currency Services

Airport (☎6am-8pm); Westlake Center (400 Pine St, Level 3; ☎9:30am-6pm Mon-Sat, 11am-5pm Sun) The booth at the main airport terminal is behind the Delta Airlines counter.

American Express (Amex; 600 Stewart St; ☎8:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri)

POST

Post Office (301 Union St; ☎8:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri)

TOURIST INFORMATION

Seattle Visitor Center & Concierge Services

(☎206-461-5840; www.visitseattle.org; Washington State Convention Center, E Pike St & 7th Ave; ☎9am-5pm)

Getting There & Away

AIR

Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (Sea-Tac; ☎206-787-5388; www.portseattle.org/sea-tac; 17801 International Blvd), 13 miles south of Seattle on I-5, has daily services to Europe, Asia, Mexico and points throughout the USA and Canada, with frequent flights to and from Portland, OR, and Vancouver, BC.

BOAT

Victoria Clipper (www.clippervacations.com) operates several high-speed passenger ferries to Victoria, BC, and to the San Juan Islands. It also organizes package tours that can be booked in advance through the website. Victoria Clipper runs from Seattle to Victoria up to six times daily (round-trip adult/child $149/74.50).

Washington State Ferries (WSF; www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries) includes maps, prices, schedules, trip planners and weather updates on its website, plus estimated waiting times for popular routes. Fares depend on the route, vehicle size and trip duration, and are collected either for round-trip or one-way travel depending on the departure terminal.

BUS

Various intercity coaches serve Seattle at different drop-off points.

Greyhound (www.greyhound.com; 811 Stewart St; ☎6am-midnight) connects Seattle with cities all over the country, including Chicago ($228 one way, two days, two daily), Spokane ($51, eight hours, three daily), San Francisco ($129, 20 hours, three daily) and Vancouver, BC ($32, four hours, five daily). The company has its own terminal in the Denny Triangle within easy walking distance to downtown.

Fast and efficient Quick Shuttle (www.quickcoach.com; ☎) has 5 to 6 daily buses to Vancouver ($43). Pickup is at the Best Western Executive Inn in Taylor Ave N near the Seattle Center. Grab the monorail or walk to downtown. Free on-board wi-fi.

Bellair Airporter Shuttle (www.airporter.com) runs buses to Yakima, Bellingham and Anacortes and stops at King Street station (for Yakima) and the downtown Convention Center (for Bellingham and Anacortes).

TRAIN

Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) serves Seattle's King Street Station (303 S Jackson St; ☎6am-10:30pm, ticket counter 6:15am-8pm). Three main routes run through town: the Amtrak Cascades (connecting Vancouver, Seattle, Portland and Eugene); the very scenic Coast Starlight (connecting Seattle, Oakland and Los Angeles) and the Empire Builder (a cross-continental roller coaster to Chicago).

Chicago, IL (from $227, 46 hours, daily)

Oakland, CA ($131, 23 hours, daily)

Portland, OR ($25, three to four hours, five daily)

Vancouver, BC ($30, three to four hours, five daily)

Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

There are a number of options for making the 13-mile trek from the airport to downtown Seattle. The most efficient is via the new light-rail service run by Sound Transit (p1040).

Shuttle Express (☎800-487-7433; www.shuttleexpress.com) has a pickup and drop-off point on the 3rd floor of the airport garage; it charges approximately $18 and is handy if you have a lot of luggage.

Taxis are available at the parking garage on the 3rd floor. The average fare to downtown is $42.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

Trapped in a narrow corridor between mountains and sea, Seattle is a horrendous traffic bottleneck and its nightmarish jams are famous. I-5 has a high-occupancy vehicle lane for vehicles carrying two or more people. Otherwise, try to work around the elongated 'rush hours.'

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Buses are operated by Metro Transit (www.metro.kingcounty.gov), part of the King County Department of Transportation. Fares cost a flat $2.50 (off-peak $2.25).

The Seattle Street Car (www.seattlestreetcar.org) runs from the Westlake Center to Lake Union along a 2.6-mile route. There are 11 stops allowing interconnections with numerous bus routes. A second route from Pioneer Square via First Hill to Capitol Hill opens in 2014.

Seattle's Link Light Rail run by Sound Transit (www.soundtransit.org), operates between Sea-Tac Airport and downtown (Westlake Center) every 15 minutes between 5am and midnight. The ride takes 36 minutes and costs $3. There are additional stops in Pioneer Sq and the International District.

TAXI

All Seattle taxi cabs operate at the same rate, set by King County; $2.50 at meter drop, then $2.70 per mile.

Orange Cab Co (☎206-444-0409; www.orangecab.net)

Yellow Cab (☎206-622-6500; www.yellowtaxi.net)

Around Seattle

Olympia

Small in size but big in clout, state capital Olympia is a musical, political and outdoor powerhouse. Look no further than the street-side buskers on 4th Ave belting out acoustic grunge, the smartly attired bureaucrats marching across the lawns of the state legislature, or the Gore-Tex-clad outdoor fiends overnighting before sorties into the Olympic Mountains. Progressive Evergreen State College has long lent the place an artsy turn (creator of the Simpsons, Matt Groening studied here), while the dive bars and secondhand guitar shops of downtown provided an original pulpit for riot grrrrl music and grunge.

👁 Sights & Activities

Washington State Capitol

LANDMARK

(☎8am-4:30pm) FREE Looking like a huge Grecian temple, the Capitol complex, set in a 30-acre park overlooking Capitol Lake, dominates the town. The campus' crowning glory is the magnificent Legislative Building (1927) topped by a 287ft dome that is only slightly smaller than its namesake in Washington, DC. Free guided tours are available.

State Capital Museum

MUSEUM

(211 W 21st Ave; admission $2; ☎10am-4pm Tue-Fri, from noon Sat) Preserves the general history of Washington State, from the Nisqually tribe to the present day.

Olympia Farmers Market

MARKET

(700 Capitol Way N; ☎10am-3pm Thu-Sun Apr-Oct, Sat & Sun Nov-Dec) 🌿 At the north end of Capitol Way, this is one of the state's best markets, with fresh local produce, crafts and live music.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Phoenix Inn Suites

HOTEL $$

(☎360-570-0555; www.phoenixinn.com; 415 Capitol Way N; r $139-179; 🏠🚰🚰) The town's most upmarket accommodations is slick, efficient and well tuned to dealing with demanding state government officials.

Traditions Cafe & World Folk Art

AMERICAN $

(www.traditionsfairtrade.com; 300 5th Ave SW; sandwiches $8.25; ☎9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun; 🍴) Your fair-trade hippy enclave of yummy salads, sandwiches (meat, veggie and vegan), a few Mexican and Italian plates for good measure, coffee and a selection of herbal teas. Also pop into the eclectic folk art store attached.

Drinking & Nightlife

The city's never-static music scene still makes waves on 4th Ave at the retrofitted 4th Avenue Tavern (210 4th Ave E) or the graffiti-decorated Le Voyeur (404 4th Ave E), an anarchistic, vegan-friendly dive bar with a busker invariably guarding the door. Try the most famous locally roasted coffee at Batdorf & Bronson (Capitol Way S; ☎6am-7pm Mon-Fri, 7am-6pm Sat & Sun) 🌿.

Fish Tale Brew Pub

BREWERY

(515 Jefferson St) Fish Brewing has a classic selection of organic beers, hard ciders and India Pale Ales making it one of Washington's best-known microbreweries.

Burial Grounds

CAFE

(406 Washington St SE; specialty lattes $3.50; ☎10am-12am Mon-Sat, to 10pm Sun) Order fantastic coffee drinks such as the Zombie Attacker Latte (two shots with nutmeg and almond), which comes with a skeleton head drawn in the foam. The goth decor looks like a horror-movie-obsessed teenager's bedroom.

i Information

The State Capitol Visitor Center (cnr 14th Ave & Capitol Way; ☺ 10am-2pm Oct-Apr, till 4pm May-Sep) offers information on the capitol campus, the Olympia area and Washington State.

Olympic Peninsula

Surrounded on three sides by sea and exhibiting many of the characteristics of a full-blown island, the remote Olympic Peninsula is about as 'wild' and 'west' as America gets. What it lacks in cowboys it makes up for in rare, endangered wildlife and dense primeval forest. The peninsula's roadless interior is largely given over to the notoriously wet Olympic National Park, while the margins are the preserve of loggers, Native American reservations and a smattering of small but interesting settlements, most notably Port Townsend. Equally untamed is the western coastline, America's isolated end point, where the steep, misty ocean and misty old-growth Pacific rainforest meet in aqueous harmony.

Olympic National Park

Declared a national monument in 1909 and a national park in 1938, the 1406-sq-mile Olympic National Park (www.nps.gov/olym) shelters one of the world's only temperate rainforests and a 57-mile strip of Pacific coastal wilderness that was added in 1953. Opportunities for independent exploration abound, with activities from hiking and fishing to kayaking and skiing.

EASTERN ENTRANCES

The graveled Dosewallips River Rd follows the river from US 101 (turn off approximately 1km north of Dosewallips State Park) for 15 miles to Dosewallips Ranger Station, where hiking trails begin; call ☎ 360-565-3130 for road conditions. Even hiking smaller portions of the two long-distance paths, including the 14.9 mile Dosewallips River Trail, with views of glaciated Mt Anderson, is reason enough to visit the valley. Another eastern entry for hikers is the Staircase Ranger Station (☎ 360-877-5569; ☺ May-Sep), just inside the national-park boundary, 15 miles from Hoodport on US 101. Two state parks along the eastern edge of the national park are popular with campers: Dosewallips State Park (☎ 888-226-7688; tent/RV sites $23/32) and Lake Cushman State Park (☎ 888-226-7688; tent/RV sites $22/28). Both have running water; flush toilets and some RV hookups. Reservations are accepted.

NORTHERN ENTRANCES

The park's easiest – and hence most popular – entry point is at Hurricane Ridge, 18 miles south of Port Angeles. At the road's end, an interpretive center gives a stupendous view of Mt Olympus (7965ft) and dozens of other peaks. The 5200ft altitude can mean you'll hit inclement weather and the winds here (as the name suggests) can be ferocious. Aside from various summer trekking opportunities, the area maintains one of only two US national-park-based ski runs, operated by the small, family-friendly Hurricane Ridge Ski & Snowboard Area (www.hurricaneridge.com; 📍).

Popular for boating and fishing is Lake Crescent, the site of the park's oldest and most reasonably priced lodge (☎ 360-928-3211; www.olympicnationalparks.com; 416 Lake Crescent Rd; lodge r $153, cottages $162-300; ☺ May-Oct; 📍 📞 📺). Delicious sustainable food is served in the lodge's ecofriendly restaurant. From Storm King Information Station (☎ 360-928-3380; ☺ May-Sep) on the lake's south shore, a 1-mile hike climbs through old-growth forest to Marymere Falls.

Along the Sol Duc River, the Sol Duc Hot Springs Resort (☎ 360-327-3583; www.northolympic.com/solduc; 12076 Sol Duc Hot Springs Rd, Port Angeles; RV sites $36, r $172-210; ☺ late Mar-Oct; 📍 📞 📺) 🌿 has lodging, dining, massage and, of course, hot-spring pools (adult/child $10/7.50), as well as great day hikes.

WESTERN ENTRANCES

Isolated by distance and home of one of the country's rainiest microclimates, the Pacific

i WASHINGTON STATE DISCOVER PASS

For parking access to millions of acres of Washington State's recreational lands from State Parks to trail heads, you'll need to buy a Discover Pass (one day/annual $10/30). Passes are available from vending machines at many of the larger parking lots they serve and at state-park headquarters 'when staff is available,' or with a 10% service fee online (www.fishhunt.dfw.wa.gov).

side of the Olympics remains the wildest. Only US 101 offers access to its noted temperate rainforests and untamed coastline. The Hoh River Rainforest, at the end of the 19-mile Hoh River Rd, is a Tolkien-esque maze of dripping ferns and moss-draped trees. The Hoh Visitor Center and Campground (☎360-374-6925; campsites $12; ☀9am-6pm Jul & Aug, to 4:30pm Sep-Jun) has information on guided walks and longer backcountry hikes. There are no hookups or showers; first come, first served.

A little to the south lies Lake Quinault, a beautiful glacial lake surrounded by forested peaks. It's popular for fishing, boating and swimming, and is punctuated by some of the nation's oldest trees. Lake Quinault Lodge (☎360-288-2900; www.olympicnationalparks.com; 345 S Shore Rd; r $202-305; 🏠🚰🚰), a luxury classic of 1920s 'parkitecture,' has a heated pool and sauna, a crackling fireplace and a memorable dining room. For a cheaper sleep nearby, try the ultrafriendly Quinault River Inn (☎360-288-2237; www.quinaultriverinn.com; 8 River Dr; r $79-119; 🏠🚰) in Amanda Park, a favorite with anglers.

A number of short hikes begin just outside the Lake Quinault Lodge, or you can try the longer Enchanted Valley Trail, a medium-grade 13-miler that begins from the Graves Creek Ranger station at the end of South Shore Rd and climbs up to a large meadow resplendent with wildflowers and copses of alder trees.

i Information

The park entry fee is per person/vehicle $5/15, valid for one week, payable at park entrances. Many park visitor centers double as United States Forestry Service (USFS) ranger stations, where you can pick up permits for wilderness camping (per group $5, valid up to 14 days, plus $2 per person per night).

Forks Visitor Information Center (1411 S Forks Ave; ☀10am-4pm) Suggested itineraries and seasonal information.

Olympic National Park Visitor Center (3002 Mt Angeles Rd, Port Angeles; ☀9am-5pm) The best overall center is situated at the Hurricane Ridge gateway, a mile off Hwy 101 in Port Angeles.

Wilderness Information Center (3002 Mt Angeles Rd, Port Angeles; ☀7:30am-6pm Sun-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat May-Sep, 8am-4:30pm daily Oct-Apr) Directly behind the Olympic National Park Visitor Center; you'll find maps, permits and trail information.

Port Townsend

Historical relics are rare in the Pacific Northwest, which makes time-warped Port Townsend all the more fascinating. Small, nostalgic and culturally vibrant, this showcase of 1890s Victorian architecture is the 'New York of the West that never was,' a one-time boomtown that went bust at the turn of the 20th century, only to be rescued 70 years later by a group of farsighted locals. Port Townsend today is a buoyant blend of inventive eateries, elegant fin de siècle hotels and quirky annual festivals.

👁 Sights

Jefferson County

Historical Society Museum

MUSEUM

(210 Madison St; adult/12yr & under $4/1; ☀11am-4pm Mar-Dec) The local historic society runs this well-maintained exhibition area that includes mock-ups of an old courtroom and jail cell, along with the full lowdown on the rise, fall and second coming of this captivating port town.

Fort Worden State Park

PARK

(www.parks.wa.gov/fortworden; 200 Battery Way) This attractive park located within Port Townsend's city limits is the remains of a large fortification system constructed in the 1890s. The extensive grounds and array of historic buildings have been refurbished in recent years into a lodging, nature and historical park. The Commanding Officer's Quarters (admission $4; ☀10am-5pm daily Jun-Aug, 1-4pm Sat & Sun Mar-May & Sep-Oct), a 12-bedroom mansion, is open for tours, and part of one of the barracks is now the Puget Sound Coast Artillery Museum (admission $2; ☀11am-4pm Tue-Sun), which tells the story of early Pacific coastal fortifications.

Hikes lead along the headland to Point Wilson Lighthouse Station and some wonderful windswept beaches.

🏠 Sleeping

Palace Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $

(☎360-385-0773; www.palacehoteltpt.com; 1004 Water St; r $59-109; 🏠🚰) Built in 1889, this beautiful Victorian building is a former brothel that was once run by the locally notorious Madame Marie, who managed her business from the 2nd-floor corner suite. It's been reincarnated as an attractive period hotel with antique furnishings and claw-foot baths.

Waterstreet Hotel

HOTEL $
(☎360-385-5467; www.waterstreethotelport-townsend.com; 635 Water St; r $60-160; ♿ ♿ ♿) Of Port Townsend's old dockside hotels, the easy-on-the-wallet Waterstreet has to be the best bargain in town. A multitude of rooms can accommodate between two and six people. Some have shared bathrooms.

Eating

Waterfront Pizza

PIZZERIA $$
(951 Water St; large pizzas $11-21) This buy-by-the-slice outlet inspires huge local loyalty and will satisfy even the most querulous of Chicago-honed palates. The secret: crisp sourdough crusts, or creative but not over-stacked toppings? Who knows.

★ Sweet Laurette Cafe & Bistro FRENCH $$
(1029 Lawrence St; mains $12-28; ☺ 8am-5pm Wed & Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat, to 3pm Sun) This adorable French shabby-chic cafe serves breakfast, lunch & dinner in the bistro, and delicious coffee and pastries between meal times.

Information

To get the lowdown on the city's roller-coaster boom-bust history, call in at the visitor center (www.ptchamber.org; 2437 E Sims Way; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun).

Getting There & Away

Port Townsend can be reached from Seattle by a ferry-bus connection; from Colman Dock in Seattle take the ferry across to Bainbridge Island. From here, catch bus 90 to Poulsbo and then bus 7 to Port Townsend. Washington State Ferries (☎206-464-6400; www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries) goes to and from Coupeville on Whidbey Island (car and driver $10.25/foot passenger $3.10, 35 minutes).

Port Angeles

Despite the name, there's nothing Spanish or particularly angelic about Port Angeles, propped up by the lumber industry and backed by the steep-sided Olympic Mountains. Rather than visiting to see the town per se, people come here to catch a ferry for Victoria, BC, or plot an outdoor excursion into the nearby Olympic National Park. The visitor center (www.portangeles.org; 121 E Railroad Ave; ☺ 8am-8pm mid-May-mid-Oct, 10am-4pm mid-Oct-mid-May) is adjacent to the ferry terminal. For information on the national park, the Olympic National Park Visitor Center (p1042) is just outside town.

The Olympic Discovery Trail (www.olympicdiscoverytrail.com)  is a 30-mile off-road hiking and cycling trail between Port Angeles and Sequim, starting at the end of Ediz Hook, the sand spit that loops around the bay. Bikes can be rented at Sound Bikes & Kayaks (www.soundbikekayaks.com; 120 Front St; bike rental per hr/day $9/30)

Port Angeles' most comfortable accommodations is the Olympic Lodge (☎360-452-2993; www.olympiclodge.com; 140 Del Guzzi Drive; r from $119; ♿ @ @ ♿), which offers a swimming pool, on-site bistro, so-clean-they-seem-new rooms and complimentary cookies and milk. Backpackers will find their happiness at the new, well run and social Toadlily House (☎360-797-3797; www.toadlilyhouse.com; 105 E 5th St; per person $25; ♿).

★ Bella Italia (118 E 1st St; mains $12-20; ☺ from 4pm) has been around a lot longer than Bella, the heroine of the Twilight saga, but its mention in the book as the place where Bella and Edward Cullen go for their first date has turned an already popular restaurant into an icon. Try the clam linguine, chicken marsala or smoked duck breast.

The Coho Vehicle Ferry (www.cohoferry.com; passenger/car $15.50/55) runs to/from Victoria, BC, and the crossing takes 1½ hours. Olympic Bus Lines (www.olympic-buslines.com) runs twice daily to Seattle ($39) from the public transit center at the corner of Oak and Front Sts. Clallam Transit (www.clallamtransit.com) buses go to Forks and Sequim, where they link up with other transit buses, enabling you to circumnavigate the whole Olympic Peninsula.

Northwest Peninsula

Several Native American reservations cling to the extreme northwest corner of the continent, and are welcoming to visitors. The small weather-beaten settlement of Neah Bay on Hwy 112 is home to the Makah Indian Reservation, whose Makah Museum (www.makah.com; 1880 Bayview Ave; admission $5; ☺ 10am-5pm) displays artifacts from one of North America's most significant archaeological finds from the 500-year-old Makah village of Ozette. Several miles beyond the museum, a short boardwalk trail leads to stunning Cape Flattery, a 300ft promontory that marks the most northwesterly point in the lower 48 states.

THE TWILIGHT ZONE

A small lumber town on Hwy 101, Forks was little more than a speck on the map when Stephenie Meyer set her now famous Twilight vampire novels here in 2003. Once the Twilight film franchise began around 2008, Forks apparently saw a 600% rise in tourism, although now that the book and movie series are complete those numbers are falling. Many of the visitors are wide-eyed under 15 year olds who are more than a little surprised to find out what Forks really is: chillingly ordinary (and wet).

Vampire fans can get into fantasy-Forks at a few Twilight merchandise shops or on daily Twilight Tours (adult/child $39/25; ☀8am, 11:30am, 3pm & 6pm) that visit most of the places mentioned in Meyer's books.

Other areas to pick up the Twilight trail include film and book locations such as Port Angeles, Ecola State Park, Silver Falls State Park and the werewolf lair of La Push (actually a Quileute Indian Reservation where in real local legend the people were changed into humans from wolves).

Convenient to the Hoh River Rainforest and the Olympic coastline is Forks, a one-horse lumber town that's now more famous for its Twilight paraphernalia. It's a central town for exploring Olympic National Park. A good accommodation choice is the Miller Tree Inn (☎360-374-6806; www.millertreeinn.com; 654 E Division St; r $115-230; ☹☹).

Northwest Washington

Wedged between Seattle, the Cascades and Canada, northwest Washington draws influences from three sides. Its urban hub is collegiate Bellingham, while its outdoor highlight is the pastoral San Juan Islands, an extensive archipelago that glimmers like a sepia-toned snapshot from another era. Anacortes is the main hub for ferries to the San Juan Islands and Victoria, BC.

Whidbey Island

While not as detached (there's a bridge connecting it to adjacent Fidalgo Island at its northernmost point) or nonconformist as the San Juans, life is almost as slow, quiet and pastoral on Whidbey Island. Having six state parks is a bonus, along with a plethora of B&Bs, two historic fishing villages (Langley and Coupeville), famously good clams and a thriving artist's community.

Deception Pass State Park (☎360-675-2417; 41229 N State Hwy 20) straddles the eponymous steep-sided water chasm that flows between Whidbey and Fidalgo Islands, and incorporates lakes, islands, campsites and 27 miles of hiking trails.

Ebey's Landing National Historical Reserve (www.nps.gov/ebla; ☀8am-5pm mid-Oct-Mar, 6:30am-10pm Apr-mid-Oct) FREE comprises 17,400 acres encompassing working farms, sheltered beaches, two state parks and the town of Coupeville. This small settlement is one of Washington's oldest towns and has an attractive seafront, antique stores and a number of old inns, including the Coupeville Inn (☎800-247-6162; www.thecoupevilleinn.com; 200 Coveland St; r with/without balcony incl breakfast $150/110; ☹☹), which bills itself as a French-style motel (if that's not an oxymoron), with fancy furnishings and a substantial breakfast. For the famous fresh local clams, head to Christopher's (☎360-678-5480; www.christophersonwhidbey.com; 103 NW Coveland St; mains $15-23; ☀11:30am-2pm Mon-Fri, 12-2:30pm Sat & Sun, nightly from 5pm).

Washington State Ferries (WSF; www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries) link Clinton to Mukilteo (car and driver $8, foot passenger free, 20 minutes, every 30 minutes) and Coupeville to Port Townsend (car and driver $10.25, foot passenger $3.10, 35 minutes, every 45 minutes). Free Island Transit buses (www.islandtransit.org) ☹ run the length of Whidbey every hour daily, except Sundays, from the Clinton ferry dock.

Bellingham

Welcome to a green, liberal and famously livable settlement that has taken the libertine, nothing-is-too-weird ethos of Oregon's 'City of Roses' and given it a peculiarly Washingtonian twist. Mild in both manners and weather, the 'city of subdued excitement,' as a local mayor once dubbed it, is an unlikely alliance of espresso-sipping students, venerable retirees, all-weather triathletes and placard-waving peaceniks. Publications such as Out- side Magazine have consistently lauded it for its abundant outdoor opportunities.

Activities

Bellingham offers outdoor activities by the truckload. Whatcom Falls Park is a natural wild region that bisects Bellingham's eastern suburbs. The change in elevation is marked by four sets of waterfalls, including Whirlpool Falls, a popular summer swimming hole. The substantial intra-urban trails extend south as far as Larabee State Park, with a popular 2.5-mile section tracking Bellingham's postindustrial waterfront. Fairhaven Bike & Mountain Sports (www.fairhavenbike.com; 1103 11th St) rents bikes from $40 a day and has all the info (and maps) on local routes.

Victoria/San Juan Cruises (www.whales.com; 355 Harris Ave) has whale-watching trips to the San Juan Islands. Boats leave from the Bellingham Cruise Terminal in Fairhaven.

Sleeping

Guesthouse Inn MOTEL $
(☎ 360-671-9600; www.bellinghamvaluin.com; 805 Lakeway Dr; r from $95; 🏠🚿) The clean, personable Guesthouse Inn is just off I-5 and an easy 15-minute walk from downtown Bellingham. The Vancouver-Seattle Bellair Airporter Shuttle (p1039) stops here, making it an ideal base for overnighters who want to explore the Bellingham area.

★Hotel Bellwether BOULIQUE HOTEL $$$
(☎ 360-392-3100; www.hotelbellwether.com; 1 Bellwether Way; r $165-284, lighthouse from $398; 🏠🚿🛁) Bellingham's finest and most charismatic hotel is positioned on the waterfront and offers views of the whale-like hump of Lummi Island. Its crowning glory is the celebrated 900-sq-ft lighthouse condominium, a converted three-story lighthouse with a wonderful private lookout.

Eating

Old Town Cafe CAFE $
(316 W Holly St; mains $6-9; ☺ 6.30am-3pm) This is a classic bohemian breakfast haunt where you can get to know the locals over fresh pastries, espresso and an excellent huevos rancheros. Wandering musicians sometimes drop by to enhance the happy-go-lucky atmosphere.

★Pepper Sisters MODERN AMERICAN $$
(www.peppersisters.com; 1055 N State St; mains $9-16; ☺ from 5pm Tue-Sun; 🏠) People travel from far and wide to visit this cult restaurant with its bright turquoise booths. Try the cilantro-and-pesto quesadillas, blue-corn reellenos (stuffed peppers) and potato-garlic burritos.

Information

The best downtown tourist information can be procured at the Visitor Info Station (www.downtownbellingham.com; 1304 Cornwall St; ☺ 9am-6pm).

Getting There & Away

Alaska Marine Highway (AMHS; www.dot.state.ak.us/amhs; 355 Harris Ave) ferries go to Juneau (60 hours) and other southeast Alaskan ports (from $326 without car). The Bellair Airporter Shuttle (p1039) runs to Sea-Tac Airport ($34), with connections en route to Anacortes and Whidbey Island.

San Juan Islands

Take the ferry west out of Anacortes and you'll feel like you've dropped off the edge of the continent. A thousand metaphoric miles from the urban inquietude of Puget Sound, the nebulous San Juan archipelago conjures up Proustian flashbacks from another era and often feels about as American as - er - Canada (which surrounds it on two sides).

There are 172 landfalls in this expansive archipelago but unless you're rich enough to charter your own yacht or seaplane, you'll be restricted to seeing the big four - San Juan, Orcas, Shaw and Lopez Islands - all served daily by Washington State Ferries. Communally, the islands are famous for their tranquility, whale-watching opportunities, sea kayaking and seditious nonconformity.

A great way to explore the San Juans is by sea kayak or bicycle. Expect a guided half-day trip to cost from $45 to $65. Cycling-wise, Lopez is flat and pastoral and San Juan is worthy of an easy day loop, while Orcas offers the challenge of undulating terrain and a steep 5-mile ride to the top of Mt Constitution.

Getting There & Around

Airlines serving the San Juan Islands include San Juan Airlines (www.sanjuanairlines.com) and Kenmore Air (www.kenmoreair.com).

Washington State Ferries (WSF; www.wsdot.wa.gov/ferries) leave Anacortes for the San Juans; some continue to Sidney, BC, near Victoria. Ferries run to Lopez Island (45 minutes), Orcas Landing (60 minutes) and Friday Harbor on San Juan Island (75 minutes). Fares vary by season; the cost of the entire round-trip is collected on westbound journeys only (except those returning from Sidney, BC). To visit all the islands, it's cheapest to go to Friday Harbor first and work your way back through the other islands.

Shuttle buses ply Orcas and San Juan Island in the summer months.

San Juan Island

San Juan Island is the archipelago's unofficial capital, a harmonious mix of low forested hills and small rural farms that resonate with a dramatic and unusual 19th-century history. The only real settlement is Friday Harbor, where the chamber of commerce (www.sanjuanisland.org; 135 Spring St; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun), home to the visitor center, sits inside a small mall off the main street.

👁 Sights & Activities

San Juan Island

National Historical Park

HISTORIC SITE

(www.nps.gov/sajh; ☎ 8:30am-4pm, visitor center 8:30am-4:30pm Thu-Sun, daily Jun-Sep) 🆓

San Juan Island hides one of the 19th-century's oddest political confrontations, the so-called 'Pig War' between the USA and Britain. This curious 19th-century cold war standoff is showcased in two historical parks on either end of the island that once housed opposing American and English military encampments. On the island's southern flank, the American Camp hosts the small visitor center, the remnants of a fort, desolate beaches and a series of interpretive trails. At the opposite end of the island, English Camp, 9 miles northwest of Friday Harbor, contains the remains of the 1860s-era British military facilities.

Lime Kiln Point State Park

PARK

(☎ 8am-5pm mid-Oct-Mar, 6:30am-10pm Apr-mid-Oct) 🌿 Clinging to San Juan Island's rocky west coast, this beautiful park overlooks the deep Haro Strait and is, reputedly, one of the best places in the world to view whales from the shoreline.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

There are hotels, B&Bs and resorts scattered around the island, but Friday Harbor has the highest concentration.

Wayfarer's Rest

HOSTEL $

(☎ 360-378-6428; 35 Malcolm St; dm $35, r $65-80; 🍷) The island's only backpacker hostel is a short hike from the ferry terminal. Budget travelers will love its comfortable dorms and cheap private rooms, but beware – it gets busy.

Roche Harbor Resort

RESORT $$

(☎ 800-451-8910; www.rocheharbor.com; Roche Harbor; r with shared bath $149, 1- to 3-bedroom condos $275-450, 2-bedroom townhouses $499; 🍷🍷🍷) Located on the site of the former lime kiln and estate of limestone king John McMillin, this seaside 'village' is a great getaway. The centerpiece is the old Hotel de Haro, where the pokey rooms are enlivened by the fact that John Wayne once brushed his teeth here.

Juniper Lane Guest House

INN $$

(☎ 360-378-7761; www.juniperlaneguesthouse.com; 1312 Beaverton Valley Rd; r $85-135; 🍷) 🌿 The handful of wood-paneled rooms here are decorated with a colorful and eclectic assortment of refurbished or recycled art and furnishings. The result is a sublimely cozy and livable hybrid of an upscale backpackers and an inn.

Market Chef

DELI $

(225 A St; ☎ 10am-6pm) 🌿 Several hundred locals can't be wrong, can they? The 'Chef's' specialty is deli sandwiches, and very original ones at that. Join the queue and watch staff prepare the goods with fresh, local ingredients.

Orcas Island

Precipitous, unspoiled and ruggedly beautiful, Orcas Island is the San Juans' emerald icon, excellent for hiking and, more recently, gourmet food. The ferry terminal is at Orcas Landing, 8 miles south of the main village, Eastsound.

On the island's eastern lobe is Moran State Park (☎ 6:30am-dusk Apr-Sep, from 8am Oct-Mar), dominated by Mt Constitution (2409ft), with 40 miles of trails and an amazing 360-degree mountaintop view.

Kayaking in the calm island waters is a real joy here. Shearwater (www.shearwaterkayaks.com; 138 North Beach Rd, Eastsound) has the equipment and know-how. Three-hour guided trips start at $75.

🏠 Sleeping

Doe Bay Village Resort & Retreat

HOSTEL, RESORT $

(☎ 360-376-2291; www.doebay.com; dm $55, cabin d from $90, yurts from $120; 🍷) 🌿 Doe Bay has the atmosphere of an artists' commune cum hippie retreat. Accommodations include sea-view campsites, a small hostel with dormitory and private rooms, and various cabins and yurts, most with views of the water.

Golden Tree Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 360-317-8693; www.goldentreehostel.com; 1159 North Beach Rd, Eastsound; dm/d with shared bath $38/88; @☎) An 1890s-era heritage mansion with a hip remodel, and a hot tub and sauna out back. Immaculate six-bed single-sex dorms and bright private rooms.

Outlook Inn

HOTEL $

(☎ 360-376-2200; www.outlookinn.com; 171 Main St, Eastsound; r with shared/private bath from $79/119; ☎) The Outlook Inn (1888) is an island institution that has kept up with the times by expanding into a majestic white (but still quite small) bayside complex. Also on-site is the fancy New Leaf Cafe.

Eating & Drinking

★ Mijita's

MEXICAN $$

(310 A St, Eastsound; mains $13-22; ☎ 4-9pm Wed-Sun) Ooh and aah over the Mexican native chef's family recipes, such as slow-braised short ribs with blackberry mole or the vegetarian quinoa cakes with mushrooms, chevre, almonds and pipian (Mexican piquant sauce).

Island Hoppin' Brewery

BREWERY

(www.islandhoppinbrewery.com; 33 Hope Lane, Eastsound; ☎ 4-9pm Tue-Sun) This is the place to go to enjoy six changeable brews on tap while making friends with those islanders who enjoy beer. There's often live music on weekends.

Lopez Island

If you're going to Lopez – or 'Slow-peez,' as locals prefer to call it – take a bike. With its undulating terrain and salutation-offering locals (who are famous for their three-fingered 'Lopezian wave'), this is the ideal cycling isle. A leisurely pastoral spin can be tackled in a day, with good overnight digs available next to the marina in the Lopez Islander Resort (☎ 800-736-3434; www.lopezfun.com; Fisherman Bay Rd; r from $139; ☎☎), which has a restaurant, gym and pool and offers free parking in Anacortes (another incentive to dump the car). If you arrive cycleless, call up Village Cycles (☎ 360-468-4013; www.villagecycles.net; 9 Old Post Rd; rentals per hour/day from $7/30; ☎ 10am-4pm Wed-Sun), which can deliver a bicycle to the ferry terminal for you.

North Cascades

Geologically different from their southern counterparts, the North Cascade Mountains are peppered with sharp, jagged peaks, copious glaciers and a preponderance of complex metamorphic rock. Thanks to their virtual impregnability, the North Cascades were an unsolved mystery to humans until relatively recently. The first road was built across the region in 1972 and, even today, it remains one of the Northwest's most isolated outposts.

Mt Baker

Rising like a ghostly sentinel above the sparkling waters of upper Puget Sound, Mt Baker has been mesmerizing visitors to the Northwest for centuries. A dormant volcano that last belched smoke in the 1850s, this haunting 10,781ft peak shelters 12 glaciers, and in 1999 registered a record-breaking 95ft of snow in one season.

Well-paved Hwy 542, known as the Mt Baker Scenic Byway, climbs 5100ft to Artist Point, 56 miles from Bellingham. Near here you'll find the Heather Meadows Visitor Center (Mile 56 Mt Baker Hwy; ☎ 8am-4:30pm May-Sep) and a plethora of varied hikes including the 7.5-mile Chain Lakes Loop that leads you around a half-dozen lakes surrounded by huckleberry meadows.

Receiving more annual snow than any ski area in North America, the Mt Baker Ski Area (www.mtbakerskiarea.com) has 38 runs, eight lifts and a vertical rise of 1500ft. The resort has gained something of a cult status among snowboarders, who have been coming here for the Legendary Baker Banked Slalom every January since 1985.

On the 100 or so days a year when Baker breaks through the clouds, the views from the deck at the Inn at Mt Baker (☎ 360-599-1359; www.theinnatmtbaker.com; 8174 Mt Baker Hwy; r $155-165; ☎), seven miles east of Maple Falls, are stunning. On your way up the mountain, stop for a bite at authentic honky-tonk bar and restaurant Graham's (9989 Mt Baker Hwy; mains $4-14; ☎ dinner Mon-Sun, breakfast & lunch Sat & Sun; hours vary) and grab trail munchies at Wake & Bakery (6903 Forest St, Glacier; munchies from $4; ☎ 7:30am-5pm), both in the town of Glacier.

Leavenworth

Blink hard and rub your eyes. This isn't some strange Germanic hallucination. This is Leavenworth, a former lumber town that underwent a Bavarian makeover back in the 1960s after the rerouting of the cross-continental railway threatened to put it permanently out of business. Swapping wood for tourists, Leavenworth today has successfully reinvented itself as a traditional Romantische Strasse village, right down to the beer, sausages and the lederhosen-loving locals (25% of whom are German). The classic Sound of Music mountain setting helps, as does the fact that Leavenworth serves as the main activity center for sorties into the nearby Alpine Lakes Wilderness.

The Leavenworth Ranger Station (600 Sherbourne St; ☎ 7:30am-4:30pm daily mid-Jun-mid-Oct, from 7:45am Mon-Fri mid-Oct-mid-Jun) can advise on the local outdoor activities. Highlights include the best climbing in the state at Castle Rock in Tumwater Canyon, about 3 miles northwest of town off US 2.

The Devil's Gulch is a popular off-road mountain bike trail (25 miles, four to six hours). Local outfitters Der Sportsman (☎ 509-548-5623; www.dersportsman.com; 837 Front St; One-day bike/cross-country ski rentals from $25/14; ☎ 9am-6pm) rents mountain bikes from $25 a day.

Sleeping & Eating

Hotel Pension Anna

HOTEL $$

(☎ 509-548-6273; www.pensionanna.com; 926 Commercial St; r incl breakfast $155-250, chapel ste $240-360) The most authentic Bavarian hotel in town; each room is decorated in imported Austrian decor and the European-inspired breakfasts may induce joyful yodels. The adjacent St Joseph's chapel (which the owners rescued and moved here in 1992) is perfect for families.

Enzian Inn

HOTEL $$

(☎ 509-548-5269; www.enzianinn.com; 590 Hwy 2; d $110-205, ste $215-375; 🍷 🍷) Taking the German theme up a notch, the Enzian goes way beyond the call of duty with an 18-hole putting green, a racquetball court, a sunny breakfast room and a lederhosen-clad owner who entertains guests with an early morning blast on the alphorn.

★ München Haus

GERMAN $

(www.munchenhaus.com; 709 Front St; snacks from $6; ☎ 11am-11pm May-Oct, closed Mon-Fri Nov-Apr;

☎) An alfresco beer garden that serves the best charbroiled Bavarian sausages this side of Bavaria.

Lake Chelan

Long, slender Lake Chelan is central Washington's water playground. Lake Chelan State Park (☎ 509-687-3710; S Lakeshore Rd; tent/RV sites $23/32) has 144 campsites; a number of lakeshore campgrounds are accessible only by boat. If you'd rather sleep in a real bed, try the great-value Midtowner Motel (☎ 509-682-4051; www.midtowner.com; 721 E Woodin Ave; r $65-120; 🍷 🍷 🍷) in town. The town of Chelan, at the lake's southeastern tip, is the primary base for accommodations and services, and has a USFS ranger station (428 Woodin Ave). Several wineries have also opened in the area and many have excellent restaurants. Try Tsillan Cellars (www.tsillancellars.com; 3875 Hwy 97A; ☎ noon-5pm Sun-Thu, to 6pm Fri & Sat).

Link Transit (www.linktransit.com) buses connect Chelan with Wenatchee and Leavenworth ($1).

Beautiful Stehekin, on the northern tip of Lake Chelan, is accessible only by boat (www.ladyofthelake.com; round-trip from Chelan $39), seaplane (www.chelanairways.com; round-trip from Chelan $159) or a long hike across Cascade Pass, 28 miles from the lake. You'll find lots of information about hiking, campgrounds and cabin rentals at www.stehekin.com. Most facilities are open from mid-June to mid-September.

Methow Valley

The Methow's combination of powdery winter snow and abundant summer sunshine has transformed the valley into one of Washington's primary recreation areas. You can bike, hike and fish in summer, and cross-country ski on the second-biggest snow trail network in the US in winter.

The 200km of trails are maintained by the nonprofit organization Methow Valley Sport Trails Association (MVSTA; www.mvsta.com; 209 Castle Ave, Winthrop) 🍷, which, in the winter, provides the most comprehensive network of hut-to-hut (and hotel-to-hotel) skiing in North America. An extra blessing is that few people seem to know about it. For classic accommodations and easy access to the skiing, hiking and cycling trails, de-camp at the exquisite Sun Mountain Lodge (☎ 509-996-2211; www.sunmountainlodge.com;

Box 1000, Winthrop; r $175-375, cabins $150-750; ☺closed 21 Oct-7 Dec; ♿☎♿, 10 miles west of the town of Winthrop. While the rooms and facilities are cozy cabin-style (including a lot of taxidermy), it's the views from up here and the endless choice of hiking and cross-country skiing trails surrounding the resort that make it so special.

North Cascades National Park

Even the names of the lightly trodden and dramatic mountains in North Cascades National Park (www.nps.gov/noca) sound wild and untamed: Desolation Peak, Jagged Ridge, Mt Despair and Mt Terror. Not surprisingly, the region offers some of the best backcountry adventures outside of Alaska.

The North Cascades Visitor Center (502 Newhalem St; ☺9am-4:30pm mid-Apr–Oct, closed Mon-Fri Nov-Mar) ♿, in the small settlement of Newhalem on Hwy 20, is the best orientation point for visitors and is staffed by expert rangers who can enlighten you on the park's highlights.

Built in the 1930s for loggers working in the valley that was soon to be flooded by Ross Dam, the floating cabins at the Ross Lake Resort (☎206-386-4437; www.rosslakeresort.com; cabins $155-315; ☺mid-Jun–Oct) on the eponymous lake's west side are the state's most unique accommodations. There's no road in – guests can either hike the 2-mile trail from Hwy 20 or take the resort's tug-boat-taxi-and-truck shuttle from the parking area near Diablo Dam.

Northeastern Washington

Spokane

Washington's second-biggest population center is one of the state's latent surprises and a welcome break after the treeless monotony of the eastern scablands. Situated at the nexus of the Pacific Northwest's so-called 'Inland Empire,' this understated yet confident city sits clustered on the banks of the Spokane River, close to where British fur traders founded a short-lived trading post in 1810.

Though rarely touted in national tourist blurbs, Spokane hosts the world's largest mass participation running event (May's annual Bloomsday).

👁 Sights & Activities

Riverfront Park

PARK

(www.spokaneriverfrontpark.com; ♿) On the former site of Spokane's 1974 World's Fair, park highlights include a 17-point sculpture walk, plenty of bridges and trails to satisfy the city's plethora of amateur runners and Spokane Falls, a gushing combination of scenic waterfalls and rapids. There are various viewing points over the river, including a short gondola ride (☺11am-6pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat Apr-Sep) that takes you directly above the falls. Walkers and joggers crowd the interurban Spokane River Centennial Trail (www.spokanecentennialtrail.org), which extends for 37 miles to the Idaho border and beyond. The park also includes an ice-skating rink, IMAX theater and carousel; check the website for details.

Northwest Museum of Arts & Culture

MUSEUM

(www.northwestmuseum.org; 2316 W 1st Ave; adult/child $7/5; ☺10am-5pm Wed-Sun) Encased in a striking state-of-the-art building in the posh Browne's Addition neighborhood, the museum has – arguably – one of the finest collections of indigenous artifacts in the Northwest.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating

Hotel Ruby

BOUTIQUE MOTEL $

(☎509-747-1041; www.hotelrubyspokane.com; 901 W 1st Ave; r $68-110; ♿☎♿) This basic motel with a hip red-and-black color scheme has an unbeatable downtown location opposite the Davenport.

★ Davenport Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎509-455-8888; www.thedavenporthotel.com; 10 S Post St; Davenport Hotel/Davenport Tower r from $130/120; ♿☎♿) A historic Spokane landmark (opened in 1914) that is considered one of the best hotels in the US. If you can't afford a room, linger in the exquisite lobby. The adjacent Davenport Tower is the modern version of all this glam with a surprisingly sophisticated safari theme.

★ Mizuna

FUSION $$

(☎509-747-2004; 214 N Howard St; mains lunch/dinner $10/28; ☺11am-10pm Mon-Sat, 4-10pm Sun; ♿) A well-lit, antique brick building, with simple wood furniture, and tables topped with fresh flowers. Dishes such as lemon-grass green curry with scallops and clams or equally good vegetarian specialties are washed down with exquisite wines. Heaven.

GRAND COULEE DAM

While the more famous Hoover Dam (conveniently located between Las Vegas and the Grand Canyon) gets around 1.6 million visitors per year, the much larger (four times) and arguably more significant Grand Coulee Dam (inconveniently located far from everything) gets only a trickle of tourism. It's the largest concrete structure in the US and also the largest producer of electricity in the US.

The Grand Coulee Visitor Arrival Center (☎ 509-633-9265; ☀ 9am-5pm) details the history of the dam and surrounding area with movies, photos and interactive exhibits, while free guided tours of the facility run on the hour from 10am until 5pm (from May to September) and involve taking a glass-walled elevator 465ft down an incline into the Third Power Plant, where you can view the tops of the generators from an observation deck.

Similarly spectacular is the nightly laser show (☀ May-Sep after dark) – purportedly the world's largest – which illustrates the history of the Columbia River and its various dams against a gloriously vivid backdrop.

Drinking & Entertainment

With a vibrant student population based at Gonzaga University, Spokane has a happening nighttime scene.

Northern Lights Brewing Company

BREWERY

(www.northernlightsbrewing.com; 1003 E Trent Ave) You can sample the locally handcrafted ales at Spokane's best microbrewery, near the university campus.

Bing Crosby Theater

THEATRE

(www.mettheater.com; 901 W Sprague Ave) The former Met, now named after local hero Bing, presents concerts, plays, film festivals and the Spokane Opera in a fairly intimate setting.

Information

Spokane Area Visitor Information Center

(www.visitspokane.com; 201 W Main Ave at Browne St; ☀ 8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-6pm Sat & Sun) keeps a raft of information.

Getting There & Away

Buses and trains depart from the Spokane Intermodal Transportation Station (221 W 1st Ave). Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) has a daily service on the esteemed Empire Builder route to Seattle ($53, 7½ hours), Portland ($53, 9½ hours) and Chicago ($163, 45 hours).

more ways than one is 14,411ft Mt Rainier. Equally compelling for different reasons is Mt St Helens (8365ft), still recovering from a devastating 1980 volcanic eruption. Lesser-known Mt Adams (12,276ft) is notable for the huckleberries and wildflowers that fill its grassy alpine meadows during the short but intense summer season.

Mt Rainier National Park

The USA's fourth-highest peak (outside Alaska), majestic Mt Rainier is also one of its most beguiling. Encased in a 368-sq-mile national park (the world's fifth national park when it was inaugurated in 1899), the mountain's snowcapped summit and forest-covered foothills harbor numerous hiking trails, huge swaths of flower-carpeted meadows and an alluring conical peak that presents a formidable challenge for aspiring climbers.

Mt Rainier National Park (www.nps.gov/mora; entry per pedestrian/car $5/15) has four entrances. Call ☎ 800-695-7623 for road conditions. The National Park Service (NPS) website includes downloadable maps and descriptions of 50 park trails. The most famous trail is the hardcore, 93-mile-long Wonderland Trail that completely circumnavigates Mt Rainier and takes around 10 to 12 days to tackle.

For overnight trips, you'll need a wilderness camping permit (free) from ranger stations or visitor centers. The six campgrounds in the park have running water and toilets, but no RV hookups. Reservations at park campsites (☎ 800-365-2267; www.mount.rainier.national-park.com/camping.htm; reserved campsites $12-15) are strongly

South Cascades

The South Cascades are taller but less clustered than their northern counterparts, extending from Snoqualmie Pass east of Seattle down to the mighty Columbia River on the border with Oregon. The highpoint in advised during summer months and can be made up to two months in advance by phone or online.

Evergreen Escapes (www.evergreenescapes.com; 10hr tour $195) runs deluxe and eco-minded guided bus tours from Seattle.

NISQUALLY ENTRANCE

The busiest and most convenient gate to Mt Rainier National Park, Nisqually lies on Hwy 706 via Ashford, near the park's southwest corner. It's open year-round. Longmire, 7 miles inside the Nisqually entrance, has a museum and information center (☎9am-6pm Jun-Sep, to 5pm Oct-May) FREE, a number of important trailheads, and the rustic National Park Inn (☎360-569-2275; www.guest-services.com/rainier; r with shared/private bath $116/164, units $244; ♿) complete with an excellent restaurant. More hikes and interpretive walks can be found 12 miles further east at loftier Paradise, which is served by the informative Henry M Jackson Visitor Center (☎360-569-2211, ext 2328; Paradise; ☎10am-7pm daily Jun-Oct, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun Oct-Dec), and the vintage Paradise Inn (☎360-569-2275; www.mtrainierguestservices.com; r with shared/private bath from $69/114; ☎May-Oct), a historic 'parkitecture' inn constructed in 1916 and long part of the national park's fabric. Climbs to the top of Rainier leave from the inn; excellent four-day guided ascents are led by Rainier Mountaineering Inc (www.rmiguides.com; 30027 SR706 E, Ashford; 4-day ascent $991).

OTHER ENTRANCES

The three other entrances to Mt Rainier National Park are Ohanapecosh, via Hwy 123 and accessed via the town of Packwood, where lodging is available; White River, off Hwy 410, which literally takes the high road (6400ft) to the beautiful viewpoint at the Sunrise Lodge Cafeteria (☎360-569-2425; snacks $5-7; ☎10am-7pm Jun 30-Sep 16); and remote Carbon River in the northwest corner, which gives access to the park's inland rainforest.

Mt St Helens National Volcanic Monument

What it lacks in height, Mt St Helens makes up for in fiery infamy – 57 people perished on the mountain when it erupted with a force of 1500 atomic bombs on May 18, 1980. The cataclysm began with an earthquake measuring 5.1 on the Richter scale, which sparked the biggest landslide in human history and buried 230 sq miles of forest under millions of tons of volcanic rock and ash. Today it's a fascinating landscape of recovering forests, new river valleys and ash-covered slopes. There's an $8 fee to enter the monument.

For those without a car, Mt St Helens can be seen on a day trip by bus from Portland with Eco Tours of Oregon (www.ecotours-of-oregon.com; 3127 SE 23rd Ave, Portland; $59.50). If traveling independently, there are three entrances to the mountain, and plenty of short and long hikes along the way. From around mid-June through September, Hwy 25 opens up and links the Eastside and Southeastern entrances.

NORTHEAST ENTRANCE

From the main northeast entrance on Hwy 504, your first stop should be the Silver Lake Visitor Center (3029 Spirit Lake Hwy; admission $3; ☎9am-5pm), which has films, exhibits and free information about the mountain (including trail maps). For a closer view of the destructive power of nature, venture to the Johnston Ridge Observatory (☎10am-6pm mid-May-late Oct), situated at the end of Hwy 504, which looks directly into the mouth of the crater.

A welcome stop in an accommodations-lite area, the Eco Park Resort (☎360-274-6542; www.ecoparkresort.com; 14000 Spirit Lake Hwy; campsites $20, yurts $75, cabins $100-110) offers seven rooms in a large house opposite the Silver Lake Visitor Center.

SOUTHEASTERN & EASTSIDE ENTRANCES

The southeastern entrance via the town of Cougar on Hwy 503 holds some serious lava terrain, including the two-mile-long Ape Cave lava tube, which you can explore year-round but be prepared for chill as it remains a constant 41°F (5°C). Bring two light sources per adult or rent lanterns at Apes' Headquarters (8303 Forest Rd; ☎10.30am-5pm Jun-Sep) for $5 each.

The eastside entrance is the most remote but the harder-to-reach Windy Ridge viewpoint on this side gives you a palpable, if eerie, sense of the destruction from the blast – it's often closed until June. A few miles down the road you can descend 600ft on the 1-mile-long Harmony Trail (hike 224) to Spirit Lake.

Central & Southeastern Washington

The sunny, dry near-California-looking central and southeastern parts of Washington harbor one not-so-secret weapon: wine. The fertile land that borders the Nile-like Yakima and Columbia River valleys is awash with enterprising new wineries producing quality grapes that now vie with the Napa and Sonoma Valleys for national recognition. Yakima and its more attractive cousin Ellensburg once held the edge, but nowadays the real star is Walla Walla, where talented restaurateurs and a proactive local council are crafting a wine destination par excellence.

Yakima & Ellensburg

Situated in its eponymous river valley, the city of Yakima is a rather bleak trading center that doesn't really live up to its 'Palm Springs of Washington' tourist label. The main reason to stop here is to visit one of the numerous wineries that lie between Yakima and Benton City; pick up a map at the Yakima Valley Visitors & Convention Bureau (www.visityakima.com; 10 N 8th St; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat, 10am-4pm Sun).

A better layover is Ellensburg, a diminutive settlement 36 miles to the northwest that juxtaposes the state's largest rodeo (each Labor Day) with a town center that has more coffee bars per head than anywhere else in the world (allegedly). Grab your latte at local roaster D&M Coffee (www.dmcoffee.com; 301 N Pine St; ☎7am-5pm) ☕ and overnight at centrally located and charming Victorian Guesthouse Ellensburg (☎509-962-3706; www.guesthouseellensburg.com; 606 Main St; r $145), which also runs the excellent Yellow Church Cafe (www.yellowchurchcafe.com; 111 S Pearl St; brunch $8-10, dinner $13-23; ☎11am-8pm Mon-Fri, 8am-8pm Sat & Sun).

Greyhound (www.greyhound.com) services both cities with buses to Seattle, Spokane and points in between.

Walla Walla

Over the last decade, Walla Walla has converted itself from an obscure agricultural backwater, famous for its sweet onions and large state penitentiary, into the hottest wine-growing region outside of California. While venerable Marcus Whitman College is the town's most obvious cultural attribute, you'll also find zany coffee bars here, along with cool wine-tasting rooms, fine Queen Anne architecture, and one of the state's freshest and most vibrant farmers markets.

👁️ Sights

You don't need to be sloshed on wine to appreciate Walla Walla's historical and cultural heritage. Its Main St has won countless historical awards, and to bring the settlement to life, the local chamber of commerce (www.wallawalla.org; 29 E Sumach St; ☎8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat & Sun May-Sep) has concocted some interesting walking tours, complete with leaflets and maps. For information on the region's wine culture, check out Walla Walla Wine News (www.wallawallawinenews.com).

DON'T MISS

YAKIMA VALLEY WINE TOUR

If you find yourself driving between Ellensburg and Walla Walla, do yourself a favor along the way and do some swish-and-spit wine tasting; it sounds unappealing but this is the way the pros do it and it will keep you legal. The Yakima Valley AVA (American Viticultural Area) is the oldest, largest and most diverse in the state. You'll find www.wineyakimavalley.org is a top resource for finding great wineries.

Bonair Winery (www.bonairwine.com; 500 S Bonair Rd, Zillah; ☎10am-5pm) In the Rattlesnake Hills near Zillah; has lovely gardens and is a laid-back place to sample luscious reds.

Terra Blanca (www.terrablanca.com; 34715 N DeMoss Rd, Benton City; ☎11am-6pm) Majestically located up on Red Mountain with views over the valley, this is one of the fanciest vineyards in the region, and perfect for sipping sweet dessert wines on the patio.

Maison Bleu (☎509-378-6527; www.mbwines.com; 357 Port Ave, Studio D, Prosser; ☎ by appointment) By appointment only, these lauded Rhone-style wines can be tasted in Vinter's Village in Prosser. The village isn't a scenic stop, but the wines are great.

Fort Walla Walla Museum

MUSEUM

(755 Myra Rd; adult/child $7/3; ☺10am-5pm; 🏠) A pioneer village of 17 historic buildings, with the museum housed in the old cavalry stables. There are collections of farm implements, ranching tools and what could be the world's largest plastic replica of a mule team.

Waterbrook Wine

WINERY

(www.waterbrook.com; 10518 W US 12; ☺11am-6pm Mon-Thu, till 8pm Fri & Sat) The pondside patio of this large winery situated about 10 miles west of town is a great place to imbibe a long selection of wines on a sunny day. Outrageously good tacos (two for $6) are served on Fridays and Saturdays.

Amavi Cellars

WINERY

(3796 Peppers Bridge Rd; ☺10am-4pm) South of Walla Walla amid a scenic spread of grape and apple orchards, you can sample some of the most talked-about wines in the valley (try the Syrah and Cabernet Sauvignon). The classy yet comfortable outdoor patio has views of the Blue Mountains.

🏠 Sleeping & Eating*Colonial Motel

MOTEL $

(☎509-529-1220; www.colonial-motel.com; 2279 Isaacs Ave; r from $70; 🏠🚗) A simple family-run motel halfway to the airport, the Colonial is welcoming and bike-friendly, with safe cycle storage and plenty of local maps.

Marcus Whitman Hotel

HOTEL $$

(☎509-525-2200; www.marcuswhitmanhotel.com; 6 W Rose St; r $119-325; 🏠🚗🚗) In keeping with the settlement's well-preserved image, this red-bricked 1928 beauty has been elegantly renovated with ample rooms kitted out in rusts and browns, and embellished with Italian-crafted furniture.

Graze

CAFE $

(5 S Colville St; sandwiches from $8; ☺10am-7:30pm Mon-Sat, to 3:30pm Sun; 🍷) Have your amazing sandwiches packed for your picnic or eat them at the simple cafe. Try the butternut squash panini with mozzarella, roasted garlic, sage and provolone or the flank steak torta with pickled jalapenos, avocado, tomato, cilantro and chipotle dressing.

★ Saffron*Mediterranean Kitchen

MEDITERRANEAN $$$

(☎509-525-2112; www.saffronmediterraneankitchen.com; 125 W Alder St; mains $15-27; ☺2-10pm, to 9pm in winter) Saffron takes seasonal, local ingredients and turns them into pure gold. The Mediterranean menu lists dishes such as pheasant, ricotta gnocchi, amazing flatbreads and weird yogurt-cucumber combo soups that could stand up against anything in Seattle.

📍 Getting There & Away

Alaska Airlines services Walla Walla Regional Airport (www.wallawallaairport.com) with four daily flights to Seattle.

Greyhound (www.greyhound.com) buses run once daily to Seattle via Yakima and Ellensburg; change buses in Pasco for buses east to Spokane and beyond.

OREGON

It's hard to slap a single characterization onto Oregon's geography and people. Its landscape ranges from rugged coastline and thick evergreen forests to barren, fossil-strewn deserts, volcanoes and glaciers. As for its denizens, you name it – Oregonians run the gamut from pro-logging conservatives to tree-hugging liberals, and everything in between. What they all have in common is an independent spirit, a love of the outdoors and a fierce devotion to where they live.

Portland

Call it what you want – PDX, Stumptown, City of Roses, Bridge City, Beervana or Portlandia – Portland positively rocks. It's a city with a vibrant downtown, pretty residential neighborhoods, ultragreen ambitions and zany characters. Here, liberal idealists outnumber conservative stogies, Gore-Tex jackets are acceptable in fine restaurants and everyone supports countless brewpubs, coffeehouses, knitting circles, lesbian potlucks and eclectic book clubs. Portland is an up-and-coming destination that has finally arrived, and makes for an appealing, can't-miss stop on your adventures in the Pacific Northwest.

📍 Sights*📍 Downtown*★ Tom McCall Waterfront Park

PARK

This sinuous, 2-mile-long park flanks the west bank of the Willamette River and is both an unofficial training ground for lunchtime runners and a commuter path for the

OREGON FACTS

Nickname Beaver State

Population 3,900,000

Area 95,998 sq miles

Capital city Salem (population 157,000)

Other cities Portland (population 594,000), Eugene (population 157,000), Bend (population 78,000)

Sales tax Oregon has no sales tax

Birthplace of President Herbert Hoover (1874–1964), writer and merry prankster Ken Kesey (1935–2001), actor and dancer Ginger Rogers (1911–95), The Simpsons creator Matt Groening (b 1954), filmmaker Gus Van Sant (b 1952)

Home of Oregon Shakespeare Festival, Nike, Crater Lake

Politics Democratic governor, Democrat majorities in Congress, Democrat in Presidential elections since 1984

Famous for Forests, rain, microbrew, coffee, Death with Dignity Act

State beverage Milk (dairy's big here)

Driving You can't pump your own gas in Oregon; Portland to Eugene 110 miles, Portland to Astoria 96 miles city's avid army of cyclists. It's also a great spot for picnics, and hosts large summertime festivals.

★ Pioneer Courthouse Square LANDMARK

Portland's downtown hub, this people-friendly brick plaza attracts tourists, sunbathers, lunching office workers, buskers and the odd political activist. Formerly a parking lot, and before that a posh hotel, the square today hosts concerts, festivals, rallies and farmers markets. Across 6th Ave is the muscular Pioneer Courthouse, the oldest federal building in the Pacific Northwest.

Portland Building LANDMARK

(cnr SW 5th Ave & SW Main St) In a downtown devoid of big skyscrapers, the city's signature structure is the Portland Building, designed in 1980 by Michael Graves. A triumph of postmodernism to some, but a mine of user-unfriendliness to others, the 15-story block is embellished by the Portlandia statue, representing the Goddess of Commerce (and the second-largest hammered-copper statue in the US – after the Statue of Liberty).

Oregon Historical Society MUSEUM

(☎ 503-222-1741; www.ohs.org; 1200 SW Park Ave; adult/child 6-18yr $11/5; ☼ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-5pm Sun) Along the tree-shaded South Park Blocks sits the state's primary history museum, which dedicates most of its space to the story of Oregon and the pioneers who made it. There are interesting sections on Native American tribes and the travails of the Oregon Trail.

Portland Art Museum MUSEUM

(☎ 503-226-2811; www.portlandartmuseum.org; 1219 SW Park Ave; adult/child $15/free; ☼ 10am-5pm Tue, Wed & Sat, to 8pm Thu & Fri, noon-5pm Sun) Right on the South Park Blocks, the art museum's excellent exhibits include Native American carvings, Asian and American art, and English silver. The museum also houses the Whitsell Auditorium, a first-rate theater that frequently screens rare or international films.

Aerial Tram CABLE CAR

(www.gobytram.com; 3303 SW Bond Ave; round-trip $4; ☼ 5:30am-9:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-5pm Sat) Portland's aerial tram runs from the south Waterfront (there's a streetcar stop) to Marquam Hill. The tram runs along a 3300ft line up a vertical ascent of 500ft. The ride takes three minutes. The tram opened in 2007, smashing its budget predictions and causing much public controversy.

🕒 Old Town & Chinatown

The core of rambunctious 1890s Portland, the once-notorious Old Town used to be the lurking grounds of unsavory characters, but today disco queens outnumber drug dealers. It's one of the livelier places in town after dark, when nightclubs and bars open their doors and hipsters start showing up.

Shanghai Tunnels HISTORIC SITE

(www.shanghaitunnels.info; adult/child $13/8) Running beneath Old Town's streets is this series of underground corridors through which, in the 1850s, unscrupulous people would kidnap or 'shanghai' drunken men and sell them to sea captains looking for indentured workers. Tours run Fridays and Saturdays at 6:30pm and 8pm. Book online.

Chinatown

NEIGHBORHOOD

The ornate Chinatown Gates (cnr W Burnside St & NW 4th Ave) defines the southern edge of Portland's Chinatown, which has a few token Chinese restaurants (most are on 82nd Ave over to the east). The main attraction here is the Classical Chinese Garden (☎ 503-228-8131; www.lansugarden.org; 239 NW Everett St; adult/child $8/7; ☀ 10am-6pm), a wonderfully tranquil block of reflecting ponds and manicured greenery.

Saturday Market

MARKET

(☎ 503-222-6072; www.portlandsaturdaymarket.com; SW Ankeny St & Naito Pkwy; ☀ 10am-5pm Sat, 11am-4:30pm Sun Mar-Dec) The best time to hit the river for a walk is on a weekend to catch this famous market, which showcases handicrafts, street entertainers and food booths.

Skidmore Fountain

FOUNTAIN

(SW 1st Ave & Ankeny St) Located beneath the Burnside Bridge, the Victorian-era Skidmore Fountain (1888) was idealistically designed with three 'drinking' tiers; the top for humans, the middle for horses and the lowest for dogs.

The Pearl District & Northwest*The Pearl District

NEIGHBORHOOD

(www.explorethepearl.com) Northwest of downtown, the Pearl District is an old industrial quarter that has transformed its once grotty warehouses into expensive lofts, upscale boutiques and creative restaurants. On the first Thursday of every month, the zone's abundant art galleries extend their evening hours and the area turns into a fancy street party of sorts. The Jamison Square Fountain (810 NW 11th Ave) is one of its prettier urban spaces, and don't miss the Museum of Contemporary Craft (☎ 503-223-2654; www.museumofcontemporarycraft.org; 724 NW Davis St; admission $4; ☀ 11am-6pm Tue-Sat, to 8pm 1st Thu of every month), which has many fine ceramics.

Northwest 23rd Ave

NEIGHBORHOOD

NW 23rd Ave ('Trendy-third') is an upscale shopping street, near the West Hills area, that brims with clothing boutiques, home decor shops and cafes. The restaurants here – including some of Portland's finest – lie along parallel NW 21st Ave. This is a great neighborhood for strolling, window-shopping, coffee breaks and looking at lovely arts-and-crafts houses.

West Hills

Behind downtown Portland is the West Hills area, known for its exclusive homes, huge parks and – if you're lucky – peek-a-boo views of up to five Cascade volcanoes.

Forest Park

PARK

(www.forestparkconservancy.org) Not many cities have more than 5000 acres of temperate rain-forest within their limits, but then not many cities are like Portland. Abutting the more manicured Washington Park to the west is the far wilder Forest Park, whose dense foliage harbors plants, animals and an avid hiking fraternity. The Portland Audubon Society (☎ 503-292-6855; www.audubonportland.org; 5151 NW Cornell Rd; ☀ 9am-5pm, nature store 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, till 5pm Sun) maintains a bookstore, wildlife rehabilitation center and 4 miles of trails within its Forest Park sanctuary.

The main sight in the park is the Pittock Mansion (☎ 503-823-3623; www.pittockmansion.org; 3229 NW Pittock Dr; adult/child 6-18yr $8.50/5.50, grounds free; ☀ 11am-4pm), a mansion built in 1914 by Henry Pittock, who revitalized the Portland-based Oregonian newspaper. It's worth visiting the grounds just to check out the spectacular views – bring a picnic.

Washington Park

PARK

(www.washingtonparkpdx.org) West of Forest Park, extensive Washington Park contains several attractions within its 400 acres of greenery. Hoyt Arboretum (☎ 503-865-8733; www.hoytarboretum.org; 4000 Fairview Blvd; ☀ trails 6am-10pm, visitor center 9am-4pm Mon-Fri, 11am-3pm Sat & Sun) FREE showcases more than 1000 species of native and exotic trees and has 12 miles of walking trails. It's prettiest in the fall. The International Rose Test Gardens (☎ 503-823-3636; www.rosegardens.org/rose-gardens.cfm; 400 SW Kingston Ave; ☀ 7:30am-9pm) FREE has fine city views and is the centerpiece of Portland's famous rose blooms; there are more 500 types on show here. Further uphill is the Japanese Garden (☎ 503-223-1321; www.japanesegarden.com; 611 SW Kingston Ave; adult/child 6-17yr $9.50/6.75; ☀ noon-7pm Mon, 9am-7pm Tue-Fri & Sun, 9am-9pm Sat), another oasis of tranquility.

Northeast & Southeast

Across the Willamette River from downtown is the Lloyd Center, Oregon's largest shopping mall and where notorious ice-queen Tonya Harding first learned to skate in the rink here. A few blocks to the southwest are the unmistakable glass towers of the Oregon Convention Center, and nearby is Moda Center (previously called the Rose Garden Arena) – home of professional basketball team the Trailblazers.

Further up the Willamette, N Mississippi Avenue used to be full of run-down buildings but is now a hot spot of trendy shops and eateries. Northeast is artsy NE Alberta Street, a long ribbon of art galleries, boutiques and cafes (don't miss Last Thursday street-art event here, taking place on the last Thursday of each month). SE Hawthorne Boulevard (near SE 39th Ave) is affluent hippy territory, with gift stores, cafes, coffeeshops and two branches of Powell's bookstores. One leafy mile to the south, SE Division Street has become a foodie destination, with plenty of excellent restaurants, bars and pubs. The same is true of E Burnside at NE 28th Avenue, though it has a more concentrated and upscale feel.

Portland

Activities

Hiking

The best hiking is found in Forest Park (p1055), which harbors an unbelievable 80 miles of trails and often feels more like Mt Hood's foothills than Portland's city limits. The park's Wildwood Trail starts at the Hoyt Arboretum and winds through 30 miles of forest, with many spur trails that allow for loop hikes. Other trailheads into Forest Park are located at the western ends of NW Thurman and NW Upshur Sts.

Cycling

Portland has been voted the 'most bike-friendly city in the US' several times in the media by the likes of CNN Travel, NBC News and Bicycling Magazine. There are many streets that cater to bicycles, and drivers are used to watching out for cyclists. Riding along downtown riverside paths is a great way to see the city.

To the east the Springwater Corridor starts near the Oregon Museum of Science & Industry (as an extension of the Eastbank Esplanade) and goes all the way to the suburb of Boring – 21 miles away. In the northwest, Leif Erikson Drive is an old logging road leading 11 miles into Forest Park and offering occasional peeks over the city.

For scenic farm country, head to Sauvie Island, 10 miles northwest of downtown Portland. This island is prime cycling land – it's flat, has relatively little traffic and much of it is wildlife refuge.

For bike rental, try Waterfront Bicycle Rentals (☎503-227-1719; www.waterfrontbikes.com; 10 SW Ash St; per day $40). Good cycling maps can be found at the tourist office and any bike store.

Kayaking

Situated close to the confluence of the Columbia and Willamette Rivers, Portland has miles of navigable waterways. Portland

Portland

📍 Top Sights

- 1 Pioneer Courthouse Square.....C4
- 2 Tom McCall Waterfront Park.....D4

📍 Sights

- 3 Chinatown Gates.....C3
- 4 Classical Chinese Gardens.....D2
- 5 Jamison Square Fountain.....B1
- 6 Museum of Contemporary Craft.....C2
- 7 Oregon Historical Society.....B5
- 8 Portland Art Museum.....B5
- 9 Portland Building.....C5
- 10 Saturday Market.....D3
- 11 Shanghai Tunnels.....D3
- 12 Skidmore Fountain.....D3
- 13 The Pearl District.....B2

🚲 Activities, Courses & Tours

- 14 Pedal Bike Tours.....D3

🛏 Sleeping

- 15 Ace Hotel.....B3
- 16 Crystal Hotel.....B3
- 17 Heathman Hotel.....B4
- 18 Northwest Portland Hostel.....A2

🍴 Eating

- 19 Andina.....B2
- 20 Jake's Famous Crawfish.....B3
- 21 Kenny & Zuke's.....B3
- 22 Little Big Burger.....B3
- 23 Nong's Khao Man Gai.....B3
- 24 Piazza Italia.....B1

🍷 Drinking & Nightlife

- 25 Bailey's Taproom.....C3
- 26 Barista.....B2
- 27 Departure Lounge.....C4

🎭 Entertainment

- 28 Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall.....B4
- 29 Artists Repertory Theatre.....A3
- 30 CC Slaughters.....D2
- 31 Crystal Ballroom.....B3
- 32 Dante's.....C3
- Darcelle XV.....(see 30)
- 33 Jimmy Mak's.....B2
- 34 Keller Auditorium.....C5
- 35 Portland Center Stage.....B3
- 36 Silverado.....C3

🛍 Shopping

- 37 Pioneer Place.....C4
- 38 Powell's City of Books.....B3

Kayak Company (☎503-459-4050; www.portlandkayak.com; 6600 SW Macadam Ave) offers kayaking rentals, instruction and tours including a three-hour circumnavigation of Ross Island on the Willamette River. For rentals, instruction and wildlife-based tours around Sauvie Island, try Scappoose Bay Kayaking (☎503-397-2161; www.scappoose-baykayaking.com; 57420 Old Portland Rd), located in Scappoose, which is 20 miles northwest of Portland.

Tours

Pedal Bike Tours BICYCLE TOUR
(☎503-243-2453; www.pedalbiketours.com; 133 SW 2nd Ave) Bike tours with all sorts of themes – history, food carts, beer- and options to head to the coast or gorge.

Portland Walking Tours WALKING TOUR
(☎503-774-4522; www.portlandwalkingtours.com) Food, chocolate, underground and even ghost-oriented tours.

Forktown FOOD TOUR
(☎503-234-3663; www.forktown.com) Experience Stumptown's neighborhood eateries from the point of view of your tastebuds.

Pubs of Portland Tours BEER TOUR
(☎512-917-2464; www.pubsofportlandtours.com) Visit several breweries and brewpubs with guides who will educate you on the beer-brewing process, various styles of beer and, essentially, how to taste the stuff.

Festivals & Events

Portland Rose Festival ROSE FESTIVAL
(www.rosefestival.org; ☺late May–mid-Jun) Rose-covered floats, dragon-boat races, fireworks, roaming packs of sailors and the crowning of a Rose Queen combine to make this Portland's biggest celebration.

Oregon Brewers Festival BEER FESTIVAL
(www.oregonbrewfest.com; ☺Jul & Dec) Quaff microbrews during the summer (late July) in Tom McCall Waterfront Park and during the winter (early December) at Pioneer Courthouse Sq.

Bite of Oregon FOOD FESTIVAL
(www.biteoforegon.com; ☺early Aug) All the food (and beer) you could think of consuming, much of it from great local restaurants – and some of it from Portland's now-famous food carts. Good microbrews, too. Bite of Oregon benefits Special Olympics Oregon.

Art in the Pearl ART FESTIVAL
(www.artinthepearl.com; ☺first Mon in Sep & weekend prior) On Labor Day weekend, more than 100 carefully selected artists come together to show and sell their fine works. Plenty of food and live music.

Sleeping

Reserve ahead in summer.

Hawthorne Portland Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎503-236-3380; www.portlandhostel.org; 3031 SE Hawthorne Blvd; dm $28, d with shared bath $60; ☺☺☺)  This ecofriendly hostel has good vibes and a great Hawthorne location. Private rooms are decent and dorms spacious. There are summertime open-mic nights in the grassy backyard, and bike rentals available. The Hawthorne is very environmentally conscious; it composts and recycles, uses rainwater to flush toilets and has a nice eco-roof. Discounts are available to those bike touring; non-HI members pay $3 extra.

Northwest Portland Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎503-241-2783; www.nwportlandhostel.com; 425 NW 18th Ave; dm $20-29, d with shared bath $65; ☺☺☺☺) Perfectly located between the Pearl District and NW 21st and 23rd Aves, this friendly and clean hostel takes up four old buildings and features plenty of common areas (including a small deck) and bike rentals. Dorms are spacious and private rooms can be as nice as in hotels, though all share outside bathrooms. Non-HI members pay $3 extra.

Ace Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎503-228-2277; www.acehotel.com; 1022 SW Stark St; d with shared/private bath from $135/185; ☺☺☺☺) Portland's trendiest place to sleep is this unique hotel fusing classic, industrial, minimalist and retro styles. From the photo booth and sofa lounge in its lobby to the recycled fabrics and furniture in its rooms, the Ace makes the warehouse-feel work. A Stumptown coffee shop on the premises adds even more comfort. Parking costs $25.

Crystal Hotel HOTEL $$ (☎503-972-2670; www.mcmenamins.com/CrystalHotel; 303 SW 12th Ave; r $85-165; ☺☺) Room furnishings that blend Grateful Dead-inspired psychedelia with the interior of a Victorian boudoir can only mean one thing. Welcome to the latest McMenamins hotel, filled with 51 guestrooms (the cheapest with bathrooms down the hall), each 'inspired' by a song. A wondrous saltwater soaking pool lies in the basement.

Jupiter Hotel

BOUTIQUE MOTEL $$

(☎ 503-230-9200; www.jupiterhotel.com; 800 E Burnside; d from $159; 🍷🍷🍷) The hippest hotel in town, this slick, remodeled motel is within walking distance of downtown and right next to Doug Fir Lounge (p1062), a top-notch live-music venue. Standard rooms are tiny – go for the Metropolitan instead, and ask for a pad away from the bamboo patio if you're more into sleeping than staying up late. Kitchenettes and bike rentals available; walk-ins after midnight get a discount.

Clinton St Guesthouse

GUESTHOUSE $$

(☎ 503-234-8752; www.clintonstreetguesthouse.com; 4220 SE Clinton St; d $100-145; 🍷🍷🍷) Four simple but beautiful rooms (two with shared bathroom) are on offer in this lovely arts-and-crafts house in a residential neighborhood. Furnishings are elegant, the linens luxurious and your hosts gracious. Located in a great residential neighborhood with many restaurants within walking distance.

★ McMenamins Edgefield

HOTEL $$

(☎ 503-669-8610; www.mcmenamins.com/54-edgefield-home; 2126 SW Halsey St, Troutdale; dm $30, d with shared bath $70-115, with private bath $120-155; 🍷🍷🍷) This former county poor farm, restored by the McMenamins brothers, is now a one-of-a-kind 38-acre hotel complex with a dizzying variety of services. Taste wine and homemade beer, play golf, watch movies, shop at the gift store, listen to live music, walk the extensive gardens and eat at one of its restaurants. It's about a 20-minute drive east from downtown.

★ Kennedy School

HOTEL $$

(☎ 503-249-3983; www.mcmenamins.com; 5736 NE 33rd Ave; d $115-155; 🍷🍷) This Portland institution, a former elementary school, is now home to a hotel (yes, the bedrooms are converted classrooms), a restaurant, several bars, a microbrewery and a movie theater. There's a soaking pool, and the whole school is decorated with mosaics, fantasy paintings and historical photographs.

Inn at Northrup Station

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 503-224-0543; www.northrupstation.com; 2025 NW Northrup St; d from $174; 🍷🍷🍷) Almost over the top with its bright color scheme and funky decor, this supertrendy hotel boasts huge artsy suites, many with patio or balcony, and all with kitchenettes or full kitchens. There's a cool rooftop patio with plants, and complimentary streetcar tickets are included (the streetcar runs just outside).

Heathman Hotel

LUXURY HOTEL $$$

(☎ 503-241-4100; www.heathmanhotel.com; 1001 SW Broadway; d from $249; 🍷🍷🍷) A Portland institution, the Heathman has top-notch services and one of the best restaurants in the city. Rooms are elegant, stylish and luxurious, and the location is very central. It also hosts high tea in the afternoons, jazz in the evenings and has a library stocked with signed books by authors who have stayed here. Parking costs $32.

🍴 Eating

Portland's rapidly evolving food scene tore up the rule book years ago and has branched out into countless genres and subgenres. Vegetarianism is well represented, as is brunch, Asian fusion and the rather loose concept known as 'Pacific Northwest.' Then there are the city's famous food carts, representing dozens of cuisines and quirky food niches.

Little Big Burger

BURGERS $

(☎ 503-274-9008; www.littlebigburger.com; 122 NW 10th Ave; burgers $4; ☀ 11am-10pm) A simple six-item menu takes fast food to the next level with mini-burgers made from prime ingredients. Try a beef burger topped with cheddar, Swiss, chevre or blue cheese, served with a side of truffled fries, and wash it down with a gourmet root-beer float. There are several locations; check the website.

Pok Pok

THAI $$

(☎ 503-232-1387; www.pokpokpdx.com; 3226 SE Division St; mains $11-16; ☀ 11:30am-10pm) Spicy Thai street food with a twist draws crowds of flavor-seekers to this famous eatery; don't miss the renowned chicken wings. To endure the inevitably long wait, try a tastier-than-it-sounds drinking vinegar at the restaurant's nearby bar, Whiskey Soda Lounge. There's a second location at 1469 NE Prescott St.

Navarre

EUROPEAN $$

(☎ 503-232-3555; www.navarreportland.blogspot.com; 10 NE 28th Ave; small plates $4-8, large plates $10-18; ☀ 4:30-10:30pm Mon-Thu, till 11:30pm Fri, 9:30am-11:30pm Sat, till 10:30pm Sun) The paper menu at this industrial-elegant restaurant lists various small plates (don't call them tapas), which rotate daily – though a few popular dishes are fixed commodities. Expect a simple and truly delicious approach to crab cakes, lamb and roasted veggies. Week-end brunch is just as good.

Piazza Italia

ITALIAN $$

(☎ 503-478-0619; www.piazzaportland.com; 1129 NW Johnson St; pasta $13-17; ☺ 11:30am-3pm & 5-9pm Mon-Thu, till 10pm Fri-Sun) Remember that great ragù (meat sauce) you last had in Bologna or those memorable vongole (clams) you once polished off in Sicily? Well, you'll find them here in this highly authentic restaurant that succeeds where so many fail: replicating the true essence of Italian food in North America.

Pambiche

CUBAN $$

(☎ 503-233-0511; www.pambiche.com; 2811 NE Glisan St; mains $12-17; ☺ 11am-10pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri, 9am-midnight Sat, to 10pm Sun) Portland's best Cuban food served in a riotously colorful atmosphere. All your regular favorites including ropa vieja (shredded beef in a tomato sauce) are available, and leave room for dessert. Happy hour is a good deal (2pm to 6pm Monday to Friday, 10pm to midnight Friday and Saturday). Be prepared to wait for dinner.

Kenny & Zuke's

DELI $$

(☎ 503-222-3354; www.kennyandzukes.com; 1038 SW Stark St; sandwiches $10-15; ☺ 7am-8pm Mon-Thu, till 10pm Fri, 8am-10pm Sat, till 8pm Sun) The only place in the city for real Jewish deli food: bagels, pickled herring, homemade pickles and latkes. But the real draw is the house pastrami, cut to order and gently sandwiched in one of the best Reubens you'll ever eat. Bustles for breakfast, too. Also in North Portland.

★ Ox

STEAKHOUSE $$$

(☎ 503-284-3366; www.oxpdx.com; 2225 Martin Luther King Jr Blvd; mains $19-38; ☺ 5-10pm Tue-Sun) Currently Portland's most popular restaurant, this is an upscale Argentine-inspired steakhouse (who said Portland is all vegetarian?). Go for the 'Gusto' (grass-fed beef rib-eye for $38) or, if there are two of you, the asado is a good choice for trying many different cuts ($60). Reserve ahead and bring your wallet.

Paley's Place

FRENCH, FUSION $$$

(☎ 503-243-2403; www.paleysplace.net; 1204 NW 21st Ave; mains $23-36; ☺ 5:30-10pm Mon-Thu, till 11pm Fri & Sat, 5-10pm Sun) Established by Vitaly and Kimberly Paley, this is one of Portland's premier restaurants, offering a creative blend of French and Pacific Northwest cuisines. Whether you're enjoying seared Alaskan halibut or crispy sweetbreads with fava-bean puree, you can count on fresh ingredients and excellent service.

Andina

PERUVIAN $$$

(☎ 503-228-9535; www.andinarestaurant.com; 1314 NW Glisan St; lunch mains $14-17, dinner mains $22-30; ☺ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5-9:30pm Sun-Thu, till

PORTLAND'S FOOD CARTS

One of the most fun ways to explore Portland's cuisine is to eat at a food cart. These semipermanent kitchens-on-wheels inhabit parking lots around town and are usually clustered together in 'pods,' often with their own communal tables, ATMs and porta-loos. As many of the owners are immigrants (who can't afford a hefty restaurant start-up), the carts are akin to an international potluck.

Food-cart locations vary, but the most significant cluster is on the corners of SW Alder St and SW 9th Ave. For a current list and some background information, see www.foodcartspdx.com. Highlights in a highly competitive field:

Nong's Khao Man Gai (www.khaomangai.com; 971-255-3480; SW 10th & SW Alder St; mains $7; ☺ 10am-4pm Mon-Fri) Tender poached chicken with rice. That's it – and enough. Also at 411 SW College St and 609 SE Ankeny St.

Viking Soul Food (www.vikingsoulfood.com; 4262 SE Belmont Ave; mains $5-6; ☺ noon-8pm Tue-Thu, 11:30am-9:30pm Fri & Sat, 11:30am-8:30pm Sun) Delicious sweet and savory wraps.

Rip City Grill (www.ripcitygrill.com; cnr SW Moody & Abernathy, south waterfront; sandwiches $5-7; ☺ 10am-2pm Mon-Fri) The tri-tip steak sandwich is not to be missed.

Thrive Pacific NW (www.thrivepacificnw.com; mains $5-8) Organic, free-range and gluten-free exotic food bowls. See the website for changing location and hours.

Pepper Box (www.pepperboxpdx.com; 2737 NE Martin Luther King Jr Blvd; tacos & quesadillas $3.50-4; ☺ 9am-2pm Tue-Fri, till 1pm Sat) Awesome breakfast tacos and fancy quesadillas.

10:30pm Fri & Sat) A modern take on traditional Peruvian food produces delicious mains such as quinoa-crust scallops on a bed of wilted spinach, or slow-cooked lamb shank in cilantro-and-black-beer sauce. For lighter fare, hit the bar for tapas, great cocktails and Latin-inspired live music.

Jake's Famous Crawfish SEAFOOD $$$
(☎ 503-226-1419; 401 SW 12th Ave; lunch mains $10-16, dinner mains $19-39; ☎ 11:30am-10pm Mon-Thu, till midnight Fri & Sat, 3-10pm Sun) Some of Portland's best seafood can be found here within an elegant old-time atmosphere. The oysters are divine, the crab cakes a revelation and the macadamia-crust wild halibut your ticket to heaven. Come at happy hour for more-affordable treats.

Drinking & Nightlife

Portland is famous for its coffee, and boasts more than 50 breweries within its borders – more than any other city on earth. It also offers a wide range of excellent bars, from dive bars to hipster joints to pubs and ultra-modern lounges. You'll never get thirsty in these parts.

★ Barista CAFE
(☎ 503-274-1211; www.baristapdx.com; 539 NW 13th Ave; ☎ 6am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-6pm Sat & Sun) One of Portland's best coffee shops is owned by award-winning barista Billy Wilson and known for its lattes. It sources its beans from specialty roasters. Also at 529 SW 3rd Ave and 1725 NE Alberta St.

Amnesia Brewing BREWERY
(☎ 503-281-7708; www.amnesiabrews.com; 832 N Beech St; ☎ 3pm-midnight Mon, noon-midnight Tue-Sun) This brewery, located on hip Mississippi Street (though its official address is Beech St), has picnic tables out front and a very casual feel. For excellent (and despite the name, memorable) beer, try the Desolation IPA, Amnesia Brown or Wonka Porter. An outdoor grill offers burgers and sausages, and there's live music on weekends.

Horse Brass Pub PUB
(☎ 503-232-2202; www.horsebrass.com; 4534 SE Belmont St; ☎ 11am-2:30am) Portland's most authentic English pub, cherished for its dark-wood atmosphere, excellent fish and chips, and about four dozen beers on tap. Play some darts, watch soccer on TV and just take it all in.

Coava Coffee CAFE
(☎ 503-894-8134; www.coavacoffee.com; 1300 SE Grand Ave; ☎ 6am-6pm Mon-Fri, 7am-6pm Sat, 8am-6pm Sun) The decor takes the concept of 'neo-industrial' to extremes, but most people love that – and Coava delivers where it matters. Their pour-over makes for a fantastic cup of java, and their espressos are exceptional, too.

Bailey's Taproom BREWERY
(☎ 503-295-1004; www.baileystaproom.com; 213 SW Broadway; ☎ 2pm-midnight) Unique and popular beer bar offering a rotation selection of 20 eclectic beers from Oregon and beyond. Cool digital menu board lets you know all about the beers, and how much of each is left. No food served, but you can bring something in from outside.

Belmont Station BREWERY
(☎ 503-232-8538; www.belmont-station.com; 4500 SE Stark St; ☎ noon-11pm) More than 20 excellent rotating taps in a simple 'biercafe' with sidewalk seating. Attached to one of the city's best bottle shops, which sells more than 1200 beers and offers a small discount if customers pay in cash.

Departure Lounge BAR
(☎ 503-802-5370; www.departureportland.com; 525 SW Morrison St; ☎ 4pm-midnight Sun-Thu, to 1am Fri & Sat) This rooftop restaurant-bar (atop the 15th floor of the Nines Hotel) fills a deep downtown void: a cool bar with unforgettable views. The vibe is distinctly spaceship LA, with mod couches and sleek lighting. For something different, try the spicy tasho macho cocktail.

Ristretto Roasters CAFE
(☎ 503-288-8667; www.ristrettoroasters.com; 3808 N Williams Ave; ☎ 6:30am-6pm Mon-Sat, 7am-6pm Sun) Medium-roast, small-batch and single-origin coffee beans that result in a mellow, subtle cup of java. Free cuppings (tasting sessions) Fridays at 1pm. Also at 555 NE Couch St and 2181 NW Nicolai St (in a cool Schoolhouse Electric building).

Breakside Brewery BREWERY
(☎ 503-719-6475; www.breakside.com; 820 NE Dekum St; ☎ 3-10pm Mon-Thu, noon-11pm Fri & Sat, noon-10pm Sun) More than 20 taps of some of the most experimental, tasty beer you'll ever drink, laced with fruits, vegetables and spices. Past beers have included a Meyer lemon kolsch, mango IPA and a beet beer with ginger. For dessert, pray they have the

GAY & LESBIAN PORTLAND

For current listings, see Just Out, Portland's free gay biweekly. Stark St, around SW 10th St, has several edgy gay bars.

CC Slaughters (☎ 503-248-9135; www.ccslaughterspdx.com; 219 NW Davis St) Popular and long-running nightclub with big, loud dance floor, laser light show and DJs. There's a Sunday night drag show and fun themed nights. The relaxed lounge is good for conversation.

Darcelle XV (☎ 503-222-5338; www.darcellex.com; 208 NW 3rd Ave; ☺ shows Wed-Sat) Portland's Vegas-style cabaret show, featuring glitzy drag queens in big wigs, fake jewelry and over-stuffed bras. Male strippers perform at midnight on Friday and Saturday.

Silverado (☎ 503-224-4493; www.silveradopdx.com; 318 SW 3rd Ave) Almost nightly stripper shows (Monday is karaoke) catering to men. Mixed crowd, cheap drinks, potential groping and muscled dancers, so bring plenty of dollar bills and expect a wild time.

salted-caramel milk stout. Good food and nice outdoor seating, too.

Stumptown Coffee Roasters CAFE
(☎ 503-230-7702; www.stumptowncoffee.com; 4525 SE Division St; ☺ 6am-7pm Mon-Fri, 7am-7pm Sat & Sun) The first microroaster to put Portland on the coffee map, and still its most famous coffee shop. Stumptown is proud to deal directly with coffee farmers to ensure quality beans. See the website for other Portland (and US) locations.

Green Dragon BREWERY
(☎ 503-517-0660; www.pdxgreendragon.com; 928 SE 9th Ave; ☺ 11am-11pm Sun-Wed, to 1am Thu-Sat) Although it is owned by Rogue Breweries, Green Dragon serves a whopping 62 guest taps – and it's an eclectic mix to boot. It has decent pub-fare food, too. Located in an echoey eastside warehouse space; sit on the patio on warm days.

Rontoms BAR
(☎ 503-236-4536; 600 E Burnside St; ☺ 4:30pm-2:30am) First the downside of this trendy-industrial bar – the food's just ok, the service can be mediocre, and if you're not a hipster you might feel out of place. But if it's a nice day, the large patio in back is the place to be. It's at the corner of E Burnside and 6th (too cool for a sign).

Hopworks Urban Brewery BREWERY
(☎ 503-232-4677; www.hopworksbeer.com; 2944 SE Powell Blvd; ☺ 11am-11pm Sun-Thu, till midnight Fri & Sat) 🌿 Organic beers made with local ingredients, served in an ecobuilding with bicycle frames above the bar. Good selection of food in a family-friendly atmosphere; the back deck can't be beat on a warm day. Also at 3947 N Williams Ave.

Sterling Coffee Roasters CAFE
(www.sterlingcoffee.roasters.com; 417 NW 21st Ave; ☺ 7am-4pm Mon-Fri, 8am-4pm Sat & Sun) Very small but elegant coffee shop that roasts complex, flavorful beans. Simple menu, great cappuccino and espresso, and knowledgeable baristas. Also at 1951 W Burnside (where it's called Coffeehouse Northwest).

★ Entertainment

The best guide to local entertainment is the free Willamette Week (www.wweek.com), which comes out on Wednesday and lists theater, music, clubs, cinema and events in the metro area. Also, try the Portland Mercury (www.portlandmercury.com).

For summer outdoor concerts, check what's happening at the Oregon Zoo.

Live Music
Doug Fir Lounge LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 503-231-9663; www.dougfirlounge.com; 830 E Burnside St) Paul Bunyan meets the Jetsons at this ultratrendy venue. Doug Fir books edgy, hard-to-get talent, drawing crowds from tattooed youth to suburban yuppies. Their decent restaurant has long hours; located next to the rock-star quality Jupiter Hotel.

Dante's LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 503-345-7892; www.danteslive.com; 350 W Burnside St) This steamy red bar books vaudeville shows along with national acts such as the Dandy Warhols and Concrete Blonde. Drop in on Sunday night for the eclectic Sinferno Cabaret.

Crystal Ballroom LIVE MUSIC
(☎ 503-225-0047; www.mcmenamins.com; 1332 W Burnside St) Major acts have played at this large and historic ballroom, including the Grateful Dead, James Brown and Jimi Hendrix. The 'floating' dance floor makes dancing a balancing act. If you like '80s music, head to Lola's Room downstairs on Friday nights.

Mississippi Studios

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 503-288-3895; www.mississippistudios.com; 3939 N Mississippi Ave) Intimate venue good for checking out budding acoustic talent, along with more established alternative musical groups. Excellent sound system. There's a good restaurant-bar with patio next door.

Jimmy Mak's

LIVE MUSIC

(☎ 503-295-6542; www.jimmymaks.com; 221 NW 10th Ave; ☺ music from 8pm) Stumptown's premier jazz venue, which also serves excellent Mediterranean food in their fancy dining room. There's a casual bar with pool tables and darts in the basement.

Cinema*Kennedy School

CINEMA

(☎ 503-249-3983; www.mcmenamins.com; 5736 NE 33rd Ave) McMenamins' premier Portland venue; watch $3 movies in the old school gym.

Bagdad Theater

CINEMA

(☎ 503-249-7474; www.mcmenamins.com; 3702 SE Hawthorne Blvd) An awesome McMenamins venue that shows bargain flicks.

Laurelhurst Theater

CINEMA

(☎ 503-232-5511; www.laurelhursttheater.com; 2735 E Burnside St) Great gourmet pizza-and-microbrew theater with nearby nightlife.

Cinema 21

CINEMA

(www.cinema21.com; 616 NW 21st Ave) This is Portland's premier art-house and foreign-film theater.

Performing Arts*Portland Center Stage

THEATER

(☎ 503-445-3700; www.pcs.org; 128 NW 11th Ave) The city's main theater company now performs in the Portland Armory – a newly renovated Pearl District landmark with state-of-the-art features.

Arlene Schnitzer*Concert Hall

CLASSICAL MUSIC

(☎ 503-228-1353; www.pcpa.com/schnitzer; 1037 SW Broadway) The Oregon Symphony performs in this beautiful, if not acoustically brilliant, downtown venue.

Artists Repertory Theatre

THEATER

(☎ 503-241-1278; www.artistsrep.org; 1515 SW Morrison St) Some of Portland's best plays, including regional premiers, are performed in two intimate theaters.

Keller Auditorium

THEATER

(☎ 503-248-4335; www.pcpa.com/keller; 222 SW Clay St) The Portland Opera and Oregon Ballet Theatre stage performances here, and it's also home to some Broadway productions.

Sports

Portland's Trailblazers play at Moda Center (☎ 503-235-8771; www.rosequarter.com; 300 N Winning Way). The city's A-League soccer teams are the Timbers (www.portlandtimbers.com), who play at Jeld-Wen Field along with their female counterparts, the Thorns (www.portlandtimbers.com/thornsfc), who won their leagues' inaugural championship in 2013. Other major sports teams include the Winter Hawks (www.winterhawks.com), who play ice-hockey at Moda Center, and Rose City Rollers (www.rosecityrollers.com), a roller-derby team who play at The Hanger in Oaks Amusement Park.

Shopping

Portland's downtown shopping district extends in a two-block radius from Pioneer Courthouse Sq and hosts all of the usual suspects. Pioneer Place (☎ 503-228-5800; www.pioneerplace.com; 700 SW 5th Ave; ☺ 10am-8pm Mon-Sat, 11am-6pm Sun), a fancy mall, is east of the square. The Pearl District is dotted with high-end galleries, boutiques and home-decor shops. On weekends, you can visit the quintessential Saturday Market (p1055) by the Skidmore Fountain. For a pleasant, upscale shopping street, head to NW 23rd Ave.

DON'T MISS*POWELL'S CITY OF BOOKS

You remember bookstores, don't you? Well they haven't all disappeared. Enter Powell's City of Books (☎ 503-228-4651; www.powells.com; 1005 W Burnside St; ☺ 9am-11pm), an empire of reading that takes up a whole city block on multiple stories, and once claimed to be 'the largest independent bookstore in the world.' Don't miss it during your Portland tenure; it's a local institution, tourist attraction and a worthy place to hang out for a few hours (it'll take you that long to get through it). There are other branches around town and at the airport, but none as large.

Eastside has lots of trendy shopping streets that also host restaurants and cafes. SE Hawthorne Blvd is the biggest, N Mississippi Ave is the most recent and NE Alberta St is the most artsy and funky. Down south, Sellwood is known for its antique shops.

i Information

EMERGENCY & MEDICAL SERVICES

Legacy Good Samaritan Medical Center

(☎ 503-413-7711; www.legacyhealth.org; 1015 NW 22nd Ave)

Portland Police (☎ 503-823-0000; www.portlandoregon.gov/police; 1111 SW 2nd Ave)

INTERNET ACCESS

Backspace (☎ 503-248-2900; www.backspace.biz; 115 NW 5th Ave; ☎ 7am-midnight Mon-Fri, 10am-midnight Sat & Sun) Youth-oriented hangout with arcade games, coffee, long hours and even live music.

Central Library (☎ 503-988-5123; www.multicolib.org; 801 SW 10th Ave) Downtown; for other branches check the website.

MEDIA

KBOO 90.7 FM (www.kboo.fm) Progressive local station run by volunteers; alternative news and views.

Portland Mercury (www.portlandmercury.com) Free local sibling of Seattle's the Stranger.

Willamette Week (www.wweek.com) Free weekly covering local news and culture.

MONEY

Travelex (☎ 5:30am-4:30pm) Downtown (900 SW 6th Ave); Portland International Airport (☎ 503-281-3045; ☎ 5:30am-4:30pm) Foreign-currency exchange.

POST

Post Office (☎ 503-525-5398; www.usps.com; 715 NW Hoyt St; ☎ 8am-6:30pm Mon-Fri, 8:30am-5pm Sat) This is the main branch, but there are many others around Portland.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Portland Oregon Visitors Association

(www.travelportland.com; 701 SW 6th Ave; ☎ 8:30am-5:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat, till 2pm Sun) In Pioneer Courthouse Sq. There's a small theater with a 12-minute film about the city, and Tri-Met bus and light-rail offices inside.

USEFUL WEBSITES

Oregon Live (www.oregonlive.com) The Oregonian's website, with news, sports and entertainment.

Portland Food & Drink (www.portlandfoodanddrink.com) Unbiased reviews of Portland's restaurants, along with specialty articles.

Portland Monthly (www.portlandmonthlymag.com) Portland Monthly magazine's website features interesting local content.

Travel Portland (www.travelportland.com) What to do, where to go, how to save.

i Getting There & Away

AIR

Portland International Airport (PDX; ☎ 503-460-4234; www.flypdx.com; 7000 NE Airport Way) Portland International Airport has daily flights all over the US, as well as to several international destinations. It's situated just east of I-5 on the banks of the Columbia River (a 20-minute drive from downtown heading northeast via the Steel Bridge). Amenities include money changers, restaurants, bookstores (including three Powell's branches) and business services such as free wi-fi.

BUS

Greyhound (☎ 503-243-2361; www.greyhound.com; 550 NW 6th Ave) Greyhound connects Portland with cities along I-5 and I-84. Destinations include Chicago, Boise, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver, BC.

Bolt Bus (☎ 877-265-8287; www.boltbus.com) If you're traveling between Portland, Seattle and Vancouver, BC, try Bolt Bus, which provides service in large buses with wi-fi and power outlets.

TRAIN

Amtrak (☎ 503-273-4865; www.amtrak.com; 800 NW 6th Ave) Amtrak offers services up and down the West Coast. The Empire Builder travels to Chicago, the Cascades goes to Vancouver, BC, and the Coast Starlight runs between Seattle and LA.

i Getting Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

Portland International Airport (PDX) is about 10 miles northeast of downtown, next to the Columbia River. Tri-Met's light-rail MAX line takes about 40 minutes to get from downtown to the airport. If you prefer a bus, Blue Star (☎ 503-249-1837; www.bluestarbus.com) offers shuttle services between PDX and several downtown stops.

Taxis charge around $34 from the airport to downtown (not including tip).

BICYCLE

It's easy riding a bicycle around Portland, often voted 'the most bike-friendly city in America.'

Rental companies include Clever Cycles (☎ 503-334-1560; www.clevercycles.com/ rentals; 900 SE Hawthorne Blvd) and Waterfront Bicycle Rentals (p1057).

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Portland has a good public-transportation system, which consists of local buses, streetcars and the MAX light-rail. All are run by TriMet (☎ 503-238-7433; www.trimet.org/; 701 SW 6th Ave), which has an information center at Pioneer Courthouse Sq.

Tickets for the transportation systems are completely transferable within two hours of the time of purchase. Buy tickets for local buses from the fare machines as you enter; for streetcars, you can buy tickets either at streetcar stations or on the streetcar itself. Tickets for the MAX must be bought from ticket machines at MAX stations (before you board); there is no conductor or ticket seller on board (but there are enforcers).

If you're a night owl, be aware that there are fewer services at night, and only a few run past 1am; check the website for details on specific lines.

CAR

Most major car-rental agencies have outlets both downtown and at Portland International Airport (PDX). Many of these agencies have added hybrid vehicles to their fleets. Zipcar (www.zipcar.com) is a popular car-sharing option, but there are many. For cheap parking downtown, see www.portlandoregon.gov/transportation/35272.

CHARTER SERVICE

For custom bus or van charters and tours, try EcoShuttle (☎ 503-548-4480; www.ecoshuttle.net). Vehicles are run on 100% biodiesel.

PEDICAB

For an ecofriendly option, there are several pedicab operators in town, including PDX Pedicab. (☎ 503-828-9888; www.pdypedicab.com) Bicycle pedicabs come with 'drivers' that pedal you around downtown.

TAXI

Cabs are available 24 hours by phone. Downtown, you can often just flag them down. Try Broadway Cab (☎ 503-333-3333; www.broadwaycab.com) or Radio Cab (☎ 503-227-1212; www.radiocab.net).

Willamette Valley

The Willamette Valley, a fertile 60-mile-wide agricultural basin, was the Holy Grail for Oregon Trail pioneers who headed west more than 150 years ago. Today it's the state's breadbasket, producing more than 100 kinds of crops – including renowned Pinot Noir grapes (see p1065). Salem, Oregon's capital, is about an hour's drive from Portland at the northern end of the Willamette

WILLAMETTE VALLEY WINE COUNTRY

Just a hour's drive from Portland is the Willamette Valley, home to hundreds of wineries producing world-class tipples, especially Pinot Noir. McMinnville, Newberg and Dundee provide many of this region's services, which include some very fine restaurants, shops, B&Bs and wine-tasting rooms. Check out www.willamettewines.com for more information on the region's wineries.

Meandering through plush green hills on winding country roads from one wine-tasting room to another is a delightful way to spend an afternoon (just make sure you designate a driver). If you'd rather go on a tour, Grape Escape (☎ 503-283-3380; www.grapeescapetours.com) offers some good ones. If you like to bicycle, Portland-based Pedal Bike Tours (p1058) runs five-hour bike tours.

For something more cerebral, head to McMinnville's Evergreen Aviation Museum (☎ 503-434-4180; www.evergreenmuseum.org; 500 NE Captain Michael King Smith Way; adult/child 5-16yr $25/23 (incl 3-D movie); ☎ 9am-5pm; 🚗) and check out Howard Hughes' Spruce Goose, the world's largest wood-framed airplane. There's also a replica of the Wright brothers' Flyer, along with a 3-D theater and – oddly enough – an excellent water park.

For an interesting place to stay, head to McMenamins Hotel Oregon (☎ 503-472-8427; www.mcmenamins.com; 310 NE Evans St, McMinnville; d $75-145; 🍷 🍷 🍷 🍷), an older building renovated into a charming hotel. It has a wonderful rooftop bar. And for a spectacular restaurant experience, consider Joel Palmer House (☎ 503-864-2995; www.joelpalmerhouse.com; 600 Ferry St, McMinnville; prix fixe $49-80; ☎ 4:30-9:30pm Tue-Sat) 🍴; its dishes are peppered with wild mushrooms collected locally by the chefs.

Valley, and most of the other attractions in the area make easy day trips as well. Toward the south is Eugene, a dynamic college town worth a few days of exploration.

Salem

Oregon's legislative center (not the Salem associated with witches, which is in Massachusetts) is renowned for its cherry trees, art-deco capitol building and Willamette University.

Willamette University's Hallie Ford Museum of Art (900 State St; admission adult/under 12yr $3/free; ☎10am-5pm Tue-Sat, from 1pm Sun) showcases the state's best collection of Pacific Northwest art, including an impressive Native American gallery.

The Oregon State Capitol (900 Court St NE) FREE, built in 1938, looks like a background prop from a lavish Cecil B DeMille movie; free tours are offered. Rambling 19th-century Bush House (☎503-363-4714; www.salemart.org; 600 Mission St SE; adult/child 6-15yr $6/3; ☎1-4pm Wed-Sun, closed Jan & Feb) is an Italianate mansion now preserved as a museum with historic accents, including original wallpapers and marble fireplaces.

You can get oriented at the Visitors Information Center (www.travelsalem.com; 181 High St NE; ☎8:30am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat).

Salem is served daily by Greyhound (☎503-362-2428; www.greyhound.com; 500 13th St SE) buses and Amtrak (☎503-588-1551; www.amtrak.com; 500 13th St SE) trains.

Eugene

Eclectic Eugene – also known as ‘Tracktown’ – is full of youthful energy and liberal politics, and famous for its track-and-field champions (Nike was born here, after all). And while the city maintains a working-class base in timber and manufacturing, some unconventional citizens live here as well, from ex-hippie activists to eco-green anarchists to upscale entrepreneurs to high-tech heads.

Eugene offers a great art scene, exceptionally fine restaurants, boisterous festivals, miles of riverside paths and several lovely parks. It's an awesome place to be, for both energetic visitors and those lucky enough to settle here.

Sights

Alton Baker Park

PARK

(100 Day Island Rd) This popular 400-acre riverside park is heaven for cyclists and joggers. It provides access to the Ruth Bascom Riverbank Trail System, a 12-mile cycleway that flanks both sides of the Willamette. The park is divided roughly in half, demarcating wild and manicured areas. Abutting the Willamette River, it connects to the city's wider trail network via three footbridges. Just northwest of Alton Baker Park and on the opposite side of the river, Skinner Butte (682ft) is a landmark hill replete with lawns, hiking trails and a prime city view.

WORTH A TRIP

HOT SPRINGS

Oregon has an abundance of hot springs and there some not far from Salem. A couple of hours' drive east of the city is Bagby Hot Springs (www.bagbyhotsprings.org; per person $5), a rustic hot spring with various wood tubs in semiprivate bathhouses. It's reachable via a 1.5 mile lovely hiking trail. From Estacada, head 26 miles south on Hwy 224. This road turns into Forest Rd 46; keep going straight for 3.5 more miles, then turn right onto Forest Rd 63 and go 3.6 miles to USFS Rd 70. Turn right again and go about 6 miles to the parking area.

There's another good soak at Terwilliger Hot Springs (aka Cougar Hot Springs), a beautiful cluster of terraced outdoor pools framed by large rocks ($6 per person fee). They're rustic but well maintained, with the hottest on top. From the parking lot, you'll have to walk 0.25 miles to the springs. To get here, turn south onto Aufderheide Scenic Byway from Hwy 126 and drive 7.5 miles.

For something more developed, check out Breitenbush Hot Springs (☎503-854-7174; www.breitenbush.com), a fancier spa with massages, yoga and vegetarian food. Breitenbush is east of Salem on Hwy 46, just past the town of Detroit.

University of Oregon

UNIVERSITY

(☎541-346-1000; www.uoregon.edu) Established in 1872, the University of Oregon is the state's foremost institution of higher learning, with a focus on the arts, sciences and law. The campus is filled with historic ivy-covered buildings and includes a Pioneer Cemetery, with tombstones that give vivid insight into life and death in the early settlement. A campus highlight is the Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art (☎541-346-3027; www.jsma.uoregon.edu; 1430 Johnson Lane; admission adult/child $5/free; ☉11am-5pm Tue-Sun, till 8pm Wed), which offers a rotating permanent collection of world-class art from Korean scrolls to Rembrandt paintings. The Museum of Natural and Cultural History (☎541-346-3024; http://natural-history.uoregon.edu; 1680 E 15th Ave; adult/3-18yr $3/2, free Wed; ☉11am-5pm Wed-Sun) is also worth a visit for its Native American exhibits.

Sleeping

Eugene has all the regular chain hotels and motels. Prices rise sharply during key football games and graduation.

Campus Inn

MOTEL $

(☎541-343-3376; www.campus-inn.com; 390 E Broadway; d $70-80; ☹☹☹☹☹) Very pleasant motel with spacious business-style rooms and simple yet stylish decor. Get the $10 upgrade for a bigger bed and more space. Small gym, communal Jacuzzi and upstairs outside patio available.

Eugene Whiteaker Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎541-343-3335; www.eugenehostels.com; 970 W 3rd Ave; dm incl breakfast $25, r incl breakfast $40-70; ☹☹☹☹) Casual hostel in an old rambling house. Artsy vibe, nice front and back patios to hang out in, and a free simple breakfast. Campsites are available ($15 per person), and there's an annex down the street.

★C'est La Vie Inn

B&amp;B $$

(☎541-302-3014; www.cestlavieinn.com; 1006 Taylor St; d $150-170; ☹☹☹☹☹) This gorgeous Victorian house, run by a friendly French woman and her American husband, is a neighborhood show-stopper. Beautiful antique furniture fills the living and dining areas, while the three tastefully appointed rooms offer comfort and luxury. Also available is an amazing suite with kitchenette ($260).

Eating

Sweet Life Patisserie

CAFE, BAKERY $

(☎541-683-5676; www.sweetlifedesserts.com; 755 Monroe St; pastries $2-5; ☉7am-11pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun) ☹ Eugene's best dessert shop; think pecan sticky buns, savory croissants and pain au chocolat. Even the day-old pastries it often sells off half-price are delicious. Organic coffee, too.

Belly Taqueria

MEXICAN $

(☎541-687-8226; www.eatbelly.com; 291 E 5th Ave; tacos $3-4, tostadas $5-6; ☉5-9pm Mon-Thu, till 10pm Fri & Sat) Corn tortilla tacos are on tap here – order the carnitas (slow-cooked pork), camarones (shrimp), scallops (beer-battered and fried) or lengua (tongue – don't knock it 'till you try it).

★Beppe & Gianni's Trattoria

ITALIAN $$

(☎541-683-6661; www.beppeandgiannis.net; 1646 E 19th Ave; mains $15-25; ☉5-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) One of Eugene's most beloved restaurants and certainly its favorite for Italian food. Homemade pastas are the real deal here, and the desserts are excellent. Expect a wait.

McMenamins North Bank

AMERICAN $$

(☎541-343-5622; www.mcmenamins.com; 22 Club Rd; mains $9-20; ☉11am-11pm Sun-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat) Gloriously located on the banks of the mighty Willamette, this pub-restaurant boasts some of the best views in Eugene. Grab a riverside patio table on a warm, sunny day and order a cheeseburger with the Hammerhead ale – you can't get more stylin'.

Information

For information, try the Visitor Center (www.eugencascadecoast.org; 754 Olive St; ☉8am-5pm Mon-Fri).

Getting There & Around

Eugene's Amtrak station (☎541-687-1383; www.amtrak.com; cnr E 4th Ave & Willamette St) runs daily trains to Vancouver, BC, and LA, and everywhere in between on its Cascade and Coast Starlight lines. Greyhound (☎541-344-6265; www.greyhound.com; 987 Pearl St) runs north to Salem and Portland, and south to Grants Pass and Medford. Porter Stage Lines (www.kokkola-bus.com) runs a daily bus from outside the train station to the coast.

Local bus service is provided by Lane Transit District (☎541-682-6100; www.ltd.org; 3500 E 17th Ave). For bike rentals, try Paul's Bicycle Way of Life (152 W 5th St; ☎ 9am-7pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun).

Columbia River Gorge

The fourth-largest river in the US by volume, the mighty Columbia runs 1243 miles from Alberta, Canada, into the Pacific Ocean just west of Astoria. For the final 309 miles of its course, the heavily dammed waterway delineates the border between Washington and Oregon and cuts through the Cascade Mountains via the spectacular Columbia River Gorge. Showcasing numerous ecosystems, waterfalls and magnificent vistas, the land bordering the river is protected as a National Scenic Area and is a popular sporting nexus for windsurfers, cyclists, anglers and hikers.

Not far from Portland, Multnomah Falls is a huge tourist draw, while Vista House offers stupendous gorge views. And if you want to stretch your legs, the Eagle Creek Trail is the area's premier tromp – provided you don't get vertigo!

Hood River & Around

Famous for its surrounding fruit orchards and wineries, the small town of Hood River – 63 miles east of Portland on I-84 – is also a huge mecca for windsurfing and kiteboarding. Strong river currents, prevailing westerly winds and the vast Columbia River provide the perfect conditions for these wind sports.

👁 Sights & Activities

In operation since 1906, the 22-mile Mount Hood Railroad (☎ 800-872-4661; www.mthoodrr.com; 110 Railroad Ave) was built to transport lumber to the Columbia River. Today, it transports tourists beneath Mt Hood's snowy peak and past fragrant orchards on summer excursions. Reserve in advance.

Want to go wine tasting? Not far away is Cathedral Ridge Winery (☎ 800-516-8710; www.cathedralridgewinery.com; 4200 Post Canyon Dr).

To partake in Hood River's wind sports, contact Hood River Waterplay (☎ 541-386-9463; www.hoodriverwaterplay.com; Port of Hood River Marina) for rentals and classes. There's also great mountain biking in the area; head to Discover Bicycles (☎ 541-386-4820; www.discoverbicycles.com; 210 State St; ☎ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, till 5pm Sun) for information and rentals.

🍴 Sleeping & Eating

Inn of the White Salmon INN, HOSTEL $$ (☎ 509-493-2335; www.innofthewhitesalmon.com; 172 West Jewett Blvd; d $129-189; 🚗 🚰 🚰) Over in White Salmon, Washington is this very pleasant and contemporary 18-room inn with comfortable rooms and a lovely patio-garden out back. There's also a very nice eight-bed dorm room available (single bunk $29, queen bunk for two $40), along with a common-use kitchenette area.

Hood River Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$ (☎ 541-386-1900; www.hoodriverhotel.com; 102 Oak St; d $99-179; 🚗 🚰 🚰 🚰) Located in downtown Hood River, this fine 1913 hotel offers comfortable old-fashioned rooms with tiny baths. The suites have the best amenities and views. Kitchenettes available.

Double Mountain Brewery BREWPUB $ (☎ 541-387-0042; www.doublemountainbrewery.com; 8 4th St; sandwiches $750-10, pizzas $16-22; ☎ 11:30am-11pm Sun-Thu, till midnight Fri & Sat) This popular Hood River brewpub-restaurant is great for a tasty sandwich, excellent brick-oven pizza and home-brewed beer. Live music on weekends.

📍 Information

For information head to the chamber of commerce (☎ 541-386-2000; www.hoodriver.org; 720 E Port Marina Dr; ☎ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri year-round, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun Apr-Oct).

🚗 Getting There & Away

Hood River is connected to Portland by daily Greyhound (☎ 541-386-1212; www.greyhound.com; 110 Railroad Ave) buses. Amtrak (www.amtrak.com) runs on the Washington side.

Oregon Cascades

The Oregon Cascades offer plenty of dramatic volcanoes that dominate the skyline for miles around. Mt Hood, overlooking the Columbia River Gorge, is the state's highest peak, and has year-round skiing plus a relatively straightforward summit ascent. Tracking south you'll pass Mt Jefferson and the Three Sisters before reaching Crater Lake, the ghost of erstwhile Mt Mazama that collapsed in on itself after blowing its top approximately 7000 years ago.

Mt Hood

The state's highest peak, Mt Hood (11,240ft) pops into view over much of northern Oregon whenever there's a sunny day, exerting an almost magnetic tug on skiers, hikers and sightseers. In summer, wildflowers bloom on the mountainsides and hidden ponds shimmer blue, making for some unforgettable hikes; in winter, downhill and cross-country skiing dominates people's minds and bodies.

Mt Hood is accessible year-round from Portland on US 26 and from Hood River on Hwy 35. Together with the Columbia River Hwy, these routes comprise the Mt Hood Loop, a popular scenic drive. Government Camp is at the pass over Mt Hood, and is the center of business on the mountain.

Activities

Skiing

Hood is rightly revered for its skiing. There are six ski areas on the mountain, including Timberline (☎503-272-3158; www.timberlinelodge.com; lift ticket adult/child 15-17/child 7-14 $68/56/42), which lures snow-lovers with the only year-round skiing in the US. Closer to Portland, Mt Hood SkiBowl (☎503-272-3206; www.skibowl.com; lift ticket adult/child 7-12 $49/30) is no slacker either. It's the nation's largest night-ski area and popular with city slickers who ride up for an evening of powder play from the metro zone. The largest ski area on the mountain is Mt Hood Meadows (☎503-337-2222; www.skihood.com; lift ticket adult/child 7-14 $74/39) and the best conditions usually prevail here.

Hiking

The Mt Hood National Forest protects an astounding 1200 miles of trails. A Northwest Forest Pass ($5) is required at most trailheads.

One popular trail loops 7 miles from near the village of Zigzag to beautiful Ramona Falls, which tumbles down mossy columnar basalt. Another heads 1.5 miles up from US 26 to Mirror Lake, continues 0.5 miles around the lake, then tracks 2 miles beyond to a ridge.

The 41-mile Timberline Trail circumnavigates Mt Hood through scenic wilderness. Noteworthy portions include the hike to McNeil Point and the short climb to Bald Mountain. From Timberline Lodge, Zigzag Canyon Overlook is a 4.5-mile round-trip. At research time, however, part of the trail was washed out, with no timetable for when it would be repaired.

Climbing Mt Hood should be taken seriously, as deaths do occur. Dog-owners are able to bring their dogs along. The climb can be done in a long day. Contact Timberline Mountain Guides (☎541-312-9242; www.timberlinemtguides.com) for guided climbs.

Sleeping & Eating

Reserve campsites (☎877-444-6777; www.reserveusa.com; campsites $12-18) in summer. Streamside campgrounds Tollgate and Camp Creek are on US 26. Large and popular Trillium Lake has great views of Mt Hood.

Huckleberry Inn

INN $

(☎503-272-3325; www.huckleberry-inn.com; 88611 E Government Camp Loop; r $85-180; ☺☺) You'll find simple and comfortably rustic rooms here, including a bunk room that sleeps up to 14. The inn is in a great central location in Government Camp, and has a casual restaurant (which doubles as the hotel's reception). Holiday rates go up by 20%.

★ Timberline Lodge

LODGE $$

(☎800-547-1406; www.timberlinelodge.com; d $115-290; ☺☺☺) More a community treasure than a hotel, this gorgeous historic wood gem from the 1930s offers a variety of rooms, from bunk rooms that sleep up to 10 to deluxe fireplace rooms. Huge wooden beams tower over multiple fireplaces, there's a year-round heated outdoor pool, and the ski lifts are close by. Enjoy awesome views of Mt Hood, access to nearby hiking trails, and the use of two bars and a good dining room. Not to be missed.

★ Rendezvous Grill & Tap Room

AMERICAN $$

(☎503-622-6837; www.rendezvousgrill.net; 67149 E US 26, Welches; lunch mains $9-16, dinner mains $13-22; ☺11:30am-9pm) This excellent restaurant is in a league of its own. Outstanding dishes include citrus-curry wild salmon and char-grilled pork chop with apple-fennel chutney. Lunch means gourmet sandwiches, burgers and salads on the outdoor patio.

Ice Axe Grill

BREW PUB $$

(☎503-272-3172; www.iceaxegrill.com; 87304 E Government Camp Loop, Government Camp; mains $12-18; ☺11am-10pm) Government Camp's only brewery-restaurant, the Ice Axe offers a friendly, family-style atmosphere and pub fare including good pizzas, shepherd's pie and upscale burgers. There are veggie chili and lentil burgers, too.

i Information

If you're approaching from Hood River, visit the Hood River Ranger Station (☎ 541-352-6002; 6780 Hwy 35, Parkdale; ☀ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri). The Zigzag Ranger Station (☎ 503-622-3191; 70220 E Hwy 26; ☀ 7:45am-4:30pm Mon-Sat) is more handy for Portland arrivals. Mt Hood Information Center (☎ 503-272-3301; 88900 E US 26; ☀ 9am-5pm) is in Government Camp. The weather changes quickly here; carry chains in winter.

i Getting There & Away

From Portland, Mt Hood is one hour (56 miles) by car along Hwy 26. Alternatively, you can take the prettier and longer approach via Hwy 84 to Hood River, then Hwy 35 south (1¼ hours, 95 miles). The Central Oregon Breeze (☎ 800-847-0157; www.cobreeze.com) shuttle between Bend and Portland stops briefly at Government Camp, 6 miles from the Timberline Lodge. There are regular shuttles (www.skihood.com) from Portland to the ski areas during the winter.

Sisters

Straddling the Cascades and high desert, where mountain pine forests mingle with desert sage and juniper, is the darling town of Sisters. Once a stagecoach stop and a trade town for loggers and ranchers, today Sisters is a bustling tourist destination whose main street is lined with boutiques, art galleries and eateries housed in Western-facade buildings. Visitors come for the mountain scenery, spectacular hiking, fine cultural events and awesome climate – there's plenty of sun and little precipitation here. And while the town's atmosphere is a bit upscale, people are still friendly and the back streets are still undeveloped enough that deer are often seen nibbling in neighborhood garden plots.

At the southern end of Sisters, the city park has camp sites ($15) but no showers. For ultracomfort, bag a room in the luxurious Five Pine Lodge (☎ 866-974-5900; www.fivepinelodge.com; 1021 Desperado Trail; d $170-257, cabins $179-317; ☀ ☎ @ ☎ ☎). On the quieter and cheaper side is Sisters Motor Lodge (☎ 541-549-2551; www.sistersmotorlodge.com; 511 W Cascade St; r $119-225; ☀ ☎ @ ☎ ☎), offering 11 cozy rooms with homey decor (and some with kitchenettes).

For great gourmet treats head to Porch (☎ 541-549-3287; www.theporch-sisters.com; 243 N Elm St; small plates $6-12, mains $15-17; ☀ 5-9pm Tue-Sat), which offers morsels such as truffle fries and creamy butternut-squash risotto. Three Creeks Brewing (☎ 541-549-1963; www.threecreeksbrewing.com; 721 Desperado Ct; ☀ 11:30am-10pm Sun-Thu, till 11pm Fri & Sat) is the place to go for home brew and pub grub.

For local orientation, see the chamber of commerce (☎ 541-549-0251; www.sisterscountry.com; 291 Main St; ☀ 10am-4pm Mon-Sat).

Valley Retriever (www.kokkola-bus.com/VRBSchedule.html) buses connect Sisters with Bend, Newport, Corvallis, Salem, McMinnville and Portland; they stop at the corner of Cascade and Spruce Sts.

Bend

Bend is where all outdoor-lovers should live – it's an absolute paradise. You can ski fine powder in the morning, paddle a kayak in the afternoon and take in a game of golf into the evening. Or would you rather go mountain biking, hiking, mountaineering, stand-up paddleboarding, fly-fishing or rock climbing? It's all close by, and top-drawer. Plus, you'll probably be enjoying it all in great weather, as the area gets nearly 300 days of sunshine each year.

With the lovely Deschutes River carving its way through the heart of the city, Bend also offers a vibrant and attractive downtown area full of shops, galleries and upscale dining. South of downtown, the Old Mill District has been renovated into a large shopping area full of brand-name stores, fancy eateries and modern movie theaters. Bend has also become a beer-lover's dream; it has more than a dozen breweries and per capita more than any other city in Oregon.

i Sights

★ High Desert Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 541-382-4754; www.highdesertmuseum.org; 59800 S US 97; adult/child 5-12yr May-Oct $15/9, Nov-Apr $12/7; ☀ 9am-5pm; ♿) Don't miss this excellent museum about 3 miles south of Bend on US 97. It charts the exploration and settlement of the West, using re-enactments of a Native American camp, a hard-rock mine and an old Western town. The region's natural history is also explored; kids love the live snake, tortoise and trout exhibits, and watching the birds of prey and otters is always fun.

Activities

Cycling

Bend is a mountain-biking paradise, with hundreds of miles of awesome bike trails to explore. For a good bike-trails map, get the Bend, Central Oregon Mountain Biking and XC Skiing map ($12), available at the Visit Bend tourist office and elsewhere.

The king of Bend's mountain-biking trails is Phil's Trail network, which offers a variety of excellent fast single-track forest trails just minutes from town. If you want to catch air, don't miss the Whoops Trail.

Cog Wild (www.cogwild.com; 255 SW Century Dr) offers bike rentals, along with organized tours and shuttles out to the best trailheads.

Rock Climbing

About 25 miles northeast of Bend lies Smith Rock State Park (☎800-551-6949; www.oregonstateparks.org; 9241 NE Crooked River Dr; day use $5), where 800ft cliffs over the Crooked River offer gorgeous lead and trad climbing. The park's 1800-plus routes are among the best in the nation. Guides can be procured through Smith Rock Climbing Guides Inc (www.smithrockclimbingguides.com).

Skiing

Bend hosts Oregon's best skiing 22 miles southwest of the town at the glorious Mount Bachelor Ski Resort (☎800-829-2442; www.mtbachelor.com; lift tickets adult/child 6-12yr/child 13-18yr $59/36/49), famous for its 'dry' powdery snow, long season (until late May) and ample terrain (it's the largest ski area in the Pacific Northwest). The mountain has long advocated cross-country skiing in tandem with downhill, and maintains 35 miles of groomed trails.

Sleeping

Mill Inn INN $
(☎877-748-1200, 541-389-9198; www.millinn.com; 642 NW Colorado Ave; dm $35, d incl breakfast $90-130; ) A 10-room boutique hotel with small, classy rooms decked out in velvet drapes and comforters; four share outside bathrooms. Full breakfast and hot tub use is included, and there's a nice back patio and basement recreation room. Budget travelers should go for the one (tight) dorm room.

★ McMenamins Old St Francis School HOTEL $$
(☎541-382-5174; www.mcmenamins.com; 700 NW Bond St; d $135-175, cottages $185-395; ) One of McMenamins' best venues, this old schoolhouse has been remodeled into a classy 19-room hotel. Two rooms have side-by-side clawfoot tubs, and the fabulous tiled saltwater Turkish bath is worth the stay alone, though nonguests can soak for $5. A restaurant-pub, three other bars, a cinema and creative artwork complete the picture.

★ Oxford Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
(☎877-440-8436; www.oxfordhotelbend.com; 10 NW Minnesota Ave; d $289-549;

Crux

BREWERY

(☎ 541-385-3333; www.cruxfermentation.com; 50 SW Division St; ☀ 11:30am-10pm Tue-Sun) Bend's latest brewpub darling, located in an industrial neighborhood (don't let the 'private road' signs put you off). It has an awesome casual atmosphere. Fermentation tanks behind glass windows house the unique, experimental beers. There's outdoor seating, it's family-friendly and has a good range of foods made with beer.

i Information

For local information, see the Visit Bend (☎ 800-949-6086; www.visitbend.com; 750 NW Lava Rd; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-4pm Sat) tourist office.

i Getting There & Away

Central Oregon Breeze (p1070) offers transport to Portland two or more times daily. Connect to Sisters, Willamette Valley destinations and the coast with Valley Retriever (p1070) and Porter Stage Lines (www.kokkola-bus.com/PSLSchedule.html).

High Desert Point (www.highdesert-point.com) buses link Bend with Chemult, where the nearest train station is located (65 miles south). High Desert Point also has bus services to Eugene, Ontario and Burns.

Cascades East Transit (www.cascadeseast-transit.com) is the regional bus company in Bend, covering La Pine, Mt Bachelor, Sisters, Prineville and Madras. It also provides bus transport within Bend.

Newberry National Volcanic Monument

Newberry National Volcanic Monument (day use $5) showcases 400,000 years of dramatic seismic activity. Start your visit at the Lava Lands Visitor Center (☎ 541-593-2421; 58201 S Hwy 97; ☀ 9am-5pm mid-June to Labor Day weekend, limited hours off-season), 13 miles south of Bend. Nearby attractions include Lava Butte, a perfect cone rising 500ft, and Lava River Cave, Oregon's longest lava tube. Four miles west of the visitor center is Benham Falls, a good picnic spot on the Deschutes River.

Newberry Crater was once one of the most active volcanoes in North America, but after a large eruption a caldera was born. Close by are Paulina Lake and East Lake, deep lakes rich with trout, while looming above is 7985ft Paulina Peak.

Crater Lake National Park

It's no exaggeration: Crater Lake is so blue, you'll catch your breath. And if you get to see it on a calm day, the surrounding cliffs are reflected in those deep waters like a mirror. It's a stunningly beautiful sight. Crater Lake is Oregon's only national park (entry costs $10 per vehicle).

The secret lies in the water's purity. No rivers or streams feed the lake, meaning its content is made up entirely of rain and melted snow. It is also exceptionally deep – at 1949ft, it's the deepest lake in the US. The classic tour is the 33-mile rim drive (open from approximately June to mid-October), but there are also exceptional hiking and cross-country skiing opportunities. Note that because the area receives some of the highest snowfalls in North America, the rim drive and north entrance are sometimes closed up until early July.

You can stay from late May to mid-October at the Cabins at Mazama Village (☎ 541-830-8700; www.craterlakelodges.com; d $140; ☀) or the majestic and historic Crater Lake Lodge (☎ 888-774-2728; www.craterlakelodges.com; d $165-292; ☀☀), opened in 1915. Campers head to Mazama Campground (☎ 888-774-2728; www.craterlakelodges.com; tent/RV sites from $21/29; ☀☀).

For more information, head to Steel Visitor Center (☎ 541-594-3100; ☀ 9am-5pm May-Oct, 10am-4pm Nov-Apr).

Southern Oregon

With a warm and sunny climate that belongs in nearby California, southern Oregon is the state's banana belt. Rugged landscapes, scenic rivers and a couple of attractive towns top the highlights list.

Ashland

Oregon was unknown territory to the Elizabethan explorers of William Shakespeare's day, so it might seem a little strange to find that the pretty settlement of Ashland in southern Oregon has established itself as the English playwright's second home. The irony probably wouldn't have been lost on Shakespeare himself. 'All the world's a stage,' the great Bard once opined, and fittingly people come from all over to see Ashland's famous Shakespeare Festival, which has been held here under various guises since

OREGON SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

One of southern Oregon's highlights is Ashland's wildly popular Oregon Shakespeare Festival (OSF). Despite being deeply rooted in Shakespearean and Elizabethan drama, the festival also features plenty of revivals and contemporary theater from around the world.

Productions run from February to October in three theaters near Main and Pioneer Sts: the outdoor Elizabethan Theatre (open from June to October), the Angus Bowmer Theatre and the intimate Thomas Theatre. Children under six are not allowed. There are no performances on Mondays.

Performances sell out quickly; obtain tickets at www.osfashland.org. The box office (☎ 541-482-4331; 15 S Pioneer St; tickets $25-95) also has last minute tickets. Be sure to book backstage tours (adult/child 6-17yr $15/11) well in advance.

Check the OSF Welcome Center (76 N Main St; ☎ 10am-6pm Tue-Sun) for other events, which may include scholarly lectures, play readings, concerts and preshow talks.

the 1930s. The 'festival' moniker is misleading; the shows here are a semipermanent fixture occupying nine months of the annual town calendar and attracting up to 400,000 theater-goers per season.

Even without the shows, Ashland is an attractive town, propped up by various wineries, upscale B&Bs and fine restaurants.

👁️ Sights & Activities

Lithia Park PARK
(59 Winburn Way) Adjacent to Ashland's three splendid theaters (one of which is outdoors) lies one of the loveliest city parks in Oregon, whose 93 acres wind along Ashland Creek above the center of town. Unusually, the park is in the National Register of Historic Places and is embellished with fountains, flowers, gazebos and an ice-skating rink (winter only).

Schneider Museum of Art MUSEUM
(☎ 541-552-6245; www.sou.edu/sma; 1250 Siskiyou Blvd; suggested donation $5; ☎ 10am-4pm Mon-Sat) Like all good Oregonian art museums, this one's on the local university campus and displays a fine collection of paintings, sculptures and artifacts.

Jackson Wellsprings SPA
(☎ 541-482-3776; www.jacksonwellsprings.com; 2253 Hwy 99; ☎ 8am-midnight, shorter hours winter) For a good soak, try this casual New Age-style place, which maintains an 85°F (29°C) mineral-fed swimming pool and 103°F (39°C) private soaking tubs. It's about a mile north of town.

Mt Ashland Ski Resort SKI RESORT
(☎ 541-482-2897; www.mtashland.com; lift pass adult/child 7-12yr $43/33) Powdery snow is surprisingly abundant at this resort 18 miles southwest of Ashland on Mt Ashland (7533ft), which has some excellent advanced terrain.

Siskiyou Cyclery BICYCLE RENTAL
(☎ 541-482-1997; www.siskiyoucyclery.com; 1729 Siskiyou Blvd; ☎ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, 11am-4pm Sun) Pedal-pushers can rent a bike here and explore the countryside on the semi-completed Bear Creek Greenway, a 21-mile bike path between Ashland and the town of Central Point.

🛏️ Sleeping

Reserve ahead in summer when the thespians descend in droves.

Manor Motel MOTEL $
(☎ 541-482-2246; www.manormotel.net; 476 N Main St; d $87-129; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) Cute motel with 12 pleasant rooms and one- and two-bedroom units near downtown; kitchenettes available. The Garden Suite has its own private garden.

Ashland Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎ 541-482-9217; www.theashlandhostel.com; 150 N Main St; dm $28, d $45-94; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) Central and somewhat upscale hostel (shoes-off inside!). Most private rooms share bathrooms; some are connected to dorms. Hangout spaces include the cozy basement living room and shady front porch. No alcohol or smoking on premises; call ahead as reception times are limited.

Ashland Commons APARTMENTS, HOSTEL $
(☎ 541-482-6753; www.ashlandcommons.com; 437 Williamson Way; dm $26, s $45-65, d $60-80; ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎ ☎) Interesting dorm or private-room accommodations, provided within three large apartments. All vary in atmosphere, and are either two- or four-bedroom, with kitchen and living areas. Great for large groups, as entire apartments can be rented.

The Palm

BOUQUETTE HOTEL $$$
(☎ 541-482-2636; www.palmcottages.com; 1065 Siskiyou Blvd; d $98-239; ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹) Fabulous small motel remodeled into 16 charming garden cottage rooms and suites (some with kitchens). It's an oasis of green on a busy avenue, complete with grassy lawns and a saltwater pool. A house harbors three large suites ($299).

Columbia Hotel

HOTEL $$$
(☎ 541-482-3726; www.columbiahotel.com; 262 1/2 E Main St; d $89-179; ☹ ☹ ☹) Awesomely located 'European-style' hotel - which means most rooms share outside bathrooms. It's the best deal in downtown Ashland, with 24 quaint vintage rooms (no TVs), a nice lobby and a thick historic feel. The rooms are on the 2nd floor and there's no elevator.

Eating & Drinking

There are plenty of great eating choices in Ashland, which levies a 5% restaurant tax. Dinner reservations in summer are a good idea at the fancier spots.

★ Morning Glory

CAFE $
(☎ 541-488-8636; www.morninggloryrestaurant.com; 1149 Siskiyou Blvd; mains $11-13; ☺ 8am-1:30pm) This colorful, casual cafe is one of Ashland's best breakfast joints. Creative dishes include the Alaskan crab omelet, vegetarian hash with roasted chilis and shrimp cakes with poached eggs. For lunch there's gourmet salad and sandwiches. Go early or late to avoid a long wait.

Ashland Food Cooperative

SELF-CATERING $
(☎ 541-482-2237; www.ashlandfood.coop; 237 N 1st St; ☺ 7am-9pm) Head to this awesome food co-op if you've scored a kitchenette in your hotel room. All the typical healthy foods are available, and there's a small cafe-deli and to-go food bar.

★ New Sammy's Cowboy Bistro

FRENCH, AMERICAN $$$
(☎ 541-535-2779; 2210 S Pacific Hwy, Talent; mains $25-28, prix fixe $45; ☺ noon-1:30 & 5-9pm Wed-Sun) ☹ One of Oregon's best restaurants has only a handful of tables and a spectacular wine selection. Mains are few but the flavor combinations can be incredible; many vegetables come from the garden outside. Located in Talent, about 2 miles north of Ashland. Reserve a week in advance for dinner.

Caldera Tap House

BREW PUB
(☎ 541-482-4677; www.calderabrewing.com; 31 Water St; ☺ 2pm-close) Popular, casual brewpub with outdoor decks under a street overpass. Typical pub grub accompanied by award-winning ales and lagers; live music two to three times per week. Also has a fancier restaurant at 590 Clover St.

i Information

For information, visit the Chamber of Commerce (☎ 541-482-3486; www.ashlandchamber.com; 110 E Main St; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Fri).

Jacksonville

This small but endearing former gold-prospecting town is the oldest settlement in southern Oregon and a National Historic Landmark. The main drag is lined with well-preserved buildings dating from the 1880s, now converted into boutiques and galleries. Music-lovers shouldn't miss the September Britt Festival (www.brittfest.org; ☺ Jun-Sep), a world-class musical experience with top-name performers. Seek more enlightenment at the Chamber of Commerce (☎ 541-899-8118; www.jacksonvilleor.gov; 185 N Oregon St; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Fri, till 3pm Sat & Sun).

Jacksonville is full of fancy B&Bs; for budget motels head 6 miles east to Medford. The Jacksonville Inn (☎ 541-899-1900; www.jacksonvilleinn.com; 175 E California St; d $159-199; ☹ ☹ ☹ ☹) is the most pleasant abode, shoe-horned downtown in an 1863 building with regal antique-stuffed rooms. There's a fine restaurant on-site.

Wild Rogue Wilderness

Situated between the town of Grants Pass on I-5 and Gold Beach on the Oregon coast, the aptly named Wild Rogue Wilderness is anchored by the turbulent Rogue River, which cuts through 40 miles of untamed, roadless canyon. The area is known for challenging white-water rafting (classes III and IV) and long-distance hikes.

The humble city of Grants Pass is the gateway to adventures along the Rogue. For information, the chamber of commerce (☎ 541-450-6180; www.visitgrantspass.org; 1995 NW Vine St; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri) is right off I-5, exit 58. For raft permits and backpacking advice, contact the Bureau of Land Management's Smullin Visitors Center (☎ 541-479-3735; www.blm.gov/or/resources/recreation/rogue; 14335 Galice Rd, Galice; ☺ 7am-3pm) in Galice, 16 miles northwest of Grants Pass.

Rafting the Rogue is legendary, but not for the faint of heart; a typical trip takes three days and costs upward of $780. A good outfitter is Rogue Wilderness Adventures (☎ 800-336-1647; www.wildrogue.com; 325 Galice Rd, Merlin). Kayaking the river is equally exhilarating; for instruction and guidance, contact Sundance Kayak (☎ 541-386-1725; www.sundancekayak.com).

Another highlight of the region is the 42-mile Rogue River Trail, once a supply route from Gold Beach. The full trek takes four to five days; day hikers might aim for Whiskey Creek Cabin, a 6-mile round-trip from the Grave Creek trailhead. The trail is dotted with rustic lodges ($110 to $160 per person including meals; reservations required) – try Black Bar (☎ 541-479-6507; www.blackbarlodge.com; Merlin). There are also primitive campgrounds along the way.

North Umpqua River

This 'Wild and Scenic' river boasts world-class fly-fishing, fine hiking and serene camping. The 79-mile North Umpqua Trail begins near Idleyld Park, three miles east of Glide, and passes through Steamboat en route to the Pacific Crest Trail. A popular sideline is pretty Umpqua Hot Springs, east of Steamboat near Toketee Lake. Not far away, stunning, two-tiered Toketee Falls (113ft) flows over columnar basalt, while Watson Falls (272ft) is one of the highest waterfalls in Oregon. For information, stop by Glide's Colliding Rivers Information Center (☎ 541-496-0157; 18782 N Umpqua Hwy, Glide; ☺ 9am-5pm May-Sep). Adjacent is the North Umpqua Ranger District (☎ 541-496-3532; 18782 N Umpqua Hwy; ☺ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri).

Between Idleyld Park and Diamond Lake are dozens of riverside campgrounds; these include lovely Susan Creek and primitive Boulder Flat (no water). Area accommodations fill up quickly in summer; try the log-cabin-like rooms at Dogwood Motel (☎ 541-496-3403; www.dogwoodmotel.com; 28866 N Umpqua Hwy; d $70-75; ☺ ☎ ☎ ☎).

Oregon Caves National Monument

This very popular cave (there's only one) lies 19 miles east of Cave Junction on Hwy 46. Three miles of passages are explored via 90-minute cave tours that include 520 rocky steps and dripping chambers running along the River Styx. Dress warmly, wear shoes with good traction and be prepared to get dripped on.

Cave Junction, 28 miles south of Grants Pass on US 199 (Redwood Hwy), provides the region's services – though the best area sleeps are at the Holiday Motel (☎ 541-592-3003; 24810 Redwood Hwy; d $68-78; ☺ ☎ ☎), two miles north in Kerby. For fancy lodgings right at the cave there's the impressive Oregon Caves Chateau (☎ 541-592-3400; www.oregoncaveschateau.com; 20000 Caves Hwy; r $109-199; ☺ mid-May to late Sep; ☺); grab a milkshake at the old-fashioned soda fountain here. Campers should head to Cave Creek Campground (☎ 541-592-4000; campsites $10), 14 miles up Hwy 46, about 4 miles from the cave.

Eastern Oregon

Oregon east of the Cascades bears little resemblance to its wetter western cohort, either physically or culturally. Few people live here – the biggest town, Pendleton, numbers only 20,000 – and the region hoards high plateaus, painted hills, alkali lake beds and the country's deepest river gorge.

John Day Fossil Beds National Monument

Within the soft rocks and crumbly soils of John Day country lies one of the world's greatest fossil collections, laid down between six and 50 million years ago. Roaming the forests at the time were nimravids (false saber-toothed cats), pint-sized horses, bears and other early mammals.

The national monument includes 22 sq miles at three different units: Sheep Rock Unit, Painted Hills Unit and Clarno Unit. Each has hiking trails and interpretive displays. To visit all of the units in one day requires quite a bit of driving, as more than 100 slow miles of curvy roads separate the fossil beds – it's best to take it easy and spend the night somewhere.

Visit the excellent Thomas Condon Paleontology Center (☎ 541-987-2333; www.nps.gov/joda; 32651 Hwy 19, Kimberly; ☺ 10am-5pm, occasionally closed due to short staffing), 2 miles north of US 26 at the Sheep Rock Unit. Displays include a three-toed horse and petrified dung-beetle balls, along with many other fossils and geologic history exhibits. If you feel like walking, take the short hike up the Blue Basin Trail.

The Painted Hills Unit, near the town of Mitchell, consists of low-slung, colorfully banded hills formed about 30 million years ago. Ten million years older is the Clarno Unit, which exposes mud flows that washed over an Eocene-era forest and eroded into distinctive, sheer white cliffs topped with spires and turrets of stone.

Rafting is popular on the John Day River, the longest free-flowing river in the state. Oregon River Experiences (☎800-827-1358; www.oregonriver.com) offers trips of up to five days. There's also good fishing for small-mouth bass and rainbow trout; find out more at the Oregon Department of Fish & Wildlife (www.dfw.state.or.us).

Most towns in the area have at least one hotel; these include the atmospheric Historic Oregon Hotel (☎541-462-3027; 104 E Main St; dm $20, d $45-69; 🏠) in Mitchell and economical Dreamers Lodge (☎800-654-2849; 144 N Canyon Blvd; d from $63; 🏠 🍷 🍷) in the town of John Day (which has most of the area's services). There are several public campgrounds in the area, including Lone Pine and Big Bend (camp sites $5) on Hwy 402.

Wallowa Mountains Area

The Wallowa Mountains, with their glacier-hewn peaks and crystalline lakes, are among the most beautiful natural areas in Oregon. The only drawback is the large number of visitors who flock here in summer, especially to the pretty Wallowa Lake area. Escape them all on one of several long hikes into the nearby Eagle Cap Wilderness area, such as the 6-mile one-way jaunt to Aneroid Lake or the 8-mile trek on the Ice Lake Trail.

Just north of the mountains, in the Wallowa Valley, Enterprise is a homely back-country town with several motels such as the Ponderosa (☎541-426-3186; 102 E Greenwood St; d $70-80; 🍷 🍷 🍷). If you like beer and good food, don't miss the town's microbrewery, Terminal Gravity Brewing (☎541-426-3000; www.terminalgravitybrewing.com; 803 SE School St; mains $9-12; ☺ 11am-9pm Sun-Tue, till 10pm Wed-Sat). Just 6 miles south is Enterprise's fancy cousin, the upscale town of Joseph. Expensive bronze galleries and artsy boutiques line the main strip, along with some good eateries.

Hells Canyon

North America's deepest river gorge (yes – even deeper than the Grand Canyon when measured from the highest mountain peak) provides visitors with some wild and scenic vistas. The mighty Snake River has taken 13 million years to carve its path through the high plateaus of eastern Oregon to its present depth of 8000ft. The canyon itself is a true wilderness bereft of roads but open to the curious and the brave.

For perspective, drive 30 miles northeast from Joseph to Imnaha, where a slow-going 24-mile gravel road leads up to the excellent lookout at Hat Point. From here you can see the Wallowa Mountains, Idaho's Seven Devils, the Imnaha River and the wilds of the canyon itself. This road is open from late May until snowfall; give yourself two hours each way for the drive.

For white-water action and spectacular scenery, head down to Hells Canyon Dam, 25 miles north of the small community of Oxbow. A few miles past the dam, the road ends at the Hells Canyon Visitor Center (☎541-785-3395; ☺ 8am-4pm May-Sep), which has good advice on the area's campgrounds and hiking trails. Beyond here, the Snake River drops 1300ft in elevation through wild rapids accessible only by jet boat or raft. Hells Canyon Adventures (☎800-422-3568; www.hellscanyonadventures.com) is the main operator running raft trips and jet-boat tours from May through September (reservations required).

The area has many campgrounds. Just outside Imnaha is the huntsman-style Imnaha River Inn (☎866-601-9214; www.imnahariverinn.com; 73946 Rimrock Rd; s/d from $70/130), a B&B replete with Hemingway-esque animal trophies, while Oxbow has the good-value Hells Canyon B&B (☎541-785-3373; www.hccb.us; 49922 Homestead Rd; d $80; 🍷 🍷 🍷). For more services, head to the towns of Enterprise, Joseph and Halfway.

Steens Mountain & Alvord Desert

The highest peak in southeastern Oregon, Steens Mountain (9773ft) is part of a massive, 30-mile-long fault-block range that was formed about 15 million years ago. On the western slope of the range, Ice Age glaciers bulldozed trenches that formed massive U-shaped gorges and hanging valleys. To the east, 'the Steens' – as the range is usually referred to as – drop off to the Alvord Desert, 5000ft below.

Beginning in Frenchglen (population 12), the gravel 56-mile Steens Mountain Loop Rd is Oregon's highest road and offers the range's best sights with its awesome overlooks, and also has access to camping and hiking trails. You'll see sagebrush, bands of junipers and aspen forests, and finally fragile rocky tundra at the top. Kiger Gorge viewpoint is especially stunning; it's 25 miles up from Frenchglen. It takes about two hours all the way around if you're just driving through, but you'll want to see the sights so give yourself much more time. You can also see the eastern side of the Steens via the Fields-Denio road, which goes through the Alvord Desert between Hwys 205 and 78. Take a full tank of gas and plenty of water, and be prepared for weather changes at any time of year.

Frenchglen has the charming Frenchglen Hotel (☎541-493-2825; fghotel@yahoo.com; 39184 Hwy 205, Frenchglen; d $75-115; ☺mid-Mar-Oct; ☹☹☹), with its small dining room (reserve for dinners), a small store with seasonal gas pump and not much else. There are camping options on the Steens Mountain Loop Rd, such as the BLM's pretty Page Springs, open year-round. A few other campgrounds (sites $6 to $8), further into the loop, are very pleasant but accessible in summer only. Water is available at all of these campgrounds. Free backcountry camping is also allowed in the Steens.

Oregon Coast

Thanks to a farsighted government in the 1910s, Oregon's 363-mile Pacific Coast was set aside as public land. This magnificent littoral is paralleled by US 101, a scenic highway that winds its way through towns, resorts, state parks (more than 70 of them) and wilderness areas. Everyone from campers to gourmet-lovers will find a plethora of ways to enjoy this exceptional region.

Astoria

Astoria sits at the 5-mile-wide mouth of the Columbia River and was the first US settlement west of the Mississippi. The city has a long seafaring history and has seen its old harbor, once home to poor artists and writers, attract fancy hotels and restaurants in recent years. Inland are many historical houses, including lovingly restored Victorians – a few converted into romantic B&Bs.

Sights

Adding to the city's scenery is the 4.1-mile Astoria-Megler Bridge, the longest continuous truss bridge in North America, which crosses the Columbia River into Washington State. See it from the Astoria Riverwalk, which follows the trolley route. Pier 39 is an interesting covered wharf with an informal cannery museum and a couple places to eat.

★ Columbia River Maritime Museum

MUSEUM

(☎503-325-2323; www.crrmm.org; 1792 Marine Dr; adult/child 6-17yr $12/5; ☺9:30am-5pm) Astoria's seafaring heritage is well interpreted at this wave-shaped museum. It's hard to miss the Coast Guard boat, frozen in action, through the huge outside window. Other exhibits highlight the salmon-packing industry, local lighthouses and the river's commercial history; also check out the Columbia River Bar exhibit and 3-D theater.

Flavel House

HISTORIC BUILDING

(www.cumtux.org; 441 8th St; adult/child 6-17yr $5/4; ☺10am-5pm) The Queen Anne Flavel House was built by Captain George Flavel, one of Astoria's leading citizens during the 1880s.

Astoria Column

LANDMARK

(☎503-325-2963; www.astoriacolumn.org; Coxcomb Hill; parking $1) Rising high on Coxcomb Hill, the Astoria Column (1926) is a 125ft tower painted with scenes from the westward sweep of US exploration and settlement. The top of the column (up 164 steps) offers excellent views over the area.

Fort Stevens State Park

PARK

(☎503-861-1671; www.oregonstateparks.org; 100 Peter Iredale Rd, Hammond; day use $5) Ten miles west of Astoria, this park holds the historic military installation that guarded the mouth of the Columbia River. Near the Military Museum (☎503-861-2000; ☺10am-6pm May-Sep, to 4pm Oct-Apr) FREE are gun batteries dug into sand dunes – interesting remnants of the fort's mostly demolished military buildings. There's a popular beach at the small Peter Iredale 1906 shipwreck, plus camping and 12 miles of paved bike trails.

LEWIS & CLARK: JOURNEY'S END

In November 1805 William Clark and his fellow explorer Meriwether Lewis of the Corps of Discovery staggered, with three dozen others, into a sheltered cove on the Columbia River, 2 miles west of the present-day Astoria-Megler Bridge, completing what was indisputably the greatest overland trek in American history.

After the first truly democratic ballot in US history (in which a woman and a black slave both voted), the party elected to make their bivouac 5 miles south of Astoria at Fort Clatsop, where the Corps spent a miserable winter in 1805–06. Today this site is called the Lewis and Clark National & State Historical Parks (www.nps.gov/lewi), where you'll find a reconstructed Fort Clatsop, along with a visitor's center and historical reenactments in summer.

Sleeping & Eating

Norblad Hotel & Hostel HOTEL, HOSTEL $
(☎ 503-325-6989; www.norbladhotel.com; 443 14th St; dm $30, d $59-89; 🚻🚿📺) This central option offers six simple but elegant private rooms, most with shared bathroom and one with en-suite ($74). There are also several dorm rooms and a communal kitchen. Some have flat-screen TVs and glimpses of the river.

★ Commodore Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎ 503-325-4747; www.commodoreastoria.com; 258 14th St; d with shared/private bath from $89/149; 🚻🚿) Hip travelers should beeline to this slick and trendy hotel, which offers small, chic, minimalist rooms. Choose either private bathrooms or go euro-style (sinks in rooms but baths down the hall; 'deluxe' rooms have better views). Great living room-style lobby with attached cafe. Room 309 has the best river view.

Blue Scorcher Bakery Café CAFE $
(☎ 503-338-7473; www.bluescorcher.com; 1493 Duane St; mains $7-13; ☺ 8am-5pm; 🍳🍞🥞) Artsy, organic co-op coffeehouse and bakery. Tasty salads, sandwiches, pizza and egg dishes for breakfast. Vegetarian and vegan friendly; doughnut-free.

Fort George Brewery BREWPUB $$
(☎ 503-325-7468; www.fortgeorgebrewery.com; 1483 Duane St; mains $9-14; ☺ 11am-11pm Mon-Thu, till midnight Fri & Sat, noon-11pm Sun) Atmospheric brewery-restaurant in a historic building – this was the original settlement site of Astoria. Today you can get gourmet burgers, homemade sausages, organic salads and a few eclectic dishes. Afternoon brewery tours on weekends.

Information

Find local information head to the visitor center (www.olderogon.com; 111 W Marine Dr; ☺ 9am-5pm).

Getting There & Away

Twice-daily Northwest Point (☎ 503-484-4100; www.northwest-point.com) buses head to Seaside, Cannon Beach and Portland. Sunset Empire Transit (☎ 503-861-7433; www.ridethebus.org; 900 Marine Dr) provides local transport; buses also head to Warrenton, Cannon Beach and Seaside.

Cannon Beach

Charming Cannon Beach is one of the most popular and upscale beach resorts on the Oregon coast. The streets are full of boutiques and art galleries, and lined with colorful flowers. Lodging is expensive, and the streets are jammed; on a warm sunny Saturday, you'll spend a good chunk of time just finding a parking spot.

Sights & Activities

Photogenic Haystack Rock, a 295ft sea stack, is the most spectacular landmark on the Oregon coast and accessible from the beach at low tide. Birds cling to its ballast cliffs and tide pools ring its base.

The coast to the north, protected inside Ecola State Park (☎ 503-436-2844; day use $5), is the Oregon you may have already visited in your dreams: sea stacks, crashing surf, hidden beaches and gorgeous pristine forest. The park is 1.5 miles from town and is crisscrossed by paths, including part of the Oregon Coast Trail, which leads over Tillamook Head to the town of Seaside.

The Cannon Beach area is good for surfing, though not the beach itself. The best spots are Indian Beach in Ecola State Park, 3 miles to the north, and Oswald West State Park, 10 miles south. Cleanline Surf Shop (www.cleanlinesurf.com; 171 Sunset Blvd) is a friendly local shop that rents out boards and mandatory wetsuits.

Sleeping & Eating

Cannon Beach Hotel HISTORIC HOTEL $$
 (☎) 503-436-1392; www.cannonbeachhotellodgings.com; 1116 S Hemlock St; d incl breakfast $139-269; (♿) A classy, centrally located hotel with just 10 rooms. Standards are lovely but very small; even the regular suites are tight. A good breakfast at the cafe on the premises is included.

Blue Gull Inn Motel MOTEL $$
 (☎) 800-507-2714; www.haystacklodgings.com; 487 S Hemlock St; d $119-219; (♿) Some of the more affordable rooms in town, with comfortable atmosphere and toned-down decor. Kitchenette and Jacuzzi units available. Run by Haystack Lodgings.

Sleepy Monk Coffee CAFE $
 (☎) 503-436-2796; www.sleepymonkcoffee.com; 1235 S Hemlock St; ☺ 8am-2pm Mon & Tue, till 4pm Fri-Sun) ☕ For organic, certified fair-trade coffee, try this little coffee shop on the main street. It also runs the Irish Table, an excellent restaurant in the same building.

★ Newman's at 988 FRENCH, ITALIAN $$$ (☎) 503-436-1151; www.newmansat988.com; 988 S Hemlock St; mains $22-36; ☺ 5:30-9pm daily Jul 1-Oct 15, Tue-Sun Oct 16-Jun 30) Small but quality restaurant on the main drag. Award-winning chef John Newman comes up with a fusion of French and Italian dishes. Desserts are sublime.

Information

For information try the Chamber of Commerce (☎) 503-436-2623; www.cannonbeach.org; 207 N Spruce St; ☺ 10am-5pm).

Getting There & Away

Northwest Point (www.northwest-point.com) buses head from Astoria to Portland (and vice versa) every morning, stopping at Cannon Beach; buy tickets at the Beach Store, next to Cannon Beach Surf.

The Cannon Beach Shuttle (☎) 503-861-7433; www.ridethebus.org), also known as 'The Bus,' runs the length of Hemlock St to the end of Tolovana Beach; the schedule varies seasonally. Both buses go to Seaside and Astoria, too.

The Wave buses (www.tillamookbus.com) go south towards Manzanita and Lincoln City several times daily.

Newport

Home to Oregon's largest commercial fishing fleet, Newport is a lively tourist city with several fine beaches and a world-class aquarium. In 2011 it became the host of NOAA, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. Good restaurants – along with some tacky attractions, gift shops

WORTH A TRIP

SCENIC DRIVE: THREE CAPES

Cape Meares, Cape Lookout and Cape Kiwanda, about halfway between Cannon Beach and Newport, are some of the coast's most stunning headlands, strung together on a slow, winding and sometimes bumpy 40-mile alternative to US 101. It's a worthwhile drive, though in March 2013 a section of road north of Cape Meares began sinking and was closed. Repairs are ongoing, so you might have to drive to Cape Meares via Netarts and Oceanside, then backtrack.

The forested headland at Cape Meares offers good views from its lighthouse, which is 38ft tall (Oregon's shortest). Short trails lead to Oregon's largest Sitka spruce and the 'Octopus Tree,' another Sitka shaped like a candelabra.

A panoramic vista atop sheer cliffs that rise 800ft above the Pacific makes Cape Lookout State Park a highlight. In winter, the end of the cape, which juts out nearly a mile, is thronged with whale-watchers. There are wide sandy beaches, hiking trails and a popular campground near the water.

Finally there's Cape Kiwanda, a sandstone bluff that rises just north of the little town of Pacific City. You can hike up tall dunes, or drive your truck onto the beach. It's the most developed of the three capes, with plenty of services nearby. Don't miss Pelican Brewpub (Cape Kiwanda; mains $12-32; ☺ 8am-10pm Sun-Thu, till 11pm Sat & Sun) if you like beer. Watch the dory fleet launch their craft or, after a day's fishing, land as far up the beach as possible.

and barking sea lions – abound in the historic bay-front area, while bohemian Nye Beach offers art galleries and a friendly village atmosphere. The area was first explored in the 1860s by fishing crews who found oyster beds at the upper end of Yaquina Bay.

The world-class Oregon Coast Aquarium (☎541-867-3474; www.aquarium.org; 2820 SE Ferry Slip Rd; adult/child 13-17yr/child 3-12yr $18.95/16.95/11.95; ☀9am-6pm; 🏠) is an unmissable attraction, featuring a sea-otter pool, surreal jellyfish tanks and Plexiglas tunnels through a shark tank. Nearby, the Hatfield Marine Science Center (☎541-867-0100; www.hmsc.oregonstate.edu; 2030 SE Marine Science Dr; ☀10am-5pm; 🏠) FREE is much smaller but still worthwhile. For awesome tide-pooling and views, don't miss the Yaquina Head Outstanding Area (☎541-574-3100; 750 NW Lighthouse Dr; admission $7; ☀sunrise-sunset, interpretive center 10am-6pm), site of the coast's tallest lighthouse and an interesting interpretive center.

Campers can head to large and popular South Beach State Park (☎541-867-4715; www.oregonstateparks.org; tent sites/RV sites/yurts $21/27/40; 🏠), two miles south on US 101. Book-lovers can stay at the Sylvia Beach Hotel (☎541-265-5428; www.sylvia-beachhotel.com; 267 NW Cliff St; d incl breakfast $115-220; 🍷), which has simple but comfy rooms, each named after a famous author; reservations are mandatory.

For great seafood, head to Local Ocean Seafoods (☎541-574-7959; www.localocean.net; 213 SE Bay Blvd; mains $11-23; ☀11am-8:30pm Sun-Thu, till 9pm Fri & Sat) 🍴 – it's especially great for lunch, when the glass walls open to the port area.

Get information at the chamber of commerce (☎541-265-8801; www.newportchamber.org; 555 SW Coast Hwy; ☀8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 10am-3pm Sat).

Yachats & Around

One of the Oregon coast's best-kept secrets is the neat and friendly little town of Yachats (ya-hots). People come here and to the small remote inns and B&Bs just south of town to get away from it all, which isn't hard to do along this relatively undeveloped coast.

Three miles to the south, lofty Cape Perpetua was first sighted by Captain Cook in 1778. Volcanic intrusions have formed a beautifully rugged shoreline, with dramatic features such as the Devil's Churn, where powerful waves crash through a 30ft inlet. For an easy hike, take the paved Captain Cook Trail (a 1.2 mile round trip) down to tide pools near Cooks Chasm, where at high tide the geyser-like spouting horn blasts water out of a sea cave. For information head to the Cape Perpetua Visitor Center (☎541-547-3289; www.fs.usda.gov/siuslaw; ☀10am-4pm daily Mar-May & Sept-Oct, till 5pm daily Jun-Aug, closed Tue Nov-Feb).

Fifteen miles to the south on US 101 is the almost-tourist trap but fun Sea Lion Caves (☎541-547-3111; www.sealioncaves.com; 91560 US 101; adult/child 6-12yr $14/8; ☀9am-6pm), a noisy grotto filled with roaring sea lions, accessed via an elevator.

Camp at Beachside State Park (☎800-551-6949; www.oregonstateparks.org; tent sites/RV sites/yurts $21/26/40; 🏠), five miles north of Yachats on US 101. The Ya'Tel Motel (☎541-547-3225; www.yatelmotel.com; cnr US 101 & 6th St; d $64-84; 🍷🍷🍷) is a good, inexpensive place to sleep, and for snacks there's the Green Salmon Coffee House (☎541-547-4409; www.thegreensalmon.com; 220 US 101; mains $7-11; ☀7:30am-2pm; 🍴).

Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area

Stretching for 50 miles between Florence and Coos Bay, the Oregon Dunes form the largest expanse of coastal dunes in the USA. They tower up to 500ft and undulate inland as far as three miles to meet coastal forests, harboring curious ecosystems that sustain an abundance of wildlife. Hiking trails, bridle paths, and boating and swimming areas are available, but avoid the stretch south of Reedsport as noisy dune buggies dominate. For tourist info, head to the Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area's headquarters (☎541-271-3495; www.fs.usda.gov/siuslaw; 855 Highway Ave; ☀8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun) in Reedsport.

State parks with camping include popular Jessie M Honeyman (☎800-452-5687, 541-997-3641; www.oregonstateparks.org; 84505 US 101 S; tent sites/RV sites/yurts $21/26/39; 🏠), 3 miles south of Florence, and pleasant Umpqua Lighthouse (☎800-452-5687, 541-271-4118; www.oregonstateparks.org; 460 Lighthouse Rd; tent sites/RV sites/yurts/cabins/deluxe yurts $19/24/36/39/76; 🏠), 4 miles south of Reedsport. There's plenty of other camping in the area, too.

---

Port Orford

Occupying a rare natural harbor and guarding plenty of spectacular views, the scenic hamlet of Port Orford sits on a headland wedged between two magnificent state parks. Cape Blanco State Park, nine miles to the north, is the second most-westerly point in continental USA, and the promontory is often lashed by fierce 100mph winds. As well as hiking, visitors can tour the Cape Blanco Lighthouse (☎ 541-332-2207; www.oregonstateparks.org; US 101; admission $2; ☀ 10am-3:30pm Wed-Mon) built in 1870; it's the oldest and highest operational lighthouse in Oregon.

Six miles south of Port Orford, in Humbug Mountain State Park, mountains and sea meet in aqueous disharmony with plenty of angry surf. You can climb the 1750ft peak on a 3-mile trail through old-growth cedar groves.

For an affordable stay try Castaway-by-the-Sea Motel (☎ 541-332-4502; www.castawaybythesea.com; 545 W 5th St; d $85-145; ☹ @ ☎ ☑). Food in this fishing village means a visit to slick Redfish (☎ 541-336-2200; www.redfishportorford.com; 517 Jefferson St; mains $21-29; ☀ 11am-9pm Mon-Fri, 9am-9pm Sat & Sun) 🍴 for the freshest seafood in town.

Alaska

Includes →

Ketchikan .....	1086
Wrangell.....	1087
Petersburg.....	1088
Sitka.....	1088
Juneau.....	1090
Haines.....	1092
Skagway .....	1094
Anchorage.....	1095

Best Places to Eat

- ➔ Snow City Café (p1097)
- ➔ Ludvig's Bistro (p1089)
- ➔ Tracy's King Crab Shack (p1091)
- ➔ Coastal Cold Storage (p1088)
- ➔ Sack's Café (p1098)

Best Places to Stay

- ➔ Copper Whale Inn (p1097)
- ➔ Black Bear Inn (p1086)
- ➔ Juneau International Hostel (p1091)
- ➔ Beach Roadhouse (p1093)
- ➔ Alaskan Sojourn Hostel (p1094)

Why Go?

Big, beautiful and wildly bountiful. Far away, rurally isolated and very expensive. Alaska is a traveler's dilemma.

There are few places in the world with such grandeur and breathtaking beauty. Mt McKinley, the highest peak in North America, is a stunning sight when you catch its alpenglow in Wonder Lake. Forty bald eagles perched on a single tree is something seen in Haines, not Iowa.

Alaska is also a remote and costly destination for anybody tripping through the rest of the country, a place where accommodations are expensive and transportation options meager. But, from the Northwest, a slice of Alaska can be an affordable side trip, whether it's a few days cruising Southeast Alaska on the state ferry or a 2½-hour flight to Anchorage for the weekend. Once there you'll marvel at the grandeur of the land and begin plotting your ultimate adventure, a summer in Alaska. This chapter focuses on Southeast Alaska and Anchorage.

When to Go

Anchorage

Jun Enjoy summer solstice festivals and 20-hour days. Stay up and play outdoors.

Jul Salmon runs, with millions of spawning fish choking streams, hit their peak.

Late Sep The mystical northern lights begin to appear in the night skies.

Alaska Highlights

- 1 Zip-lining down to a stream full of bears feasting on salmon in Ketchikan (p.1086).
- 2 Uncovering Russia's history in Alaska at Sitka National Historical Park (p.1089).
- 3 Hiking alongside Alaska's most popular river of ice, Mendenhall Glacier (p.1090).
- 4 Kayaking with seals at Glacier Bay National Park & Preserve (p.1091).
- 5 Following the Klondike stampedes of 1898, hiking the Chilkoot Trail (p.1094).
- 6 Exploring Alaska's history and culture at the Anchorage Museum (p.1095).

History

Indigenous Alaskans – Athabascans, Aleuts and Inuit, and the coastal tribes Tlingits and Haidas – migrated over the Bering Strait land bridge 20,000 years ago. In the 18th century waves of Europeans arrived: first British and French explorers, then Russian whalers and fur traders, naming land formations, taking other pelts and leaving the cultures of the Alaska Native peoples in disarray.

With the Russians' finances badly over-extended by the Napoleonic Wars, US Secretary of State William H Seward was able to purchase the territory from them for $7.2 million – less than 2¢ an acre – in 1867. There was uproar over 'Seward's Folly,' but the land's riches soon revealed themselves: whales initially, then salmon, gold and finally oil.

After Japan bombed and occupied the Aleutian Islands in WWII, the military built the famous Alcan (Alaska–Canada) Hwy, which connected the territory with the rest of the USA. The 1520-mile Alcan contributed greatly to postwar Alaska becoming a state in 1959. The Good Friday earthquake in 1964 left Alaska in a shambles, but recovery was boosted when oil was discovered under Prudhoe Bay, resulting in the construction of a 789-mile pipeline to Valdez.

In 2006 Sarah Palin, a former mayor of Wasilla, stunned the political world by beating the incumbent governor to become Alaska's first female governor as well as its youngest at age 42. Two years later presidential candidate John McCain named her as his running mate on the Republican ticket. Even though they lost and Palin resigned as governor later that year, she offers political commentary to Fox News and is active in conservative politics.

Land & Climate

Simply put, Alaska is huge. Or, as residents love to point out: if Alaska was divided in half, each half would rank as the top two largest states in the country, dropping Texas to third. At latitudes spanning the Arctic Circle, the main body of Alaska is about 800 sq miles, with the arc of the Aleutian Islands chain stretching some 1600 miles south and west, and a 'panhandle' strip running 600 miles southeast down the North American coast.

The coastal regions, such as Southeast and Prince William Sound, have lush coniferous forests, while the Interior is dominated by boreal forest of white spruce, cottonwood and birch. Further north is a taiga zone – a moist, subarctic forest characterized by muskeg, willow thickets and stunted spruce – then the treeless Arctic tundra, with grass, mosses and a variety of tiny flowers thriving briefly in summer.

Alaska's size is the reason for its extremely variable climate. The Interior can top 90°F (32°C) during the summer, while the Southeast and Southcentral maritime regions will average 55°F (13°C) to 70°F (21°C). In the Southeast it rains almost daily from late September through October, while in June you'll experience the longest days of the year. In Anchorage that means 19 hours of sunshine, while in Barrow the sun never sets at all.

The peak tourist season runs from early July to mid-August, when the best-known parks are packed and it's essential to make reservations for ferries and accommodations. In May and September you'll still find mild weather, but fewer crowds and lower prices.

ALASKA FACTS

Nickname Final Frontier

Population 731,449

Area 586,400 sq miles

Capital City Juneau (population 32,556)

Other cites Anchorage (population 291,826), Fairbanks (population 32,213), Ketchikan (population 8250), Kodiak (population 6457)

Sales tax No state sales tax

Birthplace of Singer and poet Jewel (b 1974), cartoonist Virgil F Partch (1916–84)

Home of Iditarod Sled Dog Race, tallest mountain in North America, Sarah Palin

Politics Red state

Famous for Giant veggies, including a 127lb cabbage grown in 2010, and giant king crab

Best souvenir Moose nugget earrings

Driving distances Anchorage to Fairbanks 586 miles, Anchorage to Denali National Park 425 miles

Parks & Activities

Alaska has room to play outdoors and plenty of parks to do it in. Travelers come here for the mountains, the trails, the wildlife, the camping – the adventure. Hiking trails are boundless and are the best way to escape the summer crowds in places like Juneau and the Kenai Peninsula. Mountain biking is allowed on many trails, and bikes can be rented throughout the state. You can also rent kayaks throughout the Southeast, where paddlers enjoy sea kayaking in protective fjords, often within view of glaciers. Other popular outdoor activities are rafting, bear- and whale-watching, fishing, ziplining and just pulling over on the road and admiring the scenery.

The best places to play and see wildlife are Alaska's many parks and preserves. Within the state, the National Park Service administers 54 million acres as national parks, preserves and monuments. The most popular national parks are Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park (p1094) in Skagway, Denali National Park & Preserve (p1099) in the Interior and Kenai Fjords National Park (☎907-224-2125; www.nps.gov/kefj) near Seward. Tongass National Forest (☎907-586-8800; www.fs.fed.us/r10/tongass) covers most of Southeast while Chugach State Park (☎907-345-5014; dnr.alaska.gov/parks/units/chugach), on the edge of Anchorage, is the country's third-largest state park at 773 sq miles.

Information

The Alaska Travel Industry Association (www.travelalaska.com) is the official tourism marketing arm for the state and publishes a vacation planner with listings of B&Bs, motels, tours and more. An excellent source for tour companies and outfitters committed to responsible tourism is Alaska Wilderness Recreation and Tourism Association (☎907-258-3171; www.visitwild-alaska.com).

The best place for information on national parks, state parks and all public-land agencies, along with their cabin-rental programs, is one of the four Alaska Public Lands Information Centers (APLICs) scattered around the state. Anchorage has the largest APLIC (☎907-644-3661; www.alaskacenters.gov) and the Southeast Alaska Discovery Center (p1087) in Ketchikan is another.

Note that Alaska's smoking laws vary by town and borough; don't assume that all bars and restaurants are smoke-free. For example, Anchorage is but Skagway is not. In towns that do not enforce a smoking ban, it is up to individual business owners whether their premises are smoke-free or not.

Getting There & Around

AIR

The vast majority of visitors to Alaska fly into Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (ANC; www.dot.state.ak.us/anc; ✈). Several budget airlines debuted flights in 2013, including JetBlue (☎1-800-538-2583; www.jetblue.com), which lowered prices considerably.

Alaska Airlines (☎800-252-7522; www.alaskaair.com) Has direct flights to Anchorage from Seattle, Chicago, Los Angeles and Denver. It also flies between many towns within Alaska, including daily northbound and southbound flights year-round through Southeast Alaska, with stops at all main towns including Ketchikan and Juneau.

Continental (☎800-525-0280; www.continental.com) Flies nonstop from Houston, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco.

Delta (☎800-221-1212; www.delta.com) Direct flights from Minneapolis, Phoenix and Salt Lake City.

BOAT

The Alaska Marine Highway (AMHS; ☎800-642-0066; www.ferryalaska.com) ferries connect Bellingham, WA, with 14 towns in Southeast Alaska. The complete trip (Bellingham–Haines, $353, 3½ days) stops at ports along the way and should be scheduled in advance. Trips within the Inside Passage, weaving through the islands of Alaska's panhandle, include Ketchikan–Petersburg ($60, 11 hours), Sitka–Juneau ($45, five hours) and Juneau–Haines ($37, two hours). The ferries are equipped to handle cars (Bellingham–Haines $462), but space must be reserved months ahead. The ferries also service five towns in Southcentral Alaska, and twice a month make a special run across the Gulf of Alaska from Juneau to Whittier ($221).

Cruise ships are another convenient way to tour Alaska, especially Southeast. A smaller boat will afford more flexibility and intimacy, while the larger companies will be more affordable. You can expect to have all meals included and a menu of tour and learning options. Larger cruise companies include Princess (www.princess.com) and family-friendly Celebrity (www.celebritycruises.com). For smaller boats consider AdventureSmith Explorations (☎800-344-2875; www.adventuresmithexplorations.com), which has charters for 12 people or a larger boat that carries 100, and Discovery Voyages (☎800-324-7602; www.discoveryvoyages.com). Both offer excellent excursions and are learning-focused.

BUS

From Anchorage bus service is available to many areas of the state.

Alaska/Yukon Trails (☎ 800-770-7275; www.alaskashuttle.com) Goes to Denali ($75, six hours) and Fairbanks ($99, nine hours).

Seward Bus Line (☎ 907-563-0800; www.sewardbuslines.net) Goes to Seward ($40, three hours).

Homer Stage Lines (☎ 907-868-3914; http://stagelineinhomer.com) To Homer ($90, 4½ hours) and points in between.

TRAIN

The Alaska Railroad (☎ 907-265-2494; www.akrr.com) offers service between Seward and Anchorage and between Anchorage and Denali, before ending in Fairbanks. Book seats in advance on this popular train.

SOUTHEAST ALASKA

The Southeast is as close as Alaska comes to the continental USA, but most of it is inaccessible by road. It's possible to fly to the panhandle for a quick visit, but a better option, if you can spare a week, is to cruise the Inside Passage, a waterway made up of thousands of islands, glacier-filled fjords and a mountainous coastline. You can jump on a state ferry and stop at a handful of ports for hiking, kayaking and whale-watching. Cruises (p1085) are also popular, as they offer easy transport and lodging, with meals included.

Ketchikan

Ketchikan, the first stop of the Alaska Marine Highway (p1085) and most cruise ships, is one long, thin town: several miles long, never more than 10 blocks wide and crammed with Alaskan character, adventure and the scenery you came looking for.

👁 Sights & Activities*Dolly's House

MUSEUM

(www.dollyshouse.com; 24 Creek St; adult/child $5/free; ☎ 8am-5pm) The star of Ketchikan's former red-light district, Creek St, this place is the parlor of Ketchikan's most famous madam, Dolly Arthur.

Totem Bight State Historical Park

HISTORIC SITE

(N Tongass Hwy; ☎ 6am-10pm) FREE Ten miles north of downtown Ketchikan is this seaside park that contains 14 restored totem poles, a colorful community house and viewing deck overlooking Tongass Narrows. Next door to the state park is the equally intriguing Potlatch Park (www.potlatchpark.com; 9809 Totem Bight Rd; ☎ 7:30am-4pm) FREE, home to another dozen totems and five beautiful tribal houses.

Totem Heritage Center

MUSEUM

(601 Deermont St; adult/child $5/free; ☎ 8am-5pm) Features a collection of 19th-century totems in a spiritual setting.

Alaska Canopy Adventures

EXTREME SPORTS

(☎ 907-225-5503; www.alaskacanopy.com; 116 Wood Rd; per person $190) Fly through the trees! Uses eight zip lines, three suspension bridges and 4WD vehicles so you can zip 4600ft down a mountain. Afterwards you can watch bears feast on a salmon run.

Deer Mountain Trail

HIKING

This 3-mile walking trail begins near the city center and provides access to the alpine world above the timberline and wonderful views of the town.

🛏 Sleeping*Ketchikan Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 907-225-3319; www.ketchikanhostel.com; 400 Main St; dm $20; ☎ Jun-Aug) A friendly, clean hostel, with separate male and female dorms located in a Methodist church downtown.

New York Hotel

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$

(☎ 866-225-0246, 907-225-0246; www.thenewyorkhotel.com; 207 Stedman St; r $149-189, ste $229; @ ☎) A historic boutique hotel in the heart of town but far enough away to escape the cruise-ship madness. Its rooms and unique suites are filled with antiques and overlook the waterfront or Creek St.

Gilmore Hotel

HISTORIC HOTEL $$

(☎ 907-225-9423; www.gilmorehotel.com; 326 Front St; d $105-165; @) Built in 1927, the Gilmore has 38 'historically proportioned' (ie small) rooms that include cable TV, coffee-makers and hair dryers.

★ Black Bear Inn

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 907-225-4343; www.stayinalaska.com; 5528 N Tongass Hwy; r $160-230; @ ☎) This incredible B&B, 2.5 miles north of downtown, offers both rooms and small apartments. Among the many amenities is a covered outdoor hot tub where you can soak while watching eagles soaring overhead.

Eating & Drinking

Sushi Fever

SUSHI $

(☎ 907-225-1233; 629 Mission St; lunch specials $9-11, rolls $7-14; ☀ 11am-9pm) This Japanese restaurant bustles with locals and cruise-ship workers alike. There are almost 40 types of roll on the menu but just a bowl of the udon noodles will fuel you all afternoon.

Burger Queen

BURGERS $

(518 Tongass Ave; burgers $6-9; ☀ 11am-3pm Mon, to 7pm Tue-Sat) Ketchikan's favorite shake-and-burger joint will deliver your hamburger to the Arctic Bar across the street where you can be sipping a beer.

★ Bar Harbor Restaurant

MODERN AMERICAN $$$

(☎ 907-225-2813; 2813 Tongass Ave; mains $20-34; ☀ 5-9pm Mon-Sat) A cozy place with a covered outdoor deck, between downtown and the ferry terminal. Yeah, they serve seafood here – who doesn't in Southeast? – but the signature dish is Ketchikan's best prime rib.

First City Saloon

LOUNGE

(830 Water St; ☎) A sprawling club that rocks with live music during the summer; often impromptu performances when cruise-ship bands are looking to let loose.

Information

Ketchikan Visitor Information & Tour Center

(☎ 907-225-6166; www.visit-ketchikan.com; 131 Front St; ☀ 7am-6pm) Helpful staff will book tours and accommodations.

Southeast Alaska Discovery Center

(☎ 907-228-6220; www.fs.fed.us/r10/tongass/districts/discoverycenter; 50 Main St; adult/child $5/free; ☀ 8am-3pm) Houses an impressive exhibit hall; provides details of outdoor activities.

Getting There & Around

Alaska Airlines (p1085) and Alaska Marine Highway (p1085) ferries service Ketchikan. For wheels, try Alaska Car Rental (☎ 907-225-5123; www.akcarrental.com; 2828 Tongass Ave; compacts $57).

Wrangell

Strategically located near the mouth of the Stikine River, Wrangell is the only town to have been ruled by four nations: Tlingit, Russia, Britain and the USA. Today it is one of the few ports in which the state ferries dock downtown, so at the very least jump off the boat for a quick look around town.

DON'T MISS

MISTY FJORDS NATIONAL MONUMENT

In the wilderness neighborhood that surrounds Ketchikan, this 3750-sq-mile monument is packed with wildlife-watching opportunities and spectacular views of 3000ft sheer granite walls that rise from the ocean. Allen Marine Tours (☎ 877-686-8100, 907-225-8100; www.allenmarinetours.com; adult/child $159/109) runs a four-hour trip around the monument but a more enjoyable adventure is to spend a few days paddling the fjords. Southeast Sea Kayaks (☎ 907-225-1258; www.kayakketchikan.com; 1621 Tongass Ave, Ketchikan; 1-/2-person kayak per day $45/59) can supply rentals and water-taxi service into the heart of this watery wilderness, letting you bypass the long open-water paddle from Ketchikan.

Sights

For its size, Wrangell has an impressive collection of totems. Pick up the free Wrangell Guide at the visitor center and spend an afternoon locating them all. Make sure you stop at Chief Shakes Island, near the boat harbor downtown.

Wrangell Museum

MUSEUM

(296 Campbell Dr; adult/child/family $5/2/12; ☀ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) In this museum at the Nolan Center you can learn about gold-rush Wrangell or why Wyatt Earp filled in as the town's deputy marshal for 10 days.

Sleeping & Eating

Wrangell Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 907-874-3534; 220 Church St; dm $20) In the Presbyterian church.

Stikine Inn

MOTEL $$

(☎ 888-874-3388, 907-874-3388; www.stikineinn.com; 107 Stikine Ave; s $146-169, d $163-184; ☎) Wrangell's largest motel is on the waterfront near the ferry dock and includes 34 rooms and a restaurant with tables overlooking the boat traffic on the water.

Alaskan Sourdough Lodge

LODGE $$

(☎ 907-874-3613; www.akgetaway.com; 1104 Peninsula St; s/d $114/124; @☎) This family-owned lodge offers 16 rooms, and a front deck full of wicker furniture and a view of the harbor.

Diamond C Café

CAFÉ $$

(223 Front St; breakfast $6-12, lunch $8-17; ☺ 6am-3pm) Eat what the locals eat (eggs, biscuits and deep-fried fish-and-chips) while listening to the conservative pulse of this community.

i Information

Wrangell Visitor Center (☎ 907-874-3901; www.wrangell.com; 293 Campbell Dr; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) At the Nolan Center.

Petersburg

At the north end of the spectacular Wrangell Narrows lies the picturesque community of Petersburg, a town known for its Norwegian roots and home to one of Alaska's largest fishing fleets.

👁 Sights & Activities

The center of Old Petersburg is Sing Lee Alley, which winds past weathered homes and boathouses perched on pilings above the water.

Clausen Memorial Museum

MUSEUM

(www.clausenmuseum.net; 203 Fram St; adult/child $3/free; ☺ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) Features local artifacts and fishing relics, and a small but excellent museum store.

Tongass Kayak Adventures

KAYAKING

(☎ 907-772-4600; www.tongasskayak.com; single/double kayak $55/65) Offers rentals and drop-off transportation, as well as several guided paddles, including a day-long paddle at LeConte Glacier ($265), North America's southernmost tidewater glacier and often the site of spectacular falling ice and breaching whales.

🛏 Sleeping*Scandia House

HOTEL $$

(☎ 907-772-4281; www.scandiahousehotel.com; 110 Nordic Dr; s/d $110/150; ☎) The most impressive place in town, this hotel has 33 modern rooms (some with kitchenettes), a courtesy shuttle service and a main-street location.

Nordic House

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 907-772-3620; www.nordichouse.net; 806 S Nordic Dr; r without bathroom $82-149; ☎) Within an easy walk of the ferry terminal, this place offers five large rooms and a common area overlooking the boat harbor.

Tides Inn

MOTEL $$

(☎ 907-772-4288; www.tidesinnalaska.com; 307 1st St; s $115-126, d $132-143; @☎) Largest motel in town, with 45 rooms, some with kitchenettes.

🍴 Eating & Drinking*★ Coastal Cold Storage

SEAFOOD $

(306 N Nordic Dr; breakfast $4-8, lunch $8-12; ☺ 7am-3pm Mon-Sun; ☎) The local specialty is halibut beer bits and this place serves the best ones in this seafood town.

Beachcomber Inn

AMERICAN $$

(☎ 907-772-3888; 384 Mitkof Hwy; mains $19-30; ☺ 5-9pm Tue-Sat) This wonderful restaurant is built on pilings over the sea so every table has a fabulous maritime-and-mountain view.

Harbor Bar

BAR

(318 Nordic Dr; ☎) The classic place for deckhands and cannery workers, with pool tables, free popcorn and an excellent beer selection. In that great Alaskan tradition, patrons have started pinning dollar bills to the walls.

i Information

Petersburg Chamber of Commerce (☎ 907-772-4636; www.petersburg.org; cnr Fram & 1st Sts; ☺ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, noon-4pm Sun) Has B&B and United States Forest Service information.

Sitka

Russians established Southeast Alaska's first nonindigenous settlement here in 1799, and the town flourished on fur. Today Sitka sees itself as both the cultural center of the Southeast and, because it's the only one facing the Pacific Ocean, the region's most beautiful city.

👁 Sights & Activities

Sitka has superb hiking, and the Gaven Hill Trail into the mountains is accessible from the downtown area. There are also many kayaking trips around Baranof and Chichagof Islands.

Thanks to Sitka's ocean location, marine-wildlife boat tours have mushroomed in the town.

Sitka National Historical Park HISTORIC SITE
(www.nps.gov/sitk/index.htm; Lincoln St; adult/child $4/free; ☀8am-5pm) Alaska's smallest national park has an intriguing 1-mile trail that winds past 15 totem poles, while inside its visitor center are Russian and indigenous artifacts and traditional carving demonstrations.

Alaska Raptor Center WILDLIFE RESERVE
(www.alaskaraptor.org; 101 Sawmill Creek Rd; adult/child $12/6; ☀8am-4pm; ♿) For an eye-to-eye encounter with a bald eagle, head to this center where injured birds relearn to fly.

St Michael's Cathedral CHURCH
(240 Lincoln St; admission $5; ☀9am-4pm Mon-Fri) A replica of the original 1840s Russian Orthodox cathedral destroyed by fire in 1966 and still the centerpiece of Sitka. The original icons and religious objects were salvaged and are on display. It's only open when cruise ships are in.

Baranof's Castle MONUMENT
Castle Hill is the site of Baranof's Castle, where Alaska was officially transferred from Russia to the USA.

Russian Bishop's House HISTORIC BUILDING
(Lincoln St; adult/child $4/free; ☀9am-5pm) Built in 1842, this is Sitka's oldest intact Russian building.

Sheldon Jackson Museum MUSEUM
(104 College Dr; adult/child $5/free; ☀9am-5pm) Houses an excellent indigenous culture collection.

Sitka Sound Ocean Adventures KAYAKING
(☎907-752-0660; www.kayaksitka.com; single/double kayak $75/95) Rents kayaks and runs guided trips; its office is a blue bus at the Centennial Building.

Allen Marine Tours CRUISE
(☎907-747-8100; www.allenmarinetours.com; adult/child $99/69; ☀1:30-4:30pm Sat) Offers three-hour tours, in a fully enclosed catamaran with wraparound windows, that often include spotting otters and whales.

Sleeping

Ann's Gavan Hill B&B B&B $
(☎907-747-8023; www.annsgavanhill.com; 415 Arrowhead St; s/d $75/95; @☎) An easy walk from downtown, this lovely Alaskan home has three guest rooms and a wraparound deck with two hot tubs. Ahhh!

Sitka International Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎907-747-8661; www.sitkahostel.org; 109 Jeff Davis St; dm $24; @☎) Sitka's newest – and only – hostel is downtown less than a block from Central Harbor and features five single-sex dorm rooms and one private room ($60).

Sitka Hotel HOTEL $$$
(☎907-747-3288; www.sitkahotel.net; 118 Lincoln St; s/d $116/124; @☎) This venerable hotel is right downtown and its back rooms are large, comfortable and feature views of Sitka Sound.

Shee Atika Totem Square Inn HOTEL $$$
(☎866-300-1353, 907-747-3693; www.totem-squareinn.com; 201 Katlian St; r $179-249; @☎) Extensively renovated, this is Sitka's finest hotel, with 68 large, comfortable rooms perched above a harbor that bustles with boats bringing in the day's catch.

Eating & Drinking

Kenny's Wok & Teriyaki CHINESE $
(210 Katlian St; lunch $7-10, dinner $9-12; ☀11:30am-9pm Mon-Fri, noon to 9pm Sat & Sun) This Chinese restaurant in the Katlian district seems to be always full. It's partly because it has only nine tables but mostly because the locals love the portions and the prices.

★ Ludvig's Bistro MEDITERRANEAN $$$
(☎907-966-3663; www.ludvigsbistro.com; 256 Katlian St; tapas $14-18, mains $26-36; ☀5-9pm) Sitka's boldest restaurant is also the Southeast's best. The menu is described as 'rustic Mediterranean fare' and almost everything is local, even the sea salt.

Highliner Coffee CAFE
(www.highlinercoffee.com; 327 Seward St, Seward Sq Mall; light fare under $5; ☀6am-5pm Mon-Sat, 7am-4pm Sun; ☎) At the Highliner they like their coffee black and their salmon wild. Come here to catch the buzz from a latte and the local issues.

Fly-in Fish Inn Bar

BAR

(485 Katlian St) A delightful little six-stool bar on the back side of an inn. On the covered deck outside you can watch deckhands unload the day's catch.

i Information

Sitka Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎907-747-5940; www.sitka.org; 330 Harbor Dr; ☼8am-5pm Mon-Fri) Across the street from Michael's Cathedral, and also at a desk in the Centennial Building.

United States Forest Service Office (USFS; ☎907-747-6671; 204 Siginaka Way; ☼8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) Can provide hiking and kayaking information for the area.

i Getting There & Away

Sitka Airport (SIT; ☎907-966-2960), on Japonski Island, is served by Alaska Airlines (p1085).

Northstar Rental (☎907-966-2552; www.northstarrentacar.com; Sitka Airport) has midsize cars from $69 per day. Alaska Marine

Highway (☎907-747-8737; www.ferryalaska.com) ferries stop almost daily at the terminal, which is 7 miles north of town. Ferry Transit Bus (☎907-747-5800; one-way/return $6/10) will take you into town.

Juneau

The first town to be founded after Alaska's purchase from the Russians, Juneau became the territorial capital in 1906 and today is the most scenic capital in the country. Its historic downtown clings to the gap between snowcapped mountains and a bustling waterfront. The rest of the city spreads north into the Mendenhall Valley. Juneau is also Alaska's cruise-ship capital and the gateway to many attractions, including Tracy Arm and Glacier Bay National Park.

👁 Sights*Mendenhall Glacier

GLACIER

Juneau's famous 'drive-in' glacier is one of the most picturesque attractions in Southeast Alaska. This frozen river and its informative USFS Visitor Center (Glacier Spur Rd; adult/child $3/free; ☼8am-7:30pm) is 12 miles from the city. Mendenhall Glacier Transport (☎907-789-5460; round-trip $16) runs buses from downtown.

Last Chance Mining Museum

HISTORIC SITE

(☎907-586-5338; 1001 Basin Rd; adult/child $5/free; ☼9:30am-12:30pm & 3:30-6:30pm) The compressor building of Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Company is now a museum and the only building open to the public from Juneau's Gold Rush era.

Alaska State Museum

MUSEUM

(www.museums.state.ak.us; 395 Whittier St; adult/child $7/free; ☼8:30am-5:30pm; 🗺) Has artifacts from Alaska's six major indigenous groups, plus a full-size eagles' nest atop a two-story tree.

Juneau-Douglas City Museum

MUSEUM

(www.juneau.org/parkrec/museum; 114 W 4th St; adult/child $6/free; ☼9am-6pm Mon-Fri, 10am-5pm Sat & Sun) Highlights the area's gold-mining history and offers a Historic Downtown Walking Tour (adult/child incl museum $20/15; ☼1:30pm Tue-Thu).

🚶 Activities*Hiking

HIKING

Hiking is the most popular activity in the area, and some trails access USFS cabins. Juneau Parks & Recreation (☎907-586-0428; www.juneau.org/parksrec) organizes free hikes. West Glacier Trail, which sidles along Mendenhall Glacier, has the most stunning scenery. The Mt Roberts Trail is the most popular hike to the alpine country above Juneau.

Taku Glacier Lodge

SCENIC FLIGHTS

(☎907-586-6275; www.wingsairways.com; adult/child $297/250) The most popular tours in Juneau are flightseeing, glacier viewing and salmon bakes and a trip to this historic camp combines all three. You reach it via a floatplane that includes flying across a half-dozen glaciers. At the log lodge you enjoy an incredible meal of wild salmon to the view of Taku Glacier.

Mt Roberts Tram

CABLE CAR

(www.goldbelltours.com; 490 S Franklin St; adult/child $31/15.50; ☼11am-9pm Mon, 8am-9pm Tue-Sun; 🗺) Takes passengers from the cruise-ship dock to the timberline, where there is a nature center and a restaurant.

Alaska Boat & Kayak Center

KAYAKING

(☎907-364-2333; www.juneaukayak.com; 11521 Glacier Hwy; single/double kayak $50/70; ☼9am-5pm) Rents boats and offers a self-guided Mendenhall Lake paddle ($109).

Orca Enterprises

WHALE-WATCHING

(☎888-733-6722, 907-789-6801; www.alaskawhale-watching.com; adult/child $119/59) Uses a 42ft jet boat for three-hour whale-watching tours.

🛏 Sleeping*Juneau International Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎907-586-9559; www.juneauhostel.net; 614 Harris St; dm adult/child $12/5; @☎) Alaska's best hostel – thanks to its location in a historic home as well as its friendly vibe – is a five-minute walk from the state capitol.

Driftwood Lodge

MOTEL $$

(☎907-586-2280; www.driftwoodalaska.com; 435 Willoughby Ave; r $105-145; ☎) The rooms are no-frills but clean, and many have kitchenettes. There's a courtesy airport and ferry van, a coin laundry and bike rental.

Silverbow Inn

BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$

(☎907-586-4146; www.silverbowinn.com; 120 2nd St; r $189-219; @☎) A wonderful boutique inn on top of a downtown bagel shop. Along with 11 rooms, there's an outdoor hot tub with a view of the mountains.

Juneau Hotel

HOTEL $$$

(☎907-586-5666; www.juneauhotels.net; 1200 W 9th St; ste $179; @☎) An all-suites hotel located within easy walking distance of the downtown attractions.

🍴 Eating & Drinking

S Franklin St is Juneau's historic and at times colorful drinking sector.

Pel'Meni

DUMPLING $

(Merchant's Wharf, Marine Way; ☎11:30am-1:30pm Sun-Thu, 11:30am-3:30pm Fri & Sat) It serves one thing and one thing only – a bowl of authentic homemade Russian dumplings, filled with either potato or sirloin.

Tracy's King Crab Shack

SEAFOOD $$

(www.kingcrabshack.com; 356 S. Franklin St; crab $13-30; ☎10:30am-8pm) Squeezed between the library parking garage and the cruise ship docks, this little hut serves up crab, from outstanding bisque to mini-cakes. A bucket of king crab pieces ($60) is 2lb of the sweetest seafood you'll ever have.

Island Pub

PIZZERIA $$

(www.theislandpub.com; 1102 2nd St; large pizza $13-20; ☎4-10pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri, 1pm-midnight Sat, 1-10pm Sun) Across the channel in Douglas is the capital city's best pizzeria, serving firebrick-oven focaccias and gourmet pizza to a mountainous view.

Twisted Fish

SEAFOOD $$

(www.twistedfish.hangaronthewharf.com; 550 S Franklin St; dinner mains $16-40; ☎11am-10pm) Beef by gone! Located between Taku Smokeries

WORTH A TRIP*GLACIER BAY NATIONAL PARK & PRESERVE

Eleven tidewater glaciers that spill out of the mountains and fill the sea with icebergs of all shapes, sizes and shades of blue have made Glacier Bay National Park and Preserve an icy wilderness renowned worldwide. This can be an expensive side trip from Juneau but, for most people who include it on their itinerary, well worth the extra funds.

Gustavus (www.gustavusak.com) is a weekly stop ($33, 4½ hours) for the Alaska Marine Highway (p1085). Alaska Airlines (p1085) has daily flights between Gustavus and Juneau.

Food, lodging and transportation to Bartlett Cove in the park is available in Gustavus.

Annie Mae Lodge (☎907-697-2346; www.anniemaec.com; Grandpa's Farm Rd; s $160-220, d $170-230; ☎) has 11 rooms, most with private entrances and bathrooms.

The park headquarters (☎907-697-2230; www.nps.gov/glba; 1 Park Rd; ☎8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) in Bartlett Cove maintains a free campground and a visitor center (☎907-697-2627; ☎6am-9pm) at the dock, which provides backcountry permits and maps. You can stay at Glacier Bay Lodge (☎888-229-8687; www.visitglacierbay.com; 199 Bartlett Cove Rd; r $199-224), the only hotel and restaurant at Bartlett Cove.

To see the glaciers, board the Fairweather Express operated by Glacier Bay Lodge & Tours (☎907-264-4600; adult/child $190/95) for an eight-hour cruise up the West Arm of Glacier Bay. The only developed hiking trails are in Bartlett Cove, but there is excellent kayaking; rent equipment from Glacier Bay Sea Kayaks (☎907-697-2257; www.glacierbayseakayaks.com; single/double kayak per day $45/60).

GLACIERS OF TRACY ARM

This steep-sided fjord, 50 miles south-east of Juneau, has a pair of tidewater glaciers and a gallery of icebergs floating down its length. Tracy Arm makes an interesting day trip, far less expensive and perhaps even more satisfying than a visit to Glacier Bay. You're almost guaranteed to see seals inside the arm, and you might spot whales on the way there. Adventure Bound Alaska (☎907-463-2509; www.adventurebound-alaska.com; adult/child $150/95; 🚰) is the longtime tour operator to Tracy Arm and uses a pair of boats that leave daily from the Juneau waterfront. Reserve a seat in advance if you can (the full-day tour is popular with cruise ships) and pack a lunch along with your binoculars.

and a wharf where commercial fishermen unload their catch, this restaurant is all about local seafood. Half the pizzas on the menu have something from the sea on them.

Red Dog Saloon

BAR
(☎907-463-3658; 278 S Franklin St) The (in)famous Red Dog Saloon has a sawdust floor and relic-covered walls.

Alaskan Hotel

BAR
(☎907-586-1000; 167 S Franklin St) Hidden here is a unique bar with historic ambience and occasional live music.

i Information

Juneau Convention & Visitors Bureau

(☎907-586-2201; www.traveljuneau.com; cruise ship terminal; ☺8am-5pm) Also has locations in Marine Park, and at the airport and the ferry terminal.

Juneau Library (☎907-586-5249; 292 Marine Way; ☺11am-8pm Mon-Thu, noon-6pm Fri, noon-5pm Sat & Sun; 📺) Gorgeous views and free internet.

Juneau Ranger Station (☎907-586-8800; 8510 Mendenhall Loop Rd; ☺8am-5pm Mon-Fri) Head to the Mendenhall Valley for information on cabins, trails and kayaking.

i Getting There & Around

AIR

The main airline serving Juneau is Alaska Airlines (p1085). Smaller companies such as

Wings of Alaska (☎907-789-0790; www.wingsofalaska.com) provide services to isolated communities.

BOAT

The terminal for the Alaska Marine Highway (p1085) is 14 miles from downtown; the high-speed M/V Fairweather connects to Petersburg ($66, four hours) and Sitka ($45, 4½ hours).

BUS

Juneau's public bus system, Capital Transit (☎907-789-6901; www.juneau.org/capital-transit; adult/child $2/1), can take you from the airport to the city center, but not the ferry terminal.

CAR

Numerous car-rental places offer pick-up, drop-off and unlimited mileage.

Rent-A-Wreck (☎888-843-4111, 907-789-4111; 2450c Industrial Blvd)

Haines

Haines is Southeast Alaska's most scenic departure point and a crucial link to the Alcan Hwy for thousands of RVers (recreational vehicle drivers) every summer on their way to Interior Alaska. The Northwest Trading Company arrived here in 1878, followed by gold prospectors and the US Army, which built its first permanent post in Alaska, Fort Seward, in 1903. The perceived threat of a Japanese invasion in WWII resulted in the construction of the Haines and Alcan Hwys, connecting Haines to the rest of the USA. If mammoth cruise ships depress you, Haines is a much better destination choice than Skagway.

👁 Sights & Activities

Sheldon Museum

MUSEUM

(www.sheldonmuseum.org; 11 Main St; adult/child $5/free; ☺10am-5pm Mon-Fri, 1-4pm Sat & Sun) Features indigenous artifacts upstairs, and gold-rush relics downstairs.

American Bald Eagle Foundation

MUSEUM

(www.baldeagles.org; 113 Haines Hwy; adult/child $10/5; ☺9am-5pm Mon-Sat; 🚰) Displays almost 180 species of animals, including almost two dozen eagles, in their natural habitat.

Hammer Museum

MUSEUM

(www.hammermuseum.org; 108 Main St; adult/child $3/free; ☺10am-5pm Mon-Fri) For something quirky, a 1500-hammer monument to owner Dave Pahl's obsession with the tool.

Hiking

HIKING

Haines offers two major hiking-trail systems – Mt Riley and Mt Ripinsky – as well as afternoon walking tours of Fort Seward (the visitor center has details).

Chilkat Guides

RAFTING

(☎ 907-766-2491; www.raftalaska.com; adult/child $94/65) Runs a four-hour Chilkat River raft float.

Sleeping

Fort Seward Lodge

MOTEL $

(☎ 877-617-3418, 766-2009; 39 Mud Bay Rd; r $110, without bathroom $75; 🏠) The former Post Exchange of Fort Seward offers Haines' best value in accommodations, with updated rooms and a friendly bar.

Bear Creek Cabins & Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 907-766-2259; www.bearcreekcabinsalaska.com; Small Tract Rd; dm/cabins $20/68) To escape the metropolis of Haines, head a mile out of town to this pleasant hostel on the edge of the woods.

★ Beach Roadhouse

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 866-741-3060, 907-766-3060; www.beachroadhouse.com; Mile 1, Beach Rd; r/cabins $115/145; 🏠) This large cedar home is perched above Lynn Canal in a tranquil, woodsy setting, offering four rooms with kitchenettes and two lovely cabins.

Alaska Guardhouse Lodging

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 866-290-7445, 907-766-2566; www.alaskaguardhouse.com; 15 Seward Dr; s/d $115/145; 🏠) A building that was used to jail misbehaving soldiers now houses visitors in four large and comfortable bedrooms.

Captain's Choice Motel

MOTEL $$

(☎ 907-766-3111; www.capchoice.com; 108 2nd Ave N; s/d US$127/137; 🏠) Haines' largest motel has the best view of the Chilkat Mountains and Lynn Canal and a huge sundeck to enjoy it.

Eating & Drinking

★ Fireweed Restaurant

BISTRO $$

(37 Blacksmith St; mains $9-20; ☺ 11:30am-3pm Wed-Sat & 4:30-9pm Tue-Sat; 🍷) This bright and laid-back bistro looks like it belongs in California with words like 'organic' and 'vegie' on its menu as opposed to 'deep fried' and 'captain's special'.

Mosey's Cantina

MEXICAN $$

(www.moseyscantina.com; 31 Tower Rd; lunch $8-14, dinner $16-24; ☺ 11:30am-2:30pm & 5:30-8:30pm Wed-Sat) This may be Haines but Mosey's offers some of the best Mexican fare outside of Anchorage, in a cute and cozy setting.

Klondike

PIZZA $$

(Dalton City; medium pizza $14-18; ☺ 5-8pm Mon-Sat) Haines' newest restaurant serves excellent wood-fired pizza, salads and beer that's brewed only two doors down.

Haines Brewing Company

BREWERY

(www.hainesbrewing.com; Dalton City; ☺ 1-6pm Mon-Sat) It's well worth the walk to the town's delightful one-room brewery.

Information

Haines Convention & Visitors Bureau (☎ 907-766-2234; www.haines.ak.us; 122 2nd Ave; ☺ 8am-5pm Mon-Fri, 9am-4pm Sat & Sun)

Getting There & Away

Several air-charter companies service Haines, the cheapest being Wings of Alaska (☎ 907-983-2442; www.wingsofalaska.com).

VALLEY OF THE EAGLES

The 75-sq-mile Alaska Chilkat Bald Eagle Preserve (www.dnr.alaska.gov/parks/units/eagleprv.htm), along the Chilkat River near Haines, protects the world's largest-known gathering of bald eagles. The greatest numbers, up to 4000 birds, are spotted in December and January, but Haines comes alive during its Alaska Bald Eagle Festival (www.baldeagles.org/festival; ☺ mid-Nov) in the second week of November, a five-day event that attracts hundreds of birders from around the country to witness the event.

But you can see eagles here any time during summer, albeit not as many. Head north on the Haines Hwy and pull over at the posted lookouts on the Haines between Miles 18 and 22, the best spots to search for eagles. Don't have wheels? During the summer Alaska Nature Tours (☎ 907-766-2876; www.alaskanaturetours.net; adult/child $78/63; 🚰) offers a Valley of the Eagles Nature Tour, a 3½-hour tour up the Chilkat River with a naturalist.

The Haines–Skagway Fast Ferry (☎ 888-766-2103, 907-766-2100; www.hainesskagwayfastferry.com; one-way adult/child $35/18; ☉ Jun–Sep) will get you to and from Skagway.

Eagle Nest Car Rentals (☎ 907-766-2891; 1183 Haines Hwy.) in the Eagle Nest Motel, has cars available for $57 per day with 100 miles included.

Skagway

The northern terminus of the Alaska Marine Highway (p1085), Skagway was a gold-rush town infamous for its lawlessness. In 1887 the population was two; 10 years later it was Alaska's largest city, with 20,000 residents. Today Skagway survives entirely on tourism and gets packed when a handful of cruise ships pull in and thousands of passengers converge on the town as if the Klondike gold rush was still on.

Sights & Activities

Klondike Gold Rush

National Historical Park

HISTORIC SITE

(☎ 983-9223; www.nps.gov/klgo; visitor center Broadway St at 2nd Ave; ☉ 8am–6pm, to 7pm Fri)

FREE A seven-block corridor along Broadway St that features 17 restored buildings, false fronts and wooden sidewalks from Skagway's golden era as a boom town. Thanks to the cruise ships, it's the most popular national park in Alaska. To best appreciate this amazing moment in Skagway's history, join a free, ranger-led walking tour, at the visitor center on the hour from 9am to 4pm.

Skagway Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ 907-983-2420; cnr 7th Ave & Spring St; adult/child $2/1; ☉ 9am–5pm Mon–Fri, 10am–5pm Sat, noon–4pm Sun) One of the best museums in the Southeast, and its gold-rush relics are some of the most interesting exhibits in a town filled with museums.

Mascot Saloon

MUSEUM

(290 Broadway St; ☉ 8am–6pm) A museum devoted to Skagway's heyday as the 'roughest place in the world.'

★ White Pass & Yukon Route Railroad

RAILROAD

(☎ 800-343-7373; www.wpyr.com; 231 2nd Ave; adult/child from US$115/57.50; ☉ May–Sep) Offers the best tour: the three-hour Summit Excursion climbs the high White Pass in a historic narrow-gauge train.

Sleeping

Alaskan Sojourn Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎ 907-983-2040; www.alaskansojourn.net; 488 8th Ave; dm/r $28/58; ☉) Skagway's best hostel is open and airy, has dorms, private rooms, free coffee in the morning and a barbecue in a courtyard for the evening.

Sgt Preston's Lodge

MOTEL $$

(☎ 866-983-2521, 907-983-2521; <http://sgt-prestons.eskagway.com>; 370 6th Ave; s $97–115, d US$119–151; @ ☉) This motel is the best bargain in Skagway and just far enough from Broadway St to escape most of the cruise-ship crush. Prices include taxes.

Skagway Inn

INN $$

(☎ 888-752-4929, 907-983-2289; www.skagwayinn.com; Broadway St at 7th Ave; r incl breakfast $129–229; @ ☉) In a restored 1897 Victorian house that was originally one of the town's brothels – what building still standing in Skagway wasn't? – the inn is downtown and features 10 rooms, four with shared bathrooms. All are small but filled with antique dressers, iron beds and chests. A delicious breakfast is included.

Mile Zero B&B

B&B $$

(☎ 907-983-3045; www.mile-zero.com; 901 Main St; r $135–145; @) This B&B is like a motel with the comforts of home, the six large rooms have their own bathroom and a private entrance on the wraparound porch.

DON'T MISS

CHILKOOT TRAIL

The Chilkoot is the ultimate Alaska trek, combining great scenery, a historical site and an incredible sense of adventure. It was the route used by the Klondike gold miners in the 1898 gold rush, and walking it is not so much a wilderness adventure as a history lesson. The 33-mile trek takes four days and includes the Chilkoot Pass – a steep climb up to 3525ft that has hikers scrambling on all fours. The highlight for many is riding the historic White Pass & Yukon Route Railroad (p1094) back to Skagway.

Interested? Stop at the Trail Center (☎ 907-983-9234; www.nps.gov/klgo; Broadway St at 2nd Ave, Skagway; ☉ 8am–5pm) to obtain backpacking permits and set up the hike.

Eating & Drinking

In 2012, Skagway's restaurants and bars became a smoke-free zone.

★ Stowaway Café CAJUN $$
(☎ 907-983-3463; www.stowawaycafe.com; 205 Congress Way; mains US$11-24; ☺ 10am-9pm) Near the Harbor Master's office, this funky cafe serves excellent fish and Cajun-style steak dinners. Make sure you try the wasabi salmon.

Starfire THAI $$
(☎ 907-983-3663; 4th Ave at Spring St; lunch $12-15, dinner $14-19; ☺ 11am-10pm; ☑) Order pad Thai or curry dishes in five colors (purple is 'Fire with Flavor!') here and then enjoy them with a beer on the outdoor patio.

Skagway Brewing Company BREWERY
(www.skagwaybrewing.com; cnr 7th Ave & Broadway; burgers $15; ☺ 10am-10pm Mon-Fri, 11am-10pm Sat & Sun) Skagway's sole brewing company pours at least five home brews, including Prospector Pale, and serves up food that pairs well with them, such as burgers and pizza, in a historic building.

Red Onion Saloon BAR
(205 Broadway St) This former brothel is now Skagway's liveliest bar. Naturally.

Information

Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park Visitors Center (☎ 907-983-9223; www.nps.gov/kglo; 154 Broadway St; ☺ 8am-6pm, to 7pm Fri) For everything outdoors: local trails, public campgrounds and National Park Service programs.

Skagway Convention & Visitors Bureau
(☎ 907-983-2854; www.skagway.com; cnr Broadway St & 2nd Ave; ☺ 8am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat & Sun) In the can't-miss Arctic Brotherhood Hall (think driftwood).

Getting There & Away

Regularly scheduled flights from Skagway to Juneau, Haines and Glacier Bay are available from Wings of Alaska (p1093).

Alaska Marine Highway (p1085) has ferries departing every day in summer, and Haines-Skagway Fast Ferry (p1094) runs daily to Haines.

Sourdough Car Rentals (☎ 907-983-2523; www.sourdoughrentals.com; 350 6th Ave) has compacts for $80 a day.

White Pass & Yukon Route Railroad (☎ 907-983-2217; www.wpyr.com; 231 2nd Ave; ☺ Jun-Aug) goes to Fraser, British Columbia, where there's a bus connection to Whitehorse (adult/child $120/60).

ANCHORAGE

Anchorage offers the comforts of a large US city but is only a 30-minute drive from the Alaskan wilderness. Founded in 1914 as a work camp for the Alaska Railroad, the city was devastated by the 1964 Good Friday earthquake but quickly rebounded as the industry headquarters for the Prudhoe Bay oil boom. Today almost half the state's residents live in or around the city, as Anchorage serves as the economic and political heart of Alaska. Sorry, Juneau.

Sights & Activities

★ Anchorage Museum MUSEUM
(www.anchagemuseum.org; 625 C Street; adult/child $15/7; ☺ 9am-6pm; ♿) A $106-million renovation has made this Alaska's best cultural experience. Spend an afternoon viewing paintings by Alaskan masters, including Sydney Laurence, on the 1st floor and then check out the incredible Smithsonian exhibit on the 2nd. There is plenty for kids to love, too.

Alaska Native Heritage Center CULTURAL BUILDING
(www.alaskanative.net; 8800 Heritage Center Dr; adult/child $25/17; ☺ 9am-5pm) This cultural center is spread over 26 acres and includes studios with artists carving baleen (the filter-feeder system found inside the mouths of whales) or sewing skin-boats, a small lake and five replica villages. Other than traveling to the Bush, this is the best place to see how humans survived – even thrived – before central heating.

Alaska Heritage Museum MUSEUM
(301 W Northern Lights Blvd; ☺ noon-4pm Mon-Fri)
FREE This museum-in-a-bank is home to the largest private collection of original paintings

CULTURE PASS JOINT TICKET

Anchorage's top two attractions, the Alaska Native Heritage Center and Anchorage Museum, can both be enjoyed at a 30% discount with a special joint-admission ticket. The Culture Pass Joint Ticket is $30 per person and includes admission to both museums as well as shuttle transportation between them. You can purchase the joint pass from the ticket offices at either location.

and Alaska Native artifacts in the state. The collection is so large there are displays in the elevator lobbies throughout the bank.

Alaska Aviation Heritage Museum MUSEUM
(www.alaskaairmuseum.org; 4721 Aircraft Dr; adult/child $10/6; ☀9am-5pm) Ideally located on Lake Hood, the world's busiest floatplane lake, this museum is a tribute to Alaska's colorful Bush pilots and includes 25 of their faithful planes.

Alaska Zoo ZOO
(www.alaskazoo.org; 4731 O'Malley Rd; adult/child $12/6; ☀9am-9pm; ♿) The unique wildlife of the Arctic is on display at the only zoo in North America that specializes in northern animals, ranging from all three species of Alaskan bear to wolverines, moose, caribou and Dall sheep.

Flattop Mountain HIKING
A three- to five-hour, 3.4-mile round-trip of Alaska's most-climbed peak starts from a trailhead on the outskirts of Anchorage. Maps are available at the Alaska Public Lands Information Center (p1099) and the Flattop Mountain Shuttle (☎907-279-3334; www.hike-anchorage-alaska.com; return adult/child $22/15) will run you to the trailhead (and it also runs a hike/bike combo).

Tony Knowles Coastal Trail HIKING
On the other side of the creek from the Flattop Mountain trail, beginning at the west end of 2nd Ave, this 11-mile trail is the most scenic of the city's 122 miles of paved path.

Downtown Bicycle Rental CYCLING
(www.alaska-bike-rentals.com; 333 W 4th Ave; 3-/24-hr rental $16/32; ☀8am-10pm) Anchorage has been called a 'Bike Utopia.' Rent a bike and find out why.

Tours

Rust's Flying Service SCENIC FLIGHT
(☎907-243-1595; www.flyrusts.com; 4525 Enstrom Circle) Has 30-minute tours ($100), a three-hour flight to view Mt McKinley in Denali National Park ($385) and a 1½-hour tour of Knik Glacier ($245).

Anchorage City Trolley Tours BUS TOUR
(☎888-917-8687, 907-775-5603; www.alaskatrolley.com; 612 W 4th Ave; adult/child $20/7.50; ☀tours 9am-5pm) One-hour rides in a bright-red trolley depart on the hour, passing Lake Hood, Earthquake Park and Cook Inlet, among other sights.

Sleeping

Qupqugiaq Inn INN $
(☎907-563-5633; www.qupq.com; 640 W 36th Ave; s/d $90/100, without bathroom $75/85; @☎) ☞ This colorful establishment has a continental breakfast that includes French-pressed coffee, roll-your-own-oats, and homemade waffle mix, and the rooms are bright and clean. Plans are under way for 'sleeping pods' ($45) in 2014.

Alaska Backpackers Inn HOSTEL $
(☎907-277-2770; www.alaskabackpackers.com; 327 Eagle St; dm/s/d $25/60/70; @) A bit east of central downtown, this roomy and comfortable hostel is still within walking distance of restaurants and bars. New annexes offer a chill lobby and deluxe suites ($75).

Spenard Hostel HOSTEL $
(☎907-248-5036; www.alaskahostel.org; 2845 W 42nd Ave; dm $25; @☎) This friendly, independent hostel is near the airport and has 24-hour check-in (you'll need a reservation if you arrive after 11pm) – great for red-eye arrivals in Alaska. There's free coffee in the morning and bike rentals ($3 per hour) are available. You can pitch a tent in the yard for $20.

Wildflower Inn B&B $$
(☎907-274-1239; www.alaska-wildflower-inn.com; 1239 I St; r incl breakfast $144-154; @☎) In a historic home just three blocks south of Delaney Park, this B&B offers three large rooms, pleasant sitting areas and a full breakfast in the morning, including caramelized French toast.

Long House Alaskan Hotel HOTEL $$
(☎888-243-2133, 907-243-2133; www.longhouse-hotel.com; 4335 Wisconsin St; s/d $159/169; ☎) A block off Spenard Rd, this log hotel has 54 huge rooms and lots of amenities including 24-hour shuttle to the airport.

Puffin Inn MOTEL $$
(☎907-243-4044; www.puffininn.net; 4400 Spenard Rd; r $125-165; ☎) Arriving on the red-eye? This motel offers free 24-hour airport shuttle as well as four tiers of fine rooms, from 26 sardine-can economy rooms to full suites.

City Garden B&B B&B $$
(☎907-276-8686; www.citygarden.biz; 1352 W 10th Ave; r $125-175; ☎) This open, sunny, gay-and-lesbian-friendly place has three rooms, one with a private bathroom.

★ Copper Whale Inn INN $$$
 (☎) 866-258-7999; 907-258-7999; www.copperwhale.com; cnr W 5th Ave & L St; r $189-240; (☎) An ideal downtown location, recently remodeled rooms and a bright and elegant interior make this gay-friendly inn one of the best top-end places in Anchorage. Many rooms and the breakfast lounge give way to views of Cook Inlet. Are those beluga whales out there?

Anchorage Downtown Hotel BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$$
 (☎) 907-258-7669; www.anchoragedowntownhotel.com; 826 K St; r $189-212; (☎) This boutique hotel is a very pleasant place to stay, with 16 colorful and comfortable rooms that feature private bathrooms, coffeemakers and small refrigerators. In the morning you're handed a newspaper to start the day.

Millennium Alaskan Hotel HOTEL $$$
 (☎) 907-243-2300; www.millenniumhotels.com; 4800 Spenard Rd; r $249-340; (☎) A large, 248-room resort with a woody lodge feel overlooking Lake Spenard, 4 miles from downtown. Kids love the mounted animals and fish.

🔪 Eating

In Anchorage you'll enjoy great menus, from Polynesian and Mexican to good old burgers, and clean air. All restaurants and bars are smoke-free.

Yak & Yeti ASIAN $
 (www.yakandyetialaska.com; 3301 Spenard Rd; mains $7-13; ☺ 11am-2:30pm & 5-9pm; 🍷) This small restaurant serves Himalayan food: daal, curries, chai and naan. It's excellent. There's no alcohol served but you can bring your own. It also has a cafe in the same complex as REL.

Arctic Roadrunner BURGERS $
 (5300 Old Seward Hwy; burgers $5-7; ☺ 10:30am-9pm Mon-Sat) Since 1964 this place has been turning out beefy burgers that can be enjoyed outdoors while watching salmon spawn up Campbell Creek.

Ray's Place VIETNAMESE $
 (☎) 907-279-2932; www.raysplaceak.com; 32412 Spenard Rd; mains $8-15; ☺ 10am-3pm & 5-9pm Mon-Fri; 🍷) This Vietnamese restaurant does great cold-noodle salads and stir fries and stocks Vietnamese beer. The pho is heavenly on a rainy day.

New Sagaya's City Market SUPERMARKET $
 (www.newsagaya.com; W 13th Ave; ☺ 6am-10pm Mon-Sat, 8am-9pm Sun) Eclectic and upscale, this grocery store has a great deli specializing in Asian fare and seating indoors and outdoors.

★ Snow City Café CAFE $$
 (www.snowcitycafe.com; 1034 W 4th Ave; breakfast $8-15, lunch $10-15; ☺ 7am-3pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat & Sun; ☎) This hip and busy cafe serves healthy grub to a mix of clientele that ranges from the tattooed to the up-and-coming. Surrounding all of them are walls adorned with local art. It's worth reserving a table on the weekend.

Moose's Tooth Pub & Pizzeria PIZZERIA $$
 (www.moosetooth.net; 3300 Old Seward Hwy; large pizza $16-25; ☺ 10:30am-11pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, 11am-11pm Sun; 🍷) An Anchorage institution serving more than a dozen custom-brewed beers, including monthly specials, and 40 gourmet pizzas including 10 veggie options.

Bear Tooth Grill TEX-MEX $$
 (www.beartoothgrill.freshalepubs.com; 1230 W 27th St; burgers $10-16, mains $12-20; ☺ 11am-11:30pm Mon-Fri, 10am-11:30pm Sat & Sun) A popular hangout with an adjacent movie theater, the Bear Tooth Grill serves excellent burgers and seafood as well as Tex-Mex dishes. The margaritas are the best in town, and local Broken Tooth beer is on tap.

Middle Way Cafe CAFE $$
 (www.middlewaycafe.com; lunch & brunch $8-13; ☺ 7am-6pm Mon-Fri, from 8am Sat & Sun; ☎ 🍷) One of Anchorage's best brunch spots (try

📍 MORE AFFORDABLE CAR RENTALS

Avoid renting a car at the airport if at all possible as you will be hit with a 34% rental tax. Rental agencies within Anchorage will tack on only 18% tax and generally have cheaper rates. And while they can't pick you up at the airport, if you drop the car off during business hours some rental places will provide you with a ride to the airport.

Finally, if you can rent a vehicle in May or September as opposed to June or August, you will usually save more than 30%.

the huevos rancheros), but also perfect for sandwiches, salads, coffee and smoothies. It has many vegetarian and dairy- and gluten-free options.

Spenard Roadhouse FUSION $$
(www.spenardroadhouse.com; 1049 W Northern Lights Blvd; mains $9-14 ; ☺ 11am-11pm Mon-Fri, from 9am Sat & Sun; 🍷) Appealing to Anchorage's hipsters with bourbon, beer and bacon. There are inexpensive appetizers including tater tots and TV dinners on Sundays.

Sack's Café FUSION $$$
(☎ 907-274-4022; www.sackscafe.com; 328 G St; lunch mains $12-16, dinner $24-34; ☺ 11am-2:30pm & 5-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) A bright, colorful restaurant serving Asian-Mediterranean fusion fare that is consistently creative (reservations recommended).

Glacier Brewhouse BREWERY $$$
(www.glacierbrewhouse.com; 737 W 5th Ave; lunch $12-19, dinner $18-30; ☺ 11am-9:30pm Mon, to 10pm Tue-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat, noon-9:30pm Sun) Grab a table overlooking the three giant copper brewing tanks and enjoy Alaskan seafood and rotisserie-grilled ribs and chops with a pint of oatmeal stout.

Drinking & Nightlife

Bernie's Bungalow Lounge LOUNGE
(www.berniesak.com; 626 D St) Pretty people, pretty drinks: this is the place to see and be seen. The outdoor patio, with a water-spewing serpentine, is the city's best and on summer weekends it rocks late into the night with live music.

Crush WINE BAR
(www.crushak.com; 343 W 6th Ave) This swanky club and restaurant is a great place for a glass of wine or the entire bottle - plus small bites.

Snow Goose & Sleeping Lady Brewing Co BREWERY
(717 W 3rd Ave) If the sun is setting over Cook Inlet and the Alaska Range, head to the rooftop deck of this brewpub. Only the beer is better than the view.

Humpy's Great Alaskan Alehouse PUB
(www.humpys.com; 610 W 6th Ave; mains $15-21; 🍷) Anchorage's most beloved beer place, with almost 60 beers on tap. There's also ale-battered halibut, gourmet pizzas, outdoor tables and live music most nights.

★ Entertainment

Check the Anchorage Press for the latest entertainment listings.

★ Chilkoot Charlie's LIVE MUSIC
(www.koots.com; 2435 Spenard Rd) 'Koots,' as locals call this beloved landmark, is big and brash, with 10 bars, four dance floors and sawdust everywhere. There's live music every night and $2.50 pints until 10pm.

Tap Root LIVE MUSIC
(www.taprootalaska.com; 3300 Spenard Rd) With the addition of Tap Root, Spenard Rd cemented its reputation as the heart of Anchorage nightlife. The lively bar has 20 microbrews on tap, an impressive list of single-malt Scotch whiskeys and live bands every night of the week.

Cyrano's Theatre Company THEATER
(☎ 907-274-2599; www.cyranos.org; 413 D St) This may be the best live theater in town, staging everything from Hamlet to a Mel Brooks' jazz musical, with a strong commitment to local theater artists and Alaskan playwrights.

Mad Myrna's DANCE
(☎ 907-276-9762; 530 E 5th Ave) A fun, cruisy bar with drag shows on Friday and dance music most other nights after 9pm.

Shopping

Oomingmak Musk Ox Producers Co-op CLOTHING
(www.qviut.com; 604 H St) Handles a variety of very soft, very warm and very expensive garments made of arctic musk-ox wool, hand-knitted in isolated Inupiaq villages.

REI OUTDOOR EQUIPMENT
(1200 W Northern Lights Blvd; ☺ 10am-8pm Mon-Fri, to 7pm Sat, to 6pm Sun) The large REI has the city's finest selection of backpacking, kayaking and camping gear.

ANMC Craft Shop ARTS & CRAFTS
(☎ 907-729-1122; 4315 Diplomacy Dr; ☺ 10am-2pm Mon-Fri, 11am-2pm 1st & 3rd Sat of month) On the 1st floor of the Alaska Native Medical Center; has some of the finest Alaska Native arts and crafts available to the public.

Information

INTERNET ACCESS

ZJ Loussac Public Library (☎ 907-343-2975; www.anchoragelibrary.org; 3600 Denali St; ☺ 10am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 6pm Fri & Sat, 1-5pm Sun) Free internet access.

MEDIA

Tourist freebies are available everywhere, including the Official Anchorage Visitors Guide.

Anchorage Daily News (www.adn.com) This daily has the largest circulation in the state.

Anchorage Press (www.anchoragepress.com) A fabulous free weekly with events listings and social commentary.

MEDICAL SERVICES

Alaska Regional Hospital (☎ 907-276-1131; 2801 DeBarr Rd; ☺ 24hr) For emergency care.

First Care Medical Center (☎ 907-248-1122; 3710 Woodland Dr, suite 1100; ☺ 7am-11pm) Walk-in clinic in midtown.

Providence Alaska Medical Center (☎ 907-562-2211; 3200 Providence Dr; ☺ 24hr)

MONEY

Key Bank (☎ 907-257-5502; 601 W 5th Ave) Downtown.

Wells Fargo (☎ 907-265-2805; 301 W Northern Lights Blvd) The main bank is in midtown.

POST

Post Office (344 W 3rd Ave) Downtown in the Village at Ship Creek Center.

TOURIST INFORMATION

Alaska Public Lands Information Center (☎ 866-869-6887, 907-644-3661; www.alaska-centers.gov; 605 W 4th Ave, suite 105; ☺ 9am-5pm) Has park, trail and cabin information as well as excellent displays.

Log Cabin Visitor Center (☎ 907-257-2363; www.anchorage.net; 524 W 4th Ave; ☺ 8am-7pm) Has pamphlets, maps, bus schedules and city guides.

i Getting There & Around

TO/FROM THE AIRPORT

Alaska Shuttle (☎ 907-694-8888, 907-338-8888; www.alaskashuttle.net) offers door-to-door transportation between the airport and downtown and South Anchorage (one to three people $50) and Eagle River ($55). The city's bus service (People Mover) picks up from the South Terminal (bus 7) on a route that heads back downtown.

THE BEST OF THE REST OF ALASKA

Came for a quick peek and are so smitten by the grandeur of Alaska you want to linger? Go ahead; skip Nebraska and stay another week or two. Here's more of Alaska that's worth changing your travel plans for:

- ➔ A breathtaking wilderness, Denali National Park & Preserve (☎ 907-683-2294; www.nps.gov/dena) includes North America's highest peak and an amazing array of wildlife.
- ➔ At the tip of the Kenai Peninsula, Homer (www.homer.alaska.org) is a scenic town with good eating, a great art scene and giant halibut offshore.
- ➔ There's great hiking in Chena River State Recreation Area and Mother Nature's own Jacuzzi to soak in afterwards at Chena Hot Springs (www.chenahotspings.com).
- ➔ To watch giant brown bears snag salmon in mid-air or to hike in the Valley of 10,000 Smokes, come to Katmai National Park (www.nps.gov/katm).
- ➔ Another scenic Kenai Peninsula town, Seward (www.sewardak.org) is the place to go for marine wildlife in Kenia Fjords National Park or Alaska SeaLife Center (☎ 800-224-2525; www.alaskasealife.org; 301 Railway Ave; adult/child $20/10; ☺ 8am-7pm).
- ➔ Stretching between Seward and Fairbanks, the Alaska Railroad (www.akrr.com) is one of the most amazing train rides in the world.
- ➔ Walk the same streets that Wyatt Earp did in the colorful gold-rush town of Nome (www.nomealaska.org) or pan for some color on Golden Sands Beach.
- ➔ At the end of the McCarthy Rd in the heart of Wrangell—St Elias National Park, the country's largest, are the twins towns of Kennecott and McCarthy (www.nps.gov/wrst), full of history, artifacts and glaciers.
- ➔ Childs Glacier alone makes it worth jumping on the Alaska Marine Highway for the fishing port of Cordova (www.cordovachamber.com) in Prince William Sound.
- ➔ The most amazing ferry trip in the USA is the Trusty Tusty (www.ferryalaska.com) run to Unalaska, a four-day cruise from Homer to the Aleutian Islands.

AIR

Ted Stevens Anchorage International Airport (p1085) has frequent inter- and intra-state flights. Terminals are off International Airport Rd. Alaska Airlines (p1085) flies to 19 Alaskan towns, including Fairbanks, Juneau, Nome and Barrow.

Era Aviation (☎907-266-8394, 800-866-8394; www.flyera.com) Flies to Cordova, Valdez, Kodiak and Homer.

Pen Air (☎800-448-4226; www.penair.com) Serves southwest Alaska.

BUS

People Mover (☎907-343-6543; www.peoplemover.org; adult/child $1.75/1) is the local bus service; its main terminal is located at the Downtown Transit Center (cnr W 6th Ave & G St). For more bus options, see p1086.

CAR

Midnight Sun Car & Van Rental (☎888-877-3585, 907-243-8806; www.ineedacarrental.com; 4211 Spenard Rd) rents compacts (per day/week $70/420), as does Denali Car Rental (☎907-276-1230; www.akdenalicarrental.com; 1209 Gambell St) for $65/390.

TRAIN

Alaska Railroad (☎907-265-2494; www.akrr.com) chugs its way south to Whittier (adult/child $74/37, 2½ hours) and Seward ($79/40, four hours), and north to Denali ($150/75, eight hours) and then Fairbanks ($216/108, 12 hours).

Hawaii

Includes ➔

O'ahu .....	1104
Honolulu & Waikiki .....	1104
Pearl Harbor .....	1107
Hawai'i, the Big Island.....	1109
Mauna Kea.....	1111
Hilo .....	1112
Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park.....	1113
Maui .....	1114
Kaua'i.....	1118

Best Beaches

- ➔ Kailua Beach (p1108)
- ➔ Malaekahana State Recreation Area (p1108)
- ➔ Anaeho'omalua Beach Park (p1111)
- ➔ Kapalua Beach (p1114)
- ➔ Pali Ke Kua (Hideaways) Beach (p1119)

Best Small Towns

- ➔ Hale'iwa (p1109)
- ➔ Hilo (p1112)
- ➔ Pa'ia (p1117)
- ➔ Hanalei (p1119)
- ➔ Hanapepe (p1120)

Why Go?

Truth: this string of emerald islands in the cobalt-blue Pacific, more than 2000 miles from any continent, takes work to get to. And besides, aren't these beaches totally crushed by sun-baked tourists and cooing honeymooners? Cue the galloping Hawaii Five-O theme music, Elvis crooning and lei-draped beauties dancing hula beneath wind-rustled palms.

Hawaii, as tourist bureaus and Hollywood constantly remind us, is 'paradise.' Push past the hype and you may find they're not far wrong. Hawaii is diving coral-reef cities in the morning and listening to slack key guitar at sunset. It's biting into juicy liliko'i (passion fruit) with hibiscus flowers in your hair. These Polynesian islands are an expression of nature's diversity at its most divine, from fiery volcanoes to lacy rainforest waterfalls to crystal-clear aquamarine bays.

Locals know Hawaii isn't always paradise, but on any given day it can sure feel like it.

When to Go

Honolulu

Dec–Apr Slightly cooler, wetter weather; peak season for tourism, surfing and whale-watching.

May–Sep Mostly sunny, cloudless days; summer vacation keeps beaches and resorts busy.

Oct–Nov Hotter, extremely humid weather; fewer visitors mean cheaper accommodations.

Hawaii Highlights

1 Exploring multicultural Honolulu (p1104), with its eye-popping museums and ethnic eats.

2 Snorkeling with tropical fish and sea turtles in Hanauma Bay (p1108).

3 Watching prosurf the monster winter waves on O'ahu's epic North Shore (p1109).

4 Witnessing the eruption of a living volcano inside Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park (p1113).

5 Stargazing atop Hawaii's highest mountain, Mauna Kea (p1111), on the Big Island.

6 Catching dawn over Maui's 'house of the rising sun' at Haleakalā National Park (p1118).

7 Driving Maui's twisting seaside Hana Highway (p1117) past black-sand beaches and jungle cascades.

8 Trekking the sculpted sea cliffs of Kaua'i's epic Na Pali Coast (p1119).

9 Kayaking Kaua'i's sacred Wailua River (p1118) to secret waterfall swimming holes.

History

Little is known about Hawai'i's first Polynesian settlers, who arrived around AD 500. Tahitians had landed by AD 1000 and, for the next three centuries, navigated thousands of miles back and forth across the Pacific Ocean in double-hulled canoes. Ruled by chiefs, ancient Hawaiian society and its religion followed strict laws known as kapu.

Beginning in the 1790s, a Big Island chief named Kamehameha conquered and united the main Hawaiian Islands. He is credited with bringing peace and stability to a society that was often in flux due to wars and ruling-class power struggles. After Kamehameha's death in 1819, his son Liholiho inherited the throne, while Kamehameha's favored wife, Ka'ahumanu, became co-regent. In a stunning repudiation of traditional Hawaiian religion, these rulers deliberately violated kapu, an act followed up by the destruction of many temples.

Christian missionaries arrived soon after and, amid Hawai'i's social and spiritual chaos, began to 'save souls.' New England whalers also weighed anchor, and by the 1840s Lahaina and Honolulu were the busiest whaling towns in the Pacific. Foreign residents made a grab for Hawai'i's fertile land, turning vast tracts into sugarcane plantations; needing field workers, they encouraged a flood of immigrants from Asia and Europe. This gave rise to Hawai'i's multi-ethnic culture, but also displaced Native Hawaiians, who mostly became landless.

In 1893 a group of American businessmen overthrew the Hawaiian monarchy. The US government was initially reluctant to support the coup, but soon rationalized colonialism by citing the islands' strategic economic, political and military importance, annexing Hawaii in 1898. Hawaii played another pivotal role in history when a surprise attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941 catapulted the US into WWII. Hawaii became the 50th state in 1959.

Local Culture

Compared to 'the mainland' – a blanket term for the rest of the US – Hawaii may as well be another country. Not coincidentally, some Native Hawaiians would like to restore its status as an independent nation. Both geologically and culturally speaking, Hawaii developed in isolation and, like its flora and fauna, island lifestyles are unique.

No ethnicity can claim a majority, but this racial diversity is distinct from typical US multiculturalism: Hawaii has large Asian populations and tiny African American and Latino communities. About 10% of residents identify themselves as Native Hawaiian.

As befits a tropical paradise, Hawaii is decidedly casual. Except in cosmopolitan Honolulu, aloha shirts and sandals or 'rub-bah slippah' (flip-flops) are acceptable attire for almost any occasion. Socializing revolves around food and family, and fun means sports and outdoor pursuits. Caring for the land and the community are intertwined.

Then there's aloha. It's a greeting, meaning hello or goodbye. But beyond that, it describes a gentle, everyday practice of openness, hospitality and loving welcome – one that's extended to everyone, including visitors.

Language

Hawaii has two official state languages, English and Hawaiian, and one unofficial language, pidgin. The Hawaiian language has experienced a renaissance but, outside a formal setting (eg classroom, performance), you are unlikely to hear it spoken. All residents speak English, but when locals 'talk story' with each other they may reach for the relaxed, fun-loving cadences of pidgin. Pidgin developed on sugar plantations as a common tongue for immigrant workers.

HAWAII FACTS

Nickname Aloha State

Population 1.4 million

Area 6423 sq miles

Capital city Honolulu (population 337,250)

Sales tax 4% (4.5% on O'ahu)

Birthplace of Olympian Duke Kahanamoku (1890–1968), entertainer Don Ho (1930–2007), President Barack Obama (b 1961), actor Nicole Kidman (b 1967)

Home of Ukulele and the USA's only royal palace

Politics Majority vote Democrat, minority Native Hawaiian separatists

Famous for Surfing, hula, mai tais, the world's longest-erupting volcano

State fish Humuhumunukunuuapua'a (reef triggerfish, literally 'fish with a nose like a pig')

O'AHU

O'ahu is the ali'i (chief) of Hawaii's main islands – so much so that others are referred to as 'Neighbor Islands.' Honolulu is the center of state government, commerce and culture, while nearby Waikiki's beaches gave birth to the whole tiki-craze fantasia. If you want to take the measure of Hawaii's diversity, O'ahu offers the full buffet in one tidy package: in the blink of an eye you can go from crowded metropolis to turquoise bays teeming with sea life – and surfers.

i Getting There & Around

Honolulu International Airport (HNL; ☎ 808-836-6411; <http://hawaii.gov/hnl>; 300 Rodgers Blvd, Honolulu) is Hawaii's major air hub. From the US mainland, fares start around $400 from California. Roberts Hawaii (☎ 800-831-5541, 808-441-7800; www.airportwaikikishuttle.com) runs 24-hour airport shuttles to/from Waikiki (one way/return $13/24).

Hawaiian Airlines (☎ 800-367-5320; www.hawaiianairlines.com) and go! (☎ 888-435-9462; www.iflygo.com) are the main carriers flying between islands. Service is frequent and flight times are short; one-way fares vary wildly from $80 to $180 (book ahead).

O'ahu's public transit system, TheBus (☎ 808-848-5555; www.thebus.org; fare $2.50, 4-day visitor pass $25; ☎ infoline 5:30am-10pm), covers the entire island, excluding most hiking trailheads and scenic lookouts.

Honolulu & Waikiki

Among its many museums, historical sites and cultural offerings, Honolulu is also a foodie haven dishing up everything from cheap noodles to gourmet Hawaii Regional Cuisine. Saunter over to Waikiki Beach to lounge on the sand, play in the water, hear Hawaiian music and watch hula dancers sway after sunset.

i Sights

Neighboring downtown Honolulu, Chinatown lends itself to exploring on foot. Bring an appetite – you'll be grazing pan-Asian marketplaces and cafes between antique and lei shops, temples and art galleries.

★ Bishop Museum

MUSEUM

(☎ museum 808-847-3511, planetarium 808-848-4136; www.bishopmuseum.org; 1525 Bernice St; adult/child $20/15; ☎ 9am-5pm Wed-Mon; ♿ ♻)

☞ Ranked among the world's best Polynesian anthropological museums, Bishop Museum boasts impressive cultural displays such as the triple-decker Hawaiian Hall. The family-oriented Science Adventure Center puts kids virtually inside an erupting volcano.

★ 'Iolani Palace

PALACE

(☎ info 808-538-1471, tour reservations 808-522-0832/0823; www.iolanipalace.org; 364 S King St;

HAWAII IN...

Four Days

Anyone on a trans-Pacific stopover will land at Honolulu, so spend the few days you have on O'ahu. In between surfing and sunning on Waikiki Beach, check out Honolulu's museums and wander the city's Chinatown, summit Diamond Head and snorkel Hanauma Bay. In winter, admire monster waves on the North Shore.

One Week

With a week, fit in another island – say, Maui. Explore the old whaling town of Lahaina, head to Haleakalā National Park to see the sunrise above the volcano's summit, take a whale-watching cruise, snorkel or dive Molokini Crater, drive the serpentine Hana Highway and swim in waterfall pools at Ohe'o Gulch.

Two Weeks

With two weeks, tack on a third island. On Hawai'i, the Big Island, explore ancient Hawaiian ways at Pu'uhonua O Honaunau National Historical Park, lounge on golden beaches in North Kona and South Kohala, visit coffee farms in South Kona and say aloha to Pele at Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park.

If you choose Kaua'i, kayak the Wailua River, hike Waimea Canyon and Koke'e State Parks, hang ten at Hanaiei Bay, and trek or paddle past towering sea cliffs on the Na Pali Coast.

grounds admission free, adult/child basement galleries $7/3, self-guided audio tour $15/6, guided tour $22/6; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Sat, last entry 4pm) In the heart of downtown Honolulu, this historical site where the monarchy was overthrown offers a glimpse into the Kingdom of Hawai'i's final decades. Reservations recommended for guided tours.

★ Honolulu Museum of Art MUSEUM
(☎808-532-8700; www.honoluluuseum.org; 900 S Beretania St; adult/child $10/5, free 1st Wed & 3rd Sun each month; ☎10am-4:30pm Tue-Sat, 1-5pm Sun, also 6-9pm last Fri each month Jan-Oct; P ♿) Displays must-see collections of Asian, European and Pacific art. Reserve ahead for offsite tours ($25) of Doris Duke's former mansion Shangri La, a trove of Islamic art, near Diamond Head.

Hawai'i State Art Museum MUSEUM
(☎808-586-0900; www.hawaii.gov/sfca; 2nd fl, No 1 Capitol District Bldg, 250 S Hotel St; ☎10am-4pm Tue-Sat, also 6-9pm 1st Fri each month) ♻️ FREE
Showcases traditional and modern works by multicultural island artists.

Lyon Arboretum GARDEN
(☎info 808-988-0456, tour reservations 808-988-0461; www.hawaii.edu/lyonarboetum; 3860 Manoa Rd; donation $5, guided tour $5; ☎8am-4pm Mon-Fri, 9am-3pm Sat, tours usually 10am Mon-Fri; P ♿) 🌿 Wander tree-shaded nature trails and a Hawaiian ethnobotanical garden.

Waikiki Aquarium AQUARIUM
(☎808-923-9741; www.waqaarium.org; 2777 Kalakaua Ave; adult/child $9/2; ☎9am-5pm, last entry 4:30pm; ♿) 🌿 Eco-conscious educational exhibits about marine wildlife and hands-on touch tanks.

🚶 Activities

It's all about looong Waikiki Beach. Catamarans and outrigger canoes pull right up onto the sand, while concession stands offer surf lessons and rent boards. For a swim without the tourist crowds, head to mile-long Ala Moana Beach Park (1201 Ala Moana Blvd; P ♿), just west of Waikiki.

Several of Honolulu's hiking trails in the verdant upper Manoa and Makiki Valleys offer sweeping city views. A few are just barely accessible by TheBus, including the 1.6-mile-long round-trip to Manoa Falls. Consult Na Ala Hele (<http://hawaii-trails.ehawaii.gov>) for trail information and directions.

★ Festivals & Events

To discover many more celebrations on all islands, browse www.gohawaii.com.

Waikiki Spam Jam FOOD
(www.spamjamhawaii.com; ☎late April; ♿) This street festival goes nuts for canned Spam.

Mele Mei MUSIC, ART
(www.melemei.com; ☎May) May's month-long celebration of Hawaiian music and hula.

Pan-Pacific Festival ART, CULTURE
(www.pan-pacific-festival.com; ☎early Jun) Three days of Japanese, Hawaiian and South Pacific entertainment.

★ Aloha Festivals ART, CULTURE
(www.alohafestivals.com; ☎September)
Statewide cultural festival brings a royal court and block party to Waikiki.

🛏 Sleeping

Waikiki's main beachfront strip is lined with swanky high-rise resort hotels; for better-value hotels, head inland. Overnight hotel parking averages over $20. Partying international backpacker hostels line back-alley Lemon Rd.

Hostelling International (HI) Waikiki HOSTEL $
(☎808-926-8313; www.hostelsaloha.com; 2417 Prince Edward St; dm/r from $25/58, all with shared bath; ☎reception 7am-3am; P @ ☎) Inside a converted apartment building, this tidy hostel is set back from the beach. Sex-segregated, fan-cooled dormitories share a kitchen, coin-op laundry and lockers. No curfew, alcohol or smoking. Reservations essential.

Hotel Renew BOUTIQUE HOTEL $$
(☎808-687-7700, 888-485-7639; www.hotelrenew.com; 129 Pa'oakalani Ave; r from $180; P @ ☎) 🌿 Just a block from the beach, this eco-savvy, gay-friendly boutique hotel satisfies sophisticated urbanites and romantic dreamers alike with sleek rooms, attentive staff and loads of little niceties.

Aqua Hospitality HOTELS, RESORTS $$
(☎808-924-6543, 866-406-2782; www.aquahospitality.com; r from $80; P @ ☎) The O'ahu hotels of this value-priced boutique chain are Lotus, Bamboo, Skyline, Pearl and Palms.

Outrigger & Ohana HOTELS, RESORTS $$
(☎866-956-4262; www.outrigger.com; r/apt from $95/190; P @ ☎) Best O'ahu beach hotels in this Hawaii-wide chain: Reef on the Beach, Regency on Beachwalk and Waikiki on the Beach.

Aston

HOTELS, CONDOS $$
(☎ 808-924-2924, 877-997-6667; www.astonhotels.com; r/apartment from $125/140; P ♻️ @ 📶 🚰) Family-friendly chain's decent value hotels on O'ahu: Waikiki Banyan, Waikiki Circle and Waikiki Beach.

★ Royal Hawaiian

RESORT $$$
(☎ 808-923-7311, 866-716-8110; www.royal-hawaiian.com; 2259 Kalakaua Ave; r from $400; P ♻️ @ 📶 🚰) With its Spanish Moorish-style turrets, the aristocratic, oh-so-pink Royal Hawaiian was Waikiki's first true luxury hotel. It's now spiffier than ever, thanks to multi-million-dollar renovations. For old-school ambience, ask for the historic section; for ocean views, stick with the modern tower.

🔪 Eating

Honolulu is a multiethnic chowhound capital, from Chinatown's streetfront kitchens to locals' joints near Ala Moana Center and star chef's kitchens by the beach.

★ Marukame Udon

JAPANESE $
(www.facebook.com/marukameudon; 2310 Kuhio Ave; dishes $2-8; ☺ 7-9am & 11am-10pm; ♿) Off-duty military personnel, Asian tourists, budget backpackers and hotel employees all love Waikiki's cafeteria-style Japanese noodle shop. Stack plates of tempura and musubi on your self-service tray, washing everything down with iced barley tea. Lines are loooooong.

Me BBQ

LOCAL, KOREAN $
(151 Uluniu Ave; meals $5-12; ☺ 7am-8:45pm Mon-Sat; ♿) No-nonsense takeout counter dishes up plentiful island-style mixed plates – devour 'em at sidewalk picnic tables or picnic by the beach.

Leonard's

BAKERY $
(www.leonardshawaii.com; 933 Kapahulu Ave; snacks from $1; ☺ 5:30am-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat; ♿) O'ahu's best hot, oven-fresh malasadas (Portuguese doughnuts).

Lucky Belly

ASIAN, FUSION $$
(☎ 808-531-1888; www.luckybelly.com; 50 N Hotel St; mains $8-14; ☺ 11am-2pm & 5pm-midnight Mon-Sat) At this eatery in Chinatown's arts district, pop art hangs over bistro tables. Diners pack in elbows-to-shoulders for hot, spicy pan-Asian bites, fatty ramen bowls, knock-out artisanal cocktails and amazingly fresh, almost architectural salads.

Side Street Inn

LOCAL $$
(☎ 808-591-0253; www.sidestreetinn.com; 1225 Hopaka St; mains $7-20; ☺ 2pm-2am, takeout only 10am-2pm Mon-Fri) Outside it looks like hell, but Honolulu's top chefs hang out after work at this late-night sports bar near Ala Moana Center. Divinely tender Korean-style kalbi short ribs and pork chops are signature dishes. Bring a group. Also in Waikiki.

Haili's Hawaiian Foods

HAWAIIAN $$
(http://hailishawaiianfood.com; 760 Palani Ave; meals $11-16; ☺ 10am-7pm Tue-Thu, to 8pm Fri & Sat, 11am-3pm Sun) 🍷 Locals shoehorn themselves into this storefront for heaping plates of Hawaiian home cooking – kalua pig, tomilomi salmon and laulau wraps – served with scoops of poi or rice.

★ Roy's Waikiki

HAWAIIAN REGIONAL CUISINE $$$
(☎ 808-923-7697; www.royshawaii.com; 226 Lewers St; mains $30-42, 3-course prix-fixe menu without/with wine pairings $47/67; ☺ 11am-9:30pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) Groundbreaking chef Roy Yamaguchi doesn't actually cook here, but his signature miso-yaki butterfish, blackened ahi (tuna), macadamia nut-encrusted mahimahi and deconstructed sushi rolls always appear on the menu. Reservations essential.

LOCAL KNOWLEDGE

'ONO KINE GRINDS

'Local grinds' is a catch-all pidgin term for the satisfying comfort foods of Hawaii's polyglot cultures. It means Native Hawaiian favorites such as kalua pork (traditionally roasted in an underground oven), laulau (meat wrapped and steamed in ti leaves) and poi (mashed fermented taro). It includes endless varieties of poke (cubed, marinated raw fish). It's a morning loco moco (rice, fried eggs, hamburger patty and gravy) followed by an afternoon plate lunch (fried or grilled meat, 'two-scoop' rice and macaroni salad) and for dessert, Chinese crack seed (preserved fruit) or rainbow shave ice.

In Honolulu, daily Hawaii Food Tours (☎ 808-926-3663; www.hawaiifood-tours.com; tours from $99) sample Chinatown's holes-in-the-wall, 'ono (delicious) plate lunches, famous bakeries, candy shops and more (reservations required).

Drinking & Entertainment

Waikiki is bursting with Hawaiian hula and live music. Honolulu's hippest nightlife scene revolves around Hotel St in Chinatown's once notorious red-light district.

Thirtyninehotel

LOUNGE, CLUB

(☎ 808-599-2552; www.thirtyninehotel.com; 39 N Hotel St; ☎ 4pm-2am Tue-Sat) More arty than clubby, this space is a gallery by day, low-key lounge after dark. DJs spin on weekends, while live bands test the acoustics some weeknights.

Hula's Bar & Lei Stand

GAY BAR

(www.hulas.com; 2nd fl, Castle Waikiki Grand, 134 Kapahulu Ave; ☎ 10am-2am; ☎) Breezy ocean-view lanai (balcony) gazes at Diamond Head and Queen's Surf Beach, a prime destination for a sun-worshipping LGBTQ crowd.

★ House Without a Key

LIVE MUSIC, HULA

(☎ 808-923-2311; www.halekulani.com; Halekulani, 2199 Kalia Rd; ☎ 7am-9pm, live music usually 5:30-8:30pm) At this genteel open-air oceanfront bar beside a century-old kiawe tree, lilting Hawaiian music accompanies hula dancing by former Miss Hawaii pageant winners.

Kuhio Beach Hula Show

LIVE MUSIC, HULA

(☎ 808-843-8002; www.honolulu.gov/moca; Kuhio Beach Park, off Kalakaua Ave; ☎ usually 6-7pm or 6:30-7:30pm Tue, Thu, Sat & Sun, weather permitting; ☎) FREE Bask in the warm aloha with performances by local hula troupes and musicians at this city-sponsored show near Waikiki's Duke Kahanamoku statue.

Shopping

★ Native Books/Nā

Mea Hawaii

BOOKS, GIFTS

(☎ 808-597-8967; www.nativebookshawaii.com; Ward Warehouse, 1050 Ala Moana Blvd; ☎ 10am-8:30pm Mon-Thu, to 9pm Fri & Sat, to 6pm Sun) Specializes in Hawaiiana books, CDs and artisan crafts; also hosts free cultural workshops in hula dancing, Hawaiian language, lei-making and lauhala weaving, ukulele playing etc.

Bailey's Antiques & Aloha Shirts

CLOTHING, ANTIQUES

(<http://alohashirts.com>; 517 Kapahulu Ave; ☎ 10am-6pm) Hawaii's most encyclopedic collection of vintage and contemporary aloha shirts promises thousands of choices, so you're guaranteed to find something memorable.

Tin Can Mailman

ANTIQUES, BOOKS

(<http://tincanmailman.net>; 1026 Nu'uuanu Ave; ☎ 11am-5pm Mon-Thu, to 4pm Fri & Sat) If you're a fan of tiki ware and 20th-century books and prints about the Hawaiian Islands, you'll fall in love with this little Chinatown shop.

Island Slipper

SHOES

(www.islandslipper.com; Ward Warehouse, 1050 Ala Moana Blvd; ☎ 10am-9pm Mon-Sat, to 8pm Sun) Slip on a comfy pair of island-made 'rubba slippah' (flip-flops).

Kamaka Hawaii

MUSIC

(☎ 808-531-3165; www.kamakahawaii.com; 550 South St; ☎ 8am-4pm Mon-Fri) ☎ Handcrafted ukuleles since 1916; call ahead for factory tours.

i Information

At Waikiki and university neighborhood cybercafes, internet costs about $6 to $12 per hour.

Hawaii State Library (☎ 808-586-3500; www.librarieshawaii.org; 478 S King St; ☎ 10am-5pm Mon & Wed, 9am-5pm Tue, Fri & Sat, 9am-8pm Thu; ☎) Temporary visitor card ($10) allows free internet access at any public library statewide.

Hawaii Visitors & Convention Bureau

(☎ 808-923-1811, 800-464-2924; www.gohawaii.com; suite 801, Waikiki Business Plaza, 2270 Kalakaua Ave; ☎ 8am-4:30pm Mon-Fri) Stocks the same tourist brochures as at the airport.

Queen's Medical Center

(☎ 808-538-9011; www.queensmedicalcenter.net; 1301 Punchbowl St; ☎ 24hr) Honolulu's biggest hospital and ER.

Pearl Harbor

On December 7, 1941, a Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor took 2500 military and civilian lives, destroyed 20 ships and fatefully pushed the US into WWII. Today about 1.6 million people a year remember 'a date which will live in infamy' by visiting the USS Arizona Memorial (☎ 808-422-3300; www.nps.gov/valr; 1 Arizona Memorial Pl; admission free, boat-tour reservation fee $1.50; ☎ 7am-5pm, boat tours 8am-3pm) FREE. The memorial sits directly over the sunken USS Arizona; visitors look down at the shallow wreck, still a tomb for 1177 sailors. On shore, the NPS visitor center and museum runs 75-minute tours including a documentary film and boat ride to the memorial. Reserve tours in advance online (www.recreation.gov);

i PEARL HARBOR 411

Strict security measures are in place at Pearl Harbor's memorials, museums and visitor center. You may not bring in any items that allow concealment (eg purses, camera bags, fanny packs, backpacks, diaper bags). Wallets and personal-sized cameras and camcorders are allowed. Don't lock valuables in your car – use the storage facility (per bag $3) outside the main entrance.

otherwise, first-come, first-served tickets may all be gone by mid-morning.

Visit the adjacent USS Bowfin Submarine Museum & Park (☎808-423-1341; www.bowfin.org; 11 Arizona Memorial Dr; museum adult/child $5/3, incl self-guided submarine tour $10/4; ☀7am-5pm, last entry 4:30pm) to clamber down inside the 'Pearl Harbor Avenger' submarine. Shuttle buses head over to the hangar-sized Pacific Aviation Museum (☎808-441-1000; www.pacificaviationmuseum.org; 319 Lexington Blvd, Ford Island; adult/child $20/10, incl guided tour $30/20; ☀9am-5pm, last entry 4pm) and the Battleship Missouri Memorial (☎808-455-1600, 877-644-4896; www.usssmissouri.com; 63 Cowpens St, Ford Island; admission incl tour adult/child from $22/11; ☀8am-4pm, to 5pm Jun-Aug) on Ford Island. Interestingly, the 'Mighty Mo' hosted the Japanese surrender ending WWII.

From Waikiki and Honolulu, buses 42 and 20 stop at Pearl Harbor ($2.50, one hour).

Diamond Head & Southeast O'ahu

O'ahu's southeast coast abounds in dramatic scenery and outdoor activities. For windy 360-degree panoramas, make the 0.8-mile climb up Diamond Head (www.hawaiistateparks.org; off Diamond Head Rd btwn Makapu'u & 18th Aves; per pedestrian/car $1/5; ☀6am-6pm, last trail entry 4:30pm; 🚰), the 760ft extinct volcano tuff cone visible from Waikiki.

Go eyeball-to-mask with tropical fish at Hanauma Bay (☎808-396-4229; www.honolulu.gov/parks/facility/hanaumabay; Hanauma Bay Rd, off Hwy 72; adult/child $7.50/free; ☀6am-6pm Wed-Mon Nov-Mar, to 7pm Wed-Mon Apr-Oct; 🚰), a turquoise bathtub set in a rugged volcanic ring. For the best snorkeling conditions, arrive early. You can rent snorkel gear on-site. Parking costs $1, but when the lot fills, often by mid-morning, all cars are turned away. From Waikiki, take bus 22 ($2.50, 45 minutes, no service Tuesday).

Long and lovely Sandy Beach Park, along Hwy 72 northeast of Hanauma Bay, offers very challenging, even life-risking bodysurfing with punishing shorebreaks, making it a favorite of pros – and exhilarating to watch. Bus 22 also stops here.

Kailua & Windward Coast

The snaggletoothed Ko'olau Mountains are scenic backdrop for the entire Windward Coast. From Honolulu, drive the Pali Hwy (Hwy 61) over the mountains, stopping at the windy lookout at Nu'uuanu Pali State Wayside (www.hawaiistateparks.org; per car $3; ☀sunrise-sunset).

Beneath the windswept pali (cliffs) sits beautiful Kailua Beach, O'ahu's top windsurfing spot, while offshore islands are popular with kayakers. Water-sports gear rental, lessons and tours are available from several outfitters, including Kailua Sailboards & Kayaks (☎808-262-2555, 888-457-5737; www.kailuasailboards.com; Kailua Beach Center, 130 Kailua Rd; ☀8:30am-5pm Mon-Sat) near the beach. Kailua has plenty of sleeping and eating options, and makes a good adventure base camp. For B&Bs, cottages and condos, check with Affordable Paradise (☎808-261-1693; www.affordable-paradise.com). From Honolulu, take bus 57 ($2.50, 45 minutes).

Other jewel-like Windward Coast beaches include reef-protected Waimanalo Bay, cinematic Kualoa Regional Park and Malaekahana State Recreation Area (www.hawaiistateparks.org; Kamehameha Hwy; ☀7am-7:45pm Apr-early Sep, 7am-6:45pm early Sep-Mar) FREE, a dramatic stretch near La'ie for swimming, windsurfing or snorkeling, with Moku'auia (Goat Island), a near-shore bird sanctuary. To see where Hurley built his Lost golf course, Godzilla left his footprints and Jurassic Park dinosaurs rampaged, tour Kualoa Ranch (☎808-237-7321, 800-231-7321; www.kualoa.com; 49-560 Kamehameha Hwy; tours adult/child from $26/15; ☀tours 9am-3pm; 🚰); reservations are advised.

Run by the Mormon church, La'ie's Polynesian Cultural Center (PCC; ☎800-367-7060; www.polynesia.com; 55-370 Kamehameha Hwy; adult/child from $50/36; ☀noon-5pm Mon-Sat; 🚗) is a tour-bus theme park with villages, performances and luau buffets – only Pearl Harbor draws more visitors. Further northwest in Kahuku, roadside food trucks sell plates of fried shrimp for around $15 – expect long lines around lunchtime.

From Honolulu, bus 55 trundles along the Windward Coast via Kaneohe to Hale'iwa ($2.50, 2¼ hours).

Hale'iwa & North Shore

O'ahu's North Shore is legendary for the massive 30ft winter waves that thunder against its beaches. In the 1950s surfers learned to ride these deadly waves, and today the North Shore hosts the world's premier pro contest, the Triple Crown of Surfing (<http://vanstripelcrownofsurfing.com>), every November and December.

The gateway to the North Shore, Hale'iwa is the region's only real town – along its main drag you'll spot art galleries, shops selling surf gear and bikinis and rusty pickup trucks with surfboards tied to the roof. When the surf's up, folks drop everything to hit the waves. They don't have to go far: in-town Hale'iwa Aii'i Beach Park (66-167 Hale'iwa Rd) gets towering swells.

Outside town, Waimea Bay Beach Park (61-031 Kamehameha Hwy) has a split personality. In summer the water can be as calm as a lake and ideal for swimming and snorkeling; in winter it rips with the island's highest waves. Sunset Beach Park (59-104 Kamehameha Hwy) is another classic winter surf spot with powerful breaks. At 'Ehukai Beach Park (59-337 Ke Nui Rd), the famous Banzai Pipeline breaks over a shallow reef, creating a death-defying ride for pro surfers only. Snorkelers, divers and tide-poolers gather at Pupukea Beach Park (59-727 Kamehameha Hwy), a marine-life conservation district. For calmer cove swimming, hit resort-backed Turtle Bay.

Team Real Estate (☎ 808-637-3507, 800-982-8602; www.teamrealestate.com; 1br/2br apt from $100/150) rents accommodations, from studio apartments to beachfront luxury homes, along the North Shore; book in advance. Food trucks park alongside the Kamehameha Hwy and on the south side of Hale'iwa town. Opposite Sunset Beach, Ted's Bakery (www.tedsbakery.com; 59-024 Kamehameha Hwy; meals $7-16; ☀ 7am-8pm; 🚗) is renowned for island-style plate lunches and haupia (coconut pudding) pie. In Hale'iwa town, find fiery, authentic tastes at Opal Thai (☎ 808-381-8091; Hale'iwa Town Center, 66-460 Kamehameha Hwy; mains $8-13; ☀ 11am-3pm & 5-10pm Tue-Sat; 🚗) or good-karma, healthy deli dishes at Beet Box Cafe (www.thebeetboxcafe.com; Celestial Natural Foods, 66-443 Kamehameha Hwy; mains $7-10; ☀ 9am-5pm Mon-Sat, to 4pm Sun; 🚗) 🌿. Day-trippers queue for shave ice at Matsumoto's (www.matsumotoshaveice.com; 66-087 Kamehameha Hwy; snacks $3-5; ☀ 9am-6pm; 🚗) tin-roofed 1950s general store.

From Honolulu, bus 52 runs to Hale'iwa ($2.50, 1¾ hours), from where bus 55 continues along the North Shore and Windward Coast.

HAWAI'I, THE BIG ISLAND

Almost twice the size of all the other Hawaiian Islands combined, the Big Island contains a continent's worth of adventures. Even more thrillingly, it's still growing – Hawaii's most active volcano, Kilauea, has been erupting here almost nonstop for three decades. Along with red-hot lava, the Big Island offers summit stargazing, ancient places of refuge, rugged hikes into forgotten valleys and hypnotizing beaches, from bone-white strands to black sands cratered with lava-rock tide pools.

📍 Getting There & Around

Mainland and inter-island flights arrive at Kona (KOA; ☎ 808-327-9520; <http://hawaii.gov/koa>; 73-7200 Kupipi St, Kailua-Kona) or Hilo (ITO; ☎ 808-961-9300; <http://hawaii.gov/ito>; 2450 Kekuanaoa St, Hilo) airports, both of which have taxis and car-rental booths. Hele-On (☎ 808-961-8744; www.heleonbus.org; fare $2) public buses circle the island, but with mostly limited Monday-to-Saturday commuter routes.

Kailua-Kona

It's the sort of tourist town where you sit in open-air cafes and bars and count sunburnt vacationers going by for amusement. With gold-medal beaches heading north and south, and stacks of ocean-centric activities close at hand, this condo-rich area also makes an affordable island base camp for wider explorations.

Sights & Activities

Near Kailua Pier, Kamakahonu Beach was once Kamehameha the Great's royal residence and includes the restored Ahu'ena Heiau (www.ahuena.com; 75-5660 Palani Road) FREE, the temple where King Kamehameha I died in 1819. Meander southeast on Ali'i Dr to lava-rock Moku'aikaua Church (www.mokuaikaua.org; 75-5713 Ali'i Dr; ☎7:30am-5:30pm) FREE, built in 1837 by Hawaii's first Christian missionaries. Across the street, Hulihe'e Palace (☎808-329-1877; www.huliheepalace.net; 75-5718 Ali'i Dr; adult/child $6/1; ☎10am-3pm Tue-Sat) was a retreat for Hawaiian royalty; its museum is packed with memorabilia and historical artifacts.

A few miles south of town via Ali'i Dr, sun yourself at sparkling White Sands Beach, but don't swim in winter when the sand disappears. Further south, Keauhou's Kahalu'u Beach Park offers surfing and fab snorkeling with sea turtles. Myriad outfitters in Kailua-Kona rent water-sports gear and guide boat tours, including amazing nighttime snorkeling and diving with manta rays (www.mantapacific.org).

Sleeping

For condos, check with ATR Properties (☎888-311-6020, 808-329-6020; www.konacondo.com) and Kona Hawaii Vacation Rentals (☎800-244-4752, 808-329-3333; www.kona-hawaii.com).

Koa Wood Hale Inn/Patey's Place HOSTEL $ (☎808-329-9663; 75-184 Ala Ona Ona St; dm/s/d from $30/55/65, all without bathroom; @☎) A short walk from Ali'i Dr, this crash pad is Kona's best budget deal, with plain, clean dorms and private rooms. Nighttime quiet hours and no-shoes-inside policy.

Kona Tiki Hotel HOTEL $$ (☎808-329-1425; www.konatikihotel.com; 75-5968 Ali'i Dr; r $80-145; 📺☎) It's all about the price and the surf crashing right outside your window. Motel-style rooms are straightforward (no TVs or phones); some have kitchenettes.

King Kamehameha's Kona Beach Hotel HOTEL $$$ (☎808-329-2911, 800-367-2111; www.konabeach-hotel.com; 75-5660 Palani Rd; r $170-250; 📺☎) Anchoring Ali'i Dr, the mammoth 'King Kam' sports chic renovated rooms, killer views and a classic poolside bar for mai tais. Avoid noisy rooms facing the street.

Eating & Drinking

Da Poke Shack SEAFOOD $ (76-6246 Ali'i Dr; mains from $5; ☎10am-6pm) A huge variety of poke creations, with picnic tables outside.

Kona Brewing Company AMERICAN $$ (☎808-334-2739; www.konabrewingco.com; 75-5629 Kuakini Hwy; mains $13-18; ☎11am-9pm Sun-Thu, to 10pm Fri & Sat) 🍷 The Big Island's original microbrewery makes top-notch ales with a tropical touch, along with thin-crust pizzas and juicy burgers. The torch-lit patio packs 'em in nightly. Call for reservations and brewery-tour schedules.

Island Lava Java CAFE $$ (www.islandlavajava.com; Ali'i Sunset Plaza, 75-5799 Ali'i Dr; meals $9-18; ☎6:30am-9:30pm; 📺☎) A favorite gathering spot for sunny breakfasts, this sidewalk cafe offers an irresistible combo of 100% Kona coffee, sea breezes and local seafood, organic farm salads and homemade sandwiches.

Big Island Grill LOCAL $$ (75-5702 Kuakini Hwy; mains $10-19; ☎7:30am-9pm Mon-Sat; 📺☎) Hawaiian-style home cooking draws everyone and their auntie to this beloved institution (aka 'Biggie's'). Look no further than loco moco and plate lunches, all with 'two scoop' rice.

Kanaka Kava CAFE (www.kanakakava.com; Coconut Grove Marketplace, 75-5803 Ali'i Dr; ☎10am-10pm Sun-Wed, to 11pm Thu-Sat) Join locals for some mildly intoxicating kava (juice of the 'awa plant) and tasty island-style pupu (appetizers) at this tiny, tropical cafe.

South Kona Coast

Linger along the verdant South Kona coast, with its fragrant coffee farms, ancient Hawaiian sites and characterful small towns. For a window on local life, escape up the cool, misty slopes of Mt Hualalai to Holu-aloa village, packed with artist-owned galleries, the community-run Donkey Mill Art Center (☎808-322-3362; www.donkeymillart-center.org; 78-6670 Hwy 180; ☎10am-4pm Tue-Sat; 📺☎) FREE and Kimura Lauhala Shop (☎808-324-0053; www.holualoahawaii.com/member_sites/kimura.html; cnr Hualalai Rd & Hwy 180; ☎9am-5pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat) 🍷 selling traditional Hawaiian pandanus-leaf woven goods.

Off Hwy 11, a side road leads to sparkling, mile-wide Kealakekua Bay. On its north side is Ka'awaloa Cove (where Captain Cook was killed in 1779), now the Big Island's premier snorkeling destination. You can hike in via a steep 3.6-mile round-trip trail, but it's more fun to kayak – ask local tour and rental outfitters if the moratorium on kayaking and boat tours has been lifted yet.

In the town of Captain Cook, the 1917 Manago Hotel (☎ 808-323-2642; www.managohotel.com; 82-6151 Mamalahoa Hwy; s $56-75, d $59-78) is a classic experience: stay in the simple, no-frills motel rooms and order the restaurant's signature pork chops. Ka'awa Loa Plantation (☎ 808-323-2686; www.kaawaloaplantation.com; 82-5990 Upper Napo'opo'o Rd; r incl breakfast $130-150; @☎), a stylish garden estate with four-poster beds and a sunset-view lanai, is perfect for romantics. Roadside Super J's (☎ 808-328-9566; 83-5409 Mamalahoa Hwy; mains under $10; ☎ 10am-6:30pm Mon-Sat) kitchen does right by Native Hawaiian faves such as laulau and kalua pork.

South of Kealakekua Bay, Pu'uhonua o Honaunau National Historical Park (☎ 808-328-2326, 808-328-2288; www.nps.gov/puho; 7-day entry per car $5; ☎ park 7am-sunset, visitor center 8:30am-4:30pm) is an ancient place of refuge, a sanctuary where kapu breakers could have their lives spared. Walk the evocative grounds and inspect a reconstructed temple. Immediately north of the park is a terrific snorkeling spot called Two-Step. Afterward refresh yourself with an organic smoothie from South Kona Fruit Stand (☎ 808-328-8547; www.southkonafruitstand.com; 84-4770 Mamalahoa Hwy; items $5-9; ☎ 9am-6pm Mon-Sat, 10am-4pm Sun).

North Kona & South Kohala Coasts

The lava-blackened coast running north of Kailua-Kona is strung with secluded palm-lined beaches, ancient Hawaiian sites and posh resorts. Stand-out strands, all off Hwy 19, include dreamy sugar-colored Kekaha Kai State Park (www.hawaiistateparks.org; ☎ 9am-7pm), requiring 4WD; black-sand Kiholo Bay (☎ 7am-7pm); windsurfers' 'Anaeho'omalua Beach Park (Waikoloa Beach Dr; ☎ 6am-8pm), white-sand Beach 69 (☎ 7am-8pm; 🏠) at Waialea Bay; the Puako Tide Pools, resort-backed Mauna Kea Beach on crescent-shaped Kauna'oa Bay; and swoon-worthy Mau'umae Beach.

DON'T MISS

KONA COFFEE FARMS

Gourmet 100% Kona coffee is grown on South Kona's small family-run farms. With harvesting still done by hand, the region has a lost-in-time feel, seemingly little changed from when 19th-century immigrants established themselves here. In the town of Captain Cook, the excellent Kona Coffee Living History Farm (☎ 808-323-3222; www.konahistorical.org; 82-6199 Mamalahoa Hwy; adult/child $20/5; ☎ hourly tours 10am-2pm Mon-Thu) 🌿 re-creates Japanese immigrants' rural lifestyle. In November, don't miss the 10-day Kona Coffee Cultural Festival (www.kona-coffeefest.com).

The Waikaloa resort area is home to an ancient Hawaiian petroglyph preserve (Waikoloa Beach Dr; ☎ dawn-dusk, 1hr tour 9:30am) FREE and two shopping malls offering free entertainment. Blurring the line between resort and theme park is Hilton Waikoloa Village (☎ 808-886-1234, 800-221-2424; www.hiltonwaikoloavillage.com; 425 Waikoloa Beach Dr; r from $225; 🏠@☎☎), with pools, lagoons and activities to please all ages, although almost everything entails a surcharge, even parking.

The Mauna Lani resort area also has ancient Hawaiian sites – fishponds, lava tubes and over 3000 petroglyphs – near the ecofriendly Mauna Lani Bay Hotel & Bungalows (☎ 808-885-6622, 800-367-2323; www.maunalani.com; 68-1400 Mauna Lani Dr; r from $400; 🏠@☎☎) 🌿, a full-service oceanfront resort with lofty palms and aloha spirit.

To boogie under the stars, head north to Kawaihae's Blue Dragon Musiquarium (☎ 808-882-7771; www.bluedragonhawaii.com; 61-3616 Kawaihae Rd; mains $18-36; ☎ 5-10pm Wed-Thu & Sun, to 11pm Fri & Sat), offering eclectic surf-and-turf and engaging island musicians.

Mauna Kea

When measured from its base beneath the sea, this sacred mountain (13,796ft) is the planet's tallest. Its summit is clustered with world-class astronomical observatories.

Partway up the mountain, Mauna Kea Visitor Information Station (MKVIS; ☎ 808-961-2180; www.ifa.hawaii.edu/info/vis; ☎ 9am-10pm) offers educational displays and free stargazing programs almost nightly. Continuing to the summit for sunset is unforgettable, but it requires either a 4WD, a challenging 6-mile, high-altitude hike (eight-plus hours round-trip), or a guided van tour with Hawaii Forest & Trail (☎808-331-8505, 800-464-1993; www.hawaii-forest.com; summit tours $200).

To get here, drive Saddle Rd (Hwy 200), connecting the Kona and Hilo coasts; although scenic, it's accident-prone and some car-rental companies prohibit driving on it. From the marked turn-off near mile marker 28, it's another 6 miles uphill along Mauna Kea's paved summit access road to MKVIS.

Hamakua Coast

The Hamakua Coast ranks among the Big Island's most spectacular scenery. It's a Lost-worthy show of deep ravines, jungly valleys and cascading waterfalls.

Most scenic of all is Waipi'o Valley, the largest of seven magnificent amphitheater valleys on Hawaii's windward side. Hwy 240 dead-ends at a dramatic overlook: the road down is so steep that only 4WDs can make it. It's worth the mile-long hike down – and the return uphill – to meditate on the thunderous black-sand beach, backgrounded by ribbon waterfalls feeding taro patches.

The valley viewpoint is less than 10 miles from the ex-sugar plantation town of Honoka'a, abounding with art galleries and shops. Tex Drive-In (☎808-775-0598; www.texdriveinhawaii.com; Hwy 19; mains $5-10; ☺6:30am-8pm) is famous for hot malasadas. Outside town, a handful of family-run farms (taste vanilla, honey and tea) are open for agri-tours.

Heading southeast along Hwy 19, 'Akaka Falls State Park (www.hawaiistateparks.org; 'Akaka Falls Rd; entry per car/pedestrian $5/1) has two stunning waterfalls easily accessed along a 0.4-mile rainforest loop trail.

Hilo

The Big Island's capital has been dubbed the 'rainiest city in the USA,' a soggy reputation that keeps some tourists away. It's their loss, however: Hilo, with its working-class waterfront and historical buildings downtown, brims with weather-beaten charm. Ethnically diverse, it's a slice of the 'real Hawaii.'

Sights & Activities

★ 'Imiloa Astronomy

Center of Hawai'i

MUSEUM

(☎808-969-9700; www.imiloahawaii.org; 600 'Imiloa Pl; adult/child $17.50/9.50; ☺9am-5pm Tue-Sun) One of Hawaii's most eye-popping museums explores Native Hawaiian culture, ecology and the environment, with astronomical discoveries filtered through Mauna Kea's lens.

Pacific Tsunami Museum

MUSEUM

(☎808-935-0926; www.tsunami.org; 130 Kamehameha Ave; adult/child $8/4; ☺9am-4:15pm Mon-Sat) Hilo has survived multiple major tsunamis and this dramatic museum brings these chilling events to life, with multimedia exhibits including documentary film footage.

★ Lyman Museum

& Mission House

MUSEUM

(☎808-935-5021; www.lymanmuseum.org; 276 Haili St; adult/child $10/3; ☺10am-4:30pm Mon-Sat) Drop by for a kid-friendly overview of Hawaii's natural and cultural history. Catch a guided tour (usually 11am and 2pm daily) of the 1830s mission house next door.

Mokupapapa Discovery Center

MUSEUM

(☎935-8358; www.papahānaumokuākea.gov/education/center.html; 76 Kamehameha Ave; ☺check website for opening hours) FREE Virtually explore the Northwestern Hawaiian Islands, an isolated chain of islets and atolls protecting the USA's healthiest coral reefs.

Farmers Market

MARKET

(www.hilofarmersmarket.com; cnr Mamo St & Kamehameha Ave; ☺8am-4pm Wed & Sat) Time your visit for a big Hilo market day, an event that's equal parts gossip and shopping, both for island-grown foodstuffs and local crafts.

Sleeping

★ Hilo Bay Hostel

HOSTEL $

(☎808-933-2771; www.hawaiihostel.net; 101 Waiānuenu Ave; dm without bathroom $27, r with/without bath $77/67; ☺) Perfectly situated in a historic building downtown, this airy, spick-and-span hostel welcomes a diverse all-ages crowd.

★ Dolphin Bay Hotel

HOTEL $$

(☎877-935-1466, 808-935-1466; www.dolphin-bayhotel.com; 333 Iliahi St; studio/1br/2br apt from $119/169/189; ☺) This modest hotel is a perennial favorite with travelers who like to settle in. Apartment suites aren't snazzy, but they're comfortable enough and have kitchens.

Shipman House B&B

B&amp;B $$$

(☎ 808-934-8002; www.hilo-hawaii.com; 131 Ka'iulani St; r incl breakfast $219-249; 🏠) Hilo's most gracious historical B&B occupies a Victorian mansion packed with museum-quality Hawaiiana. Queen Lili'uokalani once entertained on the grand piano.

Eating*★ Farmers Kitchen Cafe

CAFE $

(57 Mamo St; mains $4-6; ☀ 7am-3pm Tue-Sat; 🏠) 'Ono (delicious) homemade plate lunches with creative touches right downtown.

Ken's House of Pancakes

DINER $

(1730 Kamehameha Ave; meals $6-12; ☀ 24hr) Mac-nut pancakes and Spam omelets are faves on a mile-long menu.

★ Hilo Bay Cafe

AMERICAN, SUSHI $$$

(☎ 935-4939; www.hilobaycafe.com; 123 Lihikai St; mains $15-30; ☀ 11am-9pm Mon-Thu, to 9:30pm Fri & Sat, 5-9pm Sun) Unpretentious yet sophisticated dishes whipped up with organic ingredients at this urban-chic cafe - in a strip mall! - will keep your honey's heart warm even when rain is pounding.

Entertainment*Palace Theater

THEATER

(☎ 808-934-7010, box office 934-7777; www.hilopalace.com; 38 Haili St) Eclectic programming includes arthouse and silent films (accompanied by the house organ), music concerts, hula performances and cultural festivals.

Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park

Even among Hawaii's many natural wonders, this national park (HAVO; ☎ 808-985-6000; www.nps.gov/havo; 7-day entry per car $10) stands out: its two active volcanoes testify to the ongoing birth of the islands. Majestic Mauna Loa (13,677ft) looms like a sleeping giant, while youthful Kilauea has been erupting continually since 1983. With luck, you'll witness the primal event of molten lava tumbling into the sea. But the park contains much more to see, including sun-baked lava deserts, steaming craters, lava tubes and rainforest oases.

By the main entrance, Kilauea Visitor Center & Museum (☎ 808-985-6017; Crater Rim Dr; ☀ 7:45am-5pm) makes a great

WHERE'S THE LAVA?

For lava updates, check the USGS (<http://hvo.wr.usgs.gov>) website. Park visitor-center staff can advise you on how, if it's possible, to hike to the active flow. At the time of research, Hawai'i County (☎ 808-961-8093) maintained a lava-viewing site outside the park at Kalapana in the Puna district (call for current conditions and opening hours). Be prepared to hike across recent lava flows to witness the tell-tale steam plume marking the spot where molten lava enters the ocean, then stay after sunset to see the fiery glow. For boat tours, talk to Lava Ocean Adventures (☎ 808-966-4200; www.lavaocean.com; tours from adult/child $150/125).

introduction, with free movies and rangers providing updates on volcanic activity and guided walks, including in the park's remote Kahuku Unit. The nearby Volcano Art Center (☎ 866-967-7565; www.volcanoartcenter.org; ☀ 9am-5pm) gallery coordinates special events, Hawaiian cultural performances and craft workshops.

Note that volcanic eruptions can cause unexpected road and trail closures. When open, the 11-mile Crater Rim Drive circles Kilauea Caldera, offering almost non-stop views of the goddess Pele's scorched, smoldering home. At the Jaggar Museum (☎ 808-985-6051; ☀ 8:30am-7:30pm) FREE, see working seismographs and a stupendous vista of fiery Halema'uma'u Crater. Don't miss Thurston Lava Tube, an enormous cave left by flowing lava, or the 4-mile Kilauea Iki Trail across a cratered moonscape. The park's equally scenic 19-mile Chain of Craters Road leads down to the coast, ending abruptly where modern lava flows have buried its end.

The park maintains drive-up Kulanaoikaiki Campground (www.nps.gov/havo; Hilina Pali Rd) FREE; no reservations. Book ahead for a rustic A-frame cabin at Namakanipaio Campground (☎ 808-756-9625, 866-536-7972; www.hawaiivolcanohouse.com; campsites $15, cabins $80) or a crater-view room inside the park's historic Volcano House (☎ 866-536-7972, 808-756-9625; www.hawaiivolcanohouse.com; 1 Crater Rim Dr; r $285-350), a recently renovated lodge.

The nearby village of Volcano has arty, heart-warming B&Bs, rainforest cottages and vacation homes. With country-cozy rooms, rambling Kilauea Lodge (☎ 808-967-7366; www.kilauealodge.com; 19-3948 Old Volcano Rd; d $180-290, mains $21.50-49; 🍷) runs the area's only fine-dining restaurant, serving hearty chophouse staples (antelope filet, anyone?) and, for breakfast, tropically flavored comfort food. Volcano Country Cottages (☎ 808-967-7960; www.volcanocountrycottages.com; 19-3990 Old Volcano Rd; d $105-135; 🍷) is a private rainforest retreat of lovingly restored plantation cottages stocked with DIY breakfast fixings. Simple, ecofriendly Volcano Inn (☎ 800-628-3876, 808-967-7773; www.volcanoinn-hawaii.com; 19-3820 Old Volcano Rd; r $89-139; 🍷🚰) is value-priced.

MAUI

According to some, you can't have it all. Perhaps those folks haven't been to Maui, which consistently lands atop travel-magazine reader polls as one of the world's most romantic islands. And why not? With its sandy beaches, deluxe resorts, gourmet cuisine, fantastic luau, world-class windsurfing, whale-watching, snorkeling, diving and hiking, it leaves most people even a little more in love than when they arrived.

i Getting There & Around

US mainland and inter-island flights land at Kahului (OGG; ☎ 808-872-3830; www.hawaii.gov/ogg; 1 Kahului Airport Rd). From the airport, bio-diesel Speedi Shuttle (☎ 877-242-5777; www.speedishuttle.com) charges from $30 to Kihei and $50 to Lahaina.

Public Maui Bus (☎ 808-871-4838; www.maui-county.gov/bus) operates several daily routes that stop at some main towns, but exclude many tourist destinations (eg Haleakalā National Park). To rent your own wheels, consider an ecofriendly car or Jeep from Bio-Beetle (☎ 808-873-6121; www.bio-beetle.com; 55 Amala Pl, Kahului; per day $50-90, per week $229-359).

Lahaina & West Maui

For the megahotel and resort experience, bunk down in West Maui, with its prime sunset beaches. For historical atmosphere, entertainment and dining out, make time for Lahaina, a 19th-century whaling town rich in old-timey architecture.

👁 Sights & Activities

The focal point of Lahaina is its bustling small-boat harbor, backed by the Pioneer Inn and Banyan Tree Square, home to the USA's largest banyan tree. Oceanside Front St is chock-a-block with art galleries, shops and restaurants. Within walking distance of the waterfront are a handful of small historical museums, missionary homes, a prison built for rowdy sailors and a Chinese temple. Lahaina's visitor center (☎ 808-667-9193; www.visitlahaina.com; Old Lahaina Courthouse, 648 Wharf St; ☎ 9am-5pm) offers free walking-tour maps.

Further north in Ka'anapali, stop by the little Whalers Village Museum (☎ 808-661-5992; www.whalersvillage.com/museum.htm; Whalers Village, 2435 Ka'anapali Pkwy; adult/child $3/1; ☎ 10am-6pm) to inspect scrimshaw carvings and whistle sea shanties.

For those world-famous beaches, head north and keep going: between Ka'anapali and Kapalua, one impossibly perfect strand follows another. Three top-ranked gems are Kahekili Beach, Kapalua Beach and DT Fleming Beach Park. Nearly all water sports are possible, and gear rental and tour outfitters abound.

🛏 Sleeping

Ka'anapali Beach Hotel RESORT $$$
(☎ 808-661-0011, 800-262-8450; www.kbhmaui.com; 2525 Ka'anapali Pkwy; r from $169; 🍷🍷🍷) While not the fanciest, newest or biggest, this low-key Ka'anapali resort hotel has an enviable beach location and, most of all, genuine aloha. Take free kid-friendly lessons in ukulele, hula and Hawaiian crafts.

Plantation Inn B&B $$$
(☎ 800-433-6815, 808-667-9225; www.theplantationinn.com; 174 Lahainaluna Rd; r/ste incl breakfast from $158/$248; 🍷🍷🍷) Forget cookie-cutter resorts – if you want a taste of Old Hawaii, book a romantic if small room at Lahaina's genteel oasis, furnished with antiques and Hawaiian quilts on four-poster beds.

Hale Napili CONDO $$$
(☎ 800-245-2266, 808-669-6184; www.halenapili.com; 65 Hui Dr; apt $190-330; 🍷🍷) Small, personable complex smack on Napili Bay's crescent-shaped beach is a welcome throwback to an earlier era. Tidy condos have tropical decor and oceanfront lanai.

Eating

Star Noodle

ASIAN $$

(☎ 808-667-5400; www.starnoodle.com; 286 Kupuohi St; mains $7-15, shared plates $3-30; ☺ 10:30am-10pm) From Top Chef competitor Sheldon Simeon, Lahaina's sleek noodle shop lets everyone dive into exquisitely flavored noodle dishes and nibble on eclectic Asian tapas.

★ Mala Ocean Tavern

ECLECTIC $$$

(☎ 808-667-9394; www.malaoceantavern.com; 1307 Front St; mains lunch $12-26, dinner $19-45; ☺ 11am-9:30pm Mon-Fri, 9am-9:30pm Sat, 9am-9pm Sun) For Lahaina's best waterfront fine dining, stop searching. Mala marries Mediterranean and Pacific Rim influences with organic, farm-fresh ingredients and a bounty of just-caught seafood.

Sansei

SUSHI, SEAFOOD $$$

(☎ 808-669-6286; www.sanseihawaii.com; 600 Office Rd; mains $16-45; ☺ 5:30-10pm Sat-Wed, 5:30pm-1am Thu & Fri) In Kapalua, trendy Sansei is always uber-busy, serving out-of-this-world sushi and Japanese-Hawaiian fusion fare. Food orders placed by 6pm are discounted 25%. Make reservations.

Drinking & Entertainment

Around sunset, catch the free torch-lighting and cliff-diving ceremony at Pu'u Keka'a (Black Rock) on northern Ka'anapali Beach.

Hula Grill & Barefoot Bar

BAR

(www.hulagrillkaanapali.com; Whalers Village, 2435 Ka'anapali Pkwy; ☺ 11am-11pm) It's your Maui postcard: sunset mai tais, sand beneath your sandals and the lullaby sounds of Hawaiian slack-key guitar. Skip the food, though.

★ Old Lahaina Luau

LUAU

(☎ 808-667-1998, 800-248-5828; www.oldlahainaluau.com; 1251 Front St; adult/child $98/68; ☺ from 5:15pm or 5:45pm; 🍷) For a night to remember, this beachside luau is unsurpassed for its authenticity and aloha – the hula is first-rate and the feast darn good. Book ahead.

Feast at Lele

LUAU

(☎ 808-667-5353, 866-244-5353; www.feastatlele.com; 505 Front St; adult/child $115/85; ☺ from 5:30pm, 6pm or 6:30pm) 🍷 No half-hearted buffet, this gourmet luau is a culinary tour of Pacific Island cultures, accompanied by talented music-and-dance performances.

Ma'alaea

Ma'alaea Bay runs along the low isthmus separating West Maui's mountains from Haleakalā volcano. Prevailing tradewinds funnel between the mountain masses, creating strong midday gusts and some of Maui's top windsurfing conditions.

The USA's largest tropical aquarium, Maui Ocean Center (☎ 808-270-7000; www.mauioceancenter.com; 192 Ma'alaea Rd; adult/child $26/19; ☺ 9am-5pm Sep-Jun, to 6pm Jul & Aug; 🍷) is a feast for the eyes (but not your stomach!). Dedicated to Hawaii's marine life, exhibits are as close as you can get to underwater critters without donning scuba gear.

Kihei & South Maui

Sun-kissed beaches run for miles and miles south of Kihei, which is decidedly less ritzy than West Maui. Vacationers frequent this more affordable coast for swimming, snorkeling, kayaking and abundant condos.

DON'T MISS

WHALE-WATCHING

Every winter from late November through mid-May, around 10,000 humpback whales crowd the shallow waters along Maui's western shores to breed, calve and nurse. These truly awesome creatures can be easily spotted from the shore, particularly when they perform their acrobatic breaches. You can eavesdrop on their singing at www.whalesong.net online.

To get a closer look, take a whale-watching cruise with the nonprofit Pacific Whale Foundation (☎ 800-942-5311, 808-667-7477; www.pacificwhale.org; tour adult/child from $25/18), which sails from Lahaina and Ma'alaea harbors. Another place to get acquainted with these majestic mammals is at Kihei's coastal Hawaiian Islands Humpback Whale National Marine Sanctuary Headquarters (☎ 808-879-2818, 800-831-4888; www.hawaiihumpbackwhale.noaa.gov; 726 S Kihei Rd; ☺ 10am-3pm Mon-Fri, also 10am-1pm Sat Dec-Mar; 🍷) FREE, which has educational displays and telescopes for spotting whales from shore.

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

MOLOKA'I &amp; LANAI

Sparsely populated by mostly Native Hawaiians and largely undeveloped for tourism, rural Moloka'i is ideal for those seeking the 'other' Hawaii: unpackaged, traditional, still wild and exuding aloha. Its untamed natural beauty appears today much as it did a century or more ago. Moloka'i Ferry (☎ 877-500-6284, 808-667-9266; www.molokaiferry.com; adult/child round-trip $115/55) runs daily return-trips from Lahaina, Maui. Flights connect Molokai's airport (MKK; ☎ 808-567-9660; http://hawaii.gov/mkk; Ho'olehua) with Kahului (Maui) and Honolulu (O'ahu).

Once home to Hawaii's largest pineapple plantation, Lanai has been refashioned into a playground for the wealthy. Home to elite resorts and preworthy golf courses, Lanai is ideal for a quick day or overnight getaway from Maui. Expeditions (☎ 800-695-2624, 808-661-3756; www.go-lanai.com; adult/child one-way $30/20) runs several daily round-trip ferries from Lahaina, Maui. You can fly to Lanai's airport (LNY; ☎ 808-565-7942; http://hawaii.gov/lny; Lanai Ave, Lanai City) from Kahului or Honolulu.

South Pacific Kayaks (☎ 808-875-4848; www.southpacifickayaks.com; kayak rental/tour from $45/69; ☉ rentals 6:45-11am, reservations 6am-8pm) leads adventurous coastal paddles and teaches surfing and stand-up paddle boarding (SUP).

South of Kihei, Wailea boasts million-dollar resorts and a prized stretch of coastline cradling tawny beaches of dreamy perfection. Further south, Makena has knock-out, mostly undeveloped beaches – particularly Malu'aka Beach (aka 'Turtle Town'), Big Beach and secluded Little Beach – as well as the 'Ahihi-Kina'u Natural Area Reserve, which protects hidden coves for snorkeling.

To reach Molokini, an underwater volcanic crater favored by snorkelers and divers, climb aboard with Maui Dreams Dive Co (☎ 808-874-5332; www.mauidreamsdiveco.com; 1993 S Kihei Rd, Kihei; shore/boat dives from $69/129) or Blue Water Rafting (☎ 808-879-7238; www.bluewaterrafting.com; tours $50-125).

 Sleeping

Sort through Kihei's condo possibilities with Bello Realty (☎ 800-541-3060; www.bellomaui.com), or browse VRBO (VRBO; www.vrbo.com).

Kihei Kai Nani

CONDO $$

(☎ 800-473-1493, 808-879-9088; www.kiheikainani.com; 2495 S Kihei Rd; apt from $140; 🏠 📶 🚿) Opposite Kihei's beach, this retro low-rise complex has roomy condos (only some have air-con and wi-fi) with decor ranging from dated to stylish. Ask about weekly discounts.

Tutu Mermaids on Maui B&B

B&amp;B $$

(☎ 800-598-9550, 808-874-8687; www.tutumermaids.com; 2840 Umalu Pl; d incl breakfast $140-170; 🏠 📶 🚿 🍷 🍺) For a personal touch, check out the two kitchenette units at this cheerful B&B. The ocean-themed suite has air-con, a private hot tub and a bamboo-shaded lanai.

 Punahoa

CONDO $$$

(☎ 800-564-4380, 808-879-2720; www.punahoa-beach.com; 2142 Ili'ili Rd; apt $189-299; 🏠 📶) Hidden on a side street, this boutique condo complex fronts a quiet beach frequented by sea turtles. Who needs a pool? All units have oceanview sunset lanai, while penthouses enjoy air-con.

 Eating & Drinking

Some of South Maui's best dining options are branches of other island restaurants, including Da Kitchen Express and Sansei in Kihei, and Mala in Wailea.

Eskimo Candy

SEAFOOD $$

(☎ 808-891-8898; www.eskimocandy.com; 2665 Wai Wai Place; mains $8-17; ☉ 10:30am-7pm Mon-Fri; 🍴) Fresh seafood fanatics should zero in on the poke, ahi wraps and fish tacos at Kihei's side-street fish market with a takeout counter and just a few tables.

Joy's Place

CAFE $$

(www.joysplacemaui.com; Island Surf Bldg, 1993 S Kihei Rd; mains breakfast $3-9, lunch $7-13; ☉ 8am-4pm Mon-Sat; 🍴) 🌿 Little Kihei kitchen for organic, free-range and locally harvested fare, including healthy sandwiches, tropical smoothies and addictive daily specials.

808 Bistro

BISTRO $$$

(☎ 808-879-8008; www.808bistro.com; 2511a S Kihei Rd; breakfast $7-15, dinner $15-24; ☉ 7am-noon & 5-9pm) Creative comfort food like short-rib pot pie, mango-chutney pork chops and banana-bread French toast gets dished up on an airy lanai. Hit next-door 808 Deli for lunchtime sandwiches.

South Shore Tiki Lounge

BAR

(☎ 808-874-6444; www.southshoretikilounge.com; Kihei Kalama Village, 1913 S Kihei Rd; ☀ 11am-2am; 🍷) Tropical strip-mall shack has a heart as big as its lanai. Great mai tais, live music, DJs and dancing.

Kahului & Wailuku

Maui's two largest communities flow together into one urban sprawl. Kahului has Maui's windsurfing shops, whose staff give lessons at gusty Kanaha Beach near the airport. On the outskirts of Wailuku, 'Iao Valley State Monument (www.hawaiistateparks.org; 'Iao Valley Rd; entry per car $5; ☀ 7am-7pm) centers on picturesque 'Iao Needle, a rock pinnacle jutting above the valley floor.

Step back into the 1920s at Old Wailuku Inn (☎ 808-244-5897; www.mauinn.com; 2199 Kaho'okele St; r incl breakfast $165-195; 🍷🍷), an elegant period home authentically restored by gracious innkeepers. Spacious rooms are comfy, with Hawaiian quilts warming the beds. Downtown, international backpackers are welcomed at Wailuku's Northshore Hostel (☎ 808-986-8095, 866-946-8095; www.northshorehostel.com; 2080 W Vineyard St; dm $29, r from $69, all without bathroom; 🍷🍷🍷).

At Da Kitchen (☎ 808-871-7782; www.dakitchen.com; Triangle Square, 425 Koloa St; mains $10-25; ☀ 11am-9pm Mon-Sat) unbeatable island-style 'ono grinds ('good eats') fill plates big enough to feed two, and the kalua pork is 'so tender it falls off da bone.' Expect a crowd, but service is pretty fast.

Pai'a

A former sugar plantation town, Pai'a is Maui's windsurfing and surfing capital. To gawk at all the action, head to Ho'okipa Beach. Nearby, Mama's Fish House (☎ 808-579-8488; www.mamasfishhouse.com; 799 Poho Pt; mains $35-50; ☀ 11am-2:30pm & 4:15-9pm) is Maui's most celebrated seafood restaurant, pairing beachside romance with impeccably prepared fish (reservations essential).

Downtown has a burgeoning row of restaurants and boutique shops. Pai'a Fish Market (☎ 808-579-8030; www.paiafishmarket.com; 110 Baldwin Ave; mains $9-19; ☀ 11am-9:30pm) is the go-to place for fish-and-chips. Flatbread Company (☎ 808-579-8989; www.flatbreadcompany.com; 89 Hana Hwy; pizzas $12-22; ☀ 11am-10pm) 🍃 crafts wood oven-fired pizzas topped with local, often organic ingredients.

Hana

Mainland influences evident everywhere else on Maui are missing in Hana, where many residents are Native Hawaiian, and they treasure the town's sleepy pace and rural isolation. Families splash and swim at Hana Bay Beach Park, which has a snack bar, and at gorgeous gray-sand Hamo'a Beach (Hane'o Rd), south of town.

The road south from Hana is incredibly beautiful, passing organic farms and fruit stands. 'Ohe'o Gulch is a breath-taking series of wide pools and waterfalls, each tumbling downstream into the one below. It's inside the coastal section of Haleakalā National Park (p1118), where hiking trails lead through bamboo groves and there's free primitive camping (no reservations) – bring water and insect repellent!

Can't pull yourself away? At Hana's boutique luxury hotel, Travaasa Hana (☎ 855-868-7282, 808-359-2401; www.travaasa.com; 5031

DON'T MISS

SCENIC DRIVE: ROAD TO HANA

One of Hawaii's most spectacular scenic drives, the Hana Highway (Hwy 360) winds its way past jungle valleys and back out above a rugged coastline. The road is a real cliff-hugger with 54 one-lane bridges and head-spinning views. Gas up and buy snacks and drinks in Pa'i'a before starting out.

Waterfall swimming holes, heart-stopping vistas and incredible hikes call out almost nonstop along the way. Detour to explore coastal trails and the black-sand beach at Wai'anapanapa State Park (www.hawaiistateparks.org; off Hwy 360). For basic tent camping (sites $18) and rustic housekeeping cabins ($90), advance reservations are required. Book online with Hawaii's Division of State Parks (www.hawaiistateparks.org).

Hana Hwy; d from $400; ☹), airy rooms and cottages breathe tranquility. Unwind with a traditional Hawaiian lomilomi massage at the hotel's spa.

Haleakalā National Park

No trip to Maui is complete without visiting this sublime park (☎ 808-572-4400; www.nps.gov/hale; 3-day entry per car $10). From the towering volcano's rim near the summit, there are dramatic views of a lunarlike surface and multicolored cinder cones. For an unforgettable (and chilly) experience, arrive in time for sunrise – an event Mark Twain called the 'sublimest spectacle' he'd ever seen. Check weather conditions and sunrise times before driving up.

The adventure needn't stop at roadside viewpoints. With hiking boots and warm, waterproof clothing layers, you can walk down into the volcano on the Halemau'u or Sliding Sands Trails. Find free drive-up tent camping (no reservations) at Hosmer Grove, near the main park entrance. For an unforgettable overnight, rent a wilderness cabin (☎ 808-572-4400; https://fhnp.org/wcr; per cabin with 1-12 people $75) deep inside the volcano's belly; demand is sky-high, so book online up to 90 days in advance.

KAUAI'

On Hawaii's oldest main island, nature's fingers have had time to dig deep – carving the Na Pali Coast's fluted cliffs and the tremendous depths of Waimea Canyon. Lush Kauai' is beloved by outdoorsy types, especially hikers and kayakers. It has also been the darling of honeymooners ever since Elvis tied the knot here in Blue Hawaii. Everyone comes to the 'Garden Isle' for its heavenly temple – the one you'll find outside, that is. And the price of salvation? Just a pair of boots or a paddle and a little sweat.

i Getting There & Around

Limited US mainland and frequent inter-island flights land at Lihu'e (LIH; ☎ 808-274-3800; http://hawaii.gov/lih; 3901 Mokulele Loop, Lihu'e), where taxis and major car-rental companies wait. With reduced weekend services, public Kauai' Bus (☎ 808-246-8110; www.kauai.gov; fare $2) reaches many towns, but not all tourist destinations.

Lihu'e

This ex-plantation town is Kauai's capital and commercial center. Pick up information at Kauai' Visitors Bureau (☎ 800-262-1400, 808-245-3971; www.kauaidiscovery.com; 4334 Rice St). The insightful Kauai' Museum (☎ 808-245-6931; www.kauaimuseum.org; 4428 Rice St; adult/child $10/2; ☉ 10am-5pm Mon-Sat) traces the island's independent history.

Just minutes from Kalapaki Beach, the Garden Island Inn (☎ 800-648-0154, 808-245-7227; www.gardenislandinn.com; 3445 Wilcox Rd; d $100-150; ☹☹☹) offers modest, cheerful rooms. Seafood and poke lovers may find themselves grabbing island-style takeout plates at Fish Express (☎ 808-245-9918; 3343 Kuhio Hwy; mains $7-12; ☉ 10am-6pm Mon-Sat, to 5pm Sun, lunch-2pm daily) every day. Hole-in-the-wall Hamura Saimin (☎ 808-245-3271; 2956 Kress St; dishes $3-8; ☉ 10am-10:30pm Mon-Thu, to midnight Fri & Sat, to 9:30pm Sun) specializes in homemade saimin (noodle soup) and liliko'i chiffon pie.

Wailua & Eastside

You wouldn't know it from the strip-mall-lined Kuhio Hwy, but the Wailua area offers great outdoor opportunities. Families head to Lydgate Beach Park (www.kamalani.org; ☹), which has the best kids' playground in Hawaii and safe, protected swimming. The mountains above Wailua are laced with scenic hiking routes, including the Kuilau Ridge & Moalepe Trails and Nounou Mountain Trails.

However, most people come to kayak the Wailua River. To ancient Hawaiians, the Wailua River was among the most sacred places in the archipelago. The river basin, near its mouth, was one of the island's two royal centers and home to high chiefs. The river's easy, bucolic 5-mile paddle – with stops for swimming holes and waterfall hikes – is so popular that it's restricted mostly to guided tours (daily except Sunday). Book ahead with Wailua Kayak Adventures (☎ 808-639-6332, 808-822-5795; www.kauaiwailuakayak.com; 4-1596 Kuhio Hwy, Kapa'a; kayak rental/tour from $25/$50) or smaller, family-owned Kayak Wailua (☎ 808-822-3388; www.kayakwailua.com; 4565 Haleliio Rd, Wailua; tour $50).

Budgeteers will be forever spoiled by Rosewood Kauai' (☎ 808-822-5216; www.rosewoodkauai.com; 872 Kamalu Rd; r without bathroom $65-75; ☹), where tidy private bunkrooms have kitchenettes. The owner rents beach homes, cottages and condos nearby. With a surf-casual deli counter, Pono Market (☎ 808-822-4581; 4-1300 Kuhio Hwy, Kapa'a; meals $6-8; ☀ 6am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 4pm Sat) is all local grinds, all the time – savor laulau plate lunches, sushi rolls and smoked marlin.

Hanalei & North Shore

Unspoiled and unhurried, Kaua'i's North Shore features otherworldly scenery and outdoor adventures enough for a lifetime.

Stop at Kilauea Point National Wildlife Refuge (☎ 808-828-1413; www.fws.gov/kilaueapoint; Lighthouse Rd; adult/child $5/free; ☀ 10am-4pm), a thriving seabird sanctuary with a century-old lighthouse. Gentle 'Anini Beach Park (🏖️) has calm, reef-protected waters, easy snorkeling and Kaua'i's best beginner windsurfing. Camping is allowed nightly (except Tuesday); get advance permits from Kaua'i's Department of Parks & Recreation (☎ 808-241-4463; www.kauai.gov; 4444 Rice St, Lihue; campsites from $25; ☀ 8:15am-4pm Mon-Fri).

Known for glamorous resort living (golf, tennis, horse riding, spas etc), Princeville provides glorious sunset perches, like at tiny Pali Ke Kua (Hideaways) Beach (🏖️), accessible through the St Regis resort. Condo-like 'ocean villas' at the Westin Princeville Ocean Resort (☎ 866-716-8112, 808-827-8700; www.westinprinceville.com; 3838 Wyllie Rd; apt from $275; 🍷🍴🍷) are equipped with kitchens and whirlpool tubs.

In Hanalei, the hippie-surfer vibe is palpable. At magnificent Hanalei Bay the surfing is spectacular – it really swells in winter. Take a meditative trip upriver with Kayak Kaua'i (☎ 800-437-3507; www.kayakkauai.com; 5-5070 Kuhio Hwy; kayak/SUP set rental from $30/45, tours from $60; ☀ 7am-8pm), which also rents bicycles and camping, snorkeling and surfing gear. Hanalei also makes a good meal stop.

Doubtters become converts at Hanalei Taro & Juice Co (☎ 808-826-1059; Kuhio Hwy; snacks from $3, meals $8-10; ☀ 11am-3pm Mon-Sat; 🍷🍴🍷), where the taro-based smoothies and Hawaiian plate lunches are yum-yum. Trendy Bar Acuda Tapas & Wine (☎ 808-826-7081; www.restaurantbaracuda.com; Hanalei Center, 5-5161 Kuhio Hwy; shared plates $7-16; ☀ 5:30-9pm) 🍷 features local produce like North Shore honeycomb and Kailani Farms greens. After sunset, sport your best vintage aloha shirt at Tahiti Nui (☎ 808-826-6277; www.thenui.com;

WORTH A TRIP

NA PALI COAST

Hikers on Kaua'i shouldn't miss the challenging but oh-so-rewarding 11-mile Kalalau Trail, which runs along the dizzying Na Pali cliffs and slides through lush valleys inside Na Pali Coast State Wilderness Park (www.hawaiistateparks.org; end of Hwy 560) FREE. To hike beyond Hanakoa Valley and for backcountry camping, reserve permits ($20 per person, per night) online up to a year in advance with Hawaii's Division of State Parks (p1117).

Hard-core paddlers can admire the same scenery from the sea during a strenuous 17-mile Na Pali Coast kayak. Taking all day (but feeling so much longer), it's only possible between May and September. Na Pali Kayak (☎ 808-826-6900; www.napalikayak.com; 5-5075 Kuhio Hwy, Hanalei; tours from $200) is an experienced local outfitter.

5-5134 Kuhio Hwy; ☀ noon-10pm Sun-Thu, to 11pm Fri & Sat), a tiki dive bar with live music and a weekly luau night (make reservations).

Marking the western end of Hwy 560 are Makua (Tunnels) Beach and Ke'e Beach, where snorkelers swim in summer. Nearby, Limahuli Garden (☎ 808-826-1053; www.ntbg.org; 5-8291 Kuhio Hwy; self-guided/guided tour $15/30; ☀ 9:30am-4pm Tue-Sat, guided tour 10am Tue-Fri) conserves Hawaii's native botanical wealth. Back at Ha'ena Beach Park, camping is allowed nightly (except Monday); get advance permits from Kaua'i's Department of Parks & Recreation. The Hanalei Colony Resort (☎ 800-628-3004, 808-826-6235; www.hcr.com; 5-7130 Kuhio Hwy; apt from $275; 🍷🍴🍷) may have dated decor, but peaceful condos (no TVs or phones) are in an idyllic waterfront location.

Po'ipu & South Shore

Sunny, family-friendly Po'ipu fronts a fabulous run of sandy beaches. It's good for swimming and snorkeling year-round and summer surfing. Tour the stunning National Tropical Botanical Garden (☎ 808-742-2623; www.ntbg.org; 4425 Lawa'i Rd; self-guided tour adult/child $15/7.50, guided tour $45/20; ☀ daily, hours vary) or admire windswept cliffs, tide pools and pristine beaches while hiking the 4-mile Maha'ulepu Heritage Trail (www.hikemahaulepu.org).

Po'ipu is awash with resorts, condos and vacation rentals for all budgets; browse listings with Parrish Collection Kaua'i (☎ 800-325-5701, 808-742-1412; www.parrishkauai.com) and Po'ipu Connection Realty (☎ 800-742-2260; www.poipuconnection.com). Get magnificent valley views from Marjorie's Kaua'i Inn (☎ 800-717-8838, 808-332-8838; www.marjorieskauaiinn.com); Hailima St, Lawa'i; r incl breakfast $140-195; 🍷 🍷), where tropical rooms have kitchenettes.

At dinnertime, head to chef-owned Josselin's Tapas Bar & Grill (☎ 808-742-7117; www.josselins.com); Shops at Kukui'ula, 2829 Ala Kalanikau-maka St; shared plates $8-36; ☺ 5-10pm) for Asian fusion cuisine and thirst-slaking liliko'i or lychee sangria. Locals line up at Koloa Fish Market (☎ 808-742-6199; 5482 Koloa Rd; mains $4-8; ☺ 10am-6pm Mon-Fri, to 5pm Sat) for outstanding poke, Japanese-inspired bento boxes and island-style plate lunches to go.

Waimea & Westside

The top destinations here are Waimea Canyon – the ‘Grand Canyon of the Pacific’ with cascading waterfalls – and adjacent Koke'e State Park (www.hawaii.stateparks.org) FREE.

Both feature breathtaking views and a vast network of hiking trails; some, like Koke'e's Awa'awapuhi & Nu'alolo Trails, stroll along the knife-edge of precipitously eroded cliffs. Waimea Canyon Dr (Hwy 550) is peppered with scenic lookouts. Pick up trail information at the pint-sized Koke'e Museum (☎ 808-335-9975; www.kokee.org; donation $1; ☺ 9am-4:30pm).

Pitch your rainproof tent at the park's campground (campsites $18); for advance permits (required), contact Hawaii's Division of State Parks (p1117). Back downhill by the coast, Waimea town makes a civilized base for Westside explorations. Sleep beside rustling palm trees in vintage 1930s and '40s Waimea Plantation Cottages (☎ 866-774-2924, 808-338-1625; www.waimea-plantation.com; 9400 Kaumuali'i Hwy; d from $199; 🍷 🍷).

Also worth exploring is Hanapepe, a quaint town where false-fronted historical buildings hide art galleries, boutique shops and cafes. Outside town, Salt Pond Beach Park is perfect for swimming with kids; for camping nightly (except Tuesday), get an advance permit from Kaua'i's Department of Parks & Recreation (p1119). Nearby Port Allen offers snorkeling and whale-watching cruises and Zodiac tours of the Na Pali Coast.

Understand USA

USA TODAY ..... 1122

Obama's second term, Republican soul-searching, a spying scandal, gay marriage, marijuana legalization and changing diets.

HISTORY ..... 1125

Shaped by Native Americans, colonists, revolutionaries, Reconstructionists, New Dealers and Civil Rights fighters.

THE WAY OF LIFE ..... 1137

Keys to understanding the American cultural landscape, through lifestyles, immigration, religion, sports and politics.

NATIVE AMERICANS ..... 1142

Overview of some of the great Native American tribes, plus the lowdown on crafts and iconic texts.

AMERICAN CUISINE ..... 1144

Top tips on feasting à la Americana, from Maryland crabs to Texas BBQ, Southern biscuits 'n' gravy to California fusion.

WINE, BEER & BEYOND ..... 1150

Venerable vineyards, magnificent microbreweries and top tipples, plus the ever-enduring coffee craze.

ARTS & ARCHITECTURE ..... 1153

Providing a window into the American identity – literature, painting, theater and architecture.

THE MUSIC SCENE ..... 1162

The Great American sound in all its beauty and dissonance from blues and jazz to country, folk, rock and hip-hop.

THE LAND & WILDLIFE ..... 1165

Geology, natural disasters and environmentalism.

USA Today

Big changes are unfolding across the American landscape when it comes to politics, cultural diversity and civil rights. A second term for Barack Obama has brought moments of self-reflection to both the Democrats, who achieved mixed results during the president's first term, and defeated Republicans, who must evolve or face certain defeat in future elections. Meanwhile same-sex marriage, legalized marijuana, government spying and changing eating habits remain the hot topics of the moment.

Best in Print

On the Road (1957) Jack Kerouac on post-WWII America.

The Great Gatsby (1925) F Scott Fitzgerald's powerful Jazz Age novel.

Beloved (1987) Toni Morrison's searing Pulitzer Prize-winning novel set during the post-Civil War years.

Huckleberry Finn (1884) Mark Twain's moving tale of journey and self-discovery.

Best on Film

Singin' in the Rain (1952) Among the best in the era of musicals, with an exuberant Gene Kelly and a timeless score.

Annie Hall (1977) Woody Allen's brilliant romantic comedy, with New York City playing a starring role.

North by Northwest (1959) Alfred Hitchcock thriller with Cary Grant on the run across America.

Godfather (1972–90) Famed trilogy that looks at American society through immigrants and organized crime.

New Forces in Politics

President Obama won reelection in 2012, aided in large part by assembling the most ethnically and racially diverse coalition in American history. More than 90% of African Americans and nearly 70% of Latinos voted for the man who described himself as a 'mutt.'

The failure of Republicans to attract voters from different ethnic backgrounds has caused some soul searching in the party. Following the 2012 election, Louisiana Governor Bobby Jindal directed harsh criticism toward his own party, saying it should stop being 'the stupid party.' This was likely in reference to bizarre comments among his constituents, such as presidential candidate Mitt Romney, who wanted to encourage illegal immigrants to opt for self-deportation, and Indiana senatorial candidate Richard Mourdock, who said that 'even when life begins in that horrible situation of rape that it is something that God intended to happen.'

Perhaps in answer to this search for a new identity, Republicans have seen the rise of new faces from vastly different backgrounds. The young Florida Senator and Cuban-American Marco Rubio is seen as one of the party's rising stars (not so subtly hailed by Time magazine as 'The Republican Savior'). He's become a reasoned voice in the heated discussions over immigration reform, and is as comfortable talking about hip-hop as he is healthcare. He's one to watch in the 2016 presidential elections.

Obama 2.0

Although Democrats cheered his victory, Obama returned to office without the same hope and optimism that surrounded him the first time. Times had changed, and America, like much of the world, had struggled through tough years since the global economic crisis erupted in 2007. When Obama took the oath of office in 2013, the unemployment rate, hovering around 8%, was about what it had been during his first inauguration, in 2009, though economic growth seems at last to be on a solid foundation.

On other fronts, Obama has had mixed success. He ended the US involvement in Iraq, but 63,000 troops still remained in Afghanistan, and the US mission there seems increasingly obscure, particularly after the successful operation that finally brought down Osama bin Laden.

His ambitious plan to bring healthcare reform has passed through Congress, becoming the most significant new healthcare expansion since the passage of Medicare and Medicaid in 1965. Despite challenges by Republicans who threatened to repeal it, and a close call by the Supreme Court (which narrowly ruled the new healthcare act constitutional by a vote of 5 to 4), the law was slated to go into effect in 2014. Whether it will be a success or failure is still hotly debated by Democrats and Republicans, though the outcome probably won't be clear for some years.

War Inside America

There have been more than 67 mass shootings in the past 30 years. Devastating incidents include the 2012 Newtown, CT, massacre, where a heavily armed 20-year-old man slaughtered 20 young children and six adults. The following year, a gunman killed 12 and wounded four in a rampage at the Navy Yard in Washington, DC. On average, 32 Americans are murdered by guns every day and another 140 wounded. Add to this accidental shootings and suicides and some 32,000 Americans are killed each year by guns.

Despite evidence (including a 2013 study published in the American Journal of Medicine) that more guns equals more murders, and the comparatively low rates of death by firearms in countries with strict gun laws, American legislators have been reluctant to enact even modest gun control laws – in 2013 a ban on assault weapons and Obama's proposals to introduce stricter background checks on gun owners were rejected by Congress. The reason: gun lobbies such as the National Rifle Association (NRA) wield incredible power, contributing over $16 million annually to state and national political campaigns.

Spies Like Us

Another promise of Obama's was to have a more open and transparent government. Transparent indeed it became after the blow-up of the Snowden affair in 2013. Edward Snowden was a former contractor for the National Security Agency (NSA) who leaked classified information about a mass surveillance program conducted by US intelligence.

The revelations were astonishing: the US and UK intelligence communities had been spying not only on foreign nations but on allies as well as American citizens. In a top-secret program called Prism, the NSA had direct access to citizen's emails, file transfers and live chats using Google, Facebook, Apple and other US internet giants. A media storm ensued, costing Obama no small degree of credibility – and an immediate drop of nearly 10% in his approval ratings.

POPULATION: 317 MILLION

GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT:
$15.94 TRILLION

GROSS DOMESTIC PRODUCT
PER CAPITA: $50,700

UNEMPLOYMENT: 7.6%

ANNUAL INFLATION: 2.1%

if USA were 100 people

65 would be white
15 would be Hispanic
13 would be African American
4 would be Asian American
3 would be other

belief systems

(% of population)

population per sq mile

Best Road Songs

America Simon & Garfunkel
On the Road Again Willie Nelson
Take It Easy The Eagles
Summer of '69 Bryan Adams
American Pie Don McLean
(Get Your Kicks on) Route 66 Nat King Cole
Me & Bobby McGee Janis Joplin
Goin' Down the Road Feeling Bad Grateful Dead
Midnight Train to Georgia Gladys Knight & the Pips
Walk on the Wild Side Lou Reed
Take Me Home, Country Roads John Denver
Big Yellow Taxi Joni Mitchell

Greenest Cities

Portland, OR Huge parks, 200 miles of bike lanes, a walkable city center and an eco-mad populace.
San Francisco, CA Abundant green markets, organic restaurants and eco-friendly buildings (even the ballpark is solar-powered). Biking, walking and public transit rules.
New York City, NY New bike-sharing programs, waterfront parks and green spaces, with 100,000 trees planted each year. Plus no need for a car – ever.

Faux Pas

Don't assume you can smoke – even if you're outside. Most Americans have little tolerance for smokers and have even banned smoking from many parks, boardwalks and beaches.
Do be on time. Many folks in the US consider it rude to be kept waiting.
Don't be overly physical if you greet someone. Some Americans will hug, urbanites may exchange cheek kisses, but most – especially men – shake hands.

Myths Debunked

Urban residents are sophisticated and rural folk hillbillies... You'll find foodies in Appalachia and hicks in Manhattan.
Americans are monolingual. Spanish is common across the United States.

Going to Pot

In 2012 voters in Colorado and Washington state approved ballot measures to legalize marijuana. This has created tension between these two states and the federal government, which still treats marijuana as an illegal substance. The Obama administration hasn't announced a clear policy on the new laws, stating only that the federal law remains in effect, but that 'it doesn't make sense' for the government to target marijuana users in states that have legalized its use.

Meanwhile, the prevailing attitude across the US is one of relaxing restrictions on cannabis. Some 18 states have supported the legalization of marijuana for medicinal use. A handful have also decriminalized marijuana, making possession of small amounts of the substance a misdemeanor rather than a felony. How Colorado and Washington will handle the taxing and selling of marijuana come 2014 (when the law goes into effect) is the big unknown.

Marriage for All

Another hot topic that some states and the federal government have often failed to see eye-to-eye on is gay marriage. Although Obama declared his public support for same-sex marriage in 2012, the federal government remained tacitly opposed to it. National polls continued to show a majority of Americans supported legalized marriage for all. Meanwhile, some states had set their own rulings about gay marriage, sometimes leaving it up to the voters to decide. By 2013, some 13 states had legalized same-sex marriage.

A breakthrough occurred in June 2013, when the Supreme Court ruled that the discriminatory Defense of Marriage Act – the law barring the federal government from recognizing same-sex marriages legalized by the states – was unconstitutional. The ruling, which came just days before scheduled Gay Pride parades nationwide, added to particularly exuberant and well-attended celebrations.

Unhealthy Appetites

In terms of diet, Americans have been doing some soul searching. No one could deny that Americans were obese – shows like The Biggest Loser and Eric Schlosser's book and film Fast Food Nation shine a spotlight on the nation's deadly eating habits. Fast food, soft drinks and too much television have all been vilified in recent years.

Changes big and small are happening in communities across the country. New York City has helped lead the way, banning the use of trans fats and requiring fast-food restaurants to post the calorie content of all menu items (however, an attempt to ban the sale of sugary beverages over 20oz failed).

Michelle Obama has been one of the nation's most vocal advocates of healthy eating, targeting childhood obesity (an alarming one in three American children is obese) and encouraging parents to make more informed decisions about eating. Apps such as the government's MyPlate – a food diary and calorie counter that's popular on social media sites such as Pinterest – are among an increasing number of tools helping diners make better choices.

History

From its early days as an English colony to its rise to number one on the world stage in the 20th century, the history of America has been anything but dull. War against the British, westward expansion, slavery and its abolishment, Civil War and Reconstruction, the Great Depression, the post-war boom and more recent conflicts in the 21st century – they've all played a part in shaping the nation's complicated identity.

Turtle Island

According to oral traditions and sacred myths, indigenous peoples have always lived on the North American continent, which some called Turtle Island. When Europeans arrived, approximately two to 18 million Native American people occupied the turtle's back north of present-day Mexico and spoke more than 300 languages.

Among North America's most significant prehistoric cultures were the Mound Builders, who inhabited the Ohio and Mississippi River valleys from around 3000 BC to AD 1300. In Illinois, Cahokia was once a metropolis of 20,000 people, the largest in pre-Columbian North America.

In the Southwest, Ancestral Puebloans occupied the Colorado Plateau from around AD 100 to AD 1300, until warfare, drought and scarcity of resources likely drove them out. You can still see their cliff dwellings at Colorado's Mesa Verde National Park and desert adobe pueblos at New Mexico's Chaco Culture National Historic Park.

It was the Great Plains cultures that came to epitomize 'Indians' in the popular American imagination, in part because these tribal peoples put up the longest fight against the USA's westward expansion. Oklahoma is rich in sites that interpret Native American life before Europeans arrived, including at Anadarko and along the Trail of Tears.

Enter the Europeans

In 1492, Italian explorer Christopher Columbus, backed by Spain, voyaged west – looking for the East Indies. He found the Bahamas. With visions of gold, Spanish explorers quickly followed: Cortés conquered much of today's Mexico; Pizarro conquered Peru; Ponce de León wandered through

In 1502, Italian explorer Amerigo Vespucci used the term Mundus Novus (New World) to describe his discoveries. His reward? In 1507, new maps labeled the western hemisphere 'America.'

TIMELINE

20,000–
40,000 BC

The first people to reach the Americas arrive from Central Asia by migrating over a wide land bridge between Siberia and Alaska (when sea levels were lower than today).

8000 BC

Widespread extinction of ice-age mammals including the woolly mammoth, due to cooperative hunting by humans and a warming climate. Indigenous peoples begin hunting smaller game and gathering native plants.

7000 BC–
AD 100

'Archaic period' marked by nomadic hunter-gatherer lifestyle. By the end of this period, corn, beans and squash (the agricultural 'three sisters') and permanent settlements are well established.

The New World (2005), directed by Terrence Malick, is a brutal but passionate film that retells the tragic story of the Jamestown colony and the pivotal peace-making role of Pocahontas, a Powhatan chief's daughter.

Colonial Sights

Williamsburg,
Virginia

Jamestown,
Virginia

Plymouth,
Massachusetts

North End, Boston

Philadelphia,
Pennsylvania

Annapolis,
Maryland

Charleston, South
Carolina

Florida looking for the fountain of youth. Not to be left out, the French explored Canada and the Midwest, while the Dutch and English cruised North America's eastern seaboard.

European explorers left in their wake diseases to which indigenous peoples had no immunity. More than any other factor – war, slavery or famine – disease epidemics devastated Native populations, reducing numbers by 50% to 90%. By the 17th century, indigenous North Americans numbered only about a million, and many of the continent's once-thriving societies were in turmoil and transition.

In 1607, English noblemen established North America's first permanent European settlement in Jamestown. Earlier settlements had ended badly, and Jamestown almost did too: the English chose a swamp, planted their crops late and many died from disease and starvation. Some despairing colonists ran off to live with the local tribes, who provided the settlement with enough aid to survive.

For Jamestown and America, 1619 proved a pivotal year: the colony established the House of Burgesses, a representative assembly of citizens to decide local laws, and it received its first boatload of 20 African slaves.

The next year was equally momentous, as a group of radically religious Puritans pulled ashore at what would become Plymouth, Massachusetts. The Pilgrims were escaping religious persecution under the 'corrupt' Church of England, and in the New World they saw a divine opportunity to create a new society that would be a religious and moral beacon. The Pilgrims signed a 'Mayflower Compact,' one of the seminal texts of American democracy, to govern themselves by consensus.

Capitalism & Colonialism

For the next two centuries, European powers competed for position and territory in the New World, extending European politics into the Americas. As Britain's Royal Navy came to rule Atlantic seas, England increasingly profited from its colonies and eagerly consumed the fruits of their labors – sweet tobacco from Virginia, sugar and coffee from the Caribbean.

Over the 17th and 18th centuries, slavery in America was slowly legalized into a formal institution to support this plantation economy. By 1800, one out of every five people was a slave.

Meanwhile, Britain mostly left the American colonists to govern themselves. Town meetings and representative assemblies, in which local citizens (that is, white men with property) debated community problems and voted on laws and taxes, became common.

However, by the end of the Seven Years' War in 1763, Britain was feeling the strains of running an empire: it had been fighting France for a

1492

Italian explorer Christopher Columbus 'discovers' America, making three voyages throughout the Caribbean. He names the indigenous people 'Indians,' mistakenly thinking he has reached the Indies.

1607

The English found the first English colony, the Jamestown settlement on marshland in present-day Virginia. The first few years are hard, with many dying from sickness and starvation.

DENNIS JOHNSON / GETTY IMAGES
© SEYMOUR / NORDSTROM

1620

The Mayflower lands at Plymouth with 102 English Pilgrims, who have come to the New World to escape religious persecution. The Wampanoag tribe saves them from starvation.

century and had colonies scattered all over the world. It was time to clean up bureaucracies and share financial burdens.

The colonies, however, resented English taxes and policies. Public outrage soon culminated in the 1776 Declaration of Independence. With this document, the American colonists took many of the Enlightenment ideas then circulating worldwide – of individualism, equality and freedom; of John Locke’s ‘natural rights’ of life, liberty and property – and fashioned a new type of government to put them into practice.

Frustrations came to a head with the Boston Tea Party in 1773, after which Britain clamped down hard, shutting Boston’s harbor and increasing its military presence. In 1774 representatives from 12 colonies convened the First Continental Congress in Philadelphia’s Independence Hall to air complaints and prepare for the inevitable war ahead.

Revolution & the Republic

In April 1775, British troops skirmished with armed colonists in Massachusetts, and the Revolutionary War began. George Washington, a wealthy Virginia farmer, was chosen to lead the American army. Trouble was, Washington lacked gunpowder and money (the colonists resisted taxes even for their own military), and his troops were a motley collection of poorly armed farmers, hunters and merchants, who regularly quit and returned to their farms due to lack of pay. On the other side, the British ‘Redcoats’ represented the world’s most powerful military. The inexperienced General Washington had to improvise constantly, sometimes wisely retreating, sometimes engaging in ‘ungentlemanly’ sneak attacks. During the winter of 1777–78, the American army nearly starved at Valley Forge.

Meanwhile, the Second Continental Congress tried to articulate what exactly they were fighting for. In January 1776, Thomas Paine published the wildly popular Common Sense, which passionately argued for independence from England. Soon, independence seemed not just logical, but noble and necessary, and on July 4, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was finalized and signed. Largely written by Thomas Jefferson, it elevated the 13 colonies’ particular gripes against the monarchy into a universal declaration of individual rights and republican government.

However, to succeed on the battlefield, General Washington needed help, not just patriotic sentiment. In 1778, Benjamin Franklin persuaded France (always eager to trouble England) to ally with the revolutionaries, and they provided the troops, material and sea power that helped win the war. The British surrendered at Yorktown, VA, in 1781, and two years later the Treaty of Paris formally recognized the ‘United States of America.’

The HBO miniseries John Adams (2008) is a riveting story, told from all sides, of the years when the American Revolution hung in the balance and fate could have swung either way.

Great Presidential Reads

Washington, Ron Chernow

Thomas Jefferson, RB Bernstein

Lincoln, David Herbert Donald

Mornings on Horseback, David McCullough

The Bridge, David Remnick

1675

For decades, the Pilgrims and local tribes live fairly cooperatively, but deadly conflict erupts in 1675. King Philip’s War lasts 14 months and kills over 5000 people (mostly Native Americans).

1756–63

In the Seven Years’ War (or the ‘French and Indian War’), France loses to England and withdraws from Canada. Britain now controls most territory east of the Mississippi River.

1773

To protest a British tax on tea, Bostonians dress as Mohawks, board East India Company ships and toss their tea overboard during what would be named the Boston Tea Party.

1775

Paul Revere rides from Boston to warn colonial ‘Minutemen’ that the British are coming. The next day, ‘the shot heard round the world’ is fired at Lexington, starting the Revolutionary War.

TECUMSEH'S CURSE

According to legend, a curse spanning more than 100 years hung over every president elected in a year ending in zero (every 20 years). It all began with future president William Henry Harrison, who in 1811 led a battle against the Shawnee, which devastated the hopes of Tecumseh (Native American chief of the Shawnee) for a pan-Indian alliance. After the bitter defeat, Tecumseh placed a curse, uttering something along the lines of 'Harrison will die, and after him every great chief chosen 20 years thereafter will also die. And when each dies, let everyone remember the death of my people.'

1840 William Henry Harrison elected president. He died of pneumonia just 32 days in office – the shortest term in presidential history.

1860 Abraham Lincoln elected, then reelected in 1864. He was assassinated after just five days after the end of the Civil War.

1880 James Garfield was shot; he died months later from infection.

1900 William McKinley elected to his second term in office. A year later he was shot and killed by an anarchist.

1920 Warren G Harding elected. He died from a stroke in 1923 while visiting San Francisco.

1940 Franklin Roosevelt, elected to his third term. He died in 1945 from a stroke, just a month before Nazi Germany surrendered.

1960 John F Kennedy elected. He was violently gunned down in 1963.

1980 Reagan elected. He narrowly avoided dying in office following the 1981 assassination attempt by John Hinckley (whose bullet lodged an inch from Reagan's heart). The curse was broken.

According to legend, George Washington was so honest that, after chopping down his father's cherry tree when he was just a child, he admitted, 'I cannot tell a lie. I did it with my little hatchet.'

At first, the nation's loose confederation of fractious, squabbling states was hardly 'united.' So the founders gathered again in Philadelphia, and in 1787 drafted a new-and-improved Constitution: the US government was given a stronger federal center, with checks and balances between its three major branches; and to guard against the abuse of centralized power, a citizen's Bill of Rights was approved in 1791.

With the Constitution, the scope of the American Revolution solidified to a radical change in government, and the preservation of the economic and social status quos. Rich landholders kept their property, which included their slaves; Native Americans were excluded from the nation; and women were excluded from politics. These blatant discrepancies and injustices, which were widely noted, were the results of both pragmatic compromise (eg to get slave-dependent Southern states to agree) and also widespread belief in the essential rightness of things as they were.

1776

On July 4, the colonies sign the Declaration of Independence. Famous figures who helped create this document include John Hancock, Samuel Adams, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson.

1787

The Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia draws up the US Constitution. Power is balanced between the presidency, Congress and judiciary.

1791

Bill of Rights adopted as constitutional amendments outlining citizens' rights, including free speech, assembly, religion and the press; the right to bear arms; and prohibition of 'cruel and unusual punishments.'

1803

France's Napoleon sells the Louisiana Territory to the US for just $15 million, thereby extending the boundaries of the new nation from the Mississippi River to the Rocky Mountains.

Westward, Ho!

As the 19th century dawned on the young nation, optimism was the mood of the day. With the invention of the cotton gin in 1793 – followed by threshers, reapers, mowers and later combines – agriculture was industrialized, and US commerce surged. The 1803 Louisiana Purchase doubled US territory, and expansion west of the Appalachian Mountains began in earnest.

Relations between the US and Britain – despite lively trade – remained tense and, in 1812, the US declared war on England again. The two-year conflict ended without much gain by either side, although the British abandoned its forts, and the US vowed to avoid Europe's 'entangling alliances.'

In the 1830s and 1840s, with growing nationalist fervor and dreams of continental expansion, many Americans came to believe it was 'Manifest Destiny' that all the land should be theirs. The 1830 Indian Removal Act aimed to clear one obstacle, while the building of the railroads cleared another hurdle, linking Midwestern farmers with East Coast markets.

In 1836 a group of Texans fomented a revolution against Mexico. (Remember the Alamo?) Ten years later, the US annexed the Texas Republic and, when Mexico resisted, the US waged war for it – and while they were at it, took California too. In 1848, Mexico was soundly defeated and ceded this territory to the US. This completed the USA's continental expansion.

By a remarkable coincidence, only days after the 1848 treaty with Mexico was signed, gold was discovered in California. By 1849, surging rivers of wagon trains were creaking west filled with miners, pioneers, entrepreneurs, immigrants, outlaws and prostitutes, all seeking their fortunes. This made for exciting, legendary times, but throughout loomed a troubling question: as new states joined the USA, would they be slave states or free states? The nation's future depended on the answer.

The Civil War

The US Constitution hadn't ended slavery, but it had given Congress the power to approve (or not) slavery in new states. Public debates raged constantly over the expansion of slavery, particularly since this shaped the balance of power between the industrial North and the agrarian South.

Since the founding, Southern politicians had dominated government and defended slavery as 'natural and normal,' which an 1856 New York Times editorial called 'insanity.' The Southern proslavery lobby enraged Northern abolitionists. But even many Northern politicians feared that ending slavery would be ruinous. Limit slavery, they reasoned, and in the

You can follow the Lewis and Clark expedition on its extraordinary journey west to the Pacific and back again online at www.pbs.org/lewisandclark, which features historical maps, photo albums and journal excerpts.

James McPherson is a pre-eminent Civil War historian, and his Pulitzer Prize-winning Battle Cry of Freedom (1988) somehow gets the whole heartbreaking saga between two covers.

1803–06

President Thomas Jefferson sends Meriwether Lewis and William Clark west. Guided by the Shoshone tribeswoman Sacagawea, they trailblaze from St Louis, MO, to the Pacific Ocean and back.

1812

The War of 1812 begins with battles against the British and Native Americans in the Great Lakes region. Even after the 1815 Treaty of Ghent, fighting continues along the Gulf Coast.

1823

President Monroe articulates the Monroe Doctrine, seeking to end European military interventions in America. Roosevelt later extends it to justify US interventions in Latin America.

1849

After the 1848 discovery of gold near Sacramento, an epic cross-country gold rush sees 60,000 'forty-niners' flock to California's Mother Lode. San Francisco's population explodes from 850 to 25,000.

This Republic of Suffering (2008), by historian Drew Gilpin Faust, is a poignant look at the Civil War through the eyes of loved ones left behind by fallen soldiers on both sides of the Mason-Dixon line.

Steven Spielberg's Lincoln (2012) does a masterful job in conjuring up the final months of America's greatest president (Daniel Day-Lewis won an Academy Award for his portrayal).

competition with industry and free labor; slavery would wither without inciting a violent slave revolt – a constantly feared possibility. Indeed, in 1859, radical abolitionist John Brown tried unsuccessfully to spark just that at Harpers Ferry.

The economics of slavery were undeniable. In 1860, there were more than four million slaves in the US, most held by Southern planters – who grew 75% of the world's cotton, accounting for more than half of US exports. Thus, the Southern economy supported the nation's economy, and it required slaves. The 1860 presidential election became a referendum on this issue, and the election was won by a young politician who favored limiting slavery: Abraham Lincoln.

In the South, even the threat of federal limits was too onerous to abide, and as President Lincoln took office, 11 states eventually seceded from the union and formed the Confederate States of America. Lincoln faced the nation's greatest moment of crisis. He had a choice: let the Southern states secede and dissolve the union, or wage war to keep the union intact. He chose the latter, and war soon erupted.

It began in April 1861, when the Confederacy attacked Fort Sumter in Charleston, SC, and raged on for the next four years – in the most gruesome combat the world had ever known until that time. By the end, more than 600,000 soldiers, nearly an entire generation of young men, were dead; Southern plantations and cities (most notably Atlanta) lay sacked and burned. The North's industrial might provided an advantage, but its victory was not preordained; it unfolded battle by bloody battle.

As fighting progressed, Lincoln recognized that if the war didn't end slavery outright, victory would be pointless. In 1863 his Emancipation Proclamation expanded the war's aims and freed all slaves. In April 1865 Confederate General Robert E Lee surrendered to Union General Ulysses S Grant in Appomattox, VA. The Union had been preserved, but at a staggering cost.

Great Depression, the New Deal & World War II

In October 1929, investors, worried over a gloomy global economy, started selling stocks and, seeing the selling, everyone panicked until they'd sold everything. The stock market crashed and the US economy collapsed like a house of cards.

Thus began the Great Depression. Frightened banks called in their dodgy loans, people couldn't pay, and the banks folded. Millions lost their homes, farms, businesses and savings, and as much as 50% of the American workforce became unemployed.

1861–65

American Civil War erupts between North and South (delineated by the Mason–Dixon line). The war's end on April 9, 1865, is marred by President Lincoln's assassination five days later.

1870

Freed black men are given the vote, but the South's segregationist 'Jim Crow' laws (which remain until the 1960s) effectively disenfranchise blacks from every meaningful sphere of daily life.

1880–1920

Millions of immigrants flood in from Europe and Asia, fueling the age of cities. New York, Chicago and Philadelphia swell in size, becoming global centers of industry and commerce.

1882

Racist sentiment, particularly in California (where over 50,000 Chinese immigrants have arrived since 1848) leads to the Chinese Exclusion Act, the only US immigration law to exclude a specific race.

NATIVE AMERICANS

Authoritative and sobering, Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee (1970), by Dee Brown, tells the story of the late-19th-century Indian Wars from the perspective of Native Americans.

In 1932 Democrat Franklin D Roosevelt was elected president on the promise of a 'New Deal' to rescue the US from its crisis, which he did with resounding success. When war once again broke out in Europe in 1939, the isolationist mood in America was as strong as ever. However, the extremely popular President Roosevelt, elected to an unprecedented third term in 1940, understood that the US couldn't sit by and allow victory for fascist, totalitarian regimes. Roosevelt sent aid to Britain and persuaded a skittish Congress to go along with it.

Then, on December 7, 1941, Japan launched a surprise attack on Hawaii's Pearl Harbor, killing more than 2000 Americans and sinking several battleships. As US isolationism transformed overnight into outrage, Roosevelt suddenly had the support he needed. Germany also declared war on the US, and America joined the Allied fight against Hitler and the Axis powers. From that moment, the US put almost its entire will and industrial prowess into the war effort.

Initially, neither the Pacific nor European theaters went well for the US. In the Pacific, fighting didn't turn around until the US unexpectedly routed the Japanese navy at Midway Island in June 1942. Afterward, the US drove Japan back with a series of brutal battles recapturing Pacific islands.

In Europe, the US dealt the fatal blow to Germany with its massive D-Day invasion of France on June 6, 1944: unable to sustain a two-front war (the Soviet Union was savagely fighting on the eastern front), Germany surrendered in May 1945.

Nevertheless, Japan continued fighting. Newly elected President Harry Truman – ostensibly worried that a US invasion of Japan would lead to unprecedented carnage – chose to drop experimental atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in August 1945. Created by the government's top-secret Manhattan Project, the bombs devastated both cities, killing over 200,000 people. Japan surrendered days later. The nuclear age was born.

The Red Scare, Civil Rights & the Wars in Asia

The US enjoyed unprecedented prosperity in the decades after WWII but little peace.

Formerly wartime allies, the communist Soviet Union and the capitalist USA soon engaged in a running competition to dominate the globe. The superpowers engaged in proxy wars – notably the Korean War (1950–53) and Vietnam War (1954–75) – with only the mutual threat of nuclear annihilation preventing direct war. Founded in 1945, the UN

1896

In Plessy v Ferguson, the US Supreme Court rules that 'separate but equal' public facilities for blacks and whites are legal, arguing that the Constitution addresses only political, not social, equality.

1898

Victory in the Spanish-American War gives US control of the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Guam, and indirect control of Cuba. But the Philippines' bloody war for independence deters future US colonialism.

1906

Upton Sinclair publishes The Jungle, an exposé of Chicago's unsavory meatpacking industry. Many workers suffer through poverty and dangerous, even deadly, conditions in choking factories and sweatshops.

1908

The first Model T (aka 'Tin Lizzie') car is built in Detroit, MI. Assembly-line innovator Henry Ford is soon selling one million automobiles annually.

THE AFRICAN AMERICAN EXPERIENCE: THE STRUGGLE FOR EQUALITY

It's impossible to properly grasp American history without taking into account the great struggles and hard-won victories of African Americans who come from all spheres of life.

Slavery

From the early 17th century until the 19th century, an estimated 600,000 slaves were brought from Africa to America. Those who survived the horrific transport on crowded ships (which sometimes had 50% mortality rates) were sold in slave markets (African males cost $27 in 1638). The majority of slaves ended up in Southern plantations where conditions were usually brutal – whipping and branding were commonplace.

All (White) Men are Created Equal

Many of the founding fathers – George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin – owned slaves, though privately expressed condemnation for the abominable practice. The abolition movement, however, wouldn't appear until the 1830s, long after the appearance of the rousing but ultimately hollow words 'all men are created equal' on the Declaration of Independence.

Free at Last

While some revisionist historians describe the Civil War as being about states' rights, most scholars agree that the war was really about slavery. Following the Union victory at Antietam, Lincoln drafted the Emancipation Proclamation, which freed all blacks in occupied territories. African Americans joined the Union effort, with more than 180,000 serving by war's end.

Jim Crow Laws

During Reconstruction (1865–77) federal laws provided civil rights protection for newly freed blacks. Southern bitterness, however, coupled with centuries of prejudice, fueled a backlash. By the 1890s the Jim Crow laws (named after a derogatory character in a minstrel show) appeared. African Americans were effectively disenfranchised, and America became a deeply segregated society.

Civil Rights Movement

Beginning in the 1950s, a movement was under way in African American communities to fight for equality. Rosa Parks, who refused to give up her seat to a white passenger, inspired the Montgomery bus boycott. There were sit-ins at lunch counters where blacks were excluded; massive demonstrations led by Martin Luther King Jr in Washington, DC; and harrowing journeys by 'freedom riders' that aimed to end bus segregation. The work of millions paid off: in 1964, President Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act, which banned discrimination and racial segregation.

1914

Panama Canal opens, linking the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. US won the right to build and run the canal by inciting a Panamanian revolt over independence from Colombia.

1917

President Woodrow Wilson engages US in WWI. The US mobilizes 4.7 million troops, and suffers around 110,000 of the war's 9 million military deaths.

1920s

Spurred by African American migration to northern cities, the Harlem Renaissance inspires an intellectual flowering of literature, art and music. Important figures include WEB Du Bois and Langston Hughes.

1941–45

WWII: America deploys 16 million troops and suffers 400,000 deaths. Overall, civilian deaths outpace military deaths two to one, and total 50 to 70 million people from over 50 countries.

In The Souls of Black Folk (1903), WEB Du Bois, who helped found the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), eloquently describes the racial dilemmas of politics and culture facing early-20th-century America.

RACIAL POLITICS

couldn't overcome this worldwide ideological split and was largely ineffectual in preventing Cold War conflicts.

Meanwhile, with its continent unscarred and its industry bulked up by WWII, the American homeland entered an era of growing affluence. In the 1950s a mass migration left the inner cities for the suburbs, where affordable single-family homes sprang up. Americans drove cheap cars using cheap gas over brand-new interstate highways. They relaxed with the comforts of modern technology, swooned over TV, and got busy, giving birth to a 'baby boom.'

Middle-class whites did, anyway. African Americans remained segregated, poor and generally unwelcome at the party. Echoing 19th-century abolitionist Frederick Douglass, the Southern Christian Leadership Coalition (SCLC), led by African American preacher Martin Luther King Jr, aimed to end segregation and 'save America's soul': to realize color-blind justice, racial equality and fairness of economic opportunity for all.

Beginning in the 1950s, King preached and organized nonviolent resistance in the form of bus boycotts, marches and sit-ins, mainly in the South. White authorities often met these protests with water hoses and batons, and demonstrations sometimes dissolved into riots, but with the 1964 Civil Rights Act, African Americans spurred a wave of legislation that swept away racist laws and laid the groundwork for a more just and equal society.

Meanwhile, the 1960s saw further social upheavals: rock 'n' roll spawned a youth rebellion, and drugs sent Technicolor visions spinning in their heads. President John F Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas in 1963, followed by the assassinations in 1968 of his brother, Senator Robert Kennedy, and of Martin Luther King. Americans' faith in their leaders and government was further shocked by the bombings and brutalities of the Vietnam War, as seen on TV, which led to widespread student protests.

Yet President Richard Nixon, elected in 1968 partly for promising an 'honorable end to the war,' instead escalated US involvement and secretly bombed Laos and Cambodia. Then, in 1972, the Watergate scandal broke: a burglary at Democratic Party offices was, through dogged journalism, tied to 'Tricky Dick,' who, in 1974, became the first US president to resign from office.

The tumultuous 1960s and '70s also witnessed the sexual revolution, women's liberation, struggles for gay rights, energy crises over the supply of crude oil from the Middle East and, with the 1962 publication of Rachel Carson's Silent Spring, the realization that the USA's industries had created a polluted, diseased environmental mess.

1948–51

The US-led Marshall Plan funnels $12 billion in material and financial aid to help Europe recover from WWII. The plan also aims to contain Soviet influence and reignite America's economy.

1963

On November 22, President John F Kennedy is publicly assassinated while riding in a motorcade through Dealey Plaza in Dallas, TX.

1964

Congress passes the Civil Rights Act, outlawing discrimination on basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. First proposed by Kennedy, it was one of President Johnson's crowning achievements.

1965–75

US involvement in the Vietnam War tears the nation apart as 58,000 Americans die, along with four million Vietnamese and 1.5 million Laotians and Cambodians.

Suspicious of political factoids? Factcheck.org is a nonpartisan, self-described 'consumer advocate' that monitors the accuracy of statements made by US politicians during debates, speeches, interviews and in campaign ads. It's a great resource for parsing truth from bombast and is particularly handy during election cycles.

The People: Indians of the American Southwest (1993), by Stephen Trimble, is a diverse account of indigenous history and contemporary culture as related by Native Americans themselves.

Reagan, Clinton & Bush

In 1980, Republican California governor and former actor Ronald Reagan campaigned for president by promising to make Americans feel good about America again. The affable Reagan won easily, and his election marked a pronounced shift to the right in US politics.

Reagan wanted to defeat communism, restore the economy, deregulate business and cut taxes. To tackle the first two, he launched the biggest peacetime military build-up in history, and dared the Soviets to keep up. They went broke trying, and the USSR collapsed.

Military spending and tax cuts created enormous federal deficits, which hampered the presidency of Reagan's successor, George HW Bush. Despite winning the Gulf War – liberating Kuwait in 1991 after an Iraqi invasion – Bush was soundly defeated in the 1992 presidential election by Southern Democrat Bill Clinton. Clinton had the good fortune to catch the 1990s high-tech internet boom, which seemed to augur a 'new economy' based on white-collar telecommunications. The US economy erased its deficits and ran a surplus, and Clinton presided over one of America's longest economic booms.

In 2000 and 2004, George W Bush, the eldest son of George HW Bush, won the presidential elections so narrowly that the divided results seemed to epitomize an increasingly divided nation. 'Dubya' had the misfortune of being president when the high-tech bubble burst in 2000, but he nevertheless enacted tax cuts that returned federal deficits even greater than before. He also championed the right-wing conservative 'backlash' that had been building since Reagan.

On September 11, 2001, Islamic terrorists flew hijacked planes into New York's World Trade Center and the Pentagon in Washington, DC. This catastrophic attack united Americans behind their president as he vowed revenge and declared a 'war on terror.' Bush soon attacked Afghanistan in an unsuccessful hunt for Al-Qaeda terrorist cells, then he attacked Iraq in 2003 and toppled its anti-US dictator, Saddam Hussein. Meanwhile, Iraq descended into civil war.

Following scandals and failures – torture photos from Abu Ghraib, the federal response in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina and the inability to bring the Iraq War to a close – Bush's approval ratings reached historic lows in the second half of his presidency.

Obama

In 2008, hungry for change, Americans elected political newcomer Barack Obama as America's first African American president. He certainly had his work cut out for him. These were, after all, unprecedented

1969

American astronauts land on the moon, fulfilling President Kennedy's unlikely 1961 promise to accomplish this feat within a decade and culminating in the 'space race' between the US and USSR.

➔ US astronaut suit

DENNIS JOHNSON / GETTY IMAGES ©

1973

In Roe v Wade, the Supreme Court legalizes abortion. Today, this decision remains controversial and divisive, pitting 'right to choose' advocates against the 'right to life' anti-abortion lobby.

1980s

New Deal–era financial institutions, deregulated under President Reagan, gamble with their customers' savings and loans, and fail, leaving the government with the bill: $125 billion.

times economically, with the US in the largest financial crisis since the Great Depression. What started as a collapse of the US housing bubble in 2007 spread to the banking sector, with the meltdown of major financial institutions. The shock wave quickly spread across the globe, and by 2008 many industrialized nations were experiencing a recession in one form or another.

The 21st century has certainly been a tumultuous one for the USA. As Americans looked toward the future, many found it difficult to leave the past behind. This was not surprising since wars in Afghanistan and Iraq, launched a decade prior, continued to simmer on the back burner of the ever-changing news cycle, and the 10-year anniversary of September 11 brought back memories of that day when thousands perished in terrorist

FIGHTING FOR CHANGE: FIVE WHO SHAPED HISTORY

American history is littered with larger-than-life figures who brought dramatic change through bold deeds, sometimes at great personal cost. While presidents tend to garner all the attention, there are countless lesser-known visionaries who have made enormous contributions to civic life.

Rachel Carson (1907–64) An eloquent writer with a keen scientific mind, Carson helped spawn the environmental movement. Her pioneering work Silent Spring illustrated the ecological catastrophe unleashed by pesticides and unregulated industry. The ensuing grassroots movement spurred the creation of the Environmental Protection Agency.

Cesar Chavez (1927–93) A second-generation Mexican-American who grew up in farm labor camps (where entire families labored for $1 a day), Chavez was a charismatic and inspiring figure – Gandhi and Martin Luther King Jr were among his role models. He gave hope, dignity and a brighter future to thousands of poor migrants by creating the United Farm Workers.

Harvey Milk (1930–78) California's first openly gay public servant was a tireless advocate in the fight against discrimination, encouraging gays and lesbians to 'come out, stand up and let the world know. Only that way will we start to achieve our rights.' Milk, along with San Francisco mayor George Moscone, was assassinated in 1978.

Betty Friedan (1921–2006) Founder of the National Organization of Women (NOW), Friedan was instrumental in leading the feminist movement of the 1960s. Friedan's groundbreaking book The Feminine Mystique inspired millions of women to envision a life beyond being a 'homemaker.'

Ralph Nader (1934–) The frequent presidential contender (in 2008, Nader received 738,000 votes) is one of America's staunchest consumer watchdogs. The Harvard-trained lawyer has played a major role in insuring Americans have safer cars, cheaper medicines and cleaner air and water.

1989

The 1960s-era Berlin Wall is torn down, marking the end of the Cold War between the US and the USSR (now Russia). The USA becomes the world's last remaining superpower.

1990s

The World Wide Web debuts in 1991. Silicon Valley, CA, leads a high-tech internet revolution, remaking communications and media, and overvalued tech stocks drive the massive boom (and subsequent bust).

2001

On September 11, Al-Qaeda terrorists hijack four commercial airplanes, flying two into NYC's twin towers, and one into the Pentagon (the fourth crashes in Pennsylvania); nearly 3000 people are killed.

2003

After citing evidence that Iraq possesses weapons of mass destruction, President George W Bush launches a preemptive war that will cost over 4000 American lives and some $3 trillion.

If history is a partisan affair, Howard Zinn makes his allegiance clear in A People's History of the United States (1980 & 2005), which tells the often-overlooked stories about laborers, minorities, immigrants, women and radicals.

MINORITIES

attacks. Earlier in 2011, in a subterfuge operation vetted by President Obama, Navy Seals raided Osama bin Laden's Pakistan hideout, bringing an end to the mastermind behind Al-Qaeda and America's greatest public enemy.

Following his sober announcement describing the raid, President Obama saw his approval ratings jump by 11%. The president, for his part, certainly needed a boost. The economy remained in bad shape, and the ambitious $800-billion stimulus package passed by Congress in 2009 hadn't borne much fruit in the eyes of many Americans – even though economists estimated that the stimulus did soften the blow of the recession, which would have been much worse without it. At the end of his first term, his approval ratings were around 49%, drawn down no doubt by the sluggish economy.

With lost jobs, overvalued mortgages and little relief in sight, millions of Americans found themselves adrift. This was not a recession they could spend their way out of, as Obama's predecessor had suggested. Nor was a little extra thrift going to make a difference. People were upset and gathered in large numbers to voice their anger. This, in turn, gave birth to the Tea Party, a wing of politically conservative Republicans who believed that Obama was leaning too far to the left, and that government handouts would destroy the economy and, thus, America. High federal spending, government bailouts (of the banking and auto industries) and especially Obama's healthcare reform (derisively named 'Obamacare') particularly roused their ire.

Healthcare for All

For Democrats, however, Obama's healthcare bill, which became law in 2010, was a major victory in bringing healthcare coverage to more Americans, lowering the cost of healthcare and closing loopholes that allowed insurance companies to deny coverage to individuals. Meanwhile, critics from both sides rained blows. From the right: 'This is socialism!' From the left: 'Where's the public option?' (ie a government-backed plan, which would not force consumers to remain at the mercy of insurance companies).

Whether the new program achieves the lofty goals touted by Democrats (new coverage for 30 million uninsured Americans and lower premiums for all) or wreaks havoc as per Republican predictions (busting budgets and causing staggering job losses) remains the great unknown.

2005

On August 29, Hurricane Katrina hits the Mississippi and Louisiana coasts, rupturing poorly maintained levees and flooding New Orleans. Over 1800 people die, and cost estimates exceed $110 billion.

2008–09

Barack Obama becomes the first African American president. The stock market crashes due to mismanagement by major American financial institutions. The crisis spreads worldwide.

2012

Hurricane Sandy devastates the East Coast, becoming the second-costliest hurricane ($65 billion) in American history. Over 80 Americans die (plus 200 more in other countries).

2013

Scandal erupts when former National Security Agency contractor Edward Snowden leaks classified information about a US intelligence program that monitors communication between American citizens and its allies.

The Way of Life

One of the world's great melting pots, America boasts an astonishing variety of cultures and creeds. The country's diversity was shaped by its rich history of immigration, though today, regional differences (East Coast, South, West Coast and Midwest) play an equally prominent role in defining American identity. Religion, sport, politics and, of course, socioeconomic backgrounds are also pivotal in creating the complicated American portrait.

Multiculturalism

From the get-go, America was called a 'melting pot,' which presumed that newcomers came and blended into the existing American fabric. The country hasn't let go of that sentiment completely. On one hand, diversity is celebrated (Cinco de Mayo, Martin Luther King Day and Chinese New Year all get their due) but, on the other hand, many Americans are comfortable with the status quo.

Immigration is at the crux of the matter. Immigrants currently make up a little over 13% of the population. About 480,000 newcomers enter the US legally each year, with the majority from Mexico, followed by Asia and Europe. Another 11 million or so are in the country illegally. This is the issue that makes Americans edgy, especially as it gets politicized.

'Immigration reform' has been a Washington buzzword for more than a decade. Some people believe the nation's current system deals with illegal immigrants too leniently – that walls should be built on the border, immigrants who are here unlawfully should be deported and employers who hire them should be fined. Other Americans think those rules are too harsh – that immigrants who have been here for years working, contributing to society and abiding by the law deserve amnesty; that perhaps they could pay a fine and fill out the paperwork to become citizens while continuing to live here with their families. Despite several attempts, Congress has not been able to pass a comprehensive package addressing illegal immigration, though it has put through various measures to beef up enforcement.

Age has a lot to do with Americans' multicultural tolerance. When asked in a recent survey if immigration strengthens the nation, only about one-third of older Americans said yes, whereas more than half of 18- to 26-year-olds said yes, according to the Pew Research Center. In a similar survey, those aged 60 and older were asked if it's acceptable for whites and African Americans to date each other: 35% said no, but that dropped to 6% when asked of Americans aged 30 and younger.

Many people point to the election of President Barack Obama as proof of America's multicultural achievements. It's not just his personal story (white mother, black father; Muslim name, has lived among the diverse cultures of Hawaii, Indonesia and the Midwest, among others). Or that he's the first African American to hold the nation's highest office (in a country where as recently as the 1960s African Americans couldn't even vote in certain regions). It's that Americans of all races and creeds voted overwhelmingly to elect the self-described 'mutt' and embrace his message of diversity and change.

The US holds the world's second-largest Spanish-speaking population, behind Mexico and just ahead of Spain. Latino people are also the fastest-growing minority group in the nation.

Four million Americans tune in every week to Midwestern raconteur Garrison Keillor's old-timey radio show, A Prairie Home Companion; listen to the live music, sketches and storytelling online at <http://prairiehome.publicradio.org>.

Americans are increasingly defining their spiritual beliefs outside of organized religion. The proportion of those who say they have 'no religion' is now around 16%. Some in this catch-all category disavow religion altogether (around 4%), but the majority sustain spiritual beliefs that simply fall outside the box.

BELIEFS

Religion

When the Pilgrims (early settlers to the United States who fled their European homeland to escape religious persecution) came ashore, they were adamant that their new country would be one of religious tolerance. They valued the freedom to practice religion so highly they refused to make their Protestant faith official state policy. What's more, they forbade the government from doing anything that might sanction one religion or belief over another. Separation of church and state became the law of the land.

Today Protestants are on the verge of becoming a minority in the country they founded. According to the Pew Research Center, Protestant numbers have declined steadily to just over 50%. Meanwhile, other faiths have held their own or seen their numbers increase.

The country is also in a period of exceptional religious fluidity. Forty-four percent of American adults have left the denomination of their childhood for another denomination, another faith or no faith at all, according to Pew. A unique era of 'religion shopping' has been ushered in. As for the geographic breakdown: the USA's most Catholic region is shifting from the Northeast to the Southwest; the South is the most evangelical; and the West is the most unaffiliated.

All that said, America's biggest schism isn't between religions or even between faith and skepticism. It's between fundamentalist and progressive interpretations within each faith. Most Americans don't care much if you're Catholic, Episcopalian, Buddhist or atheist. What they do care about are your views on abortion, contraception, gay rights, stem-cell research, teaching of evolution, school prayer and government displays of religious icons. The country's Religious Right (the oft-used term for evangelical Christians) has pushed these issues onto center stage, and the group has been effective at using politics to codify its conservative beliefs into law. This effort has prompted a slew of court cases, testing the nation's principles on separation of church and state. The split remains one of America's biggest culture wars, and it almost always plays a role in politics, especially during elections.

Lifestyle

The USA has one of the world's highest standards of living. The median household income is around $51,000, though it varies by region (with higher earnings in the Northeast and West followed by the Midwest and the South). Wages also vary by ethnicity, with African Americans and Latinos earning less than whites and Asians ($33,000 and $39,000 respectively, versus $56,000 and $66,000, according to census data).

STATES & TRAITS

Regional US stereotypes now have solid data behind them, thanks to a study titled The Geography of Personality. Researchers processed more than a half-million personality assessments collected from individual US citizens, then looked at where certain traits stacked up on the map. Turns out 'Minnesota nice' is for real – the most 'agreeable' states cluster in the Midwest, Great Plains and South. These places rank highest for friendliness and cooperation. The most neurotic states? They line up in the Northeast. But New York didn't place number one, as you might expect; that honor goes to West Virginia. Many of the most 'open' states lie out West. California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington all rate high for being receptive to new ideas, although they lag behind Washington, DC, and New York. The most dutiful and self-disciplined states sit in the Great Plains and Southwest, led by New Mexico. Go figure.

KNOW YOUR GENERATIONS

American culture is often stratified by age groups. Here's a quick rundown to help you tell Generation X from Z, and then some.

Baby Boomers Those born from 1946 to 1964. After American soldiers came home from WWII the birthrate exploded (hence the term 'baby boom'). Youthful experimentation, self-expression and social activism was often followed by midlife affluence.

Generation X Those born between 1961 and 1981. Characterized by their rejection of Baby Boomer values, skepticism and alienation are X's pop-culture hallmarks.

Generation Y Those born from roughly the early 1980s to mid-1990s (aka Millennials). Known for being brash and self-confident, they were the first to grow up with the internet.

Generation Z Basically applies to those born from the mid-1990s to the present. Weaned on iPods, text messaging, instant messaging and social-networking websites, they are a work in progress. Stay tuned (and check their Facebook page for updates).

Nearly 87% of Americans are high-school graduates, while some 30% go on to graduate from college with a four-year bachelor's degree.

More often than not there are two married parents in an American household, and both of them work. Single parents head 9% of households. Twenty-eight percent of Americans work more than 40 hours per week. Divorce is common – more than 40% of first marriages go kaput – but both divorce and marriage rates have declined over the last three decades. Despite the high divorce rate, Americans spend more than $160 billion annually on weddings. The average number of children in an American family is two.

While many Americans hit the gym or walk, bike or jog regularly, over 50% don't exercise at all during their free time, according to the Centers for Disease Control (CDC). Health researchers speculate this lack of exercise and Americans' fondness for sugary and fatty foods have led to rising obesity and diabetes rates. More than two-thirds of Americans are overweight, with one-third considered obese, the CDC says.

About 26% of Americans volunteer their time to help others or help a cause. This is truer in the Midwest, followed by the West, South and Northeast, according to the Corporation for National and Community Service. Eco-consciousness has entered the mainstream: over 75% of Americans recycle at home, and most big-chain grocery stores – including Walmart – now sell organic foods.

Americans tend to travel close to home. Just over one-third of Americans have passports so most people take vacations within the 50 states. According to the US Department of Commerce's Office of Travel and Tourism Industries, Mexico and Canada are the top countries for international getaways, followed by the UK, Italy, France, Germany and Japan. America's reputation as the 'no-vacation nation,' with many workers having only five to 10 paid annual vacation days, contributes to this stay-at-home scenario.

Sports

What really draws Americans together, sometimes slathered in blue body paint or with foam-rubber cheese wedges on their heads, is sports. It provides a social glue, so whether a person is conservative or liberal, married or single, Mormon or pagan, chances are come Monday at the office they'll be chatting about the weekend performance of their favorite team.

RADIO

NPR (National Public Radio) radio host Terry Gross interviews Americans from all walks of life, from rock stars to environmental activists to nuclear scientists. Listen online at www.npr.org/freshair.

Key Sports Sites

.....
www.mlb.com –
 baseball

.....
www.nfl.com –
 football

.....
www.nba.com –
 basketball

.....
www.nascar.com –
 auto-racing

The fun and games go on all year long. In spring and summer there's baseball nearly every day. In fall and winter, a weekend or Monday night doesn't feel right without a football game on, and through the long days and nights of winter there's plenty of basketball to keep the adrenaline going. Those are the big three sports. Car racing has revved up interest in recent years. Major League Soccer (MLS) is attracting an ever-increasing following. And ice hockey, once favored only in northern climes, is popular nationwide, with four Stanley Cup winners since 2000 hailing from either California or the South.

Baseball

Despite high salaries and its biggest stars being dogged by steroid rumors, baseball remains America's pastime. It may not command the same TV viewership (and subsequent advertising dollars) as football, but baseball has 162 games over a season versus 16 for football.

Besides, baseball isn't about seeing it on TV, it's all about the live version: being at the ballpark on a sunny day, sitting in the bleachers with a beer and hot dog, and indulging in the seventh-inning stretch, when the entire park erupts in a communal singalong of 'Take Me Out to the Ballgame.' The play-offs, held every October, still deliver excitement and unexpected champions. The New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs continue to be America's favorite teams, even when they're abysmal (the Cubs haven't won a World Series in more than 100 years).

Tickets are relatively inexpensive – seats average about $15 at most stadiums – and are easy to get for most games. Minor-league baseball games cost half as much, and can be even more fun, with lots of audience participation, stray chickens and dogs running across the field, and wild throws from the pitcher's mound. For info, click to www.milb.com.

Football

Football is big, physical and rolling in dough. With the shortest season and least number of games of any of the major sports, every match takes on the emotion of an epic battle, where the results matter and an unfortunate injury can deal a lethal blow to a team's play-off chances.

Football's also the toughest because it's played in fall and winter in all manner of rain, sleet and snow. Some of history's most memorable matches have occurred at below-freezing temperatures. Green Bay Packers fans are in a class by themselves when it comes to severe weather. Their stadium in Wisconsin, known as Lambeau Field, was the site of the infamous Ice Bowl, a 1967 championship game against the Dallas Cowboys where the temperature plummeted to  $-13^{\circ}\text{F}$  ( $-25^{\circ}\text{C}$ ) – mind you, that was with a wind-chill factor of  $-48^{\circ}\text{F}$  ( $-44^{\circ}\text{C}$ ).

The rabidly popular Super Bowl is pro football's championship match, held in late January or early February. The bowl games (such as Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl) are college football's title matches, held on and around New Year's Day.

Basketball

The teams bringing in the most fans these days include the Chicago Bulls (thanks to the lingering Michael Jordan effect), Detroit Pistons (a rowdy crowd in which riots have broken out), Cleveland Cavaliers, the San Antonio Spurs and last but not least, the Los Angeles Lakers, which won five championships between 2000 and 2010. Small-market teams like Sacramento and Portland have true-blue fans, and such cities can be great places to take in a game.

College-level basketball also draws millions of fans, especially every spring when March Madness rolls around. This series of college play-off games culminates in the Final Four, when the four remaining teams

---

The Super Bowl costs America $800 million dollars in lost workplace productivity as employees gossip about the game, make bets and shop for new TVs online.

---

SUPER BOWL

compete for a spot in the championship game. The Cinderella stories and unexpected outcomes rival the pro league for excitement. The games are widely televised – and bet on. This is when Las Vegas bookies earn their keep.

Politics

There's nothing quite like a good old-fashioned discussion of politics to throw a bucket of cold water onto a conversation. Many Americans have fairly fixed ideas when it comes to political parties and ideologies, and bridging the Republican-Democratic divide can often seem as insurmountable as leaping over the Grand Canyon. Here's a quick cheat sheet on the dominant American parties and where they stand on the major topics of the day.

Republicans

Known as the GOP (Grand Old Party), Republicans believe in a limited role of federal government. They also prescribe to fiscal conservatism: free markets and lower taxes are the path toward prosperity. Historically, Republicans were strong supporters of the environment: President Theodore Roosevelt was a notable conservationist who helped create the National Parks system, and President Richard Nixon established the Environmental Protection Agency in 1970. More recently, however, Republicans have sided with business over environmental regulation. Climate change remains a hot topic: more than 55% of Congressional Republicans and 65% of Republican Senators deny its basic tenets. There's also a fundamentalist wing in the party that believes in creationism and a literalist interpretation of the bible. Republicans also believe in social conservatism, promoting family and church values, and are often opposed to same-sex marriage and abortion. The Republican Party is most successful in the South and Midwest.

Democrats

The Democratic Party is liberal and progressive. The role model for most Democrats is President Franklin D Roosevelt, whose New Deal policies (namely creating government jobs for the unemployed and regulating Wall Street) are credited with partially ending the Great Depression. Democrats believe government should take an active role in regulating the economy to help keep inflation and unemployment low, and in a progressive tax structure to reduce economic inequality. They also have a strong social agenda, endorsing the government to take an active role in providing poverty relief, maintaining a social safety net, creating a healthcare system for all and ensuring civil and political rights. By and large, Democrats support abortion rights and same-sex marriage, and believe in subsidizing alternative energy sources to help combat climate change, which most party members accept as indisputable. The Democratic Party is strongest in big cities and in the Northeast.

Even college and high-school football games enjoy an intense amount of pomp and circumstance, with cheerleaders, marching bands, mascots, songs and mandatory pre- and post-game rituals, especially the tailgate – a full-blown beer-and-barbecue feast that takes place over portable grills in parking lots where games are played.

Native Americans

Although a fraction of its pre-Columbian size, there are more than three million Native Americans from 500 tribes, speaking some 175 languages and residing in every region of the United States. Not surprisingly, North America's indigenous people are an extremely diverse bunch with unique customs and beliefs, molded in part by the landscapes they inhabit – from the Inuit living in the frozen tundra of Alaska, to the many tribes of the arid, mountainous Southwest.

The Tribes

The Cherokee, Navajo, Chippewa and Sioux are the largest tribal groupings in the lower 48 (ie barring Alaska and Hawaii). Other well-known tribes include the Choctaw (descendants of a great mound-building society originally based in the Mississippi valley), the Apache (a nomadic hunter-gatherer tribe that fiercely resisted forced relocation) and the Hopi (a Pueblo people with Southwest roots dating back 2000 years).

Culturally speaking, America's tribes today grapple with questions about how to prosper in contemporary America while protecting their traditions from erosion and their lands from further exploitation, and how to lift their people from poverty while maintaining their sense of identity and the sacred.

Cherokee

The Cherokee (www.cherokee.org) originally lived in an area of more than 80 million acres, covering a huge swath of the South (including Tennessee, Virginia, the Carolinas and Kentucky). However, in 1830 they were forcibly relocated east of the Mississippi and today reside largely in Observe reservation etiquette. Most tribes ban alcohol. Ask before taking pictures or drawing; if granted permission, a tip is polite and often expected. Treat ceremonies like church services; watch respectfully (no photos), and wear modest clothing. Silent listening shows respect.

NATIVE AMERICAN ART & CRAFTS

It would take an encyclopedia to cover the myriad artistic traditions of America's tribal peoples, from pre-Columbian rock art to the contemporary multimedia scene.

What ties such diverse traditions together is that Native American art and crafts are not just functional for everyday life, but can also serve ceremonial purposes and have social and religious significance. The patterns and symbols are woven with meanings that provide a window into the heart of Native American peoples. This is as true of Zuni fetish carvings as it is of patterned Navajo rugs, Southwestern pueblo pottery, Sioux beadwork, Inuit sculptures and Cherokee and Hawaiian woodcarvings, to name just a few examples.

In addition to preserving their culture, contemporary Native American artists have used sculpture, painting, textiles, film, literature and performance art to reflect and critique modernity since the mid-20th century, especially after the civil rights activism of the 1960s and cultural renaissance of the '70s. Native North American Art, by Berlo and Phillips, offers an introduction to North America's varied indigenous art.

Many tribes run craft outlets and galleries, usually in the main towns of reservations. The Indian Arts & Crafts Board (www.iacb.doi.gov) lists Native American-owned galleries and shops state-by-state online (click on 'Source Directory of Businesses').

Oklahoma (home to more than 200,000 Cherokee). Tahlequah has been the Cherokee capital since 1839.

Cherokee society was originally matrilineal, with bloodlines traced through the mother. Like some other native tribes, the Cherokee recognize seven cardinal directions: north, south, east and west along with up, down and center (or within).

Navajo

The Navajo Reservation (www.discovernavajo.com) is by far the largest and most populous in the US. Also called the Navajo Nation and Navajoland, it covers 17.5 million acres (over 27,000 sq miles) in Arizona and parts of New Mexico and Utah.

The Navajo were feared nomads and warriors who both traded with and raided the Pueblos and who fought settlers and the US military. They also borrowed generously from other traditions: they acquired sheep and horses from the Spanish, learned pottery and weaving from the Pueblos, and picked up silversmithing from Mexico. Today, the Navajo are renowned for their woven rugs, pottery and inlaid silver jewelry, as well as for their intricate sandpainting, which is used in healing ceremonies.

Chippewa

Although Chippewa or Ojibway is the commonly used term for this tribe, members prefer to be called Anishinabe. They are based in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. According to legend, the Chippewa once lived on the Atlantic coast and gradually migrated west over 500 years. They traditionally survived by fishing, hunting and farming corn and squash. They also harvested (by canoe) wild rice, which remains an essential Chippewa tradition.

Sioux

Like the Iroquois, the Sioux is not one tribe but a consortium of three major tribes (and various sub-branches) speaking different dialects but sharing a common subculture. Prior to European arrival they lived in the northeast of present-day North America but slowly migrated to the Great Plains by 1800. The Sioux were fierce defenders of their lands, and fought many battles to preserve them, although the slaughter of the buffalo (on whom they had survived) did more to remove them from their lands than anything else. Today, they live in Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota – the latter contains the 2-million-acre Pine Ridge Reservation, the nation's second-largest.

700–1400

North America's largest ancient city, Cahokia, supports a population of 10,000 to 20,000 at its peak. By 1400 it is abandoned.

750–1300

Ancestral Puebloans living near Chaco Canyon flourish. This advanced desert civilization develops adobe dwellings in enormous complexes.

1831

Following the 1830 Indian Removal Act, Cherokee and other tribes are forced to abandon homelands to areas west of the Mississippi. Thousands die on the 1000-mile Trail of Tears.

1876

Lakota chief Sitting Bull defeats Custer at the Battle of Little Big Horn, one of the last military victories by Native Americans in the effort to protect their lands.

1968

The American Indian Movement (AIM) is founded. Through protests, marches and demonstrations, AIM brings attention to marginalized peoples.

1968

Navajo Community College becomes the first college on any reservation founded and run by Native Americans. Later, other tribal community colleges are founded, growing to 30 today.

1975

President Nixon passes the Indian Self-Determination Act, empowering Native Americans to control how federal moneys are spent on native matters.

2011

FNX, the first Native American television network, launches in California. It presents Native American films, documentaries, children's programs and more.

American Cuisine

Americans have mixed myriad food cultures to create their own rich cuisine, based on the bounty of the continent: drawing on the seafood of the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and Pacific Ocean, the fertility of Midwest farmlands, and vast western ranchlands. Massive waves of immigrants have added even more variety to American gastronomy by adapting foreign ideas to home soil, from Italian pizza and German hamburgers to Eastern European borscht, Mexican huevos rancheros and Japanese sushi.

Classic American Diners

Miss Worcester Diner,
Worcester, MA

Mickey's Dining Car,
St Paul, MN

Ann's Chicken Fry House,
Oklahoma City, OK

Lone Spur Café,
Prescott, AZ

Nickel Diner,
Los Angeles

Arcade,
Memphis, TN

Lou's,
Dartmouth, NH

Doo-Dah Diner,
Wichita, KS

Culinary Revolution

Not until the 1960s did food and wine become serious topics for American newspapers, magazines and TV, led by a Californian named Julia Child who taught Americans how to cook French food through black-and-white programs broadcast from Boston's public TV station. By the 1970s, everyday folks (and not just hippies) had started turning their attention to issues of organic, natural foods and sustainable agriculture. In the 1980s and '90s, the 'foodie revolution' encouraged entrepreneurs to open restaurants featuring regional American cuisine, from the South to the Pacific Northwest, that would rank with Europe's best.

Staples & Specialties

Americans have such easy access to regional foods that once-unique specialties are now often readily available everywhere: a Bostonian might just as easily have a taco or barbecue ribs for lunch as a Houstonian might eat Maine lobster for dinner.

Breakfast

Long billed by American nutritionists as 'the most important meal of the day,' morning meals in America are big business – no matter how many folks insist on skipping them. From a giant stack of buttermilk pancakes at a vintage diner to lavish Sunday brunches, Americans love their eggs and bacon, their waffles and hash browns, and their big glasses of fresh-squeezed orange juice. Most of all, they love that seemingly inalienable American right: a steaming cup of morning coffee with unlimited refills. (Try asking for a free refill in other nations, and you'll get anything from an eye-roll to a smirk to downright confusion.)

Lunch

Usually after a midmorning coffee break, an American worker's lunch hour affords only a sandwich, quick burger or hearty salad. The formal 'business lunch' is more common in big cities like New York, where food is not necessarily as important as the conversation.

While you'll spot diners drinking a beer or a glass of wine with their lunch, the days of the socially acceptable 'three martini lunch' are long gone. It was a phenomenon common enough in the mid-20th century to become a catchphrase for indulgent business lunches, usually written off as a corporate, tax-deductible expense. The classic noontime beverage, in fact, is a far cry from a martini: iced tea (almost always with unlimited refills).

Dinner

Usually early in the evening, Americans settle in to a more substantial weeknight dinner, which, given the workload of so many two-career families, might be takeout (eg pizza or Chinese food) or prepackaged meals cooked in a microwave. Desserts tend toward ice cream, pies and cakes. Some families still cook a traditional Sunday night dinner, when relatives and friends gather for a big feast. Traditional dishes might include roast chicken with all the fixings (mashed potatoes, green beans and corn on the cob). In warmer months, many Americans like to fire up the barbecue to grill steaks, burgers and veggies, which are served alongside plenty of cold beer and wine.

Quick Eats

Eating hot dogs or pretzels from city street carts or tacos and barbecue from roadside trucks carries a small risk that you might pick up some nasty bacteria, but generally fast food tends to be safe and vendors are usually supervised by the local health department. At festivals and county fairs, you can take your pick from cotton candy, corn dogs, candy apples, funnel cakes, chocolate-covered frozen bananas and plenty of tasty regional specialties. Farmers markets often have more wholesome, affordable prepared foods.

NYC: Foodie Capital

They say that you could eat at a different restaurant every night of your life in New York City, and not exhaust the possibilities. Considering that there are more than 23,000 restaurants in the five boroughs, with scores of new ones opening each year, it's true. Owing to its huge immigrant population and an influx of over 50 million tourists annually, New York captures the title of America's greatest restaurant city, hands down. Its diverse neighborhoods serve up authentic Italian food and thin-crust pizza, all manner of Asian food, French haute cuisine and classic Jewish deli food, from bagels to piled-high pastrami on rye. More exotic cuisines are found here as well, from Ethiopian to Scandinavian.

Read New York magazine (www.nymag.com) or Time Out (www.timeout.com/newyork) for the latest restaurant openings, reviews and insight into famed and up-and-coming chefs. Finally, don't let NYC's image as expensive get to you: you can eat well here without breaking the bank, especially if

Top Food TV Shows

Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown
(Travel Channel)

Man vs Food
(Travel Channel)

Top Chef (Bravo)

Iron Chef America
(Food Network)

Diners, Drive-ins and Dives (Food Network)

Bizarre Foods with Andrew Zimmern
(Travel Channel)

VEG HEAVEN

Some of the most highly regarded American restaurants cater exclusively to vegetarians and vegans. They abound in major US cities, though not always in small towns and rural areas away from the coasts. Eateries that are exclusively vegetarian or vegan are noted throughout this book using the 🌱 symbol. To find more vegetarian and vegan restaurants, browse the online directory at www.happycow.net. Here are a few of our go-to faves for when the veggie cravings hit.

Green Elephant (p246), Portland, ME

Moosewood Restaurant (p127), Ithaca, NY

Café Zenith (p166), Pittsburgh, PA

Green Vegetarian Cuisine (p685), San Antonio, TX

Bouldin Creek Coffee House (p675), Austin, TX

Greens (p984), San Francisco

Angelica Kitchen (p104), NYC

Dandelion Communita Cafe (p506), Orlando, FL

THE AMERICAN DIET CRAZE

America's almost as well known for its fad diets as it is for its fast food. Some of the most bizarre diets? In the 1920s and 1930s, there was the Cigarette Diet, the Bananas and Skim Milk Diet and the Grapefruit Diet – also called the Hollywood Diet. The 1960s brought the Steak and Martini Diet; the 1980s ushered in the Cabbage Soup Diet. In the 1990s, fat free and high carb was all the rage – until, that is, the Atkins Diet came in with its low-carb mantra. Stars embraced the Master Cleanse, aka the Lemonade Diet, and then just as quickly abandoned it. Today's most popular one? It's called the Paleo diet, and entails eating like a caveman: organ meats, broths, fresh and fermented vegetables – but no grains, refined sugar, pasteurized dairy products or other food items unavailable to prehistoric peoples.

you limit your cocktail intake. There may be no free lunch in New York, but compared to other world cities, eating here can be a bargain.

New England: Clambakes & Lobster Boils

New England's claim to have the nation's best seafood is hard to beat, because the North Atlantic offers up clams, mussels, oysters and huge lobsters, along with shad, bluefish and cod. New Englanders love a good chowder (seafood stew) and a good clambake, an almost ritual meal where the shellfish are buried in a pit fire with corn, chicken, potatoes and sausages. Fried clam fritters and lobster rolls (lobster meat with mayonnaise served in a bread bun) are served throughout the region. There are excellent cheeses made in Vermont, cranberries (a Thanksgiving staple) harvested in Massachusetts and maple syrup tapped from New England's forests. Maine's coast is lined with lobster shacks; baked beans and brown bread are Boston specialties; and Rhode Islanders pour coffee syrup into milk and embrace traditional cornmeal johnnycakes.

Mid-Atlantic: Cheesesteaks, Crab Cakes & Scrapple

From New York down through Maryland and Virginia, the mid-Atlantic states share a long coastline and a cornucopia of apple, pear and berry farms. New Jersey and New York's Long Island are famous for their spuds (potatoes). Chesapeake Bay's blue crabs are the finest anywhere and Virginia salt-cured 'country-style' hams are served with biscuits. In Philadelphia, you can gorge on 'Philly' cheesesteaks, made with thin, sautéed beef and onions and melted cheese on a bun. And in Pennsylvania Dutch Country, stop by a farm restaurant for chicken pot pie, noodles and meatloaf-like scrapple.

The South: BBQ, Biscuits & Gumbo

No region is prouder of its food culture than the South, which has a long history of mingling Anglo, French, African, Spanish and Native American foods in dishes such as slow-cooked barbecue, which has as many meaty and saucy variations as there are towns in the South. Southern fried chicken is crisp outside and moist inside. In Florida, dishes made with alligator, shrimp and conch incorporate hot chili peppers and tropical spices. Breakfasts are as big as can be, and treasured dessert recipes tend to produce big layer cakes or pies made with pecans, bananas and citrus. Light, fluffy hot biscuits are served well buttered, and grits (ground corn cooked to a porridge-like consistency) are a passion among Southerners, as are cool mint-julep cocktails.

Louisiana's legendary cuisine is influenced by colonial French and Spanish cultures, Afro Caribbean cooking and Choctaw traditions. Cajun food is found in the bayou country and marries native spices such as sassafras and

LOUISIANA CUISINE

Louisiana is renowned among epicures for its French-influenced Cajun and Creole cuisine. Famous dishes include gumbo, a roux-based stew of chicken and shellfish, or sausage and often okra; jambalaya, a rice-based dish with tomatoes, sausage and shrimp; and blackened catfish.

FOOD TRUCKS

chili peppers with provincial French cooking. Creole food is more urban, and centered in New Orleans, where dishes such as shrimp rémoulade, crabmeat ravigote, crawfish étouffée and beignets are ubiquitous.

Midwest: Burgers, Bacon, & Beer

Midwesterners eat big and with plenty of gusto. Portions are huge – this is farm country, where people need sustenance to get their day's work done. So you might start off the day with eggs, bacon and toast; have a double cheeseburger and potato salad for lunch; and fork into steak and baked potatoes for dinner – all washed down with a cold brew, often one of the growing numbers of microbrews. Barbecue is very popular here, especially in Kansas City, St Louis and Chicago. Chicago is also an ethnically diverse culinary center, with some of the country's top restaurants. One of the best places to sample Midwestern foods is at a county fair, which offers everything from bratwurst to fried dough to grilled corn on the cob. Elsewhere at diners and family restaurants, you'll taste the varied influences of Eastern European, Scandinavian, Latino and Asian immigrants, especially in the cities.

The Southwest: Chili, Steak & Smoking-Hot Salsa

Two ethnic groups define Southwestern food culture: the Spanish and Mexicans, who controlled territories from Texas to California until well into the 19th century. While there is little actual Spanish food today, the Spanish brought cattle to Mexico, which the Mexicans adapted to their own corn-and-chili-based gastronomy to make tacos, tortillas, enchiladas, burritos, chimichangas and other dishes made of corn or flour pancakes filled with everything from chopped meat and poultry to beans. Don't leave New Mexico without trying a bowl of spicy green chili stew. Steaks and barbecue are always favorites on Southwestern menus, and beer is the drink of choice for dinner and a night out. Don't miss the fist-sized burritos in San Francisco's Mission District and fish tacos in San Diego.

California: Farm-to-Table Restaurants & Taquerías

Owing to its vastness and variety of microclimates, California is truly America's cornucopia for fruits and vegetables, and a gateway to myriad Asian markets. The state's natural resources are overwhelming, with wild salmon, Dungeness crab and oysters from the ocean; robust produce year-round; and artisanal products such as cheese, bread, olive oil, wine and chocolate. Starting in the 1970s and '80s, star chefs such as Alice Waters and Wolfgang Puck pioneered 'California cuisine' by incorporating the best local ingredients into simple, yet delectable, preparations. The influx of Asian immigrants, especially after the Vietnam War, enriched the state's urban food cultures with Chinatowns, Koreatowns and Japantowns, along with huge enclaves of Mexican Americans who maintain their own culinary traditions across the state. Global fusion restaurants are another hallmark of California's cuisine.

The hottest dining craze on wheels is food trucks. From crab-cake tacos to red velvet cupcakes, there's no telling what creative, healthy, gourmet, decadent, or downright bizarre twist on 'fast food' you'll discover. To find the best trucks, visit Portland, Austin, Minneapolis, Los Angeles, New York, Las Vegas, San Francisco and Miami.

SLOW, LOCAL, ORGANIC

The Slow Food movement, along with renewed enthusiasm for eating local, organically grown fare, is a leading trend in American restaurants. The movement, which was arguably started in 1971 by chef Alice Waters at Berkeley's Chez Panisse (p994), continues with First Lady Michelle Obama – the First Lady of food if there ever was one – and her daughters, who have planted an organic garden on the White House lawn. Recently, farmers markets have been popping up all across the country and they're a great place to meet locals and take a big bite out of America's cornucopia of foods, from heritage fruit and vegetables to fresh, savory and sweet regional delicacies.

Dos & Don'ts

Do tip: 15% of the total bill is standard; tip 20% (or more) for excellent service.

It's customary to place your napkin on your lap, even before the meal is served.

Try to avoid putting your elbows on the table.

Wait until everyone is served to begin eating.

In formal situations, diners customarily wait to eat until the host(ess) has lifted their fork.

At home, some Americans say a prayer before meals; it's fine to sit quietly if you prefer not to participate.

Pacific Northwest: Salmon & Starbucks

The cuisine of the Pacific Northwest region draws on the traditions of the local tribes of Native Americans, whose diets traditionally centered on game, seafood – especially salmon – and foraged mushrooms, fruits and berries. Seattle spawned the modern international coffeehouse craze with Starbucks.

Hawaii: Island Style

In the middle of the Pacific Ocean, Hawaii is rooted in a Polynesian food culture that takes full advantage of locally caught fish such as mahimahi, 'opakapaka, 'ono and 'ahi. Traditional luau celebrations include cooking kalua pig in an underground pit layered with hot stones and ti leaves. Hawaii's contemporary cuisine incorporates fresh, island-grown produce and borrows liberally from the islands' many Asian and European immigrant groups. This also happens to be the only state to grow coffee commercially; 100% Kona beans from the Big Island have the most gourmet cachet.

Habits & Customs

Americans tend to eat early at restaurants and at home, so don't be surprised to find a restaurant half full at noon or 5:30pm. In smaller towns, it may be hard to find anywhere to eat after 8:30pm or 9pm. Dinner parties for adults usually begin around 6:30pm or 7pm with cocktails followed by a buffet or sit-down meal. If invited to dinner, it's polite to be prompt: ideally, you should plan to arrive within 15 minutes of the designated time.

Americans are informal in their dining manners, although they will usually wait until everyone is served before eating. Many foods are eaten with the fingers, and an entire piece of bread may be buttered and eaten all at once. To the surprise of some foreign visitors, the sight of beer bottles on the dinner table is not uncommon.

Food Glossary

barbecue	a technique of slow-smoking spice-rubbed and basted meat over a grill
beignet	New Orleans square, doughnut-like fritter dusted with powdered sugar
biscuit	flaky yeast-free roll served in the South
blintz	Jewish pancake stuffed with various fillings such as jam, cheese or potatoes
BLT	bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich
blue plate	special of the day in a diner or luncheonette
Boston baked beans	beans cooked with molasses and bacon in a casserole
Buffalo wings	deep-fried chicken wings glazed with a buttery hot sauce and served with blue cheese dressing; originated in Buffalo, NY
burrito	Mexican American flour tortilla wrapped around beans, meat, salsa and rice
California roll	fusion sushi made with avocado, crabmeat and cucumbers wrapped in vinegared rice and nori (dried seaweed)
chili	hearty meat stew spiced with ground chilies, vegetables and beans; also called chili con carne
clam chowder	potato-based soup full of clams, vegetables and sometimes bacon, thickened with milk
club sandwich	three-layered sandwich with chicken or turkey, bacon, lettuce and tomato
corned beef	salt-cured or brined beef, traditionally served with cabbage on St Patrick's Day (March 17)

crab cake	crabmeat bound with breadcrumbs and eggs then fried
eggs Benedict	poached eggs, ham and hollandaise sauce on top of English muffins
French toast	egg-dipped fried bread served with maple syrup
grits	white cornmeal porridge; a Southern breakfast or side dish
guacamole	mashed avocado dip with lime juice, onions, chilies and cilantro, served with tortilla chips
hash browns	shredded pan-fried potatoes
huevos rancheros	Mexican breakfast of corn tortillas topped with fried eggs and salsa
jambalaya	Louisiana stew of rice, ham, sausage, shrimp and seasonings
lobster roll	lobster meat mixed with mayonnaise and seasonings, and served in a toasted frankfurter bun
lox	Jewish version of brine-cured salmon
nachos	Mexican American fried tortilla chips often topped with cheese, ground beef, jalapeño peppers, salsa and sour cream
pastrami	Jewish American brined beef that is smoked and steamed
pickle	cucumber brined in vinegar
Reuben sandwich	sandwich of corned beef, Swiss cheese and sauerkraut on rye bread
smoothie	cold, blended drink made with pureed fruit, ice, milk and/or yogurt
stone crab	Floribbean crab whose claws are eaten with melted butter or mustard-mayonnaise sauce
surf 'n' turf	combination plate of seafood (often lobster) and steak
wrap	tortilla or pita bread stuffed with a variety of fillings

Wine, Beer & Beyond

Americans have a staggering range of choices when it comes to beverages. A booming microbrewery industry has brought finely crafted beers to every corner of the country. The US wine industry continues to produce first-rate vintages – and it's not just Californian vineyards garnering all the awards. Washington, Oregon, New York, Virginia and many other states create celebrated pinots and rosés. Meanwhile, coffee culture continues to prevail, with cafes and roasteries elevating the once humble cup of coffee to high art.

Beer

DUI (driving under the influence) is taken very seriously in the USA.

Designating a sober driver who doesn't drink has become a widespread practice among groups of friends consuming alcohol at restaurants, bars, nightclubs and parties.

It's hard to deny that beer is about as American as Chevrolet, football, and apple pie: just tune in to the Super Bowl commercials (America's most popular yearly televised event, featuring its most expensive advertisements) and you'll see how beer has become intertwined with American cultural values. Just look at the slogans, celebrating individuality ('This Bud's for You'), sociability ('It's Miller Time!'), ruggedness ('Head for the Mountains') and authenticity ('Real Men Drink Bud Light').

Despite their ubiquity, popular brands of American beer have long been the subject of ridicule abroad due to their low alcohol content and 'light' taste. Regardless of what the critics say, sales indicate that American beer is more popular than ever – and now, with the meteoric rise of microbreweries and craft beer, even beer snobs admit that American beer has reinvented itself.

Craft & Local Beer

Today, beer aficionados (otherwise known as beer geeks) sip and savor beer as they would wine, and some urban restaurants even have beer 'programs,' 'sommeliers' and cellars. Many brewpubs and restaurants host beer dinners, a chance to experience just how beers pair with different foods.

Microbrewery and craft-beer production is rising meteorically, generating roughly $12 billion in retail sales in 2012. Today there are more than 1500 craft breweries across the USA. Portland, Oregon, is the current capital of the industry with some 50-plus small breweries – more than in any other city in the world. In recent years, it's become possible to 'drink local' all over the country as microbreweries pop up in urban centers, small towns and unexpected places.

Wine

In the seminal 1972 film The Godfather, Marlon Brando's Vito Corleone muses, 'I like to drink wine more than I used to.' The country soon followed suit, and nearly four decades later, Americans are still drinking more wine than ever. According to the Los Angeles Times, 2010 marked the first year that the US actually consumed more wine than France.

To the raised eyebrows of European winemakers, who used to regard even California wines as second class, many American wines are now even (gulp!) winning prestigious international awards. In fact, the nation is the world's 4th-largest producer of wine, behind Italy, France and Spain.

In the USA, where restaurants and bars often pay the legal minimum wage (or less), servers rely on tips for their livelihood. A good rule: tip at least a dollar per drink, or roughly 15% to 20% of the total bill.

Wine isn't cheap in the US, as it's considered a luxury rather than a staple – go ahead and blame the Puritans for that. But it's possible to procure a perfectly drinkable bottle of American wine at a liquor or wine shop for around $10 or $12.

Wine Regions

Today almost 90% of US wine comes from California, while other regions are producing wines that have achieved international status. In particular, the wines of New York's Finger Lakes, Hudson Valley and Long Island are well worth sampling, as are the wines from both Washington and Oregon, especially Pinot Noirs and Rieslings.

Without a doubt, the country's hotbed of wine tourism is in Northern California, just outside of the Bay Area in the Napa and Sonoma Valleys. As other regions, from Oregon's Willamette Valley to Texas' Hill Country have evolved as wine regions, they have spawned an entire industry of bed-and-breakfast tourism that seem to go hand and hand with the quest to find the perfect Pinot Noir.

So, what are the best American wines? Amazingly, though it's only been a few decades since many American restaurants served either 'red,' 'white,' or sometimes 'pink' wine, there are many excellent 'New World' wines that have flourished in the rich American soil. The most popular white varietals made in the US are Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc; best-selling reds include Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Pinot Noir and Zinfandel.

The Hard Stuff

You might know him by his first name, Jack. (Hint: Daniels is his last name). Good ole Jack Daniels remains the most well-known brand of American whiskey around the world, and is also the oldest continually operating US distillery, going strong since 1870.

While whiskey and bourbon are the most popular American exports, rye, gin and vodka are also crafted in the USA. Bourbon, made from corn, is the only native spirit and traditionally it is made in Kentucky.

Cocktails were invented in America before the Civil War. Born in New Orleans, an appropriately festive city to launch America's contribution to booze history, the first cocktail was the Sazerac – a mix of rye whiskey or brandy, simple syrup, bitters and a dash of absinthe (before it was banned in 1912, that is). American cocktails created at bars in the late 19th and early 20th centuries include such long-standing classics as the martini, the Manhattan, and the old-fashioned.

Blame it on Hollywood: Merlot is just not that cool anymore. Paul Giamatti's Academy Award-winning performance in the film Sideways singlehandedly destroyed its sophisticated reputation through the following line: 'If anyone orders Merlot, I'm leaving. I am not drinking any f*&%ing Merlot!' In the film, he favors Pinot Noir.

LEGENDARY AMERICANS DISH ABOUT DRINKING

While these Americans are all lauded for their talents in the arts or entertainment, they were undeniably (and often infamously) associated with the boozing life. Here are a few choice words they have on the subject.

- ➔ Ernest Hemingway: 'Always do sober what you said you'd do drunk. That will teach you to keep your mouth shut.'
- ➔ Frank Sinatra: 'Alcohol may be man's worst enemy, but the Bible says "love your enemy."'
- ➔ Dorothy Parker: 'I'd rather have a bottle in front of me than a frontal lobotomy.'
- ➔ WC Fields: 'A woman drove me to drink, and I never had the courtesy to thank her.'
- ➔ William Faulkner: 'The tools I need for my work are paper, tobacco, food, and a little whiskey.'
- ➔ Homer Simpson: 'Beer – the cause of and solution to all of life's problems.'

COCA-COLA

The most infamous rumor about Coca-Cola, developed in 1886 at an Atlanta pharmacy, is true: once marketed as a medicine, it did indeed contain trace amounts of cocaine. Having once contained about 9mg per glass, cocaine was eliminated from the product in 1903.

The Vintage Cocktail Craze

Across US cities, it's become decidedly cool to party like it's 1929 by drinking retro cocktails from the days – less than a century ago – that alcohol was illegal to consume across the entire United States. Good old Prohibition, of course, instead of spawning a nation of teetotalers, only solidified a culture in which the forbidden became appealing, it felt good to be bad, flappers carried flasks of gin in their purses, and so-called respectable citizens congregated in secret 'speakeasies' to drink homemade moonshine and dance to hot jazz.

Fast forward to the 21st century. While Prohibition isn't in danger of being reinstated, you'll find plenty of bars where the spirit of the Roaring Twenties and the illicit 1930s lives on. Inspired by vintage recipes featuring spirits and elixirs – remember, back in the day you couldn't just grab a bottle of scotch at the grocery store! – these cocktails, complete with ingredients like small-batch liqueurs, whipped egg whites, hand-chipped ice and fresh fruits, are lovingly concocted by nattily dressed bartenders who regard their profession as something between an art and a science.

Nonalcoholic Drinks

Tap water in the USA is safe to drink, though its taste varies depending on the region and city. Most nonalcoholic drinks are quite sugary and served over ice, from Southern-style iced 'sweet tea' and lemonade to quintessential American soft drinks such as Coca-Cola, Pepsi and Dr Pepper, along with retro and nouveau soft-drinks, often made with cane sugar instead of corn syrup.

Interestingly, carbonated nonalcoholic beverages have different nicknames depending on where you order them. In many parts of the South, a 'coke' means any kind of soda, so you may have to specify which kind you mean, for example, if you say 'I'll have a Coke,' the waiter might ask, 'Which kind?' In the Midwest, soda is called 'pop.' On the East Coast and elsewhere, it's called 'soda.' Go figure...

The Coffee Addiction

While Americans kick back with beer, and unwind with wine, the country runs on caffeine. The coffee craze has only intensified in the last 25 years, ever since cafe culture exploded in urban centers and spread throughout the country.

Blame it on Starbucks – the coffee that America loves (or loathes) above all others. The world's biggest coffee chain was born amid the Northwest's progressive coffee culture in 1971, when Starbucks opened its first location across from Pike Place Market in Seattle. The idea, to offer a variety of roasted beans from around the world in a comfortable cafe, helped start filling the American coffee mug with more refined, complicated (and expensive) drinks compared to the ubiquitous Folgers and diner cups of joe. By the early 1990s, specialty coffeehouses began springing up across the country, everywhere from cities to university towns.

While many coffee chains only have room for a few chairs and a take-out counter, independent coffee shops support a coffeehouse culture that encourages lingering; think free wi-fi, comfortable indoor and outdoor seating and good snacks and light fare. At the most high-level cafes, experienced baristas will happily banter about the origins of any roast (single-origin beans rather than blends are the latest in coffee snobbery) and will share their ideas about bean grinds and more.

Arts & Architecture

Geography and race together create the varied regionalism that is key to understanding America's arts. And despite a popular affinity for technology, it is nature and wilderness that still inspire the nation's soul and, consequently, much of its art.

Film

Hollywood and American film are virtually inseparable. No less an American icon than the White House itself, Hollywood is increasingly the product of an internationalized cinema and film culture. This evolution is partly pure business: Hollywood studios are the showpieces of multinational corporations, and funding flows to talent that brings the biggest grosses, regardless of nationality.

But this shift is also creative. It's Hollywood's recognition that if the studios don't incorporate the immense filmmaking talent emerging worldwide, they will be made irrelevant by it. Co-option is an old Hollywood strategy, used most recently to subvert the challenge posed by the independent film movement of the 1990s that kicked off with daring homegrown films like Sex, Lies, and Videotape and Reservoir Dogs, and innovative European imports. That said, for the most part, mainstream American audiences remain steadfastly indifferent to foreign films.

Television

In the 20th century, it could be argued that TV was the defining medium of the modern age. An average American still watches an astonishing 34 hours of TV a week. Americans love TV, but they are watching differently: recording or downloading online, viewing according to their schedules (not the networks') and skipping the commercials. As the internet messes with the economics of this corporate-owned, ad-driven entertainment, TV executives shudder.

For many decades, critics sneered that TV was lowbrow, and movie stars wouldn't be caught dead on it. But well-written, thought-provoking shows have existed almost since the beginning. In the 1950s, the original I Love Lucy show was groundbreaking: shot on film before a live audience and edited before airing, it pioneered syndication. It established the sitcom ('situation comedy') formula, and showcased a dynamic female comedian, Lucille Ball, in an interethnic marriage.

In its brief history, TV has proved to be one of the most passionately contested cultural battlegrounds in American society, blamed for a whole host of societal ills, from skyrocketing obesity to plummeting attention spans and school test scores. On the other hand, as cable TV has emerged as the frontier for daring and innovative programming, some of the TV shows of the past decade have proved as riveting and memorable as anything Americans viewers (and the scores of people around the world who watch American TV) have ever seen.

Of course, 'good' American TV has been around for a long time, whether through artistic merit or cultural and political importance.

Art in Out-of-the-Way Places

Marfa, TX

Santa Fe, NM

Traverse City, MI

Park City, UT

Bellingham, WA

Beacon, NY

Provincetown, MA

Jhumpa Lahiri won the Pulitzer Prize for her first breathtaking collection of stories, Interpreter of Maladies, about the experience of Indian immigrants in the contemporary United States.

The Great American Novel: A Crash Course

My Antonia
Willa Cather

Underworld
Don DeLillo

The Sound and the Fury
William Faulkner

The Great Gatsby
F Scott Fitzgerald

Independence Day
Richard Ford

The Sun Also Rises
Ernest Hemingway

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest
Ken Kesey

To Kill a Mockingbird
Harper Lee

Tropic of Cancer
Henry Miller

Lolita
Vladimir Nabokov

The Grapes of Wrath
John Steinbeck

Rabbit Run
John Updike

Slaughterhouse Five
Kurt Vonnegut

Infinite Jest
David Foster Wallace

The Age of Innocence
Edith Wharton

Native Son
Richard Wright

The 1970s comedy All in the Family aired an unflinching examination of prejudice, as embodied by bigoted patriarch Archie Bunker, played by Carroll O'Connor. Similarly, the sketch-comedy show Saturday Night Live, which debuted in 1975, pushed social hot buttons with its subversive, politically charged humor.

In the 1980s, videotapes brought movies into American homes, blurring the distinction between big and small screens, and the stigma Hollywood attached to TV slowly faded. Another turning point in this decade was The Cosby Show, starring comedian Bill Cosby. While not the first successful African American show, it became the nation's highest-rated program and spurred more multicultural TV shows.

In the 1990s, TV audiences embraced the unformulaic, no-holds-barred cult show Twin Peaks, leading to a slew of provocative idiosyncrasies like The X-Files.

Now, YouTube, Hulu, Blip.tv and its ilk are changing the rules again. The networks have responded by creating more edgy, long-narrative serial dramas, as well as cheap-to-produce, 'unscripted' reality TV: what Survivor started in 2000, the contestants and 'actors' of American Idol, Dancing with the Stars, Project Runway and The Jersey Shore keep alive today, for better or for worse.

In the last decade, networks have created some much-loved series, including The Sopranos, The Wire and Curb Your Enthusiasm. More recent hits include Mad Men (which follows the antics of 1960s advertising execs in NYC), Parks and Recreation (a mock-documentary-style comedy that revolves around mid-level bureaucrats in a fictional Indiana town), Portlandia (a satire of Oregonian subcultures) and Breaking Bad (about a terminally ill high school teacher who builds a meth lab to safeguard his family's financial future).

Literature

American Identity through Literature

America first articulated a vision of itself through its literature. Until the American Revolution, the continent's citizens identified largely with England, but after independence, an immediate call went out to develop an American national voice. Not until the 1820s, however, did writers take up the two aspects of American life that had no counterpart in Europe: the untamed wilderness and the frontier experience.

James Fenimore Cooper is credited with creating the first truly American literature with The Pioneers (1823). In Cooper's 'everyman' humor and individualism, Americans first recognized themselves.

In his essay Nature (1836), Ralph Waldo Emerson articulated similar ideas, but in more philosophical and spiritual terms. Emerson claimed that nature reflected God's instructions for humankind as plainly as the Bible did, and that individuals could understand these through rational thought and self-reliance. Emerson's writings became the core of the transcendentalist movement, which Henry David Thoreau championed in Walden; or, Life in the Woods (1854).

Literary highlights of this era include Herman Melville's ambitious Moby Dick (1851) and Nathaniel Hawthorne's examination of the dark side of conservative New England in The Scarlet Letter (1850). Canonical poet Emily Dickinson wrote haunting, tightly structured poems, which were first published in 1890, four years after her death.

The Civil War & Beyond

The celebration of common humanity and nature reached its apotheosis in Walt Whitman, whose poetry collection Leaves of Grass (1855) signaled the arrival of an American literary visionary. In Whitman's informal, intimate, rebellious free verse were songs of individualism, democracy, earthy spirituality, taboo-breaking sexuality and joyous optimism that encapsulated the heart of a throbbing new nation.

But not everything was coming up roses. Abolitionist Harriet Beecher Stowe's controversial novel Uncle Tom's Cabin (1852) depicted African American life under slavery with Christian romanticism but also enough realism to inflame passions on both sides of the 'great debate' over slavery, which would shortly plunge the nation into civil war.

After the Civil War (1861–65), two enduring literary trends emerged: realism and regionalism. Regionalism was especially spurred by the rapid late-19th-century settlement of the West; novelist Jack London serialized his adventures for popular magazines such as the Saturday Evening Post.

However, it was Samuel Clemens (aka Mark Twain) who came to define American letters. In Adventures of Huckleberry Finn (1884), Twain made explicit the quintessential American narrative of an individual journey of self-discovery. The image of Huck and Jim – a poor white teenager and a runaway black slave – standing outside society's norms and floating together toward an uncertain future down the Mississippi River challenges American society still. Twain wrote in the vernacular, loved 'tall tales' and reveled in satirical humor and absurdity, while his folksy, 'anti-intellectual' stance endeared him to everyday readers.

Disillusionment & Diversity

With the dramas of world wars and a newly industrialized society for artistic fodder, American literature came into its own in the 20th century.

Dubbed the 'Lost Generation,' many US writers, most famously Ernest Hemingway, became expats in Europe. His novels exemplified the era, and his spare, stylized realism has often been imitated, yet never bettered. Other notable American figures at Parisian literary salons included modernist writers Gertrude Stein and Ezra Pound, and iconoclast Henry Miller, whose semiautobiographical novels were published in Paris, only to be banned for obscenity and pornography in the USA until the 1960s.

F Scott Fitzgerald eviscerated East Coast society life with his fiction, while John Steinbeck became the great voice of rural working poor in the West, especially during the Great Depression. William Faulkner examined the South's social rifts in dense prose riddled with bullets of black humor.

Between the world wars, the Harlem Renaissance also flourished, as African American intellectuals and artists took pride in their culture and undermined racist stereotypes. Among the most well-known writers were poet Langston Hughes and novelist Zora Neale Hurston.

After WWII, American writers delineated ever-sharper regional and ethnic divides, pursued stylistic experimentation and often caustically repudiated conservative middle-class American values. Writers of the 1950s Beat Generation, such as Jack Kerouac, Allen Ginsburg and Lawrence Ferlinghetti, threw themselves like Molotov cocktails onto the profusion of smug suburban lawns. Meanwhile, novelists JD Salinger, Russian immigrant Vladimir Nabokov, Ken Kesey and poet Sylvia Plath darkly chronicled descents into madness by characters who struggled against stifling social norms.

The South, always ripe with paradox, inspired masterful short-story writers and novelists Flannery O'Connor and Eudora Welty and novelist Dorothy Allison. The mythical romance and modern tragedies of the West have found their champions in Chicano writer Rudolfo Anaya, Larry McMurtry and Cormac McCarthy, whose characters poignantly tackle the rugged realities of Western life.

On the subject of Mark Twain's influence on American letters, Ernest Hemingway once declared, 'All modern American literature comes from one book by Mark Twain called Huckleberry Finn. There was nothing before. And there has been nothing as good since.'

African American writers rose in the 20th century, led by Richard Wright (Black Boy, 1945) and Ralph Ellison (Invisible Man, 1952). James Baldwin became a groundbreaking openly gay writer (Giovanni's Room, 1956) while African American women writers were led by Toni Morrison (The Bluest Eye, 1970), Maya Angelou (I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, 1971) and Alice Walker (The Color Purple, 1982).

Edgar Allan Poe was the first American writer to achieve international acclaim. His gruesome stories (such as 'The Tell-Tale Heart,' 1843) helped popularize the short-story form, and he is credited with inventing the mystery story, the horror story and science fiction, all extremely popular and enduring genres in America.

As the 20th century ended, American literature became ever more personalized, starting with the 'me' decade of the 1980s. Narcissistic, often nihilistic narratives by writers such as Jay McInerney and Brett Easton Ellis, catapulted the 'Brat Pack' into pop culture.

Since the 1990s, an increasingly diverse, multiethnic panoply of voices reflects the kaleidoscopic society Americans live in. Ethnic identity (especially that of immigrant cultures), regionalism and narratives of self-discovery remain at the forefront of American literature, no matter how experimental. The quarterly journal McSweeney's, founded by Dave Eggers (A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius, 2000), publishes titans of contemporary literature such as the prolific Joyce Carol Oates and Michael Chabon, both Pulitzer Prize winners. Watch out for the next novel by emerging novelists like Nicole Krauss, Junot Diaz, Gary Shtyngart and Jonathan Safran-Foer. For a sweeping, almost panoramic look at American society, read Jonathan Franzen's The Corrections or Freedom, the 2010 novel that wowed critics at home and abroad, prompting London's Guardian to deem it 'the novel of the century.'

More recent literary hits include Kevin Powers' The Yellow Birds (2012), a powerfully written tale of young American soldiers on their first tour in Iraq. In 2013, the reclusive award-winning author Thomas Pynchon published Bleeding Edge, a bold and labyrinthine novel set in NYC during the terrorist attacks of September 11.

Painting & Sculpture

An ocean away from Europe's aristocratic patrons, religious commissions and historic art academies, colonial America was not exactly fertile ground for the visual arts. Since then, thankfully, times have changed: once a swampy Dutch trading post, New York is the red-hot center of the art world, and its make-or-break influence shapes tastes across the nation and around the globe.

Shaping a National Identity

Artists played a pivotal role in the USA's 19th-century expansion, disseminating images of far-flung territories and reinforcing the call to Manifest Destiny. Thomas Cole and his colleagues in the Hudson River School translated European romanticism to the luminous wild landscapes of upstate New York, while Frederic Remington offered idealized, often stereotypical portraits of the Western frontier.

After the Civil War and the advent of industrialization, realism increasingly became prominent. Eastman Johnson painted nostalgic scenes of rural life, as did Winslow Homer, who later became renowned for watercolor seascapes.

An American Avant-Garde

Polite society's objections to Eakins' painting had nothing on the near-riots inspired by New York's Armory Show of 1913. This exhibition introduced the nation to European modernism and changed the face of American art. It showcased impressionism, fauvism and cubism, including the notorious 1912 Nude Descending a Staircase, No. 2 by Marcel Duchamp, a French artist who later became an American citizen.

New York's 1913 Armory Show was merely the first in a series of exhibitions evangelizing the radical aesthetic shifts of European modernism, and it was inevitable that American artists would begin to grapple with what they had seen. Alexander Calder, Joseph Cornell and Isamu Noguchi produced sculptures inspired by surrealism and

Top US Photographers

Ansel Adams

Walker Evans

Man Ray

Alfred Stieglitz

Richard Avedon

Robert Frank

Dorothea Lange

Cindy Sherman

Edward Weston

Diane Arbus

Lee Friedlander

ANDY WARHOL

constructivism; the precisionist paintings of Charles Demuth, Georgia O'Keeffe and Charles Sheeler combined realism with a touch of cubist geometry.

In the 1930s the Works Progress Administration's (WPA) Federal Art Project, part of President Franklin D Roosevelt's New Deal, commissioned murals, paintings and sculptures for public buildings nationwide. WPA artists borrowed from Soviet social realism and Mexican muralists to forge a socially engaged figurative style with regional flavor.

Abstract Expressionism

In the wake of WWII, American art underwent a sea change at the hands of New York school painters such as Franz Kline, Jackson Pollock and Mark Rothko. Moved by surrealism's celebration of spontaneity and the unconscious, these artists explored abstraction and its psychological potency through imposing scale and the gestural handling of paint. The movement's 'action painter' camp went extreme; Pollock, for example, made his drip paintings by pouring and splattering pigments over large canvases.

Having stood the test of time, abstract expressionism is widely considered to be the first truly original school of American art.

Art + Commodity = Pop

Once established in America, abstract expressionism reigned supreme. However, stylistic revolts had begun much earlier, in the 1950s. Most notably, Jasper Johns came to prominence with thickly painted renditions of ubiquitous symbols, including targets and the American flag, while Robert Rauschenberg assembled artworks from comics, ads and even – à la Duchamp – found objects (a mattress, a tire, a stuffed goat). Both artists helped break down traditional boundaries between painting and sculpture, opening the field for pop art in the 1960s.

America's postwar economic boom also influenced pop. Not only did artists embrace representation, they drew inspiration from consumer images such as billboards, product packaging and media icons. Employing mundane mass-production techniques to silkscreen paintings of movie stars and Coke bottles, Andy Warhol helped topple the myth of the solitary artist laboring heroically in the studio. Roy Lichtenstein combined newsprint's humble Benday dots with the representational conventions of comics. Suddenly, so-called 'serious' art could be political, bizarre, ironic and fun – and all at once.

Pop art icon Andy Warhol turned the art world on its head in the early 1960s with his celebrity portraits of figures such as Marilyn Monroe and Jackie Onassis that at once commented on celebrity and commercial culture while making the American public look at these legendary figures in a startling new light.

Minimalism

What became known as minimalism shared pop's interest in mass production, but all similarities ended there. Like the abstract expressionists, artists such as Donald Judd, Agnes Martin and Robert Ryman eschewed representational subject matter; their cool, reductive works of the 1960s and '70s were often arranged in gridded compositions and fabricated from industrial materials.

The '80s & Beyond

By the 1980s, civil rights, feminism and AIDS activism had made inroads in visual culture; artists not only voiced political dissent through their work but embraced a range of once-marginalized media, from textiles and graffiti to video, sound and performance. The decade also ushered in the so-called Culture Wars, which commenced with tumult over photographs by Robert Mapplethorpe and Andres Serrano.

To get the pulse of contemporary art in the US, check out works by artists like Jenny Holzer, Kara Walker, Chuck Close, Martin Puryear and Frank Stella.

Theater

American theater is a three-act play of sentimental entertainment, classic revivals and urgent social commentary. From the beginning, Broadway musicals (www.livebroadway.com) have aspired to be ‘don’t-miss-this-show!’ tourist attractions. And today, they continue to be one of NYC’s biggest draws. Broadway shows earn over a billion dollars in revenue from ticket sales each year, with top shows pulling in a cool $2 million a week. The most successful Broadway shows often go on to even greater earnings world-wide. (Gross earnings globally of The Phantom of the Opera topped an astounding $5.6 billion.) Meanwhile, long-running classics such as The Lion King and Wicked continue to play before sold-out houses. Keep an eye out for the much-loved classic, Les Misérables, set to return to Broadway in 2014.

Independent theater arrived in the 1920s and ‘30s, with the Little Theatre Movement, which emulated progressive European theater and developed into today’s ‘off-Broadway’ scene. Always struggling and scraping, and mostly surviving, the country’s 1500 nonprofit regional theaters are breeding grounds for new plays and foster new playwrights.

AMERICA DANCES

America fully embraced dance in the 20th century. New York City has always been the epicenter for dance innovation and the home of many premier dance companies, but every major city supports resident and touring troupes, both ballet and modern.

Modern ballet is said to have begun with Russian-born choreographer George Balanchine’s Apollo (1928) and Prodigal Son (1929). With these, Balanchine invented the ‘plotless ballet’ – in which he choreographed the inner structure of music, not a pantomimed story – and thereby created a new, modern vocabulary of ballet movement. In 1934, Balanchine founded the School of American Ballet; in 1948 he founded the New York City Ballet, turning it into one of the world’s foremost ballet companies. Jerome Robbins took over that company in 1983, after achieving fame choreographing huge Broadway musicals, such as West Side Story (1957). Broadway remains an important venue for dance today. National companies elsewhere, like San Francisco’s Lines Ballet, keep evolving contemporary ballet.

The pioneer of modern dance, Isadora Duncan, didn’t find success until she began performing in Europe at the turn of the 20th century. Basing her ideas on ancient Greek myths and concepts of beauty, she challenged the strictures of classical ballet and sought to make dance an intense form of self-expression.

Martha Graham founded the Martha Graham School for Contemporary Dance in 1926 after moving to New York, and many of today’s major American choreographers developed under her tutelage. In her long career she choreographed more than 140 works and developed a new dance technique, now taught worldwide, aimed at expressing inner emotion and dramatic narrative. Her most famous work was Appalachian Spring (1944).

Merce Cunningham, Paul Taylor and Twyla Tharp succeeded Graham as leading exponents of modern dance; they all have companies that are active today. In the 1960s and ‘70s, Cunningham explored abstract expressionism in movement, collaborating famously with musician John Cage. Taylor experimented with everyday movements and expressions, while Tharp is known for incorporating pop music, jazz and ballet.

Another student of Martha Graham, Alvin Ailey, was part of the post-WWII flowering of African American culture. He made his name with Revelations (1960), two years after he founded the still-lauded Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater in New York City.

Other celebrated postmodern choreographers include Mark Morris and Bill T Jones. Beyond New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Minneapolis and Philadelphia are noteworthy for modern dance.

Some also develop Broadway-bound productions, while others sponsor festivals dedicated to the Bard himself, William Shakespeare.

Eugene O'Neill – the first major US playwright, and still widely considered the best – put American drama on the map. After WWII, American playwrights joined the nationwide artistic renaissance. Two of the most famous were Arthur Miller, who famously married Marilyn Monroe and wrote about everything from middle-class male disillusionment to the dark psychology of the mob mentality of the Salem witch trials, and the prolific Southerner Tennessee Williams.

As in Europe, absurdism and the avant-garde marked American theater in the 1960s. Few were more scathing than Edward Albee, who started provoking bourgeois sensibilities. Neil Simon arrived at around the same time; his ever-popular comedies kept Broadway humming for 40 years.

Other prominent, active American dramatists emerging in the 1970s include David Mamet, Sam Shephard and innovative 'concept musical' composer Stephen Sondheim. August Wilson created a monumental 10-play 'Pittsburgh Cycle' dissecting 20th-century African American life.

Today, American theater is evolving in its effort to remain a relevant communal experience in an age of ever-isolating media. Shows including Breakfast with Mugabe explore the trauma of the past, while Avenue Q, with its trash-talking, love-making puppets, presents a hilarious send-up of life on Sesame Street. More immersive experiences such as Sleep No More put theater-goers inside the play to wander freely among wildly decorated rooms – including a graveyard, stables, psychiatric ward and ballroom – as the drama (loosely based on Macbeth) unfolds around them.

Architecture

In the 21st century, computer technology and innovations in materials and manufacturing allow for curving, asymmetrical buildings once considered impossible, if not inconceivable. Architects are being challenged to 'go green,' and the creativity unleashed is riveting, transforming skylines and changing the way Americans think about their built environments. The public's architectural taste remains conservative, but never mind: avant-garde 'starchitects' are revising urban landscapes with radical visions that the nation will catch up with – one day.

The Colonial Period

Perhaps the only lasting indigenous influence on American architecture has been the adobe dwellings of the Southwest. In the 17th and 18th centuries, Spanish colonists incorporated elements of what they called the Native American pueblo (village). It reappeared in late-19th and early-20th-century architecture in both the Southwest's Pueblo Revival style and Southern California's Mission Revival style.

Elsewhere until the 20th century, immigrant Americans mainly adopted English and continental European styles and followed their trends. For most early colonists in the eastern US, architecture served necessity rather than taste, while the would-be gentry aped grander English homes, a period well preserved in Williamsburg, Virginia.

After the Revolutionary War, the nation's leaders wanted a style befitting the new republic and adopted neoclassicism. Virginia's capitol, designed by Thomas Jefferson, was modeled on an ancient Roman temple, and Jefferson's own private estate, Monticello, sports a Romanesque rotunda.

Professional architect Charles Bulfinch helped develop the more monumental federal style, which paralleled the English Georgian style. The grandest example is the US Capitol in Washington, DC, which became a model for state legislatures nationwide. As they moved into the 19th

Upton Sinclair's The Jungle (1906) shocked the public with its harrowing exposé of Chicago's meatpacking industry, and instantly became a modern classic. Nearly a century later, Eric Schlosser's Fast Food Nation (2001) similarly alerted America to the dark underside of the fast-food industry.

Books Once Banned in America

Are You There, God? It's Me, Margaret Judy Blume

Lord of the Flies
William Golding

1984
George Orwell

The Catcher in the Rye
JD Salinger

Adventures of Huckleberry Finn
Mark Twain

The Color Purple
Alice Walker

ART
DECO

Remarkable examples of art-deco skyscrapers include New York City's Chrysler Building and Empire State Building. Art deco simultaneously appeared nationwide in the design of movie houses, train stations, and office buildings across the country, and in neighborhoods like Miami's South Beach.

century, Americans, mirroring English fashions, gravitated toward the Greek and Gothic Revival styles, still seen today in many churches and college campuses.

Building the Nation

Meanwhile, small-scale architecture was revolutionized by 'balloon-frame' construction: a light frame of standard-milled timber joined with cheap nails. Easy and economical, balloon-frame stores and houses made possible swift settlement of the expanding west and, later, the surreal proliferation of the suburbs. Home-ownership was suddenly within reach of average middle-class families, making real the enduring American Dream.

After the Civil War, influential American architects studied at Paris' École des Beaux-Arts, and American buildings began to show increasing refinement and confidence. Major examples of the beaux-arts style include Richard Morris Hunt's Biltmore Estate in North Carolina and New York's Public Library.

In San Francisco and other cities across America, Victorian architecture appeared as the 19th century progressed. Among well-to-do classes, larger and fancier private houses added ever more adornments: balconies, turret, towers, ornately painted trim and intricate 'gingerbread' wooden millwork.

In a reaction against Victorian opulence, the Arts and Crafts movement arose after 1900 and remained popular until the 1930s. Its modest bungalows, such as the Gamble House in Pasadena, California, featured locally handcrafted wood and glasswork, ceramic tiles and other artisan details.

Reaching for the Sky

By the 1850s, internal iron-framed buildings had appeared in Manhattan, and this freed up urban architectural designs, especially after the advent of Otis hydraulic elevators in the 1880s. The Chicago School of architecture transitioned beyond beaux-arts style to produce the skyscraper – considered the first truly 'modern' architecture, and America's most prominent architectural contribution to the world at that time.

In the 1930s, the influence of art deco – which became instantly popular in the US after the Paris Exposition of 1925 – meant that urban high-rises soared, becoming fitting symbols of America's technical achievements, grand aspirations, commerce and affinity for modernism.

Modernism & Beyond

When the Bauhaus school fled the rise of Nazism in Germany, architects such as Walter Gropius and Ludwig Mies van der Rohe brought their pioneering modern designs to American shores. Van der Rohe landed in Chicago, where Louis Sullivan, considered to be the inventor of the modern skyscraper, was already working on a simplified style of architecture in which 'form ever follows function.' This evolved into the International style, which favored glass 'curtain walls' over a steel frame. IM Pei, who designed Cleveland's Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, is considered the last living high-modernist architect in America.

In the mid-20th century, modernism transitioned into America's suburbs, especially in Southern California. Midcentury modern architecture was influenced not only by the organic nature of Frank Lloyd Wright homes but also the spare, geometric, clean-lined designs of Scandinavia. Post-and-beam construction allowed for walls of sheer glass that gave the illusion of merging indoor and outdoor living spaces. Today, a striking collection of midcentury modern homes and public buildings by Albert Frey, Richard Neutra and other luminaries can be found in Palm Springs, CA.

Rejecting modernism's 'ugly boxes' later in the 20th century, post-modernism reintroduced decoration, color, historical references and whimsy. In this, architects like Michael Graves and Philip Johnson took the lead. Another expression of postmodernism is the brash, mimetic architecture of the Las Vegas Strip, which Pritzker Prize-winning architect Robert Venturi held up as the triumphant antithesis of modernism (he sardonically described the latter as 'less is a bore').

Today, aided and abetted by digital tools, architectural design favors the bold and the unique. Leading this plunge into futuarama has been Frank Gehry; his Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles is but one example. Other notable contemporary architects include Richard Meier (Los Angeles' Getty Center), Thom Mayne (San Francisco's Federal Building) and Daniel Libeskind (San Francisco's Contemporary Jewish Museum and the Denver Art Museum's Hamilton Building).

Even as the recession crippled the American economy in 2008 and stalled new construction, several phenomenal new examples of visionary architecture have burst upon the scene in American cities. Notable examples include Jeanne Gang's Acqua building in Chicago, Peter Bohlin's already-iconic glass cube at New York City's Fifth Avenue Apple Store, and Renzo Piano's stunning (and sustainable) California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco, which includes a 2.5-acre living roof made of 1.7 million native plants.

Famous Literary Recluses

.....
Emily Dickinson
(1830-1886)

.....
JD Salinger
(1919-2010)

.....
Harper Lee
(1926- )

.....
Don DeLillo
(1936- )

.....
Thomas Pynchon
(1937- )

The Music Scene

American popular music is the nation's heartbeat and its unbreakable soul. It's John Lee Hooker's deep growls and John Coltrane's passionate cascades. It's Hank Williams' yodel and Elvis' pout. It's Beyoncé and Bob Dylan, Duke Ellington and Patti Smith. It's a feeling as much as a form – always a foot-stomping, defiant good time, whether folks are boot scooting to bluegrass, sweating to zydeco, jumping to hip-hop or stage-diving to punk rock.

Blues

The country that spawned the world's most successful recording industry also popularized the technology accused of killing it. From the emergence of file sharing to Apple's 2011 unveiling of the iCloud, a music-streaming service, it's no surprise that the American music industry is under stress – though from its ability to evolve, you'd hardly know it.

The South is the mother of American music, most of which has roots in the frisson and interplay of black-white racial relations. The blues developed after the Civil War, out of the work songs, or 'shouts,' of black slaves and out of black spiritual songs and their 'call-and-response' pattern, both of which were adaptations of African music.

Improvisational and intensely personal, the blues remain at heart an immediate expression of individual pain, suffering, hope, desire and pride. Nearly all subsequent American music has tapped this deep well.

At the turn of the 20th century, traveling blues musicians, and particularly female blues singers, gained fame and employment across the South. Early pioneers included Robert Johnson, WC Handy, Ma Rainey, Huddie Ledbetter (aka Lead Belly) and Bessie Smith, who some consider the best blues singer who ever lived. At the same time, African American Christian choral music evolved into gospel, whose greatest singer, Mahalia Jackson, came to prominence in the 1920s.

After WWII, blues from Memphis and the Mississippi Delta dispersed northward, particularly to Chicago, in the hands of a new generation of musicians such as Muddy Waters, Buddy Guy, BB King, John Lee Hooker and Etta James.

Today's generation of blues players include the likes of Bonamassa, Warren Haynes (a longtime player for the Allman Brothers), Seasick Steve, the Tedeschi Trucks Band and the sometimes-blues players The Black Keys.

Jazz

Down in New Orleans, Congo Sq, where slaves gathered to sing and dance from the late 18th century onward, is considered the birthplace of jazz. There ex-slaves adapted the reed, horn and string instruments used by the city's often French-speaking, multiracial Creoles – who themselves preferred formal European music – to play their own African-influenced music. This fertile cross-pollination produced a steady stream of innovative sounds.

The first variation was ragtime, so-called because of its 'ragged,' syncopated African rhythms. Beginning in the 1890s, ragtime was popularized by musicians such as Scott Joplin, and was made widely accessible through sheet music and player-piano rolls.

Dixieland jazz, centered on New Orleans' infamous Storyville red-light district, soon followed. In 1917 Storyville shut down and New Orleans' jazz musicians dispersed. In 1919 bandleader King Oliver moved to Chicago, and his star trumpet player, Louis Armstrong, soon followed. Armstrong's distinctive vocals and talented improvisations led to the solo becoming an integral part of jazz throughout much of the 20th century.

The Jazz Age & Beyond

The 1920s and '30s are known as the Jazz Age, but music was just part of the greater flowering of African American culture during New York's Harlem Renaissance. Swing – an urbane, big-band jazz style – swept the country, led by innovative bandleaders Duke Ellington and Count Basie. Jazz singers Ella Fitzgerald and Billie Holiday combined jazz with its Southern sibling, the blues.

After WWII, bebop (aka bop) arose, reacting against the smooth melodies and confining rhythms of big-band swing. A new crop of musicians came of age, including Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie and Thelonious Monk. Critics at first derided such 1950s and '60s permutations as cool jazz, hard-bop, free or avant-garde jazz, and fusion (which combined jazz and Latin or rock music) – but there was no stopping the postmodernist tide deconstructing jazz. Pioneers of this era include Miles Davis, Dave Brubeck, Chet Baker, Charles Mingus, John Coltrane, Melba Liston and Ornette Coleman.

Country

Early Scottish, Irish and English immigrants brought their own instruments and folk music to America, and what emerged over time in the secluded Appalachian Mountains was fiddle-and-banjo hillbilly, or 'country' music. In the Southwest, steel guitars and larger bands distinguished 'western' music. In the 1920s, these styles merged into 'country-and-western' music and became centered on Nashville, Tennessee, especially once the Grand Ole Opry began its radio broadcasts in 1925. Country musicians that are now 'classics' include Hank Williams, Johnny Cash, Willie Nelson, Patsy Cline and Loretta Lynn.

Country music influenced rock and roll in the 1950s, while rock-flavored country was dubbed 'rockabilly' In the 1980s, country and western achieved new levels of popularity with stars like Garth Brooks. Today, country-music stations dominate other genres. Musicians with record-breaking success include Shania Twain, Dwight Yoakam, Tim McGraw and Taylor Swift. Occupying the eclectic 'alt country' category are Lucinda Williams and Lyle Lovett.

Folk

The tradition of American folk music was crystallized in Woody Guthrie, who traveled the country during the Depression singing politically-conscious songs. In the 1940s, Pete Seeger emerged as a tireless preserver of America's folk heritage. Folk music experienced a revival during 1960s protest movements, but then-folkie Bob Dylan ended it almost single-handedly when he plugged in an electric guitar to shouts of 'traitor!'

Folk has seen a resurgence in the last decade, particularly in the Pacific Northwest. Iron and Wine's mournful tunes channel pop, blues and rock, while Joanna Newsom, with her extraordinary voice and unusual instrumentation (she plays the harp) add a new level of complexity to folk. The young sister duo Lily & Madeleine sing ethereal, incredibly rich folk ballads.

Rock & Roll

Most say rock and roll was born in 1954 the day Elvis Presley walked into Sam Phillips' Sun Studio and recorded 'That's All Right.' Initially, radio stations weren't sure why a white country boy was singing black music, or whether they should play it. Two years later Presley scored his first big breakthrough with 'Heartbreak Hotel.'

Musically, rock and roll was a hybrid of guitar-driven blues, black rhythm and blues (R&B), and white country-and-western music. R&B evolved in the 1940s out of swing and the blues and was then known

PRINCE

One of rock music's most phenomenal success stories, Prince, was born Prince Rogers Nelson in 1950s Minneapolis. He originally tried out for the high-school basketball team, but being too short at 5ft 2in, he was cut. His back-up hobby? He took up the guitar.

One-Hit Wonders in US Charts

'Tell Him,' The Exciters (1962)

'Just One Look,' Doris Troy (1963)

'Cruel to Be Kind,' Nick Lowe (1979)

'Video Killed the Radio Star,' The Buggles (1979)

'Funkytown,' Lipps, Inc. (1980)

'Turning Japanese,' The Vapors (1980)

'Mickey,' Toni Basil (1982)

'Tainted Love,' Soft Cell (1982)

'Come on Eileen,' Dexys Midnight Runners (1983)

'Rock Me Amadeus,' Falco (1985)

'Baby Got Back,' Sir Mix-a-Lot (1992)

'Whoomp...There It Is,' Tag Team (1993)

'Crazy,' Gnarls Barkley (2006)

as 'race music.' With rock and roll, white performers and some African American musicians transformed 'race music' into something that white youths could embrace freely – and oh, did they.

Rock and roll instantly abetted a social revolution even more significant than its musical one: openly sexual as it celebrated youth and dancing freely across color lines, rock scared the nation. Authorities worked diligently to control 'juvenile delinquents' and to sanitize and suppress rock and roll, which might have withered if not for the early 1960s 'British invasion,' in which the Beatles and the Rolling Stones, emulating Chuck Berry, Little Richard and others, shocked rock and roll back to life.

The 1960s witnessed a full-blown youth rebellion, epitomized by the drug-inspired psychedelic sounds of the Grateful Dead and Jefferson Airplane, and the electric wails of Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix. Ever since, rock has been about music and lifestyle, alternately torn between hedonism and seriousness, commercialism and authenticity.

Punk arrived in the late 1970s, led by the Ramones and the Dead Kennedys, as did the working-class rock of Bruce Springsteen and Tom Petty. As the counterculture became the culture in the 1980s, critics prematurely pronounced 'rock is dead.' Rock was saved (by the Talking Heads, REM, Nirvana, Sonic Youth, Pavement and Pearl Jam among others) as it always has been: by splintering and evolving, whether it's called new wave, heavy metal, grunge, indie rock, world beat, skate punk, hardcore, goth, emo or electronica.

Even though hip-hop has become today's outlaw sound, rock remains relevant, and it's not going anywhere. Cue up the Killers, the Yeah Yeah Yeahs, Kings of Leon or the Strokes to hear why. Other heavy hitters of the moment include Vampire Weekend, the National and Band of Horses.

Hip-Hop

From the ocean of sounds coming out of the early 1970s – funk, soul, Latin, reggae, and rock and roll – young DJs from the Bronx in NYC began to spin a groundbreaking mixture of records together in an effort to drive dance floors wild.

And so hip-hop was born. Groups such as Grandmaster Flash and the Furious Five were soon taking the party from the streets to the trendy clubs of Manhattan and mingling with punk and new wave bands including the Clash and Blondie. In parallel, break-out graffiti artists Futura 2000, Keith Haring and Jean-Michel Basquiat moved from the subways and the streets to the galleries, and soon to the worlds of fashion and advertising.

As groups like Run-DMC, Public Enemy and the Beastie Boys sold millions, the sounds and styles of the growing hip-hop culture rapidly diversified. The daring 'gangsta rap' sound of Niggaz With Attitude came out of Los Angeles, and the group got both accolades and bad press for its daring sounds and social commentary – which critics called battle cries for violence – on racism, drugs, sex and urban poverty.

Come the turn of the millennium, what started as some raggedy gang kids playing their parents' funk records at illegal block parties had evolved into a multibillion-dollar business. Russell Simmons and P Diddy stood atop media empires, and stars Queen Latifah and Will Smith were Hollywood royalty. A white rapper from Detroit, Eminem, sold millions of records and hip-hop overtook country as America's second-most-popular music behind pop rock.

Today, many view hip-hop as a rapid wasteland of commercial excess – glorifying consumerism, misogyny, homophobia, drug use and a host of other social ills. But just as the hedonistic days of arena rock and roll gave birth to the rebel child of punk, the evolving offspring of hip-hop and DJ culture are constantly breaking the rules to create something new and even more energizing. Major players of the moment include Jay-Z, Kanye West, Nicki Minaj and the more experimental and feel-good hip-hop duo of Macklemore & Ryan Lewis.

The Land & Wildlife

The USA is home to creatures both great and small, from the ferocious grizzly to the industrious beaver, with colossal bison, snowy owls, soaring eagles, howling coyotes and doe-eyed manatees all part of the great American menagerie. The nation's varied geography – coastlines along two oceans, mountains, deserts, rain forests, and massive bay and river systems – harbor ecosystems where a wide range of plant and animal life can flourish.

Geography

The USA is big, no question. Covering more than 3.5 million sq miles, it's the world's third-largest country, trailing only Russia and Canada, its friendly neighbor to the north. The continental USA is made up of 48 contiguous states ('the lower 48'), while Alaska, its largest state, is northwest of Canada, and the volcanic islands of Hawaii, the 50th state, are 2600 miles southwest of the mainland in the Pacific Ocean.

It's more than just size, though. America feels big because of its incredibly diverse topography, which began to take shape around 50 to 60 million years ago.

In the contiguous USA, the east is a land of temperate, deciduous forests and contains the ancient Appalachian Mountains, a low range that parallels the Atlantic Ocean. Between the mountains and the coast lies the country's most populated, urbanized region, particularly in the corridor between Washington, DC, and Boston, MA.

Wilderness Films

Winged Migration,
by Jacques Perrin

Grizzly Man, by Werner Herzog

Into the Wild, by Sean Penn

White Fang, by Randal Kleiser

RETURN OF THE WOLF

The wolf is a potent symbol of America's wilderness. This smart, social predator is the largest species of canine – averaging more than 100lb and reaching nearly 3ft at the shoulder. An estimated 400,000 once roamed the continent from coast to coast, from Alaska to Mexico.

Wolves were not regarded warmly by European settlers. The first wildlife legislation in the British colonies was a wolf bounty. As 19th-century Americans tamed the West, they slaughtered the once-uncountable herds of bison, elk, deer and moose, replacing them with domestic cattle and sheep, which wolves found equally tasty.

To stop wolves from devouring the livestock, the wolf's extermination soon became official government policy. Up until 1965, for $20 to $50 an animal, wolves were shot, poisoned, trapped and dragged from dens until in the lower 48 states only a few hundred gray wolves remained in northern Minnesota and Michigan.

In 1944, naturalist Aldo Leopold called for the return of the wolf. His argument was ecology, not nostalgia. His studies showed that wild ecosystems need their top predators to maintain a healthy biodiversity; in complex interdependence, all animals and plants suffered with the wolf gone.

Despite dire predictions from ranchers and hunters, gray wolves were reintroduced to the Greater Yellowstone Region in 1995–96 and red wolves to Arizona in 1998.

Protected and encouraged, wolf populations have made a remarkable recovery, with more than 5500 now counted in the wild.

AMERICA'S WORST NATURAL DISASTERS

Earthquakes, wildfires, tornadoes, hurricanes and blizzards – the US certainly has its share of natural disasters. A few of the more infamous events that have shaped the national conscience:

Galveston Hurricane In 1900 Galveston – then known as ‘the jewel of Texas’ – was practically obliterated by a category-4 hurricane. Fifteen-foot waves destroyed buildings and at one point the entire island was submerged. More than 8000 perished, making it America’s deadliest natural disaster.

1906 San Francisco Earthquake A powerful earthquake (estimated to be around an 8 on the Richter scale) leveled the city, followed by even more devastating fires. The quake was felt as far away as Oregon and Central Nevada. An estimated 3000-plus died, while more than 200,000 people (of a population of 410,000) were left homeless.

Dust Bowl During a prolonged drought of the 1930s, the overworked topsoil of the Great Plains dried up, turned to dust and billowed eastward in massive windstorm-fueled ‘black blizzards’, reaching all the way to NYC and Washington, DC. Millions of acres of crops were decimated and more than 500,000 people were left homeless. The great exodus westward by stricken farmers and migrants was immortalized in John Steinbeck’s The Grapes of Wrath.

Hurricane Katrina August 29, 2005, is not a day easily forgotten in New Orleans. A massive category-5 hurricane swept across the Gulf of Mexico and slammed into Louisiana. As levees failed, floods inundated more than 80% of the city. The death toll reached 1836, with more than $100 billion in estimated damages – making it America’s costliest natural disaster. Heartbreaking images of the destroyed city, and anger over the government’s response, still linger.

Tornado Alley In 2011 the US experienced its largest tornado outbreak in recorded history. More than 300 tornadoes raged across 21 states over three harrowing days. Amazingly, this occurred just weeks after the second-largest tornado outbreak in US history. The storms left more than 300 dead and $10 billion in damages.

Hurricane Sandy In 2012 America suffered its second-costliest hurricane in US history. It affected more than 24 states, with New Jersey and New York among the hardest hit. More than 80 died in the USA, and estimated damages amounted to more than $68 billion. It was also the largest Atlantic hurricane ever recorded, with storm winds spanning over 1000 miles.

To the north are the Great Lakes, which the USA shares with Canada. These five lakes, part of the Canadian Shield, are the greatest expanse of fresh water on the planet, constituting nearly 20% of the world’s supply.

Going south along the East Coast, things get wetter and warmer till you reach the swamps of southern Florida and make the turn into the Gulf of Mexico, which provides the USA with a southern coastline.

West of the Appalachians are the vast interior plains, which lie flat all the way to the Rocky Mountains. The eastern plains are the nation’s breadbasket, roughly divided into the northern ‘corn belt’ and the southern ‘cotton belt.’ The plains, an ancient sea bottom, are drained by the mighty Mississippi River, which together with the Missouri River forms the world’s fourth-longest river system, surpassed only by the Nile, Amazon and Yangtze Rivers. Going west, farmland slowly gives way to cowboys and ranches in the semiarid, big-sky Great Plains.

The young, jagged Rocky Mountains are a complex set of tall ranges that run all the way from Mexico to Canada, providing excellent skiing. West of these mountains are the Southwestern deserts, an arid region of extremes that has been cut to dramatic effect by the Colorado River system. This land of eroded canyons leads to the unforgiving Great Basin as you go across Nevada. Also an ancient sea bottom, the Great Basin is where the military practices and where the USA plans to bury its nuclear waste.

One of the most fascinating theories about the planet is James Lovelock’s Gaia hypothesis, which proposes that the earth is a living, complex, self-regulating organism. Read about Lovelock’s mind-blowing ideas in The Ages of Gaia.

Then you reach America's third major mountain system: the southern, granite Sierra Nevada and the northern, volcanic Cascades, which both parallel the Pacific Coast. California's Central Valley is one of the most fertile places on earth, and the coastline from San Diego to Seattle is celebrated in folk songs and Native American legends – a stretch of sandy beaches and old-growth forests, including coast redwoods.

But wait, there's more. Northwest of Canada, Alaska reaches the Arctic Ocean and contains tundra, glaciers, an interior rainforest and the lion's share of federally protected wilderness. Hawaii, in the Pacific Ocean, is a string of tropical island idylls.

Land Mammals

Nineteenth-century Americans did not willingly suffer competing predators, and federal eradication programs nearly wiped out every single wolf and big cat and many of the bears in continental US. Almost all share the same story of abundance, precipitous loss and, today, partial recovery.

The grizzly bear, a subspecies of brown bear, is one of North America's largest land mammals. Male grizzlies can stand 7ft tall, weigh up to 850lb and consider 500 sq miles home. At one time, perhaps 50,000 grizzlies roamed the West, but by 1975 fewer than 300 remained. Conservation efforts, particularly in the Greater Yellowstone Region, have increased the population in the lower 48 states to around 1300. By contrast, Alaska remains chock-full of grizzlies, with upwards of 30,000. Despite a decline in numbers, black bears survive nearly everywhere. Smaller than grizzlies, these opportunistic, adaptable and curious animals can survive on very small home ranges.

Another extremely adaptable creature is the coyote, which looks similar to a wolf but is about half the size, ranging from 15lb to 45lb. An icon of the Southwest, coyotes are found all over, even in cities. The USA has one primary big-cat species, which goes by several names: mountain lion, cougar, puma and panther. In the east, a remnant population of panthers

Unusual Wildlife Reads

Rats, by Robert Sullivan

Pigeons, by Andrew Blechman

Cod, by Mark Kurlansky

Ants, by Bert Hölldobler & EO Wilson

Secret Life of Lobsters, by Trevor Corson

WILDLIFE WATCHING: USA'S ENDANGERED SPECIES

Currently, more than 1300 plants and animals are listed in the USA as either endangered or threatened. Although all endangered species are vital to the ecosystem, if it's brag-worthy animals that you're keen to see (and photograph), here are places to spot them before (gulp) it's too late:

Bighorn sheep Anza-Borrego Desert State Park, CA, and Zion National Park, UT

California condor Big Sur, CA, and Grand Canyon National Park, AZ

Desert tortoise Mojave National Preserve, CA

Florida panther Everglades National Park, FL

Gray wolf Yellowstone National Park, WY

Hawaiian goose Haleakalā National Park, HI

Hawaiian monk seal Waikiki Aquarium, HI

Manatee Everglades National Park, FL

Mexican long-nosed bat Big Bend National Park, TX

Whooping cranes Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge, TX, and Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge, NM

High in the White Mountains (east of California's Sierra Nevada) stand the oldest single living plant species on earth. Known as bristlecone pines, these bare and dramatically twisted trees date back more than 4000 years and have long mystified scientists for their extraordinary longevity.

The fastest bird in North America is believed to be the peregrine falcon, which has been clocked diving for prey at speeds of up to 175mph.

is defended within Everglades National Park. In the west, mountain lions are common enough for human encounters to be on the increase. These powerful cats are about 150lb of pure muscle, with short tawny fur, long tails and a secretive nature.

The story of the great American buffalo is a tragic one. These massive herbivores numbered as many as 65 million in 1800 – in herds so thick they 'darkened the whole plains,' as explorers Lewis and Clark wrote. They were killed for food, hides, sport and to impoverish Native Americans, who depended on them for survival. By the 20th century, only a few hundred bison remained. Overcoming near extinction, new herds arose from these last survivors, so that one of America's noblest animals can again be admired in its gruff majesty – among other places, in Yellowstone, Grand Teton and Badlands National Parks.

Marine Mammals & Fish

Perhaps no native fish gets more attention than salmon, whose spawning runs up Pacific Coast rivers provide famous spectacles. However, both Pacific and Atlantic salmon are considered endangered; hatcheries release millions of young every year, but there is debate about whether this practice hurts or helps wild populations.

As for marine life, gray, humpback and blue whales migrate annually along the Pacific Coast, making whale-watching very popular. Alaska and Hawaii are important breeding grounds for whales and marine mammals, and Washington State's San Juan Islands are visited by orcas. The Pacific Coast is also home to ponderous elephant seals, playful sea lions and endangered sea otters.

In California, Channel Islands National Park and Monterey Bay preserve unique, highly diverse marine worlds. For coral reefs and tropical fish, Hawaii and the Florida Keys are the prime destinations. The coast of Florida is also home to the unusual, gentle manatee, which moves between freshwater rivers and the ocean. Around 10ft long and weighing on average 1000lb, these agile, expressive creatures number around 3800 today, and may once have been mistaken for mermaids.

The Gulf of Mexico is another vital marine habitat, perhaps most famously for endangered sea turtles, which nest on coastal beaches.

Birds

Birding is the most popular wildlife-watching activity in the US, and little wonder – all the hemisphere's migratory songbirds and shorebirds rest here at some point, and the USA consequently claims some 800 native avian species.

The bald eagle was adopted as the nation's symbol in 1782. It's the only eagle unique to North America, and perhaps half a million once ruled the continent's skies. By 1963, habitat destruction and, in particular, poisoning from DDT had caused the population to plummet to 487 breeding pairs in the lower 48. By 2006, however, bald eagles had recovered so well, increasing to almost 9800 breeding pairs across the continent (plus 50,000 in Alaska), that they've now been removed from the endangered species list.

Another impressive bird is the endangered California condor, a pre-historic, carrion-eating bird that weighs about 20lb and has a wingspan over 9ft. Condors were virtually extinct by the 1980s (reduced to just 22 birds), but they have been successfully bred and reintroduced in California and northern Arizona, where they can sometimes be spotted soaring above the Grand Canyon.

The Environmental Movement

The USA is well known for its political and social revolutions, but it also birthed environmentalism. The USA was the first nation to make significant efforts to preserve its wilderness, and US environmentalists often spearhead preservation efforts worldwide.

America's Protestant settlers believed that civilization's Christian mandate was to bend nature to its will. Not only was wilderness deadly and difficult, but it was a potent symbol of humanity's godless impulses, and the Pilgrims set about subduing both with gusto.

Then, in the mid-19th century, taking their cue from European Romantics, the USA's transcendentalists claimed that nature was not fallen, but holy. In Walden; or, Life in the Woods (1854), iconoclast Henry David Thoreau (1817–62) described living for two years in the woods, blissfully free of civilization's comforts. He persuasively argued that human society was harmfully distant from nature's essential truths. This view marked a profound shift toward believing that nature, the soul and God were one.

The Sierra Club (www.sierraclub.org) was the USA's first conservation group and it remains the nation's most active, with educational programs, organized trips and tons of information.

IT'S NOT EASY BEING GREEN

The USA has long been one of the world's greatest consumers of energy, accounting for a quarter of the world's greenhouse gases. Sustainability, however, seems to be on everyone's lips these days, and interest in renewable energy is at an all-time high.

Though enormous obstacles lie ahead, the US has made marked advances in lowering its carbon footprint.

Winds of change Although wind energy generates about 3.8% of the nation's electricity, the US is the world's second-largest producer of wind energy (after China), and shows enormous potential for growth. The US Department of Energy envisions 20% of the nation's power supplied by this clean energy by 2030.

Solar power Interest in solar power is high – with solar power growing at a rate of 40% per year. The US currently generates roughly half of the world's solar energy. Ambitions are grand for solar plants (including three massive 500MW plants under construction in the west), though private citizens and small businesses are also contributing, adding solar panels to help meet energy needs.

Biofuels The USA is now the world's largest producer of ethanol (fuel made from corn and other common crops). As of 2013, it accounted for roughly 10% of the nation's total domestic fuel consumption – a big jump from 2001 when it was only 1%.

Electric cars American automobile manufacturers, once wedded to gas-guzzling SUVs and trucks, have responded to consumer demand for more fuel-efficient cars. More than 18,000 plug-in electric vehicles are sold annually, with growing numbers on the horizon. More than 5000 charging stations are scattered across the country. The US government has also pledged over $2 billion in federal grants to support the development of next-generation electric cars as well as expanding electric vehicle charging infrastructure.

Ecofriendly architecture Green buildings have arrived and are garnering much attention at home and abroad. Energy-efficient windows, more ecofriendly building materials and water conservation features (such as greywater systems that utilize rainwater) are just a few features of LEED-certified buildings emerging nationwide.

Greenways Back in the 1980s, the notion of riding a bicycle down Broadway in New York City seemed pure suicide. Today, NYC – along with Chicago, Boston, Washington, DC, and other cities – has added hundreds of miles of bike lanes, and urbanites are finding greener (and sometimes faster) ways of getting around town.

John Muir & National Parks

The continent's natural wonders – vividly captured by America's 19th-century landscape painters – had a way of selling themselves, and rampant nationalism led to a desire to promote them. In the late 1800s, US presidents began setting aside land for state and national parks.

Scottish naturalist John Muir (1838–1914) soon emerged to champion wilderness for its own sake. Muir considered nature superior to civilization, and he spent much of his life wandering the Sierra Nevada mountain range and passionately advocating on its behalf. Muir was the driving force behind the USA's emerging conservation movement, which had its first big victory in 1890 when Yosemite National Park was established. Muir founded the Sierra Club in 1892 and slowly gained national attention.

Reading Climate Change

Field Notes from a Catastrophe,
Elizabeth Kolbert

The Weather Makers,
Tim Flannery

Eaarth,
Bill McKibben

The Great Disruption,
Paul Gilding

Environmental Laws & Climate Change

Over the following decades, the USA passed a series of landmark environmental and wildlife laws that resulted in significant improvements in the nation's water and air quality, and the partial recovery of many near-extinct plants and animals. The movement's focus steadily broadened – to preserving entire ecosystems, not just establishing parks – as it confronted devastation wrought by pollution, overkill of species, habitat destruction through human impact and the introduction of non-native species.

Today, environmentalism is a worldwide movement, one that understands that each nation's local problems also contribute to a global threat: climate change. In the USA, the dangers of global warming are inspiring an environmental awareness as widespread as at any time in US history. Whether or not average Americans believe God speaks through nature, they're increasingly disturbed by the messages they are hearing.

Survival Guide

DIRECTORY A-Z . . .	1172	Visas . . . . .	1181
Accommodations . . . . .	1172	Volunteering . . . . .	1183
Customs Regulations . . . . .	1173	Women Travelers . . . . .	1184
Discount Cards . . . . .	1173	Work . . . . .	1184
Electricity . . . . .	1174	DRIVING IN THE USA . . . . .	1185
Embassies & Consulates . . . . .	1174	TRANSPORTATION . . . . .	1189
Food . . . . .	1174	GETTING THERE &amp; AWAY . . . . .	1189
Gay & Lesbian Travelers . . . . .	1174	Entering the USA . . . . .	1189
Health . . . . .	1175	Air . . . . .	1189
Insurance . . . . .	1175	Land . . . . .	1190
Internet Access . . . . .	1176	Sea . . . . .	1191
Legal Matters . . . . .	1176	Tours . . . . .	1191
Maps . . . . .	1177	GETTING AROUND . . . . .	1191
Money . . . . .	1177	Air . . . . .	1191
Opening Hours . . . . .	1178	Bicycle . . . . .	1192
Photography & Video . . . . .	1178	Boat . . . . .	1192
Post . . . . .	1178	Bus . . . . .	1192
Public Holidays . . . . .	1179	Car & Motorcycle . . . . .	1193
Safe Travel . . . . .	1179	Local Transportation . . . . .	1193
Telephone . . . . .	1179	Tours . . . . .	1193
Time . . . . .	1180	Train . . . . .	1194
Tourist Information . . . . .	1180
Travelers with Disabilities . . . . .	1181

Directory A-Z

Accommodations

For all but the cheapest places and the slowest seasons, reservations are advised. In high-season tourist hot spots, hotels can book up months ahead. In general, many hotels offer specials on their websites, but low-end chains sometimes give a slightly better rate over the phone. Chain hotels also increasingly offer frequent-flyer mileage deals and other rewards programs; ask when booking. Online travel booking, bidding and comparison websites are another good way to find discounted hotel rates – but are usually limited to chain hotels; also check out Hotels.com

SLEEPING PRICE RANGES

Accommodations rates are based on double occupancy for high season (generally May to September), and don't include taxes, which can add 10% to 15%. When booking, ask for the rate including taxes.

$ less than $100

$$ $100 to $200

$$$ more than $200

(www.hotels.com), Hotwire (www.hotwire.com) and Booking.com (www.booking.com).

House & Apartment Rentals

To rent a house or apartment from locals, visit Airbnb (www.airbnb.com), which has thousands of listings across the country. Budget travelers can also rent a room; a great way to connect with locals if you don't mind sharing facilities.

B&Bs

In the USA, many B&Bs are high-end romantic retreats in restored historic homes that are run by personable, independent innkeepers who serve gourmet breakfasts. These B&Bs often take pains to evoke a theme – Victorian, rustic, Cape Cod and so on – and amenities range from merely comfortable to indulgent. Rates normally top $100, and the best run are from $200 to $300. Some B&Bs have minimum-stay requirements, and most exclude young children.

European-style B&Bs also exist: these may be rooms in someone's home, with plainer furnishings, simpler breakfasts, shared baths and cheaper rates. These often welcome families.

B&Bs can close out of season and reservations are essential, especially for top-end places. To avoid surprises, always ask about bathrooms (whether shared or private).

B&B agencies are sprinkled throughout this guide. Also check listings online:

Bed & Breakfast Online (www.bbonline.com)

BedandBreakfast.com (www.bedandbreakfast.com)

BnB Finder (www.bnbfinder.com)

Select Registry (www.selectregistry.com)

Hostels

Hostels are mainly found in urban areas, in the north-east, the Pacific Northwest, California and the Southwest.

Hostelling International USA (☎240-650-2100; www.hiusa.org) runs more than 50 hostels in the US. Most have gender-segregated dorms, a few private rooms, shared baths and a communal kitchen. Overnight fees for dorm beds range from $23 to $54 (NYC being the priciest). HI-USA members are entitled to small discounts. Reservations are accepted (you can book online) and advised during high season, when there may be a three-night maximum stay.

The USA has many independent hostels not affiliated with HI-USA. For online listings, check the following:

Hostels.com (www.hostels.com)

Hostelworld.com (www.hostelworld.com)

Hostelz.com (www.hostelz.com)

Camping

Most federally managed public lands and many state parks offer camping. First-come, first-served 'primitive' campsites offer no facilities; overnight fees range from free to less than $10. 'Basic' sites usually provide toilets (flush or pit), drinking water, fire pits and picnic tables; they cost $5 to $15 a night, and some or all may be reserved in advance. 'Developed' campsites, usually in national or state parks, have nicer facilities and more amenities: showers, barbecue grills, RV sites with hookups etc. These are $15 to $45 a night, and many can be reserved in advance.

Camping on most federal lands – including national parks, national forests and Bureau of Land Management land – can be reserved through Recreation.gov (☎877-444-6777, international 518-885-3639; www.recreation.gov). Camping is limited to 14 days and can be reserved up to six months in advance. For some state park campgrounds, you can book through ReserveAmerica (☎California State Park Reservations 800-444-7275, Colorado State Park Reservations 800-678-2267, NRRS Federal Campground Reservations 877-444-6777; www.reserveamerica.com). Both websites let you search for campground locations and amenities, check availability, reserve a site, view maps and get driving directions.

Private campgrounds tend to cater to RVs and families (tent sites may be few and lack atmosphere). Facilities may include playgrounds, convenience stores, wi-fi access, swimming pools and other activities. Some rent camping cabins, ranging from canvas-sided wooden platforms to log-frame structures with real beds, heating and private baths. Kampgrounds of America (KOA; ☎406-248-7444; www.koa.com) is a national network of

BOOK YOUR STAY ONLINE

For more accommodations reviews by Lonely Planet authors, check out <http://lonelyplanet.com/hotels/usa>. You'll find independent reviews, as well as recommendations on the best places to stay. Best of all, you can book online.

private campgrounds with a full range of facilities. You can order KOA's free annual directory (shipping fees apply) or browse its comprehensive campground listings and make bookings online.

Hotels

Hotels in all categories typically include in-room phones, cable TV, private baths and a simple continental breakfast. Many midrange properties provide minibars, microwaves, hairdryers, internet access, air-conditioning and/or heating, swimming pools and writing desks, while top-end hotels add concierge services, fitness and business centers, spas, restaurants, bars and higher-end furnishings.

Even if hotels advertise that children 'sleep free,' cots or rollaway beds may cost extra. Always ask about the hotel's policy for telephone calls; all charge an exorbitant amount for long-distance and international calls, but some also charge for dialing local and toll-free numbers.

Motels

Motels – distinguishable from hotels by having rooms that open onto a parking lot – tend to cluster around interstate exits and on main routes into town. Some remain smaller, less-expensive 'mom-and-pop' operations; breakfast is rarely included, and amenities might be a phone and TV (maybe with cable). Motels often have a few rooms with simple kitchenettes.

Although many motels are of the bland, cookie-cutter variety, these can be good for discount lodging or when other options fall through.

Don't judge a motel solely on looks. Facades may be faded and tired, but the proprietor may keep rooms spotlessly clean. Of course, the reverse could also be true. Try to see your room before you commit.

Customs Regulations

For a complete list of US customs regulations, visit the official portal for US Customs & Border Protection (www.cbp.gov). Duty-free allowance per person is as follows:

- ➔ 1L of liquor (provided you are at least 21 years old)
- ➔ 100 cigars and 200 cigarettes (18 years and up)
- ➔ $200 worth of gifts and purchases ($800 if you're a returning US citizen)

If you arrive with $10,000 in US or foreign currency, it must be declared.

There are heavy penalties for attempting to import illegal drugs. Forbidden items include drug paraphernalia, lottery tickets, items with fake brand names, and most goods made in Cuba, Iran, North Korea, Myanmar (Burma) and Sudan. Fruit, vegetables or other food or plant material must be declared or left in the arrival area bins.

Discount Cards

Save on museums, accommodations and some transport (including Amtrak):

International Student Identity Card (ISIC: www.isic.org) For international nonstudents under 26.

Student Advantage Card (www.studentadvantage.com) For US and foreign travelers.

American Association of Retired Persons (AARP); www.aarp.org For US travelers age 50 and older.

Members in the American Automobile Association (AAA); www.aaa.com) and reciprocal clubs can also earn discounts.

Electricity

120V/60Hz

120V/60Hz

Embassies & Consulates

In addition to the following foreign embassies in Washington, DC (see www.embassy.org for a complete list), most countries have an embassy for the UN in New York City.

Some countries have consulates in other large cities; go online, look under 'Consulates' in the yellow pages, or call local directory assistance.

Australian Embassy (☎20 2-797-3000; www.usa.embassy.gov.au; 1601 Massachusetts Ave NW)

Canadian Embassy (☎20 2-682-1740; www.canadainternational.gc.ca; 501 Pennsylvania Ave NW)

French Embassy (☎20 2-644-6000; www.info-france-usa.org; 4101 Reservoir Rd NW)

German Embassy (☎20 2-298-4000; www.germany.info; 2300 M St NW)

Irish Embassy (☎202-462-3939; www.embassyofireland.org; 2234 Massachusetts Ave NW)

Mexican Embassy (☎20 2-728-1600; <http://embamex.sre.gob.mx/eua>; 1911 Pennsylvania Ave NW)

Netherlands Embassy (☎877-388-2443; <http://dc.the-netherlands.org>; 4200 Linnean Ave NW)

New Zealand Embassy (☎202-328-4800; www.nzembassy.com/usa; 37 Observatory Circle NW)

UK Embassy (☎20 2-588-6500; www.gov.uk/government/world/usa; 3100 Massachusetts Ave NW)

Food

See p1144 for everything you need to know about food culture in the USA.

FOOD PRICES

Rates for main meals in Eating sections are:

$ less than $10

$$ $10 to $20

$$$ more than $20

Gay & Lesbian Travelers

It's never been a better time to be gay in the USA. GLBT travelers will find lots of places where they can be themselves without thinking twice. Beaches and big cities typically are the most gay-friendly destinations.

In this guide, many cities have a boxed text or section that describes the best offerings for GLBT travelers.

Hot Spots

Manhattan has loads of great gay bars and clubs, especially in Hells Kitchen, Chelsea and the West Village. A few hours away (by train and ferry) is Fire Island, the sandy gay mecca on Long Island. Other East Coast cities that flaunt it are Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, DC, Massachusetts' Provincetown on Cape Cod and Delaware's Rehoboth Beach. Even Maine brags a gay beach destination: Ogunquit.

In the South, there's always steamy 'Hotlanta' and Texas gets darn-right gay-friendly in Austin and parts of Houston. In Florida, Miami and the 'Conch Republic' of Key West support thriving gay communities, though Fort Lauderdale attracts bronzed boys and girls too. Of course, everyone gets their freak on in New Orleans.

In the Midwest, seek out Chicago and Minneapolis. Further west, you'll find San Francisco, probably the happiest gay city in America. There's also Los Angeles and Las Vegas, where pretty much anything goes. When LA or Vegas gets to be too much, flee to the desert resorts of Palm Springs.

Lastly, for an island idyll, Hawaii is generally gay-friendly, especially in Waikiki.

Attitudes

Most major US cities have a visible and open GLBT community that is easy to connect with.

The level of acceptance varies nationwide. In some places, there is absolutely no tolerance whatsoever, and in others acceptance is predicated on GLBT people not 'flaunting' their sexual preference or identity. Bigotry still exists. In rural areas and conservative enclaves, it's unwise to be openly out, as violence and verbal abuse can sometimes occur. When in doubt, assume locals follow a 'don't ask, don't tell' policy. Following a Supreme Court ruling in 2013, same-sex marriage is now legally recognized, and 13 states have same-sex marriages.

Resources

The Queerest Places: A Guide to Gay and Lesbian Historic Sites, by Paula Martinac, is full of juicy details and history, and covers the country. Visit her blog at queerestplaces.wordpress.com.

Advocate (www.advocate.com) Gay-oriented news website reports on business, politics, arts, entertainment and travel.

Damron (www.damron.com) Publishes classic gay travel guides; useful online event calendar.

Gay & Lesbian National Help Center (☎888-843-4564; www.glnh.org; ☎1-9pm Mon-Fri, 9am-2pm Sat, Pacific Standard Time) A national hotline for counseling, information and referrals.

Gay Travel (www.gaytravel.com) Online guides to dozens of US destinations.

Gay Yellow Network (www.glyp.com) Yellow-page listings for more than 30 US cities.

National Gay & Lesbian Task Force (www.thetaskforce.org) National activist group's website covers news, politics and current issues.

Out Traveler (www.out-traveler.com) Gay-oriented Hawaii travel articles free online.

Purple Roofs (www.purple.roofs.com) Lists gay-oriented and gay-friendly B&Bs and hotels.

Health

The USA offers excellent health care. The problem is that, unless you have good insurance, it can be prohibitively expensive. It's essential to purchase travel health insurance if your regular policy doesn't cover you when you're abroad.

Bring any medications you may need in their original containers, clearly labeled. A signed, dated letter from your physician that describes all medical conditions and medications, including generic names, is also a good idea.

If your health insurance does not cover you for medical expenses abroad, consider supplemental insurance. Check the Travel Services section of the Lonely Planet (www.lonelyplanet.com/usa) website for more information. Find out in advance if your insurance plan will make payments directly to providers or reimburse you later for overseas health expenditures.

Medical Checklist

Recommended items for a medical kit:

- ➔ acetaminophen (Tylenol) or aspirin
- ➔ antibacterial ointment (eg Bactroban) for cuts and abrasions
- ➔ antihistamines (for hay fever and allergic reactions)
- ➔ anti-inflammatory drugs (eg ibuprofen)
- ➔ bandages, gauze, gauze rolls

➔ sunblock

➔ insect repellent for the skin

Resources

The World Health Organization publishes a superb book, called International Travel and Health, which is revised annually and is available free online at www.who.int/ith/en. MD Travel Health (www.mdtravelhealth.com) provides travel health recommendations for every country, updated regularly.

It's usually a good idea to consult your government's travel health website before departure:

Australia (www.smarttraveler.gov.au)

Canada (www.hc-sc.gc.ca/index-eng.php)

UK (www.nhs.uk/nhsengland/Healthcareabroad)

Availability & Cost of Health Care

In general, if you have a medical emergency the best bet is for you to find the nearest hospital and go to its emergency room. If the problem isn't urgent, you can call a nearby hospital and ask for a referral to a local physician, which is usually cheaper than a trip to the emergency room. Stand-alone, for-profit urgent-care centers can be convenient, but may perform large numbers of expensive tests, even for minor illnesses.

Pharmacies are abundantly supplied, but you may find that some medications that are available over the counter in your home country (such as Ventolin, for asthma) require a prescription in the USA and, as always, if you don't have insurance to cover the cost of prescriptions, they can be shockingly expensive.

Insurance

No matter how long or short your trip, make sure you have adequate travel insurance.

purchased before departure. At a minimum, you need coverage for medical emergencies and treatment, including hospital stays and an emergency flight home if necessary. Medical treatment in the USA is of the highest caliber, but the expense could bankrupt you.

You should also consider getting coverage for luggage theft or loss and trip cancellation. If you already have a home-owner's or renter's policy, see what it will cover and consider getting supplemental insurance to cover the rest. If you have prepaid a large portion of your trip, cancellation insurance is a worthwhile expense. A comprehensive travel insurance policy that covers all these things can cost up to 10% of the total cost of your trip.

If you will be driving, it's essential that you have liability insurance. Car rental agencies offer insurance that covers damage to the rental vehicle and separate liability insurance, which covers damage to people and other vehicles.

Worldwide travel insurance is available at <http://www.lonelyplanet.com/travel-insurance>. You can buy, extend and claim online anytime – even if you're already on the road.

Internet Access

Travelers will have few problems staying connected in the tech-savvy USA.

This guide uses an internet icon  when a place has a net-connected computer for public use and the wi-fi icon  when it offers wireless internet access, whether free or fee-based. These days, most hotels and some motels have either a public computer terminal or wi-fi (sometimes free, sometimes for a surcharge of $10 or more per day); ask when reserving.

Big cities have a few internet cafes and even wi-fi connected parks and plazas, but in smaller towns, you may have to head to the public library or a copy center to get online if you're not packing a laptop or other web-accessible device. Most libraries have public terminals (though they have time limits) and often wi-fi. Occasionally out-of-state residents are charged a small fee.

If you're not from the US, remember that you will need an AC adapter for your laptop, plus a plug adapter for US sockets; both are available at larger electronics shops, such as Best Buy.

Legal Matters

In everyday matters, if you are stopped by the police, bear in mind that there is no system of paying traffic or other fines on the spot. Attempting to pay a fine to an officer is frowned upon at best and may result in a charge of bribery. For traffic offenses, the police officer or highway patrol officer will explain the options to you. There is usually a 30-day period to pay a fine. Most matters can be handled by mail.

If you are arrested, you have a legal right to an attorney, and you are allowed to remain silent. There is no legal reason to speak to a police officer if you don't wish to, but never walk away from an officer until given permission to do so. Anyone who is arrested is legally allowed to make one phone call. If you can't afford a lawyer, a public defender will be appointed to you free of charge. Foreign visitors who don't have a lawyer, friend or family member to help should call their embassy; the police will provide the number upon request.

As a matter of principle, the US legal system presumes a person innocent until proven guilty. Each state has its own civil and criminal laws, and what is legal in one state may be illegal in others.

Drinking

Bars and stores often ask for photo ID to prove you are of legal drinking age (ie 21 or over). Being 'carded' is standard practice; don't take it personally. The sale of liquor is subject to local government regulations; some counties prohibit liquor sales on Sunday, after midnight or before breakfast. In 'dry' counties, liquor sales are banned altogether.

Driving

In all states, driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs is a serious offense, subject to stiff fines and even imprisonment.

WI-FI

Wi-fi hot spots don't entirely cover the USA yet, but wireless internet access is common. Most cities and college towns have neighborhood hot spots, and even the smallest towns usually have at least one coffee shop, internet cafe or hotel with wi-fi. You can even connect in the woods: private campgrounds (like KOA) increasingly offer it, and so do some state parks (for example, in California, Michigan, Kentucky and Texas).

The following websites provide lists of free and fee-based wi-fi hot spots nationwide:

- ➔ www.hotspot-locations.com
- ➔ <http://v4.jiwire.com>
- ➔ www.wififreespot.com

Drugs

Fifteen states treat possession of small amounts of marijuana as a misdemeanor (generally punishable with a fine of around $100 or $200 for the first offense). In addition, Colorado and Washington State have legalized marijuana – but it is still illegal to smoke in public in either state. The legal sale of marijuana is expected to happen in these two states in 2014.

Aside from marijuana, recreational drugs are prohibited by federal and state laws. Possession of any illicit drug, including cocaine, ecstasy, LSD, heroin, hashish or more than an ounce of marijuana, is a felony potentially punishable by a lengthy jail sentence. For foreigners, conviction of any drug offense is grounds for deportation. The exception is first convictions for possession of 30 grams or less of marijuana for your own use.

Maps

For a good road atlas or driving maps, try Rand McNally (www.randmcnally.com), available at many bookstores and some gas stations. It also has a road atlas iPad app, which requires no internet connection after it's downloaded. Members of automobile associations may be able to get free high-quality maps from regional offices; AAA has reciprocal agreements with some international auto clubs. For online driving directions and free downloadable maps, visit Google Maps (<http://maps.google.com>)

If you're heading into the backcountry, don't venture out on the trail without a good topographic map, often sold at park visitor centers, outdoor outfitters and supply stores. The most detailed top maps are published by the US Geological Survey (USGS; ☎ 888-275-8747; www.store.usgs.gov), which offers online downloads and orders; the website has a comprehensive list of retailers. You can pay

PRACTICALITIES

Electricity

➔ AC 120V is standard; buy adapters to run most non-US electronics

Newspapers & Magazines

➔ National newspapers: New York Times, Wall Street Journal, USA Today

➔ Mainstream news magazines: Time, Newsweek, US News & World Report

Radio & TV

➔ Radio news: National Public Radio (NPR), lower end of FM dial

➔ Broadcast TV: ABC, CBS, NBC, FOX, PBS (public broadcasting)

➔ Major cable channels: CNN (news), ESPN (sports), HBO (movies), Weather Channel

Video Systems

➔ NTSC standard (incompatible with PAL or SECAM)

➔ DVDs coded for Region 1 (US and Canada only)

Weights & Measures

➔ Weight: ounces (oz), pounds (lb), tons

➔ Liquid: oz, pints, quarts, gallons (gal)

➔ Distance: feet (ft), yards (yd), miles (mi)

to create custom, downloadable topo maps at Trails.com (www.trails.com) or buy personalized topo-map creation software from National Geographic (www.nationalgeographic.com); its online store has all the mapping products you'd ever want.

For on- and off-road driving and outdoor adventures on foot and bicycle, GPS gear and mapping software are available from Garmin (www.garmin.com) and Magellan (Map p919; www.magellangps.com). Of course, GPS units can sometimes fail and may not work in all areas of the country, such as in thick forests or deep canyons.

Money

Most locals do not carry large amounts of cash for everyday use, relying instead on credit cards, ATMs and debit cards. Smaller businesses may refuse to accept bills larger than $20. Prices quoted in this book are in US dollars and exclude taxes, unless otherwise noted.

ATMs

ATMs are available 24/7 at most banks, and in shopping centers, airports, grocery stores and convenience shops. Most ATMs charge a service fee of $2.50 or more per transaction and your home bank may impose additional charges. Withdrawing cash from an ATM using a credit card usually incurs a hefty fee; check with your credit-card company first.

For foreign visitors, ask your bank or credit-card company for exact information about using cards in stateside ATMs. If you will be relying on ATMs (not a bad strategy), bring more than one card and carry them separately. The exchange rate on ATM transactions is usually as good as you'll get anywhere. Before leaving home, notify your bank and credit-card providers of your upcoming travel plans. Otherwise, you may trigger fraud alerts with atypical spending patterns, which may result in your accounts being temporarily frozen.

Credit Cards

Major credit cards are almost universally accepted. In fact, it's almost impossible to rent a car or make phone reservations without one (some airlines require a US credit-card billing address – a hassle if you're booking domestic flights once there). It's highly recommended that you carry at least one credit card, if only for emergencies. Visa and MasterCard are the most widely accepted.

If your credit cards are lost or stolen, contact the issuing company immediately:

American Express (☎800-528-4800; www.americanexpress.com)

Diners Club (☎800-234-6377; www.dinersclub.com)

Discover (☎800-347-2683; www.discover.com)

MasterCard (☎800-627-8372; www.mastercard.com)

SMOKING

As of 2013, 28 states, the District of Columbia and many municipalities across the US were entirely smoke-free in restaurants, bars and workplaces. You may still encounter smoky lobbies in chain hotels and budget-minded inns, but most other accommodations are smoke-free. For more on smoking, see www.cdc.gov.

Visa (☎800-847-2911; www.visa.com)

Currency Exchange

Banks are usually the best places to exchange foreign currencies. Most large city banks offer currency exchange, but banks in rural areas may not. Currency-exchange counters at the airport and in tourist centers typically have the worst rates; ask about fees and surcharges first. Travellex (☎877-414-6359; www.travellex.com) is a major currency-exchange company, but American Express (☎800-528-4800; www.americanexpress.com) travel offices may offer better rates.

Taxes

Sales tax varies by state and county, and ranges from 5% to 9%. Hotel taxes vary by city from about 10% to over 18% (in NYC).

Tippling

Tippling is not optional; only withhold tips in cases of outrageously bad service.

Airport & hotel porters $2 per bag, minimum per cart $5.

Bartenders 10% to 15% per round, minimum per drink $1.

Hotel maids $2 to $4 per night, left under the card provided.

Restaurant servers 15% to 20%, unless a gratuity is already charged on the bill.

Taxi drivers 10% to 15%, rounded up to the next dollar.

Valet parking attendants At least $2 when handed back the keys.

Traveler's Checks

Since the advent of ATMs, traveler's checks are becoming obsolete, except as a trustworthy backup. If you carry them, buy them in US dollars; local businesses may not cash them in a foreign currency. Keep a separate record of their numbers in case they are lost or stolen. American Express and Visa traveler's checks are the most widely accepted.

Opening Hours

Typical opening times are as follows:

Bars 5pm to midnight Sunday to Thursday, to 2am Friday and Saturday.

Banks 8:30am to 4:30pm Monday to Thursday, to 5:30pm Friday (and possibly 9am to noon Saturday).

Nightclubs 10pm to 2am or 4am Thursday to Saturday.

Post offices 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday.

Shopping Malls 9am to 9pm; stores 10am to 6pm Mon-Sat, noon to 5pm Sunday; supermarkets 8am to 8pm, some open 24 hours.

Photography & Video

Print film can be found in a few specialty camera shops. Digital camera memory cards are widely available at chain retailers such as Best Buy and Target.

Some Native American tribal lands prohibit photography and video completely; when it's allowed, you may be required to purchase a permit. Always ask permission if you want to photograph someone close up; anyone who then agrees to be photographed may expect a small tip.

For more advice on picture-taking, consult Lonely Planet's Travel Photography book.

Post

For 24-hour postal information, including post office locations and hours, contact the US Postal Service (☎800-275-8777; www.usps.gov), which is reliable and inexpensive.

For urgent or important letters and packages domestically or internationally, Federal Express (FedEx; ☎800-463-3339; www.fedex.com) and United Parcel Service (UPS; ☎800-742-5877; www.ups.com) offer more-expensive door-to-door delivery services.

Postal Rates

The postal rates for 1st-class mail within the USA are 46¢ for letters weighing up to 1oz (20¢ for each additional ounce) and 33¢ for postcards. First-class mail goes up to 13oz, and then priority-mail rates apply.

International airmail rates are $1.10 for a 1oz letter or a postcard.

Sending & Receiving Mail

If you have the correct postage, you can drop mail weighing less than 13oz into any blue mailbox. To send a package weighing 13oz or more, you must go to a post office.

Public Holidays

On the following national public holidays, banks, schools and government offices (including post offices) are closed, and transportation, museums and other services operate on a Sunday schedule. Holidays falling on a weekend are usually observed the following Monday.

New Year's Day January 1

Martin Luther King Jr Day
Third Monday in January

Presidents' Day Third Monday in February

Memorial Day Last Monday in May

Independence Day July 4

Labor Day First Monday in September

Columbus Day Second Monday in October

Veterans Day November 11

Thanksgiving Fourth Thursday in November

Christmas Day December 25

During spring break, high school and college students get a week off from school so they can overrun beach towns and resorts. This occurs throughout March and April. For students of all ages, summer vacation runs from June to August.

Safe Travel

Despite its seemingly apocalyptic list of dangers – violent crime, riots, earthquakes, tornadoes – the USA is actually a pretty safe country to visit. The greatest danger for travelers is posed by car accidents (buckle up – it's the law).

Crime

For the traveler it's not violent crime but petty theft that is the biggest concern. When possible, withdraw money from ATMs during the day, or at night in well-lit, busy areas. When driving, don't pick up hitchhikers, and lock valuables in the trunk of your car before arriving at your destination. In hotels, you can secure valuables in room or hotel safes.

Scams

Pack your street smarts. In big cities, don't forget that three-card-monte card games are always rigged, and that expensive electronics, watches and designer items sold on the cheap from sidewalk tables are either fakes or stolen. Those truly fascinated by all the myriad ways small-time American hucksters make a living today (usually with credit card, real estate and investment frauds) can browse the 'Consumer Guides' on the government's website, www.usa.gov.

Natural Disasters

Most areas with predictable natural disturbances – tornadoes in the Midwest, tsunamis in Hawaii, hurricanes in the South, earthquakes in California – have an emergency siren system to alert communities to imminent danger. These sirens are tested periodically at noon, but if you hear one and suspect trouble, turn on a local TV or radio station, which will be broadcasting safety warnings and advice.

GOVERNMENT TRAVEL ADVICE

Australia (www.smart-traveller.gov.au)

Canada (www.voyage.gc.ca)

New Zealand (www.safetravel.govt.nz)

UK (www.gov.uk/foreign-travel-advice)

The US Department of Health & Human Services (www.phe.gov) has preparedness advice, news and information on all the ways your vacation could go horribly wrong. But relax: it probably won't.

Telephone

The US phone system comprises regional service providers, competing long-distance carriers and several mobile-phone and pay-phone companies. Overall, the system is very efficient, but it can be expensive. Avoid making long-distance calls on a hotel phone or on a pay phone. It's usually cheaper to use a regular landline or cell phone. Most hotels allow guests to make free local calls.

Telephone books can be handy resources: some list community services, public transportation and things to see and do as well as phone and business listings. Online phone directories include www.411.com and www.yellowpages.com.

Cell Phones

In the USA cell phones use GSM 1900 or CDMA 800, operating on different frequencies from other systems around the world. The only foreign phones that will work in the USA are GSM tri- or quad-band models. If you have one of these phones, check with your service provider about using it in the USA. Ask if roaming charges apply, as these will turn even local US calls into pricey international calls.

It might be cheaper to buy a compatible prepaid SIM card for the USA, like those sold by AT&T, which you can insert into your international mobile phone to get a local phone number and voicemail. Planet Omni (www.planetomni.com) and Telestial (www.telestial.com) offer these services, as well as cell-phone rentals.

If you don't have a compatible phone, you can buy inexpensive, no-contract (prepaid) phones with a local number and a set number of minutes, which can be topped up at will. Virgin Mobile, T-Mobile, AT&T and other providers offer phones starting at US$10, with a package of minutes starting around $40 for 400 minutes. Electronics stores such as Radio Shack and Best Buy sell these phones.

Huge swathes of rural America, including many national parks and recreation areas, don't pick up a signal. Check your provider's coverage map.

Dialing Codes

All phone numbers within the USA consist of a three-digit area code followed by a seven-digit local number. In most places, you will need to dial the entire 10-digit number even for a local call.

If you are calling long distance, dial 1 plus the area code plus the phone number. If you're not sure whether the number is local or long distance (new area codes are added all the time, confusing even residents), try one way, and if it's wrong, usually a recorded voice will correct you.

Toll-free numbers begin with 2800, 2888, 2877 and 2866 and when dialing, are preceded by 1. Most can only be used within the USA, some only within the state, and some only from outside the state. You won't know until you try dialing. 2900-series of area codes and a few other prefixes are for calls charged at a premium per-minute rate – phone sex, horoscopes, jokes etc.

➔ 21 is the international country code for the USA if calling from abroad (the same as Canada, but international rates apply between the two countries).

➔ Dial 2011 to make an international call from the USA (followed by country code, area code and phone number)

➔ Dial 200 for assistance making international calls

➔ Dial 2411 for directory assistance nationwide

➔ 2800-555-1212 is directory assistance for toll-free numbers

Pay Phones

Pay phones are an endangered species in an ever-expanding mobile-phone world. Local calls at pay phones that work (listen for a dial tone before inserting coins) cost 35¢ to 50¢ for the first few minutes; talking longer costs more. Only put in the exact amount because pay phones don't give change. Some pay phones (eg in national parks) only accept credit cards or prepaid phone cards. Local calls from pay phones get expensive quickly, while long-distance calls can be prohibitive, especially if you use the operator (0) to facilitate long-distance or collect (reverse-charge) calls. It's usually cheaper to use a prepaid phone card or the access line of a major carrier like AT&T (2800-321-0288).

Phone Cards

A prepaid phone card is a good solution for travelers on a budget. Phone cards are easy to find in larger towns and cities, where they are sold at newsstands, convenience stores, supermarkets and major retailers. Be sure to read the fine print, as many cards contain hidden charges such as 'activation fees' or per-call 'connection fees' in addition to the rates. AT&T sells a reliable phone card that is widely available in the USA.

Time

The USA uses Daylight Saving Time (DST). On the second Sunday in March, clocks are set one hour ahead ('spring forward'). Then, on the first Sunday of November, clocks are turned back one hour ('fall back'). Just to keep you on your toes, Arizona (except the Navajo Nation), Hawaii and much of Indiana don't follow DST.

The US date system is written as month/day/year. Thus, 8 June 2015 becomes 6/8/15.

Tourist Information

The official tourism website of the USA is www.discoveramerica.com. It has links to every US state and territory tourism office and website, plus loads of ideas for itinerary planning.

Any tourist office worth contacting has a website, where you can download free travel e-guides. They also field phone calls; some local offices maintain daily lists of hotel room availability, but few offer reservation services. All tourist offices have self-service racks of brochures and discount coupons; some also sell maps and books.

State-run 'welcome centers', usually placed along interstate highways, tend to have materials that cover wider territories, and offices are usually open longer hours, including weekends and holidays.

Many cities have an official convention and visitors bureau (CVB); these sometimes double as tourist bureaus, but since their main focus is drawing the business trade, CVBs can be less useful for independent travelers.

Keep in mind that in smaller towns, when the local chamber of commerce runs the tourist bureau, its lists of hotels, restaurants and services usually mention only chamber members; the town's cheapest options may be missing.

Similarly, in prime tourist destinations, some private 'tourist bureaus' are really agents who book hotel rooms and tours on commission. They may offer excellent service and deals, but you'll get what they're selling and nothing else.

Travelers with Disabilities

If you have a physical disability, the USA can be an accommodating place. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) requires that all public buildings, private buildings built after 1993 (including hotels, restaurants, theaters and museums) and public transit be wheelchair accessible. However, call ahead to confirm what is available. Some local tourist offices publish detailed accessibility guides.

Telephone companies offer relay operators, available via teletypewriter (TTY) numbers, for the hearing impaired. Most banks provide ATM instructions in Braille and via earphone jacks for hearing-impaired customers. All major airlines, Greyhound buses and Amtrak trains will assist travelers with disabilities; just describe your needs when making reservations at least 48 hours in advance. Service animals (guide dogs) are allowed to accompany passengers, but bring documentation.

Some car-rental agencies, such as Budget and Hertz, offer hand-controlled vehicles and vans with wheelchair lifts at no extra charge, but you must reserve them well in advance. Wheelchair Getaways (☎800-642-2042; www.wheelchairgetaways.com) rents accessible vans throughout the USA. In many cities and towns, public buses are accessible to wheelchair riders and will 'kneel' if you are unable to use the steps; just let the driver know that you need the lift or ramp.

Most cities have taxi companies with at least one accessible van, though you'll have to call ahead. Cities with underground transport have elevators for passengers needing assistance; DC has the best network (every station has an elevator); NYC's elevators are few and far between.

Many national and some state parks and recreation areas have wheelchair-accessible paved, graded dirt or boardwalk trails. US citizens and permanent residents with permanent disabilities are entitled to a free 'America the Beautiful' Access Pass. Go online (www.nps.gov/findapark/pass.htm) for details.

Some helpful resources for travelers with disabilities:

Disabled Sports USA (☎301-217-0960; www.disabledsportsusa.org) Offers sports and recreation programs for those with disabilities and publishes Challenge magazine.

Flying Wheels Travel (☎877-451-5006, 507-451-5005; www.flyingwheelstravel.com) A full-service travel agency, highly recommended for those with mobility issues or chronic illness.

Mobility International USA (☎541-343-1284; www.miusa.org) Advises disabled travelers on mobility issues and runs educational international exchange programs.

Visas

Be warned that all of the following information is highly subject to change. US entry requirements keep evolving as national security regulations change. All travelers should double-check current visa and passport regulations before coming to the USA.

The US State Department (www.travel.state.gov/visa) maintains the most comprehensive visa information, providing downloadable forms, lists of US consulates abroad and even visa wait times calculated by country.

Visa Applications

Apart from most Canadian citizens and those entering under the Visa Waiver Program (p1182), all foreign visitors will need to obtain a visa from a US consulate or embassy abroad. Most applicants must schedule a personal interview, to which you must bring all your documentation and proof of fee payment. Wait times for interviews vary, but afterward, barring problems, visa issuance takes from a few days to a few weeks.

➔ Your passport must be valid for at least six months after the end of your intended stay in the USA. You'll need a recent photo (2in by 2in), and you must pay a nonrefundable $160 processing fee, plus in a few cases an additional visa issuance reciprocity fee. You'll also need to fill out the online DS-160 nonimmigrant visa electronic application.

➔ Visa applicants are required to show documents of financial stability (or evidence that a US resident will provide financial support), a round-trip or onward ticket and 'binding obligations' that will ensure their return home, such as family ties, a home or a job. Because of these requirements, those planning to travel through other countries before arriving in the USA are generally better off applying for a US visa while they are still in their home country, rather than while on the road.

➔ The most common visa is a nonimmigrant visitor's visa, type B-1 for business purposes, B-2 for tourism or

VISA WAIVER PROGRAM

Currently under the Visa Waiver Program (VWP), citizens of the following countries may enter the USA without a visa for stays of 90 days or fewer: Andorra, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brunei, Chile, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Monaco, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, San Marino, Singapore, Slovakia, Slovenia, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan and the UK.

If you are a citizen of a VWP country, you do not need a visa only if you have a passport that meets current US standards and you have gotten approval from the Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) in advance. Register online with the Department of Homeland Security at <https://esta.cbp.dhs.gov/esta> at least 72 hours before arrival; once travel authorization is approved, your registration is valid for two years. The fee is $14.

Visitors from VWP countries must still produce all the same evidence as for a non-immigrant visa application at the port of entry. They must demonstrate that their trip is for 90 days or less, and that they have a round-trip or onward ticket, adequate funds to cover the trip and binding obligations abroad.

In addition, the same 'grounds for exclusion and deportation' apply, except that you will have no opportunity to appeal or apply for an exemption. If you are denied under the VWP at a US point of entry, you will have to use your onward or return ticket on the next available flight.

visiting friends and relatives. A visitor's visa is good for multiple entries over one or five years, and specifically prohibits the visitor from taking paid employment in the USA. The validity period depends on what country you are from. The actual length of time you'll be allowed to stay in the USA is determined by US immigration at the port of entry.

➔ If you're coming to the USA to work or study, you will need a different type of visa, and the company or institution to which you are going should make the arrangements.

➔ Other categories of nonimmigrant visas include an F-1 visa for students attending a course at a recognized institution; a H-1, H-2 or H-3 visa for temporary employment; and a J-1 visa for exchange visitors in approved programs.

Grounds for Exclusion & Deportation

If on your visa application form you admit to being a subversive, smuggler, prostitute, drug addict, terrorist or an ex-Nazi, you may be excluded. You can also be refused a visa or entry to the USA if you have a 'communicable disease of public health significance' or a criminal record, or if you've ever made a false statement in connection with a US visa application. However, if these last three apply, you are still able to request an exemption; many people are granted them and then given visas.

Communicable diseases include tuberculosis, the Ebola virus, SARS and most particularly HIV. US immigration doesn't test people for disease, but officials at the point of entry may question anyone about his or her health. They can exclude anyone whom they believe has a communicable disease, perhaps because they are carrying medical documents, prescriptions or AIDS/HIV medicine. Being gay is not grounds for exclusion; being an IV drug user is. Visitors may be deported if US immigration finds out they have HIV but did not declare it. Being HIV-positive is not grounds for deportation, but failing to provide accurate information on the visa application is.

The US immigration department has a very broad definition of a criminal record. If you've ever been arrested or charged with an offense, that's a criminal record, even if you were acquitted or discharged without conviction. Don't attempt to enter through the VWP if you have a criminal record of any kind; assume US authorities will find out about it.

Often USCIS (United States Citizenship & Immigration Services) will grant an exemption (a 'waiver of ineligibility') to a person who would normally be subject to exclusion, but this requires referral to a regional immigration office and can take some time (allow at least two months). If you're tempted to conceal something, remember that US immigration is strictest of all about false statements. It will often view favorably an applicant who admits to an old criminal charge or a communicable disease, but it is extremely harsh on anyone who has ever attempted to mislead it, even on minor points. After you're admitted to the USA, any evidence of a false statement to US immigration is grounds for deportation.

Prospective visitors to whom grounds of exclusion may apply should consider their options before applying for a visa.

Entering the USA

➔ As of 2013, the arrival/ departure record (form I-94) that was once required of all foreign visitors, is no longer used. Instead, you'll be asked to fill out only the US customs declaration, which is usually handed out on the plane. Have it completed before you approach the immigration desk. For the question, 'US Street Address,' give the address where you will spend the first night (a hotel address is fine).

➔ No matter what your visa says, US immigration officers have an absolute authority to refuse admission to the USA or to impose conditions on admission. They may ask about your plans and whether you have sufficient funds; it's a good idea to list an itinerary, produce an onward or round-trip ticket and have at least one major credit card.

➔ The Department of Homeland Security's registration program, called Office of Biometric Identity Management includes every port of entry and nearly every foreign visitor to the USA. For most visitors (excluding, for now, most Canadian and some Mexican citizens), registration consists of having a digital photo and electronic (inkless) fingerprints taken; the process takes less than a minute.

Visa Extensions

To stay in the USA longer than the date stamped on your passport, go to a local USCIS (☎800-375-5283; www.uscis.gov) office to apply for an extension well before the stamped date. If the date has passed, your best chance will be to bring a US citizen with you to vouch for your character, and to produce lots of other verification that you are not trying to work illegally and have enough money to support yourself. However, if you've overstayed, the most likely scenario is that you will be deported. Travelers who enter the USA under the VWP are ineligible for visa extensions.

Short-Term Departures & Re-entry

➔ It's temptingly easy to make trips across the border to Canada or Mexico, but upon return to the USA, non-Americans will be subject to the full immigration procedure.

➔ Always take your passport when you cross the border.

➔ If your immigration card still has plenty of time on it, you will probably be able to re-enter using the same one, but if it has nearly expired, you will have to apply for a new card, and border control may want to see your onward air ticket, sufficient funds and so on.

➔ Traditionally, a quick trip across the border has been a way to extend your stay in the USA without applying for an extension at a USCIS office. Don't assume this still works. First, make sure you hand in your old immigration card to the immigration authorities when you leave the USA, and when you return make sure you have all the necessary application documentation from when you first entered the country. US immigration will be very suspicious of anyone who leaves for a few days and returns immediately hoping for a new six-month stay; expect to be questioned closely.

➔ Citizens of most Western countries will not need a visa to visit Canada, so it's really not a problem at all to cross to the Canadian side of Niagara Falls, detour up to Québec or pass through on the way to Alaska.

➔ Travelers entering the USA by bus from Canada may be closely scrutinized. A round-trip ticket that takes you back to Canada will most likely make US immigration feel less suspicious.

➔ Mexico has a visa-free zone along most of its border with the USA, including the Baja Peninsula and most of the border towns, such as Tijuana and Ciudad Juárez; note that the latter, with over 5000 murders since 2009, is not a safe place to visit. You'll need a Mexican visa or tourist card if you want to go beyond the border zone.

Volunteering

Volunteer opportunities abound in the USA, and they can be a great way to break up a long trip. They can also provide truly memorable experiences; you'll get to interact with people, society and the land in ways you never would by just passing through.

Casual, drop-in volunteer opportunities are plentiful in big cities, where you can socialize with locals while helping out. Check weekly alternative newspapers for calendar listings, or browse the free classified ads online at Craigslist (www.craigslist.org). The public website Serve.gov (www.serve.gov) and private websites Idealist.org (www.idealist.org) and VolunteerMatch (www.volunteer-match.org) offer free searchable databases of short- and long-term volunteer opportunities nationwide.

More formal volunteer programs, especially those designed for international travelers, typically charge a fee of $250 to $1000, depending on the length of the program and what amenities are included (eg housing, meals). None cover travel to the USA.

Green Project (☎504-945-0240; www.thegreenproject.org) Working to improve battered communities in New Orleans in sustainable, green ways.

Habitat for Humanity (☎800-422-4828; www.habitat.org) Focuses on building affordable housing for those in need.

Sierra Club (☎415-977-5522; www.sierraclub.org) 'Volunteer vacations' restore wilderness areas and maintain trails, including in national parks and nature preserves.

Volunteers for Peace (☎802-540-3060; www.vfp.org) Grassroots, multiweek volunteer projects emphasize manual labor and international exchange.

Wilderness Volunteers (☎801-949-3099; www.wildernessvolunteers.org) Week-long trips helping maintain national parklands and outdoor recreation areas.

World Wide Opportunities on Organic Farms USA (☎415-621-3276; www.woofusa.org) Represents more than 1500 organic farms in all 50 states that host volunteer workers in exchange for meals and accommodation, with opportunities for both short- and long-term stays.

Women Travelers

Women traveling alone or in groups should not expect to encounter any particular problems in the USA. The community website www.journeywoman.com facilitates women exchanging travel tips, and has links to other helpful resources. The booklet Her Own Way, published by the Canadian government, is filled with general travel advice, useful for any woman; click to <http://travel.gc.ca/travelling/> publications to download the PDF or read it online.

When first meeting someone, don't advertise where you are staying, or even that you are traveling alone. Americans can be eager to help and even take in solo travelers, but don't take all offers of help at face value. If someone who seems trustworthy invites you to his or her home, let someone (eg hostel or hotel manager) know where you're going. This advice also applies if you go for a hike by yourself. If something happens and you don't return as expected, you want to know that someone will notice and know where to begin looking for you.

Some women carry a whistle, mace or cayenne-pepper spray in case of assault. If you purchase a spray, contact a police station to find out about local regulations. Laws regarding sprays vary from state to state; federal law prohibits them being carried on planes.

If you are assaulted, consider calling a rape-crisis hotline before calling the police, unless you are in immediate danger, in which case you should call 911. But be aware that not all police have as much sensitivity training or experience assisting sexual assault survivors, whereas staff at rape crisis centers will tirelessly advocate on your behalf and act as a link to other community services, including hospitals and the police. Telephone books have listings of local rape-crisis centers, or contact the 24-hour National Sexual Assault Hotline (☎800-656-4673; www.rainn.org). Alternatively, go straight to a hospital emergency room.

National advocacy groups that may be useful:

National Organization for Women (NOW; ☎202-628-8669; www.now.org)

Planned Parenthood (☎800-230-7526; www.plannedparenthood.org) Offers referrals to women's health clinics throughout the country.

Work

If you are a foreigner in the USA with a standard non-immigrant visitor's visa, you are forbidden to partake in paid work in the USA and will be deported if you're caught working illegally. Employers are required to establish the bona fides of their employees or face fines, making it much tougher for a foreigner to get work than it once was.

To work legally, foreigners need to apply for a work visa before leaving home. A J-1 visa, for exchange visitors, is issued to young people (age limits vary) for study, student vacation employment, work in summer camps, and short-term traineeships with a specific employer. One organization that can help arrange international student exchanges, work placements and J-1 visas is International Exchange Programs (IEP), which operates in Australia (☎03-9329-3866; www.iep.com.au) and New Zealand. (☎0800-443-769; www.iep.org.nz).

For nonstudent jobs, temporary or permanent, you need to be sponsored by a US employer who will have to arrange a H-category visa. These are not easy to obtain, since the employer has to prove that no US citizen or permanent resident is available to do the job.

Seasonal work is possible in national parks and at tourist attractions and ski resorts. Contact park concessionaire businesses, local chambers of commerce and ski-resort management. Lonely Planet's Gap Year Book has more ideas on how best to combine work and travel.

American Institute for Foreign Study (☎866-906-2437; www.aifs.com)

Au Pair in America (☎800-928-7247; www.aupairinamerica.com)

BUNAC (☎020-7870-9570; www.bunac.org)

Camp America (☎in the UK 020-7581-7373; www.campamerica.co.uk)

Council on International Educational Exchange (☎207-553-4000; www.ciee.org)

InterExchange (☎212-924-0446; www.interexchange.org) Camp and au-pair programs.

Driving in the USA

For maximum flexibility and convenience, and to explore rural America and its wide-open spaces, a car is essential. Although petrol prices are high, you can often score fairly inexpensive rentals (NYC excluded), with rates as low as $20 per day. For more about transport in the USA, see p1189.

Automobile Associations

The American Automobile Association (AAA; www.aaa.com) has reciprocal membership agreements with several international auto clubs (check with AAA and bring your membership card from home). For its members, AAA offers travel insurance, tour books, diagnostic centers for used-car buyers and a wide-ranging network of regional offices. AAA advocates politically for the auto industry.

A more ecofriendly alternative, the Better World Club (☎866-238-1137; www.betterworldclub.com) donates 1% of revenue to assist environmental cleanup, offers ecologically sensitive choices for every service it provides and advocates politically for environmental causes.

With organizations, the primary member benefit is 24-hour emergency roadside assistance anywhere in the USA. Both also offer trip planning, free travel maps, travel-agency services, car insurance and a range of travel discounts (eg on hotels, car rentals, attractions).

Bring Your Own Vehicle

For details on driving your own car over the border from Canada or from Mexico, see p1190. Unless you're moving to the USA, don't even think about freighting your car.

Drive-Away Cars

'Drive-away cars' refers to the business of driving cars across the country for people who are moving or otherwise can't transport their cars themselves. For flexible travelers, they can be a dream come true: you can cover the long distances between A and B for the price of gas. Timing and availability are key.

To be a driver you must be at least 23 years old with a valid driver's license (non-US citizens should have an International Driving Permit); you'll also need to provide a $350 deposit – sometimes requested in cash – which is refunded upon safe delivery of the car, a printout of your 'clean' driving record from home, a major credit card and/or three forms of identification (or a passport).

The drive-away company provides insurance; you pay for gas. The stipulation is that you must deliver the car to its destination within a specified time and mileage, which usually requires that you drive no more than eight hours and about 400 miles a day along the shortest route (ie no sightseeing). Availability depends on demand.

One major company is Auto Driveaway (☎800-346-2277; www.autodriveaway.com), which has more than 40 offices nationwide.

Driver's License

Foreign visitors can legally drive a car in the USA for up to 12 months using their home driver's license. However, an International Driving Permit will have more credibility with US traffic police, especially if your home license doesn't have a photo or isn't in English. Your automobile association at home can issue an IDP, valid for one year, for a small fee. Always carry your home license together with the IDP.

To ride a motorcycle in the USA, you will need either a valid US state motorcycle license or an IDP specially endorsed for motorcycles.

Insurance

Don't put the key into the ignition if you don't have insurance, which is legally required. You risk financial ruin and legal consequences if there's an accident. If you already have auto insurance, or if you buy travel insurance that covers car rentals, make sure your policy has adequate liability coverage for where you will be driving; it probably does, but beware that states specify different minimum levels of coverage.

Rental-car companies will provide liability insurance, but most charge extra. Rental companies almost never include collision-damage insurance for the vehicle. Instead, they offer an optional Collision Damage Waiver (CDW) or Loss Damage Waiver (LDW), usually with an initial deductible cost of between $100 and $500. For an extra premium, you can usually get this deductible covered as well. Paying extra for some or all of this insurance increases the cost of a rental car by as much as $30 a day.

Many credit cards offer free collision damage coverage for rental cars, if you rent for 15 days or less and charge the total rental to your card. This is a good way to avoid paying extra fees to the rental company, but note that if there's an accident, sometimes you must pay the rental car company first and then seek reimbursement from the credit-card company. There may be exceptions that are not covered, too, such as 'exotic' rentals (eg 4WD Jeeps, convertibles). Check your credit-card policy.

Purchase

Buying a car is usually much more hassle than it's worth, particularly for foreign visitors and for trips of less than four months. Foreigners will have the easiest time arranging this if they have state-side friends or relatives who can provide a fixed address for registration, licensing and insurance.

Once purchased, the car's transfer of ownership papers must be registered with the state's Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) within 10 days; you'll need the bill of sale, the title (or 'pink slip') and proof of insurance. Some states also require a 'smog certificate'. This is the seller's responsibility, so don't buy a car without a current certificate. A dealer will submit all necessary paperwork to the DMV for you.

For foreigners, independent liability insurance is difficult to virtually impossible to arrange without a US driver's license. A car dealer or AAA may be able to suggest an insurer who will do this. Even with a local license, insurance can be expensive and difficult to obtain if you don't have evidence of a good driving record. Bring copies of your home auto-insurance policy if it helps establish that you are a good risk. All drivers under 25 will have problems getting insurance.

Finally, selling a car can become a desperate business. Selling to dealers gets you the worst price but involves a minimum of paperwork. Otherwise, fellow travelers and college students are the best bets – but be sure the DMV is properly notified about the sale, or you may be on the hook for someone else's traffic tickets later on.

Adventures on Wheels (☎800-943-3579; www.adventuresonwheels.com) offers a six-month buy-back program: you buy one of their cars, they register and insure it, and when your trip's done, they buy it back for a pre-established price.

Rental

Car

Car rental is a competitive business in the USA. Most rental companies require that you have a major credit card, be at least 25 years old and have a valid driver's license. Some major national companies may rent to drivers between the ages of 21 and 24 for an additional charge of around $25 per day. Those under 21 are usually not permitted to rent at all.

Good independent agencies are listed in this guide.

Car-rental prices vary wildly so shop around. The average daily rate for a small car ranges from around $30 to $75, or $200 to $500 per week. If you belong to an auto club or frequent-flyer program, you may get a discount (or earn rewards points or miles).

Some other things to keep in mind: most national agencies make 'unlimited mileage' standard on all cars, but independents might charge extra for this. Tax on car rental varies by state and agency location; always ask for the total cost including all taxes and fees. Most agencies charge more if you pick the car up in one place and drop it off in another; usually only national agencies even offer this option. Be careful about adding extra days or turning in a car early; extra days may be charged at a premium rate, or an early return may jeopardize any

FUELING UP

Many gas stations in the USA have fuel pumps with automated credit card pay screens. Most machines ask for your ZIP code after you swipe your card. For foreign travelers – or those with cards issued outside the US – you'll have to pay inside before fueling up. Just indicate how much you'd like to put on the card. If there's still credit left over after you fuel up, just pop back inside, and the attendant will put the difference back on your card.

weekly or monthly discounts you originally arranged.

Some major national companies, including Avis, Budget and Hertz, offer 'green' fleets of hybrid rental cars (eg Toyota Priuses, Honda Civics), although you'll usually have to pay quite a bit more to rent a hybrid. Some independent local agencies, especially on the West Coast, also offer hybrid-vehicle rentals. Try Southern California's Simply Hybrid (www.simplyhybrid.com) and Hawaii's Bio-Beetle (www.bio-beetle.com).

Motorcycle & Recreational Vehicle

If you dream of cruising across America on a Harley, EagleRider (2888-900-9901; www.eaglerider.com) has offices in major cities nationwide and rents other kinds of adventure vehicles, too. Beware that motorcycle rental and insurance are expensive.

Road Conditions & Hazards

America's highways are thought of as legendary ribbons of unblemished asphalt, but not always. Road hazards include potholes, city commuter traffic, wandering wildlife and, of course, cell-phone-wielding, kid-distracted and enraged drivers. Caution, foresight, courtesy and luck usually gets you past them. For nationwide traffic and road-closure information, click to www.fhwa.dot.gov/trafficinfo/index.htm.

In places where winter driving is an issue, many cars are fitted with steel-studded snow tires; snow chains can sometimes be required in mountain areas. Driving off-road, or on dirt roads, is often forbidden by rental-car companies, and it can be very dangerous in wet weather.

In deserts and range country, livestock sometimes graze next to unfenced roads. These areas are signed as 'Open Range' or with the silhouette of a steer. Where deer and other wild animals frequently appear roadside, you'll see signs with the silhouette of a leaping deer. Take these signs seriously, particularly at dusk and dawn.

Road Rules

In the USA, cars drive on the right-hand side of the road. The use of seat belts and child safety seats is required in every state. Most car rental agencies rent child safety seats for around $13 per day, but you must reserve them when booking. In some states, motorcyclists are required to wear helmets.

On interstate highways, the speed limit is sometimes raised to 75mph. Unless otherwise posted, the speed limit is generally 55mph or 65mph on highways, 25mph to 35mph in cities and towns and as low as 15mph in school zones (strictly enforced during school hours). It's forbidden to pass a school bus when its lights are flashing.

Unless signs prohibit it, you may turn right at a red light after first coming to a full stop – note that turning right on red is illegal in NYC. At four-way stop signs, cars should proceed in order of arrival: when two cars arrive simultaneously, the one on the right has the right of way. When in doubt, just politely wave the other driver ahead. When emergency vehicles (ie police, fire or ambulance) approach from either direction, pull over safely and get out of the way.

In an increasing number of states, it is illegal to talk on a handheld cell (mobile) phone while driving; use a hands-free device instead.

The maximum legal blood-alcohol concentration for drivers is 0.08%. Penalties are very severe for DUI – driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs. Police can give roadside sobriety checks to assess if you've been drinking or using drugs. If you fail, they'll require you to take a breath test, urine test or blood test to determine the level of alcohol or drugs in your body. Refusing to be tested is treated the same as if you'd taken the test and failed.

In some states it is illegal to carry 'open containers' of alcohol in a vehicle, even if they are empty.

Transportation

GETTING THERE & AWAY

Flights and tours can be booked online at www.lonelyplanet.com/booking.

Entering the USA

If you are flying to the US, the first airport that you land in is where you must go through immigration and customs, even if you are continuing on the flight to another destination. Upon arrival, all international visitors must register with the Department of Homeland Security's Office of Biometric Identity Management program, which entails having your fingerprints scanned and a digital photo taken.

Once you go through immigration, you collect your baggage and pass through customs. If you have nothing to declare, you'll probably clear customs without a baggage search, but don't assume this. If you are continuing on the same plane or connecting to another one, it is your responsibility to get your bags to the right place. There are usually airline representatives just outside the customs area who can help you.

If you are a single parent, grandparent or guardian traveling with anyone under 18, carry proof of legal custody or a notarized letter from the nonaccompanying parent(s) authorizing the trip. This isn't required, but the USA is concerned with thwarting child abduction, and not having authorizing papers could cause delays or even result in being denied admittance to the country.

Passports

Every visitor entering the USA from abroad needs a passport. Your passport must be valid for at least six months longer than your intended stay in the USA. Also, if your passport does not meet current US standards, you'll be turned back at the border. If it was issued on or after October 26, 2006, it must be an e-passport with a digital photo and an integrated RFID chip containing biometric data.

Air

Airports

The USA has more than 375 domestic airports, but only a baker's dozen are the main international gateways. Many other airports are called 'international' but may have only a few flights from other countries – typically Mexico or Canada. Even travel to an international gateway sometimes requires a connection in another gateway city (eg London–Los Angeles flights may involve transferring in Houston).

International gateway airports in the USA:

Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport (ATL); Atlanta; www.atlanta-airport.com)

CLIMATE CHANGE & TRAVEL

Every form of transport that relies on carbon-based fuel generates CO<sub>2</sub>, the main cause of human-induced climate change. Modern travel is dependent on airplanes, which might use less fuel per mile per person than most cars but travel much greater distances. The altitude at which aircraft emit gases (including CO<sub>2</sub>) and particles also contributes to their climate change impact. Many websites offer 'carbon calculators' that allow people to estimate the carbon emissions generated by their journey and, for those who wish to do so, to offset the impact of the greenhouse gases emitted with contributions to portfolios of climate-friendly initiatives throughout the world. Lonely Planet offsets the carbon footprint of all staff and author travel.

Logan International Airport (Boston; www.massport.com/logan)

O'Hare International Airport (Chicago; www.ohare.com)

Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport (DFW; www.dfwwairport.com)

Honolulu International Airport (HNL; ☎808-836-6411; <http://hawaii.gov/hnl>; 300 Rodgers Blvd, Honolulu)

Houston George Bush Intercontinental Airport (IAH; www.fly2houston.com/iah; Will Clayton Parkway or JFK Blvd, off I-59, Beltway 8 or I-45)

Los Angeles (LAX; www.lawa.org/lax)

Miami International Airport (MIA; www.miami-airport.com)

John F Kennedy (JFK; New York; www.panynj.gov)

Liberty International (EWR; Newark; www.panynj.gov)

San Francisco International Airport (SFO; www.flysfo.com)

Seattle-Tacoma International Airport (SEA; www.portseattle.org/Sea-Tac)

Dulles International Airport (Washington, DC; www.metwashairports.com/dulles)

Tickets

Flying midweek and in the off-season (usually fall to spring, excluding holidays) is always less expensive, but fare wars can start any time. To ensure you've found the cheapest possible ticket for the flight you want, check every angle: compare several online travel booking sites with the airline's own website. Engage a living, breathing travel agent if your itinerary is complex.

Keep in mind your entire itinerary. Some deals for travel within the USA can only be purchased overseas in conjunction with an international air ticket, or you may get discounts for booking air and car rental together. Or you may find domestic flights within the USA are less expensive when added on to your international airfare.

The big three US travel-booking websites are Travelocity (www.travelocity.com), Orbitz (www.orbitz.com) and Expedia (www.expedia.com). Similar to these and worth trying are Cheap Tickets (www.cheaptickets.com) and Lowest Fare (www.lowestfare.com). Typically, these sites don't include budget airlines such as Southwest.

Meta sites like Kayak (www.kayak.com) and Hipmunk (www.hipmunk.com) are good for price comparisons, as they gather from many sources (but don't provide direct booking).

Bidding for travel can be very successful, but read the fine print carefully before bidding. Try Hotwire (www.hotwire.com), Skyauction (www.skyauction.com) and Priceline (www.priceline.com).

Land

Border Crossings

The USA has more than 20 official border crossings with Canada in the north and almost 40 with Mexico in the south. It is relatively easy crossing from the USA into either country; it's crossing into the USA that can pose problems if you haven't brought all your documents. Some borders are open 24 hours, but most are not.

Busy entry points with Canada include those at Detroit, MI—Windsor; Buffalo, NY—Niagara Falls; Blaine, WA—British Columbia.

The main USA—Mexico posts are, San Diego, CA—Tijuana; Nogales West, AZ—Nogales East; El Paso, TX—Ciudad Juárez and Brownsville, TX—Matamoros. As always, have your papers in order, be polite and don't make jokes or casual conversation with US border officials.

At research time, cartel violence and crime were serious dangers along the US—Mexico border. Before heading out, check the latest warnings of the US State Department (www.travel.state.gov/visa).

Canada

BUS

Greyhound has direct connections between main cities in Canada and the northern USA, but you may have to transfer to a different bus at the border. Book through Greyhound USA (☎800-231-2222, international customer service 214-849-8100; www.greyhound.com) or Greyhound Canada (☎in Canada 800-661-8747; www.greyhound.ca). Greyhound's Discovery Pass allows unlimited travel in both the USA and Canada.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

If you're driving into the USA from Canada, bring the vehicle's registration papers, proof of liability insurance and your home driver's license. Canadian auto insurance is typically valid in the USA, and vice versa. Canadian driver's licenses are also valid, but an International Driving Permit (IDP) is a good supplement.

If your papers are in order, taking your own car across the US—Canadian border is usually fast and easy, but occasionally the authorities of either country decide to search a car thoroughly. On weekends and holidays, especially in summer, traffic at the main border crossings can be heavy and waits long.

TRAIN

Amtrak (☎toll-free 800 872 7245; www.amtrak.com) and VIA Rail Canada (☎888-842-7245; www.viarail.ca) operate daily services between Montreal and New York, Toronto and New York via Niagara Falls, Toronto and Chicago via Detroit, and Vancouver and Seattle. Customs inspections occur at the border.

Mexico

BUS

Greyhound US (☎800-231-2222, international customer service 214-849-8100; www.greyhound.com) and Greyhound México (☎in Mexico 800-710-8819; www.greyhound.com.mx) operate direct bus routes between main towns in Mexico and the USA.

For connections to smaller destinations south of the border, there are numerous domestic Mexican bus companies: Ticketbus (☎800-009-9090, in Mexico 5133-5133; www.ticketbus.com.mx) is an alliance of several.

CAR & MOTORCYCLE

As with Canada, if you're driving into the USA from Mexico, bring the vehicle's registration papers, proof of liability insurance and your driver's license from your home country. Mexican driver's licenses are valid, but it's worth having an IDP.

Very few car-rental companies will let you take a car from the US into Mexico. US auto insurance is not valid in Mexico, so even a short trip into Mexico's border region requires you to buy Mexican car insurance, available for around $25 per day at most border crossings, as well as from AAA (☎800-874-7532; www.aaa.com).

For a longer driving trip into Mexico beyond the border zone or Baja California, you'll need a Mexican permiso de importación temporal de vehículos (temporary vehicle import permit). You can call Mexico's tourist information number in the USA on ☎800-446-3942.

Sea

If you're interested in taking a cruise ship to America – as well as to other interesting ports of call – a good specialized travel agency is Cruise Web (☎800-377-9383; www.cruiseweb.com).

You can also travel to and from the USA on a freighter, though it will be much slower and less cushy than a cruise. Nevertheless, freighters aren't spartan (some advertise cruise ship–level amenities), and they are much cheaper (sometimes by half). Trips range from a week to two months; stops at interim ports are usually quick.

For more information:

Cruise & Freighter Travel Association (☎800-872-8584; www.traveltips.com)

Tours

Group travel can be an enjoyable way to get to and tour the USA.

Reputable tour companies:

American Holidays

(☎01-673-3840; www.americanholidays.com) Ireland-based company specializes in tours to North America.

Contiki (☎866-266-8454; www.contiki.com) Party-hardy sightseeing tour-bus vacations for 18- to 35-year-olds.

North America Travel Service

(☎020-7499-7299; www.northamericatravelservice.co.uk) UK-based tour operator arranges luxury US trips.

Trek America

(☎in North America 800-873-5872, in the UK 0844-576-1400; www.trekamerica.com) For active outdoor adventures; group sizes are kept small.

GETTING AROUND

Air

When time is tight, book a flight. The domestic air system is extensive and reliable, with dozens of competing airlines, hundreds of airports and thousands of flights daily. Flying is usually more expensive than traveling by bus, train or car, but it's the way to go when you're in a hurry.

Main 'hub' airports in the USA include all international gateways plus many other large cities. Most cities and towns have a local or county airport, but you usually have to travel via a hub airport to reach them.

Airlines in the USA

Overall, air travel in the USA is very safe (much safer than driving out on the nation's highways); for comprehensive details by carrier, check out Airsafe.com (www.airsafe.com).

The main domestic carriers:

AirTran Airways

(☎800-247-8726; www.airtran.com) Atlanta-based airline; primarily serves the South, Midwest and eastern US.

Alaska Airlines

(☎800-252-7522; www.alaskaair.com) Has direct flights to Anchorage from Seattle, Chicago, Los Angeles and Denver. It also flies between many towns within Alaska, including daily northbound and southbound flights year-round through Southeast Alaska, with stops at all main towns including Ketchikan and Juneau.

American Airlines

(☎800-433-7300; www.aa.com) Nationwide service.

Delta Air Lines

(☎800-221-1212; www.delta.com) Nationwide service.

Frontier Airlines

(☎800-432-1359; www.flyfrontier.com) Denver-based airline with nationwide service, including to Alaska.

Hawaiian Airlines

(☎800-367-5320; www.hawaiianair.com)

JetBlue Airways

(☎800-538-2583; www.jetblue.com) Nonstop connections between eastern and western US cities, plus Florida, New Orleans and Texas.

Southwest Airlines

(SWA; ☎800-435-9792; www.southwest.com) Service across the continental USA.

Spirit Airlines

(☎801-401-2200; www.spiritair.com) Florida-based airline; serves many US gateway cities.

United Airlines (☎800-864-8331; www.united.com) Nationwide service.

US Airways (☎800-428-4322; www.usairways.com) Flies between Flagstaff, AZ, and Sky Harbor International Airport in Phoenix.

Virgin America (☎877-359-8474; www.virginamerica.com) Flights between East and West Coast cities and Las Vegas.

Air Passes

International travelers who plan on doing a lot of flying might consider buying a North American air pass. Passes are normally available only to non-North American citizens, and they must be purchased in conjunction with an international ticket. Conditions and cost structures can be complicated, but all passes include a certain number of domestic flights (from two to 10) that typically must be used within a 60-day period. Often you must plan your itinerary in advance, but sometimes dates (and even destinations) can be left open. Talk with a travel agent to determine if an air pass will save you money. Two of the biggest airline networks offering air passes are Star Alliance (www.staralliance.com) and One World (www.oneworld.com).

Bicycle

Regional bicycle touring is popular. It means coasting winding backroads (bicycles are often not permitted on freeways), and calculating progress in miles per day, not miles per hour. Cyclists must follow the same rules of the road as automobiles, but don't expect drivers to respect your right of way. Better World Club (www.betterworldclub.com) offers a bicycle roadside assistance program.

For epic cross-country journeys, get the support of a tour operator; it's about two months of dedicated pedaling coast to coast.

For advice, and lists of local bike clubs and repair shops, browse the website of the League of American Bicyclists (www.bikeleague.org). If you're bringing your own bike to the USA, be sure to call around to check oversize luggage prices and restrictions. Amtrak trains and Greyhound buses will transport bikes within the USA, sometimes charging extra.

It's not hard to buy a bike once you're here and resell it before you leave. Every city and town has bike shops; if you prefer a cheaper, used bicycle, try garage sales, bulletin boards at hostels and colleges, or the free classified ads at Craigslist (www.craigslist.org). These are also the best places to sell your bike, though stores selling used bikes may also buy from you.

Long-term bike rentals are also easy to find; recommended rental places are listed throughout this guide. Rates run from $100 per week and up, and a credit-card authorization for several hundred dollars is usually necessary as a security deposit.

Boat

There is no river or canal public transportation system in the USA, but there are many smaller, often state-run, coastal ferry services, which provide efficient, scenic links to the many islands off both coasts. Most larger ferries will transport private cars, motorcycles and bicycles.

The most spectacular coastal ferry runs are on the southeastern coast of Alaska and along the Inside Passage. The Great Lakes have several islands that can be visited only by boat, such as Mackinac Island, MI; the Apostle Islands, off Wisconsin; and remote Isle Royale National Park, MN. Off the coast of Washington State, ferries reach the scenic San Juan Islands.

Bus

To save money, travel by bus, particularly between major towns and cities. Gotta-go middle-class Americans prefer to fly or drive, but buses let you see the countryside and meet folks along the way. As a rule, buses are reliable, cleanish and comfortable, with air-conditioning, barely reclining seats, lavatories and no smoking.

Greyhound (☎800-231-2222; www.greyhound.com) is the major long-distance bus company, with routes throughout the USA and Canada. To improve efficiency and profitability, Greyhound has recently stopped service to many small towns; routes generally trace major highways and stop at larger population centers. To reach country towns on rural roads, you may need to transfer to local or county bus systems; Greyhound can usually provide their contact information. Greyhound often has excellent online fares – web-only deals will net you substantial discounts over buying at a ticket counter.

Competing with Greyhound are the 75-plus franchises of Trailways (☎703-691-3052; www.trailways.com). Trailways may not be as useful as Greyhound for long trips, but fares can be competitive. Long-distance bus lines that offer decent fares and free wi-fi (that doesn't always work) include MegaBus (☎877-462-6342; www.megabus.com) and BoltBus (www.boltbus.com); both operate routes primarily in the Northeast and Midwest.

Most baggage has to be checked in; label it loudly and clearly to avoid it getting lost. Larger items, including skis, surfboards and bicycles, can be transported, but there may be an extra charge. Call to check.

The frequency of bus services varies widely, depending on the route. Despite the elimination of many tiny destinations, nonexpress Greyhound buses still stop every 50 to 100 miles to pick up passengers – long-distance buses will stop for meal breaks and driver changes.

Many bus stations are clean and safe, but some are in dodgy areas; if you arrive in the evening, it's worth spending the money on a taxi. Some towns have just a flag stop. If you are boarding at one of these, pay the driver with exact change.

Costs

For lower fares on Greyhound, purchase tickets at least seven days in advance (purchasing 14 days in advance will save even more). Round trips are also cheaper than two one-way fares. Special promotional fares are regularly offered on Greyhound's website, especially for online bookings. If you're traveling with family or friends, Greyhound's companion fares let up to two additional travelers get 50% off with a minimum three-day advance purchase.

As for other Greyhound discounts: tickets for children aged two to 11 get 25% off; seniors over 62 get 5% off; and students get 20% off if they have purchased the $20 Student Advantage Discount Card (www.studentadvantage.com).

Reservations

Tickets for some Trailways and other buses can only be purchased immediately prior to departure. Greyhound, Megabus and BoltBus tickets can be bought online. You can print all tickets at home or in the case of Megabus or BoltBus, simply show ticket receipts through an email on a smartphone. Greyhound also allows customers to pick up tickets at the terminal using 'Will Call' service.

Seating is normally first come, first served. Greyhound recommends arriving an hour before departure to get a seat.

Car & Motorcycle

For information about driving, see the Driving in the USA chapter (p1185) and the Road Trips & Scenic Drives chapter (p38).

Local Transportation

Except in large US cities, public transportation is rarely the most convenient option for travelers, and coverage can be sparse to outlying towns and suburbs. However, it is usually cheap, safe and reliable. In addition, more than half the states in the nation have adopted 511 as an all-purpose local-transportation help line.

Airport Shuttles

Shuttle buses provide inexpensive and convenient transport to/from airports in most cities. Most are 12-seat vans; some have regular routes and stops (which include the main hotels) and some pick up and deliver passengers 'door to door' in their service area. Costs range from $15 to $30 per person.

Bicycle

Some cities are more amenable to bicycles than others, but most have at least a few dedicated bike lanes and paths, and bikes can usually be carried on public transportation.

Bus

Most cities and larger towns have dependable local bus systems, though they are often designed for commuters and provide limited service in the evening and on weekends. Costs range from free to between $1 and $3 per ride.

Subway & Train

The largest systems are in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, DC, Chicago, Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay Area. Other cities may have small, one- or two-line rail systems that mainly serve downtown.

Taxi

Taxis are metered, with flag-fall charges of around $2.50 to start, plus $2 to $3 per mile. They charge extra for waiting and handling baggage, and drivers expect a 10% to 15% tip. Taxis cruise the busiest areas in large cities; otherwise, it's easiest to phone and order one.

Tours

Hundreds of companies offer all kinds of organized tours of the USA; most focus on either cities or regions.

Backroads (800-462-2848, 510-527-1555; www.backroads.com) Designs a range of active, multisport and outdoor-oriented trips for all abilities and budgets.

BUS FARES

Here are some sample standard one-way adult fares and trip times on Greyhound:

SERVICE	PRICE ($)	DURATION (HR)
Boston–Philadelphia	57	7
Chicago–New Orleans	149	24
Los Angeles–San Francisco	59	8
New York–Chicago	119	18
New York–San Francisco	269	72
Washington, DC–Miami	155	25

Gray Line (☎800-472-9546; www.grayline.com) For those short on time, Gray Line offers a comprehensive range of standard sightseeing tours across the country.

Green Tortoise (☎800-867-8647, 415-956-7500; www.greentortoise.com) Offering budget adventures for independent travelers, Green Tortoise is famous for its sleeping-bunk buses. Most trips leave from San Francisco, traipsing through the West and nationwide.

Road Scholar (☎800-454-5768; www.roadscholar.org) For those aged 55 and older, this venerable nonprofit offers 'learning adventures' in all 50 states.

trains) mostly operate daily on these routes, but some run only three to five days per week. See Amtrak's website for detailed route maps, as well as the Getting There & Around sections in this guide's regional chapters.

Commuter trains provide faster, more frequent services on shorter routes, especially the northeast corridor from Boston, MA, to Washington, DC. Amtrak's high-speed Acela Express trains are the most expensive, and rail passes are not valid on these trains. Other commuter rail lines include those serving the Lake Michigan shoreline near Chicago, IL, major cities on the West Coast and the Miami, FL, area.

CLASSES & COSTS

Amtrak fares vary according to the type of train and seating; on long-distance lines, you can travel in coach seats (reserved or unreserved), business class, or 1st class, which includes all sleeping compartments. Sleeping cars include simple bunks (called 'roomettes'), bedrooms with en-suite facilities and suites sleeping four with two bathrooms. Sleeping-car rates include meals in the dining car, which offers everyone sit-down meal service (pricey if not included). Food service on commuter lines, when it exists, consists of sandwich and snack bars. Bringing your own food and drink is recommended on all trains.

Various one-way, round-trip and touring fares are available from Amtrak, with discounts of 15% for seniors aged 62 and over and for students with a 'Student Advantage' card ($20) or an International Student Identity Card (ISIC), and 50% discounts for children aged two to 15 when accompanied by a paying adult. AAA members get 10% off. Web-only 'Weekly Specials' offer deep discounts on certain undersold routes.

Generally, the earlier you book, the lower the price. To get many of the standard discounts, you need to reserve at least three days in advance. If you want to take an Acela Express or Metroliner train, avoid peak commute times and aim for weekends.

Amtrak Vacations (☎800-268-7252; www.amtrak-vacations.com) offers vacation packages that include rental cars, hotels, tours and attractions. Air-Rail packages let you travel by train in one direction, then return by plane the other way.

RESERVATIONS

Reservations can be made any time from 11 months in advance up to the day of departure. Space on most trains is limited, and certain routes can be crowded, especially during summer and holiday periods, so it's a good idea to book as far in advance as you can; this also gives you the best chance of fare discounts.

TRAIN PASSES

Amtrak's USA Rail Pass offers coach-class travel for 15 ($439), 30 ($669) or 45 ($859) days, with travel limited to eight, 12 or 18 one-way 'segments,' respectively. A segment is not the same as a one-way trip. If reaching your destination requires riding more than one train (for example, getting from New York to Miami with a transfer in Washington, DC)

Train

Amtrak (☎800-872-7245; www.amtrak.com) has an extensive rail system throughout the USA, with Amtrak's Thruway buses providing connections to and from the rail network to some smaller centers and national parks. Compared with other modes of travel, trains are rarely the quickest, cheapest, timeliest or most convenient option, but they turn the journey into a relaxing, social and scenic all-American experience.

Amtrak has several long-distance lines traversing the nation east to west, and even more running north to south. These connect all of America's biggest cities and many of its smaller ones. Long-distance services (on named

TRAIN FARES

Sample standard, one-way, adult coach-class fares and trip times on Amtrak's long-distance routes:

SERVICE	PRICE ($)	DURATION (HR)
Chicago–New Orleans	127	20
Los Angeles–San Antonio	182	29
New York–Chicago	101	19
New York–Los Angeles	248	68
Seattle–Oakland	163	23
Washington, DC–Miami	179	23

ALL ABOARD!

Who doesn't enjoy the steamy puff and whistle of a mighty locomotive as glorious scenery streams by? Dozens of historic narrow-gauge railroads still operate today as attractions, rather than as transportation. Most trains only run in the warmer months, and they can be extremely popular – so book ahead.

Here are some of the best:

1880 Train (☎866 367 1880; www.1880train.com; 103 Winter St; adult/child round trip US$21/US$12 Oct) Classic steam train running through rugged Black Hills country.

Cass Scenic Railroad (www.cassrailroad.com) Nestled in the Appalachian Mountains in West Virginia.

Cumbres & Toltec Scenic Railroad Depot (☎888-286-2737; www.cumbrestoltec.com; 5234 Hwy 285; adult/child from $89/49; 🚿) Living, moving museum from Chama, NM, into Colorado's Rocky Mountains.

Durango & Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad (☎970-247-2733, toll-free 877-872-4607; www.durangotrain.com; 479 Main Ave; adult/child return from $85/51; 🕒departure at 8am, 8:45am, 9:30am; 🚿) Ends at historic mining town Silverton in Colorado's Rocky Mountains.

Great Smoky Mountain Railroad (☎800-872-4681; www.gsmr.com; 226 Everett St, Bryson City; Nantahala Gorge trip adult/child 2-12yr from $55/31; 🕒Mar-Dec) Rides from Bryson City, NC, through the Great Smoky Mountains.

Mount Hood Railroad (☎800-872-4661; www.mthoodrr.com; 110 Railroad Ave) Winds through the scenic Columbia River Gorge outside Portland, OR.

Skunk Train (☎707-964-6371; www.skunktrain.com; foot of Laurel St; adult/child from $20/10; 🚿🚿) Runs between Fort Bragg, CA, on the coast and Willits farther inland, passing through redwoods.

White Pass & Yukon Route Railroad (☎800-343-7373; www.wpyr.com; 231 2nd Ave; adult/child from US$115/57.50; 🕒May-Sep) Klondike Gold Rush-era railroad has departures from Skagway, AK, and Fraser (British Columbia) and Carcross and Whitehorse (Yukon) in Canada.

Also worth riding are the vintage steam and diesel locomotives of Arizona's Grand Canyon Railway (☎800-843-8724, 928-635-4253; www.thetrain.com; Railway Depot, 233 N Grand Canyon Blvd; round trip adult/child from $75/45; 🚿), New York State's Delaware & Ulster Rail Line (☎845-586-3877; www.durr.org; Hwy 28; adult/child $12/7; 🕒11am & 2pm, Sat & Sun Jun-Nov, additional trips Thu & Fri Jul-Sep; 🚿) and Colorado's Pikes Peak Cog Railway.

that one-way trip will actually use two segments of your pass.

Present your pass at an Amtrak office to pick up your ticket(s) for each trip. Reservations should be made by phone (call ☎800-872-7245, or ☎215-856-7953 from outside the USA) as far in advance as possible. Each segment of the journey must be booked. At some rural stations, trains will only stop if there's a reservation. Tickets are not for specific seats, but a conductor on board may allocate you a seat. Business-class, 1st-class and sleeper accommodations cost extra and must be reserved separately.

All travel must be completed within 180 days of purchase. Passes are not valid on the Acela Express, Auto Train, Thruway motorcoach connections or the Canadian portion of Amtrak routes operated jointly with Via Rail Canada. Fares can double if you don't buy them at least three or four days in advance.

Behind the Scenes

---

SEND US YOUR FEEDBACK

We love to hear from travelers – your comments keep us on our toes and help make our books better. Our well-traveled team reads every word on what you loved or loathed about this book. Although we cannot reply individually to postal submissions, we always guarantee that your feedback goes straight to the appropriate authors, in time for the next edition. Each person who sends us information is thanked in the next edition – the most useful submissions are rewarded with a selection of digital PDF chapters.

Visit lonelyplanet.com/contact to submit your updates and suggestions or to ask for help. Our award-winning website also features inspirational travel stories, news and discussions.

Note: We may edit, reproduce and incorporate your comments in Lonely Planet products such as guidebooks, websites and digital products, so let us know if you don't want your comments reproduced or your name acknowledged. For a copy of our privacy policy visit lonelyplanet.com/privacy.

---

OUR READERS

Many thanks to the travelers who used the last edition and wrote to us with helpful hints, useful advice and interesting anecdotes:

Alexander Farrill, Alison Wolf, Berna Collier, Deborah Taylor, Diane Antonich, Dennis Klein, Eric Young, Evgeny Knyazev, Jamie McBride, Jeremy Crowley, Jeremy Lock, Julia Kimmerly, Lucinda Steer, Marla Black, Martin Aristia, Neal Salan, Nick Shchetko, Sonja Heuscher and Stefan Hey.

AUTHOR THANKS

Regis St Louis

This book is dedicated to the many talented editors I've worked with at Lonely Planet during the past 11 years. Special thanks to Suki Gear and Kathleen Munnely, who have helped create many world-class guidebooks over the years. I consider myself blessed to have known you. Your dedication, creativity and good humor will be sorely missed. Wishing you all the best in future endeavours and a lifetime of rewarding adventures.

Amy C Balfour

Big thanks to my friends and experts in the Carolinas: Mike Stokes, Jay Bender, Dan Oden, Lori Bauswell, Jeff Otto, Paul Stephen, Josh Lucas, Barry Radcliffe, Patricia Robison, Lacy Davidson, Deborah Wright, Amy Marks, Paige Abbott Schoenauer, Barbara Blue, Anna Schleunes, David Kimball, Noell and Jack Kimball and Jennifer Pharr Davis. In the Southwest, kudos to BLM maestro Chris Rose for his invaluable Nevada insights and Elvis knowledge; Justin Shephard, Tracer Finn, Jim Christian, Alex Amato, Mike Roe, Catrien van Assendelft, Lewis Pipkin, Sara Benson, Dan Westermeyer; fellow adventurers Sandee McGlaun, Lisa McGlaun, Paul Hanstedt; and Grand Canyon power-walker Karen Schneider.

Sandra Bao

Thanks to my husband Ben Greensfelder, who kept our home (mostly) intact while I was off researching. Kudos to my top-notch coordinating authors on the Pacific Northwest (whose information I adapted for this book), Celeste Brash and Brendan Sainsbury. A big hug to commissioning editor Suki Gear – thanks for the gig and best of luck in your coming life adventures. And finally, I could not have done this book without the support of my parents and brother.

Michael Benanav

Big thanks to Suki for convincing me to drive to all the little corners of New Mexico, a state that I love – and for her pitch-perfect blend of professionalism and humor. Also to Kelly and Luke, who always let me go, and always let me come back.

Greg Benchwick

Special thanks to my friend and commissioning editor Suki, my coordinating author and the rest of the Lonely Planet team.

Sara Benson

Thanks to Suki Gear, Sasha Baskett, Alison Lyall, Regis St Louis and everyone at Lonely Planet for making this book happen. I'm grateful to everyone I met on the road, from park rangers to beer geeks and foodies, who generously shared their local expertise. Big thanks to my Golden State friends and family, especially the Picketts, Starbins and Boyles. Jonathan, you kept on driving, even when you didn't know exactly where we'd end up – thank you.

Alison Bing

Heartfelt thanks to Lonely Planet guidebook mastermind Suki Gear, managing editor Sasha Baskett, and coauthor and fellow adventurer John Vlahides; to intrepid research companions Sahai Burrowes, Haemin Cho, Lisa Park, Yosh Han, Rebecca Bing, Tony Cockrell and Akua Parker; but above all to Marco Flavio Marinucci, who made a Muni bus ride into the trip of a lifetime.

Catherine Bodry

Thanks to Suki Gear for commissioning me, Celeste Brash for frantic last-minute help, and the gang at Lonely Planet for all their work.

Celeste Brash

Thanks to my family for helping me research beaches and mountains some days, and getting on at home without me on others. To old friends who I found scattered across Washington: Oliver Irwin, Kati Halmos Jones, Dan Jones, the Forster family and Jackie Capalan-Auerbach. And to new friends I made: too many to mention!

Gregor Clark

Thanks to all the generous fellow Vermonters who helped with this project, especially John McCright, Sarah Pope, Namik Sevic, Saba Rizvi, Sarah Shepherd, Sue Heim and David Alles. Love and thanks as well to Gaen, for sharing my excitement about exploring that next side road, to Meigan for giving me hugs at deadline time and to Chloe, whose infectious love of climbing Mt Mansfield barefoot always makes me smile.

Lisa Dunford

So many kindred spirits on the Utah road – thanks to all, including Karla Player for the beautiful craftsmanship. Karen and John, it was great having a chat. And I'm so glad I got to reconnect with my friend Trista Kelin Rayner; wishing her and daughter Mechelle all the best.

Ned Friary

Thanks to all the people I met along the way who shared their tips, including the helpful folks staffing the counters at the local tourist offices. A special thanks to the rangers at the Cape Cod National Seashore and to Bob Prescott of the Massachusetts Audubon Society for sharing their one-of-a-kind insights.

Michael Grosberg

Special thanks to Carly Neidorf, my sometime trip and otherwise companion; to my parents, Sheldon and Judy for advice; to Kristin Mitchell and Claire Shubik on Pittsburgh; Darrah Feldman on Milford; Rebecca Steffan for Adirondacks help; Gregory Henderson in the Catskills; Julie Donovan in the Laurel Highlands; Nina Kelly in the Brandywine Valley; and Terri Dennison for Route 6 insight.

Paula Hardy

I'd like to thank the following for sharing the best of Connecticut and Rhode Island: Anne McAndrews, Dave Fairty, Pat and Wayne Brubaker, Rick Walker, Sanjeev Seereeram, Cinta Burgos, David King, Dave Helgerson, Harry Schwartz, Elizabeth MacAlister and the Preservation Society of Newport. Thanks also to the super Jennye Garibaldi and Mara Vorhees. Finally, thanks to Rob Smith for the laughs and letting me bring home Baggio.

Adam Karlin

Thank you to the Lonely Planet crew: Regis St Louis, for coordinating this beast; Michael Grosberg, the understanding, gracious and ever helpful coordinating author of New York & the Mid-Atlantic's Best Trips; the fabulous in-house team of Suki Gear, Bruce Evans, Alison Lyall, Emily Wolman and Jennye Garibaldi. Thanks to Mom and Dad for raising me the way they did, and to Rachel Houge, my wife, greatest fan and best friend. And finally, thank you Lonely Planet. You let me wander the world and write about it. That's a blessedly exciting and rewarding way to make a living.

Mariella Krause

Thanks to Suki Gear for an amazing year full of Lonely Planet goodness, and to Jay Cooke for getting me involved in the first place. And thanks to all the amazing people I met on the road who served as a constant reminder of what traveling is all about.

Carolyn McCarthy

I'm indebted to the good people of the Rocky Mountains. Special thanks to Lance and his Ouray friends for the bed and BBQ, Melissa and Steve for the Billings grand tour, the amazing Jones in Steamboat and Jennifer in Crested Butte. Richard and Rachel were the best drivers and companions. Thanks to Coraline, for steadfast motoring, and the generous Conan Bliss. Virtual beers go out to Regis St Louis, Greg Benchwick and Chris Pitts for being great to work with.

Brendan Sainsbury

Thanks to all the untold bus drivers, tourist info volunteers, restaurateurs, coffee baristas and indie punk rockers who helped me during my research. Special thanks to my wife Liz and seven-year-old son Kieran for their company on the road.

Caroline Sieg

Thanks to everyone who shared their tips with me and for the friendly conversations at lobster shacks, ski resorts and brewpubs. A very special thank you to the Schmidt family who keep me coming back to New England year after year.

Adam Skolnick

Thanks to Stephanie Greene, Dana McMahan, Carla Carlton, Phoebe Lipkis, Kristin Schofield and Louisville Basketball in Louisville; Jennifer Bohler and Shanna Henderson in Nashville; Nealy Dozier, Walter Thompson, Chloe Friedman, Lydia Hardy and Chi Bui in Atlanta; and Keith, Peggy and Melissa in Natchez. My love and appreciation go out to best Savannah buds Alicia Magee, Anna Cypris Jaubert, and (by proxy) Joe Bush. Thanks also to Suki Gear, Regis St Louis and the whole Lonely Planet team. It's a joy and privilege to work with and know you all!

Ryan Ver Berkmoes

Serious thanks to my parents, who believed in the value of road trips, and my sister, who always sided with demanding that the motel pool have a slide. In South Dakota I saw high-school winter formal date Sue Hegland (who's followed the unworn path out of Santa Cruz, CA, to the Plains). At Lonely Planet, wide open thanks to Suki and Regis for their hard work. And more special thanks go to unnamed Plains cooks and bartenders everywhere.

Mara Vorhees

My heart goes out to all the victims of the Boston Marathon bombings, all of the runners and the city as a whole. Patriots Day has always been about facing challenges with courage – it's now true more than ever. Bostonians love their city. Love will prevail.

Karla Zimmerman

Many thanks to Carrie Biolo, Lisa DiChiera, Lea Dooley, Jim DuFresne, Ruggero Fatica, Mark Fornek, Jonathan Hayes, April Ingle, Julie Lange, Kari Lydersen, Melissa McCarville, Betsy Riley and Neil Anderson, Susan Hayes Stephan, Andrea and Greg Thomson, Sara Zimmerman and Karen and Don Zimmerman. Thanks most to Eric Markowitz, the world's best partner-for-life, who indulges all my hare-brained, pie-filled road trips. Sorry about the bug bites.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Climate map data adapted from Peel MC, Finlayson BL & McMahon TA (2007) 'Updated World Map of the Köppen-Geiger Climate Classification', Hydrology and Earth System Sciences, 11, 1633-44.

Illustrations pp84-5, pp264-5 by Javier Martinez Zarracina; pp976-7 by Michael Weldon.

Cover photograph: Statue of Liberty, New York City, Travepix.

THIS BOOK

This 8th edition of Lonely Planet's USA guidebook was researched and written by a stellar author team (see Our Writers), commissioned in Lonely Planet's Oakland office, and produced by the following:

Commissioning Editor

Suki Gear

Coordinating Editors

Briohny Hooper, Lorna Parkes

Senior Cartographer

Alison Lyall

Book Designer Jessica Rose

Managing Editors Sasha Baskett, Bruce Evans, Angela Tinson

Assisting Editors Alison

Barber, Michelle Bennett, Elin Berglund, Janice Bird, Carolyn Boicos, Penny Cordner, Kate Daly, Samantha Forge, Carly Hall, Kate James, Kate Mathews, Alan Murphy, Susan

Paterson, Monique Perrin, Alison Ridgway, Jeanette Wall, Simon Williamson

Assisting Cartographer

Rachel Imeson

Cover Research Naomi

Parker

Thanks to Anita Banh, Ryan

Evans, Larissa Frost, Genesys India, Jouve India, Trent Paton, Mazzy Prinsep, Gerard Walker

Index

ABBREVIATIONS

AK Alaska
 AL Alabama
 AR Arkansas
 AZ Arizona
 CA California
 CO Colorado
 CT Connecticut
 DC District of Columbia
 DE Delaware
 FL Florida
 GA Georgia
 HI Hawaii
 IA Iowa
 ID Idaho
 IL Illinois
 IN Indiana
 KS Kansas
 KY Kentucky
 LA Louisiana
 MA Massachusetts
 MD Maryland
 ME Maine
 MI Michigan
 MN Minnesota
 MO Missouri
 MS Mississippi
 MT Montana
 NC North Carolina
 ND North Dakota
 NE Nebraska
 NH New Hampshire
 NJ New Jersey
 NM New Mexico
 NV Nevada
 NY New York
 OH Ohio
 OK Oklahoma
 OR Oregon
 PA Pennsylvania
 RI Rhode Island

SC South Carolina
 SD South Dakota
 TN Tennessee
 TX Texas
 UT Utah
 VA Virginia
 VT Vermont
 WA Washington
 WI Wisconsin
 WV West Virginia
 WY Wyoming

A

Abilene 657
 Abingdon 324-5
 Abiquiu 889-90
 Abita Springs 449
 abolition, see slavery & abolition
 Absaroka Beartooth Wilderness 789
 Acadia National Park 249-50, 724, 724-5
 accommodations 1172-3, see also individual locations
 Acoma Pueblo 882
 activities 45-51, see also individual activities
 Adirondacks, the 128-30
 air travel 1189-90, 1191-2
 airports 1189-90
 Alabama 412-17
 Alabama Hills 1016
 Alamogordo 897
 Alaska 58, 1082-100, 1083
   accommodations 1082
   climate 1082, 1084
   food 1082
   highlights 1083
   national parks 732
   tourist information 1085
   travel seasons 1082
   travel to/within 1085-6
 Albuquerque 876-81
 Alcatraz 975, 976-7

Alexandria 305-7
 Alexandria Bay 129
 Ali, Muhammad 386
 Alliance 653
 alligators 476, 503, 722, 722
 Alpine 713
 Alton 548
 Alvord Desert 1076-7
 Amana Colonies 634-5
 Amelia Island 493-5
 Ames 635
 Amherst 208
 Amish Country 555, 561-2
 amusement parks 24
   Baton Rouge 450
   Branson 626
   Cedar Point Amusement Park 560
   Charleston 357
   Disneyland 930-2
   Knott's Berry Farm 930
   Legoland 944
   Myrtle Beach 360
   New Jersey 140
   Nickelodeon Universe 606
   North Carolina 347
   Orlando 503, 504
   Pittsburgh 164
   San Francisco 971
   Santa Cruz 961
   Santa Monica Pier 918
   SeaWorld 938
   Soak City OC 930
   Tampa 496-7
   Tennessee 385
   Texas 694
   Walt Disney World 14, 506-9, 15
   Williamsburg (VA) 313
 Anaheim 930-2
 Anchorage 1095-100
 Anderson Valley 998
 Angels Camp 1006
 animals, see wildlife, individual species
 Ann Arbor 576-7

Annapolis 294-5
 Annie Hall 1122
 Antelope Canyon 848
 Antietam National Battlefield 298
 Anza-Borrego Desert State Park 948-9
 Apalachicola 510-11
 Apostle Islands 595-6
 Appalachian Trail 327, 724
 Appomattox Court House 319 aquariums
   Baltimore 288
   Boston 178
   Charleston 354
   Chicago 525-6
   Cincinnati 565
   Dallas 699
   Georgia 397
   Los Angeles 191
   Minnesota 606, 607
   Monterey 959
   Mystic 219
   New Orleans 438
   San Diego 939
   Sarasota 499-500
   Tampa 495
   Tennessee 383
   Virginia Beach 316
   Waikiki 1105
   Woods Hole 197
 Aquinnah Cliffs 205
 Aransas National Wildlife Refuge 695
 Arcata 1002
 Arches National Park 729, 869-70, 728
 architecture 26, 1159-61
 Alamo, the 682
 Chicago 525
 Columbus (IN) 552
 Detroit 572
 Empire State Building 80
 Fallingwater 168
 Flatiron Building 75

- architecture continued
 Grand Central Station 80
 Guggenheim Museum 88
 House on the Rock 593
 John Hancock Center 527
 Kentuck Knob 168
 Monona Terrace 589
 Oak Park 544-5
 Rockefeller Center 79-80
 Taliesin 592
 Willis Tower 524-5
- Area 51 824
 area codes 1180
 Arizona 825-56
 Arkansas 425-30
 Arkansas Delta 426
 Arkansas River Valley 429
 Arlington 304-5
 art auctions 82
 art deco 1160
 art museums & galleries
 Albright-Knox Art Gallery 131
 American Visionary Art Museum 289
 Art Institute of Chicago 521, 524
 Barnes Foundation 148
 Clark Art Institute 209
 Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center 763
 Denver Art Museum 739-40
 Detroit Institute of Arts 569
 di Rosa Art + Nature Preserve 994
 El Paso Museum of Art 714
 Emergency Arts 816
 Frick Collection 83
 Georgia Museum of Art 405
 Getty Center 916-17
 Guggenheim Museum 88
 Hess Collection 994
 High Museum of Art 396
 Honolulu Museum of Art 1105
 Los Angeles County Museum of Art 914-15
 MASS MoCA 210
 Menil Collection 687
 Metropolitan Museum of Art 83
- Minneapolis Sculpture Garden 597
 Mississippi Museum of Art 422
 Museum of Contemporary Art, Los Angeles 909
 Museum of Contemporary Art Detroit 569
 Museum of Fine Arts, Boston 183
 Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) 79
 National Museum of Wildlife Art 784
 New Orleans 438
 North Carolina Museum of Art 342
 Orlando Museum of Art 502
 Philadelphia Museum of Art 148
 Phoenix Art Museum 827
 Provincetown Art Association & Museum 200
 Rodin Museum 148
 Seattle Art Museum 1027
 Wadsworth Atheneum 220
 Walker Art Center 597
 Walters Art Museum 289
 Weisman Art Museum 597, 35
 Wynwood 467
 Yale University Art Gallery 217
- arts 1153-61
 Asbury Park 137
 Asheville 340, 347-9
 Ashland 1072-4
 Ashley River Plantations 358
 Aspen 759-61
 Assateague Island 297
 Astoria (NY) 93
 Astoria (OR) 1077-8
 Atchafalaya Basin 454
 Athens (GA) 404-6
 Athens (OH) 563-4
 Atlanta 393-404, 394-5
 accommodations 398-9
 drinking 402
 entertainment 402-3
 festivals 398
 food 399-402
 shopping 403
 sights 393-8
 tourist information 403
 travel to/within 404
- Atlantic City 139-40
 ATMs 1177
 Auburn 555, 1005
 auctions 82
 Austin 19, 671-8, 672, 19
 accommodations 674
 activities 673
 climate 666
 drinking 676
 entertainment 676-7
 festivals 673-4
 food 674
 shopping 677-8
 sights 671-3
 tourist information 678
 travel to/within 678
 Avenue of the Giants 1001
 Avila Beach 954
 Aztec Ruins National Monument 893
- B
 Badlands National Park 641-2, 727, 644-5, 719
 bald eagles 606, 722, 1089, 1093, 722
 Baltimore 287-94
 Bandelier National Monument 889
 Bandera 681-2
 Banner Elk 346
 Bar Harbor 251
 Baraboo 590
 Barataria Preserve 448
 Bardstown 392
 Bartlesville 665
 baseball 457, 826, 1140
 basketball 1140-1
 Bass Islands 560
 Bath 247
 Baton Rouge 449-51
 bats 678
 Baxter Springs 656
 Baxter State Park 253
 Bayfield 595
 beaches 24
 Acadia National Park 249-50
 California 902
 Cape Cod National Seashore 199
 Cape May 140
 Chatham 198
 Chicago 532
 Daytona Beach 490
 Delaware 299-302
 Falmouth 195
 Florida 457
 Florida Keys 481, 482, 484
- Fort Lauderdale 473
 Fort Myers Beach 501
 Galveston 694
 Georgia 411-12
 Hale'iwa 1109
 Hawaii 1101
 Kailua 1108
 Kailua-Kona 1110
 Lowcountry 358-9
 Malu'aka 1116
 Martha's Vineyard 206
 Miami (FL) 461, 469
 Nantucket 203
 New York 90
 Ocean County 138-9
 Orange County 932-3
 Panama City Beach 511-12
 Pensacola Beach 512
 Provincetown 200
 Rhode Island 216
 San Diego 938
 San Francisco 973
 Sandwich 194-5
 Santa Cruz 961
 Sarasota 499
 Space Coast 488
 Tampa Bay 495
 Waikiki 1105
 Wellfleet 199
 Wilmington (NC) 341
- Beals 252
 bears 643, 722, 780, 722, 723
 Beaufort 340, 359-60
 beer 27-8, 538, 590, 742, 1150, see also breweries & microbreweries
 Bellevue 635
 Bellingham 1044-5
 Belmar Beach 137
Beloved 1122
 Bemidji 611
 Bend 1070-2
 Bennington 224-5
 Berkeley 992-4
 Berkeley Springs 328
 Berkshires, the 208-10
 Berlin (MD) 296
 Berlin (OH) 561
 Bethany Beach 301-2
 Bethel 252
 Bettendorf 633
 Beverly Hills 915-16, 916-17
 bicycling 46, 1192, see also mountain biking
 Acadia National Park 250
 Anchorage 1096

- Aspen 759
 Atlanta 396
 Bellingham 1045
 Bend 1071
 Boston 193
 Boulder (CO) 747
 Burlington (VT) 230
 Cape Cod 195, 198, 201
 Chicago 530-2, 543
 Colorado 755
 Crested Butte 765
 Cumberland 298
 Delaware 301
 Durango 771
 Flagstaff 835
 Grand Canyon National Park 843
 Lopez Island 1047
 Mackinac Island 581
 Madison (WI) 590
 Martha's Vineyard 204
 Miami (FL) 467
 Minneapolis 599-600
 Missoula 791
 Monterey 960
 Nantucket 203
 New York City 93-4
 Phoenix 828
 Port Angeles 1043
 Portland (OR) 1057
 San Francisco 978
 Sandia Peak Ski Park 878
 Santa Barbara 952
 Savannah 407
 Seattle 1032
 St Louis 620
 Steamboat Springs 754
 Sun Valley 797
 Tammany Trace trail 449
 Telluride 769
 Vail 758
 Washington, DC 275
 Wisconsin 586
 Yellowstone National Park 780
- Big Bend National Park 708-9, 35
 Big Island 1109-14
 Big Sur 957-8, 17
 Bighorn Mountains 785
 Billings 789
 birds 1168
 birdwatching 1168
 Aransas National Wildlife Refuge 695
 Assateague Island 297
 Cape Cod 198
 Cape May 140
- Delaware 303
 Felix Neck Wildlife Sanctuary 205
 Litchfield 221
 Pine Barrens 138
 San Diego 938
 Sanibel Island 501
 Valley, the (TX) 697
- Bi-Rite 984
 Birmingham 412-14
 Bisbee 855-6
 Biscayne National Park 477
 Bishop 1015-16
 Bismarck 637
 bison 722, 780, 18, 723
 Bisti Badlands & De-Na-Zin Wilderness 893
 Black Hills 642-9, 644-5
 Black Hills National Forest 643
 Block Island 215
 Bloomington 552-3
 Blowing Rock 346
 Blue Mountain Lake 130
 Blue Ridge Highlands 323-6
 Blue Ridge Mountains 340
 Blue Ridge Parkway 19, 41-3, 323-4, 19, 43
 Bluegrass Country 389-92
 Blues Highway 421
 blues music 1162
 Arkansas 426
 Chicago 529
 Philadelphia 156
 Bluff 870-1
 boat travel 1191, 1192
 boat trips
 Apostle Islands 595
 Bar Harbor 251
 Boothbay Harbor 247
 Boston 184
 Door County 594
 Essex 220
 Key Largo 479, 480
 Maine 249
 New York City 117-18
 Newport (RI) 214
 Ogunquit 241
 Orlando 503
 Portland (ME) 245
 Portsmouth 233
 San Antonio 683
 Sitka 1089
 Space Coast 488
 St Louis 620
 Weirs Beach 234
- Bob Marshall Wilderness Complex 792
- Boca Raton 475
 Bodega Bay 999
 Bogue Banks 340
 Boise 795-7
 Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge 303
 Bonnaroo music festival 383
Book of Mormon, The 861
 books 1122, 1127, 1154, 1159, 1167
 Boone 346
 Boothbay Harbor 247-8
 border crossings 1190-1
 Canada 133
 Mexico 697, 716
 Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge 895
 Boston 17, 175-93, 176-7, 180-1
 accommodations 184-6
 drinking 189-90
 entertainment 190
 festivals 184
 food 187-9
 history 175
 internet resources 192
 itineraries 179
 shopping 191
 sights 175-84
 tourist information 191-2
 tours 184
 travel to/from 192
 travel within 192-3
 walking tour 184, 184
- Boston Marathon 184, 187
 Boston Tea Party 1127
 Boulder (CO) 747-51
 Boulder (UT) 872
 Boundary Waters 609-10, 20
 bourbon 391, 392, see also distilleries bowling alleys 588
 Bozeman 786-8
 Bradley Beach 137
 Brandywine Valley 302
 Branson 626-7
 Brattleboro 223-4
 Breaux Bridge 454
 Breckenridge 755-7
 Bretton Woods 238-9
 breweries & microbreweries 27-8, 493
 Anchorage 1098
 Boulder (CO) 750
 Burlington (VT) 230
 Colorado Springs 765
- Fort Bragg 1000
 Fort Collins 750
 Great Barrington 208
 Kansas City 629
 Michigan 577
 Milwaukee 586-7
 Minneapolis 602
 Minnesota 608
 Pacific Northwest (TX) 1021
 San Diego 942
 St Louis 620
 Texas 684
- Brewster 197-8
 Bridgehampton 120-1
 bristlecone pines 1168
 Broadway 113
 Bronze Fonz 587
 Brooklyn Bridge 64, 66
 Brownsville 697
 Brunswick 411-12
 Bryce Canyon National Park 729, 873-4
 Bryson City 350
 budget 22-3
 Buffalo 130-3
 Buffalo National River 430
 Burlington (IA) 635
 Burlington (VT) 230-2
 Burning Man 820
 bus travel 1192-3
 Bush, George HW 1134
 Bush, George W 1134
 business hours 1178
 butterflies 484, 954, 959
- C
 Cadillac Mountain 250
 Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site 547-8
 Cajun Country 452-5
 Cajun peoples 452
 Cajun Prairie 454-5
 Cajun Wetlands 454
 Caladesi Island 495
 California 58, 901-1019, 904-5
 climate 901
 food 901, 1147
 highlights 904-5
 internet resources 902
 itineraries 906
 travel seasons 901
 travel to/within 902
 Calistoga 994
 Calumet 610
 Cambria 956
 Camden 248-9
 Cameron 848

- camping 1012, 1173
Cannon Beach 1078-9
canoeing & kayaking 49
Bethel 252
Boundary Waters 609
Galena 545-6
Juneau 1090
Key Largo 480
Key West 484
Lake Tahoe 1018
Marathon (FL) 482
Miami (FL) 467
Minneapolis 600
Mississippi 424
Monterey 960
New York City 94
Ohio River 553
Petersburg 1088
Pine Barrens 138
Portland (ME) 245
Portland (OR) 1057-8
Santa Barbara 952
Santa Cruz 961
Seattle 1032
Sitka 1089
Wailua 1118
Washington, DC 275
White Mountains 236
Canton 559
Canyon de Chelly National Monument 848
Canyonlands National Park 870, 719
Cape Cod 17, 194-203, 196, 25
Cape Cod National Seashore 199
Cape Flattery 1043
Cape Henlopen State Park 300
Cape Kiwanda 1079
Cape Lookout 1079
Cape May 140-1
Cape Meares 1079
Cape Perpetua 1080
Cape Vincent 129
Capital Region 56, 254-329, 256-7
accommodations 254
climate 254
food 254
highlights 256-7
history 258
internet resources 255
itineraries 259
- transportation 255
travel seasons 254
Capitan 898-9
Capitol Hill (WA) 268-9
Capitol Reef National Park 871-2
Capone, Al 528
Captain Cook 1111
Captiva Island 501
Capulin Volcano National Monument 894
car museums 575
car travel 22, 1185-8, see also road trips insurance 1185-7
rental 1187-8
road rules 1188
road safety 1188
Caratunk 252-3
Carhenge 653, 21
Carlsbad 900
Carlsbad Caverns National Park 899
Carmel 958-9
Carson City 823
Carson, Rachel 1135
Carter Family Fold 325
casinos 764, 809-11, 820-1
Cataract Canyon 870
Cathedral Gorge State Park 824
cathedrals, see churches & cathedrals
Catoosa 662
Catskills 124
Cedar Breaks National Monument 875
Cedar City 875
Cedar Point Amusement Park 560
cell phones 22, 1179-80
Central Park 82, 84-5, 84-5
Chaco Culture National Historic Park 893-4
Chama 894
Chamberlain 640
Chandler 662-3
Chapel Hill 343-5
Chapin Mesa 770
Charleston 352-7
Charleston County Sea Islands 358-9
Charlevoix 580
Charlotte 345-6
Charlottesville 317-19
Charm 561
Chase County 658
Chatham 198
Chattanooga 382-4
- Chavez, Cesar 1135
Chelan 1048
chemists 1175
Cherokee (NC) 350, 1142-3
Cherokee peoples 1142-3
Cherokee 774-5
Chicago 15, 519-44, 520, 522-3, 15
accommodations 533-4
activities 530-2
children, travel with 526
climate 514
drinking 537-9
entertainment 539-41
festivals 532-3
food 534-7
itineraries 521
shopping 542
sights 521-30
tourist information 542
tours 532
travel to/from 542-3
travel within 543-4
walking tours 531, 532
children, travel with 52-4
Albuquerque 878
Atlanta 397
Baltimore 290
Boston 183
Chicago 526
Houston 691
Las Vegas 810
Los Angeles 921
Miami (FL) 468
Minneapolis 600
New Orleans 442
New York City 91
Phoenix 832
Salt Lake City 858
San Francisco 979
Seattle 1033
Washington, DC 275
Chilkoot Trail 1094
Chippewa 1143
Chippewa National Forest 611
Chiricahua National Monument 855
churches & cathedrals
16th Street Baptist Church 413
Abyssinian Baptist Church 89
Cathedral Church of St John the Divine 89
Cathedral of Our Lady of the Angels 909
Cathedral of St Helena 790
- Cathedral of St John the Baptist 407
Cathedral of St Paul 604
Dexter Avenue King Memorial Church 415
First Ebenezer Baptist Church 397
Full Gospel Tabernacle Church 366
Grace Cathedral 970
Mission Santa Barbara 951
Mt Zion United Methodist Church 272
San Carlos Borroméo de Carmelo Mission 958
St Augustine's Church 437
St John's Episcopal Church 309
St Louis Cathedral 433
Washington National Cathedral 274
Cimarron 894
Cincinnati 564-8
Civil Rights 399
memorials 415
museums 363, 407, 412-13, 657
sites 416-17, 419, 425
walking tours 413
Civil War 1129-30, 1154-5
museums 309, 311
sites 160, 307, 308, 311, 379, 546, 656
Claremore 662, 665
Clark, William 1078
Clarksdale 420-1
Clarksville 553
Clayton 129
Cleveland 555-9
climate 22, 29-32, see also individual regions climate change 1170, 1189
Clinton 663
Clinton, Bill 425-6, 428-9
Cloudfcroft 897-8
Clyde 560
Coca-Cola 393, 1152
Cody 776-7
coffee 1152
Coloma 1005
Colorado 739-73
Colorado Springs 762-5
Columbia 625
Columbia River Gorge 20, 1068, 2, 20
Columbus (IN) 552
Columbus (OH) 562-3
Columbus, Christopher 1125

comedy clubs 113, 541, 926
 Concord 193
 Coney Island 90
 Connecticut 216-21
 consulates 1174
 Conway Scenic Railroad
 235
 Cooperstown 638
 Coral Castle 477
 coral reefs 479, 483
 Corning 127
 Cornucopia 595
 Cornville 834
 Corolla 335
 Corpus Christi 695-6
 Cottonwood 834
 Cougar 1051
 country music 372, 686,
 1163
 Country Music Hall of Fame & Museum 372
 Coupeville 1044
 cowboy boots 715
 Crater Lake National Park
 1072 Crawford Notch 238-9
 credit cards 1178
 Creole peoples 452
 Crested Butte 765-6
 Cripple Creek 764
 Crooked Road 325-6
 cruise ships 1191
 Crystal Coast 339-40
 culture 1122-4, 1137-41,
 1153-61
 Cumberland 298
 Cumberland Island 411-12
 currency 22
 currency exchange 1178
 Custer State Park 648-9
 Custer's Last Stand 789
 customs regulations 1173
 cycling, see bicycling,
 mountain biking

D

Da Yoopers Tourist Trap
 and Museum 584
 Dahlonega 404
 Dali, Salvador 499
 Dallas 697-705, 700
 Dallas-Fort Worth 697-708,
698
 dance 1158
 dangers, see safety
 Daniel Boone National
 Forest 392
 Darwin 605
 Davenport 633

Dayton 564
 Daytona 500 race 490
 Daytona Beach 489-91
 Dead Horse Point State
 Park 870
 Deadwood 646-7
 Dean, James 552
 Dearborn 575-6
 Death Valley National Park
 730, 949-51, 731
 Declaration of Independence 1127
 Deep Creek Lake 299
 Delaware 299-303
 Delaware Water Gap 135-6
 Denton 704
 Denver 739-47, 740
 accommodations 742-3
 activities 742
 climate 733
 drinking 744-5
 entertainment 745-6
 festivals 742
 food 743-4
 shopping 746
 sights 739-41
 tourist information 746
 travel to/from 746
 travel within 746-7
 Des Moines 632-3
 Detroit 568-75, 570
 Devils Lake 638
 Devil's Tower National
 Monument 785
 Dewey Beach 300-1
 Diamond Head 1108
 diets 1146
 Dinosaur National
 Monument 866-7
 dinosaurs 945
 disabilities, travelers with 1181 discount cards 1173-4
 Disneyland 930-2, see also Walt Disney World distilleries, see also whiskey
 California 963
 Gatlinburg 385
 Kentucky 391
 Memphis 368
 New Orleans 437
 diving & snorkeling 50-1
 California 959, 960
 Florida 479, 480, 483,
 484, 511
 Hawaii 1108, 1111, 1116,
 1119
 North Carolina 337
 Dodge City 659

Dollywood 385
 dolphins 478, 481, 482
 Door County 594
 Douglas 578-9
 Dover 303
 Downeast Maine 251-2 drinks 1150-2
 driver's licenses 1185 driving 38-44, see also road trips, car travel
 Dry Creek Valley 998
 Dry Tortugas National
 Park 487
 Dubuque 635
 Duck 335
 Duluth 607-8
 Dunsmuir 1007-8
 Durango 770-1
 Durango & Silverton Narrow
 Gauge Railroad 771
 Durham 343-5
 Dylan, Bob 607, 608, 610

E

eagles 606, 722, 1089, 1093, 722
 East Haddam 220
 East Hampton 121
 Eastern Panhandle 326-8
 Eastern Shore (MD) 295-6
 Echo Lake 238
 economy 1123
 eco-travel 721
 Edgartown 206
 Edison, Thomas 500,
 559-60
 Edward Ball Wakulla
 Springs State Park 510
 El Morro National
 Monument 882
 El Paso 714-16
 El Santuario de Chimayo
 888
 Eldon 633
 electricity 1174, 1177
 elephant seals 957
 Elgin 855
 elk 784
 Elkins 328
 Elko 824
 Ellensburg 1052
 Ellis Island 66-7
 Elsie 548
 Ely 610
 embassies 1174
 emergencies 23
 Eminence 626
 Empire State Building 80
 endangered species 1167

Enterprise 1076 environmental issues
 1169-70
 Epcot 506-7
 Erie Lakeshore 560-1
 Escalante 873
 Essex 219-20
 Estero Island 501
 Estes Park 752-3
 Eugene 1066-8
 Eureka 1001-2
 Eureka Springs 429-30
 Evanston 545
 events 29-32
 Everglades, the 476-7
 Everglades City 479
 Everglades National Park
 476-7, 724
 exchange rates 23

F

Fairmount 552
 Falmouth 195-6
 Fargo 636-7
 farmers markets
 Ann Arbor 576
 Hilo 1112
 Ithaca 127
 Madison (WI) 589
 New York City 79
 Portland 246
 Richmond 310
 San Francisco 982
 San Luis Obispo 955
 Seattle 1026, 20
 Trenton 136
 Farmington 893
 Faulkner, William 418
 fauna, see wildlife
 Fayetteville 329
 Fenway Park 191
 Fenwick Island 301-2 ferries 1192, see also boat trips
 Ferry Building 967, 982 festivals 29-32, see also music festivals, individual locations
 art 1058
 beer 1058
 Burning Man 820
 film 96, 580, 767-8, 864, 978, 1033
 food 96, 199, 354, 590,
 628, 742, 1058
 Gullah people 351
 lobster 248
 Native American 879
 rodeo 852

- festivals continued
 rose 1058
 Shakespeare 1073
 sports 184, 290, 829
 state fairs 632
 theater 210
- Fidalgo Island 1044
- film & TV locations
 Deadwood 646
 Fargo 637
 Los Angeles 913, 914
 New York City 80
 North Carolina 340
 Tucson 851
- films 1122, 1153, 1165
- Finger Lakes Region 124-8
- fishing 788, 791, 800
- Fitzgerald, F Scott 604
- Five Points 373
- Flagstaff 835-7
- Flathead Lake 792
- floods 747
- flora 680, 722-3
- Florida 56, 456-513, 458-9
 accommodations 456
 climate 456
 food 456
 highlights 458-9
 history 460
 internet resources 457
 itineraries 461
 travel seasons 456
 travel to/within 460
- Florida City 477-8
- Florida Keys 479-87
- Florida Panhandle 509-13
- flowers 680
- Floyd 325
- Flume Gorge 238
- folk music 1163
- food 25, 1144-9, 1174, see also individual locations
 barbecue 345, 629, 667, 679
 blue crab 293
 cafeterias 551
 cheese 235
 chili 281, 567
 cooking courses 439
 corn dogs 702
 deep-dish pizza 535
 etiquette 1148
 festivals 96, 199, 354, 590, 628, 742, 1058
- fish fry 591
- food trucks 536, 675, 1147
- frozen custard 622
- grocery 1148-9
- Hawaiian specialties 1106
- hot dogs 535
- ice cream 195
- Latin American 470
- Mid-Atlantic specialties 1146
- Midwest specialties 1147
- pit beef 292
- pizza 622
- pulled pork 345
- sandwiches 535
- seafood 171, 293
- Southern specialties 331, 359
- St Louis specialties 622
- supper clubs 591
- Texan specialties 702
- toasted ravioli 622
- whoopie pies 246
- football 559, 1140
- Ford, Henry 500, 575-6
- Forks (WA) 1044
- Forks, the (ME) 252-3
- Formula 1 Grand Prix 674
- Fort Bragg 1000
- Fort Davis 711
- Fort Lauderdale 473-4
- Fort Myers 500-1
- Fort Myers Beach 501
- Fort Worth 705-8
- Four Corners Navajo Tribal Park 849
- Franconia Notch State Park 237-8
- Franklin 379
- Franklin, Benjamin 1127
- Frederick 297-8
- Fredericksburg (TX) 680-1
- Fredericksburg (VA) 308
- Freedom Trail 185
- Freeport 247
- Freestone 998
- Friedan, Betty 1135
- Front Royal 320-1
- Frost, Robert 238
- G
- Galax 325-6
- Galena (IL) 545-6
- Galena (KS) 656
- Gallatin Valley 788-9
- galleries, see art museums & galleries
- Gallup 882
- Galveston 694-5
- Garberville 1001
- Garden Key 487
- gardens, see parks & gardens
- Gary 554
- gas stations 1187
- Gateway Arch 618-19
- Gateway 385
- gay travelers 1174-5
 Atlanta 402
 Austin 676
 Boston 189
 Chicago 540
 Dallas 703
 Fort Lauderdale 474
 Key West 486
 Los Angeles 925
 Minneapolis 601
 Portland (OR) 1062
 San Francisco 986
 Washington, DC 285
- geography 1165-7
- geology 28
- Georgetown 361
- Georgia 393-412
- Gettysburg 160
- Gila Cliff Dwellings National Monument 896
- Glacier Bay National Park & Preserve 1091
- Glacier National Park 727, 793-4, 717, 721, 726-7
- Glacier Point 1010
- Glass Mountain 1009
- Godfather* 1122
- Gold Country 1005-7
- Golden Gate Bridge 975
- Golden Isles 411-12
- Gothenburg 652
- Governor's Island National Monument 67
- Graceland 364-5
- Grafton 548
- Grand Canyon National Park 11, 729, 840-6, 842, 11, 721, 728-9
- Grand Canyon Railway 837
- Grand Canyon West 847
- Grand Central Station 80
- Grand Coulee Dam 1050
- Grand Forks 638
- Grand Island (MI) 583
- Grand Island (NE) 652
- Grand Marais (MI) 583
- Grand Marais (WI) 609
- Grand Rapids 577-8
- Grand Staircase-Escalante
- National Monument 872-3
- Grand Teton National Park 782-4, 18
- Grants Pass 1074-5
- Grass Valley 1005
- Grassy Key 482
- Great Barrington 208
- Great Basin 823-4
- Great Basin National Park 824, 718-19
- Great Gatsby, the* 1122
- Great Lakes 20, 56, 514-611, 516-17
 accommodations 514
 activities 515
 climate 514
 food 514
 highlights 516-17
 internet resources 515
 itineraries 518
 planning 515
 travel seasons 514
 travel to/within 515
- Great Plains 21, 57, 612-65, 614-15
 accommodations 612
 climate 612
 food 612
 highlights 614-15
 internet resources 613
 itineraries 616
 travel seasons 612
 travel to/within 613
- Great River Road 44, 593
- Great Salt Lake 862
- Great Sand Dunes National Park 773
- Great Smoky Mountains National Park 349-50, 384-5, 724, 2, 725
- Great Wass Island 252
- Green Bay 593-4
- Green Country 664-5
- Green County 592
- Green River 867
- Greenville 361-2
- Greenwood 422
- Greene 679-80
- grunge music 1021
- Guadalupe 954
- Guadalupe Mountains National Park 716
- Guerneville 997
- Gulf Coast 424
- Gullah people 351
- gun violence 1123
- Guthrie 665
- Guthrie, Woody 663

- H
 Haines 1092-4
 Haleakalā National Park 1118
 Hale'iwa 1109
 Half Moon Bay 963
 Hamakua Coast 1112
 Hampton Roads 314-15
 Hamptons, the 120-1
 Hana 1117-18
 Hanalei 1119
 Hanapepe 1120
 Hannibal 624
 Hanover 239-40
Happy Days 587
 Harbor Country 578
 Harley-Davidsons 586
 Harmony 606
 Harpers Ferry 326-8
 Harriet Island 603
 Hartford 220-1
 Harvard University 184
 Hatteras Island 335
 Havasu Canyon 846-7
 Hawaii 58, 1101-20, 1102
   climate 1101
   food 1106, 1148
   highlights 1102
   itineraries 1104
   national parks 732
   travel seasons 1101
 Hawai'i 1109-14
 Hawai'i County 1113
 Hawai'i Volcanoes National Park 1113-14, 732
 Hayden Valley 780
 Haystack Rock 1078
 Hayward 595
 Healdsburg 998
 health 1175
 Hearst Castle 956
 Hearst, William Randolph 956
 Helena 426, 789-90
 Hells Canyon 1076
 Hemingway, Ernest 484, 545, 581, 798
 Hetch Hetchy 1010-11
 Hiaasen, Carl 457
 Hibbing 610
 High Country 346-7
 High Line, The 75, 10-11
 hiking 26, 45-6, 47
   Acadia National Park 250
   Anchorage 1096
   Appalachian Trail 327, 724
   Aramark Mesa Verde 770
   Baxter State Park 253
   Bethel 252
   Black Hills National Forest 643
   Blue Ridge Parkway 19, 323, 324, 19
   Boise 796
   Boulder (UT) 872
   California 901
   Chaco Culture National Historic Park 894
   Chilkoot Trail 1094
   Cloudcroft 897
   Colorado 742, 768
   Colorado Springs 763
   Denver 742
   Echo Canyon Trail 855
   Franconia Notch State Park 238
   Ghost Ranch 890
   Glacier National Park 727, 793-4, 721
   Grand Canyon National Park 841, 843
   Grand Teton National Park 782
   Great Sand Dunes National Park 773
   Great Smoky Mountains National Park 350
   Haines 1093
   Haleakalā National Park 1118
   Humphreys Peak 835
   Isle Royale National Park 584
   Juneau 1090
   Kalalau Trail 1119
   Ketchikan 1086
   Kings Canyon National Park 1014
   Lake Powell 848
   Lake Quinault 1042
   Los Angeles 920
   Lost Coast 1001
   Mammoth Cave National Park 392
   Manchester (VT) 225
   Marin Headlands 991
   Marquette 584
   Mauna Kea 1111-12
   Michigan 580
   Missoula 791
   Mount Magazine 429
   Mt Hood 1069
   Mt Ranier 1051
   Mt St Helens 1051
   Mt Washington 239
   Newport (RI) 214
   North Carolina 347
   Ogunquit 241
   Palm Springs 944-5
   Phoenix 828
   Po'ipu 1119-20
   Quandary Peak 757
   Rocky Mountain National Park 751
   Ruidoso 898
   Saguaro National Park 851
   Salt Lake City 859
   San Juan Hut Systems 768
   Sandia Crest National Scenic Byway 878
   Santa Fe 883-4
   Shenandoah National Park 320
   Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore 579
   Southwest USA 802
   Springdale 875
   Stowe 228-9
   Sun Valley 797
   Taos 891
   Telluride 769
   Vail 758
   Waimea 1120
   Wallowa Mountains 1076
   Yellowstone National Park 777-80
   Yosemite National Park 1011
 Hill City 647
 Hill Country 679-82
 Hillsboro 658
 Hilo 1112-13
 Hilton Head 359-60
 hip-hop music 1164
 Historic Triangle 311-14
 history 27, 1125-36,
   see also individual locations
   Boston Tea Party 1127
   Civil War 1129-30
   Cold War 1131-4
   continental expansion 1129
   European settlement 1125-6
   Great Depression 1130-1
   Gulf War 1134
   independence 1127-9
   national parks 718-19
   Native Americans 1125, 1142-3
   slavery 1129-30, 1132
   WWII 1131
 Hoboken 135
 Hocking County 563
 Hodgenville 392
 Hoh River Rainforest 1042
 holidays 1179
 Hollywood 913, 914, 915
 Holualoa 1110
 Homer 1099
 Homestead 477-8
 Homestead National Monument 651
 Honeymoon Island 495
 honky-tonks 706
 Honoka'a 1112
 Honolulu 1104-7
 Hood River 1068
 Hoover Dam 819-20
 Hope 428-9
 Hopi people 847
 horseback riding 51, 546, 681, 755
   Kodachrome Basin State Park 873
 Moab 868
 Phoenix 828-9
 Saguaro National Park 851
 Horseshoe Bend 848
 hostels 1172
 Hot Springs (AR) 427-8
 Hot Springs (SD) 649
 hot springs & spas
   Alaska 1099
   Arkansas 427-8
   California 1015
   Colorado 754, 766
   Idaho 799
   Montana 788-9
   New Mexico 889
   Oregon 1066, 1075
   San Francisco 975
   South Dakota 649
   Yellowstone National Park 777
 Houston 687-94, 688-9
   accommodations 689
   children, travel with 691
   drinking 691-2
   entertainment 692-3
   festivals 689
   food 690-1
   shopping 693
   sights 687-8
   tourist information 693
   travel to/from 693-4
   travel within 694
 Hovenweep National Monument 871
 Huckleberry Finn 1122, 1155

Hudson Valley 122-3
 Hueco Tanks State
 Historical Park 716
 Humphreys Peak 835
 Hunting Island State
 Park 359
 Hurricane Ridge 1041
 Hurricane Sandy 137
 Hyannis 196-7

I
 Idaho 795-800
 Idaho Panhandle 800
 Illinois 519-48
 immigration 1189
 Independence (CO) 760
 Independence (MO) 631
 Independence National Historic Park 144-5
 Indiana 548-55
 Indiana Dunes 554
 Indianapolis 548-51
 Indianapolis 500 race
 548, 550
 Indianola 421-2
 Ingalls Homestead 642
 insurance 1175-6
   car & motorcycle 1185-7
   health 1175
 Interior Maine 252-3
 internet access 1176
 internet resources 23,
   see also individual
   locations
Interpreter of Maladies,
the 1153
 Iowa 631-5
 Iowa City 633-4
 Iowa State Fair 632
 Iron Range District 610
 Islamorada 480-2
 Isle Royale National Park
 584, 609
 Ithaca 124-6
 itineraries 33-7

J
 Jack Daniel's Distillery 368
 Jackson (MS) 422-4
 Jackson (WY) 784-6
 Jacksonville (FL) 493
 Jacksonville (OR) 1074
 James River Plantations 314
 Jamestown 313, 1126
 jazz music 1162-3

New York City 112
 Philadelphia 156
 Pittsburgh 167
 Jekyll Island 411
 Jenner 999
 Jerome 834, 839-40
 Jersey City 135
 Jersey Shore 136-41
 Jewel Cave National
 Monument 649
 JFK, see Kennedy, John F
 Jindal, Bobby 1122
 John Adams 1127
 John Day Fossil Beds
 National Monument
 1075
 John Hope Franklin
 Reconciliation Park 664
 Jonesport 252
 Joplin 625
 Joseph 1076
 Joshua Tree National Park
 730, 946-8 jukes 420
 Juneau 1090-2

K
 Kahuku 1109
 Kahului 1117
 Kailua 1108-9
 Kailua-Kona 1109-10
 Kanab 874
 Kansas 654-9
 Kansas City 627-30
 Kartchner Caverns State
 Park 855
 Kaua'i 1118-20
 kayaking, see canoeing &
   kayaking
 Kearney 652-3
 Kelleys Island 561
 Kennebunkport 243-4
 Kennedy, John F 186, 197,
   304, 1133
 Kennedy Space Center 488
 Kentucky 385-93
 Kentucky Derby 386
 Ketchikan 1086-7
 Ketchum 797-9
 Keuka Lakes 126-8
 Key Largo 479-80
 Key West 483-7
 Keystone 648
 Kidron 561
 Kihei 1115-17
 Kill Devil Hills 335
 Killington 227
 King Jr, Martin Luther 399, 416, 1133

birth place 397 memorials 269
 sites 397
 Kingman 850
 Kings Canyon National
 Park 1013-15
 Kitt Peak National
 Observatory 854
 Kitty Hawk 335
 Knoxville 384
 Kodachrome Basin State
 Park 873

L
 La Crosse 593
 Lafayette 452-4
 Laguna Beach 933
 Lahaina 1114-15
 Lajitas 710
 Lake Champlain 130
 Lake Chelan 1048
 Lake City 766
 Lake Crescent 1041
 Lake George 128
 Lake Havasu City 850
 Lake Martin 454
 Lake Mead 819
 Lake Placid 128
 Lake Pontchartrain 449
 Lake Powell 847-8
 Lake Quinault 1042
 Lake Tahoe 1017-19
 Lake Travis 678-9
 Lake Waramaug 221
 Lake Winnepesaukee 234
 Lakelands 595
 Lamar Valley 780
 Lambertville 158
 Lana'i 1116
 Lander 775-6
 Lanesboro 606
 Langlade 595
 language 22, 1103
 Lansing 577
 Laramie 775-6
 Larned 658
 Las Cruces 895-6
 Las Vegas (NM) 889
 Las Vegas (NV) 16, 806-19,
   808, 16
   accommodation 812-14
   children, travel with 810
   drinking 816-17
   entertainment 817-18
   food 814-16
   history 806-7
   information 818
   shopping 818

sights 807-12
 travel to/from 818-19
 travel within 818-19
 Lassen Peak 1009
 Laurel Highlands 168
 Lava Beds National
 Monument 1008
 Lawrence 656
 Lead 647
 Leavenworth 1048
 legal matters 1176-7
 Leggett 1001
 Leland 579
 Lenox 208-9
 lesbian travelers 1174-5
   Atlanta 402
   Austin 676
   Boston 189
   Chicago 540
   Dallas 703
   Fort Lauderdale 474
   Key West 486
   Los Angeles 925
   Minneapolis 601
   Portland (OR) 1062
   San Francisco 986
   Washington, DC 285
 Lewes 299-300
 Lewis & Clark 639, 640
 Lewis, Meriwether 1078
 Lexington (KY) 389-92
 Lexington (MA) 193
 Lexington (VA) 322-3
 libraries
   Carter Center 398
   Folger Shakespeare
   Library & Theatre 268
   Franklin D Roosevelt
   Library & Museum 123
   Huntington Library
   919-20
   Kansas City Public
   Library 627
   Kurt Vonnegut Memorial
   Library 549
   Library of Congress 268
   Lincoln Presidential
   Library & Museum 547
   New York Public Library
   80
   Pierpont Morgan
   Library 81
   Provincetown Public
   Library 201
   William J Clinton
   Presidential Center
   425-6
   Woodrow Wilson
   Presidential Library
   322

- Lihu'e 1118
 Lincoln (NE) 651-2
 Lincoln (NH) 237
 Lincoln (NM) 898-9
 Lincoln, Abraham 225 house of 546-7
   memorials 267, 553, 16
   tomb 547
 Lincoln Memorial 267, 16
 Litchfield 221
 Litchfield Hills 221
 literature 1154-6
 Little Bighorn Battlefield
   National Monument
   789
 Little Five Points 398
Little House on the Prairie
   642
 Little Rock 425-7
 Little Washington 321
 live music, see music
 Locke, John 1127
 Lockhart 679
 Long Branch 137
 Long Island 118-22
 Looe Key 483
 Lopez Island 1047
 Los Alamos 889
 Los Angeles 21, 906-29,
   908-9, 21
   accommodations 921-2
   activities 920
   Beverly Hills 915-16,
     916-17
   children, travel with 921
   climate 901
   Downtown 907-13,
     910-11
   drinking 925
   entertainment 926-7
   festivals 920-1
   food 922-4
   Griffith Park 913-14
   Hollywood 913, 914, 915
   internet resources 928
   itineraries 907
   Long Beach 918-19
   Malibu 917-18
   Mid-City 914-15, 916-17
   Pasadena 919-20
   Santa Monica 918, 919
   shopping 927
   sights 907-20
   tourist information 927-8
   tours 920
   travel to/from 928
   travel within 928-9
   Venice 918, 919
   walking tours 920
- Los Olivos 954
 Louisiana 430-55, 1146
 Louisville 385-9
 Lowcountry 358-60
 Lower Connecticut River
   Valley 219-20
 Lower Keys 483
 Lubec 252
 Lucas 657-8
 Luckenbach 681
 Ludington 579
- M
 Ma'alaea 1115
 Machias 252
 Mackinac Island 581-2
 Mackinaw City 580-1
 Mad River Valley 228
 Madeline Island 595
 Madison (IN) 553
 Madison (WI) 589-92
 Madison County 633
 Madison magazines 1177
 Maiden Rock 606
 Maine 240-53, 242
 Makena 1116
 Malabar Farm State Park
   562
 Mall of America 605-6
 Mammoth Cave National
   Park 392-3, 724
 Mamou 454
 Manassas 307-8
 manatees 478, 500-1
 Manchester 225-6
 Manitou Islands 579
 Manzanar National Historic
   Site 1016
 Manteo 335
 maps 1177
 Marathon (FL) 482-3
 Marathon (TX) 713
 Mardi Gras, New Orleans
   440, 31
 Marfa 711-13
 marijuana laws 1124
 Marin County 991-2
 Marin Headlands 991
 markets, see also farmers markets
   Amish Country 561
   Auburn 1006
   Boston 191
   Cincinnati 565
   Cleveland 556
   Detroit 571
   Kansas City 629
   Lambertville 158
   Los Angeles 927
- New Orleans 445
 New York City 82, 104
 Olympia 1040
 Philadelphia 149, 153
 Seattle 1026
 Marquette 584
 marriage equality 1124
 Martha's Vineyard 204-6,
   196
 Maryland 287-99
 Massachusetts 175-210
 Maui 1114-18
 Mauna Kea 1111-12
 measures 1177
 medical services 1175
 Medicine Bow Mountains
   785 Medicine Lake 1009
 Medora 638
 Memphis 362-71, 365, 366
   accommodations 367-8
   drinking 370
   entertainment 370-1
   festivals 367
   food 368-70
   shopping 371
   sights 363-6
   tourist information 371
   tours 366-7
   travel to/within 371
 Mendenhall Glacier 1090
 Mendocino 999
 Menemsha 205
 Meredith, James 419
 Merritt Island National
   Wildlife Refuge 488
 Mesa Verde National Park
   727, 769-70
 Methow Valley 1048-9
 Mexico 697, 716
 Meyer, Stephenie 1044
 Miami (FL) 18, 461-73, 462,
   464, 18
   accommodations 468-9
   activities 467
   climate 456
   drinking 471-2
   entertainment 471-2
   festivals 468
   food 469-70
   itineraries 463
   shopping 472
   sights 461-7
   tourist information 472
   tours 468
   travel to/from 472
   travel within 473
   walking tours 466, 466
 Miami (OK) 662
- Michigan 568-85
 microbreweries, see breweries & microbreweries
 Middleburg 321
 Middlebury (IL) 555
 Middlebury (VT) 227-8
 Middleton 590
 Milan 559-60
 Milford 136
 Milk, Harvey 1135
 Millersburg 561
 Millinocket 253
 Milwaukee 585-9
 Minneapolis 596-603,
   598-9
   accommodations 600
   drinking 601-2
   entertainment 602-3
   festivals 600
   food 600-1
   sights 596-600
   tourist information 603
   travel to/within 603
 Minnesota 596-611
 Minot 638-9
 Minuteman Missile
   National Historic
   Site 641
 Mississippi 417-25
 Mississippi Delta 420-2
 Mississippi River 424, 593
 Mississippi Valley 606
 Missoula 790-1
 Missouri 616-31
 Misty Fjords National
   Monument 1087
 Mitchell 640
 Moab 867-9
 Mobile 417
 mobile phones 22, 1179-80
 Mojave National Preserve
   949
 Mokelumne Hill 1006
 Moline 633
 Moloka'i 1116
 Molokini 1116
 Monadnock State Park 234
 money 22, 23, 1173-4,
   1177-8
 Monhegan Island 248
 Mono Lake 1015
 Monongahela National
   Forest 328-9
 Montana 786-94
 Montauk 121
 Monterey 959-61
 Montgomery 414-16
 Monticello 318
 Montpelier 228

- Monument Valley 871
 Monument Valley Navajo Tribal Park 849
 Morehead City 339
 Mormonism 859
 Morro Bay 956
 motorcycle travel, 22, 1185-8, see also road trips
 Motown Records 574
 Mound City 564
 Mount Rushmore 647-8
 Mount Vernon 307
 mountain biking 48, see also bicycling
 Cloudcroft 897
 Moab 868
 Santa Fe 883-4
 Sedona 839
 Springdale 875
 Taos 891
 Mountain View 429
 Mourdock, Richard 1122
 Mt Anderson 1041
 Mt Baker 1047
 Mt Baldhead 578
 Mt Hood 1069-70
 Mt Katahdin 253
 Mt Pisgah 350
 Mt Pleasant 357-8
 Mt Rainier National Park 730, 1050-1
 Mt Rogers National Recreation Area 324
 Mt Shasta 1007, 1008
 Mt Snow 224
 Mt St Helens 1051
 Mt Vernon 635
 Mt Washington 239
 Mt Whitney 1016
 Muir, John 1170
 multiculturalism 1137
 Munising 583
 Murphys 1006
 museums 26, see also art museums & galleries
 Adler Planetarium & Astronomy Museum 526
 American International Rattlesnake Museum 877
 American Museum of Natural History 83
 Anchorage Museum 1095
 Andy Warhol Museum 162
 Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum 851
 Bishop Museum 1104
 Brown vs Board of Education National Historic Site 657
 City Museum, St Louis 619
 Cloisters 90
 Columbia River Maritime Museum 1077
 Cosmosphere & Space Center 657
 Country Music Hall of Fame & Museum 372
 Cummer Museum of Art & Gardens 493
 Durham Museum 650
 Exploratorium 971
 Field Museum of Natural History 525
 Georgia O'Keeffe Museum 883
 Getty Villa 918
 Grammy Museum 912
 Griffith Observatory 914
 Heard Museum 826
 Henry Ford Museum 575
 High Desert Museum 1070
 Huntington Library 919-20
 'Imiloa Astronomy Center of Hawai'i 1112
 Indian Pueblo Cultural Center 877-8
 International Bluegrass Music Museum 389
 Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum 183
 Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park 1027
 Lightner Museum 491
 Lower East Side Tenement Museum 71
 Lyman Museum & Mission House 1112
 Maritime Museum, San Diego 935
 Mark Twain House & Museum 220
 Millicent Rogers Museum 890
 Mob Museum 811
 Moraine Park Museum 751
 Museum of New Mexico 883
 Mystic Seaport Museum 218-19
 Nantucket Whaling Museum 203
 National Air & Space Museum 263
 National Civil Rights Museum 363
 National Constitution Center 145
 National Museum of American History 266
 National Museum of Natural History 263
 National Museum of Naval Aviation 512
 National Museum of the American Indian 266
 National World War II Museum 437
 National WWI Museum 627
 Natural History Museum of Utah 858
 New Mexico Farm & Ranch Heritage Museum 895
 Newseum 267
 Oklahoma City National Memorial Museum 659
 Oklahoma Jazz Hall of Fame 663
 Old Cowtown Museum 654
 Oscar Getz Museum of Whiskey History 391
 Peabody Museum of Natural History 217
 Pilgrim Monument & Provincetown Museum 200
 Pioneer Woman Museum 665
 Ringling Museum Complex 500
 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame & Museum 556
 Rosenbach Museum & Library 147-8
 Shelburne Museum 230
 Sixth Floor Museum 699
 Smithsonian Institution Museums 269
 Spam Museum 606
 Stax Museum of American Soul Music 365
 Steven F Udvar-Hazy Center 271
 Stuhr Museum of the Prairie Pioneer 652
 Union Pacific Railroad Museum 650
 USS Lexington Museum 695
 USS Midway Museum 935
 Vent Haven Museum 565
 Wolfsonian-FIU 463
 Woody Guthrie Center 663
 World of Coca-Cola 393
 music 28, 1124, 1162-4, see also music festivals
 Atlanta 403
 Austin 676-7
 blues 156, 426, 529, 1162
 Boston 190
 Chicago 539-40
 Cleveland 558
 country 372, 686, 1163
 Denver 745
 Detroit 573-4
 folk 1163
 grunge 1021
 hip-hop 1164
 Houston 692
 jazz 112, 156, 167, 1162-3
 Kansas City 630
 Los Angeles 926
 Memphis 364, 370-1
 Miami (FL) 471
 Minneapolis 602
 mountain music 325
 museums 365-6, 389, 420, 663
 Nashville (TN) 380
 New Orleans 446-7
 New York City 111-13, 114
 Philadelphia 156
 Pittsburgh 167
 San Francisco 987, 988
 soul 365-6
 South, the 331
 Washington, DC 284
 music festivals
 Arkansas 426
 Aspen 760
 Atlanta 398
 Austin 673-4, 677
 Berkshires, The 208
 Bonnaroo 383
 Boulder (CO) 748
 Chicago 533
 Cincinnati 566
 Detroit 572
 Kentucky 389
 Lafayette 453
 Memphis 367
 Miami 468
 Milwaukee 587
 Mississippi 420

Nashville (TN) 376, 383
 New Orleans 440
 Newport (RI) 214
 San Francisco 978
 South by Southwest
 673-4, 677
 St Louis 620
 Telluride 767
 Muskegon 579
 Muskogee 665
 Myrtle Beach 360-1
 Mystery Hole 328
 Mystic 218-19

N

Nader, Ralph 1135
 Nags Head 335
 Nantahala National Forest
 350
 Nantucket 203-4, 196
 Napa 994
 Napa Valley 994-6
 Naples 502
 Nascar 345-6, 414, 490,
 548
 Nashville (IN) 552
 Nashville (TN) 372-82,
374-5, 25
 accommodations 376-7
 drinking 379-80
 entertainment 380-1
 festivals 376
 food 377-9
 shopping 381-2
 sights 372-6, 377
 tourist information 382
 tours 376
 travel to/within 382
 Natchez 381, 424
 Natchez Trace Pkwy 381,
 424
 National Mall 16, 263-7, 16,
264-5
 national parks & parklands
 717-32
 Acadia National Park
 249-50, 724, 724-5
 Apostle Islands National
 Lakeshore 595
 Aransas National Wildlife
 Refuge 695
 Arches National Park
 729, 869-70, 728
 Badlands National Park
 641-2, 727, 644-5, 719
 Big Bend National Park
 708-9, 35
 Big Thicket National
 Preserve 695

Biscayne National Park
 477
 Black Hills National
 Forest 643
 Bombay Hook National
 Wildlife Refuge 303
 Bryce Canyon National
 Park 729, 873-4
 Buffalo National River
 430
 Canaveral National
 Seashore 488
 Canyonlands National
 Park 870, 719
 Cape Cod National
 Seashore 199
 Capitol Reef National
 Park 871-2
 Carlsbad Caverns
 National Park 899
 Channel Islands National
 Park 952
 Coconino National Forest
 838 Congaree National
 Park 362
 Crater Lake National
 Park 1072
 Crystal River National
 Wildlife Refuge 496
 Daniel Boone National
 Forest 392
 Death Valley National
 Park 730, 949-51, 731
 Delaware Water Gap
 National Recreation
 Area 135-6
 Denali National Park &
 Preserve 1099
 Devils Postpile National
 Monument 1015
 Dry Tortugas National
 Park 487
 Everglades National Park
 476-7, 724
 Flaming Gorge National
 Recreation Area 867
 Francis Marion National
 Forest 362
 Gateway National
 Recreation Area 92
 Gila National Forest 896
 Glacier Bay National Park & Preserve 1091
 Glacier National Park
 727, 793-4, 717, 721,
726-7
 Glen Canyon National
 Recreation Area 847-8
 Grand Canyon National
 Park 11, 729, 840-6,
842, 11, 721, 728-9

Grand Teton National
 Park 782-4, 18
 Great Basin National
 Park 824, 718-19
 Great Falls National
 Park 304
 Great Sand Dunes
 National Park 773
 Great Smoky Mountains
 National Park 349-50,
 384-5, 724, 725
 Guadalupe Mountains
 National Park 716
 Gulf Islands National
 Seashore 513
 Haleakalā National Park
 1118
 Hawai'i Volcanoes
 National Park 1113-14,
732
 Indiana Dunes National
 Lakeshore 554
 Isle Royale National Park
 584, 609
 Jean Lafitte National Historical Park &
 Preserve 448
 Joshua Tree National
 Park 730, 946-8
 Katmai National Park
 1099
 Kenia Fjords National
 Park 1099
 Kings Canyon National
 Park 1013-15
 Klondike Gold Rush
 National Historical
 Park 1094
 Lassen Volcanic National
 Park 1009
 Lewis and Clark National & State Historical Parks 1078
 Lincoln National Forest
 899
 Mammoth Cave National
 Park 392-3, 724
 Merritt Island National
 Wildlife Refuge 488
 Mesa Verde National
 Park 727, 769-70
 Modoc National Forest
 1009
 Mojave National
 Preserve 949
 Monongahela National
 Forest 328-9
 Mt Rainier National Park
 730, 1050-1
 Mt Rogers National
 Recreation Area 324
 Muir Woods National
 Monument 992

New River Gorge
 National River 329
 Nicolet National Forest
 595
 North Cascades National
 Park 1049
 Ocala National Forest
 509
 Olympic National Park
 730, 1041
 Ouachita National Forest
 428
 Ozark National Scenic
 Riverways 626
 Padre Island National
 Seashore 696
 Petrified Forest National
 Park 849-50
 Pictured Rocks National
 Lakeshore 583
 Pinnacles National
 Park 955
 Pisgah National Forest
 350
 Point Reyes National
 Seashore 992
 Pu'uhonua o Honaunau
 National Historical
 Park 1111
 Red Rock Canyon
 National Conservation
 Area 819
 Redwood National Park
 730, 1002, 730
 Rocky Mountain National
 Park 727, 751-2, 727
 Saguaro National Park
 729, 851, 729
 Sandy Hook Gateway
 National Recreation
 Area 136-7
 Sequoia National Park
 1013
 Shawnee National Forest
 548 Shenandoah National
 Park 319-20, 724
 Sleeping Bear Dunes
 National Lakeshore
 579 Tallgrass Prairie National
 Preserve 658
 Theodore Roosevelt
 National Park 637-8
 Uinta-Wasatch-Cache
 National Forest 863
 Voyageurs National
 Park 610
 White Mountain National
 Forest 236
 Wind Cave National
 Park 649

- national parks & parklands
continued
Yellowstone National Park 13, 727, 777-82, 778, 13, 726
Yosemite National Park 14, 730, 1009-13, 14, 730-1
Zion National Park 729, 874-5, 720-1
- Native American Scenic Byway 647
- Native Americans 1142-3
culture 26-7
festivals 879
museums 639, 660, 883
sites 19, 635, 848, 848-9, 19
- Natural Bridges National Monument 871
- natural disasters 1166
- Navajo 1143
- Navajo Nation 848-9
- Neah Bay 1043
- Nebraska 649-54
- Nelson, Willie 686
- Nevada 803-24
- Nevada City 1005
- Newberry National Volcanic Monument 1072
- New Castle 302-3
- New England 13, 55, 170-253, 172-3, 13
accommodations 170
climate 170
food 170, 1146
highlights 172-3
history 174
internet resources 171
itineraries 174
travel seasons 170
travel to/from 171
travel within 171
- New Hampshire 232-40, 222
- New Harmony 554
- New Haven 217-18
- New Hope 158
- New Jersey 55, 134-41, 62-3
accommodations 60
climate 60
food 60
highlights 62-3
internet resources 61
itineraries 66
- transportation 61
travel seasons 60
- New Mexico 876-900
history 876
information 876
- New Orleans 12, 432-48, 434-5, 12, 31
accommodations 440-2
courses 439
drinking 446
entertainment 446-7
festivals 440
food 442-6
history 432
itineraries 433
shopping 447
sights 432-9
tourist information 447-8
tours 439-40
travel to/within 448
walking tours 441
- New River Gorge National River 329
- New York City 11, 64-118, 65, 10-11
accommodations 96-100
activities 93-4
Battery Park 69
Broadway 113
Bronx, the 92
Brooklyn 90-2
Central Park 82, 84-5, 86-7, 84-5
Chelsea 75, 76-7
children, travel with 91
Chinatown 70-1, 68-9
climate 60
Coney Island 90
drinking 108-11
East Village 71-3, 72-3
entertainment 111-14
festivals 96
Fifth Avenue 80-1
Financial District 67-9
Flatiron District 75-8
food 100-8, 1145-6
Greenwich Village 73-5
Harlem 89
Hell's Kitchen 82
history 64
Little Italy 70-1
Lower East Side 71
Lower Manhattan 64-7, 68-9
Meatpacking District 75
Midtown 79-82, 76-7
Morningside Heights 89
NoHo 70
- NoLita 70
- Queens 92-3
shopping 115-16
sights 64-93
SoHo 70
- Staten Island 93
- Theater District 79
- Times Square 79, 76-7
- tourist information 116
- tours 94
travel to/from 116-17, 192
travel within 117-18
- Tribeca 70
- Union Square 78-9
- Upper East Side 83-9
- Upper West Side 82-3
walking tour 95, 95
- Wall Street 67-9
- Washington Heights 90
- West Village 73-5, 72-3
- Williamsburg 90
- New York state 55, 118-34, 62-3
accommodations 60
climate 60
food 60
highlights 62-3
internet resources 61
itineraries 66
tourist information 118
transportation 61
travel seasons 60
- Newport (OR) 1079-80
- Newport (RI) 213-16
- Newport News 315
- Newspaper Rock Recreation Area 870
- newspapers 1177
- Niagara Falls 133-4
- Nicodemus 658
- Nixon, Richard 1133
- Nome 1099
- Norfolk 314-15
- North Adams 209-10
- North by Northwest* 1122
- North Carolina 334-51
- North Carolina Mountains 346-51
- North Cascade Mountains 1047-9
- North Dakota 636-9
- North Fork 121-2
- North Platte 653
- North Shore 609
- North Umpqua River 1075
- North Woodstock 237
- Northampton 207-8
- Northern Panhandle 653-4
- Northwoods 595
- O
- O'ahu 1104-9
- Oak Bluffs 204-5
- Oak Park 544-5
- Obama, Barack 530, 1122-4, 1134, 1136
- Oberlin 559
- observatories 711, 914, 1111-12
- Occidental 997-8
- Ocean City (MD) 296-7
- Ocean City (NJ) 140
- Ocean Grove 137
- Ocean Springs 424
- Ochopee 478
- Ocracoke Island 335, 337
- Ocracoke Village 337
- Ogunquit 241-3
- Ohio 555-68
- Ohio River 553
- Ojo Caliente 890
- OK Corral 855
- Oklahoma 659-65
- Oklahoma City 659-62
- Old Lyme 219
- Olympia 1040-1
- Olympic National Park 730, 1041
- Olympic Peninsula 1041-4
- Omaha 650-1
- On the Road* 1122
- Opelousas 455
opening hours 1178
- Orange County 932-3
- Orcas Island 1046-7
- Oregon 1053-81
- Oregon Cascades 1068-72
- Oregon Caves National Monument 1075
- Oregon Dunes National Recreation Area 1080
- Organ Pipe Cactus National Monument 854
- Orlando 502-6, 504
- Ouray 766-7
- Outer Banks 335-9
- Oxford 418-20
- Ozark Mountains 429-30
- Ozarks, the 625-7
- P
- Pacific Coast Highway 17, 40-1, 17
- Pacific Northwest 58, 1020-81, 1022-3
accommodations 1020
climate 1020
food 1020, 1148
highlights 1022-3

- history 1024-5
- internet resources 1021
- itineraries 1024
- travel to/from 1025
- travel within 1025
- Padre Island National Seashore 696
- Page 848
- Pa'ia 1117
- Paine, Thomas 1127
- painting 1156-7
- Palm Beach 475
- Palm Springs 944-6
- Panama City Beach 511-12
- Paradise Valley 788-9
- Paramount Pictures 913
- Park City 863-6
- parks & gardens, see also national parks & parklands
  - Alamo Square Park 974
  - Arboretum 590
  - Audrey Headframe Park 840
  - Billmore Estate 347-8
  - Boston Common 176
  - Brackenridge Park 683
  - Brookgreen Gardens 360
  - Central Park 82, 84-5, 84-5
  - Chautauqua Park 747
  - Chicago Botanic Garden 545
  - Cleveland Botanical Garden 556
  - Confluence Park 741
  - Crissy Field 973
  - Desert Botanical Garden 826-7
  - Discovery Park 1032
  - Dumbarton Oaks 272
  - Enger Park 607
  - First State Heritage Park 303
  - Forest Park 1055
  - Fort Williams Park 244
  - Garden of the Gods 763
  - Gardens of the American Rose Center 455
  - Georgetown Waterfront Park 272
  - Grand Canyon Skywalk 847
  - Grant Park 525
  - Griffith Park 913
  - High Line, The 75, 10-11
  - Intervale Center 230
  - Krohn Conservatory 566
  - Lakefront Park 587
  - Leif Erikson Park 607
  - Lincoln Park 528
  - Lyon Arboretum 1105
  - Máximo Gómez Park 463
  - Meridian Hill Park 271
  - Millennium Park 521
  - Minneapolis Sculpture Garden 597
  - Mud Island 364
  - Northerly Island 526
  - Piedmont Park 396
  - Roger Williams Park 212
  - Rose Kennedy Greenway 188
  - San Francisco Botanical Garden 975
  - State Botanical Garden of Georgia 405
  - Tilden Regional Park 993
  - Tom McCall Waterfront Park 1053-4
  - Tompkins Square Park 72
  - Virginia Beach 316
  - Vulcan Park 413
  - Washington Square Park, New Orleans 437
  - Washington Square Park, New York City 73
  - Yards Park 274
- parklands, see national parks & parklands
- Parks, Rosa 415
- Parton, Dolly 385
- passports 1189
- Patagonia 854-5
- Patagonia-Sonoita Creek Preserve 855
- Pawleys Island 361
- pay phones 1180
- Pearl Harbor 1107-8
- Pecos Wilderness 883-4
- Pelee Island 561
- Pemaquid Peninsula 248
- Pennsylvania 55, 141-69, 62-3
  - accommodations 60
  - climate 60
  - food 60
  - highlights 62-3
  - internet resources 61
  - itineraries 66
  - transportation 61
  - travel seasons 60
- Pennsylvania Dutch Country 158-61
- Pennsylvania Wilds 161
- Pensacola 512-13
- Pentagon 305
- Pepin 606
- Petersburg 311, 547, 1088
- Petoskey 580
- Petrified Forest National Park 849-50
- pharmacies 1175
- Philadelphia 142-57, 142-3, 146
  - accommodations 150-2
  - drinking 155-6
  - festivals 150
  - food 152-5
  - sights 144-50
  - tourist information 156-7
  - tours 150
  - travel to/from 157
  - travel within 157
- Phoenix 826-35, 828-9
  - accommodation 829-31
  - activities 828-9
  - children, travel with 832
  - drinking 833
  - entertainment 833
  - festivals 829
  - food 831-2
  - shopping 833-4
  - sights 826-8
  - tours 829
  - travel to/from 834-5
  - travel within 834-5
- phonecards 1180
- photographers 1156
- photography 1178
- Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore 583
- Piedmont, the 317-19
- Pierre 640-1
- Pike Place Market 1026, 20
- Pikes Peak 762-3
- Pine Barrens 138
- Pine Ridge Indian Reservation 642
- Piney Woods 695
- Pinnacles National Park 955
- Pioneertown 947
- Pismo Beach 954
- Pittsburgh 161-9
  - accommodations 164-5
  - drinking 166-7
  - food 165-6
  - sights 161-4
  - tourist information 167-8
  - tours 164
  - travel to/from 168-9
  - travel within 169
- Pittsfield 209
- Plaisance 455
- planning, see also individual regions
  - budgeting 22-3
- calendar of events 29-32
- children, travel with 52-4
- internet resources 23
- itineraries 33-7
- road trips 38-44
- travel seasons 22, 29-32
- USA basics 22-3
- USA's regions 55-8
- plantations
  - Aiken-Rhett House 353
  - Ashley River 358
  - Belle Meade Plantation 376
  - Boone Hall 358
  - Hermitage 376
  - James River 314
  - Laura Plantation 449
  - Oak Alley Plantation 449, 16
  - Oakley Plantation & Audubon State Historic Site 451
  - Wormsloe Plantation Historic Site 406
- plants 722-3
  - Plymouth (CA) 1006
  - Plymouth (MA) 194
  - Poe, Edgar Allan 1156
  - Po'ipu 1119-20
  - politics 1122-4, 1141
  - polygamy 859
  - Ponderosa Pine Scenic Byway 799
  - population 1123
  - Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park 584
  - Port Angeles 1043
  - Port Aransas 696
  - Port Orford 1081
  - Port Townsend 1042-3
  - Portland (ME) 244-7
  - Portland (OR) 1053-65, 1056
    - accommodations 1058-9
    - activities 1057-8
    - drinking 1061-2
    - entertainment 1062-3
    - festivals 1058
    - food 1059-61
    - shopping 1063-4
    - sights 1053-7
    - tourist information 1064
    - tours 1058
    - travel to/from 1064
    - travel within 1064
  - Portsmouth 233-4
  - postal services 1178-9
  - Prairie du Chien 593

Prairie du Sac 590
 Prescott 840
 Presidio 710
 Presley, Elvis 364-5, 418
 Princeton 136
 Princeton University 136
 Providence 211-13
 Provincetown 200-3
 public holidays 1179
 public transport 1193
 Put In Bay 560

Q

Quad Cities 546, 633
 Quandary Peak 757
 Quechee 226-7
 Quechee Gorge 226

R

Rachel 824
 Racine 592
 radio 1177
 rafting, see white-water rafting
 Raleigh 342-3
 Rapid City 643-5
 Reagan, Ronald 1134
 Red Cliff 595
 Red River Gorge 392
 Red Wing 606
 Redding 1007
 Redwood National Park 730, 1002, 730
 redwood trees 722, 730, 1001, 1002, 723, 730
 Regent 638
 Rehoboth Beach 300-1
 religion 1123, 1138
 Reno 820-3
 reptiles 643
 Revolutionary War 1127
 Rhode Island 210-16
 Rhyolite 950
 Richmond 308-11
 Ringling Museum Complex 500
 Riverton 656
 road trips 38-44, 61, 41
 Arizona 827, 850, 855
 Big Sur 957
 Blue Ridge Parkway 41-3, 43
 Cape Cod 199
 Colorado 760, 766

Florida 511
 Great Plains 613
 Great River Road 44, 593
 Hawaii 1117
 Illinois 544
 Indiana 553
 Kansas 656
 Maryland 289
 Massachusetts 209
 Minnesota 608
 Nebraska 654
 New Hampshire 236
 New Mexico 881
 North Carolina 338
 Oklahoma 662-3
 Oregon 1079
 Pacific Coast Highway 40-1

River Road 710
 Route 28 (Catskills) 125
 Route 66 12, 38-40, 525, 544, 625, 656, 662-3, 709, 838, 7, 12
 San Juan Mountain Passes 766
 Sierra Nevada 1014
 South, the 331
 Stagecoach Trail 546
 Tennessee 381
 Texas 680, 709, 710
 Utah 863, 873, 874
 Vermont 225, 227
 Virginia 320, 321
 Wisconsin 595
 Yellowstone National Park 782

Roanoke 324
 Roanoke Island 335
 rock & roll 1163-4
 rock climbing 49-50
 Acadia National Park 250
 Bend 1071
 Boulder (CO) 747-8
 Castle Rock 1048
 Daniel Boone National Forest 392
 Estes Park 753
 Grand Teton National Park 782
 Mount Magazine 429
 Ouray 766
 Yosemite National Park 1011
 Rock Island 594, 633
 Rockefeller Center 79-80
 Rocky Mountain National Park 727, 751-2, 727

Rocky Mountains 18, 57, 733-800, 736-7, 18
 accommodations 733
 activities 734
 climate 733, 738
 food 733, 749
 highlights 736-7
 internet resources 734
 itineraries 735
 national parks 734
 travel seasons 733 rodeos 684, 689, 707, 774
 roller-derby 677
 Romney, Mitt 1122
 Roosevelt, Theodore 719
 Roswell 899-900
 Route 66 12, 38-40, 7, 12
 Arizona 838
 Illinois 525, 544
 Kansas 656
 Missouri 625
 Oklahoma 662-3
 Texas 709
 Rowan Oak 418
 Royal 653
 Rubio, Marco 1122
 Rugby 638
 Ruidoso 898
 Russian River Valley 997-8

S

Sabbathday Lake 252
 Sacramento 1003-5
 safety 1179, 1188
 Sag Harbor 120-1
 Saguaro National Park 729, 851, 729
 sailing 214, 230, 249, 952
 Sainte Genevieve 623
 Salem (MA) 193-4
 Salem (OR) 1066
 Salida 761-2
 Salmon River Scenic Byway 799
 Salmon Ruin & Heritage Park 893
 Salt Lake City 857-62
 accommodation 859
 activities 857-9
 children, travel with 858
 drinking 860-1
 entertainment 861
 food 859-60
 information 861-2
 shopping 861
 sights 857-9
 tours 859
 travel to/from 862
 travel within 862
 Salton Sea 948
 Salvation Mountain 948
 San Diego 199, 682-7, 682
 San Antonio 933-43, 934, 936-7
 accommodations 939
 activities 939
 drinking 942
 entertainment 942-3
 food 940-2
 sights 933-9
 tourist information 943
 tours 939
 travel to/within 943
 San Francisco 15, 964-91, 965, 966, 968-9, 27
 accommodations 979-81
 activities 975-8
 Castro, the 973-4
 children, travel with 979
 Chinatown 967, 970
 Civic Center 967
 drinking 985-7
 entertainment 987-9
 festivals 978-9
 Financial District 967
 Fisherman's Wharf 971, 973
 food 981-5
 Golden Gate Park 974-5
 Haight, the 974
 itineraries 964
 Japantown 978
 Mission, the 973
 Presidio 973
 shopping 989
 sights 964-75
 SoMa 966
 tourist information 989-90
 tours 978
 travel to/from 990
 travel within 990-1
 Union Square 966-7
 walking tours 972, 972
 San Ildefonso Pueblo 888
 San Jacinto Battleground State Historical Site 692
 San Juan archipelago 1045-7
 San Juan Island 1046
 San Juan Mountain Passes 766
 San Luis Obispo 955-6
 Sand Mountain Recreation Area 824

- Sandhills 654
 Sandia Crest National Scenic Byway 878
 Sandia Man Cave 878
 Sandwich 194-5
 Sandy Hook 136-7
 Sanibel Island 501
 Santa Barbara 951-3
 Santa Clara Pueblo 888-9
 Santa Cruz 961-3
 Santa Fe 882-8, 884-5
 Santa Fe National Forest 883-4
 Santa Monica 918, 919, 4
 Saranac Lake 128
 Sarasota 499-500
 Saugatuck 578-9
 Sault Ste Marie 583
 Savannah 406-11, 408
 Sawtooth Scenic Byway 799
 scenic drives, see road trips
 Schoodic Peninsula 251-2
 Scotts Bluff National Monument 653 scuba diving, see diving & snorkeling sculpture 1156-7
 sea turtles 411, 478, 696
 seals 957
 Seaside (FL) 511
 Seattle 20, 1026-40, 1028-9, 20
 accommodations 1033-4
 activities 1032
 drinking 1036-7
 entertainment 1037-8
 festivals 1033
 food 1034-6
 shopping 1038
 sights 1026-32
 tourist information 1039
 tours 1032-3
 travel to/from 1039
 travel within 1039-40
 SeaWorld 938
 Sebastopol 997
 Sedona 837-9
 Selma 416-17
 Seneca 126-8
 September 11 67
 Sequoia National Park 1013
 sequoia trees 1010, 1013
 Seward 1099
 Shakespeare, William 1073
 Shasta Lake 1007
 Shelter Cove 1001
 Shelter Island 121-2
 Shenandoah National Park 319-20, 724
 Shenandoah Valley 319-23
 Sheridan 785
 Shiloh National Military Park 371-2
 Shiner 684
 Shiner Bock beer 684
 Shiprock 893
 Shishewana 555
 Shreveport 455
 Sierra Club, the 1169
 Sierra Nevada 1009-19
 Silver City 896-7
 Silverton 772-3
Singin' in the Rain 1122
 Sioux 1143
 Sioux Falls 640
 Sisters 1070
 Sitka 1088-90
 Skagway 1094-5
 skiing & snowboarding 49
 Aspen 759, 760
 Bend 1071
 Bethel 252
 Bozeman 786-7
 Breckenridge 756
 Colorado 755
 Crested Butte 765-6
 Durango 771
 Flagstaff 835
 Jackson (WY) 784
 Killington 227
 Kings Canyon National Park 1014
 Lake Tahoe 1018
 Minnesota 607
 Mt Baker 1047
 Mt Hood 1069
 Mt Snow 224
 Ouray 766
 Park City 863-4
 Ruidoso 898
 Salt Lake City 863
 Sandia Peak Ski Park 878
 Santa Fe 884
 Steamboat Springs 753-4
 Stowe 228, 229
 Sun Valley 797
 Taos 891
 Telluride 767
 Truckee 1018
 Vail 758
 White Mountains 236
 Winter Park 755
 Yosemite National Park 1011
 slavery & abolition 1129-30, 1132
 museums 220, 353, 364, 565
 sites 619, 656
 Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore 579
 Slow Food 1147
 Smithsonian Institution Museums 269
 smoking laws 1178
 snakes 643
 snorkeling, see diving & snorkeling
 Snow Hill 296
 snowboarding, see skiing & snowboarding
 Snowden, Edward 1123
 Snowy Range 785
 Solvang 954
 Sonoita 855
 Sonoma Valley 996-7, 15
 Sony Pictures Studios 913
 Soudan 610
 South, the 16, 56, 330-455, 332-3
 accommodations 330
 climate 330
 culture 331
 food 330, 1146
 highlights 332-3
 internet resources 331
 itineraries 334
 travel seasons 330
 South Bend 554
 South by Southwest 673-4, 677
 South Carolina 351-62
 South Cascades 1050-1
 South Dakota 639-49
 South Padre Island 696-7
 Southampton 120
 Southern Shores 335
 Southwest USA 57, 801-900, 804-5
 accommodation 801
 climate 801
 food 801, 1147
 highlights 804
 itineraries 806
 planning 801-2
 travel seasons 801
 travel to/from 802
 Space Center Houston 687
 Space Coast 488-9
 Spaceport America 895
 Spam 606
 spas, see hot springs & spas
 Spearfish 646
 Spearfish Canyon Scenic Byway 646
 speedways 345-6, 414, 490, 548
 Sperryville 321
 spirits 1151-2
 Spokane 1049-50
 sports 1139-41, see also individual sports
 Atlanta 403
 Austin 677
 Baltimore 293
 Boston Marathon 184
 Chicago 541
 Cincinnati 568
 Cleveland 559
 Columbus (OH) 563
 Dallas 703
 Detroit 574
 Houston 693
 Los Angeles 927
 Memphis 370
 Miami (FL) 472
 Milwaukee 588, 589
 Minneapolis 602-3
 New York City 114
 San Francisco 989
 Washington, DC 285-6
 Spring Green 592-3
 Spring Lake 137
 Springdale 875
 Springfield (IL) 546-7
 Springfield (MA) 207
 Springfield (MO) 625
 St Augustine 491-2
 St Charles 624
 St Francisville 451-2
 St George 875-6
 St Helena 994
 St Ignace 581
 St Joseph 631
 St Louis 617-24, 618
 accommodations 620
 activities 619-20
 climate 612
 drinking 622
 entertainment 623
 festivals 620
 food 620-2
 shopping 623
 sights 617-19
 tourist information 623
 travel to/within 624
 St Marys 411-12
 St Michaels 295-6
 St Paul 603-5
 St Petersburg 498-9
 St Simons Island 411
 St Vincent Island 511

Stanley 799-800
 Staten Island 93
 Statue of Liberty 66
 Staunton 321-2
 Steamboat Springs 753-4
 steam trains 1195
 Steens Mountain 1076-7
 Stehekin 1048
 Stillwater 606
 Stockbridge 208
 Stockholm 606
 Stone City 633
 Stowe 228-9
 Stowe, Harriet Beecher
 220, 565, 1155
 Straits of Mackinac 580-2
 Strip, the 809-48
 Sturgis 645-6
 Sun Studio 364
 Sun Valley 797-9
 Sundance Film Festival 864
 Supai 847
 Super Bowl 1140
 surfing 46-7, 488
   Bodega Bay 999
   California 46-7
   East Coast 47
   Hanalei Bay 1119
   Hawaii 46, 1109, 1117
   Los Angeles 920
   New York City 94
   Orange County 932
   San Diego 939
   Santa Cruz 961
   West Coast 46-7
 Surprise Valley 1009
 Sutter Creek 1006
 swamps 362, 439

T

Tahlequah 665
 Tahoe City 1018
 Taliesin 592-3
 Tallahassee 509-10
 Tallulah Gorge 404
 Tamiami Trail 478
 Tampa 495-8
 Tampa Bay 495
 Taos 890-3
 taxis 1193
 Tecumseh 1128
 telephone services 22, 23,
 1179-80
 Telluride 755, 767-9

Tennessee 362-85
 Terlingua 709-10
 Texas 57, 666-716, 668-9
   accommodations 666
   climate 666
   food 666
   highlights 668-9
   internet resources 667
   itineraries 671
   shopping 715
   travel seasons 666
   travel within 667
 Texola 663
 theater 1158-9
   Atlanta 402-3
   Austin 677
   Boston 190-1
   Chicago 540-1
   Houston 692
   Los Angeles 926
   Miami (FL) 471
   New York City 113
   Philadelphia 156
   Pittsburgh 167
   Provincetown 202
   San Francisco 988-9
   Washington, DC 285
 theft 1179
 theme parks,
   see amusement parks
 Theodore Roosevelt
   Inaugural National
   Historic Site 131
 Theodore Roosevelt
   National Park 637-8
 Thousand Islands 129
 Tilghman Island 295-6
 time 23, 636, 641, 714, 1180
 Times Square 79, 76
 Tioga Pass 1009
 tipping 1178
 Tombstone 855
 Topeka 657
 tornadoes 661
 Torrey 872
 tourist information 1180-1 tours 1191, 1193-4, see also
   walking tours
 Tracy Arm glaciers 1092
 Trail of Tears Country 665
 train travel 1194-5
 travel to the USA 1189-91 travel within the USA
   1191-5
 traveler's checks 1178
 Traverse City 579-80
 trees 1010, see also redwood trees, sequoia trees

trekking, see hiking
 Trenton 136
 Triangle, the 342-5
 Trinidad 1002
 Trinity Alps 1007
 Truckee 1018-19
 Truman, Harry 631
 Truro 200
 Truth or Consequences
   895
 Tucson 850-4
 Tulsa 662, 662-4
 Tuolumne Meadows 1010
 Tupelo 417-18
 Tupper Lake 130
 Turtle Island 1125
 Tuscaloosa 415
 Tutwiler Tracks 421
 TV 1145, 1153-4, 1177
 TV locations, see film & TV
   locations
 Twain, Mark 624
Twilight 1044
 Two Harbors 609

U

Ukiah 1001
 Underground Railroad 565
 unemployment 1123
 Unesco World Heritage
   sites 547-8
 Universal Studios
   Hollywood 914
 universities
   Brown University 211-12
   Columbia University 89
   Cornell University 124
   Dartmouth College 239
   Duke University 343
   Georgetown University
   272
   Harvard University 184
   Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT)
   184
   New York University 73
   Princeton University 136
   University of Alabama 415
   University of California,
   Berkeley 992
   University of California,
   Los Angeles 917
   University of Chicago 530
   University of Iowa 633-4
   University of Michigan
   576
   University of Minnesota
   597
   University of Mississippi
   418

University of Nebraska
 652
 University of North
 Carolina 343
 University of Notre Dame 554
 University of Pennsylvania 149
 University of Virginia 317
 US Naval Academy 294
 Virginia Military Institute
 322-3
 Yale University 217
 Upcountry (SC) 361-2
 Up-Island 205
 Upper Peninsula 582-5
 US Space & Rocket Center
 414
 USS Arizona Memorial
 1107-8
 Utah 856-76
   drinking 860
   history 856
   information 857
   travel to/from 857
   travel within 857

V

vacations 1179
 Vagabond Ranch 756
 Vail 757-9
 Valentine 653
 Valley, the (TX) 697
 Valley Forge 157
 Valley Forge National Historic Park 157
 Van Buren 626
 vegans 1145
 vegetarian travelers 1145
 Venice 918, 919, 21
 Vermont 221-32, 222
 Vermont Fresh Network
 224
 Vernal 866
 Very Large Array 896
 Vicksburg 422
 video 1177
 Vineyard Haven 205-6
 Vinita 662
 Virginia 303-26
 Virginia Beach 315-17
 Virginia City 823
 Viroqua 593
 visas 22, 1181-3
 volcanoes 1108, 1113-14, 1118 volunteering 1183-4
 Voyageurs National Park
 610

W

- Wabasha 606
 Waikiki 1104-7
 Wailea 1116
 Waitua 1118-19
 Waituku 1117
 Waimea 1120
 Waipi'o Valley 1112
 walking, see hiking, walking tours
 walking tours
 Boston 185, 185
 Chicago 531, 531
 Eureka Springs 430
 Miami (FL) 466, 466
 New Orleans 441, 441
 New York City 95, 95
 San Francisco 972, 972
 Washington, DC 273, 273
 Wall 641
 Wallowa Mountains 1076
 Walt Disney World
 14, 506-9, 15, see also Disneyland
 Warhol, Andy 1157
 Warner Bros Studios 913
 Warner Mountains 1009
 Wasatch Mountains 862-6
 Washington, DC 56, 254-87,
256-7, 260-1, 273
 accommodations 254,
 276-8
 activities 274-5
 children, travel with 275
 climate 254
 drinking 283-4
 entertainment 284-6
 festivals 276
 food 254, 278-83
 highlights 256-7
 internet resources 255
 itineraries 266
 National Mall 16, 263-7,
16, 264-5
 sights 262-74
 tourist information 286
 tours 275-6
 transportation 255
 travel seasons 254
 travel to/from 286
 travel within 286-7
 walking tours 273, 273
 White House 270-1
 Washington, George 157, 1127 home 308
 memorials 305-6
- monuments 647-8
 Washington Island 594
 Washington state 1026-53
 Washita Battlefield
 National Historic Site
 662 water sports, see canoeing & kayaking, diving & snorkeling, sailing, surfing, white-water rafting, windsurfing
 waterfalls 1045
 Amicalola 404
 Horseshoe 133
 Multnomah 1068, 20
 Niagara 133-4
 Tahquamenon 583
 Waimea 1120
 Wapama 1011
 Yosemite National Park
 1010
 WaterFire 212
 Watergate complex 271
 Waterloo 635
 Waterville Valley 235
 Waverly Hills Sanatorium
 387
 Wawona 1010
 Wayne, John 633 weather 22, 29-32, see also individual regions
 Weatherford 663
 Weaverville 1007
 websites, see internet
 resources
 Weeki Wachee Springs 496
 weights 1177
 Weirs Beach 234
 Wellfleet 199-200
 Welty, Eudora 423
 West Coast (FL) 495-502
 West Virginia 326-9
 Wetherill Mesa 770
 whale-watching 1045
 Bar Harbor 251
 Cape Cod 201, 17
 Juneau 1091
 Lahaina 1115
 Monterey 960
 Port Allen 1120
 Whidbey Island 1044
 whiskey 1151, see also distilleries
 White House 270-1
 White Mountain National
 Forest 236
 White Mountains 235-9
 White Sands National
 Monument 897
- Whitefish 792-3
 white-water rafting 48
 Arkansas River 762
 Bluff 870
 Colorado River 845
 Green River 867
 Haines 1093
 Moab 868
 Salida 761
 Santa Fe 884
 Stanley 799
 Steamboat Springs 754
 Taos 891
 Vernal 866
 Yellowstone National
 Park 780
 Wichita 654-5
 wi-fi 1176
 Wild Rogue Wilderness
 1074-5 wildflowers 680
 wildlife 45, 722-3, 1167-8, 722-3, see also individual species
 Wildwoods, the 140
 Willamette Valley 1065-8
 Williams 837
 Williamsburg (NY) 90
 Williamsburg (VA) 311-13
 Williamstown 209-10
 Willie Dixon's Blues Heaven
 529
 Wilmington (DE) 302
 Wilmington (NC) 340-2
 Wind Cave National Park
 649 windsurfing 467, 1115, 1117
 Windward Coast 1108-9
 Windy Ridge 1051
 wine 24-5, 1150-1
 wine regions 15
 Arizona 834
 Lake Michigan 578,
 579-80
 Long Island 121
 Napa Valley 994
 New Hampshire 235
 Paso Robles 956
 Russian River Valley
 997-8
 Santa Barbara 954
 Sonoma Valley 996-7, 15
 Southern Illinois 548
 Verde Valley 834
 Willamette Valley 1065
 Yakima Valley 1052
 Winnemucca 823-4
 Winslow 849
- Winter Park 755
 Wisconsin 585-96
 Wolfeboro 234-5
 wolves 610, 722, 780, 1165, 722
 women travelers 1184
 Woods Hole 197
 Woodstock (NY) 124
 Woodstock (VT) 226-7
 Worcester 206, 207
 work 1184
 World's Largest Ball of Twine 605
 Wrangell 1087-8
 Wright, Frank Lloyd 168,
 544-5, 589, 592 writers 1155, 1161
 WWII 1131
 Wyoming 773-86

Y

- Yachats 1080
 Yakima 1052
 Yale University 217
 Yankee Stadium 92
 Yellow Springs 564
 Yellowstone National Park
 13, 727, 777-82, 778,
13, 726
 Yorktown 313-14
 Yosemite National Park 14,
 730, 1009-13, 14, 730-1
 Yountville 994

Z

- Zephyr Cove 1017
 Zion National Park 729,
 874-5, 4, 720-1
 zoos
 Alaska 1096
 Baltimore 290
 Chicago 528
 Durham 343
 Houston 691
 Los Angeles 914
 Memphis 364
 New Orleans 439
 New York City 82, 92
 Palm Springs 944
 Philadelphia 149
 San Antonio 683
 San Diego 936, 943-4
 Seattle 1033
 Tampa 495
 Washington, DC 274
 Wilmington (NC) 341
 Zuni Pueblo 882

Map Legend

Sights

- Beach
- Bird Sanctuary
- Buddhist
- Castle/Palace
- Christian
- Confucian
- Hindu
- Islamic
- Jain
- Jewish
- Monument
- Museum/Gallery/Historic Building
- Ruin
- Sento Hot Baths/Onsen
- Shinto
- Sikh
- Taoist
- Winery/Vineyard
- Zoo/Wildlife Sanctuary
- Other Sight

Activities, Courses & Tours

- Beach
- Diving
- Canoeing/Kayaking
- Course/Tour
- Skiing
- Snorkeling
- Surfing
- Swimming/Pool
- Walking
- Windsurfing
- Other Activity

Sleeping

- Sleeping
- Camping

Eating

- Eating

Drinking & Nightlife

- Drinking & Nightlife
- Cafe

Entertainment

- Entertainment

Shopping

- Shopping

Information

- Bank
- Embassy/Consulate
- Hospital/Medical
- Internet
- Police
- Post Office
- Telephone
- Toilet
- Tourist Information
- Other Information

Geographic

- Beach
- Hut/Shelter
- Lighthouse
- Lookout
- Mountain/Volcano
- Oasis
- Park
- Pass
- Picnic Area
- Waterfall

Population

- Capital (National)
- Capital (State/Province)
- City/Large Town
- Town/Village

Transport

- Airport
- BART station
- Border crossing
- Boston T station
- Bus
- Cable car/Funicular
- Cycling
- Ferry
- Metro/Muni station
- Monorail
- Parking
- Petrol station
- Subway/SkyTrain station
- Taxi
- Train station/Railway
- Tram
- Underground station
- Other Transport

Note: Not all symbols displayed above appear on the maps in this book

Routes

- Tollway
- Freeway
- Primary
- Secondary
- Tertiary
- Lane
- Unsealed road
- Road under construction
- Plaza/Mall
- Steps
- Tunnel
- Pedestrian overpass
- Walking Tour
- Walking Tour detour
- Path/Walking Trail

Boundaries

- International
- State/Province
- Disputed
- Regional/Suburb
- Marine Park
- Cliff
- Wall

Hydrography

- River, Creek
- Intermittent River
- Canal
- Water
- Dry/Salt/Intermittent Lake
- Reef

Areas

- Airport/Runway
- Beach/Desert
- Cemetery (Christian)
- Cemetery (Other)
- Glacier
- Mudflat
- Park/Forest
- Sight (Building)
- Sportsground
- Swamp/Mangrove

Brendan Sainsbury

Pacific Northwest An expat Brit from Hampshire, England, now living near Vancouver, Canada, Brendan is a Nirvana-loving, craft-beer-appreciating, outdoors-embracing, art-admiring, bus-utilizing coffee addict who had no problem finding like-minded souls in Seattle. He's been writing Lonely Planet guides for the last nine years and collecting notes on Seattle since 2009. He is the author of Lonely Planet's current guide to Seattle, and has contributed to the last three editions of this book.

Caroline Sieg

New England Caroline Sieg is a half-Swiss, half-American writer. Her relationship with New England began when she first lived in Boston and she began heading up to Maine for foodie treats and windswept coastal walks. She was delighted to return to the land of lobster and blueberry pies for Lonely Planet.

Read more about Caroline at:
lonelyplanet.com/members/carolinesieg

Adam Skolnick

The South Adam writes about travel, culture, health, and politics for Lonely Planet, Outside, Men's Health, and Travel & Leisure. He has coauthored over 20 Lonely Planet guidebooks to destinations in Europe, the US, Central America and Asia. He drove 5990 miles during his research trip for this guide, and will from here on blame the state of Kentucky for his growing bourbon dependency. Read more of his work at www.adamskolnick.com. Find him on Twitter and Instagram (@adamskolnick).

Ryan Ver Berkmoes

Great Plains Ryan first drove across the Great Plains with his family in the 1960s. Among his treasured memories are a pair of Wild West six-shooters he got at Wall Drugs in South Dakota and which he still has (in a box someplace, not under his pillow). Through the years he has never passed up a chance to wander the backroads of America's heartland, finding beauty and intrigue where you'd least expect it. Find more at www.ryanverberkmoes.com; @ryanvb.

Mara Vorhees

New England Born and raised in St Clair Shores, Michigan, Mara traveled the world (if not the universe) before finally settling in the Hub. She now lives in a pink house in Somerville, MA, with her husband, two kiddies and two kitties. She is the author of Lonely Planet guides New England and Boston, among others. Follow her adventures online at www.havetwinswilltravel.com.

Karla Zimmerman

Great Lakes A life-long Midwesterner, Karla is well-versed in the region's beaches, ballparks, breweries and pie shops. When she's not home in Chicago watching the Cubs (or writing for magazines, websites and books), she's exploring. For this gig, she curled in Minnesota, caught a wave in Michigan, heard the curds squeak in Wisconsin and drank an embarrassing number of milkshakes in Ohio. Karla has written for several Lonely Planet guides to the USA, Canada, the Caribbean and Europe.

Ned Friary

New England Ned's college days were spent in Amherst, and traveling around his old stomping grounds always feels like a homecoming of sorts. He now lives on Cape Cod and has explored the region from one end to the other, searching out the best lobster roll, canoeing the marshes, and hiking and cycling the trails. His favorite moment while researching this book was catching the sunset over the Connecticut River valley from the summit at Skinner State Park.

Michael Grosberg

New York, New Jersey & Pennsylvania Thanks to an uncle and aunt's house upstate on the Delaware River in the southern Catskills, Michael has had a base to explore the region for two decades – when not home in Brooklyn, NYC, that is. No matter his love for the city, getaways are necessary and he has taken every opportunity to range far and wide in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, from cross-country skiing in the Adirondacks or pitching a tent on an island in the St

Lawrence to chowing down on ballpark food at a Pirates game in Pittsburgh and finding a classic diner in Jersey's Pine Barrens.

Paula Hardy

New England The British half of an American-British couple, Paula spends a lot of time hopping across the pond, torn between the bright lights of London town and Boston, where weekendending in the New England countryside is a near-weekly activity. Research for this book though took her way off the beaten path into Connecticut's dairy barns, lobster shacks (yum!) and wine-tasting rooms, and to Rhode Island's tiny East Bay villages and breezy Block Island cycling trails, where lasting memories of Baggo defeats and Mudslide sundowners aren't easily forgotten.

Adam Karlin

Washington, DC & the Capital Region, The South Adam was born in Washington, DC, raised in rural Maryland and lives in New Orleans – a city he discovered on assignment for Lonely Planet. His love of travel stems from a love of place that was engendered by the tidal wetlands of the Mid-Atlantic. That need for wandering has pushed him overseas and across the world, and in the process he has written some 40 guidebooks for Lonely Planet, from the Andaman Islands to the Zimbabwe border.

Mariella Krause

Florida, Texas This is Mariella's fourth go-round with the USA guide, but her first time taking on two whole states. Having written both the Florida and Texas chapters, she now considers herself an expert on places with panhandles. Mariella will always consider Texas home, and she still sprinkles her language with Texanisms whenever possible, much to the amusement of those who don't consider 'y'all' a legitimate pronoun.

Carolyn McCarthy

Rocky Mountains Carolyn fell for the Rockies as an undergraduate at Colorado College, where she spent her first break camping in a blizzard in the Sangre de Cristo Range. For this title she sampled the craft beers of four states, tracked wolves and heard even more Old West ghost stories. Carolyn has contributed to over 20 Lonely Planet titles, specializing in the American west and Latin America, and has written for National Geographic, Outside, Lonely Planet Magazine and other publications.

Christopher Pitts

Rocky Mountains Chris first drove west on a family road trip across the US and instantly fell in love with Colorado's star-studded nights. After four years at Colorado College, he decided to move up to Boulder for grad school – but only after mastering Chinese. Fifteen years, several continents and two kids later, he finally made it to the end of what is normally a 90-minute drive. Chris currently divides his time between writing, dad-dom and exploring Colorado's wilder corners. Visit him online at www.christopherpitts.net.

Greg Benchwick

Rocky Mountains A Colorado native, Greg's been all over the Centennial State. He has taught skiing in Vail, walked through fire pits in campsites across the state and attended journalism school in Boulder. He calls Denver's Highlands home.

Read more about Greg at:
lonelyplanet.com/members/gbenchwick

Sara Benson

California, Hawaii After graduating from college in Chicago, Sara jumped on a plane to San Francisco with just one suitcase and $100 in her pocket. She has bounced around California ever since, in between stints living in Asia and Hawaii and working as a national park ranger. The author of 55 travel and nonfiction books, Sara summited Sierra Nevada peaks, uncovered the Lost Coast and survived Death Valley while researching this guide. Follow her adventures online at www.indietraveler.blogspot.com and @indie_traveler on Twitter. Sara also wrote the USA's National Parks chapter.

Read more about Sara at:
lonelyplanet.com/members/sara\_benson

Alison Bing

California During over 15 years in San Francisco, Alison has done everything you're supposed to do in the city and many things you're not, including falling in love on the Haight St bus and quitting a Silicon Valley day job to write 43 Lonely Planet guidebooks and commentary for magazines, mobile guides and other media. Join further adventures as they unfold on Twitter @AlisonBing.

Catherine Bodry

Alaska Catherine has spent the bulk of her life escaping her suburban upbringing and after 13 years considers Alaska home. She loves mountains and road trips, and spends a lot of time running the trails in the Chugach Range. Catherine has contributed to several Lonely Planet guides including Alaska, Thailand, Canada and Pacific Northwest's Best Trips.

Celeste Brash

Pacific Northwest Locals have a hard time believing it, but the beauty of the Pacific Northwest is what coaxed Celeste back to the US after 15 years in Tahiti. She was thrilled to explore and imbibe the treasures of her new backyard for this book, hike snowy peaks, look for orcas and get in touch with her cowboy and Indian roots. Find out more about Celeste and her award-winning writing at www.celestebrash.com.

Gregor Clark

New England Gregor fell in love with Vermont at age 16, while working as a summer conservation volunteer in the state's southwestern corner. He's made his home there since 1997, during which time he's explored the state from top to bottom. A lifelong polyglot with a degree in Romance languages, Gregor has written regularly for Lonely Planet since 2000, focusing on Europe and Latin America. He lives with his wife, two daughters, five cats and two chickens in Middlebury, VT.

Lisa Dunford

Southwest As one of Brigham Young's (possibly thousands of) great-great-granddaughters, Lisa was first drawn to Utah by ancestry. But it's the incredible red rocks that have kept her coming back for 10 years. She feels at home hiking through pinkish sand around Zion or Arches until her shoes are permanently stained, rounding a bend and being accosted by purple-crimson- and rose-colored cliffs, or witnessing brilliant wildflowers among the hardened dunes of the Grand Staircase-Escalante National Monument (GSENM). Lisa coauthored Lonely Planet's Zion & Bryce Canyon National Parks.

OUR STORY

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Melbourne, London and Oakland, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

OUR WRITERS

Regis St Louis

Coordinating Author A Hoosier by birth, Regis grew up in a sleepy riverside town where he dreamed of big-city intrigue. In 2001 he settled in New York, which had all that and more. He has also lived in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Regis has crossed the country by train, bus and car, while visiting its remote corners. Favorite memories from his most recent trip include village hopping and fruit picking in eastern Long Island, mountainside rambles in the Catskills and crab feasting on the Chesapeake Bay. Regis has contributed to more than 40 Lonely Planet titles, including New York City and Washington, DC. For this guide, Regis wrote the Plan Your Trip and Understand sections.

Amy C Balfour

The South, Southwest A southerner of Scots-Irish descent, Amy has hiked, biked, paddled and gambled her way across the US. She's been visiting the Outer Banks since she was a child and never tires of running down Jockey's Ridge. In Arizona she enjoyed a return trip to Phantom Ranch, hiking down the South Kaibab Trail and up the Bright Angel. Amy has authored or coauthored more than 15 books for Lonely Planet and has written for Backpacker, Every Day with Rachael Ray, Redbook, Southern Living and Women's Health.

Sandra Bao

Pacific Northwest Sandra has lived in Buenos Aires, New York and California, but Oregon has become her final stop. Researching the Beaver state has been a highlight of Sandra's 14-year-long authoring career with Lonely Planet, which has covered four continents and dozens of guidebooks. She's come to appreciate the wondrous beauty of her home state, how much it has to offer both travelers and locals and how friendly people can be in tiny towns in the middle of nowhere.

Michael Benanav

Southwest Michael came to New Mexico in 1992, fell under its spell, and moved to a village in the Sangre de Cristo foothills, where he still lives. Since then he's spent years exploring the state's mountains, deserts and rivers as a wilderness instructor. Aside from his work for Lonely Planet, he's authored two nonfiction books and writes and photographs for magazines and newspapers. Check out his work at www.michaelbenanav.com.

OVER MORE
PAGE WRITERS

Published by Lonely Planet Publications Pty Ltd

ABN 36 005 607 983

8th edition – March 2014

ISBN 978 1 74220 741 4

© Lonely Planet 2014 Photographs © as indicated 2014

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Printed in Singapore

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be copied, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form by any means, electronic, mechanical, recording or otherwise, except brief extracts for the purpose of review, and no part of this publication may be sold or hired, without the written permission of the publisher. Lonely Planet and the Lonely Planet logo are trademarks of Lonely Planet and are registered in the US Patent and Trademark Office and in other countries. Lonely Planet does not allow its name or logo to be appropriated by commercial establishments, such as retailers, restaurants or hotels. Please let us know of any misuses: lonelyplanet.com/ip.

Although the authors and Lonely Planet have taken all reasonable care in preparing this book, we make no warranty about the accuracy or completeness of its content and, to the maximum extent permitted, disclaim all liability arising from its use.

© Lonely Planet Publications Pty Ltd. To make it easier for you to use, access to this chapter is not digitally restricted. In return, we think it's fair to ask you to use it for personal, non-commercial purposes only. In other words, please don't upload this chapter to a peer-to-peer site, mass email it to everyone you know, or resell it. See the terms and conditions on our site for a longer way of saying the above - 'Do the right thing with our content.'